CROSBY ON EXHIBIT: The works of artist Johnnie Crosby of Plymouth have been accepted in the National Watercolor 10th annual National Exhibition to be held Sept. 19 to Nov. 19 in the Owensboro Museum of Fine Arts, 901 Frederica Street, Owensboro, Ky, Crosby also is exhibiting at the 36th annual Exhibition of Ann Arbor Women Painters held recently in Ann Arbor. She won an honorable mention award in that show, which will be open 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturdays through Oct. 2 in Rackham Galleries, East Washington at Fletcher.

DOES RECITAL: Elaine Harper Grover of Plymouth, an internationally known organist ed adjunct instructor in plane at Marygrove Colle perform a faculty or an recital at 4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27, in the Sacred Heart chapel on campus at 8425 W. McNichols at Wyoming, Detroit.

Grover will perform works by Bach, Buxtehude, Franck, Jongen and Messiaen. Admission is free.

IN HONOR OF: An open house and dedication ceremony for the Joyce M. Massey Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) Day Treatment Service was held Tuesday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ypsilanti.

The facility was made possible by a generous gift from Donald E. Massey, owner of Massey Cadillac in Plymouth, in honor of wife Joyce. The center is a component of the McAuley Rehabilitation Program in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, 5301 East Huron River Drive. The program allows patients to live at home and get treatment during the day. Occupational, physical, speech and recreational therapies, along with psychological and social work services who have suffered a debilitating injury or illness.

UNUSUAL VISITOR: Robert Willoughby said he believes he saw a black panther last weekend in the Royal Holiday Park in Canton. After returning from a movie about 11 p.m. Sept. 11, he was entering his home when he saw the stately animal. Willoughby described it as about 5-6 feet long "not including the tail," estimated to be about five feet long and curled on the end.

"It had to be a panther," Willoughby said. "I don't know what else it could be. I just froze, I couldn't believe it."

He said he only saw the animal for a few seconds but it was standing in a well-lighted area. Willoughby said he'll probably curtail his usual evening stroll in the wooded area near the mobile home park, at Warren near I-275.

COUNTS MONEY: Pam Kosteva, owner of the Cheese & Wine Barn on Forest in Plymouth, was installed as treasurer of the Michigan chapter of the National Association of Women Business Owners. Supreme Court Justice Patricia J. Boyle was the feature speaker. The chapter is open to all women business owners.

Priest guides visit of U.S. deacons

By Diane Gale staff writer

George Charnley left his engieering job to become a priest and 11 years later he's engineering the pope's visit Saturday with deacons from across the U.S.

But then the massive undertaking couldn't be too much for a man who lightheartedly discusses leaving his 10-year job at Ford Motor Co. for the priesthood because, Ford always says they have a better idea. Well, I had a better idea."

The pastor of St. John Neumann Catholic Church in Canton started planning for the papal visit last February. He attended weekly meetings to guarantee every minute is accounted for from 10:05 to 11:20 a.m. when the pope is at Ford Auditorium.

HIS WORRIES as the Ford Auditorium site coordinator went further to consider the deacons' stay. They are scheduled to arrive at 7 a.m. and leave at 1 p.m. after watching the pope deliver his speech at Hart Plaza via television.

There were an infinite number of small details that consumed time, like contacting the catering company for the doughnuts and coffee, meeting with other site coordinators to make sure everything pieces together and understanding the interaction with security people, to name a few.

All this added responsibility comes in the midst of an already hectic time.

Charnley, 46, was named pastor of St. John Neumann in March after serving 41/2 years as pastor at St. Dunstan in Garden City. He was given the papal coordinating job because he serves as director of the deacon program for the Archdiocese of Detroit.

Stahl plans no layoffs after recent sale

By Doug Funke staff writer

No layoffs are planned at Stahl Manufacturing Co. in Plymouth and Redford after plants there were acquired earlier this month by Columbus (Ohio) Auto Parts Inc., a company spokesman said.

We're not planning on reducing the size of the operation," said John Salvette, recently named vice president and chief financial officer for Stahl Manufacturing.

"I think it was getting too big for him (B.J. Stahl) to manage and this was a good opportunity in time to bring in Columbus Auto Parts with management expertise to bring further growth in business."

About 250 work at both the Redford plant on Woodbine and the Plymouth plant on Junction and less than 50 at Better Built Box Co. on Farmer in Plymouth, said Al Snyder, administrative assistant for Stahl Manufacturing.

'We're going to try to put more sales in existing facilities," Salvette said. "We have no intentions at this time of shutting any plants down. Our intent is to get more sales and we're confident we can do that with existing facilities and equipment."

Residents seek tax for parkland

By Doug Funke staff writer

Some Lakepointe Subdivision residents want Plymouth Township to buy 32 acres of vacant land at Haggerty and Schoolcraft roads and develop another township park.

About 30 people are circulating petitions calling for a property tax increase of 31/2 mills ($3.50 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) for two years to accomplish that according to organizer Loraine Potochick.

They hope to submit 507 valid signatures to Esther Hulsing, township clerk, in time to qualify for the Nov.

MEIJER INC. has an option to buy that property on which it proposes to build a 207,000-square-foot retail store. The parcel is owned by a construction company.

The township planning commission was expected to give a recommendation yesterday (Wednesday) on a Yezoning request that would allow Meijer to proceed

Zoning regulations, designed to promote orderly growth, determine how land may be used. The township board rules on rezoning requests.

We thought we have a desirable alternative," Potochick said. "With a township park there, it may lead to other rezonings for residential, apartments or houses, and not commercial or industrial.

"I know it's an unrealistic thought to know everything will always remain the same. We want the community as a whole to decide, not just a handful of people," she added.

The 32-acre parcel at Haggerty and Schoolcraft has been appraised at $2.5 million, Potochick said.

A tax increase of 3.5 mills for two years would raise enough money to buy the land and leave about $94,000

Fund-raisers seek $425,000 for charity

By Doug Funke staff writer

The board of directors for the Plymouth Community Fund/United Way has set a fund-raising goal this fall of $425,000 - $25,000 more than was targeted during the 1986 campaign.

The annual drive began yesterday and continues through the end of November

Marcia Buhl, chairwoman of this year's campaign, and Clarence Du-Charme, the fund's executive director, both are confident that people will respond generously

"I've found . . . there are a lot of people concerned and committed to the United Way drive," Buhl said.

"We probably have the first or second per capita contribution for any United Way community our size in Michigan," DuCharme added.

School board buys 2 lots for possible expansion

School officials say they're keep-ing their options open on what to do with two lots the schools are buying near the administration building.

The school board unanimously agreed Monday to buy two lots adjacent to the administration building on Harvey south of Ann Arbor Trail.

The $225,000 purchase - including two houses - comes in the midst of discussions on how and where to house the central offices.

THREE PLANS still exist for housing the central administration: Either expand the present location, construct a building site elsewhere or buy an existing building elsewhere.

The purchase will make staying at the present location a more viable alternative, said Ray Hoedel, associate superintendent for business.

Because insufficient parking is a common complaint, the additional 17,825-square-foot lots could be used for adding spaces as well as expanding the building for office area, he

School board members debated the effect it would have on the central offices options.

Board president David Artley said even if the district doesn't use the land to expand the administration building, the purchase is a good investment.

"The price is extremely reasonable in terms of the current market value. This does not preclude the building of a new building. No, absolutely not. The options are all still Dean Swartzwelter, board member, said the alternatives are still in the running. He added, however, the present location has serviced the district well."

'riest guides deacons' visit

EVEN THOUGH HE admitted the added responsibilities were great, Charnley wouldn't have passed on the opportunity.

"It's a once-in-a-lifetime chance - the pope will never come to Detroit again," he said and paused. "At least not in our lifetime. It's exciting to be a part of something unique to the country and to the Archdiocese of Detroit."

The pope's willingness to meet with the deacons has "enhanced the deaconate community's effort to come together.'

Many people mistakenly think deacons are "mini priests," Charn-

"It's a separate order. They're ordained ministers of God. And they're a vital sign to people in the work place because people can approach them."

Deacons usually work a full-time job and volunteer between five and 20 hours weekly to the ministry. Their duties include serving as "ministers of the service," like working in hospitals and visiting the sick; "ministers of the word," proclaiming the gospel; and "ministers of prayer," Charnley said.

MANY DEACONS are married and have studied about six years part time to become a deacon, Charnley said.

He emphasizes the volunteer help that went into preparations for the pope's visit, especially the work of Leo Bistak, a deacon at St. Rene Goupil in Sterling Heights and assistant Ford Auditorium site coordinator.

"There's been a lot of long hours and a lot of hard work by volunteers in the deaconate community of Detroit. The preparation is amazing and all the volunteers are amazing."

What would Charnley, who has seen the pope twice during general audiences in Rome, say if he had an unexpected moment to chat with Pope John Paul during this weekend's visit?

He paused a moment, and said: "Thank you for recognizing the permanent deaconate and the role they play in the church of the U.S."

for park development, she said.

The money would be collected in 1989 and 1990.

The owner of a house with a market value of $100,000 could expect to pay an additional $175 in property taxes for two years if the increase were to pass.

"Maybe it isn't too much to preserve a corner and do something beneficial to the neighborhood," Potochick said. "We know it's a long going to give it our best shot."

THE TOWNSHIP owns a large park and golf course at Ann Arbor Trail and McClumpha Road.

By law, ballots must be available 20 days before a special election,

Hulsing said. She said she'd like to have this and all other petitions submitted by the end of the month to allow time to check signatures, enable the township's attorney to review ballot language, and make printing arrange-

Potochick said Monday she hoped to submit the petitions Wednesday. Township voters already will face one proposal in November - a tax increase from 80 cents to $1.20 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation for extended hours and more books at the Dunning-Hough Library.

It's also likely, Hulsing said, that a separate proposal asking for a tax hike of $2 per $1,000 of SEV for two years to build and operate a township pool will make the ballot.

National Merit semifinalists

Six seniors attending Plymouth-Canton Community Schools are among 15,000 students nationwide who have been named semifinalists in the 33rd annual Merit Program of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. The semifinalists will continue in the 1988 competition for about 6,000 Merit Scholarships worth more than $23 million. More than 1 million students from some 19,000 high schools entered the current Merit program by taking a qualifying test in 1986 when they were juniors. Semifinalists represent about half of 1 percent of each state's graduating class. Plymouth Canton High seniors named semifinalists are Roshani B. Cowmeadow, Minal Hajratwala, Daniel J. Ream and Evan K. Young. Plymouth Salem High semifinalists are Lisa M. Brining and Laura J. Porterfield. About 90 percent of the semifinalists are expected to advance to finalist standing of which 44 percent will receive a scholarship. Announced this spring will be some 1,800 finalists who will earn $2,000 Merit Scholarships, about 1,400 who will earn corporate scholarships from $500 to $8,000, and some 2,800 who will receive grants from colleges and universities ranging from $250 to $2,000. Since the program started in 1956 some 102,500 students have received merit scholarships totalling $310 million.

> WEDE ODEN The most luxurious convalescent facility in the Metro Detroit area

This extraordinary nursing center is conveniently located in West Bloomfield. It offers outstanding medical, nursing and rehabilitative care in an elegant setting. While the facility specializes in providing skilled nursing care, it also has accommodations for those in need of "assisted" or "supportive" care.

Spacious Mini-Suites and Deluxe Semi-Private Accommodations All have private baths and are professionally decorated. Some of the suites have their own walk-in spa-tubs! Every suite has a magnificent view of either the enclosed courtyards or the wooded park-like grounds. The entire center is 100% equipped with a sprinkler system for maximum safety.

The Unique "Town Center Plaza"

The Plaza is a cluster of special shops inside the facility where residents and visitors can enjoy each other's company. • A Pub • Snack Shop • Beauty Salon • A Flower and Gift Shop • An Old-Fashioned Ice Cream Parlour. No other facility has anything like it for socialization and enjoyment.

Delicious appetizing meals are graciously served at wellappointed tables in our beautiful dining room by a friendly and attentive staff. All therapeutic diets are meticulously prepared and carefully monitored under the direction of executive chef Paul Wolshon, formerly of the Marriot Hotels. Linger over your dessert, as you would in a fine restaurant.

