Talks deadlock over wage freeze for police

By Gary M. Cates staff writer

Contract concession talks between Plymouth police officers and the city reached an apparent impasse last week due to a dispute over a member of the city's bargaining team.

The dispute centered on labor relations attorney Ron Acho, hired to head the city's negotiating team. The Plym-

(PPOA) refused to negotiate if Acho Manager Henry Graper said. was at the table

'We've dealt with him in the past in other communities and don't have a good working relationship," said Gerald Radovic, PPOA bargaining representative.

The city asked to meet with the union last Friday to discuss the city's budget outlook and possible wage and benefit concessions to lower the police outh Police Officers Association department's operating costs, City

The union was willing to talk to the city about "ways to save money," but didn't want to talk with Acho, Radovic

"If you want to save the city money, then don't run up attorney bills for doing something the city manager is paid to do. They negotiated the police contract without an attorney, why did they need him now?" Radovic said. WE DIDN'T even have to be there, we already have a contract. But, if we do sit down, it has to be on our terms,"

The city will "stay with the same bargaining team," Graper said. "I'm not going to have any union dictate to me what attorney I can have or can't have. Acho has been on the city payroll for 11/2 years.

"All we had asked is that they meet with us and discuss the ways in which we could possibly work out a solution which would help both the men and our budgetary problems."

Next year's police operation budget will be $1.1 million, Graper said. "They're taking up a fantastic amount of the city's general operating fund.

"I just can't keep going to the city commission and telling them my department heads are taking wage freezes when the policemen are getting a 5.8-percent increase," he said.

"I've got to look at that department and determine what changes can be made to reduce the costs.'

It's "unfortunate" the police union wouldn't cooperate, Graper said. "The policemen began to raise their voices and had problems holding their tempers in connection with my attorney," Graper said. THE POLICE bargaining team members didn't raise their voices and didn't lose their tempers, according to Radovic.

Pay freeze for school managers

School administrators have agreed to take a pay freeze for the 1983-84 school

Monday night the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education voted to ratify the tentative agreement reached with the union (Plymouth-Canton Administra-

The union represents building principals, area coordinators, and program administrators or primarily those managers below the central administrative level of assistant superintendents and executive directors.

The union and school board have agreed to extend the current contract through June 30, 1984, which means administrators will have their wages frozen until that time.

The agreement does provide that the union may reopen talks on wages if it wishes in June 1983 for 1984.

Superintendent John M. Hoben said the new contract does include a number of changes in language desired by the board and the union, but freezes pay at present levels.

Earlier the teachers' union ratified a contract which is viewed by many as a "wage freeze" package as it allowed for only incremental pay increases (step increases based on seniority) only and did not increase the salary schedule itself.

Sheriff promises Hines Park patrol

Local police want more cooperation from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department when it comes to Hines Park

Acting Sheriff Loren Pittman was grilled Monday afternoon during an informal meeting held to discuss park patrol problems.

Police and elected officials from the seven western Wayne County communities through which Hines Park runs were told Pittman's department will be in the park no later then May 16- and maybe before then.

Although the sheriff's department is mandated to patrol county parks under the new county charter, Pittman hasn't received the funds needed for park pa-

Once a park patrol budget is worked out, the sheriff's department will be in the park, according to Pittman and a spokesman for Wayne County Executive William Lucas.

But the acting sheriff was told his deputies aren't cooperative and could provoke problems in the park rather than solve them. The discussion heated as local police related bad experiences with deputies when there was a sheriff's patrol in the park.

The meeting was called by Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen. Representatives from Westland, Plymouth, Livonia, Northville, Northville Township and Dearborn Heights at-

"I thought the nature of this meeting would be informative, not confrontative," Pittman said to Westland Police Inspector Fred Dansby Dansby said the deputies argue with local police over which department has jurisdiction in the park.

'If we have to fight with the deputies over who has jurisdiction, then we don't want the deputies down in the park." Dansby said

The Westland department spent large amounts of overtime to patrol the park last year because the sheriff's patrol wasn't available, Dansby said. 'When we did see a sheriff's car down there, he would just pull up and watch. We don't need that; those days

Sheriff's deputies have driven past accidents and failed to offer assistance to Plymouth officers, Berry said.

'That's the first time I've heard about that," Pittman said. "You should contact me if something like that happens, and I'll put a stop to it."

Pittman said that as long as police from different departments must work together there will be jurisdiction argu-

"I don't like it. I don't condone it, but I realize it happens," Pittman said. Another problem Dansby foresees is the method of crowd control the sher-

The deputies practice "containment" rather than making arrests and forcing trouble-makers out of the park, Dansby

Dearborn Heights, Plymouth and Westland representatives said their police departments practiced strict parking enforcement to thin the crowds out. "It's easier to piss on a grass fire than to fight a full-fledged forest fire,"

Pittman agreed to notify local police departments about the sheriff's park patrol as the budget is drawn up.

Local boards of review meet during March to review and revise the property tax assessment rolls before they are sent to the county bureau of taxation. The Plymouth and Plymouth Township boards report the number of petitions from property owners to date are down compared with last year's record turnouts. Both boards haven't finished reviewing petitions, but expect to be finished shortly.

Since last year's board of review sessions, both communities have undergone complete reappraisals of residential properties - resulting in substantial assessment reductions for many homeowners.

The number of petitions in Plymouth Township is down drastically, from 4,000 in 1982 to 250 in 1983. Plymouth Township has some 7,100 parcels which it assesses taxes on.

The number of petitions in Plymouth is down from 639 in 1982 to 500 in 1983. Plymouth has some 3,000 taxable par-

The Plymouth Township Board of Review mostly handled hardship cases and erroneous assessments - very few differences of opinion, Breen said.

In the city many of the petitioners were arguing the assessed values assigned to their property, according to Treasurer/Assessor Ken Way.

They felt in most cases the valuation is too high. However many residents received reductions in their assessments because of the reappraisal and we didn't hear from them," Way

Property owners who appealed in Plymouth Township should receive notice of the board's decision by April 15, Breen said

Property owners who appealed in the city will start receiving notice of their board's decision at the end of the month, Way said.

Dying doesn't match living

By W.W. Edgar staff writer

The cost of dying hasn't kept pace with the cost of living.

During the days of the spiraling economy with high interest rates, the growing ranks of unemployed, and the constant rise in food prices, the cost at times was out of reach of many. But all the while the cost of dying kept at a moderate rate, and far below the going rate for other things. And the rate still is far below the climb in other "Sure, we had to raise prices in some cases," funeral director Win Schrader said. "But most of this was in the cost

"In areas where there is a high percentage of unemployment, and the residents can't afford many of the niceties, the price of dying is low compared to what it might be in larger communities where there still is a high rate of employment and prices of other things are

Discussing the difference in the communities Schrader emphasized that it becomes a matter of what the family

"It's just like anything else, you have a choice, and a funeral expense can be low, if that is what is wanted, or it can be high as you want. We are there to cater to family wishes."

Asked about the dollars and cents involved in a funeral today, he said:

"You still can have a funeral service under $1,000. That can be the base. From there it is up to the family as just what they would like as the last thing which can be done for the deceased. The cost could run up into the thousands. But again, that is up to the fami-

Is cremation increasing?

"I would say it is up about 1 percent, with most of the increase on the West Coast and with a little rise in the eastern section of the country.

"Otherwise funeral services have undergone great changes from the old days before we had the modern funeral

"In those days the casket was placed in the parlor of a home, and a black crepe placed on the door to let people know that some member of the family had passed away.

Those things are gone now. We very seldom have had a call for crepe on the doorway. It is much more convenient for the friends, family, and all others concerned with services in the funeral

"And in spite of the inflationary economy, the price of dying has not kept pace with the cost of living, and it won't, at least in our time."

group's help.

Johnny L. Holloway has been charged with assaulting the girl last June 20 after a breakfast outing follows. ing a service at First Freewill Baptist Church in Plymouth.

HOLLOWAY, A member of a religious vocal group called the Holloway Family Singers, was first charged in December when the girl told her mother of the alleged incident.

Westland Police Officer Laura Moore said that 18th District Court Judge Evan Callanan granted a request of Holloway's attorney to quash the warrant on the grounds that it was issued erroneously.

The warrant accused Holloway of actions which the girl allegedly reported to her mother and her mother reported to police.

Moore explained that a recent Supreme Court ruling recently made it more difficult to prosecute such cases. Hearsay testimony — something that a witness has heard someone else say about an act - is not admissable as evidence or as the basis for warrants.

Previously, there was an exception - the "tender years" exception which allowed that adults to testify to statements made to them by young children. The Supreme Court court struck down this provision and now the young children involved must make the statement

A NEW WARRANT for Holloway's arrest was subsequently issued based on the youngster's statement, according to Moore.

Judge Thomas Smith adjourned a pre-trial examination in the case March 7 and ordered that Holloway take a polygraph test to test his claim of innocence

During the picketing, Smith invited several members of the group into his office to answer their questions. Pickets included Rev. Jack Hughes, Holloway's father-in-law and pastor of the church, Holloway's wife, who is suing him for divorce, and the parents of the

Asked why he had ordered a polygraph test, Smith said the results could help him determine whether Holloway will be bound over for trial.

He said under law he must determine if a crime was committed on June 20. He said that while the child remembers that it was Father's Day and appeared to be a "sharp little girl," other witnesses said the 10-year-old wasn't even on the outing.

SMITH SAID that if Holloway flunks the lie detector test, which was scheduled for Tuesday, the results wouldn't be admissable in court, but the results might convince him that the case should be bound over to Circuit Court.

Smith also said he wanted to make sure the 10-year-old girl did not have to go through testimony unecessarily. He noted that he was told the girl was upset by delays in the case and "so I insisted that his attorney come in and hear that (the child's) side of the case."

Under questioning by Dockham,
Smith said polygraph tests have an accuracy rate of 90-95 percent.

The girl's mother was critical of Wayne County assistant prosecutor Richard Whitney for not allowing her and others to testify in court as to the girl being on the church outing. Whitney was unable to be reached for comment.

Smith said that he would allow others to testify at the next hearing, to be scheduled when the polygraph tests are completed.

SMITH LATER said that the court gets "a lot of these cases" that are made more difficult because of the "tender years" ruling by the Supreme Court.

"At one time in Michigan, if a person told her mother what happened, say a week or two later, the mother could testify what was told to her," explained Smith. Now a mother's testimony can "only be used if there was an excited utterance, if the child went immediately to her mother."

"In this case, it was six months (after the alleged assault)."

Moore called the Supreme Court ruling a "travesty of justice."

"If a year-old baby is raped, who's going to testify?" she said. "It's ludicrous, that's my opinion. It's created real difficulties in prosecuting."

DOCKHAM ALSO hopes that his group will be able to get laws affecting children changed.

"We hope to help kids a little bit. Incest and child molestation have been ignored and accepted for too long," said Dockham who has three sons and three grandchildren. IM-P.A.C.T. pickets were critical of what they called hostile interrogation for more than an hour by Holloway's attorney, Michael Bradley. Bradley was unable to be reached for comment.

RR crossings to be blocked

For seven days beginning April 7 three railroad crossings will be blocked in the city of Plymouth so improvements can be made.

The Chessie system first will work on grade improvements at the Starkweather crossing in Old Village. During that time the north and southbound traffic will be diverted to either Pearl and Division to Mill Street to bypass construction.

Following work at the Starkweather crossing Chessie will block off the crossings on Mill, south of Ann Arbor Trail, and then on Sheldon Road.

Schools await county bid for dual tax service

The school district hopes to get a bid this week from the Wayne County Treasurer on the county's fee to collect school taxes twice a year, in June and for business, the law requires that the district return to the townships and give them a chance to bid once more for collecting school taxes.

Canton Township has refused to submit a bid while Plymouth Township's bid was unacceptable to the school board. The administration is working out agreements with the city of Plymouth, Salem, Superior and Northville townships.

Plymouth Township has bid $77,000 the county and the banks, said Ray-mond Hoedel, assistant superintendent in the township. That bid, said Superintendent John Hoben, is unacceptable because it's more than twice as high as bids made by municipalities in 50 school districts in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

In contrast, one of the banks has agreed to collect school taxes for $3 per parcel which is one-third less than what Plymouth Township claims as its

THE CITY of Plymouth will collect school taxes and recover its cost the first year by imposing a 1-percent fee against property owners as is now being done. That would generate some $55,000 to cover the city's costs. After collecting school taxes twice a year, said Hoedel, the city will use its experience to determine a fee to charge the district the following year.

Hoedel told the school board Monday night that state law requires that the district go back to Canton and Plymouth townships and inform them what Wayne County and the banks bid so the townships can make a final bid if they

The townships have until April 30 to reconsider their last positions, Hoedel said. He added that he would bring final agreements to the school board May 9 for approval and the board on May 23 would vote on the resolution establishing the millage rate to be levied

There are 23 school districts in Wayne County which are going to dual tax collections this year, said Hoedel. Of these, agreements have been reached with municipalities in all but five cases of which Plymouth-Canton Community Schools is one.

Hoben added that he believes Plymouth-Canton is the largest school district in the state to collect dual taxes without using the local municipalities.

TOM YACK, board president, again said that the district still would have to borrow money even with dual collecWith taxes collected in June, Yack said, the district still will be short of funds in July, August and part of Sep-

For 1983-84 the administration estimates the district may have to borrow $8 million — compared to $16 million borrowed this year to meet payroll until tax receipts are collected. Hoedel said that an advantage of having a bank collect school taxes is that the money would go directly into an interest-bearing checking account paying some 6.75-percent interest. Presently the city and townships can hold onto school taxes and earn interest on those sums for up to 10 working

Story of the lily as Easter's bloom

staff writer

Come Easter Sunday every church in the Christian world will have its altar bedecked with beautiful Easter lilies.

