PIE THROW: The Press Box Tavern, on Ann Arbor Road just east of Sheldon in Plymouth Township, for the second year in a row, is participating in the "Bartender of the Year" contest. To select your favorite bartender, show up at the Press Box 3-6 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 15, and make a donation for each vote made. The proceeds will benefit the American Cancer Society. The pie throw contest, giving patrons the chance to throw a pie at their favorite bartender or waitress, will also be held 3-6 p.m. Sunday.

LOST & FOUND:

Heather Dixon, her mother and sister Jennifer were attending the Lima rabbit show this past Sunday and Heather left a doublewinner. During the show, an announcement was made that a man lost his wallet and was offering a $50 reward. Heather found the wallet, which contained $2,000, turned it in, and received the reward. Later in the day, her Rex doe took best Rex in the youth show. After winning the award and receiving her reward for the wallet, Heather used part of the $50 to purchase a Rex rabbit that she really wanted. In all, a good day.

K SIGN-UP: Kindergarten registration will be held the week of Feb. 16-20 in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

Children are eligible to attend kindergarten if they will be 5 on or before Dec. 1, 1987. To register bring the child's birth certificate and immunization record to the school your child will attend. If you are unsure, call the school nearest you or Ginnie Murdoch, pupil accountant, 451-3137.

Immunization requirements include: four doses of diptheria, pertussis and tetanus; three doses of polio vaccine; one dose each of measles, rubella and mumps vaccine which must be given on or after the child's first birthday. Officers tag parked cars

By Doug Funke staff writer

Will a crackdown by Plymouth Township Police on cars parked on residential streets for more than 48 hours without being moved have a long-term effect?

Time will tell but enforcement certainly appeared to make an impact last week.

Of about 35 cars stickered with 48hour tags, only three had to be towed with subsequent follow-up, said Chip Snider, deputy police chief.

Calls from angry people throughout the township sparked the enforcement effort, he said.

The narrowing of roadways with on-street parking, especially as snow accumulates, presents safety hazards.

Snider proposed another factor that may have prompted some com-

Plymouth Township patrolman Shawn Corbett inspects the suspected point of impact at the scene of the fatal accident.

Pedestrian killed in accident

A Canton man, who allegedly drove into and killed an elderly Plymouth woman Monday evening, stood mute to charges stemming from the accident during arraignment in 35th District Court.

John E. Pary, 21, was charged Tuesday with leaving the scene of a personal injury accident and driving with a suspended license, second of-

Mary Froczila, 80, who lived in the Sheldon Park Apartments, was struck in the far right lane of southbound Sheldon Road a few hundred feet north of Ann Arbor Road.

She died at the scene at about 6:30 p.m. said Chip Snider, deputy police chief in Plymouth Township.

DEATH WAS attributed to multiple injuries and ruled accidental, said a spokesman for the Wayne County Medical Examiner.

"It's ill-lit, it was dark," Snider said. "We believe she was attempting to walk across the street to Family Discount Drugs and was hit.

The vehicle fled the scene and was apprehended a short time later by Officer Raymond Hall who, while on routine patrol prior to knowledge of the accident, observed a vehicle fail to observe a stop sign.

driver got out and spontaneously made the statement, 'I hit a woman,' as soon as he exited the vehicle, Snider said. Noel Keane, Pary's lawyer, said his client is upset about the accident. "He is obviously very remorseful, afraid, nervous.

Pary did stop after the accident at a nearby drugstore, Keane said. "I don't know what his intentions were or why he suddenly left."

Neither of the charges brought against Pary were attributable to the accident itself, Keane added.

During arraignment, Judge James Garber entered pleas of not guilty for Pary and set a preliminary exam date of March 12.

Pary was released on $5,000 personal bond after arraignment.

Funeral services for Froczila were to be conducted today at Lynch & Sons Funeral Home, Clawson, and St. John the Baptist Church, Detroit.

High technology joins vocational education

The vocational technical training programs of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools are being highlighted as part of Vocational Education Week this week.

One of the programs is Unibody Construction where students receive training in bumping, metal finishing, sheet metal, painting and assembling. Working with damaged cars also is an important part of this course.

Among the processes learned is KOREK, an anchoring and pulling system where a bench is used to repair the unitized-body and front-wheel drive vehicles.

THE HIGH-TECH luster is rubbing off on vocational technical education.

Two courses the district offers is computer design and repair, and robotics.

The computer design and repair class covers operating principles of digital equipment, computer logic, circuit design, testing techniques, clocked logic, memory control circuits, machine language programming, interface design, and troubleshooting of major systems including Apple and IBM personal computers.

Robotics introduces students to basic robotic principles. Topics include robot control, mechanisms, hydraulics, pneumatics, and electrical motor applications. Students have the opportunity to research the evergrowing influence of robotics on industry.

AMONG THE courses offered by Plymouth-Canton

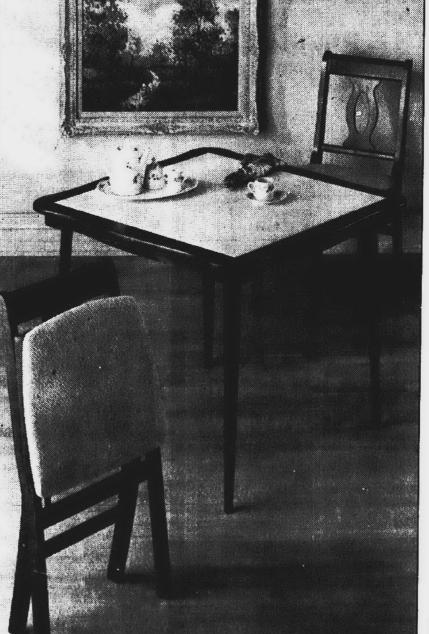

Community Schools are:

Commercial art; clerical laboratory; junior electronic office procedure; senior word processing; salesperson; sales management; health assistant; dental assistant; medical office; health occupations; cosmetology;

Advanced machine shop; advanced automotive technology; Unibody construction; construction technology; welding; architectural graphics; computer design and repair; robotics; commercial foods; and child care.

A career assessment and support service also is offered in these areas for both disadvantaged and handicapped students who need extra assistance to complete the vocational program.

Cable delay sends crossed signals

A resident of New England Village, the official said his neighbor also has complained to Omnicom about not receiving the channels, formerly included in a satellite tier.

When he called, he was told that was impossible - that the whole city was hooked up," said the dissatisfied subscriber.

"Who knows how many subscribers are without the added chan-

"Omnicom is taking a real good posture (regarding credit for service not rendered), but if no one knows, who's going to call and get it?"

Committee chairman, hasn't received such complaints. But if Omnicom missed a few subscribers, it's understandable, he said.

"What probably happened is that these people weren't paying for the satellite tier." To service an estimated 7,000 subscribers with the extra channels, "a filter needs to be pulled off. When you have that many, you may miss a few," Larson said. "If people aren't getting those channels, their bill should be reduced."

Subscribers with problems may call 459-7300.

'If people aren't getting those channels, their bill should be reduced.'

OMNICOM RAISED its basic-only monthly rate to $10.95 in Plymouth Township, and to $11.99 in Plymouth and Canton after federal law stripped municipalities of their power to control cable television rates.

All subscribers were notified in writing about the rate and service changes, Collman said.

Larson predicts deregulation will give operators "a lot more profit than in the past," and prompt them to add services.

Rate regulation in the past forced Omnicom to raise rates for cable opCollman said.

Omnicom, owned by N-Com, had a successful year last year." 1987 should bring "continued success. We're growing, building and investing capital in our plant in this area," said Collman. "Deregulation will have some affect but I don't think it will have a major effect."

Omnicom fits a post-deregulation, nationwide trend.

Free now to set their own rates, cable operators across the country are trying a variety of strategies that generally include higher prices for the limited basic service, lower

Home Box Office and the Disney Channel, and elimination of charges like second-set hook-ups.

The net effect in many systems will be higher prices for customers receiving the lowest range of ser-vices and sometimes lower prices for top-of-the-line customers, say cable operators.

Former Wayne County Circuit Judge James Canham was portrayed as an honest, if unwitting, middle man during a hearing Monday before the Michigan Attorney Discipline Board.

Canham, a Redford Township resident and former Redford justice of the peace, could be disbarred for allegedly taking part in the bribe scheme set him up." The panel hearing the Canham case includes attorneys J. Robert Sterling, Deborah Mela and John Shantz.

Based upon a taped tele-phone conversation, Canham, a former chief judge of the Wayne County Circuit Court, was linked to a bribe attempt involving former Michigan Appeals Court Judge S. Jerome Bronson. But Canham's attorney urged the three-attorney panel to keep Canham's tape recorded statements "in context.

All three practice law in Oakland County.

The hearing is handled under rules governing circuit court bench trials. Miller challenged the prosecution to produce evidence showing his client would have received a payoff.

Bronson was charged with soliciting a $20,000 bribe from Finn in return for upholding a $3.2 million verdict won by Finn in a negligence suit against the Ford Motor Co. The veteran jurist committed suicide shortly after his Nov. 14 arraignment.

Though granted immunity from criminal prosecution by state police — in return for helping trap Bronson — Canham faces disbarment as an alleged co-conspirator.

Schwartz is using a Nov. 6 telephone conversation between Canham and Finn as evidence.

In that conversation, Canham told Finn to write an rigan to have recoverd any damages.

According to transcripts, Canham said: "Just leave that, that way and, and, I'll tell ya, you're going to have a winner. You are going to have won. And, and I don't know, I don't know whether or not he can be reversed.

And the you gette hell of a opportunity to come up. ... And the, you gotta hell of a opportunity to come up with a, a masterpiece and that should fly, he'll get another vote and you, you should fly and you'll be home

But Canham's attorney argued his client was working with Finn - not Bronson - at the time.

"If you're going to put Jim Canham in a category, he belongs in the James Finn category," Miller said.

Schwartz, however, argued the statments indicated a Bronson/Canham conspiracy.

"(It was) a very simple scheme whose antecedents go back into history. Finn was to pay Bronson in order to influence Bronson on the Harrigan appeal," Schwartz said. "This case, unfortunately, is a sordid matter."

FINN IS expected to be a key witness when testimony resumes 9 a.m. Monday, March 10. No witnesses were questioned Monday.

The commission filed charges against Canham in December, calling him "unfit to practice law."

Panel members also heard Canham's Nov. 13 statements to Robert Ianni, chief of the attorney general department's criminal division and assistant attorney general Mark Blumer.

At that time, Canham told his questioners he showed Finn a copy of the pre-hearing report he had received from Bronson.

They also received transcripts of a telephone conversation between Canham and Bronson about five hours after Canham's statements to investigators.

During that conversation, Canham said: "Remember, I didn't want to get in the middle."

Miller said Canham didn't tell investigators about the bribe attempt because he was afraid Bronson would have withdrawn the bribe.

"If he had told Bronson to bag it, Bronson would have ruled against Finn's client," Miller said.

In the case being appealed, Kentucky resident Michael Harrigan was awarded $13 million in damages after being left paralyzed when the brakes on the Fordbuilt tractor-trailer truck he was driving failed near Pikeville, Ky.

Though damages were later reduced, Ford appealed CHIEF DISCIPLINARY prosecutor Michael Alan the verdict. Attorneys for the auto company argued the case should have been decided under Kentucky law, which would have made it virtually impossible for Har-

Resident leads junior high

A Canton resident and 15-year employee of the Wayne-Westland Community Schools has been promoted to assistant principal at Stevenson Junior High School in Westland by Superintendent Dennis O'Neill.

Terrence Campbell replaces Wayne Parsons, who asked to be reassigned to classroom duties.

Campbell, 39, joined the school district in February 1972 and spent his first 11 years working in the district's alternative and adult/community education programs. He was a leisure programs and also an ACE location manager before being assigned to teaching duties at the jun-ior high school in September 1983.

Campbell received his bachelor of arts degree, with a major in history, in 1970 from Eastern Michigan University. He also holds a master of arts degree, with majors in educational leadership and adult education, and education specialist degree. with majors in educational leadership and community education, from His appointment was made effective immediately. He will receive a salary of $41,696 annually.

Campbell was selected from a field of 12 candidates for the position and his selection was lauded by board members Kathleen Chorbagian and Mathew McCusker.

Both agreed with O'Neill that Campbell has "tremendous rapport with people," with McCusker saying he was "very impressed with Terry Campbell in his work with parents and students."

Stone appointed to post

Judy Stone is West Middle School's for three years. new principal.

Stone, who's acted as principal since Pat O'Donnell became director of special programs and student services, was appointed by the Plymouth-Canton school board Monday

"I look forward to being both the principal and instructional leader at West to help provide the best possible education for our youngsters," said Stone, West assistant principal

'This age level is one that needs special care in both the affective and cognitive area."

Stone began teaching in 1964 after earning her bachelor's degree in English and master's degree in social studies.

With the district for nine years, Stone helped start the Talented and Gifted and computer education programs in middle school while teaching English and social studies.

Stone was a university instructor for seven years in charge of student teachers at Eastern Michigan University and the University of Michi-

Canton Police suspected murder Sunday after finding an abandoned car, with the engine running and blood on the seat and window

A massive search was conducted until the Garden City driver of the car told police she staged the Police searched the area from 9:12 p.m. — when the anonymous caller reported the car - until Monday morning. A Detroit police helicopter was called in for an aerial search.

While the search continued, the 17-year-old driver was found in Ann Arbor at a friend's house.

She confessed to staging the scene and told police she planned to go to Florida. However, police had not determined why she faked the murder by Tuesday afternoon, said Dave Boljesic, Canton police information officer

THE 1976 blue two-door Oldsmobile was partially in a ditch on the west side of Denton Road north of Proctor. The window on the driver's side of the car was smashed and the glass was about 15 feet from the vehicle.

During the search, police also found a blood-covered crowbar.

The car was registered to the girl's mother.

Police will continue the investigation and talk to the Wayne County prosecutor's office to decide if a warrant should be issued for criminal charges against the girl, Bol-

Man charged in assault

A Wayne man is being held on three charges resulting from a dispute in Canton about his ex-girlfriend last weekend.

David Alan Harter, 48, was arraigned Jan. 7 on one count of felonious assault, one count of carrying a concealed weapon, and one count of using a firearm in the commission of a felony.

A plea of not guilty was entered in Wayne Circuit Court Annex in Westland by Judge Lawrence Emmert of Wyandotte's 27th District Court. Harter failed to post bond for

According to police, a 46-year-old Detroit resident said a man threatened him at 12:15 a.m. in the Mobil Lounge on Michigan Avenue. The victim said a man came up to him and began a heated argument about his ex-girlfriend. He allegedly pulled out a .32 caliber revolver from his back pocket or waistband, police

The Detroit man said the man pointed the gun at him and said: "I'll kill you."

Officers were called to the lounge and arrested Harter who was lying in the back seat of a car.

Money woes

District approves vote on bond, tax hike

staff writer

The Wayne-Westland Community Schools will be asking residents to dig deeper into their pockets to help resolve a money problem.

The school board Monday night unanimously approved two ballot proposals for an April 2 special elec-

The proposals are a $12.5 million bond issue and a three-year 2.75-mill tax levy for general operations The two proposals would total 3.65 mills, with 2.35 mills representing a transfer of debt millage, scheduled to expire in June for property owners in the Wayne-Westland portion of the district. As a result, the proposals represent only a 1.3-mill in-

However, the district would hold the increase to the 2.75 mills for residents in the annexed portion of the former Cherry Hill School District by paying off the bonds over a longer period of time.

ONE MILL represents $1 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation.

For a resident in a $44,000 home, the levies would cost Wayne-Westland homeowners about $28 a year. In the former Cherry Hill district which was annexed to Wayne-Westland last year, the cost would be about $60 a year.

The district includes most of Westland and part of Canton Township.

