TRACING BONES: The University of Michigan's department of anthropology has announced the completion and cleaning of the eight heads discovered at the ancient Indian burial pit on the Doug Cash property, Ann Arbor Trail and McClumpha, Plymouth Township. The charcoal found at the site was sent to Los Alamos for an appraisal. To refresh your memory of these events, or to inform you of the story if it is new to you, the Plymouth Book World at 470 Forest Avenue now is displaying the photographs taken at the Indian burial site by Observer Photographer Bill Bresler. Helen Gilbert has donated five stories about this discovery and they will be available to visitors to Book World. The original news story by Dennis Coffman with photos by Bresler appeared in the Plymouth Observer on Sept. 23. Miss Gilbert's four articles on the subject were in her column, Tonquish Tales, which appears fortnightly in the Observer.

Also donated to Book World is an ancient grinding stone found near the hand of one of the buried Indians. Its extremely delicate and porous condition, says author Gilbert, tends to confirm the anthropology department's view that the bones are Pre-Columbian, perhaps Hopewell or very early Huron. All of the four columns on the bones will appear in Miss Gilbert's forthcoming book, "The Struggle for a Wilderness," scheduled for distribution during the Plymouth Fall Festival this year. It will be the second volume in her history of the 18th Century called "Tonquish Tales." Volume one of Tonquish Tales, which recently went into its second printing, is available at Plymouth Book World and book stores in Northville, Birmingham, Farmington and Ann Arbor. It is also sold elsewhere in Michigan, northern Indiana and Ohio.

City tax rate, budget OK'd

By Doug Funke
staff writer

It's official. Taxpayers in the city of Plymouth will pay slightly more for the same services during the 1986-87 budget year than they're paying now.

Property owners will be assessed at a rate of $18.17 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation (half of market value) for municipal operations and debt retirement.

That means the owner of a house with a market value of $80,000 will be billed $727 for city services including police and fire protection and trash pick-up.

The tax rate for the '85-86 budget year, which ends June 30, also is $18.17 per $1,000 but that includes millage for library services.

The library levy — 80 cents per $1,000 — isn't included in the '86-87 city tax rate. However, it will show up on tax bills because voters last fall approved a special tax for library operations.

THAT LIBRARY tax will amount to $32 on a house with a market value of $80,000.

The city commission last week approved the tax rate and next year's budget with general fund revenues and expenses of $4.5 million.

The largest projected revenue sources are property taxes ($2.6 million), state shared revenues ($793,000) and cultural center recreation user fees ($452,000).

The largest anticipated expenses are categorized as administration ($1.1 million), which includes the city manager's office, most of the city's fringe benefit costs, insurance and road maintenance contributions.

Others are the police department ($750,000), Cultural Center recreation operations ($711,000) and the fire department ($390,000).

The debt retirement and operating tax levies both will increase next year. The refuse levy will decrease.

Hunting monster eggs

Elementary school children in Canton and Plymouth will be searching throughout the downtown Plymouth business district this week in search of "Monster Eggs" sculpted by Peter Rockwell, an example of which is shown above. Now through Sunday six clues will be hidden in store windows which will lead youngsters to the six lost eggs. All the students have to do is write the name of the six stores where they find the eggs on a piece of paper with their name, age, address and phone number and mail to the Play Sculpture Foundation, 332 S. Main, Plymouth 48170. The entries with the six correct answers and earliest postmarks will be winners. In case of a tie, winners will be determined by a drawing.

Will Kiwanis permit women to join?

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

FOR MEMBERS' convenience, there are two Kiwanis clubs in Plymouth.

Local Kiwanis club presidents say they lean toward favoring admission of women into the all-male service club. But they add they will vote on the issue as their memberships direct at the Kiwanis International convention June 22-26 in Houston.

Their comments follow a recent announcement from Kiwanis International President Donald E. Williams favoring admission of women.

The time has come to resolve this issue in favor of women's membership for the best interest of Kiwanis and the communities our clubs serve," said Williams.

While the question of opening Kiwanis membership to women has been debated at recent conventions, Williams said, "Support is growing, and it isn't difficult to foresee eventual approval."

Greg Ferman is president of the Colonial Kiwanis which meets during the day on Thursdays. Joe Pekarek is president of the Plymouth Kiwanis which convenes Tuesday nights.

While Pekarek says the subject of possible women's membership hasn't been discussed at weekly meetings, he said, "I'd probably vote for it. Then again, I'm a delegate for the club. I should get their direction on it."

Asked to gauge his club's sentiment on the issue, Ferman said, "I'll be honest, I'm really not sure. It's not something we've discussed at any length."

Ferman said the issue had been discussed briefly in past years at local meetings. "There was some talk that it might not be the same group, it might become a couples' club."

— Donald E. Williams
Kiwanis International president

Saying "times change, people change," Pekarek said there are professional women in the community who could be welcome additions to the club. Asked what members' arguments might be against allowing women, he offered that women's professional and service clubs don't allow men to join.

Annually, local Kiwanians raise money for Mott's Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor, sponsor teens trips to summer camps and Special Olympic programs, and sponsor the Washington Close-Up program through which students learn about Congress.

Recently the Kiwanis built two shelters for Plymouth Township Park and presented two wheelchairs to Tonquish Manor, Ferman said.

EACH CLUB HAS about 60 members. Both will send 5 or 6 delegates to the international convention. Two-thirds of international delegates must vote in favor of admission of women for amendment of the Kiwanis constitution.

While courts in the past have upheld the private club's right to limit membership to men, courts recently have ruled against several men's service clubs under new state public accommodation laws.

"It is now apparent," said Williams, "that single-gender service clubs will ultimately be required to accept both men and women in at least some of the 38 states with public accommodation statutes."

With legal costs to defend Kiwanis' private status in dozens of states expected to run several million dollars, Williams said, "We don't believe our members would long support such a massive drain on our limited operating funds."

Ferman said the Colonial Kiwanis would probably devote a meeting to discussing the issue in early June.

Lisa Bryl will recount in years to come several exciting facets of her visit to the Soviet Union.

What a trip! Visit to USSR is eventful

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Lisa Bryl will have many reasons to remember a recent 10-day trip to the Soviet Union.

The Plymouth Township resident visited historic sites in three major cities. She celebrated her 22nd birthday. She witnessed a May Day Parade. She was approached by locals wanting to trade on the black market.

And one other thing. Bryl spent a few days within 80 miles of the Chernobyl power plant immediately after the nuclear accident there.

She was checked for radiation contamination in Kiev and twice since she's returned home. She didn't take ill during the trip and doctors advise she shouldn't suffer any long-term effects, Bryl said.

"One reading was a little higher than normal, but not greater than some doses they give people for treatment," she said.

BRYL VISITED Moscow, Kiev and Leningrad with a group from Western Michigan University where she's a student. The entourage arrived in Kiev several days after the nuclear problem developed. They stayed there 2 1/2 days.

"CBS News called our hotel. That was the first we heard," Bryl said. "Meanwhile, our friends and relatives were trying to call us to keep out of Kiev, but no one got through."

"There was a small article in their paper. May Day went on as usual. We went to the parade. They didn't show any real concern."

A couple of tour group members tried to call relatives and friends in the U.S. for progress reports, Bryl said, but it was difficult to make connections due to the holiday.

Elizabeth Bryl, Lisa's mother, said she became frantic with worry when she heard about the nuclear accident. When she called a radio station to confirm the accident, they wanted to interview her.

She's still angry that Soviet officials would allow tourists into the area, notwithstanding their attitude toward their own people. "I was disgusted," Elizabeth said.

SEVERAL positive things came from the trip, Lisa said.

"It was a short week, but oh so concentrated. So much happened."

"The only people we got to talk to were black market people. They're the only ones who would approach you and they would approach you. They looked American. They all have American clothes."

They wanted to trade, mostly because Soviets can get into trouble if they have more than $32 American cash in their possession, Bryl said.

"They're specific about brand names, labels, what everything costs."

Bryl traded some jeans and a T-shirt for a flag. "They got the better deal but the jeans didn't fit anyway," she said with a smile.

Most Soviets — younger ones especially — seem anxious to beat the system, Bryl said. As they approach their mid and late 20s, they seem to get depressed about having to get a job and about limitations on travel.

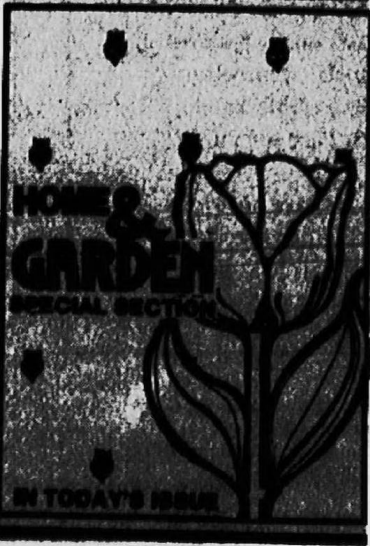

"YOU COULD really see the paranoia in them. Younger people my age are going to give the government the most problems."

"These have more than the others were allowed. They see overall how it's been working. They see older people and what it's done to them. They see what they want to do and can't do."

The Soviet system definitely has an aura of secrecy about it, Bryl learned.

"Tourist controls everything. They didn't give the tour guide information until just before we left. I didn't feel like I was being watched, but they may have."

"The museums were good, too, but talking to people — I like to do that anyway," she said.

Lens implants fight cataracts

A Redford Township man was one of the first people in the United States to undergo a new type of cataract surgery.

Harold Snyder and several other patients received the free surgery from one of the nation's leading eye surgeons at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia recently.

The hospital donated its operating room facilities for the historic surgery, the first performed in Michigan and the fourth in the United States. The surgery was financed through two local Lions Clubs — the Northwest Detroit and Lake Orion Lions.

Dr. William Myers of the Michigan Eye Institute, and a pioneer in ophthalmology, is one of eight surgeons across the country chosen to implant a new type of soft lens to combat cataracts. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration recently granted approval to implant the lens, made of soft silicone.

Myers of Bloomfield Hills has clinics in Westland, Canton and Southfield.

The implant was developed in West Germany and has been implanted over the last five years in more than 400 patients in Europe.

MYERS FIRST made medical history was when he became the second surgeon in America to perform a special operation for the correction of nearsightedness. The procedure is now approved across the country.

Myers volunteered to perform 47 free cataract surgeries in conjunction with the Lions Club program. The two clubs joined forces with the doctor to seek out and provide free cataract operations to 47 individuals who couldn't otherwise afford the surgery.

The free surgery at St. Mary included pre- and post-operative care, hospital costs, anesthesia and medication.

Myers approached St. Mary Hospital, which agreed to provide its facilities free.

Three nurses — Lynn Dickinson, Sharon Hulzings and Katie Houlihan — assist Dr. William Myers in performing historic cataract surgery at St. Mary Hospital. The implant will do away with the clouding of the lens caused by cataracts. A macrolens and a beam of light from the doctor's microscope were used to photograph the eye (above right) during the operation.

Jobs sought for mentally retarded adults

By Susan Buck
staff writer

Putting the mentally retarded to work is the work of Peter Frey.

Frey is the newly hired director of the new ADAPT program based in Bryant School in Livonia. The program serves the mentally retarded in northwest Wayne County, including Canton and Plymouth.

ADAPT (Adults Developing Abilities, a Program of Transition) is a program to provide job training, support, skill development and assistance to adult mentally retarded people. It is targeted at people over age 26 for whom existing daytime programs are inappropriate or unavailable.

ADAPT is a project of the Association for Retarded Citizens/Northwest Communities/Business Ventures Corp., an advocate organization based in Redford. The program will serve Western Wayne County communities and western Detroit.

Frey, 31 and a Farmington resident, has plans to have 20 retarded people placed in jobs this year. ADAPT provides a trainer to work with the clients. There is no less than one trainer for four clients and sometimes the trainer works one on one, he said.

"When you consider how many mentally retarded people there are every two babies out of 100 are going to be born mentally retarded — that's a pretty large statistic. What you probably are doing is hiring a friend or a neighbor," he said.

THE OBSERVER & Eccentric Newspapers is the first employer in the area to hire a retarded person working under the ADAPT program.

The individual, a 43-year-old Redford resident, whom Frey identifies only as Bill, has been a two-route newspaper carrier in Livonia for a short, but so far, successful time. Frey accompanies him on his route.

"It usually takes about three hours to do the route that we had, but we did it in 2½ hours," Frey said.

ARC/Business Ventures Corp. has been in existence for five years.

Several years ago, the Business Ventures Corp. opened the Cambridge Club Restaurant in the Cambridge Center, a closed school building in Garden City.

"The problem was that they didn't accept any funding from any outside agency. They kept it in-house, and after 2½ years of very successful placement and track record they had to close because of lack of funds," Frey said.

Through the ADAPT program, Frey hopes to provide employees for businesses, some of which have high employee turnover. He said these high-turnover situations could be stabilized with mentally retarded people, who for the most part are noted for their job loyalty, responsibility and perseverance, and are looking for self-sufficiency.

"WE FOLLOW the dictates of Dr. Lou Brown of the University of Wisconsin, who has placed severe and profoundly mentally retarded people in such things as restaurants, hospitals, nursing care centers, doing various things — entry-level or simple, repetitive-type jobs, which often have high turnover.

"Most of our clientele and most of the mentally retarded fall into what we call the mildly retarded range. They're not that much different than you or I. Many of our trainees are coming straight out of vocational training and already have the skills needed for the job. The only thing they really need us for is to provide a trainer at that particular site until they become comfortable with that job."

