The last Mass at St. John's Provincial Seminary ends as bishops, and faculty members file out of the church.

Seminary is closing, but still not sold

staff writer

The Archdiocese of Detroit apparently isn't much closer to selling the St. John's Provincial Seminary property in Plymouth Township now than when its closing was announced more than a year ago.

All but a small maintenance crew is expected to be out of the 175-acre complex at Five Mile and Sheldon roads by summer's end.

The official explanation from the archdiocese is that the property, owned by the Catholic bishops of Michigan, has not been sold yet although offers have been received.

'We hope it soon will be," said Brenda Marshall, spokeswoman for the archdiocese. "We don't have a list of people we're reaching or excluding. We're looking at all reasonable offers." She declined to be more

"The latest information I had was the archdiocese was looking at having a land planner evaluate what the most appropriate use is," Anulewicz said. "There hasn't been anything presented to me upfront that's much different than a year ago.'

Cable rule could alter programs

By Doug Funke staff writer

Syndicated exclusivity programming rules established by the Federal Communications Commission could cause some headaches for cable subscribers and operators like Omnicom of Michigan, which services Plymouth and Canton.

The rules would require cable operators to black out programs on distant broadcast signals at the request of broadcasters with local rights to those same programs.

For instance, WXON-TV (Channel 20), which has syndication rights to "Leave it to Beaver" in the Detroit market, could force Omnicom to black out the program locally on WTBS whenever the superstation airs it.

The rules would take effect next year - unless the National Cable Television Association mounts a successful legal challenge.

ONLY BROADCAST stations like WTBS (Atlanta), WGN (Chicago) and WOR (New York) would be affected. The rules wouldn't apply to networks like Nickelodeon and Frederick Collman, Omnicom's general manager, said he doesn't anticipate that many subscribers would cancel service as a result of the ruling.

"You probably aren't a cable subscriber to get old TV," he said. We're only talking two channels (WTBS and WGN) perhaps will be affected." Collman figures only a couple of hours of daily programming would be blacked out or replaced with alternative offerings by Omnicom as a result of the ruling. Still, customers and suppliers would have to make some adjustments, he conceded.

"I'm upset because there's a potential for having holes. No cable operator likes to show blank channels to a subscriber. Nothing aggravates my customers more now than blackouts," he said.

"MY CONCERN is one of perception of my customers - somehow it's my fault," Collman said. "On one hand, impact isn't great. On the other hand, it will be aggra-

The National Cable Television Association says it plans to challenge the FCC's ruling in court.

People whose favorite programs disappear will be angered and bewildered," said James P. Mooney, NCTA president. Wealthy broadcasters will be able to warehouse programs, while less wealthy broadcasters will see their program costs skyrocket.

The basis for a lawsuit is that federal legislation enacted in 1984 doesn't allow for regulation of cable programming content, said Lynn McReynolds, public affairs director for the NCTA.

"The FCC has a theory if we impose the rule, consumers will be better off in the long run with more variety of programs," she said. "The FCC is very free market.

"It's great to be philosophical. We have to deal with what people want on a day-to-day basis. People don't react well to things taken away from them," McReynolds

Area advocates for people with disabilities are making history with a video they plan to market statewide, and maybe nationwide.

'You Can Vote" was filmed in Plymouth Township and Lansing this week by the League of Women Voters of Michigan. Funding the enterprise is a $75,000 grant from the Michigan Developmental Disabilities Council.

"The goal is to do voter education across the state with the developmentally disabled," said the Neva Carter of the League. Carter is a group home provider with Enhance Inc.

Of the $75,000 available, $6,000 is going for the video. Money also is being spent to educate and

"THERE ARE a number of other initiatives going on nationwide encouraging people to vote. But we wanted to try to have something more organized, expanding the franchise to other people. What better non-partisan group is there for doing voter education than the League?' Elaine Miller, 30, was among the volunteer actors who spent most of Monday demonstrating the voting process on a makeshift set in Plymouth Township Hall.

Miller, who is developmentally disabled and lives in her own apartment in Melvindale, actually was warming up for November, when she will vote for the first time.

"I think it's important for you to get some experience and find out what voting is," she said. "I know (the developmentally disabled) would like to vote. This will be my first time, and I think I can pull this through. It's nice to vote for different people. I'd like to vote for a good president."

Electing candidates who don't keep promises "is like throwing something away," added Miller,

ry weather is ripe for brush fires

By Doug Funke staff writer

Unusually dry weather conditions coupled with moderate winds have made conditions ripe for brush fires especially along railroad tracks and freeway medians.

Firefighters from Plymouth Township, the city of Plymouth and Northville Township Monday spent more than two hours battling a fire along the railroad tracks south of Five Mile between Sheldon and Ridge roads.

About 15 acres burned, said Larry Groth, Plymouth Township fire chief. All regular firefighters in both Plymouth departments were called out to douse the flames, Groth said. No one was injured.

A Detroit Edison crew working be hind the Western Wayne Correctional Facility saw sparks and smoke coming from wheels of a passing train before the fire was reported,

FIREFIGHTERS started at both ends of the blaze and worked toward the middle. They took just over two hours to extinguish the fire, Groth prevent trains from igniting brush

Last week, a brush fire, which Groth also suspects was ignited by a train, caused $1,000 damage to a factory in the township.

People going about their daily lives also should be conscious of the dangers of brush fires during sultry, dry weather conditions, Groth said

"WE STILL see residents wanting to burn trash," he said, adding that open burning is forbidden by both township and county ordinance.

"He's not going to burn near the house. He's going to go to a back corner. There, you have the potential for tall grass," Groth said.

Smokers casually flicking cigarettes out car windows can cause fires in grassy freeway medians, Groth said. Also, specks of hot ash could end up in the back seat and smoulder for a while before engulfing the vehicle in flames.

Brush fires started by barbecues are almost unheard of in the township, Groth said, but outdoor chefs should still be careful.

Neither Dunn, nor the five volunteers who work in the Plymouth branch, receive pay for the services they give to cancer patients and their families. According to Dunn, the reward comes from "alleviating the stress" of these clients.

"IT SEEMS to be uplifting to them to know they can get help," Dunn said.

The Plymouth branch office, 173 N. Main, is open 1-3 p.m. weekdays (phone 453-3010). It is one of several local offices staffed by volunteers who answer phone calls, give referrals for service, distribute literature and handle other choices.

who want to help," said Dunn, noting that some are former cancer patients. "You don't have to have any skills other than wanting to help. We always need volunteers. Dunn said many people confuse the Michigan Cancer Foundation with its better-known counterpart, the American Cancer Society. Although the groups do work together, there are some differences.

THE AMERICAN Cancer Society is a national organization with headquarters in New York. Its main focus is public and professional education about cancer, its risks, methods of prevention and fund-raising. It allocates money to many organizations, such as Michigan Cancer Foundation, for research.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation is headquartered in Detroit and funded by the Torch Drive/United Way. Its thrust is cancer research. The organization also provides services to patients who need transportation, special supplies, therapy and

In addition, the foundation operates a breast cancer detection center, offers telephone reassurance and distributes literature. All money raised by those organizations remain in Michigan, with 88 percent of the donations earmarked for research and services, according to cancer foundation literature.

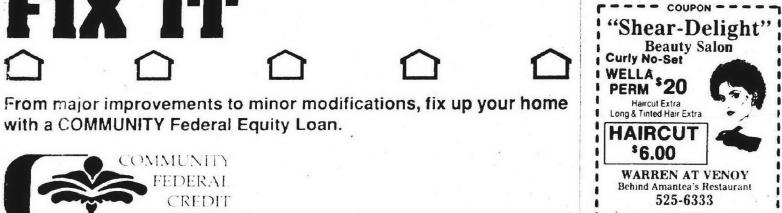

"THIS IS possible because of the volunteers," Dunn said. "We're grateful and thankful to have those volunteers."

Dunn enjoys reading, swimming, tennis and stencilling during her spare time. She believes it is important to strike a balance between her responsibilities and her free time.

Her volunteer spirit is so strong that she's picked her next recipient of unpaid service, the Our Lady of Providence School for mentally impaired girls in Northville.

In the meantime, she's convinced she and the other Michigan Cancer Foundation volunteers are providing a vital service.

"Cancer is something that does affect people," Dunn said. "It's a reality of life. Sooner or later something (illness) affects every family. If I can be there (to help) it's worthwhile.'

Former students said after the Mass they don't think they'll find the same sort of environment at any other institution. Mary Lou Van Antwerp has been a

The Michigan Humane Society is planning to break ground on its new Westland animal shelter Aug.

The $2.5 million complex will replace the aging, 17-year-old shelter and veterinary hospital on Marquette east of Newburgh. The new facility should be ready for occupancy by early 1990, said David Wills. Humane Society executive director.

A fund-raising campaign to help pay for the new facility, which serves western Wayne County, began last Wednesday. Plans for the expansion were announced in No-

'We're hoping to get about $300,000 from corporate contributions, but the bulk of our support will most likely come from private pledges over a two-year period," Wills said. "We have thousands of donors who contribute in the $17-$20 range and that's really what does it for us."

Kathy Blauet, Westland shelter manager, said pledge cards will be available at the shelter or by calling the Humane Society office downtown, 872-3400

THE CURRENT shelter is too small to tend to the more than 14,000 dogs, cats, rabbits and other animals from Plymouth and Can-

Wayne County communities that demand services each year, according to Blauet

The new building, to be built adjacent to the current site, will increase the available space from 6,000 to 20,000 square feet. It will be a "state-of-the-art" facility, Wills said.

The building will feature separate rooms for dogs and cats, each with its own ventilation system, and a wildlife room for horses and other large animals, which occasionally require shelter Separate facilities to treat animals with contagious diseases are also planned

With the lack of adequate ventilation we work with now, it's very diseases throughout the building. Blauet said

She said the current facility was designed "more as an office building with kennels than an animal shelter." The larger space will include dog runs so animals can be exercised properly, she said.

In addition to upgrading the ani-mal facilities, Wills said the new shelter has been designed with human education in mind. "It will be set up for walking tours by students and other groups," she said. "We'd like to be able to bring in kids from all over and also work with science centers from around the country.

By the time Warren Jahnke of Southfield turned 56 years of age in 1978, poor health had forced him to quit his job as director of special education for Oak Park schools after 32 years as an educator.

In the years since, Jahnke has been confined to a wheelchair, suffering from multiple sclerosis (MS), a chronic, progressive disease of the central nervous system that impairs coordination and, at its worst, can render victims helpless

This weekend, Jahnke's nephew and godson, Rick McQuade of Plymouth, plans to raise more than $8,000 in the name of his uncle and the estimated 15,000 others in Michigan who suffer from the potentially devastating disease

For the third consecutive year, McQuade, 42, is riding in the annual, 150-mile bike tour hosted by the Michigan Chapter of the MS Society, a two-day fund-raising event that begins in Schoolcraft College in Livonia and ends in Jackson. Proceeds from the event assist victims of the disease and is used for research.

McQuade's family, friends, and business associates at Ford Motor Co. where he works pledge set sums for every mile of the ride he completes. Based on previous years, they will pay the full amount.

"THE FIRST year (of the race) I raised $3,500. Last year I raised $7,500. This year it will be well over $8,000." McQuade said. He has already collected $6,000.

At least one county commissioner says she believes Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara's call for a new jail tax will be heeded, but others aren't so sure.

"I won't support it, but I expect it will pass," said commissioner Susan Heintz, R-Northville Township.

"I just don't think the way to go about solving this problem is to raise taxes," she said. "But I imagine I'd be in the minority. I'd imagine there might only be one other vote against

This is what a new 1 mill jail tax would buy, over time, according to the Wayne County Executive's office. The new tax money would be used to build a jail for misdemeanor offenders and felony suspects awaiting trial, expand the current jall and add space at the county youth home. Voters may decide the issue during the Aug. 2 primary election.

Though McNamara has supported privately built and operated jails, he said privatization "isn't considered an option at this time." McNamara, however, didn't rule out private jails as a long-term option.

Six months ago, McNamara sought to balance the county budget and eliminate past county debt without raising property taxes. At that time, he succeeded in getting the state Legislature to adopt a variety of revenue-raising measures, ranging from a cigarette tax increase to a new surcharge on parking at the county airport. This time, however, McNamara said the cupboard was bare with regard to tax increase al-

No school tax-reform plan on primary ballot

staff writer

Don't expect a school tax-reform proposal on the Aug. 2 ballot.

