

The World War II-era B-17 bomber is taxied onto the runway of Willow Run Airport where it will be housed in a hangar of the Yankee Air Force. The bomber was purchased recently for $250,000 and was flown to Willow Run where members of the Yankee Air Force, including many Canton and Plymouth residents, renovate aircraft.

B-17 arrives home at last

THANKS IN part to the donations of several Plymouth-Canton aviation history buffs, a World War II-era B-17G bomber — the last one available for sale — landed Wednesday at Willow Run Airport in Ypsilanti.

The 41-year-old bomber, scheduled for a $100,000 renovation, will join about 20 other historic airplanes collected by the Yankee Air Force and displayed at the group's Willow Run museum.

Phil Lundy of Plymouth, an original board member and one of the founders of the 1,150-member Yankee Air Force, said the 50-60 Plymouth-Canton members of the group contributed to the historic bomber's $250,000 purchase price.

Built in July 1945, the silver and orange aircraft never flew a World War II mission, Lundy said. Following the war, it was used for air-sea rescue by the Coast Guard. Nicknamed "dumbos" because of their size, adapted B-17s carried 27-foot lifeboats, which could be parachuted to the water surface, Lundy said.

The plane, which arrived at Willow Run following a two-day trip from Mesa, Ariz., is only one of a dozen still in use, Lundy said. As part of the renovation of the "Flying Fortress," gun turrets will be replaced, and the aircraft will be restored to its original all-silver color.

The aircraft also was used by the U.S. Forest Service to fight fires, and appeared in the movie "Tora! Tora! Tora!" Lundy said.

Crowds gathered at Willow Run Wednesday afternoon to await the arrival of the B-17.

Senators to face abortion heat in summer

By Tim Richard
staff writer

John Engler of Mt. Pleasant.

The situation on Medicaid abortions is fluid, and so the Michigan Senate decided to wait until September to let things jell.

"We'll probably hold some hearings during the summer," said Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville, shortly after the full Senate referred a three-months Medicaid budget to his appropriations subcommittee.

But he doesn't like waiting.

THE TWIN questions:

● Should they try to pass a Medicaid budget that prohibits state-funded abortions for women on social services?

● Should they attach a resolution placing the Medicaid abortion question before voters Nov. 4?

"There was no consensus in the caucus," Geake said after Senate Republicans met twice. "I assume the Democrats are as divided as we are. It's not a partisan issue."

"They just want to go home," said an aide to Senate Majority Leader

IF LAWMAKERS want to toss the ball to voters, they face a tight deadline, Geake said.

The Secretary of State's Elections Division wants any ballot language by 60 days prior to the election — Sept. 5. But Geake noted that Sept. 9 is scheduled for the Legislature's return for the late summer session.

He said the Legislature might be able to shrink its deadline to 55 days. But state elections director Christopher Thomas insists his office needs a full 60 days to prepare ballots.

THE IDEA OF letting voters decide was a trial balloon floated by GOP leader Engler. But others on both sides of the abortion question don't like it.

"I like to see these questions decided by the legislators," said Geake, an opponent of Medicaid abortions. "That's why they were elected."

He added, "I doubt the House would let it on the ballot."

Sen. Jack Welborn, R-Kalamazoo, a staunch anti-abortion vote, had "mixed emotions" about placing it on the ballot.

"NOT APPROPRIATE," said Dr. Agnes M. Mansour, the former nun who directs the Department of Social Services.

She objected that such a ballot question would focus only on abortions for poor women. Mansour said she would broaden the question cover all abortions — including those covered by private insurance — if it were to go on the ballot at all.

Geake and Mansour shared an identical fear: If the Medicaid abortion question were placed on the ballot, money from all over the nation would be pumped into Michigan by such warring groups as Right to Life and the National Organization for Women.

"It would skew attention from the candidates," said Geake.

"A circus," said Mansour. Geake said some gubernatorial candidates "feel that if the issue were on the ballot, it helps remove the heat from them."

GEAKE WAS was cool to the idea of public hearings this summer, agreeing to them only after a second GOP caucus Tuesday.

Hearings outside the State Capitol Building would become political, he said.

But Welborn liked the idea, asking that one be held in his home territory of Kalamazoo.

Sept. 30 is the deadline for passing the final budget bill because the new fiscal year starts Oct. 1.

The Legislature last month passed a $1.9 million social services budget with the so-called Dillingham amendment prohibiting the funding of abortions except to save the mother's life. Gov. James J. Blanchard promptly vetoed the entire measure.

The House last week failed to muster a two-thirds majority (74 votes) to override his veto. Instead, it gave 64-42 approval to a three-months Medicaid budget that will fund all services, including abortions, from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31.

That was the measure which the Senate Tuesday declined to take up and referred, instead, to Geake's subcommittee for hearings.

ONE OTHER course of action is possible, but Geake doesn't like it: Why couldn't the Legislature wait until the Sept. 30 witching hour and then pass a full-year Medicaid budget with anti-abortion language in it?

That would put Blanchard in the position of having to veto all Medicaid services if he wanted to preserve the abortion program.

"We could," Geake said hesitantly. "I'm not convinced that would be totally responsible."

Ficano seeks summit on county's fiscal woes

Sheriff Robert Ficano last week called for a "monetary summit" of Wayne County government officials and labor leaders to grapple with what he termed a nearly "$30 million" approaching county deficit.

In a release issued late last week, the sheriff and county executive candidate said, "Unless the deficit is dealt with immediately, we can expect payless paydays and massive layoffs paralyzing Wayne County government."

Ficano said he was suggesting a summit to establish priorities and set a timetable for meeting fiscal commitments.

He wants to see included in a "roundtable discussion" the county's auditor general, elected officials, county commissioners and labor leaders to examine four key areas — the costs of providing indigent health care, good faith bargaining with county unions, default on payments to vendors and lost revenue sharing.

LATE LAST month county executive William Lucas received $2.9 million in cuts to the $201 million general budget after earlier freezing hiring and purchasing in the county. The action was taken largely because of a $20 million cost overrun in the Patient Management Care System, providing medical care to indigents and losses in federal revenue sharing, county fees and delays in implementing a prisoner housing contract with the federal government.

Financial problems continue to focus, as well, on the length of time the county takes in paying its vendors for services and supplies. In the county elections bureau, for instance, printing bills have chronically been paid late, resulting in added,

delinquent charges, a commission committee was told recently.

Meanwhile, in the roads department, problems in billing procedures have caused a one-year delay in county charges to the state of Michigan. Those bills have accumulated to $10 million, county officials said.

Races lure deputies

Area political races this season

have attracted the candidacies of several Wayne County Sheriff's Department employees — besides the top man, himself, Robert Ficano.

Challengers from that department have emerged in three western Wayne County races — two county commission districts and the Livonia state House race, currently held by state Rep. Lyn Bankes, R-Livonia.

Ficano, though, calls it a "coincidence." The decisions were individual ones in each case, with no attempt to form a Ficano slate.

Tony Shannon, a Democrat, will likely face Bankes in November. Shannon is one of Ficano's primary aides.

In commission races, Sgt. John A.

Monge of Westland is the Democratic challenger seeking long-time incumbent Kay Beard's seat in the 12th District, which takes in Garden City, Westland and Inkster. In the sprawling 11th District, which includes Canton Township, Lt. Robert H. Smith of Belleville will face off with incumbent Milton Mack of Wayne in the Democratic primary.

"I'm a citizen who happens to be a deputy who is a candidate," said Monge on the subject.

Monge said his interest in politics was born when he was a member of the county sheriff's deputies union, the influential Local 502, which was so supportive of Bill Lucas' candidacy for county executive. Four years ago Lucas was the county sheriff.

He said the interest Local 502 and other department employees have in politics grew out of necessity.

"You've got to remember how badly we were once burned. We were once within a heartbeat of all becoming jailers (under prior union leadership)," he said. "I went six weeks without a paycheck and was putting in 12 hours days. That brought it home — get involved (in politics) or find a new career."

Don Cox, president of Local 502, is said to be a most politically astute steward, a complete change from the previous union chief. Cox's philosophy is "what you don't know can hurt you," said Monge.

Smith, who heads up the department's data processing service, also said he is campaigning separately from the others, though he added he thought Ficano's the best man for the job.

Both Monge and Smith said they would take leaves of absences from their county jobs if elected to the commission.

McNamara ads debut

Livonia mayor Ed McNamara's campaign for county exec had its television debut recently. The two 30-second commercials focus on the theme of Livonia's successes in attracting jobs (1,200) and new businesses (600) during McNamara's long run as mayor.

The ads will run another week before breaking.

The television advertising is expected to cost more than $200,000 out of an anticipated $400,000 war chest, a campaign aide said. It was planned by a Washington, D.C.-based political consulting outfit.

Supporters and familiar faces in the ads include Betty Jean Awrey of Awrey Bakery, as well as the campaign's Detroit coordinator, Jessie Miller. Former Highland Park mayor stopped in during the filming, coincidentally, and also ended up in the final cuts.

I-96, area roads to be improved

The Michigan Department of Transportation will take bids this week on rehabilitation of the aging I-96 freeway in western Oakland County.

It's among 62 projects that will be worth an estimated $21 million to winning bidders.

The I-96 work extends for 4.8 miles from Kent Lake Road east to Novi Road in the cities of Wixom and Novi. It will connect with a similar project to the east that was completed last year.

Work is to be completed by September 1987. It calls for asphalt resurfacing, pavement repair, crack sealing and sign upgrading. Estimated cost is nearly $3.4 million.

OTHER AREA projects on which bids will be taken are:

● M-150 (Rochester Road), one mile in the vicinity of M-59 — concrete pavement widening, curb and gutter, drainage and signing on 0.3 miles and ramps "C" and "E" at the M-59 interchange, by October.

● Lodge Freeway southbound exit ramp to Howard Street and west service drive from Fort to Howard in Detroit — construction of grading and drainage structures, sub-base, concrete pavement, shoulders, barrier wall, street lighting and traffic signals, by November.

● Lodge Freeway — replacing pumps and electrical equipment on 22 pumphouses from Eight Mile to Michigan Avenue in Detroit, by next March.

GROWING OLD IS NO FUN
Some individuals are fortunate and enter old age free of stroke, heart disease, or cancer. However, as no one has found a way to escape the wear that comes with 65 or more years of life, these otherwise healthy people seldom escape arthritis. Rheumatologic conditions that have a predilection for the elderly include: adhesive capsulitis of the shoulder, osteoarthritis, gout, polymyalgia rheumatica, and osteoporosis.

All the arthritic conditions mentioned above, except one - osteoporosis - can be treated, and one of the conditions listed above - polymyalgia - can be cured. Thus, rarely should arthritis in the elderly cause inordinate or prolonged pain, or should the individual be severely limited in walking or self-care.

Rheumatic conditions that come with old age are not problems that the individual must "learn to live with." Such arthritis can be treated. The elderly individual who does not seek assistance is acting out of misunderstanding and needs the persistent, but gentle persuasion of family to bring their arthritic pain to medical attention.

Our Compliments To The Chef. And All The S

Feds tell local leaders to expect less money

By Tom Henderson
staff writer

Approximately 200 municipal leaders from Wayne County gathered at the Hilton Airport Inn recently for a day-long conference sponsored by U.S. representatives John Dingell, D-Trenton, and William Ford, D-Taylor. The focus was on the effects upon local government of the Gramm-Rudman law to cut the federal deficit and of the sweeping tax-code revision currently being negotiated by the Senate and House.

Speakers included government officials; municipal planners; Joel Piell, a Detroit bond attorney; and Robert Naftaly, the state director of the Department of Management and Budget.

It was a good news, bad news conference for the municipal leaders — yes, there will be fewer federal dollars available for such things as sewers and block grants; no, things aren't as bad as they might have thought because of the likelihood of continued federal revenue sharing despite President Reagan's insistence that revenue sharing be eliminated.

