EXTRA MILER: Charles Olson, known as "Mr. Swim" at Plymouth Salem High School where he teaches physical education, was honored with the "Extra Miler" award by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education last week.

The honor is bestowed upon school staffers who go beyond the call of duty while on the job.

"His students classify him as a friend first, teacher second and coach third," said trustee E.J. McClendon about the Salem girls and boys swim coach.
"I know more about Chuck than he knows I know. When he was a small boy, Chuck wanted to be a teacher. He was dedicated and never took his eye off that goal. He assisted in teaching swimming while still a student at old Plymouth High School. He lives his values," said McClendon of the two-time Observer Swim Coach of the Year.

Olson was praised for organizing the annual Rotary Christmas Invitational Swim Meet and and for enlisting swimmers' help at the Rotary Fall Festival Chicken Barbecue each fall.

Olson received a certificate, cloisonne pin, and lunch for two at the Mayflower Hotel.

VARIETY SHOW: The Plymouth Canton Chiefette Variety Show will begin 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Nov. 20-21, in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High. Tickets at $3 each may be purchased at the door or in advance from any Chiefette. Highlights of the show include a dance number featuring the Chiefettes and their fathers, a drum solo, skits, singers, dancers, bands, and other acts.

WILD MEAT: A Wild Game Dinner is being held at MacKinnon's Restaurant in Northville, hosted by the Cheese and Wine Barn of Plymouth beginning at 5 p.m. Nov. 22. The main course will be Buffalo Wellington. Tickets at $55 per person are available by calling 453-1700.

NEW LIBRARY HOURS: At its regular meeting earlier this month, the Plymouth District Library Board passed a resolution adopting the following hours effective Jan. 4: 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Priday and Saturday, and 1-5 p.m. Sunday from September to mid-June.

YOUTH WINNERS: Two residents are among some 21 high school seniors named regional finalists in the U.S. Senate Youth Intermediate School District contest.

Michelle Johnson of Plymouth Canton High and Mark Rearick of Plymouth Salelm High were selected by the Wayne County Intermediate School District from nominees who hold elective offices in high school. Selections were based on achievement, leadership, scholastic standing, articulateness, and community involvement.

Debra Parent of Plymouth Christian Academy in Canton was honored with a certificate for being an area finalist. Michigan's two delegates to Washington, D.C. will be announced on Dec. 1.

Peace pole missing from memorial site

By Doug Funke staff writer

A wooden peace pole planted near the Plymouth Rock memorial in August for a nuclear disarmament rally is missing, presumably stolen. Ken Vogras, city DPW director. said he first became aware that the pole was missing last Monday. "It was dug up, too, not cut off. If you get a couple guys, you could dig around it and lift it out, cement and

THE POLE, about 6-feet high, was erected by peace fellowship groups of St. John Episcopal Church during a local stop of a statewide march sponsored by Michigan United for Global Disarmament

The pole cost about $60. Anne Reynolds, active in the fellowship, didn't know about the apparent theft until notified Thursday by the Observer

"I am dumbfounded. I'm speech less. I'm heartsick," she said.

There was some controversy when the pole was left on city property after the rally. Rally organizers believed that the pole was to remain there permanently. Some city officials thought it was to be temporary. City manager Henry Graper and

Now, Graper said, the city commission probably would want more direct control on where a replacement pole - or the original, if recovered - should be placed.

"I think we'll ask them to put it on church property," Graper said.

POLICE CHIEF Richard Myers isn't optimistic about recovering the

"I doubt there's too great an investigation we can do without a specific time, witness information or other evidence," he said. "If anyone has one hanging around it, a license number - we'd be interested in investigating."

"We had told them (peace group) before if we had problems, we weren't going to put another back in," Graper said. "I'm surprised it's been there as long as it has with the problems we have with street signs taken."

The community hasn't been unanimous in support of the pole. Some people have spoken out against it.

Reynolds believes that it's a copout to blame kids.

"It probably was a disgruntled cit-izen who felt their opinion wasn't being represented and felt their opinion was more important than consensus," she said.

'The bottom line is fear - someone who feels strongly enough to do that," said Glenn Davis, also active in the peace fellowship.

"If some people don't want a peace pole, we can look at it as a peace hole," Reynolds said.

Some American Indian tribes attach a symbolism to holes in the earth, believing that we are energized from the earth and the earth is our mother, Reynolds added

Schools balk at competency exam

By M.B. Dillon

School officials are balking at legislation that would mandate competency testing for high school students in Michigan.

The examination would test students' ability in English, math, and science. Students who pass would be given "endorsed" diplomas. Pupils who fail would receive "non-endorsed" diplomas. The law would become effective in 1992.

In opposition are the Michigan Education Association, Michigan Association of School Administrators, and the Michigan Association of School Boards. The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce favors the my duration as an educator," said Kent Buikema, executive director for secondary education for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

"I guess I think the diplomas we give are all endorsed diplomas because we have met the graduation requirements of our school district, and our teachers have certified that they've done that.

"I don't want to get into a situation saying this student is better than that student."

BUIKEMA DOUBTS competency tests would upgrade education or increase school accountability.

"Very often, competency tests result in promoting minimal objectives, rather than in allowing the school to stretch to educate their children to the best of their abilities.' Dr. Michael Homes, Plymouth-Canton assistant superintendent for instruction, questions how accurate competency tests would be.

My concern is how accurately that kind of test really measures the effectiveness of teacher and student outcomes. I don't think any standard instrument exists that can do that, unless you can come up with some divine instrument that accounts for the vast differences that exist in districts from here to the Upper Penin-

What Senate Bill 350, sponsored by state Sen. Nick Smith, R-Addison, would do:

· Require school districts to give their students a competency test in English, math and science beginning in the 10th grade.

• Students who fail the exam would receive remedial help and unlimited chances to retake the · Pupils who pass would be awarded "endorsed" diplomas. Those who don't would receive "non-endorsed" diplomas, if they Business leaders are the impetus behind the bill. Quoting the American Society for Training and Development Economics, Smith told legis lators that "productivity losses caused by poorly educated workers, together with the price of remedial training costs business about $25 billion per year.

'Cat in the Hat'

Kids' book has existential meaning

child in the last 50 years remembers Dr Seuss' "Cat in the Hat" - that slyly grinning storybook cat who entices two young children, home alone, into "all kinds of fun that is

Overcoming the strident objection of their pet fish, the boy and girl let the cat in ushering in an afternoon of adventure and mayhem. The cat juggles their fish, drops him into a teapot, flies him from a kite and then summons Thing One and Thing Two, who, like demon spirits, unleash more chaos.

For decades, the story has charmed children and given parents hoarse throats because of children's insistent demands that it be read just one more time" with not a word skipped.

The book, ripped and raggedyedged, sits on book shelves, under beds and between couch pillows inchild-inhabited homes everywhere. and that makes good sense. But what is the "Cat in the Hat" doing in a recent issue of "Tikkun," a liberal publication that critiques politics, culture and society?

THAT'S AS appropriate a place for it as on a child's bookshelf, in the view of Betty Mensch and Alan Freeman, a couple who co-authored the essay, "Getting to Solla Sollew: The Existential Politics of Dr.

Dr. Seuss an existentialist? Mensch and Freeman, both State University of Buffalo law professors, are on their third go-round with Seuss First they read "Horton" read the "Grinch" to their older children, now teen-agers, from their first marriages. Now they are back to "The Cat in the Hat" and "Green Eggs and Ham' with sons James, 4. and Jeremy, 18 months.

As they read and reread the charming whimsy, particularly in "The Cat in the Hat," but in many other Seuss books as well, specific themes and social messages seemed to surface.

I kept puzzling about the peculiar relationship between the cat and the fish," said Freeman.

In researching material for a class they teach on "Animals and the Law." they found continuing references to cats as satanic figures with demonic powers, particularly in medieval times. When Freeman's sister reminded them that the fish is an ancient Christian symbol of morality. the theme of the struggle between the two natural enemies clicked nicely into place, they said.

"THE FISH is conventional morality, the super ego in Freudian terms," said Mensch. "And Thing One and Thing Two are purely amoral, totally pleasure-seeking beings."

While the fish chastises, frets and scolds, telling the children to be totally obedient rather than to be active forces, the cat presents the existential dilemma of how to fashion morality without giving in to outside forces, said Freeman.

Freeman describes himself as holding onto a resolute political consciousness of the '60s.

He credits Seuss with capturing the entire dilemma of childhood, including issues of identity and authority and empowerment, using only 220 dictionary words. "It's so spare biggered the loads." The Sneetches," written in 1953, the couple views as an attack on racism because Seuss sets up two kinds of Sneetches and a culture in which 'otherness' becomes the basis for oppression. Couched in what appears to be seeming silliness, Seuss mocks discrimination:

"BUT, BECAUSE they had stars, all the Star-Belly Sneetches would brag, We're the best kind of Sneetch on the Beaches; with their snoots in the air, they would sniff and they'd snort, We'll have nothing to do with the Plain-Belly sort." Oppression is seen in "Yertle the Turtle," written in 1950, with a turtle king forcing his subjects to form a throne on which he rests, causing those on the bottom to say: "I know on the top you are seeing great sights, but down at the bottom we. too, should have rights."

Man convicted in cleaners holdup

A Novi man accused of armed robbery at a Plymouth Township cleaners last August was convicted of the charge last week during a bench trial that lasted just more than two hours, according to Plymouth Township Police.

John Germain, 34, was convicted by Recorder's Judge Dominick Carnovale, said Officer Erik Mayernik, who investigated the complaint and testified during the trial.

Germain was found innocent of firearm possession during the commission of a felony, Mayernik said.

Sentencing was scheduled for Nov. 25. Germain was remanded to Wayne County Jail to await sentenc-

Germain was accused of confronting employees and grabbing $105 from a register at the One Hour Martinizing shop at Ann Arbor Road and Sheldon after using the restroom on Aug. 17.

An employee at a nearby business observed some suspicious activity at the time and reported a license number of a car, Mayernik said.

Germain was traced as a result of that investigation and later identified as the robber during a lineup, Mayernik said.

Germain has served three previous prison terms for felony convictions, Mayernik said.

On Oct. 30, Germain sustained minor injuries when crashing through a window while trying to escape custody in 35th District Court following arraignment on a larceny charge out of Northville.

Germain was freed after posting 10 percent of a $50,000 bond when he was charged with the cleaners robbery in Plymouth Township.

More adults are going back to college

Despite declining numbers of young people in the general popula-tion, enrollment is up at area coileges, in some cases to record levels

That was our goal, to go over ,000 for our 40th birthday, said Dr Edward Meyer, the dean for administrative services at Madonna College. The school has 4,003 students enrolled for the fall term, an alltime high

Eastern Michigan and the University of Michigan-Dearborn are also at all-time highs, and most other colleges show at least modest increas-

School administrators say the reason for increasing attendance, in the face of a society that is growing increasingly older as the baby boomers hit middle age, is that schools have changed the way they do business. As America's population has aged, the schools have worked harder to enroll adults.

"I think our society has got to the point where it realizes education is a lifelong process," said Dr. Sandra Buike, director of Michigan State University's southeast regional center at Birmingham Groves High School in Bloomfield Hills.

There are several reasons for advanced education no longer being mostly the traditional province of those recently out of high school, say administrators.