The state Senate declined last Thursday to take up a House proposal passed Wednesday to place a sales tax increase property tax cut before cut voters. Deadline for Senate action was Friday

The whole debate was on suspension of the rules," said Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills. "Democrats moved to have the rules suspended so we could take it up under messages from the House Republicans were against that

Senate Republicans were miffed that the House waited until one tion. working day before the deadline to pass their version of a complicated proposal that includes amending several sections of the state constitution and passing a long list of laws

THE IRONY was that the Senate acted first, in mid-March. It passed Senate Joint Resolution K proposing a sales tax increase and property tax

The measure returned by the House Wednesday was its 15th substitute for SJR K

It called for raising the sales tax to 6 percent from 4, cutting school operating property taxes by 8 mills. and raising total revenues by $500

Rep. Lyn Bankes, R-Livonia, was pleased that the Senate set aside ac-

We had a holiday Monday (Memorial Day). I got a copy (of the House plan) Tuesday and was up until 2 in the morning reading and trying to understand it," she said.

LIKE MANY lawmakers from districts with high business tax bases. Bankes saw no advantage and only harm to her home school district.

The immediate effect would have been to cut Livonia's resources from $4,500 to $4,059 per student - an automatic first year loss of $400 per

This (House plan) would have allowed them (school districts) to vote 4 mills more for five years. Livonia would have had to ask more millage. So the long-range reduction for taxpavers would have have been only 4 mills, not 8

The sales tax increase would not have been deductible from federal and state income taxes (as property taxes are)," Bankes said. "Right now the average homestead property tax rebate, for those who get rebates, in Livonia is $488. That would pretty much be done.

'So in Livonia it's a property tax wash with a sales tax increase.

Rep. Maxine Berman. D-Southfield, voted against the measure, saying it would have cost her district $2 million Berman also invoked a constitutional privilege to have her remarks printed in the House Jour-

GOV. JAMES Blanchard invited senators to a breakfast meeting Thursday to discuss tax reform plans, but only a handful reportedly showed up.

Blanchard wants any tax reform plan on the Aug. 2 primary ballot because his pet project, an $800 million environmental bond issue, is being aimed for the Nov. 8 ballot.

Conventional political wisdom holds that if too many money issues are on the ballot, all will be rejected by voters.

Senate Republicans were miffed that the House waited until one working day before the deadline to pass their version of a complicated proposal.

A contract with a developer for county-owned land in Northville Township is expected to be signed by Dec. 1, according to sources in the Wayne County Executive's office.

By then, a developer's contract should be "signed, sealed and delivered" for the 1,040-acre site, said Robert Wisler, communications director for the county Jobs and Economic Development Department.

Construction would begin with the next construction season." Wisler said, adding a March-April 1989 date

Sources close to the project said a

Instead, development would generally proceed as previously discussed with light industry and condominiums or houses sharing space on the property at Five Mile and Beck

"I KNOW Northville Township has expressed interest in light industry," Wisler said. "And there would probably be residential as well."

viewed by corporation counsel - the county legal office - and county purchasing department before being submitted to the county commission.

Commissioners would also have to approve any development chitract. A golf course under consideration for the site has apparently been scrapped. "That was one developer's propos-al," Wisler said. "That doesn't mean there's going to be one.

At this point, the county still seeks joint development agreement. Such an agreement would allow a developer or developers to build on the site, while contributing annual royalty fees to the county. It would be similar to an agreement between Schoolcraft College and a private contractor on the Seven Mile Crossing office complex in Livonia.

Outright land sale, however. wouldn't be ruled out "if the right offer were to come along"

THOUGH MARKET conditions may fluctuate, the county estimates the land is worth at least $23 million. At one time, the site housed a home for mentally impaired adults and the Wayne County Training School for troubled juveniles. Developing the property has been a goal of the McNamara Administration since it took office in January

Time to live without override

SIDENTS OF THE Plymouth-Canton Community Schools have voiced their opinion three times since February 1987 in higher property taxes for education. The answer in each case was a resounding no. And if history is any indication, the latest remest to increase property taxes will be met with

Reluctantly we are recommending a no vote, the Headlee override in the Monday school

The residents of the community have spoken, is time for the school district to live within its budget without asking homeowners to pay even more in property taxes.

We are aware that the school district is receiving almost $5 million less in state aid during the

And we know a no vote on the override will result in some serious cutbacks in personnel and services, including the loss of 49 teachers and the introduction of participation fees.

But the educational process will go on and teachers, administrators and students will have to come up with some creative ways to retain educational excellence in the district.

BASED ON the previous votes and the fact that 15 people are running for the board of education, it appears the schools have done little to convince residents of the dire need for more cash and the relationship between more money and a

Maybe-people are just fed up with high property taxes in general or don't have children in chool. Perhaps they feel their tax dollars are not ieing well-spent in the classroom.

Whatever the reason, the school district will just have to learn to live with what the community is willing to spend.

However, this likely no vote on the Headlee override should be turned into a positive oppor-

And we are not talking about the same members of parent/teacher organizations and other typical school support groups.

Let's open up the school system to all members of the community including senior citizens. residents without children in the schools and the business community.

These people could be tapped to provide leadership and possibly come up with some ways to make a lean budget go further.

AND MAYBE by including residents in the decison-making process, the schools could restore some faith in the community that could translate into support for future tax proposals.

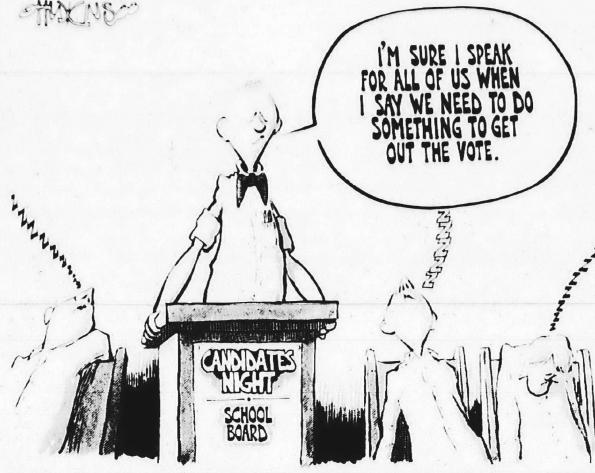

As it stands now, the only time the residents are asked to make a decision about schools is through requests for more tax dollars.

And that hasn't worked.

A year with this lean budget should convince school officials about the need for better communication. Residents can then take stock in the district to see if additional money might be needed for educational services.

The district has done little to open up what one school board candidate called a "closed society."

A no vote should force school officials to take another look at how they serve the entire com-

from our readers

Vote yes on-Headlee

To the editor

We are writing to state publicly our support for the Headlee waiver and to urge our fellow citizens of Plymouth and Canton to join in support of increased taxes for educa-

Our children are our greatest treasures. There is no better investment than their education

It is true the administration of the Plymouth-Canton schools has not been perfect, but no business and no household is run perfectly either. More taxes are needed for improved teacher-student ratios and the most up-to-date textbooks and teaching materials.

Our two children, now young adults, were educated in the Plymouth-Canton Schools. We found teaching that was good to excellent and school personnel generally sensitive to individual needs.

We want to continue to support the best possible education for children of our community. While money alone doesn't guarantee excellent education, without adequate money excellent education is not possible.

We intend to vote "yes" on June 13 and hope a majority of our fellow citizens do likewise.

Sandra and Doug McClennen, Plymouth

Quality needs a yes vote

To the editor:

It's time that the people who care about the long-term good name of the Plymouth-Canton community, who worry about the effect of image and property values and who want to show honest concern for children get out and vote yes for the upcoming Headlee rollback.

The naysayers dominate the newsprint because such anti-tax populism always draws head nods. Many would like to believe that our community is nicely upscale — perhaps not Birmingham or even Ann Arbor but close. The reality is that a community is not measured by antique stores or friendly festivals but by some more fundamental qualities ment service especially. It is with real concern that I write this letter when I see that we are 29th in per-pupil spending in Wayne County and are going to drop significantly if this millage change fails.

schools, churches and govern-

There are two popular notions at odds here: The first is that government bodies are necessarily wasteful and inefficient and the second is that 'you get what you pay for." I believe that the first statement is untrue insofar as the Plymouth-Canton School District is concerned. There have been some errors of judgment in dollars spent, perhaps, but given the size of the system and budget these are minor. My two children completed virtually their entire education here, and the education which they received was excellent. However, there has been a perceptible downward trend recently with class sizes increasing, some extra opportunities foregone, a tarnishing of the qualities which attracted all of our residents.

This leaves us with the second notion. As crass as it may sound, it is essentially true. Each of you knows that when you look at a home, or a car, or medical service, this notion affects your final decision. When I realized that this district spends less dollars per student than some communities in which I generally would avoid living, I am frightened. As my youngest daughter graduates from high school, I breathe a little sigh.

Those thousands of you with school-age children who will not vote or who vote no to save less than one dollar a day (and some of that is taxdeductible) are being at least foolish. certainly short-sighted, and - forgive me - probably just plain stupid. If you stay at home while the negative voices get out to vote, you have failed your children's future. Those of you without children owe your community a vote for quality, for saving property values, for protecting our image. Please vote quality on June 13 — vote yes.

Douglass V. Koch,

Vote no on override

To the editor:

The Plymouth-Canton School Board will be having another election on June 13 to override the Headlee Amendment in order to obtain more tax dollars from property owners to balance the school budget for the coming school year. The board claims that despite a reduction of some $4 million in the budget for the coming year there will still remain a shortfall. This condition, they claim, is the result of the state of Michigan progressively reducing the state allocation.

When my school tax bill has been running over $200 a month and would reach nearly $240 a month if the override to the Headlee Amendment is passed I rebel and say that this is got to stop.

The group to pressure is the state Legislature to restore the former funding to the school district.

The state is now proposing to ease the property owners school tax bills by increasing the sales tax from 4 percent to 6 percent and allocating larger amounts to the school districts. They are seeking an additional $500 million from the sales tax increase

Would Plymouth-Canton receive its appropriate share of this tax increase? Remember how the state lottery was to solve the school financing problem? It didn't, did it. Write your state representative and senator to vote against the proposed increase in sales tax.

And vote "no" on the school board Headlee override on June 13.

Peter Serchanski, Plymouth

Responsible vote a must

To the editor:

I would like to respond to a recent letter to the editor which demanded a return to the essentials of education in the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools and, at the same time, demanded the removal from the curriculum of things deemed not greatest philosophers of education, addressed this issue back in 1916 when he wrote "Democracy and Education." He said that a democratic society is particularly dependent for its maintenance upon the formation of a course of study of things which are broadly human. Democracy cannot flourish where the notion that the essentials of education are the three R's mechanically treated. That idea is based on the ignorance of the essentials needed for the understanding of democratic ideals.

Dewey also maintained that curriculum content must take into account the adaptation of studies to the needs of the existing community life. Subjects must be selected with the intention of improving the life we live in common so that the future will be better than the past. This means essentials first, refinements second - not essentials first, no refinements.

Education must be socially responsible. We need to grow beyond basics. Let's not vote down the fine comprehensive schools which we have established in the Plymouth-Canton community

> Elaine R. Bain. Plymouth

Students say OK override

To the editor:

As the head of the student government here at the high school, the C.E.P. Executive Forum would like to express its support for the Headlee override. We feel that the education of the students is very important, and we are concerned that the taxpayers and voters do not realize what the consequences would be if the override fails

The most impact will come with an increase in class size resulting from the release of 49 teachers. This automatically lowers educational quality a notch, especially when there will be no new textbooks with which to teach these classes.

All sports and extracurricular activities, an important part of most students' educational experience. will be affected by the pay-to-play policy. Large cuts will be taken by C.E.P. security and the attendance office, and the alternative education department, better known as Growth Works, will be eliminated. Also, once a program or department is cut it costs more money to bring it back later then to sustain it now.

To respond to the people who don't support the override, we would like to stay away from emotional pleas and instead present the situation logically. Many say that the voters have already expressed their opinion in previous elections by voting "no," but at the time did the voters really know what they were voting for?

Very little publicity preceded those elections, as can be seen by the poor turnout and the resulting "no" vote. The truth is, the school system is not asking for any more money than they are getting now; even with the override they will be getting less than they are now, and some cuts will still have to be made.

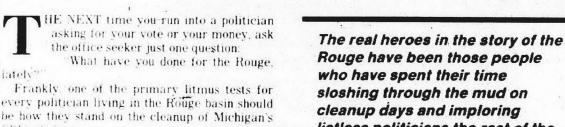

The reason for this is that when property values go up, state funding for the school district goes down, and we need the extra tax money to make up the difference. The schools are not asking for more money than

June hoofs opening of shows

What with June bustin' out all over, the general pulse of the equestrian world hereabouts has begun to quicken in anticipation of Michigan's foremost competitive attractions, the annual Motor City and Detroit Horse Shows at the Bloomfield Open

In the span from Wednesday, June 15, through Sunday, June 26, the nation's best jumpers, hunters and riders will be in action, and for some their eyes will be on the potential of Olympic gold.

