City puts the kibosh on 'punks' in parks

The city of Plymouth is "getting tough" with problem makers in its parks and parking areas with a new ordinance aimed at banning certain ac-

'It's really a shame that we have to do this because it's just a bunch of punks we're dealing with," said Mayor David Pugh

The reason for this ordinance is to give the police department some strength," he said.

"It's unfortunate that we have to go to this because it is restrictive to the normal citizens," Pugh said. "But last year was just terrible and we don't want another year like that.

"This 'get-tough' ordinance addresses some of the probems that we've been experiencing . . . and is designed to give our police some leverage.'

Commissioner Bud Martin said other communities have enacted similar ordinances to keep their parks and public

The great clinic mystery

Slew of street signs requires sleuth work to find source

By Gary M. Cates staff writer

Signs for the Arbor Health Clinic at Harvey and Ann Arbor Trail went up as fast as some of them came down Tuesday

The green and white road signs, stating "Arbor Health Building" with a directional arrow, popped up Monday throughout Plymouth and Plymouth Township - along city roads, township roads and even expressway exits. Finding out who bought the signs, put them up, and whether they were legal proved to be as challenging as solving a whodunit" Tuesday.

The initial contact was made with Plymouth Township. Police Chief Carl Berry said the township didn't put the signs up and believed special approval was needed to place them in the county's right-of-way

The next question went to Plymouth's city manager, Henry Graper, because the clinic is in the city and because Graper worked closely with the clinic in bringing it to Plymouth. The signs are part of the original negotiations with Arbor," Graper said. It was his "understanding" that the clinic provided the signs and handled getting approval, with the city responsible for installation

Graper said the signs are part of the clinic's emergency services He also set up the routing

THAT FAR, the situation seemed pretty straight-forward. The curve came when a call was made to the city engineer. Ken West.

"Early in our planning we decided key spots for the signs," West said, explaining the city's involvement. He wasn't sure who paid for the signs.

"They didn't receive approval, to my knowledge, to put them up," he said.
"We didn't put the signs up in the township, we only put them up in the city. Who put them up in the township is be-

West also was questioned about the routing from I-275, where the signs take motorists down Ann Arbor Road to Harvey Street. The problem posed was the return trip which called for motorists to turn left from southbound Harvey onto Ann Arbor Road.

'There's no problems with the routing. We only have 2,500 cars on Harvey Street a day now. During the rush hours, there is a wait to turn left onto Ann Arbor Road if you're heading southbound," be said.

administrative coordinator at Arbor Health Clinic.

Hubbard said he would have to check into the signs, but could go ahead and they put the whole thing together." answer questions about the emergency care mentioned by Graper. There were questions because a fully said the city's engineering department - licensed emergency room can't be built such facilities based on need, and Oakwood Hospital's Canton Center emergency room holds the only license for this area.

'We provide minor emergency service, not to be confused with major emergencies," Hubbard said.

To my knowledge there is no licensing required for minor emergency care," he said. "Our clinic is affiliated with the Catherine McCauley Health Center but is not operated by the hospital. It is operated by the Emergency Care Physicians"

Hubbard said the Arbor clinic offers "walking-wounded" care, or urgent

WHILE WAITING for Hubbard to call back on the signs, Ken Marko from the clinic called.

Marko said the signs don't belong to the clinic but to the city. He said someone from the county just paid them a visit and asked about the signs.

'We told him we couldn't take them down, they're not our property. The The next call went to Ben Hubbard, city DPW put them up, that's who you want to talk to," Marko said. Hubbard called back.

"The city is responsible for the signs Hubbard said.

Did the Arbor clinic buy the signs, as Graper said? "Not to my knowledge. The signs are in Plymouth. The state only licenses part of the arrangement the city made in their proposal to get the clinic," he said. Because Marko mentioned the county had paid a visit, a call was made to the county's traffic and safety division. Rick Hodges, the traffic maintenance engineer, knew about the signs.

Sure enough, West was right. Proper approval hadn't been received for placing the signs in the county right-of-way. Hodges said the city had been ticketed and told to remove the signs within 48 hours from the county roads in Plym-

Those type of signs can only be in the vicinty of the place, but only two signs," Hodges said. Even if the city applies for a permit, he said they wouldn't be approved.

Hodges said the signs at the expressway exits fell under the state highway department's jurisdiction.

A CALL WAS was made to Paul Riley at the state highway department's Southfield office.

Riley said the state wants the signs taken down. Like the county, permits are required, as well as meeting a set

Next, a check was made with the city DPW to confirm they had placed all the

As part of the local, state and national press toward educational excellence, the Observer & Eccentric will name its first Academic All-Stars in early May.

A committee of Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals, cosponsor of the O&E Academic All-Stars, will use test scores and grade averages to select 12 high school students from the communities served by the Eccentric newspapers and 12 from the area served by Observer newspapers. Their profiles and photographs will appear in the May 2 issue. Each will receive a certificate of recogition. Nominating forms were mailed last week to principals of the 53 public, private and parochial high schools in school districts serving Rochester, Rochester Hills, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Bloomfield Township, West Bloomfield, Troy, Southfield, Farmington and Farmington Hills, Lathrup Vil- Paber, West Bloomfield; Don Gaviglio, lage, Livonia, Plymouth, Canton, Redford, Westland and Garden City. They are due Friday, March 29.

EACH PRINCIPAL will nominate two students - they may be juniors or seniors - whose combined grade point average plus national test scores rank the highest in their school.

Grade points will be determined only by academic subjects - math, English, science, social studies and foreign language. Test scores must be the PSAT test for juniors and either the SAT or ACT for seniors.

The selection committee will meet Tuesday, April 2. Selection will be based only on academic scores, except in case of a numerical tie. Then, academic honors and leadership positions will be considered. Principals serving on the committee are: the Rev. Philip Acquare, Catholic

Central; Sister Joan Charnley, Marian;

Ron Cowden, Garden City, Dr. Gary

ville; and Al Zack, Livonia Pranklin. Committee chairman is Dr. Robert Schramke, Redford Union High School. THE IDEA of publicly honoring students for academic achievements in the way students have been bonored for sports is Schramke's baby.

He conceived the idea two years ago, after he had presented some RU students with writing awards and later read in the paper that George Perles had been hired at $95,000 to coach Michigan State University football. "I'm an ex-athlete. But I thought, this is not right - the overemphasis on that part of our program." Prodded by students, to whom he ex-plained the idea, he approached the Detroit Free Press. They agreed to sponsor an Academic All-State Team, based on school size, and an Academic All-in the country.

This year, Schramke came to the Observer-Eccentric Newspapers with a similar plan. "You do a super job with athletics," he said. "Why not academica?" As a result the Observer/Eccentric is the first group of community newspapers to so bonor area scholars, Schramke said.

'We're pleased to play a role in recognizing an often overlooked asset of our local schools - academic excellence," said Nick Sharkey, O & E managing editor. "After all, it's the function of our schools to educate our youth. Those students who work hard to excel deserve to be honored in their communities.

This week, Schramke is in Chicago to promote the concept before school administrators from 19 states assembled at the North Central Association (NCA)

Conference. His hope: "Maybe It'll catch on even

Substance abuse

Telethon kicks off at 5 p.m. Thursday

Editor's note: See related editorial on page 12A.

When 5 p.m. Friday arrives, months of planning and preparation will have come to an end for the Plymouth-Canton Community Substance Abuse Intervention Committee.

It will be time for cable TV subscribers and others to help curb substance abuse by supporting a telethon to be shown on Omnicom channels 8

Prompting the formation of the committee and the telethon, slated for 5-11 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturday, was the fact that substance abuse has reached crisis proportions among area young people. In the past year and a half, more than 80 young people from Plymouth and Canton have been sent to drug treatment centers and chemical dependency pro-

It's hoped that $40,000 can be raised to finance a weeklong workshop to help up to 100 parents and professionals deal effectively with substance abusers. The seminar, to be presented by Community Intervention Inc. of Minneapolis, Minn., is scheduled for Aug. 5-9 at Centennial Educational

"The figures (on substance abuse) are startling, but it is just the tip of the iceberg. Our young people, to a large degree, reflect what they see of what adults do. If we are to change their thinking, we need to work with them while they are still adolescents and have not formed substance abuse habits," say committee members. Serving on the committee are more than two dozen people from Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, Canton Chamber of Commerce, Canton Business and Professional Women, McDonald's, Omnicom, Toughlove, area businesses, agencies and service clubs.

THE TELETHON promises to be a sobering, yet star-studded, action-

'We'll open by dedicating the telethon to kids who are no longer with us because of substance abuse, and to those who are disabled because of it." said Linda Salvador, one of the telethon coordinators who lost a nephew to drug Emceeing segments of the telethon will be WMJC radio's Jeff Elliot, WABX's Tom Dean and Gary Cubberley of Channel 2.

Interviewees will include medical experts in the field of substance abuse. Recovering drug abusers and their parents will appear on discussion panels.

Participating in the many "thons" set for Friday and Saturday at Plym-Middle School will be swimmers, jump ropers, basketball dribblers, bikers, walkers, joggers, rocking chair and hula hoop artists.

Viewers will be asked to call pledges into the studio by dialing 459-7321, 459-7335, 459-7331, 459-7391, or 459-7392. (Volunteers still are needed to assist Toughlove parents and high school Executive Forum and Student Council

Items including limousine service for three hours, health club memberships and floor covering will be auctioned. Viewers also may bid by phone for legal services, men's blasers, satin jackets, jogging suits, beauty school classes, battery chargers and isolaters, haircuts, tote bags, baked goods, bike rides, cleaning services, car washes, dinners for four and enrollment in weight loss

Winning bidders will be announced at the end of each auction. The Canton Business and Professional Women have volunteered to collect pledges and bids, which should total more than $3,000.

"REACTION (to the telethon and its purpose) is all strictly positive." John Schwartz told fellow intervention committee members at a meeting Tuesday.

"People are telling us that what we're doing is long overdue.

The purpose of the communitywide effort is to make people aware that the abuse of alcohol and other drugs strikes one in 10 people in our society.

"The telethon is designed to inform people about substance abuse and to alert them to options available to combat the problem. It's dedicated to those who have not been belped," added

The committee is encouraged by support already pledged from various organizations. Large contributions are expected this weekend from the Canton Rotary, the Plymouth Community Fund and the Canton Chamber of Commerce. The Lehmann College of Beauty and Plymouth-Canton School of Hair Design are donating all proceeds from their recent "Care-Cut" day.