Exciting and Varied Activities

The facility has a full range of varied activities and planned recreational opportunities to keep residents involved and mentally stimulated. Residents can participate as much or as little as they choose. Our programs fit the individual — not the other way around.

Seeing is believing. Honor us by a visit. Let us show you the most extraordinary facility in the area. Our courteous admissions staff is available to discuss the proper and most appropriate placement for the resident.

A Letter From Robert C. Gurwin,

President of West Bloomfield Nursing and Convalescent Center

As the president of the West Bloomfield Nursing and Convalescent Center, I want to give you my personal assurance that all residents of this beautiful new convalescent center will receive the finest medical, nursing and rehabilitative care possible.

In designing this unique facility and in selecting its staff members, we aimed for the best - and I am certain we achieved that.

I have been in the business of providing nursing home service to the elderly for over 27 years and I am very proud that nursing homes I have operated in this area were recognized by Good Housekeeping Magazine as NO. 1 in the Detroit area and among the top nursing centers in the country.

All of us at West Bloomfield Nursing and Convalescent Center are committed to continuing that tradition of care and concern in our elegant new facility.

Please call me personally or either of my partners, Jack Bell or Timothy Spiro, at 661-1600 if we can answer any questions or help you in any way.

Diane M. O'Conner, M.A. has worked with every aspect of grief, dying, and significant loss. She is an expert at helping people find ways to deal with their feelings of pain, sorrow, and the finality of death.

We realize that the loss of a spouse, child, or parent can be a devastating psychological and emotional experience. This experience can be shared with others who have gone through the same transition. With this in mind, we are sponsoring the HORIZONS Survivors Support Group.

The HORIZONS Survivors Support Group is led by our staff grief specialist, Diane M. O'Connor, M.A. You are invited to meet with Diane and attend our group meetings which The Plymouth Historical Museum will be held at:

"By and large," said Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, "it is going to be a debate and confrontational gridlock that we've got in trying to work out . . . the budget and how we're going to get the budget under control." Pursell is a deputy whip in the House Republican leadership. The House and Senate, mired in a dispute over how to revise ceilings on the federal deficit, at the last minute passed a resolution continuing borrowing authority through ear-

EACH HOUSE will be faced with the need to solve the budget question so permanent borrowing authority can be sent to the president for his signature.

Legislation to reduce the nation's trade deficit passed in widely different forms by the House and Senate must be reconciled through behindthe-scenes compromises in a committee composed of members from each body.

The trade bills have caused a split between hardliners, who want tough sanctions against countries that unfairly undercut American products in U.S. markets, and lawmakers favoring a more moderate approach. Congress also will face the problem of reaching a compromise between House and Senate versions of

THE BILLS, for example, contain spending on defense projects affecting northern Michigan, including $500,000 for research into Defense Department uses of wood, said Rep. Robert Davis, R-Gaylord.

To cover proposed spending next year, the House leadership before the recess was discussing the need to seek more revenue through a tax increase in one form or another, the type of legislation difficult for the Congress to pass, particularly with a presidential election year looming.

"Each and every one of them are massive undertakings," said Rep. John Dingell, D-Trenton. He is chairman of the powerful House Energy and Commerce Committee.

They will be done and, hopefully, with cooperation from the administration, although unlikely so," Dingell said.

Pursell, a moderate whose district includes part of Livonia, sees the polarization of left and right over budget issues as presenting an opportunity for "those of us in the middle trying to achieve some policy

Despite differences with papal policies, the Detroit Jewish community will not stage protests when Pope John Paul II comes to town.

'American Jewish leaders met with the pope in Rome and agreed to future free and open discussions with the Vatican before our concerns become issues." said Alvin L. Kushner. executive director of the Jewish Community Council.

The Jewish people were upset over the pope's audience in June with Austrian president Kurt Waldheim who was accused of Nazi war crimes. Kushner said.

DIFFERENCES ALSO exist between Jews and the Vatican because of the latter's refusal to recognize the state of Israel and its apparent insensitivity to the Holocaust, he

"Because the pope's visit Sept. 18 and 19 falls on our Sabbath, the Archdiocese of Detroit did not invite Jewish dignitaries to the Hart Plaza or Pontiac Silverdome," Kushner

But Saturday night after the Sabbath. Jewish community leaders have been invited to the state department's gathering at the airport when the pope departs.

JEWISH GROUPS refused to participate in ceremonies during the pope's visit to Miami, Kushner said.

The Southfield-based Detroit Zionist Federation, an umbrella organization of 19 Zionist groups and affiliates in the metropolitan area, acknowledges the mutual understanding that has existed for many years with the local Catholic community, said president Norman

'However, we find ourselves disappointed and pained at the pope's

CAMPAIGN FINANCE BILL -By a vote of 53 for and 42 against, the Senate failed to achieve the three-fifths majority needed to silence a GOP-led filibuster against legislation (S 2) restructuring the financing of Senate campaigns

This marked the sixth time this year the Senate has failed to end the talkathon and begin direct debate on the bill, which Democratic sponsors have gradually softened to win over opponents

The bill provides discounts on campaign mailing and broadcast rates to Senate candidates who agree to limit spending and the amount of political action committee (PAC) money they receive. A candidate would receive public funding only if his or her opponent exceeded voluntary spending limits.

Supporter David Boren, D-Okla said "we must not allow the highest positions of public trust in this land to be placed on the auction block for

So unless you relish higher insurance premiums, take the advice of Neighborhood Watch: "Never give a burglar a break. Beware."

Sanctioned by the International Association of Chiefs of Police, Neighborhood Watch is a proven success in teaching residents how to reduce the threat of burglary in their neighborhood.

WHEN A criminal offense is suspected, Neighborhood Watch participants are asked to jot down all pertinent details, then call the police. They don't do any investigating or try to make Resident patrols may seem more glamorous. But they're foolhardy. Nobody wants well-intentioned folks to become unwitting victims or the focus of prosecution themselves. Such patrols are only effective when special training is provided, such as is the case with the now merged REACT and PACT groups.

Under Neighborhood Watch, volunteers act only as supplemental "eyes and ears" for regular patrol officers. For example, watchpeople can routinely keep watch for potential neighborhood trouble — like strangers — while walking in their living room, through their yard or to their mailbox.

Neighborhood Watch can only be as effective as the people on any given block let it. They have to be nosy. They have to be suspicious. And they have to report suspicions at once. Burglars don't dawdle. The chance of capture drops once they Criminals get very nervous when they know neighbors are keeping an eve on each other. It pays to be our brother's keeper.

Watchers are told what they can or cannot do and what they can or cannot expect from the police. They also receive a home security survey, a Neighborhood Watch sign and periodic feed-

THE KEY to the program lies in watchers not trying to be vigilantes but instead trying to look out for their neighbors through familiarity of

The program alone won't rid your neighborhood of thefts. There's plenty you can - and should - do to bolster your home's security. Contact crime prevention specialists at the Canton, Plymouth or Plymouth Township police department for free advice. Precautions don't have to be expensive or elaborate. Simply engraving personal property under the Operation Identification program can be effective.

But police reports bear out that Neighborhood Watch helps limit the volume and helps lessen your family's fear of burglaries.

The program also might help spark new friendships in your neighborhood. It gets neighbors talking - and that can't help but have a positive effect.

Editor breaks down with a few kind words

SOMETIMES IT'S even tough for an editor who has been writing a column for more than a dozen years to find the appropriate words.

It gets even tougher when you're trying to commiserate with a guy who refuses to be commiserated. No sir, no pity for Dick Headlee. He just won't have any of that.

The Republican activist recently found out that his heart was on the bum, kaput. Now we're not talking a bypass, a new valve or two or even a pacemaker. Nope. We're talking an entire new heart.

The former gubernatorial hopeful and insurance chief honcho is waiting it out in Utah for a new ticker. Now for most folks, the idea of a heart transplant would be a little more than intimidating.

BUT HEADLEE remains upbeat. He jokes that he wants his doctors to find a Democratic heart since he was accused of not having one by his opponents. He calls Alexander Hamilton headquarters in Farmington Hills a couple of times a day to keep abreast of the company business.

You've gotta know this guy is planning next year's vacation. Now this makes it tough on a columnist. Usually these stories are moment pass without a few words.

I could have even thrown in a bit of magnanimity - a sympathetic column penned from the liberal editor who relentlessly has opposed most every political stand ever taken by the conservative.

IT WOULD have been beautiful. I've been robbed.

That's all right. The column never need be written.

After all, that would end all the fun and, I've got a feeling, a lot of years of bantering between the editor and the businessman are yet to

Growth Works facts offered

To the editor:

On Aug. 24, the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education approved an additional $55,000 of the requested $70,000 for this year's funding of the Alternative Education Program at Growth Works. This is in addition to the $70,000 which was already budg-

This money was taken from the board contingency fund ($40,000) and the food services capital outlay ($15,000). It is anticipated that another $15,000 may be forthcoming from next year's budget. Last year we spent a total of $153,000 on the program.

There were 70 students referred to the program last year. However, these students were there for various lengths of time so financial comparisons to a regular full year for other students are not easily possible.

Last year, the budgeting for Learning Options was determined by using the district's anticipated per pupil cost and multiplying it by 40 program slots. So the $2,000 per pupil per year is inaccurate. The students at Learning Options are primarily from the middle schools, not the Centennial Educational Park, so "survival" at C.E.P. is not as big an issue as "survival" in our society. A study committee is being formed to objectively study and evaluate the entire alternative education program and to make recommendations to the board for future

Reader says pool is needed is sold days

I would like to add my 2 cents to the Plymouth Township pool contro-

I have been amazed since moving to Plymouth in 1970, that there is no public pool for families. In these days of so many mothers working, we especially need a place within bicycling distance, where children of our community can have good, clean

Our Michigan lakes are, indeed, lovely but most children do not have access to them every day, or even several times a week. Our neighbors in Ann Arbor have three or four gorgeous public pools that are widely used by Ann Arbor children and families. Let's get behind Jane McCourt, and get a pool for our Plymouth children as soon as possible

Reader backs Bork for court

To the editor: Recently there has been much publicity and concern over President Reagan's nomination of Robert H. Bork to the Supreme Court of the United States. And it seems that much of this concern is due to his conservative views and strong stand against abortion.

Liberals are outraged by the possibility of a conservative court reversing course on civil rights, women's rights, consumer rights and privacy rights. It seems as though everyone is screaming about their rights these

Look at women's rights. Women can legally murder their unborn children simply because they don't want them. And the federal government spends millions each year paying for the murder of thousands of these children because their mothers can't afford it. What about those little girls' and boys' rights. President Reagan is trying to stop this slaughter. I urge you to support him. Our country is now paying the price for its sin. How many children and adults have killed each other here in Detroit because they think that life is meaningless and without

Well, life isn't without value. But until we stop rationalizing that what we are doing is for the best, our society will continue to pay the price. We must see that the only reason our country has stooped to such a level is because of money, greed and selfishness. How many more lives will be lost because you will do nothing?

Papal visit Ignore hype, listen thoughtfully

WEEKS BEFORE John Paul II was due to arrive in metropolitan Detroit, people already were tiring of the "hype" over the arrival of the Hype about the cost of security . . . hype about tickets for the papal Mass in that latter-day coliseum called the Silverdome . . . hype about dissidents protesting his positions (which were consistent with Catholic tradition) . . . hype about souvenirs and the effect on business. We suspect the spiritual leader of one of the world's oldest surviving (1,950 years) and largest (840 million members) institutions would be a little put off by it himself, if he were to speak

WE WELCOME his visit Sept. 19 nevertheless because

• Unlike many popes in this century, John Paul II was not a Vatican bureaucrat, diplomat or lawyer before his 1978 election. He was a pastor, a man from the people who worked among the people, a man conversant in many languages. Politically he broke the four-century Italian monopoly on the chair of St. Peter.

• He will recognize the importance of the traditional city, with his appearance in Detroit; ethnic diversity, with his appearance in Hamtramck; and the suburbs, with his Mass in the Silverdome. His choice of symbols is excellent.

 He knows the area, through pre-papal visits to a seminary at Orchard Lake and our neighborhods and even restaurants. He comes to see us, his old friends, not just to be seen like a glitzy movie star.