"We will supply the employee with a trainer for as long as it takes the trainee to learn the job. Our goal is to match the mentally retarded individual to the job. They do work better than most people, because once they're trained in the task, they stay on that task. Their productivity becomes higher because they don't get burned out and lose interest in the task. And they stay on with that employer for years."

ADAPT can give an incentive to the employer in the form of deviated wages if the client doesn't quite measure up to regular productivity levels. If the trainee can do only half the work that is expected, ADAPT can pay a pro-rated wage. Many of the jobs are minimum-wage positions, but some will progress to higher pay levels, he said.

The development of work crews for janitorial, domestic services, gardening, catering assistants, auto maintenance, is another goal of the ADAPT program.

BEFORE HIS involvement with the mentally retarded, Frey spent five years as a retail worker for Stride Rite Corp.

"I woke up one morning at the end of my retail career and realized that I was no longer happy making money for other people, and I really didn't care about the monetary rewards I was getting. I went to my wife and said 'Dear, I'm quitting, and I'm going back to school.' She supported me during that time."

He began working part time as a direct-care worker for a group home in Farmington in 1981.

"I knew I wanted to do something different after retail, and the group home was right around the corner so I was able to walk to work. I guess you could say, I just got hooked.

"The biggest myth going around today is that the mentally retarded can't be assimilated into the community. All they really need is just a little extra help to get started."

Frey later went to work for New Horizons, a rehabilitation facility in Oakland County. He graduated cum laude from Mercy College in Detroit in 1985, with a bachelor's degree in political science/public administration.

His wife, Karen, does data processing for the Detroit Symphony. Both love to bicycle and will be re-joining the American Youth Hostels this year.

For further information about the ADAPT program, call Peter Frey at 422-8130.

Voters to decide drain commissioner's fate

By Teri Banas
staff writer

Wayne County residents will decide in November whether the county drain commissioner's office should be eliminated.

A proposal to put the issue on the ballot was approved Thursday by an 8-7 vote of the county commission.

The vote, the second attempt in a month by sponsors Milton Mack, D-Wayne, and commission Chairman John Hertel, D-Harper Woods, came after months of intense lobbying of the 15-member board.

Two western Wayne County commissioners, Kay Beard, D-Inkster, and Richard Manning, D-Redford-Township, proved to be the key votes. They abstained last month when the issue was brought to a vote but last week supported a compromise amendment.

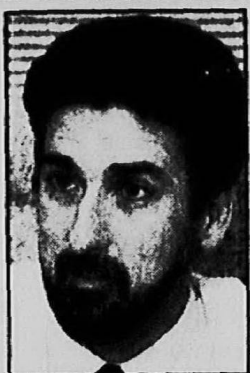

THE COMPROMISE, suggested by Beard, called for a November vote and a two-month delay before the drain commissioner would have to leave office, should voters approve ending the office.

Sponsors of the proposed charter change originally wanted the issue decided in the August primary to take effect immediately upon approval.

"Some of my concerns were answered and I offered the amendment to get this thing off dead center," Beard said.

Beard, whose district includes Garden City and Westland, said the August ballot, which typically draws far fewer voters than the general election and has a "bedsheet"-long list of candidates, was no place for

Milton Mack, D-Wayne, led the fight to put the issue on the ballot. He called the vote 'a victory for people in western Wayne County.'

John Hertel, co-sponsored the original resolution. He said the decision was 'the last major building block in county reform.'

Kay Beard, D-Inkster, who last month abstained, offered a compromise which she said answered her concerns.

Richard Manning, D-Redford, switched from abstention to yes and called for another commission investigation.

the charter-change request.

SHE SAID the November ballot would offer a broader sampling of voter opinion and might dampen potential legal challenges.

Beard said she preferred that the office be eliminated two months after the election to better accommodate the transition of a new administration.

Though drain commissioner Charles Youngblood was unavailable for comment last week, county officials said he is preparing a lawsuit challenging a decision to put the issue on the ballot.

According to the proposal, if voters approve, the elected office and its $41,686 salary would be eliminated and its functions absorbed into the Department of Public Works under the county executive.

VOTING FOR the ballot resolution were Mack, Hertel, Beard, Manning, Mary Dumas, R-Livonia; Edward Plawecki Jr., D-DeARBorn Heights; William Suzore, D-Taylor; and Curt Boller, D-Brownstown Township.

Opposed were Detroit Democrats Freddie Burton, Jackie Currie, Bernard Kilpatrick, Samuel Turner and Clarence Young and Hamtramck Democrat Stanley Rozycki.

Opponents argued for more time to study the ballot proposal. They said there was plenty of time (up to 60 days before an election) to place the measure on the November ballot.

Commissioner Mack, the principal promoter of the ballot drive, called Thursday's action "quite obviously a victory for people in western Wayne County."

Mack and Hertel argued that the drain commissioner's office should come under the direction of the county executive.

MACK SAID last week that county public service crews could complete drain cleanouts more economically and efficiently under the executive's department of public works than under the current drain commissioner system.

He said the change would provide needed "checks and balances" and coordination between departments.

Mack was grateful for Beard's compromise. "We could not have done it without her," he said. "People in her district are suffering at the hands of the drain commissioner as well."

Hertel predicted the issue would be approved by 70 percent or better of county voters.

"THIS IS the last major building block in county reform," he said. "The reform era is now completed."

Reformers have frequently talked about eliminating the drain commissioner's office but sentiment for such a move picked up steam late last year because of charges of questionable assessments for drain cleanouts to residents of far western Wayne County.

Longtime office-holder Charles N. Youngblood, the focus of continued criticism, did not return Observer calls last week regarding the ballot proposal.

On Thursday, commissioners Beard and Manning demanded that commissioners continue to look at complaints about the drain commission office and charges of improper bidding procedures and faulty book-keeping through a special commission investigation.

MANNING URGED a resolution calling for the probe into records and operations with a report to the full board within 45 days.

Approval by the commission apparently made unnecessary a petition drive initiated by County Executive Bill Lucas and picked up by county executive candidate Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara.

McNamara said he had collected more than the number (75,000) needed to place the proposal on the ballot by the early July deadline. McNamara said after the vote he was pleased the commission passed its version because it was the "better" plan. The Livonia mayor said he would not file the collected petitions for another spot on the November ballot.

Under the Lucas-McNamara plan, the drain commissioner could have stayed in office until 1988, even if voters approved ending the office.

Tax amnesty offices open

Tax amnesty offices will open throughout the state next week, making information about the program available to all Michigan residents, announced state Treasurer Robert Bowman.

"The local tax amnesty offices provide yet another outlet for information and will function as a local resource base," Bowman said. "It's one of the many steps we're taking to make it as easy as possible for individuals and companies to get tax amnesty before we crack down on cheaters."

The local offices are staffed by treasury department officials and offer forms, pamphlets and other amnesty-related material. The state also operates a toll-free telephone line to answer confidential questions about amnesty (1-800-I.O.Taxes).

Michigan's Tax Amnesty program, which runs now through June 30, allows delinquent taxpayers to pay back taxes without penalty or prosecution. The state hopes to collect $50 million in delinquent taxes during the amnesty period. When amnesty ends, fines and penalties double.

Citing the tougher penalties and treasury's increased enforcement staff, Bowman is warning delinquent taxpayers to "Get to us before we get to you," which is the theme of the program.

How to recognize a quack when you see one.

Quack medical products... They're everything from baldness remedies to cancer cures. All eventually prove to be a waste of money, many actually pose a serious threat to your health.

How do you distinguish a quack medical product from the real thing? For a start, if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is. Quack medical products usually claim simple solutions, miracle cures, or amazing scientific breakthroughs. Many flaunt testimonials from satisfied users. To be sure whether a medical product is a quack, check with your doctor or pharmacist first. Because the next dead duck could be you.

Why Plymouth has so many lilac bushes

The Plymouth Garden Club celebrated its golden anniversary on May 5 with a luncheon at the Mayflower Meeting House. Among those present was charter member Louise Tritten.

The club, whose full name is "Plymouth Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association," came into being in the spring of 1936. Louise and her mother, Alma Spicer, got the idea of organizing a garden club that year when visiting a garden show in Detroit.

Their friend, Bernice Wiedman, wife of the local Ford dealer, joined them in calling the first meeting, held at the Wiedman home on Blunk Street.

The club was sponsored by Clara B. Ford, wife of the auto magnate, who was known for her love of gardening at Fairlane in Dearborn. Mrs. Wiedman was the club's first president.

AN OLD JOURNAL which records the minutes of the club from May 4, 1936, to Jan. 6, 1941, indicates that nine women were present at the first meeting.

The first officers, in addition to Mrs. Wiedman, were secretary Alma Spicer, treasurer Louise Tritten, program chairwoman Mrs. Ray Johns and corresponding secretary Margaret Hough.

Mrs. Wiedman remained president through 1939 when she was succeeded by Mrs. Clarence Elliott, wife of the city manager.

It was reported in 1938 that there were 1,280 members of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association in Michigan. During a drive to double the membership, Mrs. Wiedman personally organized branches in Belleville, Ann Arbor and Muskegon.

Louise Tritten and her mother, Alma, were instrumental in forming chapters in Northville and Rosedale Gardens. The Plymouth Club also sponsored branches at Lake Pointe and Apple Run.

Early projects included landscaping the grounds at Bartlett School, and attempting to beautify Tonquish Creek. The latter project was hindered by a court case involving the creek in 1936.

The club supported the drive of the Roadside Improvement Committee of the Federated Garden Clubs of past and present

Sam Hudson

Michigan to get legislation for the elimination of billboards on the roadsides of the state. In 1940, at Mrs. Wiedman's suggestion, the club sent a letter to the City Commission asking it to cut weeds on all vacant lots within the city limits.

An entry in the minutes on Feb. 7, 1938, when Dorothy Woodbury was secretary, notes that "Lilacs and roses were brought here by the first townsmen." (It was more likely townswomen.)

At the Feb. 14 meeting, Mrs. Charles H. Bennett, wife of the president of the Daisy Manufacturing Company, a member of the planting sub-committee of the City Planning Commission, told the group that the committee had chosen lilac as the city plant. The club liked the idea and recommended it to the City Planning Commission.

A GARDEN CLUB member, Ruth Huston Whipple, became Plymouth's first woman mayor in 1940.

During her two years in office she encouraged the planting of 1,250 lilac bushes in an attempt to make Plymouth the city of lilacs. She also fought to protect trees marked for destruction by commercial expansion.

Past presidents of the Garden Club have included spouses of a number of government officials, including the wives of Village Manager Sidney Strong, City Manager Clarence Elliott, Mayor Carl Shear and Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay.

At a meeting in June 1937, the club decided to raise funds for its treasury by buying 40 dozen iris from Harvey Whipple at a special price of 50 cents a dozen, and selling them at $1 a dozen.

At a meeting in February 1938, the petunia was adopted as the club flower on a motion by Louise Tritten, and a club library of garden books was started on a motion by her mother, Alma Spicer.

In the early days, the club had as guest speakers a variety of experts on horticultural subjects, including representatives of seed manufacturers, greenhouses and county extension services. All of the early meetings were held at the homes of members.

THE CLUB ATTEMPTED to start a junior garden club at one stage in its development but gave up the idea when told that it was against the rules of a higher echelon.

Over the years, however, the Plymouth Garden Club has encouraged education in gardening for the young. It sponsored a seedling program for second graders, instructed children in planting and care of plants, and gave talks on how plants attract wildlife to residential yards.

It has contributed gardening books to the Dunning Hough Library, donated money to help beautify Kellogg Park, and made annual plantings at the library grounds and at Pointe Park in Old Village. It has sponsored house and garden walks, Christmas home tours, fall bazaars and spring plant sales.

The club also participated in the City's Adopt-a-Park program, giving funds to landscape and equip the Plymouth Garden Club Park at the corner of Sutherland and Forest Avenues.

In 1984 it began administering a special scholarship awarded annually in memory of Mabel Lorenz, a long-time club member.

Officers of the Garden Club for 1985-86 are president Evelyn Gilbert, vice president Betty Norman, recording secretary Elaine Pierce, corresponding secretary Betty Hees, treasurer Janet Morton and director Nancy Schwartzwelter. Doris Richard and Pat Scott chaired the 50th anniversary luncheon.

Reader supports tall flagpoles

To the editor:
I read with interest the story which appeared in the Observer May 5 regarding the controversy over the height of a flagpole to fly the American flag at Jerry's Bicycle Shop. Having served in World War II in the South Pacific, I know the meaning and feeling of patriotism. I know it's worth fighting for, whether it be the building inspector, the planning commission or whoever. The young men who raised the flag at Iwo Jima gave no thought, or cared, about a permit. The height of the pole was the longest they could find. At the last 4th of July parade in Plymouth, I was astonished and saddened to see the display of lack of patriotism when the Honor Guard passed carrying the American flag, when hardly anyone stood up in respect. Those already standing continued their conversations, or whatever, with their friends.

Was this indifference, ignorance, or lack of patriotism? I personally would like to see every business in the city and township of Plymouth fly Old Glory 100 feet high.

Having been in the position of knowing first-hand what the flag represents, I say "Jerry, God Bless You!"

Reader urges boycott

To the editor:
While reading the April 24 edition of your newspaper, something caught my eye in the "Excursions" column. I noticed that there were two different groups sponsoring a guided tour of the Upjohn Pharmaceutical Co. in Kalamazoo.

I submit the following information for the groups sponsoring the tours and also for those who are considering the trip.

