Committee urges city combine police and fire

staff writer

A six-member committee has recommended the city of Plymouth combine its police and fire personnel to form a public safety department.

After some five months of investigation, the recommendation was made as the committee presented its report to the city commission Monday night.

"This concept is not without some controversy," said Michael Pollard, committee chairman.

While the report is not the unanimous consensus of the committee on every point, Pollard said it represents the "midline" feelings of all six mem-

"IT IS THE consensus of five of the six citizen members of the committee that the city of Plymouth should consider the adoption of a public safety department as an alternative to the present traditional method of police and fire protection," the report states.

"Public safety presents an opportu-nity to preserve the current high level of service while at the same time creating a more efficent operation with attendant cost savings."

The City Commission decided to receive the report and allow the city administration to review it before taking any action.

"I hope the report gives the city a basis to begin further study," Pollard

Although the report indicates the po-lice and fire unions would oppose the implementation of a public safety de-partment, Pollard said both have decided to take a "wait and see approach" to the concept.

Included in the committee's discussions were members of the unions, as well as members of each department's non-union leadership.

PUBLIC SAFETY DEPARTMENTS have increased in popularity during the past 20 years, the committee wrote.

"A number of jurisdictions have chosen to introduce some type of combined fire and police service, anticipating increased efficiency without sacrifice of community safety."

The concept is usually implemented in smaller communities, such as the city of Farmington. Some larger communities, such as Kalamazoo, have also adopted the plan.

The basic idea of the public safety concept is to cross-train police and fire personnel to perform both duties, while eliminating the need for separate administration.

The problem with the concept, the satisfaction of all involved.

"In each of the communities which has adopted a public safety operation, a major factor in the success or failure of the program has been the attitude of the police and fire personnel," the report states.

BECAUSE OF this, the committee recommends the city consider a fiveyear phase in, which allows some peronnel to retain current duties.

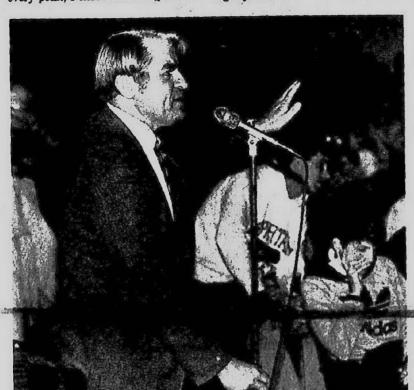

Implementation of the concept would require an initial cash outlay for equipment and training. The committee believes those costs would be recovered through the long-term savings of a combined department.

The committee also considered the current contract with Plymouth Township for police services, and the effects a combined department may have.

"It appears that the contract would not preclude the adoption of a public safety operation," the report states.

"The short-term nature of the present city/township contract renders it of minor significance to the overall adoption of the plan."

The city administration now plans to review the report and look into the different approaches to public safety, including a system which calls for training DPW workers as volunteer fire-

Teacher Brian Kidston asks what would happen if the other school unions didn't ratify the tentative agreement after teachers ratified it Tuesday morning.

Striking school employee unions ratify agreement, return to work

The school strike in Plymouth-Canton came to an end this week as all striking unions returned to work yes-

A tentative agreement was reached late Monday afternoon by all units at the bargaining table.

The next day the leadership of the six unions met with their members and after some discussion all units voted to return to work the next day.

The contract changes will now be put into writing and formally ratified by all involved groups within the next

The economic settlement for all six groups involves a 3-percent increase the first year and a 6 percent-increase the second year.

In addition, teachers at the top of the wage scale will receive an additional 1percent increase the second semester of the second year.

THE AGREEMENT ends the strike for some 1,200 striking employees teachers, teacher aides, bus drivers, food service employees, maintenance personnel and secretaries.

The verbal tentative agreement was reached at the table at about 6:30 p.m. Monday - an hour before the school board met a jam-packed audience (see related story) in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High.

The tentative agreement was announced at that meeting by Tom Cotner, chief negotiator for the teachers, and confirmed by Norm Kee, assistant superintendent for personnel.

Kee indicated then that school would be in session Wednesday if the union membership ratified the tentative agreement on the next day.

After the central administration received news of the votes Tuesday afternoon, plans proceeded to open school yesterday

Word got out to parents using a fanout phone system at the middle school and elementary levels, using the school's cable television channel and the board's hotline phone recording (453-0271).

COTNER EXPLAINED that the vote taken actually was to decide whether to return to work under the tentative agreement subject to formal ratification, a condition acceptable to the school board and administration.

The teachers union voted by a margin of about 2-1 to accept the economic settlement. The union for transportation workers initially voted against the agreement but revoted after learning that the other five groups accepted and agreed to accept the tentative contract

For the teachers the two-year agreement in effect extends their existing contract another year. They were in the first year of a two-year pact and were negotiating a wage reopener.

The other five groups have a new two-year contract which will run through June 1985.

The school calendar will be changed as a result of the strike. At press-time the calendar changes were reported to be a reduction of days off during the Christmas holiday vacation period, loss of a week off in February and extension of the school year by one week in

As part of the agreement the school board has agreed to dismiss its lawsuit against the teachers' union, and the union has dropped its unfair labor practices suit. The board also has dropped its lawsuit against the state Department of Labor and Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC).

Relations Commission (MERC).

In all, the schools were closed 13 school days because of the strike.

Bitter feelings linger even after school strike ends

By Emory Daniels staff writer

Announcement of the tentative agreement at Monday night's school board meeting was not sufficient to calm the emotions of many in the audi-

Despite the news that the strike apparently was over, there still remained feelings of anger, bitterness and frustration which resulted in criticisms of the teachers union and personal attacks on administrators and board members.

The school board had convened Monday night to hold an executive session to discuss negotiations. The board held an open meeting first, however, to receive citizen comments before adjourning into the secret session.

The tentative agreement had been reached with the teachers union about an hour before the 7:30 p.m. meeting began Monday.

The auditorium of Plymouth Salem High was packed by residents, employees and teachers who moments earlier were picketing along Joy Road in front of the school. There were reports that many people were stranded outside, unable to get inside because the parking areas were filled. A board member had heard an unofficial report that as many as 100 persons were unable to get inside.

THE MEETING began with an emotional charge as teachers and other em'I hope instead of brandishing swords we will bury the hatchet.'

of the tentative agreement, the first speaker was a parent who expressed her desire that there never be another teachers' strike - a sentiment repeated by most of the speakers to follow. The next parent to step up to the microphone commented that there were no winners but only losers because of the strike and hoped both sides could overcome the animosity built up during the strike - another opinion often repeated by others.

James Stark criticized those teachers who voted to go on strike which he said was in clear violation of the law.

Les Walker criticized the board for poor public relations during the strike, for not informing the public, and for seemingly avoiding public meetings where strike issues could be aired.

MEMBERS OF the senior class stepped up to the mike to express their chagrin that the strike might result in their graduating late which would hurt their chances to get summer jobs and that it interfered with the timetable to apply for college scholarships.

Susan Lewke of Canton chastized teachers for wasting 19 days of her child's education and pledged it would never happen again, saying she would mobilize 1,900 parents who wouldn't allow "you to pussyfoot with our kids."

Some speakers criticized the board for hiring an attorney to conduct the negotiations with the unions, suggesting it would be better if the board conducted its own negotiations. This criticism has been made during past negotiating sessions, although the board has never bargained directly with any union in the history of the district.

Raymond Masters urged the board not to increase class size. "Remember as you increase production the quality of the product will suffer.

Tricia Enoch, speaking for an ad hoc group calling themselves "concerned parents" in Canton, told the board they had collected 1,900 signatures in a day and a half and presented them to Ingham County Circuit Judge Robert Bell. We want the board, the unions, and Judge Bell to know we will not let our children be used as pawns in labor negotiations. A factory can go on strike and the machinery is idled, but we are not talking here of machinery being idle but about young minds being idle."

A reconciliatory note was struck by Dean Swartzwelter who commented, "I hope instead of brandishing swords we will now bury the hatchet."

Stock broker firms move to Main

By Gary M. Cates staff writer

Main Street in Plymouth probably never will be recognized as a financial capital like Wall Street in New York, but the number of financial institutions on it is increasing.

Last month the offices of Prescott. Ball and Turben moved to the corner of Main and Penniman. In January the E.F. Hutton Company plans to open an office in the Mayflower Meeting House on Main near Ann Arbor Trail.

Those moves will bring the number of stock brokerage firms on Main to four, not to mention the number of banks and savings and loans already located on Plymouth's main business av-

Why all the interest in Plymouth? Because, as Robert Wendland of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith puts it, the area is a hidden gold-

"It's no secret the Plymouth-North-ville area has a lot of hidden wealth. It's not a flashy wealth like Bloomfield or Birmingham, but there's a lot of ex-ecutives from the auto industry that live out here," said Wendland.

The Plymouth-Northville community is a "fertile area for stock brokerage firms," said John Findling, the soon-tobe manager of E.F. Hutton's Plymouth WENDLAND IS THE manager of Merrill Lynch's Plymouth office at 340 N. Main, inside the Markham building. That office opened in 1979.

The offices of Manley, Bennett, McDonald and Company, 505 S. Main, have been in Plymouth the longest — 15 years. Prescott, Ball and Turben opened a Plymouth office four years

Although they will be competitors, Wendland believes there's plenty of business to support E.F. Hutton's move profitable for Merrill Lynch.

Wendland said. "Adding another brokerage firm will make people more aware of what's available, and they will then shop around," he said.

Stock brokers, in addition to internal competition, are in direct competition with banks — due to the deregulation of the banking industry, he said.
"The line between banks and broker-

ANOTHER REASON FOR Plymouth's popularity with brokers is the town's atmosphere and location.

"There's a lot to be said for the working environment of Plymouth," said E.F. Hutton's Findling.

"That's why Merrill Lynch has been so successful in Plymouth. They are marketing national products in a hometown atmosphere," he said.

"It's a developing Birmingham. You're starting to see boutiques and the specialty shops around town.
"We were looking for an area people can acquaint themselves with; a place with a nice downtown section. Plymouth had it. Northville was maybe a second place.

Plymouth offers the brokerage firms western Wayne County spot to do

"Plymouth is kind of the hub for that whole side of the county," said Ernie Moegelin, former manager of Merrill Lynch's Plymouth office.

Because of its central location, Plymouth can draw clients from Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Farmington and Westland, Moegelin said. Likewise, E.F. Hutton plans to use its

Plymouth office to serve clients on the "west metropolitan side of town."

"Plymouth is just a very successful community," said Tybinka.

Suburbs win water rate case appeal

The Michigan Court of Appeals has unanimously upheld the challenge of 77 suburban communities to water rates charged by the city of Detroit during

The state's second highest court thus reversed an earlier Circuit Court ruling that the return on investment exacted by those rates was "not unreasonable."

"This is a landmark decision for the suburban customers of the water system," said Edward H. McNamara, chairman of the Suburban Association of Detroit Water Customers, which in 1976 challenged a 39 percent water rate increase.

"This is the first time water customers ever won an action against the water department. You could say we have been successful

"Detroit's liability to these communities under this ruling could be in excess of $35 million," said McNamara, mayor of Livonia. "There is also a 12 percent per year interest on the total."

But residents of Plymouth and Plymouth Township shouldn't watch their mailboxes for refund checks.

Officials from both communities said the anticipated refunds won't be passed on because the increases - which caused the overcharges - were absorbed by the municipalities.

Plymouth Township hasn't passed on a water charge increase since 1976, according to Supervisor Maurice Breen.

Likewise, Plymouth didn't start ssing on water increases until after 1981, according to Cly Manager Henry

Instead, both communities used working capital to absorb the increase and now plan to return the refunds to those accounts. In Plymouth Township, the refund probably will bolster the working capital enough to guard against increases for two years, Breen said. DETROIT'S WATER department now has three options, McNamara said. It could appeal the court of appeals decision. It could let the case go back to circuit court and let the court decide the amount of damages. Or it could negotiate an amount to be returned to the suburban communities.

"I think they might negotiate be-cause that liability keeps climbing at 12 percent," McNamara said.

THE CASE has been sent back to Circuit Court to determine the amount of the credit that should be granted to the suburban communities against their future water bills.

Area pumpkin patches provide a whole peck of pickin' pleasure

With Halloween fast approaching, many children are making their annual trek to farms and haunted houses.

Farms which feature pick-your-own pumpkins are always a favorite with the youngsters (not to mention moms and dads). Betty and Paul Clymer, 39740 Cherry Hill in Canton, own a U-pick pumpkin farm and, as can be expected, their place is always full of visitors this time of year.

The Clymer farm is located between Lotz and Hix roads on Cherry Hill. The farm fea-tures some three acres of pumpkins and hay Groups which visit the farm, such as Field Elementary School Brownie Troop 56 pictured on this page, can pick their own pumpkins and go on a hayride for $1.25.

For non-hayriders, the pumpkins are sold for 10 cents a pound.

As the Brownies found out, the Clymer's farm can be lots of fun — from being greeted as they arrive by Mopsy the dog to hiking out to the pumpkin patch to search for a jack-o'-lantern.

