Debate over Rick Perlongo's construction likely will be settled in court as Perlongo loggerheads over the zoning issues involved being parked on Corrine Street property and Plymouth Township officials are at Township: Move it or lose it?

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

It's Plymouth Township's version of a Mexican standoff.
Contractor Rick Perlongo says his family has been storing construction equipment on their Corrine Street property for years — thus constituting a non-conforming land use.
Plymouth Township officials say the storage has expanded and Perlongo is operating a business on residentially zoned property — thus constituting an ordinance violation.
Both agree the issue will have to be settled in court, so last week township trustees authorized whatever legal action is necessary.
"I don't think there's any animosity between the parties here. We're probably just going to play it by the numbers and try to get the thing resolved," said Brian James, township attorney.
James expects the township to issue an ordinance violation sometime this week.

Perlongo's trucks targeted

"The defense, of course, will be that it is an existing non-conforming use and the 35th District Court will decide," James said.
TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS discussed the Corrine Street situation earlier this year because of complaints from residents.
At that time Perlongo, who said the land in question belongs to his mother, indicated he wanted to move and needed time to purchase property.
At its Sept. 25 meeting, the board decided to give Perlongo 30 days to remove the equipment or appear before the board. The equipment is still there, and Perlongo appeared before the board Tuesday night.
"We're at a bit of a loss," said Ed

Draugelis, Perlongo's attorney.
"Why would the board suddenly say to Mr. Perlongo, 'Move in 30 days'?" Mr. Perlongo has a vested right which goes back to 1948. He has not expanded the use of the land.
"Why this sort of ultimatum?"
Perlongo looked at two alternate sites but it didn't work out, Draugelis said.
"Our position is that we have a construction yard in the middle of a residential area," Supervisor Maurice Breen said.
"We realize something has to give. We realize Mr. Perlongo would like to move," Breen said.
TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS believe Perlongo has surrendered his non-conforming use rights because his business has expanded.
Currently nine pieces of equipment are stored on the property, Perlongo said. In 1975 he had seven pieces, none of which were "18-wheelers" like today.

"You have to walk before you run," Perlongo told the board.
Trustee Andrew Pruner said if an addition is made on a non-conforming building, the building must then conform to zoning restrictions.
"If he has more equipment on the property, it has expanded just like a building," Pruner said.
"This is not the kind of expansion they referred to in the law," Draugelis said.
Breen said the board could accept Perlongo's position or the position of the township attorney.
"This seems to be a fact question which can only be determined by a lawsuit," James said.
"The abatement and termination of non-conforming uses is a trend in the township," he said.
The board voted unanimously to follow James' position.

Big rise in city business B&Es

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Business break-ins in Plymouth zoomed upward during October and increased dramatically over the same period a year ago.
Thirty-three burglaries were reported by businesses last month. In September there were three business break-ins. There were four business break-ins reported in October 1983.
Business break-ins have not increased in neighboring Plymouth Township. Plymouth police serve both jurisdictions.

"IT APPEARS that it's a youthful individual, and it may be one or two perpetrators," acting police chief Ralph White said. "We have no suspects at this time."
"The types of items being taken indicate the youthfulness. Most of the break-ins are happening at night or the early morning hours," White said.
The trend is continuing in November. As of Friday morning, 14 business burglaries were reported in the city and township — the majority of them in the city.
There has been no increase in residential break-ins.
There were eight residential break-ins in October in the city and 14 in the township. One year ago the monthly figures were nine residential in the city and 19 in the township.

According to White, business owners should make sure they secure their buildings at night.
"WHAT THE perpetrators really are doing is taking advantage of opportunities to enter," he said.
Doors which can "easily be slipped," windows with rotted-wood frames, or locks in rotted doors are examples of "open opportunities," he said.
"You should test your windows and doors, and that means really giving them a tug."
"But many times people don't do that because they'll have to fix it. You know, the guy doesn't want to give a good rip to the basement window because he knows he'll pull it out," White said.
"But if you can rip it loose, a burglar can too."
White said making a building secure improves the chances of it not being burglarized.
"Right now, the business break-ins are mostly confined to the city, and the businesses being hit seem to be fairly close together in the downtown area," he said.

Pastors unite to picket porn

By Maurie Walker
staff writer

The sale of pornographic magazines by party stores and other establishments is being battled across the country, and has made waves locally.
Pastor Donald Mullett of the Garden City Christian Center, along with the Rev. M. Gregory Gentry of Canton Calvary Church in Canton, are spearheading the campaign locally.
On Oct. 27, members from the two churches joined in the National Pornography Awareness Week by picketing stores which sell porno magazines in Garden City, Westland, Canton and Plymouth.
The Plymouth Church of the Nazarene led the demonstration in the City of Plymouth at Lawson's and 7-Eleven party stores.
A group of 12 persons, nine women and three men, picketed the S and M Party Store at 33439 Ford, Garden City, and the Trade Vine Party Shoppe, 33610 Ford, Westland.
Several months ago, Mullett helped lead a picket of other 7-Eleven stores in western Wayne County.
"We plan to continue this campaign to rid our city of the sale of pornographic material," Mullett said. "We are not trying to push our beliefs on others, but when the sale of this material hurts our community, we want to do something about it."
The picketing received negative and positive responses from a few passers-by, Mullett said.
He plans to attend a decency seminar this week in Madison Heights, sponsored by the National Federation for Decency.
"THIS SEMINAR, to be attended by church representatives from all over the area, will allow us to join with other participants in a permanent interdenominational fellowship of action against pornography," Mullett said.

"It will help us to develop skills in answering cliché questions about censorship and the First Amendment and how to plan for successful community action."
He said one of the goals is to attempt to call attention to the stores that sell porno magazines that "pornography does not belong in the family marketplace."
"Pornography is both anti-family and anti-Christian. We believe that all people who are concerned over the welfare of our children, the rapidly rising rape rate, and the moral climate of our country, should boycott businesses which sell or promote pornography," Mullett added.
"A recent study done at the University of New Hampshire showed that the states which had the highest readership of magazines such as Playboy, Penthouse, etc., also had the highest rape rate," he said.
The Michigan State Police found pornography is used or imitated in 41 percent of the sex crimes they investigate, he said.
"By picketing, we are exercising two basic constitutional rights, the right of free speech, and the right of citizens to peaceably assemble."
"We hope that through the exercise of these rights, we will call attention to the growing menace of pornography not only in the nation but right here," Mullett said. "We want to stress that this campaign against pornography is not an attempt on our part to push our beliefs onto someone else. We are representing the interests of most of our community's upright citizens who do not believe that such material has any place in the family marketplace."

Police identify jogging fatality

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Police have identified a jogger who was hit and killed early Wednesday morning as 41-year-old Bernard Weiss of Canton.
Weiss was jogging shortly after midnight on Ann Arbor Trail near Haggerty when a car struck him. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

Police were unable to identify Weiss at the time of the accident because he did not have identification with him in his running clothes.
Weiss was identified Friday following a Michigan State Police computer check of fingerprints to match the body.
Police decided to start the fingerprint search after no one was reported missing Wednesday.

According to officer Robert Henry, Weiss was running west of Haggerty when a car driven by a 27-year-old Westland man struck him. Apparently Weiss was running in the middle of the road or crossing the road, as he was hit near the center line.
Weiss was wearing dark clothes and radio earphones. Police speculate Weiss never heard the car approach behind him.

The driver, who was on his way to work, was questioned and released.
According to police, Weiss lived alone at the Newbury Port condominiums at Sheldon and Warren. He has a teen-age daughter living in Wayne.
Weiss' death is the second car/jogger fatality in recent years. Elementary school principal Ed Kleinsmith was killed in 1982 when a car hit him as he jogged on Joy Road.

Duct tape prints point to suspect

Canton police are expected to seek a warrant for the arrest of Charles Fisher, husband of a 32-year-old Canton woman who was killed in July.
Ella Marie Murcado-Fisher, 32, was found by her husband bound and unconscious in the couple's home on Thornwood July 15.
She was kept alive by a respirator at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital in Ypsilanti until July 20. Her family decided to disconnect the life-support system when Murcado-Fisher was pronounced brain dead.
In August, police took samples of duct tape used to gag Murcado-Fisher to the Illinois State Crime Lab for laser testing.
With laser testing — costly new technology Michigan will have next year — prints not apparent with conventional methods fluoresce and can be photographed using special camera lenses. The laser process is time-consuming and entails several steps, which has slowed the progress of the investigation.

Police have interviewed "a couple hundred (in- and out-of-state) co-workers, teachers and associates" of both the victim and her husband, a microbiologist.
Fisher, 44, teaches at Ross University in Dominica, a British island in the West Indies. The Missouri native recently sold the couple's ranch home and moved back to the Caribbean, police say. Officers said Fisher, speaking through his attorney, has refused to be interviewed.
Police intend to present to the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office laser test results, physical and circumstantial evidence and request that a warrant for Fisher's arrest be issued, said Canton Lt. Larry Stewart. That office would initiate extradition proceedings, should they be necessary.

FISHER TOLD police he was home in bed when he thought he heard his wife returning from her job at Chelsea Community Hospital shortly before midnight on July 15. He said he went downstairs to investigate and was hit on the head from behind.
When Fisher came to, he said he found himself upstairs bound to his bed, but he freed himself. He went down to the living room where he found his wife bound and gagged, Fisher said.
Fisher told police his truck, which was parked in the driveway, was missing. On July 16, Detroit police recovered the truck near the Ambassador Bridge.
The Fishers, who were married for five years, lived in several places in the United States and overseas before moving to Canton within the last year.

Murdado-Fisher reportedly had come to Michigan to enroll in a master's program in "trans-cultural nursing" at Wayne State University.
A Plymouth travel agency had been arranging a trip to West Germany for Murcado-Fisher. She was scheduled to leave the same day she died. Several days before, her husband called the agency to cancel the reservations, according to agency staffers.
Murdado-Fisher was buried in Lexington, Ky., where many of her relatives reside. Her parents, who live in Bolivia, South America, have spent time in Thailand, Washington D.C. and Florida. Manuel Murcado, Murcado-Fisher's father, is employed by the U.S. Navy.

No 'Moore' sheep at downtown farm

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

Another landmark in downtown Plymouth has passed from view with the selling of the sheep on the late Clarence Moore's farm on Burroughs Street.
For more than a quarter of a century this sheep farm has attracted many young folks who gathered along the fences at times to see the animals graze on the property.
Moore, who came here from New Jersey to work for the Plymouth Stamping Company, died several months ago. While he worked at the stamping company for years his hobby was the raising of the sheep and maintaining a flower garden that was a sight to behold.

Over the years, hundreds of sheep were raised on this downtown site and it was usual that such a farm should be so close to the downtown business section.
AND EACH year there was an interesting sight when the sheep were sheared and the wool passed along to the owners of the spinning wheels to have the wool made into wearing garments. And each day this activity took place no one was more proud than the owner of the weighty animals.