Upjohn is the only American pharmaceutical company, which supplies Prostins (prostaglandins) for use in second trimester abortions. Upjohn admits that 2 percent of the 1.5 million abortions performed each year in the United States are prostaglandin abortions. In 1980, Upjohn profited from the deaths of at least 9,603 unborn children.

Upjohn has been and remains the principal supplier of research prostaglandins in the world, and has provided research dollars toward using prostaglandins in early first trimester abortions. To preclude this expansion of abortion markets, pro-life citizens have continued to boycott Upjohn products.

There will be a "Boycott Upjohn Rally" in Kalamazoo - International headquarters of the Upjohn Co., May 19, noon to 3 p.m. For more information, call Right to Life, Lifespan Inc. at 422-6230.

CONTROLLING THE PAIN OF ARTHRITIS

The sources of pain in arthritis are many. First, there is inflammation, which produces a throbbing and continuous pain. Second, there is strain on the muscles, which surround the involved joints. This discomfort is aching, and gives one the sense of fatigue. A third source comes from the irritation which settles in tendons that anchor near inflamed joints. Such irritation results in a dull pain, often most annoying at night. Fourth, there is the intense piercing pain that occurs when joint capsules are distended by the production of excessive joint fluid.

As the causes of arthritic pain are diverse, so may be the treatments. Therapies that are effective against one type of pain, may not work well against other sources. Medication may be useful to stop inflammation. Rest is the best way to blunt muscle strain, while heat gives the most help to tendons. Needle aspiration is the treatment of choice to relieve the effects of fluid distending a joint.

Since several sources of pain may be acting at once, it is fortunate that these methods of treatment may be used together.

SUMMER...THINK SALADS

From the first breath of spring to the first fall chill, thoughts are focused on the special joys of the sun-drenched season — vacations, fun-filled weekends or just occasional lazy days to spend at the beach or in a hammock under a tree. Thoughts turn, too, to the salads of summer — so cool, so refreshing, and as appealing to the eye as to the palate.

Gone are the days when a salad consisted of a few limp leaves of lettuce topped with a pale slice of tomato. Today, the salads of summer are often main dish entrees featuring meat, poultry, seafood or pasta, plus various fruits and vegetables, the whole enhanced by any one of a myriad of delicious salad dressings conveniently bottled and standing ready on the pantry shelf.

A different commercial dressing provides the "seasoning" in each of the following recipes. All contain a blend of spices and herbs for a perfect balance of color, taste and texture. There is a vast variety of flavor choices among the "pourables," "spoonables" and dry-mix dressings available in today's supermarket.

Another pantry item that adds a fresh, sweet touch to an entree salad is cling peaches. Use your favorite type and taste — packed as halves, slices or in fruit cocktail, regular or light, in juice or with extra-light syrup. Peaches are picked at the peak of freshness for best flavor and greatest nutrition retention.

An always welcome companion to the summer salad bowl is the frosty, iced tea pitcher. Truly refreshing because it is non-sweet and non-carbonated, iced tea has a clean, fresh taste that goes well with all types of dishes. Make it with a quality brand following one of the easy methods below.

SEA FARE SALAD

- 2 cans (16 oz each) California cling peach halves in juice or extra light syrup
- 1/2 cup buttermilk-style dressing
- 1/4 cup diced English cucumber
- 1/4 teaspoon dill weed
- 1/2 lb. imitation crabmeat
- 1/2 cup thinly sliced celery
- 1/4 cup sliced green onion
- 1/4 cup sliced green olives
- 1 head butter lettuce
- Thinly sliced English cucumber*

Drain peach halves reserving liquid for other uses. Combine buttermilk-style dressing with cucumber and dill, chill. Combine crab, celery, onion and olives. To serve, line plates with lettuce leaves. Place 2 peach halves on each plate. Top with crab mixture and drizzle with dressing. Makes 5 servings.

*Garnish with cucumber if desired.

MARINATED CHICKEN BREAST SALAD

THREE EASY WAYS

The Cold Water Way: Fill a quart jar or pitcher with cold water. Add 8 to 10 teabags (remove tags). Cover and store in refrigerator at least 6 hours or overnight. Remove bags, squeezing against side of container. Makes 1 quart. Recipe may be doubled.

The Instant Way: Allow 2 rounded tablespoons of instant tea powder for each quart of cold water. Stir to dissolve. If using a flavored iced tea mix, use 1/2 cup (or 2 envelopes) to a quart of cold water.

The Traditional Way: Bring 1 quart of cold water to a full boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat and immediately add 15 teabags or 1/3 cup loose tea leaves. Stir, cover and let stand 5 minutes. Stir again and strain into a pitcher holding another quart of cold water. Makes 2 quarts.

Michigan asparagus — an all-edible delight

Most asparagus buffs probably don't know or even care that the ancient Greeks used the word "asparagus" to refer to all tender shoots picked and savored while very young.

All that matters to asparagus lovers is that the fresh season in Michigan is upon us, a six-week stretch where they can't get enough of the aristocrat of vegetables.

To most consumers, a typical asparagus stalk picked out in a supermarket ranges from seven to 10 inches in length — that's where the Greeks are right. Left unpicked, certain strains of asparagus can grow from six to 10 feet high.

The asparagus season is a true sign of spring in Michigan, which ranks third in the nation in asparagus production with an average annual crop of over 20 million pounds.

A unique feature of Michigan-grown asparagus is that it is snap-harvested, meaning that you won't see the white, woody ends that end up in the store from asparagus that is cut in the field. It's an all-edible product with very little waste.

MICHIGAN'S ASPARAGUS season generally runs from the beginning of May through mid-June, when residents of Oceana County, dubbed the nation's Asparagus Capital, celebrate the National Asparagus Festival. The dates for this year's event are June 12-15 in Hart and Shelby. Let's look at just a few of the ways asparagus can be used.

ORIENTAL BEEF AND ASPARAGUS

1 1/2 lbs. round steak, 1/2-inch thick
1/2 cup soy sauce
1 1/2 tsp. sugar
3 Tbsp. sherry or water
2 lbs. fresh asparagus, cut into 1-inch pieces
1/4 cup vegetable oil
8 oz. fresh mushrooms, sliced, or 1 8-ounce can mushroom slices, drained

Remove fat from meat. Cutting across grain, slice meat into thin 2-inch strips. Meat may be semi-frozen for easy slicing. Mix soy sauce, sugar and sherry with meat, stirring well to coat all pieces. Set aside. Cook fresh asparagus in boiling water 4 minutes or until crisp-tender; drain. Heat 2 tablespoons of the oil in large skillet over medium high heat. Add asparagus and mushrooms and stir-fry for 2 minutes; remove from skillet. Heat remaining oil in skillet. Add drained meat and stir-fry until meat is cooked but still juicy. Add asparagus, mushrooms and drained marinate, stir-fry entire mixture for another 2 minutes or until hot. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

ASPARAGUS WITH TANGY SAUCE

1 1/2 lbs. fresh asparagus spears
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. prepared mustard

Cook asparagus in boiling water until tender; drain. Place in serving dish. While cooking asparagus, combine remaining ingredients in small saucepan. Heat over low heat, stirring frequently, until thoroughly heated. Pour over hot asparagus or serve as a sauce in a dish. Makes 6 servings.

MARINATED ASPARAGUS SALAD

2 cups cooked asparagus pieces
1 small red onion, thinly sliced
1 or 2 tomatoes, chopped
Salt and pepper to taste
Italian salad dressing

Combine all ingredients with enough salad dressing to moisten well. Stir gently. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Stir again before serving. Makes about 6 servings.

GOLDEN ASPARAGUS SUPREME

1/2 cup cracker crumbs
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine, melted
1 1/2 lbs. fresh asparagus, cut into 1-inch pieces
6 oz. process pimento cheese, cut in pieces
4 oz. cream cheese, cut in pieces
1/3 cup butter or margarine
3 Tbsp. all-purpose flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups milk

Combine cracker crumbs and the 2 tablespoons butter, set aside. Cook fresh asparagus in boiling water 4 minutes or until crisp-tender; drain. Arrange asparagus in buttered 1-quart baking dish; set aside. Melt the 1/3 cup butter in saucepan. Stir in flour and salt. Add milk and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and starts to boil. Add cheeses and continue cooking and stirring until cheese is melted, remove from heat. Pour sauce over asparagus and sprinkle evenly with prepared crumbs. Bake in 350 degrees oven about 30 minutes or until sauce is bubbly and hot and crumbs are browned. Makes 6 servings.

ASPARAGUS SOUR CREAM DIP

1/4 lb. fresh asparagus, cut into 1-inch pieces
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1 1/2 tsp. grated onions
1/2 tsp. garlic salt
1/4 tsp. seasoning salt

Cook asparagus in small amount of boiling water until tender. Drain and cool. Puree asparagus in blender. Combine asparagus with remaining ingredients. Chill thoroughly. Serve as a dip with fresh vegetables or crackers. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Kabobs go microwave in a snap

Turn off that hot oven and put away the boiler pan, kabobs can be prepared in the microwave oven. A few simple suggestions will make microwave kabob cooking easy.

• Bamboo skewers or toothpicks which can be purchased at many grocery or department stores are ideal for cooking kabobs in the microwave oven.

• Fresh kabob vegetables will cook more evenly if they are pre-cooked separately. The vegetables then only need reheating when placed on the skewers with the meat.

• Canned fruits such as pineapple, apricots, etc. that only need reheating can be cooked on the skewers at the same time as the meat.

• Cook kabobs on a microwave-safe rack or hang across a microwave-safe shallow baking dish.

The Apricot Chicken Kabobs recipe can be served as appetizers or for variety, use long bamboo skewers and serve this recipe as a main dish.

APRICOT CHICKEN KABOBS

1 can (16 oz.) apricot halves, drained and cut in half (reserve 1/2 cup juice)
2 tsp. cornstarch
2 Tbsp. packed light brown sugar
2 Tbsp. soy sauce
1 pkg. (12 oz.) breaded chicken nuggets (thawed 20 minutes)

In a small microwave-safe bowl, combine reserved apricot juice and cornstarch. Stir in sugar and soy sauce. Heat covered on HIGH 1 to 2 minutes or until bubbly and slightly thickened, stirring once. On toothpicks, place nuggets and apricot halves. Brush with juice mixture. Place on microwave-safe plate. Heat on HIGH 4 to 5 minutes, rearranging twice. Makes about 34 appetizers.

Quick breads are easy for kids to bake

A golden-brown loaf of quick bread can be a great source of pride for beginning bakers. Easier and less-time consuming to prepare than yeast breads, quick breads offer boys and girls the opportunity to master a number of basic baking skills. Just imagine the satisfaction your child will feel when that first fragrant loaf comes out of the oven!

Explain to first-timers that baking is a science as well as a skill. To ensure successful results, all ingredients must be carefully measured using standard measuring equipment. Coffee cups and spoons used for eating vary greatly in size and must not be substituted for the correct "tools of the trade." Review the following measuring procedures with your youngster before you begin your quick-bread baking adventure.

• Spoon dry ingredients such as flour, sugar and nuts into the correct size measuring cup level with a straight-edged metal spatula or knife.

• Pour liquids into a clear measuring cup with a spout. Place the cup on a level surface and fill to the correct line, checking at eye level for accuracy.

• Pack brown sugar, soft margarine and peanut butter firmly into the correct size measuring cup and level with a straight-edged spatula

Banana, peanut butter flavors will thrill or knife. Firmly packing these ingredients forces the air out and will ensure an accurate measure.

• Dip the correct size measuring spoon into foods such as baking powder, soda and spices level with the edge of a metal spatula.

WHILE PREPARING quick breads, junior cooks may encounter unfamiliar recipe terms. Assist with "translating" these terms at the appropriate time.

• Greased and floured loaf pan. Grease the inside of the pan with shortening using paper towel or wax paper. Spoon about a tablespoon of flour into the pan. Tilt, turn and tap the pan lightly to coat bottom and sides. Invert the pan and tap out excess flour.

• Add dry ingredients alternately with liquid ingredients. Add the dry ingredients (usually a flour mixture) in four equal parts and the liquid in three parts. Begin and end with the dry mixture. Stir after each addition until all ingredients are well-blended.

• Bake until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Using pot holders or oven mitts, quickly open oven door and pull rack out. Insert a wooden pick into the center of the loaf and remove it. If batter clings to the pick, bake the loaf a few minutes longer before retesting.

MILDLY SWEET and fragrant, Banana Nut Bread is just right for breakfast, as a lunchbox treat, for snacking or dessert. A good "first loaf" for beginning bakers, this recipe streamlines the way to buttery flavor and tender texture with squeeze margarine, an easy, convenient product for children to use. One stick of regular margarine may be substituted in this recipe, but it must first be melted then cooled to room temperature before using.

For the best banana flavor, have youngsters use fruit that is very ripe and soft. Bananas that are overripe, with spotty, brown skins are just fine — they're the most flavorful and easiest to mash.

BANANA NUT BREAD

1 loaf
About 2 ripe medium bananas
1/2 cup margarine
3/4 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups flour
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder

1/2 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Take out:
Glass and metal measuring cups
Straight-edged metal spatula or knife
Measuring spoons
Shortening and paper towel
9 x 5-inch loaf pan
Small, medium and large mixing bowls
Fork
Wooden spoon
Rubber scraper
Pot holders or oven mitts
Wooden pick
Wire cooling rack

1. Grease and flour loaf pan. In small mixing bowl, mash bananas, one at a time, using fork. Measure 1 cup mashed bananas.
2. In large mixing bowl, combine margarine and sugar. Blend in eggs and vanilla. In medium mixing bowl, combine flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and cinnamon.
3. Add flour mixture to large bowl alternately with bananas. Mix well after each addition. Stir in nuts. Pour into prepared pan.
4. Bake at 350 degrees, 55 to 60 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Remove pan of bread from oven. Cool 5 minutes on wire cooling rack. Remove bread from pan and continue cooling on wire cooling rack.