 As society becomes ever more technological, in seemingly geometric increments, the retraining of workers becomes crucial, both at the white and blue-collar levels. Colleges now are going into the shops and factories to retrain workers under contracts with the employers. for example. "We're in a technical

· More adults than ever before are taking classes for their own enrichment, with progress toward a degree irrelevant

MADONNA GOT a head start in adult education, though more by accident than design Certainly, in 1947, the last thing on anyone's mind was a declining population of 18- to 22-year-olds

We started out as a traditional college to train sisters to teach." said Meyer "By the time they were able to take courses, the sisters were older. So, we've been in adult education all of our history.

Two-thirds of Madonna's students are non-traditional (The traditional student starts college out of high school and graduates in roughly four years.) The average student there is 30, said Meyer Programs include fire science, hospice care and sign language/interpreting.

Mever said the college began branching out into adult education in the early '70s. "A lot of schools, then. were still holding on to the traditional organization, geared to the high school graduate," said Meyer.

Appealing to kids brought parents to Mayflower

When Ralph Lorenz returned to the Mayflower Hotel after serving in World War II, he promoted an idea that predates by many years the mechandising employed by McDonald's and other fast food chains today.

Lorenz decided to attract parents to his hotel dining rooms by appealing to their children. He mailed letters to 1,000 children, addressing them by name. The children, most of whom had never received a letter personally addressed to them, were ivited to the hotel's "Johnny Billington Clean Plate Club.

Each child accompanied by his or her parents received a free meal. Each youngster who cleaned his plate received an English half-penny. The response was remarkable. From that first of several mailings, 925 children and their parents came to the hotel.

The Mayflower was still promoting the Johnny Billington Club in the early 1950s when the Hudson family arrived here from the east. I remember because our son, Bruce, was a member.

Lorenz got the name "Johnny Billington from a book written by a woman in the east. He got the author's permission to use the name. Some years later, when they met again, she told him his promotion did more to help the sales of her book than all of the efforts of her publish-

LORENZ WAS serving his second term as president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce He was also becoming recognized in Michigan and on the national scene. He was vice president of the Michigan Hotel Association and active in the work of the National Hotel Association.

In January 1954 the board of directors of the hotel company decided to lease the Mayflower to Lorenz for a period of 20 years. They didn't want to lose him. In announcing the lease story, the Plymouth Mail reported that Lorenz had received many attractive offers from hotel groups throughout the country.

Lorenz had his own reason for staying at the Mayflower. When offered a job with one of the nation's largest hotel chains, he declined, saying "I don't like reporting to anyone in a higher position. I like to push my own buttons.

TEN YEARS AFTER Lorenz leased the hotel, the hotel board suggested that he become its owner. Lorenz was quick to agree.

At that time, 135 shareholders remained of the 252 who had bought shares in 1926. Ralph and Mabel Lorenz acquired all of the outstanding stock at $21 a share. The stock had once sold as high as $33 and as low as 25 cents a share. With $11 in dividends investors had received during the hotel's profitable years,

During the year he bought the hotel, Lorenz acquired the building on Main Street across from the Mayflower. It was built by the Oddfellows in the 1920s. He remodelled the structure and called it the Mayflower Meeting House, continuing his Colonial Pilgrim fathers theme.

A FEW YEARS earlier, Lorenz opened the private club that he named The Round Table. It was on the spot where his beer and wine bar had stood. In 1973, he established in the hotel the Crow's Nest Pub, with its English pub windows and marine

The Steak House Galley came in 1974, the year Lorenz opened the Mayflower Motor Inn in back of the Mayflower Meeting House. In 1976, he built the Mayflower Square office building and the First National Bank of Plymouth Building. All of these perpetuated the colonial style of architecture he had been promoting since the 1940s.

The latest major addition to the hotel, the Mayflower II, built above the Wiedman Parking Lot adjacent to the hotel, opened in January 1983. It was, perhaps, the first Michigan Economic Development Corporation project built that used air rights over public property. The lot is owned by the city, which leases the space above it to the hotel.

AT SOME TIME in their lives, all of the six Lorenz children have had a hand in the family business.

Although Staton, Shiela, Rick and Kirk are no longer employed at the hotel, sons Scott and Randy have succeeded their father in running the Scott is general manager and Randy manages the Round Table Club. Creon Smith, who has managed the in-hotel restaurants for the past 17 years, is also part of the operation.

Ralph Lorenz, without whom the Mayflower Hotel might have been another casualty of the Great Depression, spends his time nowadays with son Rick, promoting his latest idea: the sale of luxury condominiums they are building on Ann Arbor Trail behind the residence where Ralph once lived.

The Gracious Alternative

Someone you love is growing older and needs just a bit more support than he or she can get in their current living situation. A nursing home isn't the answer. Normal activities like eating and dressing aren't a problem. But you would be happier knowing someone was there to provide gentle encouragement and firm support when needed, in a non-institutional atmosphere.

The answer is The Plymouth Inn, a magnificent residence for seniors who want their independence but need some supervision as well. Consider some of the many advantages:

 Spacious mini-suites for those who desire extra comfort and privacy.

 Deluxe semi-private accommodations, richly appointed, with private lavatories and showers.

 Conveniently located near Plymouth, Northville, and Livonia, with easy access to major highways

 Tranquil landscaped grounds and lovely common areas.

· Three delicious meals served in our central dining room by a friendly, attentive staff of professionals.

· Extensive, varied social programs and recreational opportunities.

• Game room, chapel, beauty parlor and lounges, all designed with the special needs of our residents in mind.

Cigarette tax boost gets cool reception

Legislative action this week could determine whether a proposed cigarette tax increase goes up in smoke and with it Wayne County's plan to eliminate $130 million in debt.

The nickel-a-pack cigarette tax is considered the most controversial of three revenue enhancement proposals put forth by the county. It is also the only one designed to eliminate

"I think there's some kind of rough consensus on the other proposals, as well as on indigent health care." deputy county executive Michael Duggan said. "But what will happen on the cigarette tax, we don't know." With the increase, the state's cigarette tax would rise to 26 cents per

"Obviously, the cigarette lobby is going to fight it," said Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton. Kosteva is the only western Wayne County representative on the House Taxation Committee. The committee is expected to debate the cigarette tax Wednesday in Lansing.

TOBACCO industry lobbvists might not be the only ones out to sabotage the proposal. Kosteva said.

There's a number of other proposals out there. Some may be obstacles thrown in the county's way," Kosteva said. "When some outstate legislators see there's going to be something that would benefit Wayne County, they try to promote their own special interest projects."

Alternative proposals would use the cigarette tax increase for AIDS research or aid to public schools.

In addition to the cigarette tax increase, the county proposes a 30 percent tax on Metro Airport parking and increases in circuit court filing

Those proposals have a good chance of passing, according to one legislator. "I don't see much opposition to them," said state Sen R. Robert Geake, R-Northville. Geake is vice chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

The parking tax and circuit court fee increases would be used to balance next year's county budget. The health care agreement would prevent future debt. Wayne County Executive Edward

McNamara is counting on the cigarette tax increase to pay off county bonds. The bonds would be issued to pay debts owed the state, primarily for health care services.

Under a complex formula, cigarette tax money would be distributed to all Michigan counties. Tax money would be used to finance jails and youth camp operations. The $20 million Wayne County expects to receive would "free up" money currently spent on corrections for use in paying off the bonds, Mcnamara

THE COUNTY also proposes restructuring its indigent health care program. That proposal isn't included in the bills pending before the state Legislature.

The county's financial relief package is expected to make its debut in the state Legislature this week. Bills are expected to be introduced into the state House of Representatives on Tuesday, in time for the House Taxation Committee meeting the next day. "If it's introduced Tuesday, I would expect it to be on Wednesday's agenda." Kosteva said.

dated programs include the county seeks another $16 million to help pay

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Wayne County executive Edward McNamara will cut $10 million from the new county budget if state legislators don't approve a package of bills designed to get the county out of debt.

Bills are expected to be introduced in the state House of Representatives on Tuesday. An announcement on budget cuts could also be made this week, according to county executive staff members.

Cuts would go into effect if the state Legislature does not approve the debt-reduction package before the end of the year.

The cuts would amount to slightly more than 4 percent of the county's $229 million general operating budget for fiscal 1988. The new budget goes into effect Tuesday, Dec. 1. 'We're going through all areas of the budget to see what is state-mandated (and exempt from cuts) and what isn't," deputy county executive

Michael Duggan said. County officials said as much as 85 percent of the budget is allocated for programs mandated either by the state or the county charter. Mandated programs include the county jail and health care programs for needy county residents. Non-man-

Big meal a labor of love

Just got off the phone and, once again, find myself with a "no ifs ands or buts" invitation to Thanksgiving dinner at Momma's. Every year I try to coerce the matriarch of the family into having the traditional family dinner at my house but, alas, to no avail.

Tradition. The fiddler on the roof had no idea what he was getting us all into when he sang those famous words. With six brothers and sisters, all of whom have long since flown the coop, many with families of their own, I will once again refrain from making calls for two days before and at least two days after to Momma's house because she will be so busy preparing the traditional Thanksgiving feast.

One thing to give thanks for this year, as in the last few years, Momma will refrain from stuffing the turkeys and putting them in roasters two days before the gala food orgy. I can remember being sent behind the garage to look for two of the "biggest, cleanest bricks" I could find so that Momma could wrap them in foil to hold down the lid of the roaster because the turkey was so big the lid wouldn't hold tight.

ALL THE KIDS would gather 'round the dinner table with large bowls, and each was given an entire loaf of bread that had to be torn apart in just the right size for the stuffing.

After a day or two of drying, the onions were chopped by hand. (Momma didn't then and still doesn't believe in food processors.) A large cast-iron kettle was filled with water, and what looked like the grossest innards of the turkey were added to make the stock.

After simmering the neck, gizzards and whatever else was hidden in the cavity, for hours on end, the resulting broth was then strained and used to moisten the bread cubes that by now had been heavily seasoned with sage, paprika, salt and pepper.

A few years ago, I asked Momma, with her nylons rolled down to her ankles and curlers in her hair, what the precise measurements were. She laughed and said her only measuring utensil was het tongue and tastebuds and that I should start out light and keep adding and stirring till it tasted "just right

After the turkeys were stuffed, the traditional pumpkin pies were then prepared. When asked why Momma wouldn't think of coming to Thanksgiving dinner at my house, I was told that it was because "you make pie crust in a machine.'

WHILE WHIFFS of pumpkin, cinnamon and nutmeg filled the kitchen air, the coleslaw was chopped, again by hand. Marzetti's slaw dressing? I asked. You've got to be kidding.

On T. inksgiving morning, while all of us kids were eating cold cereal in front of the TV, while watching the old Hudson's parade, Momma would concoct her secret casserole of sweet potatoes, honey and brown sugar. During the commercials, we ventured into the kitchen to assist in the strategic placing of marshmallows in the casserole. Eat one, place one. Eat one, place one. No wonder Weight Watchers does such a great business.

The dining room table, even with two leafs added, was too small to get everyone comfortably around, so immediately after the parade, my twin sister and I had the job of setting what used to be the ping-pong table in the basement, with dishes that were only used on this great holiday and at relatives' funerals.

Paper plates were out of the question, even though no one really enjoyed the fact the gravy aways seemed to slide off the potatoes and into the cranberry sauce (canned, of course). Since my dad had to leave for work at 4 p.m., the gravy was prepared and forced through the sieve with the back of a soup ladle.