Aside from raising the sheep Moore also played a big part in the Christmas sale of fruitcake each year for the Plymouth Kiwanis Club.
Explaining the sale of the sheep to a sheep farmer from Manchester, Mich., Mrs. Moore said there were no plans to revive the sheep farm or the beautiful garden.
"We plan to have a small flower garden," she said "but it won't be as large as the one Mr. Moore used to have and of which he was very fond."
Over the years that the sheep farm was in existence there were times when the idea of a sheep farm was questioned. But Moore never said anything in response until one day when the criticism got under his skin and he answered that he had permission.

He explained that when the plot was up for sale he ventured into city hall and asked if he could raise animals on the land if he bought it.
He was given permission to handle animals though no branch of the animal family was mentioned.
It was then that the sheep were brought to the city and the area was unusual within the city limits. But he had the permission and nothing ever was done to make any changes.
So he continued to raise sheep until his death. Now the sheep are gone and Plymouth has lost a landmark.

How gifted face stress

A special workshop on "Stress and the Gifted Child" will be presented this week at the regular meeting of the Plymouth-Canton Association for the Academically Talented (PCAAT).

The workshop, featuring June Yackness, clinical psychologist, and Ruthann Brodsky will be held 7:30-9:30 p.m. Wednesday in Pioneer Middle School on Ann Arbor Road west of Sheldon in Plymouth.

"One of the reasons gifted children tend to be prone to stress is because they are very sensitive to the feelings of other people and to issues that are global in nature such as the environment and nuclear warfare," said Yackness.

Both speakers are principles of Brodsky and Yackness Associates, a consulting group for education and business based in Bloomfield Hills.

They will describe the primary causes of stress in gifted children, show parents and teachers how to identify stress symptoms in gifted children, and how to teach coping skills to the children so they can manage their own stress.

"We have found an increasing number of teachers are aware of the gifted children in their classes and are eager to learn how to interact with them," explains Brodsky, founder of the Roeper Review, a journal on gifted education.

"Understanding the behavior patterns of gifted children is the first step to helping these children manage their stress."

Yackness and Brodsky are experienced in program and staff development in gifted education. Their clients include the Michigan Department of Education, Northwestern University, Roeper City and Country School, and The Academy of the Gifted.

Busy day for Owens

American runner Jesse Owens is probably best remembered for his success during the Olympics in Hitler's Germany in 1936.

However, Owens racked up some remarkable, less heralded records in his life. He's the only athlete to have his name entered in the record book six times in one day. He broke world records for a variety of 100-yard and 220-yard runs on May 25, 1935.

Apples paid more than potatoes

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

The golden summer sun was starting to slip down the hills and cast a shadow over the windows in the dining room of the Plymouth Orchard and Cider Mill when owner Dave Emmett chuckled over the odd twist his life had taken.

"You may not believe this," he said, "but when my family and I came away out here on Warren Road, I had hopes of being a potato farmer. Then I was talked out of it, and this place is the result."

He still was smiling when he revealed that when he bought a piece of property on Napier Road it had three acres or one fourth of the present 12-acre orchard.

"I told my neighbor that I was planning to cut down the apple trees and plant potatoes and become a real potato farmer. My neighbor listened, then he said, 'See that red fruit on the limbs of those trees. They are apples and there's a lot more money in apples than there is in potatoes.'"

"That gave me a thought and we decided to switch. I knew nothing of raising apples but I listened. Then I wanted more than three acres."

"For a time we moved to Northville, but in the meantime the other nine acres became available and we bought them. So, here we are — the owners of a cider mill and an orchard."

HE PURCHASED the farm in 1977 and a year later opened a small portion as a cider mill. And business was so great that an addition has been made each year til now they harvest 20,000 bushels of apples a year to care for the trade.

His real chuckle came when he related that when the first unit was opened in 1978 it was in the rear of the little white house. He decided to open for business on a Sunday when most folks are out and he never dreamed of the surprise that was in store him.

"Within an hour or two after we opened," he said, "the line was along the lot, then up to Napier Road, and we never saw anything like it.

"This showing proved that we had made the right choice and today we have purchased enough ground to plant 12,000 trees. We started with 5,000 in 1977, but each year the demand has increased until now we have added a dining room, the latest equipment, a bake shop and kitchen. And we are still growing."

"If we add anything this year it will be an addition to the kitchen — we need it."

One of the odd things of this successful venture is that many of the people who came here on the first Sunday are still coming back, and they, too, marvel at the additions that have been built in the passing years.

ONE OF the major events he remembers is the storm in 1981 that uprooted more than 1,200 trees.

"We had 12,000 trees at the time but the storm cut our number to a little more than 10,000. But we are still doing very well."

"The past year was a success even though we had rain on many of the Sunday afternoons that cut down attendance. But we did well."

"After all there is more stock than just cider. We now bake doughnuts and sell a great many. We also sell the apple pulp to hunters when they go north in quest of their deer or other prizes of the hunting season."

"But there came a time when the end of the cider season brought on a lapse of work."

"I had to find something and now we have added ice skating and skiing. That helps in the winter months to keep a fellow busy."

"So all told, our venture has been a success even though today's customers are more fussy than they were that Sunday morning when they lined up as far as Napier Road to get our first supply of apple cider that was made possible with a small press."

Then he added, "It was a queer twist in life to have dreams of being a potato farmer and wind up with a cider mill, a ski slope, and an ice skating rink."

Let's return to city ambulance

To the editor:

Almost seven months ago to the date I wrote a letter to the editor expressing my concern about the Plymouth City Commission "rubber stamping" a desire of City Manager Henry Graper to dissolve the rescue ambulance service that had been part of the Plymouth Fire Department for many years.

After reading the two local newspapers' reports on a performance by the selected replacement for our "own" ambulance service during a rescue call for a heart attack victim on Oct. 22, I would think it would be hard for both the city manager and members of the City Commission to sleep at night.

You would like to believe both Graper and the City Commission would want to relive April 16, 1984 — the date CEMS was "contracted" to do the city's ambulance service. No, to add insult to injury on Monday, Nov. 6, Graper said he is very satisfied with CEMS after reviewing details of the paramedic service's delayed response

Aged record

The greatest age at which anyone has broken a standard world record is 41 years and 196 days, in the case of John J. Flanagan, who set a world record in the hammer throw in 1909.

to a heart attack victim. This latest incident cannot be put aside as "it's just an isolated incident and hopefully it won't happen again."

IT SHOULD be made part of the public record of what happened on that fateful day of Oct. 22. What was the real cause for the delay? Is the director of CEMS trying to cover up inadequacies in his services that have always been there, both in equipment and personnel. How long will it take to correct the causes of these "isolated incidents?"

Both local newspapers have written several articles related to runs by the CEMS to the likes of "the Keystone Cops." As residents of this great city we should demand and accept only the best services available, even if this means going back to the system Graper dissolved back in April. It has been difficult for me to understand the logic in dissolving a system that can reach any part of the city within two or three minutes and replace it with a service that might be there, if it is convenient and they find the address.

If it means to have the most dependable services the city must again have its own ambulance service, perhaps we could use Graper's next year's salary as a down payment on some new equipment and personnel training.

Little seen of Mary Dumas

To the editor:

Now that the political season is over with, and the residents of the 10th District have spoke and made their choice, I would like to know what kind of representation Wayne County Commissioner Mary Dumas is going to give Plymouth and Plymouth Township. (I have only seen her in Plymouth around election time.)

It's my understanding that former county commissioner Bill Joyner went to bat for the residents more times and got more accomplished for the residents of Plymouth and Plymouth township than current Commissioner Dumas. I hope since the people of Plymouth and Plymouth Township re-elected Dumas, she will spend more time assisting the residents and senior citizens with their needs and concerns.

To the editor:

I was involved in a car accident on the corner of Ann Arbor Road and Haggerty on Monday, Oct. 22. I was making a left turn onto Haggerty when a van ran the "rose"-colored light. This resulted in the total destruction of my car as well as severe muscle strain on my person.

There have been several accidents at this intersection due to left-turn negligence. I hope this letter (along with any previous complaints Plymouth Police may have received) will prompt someone to consider installing a left turn arrow at this intersection.

The installation of a left turn arrow would not only prevent further accidents which result in traffic tie-ups, but save many valuable lives.

Please take my request seriously.

THE ROLE OF X-RAYS IN DIAGNOSING ARTHRITIS
X-rays are used in arthritis to assess the cause and extent of damage that has occurred to joints.
The pattern of bone and joint changes seen in the x-ray is helpful in determining the type of arthritis that is present. Often rheumatoid arthritis, gout, or osteoarthritis can be identified by their x-ray features.
Specific x-ray findings which indicate the severity of the arthritis include bone thinning, loss of joint space, extra calcifications, and altered alignment of bones.
Your physician may take x-rays of the involved joints early in the course of your arthritis, and some months later repeat the x-rays. Comparison of the films helps him determine progression of the condition or its improvement under treatment.
Joint x-rays have limits, changes can occur which will not show up on the film. Thus, an apparently normal x-ray does not mean that your joint is free of arthritis. However, the more normal the joint x-ray, the more likely that the damage that has occurred is minimal and possibly reversible.

To the editor:

Now that the political season is over with, and the residents of the 10th District have spoke and made their choice, I would like to know what kind of representation Wayne County Commissioner Mary Dumas is going to give Plymouth and Plymouth Township. (I have only seen her in Plymouth around election time.)

It's my understanding that former county commissioner Bill Joyner went to bat for the residents more times and got more accomplished for the residents of Plymouth and Plymouth township than current Commissioner Dumas. I hope she the people of Plymouth and Plymouth Township re-elected Dumas, she will spend more time assisting the residents and senior citizens with their needs and concerns.

Plymouth Police are number 1

To the editor:

Devils' Night we were plagued by seven or eight teen-age devils. We had a fuel-fed fire on our porch, our trees were festooned, and there was loud scratching on our screens. Not satisfied, they started chanting and taunting.

When I called the police they got here so fast they caught a few of the "devils" and got an admission about the fire, implicating a boy just down the street. These Plymouth Police are No. 1 in my book and I hereby thank them.

My wife and I, both 73, have health problems. Her heart and breathing problems are serious. I guess that most kids have no conscience but their parents have even less if they let their teen-agers out on "D" night.

There have been incidents here on Simpson near McKinley: garage break-ins, egg throwing at senior citizens' windows, deliberate vehicle-crashing of a mail box, etc.

Now, I hope, this area will be watched more closely.

Indian addressed Presbyterians

(Part 19)

The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth called the Rev. S. Conger Hathaway to be their minister on March 22, 1920. Hathaway was paid $2,000 a year, with use of the manse and a vacation of one month.

Born in Jackson, Mich., in 1881, Hathaway received his bachelor's degree in literature from the University of Michigan in 1906. He began preaching in the First Presbyterian Church in Concord that same year. He was not ordained as a minister, however, until June 1907 in the Lansing Presbytery.