The afternoon session of the conference concentrated on what funding programs were still available, how to tap into them and how to plan for a future where the federal profile is much smaller than it has been.

Here is a synopsis of some of the topics discussed:

GRAMM-RUDMAN:

ABC-TV recently announced that the Supreme Court had decided to declare parts of Gramm-Rudman unconstitutional. Though the expected decision was then delayed by the judges, who frown on leaks, some municipal leaders may have found themselves rejoicing, anticipating more money in the absence of a law requiring cuts in the federal deficit.

Such rejoicing was premature, according to Steven Pruitt, the executive director of the House committee on the budget. He said that the Supreme Court was only focusing on a small, though significant portion, of the new law. Under Gramm-Rudman, if Congress can't enact plans to meet the targets for deficit reduction, an automatic budget-cutting process would go into effect.

The Supreme Court decision is expected to say that such budget cuts can't be made automatically, but must be voted on by Congress. The cuts will still be made, said Pruitt, and the budget targets met.

1987 FEDERAL BUDGET:

Two versions of next year's budget, which begins Oct. 1, have passed, one in the Senate and one in the House, with a joint committee to iron out differences when Congress reconvenes July 16. The House version is easier on local municipalities, said the experts.

Though an amended revision likely won't go to the president for his approval before Labor Day, local leaders were told to expect:

- Ten percent reduction in mass-transit funds.
- Five percent reduction in block-grant funds.
- Ten percent reductions in UDAGs (Urban Development Action Grants).
- Ten percent reductions for economic development and central district development and rehabilitation.
- Eight percent increase in money for subsidized housing.

- Eight percent increase in funds for low-rent public housing.

REVENUE SHARING:

Though the president has promised an end to revenue sharing, the experts predict otherwise.

"We've been told that even if Congress passes revenue sharing, the president would veto it, but we've been sent those messages before (without the resultant vetoes)," said Pruitt.

"I think I can say with some assurance that revenue sharing will pass overwhelmingly in the House. In the Senate, it'll come up after the tax-reform bill is out of the way."

Pruitt said that drafts in the Senate call for revenue sharing of $1.8 billion, down from current national levels of about $4 billion. He said that the house budget allows for revenue sharing, though no money was funded for it. Where would such money come from, then?

More taxes, in the form of excise taxes on such things as cigarettes, liquor, beer and wine and telephones. Pruitt said there are about 35 different types of excise taxes that could be enacted.

"The president has said there will be no increase in income taxes, so he may very well propose some of those (excise taxes) when Congress returns July 16. So we expect revenue sharing may very well see the light of day as we move into the fall," said Pruitt.

Pruitt said that the crucial period for revenue sharing will be from Labor Day, when Congress is expected to be done with tax reform, to Oct. 3, when it has vowed to adjourn for the year.

U.S. Rep. William Ford

Approximately 200 municipal leaders from Wayne County gathered at the Hilton Airport Inn recently for a day-long conference sponsored by U.S. Reps. John Dingell, D-Trenton, and William Ford, D-Taylor.

U.S. Rep. John Dingell

TAX REVISION:

The House passed its version last December, the Senate in June. Beginning July 16, a joint committee will iron out differences. Again, the House version is easier on taxpayers, say the experts.

One thing that may come as a surprise to taxpayers is an increase the first year. Why? Tax benefits go down on Jan. 1, 1987, while tax rates don't go down till July 1.

Items of interest:

- In both House and Senate versions, six million taxpayers will go off the tax rolls.
- The Senate version currently is tougher on interest limits, medical expenses and Individual Retirement Accounts.

• Both versions will make it tougher for municipalities to raise bond money by instituting or raising taxes on various kinds of bonds. Tax benefits in real-estate development are reduced; banks and casualty insurance companies may no longer be interested in municipal bonds; rules have been tightened making it more difficult for municipalities to keep the profit (arbitrage) from selling process; it will be tougher for bonds to benefit private interests, with industrial revenue bonds facing elimination; financing for sports arenas may become a thing of the past.

• Nationwide tax-increment financing and Downtown Development Authorities will be more difficult, but Michigan communities won't be affected as the new federal code will be in line with the state law already in effect.

• The House version will raise corporate taxes by $140 billion over the next five years; the Senate version will raise corporate taxes by $100 billion.

• The three-martini lunch will become the 2.4-martini lunch. Corporate entertainment will be 80 percent deductible instead of the current level of 100 percent.

Confab had a humorous side

By Tom Henderson
staff writer

Though last Monday's municipal officials conference was for the most part a dry series of presentations by government officials and tax experts, it wasn't without its comic by-play.

For example:

• Steve Pruitt, executive director of the U.S. House committee on the budget, put the gathered township and city officials at ease by prefacing his speech: "I'm here with the good news that the president is coming after you again. He's attempting to balance the budget on the back of your programs."

• Robert Naftaly, the director of the Michigan Department of Management and Budget, opened his address by saying: "If there's anyone here who wants a prison in their area, let me know."

• Later, Naftaly referred to the head of the state Department of Social Services, a former nun: "As Agnes Mansour tells me, there's always a higher authority."

• Costis Toregas, an expert on ways communities can plan for a future that includes fewer federal tax dollars, asked the 200 assembled community leaders: "How many of you are familiar with lust?" As those who were familiar — and they seemed a majority — began to snicker, Toregas gave them the kicker: "That's LUST — Leaking Under-water Storage Tanks." Never has such a mundane topic woke up so many so fast.

• Moments later, Toregas was criticizing the unwillingness of local fire departments to streamline their ways as a major example of waste when the podium and the table it was on began to tilt dramatically, as if by earthquake, and slide toward the floor from the platform, pitchers of water and all. Toregas grabbed hold and stopped the slide till others in the audience could rush forward and help him.

"Such is the power of the firemen," joked Toregas.

• James Collison, Michigan representative for the federal government's Economic Development Administration, wanted to pass out copies of a pamphlet he put together outlining funding programs and how to apply for them. But he said slashes in his budget limited him to making 50 copies, one for every four persons present. ("I thought it was a sad statement and a very good indication of how the administration views economic development: And that's that it's not going to be done at the federal level," later said Dave Nicholson, Canton Township's director of economic development.)

• U.S. Rep. William D. Ford, D-Taylor, whose districts includes Garden City, Westland, Canton Township and part of Livonia, in a brief address to close the conference, said the Pentagon was: "Disneyland East, the five-sided building in Arlington (Va.) that gets all the money."

SEMCOG elects officers for '86-'87

Representatives for the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) re-elected Robert E. Smith, president of the Livingston Intermediate School District, as chairman for 1986-1987.

The governmental group, which conducts planning work on regional issues, also elected at a recent meeting vice presidents Clyde Cleveland, a Detroit councilman; Nancy L. Davis, supervisor of Ann Arbor Township; Mary Egnor, Washtenaw County commissioner; Marilyn E. Gosling, Oakland County commissioner; and Fred Korzon, Bloomfield Township supervisor.

Smith was re-elected for a second term.

The volunteer association is made up of 130 cities, villages, townships, school districts and counties.

"The federal government has continued to shift the action from the federal to the state level. We need to be our strongest where the action is," he said. "We have proven in the past few years that we can make our collective voices heard in Lansing and we must continue this effort."

The Staff Who Keep Meals On Wheels Rolling.

About two decades ago, a group of enterprising people first opened the doors to what has ever since been a favorite local eatery.

In that time, not a whole lot has changed in the way they run things.

The menu's simple. But the food is always hot, fresh and wholesome.

A lot of the staff works for free.

And most provide their own cars and gasoline so the operators can still offer home delivery.

And, as it's always been over the years, they've never once made a red cent to show for it all.

But they did manage to make firm believers out of us.

They're Meals on Wheels, after all.

So while it is not surprising that they are not in business to make a profit, they still have to pay their bills like everyone else to stay in business.

Otherwise, hundreds of home-bound senior citizens and hundreds more less-fortunate people might go hungry every day.

So when they fed us the facts on their cash-flow problem, we gave them the line of credit they needed to keep things rolling.

Not just because we're bankers. But because, more importantly, we're part of the community.

You see, at First of America Bank we think non-profit organizations like Meals on Wheels, who make sure that those in need do not go hungry, are something everyone will eventually profit from some day.

Eddie elected to Livonia Commission in 1950s

(Part 4)

Eddie and Leona Edgar were married in 1928. They moved to Livonia 10 years later when it was still a small township. The General Motors Hydromation plant and the Detroit Race Track, which were to be the springboard for Livonia's rapid growth, had not yet been built.

When Eddie heard that a race track was to be built in Livonia, he hurried to Township Hall to see Supervisor Jesse Ziegler. State law had it that a city in which the track was located would get one-half of one percent of the state's revenue from racing, up to $500,000. But a township would not benefit.

Eddie told Ziegler he'd better do something about incorporating as a city. The movement to do that soon got underway with the tax windfall as the carrot.

At the election of Feb. 6, 1950, at which incorporation was approved, Eddie Edgar was one of 10 Livonians elected to the charter commission.

The commission's purpose was to write a city charter and to determine the type of government the new city would have.

It was decided that a strong mayor-council form of government, not a city-manager form, would be recommended to the electorate. Eddie was among those who spoke to groups throughout the township, selling the idea.

THE CHARTER was approved at an election May 22. A city commission was voted in at that time and Eddie was among those elected. He served as a Livonia city commissioner from 1950 to 1956.

Meantime, Eddie still was promoting bowling in Detroit. In 1957, he was instrumental in having the Bowling Hall of Fame opened at the Historical Museum. At the banquet at which the initial inductees were named, the city of Detroit paid tribute to Eddie at the Hotel Pick-Fort Shelby.

Among the speakers at the testimonial was Louis C. Miriani, then

past and present

president of the Detroit Common Council and later mayor of Detroit. Scheduled to give the city's tribute to Eddie was Albert E. Cobo, then the mayor. But Cobo was not present on the night of the dinner. "He died two days before the affair," Eddie told me.

The printed program carried an article entitled "Our Friend Eddie," written by John Walter of the Detroit News. At the conclusion of the article, Walter wrote: "These facts have been marshaled by one of thousands forever indebted to Eddie. He gave me my first post on a newspaper, as office boy at the Free Press, in 1926."

Eddie was elected to the Bowling Hall of Fame in 1962. His plaque reads: "Wilson W. Edgar. Writer, promoter and executive. Originated the Detroit Hall of Fame. Brought national acclaim to Detroit with plan for employment for minors during the dark days of the war, promoted many events that became part of the national bowling picture, built up nationally recognized junior programs, is Michigan's first bowling coordinator. Also secretary of the Proprietor's Association and was on Mayor's committee to design Cobo Hall."

EDDIE RETIRED as state coordinator of bowling in 1965 when he was 68.

He then began what he called his "third career" — working for the Observer Newspapers. When I first met him, he was editor of the Plymouth Mail and Observer. Later, he became a columnist, newswriter and occasional fill-in editor.

Intrigued by his stories, I wrote an article about him for the Free Press Sunday magazine section. It appeared on Nov. 21, 1971, with the title: "Tales of Livonia's Legendary Newsmen." Martha Griffiths had it read into the U.S. Congressional record, which made Eddie quite proud.

Among the photos illustrating the article was one of Eddie taking a good-natured punch from Jack Dempsey. Another showed Eddie sitting with Gar Wood and Orlin Johnson in Miss America after the record-breaking speedboat ride on the St. Clair River in 1933.

I wrote another article about Eddie for the Detroit Magazine in April 1975. Among the photos used in that article was one showing Eddie with boxing champion Barney Ross; another showed him in the open-air press box for the Harmsworth Trophy Race on the Detroit River in 1933.

In his later years, Eddie Edgar was best known for his column, "The Stroller," in the Observer. Its logo had a silhouette of Eddie in profile. As one writer remarked, the silhouette looked remarkably like the famous Alfred Hitchcock shadow-graph.