Students also have participated in the fundraising effort. Throughout the month of March, they've made donations at elementary schools and have signed posters reading, "Help us kick out alcohol and drug abuse." The con-tributions will be presented formally at

The intervention committee's efforts will not end with the telethon. On tap for April are a Super Bowl Bowlathon and Canton Softball Center slow-pitch tournament. A Skateathon is being

"Our purpose is to develop and implement continuing training programs for educating the community about substance abuse," say committee members. "We also strive to provide community-based resources for employee assistance programs and for intervention in the entire area of sub-

We want to hear from young people

To: Readers age 18 and under From: Staff writer M.B. Dillon Ward

Chicago-area young people are writing Bruce Weitz of NBC-TV's "Hill Street Blues," telling him about their problems and concerns. He asked them to last month in a Chicago Tribune article entitled, "Write Bruce, dog breath! - Hill Street star posts his concern for

As you probably know, Weitz has played detective Mick Belker on the television show for five years. He visited Chicago in February to promote a pilot substance abuse campaign organized by the Chicago-based National PTA, according to the article.

"When people find out I'm involved with the PTA, they always want to know why, since I'm not a parent and not a teacher," Weitz told the Trib.

"Most of the time I answer by saying that whales are not members of common comments in a brochure to be common comments." Greenpeace. I respect young people, I have a feeling for young people, the fu-ture of this country is in the hands of young people. So I work for the PTA because they are involved in improving young people's lives.

"I want everyone (in the Chicago area) from 5 or 6 to 18 years old to write me and tell about the problems they're having communicating with their parents. I want them to talk about their alcohol and drug involvement or what they see going on around them with their friends. I'd like to hear whether they're influenced by their parents' drinking and drug habits or the way television and movies deal with drugs and alcohol. I want their common comments in a brochure to be distributed to parents.

"Maybe parents will then find it easier to understand and open up to their children and not deny the problem ex-ists," Weitz said. "I'm excited about the campaign. If it's successful, we're hop-ing to expand it nationwide."

WE THINK Weitz is on to something. If Chicago can do it, why not Canton

The difficulty parents and young people have communicating appears to be one of the most pressing problems they face. Many of you probably understand Weitz when he says that "for whatever reasons, I couldn't trust my problems to them. And I don't think The PTA plans to compile the most they had the respect for me that they ommon comments in a brochure to be should have had. They felt I was too young to deserve it."

We would like you to write us about your feelings regarding alcohol, drugs and your relationships with parents and friends. Weitz doesn't care if his letters are signed, and neither do we.

Just give us your age.

We don't plan to publish a brochure.

But what we will do is print your letters in an upcoming issue. To us, a community newspaper seems like a pretty good vehicle for helping young people and their parents see eye-to-eye — especially when it comes to the subject of substance abuse. # Plymouth requires permits for satellite dishes

Watching satellite television in Plymouth requires a bit more than tun-ing in the ol' "boob tube" to receive programs from the beavens.

The city commission approved an ordinance Monday night that requires permits for installing satellite dishtype antennas

We tried to work out a code that would be reasonable to those who want to install these dishes, as well as reasonable to those who are concerned about the aesthetics," said Robert Jones, a member of the city's Planning Commission

The ordinance, approved on first reading in January, was sent for review to the planning commission where it underwent some major revisions.

As originally proposed, the ordinance was "too burdensome," some residents said. They pointed to requirements for an engineer's seal on installation plans as an unreasonable request - considering that a seal isn't required for residential garage plans.

The orginal ordinance also required dishes to be mounted in rear yards and screened from public view.

The revision drops some require ments, but still sets standards for ground- and roof-mounted antennas.

The revised ordinance allows some leeway in these matters but does set many standards for satelite dish instal-

To receive a permit, the applicant must provide several items including: · A plot plan showing the propose location of the antenna.

· A site plan showing the building locations on the involved parcel, as well as building locations of properties on both sides and across the street from the involved parcel.

· Sketches or pictures of the proposed dish that would depict the view from the adjacent properties.

· Construction plans and specifications, plus a structural engineering analysis prepared by a registered engineer. This requirement can be waived at the sole discretion of the city engi-

· A statement that the installed equipment will meet all FCC requirements pertaining to noise and "spurious emissions."

· A statement that the installation complies with all applicable building and electrical codes.

The cost for the permit will be determined according to the city's building permit fee structure, which is based on the cost or value of the work.

In most cases, installations would involve taking applications and site plans to the city engineer's office, said Ken West, city engineer. A permit would be approved in a day or two, he added.

Appeals of the city engineer's decisions would be sent to the Zoning Board INSTALLATION requirements are

Graper said that was the plan if he had to balance the budget today but that could change if dollars, were made available through concessions. Police officer Jerry Vorva, also a Plymouth resident, asked if the remaining monthly payments from the township - $37,000 a month - could be put "directly into the police department instead of the general fund."

The dialogue between Vorva, Graper and Commissioner Bud Martin turned into a shouting match.

"I'm not here to negotiate a contract

"I have beard that it was determined with you," Graper responded. "If that's what you want to do then let's go downstairs and meet."

The last time I talked to you, mister, I had a beart attack," said Vorva, who recently returned to duty from medical disability.

Vorva said he and other officers have "worked our asses off" for the city and that it was "off of our sweat" that Graper has built up the downtown area. He also said the officers had offerêd concessions.

"What you offered is deferred compensation, not concessions," Graper said. Vorva asked why Graper was getting so upset.

and 76 secondary intersections. Seven officers and 36 civilian personnel were required to provide traffic control.

Earlier, the communicate decided not to approve races this year due to painty concerns raised by the police department. But after several groups approached the administration, Groper was directed to aspitiate with them to find a solution. He suggested beings all the runs on the same day.

holding all the runs on the same day.

Buildes the Y, requests for runs were received from the Plymouth Salem Track and Cross Country Alumni Association, the Jaycoss on the morning of July 6th, and Growth Works.

"We weren't able to get them all to agree holding the events on the same day," sper said.

to holding the events on the same day," Graper said.

What was developed is a plan whereby the event speasors will provide velenteers to guard intersections, or pay the city to hire people to cover the intersections.

"You just can't have people running all over the streets of Plymouth without people watching to make sure they aren't run over by cars," he said.

Under the new proposal, the YMCA will provide 36 crossing guards to be trained by the city. If they fall to provide the guards, Graper said the event would be canceled.

PERMIT REQUESTS for the other groups are in the works, he said.

The Jaycees, Salem track alumni, and Growth Works will have to meet the same requirements for providing volunteers or paying for creasing geards.

Each of these groups sponsored events last year, creasing as many as 11 major intersections and 57 secondary intersections, according to Acting Police Chief Ralph White.

White originally objected to allowing runs because of four reasons.

First, he said the number of officers required to work a run impades the department's ability to answer calls.

"Also, the necessity of police officers to abandon their intersection points after runners pasis; then race to another intersection to arrive before the racing participants, places a burden that is not consistent with accepted police procedures," he said. Secondly, he said the number of intersections crossed made it impractical to place safety guards at every street.

Thirdly, race participants tend to ignore directions to beep to the right and watch for traffic, he said.

The last reason White objected was that motorists either move, steal or ignore road

He also questioned the city's and spon-sor's liability in providing insurance for the

Eriksson students meet a real poet

TUDENTS AND teachers at Eriksson Elementary School kept some exclusive company last week.

Jim DeWitt, an accomplished Michigan poet and short story writer, was the school's "Author in Residence" March 7-13. The widely published poet and "master teacher" offered students the opportunity to develop skills in creative writing, reporting, and poetry and fiction writing.

From all accounts, the special program drew rave reviews from third, fourth and fifth graders.

"It was a very successful project," said Ron South, Eriksson principal. "It was received very nicely by students. They had good experiences with it."

Moms and dads got in on it too, said South, at a "Meet the Authors Night" Wednesday. Writing samples displayed on blackboards drew "quite a positive"

Sponsored by the Michigan Council of the Arts and Erkisson, the program was the idea of fifth-grade teacher Mary Uhl. Thanks to Uhl, Eriksson was writing grant, said teacher Jeffrey Fordell.

"Core" groups of two students per classroom worked with DeWitt setting up a "kid-oriented writing and editing center and publishing office" replete with typewriters and dictionaries, said Fordell. They also produced a creative writing magazine.

An "Honorary Irish Poet," DeWitt has written nine collections of poems and is listed in the Poetry Society of Michigan's "Who's Who of Michigan

Shana Pando, fourth grade student at Erikkson School, sinks her teeth into writing.

Jim DeWitt, Michigan author of poetry and short students during the Eriksson School "Author in stories, shares the excitement of writing with Residence" program.

We understand Chuck Olson and his family are experiencing a problem with the student selection procedure at the high school. We only know of this problem from the articles we have read in the newspapers; Coach Olson does not discuss his personal problems with us, nor has he ever asked anything from us but to give our best efforts for the team.

Although Coach Olson has asked little for himself, he has given all of us something special that we will carry with us for the rest of our lives. Winning or losing, he has helped us develop self-confidence, responsibility, pride, humility, tolerance, sportsmanship, and respect for ourselves, our teammates, and our opponents.

We think Olson is one of the most dedicated and highly respected coaches Plymouth-Canton has or ever will have. Do we think be deserves special treatment? # Handling an emergency

Some Plymouth-Canton elementary pupils will get a lesson on how to reach an operator in an amergancy from AT&T Communications.

Operators from the Operator Service Center on Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth will hest tours for the grade school children. The tours are part of a program initiated by the operators called "Operation Reach Out."

During the tours, the operators will teach the children how to dial "9" in an emergency situation, will take them on a tour of the operator office, and will let them play operator in the training room. The operators will stress the importance of staying calm during an emergency and will tell the children what information to give the operator.

The tours will take place at the center at 1216 Ann Arbor Road between Sheldon and Main.

The first tour scheduled for today will involve some 26 children from Flegel Elementary School. Then on Wednesday, April 3, children from Our Lady of Good Counsel in Plymouth will be participants. Students from Bird Elementary also will our the center April 18, 25.

Community leaders say that number represents "just the tip of the iceberg," that drug abuse is "a serious concern and a problem that is here and now."

That bit of news is similar to what probably has surfaced in many other communities and become the topic of moribund conversation.

Donated gifts worth a total of more than $3,000 will be auctioned. Included are limousine service for three hours, dentist's office visits, health club memberships, legal services, beauty school courses and haircuts, clothes, cleaning services, carwashes, confections

Pledges are being sought by Plymouth Canton and Salem high school students and others who'll be swimming, biking, dribbling basketballs, walking, jogging, skating, jumping rope, rocking (in chairs) and using hula hoops during the "A-thon" event slated for 5-11 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturday.

Omnicom's 17,000 subscribers are encouraged to make pledges and bids by calling 459-7321, 459-7335, 459-7331, 459-7391 or 459-7392 during the telethon, coordinated by Rick McCoy, Nic Cooper and Linda Salvador.

The Observer urges support of the effort. Surpassing a $40,000 goal is not too great a reward for those who've gladly given of their time and diverse talents to help curb a problem many of us can expect to encounter in our lifetimes.

