Hunting ban in township?

Voters will decide on race for board

By Doug Funke staff writer

The Plymouth Township Board will decide Tuesday whether to ask the state Department of Natural Resources to consider banning all hunting within the township except on property owned by the Western Wayne Conservation Club.

Hunting is now allowed Oct. 19 to March 1 west of a line from Ann Arbor Road to Ridge Road to M-14 to Beck Road, excluding the Plymouth Hills Mobile Court and the Oak Haven Trailer Court.

The DNR would be asked by the township to form a committee to conduct public hearings and then decide the issue.

The township board is scheduled to convene at 7:30 p.m.

THE TOWNSHIP could ban hunting only as far as the DNR committee were to decide, said Esther Hulsing, township clerk.

Hulsing said she placed the issue on the board's agenda after consulting with Supervisor Maurice Breen and James Anulewicz, planning director.

She's looking for a total ban.

"It's a safety consideration and a safety consideration only," she said. "I have no quarrels with people who want to hunt."

Residential growth has spurted along Ridge Road. Also, development of a technology park is under way north of M-14 between Ridge and Beck roads.

The committee to conduct hearings on the banning would consist of a representive from DNR, state police, county sheriff and township, Hulsing said.

Fisher case still in limbo Man gets probation in fatal car accident

By Diane Gale staff writer

Almost three years have passed since their daughter was murdered. And still Manuel and Evelyn Mercado wait for the justice system to finish its work.

The case has been in limbo since a jury's guilty verdict was nullified more than 15 months ago.

"To us it means the man is still Manuel Mercado said last free," week. "The frustration is tremendous because we don't know what to do.'

Bizarre twists occurred at every turn in the case, starting with the way Ella Maria Mercado-Fisher, 32, was ambushed and her head was wrapped with duct tape in her Canton home July 14, 1984. She died in the hospital from complications caused by loss of oxygen to her brain.

Her husband, Dr. Charles Ray Fisher, was arrested in the Virgin Islands and charged with first degree murder in a case bolstered by Manuel Mercado and based on circumstantial evidence.

'Telling them that we have to wait is like telling a parent their child is seriously ill.'

the courtroom.

Testimony suggested a romantic link between Mercado-Fisher and her cousin, who lived in Germany. She had tickets to visit him July 17, 1984, three days after the attack.

Fisher's attorney, Dan Burress, who was forced to drop the case when he became a Livingston County judge, argued the couple was burglarized and the assailants attacked Mercado-Fisher.

The prosecutor maintained Fisher was callous about his wife's death. A witness said Fisher placed an advertisement in a newspaper on Aug. 14, 1984, - one month after his wife's death - requesting responses from a white, Hispanic or Oriental

A SOAP-OPERA story unfolded in woman who would be a "friend, wife or possible lover."

The prosecutor drew a picture of a rocky relationship that started when the couple met in Virginia and continued when they moved to Texas, Missouri, Turkey, Dominica in the West Indies, back to Missouri, Detroit and, finally, Canton Township.

After a three-month trial, the jury found Fisher, a microbiologist, guilty of first degree murder. But in an unexpected move, the judge overruled the verdict citing misconduct by the prosecutor during closing statements.

NOW MORE THAN a year later the case still is pending.

A 21-year-old Canton man, who struck and killed an elderly Plymouth woman while driving last February, was sentenced to two years probation and fined $330 after pleading guilty to leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

As part of his probation, John E. Pary was ordered to maintain fulltime employment and complete 120 hours of community service work. His driver's license was revoked.

An additional charge against Pary - driving with a suspended license, second offense - was dismissed.

Judge James Garber, who sits on the bench in 35th District Court, sentenced Pary while serving as a visiting judge in Wayne Circuit Court.

THE PROSECUTOR'S office, who agreed to the plea arrangement, and the county probation department recommended probation, least bit cavalier about it."

Garber said. The victim's family didn't raise any objections to the sentence, he added.

Pary could have received a prison term of up to two years and fined up to $2,000.

Pary wasn't charged with any crime regarding the collision itself. Mary Froczila, 80, who lived in the Sheldon Park Apartments, was struck by Pary Feb. 9 as she attempted to walk across Sheldon Road a few hundred yards north of the traffic signal at Ann Arbor Road, police said.

It was dark and the roadway there isn't well lit, police said.

Froczila wasn't in a crosswalk at the time, said Lynne Jakubiak, Pary's lawyer.

Pary has expressed much regret about the incident, she said.

"I can tell you myself he was extremely contrite, very upset," Jakubiak said. "It was a devastating experience for him as well as his entire family. He was not the

Well site: Developer raises offer for city land

A development company, whose offer of $260,000 for surplus city land was rejected last month, has submitted a new cash offer of $370,000.

The Plymouth City Commission must decide whether to accept or reject the latest proposal from Walnut Lake Development Co.

The parcel, 49 acres on Beck Road between Six and Seven Mile roads in Northville Township, is the site of the city's former water well field.

It became available for sale when residents voted to join Detroit's water system in the early '70s.

The prospective buyer proposes to develop a residential subdivision.

The company already has made moves to acquire other property in the area, said city manager Henry Graper.

Any money collected by the city from sale of the well site would go to its water and sewer fund, Graper said. That fund is used to maintain water and sewer lines within the city limits. At the city commission's option, the fund also may be used to absorb wholesale rate increases established by Detroit's Water and Sewerage Department.

Neither Graper nor Curt Hann, who submitted the purchase offer for Walnut Lake Development Co., could be reached for comment on the latest offer.

Graper maintained that the land was worth $7,500 to $8,500 per acre in recommending rejection of Hann's offer of $260.000.

Hann's latest offer of $370,000 would be within those figures.

Plymouth's recently proposed ornance would establish "no cruising es" and traffic control points. Drivers would be prohibited from ssing the control points more than nce every three hours.

At 'last week's meeting, commissioners defeated the proposed ordi-nance by a 6-1 vote. The ordiannce was drafted at the request of Plymouth Mayor William Robinson.

CITY OFFICIALS say the emergency ordinance, based on laws d in other states, is a good one and that it could be used in the future.

Commissioners decided to continue their use of less cumbersome anti-cruising measures, such as prohibiting turns onto Main Street and the banning of parking in certain places.

"I'm not prepared to say no court would uphold" a cruising ordinance "but it's pretty clear there are some constitutional problems with it," said Goldstein, with the ACLU's na-tional headquarters.

"The language is both vague and overbroad in the sense that it doesn't really provide for implementation."

An anti-cruising ordinance raises other constitutional problems, as it likely would be selectively enforced and would restrict freedom of movement. Goldstein said.

The problem is that this leaves a lot of discretion with police. I'm not sure a middle-aged couple looking for a parking place would be ticketed, whereas a carload of scruffy kids might," he said.

"When a law is directed at a par-" ticular class of people whom city officials think may cause trouble, po-lice know that. There's a high potential for them to engage in selective enforcement."

A city can't legally restrict "who drives downtown or into a public area," added Goldstein.

Detroit's ACLU office declined comment on the issue.

Citing the judicial canon of ethics, 35th District Judge James Garber said he was unable to comment on the proposed ordinance. Garber said that conceivably both constitutional and unconstitutional cruising ordinances could be drafted. MAYOR ROBINSON'S proposed ordinance closely mirrors those passed in Greenville, S.C., Phoenix, Ariz., and cities in the San Francisco Bay area of California. City and police officials contacted in those states say their ordinances haven't been challenged in the courts. Checkpoints have gone a long way toward alleviating the problem by taking the fun out of cruising, they say.

To tackle its cruising problem, San Jose's police department created a special youth services division. "Youth service officers are assigned to an area where we have a large number of cruisers, and all they do is enforcement in that area." said San Jose Officer William Puckett.

The court held that because all traffic control laws were controlled by state law, cruising ordinances were pre-empted by state law, said Abt.

City cruising ordinances may not deviate from California law, which provides for traffic control points. said Charles Triebel, city attorney for Pleasant Hill, Calif.

Plymouth city manager Henry Graper says the mayor's proposed ordinance is "a very good one that I think would hold up constitutionally."

Say this for Rouge workers - they care.