FRESH ROLLS, made while we were still sleeping, were popped into the oven and precisely at 2:15 p.m., the family was called to the table. Before being seated, we would all gather around, hold hands and bow our heads and recite. I can still remember Dad stopping in the middle of grace and telling my brother to "speak up."

After Dad left for work, the table was cleared and more room (and turkey) was made for the onslaught of relatives. Uncle Ray, Aunt Phyllis, cousins, and relatives seen only twice a year poured in, and again, at 5 p.m., another dinner was pronounced.

Pamela Lincoln of Canton and daughter, Shelby, 21/2, look forward to Thanksgiving, when the festive dinner will include Lincoln's recipe for Florentine Spinach Stuffing, as well as other tasty dishes to surround the plump turkey.

When it comes to stuffing a turkey, many readers of Taste have their own special family recipes and are willing to

Dozens of readers answered our request for turkey stuffing recipes. Nine of these recipes, all submitted by women, are presented on this page. One of the most appealing is a recipe for Florentine Spinach Stuffing, which Pamela Lincoln of Canton printed on one of her own attractive recipe cards.

She agreed to make some stuffing, ahead of Thanksgiving, to illustrate the recipe she prepares for the holiday feast. The recipe originally appeared in a magazine, she said, but turned out to be rather bland. "I spiced it up a little," she said with a smile

Turkey stuffing recipes on this page represent a variety of cultures and countries. We're offering the recipes, along with comments, in the readers' own words Here's the recipe for:

> FLORENTINE SPINACH STUFFING

For 20-22 lb. turkey

1 lb. sweet Italian sausage, cut into small pieces 2 tbsp. butter or margarine

1 medium onion, finely chopped (1/2 cup) 1/2 cup finely chopped celery

4 cup finely chopped carrot

2 large garlic cloves, minced 1 lb. fresh mushrooms, chopped

1 tsp. dried basil - crumbled 11/2 tsp. dried thyme - crumbled 1 pkg. (14 oz.) cube stuffing mix

1 pkg. (10 oz.) chopped, frozen spinach, thawed and well drained

1 can (141/2 oz.) ready to serve chicken broth

Cook sausage in butter until browned in a large skillet, stirring frequently. Stir in onion, celery, carrot, garlic, mushrooms, basil and thyme. Continue to cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until vegetables are tender and mushrooms are cooked through.

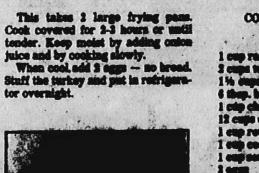

In a large bowl, toss together stuffing mix, spinach, broth and vegetable mixture until stuffing is moistened. Makes 10-

Note: To serve as a dressing, spoon stuffing into a buttered 3-quart casserole. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for approximately 45 minutes, or until heated through.

Then Aunt Ange and Uncle Johnny would come. Aunt Ange would always tote her famed cinnamon rolls, wrapped in three layers of foil. No one really cared for the rolls because this was "turkey day." Anyway, cinnamon rolls were made for breakfast, or so we were told.

The party was still going strong. even when Dad returned from his afternoon shift at the steel mill. I think this is one reason why there's no school the day after Thanksgiving.

Sound familiar? I hope Thanksgiving at your house is filled with as many memories and good thoughts as we had. Here are a few of Momma's old tried and true recipes that could be translated into measurements. Hope you enjoy as much as I have. Bon Appetit!

GIBLET GRAVY

4 tbsp. pan drippings 3 thsp. flour 3 cups liquid from cooking giblets and neck turkey liver, gizzard and heart, chopped fine salt and pepper to taste

Place pan drippings in a heavy saucepan and add flour and cook over medium heat until it browns. Stir constantly to remove as many lumps as possible. Add the cooking liquid to the browned flour and stir until smooth and thickened over medium heat. Add liver, gizzard and heart. Season with salt and pepper. Press through a fine sieve to remove any lumps.

SAGE AND ONION STUFFING 12 medium onions 3 cups stale bread cubes

1 tbsp. chopped parsley 2 tsp. sage 1/2 stick (1/4 cup) melted butter 5 ribs celery, chopped fine

salt and pepper to taste

Peel and cook onions and celery in boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Chop. Add remaining ingredients and toss well. Add just enough of the cooking liquid from the necks and giblets to moisten. Stuff in a turkey and bake.

PUMPKIN PIE

2 9-inch pie pastries, unbaked 2 cups mashed pumpkin

I cup milk

3 eggs, separated

's cup sugar 114 tsp. cinnamon

4 tsp. cloves

4 tsp. ginger 14 tsp. nutmeg

1 tsp. salt (optional)

Mix the pumpkin and the milk together. Add the egg yolks.

Combine the sugar with the cinnamon, cloves, ginger, nutmeg and salt. Mix into pumpkin mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff, fold into pumpkin mixture and bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes. Reduce the heat to 350 degrees and bake for at least 20 minutes or until the filling is

CANDIED SWEET POTATOES

6 large sweet potatoes

's cup sugar

's cup brown sugar 13 cup water

1 's thsp. butter or margarine 2 dozen large marshamallows

Scrub potatoes and boil in water until tender. Drain and remove the skins. Cut in quarters and place in an ovenproof casserole. Make a syrup by boiling the sugar with the water and butter for five minutes. Pour over sweet potatoes. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes, basting frequently with the syrup. Top with marshmallows and continue baking until marshmallows are browned sweet basil a pinch of dill salt and pepper to taste 15 lb. of soft diet margarine 1 cup hot water

Faced with the problem of producing a kosher holiday meal when a part of my family became Jewish by marriage, I learned fast. If there is to be a turkey, it must be a kosher one, and there must be no dairy products in the same meal. So go to your favorite Jewish bakery and buy a bagful of big, fat onion rolls. Cut these into cubes, throw them into a brown paper bag, which you will leave open, and put it on top of the refrigerator. Shake them up a couple of times a day while they dry. This will take around a week

Here are more readers recipes for turkey stuffing. See page 3 for

The night before you want to make the stuffing, cut up a whole bunch of green celery into small pieces, and enough onions to make at least two cups ful of each, and store them in plastic bags in the refrigerator. Combine these with the dried onion roll cubes the next morning. Add the cup of chopped nuts. Mix to-gether all the dried herbs and whatever salt and pepper you desire. Toss all these things together.

Melt 1/2 pound of diet margarine in one cup hot water. The "diet" margarine is essential if you are at all concerned about a kosher dinner. It is non-dairy and is marked "parve," which means it is neither meat nor dairy. If you are still concerned about kosher, you will have bought a kosher turkey, and your roasting pan will be one that has never been used for non-kosher meats.

MIX ALL your stuffing ingredients with this melted margarine and water, using more hot water if the stuffing is too dry. It only needs to feel moist. Stuff the turkey, packing it in fairly tightly (against all advice from most cookbooks). Put the turkey in a covered roasting pan, with a tiny amount of water in the bottom, or put it in an uncovered pan and seal it up tightly with aluminum foil over the top.

All the juices will stay inside and give you the most tender, moist turkey you have ever eaten. For a 12- or 14-pound turkey, bake it in a slow oven (about 300 degrees) for 4 hours

You will have left-over stuffing. Put it into a greased shallow pan and cover it with greased aluminum foil and bake for the last hour of the turkey baking. When the legs are falling off the turkey, take it out and enjoy.

Festivals accent Hungary, France

By Ethel Simmone staff writer

Festivals featuring the foods and desserts of Hungary and the foods and wines of the province of Alsace in France are drawing diners to Detroit-area hotels

The Hyatt Regency Dearborn, which presented the Hungarian Hyattfest in September, is featuring Hungarian Hyattfest II" through Friday at the hotel's La Rotisserie Restaurant At the Omni International Hotel at the Millender Center in Detroit, the Fete d'Alsace continues through Tuesday, Dec.

Each festival has its guests. The five-member Ferenc Santa Gypsy Orchestra, on tour from Budapest, entertains diners at the Hyatt Regency with its wonderful music. Food is prepared by a seasoned team of culinary experts from the Atrium Hyatt Budapest Hubert Trimbach, whose family has been making wine in Alsace since 1626, was guest of honor at a recent luncheon at the Omni. He spoke about the wines of Alsace and those from Trimbach being served at the festival.

Here are recipes for a couple of dishes from the two European areas being spotlighted

RIBSTEAK A' LA ESTERHAZY (From the Hungarian Hyattfest

3 to pounds boneless ribsteak ounces cooking fat

3% punces butter 3% ounces onion, pared and peeled 9 ounces carrot, pared and peeled 9 ounces parsley root, pared and peeled

3% ounces flour 2 lemons

10 ounces Zoldszilvan white wine 23 ounces sour cream 47 ounces bone stock

salt, ground pepper, bay leaf, sug-ar, mustard, parsley greens

Pound the sliced ribsteak, salt. dig in flour and pre-fry both sides. Place the pre-fried ribsteak into a deep skillet and cover. Put a little butter into the left-over cooking fat and saute until light brown by adding flour. Put in the minced onion and continue to saute, diluting with stock made from soup bones and white wine.

Salt, season with bay leaf and ground pepper, bring to a boil, and pour over the ribsteak. Stew covered over moderate heat. When the broth begins to reduce, replenish with a little soup bone stock or white wine Chop the mixed vegetables in julienne strips.

Saute in butter with minced onions, salt and pepper lightly, and continue to saute with minced parsley until partly cooked. When the beefsteak is nearly tender, put in the partially cooked vegetables and season with ground pepper, sugar, mustard, filtered lemon juice and a little grated lemon rind Stew the ribsteak in this flavorful sauce over medium heat until done making sure that the pan juices are kept rich, shallow filled with plenty of sour cream, and slightly piquant. Serve macaroni, spaghetti, steamed rice, or potato smothered in parsley as a side dish. Festoon with ribbons of sliced vegetables braised in butter

POULARDES AU RIESLING Chicken in Riesling (From the Fete d' Alsace)

2 small chickens, about 2 1/2 pounds each salt and black pepper 34 cup butter

I onion, quartered 1 clove garlic, chopped 2 cups Riesling wine

12 ounces fresh mushrooms, sliced thinly juice of 1 lemos 2 cups Creme Fraiche, or heavy

Quarter the chickens and season with salt and pepper. In a skillet, brown the chicken pieces lightly in 4 cup of the butter Add the onion and garlic and pour in the wine Saute the mushrooms in another skillet with 4 cup of the butter and the lemon juice. Drain mushrooms and reserve. Keep hot.

Pour the mixture of butter and lemon juice over the pieces of chicken and simmer covered for 30-35 minutes

When the chickens are cooked. place them on a hot serving platter and spread the mushrooms over them Keep warm

Boil the pan juices until reduced to half the volume. Stir the cream into the pan juices and let cook for 5 minutes or until thickened Stir in the remaining butter

Taste for seasoning, then strain the sauce and spoon over the pieces of chicken

Preparation time 45 minutes Cooking time: 45 minutes. Suggested wine Reisling.

You don't have to cook whole turkey

AP - Once, the only way to cook turkey was to stuff and roast a whole bird at holiday time, stuffing yourself, too, and eating leftovers for days. Now, thanks to fresh and frozen turkey portions, you can prepare turkey for two or a few anytime. Here's a rundown of the convenient turkey portions available:

BREASTS

You'll find whole breasts weighing 4 to 7 pounds breast halves and breast quarters. These all , white meat cuts are available fresh, frozen and smoked (fully cooked). Roast or

Turkey breast tenderloins are the whole muscle on the inside of the breast. Turkey breast tenderioin steaks are 12-inch-thick, lengthwise cuts from the tenderloin. Broil, grill, panfry or microcook.