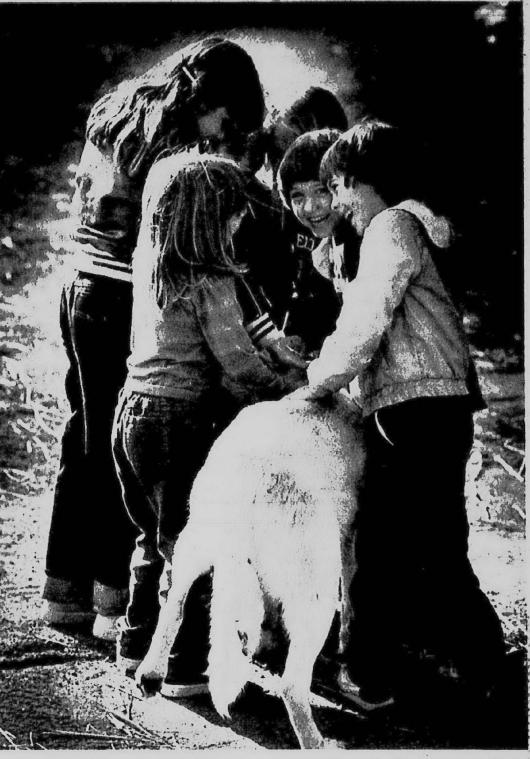

Persons or groups interested in visiting the Clymer's farm can call the Clymers at

Arrest made in arsons

By Gary M. Cates staff writer

An 18-year-old Plymouth high school student was arrested Tuesday afternoon in connection with one of eight arsons in a Plymouth neighborhood last Gregory G. Harris, 18, of 400 Plymouth Road R3, pleaded innocent to one count of arson of personal property in 35th District Court Wednesday morning. Judge James Garber set a $10,000 cash bond. Harris will receive a court-appointed attorney prior to his Oct. 31 preliminary examination.

Harris' arrest came six days after a string of fires in the Holbrook and Union Street neighborhood caused an estimated $40,600 in damages.

POLICE LT. Robert Commire said Harris currently is a suspect in the remaining fires. He was charged in connection with a car fire at 202 N. Holbrook, which destroyed a 1972 Mercury.

Information supplied through a $2,000 reward program for tips aided police and fire officials in their investigation, Commire said. The officials weren't certain how much, if any, of the reward will be paid out. Each of the tips the investigators received will be reviewed to determine its value, Commire said.

Despite the arrest, residents with information regarding the fires still are asked to call the Plymouth Fire Department at 453-1234, ext. 41.

Harris' arrest was the result of a combination of information from patrol officers and residents, he

Police said they are without a motive for the fires, which were lit in the early morning hours last Wednesday.

Included in the damages were the loss of three cars and one garage. Another garage and four vehicles were damaged and believed to be repairable.

All but one of the vehicles involved had been parked and left unlocked in the driveway, garage or

Fire investigators found evidence of an accelerant on several of the vehicles and believe all were started by burning glove box contents.

If convicted on the arson charge, Harris faces a maximum penalty of four years in prison and/or a

ACCORDING TO police, the mishap occurred around 1:40 p.m. Sunday on Hanford west of Beck. The youths had been playing football with friends shortly before the accident, said Canton Police Lt. Larry Stewart.

Robert was standing in the roadway, playfully "giving his brother a hard time" by dodging in front of the car, Stewart said. Christopher, a senior at Plymouth Canton High, drove forward, assuming his brother would swerve in the opposite direction, Stewart said. But Robert moved into the path of the car and was hit. Stewart said.

"They both, at the same moment, took evasive action," Stewart said. "Both went into each other's path. That's all it was - a misdirection."

A rescue unit took Robert to Oakwood Hospital. He was immediately transferred to St. Joseph Hospital, Ypsilanti, Stewart said. The youth died at 3:55

There were no other injuries. Two 15-year-old youths were passengers in the car at the time of the incident, Stewart said.

Police are continuing their investigation. Robert is survived by his parents, David and Gloria, and brothers Christopher, Daniel and Matthew. "This has been a tragic year," said Stewart, noting this was Canton's 12th fatality for 1983, compared to three for the entire previous year.

Retailers will boost Community Fund campaign

Some 48 Plymouth area merchants will be participating in the Plymouth Community Fund United Way Day on Saturday, Oct. 22.

On Saturday the 48 merchants will be donating 10 percent of their sales to the local United Way campaign.

October is kind of a slow month and this is one way that we can boost sales and give something back into our community," said Fred Hill of John Smith men's clothes.

Paul J. Sincock, chairman of the business division of the local United Way Drive, added "this is something really unique that was totally developed by the merchants in cooperation with the Plymouth Community Chamber. This shows that the merchants are involved in their community."

Plymouth Mayor Eldon W. Martin as declared October as Plymouth community Fund United Way month Bows; Enchante'; All by Hand; has declared October as Plymouth Community Fund United Way month and is urging residents to support the merchants on this worthy cause on United Way Day on Oct. 22, 1983.

Rally protests moving

A group of Northville Township homeowners are seeking public support at a rally to protest the moving of a state prison site.

The Michigan Department of Corrections recently announced its intention to move a new prison site from Five Mile Road and Beck to Five Mile and

The move, according to the corrections department, will save some $20 million - even though preliminary construction work has been completed at the original site.

The Northville group, Concerned Citizens for Western Wayne County, scheduled the Saturday morning rally in anticipation of raising funds to pay for its lobbyist, Jim Karub.

The group reportedly has raised $14,000 of the needed $20,000 for Karub's services.

In addition to raising funds, the rally is being held to inform residents about the effects of moving the site.

SUPPOSEDLY, IF the prison is built on the new site, plans to turn the adjacent Wayne County Child Development Center into a senior citizens hous-for keeping the original site, as members of the state's House of Representatives and Senate are expected to be in attendance.

The group encourages residents to attend the rally, starting at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Wayne County Child Development Center on Five Mile and During the past week, officials from Plymouth and Plymouth Township pledged their moral support to the group's efforts.

Board avoids communication

When I cast my vote for a school hoard member, I expect to elect some-one who will represent my interests as a taxpayer and parent in the manage-ment of the school district's affairs.

An important part of this expecta-on involves a careful control of the district's financial affairs. However, an equally critical part is the development of an effective spirit of teamwork be-tween the central administration and employees, based upon fairness, cooperation, mutual good will and trust. This responsibility lies equally with the board and with its administrators: the board to set the policy and direction and the administrators they employ to turn that policy into a living, breathing reality by working openly with the em-ployees of the district.

It is obvious that in our district today there is a complete breakdown in the working relationship between the board and central administration on one side and virtually every district employee on the other. It extends far deeper than the financial issues that are the current focus of attention. The fundamental, underlying issues are more those of mutual respect, fairness

There obviously is a strong and virtually unanimous feeling among employees of having been treated unfairly and with little human concern or dignity by their administrators and board for a long time. This is not a new problem. I have seen it developing increasingly over a period of years, growing and festering and finally erupting into this complete breakdown in communication and work stoppage by all of the employee groups.

Unfortunately, worse is yet to come.
It is clear that this bitterness and frustration will remain longer after the contracts are finally negotiated and that our children's education and the health of the school system itself will continue to suffer.

I have a third expectation of my school board and administration. Citizens have the right to be told honestly and openly what is happening in the district and to be provided with ample opportunities to express their opinions to the collective board and administration in an open forum. It appears that during the last few weeks, every effort has been made to avoid these responsibilities. The combination of rescheduled board meetings, cancelled board meetings, board meetings held in executive session with no public atten-dance and the total absence of coopera-tion with the League of Women Voters' efforts to set up an open public forum, efforts to set up an open public forum, seems calculated to keep the board to-tally insulated from the public they represent.

If we are to stop the deterioration of spirit in this district, it is imperative that the board and central administrative that the board and central administrative control of statesmantion develop a new sense of statesman-ship and-commit yourselves to:

Developing a strong and open re-lationship with employees based upon trust and mutual respect.

 The blobber are an anothility with

Establishing your credibility with employees and with the citizens of the district.

 Deal directly with employee con-cerns and contract issues without the involvement of outside lawyers and the tactics of legal maneuvers.

GOP SEEKS showdown

Allo defends his comp board role

By Tim Richard staff writer

Republican state senators today eaded for a showdown vote on Gov. headed for a showdown vote on Gov. James Blanchard's choice to head a major state agency. GOP Leaders were confident that even if they can't reject Clifford Allo, they can expose Blanchard as being anti-business.

"I've been turned into a symbol, and I don't believe there's any reality to it," said Allo, who will serve 31/2 years on the Workers Compensation Appeals Board unless 20 senators vote to reject

The 38-year-old former Bloomfield Township resident faced during two nours of grilling in a Senate committee Wednesday. The former University of Detroit law professor sought to portray himself as "a neutral working in a Republican administration" (of William G. Milliken), a "technician" and a "moderating influence" within the United Auto Workers union.

SENATE MAJORITY Leader Wilthe appointment from going to the Senate floor by not reporting Allo and five other appointees out of his Senate Administration Committee.

The six are automatically confirmed 60 days after their appointments unless 20 senators vote to reject them. By Republican calculations, Allo's 60 days expire Monday. Thus, today is the final working day for Republicans to force

Sen. Doug Cruce, R-Troy, said he would seek full Senate approval today of a discharge petition, a parliamentary maneuver which would bring the matter immediately before the Senate. Senate Minority Leader John Engler.

R-Mt. Pleasant, said the appointment would be decided by "one vote, either way." He was confident all 18 Republicans would vote to reject. The tactical question was whether he could pick off two of the 20 Democratic senators to block the appointment.

"I DON'T think the business community is against me — just one organization," Allo told senators.

He meant the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, which conducted a letter writing campaign and organized members to appear at the confirmation hearing wearing "Stop Allo" buttons.

Allo said the Michigan Manufacturers Association and Big Three automakers "have dealt with me first-hand and know what I am. A lot of people in and know what I am. A lot of people in the room have been genuinely misled." When Sen. Nick Smith, R-Hillsdale County, asked what he would to "overcome the anti-business symbolism," Allo replied:

• As chairman of the 15-member appeals board, he has instituted a system of "blind draw" assignment of tem of "blind draw" assignment of workers comp appeals cases, rotating three-member panels and assigning cases at random, reducing chances of bias. He said his Republican-appointed predecessor, Michael Gillman of Dow Chemical Co., had assigned cases based on members' interests and had not set productivity standards, as Alio said he plans to do.

• "I hope this hearing gets out better information than has been put out," he said, again pointing to the state chamber campaign against him.

• "I will go back and meet with any (complaining) chamber and let them get to know me. I will be as available get to know me. I will be as available as much as possible. I've always respected the businessman as one who looks at costs."

DESPITE REPUBLICAN grilling, some questions were easy. Democrat Gary Corbin of Clio asked if Allo were a "UAW puppet."

"I reject it flatly, totally, unequivocally," said Allo. He related an incident in which he advised a UAW leader to "do something about retirees." The reference was to the way some UAW retirees would collect pensions, then file workers comp claims for vague injuries — a practice which business and Republicans blistered as double-dipWater ruling overturned

The appeals court ruled that Wexford County Circuit Judge William Peterson erred in accepting the rate formula set by Detroit. The case was shifted to the Wexford judge in a change of venue.

George E. Ward, attorney for the suburban communities, explained how Detroit was found to have overcharged suburban customers $7.4 million a year and $37.1 million over five years.

"The trial court was held to have misapplied the 'cost of capital' method in finding 'not unreasonable' Detroit's practice of making a charge for return on investment amounting to 9 percent of the value of all capital plant and equipment used in serving the suburbs," Ward

"ONLY 35 percent of the suburban-used plant is owned by Detroit free and clear. The remaining 65 percent is financed by existing mortgages bearing an average interest of only 4.5 percent.

"Effectively, the return to Detroit on the share of plant owned by it free and clear was not 9 percent, but approximately 17.8 percent.

"If 9 percent is deemed to be a fair annual return, then the approximate 17.6 percent actually charged each year on Detroit's equity in the suburban-used plant includes an overcharge of 8.6 percent per year. The dollar value of Detroit's equity in the suburban-used plant is apin the suburban-used plant is approximately $86.4 million, taken from Detroit's own financial re-

"In collecting an excessive 8.6 percent of that value, Detroit over-charged the suburbs $7.4 million each year, a total of $37.1 million over five years."

MEANWHILE, Oakland County Drain Commissioner George Kuhn announced a new package of bills would be introduced in the Michigan Senate giving suburbs a voice on a regional water board. .

All seven members of the Detroit Water Board - four city residents and three suburbanites — are se-lected by Mayor Coleman Young and can be dismissed at any time.

Searching for normalcy now that strike's over

HERE WAS good news Tuesday afternoon as word spread throughout the community that schools would be open the next day.

Most of us welcomed the news that the strike was over. We can begin to hope for a return to normal — although some taxpayers likely breathed a sign of relief with their fingers crossed and hands on their wallets.

Although there was no financial analysis immediately available on the tenative agreement, it doesn't seem likely that the economic settlement will result directly in a request for a property tax

All striking employees will receive a 3 percent increase the first year (from June 1983 to June 1984) and a 6 percent increase the second year. In addition, those employees at the top of the wage scale will receive an additional 1 percent for the second semester of the second year.

