Teachers' vote might bring labor pea

staff writer

Teachers will be voting tomorrow on an historic wage agreement that, if signed, heralds labor peace among teachers in the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools until 1986.

A tentative one-year extension of the present two-year contract was reached Wednesday between the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education and the Plymouth-Canton Education Associa-

The two sides negotiated one week before reaching the tentative agree- in Wayne County's fourth largest school ment, which extends the teachers' contract through the 1985-86 school year.

The agreement includes all provisions of the present two-year contract and a school calendar similar to the 1984-85 school year.

The quick, quiet negotiations and agreement contrast sharply with talks which took place last October between the board, teachers and districtwide support personnel. Wage negotiations for six school unions broke down Sept. 30, leading to a divisive 21-day-strike

district

WEDNESDAY'S agreement is for PCEA members only

Superintendent John Hoben said the board is now in the process of opening talks with the other five unions.

"We anticipate doing this with the other unions and are now starting negotiations with them," Hoben said. "We assume there's an interest on their part to have a contract extension."

Thomas Cotner, PCEA chief negotiator, called the tentative agreement his-

"This is the first time in the history of bargaining in our district where both sides have been able to reach agree-ment this early," Cotner said. "We would like to give credit to both the administration and the Board of Education for their foresight in reaching an equitable agreement at this time." Board President Glenn Schroeder said he was pleased with the tentative agreement.

"It is a tribute to both our teacher negotiators and our administrative negotiators that the agreement was reached at this time," he said. "We are pleased to be able to look forward to eliminate a current $200,000 shortfall this longer period of continued labor peace and cooperation.

Hoben said the board "expedited bargaining" because it didn't want to go through another strike such as the district experienced last fall. He said the board made the first move toward extending the present teachers' contract.

The superintendent also said the early extension agreement had "nothing whatsoever" to do with the district's proposed 1.74-millage increase before voters in the June 11 election. The request for a millage hike, designed to and a potential $2-million deficit in the school district, would run for seven

The strike settlement reached in October gave teachers a 3-percent wage hike in 1983-84 and a 6-percent wage hike in 1984-85. Teachers at the top of the wage scale also received an additional 1-percent increase the second semester of the 1984-85 year.

The school board is expected to give a formal vote of approval once the teachers union votes to ratify tomor-

Robin spurns treetops to nest on a stake truck

By Marie Chestney staff writer

This is a Mother's Day story. Only it's about a mother, maybe a refugee from the rebellious 1970s, who got slightly mixed up recently on how to go about raising little ones.

Out on Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth Township there's a contrary mother robin who's about to get one heckuva lesson in nest building.

Or then again, maybe this daring mother is rewriting the whole book on bird parenting. Maybe she's on the verge of ushering in a brand new way of life for birds. If that happens, then the township's rebellious robin might become famous as the Jane Fonda of bird-dom.

MRS. ROBIN'S rebellion began about three weeks ago.

Instinct must have told her that the lofty trees towering over the township were the best place to set up housekeeping for her expected little ones.

Trees, her own mother often must have told her, have roots and tend to stay put. Trees, over the centuries, had built up solid reputations for safety the best places to raise hungry little mouths once they started chirping.

Trucks, on the other hand, . . . who in bird-dom knew anything about trucks? Who in Mrs. Robin's family had ever set up housekeeping on the back end of a truck? What track record for nesting had those noisy beasts established, those boxes which came outfitted with wheels and tended to wander?

Mrs. Robin, definitely owning a will of her own, was not one to be daunted by such silly questions.

She took one look at the tailgate of a stake truck parked in the backyard of an Ann Arbor Road home, and it was love at first sight. It was the perfect home-sweet-home to this soon-to-be

Why settle for the windy, cold, rainsoaked terrain of a tree top when you can snuggle down onto a sturdy, shield-

AND SO, about three weeks ago, Mrs. Robin settled in on the hydraulic tailgate of a truck owned by township resident Peter McManus.

Four blue eggs soon appeared in her

McManus came and went around the parked truck. He did some work on the truck, first building a box on it and then painting it.

Despite all the commotion, the unflappable Mrs. Robin sat quietly on her eggs.

"I could walk right by and she'd still stay there on the nest," said McManus who is Florida-bound and needs to use the truck in the next few days.

And so Mrs. Robin, so far unfazed and undaunted, faces some unnerving times ahead.

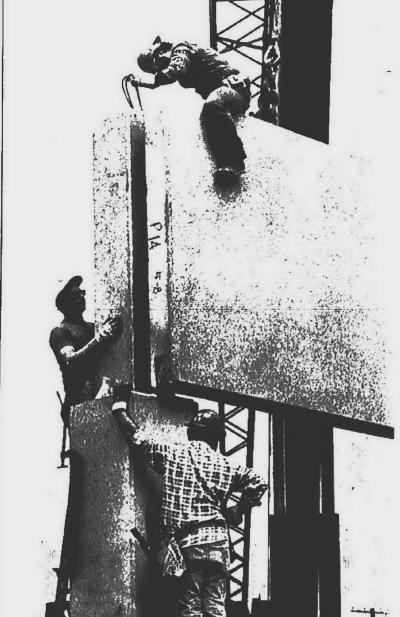

McManus first plans to move her nest to the ground and then onto a tree branch, putting her where he thinks the red-breasted beauty should have gone in the first place.

It is suspected that Mrs. Robin, trendsetter that she is, will be doing a lot of squawking in the days ahead.

Gettin' decked out

Downtown Plymouth got decked out for Mother's Day as contractors toward the end of the week made real quick progress on the second deck of the Central Parking Lot. Some of the huge 60-loot concrete forms arrived by truck earlier in the week and, once started, the outline of the deck quickly began to take shape. City Manager Henry Graper last week reported the project is running two to three days ahead of schedule. The construction project was an added sight for weekend visitors who came to Plymouth for either Mother's Day or for the Spring Arts Festival in Kellogg Park.

Township sets hearing on park taken place two years ago in Plymouth given. Township will take place May 22.

Since April 1982, Robert DeMattia, developer of the Metro West Industrial Park in Plymouth Township, has wanted township trustees to declare the 164acre park an industrial development district under Public Act 198. The park is north of M-14 off Sheldon.

Township trustees passed such a resolution in April 1982 but never held the public hearing necessary to make the declaration official.

Declaring the entire park a district would cut out one of the steps necessary for getting a property tax abatement in the park, thus simplifying the process of granting tax incentives to companies wanting to settle there. State law demands that municipalities manufacturing facility in the park in grant properties industrial developful operation by November.

A public hearing which should have ment status before tax abatements are

"THE BOARD has voiced its intent to treat the park as a tax abatement area," said township Supervisor Mau-"But there has been confusion on the Livonia's John H. Harland Co. is the latest company planning to move into the park to ask for tax relief under the act. The act allows the company's building and furnishings to be taxed at 50 percent of its value for a period up to 12 years.

If tax relief is given, the company plans to have its 24,000-square-foot

Defense leads to deficit — McCauley

Mike McCauley of Plymouth, a Democrat running for Congress in the 2nd Congressional District, said he is surprised at the incumbent Congressman's inability to see the economy's pertinent issues.

In reacting to a recent statement made by Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, McCauley said it is imperative the 2nd District representative realize the adverse effect the huge federal deficit is having on the nation's economy.