FOR YEARS, Eddie talked about writing a book. A few months before he died, he asked me: "How long does it take you to write a book?" I told him and gave him suggestions on how to go about it. But he had put it off too long — a human failing of which most of us are guilty.

Some people Eddie interviewed for his articles and columns were bothered by his technique. He never took notes and occasionally the facts got a little twisted when they appeared in print. When Eddie was a cub reporter about 70 years ago, an editor had told him: "Don't take notes because the person you are interviewing will see you jotting them down and won't talk freely."

Right or wrong, Eddie followed that advice to the end.

Participation helped

To the editor:
Dear "People who are the Observer,"

Our thanks to all of you for your help and support all through our community experience (of bringing sculptor Peter Rockwell to Plymouth Township Park).

We appreciate your support through publicity, encouragement and your participation in working with the Crier to have the photo contest — all these things helped to make this truly a "Community Experience."

Besides, it was fun!

Thanks again.

Appreciates coverage

To the editor:

What wonderful coverage writer Julie Brown and photographer Rob Reed gave us at our Plymouth High School Class of 1931 fifty-fifth reunion last Thursday evening.

We were most pleased and just wanted you to know how very much we appreciated it.

Thank you for honoring us in this fashion.

Viola (Luttermoser) Pedersen
Reunion Committee

Center thanked for support

To the editor:

I would like to pay a tribute to George and Sam Odish of Canton Center Market on Sheldon Road.

The Odishes have established themselves as dedicated community-minded individuals by sponsoring and donating to a myriad of Canton area causes. These projects include donation of beverages for neighborhood and school functions, sponsorship of little league teams and sponsorship of local parks and recs teams.

In addition, the Odish family takes special care to be friendly and courteous to all customers. Their store is always neat and clean and their lot is spacious and well-lit.

So much is made of "liquor stores" when they attempt to locate near one's home. The Canton Center Market is a good example of how members of the community can benefit from conscientious, hard-working proprietors.

Canton

All made by same creator

To the editor:

Humans, gorillas and chimps are relatives of mine. So states Morris Goodman, a renowned evolutionist, in the Observer. I noted he is just as definite as others of his kind. He says his evidence is firm, but in the same paragraph states the three species "may have branched off simultaneously."

I suggest that Goodman read his Bible, if he indeed has one. He'll find that the earth and its contents were not created in seven days, as he said, but in six days. God rested on the seventh, thus establishing for man the one day of rest out of seven. (Genesis 1:31 and 2:2) While the Bible is not strictly a book of science, all statements relating to science are correct.

Because of the closeness of the primates to humans, Goodman speaks of there being a common ancestor. No, not a common ancestor, but a common creator. It makes far more sense to accept "thus saith the Lord," than the maybes and perhaps of the evolutionist.

YOUTH DEVELOPMENT
A program to recruit and train volunteers as mentors in the Youth Development Program is being conducted by Growth Works Inc., 271 S. Main, Plymouth. Youth Development is a diversion program in cooperation with Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton police departments for the first-time juvenile offenders. The program is designed for young people and their parents as an alternative to the juvenile justice court system. Volunteers are trained to work weekly with the young people.
Training covers communication skills, empathy listening skills, building and bonding relationships, alcohol and substance abuse, decision making, consequences of behavior, parenting skills, and crisis intervention. Training is open to all interested people; no experience required. Volunteers need to commit to at least six hours of three hours per week for about 20 hours. For information and a training schedule, call Sue Davis at 455-4902, Monday through Friday, during regular business hours.

SENIOR CHORE SERVICE
The Conference of Western Wayne Chore Program has been funded for 1986. The program provides assistance with light household maintenance tasks including lawn mowing, snow removal and window/wall washing. Individuals must be 60 or older and own their own home. The program is for senior citizens living in Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton and replaces the home chore program previously conducted by Plymouth Recreation Department. There is no charge for the service. For information, call 525-8690.

ADULT VOLUNTEERS NEEDED
Plymouth Centennial Educational Park needs adult community members to donate their time and expertise at the high schools. Needed is help phoning, typing, creating bulletin board displays and serving as resource people for careers and for German culture. If you can volunteer an hour or two, contact Cyndi Burnstein at 459-9435 after noon.

FIFE & DRUM CORPS
The Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps is celebrating its 15th anniversary with a reunion and is trying to get in touch with past members. Past members may write: Alumni, P.O. Box 176, Plymouth 48170.

TURNING POINT
If you need help solving a problem, need someone to listen, a referral or information about drugs and alcohol, counselors at Turning Point can help. Counselors are available 6:30-10:30 p.m. Monday through Friday by calling 455-4900. Turning Point also provides short-term, low-cost counseling by appointment. Turning Point is a component program of Growth Works Inc. of Plymouth.

TOUGH LOVE
Tough Love, a self-help group for parents troubled by teenage behavior, meets at 7 p.m. Mondays in the Faith Community Church on Warren at Canton Center Road, Canton.

JOBS FOR 55 AND OLDER
The employment program of the Wayne County Office on Aging is accepting applications. The programs include direct job placement and on-the-job training with pay for a variety of positions in such fields as health care, sales, secretarial, clerical and maintenance. Assistance is provided for job search skills, resume writing, interview techniques, self-confidence building and goal-setting. Eligibility criteria include being 55 or older, a low-income resident of western Wayne County or downriver (excluding Detroit). For information, call 467-3454.

EMPLOYMENT DYNAMICS
Attention job seekers, growth Works can help you find a job. The Employment Dynamics program offers free job training and placement assistance to 16- to 21-year-olds who live in western Wayne County and meet eligibility requirements. For more information, call 455-0299. The program is paid for by the Wayne County Private Industry Council.

NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH
The Plymouth Police Department is organizing a Neighborhood Watch program for city residents. Anyone interested in becoming involved in the program may call 453-8600 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday. The program is a protection against residential break-ins and burglaries.

House rejects ban on torture ship

Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll-call votes in the week ending June 27.

HOUSE

CHILEAN SHIP — By a vote of 194 for and 223 against, the House rejected a resolution (S.J. Res 361) urging that the tall ship Esmeralda, formerly used as a torture chamber by the regime of Chilean strongman Augusto Pinochet, be excluded from the Fourth of July Statue of Liberty centennial gala in New York harbor.

Sponsor Mike Barnes, D-Md., said that after Pinochet took power in 1973 "scores of naked men and women were subjected to electric shock and mock execution, and were beaten and sexually abused" aboard the vessel. Pinochet remains in power.

Opponent Robert Lagomarsino, R-Calif., said "passing this resolution will do nothing to advance the cause of democracy in Chile or to resolve the longstanding human rights questions left unanswered by the Pinochet regime."

Members voting yes wanted the Chilean vessel Esmeralda banned from America's Independence Day celebration in New York harbor.

Voting yes: Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, Sander Levin, D-Southfield.

Voting no: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, William Ford, D-Taylor, William Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

Roll Call Report

U.S. ADVISERS — By a vote of 215 for and 212 against, the House adopted an amendment to the $100 million contra aid package (below) aimed at keeping American military personnel from being drawn into the Nicaraguan civil war.

The amendment prohibited U.S. military advisers to the contras from venturing within 20 miles of Nicaragua.

Supporters said they feared a parallel between America's growing involvement in Nicaragua and its gradual entry into the Vietnam War, while opponents called that an unfounded fear and said the amendment could impair the effectiveness of the contra forces.

Members voting yes wanted to keep American military advisers in Costa Rica and Honduras at least 20 miles away from Nicaragua. Voting yes: Pursell, Hertel, William Ford, Levin.

Voting no: Broomfield.

CONTRA AID — The House voted, 221 for and 209 against, to send $100 million in military and non-lethal aid to the U.S.-sponsored rebels fighting to undermine Nicaragua's Sandinista regime.

A major victory for President Reagan, this reversed a House vote in March to block Administration's aid request for the U.S. surrogate troops known as contras.

The military appropriations bill containing the money (HR 5052) which later was sent to the Senate, also lifts a ban on covert U.S. intelligence activity against Nicaragua's Marxist government.

Supporter Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., said that denying the aid would "increase the risk this nation would face from a Soviet-Cuban base in Central America."

Opponent David Obey, D-Wis., said American public opinion solidly opposes the contras, who "are probably more effective in running drugs than they are in fighting battles."

Members voting yes wanted to support the contras. Voting yes: Pursell, Broomfield.

Voting no: Hertel, William Ford, Levin.

SENATE

THE MANION NOMINATION — By a vote of 48 for and 46 against, the Senate tentatively approved President Reagan's nomination of South Bend, Ind., lawyer Daniel A. Manion to sit on the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago.

This signaled that the Senate's final confirmation vote, scheduled for mid-July, will clear Manion for the judicial post.

Voting no were Michigan Democrats Carl Levin and Donald Riegler.

Dozens of law school deans, among other critics, say Manion typifies too many of Reagan's judicial nominees in that he is "ideologically pure" but lacks the legal competence and stature a federal judge should possess.

But Reagan and other supporters of the arch-conservative nominee say Manion's foes are liberals who object on political rather than legal grounds.

Senate Democratic Leader Robert Byrd, D-W. Va., opposes the nomination but voted for Manion in a parliamentary move that blocked a final confirmation vote.

All other senators voting yes support Manion for the appeals judgeship.

TAX AMNESTY — The Senate rejected, 40 for and 43 against, an amendment to exempt from criminal prosecution persons who volunteer to the IRS that they are tax delinquents.

The vote occurred during debate on the sweeping tax reform bill (HR 3338) that lowers corporate and individual tax rates and closes many shelters and loopholes. The historic legislation later was passed on a near-unanimous vote and sent to conference with the House.

Under the amnesty provision, delinquents would be spared prosecution if they paid the taxes they owed plus civil penalties and interest. Sponsors said the amendment only sought to codify existing IRS policy in cases where tax evaders inform on themselves.

Supporter John Kerry, D-Mass., said amnesty is necessary if the IRS is to collect much of the estimated $106 billion that tax cheaters withhold illegally each year.

Opponent Dale Bumpers, D-Ark., said amnesty would eliminate the reason why many people pay taxes — the fear of going to jail if they get caught cheating.

Senators voting yes wanted the new tax law to include a tax amnesty provision.

Michigans Levin and Riegler voted no.

Pets await new homes

George, a 2-year-old neutered male Himalayan cat, and Sugar Babe, a seven-week old female mixed shepherd puppy, are available for adoption from the Michigan Humane Society Kindness Center, 37255 Marquette, Westland.

George has received all his shots and is good with children and other animals, according to officials at the animal shelter. He weighs 11 pounds.

Sugar Babe has tan and black fur and will weigh about 50-75 pounds when she is full grown. She is good with children and other animals. She is not yet housebroken.

To adopt George or Sugar Babe or other animals, call the Kindness Center at 721-7300.

SC holds orientation

Schoolcraft College will host three orientation sessions this month for new students.

They will be in Room F-530 of the Forum Building on the Schoolcraft Livonia campus, 18600 Haggerty Road.

Those interested in programs in business, education and engineering may attend 6-10 p.m. on Thursday, July 10.

Those interested in electronics, robotics, computers and biomedical technologies can attend a session at 6-10 p.m. Tuesday, July 15. A pre-health program is planned 6-10 p.m. Thursday, July 17.

2 Oakland medics picked

Two Oakland County residents have been elected to leadership positions in the Wayne County Medical Society.

Dr. Richard P. Horsch, anesthesiologist who lives in Farmington Hills, was installed as president of the group. The Wayne State University graduate is on the staff of St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. He has held many posts in the association and was associate editor of Detroit Medical News.

Dr. Gilbert H. Blum, rheumatologist from Southfield, was elected president-elect and will become president in mid-1987. The Indiana University graduate is on the staff of Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit.

BANANAS...For Active People!