 Church authorities hope his visit will bring converts, not so much from other denominations as from the "unchurched," and stimulate Catholics to consider vocations as priests and nuns.

IN OTHER respects, however, Pope John Paul II's visit will be a jarring one:

First, while he is one of the world's most respected moral and political leaders, giant percentages of Catholics don't follow his teachings on birth control, disagree with his view on the role of women - even dissent on abortion.

Second, the pope's own economics — to the extent he grasps "the dismal science" - are pretty socialistic for the taste of this citadel of free enterprise. John Paul reportedly plans to talk here about our economic ills. His theme tends to be unfair distribution of wealth - the shopworn reslicing of the pie rather than the creative increasing of the total pie.

This isn't Europe. In his native Poland, Catholic seminaries are full. In America and metropolitan Detroit, seminaries are emptying and being mothballed or sold off. Whatever he says is likely to ruffle feathers and rattle cages. Good. We in metropolitan Detroit can take it as well as dish it out. We welcome Pope John Paul II, controversy and all. He's not here to preach hate, like an ayatollah or a fuehrer, or to ransack the wallets of the young, like an avaricious rock star. He's here to try to do us some good. Let us ignore the hype and listen to him thoughtfully.

U.S. Constitution sails as freedom's convoy

AS YOU READ this, reflect on the word convoy. It has been in frequent use lately in regard to America's armed escort of oil tankers in the Persian Gulf. If you are old enough and there are many American men and women who are), you may have been aboard just such a vessel.

For instance, it was about 1:30 on a cold morning in February 1943 when a 23-year-old Army nurse from West Boylston, Mass., Cynthia Holt by name, knew that the troop ship USA Uruguay, which she shared with 21 other nurses and 5,500 men, had been struck, 5 1/2 days outbound from New York in the North Atlan-

In her married life, she is a highly respected Michgian author. Perhaps you know her as friend, neighbor or reader. Her name is now Cynthia Holt Cummings and quite likely you will buy one of her newest collection of verses, an autographed copy of "Christmas Wishes," as a gift for someone special as the Yuletide approaches.

There were ships of all kinds in our convoy as far as you could see," I was told recently when I interrupted this delightful lady as she was one-by-one signing a stack of her books for distribution to outlets in more than 30 states. Before she's done, the number of copies will run into the thousands.

'We had been rammed by one of our own tankers and quite a number of men were lost," she recalled, adding that later on her own brother had lost his life in the Pacific Theatre during World War II.

After the Uruguay had limped to St. George's Island off Bermuda and while waiting for transfer to the old Santa Rosa, Cynthia felt moved to write her first poem. It reflects her feeling that "no one realizes the danger they are in." She called it simply: "Convoy."

On this particular day, the 200th anniversary of the signing of the United States Constitution, I hope you join me in considering it appropriate as one of the memorials to those who have regarded our constitution as a synonym for freedom. These are Cynthia's words, reprinted with her permission.

It's there because of federal tax reform. You see, Michigan's state income tax rides piggyback on the federal income tax. When the feds removed a bunch of exemptions, Michigan's tax base increased - hence the "windfall."

In education. choice is best

MAC (Metropolitan Affairs Corp.) advocates choice in education (Observer, Aug. 6). They realize that, given the opportunity, many parents and students will try to find the best education

According to Chuck Muer and Gov. Rudy Perpich, the idea is that the actions of people and are given a choice will help to raise the quanty of education in general. A new standard has been offered: the individual's perception of what is best for him, as compared with the previous one: the particular school district's perception of what is right for the group, and their budget.

I believe MAC and Minnesota are behind this innovation because they see positive results. They do want to improve the quality of education. If they could only see that carrying their solution to the root of the problem would unleash unimagined potential for advancement in education and bring it into the 21st century.

Complete - not token - freedom of choice is what is going to turn education around. Let individual citizens choose whether or not to pay for government education! Then educators would become accountable directly to parents, and a variety of educational methods would become affordable to more people.

Money is the lifeblood of the system. When it comes by choice - when value is voluntarily exchanged for value - then we will see the best in

Museums

Their role is a vital one

By Julie Brown staff writer

Dr. John L. Wright doesn't believe in the inoculation model for museums - if you visit a museum one time as a child you don't ever have to go back.

Wright, director of the public programs division at Henry Ford Museum & Greenfield Village, believes museums should be comfortable, inviting places to visit. Among other things, museums need plenty of places for people to sit

"That's something that museums have not ever been very good at. making people comfortable.

Wright spoke at a Thursday. Sept. 10, meeting of the Plymouth Historical Society, held at the Plymouth Historical Museum. Wright is responsible for all aspects of programming at the facility in Dearborn, including the daily schedule of activities. The Dearborn resident is also responsible for the publications program and special events presentations.

IT'S POSSIBLE for museum staffers and active volunteers to lose perspective on a museum's role. Wright told those attending the first Plymouth Historical Society meeting of the season. Answers to the question of "Why do people visit museums?" are varied.

"Because they're there, I suppose," said Wright, who received a doctorate in popular culture and literature from Bowling Green vides another kind of social inter-State University in Ohio "It's a little like climbing the mountain."

Visitors to museums may be there simply to kill time or to get in out of the rain, he said. Focus interview research done at Henry Ford Museum & Greenfield Village revealed many reasons for museum visits

In addition to "passing time," the other typical pat answer to that question is "to learn about this or that." Wright's somewhat skeptical of that claim, like others, he doesn't spend much time studying the exhibits in great detail during visits to museums.

Wright believes it's important to look at museums from an outsider's perspective One researcher who did so found three categories of museum visitors.

SOME PEOPLE visit museums for the personal experience and enjoyment. A museum can provide solitude, serving almost as a kind of retreat and allowing visitors to connect with the past or with na-

"People do indeed look at museums as special kinds of places they can go to," said Wright, who serves as chairman of the Michigan Council for the Humanities. The second group visits museums for a social experience. Among other things, museums are popular spots to take visitors from out of town. "It's a place to socialize. It pro-

The third variety of visitor is the one seeking an educational experi-

"The immediate assumption people make is that museums are educational." Although museums have a contribution to make to education, that's not their primary role The kind of learning that takes place in a museum is different from that found in a classroom. Wright told the Plymouth Historical Society members and guests. "And I say thank goodness for Museums need to allow visitors plenty of freedom and opportunities for social interaction. Wright said. Having a chance to talk with craftspeople, for example, can make a museum visit more enjoy-

"If you don't want that, you can stay home and watch TV.

Museums, including local ones, have a vital role to play in preserving items that represent a shared culture, the speaker said. Doing so is especially important in an era of rapid change

"Museums like this one can be a place of continuity.

MUSEUMS ALSO need to deal with change, Wright said. Doing so isn't always an easy task, changes made in recent years at Henry Ford Museum & Greenfield Village have caused some friction.

Across the street at Central Middle School, the Plymouth Community Arts Council's Artists and Craftsmen Show attracted plenty of festival-goers

It's important for museums to save items representative of the more recent past. Wright said That's been done recently at Henry Ford Museum & Greenfield Village

Locally, the Daly Drive-in restaurant on Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth represents a cultural landmark, he said

"The old style drive-in is just about gone Will anybody remember it once it's gone"

Those at the meeting enjoyed hearing Wright's comments Elizabeth Donnelly of Plymouth, a retired schoolteacher and Plymouth Historical Society member, liked the idea of saving things representative of more recent times

We tend to go back as far as we can go Museums are limited. however, in what they can add to their collections

"Storage space is always a problem." Donnelly said. "This museum started out just as a house" The current museum building at 155 S Main St was donated by Margaret Dunning

agreed that storage space is a perennial problem for museums The problems of a local museum are a bit different from those of a larger one

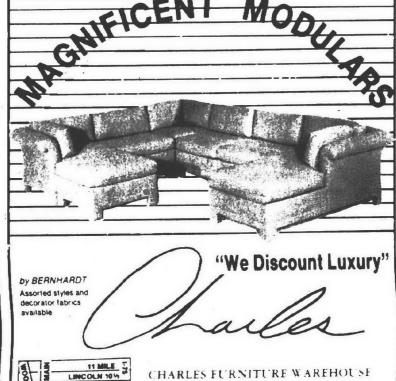

We're a different kind of museum, of course, than Greenfield Village." Richard said Among other things visitors to the Plymouth Historical Museum come in to do research on their family backgrounds

Richard agreed it's important to save items representative of life in a community

These things are passing from the scene faster than we think they

Although smaller local museums have storage space problems. larger museums don't always have the necessary storage space either At least one person at last week's meeting knows that from personal experience

The same problem but on a huge scale," said Beth Stewart, program and exhibits chairwoman for the Plymouth Historical Society Stewart, a Plymouth Township resident, is a former staff member at Henry Ford Museum & Green-

Handbell group to ring in pope

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

OPE JOHN PAUL II WILL have ringing in his ears when he visits the area this weekend

And he'll have the Classical Bells to thank for that. The ecumenical handbell choir has been selected to play for the pope Friday at a recep-tion at the Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament in Detroit.

The Classical Bells has members from all around the area, including Livonia, Plymouth and Farmington Hills. The group, however, doesn't have any Catholics.

Nonetheless they are pleased as punch to be playing for the pope.

"I THINK most of us here have a great deal of respect for the pope as a world leader," said Donna Gleason of Plymouth, who attends Redford Baptist Church. "We're honored to be playing for him. It's a once-in-alifetime thing."

Susan Berry, director of the group, also thought it would be a great thing. So when she heard about John Paul's planned visit to Detroit, she called the Detroit Archdiocese and offered any help they might need in possibly using handbells during the

The Archdiocese then asked if the Classical Bells would perform during the pontiff's visit.

Berry, who is a full-time instructor of handbell music, had previously done workshops at Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit. She noted that handbell music mainly has been used in Protestant services.

"Many Catholics have never heard handbells as part of a service," said Berry, who is from Detroit. "Catholic priests used them centuries ago."

BERRY CURRENTLY is helping some Catholic parishes establish handbell choirs.

The Classical Bells have been together five years. Each member plays anywhere from four to six bronze bells. The group uses 60 bells altogether to produce the very soothing brand of music.

Many members are also directors or members of handbell choirs at their respective churches.

Trips down to the altar are courageous journeys

Lloyd R. Buss

OUR DAUGHTER was married last week. By their promises before God and in the presence of family and friends, our daughter and her fiance bound themselves together as husband and wife until death do them part.

Thirty-one years ago, her parents did the same thing. Like our daughter, we were married in church, and by our promises before God and in the presence of family and friends, we bound ourselves together as husband and wife until death do us part.

I really can't remember what I was thinking when we were married. It's highly probable, though, that I was not thinking about the same things that ran through my mind when our daughter was married. Thirty-one years ago, I did not consider myself or my wife as being particularly courageous and bold in taking on a commitment until "death do us part.

Thirty-one years ago, the statistics for divorce were not as grim as today. Staying married until death was the rule, and not the exception. Making lifelong promises was not unusual, nor was it taken lightly. What God had joined together in providence and care was not to be torn Promises, covenants, vows, pledges, et al don't mean much today. We have developed a technique for resolving cases of conscience, duty and conduct, and we use it with reckless abandon. Truth has become a commodity for trade and integrity has been sold to the highest bidder.

IT SHOULD NOT surprise us that people chose to live together, instead of promising faithfulness and commitment until death do them part. "Shacking up" requires no commitment, and it certainly does not attest to any courage. "Shacking up" describes many of our relationships in public life. "Shacking up" only destroys that which is worth the human effort

Our daughter and son-in-law have started out on a journey that lifts up all that is noble and courageous in humanity. Rejecting a mutual opportunism that would feed only themselves, they have grasped the opportunity to be a part of all that is trusting and faithful, committed and honest. The center they have created in their convenant will serve as an axis for life that is worth the human effort.

Our daughter was engaged for more than a year. Yet when she and her fiance made their promise and commitment to each other in the church of her childhood and youth, they had only a partial understanding of each other. They are daring to risk everything they know about themselves for the sake of sharing all that is to come with the other. It is a risk, her parents would insist, that is worth the effort.

