Driving fatality case is settled

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

The family of a Canton woman killed in a drunk driving accident has settled a civil suit with Charles Triplett, the driver convicted in the fatality, and Bill's Market.

Georgenna Nix and Triplett, her boyfriend, reportedly bought beer at Bill's Market in Plymouth's Old Village June 4, 1986. Both were 18. The couple then went to Washtenaw County's Silver Lake State Park to celebrate the last day of school at a beach party. On their way home in the Nix family's 1981 Chevette, Triplett and Nix crashed into an oak tree at a point 7 feet above the ground. Police estimated the car, in a 20 mph zone, was traveling at 70-80 mph. Nix was killed instantly. Triplett suffered closed head injuries. Triplett's blood alcohol level was .11. A level of .10 is considered legally drunk in Michigan. The wrongful death action was settled out of court for $54,000 after a year of negotiation, said attorney Cheryl Kirby, whose Ypsilanti firm represented the Nixes against Charges McNamara, former owner of Bill's Market and the son of Wayne County executive Edward McNamara, were dropped. McNamara also was absolved of any financial liability. It couldn't be proved that Triplett purchased the alcohol, said Charles Gallagher, McNamara's attorney. McNamara was unavailable for comment. 'When they couldn't prove that Triplett purchased the alcohol, or that Georgenna didn't, they didn't have a case against Bill's Market," said Gallagher. "It came out quite clearly that he (McNamara) was not there at the store at the time when this alleged purchase took place," he added. Bill's Market was not insured during the three years McNamara owned it, Gallagher said. Until last

AIDS control

Nurse crusading for use of gloves

By Arlene Funke staff writer

Barbara Hobley of Plymouth Township loves the pressure-cooker world of the hospital emergency

"It's so interesting," said Hobley, a registered nurse at Sinai Hospital of Detroit. "It takes a whole variety of nursing skills. It's a learned and growing experience every-

But, like most health workers, she fears becoming contaminated contact with infected blood. She is crusading to have emergency-room nurses wear gloves when drawing blood or preparing intravenous medication and feeding.

"I wouldn't say I'm preoccupied with AIDS," Hobley said. "But as a nurse, I'm drawing blood or starting I.V.s from people we have no medical history on.

"Everyone is concerned about AIDS," she added. "I'm not perfect. I don't always wear gloves."

HOBLEY, WHO is taking classes with the deadly AIDS virus through at University of Detroit, recently did a study that indicated only "moderate compliance" among emergency-room nurses in use of protective gloves.

The U.S. Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta recommends gloves for any worker who might come into contact with the virus that causes AIDS. Nationally, a few workers have become infected.

School study task force ready to go

By Doug Funke staff writer

They have a name - Community Researching Educational Workings. They have a mission - to develop an action plan to better capitalize on the strengths and improve the weaknesses of the Plymouth-Canton schools

They are a core committee of about a dozen people with nearly two dozen more waiting to contribute on a variety of subcommittees.

They are ready to go. All they need is the formal go-ahead from the school board, which they expect to get next Monday during a special board meeting.

'We're all on the same wavelength at this point," said Annette Remsburg, CREW chairwom-

"THERE'S A SENSE we need to take a look at the broad picture, do a comparable analysis how we fare against other districts in the area and nationally," she said.

The investigation could last most if not all of the 1988-89 academic

CREW's core committee was chosen from people who expressed an interest in serving, to Remsburg, or who brought some kind of special question or concern to school administrators, she said.

Remsburg was asked by Superintendent John M. Hoben to chair the committee.

The committee is expected to grow to as large as 50 members. A consultant has been working with the core committee to develop a survey on a wide variety of topics to be given to a scientific sampling within the district, Remsburg said. SHOULD THE committee get the board's blessing to proceed next week, her timetable calls for comtember and tabulating the results by the end of October. Many of the subcommittees will be established after survey results

pleting the survey by the end of Sep-are known, Remsburg said. She also hopes to examine board policies and procedures. Remsburg again reiterated that the core committee - and eventually the entire study committee wants to remain as independent as possible to conduct an impartial

"It was made very clear (Monday) we would work with the board, not for the board," she said.

