Trustees to tackle millage, resignation

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Even though the agenda has but four items Plymouth Township trustees have a big meeting on tap for Tuesday night.

The board normally only meets once a month throughout the summer.

This will be the first board meeting since the defeat of the township's millage proposal and the subsequent resignation of Police Commander Larry Hall. Both items are scheduled for discussion.

At the end of last month, voters turned down the township's request to authorize up to four mills for township operation. The vote was sought in the wake of the expiration of previously voted millage.

Without an increased levy, township officials will be forced to operate on two mills in 1986 ($2 for every $1,000 of state equalized valuation or SEV).

One day after the millage defeat, July 30, Hall resigned as second-in-command of the police department. He returned to his old job as a Southgate police officer and cited several reasons for his departure, including the millage defeat.

TWO FINANCIAL items are on the agenda for Tuesday — allegations of "waste" and "fat" in the budget, and township investments.

Both items, requested by Supervisor Maurice Breen, likely will lead into discussions of the township's current financial status and ability to operate on reduced revenues.

Breen, as required by township charter, must present a 1986 budget to the board by the end of the month. The supervisor said earlier that he is looking for input from the board on where cuts should be made.

That discussion will mesh with a third item, attempting another millage vote. If trustees decide to seek another millage election — despite Breen's recommendation to the contrary — they must move fast.

Some township officials have been talking of attempting another vote — with a reworded ballot — before the 1985 property tax bills go out in December. The 1985 bills generate 1986 revenues.

Clerk Esther Hulsing said the township could place the millage question on a Nov. 5 ballot (anticipated for a library district millage question). Trustees must decide before Oct. 5 because certification of the ballot language requires 30 days.

Fisher case remanded

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Wayne County Circuit Judge Richard Kaufman last week agreed with the attorney defending Charles Fisher, accused of killing his wife, that prosecutors incorrectly suppressed evidence during his preliminary examination in 35th District Court.

Kaufman ordered the case back to the district court for a continuation of the exam and another ruling. No date has been set.

Fisher's wife, Ella Marie Mercado Fisher, 31, died several days after having been suffocated by duct tape wrapped around her head in what at first was thought to be a robbery of their Canton Township home on July 15, 1984.

In early March, after a five-day preliminary examination in 35th District Court, Judge James Garber ruled that enough evidence was presented linking Fisher to his wife's death. Fisher was ordered to stand trial in circuit court on first degree murder charges.

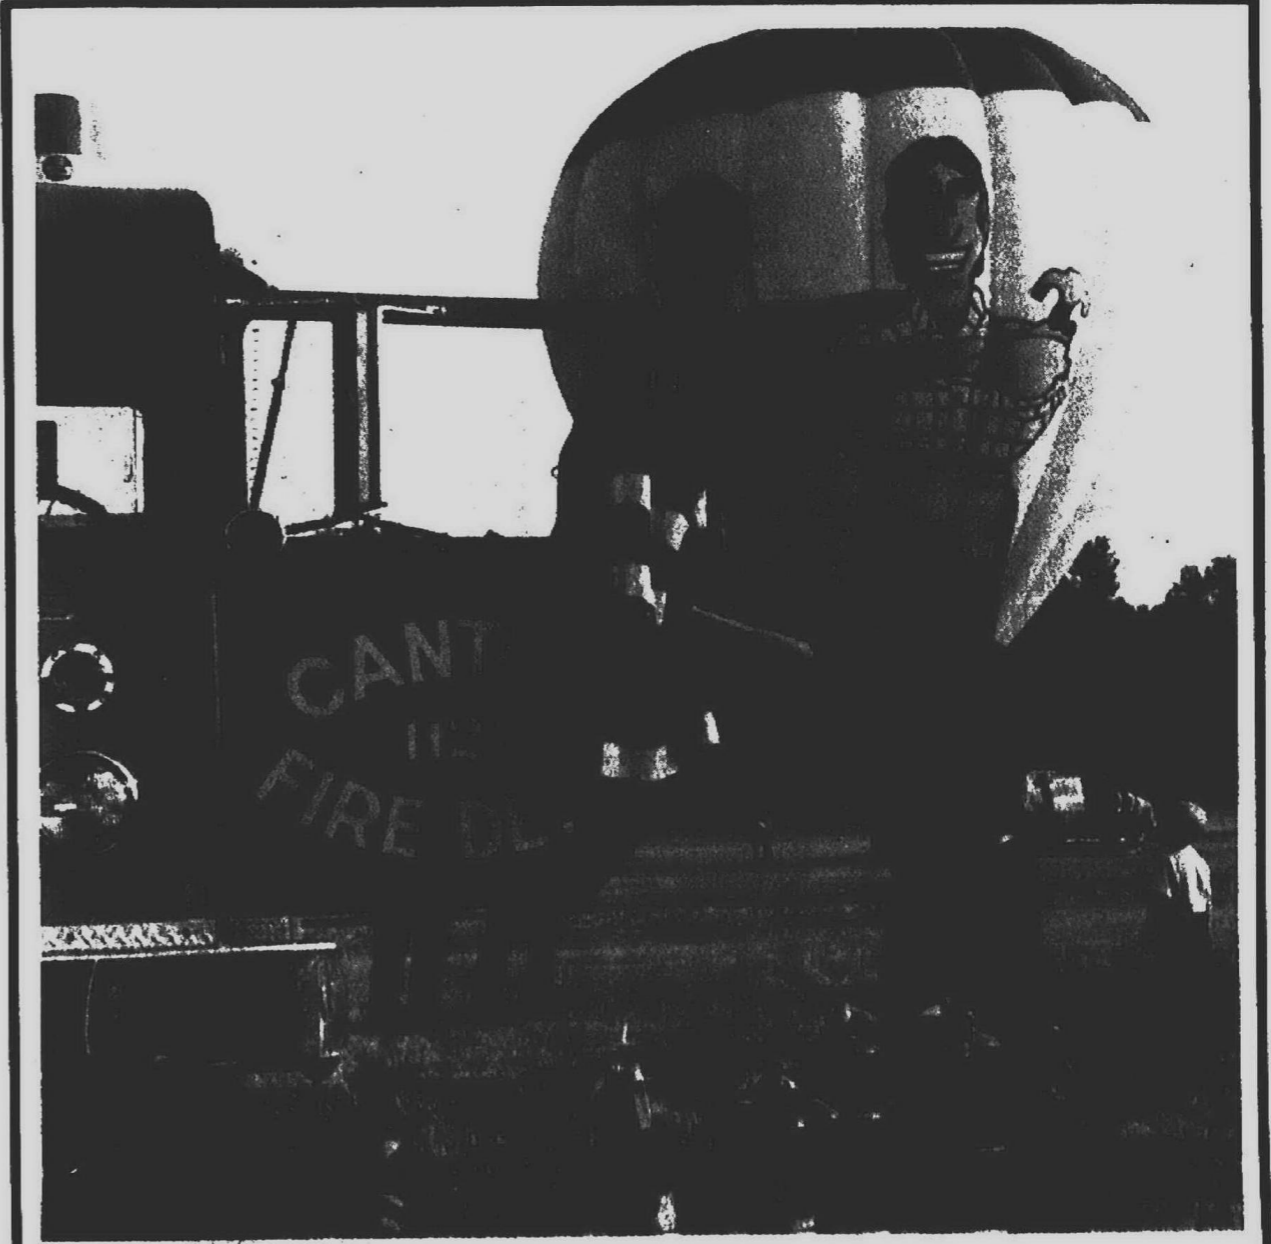

HOWEVER, FISHER'S attorney, Daniel Burruss, said he was incorrectly denied copies of letters written by the victim's father, Manuel Mercado, to the Canton Police Department. The letters were not introduced as evidence at the exam.

During the examination, Burruss declined to question Mercado, who was called to the stand by Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Timothy Kenny and testified at length.

Judge Kaufman decided Burruss should be given the opportunity to question Mercado about the letters at the preliminary examination. It's possible other witnesses will be called to testify in district court, Kenny said.

"With regards to those letters there was a disagreement (between Kenny and Burruss) on whether to turn that material over before the preliminary examination," Kenny said.

City seeks $25,000 crime prevention grant

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

The Plymouth Police Department will attempt to beef up its crime prevention activities with the help of a $25,000 federal grant.

The Criminal Justice Assistance Grant, which would be awarded to the city through the State of Michigan, would require $25,000 in matching funds from the city.

The funds would be used by the police department to intensify its Neighborhood Watch program.

"We feel the need for a bigger program," said Paul Sincok, Plymouth grants coordinator.

The grant funds would double the number of Neighborhood Watch programs in the city, from five to 10.

"We plan to expose all adults and school-age children to crime prevention programs," said Sincok.

The Neighborhood Watch program organizes groups of adjacent city blocks into crime watch areas. Residents of the areas observe their neighbors' houses and report suspicious visitors or activities to the city police.

GRANT FUNDS also could be used to expand the city's existing volunteer auxiliary program, whereby citizens perform some of the routine patrol duties, such as crowd control and house checks.

The grant money, which would be issued to the city for a two-year period, would allow police to train citizen volunteer patrol groups.

One condition for obtaining the funds is that the city police make three multi-media presentations on crime prevention. These could take place on cable television.

Funds would allow the city to conduct home security surveys, whereby police enter homes to make security checks.

Operation Identification, by which police or homeowners etch a driver's license number onto household items, also would be required under the grant terms. Such a program now is in effect in Plymouth.

Plymouth submitted the grant application during the last week in July, according to Sincok.

"Our representatives in Lansing are aware we submitted the application and are making contacts on our behalf," he said.

"We hope for a positive application. We should get some kind of indication within the next 60 days," he said.

THE PLYMOUTH Police Department now has a team specialist system in effect on each of its three shifts. Under the system, each team member Burglars, beware!