Speaking to the Jackson Association of Life Underwriters, Pursell had said it was the high cost of entitlement programs and not the defense spending that has pushed the federal deficits to an all-time high.

McCauley disagreed. "The excessive growth of the deficit since 1980 can be attributed to three factors: increased military spending, huge tax cuts and higher interest rates on the national

McCauley pointed to a recent study done by the Congressional Budget Office, a bipartisan group, which states that the percentage of money allocated to entitlement programs will drop 6 percent (from 43 percent to 37 percent) through 1989. Defense spending, on the other hand, will increase 25 percent (up to 33 percent from 24 percent in 1981).

THE NEXT interest on the national debt, he added, is expected to be 15 percent of the federal budget by 1989.

"If no changes had been made in the military budget, taxes, interest on the public debt or low-income programs since 1981, the 1985 budget would probably be in balance.
"What needs to be done is to eliminate Pentagon waste. We can actually decrase Pentagon spending without weakening defnese by eliminating inefficiencies in the budget."

McCauley claimed that a recent study showed that the Pentagon paid more than $21,000 for tools which would have cost the average consumer

"We need to increase competition for the goods and services the Pentagon purchases from the private sector. This type of procurement-reform legislation will means billions of dollars in annual savings for the Pentagon and new opportunities for small businesses."

QUESTION: Last year my hus-band turned sixty-five and retired. He complains all the time about his feet, but he won't do anything about them. We don't get to do half the things we planned on. What can I say to him to get him to seek treatment?

ANSWER: Your husband is not unusual. There are a lot of people who don't seek treatment for their "tired" and "old" feet. While it is true that older people have a greater instance of foot problems than young people.

Though common, many of these problems are neither normal nor acceptable. Podlatrists can prescribe special appliances and shoes that reduce stress on the feet. Therapy may also be appropriate to strengthen muscles used in walking.

Winners celebrate the thrill of victory

The thrill of victory was felt this past week by youngsters who don't always have the opportunity. The Special Olympics for handicapped youngsters throughout western Wayne County were concluded with track and field events at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park

The event is sponsored each spring by Civitan Clubs in western Wayne County, and each year a community takes turn hosting the event. This year it was the turn for the Plymouth-Canton Civitans to play host.

Hundreds gathered for the opening ceremony Friday morning, which featured the traditional lighting of the "eternal" torch to be carried by an athlete down the track, and for a massive balloon launch.

Students from private and public schools throughout the area were among the institutions sending athletes to compete in the Olympics in which participation is given the highest priority. There also were a number of volunteers from the community who were on hand to encourage participants to try their best, to serve as timers, measurers, judges, and award presentors.

staff writer

Unlike most of the people who retire just to get a rest and get away from the workaday world, Joe West, retiring treasurer of Plymouth Township, has a much different reason.

ACTIVITIES AND ARTHRITIS

Often, people with arthritis want to know, "What exercises should I do to help my arthritis?"

The answer is that exercises aren't important, what you need is regular activity. There are no exercises that will strengthen inflamed joints, furthermore, exercises are difficult to keep up over time.

However, activity is necessary. It helps you maintain the tone of your heart, lungs and muscles, walking, swimming and biking are good examples. The program you choose should allow you to increase your effort in ill amounts and permit you to stop whenever joints have taken enough strain.

if the pace is too strenuous for your joints, you will feel pain. Be assured that you will receive that message long before you cause any irreversible harm to your

If you feel that you can't undertake an activity program, you should discuss the matter with your doctor. The two of you should try to work out an alternative that will be in the best interests of your

Even Robert Redford can't make a go of it as baseball player Roy Hobbs in "The Natural."

the movies Greenberg

Cliches take over in baseball story

Audiences are asked to pay good money to sit still for 2% hours of confusing cliches in the screen version of Bernard Malamud's first novel, "The Natural."

No matter how handsome Robert Redford, no matter how attractively the movie was photographed, "The Natural" can't be

It all starts with middle-aged Roy Hobbs (Redford) boarding a train for we-know-not-where, which is exactly where the movie went. He flashes back to his childhood (young Hobbs is played by Paul Sullivan Jr.). His father, Ted Hobbs (Robert Rich III), teaches him everything about baseball because young Roy is a "natural." Father Hobbs dies and a bolt of lightning (a different bolt than when he hits homeruns) strikes a big old oak on the farm. Roy crafts a marvelous bat from the tree and inscribes it "Won-

SEGUE TO REDFORD as young Roy Hobbs the night before he leaves the farm for a tryout with the Chicago Cubs. He proposes to the girl next door - Iris Gaines (Glenn Close) - if a farm can be next door. Much later you'll discover what happened that night, so don't forget about Iris; she'll be back to save the day.

The Chicago train stops at a carnival and Roy strikes out the Whammer, Joe Don Baker, in a two-bit imitation of Babe Ruth. This diversionary sequence introduces the world's nastlest sports writer, Max Mercy (Robert Duvall), and Harriet Bird (Barbara Hershey). She's a lunatic who shoots people with silver bullets.

She lures Roy to her room, shoots him and then commits suicide. I was convinced that she shot him in his pitching shoulder, but the bullet was removed from his stomach 16 years later.

Although Roy Hobbs' great passion was baseball, he restrained himself for an unexplained 16 years. Then he turns up as an unwanted player on the New York Knights, managed by Pop Fisher (Wilford Brimley) and coached by Red Blow (Richard Farnsworth).

Pop doesn't want a middle-aged, never-has-been and benches Hobbs before he plays. Hobbs gets to play when star rightfielder Bump Bailey (Michael Madsen) is benched for a slump and later dies crashing through the rightfield fence trying too hard, when it is too late. His ashes are scattered from a plane flying over the Knights' home field.

WITH HOBBS and "Wonder Boy" at the plate, the Knights near e top. But wait, don't forget cliche No. 17: Gamblers with a fix trying to take over the team.

If Pop wins the pennant, he gets control of the team. If he loses, the nasty Judge (Robert Prosky) takes all. Working with Gus the Gambler (Daren McGavin), Pop's niece, Memo (really, that's her name — played by sary Kim Bassinger), corrupts Hobbs, now starring in rightfield.

ring in rightfield.

Of course, the Knights tie for the pennant. At their victory celebration, Memo slips Roy something that puts him in the maternity ward. This is not a perverted sex scene. It's just that the maternity hospital was the closest emergency room.

Without Roy, the Knights loose three straight, but he gets up from his death bed and leads them to victory.

The victory blow hits the light tower and blows out all the lights in a Fourth of July fireworks display that strains credulity beyond all nearloss limits.

THE FILM ENDS with a fully recovered, young Hobbs playing catch with his son. (Remember that one night with Iris?) You never do learn which Redford got on the train 24 hours ago.

Redford plays the true-blue Hobbs to the hitt. No dirty gamblers will corrupt him. Hobbs will never throw the game. Too bad somebody got to Redford. He sure threw the movie.

Dancing forbidden by early church Elders

(Part 8)

The minutes of the Session of the Plymouth Presbyterian Church indicate the kinds of behavior the local Elders frowned upon in mid-19th century.

They demonstrate that, contrary to popular notion, church justice in the Victorian era, in this church at least,

was not unduly harsh.

The local Elders appear to have been remarkably patient with backsliders; they never acted precipitously, and they made a great effort to get all of the evidence before rendering judgment. Offenders always were given plenty of time and opportunity to defend themselves.