They will have been placed there by families as memorials to their departed as part of an age-old tradition. When the service is concluded each family will take its plant home to a place of honor on the dining table.

How did it all start and what brought about the designation of the lily as the Easter flower?

The lily is called the angel of flowers and is looked upon as a symbol of beauty and goodness.

The Bible tells us that one day Jesus showed His followers a large field of lilies. The greatest king, he told them, was never dressed as beautifully as the lilies. It became the symbol we know today and the center of the celebration

There are many kinds of lilies . Among them was a new kind brought to the United States from Bermuda in

The large, white Bermuda lily blossoms around Easter time and because of that became the "American Easter Lily". It is the favorite flower for decorating the churches throughout the land

Easter Sunday. Down through the years the flowers and trees have played a part in many Easter customs. In some European countries the young folks decorate early spring branches with flowers and

These are used for giving what has been termed "Easter Smacks." Family members are playfully smacked before they get up on Easter morning. Housewives are gently tapped for treats and friends give eggs to keep from being switched.

But the Easter lily is the more favored because it is seen as a symbol of the Resurrection.

It was chosen because it grows in a manner that imitates the Resurrection as described in the Bible. The lily has a hard, brown bulb with papery shell and is buried in the earth. Soon a beautiful white Easter Lily grows and blossoms. The bulb stands for the tomb of Jesus, and the blossom for his life after death.

The early spring narcissus of the Alps with its white or yellow blossoms has been an Easter flower for centuries. And long before Christian times the same flower was part of Greek myth about springtime and the chang-

Speech winners

Jill Schaufele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Schaufele of Plymouth, was a recent Voice of Democracy speech winner in a contest hosted by Livonia VFW Post 4139.

She earned a $150 U.S. savings bond for placing first with her speech entitled. "Youth - Strength of America."

She is a sophomore at Plymouth Christian Academy, cheerleading captain, honor roll student and a staff member of both the yearbook and school newspaper.

Two other students from the academy, Kim Allen and Renee Sarna, were awarded second and third place prizes of $100 and $75 savings bonds. Fourth place winner was Annette Vollrath of Plymouth Salem High.

"Those who have, get" is more than a law of politics. It's a law of nature. Just ask a bluegill.

Bigger fish have more neurons, or nerve cells, in their eyes," according to a team of researchers from the universities of Michigan and Rhode Island. They report these nerve cells help big fish spot tiny prey at a greater distance.

That's how the big fish beats the little fish to a meal. And how the big fish gets bigger.

CREDIT FOR this discovery goes to Stephen S. Easter of the University of Michigan and zoologists Nelson G. Hairston Jr. and Kao T. Li of Rhode Is-

They put hungry bluegills of various sizes in to a 10-gallon drum baited with a daphnia, which is a crustacean about one millimeter long. The aquarium was video-taped from above.

"We found that the larger fish could spot the daphnia when it was farther away," said Easter. "We think that both large and small fish will capture a prey if only they can see it.

The fact that larger ones see it at a greater distance makes them better predators, because they will see the food before the smaller competi-

AFTER THEIR laboratory meals, the bluegills themselves wound up in the dissecting lab. The results, according to Easter:

"We discovered that the larger fish have more receptors than the smaller ones. The cones in the larger fish were packed more tightly than in the smaller fish, and this tight packing is thought to be responsible for the improved vision.

Anglers might dispute such a finding, particularly on a warm day when they catch a thousand fourinch panfish when they know full well the big ones are lurking someplace. But who is an angler to dis pute a scientist?

How did the zoologists get into this subject. Their work was supported by the federal government's National Eye Institute. It is part of a logterm study of the growth of the nervous system of

If you think perhaps your eyes will get better with age, like a bluegill's, think again. "Most vertebrats cease to enlarge their nervous system be-yond the embryo stage," says Easter, but fish reti-nas cutinue to grow by adding on new neurons as the fish grow. Scientists have been puzzled as to why fish seem to be the exception to the rule." So are fishermen.

SC trustees cut junkets

In an effort to cut costs, Schoolcraft Colge trustees said they plan to curtail out-of-state inferences for the remainder of the fiscal year.

Trustees will miss three college inferences which will be held in April. Typically, a costs between $300-$600 to send one trustee to ach confer-

Trustees said they made the move because of the college's revenue problems. Schoolcraft could lose about $75,000 this year as a result of Gov. James

Family shares in excitement of former Tiger's big moment

staff writer

The neighbors out on Marc Trail in Plymouth Township will not forget the day George Kell was named to the Baseball Hall of Fame. The former Tiger third baseman was right there on their street when he

"The neighbors had no idea what was going on when all the news media arrived," said Jan Stackpoole.

She said she was surprised, too, when she arrived home to find seven reporters and cameramen standing at her front door. Channel 2 and Channel 4 television news vans were parked in front of her house. "And the Detroit News was there," she add-

It all came about because of Jan's brother-in-law. He had asked if he could use the Stackpoole's family room with its fireplace to film a television commercial. George Kell was to be featured in the commercial for a Lansing bank.

They consented.

THE TELEPHONE call from Kell's wife came at about 1:30 p.m. with the news that he had made it. From then on everything was a happy bedlam Kell called his office with the news. Gov. James Blanchard called to congratulate him. Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn called to add his congratulations.

By 3 p.m., the Detroit News, and the television news teams had tracked down the new Hall of Famer. He sent out the word that there would be no interviews until they finished the commercial.

"I usually get home from work about 1:30," said Jan Stackpoole. "But because I knew they were making the commercial, I timed myself to get home about 3, when the children would be home from school." The crowd on her front porch told her she couldn't go in.

"But I live here," she told them. "You're lucky," they said.

THE MEDIA PEOPLE came into the house at 3:45 p.m.

Ann Doyle and her crew from Channel 2 moved their lights and camera's into Jan's kitchen. Jim Brandstetter and his group from Channel 4 set up their equipment in

Jan was worrying about picking up the remains of the commercial crew's Kentucky Fried Chicken lunch in the kitchen but was told it was all right. They would shoot

"When we saw it on television later, there were my cupboards and my cookbooks in the background," she said. She suddenly realized she should be taking some pictures, too. She borrowed a camera from the neighbors and dashed up to the Trading Post to buy baseballs to be autographed.

'I wanted to call the Observer, but the telephone was in constant use. Associated Press was calling and he was getting calls from Little Rock.

THE STACKPOOLES have four children. Michelle, 13, a student at Pioneer Middle School, appeared on the front page of the Detroit News in a photograph with George Kevin, 12; Kristin, 8; and Brian, 6, attend Isbister Elementary School.

"I can't tell you how nice he was to me and the children. He posed for pictures with the kids and autographed their baseballs. He was so thilled, he made everybody happy. It was an exciting time for him and we all shared the excitement," Jan Stackpoole

Before he left - he said he was leaving at 7 for Little Rock - he thanked them.

The Stackpooles, still exhilarated over the experience, felt they had been a part of one of baseball's historic events.

changes in society.

That was the message of one of the major speakers at the Urban and Minority Education Journalism Fellowship held recently in Washington, D.C. under the sponsorshp of the Institute for Edicational Leadership, Inc.

The three-day seminar explored public edication in the 1980s and beyond.

Among those attending were 16 journalits and 19 educational experts invited by the listitute which is a private, non-profit organization funded in large part by the Ford Foundation.

Among those attending was Rick Smith of Plymouth, a freelance photographer and director of the Native American Indian Heritage Center conducted by Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

Smith said the theme explored at the confeence was "public education at a critical crossroad."

"The American public schools are fundamentally out of step with what is going on in this country, said Mike Annison, director of the Rocky Moutain Trend Report, an educational research preect which studies current tendencies ineducation.

"We are experiencing a major revolution in his country similar in scope to the industrial reveution," Annison told those attending the seming, "and our schools are lagging way behind."

To cope with what he called the information/sevice revolution, Annison called for a "total restruturing" of the public school system.

TO KEEP UP with the high technology revolution consuming the country many educators are calling for beefed-up math and science curriculum.

"The future depends upon equal education in the sciences," said Harold Hodgkinson, former director of the National Institute of Education and current senior fellow with the Institute for Educational

A Gallup Poll released in September 1983 revealed that the American public places education at the top of the list of national priorities ahead of a strong industrial system (which ranked second) and a strong military (which ranked third).

Because of this, said Mary Berry, U.S. Commissioner on Civil Rights, education is going to be a major issue in the 1984 presidential campaign.

With that in mind, Hodgkinson thinks educators have to get used to dealing with the media. "I used to blame the press for a lack of publicity. I now blame educators for not understanding the media."

Civil rights and minority educational issues are fading as a national educational priority, said Albert Shanker, president of the American Federation of Teachers (AFT). "Civil rights are not on the some $250 million to provide teacher retraining in math and science.

As the sciences receive increasing national attention, said Hodgkinson, the social humanitarian pregrams of the past decade are falling by the wayside. "The accomplishment of the last decade has been to lever-up the bottom. However most 'leverup' programs are slated for the budget-cut ax, and zero budgets by 1985 if the Reagan administration gets its way."

A question explored by those at the conference was whether public education can adapt to the current high technology revolution without abandoning minority and disadvantaged children. Future educational programming for the urban areas, stressed Hodgkinson, must include minority children. Some educational experts are optimistic about the future of public education, he added, and its ability to meet the changing needs of a society undergoing technological change.

'The genius of the American system is innovation," said Hodgkinson, "Our system is very adaptable at the local level where all trends are set. The local level is where innovation takes place. Innovation is just developed into policy in Washington after it happens within the local communities.

Canton fiasco ongoing saga

The latest chapter in the continuing saga of the financial fiasco happened Tuesday night, March 8, 1983, at the Canton Township Board meeting.

Our supervisor and board, who recently gave our finance director a $6,000 raise and, oh yes, the use of a township car (now other department heads want a car too), refused to give a 5 percent or 17-cent per hour raise to six part-time employees. These six employees work in the treasurer's office and have done an excellent job under rough conditions of the past tax season.

It seems like every time the treasurer wants to do anything for her employees that requires the supervisor's approval, he says no or brings it to the board. The treasurer received a communication from the personnel department saying to make sure the employees pay was in line with township policy. It also said that 5 percent was the maximum pay raise approved by the

The treasurer reviewed the employees salaries and deemed that it was in line with township policy and that these employees who are making minimum wage should get the 5 percent increase as they had earned it.

The treasurer filled out a pay increase form and forwarded it to the personnel department. Dan Durak, personnel director, forwarded it to the supervisor for approval. This took five days (why so long? Township Hall isn't that large). The supervisor wouldn't approve the 5 percent or 17-cent raise for the six part-time employees. He made it an agenda item for the board's deci-

The treasurer made a motion to have the board approve the 5 percent raise and the board wouldn't. This is the same board that gave a $6,000 raise and a car to the finance director. This raise of 17 cents for the six employees would work out to about $125 for the three weeks that it would be in effect, as they are being laid off the middle of this month. It's the old watch the pennies, the heck with the dollars routine

As a taxpayer I disagree with this policy and think we should watch both the dollars and the pennies. The merit commission wasn't too happy with the board's $6,000 raise and use of a car to the finance director as stated in its letter to the board. They also want the dollars watched.

What do you think? Come down to the board meeting's and let the board know how you feel.

1983 and thereafter, the deduction increases to 10 percent, but no more than $3,000.

illied earned income is $20,000, and your spouse's is $8,000. In 1982, you will be able to subtract 5 percent of the lower salary ($8,000), and you will be taxed on $27,600. For 1983 and subsequent years, you will be able to subtract 10 percent of $8,000 and be taxed on $27,200.

HOWEVER, WHEN you combine this deduction with an Individual Retirement Account, you don't save as much as you might

When you calculate the marriage tax deduction, you must first subtract the amount put in an IRA (up to $2,000). Let's say the lower-earning spouse puts $2,000 in an IRA (a wise move for all but the youngest families). For this year, you get a deduction of 5 percent of $6,000 instead of 5 percent of $8,000. ($8,000 income less $2,000 in an IRA is $6,000.) Next year, you would get a deduction of 10 percent of $6,000 instead of 10 percent of $8,000.

The loss of deduction gets steadily larger as the earnings of the lower income spouse approaches $30,000 - the deduction is figured up to a maximum lower salary of $30,000.

However, if the lower-earning spouse makes $35,000 a year, subtracting $2,000 for an IRA still leaves the lower income above the $30,000 maximum for figuring the marriage penalty deduction and you don't "lose" any of either the marriage penalty deduction or the IRA deduction.

IF YOU earn $20,000 and your spouse earns $8,000 and each of you puts $2,000 in an IRA, your total income will be $28,000, but your taxable income before figuring the marriage penalty deduction will be $24,000 ($28,000 total income less $4,000 split between two IRAs). Since the marriage penalty deduction would be 5 percent of $6,000 (the $8,000 lower income minus the $2,000 put in an IRA), the deduction would be $300, rather than $400 (if no IRA contribution had been made). Subtracting the $300 from $24,000 adjusted income, you would start figuring your taxes based on

There is another provision that you should be aware of if you have children and pay for their care while you work.

The maximum credit you can take for child and dependent care expenses has increased. If you have one qualifying individual, the maximum credit ranges from $480, if your income is more than $28,000, to $720 if it's $10,000 or less. For two or more qualifying individuals, the maximum credit will range from $960 to $1,440.