The board vote came a week after the district received approval from the state Department of Education to seek voter approval of the bond

The bond money would be used to defray the cost of remodeling, renovating, re-equipping and refurnishing buildings, to purchase additional equipment and school buses and improve and develop sites in the dis-

THE 2.75 mills would be used to balance the district's budget, which, according to projections by Woody London, associate superintendent for business services, will be short $1.1 million this year and $1.5 million

Monday's vote marked the third time in 18 months that the district has asked the voters for a tax increase. The other two, both for 2 mills, were rejected last year.

In discussion Monday, board trustee Sylvia Kozorosky:

"I took a long, hard look at this because the people have told us twice they don't want higher taxes," Kozorosky said. "I've come to realize that this is very serious for our kids and I'm going to support it."

TRUSTEE Kathleen Chorbagian said it "never occurred to me not to support this."

"This community has always been very supportive of education," she said. "I will do everything in my power to see that the people get what they want, a quality education for 'heir children.

I think working together, we can do it (get the millage approved)."

"Up until tonight I wasn't enthusiastic that something like this could be approved," board secretary Kenneth Barnhill said. "Our work is cut out for us, but by giving proper and truthful information, I think the citizens will support quality education."

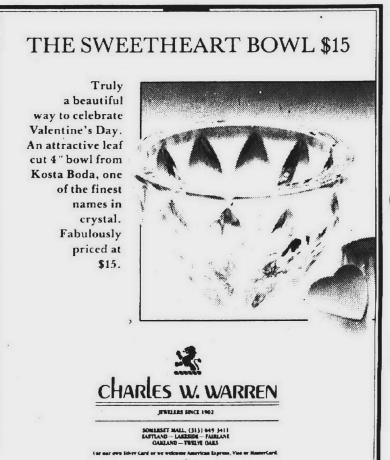

IN A prepared statement read after the board vote, Superintendent Dennis O'Neill called the board's vote "crucial and courageous," and said that "if the needs addressed in these proposals aren't met, we are going to oversee the demise of the Wayne-Westland schools."

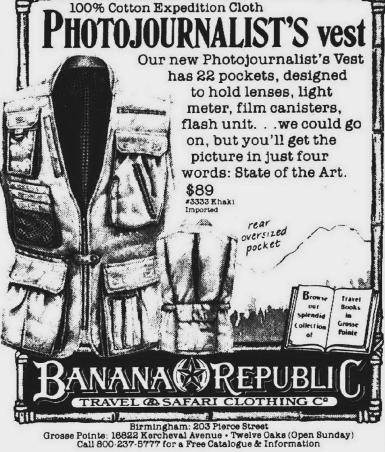

"No one advocates increased taxes, if at all avoidable, but the alternative in this situation is disastrous and therefore, your vote to place these issues before the public is the only solution," O'Neill said.

'Our challenge over the next few weeks is to explain that a small investment today could save a tremendous cost later on, in addition to meeting our responsibility of making productive citizens of today's youth.

We have both a telling and a selling job, but working together, we'll be successful on April 2."

Health care group buys Westland Center

By Wayne Peal staff writer

A consortium of Wayne County hospitals will sublease Westland Medical Center — with the intention of buying it — while providing indigent health care at all member hospitals.

The agreement was announced Tuesday afternoon by Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara and Westland Health Network Inc., a consortium including People's Community Hospital Authority, Oakwood, Garden City Osteopathic and Southwest Detroit hospitals.

"Basically, it takes this building off our hands and puts it to good use," McNamara said.

Indigent health care emerged as a critical issue in the proposed sale of Westland Medical, the former Wayne County General Hospital.

UNDER THE purchase agreement, indigent care will be provided at all member hospitals for four years. Garden City Osteopathic and Annapolis hospitals will provide indigent care in western Wayne County.

The consortium will pay $7.56 million over the next three years to buy the facility. The final payment is expected Dec. 1, 1989. The facility has been leased to the Southwest Detroit Hospital Corp. since 1984.

The transaction is subject to county commission approval and issuance of a certificate of need from state health officials.

Two local commissioners present during Tuesday's announcement

"It appears in the best interest of people in western Wayne County," said Commissioner Milton Mack, D-Wayne, whose district includes Canton Township.

Added Susan Heintz, R-Northville: "From what I've seen it should pass."

Kay Beard, D-Inkster, who joined the facility's union workers in a Jan. 19 picket line protesting the coalition's formation, and Richard Manning, D-Redford, were unavailable for comment.

MCNAMARA SAID that Beard, who was attending a conference in Lansing, had been made aware of the sale but answered questions regarding her reaction by repeating: "She's been made aware of it."

The county executive said negotiations had been continuing "six days a week" since the beginning of the year.

Emergency care will be provided to indigents at Westland and all affiliated hospitals. In all, nine hospitals will participate. Garden City Osteopathic and Annapolis will also provide indigent pediatric and disease control services currently offered solely at Westland.

Westalnd will retain its 46-bed mental health care unit, though officials would apply for an additional 50 beds.

Westland Health Network will have its own board of directors, separate from individual hospitals.

While there are no immediate layoff plans, officials said they offered current workers "no guaran-

Changes are being made in the way long distance users in your area place some operator-handled calls.

This is an informational message about your phone service from Marcia Buhl, your Michigan Bell Corporate Affairs Manager.

"These telephone service changes concern only operator-handled long distance calls outside your Michigan Bell long distance calling area. They apply to collect, credit card, person-to-person calls, calls billed to a third number, and requests for assistance. Some customers will need to contact their long distance companies for new instructions on how to place such calls. To find out if and how the service changes may affect pour service, we ask you to read the following explanation."

An explanation of the changes in your operator-assistance service for calls outside your Michigan Bell long distance calling area (interLATA calls).

How operator-assisted calls were placed before. If you wanted operator assistance to place a long distance call, you dialed "O," or "O" plus the area code (if required), and the phone number you wanted and an operator put the call through for you.

How these calls are placed now. If the long distance service on the phone you are using is provided by a company that offers operator services and you want operator assistance to place a call, you dial "O," plus the area code (if required), and the phone number and an operator will assist you. To reach the long distance operator for additional assistance, you must dial "OO." (Important: If you dial "O" without the phone number, you will get a Michigan

Bell operator who can place calls within your Michigan

If the long distance service on the phone you're using is provided by a long distance company that does not offer operator services, you must contact that long distance company to get instructions on how to place operatorassisted long distance calls.

Please note: If you dial "O," plus the area code, and the number, you may get a recording or no response. Further, if you dial "O" without the number, you will get a Michigan Bell operator who will refer you to your long distance company for further instructions.

If you are calling from a pay phone, continue to use the instructions posted on the phone. Again, you should contact your long distance company for new instructions on how to place operator-handled long distance calls outside your Michigan Bell calling area. If you have any other questions about the changes, please call Michigan Bell's Let's Talk Center. The toll-free number is 1 800 555-5000.

VETO OVERRIDE — By a vote of 401 for and 26 against, the House overrode President Reagan's veto of a bill authorizing $20 billion through 1994 for federal clean wat:r pro-grams, including $18 billior to help communities build sewage treatment facilities.

The Senate followed suit and the measure (HR 1) became law.

CLEAN WATER VETO - By a tally of 86 for and 14 against, the Senate joined the House (above) in voting to negate President Reagan's veto of legislation reauthorizing the Federal Water Pollution Control Act at a cost of $20 billion through 1994.

Murray: More water aid needed

AP - Michigan would get $104 million a year for five years under the water-quality legislation passed by Congress over President Reagan's veto. But a key local official called the amount too small to help clean up the Rouge River.

The legislation also would set up an office within the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to coordinate water quality programs and research for the Great Lakes.

"It's good news for anybody in Michigan because it means we're going to have cleaner water sooner,' said Tom Martin, director of Michigan's Office of the Great Lakes. But James E. Murray, chairman of the Michigan Water Resources Commission, said the clean water bill doesn't go far enough to meet the state's anti-pollution needs.

"Although the funds Congress has authorized are crucial to Michigan, more money still will be needed to tackle the problem with combined sewer overflows, such as the Rouge River basin," said Murray, a leading figure in the Rouge cleanup cam-

U.S. job aid welcome, says Howe

AP - Michigan welcomes President Reagan's proposal to increase job-training money in his 1988 budg-et, says state labor director Betty Howe.

The state needs more money to help displaced workers since a number of industries are cutting back and layoffs are increasing, said Howe, a former corporate executive and one-time Oakland County Democratic chairman.

Michigan has 41 different programs to retrain workers and upgrade their skills, said Larry Good, associate director of the governor's Office for Job Training.

We will be very interested in additional federal money," Good said. 'Michigan is a leading-edge state. But it has barely touched the surface of what needs to be done."

Howe said Michigan spends about $500 million on job training to reach about 5 percent of the number of eligible workers in the state.

Nationally, $3.6 billion in jobtraining money reaches about 8 percent of workers in need

Gary Watson, president of UAW Local 652 in Lansing, said he feels it's more important for Reagan to propose legislation to protect American workers than to propose more money for retraining.

Roll Call Report

55 MPH LIMIT - The Senate adopted, 65 for and 33 against, an amendment enabling states to raise the speed limit on rural interstates from 55 mph to 65 mph.

This occurred during debate on a $52.3 billion, four-year continuation of federal highway programs, a bill (S 387) later passed and sent to conference with the House.

Supporter Steven Symms, R-Idaho, said "There has been no law since Prohibition that has been broken and ridiculed more than the 55 mph speed limit."

Opponent Carl Levin, D-Mich. said the lower limit benefits the country by saving lives and fuel. Senators voting yes supported the

BILLBOARD CONTROL - By a vote of 57 for and 40 against, the Senate tabled (killed) an amendment to hasten the removal of billboards from alongside interstates and other federal-aid highways.

The amendment sought to reform the Highway Beautification Act, which environmentalists say protects rather than polices the outdoor advertising industry.

To speed the removal of thousands of non-conforming billboards, it sought to ease the requirement that federal and state governments pay cash compensation whenever they force a billboard to be taken down.

Among other provisions, it makes it illegal to cut trees and vegetation on federal land to make billboards more visible. The amendment was proposed to S

TRANSIT WORKERS - The Senate rejected, 30 for and 70 against, an amendment to the highway bill (above) concerning unionized transit workers' rights under the Urban

Mass Transportation Act (UMTA).

Sponsor Phil Gramm, R-Tex., said his amendment would stop unions from blocking efforts by public transit authorities to legally 'contract-out' certain functions, such as bus service to an outlying suburb, to a private company that is non-union.

County drug plan requires further study

A proposed ordinance that would have allowed parents to seek damages from anyone who supplied their children with illegal drugs was handed a setback Thursday by Wayne County Commissioners.

Citing concerns over the ordinance's legality, comissioners sent the ordinance back to county legal offices for further study.

The move disappointed the oridnance's sponsor, commissioner Richard Manning, D-Redford.

"Nothing (else) addresses what happens to the family when a child is dragged into the drug scene," Manning said.

Other commissioners, however, argued the ordinance would be quickly overturned.

"While it's laudable, it might not stand," George Cushingberry, D-De- it back for further study.

Manning argued it was the courts' responsibility to determine whether the ordinance would stand.

The ordinance received unanimous support during a meeting of the public safety and judiciary committee last month.

It would have established civil liability for the sale or transfer of an illegal drug to a minor, or for supplying any person with an illegal drug which could be made available to a minor.

Among area commissioners Kav Beard, D-Inkster, voted with Manning to keep the ordinance alive, while Milton Mack, D-Wayne and Susan Heintz, R-Northville - both of whom expressed concerns about the ordinance's legality - voted to send Ladbroke DRC's new president boasts an ability to "bring (racing) to the racing fan," including a background in off-track betting.

William Bork, 53, was named the Livonia-based race track's president last Friday. He takes office Monday, Feb. 23.

DRC officials praised Bork's efforts in bringing off-track betting to Illinois and in establishing telephone wagering on cable televised races during his 1974-84 tenure as president and general manager of Penn National Race Track, Grantville, Pa.

While he said he had no immediate plans to bring either concept to DRC, ("What plans do I have for DRC? I haven't the slightest idea.") Bork said he supported efforts to bring off-track betting to Michigan.

"There's a movement afoot and we would support that," he said. Off-track betting allows people to wager on races without attending. Though long popular in New York state, the concept has only gradually gained acceptance else-

"The Illinois concept, where the tracks run it, is best," Bork said. Bork replaces Donald Drew, who left to become executive director of the Ak-Sar-Ben Race Track, Omaha, Neb., in January.

Continuing current taxload of the Continuing current taxload

EXT TUESDAY the polls will be open so voters can decide on two proposals, one a property tax millage renewal for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

The school district is seeking voter approval to continue the levy of 10.36 mills ($10.36 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation or SEV) for operating

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 -p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 17. Residents will vote at regular school district precincts in school buildings - not necessarily the same locations of precincts for state elections. If you aren't sure of your voting precinct, call the school board off-

There also will be another issue on the ballot, Proposal II, which seeks ap-'proval "to levy authorized millage."

BALLOT PROPOSAL I seeks approval to renew 10.36 mills. That represents about 28 percent of the district's operating budget. Passage will not result in a tax rate increase. If any individual's school tax-'es increase, it would be the result of in-'creased debt retirement millage or increased value (SEV). An individual's school tax payment will not be increased, however, by passage of Proposal I.

Defeat, on the other hand, would result in a tax cut of 28 percent. For the owner of an $80,000 home, defeat would lower school taxes by almost $415 a year or some $35 a month.

The "tax savings" would not be a windfall. For anyone who owns and operates an $80,000 home, a savings of $35 a month or $9 a week is not that meaningful. The savings certainly is not significant when compared to the impact renewal defeat would have on the dis-

For the school district, renewal of the millage represents almost $11 million this year in operating income. Loss of $11 million would result in major losses in programs - losses that we cannot afford at a time when we are demanding more from our schools.

The Observer urges a "yes" vote on Proposal I, the millage renewal propos-

BALLOT PROPOSAL II is a request to levy the authorized millage.

If you remember, Michigan voters in 1978 approved the Headlee Amendment to the state constitution. It requires that when the tax base (SEV) increases faster than the cost of living, the tax rate (millage) will be decreased proportionately. The purpose is to keep tax payments roughly the same.

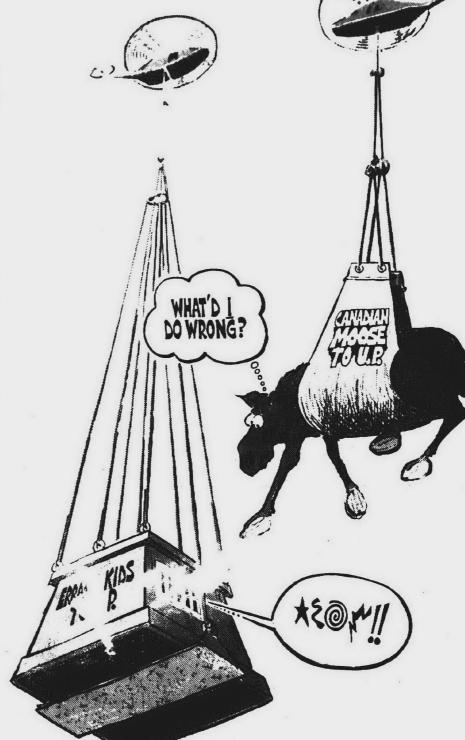

Boiled down, Proposal II is a request to levy the same millage rate this year as last year. If it is approved, there would be an increase in tax payments because the tax base is expected to in-

We don't know how much that increase will be because the city and townships don't finalize their SEV figures until March 1. Likely, the amount involved would be the equivalent of 0.5mills or less, but we don't know.

We do know the operating fund benefited by some $800,000 because of passage earlier this year of the 1986 bond issue. Whether this amount is enough to offset the loss if Proposal II is defeated. we don't know. The attorneys recommended placing Proposal II on the ballot for Tuesday's special election even though we don't know all the facts yet.

