Student reassignments delayed

By Doug Funke staff writer

A plan to move all Plymouth-Canton ninth graders to the high schools from middle schools by the 1988-89 academic year will be put on hold for at least one year.

Overcrowded conditions currently at the Centennial Educational Park, plus enrollment projections over the next couple of years, have prompted to revise the timetable. f This year, ninth graders who would have been assigned to East and Central middle schools were sent to CEP in the first phase of the realignment. That boosted enrollment at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools combined to about 4,420, said Dr. Michael Homes, assistant superintendent for instruc-administrators and the school board tion. He estimated capacity at CEP from 4,200 to 4,300.

NINTH GRADERS at Lowell Middle School were to join their counterparts at CEP for the 1987-88 school year and ninth graders from Pioneer and West middle schools were to follow the following year.

Next year's alignment now will be the same as this year. Lowell's ninth graders are now expected to transfer to CEP in 1988-89 and Pioneer and West students in 1989-90 or perhaps separately that year and the next.

"If we did not defer Lowell for a year, we would end up with about 150 more students in 87-88 than we have now," Homes said.

"One of the things that happened is we gained more students at the high schools than we expected. We returned more students in addition to the move-ins. "We don't want to overtax the high schools more than we need to," Homes said. "We don't want to be in the same situation we were in five or six years ago."

At that time, ninth graders were moved out of the CEP back to the middle schools due to overcrowding The purpose of putting ninth graders in the high schools is to offer them a richer academic program, Homes said.

Want to give? They need help this holiday season

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

When a volunteer from Ward Presbyterian Church called a needy family to find out what sorts of gifts might brighten their holidays, she discovered a 9-year-old boy lived in the household.

His grandmother was asked what he'd like for Christmas, Rather than guess, she called Scott to the phone. "My first wish is to have my mother home," Scott told the volunteer. Scott's mom is in prison and will be there on Christmas Day. But thanks to Ward's Project Angel Tree, Scott won't be forgotten Dec. 25. Like 360 other urban and suburban children whose parents are prison inmates, Scott will receive donated clothing and toys via Project Angel Tree.

Ward is finding, though, that there's a limit to time and resources. The church recently had to turn down a request for help from a Washtenaw County prison.

"We're pushing our congregation to the limit," said Ward's Donna Freed. Freed said help from nonchurch members is welcome. Those interested may call 422-1851. The Christmas spirit has moved folks at Ward and many other area churches, organizations and businesses to help the helpless.

And while some senior citizens' homes and churches are turning down offers of assistance, there's plenty of need out there.

If while racking your brain about what to buy for a loved one who has everything, you've thought about helping someone less fortunate, read on. Plymouth and Canton will be happier places this holiday season because of the big hearts of others.

CHILDREN WHO are physically handicapped, emotionally disturbed, abused or orphaned – 4,000 of them – will receive toys from Mel Bobcean.

Bobcean, of Mel's Golden Razor, 595 Forest in Plymouth, is accepting toy and cash donations from the community as part of "Discover Plymouth for a Giving Christmas," a holiday food-toy-clothing collection project.

Bobcean, better known as Mel, began the program after visiting a Northville children's home.

"I went as a clown to cheer them up a little. The children didn't want me to leave — they were hanging on my legs," Mel recalled. "I felt so bad, even leaving, that I asked what more I could do. They said the kids would love some toys."

would love some toys." Eight years later, Mel's Christmas program is thriving. He's looking for agencies to help him find recipients for the contents of 30 boxes of toys that line his shop.

Mel says the work is rewarding.

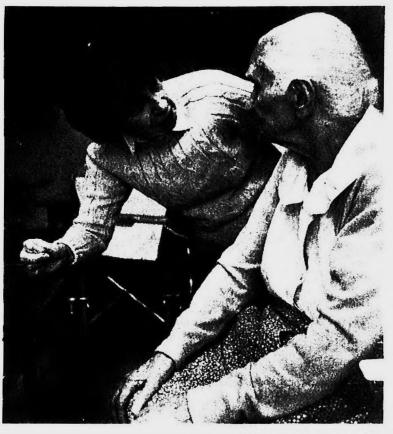

"One lady was so thankful last year that after Christmas she came to me with tears in her eyes she was so grateful," said Mel.

BATTERED WOMEN and their children are assisted by an area agency called First Step.

At no charge, they're provided shelter, food and clothing. Gifts for the abused spouses and teens — particularly non-perishable food items, sleepwear, underwear and socks are being warmly accepted, said Karen Porter, First Step program specialist.

Interested donors may call 525-2230.

Police release victim's brother

By Diane Gale staff writer

Police have released the 21-yearold brother of Keith Mettetal, who was killed on the runway of his grandfather's airport while they timed a speeding car.

Ian Mettetal was legally drunk, said police, when he struck his brother who was clocking him when he drove by in a 1986 Honda. The accident happened at 11:15 p.m. Sunday at Mettetal Airport on Joy and Lilley in Canton Township.

to get his brother in the car to get medical attention.

Keith, a 19-year-old Texas resident, was pronounced dead at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia at 12:33 a.m. Monday.

"They were brothers — they loved each other," said their father Robert Mettetal of Texas.

IAN WAS HELD in the Canton Township jail from Sunday evening until Tuesday morning.

Share Christmas tales

Christmas, like most holidays, is a time for memories.

Whenever people gather, especially families, memorable events happen — funny things, heartwarming events, embarrassing happenings. Such memories produce fodder for future gatherings when the family gets together again and shares stories while waiting for the dishes to be cleared and dessert to be served. "Do you remember that time when . . ." This holiday season the Observer Newspapers of Plymouth and Canton invite readers to the community table to share holiday memories of Christmases past. Christmas, indeed, is a time for sharing. So let's share our holiday memories as well. Take a moment to write down your favorite holiday moment and submit it to the Observer, 489 S. Main, Plymouth, Mich. 48170 by noon Friday, Dec 19. We'll publish some of the better tales, which likely will include yours. Keep your story brief and it will leave more room for others; a 100-word limit is suggested but don't omit great material just to meet it. We're flexible if you're creative.

Names may be withheld if the writer requests anonymity, but only for personal reasons that are obvious. Unsigned responses risk not being published.

Flexibility serves problem-solver well

Marcia Buhl

By Leonard Poger staff writer

Marcia Buhl sees herself as a problem-solver and ombudsman for Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and its customers.

In Buhl's case, the customers number hundreds of thousands in northwest Wayne County and Washtenaw County.

Not only does she represent the phone company to the public, she represents the public's needs in dealing with Bell employees and managers.

Sometimes it's not easy. For example, Plymouth Township's new police department had a problem in the summer of 1985 in setting up its telecommunications emergency phone system.

THE TOWNSHIP found out that it didn't have enough phone circuits and called Buhl to speed up the installation, a job that normally takes three weeks.

But Buhl talked to Bell people and go the job done in a few days.

Buhl, whose formal title is corporate affairs manager, sees herself as an ombudsman for Bell customers who have already gone through channels to solve a problem.

The problems she covers include repairs, installations and coordination of services with other telephone providers.

"Being a problem-solver is nothing new to me," said Buhl in an interview.

"Solving problems is one of my strengths."

SHE USES that strength by being visible in the numerous communities she represents, serving on numerous chamber of commerce boards of directors and other public service organizations.

Buhl said she's thankful many of those boards meet at 7:30 in the morning.

Her list of community involvement might lead to conclusions that she has no job or career outside the home and has a lot of free time.

Those memberships include chambers of commerce in Garden City, Livonia, Westland, Canton Township, Plymouth, as well as Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Manchester, Northville, Whitmore Lake and Ypsilanti.

In the Livonia chamber, Buhl serves on the membership, community development and budget committees.

As if chamber work didn't take up enough of Buhl's time, she is vice chairwoman of the Plymouth Community Fund (and in line to be chairwoman next year), Detroit-a-Glow committee member, Plymouth Township Economic Development Corporation, Plymouth Township Study Group co-chair, the Arts Alliand Group for western Wayne County suburbs, and Central Business District Foundation.

BEING INVOLVED in community service and being a good time manager isn't new to Buhl, 45, of Plymouth Township.

"I was the second oldest of seven children (she had five sisters and a brother), attended Holy Redeemer Catholic School in Flint, and had a very disciplined father in my upbringing," Buhl said.

"I am also a very flexible person. In the past 13 years, the longest I had one position (with Michigan Bell) was two years, other than my current one."

Buhl was promoted to manager of corporate affairs for her region at the start of 1984 when the company was in the throes of the AT&T reorganization into seven regional companies.

Her earlier training with Bell served as an excellent background for her current post.

She joined the company at age 19, one year after graduating high school, as a service representative for customer service in her hometown of Flint.

FIVE YEARS later. she won a promotion to business office supervisor.

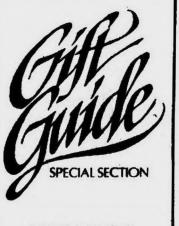

She was transferred to Saginaw in 1973 and later held several customer service posts throughout the state.

When not working to solve problems for Belt and its customers, Bubl spends time working for Republican political candidates.

Her interest in politics started in Flint when, as a young Bell employee, she was invited to take a cham-ber of commerce-sponsored course in practical politics.

"I found out of the impact government has on my life," she recalled

During the course, she interviewed her precinct delegates in the Republican and Democratic parties.

Sunday, Dec. 7, at the DPW yard, 4847 Sheldon Road south of Michigan Avenue. Someone broke into the yard and started a fire in a 10-by-10foot shed, which contained propane tanks and gasoline

Canton Police officer Bill Keppen was 11/2 miles away from the scene when he heard the first explosion and saw flames shooting in the air, according to Canton Police information officer David Boljesic.

Keppen also reported hearing a second explosion. It's believed the fire was started by the ignition of debris scattered over a large area.

A SECOND FIRE was reported at 10 45 p.m. Dec. 7 at 41052 Ford Road in a vacant building that had been occupied by New Boston Heating and Cooling and Canton Vacuum Cleaning and Repair.

Both businesses appeared to have moved out, according to Canton fire Lt. Bill Grady. It is suspected debris in the building was set on fire, according to fire Capt. Art Winkel.

The fire is estimated to have caused $5,000 worth of damage, Winkel said. It appeared the fire was started when trash and other debris in the building were ignited.

The building, owned by Midas Muffler shop, which is next door, had been scheduled for demolition before the fire,, Winkel said.

The third fire was at 11:33 p.m. Sunday at 41666 Ford Road behind Wayne Bank about 1,500 feet from the road.

The distance from the street made fighting the fire difficult because it took time to extend the equipment to the house, Grady said. It was about 1,500 feet from the business that was set on fire earlier in the evening. The old, large, two-story home was believed to be have been unoccupied for awhile before the fire Winkel said he suspected the two Ford Road fires were linked.

"They were a little too close,"said Winkel, adding that he didn't believe there was a relationship between the Ford Road fires and the DPW arson. The damage to the home was estimated at $80,000-$90,000. "It appeared there were some flammable liquids placed at the front door area." Winkel said.

There are no suspects in any of the cases, which have been turned over to Canton Police for further investigation say preholiday sales indicate that the Christmas spirit is alive and well

Retailers are optimistic that 1986 will feature increased consumer spending as money continues to loos-

"Sales have been good up to this point,' said Robert Clark, who has been store manager of the K Mart in Canton for three years. "Our inventories are well stocked. Sales are better this year, credit card use is up. I expect that we will continue to follow the trend that has been developing through the summer."

Clark said that buyers are going for traditional small appliances this year and are staying away from fad items. Food processors are popular items. In the department, video cassette recorders and accessories are hits.

He added that consumers are not deterred from buying higher priced electronic talking toys/dolls like Teddy Ruxpin, which sells for more than $50. Prestige colognes like Stetson and musk colognes are also popular this year, Clark added.

At Muriel's Doll House in Plymouth, shoppers have fallen in love with bears. "Everybody likes bears this year," said owner Jacqueline Kneppen. The traditional Teddy bear is still in vogue, she said, with many Steiff bears being sold for $3 to $250. "We look for unique things, not fad items," Kneppen said.

There are no Teddy Ruxpin or Cabbage Patch dolls at Muriel's. But shoppers will find a wide selection of Madam Alexander dolls, which Kneppen bills as "the most popular doll in the entire world."

Kneppen looks forward to strong sales of LGB trains, clown dolls and precut doll houses which range in price from $120-$600.

BUT PRACTICAL parents and child enthusiasts are interested in more than playthings for the kids at holiday time.

According to Karen Orlandi, a manager of the Richards Boys and Girls store on Ford Road in Canton, puffed print tops, stirrup knit pants, oversized clothes and clothes with lots of glitter, gold and silver are trendy items for girls this year. The store caters to boys and girls newborn to size 14.

"Last year, we sold a lot more basic traditional items like sweaters and plaid skirts. This year, shoppers are interested in anything casual. I do see a big change this year," she said.

No gift is complete without an accompanying card and the people at Sunnydaze Hallmark shop in Canton are all awhirl with gift items that consumers cherish at Christmas.

A new item this year called Hot Pots or Room Scenters, depending on the manufacturer, are sellin faster than they can be stocked, said manager Char Kramer. The small pots feature a candle with potpourri that fills the room with nostalgic smells. "We sold 84 in one weekend." she said. "We've been very busy."

The store also has completely sold out of the $24 Hallmark Village Express motion ornament, which features a miniature train that goes round and round the ornament when a miniature light is hooked inside. This is the second year for motion ornaments and they are selling well, she said.

Stuffed animals also are hits. Shoppers are enticed with a red-capped white bear that can be pur-chased for $9.95 with a $25 store purchase, said Kramer. The bear plays 18 different Christmas carols.

> AT LITTLE Professor on the Park Bookstore in Plymouth, bookworms are heavily into books on China.

"Across China" by Peter Jenkins is a popular book selection, according to owner Jackie Powers. "People are very interested in China right now. It's an up and coming country,' she said. Another rapid seller is "China: The Beautiful Cookbook" ($39.95) which contains maps and pictorials.

"People buy more bestsellers at Christmas and more expensive books than they would during the year," said Powers.

The bookstore's proximity to Mettetal Airport in Canton also draws a lot of private pilots to browse for aviation books, she said. Books on Marilyn Monroe are pop-ular, too. Classics illustrated by New York artist N.C. Wyeth are attracting parents. Books like "Rumpel-stiltskin," "The Last of the Mohicans," "The Yearling," "Robin Hood," "Treasure Island" and "Robcans," inson Crusoe," which contain Wyeth illustrations, are being scooped up by parents.

(P)BA

The local history book, "The House on Ann Street," by Charles A. Root Jr. also is selling well.

"Our sales are increasing very well. We're number two in 108 stores in the Little Professor franchise," said Powers.

Bicycles stolen from apartment

Two blue Schwinn 10-speed bicycles were reported stolen from a storage room at the Plymouth Manor Apartments on Lilley Road, according to a report filed with Plymouth Township police.

The theft occurred between 4:15 p.m. Sunday and 4:20 p.m. Monday. Wire mesh had been pushed back and a chain was cut. The all-terrain bikes were valued at $200 each.

A blue Peughet bicycle valued at $50 was reported stolen from an unlocked barn behind a house on Ann Arbor Trail.

A light blue 1986 Nova reported stolen from the K mart store on Ann Arbor Road at Haggerty was later recovered in Canton. It apparently sustained underbody damage when driven over railroad tracks, police said.

The victim told police he left the keys in the ignition when he ran into the store for about 10 minutes.

A Toro snowblower valued at $300 was reported stolen from a garage on Nantucket in the city of Plymouth. The resident heard noises shortly after midnight Sunday and discovered the theft when police arrived.

A large Christmas stocking attached to a house on S. Evergreen was reported stolen last weekend. The 7-by-3 foot decoration was valued at $70.

Police estimate Keith was thrown 60 to 70 feet after being struck on the dark runway. Ian, a car wash employee, showed a .10 and .11 blood alcohol level from tests given by police at the scene. Both levels are considered legally drunk in Michigan. Police said they are unaware of witnesses at the scene

Keith, a student at Victoria College in Texas, was in Michigan visiting his grandparents, Plymouth Township residents Jeanne and Robert Mettetal, co-owner of Mettetal Airport. When Ian failed to get his brother in the car he contacted his grandparents who called for emergency help.

Ian, who lives with his grandparents, returned from Texas last summer and was driving with a suspended Texas license, according to Canton Police officer David Boljesic.

The car also had a Texas license plate.

A medical examiner said Tuesday Keith died from multiple injuries and the manner of death was accidental.

Possible warrants the prosecutor's office could issue include negligent homicide, manslaughter, drunk driving or reckless driving.

House rejects abortion vote

staff writer

No April 6 election on abortions for Michigan voters

Maybe a special election later. Maybe not at all.

A deeply split state House of Representatives failed Tuesday to muster a two-thirds majority to put an anti-abortion constitutional amendment on the spring ballot.

The House decision set in motion a 10-member special joint committee to wrestle with the long-debated question.

"IT'S ABSOLUTELY ridiculous that we're (thinking of) calling a special election on an issue that's been debated 14 years," said Rep. Michael Hayes, R-Midland, summing up the thinking of many frustrated lawmakers.

But Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville, author of the failed resolution, said he expects to be appointed to the special committee and favors a special election - "the sooner the better.'

After the Senate voted two weeks ago to call the special election on Geake's proposed constitutional amendment, the House Tuesday rejected it 58-44, with 74 votes needed for adoption.

Male legislators favored the election 56-33. Females were opposed, 11-2 - a pattern that has held up on most votes aimed at cutting Medicaid abortion funding.

Here's how Observer & Eccentric lawmakers voted: • Yes (5) - Mat Dunaskiss, R-

Lake Orion; Gregory Gruse, R-Madi-son Heights; James Kosteva, D-Canton; Gerald Law, R-Plymouth.

#5A

• Absent - John Bennett, D-Redford. (Because 74 yes votes are need-ed, Bennett's absence was the equivalent of a no vote

APRIL 6 was proposed for a special election because many cities hold local elections that day.

Earlier in what was supposed to be the final meeting of the year, the House voted 64-39 to adopt a $1 billion Medicaid budget.

The Senate, however, passed a different version of the budget. A special session is likely to be necessary to clairfy the budget bill.

The compromise plan, if adopted, would have: • Funded non-medical services, such as nursing homes, for the full fiscal year, ending next Sept. 30.

· Funded Medicaid services, including abortions for welfare recipients only until March 31.

• Set up a special committee of five senators and five representatives to probe a series of questions.

AMONG THE questions are:

• "Should the issue of public funding of abortions be placed be-fore voters?" House Speaker Gary Owen, D-Ypsilanti, a strong "prochoice" vote, agrees with Geake, a "pro-life" vote, that voters should decide the question, but disagrees on calling a special election.

• How should a ballot question be woreded? The Legislature's debate has been confined to cutting off $6 million for about 18,000-plus abortions for welfare recipients under Medicaid. Geake's proposal would prohibit any public funds - either from the state, colleges or local units - for abortions for employees under health insurance packages ng interest rates could save Plymouth-Canton Community Schools nearly $300,000 over the next 13% years if a bond issue approved by voters in 1974 is refianced now.

Refinancing bonds may save schools cash

That's the word from investment idvisers whose report has prompted the school board to investigate the refinancing possibility in more detail.

When the 1974 bond issue won approval, interest rates on tax exempts were projected to range between 6 and 7 percent. Now, interest rates can be had at 4 to 6 percent. The 25year issue runs through May 1, 2000. The bond issue, $9.9 million, was used to build and equip Hulsing, Field and Eriksson elementary schools and to construct a pool, gym and music rooms at Plymouth Canton High School.

ABOUT $7.7 million remains to be repaid. Advisers project a net savings of $290,000 by obtaining rates from 4.1 to 6.2 percent now through the life of the issue.