HERE IS how the credit works: The credit increases to 30 percent of employment-related expenses if your adjusted gross income is $10,000 or less. For each $2,000 (or fraction of $2,000) you make above the $10,000, the credit is reduced by one percentage point. If your adjusted gross income is more than $28,000, the credit will remain at the existing 20-percent level.

With retirement savings plans, working couples stand to benefit from another change in the tax law. Workers who already are covered by employer pension plans have the opportunity to make their own tax-deductible contributions to an Individual Retirement Account, or to the company plan itself, provided that the plan provides for voluntary employee contributions and the employer agrees to treat such contributions as deductible. The maximum contribution, whether or not the workers are covered by the employer's pension plans, is 100 percent of their compensation inclu-dible in gross income up to a maximum of $2,000. You can make payments to your IRA at any time during the tax for their children is only the rent or mortgage payment. The true value (and the value the IRS uses) includes a for the use of the furniture and appliances, heat and other utilities. You should use the fair rental value of the home in which your child lives, divided by the number of people who live in the home, as the value of the lodging when you deterrmine the amount of support you have provided. Fair rental value is the amount you could reasonably expect to receive from a stranger, the IRS said.

For example, Mary Smith lives with her two children in an unfurnished home. SHe pays $300 for monthly mortgage payments. A similar house in her neighborhood rents for $500 a month unfurnished. She adds $100 a month for the value of furnishings and $150 a month for utilities. She determines that she is providing $250 of support for lodging per month for each child: $500 plus $100 plus $150 divided by three.

CERTAIN OTHER items are easily missed when you are adding up the amount your've paid for support. The child's contributions to churches or charities, a reasonable amount of your car expenses for transporting the child to school and other activities, and the child's portion of vacation expenses are items of support you might overlook.

It is important to keep accurate records of support expenses throughout the year. Maintaining a diary for each child wil help you keep track of all the little expenses such as haircuts, school lunches and trips to the movies. These records will be important in determining the amount of support you have provided.

If you have reason to believe that your former spouse intends to claim an exemption for a child for whom you claim an exemption, the IRS suggests that your request an itemized statement of support be provided by the other parent. Information for divorced or separated parents can be found in IRS Publication 504, "Tax Information for Divorced or Separated Individuals." It can be ordered by using the order blank in your tax package.

Job-related study is tax deductible

Expenses for education relevant to your current employment may be deductible, the IRS says.

To qualify, the expenses must meet at least one of two specific guidelines. Taking the course of study must be mandatory for continuance in your current employment status — for example, a teacher required to take a course to retain a teaching position. If not, the course must be helpful in maintaining or improving skills which are required in your present employment — for instance a television repairman taking a course to keep up with the lates

But the cost of certain educational experiences are not deductible. Expenses for education that prepares your for a new trade or business - such as a journalist studying law - may not be deducted even if the education is required or beneficial in your present employment. Similarly, the expense for study to help you meet the taxpayer's home, which was the principal residence for that deent child for the entire year

Taxpayers who take advantage of this benefit must file Form 1040, check Block 5 under filing statutes and figure the tax using the joint return tax table or tax rate schedule.

The last year a taxpayer may file jointly with, or claim an exemption for, a deceased spouse is the year of the death.

Income averaging may lower taxes

Taxpayers whose income increased substantially in 1982 may be eligible for a tax break by using the income averaging method of tax computation when filing their federal income tax return.

In income averaging, a part of an unusually large amount of taxable income can be taxed in lower brackets.

Generally, the taxpayer uses the four years prior to 1982 to compute the tax in averaging income. The first step is finding if the averageable income was more than $3,000. Generally, averageable income is the amount by which the taxpayer's adjusted income for 1982 is more than 30 percent of the total taxable income for the four years preceding 1982.

For detailed information on how to compute income averaging, see Publication 506, "Income Averaging," available by using the order from in the tax packet.

Job-related move may be deductible

Many expenses incurred in a job-related move may be deductible on 1982 income tax returns.

Moving expenses which can be deducted include the cost of travel to the new location, moving of houshold goods and personal effects, premove househunting trips, temporary living costs at the new location, and certain expenses relaed to the disposition of an old residence and acquisition of a new one. But the maximum deduction of the last three items is limited.

In addditon, the distance between a taxpayer's new job and old home must be at least 35 miles farther than the former home was from the former job. A taxpayer who is an employee must work at least 39 weeks during the 12 months after the move.

Eligible taxpayers can claim the moving-expense deduction whether they itemize deductions or not. Expenses are reported on Form 3903 which should be filed with Form 1040. Publication 521, "Moving expenses" is available by using the order blank in the tax charter gives him appointive authority," said Bill Johnson, the exeuctive's press secretary.

"He believed the charter supported him when he appointed Pittman in January, and he still believes that now."

TERNAES RULED, however, that the new county charter doesn't give Lucas appointive authority.

Instead, Teranes said, it was the intent of the legislature, in a general law, that appointive authority remain in the hands of a three-member committee which has long filled vacancies that occur in elected offices.

The committee consisting of County Clerk James Killeen, Prosecutor William Cahalan and Presiding Probate Judge Joseph Pernick — named Ficano to succeed Lucas as sheriff last December. Ficano, a 30year-old attorney from Livonia, is Kil-leen's chief deputy clerk.

Lucas, who had been sheriff for 13 years before being elected Wayne's first county executive Nov. 2, appointed Pittman, who had been his undersheriff for more than a decade.

Ficano filed suit against Lucas after Pittman's appointment, and Pittman counter-sued.

Calling committee members "obstructionists," Johnson said "they're only challenging Pittman because they're opposed to the successful implementation of this charter.

"There's no question Pittman is better qualified for this job," Johnson added. "His law enforcement career spans 30 years. He knows the needs of his deputies and the citizens of Wayne County."

Teranes, however, said that "the question of qualification is not a matter to be decided by this court."

FICANO, WHO has kept a low profile throughout the dispute, said last week he was ready to move into the office right away. He has not yet moved into the sheriff's office and probably won't during the course of the Lucas-Pittman appeal.

Since winning his case, Ficano has been quietly meeting outside the shercal government leaders.

Ficano said he was qualified for the job because of his experience as an administrator and in politics.

Ficano was chairman of the Wayne 2d District Democratic organization. He has run unsuccessfully for office three times - once for Schoolcraft College trustee and twice for state rep-

If Ficano's appointment is upheld, he will serve until the term expires at the end of 1984. Then, he would have to face the voters for renomination.

Passion play to aid anti-hunger program

"The Teacher," an original Passion play depicting the final days, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ, will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday, March 25, at St. Richard Catholic Church, 35851 Cherry Hill Road, Westland.

Admission is free. Proceeds from the freewill offering following the show will benefit the Hunger Outreach pro-gram operated by Brother Michael Bysewski at St. Thomas the Apostle Catholic Church on Detroit's east side. "The Teacher" has a cast of 39 young people from throughout the metropolitan Detroit area and features 10 songs written expressly for the play by five area composers and lyricists.

Cast members include Livonians Alisa Bento and Tina Vento, both as apostles; and Mary Krebs as assistant direc-Westland resident Michael Weisler

The production is open to the public. St. Richard's is located between Newburgh and Wayne roads.

Satellite beams camp meeting

Through the use of a telecommunications satellite, Garden City Christian Center, 33111 Ford Road, will participate in the second annual Word of Faith worldwide camp meeting March

Three services daily will beam the worship services by way of an uplink earth-station, microwave dish erected on the main church premises in Dallas. From there, the signal will be transmitted by powerful microwave to a satellite hovering the earth in space, explained Garden City pastor Don Mul-

"A down-link earth-station at our facility targets the signal from the satellite and the praise and worship appears on a screen before our people," he said.

The services will open at 7:30 p.m. Sunday and will continue with a 10:30 a.m., 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. showings Monday through Friday. Saturday will have services at 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Speakers will include Dr. Paul Yonggi Cho. Over 250,000 attend his Sunday worship services in Seoul, South Korea. He will be speaking Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Thursday morn-

Great granny celebrates

Four generations were present at the 100th birthday anniversary celebration honoring Fannie Allen, a resident of Four Chaplains Convalescent Home in Westland - but only the youngest members got to have their picture taken with their great-great-grandmother: Heather McCreary (from left), 8; the honoree, holding 9month-old Alyssa Bowles; and 3-year-old Jonathon Bowles. Mrs. Allen was described by her family as a great cook and seamstress in her heyday. At one time, she and a daughter, Maude Graubner, 80, operated a small restaurant at State and Park streets in Detroit that catered to a lunch crowd of Michigan Bell and Detroit Times employees.

"THEY WOULD LET him sing before the show - just before the group would come on. Then maybe he'd do another number at intermission just before they would be due back for the second half," Giles said.

His big break came last August when the regular tenor left and the Blackwoods replaced him with Price.

The March 31 concert is open to the public and there is no charge. If your kind of movie carries a cast of thousands, you should be enthralled with "Gandhi." If you are impressed by actors who lose themselves in the roles they play, you will find Ben Kingsley as Gandhi to be a real treat. But if you do not harken to movies that have the ability to kick an audience in their collective gut, then "Gandhi" is one movie that you will want to avoid.

Tax vote offers Geake chance to show leadership

N SPITE OF all the grandstanding and political rhetoric taking place in Lansing, taxes probably will be going up in Michigan

There is much evidence that a tax increase is needed. Whether it needs to be permanent and its size, however, are debatable. What kind of tax income, sales or a combination of the two - also is a question being bandied about in Lansing.

Last week the state House of Representatives easily approved a two-bill tax package which would boost the personal income tax rate from the current 4.6 percent to 6.35 percent, retroactive to Jan. 1.

The tax rate would remain at that level until the state's unemployment rate - averaged over six months - dropped to at least 12.25 percent. For each 0.75 percent dip in the jobless rate, the income tax would decline by 0.1 percent.

When the unemployment rate falls to 9 percent or less, the tax increase would expire, and the rate would revert to the current 4.6 percent.

THE PACKAGE now goes to the Senate, where Democrats hold a bare 20-18 majority.

Although we believe that some type of tax increase is inevitable, it will require the cooperation of at least a few Republican senators. Any tax package approved would need the unanimous support of the Democrats - support that doesn't appear to be there.

While Republicans are busy criticizing the tax package which Democrats ramroded through the House, prudent GOP legislators admit some type of tax increase will be approved. Those GOP votes will be precious to Gov. James Blanchard's team and needn't be delivered without some promise of support in another area.

One such area is regional control of the Detroit Water and Sewerage System.

We suggest that Sen. Robert Geake, a Republican whose district includes Canton, Livonia, Northville, Plymouth and Redford, take a leadership role in what certainly will be a battle to reform the Detroit-controlled regional water system.

Blanchard will face an uphill struggle with the 18 Republican senators who have vowed to fight the GEAKE, TOO, will face a battle if he is serious about mustering enough votes to approve his recently introduced bill in the Senate that would give suburban water customers a proportional voice in governing what is a metropolitan water system.

At present, all seven water board members serve at the pleasure of the mayor of Detroit. Suburbanites have no control over the three members who supposedly represent their heavy financial commit-

Geake's bill would have the system run by a ninemember board. Five members would represent suburban communities served by the system, while the other four would continue to be appointed by and serve at the pleasure of the mayor of Detroit.

The proposed bill calls for the five suburban board members to be elected by an assembly of communities served by the system. Each city, township and village would have one assembly vote for each 10,000 population. Any community with a population of less than 10,000 would be entitled to muster some Democratic votes. And that will be à tough task.

WE SUPPORT regional governance of the water

One city should not be able to control a system that was paid for with federal and state grants and user fees borne by Detroiters and suburbanites

As we see it. Geake can either compromise on some type of tax package and possibly garnerenough votes to reform the water board or stand squarely against a tax increase and watch a plan that would provide regional governance of the water board die for lack of support.

Residents eventually will pay for the income taxincrease; but, remember, those monthly water bills can be expensive, too.

It's not enough to merely introduce the "right" kind of legislation and win popular acclaim. To be considered an effective representative, it's essential that at least some of the bills you introduce and the reforms you advocate be approved.

How about it. Sen. Geake'

The indigent and the paying customers in western Wayne County who use the hospital's facilities must be reassured that there will always be access to medical care for them. It is unlikely the state will take over that responsibility. That leaves it up to the county to reaffirm its commitment.

THE BOARD of commissioners, the committee members appointed by Lucas, and Lucas himself would do well to consider the following points:

St. Pat's Day in Corktown

ST. PATRICK'S DAY in the Mornin'

This is the day The Stroller takes his annual trip down Memory Lane to visit Old Corktown and help the Irish celebrate in honor of the man who supposedly chased all the snakes from Ireland.

Through the years, this Irish holiday has taken its place along with Christmas, the Fourth of July and Memorial Day. But for celebrations, nothing compares with the St. Patrick's Days of long ago, when even the old-fashioned clay pipes were the vogue.

This is the day, too, when The Stroller relives the times when he joined the group downtown and paraded over to Corktown to attend Mass at Holy Trinity Church and visit Rt. Rev. Clement Kern.

This kindly old monsignor is still living and now is a guest at St. John Seminary in Plymouth. But he manages to get around and visit again with many of the survivors of the St. Patrick's Day celebrations when the Irish held sway in all the meeting places downtown.

AS THIS DAY dawns each year, The Stroller is reminded of the St. Patrick's Day when he had his office downtown and was "captured" by the Irish group to march with them to church.