UBSERVEK & ECCENTRIC PAPERS

Walls won't stop crime

CRIME IS continually in the news. Acts of murder and robbery seem commonplace. Demands for justice are even more frequent

Issues of crime control - building prisons, banning handguns, tougher and longer prison sentences, capital punishment are on the front burner. Politicians adept at exploiting the issues for career development keep the fires stoked.

It is apparent that there is a deepening and pervasive apprehension of becoming a victim of crime.

A poll by one of the Detroit papers shows two-thirds of Michigan residents feel their chances of being robbed or attacked have increased in the past few

THE FEAR of crime probably is out of proportion to the actuality. Except for car theft, major crimes have actually been decreasing in the suburbs

Crime in most people's minds is often associated with the inner city and with blacks, who are involved in crimes out of proportion to their numbers. The fear creates the chasm between people of the central city and people of the suburbs.

The price has been, among other things, the fact that downtown Detroit is an obsolescent valley of office buildings populated only during the hours workers scurry to and from their hives. It is deserted at night, and it has been deserted by shoppers during the daytime. There is no sense of social vitality.

FEAR OF CRIME has almost led to the abandonment of mass transit. The mass transit plan approved a few years ago by a coalition of suburban-Detroit representatives, after years of negotiating, is of almost no value now.

The keystone, a light-rail commuter train from Detroit to Pontiac, became known as a subway. This brought up visions of the horrors of the New York subway. Those visions brought about the suburban opposition and stalling which eventually sank the total plan.

There is a new clamor to do something to stop crime. Oakland County Prosecutor Brooks Patterson leads a drive to allow capital punishment. Even though most studies show little if any deterrent value in capital punishment, its proponents want it, claiming that it is appropriate punishment for certain crimes.

THE LACK of prison space is acknowledged, as it has been for some time. The current debate is not over whether more prisons are needed but whether they are wanted in residential areas, or in certain

People would have prisons built up north, or out in the cornfields someplace. Keep them away from here. We tend to want to build protective walls around our houses, our neighborhoods and our communities where such things as prisons, halfway houses and group homes are outlawed.

The controversy over prisons and capital punishment is somewhat delusionary. Efforts to contain prisoners and deter would-be criminals deal with only a segment of the problem. The controversies tend to impart the idea that the building of prisons, and possibly executing those convicted of more heinous crime crime.

The reality is that serious crime has almost doubled in the last 15 years.

The controversies tend to mask the serious problems that go on ignored - a society in which there is a growing gap between the "haves" and the "have nots," little national concern over that problem and too few local programs which might tend to change behavior of young potential criminals before they get out of hand.

Changing the crime picture demands a change in focus.

Why we're seeking academic all-stars

have been voiced as long as there have been newspapers.

Most often cited is the "bad news good news" argument - newspapers are full of news of floods, crime, business failures and deaths - so called "bad news.

Critics maintain that newspapers should only have "good news" - cures for illnesses, births and business successes Journalists quickly trot out the argument of newsworthiness. Readers are interested. in "bad news

Another criticism is that we give too much attention to high school athletes and too little to those excelling in academics. I remember one former sports editor who defended high school sports by saying,"Look at all the space we give to covering local city council meetings They don't charge for the council meetings, and hardly anyone shows up. It costs $2 to go to a high school football game, and thousands come. So don't complain about too much high school sports coverage

BUT IT'S important to consider what can be done better. The complaint about too little attention to scholarship seems to have merit. That's why we were enthusiastic when approached by Robert Schramke, principal of Redford Union High, about sponsoring an Observer & Eccentric Academic All-Star team. Last month, Schramke met with our editors and outlined a plan for honoring the top high school students in this area

The editors agreed. Last week, I met with nine principals of area high schools who will be judges for the team. We are on

The team will be selected strictly on the basis of a mathematical calculation of test scores and grade point averages. Grades will be used in mathematics, English, science, social science and foreign language. PSAT, SAT and ACT tests will be used. Juniors and seniors are eligible. Only in a case of a tie will extracurricular activities be considered.

Nick Sharkey

WHAT CAN you do? If you are a high school principal or administrator, please send your nominations. They must be returned by March 29, since judging will be held April 2 If you are a high school parent, check that your principal nominates two students. Only students endorsed by the principal will be considered. On May 2, this newspaper will publish the Academic All-Star team - 12 top scholars in the area served by Observer newspapers and 12 in the area served by Eccentric newspapers. Everyone who is nominated will be recognized.

AN INTERESTING thing happened immediately after the principals finished their meeting last week

"How's your team doing in the basketball tournament?" one principal asked another. "I couldn't believe that my star player fouled out early in the fourth quarter after committing a foul on the tipoff to the quarter."

A long discussion by the principals on the fortunes of their school's teams fol-

Sister Joan Charnley of Marian High School came over to me. "Do you realize what just happened?" she asked. "We spent a meeting discussing the overemphasis of sports as compared to academics, but what do the principals talk to each other about when the meeting is over?"

I had to agree. That's why when I consider criticism of newspapers, I try to distinguish between what people say and what they do.

Memories of the AA train

last week that they were planning to revive a railroad train from Detroit to Ann Arbor, they awakened a flood of memories - back to the days when the train was one of the most popular in the state.

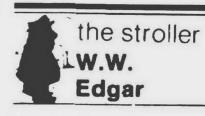

This train, which ran way back in the 20s, was commonly known as the football train on Saturday afternoons. It ran from Third and Fort Street in Detroit to the very gates of Ferry Field in Ann Arbor where the University of Michigan football team, under Coach Fielding H. Yost, held forth in its heyday.

The train left promptly at noon. The current stadium wasn't built up on the hill until 1927. So the football season was alwavs looked forward to with keen delight, and the train made it even more popular.

IT WAS AN unusual train in that it waited for the sports writers when the game ended and brought them back to their offices in time for what was called the "state edition."

At the time, The Stroller was a newcomer to Detroit and aside from being thrilled at the chance to go to Ann Arbor, meeting Coach Yost also was something to feel proud about.

There were some times when The Stroller felt a bit homesick for the Pennsylvania Dutch country, but the train was a great cure. You see, each time he rode to the game, he was reminded of the train back home that catered to the berry pickers. It ran on what was known as the Catasuua-Fogelsville line.

It had no set time schedule except for its start in the morning. It ran about 15 miles and traveled only as fast as the berry pickers moved. It was a unique train back in those days.

In the Dutch country, the berry season was a great time. Folks came from miles around, not only to pick berries but to get a ride on a train that traveled only as fast as the berry pickers. It is long gone, and the berry patches have gone with them.

THERE WERE no berry patches along the way when the football train ran from Detroit to Ferry Field in Ann Arbor. But there was one thing that made the train even more memorable.

Going through the little town of Dixboro, the train passed a small white church only a block or two from the tracks. Each week it had a gathering waiting to enter. Soon it was learned that these folks were waiting to get in and enjoy a chicken dinner prepared by the women of the church.

There then grew a desire among the passengers to stop for dinner. So the automobile replaced the train for many parties, and chicken dinner in Dixboro became the mecca for those who enjoyed an old-fashioned dinner.

Many a time in his early days in Detroit, The Stroller yearned for the Pennsylvania Dutch special - a chicken and waffle dinner. Once he was invited to join an auto party to the game and stop at Dixboro for dinner afterwards. One trip with one dinner was enough. He became a former train rider.

And now, with the flood of golden memories of the Saturday train, he hopes that when the planned train starts running it will take time to stop in Dixboro again just for dinner.

ears. The results are that daylight ears increase, shadows shorten, and emperatures begin to rise. Through the years, life forms on Earth have come to rely on this annual event and the environmental consequences that follow. We as observers can see many of the adaptations living organisms display as a result of Earth's movement, if we look closely.

In temperate regions many forms of life become dormant when winter reigns. Trees loose their leaves and rely on stored food to survive the winter months. Frogs and turtles bury themselves in mud at the bottom of a lake or pond. Most insects overwinter as eggs, and some mammals "sleet the entire period. Many birds fly south to find more suitable feeding areas.

THE VERNAL equinox seems to mark the resurgence and return of these life forms.

Buds on trees begin to swell because the warming rays of the sun have stimulated the sap to flow. Frogs emerge from underground to bask and court in the afternoon sun. Mammals that were "asleep" awaken, and others begin courting or caring for young.

This resurgence of life and the position of the sun led people in earlier times to consider the vernal equinox the first day of the year. Only centuries later was it changed to the Jan. 1 timetable we now use, which does not really

Suburban Life

Thursday, March 21, 1985 O&E

Ellie Graham

ONE OF THE biggest St. Patrick's Day celebrations around here was Pat Marshall's 50th birthday party. Pat's husband, John Marshall, and their son, Johnny, planned the surprise that turned out to be a two-day event for some of

The Marshalls moved from Ohio to Plymouth 12 years ago, so many of their old friends came up for Pat's party. John had a hospitality room at the Mayflower Hotel complete with maps and brochures of Plymouth for the visitors. The party Saturday evening was in the Plymouth Cultural Center and on Sunday, there were guided tours of the community for the out-of-

John and Johnny had decorated the ballroom with hundreds of green and white balloons. There were balloons on the walls and balloons and streamers attached to the back of each chair. Pots of sharrrocks decorated the tables. Lynn Lyon, one of the local guests, said she never had seen the big room at the Cultural Center so beautifully decorated.

John had assembled photographs from each year of Pat's life and these were displayed, each mounted on a green shamrock.

The Cosy Cafe catered the dinner for 150 guests and the waitresses joined the party after the dinner. Pat works at the Cosy.

There were proclamations, one from Mayor Dave Pugh of Plymouth and another from the mayor of Lake Havasu City, Aris., the city that has the reconstructed London Bridge. Pat, a stalwart Ohio State fan, received an autographed picture of Woody Hayes and also one of Bo Schembechler. There were poems and blessings and a solo by Johnny

Pat thought she and John were on their way to Ohio for her March 17 birthday when they left their bome on Nantucket Saturday evening. She was going to finish hemming her skirt during the drive. John suddenly remembered he had promised a friend he'd check out a caterer who was putting on a dinner at the Cultural Center That was how he delivered Pat to her surprise

Dinner's at 8:30 (a.m.) in inner city

By Ellnor Graham staff writer

Serving a full-course dinner to 600 inner-city derelicts is an unusual experience for the average suburbanite especially at 9 a.m. on a Friday. But for a small group of people from First said Karam. United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth, the experience has become almost routine.

On the third and fourth Fridays of each month, it is their responsibility to help out at old Fort Street Presbyterian Church in downtown Detroit. The Fort Street church started its Open Door program in 1967 and has been feeding and clothing the needy ever

Karen Karam of the Plymouth church maintains the list of volunteers and their schedules. It's not a long list, but it's a dependable one. Sue Brennan, who is in charge of the Open Door, says it's the only suburban church they can

"Interest is only sporadic in the other suburban churches," she said.