Individual taxpayers shouldn't ex-pect to reap financial bonanzas with the refinancing.

At best, the debt retirement tax levy - currently $3 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation for all outstate equalities variation for all out-standing debt in the district — prob-ably would go down only slightly, said Ray Hoedel, associate superintendent for business.

The largest savings for any one year other than the last, according to projections, is just less than $5,000.

Still, savings is savings. "Every little bit helps," Hoedel said. "I'm a taxpayer, too. Everything is significant even if it's not as big as we'd like to see it." School administrators say they would expect a refinancing plan to be final by Feb. 1.

THE SCHOOL board Monday also: Accepted a bid of $20,138 for 378 additional lockers at the Centen-nial Educational Park. A two-week installation was projected.

 Approved a policy that with-holds the sanctioning of travel and bans in-school solicitation of travel outside of North America due to terrorist activities.

"It's intended to disassociate the district for what people do on their own," Richard Egli, community relations director, said of the liability issue

The policy most likely would af-fect foreign language teachers who might want to organize a trip to Europe.

 Accepted the recommendations of a study committee on instructional materials relating to sexually transmitted diseases and reproduction in district health classes.

• Considered a policy to conform with the state's no smoking law, which takes effect Jan. 1.

The Sisters of Mercy Health Care Corp. have signed an agreement to operate Westland Medical Center, setting the stage for an outright buyout from the Southwest Detroit Hospital Corp.

The agreement was reached Tuesday morning and is expected to take effect immediately, said Mercy spokeswoman Rose Dill.

Southwest officials declined comment In a renewable 30-day contract, Mercy begins to operate the former county-operated medical center in Westland while negotiators draft a purchase option. There are eight years remaining in a 10-year lease Southwest has with Wayne County.

At least for the next month Mercy will continue to honor employee contracts with the center's 650 workers. "We can't say what's going to happen after that," said Dill.

DILL SAID an assessment team of

The decision by Southwest to turn over its operating lease at Westland is one that it has pursued strongly because of an inability to continue to as a county-operated facility, the center, then called Wayne County absorb financial losses.

Mercy Corp. was one of three in-terested bidders. Others had included an out-of-state firm, Gateway Medical Systems of Atlanta, and Michigan Osteopathic Medical Services, which recently purchased 21 clinics in the Detroit area.

Industry observers say Southwest officers were quick to hone in on the Sisters of Mercy Health Care Corp., the largest not-for-profit health care organization in the country, and one of the top five largest health care providers overall in the United States.

Besides having a healthy bankbook, Mercy's reputation in the field was considered a needed asset by Southwest officers and could provide "immediate credibility" for the struggling facility. Also, Mercy's lowed a Friday meeting at Mercy's Farmington Hills corporate office where its coporate board of directors directed officers to "move quickly toward an agreement," said Mount Carmel's chief operating offi-Tuesday morning's decision fol- cer, Scott Ideson last week.

Broadening its services and diversifying has streighthened the corporation internally and made it a more influential health care operator nationwide, said Symond Gottlieb, executive director of the Greater Detroit Area Health Council.

Corporate boards fear liability suits

Fully one-third of Michigan's directors of major U.S. corporations surveyed have considered resigning because of increased personal exposure to lawsuits, according to a national survey done by Touche Ross. Overwhelmingly, they agree it will be more difficult to recruit competent board members in the future. "The results clearly point to a serious concern regarding liability issues by a substantial portion of Michigan and U.S. corporate directors," said James R. Flaherty, Touche Ross partner and director of audit practice in Michigan.

"If, as the data suggest, this translates into fewer qualified directors over the next decade, there may be a dramatic change in the way stewardship is practiced in corporate America.'

TOUCHE ROSS, a Big Eight accounting and management consulting firm, in September surveyed officers and directors of companies with sales of $500 million or more.

Among the 1,126 respondents were 48 Michigan directors, 34 of whom represent companies with more than $1 billion in annual sales.

Surprisingly, 54 percent of Michigan directors agree with other survey respondents that although foreign competition has hurt earnings, Congress should not consider legislation to protect U.S. business from foreign competition.

Michigan directors proved to be much more optimistic than their colleagues that plant expenditures will increase during 1987, as will investment in research and technology based industries. These figures may represent an acknowledgement of the need to diversify the state's industrial base.

There's a beautiful promise in these twelve precious ampules from Stendhal.

présents

a remarkable new regimen for firmer-looking skin in just twelve days

TWO-THIRDS of Michigan respondents expect favorable benefits for American business as a result of establishing a U.S.-Canadian Common Market. But they agreed with their colleagues nationwide that implementation of such a program is unlikely.

Fatal crash site: winding, local road

Only 2 percent of Michigan traffic accidents involve trees. But 11 percent of the fatalities are car-tree crashes, a state official said.

Andrew Ziegler, a landscape architect for the Michigan Department of Transportation, said that based on a recent study of 500 vehicle-tree accidents the typical accident occurs under the following conditions:

• The road is local and rural (84 percent of deaths) rather than a state-federal road and is winding rather than straight. Typically it curves left, and the driver leaves the road at the outside of the curve.

• The driver is typically male, 20 to 25 years old, driving faster than the speed limit and has been drinking. "Drinking is a common ingredient," he said.

• The time is between 2 and 4 a.m. Friday or Saturday (two-thirds of accidents occur at these hours) and happens more often in winter than summer, apparently because of shorter periods of daylight.

Zielger, speaking to a Michigan In-stitute of Traffic Engineers workshop in Plymouth, urged officials to set a system of priorities for dealing with problems. He said there isn't enough money to deal with all hazards.

He said possible solutions include (in rising order of cost): more road signs, speed reduction signs, wider shoulders, guard rails, tree removals and road realignments.

Don't be too quick to advocate cutting trees, he cautioned, because local residents are vocal in pointing out that trees have historical, environmental and erosion control values. . .

Canton has hired the Wayne State University Center for Urban Studies to conduct a census and demographic study.

If the township proves there has been a 15 percent population growth since the 1980 survey the community would receive more state revenue sharing money. The demographic study will be used for future planning projects.

Confidentiality is maintained because names will not be asked in the survey or study, according to Kim Scherschligt, Canton community and econonmic development research associate.

SURVEYORS WILL be knocking door to door for the mid-decade census, which will cost the township $46,080.

Canton was listed as having 48,016 residents in the 1980 census survey. Currently Canton receives $2.3 million annually in state revenue sharing. If the new survey bumps the figure to 60,000 the state shared revenue would increase $545,647 to about $2.9 million, according to John Spencer, Canton finance director.

The survey is expected to take between five and 10 minutes.

The mid-decade census was contemplated a few months ago but was shelved due to Canton's potential participation in Supersewer. Community costs in the sewer program were to be determined by population figures, and the survey would have increased Canton's costs. The census survey is being reinstituted because the township recently opted out of Supersewer.

The type of questions that will be asked include the number of people who live in the house and possibly their sex and age.

The demographic study — to cost Canton $8,000 — will be done by a random telephone sampling of 320 households in the township. Because 25 percent of Canton residents have unlisted telephone numbers the random dialing was considered optimal, Scherschligt said. INFORMATION REQUESTED may include ages, schooling and occupations of residents in the home.

The following are potential warmup questions to be asked in the survey:

• Do you feel Canton Township should encourage certain high quality commercial development?

• Do you feel Canton Township should encourage industrial development?

• Do you use any of the public recreation facilities in Canton for activities such as tennis, softball, football or soccer?

• Would you like to see a multipurpose recreational building constructed for use by Canton residents? It could include facilities such as a gymnasium, exercise rooms, meeting and activity rooms, swimming pool and ice arena.

How would you rate the quality of life in Canton on a scale of one to five with five being the highest?

SENIOR TAX COUNSELORS

The Plymouth-Canton-Northville branch of the American Association of Retired Persons is offering classes for volunteers for Tax Counseling for the Elderly. The classes will be for two weeks from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday-Friday, Jan. 5-16, at Plymouth Township Hall, 42350 Ann Arbor Road at Mill. The volunteers, once trained, will help prepare tax returns for senior citizens - low income and shut-ins. Tax preparation will be Feb. 2 through April 15 at sites in Canton, Plymouth and Northville, Volunteers must agree to volunteer a minimum of four hours a week for 10 weeks. Some knowledge of tax preparation is helpful and a sincere desire to help others is a must.

. FISH NEEDS HELP

Plymouth-Canton FISH needs new volunteers. For information call 420-2046.

CEP VOLUNTEERS

Teachers at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools need volunteers to type, make bulletin boards, help in the reading lab, input for computer circulation in the library, or serve as speakers and resource people in the areas of social studies, German, and French. Native French and German speakers also are needed. If you can donate an hour a week, call Cyndi Burnstein 1-10 p.m. at 459-9435.

• AMATEUR PERFORMERS The Plymouth Community Arts

Council is updating its list of amateur performers who are willing to share their time and talent with students. The resource list is provided by the PCAC to all elementary teachers in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. Particularly needed this year are dancers, singers and musicians. If you or someone you know has a special skill they are willing to share, call Pat MacIsaac at 453-8051.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

Canton Care Council, an affiliate of the Ann Arbor-based Community Councils Association, is seeking volunteers interested in enhancing the quality of life for nursing home residents.

Volunteers serve on the council, which meets once a month to plan social, service or educational activities for residents at Canton Care Center. The time commitment is three to six hours per month. For more information, contact Kathy Belisle at 981-2382.

EMERGENCY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The Plymouth Township Office of Emergency Preparedness needs volunteers to be trained in skills that will be used during an emergency or disaster. Training includes damage assessment, shelter management, first aid, emergency operating center support and service weather spotting.

Training meetings are held from 9 a.m. to noon on the fourth Saturday of each month in Plymouth Town-

HELPING SKILLED TRADES

Focus: HOPE needs active retired toolmakers, pipefitters, millwrights, machine repair, electricians and auto mechanics for full-time, part-time and temporary positions at Focus: HOPE Industry Mall — a 25-acre industrial center for high skill training, new employment and creation of minority ownership in machining and manufacturing.

Retired master craftsmen, who want to remain active, make use of years of knowledge and pass their skills on to another generation, can become involved in passing on their skills and work habits to others. Those interested can contact Focus: HOPE, 1200 Oakman Blvd., Detroit 48238 or call 883-7440 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday.

WANTED: CIVIC RADIO HELP

Plymouth Area REACT Team is looking for members for emergency radio communication (no experience necessary) and other community programs. All residents from Plymouth, Canton, Northville and surrounding areas are invited. The group meets at 8 p.m. the second Thursday of each month at Plymouth Township Hall, Mill at Ann Arbor Road. For more information, call 455-9609 or 453-7641.

day • 'RIDE WITH US' wn- Plymouth Area Citizens Team program is made up of volunteers from Plymouth and surrounding communities who patrol the Plymouth area. The organization is looking for volunteers to devote one night (four-five hours) per month to be the "eyes and ears" for the community. Those interested in going on an observation ride with a PACT member should call 459-2075.

HISTORICAL MUSEUM

Volunteers are needed at the Plymouth Historical Museum. Are you interested in antiques and Plymouth history? Come in and visit your museum and see what's there. The museum needs volunteers for changing displays, helping in the gift shop, typing, printing, sewing and helping in the educational program for school children. Call 455-8940 or stop in from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday or Thursday to ask what you can do to help.

DELIVERING MEALS

Residents are encouraged to volunteer their time to deliver meals one day per week to the homebound elderly in the city of Plymouth and in Plymouth Township. Delivery takes about one hour, 11:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. Drivers are needed daily except Thursday. Mileage reimbursement of 23 cents per mile is available. For information, call Margaret Foster, 453-9703, 10-11 a.m. Monday-Friday.

"My kid using drugs? No way. . ."

At Catherine McAuley Health Center's Chemical Dependency Program we've heard it over and over again. Alcohol and drug abuse only happens to someone else's kid. Well, it's time you heard the truth: no one is immune.

We suggest you take the following test to help you see if your child may have a problem. While it isn't always easy to separate typical adolescent behavior from chemically induced behavior, most teenager alcoholics and drug abusers exhibit many of the following signs.

Check the symptoms you see in your child. Remember, these can develop over a period of many months. If you observe some of the following or if you know something isn't right with your child, we recommend you take action.

- School
- Skips classes, whole days or drops out
-] Drop in grades
- Drug-related graffiti on notebooks, papers

Behavior

- Has money but no job
- Extreme mood swings (euphoria, depression,
- hostility, oversensitivity)
-] Talks about suicide, spirit world, devil
- Loses interest in hobbies or sports
- Drastic change of friends

Physical Evidence

- Displays obvious drunkenness or red eyes, drooping lids, "thick" voice
- Paraphernalia among belongings such as pipes, roach clips, cigarette papers, glass vials, film containers or seeds.
- Increased or frequent use of eye drops

Family Impact

- Parents argue more about child's behavior
- Home situation becomes increasingly angry and volatile
- □ Child's moods determine the mood of the family □ Doesn't keep curfews

There is hope. You may have taken the first step already by recognizing there is a problem. Call 572-4308 now for an adolescent assessment. Let's work together to beat drug abuse.

Elderly also have rights

To the editor:

According to statistics, it takes about 20 minutes to travel one mile on foot. Even considering the lady's age, she still is quick. This resident had only been here for one week and came through the front door. So her recognizing the parking lot, which is in back of the building, is highly unlikely.

Yes, we're sorry the resident was "whisked away" and little more was said but we were concerned more of getting the resident warm and comfortable than to have a lengthy conversa-

Lunchtime and after office hours aren't considered opportune times to speak to anyone in the working world. Yes, the health department was here after the death in August but that didn't make the papers one-tenth as much as this one. Why?

Perhaps, Ms. Gale, as Citizens For Better Care has suggested, would like to see us put up a high fence around the nursing home and use guards like they do at Jackson and other prisons. Perhaps she would prefer us to restrain the aged or fill them with drugs. That would keep them quiet.

Then again, why don't we take away all of their rights, isolate them and forget about their dignity and self-respect. Some in our society do preach this; yet others of us chanced war to give these rights to others and to maintain them for the rest of us. We challenge Ms. Gale to walk a mile in our shoes or perhaps experience for herself what it's like to be an older person, shunned by relatives and society and then to have "do gooders" fence them in and remove the High school students can get career help

Twenty years ago, local high school students picked careers much like a game of chance. If the career sounded good, they tried it. If they didn't like it, they tried something

A lot has changed since. Career counseling has come into vogue and a group of Ann Arbor psychologists are hoping a new center they have set up will eliminate the game of chance high schoolers play when deciding their future.

Psychologists David Egan and Kathleen and Mark Sullivan as well as career counselor Larry LeBlanc have established the Great Lakes Career Development Center, designed to help students explore their interests in deciding on careers. "The need is there, it's not our preception," Sullivan said. "Schools aren't able to do that because the counselors don't have the time or the manpower to provide such individu-alized service."

"A counselor's problem is logisti-cal," added LeBlance, a counselor at Westland's John Glenn High School. "Our job description has changed to more quasi-administrative. We're attendance officers and make referrals into the community for personal problems; there's hardly any academic or vocational counseling done."

For a $275 fee the center will work with parents and students to help the latter clarify their life's goals, but it's aim isn't to help the students select a specific career, rather "to make them more informed consumers about what they're going to do with their career life " Egan said.

"WE TRY TO to give them more information about themselves and what's out there to help them make a better decision," he explained. "If you consider the cost of college, aside from buying a house, it is the single largest expense a person is going to undertake," Mrs. Sullivan added. "Recent surveys of high school students indicate that 70 percent feel they need more guidance and information in making their career and occupational choices."

The center uses a pre-interview questionnaire, informal interviews with the parents and the student and formal testing to assess the student's career "readiness."

The process, which involves about 10 hours of staff time, culminates with a feedback session in which the parents and students receive information on their child's career maturity, awareness and decision making abilities, personality traits and characteristics, a career/occupational interst inventory and intellectual ability and aptitudes.

"Students may have unduly high expectations or expectations that aren't in line with their abilities," Sullivan said. "We find that out and we find out how ready they are to make a choice and their ability to think in terms of the future.

"We match up their interests with people in those interests and tell them how similar they are to people in those fields. We find out how they feel about taking leadership roles and how they feel about working with peo

THE COUNSELING, Sullivan added, also helps ward off premature decisions as well as the premature exclusion of career choices.

"Although there's a great benefit in examining a lot of career alterna-tives, it's good for students to narrow down their choices," LeBlanc added. "Their career choice is an economic decision. Realistically, they can't explore everything, but at some point they have to sort through what they're interested in and make a decision. We accomplish that through the feedback we provide."

Also a part of the evaluation i work in the center's resource room which permits students to further explore their career choices. The group sees their service area reaching as far as a hour's drive from Ann Arbor, taking in all of Western Wayne County and part of

Oakland County on the north east edges. They offer flexible sch with evening and weekend appoint-ments available, and they have contacted counselors in the high schools about the enter. They also are offering one free scholarship for each high school within the center's service area.

Interested persons may contact the center at 1945 Pauline, Suite 19, Ann Arbor, and call 769-9440.

How to really impress Santa

FOR MOST children, a visit to Santa Claus is the first chance to network with a significant adult other than mom or dad. Yet few parents properly prepare their children for this important oneon-one meeting that could have farranging consequences on their future climb up the corporate ladder.

16A(P)

I have devised the following tips to help youngsters through this trying first interview. You might wish to read these tips aloud to your children, with the young people gathered at your feet or in other suitable adult-to-preadult dialoguing position.

Your first visit to Santa Claus.

squarely in the eye, grip his hand firmly and say, "Hello, Mr. Claus, I'm (YOUR NAME HERE). It is indeed a pleasure to meet you, and I look forward to working very closely with you in the weeks ahead.'

At this point, he may say something that will take you aback, such as, "Ho, ho, ho, little one. Are you a boy or a girl?" Or "There, there, don't look so sad. Smile. You can smile, can't you? Smiiiiiillle." Do not take offense at this. the Years Ahead.' Roll with the punches. Humor him. Remember, he is the one in the power position.

Do not be upset if you cry or wet your pants on that first visit. These are normal reactions. What matters is what you do with them. Can you turn a negative into a positive?

On your subsequent visit, for instance, you might refrain from liquids one to two hours before the interview. During the interview itself, you might overcome your apprehension by transposing the face of someone you know and trust for Santa's face. Youngsters be sure to have your business card athave told me they find the faces of their tached as an added reminder where the father, Lee Iacocca or Roger Smith are effective substitutes.

BY ALL MEANS present Santa a written list of the toys you wish to receive, but keep it short. A more detailed proposal can be sent as a followup to the initial meeting. That second letter ought to lead off on a cheery,

You might write, "Dear Santa. How are you? I hope it is not too cold at the North Pole for you, Rudolph and the other reindeer. As per our conversation of Dec. 15, I am submitting this followup letter setting forth in further detail my wants/needs to be fulfilled in your upcoming visit, slated for the late When greeting Santa, look him evening of Wednesday, Dec. 24, 1986

> When listing the requested toys, it always is wise to thrown in a few articles of clothing, such as "a nice sweater" or "some really smart socks for school." Even though these are hardly items that you really want, it impresses upon whomever reads the letter that this is a mature youngster with a sophisticated concern for his/her appearance. You come across as, "Someone to Watch in Another important concern is what gratuity to leave for Santa's on-thepremises consumption during his Christmas Eve visit. The thoughtful child will not leave milk and cookies. With a belly that, to quote eyewitness accounts, "shakes like a bowlful of jelly when he laughs," Claus already is carrying way too many pounds for his height and body frame.

It might be better to leave him a selection of leafy green vegetables or perhaps a non-food item such as a copy of "Megatrends." Whatever you leave, gift came from.