ONE MAY NOT agree, in this "enlightened" age, with what the church called offenses in the early days, but a reading of the minutes makes it clear that church officers did their best to be objective and fair in their handling of cases brought before the Session.

From 1842 to 1864, church members were accused of a variety of offenses including absence from church services, dancing, drinking and selling intoxicating beverages, dishonesty, cruelty and disorderly conduct during a church service.

A member accused of absenting himself from church service in 1842 got a visit from Elder Ira Bronson, followed by another from Elder James Purdy. At a meeting in Bronson's home in April 1843, the man was cited for not attending church in two years.

Purdy, assigned to handle the case, said the accused told him he didn't have suitable clothes to wear. Later, the man changed his story and said his real reason was that he wouldn't go to church as long as Lewis Purdy was a member. The record doesn't indicate what action the Session took in this

In January 1843 a woman charged with dancing received a visit from Pastor J.A. Clayton (a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary). The woman confessed that she had been persuaded by a friend to attend a ball on the Fourth of July and had attempted to dance. She acknowledged that she had done wrong and promised not to do it

During the same year, the Session heard a case in which a member was charged with being intoxicated. It was dismissed for lack of evidence but the accused was admonished to be more circumspect in the future. Ten months later he was on the carpet again for being drunk on at least three different occasions - once while on a fishing excursion, once after returning from Detroit and once again during state Election Day.

The accused refused to appear at a Session meeting set for Jan. 24, 1844. At the meeting, a witness said the man had difficulty standing without holding fast to his wagon. Another said he saw the man drink whiskey from a jug several times. The Elders were not about to be swayed by circumstantial evidence. "How do you know it was whiskey?" one of them asked the witness.

"Because I tasted it," was the response. In this case, the Elders asked the Presbytery for a point of law before making their decision. They then suspended the member from the church until he gave evidence of repentance. The man was told of the decision by the pastor; no publicity was given to the

In 1852, an Elder was tried on a neglecting the church. One of the witnesses said the man appeared at times to be insane. The man pleaded not guilty, but the evidence was such that thorities also would have had a hand in this and the preceding case.

The problems of members who interpreted the pastor's sermons as personal chastisement appeared in two cases that came before the Session in the fall of 1852 while the Rev. J.A. Clayton was pastor. In September of that year, a former Elder of the church stood up during the service and shouted that he had been made the object of personal remarks made during the sermon by

When the man was charged with disorderly conduct, he threatened legal action if the Session took any action injurious to his character. A few weeks later, after cooling off, he admitted that he had done wrong and was restored to the church.

Memories of Mother on her day

Another Mother's Day has come and gone and what a day it was for The

From early morning until dusk fell she seemed to be at his side as he relived all the fond memories he has of her - even though she has been gone for more than three decades.

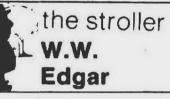

Never will he forget the morning she took us all - my four sisters and myself - into a little room in our small frame house in an alley back home in the Dutch country.

She had been left a widow and had served The Stroller's father faithfully through a long illness before be went on to the great beyond.

Now she faced the task of raising the family, and The Stroller, the oldest of the five, was only 10 years old.

When she got us seated in the little room she stood up and, weighing every word, she told us that with our father gone we could not have what other children have. She looked at us as she spoke and then added, "But there will be a lot of happiness in your lives if you will make the most of what you have."

SHE LET this thought sink in our childish minds, then went on, "And don't look over the fence. Never mind what the neighbors have - just enjoy what you have."

It was a lesson the Stroller never has forgotten and is always one of the fondest memories of her.

When the time came for The Stroller to leave school - even though at the head of his class, she took him aside and calmy told him that just because be no longer could go to school it didn't mean that he had to stop learning.

"Learn a trade," she said, "and what you have in your head no one will steal from you. And I don't care what trade you choose. But always try to be the best."

Then came the night when Grandmother Edgar came to visit Mother and her family. "I will help to ease the load on you," she advised Mother. "I blacksmith. He wouldn't know what to will take one of the girls and raise her and support her through school."

Mother looked at her and sharply answered, "You will do no such thing. We are all in this boat together. If we reach shore we will all be there and if we go down, we'll go down together."

MATCHMATE FRUITS IN FREEZER JAMS

Today's approach to "putting up" jams and jellies would be the envy of previous generations of jellymakers. No longer do you have to work over a hot stove. Delicious preserves can be made the quick, no-cook way, stored in the freezer and enjoyed year round.

Play matchmaker with different fruits to produce a delectable marriage of flavors and textures-peaches with blueberries, oranges or strawberries, strawberries alone or in combination with rhubarb as well as peaches. Our five tasty recipes - Strawberry Rhubarb Jelly, Strawberry Butter, Peach Orange Conserve, Strawberry Peach Jam and Peach Blueberry Jam- are all "freezer" jams which can be whipped up in no time at all.

Each recipe will be outstanding whether you serve it at breakfast, morning coffee or afternoon tea. Spread your jam on toast, biscuits, muffins, croissants or bagels, or serve it with waffles and pancakes. You can also add a little excitement to desserts by including jam in fruit tarts, cakes or tortes.

The key to making "freezer" jams is commercial fruit pectin -Certo liquid fruit pectin and Sure-Jell powdered fruit pectin. Both products supplement the natural pectin in fruit that tends to decrease as fruit ripens. Pectin assures a good set and helps fruit retain its natural fresh flavor and bright color. Sure-Jell fruit pectin is found in easy-to-open packages which include simple directions for use. Certo fruit pectin comes in pre-measured foil pouches, which makes your job even easier. Be sure to use the type of fruit pectin recommended in your recipe because they are not interchangeable.

To make your jam, start with the freshest, ripest fruit-juicy, red strawberries (green caps intact, please), plump blueberries, smooth and rosy peaches, crisp red or pink rhubarb and tangy, firm oranges. Wash the fruit and discard anything you don't want in the jam, like caps, stems, skins, pits or seeds. Then, check each recipe for the how-to's of preparing and mixing the fruit you'll use.

Next, you'll need some supplies and equipment. Make sure you have all the ingredients listed in the recipe, including the Certo or Sure-Jell fruit pectin. Gather together two bowls (small and large), a paring knife, a sturdy mixing spoon, measuring cups, a ladle and, of course, 1- or 2-cup freezer containers with tight-fitting covers or lids. Don't forget to get some labels so you can mark the jams for the future.

Scald the freezer containers and then mix the jam according to the directions in any one of the scrumptious recipes. Pour immediately into the containers and let them stand at room temperature for 24 hours. You can keep most of the jam fresh and available for up to six months by storing it in the freezer. The jam you and your family want to dip into right away will stay fresh in the refrigerator for three weeks.

Once you've made one of these easy, taste-pleasing jams, we're sure you'll want to make all five. Your family will love you for it and so will any special friends who are treated to your homemade jams.

Pepperoni makes this spaghetti sauce nearly perfect don't let go - I try to improve it.

My daughter-in-law's spaghetti sauce needed little improvement, but I recalled that Mikle occasionally sliced up some pepperoni and let it cook with the meatballs and sausage. She said it

After preparing the sauce numerous times, I decided the pepperoni was a key ingredient. It gave the sauce that tiny boost to perfection.

When I got hold of a good recipe, I column, I received a phone call from on't let go — I try to improve it.

