Board pulls plug on cable rate hike

staff writer

A $1.60 cable television rate increase requested by Omnicom has been denied by Plymouth Town-

Earlier this week the township board decided to deny the increase, based on information provided by the township auditors and attorney. Trustee Smith Horton was the lone no vote.

Omnicom asked for the basic service rate hike to improve the company's return on investment. It has failed to make a profit since starting operations in 1979, according to Rick Coleman, Omnicom general manager.

Despite the township's action, Omnicom is proceeding with a 40 cent increase allowed under new federal cable legislation. That law phases out local cable control over a two-year period, while allowing cable operators to increase rates 5 percent both years without approval.

The $1.60, coupled with the 40 cent company increase, would have raised basic rates from $7.95 to $9.95. Instead, the rate will go to $8.35

Township officials postponed making a decision on the request earlier this month to obtain information from the attorney. Their question centered on what criteria in the franchise ordinance a decision had to be based on.

In a letter to the board, attorney Brian James said the ordinance refers to rates which were "fair and reasonable" and "subject to review."

"Rate increases in excess of the 5 percent per year granted to Omnicom, are at this board's discreation and subject to the local ordinance previously cited," James wrote.

"It is the opinion of this office that Omnicom is entitled by law to a 5 percent increase forthwith and a 5 percent rate increase next year and to whatever other increase, if any, this board author-

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP wasn't the only community Omnicom approached for a rate increase. City of Plymouth officials turned down a similar request from the company earlier this month.

Like the township, city officials asked their auditing firm to review Omnicom's books before making a decision. Unlike the township, the city auditors weren't provided access to the information they desired.

Plymouth Township's auditing firm, Plante & Moran, provided trustees with information based on Omnicom's reported financial status. Although they didn't audit the firm's books, Plante & Moran told township officials the company has been and is operating with a "negative return on investment."

But the auditors report went on to say the township board may want to consider other factors including Omnicom's failure to meet all the provisions in the franchise agreement, such as installation of the institutional network, a home security alarm system, and the specified number of chan-

Coleman refuted the auditors claims about failure to live up to the agreement.

"I believe you've got a really good cable company in Plymouth Township. You shouldn't use this rate increase request as a punitive measure — it's not fair, it's not right," Coleman said.

Not delivering everything agreed to in the franchise agreement "is not just particular to Plymouth Township," he said.

'We made a valiant effort to make the security system work. It can't be done.

"Should we increase rates $4 or $5 just to cover an alarm system which we're losing our shirts

"As far as the home security system, the chances are remote you'll see it. The institutional network, I wouldn't put that in the same category with the security system," he said.

Coleman also pointed to the auditors findings in regard to continued losses as reason to approve the rate increase. Even a rate increase wouldn't completely turn around the company's position, he said.

"We at Omnicom are going to have to do some other things besides subscriber income to produce revenues - advertising, or leasing channels," he

DESPITE THE bleak financial picture Coleman painted, board members were skeptical.

"Once you consider all the tax benefits, the picture changes drastically," said Trustee Abe Mun-

Force forges ahead Police consultant to start plans

By Gary M. Cates

Police consultant Robert Parsons has been retained by Plymouth Township to help design the municipality's first police department.

Trustees voted unanimously earlier this week to enter a $13,000 contract with Parsons for services through July 30, 1985. His main tasks will be the design and implementation of a township police de-

Parsons, also the criminal justice coordinator at Ferris State College, served as technical consultant to the township's law enforcement study committee. It was that committee which recommended the township start its own police department.

Plymouth Township is moving toward hiring its own force when a contract to share police services with the City of Plymouth expires July 1, 1985. The township never has had its own full service depart-

Growing financial and operational concerns with the existing arrangement with the City of Plymouth prompted the formation of the law enforcement study committee and subsequent board action to start a department.

July 1. This includes: • Part I - assisting in the preliminary planning strategies and in the final design of an organizational structure, police station and equipment,

 Part II — the drafting of policies and procedures, department job descriptions, an employee evaluation system, staffing assignments, and shift

 Part III — forming a dispatch log system, daily logs for officers, incident reporting forms, an information tracking system, and department records system.

 Part IV — Assisting in the selection and general orientation of personnel.

• Part V - Overseeing the orientation and training of all department personnel regarding records anad management systems.

• Part VI - Miscellaneous organizational duties, including setting up informal cooperation agreements with adjacent law enforcement depart-

In all, Parsons projects 32 working days will be needed to complete the work, both on- and off-site. In addition to paying for Parsons' work, the township agreed to provide certain clerical services, lodging, meals, and miscellaneous office sup-

Post office proclaims proud performance for preholiday

According to the figures released by acting postmaster Joseph Bryan, the flood of mail has increased 2.7 percent over a year ago and he expects the rush to continue for a record that may be difficult to beat.

"Fortunately," he said, "we have been able to keep up with the rush and we still can stick to the one-day delivery.

"Our carriers have worked to the limit and we are proud to let the residents know that their mail will not be held up in this office."

Part of the rush can be attributed to the increase in population in the area during the past year. This is shown by the fact that the possible deliveries are up 300 from a year ago. That means there are 300 more families on the list served by the Plymouth off-

While the regular mail and letters are up, packages have been even with the figures of Bryan, who is serving while postmaster John Mulligan is on another assignment, admitted that it was a busy time with the Christmas rush. But he said he was proud of the way the rush is being handled.

"We now can guarantee even the advertisers that the mail posted one day will be delivered the next and that is something during a Christmas rush."

And while the rush is being handled, the postal officials, noting that business places have increased during the year, expect the record now being established will be broken with the holiday rush of 1985.

Decorating the church took two nights to complete, Halboth said, and all the decorations will remain up until after the Feast of the Epiphany, twelve days after Christmas.

VISITORS TO St. Andrew's Episcopal Church at 16360 Hubbard in Livonia are promised a beautiful sight to behold by members of the church staff.

The women of the church made a large needlepoint banner depicting the Christmas story to display in the church. The large all-white creche will be placed at the base of the alter and it will be flanked by 26 poinsettias.

A family service is planned for 7:30 p.m. and a festive service for 11:30 each service preceded by a half hour of carol singing. The times were listed incorrectly previously.

AN ANGEL made from the head and hands of a mannequin and dressed in a flowing white robe greets visitors to Ward Presbyterian Church at Farm-ington and Six Mile in Livonia.

The angel is surrounded by banners, and Christmas cards from congregation members festoon the robe, according to Cindy Fayroian, Christian education intern at the church.