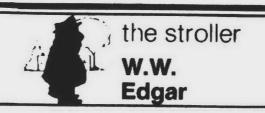

The clans used to gather at Tommy Long's saloon on West Fort between Cass and First Avenue.

On one particular St. Patrick's Day, Tommy was leading the parade when he spotted The Stroller and yelled, "Come on, you Dutchman, you've got to be an Irishman for the day.

With that he grabbed an arm, and when we got to Holy Trinity, he walked this Dutchman down the main aisle and sat him with the sisters. Even Msgr. Kern had to smile when he took his place at the altar and saw the Dutchman in the front row

Once the church services were ended, it was customary to visit the monsignor in the rectory and spend a few happy hours, even to smoking a clay

In the group would be the Brennans, the Scallens, the Murphys, the Longs, the Cavanaughs and others of the "Blue Stocking" group of Irish.

THEN CAME the return parade to Tommy's saloon on Fort Street and the serving of green beer.

Tommy was first to color the suds, and they flowed freely all day. Finally, Tommy's brother Jim, who had a wonderful high-pitched tenor voice, moved to the center of the barroom floor and lifted his voice to sing the favorite, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." From then on, the day was filled with mirth and laughter. Intertwined with the smoking of clay pipes and the quenching of one's thirst with green beer, Jim would burst out in song with other old favorites: "Where the River Shannon Flows," "Galway Bay" and "A Little Bit o' Heaven." We embryonic tenors joined in

THE CELEBRATION went on to dusk, and the finale was something to see - and hear.

Jim would move to the center of the floor in front of the bar and, with bowed head, break into his favorite: "Mother Macree." There wasn't a dry eye in the throng by the time he finished.

Tommy Long's saloon is long gone. Old Corktown, as we knew it, is no longer an Irish settlement, and Msgr. Kern is no longer the guiding light at Holy

But for this day - in memory, at least - we all will be back at the Irish capital of other days, to celebrate the chasing of the snakes from Ireland.

THIS IS A time when basketballs are put away, uniforms are packed into boxes, and gymnasium seats are folded back into walls. Hundreds of local recreation, grade school, high school, college and church basketball leagues are completing their sea-

It's time for reflecting on the year. On Saturday, I completed my first season as head basketball coach in a suburban recreation league. My team consisted of seven boys 9 and 10 years old. They were taking part in their first organized league.

To some older persons, such skills as dribbling, passing and shooting a basketball are second na-ture. Take my word for it, these skills have to be

ALTHOUGH THERE ARE problems in being a child's first coach, there are also advantages: No bad habits have to be unlearned.

Children are also enthusiastic and willing to go through any practice or drill their coach requires. I never got over the thrill of getting a loud great today!" to my perfunctory, "How do you feel

Nor will I forget the excitement of the players when I delivered their uniforms to their houses the morning of the first game. One youngster was standing in the snow in his front yard when I arrived. Another was anxiously looking out the window of his living room as I pulled into his driveway.

The morning of the first game, I phoned one player to tell him I would pick him up about an hour before the start of the game.

"Will you be ready?" I asked.

"I'm ready right now," he said. "I've got my uniform on, and I can walk out the door." It was three hours before game time.

AT THE FIRST game, the coach was more nervous than the players. I didn't know what to expect from them -- or from me.

I spent much time preparing for that game. For about an hour that morning, I made up elaborate charts and diagrams. I wanted to make sure the players would remember the offensive and defensive concepts we had worked on so hard during our

As I showed the team each diagram, I could see they were bewildered. They didn't know what I was talking about. I explained it again. But the more I talked, the more confused they became.

By game time, they were totally confused. Their confusion was obvious on the playing floor. As we were being wiped out 16-5, I stood helplessly on the sidelines. I knew, in my anxiety to succeed, that I had lost control of the team.

THE TEAM never again suffered this embarrassment. The coach relaxed and kept his plans simple. Players responded, and their performances improved each week.

In the end, we would win six games and suffer only two more close losses after the season-opening

During the four months of the season, the players learned about zone defenses, passing the ball to the open man and dribbling to the basket. But the coach learned more.

He learned how to talk simply to 9- and 10-yearolds. He learned to relax and to not expect miracles in the first year.

Finally, the coach learned that not all rewards are paid in dollars. Some come in memories.

Tough drunk driving laws take effect March 30

Motorists arrested on drunk driving charges will undergo more stringent tests, and those convicted on the charge will face stiffer penalties, when a new state law goes into effect March 30.

The tougher laws are aimed at getting the 1.5 million Michigan motorists who drink and drive off the road, the Automobile Club of Michigan said. After midnight on weekends, one driver

According to a recent Auto Club study entitled "Under the Influence," traffic deaths in Michigan which involved alcohol rose more than 6 percent from 1978 to 1981.

The number of drunk drivers dramatically increased during that same period. Only one in 2,000 drinking and driving incidents leads to arrest each year, however, and only an estimated 22 percent of those arrested for drunk driving are convicted on that charge, the Auto Club found.

Drivers who refuse the "implied consent" test at a police station face a sixmonth license suspension and six points on their driving record. If the driver refuses a second time within seven years, he may face license suspension for a year.

 A motorist who registers 0.10 percent BAC or higher may have to post a cash bond before being released. Typical bonds for a drunk driving arrest are $100 to $200.

MOST DRUNK driving arrests take place between 9 p.m. and 2 a.m. Drivers who can't post bond will remain in iail until the court arraignment, usually the next morning.

A weekend arrest could result in a longer jail stay. The arrest process will be longer for those involved in a drinking and driving accident - especially if serious injury results.

Negligent homicide or one of several possible manslaughter charges may await those involved in a fatal alcoholrelated accident

Besides a more stringent arrest procedure, the new law calls for stricter penalties for convicted offenders.

 A one-time court appearance on a first drunk driving charge would average between $350 and $500 in attorney fees. That cost would increase for a second charge.

• The convicted offender also winds up paying higher insurance premiums and loses time on the job because he must appear in court.

JAIL AND fine penalties for offenses will remain the same under the new law. But there are more severe license sanctions, including a six-month to twoyear suspension for a first drunk driving conviction.

Children of heavy drinkers turn away from alcohol

Childen of problem drinkers are unlikely to follow their parents' drinking habits, according to a University of Michigan public health researcher.

"The conventional wisdom is that the parents' behavior sets the course of a child's drinking career, especially in the case of the problem drinker," said Ernest Harburg, research scientist of epidemiology and psychology and director of the Urban Health Research Program.

"But this study counters that idea." said Harburg, basing his findings on a detailed study of the drinking habits of adults and their parents in the city of Tecumseh (pop. 10,000).

HARBURG AND his colleagues, Deborah Davis and Roberta Caplan, found that children tended to follow their parents' drinking behavior except when their parents were at either extreme of the drinking spectrum - either abstainers or very heavy drinkers.

In those cases, the number of children imitating their parents' behavior fell off.

The researchers suggest that the children of parents who either abstained or were problem drinkers broke away from their parents' behavior "because in both cases their parents' drinking style was a source of stress.

"Children of abstainers were at odds with the community norm. Children of very heavy drinkers appear to have been responding to the stresses of alcohol-caused problems within the fami-

What was important in the study was not the absolute amount of alcohol consumed but how those amounts related to community norms of drinking behavior, Harburg said.

RESPONDENTS from Tecumseh labeled their parents as abstainers, or rare, light, moderate, heavy or very heavy drinkers.

They labeled their own drinking, and calculated how much beer, wine and liquor they consumed each week. From this information, the researchers were able to determine the community norm. That is, what the community considered to be light, moderate or heavy drinking.

Children of light drinkers drank lightly, children of moderate drinkers drank moderately and so on. The imitation was most apparent for the behavior of the same-sex parent - like father, like son.

But children of teetotalers usually drank, and children of very heavy

roll call report

Area reps back pension changes

Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes March 3-9. HOUSE

SOCIAL SECURITY - The House passed, 282 for and 148 against, and sent to the Senate a bill (HR 1900) designed to keep the Social Security System solvent at least until the mid-21st

The least controversial section of the bill would raise at least $135 billion for the Social Security trust funds over the next several years in order to eliminate the short-term deficit.

In part, the short-term solution would accelerate already-scheduled tax hikes, curb and delay beneficiaries' cost-of-living increases, and make Social Security mandatory for members of Congress, federal judges and new federal civil servants.

The most disputed section of the bailout addresses the staggering post-2000 deficit expected because lengthening life spans combined with declining birth rates will make Social Security top-heavy with beneficiaries.

The bill seeks to solve the "demographic problem" chiefly by gradually raising the retirement age from 65 to 67, beginning in 2000.

Supporter Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., called the bill of compromise that "evenly distributed the pain that is the price we must pay for reform.'

Opponent Michael Barnes, D-Md., objected to including new federal workers in Social Security, saying this means "federal retirement would become the single greatest disincentive to joining federal service."

Memers voting yes favored the Social Security rescue plan.

Voting yes: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, William Ford, D-Taylor, Sander Levin, D-Southfield.

Voting no: Dennis Hertel, D-Detroit, and William Broomfield, R-Birming-against, the House adopted a Social Security amendment (to HR 1900) that in the next century will raise the retire-ment age for full benefits above the present 65 years.

Between 2000 and 2017, the age will rise gradually to 67 years. Early retirements still will be permitted, but at the expense of sharper benefit reductions than now apply.

The amendment, originated in committee by Republicans but backed on the floor by many Democrats, posed the key philosophical and political dilemma faced by the House — whether to save Social Security by emphasizing a) the old approach of higher payroll deductions that upset taxpayers or b) a new approach of structural change that antagonizes beneficiaries.

Supporter William Thomas, R-Calif., said "the basic problem . . . is that American people's demographic pattern has changed."

Opponent Bill Richardson, D-N.M., said "the cold hard fact is, this amendment calls for a cut in benefits for future retirees.

JOBS - The House passed, 324 for and 95 against, and sent to the Senate a bill (HR 1718) appropriating $4.9 billion to create an estimated 1 million temporary jobs in the public sector.

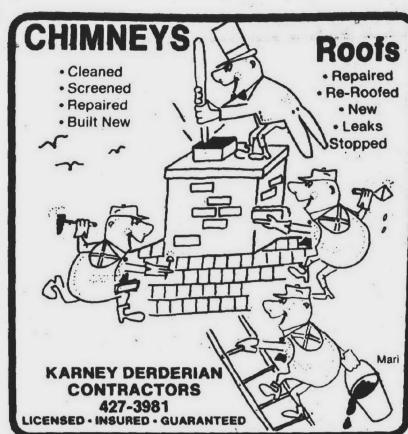

The bill also provides humanitarian relief for victims of the recession who are destitute, special funding of health services, and outlays for mass transit, ing and other programs.
Supporter William Ratchford, D-

Conn., called the bill "a signal to 12 million unemployed Americans, Americans on the edge of despair, that finally in Washington there will be the beginning of a movement that will put Americans back to work."

Opponent Norman Shumway, R-Calif., said "public works are a wholly inadequate way of fighting the problem of unemployment . . This legislation will not have a direct impact on unemployment for a minimum of 18

GENERATIONS of former Woman's Club members would have approved the celebration of the club's 90th anniversary

The scholarship ball in the Mayflower Meeting House had the touch of decorum and elegance deemed proper by the ladies who founded the club in 1893. The dinner - from the chateaubriand to the cherries jubilee - was perfect.

The cost of the dinner, $25, may have set those Victorian-era ladies a-swooning. In going over the club history, Linda Pawling, president, noted that 110 people had attended the Woman's Club 35th-anniversary luncheon in the Mayflower Hotel. No desription of the menu was mentioned in the minutes, but the price was 85 cents per person. By coincidence, 110 people attended the scholarship ball Friday evening.

AT SOME TIME, over the the years, the members chose a club flower, the white carnation, and club colors, green and white.

Sparr's Flowers and Greenhouse stuck to tradition in providing green baskets of white carnations and white mums for the banquet tables. Each of the candidates received a long-stemmed white carnation tied with long, green ribbons. They also were given certificates, framed by Frameworks. The bandboxes, donated by Pease Paint and decorated by members of the club as mementos of the event, were at their place settings. Inside were laminated newspaper clippings of their picture and writeup from the Observer Newspaper. The Mayflower Hotel and the Observer sponsored the ball.

BUT MOST OF all, those early members of the club would have approved the 17 candidates for the scholarships. These young women are living in an age they had dreamed about when they were supporting the suffragette movement.

Here were high school seniors whose shining hair, glowing complexions and bright eyes reflected a healthy exuberance. The brief biographical descriptions read by K.C. Mueller, chairwoman of the ball, were a source of amazement even to the enlightened guests of

They had excelled in academics, sports, music, drama and student administration. They had been involved in their community, giving time to their churches, refereeing in junior athletics, working-in festivals and even on political campaigns.

They had part-time jobs working as waitresses, stockgirls, clerks, news carriers, tutors, music teachers, gymnastic instructors, switchboard operators, stockgirls, cooks and cashiers.

Their career plans would have pleased and excited the founders of the community's oldest service club. Their hopes for their futures were without boundaries.

The candidates have their sights set on careers in bio-medical engineering, the computer sciences, politics, child development, business (certified public accountant and later politics), theater, medicine, occupational therapy, law and communications.

The panel of judges worked on a grid system with each candidate having a number; they didn't know the name. With so many deserving applicants, the Woman's Club gave not one but three $500 scholarships. The money will be credited to the colleges of their choice. The fourth runner-up will receive a grant if one of the top three has a change of Meg Bomback, second runner-up, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bomback of Plymouth Township. When she graduates from Plymouth Salem high, she will study for a career in the biological sciences.

