Diane Pirrie, a CEP high school aid, works with 'Truant.' The computerized dialer is being used for sending phone messages to parents when their child skips a class.

Better late than never 'Truant' officer calls out class cutters

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

The Centennial Educational Park (CEP) high schools have employed a "heartless" truancy officer.

The new officer is so cold and so hard that even school administrators admit it is inhuman — literally.

The new officer is a computerized dialer named "Truant." Its main purpose is to notify parents — who can't be reached during the day — when their child has skipped class.

"In the interest of keeping parents informed in a timely fashion and reducing the cost of clerical help, a computer dialer has been purchased by CEP," said Kent Buikema, Plymouth Canton High principal.

"It will make telephone calls automatically and at a time when parents are more likely to be home to receive the call," he said.

"Truant" was first used on the weekend of Sept. 29. It was programmed to call 22 homes during the evening hours — between 5 and 9 p.m.

"The computer's report told us that 20 homes were reached and that all homes listened to the entire message," Buikema said.

"It appears that 'Truant' — the trade name of our computer dialer — was successful," he said.

THE SCHOOLS' automatic dialer is much like the models used by businesses for telemarketing. It can be programmed to dial certain numbers and deliver a tape-recorded message.

In fact, the schools' machine can be programmed to deliver up to a maximum of 99 different messages — depending on the length of each message.

"It does have the capability of receiving answers so we could use it for a polling function," said Mark Even, CEP audio-visual coordinator.

"We don't have any immediate plans for that, but down the road it could be used for something along the polling lines," he said.

One drawback to the dialer is the fact it's a machine calling, rather than a person.

"We understand that this is an impersonal approach to transmitting this information," Buikema said.

For this reason the staff will continue to make as many calls as possible during the day.

"We want to save it for the calls that can't be made during the day," Even said. "The aide programs into the unit the numbers that need to be called at the end of the day."

Another drawback is the machine doesn't know if the parent answered the phone.

"That's the unfortunate thing — the student can answer the phone," Even said.

In the case of a first unexcused absence the student may get by.

Subsequent calls from the machine do more than notify the parent of the absence — the call asks for the parent to contact the school.

"Even if the student answers the call the first time, it serves as a deterrent to them missing class again. The student knows you're on to him," he said.

BESIDES BEING used for truancy reports, the machine has other uses.

"Truant" recently was used to notify seniors about some misinformation about their graduation pictures.

"We did the calling in the evening and a very, very good portion of the people received the call," Even said.

"It can also be used for more positive things like, 'Congratulations on making the honor roll' or to advertise the school play," he said.

Also, the schools can contact their staff in the event of a snow day or similar emergency. While the uses are almost limitless, Even said the schools likely will tread lightly with the dialer.

"It does have some negative connotations with it. We don't want to go overboard with it and have homes receiving three calls a night for different things," he said.

But don't be surprised if someday you answer the phone and hear these words:

"Hello, this is Salem High School calling with a computerized message. Your student . . ."

Breen eyes a freeze on township spending

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Plymouth Township trustees will be asked to approve a $3 million general fund budget for 1985 at Tuesday night's meeting.

Because of increased building activity, the budget projects an increase in building department revenues — money brought in through building permit and inspection fees. Projected is an increase of $22,700 to $96,700.

However, if construction continues as it has, the budget projections most likely will be low. For example, the 1984 budget projected building revenues of $74,000 while the actual income for the first six months was almost $67,000.

Breen's recommended budget was presented to the board in accordance with the township charter which requires the supervisor to present the document in October. The township's fiscal year ends Dec. 31.

Trustees already have had input into the proposed budget and are expected to approve it with little or no changes.

Total revenues are projected to decrease from $2.97 million in '84 to $2.9 million in '85. The major portion of the decrease comes from the expiration of a half-mill or 50 cents per $1,000 of State Equalized Valuation (SEV) voted earlier for fire operation.

Fire operation revenues are expected to decrease from $505,000 in '84 to $380,000 in '85.

As a result of anticipated increases in SEV, general administration and law enforcement levies are expected to bring in more dollars. General administration is projected to increase some $47,300 to $1.72 million, and law enforcement up some $19,500 to $357,500.

Other spending changes of interest include the law enforcement account, down $27,000 to $593,459. The drop is projected despite the addition of a part-time police officer.

The total law enforcement expenditure also is substantially below the $640,000 a year cost of the contract for shared police services with the City of Plymouth. Currently a study is being performed to determine whether to continue that contract or start a township department.

Building department expenses are up $51,352 to a total of $126,662. The increase is spurred by the increase in construction and an increase in personnel.

Planning and zoning appeals expenditures are projected to increase some $10,000 to a total of $42,770. Although a fulltime planner has been added, his salary isn't the reason for the increase.

Prior to the planner's employment the township contracted planning services for a cost almost equal to the salary.

Besides acting on the recommended 1985 budget, trustees will review the 1984 budget in regard to actual amounts. The board is expected to make final quarter amendments to the '84 budget.

The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the auditorium at Township Hall, the corner of Ann Arbor Road and Mill Street.

ON THE OTHER side of the budget, total expenditures show little change.

Breen recommends total spending of some $3.07 million for '85, while the '84 budget called for an amount just $1,800 more.

Changes in spending accounts are led by a $147,900 drop in capital improvements to a total of $129,210 for '85 — more than a 50 percent cut. Most capital improvements are funded through federal revenue sharing dollars, although the surplus was tapped this year for part of the renovations at Township Hall.

The largest increase in spending is slated for the general administration of health-care plans. Continuing computerization of the bookkeeping system in the county is also necessary to speed-up processes and lower the deficit, she said.

HER PLAN to reduce county costs includes early retirement for workers, and hiring new people at lower rates.

"We may also have to cut some of the non-mandated health and human services," Dumas said. "That will be too bad, because they have been cut almost to the bone."

"We may also have to place an across-the-board percentage cut on each and every department," Dumas said. "What we need to retain and improve — especially in Wayne County — is increased security . . . and maintenance in our parks system."

The county also needs to encourage business expansion and economic development, Dumas added.

Toy's solutions to balancing the budget included lowering county salaries, including pay earned by county commissioners.

She emphasized the importance of "cooperation" between the county executive and the board of commissioners. Major confrontations have occurred between the board and the executive in the past.

"Before, we had 29 commissioners who voted for every deficit spending budget, but now we have a new county executive who could put somewhat of a halt to the deficit spending," Toy said.

County board candidates debate political donations

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Although candidates for the county board seemed to agree on most major issues during a debate last week, mention of campaign contributions and union endorsements sparked a heated exchange between contenders for the 10th district seat.

Tempers flared when incumbent Mary Dumas, a Republican, was asked about campaign contributions at a candidates night co-sponsored by the Livonia and Plymouth branches of the League of Women Voters. The 10th District includes the Livonia, Northville and Plymouth area.

"I received $100 from each of the Teamster's locals, and received $250 from the UAW (United Auto Workers) from my party back in March," said Dumas, a commissioner for 11 years.

HER OPPONENT Laura Toy, a

Democrat, countered, "I have received no money from any labor organizations up to date, and don't expect to."

"I would like to be the county commissioner who goes in without any strong ties to union, labor organizations or large special-interest groups that carry along a large sum of money," said Toy, secretary of the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

"When you campaign in elections a lot of time special-interest groups expect you to vote the way they want you to vote when you get into office," said Toy, co-owner of Cardwell Florist in Livonia.

Dumas, who was the first to answer the question and therefore not entitled to rebuttal under the league rules of order, insisted on responding despite the moderator's reminder that she was out of order. Dumas's remarks were drowned out by a Toy supporter in the audience who continually repeated, "You're out of order."

After the debate Dumas said Toy sought endorsements from labor and unions, and her (Toy's) response seemed like sour grapes.

The brief exchange marked the only real difference the candidates focused on last week. On nearly all of the major issues facing the county, Dumas and Toy seemed to agree.

In answer to other questions:

Dumas's suggestions for balancing the deficit-ridden Wayne County budget, includes a $10-million reduction in the county's pension system and a control

Arrests continue at rest stop

Michigan State Police arrested seven men Thursday night in a continuing undercover crackdown on homosexual activities at a freeway rest stop in Canton Township.

The names of the men, who were charged with indecent exposure and disorderly conduct, will not be released until later this week when authorization and warrants are issued by the prosecutor's office, said Lt. John Shewell of the Ypsilanti state police post.

One of the seven men was a retired school teacher, Shewell said. Another was the retired superintendent of a downriver school district.

The men have 30 days to appear for arraignment in 35th District Court in Plymouth.

IN SIMILAR operations Sept. 20 and 24 at the rest stop at I-275 and Cherry Hill Road, police arrested 24 men. The arrests included five men employed in the education field.

Among them were Richard G. Buerk, 41, principal of Stevenson Junior High School in Westland; Richard Arnold Goode, 50, principal of Wick Elementary School in Romulus; Phillip T. Jenkins, 36, of Bloomfield Hills, vice president of the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit; Gene L. Myers, 47, a media specialist with Livonia Public Schools; and Dennis A. May, 32, a school bus driver for Plymouth-Canton Schools.

The men arrested in the September operations will appear in 35th District

Court this week for preliminary examination on the misdemeanor charges, which carry a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and $100 fine.

THE ATTORNEY for one of the men has said "Each case has to be looked at differently."

Arrests continue to be made at the I-275 rest stop in Canton Township following complaints from several motorists about indecent and obscene activities taking place in the men's room. The arrests are part of Michigan State Police undercover efforts.

Davis recalls thrills of 16 years on bench

All is not gold that glitters. This old saying came to mind the other evening when Sparky Anderson got on television and, in jubilation over the Tigers victory in the World Series, proclaimed that this team was a stable one and was good for 10 years.

Of course he was speaking to an audience that still was celebrating the victory and the season's record. But a glance at the pages of history — especially the Tigers — one would learn that the Tigers had some soul searching days even in the years they won the pennant.

For instance there was a sad note not too long after the Tigers won the Series in 1935 — the first in 25 years. There was a wild time in the city, the suburbs and the entire state. But the one person most concerned was Frank J. Navin, the Tiger owner who had waited all those years for another title. He had gloried in the fact that they won in the 1907-08 and '09. But he wanted another title in modern times.

THEN IT came. With Mickey Cochrane, one of the fightingest managers of all times at the helm, the Tigers beat the Chicago Cubs on the famous "blooper" that enabled Mickey to score the winning run in the final inning.

The city and the entire surrounding areas went wild in celebration, but the most pleased person was Navin as he sat in his office accepting congratulations.

His joy didn't last long. Within a few weeks he sauntered over to his riding club, got astride one of his favorite horses. Then misfortune struck. He fell off and died within a short time.

His passing gave control of the team to Walter O. Briggs with whom he had a deal. But fate struck again. This time the victim was Cochrane who was hit on the head by a pitched ball in Yankee Stadium and never fully recovered.

And it wasn't long until Briggs also passed. But before he left he sold the team to a group that included John Fetzer, the owner of the team until last spring.

ONLY A FEW years later in another Series Steve O'Neil managed the team to victory. But like his predecessor, he fell victim to a malady and left the baseball world behind. He had suffered from the gout and oftimes managed the team from the bandages on the bench — as a cripple. His passing was another great loss.