We think that amounts to a pay increase of 6.5 percent the second year for those at the top; a six percent hike for all others.

The school board, before the strike, had offered three percent the first year and 6 percent the second year. The difference of 1 or 1.5 percent is not so great that a tax hike will result. Likely the difference can be made up in fund equity or in sounder state financing. There may be reasons for all to keep their fingers crossed.

Some may wonder aloud whether a two-weekplus strike was worth an extra percent. We need to realize that employees walked out expecting more than a 1 percent increase above what was on the table at that time. What the unions really decided, quite relunctantly apparently, was that the added 1 or 1.5 percent was worth putting a stop to the strike. Thus, that was the price of returning to work, not the price of striking.

Feelings got out of hand and emotions ran far too high. The reasons are understandable as the stakes were high. But now we need to seek a return to normal for the same reason the stakes are far too high to do otherwise.

In any event, all parties involved can breathe a sigh of relief that the strike is over and the business of education once again is under way

Hopefully, the community can find a way to set aside feelings of anger, bitterness, frustration and hopelessness which surfaced during the past couple weeks. Certainly people on both sides, and those caught in the middle, still hold some very negative opinions of the parties involved. We need to weigh the price of hanging onto those opinions now that the battle has ended.

Feelings got out of hand and emotions ran far too high. The reasons are understandable as the stakes were high. But now we need to seek a return to normal for the same reason — the stakes are far too high to do otherwise.

So let us follow the advice of one resident given at Monday night's board meeting. Now that school is open again, instead of brandishing the sword, let

Kids are afraid to tell when a man accosts them

A LITTLE GIRL looked up as the woman put ink on the child's hands. "Why do I have to do this?

The slightly flustered woman responded, "Because if you get lost, we will need your fingerprints.

Left unsaid was that if the little girl were ever abducted and murdered, her fingerprints may be the only means to identify her body.

School districts in suburban Detroit have been fingerprinting children throughout this year. For example, Livonia schools will take part in the project through December. It's a simple procedure. Parents must sign permission slips before a child is fingerprinted.

After the fingerprinting is completed, the only set of prints is given to the parent or guardian. No copies are made for any governmental agency.

The fingerprinting takes a few minutes and is accomplished with a minimum of inconvenience.

A MISSING child is perhaps a parent's greatest fear. The statistics are grim. An estimated 50,000 children disappear in the United States every year. About 5,000 children are found murdered. Of those, 2,000 are never identified.

"The child fingerprint identification program is an attempt to change those statistics," said Carol Strom, president of the Livonia Board of Education.

Anyone who lived in the metropolitan Detroit area in 1976-77 needs no reminder of what can happen to missing children. During a 13-month period, four Oakland County children were abducted

Those murders focused national attention on this area. The killer or killers were never found.

What the subsequent investigation uncovered wa almost more disturbing than the murders. During that time, school officials in six Oakland communities asked children if a man had tried to pick them up during the previous year. Elementary and junior high children reported 700 abduction attempts.

Nick

Most attempts were not reported to parents because children feared their parents would restrict

INTEREST IN THE abduction of children was heightened last week by a television special "Adam." This show depicted the frustrating attempts by the John Walsh family to find their son, Adam, when he was abducted and murdered in Jerry Tobias, the youth officer for Southfield Township, said he has received several inquiries about missing children since the showing of "Adam." Tobias was a member of the Oakland County Homicide Task Force — the official name of the group that investigated the four killings.

Tobias didn't know of any abductions of children in this area during the past year, he said.

"It has not been a problem, lately. But the danger is always there.

Educating children about abduction poses a dilemma for parents. On the one hand, they teach children to be polite and friendly to all persons. At the same time, parents preach, "Don't talk' to strangers.

What's Tobias' advice?

should be not to teach fear, but to educate. Kids understand a lot more than we

"Parents must keep the doors to communication open so they can freely discuss this subject with their children."

Power at Schoolcraft

Phys ed fans come on strong

THE REACTION of the physical education fans was excessive, almost shrill

Even before the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees had scheduled a special meeting on the campus master plan, 922 people were signing petitions saying "Keep your hands off the auxiliary gym in the Physical Education Building."

Even before the board could hear a presentation on the master plan from two vice presidents, athletic director Marvin Gans was making his pitch for keeping the gym. Prudence suggests you let the VPs present the overall plan before attacking one part

Gans and his supporters came on so strong that, at one point, trustee Paul Y. Kadish glared directly at him and said, "What I hear from you, Marv, is 'Look at all alternatives except the auxiliary gym.' Well I'm going to look at all the alternatives."

Wow. It's strong stuff when a trustee who has made an 10-year avocation of serving the college, publicly rebukes an administrator like that. GOOD OL' DICK McDowell, Schoolcraft's president for the last two years, put the matter in con-

The community college, which serves northwest-ern Wayne County, is almost a victim of its own success. The college in the 1960s and '70s added programs even before it had adequate space to house them all.

Then the tax revolt struck in about 1971, and voters began shooting down any building proposal. Folks liked the things Schoolcraft was doing, a survey showed - they just didn't care to pay more money to house them properly. Said the master

The college is in desperate need for a large data lab space . . . The college has need of auditorium-sized facilities in order to support some of our Liberal Arts programming and the cultural development of our students. We are in need of adequate studio space . . . We also note the inadequacies of these houses (along Haggerty south of campus) for such important programs as Women's Resource Center and the Child Care Center."

Tim Richard

INSTEAD, THE ISSUE degenerated into a question of whether the auxiliary gym, which is allegedly receiving less use as phys ed credit hours decline. should be converted into a data processing lab and business offices.

Actually, Gans and his fans have a pretty good case. Phys ed strikes me as one of the properly housed programs on campus. To take over the auxiliary gym for a much-needed data lab is like robbing Peter to pay Paul.

The ideal answer is new construction - either a brand new building or an addition to something like

Applied Sciences. That would likely require a public vote, to which two trustees say nay — Kadish, because he chaired three other such campaigns and is tired of getting his very useful brains beat in, and Rosina Raymond, who cites 13 percent unemployment out there. Well, if the other five board members decide to go to the voters, no one would be better to run the millage campaign than Marv Gans. Seriously, the AD is one heckuva fund-raiser, has wide community contacts, has demonstrated he can play hard-ball politics and whip up the sports writers.

His committee should be the 922 persons who signed the petition to save the auxiliary gym, along with anyone in the community who thinks it's important to have adequate facilities for computer

The property tax bite would be minor — but that will be the subject of another column.

DID YOU KNOW that Lake Superior — the deepest, largest, clearest and, many believe, the most beautiful of all the Great Lakes — has been a "trapped" lake? Geological shifting and upheavals caused by early glaciers held it back behind the St. Mary's River rapids at the Soo, and it has remained static, cold and isolated to this day.

He'd like to turn back the pages and live again in the era when hayrides out to the country hotels for a good chicken dinner and an evening of all sorts of dancing were the vogue.

There was nothing like the old-fashioned square

And as he sits in front of his television these evenings and watches some of the outlandish performances of what they call modern dancing, he can almost hear the "caller" bellow out, "Swing your partner . . . turn to the left . . . turn to the right," concluding with "All hands

They were evenings of great fun, but they have become only memories. Now, in some places, there is a move to bring those days back by teaching square dancing at some of the municipal recreation centers.

while Square dancing was the thing a half-century ago, there also was some of the most beautiful ballroom dancing one ever would want to see.

There was the old-fashioned waltz, one of the nicest of all dances. And when they promoted such things as prize waltzes, it was a treat to watch young couples glide across the floor.

Dance contests adhered strictly to rules. When one entered the contest, he had to have the heels of his shoes covered with chalk and then checked at the finish to see if at any time his heels touched the floor.

These dances were typically called noe-downs and were real fun. They are gone, possibly never to return.

There are others that are only memories. ## FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS OUR WORLD IS IN PERIL

American Cruise and Pershing II missiles scheduled to be deployed in Europe in a few weeks are part of a first strike policy that makes nuclear war not just thinkable, but likely. These weapons threaten us all.

Cruise and Pershing it missiles are a dangerous escalation of the arms race. The Soviet Union will have these same new weapons in a few years unless there is a Freeze now.

We oppose these weapons because we want our children to grow up in a world free from the threat of annihilation. We support a mutual verifiable Freeze on the testing, production and deployment of all nuclear weapons. We call for an immediate halt to the deployment of any new missiles in Europe by either the United States or the Soviet Union.

The people of Europe do not want these new weapons. On October 22 with a rally at Clark Park, we will join them and others throughout the world in telling governments that these new weapons are a threat to our very survival. Please join us. Only people acting together can stop Irene Brown

Enrollment count jumps at Madonna

Fall enrollment is up 12 percent at Madonna College, Livonia - "way over our projections," according to a college official.

The college board last spring froze tuition at $65 per credit, the lowest of any independent four-year liberal arts college in Michigan, the dean said.

"Our predictions last July were for an approximate 3 percent increase," Meyer said. Madonna will accommodate students through careful scheduling of all classrooms throughout a 14-hour day. A new building provided six additional classrooms. Fall enrollment is 3,924, including 2,189 women and 933 men.

Of these, 172 enrolled in the master of science in administration program.

Median age is 27. Most are Wayne County residents and commute to the campus at I-96 and

This is not the highest one-year increase at Madonna. It recorded a 34 percent increase in 1974, a year after becoming coeducational.

If class periods are now too short, why not schedule each class fewer times per week for a longer time, instead of eliminating one period, i.e. one subject?

I hope that my student will not be faced with having to choose between a foreign language and band when he is a ninth grader. I don't consider a foreign language an elective for a college-bound ninth grader. And his musical education is equally important.

Questions asked of both sides

To the editor:

An open letter to the Plymouth-Canton teachers and school board.

After listening to all the emotionalism being displayed by both sides over the question once again of teacher and school system employee compensation, I find myself once again feeling like the proverbial rope in a tug of war, being tugged at from both

Since it's always easy to be critical from a distance and since I really don't know enough about the facts from either side, I'll refrain from compounding the situation with more childlike rhetoric.

However, I will share some thoughts

from the parent corner of this situation.

• Why is it that neither side ever communicates with the parent group at-large until they are in a state of crisis?

• Why is it that neither side ever communicates with the parent group at-large on anything other than compensation? (i.e., qualify of education)

· Why is it that the facts regarding the results or accomplishments of this school system are never published . . . are there none? How do our children rank in college entrance scores after 12 years here? How well do they do in college comparably to other systems?

 This community is paying for the best in education . . . are they getting the best?

• Do teachers get a formal annual written appraisal . . . if so, what are the re-

• Why do you both continue to use my children as "pawns" in your "game?" I don't want them in school next summer!

• What is the educational truth today on class size? How do teaching aids affect this size? Are teachers provided modern teaching aids like computers?

• What are the facts on maintenance personnel and administrator numbers and salaries? (i.e., is too much money going for wages rather than educational "tools?"

• How many class hours a day do middle school and high school teachers actually teach?

Finally, a note of personal emotion please don't waste any more of your breath telling me about your workload and work burden . . . you all chose your profession like we parents and I don't get home at 3:30 in the afternoon nor have three "mental health" months off each year. To all of you . . . get your act together and earn parental support through communication and results. I want my kids back in school!

Maybe we parents should keep our kids home on all the official state "count" days besides voting down additional millage until we see some of the fiscal responsibility and professionalism you all profess so strongly.

In conclusion, to the Plymouth-Canton Employees Coalition . . . what do you mean in your flyer $1.6 million extra dollars? You insult my intelligence.

Robert E. Berg Plymouth

Disburbed by the shorter day

To the editor:

I am disturbed by the change in the mid-dle school day being negotiated by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education and the Plymouth-Canton Education Associa-

If class periods are now too short, why not schedule each class fewer times per week for a longer time, instead of eliminating one period, i.e. one subject?

I hope that my student will not be faced with having to choose between a foreign language and band when he is a ninth grader. I don't consider a foreign language an elective for a college-bound ninth grader. And his musical education is equally important.

The board and the PCEA should carefully consider the impact of the proposal on stu-

To the editor:

An open letter to the Plymouth-Canton teachers and school board.

After listening to all the emotionalism being displayed by both sides over the question once again of teacher and school system employee compensation, I find myself once again feeling like the proverbial rope in a tug of war, being tugged at from both

However, I will share some thoughts

from the parent corner of this situation.

• Why is it that neither side ever communicates with the parent group at-large until they are in a state of crisis?

Why is it that neither side ever communicates with the parent group at-large on anything other than compensation? (i.e., qualify of education)

· Why is it that the facts regarding the results or accomplishments of this school system are never published . . . are there none? How do our children rank in college entrance scores after 12 years here? How well do they do in college comparably to other systems?

• This community is paying for the best

• Do teachers get a formal annual written appraisal . . . if so, what are the re-

Why do you both continue to use my children as "pawns" in your "game?" I don't want them in school next summer!

· What is the educational truth today on class size? How do teaching aids affect this size? Are teachers provided modern teaching aids like computers?

• What are the facts on maintenance personnel and administrator numbers and salaries? (i.e., is too much money going for wages rather than educational "tools?" • How many class hours a day do middle school and high school teachers actually teach?