BRENNAN SAID, "These volunteers are special. It takes something to stand in there with the homeless, to shake a dirty hand and not break away. They are friendly, they want to place a hand on your shoulder when they talk."

The Plymouth volunteer list includes Karam, Carol Dodge, Betty Hees, Bill and Thelma Stokes, Lila West, Irene Truesdell, Bonnie Myhrum, Mary Simmons, Mary Spear, Ken Spear, Penny Nowicki, Betty Webber, Bob Webber and Gladys Stokes

Brennan says they are special. Karam said she has never had anvone who didn't want to go back. "It's such a worthy experience, it humbles you and makes you thankful for everything you've got."

She said she's seen a few fights break out in the three years since First United became involved in the program

"The people like to be smiled at, to be asked how they are, how they are doing. They are polite and they have dignity. And there are the characters one who claims to be governor of Michigan. He's dressed up like Captain Bob-lo and is always soliciting votes,"

IF YOU'RE GOING to serve at Fort Street, you get an early start. You leave Plymouth early because the Friday morning diners are waiting in line before 8:30 a.m.

Those who sleep in a flophouse have to move out by 8 a.m. and they can't get back in until 3:30 p.m. They are ready for a full-course dinner. It may be the only meal of the day. Some take advantage of the shower facilities at the church. Some find a new shirt, jacket or a pair of pants. Sue Brennan said, "We feed 600 and clothe about 100 men each Friday. The clothing is donated, but trousers are an increasing problem. The clothing comes from the more affluent and affluent people have expanding waistlines. We have lots of size 36 and up. But our clients are thin. We need 30 and 32-inch waistlines."

BRENNAN ESTIMATES a third of the people come from "the revolving door of Northville." She was referring to the Northville Regional Psychiatric Another third, she said, are alcoholics. "They're professional people, white collar executives and blue collar skilled labor. They try from time to time to straighten out, but they never seem to make it.

"About 20 percent are revolving, new faces from week to week then disappear. Some seem to go south for the winter, we always have an increase in the summer. It's seasonal. Of course, we lose the elderly in winter who can't get out in the cold weather."

Brennan said she believes the number of homeless in Detroit could be as high as 25,000.

"WE DON'T SEE many of 'new poor' down here, the ones who were laid off from automotive jobs.

"We have the young blacks, the unemployed who haven't had a chance yet to know which way they will go, and the unemployable," Brennan said as she was considering who made up the other 30 percent of people who came to dinner Friday morning.

The people pick up their hot meals and utensils from a serving line meat, potatoes, roll, vegetables and

The volunteers serve the coffee. They wear white bus-boy jackets which Brennan says are a good idea.

"The people aren't shy about putting up a hand and saying, 'More coffee over here, to someone in uniform," Brennan said. "They wouldn't feel the hot dinners for the same way about a well-dressed volun- inner city homeless.

She added that they had a big turn-out for the corned beef and cabbage dinner the Friday before St. Patrick's BOB WEBBER noted that he had a request for three creams and seven sugars with one of the cups of coffee he poured.

He also mentioned the politeness of the people, the thank-yous for the coffee and their efforts to straighten up the room after the meal.

Webber took his camera along to take some pictures for the Observer. He told the people that if they didn't want to be photographed to just wave him off and he would respect their wishes. No one waved him off and he had one request for a posed shot. Brennan believes Fort Street Presbyterian serves the best meal in town. The Open Door program, both the food and the clothing, is supported by donations. She credits Dr. Robert Crilley, pastor at Fort Street, with holding it all together.

"He had an honorary doctorate and Episcopalian, kitty-corner from Tiger now he has an earned doctorate," said Stadium, has a COTS (Coalition of Tem-Brennan. "He is a wonderful man."

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE: the tragedy of substance abuse.

This is what the Substance Abuse Telethon is all about. It is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, March 22 and 23, on Omnicom Cable Channels 8 and 15.

Victims of the tragedy are the parents, who don't know where their children are for hours, days, weeks at a time; the kids, who don't know where they are themselves, for hours, days, and weeks at a time; the siblings, who can't seem to do anything in, or out, of school, unable to get their minds off their missing brother or sister.

From grandparents, aunts, uncles right on down through friends and neighbors, the list is endless. So many are hurt by each and every individual lost to drugs or alcohol.

We, as a community, have a plan to

During the telethon, many of our community leaders and terrific volunteers, are joining forces to raise money to educate key personnel in our area to identify and help the substance abuser. Good people, that care, are giving their time. People like Jeff Elliott of WMJC, Tom Dean of WCLS, Linda Salvador and Bob Card of McDonalds, all from Dick Egli and Nick Cooper of Plymouth-Canton schools and kids from all over Canton, Northville and Plymouth will be joining in. Kids will be participating in swim-a-thons, jog-a-thons, bike-a-thons, whatever-a-thons, to raise money to sponsor the training sessions.

We will have former drug abusers to answer questions, items to be auctioned. Plymouth-Canton Beauty College will offer haircuts with funds to be donated, compliments of Sara Berry and all the students there.

Please plan to be a part of this. Pledge or sign up to a-thon something. If you have a middle school or high school student who hasn't been contacted, tell them to go to the office and ask.

How about ice skating? Plymouth Cultural Center is allowing us to use its rink for all the skating the kids can do, providing they turn in their pledge sheets! Help us find a way to find those who need help before it's too late. When is too late? Ask your fourth or fifth grader. It can be frightening.

tour in September, or to Elgin House in Canada, spending three nights at this special resort. Day outings include trips to the Gerald R. Ford Museum, Berman's Christmas Shop, and even Libbys Glass factory and the Jiffy Mix factory, just to mention a few.

Should you want something more exciting, how about a Cincinnati Luau and Kings Island outing?

You say sports is more your thing? Well, they've got it! How does bowling, softball, or even volleyball hit you? They have teams in all of these sports.

I couldn't let a report about our seniors go by without mentioning the passion for card playing exhibited by a large group of regulars. Of course, even if you're not a senior citizen but just enjoy sports, may I suggest you give the office a call and ask for the schedules of our teams. They play both at home and away, and as in any sport, the bigger the crowd, the livelier the action, although I've never seen a dull gathering.

I stood outside one day with the whole three-camera crew, trying to get shelter from the Omnicom Van, while all the seniors continued to play softball in the pouring rain. They demanded the game continue, while we sat cowering near the van! Anyway, I urge anyone and everyone to catch a game or two. Not only do they represent our township, but they play a mean game! Get out there and support our teams all our teams. You could learn a thing quired fame, if not fortune, with the Senior Kitchen Band! What a group they are - a pride to us all and more fun than you can imagine. If you have not had an opportunity to see them, give me a call. If I see a real need in our town, then, by golly, I'll see what I can do to arrange a command performance for their fellow citizens.

I know they'll want to do it, but, believe it or not, our little group is booked up early. Sometimes, even our local events can't book them because they have a previous commitment out-oftown. Now how many of us can say that? Don't miss a chance to see a full show. Even P.M. Magazine didn't get the whole show, but they did get them. This is a popular group! That's not where the senior activities stop, either. They have workshops, exhibits, lectures - anything you have an interest in, they will try to provide.

Did I mention the daily hot lunches?

Oh, it's nothing special, just tantalizing things like lasagna, pork chops, turkey tetrazini, scalloped chicken, beef stew, stuffed peppers, sweet and sour pork. You know, the regular stuff you have for lunch everyday at home. My family should be so lucky!

Helping the handicapped

Robert Schneider (left), Eether Powell and Robert Miller were prominent faces at a February fund-raiser for area handicapped children at the Elks' Plymouth Lodge. More than $5,000 was raised at the Elks' 365 Club Party. Schneider, 365 Club chairman and chairman of Michigan Major Projects for the Plymouth Elks, has hosted the event for seven years. It has been a success, thanks to the generosity of guests like Powell. Miller, state executive director of Michigan Major Projects, was guest of honor at the party. Many of the lodge's 2,400 members live in Plymouth, Canton, Westland, Livonia and Redford. Parents of handicapped youngsters in need are encouraged to contact the Elks, who do not limit their assistance to lodge members.

Students tour U-D Dental College

By Richard Lech staff writer

A group of aspiring dentists, orthodontists and dental hygienists recently got an experi-ence they could really sink their teeth into.

The eight high school students, all members of a local Explorer post, toured the University of Detroit Dental School.

They saw dental students working on real, live patients, as well as puttering away on plastic teeth in the classroom.

They also got a greeting from the school's dean of student affairs, Dr. Donald Nitkin. He told them dentistry has plenty of rewards, but fame, glory and public applause are not among

"About the best comment you'll hear is, 'You're not as bad as I thought you were going to be," Nitkin said.

THE STUDENTS, who come from Livonia, Plymouth, Canton and Northville, belong to an Explorer post set up for students with a hankering to enter the dental field. Part of the Boy Scouts of America, the Explorer program gives teen-age boys and girls a chance to explore various fields, from police work to com-

The dentistry post, formed in December, is the first of its kind in western Wayne County, according to Exploring executive Russell

The group was started by dentists Patrick Houlihan and Brian Murphy, partners in a Canton practice. Houlihan said the dentistry Explorers program is the kind of thing he wished he could have belonged to back when he was in EXPLORING HAS changed a great deal since then, he said.

When I was in the Boy Scouts, the Explorers were the high adventure group, mountain climbing and things like that," he recalled. They were the elite, like the Green Berets of Scouting.

The tour of the U-D Dental School was a homecoming for Houlihan and Murphy, who are both 1983 graduates of the school.

The tour's highlight was a visit to the school's 152-chair clinic, which takes up most of the main school building's first floor. There dental students do anything a real dentist does cleanings, fillings, crowns, extractions, false teeth fittings - on real patients.

But unlike most real dentists, the students are responsible for just about everything in-volved in handling the patients.

"YOUR RESPONSIBILITY is total," Houlihan said. "It's not like my office where the receptionist does a lot of the work. You're responsible for everything, from seating the pa-tient to collecting the payment to cleaning up the instruments when you're done."

The students work on patients in groups of 16 under one instructor. The students are on their own for the most part. The instructor checks key steps of the process, making sure that the drillings are OK, the fillings inserted good and tight.

Before working on actual patients, the stu-dents spend many long hours in the classrooms practicing on model teeth, Houlihan said. Then they move on to practicing on each other, even going so far as to inject each other with pain-

The Explorers also toured the school's radiology department and its brightly decorated pediatrics ward. A few brave souls even went into the dental school morgue.

"You have to dissect bodies, and a lot of peo-ple become worried about that," Houlihan said. "But after a couple of weeks you learn it's a scientific experience, a learning experience, and it's not bad. Everybody gets used to it."

WHEN THE tour was completed, Nitkin told the Explorers the outlook is good for potential dentists. Seventy-five percent of those applying to dental schools are being accepted, he

"Now the odds are stacked in favor of the applicant," he said.