Later, Hathaway graduated from the Theological Seminary at Oberlin. While he was minister at the church in Plymouth, he attended the graduate school at the University of Michigan where he received a master of arts degree. During his studies there he was employed by the university in the archeology and ancient literature section of the library.

Sometime in the early 1920s, while Rev. Hathaway was pastor, the church received a bequest from a Mrs. Fraser. Soon after, the trustees had additions made to the manse on Main Street and a garage was built.

GEORGE A. SMITH was appointed director of the church's religious instruction department on Sept. 14, 1920.

Smith had come to Plymouth in 1918 to succeed Charles F. Reeb as superintendent of schools. Reeb, who also was a member of the church, was granted a letter of transfer to Bowling Green.

Charles H. Bennett was named president of the Daisy Manufacturing Co. in 1920, following the death of Henry W. Baker. Bennett, a longtime member of the church and one of its chief benefactors, was president of Daisy until his death in Plymouth at age 94 in 1956.

Sidney Strong became assistant superintendent of the church's Sunday School in 1921, when communicant members of the church totaled 227. Strong, manager of the Village of Plymouth from 1920 to 1927, was interested in history and always was willing to share with newcomers, including this writer, his information about early events in the life of the community.

The Rev. S. Conger Hathaway expressed his disapproval in 1922 of church member Kate Penni-past and present

man Allen's decision to begin showing movies on Sunday at her Penniman-Allen Theatre. The controversy over Sunday movies, which divided the community at the time, is covered in chapter six of my book on the history of Plymouth.

In January 1923, trustees of the church gave a vote of thanks to Fred Schrader for his long service on the board. C.H. Bennett and C.G. Draper, the local optometrist, were elected to the board. Two months later, George A. Smith also was named to the board which included John Henderson and Robert Mimmack.

In February 1923, Henry Ford opened one of his village industry plants in Plymouth on the site of the Wilcox Flour Mill which Ford had purchased and torn down. After Ford's new plant was ready for operation, church member James Gallimore was named its superintendent. Gallimore, a prominent local citizen, was a longtime member and president of the Plymouth Board of Education. Gallimore School is named after him. Karl Starkweather was among local residents employed at the plant which was closed after Ford retired in 1945.

On Oct. 23, 1923, the church received a bequest of $500 from the estate of David D. Allen, one of those who subscribed when the church was remodeled in 1904.

In September 1924, the board of trustees found it necessary to ask Secretary D.G. Brown to write a letter to Charles Rathburn asking him to remove the quoit pitching courts from church property.

THE PLYMOUTH MAIL... in its issue of Jan. 2, 1925, reported that an Indian Chief, the Rev. Dr. Chief Red Fox Skiuhush, had spoken on Sunday to an audience that taxed the capacity of the Plymouth Presbyterian Church.

The chief appeared in his native costume and head-dress of eagle's feathers, and was given a very attentive hearing and hearty applause.

The same issue of the newspaper carried a front page story about the dedication of the new Masonic Temple. Pictured in front of the temple was the fraternity's building committee. Almost all were members of the Presbyterian Church. They included George A. Smith, D.F. Murray, R.O. Mimmack, Henry Hondorp, C.H. Rauch, Karl W. Hillmer (who later changed his name to Starkweather), John H. Patterson, Herman Mack and William Wood.

Another item on the front page told how several hundred kiddies had been entertained by Santa Claus at a Christmas tree program in Kellogg Park. The event was sponsored by the Plymouth Rotary Club, one of whose members, Harry Robinson, with his rotund figure and booming auctioneer's voice, made an ideal Santa.

Robinson, a longtime member of the church, was a local liveryman and auctioneer who was known throughout the State of Michigan. One of his advertisements in the Mail in 1925 informed readers about an auction to be held on the Jack Bennett farm. There, Robinson would auction horses, cattle, hay, chickens, farm tools, and "seven tamed skunks with fine fur."

Dreaming about a spring garden

Now that the beautiful multicolored leaves have fallen and been brushed away, their passing marked the opening of the dream season — the time when a fellow starts planning for next spring and what his garden will look like.

For several days The Stroller has struggled with the leaves and now that most of them are gone his eyes are on the flower garden and what it will look like next summer.

This dreaming is nothing unusual. Most good architects dream about what a building will look like before they ever place a pencil on the drawing board.

It is a known fact that our good friend Erick Carne, who designed the new small shopping center and the district court house, spent many hours just dreaming about what these areas should look like.

In fact, Erick studied the buildings in Plymouth, Mass., to get an idea of the "Plymouth approach." He later made a connection with the folks in Plymouth, England, before he finalized an idea. And now his designs and buildings are rated among the finest in the area.

SO IT has been with The Stroller. He has checked his garden and marked the area where the flowers didn't do so well. Now he is dreaming of the changes that he can make to make it real attractive when the warm days of summer are with us.

According to the dream the area where the vegetables didn't do so well will become a flower garden next spring. And it will be unusual in that the entire ground will be covered with multicolored flowers.

In fact he is dreaming of using flowers colored yellow and mix them with some blue — just out of respect for the University of Michigan. And around the fountain in another section there will be green and white to pay tribute to Michigan State — another area he covered as a young sports writer some years ago.

Sure, there will be some vegetables, but very few. There will be the usual tomatoes and onions and a bit of lettuce. But mostly the area will be flowers.

The work already has started. During the cold autumn days he has spent some time removing the plants that were nipped by the frost. In other cases he just cut the plants back to give them a better start next spring.

CONTRARY TO some flower specialists who remove their tulip bulbs, The Stroller left them in the ground, hopeful that they will shoot through the ground and bloom again next spring.

Sure, it is dreaming. But dreams are made of days like this.

And like the architect he is now dreaming of what the gardens will look like next spring and summer.

Here's hoping they will be as nice and unusual as Erick Carne's latest buildings.

After all you can't hate a fellow for dreaming.

Railroaded at a road crossing

To the editor:

At 10:55 this morning, I drove south on Sheldon Road heading toward my home. I should have arrived by 10:57, but of course there was a train.

A number of cars were already stopped at the tracks. The engine had already passed.

At 11, my son was dismissed from school. Because of half-day sessions, he would soon be on his way home.

I sat in my car, resigned to the fact that I would be late. As the railroad cars gradually reduced their speed to a crawl, I turned off the ignition.

My son crossed Sheldon Road, with the aid of the crossing guards. Anxious to get home, he started running. Shortly after, he caught his foot in a crack of the very irregular sidewalk. He fell against the raised edge of a block of concrete and put a very deep gash in his forehead. About 11:05 my son was running home, his forehead full of blood.

There I sat, watching the cars pass si-o-o-owly by.

Meanwhile, a neighbor had taken my son into his home and called his dad at work. His dad immediately began the 15-minute drive.

About 11:15, the caboose was almost in full view when the train came to a halt. A few moments later, it started to move in reverse. It continued for a while before it stopped again. Finally it moved forward again, leaving some of the cars behind on the other side of Sheldon. Again the caboose was not in view.

The road was clear at about 11:20, but it still was some minutes before we were able to cross the track. It was almost 11:30 when I was with my son. His dad drove up less than five minutes later. He would have gotten there a little sooner, but he was caught up in the lingering traffic near the railroad tracks.

After the return trip from the emergency clinic, I had an equally frustrating experience trying to report the incident.

I found that in order to file a complaint, I needed to have the number of either the engine or the caboose. (Was it merely a coincidence that I was unable to see either?)

I would have to give the arrival and departure time of the train at that spot and be willing to swear to them in court if necessary.

I was interested to learn that in the instances where such a complaint is filed, it is usually not contested. The fine is a mere $500.

I would hope that the powers that be could come up with a more effective deterrent to this kind of abuse. As for me, I will have pencil and paper ready — and binoculars, if need be — when traveling that section of Sheldon Road or Beck Road or Main Street or Ann Arbor Trail.

BACK PAIN

If back pains are a way of life for you, the reasons can be varied and complex. Some may be pathological, but very often the cause is muscles which are either over or under-exercised which are producing spinal distortion. Vertebrae slip into abnormal positions, resulting in "pinched" and irritated nerves, which cause pain and even loss of function of the affected body part. Poor posture, or even emotional tension, can be the root cause.

APPLE PRESERVES

The apple — it abounds in song, literature, legends, and folklore. To the ancient Greeks and Romans the apple was a symbol of love and beauty. It is said that Isaac Newton contemplated the law of gravity while sitting under an apple tree. The famous William Tell was forced to shoot an apple from his son's head. Who could forget the legend of Johnny Appleseed wearing a tin pot as a hat and a burlap sack full of appleseeds around his waist. The real person, John Chapman, actually planted apple seedlings on thousands of acres through the farm belt of our country.

Home food preservation is a way of life for many throughout the country. The Ball Blue Book, now in its 31st edition, continues to guide home canners with the latest techniques and proven recipes. From this updated book come three old fashioned tasting apple pies: one made with canned apple slices, another baked with frozen pie filling, and a third using dried apples from a new section on home food dehydration. Of course, baking pies isn't the only way to enjoy apples. The home economists at Ball Corporation also suggest trying spicy sweet apple preserves, a tangy tomato apple chutney, and apple plum butter.

Brought to the U.S. by the early European colonists, apples are Americans' favorite fruit and come in many different varieties. Good tart varieties for pies and other baked desserts include the Granny Smith, Gravenstein, Newtown Pippin, Northern Spy and York Imperial. When it's important that the apple hold its shape in canning, the best bets are Rome Beauty, Golden Delicious, Winesap and Granny Smith. For freezing try Rhode Island Greening and Newtown Pippin. And for drying, good choices include Rome Beauty, Winesap and Granny Smith. A mixture of tart crisp apples and sweet mellow apples is perfect for sauce.

Apples in season are at their peak of flavor and texture, and because they are plentiful and often locally grown, they are a good value. Seek out top quality apples to make these pies and spreads and you will be rewarded with palate pleasing finished products. For the freshest apples, buy directly from a farmer's roadside stand. Or you may want to pick your own in a nearby orchard — a delightful family activity for a fall weekend. Then don't forget to "put up" the pickings in your favorite apple recipe and enjoy old fashioned apple flavor all year long. Remember, when necessary, to correct processing time or pressure for altitude using your home canning guide.

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|---------------------------|
| 6 cups peeled, cored, sliced apples | 1 package powdered pectin |
| 1 cup water | 1 lemon, thinly sliced |
| 1 tablespoon lemon juice | 4 cups sugar |
| | 2 teaspoons ground nutmeg |

Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions.

Combine apples, water, and lemon juice in a large saucepan. Simmer, covered, for 10 minutes. Stir in pectin. Bring to a full rolling boil, stirring frequently. Add lemon slices and sugar. Return to a full rolling boil. Boil hard for 1 minute, stirring frequently. Remove from heat; add nutmeg. Carefully pour hot, into hot jars, leaving 1/4 inch head space. Adjust caps.

