Harcharan (Harry) Suri, who recently agreed to purchase Omnicom - the cable company serving Plymouth and Canton - says the "bottom line" in whether the business will thrive, despite growing competition, depends on customer services.

Suri gestured across the room toward Frederick Collman, Omnicom's general manager, and said he is pleased with Collman's work and no major changes will be made in progamming or management.

"We will succeed if we provide good services to the subscribers," Suri said.

Suri purchased Omnicom of Michigan Inc. and Clear Cablevision Inc. for $21 million from Capital Cities Cable, said Stuart Goldfarb, Capital Cities director of legal affairs and administra-

CAPITAL CITIES also received a tax break for selling to a minority, said Goldfarb, who added that he was unsure how much money would be saved

The sale was prompted when Capital Cities purchased ABC television, because Federal Communications Commission (FCC) regulations forbid networks from owning cable systems. Suri, who has served as vice president and director of engineering at Capital Cities Communications since 1980, is 90 percent owner of N-Com Inc. with the remaining 10 percent of the company owned by three other partners.

"I know how the system should run," Suri said. "I have a systems background. I have an engineering background. And I know what needs to be done to make sure everything runs smoothly. I've got the other people and they're just helping me with investing the money.

N-Com Inc. is receiving "substantial financial resources" from TA Associates, a financial adviser and investment banker based in Boston. N-Com Inc. and TA have formed a limited partnership.

MANY CABLE companies have recently hit the selling block, Suri said.

The cable industry is at a point where "a lot of systems are up for sale," Suri said. A major reason for the rise in sales, Collman said, is that most "lucrative" markets already have cable; therefore, most purchases would be of existing systems.

The cable industry will withstand competition, Suri stressed, depending on how well cable services are provided. Comparing cable with satellite dishes, Suri said, "cable gives more value to the people, right now."

Satellite dish owners "have to put in capital to buy the dish," and must pay maintenance costs, he added. Cable subscribers are simply responsible for television repair costs.

'If the television goes bad you have to fix it but if something goes wrong with the cable we send out our trucks and go out there and fix it," Suri said.

He predicted that satellite dish owners will suffer when program operators scramble channels as expected in the near future.

Video Cassette Recorders (VCRs) is another form of competition for cable companies. However, Collman said cable companies can make VCRs an asset to cable subscribers. "We can do this by making it easy for VCR owners to hook up to cable,"

Citing an incomplete study, Collman said, "probably 30 percent of our subscribers" also own a VCR. Suri must receive approval from local franchise communities before he takes ownership. Canton Cable Television subcommittee member Stephen Larson, said a meeting between Suri and the group was to be held last week. The subcommittee will make a recommendation to the Canton Board of Trustees on whether to approve Suri as owner, said Larson, who also is a trustee. "What the subcommittee has to look at is what is his intent in living up to the franchise agreement and does he have adequate financial backing," Lar-

Sheriff deputies assigned to patrol the 17-mile-long Edward Hines Drive would be reduced to one patrol car during peak coverage if 1985-86 budget allocations remain unchanged.

The budget cut — a reduction of 21 full-time and 10 part-time deputies for summer work — has raised concern among suburban officials in western Wayne County. They worry that troublemakers would return to the park and force out families.

In addition, some local officials say they would be hardpressed to replace those officers with local police if and when the patrols are gone.

In Plymouth Township, Supervisor Maurice Breen said that "doesn't have the resources" to pick up the slack even with the township's recently successful police millage election, boosting the local police force to 15 officers.

"I think the county board is derelict in its duties and funding responsibili-

"Those are county obligations and something the county executive and commission are going to have to resolve on their own. If they don't, we're in trouble." Breen said.

THE COUNTY Board of Commissioners approved a $201.8 million budget on Nov. 7, which reduced the park patrol allocation from the current $2 million funding level to $835,000. It meant the current staff of 31 full-time and 10 additional summer-time deputies assigned to the Wayne County Park system would leave 10 full-time offi-

The budget is slated to take effect Dec. 1, though negotiations are under way between the commission and county Executive William Lucas. Lucas, smarting from a severe loss in his own office budget, including his chief of staff Dennis Nystrom, said he would veto the budget unless a compromise was reached.

Last week, county Sheriff Robert Ficano, a Livonia resident, took his budget-cut complaints on the road, stopping to talk with civic groups and the news media, to lobby for restorations. Besides the park patrol, the budget cuts d the department's two-yearold Felony Warrant Squad, a five-person undercover staff assigned to apprehending felons at-large and the six-member OUIL (drunk driving) Squad. Both add up to almost $1 million in

"What's happening is that they're taking away our instruments to fight crime," he said. "And it's at a time when everyone has said crime is the number-one priority."

Ficano said he met with Lucas last week in an attempt to compromise. Fi-cano said he would be satisifed with the 1984-85 budget allocation of $53 million. The 1985-86 budget is almost $3 million less.

Detroit defends water rates in high court

The Michigan Supreme Court has upheld a 10-year-old, 39 percent increase in the water rates which Detroit charges 76 suburbs.

In a 7-0 opinion, the high court found "no basis" for the suburban contention that "the burden lay on the defendant city (Detroit) to show reasonableness' - hence the rate hike was assumed to he reasonable.

Justice James H. Brickley, a Detroit city councilman in the 1960s and former lieutenant governor, wrote the opinion. It reversed a unanimous Court of Appeals opinion which would have sent the case back to Circuit Court for more proofs by Detroit.

Only water rates - not sewage treatment rates - were involved.

The decision prompted one critic of Detroit charges — state Rep. John Bennett, D-Redford — to pledge renewed legislative effort to win suburban representation on the rate-setting Detroit Water Board.

SUBURBAN customers, led by the cities of Plymouth and Livonia and joined by others in four counties, failed in their argument that Detroit was trying to make too big a profit on wa-

It started in 1976 when Detroit levied a 39 percent rate increase on 95 community customers. Detroit contended that 1) operation percent in four years, 2) debt reserve requirements were higher and 3) a fiveyear capital improvement program had to be financed 75 percent out of operating revenue.

Livonia was a leader in starting the lawsuit but asked the City of Plymouth to be the lead defendent because Livonia Mayor Ed McNamara was then a member of the Detroit Water Board. said Plymouth City Manager Henry Graper, now a water board member himself, said the lawsuit was started before he became city manager. "I would not have recommended the lawsuit myself; not because I didn't agree with the merits but because we had no chance of winning."

All suburban customers of water system joined as co-plaintiffs in the class action lawsuit and shared legal expenses based on population.

"There was general agreement by the parties that the projection of new revenue needs was conservative," the Supreme Court noted, but much disagreement over how to allocate the

THE SUBURBAN claim, "essentially not denied by the city," was that De-troit was charging the suburbs a nearly 9.5 percent rate of return on investment (profit) but charging Detroiters a

"negative rate of return" (absorbing a

The suburbs called that unreasonable because it "amounts to subsidy of one rate payer by another."

In calculating its rates, Detroit used a "utility" method, employing the long-term depreciation plus a rate of return on investment. Detroit paid only 4.5 percent interest on its bonds, and suburbs said this "cost of capital" method should have been a factor in rates.

The suburbs filed their lawsuit in Oakland Circuit Court, but it was assigned to visiting Judge William R. Peterson of Wexford County. Peterson found "no cause for action," upholding the Detroit rate.

THE APPEALS Court panel — headed by Myron J. Wahls of Detroit — reversed the circuit judge and sent the case back to him for "an extensive evidentiary hearing" and more proofs by

The Supreme Court, however, overruled the appeals court requirement that the cost of capital method be used in ratemaking.

It also said the appeals court erred in ordering extensive new hearings because "we find no basis for the (suburban) contention that the burden lay on (Detroit) to show reasonableness." It noted utility cases had upheld a 10 percent rate of return.

Volunteers give time, skills to drug fighters

One is a stone mason, one an architect, and one an electrician.

They give of their time freely, without hesitation, and they all come from different parts of the state to meet in Plymouth for one common reason -Straight Inc., the non-profit family-oriented treatment program for drug users between the ages of 12 and 21 and their families.

The stone mason, architect and electrician are three of about 40 parents who meet three or four and sometimes five days a week to help finish constructing the Michigan Straight building, 42320 Ann Arbor Road.

The building, said director Matthew J. Murphy, is scheduled to open its doors on Dec. 23, barring any difficul-

The project was organized by parents who raised $150,000 in 1982.

Murphy, who was appointed Michigan director a few months ago, said that the parents working away day after day to refurbish the building have an "emotional investment" in the

"All of these people have children or had children with severe drug problems," Murphy said. "Their need to help is not uncommon; they genuinely believe that their children's lives were saved by the program.

"If they aren't helping with the building, they're making phone calls and raising money in various ways," Murphy said. "It is altruism at its finest and each parent has a special gift they

MURPHY HOPES that the building will open on the scheduled date but with the never-ending rain enveloping the area for the past three weeks, contractors have been forced to delay certain jobs.

Murphy said that the people are "tre-mendously caring," and that during the first weekend of December a number of parents from the Cincinnati Straight will be in Plymouth to help as well.

The building, in order to be functional, had to be gutted, and new electrical and plumbing installed. Much of the material, such as carpeting and drywall, were donated.

When the building opens, and it is licensed by the Department of Social Services and the Office of Substance Abuse Services, some 60 teen-agers will be transferred from Cincinnati Straight.

Murphy said Plymouth was chosen as the Michigan headquarters because it is a centralized area and that Plymouth-Canton schools are progressive.