Frankly, the electorate might as well wait until June's annual election and vote on Proposal II when the facts are known. The amount involved is relatively small, and no harm was done by asking now. But no harm will be done if voters say "no" at this time.

The Observer recommends a "no" vote on Proposal II.

Why uproar on expansion?

THE CURRENT uproar over expansion of the Downtown Development District is rather perplexing.

It is healthy to have residents show up at a Plymouth City Commission meeting. For some time now residents have been too apathetic and meetings have been too routine. But why the uproar over the district's expansion?

A Downtown Development District is a defined area in which commercial growth is encouraged. Development is encouraged by providing that any tax revenues generated from increased value within the district will be earmarked to be spent within the district. In other words, the district aims to be financially self-sustaining.

So far, it's been working.

The deck at Central Parking Lot was financed by municipal bonds which are now being paid for out of increased tax revenue produced by the business district. Thus general fund monies are not being used to pay for the deck. In other words, homeowners are not paying for

GENERALLY, opposition to the tax increment financing feature of downtown districts comes from other municipal taxing units.

School districts, particularly, have spoken out against earmarking increased value for downtowns because that portion of income is unavailable to schools. Locally, however, the school administration has not opposed expansion of the downtown district because it sees a healthy downtown as a vital component of community growth.

In theory, homeowners should embrace tax increment financing because it protects the integrity of the general fund by preventing a diversion of property tax dollars into downtown public improvements. Any increased value in the total city taxbase can be spent on neighborhoods; any increased value in the downtown itself is spent downtown.

In past years, some homeowners have complained about tax dollars being unduly spent downtown. That complaint is remedied by the Downtown Development District which is why some of the current opposition is puzzling.

BY ESTABLISHING legally defined boundaries, the district also more clearly delineates areas where commercial growth will be promoted and areas where residential use will be protected.

Growth of commercial uses into residential areas would seem more likely if the district did not exist. Remove the incentive for growth within the downtown and there is an incentive to expand by spreading outside current commercial boundaries.

Expanding the district does not change current zoning or current use. For the most part, the new boundaries of the district only incorporate structures already being used for commercial or office use.

As you go along Harvey from Ann Arbor Trail to Wing, the primary uses have been established for years. On the corner, Bake Realty has been there for years, the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education offices has been there for decades, the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union has been there for These three uses have defined the character of this stretch of Harvey and that character will not change, whether or not it is in the district. And commercial use has not expanded into neighborhoods to the west even though these uses have existed for years. For that reason the fear of encroachment expressed is hard to understand.

The fear of change is easier to understand. We all feel comfortable with the status quo. But if all change is resisted then progress will not be made. We understand also that for many people progress is an uncomfortable word. But stagnation and deterioration are even nastier words than progress.

The community will survive with or without expansion of the district. The city cannot survive, though, always remaining as it now is. Change is healthy and is to be encouraged.

Teachers' union is convenient target

SALLY REED IS bright, attractive, articulate and prone to see red when she talks about that nation's largest teachers' union.

That's red as in Joseph Stalin's favorite color, although the former Texas public school teacher is quick to say that she would never paint the National Education Association with a Communist brush. She opts for a lighter shade.

The NEA, she says, is "the primary vehicle of the radical left to gain control of the political process." She says the NEA pursues this task with a halfbillion-dollar budget gleaned from a membership of 1.8 million teachers, most of whom wrongly think their union leadership is concerned with smaller class sizes, bigger paychecks and dutyfree lunch periods.

Reed now works for a private agency in Washington, D.C., where she tirelessly wages a conservative war against socalled liberal public schools. Her campaign takes her on cross-country tours, such as the one that brought her to the Northfield Hilton in Troy last Friday, and to national audiences, such as the time she debated an NEA spokesman on the Phil Donahue Show.

HER ARGUMENTS are both predictable and familiar. Schools are liberal breeding grounds for sex because they teach about sex education, their textbooks explain evolution but not creationism, teachers play into Soviet hands by scaring students about the threat of nuclear bombs and students are urged to reject parental teachings through such insidious methods as keeping daily journals.

Someone has to be to blame for these affronts to decency, so why not the NEA? This is not the space in which to defend the NEA; suffice it to say that

Peribera Reed's arguments rely heavily on tailoring reality to a foregone conclusion. For instance, she criticizes teachers who instruct students to put their fears of nuclear destruction into writing. Somehow, that becomes a liberal practice even though students in the

'50s practiced civil defense air-raid drills so they could protect themselves

when the cold war heated into an atom-

Rich

THE INFALLIBILITY of people who zealously promote one end or the other of the ideological spectrum is fascinating. So is their logic. Reed castigates as name-callers those who criticize her; she says they are people who need to create an enemy in order to garner support. Then she calls Jane Fonda "our favorite commie" and spends an hour building a case of perceived sins by the 'thems" of our world who want to destroy our way of life. What is the motivation for such verbal attacks? It is at least partly the frustration of people who see the world changing and believe it is both possible and feasible to return to what they recall as a simpler and better way of life.

When Reed says the schools' demise is "the public's fault" for losing sight of what schools did "when mothers went into the work force," she may be more revealing than she intended. It's not the NEA's fault that women no longer buy the Donna Reed Syndrome, but the NEA is a much more convenient target.

In praise of bilingualism

A COLLEAGUE of mine here at the newspaper, a Mexican-American, tells some disheartening stories of what it is like to be a Latino in a gringo world.

I wish Birmingham's U.S. Rep. William Broomfield could talk to my friend. Maybe he would understand better why he is making a mistake in introducing an amendment that would prohibit Spanish from being adopted as this country's second language. Being stopped for a minor traffic violation often threatens to end in major ethnic confrontation. Store clerks often watch closely as he looks over the merchandise. The air of discrimination always is lurking in the background.

He laughs when telling the stories. But the tone in his voice says the wound never quite heals.

"You own this car?" says the cop.

"Yes, sir.'

"What year is it?" "1980."

"When did you buy it?"

"You mean to tell me you bought this car new?" "Yes, sir. Would you like to see the registration?"

"I'm the one asking the questions here."

"Yes, sir."

"Let me see your registration . . . " My friend, the Mexican-American, resents that because of the color of his skin and Spanish accent he is treated

My friend is known for his politeness and never is rude to anyone, even to those who are discourteous to him because they fear his ethnicity.

We should take a lesson from our neighbors to the north who recently adopted bilingualism as a way of life. After decades of battling each other, French- and English-speaking Canadians are uniting to build a stronger country.

We can avoid the struggle and turmoil now by adopting Spanish as America's second language. And we'll be a

WHEN I BROKE out with a case of "Haig fever" last week, it sent me scurrying to Ann Arbor — not to a hospital for an allergy injection but rather to the Gerald R. Ford Library to see what Al Haig looks and sounds like close up.

If that seems too informal a way to refer to Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., who lists supreme allied commander in Europe, chief of staff and secretary of state among former titles, it's because you don't realize how close my mission carried me. Neither did he until I told him two days later.

Just because I searched out this one potential candidate for the presidency of the United States for eyeballing doesn't mean I intend to do the same with the whole lot as they pass the hat among us. But the general catches my fancy and has ever since the day Ronald Reagan was shot in 1981 and Haig seemed so ready to step into the breech.

WHAT'S MORE, I needed fodder for a column.

Here was one of our most prominent citizens on his way to address the Oakland County Republican Lincoln Day Dinner and who, two days earlier, would pause 30 minutes from my home for the television taping of a discussion with such figures as former President Ford himself, Attorney General Edwin Meese, Sen. Alan Cranston, former CIA director Stansfield Turner, commentators Sam Donaldson and Dan Rather, and the president of Yale University, among others.

The same character who coined the line about newspapermen meeting such interesting people probably is to blame for the theory that fools walk in where angels fear to tread. Anyway, I thought to myself, what the hell, why not?

The Ford Library is a new structure on the north campus of the University of Michigan and I had to ask instructions. Also, I was late, overlooked the proper entrance and walked in through a back door.

IT LED DIRECTLY onto a set where six TV cameras were focused upon a horseshoe-shaped table at which were comfortably seated some of the most important thought-shapers of the free world.

For the rest of the morning, fortunately out of camera range, I quietly shared space with a potted palm and a couple of couldn't-care-less TV guys, within first down distance of the back of Jerry Ford's head and with profile views of the others.

Although I'm happy I apparently don't look like an assassin, I was amazed at the ease of access and at not being stopped, queried and perhaps checked for weapons. At the Kingsley Inn when I told the experience to Haig, he verified what I already had found to be a fine sense of humor when he joked, "Maybe the laxness you describe suggests it was a roomful of has-beens."

Pat Wierzbicki of the Oakland Conty Republican staff tells me that the attendance of about 950 at Saturday evening's Lincoln banquet was the second largest in the 98 years these rah-rah GOP feasts have been held.

Slim and trim in a well-tailored pinstripe suit, Haig was not the bombastic, long-winded orator some may have expected. He spoke in a positive, upbeat manner for about 20 minutes, much of it about what he calls the "renaissance of American spirit" during the Reagan

He makes no bones about the seriousness with which he is considering throwing his hat into the ring in quest of the GOP presidential nomination, and is well rehearsed in speaking effectively on the route he thinks the nation must travel to solve its problem.

But, of course, Haig has no lock on leas.

When we came face to face, he didn't prove quite as tall a man as I had envisioned, nor was he a haughty know-it-all. If he's power hungry, he shields it. He answered questions in a straightforward, down to earth manner and in his press conference took the time to move about the room, firmly shaking one hand after another.

I feel he would be a fantastically stimulating all-night conversationalist in a group before a glowing fire. But I'd hate to be his rival in a poker game.

Urge state tax remain the same

To the editor:

Currently there is a debate over what to do about a possible state tax windfall as a result of the changes in federal tax policy. One suggestion is to cut the state income tax rate to make up the difference. We are bothered by this suggestion.

For some time now, a dominant theme in this state has been complaints about taxation. It seems to us that we have lost sight of the tremendous value we get from our taxes. Taxes provide for our safety, quality education, road systems, and courts, to name just a few of the benefits. In fact, taxes are the basis for the orderly conduct of our society.

Equally important, taxes provide protection for many in society who are disadvantaged: those who are handicapped, displaced or mentally ill.

We can understand the resistance to adequate taxation on the part of individuals living on fixed incomes that have been undercut by inflation and other economic forces out of their control. But this does not account for the anti-tax mania that has gripped this state in recent years.

We suspect that much support for inadequate taxation comes from that segment of our society who are deeply in debt and living beyond their means. Recently the media has begun to explore the shocking extent of credit card indebtedness. This is just one aspect of the problem. We have a serious, national problem concerning debt and debt management. It applies not only to individuals but governmental units as well.

We must have adequate taxation to cover our responsibilities to everyone in our society. We need additional taxation, both state and national, to begin to undo the ravages of irresponsible deficit spending.

As individual taxpayers, each of us needs to get our financial house in order. At the same time, we need to demand that government follow suit. Taxation is not a burden to those of us who live prudently. It is one of the best buys available.

Suggestions for improving ice fest

To the editor:

(An open letter to Henry Graper and Scott Lorenz)

This letter is a response to your request for additional citizen comment concerning the recent Ice Festival. That it was a success for the business community is an appreciated given. That it attracted numerous people to our city is also a known; the justified compliments have been expressed.

The following ideas are presented in an effort to enhance this endeavor further. The suggestions are both my own and those of visitors.

It would be nice to see the sculptures presented in Kellogg Park in an environment that could be even more effective. I suggest they be placed further inside the park (on platforms, if needed, to protect the grass) while clearing the snow from the sidewalks to be used. The area inside the park could then be roped off using red ribbon tied to ice sculpture nillars.

Additionally, ice sculpture pillars ly. And do the maintenance vehicles with "No Parking" signs posted on them have to be parked right next to The could be used on Main Street or along other areas so designated. This could eliminate the need to use those ugly sawhorse barriers with the yellow "Police Line" tape.

Place the show-stopper sculptures on or near the fountain, or on a blocked-off street, so those who wish may gather around it and not be concerned with traffic whizzing nearby.

Plan to take a stipend from the festival to keep our city cleaned up throughout the festival. Often our city was filthy with litter from the Styrofoam cups, the snack packs, the cigarette butts, the Kleenex, and general trash which occurs when large numbers of people gather. The area from Farmer Jack up to the railroad tracks was littered.

I suggest that many more litter baskets be placed about during the festival. We could employ teams of students to pick up the litter during the day as is done at Cedar Point. This could be an opportunity for our athletic teams or band members to earn some money.

As I strolled through the city I noted sagging coverlets over concrete block stands, and missing coverlets exposing ugly concrete blocks. It looked unsightly. And do the maintenance vehicles have to be parked right part to The Gathering display? That area was littered as well.

One visitor commented that they wanted to know more about what they were seeing. Perhaps a brochure with background information about the contest, the contestants, and some history about our city could be provided.

It was suggested that there be uniformity in the signs designating the sculpture's name and school represented, and nity in the signs designating the sculpture's name and school represented, and that each sculpture be so listed. One visitor wished the actual sculpting could be more easily seen — perhaps throughout the area so more could view it.

A complaint was made that on one Saturday when visitors wanted to see the sculptures in The Gathering, they were being removed to be placed about the city. Could the timing of those activities be different so on the busiest days the sculptures are in place for viewing? It was noted that with the extensive advertisement and hype the festival receives, it was important that it be presented in a manner that compliments those expectations. There are those who felt this had not been accomplished.

Avoiding winter's injuries

By Julie Brown staff writer

INTER DOESN'T have to be spent cooped up Winter sports, such as cross country and downhill skiing, can make the season more enjoyable. They allow participants to enjoy the great outdoors.

Such sports do, however, entail certain risks. Fractures can be the end result of a trip to the slopes for downhill skiing, particularly for an inexperienced skier.

You really can't get injured too badly cross country skiing," said Sue Heinzman, a certified athletic trainer. Although cross country skiing is less risky than downhill skiing, it still has its risks.

Cross country skiers may experience tendonitis and muscle strains, said Heinzman, who has a bachelor's degree in physical education with an emphasis in sports medicine from Eastern Michigan Uni-

When buying clothing and equipment, it's best to stick with stores that have knowledgeable salespeople, she said. Salespeople that participate in those sports can help customers make wise purchasing

Recent improvements in the design of ski boots have cut down on the frequency of "boot top fracture" of the tibia (the inner and larger of the two bones of the lower leg from the knee to the ankle). The boots now go up higher on the leg and thus provide greater stability for skiers. Heinzman said

Stretch

Routines help boost fitness

HEN DONE properly. stretching can do wonders for ex-

A proper warm-up is essential for cross country skiers and for other winter sports participants.

The right way to stretch is a relaxed, sustained stretch with attention focused on the muscles being stretched. The wrong way is to bounce up and down or to stretch to the point of pain.

Those methods can actually do more harm than good, according to Bob Anderson's "Stretching" (Shelter Publications, 1980).

Staff photos by Bill Bresler

Anderson's book includes beforeand after stretches for such winter sports activities as cross country and downhill skiing, figure skating and ice bockey

Stretching routines for a number of other athletic activities are also included, along with stretches designed for specific muscle groups Sketches show the proper way to do the stretches

According to the book, there are a number of reasons for including stretching in a fitness program Stretching will

• Reduce muscle tension and make the body feel more relaxed • Help coordination by allowing for freer and easier movement

• Increase range of motion · Prevent injuries such as muscle strains (A strong pre-stretched muscle resists stress better than a strong, unstretched muscle)

• Make strenuous activities like running, skiing, tennis, swimming, cycling easier because it prepares you for activity. It's a way of signaling the muscles that they are about to be used

• Develop body awareness As you stretch various parts of the body, you focus on them and get in touch with them.