Police get quick results after break-ins

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

Plymouth police last week arrested two Plymouth Township men in connection with the attempted break-in of a store and Plymouth Township police arrested a Canton man accused of breaking into the Fiegel school.

Plymouth officers Rick Webster and Tom Zedan were on patrol early Tuesday when they saw two men riding bicycles away from Wellington Ltd., a Plymouth tobacco store.

They saw the glass of the front door broken and chased the pair. The officers caught one man — identified as Michael T. Minton, 17, of Plymouth Township — on Harvey Street, reportedly attempting to flee down the Tonquish Creek walkway.

Police arrested Gary R. Vashon, 18, of Plymouth Township later that day.

PLYMOUTH POLICE asked for warrants against the pair for breaking and entering, but could only get warrants for "entering without the owner's permission," a misdemeanor punishable by 90 days in jail.

Vashon was released on bond, awaiting a pre-trial examination Aug. 29 in 35th District Court.

Minton was also charged with a July 22 break-in of Cook's Pleasures store in Plymouth.

On Thursday, he was arraigned before Magistrate George Wiland on a charge of breaking and entering.

Minton entered a plea of guilty without benefit of an attorney and Wiland entered an innocent plea on his behalf and made arrangements for a court-appointed attorney.

Minton's pre-trial examination has been set for Aug. 19 in 35th District Court. As of late Friday, he was in custody in lieu of $5,000 cash bond.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP police arrested Robert D. Hutslar, 23, of Canton in connection with the break-in of Fiegel School, 39750 Joy Road, Plymouth Township.

He was charged with of breaking and entering with intent to commit a larceny from a building.

Hutslar, who entered a plea of not guilty, faces a pre-trial examination Aug. 19 in 35th District Court.

He was taken to the Wayne County Jail after he was unable to post $10,000 cash bond.

Hutslar told Wiland he had lived in Canton for "about a month," having lived in Nebraska and Georgia prior to that.

According to Plymouth Township Police Chief Carl Berry, there was a witness to the crime instead of a second suspect — as originally reported.

There was no apparent damage done to the school building, except for a broken window through which the suspect was accused of entering the school.

Finance director at ease in center of power

By Teri Banas
staff writer

FRED TODD may not be sitting on top of the world, but the view from his 13th-floor office in downtown Detroit's City-County Building is a long way up for this former small-town civil servant.

With a view of the Detroit River as it flows past Hart Plaza, Todd is not just at the focal point of one of the nation's five largest counties. He is at the center of the power structure of a new, emerging Wayne County government.

Today, the 36-year-old Plymouth Township resident has settled into his role as Wayne County finance director and architect of County Executive William Lucas' fiscal integrity plan.

"I think he needs advice from me and my department heads. He's easy to work for in that regard because he doesn't usually try to second guess you and what we're trying to do. And when he decides, he's committed, and we carry it out."

TODD DISPLAYS no flash or glitter — just a quietly at-ease sense of his responsibilities in directing a 300-person staff and managing a $201 million county budget.

More recently, he has been acquiring a regional reputation as a director of SEMTA, the money-plagued Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority.

"I had a fairly easy job where I was — as the controller and county administrator in Ingham County. They had an operating surplus ($6.8 million); they had money to burn," he said.

"I had good, professional people at the management levels at least two and three people deep. I was ready for a change and thought this would offer some excitement. God knows it has fulfilled every expectation in that regard."

In 1983 Lucas conducted a nationwide search for a fiscal director, sending lobbyist Tom Hoisington, a former Ingham County Commission chair, to approach Todd in the quaint county seat of Mason. Todd also was interviewed by a selection committee, Lucas' chief of staff, Dennis Nystrom, and finally the executive himself.

Lucas hired him 2 1/2 years ago and charged him with eliminating a runaway county deficit projected at $118 million. Todd says that has been brought down to $40 million.

"I KNEW what I was getting into," he continued. "The accounting system was in shambles, the computer system was in deplorable condition. Some of the staff people were not trained in what had to be done. It really lacked the organization."

After taking the job, Todd hired some new administrators for the seven divisions he oversees. He "raided" his previous employer, Ingham County, and brought along three division heads to oversee accounting, budget and grants. He also hired a risk manager from the city of Battle Creek and a purchasing director from Dearborn.

"I guess I've been known to be a hired gun; I guess some people would say. But it doesn't bother me."

"BILL LUCAS gives me a free rein on what I want to do, need to do, and I coordinate that with him, usually on a weekly basis. Sometimes I might not see him for two weeks, but we talk. And if there's a pressing problem, he clears his schedule."

As a numbers man, Todd is considered more a fiscal technician than a policymaker, however. For example, the executive made the decision to close Wayne County General Hospital prior to Todd's arrival in March 1983. Todd says it needed to be done because the hospital was soaking up an $18 million annual subsidy.

More recently, Lucas announced plans to subcontract medical service currently performed by county employees at the Wayne County Jail. Todd said he first looked at those expenses in 1983 and believed they were high. Last spring he and audit director Ron Chapman discussed the costs again and Chapman recommended that the work be contracted out.

"THE COUNTY'S labor costs are still higher than we'd like them to be," he said. "Quite frankly there are times it's advantageous to (contract out). . . . You have to change with the times, and contracting is probably the in thing to do right now."

The crux of Wayne County's problem lies in a declining property tax base, Todd said. And because of inflation and rising costs, the county is left to respond by cutting expenses.

To reduce the deficit, he said, they trimmed employee labor costs and retirement costs. But at the top of the list of things that brought the deficit in line was restructuring the county's debts to the state of Michigan.

TODD'S PROFESSIONAL experience started in the private sector.

After earning a master's degree in business administration from Indiana Northern University in 1973, Todd worked for a few years at three major U.S. corporations, including Gulf & Western as an auditor, Freuhauf in New York as an operations review analyst and Citron Oil in Romulus as a control auditor.

He then went into government — finance director and treasurer of Novi and assistant finance director of Madison Heights.

He never joined a political party. He says his political views are that "big government is bad government" and government is responsive when it keeps "budgets low and organizations tight."

A numbers man down the line, Todd assesses his career development by two-year and five-year plans. His career plan is organized.

"By the time I was 30 I wanted to be an administrator or executive in charge of a company or unit of government. I was 29 when I moved to Ingham County and assumed the leadership of the fifth largest county in the state. From there, it was just a larger unit of government," he said.

BILL SWEET, chairman of the Ingham County Board, said Todd brought them into "good shape" in his five years there.

"He pointed out problems we didn't know we had and brought us up-to-date in our computer systems," Sweet said. "He helped us in some troubled times like he's helping Wayne County through some troubled times."

"But I think he's had more success with us than he will with Wayne County," Sweet added with a laugh.

Nystrom considers Todd one of the two or three most important figures in the Lucas administration and praises his "high energy level."

Unlike Nystrom, known for his abrasiveness, the soft-spoken Todd has drawn little controversy. Todd has earned respect from Lucas, whom he refers to as "the boss." Last April, Lucas appointed him a suburban representative to the troubled Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA), where his fiscal background is well regarded.

"It's something we've sorely needed in the past three years while I've been on the board," said SEMTA colleague JoAnn Sorenson, an Oakland County representative from Farmington Hills. "That's his value to us — being able to read budgets and know how different parts of each relate to each other."

ART EMANUELE/staff photographer

Fred Todd has an interest in rescuing and restoring old furniture as well as county finances. He sits in a valuable antique chair, one of six rescued from Wayne's Old County Courthouse, and now in his office. He says the chairs are valued at several thousand dollars each.

Child's Health Fair offers free check-ups

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

As Mary Poppins used to say, "A spoonful of sugar helps the medicine go down," and that's what the organizers of the Child's Health Fair will try to provide Wednesday — a sugar-coated pill.

The Health Fair will turn the normally serious business of getting a medical examination into fun for kids. And there's a treat for parents, too, because the whole thing is free.

The fair, sponsored by Oakwood Hospital Canton Medical Center and Plymouth-Canton Community Education, will be held in the Starkweather Community Education Center, 550 N. Holbrook Street, Wednesday.

The single-day event, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., will provide a little entertainment along with such business as hearing, vision and speech tests; blood pressure readings; height and weight measurements; burn awareness (11 a.m. to 4 p.m.); dental screening; immunization clinic (1:30-3:30 p.m.); and physician referrals for children 2½ to 12.

There also will be short lectures on child identification programs, Reye's Syndrome, and fever control.

Arrangements will be made for families whose children need follow-up medical care but are unable to pay.

AREA BUSINESSES, in addition to Oakwood Center and Community Education, have donated the fun part of the fair.

The Penn Theatre is giving away free passes; the Skatin' Station, free passes; the Plymouth-Canton School of Hair, free and discounted haircuts; Meijer Thrifty Acres, stuffed bears; K-mart, doctor's kits; and McDonald's of Canton is providing free French fries.

Children two to 12 can pick up coloring book pages at the Observer office in Plymouth. The pages can be entered in the Health Fair Coloring Contest by tomorrow at the Canton McDonald's, Oakwood Center or Starkweather Center.

Winners will receive stuffed Doctor Bears.

All the services provided at the fair will be donated by physicians, nurses, social workers and businessmen.

The fair also will include an Emergency Medical Service vehicle, a tour of the Plymouth Fire Department; the Denver Developmental Test for Motor Skills (ages 2-6); fingerprinting; pulmonary tests (lung capacity, asthma and allergies); scoliosis test (lateral curvature of the spine); and free handout of pertinent literature.

Millage talk on tap

The investment item most likely is linked to the recent audit report from Plante and Moran. In the auditor's recommendation letter, it is suggested trustees review the township's current investment practice.

During their presentation to the board, the auditors noted higher rates of return could be obtained if the township utilized some of the investment options available in today's financial market.