Fayroian said the rest of the church is colorfully decorated for the season with Christmas trees, poinsettias and frost-tipped wreaths.

AT DIVINE SAVIOR Catholic Church at 39375 Joy Road in Westland, the church is not fully decorated until after the Advent Season which ends Sunday, according to Mary Ann Newton, director of education.

Until then, Advent decorations and a minimal number of Christmas decorations are used. Ornaments made by the children of the parish adorn the Christmas tree, and a "giving tree" which holds cards listing the needs of parishoners and gifts underneath are a special parish custom.

All the Christmas decorations at St. Bellarmine Catholic Church in Redford Township will not be up until Sunday, but when they are, a church spokesperson said "it's really beautiful."

The alter will be banked with poin-settias, large wreaths, lighted trees and a Nativity scene. A lighted crib scene is in place outside of the church.

AMONG THE traditional holiday services in Plymouth will be a candlelight music service featuring the children and adult choirs at First Baptist Church of Plymouth, 45000 N. Territorial Road, beginning 7:30 p.m. Christmas Eve. The mini-musical, "A New Silent Night," will be performed and Christmas carols sung.

A full slate of worship activities are planned at the First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth, Church at Main, beginning at 5 p.m. Christmas Eve with the cantata "Jesus Came for All Men (Christmas Around the World)." There also will be a live creche to which children can bring their Christmas offerings.

At 8 p.m. United Presbyterian will have a candlelight Communion service with music by the Agape Singers and prelude music from 7:30 to 8 p.m. by vocalists, woodwind ensemble, organ, chimes and carillon bells. At 11 p.m. will be the festival candlelight Communion service with choral music by the chancel choir and prelude music from 10:30 to 11 p.m.

THE FIRST Methodist Church of Garden City displays its traditional Christmas decorations, including a wish tree from which church members took tags and bought gifts for fellow church members.

The decorated Christmas trees will have a crimson flair, and a Nativity scene will be placed at the foot of the altar. Several members of the church painted a Nativity scene on the front window in honor of the season. The Detroit Laestadian Congregation will have its pre-Christmas serivces at 7:30 tonight (Saturday) and 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Sunday at 290 Fairground at Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth. Peter Nevala, youth director of the Association of American Laestadian Congregations will speak at these services.

Detroit commitment sought on sewer project

staff writer

Officials involved in the joint North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley sewer project want to pinpoint Detroit's position before making another attempt at federal funding.

"The communities had the rug pulled out from under them once already and we don't want that to happen again," said Richard Hinshon, Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) community assistance director.

The sewer project was denied 75percent Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) funding earlier this Another attempt at receiving funding during the 1985 fiscal year is in the works, even though at best it will be 55 percent of the total estimated $120million construction costs.

Hinshon, on "loan" to Wayne County from DNR, is heading up the second at-tempt — now being referred to as "Grandson of Supersewer." Supersewer was split into two projects in 1983, with many calling the north-end project Son

"I WON'T be going to the local com-munities and asking them to commit to the project until we've got something fairly firm from Detroit and something fairly firm from the EPA," Hinshon

"I've already talked with Charlie Williams (Detroit water and sewer director) and received a verbal agreement that Detroit will generate the necessary paperwork for receiving EPA funding.

'We're also waiting right now with the EPA for an overseer," he said. Hinshon wants an EPA official to review and advise during budget and planning discussions. Doing so, he hopes, will increase the chances of meeting EPA requirements for fund-

"We are looking at a two- or three-month time frame right now," Hinshon said. "A lot will depend on Detroit and how soon they get their paperwork done. Most of the information is al-

"There also is some work to be done in the Rouge Valley portion of the project, at the same time the Detroit work is being done," he said.

That work is aimed at sewer infiltration rates which were too high for EPA standards.

HOW WILL Grandson of Supersewer compare with its "father?"

'Initially there won't be any major changes," Hinshon said. "The project put forth to the EPA last time was the best project for the area. There will only be minor changes at this point.
"The catch will be whether doubling the local share will force some communities to drop out due to the drop in federal funding.

"If that happens, then there will be major changes," he said. Hinshon met with local officials Monday to introduce himself, as well as discuss the status of the project.

"I laid out where I was going," said
Hinshon, who called the meeting a 'gut-level" discussion.

"It was a good meeting, although there are some skeptics who believe the project never will be built."

One of the local leaders, Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen, agrees with Hinshon's approach. Breen olds the purse strings on the project planning money, as well as being involved in a lawsuit along with Canton Township against those believed to have caused the original Supersewer

"It's a logical plan. Without Detroit you do not have a project, so it makes sense to start with them," Breen said.

"Obviously it's required that the guy who owns the treatment plant and holds the power has to agree to it," he

Toy outspends Dumas 2-1 in election loss

The 10th Wayne County commission race last November saw incumbent Mary Dumas coast to victory and a seventh term having spent some $5.272

Her campaign ended with a $1,156

In contrast, her Democratic challenger Laura Toy spent $10,581 and collected a $2,523 campaign debt in her

The final totals were made available recently in post-campaign finance reports filed with the Elections Bureau of the Wayne County Clerk's office.

Dumas, the sole Republican on the 15-member commission, was re-elect-ed by a 2-1 margin in the district that takes in the communities of Livonia, Plymouth and Northville.

One of Dumas' single largest contributions came from the UAW's Southeastern Michigan Political Action Committee ($1,500) on Oct. 23. Other contributions listed in the report: the Wayne County Sheriff's Local 502 ($200) and the Republican 15th Congressional District ($150).

AMONG her largest campaign expenses included art supplies with a $1,800 payment made on Nov. 19, newspaper advertising on Oct. 29, 30 and Nov. 2 ($915) and $50 for food for her victory party.

On Nov. 19 the candidate also transferred $100 to her office-holders ac-

Dumas' debts amounted to mostly unpaid balances on campaign printing for brochures, poll cards and stamps.

Toy, a Livonia florist and School-craft College trustee, received one of her single largest contributions from her mother, Eileen Toy, who loaned the effort $1,950. Other contributors: the Italian American Political Action Committee ($200), Sharon Sarris ($150), the Livonia Police Officers Association Expenses listed in the final report were: newspaper advertisements ($1,424 for three ads), postage($1,133), poll cards ($517) and printing ($435).

In addition to an outstanding loan of $1,800 to the candidate's mother, listed debts include a $600 one to Laura Toy, herself. Another is a $123 outstanding unpaid balance to the first-prize winner of a campaign raffle.

Omnicom rate hike is denied

"Your parent company is probably making money from these tax benefits, off the losses you are reporting," he Baid.