Men arrested at I-275 rest stop

"The treatment in the press and on TV has been outrageous," said Charles Bokos, Buerk's attorney. "He's been tried and convicted, and he hasn't even set foot in a courtroom."

"Somewhere along the line, the presumption of innocence has been lost."

Bokos insisted that the "facts are different in Mr. Buerk's case, but in the meantime, he's got to suffer an unfortunate set of circumstances."

BUERK WAS suspended with pay Wednesday morning after the story appeared in the Westland Eagle, said Dennis O'Neill, Wayne-Westland superintendent. That's normal procedure, he said.

The suspension was "based on the fact that (Buerk) was issued a citation," O'Neill said. Buerk "deserves his day in court," O'Neill said. In the meantime,

The glory days came again in 1945 when the Tigers conquered the Chicago Cubs again in a Series when Hank Greenberg made a comeback after getting out of the Army. He was then traded on waivers to Pittsburgh. It was a great triumph in 1968 with Denny McLain pitching more than 30 victories and Mickey Lolich winning three games in the Series against the Cardinals.

But the Tigers couldn't bask in that glory too long. It was on the plaudits of that triu mph that McClain caused some strange feelings when he was suspended for some of his actions. On top of that he was caught in a drug act and some kindred activities — all of which caused alarm over the team that had won the world title.

So, you see, there is no telling what is in the offing. Even Sparky Anderson, despite his pledge to win a pennant in five years came true, has no way on having this so-called glory carry on.

As the old saying goes — all is not gold that glitters.

the district has received telephone calls, "some very supportive" of Buerk.

REACTION BY other school districts employing the men has varied. A spokesman for the Center for Creative Studies would only say that "all the proper people have been notified (of Jenkins' arrest). They are aware of the situation. That's all the information I have for you."

An official for the Detroit Community Music School confirmed that Jenkins was a previous director there. He reportedly left several years ago to work for the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, returning later to the Center for Creative Studies.

The Plymouth-Canton School District suspended May without pay; however, the Livonia district has taken no disciplinary action against Myers.

"Until we get more information, we're not going to take an accusatory position," said Roy Montambeau, asstant superintendent for personnel." The other educator, Goode, resigned as principal in Romulus.

OTHERS ARRESTED include Bobby Joe Thomas, 39, of Canton, director of Uniserve for the Michigan Education Association; Tommy Moore Jr., 33, of Canton; Daniel N. Dunn, 36, of Westland; William A. Luallen, 55, of Livonia; and Ronald C. Rice, 43, of Westland.

Also arrested were Edwin R. Armstrong, 50, of Romulus; Frank F. Buchanan, 43, of Inkster; Ernest L. Quenon, 59, of Ann Arbor; Scott M. Smith, 26, of Novi; William A. Murphy Jr., 51, of Grosse Pointe Park; John M. Tate, 43, of Dearborn; Daniel G. Toro, 37, of Harrison; Phillip W. Chilson, 29, of Clarkston; Rick A. Cottenham, 23, of Belleville; Jeffrey J. Olyasz, 24, of Detroit; Dale L. Summers, 29, of Elk Rapids; Paul H. Rufus, 21, of East Lansing; Robert D. Christian, 46, of Wayne; and Steven C. Luma, 22, of Taylor.

The state police "attempt to enforce the law at all times, with uniformed police officers" routinely patrolling the rest stop, and "once or twice a year with undercover officers," Shewell said.

Shewell expects homosexual activity at the rest stop will slow down "for about a week" after the extensive media coverage the arrests have received, he said.

"We can't stop it. We just try to keep it in check."

Mr. Lion, alias William Baker, helps a packed crowd in the Pontiac Silverdome do the wave during a Detroit Lions game.

Mr. Lion A Baker tradition

By Dan Dean
staff writer

Fifty years of tradition are carried on each time William Baker steps into the lion costume that he wears as the Detroit Lions mascot.

Baker, 23, a 1979 graduate of Westland John Glenn High School, is the fourth Baker to wear the mascot costume since his grandfather, William, originated the idea in 1934.

The present mascot's father, who carried on the name William as well as the costume, and his brother, Dan Baker, preceded him.

Until the first home game of this season, the lion mascot always has been accompanied by a smaller cub. Marilyn Malkovich, Baker's aunt, started the season as the cub, but she unexpectedly died Sept. 17. The present Baker is carrying on without a cub for the first time in 50 years.

Malkovich only worked three games, but she will be missed by many.

"She was really excited and couldn't wait to get back. She made friends real easy with the fans and photographers who cover the games," Baker said.

THE ROUTINE that Baker goes through as the mascot comes naturally. Walking the sidelines, he waves to the crowd, shaking hands with small kids and even signing autographs.

"Signing autographs is hard. I never know what to write. I can't write the same thing each time," he said.

Little kids really seem to enjoy it. Shouts of "Mr. Lion, Mr. Lion," can be heard as Baker walks along the railing on the Pontiac Silverdome floor. Some of the shy youngsters are accompanied by their parents as they come to the railing to shake the lion's hand or get his autograph.

For Baker, the best part is the children.

"I LOVE kids and like to see them smile. To go out there and get them (fans) to smile and laugh is what counts," he said, sitting half dressed in his costume in the Pistons locker room where he changes before each game.

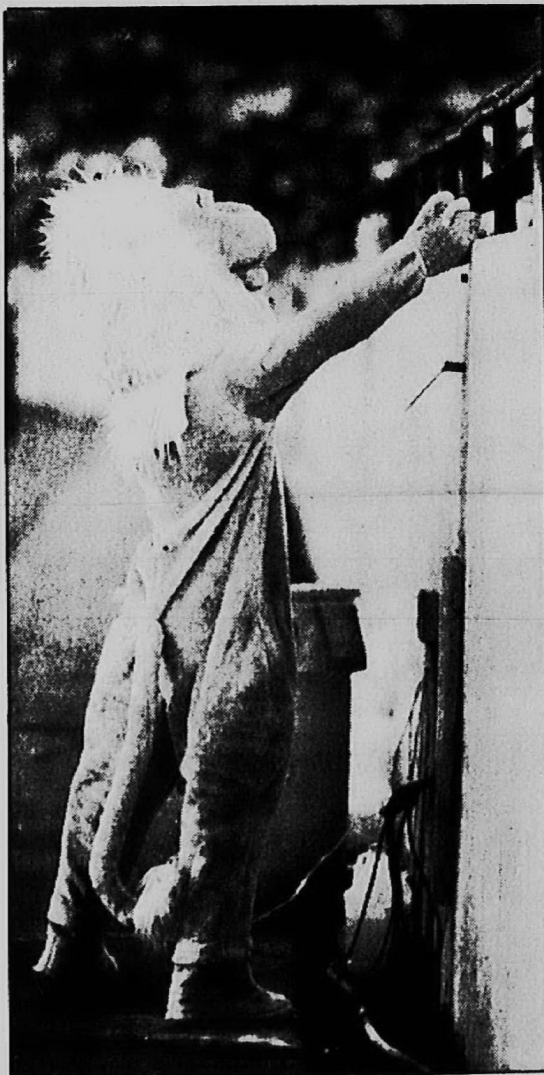

Now that Baker has the job of mascot, he plans to keep it for a long time.

"I used to go down to Tiger Stadium with my dad when he was the mascot and the Lions played there. I always wanted to be the mascot and always knew I would someday.

"Now that I am, I will keep it in the family forever. I'll see to it."

Baker's daughter, Robin, who is 4, already is asking when she can be the little lion. And, Baker and his wife, Phyllis, are expecting another William to eventually take over the big lion role.

With backup support like that, the Baker tradition doesn't seem to be in any danger for some time.

Handshakes and autographs are the order of the day as Mr. Lion patrols the sidelines.

William Baker is fourth in a line of Bakers to don the mascot suit.

Dingeldey steps in for Flodin

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

With Canton still reeling with the news of Clerk John Flodin's death, the township's Democratic committee met Thursday night to appoint a candidate to run in his place in the Nov. 6 general election.

Flodin, 63, elected clerk in 1956 and to successive terms ever since, died early Thursday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ypsilanti. He was diagnosed with Hodgkin's disease last May and had been undergoing radiation treatments.

Community leader Mary Dingeldey — an unsuccessful candidate for township trustee in 1980, former Canton Historical Society secretary, and Canton Sesquicentennial chairwoman — was selected to run for clerk based on her "qualifications, capability to do the job, and proven record of service and interest in the community," said James Kosteva, co-vice chairman of the Canton committee of the 15th Congressional District executive board.

In tribute to Flodin, Dingeldey refrained from discussing her appointment Friday. She was preparing to call a press conference for today, however. "I don't expect to fill John's shoes, because I don't think anyone could. I loved him and thought a lot of him," Dingeldey said.

Throughout Wayne County Friday, Flodin was saluted as flags in townships and several cities flew at half-mast.

Flodin's death came as a shock to many of his colleagues and friends. The lifelong Canton resident learned recently his cancer was cured, and expected to fully regain his health after completing his treatments. Until his hospitalization Oct. 6, Flodin had been spending his days making outpatient visits to the hospital and working, despite extreme fatigue and susceptibility to infection. From his hospital bed, Flodin kept in touch via telephone with his staffers, completed election questionnaires and signed documents.

FUNERAL SERVICES, with an honor guard presiding, were performed for Flodin at Uht Funeral Home Saturday in Westland.

Police escorted a lengthy motorcade to Sheldon Cemetery in Canton. Flodin is survived by his wife Bernice, daughter Mary Jo Marsh of Belleville, son-in-law Richard Marsh, and three grandchildren. Memorial contributions may be made to the charity of the donor's choice.

There was an outpouring Friday of sorrow and deep affection for Flodin as his countless friends and colleagues eulogized him.

One of Flodin's oldest associates, former Canton Supervisor Phil Dingeldey, christened a friendship with the future clerk decades ago when Flodin landed a job as Canton dog catcher.

"I don't know how I can tell you enough of the good things about him," said Dingeldey in a phone interview from his Englewood, Fla. retirement home.

"John was always willing to do anything he could for the people. He did it without looking for any reimbursement of any kind, other than a thank you or something.

"I sure would like everyone to know that John helped Canton grow to where it is," said Dingeldey.

U.S. Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor — who presented Flodin with an American flag during the Sesquicentennial Time Capsule burial last month — said Flodin gave "matchless dedication to his very important and key responsibilities in township government. It is a tribute to both John and the community that his services were retained year after year, and he will be missed by all who appreciate competence and dedication in public office."

"WHAT DO YOU say about an institution when it passes?" asked Supervisor James Poole. "It's the ending of an era. And whenever there's an ending there's a beginning. Even though it's the beginning of a new era, it will never be as bright, nor as positive, nor as gentle because John was a man for all people.

"He will not be replaced. Ever. And anyone who tries to replace John is a fool.

"Tact is the ability to tell someone to go to hell and have them look forward to the trip," Poole added. "He never did that very often, but when he gave you advice, you often thought it was your own idea, and you looked forward to implementing it.

"It's going to be a little bleak driving in here each day without that brown car out there."

A short eulogy for Flodin will be given at tomorrow night's board meeting, Poole said. A memorial fund to be established in Flodin's name may be used to erect a statue or fountain in front of township hall, and/or install playground equipment in Flodin Park. Plans are to be finalized this week.

TRUSTEE ROBERT Padgett feared whatever he said might sound trite or insincere — something he would hate "because of all the respect, love and loyalty I have for that man," said Padgett.