If you follow this advice, your next visit to Santa Claus ought to be a positive, life-affirming experience. This, in turn, will ensure a merry Christmas and a happy second half of fiscal year 1986-87

Teflon presidency is over

THE PRESIDENT has enjoyed during his six years in office the benefit of a Teflon coating. When things go awry in Washington, the public looks everywhere but at the Oval Office to find the culprit. The president is too sincere, too forthright to be blamed for any major mistakes emanating from the White House

But the unthinkable has happened. The president is indeed in hot water. The teflon coating has worn off. If you needed any further indication, consider the fact that he has lost Bill Broomfield.

Watching the unfolding events surrounding the Iranian arms-cash to contras affair, we have seen first one leading Republican and then another put some distance between himself and the White House, between himself and the president.

Teflon is gone and there is big trouble. U.S. Rep. William Broomfield, R-Birmingham, is a loyal foot soldier who has represented constituents in rock-ribbed Republican areas that include the Birmingham-Bloomfield area, the Farmington area, Rochester and part of Troy for 30 years.

HE ISN'T dashing. He isn't exciting. He's not a leader. He's just plain Bill. But he's Republican all the way and rock-ribbed Republican, foreign-affairs savant point of view.

BUT INSTEAD of defending the president and the president's men, Broomfield is saying that the arms for Iran deal and subsequent funneling of money to the contras was "extremely ill advised and mistaken."

Those who made the arms deal, or anyone "who approved or knew of any arrangement to circumvent the law has done a grave disservice to the president, the Congress and the American people," Broomfield said at a committee hear-

We hear day after day from one administrative spokesman or another that the president means to get to the bottom of the affair, to get all the facts out. The questions remain, though. Why does personal note before getting to the editor for the Observer & Eccentric heart of the matter. Newspapers.

Grinches are busy making life tedious

"THE GRINCH Who Stole Christmas" is more than a TV cartoon story Grinches are out there. In our neighborhoods. Hordes.

My all-time top Grinch was the father who photographed his kid dancing in "The Nutcracker" several years ago in the Clarenceville auditorium. He set up his 35 mm camera on a tripod to shoot.

Now, the shutter of a single-lens reflex makes a pretty loud "clack!" When it's set on a tripod in the open air, there's nothing to muffle that "clack!" When that sound bounces off the walls of a high school auditorium, it's as loud as a 22-caliber rifle shot.

And this Grinch fired off an entire 36-shot roll of film over about 10 minutes. "CLACK! CLACK! CLACK!"

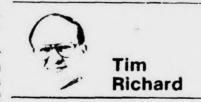

Ever try to enjoy a ballet and the music of Tchaikovsky when somebody's firing a rifle?

A JUNIOR-grade Grinch fired off a flashgun a couple of times in the "Nutcracker" we saw in Farmington Harrison last week. Such flashes are rarely effective beyond about eight feet, so the rest of us had the satisfaction of knowing the Grinch's film and flash probably were wasted.

It seems to me that if a parent were serious about photographing a performing kid, he would either visit a professional studio, arrange to take pictures during or after a dress rehearsal, or just pose a shot on stage following the performance. The photos would be far superior, and he wouldn't be a Grinch.

Grinches abound in suburban shopping center parking lots. A favorite haunt is the fire lane, where they park. They don't just pick up the shopper. They park. They practice their grinchy trade most in bad weather.

Take the Six Newburgh plaza in Livonia. Grinches there park on both sides of "the driving lane, reducing the traveling space to a single lane for both directions. It's like an Upper Peninsula logging road.

Of course, they get away with it, just as they get away with parking in the handicapped slots. Although parking in fire lanes and handicapped slots is illegal and dangerous, cops never ticket Grinches because they have murders, aggravated assaults, burglaries, accidents, frauds and domestic disturbances to investigate. Cops can't enforce every ordinance, and Grinches know it.

INSIDE THE nearby discount department store - I won't use the name; let's just call it D dump - they have express lanes with big signs saying "Cash Only."

Does that bother a Grinch? Nope. She pulls out a credit card. Moreover, the D dump store manager has equipped "Cash Only" lanes with credit card machines. Grinches stick together.

As a kid I wandered the 12th floor of the downtown J.L. Hudson's for hours, never dreaming of touching anything unless we were ready to buy. Grinch parents and their misbegotten brats have no such qualms. The parents turn the kids loose to play in the store.

Meanwhile, clerks tell us, the Grinch parents aren't content to spray on the free samples of cologne from the display bottles. They open the for-sale boxes and sample those.

Well, those are my top candidates for grinchhood. I'll bet you have a list of your own.

When you see U.S. Sen. Robert Dole, R-Nebraska, on television chastising the White House and Reagan for selling weapons to Iran, you think that, well, Dole is a possible candidate for president himself and he's trying to put himself in a favorable light with voters.

WHEN YOU SEE U.S. Sen. Richard Lugar, R-Indiana, publicly call for the president to get rid of his White House confidants and replace them with some "big leaguers," you begin to get the picture that the Teflon is wearing thin. Lugar is the highly respected foreign affairs committee member the administration has gone to again and again in an effort to sell programs on the Hill.

But when you see Broomfield giving the White House hell, you know the certainly one of the most loyal GOP foot soldiers to ever serve in Congress. He regularly wins 100 ratings from the conservative organizations and backs the Republican administration on every vote.

He's been a point man to help boost Republican programs during Nixon's administrations, Ford's brief tenure and Reagan's reign. He has been an advocate of aid to the contras in Nicaragua. After serving 30 years on the House foreign affairs committee and as the senior Republican on the committee, he's looked to as something of a foreign affairs expert.

And as such he's being sought out these days as a person who can give a it take so long, why does it seem like pulling teeth to get any facts out? Why can't, as H. Ross Perot suggested in Detroit, the president sit his aides down and say, "Give me all the facts."

The president is losing credibility each day. A poll now shows that half of the country thinks the president is lying.

The great communicator isn't communicating and things are likely to get worse as the White House stumbles around trying to come up with a shield that will protect the president.

If you want to know how bad things can get, watch Bill Broomfield. If he starts defending the administration, the situation is improving. If he starts saying, "The question is, what did he know and when did he know it?" the travesty will continue.

GM shows no brilliance

LET ME SEE IF I have this straight.

Generous Motors is run by brilliant leaders and proof of this is the fact that GM is one of the largest, most powerful organizations on earth. Or GM is one of the largest, most powerful organizations on earth and proof of this is the fact that its leaders are thought to be brilliant.

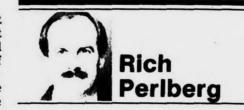

It's one or the other. I forget.

I do know that a short while back GM showed that it was still a great auto manufacturer by purchasing a firm called EDS. This firm's product isn't clear, but it appears as though it processes a little bit of dis and data. I think the initials stand for Easy-Dollar Scoopers.

This firm was run by a straightshooting Texan who, when he isn't on rescue missions, is being forced by GM to accept $700 million so he will quit saying what he has already said.

SO, JUST HOW smart is this corporate giant?

It's so smart that not so long ago it induced some formerly self-respecting governors to play "Let's Make a Deal' on the Phil Donahue Show. The governors were vying for the well-ballyhooed Saturn plant. One governor was willing to offer the first-born child of all state residents. His bid failed, though, when he neglected to include a Jacuzzi in the floor plans of the training center his state would build for GM.

The loser in these sweepstakes was Michigan, which was spurned by the hometown business boys. As punishment, the governor was re-elected by the largest margin in his party's history. He defeated a guy who defeated a guy named Chrsyler who is not related to those Chryslers but who believes, "If you can find a better political office, buy it."

The winner was Tennessee. One reason for its success was its strong educational system. This is the state, remember, that is most famous for the Scopes Monkey Trial and Minnie Pearl. This is also the state that thought it was going to manufacture the world car of the future and is now wondering if there is a planet named Edsel with rings around

SO FAR, I'VE somehow been able to make sense out of all this. If I understand it right, the smooth-talking, straight-shooting head honcho of EDS shot his talker off too much and was silenced, sort of, for about $700 million. If he criticizes GM, he has to pay a $7 million fine, which means he would only get $693 million from the deal.

Some auto analysts are calling this another brilliant move by Generous Motors. These are the same analysts who buy Detroit Lions season tickets so they won't miss a game in case there's a sellout.

If Generous Motors was any smarter, it might have to shut down even more factories and lay off even more employees so that it could still make less money than Ford.

Some might think that I am writing a snippy, disrespectful column. To them, I can only say this: Maybe so, but if I owned GM stock, this column would be the first step toward making me a millionaire.

Letters, phone calls and casual comments at the pop stand during the four weeks since I wrote about the treacheries of insomnia convince me that we who suffer from this eye-opening affliction are non-partisan and co-educational.

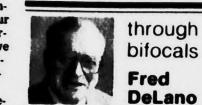

That essay for the multicity, doublecounty Observer & Eccentric empire appeared Nov. 13, a date that may live in journalistic history - not because of my abuse of our language, but because it was the day a far more noted writer's syndicated column gave us all cause for sleeplessness. It was the day William F. Buckley Jr. turned in his varsity "R" from the Ronald Reagan cheerleading team by starting his piece for national subscribers with the sentence: "One worries about many things, foremost among them the credibility of the president of the United States.' And to think that those of my ilk toss and turn through the predawn hours just because a car payment is overdue!

AH. BUT there are remedies, random samples from the vox populi to follow.

"Southfield Angie," the lady I mentioned before as preferring a slug of brandy to reinduce sleep as opposed to John Hayes' crackers and warm milk, came to dinner one night with husband in tow and from this retired engineer and race car driver I learned his bride's problem.

"Angeline is infected by the Puritan Work Ethic," he analyzed. "She lies awake thinking of things for me to do. But because my conscience is clear, I sleep like a baby.

Someone postmarked Bloomfield Hills, unfortunately unidentified, wrote, "If I went through your antics, I would be awake too. You recognize such basic night rules as to walk softly, etc. Well, these same rules apply to thinking softly, lightly.

"The best way to conquer your habit is to command your mind, before you go to bed, not to wake up when you take your nightly fantastic jaunt to the bathroom.

"ON THE ENTRANCE of your first conscious thought, command it to think of nothing. If necessary, just keep thinking nothing. At the very most, re-Thoughts stimulate and activate more thoughts. They are contagious. They motivate your think process, so don't think. Don't let yourself wake fully up. Refuse to let your mind accept any thoughts. "Every night, practice this. You will find you can go back to bed and continue Act II of your dream play. Try it. Sleepwalking can make your day!" Now there's a person I'd like to debate. In Act II, I may. June, a West Bloomfield widow, called to say she had urged a ladyfriend to read that first discourse for the comfort inherent in knowing that more than just the two of them are often up and about, seeking solace in the weak and weary night.

AND MY FRIEND Kleinbrenner, a practical Plymouth sort, had this pithy suggestion: "Don't try to cure it; take advantage of the situation and look for a job that starts at five in the morning.

"If that fails, as it probably will, soundproof your den so the typing won't wake Mother Goose, make a pot of fresh coffee, and start writing your memoirs — at least the printable chapters."

I told him it wouldn't work. Coffee, for me, has a more Ex-Laxing effect

Insomniacs abound — with anecdotes, cures than relaxing. But equally pithy was this note from Dorothy in Livonia:

"I read your article about insomnia, and eveyrthing you wrote applies to me. Since you mentioned answering nature's call and poetry, I thought you might like this little poem of mine - Wired Up?

"Is there a button on your toilet seat?/Mine can perform an uncanny feat./Each time I sit down to do nature's things/ the darned button works; my telephone rings."

Angie, why don't we just share your brandy?

SEMTA boasts reliability record

SEMTA Connector (small bus) op-erations achieved a perfect reliat.ility record for the last three months of fiscal 1986, according to Albert Martin, general manager, Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority. Connectors, which primarily serve the elderly and handicapped, made 100 percent of their scheduled trips in April, May and June.

They also scored 100 percent in February, and the average reliability for the entire fiscal year ended June 30 was 98.47 percent.

"Perfection is something we all strive for but seldom achieve, so we are especially proud of 'batting 1,000' so often," said Martin. "This is particularly significant because we operate the largest such system in the United States."

SEMTA directly operates Connector service in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, using 147 buses. All are equipped with wheelchair lifts, and most are capable of seating 15 ambulatory passengers and two wheelchair passengers, or 19 ambulatory passengers.

The service carries more than 600,000 passengers a year. Most of service requires reservations and passengers are picked up at their homes or other pre-arranged points rather than at designated bus stops.

Good things can come in small packages

VINCE THIS is the time of year that we all start thinking about presents and packages. I would like to talk about packages too - small packages The first thing that comes to mind is the TV remote channel selector We live in Livonia and enjoy the many channels available on cable TV That remote selector is what I call a "too-small package

Now, I am sure that many dollars worth of technology were spent in making that selector as compact as it is But I wish it was about six inches square, weighed two pounds and was painted fluorescent orange Why? Because as soon as we all nestle down to watch TV, someone will say "Where's the changer?" prompting us to jump in unison and start pulling cushions off the furniture looking for the "too-small changer."

FOR MOST OF 1986, that little changer has been lost inside our furniture, under throw pillows, once in a tennis shoe, five times on top of the refrigerator, three times in the family car, once in someone's robe pocket, in with Lego blocks, under a box of Pac-Man cereal - and I could go on and on Upshot of all is that as long as there are families like mine, there will always be a need for a twopound changer But there are some great new little packages this year that make great gifts for artist

There's the Rainbow Color Mixing Guide, for instance. It's a little color wheel easily recognizable by a little elf as its logo At $7 50, it seems to be over-priced. But upon using it and reading its information, I found that it can produce 40,000 different colors. It even tells you what percentages of each primary are used to produce the color you select. For example, "three parts white, seven parts color - 70 percent yellow, 20 percent blue and 10 percent black."

Next on the small package list is Derwent Pencil Tins. Derwent graphite pencils come in small flat little tins arranged in three sets according to hardness: "Draughtsman Set" 9H-B, "Designer Set" 6B-4H and the "Sketching Set" 9B-H. The pencils are painted matte black and do not slip in your sweaty little artist fingers Priced at $6.50 for a 12-pencil set, you can't beat them PENTALICS NEW "Paper for Pens" is a small pad of unbelievably smooth pure white paper made expressly for pens, tech pens and felttip pens priced around $4.50 per 9 by-12-inch pad. It is a real treat for an artist's quick line drawing.

Standrite has a new little easel that is so strong you park a car on it granted maybe a small car. This mighty little model is about three feet tall, is a great table easel and a nice carrier/holder for wet oils. It's called the "180" and it sells for $25. The ultimate perfect gift for an artist is the smallest of the small packages I have mentioned here. It guarantees the giver that their artist loved one is getting exactly what they want And that is, of course, the ever-famous gift certificate

Christmas time is also the best time to indulge in a box of overpriced chocolates, too expensive knickknacks or showy little sundries that you would never buy any other time of the year.

For me, that kind of item is a three-inch badger fan blender I said, "I will probably never use it (although I do) but it looks so artsy in there with my other brushes" - and it does. So I spent $16 for purely reasons of artistic vanity - big deal. It's Christmas time isn't it?

Lighthouse calendar is now available

"Lights of the Great Lakes" is the the Great Lakes. theme of the 1987 calendar of the Historical Society of Michigan.

Featuring pen and ink drawings by artist Leo Kuschel of Taylor, the calendar draws attention to the colorful maritime history of the Great Lakes and the lonely sentinels that have marked the routes for sailors since the early 18th century.

This is the society's fourth lighthouse calendar. The calendar is the society's major yearly fund-raiser and the society is particularly pleased to feature Kuschel, according to executive director Tom Jones, because Kuschel's own family heritage includes ancestors who sailed tax.

"Lights of the Great Lakes" includes lights on all the Great Lakes and in the states of Indiana, Wisconsin, New York, Ohio as well as Michigan and Ontario. From Copper Harbor in the northern end of the Great Lakes chain to Toronto in the east, the calendar covers the exciting breadth of the waters that haveen the key element in the region's history and development, Jones noted. The calendar is available directly from the Historical Society of Michigan, 2117 Washtenaw, Ann Arbor 48104 at $7.44 (includes postage and handling plus Michigan state sales

'Tis The Season to list your home!

Here's why:

- There is less competition for buyers.
- Buyers are more serious during the end of the year because they usually have to move.
- Your home can look better during the holidays.
- We usually have the highest percentage of listings sold to listings taken during this time.
- You may receive more money for your home now because you have less competition from other listed homes.
- You may be able to obtain equity loan commitment quicker.
- Buyers have more time to look at homes during the holidays, especially during vacations.

- January is traditionally the biggest transfer month - and your home can be on the market.
- When you sell during the winter you have an opportunity to buy and move-in during the spring.
- You may have less showings...but great prospects!

Plymouth's Kathleen Schmidt is a volunteer reader at the Wayne County Regional Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped.

They lend a helping hand

By Julie Brown staff writer

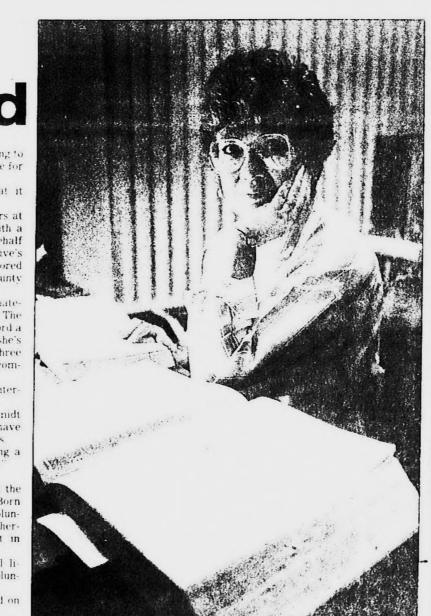

Volunteers are important people at the Wayne County Regional Library for the Bland and Physically Handicapped

The library makes talking books and large print materials available to those with physical disabilities that prevent them from reading conventional printed material. Talking books on records and cassettes are available, along with record players. and cassette players for the books. Some of the library's volunteers help out by recording the books for patrons Others help out with the large-print collection or do such tasks as rewinding cassettes

terial while she's reading, working to make it as interesting as possible for the listener

You try to make it so that it would be pleasant to listen to Schmidt was among volunteers at the library recently honored with a community services award on behalf of the Wayne County Executive's Office. The volunteers were honored at a meeting of the Wayne County Library Board Schmidt doesn't review the material prior to recording the books. The amount of time she needs to record a book varies depending on what she's reading A cookbook took three Wednesday morning sessions to complete

Putting the spotlight on theater

By Richard Lech staff writer

AMES HARTMAN has acted in everything from Shakespeare to television commercials

In one of his more unusual roles, he played a time-traveling Abraham Lincoln in a made-for-TV movie

It was a four-hour makeup job." Hartman recalled and when it was done I stood there waving my hands because I looked in the mirror and didn't see my own reflection '

Hartman's latest role, though, is behind the scenes, setting the stage for a revitalization of the theater program at Schoolcraft College in Livonia

The Farmington Hills resident is in his third year as the artistic director of the Schooleraft theater

He oversees the college's theater urriculum, teaches and puts on three plays per year at the college This January he will be theater made a full-time member of the cola chaculty

HARTMAN'S GOAL has been to put the spotlight on the Schoolcraft theater program making it more of presence at the college. He figures he has made quite a bit of progress on that

The program has gone from what he described as "little or no-theater courses" to such offerings as acting I and fl. stagecraft and lighting, history of the theater and oral interpretation of literature.

The program also has increased it monuber of annual shows from twe to three, and the number of performances per show from four to six. The first offering this year. The Man Who Came to Dinner." had the largest cast ever at the college 35 and played to packed, sometimes. self-out audiences

Hartman said the theater program's increasing profile is "partly because I do a tremendous amount of publicity i think visibility is an films Jumms B and Andre with Alex Karras, and his as yet unreleased "Lincoln at Little Rock"

He first came to Michigan to appear in a play at Meadow Brook. He began working at Schenderaft as a guest director in 1982

Tye established a methods on actor, my credentials are good, he said "So I hate to have not notice associated with a production that s not high quality

He stresses to his students that while they re play acting they re no playing around

We don't fool around in rehearsal. We have a good time, or they wouldn't put in all these hours. But they know it's a serious thing they're doing

The rehearsals are kept on a tight schedule. After two weeks, the actors are told to have their scripts memorized so they can spend the remaining four weeks working on characterizatie.