All three will have the sum of $500 credited to the college or university of their choice. Fourth runner-up was Kelly Salyer of Plymouth Canton High School. She plans to attend the University of North Carolina where she will major in business administration and computer sciences. She will serve as an alternate if one of the top three has a change in career plans.

THE SCHOLARSHIP benefit ball in the Mayflower Meeting House was chaired by Mrs. Laurence H. Mueller with Mrs. Roger Centofanti, Mrs. John Cooper, Mrs. Vern A. Hackett, Mrs. Robert Kenyon, Mrs. Conrad Krankel, Mrs. Charles F. Lang, Mrs. Robert Pawling and Mrs. Fred Sigmon serving on the committee.

Festivities began at 7 p.m. with a social hour. Dinner was served at 8 and dancing began at 9. The candidates were introduced at 10 and scholarship presentations were made. Dancing resumed after the presentations.

The candidates were Amy Lynn Armbruster, Catherine Kelly Baldrica, Kathleen Laura Bomback, Cheryl Alesia Boyer, Lori Janine Carpenter, Mary H. Cleveland, Lynne Suzanne Gamache, Susan Gerke, June Kirchgatter, Leslie Elaine Muenchow, Linda Marie Persico, Anne-Marie Roberts, Kelly Salyer, Freda Christine Smith, Celia Marie Stuart, Brideen Marie Vollrath and Jill Margaret Wheaton.

The scholarship ball was supported by individual patrons and business people in the community.

Strategies 'Them what eats can also cook'

By Shirlee Rose Iden staff writer

If work at home were recognized, the gross national product (GNP) in this country would rise by 26 percent.

That's just one example of why Gloria Steinem, battler for social justice, editor of Ms. Magazine, would redefine

"They say that women in the home don't work, yet all productive human labor must be seen as work. Until it is, we in this room will have two jobs and men only one," Steinem told the largest crowd of all at last weekend's Strategies - the Second Conference for

There were ordinary, extroardinary and celebrity participants in the conference, which mounted 100 workshops on careers and business. Yet, in a real way, Steinem was the star.

Trademarks like the long straight, streaked hair, parted in the middle, the rimless glasses, her slender frame clad in plain dark brown pants and a sweater cast her as an understated star.

But when she mounted the speaker's platform, there was a crash of applause, sustained for minutes, before she said anything.

Then, characteristically, she smiled and applauded back: "Friends, sisters." She spoke again of women and work: "One-third of the labor force are women, but we do two thirds of the work,"

"WE'RE LIVING in a sex and race caste system. This is the second wave of the feminist movement.

'The first time around, the battle was fought to achieving a legal identification as a human being, and we got divided when black men got the vote.

"Now our fight is for legal equality, and we've attained majority support for every issue of the women's movement, that is: equal pay, credit rights and reproductive freedom. It's an incredible achievement."

Women now must make institutional changes, such as making everyone realize that children have two parents, Steinem said

"We want parental leave, not just maternal leave, a shorter work week for parents of young children, job sharing and flex time.

Steinem smiles a great deal, like a person who likes herself. The effect is to make her audience likes themselves

Of the ultra conservatives, Steinem said, "The moral majority is a symbol of all the Ayatollahs in this country. They're like the people our forefathers left Europe and other place to escape."

THE MOST DANGEROUS place for women is in their own homes, she said. Abuse is rampant in the home. "And (women) are also apt to get replaced by a younger worker."

The struggle to decide when to have children should belong to women alone. "That's the fifth freedom, the right to decide when to have children. Controlling our bodies is the bottom line of pa-

"And we've got to democratize families. Them what eats can also cook."

She was like a stand-up comic with a barrage of one-liners. Steinem, who said she grew up "as messed up an any American in Toledo," kept her audience smiling, chuckling and attentive, lest they miss something.

"The ring around the collar commerical I'm waiting for is the one when the homemaker will come back with 'Why don't you wash your neck?" she said, smiling broadly

"Lee Grant, the actress, once told me: 'I've been married to a Marxist and a Fascist, but neither one ever took out the garbage."

Affirmative action, she said, has raised the standards of employment. "It's sons-in-law who've lowered them. It's certainly men and not women who slept their way to wealth and power."

TODAY THE MEDIAN age of undergraduates is up to 27 because many women have gone back to school, Steinem said

"That means the educational experience is richer now. Once art was what white men did and hung in galleries while crafts were what women and natives did. Now it's all out there.

Women are not the cause of unemployment, Steinem said, and they must fight to avoid being made scapegoats of unemployment.

"Unemployment is largely attributable to spending on defense. We're losing one million jobs a year because of the switch from social services to defense."

A woman's reproductive freedom is truly threatened, she said.

"The human life amendment would let the government control your womb during the child-bearing years. Women should never vote for any politician who is not for reproductive freedom, for racial freedom, for sexual freedom.

"Regardless of party, we must look at the issues, not the label."

Steinem said she was the only white person in her work place and lived in caste-conscious India.

For her, the most important trait of a healthy society is social justice. "That's the best investment we'll ever

Before leave taking, she pleaded with audience members for a "promise to do one outrageous thing in the cause of social justice."

HAS YOUR NEW Year's diet left your just-barely-broken-in Calvin's a little baggy? Do you think you'll scream if you have to face another winter in that perfectly good Pendleton coat? Well, if these or similar problems have you down, there is now a solution: Encore!, this area's newest consignment resale shop featuring "gently used" ladies' garments of fine quality. Encore! is the brainchild of Canton residents Kathy Weidman and Pamela Woods, two career women who were looking for a way to recycle those notreally-worn-out-but-I'm-tired-of-it-anyway items in their wardrobes. When they discovered no local consignment resale shop for quality women's clothing, they put their own business expertise to work and established Encore! Located in Plymouth's new Vest Pocket Park building at 960 West Ann Arbor Trail, Encore! offers good clothing, often with designer labels, for a third to half its original price. All clothing in the store is sold on consignment, and the selling price is shared 50/50 by Encore! and the consignor. On Saturday, March 19, Encore! will celebrate its grand opening in conjunction with its commercial neighbor, Graham's Optique Boutique. The celebration will run till 8 p.m. and feature a ribbon cutting ceremony by Plymouth Mayor Bud Martin at 2 p.m. and a grand prize drawing by Plymouth City Manager Hank Graper at 7:30. For the children, clowns, candy, and balloons will be on hand all day, while adult refreshments will begin at 2 p.m., featuring wine and cheese after 5.

Kathy and Pam are excited about their new venture because it provides a service which benefits everyone. The consignors turn unused clothing into cash, and the shoppers buy quality garments at great savings. If anything in your wardrobe is ready for an Encore!, they'd love to see you.

Discrimination against women begins when "baby girls are wrapped in pink blankets and boys in blue blankets," said Shire ley Chisholm, former U.S. Congresswoman, at the recent Strategies conference in Detroit.

She advised women not to be shrinking violets in the face of nex discrimination.

In a talk punctuated seven times by applause and capped by a standing ovation, Chisholm stated that "entire system of employment and hiring is a stacked deck against women," adding that "jobs should not have gender."

"They call a man a chef and a woman a cook and the salaries are different," she said.

What trained women lack most is self-confidence, she said. "Many women are holding jobs far below their training," con-tinued Chisholm, who served 14 years in the U.S. House of Representative before retiring in 1980. "Why, in heaven's name, are we going to school so much . . . if we don't hope that at the end of the line we are going to be able to make our contribution?"

CHISHOLM BELIEVES most women do not work for pin money. They work when the economy demands it, in war or page acc.

"In World War II, women joined the labor force in large num-"In World war II, women joined the job. They were welbers, and they showed they could do the job. They were welcomed into the factories. TRAINING IS THE KEY for women, she said.

"It shocks me that I have met so many young women, who married early - 24, 25 or 26 - and have children and no husbands. Women (with children) are doomed for the rest of their lives if they have no training and the marriage doesn't work out."

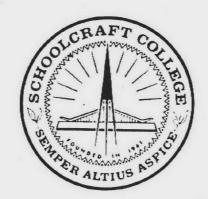

Training is good for everyone, the speaker said. She started her career as a nursery school teacher and is now a professor at Mt. Holyoke College in Massachusetts.

"We have to start counseling little girls. Counsel them there is nothing wrong with working with computers, becoming an atomic scientist or going into the space program - prepare them to take care of themselves, build poise and confidence so they can stand tall and feel good about themselves."

IN AN interview before her talk, Chisholm said that she decided not to run for re-election in 1980 because when a person is committed to a cause, "you don't have time for yourself. There is more to life that being obsessed by politics."

She left politics primarily because her husband almost died. She could not have worked for her Brooklyn constituents under the present administratation, she said.

"I intend to be involved in the 1984 campaign to change the person in the White House."

Friends told her to "wing it" Mary Cunningham revealed on the eve of her talk at Strategies: the Second Conference for Women.

At a dinner party at the Farmington Hills home of Bill Ross and Florine Mark-Ross, on the eve of the conference, Cunningham confided she'd scrapped that advice.

"I woke up two mornings before the talk at 4 a.m. and decided it was too important, so I mapped out a talk with a structure and got it down on paper."

Her husband, Bill Agee, lately of Southfield's Bendix Corp. agreed his wife took a serious approach to her talk and she'd be "great." Agee was present at the dinner and in the front row for his wife's address at the conference of over 100 workshops which drew more than 7,000 partici-

Cunningham, introduced to a large audience of over 2,000 by television personality Mort Crim, was described as "widely recognizable."

"She's part of the most famous William and Mary team since a famous college was formed more than 300 years ago," Crim said. But, he noted, she was a Harvard Business School graduate, formerly a vice president at Bendix, presently vice president at the Jos. Seagram Co. of New York, and active in the National Organization for Women and the Women's Economic Club of Detroit.

ONCE NAMED a "Rising Star in Detroit Business," Crim said, "she's found that criticism is what you get when you have everything else."

Cunningham began by stating that hard and fast strategies are difficult to come by. "No computerlike accuracy will tell you how to plan your career," she cautioned. "Your career must be born of experience and soul searching."

"I've never served in the infantry, but I've picked up a few battle scars not far from here," she said. in her lone reference to the controversy over the relationship with Agee which led to her resignation at Bendix.

Calling the career world a battlefield for women in the 1980s, Cunningham said the situation is often hostile for women. "We've gotten on the corporate ladder. The challange is how to get up that ladder.'

Symphony, cellist give a sprightly performance

special writer

Lovely tempos gave spirit and movement to a suitably arranged Plymouth Symphony Orchestra concert Sunday afternoon at Plymouth Salem High School.

Sarah Cleveland, a former member of the Plymouth Symphony cello section and now principal cello with the Toledo Symphony Orchestra, soloed with a convincing performance of the rather newly discovered Haydn Cello Concerto in C major.

Her rendition of this concerto was complimentary, backed by the brisk tempos and dynamics of conductor Johan van der Merwe, which served to give the work the brightness that makes Haydn so engaging.

Though it was only discovered in 1961 and is less famous than Haydn's D major Cello Concerto, the C major concerto has become standard repertoire for cellists. The work suffers form Haydn's poorly contrived cadenzas leading many artists to compose their own or turn to other editions. Cleveland used Sadlo's cadenzas.

ONE MIGHT HAVE thought she would have used some of her teacher's cadenzas. Cleveleand is a graduate of the University of Michigan where Samuel Mayes, former principal with both the Philadelphia and Boston symphonies, was her teacher.

Whatever her reasons. Cleveland gave a strong and confident performance. The orchestra included her brother as principal cello, her mother in the bass section and another brother in the violin section.

The afternoon began with a rousing opener, Wagner's prelude to his comic opera "Die Meistersinger." The prelude was composed nearly a century after the Haydn concerto, during one of the many stressful periods of the moody Wagner's life. But the thick Wagnerian orchestration contains tender melodies of fun and humor.

When his marriage was falling apart, financiers were demanding payment of his debts and Paris fans sabotaged his Tannhauser" opening, Wagner turned to humor to escape and produced what Paderewski once called "the greatest work of genius."

Johan van der Merwe conducted it in the fast-moving and joyful enthusiasm without which the score would be reduced to a conglomeration of overamphified noise. Van der Merwe brought the needed warmth and love the music wants to impart.

THE FAMILIAR selection provided a musical setting for the concert of expectancy, a nice prelude to be followed by Cleveland's performance.

Whether it is his ninth symphony or Symphony is unmistakable as the one entitled "From the New World" by the composer himself at its first performance in New York City.

American or Czechoslovakian, black or Indian, the Going Home theme of the Largo or second movement is so nostalgic it would supersede any suggestion of ethnicity. Only Dvorak's genius could reintroduce that theme and the other themes suggestive of American folk melodies without boredom or redundancy.

Orchestra members Glennis Stout, flute; Ann Augustin Jacobs, oboe, and John Mohler, clarinet, provided some fine sounds in their solo parts.

Again, van der Merwe's quick style and involvement in his music elicited a total response from his musicians, giving a rich intensity to the music they

"Musical Tales" highlight Sunday evening concert

The West Bloomfield Symphony Orchestra will give a concert with the theme, "Musical Tales" at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at West Bloomfield High School auditorium, 4925 Orchard Lake Road, West Bloomfield. Included will be compositions by Rossini, Prokofiev, Berlioz

"The Thieving Magpie" by Rossini opens the concert. The orchestra will be playing the overture to this two-act opera. In it the composer sets the stage for an opera which concerns a little servant girl who is condemmed to death for the theft of a spoon actually stolen by a magpie.