If you will permit a flashback to the 1984 Olympic Games at Los Angeles, it can be recalled that the saddlesmith who won the individual jumping championship was Joe Fargis, of Petersburg, Va., who had captured the leading rider award at BOH the summer before.

What's more, the horse Joe took over the jumps to Olympic victory was Touch Of Class, a bay mare which he rode to second place in the North American Grand Prix here. It may well be that the 1988 successors at Seoul, both rider and horse, will be from these ranks again.

A MAN DIED in our neighborhood recently. He might have been an older man, but I'm not sure of his age. My wife says she thinks she waved to him once or twice as she took a walk. He lived just across the street and two doors down. I can't say that I ever met him

Imagine that. I don't think we are unfriendly people, my wife and I. We like to talk and socialize with other folks. We chose our home partly because it looked like it was in a nice neighborhood with the types of people we would like to know

Our assumption has proved to be true. One neighbor's daughter regularly baby-sits our child. Another, recognizing a mechanical illiterate when he sees one, keeps my lawnmower humming.

BUT AFTER three years in the neighborhood, there are a lot of people we don't know at all and others we know only fleetingly. The schedule is just too crowded. The obligations of two jobs, parenthood, household tasks, civic organizations, family gatherings and previous friendships take their toll.

On that rare night when nothing is on the calendar, the thought of exploring the neighborhood takes second place to the chance of enjoying our family and the home we work so hard to maintain.

We are not alone in this. The couple across the street should be our best friends. They moved in at almost the same time as we and their first child arrived six months after ours. We talk and we are cordial, but his work week often includes every weeknight and Saturdays. Sundays belong to his family.

We had dinner with them recently and had a grand time. But we met by accident when we randomly arrived at the same restaurant.

Imagine that.

THIS IS NOT the way we grew up. I lived in a small northern Michigan town where the people not only knew each other but often had grown up with each other and usually could walk to work when they chose Summer weekends usually turned into neighborhood-wide barbecues. There might have been planning and invitations, but I never was aware of it. It just happened. That was the neighborhood social life.

In my new home, we sometimes have neighborhood meetings and for those who show up, a number of introductions are always necessary. Imagine that

IT IS not this way everywhere in the land of suburban commuters I know of many close-knit neighborhoods where they can still spot a strange car the way my mother could as she peered out the kitchen window. "Whose car is that, Ed?" she would ask my dad, and she would warily watch until she was sure no mischief was afoot. There never

Students at Central study Rouge River's problems

By Julie Brown staff writer

TUDENTS AT Central Middle School know that getting involved can make a differ-

Although cleaning up the Rouge River isn't an easy task, those students know that their involvement will have an impact

"It's having an immediate effect and will have a long-term effect,' said Jim Murray, director of public works for Wayne County and president of the Friends of the Rouge.

'Government can't solve the prob lems." Murray said. It's up to residents to work together to see that the river gets cleaned up.

'They're sending a message around the whole Great Lakes basin, that they count and can make a difference. They're going to make our society better by understanding these problems now," Murray said of the students

The Friends of the Rouge group is a volunteer agency dedicated to cleaning up the river. On Wednesday, June 1, the Friends of the Rouge and Central Middle School held a "Rouge River Day" at the school in Plymouth

THE DAY'S activities included a number of speakers who met with students and staff at Central. Those speakers included government officials, educators, business people, Friends of the Rouge members and nial Educational Park. Students from a social studies class and an ecology class at Plymouth Salem High School shared their knowledge with the younger students.

The high school students talked basically about cleaning the Rouge, and how students should get involved," said Mike Miller, a Plymouth Salem sophomore.

Miller was among CEP students who helped clean up Willow Creek at the high school site

'We found a lot of weird things." Some of the CEP students did a survey in the Plymouth-Canton community, asking residents about the Rouge River. The students found widespread support for efforts to clean up the river, Miller said, but not for tax increases to finance cleanup efforts.

Making a difference means a lot to Elaine Bain. "I really believe that everybody makes a difference," said Bain, a Plymouth Township resident. "It doesn't matter who you are.'

It's up to people to choose the ways in which they want to make a difference.

"You have to support your community.

Bain, 43, has chosen to get involved in a number of organizations. She's the new president of the Plymouth Community Arts Council and will serve a two-year term.

"I think the arts council program is wonderful, obviously." During the past year, she coordinated awards and grants programs for the council. She started out by volunteering to Bain is an active member of the Plymouth branch, American Association of University Women. When she lived in Livonia, she was involved in the Livonia AAUW, serving as newsletter editor.

Bain's involvement in the Plymouth AAUW includes work on the book sale and on the scholarship committee

She's a graduate student at Eastern Michigan University, working on a master's degree in reading. "And I'm having a wonderful time." She'll be halfway through the master's program at the end of June. Bain was a bit nervous about starting graduate school at EMU, but that apprehension disappeared quickly. "It's just a matter of juggling your schedule around. I think going to school is fun, I really do.'

Bain works as a professional tutor at Schoolcraft College. She plans to teach a class at Schoolcraft this fall on effective reading.

"I think that's going to be fun."

Then from Philadelphia, we made our move to Michigan." The Bains have lived in Livonia and in Plymouth Township. Donald Bain is a financial systems expert with the Ford Motor Co.

The Bains have three children: Alex, a fifth grader at Bird Elementary School; Bruce, a sixth grader at West Middle School; and Elizabeth, a ninth grader at Plymouth Salem High School.

Before their children were born, Elaine Bain did some substitute teaching in the Livonia schools and in Plymouth. She'd like to find a fulltime job teaching middle school social studies or English.

The CEP students have found some people their age are interested in cleaning up the river.

It depends," said Steve Burlison, a Plymouth Salem sophomore. "It depends on what kind of person you

JIM MURRAY, the Friends of the Rouge president, has found that students are interested in the Rouge River cleanup and in other issues:

They're very caring, understanding and thoughtful." The concerns students have mirror those of their parents and communities.

They ask the same questions and they have the same concerns." Murray said. Students have questions about prisons, poverty, roads and the environment

During the day at Central, the Friends of the Rouge members did some recruiting for the third annual Rouge Rescue, held Saturday, June

We're finding widespread community interest, widespread support," Murray said

People he's talked with agree the river needs to be cleaned up, although they're not sure just what should be done

Derek Schwartz, an eighth grader at Central Middle School, has some ideas about how to clean up the river. He'd use cranes and other heavy equipment in cleaning up the river. and would wear protective clothing.

Schwartz supports efforts to clean up the river but isn't sure those efforts will have much of an impact

They've still got all the pollutants and stuff going into the river."
Classmate Dave Honsinger agreed

the river's in bad shape.
"It makes me sick," said Honsinger, an eighth grader. If he were cleaning up the river, he'd be sure to wear rubber gloves.

THE RECENT "Rouge River Day" was part of an ongoing school project on the Rouge River. Students in all grades at Central have participated in a variety of classroom activities related to the river and the cleanup efforts

Dave Honsinger and Derek Schwartz are members of a social studies class at Central, in that class, students worked on political cartoons related to the Rouge River theme

"There's just so much going on, said Earl Harrington, a social studies and English teacher at Central. He teaches the eighth grade class in which students worked on political cartoons; in Harrington's seventh grade English class, students worked on a newspaper based on the Rouge River theme

Last fall, educators at Central saw a presentation done by the Friends of the Rouge, Harrington said That session led to classroom brainstorming sessions and to the recent "Rouge River Day" at the school.

"The main purpose is information for the kids." The day was designed to make students more aware of the problems associated with the river and efforts to clean it up

They have some pretty good ideas," Harrington said of the Central

Studying the Rouge River cleanup fits in with history instruction, he

'Here you've got a resource there and what are you doing?" For some of the Central students, the river runs by their homes

It's something that's going to af fect them. Harrington said. The students will be able to vote in a few years, they can follow legislators' positions and vote as they see fit It's history that they can do something about

'It's history that they can do something about.

Michigan's BPW honoree has a winning attitude

A positive attitude and desire to learn are winning traits.

And they describe Marsha L. Olsen. 26, this year's winner of the Young Career Woman program for the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club Inc. (BPW)

I always strive to achieve positions where I can learn something new which will make me a more valuable employee," said Olsen, a Garden City-BPW chapter mem-

The most important aspect in all future goals, I feel, is to be open minded," she said.

OLSEN OF Farmington Hills

said the competition forced her to define future goals and learn about issues facing women.

I hadn't thought where I wanted to be 10 years from now," Olsen said. "It forced me to think about my career, and what I'm doing to get there

Olsen is a 1979 graduate of Garden City West High School and received her bachelor's degree in business administration in 1983 from Adrian College. She also served as the first woman president of the Garden City Jaycees in Olsen won the local chapter and District 9 competitions of the Young Career Woman program. The district includes chapters in Garden City, Plymouth, Canton, Northville, Wayne and Detroit.

She joined 11 other women from various districts in the state competition last month in Marquette, said Marilyn Alimpich, Young Career Woman chairman for the Michigan federation and Plymouth BPW chapter member.

Olsen gave a speech based on a platform she would take if she were running for president of the U.S. in 1996.

"Individuals, not government should control economic, spiritual and political destinies," she said.

Membership in BPW also taught Olsen about issues facing women.

'There's a lot of prejudice in the work-world still," Olsen said. "The group is very supportive for me. It's great to belong and do things with them."

"There's a lot of networking opportunities," said Olsen, a marketing assistant with Entertainment Publications Inc.

"And participation with other people has made me more aware of issues affecting women," Olsen said. "These women are working on issues that are going to affect women my age."

OLSEN IS headed in July for the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Inc convention in Albuquerque, N.M., honoring state winners for their accomplishments, Alimpich

The Young Career competitions are designed for women 21 to 30, honoring them for career and personal accomplishments. The program also helps recruit new members, Alimpich said.

We also take a look at their community activities and activities at school if they are very young.' Alimpich said. "We look at their career paths."

The contestants also are asked what they expect to be doing in 10 years. And what they consider to be their biggest acomplishment.

'I always strive to achieve positions where I can learn something new which will make me a more valuable employee.'

Oakwood Vs. Cancer

Don't play dumb with breast cancer. The odds are 90% in your favor.

It's obvious: if you don't look for breast cancer, you won't find it. But that doesn't mean you don't have it. So don't play dumb. Be smart. Let Oakwood send you information on the correct procedure to follow when performing self-breast exams. Perform the self-exam monthly. And consult your physician for regular checkups and mammograms.

You see, the earlier you detect breast cancer, the better. With early detection, there's a 90% cure rate. Ninety percent. With such fantastic odds, it makes no sense to gamble.

At Oakwood, we have modern breast cancer detection and treatment facilities. Oakwood's oncology capabilities include state-of-the-art diagnostic tools-mammography, ultrasound, laboratory tests, chemical analysis and microscopic exams. If treatment is required, we offer advanced surgery, radiation therapy and chemotherapy. And Oakwood is the only hospital in western Wayne County able to treat cancer with radiation therapy.

But you can't fight breast cancer alone. If you don't already have a, physician with whom you can consult, call us at 1-800-543-WELL for the name of a physician on the staff of Oakwood Hospital, and for free information about self breast exams.

Growing to serve your health care needs.

the silence come from the singing of birds, the skitter of squirrels or the gurgle of water as it sneaks around a rock or over a log.

Barking dogs and squealing little girls, as a rule, are not a part of fly fishing.

So when both of these intrusions crashed into the sanctuary of the Au Sable the signal was given that this was to be no ordinary night. After unsuccessfully attempting to drown out the barking and the squealing, I began to wonder if perhaps the mosquitoes might be kind enough to chase the noise away.

But while I wondered the barking gave way to the shrill of canine pain. Being just a bit downstream I could not see the cause. My first assumption was that this unlucky animal had come away runner-up with a porcupine.

help I put both my assumption and my fly line aside to investigate.

On the other side of a patch of poison ivy, the dog, whose name I never did catch, was struggling very unsuccessfully to free himself, not from a porcupine but from the snares of barbed wire which by now

The more the dog struggled the more the wire tangled. There really is no good way to tell a dog that is is making matters worse.

SO I STOOD there with the poison ivy between us and a fear of this snapping animal within me. I don't take well to strange barking dogs in more favorable circumstances, and the fact that this one would not allow the girls to touch him did nothing to put me at ease.

In the midst of this, I became aware that I had the source of this dog's freedom in my vest pocket. Pliers with wire cutters are not usually a part of my fly-fishing paraphernalia but on this night for some reason or other, I had put them in my pocket.

I didn't want to do what I know I was being asked to do. Yes, I am allergic to those leaves of three. I also had visions of a dog's teeth biting the hand that would attempt to free him. So I tried to tell myself that my pliers were no match for the heavy sibility. Let the girls go for help somewhere else.