 Help loosen the mind's control of the body so that the body moves for "its own sake" rather than for

• Promote circulation, stretch ing also feels good.

Commitment: key to success

Attention: New

Home Owners

By Julie Brown staff writer

If Tom Peters wanted to find a successful manager and leader, he wouldn't head for the high-tech world of Silicon Valley

Instead. Peters would travel to Bentonville, Ark, to meet Sam Walton of Wal-Mart fame Walton's company has enjoyed tremendous success - simply because he recognizes the importance of keeping the customer satisfied Walton's success can also be attributed to his frequent visits to his many stores. He knows the secret of MBWA - managing by wandering around.

That technique is the key to effective management, according to Peters, who is the co-author of "In Search of Excellence."

A tape on "A Passion for Excellence" featuring Petersewas shown at Monday night's meeting of the Canton Business and Professional Women. The meeting was held at the Roman Forum Restaurant in

According to Peters, managers who spend more than 25 percent of their time in their offices aren't doing their jobs

IF NOTHING else, managers who regularly get out of the office do less harm than might otherwise be the case, simply by getting out, they generate fewer memos and thus leave their employees free to do the real work of the organiza-

Peters' presentation on excellence focused on four areas customers, innovation, people and leadership

Although marketing is recognized as an essential aspect of business, it's important to remember that the individual customer is the key, according to Peters.

"In the history of humankind, a market has never bought anything

The same "customer first" thinking should apply to the public sector or to any organization, he said. Whether they're students, patients or paying customers, the needs of the people footing the bill should be the top priority

Any organization that treats its customers with common courtesy and decency will have the lion's share of the market, he said. Such treatment is so rare these days that it guarantees that any such organization will stand out from the crowd

Innovation is also lacking in far too many businesses and other organizations, according to Peters. Instead, what has passed for management talent has been the ability to soothe conflicts, to make good presentations and the like.

IN ORDER to succeed, any idea needs a persistent champion. Ownership and commitment are the key words in any organization in turning people into such persistent champions, Peters said.

Enthusiasm, fun and zest also have their place in the workaday world Such enthusiasm isn't encouraged, however, in fact, smiling while on the job is often seen as being somehow un-American.

"American business is real serious stuff," Peters said. Such overwhelming seriousness can, however, suppress the growth and success of an organization and its Monday night's presentation was given by Canton BPW member Laurie Uhl. Uhl is owner of the Cutting Corners beauty salon in Canton and also works as a secretary at Detroit Diesel in Redford.

Concerned sons and daughters know there comes a time when an elderly parent is getting a little slower in step and needs a little more support and supervision. A nursing home is out of the question. Too expensive. Too much care and confinement. Now there is a gracious alternative - the luxurious Plymouth Inn, an assisted-living facility.

Opened in January of 1987, this magnificent 50 room facility is the first of its kind in the community. Designed for those elderly who are basically independent who can bathe, dress and feed themselves yet need some encouragement and motivation. The Plymouth Inn meets their needs, budget and lifestyle. It's a special place.

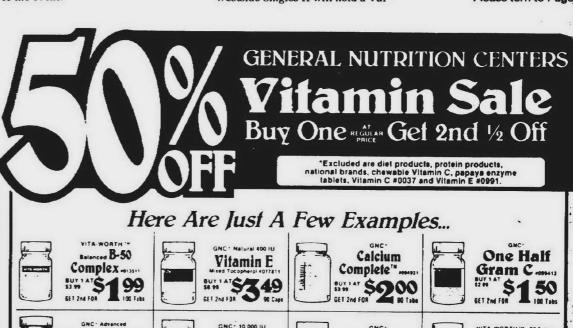

The Plymouth Inn provides 3 delicious meals, graciously served in a beautifully appointed dining room. Spacious mini-suites or deluxe semi-private accommodations overlook tranquil landscaped grounds. Extensive social programs and varied recreational opportunities keep minds involved and stimulated. A game room. Chapel. Beauty parlour. Many quiet cozy corners. The latest in fire and safety protection. All this and more await those who select the Plymouth Inn.

Call today. Arrange to visit our special place. Make it yours. It's here in Plymouth just 30 minutes from everywhere.

TRAINING MENTORS

Youth Development is a diversion program, in cooperation with the Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township police departments and Growth Works, for juvenile first-time offenders. The program is designed for both the youth and his/her parents as an alternative to the juvenile court system.

Growth Works trains volunteers to work on a weekly basis with the youth. The training covers communication skills, empathy listening skills, building and bonding relationships, alcohol and substance abuse, decision making, consequences of behavior, parenting skills, and crisis intervention. Training sessions totaling about 20 hours is open to all interested people willing to commit to at least six months of about three hours per week. For information, call Sue Davis, 455-4902 Monday through Friday.

FISH NEEDS HELP

Plymouth-Canton FISH needs new volunteers. For information, call 420-2046.

CEP VOLUNTEERS

Teachers at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools need volunteers to type, make bulletin boards, help in the reading lab, input for computer circulation in the library, or serve as speakers and resource people in the areas of social studies, German and French. Native French and German speakers also are needed. If you can donate an hour a week, call Cyndi Burnstein 1-10 p.m. at 459-9435.

• AMATEUR PERFORMERS

The Plymouth Community Arts Council is updating its list of amateur performers who are willing to share their time and talent with students. The resource list is provided by the PCAC to all elementary teachers in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. Particularly needed this year are dancers, singers and musicians. If you or someone you know has a special skill they are willing to share, call Pat MacIsaac at 453-8051.

O VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

Canton Care Council, an affiliate of the Ann Arbor-based Community Councils Association, is seeking volunteers interested in enhancing the quality of life for nursing home resi-

Volunteers serve on the council, which meets once a month to plan social, service or educational activities for residents at Canton Care Center. The time commitment is three to six hours per month. For more information, contact Kathy Belisle at 981-2382.

• EMERGENCY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The Plymouth Township Office of Emergency Preparedness needs volunteers to be trained in skills that will be used during an emergency or disaster. Training includes damage assessment, shelter management, first aid, emergency operating center support and service weather spotting. Training meetings are held from 9 a.m. to noon on the fourth Saturday of each month in Plymouth Township Hall at Ann Arbor Road and Mill. Township residency is not required. All training is free.

HELPING SKILLED TRADES

Focus: HOPE needs active retired toolmakers, pipefitters, millwrights, machine repair, electricians and auto mechanics for full-time, parttime and temporary positions at Focus: HOPE Industry Mall - a 25acre industrial center for high skill training, new employment and creation of minority ownership in machining and manufacturing.

Retired master craftsmen, who want to remain active, make use of years of knowledge and pass their skills on to another generation, can become involved in passing on their skills and work habits to others. Those interested can contact Focus: HOPE, 1200 Oakman Blvd., Detroit 48238 or call 883-7440 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday.

• WANTED: CIVIC RADIO HELP

Plymouth Area REACT Team is looking for members for emergency radio communication (no experience necessary) and other community programs. All residents from Plymouth, Canton, Northville and surrounding areas are invited. The group meets at 8 p.m. the second Thursday of each month at Plymouth Township Hall, Mill at Ann Arbor Road. For more information, call 455-9609 or 453-7641.

• 'RIDE WITH US'

Plymouth Area Citizens Team

program is made up of volunteers from Plymouth and surrounding communities who patrol the Plymouth area. The organization is looking for volunteers to devote one night (four-five hours) per month to be the "eyes and ears" for the community. Those interested in going on an observation ride with a PACT member should call 459-2075.

• HISTORICAL MUSEUM

Volunteers are needed at the Plymouth Historical Museum. Are you interested in antiques and Plymouth history? Come in and visit your museum and see what's there. The museum needs volunteers for changing displays, helping in the gift shop, typing, printing, sewing and helping in the educational program for school children. Call 455-8940 or stop in from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday or Thursday to ask what you can do

DELIVERING MEALS

Residents are encouraged to volunteer their time to deliver meals one day per week to the homebound elderly in the city of Plymouth and in Plymouth Township. Delivery takes about one hour, 11:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. Drivers are needed daily except Thursday. Mileage reimbursement of 23 cents per mile is available. For information, call Margaret Foster, 453-9703, 10-11 a.m. Monday-Friday.

MEALS ON WHEELS

The Senior Nutrition Program, "Meals on Wheels," needs clerical volunteers for its main office at Five Mile and Sheldon roads in Northville. To volunteer, call 453-2525.

• TEEN VOLUNTEERS

Teens can volunteer year-round at Catherine McAuley Health Center and not just during the special summer program as in the past.

Teen volunteers can help out at the Arbor Health Building in Plymouth, St. Joseph Hospital, Mercywood Health Building, Maple Health Building and at Reichert Health Building working directly with patients or in non-patient contact positions during weekday, evening and weekend hours. Orientation and training is provided to all volunteers. For information, call the volunteer services department at 572-

MEDICAL HELP

Ministers feel ads promote wrong idea

staff writer

HURCH LEADERS, for the most part, are not too keen on condoms being advertised on tele-

At least that's opinion of some ministers in the area who were questioned about the recent airing of condom commercials.

Some wonder about the taste of airing such ads.

But mostly they are concerned the commercials, which WXYZ-TV Channel 7 has been broadcasting locally, encourage sexual promiscuity.

The ads have been aired mainly in response to the recent epidemic outbreak of AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome). Many medical experts say condoms help prevent the spread of sexually transmitted

"When you advertise condoms, it's like we're still trying to get away with something that's against God's law," said the Rev. Gene Sorensen of Unity of Livonia. "Thou shalt not . . .' is still a law of God."

"I'M NOT in favor for advertising on television of condoms in that there would be no educational control over what is being advertised," added the Rev. Kerry Hettinger of Canton Free Methodist Church in Canton. "The advertising (on television) usually emphasizes the spectacular rather than any educational benefits involved."

But as one other minister confided, "The church is between a rock and a hard place."

"On the one hand, the church doesn't want to condone anything which would promote sex outside of the marriage. Also, they want to be supportive of those type of programs which help stop the spread of the disease

One minister in New York has went a step further. The Rev. Carl Titchener of the Unitarian Universalist Church of Amherst distributed condoms Sunday at services because AIDS, he said, is too serious to ignore.

"If not here, where?," Titchener said.

THE ROMAN Catholic Church has taken a hard-line view on condoms and on their being advertised on tele-

Abstinence is the No. 1 - and only - preventative for stopping AIDS, Catholic Church spokesmen said. "We're quite cynical about that (condoms being a main preventative)," said Jay Berman, director of communications for the Archdiocese of Detroit.

The archdiocese, according to Berman, has publicly protested the broadcast of the ads. Some, like the director of the Michigan Pro-Life Action League, think the archdiocese's efforts could be more involved. The league's director, Lynn Mills, of Livonia said the archiocese could take a more active role and perhaps join the league in boycotting Channel

She said several unsuccessful attempts have been made to contact the archdiocese on the matter.

"I'm a little tired of the Catholic Church sitting back on this," Mills said. "The pope is going to be coming in September. I know he probably wouldn't have the time to sit down and watch TV.

"But what if the pope does and a condom commercial came on? It would be embarrassing."

Berman, who feels Mills' assertion about the archdiocese's role is unfair, said the archdiocese would have to look at the details of any boycott before officially joining it.

'We've fought this battle for four years since I've been here," Berman said. "In many cases, we've fought it alone."

Jeanne Findlater, general manager of WXYZ-TV, said the commercials have received an even number of positive-and-negative response since they've aired. When it was first reported the ads would run, callers were 2-to-1 in disapproval.

"I know through community ascertain(ment) there is a significant number of people who could benefit from the information that condoms are an inexpensive and effective way to stop the spread of disease," Findlater said. "With that in mind, we've started to broadcast the commercials."

She added the station will continue to air the com-

moral perspectives

Rev. David Strong

Our faith is something to be discussed openly

VINCENT DONOVAN tells about an occasion when he went to a Masai tribal chief in Tanzania, Africa. He asked to speak to the chief about something important. The chief came and inquired what it was he wanted. Donovan said that he wanted to talk with him about God. The chief answered, "Who can refuse to talk about God!" Then with a puzzled look he added, "If that is why you came, why did you wait so long to ask that we talk about God?"

As Donovan went to other tribal chiefs with the same request he met with the same response, "Why have you not come to us before?"

Donovan reflected upon the fact that Christians had come to this part of the world for more than 50 years starting schools, hospitals and churches. Apparently they had never gone to the people with the request,

'Let us together talk about God." Some believe that they are very religious when by other standards they are not religious at all. For some building a medical clinic is a very religious act. For others it is not as important as talking about God. We all define in our own way what it means to be faithful to our

THE CURRENT revival of Islamic religion, especially in Iran, reveals a radical return to practices that conflict with most of what our Western society is all about. We are shocked by what we hear is going on in Iran. We are even more shocked when we realize that it is largely a religious revival.

The spiritual leaders of Islam condemn what they call "the failed ideologies of the West." One such leader, M. Yehia says, "Nationalism, socialism, Marxism, capitalism, they have all been tried and they have all turned against us."

Many Islamic leaders want to return to their religious foundations. For them this is a "holy war."

I find that many of us are shocked by such a view. We hold that one religion cannot so dominate a society that it is used to coerce people. The founders of our nation came from societies where religion was a tool of the state. People were persecuted, even killed because they did not conform. Many fled to the new world and here established a principle that state and religion must be kept separate. This we currently celebrate in the United States Constitution.

Someone has said that America is the first nation in history that has instituted this idea: The state and religious institutions must be kept segarate. To keep something separate does not mean that we cannot talk about these things. Do we talk about God? Do we talk about values or institutions in our society that our faith would challenge? I REMEMBER one minister telling me how he worked for a year to move the American flag away from the pulpit where he preached each Sunday to a place across the room. He felt that the implication was that he must always agree with what is considered "American." Another minister tells me that leaders of his congregation recently said to him, We don't want to hear you talk about peace in this church." Our older generation recalls that when they were young their parents. failed to tell them anything about sex. There are still things that the most religious people do not want discussed. It may be the subject of peace, or it may even be the subject of God. We do not want this nation to become another Iran. Yet we must be open to dialogue with others concerning the important issues of life. No mortal human can have the full and final word. Nevertheless, it is important that we seek truth and seek to share even in those areas that are usually kept silent. Our greatest freedom is our opportunity to speak. Let us talk about.

God. Let us talk about what our faith! means in facing the problems of our society. Let us risk speaking from our own experience and conviction. Let us cherish this wonderful desire? to share, to know and understand.

Franchise seeks respect as employment service

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

They're the new kids on the block, faced with trying to shake a somewhat shady reputation.

But Bianca Lemon remains confident that J.O.B.S., the latest employment information service to erase the black eye created by similar agencies.

Lemon is manager and co-owner (with her husband, Robert, of the first J.O.B.S. franchise to spet for business in Michigan. The Livonia office opened to toors Jan. 12.

The Charwater, Fla.-based company wirently has 30 branches in about : lozen states. New offices in Pentiae, Ann Arbor and in the are planned by the end of

We're trying to break a barrier that has been created in Michigan by similar agencies which basically hand the customer a list of classified ads clipped from local newspapers," Bianca Lemon said.

The concept behind J.O.B.S. is to use a computer to bridge the gap between the local workforce and employers seeking semi-skilled and unskilled labor, while bypassing traditional avenues such as the newspaper's help-wanted section

Their targeted clients are seeking jobs paying less than $25,000. The franchise was started based on the belief that semi-skilled workers are remaining unemployed, despite the efforts of government-funded employment offices, while some employers ite unable to find janitors or ho sekeepers.

For a fee of $75, the company provides the client with a list of prospective empiryers stored in a computer 7. ervice is free to local employers. J.O.B.S. lists nearly 200 different employment categorset up shop in the Detroit area, can tes mostly in blue collar, clerical in the dical fields.