Coleman said he didn't think so.

"In a generalized term, you have not Tived up to every contractual obligation You made when you got the franchise and you probably won't," Supervisor Maurice Breen said.

The supervisor pointed to the satel-Tite tier Omnicom sells.

"That's a marketing concept which meets the legality of the contract but stretched the intent of it," Breen said. He pointed to other factors which figure into Omnicom's financial status. "The decision to put the head end of the cable system in Westland affects the profitability," he said.

"This is the last chance to come to us for a blessing on a rate increase. I would just as soon not give it to them," he said.

What's a CEP?

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools has the only educational park In the state of Michigan.

The Centennial Educational Park (CEP) is a 305-acre site which is the home of two four-year comprehensive high schools - Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools.

The buildings, which were completed n 1973, house more than 200 teachers, counselors and learning specialists with a student population of about 3,500 in grades 10-12.

Courses available to students, who can participate interchangeably at either of the two schools, range from auto mechanics through foreign languages to calculus, and cover all areas

Athletic facilities at the CEP include wimming pools, gymnasiums and an 8,000-seat football stadium used jointly by both schools.

ARM AND SHOULDER PAIN

Neck strain from poor posture, or from an accident of some kind, can result in a variety of shoulder, arm or hand problems, with accompanying pain. The cause is often an initiation or "pinching" of the large nerves in the neck as they leave the spine and extend into the extremities. An understanding of these conditions can help you avoid problems and suffering. INSURANCE

Pat Butler, Schoolcraft's first librarian, retires

Hudson

The Plymouth resident who started the Bradner library at Schoolcraft College when he purchased the first book in the summer of 1962 - and more than 70,000 volumes during the next 22 years - is about to retire.

Patrick Butler, director of Schoolcraft College libraries, is leaving the college Dec. 31. He was the first person from Plymouth to be hired at the college and the third from any place to go on the college payroll.

Preceding him was Dr. Eric
Bradner, founding president of Schoolcraft, who retired in 1971, and Lois Waterman, dean of students emeritus, who retired in 1965.

WHEN BUTLER joined the college on July 1, 1962, he was encouraged by Bradner to begin ordering books imme-

That was more than two years before the college was scheduled to open. As a result of this foresight, when Schoolcraft admitted its first students in the fall of 1964, the library had 16,000 volumes fully catalogued and ready to go on the shelves. It now has more than 70,000 volumes, subscribes to 500 current magazines, and owns more than 20,000 documents.

Butler, born in Grand Rapids, was 18 when he entered the U.S. Army in 1943. He saw service in the infantry with the First Army, then the Third Army, in various parts of Europe until he returned to civil life in October 1945.

Pat then attended Western Michigan University where he received his bachelor's degree in English in 1949. He taught English for two years in Union City, meantime earning a master's degree in library science from the University of Michigan.

"It was the brightest thing I ever did," he says, of his decision to go into library work. "I got tired of reading student themes in the English classes I

In 1952, Butler was hired by Russell Isbister and Carvel Bentley to be librarian of the Plymouth-Canton school system. He taught a few English classes on the side. One day, in 1962, a student told him Dr. Bradner was looking a librarian to start the college library. He applied and was among those Bradner interviewed. He got the job and moved from the Plymouth school system to the newly-founded college which then had no students, no faculty and no build-

THE ONLY bibliography for community colleges then in existence was 30 years old. As indicated, the faculty had not yet been hired.

For a while, Butler conferred with Dr. Bradner and Miss Waterman to determine what subjects would be taught before he bought his first batch

After the faculty came aboard, he was able to ask the instructors to tell him what books they would need for their courses.

The design of the library was worked out with the college architect. The first plan, to consist of a two-story building, the estimated cost of $600,000 was too

The design finally approved called for the present one-story building, with 24,000 square feet of space, at a cost of $480,000. It opened in the fall of 1964, a few weeks after the college opened.

For the first few years some of the library building was occupied by eight classrooms. In 1968, when the liberal arts building was completed, the entire building became devoted to books, periodicals and audio-visual materials.

Butler says that when the college opened, about 70 percent of the stu-dents were just out of high school and headed for four-year colleges. Only 30 percent pursued a career or technical

Today, the ratio is reversed, and the average student age is near 30. In addition, the college now has off-campus centers, one in Garden City and another in the Plymouth Canton High com-

ASKED ABOUT the shape of the future for library science, Butler replies:

"Computerization and automation." Pat and wife June, who married in 1948, have eight children - six girls and two boys, ranging in age from 20 to 35. The offspring live in Novi, Ann Arbor, Farmington, Mt. Pleasant, Brooklyn, N.Y., Lincoln, Neb., and Boulder, Colo. "We have them placed strategically across the country," says Pat," so that we can have lots of places to vis-

Butler's wry sense of humor is apparent in articles he has written for the New York Times Magazine, the Saturday Review of Literature, Monthly Detroit, and the Junior College Journal.

An article he wrote for Monthly De

An article he wrote for Monthly Detroit a few years ago begins: "For generations, the bookstore proprietor has been the businessman most intimately identified with learning, gentility and bankruptcy. No longer. Most publishing houses today are owned by conglomerates whose chief aim is producing movies, frozen dinners, cosmetics and hitter litter. It is not supposing these kitty litter. It is not surprising, therefore, that during the last decade the selling of books has become more and more to resemble the hustling of hair

He goes on to tell about the Borders Book Store in Ann Arbor and how it differs from the large chains.

The Butlers intend to remain in Plymouth, but also will do some traveling — they want to see more of this country "and the rest of the world."

Christmas: An era of contrasts

For some persons — scarcity; for our heroes much wealth

This holiday season that is now being written into the pages of history could well be recorded as the era of con-

Scarcely a day goes by that the home mailbox isn't cluttered with pleas of all shapes and sizes from all sections of the country and some even from other

They deal with the sad stories of the poor and starving and are asking for help so these unfortuntes also can enjoy the days of celebration.

THE BIG QUESTION comes when one wonders where these folks signing the pleas got the proper address even the zip code.

Many of them enclose return address stickers as their way of saying thanks even before a decision is made to heed miniminum.

After sorting these doleful letters one turns to the daily prints and his eyes quickly are focused on the saddest of the pictures of starving families in other countries and the long lines at the local soup kitchens.

In the printed word is the tale that the number of soup kitchens where the poor and starving can get a meal has increased more than a hundred-fold in the past year. One of the bits in the press the other morning revealed that there are 260 more soup kitchens this year than there was just a short time

By this time one feels that the world is in terrible shape and that he is lucky to have a place to sleep and most fortunate to have three meals a day.