Process 10 minutes in a boiling water bath canner. Yield: about 6 half pint jars.

APPLE PLUM BUTTER

- | | |
|--|-----------------------|
| 2 1/2 pounds apples, cored and quartered | 3 cups sugar |
| 2 pounds plums, pitted and quartered | 2 teaspoons cinnamon |
| 2 cups water | 1/2 teaspoon allspice |
| | 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg |

Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions.

Combine apples, plums, and water in a large saucepot. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer until tender. Remove from heat. Press through a sieve or food mill. Return strained fruit to large saucepot and add sugar and spices. Cook over medium high heat, stirring frequently, until butter is thick. Carefully pour hot, into hot jars, leaving 1/4 inch head space. Adjust caps.

Process 10 minutes in a boiling water bath canner. Yield: about 6 half pint jars.

- | | |
|--|----------------------------|
| 10 cups peeled, cored, chopped tomatoes (about 14 large) | 1 cup seedless raisins |
| 4 cups pared, cored, chopped apples (about 4 to 6) | 3 cups brown sugar |
| 2 cups peeled, chopped cucumber | 3 cups vinegar |
| 1 1/2 cups chopped onion | 1 hot red pepper |
| 1 1/2 cups chopped sweet red pepper (about 3 medium) | 1 clove garlic, crushed |
| | 1 tablespoon ground ginger |
| | 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon |
| | 1 teaspoon salt |

Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions.

Combine all ingredients and cook slowly until thick, about 1-1/2 to 2 hours. As mixture thickens, stir frequently to prevent sticking. Carefully pour hot, into hot jars, leaving 1/4 inch head space. Adjust caps. Process 10 minutes in a boiling water bath canner. Yield: about 6 pint jars.

APPLES FOR PIES

Make a syrup using 1 cup sugar and 5 cups water. Peel, core, and slice apples. Place sliced apples in soaking solution (1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon vinegar, and 2 quarts water) to prevent darkening. Drain, boil in syrup 5 minutes. Carefully pack hot, into hot jars, leaving 1/2 inch head space.

Cover with hot syrup, leaving 1/2 inch head space. Remove air bubbles. Adjust caps.

Process pints and quarts 20 minutes in a boiling water bath canner.

APPLE PRALINE PIE

- | | | |
|--------------------------------|--------------------------|---|
| 6 cups canned apple pie slices | 1/2 teaspoon ginger | 2/3 cup brown sugar, packed |
| 1/2 cup sugar | 1/4 teaspoon salt | 2/3 cup chopped pecans |
| 5 tablespoons flour | 1 tablespoon lemon juice | Single crust pastry for 9 inch pie, unbaked |
| 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon | 2 tablespoons butter | |
| | 1/3 cup butter | |

Prick sides and bottom of pastry shell. Bake at 400° F. for 5 minutes; set aside. Combine apples, sugar, flour, spices, and lemon juice. Spoon into pastry shell, dot with 2 tablespoons butter. Bake at 400° F. for 45 minutes. Melt 1/3 cup butter in a small saucepan; stir in brown sugar. Bring slowly to a boil, stirring constantly. Add pecans and pour over pie. Bake at 400° F. for 5 minutes, or until topping bubbles.

APPLE PIE FILLING

- | | | |
|-----------------|-------------------------|---------------------------|
| 6 pounds apples | 1/4 cup flour | 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg |
| 2 cups sugar | 1-1/2 teaspoon cinnamon | 2 tablespoons lemon juice |

Wash, peel, core, and slice apples. Place sliced apples in soaking solution (1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon vinegar, and 2 quarts water) to prevent darkening. Combine sugar, flour, and spices. Rinse and drain apples; stir into sugar mixture. Let stand until juices begin to flow, about 30 minutes. Stir in lemon juice. Cook over medium heat until mixture begins to thicken. Pour into can or freeze jars or plastic freezer boxes. Seal, label, and freeze. Yield: about 6 pints.

To bake, place 2 pints pie filling in 9 inch double crust pastry. Cut vents in top pastry. Bake on baking sheet in a preheated oven at 425° F. for 40 minutes.

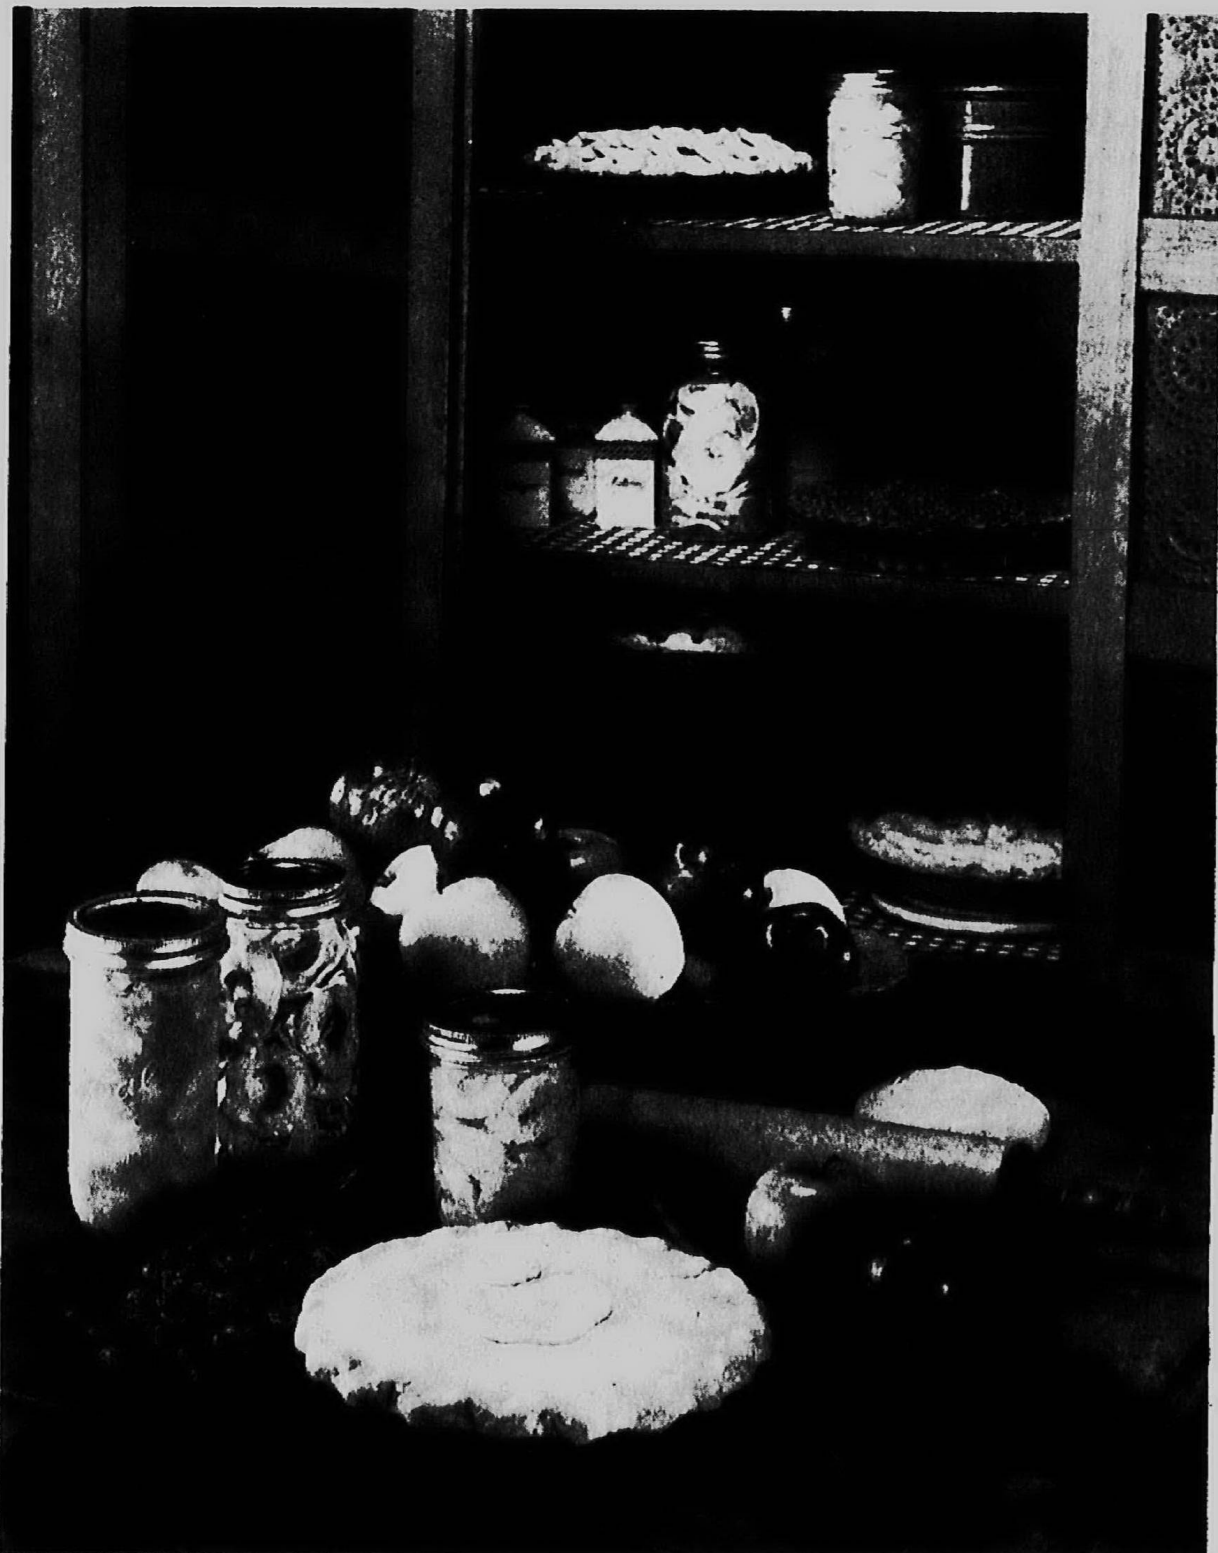

DRIED APPLES

Choose Granny Smith, Rome Beauty, Winesap, or any tart, firm-textured apple. Wash, peel, and core. Cut into 1/4 to 1/2 inch slices. Pretreat by dipping in a mixture of 1 cup lemon juice to 1 quart water. Hold apples no longer than 10 minutes; drain before drying. Dry at 130° F. until pliable.

| 3 tablespoons cornstarch or flour | Double crust pastry for 9 inch pie |

Combine apples and cider, simmer 30 minutes until soft but not mushy. Drain apples, reserving 1/4 cup cider. Cool to room temperature. Combine sugar, cornstarch, and spices. Add apples and toss gently. Add reserved cider and toss again. Place apple mixture in pastry lined 9 inch pie pan. Dot with butter. Cover with pastry, crimp edges, and cut several steam vents. Bake pie on baking sheet in a preheated oven at 425° F. for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 375° F. and bake 30 minutes.