Bananas are one of the most convenient, nutritious foods available. At 101 calories, a medium-size banana makes a satisfying snack when eaten out-of-hand. Also, bananas add vitamin A, an abundance of potassium, plus fiber to your diet. Extra potassium is especially important after a strenuous workout when your body needs to replace lost nutrients. Bananas are a terrific food to include in an active life — one based on that simple formula of moderation, variety, exercise and creative cooking.

BANANA-ORANGE YOGURT TART

3 extra-ripe, large Bananas, peeled
1 1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup unflavored gelatin
2 cartons (8 oz. each) vanilla yogurt
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
1/2 teaspoon brown sugar
Gingersnap Crust
1/2 teaspoon cornstarch
1 firm Banana, peeled, sliced
1 large orange, peeled, sectioned

Blend 3 extra-ripe bananas in blender (1 1/2 cups). Pour 1 1/2 cup orange juice into medium saucepan. Sprinkle gelatin over juice to soften. Heat mixture until gelatin dissolves. Cool slightly. Stir in pureed bananas, yogurt, orange peel and sugar. Set saucepan over bowl of ice water to thicken slightly, but not until firm. Stir occasionally. Turn thickened mixture into Gingersnap Crust. Chill until firm overnight. Meanwhile, combine remaining 1 1/2 cup orange juice with cornstarch. Cook until sauce boils and thickens. Cool. When ready to serve, garnish tart with sliced firm banana and orange sections. Spoon cooled orange sauce over top to serve. Serves 6 to 8.

GINGERSNAP CRUST: Combine 1 1/2 cups gingersnap crumbs and 1 1/4 cup melted butter. Press in 9-inch tart pan with removable bottom. Bake in 400° F oven 7 minutes. Cool completely.

Dessert buffet makes a grand finale anytime

A special meal deserves an elaborate ending. Whether it's an elegant sit-down dinner or a casual backyard barbecue, a sumptuous selection of show-off desserts makes any menu memorable.

The keys to success for this grand finale are to look to recipes that can be made well in advance, and to include a special something for every taste.

Three or four desserts will fill the bill. At least one should boast America's favorite flavor — chocolate. Another might showcase the season's finest fresh fruits. And for those people to whom dessert can mean only one thing, be sure to include a cheesecake.

A CHOCOLATE conclusion to a meal is always welcome, and Orange-Filled Chocolate Cups are sure to rate rave reviews. Far simpler to prepare than their fancy appearance indicates, the cups are prepared by coating the inside of paper-lined muffin cups with a mixture of melted chocolate pieces and margarine. The light-as-a-cloud orange-flavored filling boasts a rich cheesecake-like flavor and texture.

Rising impressively, four layers high, Banana-Strawberry Cream Torte is a show-stopper. The cake boasts the rich flavor of cream cheese and mashed banana for tender, extra-moist texture, and the whipped cream-cream cheese filling is layered delectably with fresh fruit.

ORANGE-FILLED CHOCOLATE CUPS

- 1/4 cups semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 1/4 cup margarine
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 2 cups thawed whipped topping

Melt chocolate pieces with margarine over low heat, stirring until smooth. Spoon approximately 1 tablespoon mixture into each of 12 paper-lined muffin cups. With back of spoon, spread mixture evenly up sides of cups; chill 1 hour. Soften gelatin in water; stir over low heat until dissolved. Combine cream cheese and sugar, mixing at medium speed on electric mixer until well blended. Gradually add gelatin and juice, mixing until blended. Chill until thickened but not set. Beat with electric mixer or wire whisk until light and fluffy. Fold in whipped topping. Carefully remove chocolate cups from paper liners. Fill each cup with approximately 1/4 cup cream cheese mixture. Chill. Makes 12 servings.

BANANA-STRAWBERRY CREAM TORTE

- 1/2 cup margarine
- 1 1/4 cups granulated sugar
- 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 2 eggs
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
- 2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup mashed banana
- 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla

Summer lime treat a 'budding' success

The good old summertime motivates you to entertain. And what could be easier than a frozen dessert that can be prepared ahead? Lime Petal Tarts are flowerettes that blossom into a beautiful dessert.

In the bottom of each cup is a crunchy layer of toasted quick or old-fashioned oats, brown sugar and melted butter. A luscious filling featuring vanilla ice cream and limeade concentrate and a sprinkle of oat mixture on top complete this refreshing dessert.

If you prefer, follow the variation for the different refreshing flavors using orange juice concentrate or lemonade concentrate. Your family and friends will thrive on these pretty frozen lime flowers. Lime Petal Tarts will be a budding success with everyone.

LIME PETAL TARTS

- Base and Topping
- 1/2 cup quick or old-fashioned oats, uncooked
 - 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 - 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
- Filling
- 2 pints vanilla ice cream, softened
 - 1/2 cup thawed frozen limeade concentrate

4 drops green food coloring

Heat oven to 350 degrees. For base and topping, combine oats, sugar and butter in small bowl, mix well. Spread in ungreased shallow baking pan, toast at 350 degrees about 10 minutes. Cool, stirring occasionally. Reserve 1/4 cup oat mixture for topping. Spoon 1 rounded tablespoon remaining oat mixture into 12 medium-size paper-lined muffin cups. Freeze about 20 minutes.

For filling, combine ice cream, concentrate and food coloring, mix well. Fill each prepared paper-lined muffin cup about 3/4 full. Sprinkle each with about 1 teaspoon reserved oat mixture. Freeze about 2 hours or until firm. Serve in paper lining. Makes 1 dozen tarts.

NOTE: To reconstitute leftover limeade concentrate, add about 1 cup water to each 1/2 cup of concentrate. Mix well, chill.

VARIATION: To make Lemon or Orange Petal Tarts, substitute 1/2 cup thawed frozen lemonade concentrate or orange juice concentrate for limeade concentrate. Use yellow food coloring for Lemon Petal Tarts; use 2 drops each yellow and red food coloring for Orange Petal Tarts.

- 2 cups sifted powdered sugar
- 1 cup whipping cream, whipped
- 2 cups strawberry slices
- 1 cup banana slices
- 1/4 cup chopped pecans, toasted

Beat margarine and granulated sugar until light and fluffy. Add cream cheese, mix well. Blend in eggs and vanilla. Add combined dry ingredients alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition. Stir in bananas. Pour into two greased and floured 8-inch pans. Bake at 350 degrees, 35 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pans. Cool, split each layer into two layers. Combine cream cheese and vanilla, mixing at medium speed on electric mixer until well blended. Gradually add powdered sugar, mixing well after each addition. Fold in whipped cream. Spread each of three cake layers with 3/4 cup cream cheese mixture. Cover two layers with strawberries; cover third layer with bananas. Alternately stack strawberry and banana layers; top with remaining layer. Spread top with remaining cream cheese mixture. Chill. Sprinkle with pecans just before serving. Makes 12 servings.

COCOA CHEESECAKE SUPREME

- 1 cup chocolate wafer crumbs
- 4 8-oz. pkgs. cream cheese, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/3 cup cocoa
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 Tbsp. vanilla
- Raspberry sauce (below)

Combine cream cheese, sugar and cocoa, mixing at medium speed on electric mixer until well blended. Add eggs, one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Blend in sour cream and vanilla; pour over crust. Bake at 450 degrees, 10 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 250 degrees, continue baking 55 minutes. Loosen cake from rim of pan; cool before removing rim of pan. Chill. Top with Raspberry Sauce.

- Raspberry Sauce
- 2 10-oz. pkgs. frozen raspberries, thawed
 - 1 Tbsp. cornstarch

Mash raspberries, drain, reserving juice. Gradually add juice to cornstarch in saucepan, mixing until well blended. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil 3 to 4 minutes, stirring constantly, or until mixture is clear and thickened. Remove from heat; chill. Makes 12 servings.

LEMON DREAM DESSERT

- 1 3-oz. pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 1 8-oz. container (3 cups) whipped topping, thawed
- 1 1/2 cups assorted fresh fruit

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add cold water. Cool. Gradually add gelatin to cream cheese, mixing until blended. Chill until thickened but not set. Beat with electric mixer or wire whisk until fluffy; fold in whipped topping. Pour into 1 1/2 quart serving bowl; chill until firm. Top with fruit. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

To make a special meal more memorable, plan a sumptuous serve-yourself selection of show-off desserts: (clockwise from top) Banana Strawberry Cream Torte, Orange-Filled Chocolate Cups and Cocoa Cheesecake Supreme.

This hand draws a quick smile from bridge player Irma Boyne. Bridge, pinochle and canasta were played at the Plymouth Township Seniors picnic.

Those attending the picnic at Plymouth Township Park brought dishes to pass.

Picnic fun at the park

Mike Cimino serves a hot dog to Mary Kish at the picnic.

WEDNESDAY WAS a good day for a picnic. The Plymouth Township Seniors celebrated that afternoon by holding an Independence Day picnic at Plymouth Township Park.

"We wanted to do something outdoors," said Helen Krupa, president of the organization. "We have a nice clubhouse, but we wanted to be outdoors."

Plymouth Township Park provided a good place for the group to celebrate Independence Day, she said.

A bocci competition was part of the day's fun. Bocci is an Italian game bearing a resemblance to bowling.

Musical entertainment — including a sing-along and playing of the accordion and saxophone — was also a part of the afternoon's festivities. Josephine Volpe and David

Harkness were the picnic's musical performers.

A handmade quilt, donated by Bertha Peterson, was raffled off during the picnic, with Josephine Volpe as the winner. Canasta, pinochle and bridge were also played during the picnic, which was attended by about 60 people. Krupa said.

"And then, of course, we ate. We had hot dogs and all the other goodies. A lot of good things to eat."

HOT DOGS were provided for the picnic. Plymouth Township Seniors members added to the repast by bringing dishes to pass.

Many hours of planning and preparation went into making the Independence Day picnic a success.

Much of the work was done by Mike and Theresa Cimino, Bill and Delores Browning and Ruben and Sparky Kallunki.

They really hosted the picnic for us," Krupa said.

The Plymouth Township Seniors were fortunate to have good weather for the Fourth of July celebration. Members said a few prayers

on the subject of the day's weather, Krupa said.

"The morning looked so gloomy." The afternoon weather, however, was just right for a picnic.

The picnic made for a fun afternoon for the Plymouth Township Seniors.

"I think all of us really enjoyed it," she said.

The World War II-era B-17 bomber is taxied onto the runway of Willow Run Airport where it will be housed in a hangar of the

Yankee Air Force. The bomber was purchased recently for $250,000 and was flown to Willow Run where members of the Yankee Air Force, including many Canton and Plymouth residents, renovate aircraft.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

B-17 arrives home at last

THANKS IN part to the donations of several Plymouth-Canton aviation history buffs, a World War II-era B-17G bomber — the last one available for sale — landed Wednesday at Willow Run Airport in Ypsilanti.

The 41-year-old bomber, scheduled for a $100,000 renovation, will join about 20 other historic airplanes collected by the Yankee Air Force and displayed at the group's Willow Run museum.

Phil Lundy of Plymouth, an original board member and one of the founders of the 1,150-member Yankee Air Force, said the 50-60 Plymouth-Canton members of the group contributed to the historic bomber's $250,000 purchase price.

Built in July 1945, the silver and orange aircraft never flew a World War II mission, Lundy said. Following the war, it was used for air-sea rescue by the Coast Guard. Nicknamed "dumbos" because of their size, adapted B-17s carried 27-foot lifeboats, which could be parachuted to the water surface, Lundy said.

The plane, which arrived at Willow Run following a two-day trip from Mesa, Ariz., is only one of a dozen still in use, Lundy said. As part of the renovation of the "Flying Fortress," gun turrets will be replaced, and the aircraft will be restored to its original all-silver color.

The aircraft also was used by the U.S. Forest Service to fight fires, and appeared in the movie "Tora! Tora! Tora!," Lundy said.