"If you were to measure the significance of a person's life based upon the number of other lives they've affected in a positive, quiet, subtle and unassuming way, John Flodin may well be the greatest person many of us will ever have the privilege of knowing in our lives. He is a tremendous loss, because the true care and love he had for the community he takes with him," said Padgett.

"The coming days as we reflect on John maybe will cause us to dedicate a little more of ourselves to live for the public good. He had tremendous love and respect for good, old-fashioned values, like family, people, and community."

TRUSTEE STEVE Larson felt a deep, personal loss.

"I was as devastated when John passed away as I was when my grandfather did," Larson said.

"I had the same kind of respect and admiration for them both. To the community, it's a terrible loss. One of the reasons Canton is like it is is because of John Flodin's contributions. You can credit John's foresight and leadership for the planning of this community. He is one of the people who made the decision to put sewers in, which enabled subdivisions to be built and for the township to develop," said Larson.

"The vast majority of people who knew him had an instinctively good feeling from him. That's why he had so many friends and was so effective in government.

Dan Greenberg

Director ignored his own advice

"The Little Drummer Girl" director, George Roy Hill, appeared some years ago in one of the best documentaries about film-making, an hour-long production "The Making of Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid."

In that documentary, Hill made three important points: (1) Directors are in trouble when they become enamored of ideas that don't play well, (2) There are certain emotions that can't be acted, and (3) Girls slow up the pace in action movies.

Unfortunately, Hill failed to take his own advice in "The Little Drummer Girl" and what could have been an exciting espionage film turns out to be slow, unconvincing, unmotivated, uneven and overly long. It is true that both sides lose their humanity when violence is a tool of political effort. But it turns out to be difficult to film such an idea in the action, espionage and double-agent genre.

BACKDROPPED BY the Arab-Israeli conflict, "The Little Drummer Girl" is a major production based on John le Carre's bestseller, but the effort only shows on the surface. Visually the film looks very convincing, but the story and characterization of the star, Diane Keaton, leave much to be desired.

Charlie (Keaton) is the lead in an English repertory company and an actress on the lookout for television commercial assignments. She becomes involved with the Palestinian refugee cause through her attraction for a masked terrorist speaker, Michel (Moti Shirin), brother of terrorist leader Khalil (Sami Frey).

Charlie, in all her charming naivete, then becomes an Israeli double agent after she mistakes Israeli agent Joseph (Yorgo Voyagis) for her would-be lover, Michel.

Now there in that plot summary lies the fatal flaw in Hill's direction of "The Little Drummer Girl." Keaton, for all her talent, never makes it as a politically astute British actress reminiscent of Vanessa Redgrave.

Her performance in the play within the film, as Joan Arc, falls far short of British theatrical standards and is characteristic of her entire role — never truly committed to the Palestinian cause and confused in her conversion to the Israeli cause. The confusion is the audience's as well as hers.

IT'S HARD TO KNOW whether the problem is the girl slowing up the action or poor direction. Certainly Hill falls far short of his usual stylish, upbeat production.

The film looks very well, with extensive, and probably expensive, location shooting in West Germany, Greece, Lebanon, Israel and England. The Greek location included the first filming allowed in 20 years at the Acropolis and the first ever at night. The effort was attractive but wasted.

With the exception of Keaton's work (suffering from Hill's direction rather than her acting), the company performs extremely well. A wide array of multinational actors — many of whom though unknown in the United States have had major European careers — see their talent misused.

Klaus Kinski as Kurtz, a leader of the Israeli counterintelligence unit, plays a minor role — minor in the story, in screen time and in characterization. Truly a waste for the star of "Fitzcarraldo," "Aguirre: the Wrath of God" and "Nosferatu, the Vampire."

Finally, the film's flawed construction includes two Hollywood endings, in the worst sense of the term, a John-Wayne-shoot-'em-up and the lovers walking off into the sunset. Hardly consonant with the subject or with earlier attempts at realism. "The Little Drummer Girl" rolls on for 130 minutes. You should roll on by the theater and save your time.

Visually, the film looks very convincing, but the story and characterization of the star, Diane Keaton, leave much to be desired.

Telephone seminar set

Long-distance phone service will be the subject of a Thursday seminar sponsored by the Lakepointe Home-owners Association.

"In the next six to 12 months everyone will be deciding who they want to handle their long-distance service," said John O'Riley, Lakepointe president.

"We thought it might be useful to hear what they have to say rather than listening to a 60-second spot on TV," O'Riley said.

As a result of the recent AT&T breakup, phone customers will have to declare in the future which company they want for long-distance service.

Six long-distance companies will be making presentations at the seminar, including: Sprint, Satellite Business Systems, AT&T, MCI, Allnet and Lexitel.

Each of the companies will make 10-15 minute presentations, followed by questions from the audience.

"The phone companies are really excited about it," O'Riley said. "Each of them said they never heard of something like this being done in this area."

The free seminar will start at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria at Central Middle School at the corner of Main and Church in Plymouth.

O'Riley said the seminar is open to the public.

BRACES AND SPLINTS IN ARTHRITIS

— If you have arthritis in the knees, you may have encountered an occasion when you started to take a step, but your leg "gave out," and you fell. You may have wondered why your doctor didn't order a brace to prevent a recurrence.

— The reason that your knee gave way was because your body anticipated that the next step would cause pain. A reflex over which you have no control took over, and would not permit that next step to happen. The appropriate treatment is to stop joint irritation, not support a knee which is basically sound.

— Furthermore, the arthritic knee is subject to changing degrees of swelling and shifting areas of discomfort, making a brace to fit such varying conditions difficult.

— One instance where a brace-like device is appropriate is in the use of a night splint to keep the wrist in a cock-up position. The arthritic wrist tends to assume a drooped and flexed position below the forearm, wrist splints which hold the wrist in an up-position, preserve function of the hand

BACK PAIN

If back pains are a way of life for you, the reasons can be varied and complex. Some may be pathological, but very often the cause is muscles which are either over or under-exercised which are producing spinal distortion. Vertebral slip into abnormal positions, resulting in "pinched" and irritated nerves, which cause pain and even loss of function of the affected body part. Poor posture, or even emotional tension, can be the root cause.

Community Fund staffed by volunteers

(Part 3)

It was called The Plymouth Community Fund for the first 40 years of its existence.

Last year the board of directors decided its name should be extended to become Plymouth Community Fund United Way. That was to make it clear to contributors and beneficiaries that the local fund is affiliated with United Way of Michigan.

ALTHOUGH SOME of the money collected locally goes to help support United Way and other regional services, the bulk of it goes to agencies which directly serve people in the city and township of Plymouth.

These include the local citadel of the Salvation Army, the Senior Citizens Club of Plymouth, the Plymouth Community YMCA, the Plymouth Dental Fund, Plymouth Family Service, the Plymouth Opportunity House, Growth Works, and the Plymouth Community Council on Aging.

As new needs are recognized, the board adds agencies to its list of beneficiaries. The most recent is First Step, a private non-profit organization which provides services to families experiencing domestic violence. The service includes legal assistance and emergency shelter.

About 75 percent of the money raised by the Community Fund comes from local industry in the form of corporate and employee contributions. Another 11 percent comes from commercial establishments and 9 percent from service clubs, professional people, educational and governmental staffs and foundations. The balance of 5 percent comes from residential contributions.

OVER THE YEARS a number of industrial firms, such as Daisy Manufacturing Co., Evans Products Co. and Associated Spring have moved from the community, but firms have moved in to take up the slack — Western Electric, the Ford Heater plant, and A-Line which recently occupied the plant which formerly housed Associated Spring.

The Burroughs plant is not as busy as it was a number of years ago, but the Ford plant recently expanded. That the area has been able to attract new industry as others move out has been fortunate both for the community and for the Plymouth Community Fund.

All of the citizens who serve on the Community Fund board and who staff its annual fund-raising drives do so without pay. The same is true of Clarence A. DuCharme who has been executive director of the organization since 1981. In March of that year, DuCharme closed his local American Motors automotive business.

"I never intended to retire," he says, "and I needed something to do, so I volunteered to work for the Plymouth Community Fund."

When told that the community was lucky to find a person of his capabilities who is willing to devote his time gratis, DuCharme smiled and replied: "I'm getting more out of it than the community does. I'm getting the satisfaction of keeping busy and of doing something worthwhile."

DuCharme got interested in the Plymouth Community Fund when he was elected to the board of directors in 1975. He was the board president in 1980. With the 6½ years he has been executive director, DuCharme knows more about the fund, its contributors and the agencies it helps to support than anyone else in the area.

He is ably assisted on a part-time basis by Marie Morrow, the only one on the staff who is paid. Morrow, a housewife, is a legal secretary who is continuing her education at the University of Michigan.

AT THE START of this year's drive in August, the 1984 drive chairman, past and present

Sam Hudson

Judge James Garber, announced that the goal this year is $365,000, up about 10 percent from last year's goal of $330,000.

Asked why the annual goal of the Community Fund has gone up over the years, DuCharme says the needs of the agencies it serves have continued to increase. Part of this is due to inflation and part as a result of the agencies serving more people as the nature of their services has become better known. And as society has become more complex, more needs have arisen.

At the kickoff dinner in August, Board President William L. Robinson said the directors scrutinize each agency's request for funds. He said some of the agencies have been known to return funds they have not used.

As a result of a committee study, the Community Fund added a computer to its operations this past year. DuCharme says it has been of great value during the campaign now in progress.

What happened to the torch that used to flame in Kellogg Park until the annual goals was reached? "We did away with that during the energy crisis a few years ago," DuCharme said. "This year, we have a new thermometer board that show the progress of the drive as each of our committee chairmen report contributions from their sectors."

Plymouth is indeed better off for having citizens who are willing to spend their time, without recompense, serving on the Community Fund board, heading up committees and knocking on doors to make sure local agencies have enough funds to continue to meet the community's social, charitable and welfare needs.

What will follow Series success?

All is not gold that glitters.

This old saying came to mind the other evening when Sparky Anderson got on television and, in jubilation over the Tigers victory in the World Series, proclaimed that this team was a stable one and was good for 10 years.

Of course he was speaking to an audience that still was celebrating the victory and the season's record. But a glance at the pages of history — especially the Tigers — one would learn that the Tigers had some soul searching days even in the years they won the pennant.

For instance there was a sad note not too long after the Tigers won the Series in 1935 — the first in 25 years. There was a wild time in the city, the suburbs and the entire state. But the one person most concerned was Frank J. Navin, the Tiger owner who had waited all those years for another title. He had gloried in the fact that they won in the 1907-08 and '09. But he wanted another title in modern times.

THEN IT came. With Mickey Cochrane, one of the fightingest managers of all times at the helm, the Tigers beat the Chicago Cubs on the famous

the stroller

W.W. Edgar

"blooper" that enabled Mickey to score the winning run the final inning.

The city and the entire surrounding areas went wild in celebration, but the most pleased person was Navin as he sat in his office accepting congratulations.

His joy didn't last long. Within a few weeks he sauntered over to his riding club, got astride one of his favorite horses. Then misfortune struck. He fell off and died within a short time.

His passing gave control of the team to Walter O. Briggs with whom he had a deal. But fate struck again. This time the victim was Cochrane who was hit on the head by a pitched ball in Yankee Stadium and never fully recovered.