Finally, a note of personal emotion please don't waste any more of your breath telling me about your workload and work burden . . . you all chose your profession like we parents and I don't get home at 3:30 in the afternoon nor have three "mental health" months off each year. To all of you . . . get your act together and earn parental support through communication and results. I want my kids back in school! Maybe we parents should keep our kids home on all the official state "count" days besides voting down additional millage until we see some of the fiscal responsibility and professionalism you all profess so strongly.

In conclusion, to the Plymouth-Canton Employees Coalition . . . what do you mean in your flyer $1.6 million extra dollars? You insult my intelligence.

Doll collection stirs memories

If you have little girl, or ever were a little girl, you may have missed the opportunity of a lifetime. Younger eyes were opened to the beauty and care of the past. Older eyes were reminded of those happy days when their favorite foll sat proudly smack-dab in the middle of her bed and waited each day for the return of her "Mommy."

Just this past week, I had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Nellie Schroeder as she presented 35 of her time-worn collection of more than 200 dolls to the Canton Historical Society and guests. Shroeder, who lives in Wayne, is the aunt of Tillie Schultz of Canton, who arranged her appearance at the society

Schroeder's collection has a 50-yearold doll given to her by her daughter, who had received it for her birthday. I believe the oldest doll dates back to the 1840s. Although it is not nice to mention a lady's age, I'm sure in this case it is a matter of pride with the dolls.

SCHROEDER, 82, no longer can keep up the tradition of taking her collection to the local schools and showing her treasures to the young. One fascinating thing about those visits, the little boys seemed to prefer the homemade dolls, not the fancy dressed "Genny June" dolls by Mark Farmer of California, or even the Indian dolls complete with papoose. She said they liked the plain ones that most people would throw away.

I hope that when the next opportunity to see an old doll collection presents itself, you'll grab the chance and your daughter. Maybe you'll see your favorite old doll - in someone else's care.

have got what it takes.

How about our Historical Museum? Getting better every day, and getting some new members too. Bart Bert would like to thank the "new blood" who came out to help him and Roy Schultz put up a rail fence to house any horse drawn, or other old farm implements the society acquires.

The volunteers were Floyd Bohms of Denton Road, Robert Boyer of Barr Road, and Jim Vickerman of Geddes Road. Bart reminds me that although they are expecting to receive a plow and cultivator Monday, and a corn binder is on the way, he is anxious to hear from anyone who might know of any horse-drawn cutters, wagons with steel rims, or the like.

Just give Bart a call 495-0811.

THE CENTENNIAL Educational Park band can claim a few pretty terrific titles recently acquired, such as first place in Flight 1 during the Durrand Invitational. Flight 1 is the size and rating of the band.

Add to this overall first place, for which they overcame some outstanding groups from Lakeview, Flushing, Bridgeport and Clio. These groups have been no easy match for our outstanding bands in the past, but this year they met their match. We also won some singular awards for things like best color guard, best winds and best percusbenefit of community backing. Did I say without community backing? That cannot be. I am sure that even though there seems to be some confusion within the ranks, the community is behind these groups 100 percent.

The cost is $3.50 for advance ticket purchase and $4 at the door. These tickets can be purchased at Sideways, 505 Forest, Mary's Mix and Match Florist, 39427 Joy; and Hammell Music Inc., 331 N. Main. Our thanks to these businesses for their support.

Some 3,000 students will be competing, the best Michigan has to offer. Points are taken away for the slightest infraction, such as "out of bounds," or for playing beyond the 15-minute time limit (I can't manage that on a phone call!) One-tenth of a point is subtracted for every six seconds. Well it's a whole day of entertainment and they need our support! If you don't have the whole day, I'll give you a hint, our band will be on the field at 6:30 p.m. Try not to

Kathy Freece update next week. See

Petitioners want Pursell to fight MX About 10,000 signatures on petitions

asking for his opposition to the MX missile were delivered last week to the Plymouth office of U.S. Congressman Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth.

About 35 people from communities in the 2nd Congressional District were on hand when the petitions were handed to office personnel. They came from Adrian, Hillsdale, and Ann Arbor as well as Plymouth and Livonia.

The group had a model MX missile on display in front of Pursell's office. Seventy helium balloons were released from the mock missile. Each balloon symbolized one million of the $70.2 million in taxes that would be taken from the 2nd District if the $27 billion missile system is approve by Congress, said Johanne Fechter. She served as a representative of the Peace Center in Livonia on the Second District Emer-

to his earlier position against the first strike missile

The House Appropriations Committee, of which Pursell is a member, is expected to vote on the 1984 Defense Appropriations bill this week. Pursell has indicated he will vote for the controversial MX in committee to give President Reagan the bargaining chip he wants in his negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Members of the Second District Emergency Campaign want him to return to his opposition to the MX of a year ago, reported Fechter. At that time he said he opposed the MX on the grounds that it was not in the interest of arms control to build offensive weapons such as the MX.

Historic St. Joseph's celebrates 127 years

Historic St. Joseph's Church in down-town Detroit will celebrate 127 years with a commemorative dinner Nov. 6. The celebration coincides with the 150th anniversary of the Archdiocese Beginning as a German parish in 1856, St. Joseph's sill has strong ties to its ancestry. Every fourth Sunday of the month there is a German Mass. Accorded both city and state landmark designations, its distinctively central European Gothic structure was built in 1863. During its long history, St. Joseph operated a grade and high school across from the Eastern Market.

Featured speaker will be Msgr. Francis X. Canfield, pastor of St. Paul's in Grosse Pointe Farms. Canfield, an archdiocesan historian, will talk on "150 Years. and More."

The dinner will take place at the Sentinel Center, 2215 E. Jefferson at Chene in Detroit 3-6 p.m. Tickets are $15 per person. For information, call

Episcopals, Lutherans participate

Joint worship expresses closer unity

Two Livonia churches — one Luther-an and the other Episcopal — will hold joint worship and communion celebra-tions Sunday in accordance with a mu-tual agreement declared last year that marks the interim communion agree-ment between the two main church

Participating are Holy Trinity Lu-theran and St. Andrew Episcopal

In addition to an exchange of pas-tors, some lay people from both churches will also take part in the cele-bration.

The Rev. Kenneth Davis of St. Andrew's will preach at the 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. services at Holy Trinity and he will assist Pastor James Spilos in the celebration of the eucharist in the last SIMILARLY, PASTOR Robert Seltz of Holy Trinity will preach at the 7:45 a.m. and 10 a.m. services at St. Andrews's and assist the Rev. Gary Seymour in the last service at St. Andrews. Several lay persons from each congregation will visit the other, participating in adult discussion groups and com-munion services.

Just over a year ago, the Episcopal church and some Lutheran synods de-clared mutual agreement in their un-derstanding of the Christian gospel and sacraments. The approved sharing of programs and worship is seen as a move toward a closer expression of their unity, Spilos said.

Holy Trinity is at 39020 Five Mile. St. Andrew's is at 16360 Hubbard.

ADK is AOK with them

Ask the residents of the Livonia Opportunity House what the initials ADK stand for and they're liable to respond: apples, doughnuts and (candy) kisses. That's because mentbers of the educational sorority Alpa Delta Kappa presented the residents with those items in honor of national Alpha Delta Kappa Week. The presentation was made by Joan Ponners (second from left), Garnetta Vaughn and Emily Stankus, Tau chapter mem; bers and teachers in the Livonia school district. At the receiving end of the goodies are Donald Lowry (left) and Doros thy Grunst (right). The Plymouth church was organized in 1933 at the conclusion of a nine-week tent crusade at the corner of Starkweather and Spring streets. Starting with a nucleus of 20 people, the membership now stands at 435.

After several temporary sites, a lot at the corner of Holbrook Avenue and Pearl streets was given to the church in 1936 and a new building was erected. Additions over the years include a basement unit, parsonage and educational facilities known as New Horizons. Total acreage is now 15.9 acres.

The Rev. Carl R. Allen has been pastor since July 1976.

Nation needs a peace academy

Conflict is inevitable. It arises despite mutual interest, unity of purpose or shared goals. It is most intense and desructive when aims are the most

Many of us ignore tension or run away from conflict in a deisre for peace at any price. Just as often we turn conflict into a fight we hope to win. Everyone needs skills for coping with conflict. With methods of coping comes confidence the parties and the situation will be improved by honestly facing facts.

Several colleges and universities have programs in conflict resolution and management. Wisdom has accumlated in response to industrial tensions, international problems, and more ordinary human relations in family life. In addition to academic centers there are programs such as training people for diplomatic service. OUR WORLD can no longer afford

moral perspectives

to let insights about conflict management lie hidden in filing cabinets and dusty reports. Historians will be years finding out what really worked to end the Iranian hostage crisis or to bring Egypt and Israel to the conclusion of the Camp David accords. Is there any way to get practical use from the scat-tered libraries, research, skills and programs?

Yes. A national peace academy was proposed 28 years ago and stands a good chance of actually being born this year. Both Michigan senators and seven of our U.S. representatives are among 153 co-sponsors.

A peace academy can become a hightly repsected center for scholarship and training. People invovled in peace learning can be both a symbol and national purpose and a practical asset all through society. Imagine the visibility of peace if the academy had the finest facilities of any educational enterprise in the country.

IMAGINE alumni holding important positions all through government and pusiness of those from the war college for high ranking military officers? Teachers in all the social sciences could study at the center for wisdom about human relations.

Dreams diminish during the legislative process. Amendments reflect shortsighted concerns of current fears. In the long perspective, the peace academy could lead us beyond mere hand wringing when conventional weapons result in downing a civilian airliner and beyond standoffs regarding chemical and nuclear weaponry.

Legislators need to know our feelings when it comes to crucial funding decisions. More than that, we need to converse with each other to create a converse with each other to create a national climate giving prestige to people and programs pursuing peace. Conflict resolution and management deserves the highest priority for the sake of all aspects of our society. A national peace academy can help us live productively with inevitable conflict.

How a lady alone does it

At the Fontainebleau (sigh!) and dining alone (gasp!)

tel, a giamorous hotel on Miami Beach, but it could be any hotel anywhere in the world. If you are a vacationer or a business traveler who travels alone, you will recognize this moment, especially if you are a woman. It is time for dinner, but the dining rooms of the world don't seem to be set up for people travelling alone.

There are several eating areas in this beautiful renovated hotel - on the terrace, around the pool, in the lower lobby; discos, lobby bars, coffee shops, dining rooms. The outdoor eating places are closed now, so I really have four choices: the dining room, the disco-cum-steak house, the coffee shop, or my room.

Many single women eat alone in their room because they feel uncomfortable dining out alone, but in most cases that is a mistake — an expensive lonely mistake. The coffee shop is always safe, of course, but what if you want a nice dinner with the wine and ambience that only comes with an elegant dining room?

Most of us are experienced enough when it comes to visiting an expensive restaurant with a man or with a group of people. A thousand small fears interfere when we think of going to such a place alone. Will I feel out of place? Will I be lonely? Am I dressed right? Is it too expensive? Will I know how to order from the wine list, how to tip. . . , how to handle the maitre

1-of-a-kind traveler Iris Jones contributing travel editor

Most of these are small surface details, meaningless fears. Get over them and you will be able to enjoy the food, music, ambience, wine, service - all the things that you deserve as much as any couple or group enjoying a dining

HERE ARE A few tips. Dress up a little, in something simple enough to make you feel comfortable and dressy enough to make you feel part of the ambience of the room. A skirt and blouse, or a simple dress, with high

Don't say, "Oh well, it doesn't matter," and go in your slacks. Your goal should be to make yourself as comfortable psychologically as possible. This probably doesn't mean "dressing up to not a wedding.

Check out all the choices. The Fountainebleu has a steak-cum-bar room with booths and mirrored walls. Later in the night it will be a disco. I look in there, but I decide that I will feel more alone in that intimate, dark atmosphere than somewhere else. I can always come back if there is nothing bet-

The lobby has an open bar area where you can drink, and order small fast-food meals or appetizers while looking out the window at the view. Very tempting, but I don't really want to be alone in a lobby bar. It feels too lonely. The Dining Galleries, visible through a glass wall, tempt me, but will I be comfortable in there?

I can see the room through the glass in a flicker of lights. One step takes me to the door, where a menu is posted so I know what I am in for financially. Two steps take me to the reservation desk. I ask if I can take another four steps and see the dining room itself.

THE MAIN GALLERY is a gallery of lights, crystal chandeliers, candles, gleaming glasses and mirrors, flowers and fruit piled high on a table, lighted busts of marble and fake bronze, soft music and the quiet rumble of voices over the sound of forks and china.

Many single women eat alone in their room because they feel uncomfortable dining out alone, but in most cases that is an expensive lonely mistake.

What's really involved at this moment for most women is this: if I go in there alone, will I feel like a fool? One thing I learned long ago is that feeling like a fool, like any other minor failure, is the most painful but at least important thing that can ever happen to you in your life.

I ask for a table. One will not be available for half an hour. I sit down and order a glass of wine. That is a good idea, because suddenly I feel very comfortable and at home in this elegant dining room.

Life has so many times when you don't feel good about yourself, and a few well-deserved moments when you feel just fine. For all those moments when we are too old or too young, too fat, too unfashionable, there is another moment on the edge of a beautiful dining room, waiting to be seated.