The Rev. Lloyd D. Buss is the pastor of Abiding Presence Lutheran Church in Rochester.

Savings, disability insurance lacking

Family Finances

a profile

By Dan Boyce and Alan Ferrara special writers

Local financial planning experts reviewed the data of the family profiled here and made general recommendations based on the participant's resources and goals. The information is for educational purposes only; references are not intended as discrimination or endorsements by Observer & Eccentric Newspapers or the advisers interviewed. To obtain a questionnaire to have your finances reviewed, contact the Center for Financial Planning, Dept. 100, 877 S. Adams, Suite 202, Birmingham 48011 or call 642-4000

"Build a solid financial base" is a commonly heard recommendation of financial planners. But how do you do it? The steps toward building this financial foundation are the focus of this month's Family Finances pro-

Rob Parker, 33, and Barb Parker, 31, live in a comfortable house in Lathrup Village with their 1-yearold son. Rob works as a middle manager for a $30,000 annual income, and Barb is a clerical worker earning $20,000 per year. Rob also has a daughter, 13, from a previous marriage. She plans to attend college, and Rob wants to help her as much as possible.

"THE COLLEGE costs for my daughter are coming up quickly," Rob said. "And I know I should plan now. What should I be doing?" Currently, no money has been put aside for these anticipated expenses.

Another major goal is to provide for the family's financial security both long- and short-term. "How should we proceed?" they ask.

They have saved some money recently and are attempting to add $250 each month to their savings account and $50 monthly to their stock holdings. They are willing to accept some risk in their investments if it will help their money grow faster.

THEIR LARGEST investment assets are in their company retirement plans. Rob has accumulated a balance of $15,000, and Barb's vested account is valued at $10,000. For a couple in their early 30s, these assets should substantially increase by re-

Rob wrote a will four years ago prior to their marriage but isn't sure whether it is still valid. Barb has no

Both have personal and group life insurance. Their medical insurance is sound, and their homeowners insurance is in excellent shape. They have maximum liability coverages, replacement cost coverage on their house contents and property floaters on their jewelry - all of which are recommended by the advisory panel.

ROB REMAINS concerned about liability claims, though he wonders if an umbrella liability policy providing $1 million in protection is need-

Our panel believes their disability coverage needs attention. Both Parkers have employer coverage that stops after six months.

Estelle Wade of Estelle Wade Advisors in Birmingham suggests tracking their expenditures for the next six months and increasing their emergency reserve to $5,000. This should give them a picture of their spending patterns and provide them with a cushion should an emergency Dan Boyce of the Center for Financial Planning agrees.

"THEIR DEBT situation is under control and in good shape. But with only $3,750 in total liquid assets (see Finalcial Chart), they have little to fall back upon in the case of a major financial setback.

Their disability insurance is also a concern for our advisers. "With coverage that lasts only six months, a long-term disability could be a devastating blow to their financial plan-Boyce said. Wade suggests buying a personal disability income policy that starts paying benefits after six months. By dovetailing the coverage on their personal longterm disability policies with shortterm coverage at work, they reduce costs and eliminate unneeded duplicate coverage.

THE LAST PIECE of the financial foundation recommended by our advisers is the writing of new wills. 'They should not leave to chance the transfer of property upon either or both of their deaths," said attorney Alan Ferrara, of Couzens, Lansky & Roeder. Rob's old will is still valid, and it could cause problems in the case of his death, leaving his new family without enough assets to maintain their standard of living.

Boyce adds that he should check the beneficiary designations on his life insurance and his retirement plans at work to make sure they reflect his current wishes.

The panel next recommends tackling the goal of saving money for the children's educations. Wade suggests investing $150 per month in a conservative growth and income mutual fund as soon as they have enough in their emergency reserve.

SHE PROJECTS THAT by the time Rob's 13-year-old daughter starts college, this fund will be worth more than $10,000. "By investing this money in a custodial account, the taxable profits will be taxed to Rob's daughter at her lower tax bracket." Also, if they could put an addition $50-$75 per month into an account for their young son, this would go a long way toward meeting his needs in the future.

Additional savings can be used for intermediate or long-term goals. The panel recommends an ultimate goal of saving or investing 10 percent of the family's total income for future financial security. It may take several years to reach this goal, but consistent progress toward it is the key to financial success. The Parkers have made a good start in their financial lives. They are not heavily in debt, and they save a portion of their incomes each month. By shoring up the cracks in their financial foundation, they should be in excellent shape toward building a sound financial future.

'We have three basic design plans with 15 different colors, couches, chairs, wall coverings, icemakers, televisions, a bathroom and other comforts.'

Concouse-level suite.

Club-level suite at Aurburn Hills Arena.

Arena scores with skyboxes

By Philip A. Sherman special writer

Building personal relationships with clients has moved up in the priority lists of some area businesses - at least 16 rows up. One hundred businesses have shrugged at declining entertainment tax deductions and invested $75,000 to $125,000 to lease a skybox for one year in the Auburn Hills Arena, home to the Detroit Pistons come July, according to Tom Wilson, chief executive officer of the basketball

That leaves 80 skyboxes still available in the 20,000-seat arena Due to innovative design, 52 of the skyboxes ring the 16th row without obstructing pay-as-you-go seats; 48 boxes are available above row 25; and 80 suites crown the arena.

And due to changes in the Tax reform Act of 1986, not a penny of the lease price is tax deductible.

"It is a significant price, but they entertain the folks important to them in a different style," Wilson said. "It's like having people over to your own house for dinner and then walking out into the arena for a job or sporting event. It doesn't mean they'll get the order, but it cements their ability to bid and give them a fair opportunity to put their product out there against somebody else's."

'They," those who have signed minimum three-year leases for skyboxes, run from "Fortune 500 companies to tool and die shops. It's a strange mix, but the common denominator seems to be they put a premium on entertaining." Wilson added, noting that boxholders wish to remain anonymous.

BUSINESSES, under the old tax as the Joe Louis Arena. structure, used to write off most, if not all, client entertainment costs skybox receives tickets to every such as food, even tickets, boat rentals - whatever it took to get the job done. Today, 80 percent is the maximum allowable write-off, and the IRS also is starting to squint at "lavish or extravagant" meals, on which it will soon offer a ruling.

Wilson said the new tax law added boxholders still have a clean could realize at least $20,000 annualshot at the entertainment deduction. Auburn Hills, according to Wilson, operates on the same skybox system

That means anyone who leases a event and can deduct 80 percent "of the highest real price for any ticket to any show.

There are 12-14 seats per box. Using Wilson's example of about $20 per ticket for a Billy Joel concert, that comes to $240-$280 per event, or a deduction of $192-$224. Two hasn't seemed to affect this," and events per week means boxholders

Children need to learn financial facts of life

Ever since I can remember, you have been a financial planner and educator That's why it's so ironic I have learned so little about money management in my 21 years

Next year when I enter medical school. I'll have to handle my own finances, despite my limited knowledge in this area And if I have little knowledge, how about the young people who have had even less exposure to the financial facts of live?

You should urge all parents do some of the things listed below so their children will do a better job of money management than I probably

During my entire school and college career, I never had the opportunity to take courses on money management I wish parents would emphasize to teachers and or a stereo, we wanted it right away.

administrators that learning about managing money is as important as learning about history, science or

IF LEARNING about money is made fun, youngsters will want to learn more about it. Using paper money, children can "buy" and 'sell" stocks and bonds as well as invest in real estate Parents can show their kids how they are doing and why their investments are doing well (or not so well) This will prepare kids for decisions they will make as they get older.

Growing up by watching those around us, my friends and I learned that "the future is now." Everything we wanted, we wanted right away. And many of us got it right away

THE REASON is simple: If we had to wait for something, we felt we were missing out. Looking back, I realize this is a bad lesson. No matter how parents handled buying things for their children, it is never too late to correct the situation.

Once we learn that by postponing buying things today we invest in our own future, we can then learn how to use the power of compounding. I know about compound interest, but I never really understood it until re-

Of all principles parents can teach kids, nothing is more important than the power of compound interest. If you save money instead of spending it, your savings will earn interest -

The results can be phenomenal For example, if I had invested $1,000 at 16 percent when I was 11, today my savings would have grown by 260 percent.

IF SOMEONE just out of college puts $2,000 a year for 30 years in an IRA account earning 8 percent, he ought to have more then a quarter of a million dollars. A quarter of a million dollars ought to get anybody's attention.

Parents should offer incentives to teach youngsters about money. If children are taught the work ethic. they will learn the value of money and saving.

If a kid wants a bike, he could buy it only if he worked for half the price of the bike. Parents can get even a slightly better bike to demonstrate

HE MUSICAL "42nd Street" is the biggest show touring right now, and the biggest show the Birmingham Theatre has every had. For Cheryl Wagner, the theater's wardrobe supervisor, that means an especially busy

The production has its own wardrobe supervisor, Roberta (Bobbie) Souder of Los Angeles, who travels with the show. On "42nd Street," Wagner is working as house wardrobe supervisor.

In a big room downstairs in the theater, where they clean and repair costumes, Wagner and Souder described how their jobs mesh. Souder said that before she comes to town, she explains, 'I need this many people. I need them there. I need a shoemaker and a dry cleaner."

For David Merrick's musical extravaganza, "42nd Street," which has lavish costumes and wigs and many costumes changes, "I needed 10 dressers, three who had worked quick changes. WAGNER FILLED all these needs, coming up with a dry cleaner who can do things in one day and a shoe repair that has worked with dance shoes before. "There are a lot of tap shoes," she said. "42nd Street" is a show where the stage is filled with a dancing chorus and stars who tap madly in production numbers.

Costume designer Theoni Aldredge won a Tony award for her designs for this hit, still playing on Broadway and in London. Most elaborate of all the costumes in "42nd Street" are the gowns worn for the "Dames" musical number and at the finale

"One dress was replaced for $4,000," said Souder. It was one without beading. Most of the other costumes and doing the changes. "Dames" dresses have beading, and some have hand-dyed fabrics. It chairs alternating with laundry baswould cost from $7,000-$10,000 to replace one of these.

The dresses get nicknames. A yellow one with feathers is called, appropriately enough, "Big Bird." Each dress in the show has a hat, and Souder pointed out, "All costumes are identical" in the New York, London and road componies.

REBEADING, repainting shoes, replacing horsehair on the hats these are some of the jobs outlined by Wagner that must be done. "There are 86 shirts in the show that get washed on schedule," she said, indicating the monumental task of doing the laundry.

The fabrics in this particulary show are "not necessarily designed for touring," which makes them require more care, Souder pointed out. A little, lively blonde, Souder contrasts with the taller, tranquil Wagner, but both give evidence of being well-organized individuals. Organization is a must in taking care of the

On stairs leading to the stage are kets. When performers change, the costume they remove is dropped into the basket and the next one, from the chair, is donned.

Racks of costumes behind the stage display garments needed for quick changes. A quick-change room is nearby. Three women stars share a dressing room for quick changes, and one of the men in the cast - the young tenor, who changes his clothes 11 times - has another dressing

THE "DAMES" change is the most difficult, with hairdressers, cast, dressers and set changes all happening at once, for about 30 seconds.

Two hair people travel with the show and a third person, usually a hairdresser, is added in each town. In Birmingham, the conductor's wife, an actress-singer who worked as a dresser on the show in Chicago, is doing wigs for the first time

The women in the cast all wear wigs, 52 wigs in all. The wig worn by Gina Trano, who plays Peggy Sawyer, the chorus girl who becomes a star, has to be completely redone at intermission, after her strenuous efforts in the first act.

There are so many costumes for the show some are stored on 13 gondolas on a trailer behind the theater. Traveling, it takes a 40-foot semi to carry the wardrobe.

For other productions at the Birmingham, Wagner works with a team of helpers, their number depending upon how many the show requires. For "Master Harold . . . and the Boys" and "Split Second," she worked alone.

After Florence Lacey played the Birmingham in "Evita" last season, Wagner was invited to join the company on its European summer tour. It was an expecience to speak to foreign-speaking people, trying to do changes. In Geneva, they only spoke French. It was difficult."

In the best tradition of the Broadway musical, "42nd Street" at the Birmingham Theatre is a razzle-dazzle toe-tapper that sends the audience home humming its memorable tunes for days on end.