Nitkin said the students should make sure they take the right preparatory courses in high school and college.

"The most important thing, other than taking the right courses, is to go into a dentist's office, spend some time," Nitkin said. "Ask what the best part of the job is, and what the

"There's good and bad in everything. You owe it to yourself to get experience over his shoulder rather than just as a patient."

HOULIHAN SAID he gives the Explorers the chance to do just that.

"I encourage them to come in and watch

Houlihan also is going to give them some actual experience in destistry. They will take X-rays of each other, operate some of the equipment, even do some mock fillings.

Six of the eight Explorers who went on the our are women. Half of the women said they are interested in becoming dental hygienists, traditionally a female role, but the other half listed dentistry itself as their interest.

That reflects the growing involvement of women in the formerly male-dominated field.

U-D Dental School officials said that about one-fourth of the school's students are women.

Two of the Explorer tour members said they have decided for sure that dentistry is the field

Livonia Stevenson sophomore Jeff Gibbons and participating in the Explorers has just reinforced a decision for dentistry he made when he was fitted for braces in the sixth

Gibbons, who wants to become an orthodontist, said belonging to the Explorers has given him a better idea of what dentistry is like and has shown him what classes to take to prepare

He summed up the profession's appeal: "Good hours, good pay, and besides, it looks like it'd be fun anyway," he said. "You meet different people, and you can be your own

ORDINANCE NO. 85-5

SECTION 1. CHAPTER 185, "REGULATIONS OF DISH-TYPE SATELLITE SIGNAL-RECEIVING ANTENNAS," OF TITLE VIII, OF THE CODE OF THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH IS HEREBY ADDED TO READ AS FOL-

PREAMBLE The City Commission is aware that "dish type" antennas are becoming more available for use to receive satellite radio, communications, data transmission, and television signals and is, therefore, desirous to permit the use of said dishes by property owners within the City provided that said dishes comply with reasonable regulations to protect the rights of other property owners and to protect the health, safety and welfare of all residents of the City of Plymouth.

 Dish-Type Satellite Signal-Receiving Antennas:
 A signal receiving device the purpose of which is to receive radio, communications, television, data transmission or other signals from a satellite or satellites in earth orbit. Considered a structure, thus subject to all ordinances relating to structures. 2. Earth Station or Ground Station:

A signal receiving device the purpose of which is to receive radio, communications, television, data transmission or other signals from satellite or satellites in earth orbit. Considered a structure, thus subject to all ordinances relating to structures. Low Notice Amplified (LNA):
 A signal amplifying device situated within the earth station; the purpose of which is to magnify the electronic signals received and transferr them through the coaxial cable to the receiver.

A television set, radio, examination de utilizes the signals from the earth station. ication device or data input device that

That part of the earth station shaped like a saucer or dish. PERMIT REQUIRED

No person, firm, partnership, corporation, trust or other legal entity shall construct an earth station without a permit, nor shall construction commence before a permit is issued in accordance with Section 8.01 of Chapter 96

APPLICATION FOR PERMIT

ON FOR PERMIT

The owner, or occupant with written permission from the owner, of any residential, commercial, or industrial facility within the City of Plymouth, Michigan, who desires to construct an earth station on said premises or land parcel, shall first obtain a permit to do so from the City of Plymouth. Only one (1) permit for an earth station shall be granted for each main structure or planned grouping of such structures. The application for a permit to install an earth station shall include:

a. A plot plan showing the proposed location of the earth station.
 b. A site plan showing not only the building locations of the land percel involved, but also building locations of properties on either side of the subject land percel, plus the building or buildings directly across the street.

c. Sketches or pictures of the proposed earth station that would depict the view from the adjacent properties.

d. Construction plans and specifications, plus a structural engineering analysis prepared and submitted by a professional engineer registered in the State of Michigan. At the sole discretion of the City Engineer, the requirement to have these plans certified by a professional engineer can be waived.

e. A statement that the equipment installed will meet all FCC requirements applicable to noise and spurious emissions.

f. A statement that the installation will comply with all applicable building and electrical codes.

INSTALLATION REQUIREMENTS

Any such structure shall be located in a rear yard. Exceptions may be made in certain commercial or industrial locations if approved by the Planning Commission upon review of the site plan.

 The outside extremity of the earth station shall be no closer than

b. The outside extremity of the earth station shall be no closer than three (3) feet from any property line.
c. The earth station shall be obscured from the view of adjacent property owners or public rights-of-way by: buildings, screen wall, issues, berm, evergreen plantings or any combination thereof. Such screening devices shall be at least eighty (80%) percent obscuring for at least the first six (6) feet above grade and also afford an great a degree of obscuring above the six (6) feet as practical.
d. The dish antenna portion of the earth station shall not exceed twelve (12) feet in diameter and no portion of the earth station shall be capable of exceeding a height of fifteen (18) feet above grade when installed and operating.

Many area churches are represented in the Lutheran Singers chorus, which includes (from left) Joyce Day, Joyce Bigelow and Ann Buland, all of Livonia

It will be the presentation of Bach's "Mass in B Minor" performed by the 62-voice Detroit Lutheran Singers under the direction of Eric Freudigman at 3:30 p.m. in St. Paul Lutheran Church, 21915 Beech Street, Dearborn.

Accompanying the group will be an orchestra of 25 instrumentalists, and by Kenneth Sweetman, organist. Soloists will be soprano Jill Pierce, alto Barbara Windham, tenor Paul Herre-ma, and bess Mark Vrondak.

THE CHOIR REPRESENTS over 30 churches in the metropolitan area.

For Freudigman, a music teacher with the Detroit public schools for 25 years and who is also affiliated with the Kenneth Jewell Chorale, the long rehearsals and attention to detail have been a labor of love.

The Mass is regarded to be Bach's greatest work," Freudigman commented. "The scope is so large that many groups are not able to do it."

The Lutheran Singers have been practicing weekly since January for Bach is often called "the fifth evan gelist" because more than any other person in history, he composed music which proclaims the glory of God. At the end of his cantata and oratorio, he inscribed S.D.G. - Soli Deo Gioria -"To God Alone the Glory."

ONE OF THE MOST dramatic passages ever scored occurs during the as-cending lines of the trumpet in "Et Resurexit," Freudigman noted. "Those trumpet high notes are positively mind-

Is 'Be fruitful and multiply' a good idea?

"Be fruitful and multiply" the Bible tells us. Yet the world changes and un-less we have either a nuclear war or population control, the number of human beings on the earth will double by 40 years from now. I have spent several weeks in a Third about medical help for the people there. Some of our students asked about birth control. "We are beginning to do something about that," was the answer. It seemed to most of us that they had to do something about this very quickly. No wonder people from this country are trying CHINA IS ONE nation which has taken this population problem seriously in the past six years. Chinese couples must limit their family to one child. If their program works, the rapid growth moral perspectives Rev. David Strong of their nation will slow and even reverse itself slightly.

China has received $10 million a ear through the United Nations to assist in this program.

American support for this United Nations program in developing nations has been delayed and is in jeopardy be-cause of the abortion issue. The United Nations officials claim that none of this funding supports abortion in China. However, since China provides abortion, intense pressure has come to bear to stop American support for such Un-ited Nations population control pro-A friend of mine works on such issues at the United Nations. She tells me that African societies had their own patterns of family planning. Men who could afford wives had many, but each women had a child not less than every four or five years. The social patterns provided the population control until polygamy became less common.

"BE FRUITFUL and multiply" would work in a culture where each would work in a calture water each woman only became pregnant after her youngest child had reached four years. Without medical assistance, many would die of accident and disease. The world has changed, yet those who push a right-to-life concept to its extreme would bury the world in billions of people.

Two principles of my church are relevant. "People have the duty to consider the impact on the total society of their decisions regarding childbear-ing." The second is, "the reduction of ting." The second is, "the retraction of current population growth rates have become imperative."

These principles seem to have very little appeal to most people. This may be because childbearing is one of the most intimate and sacred matters. We do not want anyone to interfere in our decisions in this area. We hesitate to interfere in other's lives. Yet the population time bomb is ticking. If you walk through the streets of a Third-World nation, the problem is so obvious. The old rules no longer fit. Yet well-meaning clergy and laity still apply the old catchwords, "he fruitful and multiply," to the situation.

Finally, Payne to get pro debut

TEARLY EIGHT months ago, Craig Payne was embroiled in the biggest fight of his boxing career. He chased Tyrell Biggs around the ring, at times swinging wildly and lunging clumsily, in his effort to dethrone the No. 1 amateur heavyweight in the U.S.

Payne failed Biggs won. The victory earned Biggs a trip to the Olympic Games and a shot at a gold medal.

Payne did not come away empty-handed. He had beaten Biggs once in the final trial for a berth on the U.S. team. The second victory needed to unseat Biggs never materialized, but Payne's aggressiveness caught the eye of Eddie Futch, the trainer of one Larry Holmes, the pro heavyweight champ.

Payne decided to chuck his amateur status and turn pro. He would train under Futch and his amateur managers from Livonia, Paul Soucy and Dick Quinton

THAT WAS in August. Tonight, Payne's dream of becoming a professional heavyweight boxer will be realized

It's been a rugged trail since that nationally televised battle with Biggs. It always is for the Olympic Trial loser Payne has been saddled with management problems, with the Vegas and Livonia interests squabbling over who should handle what

Two months ago, Payne lamented, "My career is at a standstill. Everything's all screwed up. I've got no fights planned right

The scenario changed rapidly. Promoter Bill Kozerski of Detroit-based Gold Circle Productions entered the picture, offering Payne a chance. He grabbed it.

THE MANAGEMENT problems still aren't solved But Payne's career is at least off the

Craig Payne

It's certain, or at least as certain as anything in the world of pro boxing can be which, granted, is very little - that before this day is out, Payne's ability to cash in on the big money associated with pro fighters can be better analyzed. 'I love the people of Livonia," said the Livonian. "They backed me all through my amateur career. But that's history now. It's time to move on. 'Now that I'm a pro. I cover more than Livonia. I cover the whole world That's a big job But Payne feels he's ready for the first step Tonight he'll face a veteran of six pro bouts Mike Evans of Chicago, who has won 3, lost 2 and tied 1. Payne knows what to expect.

You can expect him to come out and give me a boxing lesson," he said "At least he'll try to He's a boxer

PAYNE HAS seen Evans fight once. He has studied film of Evans And he believes, with inherent bravado, that he is well prepared to handle his initial pro boxing challenge.

I'm not underestimating him," Payne said. I'm going out there like I'm the beavyweight champ of the world He won't be as up as I will be for this fight

There's a lot at stake for the 23-year-old For the first time, he'll be going 6 rounds instead of 3, the length of amateur bouts. And he'll be going against a boxer not a puncher - who has gone that distance before

I want to make sure I've got enough stamina to go the distance, if it should go that far," said

But no training can substitute for ring experience. How good is Craig Payne? How good can he be?