And it wasn't long until Briggs also passed. But before he left he sold the team to a group that included John Fetzer, the owner of the team until last spring.

ONLY A FEW years later in another Series Steve O'Neil managed the team to victory. But like his predecessor, he fell victim to a malady and left the baseball world behind. He had suffered from the gout and oftentimes managed the team from the bandages on the bench — as a cripple. His passing was another great loss.

The glory days came again in 1945 when the Tigers conquered the Chicago Cubs again in a Series when Hank Greenberg made a comeback after getting out of the Army. He was then traded on waivers to Pittsburgh. It was a great triumph in 1968 with Denny McLain pitching more than 30 victories and Mickey Lolich winning three games in the Series against the Cardinals.

But the Tigers couldn't bask in that glory too long.

So, you see, there is no telling what is in the offing. Even Sparky Anderson, despite his pledge to win a pennant in five years came true, has no way on having this so-called glory carry on.

Lark's Denmark opens travelogue Wednesday

Denmark will be the featured country Wednesday when the Plymouth Kiwanis Foundation opens its annual travelogue series at Plymouth Salem High School.

Ed Lark will present "Another Scandinavian Experience: Denmark" at 8:10 p.m. in the auditorium of Salem High on Joy Road just west of Canton Center Road.

The travel series is sponsored by the Kiwanis Foundation, a joint fund-raising arm of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club and the Kiwanis Club of Colonial Plymouth.

Denmark, the gateway to Scandinavia, is the oldest kingdom in the world. It was the first among Scandinavian countries to be influenced by European culture.

Lark, himself a Scandinavian, features in the film Tivoli Amusement Park in the spring and the famous Tivoli Marching Band. He shows Stroget, Copenhagen's main shopping street where automobiles aren't permitted.

Viewers will see Danish wares at Illum Department Store, watch porcelain being made at the Bing and Grondahl Factory and learn how Danish pastries are made.

GREAT PUMPKIN COOKIE CAPERS

...Bake Up a Batch of Halloween Fun

Giant pumpkins, hootowls and funny-face goblins — they're all cookies, all wholesome — all part of a safe and happy Halloween. The enticing cookie recipes that follow make bewitching party fare for Halloween celebrations at home or at school — a popular safe alternative to "trick or treats" on the streets. Each is prepared with flavorful solid pack canned pumpkin, notable for its generous content of Vitamin A, plus iron, Vitamin C and other valuable nutrients.

This year, why not let the young folk share in some cookie-making capers for a fun-filled Halloween? Inexperienced youngsters will need supervision when taking cookie sheets in or out of a hot oven. But even if children are too young to bake, they can still share the fun of decorating a gigantic pumpkin cookie, shaping CANDIED PUMPKIN DANDIES into balls or using cookie cutters for PUMPKIN COOKIE MONSTERS.

The GREAT PUMPKIN PAN COOKIE, freckled with real chocolate morsels, is a delectable 14-inch specialty designed to treat a whole gathering of pals. The cookie dough (or the baked, cooled cookie) can be frozen ahead, a time-saver for busy party planners. Let the youngsters frost the pumpkin in a jack-o'-lantern motif. It's easy to slice, so guests can carve their own serving in any shape they like.

PUMPKIN COOKIE MONSTERS, cut from a roll-out dough are easily transformed into owls, ghosts, goblins and funny faces with cookie cutters or cardboard patterns. With a few pokes and pinches to the basic cut-out shapes, the children's own imaginative creations can emerge. Have a variety of packaged frostings, tubes of icing, small hard candies, raisins and nuts on hand to decorate the "monsters" in Halloween style. Peanut butter is a tasty way to attach cookie decorations.

For a bite of pleasure and look of adventure, bake a batch of SCRUMPTIOUS PUMPKIN BROWNIES. Butterscotch flavored morsels, sprinkled over the brownies while they're still warm, melt to spreadable consistency for a quick 'n easy frosting, decorated with a spidery web of chocolate.

Pumpkin cookie capers will help make the celebration remembered — long after Halloween.

|---|---|
| 2 cups flour | 1 cup granulated sugar |
| 1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked | 1 egg |
| 1 teaspoon baking soda | 1 teaspoon vanilla extract |
| 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon | 1 cup solid pack pumpkin |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1 cup semi-sweet real chocolate morsels |
| 1 cup butter or margarine, softened | Assorted icing or peanut butter |
| 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar | Assorted candies, raisins or nuts |

Preheat oven to 350°F. Combine flour, oats, baking soda, cinnamon and salt. Cream butter, gradually add sugars, beating until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla, mix well. Alternate additions of dry ingredients and pumpkin, mixing well after each addition. Stir in morsels. Spread dough into greased and floured 14-inch deep dish pizza pan. Bake 35 to 40 minutes, until wooden pick inserted near center comes out clean. Cool on rack 15 minutes. Remove cookie from pan. Cool completely. Decorate using icing or peanut butter to affix assorted candies, raisins or nuts. Cut into squares or wedges to serve. Yields about 24 servings.

Variation: Substitute 1 cup raisins for morsels.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened | 2 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice |
| 2 cups firmly packed brown sugar | 1 teaspoon baking powder |
| 1 cup solid pack pumpkin | 1/2 teaspoon baking soda |
| 2 eggs, slightly beaten | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 1 teaspoon vanilla extract | 1/2 cup chopped walnuts (optional) |
| 1-1/2 cups flour | 2 cups butterscotch flavored morsels |
| 1-1/2 cups quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked | 1/2 cup semi-sweet real chocolate morsels |

Preheat oven to 350°F. In large bowl, cream butter and sugar, add pumpkin, eggs and vanilla. Stir in flour, oats, spice, baking powder, baking soda, salt, and walnuts. Spread batter into greased and floured 15-1/2 x 10-1/2 inch jelly roll pan (or two 8-inch square baking pans). Bake 25 to 30 minutes; (30 to 35 minutes for 8-inch pans). Immediately sprinkle butterscotch morsels on brownies, let stand 5 minutes. To frost, gently spread butterscotch morsels to cover brownies. In small saucepan, melt chocolate morsels over low heat. Drizzle over frosted brownie in a spiral design. While still warm, lightly drag the edge of a knife or thin metal spatula from the center of the spiral to the edge of the pan. Repeat motion at spaced intervals to make a spider web pattern. Cool completely before slicing. Yields about 3 dozen bars.

|-----------------------------------|---|
| 1/4 cup shortening | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 2/3 cup firmly packed brown sugar | 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger |
| 1/2 cup solid pack pumpkin | 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon |
| 3/4 cup light molasses | 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg |
| 3 cups sifted flour | 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice |
| 1 teaspoon baking soda | Icing, raisins, gum drops and other candies |

Cream shortening and sugar; stir in pumpkin and molasses. Sift together flour, baking soda, salt and spices. Add to pumpkin mixture, one-third at a time, mixing thoroughly after each addition. Cover; chill 2 to 3 hours. Preheat oven to 375°F. On well-floured surface, roll out dough to 1/8-inch thickness. Cut with assorted floured cookie cutters (or cut around floured cardboard patterns). Gently place on greased baking sheets. Bake 8 to 10 minutes or until firm to the touch. Remove from baking sheets, cool on wire racks. Decorate with icing, raisins and candies. Yields 2 dozen (3-inch) cookies.

CANDIED PUMPKIN DANDIES

(not illustrated)

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 cup solid pack pumpkin | 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg |
| 1 cup sugar | Finely chopped walnuts or peanuts |
| 1-1/4 cups flaked coconut, lightly packed | Red and green candied cherries (optional) |
| 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon | |

In large heavy saucepan, combine pumpkin, sugar, coconut and spices; mix well. Cook over medium-high heat, stirring constantly, about 15 to 20 minutes. Candy is done when it becomes very thick and leaves the side of pan, forming a ball in center when stirred. Turn mixture out onto a buttered baking sheet; cover loosely with foil or plastic wrap, cool completely. Lightly butter hands and shape candy into balls; roll in chopped nuts. Top each with a candied cherry half, if desired. Cover and store in refrigerator. Yields about 2-1/2 dozen candies.

VARIATION: For a crunchier candy, stir 1 cup crushed granola into cooked candy before cooling and shaping.

Abundant apples are fine fare for modern microwave cooking

Johnny Appleseed, the pioneer who became a legendary figure in American history, traveled for 40 years in Ohio and Indiana during the 1800s carrying apple seeds with him wherever he went. He planted them in thinly settled areas and as a result of his dedication and foresight, apples are available in abundant types and quantities.

Try these two delightful apple recipes from a microwave oven cookbook. One features apples baked in a lightly spiced molasses syrup. The second recipe is for Dutch Apple Cake, which cooks in only 14 1/2 minutes and is an ideal dessert for blustery fall days.

DUTCH APPLE CAKE

Total cooking time: 14 minutes, 30 seconds

- Wheat germ
- 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 3/4 tsp. salt
- 3/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
- 3 medium cooking apples
- 1 egg

- 3/4 tsp. vanilla
 - 3/4 cup cooking oil
 - 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
 - 3/4 cup finely chopped walnuts
- Powdered Sugar Icing (recipe below)

Grease a 9-inch microwave tube dish. Sprinkle inside of dish with wheat germ to coat. Stir together flour, baking soda, salt, and cinnamon. In mixer bowl combine egg and vanilla. Beat on HIGH speed for 2 minutes. Gradually add oil, beating till thick. Gradually beat in sugar. Add dry ingredients alternately with apples, beating after each addition. Beat at MEDIUM speed for 3 minutes. Stir in walnuts. Turn batter into prepared dish. Place in microwave oven.

Cook for 13 minutes at MEDIUM, giving dish a quarter turn twice. Cook for 1 1/2 minutes at HIGH till cake tests done, giving dish a half turn once. Cool on counter top for 10 minutes. Remove from pan. Cool thoroughly on rack.

Drizzle with Powdered Sugar Icing. Makes 12 servings.

Powdered Sugar Icing: Stir together 1 cup sifted powdered sugar, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla, and enough milk (about 1 1/4 tablespoons) to make of drizzling consistency.

SPICY MOLASSES BAKED APPLES

Total cooking time: 6 minutes

- 1/2 cup water
- 1/4 cup light molasses
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 tbsp. lemon juice
- 1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
- 1/4 tsp. ground nutmeg
- 4 large baking apples

In small bowl combine water, molasses, sugar, lemon juice, cinnamon, and nutmeg; set aside. Core apples and peel 1/2 of the way down. In 1 1/2-quart casserole place apples; pour molasses mixture over. Place in microwave oven.

Cook apple mixture for 3 minutes at HIGH. Turn apples over and spoon sauce over. Cook for 3 minutes at HIGH till apples are almost tender. Garnish with thin strips of orange peel, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

TIPS AND TECHNIQUES

Cakes rise higher in the microwave oven, so fill the pans just half full.

When using conventional recipes, decrease ingredients by 1/4-1/2 (decrease liquid slightly more than other ingredients) to make the right amount of batter. Or make the conventional recipe and bake extra batter as cupcakes.

To enhance the color of light-colored cakes, coat the inside of the dish with wheat germ instead of flour. Other good coatings are graham cracker crumbs or finely ground nuts. If the cake is to be frosted or is deep in color, use granulated sugar.

Let cakes stand 10-15 minutes on the counter top to complete cooking. Then place on a wire rack to cool completely.