Dick Bodycombe, a retired general, drops onto the apron after landing the B-17.

Crowds gathered at Willow Run Wednesday afternoon to await the arrival of the B-17.

Feds tell local leaders to expect less money

By Tom Henderson
staff writer

Approximately 200 municipal leaders from Wayne County gathered at the Hilton Airport Inn recently for a day-long conference sponsored by U.S. representatives John Dingell, D-Trenton, and William Ford, D-Taylor. The focus was on the effects upon local government of the Gramm-Rudman law to cut the federal deficit and of the sweeping tax-code revision currently being negotiated by the Senate and House.

Speakers included government officials; municipal planners; Joel Piell, a Detroit bond attorney; and Robert Naftaly, the state director of the Department of Management and Budget.

It was a good news, bad news conference for the municipal leaders — yes, there will be fewer federal dollars available for such things as sewers and block grants; no, things aren't as bad as they might have thought because of the likelihood of continued federal revenue sharing despite President Reagan's insistence that revenue sharing be eliminated.

The afternoon session of the conference concentrated on what funding programs were still available, how to tap into them and how to plan for a future where the federal profile is much smaller than it has been.

Here is a synopsis of some of the topics discussed:

GRAMM-RUDMAN:

ABC-TV recently announced that the Supreme Court had decided to declare parts of Gramm-Rudman unconstitutional. Though the expected decision was then delayed by the judges, who frown on leaks, some municipal leaders may have found themselves rejoicing, anticipating more money in the absence of a law requiring cuts in the federal deficit.

Such rejoicing was premature, according to Steven Pruitt, the executive director of the House committee on the budget. He said that the Supreme Court was only focusing on a small, though significant portion, of the new law. Under Gramm-Rudman, if Congress can't enact plans to meet the targets for deficit reduction, an automatic budget-cutting process would go into effect.

The Supreme Court decision is expected to say that such budget cuts can't be made automatically, but must be voted on by Congress. The cuts will still be made, said Pruitt, and the budget targets met.

1987 FEDERAL BUDGET:

Two versions of next year's budget, which begins Oct. 1, have passed, one in the Senate and one in the House, with a joint committee to iron out differences when Congress reconvenes July 16. The House version is easier on local municipalities, said the experts.

Though an amended revision likely won't go to the president for his approval before Labor Day, local leaders were told to expect:

- Ten percent reduction in mass-transit funds.
- Five percent reduction in block-grant funds.
- Ten percent reductions in UDAGs (Urban Development Action Grants).
- Ten percent reductions for economic development and central district development and rehabilitation.
- Eight percent increase in money for subsidized housing.

- Eight percent increase in funds for low-rent public housing.

REVENUE SHARING:

Though the president has promised an end to revenue sharing, the experts predict otherwise.

"We've been told that even if Congress passes revenue sharing, the president would veto it, but we've been sent those messages before (without the resultant vetoes)," said Pruitt.

"I think I can say with some assurance that revenue sharing will pass overwhelmingly in the House. In the Senate, it'll come up after the tax-reform bill is out of the way."

Pruitt said that drafts in the Senate call for revenue sharing of $1.8 billion, down from current national levels of about $4 billion. He said that the house budget allows for revenue sharing, though no money was funded for it. Where would such money come from, then?

More taxes, in the form of excise taxes on such things as cigarettes, liquor, beer and wine and telephones. Pruitt said there are about 35 different types of excise taxes that could be enacted.

"The president has said there will be no increase in income taxes, so he may very well propose some of those (excise taxes) when Congress returns July 16. So we expect revenue sharing may very well see the light of day as we move into the fall," said Pruitt.

Pruitt said that the crucial period for revenue sharing will be from Labor Day, when Congress is expected to be done with tax reform, to Oct. 3, when it has vowed to adjourn for the year.

U.S. Rep. William Ford

U.S. Rep. John Dingell

Approximately 200 municipal leaders from Wayne County gathered at the Hilton Airport Inn recently for a day-long conference sponsored by U.S. Reps. John Dingell, D-Trenton, and William Ford, D-Taylor.

TAX REVISION:

The House passed its version last December, the Senate in June. Beginning July 16, a joint committee will iron out differences. Again, the House version is easier on taxpayers, say the experts.

One thing that may come as a surprise to taxpayers is an increase the first year. Why? Tax benefits go down on Jan. 1, 1987, while tax rates don't go down till July 1.

Items of interest:

- In both House and Senate versions, six million taxpayers will go off the tax rolls.
- The Senate version currently is tougher on interest limits, medical expenses and Individual Retirement Accounts.

Both versions will make it tougher for municipalities to raise bond money by instituting or raising taxes on various kinds of bonds. Tax benefits in real-estate development are reduced; banks and casualty insurance companies may no longer be interested in municipal bonds; rules have been tightened making it more difficult for municipalities to keep the profit (arbitrage) from selling process; it will be tougher for bonds to benefit private interests, with industrial revenue bonds facing elimination; financing for sports arenas may become a thing of the past.

Nationwide tax-increment financing and Downtown Development Authorities will be more difficult, but Michigan communities won't be affected as the new federal code will be in line with the state law already in effect.

The House version will raise corporate taxes by $140 billion over the next five years; the Senate version will raise corporate taxes by $100 billion.

The three-martini lunch will become the 2.4-martini lunch. Corporate entertainment will be 80 percent deductible instead of the current level of 100 percent.

Confab had a humorous side

By Tom Henderson
staff writer

Though last Monday's municipal officials conference was for the most part a dry series of presentations by government officials and tax experts, it wasn't without its comic byplay.

For example:

• Steve Pruitt, executive director of the U.S. House committee on the budget, put the gathered township and city officials at ease by prefacing his speech: "I'm here with the good news that the president is coming after you again. He's attempting to balance the budget on the back of your programs."

• Robert Naftaly, the director of the Michigan Department of Management and Budget, opened his address by saying: "If there's anyone here who wants a prison in their area, let me know."

• Later, Naftaly referred to the head of the state Department of Social Services, a former nun: "As Agnes Mansour tells me, there's always a higher authority."

• Costis Toregas, an expert on ways communities can plan for a future that includes fewer federal tax dollars, asked the 200 assembled community leaders: "How many of you are familiar with lust?" As those who were familiar — and they seemed a majority — began to snicker, Toregas gave them the kicker: "That's LUST — Leaking Underwater Storage Tanks." Never has such a mundane topic woke up so many so fast.

• Moments later, Toregas was criticizing the unwillingness of local fire departments to streamline their ways as a major example of waste when the podium and the table it was on began to tilt dramatically, as if by earthquake, and slide toward the floor from the platform, pitchers of water and all. Toregas grabbed hold and stopped the slide till others in the audience could rush forward and help him.

"Such is the power of the firemen," joked Toregas.

• James Collison, Michigan representative for the federal government's Economic Development Administration, wanted to pass out copies of a pamphlet he put together outlining funding programs and how to apply for them. But he said slashes in his budget limited him to making 50 copies, one for every four persons present. ("I thought it was a sad statement and a very good indication of how the administration views economic development: And that's that it's not going to be done at the federal level," later said Dave Nicholson, Canton Township's director of economic development.)

• U.S. Rep. William D. Ford, D-Taylor, whose districts includes Garden City, Westland, Canton Township and part of Livonia, in a brief address to close the conference, said the Pentagon was: "Disneyland East, the five-sided building in Arlington (Va.) that gets all the money."

The Staff Who Keep Meals On Wheels Rolling.

About two decades ago, a group of enterprising people first opened the doors to what has ever since been a favorite local eatery.

In that time, not a whole lot has changed in the way they run things.

The menu's simple. But the food is always hot, fresh and wholesome.

A lot of the staff works for free. And most provide their own cars and gasoline so the operators can still offer home delivery.

And, as it's always been over the years, they've never once made a red cent to show for it all.

But they did manage to make firm believers out of us.

They're Meals on Wheels, after all.

So while it is not surprising that they are not in business to make a profit, they still have to pay their bills like everyone else to stay in business.

Otherwise, hundreds of homebound senior citizens and hundreds more less-fortunate people might go hungry every day.

So when they fed us the facts on their cash-flow problem, we gave them the line of credit they needed to keep things rolling.

Not just because we're bankers.

But because, more importantly, we're part of the community.

You see, at First of America Bank we think non-profit organizations like Meals on Wheels, who make sure that those in need do not go hungry, are something everyone will eventually profit from some day.

SEMCOG elects officers for '86-'87

Representatives for the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) re-elected Robert E. Smith, president of the Livingston Intermediate School District, as chairman for 1986-1987.

The governmental group, which conducts planning work on regional issues, also elected at a recent meeting vice presidents Clyde Cleveland, a Detroit councilman; Nancy L. Davis, supervisor of Ann Arbor Township; Mary Egnor, Washtenaw County commissioner; Marilyn E. Gosling, Oakland County commissioner; and Fred Korzon, Bloomfield Township supervisor.

Smith was re-elected for a second term. The volunteer association is made up of 130 cities, villages, townships, school districts and counties.

"The federal government has continued to shift the action from the federal to the state level. We need to be our strongest where the action is," he said. "We have proven in the past few years that we can make our collective voices heard in Lansing and we must continue this effort."

Eddie elected to Livonia Commission in 1950s

(Part 4)

Eddie and Leona Edgar were married in 1928. They moved to Livonia 10 years later when it was still a small township. The General Motors Hydromotion plant and the Detroit Race Track, which were to be the springboard for Livonia's rapid growth, had not yet been built.

The commission's purpose was to write a city charter and to determine the type of government the new city would have.

It was decided that a strong mayor-council form of government, not a city-manager form, would be recommended to the electorate. Eddie was among those who spoke to groups throughout the township, selling the idea.

THE CHARTER was approved at an election May 22. A city commission was voted in at that time and Eddie was among those elected. He served as a Livonia city commissioner from 1950 to 1956.

Eddie told Ziegler he'd better do something about incorporating as a city. The movement to do that soon got underway with the tax windfall as the carrot.

At the election of Feb. 6, 1950, at which incorporation was approved, Eddie Edgar was one of 10 Livonians elected to the charter commission.

Meantime, Eddie still was promoting bowling in Detroit. In 1957, he was instrumental in having the Bowling Hall of Fame opened at the Historical Museum. At the banquet at which the initial inductees were named, the city of Detroit paid tribute to Eddie at the Hotel Pick-Fort Shelby.

Among the speakers at the testimonial was Louis C. Miriani, then

past and present

president of the Detroit Common Council and later mayor of Detroit. Scheduled to give the city's tribute to Eddie was Albert E. Cobo, then the mayor. But Cobo was not present on the night of the dinner. "He died two days before the affair," Eddie told me.

The printed program carried an article entitled "Our Friend Eddie," written by John Walter of the Detroit News. At the conclusion of the article, Walter wrote: "These facts have been marshaled by one of thousands forever indebted to Eddie. He gave me my first post on a newspaper, as office boy at the Free Press, in 1926."

Eddie was elected to the Bowling Hall of Fame in 1962. His plaque reads: "Wilson W. Edgar. Writer, promoter and executive. Originated the Detroit Hall of Fame. Brought national acclaim to Detroit with plan for employment for minors during the dark days of the war, promoted many events that became part of the national bowling picture, built up nationally recognized junior programs, is Michigan's first bowling coordinator. Also secretary of the Proprietor's Association and was on Mayor's committee to design Cobo Hall."

Eddie retired as state coordinator of bowling in 1965 when he was 68.

He then began what he called his "third career" — working for the Observer Newspapers. When I first met him, he was editor of the Plymouth Mail and Observer. Later, he became a columnist, newswriter and occasional fill-in editor.

Intrigued by his stories, I wrote an article about him for the Free Press Sunday magazine section. It appeared on Nov. 21, 1971, with the title: "Tales of Livonia's Legendary Newsman." Martha Griffiths had it read into the U.S. Congressional record, which made Eddie quite proud.