Maybe if I waited long enough, this dog who was smart enough to spook fish and bother fisherman would become clever enough to free himself from his wire fetters.

THE WHOLE scenario was not unlike so much of life. We stand by with the means to someone else's freedom or healing in our pocket. But we tell ourselves that our pliers aren't big enough. We insist against our better knowledge that this or that person or group is not our responsibility.

We may even decide that the person or people in question are underserving. Our hope is that the problem will go away before we feel guilty for ignoring it.

After all, people who make their own beds should have to sleep in them. Why should we risk the danger or endure the inconvenience, particularly when those in need are people we would rather see bit by a mosquito than freed from their difficulty? If such were the way of the land, there are very few of us who would not sooner or later be the helpless victim of our foibles.

Conservatives within the denomination had complained the earlier study paper, titled "Presbyterians and Peacemaking: Are We Now Called To Resistance?" advocated tax resistance and civil disobedience to the exclusion of other methods of expression. And some say the second report is not much better.

"THE ONLY REAL change (from the earlier paper) is tactical," said the Rev. Paul F. Scotchmer, executive director of Presbyterians for Democracy and Religious Freedom, a conservative group. "Instead of calling outright for all Presbyterians to withhold 'war taxes' and engage in other forms of resistance to the U.S. government ... the new document merely asks the entire church to throw its support behind those

The paper condemns the theory of nuclear deterrence - that the existence of nuclear weapons helps prevent war because each side knows such a war would destroy it.

"The moral case for nuclear deterrence, even as an interim ethic, has been undermined by unrelenting arms escalation," the paper said.

"Having declared nuclear deterrence immoral, we must exercise our individual corporate influence to effect a change in national policy as rapidly as possible."

The denomination was formed in 1983 through a merger of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the Presbyterian Church (U.S.). The two bodies had split during the

Auto repair training center going strong after Chrysler sale

By Anne Fracassa special writer

MoTech Automotive Education Center, an automotive-repair worker training company launched by Chrysler Corp in 1973, has consolidated facilities and enlarged its Livonia headquarters. The changes were made to centralize operations since MoTech's April 1987 sale from Chrysler to Troy-based O E Learning Inc., a computer training firm.

But the big news is the new automotive body school facility which was moved back to Livonia from the Eight Mile-Hoover area of Detroit after nearly a decade

MoTech has devoted a lot of time and effort for this project," MoTech Director Bob Henrikson said. "Not only is the facility new, but also it contains state-of-the-art equip-

The school also has Chief E-Z Liner. Paulee Bench, Duz-More and Car-O-Liner Unibody benches and frame adjusters to measure and pull the vehicle back to manufacturer

THREE PAINT mix stations manufactured by DuPont, PPG Industries and R&M Inc. - allow students to learn proper mixing techniques with equipment from the automobile industry's three major suppliers of automotive paints.

The auto body school provides an 840-hour program, encompassing 24 weeks of training at a cost of $5,040. Upon completion of the course, the graduate is awarded a certificate and is offered placement services by

"Depending upon how adept our people are and 'ow quickly they can perform their technical skills, it's feasible to make a $200 to $2,000 per week salary," Henrikson said. "Our graduates have been placed in 49 states during our 15-year history. The MoTech placement services work with graduates on a one-on-one basis. Many companies ask MoTech for its graduates because of the school's credentials. For every job, only one applicant is sent, ensuring minimal competitiveness among graduates.

We've worked with some employers for more than 10 years, and they hire our graduates because they know exactly what they're getting. They know they need a specific type of person who'll get the job done right. Our graduates go to work after they leave us.

The International Industry of Car Autobody Repair uses the facility to train or retrain workers dealing with new models. ICAR represents new car dealers and trains people in the proper procedures to repair vehicles when the new model year emerges.

"ICAR has used us for a good number of years because we have a reputation of turning out quality graduates who know their trade in the industry. "We're definitely proud of what we do here

Along with the auto body repair chool, MoTech also has another 40,000-square-foot education center located around the corner at 35155 Industrial Road, which teaches auto

The course, 900 hours, takes nine months to complete and costs $4,995. Classes begin every other month. and financial aid is available.

Both the education center and the autobody school are licensed by the state's Department of Education and are accredited members of the National Association of Trade and Technical Schools

rrance opens shop in Troy

By Anne Fracassa special writer

U.S. manufacturers seeking expansion in France don't have to call the Paris Department of Economic Development to find an ideal overseas location.

Companies needn't look further than Troy-based RDI of America, a three-employee firm financed by a consortium of municipalities in France to lure jobs and commerce

We represent French communities with the goal of creating joint ventures, or direct manufacturing," said Robert J. Bondy, vice president of RDI in Troy. "Think of us as the economic development agency for central France in the U.S.

RDI of America is a subsidiary of Recherche et Developpement International, based in Paris. Five employees are based in France.

We work with companies interested in expanding their markets or opening foreign subsidiaries or-offices," Bondy, a French citizen, said. "If a company wishes to leave the states with the purpose of relocating in France, we probably wouldn't work with it. We are not here to displace American workers."

Bondy said France is in a state of economic boom right now, and this is the perfect time for companies to consider facilities abroad. Those already helped by RDI of America include Scott Paper, Honda and John Deere.

"The French government is dynamic, and the country is moving toward its goal to become the industrial nerve center of western Europe," Bondy said. "The business environment in France is stable, and there is plenty of financial flexibili-

ALTHOUGH BONDY refused to disclose any companies RDI is working with because they had not made public their intent to expand to the European market, he said there were "several" in the metropolitan Detroit area RDI has been in touch

'Think of us as the economic development agency for central France in the U.S.'

The company also aids French companies wanting to come to the U.S. to do business

"We are presently working with G2M, an automotive paint booth supplier, and Graphisoft, a software manufacturer," Bondy said. "Both plan to open offices in the metropolitan Detroit area.

"If we look at who we're working with now, I would say our success rate would be very high. On the economic development side, however, it takes more than two years to realize a goal. It's a very slow process.

Because RDI has only been in operation 10 months, revenues were not available. Officials refuse to disclose revenue projections and clients for the Troy office.

But the company has opened another division here that promises quick revenue turnaround and has sparked interest in the industry.

"Last month we opened a merger and acquisition department geared toward French and American companies looking to purchase or sell. It's become an increasingly important facet of our business and has generated astounding interest."

RDI HAS BEEN well received by the American business community, according to Bondy

"With the large French community in the Detroit area we have established a wonderful relationship with the state," he said. "We're not paid

Today's female consumer represents one customer market segment that has gained much recognition in recent years.

From automobile manufacturers now hiring women designers to assist in the development of new-model cars to magazines created especially for America's "new woman." both big and small business have aggressively pursued this customer group. This week's column is the first in a series discussing the effect of women on consumer marketing

Cosmopolitan magazine recently conducted a study called "The Changing Life Course of American Women." In it were several trends to help management and marketing decision makers better understand the demographic, attitude and lifestyle characteristics of today's American and how these changes have affected decisions to buy particular goods and services.

WHEN WE think of today's "new woman," we often compare her to the women of the last generation. When we analyze the Baby Boom generation to the one that "gave birth" to it, many differences are found

For those women who were raised and reached adulthood during the Depression and after World War II, they did represent a radically different group of women.

After the war, marriage rates increased sharply, age at marriage dropped, and the average age of mothers at the time they had their first child also dropped. These were the women who produced the accompanying baby boom, did not attend college and were not employed outside the home.

The advertising directed at these 'traditional housewives' during the '50s, '60s and early '70s portrayed women as being most interested in pleasing their husbands and children with the products and services they bought and used in the home.

AS A RESULT, the current gener ation of female consumers seems revolutionary in comparison. In reality, this group is more representative of a throwback to that generation of women who reached adulthood prior to the 1940s.

For example, the recent drop in marriage rates and delayed age at marriage are perceived as radical departures from the past. In fact, the current marriage rate is approxi-mately the same as it had been between 1890 and 1940.

Present increases in women's educational attainment, the rising divorce rate and drops in fertility further identify a pattern of return to historical levels and trends.

The only true revolutionary demographic trend relates to the participation and role of women in the labor force.

Ford does well with overseas development

Yamaha is a name more familiar to guitar players than to automotive

As a second-tier Japanese mini conglomerate. Yamaha makes pianos, motorcycles and outboard motors. It also designs and supplies engines for Toyota, a role Toyota rarey publicizes, thus proving that the Not Invented Here syndrome wasn't invented here either.

Yamaha kept its low automotive profile until a serious glut in the motorcycle business live years ago. This led to an offer from Ford Motor to finance retail bike sales.

THIS OPENED a dialogue that eventually led to a joint venture producing specialty engines for Ford. The results of that joint venture are due to be shown to the public this fall in the form of a high-output V-6 engine Ford insiders whimsically call the Shogun.

But not all Ford insiders are whimsical There also is an undercurrent of resentment that a major engine program, let alone one likely to be a high-tech showcase, was done by a relatively unknown Japanese company rather than Ford engineer-

All domestic auto companies have relied heavily for the past decade or so on offshore suppliers, either for major components or whole car programs But Ford has carried this a bit further than other domestic auto companies by sending some major engineering programs offshore as

A STUDENT OF corporate cultural history could well trace this frend back to Ford's fling at world racing dominance led by then-outsider Carroll Shelby in the 1960s.

The common thread that runs through all these specialty engineering programs is that to a working engineer they are a lot more fun than more mundane family-car-type development work.

They're more fun than anything. according to a few hard-core enthusiasts. To quote one engineer working on the new Yamaha engine, "I don't care what it does to my career path. This is what I really want

IT'S THE kind of enthusiasm that can turn an engineering group into the corporate equivalent of a street gang. In fact, the internal competitiveness often gets that intense.

So far, the results seem mainly to have benefited Ford, which has had an uncanny ability to assimilate the style and much of the substance of the best European and Japanese cars, balanced by such All-American projects as the long-lived Mustang thing of its current state of development to the internal competitiveness generated by the SVO program.

Perhaps the most visible evidence of this kind of internal elbowing is the Ford-style Probe, built at Mazda's Flat Rock plant alongside Mazda's own RX-6 Coupe The detailing on the Ford project is at least partly the result of the efforts of Ford's Probe group going one-on-one with its Japanese counterparts.

IT SEEMS logical there is a limit to how far this kind of car development can be pushed. I don't think you can buy true creative thought like wheel covers.

But so far, it looks as though Ford has been balancing the pros and cons of its system in its favor, setting a style others are certain to soon fol-

Action! is the word for new air-show documentary

By Victor E. Swanson special writer

MAGINE STANDING on the wing of an open-cockpit biplane while the plane is several hundred feet in the air, undoing your harness, and turning upside down so that you stand on your head. Feel the wind. Imagine thousands of people watching you from below. Wave to the crowd! Try to

Now, that's action!

That's why documentarian Philip Handleman of Handleman Filmworks, Birmingham, is so excited about his latest project, "Action Air Show," a half-hour documentary focusing on an air show held Oct. 3-4 at Willow Run Airport. The film includes footage of a wing walker.

"We have that not just from the ground looking up at the airplane and her, but also from the perspective of the leading edge of the wing. Ross was a Southfield resident for part of her childhood.

Wing walking was only one of many thrilling activities that took place during the air show, which Handleman and his crew captured on thousands of feet of videotape.

'Action Air Show' is about the Willow Run Air Show and the Yankee Air Force, which is a volunteer group that's headquartered at Willow Run Airport, dedicated to pre-"We have in-flight footage of Lori serving old war planes," Handleman Lynn Ross, a very well-known Holly- said. "IT REALLY DOES give you the highlights of that air show and, I think, through extrapolation, the highlights of most of our major air shows in this country.

Reasons were many for making the documentary. Willow Run Airport is close to his home and production facilities. Handleman, as producer and director, knew Willow Run Airport had been the site of a lot of aviation history.

"Part of the reason the Yankee Air Force located at Willow Run Airport is because of that history, the fact that, oh, 40-some years ago, one of the most famous military aircraft in our nation's history, the B-24 Liberator, was built in large numbers at Willow Run Airport. And, indeed, the hanger that the Yankee Air Force is located (in) today was part of that production facility.

He also chose to make the documentary at Willow Run because the Blue Angels were scheduled to ap-

"And much of it is predicated on my personal love of aviation," Handleman said, sitting before a large pile of books, most of which are about aviation. About 40 percent of his more than 3,000 books cover aviation. "I guess that's really the heart

Handleman wrote the narration for the documentary, which could be called low budget but should not be thought of as low-quality, and got none other than U.S. Navy Commander Randall (Randy) "Duke" Cunningham (retired) to read the

"RANDY CUNNINGHAM was the first American ace of the Vietnam War," Handleman noted. "He's also the first missile ace - not just in the Vietnam War but in history, first allmissile ace in history. He went on to become the commanding officer of what's known as the Aggressor Squadron at the Navy Fighter WeapMiramar, which is popularly known as Top Gun.