Greg Melikov

Anyway you slice it, it's still meatloaf

I've prepared meat loaf in a skillet. I've made meat loaf in a slow cooker. But I've decided that my favorite way to cook meat loaf is in the oven.

You can prepare meat loaf just with ground beef or combined with pork or veal or both. I tried a veal loaf, but I didn't care for it. The texture wasn't right and the taste was on the bland side.

I've tried an all-pork loaf, but it shrinks too much and tastes on the overly spicy side. Combining beef with pork is your best bet. But stay away from those prepackaged beef-pork combinations because you most likely will pay the same price for the pork sandwiched between the more expensive ground beef.

I noticed on one shopping trip that the ground pork in the same meat case was selling for about half as much per pound separately as the combination.

Naturally, the leaner the beef you see, the less shrinkage. You can top your meat loaf with rings of green pepper or even onions. You can pour on some ketchup, too, if you desire.

However, I prefer to add ketchup or hot sauce after the meat loaf bakes.

MEAT LOAF CREOLE

- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 envelope tomato-onion soup mix
- 1 cup water
- 1 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 1/2 cups soft white bread crumbs
- 1 tsp. butter
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 2 1/2 lbs. ground beef
- 1 lb. ground pork

Preheat oven at 350 degrees. In large bowl, combine eggs and soup mix, stir in water until well mixed. Stir in salt and bread crumbs. In skillet, melt butter and saute green pepper and celery 5 minutes. Add beef, pork, green pepper and celery 5 minutes. Add beef, pork, green pepper and celery to egg mixture and combine with hands. Use moistened hands to shape meat into loaf in 2-quart baking dish, bake 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 hours and remove to platter. Yields 10-12 servings.

MEAT LOAF HOT SAUCE

- 1 cup chili sauce
- 1/2 cup beer
- 2 tsp. prepared mustard
- 1/4 tsp. hot pepper sauce

Combine all ingredients in small saucepan and heat through, stirring. Yields 1 1/2 cups. Serve sauce over meat loaf.

Afraid to eat spinach?

If spinach salad has been an all-American favorite, how come people are now afraid to eat it? Fear of cholesterol! Not in the salad, but in the bacon fat dressing usually associated with it.

As this recipe from the test kitchens of Bertolli Olive Oil shows, there's more than one way to dress your salad. A very flavorful, no cholesterol way.

Pure olive oil has no cholesterol. But unlike other vegetable oils, olive oil does more than just add liquid to a salad dressing. It adds taste. It's the light, distinctive taste of olive oil that's made it the prime ingredient in classic salad dressings as well as unusual ones such as this.

SPINACH MUSHROOM SALAD

- 8 cups (about 1 lb.) spinach, torn into bite-sized pieces
- 8 oz. fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 2 small tomatoes, diced
- 1 sweet green pepper, cut into strips

QUICK TOMATO DRESSING

- 1/4 cup tomato sauce
- 2 tbsp. lemon juice
- 4 anchovy fillets, finely chopped
- 2 scallions, sliced
- 1 tsp. basil
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1/2 cup olive oil

Combine all dressing ingredients in a bowl and mix or whisk well to blend. Drizzle over salad ingredients and toss. Serves 6.

Microwave basics

If one glance at the front of your new microwave oven puts you in a panic because you can't find the "start" button, check the following guidelines.

- Always read the oven manufacturer's guidelines for operating the oven before microwaving any food. Every oven operates differently so read the manual included with your microwave oven.
- Microwave the simple foods first such as coffee, sweet rolls, etc. First day disasters with long, involved recipes can discourage any new cook.
- Set a goal to use your microwave at least four times per day, always trying a different food even if you are only reheating leftovers. You'll quickly learn that sizes, shapes and moisture contents of food affect timings.
- Because the microwave oven is easy to operate, once you've learned, show all family members how to properly use the oven. You don't have to be an experienced chef to be a good microwave cook. Practice makes perfect.
- Keep a notebook by the microwave and write down timings for foods you cook most often. It is a good reminder for you or the next person who uses the oven.
- Invest in a few microwave cooking classes. It's time and money well spent to get the greatest use of your microwave. Many microwave dealers offer free cooking classes where you purchased your oven.

CACCIATORE SAUCE FOR FRIED CHICKEN

- 1 pkg. (32 oz.) frozen prepared fully cooked fried chicken
- 1 medium onion, thinly sliced (about 3/4 cup)
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 can (16 oz.) whole tomatoes
- 1 can (6 oz.) tomato paste
- 1/2 tsp. oregano leaves
- 1/4 tsp. crushed basil leaves
- 1/4 tsp. garlic powder

Prepare chicken as directed on the package.

In 4-cup glass measure, combine onion and water. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave at HIGH 2 to 3 minutes, or until tender-crisp. Stir in tomatoes, tomato paste, oregano, basil and garlic powder. Microwave at HIGH 8 to 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve sauce with hot chicken. Makes 5 servings.

Fall is time to take advantage of pork specials

It traditionally has been a fact that retail pork supplies increase in the fall so it's not surprising the National Pork Producers Council recognizes the month of October as National Pork Month. The shift of seasons from summer to fall is a clear sign that hogs will be going to market.

Plentiful supplies no doubt will prompt many retailers to feature pork specials thus assuring attractive prices for consumers. Indeed, prices are expected to average around $1.60 per pound compared to $1.65 in 1983. And pork should remain comparatively inexpensive this winter with prices averaging around $1.64 compared to $1.60 last year.

Shoppers with an eye for value may want to consider buying a whole pork loin rather than the individual cuts it yields — chops, ribs and roast. And there's no better time to consider buying pork for the freezer.

Fresh pork's color ranges from grayish pink to delicate rose. Some cuts, particularly those from the loin, may be slightly two-toned in color. A firm texture with moderate marbling characterizes pork's fine quality.

In addition to being inexpensive, pork is remarkably versatile. The following recipes should go a long way toward illustrating pork's variety.

KIELBASA AND CHICKEN GUMBO

6 slices bacon
1 lb. kielbasa or smoked sausage, cut into 1-inch slices
½ lb. boneless chicken, cut into 1-inch chunks
¼ cup all-purpose flour
1 12-oz. can tomato juice
1 cup water
1 28-oz. can whole tomatoes, cut up
2 chicken bouillon cubes
1 8-oz. can tomato sauce
1½ cups sliced okra or 1 10-oz. pkg. frozen cut okra, thawed
1 medium onion, coarsely chopped

Sculptor Steve Wroble is able to work full time at the job he loves, now that the Plymouth artist has been selected to create a statue of LaSalle, the famous French explorer. At right is a half-size prototype of the statue. Wroble will make a mold from the wire mesh base.

Sculptor builds future on past

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

Plymouth artist Stephen Wroble can thank a 17th Century French explorer for helping him take a giant step forward professionally.

His interest in history combined with his love for sculpture were just what the City of Belleville was looking for, when it decided to commission him to create a statue of Rene-Robert Cavelier sieur de LaSalle.

Create is the right word, because no one really knows what LaSalle looks like, though his name is a household word, on everything from wines to streets in the Detroit area.

Though Wroble will be paid $17,000 to sculpt LaSalle, the Belleville Park Commission thinks it got a bargain: the cost of the same work in bronze would have run $25,000 and marble probably more.

"It would have cost $10,000 just to ship the statue from Italy, which is the only place where a marble statue could have been made," said Wroble.

His materials will cost Wroble $2,000-3,000, providing him with a nice net profit, so that everybody — Belleville and Wroble — come out ahead.

Wroble uses Design Cast, a synthetic material that was chosen by Wroble for its durability.

The sculptor began his work by building a half-size model that was presented to the Park Commission for approval. He then placed chicken-coop wire around a wood base and will coat the wire with cloth and then paint the cloth with liquid wax.

"I prefer wax, because it doesn't have to be kept wet, like clay," said Wroble. "Wax can be shaped."

Wroble will make a mold from the wax shape, then work on the Design Cast material out of the mold. The polymer resin final product will look like concrete, but have much better wear characteristics. "It's weather-proof," said Wroble.

The state of LaSalle could be the cornerstone of the 32-year-old sculptor's career. He has had to rely on sketches of the French explorer, since none of the other statues of LaSalle — including the one in the Smithsonian Institute — are considered reliable likenesses.

Since the demand for sculptors is not overwhelming, Wroble has been earning a living in other ways — on a farm, in a factory and most recently as a department manager for Vispac, Inc., a Livonia marketing services and distribution company.

But the LaSalle commission, which will occupy his time until August 1985, will allow him to be a full-time artist. It could also open the door to future projects.

What was LaSalle doing in Belleville, anyway? According to Wroble, the French explorer came from Quebec to establish a trading post in Chicago, but when his supply ship did not arrive, he started back to Quebec in mid-winter. He abandoned his canoes around French Landing in Belleville, in 1680.

Wroble has a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree from Michigan State University, with a minor in history.

"I like sculpting historical subjects," he said. "Especially the Middle Ages. I'm kind of a romantic. I look for heroes and like to do research. I try to be as accurate as I can on the details."

He also likes to do large projects, especially for municipal display.

"This is my biggest project," he said. Wroble points out that he is not a carver. A carver takes a chisel and chips away at stone or uses a knife on wood or other materials.

"I don't do that much carving," he said. "I prefer to start with detail. To carve, you cut away the detail. One is positive and the other is negative."

In his new home, he is a few blocks from Old Village, a good environment for an artist. "I like Plymouth," he said. "I like the atmosphere."

Wroble said he will work in his garage, unless it gets too cold, because the statue won't fit anywhere else.

But it will fit perfectly in Victory Park, Belleville, across from City Hall, where it will rest for centuries, if Wroble gets his wish.

Tiger fan hits century mark

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

While the Detroit Tigers were celebrating their once-in-a-generation World Series victory last week, Plymouth's Harry Norris celebrated a once-in-a-lifetime achievement of his own — he reached the century mark.

Like the Tigers, Norris was congratulated by President Ronald Reagan as his 100th birthday arrived Oct. 17, although the message came by mail and not by phone.

But he's sorry to see the World Series end — not because he didn't want Detroit to win, but because he'll miss watching them on TV.

Though his favorite Tiger is Kirk Gibson, Norris concedes, "They're all good boys." But their living habits are far different from those of the centenarian.

Norris doesn't smoke, chew tobacco or drink, but he's not a health freak either. He eats just about anything his mild diabetes allows him to eat, with a special fondness for ham and an aversion to fish.

HE REPRESENTS a strong argument that longevity is hereditary: his mother lived to be 96.

Norris was born in Lapeer in 1884. He grew up on a farm and was himself a farmer, but later became a carpenter. "I gave up that old farm to drive nails," he said.

He remembers "Old Blackie," one of his cows on the farm and he remembers his first car, a 1921 Ford. Blackie gave him "a lot of good milk," but his long-running Ford was equally productive, especially for its purchase price of $750.

The only dietary quirk Norris abides by is a glass of hot water with all of his meals. He has coffee in the morning and bread and milk before bedtime.

He takes two walks a day, straying about 100 yards from his apartment to watch the traffic on Sheldon Road.

Norris shares his apartment with his daughter, Wilva Markham, but prepares his own meals and does his own cleaning.

A granddaughter, Irene Carson, lives in Canton Township.

NORRIS HAS outlived two wives, but with four great-great-grandchildren and seven grandchildren, has plenty of company when birthdays arrive.