Darlene Hopkins of La Habra, Calif., who felt Mikie's creation is the perfect spaghetti sauce. She clipped the original recipe last year, but lost it.

"It is so good," she said, "I can't believe it. I've made it a dozen times."

The first time Darlene prepared it, she used too much garlic. "I'm not the best cook," she confided. She uses fennel seed to make the sauce sweeter and sometimes combines ground beef and pork sausage for the meatballs.

She invited a date for dinner. It was a week away. I didn't let her down. MIKIE'S MOST PERFECT SPA-GHETTI SAUCE

Small-scale dining can be economical if you plan ahead

Cooking for one or two usually means leftovers for the next three nights, or single-serving frozen dinners that could break a bank. But not always. Small-scale dining can be creative, satisfying and above all econom-

Most foods are packaged for four or more. While it is becoming easier to find smaller cans and boxes, the price per serving generally is higher. Thus, the small-quantity cook on a budget will come out ahead by buying the larger size and using the product in several

For maximum savings, nutrition and variety, plan a week's worth of menus around two or three supermarket specials. Two frequent specials - chicken and ground beef - are particularly good choices. They can be frozen in individual portions. They thaw quickly and can be paired with staple ingredients for quick, easy main dishes.

Take ground beef for example. It can be shaped into meatballs, patties and individual meat loaves or crumbled and used in casseroles, skillet dishes, even main-dish salads. When this versatile meat is on special, buy in quantity. At home, divide large packages into two-serving, half-pound portions. When wrapped in moisture-vaporproof wrap, ground beef can be frozen up to four months. And a half-pound package will thaw overnight in the refrigerator.

Pair the ground beef with staple ingredients. Versatile rolled oats, for example, aren't just for breakfast and cookie-making. When added to ground meat, oats contribute important vitamins, minerals and dietary fiber as well as moistness and tenderness. For individual meat loaves with a south-ofthe-border flavor, use three other kitchn staples - catsup, instant minced onion and canned chilies - to frozen in individual portions for quick flavor the meat mixture and create a spicy topping

MEXICALI MEAT LOAVES 16 lb ground beef

¼ cup quick or old-fashioned uncooked

1/2 cup catsup or tomato sauce 2 thsp canned, chopped green chilles, drained 2 tsp instant minced onion

1/2 tsp chili powder Dash of garlic powder ¼ cup (1 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese

Heat oven to 375°. Combine meat. oats, egg, 2 tbsp catsup, 1 tbsp green chilies, 1 tsp onion and chili powder; mix well. Shape to form two 4-x-2-inch loaves; place in 8-inch-square baking dish or 9-inch glass pie plate. Bake 20 to 25 minutes.

In small saucepan combine remaining catsup, green chilies, onion and garlic powder; cook over low heat 3 to 5 minutes or until hot. Spoon sauce over meat loaves, sprinkle with cheese and return to oven for 2 minutes, or until cheese is melted. 2 loaves.

Microwave directions: Microwave meat loaves at HIGH 5 to 6 minutes or until desired doneness, rotating ¼ turn after each 2 minutes of cooking. Microwave at HIGH 15 seconds, or until cheese is

Srve Mexicali Meat Loaves with a favorite fresh or frozen vegetable and warm corn bread. Corn bread uses ingredients you're apt to have on hand, takes minutes to prepare, and can be reheating. Frozen vegetables packaged in resealable bags make it easy to remove one or two servings. And, if you ask, many supermarkets will split large packages of fresh produce.

Other kitchen staples which can be both time- and money-savers for the small-quantity cook include bouillon granules, bottled lemon juice, catsup and chili sauce, spice mixes and herb blends, quick barley, instant rice, grated parmesan cheese and small packages of pudding mix and fruit-flavored gelatin. (The latter can be divided in half easily to create dessert for two.) Keep bread in the freezer for quick croutons and crumbs.

While most main dishes and salads can be easily scaled down for two, cookies, cakes and other sweet treats can be tricky. For best results when dividing a recipe in half:

· Select a recipe with easily divisible quantities. • When adding flavorings such as vanilla and cinnamon, do so gradually. • Divide an egg in half by first breaking it into a custard cup. Beat egg lightly with a fork before measuring. One large egg yields about 3 table-

• Loaf pans, 8-inch layer-cake pans and 6-cup muffin pans work well for

• To freeze baked products, cool completely, then wrap tightly in moisture-vaporproof wrap. Use within one

Favorite cookie recipes usually are a good choice for the small-quantity cook. Chocolate Raisin Chippers, a small-scale variation of the popular oatmeal cookie, yields just two-dozen

14 cup margarine, softened % cup firmly packed brown sugar % cup granulated sugar

1 egg 1,tbsp water 1/2 tsp vanilla

% cup all-purpose flour

14 cups quick or old-fashioned oats, 1/2 cup semisweet chocolate pieces

At the peak of the strawberry season, the luscious red berries are especially spectacular in desserts that call attention to their color and freshness. Since ripe, well-formed strawberries are important in recipe uses, keep in mind the following tips when handling fresh ber-

• Select fully ripened, bright red strawberries, since they do not continue to ripen after being picked. Choose berries with a natural shine and bright green, fresh-looking caps.

• After buying, remove the strawberries from containers and arrange in a single layer on a cookie sheet or other shallow pan and refrigerate.

• Do not wash strawberries until just before using. Remove caps after washing the berries, since the caps prevent water from diluting the flavor and changing the texture of the fruit.

To show off fresh strawberries, look for recipes that help enhance their flavor without changing their delicate texture. Strawberry Brownie Cheesecake and Baked Brownie Alaska are two impressive-looking desserts featuring the popular combination of strawberries and chocolate. Although both prepared desserts look complicated, they are easy to prepare with refrigerated fudge brownie dough.

TO MAKE Strawberry Brownie Cheesecake, the first step is to prepare the rich brownie layer by spreading the refrigerated dough in a pan and baking. The cooled brownie is then topped with a no-bkae cream-cheese mixture, fresh strawberry halves and a strawberry preserve glaze.

Baked Brownie Alaska is a simplified version of the showy Baked Alaska made expecially attractive with a topping fresh strawberries. Instead of the usual cake layer to insulate the ice cream while the meringue is browning, the recipe calls for a brownie layer made from refrigerated brownie dough.

An advantage to this adaptation is that the whole dessert, including the meringue, can be prepared hours or even days in advance then frozen. This helps remove the fear usually associated with the last-minute preparation of traditional Baked Alaska.

Since the Baked Brownie Alaska recipe calls for only one-half of the baked pan of brownies, you can enjoy the remainder as a casual dessert.

Local tuxedo designer earns national acclaim

By Elinor Graham staff writer

All the new fashions aren't coming out of New York and Paris.

According to an announcement from veteran fashion designer Bill Blass, there's an up and coming designer right here in Canton Township.

Matthew Papa, a junior at Plymouth Canton High School, has been awarded a one-year, $2,500 scholarship to the Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science for his entry in the After Six Design-a-Tuxedo contest.

Matt is the son of Peter and Margaret Papa of Willow Creek, Canton Township.

Blass was one of the judges in the competition developed to provide high-school juniors and seniors from the United States and abroad the opportunity to be recognized and rewarded for their talents in the field of fashion de-

Creativity of design and the entrant's interest in pursuing a career in the apparel industry were the contest criteria.

Matt, who will be 17 in June, learned of the contest last October.