THEN, ON TURNING to the sports pages of the daily papers he is given

Andrea's Broccoli Salad

- bunches fresh broccoll, cut into bite-size pieces
- strips cooked bacon, crumbled medium red onion, cut in rings cup golden raisins
- DRESSING:
- cup mayonnaise
- cup sugar tbs. cider vinegar

In bowl assemble first 4 ingredients. Set aside. In small mixing bowl combine mayonnaise, sugar and vinegar; mix well. Add to broccoli mixture and toss. Serve immediately or refrigerate in an airtight, sealed container for later. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Brunch Strata

- slices white bread
- stick butter/margarine, softened cups grated sharp cheddar cheese
- cups ham or turkey cup diced red bell pepper
- scallions thinly sliced
- eggs, slightly beaten tsp. dry mustard tsp. sait
- pinch cayenne paprika garnish

Trim crusts from bread, spread with softened butter. Cut each slice into 4 strips. Butter a 13" x 9" baking dish and layer with half the bread strips, ham or turkey, cheese, red pepper and scallions. Repeat layers. Beat eggs, add seasonings and milk; pour over bread, cheese and meat layers. Refrigerate for 24 hours, covered. Allow Brunch Strata to come to room temperature before baking (about 1 hour out of refrigerator). Bake at 350" for 45 minutes, or until puffed and slightly browned. Sprinkle with peprika and serve Makes 6 to 8 servings. ly browned. Sprinkle with paprika and serve. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Herb-Onion Crescents

- 8-oz. can refrigerated crescent rolls cup melted butter or margarine
- tsp. crushed basil
- tsp. crushed oregano cup canned french fried onions, crushed

Separate dough into triangles. Cut each triangle in half lengthwise. Brush with melted butter, sprinkle with herbs and onions. Roll up from wide end to form crescent shape. Place on ungreased cookie sheet; brush tops of crescents with butter. Bake at 375° for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 16 rolls.

Fruit Jubilee

- 16-oz. can of peach slices
- 16-oz. can of pear silces 8-oz. can of pineapple chunks 16-oz. can of pitted black cherries medium size bananas
- cup slivered toasted almonds
- dozen medium size almond or coconut macaroon cookies
- brown sugar cup margarine (1 stick)

Drain all canned fruit and set fruit juice aside. Place fruit in mixing bowl. Slice bananas, sprinkle with lemon juice and mix with fruit. In another bowl, crumble macaroons. Using a 2-qt. baking dish, layer half of the fruit mixture in bottom of baking dish. Cover with half of the crumbled macaroon cookles, dot with half stick of margarine, sprinkle with brown sugar and 1/4 cup of silvered almonds. Repeat layers. Pour 1/2 cup of drained fruit juice over layers. Bake at 325° for 40 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

When entertaining this holiday season, spend more time with your guests and less time in the kitchen.

Whether it's a late-morning party with visiting relatives, a daytime feast for football fans or a New Year's Day get-together with friends, you'll dazzle your guests with an easy to prepare brunch that fits the holiday occasion. And with the help of these makeahead recipes you'll be able to relax and enjoy your party, too.

Start by delighting your company with a Brunch Strata that's as elegant as a souffle but infinitely more reliable. To save time and money, Tupperware® Educational Services suggests chopping leftover holiday ham or turkey in advance and freezing it in an airtight container. The day before the party, defrost the meat, prepare your Brunch Strata in minutes and refrigerate it for 24 hours. To finish this hearty dish, just pop it into your oven, bake and serve.

To complement your Brunch Strata, serve savory Herb-Onion Crescents. The delicate herb-onion flavor is sure to be a hit, and these fragrant morsels take just a few minutes to make.

Andrea's Broccoli Salad adds color and interest with a unique flavor combination and deliciously different dressing. And you can prepare your salad in advance, refrigerate it in an airtight sealed container and add the dressing right before serving.

Dessert is Fruit Jubilee. It is easily prepared using a variety of canned fruit layered with crumbled macaroon cookies and almonds. Served hot, this delightful dessert can bake while you enjoy the meal with your guests. A perfect complement to dessert is a specially-flavored mint coffee that you mix at home, with ingredients you probably already have on your kitchen shelf.

To complete your holiday festivities, flatter your guests with Christmas tree Cookie Ornaments that bear the names of each person attending. You can make a batch of cookies ahead of time and freeze them in an airtight container. Then, when your guest list is set, just decorate each cookie with a name and hang them on your tree. Your guests will have fun hunting for their ornaments as they admire your thoughtfulness and beautiful decorations.

And you'll be able to relax and have fun throughout the holidays as you discover the easy way to entertain friends and family in

Cookle Ornaments

QUICK ROYAL FROSTING

cup powdered sugar

beaten egg white tsp. lemon juice food coloring

- cup margarine
- cup sugar
- eggs tsp. vanilla cups flour
- tsp. baking powder
- GLAZE
- tbs. light corn syrup few drops food coloring

In mixing bowl, beat margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Blend in eggs and vanilla. Add combined dry ingredients; mix well. Chill in sealed container for several hours or overnight. On pastry sheet, roll dough to 1/8" thickness; cut with cookle cutters. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 400 for 5 to 7 minutes or until edges are lightly browned. Cool slightly; remove from cookie sheet. Cool. Makes 4

To make cookie ornaments, use a drinking straw to cut a small hole near edge of cookie. Bake as directed. When cooled, decorate with glaze or frosting and thread ribbon or yarn through hole and hang on Christmas tree.

For snowflake pattern glazed cookies, combine corn syrup and food coloring. Paint cooled cookles using small brush

For frosted cookles, combine powdered sugar and beaten egg white in small mixing bowl. Beat for 1 minute with mixer. Add lemon juice while beating for 1 to 2 minutes longer until stiff. Add food coloring and decorate cooled cookles.

Mocha Deluxe Coffee

- heaping tsp. Instant coffee heaping tsp. Instant sweetened cocoa mix heaping tsp. crushed butter mints
- heaping tsp. non-dairy coffee creamer In a 9-oz. mug, combine all ingredients. Add boiling water and stir. Garnish with whipped cream and chocolate shavings. Makes

HINT: Substitute 1/8 tsp. of cinnamon in place of the butter mints, and garnish with a cinnamon stick.

Out of ideas? Gifts of food are always welcome

Christmas gifts are not simply obligations. Rather, they are carefully chosen or created to reflect the spirit of this most joyous of seasons, and to celebrate the bond between giver and recipient.