About 60 people attended his birthday party last week in Clinton.

Norris has no complaints about modern technology. His television set brought him the Tigers and brings him "Jeopardy" and "Wheel of Fortune" game shows nightly.

"I'm glad the horse and buggies are gone," he said. "They used to slop along in the mud."

Norris, who enjoys watching an occasional harvest, finds that farming is one of the things that have changed the most. The combines are air-conditioned now. "Everything (on the farm) is done so much differently. One (implement) does everything," he said.

"One thing about grandpa," said Carson, "he still has a sense of humor. You still run the ship, don't you?" she asked him.

NORRIS PROBABLY will cancel his regular winter visit to Florida this year. Last year, he was struck by a car in New Port Richey, but recovered quickly and completely.

He recalls the time when he was just a kid of 90, he drove his Chevy — the last car he would ever own — from Florida to Michigan so he could get a better price for it.

But even at 100, Norris hasn't done everything. What is the one thing he would like to do?

"I'd like to take a trip to Mexico," he said. "I'd do that right now."

Though he's slightly hard of hearing and his vision blurs when he reads the Bible, Norris has a ready explanation for his long and healthy life: "Help from the good old Lord."

Harry Norris, who turned 100 last week, chats with his granddaughter, Irene Carson. The Plymouth resident has been in nearly perfect health, although he was struck by a car in Florida last year. Norris received a greeting card from President Ronald Reagan.

Historical society seeks funds

Plymouth residents will find a letter from the Plymouth Historical Society in their mail today.

The society is seeking donations to be used to build up Plymouth Historical Society Trust. The trust, set up when the society came into existence 12 years ago, provides operating funds for the society. However, only the interest can be used.

The society is seeking $25,000 in donations from the 12,000-letter mailing. An anonymous local donor has indicated he will provide matching funds of $25,000, if the community can generate the other $25,000 by Jan. 1. The $50,000 total would be added to the trust.

The society already has received donations of $3,100 from five contributors.

Alpha Delta Kappa honors retired teachers

Forty retired teachers from the Plymouth-Canton School District were honored Monday by 35 members of Alpha Delta Kappa sorority in the Plymouth Historical Museum.

The "Appreciation Day" has become an annual event in Plymouth during ADK Week. The sorority provided coffee, tea and cakes — but mainly their company — during the fifth annual get-together.

"We hold the event to honor the retired teachers in the area," said Sharon Belobraidich, ADK president.

As the high school orchestra prepared for a mini concert for the retirees, Belobraidich explained that ADK members were interested in providing enlightenment to children and senior citizens in the Plymouth area.

"We do many charitable things for senior citizens," she said. "We also provide an Opportunity House for mentally handicapped young adults, a kidney drive, diabetes camp and educational sessions on blood pressure."

Local attorney named BPW Woman of Year

By Ariene Funke
special writer

These days women are attending law school in record numbers.

That wasn't the case three decades ago when Jean Wagner of Livonia fought prejudice to win her degree and set up a law practice. Today, Wagner is a well-known and respected attorney in Plymouth, a community activist and role model for other women.

She is one of eight local women recognized by clubs belonging to District 9 of the Business and Professional Women (BPW). She was honored by the Plymouth BPW chapter, of which she is a member.

Each year the BPW clubs give an Outstanding Woman award to a woman who makes substantial contributions to their careers and in the community. The award certificates were presented at a dinner recently at LeRight's restaurant in Westland.

AMONG THIS YEAR'S winners are

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Jean Wagner, Plymouth attorney, has been named Woman of the Year by the Business and Professional Women's organization.

a nurse, a banker, a library director, a television reporter and an administrative assistant to a councilwoman.

"My father was a lawyer and I started out very early doing errands for him," Wagner said. "When I told him I wanted to go to law school, he was very negative and told me women had no place in the law."

With the approval of her mother, Wagner persisted, earning her law degree from the University of Michigan in 1951. Snubbed by many male attorneys, Wagner practiced civil law alone.

With changing times, Wagner now is supported and accepted by male colleagues with whom she is affiliated in the Plymouth firm of Millar, Weinberg, Necker, Johnson, Wagner and Clark. She is on the board of directors of the Family Service counseling service and has been active in the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, taught law-related classes at Schoolcraft College, is a member of the Advisory Council of the Women's Resource Center at Schoolcraft and is on an advisory committee for U. S. Rep. Carl Pursell.

"There are still a lot of barriers to be broken down," said Wagner, who expressed gratitude to other women who have fought to have restrictions toppled. "That was the key thing, for women who were competent to be considered."

HONORED BY THE Garden City chapter was Evelyn Fitzpatrick, a pediatric nurse at Garden City Medical Center. Fitzpatrick was active in scouting, is a former member of the Garden City Youth Commission and has served on a citizens advisory council for the Garden City School District.

Fitzpatrick is a eucharistic minister at St. Raphael Catholic Church, has served as a poll worker and is past president of the Garden City BPW.

"It just seemed there was always something to do," Fitzpatrick said. "I have always been busy, active and involved, and it just comes naturally."

"When I was starting out, women either became nurses or teachers," Fitzpatrick added. "It's different now. Women should set their sights on a career choice, get the education or training and go ahead and be what they want to be."

Deborah O'Connor, director of the Canton Public Library, was honored by the Canton BPW. O'Connor has served in several leadership positions in her club, is past director of District 9 and has helped organize the Canton Country Festival, an annual parade and fair in Canton Township.

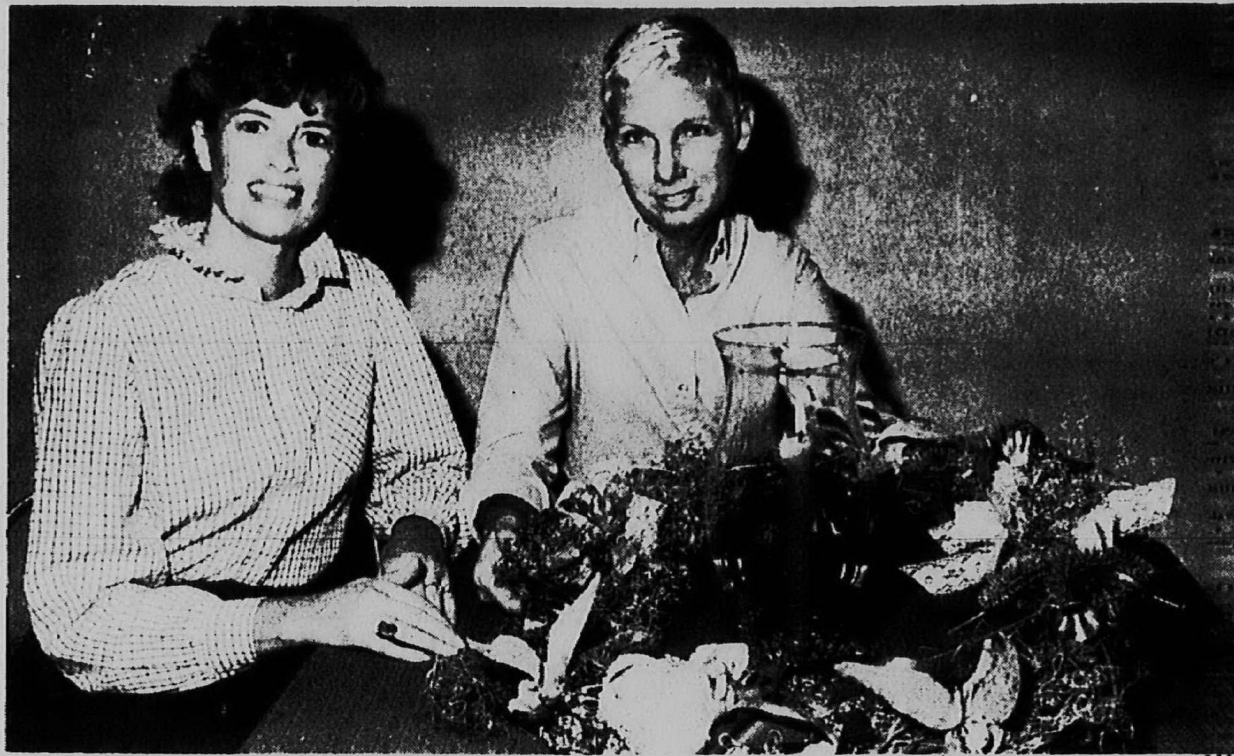

THE WAYNE BPW selected Lettie Gillooly, vice president of the Wayne Bank. She was cited for her efforts to help women customers with their banking needs.

Kathy Crawford was saluted by the Novi BPW. Crawford, a recreation coordinator for the Novi Parks and Recreation Department, works with senior citizens and handicapped youths. She also has been active in her community's schools and with the Michigan Jaycee Women.

Harriet Welland, a nursing instructor and historical activist, was honored by the Northville club. The Farmington BPW selected TV newswoman Robbie Timmons, winner of two Emmy awards for her reporting.

Detroit Business-Professional Women selected Carol King, active at the local, state and national levels for the National Organization for Women (NOW) since 1973. King is a regional director for NOW and is an administrative assistant for Detroit Councilwoman Maryanne Mahaffey.

District 9 clubs are located in Garden City, Plymouth, Canton, Wayne, Westland, Detroit, Northville, Farmington and Novi.

Sue Decker, left, and Judy Lore are co-chairwomen for this year's Plymouth Symphony League Victorian Christmas Ball, to be held Dec.

1 in the Plymouth Hilton. Members of the league got together last week to make decorations for the ball.

Canton woman honored for sales achievements

Jeanette Pflugh of Canton earned top honors for her sales and recruiting success with Jafrá Cosmetics Inc., a producer of skin-care products sold in the home by independent consultants.

Pflugh, a Jafrá manager, was flown by the company to its Westlake Village, Calif., headquarters, then to San Diego to take part in Jafrá's California Leadership Adventure where she received recognition for her achievements.

"Jeanette is a glowing example of a person who not only sets her goals, but achieves them," said Jafrá chairwoman Jan Day.

As an independent Jafrá consultant, Pflugh earned the all-expense-paid trip through a combination of her personal sales and sponsorship of others starting their own businesses.

"Jafrá has given me the chance to be in business for myself, and I love it," said Pflugh.

A full-time consultant with Jafrá for 10 years, Pflugh lives in Canton with her husband, Milton. They have two sons.

Jafrá, a subsidiary of The Gillette Co. since 1973, has a sales force of 60,000 consultants.

CC's muscle overwhelms Canton, 3-0

Canton's Rob Opatrny collars, literally, Catholic Central scoring ace Andy Rama. Rama didn't score a goal but he more than made his presence felt in the Shamrocks' 3-0 state tourney win Friday.

It's Shamrocks vs. Rocks Thursday

The Redford Catholic Central soccer team sent a little message to the cynics who would believe that it is a one-man team, dominating a weak Catholic League.

To those who think that CC cannot match up with teams from the powerful Western Lakes Soccer League, read this next line carefully: the Shamrocks not only beat Plymouth Canton 3-0 Friday in a state district tournament game, they dominated, frustrated and humbled them.

"We weren't out here to prove anything," said CC coach Paul Scicluna. "Mike Morgan is a fine man and a good coach and he has a good team. Unfortunately, there are those who have underestimated our team. So, we are in a position to prove ourselves. All we proved here today is that we can play soccer."