Hailing from Washtenaw County, Murphy, who was the head of the juvenile probation department there from 1973 until 1985, was so impressed with Straight that he left his position to join forces with the anti-abuse program.

"I dealt every day with clients who were seriously delinquint, who had chronic disruptive behavior records, and who had serious drug problems," Murphy said. "As a last ditch effort we would send them to Straight. The success rate was absolutely phenomenal."

MURPHY, "astounded" at the positive results, decided to visit Straight in Cincinnati.

"I watched this place for four years and came to the conclusion I was wasting my time in the juvenile system," Murphy said. "I made an objective decision to apply for the director's job and got it. Now I feel like I am doing something worthwhile."

Murphy said that the program is "revolutionary," and its success is a reflection of its belief in the family.

"Success means family," Murphy said. "The program is a voluntary one as both parent and child have to sign in together or we don't accept them.'

Murphy also stresses that the teenager in question never spends one day in an institution, which is also a reflection of the high success rate.

"It's just a good program," Murphy said. "It offers promise and we are all proud to be a part of its beginnings."

Awareness was the key word for the afternoon as about 175 people gathered at the Plymouth Cultural Center to witness an hourlong broadcast, live from Washington, D.C., via satellite, of an open meeting between teen-age drug users and their parents.

Attending the open meeting at the Washington, D.C., Straight Inc. (one of six non-profit drug treatment organizations throughout the country) was First Lady Nancy Reagan and Her Royal Highness Princess Diana.

Three teen-agers and one parent shared their personal drug-related hor-ror stories with the group. At the end of the session, the First Lady told the teen-agers that there was a "great, big, wonderful world" waiting for them.

"We need you in that world," Reagan said. "But we need you clear-eyed and clear-minded. I'm very proud of you."

Matthew J. Murphy, Michigan Straight director present at Monday's meeting, could not stress enough the severity of drug abuse in the United

"One out of every 10 teen-agers uses drugs," Murphy told the group after the telecast. "And recovery is a process that lasts forever. Fortunately, we have a high success rate."

ONE OF those success stories, present to answer questions and talk about Straight, was Jennifer Bowers, 18 of Howell, a graduate from the sevenphase Cincinnati program in December 1984. It took her one year and one day, but her life has "changed drastically."

Howell began taking drugs at age 13. "I did it to impress a guy, happened to be my brother's friend. I liked him so much," Bowers said. "I wanted him to ing marijuana with the guys. From there it just got worse.'

Bowers admits that she liked getting high and that using drugs provided her with an "easier way of dealing with

Presently, Bowers is a staff member at the Cincinnati Straight office. She counsels "druggies," as they are called, talks to groups about her own past as a druggie, and does "lots of paper work."

Of her new life, Bowers said she now gets along with her family, changed her views about music pre-marital sex, and is "confident, re-

Peter Guenther dies at age 42

After suffering for several years from the effects of a brain tumor, Peter Guenther, son of Geneva and Harold Guenther of Plymouth, died last Tuesday.

A memorial service is being planned.

Guenther, 42, worked with his father and brothers at the Guenther plant opposite the Plymouth Landing restaurant. For a while he left there and was employed at the West Trail Nursing Home on Ann Artor Trail.

Peter was well known and liked by the people of Plymouth who never failed in stopand talk to him while walking down Main-Street. He always had a friendly return and a smile.

In 1970, when the Plymouth delegation flew to Plymouth, England, to help celebrate the 350th anniversary of the sailing of the Mayflower, Peter Guenther was the unofficial captain of the party of 50 travelers. He enjoyed the trip and along with the late Harold Hamill, the Plymouth Township engineer, they patronized every

Ring, stereo taken in burglary

A diamond ring valued at $1,900 and stereo equipment worth $1,000 were reported stolen last week during a burglary at a house on Haggerty in Plymouth Township.

A Plexiglass window had been broken out of a rear door, police reports

The ring, which contains eight diamonds, was taken from a jewelry box. The sound system consists of a Pioneer cassette deck, turntable and receiver.

Also reported missing was $500 cash,

Sharp model color TV valued at $340 and a Zenith VCR, no stated value.

The break-in occurred between 6:20 a.m. and 5:45 p.m. last Wednesday, the victim reported.

A Fox radar detector valued at $109 was reported stolen last week from a car at Plaza Lanes on Ann Arbor Road. A window was smashed.

Cigarettes - 156 cartons with an aggregate value of nearly $1,500 - were reported stolen from a Total gas station on N. Mill in the City of Plymouth. It apparently was a smash-and-grab operation.

A witness reported seeing a green Cutlass or Buick occupied by what appeared to be two white males flee the scene with its lights off, police reports indicated.

VERTEBRAL SUBLUXATION COMPLEX (V.S.C.)

Noted scientist Carl Sagan writes in his book, The Dragons of Eden, that each cell in the body receives a nerve supply from an average of twelve different nerve fibers. When one considers that there are forty quadrillion (40,000,000,000,000) cells in the average human at birth and the entire body only weighs 8 to 10 pounds and by age 20 years, body weight is 15 times its original weight that there are a lot of nerve fibers. There are so many nerves that if everything were removed from the body except the nerves there would be, so great a mass of nerve fibers that the body would retain its exact form and you could not see through it.

Why so many nerves? Science tells us that each cell of the body functions in unison and that unison needs communication. It is the job of nerve fibers to carry communication from brain to cell and cell back to brain. The brain makes the decisions for proper function.

DORLAND'S MEDICAL DICTIONARY, which uses the same definition of health as the World Health Organization, tells us health is a condition of optimum physical, mental and social well being and not merely the absence of diseases and infirmities. By that definition, health is not just the lack of symptoms.

Symptoms are signals from the body which usually appear at the end of a disease process long after the start of the condition.

William Boyd, M.D., author of Boyd's Pathology, which is widely used in medical schools states that all disease first begins with dysfunction. Function is controlled by the nervous system. The main cause of interference to the nervous system is from the vertebral subluxation.

Vertebral subluxation is caused by trauma to the spine causing a vertebrae to slide out of its normal position and to be "locked" there. This in turn caused either compression or stretch on the nerve fiber bundles. When nerve fibers receive pressure, communication is altered.

Altered communication leads to loss of cell function and, as Dr. Boyd said, lost function leads to disease.

DR. MASHIKE SHOWING A VERTABRAL SUBLUXATION TO A PATIENT.

DR. MASHIKE ADMINISTERING A LOW FORCE ADJUSTMENT, THIS TYPE IS GIVEN TO YOUNG PEOPLE AND INFANTS.

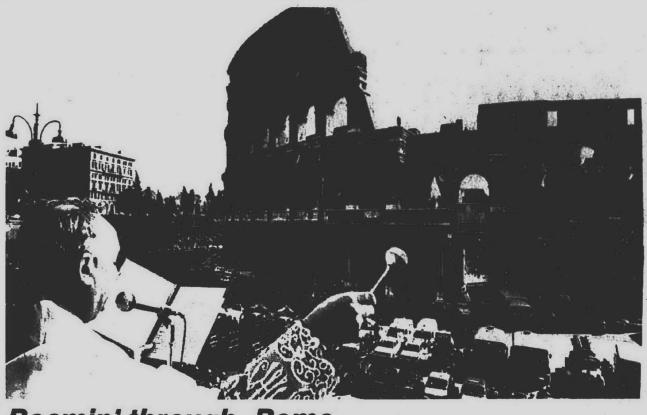

Chiropractic is the science of finding and removing vertebral subluxations. I personally do not give spinal manipulations. A manipulation is a gross non specific racking of bones and does more harm than good. A chiropractic spinal adjustment such as I use is a precise scientific predetermined movement of one vertebrae back into its original intended position.

Usually adjustments don't hurt. On large adults the pressure used is more and on infants the pressure is so light it would not crack an egg.

I urge you to ask questions about the vertebral subluxation and ask for proof to the answers you receive; don't be brushed off or told you wouldn't understand.

I have found thousands of subluxations in thousands of spines and have removed them. My patients have gotten well when they thought there was no hope. If you want to be healthy, I would be pleased to examine your spine and give you an honest evaluation of your subluxations.

COATED ASPIRIN

Aspirin remains the drug of choice in the treatment of rheumatoid and osteoarthritis. Until recently, many people who might have benefitted from aspirin were unable to take the drug because it gave them nauses, stomach pain and peptic ulcers. Use of buffered aspirin reduced these side effects for a few people, but for most patients aspirin intolerance remained.

In the last five years the pharmaceutical industry has developed an aspirin that is coated with a wax; aspirin in this form moves through the stomach into the intestine where it dissolves and is absorbed. Experience has shown that individuals who previously had aspirin-associated stomach distress, have no problems when taking the coated form.

Traditionally, treatment requires taking 8-12 aspirlems when taking the coated form.

Traditionally, treatment requires taking 8-12 aspirins a day. With the development of a coated pill, it was possible to make a bigger aspirin, one that contained three times as much as an ordinary tablet. As a result one can use 4 coated aspiring a day and gain the effect that previously required 12 tablets.

Be assured that today when your physician prescribes aspirin for your artiritis, you are receiving the most up-to-date and salest therapy.

Jack Wilcox — a man with many interests

Jack Wilcox, who served on the Plymouth City Commission in October and early November when he was appointed to fill out an unexpired term, is a study in contrasts.