'He became an ace by shooting down the infamous Col. Tomb the leading North Vietnamese ace They engaged in what is be-lieved to be the longest single aerial combat in the history of air fighting. It was a 41/2-minute dogfight. It's regarded as a classic."

The documentary uses historical photographs. "They are stills that were obtained in some form of archive for history purposes to try to show some of the history, particularly the B-24 Liberator.

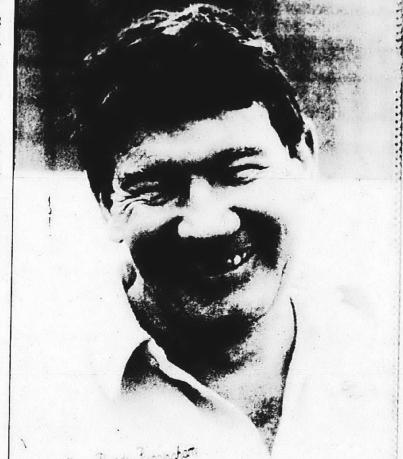

We also have some still photographs of the 99th Pursuit Squadron. which was the all-black pursuit squadron of World War II." some of whom appear in the documentary in

Of course, the documentary has music, too, which Handleman said "complements" the action.

"Part of the music was obtained from one of the major record companies . . . Most of the music, however, was obtained through a broadcast music library in town and was matched - after spending many. many hours - to the video sequences." He thought a moment and then said, "For a program that's 26 minutes long, I think we have roughly 16 to 18 minutes . . . covered with background music."

HANDLEMAN HAS spent more than eight months producing "Action Air Show." However, the work really isn't completely done. Currently, he's working to get the program on television, perhaps on PBS.

He has had programs on television before. Last year he put together "Star-Spangled Music," a program featuring the Detroit Concert Band and conductor Dr. Leonard B. Smith. which was shown on Channel 56 on the Fourth of July. And during the 1981-82 season he was executive producer of "Medal of Honor Rag," a presentation shown under the PBS umbrella title "American Play-

Music Hall announces expanded new season

Music Hall Center in Detroit will celebrate its Diamond Jubilee anniversary with the 1988-89 season. Variety has been the focus of Music Hall programming since it opened as the Wilson Theatre in 1928. Expanding programming from its already critically acclaimed dance series, the season will include major theatrical productions as part of a series titled "Theatre Nights," an array of anniversary specials, and a series devoted to highlighting the best of the new masters.

The 60th-anniversary season will debut with Michael Feinstein, contemporary pianist, playing and singing Berlin, Gershwin, Porter and all the hit songs of the '20s, '30s and '40s. The anniversary-specials series continues with Sarah Vaughn in October, Marvin Hamlisch in January, Hal Holbrook reviving Mark Twain in April and Christopher Parkening, classical guitarist, in May. The dance classics series will feature the best and most challenging of the national dance companies. It will open in October with one of America's leading companies, Ballet West, doing "Giselle" and "Romeo and Ju-

The new masters series represents the commitment of the Music Hall board and staff to showcase the new work and creative aspects of some of America's contemporary artists. Philip Glass and David Hwang's new sci-fi opera, "Thousand Airplanes on the Roof," leads off the series in October, closely followed by a jazz/theater group, the Art Ensemble of Chicago.

The Nina Weiner Collaborative unites a composer, designer, sculptor, dancers and musicians for their Music Hall debut. The collaborative has been invited to participate in New York's most important new works festival.

Minimalist composer Steve Reich will be joined onstage by three marimbas, six pianos and a variety of percussion instruments for 'Drumming Two" in April. The new masters series will end with the Japanese Butoh Dance Troupe Sankai Juku presenting a new work, to premiere at only three of America's cultural showcases: New York's Brooklyn Academy of Music, Washington, D.C.'s Kennedy Center and Detroit's Music Hall.

THEATER COMPANIES of North America are represented in the Theatre Nights series. The Broadway cast of "Pump Boys and Dinettes" opens the series. In November, the internationally known Stratford Shakespeare Festival will present the classic tale "Two Gentlemen of Verona" for the first time in Detroit.

The Negro Ensemble Company, all-black company, will bring "From the Mississippi Delta" to the Music Hall in January, and the Alley Theatre of Houston, with "A View from the Bridge," appears in March.

The International Favorites series is a cross-cultural celebration featuring the Vienna Boys Choir special Christmas show in December; the Chieftans, Ireland's number-one import in January; Dixieland, New Orleans style, with the Preservation Hall Jazz Band in March and the New York Chamber Orchestra Ensemble in April.

Chamberworks's concert is best so far

In most instances, the contest be tween local chamber groups and the more established ones is lopsided in terms of reputation as well as quality. On rare occasions, however, a local group may offer an extra dimension, an experience that would be most difficult to find elsewhere.

This was the case with the closing program of Chamberworks, which took place at the Central Woodward Christian Church in Troy. The pro-

Ever since it was made famous by the great vocal team of Nellie Melba and Enrico Caruso at the turn of the century, Puccini's opera "La Boheme" has been an audience favorite. It was no different at a sold-out Masonic Temple performance last Wednesday evening when Michigan Opera Theatre imported Bolshoi Opera star Vyacheslav Polosov to sing Rodolfo opposite American soprano Stephanie Friede as Mimi.

The result was a thrilling mix of exhilarating singing, energetic acting and humorous antics against and the tragic love story. The production could hardly have been more spec-

Polozov's vibrato was a little tight in the beginning of Act I but his voice warmed up for his "Che gelida manina" producing an exciting Act I duet scene with Friede and an endearing Act III love scene.

Polozov was handsome on stage as Rodolfo. He has a power in his voice that made his performance a thrill to hear. The Soviet emigre had always sung "La Boheme" in Russian. When he came to the United States two years ago, he began singing it in the original Italian.

FRIEDE WAS definitely a most lively Mimi who brings more than life to the dying heroine. Ten years ago Friede sang in Karen and David DiChiera's opera (libretto by Joan Hill) "Rumplestiltskin" as a mezzosoprano. She proved that her high C's make her a soprano equal to even the immense Polozov power. But it was the mezzo qualities in her rich middle voice that strengthened her portrayal of Mimi.

Stage director Roman Terleckyj worked with Gian Carlo Menotti in Opera Pacific's production of "La Boheme" last year. Here in Detroit he produced the same light-hearted atmosphere between the Bohemians in the apartment scenes with mock plays and sword fights and other humor that brightens the otherwise

In the orchestra pit, conductor John DeMain did his usual superb job with the MOT Orchestra, one of the reasons he conducts Pacido Domingo's stadium concerts and the world premiere of "Nixon in China."

The Concerto in D Minor for Harpsichord, Flute and Strings by the French composer Corrette (1709-1795) proved to be an attractive work for such an obscure composer. It was an appropriate appetizer for the gourmet dishes that were to fol-

Handel's cantata, "Armida Abbandonata," is among his rarely heard works based on an Italian medieval test. Thomas Kuras, harpsichordist and music director of the series, always seems to be able to astound the audience with his wealth of informa-

On this occasion, he apologized for translating the medieval Italian text to preserve the general meaning rather than literal one of the idioms But, judging by his ability in other areas, even a music critic from Rome wouldn't have done any bet-

The regular group was joined by other instrumentalists and vocalists flutist Penelope Fischer, violist David Freers and bass player Marian Wingert. Soprano Patricia Willington, wife of Paul Willington, the cellist of the group, sang in the Handel cantata. The second portion of the program, all Bach, consisted of the Sonata in G Major for Flute, Violin and Basso continuo and culminated with the Coffee Cantata, No. 211 It was in this final work that this program reached its ultimate moments

This performance surpassed any that I have experienced on the several recordings of the work that I have heard, even though some are of very high quality

Soprano Rose Randall, singing the comic role of Lieschen, transmitted the kind of authentic enthusiasm and charm that no recording can adequately convey. Together with tenor Steven Stewart and baritone Philip

Michael, the group generated a kind of musical aroma that was definitely not decaf. We may never know what brand of coffee was Bach's favorite. but he would have enjoyed the flavor of this performance.

The audience was invited to attend Master Class by Kuras the next Sunday at the Belian Art Center This turned out to be another unique experience. Those fortunate enough to attend got yet another glimpse of his multiple skills and talents.

Pets of the week

Dutton, a 6-year-old male collie, Snowball (left) and loey, a pair of 2-year-old cats, need homes. All three pets have been mistreated. Dutton (Control No. 208182) has had his vocal cords cut and cannot bark. Snowball (Control No. 200081) and Joey (Control No. 241525) abandoned by their previous owner. Both are good with children. To adopt these pets or others, call the Westland Kindness Center of the Michigan Humane Society, 721-7300.

One in eleven American women will develop breast cancer.

If it's found early, about 90% of them will survive.

The key to beating breast cancer is finding it before it spreads. While it's still 90% curable. With the best chance of saving the breast.

Providence Hospital provides a comprehensive Breast Health & Education Service, including quality, low-dose mammography screening, which can detect breast cancer before it's life-threatening.

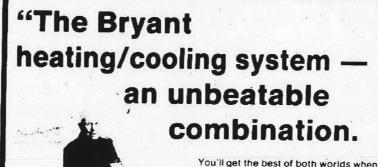

Call one of our three convenient locations to begin your breast care program today. And practice it for life.

Miller repeats as Class A champion

Canton star will compete for Broncos

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Winning a state championship in track and field as a high school junior is like asking for trouble in a

It invites the expectation of doing the same the following year, and it causes opponents, who have memorized your name, your school and your career statistics, to relish the thought of face-to-face competition.

Plymouth Canton's Angie Miller dealt with those challenges for the last year - and rose above them Saturday when she repeated as the Class A girls champion in the high

According to conventional wisdom, winning the first time is easy. It's the second time that's hard. That's why Miller's latest feat is all the more impressive.

Her main competition in the state meet Saturday at Eastern Michigan University's Rynearson Stadium came from Gwen Wendland of Grand Blanc

AFTER BOTH athletes cleared 5 feet, 4 inches, the bar moved up to 5-5. Both missed on their first attempts. They remained stalemated after the same occurred on their second jumps.

Wendland, making her third and final try, failed again to reach the new height. The door was left open for Miller, who seized the opportuni-

Angie Miller successfully clearing the high jump bar became a familiar and expected sight at girls track and field meets in recent years. The Canton senior concluded her high school ca-

at hand, Miller made her next jump

'It was quite an accomplishment and a good way to end the year," Canton coach George Przygodski said. "Technique-wise, she was by far the best jumper there."

Miller's high school career might have ended with that final jump, but her special talent in track and field has given her the opportunity to continue her at Western Michigan University next year.

She chose to accept the Broncos' scholarship offer for reasons that are common to all graduating seniors: she liked the campus and coaches, and WMU offers a degree in the school and coaches and whether I was going to comfortable and happy

"I'd rather be comfortable and happy and be on a team that isn't winning all the time," she added, "than be uncomfortable and unhappy and be on a winning team.

Part of the reason Miller chose WMU is because track and field, while it is an important part of her life, isn't an all-consuming matter. She prefers to compete without all the pressures that go with being in the spotlight.

"Some of the (college) coaches have talked about the Olympics,' Miller said. "Is that what you want to do?" they asked her.

"Western Michigan has good coaches, and I don't want all that pressure. Being on a nice, competitive team will be good enough for MILLER WILL have some competition on the WMU team, however. One of her chief competitors in the high jump, Kenya Patterson of Ypsilanti High School, also is committed to attend WMU. "I love the idea," Miller said. "We get along great, and I think it'll be fun to be on the same team. We'll probably be roommates. 'We're both so competitive with each other I think we'll be pushing each other all the time.

Miller's talent isn't limited to the high jump, however, and that might be the most important reason for her choosing WMU

Plymouth Canton was a spectator when the Western Lakes Activities Association championship was decided in girls soccer last month.

The state tournament has been a more pleasant experience, however, and the Chiefs will have an active role in determining who wins the biggest prize of all at 1 p.m. Satur-

Canton, 16-2-1, advanced to the Class A final by overcoming Northville 1-0 Wednesday and will meet WLAA champ Livonia Churchill for the title at North Farmington High School.

"I guess this will be our chance, won't it?" Canton coach Don Smith

The Chargers, who improved to 14-3 with a 4-2 win over Sterling Heights Ford in the other semifinal game Wednesday, will be making their third straight appearance in the state final.

CHURCHILL LOST to Plymouth knocked it down in front of her. Salem in last year's game and beat the Rocks to win the WLAA championship this season. The Chiefs, who never have been past the district final before this year, were runnersup to Churchill in the Western Division despite having beaten the Chargers, 2-1, during the regular

"I think the girls are aware of what they can do," said Smith of the Chargers. "It's nice to know we beat them before, but I also think Northville was a little wary of playing us."