THE FEE entitles clients to use the service for three months. We are not an employment agency in the traditional sense," Lemon said. "We provide the client with a list of contacts, but they are on their own as far as setting up interviews with prospective employers.

The computer lists the company name, job opening, job duties, ex-perience required, hours, pay range and benefits, and the name of a contact person. The listing is somewhat more detailed than a typical classified advertisement.

Lemon said 75 percent of the franchise's current listings don't appear in other media. The goal is to get local employers to list with J.O.B.S. exclusively. She said the franchise regulations prohibit J.O.B.S. from taking information out of the classified section and putting it into the computer.

THE PRIVATELY HELD franchise is also competing with government-funded agencies such as the Michigan Employment Securities Commission, which offers the same type of employment "matchmaking" service free.

MESC spokesman Norman Isotalo said the agency doesn't object to companies like J.O.B.S., as long as they operate above board and let the public know exactly what it's getting for its money.

Lemon said J.O.B.S. does just

Although the company can't guarantee a job will still be open when the client calls, Lemon said she encourages employers and clients to call once a position has been filled so the listing can be removed from the computer.

She said the job categories are updated daily, with each category being checked at least once a week

The franchise is licensed by the state and bonded.

So why should someone pay $75 for J.O.B.S. services when they could probably get a similar list of prospective employers by dropping a few coins into their local newpspaper box?

'The majority of people don't have the connections we do," Lemon said, adding that with J.O.B.S. as a go-between, the "cold call" aspect of answering a classified ad is eliminated

THE FRANCHISE does some pre-screening of applicants, and applicants may authorize JOBS. to release that information which includes education and experience - to prospective employers. Clients also receive an interview "tip sheet."

Lemon said the computer network is set up so that people will be able to seek employment in other states with J.O.B.S. franchises. The company hopes to use the system to help spouses of transferred employees find work in their new locales.

Lemon, a Livonia resident with a degree in psychology from the University of Michigan, said she saw J.O.B.S. as an opportunity to work in a computer environment that was still "people oriented."

SBA escapes budget's ax but charges for its programs

staff writer

Proposed changes for the Small Business Administration may make it more difficult for area businesses to obtain advice or a guaranteed

President Reagan's proposed budget calls for several changes in the way the SBA operates, including a fee for SBA counseling services, doubling the borrower's fee in the guaranteed loan program, issuing a fee to banks who lend money through the guaranteed loan program and decreasing the government's amount of the guarantee from 90 to 75 percent on loans greater than $140,000.

Although these proposed changes could have a negative impact on the federal agency and the clients it serves, the budget does leave a majority of the SBA intact, unlike last year's proposed budget which called for the agency's elimination.

There was such an outcry when they wanted to do away with the programs that they (the Reagan administration) had to back off of their stance," said Edward King, a certified public accountant and faculty member of the Wayne State University School of Business Administration who teaches classes to aspiring small business owners. "To use an old phrase, it's sort of a benign neglect They're not actively behind the destruction of the SBA, but they're not out there supporting it and backing new programs.

ONE OF THE proposed changes is to begin charging a fee for SBA counseling and training services.

The small businessmar needs someone to talk to," said Raymond Genick, executive dire tor of the Small Business Development Association at Wayne State University. We saw 389 new clients through this office last year and have more than 800 people in our client base.

The SBA is here to stay, at least for the next couple of years," he said. "I know here we're booked at least two weeks in advance for our counseling services.

If forced to charge a fee, Genick said he thinks most people still would use the service.

"I think the majority of clients would be willing to pay something. but most are in a financial crunch and we'd try to keep those fees as low as possible."

RICHARD TEMKIN, Michigan's SBA deputy district director, said the Reagan proposal calls for a $25 charge on SBA training seminars. The agency currently charges $10 for these one-day sessions.

"We don't really know what the impact of this will be," he said. "The (federal) budget as a whole proposes a number of user fees; some probably would have a great impact and others wouldn't.

In 1985 the SBA approved $54.4 million in Michigan loans. Wayne County businesses received $5.1 million in 1986 SBA loans, and Oakland County received $5.2 million.

More than 400 people applied for SBA loans in fiscal year 1986, Temkin said, adding this number includes both guaranteed and direct loans.

We make relatively few direct loans, which are given to people who've failed to meet bank criteria for the guaranteed loans," he said. We use the same basic information as the banks, so if a person did not qualify for a guaranteed loan their chances for a direct loan are not that

About 45 percent of the guaranteed loans are approved, he said

Last year the SBA guaranteed $47.6 million in Michigan loans. In the SBA guaranteed loan program, the government basically co-signs on a bank loan and guarantees to pay the lender should the businessman be unable to repay the debt.

"This number is down from prior years," he said. "The number of loans has been on a decline, but the numbers have been going up in terms of people getting counseling and training. We don't really know

Agencies help businesses start

The Small Business Administration offers other financing options aside from guaranteed and direct loan programs.

The 504 program is left untouched in President Reagan's proposed budget but saw changes in July that increased the cost to the businessmen applying for assistance.

"I think they (the Reagan administration) were so happy with the changes made in July they left us untouched now," said Marianne Kure, a loan officer for the SBA 504 program with the Oakland County Economic Development Corporation.

The 504 program is packaged and operated by these local development companies, which are county agencies. It differs from the direct and guaranteed loan programs because only a portion of the needed funds are acquired through the SBA.

"Under 504, 50 percent of the total borrower's needs comes from their bank, 40 percent comes from our program and 10 percent from the businessman himself." Kure said. "Our 40 percent comes from a bond. guaranteed by the SBA and sold on the market.

In the past, the SBA did not collect fees for this program. In July, the Reagan administration instituted a one half of 1 percent fee, determined from the amount of the borrower's

An additional five-eighths of a point was added to the amount charged by the underwriter who sells the bond.

'What this did was add a full point and a half in cost onto the loan," Kure said. "This has negatively impacted our program because it's passed more cost onto the small business person."

LOANS UNDER the 504 program range from $50,000-$500,000, she said. One and a half percent of the loan is charged as a fee from the county, and legal costs involved in closing the loan typically range from $2,000 to $2,500.

"Someone who takes out a $50,000 loan would have to pay $3,600-$4,100 in fees just to close my portion of it. Then the bank charges a fee also,'

Although Kure said she has seen some businessmen just getting started who apply under the 504 program, most are usually existing businesses that need to expand.

"The 504 program will only fund for land, building and equipment expense," she said. "Typically an individual approaches the bank and us at the same time. As soon as the borrower provides us with the required information and we get a commitment from the bank, we fill out all of the necessary paperwork and take it to the SBA for approval."

The whole process usually takes 60-90 days, she added.

Marketing is a must for big, small business

It isn't an easy task to find time as business owners and managers to carry out the market planning process for small business. As the old saying goes. "I thought there were 24 hours in a day until I went into business for myself

There are so many responsibilities and duties to be taken care of on a day-to-day basis, not to mention any "crises" which occur and require immediate attention. Market planning helps put an end to feeling overwhelmed by, and not knowing how to react to, those anticipated and unanticipated events affecting the success (or failure) of the operation.

The goal of any business, be it large or small, is to best satisfy its current and potential customers on a regular basis . at a profit to the enterprise. If this is not already the primary goal of your business operation, it should be. Market planning focuses on the customer groups (or markets) that the current or proposed business venture hopes to attract and satisfy on a regular basis. There are a variety of information sources that can provide the "who, what, where, when, why, and how" trends associated with customers' decisions to do business with a particular firm.

The business owner also need to be aware of and understand how external environmental activities affects the success of the operation. No matter how well a business works to best satisfy its customers across all areas of the operation, significant changes in the external environment can jeopardize even the best of these planning efforts.

Keeping the above in mind, the entrepreneur can begin to structure the business to best take advantage of these internal and external forces affecting success. The major areas of the operation that the owner controls regarding structuring include: (1) all product or service-related decisions areas (what to offer, packaging, brand names, warranties, service levels.) (2) All price policies (flexibility, discounts, terms, allowances.) (3) Promotion (use of advertising, publicity, sales promotion, personal selling, message.) (4) Place decisions (use of people, selection, training, salary, motivation, incentives, role of em-

In structuring (or re-structuring) any or all of these aspects of the operation, remember that the focus should be on providing what you can sell, not selling what you can (or choose to) provide

SBA asking for user fees

IN 1985 THE SBA approved $54.4 million in Michigan loans and in 1981, $86.3 million. Wayne County businesses received $5.1 million in 1986 SBA loans, and Oakland County received $5.2 million.

We really have a different lending philosophy today," Temkin said. "Our quality lending program began in 1981. Before this the lending philosophy, which is based on Congress and the executive branch of government, was more liberal and the SBA had a higher loss rate than people wanted to see

"In 1981 this policy was changed by the executive branch," he said. They wanted to make a better quality loan with more emphasis on repayability."

Temkin said the default rate on an SBA guaranteed loan has dropped substantially since the quality lending program began.

Part of Reagan's proposed budget calls for a fee increase for loan applicants as well as charging a fee to the bank. The proposal also asks to decrease the government guarantee from 90 percent to 75 percent on loans totaling more than $140,000.

Obviously, the tighter the constraints, the more difficult it becomes for people to get these loans," King said. "It's usually the people who need the loans the most who don't get them

CURT WILLNER, spokesman for the National Bank of Detroit, the largest participant in the Michigan SBA's guaranteed loan program, said some of these proposed changes would force the bank to scrutinize loan applicants even closer.

"We typically look at the four seeds of credit (when considering an SBA loan application) just as a normal bank loan would be looked at," he said. "Most individuals who are referred for loans haven't established any type of operation, so they don't have a past record to look at.

"Lowering the guarantee rate might have an impact, but we really can't say," he added. "These changes are only proposals. We really haven't taken a stand on what we'll do if the proposals go through.

Should the SBA program make it difficult to lend, Willner said NBD would encourage potential borrowers to examine other options. A popular one with NBD is to sponsor participatory loans, where several institutions fund a loan, reducing the risk of each should the borrower default on payment.

The proposed fee the Reagan administration would like to charge banks who participate in the SBA loan program would probably be passed onto the borrowers in the form of a higher fee or interest rate,

"Unfortunately, any increase in fees most likely would be passed to the borrower," he said. "If the program becomes difficult to work under we might look into other areas to try to accommodate small business-

Calculating yield isn't that difficult

A friend recently asked me what was the yield on one of his investments. Embarrassed by my inability to answer him in simple language, I decided to do some research and publish a three-part article on this important topic

The technique of calculating the yield on an investment is directly related to the type of that investment. Examples are CDs, money market funds, treasury bills, bonds and bond funds, mortgage-backed securities such as GNMAs, and stocks. We will discuss the methods of calculating yields on these investments.

CDs

Two variables determine how much you will earn on your CDs: the annual rate of simple interest and the effective annual yield, which refers to the rate your money will earn if the interest is compounded. And herein lies the confusion: a five-year CD earning 10.77 percent simple interest is comparable to a five-year CD earning only 9 percent compound interest. To the uninformed, the former looks far more attractive than the latter, but that is simply an illu-

The situation gets more confusing when some banks start interest calfinances and you Sid culations immediately while others delay the start-up period by several days. Another distorting factor is the minimum balance requirements, which determine how much your money will earn during a given period. Only a small group of banks uses a progressive interest scale which means that the higher your minimum balance the higher the interest your money will earn. Yet another variable factor is the low-balance method in which the bank pays interest on the lowest balance on deposit each day.

The simplest way to compare yields on various bank CDs is to ask the bank how many net dollars (after fees and charges) you will receive when the CD matures. Then calculate the yield by dividing the net dollars received by the principal invested in that CD. This will make all CD yields comparable.

money market funds

Money market funds have peculiarities of their own. Some funds report higher yields merely by extending the date before the dividends are credited, while others increase their yields by temporarily paying the expenses normally paid by the shareholders. Since these measures are only temporary, the best way to compare the yields on different money market funds is to calculate these yields over a thirty-day period.

treasury bills

T-bill yields are quite confusing because of two reasons. First, since T-bills are discount issues, you pay less than the face amount but receive the face amount upon maturity. This makes the yield calculation cumbersome.

For instance, if you pay $9,677 for T-bill and receive $10,000 six months later, your (bond equivalent) yield would be 6.69 percent.

an annualized basis. Consequently, if you receive a 10 percent yield on a three-month T-bill, you would in fact receive only a 2.5 percent yield for the three-month period.

If for the balance of the year your money is invested at a lower interest rate, your yield would be less than 10 percent you expected to earn. Since there is no simple way to make the yields on different T-bills comparable, the simplest thing to do is to look under the heading "Yield" in the third column of the Treasury Bill section of the Wall Street Journal or the business section of any daily newspaper.

Next Week: More on yields.

"UNDER THE guaranteed loan program the borrower is responsible for filling out all of their paperwork, which can be very complex and require legal assistance," Kure said. "Under our program we do all of that for him.

Since its inception in 1983, the Oakland County Development Corp. has seen $11,490,000 in total project dollars for the 504 program. Of that total, $4,345,000 was the agency's 40 percent portion, while $307,800 was collected in new property taxes and 942 jobs were created.

The agency is waiting to close on another $10,187,000 in project dol-lars, $3,977,000 of which is the SBA's 40 percent portion. If these loans go through, it will provide an additional $250,000 in new taxes and an addition of 550 jobs.

The Tony-Award-winning musical by Arthur Kopit and Maury Yeston is based on Federico Fellini's film, "Eight and a Half."

'It's basically autobiographical," Pierson said. "It's about the crisis in his career and the women in his life, in his memory or imagination."

The production features a cast of one man, three little boys and 15 women (the Broadway show originally had 21 women). During most of the show everyone is dressed in black, and later when the lead character, Italian movie director Guido Contini played by Warren Reinecker, imagines he is dead, everyone except his wife, Luisa, who is real, wears

hings amiss at Hunters Run

Your traveling taster visits area eateries and rates them on a 100-point scale. Up to 30 points are awarded for ambiance, which includes general atmosphere and service, 55 points for food, and 15 points for price/ value rating. A total count of 59 points or less indicates a restaurant is not recommended; 60-74 points signify from passing to good; 75-89 points designate very good with some extraordinary features, and 90-100 points show that a very special dining experience awaits you.

HUNTERS RUN, 15800 Middlebelt, Livonia (522-5600), provides a cozy lodge-like atmosphere with subdued lighting and shuttered windows. The beamed ceilings and outdoor prints add to this sense of country dining. Unfortunately, the restaurant could use some good, old-fashioned country cleaning. Our vinyl tablecloth was dirty when we sat down. One water glass and a coffee cup had to be replaced for the same reason. Relatively casual dress (sweaters and slacks, for example) is appropriate, and cus-tomers included both younger and older couples. Our reservations were honored, and we were courteously and promptly led to our table. Dinner took an hour and a half. General Atmosphere - 15 points maximum. Points awarded - 10.

Our waitress was extremely pleasant, and she did a very good job of serving us and pacing our

This problem of not preparing our entrees as we ordered them detracted considerably from our enjoyment of the main dishes.

meal properly. However, the busboys were as bad as she was competent. Long delays in getting water, taking our dirty silverware from our dishes and putting it on the table, not clearing all the dishes at the end of a course - these and similar problems could not be forgotten even though our waitress tried to remedy one thing after another when asked. Service - 15 points maximum. Points awarded - 10.

The selection of appetizers included some unusual offerings. We tried the baked mushrooms, stuffed with roquefort cheese ($3.25), and enjoyed the interesting taste blends. The steak slices on garlic toast were tender and came cooked medium rare as ordered, although some of the garlic toast was burned. Both the sauces served with the steak were disappointing. The barbecue tasted like a popular supermarket brand and the bearnaise was thin and unexciting. Also, even though this was an expensive hors d'oeuvre, priced at $7, canned mushrooms, instead of fresh, topped the beef. The drinks were weaker than average.