"There was a paragraph on the fashion page of the Detroit News. I sent in my entry at the end of November," he said. In February, he received a letter with the news that he was a finalist.

"They said the winners would be announced in a couple of weeks. I didn't hear any more and thought I was out of it. Then the letter came April 20."

His design had been selected from more than 90 entries representing highschool students from across the United States, as well as Canada, Austria, the Bahamas and South America.

Each entrant had submitted a tuxedo design appropriate for proms and weddings, along with an essay expressing the student's ambitions and career soals.

MATT'S WINNING design was created for "a man with daring."

Contest sponsors, After Six and Philadelphia Textile, described his entry:
"His linen design features a long, baggy-fit jacket that buttons four times at the waist and plunges in the back until leveling off at the back of the thigh. The pants, also loose-fitting, feature an eye-catching band that runs the length of the pant, as well as a slim taper at the calf. An elegant, simple white linen shirt and contrasting bow-tie complete this daring ensemble."

Matt said he sent along swatches of fabrics with his sketches. The materials were a slub-weave linen flecked with burgundy, navy or gold. The band on the pants and tie were the solid color of the fleck

THOSE WHO attended the all-school musical, "No, No, Nanette," may have noted that Matt Papa was head of the costume crew for the production.

He makes some of his own clothes —

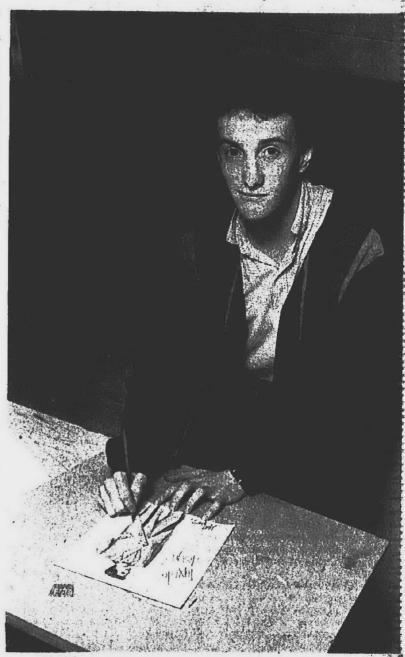

He makes some of his own clothes—shirts, pants and jackets. He said his first exposure to working on a sewing machine was in a sixth-grade clothing-construction class. Now, his mother is his mentor on the machine.

Dick Saunders has been his teacher in drawing and sketching and vocational-design classes in high school. Matt wishes he were heading for Philadelphia this fall, but he will complete his senior year at high school. He hopes to visit the campus during summer vacation.

His whole attitude reflects all the things he doesn't know and all the skills he wants to learn.

"I can't make patterns, I have to alter existing patterns. That's one of the things I'll learn," he said in anticipating his year at the Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science.

Four scholarships were awarded in the contest. The other three winners were high-school students from New Jersey, Mississippi and Nebraska.

Matthew Papa of Canton, a junior at Plymouth Canton High." School, has been awarded a scholarship in textile design.

Canton clips Salem, 5-4

By Chris McCosky staff writer

Maybe we're spoiled. Maybe we expect too much.

When it comes to high school baseball, Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem usually mean excellence. The fans have come to expect excellence.

Well, the Rocks and Chiefs met for keeps on Canton's turf Wednesday, and the game was anything but excellent.

In a word, it was ugly - with two

Canton's Jeff Olson ripped three hits, including a long opposite-field home run, and pitcher Mark Bennett came on in the seventh inning to strike out a pair of Rocks and preserve the Chiefs'

"We didn't play well," acknowledged Canton coach Fred Crissey.

"I don't know. They weren't very aware, they weren't very smart baseball players out there today," Salem coach John Gravlin said.

BOTH COACHES were being kind. The game, played on a chilly, damp afternoon, featured 15 walks and a hit batsman, six physical errors and an uncountable number of mental misques. To give you an idea how bad things were for the Rocks, they trailed 5-0 late in the game and had a runner picked off first. "I had just told him to watch out for a take throw to third (the Rocks had runners on first and third). He nodded his head and then proceeded to get picked off," Gravlin said. IN ANOTHER instance, the Rocks, with runners on second and third and one out, tried a suicide squeeze. The batter, Pat Walsh, is one of Salem's best bunters, having laid down four bunt singles so far this season. This time he missed, and Darryl Brees was tagged out at the plate. The Chiefs were not without mistakes either. Shortstop John Longridge, normally as sure-handed a fielder as you could want, made three errors. Catcher Tim Collins, a fine defensive catcher, misplayed a foul pop.

The Chiefs carried a 5-0 lead into the top of the sixth. Starting Chief pitcher Scott Ford had been in and out of trouble the entire game and had pitched on Monday. Crissey decided to pull him in favor of Buckey Blake Blake pitched Saturday in the non-league doubleheader against the Rocks and walked

"IT WAS my fault," Crissey said. "I took a chance on Buckey and didn't have to. I wanted to get him some work to try and straighten out his control problems. Buckey is probably our best pitcher when he's on. He'll be all right."

He walked the bases full in the sixth, then walked in two runs and gave up an RBI single to Mike McKenney - one of just four Rock hits.

Crissey brought on Mike Clark who walked Chris Belhart to make it 5-4. The bases were still loaded, there was one out, and hot-hitting Mike Cindrich

"No way does Mike hit into a double play," Gravlin said. "He's one of the fastest runners on the team. He never

"He hits it any other place, and we have a tie game. He's never done that,"

Salem started its ace, Rick Berberet, but the Chiefs didn't have a lot of problems with him. Berberet walked six, hit one and allowed seven hits in six inn-

Olson's home run put the Chiefs on top in the first. His single in the third, following walks to Longridge and Jeff Wittner, made it 2-0. Berberet, after intentionally walking Bennett to load the bases with two outs, walked Jim Dillon to make it 3-0.

Salem catcher Scott Anderson faked a throw to second and threw instead to shortstop Ken Harmon. Longridge broke for the plate and would have been an easy out, except Anderson's throw dribbled out to Harmon, allowing Longridge to score

"I couldn't believe that, either. Scotty stepped on the plate when he made his throw (and slipped)," Gravlin said.

Collins followed with a double to score Olson with what turned out to be the winning run.

CLARK GOT the first Rock batter out in the seventh. Then Brees hit a shot that Londgridge couldn't handle, and Salem had the tying run on. Crissey didn't hesitate. He brought in his ace,

The win leaves the Chiefs with a 9-1 record. Salem is now 7-6, after winning six of its first seven games. Salem has now lost five straight. The Rocks have

Hartnett takes hoop talents to Concordia

By Chris McCosky staff writer

Erich Hartnett, a much sought-after basketball prospect, will take his shake and bake, his shuffle step, and his dipsy-do to Concordia College near Ann Arbor next fall.

Hartnett, a crowd-pleasing player with his creative drives to the hoop and his fondness of the slam dunk, was an All-Area performer for Plymouth Salem last season, averaging 12 points, nine rebounds and six assists per game. He was selected first team All-Western Lakes and third team Metro West. He shared the Rocks' Most Valuable Player honors with Rick Berberet.

"Erich was the key to our whole recruiting year, he was the one we really wanted," said Richard Zalenski, assistant coach and head of recruiting at Concordia. "He's a fine player and will be a tremendous assett to our program.