Next comes the "Cinderella" Ballet Suite by Prokofiev, who wrote two great classical ballets in his career.

"Romeo and Juliet" in 1936 and "Cinderella" in 1944.

After a short intermission, Berlioz's rendition of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" will be performed. Berlioz was a true romantic who was obsessed with the poetry of Shakespeare. His "Romeo and Juliet" is one of the many plays he put to music. The orchestra will play three excerpts from the symphony.

Closing the evening will be "Till Eulenspiegel" by Richard Strauss. This is Strauss's greatest symphonic poem which describes the legendary prankster named Till Eulenspiegel

Musical star Larry Kert looks forward to Jolson role

HERE'S A SCENE in "They're Playing Our Song" at the Birmingham Theatre where leading man Larry Kert gets lown on one knee and appears about to aunch into Al Jolson's "Mammy."

It's a fleeting moment — and he does stay in character as the bachelor songwriter, Vernon Gersch, rather than doing a Jolson act - but it's enough to remind you that Kert has a special love for the Joison style of entertainment.

On May 2, Kert will recreate Jolson, "the world's greatest entertainer," in a television "Tribute to the Palace," with other stars such as Diana Ross bringing back great days that began with vaude-

In the fall, Kert hopes to bring a more extensive characterization to life when he presents "A Celebration of Al. Jolson," a one-man show to the stage.

"I'M TRYING TO show the other side of the world's greatest entertain-er," Kert said, during an interview in the lobby of the Birmingham Theatre. Seated in one of a pair of wing-backed chairs, he said that some people think it takes an awfully big ego to try to do a show about the world's greatest

"God gave me a gift. I'm a pretty good singer," Kert said. The brown-eyed singer, with an easy disposition, is youthful looking and has a trim, athletic build. His closecropped, graying hair sets off his regu-lar, good features.

For the last four years, he's been working on the Jolson project, not only as a singer but doing the writing, too. He's done a lot of research on Jolson and wants to help the audience see the phenomenal performer's vulnerable

Kert has starred in a musical "Al Jolson Tonight," with a cast of 35 in an outdoor theater, but he thinks the oneman show is a better format. "It's easier to tell naughty stories about myself (Jolson)," he said.

For the stage show, accompanied by seven musicians, he will sing 33 of Jolson's songs. "Rockabye Your Baby" comes out of a scene where Jolson proposes to his second wife backstage. "April Showers" follows their breakup,

ALTHOUGH THE Jolson production won't necessarily end up on the New York stage, Kert does miss Broadway, where he last starred in "Side by Side by Sondheim" in 1978.

"I'd love to get back on Broadway," he said with energy.

Kert, 52, first got behind those Broadway footlights 30 years ago. His favorite lyricist-composer is Stephen Sondheim. "'West Side Story' was my first break and his (Sondheim's) first break. We've been good friends every

For his performance in "Company,"

Kert received a Tony nomination.

Describing Sondheim's work, Kert said, "He captures the essence of what a musical is all about. His songs generally give you a little more information than the book does. The story is always ed further."

Metropolitan-Detroit audiences have seen Larry Kert at the Pisher Theatre in "Two Gentlemen of Verona" and "La. Strada." He also has appeared at the Masonic Temple in "West Side Story" and "I Can Get It for You Wholesale."

"I LOVE TO express myself through singing," Kert said. He's proud of his sister, Anita Ellis, the renowned jazz singer, whom he described as a "remarkable singer."

Of himself, Kert said, "I was born with a good ear for music. I hear a song and before I know it, I'm already sing-

In "They're Playing Our Song," he co-stars with Marsha Skaggs as Sonia Walsk, a role she played on Broadway and in a previous road tour at the

"Marsha's a sweet girl on stage and off," Kert said. In the show she's a somewhat kooky, unknown lyricist working with a famous, high-strung composer. "She really knows the part,"

Kert takes a conservative approach, in his role as the composer. "This is the first time I've played this guy. It's a wonderful four weeks for me." (The musical runs through Sunday, March

"IT WOULD BE silly for me to play it like a stand-up comic," he said, comparing his interpretation to that of Robert Klein, who originally starred on Broadway with Lucie Arnez.

"I think I'm one of the few actors who has played it who is basically a singer," he said.

Born in Los Angeles, Kert makes his home in New York, "in the environ-

"Mighty Joe Young" (1949), 1 a.m. (Friday, March 18) on Ch. 50. Originally 94 minutes. Joe Young is King Kong's cinematic offspring, but it's hard to figure why filmmakers waited 16 years for the rebirth. Certainly the special effects are no better in the later film than they were in the original, yet "Mighty Joe Young" has a camp appeal about it that's infectious. Terry Moore and Ben Johnson star, and Robert Armstrong reappears in the role he created in "King Kong." Rating: $2.70.

"The Wizard of Oz" (1939), 9 p.m. Friday, March 18, on Ch. 2. Originally 101 minutes.

Easter can't be far away if they're carting out "The Wizard of Oz." Judy Garland, of course, stars as Dorothy, who learns the hard way that there's no place like home. The technicolored spectacle is either garish or decorative — a lot like art deco of the 1930s — depending upon your point of view. And the storyline either sparks wonderment or nightmares depending, perhaps, upon your age. Score is by Harold Arlen and E.Y. Harburg. Ray Bolger, Jack Haley, Bert Lahr, Margaret Hamilton, Frank Morgan and Billie Burke also star. Rating: $3.

"The Quiet Man" is vintage John Wayne and John Ford, coming after "Rio Grande" but before "The Searchers." It is by far, however, the most sentimental of all Wayne-Ford films, more mistyreyed even than "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon" (1949). Wayne, a boxer who has killed a ring opponent, returns to his homeland in the Emerald Isle, and there finds breathtakingly beautiful countryside and stereotypically quaint Irish. The film paints a picture of the Irish that's about as accurate as the depiction of Vietnamese in another Wayne film, "The Green Berets." Still, somehow, the film en-"The Green Berets." Still, somehow, the film endures and enchants. Maureen O'Hara, Victor McLaglen and Barry Fitzgerald also star. Rating: $3.10.

"Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" (1967), 4:30 p.m. Sunday, March 20, on Ch. 50, Originally 108 minutes.

Director Stanley Kramer and co-star Katharine Hepburn doubted that Spencer Tracy would live through the filming of this, his last picture. Tracy died a few weeks after its completion. The film - a sort of updating of Tracy's "Father of the Bride" (1950) but with a rather significant plot twist — is a one-joke film. The plot won't hold your attention, but Tracy and Hepburn will.

Rocks aim at regional title Tournament facts

By C.J. Risak staff writer

One reason for Plymouth Salem's success on the basketball court this season is its ability not to overlook any opponent

Now is not the time to change good habits.

The Rocks have lost twice all season: to Ypsilanti by two points and to Livonia Stevenson by one in back-to-back games Jan. 4 and 7. They have reeled off 17 straight victories since, collecting league and district titles.

Salem faces Detroit Western at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Eastern Michigan University's Bowen Fieldhouse in the first round of the state regional tournament.

The Rocks, now 21-2, have to avoid overlooking a very good Western squad to what could be a big rematch in the regional finals Saturday night.

If Salem makes the finals, it most likely will be facing the top-rated team in the state - Detroit Southwestern and Antoine Joubert. Southwestern battled Ypsilanti in the first regional contest yesterday at EMU.

LAST YEAR, SALEM was eliminated by Southwestern in the regional's first round. But the Rocks were in it all the way and did a pretty fair job of defensing the ultra-smooth Joubert.

This year's edition of Rock basketball may be better than last year's. Thomann won't admit it, however, and insists that Southwestern is not what he's thinking about at the moment. Western is.

"This will be a nice test for us," Thomann said. "They have a strong inside game and a flyer of a perimeter player. They'll be a real nice problem for

If Thomann's "nice" description sounds somewhat sadistic (who likes to take a beating?), remember he's a basketball coach who believes the only way for his team to improve is to challenge it against the best.

If the Rocks win this region, they'll be among the state's best.

WESTERN'S INSIDE game rests on the shoulders of 6-foot-6 Robert Johnson and 6-4 Eric Johnson. Robert Johnson has already committed to attend Western Michigan University in the

"They pound the glass really well and are great jumpers," Thomann said of the pair.

But the player that worries Thomann is 6-3 guard Richard Hunter. "He's an excellent ballhandler, a good perimeter shooter, he handles the break for them - he has a lot of basketball ability," was the Rock coach's description.

Clarence Brice is the other forward. He stands 5-10 but "jumps really well," Thomann said. Richard Allen (6-1) and Tyrone Hurst (6-0) share the other guard position.

Glenn Medalle will handle the defensive chores of guarding Hunter. Salem will stick with its man-to-man alignment. Western likes 1-2-2 and 2-3 zones and will press.

THE COWBOYS finished the season at 15-6 in the Detroit PSL, including an impressive win over Detroit MacKenzie in the playoffs. They were eliminated from the PSL tourney in a one-point overtime loss to Southwestern.

Some facts and figures on tonight's regional battle:

• Opponents — Plymouth Salem, 21-2, Western Lakes Activities Asso-ciation champion, Salem district winner, vs. Detroit Western, 15-6, loser in Detroit PSL tournament in semifinals to Detroit Southwestern, winner of Dearborn district.

• When and Where - Game starts at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Eastern Michigan University's Bowen Fieldhouse.

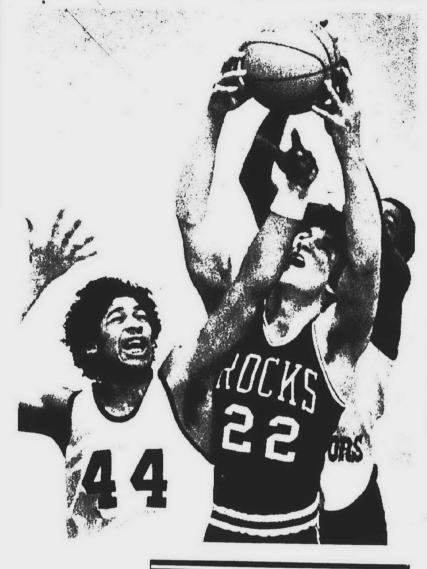

• Players to watch - For Salem, 6-4 center Dave Houle (13 ppg, 10 reb.), 6-1 forward Glenn Medalle (11.5 ppg), and just about everyone else, including a strong bench. For Western, 6-3 guard Richard Hunter and a pair of bookend rebounders, 6-6 Robert-Johnson and 6-4 Eric Johnson.

• Keys - Salem defense and ability to rebound will determine the Rocks' success. Western's bench is not as strong or deep as Salem's, so if fouls become a factor, it should bene-

• Directions - Take M-14 west to US-23. Go south on 23 toward Toledo, exit at Washtenaw. Go east on Washtenaw toward Ypsilanti, approxi-mately four miles to stoplight at Oakwood, where EMU campus begins. Turn left on Oakwood and go to first stop sign. Turn right into parking structure. Bowen Fieldhouse is next to parking structure. Parking is 25

Blarney!

Cheers to Ireland's sport heroes

You certainly need not be Irish to be an active participant in the festivities which annually are associated with today. St. Patrick's Day has a universal appeal.

Just take a look at any Irish pub today. Wall-towall partiers at every establishment. Now, there aren't that many Irishmen in the state of Michigan, much less the suburbs of Detroit.

But today is the day everybody can claim to be a wee bit Irish. And it's a day when you can prove how Irish you are by taking the inebriation test. which says an Irishman can never be declared legally drunk if he can hang onto a patch of grass with one hand and not fall off the face of the earth.

THIS COLUMN is for those who journey out to the local watering holes today to celebrate St. Paddy's Day. It must be read before the venture though, because as the day progresses, the words on this paper will tend to look blurry, and reading them will result in slurring sounds which uncontrollably are emitted from your mouth.

The following is a sports salute to the Irish. There should be enough categories here to please the vast majority. So, while you're hoisting up those shells of Guinness or Harp, or sipping on a jigger of Bailey's, here are some athletes and topics you can

All in the Irish spirit of course.

· Like the moniker from the University of Notre Dame suggests, the Irish were successful with their fists. The "Fighting Irish" ruled the boxing divisions in the early years, beginning with bare knuckles heavyweight champ John L. Sullivan. Since then, there have been many fine Irish pugilists, including some personal favorites: Gerry Cooney, Sean O'Grady, Bob Murphy and Robert

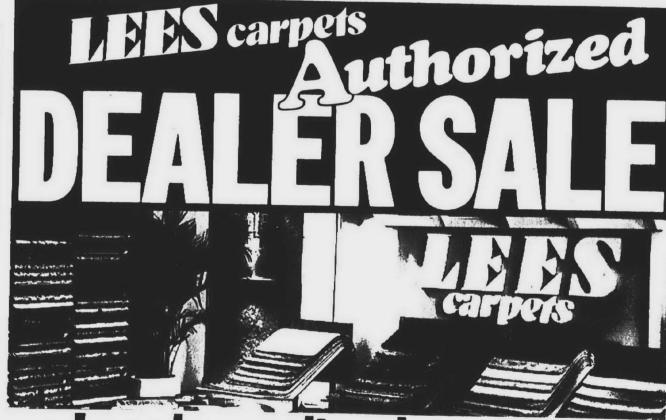

· Also characteristic of the fighting ways of the Irish are some professional hockey players, like "Terrible" Ted Lindsay and Bob "Battleship" Kelly. And you can't omit brawlers like Terry O'Reilly and Dan Maloney.

