DADDY'S GIRL: Kara Jean, daughter of Sandra and Paul Walberg of Plymouth, always has been daddy's little girl, but now she officially is "Daddy's Little Darling."

Kara Jean, born April 8, 1987, earned the right to the title after mom, dad, aunts, uncles, grandparents, mom's co-workers, dad's co-workers, and friend collected 3,000 votes to raise $600 for the March of Dimes. For being first place winner, Kara received a $100 savings bond, a week's supply of diaper service and other prizes. The contest was sponsored by Tel-Tweive Mall. Dydee Diapoer Service, Kids R Us, and Photo Spectrum.

Kara also was supposed to appear on the March of Dimes Telethon Oct. 25-26 but the telethon has been canceled because there were not enough pledges being made to cover the cost of air time, explained Kara's mother. Kara Jean was born with Spina Bifida which is a neurotube defect.

Study supports zoning 1-acre lots

By Doug Funke staff writer

A position paper calling for retention of a residential zoning classification with minimum one-acre lots has been issued by the Plymouth Township Planning Commission.

That recommendation was given even though developers in recent years have regularly requested - and the township board has granted - rezonings to one-half acre lots.

Zoning regulations, designed to promote orderly growth, determine how land may be

The position paper, prepared after seven months study, has no legal effect. The board will continue to decide each rezoning request on its own merits after receiving a recommendation from the planning commission.

QUALITY OF life, reflected by population density and use of the environment, is at issue for current and future residents.

Ten years ago, the commission recognized the township was no longer rural in nature." said James Anulewicz, planning director. "It was becoming a suburban community.

"We cherish the word rural. What is it we find so important? The relationship between open land and structures, amount of vegetation, the openness, the swale open drainage

"What we need to do is recognize we're going to develop, but those elements be brought into the development process," Anu-

THE PLANNING commission looked at consumer demand, costs to developers and experiences of other communities during the study, said Richard Gornick, its chairman.

The conclusion? "It became apparent we weren't doing much for a certain housing market," Gornick said of estate-size homes on large lots.

The position paper makes several points. "Our burgeoning research and development parks, numerous business ventures and attendant professional service needs have brought an extensive new managerial and executive group to Plymouth Township," it said. "R-1-E (minimum one-acre lots) zoning provides sites large enough to incorporate terracing, creative landscaping, diverse home placement and other creative architectural

We have, in fact, witnessed a steady attrition away from R-1-E zoning."

DEVELOPERS, WHILE not platting subdivisions with one-acre lots in the western part of the township, have inquired about that possibility, Gornick said.

They haven't developed because "timing was wrong," he added. "Finally, a resurgence in the economic cycle has brought about this

People are willing to pay now, he said.

As for building costs, Gornick said, "Developers are always looking for maximum yield for investment (and more dense developments). We want to balance that with what the community needs and wants."

Anulewicz said he doesn't view one-acre minimum lot sizes as snob zoning. "I would say R-1-E would be snob zoning if the whole township was like that."

R-1-E land most likely to be developed represents only about 5 percent of all land in the township, he said.

Those sites include a triangle bounded by Joy, Ann Arbor Road and Ridge and a rectangle bounded by N. Territorial, Ridge, M-14

"I just wonder if we should use taxpayers' money to promote the Mayflower Hotel," Brown said.

Supervisor James Poole estimated the township spends $5,000 during the festival weekend for police, department of public works crews and other expenses.

Chuhran presented a resolution at last week's board meeting asking the board to vote against supporting the balloon festival.

THE RESOLUTION failed 5 to 2. Chuhran and Brown were the only supporters. Other board members said they believed Canton benefited sufficiently from the event.

"There's a lot more mileage they can get out of it, but the time to do it is before the race," Lorenz said. "Since it benefits the entire community in a positive way and helps enhance the image of the area, that's of public interest.

Pond will get cleanup

A mechanical filtering/fountain device will be installed in the manmade pond at Plymouth Township Park later this summer.

The manufacturer of the aerator maintains that it will prevent the build-up of algae, weeds, sludge and unpleasant aquatic odors.

Phil Kozian, a township parks department staffer, pegged purchase and installation costs at $7,534.

"We do get an odor from that water, especially in hot weather," he said. "You should have been out here earlier this spring. I had kids raking that seaweed out of there. It got real heavy."

The small pond contains bass, trout, bluegill and sunfish, Kozian Fishing is allowed there but not

Benefit set for slain officers

A luncheon and autograph party with the stars of the movie "Collision Course" and other Detroit-area celebrities has been organized to help the families of three Inkster police officers killed July 9.

The charity event will be held 3 p.m. Thursday at the Helenic Cultural Center, on Joy between Wayne Road and Newburgh just east of the Plymouth-Canton community.

The benefit is being sponsored by the Westland Police Department and organized by Westland firefighter Sgt. Robert Stottlemyer.

Proceeds will go to the families of Daniel Dubiel and Clay Hoover, both of Westland, and Sgt. Ira Parker of Inkster. The three officers were shot to death during a 10-hour siege at the Bungalow Motel on Michigan Av-

New deadline for state school post

The state Board of Education has extended the deadline date for applicants interested in applying for the position of state superintendent for public instruction.

Barbara Roberts Mason, president of the state board, said the deadline was changed from July 31 to Aug. 31 to allow more time for interested applicants to apply.

The search began May 1 upon the resignation of Phillip E. Runkel, who left the post of the state's chief school officer to accept the presidency of Northwestern Michigan College in Traverse City.

Town shaken by railroad tragedy 80 years ago

One of the worst wrecks in the history of American railroading took place just west of Plymouth 80 years ago this month Two trains, coming from opposite directions on a single track, rounded a bend at Van Sickle cut and collided head on Here is the story as seen through the eyes of people who saw the wreckage shortly after the crash took place

Expectation was in the air in Ionia. Mich, early in the morning of July 20, 1907 Eight hundred Pere Marquette Railroad employees, including their families and friends, were about to board an excursion train headed for Detroit. 123 miles to the southeast

A boat had been chartered in Detroit to take the excursionists to Belle Isle for the employee's annual picnic Those who stepped aboard the White Star liner "Titanic," five years later, could not have begun their journey with more anticipation of the pleasures to come than did the Ionians who stepped aboard he pas-

Ionia, on the Grand River, 34 miles east of Grand Rapids, had two features that made it stand out among the other farm area trading centers in Michigan in the year 1907. It was the site of the Pere Marquett's main repair shop, and it was the seat of the Michigan penal insti-tution for the reform of first offend-

Belle Isle is a 1,000-acre island in the Detroit River. The early French settlers in Detroit called it "Isle aux Cochons" (Hog Island). They kept their pigs on it to protect them from the mainland's marauding wolves. The city of Detroit bought the island for use as a park in 1878.

As she stood on the Ionia railroad station platform with two young companions. Ethel Conner. a recent graduate of the eighth grade, began to feel some of the anxiety that invariably chaperones pleasure. Would the potato salad in the lunch basket survive the July heat? Would she get a seat by the window? Would all of the seats up front be taken by the time she got on?

AT THE locomotive, Engineer Alvord withdrew the tip of his longnecked oil can from the connecting rod oil cup. He climbed into the cab to try out the bell and the sanding device. Fireman Charles Knowles bailed a few more scoops of soft coal into the blazing firebox.

On the platform, Conductor E.J. Pixley checked to make sure all were aboard. He nodded to brakeman Ed Knowles who signaled the engineer.

Alvord backed the locomotive a bit to take up the slack in the train of 10 passenger coaches and a baggage car. The engine belched a huge puff of black smoke, well-laden with particles of coal, as the excursion train headed toward the rising sun.

The first car after the engine was a smoker. The girls avoided that one but were pleased to get one of the front seats in the coach directly behind the smoker. Ethel rode with her back to the locomotive. She rested her arms on the window ledge, relaxed into the seat cushion and prepared herself for a delightful trip through the pleasant farming country ahead.

On its way to Detroit, the train would pass through Delta, Lansing, South Lyon, Salem and the Village of Plymouth, where all the air rifles were made.

THE RISING sun was at his back as 17-year-old Walter Ebert walked along Main Street in suburban Plymouth, 23 miles northwest of Detroit. He was on his way to work at the

The plant was just across the Pere Marquette tracks from its chief competitor, the Daisy air rifle company. In 1907, Plymouth proudly called itself "the air rifle capital of the world."

As he walked to work, Walter's mind dwelt fleetingly on what he had heard the night before about the extra-marital affair between Phil Markham and his pretty young secretary. Markham was the inventor of the air rifle that could be sold at a price most boys could afford.

The imposing new house he built for his paramour stood directly across the park from the house where Markham lived with his wife and children. Walter's mother said nothing good could come from carryings-on like that.

A short time later, 14-year-old Ezra Rotnour walked across a meadow on his way to Plymouth Central School. There was no breeze; the trees bordering the field were unusually still. As he made his way through the silent waves of uniformly-high grass, Ezra heard no sound until he almost stepped on a fieldaway as though evil were in its

Nine-year-old Clyde Smith walked to the outhouse on the farm his father rented from Will Thayer on the Six Mile, Road. The farmhouse was about three-quarters of a mile north of the embankment where the singletrack line of the Pere Marquette enters the sharp curve at Van Sickle cut, about four miles west of Plymouth. As he passed, Clyde pushed the rope swing that hung from the old oak - a tree that ancients believed attracts lightning more than any

Five-year-old Loverne Sly had finished breakfast and was sitting on a rocker on the front porch of the Sly farmhouse on Five Mile, between Haggerty and Bradner, in Plymouth Township. She was munching a cluster of the purple grapes her father had brought home the day before from John Gale's grocery store. When Loveren re-entered the house, her mother told her to wipe the blood-red juice from her chin.