The idea of a citizen's advisory committee surfaced after a fourth property tax proposal in 18 months failed at the polls last June.

Special ed tax back on ballot

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Wayne County voters will have a second chance to decide on a tax increase for special education pro-

The proposed tax increased failed, 110,376-103,355, in the Aug. 2 prima-

The closeness of the vote made county intermediate school board members optimistic about the issue's chances in the fall. The board voted Wednesday to put the issue on the Nov. 8 general election ballot. Wayne County Intermediate Schools would have had to wait until the August 1990 state primary if trustees hadn't placed it on the November ballot.

"We can only seek a millage increase during a state election," associate superintendent James Greiner said. "So, we would have had to wait two years.

"REALLY, THAT (the Aug. 2 defeat) was not a significant loss,' Greiner said.

At the same time the special education tax failed, county voters narrowly approved a similar tax increase for jails.

"I don't think that (the jail proposal) had that much of an impact," Greiner said. "People pretty much voted straight up - keeping the issues separate.'

The fact that schools weren't in session might have had a bigger impact, Greiner added. "That probably affected voter turnout.' County intermediate school board members sought the 1-mill increase to end "charge backs" to local school

Because the county's existing 1mill special education tax no longer fully finances specialized special education programs, local school districts had been billed for services. Charge backs involved regional special education centers that provide programs for youngsters with severe mental, physical and emotional disabilities ranging from paralysis to autism. Standard special education programs, operated independently by each public school district, weren't involved. Charge backs had run into hundreds of thousands of dollars for some districts.

Local districts might not be billed for 1988-89 school year programs if the tax increase is approved in November, Greiner said. Bills for the 1986-87 school year will soon be sent to school districts, he added. Bills for the last school year would also have Samuel Hudson Jr., a longtime Plymouth resident and local historian, was remembered by friends this week as a perfectionist who was straightforward in his dealings with people. Mr. Hudson died Monday at St.

Mary Hospital, Livonia. He was 77. A memorial service will be conducted at a later date, probably next month, the family said While Mr. Hudson made his living in advertising and public relations, history was his avocation. Among his works were "The Story of Plymouth, Michigan: A Midwest

Microcosm," "Reaching Out . . . A History of Schoolcraft College" and "Michigan's Tenth Largest - A History of the Plymouth-Canton Community School District, 1830-1986."

MR. HUDSON stipulated that proceeds from the sales of those volumes go to endowments and foundations servicing those organizations. Mr. Hudson also wrote a weekly column for the Observer.

'Sam was probably one of the most sincere people I have ever known," said John Gaffield. "You could believe every word he said. He never pulled any punches. He was a perfectionist in everything he did."

excellent researcher," said Jack Wilcox. "After I came to know him and (wife) Jessie, it was as if I had grown up with him." "He never failed to respond cheerfully to our requests for his special talents," said Bruce Richard, president of the Plymouth Historical Society. "He was a very nice man, a

"I THINK HE was a wonderful gentleman and an outstanding talent whose skills will be missed in this community," said John M. Hoben, school superintendent.

TRIPLETT, NOW 20, was sentenced in May 1987 to 11/2 to 15 years in prison after being convicted of involuntary manslaughter by Washtenaw Circuit, Judge Ross Campbell. Two months later, Campbell delayed the sentence. He sent Triplett to "Detroit Teen Challenge." a one-year, in-patient alcohol rehabilitation program. YONO, NOW a reserve officer with the Livonia Police Department, said there ought to be repercussions for the minor who buys alcohol.

"I don't think there's any law pertaining to that," said Yono, who has liability insurance. "If someone comes in with fake ID, (and is later apprehended), they can get away with it. They don't get a ticket. They get a spank. The licensee himself gets in a jam (with law enforce-

"Selling to minors just is not worth it," Yono said.

"You're giving someone a license to kill, especially these teenagers."

"We will not sell to anybody without positive proof if they're in that (questionable age) area. We've asked 30-year-olds for ID," and sometimes customers give employees a hard time, he added.

Beard and attorneys involved with the case are encouraged by Triplett's progress.