Among the photos illustrating the article was one of Eddie taking a good-natured punch from Jack Dempsey. Another showed Eddie sitting with Gar Wood and Orin Johnson in Miss America after the record-breaking speedboat ride on the St. Clair River in 1933.

I wrote another article about Eddie for the Detroit Magazine in April 1975. Among the photos used in that article was one showing Eddie with boxing champion Barney Ross; another showed him in the open-air press box for the Harmsworth Trophy Race on the Detroit River in 1933.

In his later years, Eddie Edgar was best known for his column, "The Stroller," in the Observer. Its logo had a silhouette of Eddie in profile. As one writer remarked, the silhouette looked remarkably like the famous Alfred Hitchcock shadow-graph.

FOR YEARS, Eddie talked about writing a book. A few months before he died, he asked me: "How long does it take you to write a book?" I told him and gave him suggestions on how to go about it. But he had put it off too long — a human failing of which most of us are guilty.

Some people Eddie interviewed for his articles and columns were bothered by his technique. He never took notes and occasionally the facts got a little twisted when they appeared in print. When Eddie was a cub reporter about 70 years ago, an editor had told him: "Don't take notes because the person you are interviewing will see you jotting them down and won't talk freely."

Right or wrong, Eddie followed that advice to the end.

Participation helped

To the editor: Dear "People who are the Observer,"

Our thanks to all of you for your help and support all through our community experience (of bringing sculptor Peter Rockwell to Plymouth Township Park).

We appreciate your support through publicity, encouragement and your participation in working with the Crier to have the photo contest — all these things helped to make this truly a "Community Experience."

Besides, it was fun! Thanks again.

Appreciates coverage

To the editor:

What wonderful coverage writer Julie Brown and photographer Rob Reed gave us at our Plymouth High School Class of 1931 fifty-fifth reunion last Thursday evening.

We were most pleased and just wanted you to know how very much we appreciated it.

Thank you for honoring us in this fashion.

Viola (Luttermoser) Pedersen Reunion Committee

Center thanked for support

To the editor:

I would like to pay a tribute to George and Sam Odish of Canton Center Market on Sheldon Road.

The Odishes have established themselves as dedicated community-minded individuals by sponsoring and donating to a myriad of Canton area causes. These projects include donation of beverages for neighborhood and school functions, sponsorship of little league teams and sponsorship of local parks and recs teams.

In addition, the Odish family takes special care to be friendly and courteous to all customers. Their store is always neat and clean and their lot is spacious and well-lit.

So much is made of "liquor stores" when they attempt to locate near one's home. The Canton Center Market is a good example of how members of the community can benefit from conscientious, hard-working proprietors.

Tom Burkhardt Canton

All made by same creator

To the editor:

Humans, gorillas and chimps are relatives of mine. So states Morris Goodman, a renowned evolutionist, in the Observer. I noted he is just as definite as others of his kind. He says his evidence is firm, but in the same paragraph states the three species "may have branched off simultaneously."

I suggest that Goodman read his Bible, if he indeed has one. He'll find that the earth and its contents were not created in seven days, as he said, but in six days. God rested on the seventh, thus establishing for man the one day of rest out of seven. (Genesis 1:31 and 2:2) While the Bible is not strictly a book of science, all statements relating to science are correct.

Because of the closeness of the primates to humans, Goodman speaks of there being a common ancestor. No, not a common ancestor, but a common creator. It makes far more sense to accept "thus saith the Lord," than the maybes and perhaps of the evolutionist.

House rejects ban on torture ship

Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll-call votes in the week ending June 27.

HOUSE

CHILEAN SHIP — By a vote of 194 for and 223 against, the House rejected a resolution (SJ Res 361) urging that the tall ship Esmeralda, formerly used as a torture chamber by the regime of Chilean strongman Augusto Pinochet, be excluded from the Fourth of July Statue of Liberty centennial gala in New York harbor.

Sponsor Mike Barnes, D-Md., said that after Pinochet took power in 1973 "scores of naked men and women were subjected to electric shock and mock execution, and were beaten and sexually abused" aboard the vessel. Pinochet remains in power.

Opponent Robert Lagomarsino, R-Calif., said "passing this resolution will do nothing to advance the cause of democracy in Chile or to resolve the longstanding human rights questions left unanswered by the Pinochet regime."

Members voting yes wanted the Chilean vessel Esmeralda banned from America's Independence Day celebration in New York harbor.

Voting yes: Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, Sander Levin, D-Southfield.

Voting no: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, William Ford, D-Taylor, William Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

Roll Call Report

U.S. ADVISERS — By a vote of 215 for and 212 against, the House adopted an amendment to the $100 million contra aid package (below) aimed at keeping American military personnel from being drawn into the Nicaraguan civil war.

The amendment prohibited U.S. military advisers to the contras from venturing within 20 miles of Nicaragua.

Supporters said they feared a parallel between America's growing involvement in Nicaragua and its gradual entry into the Vietnam War, while opponents called that an unfounded fear and said the amendment could impair the effectiveness of the contra forces.

Members voting yes wanted to keep American military advisers in Costa Rica and Honduras at least 20 miles away from Nicaragua. Voting yes: Pursell, Hertel, William Ford, Levin.

Voting no: Broomfield.

CONTRA AID — The House voted, 221 for and 209 against, to send $100 million in military and non-lethal aid to the U.S.-sponsored rebels fighting to undermine Nicaragua's Sandinista regime.

A major victory for President Reagan, this reversed a House vote in March to block Administration's aid request for the U.S. surrogate troops known as contras.

The military appropriations bill containing the money (HR 5052) which later was sent to the Senate, also lifts a ban on covert U.S. intelligence activity against Nicaragua's Marxist government.

Supporter Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., said that denying the aid would "increase the risk this nation would face from a Soviet-Cuban base in Central America."

Opponent David Obey, D-Wis., said American public opinion solidly opposes the contras, who "are probably more effective in running drugs than they are in fighting battles."

Members voting yes wanted to support the contras. Voting yes: Pursell, Broomfield.

Voting no: Hertel, William Ford, Levin.

SENATE

THE MANION NOMINATION — By a vote of 48 for and 46 against, the Senate tentatively approved President Reagan's nomination of South Bend, Ind., lawyer Daniel A. Manion to sit on the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago.

This signaled that the Senate's final confirmation vote, scheduled for mid-July, will clear Manion for the judicial post.

Voting no were Michigan Democrats Carl Levin and Donald Riegler.

Dozens of law school deans, among other critics, say Manion typifies too many of Reagan's judicial nominees in that he is "ideologically pure" but lacks the legal competence and stature a federal judge should possess.

But Reagan and other supporters of the arch-conservative nominee say Manion's foes are liberals who object on political rather than legal grounds.

Senate Democratic Leader Robert Byrd, D-W. Va., opposes the nomination but voted for Manion in a parliamentary move that blocked a final confirmation vote.

All other senators voting yes support Manion for the appeals judgeship.

TAX AMNESTY — The Senate rejected, 40 for and 43 against, an amendment to exempt from criminal prosecution persons who volunteer to the IRS that they are tax delinquents.

The vote occurred during debate on the sweeping tax reform bill (HR 3838) that lowers corporate and individual tax rates and closes many shelters and loopholes. The historic legislation later was passed on a near-unanimous vote and sent to conference with the House.

Under the amnesty provision, delinquents would be spared prosecution if they paid the taxes they owed plus civil penalties and interest. Sponsors said the amendment only sought to codify existing IRS policy in cases where tax evaders inform on themselves.

Supporter John Kerry, D-Mass., said amnesty is necessary if the IRS is to collect much of the estimated $106 billion that tax cheaters withhold illegally each year.

Opponent Dale Bumpers, D-Ark., said amnesty would eliminate the reason why many people pay taxes — the fear of going to jail if they get caught cheating.

Senators voting yes wanted the new tax law to include a tax amnesty provision.

Michigan's Levin and Riegler voted no.

Pets await new homes

George, a 2-year-old neutered male Himalayan cat, and Sugar Babe, a seven-week old female mixed shepherd puppy, are available for adoption from the Michigan Humane Society Kindness Center, 37255 Marquette, Westland.

George has received all his shots and is good with children and other animals, according to officials at the animal shelter. He weighs 11 pounds.

Sugar Babe has tan and black fur and will weigh about 50-75 pounds when she is full grown. She is good with children and other animals. She is not yet housebroken.

To adopt George or Sugar Babe or other animals, call the Kindness Center at 721-7300.

SC holds orientation

Schoolcraft College will host three orientation sessions this month for new students.

They will be in Room F-530 of the Forum Building on the Schoolcraft Livonia campus, 18600 Haggerty Road.

Those interested in programs in business, education and engineering may attend 6-10 p.m. on Thursday, July 10.

Those interested in electronics, robotics, computers and biomedical technologies can attend a session at 6-10 p.m. Tuesday, July 15. A pre-health program is planned 6-10 p.m. Thursday, July 17.

2 Oakland medics picked

Two Oakland County residents have been elected to leadership positions in the Wayne County Medical Society.

Dr. Richard P. Horsch, anesthesiologist who lives in Farmington Hills, was installed as president of the group. The Wayne State University graduate is on the staff of St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. He has held many posts in the association and was associate editor of Detroit Medical News.

Dr. Gilbert H. Blum, rheumatologist from Southfield, was elected president-elect and will become president in mid-1987. The Indiana University graduate is on the staff of Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit.

Dessert buffet makes a grand finale anytime

A special meal deserves an elaborate ending. Whether it's an elegant sit-down dinner or a casual backyard barbecue, a sumptuous selection of show-off desserts makes any menu memorable.

The keys to success for this grand finale are to look to recipes that can be made well in advance, and to include a special something for every taste.

Three or four desserts will fill the bill. At least one should boast America's favorite flavor — chocolate. Another might showcase the season's finest fresh fruits. And, for those people to whom dessert can mean only one thing, be sure to include a cheesecake.

A CHOCOLATE conclusion to a meal is always welcome, and Orange-Filled Chocolate Cups are sure to rate rave reviews. Far simpler to prepare than their fancy appearance indicates, the cups are prepared by coating the inside of paper-lined muffin cups with a mixture of melted chocolate pieces and margarine. The light-as-a-cloud orange-flavored filling boasts a rich cheesecake-like flavor and texture.

Rising impressively, four layers high, Banana-Strawberry Cream Torte is a show-stopper. The cake boasts the rich flavor of cream cheese and mashed banana for tender, extra-moist texture, and the whipped cream cheese filling is layered delectably with fresh fruit.

ORANGE-FILLED CHOCOLATE CUPS

- 1 1/4 cups semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 1/4 cup margarine
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 2 cups thawed whipped topping

Melt chocolate pieces with margarine over low heat, stirring until smooth. Spoon approximately 1 tablespoon mixture into each of 12 paper-lined muffin cups. With back of spoon, spread mixture evenly up sides of cups, chill 1 hour. Soften gelatin in water, stir over low heat until dissolved. Combine cream cheese and sugar, mixing at medium speed on electric mixer until well blended. Gradually add gelatin and juice, mixing until blended. Chill until thickened but not set. Beat with electric mixer or wire whisk until light and fluffy. Fold in whipped topping. Carefully remove chocolate cups from paper liners. Fill each cup with approximately 1/4 cup cream cheese mixture. Chill. Makes 12 servings.

BANANA-STRAWBERRY CREAM TORTE

- 1/2 cup margarine
- 1 1/4 cups granulated sugar
- 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 2 eggs
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
- 2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup mashed banana
- 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla

Summer lime treat a 'budding' success

The good old summertime motivates you to entertain. And what could be easier than a frozen dessert that can be prepared ahead. Lime Petal Tarts are flowerettes that blossom into a beautiful dessert.