Both are legitimate questions. At least partial answers can be expected tonight.

And, should Payne succeed, plans are already in motion for another bout in Las Vegas April 11 Who will control Payne's fate by then

IS VOICE is gruff and will amplify at the slightest irritation. He has a mean, intimidating look about him, especially during football season. He stalks the sidelines during a game like an impatient father, barking a steady stream of instructions to both his players on the field and coaches in the press box. He's been known to rip his headphones off his head and toes them disgustedly to the ground. He has given some of the most frighteningly unprintable on-field lectures ever heard.

Tom Moshimer is every bit the hard-nosed, tyrannical football coach his image suggests. He not only earns the respect from his players and coaches, dammit, he commands it.

But there's another side to the ultra-successful Plymouth Salem football coach. Behind the crusty exterior is a deep-seated passion. Moshimer won't often show this side, but it's what separates him from the million other hard-nosed, tyrannical football coaches.

Moshimer's passion can be seen only in glimpses. You can sometimes catch a hint of it through his eyes when he reminisces about some of the young men he's coached.

"YOU KNOW, it's tough when you start mentioning names because you're always bound to leave somebody out. But I've worked with some great kids," Moshimer said. It's at this point his eyes take on a more glassy look.

Players like Rich Hewlett, both Dillons (Tim and Paul), Doug and Scott Agnew, Ron Egloff, Steve Robb, Jeff Horton, Bob Thornbladh, Bob Clayton, Charlie Wolff, Greg LaMirand, Jimmy Anderson, Stan Snider, Bob Dasher, Doug Ward, Dan Ross, Doug Tripp, and of course this last group, Scott Jurek, Marc Tindall, Craig Morton

You know, any success we may have had is in seeing these kids develop throughout life. To see these kids go on and do well - and I'm not just talking about football - to see them go on and succeed in anything they do in life is what this is all about," he said.

Tom Moslfimer has won 143 football games, six league championships and a state championship in his 26 years of coaching. His football programs, first Plymouth High School then Plymouth Salem, are among the most respected in the state of Michi-

ON MONDAY, Moshimer will reap perhaps the highest tribute bestowed upon high school coaches in this state. He, along with 29 others, will be inducted into the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association Hall of Fame in Ann Arbor or reague.

e. 1985, inducted into the Michigan State High School Footba Coaches Association Hall of Fame in Ann Arbor.

"This is really a great honor," Moshimer said. "I know this is very cliche, but it's a great honor because it comes from all the people you compete with and against - you're being honored by your peers," he said.

The honor also serves as a morale boost to the veteran coach. Last season was perhaps the toughest of his career.

The Plymouth-Canton school district administration had taken away seventh-, eighth- and ninthgrade football programs (the ninth-grade program was reinstated last year). Moshimer came to spring camp with just 30-some football players, most of whom were playing organized ball for the first time. As a result, Salem suffered through a 3-8 season, only the third losing season of Moshimer's career and his worst since 1967.

"You know what depresses me the most about the current situation here," Moshimer said. "Either because of random selection or the loss of the middle school athletic program, or both, we're losing a large number of good athletes to private schools. Not only are these good athletes, but these are the kids who become the leaders in our program. And that, more than anything, bothers me.

BECAUSE OF those concerns, Moshimer almost retired before last season. But the combined efforts of athletic director John Sandmann and his assistant Paul Cummings persuaded Moshimer to stick "When I started in coaching, I set two goals for myself," said Moshimer. "I wanted to coach for 25 years, and I wanted to produce a solid Class A program. I think I have accomplished that. "I don't really know where I'll go from here. I'm on a year-to-year basis at Salem. I know this, I would hate to go out with 3-6 teams after all the great years we've had here. I don't want to go out with anything that would tarnish what we've accomplished.

Plymouth Salem head football coach Tom Moshimer, 143 wins in his 26 years of coaching, has been selected to the Michigan State Football Coaches Association Hall of Fame in Ann Arbor.

Midget icers win 2nd state championship

For the second straight season, the Plymouth-Canton Flyers have won the Midget A state hockey championship. The Flyers, coached by John Godre and sponsored by Compuware, swept through the district and state tournaments with a perfect 10-0 record

In the state tournament played March 7-10 at the Dearborn Heights Canfield Arena, the Flyers knocked off in succession, Trenton (6-2), Garden City (10-1), Calumet (9-4), Fraser (in the semifinals, 11-0) and Westland (in the championship, 6-4).

Third period goals by Flyers Kirk Goleniak, Frank O'Brien, Tom Kenyon and Jim Nave broke a 2-2 struggle against Westland helping Plymouth-Canton to the title

WESTLAND HAD previously yielded just one point throughout the playoffs and had never lost to the Flyers throughout the 1985 campaign.

The line of Kenyon, Goleniak and Clint Straub accounted for 21 of the Flyers' 42 goals during the 5-game tournament Goleniak scored 10 goals, Kenyon 7 and Straub 5

Eric Kapelanski, a hero for the Flyers during last year's state tournament, was a heavy contributor again this year, scoring a key goal in the championship game against Westland

The rest of the Flyers are Bob Goleniak, Jon Godre, Jim Perris, Shane Tratechaud, Mark DeVergilio, Paul Trapani, Nick Trapani, Mark Gagleard, Todd Glaesmer, Dale DeYoung, Will Correll and Derek Darkowski

Women.bowlers get national honor

The Women's International Bowling Congress has paid high tribute to the Wayne-Westland and the Greater Detroit Women's Bowling Association in a program inaugurated last month.

These two groups have been awarded what the national body calls "Oscars" for the fine work they have accomplished during the past five years.

Both associations are very active and now are listed among the 10 best organizations in the country.

ABC MOVE: In an attempt to strengthen its bid to take part in the next Olympic games, the American Bowling Congress has taken its most important move in years. It has decided to add an amateur section to the membership. Under the Olympic rules only amateurs can compete. And while there has been some feeling that bowling isn't completely amateur, the move will remove that problem.

WONDERLAND LANES: Dave Kmiecik paced a week of high scoring when he posted a 765 series in the classic. He had a middle game of 280. Joining him as new members of the 700 Club were Dick Bond with 750 and Bernard Woods with 748. On the girls side Barb Turner had a high game of 229.

MERRI-BOWL: Mike Rose joined the 700 Club when he rolled a 735 series in the men's doubles. Joe Kulicz was next in line with a 651.

Michigan's winter weather caused the roof to cave in on the Pontiac Silverdome and its one-time tenants, the Detroit Pistons. And it made driving to work part demolition derby, part motocross.

But Oakland Hills Country Club, site of the 85th U.S. Open Championship June 10-16, "survived quite well," according to greenskeeper Ted Woehrle.

Other than keeping the ground exceptionally wet, the weather's not doing much harm." And the conditions that sent the Pistons packing "made for a pretty good winter for us.

We even protected some of the elevated greens with thermal blankets in case it didn't snow, but it turned out we didn't need them." Woehrle said.

A GOOD WINTER is one with a lot of snow cover, according to the greens-

"Our biggest enemy is lack of moisture because once the ground freezes, if there is no snow and the wind starts blowing, the grounds and the plants dry out and die." Woehrle said.

With 12 weeks until Fuzzy Zoeller defends his Open championship, won last year in a playoff at Winged Foot outside New York City, Woehrle anticipates few problems in getting Oakland Hills' South Course, dubbed "The Monster," ready for play.

"Our biggest problem right now is that we have to pick up all the debris from the ice storms. We have to get all the broken branches picked up.

"Once that's done, we'll start work on the bunkers, cleaning them up, reshoveling all the sand. Then once the warm weather sets in, we'll start mowing. But that won't be until mid-April," Woehrle said.

New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting - Eat All You Want, Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA An exoting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body

What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss!

Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calones from being absorbed into your system They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results

And who can disagree' Amitol (although brand new to this country is already being called by many people, "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century " In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again

Company Offers Extraordinary Guarantee

You now can purchase Amitol direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that' his just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitol is available, it's easy and it works without dicting!

$19.95 30 day supply, or $35.95 60 day supply Order immediately by sending a check or mones order to DYNA LABS, 270 No. Canon Dr., Ste. 1255 (Dept. U.21.) Beverly Hills, CA, 90210. # A whimsical look at state gym

Flippin' over gymnastics. . .

The 1985 high school gymnastics season ended at the Troy gymnasium Saturday afternoon, but it's going to live on for quite a while in my mind. The state meet, which took place Friday and Saturday at the school on Livernois, featured the best collection of talented Michigan prep gymnasts ever.

The only problem Priday night was too much action. All four events were run simultaneously, so it was difficult to absorb it all. Only when Walled Lake Western's Barrie Muzbeck competed did the rest of the action stop.

The story's been told numerous times, but in case you missed it, Muzbeck, the 1983 all-around champion, skipped the high school circuit last year in pursuit of an Olympic Team berth. Unfortunately, Muzbeck sustained a stress fracture on her leg and missed out on everything.

This season, Muzbeck returned

AT THE STATE meet, Muzbeck totalled 38.05 points to capture the allaround title Friday night. Saturday, she won individual titles on the balance beam and uneven parallel bars, and tied Holland's Jeni Hescott for first in floor exercise. She also placed fourth in Muzbeck does not demand attention, but her ability commands it. When she stepped up to the uneven parallel bars Friday night for her first competition of the evening, everything stopped. Fans, otherwise shouting encouragement to gymnasts or cheering after an event, simply clammed up.

The Walled Lake Western senior didn't disappoint them, either. She ripped off her routine, and patiently waited for the 9.7 score to be posted. The following day, Muzbeck earned another 9.7 on the balance beam. Even before the score was posted, Muzbeck was mobbed by coach and companion while the fans responded with a standing ovation.

It was quite a scene.

 An equally emotional scene came sults were announced. It was a tight Athens coach Lori Boes, who won all-and when announcer Clem Kolesar informed us the second-place team was Holland, the Freeland contigent went Freeland was expected to win the meet, but that was before three participants were injured on three consecutive days. Despite being understaffed along with an abysmal performance on the balance beam, Freeland stormed back on its next three events, and won the title by .25 over Holland.

An inspirational film could be made out of that story.

· Do you think Freeland, state champs in 1983 and this year, will repeat? Only Lori Stanick, the runnerup to Musbeck in all-around, is a senior. Jamie Neiman, who placed fourth, is a

• The outstate teams have ruled the state championship since 1982. In 1981, North Farmington won the team title, but since then, it's been East Kentwood, Freeland, Grand Rapids West Catholic and Freeland again.

• Trivia: In the last 14 years, only three gymnasts have won the allaround title more than once. Muzbeck is one, who are the other two?

 Best looking uniforms at the meet have to go to Dearborn High School. The team discared its orange and black leotards for a more attractive red, white and blue uniform. Shades of Mary Lou and the girls.