An estimated 2,000 volunteers braved cool, drizzly weather Saturday while helping clean the polluted Rouge River. Rain and obstacles ranging from slippery river banks to dive bombing mosquitos didn't dampen enthusiasm.

"Our workers were terrific," said Jeanne Treff of the Livonia Department of Public Works. "They showed up on time and went right to work."

VOLUNTEERS from Livonia, Westland, Garden City, Plymouth and Redford, Canton and Plymouth townships participated. Cleanup events were conducted at 22 sites from eastern Washtenaw to northern Oakland County.

In Livonia, Westland and Plymouth, workers cleared branches and stumps. But rusted auto parts created the biggest tie-ups at the Canton site.

"I'll bet they pulled out enough to make three cars," Friends of the Rouge president James Murray said.

MOST WORKERS stood along the banks, moving material already pulled from the river by municipal public service workers.

Volunteers at several sites were aided by minor offenders sentenced to community service. Seventeen workers were bused to Livnoia courtesy of the 18th District Court.

While 5,000 volunteers were projected, organizers seemed pleased with what was accomplished.

"We had about the same number of people as last year, but there was a lot more work done," Friends of the Rouge director Bonnie Anderson said.

"I think we were a lot better organized this time," Murray said.

How much actrs fluid can the knew hold before you feel pain? No aingle answer is appropriate. As little as 5 co (one tempoon) may cause discondert sufficiently intenses to attack from welking. At other times you may hold 46 co (3 teblespoons) in the joint with no evident impairment of your gelt. The amount of fluid is not as important in causing pain as is to suddervises of fluid accumulation. Even a simult amount of symoth fluid can result in a great deal of joint pain it that fluid results in rest distention of the joint capsule.

In time, the capsule accommodates to the presence of extra flier. Then the source of pain shifts to the ligements which surround the knee joint, as these structures take the strain that groues from an impaired gait. Generally there is no need to make a decision on removing extra fluid. If examination indicates an excess is present, it should be drawn out immediately.

Support the American Diabetes Association.

Obesity can start a chain reaction to poor health that can be devastating.

To begin with, most physicians and researchers consider obesity to be the major cause of diabetes in adults. Up to 90% of adults diagnosed as having diabetes, in fact, are overweight.

Of course, once you have diabetes your chances of developing heart disease, kidney disease, or going blind increase dramatically.

As a person with diabetes you'll be twice as prone to heart disease. 17 times as prone to kidney disease. And 25 times as prone to blindness, if you are insulin-dependent.

Diabetes, in fact, can shorten your life expectancy by one-third.

Fortunately, diabetes in adults, in most cases, can be prevented with careful weight control, healthy eating habits, and regular exercise.

Potatoeshistorical & nutritious

You say potato, I say Po-Ta-Toe. . . Planted the annual Janes garden a few weeks back and thought I'd try something a little different. After visiting my local farm market and purchasing the usual staples like tomatoes, zucchini, snap peas, lettuce and onions, I was standing in line at the checkout when I noticed bushels of seed potatoes. Kennebec, Pontiac Reds, "new" and the ever-popular Russet seed potatoes were there at 5 lbs. for a dollar.

After grabbing a small sack and filling it with about 30 potatoes, the bag weighed in at only 2 lbs. Now since the old garden is only about 15x30, I found myself with plenty of seed potatoes to fill a row. This, in turn, wetted my appetite to do a little research on the old spud.

Did you know that the potato is not actually part of the roots of the potato plant but is instead a tuber formed from underground stems? The spud was first cultivated between 4,000-7,000 years ago in the Andes of Boliva and Peru. Sixteenth Century Spanish explorers observed the use of potatoes by the Andes Indians (No relation to the Cleveland Indians). The explorers traded for the spuds and found that eating them on long sea voyages would prevent scurvy (All that great Vitamin C). And so, of course, the potato made it to Europe by way of Spain.

Potatoes were first grown on a large scale in Ireland - hence the name - Irish Potato. It was during a famine that the spuds were found to be plentiful and easy to grow, especially in the moist, sandy soil. Many Europeans viewed potatoes negatively because of their familiarity with the "nightshade family" (grown underground) which during the 16th century was known as a "poison." It didn't really help that there was no mention of potatoes in the Bible either Potatoes were first brought to the North Americas in 1719 by Irish immigrants (of course!). As in Europe, North American were slow to adapt and potatoes were not grown on a large scale till the depression era during the nineteenth century. Since 1950, the consumption of fresh potatoes has declined steadily while the use of processed potatoes has risen to where more than half the total crop is now processed. Potatoes are used in starches and flour, canned soups, stews and hash, frozen food entrees, frozen french fries, dehydrated boxes and (in my favorite way) made into chips and shoestrings.

Every year at this time thousands of local people get an uncontrollable urge to taste luscious, juicy Michigan strawberries.

Visions of homemade jams, rubyred strawberry pies and sauces fill the mind. Mouths water.

Good news: Local growers are predicting a good season for strawberries.

"I think there will be an ample supply," said Bob Blessed, owner of a 10-acre strawberry farm three miles west of Plymouth.

The Michigan strawberry season is short and sweet, usually a month in duration. The berries are ripe the first or second week of June, and "are always gone by July 4," Blessed said.

Most Michigan berry farms are the U-pick variety, which means the customer does the work.

"The only way to assure yourself of quality and freshness is to pick your own," said Vera Sullivan, horticulture consultant with the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, based in Wayne. "It's cost-effective to pick your own."

Besides tasting good, strawberries are low in calories and a good source of vitamin C.

A publication from the Michigan Department of Agriculture, called "Michigan Country Carousel," lists by county U-pick farms and farm markets. The booklet names more than a dozen U-pick berry farms in western Wayne County, northern Uakland County and the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor area of Washtenaw Coun"There are a lot of people with or two acres (in production) that do a good job," according to Sullivan.

Linda St. Cyr, of the 30-acre Thornhollow Berry Farm in Belleville, predicts "a great year for strawberries."

Last year's crop started out fine, but many of the berries couldn't be picked during an extended rainy spell, St. Cyr said.

"When people can't get out to pick, the berries begin to decay," she said. "Good picking weather is what we're hoping for."

The supply of berries is also dependent on the economy, St. Cyr said. Demand for U-pick strawberries rises during periods of high unemployment.

"When the economy is good, people would rather buy (at the store)," St. Cyr said. Several growers gave the following tips, to assure a good return on time and money:

 Always call ahead before driving out to a U-pick farm. Growers can give hours of operation and picking conditions.

· Confirm prices and if containers are provided. For example, many growers sell by the quart (11/2 pounds). A price of 75 cents per quart would average out to 50 cents per pound.

· Pick in the morning, when the weather isn't as hot. Wear protective shoes which stand up to heavy morning dew, and a hat to shield skin from the sun. Wear old clothes, preferably long sleeves and pants for protection against insects.

'Most people come between 8-10

Speaking of french fries, did you know that frying reduces the water content of a potato to the extent that the cooked product contains twice the solids, three to four times the calories and double the protein of baked or boiled potatoes?

Now for even worse news, each ounce of french fried potatoes contain almost 1 teaspoon (5 ml) of pure FAT. Even my favorite chips and shoestrings are high in calories mainly because of the low water content (two percent) and high fat content (40 percent). They can contain as much as 2,700 calories per pound and up to 5,000 milligrams of sodium. Remember when you could polish off a whole bag, with dip and a quart of Coke? So much for memories?

An average raw potato (7 ozs. or 200g) contains only 115 calories, 3.2 g of protein. Boiled and baked potatoes have the same nutritional make-up except that the boiling process causes the Vitamin C to loose a little "oomph" in the process.

Sometimes when cutting into a delectable, steaming spud, you will notice a slightly green tinge to the skin or worse yet, a "hollow heart" or "black heart" somewhere throughout the spud.

"Greening" occurs when the spuds are exposed to natural or artificial light for long periods of time. You will usually notice this for potatoes "held over" after the growing season is long over. "Hollowheart" is the formation of a hollow cavity or hole inside the spud and usually requires only minor trimming. "Blackheart" is a rotten spot that is easily trimmed and should be discarded.