Now beginning its eighth year on Broadway, "42nd Street" is greater than the sum of its individual parts. The show hangs on the flimsiest of plots, filled with every show-biz cliche. The Birmingham cast, always competent, is seldom outstanding. The wonderful songs and dances make one forget all about such missing elements as message, logic or credibility.

Based on the classic 1932 film, '42nd Street" boasts such wellknown Harry Warren-Al Dubin songs as "Lullaby of Broadway," "Shuffle Off to Buffalo," "We're in the Money" "You're Getting to Be a Habit With Me," "About a Quarter to Nine" and the title number.

THE ENERGETIC dance numbers, originally choreographed by the late Gower Champion, have been successfully adapted and staged by Jon Engstrom. The tapping feet of the Birmingham ensemble execute the steps with plenty of pizzazz.

"42nd Street" is about the making of a Broadway musical. Starstruck Peggy Sawyer (Gina Trano), fresh off the train from Allentown, Pa., lands a spot in the chorus on sheer scrappiness. When tempermental star Dorothy Brock (Judith Thiergaard) breaks a leg shortly before opening night, it falls to Sawyer to step in and uphold the tradition of 'the show must go on." A gruff director (David Brummel), an amorous tenor (Richard Blair) and lots of bubble-headed chorus girls round out

The show never takes itself too seriously, stepping delicately just over the edge of camp. No one handles this better than Brummel, who not prodding Sawyer with lines like on-stage composer who mysteriously

Rocks rout WL Central

How one-sided was it? Well, to say Plymouth Salem's soccer team had an easy time of it Monday would be an understatement.

Walled Lake Central, in only its second year of competition and still building its program, never challenged the Rocks, who coasted to a 15-1 win.

Dennis Reynolds scored three goals and had three assists, and Randy Balconi chalked up two goals and four assists to lead Salem.

In all 11 players got into the scoring act, with Marc Lipke also netting a pair of goals. The goals-scored total is a school record.

"I CAN'T tell them not to score," Salem coach Ken Johnson said, "just keep it down a bit."

The lopsided win, according to Johnson, came at a good time for the Rocks, who were coming off difficult matches with Redford Catholic Central, Plymouth Canton and Livonia Franklin in their previous three

"Last year, we had too many in a row like that, but this was a good one," he said. "Today it felt good; we had good team spirit.

"Now, if we have another one, it won't be good. It's the routine. If you have two blowaways, you think you can beat everyone and don't have to do too much.

THE ROCKS led 8-0 at halftime as Jeff Gold, Lipke, Balconi, Don Koontz, Reynolds, Greg Christensen, Joe Cosenza and Tim Stahl notched first-half goals.

Donovan Nichols and Mike Ulaszek made it 10-0 in the second half before WLC got its only goal. Salem finished with goals by Reynolds (2), Troy Giacherio, Balconi and Lipke again. Gold and Reynolds just missed getting additional goals as both hit the post with other attempts.

just as impressive Besides Reynolds and Balconi, Andy Sharma (2), Cosenza, Matt Gold, Ulaszek, Dave O'Malley and Koontz also were credited with scoring assists.

Johnson was impressed by the play of Lipke at one of the forward

"He's made a big improvement on the left side," the coach said. "He's only a junior, so we're going to ride him next year.

CANTON 5, W.L. WESTERN 2: The Warriors also found themselves overmatched against the Chiefs, who gave up an early goal and then scored five to put the game out of reach before halftime.

When a Canton defender slipped and fell down, that left open a lane for WLW capitalize on and take a 1-0

But it was all Chiefs afterward, beginning with John Cortese's goal eight minutes later at 17:00. Jeff Tutor tipped Rick Menary's corner kick, and Cortese put it in the WLW

Todd Nichols took a lead pass from Andy Shiner to make it 2-1 midway in the half, and Menary's penalty kick upped the score to 3-1.

"MENARY came into his own at center-halfback," Canton coach Mike Morgan said. "I've been fooling around with that position, and I think we found the guy.

With Canton scoring four times within an 11-minute span, freshman Quang Quach scored on a cross by Joe Pelle, and Dave Pressley capped the Chiefs' scoring just before the half ended with an assist from Nick Stankevich.

The Warriors didn't get their second goal until the game was nearly over. Canton had 33 shots on goal to only 12 for WLW.

The victory also was much appre-

"IT WAS nice to have a little breathing room," said Morgan, adding the Chiefs, 1-1 in the Western Division, 1-2 in the league and 2-4 overall, won't have any time to relax.

WLAA Relays offer

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Most swimming coaches are emphasizing a relaxed fun approach to Saturday's Western Lakes Relays, but there also will be a serious side to the competition.

The meet, to take place in the Plymouth Salem pool and sponsored by the Plymouth-Canton Rotary Club, will provide an early look at the opposition and serve as a prelude for the upcoming league season.

The relay meet is a fun meet," Farmington coach Ross Bandy said. "But you can see what the other teams' striking points are, too.

"It gives you an idea where you can place people throughout the season."

LIVONIA Stevenson has been the dominant team in a dominant league for girls swimming, and the Spartans have won the relays in the past because they simply had so many good swimmers, said coach Greg Phill. But Stevenson lost two seniors from every relay team competing in last year's meet.

"I expect my girls to go in and have fun," said Phill, who will be unable to attend due to a prior commitment. The meet was originally scheduled for Sept. 12 but postponed a week

"I'm putting in a good lineup, but the main thing is for them to go there, swim fast and have fun." The Spartans will have to get along without All-Stater Sheila Taormina this year, but the defending WLAA champions still have plenty of quality swimmers.

"IT'S POSSIBLE (to replace Taormina), but I'm going to need 4-5 girls who didn't score in the league to replace her," Phill said.

Senior Michelle McKenzie is Stevenson's top returnee after capturing league titles in the 200- and 500-yard freestyles. She also was second and third in the state, respectively, in those events.

Seniors Amy Harrison (back), Lisa Campos (fly), Nancy Detmer (free), Lisa Dotzenroth (free and back) and sophomore Gina Bennetts (fly) are other swimmers who will play key roles if Stevenson is to repeat.

From the standpoint of opposing coaches, the Spartans have another good squad and are again seen as the favorite STEVENSON scored 180 points in the last league meet, but 140 of those points departed along with the June graduating class, Phill pointed out.

We're going to be favored just because we've never lost anything in this league before," he said. "We're just hoping to be there by November.

'Come November, 'Here we are. Beat us!' If anybody can, more power to them."

The WLAA's other top swimmers will put their talents on display Saturday, also, and the league has many good ones. Thirty-five percent of the participants in last year's state meet were from WLAA schools, according to Salem coach Chuck Olson.

LIVONIA Churchill's Audra Martin and Westland John Glenn's Julie Jensen are back after placing in the state meet. Martin was second in Class A in the butterfly and third in the individual medley, and Jensen was seventh in the IM

North Farmington has excellent breaststrokers led by Cindy Cramer, who was third in the state and fourth in the IM. Marcy Mulbarger (ninth in the state) and Kerry Doran will complement her abilities in that event.

Farmington's Lauren Weary placed ninth among the state's butterfly swimmers as a freshman. Plymouth Canton sophomores Nicole Drake and Cassie Cummins

Chief netters enjoy good start

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

With six seniors among her top 10 players, Plymouth Canton girls tennis coach Carol Michaels was hoping the Chiefs would have a pretty sound

"And so far so good," she said Monday after Canton whipped Walled Lake Central 6-1 to run its early-season record to 3-1.

"I was very pleased with the way we played against Central. It was a good, close match, and we won the close ones. That's important."

tennis

The Chiefs, who have lost only to Plymouth Salem, have seven players back from last year's team and needed to add just three new faces to the lineup.

SENIOR Lynn Horvath returns at No. 1 singles, and senior Pam Penland moved up from No. 4 to No. 2

Last year's No. 2 doubles combination of sophomores Alissa Huth and Sherri Bajer have filled the No. 3 and 4 singles slots

Seniors Sandy Bajer and Michelle Khurana were regional champs at No. 1 doubles last year and combine to make that a definite team strength.

Freshman Leanne Gurchuk and senior Andrea Piggott, who split time at three doubles, are the No. 2 doubles team, and the sister duo of senior Melissa Sparkman and sopho-

Redford Catholic Central's lofty state football ranking will be on the line this weekend when it travels Friday to face perennial state power Ann Arbor Pioneer

The two teams met in a titanic battle last year with Pioneer pulling out a 14-7 win Pioneer then went on to claim a Class A playoff berth.

Pioneer (1-1) rebounded from its season-opening loss to East Lansing, crushing Romulus last week in its South Central Conference opener.

CC owns a 17-6 victory over Ann Arbor Huron and a 34-0 win over Allen Park Cabrini.

In the Western Lakes Activities Association, Lakes Division favorite Westland John Glenn should make it three straight against winless Farm-

Another key Lakes Division game Saturday pits Livonia Stevenson (1-1) at North Farmington (2-0)

IN THE WESTERN DIVISION, Farmington Harrison, the state's top-ranked team in Class B, has yet to be tested, but should get a stiffer battle Saturday at home against Livonia Franklin (1-1). Franklin is coming off a surprising 14-13 triumph over Stevenson. The Patriots upset Harrison two years ago and fell to the Hawks last season, 14-7.

In a Catholic League intersectional battle. Redford Bishop Borgess (2-0) hopes to make it two straight over Dearborn Divine Child (1-1). The game is Saturday at Garden City Junior High.

The Observer's expert prognosticators tied again last week, correctly picking 12 of 15 games each. Both are 24-7 on the season.

> FRIDAY GAMES (7:30 p.m. unless noted)

St. Agatha at Grosse Pte. Liggett (4:15

in big trouble Both teams are 0.2, but Liggett a 38-7 loser to Wyandotte Mount Carmel last week is awful Picks - Agathas offense perks up. The Aggies break into the win column

Catholic Central at Ann Arbor Pioneer: The Shantrocks defense led by tackle Pete Dankert can't afford to give up more than two touchdowns against an explosive Pioneer offense Turnovers could determine this one Picks - Emons likes CC's defense too much. O Meara agrees, the defense does it for CC

Northville at Livonia Churchill: The Mustangs (0-2) took North Farmington to the limit last week before losing 7-0 Halfback Mike Hale is dangerous Churchill (1-1) rebounded last week to beat Walled Lake Central Could be a toss up Picks - Take Churchill in a squeak-

Farmington at Wild. John Glenn: The Rockets' offense is more explosive than last year's playoff qualifying team. This is a team that uses a lot of weapons. The Falcons (0-2) would be better off watching Friday Night Videos Picks - Glenn grinds em up

Plymouth Salem at Walled Lk. Central: The Rocks (2-0) have been solid thus far. while Central has yet to break into the winner's circle Salem's wishbone offense went to quarterback Steve Holt last week and he responded with a big game against Walled Lake Western Picks Salem stays unbeaten

Walled Lk. Western at Plymouth Canton: The Chiefs (1-1) still could be reeling from their 49-7 loss to Glenn Wallern (0-2) is off to a disappointing start Jim Crews, a tackle, was one of the few bright spots for Canton last week Picks - Canton gets back on the winning track Woodhaven at Garden City: The Cougars (0-2) have been mistake-prone and have generated little offense although receiver Tom Flannery had five catches for 93 yards in last week's loss to Ypsilanti Woodhaven (1-1) won its opener against Southgate and then lost a tough 14-13 game last week to Riverview Gabriel Richard. Pick - Garden City, which has played tougher competition. gains its first victory.

Steelers begin season

The Plymouth-Canton Steelers began the 1987 Junior Football League seadayed against the Belleville son with a win, a loss and Cougars.

The Steeler freshmen descated Beneval 13-0 with Ahmande Grimes and Ted Barker rushing for tor "Ldowns of 40 and 17 yards, respectively. Barker also scored the team's extra point.