Breen said the auditors would be attending tomorrow night's meeting and he expected trustees to be prepared to "fully discuss" the township's investment policy.

TRUSTEES ALSO will consider a contract for hiring a police administrator, police officer to replace Hall.

Breen and Police Chief Carl Berry refused comment on the item last week, saying board members hadn't received the information. Back-up information for the contract wasn't included in advance agenda packets.

Although Breen and Berry wouldn't comment, a likely candidate is township resident Marvin (Chip) Snyder.

Snyder served on the "blue-ribbon" committee which studied law enforcement in Plymouth Township last year and is the former chief of police in Milan.

Snyder's last day of work in Milan was Friday, according to a member of the Milan police department. He couldn't be reached for comment Friday.

Since Hall announced his resignation, no one has filled the $24,500-a-year post of second-in-command. Hall was primarily in charge of the department's road operations.

Tomorrow night's meeting starts at 7:30 in the meeting room at Township Hall, the corner of Mill Street and Ann Arbor Road.

Dogs have their day at Hilton

By Dennis Coffman

What's it like to have 400 English setters in one place at the same time?

Plymouth and Canton area residents can find out, beginning Thursday, when the English Setters Association of America holds its annual meeting at the Plymouth Hilton.

The setters will arrive in Plymouth from across the United States and Canada for the association show, which is hosted by the Michigammi English Setter Club.

The Michigammi club has 28 members from midwestern states and is part of the national organization.

Last year, the association held its national show in Los Angeles. Next year, the association plans to meet in Washington, D.C.

At least one Plymouth area resident has entered a dog in the show. She is Karen Chipman of Plymouth Township.

THE MICHIGAMMI English Setter Club boasts a two-time winner of the national show. She is Marge O'Connell of Livonia, who has been breeding setters for 50 years.

"Setters are somewhat below the middle of the scale in popularity," said O'Connell. "They are really small in number."

O'Connell, who is vice president of the association, has won national specialties with setters named "Hidden Lanes Benchmark" and "Hidden Lanes Merry Max."

Harvey Wooring, association president from Birmingham, also has a winner in his 10-year-old setter.

"These are bench-type dogs," said Chipman. "But there is a class for field-type dogs, too."

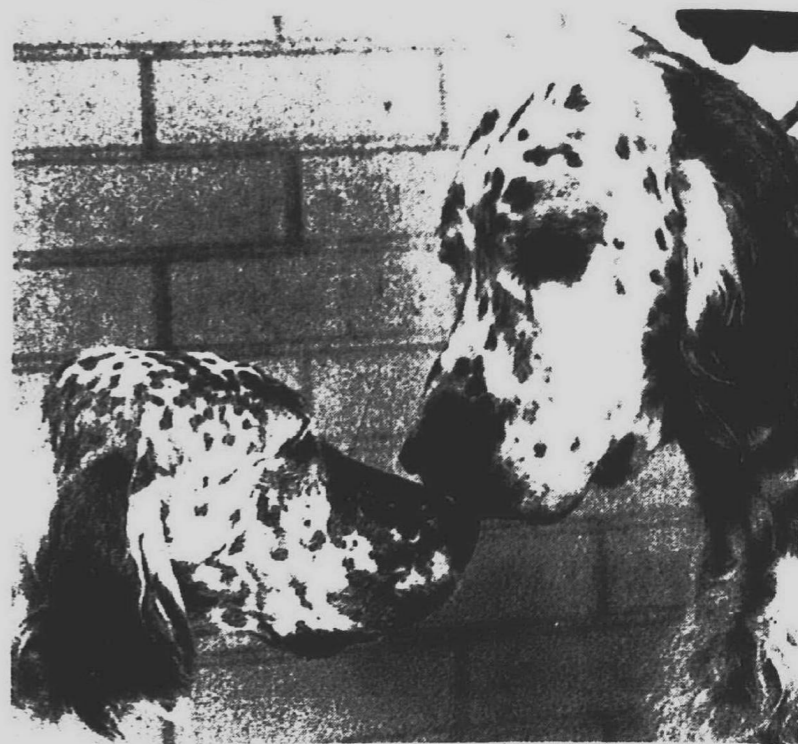

Setters are multipurpose dogs and have been used in field hunting, according to Chipman.

The association has booked 515 rooms at the Plymouth Hilton for the three days of the event — Thursday and Friday. The Michigammi club will have its own show on Saturday.

The association will hold its show and judging in the hotel's main ballroom. Dog lovers from Plymouth and Canton can attend the show free.

Show hours are 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Competition will include obedience judging and junior handling.

provides an area of expertise to the department.

"We'd like to have a crime prevention specialist on each shift," said Sincock. "We'd like to get the public involved."

Sincock said the police department hopes to be a leader in offering citizen involvement programs and providing information about the programs to other police departments.

For example, the city now provides radar certification, which is available to other departments. Instructors in the Plymouth Police Department provide certification training for a fee.

"This is one of the things we can share with surrounding police departments and maybe they can offer something to us," said Sincock.

"The Plymouth Police Department can be the example. That's the kind of thing we want."

THE PROSECUTING attorney said the letters were given to Burress after the preliminary examination.

Burress said: "There's never a victory when I find out that the prosecutor is suppressing evidence. I was very disappointed that they had evidence that was not turned over. They were in the possession of the police and prosecutor at the time."

Fisher, who has been free on $250,000 bond and living in Missouri with his family, was in circuit court in Detroit Thursday.

"He's doing fine other than the fact that he is anxious to have this matter disposed of," Burress said.

At Kinder-Care Learning Centers, we know that the best, the brightest futures begin early, with careful planning and loving support. And we'd like to show you how—by giving your child a free week at Kinder-Care.

Brighter futures begin every day at Kinder-Care. Kinder-Care provides children with a safe, secure and loving environment where children can grow. Our staff, all trained professionals, have just one responsibility all day long—to care for the children and meet their needs—from a good hot lunch each day to individual attention and support.

Kinder-Care's unique "Learning Ladder" helps prepare your child for a brighter future. Whether your child is as young as 6 weeks, as eager as a five-year-old preschooler, or as high-spirited as a youngster in grade school, Kinder-Care provides a learning program that allows for each child's potential, needs, and readiness.

The results have been rewarding. In the Metropolitan Readiness Test, a nationwide exam that measures how well-prepared a child is for the first grade, Kinder-Care children scored higher than the national average.

Give your child an early start—come in to Kinder-Care today.

The best way to learn more about Kinder-Care is to visit us. When you come in, be sure to bring the coupon at right. It entitles your child to a free week at Kinder-Care.

There's something you can always count on from Michigan Bell:

Good service from good people.

If working for Michigan Bell for 25 years has taught me anything, it's that customer service comes first. And lately, since so much has changed in the telephone industry, Michigan Bell is naturally concerned that you are given every opportunity to learn about what's going on. That's where I come in. I'm Marcia Buhl, and part of my job as a Michigan Bell Corporate Affairs Manager involves making sure Michigan Bell customers know how and where to get answers to phone service questions.

One good place to call is the Let's Talk Center. It's staffed by Michigan Bell people specially trained to answer almost any general question about phone service. The toll-free number for the Center is 1 800 555-5000.

And for specific problems, there are Michigan Bell people to call. For example, if you have a repair problem with your residence phone service, you should call 221-2121; if the problem is with business phone service, the number is 221-3131; if the problem is with a public telephone, call 221-5151.

Another convenient source of information that shouldn't be overlooked is the Customer Guide section in the front of your Michigan Bell White Pages telephone directory. It's full of phone numbers and helpful information on who to call for what. One of the numbers you'll find there is also on your monthly phone bill. It's the number of your Michigan Bell business office. That's where you get in touch with a service representative who can help you with specific questions about your phone service, or your bill.

I hope you'll find these suggestions helpful in knowing how and where to get answers. Even though I can't answer your questions on an individual basis, if you belong to a community or service group in the area and would like me to come out and address your group, please let me know. The number to call to schedule a talk is (313) 523-7755.

After all, helping people learn about their phone service is what I, and a lot of other Michigan Bell people, do every day.

School board wouldn't hire married women in 1930s

(Part 16)

The Plymouth school board's action in opposing Sunday movies in 1922 was one of only a few occasions when it took a public stand on political issues of a non-educational nature.

More typical was its attitude seven years earlier, in 1915, when it rejected a motion which would have favored abolition of saloons in the village.

On another political matter, however — the rights of married teachers — the board was unequivocal: a married woman's place was in the home, not behind a desk.

The rights of women in general had surfaced as early as 1896 at an annual meeting when a motion was made that women be permitted to vote in the school election whether their husbands voted or not. The motion was laid on the table and is not mentioned again in the minutes.

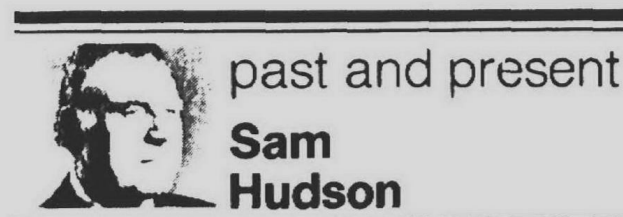

George A. Smith, superintendent of schools here from 1918 to 1945, took a lot of heat from teachers for his paternalistic attitude and his opposition to hiring married women.

It would appear, from a reading of the minutes, however, that Smith was merely carrying out board orders. On Jan. 4, 1928, for example, it was board member (and Daisy president) Charles H. Bennett who moved that "no more married lady teachers are to be hired from now on."

All future contracts were to contain a clause indicating that marriage during the term would make the teacher's contract void. Bennett's motion was carried with the provision the ruling was not to affect the married teachers already employed.