Turkey breast steaks are 12 - to 1inch thick crosswise cuts from the whole or half breast. The turkey breast also can be sliced crosswise into 4 - to 36 -inch thick, boneless pieces called turkey breast slices or cutlets. Use these portions as a substitute for boneless chicken breasts or veal cutlets. Broil thick pieces, panfry or microcook thick or thin

DRUMSTICKS

Economical drumsticks are available fresh, frozen and smoked. When cooked, the meat is ideal for recipes calling for diced cooked turkey, such as casseroles and salads. Braise, stew, roast or microcook.

THIGHS

All dark meat turkey thighs weigh 1 to 2 pounds each. Bone and stuff them or cook and use the meat in casseroles or salads. Braise, grill or microcook

WINGS

All white meat, a whole wing weighs 1 to 1 1/2 pounds Also avail-est part of the wing, that weigh about 8 ounces. Braise, stew or microcook

GROUND TURKEY

This mixture of dark and white meat is sold in 1-pound tubes. With less than 15 percent fat, it's an ideal substitute in recipes calling for lean ground meat

SPECIAL PRODUCTS

At the deli counter, look for turkey ham, bologna, salami and smoked link sausage You'll find frankfurters and breakfast turkey sausage in the able are wing drumettes, the meating meat or freezer case

Salem hits high gear, defeats Chiefs in final

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

And still champion - Plymouth

The Rocks left no doubt they deserved to keep the Western Lakes Activities Association girls basketball trophy Saturday night as they KO'd Plymouth Canton 57-42 to claim their third straight title.

In boosting its season record to 19-1. Salem started fast and raced to an 18-2 lead at the end of the first quar-

Dena Head, who has played on all three championship teams as have fellow seniors Keri McBride and Stacy Sovine, collected 21 of her gamehigh 26 points as the charged-up Rocks had the game well in hand by halftime, 35-16.

"I don't think we came prepared to play any differently than we normally do," Head said. "The lead doesn't say anything until the final seconds tick off.

This championship is great, but Thursday's game means a lot more,' she added. 'That game will be the test for our team.

SALEM AND the Chiefs, who have been the losers in each of the last three WLAA finals, will meet again at 7:30 p.m. Thursday when they square off in the first game of the Class A district tournament at Sa-

"Can't wait," said Canton coach Rob Neu. "We're delighted to get to play these guys again.

We'll look at the film, make our adjustments - and we'll come to

In retrospect, it's possible the decisive point in Saturday's game was the opening basket. McBride dropped in a three-pointer shortly after the opening bell, and the Rocks never looked back

That was a big score, because that put us back on our heels," Neu

girls basketball

IF THAT was a turning point, then the game was decided in the first quarter. Salem led 11-0 before Susan Ferko, who led Canton with 17 points, broke the ice with two free throws at 3:22

But Head converted a three-point play, Jill Estey drove the baseline for two and Head scored off the fast break to put the Rocks on top by 16 at the end

Being able to start like we did helped us for 32 minutes," Salem coach Fred Thomann said. "We put them in the position of playing catch-up, and that's a tough position to play from.

Salern's 2-3 zone defense was the biggest factor in establishing a lead for the Rocks

The Canton girls had trouble shooting over the combination Krug in the middle and either McBride, Sovine or Shelley Bohlen on the sides. The Chiefs were forced to shoot off balance, and Head and Estev were there to hassle them whenever they tried to put the ball on the floor in the post area.

"I THINK putting them in a position where it was really hard for them to score was a key for us," Thomann said. "I thought the kids had tremendous intensity tonight, especially at the defensive end.'

Canton didn't score a field goal until Ferko put back a rebound at 6:55 in the second quarter. The points came a little easier after that, but the Rocks were still too tough on defense, too efficient on offense and too far ahead

Because Salem shut the Chiefs off inside, Canton had to work the ball around more than usual. But that set up the Chiefs for some turnovers and left them vulnerable to the quick hands of Estey and Head on the per-

Neu said he thought the Chiefs, who have lost three times to Salem during a 15-5 season, played well once they recovered from the bad start, but credited the Rocks with playing at an even higher level.

"I won't take anything away from our kids, because I thought they played well, but Salem was outstanding," he said. "They did a nice job of using their athletic ability at the guards and height advantage in-

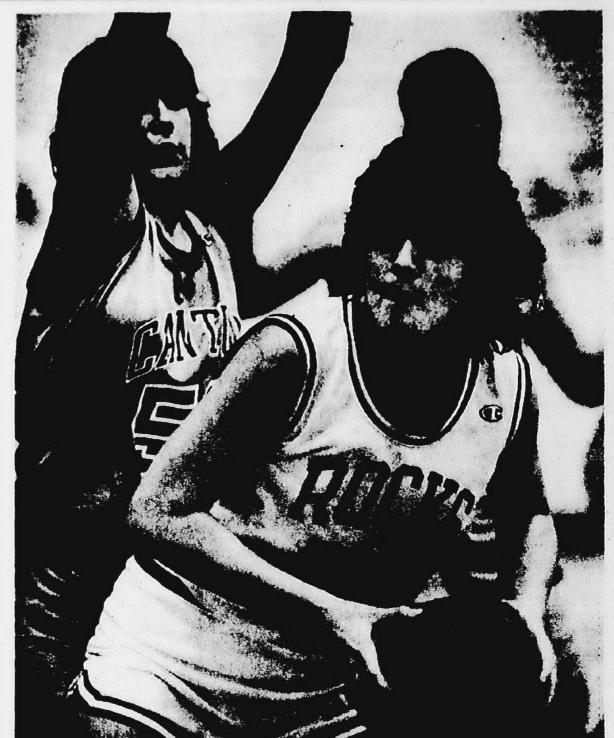

Canton got within 15 points (37-22) early in the second half on baskets by Candi Jones and Ferko and free throws by Boluch. But the Rocks, beginning with five points from Krug, scored the next seven and outpointed Canton 11-2 the rest of the quarter.

KRUG'S TWO field goals - one resulted in a three-point play came on offensive rebounds and were an example of Salem's alert play around the basket. The Rocks had some fast breaks, but most of their points were scored on second

"They're a team that doesn't allow many break opportunities," said Thomann of the Chiefs. "When that happens, you have to figure out other ways to get your points.

When something is not working, you have to find out what is, and the kids did a real fine job of doing that Estey added eight points for the Rocks, Krug and McBride seven apiece. Jones and Boluch, who was scoreless in the first half, had eight points each for Canton.

Churchill nips Chiefs to capture swim title

It was one of those rare competitions that actually pleased coaches from both teams.

Livonia Churchill proved to be the winner Thursday at Plymouth Canton in a showdown for the Western Division girls swimming title. The Chargers were hard-pressed to keep their dual-meet record perfect, edging the Chiefs 88-84.

It was a come-from-behind win for us," said Churchill coach Lawrence Hein. "We were down 10 points after the diving and Canton was ahead 72-70 going into the last

The Chargers won the meet - and the division title - by taking first and third in the final event, the 400yard freestyle relay. Jenifer Danner, Ann VandeLaare, Katie Hamann and Audra Martin teamed for the victory in 3:52.5. Canton was second in a school-record 3:54.4 and Churchill took third in 4:09.4.

BUT THE MEET may have turned in the Chargers' favor a few events earlier. In the 100 butterfly Hines opted to pull Martin, his best in the event, substituting Hamann in her place. Hamann helped make the switch work by winning the fly in

"It was a key change for us," explained Hein. "Martin usually swims the fly. Putting Katie in let us put Audra in the back. That gave us another win and kept Canton from going one-two on us in the 100 back-

Canton's twosome of Cassie Cummins and Jean McLenaghan in the back worried Hein. But Martin won the event in 1:03.17; Cummins was second in a school-record 1:03.9. Had Canton indeed swept the top two spots (McLenaghan took third), it would have won the meet.

MARTIN WAS one of two doublewinners in individual events for Churchill. She also captured the 200 individual medley (2:12.8). Cathy Ankenbrandt won both the 50 (26.47) and 100 free (58.63) for the Chargers.

Danielle Dickinson reaches the finish of the 50- time. The Chiefs came up four points shy in Nicole Drake won a pair for the Chiefs, taking the 200 (2:01.05) and 500 (5:14.72) free.

Churchill's Angie Neville won the 100 breast (1:13.01) and the Charger team of Beth Marcy, Neville, Lisa Roselle and Ankenbrandt were first in the 200 medley relay (2:02.05).

Canton's only other winner was Amy Van Buhler in the diving (178.05 points).

Chief coach Hooker Wellman was pleased with his team's performance in defeat. "The kids swam great times," he said. "Churchill maybe should have won by more. I'm looking forward to the league meet."

So is Hein. "I expect the league meet to be very competitive," he said. "North Farmington's ranked sixth in the state and has to be the

The Western Lakes Activities Association meet will start Wednesday with swimming preliminaries; diving prelims are Thursday. Finals for both will start at 7 p.m. Friday. Plymouth Salem will host all three

Shamrocks edge Sterling Heights

By Brad Emons staff writer

What's this, Air Mach?

Redford Catholic Central stumped the experts Saturday, taking a page out of former San Diego Charger coach Don Coryell's notebook, using the forward pass to beat previously unbeaten Sterling Heights for the Class A Region IV football championship, 10-7.

The win sets up Boys Bowl II, a confrontation between CC (10-1) and Birmingham Brother Rice (10-1) for the second time this season. (CC won the first meeting in double overtime, 10-7.) The two Catholic League rivals will meet in the state semifinals at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 21 at Walled Lake Central High School. Rice also advanced, winning the Region III crown with a 27-13 win over Grosse Pointe South.

CC coach Tom Mach, whose teams are known traditionally for their grinding offensive ground game, had other ideas against the massive Stallions defense as junior quarterback Scott Hauncher, in his best outing of the season, completed 12 of 23 passes for 133 yards and one touchdown.

"OUR PLAN was to go right at them like we do against everybody else," said Mach. "But if we're not having success at running the ball, we have other things we can go to."

The Shamrocks dominated statistically, running 55 plays to the host Stallions' 31. CC rolled up 253 yards total offense to Sterling Heights' 193.

But nearly half of those Sterling Heights yards came on one play, an 80-yard touchdown run by quarterback Chris Demetral with 6:59 left in the first half to give his team a 7-0 lead. (George Badalow added the extra point.)

Prior to that score, CC marched twice inside the Sterling Heights 10, only to come up empty. Pete Elesovic first missed a 30-yard field goal and then fullback Lee Krueger was stopped short of a first down on fourth-and-1.

But Elesovic later redeemed himself, kicking the game-winning field goal, a 19-yarder, with 4:31 left in

But the key series in the intense battle occurred just before halftime when Hauncher directed 78-yard TD drive in less than two minutes, completing five straight passes capped by a 9-yard scoring toss to Jeff Szajnecki with only 18 seconds left.

"IN THE FIRST HALF we played well, but we just didn't get the first downs when we needed it," said Mach, who led CC to the state title in 1979. "But that was one of the best last-minute drives I've ever seen at CC. Our quarterback showed tremendous poise, waiting and then hitting his secondary receiver.

"In order to keep on winning in the playoffs you've got to have that poise in key situations. This is only his second year of playing quarterback and he has a lot more confidence then he did in the early part of the season. He's played 11 games now and he's starting to see the whole field. He's reading the defenses much better."