Casinos: Good bet or bad luck?

By Wayne Peal Staff writer

Casino gambling is a sure bet, supporters say, and it will bring the metropolitan area thousands of new jobs and millions of dollars in new investment.

Detractors say it's a bad risk — like betting their future on pair of loaded dice.

Both sides aired their views Friday, before a packed hearing at the City-County Building in downtown Detroit.

Legislation that would bring casino gambling to Detroit has been pending for two years, but the state Senate's Regulatory Affairs Committee has expressed renewed interest in the concept.

If Atlantic City is an example, foes said, the legislation should stay bottled-up forever.

Ravitz said. "The targets appear to be the suburbs because ther's little left of value in the city itself."

But the former New Jersey gaming enforcement director said the rise in crime was mostly confined to the casinos themselves.

"There were purse snatchings, room break-ins and auto thefts," G. Michael Brown said.

Brown agreed the number of crimes increased but said statistics greatly exaggerated Atlantic City's crime problem.

"The statistics are based upon the city's (year-round) population," he said. "But this is a small seaside town with millions of visitors."

Atlantic City's tourist trade increased tenfold in the decade since gambling was introduced.

"There were 3 million visitors in 1977 and 30 million last year," he

It's those kind of numbers that make some elected officials eager to open Detroit to casinos.

Others, citing questions of morality and corruption, aren't as eager to make Michigan the third state to allow casinos.

STATE SEN. Richard Fessler, R-West Bloomfield, vice chairman of the committee considering casino gambling, remains opposed.

"In a word, his opinion is: no," spokesman Richard Simonson said. "His feeling is it's a regressive tax that affects the poorest members of society."

Other members of the state Senate Regulatory Affiars Committee said they haven't made up their minds. "We haven't made any decision on the issue and won't make any today," committee chairman Gilbert DiNello, D-East Detroit, told audience members.

DiNello said he has no idea when his committee would vote on the issue. Sen. Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood, district are also pressing for casino gambling — especially because nearby Indian tribes have been given permission to operate games of chance.

"They see the cars coming in from Wisconsin and they know where they're going," Mack said. "Some of my district has 24 percent unemployment. What can we do in the Upper Pennisula? We don't have factories we don't have places where people can get jobs."

Already-introduced bills would limit casino gambling to cities of 750,000 or more — guaranteeing casinos could only be built in Detroit.

Sen. David Holmes Jr., D-Detroit, said casino gambling is a forgone conclusion for some Midwestern city.

"THE AUTHORITIES tell us its going to be somewhere in the Midwest — Chicago, Toronto or Detroit," Holmes said.

TENDINITIS OF THE THUMB

The human thumb is an extraordinary device whose dexterous versatility in grasping, pinching, holding and lifting is not equaled by another living creature, or duplicated by any robot yet devised.

But nature being fair, evolved the thumb to the point of unique abilities, and burdened the thumb with special problems. One difficulty is Dequervain's tenosynovitis.

The condition follows prolonged strain on the muscles that extend the thumb, the one that you use if you were hitchhiking. Jobs that involve repeated wrapping, turning or twisting knobs, or wringing out mops can set the stage for a strain on this thumb nuscle. The individual feels an ache that soon becomes a continuous sharp pain at the base of the thumb. Eventually any motion of the thumb becomes unbearable.

Treatment is difficult. The ideal therapy is to stop the motion setting up the strain; in practice such therapy is difficult to order. Splints can prevent movement but prove to be an obstacle to everyday tasks of living.

In rare instances surgery is necessary to stop the pain. However in most in rare instances surgery is necessary to stop the pain. However, cases time and change in activity suffice to end the problem.

Interest rates on Adjustable Rate Mortgages are the lowest ever at Standard Federal.

 $15\text{-Year ARM} \\ 7.25\% \\ \text{Interest Rate} \\ 9.57\% \\ \text{Q_Annual} \\ \text{Percentage Rate}.$

 $\begin{array}{c} \text{30-Year ARM} \\ \text{7.50}\% \\ \text{Interest Rate} \\ \text{9.79}\% \\ \text{9.79}\% \\ \text{Percentage Rate}. \end{array}$

Before you buy or refinance your home, consider the advantages of our Adjustable Rate Mortgage (ARM).

Many of our ARM loan customers have saved a lot of money in mortgage interest costs over the past few years. And, at present interest rates, borrowers are finding our ARM loans to be an even better bargain. The first-year interest rate on our 15-year ARM is now only 7.25% compared to much higher rates on fixed-rate loans. What's more, with the 2% annual and 6% lifetime interest rate caps that we have placed on our ARM loans, you'll pay less interest and have greater principal reduction over at least the first four years of your loan.

The lower initial interest rates on our ARM loans result in lower initial monthly payments. And, the lower monthly payments mean that it will be easier for you to qualify for the loan that you need to buy or refinance your home.

So, come to any Standard Federal branch office and learn more about our ARM loans. We'll help you find the loan that is just right for you.

*All annual percentage rates are calculated based on a 2% loan discount fee, a loan amount of $50,000.00, a 20% down payment, and monthly principal and interest payments of $456.43 for the 15-year loan and $349.61 for the 30-year loan. These eshimated annual percentage rates are subject to increase or decrease on an annual basis after the loan is closed based on the formula set forth in the loan contract.

Ice cream lovers prefer homemade Iscream You scream We all scream FOR ICE CREAM!

With all due respect to Haagen Daz, Dairy Queen, Frusen Gladge, and the omnipotent Dove Bar, you just can't beat good, old-fashioned homemade ice cream.

If you aren't lucky enough to have kept the old hand-crank freezer grandma and grandpa used to keep in the fruit cellar, a quick trip to a cooking shop will surely make you wish you did.

Nowadays, ice cream can be made in anything from a $19.95 polyethylene drum with a molded polypyrene dasher and with an electric motor encased in, what else, polypropyl vinyl - all the way up to a $500 electronic gizmo that will chill, blend, mix, churn, beat, freeze, ripen and just about do everything except serve the sweet, chilling concoction.

Spent a few days last week making ice cream in everything from two coffee cans (something a second grader down the block taught me) to a plastic bucket, to a chilled stainless churn and the results were remarkably close. Not basing my results on speed or ease of making, most of the finished products were exceptional. The same recipe was followed in each case, and I can honestly say the ice cream in the $19 plastic maker was very close if not equal to the ice cream made with the $500 miracle

IF YOU'RE thinking about getting a freezer this weekend (it's supposed to he another scorcher) here are a few tips you might want to remember for the best tasting, no-fail product that will have the neighbors and kids begging for more.

If possible, make the cream mixture of custard the night before the actual freezing and allow this mixture to sit in the fridge for at least eight hours. This gives the ice cream more yield (volume) and makes for a smoother taste.

If you can't make the mix the night before, at least allow the mixture to thoroughly chill before starting the freezing process

If, at the end of about 20 minutes of churning/freezing in an ice cream maker, the mixture is still runny or soupy, add more salt. A good rule of thumb to remember is to use about 15 pounds of ice and three cups of rock salt to the batch. Of the ripening.

SPEAKING OF ripening, once the ice cream has been made, remove the dasher and allow the creamy concoction to "ripen" in the ice and salt mix for at least 30 minutes to one hour before eating. This will harden up the mix and make it perfect for scooping.

If your mixture freezes too rapidly, it will be icy, grainy and somewhat chunky. Sorry, Charlie, you blew this one. You added too much salt to the ice, and the ice cream was made too rapidly in the freezer. Give it to the kids, but make another batch for you.

Last but not least, a few words from the · ultimate gadget freak. If you are to ice cream as they say, "as macadamia is to nut" then you must invest in a Zeroll ice cream scoop.

Seldom do I find the need to really recommend another gadget that sits around being used once a year, but this baby is a winner. The secret? A special no-freezing liquid has been added to a hollowed-out handle. This enables the user to scoop, dip and spread the ice cream continuously without having to rinse off. The ice cream · just slides right off the scoop.

ARE THERE any ice cream freaks in your family? One of these scoops and a copy of "The Great American Ice Cream Book" by Paul Dickson (Antheneum, $4.95), along with a jar of rock salt and four half-pints of real cream, will make you a friend and lover for life.

Try some of these recipes and let me know. You think your recipes are better? Drop me a line in care of this newspaper. Bon Appetit! . . . or as Don Johnson of "Miami Vice" always says . . . "CHILL ·OUT!"

A lot of (flavor) is subjective." said 32-year-old Jim Tomlinson, ice cream maker for Cloverdale Farms dairy and restaurant in Plymouth.

'Flavorings are regional," Tomlinson added "Coffee ice cream is popular in Ann Arbor."

Tomlinson knows how to make the ice cream that keeps 'em coming back to his stores in Plymouth, Livonia and Northville.

The biggest thing is the natural flavorings," Tomlinson said "I use pureed frozen strawberries for my strawberry ice cream I use real pistachio nuts to make my pistachio ice

AFTERNOON IS when customers jockey for seats at the Cloverdale soda fountain to devour sundaes, sodas and ice cream cones. Some people dive right in, gobbling their treats. Others will lick delicately, swirling the cream into a high peak.