TWO YEARS later, probably under teacher pressure, the board gave a little when it passed another motion. This one, carried on May 19, 1930, read: "When a teacher has taught successfully in our school system for a period of one year, upon recommendation of the superintendent she may marry and past and present

continue to teach in the public schools provided she makes her home in District No. One, Fractional, and employs sufficient help in her home so that her duties outside of the school will not interfere with her school work."

The part about employing help in the home, of course, can be seen as an attempt to meddle in a person's private life but it also can be interpreted as the board's recognition that housework and rearing of children are in themselves quite a drain on a woman's physical and mental energy.

Whichever of these thoughts was in the minds of the board members at the time we never shall know.

A year later, when Miss Georgia Wiltse wrote the board (on May 13, 1931) stating that she wished to marry in June and requested permission to continue teaching, the board apparently regretted its motion in 1930.

The minutes indicated the 1930 motion was immediately rescinded but give no indication of the reply given to Miss Wiltse.

WHY IT was necessary to reiterate his point is not clear but on March 23, 1932, Bennett again moved that, commencing September of that year, no married woman was to be employed as a teacher or nurse in the Plymouth

School System, and that whenever a woman teacher married her contract was to be cancelled.

The motion was carried, with Bennett, Russell Roe and James Gallimore voting yes, and Herald Hammill and Claude Buzzard voting no.

At the same meeting, in what appears to be either a contradiction or a sop to the teachers, it was moved and carried that when hiring substitute teachers the superintendent was to hire married women who had served the system as teachers.

Perhaps Superintendent Smith had pointed out there were very few single women available as substitutes but plenty of married ones.

That the board's position on the hiring of married teachers was not without opposition in the community was demonstrated on April 13, 1932, when a petition was received from 100 parents asking that Mrs. Root be reinstated as a teacher.

The board discussed the petition, and the matter of hiring married teachers, but no action was taken.

While preoccupied with this problem in the late 1920s and early 30s, the board also was concerned with the health of those attending the local schools. An entry in the minutes on Dec. 1, 1926, shows that Dr. Robert E. Cooper billed the board $334 for administering antitoxin to the system's school children.

Dr. Charles Westover, who remembers Dr. Cooper as a fellow Rotarian, says the serum was given to fight off an epidemic of diphtheria.

Five years later, on Sept. 14, 1931, during a period when the U.S. was experiencing a high incidence of infantile paralysis and there was an epidemic of the disease in Detroit and elsewhere in Michigan, the board closed all Plymouth schools for a week.

On receipt of a petition from concerned parents, the period was later extended to Sept. 28.

Strike settlement leaves many unanswered questions

Well, the baseball strike is ended — thank goodness.

But the settlement, dealing in millions of dollars, has left a multitude of questions for the fans who actually pay the bill.

During the negotiations it was reported that the average salary of the major league players was more than $300,000 a year. But if that is so, then the fans ask who is the highest paid and who is the lowest among the 640 players under contract.

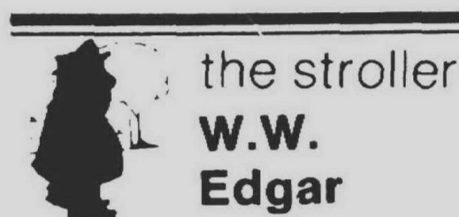

Another question has to do with the report that many of these contracts have deferred payments, some going into the next century.

If that is so, what about the yearly income tax? Is it paid on the actual salary or on the reduced deferred payment?

And suppose any of the teams go bankrupt. What happens to the deferred payment of salary then? Is it the players' gamble, or is there some legal angle attached so that the player is assured of his money?

ANOTHER QUESTION has to do with the rise in the TV money that is set aside for the players' pensions.

If the reports are correct, it is said that the TV money has been raised by $33 million a year. Will that boost the pensions? If so by how much?

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

This question arose the other day when it was reported in the daily prints that Hank Greenberg, the one-time Tiger first baseman who retired in 1947, now draws $800 a month. Will these pensions be raised?

Another question has to do with the practice that a young player cannot go into arbitration for three years instead of two.

Does that mean that if he shows real promise, he cannot get a raise until he has played three years on the same club?

When this goes into effect, the fans are asking if it is right to make a player wait three years for a raise. That doesn't happen in everyday work, no matter where you work.

So, why should a young player have to wait?

WHEN ALL these questions are raised, The Stroller's thoughts go back to Dick Wakefield's case with the Tigers.

A frequent visitor to Plymouth and the surrounding area, he was the first bonus baby in the major leagues.

When he was a rising young star on the baseball team at the University of Michigan and the Tigers were in need of players, the late Walter Briggs, then owner of the Tigers, gave the command, "Go get him, no matter what it costs."

When a deal finally was made, Wakefield was given a bonus of $52,000 for signing.

Even today in his leisure moments, he often smiles and says, "They gave me the 52 grand but I don't know what for."

Yes, this baseball is a funny business and the fans have a good reason to ask some of these questions.

And let's hope the Tigers' dream of winning the pennant again doesn't turn out to be a nightmare.

MIGRAINE
Also called sick headache, a typical migraine attack begins with a dull throbbing ache in one area of the head and progresses to a piercing pain. These torturous attacks may be preceded by a change in the field of vision — a flickering before the eyes, flashes of light or a partial blocking of the vision. They are sometimes accompanied by nausea or vomiting. They are sometimes relieved by aspirin. Their duration is from 2 to 48 hours.

Balconi, Barr get building AD posts

When Paul Cummings became athletic director of the Plymouth-Canton Community School District in July he said he would appoint two assistants, one in each high school.

Those appointments have been made.

Salem track coach Gary Balconi and Canton football coach Richard Barr have been named to the newly-created position of faculty athletic manager.

"We had some excellent applications for these positions," Cummings said. "I feel the best possible person for the job has been selected at both schools. Each of these men has excellent rapport with students and staff and the community at large. I believe they will be a real asset to the Plymouth-Canton total athletic program."

BALCONI AND Barr will schedule and supervise athletic facilities, supervise the cheerleading and pom-pom program, coordinate athletic awards and banquets, work as liaison to parents and booster groups, represent the athletic department and faculty in administrative functions, process equipment and supply orders, maintain records of athletic teams and coordinate maintenance of athletic facilities.

Both will be given two release periods during the normal school day to perform these duties.

Cummings said that Balconi and Barr will continue to coach.

"We realize this is asking a lot of them, but we also recognize they have a great deal to contribute to the athletic program in our district," Cummings said.

Barr and Balconi have been with the district since 1964 and both hold master's degrees, Balconi in administration and Barr in physical education.

Mickey Madsen, a former All-Area performer at Plymouth Salem, slugged his Adray Appliance team into the AAABA regional finals.

Biding time Jurek eyes spot in EMU lineup

By Chris McCosky staff writer

Maybe Vince Enright ought to seek out Scott Jurek this fall when the two former Observerland standouts gather for football practice at Eastern Michigan University.

When Enright, the All-Area quarterback from Farmington Harrison, gets to EMU this fall, there could be five quarterbacks ahead of him.

There's Robert Gordon, who started every game for the Hurons last year, and Ron Adams, who was impressive in relief roles last year. Also, Steve Coulter is returning after sitting out as a red-shirt last year. He was the Huron quarterback in 1982 and 1983.

the freshman quarterback, the Huron hierarchy, namely head coach Jim Harkema, is optimistic about the futures of both Don Vesling, a baseball star at EMU who was also a highly touted quarterback, and Tom Sullivan, another freshman.

THE POSITION switch proved to be a good move for Jurek. Although he was eventually red-shirted, he was listed on the EMU depth-charts among the second-unit linebackers late last season.

SULLIVAN WAS one of the brightest stars at last weekend's Michigan High School East-West All-Star game at Spartan Stadium Aug. 3. He led the West to victory by completing 8-of-15 passes for 172 yards and a touchdown.

"I saw what I had seen in the films," Harkema said about Sullivan. "The young man has tremendous instincts for the game of football."

Enright was at Spartan Stadium and saw Sullivan's performance.

"As soon as I got home, I threw for two hours and I have been throwing every day since," Enright said. "In fact, I'm going out to throw right now."

Scott Jurek has felt the anxiety Enright is now feeling.

Jurek, bigger and stronger than when last seen on the Centennial Educational Park gridiron, figures highly in Harkema's plans for the upcoming season.

"Well, we think he had just one great spring," Harkema said. "Right now, I'd have to say he's our second-string inside linebacker. We're very high on Scotty. He has good instincts for a linebacker. He has to really get at it for us this fall."

"I can't tell you he's going to blossom this year like he thinks he will, or like his fans hope, but we expect him to play a key role for us."

Said Jurek: "Last year was a little frustrating. It's tough to go to practice when you know that you weren't going to play in the game. But I knew coming in that very few freshmen play for Harkema. He really likes to red-shirt. The year before, something like 18 of 19 freshmen were red-shirted."

Jurek, an all-state, All-Area performer at Plymouth Salem in 1983, was one of Harkema's top recruits last year. Jurek came to fall camp with high expectations. He saw himself as EMU's fullback.

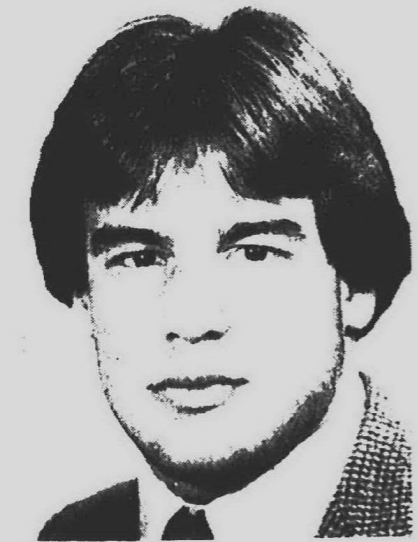

When he got to camp, there were five fullbacks ahead of him. One week into camp and Jurek was a linebacker.