"By the time to duction the sub- is servicionfortable and cost cost and that textrenety imposition to be believable on stage

THE NEXT presentation will be the classic Greek tragedy "Cedipus the King in March followed by 'On Golden Pond later in the spring

The small Schoolcraft theater (the stage is 32 feet by 17 12 feet and the auditorium sents 1710 in n't conducive to large-scale musicals or any other plays requiring a lot of some changes. But it is ideal for smallerscale, intimate plays, Hartman sud-

"When students first come in here from high school, where they real ed to huge, cavernous theaters. They resurprised at how small e to flut I always tell them its a wonderfol theater to be in because no matter. where you so there an problem seeing or hearing or feeling part of the production.

And the actors can even hear the members of the sudience breathing and making comme

"Of course, it's a very nice program." said Steven Gulvezan, regional librarian head of institutional services at the library We're very appreciative of the volunteers who use their personal time to help us out

Among those volunteers is Plvmouth's Kathleen Schmidt, who has volunteered her time at the library in Wayne since last June

Schmidt recently retired from her pention as a librarian at Gallimore Elementary School in Canton She volunteers approximately three hours each Wednesday morning

WHEN SHE'S recording books, Schmidt finds a dictionary helpful to check on certain pronunciations. An occasional unfamiliar foreign word pops up and must be checked

Schmidt's years of reading aloud to schoolchildren have been helpful in her work as a volunteer. She concentrates on the phrasing of the ma-

"I love to read, so anything's interesting

When she reads books, Schmidt keeps in mind that those books have been requested by library patrons.

You're doing a service, filling a need. It's somebody else's choice.

IN ADDITION to her work at the library, which is at 33030 Van Born Road in Wayne. Schmidt does volunteer work for her church, the Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ in Plymouth

During her years as a school librarian, Schmidt counted on volunteers to help out.

'As a librarian, I really relied on the mother volunteers

The Plymouth resident emoys being able to share the magic of reading with others.

"I think everybody should kind of pay their dues I've just been so blessed to have gotten into the world of books.

When she's recording material for library patrons Kathleen Schmidt finds a dictionary helpful.

Magic of reading revealed

By Julie Brown staff writer

Blind and physically handicapped people don't have to miss out on the magic of reading

Talking books are available through the Wayne County Regional Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped Books are available in record and cassette form, the library also provides record players and cassette players for the books, in addition to housing large print books and periodicals.

The Wayne County facility is one of 56 regional libraries in the U.S. ers and cassette players. The local authorized by the Library of Congress to serve people who can't read conventional printed material

Some of the library's patrons are legally blind or have other visual handicaps, said Steven Gulvezan, regional librarian head of institutional services Others have physical handi caps, such as amputations, that keep them from being able to handle regular books and magazines.

People who have a reading disability resulting from an organic dysfunction are also eligible. Eligibility for service must be determined by a health care professional who is not related to the personbeing certified.

THE NATIONAL Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped furnishes the regional facilities with talking books, record playfacility is funded and administered by Wayne County

The Wayne County library has approximately 3,000 subscribers, Gulvezan said. The collection includes some 95,000 items, including several copies of most items

Buying toys for handicapped children takes extra thought and care.

Sometimes it's a real revelation to families and friends that toys suitable for children with handicaps are readily available, but they are," said Mary Sinker, an expert on supplying toys for children with special needs. You just need to look at them with an eye toward the child's ability, rather than the disability "

Sinker is the author of "Toys for Growing: A Guide to Toys that Develop Skills" and the program director of the National Lekotek Center in Evanston, Ill Lekotek is a worldwide system of play and resource centers that uses toys to teach children with special needs.

Toys in bright, primary colors and toys that can be used in more than one way are high on her list. On the other hand, she said battery-operated toys often don't offer enough play value

"Turn them on and they bark. Turn them on and they walk. After child may be at a much younger you watch them for a while, then level, so a plaything can get banged around quite a bit

But a toy like this you can do a In looking through the catalogue, with," she said, pointing to Sinker noted several toys that she brightly colored rings stacked on a herself had no experience with but peg, as pictured in a Christmas catawhich she thought had good play value. "It's often hard for handicapped kids to orient to the middle of their bodies or do things at mid-line, as we call it. But this game, which requires the use of two hands to squeeze the pigs to blow the ball over the net is a fun way to do it."

On the same page, she pointed to another toy, a football player that kicks a football up and toward a goal post when you push down on his helmet

"This would be great fun for children who couldn't use their fingers but could use their fists.

She also was enthusiastic about a stuffed animal called A.G. Bear.

'It's a wonderful, soft and cuddly toy that 'burbles' back to you when you say something. It's great because even a severely disabled child can make a sound and get a response in return.

Arts Council plans program

The Plymouth Community Arts Council is developing a Cultural Arts Program.

Boxes containing artifacts of different cultures will be taken to local schools. The artifacts will introduce students to the cultures of various countries

The purpose of the program is to create interest in and awareness of the student's own heritage, along with understanding and appreciation of the heritage of others.

Items needed are those that represent the culture of a country, including clothing, books, pottery, art, toys, small currency, stamps and greeting cards. A box for Mexico, for example, could include a sombrero, poncho, pottery, art and other items representing Mexican culture

The PCAC is seeking help in obtaining artifacts for the Cultural Arts Program. A brief explanation Visibility is essential if a theater program is to succeed, according to James Hartman.

from plays, they are more apt to be learning how to lose their inhibitions. Hartman employs exercises designed to increase the students' sensitivity and concentration and their fluidity of movement on stage. He is considering writing an acting book incorporating some of the techniques he uses.

One exercise calls for students to jog on stage, waving their hands and vocalizing.

"The average person going by and looking in is going to think it's something bizarre and strange. It looks pretty chaotic and bizarre, but it all has a function in training the actors.'

HARTMAN SAID he continually adds to his own training. In the summer of 1985, for instance, he took part in workshops at the Stratford Shakespearean Festival in Ontario. Last summer he worked with top European experts on stage movement at workshops in West Virginia.

Acting can sometimes be physically demanding, Hartman has found. In "Jimmy B. and Andre" Hartman was called on to play an alcoholic. Since his total alcoholic intake amounts to about two rum-and-Cokes a year, Hartman had to improvise to get the right effect.

"I kept myself up all night, so my face was drawn, my eyes red and my walk a little uneven," he said. "And it worked very well.'

Three years ago he played Lincoln in "Lincoln at Little Rock," a story about Abraham Lincoln being transported in time to 1957 and the racial disturbances at Little Rock, Ark. The film has not been shown yet, but Hartman is hoping it will wind up on cable TV.

He had to spend 10 or 12 hours a day acting in the Lincolnesque makeup, which took a toll on his skin.

"When they took off the makeup, the side of my nose would crack and bleed."

Although he enjoyed his movie roles, Hartman prefers the stage to the screen.

"I love the theater more. I like a live audience, I like to go through a script from beginning to end. Plus in films you go over the same shot over and over and over again. I like the excitement of live performing."

Classes offer fun for families

New Morning School in Plymouth Township is again offering its "Me and My Shadow" class for toddlers and narents

The director at New Morning, Elaine Yagiela, advises early registration for the classes, since enrollment is limited. Some classes are filled, but names are being taken for a waiting list.

The 14-week classes begin the week of Jan. 8 with the following schedule:

• Friday mornings, Jan. 9-April 10. Classes are available 9:15-10:15 a.m. for children 24 to 32 months (open) and 10:30 a.m. to noon for those 30 to 36 months (waiting list only).

• Thursday nights, Jan. 8-April 16. Classes are available 6-7 p.m. for children 24 to 36 months (waiting list only).

The evening class provides a special opportunity for parents who work during the day.

THE INTRODUCTORY preschool class will include time for free play, using the large muscle development equipment, the sandbox, the building blocks, the playhouse, the play kitchen and the puppet stage. There will also be time for children to work on beginning puzzles and fine muscle development activities.

Each class will be planned around a weekly theme. A simple art activity will be completed each session. There will also be a music/movement/rhythm or language activity.

Canton's Linda Zahm will be the instructor for the "Me and My Shadow" class. She holds a degree in elementary education from Wayne State University and special education certifications through Eastern Michigan University.

Zahm is also a New Morning preschool teacher.

New Morning School is a statecertified parent cooperative school for children ages 5-14. It is at 14501 Haggerty Road, just north of Schoolcraft Road in Plymouth Township.

tion against the Russians.

The similarities are obvious. So is the difference! Where are the prophets to warn against the trafficking in arms. Where are the prophets to remind the United States that "if your faith in God is not firm your leadership will not be firm?"

Faith in God has always featured specific actions. What person of faith would ever forget the admonition of Micah: "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?'

The definition of religion in the New Testament is equally pointed: "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their afflictions and to keep oneself unspotted from the world" (James 1:27).

TO THOSE who would traffic in arms, the admonitions would be equally clear: "Those who take up the sword are destroyed by the sword" (Matthew 26:52). Scripture did not try to distinguish between those who use the sword without approval of their superiors and those acting out the faith tage and commitment, we chose another way

There are countless other ways for one nation to reach out to another than through the sale of arms. In the face of natural catastrophes, we know exactly what to do. And even in the face of wars' devastations we have not always ignored the essential features of mercy and kindness. Care of the wounded and maimed, reconstruction of property and organization for life beyond battle could have been the beginning of a new experience of care and regard.

The money spent on the military machines of the United States and the Soviet Union could buy 600,000 schools or homes for 30 million people. At a rate of $1 million per minute needed to keep the military machines running, in 10 hours the United States and the Soviet Union could feed the world and in a mere four hours of spending eradicate malaria. The cost of one fighter plane wold innoculate 3 million children against major childhood diseases.

Our faith in God was not firm and our leadership was insecure. A people have lost their way. The world suffers.

School bands strike up fund-raising effort

stall writer

Instrumental music buffs in the Wayne-Westland Community is are humming a catchy tune & tune they hope will generate between $95,000 and $100,000 for new instrumental music uniforms for John Glenn and Wayne Memorial High Schools.

"Your gift marches on" is the slogam for a fund-raising campaign a steering committee of school official and instrumental music boosters hope will pay for uniforms for the high schools' marching bands and other musical groups.

"Our main activity will be pledge cards that we'll be leaving around at obvious locations in the community," said Charles Heard, director of instruction.

"If all goes well, by delivery time in August, we'll have the money to pay for the uniforms." The majority of the cost -

$65 D00 - will be for 325 marching band uniforms that cost an estimated $200 each. The remaining $30,000 will be for 300 concert uniforms, costing an estimated $100 each.

The steering committee has "brainstormed" the fund-raising activities that were unveiled to parents and students last week, Heard said.

The school district in October agreed to front the money for the purchase, although Heard is confident that the committee will have enough contributions by the time the uniforms arrive.

THE COMMITTEE anticipates

Wayne-Westland School District

The district serves southeast Canton that the brunt of the money will come from the pledge cards and donations or grants from major companies like Dayton-Hudson and Domino's Pizza, community service clubs, cultural groups and PTAs.

Pledges can be as small as $5 up to $500, although there is no limit on the amount of the donation, Heard said. One option is paying for an entire uniform and, for those who do, a label will be sewn into the jacket, acknowledging the donor's "generous contribution,"he added.

The committee is more fund-raisers. It is looking at a community appreciation dinner wit's entertainment, a 24-hour music-rama possibly tied in with a cab.e television telethon, drawings for cash prizes, a

6K race in conjunction with the cities of Wayne and Westland and a donkey baseball game to generate money

In fact, the annual round of televised Thanksgiving Day parades gave the committee an idea for one of its drawings - having residents guess the weight of the bands, including their uniforms and instruments

The committee also is looking at ways to make it easier to make donations. It has asked the district to see if an installment plan could be made available to employees and the possibility of accepting VISA or MasterCard charges.

The process for ordering the uniforms also has started. The music directors have begun soliciting designs and costs from uniform com The band uniforms will be in the schools' colors - red, white and blue for Glenn and yellow and black for Wayne Memorial - and will be made of wool, which holds up better with repeated dry-cleaning and wear and tear. Heard said.

HEARD IS excited about the designs already received. Both schools have opted for the short militarystyle jackets with high-waisted pants. Wayne Memorial is favoring a fully detachable cape, while John Glenn is leaning towards a half cape.

The concert uniforms will be lightweight, black, tuxedo-style jackets with dress pants, ruffled dickeys, cumberbunds and ties. The uniforms will be plain so that they can be shared between the two schools, offering a larger sizing range, Heard said. With the band uniforms, an additional 50 in each style will be needed to offer a sizing range, he added.

A progress report on the fund-raising, along with bid specifications for the uniforms, will be presented to the school board in January. Heard hopes to have as much as 25 percent of the money raised to show the board "there's some money behind" the purchase request.

The bid will be awarded in February, the down time for uniform manufacturers, which could garner some discounts on the uniforms, Heard explained.

"I'm anxious to se how it costs out," Heard said.

"We estimate the uniforms will cost between $95,000 and $100,000, but that depends on how the bids turn out, what the specifications are and the deals we can make with the companies.

"February and March are slow times for the companies. If we get the orders in then we could get discounts for such a large order and for ordering during the down time." The cutoff for the fund-raising is August, but Heard said that if it doesn't generate enough money by the time the uniforms are delivered, "we'll keep fund raising until we have it."

School board, teachers to start bargaining

By Sue Mason staff writer

The Wayne-Westland Community Schools has decided to get a head start on negotiating a contract with its teaching staff.

The school board last week formally directed the administration to begin negotiating with the Wayne-Westland Education Association "in eardest.'

The board's goal is to have a multi-year agreement negotiated and ratified by June 12, well in advance of the Sept. 7, 1987, expiration of the teachers' current three-year con-

Superintendent Dennis O'Neill said no specific date for the start of formal negotiations has been set, since the WWEA has yet to select its negotiating team. He added that some informal discussions have taken place between members of his administration and union officials.

WE'RE TRYING to get our homework done," O'Neill said. "We believe that by opening negotiations early we will be able to do some long-range planning in the district." Bill Taylor, associate superintendent for employee services, will be the district's chief negotiator. The remainder of his team will be made up of Thomas Svitkovich, associate superintendent for communications/finance; William Harvey, associate superintendent for instruction tract. This is the first time the district and planning; Elizabeth Kobe, assist-ant superintendent for school/community services; Woody London, associate superintendent for business/ finance; Douglas Pretty and Mary McGowan, executive directors in employee services; Ronald Stratton, Adams Junior High School assistant principal; and Sigvard Dietrich, P.D. Graham Elementary School princi-

O'Neill will be an ex-officio member of the negotiating team.

"Historically, Labor Day has been considered D-Day in contract negotiations," O'Neill said. "We believe that if we set a deadline of completing negotiations by the end of the current school year, parents, students and teachers won't have to go through the summer wondering when school will start."

THE DISTRICT is hoping to get a multi-year agreement from the teachers, O'Neill said, adding that most of the contracts to date have been for three years.

The resolution was approved unanimously by the school board and, according to Trustee Sylvia Kozorosky, "It shows good faith (in negotiating) by the administration and the board's support of that."

The resolution notes that the "number one priority of the board is to provide the best education possible for the students" and that "the successful negotiation of a contract within the means of the school district would enhance the educational opportunities of the students."

Legal dispute ends

Townships break ties with sewer

By Teri Banas staff writer

Plymouth and Canton townships ettled a three-year-old legal dispute ast week that they say wins them free-and-clear access to developing a sewage disposal plan other than the much-disputed "Super Sewer."

The consent judgment, worked out before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Sharon Tevis Finch on Friday, was good news for the two west county townships which already are formalizing their plans to construct a sewer system sending waste for treatment by the Ypsilanti Community Utility Authority.

But the settlement reached with Wayne County, the city of Detroit and the state Department of Natural Resources, never addressed allegations brought by Plymouth and Canton townships that pointed to a gov-ernmental "conspiracy" against

The conspiracy issue had alleged that the city of Detroit, which operates the Detroit Wastewater Treatment Plant for Detroit and suburban users, incorrectly attemped to block the two suburbs from seeking additional sewage capacity from a pro-vider other than Detroit, said Plymouth Township attorney Brian C. James.

"The issue was once their (contracted for) limits were reached, were they still obliged to Detroit or could they contract elsewhere," said James.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP Supervisor Maurie Breen said he was glad the "air is now cleared," though he called it "unfortunate" that their allegations were never brought out for debate. Nonetheless, he added, a trial could have been costly, lasting six to eight weeks.

James said the debate extends back to 1961 and the drafting of the Rouge Valley Sewage Disposal contract when Detroit defined its "territorial" region as including all outcounty areas.

On this basis, he said, the city of Detroit convinced the Department of Natural Resources that Canton and Plymouth townships were not permitted to take part in the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System (Super Sewer), then a $284-million proposal that would have serviced 17 communities by sending waste to a treatment plant in Brownstown Township.

"It was a simple breach of contract," said James. "We wanted to be part of that project in 1983; it had 75 percent guaranteed federal funding and it meant that pollution wouldn't be discharged into the Rouge River.'

That project eventually fell through, though all communities had agreed to it, and was separated into two branches with the North Huron Valley Wastewater Control System (Son of Super Sewer) becoming the intended project for 16 communities. including Plymouth and Canton townships. In recent months the participate in that project, tied to the Detroit Treatment Plant, opting instead to develop their own authority, one that intends to contract with the Ypsilanti communities.

Dave Vago, deputy county Public Works director, said he was pleased with the consent order, as well, though he feels the county would have been vindicated as an alleged conspiractor.

"Our position was that there was never any conspiracy. There was no agreement breached," he said.

From the county's standpoint, he said the consent decision called for the return of EPA-advanced design money being held by Plymouth Township that now can be used to fund redesigns of a new sewer package for remaining western Wayne County communities. Out of an original $3.8 million advance, half has been spent. A full accounting of the remaining sum is planned, he said.

About the townships' development of a sewage treatment program with Ypsilanti, Vago, a chief Super Sewer proponent, said he believes the townships will end up paying more for construction and rates than what had been planned in Super Sewer based on engineering studies. "But yet, I don't know the total YUCA package," he added.

Breen said the governing boards of Plymouth, Canton and Northville townships will take action on establishing an authority by next week. Canton Township Supervisor James Poole was not available for townships announced they wouldn't comment on the settlement.

Pepto-business Tummy liquid sells best at holidays

The Associated Press (c) All rights reserved

HE MAKERS OF Pepto Bismol say Thanksgiving opens a season to overeat and overdrink in Ameriand that's "prime Pepto ca time.

The makers and bottlers of the hot-pink stomach-relief liquid direct their efforts to coat, soothe and relieve from a sweet-smelling encampment on an industrial park in Greenville.

"We go into what we call the overindulgent promotional period around Thanksgiving," said J.R. Hopkins, plant manager for Norwich-Eaton Pharmaceuticals, the world's only maker and bottler of Pepto-Bismol. "This is the big time of the year for Pepto and, of course, the big time of the year for the plant.

"WE EVEN HAVE slogans that have to do with it: "Pepto People Have Pride," Hopkins said. "The holidays have been prime Pepto time" since the early 1900s, when a doctor concocted the original bismosalt mixture to tackle infant cholera, he added.

The company, which can ship out 788,000 bottles of Pepto in a day, reports more than 25 percent of its sales from Thanksgiving through New Year's Day. Sales and shipments increase to Pepto-Bismol's

12 warehouses and three distribution centers throughout the coun-

Pepto pours more money into advertising, marketing and promoting the remedy, although officials won't divulge dollar amounts because of stiff competition.