High quality control by wholesalers, shippers and retailers make these problems few and far between. Stay away from potatoes that are very green, wrinkled, spoiled or sprouted because they can contain harmful amounts of a toxic alkaloid called Solanine. Never eat the potato "greens" from the plant and make sure to trim off all sprouts as they also contain this toxic alkaloid.

As far as filling them with sour cream, cheese, bacon bits as is the rage at todays' "potato bars" cut calories by using some plain yogurt or whipped cottage cheese. Season these with chives, dry horseradish, dry mustard, oregano and pepper for a great taste and almost zippo calories!

Several U-pick strawberry farms are concentrated in Belleville, which honors its prize crop annually with a strawberry festival. This year's Belleville Strawberry Festival will be held June 19-21. For information call 697-3137.

Exactly when the berries are ripe and ready for picking depends on the weather. Customers should call the farms or watch for advertisements and signs.

a.m.," Bob Blessed said. "After lunch it really tapers off."

 Parents must supervise their children at all times. Toddlers are considered too young to bring along. Always check to see what ages are permitted.

Tips on picking, transporting and storing berries include:

· Pick only red berries. White berries are immature and won't redden after they're picked.

"A lot of people are used to buying berries with a white tip," said

Sweet tooth blues?

Winning the battle starts with commitment

"Do you have a sweet tooth?" Peo-ple always are asking this question of me. It seems that because I represent weight loss, have lost 50 poun and kept it off for 21 years, they as-sume I must have lost my sweet tooth!

I must admit, I have considered consulting with my dentist to determine exactly which tooth is the sweet tooth, then pulling it. I am sure if it were that easy many of us would be less one more tooth.

Do not despair. Learning to live with and love your sweet tooth is something any of us can do. It begins with making a commitment. A commitment to think differently about what we eat and when we eat, to change the way we think about food.

Conquering the sweet tooth begins with learning to love fruit. Year round there is such an abundance of fruits to choose from, to experiment with, to enjoy. Next time the sweet tooth strikes, try a fresh piece of fruit. It's low in calories, healthy and affordable.

One of the keys to successful weight loss is the concept of budgeting calories - saving up calories 1/2 cup powdered skim milk and putting them in the bank for something special. If you are attending a dinner party on Saturday, save 1 tsp. vanilla up calories during the week. Then spend them on Saturday. This applies especially to sweets. Eat sweets less frequently — save for them. When you are ready to spend — Buy the best! Get the best cheesecake, chocolate, torte, ice cream, your favorite. You have saved for it, enjoy it! But in a smaller portion. The first bite tastes as good as every other bite - don't eat the whole thing!

What do you do when the sweet tooth strikes for something cool and creamy, you haven't saved and fruit just won't do? Try this milkshake that has been a favorite of mine for vears.

Introducing an HMO that gives you access to some of the most impressive medical technologies known to man.

Behold the frontiers of diagnostic understanding, the latest weapons against disease and trauma, the medical technologies available to you through M-CARE, the new HMO from The University of Michigan.

To get a closer look at these medical marvels, look inside the medical bag of an M-CARE primary care physician. It contains: a stethoscope, pen light, reflex hammer, blood-pressure cuff, a device for looking in ears called an otoscope, another for looking into eves called an ophthalmoscope, a handful of tongue depressors, latex gloves, a couple of handbooks on prescription drugs, and a tape measure.

Okay, so maybe this equipment isn't so sophisticated. Maybe you've seen it all before. The truth be known, the contents of the typical medical bag haven't changed. much over the last two generations. The stethoscope, for example, is more than 150 years old. But these things perform impressive feats indeed in the hands of a highly-trained and experienced physician, the kind of primary care physicians in internal medicine, obstetrics/gynecology, pediatrics, and family practice that come with M-CARE.

Of course, you won't find the most important tool an M-CARE physician possesses in a medical bag. That's an ability to listen to you. Through simple conversation and a well-directed physical examination, a good doctor can get a very good picture of your health, confirm the need for specific tests, refer your care and treatment to a specialist, or give you the simple assurance that everything's going to be okay.

Even with the world-renowned U of M Medical Center at our disposal, a personal relationship with a highly knowledgeable, compassionate and caring primary care physician is, perhaps, still the most impressive medical technology M-CARE can offer.

Ask your employer to include M-CARE among your health care options. For more information, please call (313) 747-8700.

Pitching was expected to be the determining factor in Saturday's Class A baseball regional at Wyandotte Memorial Park, and there were certainly no surprises in that regard.

Redford Catholic Central's Greg Haeger and Joe Mackiewicz pitched three-hit victories, and Doug Martin shut the door with strong relief hurling in the Shamrocks' title-clinching, 4-2 victory over Livonia Franklin.

Hager won a pitchers' duel with Taylor Kennedy's Pedro Fuentes as CC claimed a 1-0 victory in the open-

But the Shamrock staff wasn't the only one to make an impression. Besides the one-hitter, Fuentes threw against CC, Franklin's T.J. Kramer and Henry Miller also were outstanding.

KRAMER HELD the usually-potent Plymouth Salem lineup to three hits and guided the Patriots to a 5-3 win and a berth in the final. Miller had just one bad inning but, otherwise, gave an excellent account against the Shamrocks.

With Martin still not fully recovered from a pulled back muscle, CC coach John Salter opted to start Mackiewicz, who went four innings and improved his record to 5-0. He departed with a 4-2 lead after giving up a lead-off single in the fifth.

Enter Martin.

While the CC bats also were unusually silent, he finished what Mackiewicz started, retiring the first eight batters he faced, allowing only the seventh and earning a save.

"When Doug came in in the fifth and stopped them, that was the key," Salter said. "Mackiewicz had thrown about 70 pitches to that point, and I thought he was getting a little tired.

"THEY'VE GOT a good hitting ball club, and Doug's velocity is a little bit more than Joe's.

Martin had pitched only two innings in the last two weeks; however, he was ready if needed to start the final.

"I didn't think he'd pitch at all today," Salter said. "When he warmed up, he said he felt OK and could throw. But I decided to stay with Mackiewicz and hope Joe would give us a few innings.'

Mackiewicz did his part and so did Martin, whose apparent recovery was a source of encouragement for Salter, who will lead his team into the state semifinals at 3 p.m. Friday at Lansing Municipal Field. CC now boasts a 24-8 record.

"If he can throw that way next weekend, I think we've got a pretty good chance," he said.

MILLER WAS equally impressive for Franklin as he no-hit the Shamrocks in five of the six innings. However, CC did all of its damage (five hits) during a four-run second.

Haeger opened the inning with the a two-out single by Tim Napier in only extra-base hit of the day -a double - and Mackiewicz, Mike Czarnota, Kevin Rogers and Bob Malleck knocked in the runs as CC sent eight men to the plate.

"That hurt but he pitched a fine game," said Franklin coach Jerry Cullin of Miller, who struck out three and walked two. "Outside of that, they didn't do anything to him.

"If (Salter) hasn't got Martin pitching behind Haeger, we're in the ballgame. But I can't complain; Henry pitched a helluva game."

Franklin, which ends the season with a 16-11 mark, scored its runs on two of the Shamrocks' three errors.

KRAMER ALSO pitched well against Salem, 22-5. After Franklin jumped in front 4-0, the Rocks got all three runs in the sixth inning. But Kramer, who had five strikeouts and walked the same, couldn't be faulted as Salem's rally was aided by two Patriot errors.

Mike Davis had RBI singles in consecutive at-bats, and J.J. Swindall keyed a three-run third with a bases-loaded, two-run single. Andy Gee and Steve Woodard drove in a run apiece for the Rocks.

Salem coach John Gravlin opted to start Craig Hawley instead of Fidell Cashero, who pitched the opener of the district tournament the veek before.

Hawley gave up a walk and three straight hits in the Franklin third before Todd Marion, who no doubt would have started a second game, took the mound in relief.

He held the Patriots to one additional run on Pat Greener's RBI fielder's choice in the seventh, but Salem could never generate the offense needed to overcame the early deficit.

"I WAS A little concerned about Cashero walking people," Gravlin said. "In a big game, I wanted Hawley, who throws strikes.