"Vince is faced with the exact situation I was faced with last year," Jurek said from the Weston Hotel in Toronto where he was vacationing last week. "I came in and I was running like a fourth-string fullback. I thought I was good enough to play fullback there, but after a week I could tell I was going nowhere."

Indeed, very few freshmen come to college expecting to start immediately. Certainly Jurek had no such delusions last year, nor does Enright this year.

"I guess I felt all along that I would be red-shirted this year," though Harkema hasn't yet indicated that, Enright said. "I wasn't going in thinking I would play. I'm just going in and try to learn as much as I can."

New Orleans 9 ruins Detroit's tourney bid

By Brad Emons staff writer

Spectators at Livonia's Ford Field got a slight taste of jazz and Cajun last week as defending national champion New Orleans captured the All-American Amateur Baseball Association (AAABA) regional tournament with a 13-10 victory Friday evening over Detroit Adray Appliance.

ger Bob Atkins. "We enjoyed playing them. They're not the biggest kids physically, but they can play the game."

New Orleans was sparked by tournament MVP Gary Desjardins, a shortstop who showed his versatility by going behind the plate for the final two games after starting catcher Leonard Webster pulled himself out of the lineup with a bad finger.

Desjardins, who will be a sophomore this fall at Tulane University, gave Appliance fits in the final game with a homer, two singles, three RBI and three runs scored.

Teammate Bill Rapp, an outfielder, also figured heavily in the win with a homer and triple in a three-for-four outing.

"I said before they announced the MVP that I would buy a trophy for whichever guy didn't win it," Scheuermann said. "Billy Rapp came through with some big hits."

New Orleans jumped on Appliance starter Ed Groves early and built a 10-1 lead, but nearly blew the advantage as Adray mounted another comeback.

Trailing 11-4 in the sixth, Appliance outfielder Rich Browe, a Wayne High product, broke an 0-for-15 drought by rapping a grand slam homer which curled around the right field foul pole.

"I knew Detroit had something left in them," Scheuermann said. "And we had only one pitcher left so we had to make it hold up."

Appliance then loaded the bases with one out in the seventh, but could only score one run as New Orleans reliever Salvatore Amarena pitched out the jam and eventually earned the save as starter Harry Manuel gained his second victory of the regional.

"We were one hit away in both games we lost," Atkins said. "I was disappointed in our offense in this tournament."

"We had scored a lot of runs against some good competition this year, but we picked a bad time for our bats to go sour."

Area QB trio to get nod on GLIAC gridiron

By C.J. Risak staff writer

The upcoming Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (GLIAC) football season is being billed as the "year of the quarterback," as well it should be, with starters returning at six of seven schools.

elevation of Grand Valley. The Lakers were 0-10 last season and have a new coach, Tom Beck. Beck previously served as backfield coach to the Chicago Blitz of the USFL (1984) and as head coach at Elmhurst College (1976-83).

Three of those six quarterback returnees hail from the Observer & Eccentric coverage area. And that means the outcome of this year's GLIAC race could very well rest in the throwing hands of those three.

"He's without a doubt our main offensive threat," said Hillsdale College coach Dick Lowry of senior Mike Gatt, a Livonia native and Redford Catholic Central grad who will start his third season as the Chargers' quarterback.

"He has the best command on the field of any kid I've coached," said Wayne State coach Dave Farris of sophomore Rich Popp, a Livonia Franklin alum and second-year starter for the Tartars.

Beck saw no reason for such optimism. "I don't see us being a real force in the conference," he said. "There are a lot of problems to rectify."

er coach said. "But he's improved that. He's lost 15 pounds (to 175), which is something he knew he had to do.

"One of our problems last year was that we didn't score enough points. I feel we have to score 21 points a game (to win)."

One, Beck said, is at quarterback, which "is not solidified, that's for sure." The leading contender to start is senior Chris Panzl, a Livonia Franklin graduate who was a walk-on at Grand Valley.

Farris is looking for equally big things from Popp, who was a pleasant surprise last year. Popp tied or set six Wayne State records as a freshman, completing 139 of 257 attempts (.537 percent) for 1,798 yards, with 12 TDs and 13 interceptions.

LAST YEAR, Panzl completed 39 of 82 passes (.476 percent) for 372 yards, with two touchdowns and four interceptions.

"WHAT WE WANT from Rich," Farris said, "is continual improvement. He'll start the season as a good quarterback, and I think by the end of the season he'll be a great one. I look for him to throw for a minimum of 2,000 yards."

"I was very pleased with him in the spring," Beck said of Panzl. "He's going in (to fall drills) as the No. 1 quarterback. He's got good passing ability, but he lacks playing experience. He's the kind of kid, if he had a lot of support, we could win with him. But he can't win by himself."

While Popp possesses a strong arm, it's his head that impresses Farris. "He's super at reading defenses," the Tartar coach said. "He can see the whole field. And he never gets shaken, he always stays cool and calm."

That's not the case with either Gatt or Popp, both of whom are being counted on heavily to spur their teams to success. Gatt, an academic all-American last year, had solid stats on the field as well, completing 118 of 203 passes (58.6 percent) for 1,411 yards, with 10 TDs and nine interceptions.

If something happens to Popp, John Romano, a sophomore from Garden City, is waiting in the wings. Romano started the Kentucky State game last year when Popp was hurt and completed seven of 16 passes for 69 yards and two TDs. Pat Schneider, who quarterbacked Livonia Bentley last year, was one of Farris' top recruits.

And yet, Lowry thinks Gatt could have been better.

"His foot speed a year ago was not what we would have liked," the Charg-

Two more O&E area quarterbacks waiting for a chance are at Saginaw Valley. Mike Loibinger is entrenched as the starter, but backing him up is

Mike Gatt Hillsdale

Rich Popp Wayne State

Matt Wilczewski, a sophomore from Catholic Central, and Rick Wilson, a senior from Westland John Glenn who transferred from Central Michigan.

The major reason Saginaw Valley is picked to repeat as GLIAC champ isn't its quarterbacks, however. Defense is the Cardinals strength.

At Hillsdale, Plymouth Salem grad Jeff Hubert, a senior, is back at strong safety for his third season as a starter. Junior Matt Chiodo, from Birmingham Brother Rice, could start at linebacker, while junior Keith Urban, from Salem, will start at guard.

ANCHORING THAT DEFENSE are senior linebacker Darrel Bartkowiak, a Plymouth Canton grad who was the team's second-leading tackler in 1984, senior strong safety Dave Cramton from Garden City, and junior defensive tackle Phil Jean, considered the Cardi-

Junior Keith Percin, from Bentley, is "more comfortable" playing safety for Wayne State this year, Farris said, and junior John Ericson, from John Glenn, will return as a starter at outside linebacker. Sophomore Steve Gregor, another Bentley grad, was switched during spring from quarterback to safety and could challenge for a starting role.

Beck figures Grand Valley got itself a player last year when John Slazinski joined the team as a walk-on. Now a sophomore, the Southfield-Lathrup alum could be the Lakers third wide receiver.

"He doesn't have great speed or size, but he can really catch the ball and he's a great competitor," said Beck. John's younger brother Steve, also from Lathrup, will join the team this year as a walk-on at defensive back.

SENIOR JIM OSTROWSKI, from Brother Rice, is back for Grand Valley to handle the kicking chores. Ostrowski connected on eight of 12 field goals and seven of eight extra points for 31 points, and averaged 35.7 yards a punt last year to win the special teams MVP award.

Steve Tracy, from Livonia Churchill, returns for his senior season at Michigan Tech. Tracy caught 25 passes for 419 yards and two TDs in 1984 and bootied 25 of 30 extra points. Brother Rob, a sophomore, will be back at running back for the Huskies.

At Northwood, junior Randy Hart, from Rochester, will see action at both defensive end and linebacker. Hart is an able pass defender, a trait he displayed last year against Ferris State with three break-ups.

Junior Jim Bennett, from Redford Bishop Burgess, was a second-team all-GLIAC selection at guard for Ferris a year ago, earning the Bulldogs offensive line MVP award. Senior John Biella, from Churchill, enters his third year as a starter in Ferris' defensive backfield.

Jurek making grade at EMU

SAID HARKEMA: "With Enright, we have a kid with real raw talent that needs refinement. He is a tremendous athlete that needs to learn how to be a quarterback."

Harkema sees the quarterback glut as a very positive element to his Huron team, and hopes the five quarterbacks feel the same.

"It's such a pivotal position, you just can't afford to get caught short," he said. "We saw a couple of our sister schools (University of Michigan and Central Michigan) get caught short at quarterback last year. We're losing Coulter and Gordon after this season and Vesling could easily get drafted into professional baseball. It's possible we could be down to just Adams real soon."

Jurek's advice to Enright is simple: Give it your best shot — anything can happen.

"A lot depends on what he does in the fall," Jurek said. "Just look at what Gary Patton did last year. He came in from Ohio and was the fourth or fifth tailback. He just worked his way up in practice. He was just running past senior defensive backs. The coaches will take a look at everyone. They won't overlook you just because you're a freshman. If the guy can play, he'll play."

ENRIGHT, LIKE Jurek, knows his chance will come. But even if it didn't, Enright figures he'll come out ahead.

"Even if I never play a down, I'm getting four years of free education," he said. "A lot of people have to work in the kitchen to pay for their education. I'll pay for mine playing football. That's not too bad."

Sound perspective.

Remember When A 9.75%^(APR) Auto Loan Was Still In Fashion?

Ten years ago, two things were all the rage. Extra-wide ties. And extra-low auto loan rates. Today, First of America reintroduces 9.75% variable interest rate auto loans. Auto loans that are good for any new make or model car or light truck. With whatever options or special features you want.