Cloverdale was established in the 1930s. Present owner Joyce Kallos has had the business for 15 years. Her son, Tomlinson, makes the ice cream in the on-site plant.

Both Kallos and Tomlinson live in Plymouth and are formerly of Westland. Kallos is a member of the wellknown Clyde Smith family, longtime farmers and business people in West-

"HIGH BUTTERFAT is not as good an indication of quality as it used to be," according to Tornlinson. Although his ice cream is rich and creamy, he puts greater emphasis on quality flavorings and nuts.

Tomlinson is currently excited about his black cherry cordial ice cream, which contains chocolatecovered cherries and cordial sauce. Like other ice cream makers, he must constantly devise new flavors to tempt customers. After making and packing 400 gallons of ice cream per hour, he confesses he rarely craves the product of which he is so proud.

"My personal favorites are praline pecan or strawberry," Tomlinson said. "I'm not as fond of it because I see so much of it."

What can you say about an ice cream parlor that calls itself The Udder Best? This Redford shop. owned by Marilyn Rancour of Southfield, has been in business six years.

"WE MAKE quality ice cream, and we wanted to get our point across," said Marilyn Rancour's husband, Oscar, who works in the busi-

There was a big run on butter pecan ice cream at Guernsey Farms of Northville, after People magazine named their flavor best in Michigan and third best in the United States three years ago.

That was pretty heady for the five McGuire brothers who own Guernsey Farms. They bought the business from their father, John McGuire, who had started his dairy in 1940. Another outlet is in Livonia.

"I'm still using the same recipes,"said Martin McGuire, 32, of Novi, the chief ice cream maker. "My dad showed me how. I shop for quality. I don't cheapen it up. Our new flavor is Mackinac Island Fudge. It's Rybus Mackinac Island butter fudge in vanilla ice cream Boy, is it rich and good."

calories, also can be frozen. Ice cream freezes due to transfer of heat from the ice cream to the ice. Cameron explained. The cream mixture is packed in rock salt and crushed ice. The salt makes the ice melt faster. As the ice melts, it draws heat from the mixture. Ice crystals form, hardening the cream. Homemade ice cream is best when eaten right after hardening, according to the dairy association. It can be stored by transferring to a plastic freezer container after hardening for three hours. Cover the top of the ice cream with plastic wrap and seal the container.

Consumers should follow directions in their ice cream freezer handbook.

A few extra hints for ice cream making, according to the American Dairy Association:

- Protect working surfaces with newspaper, as salt is corrosive. Protect grass in making ice cream out-
- Use rubber gloves to protect hands from cold and salt.
 - Use one-quart pan for approximate measure of ice.

- Use glass measuring cup for rock salt, since salt pits metal.
- Use a wooden spoon to stir and repack ice cream to retard melting (wood does not conduct heat). • It is best to make a cooked
- mixture the night before so it has time to chill. • Make sure ice is chopped fine, as it will melt more evenly and provide uniform cold. Otherwise, ice cream may be grainy, icy or mushy.

• Prolonged storage destroys the taste and texture of homemade ice cream. It can be kept up to a month if properly packed for freezing.

· Freezing should not be too slow or too fast. A greater amount of salt will melt the ice faster, causing ice cream to freeze faster. Too rapid freezing produces a course texture. Extended freezing time causes spongy, buttery texture.

· Salt in making homemade ice cream is rock salt, which has a coarse texture. Don't use table salt.

• If you use light cream or halfand-half in place of heavy cream or whipping cream, the ice cream won't be as smooth or fluffy.

Vanilla Ice Cream Mix For Kids

Individual ice cream freezers may be made out of cut-off gallon milk cartons, into which is placed a 6 oz. metal juice can. Cut milk carton so it is 1 inch shorter than juice can. For each freezer, you also need a small plastic sandwich bag, a rubber band and a plastic knife for stirring. Two children may share one freezer. Ingredients:

I cup half and half I cup milk 1 tsp. vanilla 1/2 cup sugar

Mix above ingredients together and chill. Cover work surfaces with plastic tablecloth or large garbage bags. Have on hand a large quantity of crushed ice and kosher or rock salt. The hotter the day and the more children making ice cream, the more ice you'll need.

Procedure:

1. Fill metal cans 2/3 full with ice cream mix.

2. Cover can with plastic bag and secure near the top with a rubber band to prevent getting any of the salt into ice cream mix.

3. Place cans into milk cartons. Alternate ice and salt layers around cans in a ratio of four parts ice to one part salt. Keep layers tightly packed as they begin to melt.

4. Let mix stand until a ring of ice crystals forms around the edge. Then remove the plastic bag and stir the mix slowly with plastic knives 1987 LITTLE MISS CEUSA RENAISSANCE USA

"We are out of the crisis," said Robert Qualls, vice president of Cabana Foods Inc. of Detroit. "But we still have a great concern about cost and quality.

Heavy rains and bad weather from Florida to Virginia reduced the spring potato yield by 11 percent from last year and 24 percent from 1985's bumper crop, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

As a result, potato prices doubled and chip makers in Michigan and elsewhere have been forced to use $maller potatoes, yielding smaller

"THE CHIP people got caught short as they quite often do," said William Patterson, USDA economist. "Chipping potatoes are scarce now and the supply situation is not going to be fully relieved until the fall

About 15 percent of the nation's annual potato yield is used for making chips.

Robert Marracino — president of Detroit-based Cross and Peters Co., which makes potato chips and other snack foods under the brand name Better Made - says this is the worst year for potatoes in the company's 55-year history.

"We're no longer suffering availability but quality and high prices," Marracino said. "What we're getting is smaller potatoes. And for us, quality means size as well as potato qual-

AT THE height of the shortage in May and June, potato chip leader Frito Lay Inc. of Dallas had to ship potatoes from California and other West Coast areas to its chip-making plants in the Northeast, said company spokesman Charles Suscavage.

The shortage lasted several weeks . . . but as of now we're not having any problem whatsoever," Suscavage said.

Frito Lay, which has 51 percent of the chip market, buys from about 400 growers in the United States. Suscavage said he wasn't aware of quality problems.

Last week, potato prices were hovering around $14 per 100 pounds, down from $20 just two weeks earlier but still higher than in normal years when that amount sells for less than $10, according to the USDA.

CABANA FOODS has had to buy nearly half its potatoes on the open market because growers couldn't fill its contracts, Qualls said.

"They're smaller in size, the variety is not as good and the fiber is not there," Qualls said. "If we can pull through this soon we would be able to adjust."

Most Michigan chip makers haven't raised prices or changed their products' weight to stay competitive with bigger producers. "We're sit-ting here biting the bullet," Marraci-

Potato chip makers use large, round white potatoes, which have to be specially grown and stored at just the right temperature - too warm and they rot, too cool and their starches turn to sugar and turn black when cooked.

A SMALLER size leaves the perception that the bags, which are sold by weight, are only half full, chip producers say.

Eighty percent of chips produced in Michigan come from home-grown potatoes. Manufacturers rely on Michigan-grown storage supplies from the previous year's harvest to carry them until spring when the Florida harvest begins But this year, storage supplies were down because of record rainfall in 1986 that wiped out half of Michigan's potato

Rains cut Florida's yield in half and bad weather and freezing temperatures slowed plant growth in North Carolina and Virginia, leaving local chip producers with prematurely harvested spuds that were small and expensive.

Normally, California potatoes are shipped to the East to offset declines. But this year, California's vield also was down, a combination of bad weather and smaller acreage. Patterson said.

As August harvests in the Midwest approach, Michigan chip makers wait anxiously, hoping new potatoes will restore the big crunch to their products.

Summer salad uses array of fresh produce

The summer salad cook has a bounty of fresh produce at his or her fingertips, from an array of greens to colorful fresh fruits and vegetables. Combined with pasta or rice and a creamy salad dressing, they are perfect for quick, cooling summer main dishes.

These two entree salads have completely different character. For Summertime Pasta Salad, made with cooked spaghetti, fresh vegetables, salami and olives, a mayonnaise-type salad dressing is blended with milk, grated Parmesan cheese and parsley. After the salad has been chilled, additional salad dressing may be added to taste before serving. To complete the menu, serve with warmed bread and melon wedges with fresh lime for dessert.

The salad dressing takes on an oriental flavor with the addition of chopped green onion, soy sauce and ginger in this recipe for Oriental Chicken Salad. The special dressing is then blended with cooked chicken and rice plus crisp pea pods and fresh peach and plum slices. Chill the salad, then serve on lettuce-lined plates with breadsticks or rolls. For a frosted look, chill the salad plates.

Tips for using paper, plastic in microwave

One of the joys of microwave cooking is easy cleanup. By using disposable paper and plastic products, cleanup is faster still. Here are some tips from the Better Homes and Gardens test kitchen for using paper and plastic.

PAPER TOWELS - Use only allwhite products. Look for paper towels that are FDA approved for the microwave oven, made from natural fibers with no coloring. The hot, moist conditions in the microwave oven may cause toxic dyes from color paper products to bleed onto food.

Although manufacturers differ about how long you can safely use paper towels in the ovens, a good rule of thumb is a maximum of 10 minutes on high.

Good uses: Covering bacon and sausage, wrapping breads to reheat and covering crumb-coated chicken

PLASTIC WRAP - When you cover a dish with clear plastic wrap, vent the wrap by leaving a small area of it unsealed at the edge of the dish to allow steam to escape.