THROUGHOUT THE year, the company battles America's shyness with stomach ailments, sponsoring a chili cookoff in Texas, airport promotions for traveler's diarrhea and advertising that promises to put people in the pink with Pepto

The plant plays up the Pepto heritage - a soothing pink liquid with a wintergreen taste, spooned out or glugged from a triangular-shaped bottle. The safety slogan at the plant is"Prevent pink puddles."

During this Christmas season, makers and marketers pull out the stops, insisting talk of diarrhea and pink Pepto are even fitting for cocktail party banter.

"We're trying to take some of the spooky dust out of this product," said Dave Engelkemeyer, plant operations manager who also has promoted feminine hygiene and adult incontinence products. "We want to educate the consumer who is faced with this problem."

Most recent campaigns include warnings about using too little Pepto (measure with TABLEspoons, not teaspoons) and the breakthrough of the 1980s - handy-dandy Pepto tablets for the traveler

"AN ALARMING number of people were spending a lot of their time in the hotel room," Engelkemeyer said of Pepto's anti-diarrhea campaign.

Especially now, teams of Pepto producers stand proudly by their work, as a chalky white chemical mixed with never-revealed parts of water, chemicals, wintergreen flavoring and red dye No. 3 - spun in steel vats and wending its way, lickety-split, through bottling and labeling machines.

"It's a fun product simply because it's been around such a long time," said Linda Ulrey, spokeswoman for Cincinnati-based Procter & Gamble, Pepto's parent company. "It's an exciting challenge. Quite often we get letters from consumers who have had great experiences with our prod-

In addition to a tasty treat of tom turkey on Thanksgiving, I was surprised by another bird that day. On my way to Sterling Heights, I passed the intersection of 16 Mile and Rochester roads. I noticed a snowy owl flying southeast. Snowy owls, as their name implies, are mostly white. So when I saw this large, white, stocky looking bird flying overhead I knew what it was immediately. It was strictly by chance that our paths crossed at that moment. but, then, the more time you spend in the field, the more often those chances occur.

OWLS ARE readily recognized by most people because of their unique facial design. Eyes of most birds are on the sides of the head; owls, however, have them on the front of their face.

Feathers surrounding each eye often form a disk, which emphasizes the large eyes needed for hunting in the dark.

When the snowy owl flew by, its head, projecting forward, was very large and blunt. Identifying a flat, "squared" head is one way of distinguishing between a flying hawk and an owl. Most owls hunt at night, but a few species, like the snowy and hawk owl, are active during the day.

PERIODIC invasions of snowy owls from their arctic nesting and wintering range generally occur every four years.

Frequently, birds seen in Michigan during the winter are juveniles that have heavy black barring across their body. They are forced south because of a decline in their regular diet of small rodents known as lemmings.

Birds generally go just far enough south to find food. Some birds, though, have traveled as far south as Georgia and Bermuda.

It is interesting that just about four years ago, a snowy owl stayed on Belle Isle for several weeks. His perch - a telephone pole with a background of high-rise glass and steel structures - contrasted sharply with its flat, Arctic wilderness of the north.

It's a wrap — with help from local stores

The U.S.Postal Service is no longer the only game in town

A number of private franchises have cropped up to duplicate services which previously were exclusively the domain of the postal system. Besides providing shipping services, mailbox rentals, and selling stamps, postal cards and money orders, the alternatives offer a number of related consumer services, not the least of which is packaging.

Mailboxes Etc. USA has opened outlets in West Bloomfield, Birmingham, Southfield, Livonia, Rochester, Troy and Westland. Do-it-yourselfers can purchase packaging materials or have their goods packaged on the spot for a fee, then have them shipped through United Parcel, Federal Express or other major shippers Similar services are offered by The Box Shoppe, with new locations in Livonia, Troy, Rochester and Livonia. The wholes ale retail operation also carries an inventory of 300 different styles of boxes for moving, storage, shipping, as well as special purpose pet carriers, voting ballot boxes and mailers.

Both franchises carry gift wrapping, ribbons and bows as well as foam "peanuts," bubble wrap and other cushioning materials.

Holiday hours may be more flexible than than the traditional post office. "Many are open on Sunday," said Joan Dyer, co-owner of the Novi Boxes store. "Each franchise is different so it's best to call first.

IF YOU HAVEN'T yet sent Granny's' jogging suit, you'll have to hurry to get it there in time for Christmas or Hanukkah. Besides the concern of getting it there on time, you'll want it to arrive in its original condition.

"A few extra minutes spent packaging your items can mean the difference between delight and disappointment for the recipient," says Ted Gauthier, a West Bloomfield firefighter and owner of a Mail Boxes Etc. USA franchise in Waterford.

Gauthier, who mails hundreds of packages each week, reports that most shipping problems occur when the sender fails to provide sufficient protection inside the mailing carton. Outside shocks are then allowed to pass to the contents.

"Contrary to popular belief, newspaper is not the best packing material," Gauthier says. "I recommend using styrofoam chips, bubble wrap or Mail Boxes Etc. custom-molded foam packing to protect glass and other fragile items which should be packed in a sturdy cardboard box."

SOME MAIL services use conveyor belts to move packages more quickly, a danger to loosely wrapped and string-tied packages. "If the outside wrapping comes off, the mailing address is frequently lost and the package never reaches its destination. That's why UPS and the U.S Postal Service prefer items to be packed securely in a plain, sturdy box secured with package sealing tape.

"Once a cardboard box has traveled through the mail, it loses 50 percent of its resiliency, so it's not wise to keep re-using previously shipped cartons," stresses Gauthier.

Gauthier advises senders to separately wrap items to be shipped, placing them in the center of the carton. Cushioning material should be layered around, over and between the items. Avoid placing fragile materials near the corners or sides. No rattling should occur when the carton is shaken.

UPS GUIDELINES suggest glass and china items be packed in 2-4 inches of packing on all sides, and doublepacked with packing material between the inner and outer carton.

"Don't close packages with masking or cellophane tape as those react poorly when exposed to hot or cold temperatures," Gauthier says. He suggests using sealing tape two inches or more in width, which can also be used to reinforce carton seams.

When all else is done, Gauthier suggests, "Doublecheck the shipping label for the correct address and zip code. Then put a strip of the clear package tape across the label. This will protect the ink from moisture, as well as affix the label securely. Do the same thing on the return address label."

"Although our store has been called the "Post Office Alternative," it's really a one-stop postal and business service geared to save people time, money and frustration," Gauthier said.

Adapt to changing times or be left behind

By Bill Parker staff writer

Job security is something every employee strives for. No one wants to spend five or 10 years with one company only to discover they are no longer needed

But look at the headlines in the news. Companies are merging, others are laying off, and still others are going out of business. It seems no industry is immune to these changes.

The big question is: Are you going to stand by and let the changing times ruin your hopes for the future or are you going to adapt your abilities to meet these changes?

The key to meeting the changes is innovation, according to Denis Waitley, co-author of the new book, "Winning the Innovation Game." work one day and find out that the company that was going to support them for the rest of their life is now letting them go. And the trend along these lines will be even greater in the future. We want to reach the everyday employee. These people need to realize this company may not be there forever. They need to realize this, see the danger and be ahead of the pack in terms of meeting the change."

"This book is for people who go to Waitley isn't suggesting that everyone start looking for a new career, but rather that employees look for a way to become more valuable to their current employer or possibly to a future employer. He pointed out that Bureau of Labor Statistics claims that every employee has a 1in-10 chance that he or she will be laid off this year.

and individual companies. "They should try to enhance their competitiveness so that they will become an absolute employee.

"I'm not suggesting you should give up sports or recreation but just take a little time to improve your competitiveness. Maybe enroll in a junior college class and enrich your education."

According to Waitley, an innovator is someone who welcomes change rather than resists it. Innovators let changes work for them.

The greatest quality of an innovator is the ability to convert problems into opportunity. And problems, according to Waitley, "are normal because they always precede change."

In his book, Waitley discusses such topics as setting up a winning strategy, becoming a trend spotter, the elements of risk taking and spotting opportunities in change. But the strong point of the book, f says Waitley, shows you how "to set up YOU Inc."

ing sure your star employee, you, is updating his or her skills and techniques; and to start your own pension plan.

)"Retirement isn't guranteed. You need to find a way to gaurantee it. You can't rely on companies or the government to meet your needs anymore.

"The message here is that no one has been anticipating any of these changes. The employee is alone. He or she needs to spend some time insuring for the future."

Waitley believes one of the main problems people confront, in becoming an innovator, is lacking the ability to unhook their prejudicies.

"We are definitely creatures of habit," said Waitley. "We tend to do the same things day after day. Pretty soon, before we realize it, we get 'This book is for people who go to work one day and find out that the company that was going to support them for the rest of their life is now letting them go. And the trend along these lines will be even greater in the future. We want to reach the everyday employee. These people need to realize this company may not be there forever. They need to realize this, see the danger and be ahead of the pack in terms of meeting the change.'

"Most self-help books are devoted to managers or people who are selfstyled entrepreneurs looking for a way to make money," said Waitley who was in Southfield last week promoting his book.

"PEOPLE SHOULD maybe try to convert a hobby into a profession," said Waitley, who is known for his motivational work with the U.S. Olympic team, professional athletes

'The message here is that no one has been anticipating any of these changes. The employee is alone. He or she needs to spend some time insuring for the future.' YOU INC. IS your company. A company with one employee: you. The main goal of YOU Inc. is to protect yourself against the possibility of your skills becoming obsolete.

"That dosen't mean you can't still be loyal to your current employer," said Waftley. "But it means that you won't confuse your own goals with the goals of your employer."

The key elements in developing YOU Inc. include establishing a strategic planning department; setting up a training department and makinto a tremendous rut. We need to break out of this routine. Take a different route to work and see another side of the community. Associate with people who hold different views and educational levels than we do. We need to learn to accept change and make it work for us.

WAITLEY ALSO suggests that people should try to take time from their daily routines for an awareness break. He suggests trying to turn the television off for an entire week and using this otherwise non-productive time as a time to educate and enhance ourselves. He believes we also need to learn to be better listeners.

"People need to learn to be a good listener rather than a lecturer. We need to accept input rather than always being concerned with output. People always want to top each other in conversation. They always need to add something. We should spend more time listening than speaking and using what we hear to enhance our education." With worldwide competition in business, Waitley feels "the game of life" has already changed.

"WINNING THE Innovation Game" is based on interviews with some of America's top millionaires, entrepreneurs, corporate chairs and leaders in their respective fields.

- Denis Waitley

"Luxury of time is no longer available," said Waitley. "If you're not ahead of the pack, you're behind it. The bottom line is what you continue to do with what you have."

Home buyers' taxes eased

The Michigan Mortgage, a program to help with the purchase of a home, is available though private lenders. Operated by the Michigan State Housing Development Authority and local savings and loan associations, banks and mortgage companies, the Michigan Mortgage provides a federal income tax credit that gives buyers more income to make monthly house payments.

Nearly $20 million in mortgage loan reservations has been made through the program since it was announced by Gov. James Blanchard last spring.

More than 65 lenders, with 650 branch offices, many in Oakland and Wayne counties, are participating. Each lender sets its own interest rate, loan terms and down payment requirements. When the Michigan Mortgage tax credit is applied to the monthly payment, it effectively reduces the lender's interest rate.

For example, a 10 percent interest rate, with the credit, becomes an initial rate of 7.7 percent. On a $50,000 mortgage, that means about $83 more per Purchase limits range from $63,350 to $73,500 for new houses, and from $51,570 to $60,000 for existing homes. Household income cannot exceed $30,000 for new houses or $28,000 for existing homes. month in income that could be spent on house payments. The federal tax overhaul legislation recently signed into law has made changes in the program. Purchase limits now will range from $63,350 to $73,500 for new houses, and from $51,570 to $60,000 for existing homes, depending on the location of the property.

Household income cannot exceed $30,000 for new houses or $28,000 for existing homes. In most cases, up to $4,000 in one-time earnings may be excluded from the income calculations.

The program cannot be used to refinance existing loans or land contracts. The Michigan Mortgage is primarily for first-time homebuyers. For more information, call 1-800-327-9158 or 517-335-2039.

We have $100 to do something with. What do you say should be the first step - save for another $100 or what? What's the least amount and where do we go to contact someone?

I'd like to suggest you use a special plan that National Association of Investors Corp. has developed. I've enclosed a folder for you that explains the plan in detail. Let me tell you how it works.

You can start your investment program in your choice of 28 companies as listed in the small folder. Because you are young and have many years ahead of you to accumulate earnings, I'm suggesting that you invest in Chesebrough-Pond's.

In my opinion it is likely to grow for the foreseeable future, and at the present time it is not very popular. It has just made a major acquisition. and a number of security analysts are not convinced it was a good move MY GUESS is that it was The skill Chesebrough's management has demonstrated in the past. I believe, will show through again, and the company is likely to assimilate this new business and develop into even a more profitable business

If I am wrong, I doubt that you will lose anything - you just won't make as much as I think is possible. You won't have to use your entire $100 to get started. Chesebrough-Pond's stock price is listed in the paper at $5.25 a share. You should write a letter to NAIC and say you want to enroll in the Low Cost Stock Purchase Plan and that you want to start with Chesebrough-Pond's

YOUR CHECK should be for $90 25, and here is how it will be used The sum of $55.25 will actually be invested in Chesebrough-Pond's for you The extra amount over the recent stock price is to make sure you start with more than one share

$5 covers NAIC's costs in getting your account opened and your first purchase made $30 is for a membership in NAIC, which you need to enter the plan.

It takes some time to get your account set up but in two or three months you'll get a statement saying you have become a Chesebrough-Pond's shareholder and telling you that you own one and a fraction shares as well as the price you paid. Also you will be told that you can whenever they could invest again and buy more shares

whenever you want I'D SUGGEST that whenever you have an extra $50 or a $100 and send it in You'll be amazed to find that one day you'll have a hundred shares and be receiving a nice dividend every three months as well

Riches don't come overnight, but steady building has created an extra income for thousands of people who have added to their investments

The new tax law plays havoc with tax shelters After Jan 1, 1987, the deduction-laden partnerships in real estate, oil and gas, cattle, equipment leasing, movies, research and development, and other exotic ventures will be severely curtailed, and may even begin to vanish

The reason is that the much publicized passive losses generated by limited partnerships won't be allowed to reduce either active (salary) or portfolio (investment) income. The rules are complex, so are the attractive strategies.

Consequently, use extreme caution in handling this aspect of your finan-cial plan. Here are some basic strategies to consider:

• If you have invested in limited partnerships that will throw off additional passive losses in 1987, get in on some income producing partnerships

• If you wish to invest in some limited partnerships in 1987 that will generate passive income but 1 don't have passive losses, cons. adding enough losers to offset the passive income producers. · Consider disposing of passive investments generating unusable losses. • Maintain active participation

If the AMT is higher than your regular tax, you must pay the AMT. This can certainly defeat the benefit of an otherwise good tax planning technique

AMT is not new, but in 1987 the calculation becomes much more rig-

Some of the changes are: • The AMT rate increases to 21 percent

• The sizable exemption is phased out and completely eliminated for married people filing jointly whose alternative minimum taxable income exceeds $310,000.

• The long-term capital gain is eliminated as a preference item but three new ones are added; namely, passive losses, taxable interest on municipal bonds to fund private-purpose projects, and value of appreciated property donated to charity.

IRAs and retirement planning

Restrictions on IRA contributions apply starting next year to taxpayers covered by a retirement plan at work and who have over $40,000 on a joint return. So it is wise to make a 1986 contribution without delay.

Also, the maximum contribution to 401K plan has been reduced to $7,000 (down from $30,000), and restrictions on early withdrawals from those plans have been tightened. Finally, next year marks the end for 10-year forward averaging.

Directors fear lawsuits, dislike mergers

One-third of Michigan's directors of major U.S. corporations surveyed by the accounting firm of Touche Rosse say they have considered resigning because of increased personal exposure to lawsuits.

Overwhelmingly they agree it will be more difficult to recruit competent board members in the future.

The results clearly point to a serious concern regarding liability issues by a substantial portion of Michigan and U.S. corporate directors," said James R. Flaherty, Touche Ross partner and director of audit practice in Michigan. Touche Ross, the Big Eight accounting and management consulting firm, undertook the survey to gauge the opinions of directors on ises critical to the future of America's largest coporations.

In September of this year, the questionnaire was distributed to officers and directors of companies with sales of $500 million or more. Among the 1,126 respondents were 48 Michigan directors, 34 of whom represent companies with more than $1 billion in annual sales.

Among the findings: Michigan directors agreed with their colleagues nationwide that acquisitions and mergers have had a negative effect on the U.S. economy. Nonetheless, the majority (60 percent) also agreed that such activity will increase or remain the same during the coming year.

• Surprisingly, a majority (54 percent) of Michigan directors agree with other survey respondents that although foreign competition has hurt earnings, Congress should not consider legislation to protect U.S. business from foreign competition.

• According to Michigan respon-dents, the industrial sectors most vulnerable to bankruptcy are auto-motive and steel related, which reflects ongoing regional concerns. However, 75 percent of these same directors agree that the federal government will not provide bail-out assistance

· Michigan directors proved to be much more optimistic than their colleagues that plant expenditures will increase during 1987, as will in-vestment in R&D and technologybased industries. These figures may represent an acknowledgement of the need to diversify the state's industrial base.

• Two-thirds of Michigan respondents expect favorable benefits for American business as a result of establishing a U.S./Canadian Common Market. But they agreed with their colleagues nationwide that implementation of such a program is unlikely.

Other highlights from the national survey include:

• More than 80 percent of the directors polled believe today's directors are more effective than they were 20 years ago.

· Corporate directors are clearly not concerned about terrorism, survey responses reveal. Less than onethird of the respondents believe that terrorism, including consumer terrorism in this country, will significantly affect business in 1987. The industry most likely to be hurt, according to respondents, is travel and leisure.

· Eighty-one percent of the directors polled do not believe that. over the next year, Third World debt will have an adverse effect on the halance sheets of companies where they serve on the board, and only 11 percent of those who say it will have an effect feel the effect will be significant · Directors living in the Southeast and the Middle Atlantic states are the most optimistic about the U.S. economy: the majority in these states say that the economy is growing slowly. Those living in the Southwest and the Rocky Mountain regions are the most likely to describe the economy as stagnant.

Michigan National moves toward regional banking

Michigan National Corp., holding strategic restructuring will increase company for 21 banks, announced a restructuring aimed at "creating a leaner, more competitive organization better positioned to be a market leader.'

The state's third largest bank holding company will be run through three "regions." Earlier this year, it had created a nine-region structure. "The decision to reorganize was reached against the backdrop of a national economy that is adjusting to deregulation." said Robert J. Mylod, chairman and chief executive officer of the Farmington Hills-based firm.

"This, coupled with the recent announcements in Michigan by the automotive and other industries, compelled us to focus on the cost of our operations and to move in a forceful and effective way to gain better control of those costs in 1987."

THE THREE new regions are: Southeast, with 130 branches, services the greater Detroit metropolitan area and is headquartered in Detroit. Richard C. Webb has been appointed chairman. In addition, the Corporate Banking Division is being consolidated into the Southeast Region

• Central, with 101 branches and headquartered in Lansing, is comprised of: Port Huron, Saginaw, Flint, Charlotte, Litchfield, Lansing, Jackson, Ann Arbor and Livingston. Lawrence L. Gladchun, former West Metro officer, has been appointed chairman.

· West, with 40 branches, is headquartered in Grand Rapids, and serves the cities of Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo and southwestern Michigan. Alden G. Walters has been appointed chairman MYLOD SAID MNC is seeking a buyer for Michigan Bank-Huron in East Tawas.