Hauncher, faced with a crucial fourth-and-11 situation in the final quarter, connected with Johnston on a 17-yarder over the middle for a key first down, setting up Elezovic's game-winner.

But Hauncher didn't do it all himself, as CC's offensive line - Toby Heaton, Mike Firestone, Kurt Ross, Ted Rieple, Lou Yeager and Erik Knuth - provided more than adequate protection.

AND CC'S DEFENSE once again held up its end of the bargain, stopping the Stallions' last-ditch try for victory.

With less than three minutes to go, Demetral hit four of six passes, marching his team down to the CC

But the Shamrocks' right side of the line stopped Rich Pyszel on a sweep, 2 yards short of the first down marker on fourth-and-three with just over a minute remaining. "It was a quick pitch using our best blocker and best runner, all we needed was a first down," said Sterling Heights coach Bob Miles. "If I had to do it all over again I might have run something different."

"It was a good play, a surprise be-cause I anticipated a pass," said Mach. "They ran a good play, but our end normally reads that pretty

Every year it's the same thing. The Great Lakes Intercollegiate Ath letic Conference womens basketball coaches pick one team to win the title at their pre-season media meeting, and every year Saginaw Valley State upsets.

Once again, SVSU was chosen to finish second despite a 15-1 mark and a title a year ago, and even with four of their top six scorers back and a string of four consecutive titles. Lake Superior State was picked to (players). win the title at Monday's meeting in East Lansing.

Chosen to finish third was Grand Valley State, with Oakland University fourth, Northern Michigan fifth, Ferris State sixth, Hillsdale seventh, Wayne State eighth and Michigan Tech ninth.

SVSU coach Claudette Charney thinks she has the talent to repeat, especially if two Observerland players come through - 5-foot-9 sophomore guard Marie Becker (from Redford Union) and 5-8 freshman guard Jessica Handley (Plymouth

"Becker worked harder than anyone this summer," said Charney. She is really driven. She really loves the game.

Handley "will take very little time adjusting (to the college game). She's a strong, solid player and a good passer. I can see her as our point guard of the future.

Day, a 5-7 senior guard (Livonia Bentley), is a player "we hope we can count on for some quality minutes," Laker coach Mike Geary said. Day has averaged nearly four points a game in her career. Golen, a 5-7 freshman guard (Rochester), "is a very good shooter and a better ballhandler, than I thought," Geary said. "She'll be one of our top eight

At OU, Lichty, a 5-6 sophomore (Troy Zion Christian) who averaged 5.3 points last season, is scheduled as a starter at point guard, while Kosman, a 5-10 freshman (from Rochester Hills), could crack the starting lineup

Hillsdale coach Phyllis Cupp is counting on Handley, a 5-11 freshman guard (Livonia Ladywood), to contribute immediately. "She's a great all-around player and a team leader (already). And she plays good defense.

Wayne State coach Gary Bryce is trying to reconstruct his team after a disastrous 3-25 campaign (0-16 fr the GLIAC). Lubbe, a 5-10 junior forward, and Ladouceur (Ladywood), a 5-11 junior forward center, should help. Both started at Schoolcraft College last season and should start this year at WSU

Kowalski, a 5-9 sophomore (Livonia Stevenson) who led the Tartars in scoring last season (11.8 per game). would be the team's sixth player. Pedwaydon, a 5-8 sophomore (from are LSSU's Laurie Day and Jennifer Southfield), adds depth at forward.

Eagles crush Sacred Heart

Plymouth Christian Academy closed out its regular-season schedule with a 24-point victory over Bloomfield Hills Sacred Heart in girls basketball

Three players scored in double figures as the Eagles rolled up a first-half lead and coasted to a 59-35 win on the loser's floor.

Juniors Diane Benson and Shelly Oxley paced PCA with 16 and 13 points, respectively, and Elaine Priebe scored 11. Benson and Priebe also had seven rebounds apiece, and Priebe added four assists and four blocks.

The Eagles, 8-12 overall, outscored Sacred Heart by 11 in the second quarter and led 32-15 at halftime. PCA was 9-of-22 shooting free throws, the Janine Prelange, the floor leader for Sacred Heart, got in first-half foul trouble and went to the bench. Without her, her team was especially vulnerable to PCA's press, and the Eagles were able to steal the ball with great frequency and score easy baskets. Priebe sparked PCA's 19-point second quarter with eight points, and the Eagles were 7-of-12 at the line in that period.

PCA will play Lutheran Westland in a Class D district game Friday, Nov 20, at Taylor Baptist Park.

Light hand weights are a great benefit

Dear Myrna: I have been taking exercise classes for years. Finally, I've switched my aerobics to non-impact or low impact. I come to your studio. I especially enjoy your new high/low impact fat burner and high low impact intermediate class. I like the combination and variety of aerobics. Can you give me some information on using hand weights in such classes. How am I benefiting?

You definitely are gaining great benefit from using light (one- to two-pound) hand weights in a low impact class, both cardiovascular benefit and upper body muscle toning.

For the most part, in our normal every day routines (walking, climbing, stairs, etc.) we do not include enough upper body movement. You rarely will get upper body workout unless you seek it in an exercise class, or some type of upper body weight machines or free

One of the characteristics of low- or non-impact classes is the use of upper body to achieve full cardio workout. Movements of the arms, especially with weights, can elevate the cardiovascular load considerably without added stress to the legs.

For many people, keeping the arms active - with or without added weights (while legs are executing low-impact movements) - will elevate the heart rate to a target zone. In addition to the cardiovascular benefits, all of the arm, chest, shoulder and back movements contribute to stronger muscles and a toned appearance.

In my opinion, nothing looks more beautiful on a women than a pretty, well defined upper body.

If you have exercised for years, you may need to include light weights - hand held or wrist - in your workout to increase the cardiovascular load. Safety is the key here! It is important to start with a one-pound weight - maybe never increasing beyond one

With any arm or upper body motions, your movements must be done carefully to avoid injury. If movements are done too quickly, you will create a force and momentum that can take a limb beyond its normal range of motion in the joint. Repeated action of this may cause ligament, tendon and joint problems.

Thank you for complimenting our new class — high/low impact aerobics. We think the combo will be safe, interesting and fun. If the class description does not include weights, do not feel strange about using them anyway.

Let's not forget one of the most common questions: Will I build big muscles? The answer is no

While working with weights will help to increase muscle endurance, it will not produce large, bulky muscles. You develop bulk by lifting heavy weights for several repetitions, as in weight training or body building

In aerobics, the light weights will simply give your muscles more definition and your body lots more stamina.

Believe me, if you are up for it you will see a big difference. Have

Unlucky Ocelots hope for better

staff writer

Talk about ominous beginnings. Dave Bogataj has had his share as Schoolcraft College's mens basketball coach already

He was hired less than three weeks ago when former coach Bob Wetzel abruptly resigned. He has already lost two promising recruits, Andy Grazulis (from Westland John Glenn) and Joe Miskovich. Grazulis left after Wetzel quit, personal problems have sidelined Miskovich.

So Bogataj is just starting to get to know his players and their abilities; only now are his offensive and defensive concepts starting to sink in

And the season-opener was last Friday - on Friday the 13th.

'I'm not superstitious or anything," said Bogataj before his team's game against Flint Jordan in the Macomb CC Tip-Off Classic. 'I'm not going to be carrying a box of salt onto the floor

Maybe he should Just for luck. Because the Ocelots may need it, particularly early in the season

IN THE WEEKS ahead, the Ocelots will play both Detroit Jor-dan and Flint Jordan at home (Nov. 27 and 28) before going on the road for three straight at Kellogg CC Dec. 2, at Adrian College (vs. the junior varsity) Dec. 4 and at Owens Tech Dec. 5

'We'll be in perpetual motion, like water bugs. We're working hard to get into our offense quickly to get easy baskets, because we're not physically capable of jumping over people.'

- Dave Bogataj SC basketball coach

Nothing particularly foreboding about that, except the three-gamesin-four-days scheduling. After that, though, it gets serious

SC starts its Eastern Conference season Dec. 9 at home against Macomb, a team expected to challenge for the title. In the 10 days that follow, the Ocelots play every other title-hopeful, including defending regular-season champ Highland Park CC (Dec. 12) and conference playoff winner Oakland CC (Dec. 16).

With Mott CC next on Dec. 19, it seems that if Bogataj isn't certain of his team's strengths and weaknesses going into that stretch, he will be coming out abrini is well aware of his team's ahem shortcomings We're going to be short he said We have to be very conscious of the defensive boards and limit the other team to one shot.

BUT THAT'S only part of what SC must do to succeed according to Bogataj. "Shooting well and not turning the ball over are the two most important things for us to do," he said

Shooting and ballhandling are two of the Ocelots' strengths, with guards like 6-foot-1 Mike Sullivan (from Dearborn Divine Child), 6-2 Deon Frederick (Detroit MacKenzie) and 6-2 Steve Hawley (Westland John Glenn). They all shoot the ball real well," said Bogataj, "And they play well together. In the frontcourt, 6-4 Ladion Tate (Belleville) will man the power forward position. "He's a big, thick kid, an excellent board man who shoots well, Bogataj said

Brad Ridgeway (Farmington Harrison) is the team's 6-8 center. "His strength is his shot blocking," his coach said. He's got a good hook and jumps well, but he's inexperi-

Other players expected to get considerable playing time are Mark Claiborne, a 6-3 forward (Wayne Memorial) who Bogataj called "one of the best post-up people we have," and 6-4 Andy Stephens Plymouth Christian

basketball

INEXPERIENCE IS another problem facing Bogataj Sullivan is the team's only sophomore

Which - combined with the lack of time to install his system - adds to Bogataj's woes Fortunately. Chris Theodore Wetzel's and now Bogataj's assistant kept practices going while a new coach was found. and that has eased Bogataj's burden

SC will play "up-tempo. We have to just so (opponents) don't press us. We'll be in perpetual motion, like water bugs. We're working hard to get into our offense quickly to get easy baskets, because we're not physically capable of jumping over

On defense, the Ocelots will play mostly man-to-man. That's going to hurt us the first couple of games until the kids get it down," predicted Bogataj: "We'll play a lot of match up zone, too, and we'll do a lot of things to take away the post game

So what kind of team can SC be' With a new coach, new players and no time to mesh their talents, theirs will be a difficult road at best

Metroparks' candidates' goal: marketing

By Philip A. Sherman staff writer

A new executive director for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority will be chosen by the authority's board of commissioners from a list of six internal and three external

Their decision is expected at the board's Dec. 17 meeting.

The HCMA board Thursday interviewed internal candidates to replace outgoing director James Pompo. Pompo resigned and is expected to step down by next March. Each andidate was scheduled for a 20minute interview.

INTERNAL candidates interviewed were.

HCMA is a five-county agency operating 13 Metroparks, including Kensington, Stony Creek and Metro

BOARD MEMBERS asked candidates similar questions, including what new ideas they-would institute as director, what services the parks should offer by the year 2000 and whether they would make the region or an individual commissioner's needs their primary concern.

Overnight camping was prominent among new ideas several candidates said they would investigate.

A majority of the candidates also indicated the need for a stronger marketing program to promote the parks, programs and facilities.

All candidates said they would try to strike a compromise between needs of the the region and individual commissioners, but added the re-

OVERUTILIZATION was on the mind of Washtenaw County member Robert Marans, who asked pro-marketing candidates how they would maintain the quiet and solitude of the Metropark wooded areas.