Leave airspace between the food and the wrap, and never wrap foods directly in clear plastic wrap - it oan melt or wrinkle when food reaches a high temperature. Just in case the food and wrap do touch, use microwave-safe plastic wrap. It's designed to stand higher temperatures than regular wrap.

If your microwave oven has a browning unit, don't use plastic wrap in the oven while the browning unit is on. The wrap could melt.

Good uses: Covering dishes containing vegetables, fruit, fish and skinned poultry.

When You're Sick Which Do You Treat The Cause Or The Symptom?

IT'S A GREAT FEELING TO BE WELL

It's difficult to live comfortably with pain, which I had a lot of in my neck and arms for a long time, nothing seemed to help.

I went to Dr. Mashike because my family had been helped so much by him. He told me I had subluxations in my spine and after his explaination of what a subluxation is and how it affects health, I started having them fixed. Well, within 3 or 4 adjustments to my spine I started to feel better for the first time in quite a while.

I now tell friends and neighbors how much better I feel and how much I've been helped. It's a great feeling.

Barbara Short

I heard about chiropractic from my sister, after my car accident, she suggested I get x-rays to see if there was anything that could be done for my stiff neck and the continual ache between my shoulder blades.

After the problem was found I started slowly feeling better and within three months I noticed a great improvement. I've also noticed I generally feel better all over

I didn't know much about chiropractic before I went to see Dr. Mashike, but after his consultation and his report of findings I understand and I think it works great.

James Droste

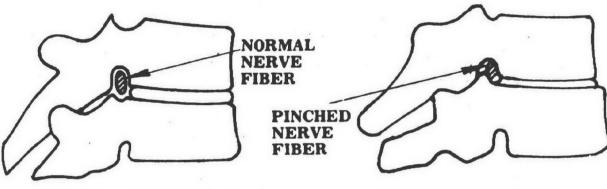

99% BETTER

From an automobile accident I had severe beck and lower back pain with torn ligaments and tendons in the neck, muscle spasms in the neck and lower back area. Needless to say, it interferred with my daily routine.

I went to Dr. Mashike's office for help and within 3 or 4 weeks at 3 times a week, I was seeing improvements. It took about 3 months to completely get rid of my symptoms. I am now going to make sure the problems in my spine are completley corrected and that it won't return later.

I believe that chiropractic is extremely helpful in making my health problems not a problem any longer. I feel 99% better since I have been going to Dr. Mashike's office.

NORMAL VERTEBRAE

TWISTED VERTEBRAE

"Today well lived makes of every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope."

• One of the basic dreams of all mankind is to enjoy health, and so many of these dreams are never fulfilled. But, they can be. A body that is sick is lacking vital nerve impulses in some part, whatever part is sick.

Health amounts to the ability of the brain to communicate with all body parts via nerve fibers. Pinch these fibers and the body part that is innervated by that fiber will become sick and diseased.

Chiropractic corrects causes of disease and others treat symptoms. Symptoms are signals that the body uses to tell us of a malfunction, 80% of the drugs on the market today work on symptoms (the signals), not the cause of the problem.

IT IS SCIENTIFIC FACT THAT THE BRAIN RUNS AND CONTROLS ALL PARTS OF YOUR BODY. Block that communication and whatever organ is cut off will then not function normally. ORGANS THAT DON'T FUNCTION NORMALLY WILL BECOME DISEASED.

Disease is the lack of life to a particular part of the body. Bacteria do not cause disease. They are the secondary by-product of the lack of life. In other words, THE TISSUE OR ORGAN MUST BE WEAK FIRST BEFORE BACTERIA WILL INVADE.

Keep the body strong (resistance high) and you won't be susceptible to disease.

Nerve fibers are pinched when vertebrae are twisted like this.

These pinched nerve fibers don't give any pain, so you can't tell by feeling if they exist.

Only a Chiropractic spinal examination will reveal them. When they are found the Chiropractor then precisely adjusts the vertebrae into its original position, thus taking pressure off the pinched nerve fiber.

After the pressure is removed, impulses from the brain will start coursing through the fibers again and the organ will start to be repaired. YOUR HEALTH WILL THEN RETURN. Your body was created to be healthy, everything necessary to maintain that health is found within.

McSween begins quest for '88 Olympic dream

staff writer

The long, grueling grind begins this week for Don McSween, but it is one the hockey All-American has been eagerly anticipating.

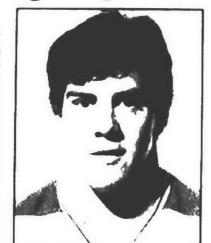

The former Michigan State great - who hails from Plymouth and attended Catholic Central High School - is in Greensboro, N.C., to participate in the annual Olympic Sports Festival. He hopes his performance there will eventually lead to a place on the 1988 United States Olympic

This is the third consecutive year for McSween in the Sports Fest. The 80 players chosen to represent the four regions will provide the talent pool for the Olympic squad.

After the festival games, that number will be cut in half, and the remaining players will go to Lake Placid, N.Y., for further training.

Another cut comes Aug. 15 when the team is trimmed to 26 members. They will spend the remainder of the year playing exhibition games and preparing for the Olympics next

"IT'S A LONG season to begin with, but I took a few months off in May and June," said McSween, who completed his career at MSU last spring while leading the Spartans to a runner-up finish in the NCAA tour-

Don McSween

"It's more of a mental thing. I really want to make the team, so I'm not worried about being lackadaisical about it.

"They play over 60 games starting in September, so it's a long sched-ule," he said. "But if you want it bad enough - and I think I do - you'll be ready for it."

At the moment, however, McSween is concentrating on a successful showing in the Sports Fest, for both himself and his team.

"HOPEFULLY BY playing well, you win," he said. "And, hopefully, if ability to play on the Olympic team.

The people who pick the team don't care who wins (in the Sports Fest), but they want to see if you have the talent, the skill level to represent the U.S. hockey program."

Beginning with the Sports Fest and continuing through the early phases of the selection process, the Olympic hockey officials will be looking for attributes other than just speed, skill and strength. They'll be observing the off-the-ice behavior,

"They want to see how you handle yourself," McSween said. "You'll be in the spotlight for a year, and they don't want anyone who'll give the U.S. Olympic team a bad name.

"THEY WANT to see what kind of person you are, because for seven months you're going to be wearing the Red, White and Blue."

Since most of the hockey players in the United States come from Minnesota, Michigan or Massachusetts, McSween will play for the South this year. He has worn the North's blue uniform and (much to his liking) the East's green outfit in the past.

MSU teammate Kip Miller will join him on the South squad. Kevin Miller will play for the North, and Chris Loungo, McSween's defensive partner at MSU, will skate for the

Wolverines trip Broncos in showdown

The last two unbeaten teams in the Midwest Summer Hockey League (MSHL) met in a Bakes Conference showdown Thursday at Wayne Ice Arena, and the game proved a good indicator why these two squads were on top of the league.

In a contest of which-team-can-rally-last, the Wolverines clipped the Broncos 6-5 on two goals in the game's final 7:38.

The win elevated the Wolverines to 4-0-1, making them the only undefeated squad in the MSHL. The Broncos slipped to 2-1-1 and into third place in the Bakes Conference with five points, one behind the Falcons (3-2-

The Wolverines led 4-3 after two periods, but Jeff Christensen and Dave McAuliffe got quick goals at the start of the third to put the Broncos up 5-4. The Wolverines' Todd Beyer tied it again at 5-all with 7:38 to play, and with 4:21 left Dennis Ryan, just added to the Wolverine roster, scored the game-

McAuliffe netted two goals and Paul Mitter added three assists for the Broncos. John Potts scored twice for the Wolverines, and Jeff Savitsky was superb in goal.

THE SPARTANS got third-period goals from Pat Moran and Scott Bolinger to break a 4-4 tie and give them a 6-4 triumph over the Wildcats, who had won three in a row, Wednesday at Plymouth.

While winning 15 of 16 games in the Redford Adray-Connie Mack League, the Elks have never stayed in a valley for long, and they broke out of one such minor slump Thursday at the appropriate time.

With regional tournaments fast approaching, the first-place Elks whitewashed the Livonia Mustangs 12-0 in five innings at Ford Field as their hitting and pitching combined to do an effective one-two number.

The Elks cranked out 11 hits five during an eight-run second inning — as they put the game out of reach early. Todd Kenyon, Tim Dowd and Ed Bardelli led the attack, each going 2-for-3.

Kobane rebounds in Western Junior

staff writer

Dean Kobane had been struggling on the golf course. It was a situation unfamiliar to the Michigan high school champion.

All of that changed when the 18year-old Livonian got to the Western Junior Golf Championships, a prestigious national amateur event, and advanced as far as the quarterfinals in match play. Kobane made the 36-hole cut with 77-73-150 and then defeated three straight match-play opponents before losing to the eventual winner. Jim Furyk of Pennsylvania, at Michigan State University's Forest Akers Golf Course July 7-11. "A couple of weeks ago I was playing probably my worst golf in a year and a half," said Kobane, who won the Class A title while a senior at Churchill High last fall.

"I JUST went in hoping and saying 'well, let's see what happens.' I was just trying to make the cut and get out of there.

"I took it one step at a time, and, before I knew it, I was that far," he added. "I played as well as I have all summer, so I did surprise myself." Kobane, who will leave for Malibu, Calif., and Pepperdine University on a golf scholarship later this summer, had a close shave in stroke play, however. He was just one stroke under the cutoff point of 151.

Kobane's overall game improved as the tournament progressed, but putting remained a trouble area throughout.