'The restructuring will enable Michigan National either to significantly expand our present market share by acquisitions or to reduce our presence in less profitable market areas by consolidations or sale of these branches.

our momentum as we move toward our goal of becoming one of the top regional banking organizations in the United States."

MYLOD ANNOUNCED steps to create what he said was a more service-oriented and cost-effective branch banking system. He cited a capital program to improve the physical appearance at certain facilities.

MNC also will install a new computer system to enhance tellers' sales and service effectiveness. Other programs are aimed at enhancing service quality.

MNC has with assets of $7.7 billion with 21 bank subsidiaries, operating 271 branches and 539 Automated Teller Machines (ATMs) statewide.

Alliance's proposals under fire

A group of leading business organizations, representing more than 25,000 member firms around the state, sent a letter to members of the Michigan Legislature late Monday expressing opposition to proposals recently put forth by the Michigan Economic Alliance.

The group said the proposals "will not improve Michigan's business climate and may have a negative effect."

The letter says the proposed Economic Alliance workers' compensation and unemployment insurance package would result in cost increases to Michigan businesses of up to $350 million over the next five years

The letter also cites a Senate Fiscal Agency analysis which indicates total unemployment insurance cost increases would more than double should Michigan suffer an economic downturn similar to the most recent recession.

The 14 business groups, led by the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and the Michigan Manufacturers Association, said the Alliance's unemployment insurance portion of the proposal "is merely a temporary delay in substantial cost increases" for Michigan, which already has one of the highest per-employee unemployment insurance costs in the nation

The letter calls for the entire workers' compensation and upemployment insurance systems to be reviewed by the new Legislature when it convenes in January 1987.

"We look forward to working with you on these issues during the 1987-88 legislative session in an open forum in which all elements of the business and labor communities may participate," the letter concluded.

Main, includes more than 80 old fans on display — Chinese silk fans, handpainted fans, feathered fans from France, leather fans.

Also on exhibit are a Lionel Chessie Steam Special passenger train, American Flyer passenger, work and freight trains and a Standard Gauge train; also old toys, including tractors, firetrucks, iron trains and farm equipment. The Plymouth Historical Museum is open to the public 1-4 p.m. Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. Admission.

Kreatives, a preschool class to foster and develop creativity, is offered for six weeks sessions in First United Methodist Church on N. Territorial Road in Plymouth. Times are 10 a.m. to noon, and 1-3 p.m. Monday thorugh Friday. Parents may choose any combination of times and days. For ages 3-5, Kreatives develops creativity through art, crafts, music, tal, Farmington Hills, for families waiting to adopt an infant up to age two. Terry Allor of Plymouth, program director for Expectant Adoptive Parent Classes, says the classes will provide information on the physical care of an infant, growth and development, selecting infant clothes and accessories, common infant health problems and child safety. The classes also provide the opportunity to explore parenthood and its relationship to being an adoptive parent.

HELPING ADULTS READ

Plymouth-Canton Community Education can help adults read. For more information about Adult Basic Education, call 451-6555 or 451-6660. Open enrollment. Students can begin classes at any time.

PROJECT: COLLEGE BOUND

Tuition assistance, personal development workshops, tutoring and job placement support are being offered to a limited number of persons age 18-21 who are interested in attending Schoolcraft College for either the winter or spring semester. A high school diploma or GED is not necessary for enrollment into Schoolcraft. For more information, call Growth Works Inc., in Plymouth at 455-4090.

PARENT/CHILD GUIDE PROGRAMS

One minute they're 5, the next they are in their teens. Don't miss the moments of your child's young years. The YMCA Indian Guide Parent/Child Programs is an opportunity to spend special time together on a one-to-one basis for ages 5-13 in neighborhood tribal meetings in homes. Through the Indian Guide program, you'll be guiding your child as you have fun and learn together. For information, call 453-2904.

The Oral Majority Toastmasters is a club where members can learn how to express their ideas, opinions and aspirations at a weekly dinner meeting beginning 5:45 p.m. Tuesdays in the banquet room of Denny's restaurant at Ann Arbor Road and I-275 in Plymouth. For reservations or information, call Phyllis Sullivan, 455-1635.

• COMPUTERS IN LIBRARY

Four Apple II computers are available for public use in the Dunning-Hough Library, 223 S. Main, Plymouth. Children younger than age 14 will be required to attend a training workshop or pass a users test. Children younger than age 8 must be accompanied by a parent while using the computer. All patrons must have a library card and must sign a responsibility card also signed by a parent or guardian. Once the responsibility card is on file at the library, patrons may reserve computer time and software. Rules and instructions for using the computers, the responsibility card, and a list of software are available at the library. For more information, call 453-0750.

• SENIOR NUTRITION PROGRAMS

Out-Wayne County Human Services Inc. provides hot, nutritious meals five days a week to people 60 years of age and older in both Plymouth and Canton. Reservations must be made 24 hours in advance at the following sites:

Plymouth: Tonquish Manor, 1160 Sheridan. Site Manager is Mary Bengtsson, 453-9703.

Canton: Canton Township Recreation Center, Michigan Avenue at Sheldon. Site Manager Madeline Carpenter, 397-1000 Ext. 278.

Home-delivered meals are provided to eligible senior citizens who are homebound and unable to attend the nutrition site. Volunteers to deliver the homebound meals always are needed for both sites. For home-delivery information, call 453-2525.

Tree-farm map aids Christmas choppers

There are only 13 chopping days left until Christmas for those who wish to cut down their own yule tree.

More than 568,000 trees are available this n - 6 percent more than last year - at the 71 farms listed in AAA Michigan's Cut-Your-Own Guide.

Scotch pines can be purchased for as low as $4 while bigger trees, such as Douglas fir or blue spruce, may run up to $50. Prices at tree farms charging by height run from $1.50 to 3.50 per foot. More than a dozen varieties are available for cutting.

AAA Michigan advises tree cutters to:

· Bring a hand saw. Nearly all tree farms provide saws, but supplies may be limited during peak cutting times. Axes are not allowed

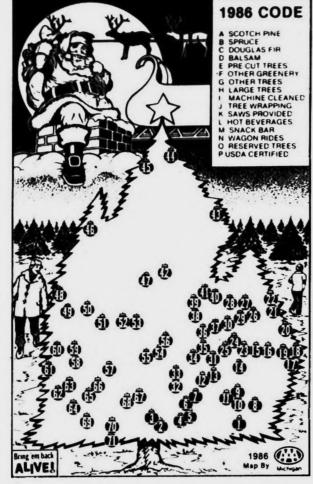

· Saw the tree trunk close to the ground and shake the tree in the field to remove old needles. Norway, white and black spruce and Balsam fir trees should be cut when temperatures are above 40 degrees to help hold their needles. Colder temperatures could cause those trees to drop their needles more easily than pines or Douglas firs.

• Take some twine. Forty-one farms will wrap the trees but it is advisable to have some twine. The base of the tree should be tied to the front of the car to help the tree withstand the wind during transport.

• The tree should be placed in a water-filled stand immediately after arriving home. If more than two days have passed since the tree was felled, cut an inch cr two off the base before putting the tree up. Check the stand's water level daily.

• Place the tree in a cool area, preferably away from open flames and heating ducts. Inspect all electrical wires to be placed on the tree for frayed cords, damaged lights or bare spots. Never overload electrical outlets

Every year, over a million new college graduates put on their new blue suits and go job hunting.

All of them have degrees. Most of them have hearty handshakes. But very few have what employers want most practical work experience.

That's why there's a nationwide program called Cooperative Education. It allows students to alternate studies at the college of their choice with paid, practical work experience in the career of their choice.

So Co-op Education students graduate with more than a degree. They have practical knowledge. And a competitive advantage in today's crowded job market. And that sure beats trying to B.S. your way into a job.

You earn a future when you earn a degree.

Mrs. D.G., Detroit readerr Dear Mrs. G .:

Care for the feet is essential for all of us at any age. Feet carry us thousands of miles in a lifetime and take a great deal of abuse.

Much of the abuse is due to the fact that we rarely take the time to take special care of our feet. The older we get, the more important foot care becomes.

Good foot care includes the selection of proper fitting shoes, ongoing and good "hands on" care of the feet and an awareness of certain symptoms that require professional help.

WHEN SELECTING shoes, anyone over age 55 should consider the following

Mercy chills out, Salem moves on

By Chris McCosky staff writer

Let's forget the high-tech coaching theory for just a second, shall we?

All those Xs and Os are fine, those forever varying presses and press breakers, those well-engineered out of bounds plays, those cleverly devised offensive and defensive schemes all have their place.

But when you come right down to it, basketball is as simple as this The team that puts the ball into the basket the most wins the game.

Wednesday night, in the Class A quarterfinals at a jam-packed Southfield High School gym. Plymouth Salem put the ball into the basket more often than Farmington Hills Mercy. Thus, Salem won 63-46 and will move on to the semifinals Friday at Grand Valley State College.

'I thought Mercy had a good game plan tonight," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "They really attacked our defense. They drove that ball in and got us in foul trouble real early. They forced us into doing something we don't do a lot of and that's play zone defense

sey) is boxed in by Mercy's Jennifer Slosar (No. 50) and Yvette Maison.

SALEM PICKED up six quick fouls in the first quarter, and Mercy spent a lot of time at the free throw line. In the quarter, Salem's Keri McBride picked up three fouls. Jill Estey and Jessica Handley two each

Our high priorities in this game were to break their press, contain their offense reasonably well and get the ball to the basket to try and get them into foul trouble," said Mercy coach Larry Baker "Those things happened.

But

Mercy was utterly frosty when it came to putting the ball into the basket. In the first quarter the Marlins made just one of 12 field goal tries. In the half they hit four of 23. At one point they missed 12 consecutive shots at the basket. Mercy made 13 of 36 shots in the second half. That's 28 percent on the night.

Salem led 26-15 at the half. Seven of the Marlins points came off free throws

"OUR SCORING production was just miserable," Baker said. "We had some people struggling to find a groove and establish their confidence on the court. Unfortunately, that didn't happen until we were too ar behind.

Said Thomann: "We put them in a situation where they had to score from the perimeter. We're thankful that they were missing a lot of perimeter shots. That was definitely a key factor in this game.

Salem, conversely, had little trouble scoring. The Rocks hit 25 of 43 shots from the floor (58 percent) and ment. 13 of 16 free throws. (Mercy was 10 of 18 from the line)

Dena Head led Salem with 25 points. Jessica Handley scored 12, Kristen Hostynski 10 and Jill Estey and Keri McBride each scored eight. Estey was a key player for Salem. Her coolness in the face of Mercy's intense trapping defense enabled Salem to not only break the press, but to score easy baskets against Mer-cy's press. For Mercy (18-7), Margaret DeShe also played a strong game defensively and on the boards Jan Herberholz scored 13 points and Yvette Maison 12

MERCY MADE a mini run at Salem in the opening stages of the second half

Led by seven quick points from Herberholz. Mercy pulled within eight. 28-20

The teams traded hoops for two possessions. With 3.32 left in the third quarter. Maison hit her first field goal of the game to pull the Marlins within six, 32-26.

Hostynski scored a crucial basket for Salem to slow Mercy. Then, after a Mercy miss. Estey drained a 12foot jumper to put the Rocks back up by 10.

In a time span of nearly four minutes (last two minutes of the third and the first two of the fourth) Salem outscored Mercy 12-4.

Mercy's mini run proved to be its last gasp

THE VICTORY, aside from sending Salem to the state's final four for the first time in its history, lifted a huge monkey off its back. Mercy has ended Salem's past three seasons.

"This feels great." Thomann said. When you get beat three years in a row by a team in the state tournament, you have to continue to challenge yourself. You have to keep getting better because you know that Mercy will show up on your schedule at some time in the state tourna-

Said Baker "I'm proud that we were able to get this far. And we'll be pulling for Salem from this point on. In some ways I think we've helped contribute to their success because of the tremendous competition we've provided for each other over the past three years. I certainly don't begrudge them anything.

The Rocks, winners of 24 consecutive games, are 25-1 on the season They will play either Detroit Martin

Officials fear worst in Mann's eligibility case

By Chris McCosky staff writer

Assistant superintendent of Ann Arbor public schools Wiley Brownlee said Wednesday he had "reason to believe that one of our students may have been ineligible" when they ran cross country for state Class A champion Ann Arbor Pioneer last fall

Brownlee, as a legal precaution, would not release the name of the student in question. But sources close to the situation verified that the student was former Plymouth Canton runner Rachel Mann.

Mann, who ran track at Canton last spring, transferred to Ann Arbor Pioneer prior to the fall season. She was the fifth best runner for Pioneer at the state meet Nov. 1

Brownlee released his statement Wednesday after meeting with Larry Dishman and several members of the Ann Arbor administration, including Pioneer principal Milo White. Dishman, the district's coordinator of athletics and a supervisor within the city's parks and recreation department, recently completed an in-house investigation of the Pioneer cross country program.

cross country

Brownlee said he would be forwarding the information to the Michigan High School Athletic Association and asking for further guidance on the matter.

FRED SIBLE, an assistant director with the MHSAA, said that if Mann was officially declared ineligible. Pioneer would have to vacate its state championship. The title would remain vacant.

We have talked on the phone (with Pioneer) I don't know how many times," Sible said. "We are waiting for them to submit some-ing in writing Sible said that if Mann moved from Canton to the Pioneer district over the summer she would be eligible under the state rules

But Mann's situation is more complicated. The Mann family didn't establish immediate residency in the Pioneer district, according to sources within both school districts.

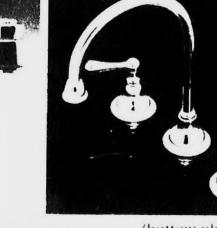

They moved in with another family first while waiting for their own home to become available. Apparently the new home in which the Manns moved into was not within the Pioneer boundaries

"The residency is what is in question here," Brownlee said. "We know what was on the records. We want to know if that's true. Did they indeed live where they said they did?"

Brownlee said the school district will continue to gather facts from "the person in question" and from cross country coach Bryan Westfield. He plans to send written data to the MHSAA within the next two weeks.

Boys swim year opens Saturday

By Chris McCosky staff writer

The 1986-87 boys swim season kicks into gear Saturday with the fifth annual Western Lakes Activities Association Relay meet beginning at 2 30 p.m. at Plymouth Salem

And guess what' Plymouth Sa lem and Livonia Stevenson, as they no doubt will be for the conference meet at the end of the season, are expected to battle for the title Saturday

Even though the other 10 conference teams continue to improve and bring a competitive balance to the Western Lakes. Salem and Stevenson remain the frontrunners.

"Stevenson and Salem are the favorites, no question," said Plymouth Canton coach Hooker Wellman "But a lot of other teams have improved, as well. John Glenn is going to be tough. Livonia Churchill, Northville, North Farmington and Livonia Franklin should be good teams."

To say nothing of Plymouth Canton and Farmington Harrison, who also appear stronger and deeper than last year.

But this year's swim season will have a long way to go to top last season. Stevenson was the dominant team throughout the dual meet campaign. The Spartans won the WLAA Relays and beat Salem in a dual meet. But at the league meet, Salem surprised everyone with a 225-211 victory over secondplace Stevenson.

Both Salem and Stevenson lost All-Area talent to graduation. Stevenson will return All-Area performers Steve Taormina and Joe Saunders. Top returnees for Salem include Phil Bocketti, Don Harwood and Dave Miller.

Here's a composite look at the two Centennial Educational Park boys swim team.

Observerland shines at state

By Brad Emona staff writer

With nearly 20 percent of the qualifiers from Observerland schools it s easy to say that the area figured prominently in Saturday's state Class A girls swim meet held at Michigan State University's McCaffree Pool

Livonia Stevenson finished third in the team standings and boasted the meet's top individual, senior Sheila Taormina, who figured in three of the five record-breaking events

The Spartans also proved to be spoilers, bumping defending state champion Ann Arbor Pioneer from first to second by pulling a mild surprise in the meet's final event. capturing the 400-yard freestyle relay. The title went to Bloomfield Hills Andover, which tallied 173 points. Pioneer was second with 169. followed by Stevenson (115), Birmingham Groves (112) and Bloomfield Hills Lahser (80)

Two other Observerland schools made the top 10.

North Farmington finished sixth with 60 and Farmington Hills Mercy was ninth with 43 (See complete results on statistical page.

BUT THE TALK of the meet was the 5-foot-3 dynamo Taormina, who was named Swimmer of the Year after setting records in the 200 individual medley (2 15 14) and 100 butterfly (57 02) To top things off. Taormina teamed up with Ann Bollinger Michele McKenzie and Maureen Sudek to defend the 400 freestyle relay title breaking their old mark with a time of 3 326 (The only change in the foursome from last year was Maureen Sudek replacing sister Sherrie Sheila is just a great trainer." said Stevenson first-year coach Greg Phill She's set goals and worked on weights That's helped, but if there's one thing about her it's determination She's the best I've ever coached Taormina's victory in the 200 IM came against Andover's Amy Charnes, who went into the race as the favorite after setting a state record in Friday's preliminaries.

Sheila has never been happy at the state meet until this year." said Phill "She really wanted it this time

In the 100 butterfly. Taormina finished two seconds ahead of another area swimmer. Churchill sophomore Audra Martin who was clocked in 59 02

IRONICALLY, Martin made the most of her second chance. After finishing seventh in the preliminaries. Martin was given a berth in the championship final when another swimmer scratched because of injury In the 200 IM final, Martin finished third McKenzie also enjoyed a fine meet, finishing second and third to Pioneer standout Jennifer Jackson the 200 and 500 freestyles. McKenzie posted times of 1.53.88 and 5 03 33, respectively.

Also for Stevenson, Bollinger took second in the 100 backstroke (1 00 1) behind Lahser's Lisa Beni (592). Bollinger added a sixth place in the 50 freestyle (24 71)

North senior Jennifer Rowe capped a banner career, placing second in the 500 freestyle (5.00.9) and sixth in the 200 freestyle (1:56.7).

Teammate Cindy Cramer was another standout, gaining third in the 100 breaststroke (1:08.15) and fourth in the 200 IM (2.12.76). North freshman Marcy Mulbarger was eighth in the 100 breaststroke (1:10.0) and the Raiders' 400 freestyle relay team of Rowe, Marge Cramer, Cindy Cramer and Laurie Oswald finished eighth in 3 44 66

MERCY'S TOP INDIVIDUALS was diver Erica Campbell, who finished fourth overall. Other finisheres included Jenny Morton, fifth, 500 freestyle and 11th, 200 IM; and Suzie Knipper, fifth, 100 backstroke. The Marlins also took ninth in the 200

The 6-5 North Farmington senior led his basketball team to a 34-46 win at RU with a 31-point, 17-rebound performance. He outrebounded the entire RU team 17-15.

"He had one of those nights," said North coach Tom Negoshian. "Everything he put up went in."

North needed every ounce of Karcher's effort as Redford Union stayed within four points for most of the game.

'They just killed us inside," said RU coach Tip Smathers. "We have some work to do on that. Karcher is a fine player and he was getting excellent position inside all night."

Chuck Howard added eight points Craig Watson scored 10 to pace RU (1-1).

W. BLOOMFIELD 42, HARRI-SON 36: Farmington Harrison's offense decided to take the second half off Tuesday night and it cost the Hawks a game.

"I think our inexperience showed up tonight," Harrison coach Mike Teachman said. "We just stopped running our offense in the second half - and West Bloomfield played awfully good defense."

Harrison led 19-11 at the half. In the third quarter the Hawks missed six consecutive free throws and the Lakers got back in the game.

NSUNG HEROES.

Sounds funny. It seems to imply that there are heroes people sing about. Tell you what: If I ever sang a song about a hero, the guy would probably sue me for defamation of character.

But there are sports figures out there who deserve notice. Who deserve attention. Who deserve to he sung about.

And I'm just the guy to name their tune.