Hearts 'n' Spades Souffle is designed for an evening of bridge

Fall can be a great time to learn some new tricks.

Invite a group of friends over for an evening of bridge. Plan to have a weekly dinner, alternating among houses.

Serve an easy-to-prepare early meal, the ace up your sleeve, so the rest of the evening can be devoted to the game.

Players' Pork Stew, flavored with a rummed sauce and decked with tropical fruit, will be your trump. Hearty and substantial, it tastes best when made well in advance.

For dessert, deal out a delicious Hearts 'n' Spades Souffle. To rack up even more points as a hostess, a Cranberry Card is a special after-dinner drink, bridging the gap between dinner and the start of your game.

PLAYERS' PORK STEW

3 lbs. lean pork cubes, cut into 1 1/2-inch squares
2 tbsp. oil
1 1/2 cups sliced onion
2 1/2 cups chicken stock or broth
1/4 cup Bacardi light rum (80 proof)
1 1/2 tsp. salt
2 medium acorn squash, pared and seeded
1 1/2 cups artichoke hearts
1 large green pepper, cut into strips
1 tsp. grated lime peel
2 tsp. lime juice
1 1/2 cups pineapple chunks
1/4 cup brown sugar
3 tbsp. cornstarch
Lime wedges

In large heavy saucepan or Dutch oven, brown pork in oil on all sides. Add onion and cook several minutes. Add chicken broth, rum and salt. Cover and simmer 1 hour. Stir occasionally. Cut squash into 1/4-inch slices. Add artichoke hearts, green pepper, lime peel and lime juice. Simmer 15 minutes longer. Add pineapple and brown sugar. Blend cornstarch into 1/4 cup pineapple juice or water. Stir into stew. Cook, stirring gently, until sauce is thickened. To serve, garnish with lime wedges. Makes 8 servings.

HEARTS 'N' SPADES SOUFFLE

1 1/2 cups diced, mixed candied fruit
1/4 cup dark raisins
1/4 cup golden raisins
1/4 cup sliced, toasted almonds
1/4 cup Bacardi light rum (80 proof)
1 tsp. grated lemon peel
1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
1/4 tsp. allspice
2 quarts vanilla ice cream, softened
1/4 cup crumbled macaroons
Sweetened whipped cream
Candied cherries

In bowl, combine first 8 ingredients. Let stand 30 minutes at room temperature until all liquid is absorbed. Stir often. Blend in ice cream and macaroons. Place in freezer. Make aluminum collars around 8 individual souffle dishes by folding strips of aluminum foil long enough to overlap around each dish. Brush with oil on one side. Wrap around dish, foil side in. Fasten with tape. Spoon rum mixture into dishes. Freeze overnight. To serve, remove collar. Garnish with cream and cherries. Makes 8 servings.

CRANBERRY CARD

1 quart cranberry cocktail
2 cups sugar
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup lime juice
1 bottle (4 1/2 quart) Bacardi light rum (80 proof)
1 quart club soda

Olive oil dressing is fine on spinach salad

If spinach salad has been an all-American favorite, how come people are now afraid to eat it? Fear of cholesterol! Not in the salad, but in the bacon fat dressing usually associated with it.

Pure olive oil has no cholesterol. But unlike other vegetable oils, olive oil does more than just add liquid to a salad dressing. It adds taste.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT YOUR THANKSGIVING TURKEY

Meats are a staple food of most people in this country. In fact, for many of us it would seem like we hadn't eaten if we didn't have some meat with our meal. Meats are an excellent source of protein, vitamins and minerals, but most people don't realize what is done to most commercially available meats. For example, in chickens and turkeys, the breasts are the most popular part of the animal, so they are bred nowadays to produce larger and larger breasts in relation to the other bodily parts. The animals are kept in small cages with many others, and are injected with hormones to make them grow faster, and with larger breasts. They are usually fed chemically treated feed, including numerous antibiotics, and usually never see the light of day, let alone touch their feet to the ground. What this means is that any drug, hormone or other toxic agent will remain in the meat when we eat it. Because the animals never get any exercise, it necessarily means that the meat will be fatter and have a blander, if not altogether flavorless taste.

Naturally raised meats, on the other hand, are never injected with hormones or any other chemical substance to make them grow differently than nature intended them to. They are also free range animals, meaning that they graze and move about on the ground, producing a leaner, more flavorful meat.

The Good Food Company has naturally raised fresh and frozen turkeys available this Thanksgiving and year round. Our fresh turkeys are free range and hormone free, with small amounts of antibiotics in the feed, while our frozen Shelton turkeys are naturally raised and organically fed. Both types are $1.69 lb., and should be ordered or picked up early.

The folks at Good Food Company wish you a healthy, Happy Thanksgiving.

GOOD FOOD CO. is the largest natural food store in Michigan offering a complete selection of minimally processed and chemical free foods at substantial discounts.

We provide a deli, bulk foods, supplements, body care, organic produce, macrobiotics, distilled water, books, appliances and much more!

Using a billion pounds of pasta takes imagination

Americans love pasta. According to industry sources almost 1.1-billion pounds of pasta are consumed annually. Although the traditional marinara or meat sauce is the most common pasta toppings there are a multitude of alternatives which can transform these old favorites into new dining experiences.

Pasta is easy and economical to prepare, perfect for today's fast-paced society. It comes in a variety of cuts and flavors including egg, spinach, beet, tomato, herb, whole wheat and even carrot.

Pastas must fill certain ingredient criteria in order to be considered of high quality. For instance, egg noodles, unlike most pastas, must contain a minimum of 5.5-percent egg solids. High-quality pastas should contain semolina, a flour made from durum wheat. The addition of this ingredient helps prevent breakage during preparation and produces a product which holds its taste, texture and color better after cooking.

No matter what type of pasta is chosen, a common problem among consumers is the overcalculation of pasta quantity, which may leave you eating the same meal for several days.

Claudia O'Brien, consumer affairs manager for Lawry's Foods Inc., offers these guidelines when serving pasta: "First, keep in mind, 2 ounces of dry pasta (1 cup cooked) is a generally accepted main dish serving size. Adjust this amount according to the number of other dishes being served in accompaniment. Second, when serving rich sauces, which tend to be more filling, reduce the pasta-serving size by a half ounce per person."

Whether you inadvertently prepare more pasta than necessary or do so with the intention of using leftovers creatively, the Consumer Test Kitchens at Lawry's Foods have compiled a selection of recipes designed to cleverly disguise last night's leftovers. They include everything from a pie using spaghetti as the filling to an Italian variation of the classic Russian stroganoff. Leftover pasta need no longer be viewed with drudgery but as a delectable change of pace.

3 cups cooked spaghetti
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 cup (2 oz.) grated Mozzarella cheese

In medium saucepan, combine Spaghetti Sauce Mix with Imported Mushrooms, tomato paste, water and salad oil; blend well. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, 25 to 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Combine ground beef and Meat Loaf Seasoning Mix; press into a 9-inch pie pan to form shell. Bake, uncovered, in 350 degree oven 30 minutes; drain well. Mix together 1 1/4 cups spaghetti sauce with cooked spaghetti; add Parmesan cheese. Fill meat pie shell with spaghetti mixture; top with remaining sauce and sprinkle with Mozzarella cheese. Bake, covered, in 350 degree oven 10 to 15 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Sprinkle cooked pie with chopped parsley, if desired. To serve, cut into wedges.

No Dieting - Eat All You Want Pill Does All the Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA. (Special)—An amazing new "super" grapefruit pill has recently been developed and perfected that reportedly "guarantees" that you will easily lose at least 10 pounds in 10 days. Best of all, it allows you to "eat as much as you want of your favorite foods and still lose a pound a day or more starting from the very first day until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire."

This "super" grapefruit pill is a dramatically improved version of the world famous grapefruit diet. It is far more effective than the original and eliminates "the mess, fuss, and high cost of eating half a fresh grapefruit at every meal."

"Pill Does All the Work"

According to the manufacturer, "the pill itself does all the work while you quickly lose weight with NO starvation "diet menus" to follow, NO calorie counting, NO exercise, and NO hunger pangs." It is 100% safe. You simply take the pill with a glass of water before each meal and the amazing combination of powerful ingredients are so effective they take over and you start losing weight immediately.

Pill Has ALL Daily Vitamins

The powerful and unique combination of ingredients are what make this a "super-pill". It contains highly potent grapefruit concentrate and a diuretic to help eliminate bloat and puffiness. No need to take any vitamins to maintain your good health and energy. The pill is fortified with ALL (100%) of the U.S. Government daily vitamin requirements.

Contains Japanese 'Glucomannan'

Each pill also contains an amazingly effective amount of "glucomannan", the remarkable natural dietary fiber discovery from Japan (used successfully for over 1500 years) that expands in your stomach and gives you a full and satisfied feeling all day long.

The super-pill is already sweeping the country with glowing reports of easy and fast weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Now Available to Public

You can order your supply of these highly successful "super" grapefruit pills (now available directly from the manufacturer by mail order only) by sending $12 for a 14-day supply (or $20 for a 30-day supply, or $35 for a 60-day supply) cash, check, or money order to: Citrus Industries, 9903 Santa Monica Bl., Dept. TV show left a bad taste, veal marsala makes up for it

I had managed to avoid the television show Mama Malone (that's Ma-lon-ee) until that fateful evening. I don't know why I didn't move the dial before I received a lesson in bad taste. Call it bad judgment.

What makes matters worse, Mama Malone is a cook who has a TV show. This episode featured a feud over garbage — how fitting — and a misunderstood neighbor.

Mama Malone is preparing a large pot of Italian boiled meats when she isn't cracking the most tacky jokes I've heard on the tube. She's too lazy to dispose of the garbage in the routine manner. Instead, it is deposited in the hallway of her apartment house.

The neighbor returns the bagged contents in a gift-ribboned box. Finally, after several tasteless exchanges, the neighbor drops the garbage in her pot.

Is Mama disturbed? Yes, but she just happens to have a replacement dish in the oven. When she hears that the neighbor is a New York Yankee fan, she spits on his choice — square on the dish.

The best part of the show: the commercials. Mama Malone is giving Italian cooking a bad name. I have a few I'd like to deliver in person to the writers and the network.