The score was just the opposite in the junior varsity game with the Steelers coming up on the short end. The varsity battled the Cougars to a 0-0

Livonia Franklin at Farm. Harrison: The Hawks (2-0) have blown their first two opponents away by halftime Franklin has the speed to stay in contention, particularly with the emergence of senior tailback Gary Hudgins, who did in Livonia Stevenson last week. Picks - Harrison is just too tough

Livonia Stevenson at N. Farmington: This is a good early season matchup in the Lakes Division. North's defense, led by linebacker Joe Sturtz, has been impressive in the early going. Stevenson's dangerous running tandem of Rob Chanko and Nick Petouhoff could find the going tough Picks - Stevenson has the edge. Emons says. North may be searching for its offense, but a defense like the Raiders have is money in the bank, says O'Meara

Melvindale at Redford Thurston: The Eagles (0-2) self-destructed early in last week's 14-0 loss to Taylor Truman. Thurston's defense, led by linebacker Tim Woicik, has been above-par. Melvindale (1-1), a state playoff qualifier last year, rebounded from a season-opening loss to Lincoln Park to beat Dearborn Heights Crestwood last week, 13-0. Picks Melvindale has a happy trip home

Clarenceville at Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook: The Trojans (1-1) need a better showing than they had last week in a 21-7 loss to Avondale. Cabrini serves as tune-up for CC clash with Pioneer

Redford Catholic Central tuned up for Friday's big encounter at Ann Arbor Pioneer by crushing Allen Park Cabrini in a non-league football game last Saturday at Clarenceville High in Livonia, 34-0.

The Shamrocks amassed 516 yards rushing, while holding Cabrini to 117 total yards. They led 28-0 at the half and then coasted to victory.

CC senior halfback Chris Kovath rushed for 122 yards in 11 carries and scored on a 7-yard touchdown run in the second quarter.

Teammate Kevin Jankowski also had a big night, going 118 yards. He scored on TD runs of 6 and 3 yards in the first period.

Junior quarterback Scott Hauncher added 98 yards on the ground, including TD runs of 62 and 8 yards. He completed two of eight passes for 22 yards

Chris Johnston contributed 60 yards in six attempts Defensively, the standouts were Jerry Rioux (four first-half interceptions) and Justin Snyder (eight tac-

CC piled up 22 first downs to Cabrini's eight.

ST. FRANCIS 13, ST. AGATHA 0: "The game started at 7.30 but we didn't decide to start playing until it was 8 15," said Redford St. Agatha coach John Goddard, whose team dropped its second straight late Saturday at Traverse City St. Francis. "Defensively we had a poor first quarter - we gave up 127 yards," said the Aggies coach. "In the second half we played the way I thought we would play, but it was too late."

St. Francis outgained the Aggies 218-108 in total offense The Gladiators made a long opening drive, capped by Chris Janesi's 31-yard TD run. In the second quarter they add on a blocked punt in the Agatha end zone.

clarification

In the Sept. 7 issue of the Observer, it was reported Plymouth Salem running back Garrett Bowie had 292 yards rushing in his team's 22-21 win over Trenton.

Bowie also ran for three touchdowns, and one covered a distance of 56 yards instead of 44 as originally reported, giving him an actual total of 304 vards.

He is the only Salem back to exceed 300 yards rushing in one game. setting a single-game school record.

omore Michelle have assumed varsity roles at No. 3 doubles.

THE CHIEFS, who were fourth in the WLAA and went to state for the first time after tying Salem for second place in regional play, would like to repeat that success.

"If everybody plays tough, we'll do fine. The girls would love to go to state again, but that's a long ways away

Salem, 2-1, suffered its first defeat Monday in a match with Northville, but the Rocks have the potential for a successful season,

JUNIOR Missy Smith has moved up from No. 3 singles to fill graduation losses and will be the team's key player this year.

Senior Janet Turner takes over at No. 2 singles after playing in the No. 4 spot, and sophomores Beth Cundiff and Lillian Chang round out the singles lineup following a year as varsity doubles players.

That leaves Robin Stuber as the only player with doubles experience on the varsity level. She gives the Rocks a solid player to build around at No. 1 doubles.

"We've had to do a lot of switching around in doubles, but I honestly think they're going to do nothing but improve as the season goes along," coach Judy Braun said.

WLW wins golf playoff

Walled Lake Western and Livonia Stevenson were forced into a sudden death playoff Tuesday in the Plymouth Best-Ball Golf Tournament at Brae

Both teams ended the regulation round with scores of 142, but Western hirdied the third playoff hole to win the team championship.

Stevenson finished second in the 24-team field followed by Dearborn with 146, Northville and Ypsilanti with 146 each and Bloomfield Hills Lahser and Redford Thurston with 148 apiece.

Plymouth Salem and Dearborn Crestwood finished in a tie for 10th at 152, while Plymouth Canton and Garden City tied for 12th with 154.

Western's B team of Chris Sobreck and Steve Stricker took top individual honors with a round of 67. Thurston's B team of Ken Thompson and Howie Schoenfield finished second at 68.

James Nordbeck and Kevin Telepo, Northville's B team, placed third with a score of 69, and Stevenson's B team of Brian Overby and Todd Jermont placed fourth with 71.

Canton comeback nets victory

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

For coach Rob Neu and his Plymouth Canton girls basketball team, the Mercy Hoops Classic ended on a much happier note than that on which

The Chiefs, who lost to eventual winner Traverse City in the first round after having the Trojans on the ropes early, rebounded with a 58-42 victory over Waterford Kettering and won the consolation game Saturday night.

Beating the Captains was a feather in Canton's cap. Kettering is no slouch, having gone 21-4 a year ago and nearly beaten runner-up Farmington Mercy in the tournament's other first-round

The Chiefs are 1-2 and have played three of the state's best teams. They opened the season with a 60-50 loss to Plymouth Salem and will face the Rocks again Thursday in Salem's gym.

"THE CHALLENGE of the early-season schedule has brought us a long ways," Neu said, "but we still have a long ways to go, too.

'Coming back from the Traverse City loss shows a lot of character, and we feel real good about that," he added. "This is a young team that will only get better by playing games.

Canton experienced a sluggish start against Kettering, but the Chiefs were the dominant balllub in the second half.

Just as Traverse City, which rallied in the secand half behind 6-foot-1 is junior center Wendy Merriman to beat Mercy 43-34, overcame a poor start to beat Canton, the Chiefs also turned the tables on the Captains

CANTON faced a 30-24 halftime deficit, and it was due to the efforts of 5-11 sophomore Susan Ferko the Chiefs were that close She scored 10 of her game-high 14 points in the first two quarters to keep Canton within range

"Susan did a great job scoring at the basket in the first half," Neu said. "She's a good, young player who will only get better."

Other players came to the forefront in the second half and took the load off Ferko's shoulders, and the Chiefs took the game completely away

Canton moved into the lead 42-38 after posting an 18-8 advantage in the third quarter, and they outscored the Captains by 12 in the final period to maintain control KAREN Boluch and Heather Miller, both of whom were named to the all-tournament team.

scored eight points apiece in the second half and Amanda Bell six. Boluch finished with 13 points 22 for the tournament, Miller 11 and Bell eight. I thought our mental focus was much better than it was to start the game," Neu said "Our seniors did a nice job taking care of the game in the second half We made some minor adjustments, which was really reinforcing what we needed to do against a scrappy team. We had to get people in the right spots against their pressure and come to meet the Kettering's Mikki Bryce scored all 10 of her points in the first half, and Megan Armstrong got just three of her nine points after halftime.

Mercy's Jan Herberholz, Merriman and Traverse City teammate Nikki Kulik also were selected for the all-tournament team Start the state girls basketball tournament now because it's evident that Livonia Ladywood has already past mid-season form.

The Blazers passed an early-season test, capturing their third Great Lakes Invitational title in four years Saturday night with a convincing 72-50 victory over Dearborn Divine Child in the championship final (Plymouth Salem topped Detroit DePorres in the consolation final, 60-44).

It was Ladywood's fourth straight win without a loss and its third against a state-ranked team this year.

"This is kind of a different group," said Ladywood coach Ed Kavanaugh, who guided the Blazers to state Class B titles in 1983 and 1985. "They're really together and the intensity level is there - and they're workers.

Divine Child, which knocked Ladywood out last year in the regional finals. succumbed to the Blazers' fierce assault. 'THE TWO TEAMS, flying up and down the floor, traded baskets in the first quarter with Ladywood holding a 20-17 advantage. The Blazers then turned their game up a notch in the second quarter. shredding the Falcons' zone defense to gain a 15-point lead at the half. 41-26. In the third quarter Ladywood put the game out of reach with an 18-10 scoring margin. Highly instrumental in the surge was 6-foot-1-inch center Katie McNulty, who coverted a trio of three-point plays. McNulty finished with a game-high 22 points and helped shut down DC's coming after the game had already been decided.

We feel defensively that our players are good enough that we can go head-up with people," Kavanaugh said. "We didn't plan anything special."

McNulty was named to the all-tournament team along with speedy guard Yvonne Barnett, who finished with 13

THE BLAZERS ALSO got 15 points from senior forward Nancy Wagner. who enjoyed a fine tournament, and nine from Karen Finnegan.

We were on the floor for the ball and it seemed we always rebounded with two or three people around the ball." Kavanaugh said "They're very team-oriented and they're not selfish. They know all the players can score when they move the ball around."

Salem's Dena Head was named the tournament MVP - and deservedly so The 5-foot-10 forward senior scored 65 points, grabbed 34 rebounds, made

12 steals and dished off 14 assists in the two-game series. Forward Dawn Douglas of DePorres was also named to all-tournament team along with Divine Child guard Andrea McAllister, who finished with 18 points against Ladywood IN THE CONSOLATION game. Salem broke a 13-13 first quarter dead-

ock by outscoring the Eagles 18-4 in the second quarter Head, who finished with 30 points, and junior point-guard Jill Estey, who contributed 12 points and eight assists on the night, sparked the second quarter outburst

Our pressure in the second quarter was excellent," said Salem coach Fred Thomann, whose team is 2-1 "We did a pretty good job on Douglas, who high-scoring center Gabrielle Senatore, who finished with 12, most of them is a fine scorer, and on Dana Joubert (eight points). And we really did a good job of running the court. We got excellent scoring off our defense.

Farmington edges past city rival, 2-1

Farmington took a big step toward winning the city soccer championship Monday, but the Falcons had to walk a tightrope to earn the position of front-runner.

In a battle between two teams expecting to field strong ballclubs this fall, Farmington gained a 2-1 edge over cross-town rival North Farmington and held off the Raiders for the final 43 minutes.

"Our city games are always really tough, and North Farmington kept after us the whole game," Falcons coach Ed Bartram said.

Eric Magera scored what proved to be the winning goal with three minutes left in the first half. Mike Gammerath, who was unsuccessful on seven shot attempts of his own, set up Magera for the score.

JOEY CROWE gave Farmington the early lead when he brought the ball up on the right wing himself from his team's territory. He took it in close enough to beat the Raider goalie with a kick into the corner of the net.

"Joey is developing an excellent shot," said Bartram, adding it was one of five chances Crowe had during the game.

North tied the score at 1-1 with 15 minutes remaining in the half, and the teams remained in a deadlock until Magera's goal.

Mike Sheehy and Greg Bjebov shared the goalkeeping duties for Farmington, with Bjebov holding the Raiders scoreless in the second half to remain unscored upon this season. The Falcons outshot North 15-3 in the first half and 7-3 in the second.

"We let up once in a while, but I'm quite pleased with they way we're playing defense," Bartram said.

The Falcons, 2-1-1, were scheduled to face undefeated Farmington Harrison in a showdown Wednesday at Farmington.

HARRISON I, DEARBORN 0: The Hawks won a defense-dominated contest from a good Dearborn squad Monday and extended their winning streak to five.

Thierry Bersot scored the game's only goal midway in the first half when he took a pass from Ron Leicht and drilled the ball past the Pioneer goalkeeper.

That was one of only four good scoring opportunities the Hawks had, but they allowed Dearborn just one.

The Pioneers slipped a cross pass to an open wing who broke toward the goal, but an excellent save by Harrison goalie Gary Wegner thwarted the effort and preserved the shutout - the third straight for

Meanwhile, the Hawks are taking each game one at a time as the number of victories increases.