Canton avenged a 1-0 loss to the Mustangs in Wednesday's game, during which the players also had to contend with a cold, constant drizzle and unseasonably chilly weather. And it was an unlikely hero who made the victory possible. Michelle Lonigro, playing for an injured Jen-ny Russell, scored the game's only goal midway in the first half.

Shannon Meath fired a crossing shot from her right forward spot, but Northville goalkeeper Kristi Turper

Julie Stabnick drilled a pointblank shot off the rebound that Turner deflected. As the second rebound rolled to the left, Lonigro knocked it in for her third goal of the

"I'M CONFIDENT she'll be in the right spot at the right time, which is the way it worked out," Smith said.

'That's nice for her, she's a senior. I don't think she'll go on and play college ball, and that was a goal I think she'll always remember.

He added he thought the Mustangs, with Russell out, concentrated on stopping Meath and Stabnick. leaving Lonigro uncovered once too

"I think they bunched up on the right side, and still (Meath and Stabnick) made a lot of penetration."

Pitching duel expected in Salem-Glenn contest

By Dan O'Mears staff writer

It's not assuming too much to say pitching will be the determining factor when Plymouth Salem and Westland John Glenn tangle in the first round of Saturday's regional tournament

It always is when these longtime rivals meet on the baseball dia-

The Rockets, 20-5 and champions of the Western Lakes Activities Association, and the Rocks, 21-8 and Glenn's perennial competitors in the Lakes Division of the WLAA. square off at 11 a.m. on the Plymouth Canton field.

The winner advances to the 1 30 p.m. championship game against the winner of the Taylor Kennedy-Redford Catholic Central matchup. slated for an 11 a.m. start at the Salem facility.

Regardless of whom coach John Gravlin puts on the mound for the Rocks, the game will offer a rematch between two of the top pitchers in southeastern Michigan.

BARRING A SPEEDY recovery by Salem's Todd Marion, it will be Fidell Cashero, 6-1, on the mound for the Rocks and Clint Straub, 9-2. for the Rockets.

Marion, who pitched a threehitter and lost 3-2 to Glenn early in the season, is still sidelined by a sore arm and was not expected to pitch.

That means the left-handed Cashero, the hero of the district tournament, will get the call.

"I've got a dilemma again if (Marion) can go," Gravlin said. "Of course, the third time is the charm, and he's been beaten twice by Glenn

"I wouldn't know what to do, because the big guy (Cashero) is throwing so well, and he's beaten Glenn.

Cashero, in his biggest moment prior to the district, scattered six hits and struck out 11 as the Rocks broke a lengthy losing streak against Glenn with a 7-4 win on STRAUB, WHO HURLED a twohitter to beat Salem in the first game, had "one of his most inconsistent outings" in his brilliant career, according to coach Norm Hoenes. Ten walks marred a fourhit, 10-strikeout performance.

Cashero was burning the fastball down the chute while beating Novi with a two-hitter in the first game of the district, and the Rockets, despite having lost to him, are fastdall nitters.

"The last couple of games we've faced a lot of guys who threw offspeed pitches and curveballs." Hoenes said. "Especially with guys like (Chris) Scheffer - the big free swingers - we like to see the fastball come in there.

Besides Straub's wildness, the Rockets also had 4-5 passed balls in the last meeting, he added.

If we play good defense and Clint is on, we stand a better chance than if a junkballer is in there," Hoenes said. "Patience is the thing. If we wait until (Cashero) gets behind in the count and has to come in, we can beat him."

With the Rocks having ended a losing streak against Glenn that was approaching 10 games. Gravin also is confident because of the familiarity with the opposition.

"WE'VE SEEN STRAUB for three years, and we know Straub is an outstanding baseball player," he said. "But we also know we can beat them. Straub strikes out a lot of people swinging at bat pitches."

Hoenes took a chance and saved Straub for the district final, thinking the Rockets would play Garden City. Bob Cleaver pitched Glenn past Churchill in the opener, and Straub ended up beating Edsel Ford in the final.

Against tougher regional competition, Straub will be on the mound for the start.

It was pretty risky to do that," Hoenes said. "I hated to do it, because you don't get a second chance if you lose that (first) game. But it turned out to be the right move to make

Cleaver will pitch the final game if Glenn should beat Salem, and Bob Files would be on the mound for the Rocks in that situation.

baseball

Files was the winning pitcher in the championship game of the Midland tournament, the predistrict game and the district final.

Cashero has 74 strikeouts and 31 walks in 43% innings, and his ERA stands at 1.60. Straub, who averages a strikeout per inning, also has eight saves and a 1.30 ERA.

BOTH TEAMS PARALLEL each other in that they have survived periods when they weren't hitting well with sound defense and good

Salem had its best outfield play of the season in the district, Gravlin said. The Rocks found the right combinations with Andy Gee, Brad Wright, Mike Howard and Jerry Heath when the latter wasn't catching. Plus, Mike Stout has only one error in 120 chances at first

"It's the one thing we're not doing to our potential," Gravlin said of the offense. "We play pretty good defense and we're getting good pitching, but we're not getting the big runs.

"We were one or two hits from putting the Canton game (a 6-4 win in the district final) out of reach.

"But we didn't have any weak swings, and we weren't taking called third strikes. I saw some aggressiveness up there.'

Steve Woodard leads the team with a .419 average, has four homers and 14 RBI and is 8-for-8 stealing bases.

MARION, WHO WILL DH again, is hitting .406 with six homers and 34 RBI. He also has 22 walks, 10 of which were intentional passes. Stout carries a .377 average, and he has 12 extra-base hits and 14

All nine Glenn starters are hitting above .300. Straub leads the way at .385 followed by Scheffer (.355), Bryant Satterlee (.350) and Pat Pettit (.340). All but Satterlee have 20-plus RBI, too.

Scheffer, who is going to Central Michigan on a football scholarship, has tied a long-standing school record with four home runs.

"I guess we're not stinging the ball," Hoenes said. "We're getting a lot of bloop hits. We won ugly in both games Saturday," he added, referring mainly to seven Edsel Ford errors.

"(On defense) hardly anybody throws the ball away, and we usually field the ball the way you're supposed to. We stress defense more than the offensive part of the Redford Catholic Central didn't have to face pitching whiz Steve Avery during its march to the Class A baseball championship last year.

There will be no such luck this time, however, when the teams meet in a rematch of that first-round regional game Saturday at Plymouth Salem.

The Shamrocks, 23-10, take on Avery and his Taylor Kennedy teammates, 22-3, at 11 a.m. and the winner meets the survivor of the Westland John Glenn-Salem game, also slated for 11 a.m. on the Plymouth Canton diamond, in the 1:30 p.m. final.

Avery, as everyone knows by now, is the prep phenom who was the No. 1 pick - third overall - of the Atlanta Braves in last week's major league draft.

He is waiting until after graduation to decide between a scholarship to Stanford University or turning pro, according to his coach, Wayne

IN FACT, THE 6-foot-4, 185-pound southpaw will miss graduation to play in the regional tournament. Furthermore, it was a graduationrelated matter that kept Avery from pitching against the Shamrocks a year ago.

Pedro Fuentes, the No. 2 man on Kennedy's staff in 1987, wasn't going to miss graduation ceremonies since his family was flying in from Puerto Rico to witness the occasion. Thus, Hamilton took a gamble and decided to throw Fuentes against CC in the first game since he wouldn't be around for the possible second

But that meant leaving the best pitcher unable to do his thing to get the Eagles to the championship. The Shamrocks won 1-0.

"That was the only choice I had," Hamilton said. "But how can I complain when Pedro throws a onehitter and loses on an error. I don't think Steven could have thrown any

But it was as much a part of Hamilton's strategy to hold Avery in reserve after he took the advice of other coaches and thought Fuentes could handle CC.

"I HAVE A different philosophy

this year," he said, making it clear he'll go with Avery right away. "You gotta win one game at a time.

The Shamrocks will face a pitcher who has compiled amazing statistics. Avery is 11-0 and has an incredible 0.29 earned run average. In 71 1/3 innings, he has 160 strikeouts and 20 walks.

"I don't think you need too much incentive more than just being in the regional," CC coach John Salter said. but it will help get the kids fired up, knowing they're facing probably the best high school pitcher in the coun-

'We can't give them too much, because he's only given up a couple of runs (3) all year. The key will be holding them down and to see if we can scratch out a run or two.

"If you play good defense and get good pitching, you've always got a chance," he added.

HUTCHINSON IS 6-5 with an impressive 136 strikeouts but has given up 94 hits. He has issued 55 walks in 93 innings. Dorocak has a 6-3 record. 78 strikeouts and 31 walks in 31 fewer innings. Their ERAs are 4.04 and 2.79, respectively.

"(Hutchinson) has struggled a little with that (hits)," Salter said, "but he's won some big games this year,

Salter knows the key will be holding down the Eagles, who have relied as much if not more on their hitting than Avery's pitching, according to

ROB MOWERY AND Bronis, the Nos. 2 and 3 pitchers, have a combined record of 11-2, but they're 'just good high school pitchers, not outstanding like Steve," Hamilton said. "Hitting-is what's been carry ing us.'

While Avery gets all the attention, Hamilton points out the Eagles have seven others "who play just as wel! as he does." Seven of the nine regulars have hit over-the-fence homers. The Shamrocks are led by shortstop Kevin Rogers (.369) and third baseman John Gotts (.355). Both have 38 hits apiece, seven for extra bases, and 18 and 30 RBI, respectively Sophomore right fielder Paul Pirronello, who played on the JV team until the tournament, has given CC a lift by going 7-for-16 in post-season

Salter noted that playing 3-2 ball in the Catholic League seems to help the team's hitting when the state tournament rolls around. The Shamrocks have scored 30 runs in three district games and are averaging six per game. We don't strike out too much," he said. "We put the ball in play, and that puts pressure on the defense."

THE TOUGH LOSS to CC last year was disappointing, but the Eagles, with a veteran team this year. hope to accomplish what the Shamrocks eventually did after that victo-

"Our kids loved it when they saw CC go all the way and win it," Hamilton said. "It gave them incentive for this year, because we only lost two kids from that team. They want to go all the way now."

While it remains the Class A kingpin until being beaten, CC will no doubt be the underdog Saturday with Avery on the mound.

We like the role of being the underdog, if we are," Salter said Being the defending champion is a little misleading, because we graduated nine guys, and this is a whole different team this year."

Pitching saves Salem

staff writer

There aren't many teams that could survive the loss of a pitcher like Todd Marion and still find it self in a regional tournament.

Plymouth Salem is an exception however, and Fidell Cashero and Bob Files are the reasons why Cashero experienced the highlight of his career when he struck out 13 and beat Novi in the first game of Saturday's district tournament and earned a save in the final against Plymouth Canton.

Files, a reliever turned starter. pitched 543 good innings after a shaky start to get the win in the championship. He is 5-1 with a 3.07 earned run average, and he has 29 strikeouts and 17 walks in 2845 inn-

The Seattle Mariners saw Cashero pitch in the district and have expressed an interest in signing him as a free agent.

"THEY SAID they need one

baseball

more look at him, but he's been fantastic all season," said Salem coach John Gravlin

"If they don't sign him, that's a shame because he can pitch. He keeps battling and battling back."

Cashero's new-found determination, cool under pressure and added dedication, has most impressed Gravlin, who always knew he had the physical tools to be a quality

"A lot of people had given up on Fidell," Gravlin said. "As a junior, you just didn't know

"He'd get rattled easily and fall apart if he walked a couple.

Gravlin spoke of how the opposition tried to shake him up when he came into relieve Files in the seventh inning of the district final. He eventually pitched out of a basesloaded jam to end the game.

"CANTON TRIED to rattle him when he came in there," he said. "Fidell was not known for handling that in the past.

The confidence in himself is stronger than that now

Gravlin also added the senior left-hander has been to practice regularly and has even become a better student.

"He's seems to have made that turn in his life." he said. "discovering that all this means something. that talent is not enough, that you have to be a person with some dedication '

All seems to be turning out well for Cashero as he nears the end of his prep career but with a big regional prize still a possibility.

Marion, who hasn't pitched in three weeks after injuring his right arm in a game at Farmington Harrison, has a 4-2 record, 57 strikeouts as opposed to only 14 walks in 41 innings and a 1.02 ERA.