I FEEL perfectly at home and comfortable, knowing that I am dressed appropriately in my simple dress and high-heeled shoes, that I know how to order from both the menu and the wine list and that I can enjoy and be amused by the ambience created to impress me, as well as by the black tie maitres d' hotel pacing pompously with their hands behind their backs.

I sign for the wine and leave a dollar tip as the maitre'd leads me to a table up a few stairs behind the piano and violin. At that moment, the almost predictable feeling of deflation arrives.

I am alone, a woman, and I am seated at a table for two on the narrow raised gallery next to the service table. I try not to look at the crumbs on the floor, to look instead at the violins, but I am a little angry, the glorious moment of self-esteem dulled even as I look around and realize that in this dining room there is really no other place

SINGLES are a minority. Dining rooms are set up for couples and groups. Maitre'd's and waiters are trained to be courteous and obliging, but they are also used to couples, groups, and men. Should I ask for another table? I decide that I am being paranoid and that I will enjoy my din-

Like many women, I don't always feel like a heavy meal on the road, so I order two appetizers, a dessert and half a bottle of wine. A good dining room is a sensory experience, not just the taste, but the dull roar of diners' voices, the sound of music and laughter. I was given a single rose as I entered the room. and I enjoy the texture of the rose between my fingers.

A good dining room is a sensory experience, not just the taste, but the dull roar of diners' voices, the sound of music and laughter.

When dinner is over, I pause briefly at the lounge which is now a disco. Once again, uncertainty overcomes me. I am older than the other people in the room. Will I be out of place, uncomfortable? Being socially brave is something that grows on you, however, so I sit at the bar and order a drink, just to get the feel of it.

There may still be times when I will settle for the coffee shop or room service, but my general philosophy is this: why hide in your room and let the couples have all the fun. A hotel is your home, and you can get up and go back to your bed-book-and-television set anytime you feel like it.

Close to home

This is the time of year when conservatories all over the country are in their blooming glory. But one doesn't have to go far to visit Belle Isle, the visitor should also drop in on the bird display in the Nature Center which has many scenes such as this one on the right.

Michigan travel tips

Leaf line: for fall colors

The Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association has reinstituted its "Leaf Line" telephone service which carries information on fall color changes and tours.

By calling 585-7233, travelers can secure "up-to-date information on the changing pattern of leaves in our area," said Sidney Baker, association

"We will have reports from key chamber of commerce stations around the region including Brighton, Hillsdale, Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe, Port Huron and Ypsilanti," Baker

"Fall is a beautiful time to travel — the pace is ofen less hurried and the air fresh and invigorating."

Free events book is available

The Travel and Tourst Association of Southeast Michigan has for distribution a "Fall/Winter Calender of

The six are: David Brown, Sunwoo Kang, Carolyn Kinsler, Jeffrey Stillson, Kim Towsley, and Sundeep Desai.

Of the million-plus students who took the qualifying exams in the fall of 1982, some 35,000 were commended students while another 15,000 qualified as semifinalists and will have the chance to compete for 5,300 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the spring of 1984.

Rotary honors fest chairman

The Rotary Club of Plymouth has presented its "Plymouth Pilgrim" ward to Eleanor Shevlin, president of the Fall Festival Board of Directors.

Shevlin was named recipient of the award by Rotary's Board of Directors which wanted to identify the individual who has demonstrated continuous leadrahip consistent with the goals of the Fall Festival.

For the past two years, Shevlin has directed the Plymouth Fall Festival as board president. She is the first recipient of the award given by Plymouth Rotary.

The metal figurine is a 4.5-inch tall sculpture of "Festival Johnny." The Rotary Club commissioned Plymouth artist Earl Lundine and sculptor Glenn Meadows of Art Jewellers to do the figurine

The presentation was made at the Fall Festival Board's meeting earlier this month in Plymouth City Hall.

from our readers

School strike clearly illegal

As a parent with two children in the Plymouth-Canton school district, please allow me to present my views regarding the current strike.

First, I have no quarrel with the bus drivers, maintenance workers, secre-taries and cafeteria workers. They have been working without a contract and may have valid justification for a wage increase.

This is not the case, however, with the teachers. It is my opinion that they already are being handsomely paid for their services. Please consider the following facts. Should the teachers accept the board's offer, the average teacher salary at the end of the contract would be $30,669. This translates into $22.47 per hour. At the top end of the scale, this would jump to $25.15 for teachers making the maximum salary

These excessive salaries, combined with a health care package that most people can only dream of, clearly dispels the myth of teachers being un-derpaid. Also, I suspect most readers and 182 days per year — not including sick days and personal days — required of teachers in the Plymouth-Canton school district is far from being a rigorous schedule.

Furthermore, wise people long ago recognized the need to protect the rights of the citizenry and prohibit public employees from striking. This basic tenet "Protection of the Public" is embodied both in law and in the teachers' contracts. It appears patently obvious that the teachers who voted to strike have an extremely callous disregard for the law and the parents of school children and children whose lives they are disrupting.

Clearly the intent of the teachers' union is obvious — if you can't get what you want legally, it's alright to put yourself above the laws to get what you want. Is this a lesson that we really want our children to learn from the

The big mess at John Glenn

HILE WESTLAND JOHN GLENN marches toward a Northwest Suburban League football title tomorrow night, its boys' basketball program continues to be mired in turmoil.

A labor grievance was filed last week with the Wayne-Westland School District on behalf of Dan Henry, who was dismissed from his coaching position earlier this month.

Henry, despite a 40-19 record during the past three years, was recommended not to be retained by a committee of four Wayne-Westland administrators

The committee, which interviewed three candidates including Henry, consisted of Glenn principal Tom Svitkovich, assistant principal Jim Myers, athletic director Jerry Szukaitis and Dan Slee, executive director of student relations for the Wayne-Westland schools.

A new twist to the situation cropped up Tuesday when Svitkovich, despite a pending arbitration case, said that "Mr. Gordon Davis announced to the students he will take the basketball position."

DAVIS coached Glenn for 11 seasons before retiring in 1980. Henry, who served under Davis as JV coach, was hired for the varsity coaching job by then Glenn principal John Harrison, now executive director of Adult/Community Education.

Henry, who was termed "not the best man qualified for the job," has been in the news frequently during the past few years.

He was fired in 1980 for what was termed "personality differences" at the time.

He appealed the decision to arbitration and won, giving him immediate reinstatement.

A physical education teacher at Stevenson Junior High School, the 30-year-old Henry was acquitted in August of criminal sexual misconduct charges involving a 14-year-old student. A Wayne County Circuit Court jury took only 15 minutes to return a

The charges were filed against Henry in April, but he was suspended with pay. The school board lifted his suspension after he was found innocent.

HENRY was hired as Redford Thurston's head football coach in 1980, but shortly after reneged because of "personal reasons." He served last year as an assistant coach at Garden City.

The committee decided to review Henry's contract and conduct interviews for the varsity basketball job after the 1982-83 school term.

"I had to interview for my job which is ag past practice," Henry said. "I told the union (Wayne-Westland Education Association) that it was wrong

"I went through it and I shouldn't have."

Although the WWEA recommended that Henry be interviewed, without representation, union president Bill Reece said, "It's our belief that the interview committee is not standard practice."

"The issue here is reasonable just-cause of not giving Dan the job," Reece added.

SVITKOVICH contends that "all decisions on coaching contracts are handled a little bit different.

"We hired a swim coach with a similar committee," he said. "The coaching positions are open each year and Mr. Henry is aware of it. This is not a personal issue with me - it's not a grudge under any circumstances. I categorically deny that it's a personal thing." But Henry cannot accept Svitkovich's explanation "that he's not the best qualified man for the job."

"Apparently they don't know what the word acquittal means," Henry said. "If it wasn't for the trial this wouldn't have happened.

"He tried once, and he's trying it again. "Obviously I get tired of all the battles. If you're right, you better stand up and be counted.

"I'm right for the job. SVITKOVICH said he didn't want to get into the specific reasons for Henry's firing because of the pending arbitration case.

"It was a unanimous decision," Svitkovich said. "There were no dissenters. It was a committee

Svitkovich said he has discussed the situation with Superintendent Dr. Tim Dyer. But why hasn't Dyer stepped forward to clear the

Until we know the reasons behind Henry's dismissal, whether personal or professional, then I have to assume that Henry is still the right man for the job. The community and faculty remain tight-lipped about the case.

What I know about Henry from my dealings is that he knows the game of basketball and appears to get the most out of his players. He's an intense competitor and wins.

You have to wonder why he's been reinstated as a teacher and not as a coach

AND ALTHOUGH Davis is a proven and qualified coach, his hiring seems to be ill-timed pending an arbitrator's decision.

Reece said this case is somewhat different than

Mooney, the definitive 'student-athlete'

By Chris McCosky staff writer

AGS TO RICHES. In a sense, that's the story of Paul Mooney's football ca-

In 1978, Mooney was a senior lineman for the Plymouth Canton Chiefs. The Chiefs were the doormat of the league that year, losing all nine of their

Still, Mooney managed to rise out of the mire that year to earn All-League and All-Area honors for his work on the offensive line.

Four years later, Mooney is a senior at Adrian College and is the leader of its offensive line. Adrian, in the past three years, has compiled a 24-3 record. In six games this season, the Bulldogs are 5-1. From a loser to a winner. From rags

"IT'S QUITE A change," Mooney said. "At Canton, we went into the games thinking we would try to win.

Here, we know we are going to win. There's a big difference in thinking.

"In the off season, when you are on a losing team, it's so hard to get yourself motivated to work out. But, here, you got something to look forward to. There is a goal that is obtainable and it's easier to push yourself."

His years at Canton were not, by any means, wasted. And Mooney thanks Mark LaPoint for that.

LaPoint was the offensive line coach for the Chiefs in those days. Later, he went on to be the head coach at Redford Thurston. A mild heart attack put him out of the coaching ranks prematurely two years ago.

"You asked me what I attribute my success to. Well, I've got to say Mark LaPoint. He taught me a great deal. He played center at Eastern Michigan (University) and he taught me all kinds of blocking techniques and what to expect from different defenses. He got me on a weight program and got me ready for college," Mooney said.

AFTER HIS DAYS at Canton, Mooney wondered if he'd get a chance to play college ball. He'd gotten feelers from Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference schools, from Central Michigan and from Michigan State University.

"MSU said I was technically good enough to play, but I was too small. Central said that if I worked real hard and built mysef up, I might get to play some by the time I'm a senior," the 5-11, 215-pound Mooney said.

Things looked bleak until he got a call from Adrian head coach Tom

"He said he thought I could play right away and that I'd be getting the chance to go to an excellent academic institu-tion," Mooney said. Mooney was sold.

In his freshman season, Mooney was the second-team center on a 9-0 championship Adrian team. Mooney went from 0-9 to 9-0 in one season.

AS A SOPHOMORE, Mooney played some at center and some at guard for an 8-1 team. Adrian lost to Hope in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship game that sea-

Last year, Mooney became a fixture on the Adrian offensive line.

"He's so important to our team," said Adrian head coach Ron Labadie, who replaced Heckert at the beginning of Mooney's junior year. "His experience stabilizes our line. He is responsible for calling out the defense, and we base our blocking schemes around his call. He has tremendous knowledge of the game."

Mooney made second team All-MIAA his junior year and is heading for more post-season accolades with his play in six games this season.

Mooney was at his absolute best in a game against Wooster College, Sept. 17. Labadie gave Mooney the offensivelineman-of-the-week award for completing 89 percent of his blocking as-

By driving the linebackers back, he created huge holes for our backs," Labadie said, after Adrian's 34-7 victory.

BUT, FOOTBALL IS not the only area in which Mooney shines

"Paul is a fine example of a student athlete. He has typified what Adrian College is all about. Paul has extended his athletic career by four years and has gotten a fine education as well," Labadie said.

Mooney is a business administration major at Adrian, and he has plans to go after a master's degree.

"I'm very career-oriented," said Mooney, who carries a 3.31 grade point average into his senior year. "I like to do well in class. Football is important, but I realize that there are a lot of other things I can do with my life.

"Football has taught me discipline and it has brought me to Adrian, where I've gotten an invaluable education that I might not have gotten other-

PP&K CHAMPS

Canton's six representatives brought home two first- and two second-place trophies last weekend at the 1983 Tri-County Punt, Pass and Kick finals.

Jake Baker won the 10-year-old age group with a combined score of 222 feet, four inches. That total bettered the first-place score in the 11-year-old

Craig Borowski won first place among 12-year-olds. He totaled 230

Ryan Johnson placed second among 11-year-olds, and Steve Nickerson took second among the 13-year-olds.

Tom Baker, Jake's younger brother, placed third in the 8-year-old division, and Chip Wadowski placed fourth among 9-year-olds.

SOCCER CLUB WINS

Dale Lipa broke a 2-2 tie in the second half and Rich Wilkinson scored late in the game to give the Canton Soccer Club a 4-2 victory over Garden City

The win makes Canton 2-2-2 in Great Lakes Soccer League play.

David Monk scored the first two goals for Canton. Rob Vipperman was outstanding in goal.