PEANUT BUTTER ranks high on any list of kids' favorites. Peanut Lover's Bread, a hearty quick-bread loaf that's chock-full of peanut butter, will rate rave reviews — especially when slices are spread with grape jelly.

The rich flavor of this luscious loaf is enhanced with buttery tasting margarine, which contributes to the tender texture, as well. Have junior bakers soften margarine to room temperature before combining with other recipe ingredients for easy mixing. This will take about 30 minutes after removing it from the refrigerator.

Explain to boys and girls that proper storage is necessary to retain the moist texture and great flavor of any quick-bread loaf after serving. The bread must first be completely cooled. If it will be eaten within a day or two, have youngsters slip it into a plastic bag, press out air and close the bag with a twist tie. For longer storage, have them wrap the bread securely in moisture vapor-proof wrap and freeze.

PEANUT LOVER'S BREAD

1 loaf
1/2 cup margarine

1 cup sugar
3/4 cup chunk-style peanut butter
2 eggs
2 cups flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1 1/4 cups milk

Take out:
Cutting board and small sharp knife
Metal and glass measuring cups
Spatula
Measuring spoons
Shortening and paper towel
9 x 5-inch loaf pan
Large and medium mixing bowls
Wooden spoon
Pot holders or oven mitts
Wooden pick
Wire cooling rack

1. Grease 9 x 5-inch loaf pan with shortening.

2. In large mixing bowl, beat margarine and sugar until light and fluffy, using wooden spoon. Blend in peanut butter and eggs. Combine flour, baking powder and salt in medium mixing bowl. Add flour mixture to large bowl alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition.

3. Pour into prepared pan. Bake at 350 degree, 60 to 65 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center come out clean.

4. Remove pan of bread from oven. Cool 5 minutes on wire cooling rack. Remove bread from pan and cool completely on wire cooling rack. Serve with grape jelly.

IF ONLY THE GOVERNMENT SPENT OUR TAX DOLLARS AS SCRUPULOUSLY AS THEY COLLECT THEM.

Last year, the federal government collected over $300 billion in personal income taxes.

Money that was used to take care of the needy. To run the country. And to protect it. But that's not all it was used for.

LAST OF THE BIG-TIME SPENDERS.

Your taxes also went to pay $435 for a $7 hammer. $7,417 for a 1-cent pin. And $511 for a 60-cent light bulb.

In a single year, the government gives away over $5 billion in benefit payments. Totally by mistake.

And the government not managing its money properly costs taxpayers over $2 billion every year.

These incidents of inefficiency and mismanagement are so vast they could fill a book. (To be exact, they fill over 21,000 pages of documents in the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control.)

Yet as wasteful as they are, they're not the problem, just the symptoms.

The problem is a system of inefficient government procedures and practices that allows them to happen. Out-dated policies and controls that are out of control and threatening the interests of all Americans.

IS AMERICA GOING TO WASTE AWAY?

America is staring straight down the barrel of a financial disaster. The federal deficit is closing in on $200 billion a year. The national debt has already reached an unimaginable $1.8 trillion.

One of our only chances to head off disaster is to stop wasting our tax dollars.

That's why we formed Citizens Against Government Waste.

WHO AND WHAT IS CITIZENS AGAINST GOVERNMENT WASTE?

Citizens Against Government Waste is a non-profit educational foundation made up of concerned citizens. Democrats, Republicans, Conservatives, Liberals.

Taxpayers just like you, who are extremely concerned with how their tax money is being mismanaged.

To that end, we've established a toll-free phone number: 1-800-USA-DEBT. By calling it, you can receive information that will give you a better understanding of the real magnitude and consequences of government waste. And what you can actually do about it.

So call, or write us at 1511 K Street, N.W., Suite 540, Washington, D.C. 20005. Please.

Because our country can't afford this. And neither can you.

'Golden' years often short on gold

By Julie Brown
staff writer

ALTHOUGH THEIR stories were different, there were certain common threads. Older women are more likely than men to be living alone. They are more likely than their male counterparts to find themselves dependent on Social Security as their only source of income. Their years of homemaking and child-raising often mean that they find themselves without an adequate source of income in their later years.

It's a media-generated myth that large numbers of older people are extremely well-to-do, said Virginia Nicoll, president of the Farmington chapter of the Older Women's League.

"Well, of course that isn't true and it especially isn't true of older women."

Older women "are in extremely dire straits," Nicoll said. "It's a disgrace that a country that's as rich as ours should allow such a condition to exist."

NICOLL WAS one of those who appeared Thursday before members of the Michigan Women's Commission's Task Force on Older Women's Issues. In addition to her comments, Nicoll, who is a member of the task force, also submitted a formal report on poverty as it relates to older women.

The task force members came to UAW Local 735 in Canton Township to conduct a hearing on the economic status of older women in Michigan.

At the Canton Township hearing, Nicoll told task force members that the median income for women age 65 and older is $6,020, compared to $10,450 for men in that age group. Income in retirement for women is 58 percent of that for men.

That figure shouldn't be a surprising one, Nicoll said; it corresponds to the share of men's income that women who are in the labor force receive.

In order for the problem of older women's poverty to be addressed, women need more money during their working years, she said. They also need credit under the Social Security system for their years of homemaking and child-raising.

The hearing at UAW Local 735 in Canton Township was the last of five such hearings held throughout the state. Similar hearings were held in Lansing, Grayling, Detroit and Marquette.

The hearing in Canton Township was held to gather testimony from the surrounding area, said Earlene Neal, director of programs for the Michigan Women's Commission.

THE HEARINGS have focused on three economic areas as they relate to older women: the availability and impact of pension systems, employment and training programs, and health insurance.

The testimony given at UAW Local 735 last Thursday varied, including both the personal stories of older women and statistical information on their economic problems.

Several women spoke on the health insurance issue, both from a personal perspective and from a more general one.

"It's a different world," said Patty Clare, who serves on the task force and is the founder of a support/information group for those who get divorced at age 60 or later. "You gave everything for your husband's career."

Women who become divorced in their later years often find themselves without adequate health insurance, Clare said, at a time just when they need it most.

Although she is not poor, a serious health problem "could wipe out my whole settlement and then I'm on Medicaid and poverty," Clare said.

Nicoll, from the Farmington chapter of the Older Women's League, said that approximately 3 1/2 million U.S. women between the ages of 45 and 65 have no basic health insurance.

"If you're not employed or if you lose your husband through death or divorce, then you lose your health insurance," Nicoll said.

ALTHOUGH MEDICARE and Medicaid do cover some health care expenses, their coverage isn't as extensive as many believe, according to Kathleen Gmeiner, staff attorney for Michigan Legal Services. Those younger than 65 aren't eligible for the Medicare program. The income restrictions of the Medicaid program put its coverage out of the reach of many.

For older women, the primary health care need is for treatment of chronic health problems that may not require extensive hospitalization, the Older Women's League's Nicoll said.

"We fail miserably to provide that for older women."

The Michigan Legislature, in its 1985-86 budget, directed that the Michigan Women's Commission study the three areas of health insurance, availability and impact of pension systems, and employment/training programs.

The commission will include the testimony gathered throughout the state during the hearings in its report, which is to be presented to the Legislature before Oct. 1 of this year.

Hearings were held "to gather testimony from different areas that we could use in the report," said Neal, the commission's director of programs.

Turnout at the hearings has been fairly low throughout the state, she said.

"BUT I would like to say we've had excellent testimony," Neal attributed the fairly low turnout to reluctance on the part of older women to tell their stories in public.

"It's a matter of pride, with older women in particular. Also, a lot of people are intimidated by public speaking."

The commission's Task Force on Older Women's Issues includes 33 representatives, both from the private and the public sector. Four state legislators — Senators John Engler (R-Mount Pleasant) and Jack Faxon (D-Farmington Hills) and Representatives Justine Barns (D-Westland) and Shirley Johnson (R-Royal Oak) — serve on the task force.

The Michigan Women's Commission will accept written testimony up to May 15. Written testimony should be sent to: Michigan Women's Commission, Department of Management and Budget, North Ottawa Building, P.O. Box 30026, Lansing, Mich. 48909.

As the deadline for written testimony has neared, more of it has been coming in, Neal said.

"I am getting more written testimony."

The Farmington chapter of the Older Women's League was represented by Virginia Nicoll at the Michigan Women's Commission hearing.

Older women often find themselves without adequate provisions for health care, according to Kathleen Gmeiner, staff attorney for Michigan Legal Services. Earlene Neal, director of programs for the Michigan Women's Commission (front row), and others listen to Gmeiner's comments.

Midlife and older women often find themselves facing the responsibility of caring for older relatives who are in poor health. Marie Hayes testifies about caring for her elderly mother.

Caution call

Residents learn to be safe and secure

By Julie Brown
staff writer

For a group of Plymouth residents, learning to be more independent — and safe — was the topic for discussion during a recent afternoon.

"We want you to think when you're out walking on the street," Officer Robert Scoggins of the Plymouth City Police Department told those residents. "Look around. You've got to look at everything that's out in front of you."

Scoggins spoke last Wednesday to a group of people with mild and moderate retardation at the Plymouth Opportunity House. The 15 residents met with the Plymouth officer to learn about dealing with strangers.

The officer began his discussion of dealing with strangers by asking the residents just what a stranger is and why it's important to be careful around strangers.

"Why do we have to be careful of strangers? They might hurt you."

When approached by a stranger, it's important to get away from that person quickly, no matter how nice he or she appears to be, Scoggins told the residents.

"WHAT YOU should always do is just say no and walk away as quickly as possible. You want to stay away from them."

If they're close to the police station, they can go inside and report their problem, he said.

"All you need to do is come in and tell the policeman : : the desk." If residents are closer to the Opportunity House when they find themselves in a problem situation, they can return there.

Traveling in pairs or groups is also a good idea, Scoggins said.

"That's the way we want it."

If they're approached by a nice-looking person in Plymouth's Kellogg Park who tries to sell them a radio, it's important to say no, the officer told the residents.

"You don't buy things like that from people. You just say no and walk away from them."

Scoggins also briefly reviewed the content of his last presentation at Plymouth Opportunity House, which focused on the rights and responsibilities of the residents.

Everybody in the house has to follow its rules, he said, "just like everybody has to follow the law." Hitting isn't the way to solve problems in the house or anywhere else.

"POLICEMEN DON'T have the right to hit other people either, unless they're trying to protect themselves. It's against the law for a policeman to walk up and hit you with no reason. People do not have the right to hit other people."

The way to solve problems is through discussion, he said.

Residents should first approach the other resident who is causing the problem. If that doesn't work, a staff member at the house should be approached.

The program last Wednesday was designed to help the residents become more independent, said Scottie Martin Dunn, social worker at Plymouth Opportunity House. It's helpful to have an outside person who is an authority figure speak to the residents, she said.

"We're trying to encourage them to be more independent. We thought this would be a good topic."

In addition to the earlier presentation by Scoggins on rights and responsibilities, Officer Robert Henry did a program at Plymouth Opportunity House on traffic safety.

Volunteers given heartfelt thanks

They've worked hard this year, giving many hours of their time to help other adults learn to read.

Last Wednesday night, it was time to say "thank you" for those efforts.

The Community Literacy Council held an appreciation dinner last Wednesday at the Starkweather Center in Plymouth. Those who have given of their time and talents were recognized at the dinner.

The volunteer tutors have been working on a one-on-one basis with area residents, helping them learn to read.

"We really appreciate what you have done," said Mary Kay Frey, adult basic education teacher for Plymouth-Canton Community Education, a service of the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. "We know it has been very time-consuming for you, and it hasn't always been easy."

The hours the volunteers have spent tutoring have been appreciated by their students, Frey said.

"TO GIVE of your time in that manner is really commendable. I want you to know that we too appreciate what you have done."

Larry Masteller, director of Plymouth-Canton Community Education, agreed with Frey.

"We're blessed in this community to have people who care," he said. "Certainly, this is one occasion where you folks should be applauded for your efforts."

The Community Literacy Council was formed last fall. Its purpose is to help non-reading adults develop reading skills.

During last Wednesday's dinner, a promo tape from ABC and PBS on illiteracy was shown. The tape covered some of the programming ABC and PBS have planned for the fall as a cooperative venture to help make people more aware of illiteracy problems in the U.S.

Increasing public awareness at the local level is also essential, said Sharon Streen, assistant director of Plymouth-Canton Community Education.

"We have a lot to do in terms of increasing the level of awareness."

A GROUP of area residents, representing business and industry, the clergy, the press, local government, the libraries and others, met April 9 to learn more about local illiteracy problems. Having those points of view is essential in dealing with illiteracy problems on the local level, Streen told those at the dinner.

"We're trying to get a lot of perspectives involved in the issues of literacy," she said. "We are a community-based action group, so we are well-placed."

Tutors who were honored at the Wednesday night program were: Elizabeth Barker, Nona Barron, Dee Bashor, Dottie Beckman, Marie Bookless, Alice Brown, Lynn Cag, Greet Collins, Lorraine Daly, Madelyn Deedler, George Fisher, Sherry Floyd, Mary Kay Frey, Mary Greene, Linda Haerberle, Gayle Krupin, Mary Claire Mahaney and Susan Martel.