"AS FAR AS hitting tee to green, I got better as it went on," he said. "When I got to match play, I was hit-ting 'em better and better, but I couldn't make the putts.

"The whole tournament, I didn't putt up to my ability."

Eventually, a putt was the differsnce in his match with Furyk, whom Robane forced into sudden death by playing him even for 18 holes. On the first extra hole, Furyk sank a 24-foot putt for par, but Kobane missed his from a similar distance.

"I couldn't seem to hit where I was aiming," he said. "I pulled it a tad, and it broke more than I

"I WAS shaking in my shoes; there was a lot of pressure. I was mad at myself that I missed the putt, but, after I thought about it that night, I was pretty happy I made it as far as

Kobane certainly had much to be pleased about after an impressive showing in earlier rounds and offering the eventual champ his toughest

He had two close contests, defeating Wisconsin's Bill Heim and Chris Chapman of Texas by 2-and-1 scores in the first and third rounds. In the second, he whipped Steve White of California 4-and-3.

Heim had shot 143 in stroke play, but Kobane was 1-under-par in their match and came away with a win. But the result still caused him some East. Ian Kidd of Canton also will participate in the hockey action.

In last year's Sports Fest, McSween, a defenseman, was the most valuable player and scored the game-winning goal in the goldmedal contest. Another strong performance this year will go a long way toward helping him realize his Olympic dream.

"I'M READY TO go, mentally and physically," said McSween, who holds the NCAA career record for games played at 180. "I want to go down there and give my best effort at making the Olympic team and maybe score a few goals, too.

"Being a defenseman, I don't score that many, but I can surprise 'em every now and then.

'(MSU coach Ron Mason) got me to be a defenseman's defenseman, but I still get my points. I could see what he was saying: I can still be a good offensive player, but be a real good defensive player first.

The day after the NCAA tournament ended in March, McSween was on a plane for Leningrad in the Soviet Union, where he competed for the U.S. national team in the Pravada

That didn't happen as Kobane regained his composure and was only 2-down after 13 holes. He won No. 14 and birdied No. 16 to tie. After a superb tee shot on the par-3 18th, Kobane might have won the match in dramatic fashion except for an excellent putt by Furyk, who chipped up to within eight feet of the cup and one-putted to make par. "All the pressure was on him and he made it," Kobane said.

ADDING TO Kobane's impressive showing was the fact it was his first time competing in match play.

"Down the stretch there's definitely a lot more pressure, because you know what you have to do and you have to do it there and then.

Kobane's roommate at Pepperdine will be Roger Trevisan of Farmington Hills and Catholic Central High. The latter also competed in the Western Junior, but missed the cut as did Chris Bayer and Constant DeMattia of Farmington Hills and Bill Dorough of Livonia.

THE ASSISTANT coach at Pepperdine is a friend of the Trevisan family and former assistant pro in Farmington Hills, Kobane said. He recruited Trevisan, who was sixth in Class A last year, and also discovered Kobane, who will soon be able to play golf the year round in warm and sunny California.

"I'm looking forward to that," he said. "My main goal in college is to improve, and that's the place to do

ADAM KOCIK pitched four strong innings, allowing only two hits, to earn the victory. He struck out three and walked one.

"It's about time he came around," Racer said. "He picked up a couple bad habits in college, and we've been trying to work with him.

Climb aboard, matey.

The water's calm, the boats are docked, the beer's cold, the streets are packed with sailors and revelers.

If you've never been to the Port Huron to Mackinac races, then you might want to get your sea legs wet. Never mind the old saying that yachting is about as exciting as watching paint dry or grass grow. More than 100,000 spectators of the 63rd annual Bayview Yacht Club-sponsored event could tell you otherwise. Maybe they're not all old salts who know their port side from their starboard. Still, they like a good party. And this year's race promises to deliver.

For those who've heard horror stories about sloshed sailors and wet waifs, there's an alternative. The calm before the storm is Family Night on Thursday. You can take the wife and kids to view the boats docked along the Black River.

FOR ALL THE wild and crazy boating buffs, the big bash starts around 6 p.m. Friday and lasts through the wee hours of the morning.

"Friday night's a mob scene," warns Mike Benedict, executive director of the Port Huron Chamber of Commerce. "It's like Mardi Gras in New Orleans."

Police officers cruise the area, looking for people who break the rules by drinking on the streets or docks. "If they're caught, we ask them to dump it," says Capt. Fred Mitchell of the Port Huron Police.

"We want everybody to have a good time, but if they get out of hand, they go to jail."

WHETHER YOU plan to stay overnight in a boat or a hotel (most of them are booked), make sure you wake up early Saturday. Gulp down a cup of coffee, splash cold water on your face, slip on your boat shoes

There are more than 310 boats entered this year. The smallest, slowest boats take off at 11:30 a.m. and the remaining vessels launch every 10 minutes after that. Back in the 1970s, you could have spotted Ted Turner or Gordon Lightfoot rigging their boats. But nowadays, the only celebrities are the veteran

Before you climb in your car and head for the I-94 expressway, take a few tips from the experts:

JARGON

"Three sheets to the wind:" Loaded, drunk, smashed. In sailing, it means you haven't trimmed the jibs properly and the boat's staggering, says Commodore Bill Nagel, an old salt from Grosse Pointe.

"I don't like the cut of his jib:" I can't stand his face. "Head:" toilet.

"Go aft:" to the back of the boat.

"Galley:" kitchen.

"Windward:" The side where the wind is coming.

"Leeward:" Side where the wind is going.

"Don't bring your own booze," advises Benedict. "We've got plenty here."

That sums up the spirit of the Friday night party. Stroll along the Black River docks. Duck if you see a water balloon flying in your direction. For more organized fun, you can go to:

George's Place, 400 Quay - Music-lovers: Sit back and relax to Top 40 entertainment on Friday. Buffet breakfast, 8 a.m. to noon Saturday on the deck. Watch the sailboats race by.

Zebra Bar, 522 Quay - Landlubbers: Bored with boats? Bowl a few games at the Bowlodrome.

Brass Rail, 410 Huron — Autograph hounds: Keep your pen and paper handy. Hockey players Dino Cic-carelli of the Minnesota North Stars or Shawn Burr of the Detroit Red Wings hang out here.

Blue Water Festival Carnival - Kids and grownups who've never grown up: If you can't hitch a ride on a yacht or power boat, try a tilt-a-whirl or ferris wheel. Located on the St. Clair River next to the YMCA.

VIEW

The best vantage point for watching the start of the race is 21/2 miles out in Lake Huron," says Benedict.

Other options are Lakeside Park in Port Huron or Lakeport State Park in Lakeport, seven miles north of Port Huron.

Fogcutter Restaurant, 511 Fort Street - You can see the glistening waters of Lake Huron from anywhere inside the glass walls of this elegant eatery on the sixth floor of the People's Bank Building. While munching on seafood salad, discreetly slip out a pair of binoculars to get a close-up view of the boats sailing off into the wild blue yonder.

CHARTERS

Duc D'Orleans - Cruise out into the lake aboard a 112-foot boat while listening to on-the-spot coverage of the takeoff on the ship radio. Departs at 10:30 a.m. and returns at 3:30 p.m. Saturday. Cost is $21.50 (U.S. dollars) and includes a buffet lunch. For reservations, call (519) 337-5152.

Capt. Bill's - Captain Bill Van Luven will take six mateys on his 27-foot cabin cruiser. Cost is $350 for the day. To book the boat, call 364-8409 or 364-7404.

Sea Duce - Hitch a ride with Capt. Rob Helzer on his 27-foot cruiser. Fees: $50 per person for five hours; $70 per person for eight hours. The captain won't cruise unless there's a minimum of four passengers on board. For reservations, call 987-9539.

Bon voyage!

Architect James Blain has won almost every regatta he's entered since he bought the boat the Midtown last year.

Sailor has blueprint for success

By Carol Azizian

James Blain believes he's a better architect than a sailor.

But over the past two years, the Orchard Lake resident has made a bigger splash in the water than on

"I'm pretty seasoned," he admits. But I'm not the John McEnroe of sailing.

Blain, 37, is the skipper of Midtown, a 43-foot Joubert Nivelt. He's won almost every regatta he's entered since he bought the boat in Consider his record: First in class, second overall - Mills Race on Lake Erie, 1986. First overall -Windsor Overnight on Lake St. Clair. Grosse Pointe "Little Club" race and Grosse Pointe Yacht Club race, all in 1986. First in division 2. third overall in Chicago-Mackinac, 1986. Fourth in class - Southern Ocean Racing Circuit. First in class and winner of the Nausau Cup; second in class and second overall, Fort Lauderdale Key West race.

He's not ready to rest on his laurels. Placing first in his class in the Port Huron to Mackinac Island competition might give him a real sense of accomplishment.

"I want to win that race badly." he confessed. "I made a major tactical error last year, and it cost me the whole race.

his competitive spirit. Biographies of Lee Iacocca, John Bertrand the Australian who took the America's a world class sailor who lived down Cup away from the Americans) and Chuck Yeager rest comfortably alongside "how-to-achieve success" books for the yuppie generation -"Megatrends," "In Search of Excellence" and "What They Don't Teach

You at Harvard Business School." A tour of the buildings he designs, develops and owns is a better indication of his success. They include the Village Park office complex in Farmington Hills: AmeriCenter buildings in Troy. Livonia, Southfield and Bloomfield Hills: Cambridge

Center in Livonia.