The amount of money which goes into a gift is not important; more crucial is the thought behind it, and the effort which has gone into assembling

For this reason, homemade gifts have always been popular; they are the most personal way of showing affection and appreciation.

Food gifts have always formed something of an in-between area. While handknitted sweaters and afghans endure beyond the Christmas season, cookies, cakes and other comestibles are quickly gone, leaving behind nothing but a memory.

This does not have to be the case, for virtually every gift of food can be packaged in a container which, once empty, can still be appreciated and en-

Baskets and brightly decorated tins are ideal for holding baked goods or a selection of homemade foods, as interesting jars and bottles make fascinating vessels for homemade liqueurs, extracts and preserves.

Another idea is to give the food with one or more of the utensils which go into its preparation: Cookie cutters, cake pans in fanciful shapes, or, for a very special gift, a slab of marble to serve as a pastry board.

A bread board makes a perfect frame for a coffee cake or sweet bread; so does the pan in which it was baked. The addition of red and green ribbons and a sprig of mistletoe or holly adds a perfect finishing touch.

Ideas such as these abound in a recently published volume, "Gifts of Food" (Crown Publishers Inc.) by Susan Costner, which itself makes a perfect addition to a holiday gift of food. Recipes included in the volume cover every course on the menu, with a wide and mouthwatering selection of desserts, all arranged by season.

Winter treats, most appropriate as the days get shorter and colder, and Christmas Day grows close, include a variety of favorites, traditional and untraditional.

Among the latter are French Chocolate Truffles, Fortune Cookies and Chocolate Amaretto Kisses; among the former, a fabulous Marzipan-Wrapped Fruitcake, English Plum Pudding and spicy Peppernuts.

The recipes below, for Sugar Plums, Speculaas and Pretzel Bread, are all reproduced from "Gifts of Food."

They are traditional Yuletide specialties that are great for both giving and serving. All can be made in advance an added plus to ease the hectic holiday Sugar Plums are confections which gained popularity during the Victorian era. These, melanges of sweet dried METHOD fruits and nuts, are spiked with orange liqueur, making them treats for adults rather than children.

Speculaas are spice cookies, Dutch in origin, which are baked to celebrate St. Nicholas, Day, Dec. 6. Custom dictates that they be formed with special speculaas molds but, if none are available, cookie cutters will work just fine.

Pretzel Bread, common in many parts of Europe, dates back to medieval times when the pretzel shape was a variant on the cross. For the winter solstice, pre-Christian celebrants baked food in the pretzel shape as well, to symbolize the sun and the seasons.

SUGAR PLUMS

INGREDIENTS % cup dried apricots 1/4 cup dried figs

¼ cup golden raisins

4 cup chopped pecans ¼ cup sweetened grated coconut

2 thsp. orange liqueur (Grand Marnier or Cointreau)

¼ cup granulated sugar

Food processor YIELD: about 3-dozen 1-inch balls

Finely chop the apricots, figs, raisins, pecans, and coconut by hand, or in a food processor fitted with the steel blade. Blend the chopped ingredients together and moisten with the orange liqueur.

Shape the mixture into 1-inch balls, pressing gently to make sure the ingredients stay packed together. Roll each ball in granulated sugar.

Stored in airtight containers in the refrigerator, with a piece of wax paper between the layers, the sugar plums will keep for up to 1 month.

TO PACKAGE

Using 6-inch white or silver paper doilies, form a cone for each confection: Fold the doily in half, then fold in half again, twist the pointed end, and open up the cone. Put several confections in each doily and place in a shallow basket. Repeat until basket is filled. Tuck in a sprig of holly and attach a gift label.

SPECULAAS

INGREDIENTS 3 cups all-purpose flour 2 tsp. ground cinnamon

1 tsp. ground ginger 1 tsp. ground cardamom

¼ tps. grated nutmeg 1/2 tsp. baking powder 1/2 tsp. salt

8 oz. unsalted butter 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar

1/2 cup almonds, blanced and finely chopped

Rolling pin Wooden cookie molds (optional) or cookie cutters Baking sheets Wire cake rack

Yield: about 4 dozen 3-inch cookies

Sift the flour with the spices, baking powder, and salt and set aside.

In a large mixing bowl, cream the butter and brown sugar together until light and fluffy. Add the egg and beat until smooth.

Add the flour mixture, a little at a time, to the butter mixture, beating thoroughly after each addition.

Add the chopped almonds with the last addition of flour. The dough will be quite stiff. Form the dough into several balls, wrap each on in wax paper, and refrigerate for several hours.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Lightly oil several baking sheets. Remove 1 ball of dough from the refrigerator and roll it between 2 pieces of wax paper to a thickness of about 1/4 inch. If you have them, press floured molds or rolling p;in firmly into the shapes with cookie cutters or a sharp knife.

Transfer cookies to a prepared bak-ing sheet and bake for 20 to 25 minutes, until cookes are golden around the edges. Remove to a wire cake rack and cool completely. Reroll trimmings and repeat the baking until all the dough is

The speculaas will keep for several weeks if stored in an airtight container. They also freeze very well. To package:

Give these cookies in decorated bags, or boxes. Team them with a wooden cookie mold as a special surprise.

PRETZEL BREAD INGREDIENTS 1 1/2 cups half-and-half

1 envelope dry yeast

1 tbsp. sugar 3 egg yolks, beaten 31/2 to 4 cups flour 15 cup sugar

1 tsp. salt 4 oz. unsalted butter, chilled

Filling:

7 oz. almond paste 1/2 cup sugar

1 egg white 1 tsp. ground cinnamon 1 tsp. almond extract

% cup chopped almonds Topping

Sugar 1 egg white mixed with 1 tablespoon water

Sliced almonds Tools Rolling pin

Baking sheet YIELD: 1 large bread Method

Heat the half-and-half to lukewarm 105 degrees. Combine the yeast and 1 tablespoon sugar and add the lukewarm half-in-half. Stir until the yeast and sugar are dissolved. Let proof for about 5 minutes.

Add the egg yolks and 11/2 cups of the flour, and beat 2 to 3 minutes to activate the gluten. Cover and let rest for 15 minutes

In a separate bowl, combine remaining flour, 1/2 cup sugar, and the salt. Cut in the butter until the mixture resembles oatmeal. Fold in the yeast sponge and beat for 2 minutes. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate over-

The following day, combine the almond paste, 1/2 cup sugar, the egg white, cinnamon, and almond extract, and blend into a smooth paste.