Canton jolts Hawks, 4-3

Jim Hayes had it figured about right.

"I thought our doubles would win for us if we could get some help at singles," said the longtime Plymouth Canton tennis coach.

The Canton doubles teams swept all three matches and Don Cavell squeezed out a point at No. 4 singles enabling the Chiefs to upset defending Western Lakes champion Farmington Harrison 4-3 Thursday.

"Every point against Farmington Harrison was going to be important," Hayes said. "It was a good tennis match between two good tennis teams."

Both teams were unbeaten entering the match.

The win gives Canton the dual meet title in the Western Division. North Farmington is the dual meet champ in the Lakes as they nipped Livonia Stevenson 4-3 on Wednesday.

The Western Lakes conference meet will commence Tuesday. The Western Division teams (Canton, Harrison, Walled Lake Western, Northville, Livonia Churchill and Livonia Franklin) will battle at Canton, while the Lakes Division teams (John Glenn, North Farmington, Livonia Stevenson, Plymouth Salem, Walled Lake Central and Farmington) will play at Walled Lake Central.

The conference finals will be played at Canton Wednesday.

tennis

FOUR-OF the seven Harrison-Canton matches went three sets, the most critical being the No. 4 singles match. Canton's Cavell outlasted David Jaffe, 6-1, 5-7, 6-3.

Harrison won at Nos. 1, 2, and 3 singles with Ken Davidson, Mark Rakoczy and Bill Brockhaus, respectively.

"They have some quality people at the top," Hayes said of those three.

Canton's No. 1 doubles team, Jeff Fitzryk and Sung Woo Kahng, nipped Brian Frederick and Jeff Levin, 6-3, 6-7, 6-4.

At No. 3 doubles, Jim Gallagher and Rich Gurchak surprised Harrison's David Levin and Aaron Tam, 6-2, 4-6, 7-5.

Ehren Koelsch and Steve Schmidt won in straight sets at No. 2, 7-5, 6-1.

Both Canton and Harrison face a serious problem entering the conference tournament: each other. The two will have to battle each other in divisional play and will have a difficult task advancing all their players into the finals.

North, Stevenson, and Plymouth Salem will battle in the Lakes Division.

"We've got a real tough divi-

Canton kickers nip Pats, advance

Plymouth Canton stayed alive in the state high school soccer tournament with a 4-2 overtime win against Livonia Franklin Friday night.

Beth Frigge's second goal of the game, with under five minutes left to play in regulation, sent the game into OT.

With two minutes left in the first overtime period, Trish Greenhalge finished off a pretty passing play from Michelle Lonigro and Kendra Whiteley by heading the ball into the goal.

Canton added an insurance marker in the second OT on a goal from Whiteley.

The Chiefs (8-5-1) will host Ann Arbor Huron Friday in a pre-regional match. Game time will be announced today.

SALEM 9, W.L. WESTERN 1: Julie Tortora scored three goals and Jennifer Belhart added a pair as Plymouth Salem cruised to victory Wednesday.

Michelle Cygan, Jill Estey, Suzi Balconi and Missy Smith scored the other Rocks goals. Teri King added a pair of assists.

The Rocks are 9-2-1.

TON 0: Chalk up a sweep of the city soccer title for Farmington. The boys won the mythical Farmington title in the fall, the girls took their end of it Friday.

Cyndi Reiden handled all eight shots fired at her and fullbacks Karen Popky, Jennifer Cunningham and Katie McDonald kept the Raiders away from the goal to record the shutout.

Laurie Dingle scored all three goals for the Falcons (6-7). Denise Nyborg, Cunningham and Leslie Martin each earned an assist.

The Falcons, who lost to Northville 3-0 on Wednesday, will play Dearborn Fordson at 4 p.m. Tuesday at the Detroit College of Business Field in a pre-regional match.

CHURCHILL 4, N. FARMINGTON 0: Livonia Churchill fended off a spirited North Farmington team Wednesday to remain unbeaten (13-0-1).

The Chargers, ranked No. 1 in both the state and Observerland polls, got goals from Amy Weber, Kim Montgomery, Jennifer Flowers and Jamie Kubacki.

Liz Monroe recorded the shutout. North fell to 3-7-1.

W.L. CENTRAL 3, HARRISON 1: A sterling performance from goalie Danielle Clinansmith couldn't prevent Farmington Harrison from dropping its 11 match without a win Wednesday.

The Hawks were eliminated from the state tournament Friday by Churchill, 11-0.

Falcons tip Rocks in the long runs

It is fairly safe to say the Farmington girls track team "outdistanced" Plymouth Salem in its 73-55 Western Lakes win Thursday.

Farmington cleaned house in the middle distance and distance events, winning the 400-meter, 800-meter, 1,600-meter and 3,200-meter runs. The Falcons also won the 1,600 and 3,200 relays.

The Falcons' performance outshined two strong individual efforts for Salem. Amy Johnson won both the long jump (14-8½) and the 100 high hurdles (17.68). Dena Head won the 100 dash (12.6) and the 200 (27.6).

The Rocks also took a first in the discus with Karen Marciniak (105-7), and in the 400 (54.8) and the 800 relay (1:56.5).

In the field events, Farmington got firsts from Kris Devine (33-0 in the shot put) and Julie Lawton (4-8 in the high jump).

Lori Casaroll won the 300 low hurdles in 48.7.

Anna Quenneville had a productive meet. She won the 800 (2:29.9) and led off both winning relays, the 1,600 (4:30.2) and the 3,200 (10:44.34).

Carey House captured the 400 (1:04.1), Bonnie Stecker the 1,600 (5:43.9) and Nicole Jelley the 3,200 (12:53.6).

House anchored the 1,600 relay and Stecker brought home the 3,200 relay.

Farmington is 3-1 on the dual meet season. Salem 1-3.

PLYMOUTH CANTON had an easy time of it Thursday besting Livonia Franklin 80-48.

Marie Jarosz and Rachel Mann were the top scorers for Canton.

girls track

Jarosz won the 880-yard run (2:40.0) and Mann won the 2-mile (12:24.4). The two tied for first in the mile (5:44.3).

Angie Miller won the high jump for the Chiefs (4-10) and Vicky Minar won the discus (88-5).

Lori Schauder took the 330-yard low hurdles (51.4) and Tricia Carney won the 440 (1:03.7).

Canton (3-0) also won the mile (4:36.6) and the 2-mile relays (10:48.0).

NORTH FARMINGTON, ranked No. 5 in Observerland, stayed unbeaten romping past Westland John Glenn 88-40 Thursday.

Nancy Cothran and Suzi Butcher were the double winners for North. Cothran won the shot put, setting a school record with a 35-1½ toss. She also won the discus, 98-7.

Butcher won both hurdle events, the 100-meter highs in 15.8 and the 300 lows in 53.42.

Holly Thurston won the high jump for North (4-11), Terry Spengler won the 100 (12.76) and Julie Garczynski won the 400 (1:02.4).

North (6-0) captured the 400 relay (1:02.2), the 800 relay (2:12.2) and the 1,600 relay (4:31.42).

FARMINGTON HILLS MERCY got four first-place efforts from senior Terri Ford en route to a 70-58 Catholic League win against Birmingham Marian Thursday, 70-58.

'Misfortunate' Rocks tumble

Many would term Plymouth Salem's 76-61 loss to Western Lakes boys track foe Farmington Thursday a disaster.

Salem lost first-place points in two events because of disqualifications.

But Salem coach Gary Balconi doesn't see it that way.

"Just call it misfortune," the personable Rock coach said. "Disasters are things you can't correct. We can correct misfortune."

The Rocks had won the long jump with a leap in excess of 18-0, but the jumper fouled on the jump. Farmington's Scott Wallis won with a 17-11.

Salem also broke the tape ahead of Farmington in the 880-yard relay, but a Salem runner fell down outside the lane in the exchange zone and was DQ'd.

When you run against a team as strong as the Falcons (No. 4 in Observerland), you need every point you can get.

Craig Petersmark strong-armed a pair of firsts for the Falcons, winning the shot put (51-6) and the discus (140-8).

Other individual winners for the Falcons were Andy Holiday in the pole vault (11-6), Chris Kwasniewicz in the 120-yard high hurdles (16.28), Al Stebbins in the 880 (1:59.17), Ron Smedley in the mile (4:42.19) and Chris Inch in the 2-mile (9:56.97).

The Falcons won the 880 relay in 1:37.7 and the 2-mile relay in 8:26.55. For Salem, Brian Neuhardt won both the 220 (23.2) and the 440 (52.17).

Mike Albertson, Doug Soho and Dave Collins all shared the high jump best at 5-10. Chris Hill won the 330 low hurdles (40.53) and Brian Tiller won the 100 dash (10.56).

The Rocks (2-1) captured the 440 relay (46.3) and the mile relay (3:41.05).

Farmington is 5-0.

PLYMOUTH CANTON stayed perfect in dual meets bopping Livonia Franklin 101-36 on Thursday.

Tyrone Reeves won both the long jump (18-4½) and the 100-yard dash (10.53).

Steve Genyk set a Canton high jump record with a 6-2.

Other Canton winners were Mike Luttrell in the discus (131-9), Bryan Whiteley in the 120 high hurdles (15.24), Dan Houdek in the 330 low hurdles (42.53), Brian Carney in the 220 (23.89), Jim Young in the 440 (52.80), Jay Swiecki in the mile (4:45.76) and Al Byrnes in the 2-mile (10:24.39).

The Chiefs (3-0) took the 440 relay (46.51), the mile relay (3:44.35) and the 2-mile relay (8:43.35).

(1:39.4) and the 3,200 relay (8:28.9).

FARMINGTON HARRISON has been embroiled in some close meets this season, but it had a laugh Thursday, putting Northville to rout 96-43.

Aaron Yaverski and Brian Soeder were the big scorers for the Hawks. Yaverski won the 100-meter dash (11.6), the 220 (23.9) and the 400 (53.9). Soeder won the long jump (19-8¾), the 300 low hurdles (42.6) and he tied teammate Wes Wood in the high jump (5-10).

Other Hawks winners were Dave Gurke in the shot put (41-6), John Bonasso in the discus (122-6), Eric Wise in the pole vault (12-6), Bob Conlon in the 110 high hurdles (16.3), Chad Burgess in the 800 (2:06.2) and Chris Hart in the 1,600 (4:41.2).

Harrison (4-1) took the 800 relay

NORTH FARMINGTON lost a tough 69-68 decision to Westland John Glenn Thursday.

Glenn pulled the meet out winning the 1,600-meter relay in 3:39.2.

Wes Pringle and Chris Wojtowycz won two events each for the Raiders. Pringle won both the shot put (47-8) and the discus (134-1). Wojtowycz took the 110 high hurdles (16.3) and the 300 low hurdles (41.9).

Other winners for North were Chad Henry in the high jump (5-6), Pat Lowe in the long jump (18-8½), Scott Selzer won the 100 (10.9), Mark Weintraub took the 200 (23.5) and Kirk Armstrong won the 1,600 (4:29.9).

North also won the 400 relay (46.9).

Both teams are 2-2.

No. 3 as a Rock is No. 1 at Calvin

The Calvin College baseball team posted a 14-13 record this season, and for that, coach Jeff Pettinga applauds the efforts of Plymouth Salem graduate Ken Vermeulen.

"Ken is a heady pitcher," Pettinga said. "He relies on finesse. He is one of the better pitchers in the MIAA (Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association) because he can spot his pitches."

Vermeulen, the No. 1 starter in the Calvin rotation, was 4-3 this season and owns a 20-11 career mark. His 20 wins is a Calvin record.

"In high school I was the No. 3 or No. 4 pitcher, but at Calvin I was fortunate enough to be No. 1 right away," said the pre-law student. "I've really had confidence in the college sports

outfield and infield the last three years; they have really been behind me."

As a sophomore, Vermeulen helped Calvin to the MIAA title beating Kalamazoo College in the title game. Last year, he was named all-MIAA.

Vermeulen will attend the Harvard Law School next fall.

the movies
Dan Greenberg

Take your pick of good, bad

Good, bad and mediocre movies are always available but it is seldom that movies as good as "Short Circuit" (PG) and as mediocre as "Fire with Fire" (PG-13) appear.

The terminal mediocrity with which "Fire with Fire" is afflicted may be overshadowed by some attractive photographic composition, the ever-popular defeat of authority and the characterization of adults as ranging from foolish to downright mean.

If the rude young preview audience that made my screening of "Fire with Fire" more unpleasant than necessary is any indication, the young crowd will squander its megabucks on this nonsense.

Joe Fiske (Craig Sheffer) is an inmate at a boys' honor detention camp. While running through the forest as the object of a sadistic chase-game operated by Honor Camp Boss (Jon Polito), Fiske sees Lisa Taylor (Virginia Madsen) floating in a pond imitating an Impressionist painting. With a cable release she is taking her own picture.

LISA IS A TOP student at the local, exclusive Catholic girls school (Honest, this is really in the film. I did not make it up.)

If all that doesn't strike a death-blow to your credulity, Lisa sees Joe looking at her for an instant and they fall madly in love. Lisa manipulates events so that the Sisters invite the Honor Detention Camp boys to the school gym for a dance, after which Joe and Lisa get it on pretty heavily, winding up with a big evening of love in a mausoleum at the local cemetery.

I'm not quite sure what Dr. Freud would say, but Dr. Dan sez "Fire with Fire" is ridiculous and mediocre beyond compare.