(P,C)1C

'Craig made a couple of bad pitches, but he could have easily pitched out of it," he said, pointing out Hawley was 5-0 with a 0.33 earned run average going in. "So it wasn't like we were throwing some whimpo pitcher out there; it was someone who had done the job all year."

Gravlin emphasized the Rocks' failure to hit, saying he thought Hawley might give up a run or two, but he thought Salem's failure to produce more hits and runs was the most telling aspect.

CC won the first game when Bob Malleck scored an unearned run in the bottom of the sixth inning.

He led off with a walk, moved up on John Gotts' groundout and scored from second when the Kennedy second baseman overthrew first base on potential inning-ending double play.

HAEGER, WHO struck out 10 and walked three, retired the side in order in the Kennedy seventh, improving his record to 8-4 while Fuentes dropped to 5-1.

Kennedy coach Wayne Hamilton started Fuentes, a senior who planned to attend afternoon commencements, instead of his ace, junior Steve Avery, for fear the Eagles wouldn't have a quality pitcher to throw in the second game.

"Both teams were hanging in tough, and we just got the break on the error," Salter said. "Usually, in a 0-0 game, after five innings, whoever gets that first run is going to win

Cougars prowl into state semifinals

If you're a Garden City softball fan, then Green Acres Park was the place to be Saturday. The Cougars kept their unbeaten however, lost in the first round 5-3.

IT APPEARED Garden City was down and out in its regional semifinal game against No. 1-ranked Temperance-Bedford. But the Cougars erased a 4-1 deficit and eventually ousted the Mules in 10 innings, 5-4, setting up a showdown with Mercy, an up-and-coming team which captured the other semifinal game against host Hazel Park. 7-2.

record intact by winning the Class A regional in Hazel Park with a 2-0 victory over Farmington Hills Mercy.

Garden City (29-0) advances to the state semifinals at 5:30 p.m. Friday at Michigan State University in East Lansing. The Cougars will face the East Detroit (26-3), which captured its own regional with a 4-0 win over Romeo.

The championship victory erased some doubts about the nucleus of the Garden City team, a core of multi-talented seniors who had always seemed to come up short in past state softball, volleyball and basketball tournaments despite impressive regular season records.

"They've fallen a little shy at the end of some seasons, but for these seniors this is it, their final chance," said Garden City firstyear coach Barry Patterson. "But they've never quit, especially when they were down.

"From here on out they're going to get the recognition they deserve as one of the better teams in the area."

In the championship game, Garden City senior ace Shelly Malone pitched a four-hit shutout, never allowing a Mercy runner to get past second base.

"We made some nice plays," said Patterson of the final. "We were pretty much flawless in the field, which is important in this kind of game. I thought we played the way we were capable of. You've got to play this kind of game at this stage of the season."

The Cougars scored what proved to be the game-winning run in the first inning.

Shortstop Mikey Gorak singled and advanced to second base when Mercy center fielder Kerry Sayers couldn't come up ball cleanly. Gorak then went to third on Karen Sandman's sacrifice bunt and scored on Mary Hebert's groundout to short.

The Cougars added an insurance run in the sixth when Terri Paul singled and later scored on a Mercy infield error.

MERCY'S ONLY SERIOUS threat came with two-out in the fourth when Linda Raymond and Missy McKenna both singled, but Malone got designated hitter Amy Kuzniar on a fly out to left to end the inning.

both games," Patterson said. "It's the first time she's been able to do that in awhile. I decided to start her again because she's a senior and deserves the shot."

Mercy coach Suzanne Brown, whose team bowed out with a 18-9 record, gave Malone and the Cougars credit.

WE COULDN'T come up with

Malone, who alternated most of the season with junior Kristen Wasil, made the most of a rare consecutive start. She retired the Marlins in order in five of the seven innings.

"I think Shelly enjoyed pitching any hits back-to-back," she said. "We had some decent pokes. They covered our bunts well and we didn't get them out of their game plan."

Not to be outdone was Mercy sophomore pitcher Amy Edward,

Edward is one of several underclassmen who will return next season. Only one senior starter graduates.

"Mercy is tough," said Patterson. "They're a young team and I expect them to be unbearable next year."

Added Brown: "We definitely squeezed every ounce of energy out of these kids. We had a 2-0 game with a Garden City team that's supposed to be one of the best teams in the state. I can't ask for anything more. In a game like this I can't gripe."

IN THE REGIONAL semifinals, Garden City appeared to be playing on borrowed time.

Each team scored a run in the first - Bedford on a homer by Kelly Wotring and GC on an RBI double by Denise Kokowicz.

Bedford then took a 2-1 lead in the third on an RBI single by Carey Meinhart, but muffed a chance to break the game wide open when runners Stacey Heams and Chris Linzie were tagged out at the plate,

In the sixth, Mary Hebert and Kokowicz led off with singles and both ultimately crossed home on pair of Bedford infield errors. Amy Thompson then singled in the tying run.

Malone, meanwhile, settled down after the fourth, allowing only three hits over the final six innings.

The Cougars tallied the winning run in the bottom of the 10th.

Hebert walked, advanced to second on Kokowicz's single (her third hit of the game), took third on Paul's single (also her third hit of the day) and scored when Bedford pitcher Chris Bodine walked Kim Reith with the bases loaded.

THERE WERE several situations were we could have been out of it." Patterson said, "especially when Bedford had the bases loaded and got only one run (in the third).

"We ended up taking advantage of the breaks. But when we get down we don't give up. We've trailed in several games this year when we had to come back."

Livonian's hockey career gets boost

By Brad Emons staff writer

It was only a year ago that Dennis Smith's pro hockey career was clinging to a Red Wing and a prayer.

But the 22-year-old Livonian made the most of his opportunity last season with Adirondack (N.Y.) of the American Hockey League. Registering the third best plus-minus rating with Detroit's top farm club, Smith, a free agent, is hoping to sign an NHL contract soon. His agent, South-field attorney Bob Goodenow, is expected to sit down and talk with Red Wing general manager Jimmy Devellano about Smith within the next few weeks.

Smith's value to Adirondack didn't go unnoticed. He teamed up with Doug Houda, a highly touted pros-pect drafted in the second round three years ago by the Wings, to form one of the best defensive tandems in the AHL. Houda and Smith graded out plus-31 and plus-28, re-spectively, during the regular sea-son, first and third on the club. During the AHL playoffs, Smith was never on the ice for an opponent's goal. (Adirondack finished second during the regular season and was ousted in the semifinals of the AHL playoffs).

ADIRONDACK COACH Bill Dineen summed up Smith's play in a story written by Mike Kane of the Hockey News (April 3 edition): "Dennis is the most pleasant surprise of any player that's walked in here unheralded.

"I liked his effort right away; his effort and desire. He's shown great improvement, not only in his skills but in his positional play and every facet of the game. .

Last summer, Smith was nearly at wits' end over his hockey career. But a quick change of agents allowed his career to take a turn for the better.

"I had another agent from Toronto and nothing was happening and it was only a week before the NHL training camps were opening," Smith recalls. "I didn't know where I was going to play, but I knew I didn't want to go back to the IHL (International Hockey League)." Last year Smith was the Peoria ber and I asked of friend of mine, Mike Donnelly (a Livonian now with the New York Rangers organization), to see if he could get ahold of enow to help me out," Smith "He (Goodenow) got in touch Goo said.

with Neil Smith (the Adirondack GM) and they gave me a one-game tryout."

SMITH MADE a good first impression, scoring a goal. He was later extended a 25-game tryout and then was signed for the remainder of the season.

'I never thought I'd have a chance to play with Detroit because I had never talked to their people before," Smith said. "It was a lucky break and I took advantage of it.

"It was a good atmosphere in Adirondack. There wasn't a bad guy on the team. Just playing with the caliber of players helped my game. We had some good veterans who helped me out a lot. And Bill Dineen is the best coach I've ever had. You'd want to win just to please the coach."

Smith was frustrated at bouncing around the lower rungs of the minor leagues. He spent 1985-86 in Peoria and the previous year in Sweden before finishing the season in Erie (Pa.) of the famed Atlantic Coast Hockey League. He also played Junior A in Kingston of the Ontario Hockey

"I'll be 23 in July and I'm still young," Smith said. "I figure I'm like a player now coming out of college, but I have more experience than a player out of college. I know the ropes."