In the bottom of each cup is a crunchy layer of toasted quick or old-fashioned oats, brown sugar and melted butter. A luscious filling featuring vanilla ice cream and limeade concentrate and a sprinkle of oat mixture on top complete this refreshing dessert.

If you prefer, follow the variation for the different refreshing flavors using orange juice concentrate or lemonade concentrate. Your family and friends will thrive on these pretty frozen lime flowers. Lime Petal Tarts will be a budding success with everyone.

LIME PETAL TARTS

- Base and Topping
- 3/4 cup quick or old-fashioned oats, uncooked
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
- Filling
- 2 pints vanilla ice cream, softened
- 1/2 cup thawed frozen limeade concentrate
- 4 drops green food coloring

Heat oven to 350 degrees. For base and topping, combine oats, sugar and butter in small bowl, mix well. Spread in ungreased shallow baking pan, toast at 350 degrees about 10 minutes. Cool, stirring occasionally. Reserve 1/4 cup oat mixture for topping. Spoon 1 rounded tablespoon remaining oat mixture into 12 medium-size, paper-lined muffin cups. Freeze about 20 minutes.

For filling, combine ice cream, concentrate and food coloring, mix well. Fill each prepared paper-lined muffin cup about 3/4 full. Sprinkle each with about 1 teaspoon reserved oat mixture. Freeze about 2 hours or until firm. Serve in paper lining. Makes 1 dozen tarts.

NOTE: To reconstitute leftover limeade concentrate, add about 1 cup water to each 1/4 cup of concentrate. Mix well, chill.

VARIATION: To make Lemon or Orange Petal Tarts, substitute 1/2 cup thawed frozen lemonade concentrate or orange juice concentrate for limeade concentrate. Use yellow food coloring for Lemon Petal Tarts, use 2 drops each yellow and red food coloring for Orange Petal Tarts.

- 2 cups sifted powdered sugar
- 1 cup whipping cream, whipped
- 2 cups strawberry slices
- 1 cup banana slices
- 1/4 cup chopped pecans, toasted

Beat margarine and granulated sugar until light and fluffy. Add cream cheese, mix well. Blend in eggs and vanilla. Add combined dry ingredients alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition. Stir in bananas. Pour into two greased and floured 8-inch pans. Bake at 350 degrees, 35 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pans. Cool, split each layer into two layers. Combine cream cheese and vanilla, mixing at medium speed on electric mixer until well blended. Gradually add powdered sugar, mixing well after each addition. Fold in whipped cream. Spread each of three cake layers with 1/4 cup cream cheese mixture. Cover two layers with strawberries, cover third layer with bananas. Alternately stack strawberry and banana layers; top with remaining layer. Spread top with remaining cream cheese mixture. Chill. Sprinkle with pecans just before serving. Makes 12 servings.

COCOA CHEESECAKE SUPREME

- 1 cup chocolate wafer crumbs
- 4 8-oz. pkgs. cream cheese, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/3 cup cocoa
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 Tbsp. vanilla
- Raspberry sauce (below)

Combine cream cheese, sugar and cocoa, mixing at medium speed on electric mixer until well blended. Add eggs, one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Blend in sour cream and vanilla; pour over crust. Bake at 450 degrees, 10 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 250 degrees; continue baking 55 minutes. Loosen cake from rim of pan, cool before removing rim of pan. Chill. Top with Raspberry Sauce.

- Raspberry Sauce
- 2 10-oz. pkgs. frozen raspberries, thawed
- 1 Tbsp. cornstarch

Mash raspberries, drain, reserving juice. Gradually add juice to cornstarch in saucepan, mixing until well blended. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil 3 to 4 minutes, stirring constantly, until mixture is clear and thickened. Remove from heat, chill. Makes 12 servings.

LEMON DREAM DESSERT

- 1 3-oz. pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 1 8-oz. container (3 cups) whipped topping, thawed
- 1 1/2 cups assorted fresh fruit

Disolve gelatin in boiling water, add cold water. Cool. Gradually add gelatin to cream cheese, mixing until blended. Chill until thickened but not set. Beat with electric mixer or wire whisk until fluffy; fold in whipped topping. Pour into 1 1/2 quart serving bowl; chill until firm. Top with fruit. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

To make a special meal more memorable, plan a sumptuous serve-yourself selection of show-off desserts: (clockwise from top) Banana Strawberry Cream Torte, Orange-Filled Chocolate Cups and Cocoa Cheesecake Supreme.

This hand draws a quick smile from bridge player Irma Boyne. Bridge, pinochle and canasta were played at the Plymouth Township Seniors picnic.

Mike Cimino serves a hot dog to Mary Kish at the picnic.

WEDNESDAY WAS a good day for a picnic. The Plymouth Township Seniors celebrated that afternoon by holding an Independence Day picnic at Plymouth Township Park.

"We wanted to do something outdoors," said Helen Krupa, president of the organization. "We have a nice clubhouse, but we wanted to be outdoors."

Plymouth Township Park provided a good place for the group to celebrate Independence Day, she said.

A bocci competition was part of the day's fun. Bocci is an Italian game bearing a resemblance to bowling.

Musical entertainment — including a sing along and playing of the accordion and saxophone — was also a part of the afternoon's festivities. Josephine Volpe and David

Harkness were the picnic's musical performers.

A handmade quilt, donated by Bertha Peterson, was raffled off during the picnic, with Josephine Volpe as the winner. Canasta, pinochle and bridge were also played during the picnic, which was attended by about 60 people. Krupa said.

"And then, of course, we ate. We had hot dogs and all the other goodies. A lot of good things to eat."

HOT DOGS were provided for the picnic. Plymouth Township Seniors members added to the repast by bringing dishes to pass.

Many hours of planning and preparation went into making the Independence Day picnic a success.

Much of the work was done by Mike and Theresa Cimino, Bill and Dolores Browning and Ruben and Sparky Kallunki.

They really hosted the picnic for us," Krupa said.

The Plymouth Township Seniors were fortunate to have good weather for the Fourth of July celebration. Members said a few prayers

on the subject of the day's weather. Krupa said.

"The morning looked so gloomy." The afternoon weather, however, was just right for a picnic.

The picnic made for a fun afternoon for the Plymouth Township Seniors.

"I think all of us really enjoyed it," she said.

clubs in action

● ORIENTATION

The Plymouth Childbirth Education Association will hold a Caesarean orientation at 7:30 p.m. Monday, July 7, at Newburgh United Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia. The program will be an introduction to Caesarean preparation classes and will feature a Caesarean birth film. Couples planning a Caesarean birth, as well as Lamaze-prepared couples, may attend. There is a $1 per person charge at the door. For additional information, call 459-7477.

● JOB-HUNTING HELP

The Women's Resource Center at Schoolcraft College will hold a program for displaced homemakers 10 a.m. noon Tuesday, July 8. The program will be at the Women's Resource Center at the college, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia. The orientation will be for the displaced homemaker who needs to become economically self-sufficient and would like assistance in finding a job. The ongoing program provides job-seeking assistance, personal skills evaluation, resume writing, interviewing tips and job placement services. Displaced homemakers are people who have worked in the home most of their lives; they have lost their source of income due to death, disability, desertion, divorce or separation from the person on whom they have been dependent. Reserations are not required for the Tuesday, July 8, program. There is no charge. For additional information, call the Women's Resource Center, 591-6400 Ext. 430.

● DIVORCE GROUP

The Women's Divorce Support Group will meet 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, July 8, in the lower level conference room of the Waterman Campus Center of Schoolcraft College, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia. The group discussion will be on the topic of "Seeing Opportunities." Reservations are not required. The support group is for women who are separated, divorced, in the process of getting divorced or contemplating divorce. For additional information, call the Women's Resource Center at Schoolcraft College, 591-6400 Ext. 430.

● LA LECHE

The La Leche League will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 8, at 1642 Gloucester, Plymouth. The topic for the meeting will be "The Family in Relation to the Breastfed Baby." The informal discussion will cover managing those first hectic weeks. The emphasis will be on the entire family and will include timely tips for the mother and baby. Pregnant women and those with nursing babies may attend. For additional information, call Johanne Walters, 453-9171.

● FLUTE WORKSHOP

A flute workshop will be held July 8-15 at Madonna College, 36600 Schoolcraft, Livonia. Detroit Symphony Orchestra flutist Shaul Ben-Meir will direct the workshop, with assistance from Sheryl Cohen, flute professor at the University of Alabama, Cynthia Ferris, Madonna College flute instructor, and Jackie Hofte, professor of flute at the Interlochen Arts Academy. A recital at the end of the workshop will be Tuesday, July 15, in Kresge Hall on the Madonna campus. The recital will be open to the public free and features classical selections. Workshop sessions will be in Rooms 188 and 186. The fee for the workshop, sponsored by Flute World, is $160. For additional information, call Flute World, 855-0410, or Sister Edith Marie, chairwoman of the college's Music Department, 591-5098. Madonna College is at the intersection of I-96 and Levan in Livonia.

WATERBEDS WATERBEDS WATERBEDS

Back-Sufferers! Good News:

"ASTONISHING RESULTS CLAIMED BY WATERBED SLEEPERS... BACK SUFFERERS HAVE NOTHING TO LOSE BUT MISERIES."
 Did you awaken this morning feeling tired and irritable? Are your daily activities (and disposition) built around chronic backaches and tired muscles? Do you continually have to cater to low energy and tension? Those are problems shared by thousands of fellow back-sufferers. But the surprising relief from that problem can be as simple as the bed you sleep on nightly. And the good news is that a new high-tech Waterbed can bring you blessed relief - in just several blissful nights!

FREE
 4 oz. BOTTLE OF WATER CONDITIONER WITH ANY PURCHASE

$86 WATERBED

Read what sleep researchers say:
 Every night you go through a sleep cycle composed of four stages. The two most important stages are:
 • REM (Rapid Eye Movement) Sleep when your dreams take place.
 • Delta Sleep. The deepest stage when your physical and mental energies are recharged.
 And every time you lose and turn, it prevents you entering the Delta Sleep cycle. So even though you may have had a full quota of sleep hours, you can awaken feeling as if you need another two or three hours in bed.
 Now days, sleep experts realize the right support comes from a surface that gently contours to your body shape and matches the weight pressure of your sleeping habits.
 Right kind of support vital. The major difference between an ordinary mattress and a sophisticated high-tech waterbed is that the waterbed works with you, gently reacting to every movement for your partner's movement to help support your body evenly. That difference is what has won thousands of converts to the waterbed way of sleep.
 No of your life to bed. You spend one third of your life in bed - and the quality of sleep you enjoy has a profound effect on the other two-thirds of your life. It's the generation that produces or receives the greatest ability and sense of well-being.
Autumn and May Peak Outlets
 A non-discriminatory waterbed outlet. Special discounts, gifts and extra-features. There can be no limit on the number of waterbeds you can purchase. We'll guarantee your satisfaction with your waterbed. You'll love it!

Athletes Of The Year

We shall overcome

Perhaps the most satisfying achievement for an athlete is to win the respect of both coaches and peers. That can be said of Plymouth Salem's Paul Makara and Plymouth Canton's Diana Knickerbocker. They earned both the rights and responsibilities of leaders — both in the classroom and on the playing fields. In so doing, both overcame serious physical and mental setbacks. Their gallantry, both athletically and academically, is to be revered at a time when substance abusers and drug-related deaths hog the headlines. Meet Paul Makara and Diana Knickerbocker: the Plymouth-Canton Observer's 1986 Athletes of the Year.

CEP stars rise above injuries, defeats

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

DIANA KNICKERBOCKER'S first big break came in the first game of her sophomore girls basketball season. She was inserted into the starting lineup after senior LuAnn Hamblin was injured.

Her second and most lingering break came five games later. It was her knee that broke.

"I remember it was a home game against Redford Union," said the recent Plymouth Canton graduate. "I was running down the court. I turned one way and my knee turned the other. I just fell down. Everything in the knee just ripped. I had torn ligaments in three spots."