Hope-less Dutchmen fall to fast-starting OU

It took just 16 seconds for Oakland University's soccer team to take command of Saturday's game with visiting Hope College

That's how long it took the Pioneers to score. They took the opening kick and looped the ball to Erik Enyedy on the wing, who sent it in to Sel Eren on the left side of the net. Eren tapped it back to Paul Phillips and - that fast Hope lost hope after that. The final was 4-0, OU.

The victory evened the Pioneers' record at 1-1-1. Eren did most of the damage, adding two second-half goals to his first-half assist.

With 10 minutes left in the opening half, Yong Song made it 2-0 for OU with assists from Simon Mayo and Matt Paukovits. Eren then took command in the second half. Earl Parris and Brian Fitzgerald set him up at the 53:19 mark, and 11 1/2 minutes later the freshman forward from Windsor made it 4-0, Parris assisting.

Nino DiCosmo, a Troy Athens grad, was hardly tested in earning the shutout in the Pioneer goal. DiCosmo faced just six shots. On the other hand, Hope keeper Rick Baker - another Athens' alumnus - was pelted with 44

A year ago, OU's trip to the Indiana-Purdue at Fort Wayne volleyball tournament was a short one - the Lady Pioneers lost their first three matches and came home.

Last weekend ended differently. OU won three of four matches and finished third in the six-team tournament.

Livonia powers battle to 1-1 draw

Nothing gained, nothing lost.

That was the bottom line Monday night after Livonia boys soccer rivals Churchill and host Stevenson, two of the state's top-ranked teams, battled to a 1-1 draw before 800 fans.

Two-time defending state Class A champion Spartans, who have not lost in three years, went into the game as a slight favorite, ranked No. 1.

But Churchill, ranked No. 6, held tough despite being outshot 18-8. The Chargers also proved they could be a team to be reckoned with at the end of the season.

"It's fun to play the best and you can't take anything away from a team like Stevenson," said Churchill coach John Neff. "Being able to hang with them is encouraging.'

'These things happen in soccer," said Stevenson coach Pete Scerri. "I told them they played a good game. I'm glad it happened now. I'm very satisfied. How many good chances did we throw out?"

BOTH GOALS were scored early in the first

Churchill drew first blood at the 11-minute mark when sophomore forward Phil Todino, taking an assist from John Gentile, put the ball into the net make it 1-0.

But Stevenson answered only five minutes later when junior Bob Dimitriou came up from his midfield post and sent one through. Kurt Will on the goal to knot the count at 1-1.

Stevenson then had a goal disallowed on an offside call, but the Spartans continued to threaten, particularly near the end of the first half.

Churchill's Chris Speen then came up with what proved to play of the night, heading a ball out of the net when goalie Ted Lukiewski was pulled out of position on a Mel Karfis corner kick.

'We've got some work to do on corner kicks," Neff said. "They were jumping all over us on

But Lukiewski, a senior who is starting for the first time, made very few mistakes. He also had good help from sweeper back Jim Chendes, who patrols the goal area like a middle linebacker.

"TED HAS BEEN around and he's paid his dues," Neff said. "He did a very nice job."

In the second half, Stevenson would mount an offensive rush, come up empty and then find Churchill's quick forward line of Khaled Zeidan, Gentile, Bodin and Todino responding with a rush of their own. But the pattern throughout the second half

"Churchill was juiced up," said Scerri. "But every team is juiced up when they play us. I think our team felt a little pressure. "I think what we have to do is have the mid-proved fruitless as both teams failed to score.

fielders come up more from behind.' Neff also kicked around some strategic ideas for the future. 'We played a little too much kickball," he said. "We didn't get the ball on the ground enough. And we had a hard time at midfield.

Schoolcraft College volleyball coach Tom Teeters got what he wanted from his team Tuesday. Oakland University volleyball coach Bob Hurdle didn't. Not ex-

Teeters was happy to simply get a solid performance. Hurdle wanted more. He wanted both better performance and a victory.

As Tuesday's match at OU turned out, both coaches got what they wanted. SC gave the Lady Pioneers all they could handle, and OU survived the challenge to collect a 15-12, 15-11, 5-15, 15-11 tri-

HURDLE WASN'T as pleased. "I thought we went through a stretch where we passed very poorly, from the middle of game three to the end of game four," he said. "We have not been able to sustain our play. When you have the lead on someone, you shouldn't let them get back into it.

"We haven't established that killer instinct yet."

What OU did establish Tuesday was its superior strength. The Lady Pioneers maintained a two-to-three point edge throughout the first game; in the second, they overcame a 5-4 SC lead with five consecutive points and never again trailed. The closest the Lady Ocelots got after that was two.

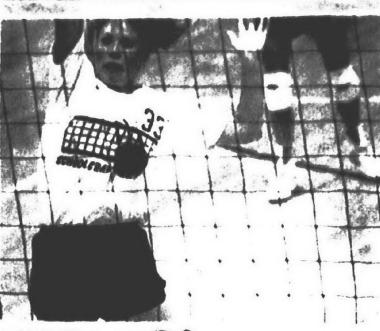

But the momentum OU built through the first two games quickly dissipated in the third. SC scored the first five points and - behind some outstanding outside hitting by 5-foot-4 Chris Paciero - blasted the Lady Pioneers.

In one stretch of six-straight SC points, Paciero, a freshman from Livonia Churchill, collected four kills. She finished the match with eight, second highest among Lady

THE FOURTH game was the best of the match, with each team surging and neither surrendering. A four-point rally by SC gave it a 10-6 lead, but OU answered by scoring three straight to make it a one-point game. The Lady Ocelots went ahead 11-9 before the Lady Pioneers got the final six points, the last four in a row.

"If she gets her confidence at the beginning of a match, she's great," Hurdle said of Lormin. "We've been working with her on not getting discouraged if she doesn't get off to a quick start.

"I didn't think she started particularly well tonight, but she stuck with it and got better as the match progressed.

Lormin finished with a teamhigh 17 kills in 37 attacks. Her attack percentage was .324.

The premier hitters for each team turned in their normal fine performances. SC's Jill Ehlert colered her attack percentage to .156. the Lady Ocelots with 45 kills.

Ehlert's attack percentage was hurt by OU's superior size and blocking ability. The most telling statistic from the match was blocks. OU, considered small by NCAA Division II standards, had 29 blocks to just 13 for SC.

"We need to play a little more consistently, and we need to pass the ball better," said Hurdle. Teeters' concern: "We've got to get some more blocking."

Neumann scores 4 in win over Delta

The season-opener was a stormy one for Schoolcraft College's mens soccer team Saturday at Delta Community College.

Fortunately for both teams, the wind and hailstorm that raked the field late in the first half disappeared; unfortunately for Delta, the whirling dervish playing forward for SC did not.

Bobby Neumann, one of just two returnees from last season's Eastern Conference championship team, destroyed Delta with four goals in a 4-2

In SC coach Van Dimitriou's memory, no one since Nick O'Shea - now the SC womens soccer coach - has had such a scoring game. "Bobby has a chance to be that good," said Dimi-

The game was a close one - for a half. Dimitriou chose to shuffle his starting lineup in an effort to develop some depth on defense Stopper

Schoolcraft sports

Torin Gniewek moved to halfback and Ayman Fadl was inserted at fullback, with Tony Peruzzi switched to stopper

Fadl played well. Dimitriou said. but the defense was not as cohesive. That, combined with the sudden storm and strong wind blowing against SC. and two extraordinary shots by Delta forward Greg Saunders, resulted in a 2-2 halftime tie.

SC SCORED first when right wing Bill Trombley sent a pass to Errol Parks, who tapped it to Neumann for the goal 15 minutes into the game Delta tied it 10 minutes later on 35 yards out, then took the lead seven minutes after that when Saunders hit again, from slightly closer. That perked them up, got them going," said Dimitriou. "They started to believe they could beat us." With one minute left in the half, Gniewek slipped a pass in to Neumann and he scored again to knot it

The second half was a different story The storm cleared, and Dimitriou decided to "go back to our regular lineup." The result was domination for SC, which outshot Delta 18-2 in the final 45 minutes.

Neumann got the game-winning goal 15 minutes into the second half, with Trombley and Gniewek again setting him up Neumann's fourth score came 10 minutes later, with Kevin Kurkowski and Paul Burrill assisting.

SC's second Eastern Conference Saunders' first goal, a rocket from match is at Lakeland CC Friday.

Siena Heights bounces Lady Ocelots in shutout

Nick O'Shea could see what was about to happen.

His Schoolcraft College girls soccer team had dominated the first 45 minutes of play at Siena Heights College Monday. "We were all over them in the first half," he said. "We must have had 10 shots. But everything was right at their goalkeeper

WHAT THE Lady Ocelots have is a shortage of players Entering the season. O'Shea did not have a goalkeeper Tracy Greenwald the Livonia Churchill grad who backed up Liz Monroe as a junior and was supposed to fill the position, got a late grant to attend Madonna College Finally. Amy Weber - a star forward at Churchill in 1986 - agreed to play in the net.

'She'll do all right." said O'Shea of Weber's new position "It's just going to take time.

The SC coach also has other problems to tend to Sweeper Jennifer Belhart broke her nose in the team's crimmage with Michigan State; Belhart played in the Lady Ocelots' 5-1 win over University of Windsor last Wednesday, but when she went to the doctor two days later he had to reset it. Early prognosis is that Belhart will be lost for six weeks.

With her loss, O'Shea was forced to move Kristi Green to sweeper, a position she is not used to. It will take time for his restructured defense to jell. O'Shea said, and until then the offense will have to carry the load

Against Windsor, the forwards did their job Jennifer Huegli and Jennifer Flowers each scored twice for SC. and Mary Kay Hussey had one

The upcoming schedule won't help the Lady Ocelots. They host St. Louis CC at 4 p.m. Friday and Monroe (NY) CC at noon Sunday.

Madonna takes varsity opener

Madonna College's first venture into women's volleyball proved to be successful Saturday. The four-year Livonia school.

fielding its first-ever varsity team, defeated Grace Bible of Grand Rapids (15-1, 15-6) and the Grand Rapids Institute of Bible and Music (15-4, 15-7). Standouts offensively for coach Jerry Abraham's team included Marie Cervantes, who recorded 11 kills in two games; Judy Elderbrock, eight kills; and Mona Ali, five kills and five aces.

Freshman setter Joy Petroni also stood out along with Rosanne Krach on defense.

"Overall I'm happy about the opener for starting a new program," Abraham said. "We're looking forward to a good first season.'

O&E tourney filled

Early registration pays off.

Twenty latecomers learned that lesson. They're on the waiting list, hoping to get a spot in this weekend's Observer & Eccentric/Whispering Willows men's golf tournament.

The tourney is filled. Come Saturday, the first of 211 entries will tee off, vying for trophies and prizes in four flights. Favorites? There probably aren't any, considering no one has won back-to-back O&E titles in the past decade. Mike Steggles, the 1986 champ from Livonia, hopes to end title he won in a playoff with Doug Cumming of Farmington Hills.

There aren't many other past champions returning, but one who is is three-time winner John Van Vleck of Farmington Hills. Van Vleck is overdue; the last time he finished first was in '83.

Marlins win swim meet

Farmington Mercy dethroned Milan as champion of the ninth annual Griffin Memorial Swimming/Diving Relays at Brighton High School Saturday.

The Marlins compiled a 118-point total, while Milan, this year's runner-up, was a distant accord with 88. Nine teams participated.

Coach Paul Schroeder's swimmers won five of 10 events and were among the top three finishers in every event.

Furthermore, Mercy set a meet record in the 200-yard backstroke relay. Karen Neyer, Maureen Lee, Katie Westhoff and Roberta Orr posted the new standard of 2:01.5.

ning 200 breaststroke/butterfly relay team, combining with Lynn Zielinski, Michelle McCaffrey and Anne Lang to record a 2:12.16 time.

Orr and McCaffrey had two first places each, also. Polly Tenuta, Cindy Grush, McCaffrey and Becky Wiquist won the 800 freestyle relay (8:30.08), and Orr, Amy Cetnar, Liz DeMattia and Mary Quinn captured the 200 medley (2:00.95).

Mercy's fifth victory occurred in the diving relay with the Marlins accumulating 501.55 points behind the efforts of Erica Campbell, Marie Olson and Molly McDonald.

the round setting."