SMITH CALLS himself a "defensive defenseman ." He believes he could fit into the Red Wings' style of play under coach Jacques Demers.

"I think I could show him (Demers) that I could fit into his game whether it's next year or this year," said Smith. "They (the Red Wings) gave me a good break and I'd be more than happy to sign with them now if they give me a contract. I think I deserve one and I'll sign if they give me one."

Smith said he is going to get into the best possible shape for next season and would like a chance to be invited to a training camp, whether it be in Detroit or any other NHL club.

He is currently taking things easy until his shoulder heals. He suffered a first-degree separation at the tailend of the season causing him to miss 12 league games and four more in the playoffs.

But even a freak injury couldn't dampen Smith's outlook on the future.

"Mr. Devellano saw me play this year and some of the Red Wing brass know what I can do," Smith said. "Last year eight guys made it to Detroit and some day I hope to do the same. It would be like a dream come true."

NGIE MILLER'S sthietje ability was well-known in Observer-A land circles a year and, but the Plymouth Canton funior ex-panded her track and field horizons to inis statewide acclaim this year.

Miller was the area's only female athiste to win a state championship, captur-ing the Class A high jump title May 30 at Alma.

She finished first in the state with a jump of 5-5, outdueling another Ob-serverland athlete, Cheri Johnson of Redford Bishop Borgess, who was the defend-ford Bishop Bergess, who was the cerem-ing state champ. Previously, Miller won regional and Western Lakes Activities Association ti-ties in the high jump, and she was the top jumper in the Michigan Interscholastic Track Coaches Association indoor state meet. Her best jump to date is a schoolrecord 5-6.

"Angle's high jumping ability is a combination of speed, vertical lift and outstanding technique," Canton coach George Przygodski said. "Through her dedication and hard work, she has been able to attain her goal of becoming a state champion."

High jumping isn't the only event in which Miller excels, however. She also won the WLAA championship in the 400meter dash and owns the school record of 1:00.9 for 440 yards. Furthermore, she is Canton's record holder in the 880 as well with a 2:27.3 time.

"Angle is an extremely gifted and ver-satile athlete," Przygodski said. "She's jumped 5-8 before in practice, and I think, under the right circumstances, she's capable of 5-10, maybe even six feet.

In recognition of her outstanding accomplishments this spring, area coaches honored Miller as their choice for Observerland Track and Field Woman of the Year while making selections for the 1987 All-Area Team.

FIELD EVENTS

Shelley Blanding, Bishop Borgess, shot put:Blanding, a junior, had the area's best toes at 36-9, but her talents are not limited to the field events. She also recorded the top time of 12.5 in the 100-meter dash and was a member of Borgess' All-Area 400 relay team.

Kristi Devine, Farmington, discus: Devine, another junior, was a regional champion and one of the area's best in the discus with a throw of 115-4. She also was fourth in the Oakland County meet and set a school record of 34-5 in the shot put.

"Kristi is on the verge of becoming one of the premier discus and shot put performers in the state," Farmington coach Bruce Brown said. "She has all the tools to be very good."

Cheri Johnson, Bishop Borgess, high jump: Johnson, a senior, shares top billing with Miller on the All-Area Team after another excellent year during an outstanding career. She captured first place at the Spartan, West Bloomfield and Redford Union relays, the Catholic League and Operation Friendship meets aprinters with a personal-best time of 13.6. She was second in the Redford Un-ion Relays and fourth in the Catholic

"Obviously, Jeanine was a stronger runner than she was as a fresh-man, adding strength to go with her al-ready outstanding leg speed," Ladywood coach Bob Zimmerman said.

"As we say at Ladywood, 'the first year you survive, the second year you learn, the third year you race.' So watch out!"

Tammy Spengler, North Farming-ton, 200 dash:Spengler had the area's fastest time for 200 meters with a 26.1 clocking, which makes her co-holder of the school record. North's leader in the sprints throughout her four-year career, she anchored conference-winning teams in the 800 relay the last two years. Spen-gler, a 3.6 student, is a "committed ath-lete," according to coach Ralph Temby. Angle Lankford, Garden City, 400 dash: Like Johnson, Lankford is a repeater on the All-Area team, having made the squad last year as a member of Garden City's 1,600 relay outfit. However, this year she came into her own in the open 400, recording the area's best time and setting a school record of 59.9 at the Class A state meet.

Lankford was runnerup in league and regional meets and also is one of the area's best in the 800. She anchored all four Garden City relays, which were ranked among the top five in Observerland.

"(Lankford) could be the most versatile athlete in the area," Garden City coach Chris Jonik said. "She's a total team player who never stops working and doesn't back down from tougher competition.'

Joan Arndt, Ladywood, 800 run: Arndt is another All-Area repeater, hav-ing been the top pick in the 800 last year, too. Her time of 2:16.4 was easily the best in Observerland, and she placed fourth in the state at 2:18.4. Arndt, a state finalist for four years, also was Catholic League champ.

"I'd pay to see Joan run," Zimmerman said. "That rare combination of strength and speed she possesses is just a joy to watch. She is the type of athlete sports cliches were coined for.

"In relays, the opposition's lead was never safe with Joan as our anchor leg," he added. "She would make up 60, 70, even 90 yards if that's what it took."

Karen . Kantor, Churchill, 1,600 run: Kantor, a junior, had the area's best times in the 1.600 and 3.200 runs at 5:17.4 and 11:25.09, the latter being a school record. In dual meets, she was undefeated in the 800, 1,600 and 3,200. Twice during the season she won all three races in a single meet and also anchored the Chargers' 3,200 relay team.

Kantor won the mile at the Redford Union Relays and the mile and two-mile at the East Detroit Invitational. She was second in the WLAA in both events.

"Karen was the leading scorer for the team and a driving force in Churchill's best season ever," coach Alan Martens said.

Michelle Gayney, Bishop Borgess, 3,200 run:Gayney was the Catholic League and Southfield regional champ and posted a season-best of 11:57.9. "Michelle is a super dedicated McGowan, a sophomore, was seventh in the state and All-Catholic in the 800 run and holds the school record of 2:21.6. Gross helped make Borgess' 10:01.2 time in the relay possible.

The Engles have signed Troy Chil-drey, a 8-foot-7 forward from De-troit Southeastern, and Eastern Michigan University transfer Rick Hardesty, a 5-11 guard.

That brings coach Rich Zalenski's new recruit total to five. Earlier, St. Mary's signed 6-3 guard Andre Sasser of Detroit Cody, 5-11 guard Denny Butcher of Milford-Lakeland and 6-7 forward Dave Bansek of Lorain, Ohio, and Henry Ford Community College.

Childrey averaged 20.3 points and 13.5 rebounds per game for Southeastern. He hit 60 percent of his floor shots, was named his team's MVP and earned honorable mention all-city and all-state accolades.

He was a standout at John Glenn High School in Walk-erton, Ind., averaging 24 points and six assists as a senior. He enrolled at Southwestern (Mich.) CC, where he averaged 20 points and 7.5 assists a game and earned all-state honors.

EMU signed him, and Hardesty started five games last year. But an injury sidelined him and he never regained his starting role. With freshman recruit Lorenzo Neely and jun-lor college All-American Howard Chambers, both guards, coming to EMU, Hardesty decided to switch.

EMU released him from his scholarship. Hardesty, who can play either guard spot, will have junior sta-tus and will be eligible in December.

'We've always stressed that we want wellrounded people. We don't want the type of people William Shatner parodied on "Saturday Night Live," people who live only for gaming.'

> — Mike Bartnikowski game player

Battlemech figurines such as this griffin are used in futuristic board games.

They're really on a roll

Game players of all kinds are expected in Southfield Friday for Michicon '87, an annual convention for people who like to play games.

There will be gamers of all ages. Monopoly, Stratego and other easy-to-play games are available for younger players. For the older gamers, there are Advanced Squad Leader and Advanced Dungeons and Dragons.

Trivial Pursuit and chess also will be played.

Almost all gamers began playing board games when they were young.