"Short Circuit," on the other hand, is long on laughs, warmth and humanism and actually has all its circuits in top operating order. It is ironic that while its plot is even more unlikely than the far-fetched "Fire with Fire," "Short Circuit" is so well done that it is extremely credible.

Nova Robotics has developed an amazing new robot-weapon Nova's only marginally slimy president, Steve Guttenberg as Dr. Newton Crosby and Ally Sheedy as Stephanie Speck get involved with each other in "Short Circuit." The film's other main character is a robot who comes alive.

Howard Marner (Austin Pendleton) is demonstrating five of these machines with his ingratiating smile to an audience of generals, senators and assorted aides.

A THUNDERSTORM interrupts the demonstration and a heavy electrical charge strikes one of the robots, Number Five, upsetting his circuits and giving him the ability to reason independently. "Number Five is alive."

Now, probably some will quibble with that bolt from on high as dramatically simple-minded and reflective of a particular viewpoint about the origin of life. Those quibblers will be left at the gate because the film is so entertaining, you'll be having too much fun to worry about such details or the mundane but unlikely conclusion.

After the storm, Number Five escapes, having developed an inquiring mind. Number Five wants to see the world and get input. The satiric potential is well-realized as Number Five winds up hiding in a snack shop on wheels run by Stephanie Speck (Ally Sheedy). At her home he reads the encyclopedia, a dictionary and watches television endlessly.

Thereafter, in all regards, Number Five has something to say.

Whether it's a quote from an old movie or a line from a current commercial, Number Five has just the right, pointed comment to meet every situation.

And the situations do arise, with the industrial-military complex coming in for its share of neat barbs as Nova Robotics tries to, first, recover and later in anger and frustration, destroy, Number Five.

NOVA PRESIDENT Marner battles with Number Five's "creator," computer-whiz Dr. Newton Crosby (Steve Guttenberg), who is first skeptical but later convinced that "Number Five is alive." Marner also has to contend with his Security Chief, Skroeder (G.W. Bailey), a gung-ho militarist who believes the only way to resolve conflict is by destroying the source of contention.

Dr. Crosby sets out after Number Five with the aid of his laboratory colleague and friend, Ben Jabituya (Fisher Stevens), a very funny amalgam of Mahatmas Ghandi, Woody Allen and Peter Sellers' Inspector Clouseau. Stevens turns in a very comic performance as a sex-starved Indian scientist from Bakersfield, although his ancestors originally were from Pittsburgh.

Somewhat predictably, as Stephanie Speck seeks to protect Number Five, she and Dr. Crosby become romantically involved. But that's all right because they, and everyone else in the cast, perform so well in a fine scenario by S.S. Wilson and Brent Maddock.

Even Number Five, a robot designed, engineered and realized by Syd Mead and Eric Allard, gives a warm and very human performance, with voice by Tim Blaney. Number Five is alive, in a sense, with very human movements of his machine parts, particularly the lenses that represent his eyes. He also exhibits human interests and tendencies, so naturally we are going to believe he is alive and one of us.

Number Five is alive, and life is no malfunction. A nice message in a very pleasant, entertaining and, these days you should excuse the expression, wholesome film.

dom Festival, July 2-6; Italian Festival, July 11-13; Afro-American Festival, July 18-20, and Motor City Music Fest, July 25-27.

August sees the Latin American Festival, Aug. 1-3; Polish Festival, Aug. 8-10; Mexican Festival, Aug. 15-17; African World Festival, Aug. 22-24, and Montreux-Detroit Jazz Festival, Aug. 29-Sept. 1.

September wraps up with Yugoslav Festival, Sept. 5-7, and Far Eastern Festival, Sept. 12-14.

Festival offers food, music

Second annual Rivertown Festival will be held 5-9:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 20, at Chene Park at Atwater and Chene streets, south of Jefferson, on the Detroit River, in downtown Detroit.

Theme of this year's festival is "Historic Rivertown Comes Alive," with the festival focusing on the area's colorful past.

Admission to the festival is $25, which includes all food, beverages and entertainment. Proceeds will be used by the Rivertown Business Association to further enhance the Rivertown area. For ticket information, call Millie Amar at 259-2950.

The festival will offer edibles from area restaurants, musical entertainment by the Sun Messengers and Joe & Joe and theatrical performances by Campeau's Company, the Madame Cadillac dancers and the Greenfield Village dancers.

Three caricaturists will sketch any festival participant for free. On display will be architectural models and renderings of the ANR MichCon Harbortown riverfront development presently underway. Rivertown's history dates back to the early 1700s when the French settlers first arrived. The architecture is reminiscent of the late 19th century. Many of Rivertown's buildings, currently used for commercial purposes, were previously used in such activities as blind pigs, speakeasys and houses of ill-repute.

Family involvement will get the job done

SPRING CLEANING time again — time for one of the most unpleasant tasks homeowners have to face.

Spring cleaning can be made easier and more fun though, with expert advice, careful planning and by approaching the project with the right attitude.

Jack Hoskin, owner and operator of Duraclean by Hoskin in Farmington Hills, offers some simple, easy-to-follow advice to help make spring cleaning easier and more fun this year.

"First and foremost, you should plan ahead and organize your work schedule," says Hoskin. "Get all the family together and decide exactly what must be done and in what order it should be completed. Also decide who is going to help you or who is responsible for each particular chore.

"THEN, EACH morning write out a secondary list of all the things that have to be done that day, listing the most important jobs first. As each chore is completed, cross it off the list. It will help you feel better as you look back over the jobs you have done. But — and this is important — don't try to accomplish too much in one day. Be realistic when making up your list. Make sure that those jobs can be completed in one day."

Since you're involving the entire family in this cleanup operation, Hoskin continued, it's a good idea to make up a large master chart of your program to hang on the kitchen bulletin board. List each job, the person responsible for doing it, and a target date for completing the job. Be sure the chart is large, colorful and easy to read.

Add some stars to each person's name when the job is completed, or cross it off the list with brightly colored ink or crayon.

"THE MORE FUN you can make it, the easier and faster the job will get done," said Hoskin.

Of course, he added, there are some jobs that don't fit into the "do-it-yourself" category — such as major repairs, carpet, upholstery or drapery cleaning. Those jobs should be left to a skilled professional and that's where Hoskin and Duraclean fit in.

There are dozens of additional tips for cleaning, caring for your silverware, plants or general household tips in the "Duraclean Book of Housekeeping Hints," available by calling 471-4646.

Color me beautiful

IS YOUR home a haven of comfort and harmony? Or is it a jarring atmosphere that doesn't yin to your yang? Whatever description fits, chances are it's rooted in your home decorating scheme. Does your home match or color coordinate with your wardrobe? If not, you may be living in the wrong color.

Color is the topic of the day. Personal color analysts are in demand to advise both men and women on "coloring themselves beautiful" via high-priced counseling sessions. They work. People do fit into basic color categories — labeled by analysts as "winter, spring, summer and fall" — and they feel most comfortable and look their best when adhering to their individual color schemes.

If color brings out the best in people, won't it do the same for their homes? Dennis Kotyk, color consultant and consumer adviser for Pittsburgh Paints, maintains it will.

Mauves, blues and wine colors are still popularity decorating colors, reports color consultant Dennis Kotyk.

KOTYK, A ROCHESTER RESIDENT who grew up in the Birmingham area, travels the country for PPG shedding light on the color theory. His views were popular "talk show" topics recently on several Detroit stations. An upcoming visit on Kelly and Co. on June 3, will give Kotyk another forum in which to talk color.

"Our looks, feelings and behavior are all dramatically affected by color. And because of its tremendous power, color is the most important home decorating tool. A new coat of paint adds vitality and drama to the home environment. However, before trying new colors in the home, the consumer needs to be aware of the impact each color evokes," says Kotyk.

Colors are either warm or cool. The warm colors — red, yellow and orange — have an energizing effect. The cool colors — blues, greens and violets — have a tranquilizing effect.

"Therefore," explains Kotyk, "you wouldn't want to paint the baby's room 'Folly Red' and expect the infant to sleep. Nor would you want to paint the playroom 'Artic Blue' and expect the children to be active and happy."

ALL-WHITE ROOMS are out. Color is in. According to Kotyk, color is the most economical means of creating a fresh new look or idea from existing product.

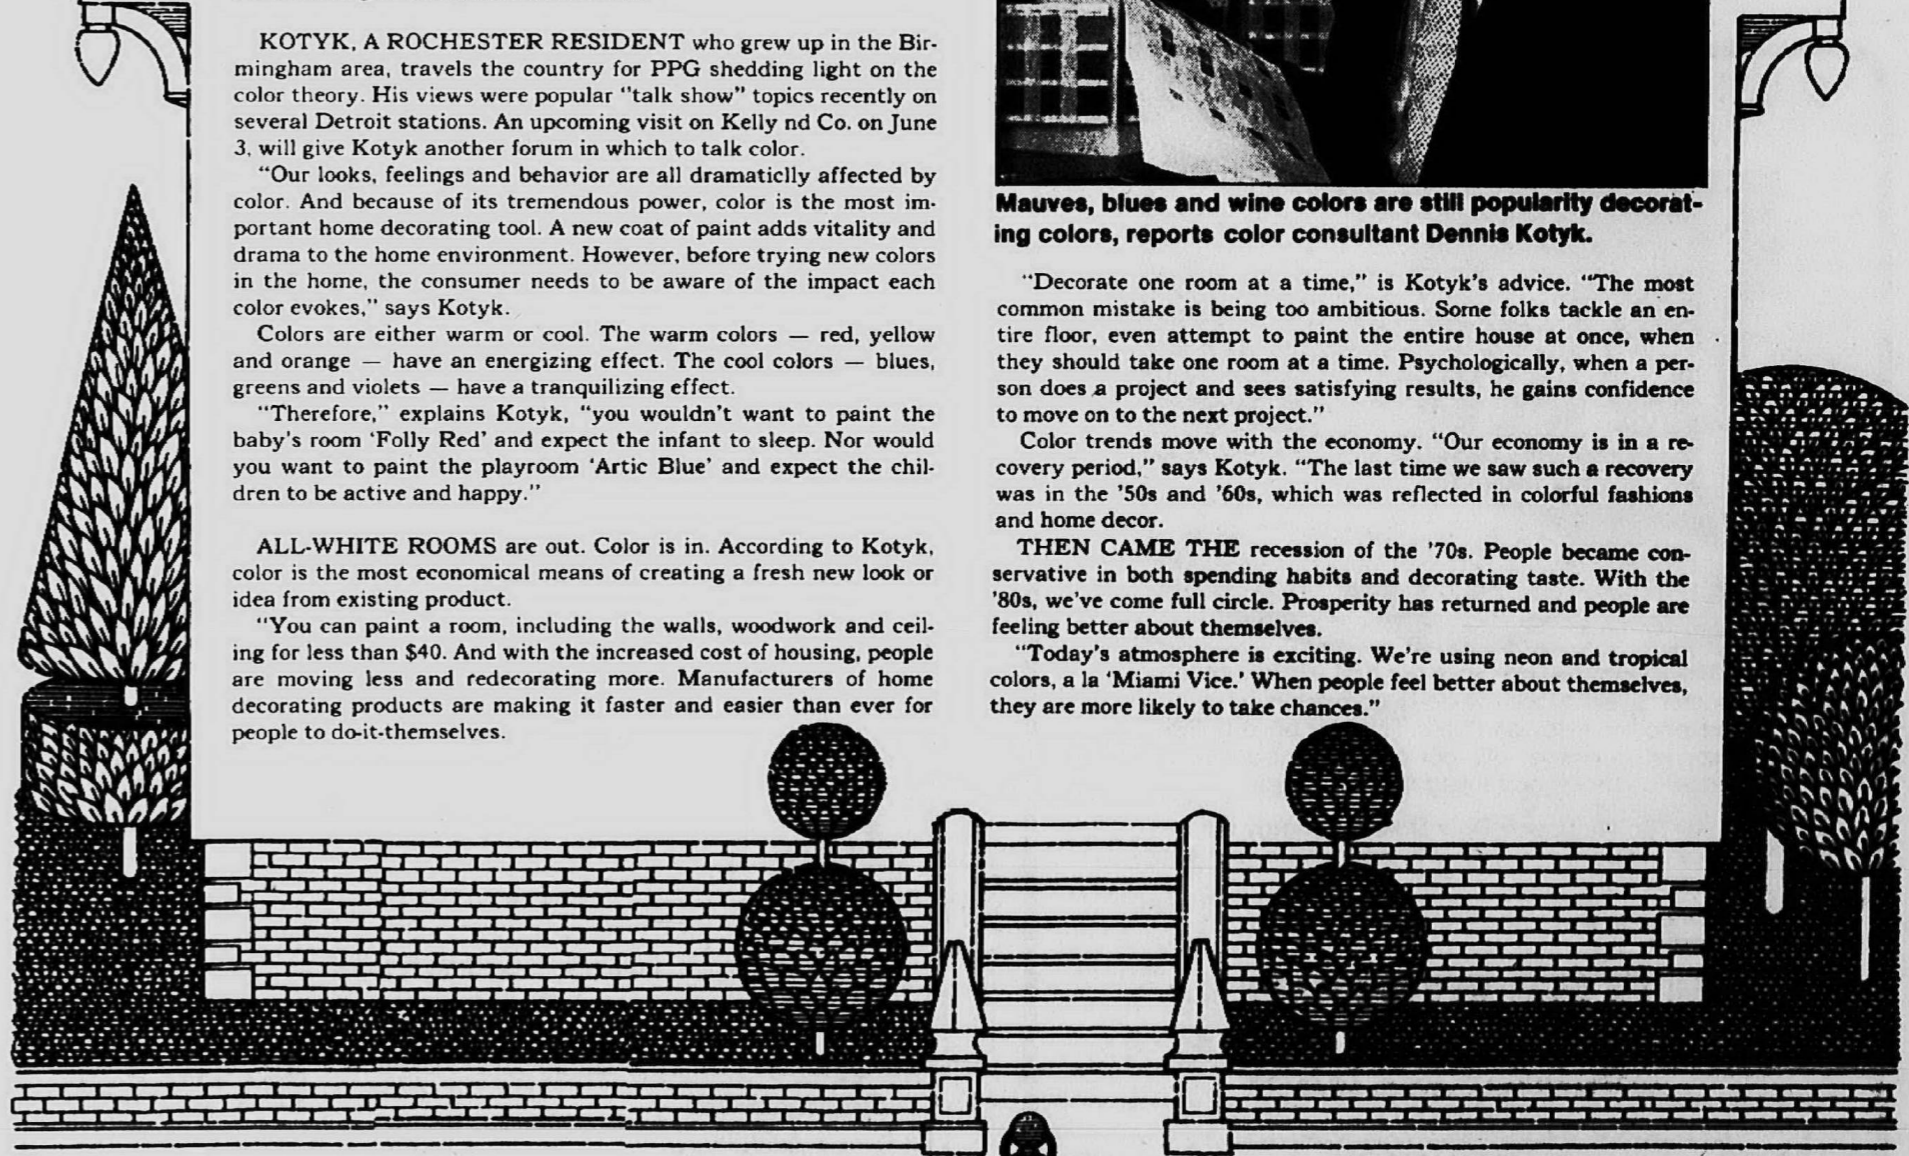

"You can paint a room, including the walls, woodwork and ceiling for less than $40. And with the increased cost of housing, people are moving less and redecorating more. Manufacturers of home decorating products are making it faster and easier than ever for people to do-it-themselves.