A's draft Livonia pitcher

By Stove Kowelski staff writer

Late last Wednesday night, the telephone rang at Rick Rozman's East Lansing apartment, but he was somewhere else, eating a pizza

The biggest phone call of his life and Rozman, a right handed pitcher at Michigan State, wasn't there to an-

An Oakland Athletics baseball scout was on the other end of the phone line with Rozman's roommate, informing him that Rozman was their eighth-round draft

"I hung around the apartment until about 8 or 8:30 and by then I figured I'd go for a pizza because the draft was over," said Rozman, a 1984 Livonia Stevenson graduate. "Earlier in the week, I had ripped my suit and had taken it to the tailor to get fixed. When I came back, my roommate (Tom Brzezinski of Livonia) said, 'You're going to look real good in that suit on your way to Oakland. They just drafted you."

"I thought it was a joke at first."

NO JOKE. Rozman, the ace of Michigan State's pitching staff and a second-team all-Big Ten selection this year, will sign a baseball contract with the leaders of the American League West Division. Within the next few weeks, Rozman will report to one of the Athletics minor-league training sites in Medford, Ore., and a lifetime dream to play professionally will be realized.

Todd Krumm, a 1984 graduate of West Bloomfield and Rozman's teammate at MSU, was drafted in the 24th round by the Seattle Mariners. He already has signed a free agent contract, however, with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League.

Pitcher Ron Way, an All-Observer choice last year for Wayne Memorial and now a freshman at Henry Ford Community College, went to the Pittsburgh Pirates in the 40th round. Rozman graduates from MSU Saturday with a degree in marketing. But the suit and tie and 9-to-5 lifestyle

Major League teams passed on Rozman last year. when at age 21 he was eligible for the draft. He worked hard over the summer and now throws an effective slider, to go with a forkball and fastball. It's still a long way to the Major Leagues, but Rozman is excited about the opportunity.

"I REALLY wanted to get drafted," said Rozman, a right-hander. "This winter, I decided to go all out and give it my best shot and if I didn't get drafted, I could still say 'There's nothing to be sorry about.'

"It's nice to have a degree to fall back on, but I want to go ahead and give baseball a full shot."

Rozman's father Ron played in the Detroit Tigers organization for six years and in 1958 made the Tigers Major League roster. So as you might imagine, Ron is happy for son Rick.

'I'm happy for him, it's something he wanted to do and it's something I'd like to see him do," said the elder Rozman. "I think any kid who has played baseball hopes to play professionally someday. The opportunity is there. We'll see what happens."

with victories

Craiger, the defending Plymouth Canton Babe Ruth champion, kicked off the 1988 season impressively last weekend, winning three games.

Craiger shut out Twist 'N Shake 9-0 in its opener behind the combined no-hitter of Jason Bregni and Jason Stoops. Bregni also was one of the hitting heroes, cracking two home runs and six RBI.

On Saturday, Craiger's Scott Kennedy threw a four-hitter in a 4-3 win over Grosse Pointe Farms. Kennedy also struck out eight batters Craiger kept its hot streak going Sunday with a 10-5 win over Georgetown, a newcomer in the Plymouth Canton League. Stoops tossed four shutout innings of relief.

Jason Crain was 3-for-3 with three RBI, and Chris Moore also drove in three runs on two hits. Scott Kapla had a 3-for-4 outing for Craiger and Bregni crushed a homer. Eric Bronk hit a round-tripper for Georgetown.

Deiry Junction, bested Georgetown 10-8 behind the 5-for-5 hitting performance of Jeff Coleman. Two of Coleman's hits went for home runs.

Marc Pennebaker and Ron Hutchinson each tripled for Juncon and combined Georgetown's Kevin Gourieux went 3-for-4, including a hotner.

Craiger opens Spartans have last laugh

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Unexpectedly, Redford Bishop Borgess became the joke of the Catholic League Central Division baseball race this year, finishing last at

But the Spartans might have the last laugh. Borgess, beset by injuries all year, finally got healthy and last weekend stayed alive in the state Class B tournament, winning the Dearborn district with a 3-2 win over Redford Thurston.

On Saturday, the Spartans play Monroe Catholic Central at 10 a.m. at the Madison Heights regional. If Borgess wins, it faces the winner of the Mount Clemens Clintondale-Dearborn Divine Child matchup for the regional championship later Sat-Clintondale is ranked No. 2 in the state, while Divine Child is ranked Borgess finally surpassed the .500 mark last weekend and is 21-19 overall. But do the Spartans really believe they can make it beyond Saturday's regional and into the state Borgess coach Mike George was asked that, but he rephrased the question.

"YOU MEAN when we win it?" he asked back. "At this point, you've got to be confident. We're one of 16 teams left and anything can happen.

"At one point during league this year, we were 2-14, and there were days when I ran out of things positive to say. It's strange that we

baseball

won the district with the record that we had. Credit goes to the kids. They knew they could win; they just plugged away. Plus, now everybody's healthy.

Including Tim Pilut, an outfielder, who came back two weeks ago after missing much of the season with a knee injury. Also back from the injured list is Charles North, who likewise was sidelined much of the season with an ankle injury.

Pilut is hitting .333 with 12 RBI, and North has 15 RBI and a .269 av-

Others who have been out for different lengths of time include ace pitcher Craig Karankiewicz (dislocated thumb); outfielder Kenny Robinson (broken wrist); right fielder John Coffel (mononucleosis); outfielder Bill LaRose (dislocated shoulder); and pitcher Mario Araquil (an-

Then there was the condition of pitcher Bob Elliott, who wasn't injured during the season, but at one point, George said, "Elliott forgot how to throw a baseball.

"I REMEMBER ONE day when he came in my office and cried like a baby because of the way he was pitching.

George thought Elliott would be this year's ace, but the right-hander lost his first four starts and was moved to the bullpen. Elliott since has regained his confidence and a spot in the rotation, winning four of his last five starts.

Elliott will start the second game Saturday if the Spartans advance into the regional final. Karankiewicz, 11-4 on the year, will start the opener.

Managing to escape injury this year was senior catcher Steve Coffell. He has become Borgess' ironman, catching 262 of the 280 innings the Spartans have played.

Coffell leads the team in three offensive categories: average, .404; RBI, 37; and extra base hits, 14. He is tied with LaRose in home runs. with three George believes Coffell is the best catcher in the area, but no major colleges have come calling.

"EVERYONE SAYS he's too small," said George, "but I say they're crazy. He's a Division I college player. He has thrown out 52 percent of the runners trying to steal. He's everything a coach can ask for and one of the better ones I've ever had. He's one of the nicest, most pleasant kids you'll ever see. I'd take a whole team full of guys like him."

FGS 2nd in tourney

If it weren't for the Miami Ballbusters, FGS Radiator would have brought home a winner's trophy from the 50-team BP's Invitational for modified fast-pitch softball Memorial Day Weekend in Atlahta, Ga. FGS lost both games it played against the team from Miami, including the final game of the double-elimination tourney, 8-1. FGS trailed 2-1 in the sixth inning when the Miami team put the championship away. FGS won three of the five games it played Monday, the tourney's final day. In all, FGS won six games and lost two during the three-day tourna-

Despite coming up short in the championship, several players earned individual honors. Keith McManaway, Mickey Madsen and Charlie Johnson were named to the all-tournament team. Madsen led the team in hitting with a .680 clip. McManaway, Scott

Bricker and Dave Brubaker hit .500 each. Johnson batted .470 and Jeff Campbell finished at .461. The tournament's most valuable player was FGS pitcher Curt Richards, who won the honor for the third time in the last four out-of-state

FGS opened the tournament Saturday with a 13-2 romp over Atlanta as Madsen and Johnson collected three hits each. Bricker had two hits and Brubaker hit a home run and drove in three runs. FGS PLAYED TWO games Sunday, winning 18-6 in the day's opener over Lakeway, a team from Morristown, Tenn., and 7-1 over The Tribe.

FGS dropped into the loser's bracket Monday, dropping its first game, 12-2, to the Ballbusters. It was Richards' first loss of the year. FGS picked up two runs in the first, but fell behind in the bottom of the frame FGS fought back into the championship with an 11-6 win over BP's of Atlanta, the host team. Madsen and Dan Price had two hits each. Richards recorded his 300th career win against 28 defeats in eight years. Richards is a 1974 graduate of Livonia Bentley.

Providence Hospital gives you more ways to give birth.

More birthing options than any other hospital.

Introducing Providence Hospital's New Life Center. Suburban Detroit's newest, and we think finest, obstetrics facility. Our New Life Center gives you more birthfing options, more choices, than any other area hospital.

LDR Suites, a popular choice.

Our ten LDR suites allow mothers to labor, birth and recover in one location. These private suites are a welcome departure from the traditional hospital birth experience. Beautifully decorated, each suite creates the perfect setting for you to spend time with your family and bond with # Traditional Delivery Suites.

Our new delivery suites are for mothers who wish to have the traditional birth experience or for those who may require a Cesarean delivery. Your husband, or any labor partner who has been through an approved childbirth class, may be with you in the delivery suite during labor, birth and bonding with your baby. Each of our delivery suites is state-of-the-art in every way.

High-Risk Rooms.

For women with medical problems, we have two high-risk rooms which offer specialized care during labor, birth and the early recovery period. Because we have an obstetrician in-house at all times, we can provide the essential medical attention you need in the critical moments before your physician arrives.

Another option, the Family Birthing Center.

Our freestanding Family Birthing Center offers another alternative in the birthing experience. The only one of its kind in the state of Michigan, the Center provides a home-like setting with a staff of experienced nurses dedicated to natural birthing techniques.
Our Family Birthing Center is

To create enough space in a Wabeek condo for a couple moving from a large home takes the wisdom of a Lilianne Solomon.

They told me they wanted to change their lifestyle, but not their furniture or their designer," Solomon said. "They said they're having a long-term love affair with their furniture, but now they wanted to live on the golf course.

Since the view and location were exactly what they wanted, but interior space was a major concern in the two-bedroom condo, Solomon had the interior gutted.

She enlarged the doorway to the den/TV room immediately off the foyer, installed a charming bar along with built-in cabinets for TV and stereo and chose colors and upholstery and a corner modular to suggest the Southwest. She described the carpeting and wall colors throughout the home as nondescript. For want of a better color name the carpeting is light ginger with a touch of rose as are many of the walls

IN SOLOMON'S hands, the foyer itself becomes a room unto itself rather than just a passway to other places. There's a large print of a fashionable, Chinese gentleman, at the end of the foyer, for instance.

The rectangular rug that covers most of the dark brick floor was done on commission by local artist Janet Mansini. It is a blue-green dragon on a black background. The oriental mood continues with a long, narrow Chinese hall table with matching stools tucked nearly under, to be used as extra seating wherever needed.

The much-loved living room furniture - sofa, love seat and armless chairs upholstered in a light ginger flame stitch - is arranged in an attractive grouping around a favorite, oriental-style coffee table. Solomon added a needed spark of color by having matching ottomans re-covered in a striking paisley, mauve, green, orange and gold print on a black background. She replaced a wooden dining table with a glass one to create a feeling of light and space.

SINCE THERE was but one walk-in closet in the main floor master bedroom, Solomon designated that as a hers. She had floor to ceiling ginger laminate wall units built in the master bedroom, designed to handle his wardrobe and accessories along with a TV and other items.

Solomon was justifiably proud of having used many pieces she and her clients had chosen for their previous home.

"I like recycling, especially if the client doesn't fall out of love with the furniture."

To her, mixing touches of Art, Deco (the bar stools in the den, for instance) with oriental and Southwest styles is fun and challenging. "I think it keeps a very even keel, and it doesn't look spotty," she

That's true and it is due in not small measure to the neutral background colors and Solomon's subtle repetition of form and line from one room to another. The eclectic mix produces a very stylish, natural, sophisticated look.

Artist makes prints accessible

By Corinne Abatt staff writer

The official introduction of a new series of colorful reproductions of original art by a local resident will take place at the Livonia Art Fair, June 11,12, at Greenmead, 11 Mile and Newburgh, Livonia.

The artist of the 48 color drawings is Pierre Le Clerc of Bloomfield Hills. He and his wife, Dori, an artist, have already published two books for children that he wrote and she illustrated, "What Color are Your Eyes?' and "What is That Up on Top of the Weeping Willow?"

He grew up in Bordeaux, France, and before entering the retailing politan-area colleges. All of his background in literature and the arts and his experiences in Europe and the United States come into play in these works of art that he does with magic marker on pure pulp. He applies two coats of lacquer to each side of the original so it has a sheen and becomes almost translucent. Henry Obidzinski, president of Color Detroit of Ferndale, came up with the process for reproducing and presenting them that has delighted both of them for its accuracy of color and manageable, portable form. The art is photographed and the color print mounted on Gatorfoam, a lightweight, sturdy backing. A glossy laminate, which looks like glass, is ished in black and the print is ready said Le Clerc.