"I got started sort of gradually, through a process of osmosis. I started playing the simple games back in 1970, when I was 11, and it just sort of mushroomed," said Richard White of West Bloomfield.

"I'M NOT a fanatical gamer, but I still enjoy gaming." White, at 28, is editor of "The Deck of Many Things," a local bimonthly

How you can get into the games

So where can you buy one of these offbeat games? A few stores specialize in board games, and many stores cargaming publication. "Gaming is a place for people who don't do drugs.'

But many people stop gaming when they graduate from college and get a job.

"They think they're mature and that, as adults, fun is not allowed," White said.

Others stay with gaming. "I found Gettysburg and Tactics II at Hudson's when I was in high school," said Mike Bartnikowski, a junior high school teacher in Highland Park.

"I've been playing for 20 years. Gaming is still satisfying for many of the same reasons it was when I started."

Matt Kiriazis of Canton Township learned about games when teenage friends showed him games that depended on strategy, not the luck of the dice. He became more involved at Wayne State University.

"I USED to play cards with friends in college when one day I took in a gaming magazine. One of the guys said, 'Hey, let me look at that. You play war games, too?'

"In the late '60s, it was very fashionable to be pacifistic and anti-war, so you had to hide your interest in war games."

Games need not be competitive and militaristic. Role-playing . games demand cooperation. One player doesn't even get to play; he is the game master, who tells the other players where they are and what they have encountered.

Many games can be played solo, much as a chess player would try to solve a white-mates-in-two-moves problem.

WINNING IS NOT a real important part of it," Bartnikowski said. "You attack games as a type of problem-solving exercise. And it's an exercise in socializing. There are some people we don't play games with anymore; we just socialize."

ry some games. But very few used games turn up at garage sales.

Role-playing games and their books frequently appear in paperback book stores. Board games can be found at almost any department or discount store. But the real aficionados frequently end up at one of the following stores:

Alcove Hobby Shop, 2424 N. Woodward, Royal Oak. 569-0744. All types of board and role-playing games and miniatures.

Comic Kingdom Hobby, 13600 Gratiot, Detroit. 527-5642. All types of board and role-playing games and miniatures.

Classic Movie and Comic Center, 19047 Middlebelt, Livonia. 476-1254. Fantasy role-playing games.

Crazy. like a Foxx DJ has a zany touch

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

20**

Morning radio: A plethora of hard news, information and music woven together and delivered in expedient fashion.

Michael J. Foxx, morning DJ at WHYT-FM, obviously believes in giving his listeners the hard info with the music.

Why else would he be soliciting information from the listening audience about the most important question of the day: Where is the teeny bopper rock group Bon Jovi staying while in Detroit?

Sure enough, in the style of Edward R. Murrow, Foxx gets the info. The group (as a call to their manager later confirms) is holed up at the Dearborn Hyatt Regency. The lead singer, Jon Bon Jovi, is under the handle of Butch Cassidy

As a public service, Foxx passes the news along to his listeners.

Foxx even decides to call Jon Bon Jovi once again at 9:20 a.m. His previous phone call that morning was cut short when the person on the other end, presumably Jon himself, hung up.

The phone rings and it's picked up. There is silence

"C'MON JON, talk to me," pleaded Foxx, who lives in Southfield. "We play your damn record three times a day. . . . If you don't talk to us, we're not going to play your records any more.'

No luck. Silence prevails.

Another try later finds the line busy.

Welcome to the Burn Your Buns portion of the Power 96 Morning Zoo. Every one from Larry King to Ruth Westheimer is fair game.

"We woke up Dr. Ruth one time," he said between calls. "She was real upset."

Next morning, all is forgiven with Bon Jovi. Foxx and the Morning Zoo bought breakfast for them and had it sent to their rooms.

It seems almost like radio sacrilege having a madcap DJ like Foxx in the same building as Jimmy Launce, J.P. McCarthy and Hal Youngblood. WHYT and WJR are sister stations.

LEGENDS DON'T appear to impress Foxx. He'll even take a swipe at his radio dial neighbor, Dick Purtan.

"I think his show is really boring," Foxx said. "I guess his show tries to be the Johnny Carson of morning shows. We try to be the David Letterman."

The show bears resemblance to the wacky late night host's in a few ways. To go along with the wake-up calls, there is fun poked at celebrities and general banter between Foxx and his partners, Lisa "Lisa Dee" Dillon of Farmington Hills, Rick "Captain Rick" aegger and Tamara Nelson

'We woke up Dr. Ruth one time. She was real upset.'

> - Michael J. Foxx WHYT DJ

the morning. He gets up at 3:30 a.m., only two hours after Letterman's show has ended. He doesn't mind rising before the sun, though.

"I THINK it's a really fun job," he said. "A lot of people have jobs that they hate. I feel fortunate I have a job that I like.'

And like to the point where his resume reads like a road map. He's had stops in Baltimore, San Jose, Sacramento, San Antonio and Columbus, Ohio, before arriving in Detroit in January ("I've never been fired," he pointed out).

Rick Gillette, the program director at WHYT, was one of the major reasons for his coming to the competitive Detroit market. The two worked together in Sacramento.

"I like Detroit . . . because there is a lot of energy," he said.

There's also a lot of energy in being a morning DJ. Foxx hardly sits still for a minute during his shift, changing tapes and answering phone calls.

"I WANTED to be a singer," he said, recalling how he got into the radio business. "I didn't have the voice to be a singer. But I had a deep voice and thought I could make big bucks as a DJ.

"Actually," he added later, tongue firmly planted in cheek, "I used to work the two-way (public address system) at McDonald's. I figured if I had the voice for the two-way at McDonald's, I could be a DJ."

Foxx can also know a question before it is asked.

"The name? I take (grief) about that," he said, referring to the similarity in handles with actor Michael J. Fox. "For one thing, mine has two Xs in it. Apparently, that's not his real name either.

"It works out in the end. People remember it."

Listeners have a memory for morning radio names, mainly because DJs are the first thing to assault the mind in the day. Apparently, Foxx does it well.

The station has moved from a 4.4 to a 5.2 share from January to March in the Detroit Arbitron ratings.

His new record "Sixteen with a Bullet" may finally win Scott Morgan the respect he deserves. The record's about teen shootings in Detroit. Be-cause those shootings are a national news story, the record has drawn attention from Cable News Network and Rolling Stone, among others. "What I tried to do is get rid of the stereotypes," said Morgan from his Ann Arbor home.

The song, in the hard Detroit-rock mode Morgan helped pioneer with his late '60s band the Rationals, ends on a chilling note:

It doesn't really matter Who was wrong or right No it sure don't matter Who was black or white Sixteen with a bullet In the cold hard ground It's not the way they planned it Now they're glory bound.

"That probably sums it up," Morgan says. "They had everything going for them, they were glory bound. Then towards the end, they were glory bound in the worst way."

If you're under 30, you probably haven't heard of Morgan or the Rationals, the Detroit band he fronted in the late '60s. If you're over 30, chances are you remember their local hit "Respect."

'They had everything going for them, they were glory bound. Then toward the end, they were glory bound in the worst way.'

- Scott Morgan on the teens who were shot

THE RATIONALS' version moved Aretha Franklin to do the song, considered one of her classics.

Rock critic Dave Marsh, whose second biography of Bruce Springsteen is a current top seller, once called Morgan "the boy wonder of soul." Grande Ballroom goers of the late '60s will tell you Morgan was the finest singer among Detroit rockers of the day, who included Bob Seger, Iggy and The Stooges and MC5.

While the Rationals never landed a national record deal, Morgan's next chance at rock 'n' roll fame came in the later '60s. That's when Blood Sweat and Tears asked him to join as lead singer. But he turned them down, opting to stick with the Rationals.

So instead, David Clayton Thomas got to hang the gold records on his wall. And Morgan continued in relative obscurity.

In the mid '70s-early '80s, Morgan sang with ex-MC5 guitarist Fred "Sonic" Smith in Sonic's Rendevous Band. Many locals will tell you the band was great - well-crafted original songs, pounding drums and thrashing guitars. But they broke up record has sold more than 30 copies since the chain decided to carry it a few weeks ago. "That's pretty good for a local single with a lim-ited amount of airplay," said Burkheart, who re-calls Morgan's work with other area hands. The lack of local airplay puzzles Morgan. "The weirdest thing to me is there's so much press, and nobody's playing the record," he says, except for WDET disc jockey Dave Dizon.