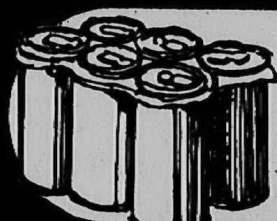

VEAL SCALOPPINE MARSALA

1 1/2 lbs. veal cutlets, pounded thin and cut in strips
6 tbsp. all-purpose flour
1/2 tsp. each salt and black pepper
4 tbsp. butter
2 tbsp. olive oil
1 small onion, sliced
1 garlic clove, cut in 3 pieces
1 lb. mushrooms, sliced
1 cup chicken broth
1/2 cup Marsala wine
1/4 cup tomato juice
Pinches of nutmeg, tarragon, basil and oregano
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Dredge veal in mixture of flour, salt and pepper, set aside. In electric fry pan, swish together 2 tablespoons butter and oil, saute onion and garlic several minutes. Lightly brown meat on both sides, adding 1 tablespoon butter, and remove; discard garlic. Add 1 tablespoon butter to pan, saute mushrooms 5 minutes, add broth, wine, tomato juice and seasonings, reduce heat to 200-210 degrees, cover and cook 12 minutes. Return veal, adding a little more wine and tomato juice of needed; cover and cook 25 to 30 minutes, occasionally stirring. Sprinkle on cheese, turn off heat and let stand 10 minutes. You can garnish with fresh parsley. Serve 4.

The best part of the show: the commercials. Mama Malone is giving Italian cooking a bad name.

The good old days

When President Washington decided to take a three-month tour of the South he simply climbed aboard his coach and took off — without Secret Service men or press of any kind. Because of a mix-up of mails and the unmapped roads, the government did not know for nearly two months exactly where the president was.

A QUESTION, for sports fans: What is the oldest, continuously operating sports organization in the state of Michigan?

Answer: The Detroit Curling Club. Joe Livermore, president of the club, announced that the centennial season began Nov. 1.

The first curling club in the United States was organized in 1831 at Orchard Lake and the "Orchard Lake Curling Club" used hickory blocks instead of granite stones. The Detroit Curling Club and the Thistle Club were formed about 1840 and curling became a winter sport when the ice was right in the Detroit River at the foot of Joseph Campau and at old Recreation Park. These clubs joined to become the Granite Club.

In 1885, the present Detroit Curling Club was organized. The city had a population of about 150,000 and its rapid transit was horse-drawn. Rinks curled on natural ice in the old Detroit Athletic Field on the west side of Woodward, between Canfield and Forest.

They moved to a new clubhouse built on W. Forest Avenue in 1906 and were there until the city bought the clubhouse in 1979. This brought about the move to a modern facility in West Bloomfield Township with a well-appointed lounge, bar, kitchen, and viewing area. It has carpeted locker room and a spacious arena. Curling is a game for three entire family, from 8 to 80.

Special Centennial Year membership packages are available. Call 661-2890 for information or stop by at 5600 Drake Road, half a mile north of Maple and two miles west of Orchard Lake.

Congratulations to the Detroit Curling Club. It's a great sport, mon.

ST. MARY Hospital in Livonia is celebrating its silver anniversary and the 10th anniversary of the establishment of its Alcohol Therapy Department.

In recognition of Alcohol Awareness Week, Nov. 11-17, St. Mary is offering a free lecture to community residents, entitled "Adolescent Alcoholism: The Hidden Tragedy." Director of the hospital's alcohol therapy department, Philip O'Dwyer, will discuss the prevalence of alcohol addiction among teen-agers, how to recognize the signs, and how to deal with the young person.

He will make the presentation at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 12, in the Nursing Services Classroom on the first floor of the hospital, Five Mile at Lévan.

O'Dwyer has degrees in psychology, counseling, theology and social work. He has been visiting speaker at institutes throughout the United States and Europe and has published a number of distinguished works. He presented "A Systems Approach to Alcoholism Treatment" to the annual conference of the American Association of Counseling and Development in Bad Kissingen, West Germany, last year.

He will give a follow-up lecture at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 29, in the same place. His topic will be "Alcohol Dependence: A Family Problem." It will deal with the alternatives available to family members in their search for ways to cope with the alcoholic. These alternatives include education, group therapy and family counseling.

For more information about either of the programs, call 464-4800, Ext. 2436.

THE THERAPEUTIC Activities Committee of the Detroit Institute for Children is producing a Holiday Toy Show. A wide variety of commercially available toys and playthings for handicapped children will be shown and demonstrated 2-6 p.m. Friday, Nov. 16, at the Institute, 5447 Woodward.

Each toy in the show was selected because of its appropriateness for children with various disabilities. Some toys may require simple adaptations to enable children to play with them effectively. How to make these adaptations will be demonstrated at the show.

Parents and grandparents will be able to inspect the toys and learn the advantages and disadvantages of the toys for each child's particular disability.

7,000 Scouts at national convention

Plymouth and Canton Township were well-represented at the National Girl Scout Association convention that attracted 7,000 Scouts to Detroit. Ellen Seery, 17, of Canton was one of the 141 Girl Scouts elected a voting delegate by the 336 councils involved in the convention.

Huron Valley Council, which includes Washtenaw, Livingston and Monroe as well as western and southern Wayne counties, sent seven delegates representing a variety of adult positions and geographical locations in addition to Delegates, who were not constrained to vote in any way, changed the Girl Scout promise by substituting the words "to help people at all times" for "to serve ... mankind," retaining the expression "to serve God and my country."

They voted to raise the dues of all members rather than just those of adults, defeated a proposal for an alumnae-membership category and accepted the slate of officers and members of the National Board of Directors proposed by the nominating committee.

PRISCILLA Snyder of Plymouth and Ruby Monk and Peggy Seery of Canton attended all four days of the convention as official visitors. They were admitted to the visitors gallery, the exhibits and all special celebrations.

Snyder, a Girl Scout since 1924, renewed many friendships made at the World Conference of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts early in the summer. She was a volunteer dormitory hostess at the world conference.

Ruby Monk said, "One of the most exciting aspects of the convention was seeing all those people in green, people sharing a commitment to girls and young women, meeting in Cobo Hall and streaming up and down Jefferson Avenue."

PEGGY SEERY said everyone was moved by the closing ceremony.

"Hundreds of Girl Scouts — Daisies, Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes and Seniors — carrying blue, white and green helium-filled balloons and singing 'Weave Us Together,' the song of the world conference, as they twined among among the delegates.

"Suddenly Cobo was full of swaying, hand-holding Girl Scouts, little girls of 5 and men and women of 70 as well as every age in between, united in a song most of them had not heard before, connected physically and emotionally to people they had not met before."

Members of Senior Girl Scout Troop 501, which meets in Plymouth, volunteered to serve at the convention.

THEY HELPED in the sales area of the National Girl Scout Equipment Service display, ushered, and, in general, helped make visitors welcome southeastern Michigan.

When their work was done, Hope Buchanan, Bev Gildhaus, Carol Jasmer and Dana Pressede of Plymouth, and Carolyn Carithers, Stacey Jasmowski, Bridget Lynch and Kim Reaser of Canton had an opportunity to attend convention meetings.

Verna George, Kathy Lynch, Darlene Severson, Bob Wells, Kathy Wells and Diane Welder attended one or more meetings.

Ruth McMahon was a volunteer on the arrangements committee and Barb Weir staffed an information booth for the Catholic Youth Organization.

Her dolls are 1 of a kind

Ingrid Dijkers' "dolls" recall fairy tales and fantasies.

"I refer to them as dolls, although they resemble marionettes. I use the crossbar and string to pose them. They are not functioning marionettes," she said.

Dijkers has been making the dolls for just half a year and she has evolved her own process.

"I start with a glob of clay, then mold and carve the head. I made a bar to hold the clay while I work on it. I also mold the hands and feet," she said.

Next, she makes a plaster mold of the head. Clay is poured into the mold to make a hollow form, which is fired at 2,700 degrees.

"I have no set plan when I start a doll. I'll fire several heads from the same mold, and they'll all turn out different."

SHE SAID she usually uses acrylic paint for the faces although she has used oils and even car paint.

After dolls are assembled, with stuffed cloth bodies and limbs, Dijkers makes their costumes.

"I've been gathering fabrics and laces for years. When I went to Holland, I visited flea markets there and in Belgium, looking for antique laces and materials," she said. She combines fabrics she's had for 12 years with something she found a month ago.

She has several dolls in Folkways on Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, and one in Dragonfeathers Shop in Dearborn. There are four more, nearly completed, at home, and another in the making. The dolls in Folkways are priced at $285 each.

HOME IS on Pacific in Plymouth. Ingrid and Robert Dijkers have been married 6½ years and have an 11-month-old daughter, Tricia.

Ingrid majored in the arts during her three years in college. She said both her parents graduated from the Academy of Fine Arts in Holland.

"I grew up surrounded by the arts and artistic people," she said. And her talents aren't limited to making one-of-a-kind dolls. She is a weaver. She has three looms — an antique loom, one for fine weaving, and one she uses for making rag rugs.

She says she uses everything, old fabrics, new fabrics and yarns in her weaving. She also designs contemporary rag rugs.

She works with old quilts, making stuffed toys and animals out of the good parts.

She even made the wooden ark to display her animals in the Folkways shop.

Dolls, posed with strings attached to an overhead bar, seem to have stepped from the pages of a storybook.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Each of Ingrid Dijkers' dolls has a personality all its own.

Petersen-Nitz

Laurette Diann Nitz and Stephan Carsten Petersen exchanged marriage vows Sept. 22 in Ascension Lutheran Church, Livonia. Pastor Darwin Polesky officiated. The bride's parents are Dean and Lorna Nitz of Partridge Drive, Plymouth Township. The bridegroom is the son of Lorenz and Monique Petersen of Lindsay, Plymouth Township.

The bride's waltz-length gown was made of white embroidered tulle over taffeta, with a scalloped hemline. She carried a small cascade of gardenias and pink roses as well as a lace handkerchief that belonged to the great-grandmother of her maid of honor, Sandra Pinnavaia of East Lansing. Susan Nitz of Plymouth was bridesmaid. The attendants wore silver tea-length dresses with pink ribbon sashes and carried nosegays of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Keith Greenleaf was best man. George Trudell was groomsman and Joel Nitz was usher. The wedding luncheon was in White House Manor and the couple will live in Chicago, Ill.,

Freshman Dena Head (with ball) led Plymouth Salem past Livonia Churchill Thursday with 15 points.

Bulldogs oust Chiefs, Salem begins quest

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

The Livonia Bentley girls basketball team waited for nearly 3 1/2 quarters for Plymouth Canton to beat them.

The Chiefs never did. Finally, Bentley's Amy Weber got tired of waiting and scored seven straight points to help bury the Chiefs 49-44.

The win advanced the Bulldogs into the semifinal round of the Western Lakes conference playoffs. They will travel to Plymouth Salem Tuesday.

The victory was far from a work of art. Both teams played ultra-sagging zone defenses. Both teams shot poorly from the perimeter. And, there were 42 fouls called.

But, after five straight losses, Bentley happily accepted the victory.

"We did exactly what I wanted to do," said Bentley coach Tom Lang. "How many points did (Laura) Darby get?"

DARBY, A tough inside player for the Chiefs, scored 16 of 28 points in Canton's victory over Bentley two weeks ago. The mission for the Bentley defense was to stop her.

It did. Darby scored just three free throws all night.

"We just said let them shoot from the outside if they want to," Lang said. "We figured if we could stop Darby we'd stay in the league race."