 Like all nationalities, the Irish are victim of stereotyping. One truth, though, is the wit of the Irish, made famous by former President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. And in the world of sports, there have been some classic comments. Walter O'Malley, the late owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers, once defended his ethnic background with this line: "Only half the lies they tell about the Irish are true."

Another one of my favorite lines of logic came from Edward Murphy, a former sports writer in New York. "Never underestimate the stupidity of the American public," he once commented in refer-

Late rally saves

By Brad Emons staff writer

Something had to give.

And it finally did in the final quarter Tuesday night as Redford Catholic Central broke open a tight duel and went on to oust Detroit Mackenzie, 69-58, from the Class-A regional basketball tournament before 2,400 fans at Livonia Franklin.

The Shamrocks, who advanced to Friday's final, scored nine unanswered points during a three-minute stretch to put the Stags away.

Mark Howard hit a pair of free throws with 7:27 remaining to give Mackenzie its final lead of the night, 52-51.

It was all CC after that as center Mike Maleske started the spurt when he took a charging foul and followed by hitting a free throw.

Point-guard Stan Heath then followed by making three straight free throws. He made a key play with 5:15 to go when he stole a pass.

Sixth man Bob Elwell then connected on a 12foot baseline shot to give CC a 58-52 advantage and followed with two more free throws.

MACKENZIE, meanwhile, went stone cold down the stretch. During one possession the Stags missed six shots, including three tips

Jones who's moving to the University of Detroit to coach the Lady Titans. Jones, whose Lady Pioneers were bounced from the NCAA Division II playoffs at home Saturday in a 73-72 loss against Dayton, made the announcement at a press conference Tuesday at the University of Detroit.

The postition was vacated by Mary Roickle, who left midseason to pursue career goals outside of coaching.

Jones, who came to OU after four years at Ferndale - his high school alma mater - compiled a 70-18 collegiate record. He led the Pioneers to two post-season appearances, two Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championships, and was named GLIAC coach of the year in back-to-back seasons

"I'M LOOKING forward to the challenge of returning the basketball program back to where it was at U-D," Jones said. "And I'm happy with the committment U-D has made to made to women's basketball."

U-D athletic director Bud Kinsman is expecting Jones toncontinue his winning ways at Callahan Hall.

Dewyane Jones has been a succe ful coach wherever he's been, and I'm confident he will be as successful here at U-D." Kinsman said

OU Athltic Director Lee Frederick, who also coaches the Pioneers' men's basketball team, admitted he'll be looking to fill some big shoes.

"We wish him the best of luck at the University of Detroit," Frederick said. "U-D has selected an outstanding coach and a great individual. It's going to be tough to find someone of Jones' caliber to fill our new position."

The notice for OU's coaching vacancy will be posted for 30 days before officials act on the selection process.

THE PIONEERS' other setback came Saturday when they were unex-pectedly elimated from the NCAA Division II tournament in the loss to Dayton in the Great Lakes Region Championship game. Oakland, which was a national semifinalist last year, held a 72-69 lead with 1:02 left in the game with Dayton. But the Lady Flyers scored the last four points — including two free throws by 6-foot-5 freshman center Theresa Yingling with nine seconds left — to upend the favored Pioneers.

Oakland's Gwen Browner, who scored a season-high 20 points to pace the Pioneers, launched a 20-foot shot at the buzzer which missed its mark.

Donna Burks was the key to Dayton's win, netting 28 points.

"Burks is one of the finest post-up players I've seen in either men's or women's basketball on the college level." Jones said. "She did things entirely against our thinking, and it was hard for us to adapt . . . We tried everything we could think of to stop her.

"She was the whole key to Dayton." Jones added, "but I don't think that was the only reason why we lost. We weren't able to run and do some of the things we wanted to do.'

BROWNER'S 20 POINTS led a foursome of Pioneers who scored in double figures. Linda Krawford, Michigan's all-time leading college scorer with 2,400 points, was next with 19. Teresa Vondrasek finished with 12 points and Brenda McLean scored 11.

Oakland, which usually puts up nearly 85 shots per game, were forced to play Dayton's tempo and attempted just 66 shots. The Pioneers were 29 of 86 from the floor (44 percent) while Dayton hit 28 of 50 (56 percent). OU clicked on 14 of 19 free throws; the Lady Flyers made 17 of 19.

The 73 points Dayton scored were the most allowed by Oakland since the third game of the season, when the Pioneers toppled Eastern Michigan, 88-

The loss ended Oakland's season with a 23-4 mark and closed out the careers of senior standouts Krawford, Vondrasek, Browner and Anne Kish.

Dayton, 20-9 overall, advances to the Western quarterfinals. In the Region semifinals, Dayton defeated Butler, 71-69. Oakland drew a bye.

And then there was the legendary Casey Stengel, the baseball manager who mangled the English language. In his own words, we can say that Casey is "dead at the present time."

Or how about this definition of football by former Michigan State University coach Duffy Daugherty, who said of the sport, "Football is not a contact sport, it's a collision sport. Dancing is a contact • Professional football players who earn their paycheck with their foot often make the headlines, especially since kicking is an important phase of the game. Some Irish standouts included Jim O'Brien, whose 32-yard field goal helped the Baltimore Colts defeat the Dallas Cowboys in Super

In 1969, New York Jets punter Steve O'Neil booted the football from the one-yard line 98 yards to the Denver Broncos' one. A year later, a kicker by the name of Tom Dempsey beat the Detroit Lions when his record-setting 63-yard field goal gave the New Orleans Saints a 19-17 victory.

• For novelty's sake, here's the first-ever documented edition of the all-time all-Irish Notre Dame basketball team, with years played in parenthesis. First-team members include Timothy Moynihan (1928-29), Francis Quinn (1940-42), James O'Halloran (1947-49), Martin O'Shaughnessy (1898-99), and Joe Gilligan (1922). Second teammers are Thomas Finnegan (1928-29), Charlie Sweeney (1936), Dan Coughlin (1921-22), Frank Gilhooley (1945-46) and Harold Mulcahy (1921). The coach of this honor unit Irish all-star team is George Keogan. Sorry,

· And now, the winner of the first "Living Proof That We're Irish" award, which goes to the most Irish-sounding family. The undisputed champs are the McCarthy's of Redford. The clan of Robert and Isabelle McCarthy include Linda, Robert, Shawn, Devin, Patty, Brendan, Erin and Megan. Try as they did, they couldn't get Bishop Borgess to change its nickname to the Shamrocks.

• Look through the pages of the history books from Detroit professional teams and you're sure to find enough Irishmen to form a St. Patrick's Day parade. More personal favorites include, from the Detroit Tigers: Dick McAuliffe (1960-73), Denny McLain (1963-70), Charlie O'Leary (1904-12), Mickey Cochrane (1934-1937) and Wild Bill Donovan (1903-12, 1918).

From the Lions: Hugh McElhenny (1964), Ed O'Neill (1974-79), Mike McCoy (1980), Ed Flanagan (1965-74) and Darris McCord (1955-67).

From the Pistons: Kevin Loughery (1962-64), Dick McGuire (1957-60), Dan Doyle (1962-63), and Eddie Conlin (1958-60).

From the Red Wings: Dale McCourt (1977-81), Al McDonough (1977-78), Mike McMahon (1969-70), Brian Murphy (1964-66) and Dan Maloney (1975-79).

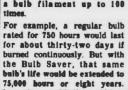

• If you need some names to toast to, try these from the coaching circle of college and professional sports: Connie Mack, Duffy Daugherty, Frank Leahy, Al McGuire and John McKay. From the winner's circle at Wimbledon, there's America's John McEnroe (1981) and Maureen "Little Mo" Connolly (1952-54). Track stars bearing the Irish names include Jim Ryun, Ron Delany and Robert Tisdall, and the most famous - Eamonn Coghlin - who was featured in "Sports Illustated" magazine under my favorite headline, "When Irish Guys Are Mil-

Payne wins Gloves title without a fight

special writer

Three boxers from the Livonia Boxing Club (LBC) were scheduled to fight in the Detroit-area Golden Gloves Championships, but only two were forced into battle.

As it turns out, the fighter who didn't have to fight is the only one of the three who will go on to the nationals.

As a result of the finals held Saturday at Oakland Community College, super-heavyweight Craig Payne will be the only LBC representative this week-end at the nationals in Albuquerque,

Payne, the No.-3-ranked U.S. amateur, returns to the nationals without throwing a punch. His scheduled opponent, Lavon Banks of Detroit Powerhouse, withdrew because of a cold. Payne was a national runner-up a year

That left Livonia with one other hopeful, 125-pound Mike Dardini, who lost a close decision to Myron Walker of Detroit Kronk

Meanwhile, LBC newcomer Sanjay Batra, in only his second fight, walked away with the Novice Welterweight crown, winning on a third round disqualification over Douglas Brown of DARDINI opened the first round very aggressively, not giving his stylish opponent room to utilize his superior hand speed.

The pace slowed a bit midway through the round, but Dardini closed with a flurry to gain the upper hand.

In the second round, Dardini continued to pursue Walker and landed a solid right to the chest, causing the Detroit fighter to fall back into the ropes.

Not to be outdone, Walker rallied in the second round and caught his opponent with a well-timed left jab. In the third round, Dardini kept battling but began to tire. Walker's experience then began to show as he gained the lead and eventually the decision. Dardini, who lives in Farmington, was disappointed with the decision.

"I THOUGHT I had an edge," he said. "I know it was a good, close fight, but I feel I won the bout." LBC coach Dick Quiton said Dardini should not feel ashamed. "He fought a good, hard fight, but Walker was moving a lot more than

Salem, Western battle tonight Continued from Page 1 Impressive, but Salem is not without its own The bench is a key strength of the Salem team weapons. No. 1 in the Rock arsenal is 6-4 center

Dave Houle. The senior is the team's leading scorer at 13 points per game and the top reboun-der, averaging nearly 10 a contest.

Those statistics have been growing in recent weeks. Houle has been awesome. His aggressive play under the boards has helped Salem maintain a rebounding edge on every opponent this year.

"He's a tremendous competitor and a pretty darn good athlete," Thomann said of Houle. "There's no question that he gives us the ability to go against a real good rebounder.'

THERE'S LOTS MORE to the Rocks, however. Medalle is not only Salem's "primary defensive player," according to Thomann, often drawing the toughest assignment, but he's counted on as an outside scorer. The 6-1 senior is averaging 11.5 points per game.

Four other players - starters Matt Broderick and Marvin Zurek, and reserves John Cohen and Rick Berberet - average "between 7.5 and 9.5 points", Thomann estimated. Broderick is a pinpoint outside shooter and Zurek "is really effec"It's just a tremendous bench," Thomann said.
"Rick (Berberet, a 6-6 junior) could be a real factor looking over a zone, with his height and passing ability

"Cohen (a 6-4 senior) can shoot the ball really well from 15 feet, and (Erich) Hartnett can spell either guard or Glenn and still put on defensive pressure with his size (6-2) and quickness

This team for us is almost the epitome of a team concept. We've got balanced scoring, good defense and good rebounding."

THE ROCKS have indeed jelled into a solid squad. But will it be enough?

"I think whoever scores the final basket will win," Thomann predicted. "I think we'll have to play from behind, but so will they."

The Rocks haven't trailed late in a game in some time. Nor have they been on the road, having played their last seven games at home. But they haven't lost on the road yet this season, ei-

Will any of this be a factor? It might. But, just in case, Thomann is thinking of equipping his players with green shoelaces.

Stevenson rally nets spot in final

staff writer

Livonia Stevenson snatched a victory from the jaws of defeat last night to gain a spot in Friday's Class A regional basketball final against Detroit Catholic Central.

The Spartans, who trailed by as many as eight points in the third quarter, used a late rush in the final minutes to beat Milford Lakeland, 56-51, at Livonia Franklin (the site of the final).

'We're just glad we're in the position to play Catholic Central," said Stevenson coach George Van Wagoner, whose team is 21-3 overall. "We'll give it a shot. They (CC) have good players and they showed it against Mackenzie.

'We'll have to play a good game to beat them."

Beating Lakeland (19-4) was a chore. Stevenson crept back into contention on a reverse layup by 6-7 junior Tom Domako with 6:11 to go, making the count 43-43.

THE SPARTANS then took the lead for keeps, 51-49, on another Domako basket with 2:27 remaining. The score was set up when guards Gary Mexicotte and Pete Rose combined for a Lakeland's Jim St. John was then fouled by Sluka at 2:04, but the usually reliable shooting guard missed the front-end of a one-and-one after a Stevenson timeout.

Rose then enabled the Spartans to gain some breathing room when he converted a three-point play with 1:23 left on the clock. The senior guard got loose on a backdoor cut off of an out-ofbounds play and tipped in his own missed shot as he was fouled.

"We were up by two and we wanted to take a layup or get fouled," Van Wagoner said. "The play just opened up

"We tipped the ball and almost had a steal," said Lakeland coach Lynn Reed. We were ready for it, but we just didn't get it."

Domako, who was a big factor inside. led a balanced Spartan attack with 18 points and eight rebounds.

MEXICOTTE added 11 points, Ulistrom had 10, Rose netted nine and 6-6 sophomore Bob Sluka chipped in with eight and also grabbed nine rebounds

St. John scored 17 to lead Lakeland and 6-5 senior Joe Saulski tallied all 14 of his points in the second half. Pointguard Darrin Campbell contributed 12.

Stevenson trailed early but went ahead 14-10 after one quarter on a slam dunk by Domako with an assist from Mexicotte.