A small-town boy raised at least 700 miles from the nearest ocean, he spent his time during World War II in the U.S. Naval Air Command in Norfolk, Philadelphia and Hawaii.

By the time he retired from the U.S. Naval Air Reserve 12 years ago he had risen to the rank of Captain - no mean achievement for a man whose boyhood days had been spent beside a body of water no longer than Tonquish Creek.

Home for all of his 68 years has been the imposing white residence at 676 Penniman Ave., at the apex of Kellogg

Far from being insular, however, he has traveled much of the world, chalking up 10 visits to England, six to other parts of Europe, five to the Philippines, two each to Hong Kong, Jamaica and Panama, and one each to South American, Singapore, Kuala Lumpur and Bangkok.

WILCOX HAS many strong links with Plymouth's past, his grandfather having bought the old mill on Wilcox Pond in 1879. His father and uncle ran the mill from 1902 to 1921.

The house Jack has called home for almost seven decades once was the residence of Phil Markham, the man who put Plymouth on the map in the 1880s when he introduced an air rifle that could be sold at a price any boy could

Yet, with all of these ties to the past, Wilcox is as modern as the electric devices that abound in his house, including the P.A. system he addresses you with when you ring his door bell, and the computer that occupies a position of prominence in his sitting room overlooking the heart of the city.

Wilcox's grandparents moved here from Grosse Pointe in 1879.

When Wilcox arrived in 1917 his parents and his two sisters were living in the house he now occupies. But Jack actually was born in Harper Hospital in Detroit where his mother was confined on the advice of a specialist. He graduated from Plymouth High in the class of 1935, which observed its 50th anniversary earlier this year.

Asked what his ambition was as a boy, Jack grins and replies: "Survival. I remember the days of Great Depression of the 1930s very well. And my father died on the day I graduated from

His father had been a friend of Henry Ford who purchased the Wilcox Mill in 1921. Ford used the site to build one of his Village Industry Plants. One of his aims was to provide work for farmers. Jack recalls one of Ford's sayings: "One foot on the land and one in industry and the farmer is safe."

After his father died, Wilcox got a job as a guide at Ford's Greenfield Village. When he left the Village in 1940 he had risen to assistant director. Meantime, he had matriculated at the University of Michigan from which he received a bachelor's degree in sociology and psychology in 1939.

IN 1940, HE joined the Lincoln-Mercury Division of the Ford Motor Co., rising to director of salaried employment by the time he left in 1950.

His work at the company was inter-rupted by World War II. He applied to the Navy to become an ensign but, always slight of build, he was unable of make the weight.

"I finally made it," he said, "by drinking a pint of whipping cream a day and eating lots of bananas. I gained seven pounds in two weeks and was able to qualify.'

Wilcox was commissioned an ensign in 1943. He served in the Naval Air Command on the admiral's staff in Norfolk, at the supply office in Phila-delphia, and on the admiral's staff in Hawaii. After the war, Wilcox went back to Ford Motor Co. where he worked until 1950.

past and present

Sam Hudson

Meantime, in 1946, he became active in the Naval Air Reserve, an activity that was to keep him busy for the next 27 years. He was administrative officer at the Grosse Ile Naval Air Station, served on the aviation policy boards at Glenview and worked in the plans office of the Navy Department of Washington, D.C. He was commanding officer of an Air Wing Staff at Selfridge Field, for which he received the Navy

Commendation Medal. By the time he retired from the Naval Air Reserve in 1973 he had reached the rank of cap-

Wilcox has been involved in a multitude of community activities. He was a charter member of the Plymouth Theatre Guild, formed in 1958, and appeared in many of that group's productions. In the same year he became a semiprofessional actor at the Willow-Way Theatre at the time George C. Scott was in charge of production. Later, Wilcox acted on Detroit Edison's "Electric Theatre" in plays presented on WXYZ-TV.

Jack's mother was a charter member of the Plymouth Historical Society, formed in 1948. Jack also became a member and was the group's president in 1980. He was one of the organizers and served on the boards of the Plymouth Community Council on Aging and the City of Plymouth's Economic Development Corporation of which he was vice chairman. He also was vice chairman of the Dunning-Hough Library Commission and a member of the Bicentennial Committee.

Since 1973, when he first began attending City Commission meetings on a regular basis, Wilcox has served Plymouth on a variety of civic boards. He has been a trustee of Riverside Cemetery for more than a decade, a member of the Municipal Tree Board and chairman of the Block Grant Citizen's Advisory Committee. He also served on the Citizen's Advisory Committee.

Later, Wilcox became a talk show host on Omnicom Cable TV with a series of half-hour shows called "Plymouth Profiles."

Jack Wilcox has done all of this with an apparent joie de vivre that lends credence to his claim: "I have never been bored in my life."

"Target" stars Gene Hackman in the role of Walter Lloyd, a businessman and ex-CIA agent who returns to Europe and encounters an old adversary, as he hunts for his missing wife.

'Target' has lots of thrills

The world is not nearly as nice as we'd like to believe, and "Target" proves it in an exciting, suspenseful two hours.

Walter Lloyd (Gene Hackman) runs a small Dallas lumber yard. He leaves work early one day to collect his son, Chris (Matt Dillon), at the auto race track so they can see Mother, Donna (Gayle Hunnicutt) off on her trip to Europe.

The day is gray, Walter Lloyd's car is gray, the buildings, the mud, everything is gray and foreshadows not only strains in the family relationships but Walter's all too gray and murky past as well.

Although we're never told why, Wallter and Chris don't get along very well, probably because Chris is a college dropout and would-be race driver. There's also some unexplained strain in Walter's relationship with Donna, who would like his company on her European jaunt. The aura of mystery, of the unexplained, permeates their relationships so that it is almost expected, a realistically satisfying surprise, a week or so later, to learn that Donna is missing from her tour group, having been kidnapped in Europe.

MUCH TO CHRIS' suprise, his father has many hidden talents, which surface as the two of them rush to Paris to search for Donna. At the airport Walter is accosted by a suspicious character holding Donna's bracelet. Before he can explain his mission, he's shot and the fast-paced race to save Don-

Chris is continually amazed at his father's previously unknown skills and friends. These friends include contacts at the U.S. Embassy - clearly not commercial attaches - and the very lovely Lise well-acted characters who may very well be stand-" ing around Europe with guns, dollars and their bod-" ies at the ready in the war for vengeance in our mad world.

Ultimately, their roles, the rationale for Donna's kidnapping and the subterfuges that haunt the world of espionage are largely unexplained. But no explanation is necessary, for "Target" is a realistic drama about the relationship that develops between father and son faced with a life-and-death mission to save their wife-mother. You will fear for their safety, hold your breath in their battles and rejoice in their salvation.

Vinter holidays mean entertaining. Today's busy host or hostess can simplify preparation of elegant party foods by offering a variety of makeahead, intriguing appetizers that set the tone for a festive gala.

The first step toward a successful party is discovering the wonders of frozen puff pastry sheets. It's a delicious, multi-purpose product in the hands of the smart chef. It can be "jelly-rolled" with different fillings, wrapped around a wheel of cheese or stand on its own as a base for mini-pizzas. In whatever form it's used, it serves as a flaky, buttery complement to piquant mixtures. Tabasco pepper sauce is a prime way to add that inviting flavor to fillings. It blends with a variety of ingredients, enhancing them with its characteristic tang and zest.

A menu of easy, do-ahead hot and cold buffet items follows:

Savory Herbed Baked Brie is sure to raise eyebrows when it's baked like a pie. An artistic chef might make a design on the pastry covering to match the table setting or create a theme for a tasteful presentation.

Star performers on the appetizer tray are Sausage and Spinach Pinwheels and Miniature Pissaladiere. Both get their extra zip from Tabasco sauce. The Pissaladiere, a cousin of the pizza, can be frozen and reheated, or made in steps over a period of time.

Holiday Crab Spread is delectable served on crackers. The vegetables add texture and it tastes even better when prepared a day ahead. Shrimp can also be used successfully in this recipe.

All of these recipes can be made in advance and refrigerated uncooked to be baked, heated or unmolded just before serving.

Terri's Peppered Mushrooms made with a heavenly blend of seasonings are another suggestion for holiday hors d'oeuvres. Keep a small holder for food picks nearby for spearing.

SAVORY HERBED BAKED BRIE

- 1 wheel (1 kilo) Brie, about 8-inches 1 teaspoon dried leaf marjoram,
- in diameter 1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley
 - small clove garlic, mineed teaspoon dried rosemary, crushed 1 sheet Frozen Puff
 - teaspoon dried leaf thyme.
- 8 very thin slices hard salami
- (2 ounces), finely chopped
- Pastry
- 1 egg, lightly beaten

Place Brie in freezer 30 minutes. In a small bowl mix together parsley, garlic, rosemary, thyme and marjoram. Remove Brie from freezer, slice in half lengthwise with a long, thin-bladed knife. Spread herb mixture over cut side of Brie. Sprinkle with chopped salami. Press Brie halves back together. Thaw pastry sheet 20 minutes at room temperature; gently unfold. Roll pastry out on floured surface to a rectangle 18 by 12 inches. Place Brie in center of pastry. Bring edges of pastry over ton, out off evenes. Sand corners by brushing with oggend of pastry over top; cut off excess. Seal corners by brushing with egg and pressing pastry together. To bake, place Brie seam-side-down on lightly greased jelly-roll pan. Brush with egg and make 4 holes in top. Bake in a 350°F, oven 30 minutes or until pastry is golden and puffed. (Cheese inside should be runny.) Let stand at least 15 minutes before serving. Serve with crackers. YIELD: I whole baked Brie, 15 to 20 servings.