Loans that are available at First of America offices all over Metro Detroit. And at our new Pontiac locations (formerly Community National Bank of Pontiac). Call your nearest First of America bank to find out how to get a 9.75% variable interest rate auto loan. Because it may be another ten years before auto loans are this fashionable again.

*Rates may vary outside the Metropolitan Detroit area. Offer not available at all First of America banks. Annual Percentage Rate subject to change after loan closing.

COOLERS

TO CAPTURE Carefree Days

If you're looking for sensational thirst-quenchers this summer that will fit your active lifestyle, take a cue from these carefree coolers. Treat yourself or prepare enough for a party. Either way, coffee on ice promises delicious refreshment all summer long.

There's nothing like a cooler after a workout, a set of tennis or the "best of all" exercise—vigorous walking. Prepare a single serving of Sparkling Iced Coffee with crushed ice, decaffeinated instant coffee and a hearty splash of club soda or sparkling mineral water.

Let your trusty blender help prepare Fresh Peach Coffee Frappe, a cooler that calls for decaffeinated instant coffee and gives a choice of vanilla ice milk or ice cream. Garnish with strawberry and melon on a skewer; serve with a flourish.

Versatile, show-stopping, delicious—and it's sugar free! That's the sublime Granité served in a stemmed glass. Actually, the word means "granulated" in French because an ice is slightly granular in consistency. Cool to the lips, this mixture has only two ingredients: water and Irish Mocha Mint, a sugar free Irish style instant coffee beverage. At serving time, the frozen mixture is simply shaved, then spooned into serving glasses and garnished with whipped topping or just a sprig of mint.

Match a warmish kind of day with servings of Cafe Ginger Fizz, a coffee-flavored plain "soda" prepared with ginger ale. If you like the continental taste of flavored coffees, you can run the gamut of six flavors of sugar free instant coffee beverages: Suisse Mocha (as shown here), Cafe Vienna, Cafe Amaretto, Irish Mocha Mint, Orange Cappuccino and Cafe Irish Creme.

Since the coffee beverage mixes are sweetened with NutraSweet brand sweetener, they provide a delicious coffee break with less than 40 calories a serving when prepared with only water.

Two additional coolers (not shown) belong in your repertoire. Orange Coffee Frost, a fresh orange juice-based beverage with orange sherbet, will delight decaffeinated coffee fans. Dessert lovers will flip for a Foamy Coffee Frappe prepared in a blender, using any of the new sugar free beverage mixes. Clip and save the basic recipe for Perfect Iced Coffee.

Streamlined, fit and fabulous—that's the way you'll feel with sugar free and 97% caffeine free coffee coolers—perfect partners for the active lifestyle.

Streamlined coolers to fit your carefree, active lifestyle: left, Fresh Peach Coffee Frappe and, clockwise, Cafe Ginger Fizz, Sparkling Ice Coffee and Granité.

Grani 

- 1-2 cup sugar free Irish style instant coffee beverage
- 2 cups boiling water

Dissolve beverage mix in boiling water. Pour into 8-inch square pan. Freeze until slightly firm, about 1 hour. Break up and stir with fork, then freeze until firm. Draw fork repeatedly through frozen mixture and spoon shavings into wine, brandy or sherbet glasses. Garnish with whipped topping or mint sprig, if desired. Makes 2 cups or 4 servings.

Cafe Ginger Fizz

- 2 to 3 well rounded teaspoons sugar free Swiss style instant coffee beverage
- 1 tablespoon hot water
- 1 bottle (6 or 7 fl. oz.) ginger ale, chilled
- Crushed ice or ice cubes (optional)

Spoon beverage mix into a tall glass. Add hot water and stir until mix is dissolved. Gradually stir in ginger ale and add ice. Makes 1 serving.

Sparkling Iced Coffee

- 1 rounded teaspoon decaffeinated instant coffee
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 tablespoon water
- Crushed ice
- 1 bottle (6-1/2 fl. oz.) sparkling mineral water or club soda

Dissolve instant coffee and sugar in water in a tall glass. Fill glass with crushed ice. Add sparkling water slowly. Garnish with lemon or orange slice, if desired. Makes about 1 cup or 1 serving.

Fresh Peach Coffee Frappe

- 3 tablespoons decaffeinated instant coffee
- 1-1/2 cups cold water
- 1 teaspoon vanilla or rum flavoring
- 4 fresh peaches, peeled and sliced
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/8 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 pint vanilla ice cream or ice milk

Dissolve instant coffee in 1-1/2 cups water in bowl; add flavoring. Combine peaches, 1-2 cup water, the sugar, lemon juice and nutmeg. Pour into electric blender container. Add about 1-1/2 cups of the ice cream or ice milk; blend at high speed until smooth. Stir into coffee mixture. Serve in tall glasses, over crushed ice, if desired, or pour into punch cups. Top with small scoops of remaining ice cream or ice milk. Garnish with fresh fruit on a skewer, if desired. Makes about 4 cups or 5 large or 10 small servings.

Orange Coffee Frost

- 1 rounded teaspoon decaffeinated instant coffee
- 1-1/2 teaspoons sugar
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup cold orange juice
- Orange sherbet

Dissolve instant coffee and sugar in water in a glass and add orange juice. Add a scoop of sherbet. Garnish with an orange slice, if desired. Makes about 1 cup or 1 serving.

Foamy Coffee Frappe

- 2 cups milk or skim milk
- 1/3 cup sugar free Roman style instant coffee beverage
- 1 cup vanilla ice cream or ice milk

Combine milk and instant coffee beverage in blender container; blend until dissolved. Add ice cream or ice milk and blend until smooth. Serve over crushed ice, if desired. Garnish with grated chocolate or mint sprigs, if desired. Makes about 3 cups or 3 or 4 servings, or two 12-ounce servings.

For 1 serving, use 2/3 cup milk, 2 well-rounded teaspoons instant coffee beverage and 1/3 cup ice cream or ice milk.

For 2 servings, use 1 cup milk, 3 tablespoons instant coffee beverage and 1/2 cup ice cream or ice milk. Makes about 1-1/2 cups or two 8-oz. servings.

Perfect Iced Coffee

- 1/4 cup decaffeinated instant coffee
- 4 cups water
- Ice cubes or crushed ice

Place instant coffee in pitcher or coffee server. Add a small amount of the water and mix well. Gradually add remaining water, stirring well. (This helps prevent excessive foaming.) Pour over ice in tall glasses. Serve with cream and sugar, if desired. Makes 4 cups or 4 servings.

For 1 serving, use 1 rounded teaspoon instant coffee and 1 cup water.

Make mealtime easy with main-dish tuna turnovers

With a savory filling and a flaky wrapper of puff pastry, main dish turnovers easily turn tuna into a nutritious and low-calorie meal that can be prepared in less than 30 minutes. Tuna Turnovers with Mustard Sauce, an updated version of traditional English meat-filled pastries, have less than 300 calories each and are convenient to make with frozen vegetables and frozen puff pastry.

Broccoli frozen in cheese sauce adds an accent of color and refreshing flavor to the filling of this meal-in-one dish, and does not even need to be cooked first. The broccoli and sauce are simply thawed in the cooking pouch, then combined with the other ingredients, including tuna, hard-cooked eggs and dry mustard. The cheese sauce from the broccoli flavors the filling and keeps it moist while baking.

The tuna-broccoli mixture is wrapped in puff pastry crust, which is simple to prepare with frozen puff pastry sheets. While the pastries are baking, a zesty mustard sauce is heated in a saucepan to serve with the warm turnovers.

TUNA TURNOVERS WITH MUSTARD SAUCE

10-oz. pkg. cut broccoli frozen in a cheese-flavored sauce
2 (7-oz.) cans water packed tuna, drained
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/4 cup chopped onion
2 tbsp. pickle relish
1/4 tsp. dry mustard
11 1/2-oz. pkg. frozen puff pastry, thawed
1 egg yolk plus 1 tablespoon water

MUSTARD SAUCE

2 tbsp. margarine or butter
2 tbsp. flour
1/2 tsp. salt
Dash cayenne pepper
1 cup milk
1 tbsp. prepared mustard

In bowl of hot water, thaw unopened broccoli pouch for 15 to 20 minutes.* Heat oven to 450 degrees. Grease 2 cookie sheets. In large bowl, combine tuna, eggs, onion, pickle relish and dry mustard; fold in thawed broccoli.

On floured board, roll out each pastry sheet to 12-inch square; cut each sheet into four squares. Spoon about 1/4 cup tuna mixture evenly between squares. In small bowl, combine egg yolk and water; brush small amount on pastry edges to help seal. Fold pastry diagonally; crimp edges with fork to seal. Prick top of turnovers with fork; brush with remaining egg wash. Place on prepared cookie sheets. Place in oven and immediately reduce oven temperature to 400 degrees; bake for 20 minutes or until golden brown.

Meanwhile, in small saucepan, melt margarine. Stir in flour, salt and cayenne pepper; cook until mixture is smooth and bubbly. Gradually add milk; cook until mixture boils and thickens. Stir in mustard. Serve with warm turnovers, 8 turnovers.

TIP: Broccoli pouch can be thawed in the microwave oven. Microwave on HIGH as directed on the package for 3 to 4 minutes.

Tuna Turnovers with Mustard Sauce are easy to prepare and at 300 calories each are a low-cal version of an old English meat pastry.

Cooks in a hurry who like a tasty breakfast or anytime meal will find this apple pie filling pancake just the thing.

These brownies won't keep you in the kitchen long

Whipping up a homemade dessert is probably the last thing that working women — and some working men, too — want to contemplate when they get home. Even if the dessert is for tomorrow or later in the week, the idea of spending additional hours in the kitchen can put off just about anyone.