"We want to see him to continue to do well. A lot of times offenders, being as young as they are, feel like they're missing out on too much (by giving up drugs and alcohol)," said Beard.

"You hate to see someone like that waste their life," said Kirby. "I'm just glad everything happened the way it did (with the settlement). Hopefully everyone can go on with their lives.

clarification

The League of Women Voters state president Nancy White was among the campaign contributors listed in financial statements by reelected Plymouth Township Trustee Abe Munfakh, as reported by the Observer. The $50 contribution was a donation made by White and her husband, not by the League of Women Voters. The non-partisan league neither supports nor opposes political candidates.

The Korean conflict, a military police action that ended 35 years ago this summer, is memorable in American war history for many reasons.

During the three years it raged, from June 1950 to July 1953, some 6 million uniformed Americans fought for terrain aptly dubbed No Name Ridge or Heart Break Hill at a cost of $10 billion to U.S. taxpayers.

BY THE time a peace agreement was signed, establishing the 38th parallel as an artificial division between North and South Korea, most Americans wanted to forget what has become the nation's "forgotten

John Najduk of Westland carries the memory in the form of shrapnel still embedded deep in his chest. He was hit by mortar as a 23-year-old during the battle of Pork Chop Hill in January 1953. He was lucky to

"It landed in between three of us.

Najduk, a member of the White Eagle chapter of the Polish League of American Veterans in Livonia, was awarded the Purple Heart.

When Najduk was drafted into the army in 1952, "I adjusted my brain," he said. "I was a good little soldier."

The average age of servicemen who served in Korea was 21 years, compared to 24 in World War II and 19 in Vietnam.

KOREAN VETERAN Larry Sharp of Redford Township said the two-year edge in age over Vietnam vets is one reason why Korean vets had an easier time returning home and picking up the threads of their

This legacy of the Korean war was contained in a recent letter from disabled veteran Fred Porman of LivoKorea and now uses a wheelchair because he has rheumatoid arthritis.

Of the 5.7 million who served in Korea, an estimated 5 million are still alive. But unlike veterans of nia who suffered severe frostbite in previous wars, a national monument has yet to be erected in their honor.

A tribute is now planned, providing enough money is donated to pay for the project, according to Col. William Ryan Jr. who is heading up efforts to erect a monument opposite the reflecting pool near the Vietnam war memorial in Washington, D.C.

So far, nearly $2.3 million has been received from 396 donors. Before construction can begin, some $6 million must be raised. If the money is raised, the memorial could be completed by summer 1991, 41 years

The one huge caveat is the target amount," Ryan said.

IRONICALLY, THE primary source of funding to date is from S.H. Park, a Korean national who wishes to "convey a small token of gratitude for the supreme sacrifices your countrymen made to the defense of our freedom and liberty.

Area delegate gives up seat

An area delegate to the GOP national convention is one of the key players in a bid to bring harmony to Republican ranks.

Andy Anuzis, a Redford-area GOP district chairman, is one of five delegates who will give up their seats to Pat Robertson supporters in an attempt to forge unity within the state

Democrats' show of unity at their recent Atlanta convention "was a factor in my decision," Anuzis said.

INITIALLY A supporter of U.S. Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., Anuzis was expected to cast a convention ballot for vice president George Bush. But he was asked to yield his seat to a Robertson supporter in the name of party unity.

"State Sen. Dick Posthumus (who spearheaded the Kemp campaign in Michigan) asked me to give up my seat," Anuzis said. "We both felt it would be a clear show of unity. So, even though it's a personal loss, it's important to the party.'

Former Gov. George Romney, a Bush delegate, and three other Kemp backers, including Anuzis' brother, Saul, gave up seats to supporters of television evangelist Rob-Anuzis, a Redford resident, is chairman of the 17th District GOP, a group representing Republicans in Redford Township, Southfield and adjacent areas of Wayne and Oakland counties.

THE PACT between the Bush and Robertson camps is expected to head off a credentials battle at the GOP National Convention, Aug. 15-18.

A bitter split between Bush and Robertson factions emerged during January's GOP delegate selection process. In several districts, including the Livonia-Plymouth 2nd District, Bush supporters and a conservative Robertson-Kemp group selected rival delegate slates.