*Note: A design may be made for the top from the excess pastry dough. It should be sealed with egg and pressed to seal.

SAUSAGE AND SPINACH PINWHEELS

- pound seasoned bulk sausage 1 medium onion, chopped (about 1 cup)
- 3/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground mace
 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, drained and squeezed dry
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped kale, drained and squeezed dry
- 3 eggs, lightly beaten, divided 1/2 pound Gruyere cheese, grated
- (2 cups) 2 sheets Frozen Puff Pastry

In large skillet brown sausage over medium heat; add onion, cook 5 minutes. Stir in Tabasco sauce, salt and mace; cook 2 minutes. In food processor combine sausage mixture, spinach, kale, 2 eggs and cheese. Process just to blend. Thaw pastry sheets 20 minutes at room temperature; gently unfold. Roll out each sheet on a floured surface to a rectangle 18 by 8 inches. Spread half the sausage mixture over each rectangle leaving a 1-inch border on the long side. Roll up, jelly-roll fashion, rolling toward the border edge. Brush border with remaining beaten egg; press to seal tightly. Pinch ends together. Brush tops and sides of roll with remaining beaten egg. Make cuts along top of each roll at 1-inch intervals. Place rolls on an ungreased baking sheet. Bake in a 350°F. oven 30 minutes or until golden. Allow to stand 15 minutes before slicing. YIELD: 12 servings (36 pieces)

MINIATURE PISSALADIERE

- 2 sheets Frozen Puff Pastry
- 2 tablespoons butter or
- margarine medium onions, halved and
- sliced (1-3/4 cups)
- large clove garlic, mashed teaspoon dried leaf basil, crumbled
- I teaspoon dried leaf
- oregano, crumbled 3/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper
- can (14 ounces) whole tomatoes, drained and
- chopped
- 3/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese, divided

Thaw pastry sheets at room temperature about 20 minutes; gently unfold. Roll each sheet on a floured surface to a rectangle 9 x 7-1/2 inches. Cut each rectangle into eighteen pieces, 2-1/2 x 1-1/2 inches (total of 36 pieces). Bake rectangles on ungreased baking sheets in a 350°F, oven 12 minutes or until lightly browned but slightly underdone. Remove; cool. Set aside. In medium skillet melt butter; add onions and garlic, saute 3 minutes. Add basil, oregano and Tabasco sauce; cook 2 minutes longer. Stir in tomatoes; cook 15 minutes until mixture thickens. Remove from heat, cool to room temperature. Lightly press the top of each pastry to make a "well." Spoon 1-1/2 teaspoons tomato mixture into each "well." Sprinkle with 1/2 teaspoon Parmesan cheese. Return to oven; bake 15 minutes longer or until cheese melts and pastries are heated through. YIELD: 12 servings (36 pieces).

HOLIDAY CRAB SPREAD

- 1 envelope plain gelatin
 1/4 cup cold water
 1 cup clam fuice, heated to

Chops for 2 make Thanksgiving easy

It's not always possible to go home 4 tsp. sait for Thanksgiving. And family groups today may be limited to just two.

What then, does one prepare that's quick, easy, festive and doesn't leave a freezer full of left-overs? Glazed Stuffed Butterfly Chops is an excellent Extra-special meat cuts, like butterfly pork chops, are an ideal alternative for a scaled-down Thanksgiving feast. These thick, boneless chops come from the top loin eye muscle. To trim food costs, they can be cut at home from the pork center loin, or purchased already cut at the meat counter.

To prepare two chops, about 14-inch thick at home, you'll need a boneless center pork loin measuring about 5 inches in length. Place the pork loin on a cutting board with the fat side up and divide in half by slicing across the grain. To make the butterfly-shape, slice each loin meat portion in half, across the grain, taking care not to cut through the bottom of the meat portion.

BUTTERFLY CHOPS can be given an added iestive touch for holiday meals in a few minutes by stuffing

A fall-time special stuffing mixture can be prepared from seasoned rice. dried apricots and currants. Braise the chops in apricot preserves and sherry. Then use the remaining cooking liquid to quickly prepare a delicious glaze which adds a festive flavor. The end result is an attractive, delicious entree for Thanksgiving dinner that can be prepared in under an hour.

For even quicker cooking, this entree can also be prepared in the microwave oven. To do so, omit the teaspoon of oil and reduce the sherry to two tablespoons. Be sure to cover the pork while it cooks in the microwave oven to provide an evenly and safely cooked pork

WALNUT MEATS 318, BAG

% tsp. pepper 5 cup apricot preserves 14 cup dry sherry

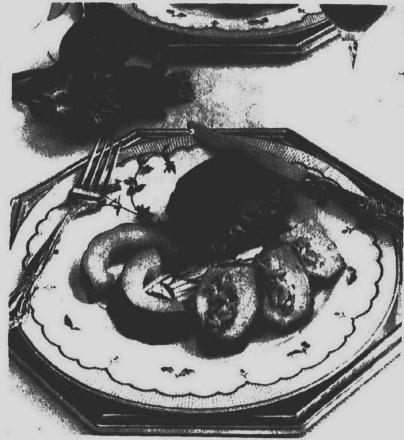

Cook onion in butter in medium frying pan. Remove from heat and stir in rice, apricots, currants, if desired, and thyme; reserve. Meanwhile make pockets in each side of chop by cutting into chop (parallel to surface of chop), beginning at center and cutting toward fat edge, but not to or through edge. Fill each pocket with an equal portion of stuffing. Lightly brown chops in oil, browning uncut side first. Pour off drippings. Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper. Combine preserves and sherry; pour over chops. Cover tightly and cook slowly 30 to 35 minutes. Remove chops to warm platter. Continue cooking apricot mixture over medium-high heat 3 minutes or until slightly thickened. Pour over stuffed pork chops. Yeild: 2 stuffed butterfly pork chops, each containing 7 oz. cooked pork.

If boneless butterfly pork chops are not available in your meat counter, ask your meat retailer for a 5-inch boneless center pork loin. Place the loin, fat side up, on cutting board. Slice across the grain at the desired thickness (11/4 inches), almost to the bottom. Then make a second slice, at the same thickness, all the way through. Repeat procedure.

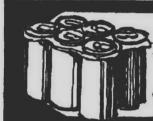

Microwave Directions: Omit oil. Reduce sherry to 2 tbsp. Place butter and onion in medium microwave-safe bowl; cover and microwave at HIGH for 30 seconds. Stir in rice, apricots, currants, if desired, and thyme; reserve. Cut pockets and stuff chops following conventional directions. Place stuffed pork chops, cut side down, in microwavesafe baking dish. Cover dish with plastic wrap, do not vent. Cook at MEDI-UM-LOW or 30 percent power 9-11 minutes. Invert chops and rotate dish 1/2 turn and continue cooking, covered, at MEDIUM-LOW 9-11 minutes. Season with salt and pepper. Remove to warm platter.

To prepare glaze, combine preserves and sherry with 2-3 tbsp. drippings. Microwave at HIGH 5 minutes. Pour glaze over stuffed pork chops. 2 serv-

Note: Cooking times are based upon a full power output of approximately 650 watts. Wattage output on microwave ovens may vary. Check the microwave oven literature provided by the manufacturer or the name plate on the oven for the wattage output.

Glazed, stuffed butterfly pork chops are an ideal alternative to a scaled-down Thanksgiving feast for two.

Tradition

Holiday eating doesn't have to add pounds

This Thanksgiving, families all over the country will give thanks for their blessings, and then sit down to a traditional holiday feast.

But if you think putting on pounds is another holiday tradition, you're in for a surprise. With a little help from Weight Watchers, you can enjoy the taste of holiday favorites and avoid holiday weight gain.

"Controlling your weight at Thanksgiving doesn't mean deprivation," said Florine Mark, area director for Weight Watchers. "The specially designed Weight Watchers holiday menu planner and recipes let you enjoy all the traditional foods like roast turkey and stuffed acorn squash.

"And by making a commitment to take control of your life, you can enjoy all of the holidays and not feel guilty or regret," Mark said.

She recommends planning a Weight Watchers Thanksgiving meal that starts with cream of chestnut soup, followed by roast turkey served with cranberry sauce. Be sure to include a crisp spinach-mushroom salad topped with mustard dressing.

For extra support during the holidays, attend a Weight Watchers meeting. You'll gain a variety of tips on how to handle the holiday season, additional menu planners and recipes, plus the support of your peers. For information on meetings in your area, call (800) 462-7466.

CRANBERRY SAUCE 11/2 cups low-calorie cranberry juice, divided

1/2 cup fresh or frozen cranberries (no sugar added) 2 tsps corn starch 1 tsp granulated sugar Garnish: shredded orange peel

In a small saucepan combine 11/4 cups cranberry juice with the cranberries and, over high heat, bring to boil; cook, stirring occasionally, until liquid reduces and berries split, about 5 minutes. Add corn starch and sugar to remaining ¼ cup juice, stirring constantly; allow mixture to return to a full boil. Reduce heat to low and cook for 1 minute longer. Serve hot or chilled, garnished with orange peel.

Makes about 4 servings (about 1/4 cup each), each providing: 1/2 Fruit Exchange; 10 Calories Optional Exchange.