Soccer 'IV' all seasons comingnous

By Chris McCosky staff writer

THEN THE NAMES of Detroit Express soccer stars Brian Tinnion and Angus Moffat appear in association with a new indoor soccer facility, the most common assumption is that the players are just figureheads, there for endorsement purposes only.

But for the last two weeks Tinnion and Moffat, along with Don and Trish Meier - all partners in the IV Seasons Soccer Unlimited Corp. - have worked around the clock transforming an abandoned indoor tennis facility in Farmington Hills into what they hope will become the home of indoor soccer in Southeastern Michigan.

"I don't think I've gotten more than four hours sleep a night in the last 10 days," Tinnion said

TINNION IS the head coach and player for the Detroit Express Soccer Club. Moffat, his partner, is also a member of the Express as a player and Tinnion's assistant coach.

Both are active in the soccer community, conducting soccer clinics, referee and coaching clinics, and building youth soccer programs throughout Michigan.

"The majority of the players you see on the national 19 and 21-year-old teams are from St. Louis, where they have had youth soccer programs from some 30 years. Or they are from Cailfornia, Texas or Florida," Tinnion said.

"The key is they play soccer all year around. Their level of play is much more advanced because of that"

Thus, Tinnion, Moffat and the Meiers have been working to make soccer a year-round sport in Michigan. And, their new IV Seasons soccer facility is

MOFFAT AND TINNION will be full-time fixtures at IV Seasons. They will be on hand to provide counsel for players, coaches and referees, as well as to run the soccer operations. The facility, located in the industrial corridor behind the Farmington Hills Holiday Inn at Grand River and 10 Mile, is the only exclusively indoor soccer facility

The playing surface is a carpet similar to the one used in the the Pontiac Silverdome. It is a form of astro-turf. Plexiglass dasher boards form the perimeter of the field and tall netting encloses two-thirds of the field to keep the balls in play. It resembles an indoor hockey rink - minus the ice, of course.

The facility houses separate locker-room and shower facilities for boys and girls, as well as separate areas for players and spectators. Also, IV Seasons features a multi-purpose room in which clinics will be conducted. The room will also be used to play back videotapes of the day's games.

The primary users of IV Seasons, the Meiers said, will be youth soccer leagues. Leagues will be formed for boys and girls ages eight to 19. The leagues are divided according to age in two-year increments.

IV Seasons will run leagues in eightweek sessions, continuously throughout

"WE ARE real excited about being in this area," said Don Meier, the pricipal owner of IV Seasons. "People have just been coming out of the woodwork to help us out.

The Farmington Hills location is the second for IV Seasons. For the past 18 months. IV Seasons was located in Utica. Meier said there wasn't much support for soccer in that area.

"We just couldn't get anyone to support us out there," he said.

But, soccer is growing at a blistering pace in this region. Communities like Livonia, Plymouth, Canton, Walled Lake, Northville, Garden City, Westland and, of course, Farmington and Farmington Hills, are all strong supporters of youth soccer.

And IV Seasons hopes to accommodate all of them. "We'll take anyone and everyone from Flint to Toledo," Meier said

The first eight-week session begins Oct. 31, and Meier said the leagues are filling up.

"BECAUSE WE had such short notice, we won't have as many teams as we would like. But, the response has been very encouraging," Meier said.

The fee for each eight-week session. which amounts to eight games, is $550 per team. That breaks down to about $34.69 per player if teams carry the maximum of 16 players on their Sound expensive? Think about this: The equipment expense is minimal. All that is needed to play is shorts, a Tshirt and a pair of tennis shoes. Also, the fee per player breaks down to about $4 an hour.

RANDY BORST/staff photographe

Brian Tinnion (left) and Angus Moffat plan to bring indoor soccer to the area by the end of the month.

"It's not more than you would spend to go to the movies," Meier said.

Indoor soccer is a fast-paced, exciting game, with a lot of scoring. Because of the relatively small field (185 feet by 85 feet), all players see action and everybody gets to touch the ball. The indoor game is often compared to

"The indoor game will improve the quality of outdoor soccer in the long run," said Tinnion. "It makes you think quicker, it improves your awareness and technique, but most importantly, it helps you realize the importance of conditioning for the outdoors game." TINNION SAID indoor soccer is the soccer game of the future in America. "Because of cable television, indoor soccer is getting a lot of exposure in this country. You hardly ever get to see outdoor soccer on television," he said.

Meier expects IV Seasons to be the catalyst for the growth of both indoor and outdoor soccer in Michigan.

"I have been working with the soccer community for two years now, and with Brian and Gus in the organization, we have a management time that is as good or probably better than any other," he said.

IV Seasons is not only for the serious soccer player. They are in the process of organizing co-ed, over-35, industrial and other "fun" leagues through the Farmington Hills Parks and Recreation Department. Teams or individuals can register for IV Seasons soccer action by calling

S'craft tops OU for title

Close margin or wide, to come from behind or lead all the way, a win is a win. And winning was all that really mattered for Schoolcraft College Saturday in the six-team volleyball tournament it hosted.

Schoolcraft battled from behind constantly but emerged a winner, toppling Oakland University in the finals, 15-12, 5-15, 15-12.

"We played the last half of all the games very well," said Schoolcraft coach Joe Jandasek. "We started slow all day long. I really can't totally explain it. We evidently don't play well until the ad-renalin gets going. "I told them they don't play well until someone has them by the throat. Maybe that's what I should try — grabbing them by the throat.

THE OCELOTS struggled through pool play, winning four games by two point margins and los-ing to OU, 15-7. OU was unbeaten in five games in the University of Windsor. Schoolcraft dropped the opening game, 15-12, but won the next two by 15-10 margins.

The Ocelots qualified for the semifinals opposite

OU faced Kalamazoo Valley Community College (KVCC) in the other semifinal. It took the Pioneers three games but they emerged as winners, 15-7, 11-15, 15-12, Jandasek was pleased with Livonia Churchill grad Beth Wesman's all around play throughout the tournament, Tina Boll's solid setting, Plymouth Canton grad Missy McMurray's defense and hitting and Karen Lamb's strong blocking at the net.

LAST THURSDAY, OU won its third straight match by defeating Spring Arbor, 15-5, 10-15, 15-10, 15-9, at OU. The Pioneers have two key Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference matches this week, both at OU. They host Grand Valley Friday at 7 p.m. and Ferris State Saturday at 1 p.m.

Selectors learn from mistakes

By Brad Emons and Chris McCosky staff writers

Two valuable lessons were learned last weekend.

One prep football prognosticator knows better. He'll never bet against Farmington Harrison again. Was the score really 31-0?

The other guy, meanwhile, must go with his head instead of his heart.

Emons, despite the Harrison debacle, went 10-2 to increase his season record

McCosky was 7-5 and now trails by six games with a 46-28 mark.

This week there are several key games, including the Redford Bishop Borgess-Warren DeLaSalle and Plymouth Salem-Walled Lake Central

We promise to learn our lessons well

FARMINGTON at LIVONIA BENT-LEY (7:30 p.m. Friday). Both teams, beaten soundly last week, are trying to keep out of the basement of the Lakes

Is the home field an advantage? PICKS — It's a unanimous choice here - Bentley wins.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN at WEST-LAND JOHN GLENN (7:30 p.m. Friday). Glenn's defense saved the day in a 6-0 win last week over North Farming-

Franklin, meanwhile, is struggling both offensively and defensively.

The Rockets can win the league outright. PICKS - Congratulations

LIVONIA STEVENSON at PLYM-OUTH CANTON (7:30 p.m. Friday). The Spartans' Dan Gilmartin is closing in on the 1,000-yard passing mark.
His receiver, Rick Rozman, is close

grid predictions

to breaking the school record for recep-

What can Canton do? PICKS - Ste venson goes to 5-2.

NORTH FARMINGTON at GAR-DEN CITY (7:30 p.m. Friday). The Raiders are better than their 3-3 record indicates.

Garden City, meanwhile, is taking its pulse after beating Thurston in over-time last week. PICKS — North beats GC and the .500 mark.

PLYMOUTH SALEM at WALLED LAKE CENTRAL (7:30 p.m. Friday). Who gets to meet Farmington Harrison for the Western Lakes championship?

Salem seems to be getting stronger, while Central could still be in shock after losing for the first time, a 31-0 drubbing at the hands of the Hawks. PICKS - It's unanimous, Salem gets the bouquet.

DETROIT COUNTRY DAY at CLARENCEVILLE (7:30 p.m. Friday). The Trojans have a chance to gain a share of the Metro Conference title with a victory.

But Country Day is 5-1, coming off a 71-0 victory over Grosse Pointe Liggett as Brian Stevenson scored three TDs, rushing only four times for 74 yards.

The competition, however, should be stronger this week. PICKS — Country Day gets the nod twice.

REDFORD UNION at REDFORD THURSTON (2 p.m. Saturday). RU seems to be getting untracked finally, while Thurston continues to amaze the skeptics.

This backyard rivalry could be closer than expected. RU likes only to run. and that should give Thurston's secondary a break. PICKS — RU makes it three straight.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL at FARM. LIVONIA CHURCHILL at FARM, INGTON HARRISON (2 p.m. Saturday). The Hawks are hurting with John Miller (knee) and Bob Wasczenski (ribs) nursing injuries.

Coach John Herrington said Wasczenski is likely to play, but Miller's status will be determined on game

Can Churchill come up with another performance like it did against Salem? Junior quarterback John Stoitsiadis is the key. PICKS — Harrison makes it 30 straight, both agree.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL AT HARPER WOODS NOTRE DAME (2 p.m. Saturday). The Shamrocks lost a heartbreaker last week to Rice, but should raise its record to 4-3 this week. PICKS - CC takes a joy ride.

BISHOP BORGESS VS. WARREN DeLaSALLE (2 p.m. Saturday at Roseville Memorial). Another acid test for the unbeaten Spartans, who came up flat last week despite a 16-10 victory over Gallagher.

Borgess must eliminate the mistakes, keep its opponent honest by passing and move the ball. DeLaSalle, 5-1, is long on defense, but short on offense. PICKS — Emons likes Borgess in overtime, while McCosky takes DeLaSalle.

ST. AGATHA vs. ORCHARD LAKE ST. MARY'S (7:30 p.m. Saturday at RU's Kraft Field). The young Aggies play in one of the toughest C-D leagues in the state.

Orchard Lake is hot and going for the Catholic League's C Bracket title after scoring a victory two weeks ago over Pontiac Catholic. PICKS - OLSM takes another step toward the playoffs.

Warrants can enlarge your profits — and losses

The topic of warrants became popular when the U.S.Treasury put up 14.4 million Chrysler Corp. warrants for auction.

A warrant entitles its owner to buy a specified number of shares of stock of the issuing company at a stated price for a given period of time, usually several years.

In the case of Chrysler, each warrant being auctioned entitles the holder to buy one share of Chrysler common stock for $13 until 1990. In addition, Chrysler has outstanding warrants exercisable at $13 per share until Dec. 1, 1983.

SINCE CHRYSLER common stock was trading at around $30 and the warrants at around $17 when the warrants were issued in September, it would appear to make little difference whether an investor bought the stock or paid $17 for the warrants. But the consequences could be quite different because the warrants offer leverage.

If an investor thought Chrysler shares would go up, he or she might speculate by buying the warrants. Because of the conversion feature, the warrants will go up more or less dollar for dollar with the stock prices, but the warrants, on average, would cost $13

Thus, if Chrysler stock were to rise again to its 1983 high of 35%, the warrants likely would go up to their high of 23½. In this case, stock acquired at 30

finances and you

would show a paper gain of nearly 19 percent. But warrants bought at 17 might show a gain of 38 percent — or perhaps more — since warrants tend to go to premium over conversion value in rising markets.

THE DOWNSIDE risk of buying warrants should, however, not be lost sight of.

For example, if Chrysler stock were to go down, the leverage would work the other way. If the stock declined from 30 to 25, shareholders would have a paper loss of 17 percent.

However, the owners of the warrants likely would see their investment go down by at least 5 points from the price of $17, giving owners a paper loss of 29 percent. And the decline might be even greater, since warrants usually sell at a discount from conversion value in falling markets.

There are other speculative elements in owning warrants. They pay no dividends. Furthermore, they usually come into being when a firm is in some kind of financial trouble.

Typically, a company in disfavor, and selling stock or bonds to raise capital might give prospective buyers warrants as a sweetner on the deal.

So the main thing to remember about warrants is that they are more speculative than stocks, which, in these days of

Selling short can be risky

I have never sold a stock short, but a friend of mine has been advising me to sell Deta General short. He points out that the company, while a good one, is selling at 70 times earnings and that with the slighest problem, people will start selling it, and the price will go

He feels that the computer market is in temporary chaos, and that a sell-off is sure to take place sometime soon.

The thinking of your friend sounds good enough, but I would always hesitate to sell a stock short. Selling a stock short, to me, is just about the biggest gamble you can take.

There, theoretically, is no limit to the amount you can lose, and I have seen a number of individuals caught in what they thought were sure bets that went the other way, and cost them tens of thousands of dollars.