The book on Hartnett, according to many college coaches, was that with one or two years of college maturity under his belt, he could be a contributing Division I player.

That's why it came as bit of a surprise when he chose Concordia, an independent Division III school.

"ONE OF THE biggest factors was the money," Hartnett said. "I didn't have a lot of money and they are giving me a full-ride scholarship.

Hartnett was also considering Schoolcraft Community College, Henry Ford Community College and, especially, Highland Park Community College. Those schools could offer just tuition and fees.

"There were a couple of reasons I think Erich chose us," Zalenski sald. "Academically, we are a lot stronger than the other schools. We have a lot to offer in that area. And being close to home helped. He's only 15 minutes away. Plus, he liked the campus a

There was a time, though, when the last place Hartnett was thinking about was Concordia.

"At first I didn't want to play Divi-sion III," Hartnett said. "After our district game against John Glenn, he asked me, if I had to chose now which school would I attend? I told him Highland Park. I told him I didn't really want to go to Concordia, but that I'd leave it open in case he could change my mind. And he did."

Hartnett hasn't given up on his dream of becoming a Division I play-er. Zalenski's most effective recruiting tool was telling Hartnett he could transfer to a Division I school after a year or two, and not have to sit out a year. In fact, Zalenski even went through the trouble of sending video tapes of Hartnett to George Mason University in West Virginia.

"GEORGE MASON is really interested in me," Hartnett said. "They have two senior guards this year and are going to need help next year. They said they were going to come up and see me play next year.

Another factor swaying Hartnett to Concordia was Zalenski's signing of Wayne Memorial star Anthony Strickland. In fact, Zalenski has been scouring this area for its basketball talent. Others apparently close to committing to Concordia are Keith Strickland (Wayne), William Clark (Detroit Southeastern), Steve Juodawlkis (Livonia Churchill), Scott McCloskey (Garden City) and sharp-shooter Gary Thomas (Plymouth Canton).

But, to Zalenski, the No. 1 recruit was Hartnett.

"Erich will start at point guard for us. We feel he will adapt to the college game very well. I feel his talent wasn't fully used in high school. He's the type of player that will keep get-ting better and better," Zalenski said. Hartnett, once skeptical, is anxious to get to Concordia. "I can't wait," he said. "I'm supposed to be the man. I feel great. I'm really looking forward to it. I want all the responsibility to rest on my shoul-

Concordia was a pathetic 4-27 last year, but Zalenski, in his first full recruiting year, is out to change the image of his school. He couldn't have picked a better player to start a winning tradition with. In Hartnett's two years as a starter, Salem had a 41-7

Harrison girls track team Thursday.

The final score of the Hawks' meet against a vastly-improved Plymouth Canton team: 74-54.

How important is Lauri Runk? 'She's really something," said coach Mark Babcock.

Is she ever. The junior won the high jump with a 4-10 leap, and the long jump with a 15%. Then on the track, Runk won both distance races: the 1.600 meters (5:58.0) and the 3,200

"Her times in the distance events haven't been as good as she can do. She's really improved her jumping and I think that's had an effect on her running," Babcock said.

Hollie Ivey and Kim Bennett were the big point-getters for the Chiefs. Ivey won the shot put (31-41/2) and the discus (94-1), while Bennett won the 100 dash (13.25) and the 200 dash (27.8). Carolyn Nagy was the only other giris track Chief individual winner. She took the 400 dash in 1:04.7. The Chiefs only won one relay - the 3,200 in 10:56.0. Jill Birsa and Jamie Holcomb were hurdle winners for the Hawks. Birsa won the 100 hurdles in 17.3 and Holcomb took the 300 in 49.6.

Jenny Anderson captured the 800 run in 2:36.6.

Harrison's powerful sprint relay team - Birsa, Carol Kopko, Holcomb and Carla Primo - won the 400-meters (53.4) and the 800-meters (1:52.7). Beth Christie, Jamie Lyons, Holcomb and Kopko teamed on a 4:24.0 to win the 1,600-meter relay.

The Hawks, ranked No. 5, are 4-1 overall, 2-1 in the Western Lakes. Canton is 3-2 overall, 1-1 in the league.

Salem can't stop fleet Farmington

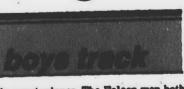

Plymouth Salem nudged ahead of Farmington in the Observerland boys track rankings last week with its strong showing at the Observer Relays. Seems the young men at Farmington weren't at all pleased by that and took it out on the Rocks Thursday in their dual-meet encounter. The Falcons overwhelmed Salem in the field events taking four of five firsts, and winning the 440-yard dash, the 800 run, the mile and the two-mile on their way to a 78%-60% win. Salem took three of the four relays but it didn't matter. The damage had been done. "We are a great dual-meet team." said Farmington coach Dave Cather-man, as his 7-0 dual-meet mark would attest. "We tried to rely on our depth and not triple-event anyone. In the past we've been a good weekend team (good in relay meets) and weak in duals. This

Greg Coplai was the meet's lone double-event winner. The Falcon won both hurdle events: the 120-yard highs in 15.3 and the 330 lows in 40.1.

Craig Petersmark won the shot put for Farmington with a 42-5. Dave Weems won the high jump (5-11) and Ab Hasen the discus (140-4). Jeff Lawton, the man who won the Observerland Relay pole vault title, went 13-2 for a

the first half, then held off Northville the rest of the way to give the Chiefs a 2-0 girls soccer triumph Friday at

It was a major victory for Chiefs, whose record climbed to 7-2 in the Western Lakes Soccer League and 10-3 overall.

The game was a defensive struggle throughout, with Northville managing six shots on goal and Canton just four. But the Chiefs capitalized on their chances, with Lori Engel finding the net midway through the opening half with assists from Beth Frigge and Margie Wangbichler

That proved to be the winning goal. Lisa Russell added an insurance tally with five minutes remaining in the half, Nancy Gray assisting.

The rest of the game belonged to the defense, led by goalie Pat Phillips and Alice Shobe, who started the game as a midfielder and finished as a defender vor the win, however. Today they travel to Northville for a 7 p.m. rematch in a state tournament game.

STEVENSON 3, SALEM 0: Plymouth Salem couldn't match defending state champion Livonia Stevenson's firepower and couldn't crack the Spartan defense in losing at home Thursday.

Doreen Beagle picked up her seventh shutout for Stevenson (12-1 for the season). Beagle and Salem goalkeeper Sarah Wallman each faced 20

Mary Kay Hussey, Shelly Virva and Danielle Montroy all scored for Stevenson.

The defeat dropped Salem to 6-4-2 for the season.

thing was different about these Chiefs. Last Monday the Chiefs, then a struggling 0-4 softball team, scored six times in their final at bat against Walled Lake Western to pull out a 7-6 Plymouth Salem should have known something was going on. If they didn't know about these Chiefs before, they certainly do now. Canton went over to Salem Wednesday night and whipped the heavily favored Rocks 13-6. "I've said before that it would take us about a half a year to jell because we have so many young kids. We've been hitting well the last three games, and playing better defense," said Canton coach Max Sommerville.

Canton banged out 11 hits, three by sophomore Laura Darby, and took advantage of six Rock errors.