In Darby's defense, she was utterly swarmed by the Bentley zone. Canton was unable to score from the outside, nor could it move the ball around quickly enough to spread the Bentley zone.

"We just weren't ready for the challenge at the beginning," said Canton coach John Mulroy. "We knew they were going to throw the zone at us. We practiced it all week. We just came out flat. We missed a few shots then got gun shy."

Kathy Ross started to find the range from the corner in the second quarter. She hit three jumpers to keep Canton in the game. But, as soon as she got hot she got into foul trouble.

BASICALLY, THAT was the storyline for the Chiefs. For whatever reason — poor shooting, foul trouble — they simply were unable to mount any sustained offense.

"We had more than enough chances to win this one," Mulroy lamented.

Bentley, with some erratic offense of its own, made sure Canton stayed close. The Bulldogs led 22-15 after a half. Canton pulled within one early in the third quarter. Bentley went back up by eight. The quarter ended with Canton down six.

lights went out early for Livonia Churchill.

Last Monday, the Chargers played Plymouth Salem to a five-point game. Thursday night, in the first round of the Western Lakes playoffs, Salem went for the jugular.

Reggie Rojeski hit three jumpers. Dena Head found the hoop four times. Mary Beth Weast added another. Before Churchill could say "time out," Salem had a 16-0 lead.

"We just played a great game tonight," said Salem coach Fred Thomann.

Head, a freshman, scored 15 to lead the Rocks. Weast and Fran Whittaker added 10 each. Rojeski scored eight.

Tracy Greenwald and Paula Sanburn scored 10 each for the Chargers.

Churchill (4-13) will host Walled Lake Central in a consolation match Tuesday. Salem (16-2) will host Bentley in the league's semifinal round.

Canton senior Kathy Ross scored 10 points in the Chiefs' loss.

SALEM 48, CHURCHILL 30: The Rocks put on show for Western

One team is an established league power. The other is a fledgling program. The fledgling team (Walled Lake Western) got to witness first hand just how far it has to go Thursday night.

Plymouth Salem, a perennial contender in the Western Lakes swim race, blasted Western out of the water, 140-29. The Rocks captured the first three places in all but one event.

The best race of the night came in the 200-yard freestyle event and it was between two Rocks. Karen Dalpe (2:10.0) barely outouched teammate Tracy Meszaros (2:10.07).

Other winners for Salem were: Sue Bonnett in the 50 free (28.2), Cory Silver in diving (182.6 points), Laura Shaffer in the 100 butterfly (1:06.7), Kristal Taylor in the 100 free (57.6), Meszaros in the 500 free (5:54.0).

Lindsay Olson in the 100 backstroke (1:13.2) and Cindy Elliott in the 100 breaststroke (1:16.5).

Salem's Olson, Bonnett, Laura Shaffer and Elliott combined to win the 200 medley relay in 2:05.1. Shaffer, Meszaros, Dalpe and Taylor went 4:04.6 to win the 400 free relay.

The victory makes the Rocks 11-3 on the season.

State champs grace All-Observer squad

By Brad Emone
and Chris McCosky
staff writers

It doesn't get any better than this for the Observerland area: Redford Catholic Central won the Class A state boys cross country team title for the second straight year and Garden City's Dave Homann won the independent race at the state meet.

Observerland was also well represented at the state meet as Farmington's boys finished second in the Section I regional at Royal Oak Kimball, while the Westland John Glenn and Redford Union boys took second and third, respectively, in Section II.

As for the girls, Plymouth Salem qualified in Section I by finishing second. It was a 1-2-3 finish, meanwhile, in Section II by Livonia Churchill, Redford Union and Stevenson.

The quality of these teams is reflected by the individuals. CC placed five of its runners on the first team and one on the second.

Presenting the 1984 All-Area cross country teams as selected by area coaches:

ALL-AREA BOYS FIRST TEAM

Dave Homann, Garden City: In an independent race for those runners whose teams did not qualify for the state meet, Homann won the title with a time of 15:33.5 (for 5,000 meters).

This season he recorded 13 first place finishes, including invitational titles at Schoolcraft, Wayne and RU. He also set four course records and won the Northwest Suburban League (NSL) meet.

On the All-Area team for the second straight year, Homann is an 'A' student.

cross country

Marty Hegarty, Catholic Central: The senior has a long list of accomplishments, including fourth place overall in the state meet "team race" with a time of 15:42. He was also the Class A regional champ, edging Homann at Kimball.

This year, Hegarty won the Holly and Shrine/Shamrock meets, and finished second at the West Bloomfield, Haslett, Sturgis and the Catholic League meets. It's also his second consecutive showing on the All-Observer squad.

Steve Shaver, Catholic Central: The senior standout overcame some early season injury problems to help CC win the state title.

He was first in the Catholic League, Operation Friendship and Sturgis meets. Shaver was third in the regional and seventh in the "team race" at the state meet with a time of 15:45.

He is a four-year All-Catholic performer and repeater on the All-Area squad.

Chris Inch, Farmington: Only a sophomore, Inch was one of the major reasons why the Falcons earned a state ranking this season.

He was 21st in the "team race" at state with a time of 16:14. He was the Western Lakes Conference champ, second at Schoolcraft and eighth at the Kimball regional. He showed steady improvement throughout the year.

Al Stebbins, Farmington: A first-year performer, this sophomore enjoyed a banner season with a best time of 16:36, good enough for 46th at the state meet.

Talent plenty on All-Area team

He finished sixth at Schoolcraft and ninth in the regional.

"Al will be an outstanding track and cross country runner for the future," said Farmington coach Jerry Young.

Jim Cauzillo, Catholic Central: A two-year All-Catholic performer, Cauzillo gave the state champion Shamrocks added depth.

The senior was 29th in the state meet (16:21), fourth in the Catholic League and fifth in the regional. Cauzillo also finished third at Sturgis and fifth at the Shrine/Shamrock meet.

Tony Mizzi, Catholic Central: A junior, Mizzi finished 41st in the state meet with a time of 16:35. He was also ninth in the regional and 10th at the Catholic League meet.

His best finish in an invitational was at Sturgis, where he placed fifth. Mizzi was also 10th at the Shrine Shamrock and 12th at Haslett.

Kirk Armstrong, North Farmington: Armstrong, a junior, rolled up some impressive statistics this year.

Although his team did not qualify for the state meet, the North standout finished 15th in the independent race. He was third in the regional and second behind Homann in the NSL meet.

"Kirk is an outstanding runner who came on very strong at the end of the season," said North coach Mark Bechard.

Eric Buchanan, Redford Union: RU's senior captain and No. 1 runner most of the year, Buchanan finished third in the NSL and sixth in the regional. He was also fourth at Schoolcraft and first at the Walled Lake Invitational.

"Eric has made great improvement over the past three years," said RU coach Bob Ouellette. "He's been consistent all season and has a good future as a collegiate-level runner."

Chris Rito, Catholic Central: A senior, Rito was a big factor in the Shamrocks' "perfect season."

He placed 60th in the state meet with a time of 16:44, finished sixth in the Catholic League and seventh at the regional.

His best invitational finishes occurred at Sturgis (fourth) and the Shrine/Shamrock (eighth).

ALL-AREA GIRLS FIRST TEAM

Lauri Runk, Farmington Harrison: This dedicated performer will graduate this spring as the most proficient cross country runner in Harrison's history. She is a two-time All-Area member. She owns the Harrison course record (18:32 on the 3-mile course).

This season, she won the Western Lakes meet, placed second at the regional (19:46), and 11th at the state meet (19:36). It was the third straight season Runk qualified for the state meet.

Janis Bilinski, Redford Union: Only a sophomore, Bilinski was a driving force behind the Panthers' success this season. She earned all-Northwest Suburban League honors, was all-invitational at the Schoolcraft meet, won the Walled Lake Western Invitational, placed fourth at the regional and 17th at state. A pretty nice list of credentials.

Melody Mogielski, Redford Union: Senior Mogielski captained the Panthers this year. She has been a three-year standout for RU. She was all-NSL, all-Schoolcraft Invitational, ninth in the regional meet and 82nd at the state meet.

Katie Showich, Redford Thurston: Running can be an isolated, lonely activity. Team cross country is designed to alleviate that. Not so for Showich. Showich ran virtually alone at Thurston and she ran splendidly for three years. She finished third in the NSL meet, ninth at both the Schoolcraft and RU invitational, third in the Class B regional and 12th at the state meet. This is her second season on the All-Area team.

Pam Eldridge, John Glenn: A senior, second-year member of the All-Area team, Eldridge had another outstanding year despite missing some time with a leg injury. She took 14th in the regional meet and 34th in the state. She owns the Glenn course record with a 19:35.

Karen Opp, John Glenn: Also making her second appearance on the All-Area team, junior Opp is considered the premier prep runner in western Wayne County. She placed first in the NSL meet, second in the regionals and, despite developing hypothermia, she hung on to place 14th at the state meet.

Carol Sulick, Livonia Churchill: Check out these accomplishments for a first-year runner: 12th at Schoolcraft, 5th in the Western Lakes, 5th in the regional meet, 14th at RU and 55th at the state meet. Sulick, a junior, was the catalyst of Churchill's fine season.

Susan Tatigian, Livonia Stevenson: The last of six returners to the All-Area team, senior Tatigian was the captain and MVP of a solid Stevenson team. She didn't lose a dual-meet race this season. She placed 4th at Schoolcraft, 2nd at the Ann Arbor Invitational, 6th at RU, 10th at the regional and 61st at state.

Denise Durrer, Plymouth Salem: A standout as a junior with Redford Union last year, Durrer transferred to Salem where she became the Rocks No. 1 runner. She holds one of the top five 5K times in Salem history. She ran 2nd in the Western Lakes meet, 8th at Schoolcraft, 11th at RU, 7th in the regional and 16th at the state. Her best time this season was 19:12.

Sherry Williams, Bishop Borgess: This talented senior didn't lose a dual meet this season and earned all-Catholic honors. She has qualified for the state meet four straight seasons. She placed 5th at Schoolcraft, 8th in the Catholic League race and 6th in the regional. The Borgess captain also carries a 3.1 grade point.

New faces, new hope for S'craft

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

Carlos Briggs is gone. That's the first thing that should be understood about Schoolcraft College's basketball team. The high-scoring guard has taken his immense talents to Baylor University.

The second thing about this year's team: It will be improved. Vastly improved, according to coach Rocky Watkins.

"We were extremely slow last year," said Watkins of the 1983 Ocelots, who finished 14-17 overall and 3-9 in the Michigan Community College Athletic Association's Eastern Conference. "We rebounded well but we couldn't run and we couldn't play defense."

THAT'S ALL changed. Watkins fielded a completely revamped squad at last weekend's Macomb Tipoff Classic.

How good is Schoolcraft? Watkins, who envisioned great things for the Ocelots last season, is guardedly optimistic.

"This team is much quicker, and is an excellent defensive team," he said. "We won't be relying on one person so much. We have better balance."