However, tasty desserts that also are nutrition-filled can be easy to prepare in a short time. Two examples are Peanutty Brownies and Sour Cream 'N' Nut Cupcakes, delectable edibles made with unsalted nuts. They are loaded with protein, carbohydrates and vitamins and have the added nutritional advantage of being practically sodium free.

What's more, these simple treats can double as health snacks. They're perfect for between-meal noshing, offering taste and nutrition.

PEANUTTY BROWNIES
Makes 25 squares
4 (1 ounce) squares unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup margarine
2 cups sugar
4 eggs, slightly beaten
2 tsp. vanilla extract
1 cup all-purpose flour
1 1/2 cups chopped unsalted cocktail peanuts

In medium saucepan, melt chocolate and margarine over low heat. Remove from heat; thoroughly mix in sugar. Stir in eggs. Beat in vanilla and flour. Stir in one cup chopped peanuts. Spread batter in greased 9-inch square pan. Sprinkle remaining chopped peanuts over top of batter.

Bake 325 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes. Cool in pan or wire rack. Cut into squares to serve.

SOUR CREAM 'N' NUT CUPCAKES
Makes 1 1/2 dozen
1 cup dry roasted unsalted peanuts, coarsely chopped

1 cup sugar
2 Tbsp. grated orange peel
1 1/2 cups cake flour
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. baking soda
1/2 cup margarine
2 eggs
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 tsp. vanilla extract

In small bowl, combine dry roasted unsalted peanuts, 1/2 cup sugar and orange peel; set aside.

Sift together cake flour, baking powder and baking soda. In large bowl, with electric mixer at medium speed, cream margarine and remaining 1/2 cup sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Mix together sour cream and vanilla. Alternately add the sour cream mixture and dry ingredients to the cream mixture, beating well after each addition. Spoon batter into paper-lined (2 1/2 inch) muffin pan cups, 3/4 full. Spoon a tablespoonful of peanut mixture on top of each, lightly pressing into batter.

Bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes or until done. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks.

Apple lovers will like this quick breakfast idea

Busy people who put high priority on serving nutritious meals to their family in a jiffy need recipes that are quick and easy and ingredients that are ready to use. This recipe for apple pie filling pancakes can be prepared in a snap, with delicious results. The batter for the pancakes takes only a few minutes to make from scratch or use your favorite pancake mix. Top the pancake with perfectly sweetened and spiced apple pie filling which comes in a can, is ready to use and keeps indefinitely on your pantry shelf. Serve with sour cream or whipped topping for breakfast or dessert.

APPLE PIE FILLING PANCAKES

2 large eggs
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 can (21 oz.) apple pie filling
Dairy sour cream (optional)

Combine eggs, milk, flour and salt. Beat with rotary egg beater or electric mixer about 2 minutes (batter will be very thin.) Heat butter in 10-inch frying pan with oven-proof handle (or wrap handle in heavy foil). When hot, pour batter into pan. Bake at 425 degrees for 15 minutes. Lower heat to 350 degrees and bake about 5 minutes longer or until golden brown and crisp. (Batter will creep up on sides of pan, forming a shell.) Remove from pan, fill with apple pie filling, heated or not, as preferred. Serve with sour cream if desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

For additional apple recipes, send self-addressed envelope to Michigan Apple Committee, 2726 E. Michigan Ave., Lansing, Mich. 48912.

Wanted: Cooks for contests

Recipe contests are booming, and if you're a creative cook, you should consider entering one.

There are contests for just about everyone now, from mushroom lovers to chocoholics. And, the best part about a recipe contest is that winning isn't based on luck.

A recipe is judged a winner primarily on its originality, but also if it contains the requested recipe criteria and adheres strictly to the contest rules. As a result, there's a lot you can do to improve your chances of winning.

Some contesters like to enter old family favorites. Others enjoy the excitement of creating an entirely new recipe. If you opt for the former, just be sure your family favorite hasn't been the winner of a previous recipe contest nor previously published.

WHERE DO ideas for new recipes come from? Sometimes they seem to pop up from nowhere. Occasionally, a great idea occurs in the midst of dinner preparations. But most often, developing a new recipe requires research and experimentation until the end results are "just right."

Keeping in mind the ingredient to be featured in your soon-to-be-created recipe, scan for ideas in cookbooks, magazines, newspaper food sections, even restaurant menus. The flavorings in a hot chicken casserole, for example, might work well in a cold chicken salad. Or, use pancake mix to eliminate ingredients and/or preparation steps in a favorite coffee cake recipe.

Next, write your idea in recipe form, following the guidelines in the contest rules for economy, few ingredients, etc. Then, prepare it — again and again, adapting and revising, until the recipe works perfectly and you're satisfied with the results.

When writing your recipe in final form, it's essential that it be written so that anyone preparing it will have the same results as you did. If an ingredient or step is unclear, the final results might not be the same. Be sure to list all of the ingredients and list them in the order they are to be used. Use standard measurements and list exact amounts. Include package/can sizes, cookware sizes, baking and cooking temperatures and times, and number of servings. Use short, clear sentences. Last but not least, spend a few moments creating a title that will catch a judge's eye.

PLYMOUTH High School Class of 1940 invites friends from other classes to drop in at the 45-year reunion Saturday evening at the Elks Club on Plymouth Road. Reunion co-chairmen Bill Thomas and Ed Holdsworth invite people for dinner or to stop in some time during the evening.

Dinner is $11 per person. Anyone wishing more information may call Bill, 453-1925, or Ed, 453-4618.

ANDY DAHLKE, a senior at Plymouth Canton High School this fall, has won a full four-year tuition scholarship to the University of Michigan School of Music.

Andy is attending the eight-week summer program of the National Band Camp at Interlochen through a grant from Plymouth Community Arts Council and a scholarship from the National Band Camp. He is first-chair soloist with the National Symphony and Jazz bands.

He was a finalist in the international concerto competition earlier this summer. He won the four-year tuition scholarship in a recent competition at Interlochen. Andy's parents are Richard and Mary Dahlke of Plymouth.

A RECENT ISSUE of Nashville! Magazine has a dramatic story about a 5-year-old Tennessee boy, Teddy, who crashed into the lower glass section of a screen door. His parents rushed him to the nearest hospital 20 miles away. There they discovered that as well as the obvious cuts under his chin and on his wrist, there was a five-inch chard of glass in his chest. X-rays showed the glass was very close to the subclavian artery and before surgeons could operate, they had to know if the artery was nicked or punctured.

The child needed an angiogram and the hospital did not have the facilities to do one. They could keep him alive with transfusions, but they had to get him to the Vanderbilt Medical Center in Nashville. A Lifelight helicopter was called from Nashville and Teddy was transported to Vanderbilt where the subclavian artery was found to be intact. Surgery was successful and Teddy suffered no permanent damage.

Now there is a local angle to this story. The pilot of the Lifelight helicopter, who made the rescue run with two emergency room nurses, was Bill Hamblin — born and raised in Plymouth Township. His parents, Ulos and Mary Hamblin, have a roadside stand on Haggerty Road.

BILL HAMBLIN graduated from Plymouth High School in 1966. He attended Eastern Michigan University for a year before going to Vietnam where he flew helicopters, transporting the wounded and dying out of combat zones. When he came home, he went back to EMU and graduated. He was a member of the National Guard before becoming one of the original pilots for Lifelight.

Now he pilots a Bell 20601 helicopter with a cruising speed of 130 miles an hour. The co-pilot's seat has been removed to make room for a stretcher between the bubble and the rear seat. The nurses sit in the rear seat surrounded by medical supplies and equipment.

Lifelight covers an area within a 130-mile radius of Nashville. The article mentions the fact that "Pilot Bill Hamblin also thrives on the pressure which sometimes seems tame compared to his experiences in Vietnam."

Bill married Brenda McIntosh of Plymouth in 1969. They have two children, William, 13, and Samantha, 9.

Maxwell steam railroad will fire up once again showplaces of the community.

They loaded up the Maxwell Railroad, Tonquish Valley Line, last Thursday to take it to its new home in Wellston, Mich. After 28 years on Joy Road, the little steam engine leaves behind a host of memories for generations of area youngsters.

The mile-long ride in the open coach was high adventure, from start to finish. The blast of the steam whistle and the chug-chug of the engine as it left the little station set the mood. The speed seemed terrific as it rounded the first curve and headed over the trestle, a really scary part of the trip.

Then there was another curve and the long straight-away south, beside the row of trees and Tonquish Creek. The oval 16-inch gauge track turned west then north, through the tunnel (more excitement as the whistle blew) and back to the station.

Trips to Maxwell's for a ride behind the steam engine was a favorite Sunday excursion for adults as well as children. Local residents took their out-of-town guests to Maxwell's, one of the

THE FAMILY of the founder of the railroad, the late John T. Maxwell, shared memories as they awaited the arrival of trucks to move the railroad. His widow, Alice Maxwell, and his son, Russell Maxwell, sat on the screened front porch, drinking coffee and eating Mrs. Maxwell's oatmeal chocolate chip cookies.

They reminisced. "He loved steam. He worked on a railroad for awhile when he was younger in Brookfield, Missouri. Then he heard about Ford paying $5 a day and he came up here and stayed. I came up 62 years ago and we were married," Alice Maxwell said.

"We bought a little steam train in Ohio in 1958. He saved just the boiler and built onto it. He could do anything. He bought the parts and designed the engine."

She said they found the tracks in West Virginia.

to the full mile in '61. The trestle was added in 1963."

He said that when they were taking down the trestle, a man pulled his car into the driveway and came over to where they were working. "He said that on his fifth birthday, all the kids at his birthday party had come out for a train ride. I fired it up and blew the whistle for him."

Maxwell said they never had a guest book, but if they had, there would have been names from every state in the union.