Best looking team at the meet? No question. Troy High.

• Trivia Answer: Jodi Thompson of Friday night when the official team re- East Kentwood (1980-1982) and Troy race between Freeland and Holland, around titles for Troy High in 1974 and

1977. You're excused if you forgot Boes' accomplishments. That was ages

· With such competitors as Bonnie Boaggiano, Susanne Enciso, Laura Sienkiewicz, Lana Horowitz, Ta Scala and Lori Stanick on hand during St. Pa-trick's Weekend, it certainly was a great day for the Irish.

Thankfully, North Farmington's Elloon Murtaugh was there!

 I liked the order of competition. Troy followed Barrie Muzbeck. A tough act to follow, but at least the Colts had a captive audience

 Praise has to go to Troy's Sandy
 Smith and Clem Kolesar — the meet managers - and everyone who played a role in running the event. All went smoothly and ahead of schedule.

Hope you have it again next year.

Special financing can help parents, children

finances and you

The name of this game is Grannie Mae, which refers to a mortgage plan from a non-governmental enterprise called Golden Retirement Annuity Mortgage Association.

If you have aging parents who don't have much cash income, but who possess considerable equity in the house they own, the plan might help them and the property of the plan with some tax breaks as provide you with some tax breaks as

The Grannie Mae arrangement calls for the parents to sell their house to their child. Assuming that's you, you then lease back the house to your parents for their lifetimes in return for a fair-market rent.

HOW IT WORKS

Suppose your parents, each 68, live on Social Security and retirement income and own a house worth $100,000 that was bought 30 years ago for

You buy the house for $30,000 and an $30,000, 30-year mortgage at 14 percent. The mortgage comes from the a bank or a thrift institution, and the money buys an annuity that gives your parents about $1,060 a month.

They pay you rent of $600 a month.

leaving a saving of $450 monthly, or $5,400 a year, on the deal.

Here is how you benefit from this deal: First, you can deduct the interest payments you make on the mortgage loan. You also can write off the property taxes and insurance costs amounts that your parents have been paying, but now retain to boost their annual cash flow by perhaps several thousand dollars. And, because the house is now a rental unit, you get to depreciate it.

In the example, your first-year pay-ments for the mortgage, insurance, and property taxes would total about $12,300. Your parent's rental payments would total about $12,300.

Sid Mittra Your parent's rental payments would give you $6,600 in income, leaving you with net expenses of $3,700. But your depreciation write-off of $5,000, along with your deductions for taxes, insurance, and mortgage interest, produced a loss for tax annual control of $15,400.

a loss for tax purposes of $19,490.

If you are in the $5.5-percent tax bracket (federal, state and local taxes combined), you save more than $5,800 in taxes - which covers the rest of your out-of-pocket expense and leaves an after-tax cash flow of about $100.

HOW YOUR PARENTS BENEFIT

Your parents unlock the equity in their house and boost their monthly in-come, while continuing to live in familiar surroundings. Should one spouse die, the survivor receives the full annu-

You benefit from the appreciation of the property until you sell it. Also, your parents avoid estate taxes by transferring the house while they are alive.

It is important to note that the program is economically feasible only if your folks can use the one-time, taxfree capital gains benefit on this sale - meaning they must have lived in the house three out of the last five years and be older than 55.

THEN THERE IS DADDY MAC

If you are the parent and would like to help your youngsters, you might consider Daddy Mac. This arrangement lets you help your youngster buy a first

Again, your tax breaks come from turning the place into rental property. And because you put up the bulk of the downpayment — say, 75 percent — you are allocated that percentage of the depreciation write-off and get a corresponding share of the home's appreciation.

Ownership costs are split 50-50 by both purchasers, but the younger owner pays you a fair-market rent for the prorated share of the house.

You get tax deductions, and your youngster gets to live in a home for roughly two-thirds the conventional

Before you get too excited, keep in mind that these kinds of unorthodox arrangements can carry some unusual

For example, awkward tenant-vs.landlord disputes can arise. Also, as tax benefits dwindle in later years of the mortgage, you could end up with a negative cash flow. And, since you will be depreciating the rental property, eventual sale of the house could leave you with a six-able capital gain tax become deprecia-

"If you want to sell American goods to Japan," advises Sam Kusumoto, president of Minolta Corp., "get to know the people. U.S. firms that learn all they can about overseas markets, prior to entering them, generally are more successful than those that do Minolta, Kusumoto notes, entered the plain-paper copier market in the U.S. in 1978. "Imagine coming to America - the home of Xerox - to sell photocopiers!" Kusumoto says.

"But by last year, Minolta had grown to become fourth in the nation in copier placements."

Patience. Kusumot adds, is an essential ingredient for business success.

The answer to America's trade imbalance, he says, does not lie in restricting Japanese imports, but in greatly expanding American exports. U.S. firms that adapt American-made products to foreign markets will see their

It's Oscar time:

But some classic films have been ignored in past

FOR MY MONEY, the public prints and scandal sheets can prepare two headlines for the day after Monday's Academy Awards. One would read "Killing Fields' Sweeps Oscars" and the other proclaim "FRAUD AT POLLS"

In other words, I think "The Killing Fields" deserves all the Oscars it gets. But, film buffs, don't be surprised if it comes up empty-handed.

And don't be upset if your favorite film and performers don't win, because Oscar's winners and losers are quickly

Case in point: You may recognise the headline "FRAUD AT POLLS!" It's the one publisher Charles Kane's Inquirer ran when he lost his bid for governor in "Citizen Kane." If you knew that, you also knew that "Citizen Kane," widely considered one of the finest films ever made, didn't win a best picture Oscar. It lost in 1941 to "How Green Was My Valley" — a nice, sentimental picture (with an underlying patriotic theme) that came along at just the right time. But it's no "Citizen Kane."

What does it matter, though, that Or-son Welles' "Citizen Kane" lost? It wasn't the first or last upset in Oscar

NAME THE best picture of 1976. Was it "All the President's Men," "Bound for Glory," "Network,"
"Rocky" or "Taxi Driver"? Believe it or not, "Rocky" knocked out the competition that year. Why? Maybe because it was the bicentennial year and Oscar voters, like Rocky Balboa, believed America is the land of opportu-

But for Oscar's sake! We know now that even "Rocky III" was better than "Rocky" and that four superior films genuine contenders - took a beating that bicentennial year.

Here's another puzzler. What do "The Godfather Part II" and "The Towering Inferno" have in common?

Time's up. The answer is they were both nominated for best picture Occars in 1974. Fortune smiled this time and, rightly so, Francis Ford Coppola's ex-ceptional "The Godfather Part II" won and "The Towering Inferno" was rele-gated to the wastelands of TV.

THEY SAY 1964 was a bad year for best actors. I don't know. F. Murray Abrahams and Tom Hulce from "Amadeus" offer a nice contrast to Sam Waterston of "The Killing Fields" and Waterston of "The Killing Fields" and Albert Finney of "Under the Volcano." How Jeff Bridges of "Starman" got a best actor bid, though, is anybody's guess, especially when you consider Victor Banerjee of "A Passage to India," Howard E. Rollins Jr. of "A Soldier's Story" and Robin Williams of "Moscow on the Hudson" were overlooked.

For an all-time competitive low, however, there can be no comparison to the best actress nominess of 1975. That year saw Isabelle Adjani ("The Story of Adele H."), Ann-Margret ("Tommy"), Louise Fletcher ("One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest"), Glenda Jackson ("Hedda") and Carol Kane ("Hester Street") in the running.

Fletcher won and made possible a sweep of major Oscars by "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest." But wasn't her performance really a supporting one compared to Jack Nicholson's? Of course it was. But Occar voters were intent on lionizing "Cuckoo's Nest" - a genuinely good film - making it the first picture since Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life" (1934) to sweep Oscars for best picture, director, actor and ac-

WHATEVER became of Louise

'Citizen Kane,' widely considered one of the finest films ever made, didn't win a best picture Oscar.

Fletcher, by the way? (I last saw her in a decidedly supporting role opposite Paul LeMat and Nancy Allen in the amusing and underrated "Strange In-vaders" last year.)

There's a popular Oscar myth that winning the award brings fame and fortune

You might ask Fletcher about that; or Maximilian Schell and Paul Scofield, the best actors of 1961 and 1966, if you can find them; or Michael Cimino, the best director of 1978 for "The Deer Hunter," who just two years later directed one of the most widely and resoundingly panned films of all time, 'Heaven's Gate."

Beatrice Straight was the best supporting actress of 1976. Does anyone remember her, or even recall the part she played in "Network," for which she won the Oscar?

On the other hand, not winning Os-cars never hurt the careers of Alfred Hitchcock, Cary Grant, Errol Flynn, Peter O'Toole, Paul Newman, Barbara Stanwyck or Deborah Kerr. And "Citi-sen Kane," "It's a Wonderful Life," "Shane," "To Kill a Mockingbird," "Bonnie and Clyde," "Jaws" and numerous other all-time favorites didn't drop out of sight when they lost out in the Oscar sweepstakes.

SO, YOU SEE, it doesn't matter who wins this year, although we all have

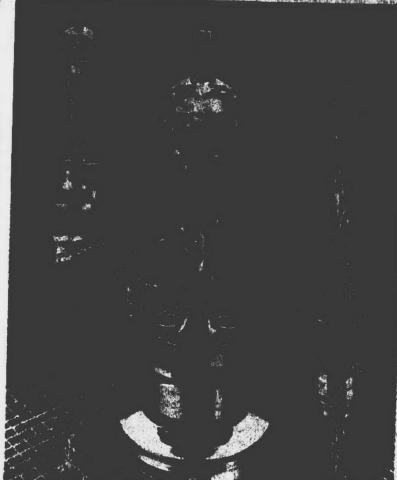

What is important is that the Oscars vie for an Emmy. In other words, let's hope this year's Occar show is more memorable than previous Oscar recipi-ents and non-recipients.

Let's hope someone like Bette Midler ad libs some life into the usually banal banter written for Oscar presenters. Or that someone like Sasheen Littlefeather or Vanessa Redgrave makes an incredibly driveling, namby-pamby political statement when picking up an Os-

A flasher would be nice, like the one who streaked David Niven about 10

Maybe a protest by disgruntled farmers would be more appropriate. After all, what have they gained from this year's crop of farm films?

Such moments will be remembered much longer than the winners and losers. And I'll be more disappointed if the Occar show stinks than if "The Killing Fields" fails to win a single award.

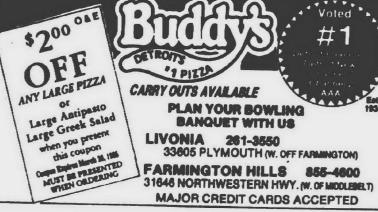

Winning an Oscar — the symbol of the Academy Awards doesn't necessarily mean the movie or the star will be long re-membered. Some losing films have become classics, while the winners, or their stars, have faded from the public's memory. The 57th annual Academy Awards Presentation will be broadcast live from Los Angeles on ABC-TV, Channel 7, beginning at 9 p.m. Mon-infidelity as contrasted with the current generation's mode of hour - the current vogue, that is, of setting up an experimental, see-if-it-works foundation, unbound by the traditional marriage certificate.