"I think Canton just wanted this one more than we did," said Rock coach Rob Willette. "They only had one win coming in. But, I told the girls that Canton was a good team depite their record. I told them to be careful, but they don't always listen to me."

softball

A FIVE-RUN outburst by the Chiefs in the second inning set the tone for the upset. An RBI bunt single by Kris Ingersoll, one of her two hits, and a tworun double by Darby were the key blows in that inning.

Darby has been on a tear. It was her bases-loaded double that climaxed the Chiefs' comeback win against Walled Lake Western Monday.

Nancy Dyc also had two hits for the Monika Benedict was the winning pitcher. She gave up 11 hits and walked eight, but the Chiefs played flawless defense behind her.

The Rocks have been able to come back on their opponents all season, but short. Down 10-2 in the sixth, Salem rallied for four runs. But, the Chiefs added three more in the seventh.

"We tried to rally in the sixth, but when Canton came back and scored in the seventh, it broke our backs. We just made too many errors," Willette said. Debbie Glomski, Cindy Runge and

Leslie Plichta led the Salem offense, with two hits apiece. Sue Carlson was the losing pitcher. Sommerville said the big change in

Hamblin to catcher. "She has really took over the leadership of the club behind the plate," he his club came when he moved Lou Ann

ANOTHER FACTOR in the Chiefs' resurgence has been the pitching of both Benedict and Dyc. The Chiefs were losing ballgames because of walks - 12 in the season opener, 21 in the second game. The last three games, the Chiefs have been keeping the ball over the plate.

For Salem (6-1 in the league, 9-2 overall), the loss was devastating. The Rocks have to beat Livonia Stevenson twice if they are to have any chance of defending their Western Lakes title a tough task to say the least.

"We're in big trouble," Willette said.

UNFORTUNATELY, the magic didn't last for Canton. On Friday winless Northville visited and left with a sweep of a double-header, winning 6-4 Walks cost the Chiefs in both games. Benedict surrendered just three hits in the opener, but 10 walks - and five errors - were the Chiefs undoing. Canton had five hits, three by Benedict (one a double), who drove in two runs.

In the nightcap, Dyc walked seven and allowed six hits in the loss. Still, the Chiefs collected nine hits, including four doubles, but couldn't take advanage of them

Floorcoverings lay

Americans' growing preference for more color and decoration in home furnishings may be the tip-off to a new mood of national optimism, according to one expert, Wendy Claussen, head flooring stylist at Armstrong.

Claussen commented on the current decorating scene as the latest floorcoverings fashions debuted in January showings in major IIS cities

For the past few years, Claussen related, the Natural Look has dominated home furnishings. In vinyl flooring, that translates into patterns that look like wood, quarry tile, brick or stone and into neutral colors like beige and almond.

While neutrals and naturals continue strong, there's a definite swing to decorative flooring patterns and away from bland hues to pastel colors like creamy yellow, teal green and even lilac. Other colors on the rise are dusty rose and seafoam blue.

"The economic outlook is brighter and so are home furnishings," observed Claussen. "They often mirror larger social trends, which isn't surprising since they don't exist in isolation from the rest of our culture."

AMONG TYPES of decor, the Country Look and Victoriana each still has a large following, but now Art Deco, the sleek, streamlined look of the '20s and '30s, is emerging as a factor.

"It's appropriate to mention

"Americans by and large have put selfdoubt behind them, and our country is beginning to take a leadership role in the world again. I thik that's what we're seeing in today's more assertive home-furnishings styles."

That assertiveness conspicuously includes what the Armstrong executive terms "the return of decoration." For example, in vinyl flooring, quarry tile patof plain unadorned quarry tile.

"The is an evolutionary, not revolutions y, process," asserts Claussen. "Right now people prefer patterns that aren't too busy."

Hallmarks of Art Deco are lacquered wood, rounded-off furniture and color schemes that tend to run to mixtures like plum, peach and gray. Good examples of pure Art Deco design are New York's Radio City Music Hall and the Chrysler Building.

A craft room invites togetherness fashioned quilting bees where pioneer women got together for a few hours of socializing and work. Togetherness: that's the spirit of crafts.

These days, though, you're more likely to find the typical craftsman (or women) holed up by himself (or herself) in a solitary workroom in some distant corner of the house. The "crafty" person has been practically banished from mainstream family life.

That's usually unnecessary. With careful planning, many family rooms can serve as craft workshops too. A recent issue of "Decorating & Craft Ideas" magazine shows how.

The first step is to set aside separate areas for craft and non-craft activities. The second is to draw them together again through certain decorating tricks that give a room unity of design.

The magazine's family room is intended for a quilter and a miniaturist (someone who makes dollhouse furniture and scale models), although it can be adapted to other uses. The larger portion of space is devoted to a craft afrea and the remainder is taken up by a "conversation alcove," with plushy love seats.

There's lots of storage: a must for stowing tools and materials. It's ranged along the walls, leaving the center of the room clear. Why? So there's plenty of space to operate the 8-foot-long solid maple quilt frame. When the frame is not being employed, the quilting surface tilts up vertically and the whole apparatus fits flat against the wall.

THE STORAGE includes a closet for compact power tools, complete with work platform and a fan to suction off sawdust hider." The color is called "toast." And unlike carpet (installed only in the alcove) no-wax floors don't lend themselves to pins finding their way beneath the surface, perhaps to pop out later as a painful surprise. Also an important consideration for a craft (or indeed any) area - no-wax floors are easy to clean and don't need much care.

The unification of the decor drawing together of all elements of the room into a harmonious whole began with the choice of wallpaper. It's a crisp, neat windowpane check (cream-colored stripes on a hunter-green field) which provides a nice contrast to the clutter in

The love seats in the conversation alcove are upholstered in a fabric color-coordinated to the wallpaper. This establishes a strong visual link between and and fabric are from the some source.

The visual link is further strengthened by framing the arch between the alcove and the craft area in bands of the pastel colors found in the alcove furnishings. It's such simple touches as these that give the entire space the unity it enjoys.

Decorating accessories are completed crafts and works in progress.

Before buying siding, do your homework

You've finally decided it's time to stop painting the house and look for a better solution to exterior maintenance. What's aluminum or vinyl siding? How the facts both from manufacturers and from people who've bought siding. You can find magazines that list siding manufacturers' names and addresses. Write to them for literature.

Ask reputable siding contractors to give you the names and addresses of homeowners who have siding. Try to get a variety of types of siding. And ask for homeowners whose siding is several years old. They can tell you more about how the products hold up and what maintenance has been needed, if any.

Buying siding is like most purchases. You can always find a cheaper grade at a lower price. It isn't the lowest price in the long run, however, if it doesn't hold up. Buying brand-name siding made by a reputable company is your best investment for long-term satisfaction.

• Appearance. You'll be considering several factors. Of course appearance is important. Does the siding look good not only when it's installed but for years thereafter?

SIDING COMES in a variety of styles and colors that look like 4-inch, 5inch or 8-inch clapboards and also in a more contemporary-looking vertical

• Maintenance. What are the physical properties of the siding? One that is solid color clear through, such as vinvl. has no painted surface to scratch or wear off, so it will provide low maintenance for many years.

· Accessories. You may want to consider which companies have special decorator accessories to match their siding. The accent of a door surround or wide fluted corner posts, for example, now can be had in low-maintenance materials.

· Warranty. Consider the manufacturer's warranty. Some sidings have up to 50-year warranties that even include hail damage. Has the manufacturer been around long enough to justify giving such a long warranty? Is it a well-established company that will be around to fulfill that warranty, should you ever Equally important, look at the contractor's reputation and stability. Check references before signing that contract.