CREAM OF CHESTNUT SOUP

12 small chestnuts 2 teaspoons margarine

1/2 cup each chopped scallions (green onions) and diced carrot

1 tbsp plus 1 tsp all-purpose floor 3 cups water

2 packets instant chicken broth and seasoning mix

1 small bay leaf 1/2 cup evaporated skimmed milk 1/2 teaspoon each salt and white pepper

Using sharp knife, cut a cross on the flat side of each chestnut; transfer nuts to 1-quart saucepan and add enough water to cover. Bring to a boil and cook for 10 minutes; drain nuts and let cool until nuts are easy to handle. Remove and discard shells and skin. Reserve 2 whole chestnuts and coarsely chop remaining 10; set aside.

In 2-quart saucepan, heat margarine over medium-high heat until bubbly and hot; stir in scallions and carrot and saute for 3 minutes; remove 4 cup scallion-carrot mixture and reserve. Add flour to saucepan, and using wire wisk, stir quickly to combine; stirring constantly, cook for 1 minute longer. Continuing to stir, gradually add water; add broth mix, bay leaf, and chopped chestnuts and bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover, and let simmer for 30 min-

Remove and discard bay leaf. Pour half of chestnut mixture into blender container and process until smooth; transfer to bowl and repeat procedure with remaining chestnut mixture. Return mixture and reserved scallions and carrot to saucepan and heat; stir in milk and let simmer for 1 minute longer. Chop remaining 2 chestnuts and stir into soup along with salt and pepper.

Makes 4 servings, each providing: 1/2 bread exchange; ½ Vegetable Exchange; ½ Fat Exchange; ¼ Milk Exchange; 15 calories Optional Exchange

PRODUCE

In 8-inch non-stick skillet, heat margarine over medium-high heat until bubbly and hot; add apple, onion, and celery and saute, sirring occasionally, until vegetables are soft and apple is lightly browned, 2-3 minutes. Add sausage, juice, and raisins and stir well; cook until sausage and raisins are heated through, 1-2 minutes.

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Trim off ends of squash. Cut squash in half cross-wise; remove and discard seeds. Cut each squash horizontally in half, making 2 squash rings and 2 squash cups. Transfer sausage mixture into medium mixing bowl; add bread crumbs, salt, pepper, and sage and mix until thoroughly combined. In 8X8X2inch casserole, arrange squash rings and cups; spoon out an equal amount of sausage mixture into each. Pour water into casserole, cover, and bake until squash is tender, 25 to 30 minutes.

In small saucepan, combine sugar and honey and cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until sugar is dissolved, about 1 minute. Spoon 44 of sugar mixture over each portion of squash and return squash to oven. Bake, uncovered, until stuffing is browned and crisp on top, 10-15 min-

Makes about 4 servings, each providing: 1 Protein Exchange; 1 Bread Exchange; 4 Vegetable Exchange; 4 Fat Exchange; 1 Fruit Exchange; 45 calories Optional Exchange.

For nearly a hundred years, the Statue of Liberty has stood on the edge of the New World, America's most powerful symbol of freedom and hope. Today the ravages of almost a century of weather and pollution have left their marks. Corrosion has eaten away at the iron framework. New holes continue to appear in the copper sheets that

Less than a mile away, on Ellis Island where the ancestors of nearly half of all Americans first stepped onto American soil, the Great Hall of the Immigration Center is a hollow ruin. Rooms are vandalized, passageways overgrown with vegetation, walls crumbling in decay.

Inspiring plans have been developed to restore the Statue and to create at Ellis Island a living monument to the ethnic diversity of this country of immigrants. But unless restoration is begun now, ceremonies marking the nundredth anniversaries of these two landmarks in America's heritage could be held in commemoration of national treasures that no longer exist. Sections of the statue have already been declared unsafe and closed to visitors. The 230 million dollars needed to carry out the work is needed now.

All of the money must come from private donations; the federal government is not raising the funds. This is, consistent with the origins of the Statue. The French people themselves paid for its creation. And thousands of American school children contributed to its construction and to the pedestal.

The Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Centennial Commission appointed by President Reagan is asking every American business, every American citizen to join in raising these funds. The torch of liberty is everyone's to cherish. Could we hold up our heads as Americans if we allowed the time to come when she can no longer hold up hers?

One hundred years ago school children gave their pennies to put her up. Your dollars can keep her from falling down.

THE PLYMOUTH

Community Band will spark anticipatory enthusiasm for the University of Michigan-Ohio State University football game Saturday. The band will present a concert at 8 p.m. Friday in Plymouth Canton High School Little Theater. Everyone is invited to attend and there is no charge.

As an added attraction, the Southeastern Michigan Horn Club will perform with the Community Band.

Under the baton of conductor Carl Battishill, the band will feature an array of compositions on the theme, "Michigan." They will play such classics as "The Victors," "Varsity," "Michigan on Parade," and "The Pride of the Wolverines." Other classical favorites by Prokofiev, Jager, Hardin as well as numerous others will provide an evening of entertainment.

The band is inviting members of the audience to wear their school colors to add to the evening's fun.

THE THEATRE Guild has wrapped up its first production of the 1985-86 season. The guild's regular meeting will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Central Middle School cafetorium, Main at Church. All interested residents are welcome.

THEY'VE BEEN talking about the Zakanaka Bears on radio and television as the successors to the Cabbage Patch Dolls. Well, according to Diane Kaminski, Jerrie Maciarz and Dana Swamba, Zak has arrived in Plymouth. They have him at the Card Depot, 263 N. Main.

Zak comes from Tiro Ya Diatlo in Lobatse, Botswana, Africa. Each bear is hand crocheted out of undyed, natural karakul wool by an African artisan. Each bear takes approximately two days to make and no two are alike. They range in color from shades of gray and silver to fawn, brown and charcoal and are stuffed with karakul wool. They are mothproof, childproof, flame retardant and dry cleanable.

A Zakanaka Bear sells for $86, complete with passport and photo. Ten percent of the net income from the bear sales is donated to children's charities.

Tiro Ya Diatla means "work by hand." It is the name of the village weavers who make wall-hangings, rugs and now Zakanaka bears.

Cross-stitching is the in-thing

By Alvia Lewis

All disagree as to when its popularity was revived in America. Some say the economic recession of 1982 was the reason, others believe not. But all agree that within the past six or seven years, cross-stitching has become the rave of women, men and children alike.

Carol Jenks, owner of Stitchery Woods, 39485 Joy Road, Canton, firmly believes the recession and the computer age led people "back to the homey way of doing things.

"Cross-stitching is inexpensive and creative," Jenks said. "In this computerized world, more and more people are looking for tangible ways in which to live and create, and cross-stitching provides them with such an outlet."

Foreseeing its popularity, Jenks, a shop in 1983.

"Although the economy has picked up, people continued with it," Jenks said. "I get about 10 or 12 new people in the shop every day, and sometimes they stay for three hours at a time."

AGREEING with Jenks is Betty Tarpinian, owner of Needle's Friend, 450 Forest, Plymouth.

"Ladies appreciated the art during the recession because it allowed them to enjoy a hobby without investing a lot of money," Tarpinian said. "And any age goes here, including men and chil-

Although Ellie Spero, owner of Strawberry Basket of Needlework, 744 Starkweather, agrees with the recession theory, Spero claimed that cross-stitching has become popular because anyone can do it.

"Not only that, but it's relaxing too,"

Shirley Ezzo, manager of The Fabric Shoppe, 370 S. Main, offers a myriad of reasons: "You don't need a sewing machine, you're more in touch with the home, personal fulfillment, and a way in which to give personalized gifts."

3,000 pattern books, 60 to 80 different weaves and colors of cloth, various samplers, made-to-order frames and an endless rainbow of threads.

PERHAPS THE economic recession helped out the art form here in the Midwest, but according to Meg Shinall of South Carolina, its beginnings in the states are tied directly to her mother, Ginnie Thompson. Thompson helped to revive cross-stitiching after she and her husband, Ken, moved to Pawley's Island, S.C. in 1965.

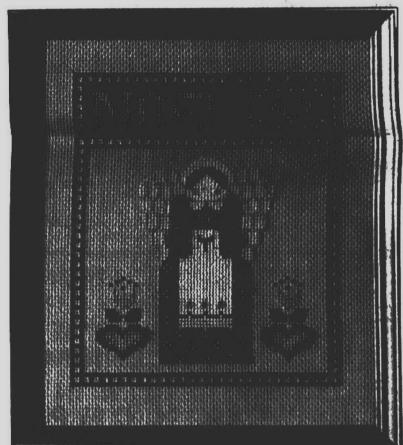

Shinall said her mother began teaching cross-stitiching to tourists on the porch of a small shop. Within months, she began designing her own patterns. "From there, customers and students caught on. They went home after vacationing and would order patterns from mom because they couldn't be found where they lived," Shinall said.

According to Shinall, cross-stitching hails from Europe and it is Denmark's national stitch. "Mom studied at the Danish Handcraft Guild For Foreigners in Copenhagen for two weeks in the '70s to perfect her technique, came back and before she knew it, she was in the wholesale business," she said.

Shinall, who is the director of publishing for the Ginnie Thompson Guild out of South Carolina, said she also agrees the recession was an important in cross-stitch's popularity, but mostly, the art is "very personal."

"In early America, cross-stitch was used to learn the alphabet, numbers, and scripture," Shinall said. "Crossstitchers are great today! They make and make and make," Shinall said, "and they always end up giving everything away."