Blain discovered early in his career that architects don't get rich solely by designing buildings. The big bucks come from developing and owning them. He owns J.D. Blain Inc., a construction/development company; AmeriCenters Inc., a shared office network; Midtown Management, a management firm. And he's president of James Blain/ Robert Wakely Inc., an architectural

"If I took my salary strictly from the architectural company, I couldn't affer I to buy a tub," he said.

'An archibect doesn't get compensated properly because there are so many risks and liabilities a volved. As the owner, I have more control over my designs."

AN ARCHITECT first and a sailor second. Blain took up the sport when he was a young boy growing up in Sturgis, a small town outside of Kal-IT'S EASY to peg Blain. Just one amazoo with a population of about glance at his bookshelf will expose 9 000 He sailed Sunfishes and small runabouts on Klinger Lake.

His role model was Chuck Kirsch, the street from the Blains.

"He was a very successful businessman, and I looked up to him,' Blain recalled. "That's when I set my goal in life."

After graduating from the University of Michigan with a master's degree in architecture in 1974, Blain worked for a few fittins. He set up his own practice when he was 27.

Sailing was still a preoccupation. He cruised the lakes in a Morgan 27 from 1978 to 1981 before selling it and didn't take up serious racing again until he sank his money into Midtown.

"It's a real high-tech boat," he said. "There's a direct relationship between speed and the amount of money spent." (He won't disclose the cos but says boats suffinal rang $200,000-$500 000

Midtown (named after the Birmingham cafe) has computers that keep track of wind direction and boat speed. One instrument even tells skippers the best speed they've traveled under certain conditions and compares that with their rent status.

All it needs is a little voi e like the computer in the movie 2001: A Space Odyssey'), "the skipper joked.

Blain put Midtown up for sale because he wants to "take a look at some other types of sailboats.

"Sailing is a recreational thing for me," he said. "The boat's a toy. My buildings are serious."

Mackinac race started in 1925

HISTORY: Bayview Yacht Club launched its first Port Huron to Mackinac Island race in 1925 with 12 boats. Today, it's one of the major sailing events in the world. Its growth over the years can be attributed to two factors 1) The Yachting Association ingen a weeklong July race to Viguet, freeing up the boats to enter Fort Huron-Mackinac. 2) After orld War II, the Chicago-Mackinac ace (which started in the early 300s on the same weekend as the Port Huron-Mackinac), changed its date. "We convinced the Chicago Yacht Club to alternate with us,' said Bill Nagel, who was commodore of Bayview in 1954.

THE RACE: The 259-nauticalmile course goes from the southern er i of Lake Huron to the Cove Island Joy near Tobermory, Ontario, to Mackinac Island. The smaller, slower boats take off at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, and the faster ones follow at 10-minute intervals. There are 19 classes and more than 310 boats competing. Smallest vessel is Athena, a Cal 27 owned by Rick Semack of Grosse Pointe Farms. Largest is Sassy, a 78-foot Palmer-Johnson owned by Dutch Schmidt of Mount Clemens.

Winners are determined by handicaps, allowing smaller boats to compete fairly with larger ones Skippers are rated on past performances only in the Performance Handicap Racing Fleet. In the International Offshore Rating division top boats race under the IOR's worldwide rating standard. The Maxi division is for the three largest boats: Fast Lane, a 65-foot McGregor owned by Larry Nickel of Birmingham; Pied Piper, a 66-foot custom designed-boat owned by Richard Jennings of Evanston, Ill.; and Sassy. In the IMS division, a boat's speed potential is used to determine its handicap.

FIRST TO FINISH: The first boat to finish isn't always the winner. But the candidates are the bigger ones such as Sassy, Pied Piper and Sprint. (Sprint was the overall winner last WINNERS: The winner is usually the boat that takes the IOR overall. Skippers who run into good weather and pick the right course are the luckier ones. This year's challengers should be Fujimo, Nitissima, Midtown, Rumors, Signature of Toledo. Sprint, White Lightning, Stars & Stripes, Leading Edge.

Smokey Robinson's Motown sound tops the bill Friday at the second annual Budweiser-Motor City Music Fest at Hart Plaza in downtown Detroit, co-sponsored by the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

Also performing at the free music fest, running through Sunday, are '50s rock legends Jerry Lee Lewis and Fats Domino, '60s stars Johnny Rivers and Gary Puckett, Harold Melvin and the Bluenotes, the Searchers and top local bands.

By including those local bands, music fest organizers hope to focus on Detroit music. And who better to represent the glory years of Motown Records, spawned here in the '60s, than William "Smokey" Robinson? Lum-dee, Lum-dee, La-hi.

Motown keeps 'em dancin' in the streets

By Kevin Brown

It's been 20 years since the classic records of Smokey Robinson and other Motown artists were released But fans still flock to local record stores for hits collections from Robinson, the Temptations, Supremes, Marvin Gave and others

Buyers for the Harmony House chain say Motown reissues on compact disc. cassette and traditional LP continue to be strong sellers.

"They're great. They sell consistently all the time and certainly will be selling into the next century." said Roy Burkheart, buyer with the metro Detroit record chain.

And Motown Records keeps reissuing their '60s and '70s hits in a variety of formats - everything from Top Ten hits by one group to charttoppers from several artists to rarities for hard-core fans - often at bargain prices.

Those reissues are especially popular with music fans seeking to build their CD collections

Motown is very good at packaging They really maximize the time potential on a compact disc." Burkheart adds

That's because a single CD holds up to 74 minutes 39 seconds of music and Motown Records often fits two classic '60s albums on one CD, giving the disc buyer more for the money

Tom Henderson, another Harmony House buyer said a new reissue, "Every Great Motown Hit." is especially popular now But both Henderson and Burkheart say all Motown collections sell well

"I'll get a call from them about a new reissue, and I'll say, 'Gee, we already have something like that, and I'd reluctantly buy it anyway." said Burkheart. "And we'd still sell that plus the other ones. It's amazing."

While inclusion of Motown ofdies on movie and commercial soundtracks helps keep the music fresh. they say there's one basic reason for the continued strength of Motown classics in the record store "The music is great." said Hender

A champagne brunch cruise will be 12.30-4 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 9. A cocktail buffet cruise will be 7-10:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 18. Tickets for each cruise are $75 per person, with proceeds going to the Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan, which aids adults and children afflicted with malignant blood disorders. (Charter for Charity, Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan; 353-8222.)

Script writing

Ever watch a television show and say, "Hey, I could write a better script than that"? If the show happened to be a production of "King Lear," we'd suggest that you take two aspirins and lie down for a while. But if it was something else, say "The A-Team Mops Up Gilligan's Island," you may have something there.

If so, the Cranbrook PM seminar Screenwriting: A Survival Course, may be for you. The seminar will be conducted by local-Emmy-Awardwinning television filmmaker Harvey Ovshinsky, and it will be offered 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sun-day at the Ringswood campus of Cranbrook Schools in Bloomfield Hills. It is often forgotten, but Detroit started out 286 years ago as a French town. To celebrate ze Frenchness of ze Motor City in Michigan's sesquicentennial year you could bop down to the Lafayette Coney Island in your Cadillac for some french fries. Or you could go Historic Fort Wayne Celebration '87 on Saturday.

The celebration runs from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., with tours of an 18th-century camp running throughout the day. The Campau Milice, re-creating the French militia that defended Detroit in those days, will have a musket-and-cannon salute at 3:30 p.m. The Madame Cadillac Dancers then will put on a two-hour show of music and dance from that era. Admission is free. (Historic Fort Wayne, W Jefferson at the foot of Livernois, Detroit; 297-9360.)

Don't be alarmed if you see a bunch of fire engines heading in the direction of Greenfield Village this weekend. Fairs put artists in the spotlight

Art

By Victoria Diaz special writer

Get out your walking shoes. Ann Arbor Art Fair week is here. Opening Wednesday and running through Saturday, the threefairs-in-one event will feature the work of more than 1,000 artists

The open-air festivities are expected to attract more than half a million art fanciers to the sidewalks of Ann Arbor to view sculpture, paintings, ceramics, weaving, photography, prints assemblages, basketry, drawings, jewelry, and other forms of artwork created by artists from 31 states.

LOOK FOR the oldest of the three fairs - the Ann Arbor Street Art Fair - along South and East University avenues. The original juried fair, it will showcase approximately 240 artists in this, its 28th year. The slightly smaller State Street Area Fair, also juried, has been a part of the event since 1967.

A third fair, the Summer Arts Festival, is unjuried and takes place in two locations along Main and State streets. This year its 17th - the Summer Arts Festival will display the work of nearly 600 artists.

In addition to artists' demonstrations and their work, fair-goers can take in other forms of entertainment along East University at the Graceful Arch, a free-form, aluminum-and-cloth structure designed by University of Michigan architectural students. Folk, jazz, pop, classical, bluegrass and Dixieland musicians will be on hand throughout the day, along with special dance groups and other performers. Special children's programs are also planned. All performances are free and begin each day at 11 a.m.

As part of the fair, children 10 and under may take part in supervised art projects that include painting, printing, and woodand-paper-clip sculpture at the Children's Booth, located on East University, near the First of America Bank. Activities are scheduled for 10 a.m. to noon and 2-4 p.m. daily.

Free parking will be provided for fair-goers at Briarwood Mall and Ann Arbor Pioneer High School and, for a nominal charge, two shuttle buses will provide transportation to and from these locations throughout the day.