The fact that Data General is selling at 70 times earnings certainly would suggest that it might be considered for short sale, as your friend reasons. You make money on a short sale by borrowing a stock and selling it with the hope its price will fall quite a bit, and you can buy it back at a lower price and replace the stock you have

ANY TIME A STOCK is selling at 70 times earnings, and the market generally is selling about 10-11 times earntoday's investor Thomas E. O'Hara of the National Association of Investment Clubs ings, there is a good likelihood that if the company experiences any prob-lems, its price will fall.

I'm not so sure the current problems in the computer market will be very hard on Data General. The problems seem to be in the smaller personal computer end of the market. Data General has some very large capacity ma-

In fact, just a few days ago, there was more speculation in the company's stock, and it went up several dollars. The speculation occurred as the result of a story one security analyst put out that the company would soon announce a new model that would have twice the capacity of one of IBM's bigger models and sell for a fraction of the price.

THE COMPANY SEEMS to have denied that story, but if it should prove to be true, there would be a fresh burst of speculation in Data General, and its stock would go up. If you had made a short sale, your ulcers would give you a lot of trouble

Short sales are stictly for the very experienced and well informed specu-

Mealtime bargain is Sunday brunch

By Ethel Simmons staff writer

NE OF THE BEST bargains around when it comes to restaurant meals is Sunday brunch, that big, glorious ast often combining breakfast favors with luncheon specialties, drinks

Most restaurants offer brunch bufet-style, where you can serve yourself d go back for more. Usually the ates you fill with fresh fruit, breads, lad and side dishes, cold and hot enes amply satisfy your appetite the

But if there's something you especially like, you can always take secds. People generally manage to save om for a dessert or two - perhaps bree, if the sweets are small.

leisurely brunch starts out with fruit juice, or a cocktail - perhaps a champagne cocktail, a chamone split, a cold duck that blends ampagne with sparkling burgundy, a mimosa (champagne with orange uice), or bloody mary.

BRUNCH DEVOTEES rate the spread according to its complexity, as well as taste. A brunch leaning heavily on sausage, scrambled eggs, hash browns, muffins and toast can best be described as basic. A chef making omelets to order, or pancakes as you like them (with or without blueberries) upgrades the brunch, as does a chef carving a ham or roast beef.

Dishes in delicate cream sauces can make a scrumptious difference. People who love bagels, cream cheese and lox don't consider it a real brunch or even Sunday without these partners.

Smoked fish should be on the menu, and eggs benedict and blintzes topped with berries are a must for a goodly

There are the real gourmet dishes, too - things like little chops that you eat with your fingers, for example.

Besides the food, other touches are important. An extra attraction like entertainment turns the brunch into a

Here are just a few of the places where Sunday brunch is served. Most require reservations.

 MICHIGAN INN, 16400 J.L. Hudson Drive, Southfield. Phone 559-6500. The hotel's new "1920s Big City Brunch" features Doug Jacobs and the Red Garter Band. At a bandstand, complete with a cardboard cutout of an oldtime automobile, Jacobs and his gang plays nostalgic tunes. The hotel's Coffee Garden, plus the lobby area, is used for the brunch setting, which includes a lavish buffet. Baskets of fruits and vegetables surround the buffet table, to resemble a city-street market. Soup, marinated salad, cold shrimp, bagels and lox, pate, blintzes, crepes, eggs, carved ham and roast beef are among the multitude of dishes. Hours 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Prices $9.95 for adults, $7.95 for senior citizens and $5.25 for children under 12.

• HOTEL ST. REGIS, 3071 W. Grand Blvd., Detroit. Phone 873-3000. New "English Hunt Club Sunday Brunch" in European hotel atmosphere offers omelettes to order, a rotating menu of egg dishes including Eggs Sardou and Eggs Florentine, Steamship Round of Beef and English breakfast specialties. The latter includes kedgeree (rice with seafood), Scot's porridge (oatmeal with cinnamon, brown sugar and butter), and kippered herring. Music by George Nichols at the piano drifts into the intimate rooms where diners are seated. Following brunch, complimentary stirrup cups of mulled wine are served after noon. Hours 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Prices $8.95 for adults, children under 12 free.

· WESTWORLD, 7300 N. Merriman, Westland. Phone 422-3440. Upstairs banquet rooms at family recreation center (formerly Hawthorn Valley Country Club) are where the brunch is centered. One buffet table has 18 hot entrees, and there's also a salad and soup table and a dessert table. Dishes include carved beef and ham, seafood, Western eggs (omelet with green pepper and onion), scrambled eggs, bacon, Polish sausage, sauerkraut, corn bread, fried potatoes, mashed potatoes, vegetables and gravy. The menu varies weekly with such selections as spinach pie. Westworld has been offering brunch since April and serves about 200 persons each Sunday. Hours 10 a.m.

to 2:30 p.m. Prices $6.95 for adults,

$4.95 for children 12 and under.

• THE RHINOCEROS, 265 Ricepelle at Franklin, Detroit. Phone 259-2208. Restaurant with New York elegance backdrops this brunch, which offers one of six entrees, served from the menu. Oeufs Banville (poached eggs in artichokes and hollandaise), smoked salmon ornelet with sour cream and potatoes lyonaise, and pecan crepes with banana and lemon cream and maple sugar are some choices. Other selections feature chicken ka-bobs, American steak and lemon sole. Hours 11:30 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. Fresh fruit and breads and one cocktail are included for $8.95, with unlimited cocktails $12.95.

• THE INCREDIBLE EDIBLES Food and Spirits, 31231 Southfield north of 13 Mile, Beverly Hills. Informal shopping-center restaurant has 40foot-long buffet table for Sunday brunch. Chef makes omelets. Diners also may nibble on wing dings, riblets (barbecue ribs), sausage, bacon, ham, scrambled eggs, bagels, toast, English muffins and pastry. Fresh fruit juices are served from a watermelon. Hours 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Prices $4.95 for adults, $3 for children under 12.

 HOLIDAY INN — Livonia West, Six Mile and I-275. Phone 464-1300. Free champagne is served from noon to 2 p.m. along with brunch at this striking contemporary-exterior inn. The buffet is set in the Holidome area and diners bring their filled platters to the French Colony or Plantation Cafe dining rooms for seating. The elaborate buffet is emphasized with an ice sculpture. Among dishes are eggs benedict, seafood newburg, beef tips, a side of beef and sliced ham. Hours 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Prices $9.25 for adults, $8.25 for senior citizens, $3.95 for children under • ALDEN'S ALLEY, 312 S. Main, Royal Oak. Phone 545-5000. Salmon, shrimp, herring, mussels, oysters and clams are some of the delights at the seafood bar. A chef cuts roast rib eye of beef and cooks omelets to order, at the buffet table. Belgian waffles and cheese blintzes are more bufffet-table offerings. There's a separate fruit and dessert table. Diners may be seated in a semi-outdoor setting when cold weather eliminates tables outside the restaurant. Hours 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Prices $8.95 for adults, $4.95 for children under 12.

• KINGSLEY INN, 1475 Woodward, Bloomfield Hills. Phone 644-1400. Brunch served in the inn's elegant dining rooms has been around a long time. Crepes, salads, bagels and cream cheese, chicken, cabbage rolls, beef stroganoff and fish dishes are on the menu. The Kingsley has its own bake shop and the buffet may include homemade peach cobbler and French pastries. Because the Kingsley runs chartered buses to all Lions and Michigan Panthers home games at the Silverdome, many sports fans turn out for brunch. Hours 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Prices $7.35 for adults, $4.95 for ages

• TOPINKA'S COUNTRY HOUSE, 24010 W. 7 Mile Road at Telegraph Road, Detroit. Phone 531-9000. The champagne brunch includes a free glass of champagne. A full table of fresh fruits is available. Salads, grapes and juices are served. Cold fish featured are four kinds of herring and three kinds of sardines. There are

special writer

The Spotlight Players production of You Can't Take It With You" is enchanting. The players pooled all resources to present an evening of won-derful entertainment. You'll leave the theater feeling warm all over.

The Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman comedy is, in itself, an American classic. It's the story of the lovably crazy Sycamore family and its equally lov-able and zany tenants.

The family's philosophy is that, above all else in life, one should be happy. These non-conformists believe that nothing as dreary as financial obligations should waylay anyone from pursuing that which interests him or her most. The Sycamores' interests, howver, range from snake collecting to ballet to the manufacture of fireworks.

The play offers a hilarious array of idiosyncratic characters to challenge the acting talents of any theater group. The Spotlight Players rises to this challenge with enthusiasm. Its final product is really first rate.

BETTY GODDARD is simply excellent in her portrayal of Penny Sycamore, the cheerful mother who writes off-the-wall plays. Goddard's comedic timing is exceptional. Besides her talent, she has a laugh so delightful that by itself it's worth the price of a ticket.

Rik Kureth is another outstanding member of the cast. He portrays Grandpa, the family patriarch and ori-ginator of the family philosophy to pursue happiness. Despite his own wacky hobbies (snake collecting and attending high school commencements), he is the family's stablizing force.

Kureth is wonderful in this role. He is an experienced actor with a commanding stage presence. Rik is a pleasure to watch.

Joseph Haynes' performance as Mr. DePinna is a lesson to any actor on just how much can be done with a small role to complement a production. Mr. DePinna is a balding, lovable neurotic who acts as Mr. Sycamore's assistant in the fireworks enterprise.

'Haynes' portrayal is great. He is warm, funny and genuine. You can't get enough of him.

OTHER OUTSTANDING performances are given by Bob Walker and Helen DiJiulio. They portray stuffy, affluent conservatives who come on the wrong night to meet the family of their son's potential bride. Hilarious reactions are given by Walker and Di Vivil tions are given by Walker and DiJiulio to the extraordinary Sycamores. Their performances are spontaneous and convincing

The entire cast is really top drawer. Everyone emits an enthusiasm that is contagious. It's great fun seeing a cast enjoy itself as much as this one does.

And believe it or not, this production is just as sound technically as it is artistically. The set is exceptional. Congratulations to Bob Walker for designing a convincing living room of the

It is pleasing to look at and allows room for crazy hobbies and lots of action. Gail Susan Mack has created lighting effects that are near-profes-

The special effects needed for firecrackers are believable and dependable. And lastly the house music is upbeat, representative of the era and a fine finishing touch.

COSTUMES DO have to be mentioned. They are the weakest aspect of the entire production. Some costumes clearly indicate the 1930s as the time in which the action is taking place. Other costumes are obviously pulled from the closets of the '80s. The inconsistency is unfortunate. It detracts from the overall quality of the play.

What Carla Lenhoff has accomplished in her first effort at directing a full-length production is remarkable. She has coordinated and directed some fine talent and has created magic.

Her interpretation of the play-wrights' intent is exact. Her casting is near perfect. There are moments when blocking is weak. Important dialogue is occasionally upstaged. But experience is the best teacher. With this production, Lenhoff demonstrates tremendous Folks, this production is a gem. It's warm, funny and downright charming. Go see for yourselves. It's a great night of theater that shouldn't be missed.

The play offers a hilarious array of idiosyncratic characters to challenge the acting talents of any theater group. The Spotlight Players rises to this challenge with enthusiasm.

A recent progam of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra featured Hungarian-born conductor Ivan Fischer and German-born pianist Heidrun Holtmann. Both of them made their debut in this country last Thursday. At least, this is true if one doesn't count Fischer's unscheduled and unexpected role n the opening concert of the Renaissance Concerts series (see separate review).

Maestro Fischer, 32, is having an active conducting career in England and is currently one of the joint directors of the Northern Sinfonia Orchestra.

Holtmann, 22, won the Geza Anda competition in Zurich last year. One of the judges on the panel was Maestro Antal Dorati.

The talent exhibited by both artists was very impressive, and not without some controversial elements, at least on the part of the conductor.

The program consisted of works by Webern, Mozart and Mendelssohn. The short opening selection was Webern's composition, Six Pieces for Orchestra. Webern, who was a disciple of Schoenberg, was one of the pioneers of atonality and the twelve-tone system.

THESE SHORT pieces are characterized by tone-color sequences, rather than melodic lines. Here, Fischer demonstrated great skill and ability in mastering the complicated combinations of sound and involved rhythms. This composition was composed in 1909, when Mahler was still alive, but is considered very modern even by today's standards. It is still beyond my understanding and acceptance, howevtouchy issue. Some compromises are inevitable.

The type of piano known to Mozart was a rather weak instrument and would be inadequate in a modern concert hall. However, even without reading Mozart's mind, orchestral dimensions of the type used in this performance were unknown during his time.

While the K. 482 is one of Mozart's more forceful works, it shouldn't sound like Beethoven's Emperor Concerto. The orchestral forces were managed with skill and expertise, but the net effect still undermined severely the fine structure of this composition. In particular, the ending of the second movement, which is one of Mozart's most intimate passages, evoked the feeling of gross intrusion.

THE MOST satisfying performance was that of Mendelssohn's Italian Symphony (No. 4). Some reduction of the orchestra was definitely a step in the right direction. While I still found the first movement somewhat overblown, the rest was a good reflecton of Mendelssohn's style, in particular the last two movements.

The lyric third movement portrayed the rare singing quality, and the fanfares in the Trio were superb. The final movement was sparkling and shining, without compromising its cheerful characteristic.

In this evening's performance, Maestro Fischer displayed an impressive ability for mastering the orchestral forces and molding them according to his will, even though the ends might not be always agreeable.