When I decided to start this business I had just bought a major appliance for my home. I had been pressured to buy, they were reluctant to sell me the item I wanted to buy, and arranging delivery was a nightmare. What has happened to business that manners have been forgotten, and service of any kind is simply not available?

I decided that if I could bring back to the buying experience the pleasure and convenience of shopping for and making a major purchase like an appliance, I could run a successful store and make a profit for my family. That is that I have done here at appliance center. Come see if I have succeeded! Salem lays claim to WLAA title

staff writer

Plymouth Canton comes off the basketball court after one quarter leading rival Plymouth Salem 9-6. The jampacked Canton gymnasium is rocking.

Begin second quarter. Diana Knickerbocker drains a 12foot jumper, Canton leads 11-6.

Penny Piggott blocks a shot by Salem's Dena Head. Beth Frigge converts one of two free throws on the other end - 12-6 Canton. The crowd is going bananas. There are smiles and handshakes along the Canton bench

And then the walls came tumbling

Plymouth Salem regrouped, outscored Canton 17-2 the remainder of the second quarter and went on to beat Lakes Activities Association championship Friday night - its first since 1982. "What happended was, Canton made a good run at us early, but our kids managed to hang in there," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. Thomann's team lost to Canton 25-24 earlier this season. "We made a couple shots, got a couple stops on defense and kind of crept back into it. Then we got on a roll, and it all kind of snowballed."

THERE WERE two keys to Salem's 17-2 outburst Jessica Handley hit two clutch perimeter jump shots and made two superb defensive plays, and Thomann brought Laura Clifford off the Canton 47-30 and win the Western neutralizing their inside game in that quarter. She got three blocks in that stretch, a couple of key rebounds and hit two free throws." Her free throws tied the game with 3:32 left in the first half. Then, after a Clifford block, Handley (who hit four of five shots on the night) drained another jumper from the corner.

Kristen Hostynski followed that with a three-point play, and it was lights out for the Chiefs.

We were very well prepared, and that showed early," Canton coach Rob Neu said. "But once we got ahead, the girls kind of said, 'Oh wow, we're going to do it.' And they started to get care-

"Salem got the momentum and never gave it back. We lost the momentum and could never get it back."

PLAYING CATCH-UP against a team as good defensively as Salem is mighty tough. Canton got as close as eight points in the third quarter.

We might not have played too smart after the first quarter, but more importantly, Plymouth Salem earned this

"They were very, very good tonight," Neu said. "They deserved to win this game, and they deserve to be our conference champion."

In the first meeting between the two Centennial Educational Park schools, Dena Head, Salem's All-Area, all-state sophomore, was held in check. Friday night, she broke loose for 19 points and nine rebounds.

She also handled the ball effectively against Canton's press and brought the crowd to its feet with a legitimate tipin bucket during Salem's second quarter run. That basket wasn't a flat-footed, volleyball-type tip, it was a get-upoff-the-ground, one-handed tip.

"She's had three or four of those this season," Thomann said.

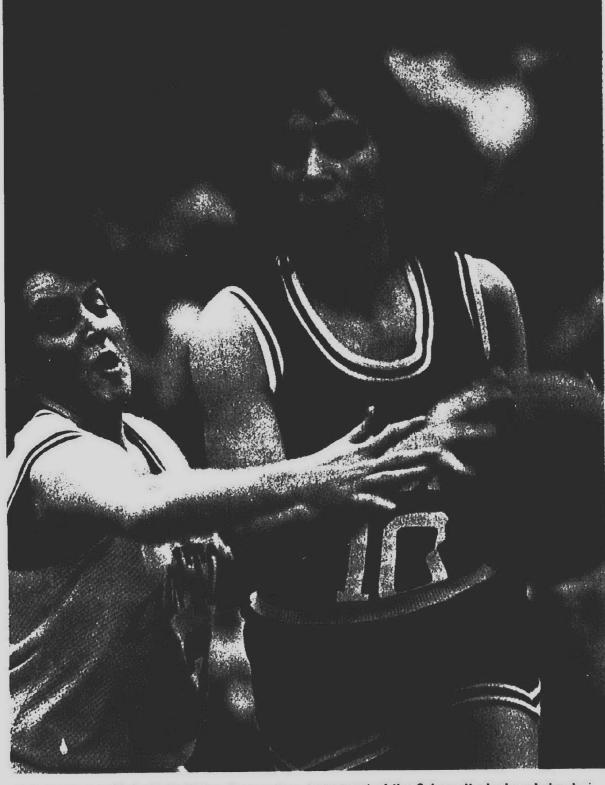

A LESS-CONSPICUOUS contributor for the Rocks was Julie Tortora. Since Tortora became the team's point guard, the Salem offense has become more consistent.

"Julie is our catalyst, no question," Thomann said. "We wanted to take some of the pressur e off Dena, Jessica and Kristen, so we let Julie run the point and make the good passes."

Tortora performed her role flawless

Canton was not without its bright spots. Knickerbocker scored 18 points

Julie Tortora (with basketball) has been a key component of the Salem attack since being inserted as the starting point guard.

Canton's Diana Knickerbocker (white jersey) scored 18 points Friday night, but her counterpart, Dena Head (with ball), scored 19.

The makings of a champion

By C.J. Risak staff writer

T'S AN injustice, being a soccer player forced to play within the confines of the Observer cover-

Spread the talent that exists on the teams in our seven-edition region throughout the state and you'd make MHSAA executive director Vern Norris a happy man. What you'd have is pari-

Instead we have dominance. No city this side of Troy can match Livonia for premier players. Those communities bordering Livonia — Farmington, Plymouth, Canton, Redford, Garden City, Westland — are closing the gap.

But what about the plight of the individual? Lost in this wealth of soccer skills are players who would be stars on most teams in the state. In Observerland, they're average.

Perhaps the best indicator of the area's talent comes from Pete Scerri, coach at Livonia Stevenson, who insisted his team this season was not as good as past editions. The Spartans, of course, was the Class A state title and Scerri with bonored as the Observer area's coach of the year.

So, yo can appreciate that the players we have chosen for the All-Area Soccer Squad are truly outstanding.

ALL-AREA SOCCER SQUAD

Dennis McCarthy, North Farmington, goalkeeper: This senior was North's MVP for three straight seasons. He made the coaches' all-state second team and was first team all-Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA). McCarthy's career totals 589 saves and a 1.70 goals-against average.

"There are so many adjectives to de-scribe Dennis' talents," Raider coach Cathy Cole said. "Dennis has excellent hands which enable him to absorb the ball in any situation, especially in a crowd. He truly is awesome.'

Steve Karfis, Livonia Stevenson, sweeperback: A senior co-captain, Karfis was a driving force behind the Spartans' state championship run. As a junior, he was first team all-Observer and second team all-state. This season, he graduated to first team all-state.

In addition to handling his defensive duties with precision, Karfis scored 12 goals and had four assists.

Rob Opatrny, Plymouth Canton, defender: Like most of his all-Observer teammates, Opatrny has a long background of soccer experience in the Bonanza League. That's one reason the senior co-captain earned all-WLAA and all-Observer for the second straight

"Rob combined strength, speed and athletic ability with a fierce competitiveness to be one of the premier defenders in the area," Canton coach Mike Murphy said. "Our offense started with Rob's distribution from the backfield. He was a team leader in every sense of the word."

Brent Wasik, Redford Catholic Central, sweeperback: Wasik, a senior, played defense like Bobby Orr did for hockey's Boston Bruins. He added another dimension to the game, collecting 11 goals and six assists while garnering all-Catholic League and all-state honorable mention honors.

"He's the best rushing defenseman I've ever seen," CC coach Paul Scicluna said. "Most of his goals came from his defensive position. He's smart. On corner kicks and throw-ins, he takes a 30-yard run while the ball is in the air and hits the gap in the defense perfect-

Bob Johnson, Livonia Churchill, defender: Johnson made the transition from starting halfback for the Chargers last year to all-WLAA center fullback this season.

"Bob played his position extremely well and was a very aggressive player," Churchill coach John Neff said. "He was good at clearing the ball with his head and was one of my team leaders. He made tremendous strides as a

Jim Kimble, Stevenson, midfielder: Statistically, Kimble accounted for six goals and 23 assists for the Spartans this season. But his contributions were far greater. He was all-WLAA and all-state. In four years as a letter winner at Stevenson, he had 17 goals and 50 assists. During that span, the Spartans won two state titles and were runners-up twice. Kimble was a team captain this season.

"Being in the state finals for the past four years and winning the state title twice is something I will always remember," the senior captain said.

Brian Raftery, Catholic Central, midfielder: Raftery was perhaps the

CC stops North, moves into semis

By C.J. Risak staff writer

So Grosse Pointe North doesn't like to exchange game films with its foot-

Redford Catholic Central coach Tom Mach proved two can play that game. Mach switched his offense to take advantage of a North defense geared to stopping the Shamrock runners, and quarterback Mark Stieve made the move work as CC blanked North 21-0 in a state regional final Saturday at Lincoln Park.

The win boosted the Shamrocks, now 10-1, into the state semifinals against Troy Saturday at Allen Park. Last Monday, Mach had contacted North coach Frank Sumbera to work out an exchange of game films. Sumbera replied that he never exchanged films. The advantage, supposedly, was North's, since Sumbera had scouted several CC games in person while Mach had never seen the Norsemen MACH, HOWEVER, turned the tables on his coaching opponent by resorting to the pass early and often.