Anuzis isn't joining other Kemp supporters in the conservative Kemp-Robertson bloc.

The pact gives Robertson 13 of the state's 77 votes at the national convention. Bush, the expected nominee, gets the others.

The agreement also shelves an intraparty lawsuit and provides for "honorary delegate" status so that some 30 Robertson supporters can sit with the Michigan delegation this month in the New Orleans Superdome, party leaders said.

"PROVING WE are right . . . at the expense of having Michael Dukakis as the leader of the free world is a price that we're not willing to said Lori Packer of Southfield, the Michigan director of Americans for Robertson. "Our differences are minimal compared to what we face in the fall.'

CAPE, NOW 56, served in Korea from early 1951 to 1953. In retrospect, he understands what it was all

It was something we had to do. South Korea is in the United Nations. We were protecting the United Nations, one country helping another small country. It was for a cause and Cape, a member of the American Legion, Post 32 in Livonia, rarely speaks about his Korean experience.

'It was as bloody as any of them. We lost a lot of guys. I lost a few buddies. They fell for their country,'

And for those who survived, "We put in our time and came home. We want no glory," Cape said.

During one 24-hour period in early 1951, 402 men lost their lives in a bloody battle for the city of Seoul, In all, more than 54,000 U.S. servicemen died, a number nearly equal to that of Vietnam but in one-third of the time

The ultimate fate of 389 confirmed prisoners of war is still unknown.

For the first time ever in warfare, napalm was used in support of ground troops and helicopters evacuated the wounded from battle. More than 103,000 survived their wounds. When polled shortly after hostilities began, more than half of the U.S. population thought World War III had started.

The notion was dispelled by Gen Douglas MacArthur, commander of U.S. troops in Korea, who by the second year of the conflict was calling it "an entirely new kind of war with a hopeless no-win legacy. A war without victory."

MacArthur was fired for criticizing U.S. foreign policy by President Harry Truman.

It's fun, but Jackie Stewart will be delighted when the Republican National Convention is over.

An aide to Oakland prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson, Stewart is housing chairperson of the 77-member Michigan delegation heading for New Orleans to nominate candidates for president and vice president.

"We'll house close to 400 people," she said, running over the list of delegates, alternates, guests, donors, 11 honorary delegates and 60 media people she must fit into the luxurious Fairmont Hotel, a favorite haunt of the legendary Huey Long.

MICHIGAN, IN case you've been in a cocoon for seven months, wasn't an easy delegation to handle. For six months, there were two rival delegations. Not until July 25 did they work out a compromise.

"My biggest problem was that the rooms were scheduled to go back to the national committee," she said, meaning that unreserved rooms were to be parceled out by the national party. "We didn't want to give them back. But it was not a major

As it turned out, the Bush, Kemp and Robertson presidential factions compromised, with one Bush and four Kemp delegates voluntarily resigning and five Robertson people taking those seats.

Stewart arranged Michigan attendance at New Orleans events honoring first lady Nancy Reagan and the vice president's wife, Barbara Bush.

She also arranged a Mississippi riverboat cruise, tickets to "home parties" in New Orleans for the delegates, a booklet listing all attendees, a calendar of events and Patterson's own reception.

IT'S HIGHLY unusual that Patterson is chairing the Michigan delegation. That honor usually goes to a sitting governor or the state party chairman, E. Spencer Abraham.

But Abraham retained absolute neutrality in the intraparty war and bowed out as a national convention delegate. So the delegates elected

AST WEEK'S Plymouth Township election was too close for comfort for incumbent supervisor Maurice Breen.

Despite some hefty election spending, Breen squeaked by challenger James Irvine by only a couple of hundred votes.

Breen spent $13,650 for his campaign compared to $3,860 spent by Irvine and $1,201 by Jerry Raymor, another opponent. Breen raised $20,000 for his campaign coffers, according to preprimary campaign reports.

The close race between Breen and Irvine shows that at least some of those residents who care enough about their township government to vote want a change

FOR BREEN to best serve his constituency, in the $44,000-a-year job, he must open lines of communication between his office at township hall and the people he serves.