'Being a local legend in New York wouldn't be any better than in Detroit.'

Asked why he's never beat the traditional path to New York or Los Angeles in search of success, Morgan laughs. "Being a local legend in New York wouldn't be any better than in Detroit," he says.

He offers some reasons for the near-misses that mark his music career. "It's frustrating. It's partly being where we are. Detroit's a big city, one of the five biggest in the country, but it's not a media center.

"And it's probably partly me, partly the people we've done business with, partly people I've played with."

Morgan said the band is trying to play around in support of the record.

In April, they played a record release show at The Roostertail in Detroit. On June 4, another record release show was held at the Blind Pig in Ann Arbor.

In the meantime, Morgan said the band may record an album for Jukebox Records, including "Sixteen," the flip side, "Detroit," some new songs and some Sonic's Rendevous classics.

How to halt sexual advances

Dear Joan:

What is the difference between a sexual advance and sexual harassment? The company I work for has outdated attitudes on appropriate behavior of managers toward employees of the opposite sex, in my opinion.

In some ways the company is progressive in promoting women to executive positions, but then the lack person who seems to be operating on of knowledge concerning appropriate behavior of male managers toward their female employees negates those efforts of progressive practices.

Is there some way I can bring this to the top level's attention? D.C., Waterford

Sexual advances are not sexual harassment. Sexual harassment involves threats and bribes for sexual favors in exchange for your job. The type of incidents you mentioned in deleted portions of your letter constitute sexual advances and downright obnoxious behavior on the part ger made changes in procedures, I of a manager toward the women in called attention to the past manahis department.

A woman in any job situation today, whether the lowest on the orranking woman in the company, has the right to object to such behavior loud and clear!

The first step is to make your objections known directly to the offender, one on one. Tell him you will not tolerate being pushed up against the wall when he slides into your #### booth next to you, or his suggestive remarks.

You needn't worry about being fired for not going along with insulting behavior. Have a letter from your local chapter of NOW with you at all times. The letter will state the kind of treatment a woman does not have to tolerate. Show this to the some very outdated ideas.

It could be the guy is just downright dumb, and you will be doing him a favor by broadening his education. This approach applies to the male who is receiving unwanted advances from the female manager as well.

Dear Joan:

The company I work for has brought in a new managing director, and I work closely with this person. The first few times the new manager's success with the established way of doing things.

I have since noticed a cooling in ganizational chart or the highest attitude toward me from this new managing director. Did I do something wrong in calling attention to the past procedures and their success? If so, how can I correct this career error?

Management wants people loyal to their methods around them. You can repair your relationship with the new managing director by mentioning as often as seems polite that his/ her methods have made positive changes throughout the company more rapidly than anything you've ever seen before.

Look for the positive in this new person, innovative changes usually are beneficial for a company and the employees. Your praise will be sincere because you did not mean to offend by mentioning the past management's methods.

House wren returns to the roost

Birds just wing it to find way home

All the birds that will breed in southeastern Michigan have now arrived from their wintering grounds and are nesting. Some species, such as the cardinals, chickadees, and nuthatches, remain here all winter and begin nesting early in the season.

Others, such as the northern oriole, scarlet tanager, and house wren, arrived from wintering grounds in Central America, Peru, and Texas.

They fly north during the night at about 40 miles per hour. Depending on the weather conditions, they flew at an elevation of about 4,000 feet. On clear nights birds fly higher than on cloudy overcast nights.

DURING THE DAY, they rest, feed, and wait for favorable weather conditions before continuing their journey. Their flight north in spring is usually rushed because it is to their advantage to get to the breeding area as soon as possible. Males want to get first choice of the best breeding territories.

It has been determined from banding studies that most birds return to the area where they were raised. So the wren that has been nesting in your back yard for the last couple of years is likely to be the same wren. Young raised by same area year after year.

those adults will return back to the same area to raise their young.

Even before we learned that individual birds return to the same area year after year, man has been intriqued by the phenomenon of bird migration. How do the birds find their way from South America all the way to your back yard?

THAT MYSTERY has not been solved, but we do know some of the methods they use to orient themselves. Migrating birds are able to navigate by using the stars and compensate for their rotation around the North Star. They use the sun and adjust for its movement across the sky.

Birds are also able to detect the Earth's magnetic field and use it in orientation. There may even be other mechanisms that we have not discovered yet.

When you see your back-yard migrants return each year, you can marvel at their ability to travel such distances and to orient to the

Game players are on a roll

Board games typically attract the first-time gamer, but now many start with role-playing games.

The role-playing games stretch from Middle Earth to the far future and involve all types of conflict, man against nature, man against man, man against monster, machine against machine.

Civilian war gaming began in the '50s with the release of "Tactics II" by Avalon Hill, still a giant in the gaming business. Gradually, gaming expanded as more titles were released and other companies began producing both war games and such non-war games as "Diplomacy."

These bashes get right to the point

"My experience in the recreation-al field is that when you tie into a theme, you tend to get more attention. They get bigger crowds. We see a lot of theme parties," says Vic Chaisson, recreation supervisor for Wayne County and a man known among peers for his offbeat party ideas.

Chaisson, who once pelted Wayne County parks with 37,000 marshmallows from a helicopter and a few days later, dove into a huge mud pit to "see what it was like to splash around," says party planning is easier if it includes a theme.

"During the summer, the theme is usually tied to a holiday. But any type of theme usually works. A lot of people say they're not creative. But if they think back on things they did 41 as kids, they'd find they were a lot of fun." 12

Chaisson once received a jigsaw j., puzzle invitation that had to be pieced together before being read. He attended a school clothing swap ar party and dressed up in a construction outfit for a Labor Day bash. -4

"I've been to Polish parties and Tshirt parties. One I heard about was a high heel party. Everyone had to wear high heels."

Hamet celebrates the silver screen every year with a dinner party, reflecting nominated "Best Movles" in each course.

"The Oscar party is the most challenging to me. You have to harmonize the cuisine of different parts of the world. People find it interesting."

This year's fare included such items as South American black bean salad ("The Mission"), Vietnamese stir fry ("Platoon"), and Viennese trifles ("A Room With a View").

"I used lady fingers for 'Children of a Lesser God,' because of the sign language," he explained. "The best part is that when you make a dinner party, you usually have no parame-

GR THE THEME might revolve around a single kind of food. In Jean Schlicklin's case the food -- and political topic -- was pickles. "We put a green sign up. We had placemats with questions and an-owers about the farmworker's union. And we had pickles."

Schlicklin, director of the Michi-gan Parmworker's Ministry Coali-tion, celebrated the labor agreement between Heinz and farm workers by throwing a pickle, wine and cheese party. Schlicklin said issue-oriented theme parties can raise com and donations as well as spirits.

"You can have a non-grape party. Have a candle party," she suggested, listing brands of light bulbs and beer on her boycott list. "What's the posltive alternative? You can have a fun time without buying their products."

Patrons aren't buying "Miami Vice," "Garfield" and "Smurf" prod-ucts, either. Once considered "hot" themes in party decor, they have been supplanted by Mickey Mouse, rock 'n' roll and the 1950s, according to David Goldman, owner of Toss-A-Party, Farmington Hills.

Expect to see more raspberry and lime color schemes, as well as "Alf" plates, napkins and tableclothes at adult parties this summer, too.

But Chaisson says anything goes when it comes to theme parties.

What happened?

A MORE AFFLUENT and more financially sophisticated middle class probably helped in the early years, but more recently two events caused the boom in the profession.

One was the deregulation of finan-cial services that broke down the barriers between brokerage, banking and insurance, spurred the creation of sophisticated investment vehicles and allowed single institutions to offer a wide range of them.

Second was the rampant inflation and high interest rates of the recent past, which drove millions of savers to look for more rewarding places for their money than savings deposits.