A salad is served with entrees, and the house creamy garlic dressing was quite good. Although there was not a lot of variety or imagination used, the salad was large and fresh. The Greek salad ($5.95) had a few unusual additions (artichoke hearts) and a peculiar omission (red onions), but it was also fresh and tasty though not cold when it came to the table. Before the Entree — 15 points maximum. Points awarded - 11

The prime rib ($10.95) was overcooked, with very little seasoning added, but it was a large portion, very tender and worth the price. The scampi, flavored with garlic and cooked in wine ($11.95), had a gentle flavor and was a good choice. The cottage fries, which we ordered especially crisp, came undercooked and very greasy. This problem of not preparing our entrees as we ordered them detracted considerably from our enjoyment tables and Garnishes points maximum. Points awarded - 21.

The pastries are not baked at the restaurant, but the lemon cheesecake ($3) was light and not overly creamy. It was one of the best tastes of the meal. The hot fudge sundae ($2.95) was large, but the sauce was so thin and runny that the vanilla ice cream alone would have been better. Dessert - 10 points maximum. Points awarded - 6.

The dinner was not costly at $40 per couple but certainly no great bargain either. Quantity cannot make up for a lack in quality and so, all things considered, this meal was disappointing. Price/Value - 15 points maximum. Points awarded - 9.

A Counting for Taste - 100 points maximum. Total points awarded: 67. While Hunters Run could, perhaps, be inviting in spite of one or two of the above-mentioned problems, we found too many shortcomings to make us want to return in the near future.

Costumers work on garb for 'Nine'

Other women in the number add ruffled skirts with sequin trim to their black wrap dress Pierson saw "Nine" twice when it was on Broadway. "I liked it so much I saw it again," she said. Some of the costumes at TGLR are very similar to those worn in the Broadway production.

We're trying for a similar style and effect. For the 'Grand Canal,' they used thousands of dollars of brocade. They have a huge stage," she said. The show locally is being done in the guild's small house, and things are scaled down.

She said a few of the costumes for the Grand Canal number were borrowed - the number combines both period and showgirl costumes.

"It's the most elaborate show I've ever worked on," Pierson said. "It's a big challenge to me. I'm scared to death. You're afraid you'll not get everything done."

WHILE MANY of the costumes are flashy, few are scanty. "Two of the costumes in the show might be perceived as revealing," she said. The young lady Carla, Guido's mistress (played by Jacqueline Eastman), wears a black stretch lace body suit with long sleeves and legs covered up. She appears nude but has a flesh-colored garment underneath. She also wears a nun's habit and a white lace body suit patterned after the original."

The actress' father, John Eastman of Livonia, is producer. Eastman's wife, Gail Mack, is lighting designer. Director-choreographer is Jim Posante. Musical director is Jack Pierson of Livonia.

For some of the earlier scenes. from the movie director's memory or imagination, there are slight changes in the women's black costumes. "Little bits are added to update them, and make them look like someone else - Germans visiting a spa, or Italian chambermaids." "I think I'm overspending, a little bit," Pierson said. "We did a lot of bargain hunting. We searched for the dollar and a half fabric." Many of the costumes are trimmed with sequins, nailheads, beads and but-

"Some are made to look like embroidery work. It's actually done with Slick pens (found in artists' stores)," she said.

"ONE COSTUME is black with white embroidery. We used white Slick pens. We also used the pens on German bibs and suspenders.'

Among the many women who worked on costumes for the show, Pierson gives special credit to Marcia Closson, Therese Duffy of Redford, Karen Lahiff of Westland, Ethel Wiedig and Barbara Haver-

In making the costumes, Pierson said. "Some of the things are quite simple. The abilities vary. I have some expert seamstresses. Others are busy gluing on sequins or turning up hems. One black suit and white suit made of vinyl looks like leather and is difficult to sew.'

In contrast to the women's costumes, clothes for the men presented no problem. Guido - "He is the easiest of all," Pierson said. "He wears a black shirt and pants throughout the show. He provided his own.

"His memory goes back to age 9. One of the three boys in the show is Guido at 9. He wears a black shirt and shorts throughout the show.'

And Louisa provided her own black dress.

Writing an autobiography is good therapy

My grandmother has lived a very interesting life. I find the stories about her younger years fascinating. I have suggested that she write down some of her escapades but so far she

She reads your column - so maybe with a little encouragement from you she may take "pen in hand."

Your suggestion for your grandmother is not only a good idea for a project for her, but it is a valuable legacy that she can leave behind for you and future generations.

It can just be a summary of facts I have even offered to help her as I feel a record of her life is something I would value.

It can just be a summary of the and dates or a longer history of the interesting details of the major events in her life. She may even want to make it a major work using pictures from the family album and correspondence with friends and relnegate all the remarkable things that have happened to them in the course of their lifetimes. It is sad indeed that these experiences get lost in memory

Writing one's life story is a pleasant form of therapy for a person of any age. It takes place through reminiscence, which is accompanied by feelings of nostalgia, happiness, regret and pleasure.

Many who have written their life stories have expressed a great deal seemed to help them deal with some of the unfinished business in their lives It can be a way of coming to terms with oneself - the successes, the failures and everything else in between.

The next time you approach the subject with your grandmother make sure that you and she are alone as she may get embarrassed in front of others and veto the project. A good way to get her undivided attention is to take her to lunch. Then, at the right moment, bring up the subject again. It would help if you had a notebook in hand and suggest you start it for her. You can begin by asking her date of birth and where she was born. She may enjoy the experience so much it may be hard to get her to Good luck

Salem maintains its headlock on WLAA

Ron Krueger must have a crystal ball tucked away somewhere in his office at Plymouth Salem High

The veteran wrestling coach knew exactly what it would take to win the Western Lakes Activities Association wrestling championship Saturday at Westland John Glenn.

Prior to the meet, Krueger said he didn't think the winning team would necessarily be the team with the most champions, but the team that placed the most wrestlers.

His prediction came true late Sat-WLAA championship after placing nine wrestlers in the top four of their respective weight classes.

Salem won the title with 1821/2 points, 43 points ahead of secondplace finisher Westland John Glenn (1491/2). Walled Lake Central finished third with 139 points followed by Livonia Stevenson with 135, Walled Lake Western with 1211 and North Farmington with 104.

Plymouth Canton placed seventh ville with 88, Livonia Churchill with 86 1/2, Farmington with 52. Farmington Harrison with 361/2 and Livenia Franklin with 33.

The thing is, Salem finished the tournament with three league champions while Western topped the field in terms of individual championships - with four. But Western placed only five wrestlers in the top four while Glenn finished with no urday night as the Rocks won the champions but placed seven in the

> "I'M VERY, very happy," said an exhausted Krueger after the wrestling had ended late Saturday night... "This is a well-balanced league. In order to win it you've fot to place the majority of the eam somewhere. We were fortenate enough to have nine wrestlers i nish fourth or better.

really didn't think we could pull it off, but the kids pulled together. worked hard and trained

Despite battling injuries and illness the week preceding the tournament (Jeff Delbeke was out with the flu, Tim Ott broke his hand and Dennis Dameron had a back injury), the Rocks captured their fifth straight WLAA title without much of a problem.

Entering the finals the Rocks were leading John Glenn 161 1/2-135. They needed just one win the the championship round to clinch the title. They got the victory in the opening match when Richard Johnson defeated Glenn's Chris Zimmerman 7-2 for the heavyweight title.

Delbeke iced the cake for Salem in the following match, winning the 98pound championship with a pin over Plymouth Canton's Tom Flores at DAMERON PICKED up Salem's final individual championship with relative ease, winning the 126-pound title with a 16-5 victory over Paul Maliszweski of Northville.

Second-place finishers for the Rocks were Sean May at 112, who lost a 7-5 decision in the finals to Western's Dave Zehnder, and Lem Yeung, who dropped a 7-6 decision to Western's Nick Papadakos in the championship match at 155 pounds.

Third-place finishes went to Todd Bourlier at 105 pounds and Bill Atwell at 138. Atwell and North's Adam Kahn wrestled to an 8-8 tie in regulation time of their match for third place before Atwell gutted out an 8-0 overtime victory.

Scott Contini (119) and Chuck Graczyk (198) picked up fourth place finishes for the Rocks.

Although John Glenn had no individual champions, it finished second by placing 12 wrestlers in sixth

Zimmerman finished second in the heavyweight division and teammate Bryan Krazel placed second at 119 pounds, dropping a 6-4 decision to Western's Pat Conway in the title

THIRD-PLACE finishes went to Mike Daniels at 98 pounds, Rob Matigian ab 126, and Charlie Lauber at 167. Mark Stabile finished fourth at 145, as did Abe Zakhem at 185.

"I thought we had a chance at winning the title but we didn't wrestle as well as we could have, and Salem wrestled very well," said Glenn coach Tom Buckalew. "We didn't have any champions but we had a very balanced performance. That's the kind of thing we've been doing all year. We don't have any outstanding wrestlers but everyone on the team works very, very hard.'

It's all even between Troy Athens and Freeland after two meetings.

The gymnastics powers proved again Saturday they are the two of the best high school teams in the state. But which one is tops, remains up for grabs.

Saturday, it was Freeland's turn to claim supremacy as the Falcons outscored the state's No. 1 ranked Red Hawks to win the 11-team Plymouth Canton Invitational. Freeland finished with 137.55 points, while the Red Hawks scored 136.25.

Less than a month ago, it was the Red Hawks who trimmed the Falcons, winning the Athens Invitational. 136.95-136.80

"I CAN'T complain because we did real well," praised Athens coach Frank DiVito. "We scored a lot of nine's, and we had a couple girls turn in the best meets of their careers.

"Maybe finishing second will make the girls work a little harder," DiVito went on. "We beat them the first time and now they beat us so that evens it at 1-1. It's the next meet (state) that counts.'

Plymouth Salem turned in its finest outing of the season, finishing third at 131.50. Dearborn High came in fourth at 130.35, host Canton finished fifth at 124.95, Kimball was sixth at 123.35, Farmington seventh at 122.65, Midland Dow eighth at 121.65, Vassar ninth at 113.65 and Northville 10th at 113.45.

Jamie Nieman spearheaded Freeland's victory by finishing first in three events. Nieman, who finished first in all-around with a 36.45, won the vault with a 9.7, the beam with a 9.05 and the floor with a 9.15.

Teammate Kris Kelly finished behind Nieman in the all-around with a 35.45. Kelly recorded a second-place showing on floor with a 9.05 and a fourth on bars with a 8.70.

ATHENS TUMBLER Natalie Leich turned in the best performance of her prep career, according to DiVito, as she recorded the third best all-around score with a 35.00.

Leich's highest finish came on beam where she scored an 8.75 to come in second place. The talented sophomore added a fifth-place show-

Red Hawk freshman Melissa Miller finished fourth in the all-around with a 34.95. Her accomplishments included a blue-ribbon showing on bars with a 9.2. Miller added a thirdplace finish on floor with an 8.8 and a seventh on vault with a 9.05.

TALBOT, WHO finished eighth in all-around with a 34.30, turned in her best effort on bars where she scored an 8.75 to finish third. She came in fourth place on floor with an 8.70.

Salem also got a top 10 finish from Jennie Syria who finished tied for seventh on bars with Canton's Mary Jo Charron. Both gymnasts scored an 8.35. Jackie Huff finished eighth Junior Janice Greff also enjoyed on floor with an 8.55 and Dana Holda wound up in tie for ninth on bars with a 8.25.

Canton's Brenda Perry finished tied for 10th on floor with an 8.35.

CEP royalty

Huff, Salem reign in Park gym

By Chris McCosky staff writer

Two things became crystal clear Monday night during Plymouth Salem's 136.95-131.30 gymnastics triumph over Plymouth Canton.

No. 1: Plymouth Salem, despite its sluggish start, deserves its No. 3 ranking in Observerland. After the Rocks' 0-2 beginning, the feeling was prevalent that Canton was the thirdbest team in the area behind North Farmington and Westland John Glenn.

Nope. Last Thursday Salem outscored Canton 131.65-128.1 in a three-way meet with Ann Arbor Pioneer. Saturday, at Canton's Invitational, Salem outscored Canton 131.50-124.95. (See related story.) Monday's win erased all doubt.

No. 2: Monday's meet also served as a coronation for Salem's Jackie Huff, the queen of Centennial Educational Park gymnastics.

DESPITE a stress fracture in her left foot, a sprained right ankle and repeated warnings from Salem trainer Sharon Bouchard to stop punishing herself - lit up Canton's Phase III facility with a series of superb routines. She amassed a schoolrecord 35.80 all-around score, topping Beth Rafail's 1986 mark of 34.85.

Where a good many gymnasts are perceived as prima donnas, Huff is a proven warrior. She had not performed up to her All-Area capabilities prior to Monday. She hadn't scored above 34.0 all-around. Yet never did she use the injuries as an excuse and never did she give up.

"I've been competing in everything, but I just haven't been able to hit anything," Huff said Monday. "I'm using a lot of new tricks and just haven't been hitting them consistently. I've been falling about five times every meet."

She resprained her right ankle Saturday. If it were up to Bouchard, who had to tape both of Huff's ankles and feet twice Monday, the queen of CEP gymanstics would have abdicated her throne.

"I tell her to quit all the time," Bouchard said. "She just won't quit." Said Huff: "I hate to sit and watch. I watched so much last year and this is my last year to compete. I had to compete today. This was Canton. I know that sounds stupid, but we really have to win this meet. We beat them twice before but this is the one that counts."

PERHAPS THE most punishing event for Huff is vault. It hurts to watch her sprint down the runway. Her feet turn inward to somehow cushion the pounding. But her strength carried her through. She performed a brilliant half-twist on, half-twist off vault. Her extension away from the apparatus was amazing and her landing nearly perfect. She scored a 9.25. First place.

She scored an 8.9 on uneven parallel bars, her best score of the year. Only teammate Becky Talbot, who scored an 8.95, was better.

On balance beam Huff pulled off a perfect aerial cartwheel, landing and states."

softly on her right foot and allowing her sore left foot to dangle alongside the beam. The crowd, Canton and Salem rooters alike, buzzed with appreciation. She scored an 8.75, first

She was second best on floor exercise, just missing a dynamic fulltwisting back layout. She scored an 8.9, second to Talbot's 9.0. Huff limped noticeably after the meet. She was hurting on the outside. But inside she was jumping for joy. The school record, the win against Canton, regaining her All-Area form - these things more than offset the aches and pains.

"It would have been really strange for me not to compete," she said. "This is really all I have."

HUFF'S PERFORMANCE served as the headline for a superb effort by both teams. Salem's 136.95 team score is the second-highest recorded in Observerland this season. Canton's 131.30 is a team high and the fourth-highest in the area.

"Basically, we just wanted to have fun today," Salem coach Kathi Kinsella said. "This has been a tough week. We went Monday, Thursday, Saturday and today. I'm giving them two days off. They deserve it.

Whenever two teams score above 130 in a dual meet, the question of lenient judging comes up.

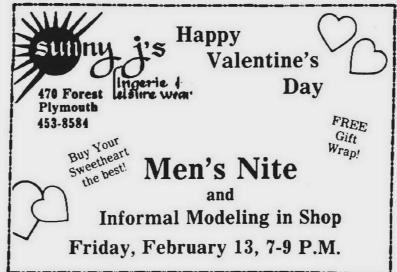

"Quite honestly," said Canton coach John Cunningham, "I expected to score 130 tonight. In terms of performances, I had two or three gymnasts not score well. So we can get higher. I did think there were a couple of high scores, but there were others that I thought were too low There was a balance. I think the scores were about right."

The Chiefs got solid all-around performances from Mary Jo Charron (33.45), Brenda Perry (32.35), Maureen McLean (31.70) and Apryl Mosakowski (30.75).