Answers ranged from Sherman's, who said they would have to meet any expansion, to Burkeen's, whose strategy included programming the use of parks to meet seasonal and After the last interview, the board voted to ask Pompo and Oakland board member James Clarkson to pre-screen external candidates.

Pompo said he had eight applications but probably could disqualify all but three. The board decided to interview those three candidates in a special meeting at 10 a m. Dec. 3.

A THIRD motion was approved to stop accepting applications for the position as of 4 p.m. Friday, Nov. 20. When interviews are finished, the board will go into closed session to discuss the merits of each candidate. The new executive director will be

TV tunes

Everyday people turn rock-video stars

By Brian Lysaght staff writer

Harold Dickson wants to be a rappin' superstar. 'I've been rappin' since I'm 16. Now I'm 18. I really wanna make it to the top," he said.

He writes his own words. His songs speak of "streets, girls and love," he said.

Dickson spoke a moment after he had cut his first video. The project took all of one-half hour. It cost him $30, which he plunked down because he wanted a video to show somebody - talent scouts or agents in the music business.

He went to Unique Televison at Northland Mall in Southfield to make the video.

The project began when he recorded his words on top of a UTV beat track of bass and drums. With the audio tape made, he moved to UTV's video studio, where he mouthed the words of the audio recording while a camera rolled.

TWO STORES IN metro Detroit - UTV and Guest Artist Recording and Video Studios in Farmington Hills - are bringing music video production to the masses. They took production out of Hollywood and into the shopping mall and made it affordable. Granted, these videos won't make the one-gloved man look bad, and they aren't Steven Spielberg productions.

But they are relatively easy and

If they can't carry a tune? No problem, said Rott. Store employees can turn up music and echo to bury the vocal track.

UTV opened two months ago at Northland Mall. Two partners, one an engineer, the other a business expert, call the project an experiment that has gone well so far. They declined to give their name for this story, saying it might jeopardize their daytime corporate

The store has 1,200 musical tracks, including rock, country, pop, gospel and big band tunes. But UTV has been deluged by the rappers like Harold Dickson.

It appears that the women are into singing stuff, and the guys are into rap," said one of the owners, who added that Detroit is one of the rap capitals of the world. UTV responded with three rap tracks which vary in rhythm from fast to medium to slow. Unlike the singers, the rappers record their own words to the music track.

Detroit is also the gospel capital of the world, and many gospel and individual singers record there. Some groups bring their own music tapes and do only the video.

UTV IS SET UP to have fun though, so anyone can come in to make a video, said manager Sandra Campbell.

"It's like singing in the shower," Campbell said. "Everyone sings in

Finnish hospitality can knock tourists down to the carpet

By Iris Sanderson Jones special writer

There is something about staying in Seppa Summanen's hotel in Pieksamaki, Finland, that gives me a mild hangover.

It may be lying face down on the carpet drinking champagne under the table with flowers, candles and small Finnish and American flags around me. (Read on: This is not quite what it seems.)

Maybe it's the jellied vodka eaten with a spoon or the shot glass of Koskenkorva, a vodka-like drink sold only in Finland. Seppa's rule is that you must drink one glass of Koskenkorva with every crayfish, and the crayfish are small.

Whatever it is, I am in exactly the right place for a cure: the sauna. Not with Mr. Summanen, of course. The

Finns don't sauna coed except as a family

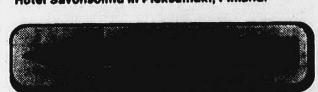

SEPPA SUMMANEN is the general manager of the Hotel Savonsolmu in Pieksamaki, in the lake district of Finland, four hours by train northeast of Helsinki. You've probably never heard of Pieksamaki unless you are one of the thousands of Finnish families that emigrated from Finland to Michigan, or unless you tap your toes to that popular Finnish song "Blues on the Pieksamaki Railroad Station."

Most Americans touch down briefly in Helsinki on the Baltic Sea to the south or in Lapland, land of the midnight sun and the reindeer to the north. But very few go where the Finns and other Europeans go, to the huge network of lakes in the middle.

Those who travel on Finnair tours may stop briefly at Hameenlinna, Tampere or Jyvaskla in the western lake district or at Savonlinna or Kuopio in the eastern lake

It was a summer job in a restaurant in Joensuu that lured Seppa into the hospitality industry and sent him to restaurant hotel school in Helsinki. He has been with Sokos Hotels, one of the top hotel chains in Finland, since those early days and in the Hotel Savonsolmu for HOTEL SAVONSOLMU is a beautiful two-story hotel on a small peninsula that juts into Lake Pieksajarvi. From the air you see it with water on both sides and a town of 14,000 radiating behind it. When you walk into the large lobby of the hotel you see stairs curving up through the dining room to the second floor. There is nothing to indicate that this hotel is any different from any hotel that serves business and vacation guests.

The rooms are large, modern, with that simple good taste for which Scandinavia is famous, and with large windows overlooking one side of the lake or the other.

Even when you meet Seppa, medium height, rounded by his own good food, blond like so many Finns, there is nothing in his gentle, courteous manner to indicate the fiercely funny sense of humor that drives him to serve dessert and coffee under the table when the spirit moves:him.

All Finnish hotels do some small programs for their group guests, but Seppa and his staff pride themselves on really crazy programs, perfectly adapted to the environment. Only the meeting planner knows what is going to happen next.

My husband and I had only a casual warning, a small aside issued with the dinner invitation.

"You will be surprised," Seppa said. "But I heard you have a sense of humor."

WE MET in the bar dressed in our best togs and were led upstairs to a small room: drapes drawn, table beautifully set: flowers, candles, tiny Finnish and American flags, wine glasses, vodka glasses and a rosy-colored aperitif in a shallow-stemmed glass at each place.

We sat down, admiring the table. Our host stood, raised his glass and shouted, "Welcome to Finland!" His assistants, Terttu Repo and Lilu Nissinen, followed one by one with, "Welcome to Finland!"

We leaped to our feet, shouting, "A toast to Finland!" and raised our aperitif. We tipped it, and tipped it some more, but nothing came out of the glass. The aperitif was jellied solid and could only be eaten with a spoon. I brought the recipe home: equal parts of vodka and Polar liqueur (or any liqueur) stiffened with gelatin.

WHEN WE wandered back to the dining room for dessert and coffee, we were surprised to see all the chairs had been removed. Our dining table was bare except for a blue tablecloth that hung to the floor.

"We Finns like to drink too much, and we always end up under the table," Lilu began. Tertu lifted the tablecloth and added, "So we might as well start under the

The next night crayfish season was in full swing in the dining room, and the annual beauty contest was taking place in the pool next to the disco downstairs. The following night, a Saturday, the traditional Savo Buffet was served before the band began to play.

If you have dinner with Seppa and his gang you should never assume there is nothing else to follow. You may find yourself 100 yards from the hotel at the tip of the peninsula playing a guitar around the campfire.

THERE IS more, of course. A ride on a train they keep only for tourists. A tent sauna on the beach. One day we even found ourselves flying high in the ultralight plane. And just in case we thought it was all an illusion, there was that moment on the Finnair flight from Helsinki to New York.

We had just regaled our seat mate with stories of Pieksamaki when the flight attendant announced, "will Mr. and Mrs. Jones please identify themselves - I have a bottle of champagne that was sent to the plane for Rollin', rollin', rollin'. Get those doggies rock 'n' rolling.

It doesn't take a crack of the whip to get Last Cavalry in full throttle. This five-man band plays like it was the last show before the Alamo.

Last Cavalry produces a spirited brand of country 'n' westernish rock n' roll that would knock John Wayne off his saddle.

Some would call it cow punk or stagecoach punk Drummer Dave Youngquist prefers to call it "tumbleweed thrash

LAST CAVALRY'S music has all the needed elements for a good country twang. Their original material contains plenty of references to whiskey, women and trains.

THE ROOTSY tunes began to appeal to them. Little did they know rock with a country edge would become fashionable as bands such as the Replacements, the BoDeans and the Brandos have taken the same route with relative success.

Instead, the only thing people might find daft are Burns' stage an-

He firmly embraces the axiom: Have wireless mike, will travel.

During one of Last Cavalry's highenergy numbers, Burns can be found in numerous places, least of which is the stage. He likes to run into the audience and, at times, share a table with some of patrons as he sings.

Burns, after placing his Budweiser down, tears into the first song as if he's warning all of Texas of an oncoming Apache raid.

Most of the show is original music. There's also some hybrid renditions of country classics such as "Folsom Prison," ("I'm a big Johnny Cash fan," said Youngquist.) "16 Tons," and "Ruby."

THE BAND'S musical objective is to take the roots of country and put a spike on them. The Nashville sound has become slick, they believe and, as a result, a bit bland.

They're appeal is wide range. New music afficionados like them because they're fast, and the average rock'n'roll devotee can appreciate the raw edge to their music.

CLOUD NINE - George Harrison

Former Beatle George Harrison is back and stronger than he's been in years with the bouncy, hook-filled 'Cloud Nine," his first album in five

The riveting 11-song set, which features old friends Ringo Starr, Eric Clapton and Elton John, may even return a hearty dose of respect to Harrison, who in recent years has become the Rodney Dangerfield of

After all, snickers and side comments have unfairly accompanied nearly every album he's released since 1973's chart-topping "Living in the Material World." It became almost fashionable to be a Harrison-

That kind of thinking should subside with one listen to "Cloud Nine," di-produced with ELO's Jeff Lynne.

There is something for everyone.
• On the blues-flavored title track, which opens side one, Harrison and Clapton duel away on slide guitar. Following is the catchy, pop-tex-tured "That's What It Takes," a solid bet to be released as a single.

For Beatle purists, "When We Was Fab" is like taking a magical trip back in time to the days of backward tapes and sound snippets. Ringo even plays on drums. It sounds like an updated "I Am the Walrus."

And for those who think George lost his rhythm, there are punchy poppers: "Fish on the Sand," the single "Got My Mind Set on You,"
"Wreck of the Hesperus" and "Devils Radio," a scorching rocker featuring George on his Beatle Gretsch guitar (which he's holding on the album cover).

On the downside are makeovers of two songs that should have been left on the "Shanghai Surprise" sound-track scrapheap, "Someplace Else" and "Breath Away from Heaven."

Frustrated Harrison loyalists should be thrilled with this album. Those not familiar with his work shouldn't be in a hurry to dismiss it solely on past foibles.

If you are a Beatles/Harrison fan, "Cloud Nine" is recommended listening. It is a good album worth much more than a sarcastic giggle.

. . . NOTHING LIKE THE SUN — Sting

It's A-OK. Someone can put away the safety net.

If anyone was poised for a fall, it would've been Sting. With the dreaded second-album curse coupled with his going with the same format, this could've been a failure.

Once again, the former Police vocalist and bassist has defied the odds and come through with flying colors on the jazz scale with "... Nothing Like the Sun."

DUTCHMAN'S

— Walter Brennan

GOLD

And you thought the real Walter Brennan was the one you saw on the television show "The Real McCoys."

To fully understand the complex nature of the true Walter "Way Out Wally" Brennan, listen to the man's music (if you want to call it that). On vinyl, "Dutchman's Gold" is where Brennan comes to grips with the man under the worn brown leather

Bruce Springsteen, Bono and John Cougar Mellencamp would be hard pressed to skim the depths of their own personal experiences and bring to light their true feelings in the lyrical fashion of Brennan.