In addition to taking the place of frame and mat, this process keeps the price down. The 16-by-20-inch size (all in this series are the same)

There are many that will appeal to children as well as adults. While Le Clerc sees the 12 drawings, based on French folk songs as "a tool for teaching French in a pleasurable way," and many of the figures in the clown series will have special appeal to little ones, there's always a message for adults as well. One of his clowns is Pagliacci, the tragic character of opera.

"He is the first of a number of

His drawing of puppets pulling the strings of those beneath them on several levels is intended to be a statement on corporate structure as much as it is on those toys children

The group of drawings of romantic memories of Europe, which is a mix of contemporary and medieval allusions, brings the German artist Hunterwasser to mind. LeClerc will also be showing a group of purely abstract, contemporary works. Whether he's doing fanciful images or purely abstract forms reminiscent of the modernists of the '60s, Le Clerc fills his picture plane with color, detail and movement.

Adding prize money may help correct a problem that has been bothering the Livonia Arts Commission: The popular Arts and Crafts Festival was becoming more "crafty" and less "arty."

While the number of artists participating was falling, the number of craftsmen was rising.

"We saw signs of the change as early as two years ago," commission president Dan Kachanowski said. But, unfortunately, we were too busy with other details to do anything about it."

One of those details was a lastminute decision to move the two-day festival from downtown Livonia across town to Greenmead, the city's 100-acre historical site at the corner of Eight Mile and Newburgh.

Construction in the Civic Center area made the move necessary. A good share of festival parking was lost with the expansion of the police department, Kachanowski said, "and the city said it might be a good idea for the commission to look elsewhere for a festival site."

Because the decision to move was made late, "our biggest worry was that no one would show up at Greenmead."

THAT DIDN'T HAPPEN - and, in fact, Greenmead has turned out to be well suited for the festival. The festival, ranked among the top three in the state, drew thousands of people to the picturesque site.

But after the commission had a chance to evaluate the festival, it became clear that the juried festival was attracting more craftsmen than fine artists. This was disturbing.

To reverse the trend, the commission instituted cash prizes offered to entrants. The prize money will be given out on the decision of a threemember panel of judges, which will visit every exhibit and make decisions in each category.

In all, $2,000 in prize money will be given away. "That way, even if they don't sell anything, artists will have a chance at a decent commission, even if it's only on a competitive basis," said Kachanowski. "It's our way of alerting artists that we are interested in reinstating that balance that has made this event one of the finest in the state.

AN INDICATION THAT the commission may be on the right track came with the announcement by several artists in the Visual Arts Association of Livonia - for the first time - will be among the 200-plus exhibitors who will take part in the festival this weekend.

sing and downgrading your efforts before the place becomes a work of art in a frame or a ner in the bird's cage.

And the good news is that no artist is exempt from an occasional failure. Even professional artists often have failures. The difference beween students and professionals with regards to factures goes something like this. The profession a. is confident that the failure is a problem or an error that can be overcome in future works. The student judges his or her total art ability with the most recent success or failure

Marie Cook of Redford produced this exciting photogram using everyday household items.

Step #1-Make a Photogram

A photogram is the simplest kind of photograph to make. You don't even need a camera or enlarger. All that's required is a room that gets dark, photographic paper, developing chemicals, trays and your imagi-

Of course, a regular darkroom with an enlarger will give you more flexibility, but it's not really neces-

How do you make photograms, which, as a note of interest, have been around since the mid 19th cen-

The process is so simple even a child can produce them. Under safelight conditions (you can use a safelight bulb in a table lamp) lay out a piece of photographic paper.

Now, using your imagination, arrange objects on the paper such as scissors, keys, cardboard cutouts, etc. You'll find many everyday household items that can be used.

Turn on the normal room light for just a few seconds to expose the paper. Whatever you've placed in the path of the light will create a white silhouette once the paper is developed. (A brief note on developing: All that's required are three types of chemicals - developer, stop bath and fixer in that order.)

You may have to experiment to get a proper exposure time, but this won't be hard to do.

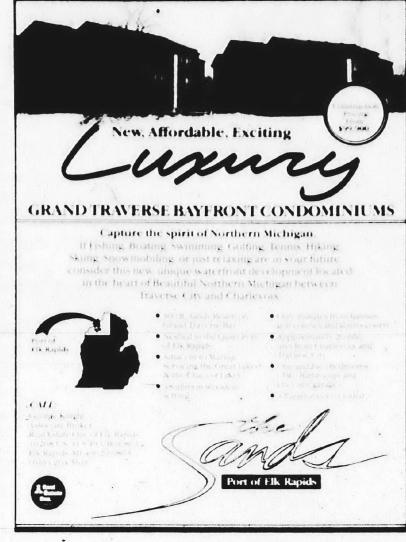

For those with darkrooms, use your enlarger as the light source, exposing with a time long enough to produce a rich black on the uncovered areas of the paper.

The sharpness of the edges of the silhouettes depends on the thickness of the object. Flat objects such as a key will produce crisp, easily recognizable shapes whereas a more three-dimensional item will result in a softer image perhaps adding more mood to your photogram.

Many amateurs will make a few photograms as a means of introduction to the darkroom, but will not continue because the process appears too easy and too limited.

This need not be true. By allowing your imagination and creativity to flow, you can come up with many exciting photogram ideas.

West Bloomfield's Best Enter Aldingbrooke through a private gate and you've entered a world that abounds with "more" of everything.

More Space...Up to 2,800 Square Feet.

Note the spaciousness of each of Aldingbrooke's 9 floor plans.

The full living space, the generous storage space, the private patio or balcony, attached garages and the lush rolling terrain. Aldingbrooke residents demand spaciousness—so each Aldingbrooke unit is designed with their needs in mind.

More Community...130 Acres.

Aldingbrooke is more than an apartment—it's a community.

A clubhouse with pool, tennis courts, walking/jogging trials, library, billiards and other activities galore. Aldingbrooke residents demand more than just a place to live, they demand a lifestyle-and Aldingbrooke provides it.

Community Festival workers promise weekend fun for all ages

Garden City is the place to be this

Organizers of this year's Garden City Community Festival are expecting thousands people to converge on Ford and Middlebelt, where most of the activity will take place.

The activity includes free entertainment - everything from clowns to rock and roll, sidewalk sales, carnival midway, arts and crafts displays and a

The carnival opens Thursday and will run through Sunday. Most events are scheduled for Friday. Saturday and Sunday

This is the eighth annual festival. It is planned by dozens of community leaders and volunteers and supervised by the chamber of commerce. Perhaps a brief history lesson is in order.

THE FIRST FESTIVAL was held in 1981 and called the Flower and Garden Show. The name was changed to the Spring Festival and changed again last year to the Community Festival.

Mitchell Nimmoor, personnel and community relations director for Garden City Hospital, came up with the idea for a community festival when he was chamber president. A committee of chamber members and other civic group leaders convened in 1981 and planned the event.

The idea is to draw local residents and those from nearby cities to Garden City's downtown. The city has been working on improvements to the downtown area. The city's downtown development agency is paying for streetscapes, which include wider sidewalks, trees and benches and decorative brick work

THE CENTER of the downtown area is The Commons, the park and gazebo area on the Ford-Middlebelt corner. The Commons was dedicated at last year's festival. This year, entertainers will perform there Festival hours are 6-10 p.m. Thursday; 6-11 p.m. Friday; noon to 11 p.m. Saturday; and noon to 10 p.m. Sunday.

The layout this year is a bit different. Carnival rides and craft booths will be in the Garden Plaza parking lot, between K mart and the Garden City Auto Parts store.

The carnival midway will open Thursday. Always popular with rides, food and games of chance - some more chancey than others - the midway will be in operation all four days.

ON FRIDAY, things begin to pick up. The flea market opens at 1 p.m. on the west side of Middlebelt at Block. next to the Biscuit Company restaurant. It will close at dusk Arts and crafts tables and booths also open at 1 p.m. and close at dusk. They will be in the Garden Plaza lot near The Commons.

Entertainment will run 6-9 p.m. and includes the Alhambra Clowns and "Rockstalgia," a band playing music from the 1960s and 1970s.

Before the music begins, though, you might want to find out if Kiwanians can cook. The Kiwanis Club sponsors a spaghetti dinner 6-10 p.m. Friday at the American Legion Hall.

Top off the pasta by visiting the Garden City Presbyterian Church's Strawberry Festival, 5-9 p.m. one block north of The Commons on Middlebelt.

SATURDAY BEGINS early and with vigor: The annual Fun Run, sponsored by the school district community education department, begins at 8:30 p.m. There is a one-mile run, a one-mile walk, and a five-kilometer run. Registration begins at 7 a.m. at City Hall. The price is $5 or $7.

Those of us interested in less-strenuous exercise can sleep a little longer Saturday morning. The Garden City (miniature golf) Open doesn't begin until 9 a.m. The price is $5 for 18 holes, sponsored by the Garden City Business and Professional Women.

The chamber of commerce will hold its chicken barbecue from noon to 8 p.m. Saturday on the site of the former Shell service station, on the southwest corner of Ford and Middlebelt.

The flea market, and arts and craft booths are open 10 a.m. to dusk Satur-

The entertainment will be cooking 1-10 p.m. Satuday. The list includes the Michigan Bell Clowns 1-2 p.m.; "Silver Strings," a hammer dulcimer group, 2-3 p.m.; Alhambra Clowns 3-4 p.m.; a mime group 4-5 p.m.; and the "Big Band Express, 7-10 p.m.

SUNDAY FESTIVITIES begin at 12:30 p.m. Sunday at City Hall with the Diaper Derby, a good way to start

The flea market, and arts and crafts booths, if anything is left, will be open noon-dusk Sunday.

The chamber will cook chickens on the barbecue again noon to 5 p.m., and entertainment will run 2-5 p.m.

The Garden City Karate Club will hit the stage at 2 p.m., and the Michigan Bell Clowns will return at 3 p.m.

The final entertainment for the day will be the guitar group Gumina, 4-5 p.m. The midway rides will close around 10 p.m.

Then it's time to pack it all up until

A T-shirt is also given to those who register in advance.

A new incentive to encourage runners to register early is a baseball autographed by Detroit Tigers. A drawing to award the ball will be held Saturday morning only for advance registrants.

Registration forms are available at Cambridge Aduld and Community Education Center, 28901 Cambridge, and public buildings in the city.

Fees are $7, or $5 for senior citizens and children younger than 12. Money from the event goes to a scholarship fund at the school district's community education department

Applications are to be submitted to the Cambridge Center office.

Who will fill these running shoes? Ten-year-old Robyn Strasser, that's who. during last year's Fun Run. She isn't sure if she will run this year, for the run Renee Gismondi, 6, gets ready to sink a putt for par (or is it birdie?) while her-father, Rocco Gismondi, looks on. They're preparing for the Garden City BPW Golf Tournament 9 a.m. to noon Saturday at Ford Road miniature golf course on Ford at Central.

Golfers ready for BPW Open

They hit the greens swinging. More accurately, contestants in the annual Garden City Open hit the greens putting

The Garden City Business and Professional Women's Club and Ford Road Miniature Golf sponsor this tourney every year during the festival. This year, it's 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, with the rain date being the next day.

Tee times are staggered for the 18hole course.

You can enter as individuals or teams, and there are plenty of winners. The overall low score gets the Mayor's Trophy; other pizes go for individual and team low scores; hole in one; and two mystery game prizes.

Register in one of five age brackets. Price is $5 adults, $4 teens, $3.50 preteens, $3 juniors and senior citizens.

The miniature golf tournament is one of the club's annual fund-raisers. Money is used for the advancement of women and working women and supports scholarships and contributions to community groups.

Registration forms can be dropped off at Garden City Miniature Golf, 29060 Ford at Central, and at Orin Jewelers, Ford and Middlebelt.

George Gosdzinski (left) and Pete Tavormina are whooping it up in anticipation of the Community Festival flea market to be held this weekend. A good bargain will be had by all, the two organizers say.

A carnival on the northwest corner of Ford-Middlebelt will provide lots of fun for youngsters — and parents watching them.

Maybe we could revise - just a little - the name of the 1988 Garden City Community Fest.

We could call it the 1988 Garden City Community Feast. Why, you bound to improve your gastronomical spirits. Friday, for example, the Kiwanis Club will cook a whole lot of spaghetti, 3-8 p.m., at the American Legion Hall, on Middlebelt just south

Most of Saturday and Sunday, the chamber of commerce will host its annual chicken barbecue on the site of southwest corner of Ford and Middlebelt. The chicken will be available noon to 8 p.m. Friday and noon to 5

There will also be items of the fastfood variety - hot dogs, pop corn, candy apples - available at the mid-

And as if that weren't enough to cause grumbling in the stomach of any self-respecting dieter, consider this:

The Garden City Presbyterian Church is having a Strawberry Festival. 5-9 p.m. Friday, on the church lawn at 1841 Middlebelt.

Bon appetite!