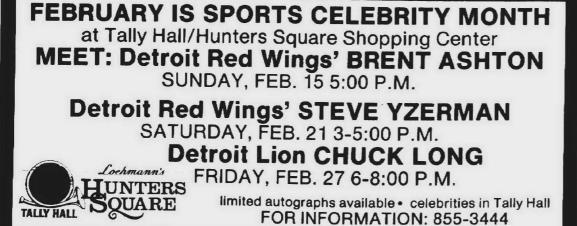

Talbot, who has been the Rocks' most consistent performer this year, scored 35.40 all-around. Amy Pastori scored 31.90.

"The scores may have been high, I don't know," Kinsella said. "But let them celebrate. They know what's coming up. They know what they have to do for leagues and regionals

Engineers hopes derailed after a Falcon twin kill

By Chris McCosky staff writer

The up and down Hennessey Engineers may be down for good in terms of winning home ice advantage for the North American Junior Hockey League playoffs.

Just about all hopes of landing in second place in the three-team league were dashed last weekend as the Plymouth-based Junior A bockey team lost twice to the Fraser Fal-

Friday night at the Plymouth Cultural Center, the Falcons nipped the Engineers 3-2. The Falcons won 4-1 Sunday afternoon at Fraser.

The two wins pushed the Falcons past Detroit Compuware and into first place in the NAJHL. In all games, Fraser has a 21-9-5 record in 35 games (47 points). Compuware is 20-6-5 in 31 games (45 points). The Engineers are 17-4-6 in 37 games (40

In games against common opponents of the three teams, which will ultimately decide the NAJHL's final standings: Fraser is 20-7-4 (44 points), Compuware is 19-7-4 (42 points) and the Engineers are 13-12-4 (30 points).

The first-place team will earn a bye in the state Junior A tournament and an automatic berth in the U.S. ened by the flu. National Junior Tournament at the Oak Park Compuware Arena in April. The second- and third-place teams in the NAJHL will battle for the second berth in the national tournament. The second-place team will goals in six games. have home ice advantage in the best of seven playoff series.

"I GUESS we have to start gearing for the playoffs," said Engineers coach A.J. Baker. "All I can do is think back to last year in the playoffs."

Last year, the Falcons edged the Engineers in a seven-game playoff. The Falcons won four games at team used a Plymouth-Canton connection to pull out the 3-2 victory.

Falcons goalie Bill Pye of Canton, who appears headed to Northern Michigan University on a hockey scholarship next fall, stopped 51 of 53 Engineers shots.

"Billy Pye had an excellent game," Baker said. "We had several great opportunities. We just didn't Offensively, Plymouth residents Tony Esser and Tom Yockey each scored a goal for the Falcons.

Bob Mlynarek and Steve Ramberg scored the two Engineers goals. Goalie Doug Brown also played a superb game. He made 40 saves.

THE SAME problem bit the Engineers Sunday - a lack of offense but for a different reason. The Engineers played without its three top scorers. Bryan Krygier (shoulder injury), Larry Pilut (flu) and Leif Gustafson (broken hand) didn't dress. Mlynarek played, but he was weak-

Yockey added two more assists. Esser another goal and Canton resident Sean Worden scored a goal for the Falcons. Esser has scored six

Scott Markiewicz scored the lone Engineer goal. Dave Church kicked away 45 of 49 shots in the Hennessey Ironically, Fraser won both games without any scoring from its top guns, Denny Felsner and Don Stone. The two had scored 46 goals between them coming into the weekend.

"They must have had five or six breakaways between them and our goalies stoned them each time,' Baker said.

A moral victory if nothing else. The Engineers will host Compu-

The ice dancing duo once won a silver medal as Juniors at the U.S. Figure Skating Championships, but never as seniors until last weekend in Tacoma, Wash., when they walked off with the bronze, finishing behind gold medalists Suzanne Semanick and Scott Gregory and silver medalists Renee Roca and Donald Adair.

Wynne, 21, is a native of Syracuse, N.Y. Her partner, Druar, 24, is a native of Buffalo, N.Y.

But the two felt there was a void in their training regimen, so they relocated to the Ice Box in Trenton, seeking the direction of nationally known figure skating coaches Sandy Hess and Peter Dalby, along with the ballet instructor Phillip Mills.

"It's the coaching and the new environment," said Wynne, who lives with relatives Chuck and Carol Miller in Canton Township. (Druar lives in Romulus.) "I consider it the best in the country and we have people (other teams) to push us. The rink is great and the ice time is always available. You don't have to worry about competing with hockey."

"They've defined it and made it more clear," she said. "We now see what it takes to beat the other teams. Being in third is the closest we've been to beating them. We've changed our goals."

By finishing third, Wynne and Druar will serve as alternates for the U.S. team at the World Championships next month in Cincinnati, Ohio. (They'll also compete this summer at the Olympic Sports Festival

Last May, Marilyn Campbell said she agonized over the decision to send her daughter Jeri, a talented figure skater, to California to train under the astute coaching of Barbara Roice-Williams.

"It was a tremendous decision for the entire family," said Mrs. Campbell. "We were talking about separation." But there was no second-guessing after Jeri's performance last week-end in the U.S. Figure Skating Championships in Tacoma, Wash. The 16-year-old Garden City native finished first in the final standings for Junior Women, which took Jeri and her family somewhat by "It was kind of a shock," said Jeri.

'I really worked hard for it.

"My coach thought I could do it if I did my best.'

Although she did not take first in any of the three disciplines, Campbell came away the winner. She was second in the compulsory figures and short program and fourth in free-

The win has guaranteed Campbell a spot this summer in the Olympic Sports Festival in Charlotte, N.C. She will also most likely represent the U.S. Junior Team in a pair of international events. Next year, an Olympic year, she will compete in the Seniors against the likes of newly crowned U.S. champion Jill Trenary and last year's World Champion Debi Thomas.

"I think I'm prepared for it (the Seniors)," said Campbell from her Harbor City, Calif. residence, located 20 minutes outside of Los Ange-

Her coach, Rolce-Williams, whose son Scott finished third in the Senior Men's, is described as "demanding." "I practice six hours a day," reminds Jeri. "I get tutored at the rink every morning. I start skating at 9 a.m. It's a lot more physical than I was used to (at the Garden City Figure Skating Club). It's demanding work."

JERI CAMPBELL wasn't the only area skater to earn points at the U.S. Championships.

Following in the footsteps of former Olympic ice dancers Carol Fox (Westland) and Richard Dalley (Southfield), were a pair of area teams - Susan Wynne of Canton Township and her partner Joseph Druar of Romulus, who took third in the Senior Dance; and Jodie Balogh of Livonia and partner Jerod Swallow of Northville, who finished 10th. Georgia state parks preserve Indian heritage

ecial writer

Centuries before the first Euroans stepped onto Georgia's shores, dian tribes across the state developed remarkably high cultures. As far back as 1000 A.D., Etowahs and Mistissippians built colossal earthen mounds for religious and tribal rites and were part of a trading network extending to the Great Lakes and Gulf of Mexico. Early 19th-century Cherokees wore European clothes, had law courts and a bilingual newspaper read as far away as London and Hamburg.

The white man's arrival was dpomsday for the Indians. By federal government decree, they were evictel from their lands in the 1830s and forcibly exiled west of the Mississippl. Memories of those lost civilizations live today through landmarks maintained by Georgia's excellent state parks and historic sites system. Several are grouped together in the tate's northwest corner, convenient detrips from Interstate 75.

After more than a century of neelect, the rooms have been decorated and furnished as they were in their prime. The most notable feature is an elaborately carved "floating" staircase, the oldest example of dantilevered construction in Georgia. Youngsters were meant to be neishaped attic bedrooms.

FOR A bit of relaxation, with a npet scenic parks, Fort Mountain remembers as "The Trail of Tears." sits atop a thickly forested 2,800-foot Blue Ridge Mountains. You can decide for yourself whether a stone wall snaking 855 feet across the mountainside was part of an ancient honeymoon lodge or a Maginot Line who somehow found their way into his rugged wilderness.

After your history lesson, swim, ish, paddle a canoe in a clean, cool puntaintop lake; hike through the oods to awesome overlooks and set the youngsters loose on the playounds. Landmarks include the authentirected by 12th century Welshmen cally furnished interiors of the "Cherokee Phoenix" printing office, Vann's Tavern, the Supreme Court Building and the home of the Rev. Samuel Worcester, a Massachusetts minister who established a school and church here. Youngsters will enjoy demonstrations of arrowhead making and hunting methods.

If you'd like to break bread with the natives, head for the restaurant at the Shepherd Motel at Exit 129. This unpretentious looking cafe serves some of the best homecooking in north Georgia, with a surprising gourmet flair.

An extensive collection of Indian bthers elsewhere in the state park arrowheads is part of the collection at the Weinman Mineral Museum, adjacent to Exit 126. The small, well-planned museum also displays emstones, crystals, minerals and fossils from northwest Georgia's own mineral belt and from as far away as the Western U.S., Africa, South America, Canada and Mexico.

Off Exit 124 at Cartersville, the Etowah Indian Mounds Archaeological Site was the center of an advanced culture that prospered in the Etowah River Valley between 1000 and 1500 A.D. At its peak, several thousand people lived in a fortified town surrounded by a wooden stockade and deep moat.

WITHIN THE palisade, Etowahs built large mounds of packed clay crowned by temples and residences of priests and chiefs. Part of a busy trading network, they fashioned jewelry and tools from Gulf Coast shells, Tennessee flint and copper from the Great Lakes. They hunted, fished and raised fruits and vegetables. For mysterious reasons, the town was abandoned in the 16th cen-

Under state auspices, the site includes an excellent museum and half a dozen earthen mounds. Among displays are a burial chamber with the skeleton of a priest or chief adorned with shell jewelry and copper insignia of rank. Marble statues of a man and woman are among the most important Indian relics ever recovered in the Southeast.

A short walk behind the museum, three major mounds may be climbed on steep wooden steps. Mound A, the largest, is 63 feet, the height of a sixstory building. Others are smaller and easier to negotiate. After all that climbing, you'll be ready for a hearty lunch or dinner. The Country Place and Morrell's in downtown Cartersville specialize in tasty regional dishes, steaks and seafoods at moderate prices. You can walk that off while browsing the tempting selections of paintings, pottery, hand-made quilts and weaving by local artists at the Etowah Arts Gallery, 13 Wall St.

AT RED Top Mountain State Park, off Exit 123, you can spend a few refreshing hours or an entire holiday on the shores of an inland sea. Banked by blue-green mountains, Lake Allatoona's 10,550 acres offer bountiful opportunities for water skiiing, swimming and sunning

Cranbrook Museum hosts watershed event

By Corinne Abatt staff writer

OLK ART'S APPEAL runs anywhere from cool socio-intellectual to hot emotional bordering on passion. Companion shows at Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum, "The Ties That Bind: Folk Art in Contemporary American Culture" and "The Decoy as Folk Sculpture," hit on two parts of the folk art phenomenon.

If there was any doubt about the local interest in folk often one and the same

Michael Hall, sculptor in residence at the Acaderay. co-curator of the "The Ties That Bind," and folk collector extraordinaire, was the moderator for the symposi-

Since ti atle of Metealf's presentation was "The Social Meming of Collecting Contemporary Folk Art," he are intent upon looking at the reasons people colto a certain kind of folk art than the reasons the artsts made or make it.

He said historical folk art, "which does not relate to ective. the concerns of modern society" provides an easy escape for those who want to go back to a less complicated way of life.

Ethnographic folk art obviously would appeal to those with recent European ties, and the neo-naive satisfies a need for nostalgic images. Neo-naive is essentially re-

Herbert Waide Hemphill Jr., collector and former curator of the Museum of Modern Folk Art of New York City, who has given a major part of his collection to the Smithsonian Institute, said graffiti, neon trade signs and photographs can be folk art

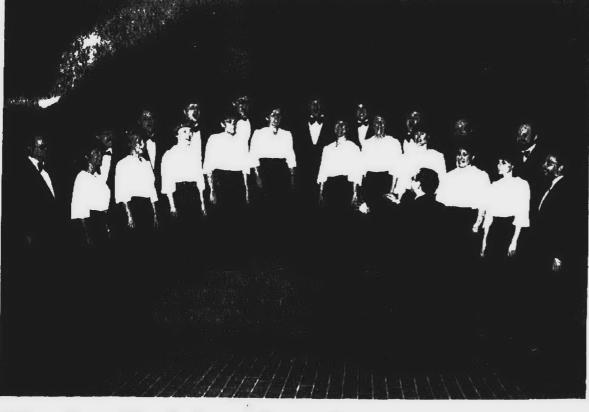

"Carnival art is a whole field of its own," he said.

Later as slides were shown of some of the pieces Hemphill loaned for the 1972 Cranbrook folk art exhibit, he answered questions from the audience.

When asked to explain why certain pieces attracted him, he said, "I don't analyze my aesthetics about each piece. I always wanted my collection to talk for me."

Later, he said when he sees a piece and feels a chill go down the back of his spine, he knows it's something he wants, "I don't care if anyone else likes it if I think wonderful. It's a gut reaction.'

Four highly regarded collectors and authorities on decoys, Julie Hall, Tim Hill, Ron Swanson and Klune Walsh Jr. showed slides of decoys and swapped stories about how they found them and, in some cases, how they were used and what they meant.

Singing their hearts out

For a special valentine's day treat, take your sweetle over to the Livonia City Hall auditorium at 3 p.m. Sunday when the newly formed David Jorlett Chorale will lift their voices in song. Admission is $3 and tickets are available at the door. The event is sponsored by the Livonia Arts Commission. It's the chorale's first appearance in Livonia but director Jorlett is no stranger to the area. He is on the faculty of the Southfield Public Schools, Schoolcraft College and the University of Michigan. He is currently president-elect of the Michigan Music Educator's Association. Accompanist is Jane Branscom, coach/accompanist for the Schoolcraft College Community Choir.

Computerized archive takes romance to heart

F YOU'RE LOOKING for some helpful hints for finding your true love on Valentine's Day, the computerized folklore archive at the University of Detroit suggests you take a look at our fine feathered friends

If you see a blackbird, you will marry a clergyman. A goldfinch means that your spouse will be a millionaire, but a bluebird spells a life of poverty because your future mate will be far from rich

If no birds are in sight, drop three balls of clay into a bucket of water. Each should contain the name of a likely prospect on a sheet of paper. The first one to rise will be your valentine.

DREAMS HAVE A magic of their own and if you want to spend a night with your true love, follow one of these dream-recipes before going to bed:

Put three bay leaves under your pillow. You're sure to dream of the person you will

Or boil an egg in salt water. Then eat the whole thing, shell and all. If that doesn't conjure up your future spouse, it might help to add some audioappeal. Try reciting this piece of folk-verse:

Good valentine be kind to me; in a dream let me my true love see

The archive, directed by Professor James T. Callow, is the world's first computerized folklore collection and it includes thousands of items collected every semester by students / of folklore. Since 1964, informants have been steadily enlarging and refining the archive with traditions from all over the world.

EGGS, FOR EXAMPLE, are widely recognized for the important roles they play in the serious business of courtship and marriage. Unmarried Polish and Hungarian girls used to give eggs, sometimes by the dozens, to their boyfriends. In Macedonia, engaged couples exchanged eggs as gifts while Russians and Indonesians used eggs at their marriage ceremonies.

However, if you're hounded by an unwanted valentine, relief may be only a salt shaker away. Salt, according to folk wisdom, can quiet a storm, bless a new house, cure an earache — and get rid of unwanted visitors.

Romancing the tale is big business

T TOOK A poet — Geoffrey Chaucer, in fact — to find romance in the day marking the beheading of St. Valentine, an early Christian martyr Chaucer mentioned that Feb. 14 was the day when birds began to pair, and from there came the exchange among friends and lovers of heart-shaped beribboned cards, then candy, then flowers - or so the story goes.