"Decorate one room at a time," is Kotyk's advice. "The most common mistake is being too ambitious. Some folks tackle an entire floor, even attempt to paint the entire house at once, when they should take one room at a time. Psychologically, when a person does a project and sees satisfying results, he gains confidence to move on to the next project."

Color trends move with the economy. "Our economy is in a recovery period," says Kotyk. "The last time we saw such a recovery was in the '50s and '60s, which was reflected in colorful fashions and home decor.

THEN CAME THE recession of the '70s. People became conservative in both spending habits and decorating taste. With the '80s, we've come full circle. Prosperity has returned and people are feeling better about themselves.

"Today's atmosphere is exciting. We're using neon and tropical colors, a la 'Miami Vice.' When people feel better about themselves, they are more likely to take chances."

Glorious white dianthus makes debut

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

WHEN FLOWERS bloom across America this spring and summer, countless gardeners will thrill for the first time ever to the pure white blossoms of the "Sophia."

The blossom is a new variety of dianthus, remarkable for both its pure color and because somebody took the time and patience to develop it. That somebody happens to be a little lady from Livonia, Sophia Zombory, 85, the person for whom the flower has been named.

She did not work alone in her efforts to develop the variety. Her lifelong work, hybridizing countless new varieties of flowers, is something she shared with her husband, William, until his death in the early 1980s.

It is an effort she continues to share today with her son, Bill, who is carrying on the work of his parents.

According to Bill Fike, chief horticulturist for Jackson and Perkins Co., a major supplier of plants and seeds, and the firm that is marketing the "Sophia," the Zomborys were proudest of this particular flower because of its pristine white color. They originally called it the "White Diamond."

It was Fike who suggested it be named the "Sophia" in honor of the woman who helped to develop it.

THE DEVELOPMENT of the "Sophia" is a real contribution to the gardening community, according to Katie Thorsheim, promotion manager for Jackson and Perkins Co. "It is unusual for anyone to take the patience and time to attempt hybridizing dianthus (a close relative to the carnation) because hybridizing is painstaking enough to begin with. Dianthus is even more so because it tends to be resistant. Yet it is a very useful gardening plant, normally ignored by most hybridizers." Thorsheim says the company expects sales to reach 50,000.

She said the Zomborys are unique because most people who work at producing new varieties of flowers do so as a hobby. The Zomborys have made it a lifelong career, willing to devote the time required for success. "Few are as devoted," she adds.

By any measure, the Zombory success is substantial. During a 37-year relationship with Jackson and Perkins Co., they have produced what Thorsheim describes as "virtually thousands of varieties. Many have been true in color, meaning they are genetically a new variety."

Developing new varieties, many of those who know them, is reflective of the Zomborys, a couple described by admirers as very friendly and cheerful.

Jim Trenner, a foreman with the Livonia Department of Public Works, worked closely with the Zomborys from 1976 until the time of William's death.

"They just showed up one day with these beautiful flowers," Trenner recalls, describing the Zomborys first contribution of Coral Satin to Greenmead. He says they asked for nothing in return. Two dozen of these plants now grow in gardens at Greenmead and the Civic Center. It took the Zomborys 20 years to develop the variety.

Mary Pulick, a member of the Livonia Historical Commission who was chair of the garden restoration at Greenmead during the late 1970s, echoes similar recollections.

"I would receive a phone call from the Zomborys, asking me to meet them in an hour. I'd rush to the gardens and they would contribute more plantings."

The Zomborys were also very private people. Trenner visited often in their home, describing it as "an enjoyable place to spend an hour or two." But he says they carefully guarded their privacy.

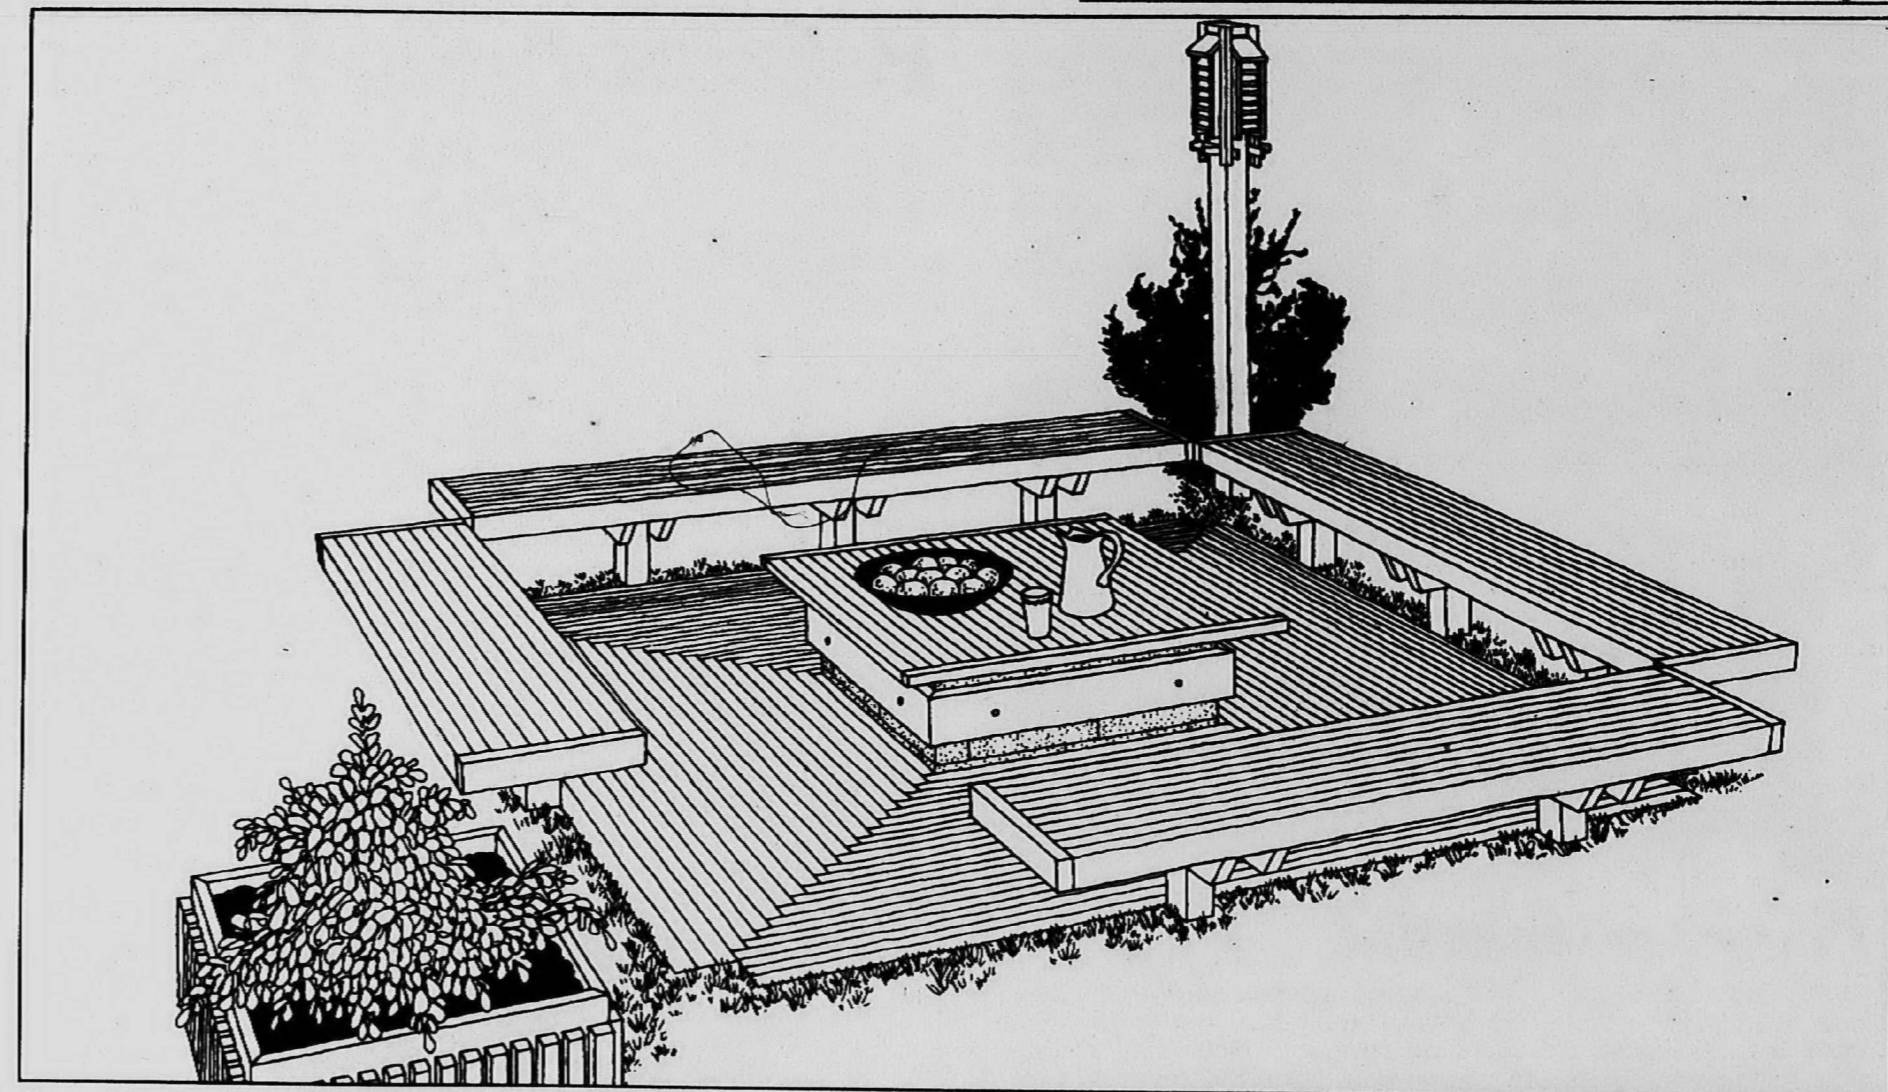

This stemmed, Trenner believes, from years before when they gained a certain celebrity status following news articles about their work with the Ford gardens.

"People would just walk into the Zambory yard uninvited and pick their flowers. They didn't like it. They never wanted publicity."

THE ZOMBORYS have contributed substantially to their community as well. In Livonia alone, four hybridizations heighten beauty in flower beds at both the Civic Center and Greenmead, a historical park started in 1976.

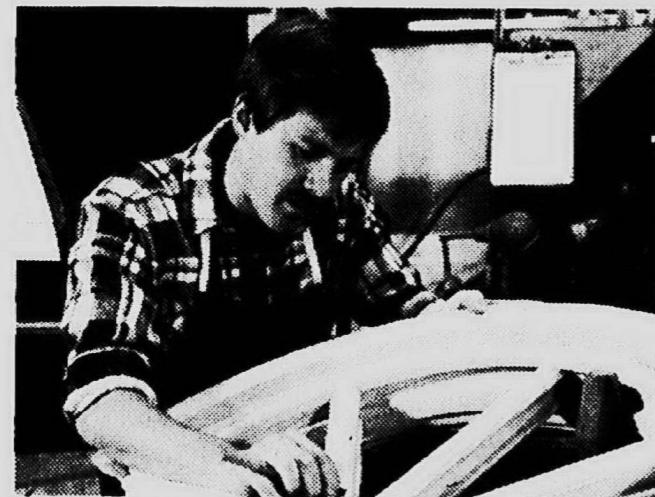

The specimens include three multiblossoming species, including the self-descriptive Coral Satin, the McNamara (named after the mayor of the city) and the Livonia. Both the McNamara and the Livonia are bicolors of pink and yellow. Another contribution by the Zomborys is the Baron Von Deutsch, a white climber.