Those two events shook up an estimated $7 trillion asset management pool and sent financial institutions of every kind in a race to offer the best and most appealing investment products. The race is still on, and the competitors have learned how to gear their offerings to the huge middle of the market.

How can you tell if you need the help of a financial planner? Consider these guidelines.

· You have a savings fund of at least three months salary for emergencies and you earn at least $25,000 a year,

• You can invest at least $50 amonth.

• You (and your spouse) keep earning more money but never seem to have much to show for it at the end of the year.

• You would like to pay less in taxes.

You want to save to house, or to send your children to college.

• You have inherited money. • You want a retirement you can enjoy without lowering your stanly manage your money. Financial planning is a process of managing your assets. It begins with the gathering of information about your current financial situation and your goals. This data is analyzed by a professional staff and a recommended plan is drawn up. At this point, it is up to you to implement all or part of the plan. The plan should be reviewed every year or so and updated.

ONE THING that almost all professional financial planners agree upon is that not everyone who uses the title deserves it. Don't expect financial planning from a person or a company that has only one or two products to sell. They are just using the term as a sales-opening wedge. There are essentially two types of financial planning organizations.

Does the planner have access to up-to-date research and expert knowledge of tax and other invest; ment laws? No one person knows it all, but the knowledge should be readily available.

Once you've started, how do you know if the plan's working out? You'll know very easily because the process calls for setting short-, medium- and long-range goals, and if you aren't meeting them, you will be able to follow your progress easily. All observers agree that financial planning will continue to grow.

By Brian Lyseght staff writer

The Turkoviches - Dan, Carol, Robert and Marilou - and the Borowiecs finished first even though they couldn't remember the name of that popular Hawaiian singer.

The Winkler van finished second even though they remembered Don "Tiny Bubbles" He.

The Winkler van had expected to win. As they approached the finish line, a restaurant parking lot, the Winklers and the Suzios felt certain no one was ahead of them. They had solved those clues and followed that trail. They approached the finish line an hour earlier than expected.

But when they pulled into the parking lot, feeling that victory tingle, they saw the Turkovich van. The Winkler van would have to settle for second best.

AND SO IT goes with road rallies. Sometimes you got it, sometimes you don't.

On this day the Turkoviches and the Borowiecs had it.

What they got was $75. What they did was finish first in the Laurel Park II subdivision's first road rally.

Laurel Park II is a Livonia subdivision of 220 homes. Twenty-two cars - vans, actually, were preferred - and 105 people took part in the rally. Each vehicle had to have at least one Laurel Park native.

Each vehicle also had: a roll of toilet paper, a dictionary, a phone book, an almanac and, hopefully, some quick-thinking occupants.

This rally sent participants on a route of 10-20 miles. Each van had to solve a clue that led to a particular destination. That destination led to the next clue, which led to the next destination. And so it went.

ROAD RALLIES or treasure hunts or scavenger hunts as they are also known are popular in the Detroit area. The popularity may involve the native's fascination/obsession with anything automotive. More simply, it may have to do with the native appreciation of a good time.

And these road ralliers did have a good time. At the restaurant near the finish line, pizza was served to all 110 ralliers, even those brought in by search parties.

They talked of the clue that required ralliers to measure a chain link gate with toilet paper. It measured 59 sheets.

Rick Borowiec, who drove the Turkovich van, said a little experience and a lot of teamwork helps. He had participated in about six rallies previously. The van carried Rick's wife Pat, along with Dan and Carol Turkovich of Farmington, and Robert and Marilou Turkovich, who live in Laurel Park II.

Our

Dan and Robert are brothers, and Carol and Marilou are sisters. Teamwork.

"We clicked on all the clues," said Borowiec. The crew divided up the clues to expedite things.

THE WINKLER VAN contained driver Doris and Steve Winkler, Paul and Pat Suzio, and Rich Gilbert-SOD

All five live in the subdivision. The Winklers and the Gilbertsons met when Doris Winkler backed her car out of the driveway and into a car parked in front of the Gilbertson's house.

Gilbertson is president of the Laurel Park II homeowners association. His wife, Ann Marie, is part of the very active social committee that set up the rally.

"I swear to God I don't know the answers," Rich Gilbertson said. Rocco Iacobellis, former homeowners' association president, didn't believe Gilbertson.

The Winkler van worked together, too. "It was really funny," said Steve Winkler. "Everyone contributed. Everyone knew this or that."

But despite the teamwork and Gilbertson's acumen, the Winkler van's second-place finish didn't hold. They took shortcuts involving clues, and the scorekeepers subtracted points.

The Winkler van didn't win first prize. Gilbertson did win a bottle of wine raffled off at the restaurant. Rocco Iacobellis became even more suspicious.

Iacobellis didn't win anything but he said he'd be on the road rally next year.

Our intrepid group in search of clues... Ann Bawol, Tom & Diane Koch, Paul & Brenda McDevitt and John Bawol - what a crew!

This was crazy! That's Steve Winkler Pat Suzio, Rich Gilbertson and Paul Suzic measuring the plant gate - with toilet paper !!

You can have one too!

John Alf would rather be treasure hunting.

"I've been going on them since 1970," said Alf, who lives in Livonia. He was once on a treasure hunt that finished in Cleveland, and another that began at Livonia Stevenson High School and finished in Grayling.

His wife told him about a hunt neighbors were organizing. He wasn't excited by the idea but begrudgingly took part.

BUT ALF, you see, is not the average treasure hunter.

He is a member of United States Treasure Hunters Inc. and is quick to point out the group's acronym is USTHINC (sounds like "us think"). The THInc-ers are dedicated not to proper grammar and usage but to the preservation of their pastime. They send out a newsletter listing upcoming hunts."

USTHInc also published a book aptly titled "Guide to Treasure Hunting." The book gives sample clues and offers tips to solve them. The book also lists some tips on successful hunting.

Cartoonist Neal Levin and his creation Grumblecord send their greetings to Street Scene readers.

Meet Grumblecord

By Richard Lech staff writer

Grumblecord makes his debut this week in Street Scene.

What, you may ask, is a Grumblecord?

We can safely say that he is the star of one of two cartoons that are making their first appearance in Street Scene this week.

But as for further details, we'll leave those up to Grumblecord's creator, Birmingham cartoonist Neal Levin.

"Grumblecord is an animal called a Garblemidion," Levin explains. "Obviously this is not a real animal. It springs entirely from my imagination.

"The name Grumblecord refers to two things. 'Grumble' refers to his expression and personality. 'Cord' refers to his tail.

"Grumblecord is often grouchy and complains a lot, but he has a bright side as well. His personality will come out more in this strips. He is often confused by the modern world, and his goal is to make sense out of today's society."

Grumblecord's world, for the present, has two other residents: Harrison the hare and a turtle named Rushmore.

LEVIN, 23, has always had an interest in drawing but has been cartooning for only six years. A 1981 graduate of Bloomfield Hills Andover High School, Levin took up cartooning while attending the University of Michigan.

"I learned how to cartoon on my own, mainly by practicing," Levin said. "My specialty is drawing animal characters, and I have created about 200 of them, although only a few are well developed in terms of having a personality."

His first cartoon character was a walrus named Walton. His comic strip "PHISH," about a fish who teaches school (a school of fish, of course), ran for the past two years in the student newspaper at U-M-Dearborn.

Grumblecord first saw the light of day three years ago this month.

"I was sitting at my desk scribbling the way people sometimes do when they're talking on the phone, and a cartoon character resulted!

"This is not uncommon for me, and many of my characters are created this way. I liked the way this specific character looked and drew him a few more times, revising him a bit with each drawing."

While polishing up Grumblecord, Levin was finishing up his education. He graduated from U-M-Dearborn in 1985 with a bachelor's degree in psychology and went on to get an elementary teaching certificate and became certified in December.

WHEN NOT putting pen to paper, Levin is a substitute teacher in the Birmingham, Farmington and Bloomfield Hills school districts, mostly at the middle school level.

He will be spending his summer at Camp Walden in northern Michigan, teaching cartooning and editing the camp newspaper.

But while his creator's up at camp, Grumblecord will be camped right here, just for the fun of it.

(The creators of R.U. Syrius, our other new comic strip, will be profiled in an upcoming issue.)