That's for sure. And they proved there was more to CC soccer than Andy Rama — although Rama, the state's premier goal scorer with 61 goals this season, is a threat anytime he's within 40 yards of the goal.

"LET ME be the first to say that they (CC) are more than a one-man team," said Morgan.

The Shamrocks dominated the game from the outset. John Rehm was all over Canton's outstanding goalie Brian Gavigan — literally, all over him. Gavigan, feeling he was bumped, let his feelings be known to the referee who promptly gave him a yellow card.

The ensuing indirect kick was blocked, then Rehm fired a shot over the net.

The pressure stayed in the Canton end. Rama and Dave Niebrzydowski just missed on a pretty passing play. Then Gavigan made a sterling save on a blistering kick from Rama.

Then it happened. Just 13:45 into the game, Rehm sent a corner kick in front of the net and Niebrzydowski headed it over Gavigan's outstretched arms: 1-0.

Soon after, CC threatened to score again. Rama was robbed twice in a row, neither time by Gavigan. Rama faked Gavigan out of the goal and let go a shot. Canton defenseman Rob Opatrny, however, got back to deflect it away.

Then Rama sent a slicing shot toward the far corner of the Canton goal. It beat Gavigan, but halfback Steve Morell was there to clear the ball out of the goal mouth.

THE ACTION was in the Canton zone for nearly all of the first half. Only once were the Chiefs dangerous. Late in the half, Tim Mueller got free down the left sideline. He blasted a shot at CC goalie Pat Stocker, who was equal to the task. Seconds later, Mueller took a sweet pass from Brad Neville and clearly had Stocker beat. His kick, however, sailed high.

It was as close as Canton would ever come to scoring on CC.

"We got beat in the midfield," said Morgan. "CC controlled the midfield. They were really charged up. I guess they wanted this game more than we did."

"Their size seemed to intimidate us. I really don't know why. The fast team will usually beat the big and slower team."

Not this time. No matter what Canton tried to, CC rejected it. If they tried to move through the middle, CC stuffed them. If they tried to attack the wings, CC turned them inside. It was a frustrating experience for the normally potent Canton offense.

The CC defense, namely Tom Godwin, Jeff Kuzma, Brent Wasik and Billy Wilson — and later in the game

Rama — were simply unpenetrable. The same can be said about midfielders Craig Thiel, C.J. Wendt, Brian Raftery, Tim Cotter and Niebrzydowski.

"I THINK we showed that CC was a team. Not just one guy. We are an 11-man team," Scicluna said. Catholic Central, specifically Rehm, put the contest in the bag in the second half.

Just seven minutes into the second half, Rehm took advantage of a mistake in the Canton defense to up CC's lead to 2-0. Cotter bounced a pass toward the Chief goal. The ball somehow eluded a Chief defender. Rehm was there to drill it into the net.

Rehm scored the third goal of the game unassisted with just over 20 min-

Miller goes beyond 1,000 yards as Harrison romps past Canton

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

It was an afternoon of milestones. It was an afternoon of friendship and reunions. It was homecoming day for the No. 1-ranked Farmington Harrison football team and the Hawks treated the large and enthusiastic crowd to a 40-7 drubbing of Plymouth Canton.

But above the celebration hovered a pall, a sense of impending despair.

The players weren't cognizant of it. The coaches did their best to put it out of their minds. But it was there. It was the main topic of conversation among the fans. It has been the main topic of conversation in prep football this year.

Harrison, clearly the best prep football team in the state and ranked among the top 20 in the nation, will very likely miss out on a chance to win the state championship.

Because of a terminally unfair playoff system devised by an ingenious bunch of bureaucrats that call themselves the Michigan High School Athletic Association, Harrison needs a miracle to make the playoffs — despite its 7-0 record and despite averaging more than 40 points per game and yielding less than seven.

TO GET IN the playoffs, at least two of the following teams must lose: DeLaSalle, Sterling Heights Stevenson or Birmingham Seaholm.

"That'll never happen," said Harrison coach John Herrington, who is trying like the dickens to remain optimistic.

"Obviously, it would be a big disappointment if we didn't make it," he said. "We are not just a good team. We are a great team."

"But I still feel that we'll get in. We have the best team and somehow, something is going to happen to get us in. I really believe that."

Herrington will be on the state's playoff committee next year. He said that he is certain the playoff format will be changed.

Hopefully, it won't be a year late for Harrison.

"Right now," said Harrison's All-American back John Miller, "I'm not even thinking about the playoffs. I'd be bummed out if we didn't make it. But I'm having the time of my life playing with this football team. I've been here for four years now and I have never had more fun than I am this year."

IT WAS A hallmark day for the amazing senior. He gained 186 yards in 20 carries and scored three touchdowns. He has gained more than 1,000 yards rushing this year and over 4,000 in his career.

"I really wanted to get that. I have been looking forward to it," he said.

The Chiefs were simply no match for Harrison and coach Rich Barr extended his own feelings about the playoff system.

"It would just be a shame if that football team doesn't make it," he said. "Anytime something like that happens, it just cheats the kids. If the playoffs are supposed to represent the true champions of this state, then it would be unfair if Harrison's not there."

The Hawks scored on their first four possessions of the game.

The first scoring drive was all Miller. The drive went 71 yards in 10 plays. Miller carried on all 10 and scored from the 7.

Canton quarterback Dave Knapp fumbled on the next possession and Jason Talbert was there to pounce on it. The biggest cheer of the day came when it was announced that Talbert recovered. He had many relatives in from out of town to see him play — it was a nice moment for a hard-working young man.

TWO PLAYS later, quarterback Vince Enright hit his favorite target, Brian Smolinski, for a 36-yard TD.

Enright had another huge day. He completed seven of 10 passes (including his first five in succession), for 158 yards and two TDs. He had one pass picked off by Knapp in the third quarter.

Smolinski caught four passes for 91 yards.

The Hawks' third score was vintage Miller. He busted through the Canton line, made a nifty fake on a linebacker then cut back across the field outrunning the secondary. The play covered 54 yards.

The Hawks fourth possession looked like a Vince Enright highlight film. First he hit Smolinski for 15 yards. Then Miller for 10. Then Smolinski again for 21. On the fourth play he rested. He handed to Miller, who took it in from the 13.

In the third quarter receiver Jeff Shottroff ran the wrong pattern but still scored on a 39-yard pass from Enright. When things are going good, even busted routes turn into scores.

The Harrison second team finished the scoring. Scott Bissell scored on a 2-yard run.

THE CHIEFS got on the board early in the fourth quarter. A questionable pass interference call put the Chiefs deep in Harrison territory. Two plays later Knapp hit Matt Flower on a pretty 19-yard pass play. Dave Luzzo added the point.

The Chiefs gained just 123 yards in total offense and Knapp accounted for 80 of them. He ran for 42 and passed for 38 more. Sean Budlong caught two passes for 27 yards.

Ken Hixon, Miller, Smolinski, Dave Delekta, Ben Chen and George Sarcevic were punishing on defense for the Hawks. Harrison's offense accrued 408 yards on the day.

"You can't get let the players get down about the playoff thing," Herrington said. "If they do, then this won't be any fun for them. And if you can't have fun on this team, something's really wrong."

Northville pounds hapless Rocks

By Kevin Byrnes
special writer

The Northville High running game was in overdrive Friday night, as the Mustangs ran through, over and around Plymouth Salem racing to a 52-14 Western Lakes Activities Association win.

The culprit as far as the small Salem faithful were concerned, was Mustang senior Rick Van Buren. He rushed for 227 yards while backfield mate Doug Hartman added 174 on 16 carries. The tandem combined for five of the eight TD's by Northville.

"They ran their entire offense from tackle to tackle," said Salem Coach Tom Moshimer. "We knew what they were running. We just didn't tackle and didn't stop it."

The Mustangs (6-1 overall and 4-1 in the Western Division) scored before the Salem fans had a chance to sit down. Hartman capped a five-play, 64-yard drive with a 16-yard burst for a TD. Jack Sylvestre failed on the conversion attempt leaving the score 6-0.

SALEM'S PROBLEMS began on their opening drive. The Rocks failed on fourth and 1 at the Mustang 10. Before one could spell Van Buren, the burly senior blasted 50 yards for score right through the middle of the Rock defense. A bid for two failed, making the score 12-0 at the two minute mark.

Schoolcraft men put boot to Delta

By C.J. Rieak
staff writer

Maybe Schoolcraft College's men's soccer team should play Delta Community College more often.

Then again, maybe it shouldn't. No Ocelot fan could argue with the results. Last Wednesday at Schoolcraft, the home team blasted Delta 4-1, its second victory of the season over its Eastern Conference rival.

Certainly, Dave Yarmuth wouldn't mind. The freshman forward from Northville scored for first time this season, then did it again, and again and again — all four Schoolcraft goals, to be exact. Dan Laurie, from Livonia Stevenson, got two assists and Tim MacFarland, a Plymouth Canton grad, got another.

AND YET, the two wins over Delta represent two-thirds of Schoolcraft's Eastern Conference victory total. The Ocelots are 3-3, with games against Lakeland and Macomb remaining.

It isn't the kind of season first-year coach Van Dimitriou envisioned. But he didn't expect to have his top offensive player — Manny Murua, a sophomore and a Redford Temple Christian grad — injured in Schoolcraft's first game against, of all teams, Delta.

"He's been playing on one knee," said Dimitriou of Murua, who didn't play at all against Delta Wednesday. "I felt we could handle this team without him. Fortunately, I was right."

Too bad Dimitriou didn't hold Murua out of the first Delta contest. With the forward at "about 80 percent," Schoolcraft's offense has gone into hibernation. The Ocelots' three league losses have been at Cuyahoga by a 2-1 margin, at Macomb by a 2-0 score, and at home against Lakeland, 1-0.

"WE HAVEN'T been blown out by anybody," said Dimitriou. He had hoped Yarmuth and MacFarland would pick up the scoring slack, but the first-year players have been inconsistent. MacFarland has three goals this season.

Don't get the idea Dimitriou is giving up on this season. Macomb is unbeaten so far, with one tie against Lakeland.

Schoolcraft hosts Macomb Wednesday (4 p.m.) before finishing the Eastern Conference season Saturday at Lakeland.

Dimitriou figures resting Murua against Delta should be enough for him to return to duty at nearly 100 percent. Whatever, the Ocelot coach plans on having his team ready to finish the season with a flourish.

Ferguson's 4 goals pace Lady Ocelots

Schoolcraft College put it all together Wednesday to beat host Oakland University in a women's soccer match, 8-2.

The win increases Schoolcraft's overall record to 8-2-1.

"Oakland is a good team," said Schoolcraft coach Ed Dudek. "I was surprised with how well we played. The score was not indicative of the team we played. Last time we won 3-2."

The Lady Ocelots used a balanced scoring attack.

Sue Ferguson, however, notched four goals. The Farmington Harrison grad now has 22 on the season.

Also scoring for Schoolcraft were Dorene Dudek, Linda Funke, Amy McCauley and Dawn Brda. Cindy Gable also added three assists.

utes left to play. He got control of the loose ball at about midfield, dribbled down the left sideline and rifled a shot past Gavigan from about 15 yards out.

CC (18-2 and winners of 12 straight) will advance into regional play. They will take on Plymouth Salem at 4 p.m. Thursday at Allen Park Intercity Baptist High School.