The gifts to the city were done in a manner that, based upon the comments of Square firepit with wood tabletop covering is ringed by pressure-treated western lumber deck and benches. Whole unit, including wood planter and lamp post, can stand alone or be incorporated into a larger deck.

French connection

Sliding patio doors have a fresh updated look that borrows from the past somewhat. It's the return of the French door look that is both practical and romantic. The doors can swing open all the way, offering an unobstructed passage and a grand view. The model shown by Gary Weston of Plymouth is a Pella product.

Border lines bloom

BORDERS, THOSE narrow strips of wallcovering used along the ceiling line, as a chair rail, or around windows and doors, add visual excitement to the duller of rooms. They can be used alone or in conjunction with other wallcoverings.

Borders are available in many styles, colors, and patterns and can be applied with other wallcoverings or over painted walls.

Because borders are so easy to work with, says the Wallcovering Information Bureau, they are extremely popular as the initial do-it-yourself wallcovering experience.

Borders also aid in disguising architectural flaws. For example, an unusually high ceiling can be lowered visually by applying a border just below the ceiling line. A border placed at chair rail height can make a plain room prettier.

WINDOWS AND DOORS also become points of interest when framed by borders in attractive colors and patterns. Because they lead the eye around the wall, borders are an easy way to visually tie a room together.

Borders can also trim window shades, waste baskets and shelves to coordinate them with the decor. And borders can help accent stairways, dormers and headboards.

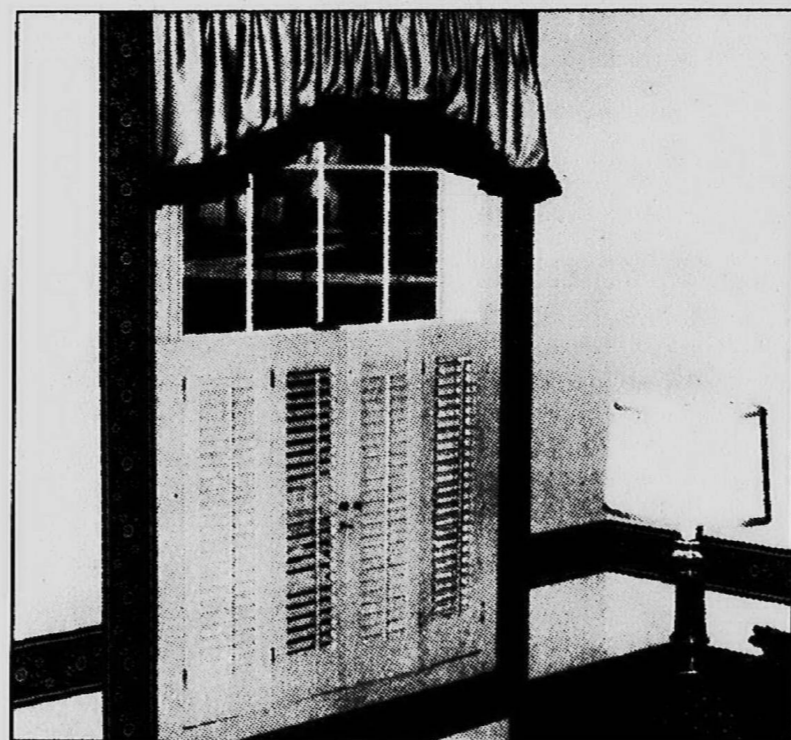

Decorating with borders is as simple as it is fun. Just measure the room, cut the border and apply it.

If applying a border at ceiling height, for instance, measure the perimeter of the room allowing a little extra to compensate for matching patterns or out of plumb walls.

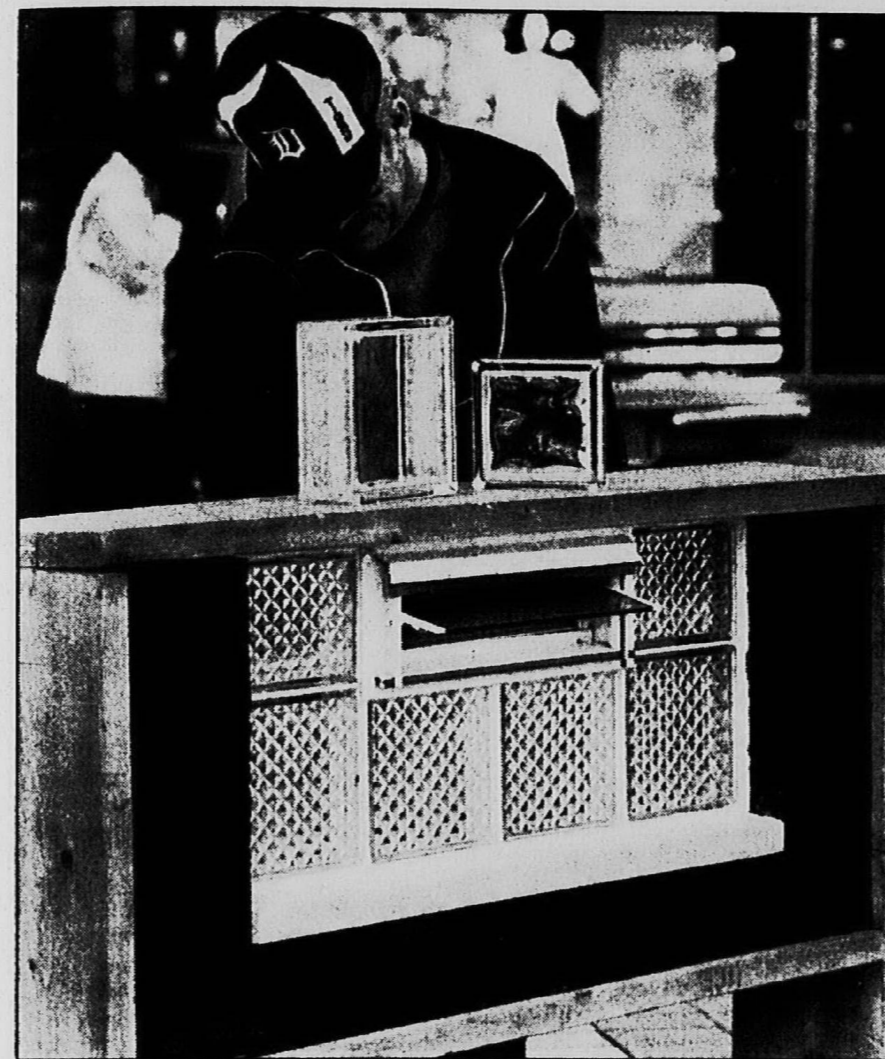

BORDER AROUND windows and doors by overlapping the corners or mitering them. To miter, overlap the ends of the wallcovering border at the corner and make a 45-degree angle cut in line with the corner of the door.

Visually heighten doors and windows by overlapping the vertical border over the horizontal border. To widen, reverse the overlap.

To learn more about all types of wallcoverings, write for a free copy of "The Wallcovering How-To Handbook" to WIB, Dept. HP, 66 Morris Ave., Springfield, N.J. 07081.

Borders are available in as many styles, colors and patterns as other wallcoverings. They are also popular with people who are hanging wallcoverings for the first time.

RICK SMITH/staff photographer

Give yourself a break

One of the best arguments for the installation of glass block windows at the basement level is to provide safety. The new windows are virtually unbreakable and they let in light and solar heat, thus sealing out the cold. Shown above is one made of Pittsburgh Corning glass with an insulating factor equaling that of a 12-inch thick wall of concrete. Because they insulate like a double window, storm windows are unnecessary. The one above even has a jalousie opening for better ventilation. Three patterns are available. Decora: in this pattern vision is mildly distorted to offer a degree of privacy; Delphi: this pattern (shown above) provides maximum privacy and transmits light well and its multiple triangles create a cut crystal look; and Vue: see-through security is assured with this pattern. It affords maximum visibility and light transmission.

Bruce Priestley (left) manager of his family-owned business, Mid-West Perma Ceram Inc., giving potential customers the necessary "hands on" treatment. Priestley is able to resurface and recolor kitchen appliances, bathtubs or tile anywhere in the home.

You can rejuvenate

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

WHAT IF YOU wanted a bathtub colored cardinal red? Or a kitchen sink in a blueberry hue? What if someone accidentally shot a bullet hole into your new bathtub, or purposely threw a bowling ball into it, creating a huge dent? What would you do?

Some homeowners facing these questions have found their answer at Mid-West Perma Ceram Inc., a family-owned business started three years ago by the William Priestley clan in Westland.

For any homeowner wanting a color change, needing resurfacing repairs or just plain wanting to spruce up old and worn tubs, sinks, kitchen appliances or tile anywhere in the home, Mid-West Perma Ceram Inc. is also the place for you.

THE COMPANY is the distributor for porcelainco, a substance with the same molecular construction as porcelain. An application of it can make repairs and add luster to appliances, bathroom fixtures and tiles, making them appear new.

And according to Bruce Priestley, son of William and general manager of the business, costs are reduced substantially with a minimum of fuss. It takes approximately four hours to refinish a bathtub and two full days of non-use. But in the end, the bathtub is like new, according to the younger Priestley.

The process is relatively simple. It involves cleaning the item to be resurfaced, etching it, sanding and patching if necessary, caulking when appropriate and spraying on the porcelainco with a compressor.

"TO COAT A standard-sized bathtub in white costs $250, for color $270," Priestley said. "To replace it with a good quality tub would cost a minimum of $500 and if the tub is old, it's probably of better quality anyway."

Priestley points out, however, that this is not the case for all fixtures. He discourages resurfacing toilets and he feels bathroom sinks are cheaper to replace than treat, providing they are a standard size. But certain sizes are no longer manufactured, particularly those in older homes, and refinishing them is the only solution for restoration aside from a major remodeling job.

The process is also effective on new items when a color change is desired. Priestley cites the example of a brand new home in Birmingham where a chocolate brown bathtub, shower stall, sink and tile were transformed to bone color.

AN ADDED BONUS of porcelainco, a process patented a decade ago, is its sealing quality when applied to tiles.

"The grout, as well as the tiles, are sealed," says Priestley, "making it far easier to clean. The grout never develops mold or mildew." The process costs about $5 a square foot, less for larger areas.

Additional costs include $150 for a standard-size stove, washer or dryer and $200 for a standard-size refrigerator. All work carries a five-year guarantee.

that old tub easily

"What sells our product," said Priestley, "is seeing it and feeling it. Hands on." That is why family members involved in the business spend most weekends in the Westland Mall, talking to people and showing them range tops and bathtubs that have been resurfaced with porcelainco. In addition to Bruce and his father, William, there is his mother, Alice, and two brothers-in-law, Alan Carpenter and Dale Frederick.

Mid-West Perma Ceram Inc. is at 34767 Ford Road, Westland.

Fabrics set moods

So much of the beauty, excitement and attraction of upholstered furniture comes from the varied fabrics that establish enjoyable moods.

Knowing about the wonderful world of fabrics can be helpful if you are thinking about buying a sofa, loveseat or comfortable chair.

Fabrics vary in texture, pattern, fiber, weave and color. In some instances these characteristics affect price and availability.

A significant part of the cost of upholstered furniture can be attributed to the quality of the cover. Keep this in mind, because how you plan to use the upholstered goods will influence your decision on what to buy.

FOR INSTANCE, a sofa in a living room might be used differently than one in a family room. But lifestyle is only one factor; also consider the fabric's construction, children, pets, entertainment and sunlight.

In households where children are present — and even more so if pets are around — the fabric should be more durable. Within this environment, you can expect that the fabric will come into contact with a variety of potentially damaging substances.

Being prepared for them can influence the fabric you choose for your upholstered furniture. New generations of synthetic fabrics contain easy-care fibers that cost less. They include acetate, acrylic, nylon, olefin, polyester, rayon and vinyl. Nylon, olefin and vinyl are the most soil resistant.

Some fabrics blend natural and synthetic fibers, a marriage that provides the best qualities of each fiber. You can expect greater durability and easy maintenance with blends.

BE A WISE buyer and read all labels, which are required by law to be sewn on all upholstery. All fibers will be listed in a descending order of content. This means the fiber listed first is used in the greatest amount.

Safe way to meet strangers

Home security gets a boost with this addition to either a front or back door. The high security strength amplesh grill is constructed of high tensile strength extruded aluminum. Hinges are tamper resistant and the lock is keyed outside with a dead bolt on the inside. The door is particularly popular with owners of condominiums, commented Pat Waltz of Royal Oak who showed off the door from Accurate Remodelers at 12 Mile and DeQuindre at a recent area home improvement show.

Burst of spring
When is a lawn sprinkler not a lawn sprinkler? When it's part of a lawn irrigation display and looks like a fountain flanked with bright spring blooms. Four-year-old Lynn Raymond found it too hard to resist.

Splashy Splendor

MILLIONS OF AMERICAN families have turned their backyards into home leisure and fitness centers with economical, easy-to-install above-ground pools.

Above-ground pools are less expensive than their inground counterparts, can be made equally attractive and are just as functional.

Also check plumbing and electrical permits, certificates of occupancy and safety requirements. A National Spa and Pool Institute (NSPI) pool dealer can provide information about local codes pertaining to swimming pools.

This round, 28-foot diameter above-ground pool with customer deck and gazebo, blends gracefully into its setting. The total cost for installation and surrounding deck was $5,000.