Fischer is scheduled to be the guest conductor this week as well. The program consists of works by Schubert, Gliere, Stravinsky and Kodaly. The rarely performed horn concerto by Gliere will have its premier with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra on this pro-

The best thing about Friday night's opener "La Traviata" by the Michigan Opera Theater (MOT) at Music Hall Center was that I had tickets for Saturday evening also.

MOT's cast of Metropolitan Opera star Benita Valente as Violetta and Rico Serbo as Alfredo turned out to be a stalwart performance by two "indisposed" singers.

MOT General Director David DiChiera announced that fact after the second act, over the objections of both. Valente's voice had clarity, grace and solid con-

The stage is set for theater workshops

By Mary Klemic staff writer

With the pulling of a curtain or the switching on of a light, Robert Oris can put you on a busy city street in the United States, or in a professor's library in Eng-

Oris isn't a magician but an instructor of technical theater at Dearborn's Henry Ford Community College. And he has helped many a community theater group with their productions of almost anything from "West Side Story" to "Chicago."

Theater groups often think their sets have to be realistic in every detail, said Oris, a Dearborn Heights resident.

"People too often tend to take a very literal approach to it," Oris said. "They think they have to have an actual window or actual doors on stage. Our approach is how much you can fake on stage.

ORIS WILL teach at a free set construction workshop, to be presented by the Theater Guild of Livonia-Redford, starting Monday through Saturday, Nov. 12. The workshop will include set construction Oct. 24-29, and set painting and decorating Nov. 10-12. It will feature basic techniques in cutting corners in scenery construction, such as measuring, cutting and fitting.

Theater sets can be constructed to resemble real life, or they can suggest a different time and place, according to Oris.

For a local production of the play "Chicago," set in that city some 60 years ago, Oris is preparing a backdrop that consists of enlargements of photos from the 1920s that were given an antique, sepia tint.

"It will be a collage of photographs across the back," Oris said. "It will give the atmosphere of Chicago in the '20s."

The Broadway musical "Evita" used a similar technique, he explained. In "Evita," a collage of pictures from Evita Peron's life served as a backdrop.

SCENERY CHANGES can be made quickly through the use of "revolves," in which wagons bring the scenes on stage. While the actors perform on the set facing the audience, stagehands prepare the next scene behind it. The set is then turned so the second scene faces the audience.

"Flippers" can change a set by adding or removing an object. For example, Oris said that productions of "The Sound of Music" have turned a ballroom into a bedroom just by bringing a bed on stage.

You can go toward the symbolic," he said. "If you have something that gives you the feeling of a kitchen, you don't need the

The amount of money a local theater group spends on its sets can vary according to the theater and the budget. Oris said.

You can do shows on very, very small budgets," he said. "It depends on what you're doing with the sets. The average show usually spends $150 on materials for the set. There have been shows that spent as much as $5,000 on the set."

ORIS HAS noticed changes in theater sets in the 28 years he has been teaching and the 30 years he has been directing pro-

"They're much less literal," he said. "You used to have four, six, seven big sets for a play. Now you might have a curtain thrown

"There have been big musicals that had a single set," he said. "For 'Pippin' there was almost a bare stage throughout. More and more, they're using actors to decorate the set and are keeping away from walls."

A PLAY may not need elaborate scenery if the story itself is strong enough to carry the audience, Oris said. He cites the recent play "Agnes of God," which took place in the anteroom of a convent, as an example. The set for this play consisted of a plain wooden desk chair, a metal ashtray, a table

"That's all you needed," Oris said. "There were no walls or windows, and it didn't bother the audience.

The sets for the different scenes in a play hould be consistent. Oris advised. "If you have one elaborate scene, you can't skimp on the others," he said. Local productions have to watch costs and deadlines.

"With professionals, it's no problem," Oris said. "You say, 'I need that set at this time' and it's there. But here (locally), you're dealing with people who work days or nights. They might be able to make a meeting one day but not another."

Participants in Oris' upcoming workshop won't have to attend every session. The classes will be held at the Theater Guild Five Mile in Redford. For registration in-

Fascinating is a good word. Did you ever enjoy standing at a state fair or mall show and watch an artist draw another person's portrait? Well, it is just about the same with the airbrush.

You rarely touch the board or canvas you are working on and it seems as if you are merely watching as you, the artist, airbrush in subtle shades, colors and tints. Nothing can compare to the effects and shear pleasure one can gain from a good airbrush in competent

Well, first the tip clogged (of course) so I patiently sprayed the can upside down to clear the tip of the spray head as not recommended on the label. Upon pulling the pin out, a long squirt of paint shot across my shirt and unto our w washer, dryer and white tile floor.

In frustration I threw the can on the back porch and would you believe it hit down on the spray head and shot black on our then-yellow siding on the house. I then picked up that can of paint ant threw it in the garage to get rid of it and it came to rest on my sister-inlaw's pecan table that was in storage. There it silently oozed paint. So much

Lightly push it forward as you spin the reamer between your finger tips. Be careful to keep your airbrush rightside up or the finger button will fall out. Usually this one-minute cleaning will return your airbrush to working order. But be sure to give it a good cleaning before it's next use

Here are some basic tips I have learned over the past few years. Remember there are two ways to learn lessons. The hard way is to make mistakes yourself, and the easy way is to learn from the mistakes of others.

ALWAYS REMEMBER to use a hanger to hold your airbrush. This will prevent damage from the airbrush hitting the floor. Also be sure to check the stipple adjusting screw - often it works it's way loose. Located under the finger button, it's purpose is to restrict you from fully depressing the button which reduces the air pressure.

The loss in air pressure causes the paint to spray out in large and irregular dot patterns. When turned down (so that it will not touch the finger button) you should have a full air pressure, which is about 30 psi. If your spray still has large dot patterns, then your paint needs to be thinned.

If you still have large dot patterns then your tip is dirty and needs a reamer or a good cleaning. One very common problem with dual action airbrushes is when you have paint spraying without pulling the button back.

First you should check the adjusting wheel (or screw) in front of the finger

Often this has worked its way around a few times in handling and has forced the finger button back. This in turn allows paint to come out even when you are not pulling the button back. This little wheel (or screw) can however be

If you are trying to paint a small restricted area or a straight line and have a fear of pulling the button back too much, simply adjust for the line width with this adjustment and merely depress the button. The other reason for paint without pulling the button bake is the compression nut, which is inside the handle has loosened.

With all the backward and forward motion, it is understandable that this nut could loosen slightly enough to allow the needle to back up which, in turn, allows the flow of paint. To fix this merely loosen the compression nut, then push the neelde forward till it fits snuggly into the tip.

ANOTHER PROBLEM is the tip can become out of the round so much so that it does not seal properly around the needle. This allows paint to seep out and form on the tip. Then when you depress the button you are surprised to see paint spitting off the tip of your air-

Another big problem is that people forget to check the color cup, which often works it's way loose and falls off the airbrush. This messy accident can be remedied by simply twisting a rubberband around the tip and around the bottom of the cup.

A few weeks ago, I had my new jeans and my new, white glow-in-the-dark canvas shoes on, all ready to go teach my class. Then I said to one of my students, "Here, Mike, let me show you how to airbrush that," and as soon as the brush was in my hand, the color cup, full of black ink, fell off the airbrush and onto me.

Mike insisted it was my fault and I insisted it was his. But since I am the one writing this column, I would like to officially state that without a doubt it was Mike's fault. So there.

Just as I promised I will end this brief rundown on airbrushing but there is so much to cover that I will continue this in some future Artifacts installa-

Remember also that my recommendation os Paasche was based on performance, availability and economy. All "slow feed" fine airburshes are great, as are multipurpose and bottom line models. It is my opinion, however, that the same quality is sweeter if it is at an affordable price. With the money I saved, I can buy another pair of jeans

ARTFULL HINT: For the best results always airbrush at a perpendicular to your artwork. This reduces over spray and shows less of the tooth of the and white canvas shoes.

Q: How do you cut smooth friskets? Mine look like I cut them out with scissors.

A: Their are very affordable swivel razor knives by Xacto which reduce the angular look to the cut edge. But I am used to merely rotating the knife between the thumb and fingers. Simply rotate the knife in the direction you would like to cut and you will be surprised how smooth your edge will become It takes practice, like anything else.

Planting seeds of horticulture early

A person doesn't have to be a horti-culturist to enjoy a landscape job well done, especially when young people are involved with fine direction from an ecologist on the facility.

I visited at Detroit Country Day School on about 40 acres at the southwest corner of 13 Mile Road and Laboer, Beverty Hills.

The school has celebrated its 50th anniversary and its fine pattern of education was directed for many years by F. Alden Shaw, who took an active sterest in the school into his 90s. The athletic field was named for him. The field was dug out in 1964.

The excellent condition of the grounds and the countless areas of outy could be due in part to the dedication of Randy Raymond. He is about to get his doctorate in plant ecology from the University of Michi-

THIS FINE teacher said that while he is team working with his students toward an appreciation of nature, he gets to know them and understand their attitudes about life.

An important part of this educa-tional approach has been the making and development of a Fitness and Na-ture Center. It is an area of closely knit wild growth. The students made bridges over streams and generous paths over rolling land, covered with wood chips to absorb the moisture after a rain or snow. There are many designated study spots where they have watched the birds try to control their individual territories.

There are deer and other animals to observe. The prime goal has been to study the character of a woods and learn how to respect it. The site has

As you stroll around the grounds you admire the many, many flower beds which surround the buildings. A great deal of the work has been done by the students. Red burning bushes are prominent in the landscaping. There are 7,000 spring bulbs to be planted by the students. In his classes, Raymond plans to teach the students how to hybridize roses.

UPON completion of the walk the suggestion was accepted that Country Day would welcome program-tours by garden clubs with inquiry made to Connie Bearden.

It is amazing how many young peo-ple find gardening enjoyable after they've had academic instruction in their school years. Your column can attest to the benefits as seen in many young people.

On Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 29-30, the Michigan Regional Lily Soci-ety will have its annual bulb sale at Tel-Tweive Mall. This is a good opportunity for fanciers to order the best for their 1984 gardens at this time. The costs are reasonable.

Some gardens have a collection of gourds. They are ready to harvest when the shell is so hard that you can't easily dent it with your finger-

Rose fanciers are indebted to the All American Rose Selections for supervising the development of out-standing roses and their introduction each year. At least 5,000 years ago in China there were roses. Plant genetics is responsible for the fine specimens we see on the market today.

INTEREST RATES GO DOWN

Still waiting for interest rates to go down before buying a home?

Do you still think that waiting will save you money? Two years from non-the home your looking at will cost on more in monthly payments even if the interest rates drop TWO percent. For an example, take a home that cost $*0.000. With 20% down paynow costs $81.648. If interest rates decrease to 1.2%, your down payment would be $2550 more and your monthly payment would be up to $671.8°. It is obvious that the biggest impact on your monthly payments is not the interest rate ' but rather the overall value of the home. Since the indicators are showing property values increasing, the point being made here is 'Buy Now or Pay More I area.

Capture the golden days of autumn on film

We all had a terrific summer full of hot days, warm evenings, plenty of beach and sun. And we kind of hate to see it go.

Bût there is something exciting to look forward to - the fall season. For seldom is there a better time of year for photography. Fall is truly a color spectacle, a painter's palette and you with your camera become the artist.

Fall offers an abundance of picturetaking opportunities. And you don't have to venture far from home either. Fall colors can be found everywhere as they creep gently southward. Close to southeastern Michigan are miles of lovely roads and trails that display rainbows of vibrant hues.

Here are some tips on how you can get better fall pictures:

• Time of day to shoot? Morning or afternoon. These times will produce maximum shadows and texture and will make your shots look more "alive."

Try to position yourself to get back or side lighting.

· Lens to use? Whatever suits you best, keeping in mind that a wide angle lens gives you a greater expanse in your shot, whereas a telephoto will 'move you in close" to isolate one particular tree or capture a splash of color in a cluster of fallen leaves. With your macro lens or close-up filters, you can highlight the veins in an individual leaf or detail any other intimate subject.

• Film to use? Slide film will produce the most vivid colors. Use the film of your choice setting the ASA about 1/4 to 1/2 stop higher than recommended by the film manufacturer. Doing this will increase color saturation.

For you black-and-white lovers, don't think the fall color change won't give you pleasing results. Under an overcast sky, the contrasts and tones of fall colors will produce very exciting

photography Monte Nagler

black and white photographs usually with a full tonal range.

• Any filters? Yes. Try using a polarizer filter to darken a blue sky and enhance colors even further.

Follow good rules of composition in your fall photography. Place the main subject slightly off center to make your image look more dynamic. "Frame" your pictures with overhanging brances or other foliage. Use roads, streams and fences to your advantage as "lead-in" lines.

Be aware of other fall picture -aking opportunities. It's football season and exciting action shots await your camera. Cider mills are in full operation and are inviting subjects for your cam-

Halloween is just around the corner with all of its picture potential. Patches of pumpkins and the kids in their costumes will produce memorable photos for your album. Turn on your photographic vision on a quiet drive through the country and you'll be pleasantly surprised at all the picture opportunities you'll see.

Let you and your camera fall into step with fall. You'll be glad you did.

₱ 1983, Monte Nagler