THERE WAS never a doubt about Paul Makara's athletic ability. When he drew a blue chip in the eighth grade, Plymouth Salem coaches rejoiced. Here was a young man that would be a major contributor to the football and basketball programs and a flat-out star on the baseball field.

Fate tossed Makara a nasty curve in the early stages of that promising career.

As a freshman playing junior varsity baseball, Makara heard something pop in his right shoulder after diving back into first base. It pained him greatly, but he continued to play.

The shoulder popped out again in his sophomore baseball season, prompting doctors to look closer at the problem. They discovered a chipped bone. He shoulder surgery after his junior football season. Makara hasn't been able to throw a baseball properly since.

"It really hurt me that I couldn't play (baseball) because that's what I was built for," said Makara, who was used as a designated hitter this past season. "It was probably my best sport."

BOTH KNICKERBOCKER and Makara will be pestered by their injuries the rest of their lives. Knickerbocker must don a cumbersome knee brace before participating in even the mildest form of exercise. Makara might want to join a softball team some summer, but that would put too great a strain on his shoulder.

But neither has allowed injury to ruin their athletic careers. Both, because of their talent and maturity, assumed leadership roles among their peers. Makara captained the football and basketball teams at Salem, while Knickerbocker captained basketball, volleyball and softball teams at Canton.

Both were academic leaders, as well. Makara graduated with a 3.7 grade point average. Knickerbocker a 3.4.

The pair will share honors as the 1986 Plymouth-Canton Observer's Athletes of the Year.

THE EASIEST thing for both Makara and Knickerbocker to do was quit competitive sports after sustaining serious injuries. Who could have blamed them? But the idea simply never entered their minds.

"I knew I just had to accept it (the injury) and go on from there," said Makara. "It wasn't that hard to adjust to, really. I feel pretty fortunate. I'm a real healthy person. There are a lot of people far worse off than me."

Said Knickerbocker: "I never looked at my injury as a career-ending thing. I didn't realize how serious it was until much later. I never once thought the injury would affect me in a way that I could never come back. Phyllis Mulroy was our coach then, and she kept telling me that I would be able to come back. I was just a sophomore, so I believed her."

But the injuries weren't the only obstacles set before them. Both had the ego-deflating experience of playing for losing teams.

Knickerbocker, for example, will not discuss her volleyball experience. The Chiefs won but one match during her junior and senior seasons. The Chiefs were competitive in softball, though the records stayed near .500.

Basketball is Knickerbocker's game. And she rode along with the Chiefs' downs and ups.

"When we were sophomores, I thought, 'Just wait until we're seniors.' I figured we had the talent to really do something," she said. "Then after my junior year I wasn't too high on our chances."

An internal squabble among the players, parents and coaching staff took the luster out of the Chiefs' first .500 season in three years.

WHEN ROB NEU and Bob Blohm took over the coaching duties prior to last season, Knickerbocker's and the Chiefs' outlook brightened considerably. The Chiefs posted a 19-3 record and won the Western Lakes Western Division title.

"I was really glad to for once be on a good team and be successful," said Knickerbocker, who earned first team All-Observer honors.

Makara experienced the same joy, but it came early in his career. He was a sophomore when Salem posted an 8-1 record in football.

"It was just a great experience to be around the guys on that team," he said. "It's been real disappointing the last two years because we had a great tradition at Salem, and we didn't hold it up."

Despite losing football seasons, and frustrating basketball seasons, Makara distinguished himself as a superb talent and a take-charge field leader. He was named to the first team All-Observerland football team last year and was selected to play in the Aug. 2 Michigan High School Football Coaches Association All-Star Classic at Michigan State.

THE LOSING has left both with some bitterness.

"It kind of makes me mad because we had talent on a lot of those teams," Knickerbocker said. "I don't know if it was a lack of proper coaching or what, but I remember after last basketball season wishing I had one more year left. I improved so much during the one year with Rob and Mr. Blohm, I learned so much more. I'm glad our basketball team was finally able to bring Canton some recognition that some of the other sports didn't get. The talent has always been there. It's just never been developed."

Makara blames the players for the defeats: "We had a lot of great athletes, but we just never seemed to put everything together. I don't hold it against anyone, but we didn't hit the weights enough during the off season. We didn't realize how important that was. We needed to be more dedicated, I guess."

College is the next step. Knickerbocker will continue her basketball career at Kalamazoo College, a Division III school in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Makara's athletic future may be decided by his performance at the all-star classic. He currently plans on attending Michigan State (academics only). But if his Aug. 2 performance garners some offers, he'll certainly listen.

In either case, both Diana Knickerbocker and Paul Makara have made a lasting impact, academically and athletically, on the Plymouth-Canton Community School District.

Feigner brings his Court to Canton Center

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Eddie Feigner, who bills himself as "Softball's Super Showman", will bring his four-man team to the Canton Softball Center Saturday, July 19, to take on last year's ASA Metro Detroit Modified Champion FGS Radiators of Westland.

The King (Feigner) and his Court — catcher Tim Mackin, first baseman Jack Knight, shortstop Dave Booth and alternate Floyd Berger — have thrilled audiences all over the world for the better part of 40 years.

Feigner, in his prime, could throw the ball some 105 mph and had command of 50 different pitches. He pitches behind his back, between his legs, blindfolded, from second base, you name it.

After 40 years, Feigner still draws big crowds.

"No reason I can't go on another few years," he said. "I still throw about as fast as I need to, have good control of some 50 different pitches and am as enthusiastic as ever."

THE KING'S opponents will be no slouch. FGS has been a dominant modified team in this area (and in the country) for the past four years. Formerly Compuware (the team that legendary hurler Al White played for before signing a contract with a Florida team). FGS placed 12th in the nation the past two years. The team posted 50-7 records in 1983 and 1984 with White on the hill. The team was third in the nation in 1983.

softball

This year, playing in both the Canton Softball Center and Livonia modified leagues, FGS has posted a 33-6 record. Pitcher Curt Richards (of Livonia), Dave Brubaker (Farmington), Jim Lawson (Canton) and Rick Dreher (Westland) have all earned all-American honors in the past.

FHS is owned by Frank Schossau. The team is managed by Bob Duman with help from Don Conkright.

"Basically, what we are trying to do is raise some money so we can play in the national tournament this year in Spokane," said Brubaker, a Livonia Churchill grad. "It's going to cost us about $500 per man to make the trip."

Ticket prices are $3 adults, $4 at the gate. Youngsters ages 9-15 pay $2 advance, $3 at the gate. No charge for children under 8.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. The Canton Softball Center is on Michigan Avenue, west of Canton Center Road.

Eddie Feigner, the King, has been traveling the world with his four-man softball team for 40 years. He'll bring his act to the Canton Softball Center next Saturday.

Kavanaugh steps down at S'craft, Grenan's in

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

Another basketball coach has left Schoolcraft College.

Unlike Rocky Watkins, the Ocelot men's coach who was dismissed in April, Ed Kavanaugh is giving up his position as SC women's coach voluntarily.

"I got tired of doing both," said Kavanaugh, who also serves as Livonia Ladywood's cage coach and athletic director. "I just decided to concentrate on Ladywood. It was the overlapping seasons, really."

Kavanaugh has guided Ladywood into the state Class B finals for the past three years, which resulted in stretching the season well into December. That forced double duty, with the SC season starting in early December.

The Ocelots won the Eastern Conference championship last season with an 11-1 record. They posted a 21-6 mark for the year.

KAVANAUGH FORSEES no transitional problems, however, because his successor at SC is his assistant coach for the past two seasons, Jack Grenan.

"He's very capable," said Kavanaugh. "He's been doing a lot of the recruiting already. He's the one I recommended for the job."

Grenan, who also coaches the Livonia Clarenceville girls team, does not plan to make any major changes in the SC program.

"You know the old saying," Grenan said. "If something works, stick with it." And yet, Grenan has already implemented changes for next year's team. "It will be a different type of team," the new coach admitted. "Last year, we didn't have a player over 5-feet-10, but we were one of the quickest teams in the conference."

Grenan's recruiting should change that. He has commitments from a pair of 6-3 centers: Tina Osantowski of Madison Heights Lamphere and Cheryl Miller of Melvindale.

"They should free (returnees) Sue Lubbe and Tracey Ladouceur to play forward instead of center," said Grenan.

THE SC COACH doesn't plan to play both freshmen at the same time, so the team's quickness shouldn't suffer.

"You're going to see the same discipline, the same emphasis on defense," he predicted. "We're going to have a super bench. And we'll be able to put a big team on the floor or one that can play up-tempo. We'll be able to do either."

Grenan will have a nucleus to build around, with forwards Lubbe and Ladouceur and guards Lori Abbas, Michelle Richards and Sheri Wolfe all returning. Other freshmen Grenan has recruited include forwards Kelly Watson of Clarenceville and Lisa Kline of Waterford, and guards Debbie Georgevich of Center Line and Tammy Adkins of Melvindale. Sophomore Lisa Abbas, Lori's twin sister, will also join the team.

VOLLEYBALL CAMP

The third annual Plymouth Salem Volleyball Clinic, under the direction of Salem coach Betty Smith, will take place from 8:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. July 21-24.

The clinic is for Plymouth-Canton School District girls grades one through 12 and boys grades seven through nine. The cost is $12 and checks should be made out to Plymouth Salem Volleyball.

For more information, call 455-5614.

YOUTH SUPERSTARS

The seventh annual Youth Superstars Contest, sponsored by the Canton Parks and Recreation Department, will take place beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday, July 19, at Griffin Park (Sheldon Road entrance).

The contest will involve boys and girls 15 and under in a series of six events designed to test athletic skills. Contestants will compete in basketball, golf, soccer, baseball, running and others.

There is no entry fee. Call 397-1000 for more information.

CSC REGISTRATION

The Canton Soccer Club will have registration for the fall season from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, July 12, at the Canton Township Hall.

The registration fee is $20 per player ($25 for Bonanza players) with a maximum of $60 per family.

Players may also sign up weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Canton Parks and Recreation Department through July 11.

NBA HOT-SHOT HOOPS

The Canton Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring, in conjunction with Pepsi-Cola, the Pepsi-NBA Hotshot Basketball Competition on the following dates:

- Noon Tuesday, July 8, at Gallimore Elementary.
- Noon Tuesday, July 15, at Hulsing Elementary.
- 3 p.m. Thursday, July 17, at Central Middle School.

The competition is open to boys and girls 9-18. There is no charge.

The competition is a test of speed, dribbling, shooting and rebounding. Winners in each age division will advance to an area playoff in Detroit.

Call 397-1000 for more information.

Schoolcraft sports

S'craft tabs area stars

Schoolcraft College women volleyball coach Tom Teeters, whose team finished fifth last year in the National Junior College Athletic Association, expects another banner season with the return of five players and the arrival of six talented freshmen.

In 1986, Schoolcraft finished 43-13 overall, winning the Michigan Community College Athletic Association Eastern Conference title. The Lady Ocelots also captured the NJCAA Region 12 crown.

Returning off that team is Kim Relyea, a Livonia Stevenson product who was named to the all-conference, all-state, all-region and all-NJCAA tourney teams.

She is joined by sophomore Sue Cyrus of Garden City, an all-conference, all-state and all-region player. Also back is all-conference and all-region pick Patti Kozicki of North Farmington, Donna Konjarevich (North Farmington) and Amy Lotero (Livonia Franklin).

TEETERS' INCOMING freshman crop is led by all-Western Lakes Conference pick Wendy Spencer of Walled Lake Western.

Other recruits include Diana Dietz (a second-team all-Observer choice), Laura Verduzco and Euginia Bass, all of Wayne Memorial; Donna Wilhelm, Milford; Jill Ehlert, Monroe St. Mary's; and Tina Osantowski, Madison Heights Lamphere.