IN THIS PLAY neither method proves much of a winner. Howe along with the lowering of the final curtain comes a brief gleam of hope that the traditional knot binding will prevail.

The players render some fine balanced acting. Married couples who cheat on each other, trading partners, are Monica and Sam, played by Elaine Boike and Frank Cosessa, along with Grace and Howard, played by Pat Virga and Hamid Dana. The as-yet-to-be committed couple is Michelle and Allen, played by Shannon McNutt and Michelle Roses.

As a whole, they make a strong com-edy ensemble, conveying the farcical elements with vigor.

different from the Club Med villages in Mexico, for example, where you can spend the whole week and be only slightly tempted to leave the grounds.

EVEN THE rhythm of daily life here is different; there seem to be a lot of places for separate groups to form or for people who want to walk alone through the gardens to the glorious sand beach on the Atlantic side of the island and the docks and beaches on the Nassau or harbor side.

Some things are the same in any Club Med, however. When you take the Club boat from the dock across the harbor, where the cruise ships rise around you in downtown Nassau, you ride for a few minutes past the sallboats to the Club Med dock where the G.O.'s - gentiles organisateurs or gentle organizers - are waiting in their blue and white

They wave you into the village here as they do everywhere in the world, welcoming newcomers with flowers and song, clapping their hands to the sounds of "Hands Up," the Club Med international anthem

And when you walk up the dock to the sundeck where the "old hands" sit in front of the bar, the G.M.'s - gentle members - applaud and cheer as if you were part of the royal family and had just arrived in the colonies.

The approach to Club Med Paradise Island is by boat from Nassau Harbor. Ahead is a complex of former mansions and lush surroundings. It is five Club Med offers packages with direct air from Detroit to either Playa Blanca or Ixtapa in Mexico, but you must go to either New York City or Mi-ami to get a package to Club Med Par-adise Island. After April 13 the total for air transportation and a week on the island is $799 from either New York or Mlami.

Rooms are very simple. They can be locked from the inside but usually not from the outside. This isn't a problem in most of the remote villages where you check your money and charge your bar drinks and boutique purchases. In that case you don't need money in your room. It might be a little more of a problem when you are coming and going to Nassau and nearby casinos, as you will be tempted to do from here.

Snorkelers and windsurfers must be past the beginning stage to be launched from the Atlantic beach.

The three old mansions on the grounds are used primarily for administrative offices, public rooms or eating/drinking/gathering places. In most Club Med villages, the swimming pool is in the main center of activity, but at Paradise Island it forms a second gathering place here in front of Grayleath, the beautiful old house built in 1928 by a wealthy American.

LYING DOWN to Rio is standard fare for many tourists today, but 50 years ago, flying to Rio de Janeiro or anywhere else in Latin America was risky busi-

While fledgling airlines in the United States and Europe struggled with new technology and new air routes, air pioneers in Latin America faced strikingly different challenges: inhospitable terrain, temperature extremes, political turmoil and few ground and radio aids, not to mention a lack of aircraft and spare parts.

But the industry flourished, thanks to some remarkable individuals whose adventuresome spirit and determination laid the framework for modern Latin American airlines.

LOWELL YEREX was one of these pioneers. In 1932, Yerex founded TACA (Transportes Aeros Centro-Ameri canos) in Honduras, with one plane and one route. From this modest beginning, he expanded within a decade to a fleet of more than 50 aircraft and route network serving all of Central America.

"Yerex was the single greatest influence on the development of air transportation in Central America," R.E.G.

Lowell Yerex, a New Zeelander educated in the U.S., was the greatest influence on the develepment of air transportation in Central America.

Davies, curator of air transport at the Smithsonian's National Air and Space Museum in Washington, D.C., says.

"Yerex did more than just fly air-planes," Davies continues. "He was the first to realize the need for a unifying transportation system in Latin Ameri-

Yerex was born in New Zealand in 1896 and educated in the United States. He learned to fly in Canada, where be joined the Royal Flying Corps in 1917. Following World War I, he held a variety of jobs - barnstormer, car salesman, dock worker - until he landed a position as a pllot with the Corporacion de Aeronautica de Transportes (C.A.T.) airline in Mexico

IN THE 1930s, both in the United States and Latin America, the airlines depended primarily on cargo and mail contracts for their business. Aircraft were too slow - and too costly - for a passenger-carrying operation to be in-dependently profitable.

But in Latin America, transporting such items as machinery to gold mines or supplies to agricultural regions was also fraught with danger. Flying across tropical jungles, arid plains and mountain ranges made air travel unusually hazardous. Often there were no settlements, roads or cultivated land for pilots to use as landmarks. Most airlines were run on a shoestring — and spare parts were nearly impossible to obtain. Me-chanics improvised with car frames. tractor fittings and other homemade

When C.A.T. folded in 1931, Yerex took a job flying a prospector from Mexico City to Honduras. In lieu of in the airplane. After completing other flying jobs, again without pay, he soon became sole owner of the aircraft and TACA was born.

YEREX NEXT obtained the government contract to fly mail and cargo from Tegucigalpa, the capital city of Honduras, to provincial points in the country. A freak lincident in 1932 further cemented his stake in the fledgling airline industry.

"Yerex was commissioned to fly reconnaisance over the mountains where there were guerrilla strongholds." Davies explains. "As luck would have it, he was shot in the eye by a stray bullet from a guerrilla fighter and half-blind-

In gratitude for his services, the government offered Yerex a cash reward, but instead he shrewdly requested continued guarantees of the lucrative mail

During the 1930s, TACA expanded into neighboring Guatemala, Nicara-gua, British Honduras (now Belize), Costa Rica and Panama. "Yerex would negotiate with each country," Davies says, "buying up the local airline lock, stock and barrel, including their mail contracts. Before long, TACA became a household word.

Travel show is Sunday

Thirty-five travel industry exhibitors will participate in the AAA Michigan's free Spring Travel Show Sunday, March 24, at the Michigan Inn in Southfield.

"The show will give travelers and potential travelers the opportunity to browse, discuss or sliop for just about any kind of vacation," said Charles R. Lentz, AAA Michigan travel sales and promotions mana-

Represented will be ten cruise lines; seven major airlines; eight major tour operators, representatives from Michigan resorts, a car rental firm, Amtrak and Boblo Island, plus AAA's own tour escorts.

Persons attending also can make travel reservations or have passport

Visitors also may register for a grand prize of a Caribbean cruise for two on the Royal Caribbean Cruise Lines. The show runs from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Michigan Inn, 16400 J.L. Hudson Dr. in the Northland Shopping Center area.

Now is the time to study garden catalogs

By Margo Alpera special writer

When viewed positively, one could say that the Michigan winter provides the gardener with the opportunity to reflect on last summer's garden, to enjoy a new garden book and to dream about next summer's garden while perusing the many catalogs that arrive daily.

My choice for winter reading is "Home Grounds - A Gardener's Miscellany" by Allan Lacy, a regular writer in the Wall Street Journal.

As a source of information on gardening, the Wall Street Journal is hardly a typical garden source. Lacy's book, which I enjoyed, is a collection of articles that have appeared in the Wall Street Journal. It is well written and, surprisingly, uses a rather "down-

As for the catalogs of 1985, the paper is slicker, the photographs more beau-tiful and the printed material is more informative and accurate. Invariably, I come across some variety with which I am not familiar.

THROUGH THE years, when I need to identify or learn more about a plant that is new to me, I pick up the old standby Donald Wyman's "Gardening Encyclopedia." It rarely disappoints me. "The Good Housekeeping Illustrat-ed Encyclopedia of Gardening" in 18 volumes is another reference I find useful in checking unknown species and also for more detailed cultural infor-

Search for the unusual or the new is a characteristic of most serious gardeners. To satisfy this penchant, our local growers offer a much wider selection of new cultivars than they did even five years ago, so one is less inclined to buy from the catalogs.

Of course, buying locally has many advantages over mail ordering. First, the shipping costs, which can be up to 25 percent of the order are saved. Also mail order involves purchasing plants sight unseen. The actual plant may be quite disappointing.

GENERALLY, I have found mail order plants neither as large nor as well established as locally grown ones. Frequently they are too young, sometimes rather puny and unable to withstand the trip and the transplanting.

However, if notified promptly, mail order companies, both large and small, and almost without exception, are happy to replace unsatisfactory merchanding. But the inconvanience of chandise. But the inconvenience of complaining and returning the merchandise is another deterrent to cata- tried other kinds of protection against volved in mail order purchases, there were nevertheless a few plants I couldn't resist. Let me tell you about my choices from the 1985 catalogs.

THE CATALOG sent by Thompson Morgan Seed Co. always tempts me, as it lists many unusual and new annuals and perennials. This year I chose cosmos "Sea Shell."

This variety is described in glowing terms as a pink cosmos whose "petals form fluted shells surrounding the yellow button center." It looks very different from the familiar pink cosmos "Sensation" with its large flat petals.

Cosmos is one of the easiest annuals to grow from seed sown directly in the garden. I'm sure "Sea Shell" will blend well with the many seedlings of "Sensation" which year after year, come up as "volunteers" throughout the garden.

Last year Goldner-Walsh in Pontiac featured seedlings of another new and beautiful cosmos call "Candy Stripe," which I grew. This pink and white striped flower was outstanding and the plants blossomed somewhat earlier than "Sensation." The seeds of "Candy Stripe" are offered by Thompson & Morgan Seed Co. and seedlings will probably be available again at

PROBABLY NO flower photographs more beautifully than the rose, and the catalogs from the rose companies are certainly among the most ap-

I don't even mind the amount of ex-tra care that dahline require. In fact, I rather enjoy staking and tying the large stalks, lifting the tubers each fall, storing and then starting the tubers again in the spring.

growing collection. This year I chose one from Spring Hill Nursery.

"EVELINE" IS an exquisite formal dahlia, which is described as having a four to five-inch white blossom with a tinge of delicate pink on the tine of the petals. I much prefer plants that produce this medium size flower. They seem to be more floriferous than those that produce the dinner plate size flo-wers and the smaller blooms are more graceful in floral arrangements.

So many garden flowers are in round or daisy form that in planning a garden or daisy form that in planning a garden or an arrangement for the house, one tries to include upright spikes of such plants as delphinium or snapdragons for punctuation. Contrast in shape is as important a factor in good design as is the combination of colors.

Delphinium and snapdragon are well known to most gardeners. Liatris, perhaps less well known, is equally desirable as a spike accent. It is one of the longest lasting flowers both in the garden and in floral arrangements.