During the campaign, Breen said the supervisor should bring leadership to the job, find solutions to problems for the township board and act as the administrative head of government to ensure residents are served.

Breen should add another point to his list: Jearn to communicate better and more often with the public.

Irvine and Raymor missed their final destination, but their campaigns were worthwhile because of the important issues that surfaced. They also did a commendable job in shaking up — at least a bit — a politician who may have grown too comfortable in his job.

During the campaign, Irvine pointed out two township problems.

He wants the county to come up with a better way to serve residents on trash disposal. Irvine also suggests examining cityhood in order to reap state gas and weight tax dollars.

Raymor, 41, a systems manager for Ford Motor Co., talked about "instilling confidence back in government" by eliminating what he called Breen's iron-fisted rule. He also cited low morale among township employees.

THE COMMUNITY is richer because of their campaigns. Hopefully they will remain active in the political arena.

The reins remain in Breen's capable hands for the third consecutive four-year term. He should be applauded for a job well done. Taxes are relatively low, residential growth is high and developers still eye prime land.

He earned votes because of his commendable job in pushing for adequate sewer capacity through participation in the Western Township Utility Authority. He also played a vital role in developing a consortium between Plymouth, Canton and Northville to deal with trash dispos-

The Observer recommended Breen's election because we believe he was the best of the three candidates for supervisor. However, he needs to stengthen his leadership ability by fine-tuning his listening skills.

Day care

Reform must target real need

T IS TRITE today to say you are in favor of day care reform. Everybody, it seems, recognizes the need for quality day care: And unlike the weather, some people seem ready to do something about it. But in the rush to endear themselves to working women, politicians should forsake the rhetoric and deal with the needs. Otherwise the costs, both social and financial, could be harmful for years to come

Both presidential candidates are ready to open the nation's pocketbooks for day care. George Bush has unveiled a plan based on a $1,000 tax credits for low-income mothers that will cost $2.2 billion. Michael Dukakis has already voiced $2.2 billion. Michael Dukakis has already voiced support for the so-called ABC legislation, priced at $2.5 billion to supply quality day care through grants to states and local governments. Ev Dirkson was right. These billions do add up.

Before getting submerged in the debate, it is wise to consider two critical distinctions:

• Point One. There is a difference between affordable day care and quality day care. Quality day care is the prime concern for working couples with decent incomes. These people can fit the cost of day care into their budgets, so their main concern is that the day care environment be not only safe but also loving and educational. This, of course, is also a concern of lower-income families and especially of single parents, assually mothers. But these people also have to face the problem of affordable day care in a state where the average cost for day care is about $3,000 a year and where $5,000-a-year expenses are not unusual.

 Point Two. The day care question is often defined as a woman's problem. As long as this is The case, a truly fair and workable solution may the out of reach. Day care should be no more a woman's issue than health care or retirement benefits. But the fact remains that many people are quite comfortable with the idea of child care falling solely to mothers. Thus, when George Bush talks about his tax credit, it is to appease those who feel mothers should have the right to stay at home. He says nothing about fathers staying at home.

Look at one example to see how these distinctions come into play. Some people argue that government funding for day care centers rewards working mothers and penalizes families where the mother chooses to stay at home. These people make a good point for the wrong reasons.

These people beg the question because they re-

The day care question is often defined as a woman's problem. As long as this is the case, a truly fair and workable solution may be out of reach.

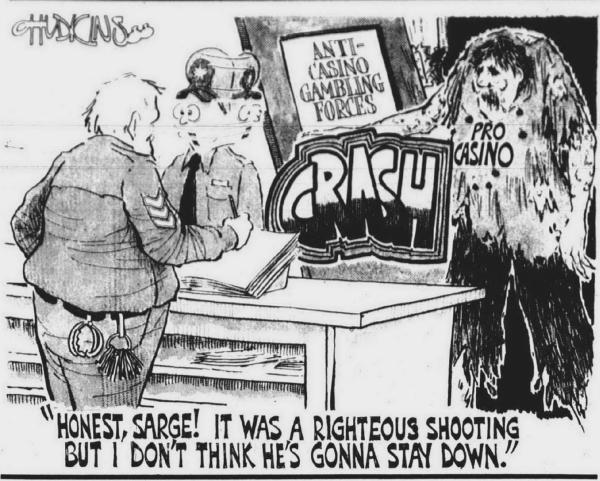

legate child care exclusively to the mother. Enter Point Two. If the world changed tomorrow and half the fathers were given child care duties, businesses would subsidize day care overnight. Or look at it this way: How many men would seriously consider George Bush's offer to quit work in exchange for a $1,000 tax credit? The day care debate must get off its sexist center before meaningful reform is likely.