"I'm a little older, but a whole lot wiser," says Brennan in an ode to farm life. "My wife says I'm an old miser/Miss the smell of . . . fertiliz-

Gosh, even Bob Dylan might be a tad envious in how Brennan was able to get to the heart of the matter in times, he's the optimist searching for

One couldn't help but detect cynicism, though. Brennan seems to be grappling with the complexity of life and what it all means. Says Brennan (in song No. 2). "The sun comes up The sun goes down The hands on the clock keep goin' around I just get up and it's time to lay down. Life gits tee-jus, don't it?" And if a tear doesn't well up in your eye when Brennan tells the heart-wrenching story about his pooch, "Shep," dying, why you're probably not even human.

No one can weave a story like Brennan, though, in that voice which shrills for emphasis like he just sat on a tack. Every vivid line is repeated in helium-induced vocals by a backup group, sort of like the Mousketeers backing Elmer Pudd.

"The Dutchman" is definitely a classic. A cracked classic, perhaps, but a classic nonetheless.

GUEST ARTIST RECORDING and video studios opened two years ago as an audio recording studio. The Rotts are veteran professional musicians. She began recording for Decca Records under the name Vicky Carol when she was 17. They played together for several years, he as bandleader and she as singer.

Guest Artist has two small audio recording rooms. A third room with camera mounted on the wall functions as video and audio recording studio. Carol Rott added the video service a few months ago to meet demand. The idea for the place came to her because she wanted to put her music experience to use, and when friends told her of a small recording store at Universal Studios in California.

She said her customers record for different reasons, but they often come back. Businessmen record on their lunch hour. Parents bring their kids in.

"The public created more ideas than I had originally imagined," said Rott, 48, who lives with her husband and four children in Farmington

A WOMAN ONCE came in and cut a "Dear John" letter, Rott said. Guest Artist also does demo tapes for models, actors and singers.

"The video gets in where they don't," Rott said.

She counsels customers to pick a familiar song. The store can adjust a song's key to fit a singer's voice and offers advice if requested.

Though it's not quite the real thing, people can see that the recording business isn't as easy as it seems, Rott said. A one-song video runs $19.95. Add

$5 for an additional cassette tape. A one-song cassette tape is $9.95, a two-song cassette is $17.95. The cassette tapes can be played in a car stereo, and the videotape in the VCR at home. A touch of bravado might help the recording artist, said Rott, who has seen more than a few customers squirm at first sight of their video.

"I think you have to like yourself. Not too many people are comfortable seeing themselves."

I want cheap. Equity shmequity. I'm not embarrassed to say it. It's transportation, not a home. Paint? Why? In metro Detroit, home of metal-eating salt, it will hiss and bubble like Efferdent after one sea-SOD ADYWAY.

Can such a car, sleds to some, "economy-minded, entry-level trans-portation" to others, still be purchased without much ado?

Absolutely. Despite the auto industry's preoccupation with cars that talk, tires that rival the grip of Velcro and stereo systems that outclass many home units, a sampling of area car dealers indicates they know their market and stockpile to please.

TAKE THE VW Beetle, granddaddy of the stripped-to-go genre. Out of production now for a decade, it's been replaced by the Fox, said Tim Sullivan, general manager of Tom Sullivan Volkswagen in Southfield.

Unlike it's cantaloupe-shaped predecessor, the Fox is a sleek sedan that carries several features as standard equipment. A basic Fox, Sullivan said. Includes a rear-window defogger, reclining velour seats, fourspeed stick, carpeting, front-wheel drive and the same water-cooled engine found in more expensive models. Sullivan said this one has a base price of $5,990.

"Demand has overridden supply,"

No frills cars still a hot option

Sullivan said, adding he has between 30 and 40 orders to fill at any given time for the Brazilian-made car

For $5 more the Pontiac LeMans becomes available, said John Tournaud, sales manager of Shelton Pontiac Buick in Rochester. Tournaud said the new LeMans replaces Pontiac's T-1000 and also includes nowstandard, formerly optional features such as front-wheel drive, carpeting and a cloth interior

Everything you need — and nothing else — can be found in the sportan interior of this stripped-down Ford Escort.

'We can't keep them in stock.' Tournaud said.

FOR A FEW dollars more, specifically another $4, you can put a little Iacocca in your life and a cigar in the ashtray of an Omni American. Bill Steckel, sales manager of Chrysler Crestwood Dodge in Garden City, said the $5,999 car "was supposed to be eliminated from the fleet but was brought back because it's a virtual sellout."

A standard package on the Omni includes a rear-window defroster. remote control exterior driver's mirror, time-delay windshield wipers, a rear-window wiper and tinted glass. The successor to the Pinto, Escort has front-wheel drive, carpeting and cloth seats that used to be considered optional equipment, Schriber said. The Escort also includes semistyled wheels a cargo-area cover and a cigarette lighter.

OF COURSE, no-frills is a relative term. Stripped to some people means a stereo with only two speakers. But you'll notice a sun roof isn't standard on any of these cars.

And it's the only piece of equipment not standard on the Spur, the Rolls Royce entry-level car.

What is standard? It starts with air. climate control, stereo; power windows, seats, mirrors and door locks: a leather interior; automatic transmission, and it's made by hand, said Joe Stewart, sales manager for Don Massey Cadillac in Pymouth, which also sells Roll Royce.

All for just $110,000. Too much? Then try the Bentley, which sports the same equipment, is made by Rolls "but is not as prestigious as a Rolls, Stewart said.

Some tips for that first job interview

st sight

I'm one of many college seniors hoping to have a job lined up by December ready and waiting for me when I graduate in May. Could you give me some basic simple tips I would't forget even in the throes of a nervous collapse as I face my first job, important job that is, interview. T.B., Northville

First of all, all job interviews are important since they give you experience in interviewing. Interview with every recruiter that comes on your campus just for the experience. Plus you will be more relaxed when you know the job is not the ultimate one you are looking for.

You are putting yourself under un-due pressure with the feeling you have to have a job ready and waiting when you graduate in May. That will make interviewing difficult for you. Relax, give yourself a break. The right job will turn up. Take the interviewing routine as part of your education not an appearance before a

Here are some basic tips. Follow these and your appearance will be

Greet the interviewes by name as you enter the office. If necessary, check the pronunciation, with the receptionist. Unless you are looking for a job in sales, shake hands only if the interviewer makes the first move. If you are looking for a sales position, assertiveness is part of the job, so you will be expected to offer your hand immediately.

Wait to sit down until a chair is offered and never sit down before your interviewer has been seated. Don't smoke, regardless of what your interviewer does.

Do your homework and know as much as possible about the company you want to work for so that you can ask an intelligent question or two. Be definite about the job you're after.

Am I required to send a thank-you note to the campus interviewers? I've been going through so many in-terviews lately I haven't been keeping up with the 24-hour rule. B.W., Royal Oak

Send a thank-you note to an interviewer within 24 hours if you want to work for that company. If you're interviewing only for practice with some companies then don't feel obligated unless you feel you need to practice writing thank-you notes.

Example of simple and proper note: "I found our interview informative and encouraging. It was profitable for me to hear your comments on the plans for WS&S Sons. I know I will be an asset to your company and hope I am seriously considered as a candidate for the position we discussed. Your company's reputation for quality and the pride in association of everyone I met increased my enthusiasm to join the company. I'm looking forward to hearing from

Dear Joan: I hear so much about getting ahead in the '80s, how to be aggressive in office politics, how to know your esemies, what's right and what's wrong in office politics, that I'm downright confused. I have an MBA from Harvard, but I don't feel prepared to face some of the con-flicts I hear take place in corporations today. Am I being naive about how business operates? K.M., Birmingham

Don't be frightened by this quote Malcolm Forbes Jr. recently made to the Detroit Economics Club: "There is only one thing that will beat an MBA from Harvard, and that is nepotism."

It is true competition is rough, and the ways of getting ahead are not easy. That is motivation for many young people to start their own businesses, because they don't want to play political games within a large corporation, preferring to spend their energies on promoting their own product if they have a timely

You might be a candidate for entrepreneurship. Check over carefully your interests and ideas on what kind of work you want to be doing five years after graduation. The payoff for you might just be your own business.

On the other hand, if you have a relative who owns a business listed in Fortune 500, then go forth with MBA from Harvard in hand and without trepidation in your heart.

8-tracks untracked

By Wayne Peak staff writer

Whatever happened to eight-track tapes any-

Prerecorded tapes passed vinyl LPs in consumer preference a few years back, but it was cassette tapes that led the way. Eight-tracks are nowhere to be found on industry sales charts.

But if you (and your record collection) came of age in the early 1970s, there probably are a few eight-tracks still sitting in your closet, dust-covered and unplayed for years.

Let's say you dug them out and thought you'd sell them to raise money for a new CD player. Think there's a market? Think again.

There's not much demand for old eight-track tapes in western Wayne County.

"When we first opened up, we sold a lot of them, but we haven't sold any in a long while," said Carol Garbus, owner of Desirable Discs, Garden City. "Demand seemed to dry up all at once."

THERE ISN'T much demand in Oakland County either.

"There's no market in this area," said Alan Kovan, owner of Play It Again Records, Southfield. "We get phone calls from time to time, and we usually direct people to the east side or downriver. There's still some folks with eight-track players there."

On the other hand, let's say you finally got your dad to sell you his '74 Dodge Polaris (you know, the road monster with the power plant under the hood), and you'd like nothing better than to pop the new Springsteen album in its eight-track deck while tooling down Telegraph. Think it's available?

"I'd say we stopped stocking eight-tracks around 1984," said Fred DeCoopman, a buyer for the 23-store Harmony House chain, Troy. "Manufacturers stopped making them, and the market just dried up. I guess the same thing will eventually happen to LPs."

Not much chance of having an eight-track player installed in your '87 Audi either.

"I don't think we've even had a request in a year or so," said Pete Constantakis, manager of Cartunes Stereo Center, Westland. "All the manufacturers we deal with stopped making them. Nowadays, you can get a CD player that will store up to 12 discs at a time for your car. I guess no one wants to bother with eight-track."

EIGHT-TRACKS were supposed to provide the last word in portable, personal stereo. But despite a few years of heavy sales in the early 1970s, the rectangular cartridges never really caught on with the public.

Here's a few reasons people didn't like eight tracks

 Unlike continuous cassettes, eight-tracks were divided into four programs. Tapes would change programs, often with a loud thud, right in the middle of long pieces of music. "A lot of the problem was that some of the players were noisy," DeCoopman said.

 Worn tapes would "bleed", meaning audible parts of one song would appear at strange and mysterious times in the middle of another song.

● Tapes jammed frequently and were subject to "highway crunch." Unwound eight-tracks once rivaled beer cans as a roadside eyesore. "Eight-tracks had a lot more trouble tracking than cassettes," DeCoopman said.

• Inferior bootleg copies of popular tapes appeared at numerous roadside locations with alarming regularity. And bootlegs contributed nothing to artist or record industry coffers. According to industry legend, none other than Jerry Lee Lewis himself once visited a few bootleg-selling truck stops, baseball bat in hand, to let them know what he thought of their sales policy.

Even through a low-budget car stereo system, eight-tracks tended to sound flatter and muddier than cassette tapes. "Cassettes have much better sound quality, much better sonic range." DeCoopman said. "Plus there's now compacts discs as well."

What to do with those old eight-tracks? Keep them. After all, probably they're a part of your past that transcends mere monetary value.

Some classics on 8-track

Another generation had its 78 rpm records; ours has eight-track tapes. Today both forms are more valuable for the memories, not the music, they hold.