SALEM 4, ANN ARBOR HURON 1: How ironic. Salem has so often been in the position of outplaying its opponent, yet either barely winning or losing the match.

Friday, however, the roles were reversed. Salem was outplayed by Huron, but won the match 4-1 to advance to the regional round of the state tournament.

soccer

Salem got two goals apiece from Ebon Nash and Mark Flower to trigger the win.

"They outshot us 25-15," said Salem coach Ken Johnson. "But, we took advantage of our opportunities. They could have won the match. But, we made some nice shots."

Salem goalie Joe Knoeri was brilliant, steering away 24 of those 25 shots.

The win ups Salem's record to 11-4-1.

Canton kickers nip Chargers in WLAA

HARRISON 2, FRANKLIN 1: Starting five freshmen, Farmington Harrison (4-10-1) avenged an earlier 7-1 loss with a hard-fought win over visiting Livonia Franklin.

Sophomore Eric Wise scored the game winner at the 29-minute mark of the second half. Craig Bailey, a freshman, also scored for the Hawks.

CANTON 1, CHURCHILL 0: The visiting Plymouth Canton Chiefs won this defensive struggle Wednesday night, raising their season record to 13-2-1.

Brian Whiteley scored the lone goal of the game on an assist from Tim Mueller six minutes into the second half.

"It's always a good game between us and Churchill," said Canton coach Mike Morgan. "We're very even. They have lost as many one-goal games as we have won."

Canton's super sophomore goalie, Brian Gavigan, earned his sixth shutout of the season steering away 15 Charger shots. Canton fired 19 on the Churchill goal. The loss dropped Churchill to 8-4-2 overall.

FARMINGTON 3, SOUTHFIELD 2 (OT): Adam Kruse stopped two of five Southfield penalty kicks in an overtime shootout, and Gerry Potter hit the clincher as the Falcons edged Southfield in a state pre-regional game Friday at Farmington.

Farmington dominated play but trailed 2-1 until Chris Hackman pounded one into the net with two minutes left in regulation time, knotting it at 2-all. Hackman assisted on Kenny Rebstock's goal in the first half.

Neither team could score in two 10-minute overtime sessions and two five-minute sudden death periods.

Jim Misaros, Hackman and Ken Frauenheim all connected for Farmington in the shootout before Potter deposited the clincher in the Southfield net.

The win raised the Falcons record to 5-12-2. On Wednesday, Farmington was dumped by Plymouth Salem 4-0.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Tim Mueller had the two best scoring chances for the Chiefs in Friday's loss to CC. He was robbed on one by the CC goalie, and the other just missed the target.

Spartan gridders top Falcons

Peter Huddy raced 20 yards with the winning touchdown with just 1:40 remaining to spark Livonia Stevenson to a 14-10 victory over visiting Farmington Friday.

Huddy's TD romp was set up by Chris Luczkowski's second interception of the game at the Farmington 42. Brian Trainor was Spartan-like in his effort during the winning march, gaining 31 of the 58 yards.

The win left both teams at 5-2 overall. Farmington, however, is the Lakes Division champion with a 4-1 mark, meaning the Falcons will meet Farmington Harrison for the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) title Saturday. Stevenson, 3-2 in the WLAA, visits Northville Friday.

The Spartans scored first, as Don Rosochacki grabbed the opening kickoff and sprinted 90 yards for the TD. Huddy tacked on the placement for a 7-0 lead.

Farmington tied it on Dave Cunningham's 7-yard bolt in the first quarter and Bruce Kratt's kick. Kratt added a 23-yard field goal in the second period to put the Falcons on top, 10-7.

Chuck Donaldson completed six of 12 passes for Stevenson for 73 yards, with one interception. The Spartans had 143 yards rushing and 216 total. Bob Allie led the tacklers with 11 solos and two assists. Norm Nettie added seven solos and three assists. Farmington quarterback Chris Green connected on 11 of 24 passes for 125 yards. Ab Hazen caught four of those. The Falcons had 200 yards rushing and 325 total.

Mustangs have feast on Salem's mistakes

Salem executed the play of the night on the ensuing kickoff. Steve Sobditch caught the kick and ran toward the sidelines. However, the quarterback then stopped and passed across the field to Steve Potoczak, who ran for a score. However, a penalty nullified the TD and the Rocks promptly fumbled the ball to Northville at their own 46.

Northville took advantage of the miscue when Hartman went over from 2 yards out for a 19-0 Mustang lead. Salem's first half frustration was not about to end, however.

At his own 30, Sobditch heaved a pass to halfback Brian Tiller for an apparent touchdown. Once again, a yellow flag denied the Salem effort as Tiller was called for interference. Northville, fighting for a state playoff bid, regained possession and moved downfield. Mustang quarterback Dave Denhof finished the drive with a 10-yard TD pass to Don Norton.

Sylvestre kicked the PAT and Northville led 26-0 with 8:50 till half.

The Mustang defense didn't quit, forcing another Salem turnover near midfield. Once again, the Mustang line cleared a hole and Van Buren found daylight for a 50-yard TD run. It was 33-0. Mustangs.

Canton sinks as free throws don't

You don't have to explain the importance of free-throw shooting to Plymouth Canton girls basketball coach John Mulroy.

Especially after his team's aggravating 29-27 loss in overtime to Northville Thursday.

"It was the same game we played with them last time," Mulroy said. "Last time, we were up by four or six points late in the game, and we made eight of 10 free throws down the stretch. We didn't make eight of 10 this time."

With a four-point lead and just two minutes left to play, the Chiefs missed two crucial front ends of one-and-one foul-shot opportunities.

THAT ALLOWED Northville to tie the game. Sue Terwin, with 30 seconds left, bolted down the floor, penetrated the Chief defense and made what Mulroy termed "a pretty wild shot" to tie it.

The Chiefs had a chance to win it in regulation, but their last shot went awry.

girls basketball

Many Chief shots went awry. They shot a frosty 11 for 41 from the floor.

"Oh, we had enough opportunities to win. We had every chance in the world to win."

Canton won the tip in overtime and controlled the ball. A turnover, however, prevented them from getting a shot off.

Northville came down and got a rebound basket from Roxanne Cerkanan.

Canton missed another one-and-one opportunity. Northville hit one of two free throws to go up by three.

Beth Frigge then made one of two free throws for the Chiefs to pull within a basket.

BUT THE Mustangs didn't give up the ball until there were just four seconds left. And the Chiefs couldn't get off a shot.

Kathy Korowin led Northville (4-6) with 13 points. Kathy Ross and Laura Darby each scored eight for the Chiefs. Canton's record is now 5-7 overall, 4-6 in the Western Lakes.

Canton is full of champs

Canton Township is full of champions these days.

Six Canton youngsters competed in the Metro Detroit finals of the Punt, Pass and Kick competition in Farmington Hills Oct. 14.

All six came home champions. It was the first time in Punt, Pass and Kick history that all six age-group champions came from the same community.

Here are the champions: Matt Paupore, 8-year-olds; Tom Baker, 9-year-olds; Chip Wadowaki, 10-year-olds; Jake Baker, 11-year-olds; Ryan Johnson, 12-year-olds; and Craig Borowski, 13-year-olds.

Jake Baker and Borowski have won their age groups for the second year in a row. Both Tom Baker and Johnson each competed in the finals a year ago.

The six qualified for the metro finals by winning their age groups in the local competition sponsored by the Canton Parks and Recreation Department.

Chief swimmers take frustrations out on opposition

The Plymouth Canton swim team, still upset by its tie with Farmington Harrison two weeks ago, took out some frustration on lowly Walled Lake Central Thursday.

The Chiefs won every swimming event in a 112-57 romp.

"We're still disappointed because of what happened with Harrison," said the newly wed Chief coach Hooker Wellman. "But it's mid-season and we're still working hard."

What the tie meant was Canton will share the Western Lakes Western Division swim title with the Hawks.

Ginnie Johnson won two events for Canton Thursday. She took the 200-yard freestyle in 2:09.7 and the 100 backstroke in 1:09.7.

Other individual winners for Canton were: Margaret Gilligan in the 200 individual medley (2:26.17), Lynn Massey in the 50 freestyle (26.45), Michelle Stackpoole in the 100 butterfly (1:11.5), Julie Riemenschneider in the 100 free (1:04.7), Sue Schendel in the 500 free (6:46.6) and Bridget Daily in the 100 breaststroke (1:23.4).

The Chiefs captured both relay events. Kelly Kirk, Schendel, Gilligan and Daily won the 200 medley relay in 2:10.3. Gilligan, Stackpoole, Johnson and Massey went 4:10.8 in the 400 free relay.

Wellman said he is excited about his team's prospects in the Western Lakes league meet.

"The league is nice. There are a lot of good teams. We have a shot at second place," he said. "Livonia Stevenson will win it. Then it could be Salem, us and Harrison. But Harrison could really change the meet. If we can get some help from Harrison, it could end up Stevenson, us, then Salem and Harrison."

The Chiefs are 3-1-1 in dual meets this season.

PLYMOUTH SALEM yielded just one event to Farmington Thursday, routing the Falcons, 123-42.

Laura Shaffer scored a pair of firsts for the Rocks, taking the 200 individual medley (2:25.6) and the 500 free (5:39.7).

Salem eye league meet

The Plymouth Salem girls cross country team outdistanced a good Northville team, 22-33, Thursday at Cass Benton.

The Rocks' performance was especially encouraging to first-year coach Tom Truesdale.

"The girls seem to be getting better as we go along," he said. "Northville won the Schoolcraft Invitational. They are having some injury problems right now, but we are really well. We seem to be getting deeper where others are weakening."

Denise Durrer was the first to cross the finish line. She ran a 20:36. Her Rock teammates Amy Miyazaki (21:48), Brenda Boyd (21:54) and Trish Donnelly (21:55) finished 3-4-5.

Lisa Mickey (23:18) placed ninth. Heidi Dupret (23:50) finished 11th.

The win raises the Rocks' dual meet record to 5-2. And with the Western Lakes league meet Tuesday, Truesdale thinks his team is in good shape.

"Livonia Stevenson is the team to beat. I expect us to be right there with them."

The Rock boys team, on the other hand, is struggling. The Rocks lost to Northville, 25-20, despite a fine run by Scott Steiner.

Steiner won the race in 17:16. But, the next Rock to come across was Eric Pederson (17:54) in fifth place. Tony Atwell (17:58) took sixth, and brother Bill Atwell (18:04) placed eighth.

Rick Roulston (18:06) finished 10th, and Bill Morley (18:15) placed 12th.

"With the guys, we've run into some injury problems. We're certainly not where we want to be, but the old dependables, the healthy ones, are running good times," Truesdale said.

The Rocks are 3-5 on the season.

PLYMOUTH CANTON'S boys team was treated rather rudely by host Farmington Harrison Thursday, losing 18-43.

Chris Hart (16:33), Mike Esker (16:36) and Dave Linn (16:40) finished the three-mile Harrison course 1-2-3 to lead the Hawk win.

Tom Bisson (17:04) placed fifth. Seth Petty (17:10), Bill Warburton (17:11) and Craig Mortz (17:12) placed 7-8-9 for Harrison.

Canton's top finisher was Karl Rosol, whose 16:47 earned him the fourth spot. Dave Barger (17:06) was sixth, and Dave Juergens (17:16) was 10th.