Remove the dough from the refrigerator, dust it lightly with flour, and knead on a smooth surface for 2 to 3 minutes. Allow to rest for 5 minutes before rolling it into a rectangle 24 x 18 inches. Sprinkle the rectangle with sugar and flip it over.

Spread the filling evenly over the dough to within 1 inch of all the edges. Sprinkle on the chopped almonds and tightly roll up the dough into a long cyl-inder. Roll the cylinder between your palms until it is about 36 inches long.

Place the dough on a greased baking sheet and shape it into a large pretzel. Brush it with the egg white and water, sprinkle with sugar and sliced almonds, cover and let rise for 1 hour

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Bake the bread for 45 minutes to 1 hour, until it is golden in color and a cake tester comes out clean. If the bread colors too quickly, cover it loosely with aluminum

Remove the bread from the baking sheet and allow it to cool completely before packaging.

Small forwards play big at EMU

By Marty Budner staff writer

Jim Boyce is tyring to turn Eastern Michigan University's basketball program into a consistent Mid-American Conference contender.

What players appear to be smack in the midst of Boyce's long-range plans? A pair of 6-foot-4 sophomore forwards named Mike McCaskill and Lewis Scott.

McCaskill, a Southfield High School graduate, and Scott, a Redford Bishop Borgess grad, are proving Boyce's recruiting efforts weren't wasted. The young roommates are starting to make a name for themselves around Ypsilan-McCaskill and Scott have started all seven of the Hurons' games this season. Boyce has been more than satisfied with their progress.

"We have a lot of confidence in them. I think they can be two premier players in this conference," said Boyce, starting his sixth season at Eastern

They both work very hard on defense and that's all we want them to do right now. I think they can be very good defensive players," he said. "Mike just has to be more aggresive out

McCaskill and Scott, book ends underneath the board to EMU's star senior center Vince Giles, were in town last week playing a non-league tilt against the University of Detroit at

THE MORE experienced Titans won 85-80, but it wasn's easy. Eastern, which has lost all three of its road games, stayed within striking distance throughout the game. U-D simply wore the Hurons down in the final minutes.

McCaskill and Scott showed both their potential and inexperience in that

Known as "Springs" while playing at Southfield because of his tremendous leaping ability, McCaskill played one of his best halves ever against the Titans. He scored 12 points and pulled down 10 rebounds, well above his season average of 8.8 points and 5.2 rebounds.

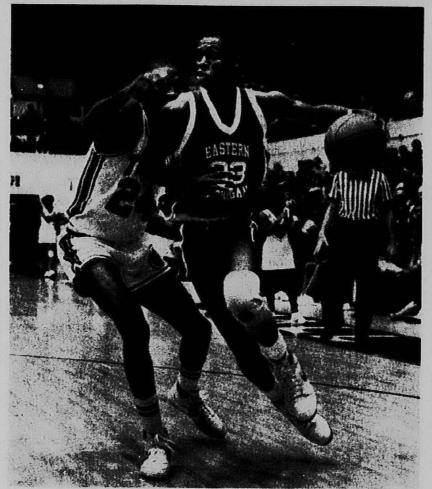

McCaskill, who logged more minutes than any other freshman last year, scored all of his points in the second half. He played decent defense on U-D's talented forward Greg Wendt despite giving up some two inches in height and played a steady game around the

He realizes his role in Boyce's plans. "I know I'm there to rebound and do the garbage work around the boards. I'm not there to score. We have other guys who can do that," said McCaskill, named EMU's most improved player

"It's a big adjustment, not only from high school to college, but just playing more this year. I've got to get a feeling for getting more minutes. I am learning more about the game.

"I know I have to improve on my shooting and dribbling. That comes with time," he said. "The more I play the more I'll get used to it. College is a lot faster, tougher and there's more pressure. It's a big adjustment but I can handle it."

SCOTT PLAYED 37 minutes (McCaskill had 29) against the Titans and had his second-best offensive total of the season with 10 points (he had 12 earlier this year against Cleveland said Scott, who averaged 21 points State). He made 3 of 7 shots from the 13 rebounds as a senior at Borgess.

> "We've known each other since 10th grade and we're tight," said McCaskill.

up as sophomores," said Scott.

Boyce simply is hoping their rapid improvement continues.

After Duke exile, Wendt finds home

By C.J. Risak staff writer

First, understand that Greg Wendt was not 100 percent when he took the court Wednesday against Eastern

The starting University of Detroit forward sprained his ankle against Illinois State Dec. 15, and that bothered

"I wasn't able to move well enough to set up my jump shot," he said after "A lot of players wouldn't have played with that injury," said his coach, Don Sicko. Don't be misled: These aren't meant as excuses. Wendt not only played, he turned in 33 minutes of hard work in the Titans' 85-80 victory, their fourth in AND DON'T think the injury limited his contributions, either. Wendt scored 16 points on 6-of-11 shooting from the floor and 4-of-4 free throws, and grabbed 6 rebounds.

"He's a gamer," said Sicko of the Redford Catholic Central grad and Livonia native. "He loves to practice and can't wait for games.

"And he overcomes adversity." He's had his share. Wendt, a junior athletically, accepted a scholarship to Duke University after a standout prep career at CC. His freshman season, while not spectacular, was solid enough to indicate a bright future.

That future never blossomed at Duke. It never had a chance. Wendt's playing time diminished his sophomore year as coach Mike Krzyzewski opted to play his promising freshmen.

So Wendt transferred to U-D. NCAA bylaws dictated that he sit out a year, a span Wendt called "one of the most difficult things I ever did." That forced exile from the game made him more determined than ever to succeed.

AND SUCCEED he has - spectacularly. Wendt came out of high school with a reputation as a shooter, but that's no longer true. He has developed all phases of his game to the extent that Sicko uses him on the inside and outside, and even handling the ball.

"He and Keith (Gray, the Titans' leading scorer) are the best all-around players on the team," said Sicko. (Greg) handles the ball for us, he can shoot the jumper and he posts up well. It's a tribute to his versatility." Despite the layoff, Wendt hasn't lost a step. Indeed, he may have gained one. He's U-D's second-leading scorer with 15.2 points per game and he's the top rebounder with a 7.7 average. His rebounding prowess may be both his most surprising and most welcome

"I thought he would be a good re-bounder," Sicko said of the 6-foot-6 Wendt, "but, no, I didn't think he'd be our leader.

WENDT KNEW where the Titans needed help. "As a team, we didn't re-bound that well last year," he said. "Coach (Sicko) brought that to our at-tention. He said Eastern was one team we should outrebound.

"I think I'm big and strong enough to go inside and mix it up. It's a challenge."