"They're much more intelligent. Everyone has a 2.4 grade point or better. We can get them to play different offenses and multiple defenses, really mix it up."

Schoolcraft sports

Getting the 1983 team to play any defense was a challenge. Schoolcraft led the Eastern Conference in scoring, but it was last in points allowed, too.

A GOOD indicator of how good Schoolcraft is will best be found not in studying the starting lineup, but the bench. That's where James Orr and Eric Stokes, a pair of returnees, will be found.

"Although they were starters last year, they can't crack this lineup," said Watkins. Orr averaged 18 points per game, while Stokes was the team's top defensive player.

Among those starting in their place are, at forward, Bradley Turner, a 6-foot-6 leaper from Detroit St. Martin DePorres, and Tony Randall, 6-4, a Detroit Northwestern grad who transferred from Utah State.

Arnie Ziegler, 6-6, from Detroit Cody, will fill the center spot. Clarence Jones, 6-1 from Detroit Denby, is the player Watkins hopes can fill last season's biggest void: point guard. Dave Caravallah, a 6-1 Livonia Franklin grad, is the off-guard.

DWIGHT POOLER, 6-3 from Detroit Chadey, will swing between forward and guard as the team's sixth man. Curt Ullstrom, a 6-1 Livonia Stevenson grad, "has been looking really good" at shooting guard, Watkins said. Others to watch are 6-2 forward John Foley, from Northville, and 6-2 guard Harold Martin, from Cody.

Watkins is so impressed with the team's depth of talent, he said the starting lineup was "subject to change as the season progresses."

And yet, Watkins stopped short of calling Schoolcraft a contender for the league title. "I would have to say we're darkhorses," said Watkins. "Highland Park, (defending state champion) Flint Mott and (defending Eastern Conference champion) Macomb are the favorites. "Henry Ford and Schoolcraft are darkhorses."

WHAT CAUSED Watkins to bridle his enthusiasm was a lesson learned from last year's disaster, in which Schoolcraft fell from league champs to the cellar, plus the team's inexperience.

"We're extremely talented," assessed Watkins. "They're working hard and they like each other. They're a very cohesive unit, and they're very optimistic."

"It depends how quickly they adjust to this level of play."

The Ocelot schedule includes a trip to New York for a Thanksgiving Tournament with Bronx Junior College, Road Island JC and Monroe CC. "There's not a soft spot on our schedule," Watkins evaluated.

Of course, should Schoolcraft stumble early, all the preseason optimism could turn into discouragement. Still, Watkins is confident.

"There's no question — this is a much better team (than last year's)," the coach said. "Our record will improve without a doubt."

"It's just a matter if we can win it all." And only time can separate what is hoped and what is.

● MIAA ELITE

John Thrash raced to a sixth-place finish to help Albion take third in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) cross country championship meet last Saturday at Alma.

Thrash, a junior and a Redford Union graduate, was clocked at 27:16. His sixth-place finish earned him All-MIAA honors.

Albion was 4-2 in dual meets. Calvin was unbeaten in dual meets and finished second in the championship meet to Hope.

● BEST KICKER

Jim Berry was awarded a pair of post-season honors for Western Michigan's soccer team.

The Broncos finished 9-7-1, with Berry, a junior from Livonia Stevenson, sharing most improved player honors with Willy Vancrey and top offensive performer with Rick Colling. For the season, Berry scored seven goals and assisted on four others, the second-best totals on the team.

● CENTRAL STANDOUTS

Lori Swanson continues to display her power at the volleyball net for Central Michigan.

The junior from Livonia Bentley registered 15 kills for Central Michigan in a tough four-game loss to nationally-ranked Western Michigan. She had a .428 hitting percentage for the match and hit .358 for the week, which included a three-game sweep from Northern Illinois.

Prior to that, Swanson hit .419 in wins over Bowling Green and Toledo. Central is now 18-8 overall and 11-3 in the Mid-American Conference (MAC), in second place behind Western.

The Chippewa soccer team ended its season on the upswing by drubbing Toledo 6-1. Joe Moreau, a junior from Livonia and a Redford Catholic Central grad, scored twice for Central to give him seven goals and three assists for the season.

Keith Reynolds, a junior from Plymouth, assisted on Jerome Porter's game-winning score. Reynolds totalled five goals and three assists for the year. CMU finished 7-9-1.

● NET ANCHOR

Chris Gilles continues to excel for Wisconsin's tennis team. The freshman from Plymouth Salem is 10-4 as the Badgers No. 1 singles player.

In a recent three-match stretch, Gilles was 3-0 as Wisconsin beat Minnesota 7-2, Wichita State 8-1 and Iowa 8-1. Gilles also teamed with Charlene Kaya in No. 2 doubles and won three straight matches. Gilles has a 5-5 record with three different doubles partners and is 3-3 with Kaya.

For the season, Wisconsin is 6-5 in dual meets.

● TOP LINEMAN

Bob Smedley garnered offensive lineman of the week honors for Adrian College in the Bulldogs 66-0 thrashing of Olivet Oct. 27.

The 6-foot-3, 232-pound senior tight end, a Redford Bishop Borgess grad, hauled in seven passes for 70 yards, including a seven-yard touchdown grab. He also blocked at a 92 percent proficiency.

● DOGS DELIGHT

While Georgia's volleyball team may not be reaching the lofty heights in Southeastern Conference (SEC) play that coach Sid Feldman had envisioned, but Karen Kelley remains a shining star for the Dogs.

The senior from Livonia Stevenson hit .412 as Georgia defeated Clemson, Georgia Tech and Western Carolina and lost to SEC foe Tennessee.

Mohacsi gains spot in state bowling hall

Joe Norris, former captain of the famous Stroh team who has been a legend in Detroit bowling for more than half a century, is about to make a bid to tie the most unusual record in the ten pin game.

He is coming east from his home in San Diego to compete in a special event sponsored by the Brunswick Co., and he is expected to become one of only three men thus far to knock over more than 100,000 pins in his career.

The novel event is being dedicated to him and he is expected to move to the top in the unusual bracket. He is averaging better than 190 in the senior league and should pass the 100,000 mark easily.

ANOTHER HONOR Mary Mohacsi, who recently won the world amateur championship, is due for another honor next Tuesday night. She is to be inducted into the Michigan Amateur Sports Hall of Fame and thus complete the circle of all Halls of Fame open to her in the state. The induction will be at Athena Hall in Roseville.

MERRI-BOWL Myron Marciev reached his goal while bowling in the handicappers league when he posted a 300 game. It was his first and now he is a member of the prestigious 300 Club. High series for the league went to George Patukop with a 668.

In the pocket by W. W. Edgar

WOODLAND LANES Two perfect games featured the week of high scores. Tom Nippa linked games of 257, 224 and 212 for 723.

In the senior house league Jim Kholl posted a 713 on games of 254, 247 and 212. On the ladies side Eileen Sachau had high game with a 243, one pin more than Linda Simmons.

BEL-AIRE Neil Beckman joined the 700 club when he rolled a 788 in the senior house league. Dottie Chartes had a 264 for high single in the classic.

GARDEN Chet Lukas used a 245 opener to post a 648 and pace the St. Linus league. Dottie Chartes had a 264 for high single in the classic.

Observer sports ... national award winner

Suburban Newspapers of America:

Observer Sports ... more than just scores!
Our sports sections recently gained national recognition when the Observer won a national newspaper contest sponsored by the Suburban Newspapers of America.
Roy Gault, journalism professor at Oregon State University, judged the Observer as the nation's best weekly sports sections among the entries received.
This is just one example of our commitment to quality and excellence for our local readers.

"The volume and diversity of local amateur events/stories was by far the best of the entries. The writing is generally good, and the comprehensive (statistics) is a nice, newsy touch."

'Comfort and Joy' should have stayed back in Scotland

Opens Friday, Nov. 16, at the Maple Theatre in Bloomfield Township

"Comfort and Joy" gives very little of either. It's a Scottish import that must have gotten through customs when the inspectors were looking the other way.

Alan Bird (Bill Paterson) is a popular Glasgow disc jockey whose early morning radio show had made him a citywide celebrity. Live-in girlfriend, Maddy (Eleanor David), is an attractive kleptomaniac who moves out early on, leaving lovesick Alan moping around.

When forlorn Alan isn't early-morning deejaying, he hangs around surgeon friend and old-school chum, Colin (Patrick Malahide), who is far more patient with Alan than he ought to be. Perhaps it's because Dr. Colin's daughter is overwhelmed by Uncle Alan's celebrity. Oh, well, she's only 4.

Alan's other major occupation is fantasizing Maddy's loving return, so filmed that the audience is fooled into thinking she really has come back. It would have been nice, if she had. Then we could have cut out all the foolishness and gone home early, or gotten on with whatever was going on.

IN HIS SPARE time Alan wanders around Glasgow mistaking numerous women for Maddy. One of them turns out to be very lovely and very dangerous. Charlotte (C.P. Grogan) is helping her cousin Trevor (Alex Norton), alias Mr. Bunny, the ice-cream man.

Charlotte certainly is lovely enough to capture any man's eye and that's a lot more than you can say about the plot from this point on. (Of course, you couldn't say too much for it before, either.)

Bill Forsyth ("That Sinking Feeling," "Gregory's Girl," "Local Hero") wrote and directed "Comfort and Joy" in what turns out to be an overly dry manner unsuccessful in its attempt to capture the Monty Python style. For those who disdain Python the whole thing's a terrible bore.

There is some funny stuff but not enough to save "Comfort and Joy" from itself. The treatment of extremely mundane manners as if they were of lofty importance is a literary style that needs a very deft hand, obviously not available on the "Comfort and Joy" set. The whole thing comes off as a heavy-handed, sophomoric satire.

If you've stayed with it until Alan meets Charlotte, then you're entitled to sort out the relationships, if you can.

Charlotte's cousin Trevor is heir to the fish-'n'-chips combine but prefers ice-cream trucks and is competing with his uncle, Mr. McCool, the Italian ice-cream king, and his three wooden sons: Bruno, Paolo and Renato.

DADDY RUNS a tight ship and the boys know who hands out the ice cream and cookies, even if Cousin Trevor doesn't. Trevor insists on challenging his vindictive uncle. Please advise if you figure out why.

Naturally, lovesick Alan becomes hopelessly entangled in the Italian ice-cream war. Serves him right that his BMW upholstery gets "creamed."

Two excellent supporting character roles are wasted in this fruitless search for humor: Rikki Fulton is Hilary, the station manager/owner, who looks askance as his early-morning star gets involved with ice cream.

Hilary sends Alan to a shrink as a condition of his continued employment. El Shrinko needs help himself. Arnold Brown does a nifty satire on psychiatrists, at least if you're down on therapy.

If you still want to see "Comfort and Joy," go ahead, but don't say you weren't warned.

Deejay loses his live-in girlfriend, Maddy, played by Eleanor David.