Here are a few eight-track tapes I'd listen to today (if only I could find my old player).

• "Stardust," various artists. — This is the double eight-track soundtrack of a British movie that featured pop star David Essex, Larry "J.R." Hagman and Ringo Starr. Never saw the movie, but the soundtrack is pretty good. Half contains early-'60s U.S. rock, Del Shannon's "Hats Off to Larry" springs to mind; half contains copycat versions by the Stray Cats — not the '80s revival band but a madefor-the-movie group with Essex and Who drummer Keith Moon. Never saw it as an LP, either.

• "In Concert, 1973 Anniversary Show" — Confession time: I bootlegged this one myself. Taped it right off the radio, when it was simulcast with the old late-night TV show. Quite a party too, with the J. Geils Band, turning in a nastier version of "First I Look at the Purse" that graces the "Full House" LP. It also included Mott the Hoople's "All the Way from Memphis," an ad mentioning the Who's just-released "Quadrophenia" and this benediction from host Sly Stone: "I don't know ya, but I'm learnin' to love ya as time passes." Don't bust me, music police, I lost the tape a long time ago.

● "The Sound of Elegance," various artists,
— My dad got the brand-new luxury car. This made-for-GM tape was my end of the deal.
Duke Ellington's on it, Chet Atkins, too. And there's lots and lots of strings. Great (though sadly unused) make-out music. Dad sold the luxury car just after I got my license.

Only a few die-hards cling to their eight-track tape systems — an inferior form of audio tape that didn't stand the test of time.

Don't bet on Beta

By Kevin Brown staff writer

If you own a Beta video recorder, maybe you beta think about switching to a more popular VIS model

That's what most VCR and tape rental dealers say, as VHS continues to take over the market. Even Beta owners are admitting the format is on its way out.

Still, Beta is the better-quality format, most video fans say. And if you seldom rent movies — now mostly in VHS — your Beta system can now mostly in VHS — your Beta system car survive quite nicely in a VHS world.

 Opinions vary on just how long Beta will sur

Fred Friedman, a buyer for Fretter Superstores based in Livonia, won't say the format is

"Let me be a little more blunt — it's dead," he said. "We buried it as a company about 12 months ago."

Why?

"There were no sales in it." Friedman said. "Only certain manufacturers like Toshiba, Sanyo and Sony are turning out Beta machines, but only in the high (price) end.

"On top of all that, software (prerecorded video cassettes in Beta) has stopped."

BUT OTHERS say it's premature to report the death of Beta video technology. Because if Beta is deceased, a formidable living-dead legion of Beta VCRs and rental tapes haunts several area rental stores and dealer showrooms.

Still, some larger metro Detroit video rental outlets, including the Blockbuster Video chain.

no longer carry Beta tapes.

"We do VHS only," said Steve Eckersley, a Blockbuster Video assistant manager. Beta tapes "are few and far between," he said, adding "about 3 to 4 percent" of his customers ask for Beta.

"It's really a small number," he said, "even though Beta's the better format."

So why is Beta failing? Sony, which developed Beta, charged licensing fees considered too high by other video machine manufacturers and prerecorded movie makers, say several local video dealers. This sparked the development of the VHS format.

Others maintain that rival VCR makers only sought to avoid paying licensing fees to Sony, so they came up with a different system. VHS

"Sony priced themselves right out of the market," Eckersley said.

"VHS did a better job of marketing." Friedman said, "through ads, and better prices." Yet, he said Beta "really was a good system."

PHYSICALLY, the systems differ in size and how tape travels past playback-record heads. Beta tape passes by heads as audio cassette tape does, while VHS tape passes around heads in a "W" configuration. Beta tape cassettes are also smaller, as are Beta VCRs.

Local video fans differ on the relative quality of the two systems. Some say improvements in VHS technology make it Beta's equal, others maintain Beta is best.

John Watson, owner of Uptown Video in Rochester, said that while most customers choose VHS, "there's a noticeable difference between the two." Beta is the better-quality format, he said, adding it's the format preferred by TV stations.

"That was probably true four years ago but VHS has certainly caught up," said Gerry Dervish, owner of Troy Video. He quit carrying Beta tapes six years ago.

Dervish recalled a dealer demonstration of VHS vs. Beta which he attended.

"Even our Beta expert couldn't tell the difference," he said.

BUT BETA backers beg to differ.

nal-to-noise ratios, and more, he said.

"I'm an electrical engineer," said Joe Case of Rochester Hills, to explain why he prefers Beta.

leta.
Why is VHS second best?

"The numbers just aren't there," he said. That is, numbers of lines of resolution that make the Beta video image sharper, better sig-

Case, who also owns a VHS machine, said he doesn't rent movies often. "If I do I just play them on my laser disc player and record them on my Beta machine," he said. "The stuff that I go for is high-resolution stuff."

Of the apparent demise of the Beta format, Case said, "The mass market is not concerned with high quality. The market just doesn't care. . . . I just don't see it (Beta) living too much longer."

Rene Aquilina, a computer systems analyst with Texas Instruments in Livonia, bought his second Beta recorder two years ago.

"I'm an electrical engineer by trade; I usually like state-of-the-art equipment," he said, especially Beta sound quality.

Aquilina says he mainly uses his Beta VCR to tape TV programs, although he occasionally rents movies.

"You have to be selective in the places you go to," he said. Aquilina said he patronizes a Discount Video chain store in Livonia, which still carries Beta tapes.

AS SOME tape rental stores bail out on Beta, other dealers see an opportunity to fill a void.

"We specialize in Beta; we have more (tapes) now than we ever had," said Joel Savela, manager of Network Video in Troy. "Forty-five percent of our business is Beta and growing," he said.

Savela acknowledges that more movies are available in VHS, but said most major films can be found in Beta.

"There's so many people that bought Beta recorders over the last five years, it would be almost insane to ston making them almost insane to stop making them.

"I find it (Beta) to be better quality than any VHS I've had. Most of our customers swear they have better pictures with less problems."

Still, Savela said "it's hard to say" what the future holds for Beta technology. He predicts Beta will be around for at least the next five

Meanwhile, some video fans and retailers predict that eight-millimeter video, used in portable video cameras, could some day succeed VHS as the dominant VCR format.

Stay tuned.

T IS WISE to select window treatments early in room planning, not when the project is nearly finished. This is because it is best to begin with the largest element in any room, walls, floors and windows. From there, move to large furnishings, then smaller pieces and accessories. This results in better coordination.

That's ideal if you are starting from scratch, but if you are redecorating you do not have all that freedom. Often the question then becomes "What kind of window treatment with X style of furnishings?" Unless you are doing a restoration, don't wor-

Deeply ruffled tie-back draperies are country French in feeling but they are a nice surprise in an eelectic setting. Vertical and miniblinds were introduced for a contemporary look. Either can be used by themselves. It is much more stylish to give your windows a layered look, i.e. curtains with tie backs, tie backs with miniblinds, shutters, wood slat blinds or verticals.

A simple dacron curtain with a deep hem (12 inches) takes on an important air. Add an overlay of lace or insertion of lace and the curtain becomes that much more important.

WHILE I LOVE decorating windows, there are instances when I say leave them perfectly bare. Why? The view. If you have a spectacular view, you have probably paid for it. I say enjoy it. Try a large tree or plant in an interesting container on either end of the window.

The vast majority of people feel glass is a cold, unfriendly surface. During the day the view eliminates that feeling. At night, the unfriendly feeling settles in. If you are one of those people, cover the window. But in doing so, remember to extend far enough beyond the window so that your treatment will clear the glass when you want the view. If you are using a shade, make sure you are far enough above the window to house your shade and clear the glass.

If you have a need for noise control, if you can hear the noise from the street or your neighbors, fabries and wood are like sponges when it comes to sound. They absorb it.

In covering your window, always think of the look from the outside in. Never use color that is seen from the street.

THE DESIGNER look is "in" in bedding. Matching or correlating sheets, pillow cases, shams and comforters are all available.

I saw an interesting color combination at J.C. Penney at Northland. The background of the sheet and matching accessories was putty color. It had a mini print of marine blue and brown running through it. The top sheet had a wide border of the print. Looking at the top sheet, a drapery treatment came to mind. The sheet with the border railroaded — several joined together — would become a valance 18 inches deep over full-length tie-back draperies of the mini print. This is an inexpensive and fashionable way to treat your bedroom. Remember, you must line your sheet when it becomes your drapery.

Q.With a full-time career, housework is getting me down. It's so repetitive and I feel I can never win. Am I the only failure around?

A. No. You certainly aren't. In fact, a feeling of failure is a universal problem for today's women — especially mothers. There are far too many reasons to list in the space allowed here, but let's touch on a cou-

First, by whose standards are you a failure? You mother's? (Circumstances were different for her.) Your friends or relatives? (Do you see their homes during normal living or do you only compare yourself to their prepared guest conditions?) How about TV and advertising? (Homes on TV shows are only stage sets. Surely you don't believe everyone lives like that all the time. And advertising is designed to make you feel guilty for not living up to the goals of the advertised product.)

My own philosophy is that order equals serenity but perfection is a waste of time. In other words, so long as things are in reasonable order, it's OK to have a little dust in the corners.

After you've considered your standards carefully realize the importance of planning. Help your family understand your frustrations and enlist their cooperation. If there are four of you, remind them that all of you working just 15 minutes a day can accomplish what it takes you an hour to do alone. Then involve the family in dividing up chores according to who will most probably accomplish the prescribed tasks (or on a rotation system) and set aside specific times daily for each to do their work.

A touch of old Charleston in community's midst

By Corinne Abatt staff writer

HEN DOES new construction look like charming historical renovation? Is there such a thing as unintentionally fabricating a city's history? Millcreek Building Co. and architect Ronald Mayotte & Associates of Troy may have inadvertently created a past for Birmingham that it never had.

They've just completed three townhouses on Henrietta south of Brown and once the landscaping settles in and the snow edges the roofs, they'll look like they've been there for a generation.

Mayotte said he was after a "New Orleans French Quarter feeling" when he designed the residences of mottled beige brick with lots of wrought iron trim, balconies, interior courtyards and arched doorways.

THE LOT SIZE was a challenge. Each is about 43 feet wide and 122 feet deep. Each townhouse is about 2,500 square feet with a gracious great room, approximately 26-by-18½ feet, with a fireplace and three sets of French doors opening onto a spacious deck. The foyer is generous as is the kitchen nook and powder room. Upstairs is a large master suite and two more bedrooms connected by a second full bath. The third bedroom, facing Henrietta, has two sets of French doors opening on to small balconies could easily be used as a library or upstairs sitting room.

It is the privacy, convenience, large spaces, beautiful detailing inside and out which makes these homes so charming.

Bill Saracino who, with his brother-in-law, Michael Guerra, organized the Troy-based Millcreek Building Co., about 10 years ago, said he is building three similar townhouses in Bloomfield Township and will be doing more in Birmingham as well. He said, "This was built on spec and sold when it was a hole in the ground."

The workmanship on the inside as well as the outside is done to suggest the elegance of a Charleston townhouse. Well, whether it's South Carolina or Mississippi, the idea is to combine quality and appealing style with contemporary convenience and materials.

And the townhouses do what Mayotte said he visualized from day-one, "something comfortable that would blend into the neighborhood."

The living room (above) has three sets of French doors opening onto a spacious deck. At the left is a drawing of an interior courtyard that comes with each unit.