"The pass was there so we took it," said Mach. "The way they run their defense, it was automatically single coverage. Stieve's been coming along real well, we have confidence in him. We'll use the pass when we have to and sometimes a little more."

That should be a clear message to Troy, CC's next opponent. Don't categorize the Shamrocks as a powerrunning team, not as long as Stieve has a target like Ken Wandzel to throw to.

Wandzel was spectacular on a field consisting mostly of mud and on a day that featured rain and a cold, howling wind. The senior receiver/ defensive back grabbed 10 passes for 89 yards and two touchdowns. He also had an interception that ruined a Norsemen scoring threat.

hold him up at the line of scrimmage," said Sumbera of his team's tactics in trying to stop Wandzel. "Basically, they just threw the ball more than we scouted them for."

CC NOT ONLY threw the ball more, Stieve completed them - 11 of 16 for 103 yards and the two TD tosses to Wandzel. He suffered two interceptions, but the pass was the reason the Shamrocks controlled and won the game - against a team noted for passing the ball.

"The run's hard to get on a field like this," Mach said.

North's first drive was a good indication of what kind of afternoon it was to be. The Norsemen drove from their own 28 to the CC 6, but Bill Smith fumbled quarterback Craig Como's pitch and Pat Nolan recovered for the Shamrocks. It was the first of four turnovers for North.

CC's first touchdown was set up by Jeff Brand's interception at the Norsemen 44. Three plays later, Stieve bootlegged the ball around right end and swept into the end zone from 33 yards out. George Daraban's extra point kick made it 7-0 with 10:39 left in the opening half.

THE CC SCORING drive that "really, really hurt us," according to Sumbera, started with 1:27 left before halftime at the Shamrock 48. CC took seven plays to negotiate the distance — and six were pass completions to Wandzel. The last covered 8 yards, with Wandzel making the grab in the corner of the end zone with 14 sec-

"Once they got that first touchdown on us, it became kind of a defensive game for them," said Sumbers.

And the Shamrock defense is no easy obstacle to evercome. The unit allowed North only four third-makelet allowed North only four third-quarter plays, and the offense marched 65 yards in 13 plays for their final touch down, Wandzel caught two passes in

Hartnett, OLSM eye improvement

What faces Orchard Lake St. Mary's college basketball coach Tim Domke this year isn't a lack of height, or experience, or quickness, or depth. Rather, it's a puzzle, one that he must solve quickly if the Eagles are to enjoy a successful campaign.

"I'm excited," Domke said about the challenge. "We're a better team at everything except, right now, de-

The always-optimistic Domke doesn't want that to be misinterpreted, though. As talented as OLSM is, it may be awhile before it pulls things

ONE REASON is a monstrous schedule. The Eagles, coming off a 17-17 season that included 13 wins in their last 15 games, have treacherous tests ahead in Northwood Institute. Saginaw Valley State, Indiana State, St. Bonaventure, Wayne State, Hillsdale, Youngstown State and Oakland University.

All are in the next month. And OLSM plays 14 of its first 18 games on the road.

"We're not going to start 12-2," said Domke. "We'll be lucky to be .500 at Christmas.

"We're still young. Even the players returning are young. And we're not playing real well right now. We're still thinking through things."

THAT WILL have to change if the Eagles are to enjoy any pre-Christmas success. Domke does have some experienced players to build around. All six of the returnees have started during their careers.

Steve Kopicki, a 6-foot-6 senior forward who averaged 17 points and 13 rebounds a game, and Erich Hartnett, a 6-3 sophomore guard (from Plymouth Salem) who contributed 14.5 points, 5.8 rebounds and 5.6 assists, provide the nucleus.

Others who will contribute heavily are Lance Davis, a 5-9 junior point guard (from Orchard Lake St. Mary's Prep School), seven points and 8.8 assists a game last year, Gary Pederson, a 6-8 junior center-forward, 12.3 points and 7.6 rebounds; Mike Belczak, a 6-6 sophomore forward (from Redford St. Agatha); and Rod Scharboneau, a 6-3 junior guard-forward

And yet, even these seasoned performers aren't guaranteed starting positions. That's because Domke has a bevy of top-notch recruits, some of whom will earn instant playing time.

THOSE WHO figure to contribute quickly are Amos Brown, a 6-4 forward from Pontiac Northern; Bob Bringman, a 6-4 guard-forward from Oregon, Ohio; Theodis Pearson, a 6-4 forward from Detroit Murray Wright; and Jerome Washburn, a 6-6 center from West Branch who was redshirted last year.

There are others who could fill roles on the team. Tim Morton, a 5-11 junior (from Auburn Heights Avondale) who transferred from Michigan Christian College, and freshmen Reggie Anderson, 6-4 from Pontiac Northern, and Jimmy Ford, 5-9 from Dearborn Edsel Ford, could help at All of which makes Domke's puzzle more complex. "We have to find the right combination," he said. "That's really the question. I'm supposed to be a good coach, but I can't tell who to play and when. They all have their moments, good and bad

"I know we have 11 or 12 players we can go to. This is the most depth we've ever had. When we go to the bench, we could actually get strong-

IN OLSM'S season opener against Alliance College, Domke started freshmen Brown and Bringman with Hartnett, Kopicki and Davis. That proved to be a mistake; the Eagles lost 90-80.

'We were too small," he admitted. "We're going to have to start either Pederson or Washburn.'

What Domke is hoping for is enough improvement by the end of the year to keep OLSM in the hunt for an NAIA District 23 playoff berth. That won't be easy, considering Aquinas, Siena Heights, Hillsdale, Northwood and Saginaw Valley are also in

"It's going to be close," Domke said. "But at the end of the year we could be one of the better small-college teams around.'

The question is if OLSM can survive its brutal schedule until then.

Borgess ends skid

Redford Bishop Borgess snapped its 33-game losing streak Thursday night with a 36-25 victory over visiting Detroit Holy Redeemer in a non-league girls basketball

"It feels good to win and the kids are very happy," second-year coach Mike Resmer said. 'And the good thing is that we can play better.'

Borgess led 19-7 at halftime and never looked back.

Senior Cheryl Livingston paved the way with a team-high 12 points.

best reason CC lost its state playoff game with Stevenson. That's because the senior all-Catholic League selection was out of the lineup with an injured ankle. He missed five games but still managed nine goals and five assists.

"Brian's played for me since he was 8 years old," Scicluna said. "He's the most talented player I've ever coached. He's played fullback, midfielder, striker and wing for me. He's a real student of the game, the most knowledgeable player I've seen."

Chris Hackman, Farmington, midfielder: A two-time Falcon MVP, Hackman played both midfield and forward, totaling 11 goals and 12 assists this season, receiving all-Lakes Division accolades. For his career, the senior had 36 goals and 29 assists.

'Chris has a lot of heart," said Farmington coach Ed Bartram. "He would try to create opportunities. He knew the game better than anyone out Scott Morgan, Canton, midfielder: An all-WLAA choice, this junior scored three times and assisted on 12 goals. His performance earned him all-state honorable mention.

"He was one of the most versatile players on the team," said Mike Morto play many positions with equal proficiency. He's the ideal team player.

Steve Morell, Canton, striker: Morell did just what a striker is expected to do put the ball in the net. The senior all-stater, two-time all-WLAA selection, team MVP and co-captain scored 30 goals this season and passed for 12 assists. His career totals: 65 goals, 38

"Steve is not just an outstanding soccer player, but a true student of the game," Morgan said. "His outstanding skills and quickness allowed him to beat the excellent defenses we encountered this season. I would rate him a very good all-America candidate.'

Christian Amborg, Stevenson, striker: As if the Spartans needed help from abroad. Amborg is an exchange student from Uddevarla, Sweden, who aided Stevenson's title run by leading the team - and tying Morell for the Observerland lead - in goals scored. He had 30, adding nine assists.

The senior was all-WLAA, thanks to his hard, accurate shot. It's a shame Stevenson had his talents for only a year, but no one else in the WLAA has

John Rehm, Catholic Central, forward: Rehm, a senior, filled in at both wing and striker for the Shamrocks, but it was easy to spot the all-Catholic League pick who led CC with 23 goals and seven assists - you just had to look for the ball.

"He has a natural ability to score important goals," Scicluna said. "You don't have to look for John. He's always in the right place at the right time. I call him my garbage collector. He's deadly accurate. If someone hits the post, you can bet your life John will be there to pick up the rebound."

Jerry Potter, Farmington, forward: Potter moved to center forward this season for the Falcons, his third position switch in three seasons. No matter - the senior still ravaged opposing defenses for 18 goals and 10 assists to reap all-WLAA honors. He had nine goals and 10 assists his first two seasons, playing left wing and halfback.

"Jerry has shown steady improvement during his three years at Farmington and was awarded the team's most consistent player this year," Bartram said. "The team is Jerry's No. 1 priorty and his personal gains and accomplishments are secondary."

Is there a life beyond playoffs?

In it, my life on this planet has expired and I'm preparing myself for another world, that which exists beyond the pearly gates in the heavens above.

But before gaining admittance, I have my purgatory to endure. This has nothing to do with gnashing of teeth or a ton of guilt to be reconciled before my soul is saved.

It's been said - I think I heard it on late-night religious TV - that the life you live on this world will be reflected in the purgatory you serve in the next.

My fate? It's in my own hands, for to reach the sublime peace of afterlife I must first win in the Purgatory Playoffs. Of course, there are a few million other lost souls desperately attempting to do the same.