APED TO A paneled wall in gemologist Ken Rose's Southfield office is a simple one-line sentence cut out of a magazine. It reads, "We show you what you haven't seen.

This unofficial motto is the cornerstone of Rose's career, as multifacted as a carefully cut gemstone.

An art teacher at Stevenson High School in Livonia until his retirement in June 1986, he runs a thriving business he started almost 20 years, selling unusual gemstones to craftspeople, commercial jewelers and schools across the U.S.

For 10 years, he was associated with the Detroit Institute of Arts, first an an instructor, then as coordinator of workshops and of all the children's art classes conducted by the DIA.

A trim, dapper man whose only concession to the more traditional Bohemian appearance associated with male artists is a wellgroomed beard, Rose reminisced about his teaching career and discussed his flourishing business behind a desk that glittered with unset, rainbow-hued gemstones.

"I STARTED AS a jeweler's apprentice, then I decided to make my living with my hobby. so I went into teaching," recalled Rose. Then with a grin he said, "Except back then, if you'd told me I'd be teaching. I'd have told you you were out of your mind.

But I staved with it for 30 years Rose, an alumnus of Cass Technical High School in Detroit, obtained his bachelor's degree from Wayne State University in 1958 and began his teaching career at this time. He also has a master's degree in metals from Eastern Michigan University and also has a certificate in gemology from the Gemological Institute of America, the accepted school of Those years saw the beginning of the Family Workshop Program, an idea that Rose and a colleague borrowed from the Museum of Modern Art in New York City. Held on Sundays in centers throughout the metropolitan Detroit area, the program had an unusual requisite

"Parents couldn't show up without kids, and kids couldn't show up without parents," Rose said firmly.

. "A lot of professional artists were involved and it worked out very well," he recalled.

Rose's teaching career embraced all types of media, including drawing, print-making, sculpture and painting.

He also found the time to exhibit his art work in crafts and art shows, building a reputation as an innovative craftsman, an asset that would prove invaluable when the time came to switch ca-

EXCEPT THAT ROSE hasn't completely abandoned his former profession

He serves on the board for the Scholastic Art Awards for metropolitan Detroit, a national organization that honors the achievements of high school art students. The Detroit chapter has enjoyed much success in competition with schools across the U.S. and next year may bring increased recognition for the retired teacher.

there's nothing official as yet that I've been recommended to be a national judge in New York (in the jewelry competition) in 1988." Rose said.

"It would really be a kick because I've had a lot of national winners in New York over the years, and it would be nice to culminate this by being a judge."

The things that Rose puts into his jewelry designs are the same things he looks for when evaluating a piece of jewelry.

Basically, his three criteria are originality, good craftsmanship and how wearable the piece is for its owner. The last guideline can be a little tricky, warned Rose.

Sometimes jewelry artists tend to forget these things are going to be worn, and sometimes tney're not very comfortable."

Before Rose begins creating a piece of jewelry, he first considers the stone and what he is designing - a ring or necklace, for example.

He may sketch some preliminary designs, but usually he prefers to begin working with wax molds. He always uses metal-working tools with the molds because when the piece is cast in metal, he can finish it with the same tools

ROSE WORKS WITH the customer throughout the designing process, showing them two or three waxes before the metal is cast for the setting.

"They want to see it and hold it." he explained. "Jewelry is a tactile thing. It's the closest thing that you're wearing - closer than your clothes - and it has to have a good feel to it."

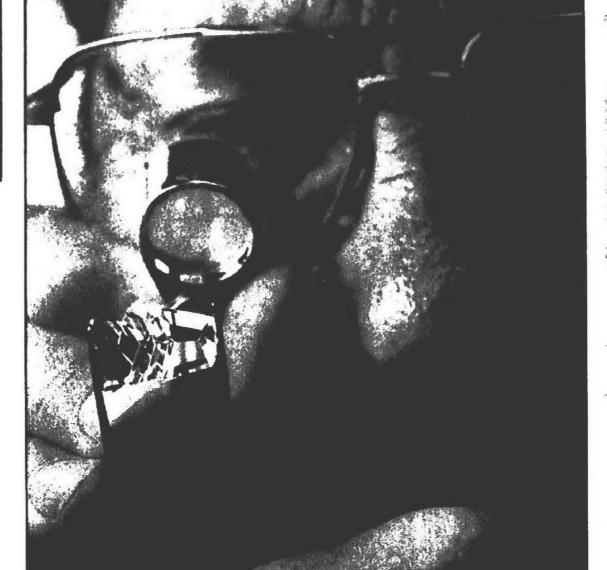

Trust is an all-important factor when a designer is commissioned to create an original piece of

"Sometimes, someone will come in with a picture and say, 'I want something like that' when tney really don't," he commented.

Often the customer confuses what they may want with how they feel other people will react to it, forcing the designer to become an amateur psychologist in order to satisfy the customer. But that's usually not the case with "The people who come to me don't want the round stone in the round setting," he laughed.

That's also true of one of Rose's most successful former students. Matthew C. Hoffmann of Ann Ar-

Ken Rose looks at a blue topaz fantasy through a loup.

The two met while Hoffmann was still a student at Livonia's Bentley High School 13 years ago. With Rose'e encouragement and resources, Hoffmann's creative talents blossomed.

From his first store in Ann Arhor Hoffmann has gone on to open a showroom in Chicago and is planning for the opening this fall of his New York showroom on Madison Avenue

The 30-year-old avant-garde designer has built up a sizable reputation around his individually sculpted gold designs.

Last year, Rose accompanied Hoffmann to New York to scout locations for his newest show-

After Rose retired last year, Hoffmann asked him to join his staff, and for five months, the two collaborated on jewelry designs and laid the groundwork for Hoffmann's New York store. BUT ROSE'S OWN business demanded his full-time attention, and the arrangement ended. They remain close friends, however, and enjoy a mutual admiration of each other's accomplishments.

I'm very proud and he always gives me a pat on tne back," beamed Rose.

Hoffmann isn't the only other tormer Rose protege to achieve success in the art world.

One young woman is a successful fashion designer in California and another is an accomplished photographer and sculptor living in New York.

The father of three, Rose tried to instill an early awareness of art by assigning each child a jewelry project as they were growing up. It didn't work, he

"They'd rather have me make it for them," he said.

However, his oldest daughter Aryn is an architect with the firm of Catello and Associates of Birmingham, designing buildings instead of jewelry

A psychologist friend of Rose's once offered his opinion of how Rose achieved success as a designer. He told Rose that many people are afraid that once they create something, they will never be able to do it again.

"But I know I can," he said, smiling.

'Prisoners of art' share a gallery show

By Corinne Abatt staff writer

"We don't know what it is to be bored," said Louis Gothelf as his wife, Reva Shwayder Gethelf, smiled in agreement. These two octogenarian artists, whose love affair and wedding were documented in the locally made film, "Young at Heart," will have a combined show of their paintings at Rubiner Gallery of West Bloomfield starting Friday.

Each will have more than 20 new works in the show, which continues through Oct. 1. Hers are acrylic on canvas and his are watercolor on pa-

"We painted like all winter long," she said, describing their apartment in Florida that faces the Gulf of Mexico. "Mine are mostly scenes of the water, beaches, trees, but not palm trees. The only artist who could do palm trees well was Winslow Homer, and my name isn't Winslow Homer. I'll have a lot of flowers, too. And I used quite a bit of silver leaf

"Mine are mostly local scenes," her husband said.

"We get in the car and drive," Rose Gothelf said, "and we've found a favorite spot where we paint."

"I am painting in the tradition of Edward Hopper and Winslow Homer," said Louis, who has achieved success as a portrait painter.

He recently completed a commissioned portrait of a Filipino ophthalmologist. That, along with one he did of his wife will be in the exhibit as well as a self portrait. His portrait of President Jimmy Carter is in the Archives of the Carter Library

In the course of their lives, each has achieved wide recognition as an artist. His work has been exhibited in the art museums in Toledo, Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Rockford, III., and in many private galleries. He did stage settings for the Chicago Civic Opera Company for many

Watercolor is a relatively new medium for Gothelf, but a natural one, since he loves to draw

"He draws constantly," said his wife, "when we go out he's always got a pencil.

He picked up the conversation at that point, "In the doctor's office, for instance. The doctor tells you to come in at 2:30 p.m. and he doesn't see you until 4 o'clock," he said.

'He can get a lot done there. People are always interesting in the doctor's office," she said.

SHE, TOO, LIKES to paint from life, "I like to go to Eastern Market, there's plenty of material there.'

Her art career formally began in 1948 when she enrolled at Society of Arts, which later became Center for Creative Studies, and studied with the great Sarkis Sarkisian. She has since exhibited and taught extensively. Her work has been in shows at the Phildelphia Academy of Art, Detroit Institute of Arts, Wayne State University and Lincoln Center. Her work is also in many corporate and private collections.

Textured board makes difference

CCASIONALLY people come into my store for the first time and say, "Hi, is David Messing in?" Now that is my favorite straight line. I always say, "Well, does he owe you any money?" and when they say, "No," I add, "Well, then, I'm Dave Messing

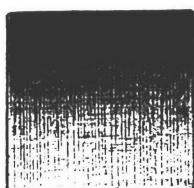

Here's another favorite. The customer says "You must be Dave Messing but you're much taller than you appear in your picture in the paper." Now, I never ask this because I don't want to sound like a smart alec, but how tall can just your head LINEN look?

No one recognizes me from my picture unless it's at the worst time possible. For example, I just came out of the steam room and shower at the health spa. That morning I had to borrow Adam's giant beach towel with Mickey Mouse on it. So there I am - half-asleep with just smiling Mickey around my middle. I also have my head tipped way over to one side and am blasting my hair with a hair blower. In walks this guy, tips his head to the side and says, "Hey, you're Dave Messing. My wife reads your column all the time."

Instantly I suck in my gut and almost lose my towel. So with towel in hand, blower in the other and a smattering of cream on my face, I say, "Er . . . um . . . yes, I am he and tell her thank you - and . . . Fortunately the whirl of my blow dryer cut the conversation short. One noticeable difference from my picture, however, is that my beard now has more blonde in it. Most people insist that it is white hair, but I like to think that my beard is just turning blonde. Two parts of me are turning 40 this year: my age and my waistline.

WELL, A PICTURE usually makes things pretty clear and pictures of textured drawing boards help define their versatility. Some of what I discussed last week bears repeating as you look at the boards. Remember, the fine shell pattern is probably the most common. Coarse shell is better for large pictures. If are doing artwork which will be greatly reduced, I also recommend the larger textured boards like the coarse shell, stipple and linen.

We have over 400 students and

tured boards or papers. Likewise, most customers are fascinated with the idea of textured surfaces. So take a look at these wonderful textured surfaces and imagine your next project done on one of them.

Scratch board is also available in several textures. However, I prefer the "fine" textured pre-coated scratchboard. This product comes from England; is a very thick board is technically called Esdee scraper board. Unfortunately, it only comes in a small 9-by-12-inch sheet and costs $4.40. You must see the work you can produce on this marvelous paper/board. It is a special treat to use transparent watercolors over your finished scratchboard. The transparent colors sink into the white scratches and textures and seem to disappear on the black background. When you are done, you then spray the work to fix the colors and enrich the black background.

West Bloomfield's Best. Enter Aldingbrooke through the private gate and you've entered a world that abounds with "more" of everything.

More Space...Up To 2,800 Square Feet.

Note the spaciousness of each of Aldingbrooke's 9 floor plans. The full living space, the generous storage space, the private patio or balcony, attached garages and the lush rolling terrain. Aldingbrooke residents demand spaciousness - so each Aldingbrooke unit is designed with their needs in mind.

More Community...130 Acres. Aldingbrooke is more than an apartment - it's a community. A clubhouse with pool, tennis courts, walking/jogging trails, library, billiards and other activities galore. Aldingbrooke residents demand more than just a place to live, they demand a lifestyle - and Aldingbrooke provides it.

We invite you to tour all the beautiful 1, 2 and 3 bedroom terrace homes of Aldingbrooke. Rentals begin at $650. We know you'll see a community as unique as its We're located on Drake Road between Maple and Walnut Lake Roads.