The Titans did outrebound Eastern by a 37-36 margin. They also outshot the Hurons, hitting 33 of 67 shots (.492 percent) to 30 of 64 (.469).

Wendt hit all 3 of his first-half shots, including a slam-dunk, and 6 of his first 8. His ankle may have limited his ability to unleash his long range jumper, but he adjusted, scoring on drives and short, inside shots.

Still, Wendt's always been able to score, and he echoed former Titan and current Piston John Long's belief that shooters never forget how to shoot.

"You can always practice your shooting by yourself," said Wendt, which he did a lot of last season. "But you can't practice defense."

THAT'S COMING, as are all phases of Wendt's game, as he gets back into collegiate competition.

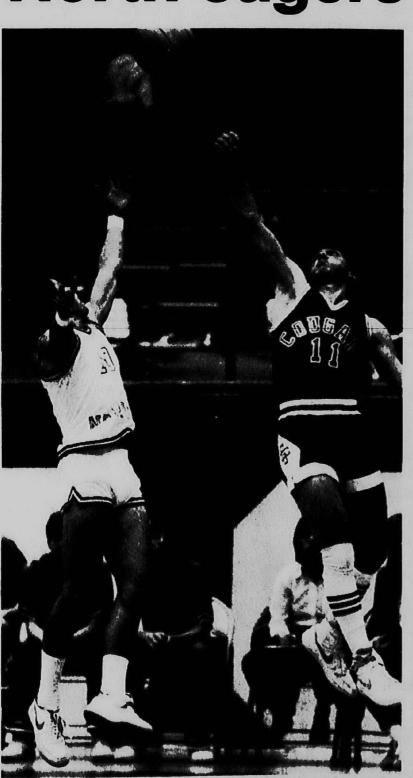

"It's getting better every game," he said. "I just go out and play as hard as I can. So far, I've fit in real well with the

"I've got to work on my movement without the ball, though

The team, too, is making progress, Wendt thought: "We proved it tonight. (Eastern) came back, with Fred (Cofield) hitting all those jumpers, and we kept our poise."

That's a lesson learned through experience, not coaching. Wendt has experience, and that, combined with his allaround court ability, makes him a valuable asset for the Titans.

North cagers survive GC

North's Buddy Pope (white jersey) and Garden City's Kevin Sheriden bettle for a loose bell in North's double OT win Thursday.

Thursday night at North Farmington.

Garden City hit 12 of 14 in the fourth quarter to spark a comeback that tied the score at 41-all and forced overtime.

But it was North converting 7 foul shots in 2 overtimes that clinched a 54-52 Raider win.

Paul Wahrman, who finished with 10 points, canned 2 free throws with 30 seconds remaining in the final overtime to put North ahead by 4, 53-49. But Garden City still fought back, getting a basket from Dave Weyzyn and a free throw from Kevin Sheridan, to cut the margin to 1.

Buddy Pope followed by sinking 1 of 2 foul shots for the Raiders. Garden City then got off a final shot, but Steve Dunning's short jumper bounced out at the buzzer.

It was a welcome win for North, evening its Northwest Suburban League (NSL) record at 1-1, same as Garden City's.

"We've had a few injuries," said Raider coach Tom Negoshian. Point guard Rick Pennala returned to the lineup after missing a game and a half, and forward Rick Anderson was close to 100 percent after suffering a sprained big toe and a black eye.

"Pennala gave us a great lift," Negoshian added. Bob Chwalik led North with 17 points, with Anderson tossing in 16. Anderson led the Raider rebounders with 13, with Chwalik nabbing 8. Dunning topped Garden City with 19 points. Steve Freier bagged 15. North is 3-2 overall; Garden City is

Late gift ideas for sports types

ous people who finished Christmas shopping in October, stop reading this and go bake cookies or something. The following is not in-

No, this is for us die-hard, pain-seeking Christmas shoppers who wait for the end of the regular NFL football season to trek out to the overcrowded malls, search for a parking place in the same city as the mall, play human bumper pool from store to store, and stand in lines for what seems like

Ah, the joy of Christmas shopping.

WHAT I HAVE for you is a Christmas list for the definitive sports fanatic. Any one of these gifts would be ideal for my colleague, C.J. Risak - who says he's not a fanatic, but we all know different.

So, Mrs. Risak, and all the other sports fanatic widows, I've compiled a list which is sure to please the addicts.

After I completed my Christmas shopping (I started and finished Saturday), I decided to tour a few shops, just for the fun of it. This is what I found.

• The Mole Hole in Birmingham had what I would call classics. The first is the "Cloud-Flite" golf ball. You've heard of "Top-Flite," right? This is completely different, and is great for yuks on the course.

The "Cloud-Flite" disappears in a cloud of powder upon impact, and can be yours for the low price of $2.95. A little steep for a one-shot deal, you say. Maybe, but take a picture of the duffer you play the trick on, and $2.95 will seem like pennies.

Another gift for the links is the golf hat with a clock on the front of the cap. The message "Time for Golf" appears on the face of the clock. It's only $26.95, and one size fits all.

The last sports-related gift I saw at the Mole Hole was a "Bless You Boys" lamp. For a mere $275, you get a table lamp with a bleacher base. Sitting on Hughes the rows of bleachers are Detroit Tiger figurines. It also comes in a University of Michigan football motiff.

MY NEXT STOP was the Oakland Mall in Troy. Now this place was a smorgasbord for the sports fanatic. Phone America offers two dan-dies. The first is a telephone, which is disguised as a football on a kicking tee. But, when you grab the ball near the laces, the phone receiver comes out of the ball. Great stuff! It even has a pushbutton dialing system on the receiver. Cost: $199.88.

There's also a phone which has three baseball bats set up like an Indian tee-pee, with a baseball on top of the three handles. The base is home plate. You listen to the baseball end and talk into home plate. The push button dialing system is underneath home plate. Only

• Schneider's Sport Shop is one place you can find a "Bless You Boys" Christmas tree ornament. The bulb has the Detroit Tigers' logo, and is in-scribed "1984 World Champs." It's ideal for Chris McCosky, the O&E's No. 1 Tiger fan. Only $5.99. (Don't worry Al, there is a trademark on the bulb.)

• I decided to stay on the track of sports stores, and wandered into MC Sporting Goods. Salespersons Donna and Darrin tried to sell me on onepiece long underwear for about $32.00, but I was looking for something different. It didn't take long to find it.