And if romance is in the air this week, it's merely business as usual at the bookstores. Big business.

It's not unusual for the romance publishers, giddy with continued success, to announce first printing figures upwards of 100,000 for littleknown or even first-time authors. And those books sell, often before they even hit the shelves. Romance aficionados order by the dozen, by author or byline (Silhouette Intimate Moments or Harlequin Supperromance, for example).

AND NOWHERE IS romance more evident than in the current shocking pink, valentine bedecked issue of Romantic Times magazine.

If you've never seen Romantic Times, you might not know that some of our own area writers are among the "names." This month at least four of them are featured or pictured as the magazine covered the Fifth Annual Romantic Times

Southfield writer Ruth Ryan Langan and Farmington Hills' Marianne Willman were workshop leaders at the conference. Langan's latest book, "The Proper Miss Porter," is among the 100 books reviewed in what publishers Kathryn Falk calls "the biggest issue yet.'

Troy writer Linda Lang Bartell rates a review plus a full-page ad. Bartell's second novel, "Alyssa," was selected by Avon as one of two novels marking the debut of their increased two-a-month Ribbon line.

Set in Norman England, "Alyssa" is "related" to her popular first historical romance, "Brianna." Roland, the lead male character in her first book, is twin brother to Ranulf, the romantic interest in "Alyssa."

Bartell, a former French and history teacher, is already at work on a third novel set during the same period. She says the research, including the proper use and rhythm of the language, is what she loves best. She spends so much time at it, "it can be pretty embarrassing when all of a sudden I begin talking like my 11thcentury heroines."

"Brianna should be on the shelves now," Bartell says. Romantic Times rates it as "sensual."

Bartell will be autographing "Alyssa" at the Novel Trader in Troy from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Satur-

Then there's Bloomfield Hills writer Jan Greenburg, better known as Jill Gregory. RT highlights her (in a feature with the Grand Dame herself, Barbara Cartland) as Berkley Publisher's "number one bestseller." Her latest is "Moonlit Obsession."

All four writers belong to the very active Greater Detroit chapter of Romance Writers of America. On March 28 three of the four (Langan, Bartell and Willman) will serve as workshop leaders at a seminar at Oakland University's Sunset Terrace entitled "Tapping the Source -Query to Contract." Local RWA president Marianne Shock, inspirational writer Carrole Rugenstein and others will fill the program.

Craig Carver, individual artists coordinator for the Michigan Council for the Arts, is scheduled as keynote speaker. The deadline for reservations has been extended to March 15. Manuscript labs, however, are closed. For information and applications, write to Terey Ramin, 223 W. Rutgers, Pontiac 48055.

ICHIGAN WOMAN magazine is seeking manuscripts for a new literary journal scheduled for publication in the bimonthly magazine's May-June issue.

Editor Betsy Hull is looking for fiction (short stores or novel excerpts), essays, poetry or plays by Michigan writers. Hull says selections can be on any subject except pornography.

Michigan Woman is geared toward the successful, upscale business and career woman. Recent articles spotlighted Lieutenant Governor Martha Griffith; Jeanette Lerman, communications veep at Burroughs Corp.; and Catherine Comet, music director for the Grand Rapids Symphony.

Manuscripts must be typed, dou- FICTION ble-spaced and limited to 2,500 end before the March 1 deadline. Payment is seeing your words in print in the first installment of the slick magazine's foray into the literary world. There will be more, Hull said, if this one goes well. Send to: Betsy Hull, Editor, Michigan Woman Magzine, P.O. Box 1171, Birmingham 48012

AINE POET Baron C. Wormser ("The White Words" and "Good Trembling," Houghton Mifflin) will speak at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 19, in the Greek Room on Wayne State's main campus. The event is sponsored by the Miles Modern Poetry Committee, WSU's English department. It's free. Call 577-

Geoffrey Wolff's Feb. 17 reading for U-M's Visiting Writer's series has been cancelled. Susan Richards Shreve, author of the recently acclaimed "Queen of Hearts," (Simon & Shuster), is scheduled to read at 4 p.m. Tuesday, March 3, in the Rackham East Conference Room. Call 764-6296.

RIENDS OF THE Livonia Howard Levine discuss his book, "Life Choices: Con-fronting the Life and Death Decisions Created by Modern Medicine" at Carl Sandburg Library, 7:30 p.m. Friday, Febe 20. Taking part in the discussion will be Robert Skonieczny, education coordinator of respiratory therapy at Mount Clemens Hospital. The public may attend.

Netherlands, a Rotterdam music critic

NTERNATIONALLy recognized planist Laura Kargul will perform in concert at Metropolitan Methodist Church at 8 p.m. Friday. She will be performing on the church's new Bechstein grand piano in a highly favorable acoustic setting.

Kargul was invited to the Eighth

International Tchaikowsky Competition in Moscow last spring. Already familiar to audiences throughout the Great Lakes Region, she is now receiving high acclaim in European music centers as well.

In 1985, the Rotterdam Nieuwsblad heralded her debut in The Netherlands as "one of the most remarkable recitals given in our country" and called her "a pianist with a lot to say." In 1986, at Amersterdam's Concertgebouw, the Haagsche for Minnesota Public Radio, and was recently featured on a PBS televi-longs on the big concert stages of sion broadcast by the WKAR-TV Fine Arts Series.

She has won prizes from numerous American competitions, most notably a top prize in the 1983 National Federation of Music Clubs Young Artist Competition. She has also appeared at the Ordway Music Theater and Weyerhaeuser Auditorium in St. Paul, Minn., Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor, the Midland Center for the Arts, the Potter Center in Jackson, and numerous colleges in the midwest United States. From 1984 to 1986, she was artist in residence at Albion College.

Kargul started piano studies at age six with Rebecca Frohman in Detroit and made her solo debut with orchestra at age 13. After winning Interlochen's all-state scholarship to the University of Michigan, she studied with Leon Fleisher and Theodore Lettvin. She has had major classes with Gary Hoffman, Murray Perahia and Andre Watts.

Metropolitan Church is located on Woodward, five blocks north of Grand Bouelvard and near all major expressways. Free, lighted and supervised parking is available next to the church. Additional information can be obtained by calling 875-7070 during regular business hours.

From stem to stern, Pinafore is smooth ride launched 109 years ago in London and this Gilbert and Sullivan romp has been sailing full-steam ahead ever

It is no wonder when such lyric tenors as David Troiana take the part of the ignobly-born Rafe (the English pronouncing for Ralph) Rackstraw, the smartest lad in all of the English fleet. Troiano did that last weekend at the Marquis Theater in Northville in the newest production and latest offering of the Michigan Lyric Opera that continues this Troiano's voice is beautiful and his acting gave enough sense to the nonsense to make his part affectionate and enough intelligence to the satire to make him believable.

In short, Troiano's voice is worth the entire ticket alone, just to hear him sing "The Nightingale," "A Maiden Fair to See" and "Farewell, My Own."

THAT IS NOT say he is the only shining star to grace Ron Diehl's black and white shipshape sets on the Northville stage. He is not.

Jane Schoonmaker Rodgers, recently heard as a finalist in the Metropolitan Opera auditions here in Detroit, was Josephine. In full command of her top notes, her voice fairly sailed over the live orchestra and chorus under capable Douglas Morrison's direction.

Rogers' "Sorry Her Lot" certainly made hope more alive than dead as her acting as her acting strengthened throughout the afternoon. When she brings her middle voice to the quality of the top, she will be singing more opera.

H.M.S. Pinafore was the first great success of the English team in 1878 combining literary and musical review satire. In the story, Josephine is the daughter of the well-bred Captain Corcoran (Stephen Sell) and is being sought by the ruler of the Queen's Navy, Sir Joseph Porter, portrayed here in properly detestable fashion by George Bloomfield.

SELL PROVIDED AN amiable leader of this motley group of sailors and sang with a voice that excelled when he was in his range. As the story unfolds, it is learned that Little Buttercup has switched Ralph and the captain as bables, leaving each to live in the other's station in life.

Jennifer Hilbish, as Little Buttercup, was not so round and rosy and was too pretty to be old enough to have nursed the captain and Ralph Nevertheless, Hilbish brought some credibility to the part with an acting style that left unmistable hints of the plot's coming events. Her mezzo-voice was clear and powerful.

As boatswain, University of the Michigan student Eric Gibson captured the very essence of the musical. Pronouncedly expressive, he enlivened an otherwise mundane men's chorus, especially with his patriotic version of "He Is an Englishman."

Mark Byars was equally effective as the voice of doom - Dick Deadeye. Dorothy Duensing took the role of Counsin Hebe and made it into a bright spot of humor among a chorus that was only adequate when all the leads were on stage.

Joyce Uzelac's stage direction offered humor and movement while being true to the traditions of the operetta. Dolly Scheibelhut's costumes were brilliant.

Tint & Splint moves to new home will highlight the grand opening Sunday of Tint & Splint Basketry in its new larger location in Garden City.

Festivities begin at 1 p.m. and continue to 6 p.m. in the new home at 30100 Ford Road. The 2,200-square-foot building is devoted entirely to the art of basketmaking and chair caning, said Tint & Splint president Kathleen Crombie.

Tint & Splint, one of the nation's largest reed and cane suppliers, offers a full line of basket-

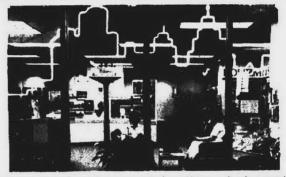

Basketmaking and chair caning demonstrations making materials, books, tools, chair cane, rush and do-it-yourself furniture. Materials are sold locally as well as through a nationally advertised mailorder catalog. The store also offers some of the finest basketmaking classes and workshops in the country, Crombie noted.

> Conducting the demonstrations will be Plymouth basketmaker Theresa Ohno and Robyn Crombie. Special one-day only sales and door prizes are also planned.

Finding the Right Mortgage Can Be as Challenging as Finding the Right Home.

unless you have

MortgagePower®

...the complete financing program from Citicorp that makes buying your new home easier than ever!

Our contractual agreement with Citicorp Homeowners, Inc. provides you with one of the most effective and reliable financing sources available. With the MortgagePower® Program, you'll find shopping for a mortgage to be faster and more convenient than you thought possible.

- Fast Loan Decisions. A simplified application requirement and priority processing system allows you to receive a loan decision within 15 business days after the completed application has been received.
- Special "Fast Track" Processing. If you're prepared to make a down payment of 25%, a loan decision will be delivered even faster than normal.
- Dedicated Individual Attention. You and your real estate broker will work with mortgage specialists who are prepared to do whatever it takes to make sure you get the right financing for your individual needs. They will oversee your application every step of the way to insure fast, smooth turnaround.

- Wide Array of Mortgage Programs. You'll be able to select from a wide variety of affordable mortgage plans including fixed rate, adjustable rate and some innovative options you're not likely to find elsewhere.
- Larger Loan Amounts. We'll do everything we can to maximize your purchasing power. In fact, chances are you can borrow up to 20% more with the MortgagePower® Program than you could without it. And our down payment requirements go as low as 10%.
- Call your nearest Real Estate One office to put MortgagePower® to work for you.

Whatever a bride chooses for her bridesmaids, she should make sure the dresses complement her own look in length and formality. The bridal gown here is by Frank Masandre creation from the Diamond Collection at Jacobson's. The bridesmaids dresses show the option of an off-shoulder look if so desired.Back interest is captured with large, satin bows.

Wedding

Large, lavish

HE ROYAL weddings of Prince Charles and Princess Diana, Prince Andrew and Princess Sarah, and that of America's own "royalty" - Caroline Kennedy and Edwin Schlossberg, have aided the renaissance of the traditional wedding ceremony in its most elegant, formal and elaborate form.

"Large and fancy weddings are in," says Marie Rama, director of weddings and entertaining for Korbel Champagne. "Brides-to-be are returning to lavish, formal, traditional wedd-

Lavish weddings, of course, call for larger bridal parties. According to Modern Bride magazine, 98 percent of all weddings of first-time brides in 1986 were large, formal ceremonies that involved approximately five female and five male attendants.

FASHIONS FOR members of the bridal party have become elaborate and inventive.

While there's no doubt the bride is still the center of attention, the bridegroom, groomsmen and bridal attendants will be able to hold their own with fashions that catch the guests' eyes after the bride has made her way down

One of the freshest looks for bridesmaids is the English garden print, according to Modern Bride. This style is best in chintz, with bouquets of peonies and cabbage roses in soft pastels and earth tones. Also popular is the Victorian dress with delicate embroidered necklines, lots of beading or the Lady Diana look in full-blown taffeta.

The colors for bridesmaid dresses span the color wheel, said Joan Bobrow, spokeswoman for Alfred Angelo Bridals. "Anything goes," she said. "There's a whole rainbow of colors."

forecast

- '30s touch

PALE PINKS, AOUAS and lilacs especially complement this year's popular ballerina look - filmy floating dancing skirts.

Another trend in wedding wear is a eturn to the 1930s look. In bridesmaid sses, this translates into dropped wais lines, bateau necklines, cap sleeves and elegant fabrics.

Whatever look a bride chooses for her bridesmaids, she should make sure the dresses complement her own look in length and formality. She might even consider consulting her maid of honor and bridesmaids before choosing a style since they'll pay for their dress-

There's no doubt a traditional bride will wear white or ivory on her wedding day, and in 1987, she might very well be joined by the groom. This year marks the return to the all-white wedding, according to Bobrow. Traditional grooms also will be in high style sporting dolphin gray or black tuxedos.

THE STYLE OF tuxedo the bridegroom will wear depends largely upon the time of day and formality of the wedding.

For a formal daytime affair, the bridegroom might choose a gray cutaway coat, white shirt and striped silk ascot. After 6, he might choose "white tie" formality - a black doublebreasted tuxedo with matching satintrimmed trousers, stiff-front shirt and wing tips.

The groomsmen traditionally dress like the bridegroom, but a top hat, ruby studs, gloves or cummerbund can set the man of the hour apart.

Most couples rent their wedding tuxedos. It's best for a bride and bridegroom to make their final choices six to eight weeks before the wedding so they'll get the styles they want.

nuptial nightmare, but there are ways of dealing with the special risks that come with special occasions, says a security firm president.

"Some burglars read the society pages of daily newspapers that run announcements in advance of the wedding," says Ira Lipman, president of Guardsmark Inc., "looking for the date and time of weddings to find out when the families' homes will be unoccupied and easily accessible."

In his book, "How to Protect Yourself From Crime," Lipman writes that a wedding notice is not the only tipoff. A burglar may also be alerted by marriage plans published at church or by an employee of the caterer, florist or jeweler or others providing wedding goods or services, Lipman said.

The easiest way to protect against wedding-day theft is to get a friend, relative or neighbor to stay with your gifts during the wedding and reception, said Neil Solomon, vice president for technical services at Guardsmark.

In special cases, Solomon said, hiring a security guard might be a good

He also advises that before you hire extra help for the reception or shower, check the company carefully on its insurance coverage and bonding. And, while the temptation to show off wedding gifts is hard to resist, keep valuables away from windows.

Wedding planners are real 'keepers'

HE LAST GUESTS ARE on their way out the door, the wedding cake is almost gone and the band members are packing their instruments. Hard to believe the wedding that required all those months of preparation and planning is over.

Yet the memories of the day can linger on, especially if the bride and groom decide on the wedding keepsakes they want months before they finally say "I do."

One easy way is through the use of wedding planners that are now available at most bookstores and stationery

THE PLANNERS HELP YOU SORT through the seemingly endless details of planning a wedding, be it a long-term engagement or a whirlwind courtship. Later, you can look back on your wedding plans. Many planners are designed in workbook fashion so you can pen in plans and include a directory section for important names and numbers, a pocket to store receipts and contracts and an index for quick reference.