Ann Arbor Transportation Authority buses also service the Art Fair areas regularly. Visitors entering Ann Arbor from expressways should look for exit ramp signs, indicating directions to park-

Fair hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

In his at-home studio he creates abstract pieces, often coloring them in shades of gray, mauve and pink, with a paint-like substance brushed onto the surface of the clay. Gibson's work can be seen at the State Street Area Fair.

Jewelry designer, Gerald Stopper, 34, has been a part of the fair since 1975. He owns Simply Jonathan's, a jewelry studio in Rochester that serves galleries and shops across the country.

At the State Street Area Fair this year, he'll be exhibiting his designs, created in gold and precious stones.

"I always work to highlight the stone," said Stopper, a former stonecutter and geological engineering student.

When a designer just throws in a stone at the last minute, almost as if it were an afterthought, I don't like that. And I don't like to see a design that tries to compete with a really fine stone. Because of my background, I guess, I have a real appreciation for the stone itself."

Stopper said most of his jewelry designs have a "deco-ish or European look - very clean, geometric." Prices for the original designs begin around $100, he said

Don't let the heat steam you up on race day

By Tom Henderson staff writer

The Redford Roadrunner Classic is less than two weeks away. It's too late to begin training for this fivemile run through the streets of Livonia, but it's not too late to prepare for one of a runner's worst enemies: heat on race day.

The run is Saturday evening. Aug. 1, and if it's like many of the evenings we've had in July, it will be hot

According to Steve Keteyian, director of the LeVine Health Enhancement Center at Henry Ford Hospital, there are steps you can take to prepare your body for a hot race, both in the 12 days leading up to the race and on the day of the

The best way to get ready for the heat, he said, is to train in the heat

"Within days, most of the major changes will begin occuring in the body" as a process of acclimatization, said Keteyian.

Start heat training slowly, both in pace and in the time spent running. If your schedule permits you to run at midday, do so. If it doesn't, then get out and run in the heat next weekend. After several runs at high noon, a hot race at 6 p.m. won't seem nearly so hot.

WATER, WATER, water. That's what you need before, during and after hot-weather running. Keteyian suggested drinking a glass or two of water an hour before a run and four to eight ounces more 15 minutes before the run. Then, if you know of water fountains along the way, or don't mind running with a squeeze bottle of water, you should drink four ounces every eight to 10 min-

Drinking during training is sometimes a problem, but it won't be during the Roadrunner Classic because there will be water stops along the

After the run or race, Keteyian said to drink past the point of quenching your thirst, at least three to four cups in the 30 minutes after cial fluid-replacement drinks, drink them only if they have been diluted to half the strength recommended on the package. Mixed the way the manufacturer recommends, these drinks are far too sugary. "The body actually has to empty itself of water to dilute them in the stomach," said Ketevian.

Whatever you do, don't take salt tablets before or during exercise. THERE ARE two levels of heat stress, one mildly bothersome, the other deadly. The first is heat stress. The signs are a feeling of fatigue beyond what you normally feel at a certain pace or after a certain number of miles and a decrease in the amount of

Stop exercising, or, if you're close to the finish line, go ahead and finish the race, then find a shady spot, cool off and drink a lot of water.

Heat stroke comes when the core body temperature heats up to 105 degrees Fahrenheit or higher.

Its signs are confusion, nausea, unsteady gait, goose bumps, fast pulse and a shutdown of the sweating process. When these symptoms hit, stop exercise and get cool as fast as possible. If you see a runner with these symptoms - a la Gabriele Andersen in the 1984 women's Olympic marathon - get him or her off the course, lay them down, elevate their legs and apply ice if available. If not, hose them off and get medical help.

Heat is a culprit, but high humidity is particulary insidious. With high humidity levels, your sweat can't evaporate into the air. No evaporation means no cooling.

If Aug. 1 is a hot and humid day, go ahead and run. But drink more and run slower. Don't race, just trot. Enjoy the party after and live to race another day.

Imagine pulling up to your class reunion behind the wheel of a 1972 Mercedes or sweeping your spouse away to a second honeymoon in a 1957 T-bird convertible.

Martin and Mary Lee Vadalabene of Troy are making those four-wheel fantasies come true. Armed with creative thinking, business savvy and insurance from Lloyd's of London, the husband-wife team opened Classic Auto Rentals in May.

The Bloomfield Hills-based comany rents T-Birds, Mercedes or a 1953 MG convertible for 24 hours, without a driver. For less than $200, customers can live the lifestyle of the rich and famous.

Mary Lee Vadalabene sees the classics as an alternative to

"It used to be be when you saw a limousine, you'd say, 'Wow!' But there are so many around now," she said. "People are even getting them to drive their kids to McDonald's for their birthdays.

"This costs about the same as three hours' limousine service, and it's very personalized. There's no advertising on the cars, not even our name around the license plate. No one will know it's not yours." MARTIN VADALABENE said he investment," he said. "You may drive it only one season, then have to store it all winter."

Two years ago Vadalabene test marketed his rental idea using a Mercedes owned by the dealership.

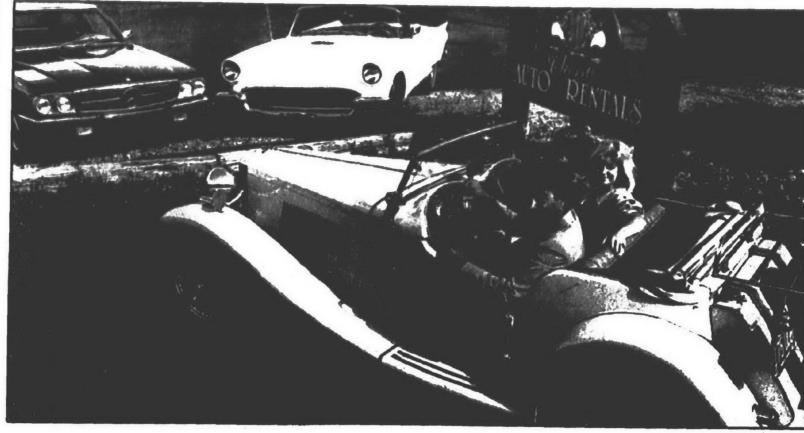

"I took out an ad in the Sunday classifieds, and I got 30 calls Monday. One was from a real estate agent who was going to show a house

The dealership sold the Mercedes before the fledgling business got off the ground. But Vadalabene felt the Motor City was ready for his idea and set out to make Classic Auto Rentals a reality.

In his market research he found several West Coast companies that rent modern exotics such as Rolls dalabenes are in an MG, while the other cars are a Mercedes (left) and Thunderbird.

Martin and Mary Lee Vadalabene show off some of the automobiles they have for hire at their Classic Auto Rentals. The Va-classics. He soon found out why. "The banks won't lend money for these cars, and the insurance companies had no idea how to handle it," he said. "It's never been done before. If it was just a normal rent-a-car business, fine, but you tell them it's classic cars, that's just too high risk."

Royce or Mercedes but none renting

UNABLE TO FIND backers, Vadalabene sold his condominium for capital and called on contacts from work to obtain the cars wholesale. He also found a source for parts in California and a master mechanic with expertise in classic autos to check the cars before each rental. The insurance search finally led to Lloyd's, the London company famous for insuring such celebrated objects as Betty Grable's legs and Jimmy Durante's nose. "We're still negotiating with Lloyd's," Vadalabene said. "Right now, they're talking about partial coverage with a $2,500 deductible.

But so far only one person hasn't had their own insurance, so we probably won't need to offer coverage." With the major hurdles cleared, the Vadalabenes opened their business without hoopla May 10, relying on a four-line classified ad. Media coverage did the rest. And according to Mary Lee Vadalabene, business has been good.

THE NEW COMPANY already is booking three months in advance, averaging four rentals a week. Most have been for class reunions and weddings. But other requests have included a businesswoman picking up a VIP from the airport and a man taking his wife on a second honeymoon to Traverse City.

"People have been just wonderful," Mary Lee Vadalabene said. We were a little concerned. I mean you see people driving away, and you just cross your fingers and toes.

"But the people renting the cars full time at Birmingham Imports, said he can help customers buy a classic if they become smitten and renting isn't enough. Meanwhile, the couple would like to expand their fleet. Their plans include adding a Rolls and a Jaguar -Martin Vadalabene's personal dream car - to the lineup. "Having your own business gives you the ability to have freedom, to take the risks and be creative," he "The only limitations are your dreams," his wife added. "We don't believe in saying, 'We should have,' somewhere down the road."

Classic Auto Rentals daily rental cost is $150 for the T-Bird or $180 for the Mercedes. The MG is the only stick shift. A $100 deposit will hold the car of your choice. You'll also be asked to provide a refundable $250 security deposit when you pick the car up and the name of your insurance company. For more information, call

Some other surprising things you can rent

. If it exists, you can rent it. Well, probably you can

'We're renting things today we never rented before," said Sami Zawideh, owner of AAA Chair & Table Rental Service. He uses 16,000 square feet of space to store the items the company rents.

"People nowadays don't mind spending a buck and let someone else take care of it."

Renting can be practical, convenient and sometimes thore economical than buying. It can also be wish-fulfilling, ego uplifting or just for the fun of it.