"We burned Pocahontas Indian Maid coal in it. It made a lot of smoke and the kids loved smoke."

He said his children, twins Sharon and Karen, and Bob — now adults — are saddened by the removal of the train.

ALICE MAXWELL said, "We were just open Sundays and holidays and for special events and parties."

"He fired it up one night for the students at Our Lady of Good Counsel School. They were on a mystery trip and soon as they turned in the lane they started to scream with joy."

John T. Maxwell's little steam engine, with son Russ at the controls, poses for its last photograph on Joy Road in Canton Township.

She laughed as she recalled a visit by children from the school for the blind. "One little boy felt the entire engine with his hands, then he came over to me and felt me. He asked, 'Why is the train so small and the people so big?'"

She said they used to have a lot of camera clubs come out to take pictures.

They shut down in 1976 because of John Maxwell's failing health.

"It was his hobby and it gave a lot of pleasure. They paid enough to ride to buy the coal."

WALTER FISCHER, the man who bought the railroad, is moving it to Wellston, which is about 25 miles east of Manistee on M-55.

Please turn to Page 6

The little brass bell from the top of the engine will ring once more in Wellston.

An old sign hangs in a shed, a reminder of the man who loved steam.

Train leaves many memories

He took everything — tracks, carriage, engine, coach, tunnel and water tower. It will be set up again and the Maxwells are hoping several more generations of children will have the thrill of riding behind a steam engine.

"People wanted to buy part of the tracks, or just the engine. But we had to keep it all together. It had to go as a package," Maxwell said of his father's creation.

And perhaps the little steam engine's fame will continue to spread. He told of a local man who was in a restaurant in Portland, Ore., when he heard a conversation between two men at the next table. What caught his attention was one telling the other about this wonderful little steam engine that went over a trestle and through a tunnel.

He finally had to get into the conversation and said, "We've got one just like it in Plymouth. Was it the same one?"

It was.

PREGNANCY AND ARTHRITIS

Women in their childbearing years, age 18-40, often have arthritis. The question arises: Does arthritis and its treatment cause difficulty in becoming pregnant or result in a greater chance of delivering an infant with a birth defect?

To date, there is no evidence to indicate that having arthritis creates problems in conception. Furthermore, with the exception of a small number of the women who have lupus arthritis, pregnancy results in a remission of joint pain and swelling. As a result, carrying the baby and giving birth usually pose no special problems.

The most commonly used arthritis medication, aspirin, is not associated with any abnormality in the newborn infant. Experience with other medications is less extensive and it is not possible to answer the question if birth defects are associated with the use of these drugs.

Any woman under treatment for arthritis who becomes pregnant should inform her doctor immediately. Decisions on continuing arthritis therapy over the ensuing months require agreement of both patient and doctor and often include discussion with the husband as well.

If You Worry About What Your Child Is Learning In School, It's Time For A New School.
In many schools today, the things that children learn have nothing to do with reading, writing and arithmetic. Often, teachers are so occupied with maintaining order that they have little time to teach.
You don't allow your child to go unsupervised at home, and you shouldn't have to be concerned about what goes on at school. Perhaps, it's time for a change. Time for a school environment where your child can learn things like reading, writing and arithmetic.
Call Temple Christian School, for a change.

UMA MULTI-SPECIALTY MEDICAL CENTER

THE SYMBOL OF QUALITY HEALTH CARE

Does your child have the necessary immunizations?

The American Academy of Pediatrics stresses the need for immunization against eight serious infectious diseases that are known to cause deafness, lockjaw, learning difficulties, mental retardation, paralysis & brain hemorrhage. These immunizations are available at UMA.

Back-To-School Health-Assessments

University Medical Affiliates, P.C. would like to assist with your child's back-to-school health care needs. For a limited time, we are lowering the cost for a medical assessment of your child.

At certain intervals from pre-school to age 17, children are required by law to have physical examinations and immunizations before being admitted to school. The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends that because children grow and develop rapidly, they should receive a complete physical at least once every two years after the age of three.

If you think that your child is due for a physical examination, give us a call. We will be happy to answer any questions and to set up an appointment.

Comedy needs genius

Val Kilmer is Chris Knight, a brilliant, mischief-making senior at Pacific Tech.

"Real Genius" lacks what its title offers. Even for a comedy, it is not very credible and if there was any genius involved in the production, it certainly doesn't show.

Although the film's premise is clever, and there is some funny stuff, "Real Genius" develops weakly with clouded storylines, one-dimensional characters, jokes that are over or underdone and some special effects that aren't worth the big bucks invested.

Pacific Tech, modeled loosely after Cal Tech, is the setting in which super-slick Professor (and television teacher) Jerome Hathaway (William Atherton) exploits the genius of personally recruited students to fulfill his own selfish ends.

There are five young principals, three of them students Hathaway exploits: Smart-aleck, wise-cracking Chris Knight (Val Kilmer), whose manner is a defense against academic burnout; recently recruited and very young (even for a freshman), 15-year-old Mitch Taylor (Gabe Jarret); and ex-teacher's pet Kent Torokvei (Robert Prescott), reduced to near-servant status since Mitch arrived on campus.

THE OTHER TWO leads, hyperkinetic engineering student Jordan Cochran (Michelle Meyrink) and dropout Laslo Hollyfeld (Jonathan Gries), who lives in the college's steam tunnels, complement one another: she has too much energy and personality and he has none.

It is all very well to say that's good characterization. As a matter of fact, it was either too much or too little and, as with all but Chris Knight, the characters in this film have no dimension. Professor Hathaway is a completely self-absorbed egotist with no redeeming qualities. Kent, his toady, has only one dimension. Mitch is just there and the rest of the local geniuses act like refugees from Mr. Kotter's classroom.

Effective comedy and satire present characters and situations that appear real. To do so, one needs characters that are human, that have good and bad features. Chris Knight is the only one who meets those criteria in "Real Genius." His defense against academic burnout and the problems genius brings is flippancy and apparent disinterest in everything (except sex). Kilmer plays it sharp and snappy and has most of the film's clever dialogue, well-delivered.

the movies

Dan Greenberg

One of the film's potentially funniest scenes is underdeveloped to the point that it just isn't funny. The humor possible in a reading room filled with students intensely studying for finals is lost because the long shots presented never let the audience feel the tension, as close-ups would have. When one student finally goes berserk under pressure, no laughs; again, because of long shots, the audience never sees or feels released tension as a contrast to built-up pressures.

At the other end of the spectrum, it isn't funny to take an old joke and drag it out. Such overdevelopment telegraphs the punchline and the audience gets bored waiting for the obvious. Students leave tape decks to record the professor's lecture. He, in turn, gets tired of lecturing to tape recorders and tape records his lecture for the students' tape recorders. Funny, huh? Maybe as a one-liner, but not here with so much screen time devoted to the build-up.

THE UNDER and overdeveloped loose ends are characteristic of "Real Genius," with Mitch's search for Laslo in the closet leaving us all somewhat confused and disinterested. Mitch finally detects the secret of his closet's trapdoor (for such a bright kid, it sure takes him a long time to figure it out) and he discovers the steam tunnels where Laslo lives.

The foolishness mercifully comes to an end with an overdone gag involving 190,000 pounds of popcorn, retail value $1.8 million. Once you pop all that corn, you have to use it. "Real Genius" is long on corn and short on clever.

Sushi featured

Kyoto Japanese Steakhouse will open Benishu, its second authentic Sushi bar in the nation and the first in Detroit, on Wednesday at 1985 W. Big Beaver Road in Troy. The grand opening will be highlighted by a traditional Shinto ceremony performed by the Rev. Kawahatsu of San Francisco, who will bless the new Sushi bar and restaurant at 5:30 p.m. The opening celebration, with Japanese music and dancers, runs 5-8 p.m. Sushi ranges from octopus, sea urchin and squid to Sushi assembled with cooked fish, sometimes shrimp, crab or lobster.

Jim's Garage

A new lunch and dinner menu, described as Nouvelle American, is being offered at Jim's Garage in downtown Detroit. Chef Jim Maier, former sous chef at Bloomfield Hills Country Club, has put together the menu emphasizing fresh local fish, fowl and meat products, along with Michigan wild berries, cattail shoots, morel mushrooms, leeks and fiddlehead ferns. Shrimp Detroit is shrimp poached in Stroh's beer, garlic, shallots and rosemary. Veal Maier is medallions of veal sauteed in leeks, toasted pine nuts, and tomatoes sun-dried by Maier.

LOBSTERS INVADE PLYMOUTH AGAIN!

Luscious Creatures Overrun Plymouth

They're sweeping through Kellogg Park. They've been spied marching past the Gazebo in Old Village. Armies of them are near Edward Hines Park. It's a massive invasion of LOBSTER TAILS, and you can help restore order. Just come to the JOLLY MILLER RESTAURANT and ask for the "TAILS OF SUMMER" SPECIAL.

For The Jolly Miller Restaurant
13.50 TENDER, JUICY LOBSTER

We'll serve you one 9 oz tender, juicy lobster with vegetable du jour and your choice of potato. Our generous salad table and fresh bakery breads accompany each dinner.
Offer good every evening after 5:30 pm, until the hordes retreat!

AWREY. BAKERY

Do You Need Natural Food Fiber In Your Diet?

There has been a lot of conversation lately about the advantages of increasing the fiber in our daily diet. The Awrey bakers make it delicious, easy and economical for you to do just that.

We make no medical claims for these products, however we do claim to produce the finest quality baked foods made from wholesome ingredients grown by our nation's farmers. The fiber in our baked foods is derived entirely from natural cereals, which have been beneficial in man's diet for thousands of years.

So if you are concerned and interested in increasing the natural fiber in your family's diet, look for this label on the following variety of baked foods we have made available for you and your family.