Granted, some of the subjects of this ballad would rather not be. Such modesty is just one more impressive element in their character.

So here goes: an O&E listing of fall's unsung heroes, listed by sport.

FOOTBALL - So many choices, but one that really deserves the title: Ryan O'Rourke, a junior at Troy. What an athlete. He plays one half of football for the Colts in a game that was already a rout when he made his appearance, and eight weeks later his name was still in the news.

All sorts of players are labeled "franchise" or "the key," as if their teams couldn't win without them. But O'Rourke did more off the field to affect Troy's football fortunes than most of his teammates did on it. All this from a kid who transferred out of Birmingham Brother Rice, which led to a lawsuit and all sorts of other football fun.

SOCCER - Got to go for a name player here. And what better soccer name is there than Ya Mok? Detractors often claim that soccer is a game played by foreigners, and that's why it can't get a following in this country. Well, this all-Eccentric sophomore forward (21 goals, 13 assists) from Southfield puts that claim to shame with his hall-of-fame name. Ya Mok!

Honorable mention for best soccer name: Oakland University's Ender Ibisoglu and Gray Haizel (the latter sounds like a conflict in col-OFS).

SWIMMING - There are a lot of high school sports where coaching is more organizing than actually teaching (golf and tennis, for example). That isn't the case in swimming, and exceptional coaching was one very big factor in Livonia Stevenson's superb showing at last weekend's state finals.

So this well-earned, pat-on-theback goes to the coach who guided the Spartans to their third-place finish: Doug Buckler.

What a job he did. And what's more amazing is that he still found time for other activities. Stevenson faced a tough challenge from North Farmington for the Western Lakes' title, and the very week of the league meet Buckler was up north deer hunting. Strange tatics, but he knew what he was doing - the Spartans won easily.

GOLF - This is a personal choice, and since this is a purely subjective listing, it fits right in. Erica Zonder of North Farmington. OK, so girls golf is a springtime sport. But Zonder bucked that trend by playing for North's boys team. And playing well; she was consistently among the top five scorers on a very good Raider team.

But what impressed me was her intense attitude. She played her first-ever O&E women's tournament last August and had a two-under-par 34 after nine holes. But her game and six-stroke lead deserted her over the back nine. She shot a 43 and finished second with 77.

She handled her bitter disappointment like any fiercely competitive golfer would. "That's the way it goes," she remarked with a shrug.

OUTDOORS - This belongs to a man who has single-handedly rewritten the laws governing hunting and fishing: Coleman Young. That's right, his honor the mayor.

Remember, it was Coleman who boasted to the media about the fish he caught and then laughed when asked if he had a license. And it was Coleman who refused to take guns. out of the hands of Detroiters because they need them for protection from the great white suburbanite hunters, who are trained to use automatic weapons by the Ku Klux Klan on weekend excursions into the woods.

The man obviously has a firm grasp on problems facing outdoorsmen everywhere.

TENNIS - History can be cruel even to the best of athletes. Winners are remembered. Who finishes second is quickly forgotten. Bloomfield Hills Lahser unfortunately belongs to the latter.

The Knights' four singles players all reached their Class A match finals. Two (No. 3 Nicole Ashare and No. 4 Beth Rauth) won titles. And their No. 1 doubles team made it to the semifinals. Still, Lahser couldn't win. The Knights finished second by a point to perennial champ Grosse Pointe South. It was the secondstraight year Lahser came home with the runners-up trophy.

CROSS COUNTRY - Geez, another coach has to be honored here. And what better name than that of Bryan Westfield of state champion - for now, anyway - Ann Arbor Pi-

Westfield did what any coach with a team bordering on greatness would have done: He went after the last piece of the puzzle. That piece happened to be Rachel Mann, formerly of Plymouth Canton. Mann trained with Westfield's Ann Arbor Track Club last summer, then she and her father moved in with another Ann Arbor family.

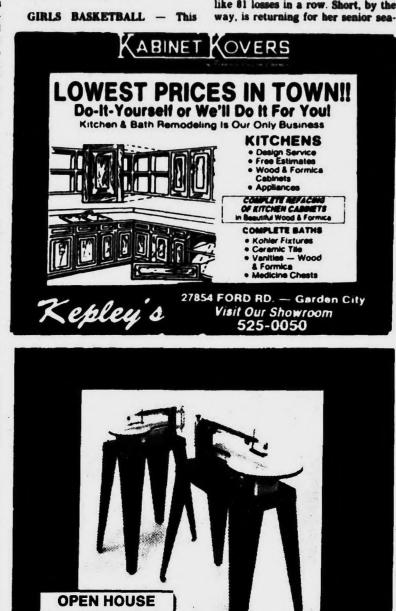

She competed with Pioneer this season (ignoring an MHSAA rule re-

Glenn wins

Westland John Glenn, the No. 2 ranked boys basketball team in Observerland, stood up to its ranking with a season-opening 89-57 victory over host Dearborn Edsel Ford Tuesday night.

Defensive pressure and inside shooting set the tone for the Rockets as they jumped out to a 21-15 first quarter lead. Andy Grazulis' 22 points paced Glenn, which led 45-27 at the half. The Rockets led 70-38 after three quarters of play.

Greg Bates added 16 for the winners while Steve Hawley and Marcus Lowe pumped in 15 each.

John Tobin scored 18 for Edsel Ford which fell to 0-2 on the season.

GARDEN CITY 60, LIVONIA STEVENSON 59: Jeremy Krol hit both ends of a pressure free throw with nine seconds left Tuesday to lift the host Cougars to their second victory of the new season, "We led, basically, throughout the game," said Garden City coach Bob Dropp. "They went up 41.39 in the third quarter, but that was their only lead. "Actually we shouldn't even have been on the same court with them. They're a big, physical team. We had the home court advantage and we basically outscrapped them. We stayed with them the whole game." The Cougars pulled ahead 13-10 after the first quarter, only to have Stevenson cut the lead to 29-27 by the half. After three quarters of play the Cougars held a narrow 44-43 edge.

Audubon sponsors holiday bird watch

GROUP OF 20 to 30 avid bird watchers will take to the field Dec. 21 for the 43rd annual Detroit Audubon Society's Christmas Count.

The group, led by Christmass Count chairman Tim Nowicki, will spend eight hours in the field in an area of northwestern Oakland County. They will count every bird seen and identify it to the proper species. All the information will then be sent to the National Audubon Society.

"One of the best things that can be determined from this count is any fluctuation in populations of different species of birds," said Nowicki. "We can see the general trends in flocks. We can also see if there is any invasion of nomadic species in the area.

"It's really quite effective. A few years back. our records indicated that there was a drop in the pheasant and black duck populations. That was the same year the Department of Natural Resources stated there was a significant drop in in the population of these two species."

The area in which the counting will be done is a mix between rural and suburban land. The 15-mile diameter circle is broken into 15 sections. Counting is usually done in a group, depending upon the number of participants.

We're looking for some group leaders," said Nowicki. "But the count is open to the public and we are looking for any interested people. In recent years we have been averaging right around 20 or 30 people. We have had as many as 70 people in past years, however."

Interested people should contact the Detroit Audubon Society, 545-2929

• THE ONTARIO Ministry of Natural Resources is continuing its support in assisting Michigan Department of Natural Resource efforts to restore a healthy moose population to the Upper Peninsula. A total of 30 moose will be transported from Ontario to Marquette County in late January or early February. The animals will be transported, under sedation, by helicopters and trucks.

Ontario's Algonquin Provincial Park provided 10 bulls and 19 cows last year in the first of these historic moose lifts.

Bill Parker

Since last year's lift, four cows were lost due to brainworm and three bulls died from unknown causes. However, 26 calves and yearlings have been born this year bringing the current total to 48.

Cost for "Moose Lift II" is estimated at $80,000. It will be paid for with money from the DNR's Game and Fish Fund and contributions from the Upper Peninsula Sportsman's Alliance; the Michigan United Conservation Clubs; the Michigan Involvement Committee of Safari Club International; and the Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation.

• SIX LUCKY hunters from the Observer & Eccentric coverage area are currently participating in the 1986 Michigan elk hunt. These successfull applicants, along with 89 others, were drawn from a pool of 36,348 applications.

Local luckouts include Paul A. Chism and Gary Sobeck of Farmington Hills; Scott T. Wetzel and Joseph J. Dillahunt of West Bloomfield; Gerald R. Manus of Redford; and Matthew D. Selewski of Troy. The elk heard was recently estimated at 1,100 animals. This hunt, controlled by the DNR, will maintain the heard at a desirable size and minimize crop, range and forest damage, while preserving a healthy, sizeable heard for public viewing opportunities throughout the year.

This year the hunt has been expanded from 295 to 435 square miles within the counties of Montmorency, Otsego, Cheboygan and Presque Isle. These are the areas where the most agricultural and forest damage is caused by concentrations of elk. Elk hunts have been held in Michigan in 1964, 1965, 1984 and 1985.

During the hunts of '64 and '65, a total of 600 licenses were issued and 452 elk were taken. In 1984 there were 50 licenses issued and 49 were filled.

Slow start pains Ocelots

Plaving one half of basketball rarely is enough. It certainly wasn't enough for Schoolcraft College's men's team Saturday at Flint Jordan.

The Ocelots did very little right over the first 20 minutes and trailed 54-37 at the half. And, although they rallied in the second half and trimmed FJ's lead to five with seven minutes left, they weren't able to overcome the giant deficit and lost 97-90

"That was the poorest half we've played," said SC coach Bob Wetzel. They rebounded everything they missed and put it back in. We didn't make the transition from offense to

You wouldn't want to meet the man who used to own this dog.

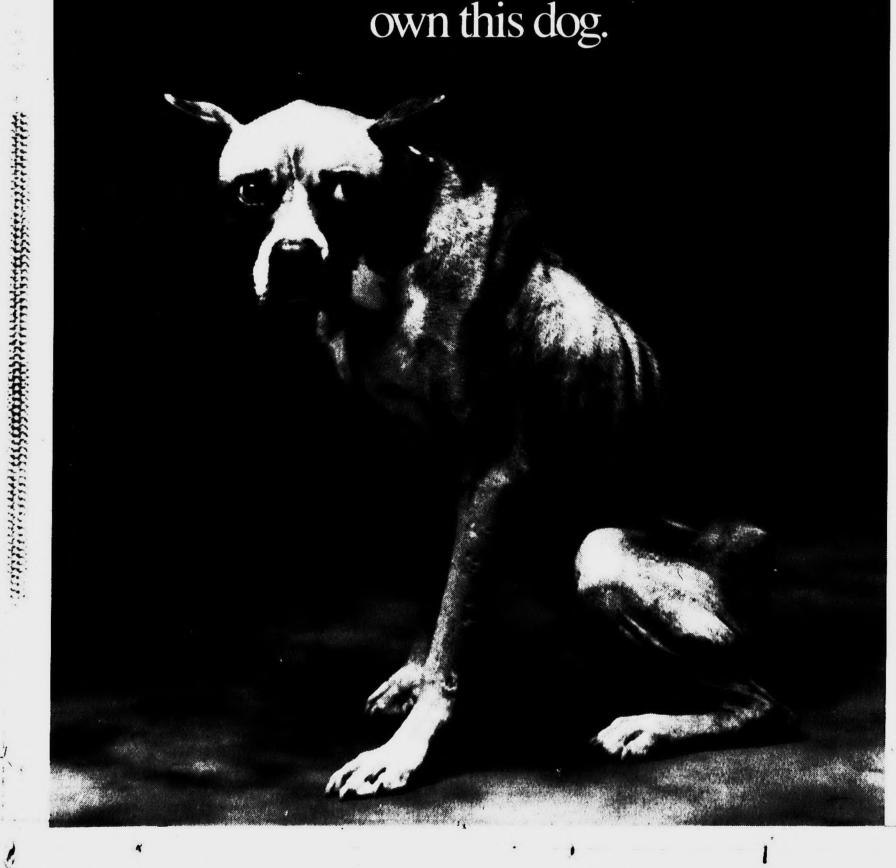

The Michigan Humane Society had that unpleasant task Oct. 9, the day we responded to a call from a concerned citizen in northwest Detroit and found a young boxer chained to a fence without any sign of food or water.

Understand, this dog wasn't a stray. He was someone's pet. A pet who spent-most of his life at the end of a 5-foot chain. A pet whose only shelter was a tattered piece of cardboard lying on the ground. A pet so emaciated, so worm-infested, he couldn't even stand. When the Michigan Humane Society cruelty investigation van brought the dog we named Rocky into our downtown shelter, he weighed just 39 lbs. A boxer his size should weigh about twice that. Rocky was immediately put on intravenous feedings and medication. In no time at all, he was able to eat solid food and go for short walks. However, subsequent diagnostic testing revealed the dog had serious cardiac problems. On Oct. 30th. three weeks from the day we picked him up, Rocky died of heart failure. He was 21/2 years old.

SC got it together, and in the sec-

6D(P.C)

The kind of apathy and abuse this dog experienced isn't just sad. It's illegal.

That's why we're currently involved in the prosecution of Rocky's former owner. Through the efforts of our cruelty investigation team and staff legal counsel, that person has been charged with three separate counts of animal cruelty.

We're determined to make certain Rocky didn't die in vain. That's why we're turning to you in this season of giving. Please find it in your heart to make a donation, no matter how large or small, to the Michigan Humane Society.

Because it's your contribution that helps us feed and shelter neglected dogs and cats.

It's your contribution that helps us find many of these animals a new home. And, it's your contribution that helps The Michigan Humane Society prosecute people who do things like this to dogs like Rocky.

Bob Hynes of Bloomfield Township is heard on WJR radio and also has a new business, with offices in Southfield. He's trying to peddle three shows - two on sports topics and one about seniors - for television.

Veteran broadcaster moves into new areas

By Ethel Simmons staff writer

> ERENNIAL BROAD-CASTING personality Bob Hynes has his finger in many pies.

He's starting a new job at an old favorite radio station, WJR, where he returns after seven years, and at the same time is plunging into a private business, handling public relations and putting together video productions available for videocassette or TV syndication.

Hynes also has been talking to media pro Don Haney about the possibility of forming a partnership to operate a new UHF station in Pt. Huron for which Haney owns the rights. He continues to do teaching and training with Anthony Franco, where he instructs executives in how to handle themselves with the media.

One of the nice guys, Hynes has been around a long time and is looking for more outlets that will utilize his background in radio and television

Last week Hynes showed off his new business offices. He shares a suite with Nancy Kader Jacobs' Entertainment Connection enterKader, the wife of Dixieland banjo player Doug Jacobs, has just moved her business downstairs in the office building at 21711 W. 10 Mile Road.

The Observer Newspapers

Kader needed more space for her ever-expanding agency and asked Hynes, a close friend of the Jacobs, if he would like to share the quarters. Hynes bought some used office furniture for $400 and moved in.

Hynes is a resident of Birmingham Farms in Bloomfield Township, where he and his wife have lived for 19 years. Describing himself as "an Irishman from Boston," the handsome, graying Hynes has been a longtime Detroit staple on the air.

HYNES SAID that when he was in his mid-30s he was hot, doing the syndicated "Anniversary Game" and "The Morning Show," both from Channel 7. He also did "The Movie Game," a half-hour show, where he ran film clips and asked questions.

He's had other jobs, other shows at other stations through the years and he has adjusted to no longer being hot. He said working in broadcastpeak of his career." Usually, the younger personalities are in demand. "You have to be prepared to deal with it," Hynes said. "I've seen some broadcasters that are very bitter.

'You have to make it during your heyday.

Now that he's older, "All the things I have done will help me in the business I'm in. It's opened some doors to me."

With an easily recognizable name, voice and face, Hynes makes contacts that develop his career in PR and in video produc-tion. "I think it's honest," he said, when asked about using his name to get ahead. "When it's dishonest is when you don't have some kind of service to provide.'

AS A BROADCASTER, he just left radio station WXYT and is doing a show from 4-9 p.m. Sundays on WJR. From 6-10 a.m. Monday, Dec. 22, to Monday, Dec. 29, he will replace J.P. McCarthy on J.P.'s morning drive time show Hynes first started at WJR in 1976. Till then, he was going back and forth to Nashville, where he had a talk/variety show, "Hindsight." He also was doing the Michigan State Lottery show, for an eight-station network out of Channel 50, and used to fly his. own plane to Nashville on Sunday for the weekday show. He would tape the Friday morning show and come back home Thursday for the weekend. This went on for a year. "WJR called me in Nashville in 1976 and asked me to fill in for J.P. He had phlebitis." Hynes ended up staying there for seven years, until he got fired by Joe Baccarella. "This man came into WJR - after I was there seven years - as operations manager," he said. Hynes went with WXYT, and was doing afternoon drive time there when Baccarella moved to that station. "I knew my days were numbered. I had a year's contract." Hynes got fired again but was quickly picked up by WJR.

Hynes discussed the firing after he was asked about a recent item that appeared in one of the Detroit dailies. "I hate to get into this mud-slinging stuff," he replied.

Describing his feelings, Hynes

Good wines, many under $10, available for 'the meal'

Focusing on wines to be served during the main holiday meal, one is usually confronted with a volume/ cost problem: wanting to serve quality wine at a reasonable cost. Let's look at affordable wines to complement "the Meal," ones that reflect good taste at under $10 a bottle most of them considerably less than $10.

CHARDONNAY. With this most popular of all whites, the selection is huge. Most of these are clean, crisp and full of supple chardonnay flavors unmasked bylong fermenting or aging in (expensive) oak. The 1984 Felta Springs (second label for Mill Creek of Sonoma) is a real joy at $6 and now reflects favorably on its second year of bottle aging. The Stratford is another excellent example from that same vintage at $7 and has shown well nationally in competitive tastings.

Traditionally dependable is Fetzer Sundial 1985. Another is the Round Hill "House" chardonnay. The latter winery has been the unofficial champion the last few years as producers of quality wine for the cost.

The latter winery has been the unofficial champion the last few years as producers of qualities wine for the cost.

Liberty School (second label for Caymus) 1985 (lot 7) is also excellent and easily found. Less available but worth finding for its price tag of $5 is the 1985 Christophe, a negotiant label, at $6, is sound if unexciting, and the 1985 Moceri at well under $5 in most stores is perhaps the Best Buy of all. Most serviceable.

CABERNET SAUVIGNON. For the admirer of red wine the cabernet has no equal, and there are fortunately at least as many fine examples of low-cost, high-quality wine with this as with chardonnay.

Again, Felta Springs must be mentioned first as an excellent choice. At $6 it cannot be exceeded in its category. And the Liberty School (both lots 13 and 14 are available) are presently drinkable, soft and eloquent expressions of this truly noble grape

Long a standard, the Glen Ellen

Hill "House" is always dependable. The best by category, however, must go to the 1984 Goal! (made by Smith and Hook). At $5 it has bite and complex flavors that will stand up to most meat choices for the day. And the old master of cabernet. Beaulieu Vineyards, has two offerings presently that meet our cost standard comfortably, a 1985 Claret (at $7 a straightforward and fruity wine of sound character) and the 1983 Beau Tour, always dependable, JOLAIS. Always appropriate to accompany any kind of fowl, the choicsomewhat more limited. The 1984 Saintsbury Garnet at $9 is all a young pinot noir should be, and the 1982 from Louis Martini at $6 is one of his best issues of this complex and difficult grape. Two other excellent choices in this

at a dollar more. vein, for turkey and other holiday PINOT NOIR/GAMAY BEAUentrees, come to mind from recent sampling. Alas, both may be hard to find. The Seven Lakes Vineyard uveau (made from the hrid chaunac grape) at $5 is rich, full and warm. I understand that some may be still be available at the winery in Holly. And there has just recently come into Michigan a small amount of Bonny Doon Clos de Gilroy (at $8), a nouveau made from the carignane grape that tastes more like a gamay than do some gamays.