· Let's say you're headed for your high school reunion and want to boost your image as a sport who can afford to drive in the fast lane. How about renting a bright red Porsche for the weekend? Budget Rent A Car has just added Porsches to its line of rental cars at a rate of $150 per day. On top of that it's 50 cents per mile over 50 miles per day and requires a deposit of $2,000 of available credit on two major credit eards. There are a couple of catches. For a Porsche, you must be at last 25 years old "and no other driver can be added" to the contract, according to Roxann Kozlowski, customer sales representative in the firm's Birmingham

"Porsches are mostly rented just for joy riding or showing off," said Kozlowski. "We're getting lots of inquiries about them, and we've got a waiting list of about

• "Mommie, mommie, get me a hot tub too." Dale Norton-Schock, owner of a traveling hot tub for rent, said it's becoming a popular item for children's parties as well as adults. "When it gets in a neighborhood and all the kids see it, it certainly stimulates interest," he said.

Norton-Schock's traveling tub - delivered, freshly filled and heated - can be rented for $100 per weeknight, $175 per weekend night and $250 for the weekend. The tub and surrounding seating are inside a small redwood house on a 25-foot trailer. The new business is based in Bloomfield Township.

seats and baby scales can be rented. The going rates for the major items range from $13.20 to $22 per week with pickup and delivery included, according to Laurel Burwell, manager of Rental World in Royal Oak.

 Cross country skis can be rented for $15.40 per day. said Burwell. "We don't rent downhill skis because they're usually available at ski areas. But you can cross country in your back yard or anywhere."

 Metal detectors, for finding lost keys or rings or for those who just want to go out and see what they can find, rent for $13.20 for two hours or $20.90 per day. They're available at Rental World.

• Exercise equipment - such as rowing machines. treadmills, belt vibrators, whirlpools for bathtubs and exercises cycles - rent for around $19 to $35 per month.

· Businesses as well as individuals have discovered art for rent, usually for several months at a time. Interested persons should check with their local art association or the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The Birmingham Bloomfield Art Association rents paintings, often for periods of from two to four months at a time. Rental fees correspond to the value of the paintings. "If the renter decides to buy, the rental fee is deducted from the sale price," said Ruth Slocum, BBAA

· "More and more people are turning to buying their windsurfer as the popularity of the sport continues to grow," said Lowell Salesin. But a sail board and sail rig can be rented by the hour at Orchard Lake Boats. Rental fee is $12 per hour on weekdays and $14 per hour on weekends. A flotation device is optional.

· Porta-Johns rent like hot cakes this time of year, according to Beverly Weingarden, special event coordinator for the Utica-based Porta-John company. They're popular for large outdoor parties, weddings and the like. Weingarden describes them as state-of-the-art, lightweight with translucent tops for sunlighting and colored green "to match the environment."

Individuals needing one or two units would be charged about $65 per unit for a day, weekend or even a week. "I'd advise people not to wait until the last minute but call 30 to 60 days ahead." said Weingarden.

The nationwide firm had the contract for the recent Detroit Grand Prix and is getting ready to provide the facilities for the Pope's visit to Pontiac in September.

· Big bills and collector's coins are rentable, but you have to know where to go. Check with Birmingham Stamps & Coins owner Richard Rosenbaum. "Sometimes I charge the customer, sometimes I don't depending on who it is. I usually require a deposit equal to the value of . the item," Rosenbaum said. Often such items are rented for promotional work by advertising agencies. "I've leased thousand dollar bills." he said. "Once I leased gold coins to someone who wanted to mix them in a can of coffee beans to show that coffee was as expensive as gold.

Rosenbaum, who operates a pawn shop in connection with his coin business also occasionally leases jewelry.

· Jewelers leasing jewelry items is currently being explored as a possibility by some shop owners. "I've thought about it many times." said Link Wachler of David Wachler & Sons Inc. "But I imagine the cost of insurance makes it an unrealistic concept. Also, in some social circles you might see the same one-of-a-kind piece of jewelry showing up on several different people.

Wachler said if he finds there's an interest in leasing : jewelry and people willing to pay the price, "I'm always open to new business."

• P.S.: Some other leasable items: Stages of all sizes for all kinds of productions, tents of any size (there no limit because they come in sections). chinaware, glassware, silver service, seating for thousands including tables and chairs for children, electrical snakes for cleaning out sewer lines, etc.

Somewhere out there, someone may have just what you want to lease.

Madonna: Do you love her, hate her?

staff writer

Hey, Madonna fans - and Madonha haters. We're waiting to hear from you.

You've got less than a week to enter Street Scene's "Do you love Ma-Jonna - or hate her?" contest. Ever since the Rochester rockstar rose to fame four years ago, the debate has raged. She's a beauty; a good pop singer and actress, say her fans. She's a no-talent, shameless tart,

The response so far has been ter-Fific. As of last Friday morning, we had received 117 entries. The response has been running 10-1 in Madonna's favor.

The contest is our way of commemorating Madonna's tour stop near her former home Rochester,

Adams High School in 1976. After a year of studying dance at the University of Michigan, Madon-na left for New York City. There, she joined a dance troupe, sang and played drums in a fledgling band, starred in the low-budget film "A Certain Sacrifice," and cut her first successful record. "Everybody." "Borderline" was her first major hit. Released in 1983, it was followed in quick succession by "Lucky Star," "Like a Virgin," "Material Girl," and many more, including her current hit "Who's That Girl," also the title of her current movie.

Madonna's movie career hasn't quite matched her success in pop music. "Desperately Seeking Susan," released in 1985, co-starring Rosanna Arquette, was a hit with fans and critics, while "Shanghai Surprise," co-starring her husband, Sean Penn, failed with critics and movie-goers.

Cameron said he is excited about the prospect of racing on Sylvan Lake. Two American records have been broken there," he said.

If roostertails from Formula One unlimited hydroplanes skimming across the Detroit River at 130 miles per hour caught your fancy, there's more.

Hydroplanes will rev up for the 72nd running of the Oakland County Boat Club-Miller High Life Regatta on Sylvan Lake on Sunday.

The OCBC-Miller High Life Regatta is part of a series of races within the Mid-American Championship Hydroplane (Mach) Series. It's one of 11 annual maces in Mid-Misen and Chic. races in Michigan and Ohio.

The hydros that race on Sylvan Lake are similar to the unlimited hydros with one difference: the en-

Most drivers in the unlimited class use turbine engines, similar to those found on a jet airplane.

The hydros in the Mach series race in classifications determined by their engines, which range from one to seven liters and can be stock or modi-

ALL HYDROS have one thing in common: potential for a blowover.

Hydros are made of aircraft plywood with a wooden hull, giving the boat a light weight compared to recreational boats. Hydros ride on a cushion of air. When the pressure of this cushion becomes too great, the boat takes off and flips over and over.

It was such a blowover that put Washington's Steve Reynolds into a coma while racing in Indian-

"That is the worst that could happen out there," said Don Cameron, vice president of Marine Props Riders, a Detroit-based affiliate of the American Power Boat Association.

Cameron, 30, of Birmingham, drives McCord Gasket Corp.'s hydroplane, the Miss McCord. Miss McCord has a Chevy five-liter stock engine. The hydro weighs 1,100 pounds and can reach speeds in excess of 110 mph.

Cameron has been racing for seven years and is: excited by the apcoming race.
"Sylvan Lake in the last few years has become very fast. Two American records have been broken there," he said. The Sylvan Lake race draws a number of highly competitive drivers. There are many champions racing there this year.

EINER GLASNIUS, 31, of Mount Clemens has been racing his own hydroplane, the Wild Viking, for seven years.

Glassius has been the Northern American Champion as well as a three-time Midwestern American Champion. He has flirted with the world record. In fact, he broke the world record three different times, but due to technicalities in the rules, his

Veteran Mario Maraldo, 49, also of Mount his hydroplane, the Baby Doll II, in the race. Baby Doll II houses a 1957 seven-liter Chrysler super-Maraldo is his own sponsor. He started building Baby Doll II in 1969 and completed it in 1971. He has been tearing up the lakes and rivers of the Midwest ever since.

Other local boats to look for on Sylvan Lake are Southpaw, driven by Dick Delsner of East Detroit, and one of three hydros driven by Mark Tate of Wayne. Tate will be driving the Deel Me In, Long Gone, or the American Fast Photo.

WINNING A race takes more than just driving around the lake at unheard of speeds.

More and more drivers are opting to use a fighter-jet-type canopy in the hydroplane's cockpit in order to aerodynamically streamline the vessel. Some drivers like to use a hull of a man-made, lightweight wood called gar wood to make the hydro lighter and faster.

The propeller plays heavily on the outcome of the race. During the race, it is just about the only part of the hydroplane that is in the water. Props are sized according to pitch. Pitch is how far the hydroplane travels in one second.

Smaller props accelerate the hydroplane more quickly for a fast start while larger props start slower but provide more speed in the long straigh-

In a short course, with many turns, a smaller prop is needed for faster acceleration through turns. In a course with long straightaways, a larger prop is needed to reach those blinding speeds. The OCBC-Miller High Life Regatta is sponsored by Powers Distributing, Oakland County Boat Club and Miller American Racing.

Racing will start at noon with the finals tentatively set for 6 p.m.

The race will take place on upper Sylvan Lake, with the pits at the Oakland County Boat Club, Ferndale and Pontiac Drive. Pontiac Drive is the first light west of Telegraph on Orchard Lake Road. Turn north on Pontiac Drive to Ferndale. Drive to Ferndale.

Admission is free. Prizes totaling $1,000 will be awarded in each of six classes, ranging from one-liter engines to seven-liter engines with a blower. The firstplace winner in each class will receive $300 with the rest of the money distributed down to fifth place. Trophies will go to the first three finishers in each class.