We're all there because, while on Earth, we spent our useful hours trying to figure out playoff formulas, chances for success, point spreads and ways to beat the odds. Instead of helping our fellow man, we dissected him, examining each part in an effort to determine his usefulness on the playing field.

The rules in the Purgatory Playoffs constantly change. So do the sports. That puts everyone on an even standing and keeps us busy figuring out an-

BUT THE PRESSURE . . . can you imagine? I mean, talk about sudden-death! Fail in the finals and it could be 1,000 years before you get another chance. And if you think all the different playoffs seem endless in this world, you should try the next. We're talking eternity.

Of course, those fervently competing in the Purgatory Playoffs are buoyed by one redeeming thought. In the game of life, they didn't finish in the cellar, a domain reserved for losers, where the action is - ahem really hot.

Now that's a first-class nightmare. And if you're one to analyze dreams, then you'll clearly see what's been on my mind the last few weeks.

In the 12 editions of the Observer & Eccentric, we have had dozens of teams involved in dozens of playoffs, so many that trying to keep them in some kind of logical order requires the intellect of a babbling idiot.

Since I already mutter nonsense to myself, I merely have nightmares. Anyway, examine this if you will.

AMONG THE COLLEGE'S we cover, Oakland University soccer followers are fuming, and rightly so, after their Pioneers were left out of the NCAA Division II playoffs. Meanwhile, the OU volleyball team was a disappointing fifth in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (GLIAC) tournament, so as far as playoffs are concerned, there's no joy in Pioneerland.

But at Schoolcraft College, fans are goony-eyed. The volleyball and women's soccer teams are bound for N.ICAA tournaments. Both, of course, will be Thanksgiving weekend. The men's soccer team reached the Interregional finals before losing to the top-ranked team in the country.

In high school sports, in case you've been visiting another solar system and missed the news, five teams qualified for the state football playoffs. Troy, which shocked No. 1-ranked Henry Ford 17-14, and Redford Catholic Central were first-round winners. Southfield, Detroit Country Day and Westland John Glenn lost in the opening round.

Livonia Stevenson won the Class A state soccer tournament, beating Birmingham Brother Rice in the finals. Rochester won the Class A state golf tournament and was second in the state in boys' cross country. Rice was

BLOOMFIELD HILLS Lahser and Birmingham Marian tied for second at the Class A state tennis tournament. Plymouth Salem's Wendy Gilles won the first singles title in

John Glenn defeated Farmington Harrison in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) football playoffs. Livonia Ladywood reached the Catholic League finals in girls basketball before falling. And Plymouth Canton and Salem locked horns in the WLAA girls basketball finals

No doubt I've overlooked someone. I must have. But enough's enough, and at any rate the point is clear. All these showdowns were held in the last four weeks, with a majority of them within the past 14 days.

Talk about a tight schedule. And yet to be determined are high school champs in football, girls basketball and girls swimming.

By the time those are over, I'll be ready for a rest. Or a rest home. But before I could be committed, another season would be under way. More basketball, volleyball, swimming . .

the list is endless APART FROM my own sanity, I have to believe the athletes involved suffer in this explosion of playoffs. There are so many, and they are so clogged together, that few athletes receive the recognition they deserve, no matter how outstanding their performance. It becomes so diluted.

Do I have any suggestions? Hey, I already explained where my mind is these days. I mistook the Twilight Zone for the six o'clock news last night.
I love playoffs. I've already learned to appreciate them for what they are - a momentary occurrence, to be savored for a short time like a holiday feast. Then on to the next.

Duczynski: Marlins' main gun

By Chris McCosky staff writer

It's not exactly classic Horatio Alger, but it's Missy Duczynski ascribes to one basic theory in life and, gladly, she has gained a significant measure of success because of it. The Duczynski theory? Set your goals and then work, work, work to attain them. "If someone was to tell me during her freshman year that Missy would attain the prominence that she has as a senior, I would not have believed it," said her coach, Larry Baker of Farmington Hills

"She has come so far," he added. "She has excellent fundamentals and a strong sense of determination. She's a work-ethic player, the kind that a coach points to as a program player — she started from the bottom and worked her way up through every level."

DUCZYNSKI, WHO lives in Plymouth, has signed a letter of intent to play basketball at Central Michigan University - the only school she visited, the only school she ever considered attending.

It's a rewarding culmination of six years of toil. "It's great to see all the hard work pay off like it has for me," Duczynski said. "All the work the coaches put me through, it's all been worth it."

Duczynski has run the gamut of basketball experience. She has been exposed to the role of benchwarmer, practice player, role player and star. She's known how it feels to be the last person off the bench in a blowout game and she knows how it feels to have her number called when the game is on the line in the final seconds.

She has responded positively to every situation. She began playing basketball in the Plymouth-Canton Junior Basketball Association - the same outfit that spawned Annette Ruggiero, another

As a seventh grader at West Middle School, she spent the larger part of the season gathering splinters for Tom Williams' team.

"I sat and watched Annette," Duczynski said. She would relive that experience as a junior at Mercy.

SHE BECAME a starter in eighth grade. She started for the Mercy freshman team and, as a sophomore, for the Mercy junior varsity team. In those years Duczynski, bigger and stronger than most her own age, was a dominant player. She was named MVP of both the freshman and JV teams.

"After the JV season, I knew I could play at Mercy," Duczynski said. But at the same time, she knew she had a long way to go before cracking the var-

"I did so well on freshman and JVs because I had all the post (inside) moves down and the other JV players didn't. That was a big advantage," she said. When she got to the varsity team in her junior season, there were four established players ahead of her, three of them all-staters.

"It was tough, but I knew playing behind them would help me in the long run," she said. "Especially playing behind Mary Rosowski and Amy Demat-tia. I hoped some of their moves would rub off on me and help me to play my game - and it did."

DUCZYNSKI, IN limited court time, showed signs of the player she would become as a senior. She played strong and physical inside and at times demonstrated a soft shooting touch from the perim-

More often, though, she played with timidity she was tentative and unsure.

That changed last summer.

The change began during AAU basketball in the spring. Duczynski began pouring in 20-plus points a game for a team comprised of Mercy and Plymouth Salem players.

Then she attended Mick McCabe's All-State Basketball Camp in Traverse City. Her performance there made coaches stand up and take notice.

"I had to rely on myself to do the things people on my team couldn't do," she said. "I was placed on one of the last-place teams. I knew that we were supposed to be out there just to have fun and work on improving our skills, but I went all out and worked as hard as I could."

She was named as one of the 10 best players at the camp and began her senior year at Mercy with a renewed confidence in her ability — especially in her ability to shoot the ball, inside or outside.

STILL, IT took some time before Duczynski and the rest of the Marlins hit stride this season. Through the first nine games Duczynski averaged just over eight points per game, despite outings of 17 and 16 points.

Through the last 10, Duczynski has averaged better than 12 points a game. In her last five games, she has scored 17, seven (against Ladywood), 17, 20 and 20. She has also given Mercy solid rebounding and defensive efforts.

"As she has come on and shown more confidence, we have adjusted her role and got her more shots

Yet, some of the joy has been taken away from Duczynski's banner year. The Marlins didn't win the Catholic League title this year, nor did they win the Central Division title.

"I don't think much about my personal accom-plishments," she said. "Our first goal was to win the Catholic League and we didn't succeed. Our second goal is to get back to Kalamazoo (state finals). To achieve that goal, we all have to play good.

"THERE'S SO much tradition to carry on. We've had such good teams in the past. This year has been a little different so far. But the players are starting to get together and play. If we get it all together, we are really going to be hot. There isn't a team in our region we can't beat. We've come so close to so many good teams. We've seen the level we have to play at. We just have to make sure we get there."

Hmmm, wonder how Horatio Alger would write the final chapter of Duczynski's senior season?

Canton nips N'ville, Rocks sunk

Plymouth Canton closed out its Western Lakes dual meet swim season with a thrilling 87-84 win against Northville Wednesday.

The victory was secured when the Chiefs' 400-yard freestyle relay team placed second. Danielle Dickenson, Amy Schmitz, Sara Schmitz and Kelly Kirk brought home the win.

Dickenson, a freshman, also contributed a key second in the 200 freestyle and a third in the 100

Julie Cox was the big winner, taking both the 200 individual medley (2:20.18) and the 100 breaststroke (1:10.73).

Lynn Massey also had a nice meet. She won the 100 free in 56.35. That time not only qualified her for the state meet, but it eclipsed her own varsity record (56.6 set last year).

Massey also anchored the winning 200 medley relay teaming with Jean McLenaghan, Cox and Michelle Stackpoole on a state-qualifying 1:58.8. Kelly Daily won the diving for Canton with 194.3

points. The Chiefs end the dual meet season with an 8-3 mark

PLYMOUTH SALEM, minus two of its front line swimmers, lost its dual meet finale to Westland John Glenn Thursday, 97-75.

Both Shannon Murphy and Heather Bunch sat the meet out because of illnesses and several superb efforts went for naught.

Kristal Taylor won both the 50 free (26.0) and the 100 free (56.0, which qualified her for state).

Laura Shaffer took second in the 200 IM but her 2:20.0 was also a state qualifying time. Shaffer won the 100 butterfly (1:04.2).

Sue Bonnett won the 100 breaststroke (1:16.7) and Taylor, Cindy Elliott, Karen Dalpe and Tracy Meszaros captured the 400 freestyle relay in 3:55.5. Salem is 8-4 on the season.

The Western Lakes conference meet will take place Wednesday through Friday at Salem.