Behind the play of Campbell, Lake-land stayed close in the second quarter and trailed by only three at the half,

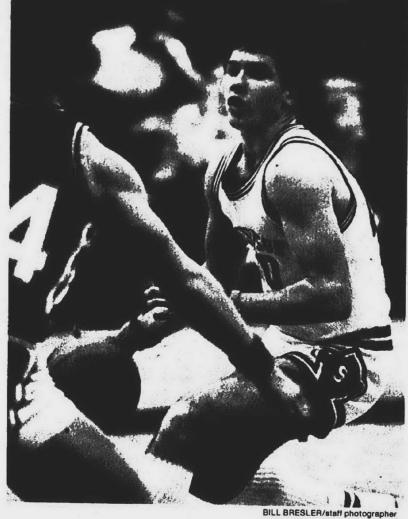

The Eagles then got rolling in the third quarter, taking the lead as Saluski scored 10 points.

"WE KNEW we had to be on top of St. John, but we were surprised with Campbell and the way he handled the ball," Van Wagoner said. "We got hurt on several picks that he dribbled off of our guards.

Reed, whose team used to face Stevenson in the old Inter-Lakes League, said the Spartans are always formidable opponents.

"We had a nice lead and then we missed some nice shots," he said. "We had a hard time being patient enough in the first half, but that's a credit to their

"We got in a little foul trouble and that hurt us, too. But the last time we played them we had a tough time. They're a very good team and George does a good job."

Mary Schoenle, a sophomore at Stevenson High School, led the Spartans in the 15-18-year-old age division. She finished second in the 100and 200-yard breaststrokes, and was also runner-up in the 200 individual medley, qualifying her for the National Junior Olympics to be held next month in Gainesville, Fla.

Another outstanding performance was turned in by Sherrie Sudek in the 13-14 age division. Sudek landed a spot in the nationals by placing second in the 100 and 200 backstroke events.

She also placed second in the 200 breaststroke, third in the 100 breaststroke, fourth in the 400 IM, fifth in the 200 IM, sixth in the 500 freestyle and eighth in the 1,650 freestyle to emerge as Spartans top performer. COMPETING IN HER first state meet for the Spartans, Katie Westhoff earned five places in the 10-and-under category, including third in the 100 backstroke and fifth in the 50 butterfly. In the girls 11-12 division, Michele McKenzie garnered fourth in the 100 breaststroke while Julie Jensen placed fourth in the 50 and Ann Bollinger managed a fourth in the 100 backstroke in the 13-14 age group and combined with Sudek, Kenora James and Kathy Sullivan for a third in the 400 medley relay.

The state of Indiana has claimed one All-Observer basketball star and may come up with another.

Livonia Ladywood's 5-foot-11 center Lavetta Willis announced this week that she will attend Notre Dame on a cage scholarship. Meanwhile, Redford St. Agatha's 6-0 center Mona Clor is leaning toward Purdue, which has offered her a full ride, but Detroit and DePaul are still in the picture, according to her high school coach, Jim Mur-

Willis' role will change somewhat in college. She will move from center to small forward.

"I like that adjustment," she said. "I've had to play mostly with my back to the basket and now I'll get to shoot more from outside."

The Blazers won 22 straight games before losing in the quarterfinals and Willis was a big reason for their success. She scored at an 18-points per game clip and grabbed 10.2 rebounds per contest. She also hit 64 percent from the field.

Rebuilt hotel belies Miami Beach's dowager image

MIAMI BEACH, FLA. - I don't like resorts much, which makes me wonder why I have grown so fond of the Fountainebleau Hilton. The Fountainebleau is a glamorous hotel on Miami Beach, its three buildings facing across a huge spread of grass and pool to a glorious sand beach and the sea.

A double row of beach tents makes red and white candy stripes along the sand beach, with a cloud-puffed blue sky as backdrop, but there are only a few bathers there, sharing the strand with the seagulls.

Most of the sun lovers have spread their orange towels on the white beach chairs around the man-made pool, or on the surrounding lawns, with regular movement to and from the Beach Broiler grill and Coconut Willie's Bar at the edge of the sand.

A man-made rock grotto, with its waterfall cascading into the pool, is the center of attention. Kids love to slide down the waterfall into the pool; those of us over 21 find shade in the Lagoon Saloon inside the "rock."

Pool-side sun lovers are the rule in every resort, but there is something different about this. Maybe it's because the Fountainebleau was built in the days of luxury hotels, so the grass spreads away for 16 green acres, or because the 18,000-square-foot pool has room enough to swim laps.

I love to swim, sun, read and drink pina coladas here, with the sound of music coming from a live band across the pool, in spite of my general distrust for any place that charges $4.25 plus tip for a poolside drink.

IT'S HARD to relate all this youthful enthusiasm around the pool at the Fountainebleau with the aging dowager image associated with Miami Beach. There's nothing doddering about that's 13 people in each room. Most are

That dowager image was clearly visible to me during the $6 ride on a Red Top van from Miami airport. It was a long, slow ride as we dropped one retiree after another at small hotels and apartment buildings built during the glory days of the 1920s. Those were the days when the rich travelers from the north filled the Art Deco hotels in Miami Beach during the winter.

Those Art Deco hotels have now been renovated and are open for business in an area around Washington Street. An observant eye can see the quality touches in the nearby buildings still waiting to be reborn.

The Fountainebleau came into this picture in 1954 when the beach was a popular getaway for northern snowbirds. It was built on the ruins of a 1920s landmark, the Harvey Firestone mansion. When low air fares lured northerners to the Caribbean, the hotel quickly became an aging queen and and went bankrupt.

THE HOTEL was bought and renovated to the tune of $30 million in the late 1970s, its neoclassical look converted to a tropical look. The new owners tried to get rid of the stuffy, snobbish ambiance while retaining the expensive touches that give the old

"grand dame" her title.

The upgrading was just in time to catch the European travelers who have flooded Florida during the last five years. German is so commonly spoken in the elevators and around the pool that you might wonder what country you're in.

As I said at the beginning, I'm not big on resorts, but I could get used to sunbathing around that big pool with its crazy, man-made grotto, even if they do charge $4.25 plus tip for a drink. The room rates are just as high: $85 to

Many of the season's newest dresses have 1950s styling. Jacobson's new spring offerings include a black linen coatdress by Adele Simpson, $330; and a Benton Ltd. red and white wool gabardine suit, $340, with a white silk blouse, $155. The place to be is Knapp's Dairy Bar, Rochester.

Among many options this spring are pale "baby" colors, posing a stark contrast to the very popular black and white. Saks Fifth Avenue's new offerings include (left to right) a pink and white slik top, $100, white slik shirt, $65, and white hat, $32; a Perry Ellis lavender and white cotton dress, $250; a Rebecca Moses white cotton blouson jacket, $130, white cotton skirt, $68; gray and white stripe Jeanne-Marc blouse, $112, gray cotton ombre pant, $112. The setting is the atrium in Prudential Town Center, Southfield.

When white gloves were the fashion, they weren't a choice.

You just didn't go downtown or to church without putting on a fresh pair.

But this spring gloves are among a wide range of fashion options. Instead of one "right" look, several different styles will work.

It's fashionable to wear a stark black and white dress with splashes of bright color. And just as safe is soft sportswear in pale "baby" blues or pinks.

New styles run the gamut from coatdresses and double-breasted jackets to slim chemises and two-piece outfits with puffy sleeves and full skirts.

"It's a spring of options," said Annie Bower, fashion director at Saks Fifth Avenue which is featuring both soft and feminine as well as very architectural styles.

"There's no right look. What is important is your personal style."

Judy Schaffer, Detroit fashion publicity director for Jacobson's, points out that 20 years ago gloves were mandatory. This year they are strictly optional.

"Now there are no dictates - You must wear this.' It's dressing to feel good about yourself."

"There is no one look" added Helen Levandovsky, publicity coordinator for Sears, Roebuck and Co.

"No one is going to say 'You have to look this way.' This is the season for doing your own thing."

FASHION EXPERTS credit this spring's variety to the many lifestyles people lead today.

Taking on a brand new style

At Scissors hair salon in Rochester, Linda Smith gets a new style to better suit her new lifestyle.

Jobs used to last lifetimes.

For teachers, it was often 40 years in a classroom — sometimes even in the same school building. And once a patrolman donned a blue uniform, that could be his garb until retirement.

Today, though, jobs and lifestyles come and go.

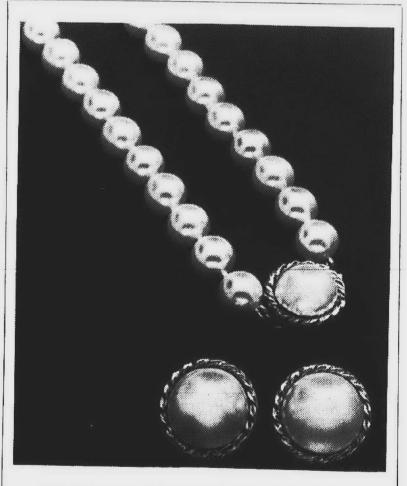

School closings leave districts overloaded with teachers, reduced sales mean staff cutbacks and divorce leads women back to work after years of homemaking.

And more and more employees are deciding mid-career to take up another line of work.

Whether moving out of the home into a business environment or tackling a whole new vocation, transition is tricky.

For three area residents — Linda Smith of Birmingham, Lorrie Thomson of Livonia and Jim Akhtar of Piymouth Township — making life changes calls for new ways of looking at themselves. And in the process, a different look.

This spring's many fashion choices help make their transitions a little easier.

Troubleshooter:

As a Wayne County Sheriff's deputy, Jamil (Jim) Akhtar needed to look dominant. And at 6-feet 2-inches tall and 225 lbs. it wasn't an effort.

But being an executive requires a different image.

Now part of Wayne County Executive William Lucas's staff, the Plymouth Township resident needs to look accessible.

"I was known as such a hard-nosed person," said Akhtar, who spent 10 years as president of the deputies' union.

"Now I want to be loveable."

As a troubleshooter, Akhtar is doing in-depth studies of the Wayne County Road Commission, Department of Public Works, Drain Commission and Planning Department. He also negotiates concession contracts.

His 10-hour work day can start with an early morning tour of a sewage treatment plant and wind up with a high level meeting. During that time he must inspire confidence, make people want to share information with him and deal effectively with angry people who resent his role.

"I've been a free-flowing person for years. Now people read into everything I say," said Akhtar, who is known for his sardonic humor.

"It's buttoning me up."

TO OVERCOME his "macho police image," the 41-year-old law student traded his brown uniform and high gloss military boots for three-piece classic suits. A special diet to reduce the bulk of his broad chest has peeled off 15 lbs. and taken him down two suit

To enhance his new image, Fred Hill of John Smith suggested Akhtar stick to blue or gray suits rather than the brown he wore to the Observer and Eccentric Newspapers makeover session. "People's perception of brown is lower than gray or blue," believes the men's store

With a suit, Hill adds starched buttondown shirts in white, light blue, beige or small pinstripe with conservative ties and slip on shoes.

And for a friendlier look, the clothing specialist urged Akhtar to leave his vests at home in the closet.

"We've just been through a time period when people want to be dominant," said Hill, who urges customers of his Plymouth and Rochester stores to dress for the jobs they want.

"I might be an executive, but I need you to like me. We may not all have our jobs a year from now.

Realtor:

After 13 years at Waterford Township High School, Linda Smith still loves teaching. So the Birmingham resident intended to teach English until retirement.

But with her school closing this summer, it's wise to consider other options.

"The last two years have been very uncertain here," said Smith, who, despite her experience, is at the bottom of her district in seniority.

"I want to teach if they'll let me. But I'm not sure what will

"I realize I have to make some little ent buys."

As a high school English teacher, Linda Smith dresses in a much more casual way than her real estate job demands.

Because she gets up so early and has little time to fix her hair, for her makeover, stylist Bob Sugamosto gave her an easy care hairdo which will posed her cheekbones and "I get up at 5:45 a.m., and small face with a more sophisticated look.

Along with growing emphasis on career and "success" dressing, there has been a boom in activewear.

"People are doing so many different things, they need all these clothes," explained Bower, stressing that not everyone can wear the same styles.

"Women have allowed themselves to be dictated to for years. But now every magazine talks about personal style. And you have to have choices to do that.

One change this season is the return of the dress — especially for the office. Area stores show lots of coat dresses, by themselves or over sweaters and skirts; slim 1950s chemises; ensembles of matching blouses and skirts or dresses with jackets.

"People are enjoying dresses more for an altogether look. You put it on and you're finished," explained Judy lvey, Hudson's personal trade manager for the Twelve Oaks Mall.

MEN ARE DRESSING UP more than they have in years, with suits becoming much more important. Doublebreasted suits and blazers show up in all the major lines, reflecting the suave elegant style of the 1930s.

While styles vary widely, so do the season's colors. But black and white show up in almost every spring collection — usually with a touch of taxi yellow, turquoise, royal blue, red or hot

Natural fibers continue to be popular, although care is always a concern for busy wearers.

We're getting in a lot of cotton and cotton blends, but we still feature quite a bit of polyester," said Sear's Levandovsky.

'Our customers like the ease of care polyester offers. We don't expect to get away from it ever."

Since black and white are so popular this season, the safest accessory is black patent leather. Spectators are also important shoes to have on hand.

But since there are few guidelines, fashionable wearers need to rely a little more than usual on their own judge-

Schaffer suggests a "lot of trial and error" to see which of the many available choices work well for you.

It requires patience, but people should just be patient and do it," she said firmly.