If the budget is tight, do not overlook, because of its funky label, the 1984 American Gothic R

Paulsen. At $6.50 for a 1.5-liter bottle, this is pure gamay and a most enjoyable quaff.

HYNES HAS THREE shows he hopes to get on television and has already completed the pilot for "Those Were the Days," co-produced with his partner, football great Ron Kramer, subject of the first show. Other alltime sports stars ("the Joe Schmidts, Al Kalines. Gordie Howes") will be subjects of additional shows in the series hosted by Hynes.

Also in the works is "The Winter World of the Detroit Tigers." a series of three shows. Hynes has talked to Jim Price, former Detroit Tigers catcher who owns the Fantasy Camp where real people go to live out their fantasies of playing ball with the Tigers. "We may offer on the show the opportunity to go to Fantasy Camp, and one of the shows would be at Fantasy Camp. Another show will be on the winter world of Sparky Anderson

Hynes, who is in his 50s, also plans to host a series called "It's My Turn," a show for seniors covering a wide range of topics, produced through Booth Cable.

The broadcaster-businessman has asked Booth if he could "produce some things, then syndicate on USA. They have beautiful studios that are not in use enough. The Bloomfield Studios are across from Andover High School. I would love to produce shows there."

His partner in video productions is TV producer-writer Toby Tomkinson of Toledo.

In his PR capacity, Hynes represents a variety of clients, ranging from Nancy Kader Jacobs' Entertainment Connection to the Castaways, a year-round resort in Port Austin. "I think I can help the middle people there's a lot of people who just want to get their message out," he said.

AT ONE TIME, Hypes and comedian Dom DeLuise worked together creating a TV pilot for a show called "Road Company." Hynes said he spent about six or seven months on the project and it didn't get anywhere. "Because of my experience on the DeLuise show, I figure I might as well have a whole flock of things going.

Two years ago, Hynes was piloting his airplane, flying with an engineer friend, to look at properties in radio stations up north, when he had a heart attack. "I passed out for a second," he said.

The friend didn't know how to fly a plane, but he happened to have some nitroglycerin with him, from the doctor. "It was a miracle," Hynes said. Hynes was in agony and ended up taking two of the nitro tablets in the air and one in the car after he managed to land the plane at Pontiac Airport. His friend drove him to Beaumont Hospital. "I was getting angioplasty two hours later. It saved me from having a bypass," Hynes said.

That's the last time Hynes flew a plane. "I don't miss the flying all that much," he said, grateful Another project he is working for having landed on his feet.

I launched my Christmas vacation schedule last week with a visit to Meadow Brook Theater, where Ebenezer Scrooge was stomping around the stage in his nightcap being his usual mean and stingy self.

Nobody at Meadow Brook realized that their stage presentation of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" would be quite so popular when they launched it a few years ago. Booth Colman has been playing Scrooge for five years, on a set that is always full of 19th century revelers and kids in winter caps.

Truck-car crash death toll soaring — AAA

Citing an alarming increase in accidents and fatalities involving trucks, AAA Michigan released a study today that urges 20 legislative and regulatory changes to make state roads safer for car and truck drivers.

Total fatal traffic accidents in the state rose 10 percent from 1982 through 1985, but fatal crashes involving trucks jumped 41 percent, according to the yearlong study entitled "Cars and Trucks: Sharing the Road Safely."

"It is almost a certainty that in fatal accidents involving cars and heavy trucks, it is the car occupants who will be killed," said AAA Michigan President Jack Avignone. "And this situation is becoming worse in Michigan." THE STUDY found the motorist is most often killed because trucks have become longer, wider and heavier, while cars have become smaller and lighter to increase fuel efficiency

The study also cites inadequate truck maintenance, more overweight trucks, speeding, overly fatigued truckers and motorists who fail to understand the limitations of trucks as major reasons for the dramatic rise in truck-related accidents

AAA Michigan's Safety and Traffic Department computer-analyzed 782 police accident records for 1985 involving serious injuries and deaths. A total of 879 driving records of those involved in these accidents were also studied. "We found that fault for most of the accidents was shared equally by truckers and motorists," Avignone explained. But investigators found that information regarding fault often came from truckers — the survivors.

OF THE 175 people who died in those accidents, 73 percent were in cars or other vehicles, and 11 percent were in trucks. The remaining deaths were pedestrians or cyclists.

The at-fault truckers and motorists in these 1985 accidents had worse driving records than 90 percent of other Michigan motorists, the study found.

In seven years, they accumulated more violation points for traffic offenses, had more accidents, received more license suspensions and revocations and had more alchohol-related citations than most motorists receive in a lifetime.

"We have provided copies of the study to state legislators, circuit court judges, 500 police agencies, trucking companies, Michigan's congressional delegation and selected federal legislative committees," Avignone said.

AAA'S SPECIFIC recommendations include governmental action to:

• Restrict heavy trucks to the freeway's right lanes except when passing, entering or leaving, or facing a hazard. Many of the more than 5,000 people who responded to a AAA magazine survey complained that heavy trucks often use every freeway lane, preventing motorists from passing, provoking them to tailgate and causing potential danger to all drivers.

• Require that all heavy trucks be equipped with tachographs, tamper-resistant devices to record information on speed, distance and time traveled and rest periods. Tachographs would help keep truckers from driving more than the 10 hours in a 15-consecutive-hour period that is allowed under federal regulations. Driver fatigue has been linked nationally to two-thirds of heavy truck crashes.

• Comply immediately with recently passed federal regulations that will set uniform standards by 1990 for all states in licensing truckers and other commercial drivers. These regulations will provide for only one driving record rather than separate state records; require a written exam and road test for all heavy truck operators; and institute a foolproof driver identification system to prevent people from illegally obtaining more than one license.

The AAA study points out that truckers have been able to hide bad driving records by holding driver's licenses from several states.

• Hire more State Police Motor Carrier Division officers to patrol rural roads and to increase truck inspections.

• Raise minimum fines for serious truck violations, such as overloading, vehicle defects and speeding.

• Require all heavy trucks to have operable front brakes.

UM-D asks $2.5 million hike

The University of Michigan-Dearborn will seek an additional $2.5 million in state appropriations for fiscal year 1987-88.

Chancellor William A. Jenkins said the hike is needed to "maintain institutional vigor and to sustain the high quality of its programs and faculty."

Campus administrators cite record enrollments, continued high standards and aggressive corporate and foundation fund raising in the request, approved by the U-M Regents.

For the seventh consecutive year, the UM-D budget request lists as its No. 1 priority the improvement of faculty salaries and the relative salary positions of the total faculty.

THE CHANCELLOR noted that the proposed increase would permit a 5 percent overall salary program. plus an additional $480,000 to "help the UM-D faculty salaries come closer to the 80th percentile of salaries."

In past years, "only slight gains have been made despite our best efforts to achieve them," Jenkins noted.

"Our goal is to appoint and retain faculty and staff members of the quality necessary to enable us to fulfill UM-Dearborn's mission in southeastern Michigan," the chancellor said.

The compensation program portion of the request, a total of $1.48 million, includes $740,000 for the competitive factor, $480,000 for overall salary improvement and $260,000 for staff benefits.

An additional $320,000 is requested for non-salary inflation adjustments, and $50,000 is geared for the student financial aid program. THREE PROGRAM revision requests, totaling $800,000, are also included in the 1987-88 proposal. These include:

• $400,000 to respond to enrollment growth in critical areas, by hiring a total of 10 additional faculty members in the high demand areas of manufacturing engineering, computer science, business administration, mathematics and economics.

• $200,000 for three additional computer classrooms, each with microcomputer stations and a large demonstration station for the instructor's use; and

• $200,000 for new instructional equipment in science and engineering. "During the recent years of extreme austerity, equipment budgets suffered disproportionately," said Jenkins, noting that more than half of the School of Engineering equipment is 15-27 years old.

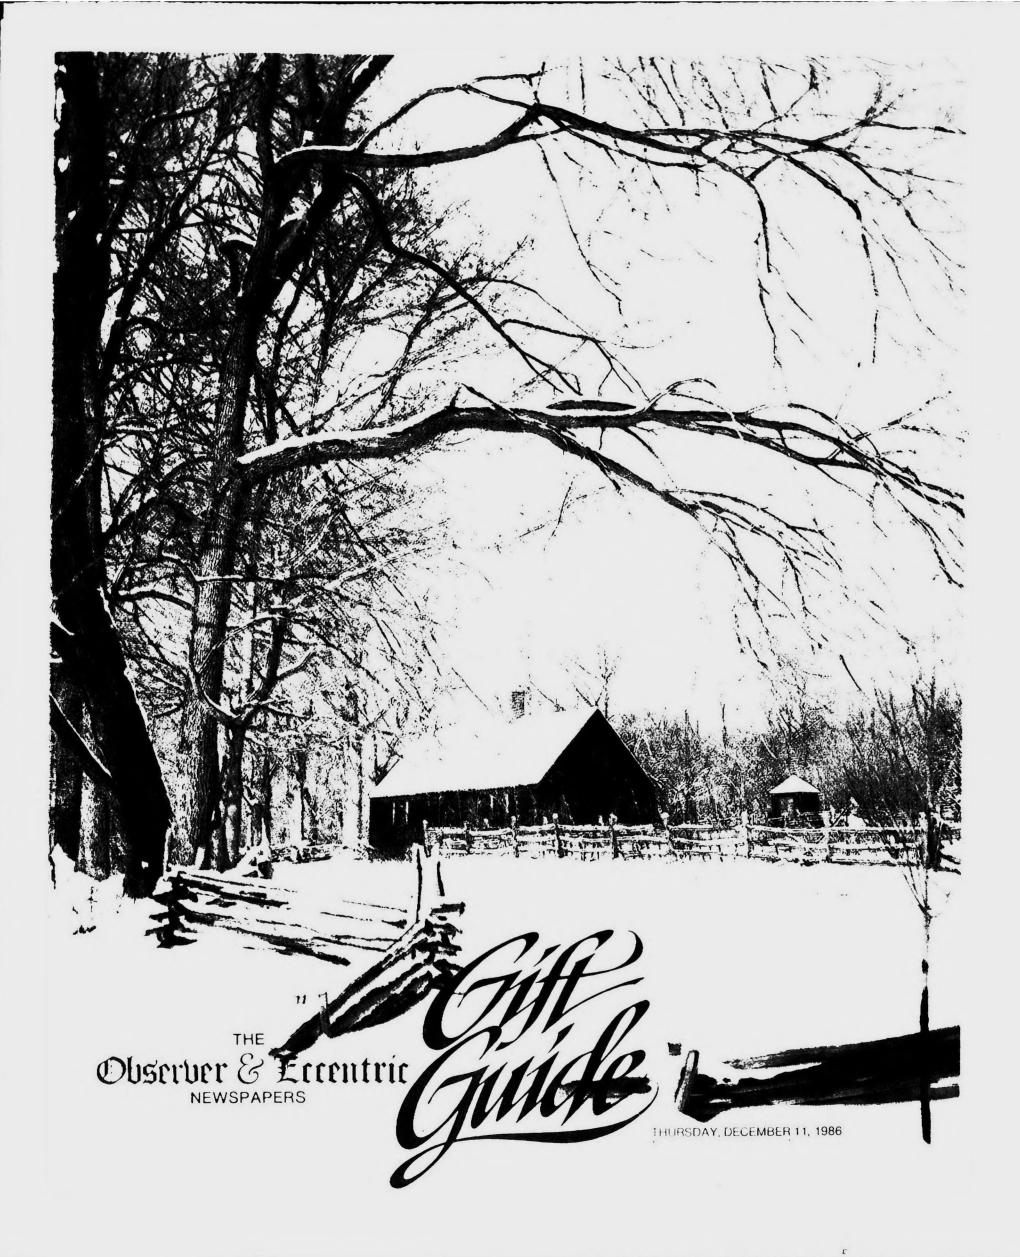

"OUR STATE support per fulltime student is 11.5 percent less than the average of similarly situated institutions," Jenkins said. "Our salaries are low and our tuition high relative to these institutions.

"To address these and other problems caused by this funding disparity, we request an increase greater than the statewide average," he said. In a separate action, regents approved UM-Dearborn's request for $7.78 million in capital outlay expenditures.

The request includes $478,000 in general fund money and $4 million in building funds for the campus' $11.6 million renovation project, and $3.31 million in general fund money for the plant operations building.

Hanukkah

Jewish observance begins Dec. 26

The Associated Press (c). All rights reserved.

T HAPPENED more than 2,000 years ago, but Jews around the world still celebrate the event every year, usually some time in December.

This year, Hanukkah begins the night of Dec. 26.

It was in the year 165 B.C. that Judah Macabee and his followers defeated three Syrian generals and recaptured and rededicated the temple at Jerusalem.

The Jews had been ruled by Syrian invaders under King Antiochus IV, who commanded them to worship "foreign" gods and burn a sacrifice to Zeus on a Jewish altar in Jerusalem.

Instead, Mattathias Macabee, a Jewish priest, fled to the mountains with his five sons and led a three-year rebellion that eventually overthrew the Syrians. The Macabees ruled until 37 B.C.

SYMBOL OF THE holiday, known as the Feast of Lights or Feast of Dedication, is the menorah, a candelabrum with branches for nine candles, lighted in increasing numbers during the eight days of Hanukkah.

The menorah symbolizes the story, as related in the Apocrypha. that after cleaning the temple of Syrian idols, the Jews found only one small cruse of oil with which to light their holy lamps. But somehow, the cruse provided oil for eight days.

The holiday is also marked by frying food in oil, with the "latke." a pancake made with grated potatoes and onions, a popular delicacy. It is also traditional for the children to receive little gifts each day of the holiday and for contributions to be made to the poor. Children spin dreidels, four-sided tops that contain the acronym for the Hebrew words for "a great miracle happened here."

MAGNIFICENT Christmas feast. floral guided tours. breakfast with Santa, music of the Michigan Bach choir. Santa's workshop, yuletide cheer, Christmas gifts and post-holiday tours highlight the varied Christmas celebrations planned this year at the Henry Ford Estate-Fair Lane.

Now is the perfect time to make plans to spend a part of the holiday season at the estate, located on the campus of the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

Traditional Christmas Dinner, beginning with mulled cider in the gathering room, includes music throughout the evening and a memento for each guest. Three dinners, beginning at 7 p.m. Dec. 12, 13 and 14, are being offered. A charge of $30 per person includes tax and gratuity, and reservations are necessary.

TEN AREA FLORISTS worked and decorated the entire estate, each room with the personal touch of an individual floral artist. Guided tours showcase these creations from 1.4:30 p.m. on Sundays in December and 10, 10:30, 11 a.m., 2, 2:30 and 3 p.m. Monday through Saturday, Dec. 8-23. Tours, at $5 for adults and $4 for seniors and children, begin in the Visitor Center.

A Henry Ford family tradition is recreated with a hike down a lantern-lit trail to Santa's workshop. For $3, each child receives a visit with Santa, a warm snack and souvenir. Open to the public December 12-13 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and from Dec. 15-23, by group reservation only.

THE FAIR LANE Gift Shop is filled with a fine array of traditional Christmas delights, including old fashioned toys and gifts. The shop on the lower level is open Monday through Saturday, Dec. 8-23, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sundays in December from 2-5 p.m. Throughout the holiday season, Fair Lane offers group breakfasts, lunches and dinners, accommodations for group parties and regular Pool Restaurant luncheons amid the Christmas decorations. Additionally, post-Christmas tours of the historic buildings and grounds run from 1-4:30 p.m., Dec. 28 through Jan. 4, 198 (except for New Year's Day).

The dinners, concerts, workshops and breakfast with Santa are always popular and require advance reservations. For the other activities, visitors may just plan on arriving at the scheduled times. Further details and reservation forms are available from Fair Lane, at 593-5590.

The Henry Ford Estate-Fair Lane at the University of Michigan-Dearborn is located on Evergreen Road, across from the Fairlane Town Center, in Dearborn.

MEANWHILE, ACROSS town, "Christmas Past" is being observed in Greenfield Village where traditional customs and trimmings of yesteryear are brought into the present as visitors stroll the holiday-dressed streets of the village.

Inside nearly two dozen historic sites, visitors can see handmade decorations and gifts, enjoy traditional holiday music, or savor the aroma of delectable meals and confections prepared over open hearths and cookstoves.

There is no additional charge beyond regular admission.

Another special holiday feature at Greenfield Village are American Cafe Yuletide Evenings.

In the museum's American Cafe, candlelit dinners and entertainment are followed by horse-drawn sleigh or carriage rides through the village. A lantern-lighted walking tour through four village buildings takes visitors back to Christmas past. Price is $26 per person, tax and gratuities included. Hello, dolly High-tech offers line of communication

The Associated Press (c). All rights reserved

GH-TECH HAS infiltrated infant infatuations. Dolls are now not only hugged and squeezed, but programmed.

The new ones being promoted for the holiday season talk and walk with microcomputer-based "artificial intelligence." Interactive is the operative-

Take "Baby Talk" from Lewis Galoob Toys, for example. The 18-inch doll is voice-activated, with varied vocal responses in addition to animated facial expressions. She asks to be picked up, lets you know when she wants to eat, then says "more, Mommy" if she doesn't get enough. She says, "I'm sleepy" and automatically shuts herself off if left alone for a short word

A COMPANION IS "Smarty Bear," who answers with "Positively," "You're the greatest," "For sure," and "Hey, turn me over" when held upside down, among its 16 programmed responses. He giggles, too, when "activated" in a ticklish spot, like real people.

Not all is high-tech, however. Oldfashioned batteries, of course, are necessary - four C batteries and four AA batteries. A panda named "Sing-Sing," from Audec Corp., recognizes predetermined questions and answers on the basis of its electronic random access memory. "Oh, yes; let's have fun" is its response to "Do you want to play?," for example.

In addition, say its creators, a specific request, "Tell me a story," automates a built-in cassette player with a story, song or recorded lesson.

The high-tech doll market this year also offers "Teddy Ruxpin" and "AG Bear" from World of Wonder. They mouth in sync with audio cassettes.

DOLLS OF A different sort:

"Hal's Pals" are specially designed for disabled children. Mattel, Inc., has formed a not-for-profit corporation called For Challenged Kids by Mattel, Inc. to produce and market "Hal's Pals," five 19-inch, soft-sculptured dolls, each with a different disability.

"Hal," for instance, is a ski instructor with one leg. One of his pals is a dancer who wears a hearing aid; another wears leg braces and walks with canes.

All anticipated profits from sales of the dolls will be distributed to organizations for children with disabilities. says Arthur S. Spear, chairman ffice of the chief executive. Mattel Inc.

The first character-licensed learnand-play dolls from the Muppets are "Baby Kermit" and "Baby Miss Piggy." They can be zipped, snapped, tied, buttoned and buckled.

THE "VEGGIES" are soft-sculpture dolls in the shape of fruits and vegetables. Graphics designer Kim Foster says she created the prototypes out of actual produce.

They include Cornelia Husk, resembling an ear of corn. ballerina Zuccarina (zucchini), Sheriff Damon Onion, and Tony Scallione (scallion).

"Fluppy Dogs" and "Fluppy Puppies" are shaggy dog dolls created by Kenner-Parker Toys in conjunction with Walt Disney Productions.

Kenner is also introducing "Shimmers" fantasy dolls. And their "Care Bears" are back.

"JEM" is a new rock 'n' roll fashion doll, from Hasbro. She and her musical group, "The Holograms," have their own songs on an audio tape cassette that comes with the dolls.

SMOKEY the Bear, the watchbear of forest fires, is now 42 years old. He's available as a soft, child-safe teddy bear, a stuffed replica in three sizes.

A percentage of the sale of the bears goes to the U.S. Forest Service to help the agency develop educational materials and school aids to further Smokev's cause.

Smokey replicas can be found in specialty gift shops, at national parks and museums.