Sitting on a stand above a rack of coats were boxes labelled. "Pet Earmuffs." I stood there for about a minute wondering, "Are these earmuffs for your pet, or earmuffs with pets on them?" Closer examination revealed they are for humans, but the earpieces were pets, if you consider bears, lambs or pink rabbits to be pets. You or your loved one could be the talk of the ski slopes for only $9.99 a pair.

• At Kay Bee Toy & Hobby, I found the perfect gift for my co-worker and buddy Marty Budner, the only man I know who can sit through an entire Toronto-Vancouver hockey game. The perfect gift? A Wayne Gretzky doll, advertised on the box as "le magnifique." The Gretzky facsimile comes dressed in an Edmonton Oiler uniform, with stick and skates. It must be a hot seller since it's mark down to $4.99 from Another classic from Kay Bee was a Jimmy The Greek endorsed board game called, "Football Vegas." You play the game while watching a televised game. Winning and losing means nothing, the object is to beat the odds. Now that's what I call football.

The game board has all kinds of circles with odds and categories. You know, 10-to-1 the quarterback gets sacked the next play, 3-to-1 they run for less than 4 yards.

I'm willing to give 5-to-1 odds this game is not a big item on the market. It's marked down to $3.99 from $15.99.

Kay Bee also sells tennis-shoe roller skates for $13.99. They are actual blue tennis shoes with roller skates on the they're making a killing in California.

• If you are a parent in either Troy or Livonia and you don't know what you want your youngsters to do in the fall, Kresge has the answer. For $7.97 you can buy a "Fluff" football and soccer set. Hoffritz for Cutlery sells Trivial Pursuit All-Star Sports Edition 12ounce coffee mug for $5.00. The cup has six questions, along with the an-

I think I'll buy one for Brad Emons, our resident sports trivia buff.

· Now, if you can afford to dish out a little more cash, here's some ideas. Send that football fan to the Cotton Bowl to watch Doug Flutie work his magic for Boston College against Hous-ton. I called Vacation Tours Inc. of Birmingham and was told round-trip air fare to Dallas can be purchased for $369. You have to leave Dec. 29 and stay over Saturday night (Jan. 5), and book the flight seven days in advance.

If you really want to lighten up the bank account, you can spend around $800 for a round trip to see the Aloha Bowl in Honolulu. The trick is finding a spot on a plane, since the time of year makes it difficult to make a reservation this late. And hotel accommodations are few, if any, so bring a tent.

Still, $800 isn't much to pay to see Notre Dame against Southern Methodist. (This gift is not recommended for

I hope this list helps you last-minute shoppers. If any of these gifts work for you, let me know Just don't call me New Year's Day. I'll be playing Football Vegas with my Coppola doesn't do better with 'Cotton Club'

"You can't argue with success," or so the conventional wisdom runs. Francis Ford Coppola directed the very successful "Godfather" films, ergo, he must be a great director.

Quite frankly, Coppola is vastly overrated as a film director. "The Godfather" was an OK gangster epic. "Apocalypse Now" was the dumbest war movie ever.

For all its advance hype, legal problems, big budget and cast of thousands, "The Cotton Club" does nothing to revise my estimate of Coppola.

The film is entertaining and has some nice moments but, on the whole, the $4.50-a-ticket moviegoers deserve something more for their money from these multi-million dollar expenditures.

THE COTTON CLUB was, from 1923 to 1936, a famous nightclub up in Harlem where high-toned white folks went to be entertained by the great or soon-to-be great black entertainrs of the era. It was Prohibition and no one much minded that the Cotton Club was operated by bootleggers. It made sense. Since you had to deal with bootleggers to get booze, you might as well drink it in their club.

Woven throughout this fabric are the stories of the bootleggers and entertainers, some real-life and some fictional, who worked in and around the Cotton Club. Some of the fictional characters closely resemble historical figures and some historical figures are shab-

So, there you have "The Cotton Club," a musical gangster movie . . . or is it a gangster movie with songs. Sometimes it is hard to White jazzman Dixie Dwyer (Richard Gere) lives and plays his horn in Harlem. Inadvertently he saves the live of Dutch Schultz (James Remar), who becomes his protector and employer. Schultz's protege-mistress, would-be nightclub owner Vera Cicero (Diane Lane), and Dwyer are thrown together in an ill-starred ro-

Their story, and Schultz's, weave in and out of the Cotton Club where Owney Madden (Bob Hoskins) and Frenchy Demange (Fred Gwynne) hold forth as the managing directorate of the club and most of the rackets in town.

THE RISE TO stardom of Sandman Williams (Gregory Hines), with and without his brother Clay (Maurice Hines), and Sandman's on-again, off-again affair with Lila Rose Oliver (Lonette McKee) is another major, though incomplete and unfulfilling, storyline.

Hines and Hines do some excellent dance numbers and there is plenty of good jazz at the Cotton Club including several extended

Cab Calloway (Larry Marshall) numbers.
One complaint about "The Cotton Club" is its abrupt editing pattern. The excellent musical numbers are interrupted often, as if Coppola was afraid we'd forget the gangster story if we sat through an entire musical number. The opposite was also true and, whatever the reason, the choppy editing drags viewers' attention away before visual or story satisfaction is achieved.

The final musical number is an exception. There Coppola overestimates the audience. His continual segue from a Cotton Club "railroad" dance number to the actual Grand Central Station setting and back is confusing and not nearly as spectacular as Coppola must have envisioned.

The film does have good performances by Gere and Lane as the ill-fated lovers, Fred Gwynne as the amiable giant mobster and Joe Dallesandro with just the right viciousness as Lucky Luciano.

Julian Beck as psychotic, unfeeling mobster Sol Weinstein provides a vivid portrait but such performances are offset by the tacky, cameo routines of James Cagney (Vincent Jerosa), Fanny

the movies Dan Greenbera

Brice (Rosalind Harris) and others, particularly Gregory Rozakis as Charlie Chaplin, the longest of these star-cameos. Chaplin brings Lila to the Cotton Club and does his famous Dinner Roll dance from "The Gold Rush." All very plastic and unnecessary.

These complaints notwithstanding, you probably should see "The Cotton Club" for it does have its moments, just not enough of them considering Coppola's reputation and bankroll.

Sandman Williams, who rises to stardom.

Phil Marcus Esser records 'Beside Her Christmas Tree.' Metro-Detroit entertainer Phil Marcus Esser, a Livonia resident, has recorded a new Christmas song called "Beside Her Christmas Tree." The record is available in single 45 RPM stereo format at many local stores

Flip side of the record is a new Christmas carol for children, "Ring-a-Ding-Ding," featuring 16-year-old Jody Lee Green and 12year-olds Michael Bolling and Jack Brother-