One source for free vinyl-siding literature is the Mastic Information Center, Dept. F83NS, P.O. Box F, Berrien Springs, Mich. 49103. Mastic is a subsidiary of Bethlehem Steel.

For consumers who want to test actual siding samples personally, Mastic offers a Tough Customer Kit for $5. It includes a complete testing kit with samples of aluminum and vinyl siding so you can test them yourself, plus literature, color swatches and "A Guide to Designing Your Home's Exterior." Costly carpet needs regular maintenance many decisions concerning purchase and care of carpet. How then does one become a smart shopper and decide on the right color, pile height, pattern and carpet texture that is affordable and meets lifestyle needs of the home?

It doesn't matter if you are buying a new home or decorating the old, carpet represents a long-term, major investment. This investment is judged by the cost of the carpet and the length of its

After making the investment in carpet, homeowners should understand that carpet needs to be maintained on a regular basis to look good consistently and thereby get the most out of the invest-

Carpet manufacturers recommend frequent, planned maintenance which includes two basic steps: Frequent vacuuming and carpet dry cleaning.

Over the years, mothers and grandmothers have taught us to clean the carpet when it looks "bad." For some, this may be every three or four months; for others, once a year or less.

However, by the time dirt and spots begin to show, carpet is usually matted and some degree of damage is done. This usually results in a complete "restoration" cleaning to refurbish the life of the

Be aware that even soil hiding and anti-soil treated carpets aren't a guarantee against dirt.

As with any carpet, the same cleaning habits should be established for maintaining treated carpets. The dirt is still Regular cleaning for all carpet is important not only for appearance's sake, but will, over a period of time, extend the life of the carpet.

Down memory lane

Peace, harmony and a continuity with the past are being revived in America's romance with old and cherished looks. Here in a remodeled barn, the American Oak Collection from Thomasville creates a nostalgic picture of familiar serenity. The split-pedestal table in a pickled finish is a democratic gathering place for a family meal, and American Windsor chairs are comfortable for a convivial game with friends. The geometrical pattern of the wood fretwork on the Looking Glass Cabinet extends to its sides, and behind the doors are glass shelves, interior lights and a mirror that illuminates cherished china and crystal.

Adding counters? Consider needs

If you're thinking about remodeling your kitchen, one of the most important areas to consider is your counter space.

Just think about all the kitchen activities that require counter space: assembling your family's favorite casserole. cooling fresh-baked chocolate chip cookies, storing flour, sugar, coffee and your collection of best-loved recipes so you can get them easily. Counters are among the busiest parts of your house.

Before you plan your remodeling, think about what your needs are. Here are a few hints from design consultants at Du Pont's "Corian" building materials division to help you get started.

FIRST, THINK about your special space requirements:

Do you do a lot of baking or food preparation that needs one large work area? If so, you may want to plan a wideopen counter area, with cabinets for bowls, cookware and frequently used ingredients located conveniently above and below the area.

• Do you use small appliances like coffee makers, toasters, blenders and food processors often? Plan extra space, especially back toward the wall, for these appliances, so that you don't have to take them out of the cabinet every time you want to use them.

• You may also want to allot extra counter space for a dish drain, a cutting board, cookbooks - anything you want

FOR INSTANCE, a counter next to the refrigerator allows you to load and unload foods easily. Space on both sides of the sink leaves you plenty of room to wash and drain dishes; and a counter, with a cooling rack, next to the stove is a convenient place to cool hot dishes.

One popular way to create more counter space, without doing a major remodeling job, is to install an "island."

This extra storage center can provide a large, open work space - perfect if you enjoy preparing dishes with lots of ingredients or baking double batches of Equip your island with an extra sink, a range and/or electrical outlets and it becomes a "mini-kitchen" just right for all your needs.

One small warning: you can have too much counter space as well as too little. If you plan too many large counter areas in your kitchen, you may find yourself running five miles a day — just between the refrigerator and the sink!

as bold colors return

A new trend in decorating sees history repeated as the bold, vibrant hues reminiscent of the Victorian era come to life once more for use in contemporary homes, apartments and offices.

Victorian colors are becoming more popular due to a growing romantic trend in decorating. The bright pastels such as peach and turquoise, which were seen in home furnishings in the past few years, are giving way to rich but low-key shades washed with light.

Furnishings with sensuous, curved designs and delicate, lacy fabrics complement these romantic colors, one interior decorator noted.

The average homeowner doesn't need to spend thousands of dollars to bring the subdued, classic look of the Victorian era into his own home. A few accessories, the right draperies, a throw pillow and perhaps a new stain added to existing wood furniture can give a Victorian aura to any home. And the right wall color is essential to pulling together any look.

The Victorian era saw bold, intense colors with a large amount of pigment being used. But the colors were slightly cooler, more ash-toned instead of bright, noted a color expert at Fuller-O'Brien Paints, originators of The Cape May Victorian Colors Palette, a 70-color spectrum that faithfully reproduces the beautiful hues of the late 19th century.

In contemporary homes, the colors work especially well because they offer a perfect "canvas" for the decorator, enhancing, without overpowering, the decor. The subdued quality of these colors makes them an ideal choice for use with nearly any style of contemporary furn-

So go ahead - experiment. Whether the look you want is 19th century or modern, a few simple touches, with the right wall color as a backdrop, can add elegance to any room.

Mini blinds are easy to install, care for Quality isn't cheap. But that doesn't mean it need be expensive. The quality of life, for instance, doesn't cost a penny, nor does a glorious sunset.

A home improvement needn't be all that expensive either. Mini blinds, updated versons of venetian blinds, are an excellent example of how to get maximum style with minimum expense. They add color, texture and dimension to rooms, yet are easy to install and need but minimum care.

No matter what your budget, says the U.S. Venetian Blind Association, there's a style of mini blinds suited to fit it. Manufacturers offer a wide selection of blinds in more than 100 decorator colors.

To create the look of understated elegance, begin with a careful study of the room you want to improve. Determine what items you want to keep. Things of value or items in style consistent with what you have in mind should be kept. Next, consider how the room will be used and what furniture and accessories are needed to create the image you have in

If you plan to install wallcoverings or apply a fresh coat of paint, use the mini blind as decorative accents. Remember that lighting affects color so choose colors wisely. Examine them in the natural tone of daylight, if possible. Since mini blinds are also available in stripes and handsome wood-like materials, consider how the blinds might be used to contrast with or complement surrounding colors.

Highlight the important or distinctive features of a room, advises USVBA. Wood beams or moulding, trim around doors and windows and other detailing that serve to give a room character should be emphasized rather than hidden by the color scheme.

More information on the art of decorating with mini blinds is in "Thorough-Modern Minis: Decorating With Venetian Blinds." To get a copy of this booklet, send 50 cents to USVBA, 355 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

"CORRELATION OF fabrics, rather than matching fabrics, will have the real impact. It will be color and motif that help tie the fabrics and wallcoverings together."

Forman says there will be an increase in the use of borders because they "make a very important design statement. The trend towards romantic embellishment will influence the use of borders and those with swags, stencils and other strong motifs. In the contemporary areas, consumers will want 'painting technique' looks, including drop cloth and brush stroke. Colors will range from pastels to bold primaries with a heavy emphasis on the desert colors."