That said, it must also be emphasized that working couples with reasonable incomes should absorb day care costs themselves. Their interest lies more in convenience, flexible scheduling and, of course, quality. Enter Point One. When discussing the cost of day care, the issue should be less one of family and more one of income. Emphasis on subsidies must go to low-income families and single parents. It is difficult to improve yourself financially if the entry level job barely pays for the day care.

This is just the starting point for what needs to be a national debate and a national plan of action for day care. Government must ensure safe and nurturing environments in day care centers. Businesses must do what they can to help their employees with day care, especially by providing on-site day care such as is the case with Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills.

Meeting the day care demand is necessary for both the care of our children and the efficient functioning of our business community. Right now, more than half the state's children under 12 have mothers who work. Failing to provide appropriate care for those children has chilling social implications. And mothers who stay home because they cannot find affordable or dependable day care represent a double financial loss: first, the economy loses the benefit of their talents; second, the lowered family income decreases the purchases made in that household.

The message should be clear to businesses and to politicians: More than lip service is needed to meet the day care crisis.

governor was steaming when he learned about the 10 percent to 19 percent tuition increases some Michigan universities will impose in fall.

Remember train safety

To the editor:

After reading the letter in the Aug. Observer concerning the train accident I felt compelled to write.

I also believe it would be a great public service to do an article concerning train safety in the Plymouth and surrounding areas. I cannot understand why anyone would hold the railroad responsible for a vehicle going around the gates (which I understand is a traffic violation). The train in question did not leave the tracks and hit Miss Loftus' vehicle. She went around other traffic and the gates into the path of the train. She is so lucky to be alive.

My husband was on that train and immediately went to her aid to possibly save her life. It's not a scene he will soon forget. It's very distressing to railroad personnel to see these accidents coming and to not be able to react fast enough to prevent it. (Those trains cannot stop on a dime.)

Police departments and railroads cannot emphasize enough to never go around the gates. Those gates are there for a reason and the safety of the public is the most important reason. If the gates are down at a crossing please choose an alternate route. I do all the time. I guess I place more value on my life then some

Please also remember that every time this type of accident happens it affects at least three railroad men and their families. Its not an easy thing to forget.

Voters lauded for obligation

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the voters who braved the oppressive heat to participate in Tuesday's primary election.

You are the people who view voting not as an option, but as an obligation. You are the people who form the foundation of our Republic, and act as the guardians of the public trust. You are the people who have borne the burden and affirmed the glory of a government by and for the people.

Thank you. Thaddeus G. McCotter

Kind act appreciated

To the editor:

Election Day of Aug. 2, will be long remembered for its recordbreaking heat and high humidity. The poll workers worked over 16 hours in an uncomfortably hot gymnasium. The drinking fountains were spouting tepid water, doing little to quench our thirst.

Then Mona Irvine arrived in the late afternoon with a large thermos of ICE COLD water. What a delicious and refreshing drink that was to us. This kind and simple gesture revived us somewhat and helped to keep us functioning until the end of a very long day. We thank you, Mona, for the water

Accident is a lesson

To the editor:

In the July 18 Observer there was an article about Susan Loftus being struck by a train while going around the train gates.

In the August 1 Observer Susan's sister wrote saying it was insensitive of the Observer to print officer (Dave) Boljesic, saying "On occasion some people think they can out distance the train. It's a very dangerous move obviously.'

This is a very tragic accident, and it will take lots of time and healing for the hurts to go away. Let us remember though that when we choose to do an inappropriate behavior, there are consequences for this behavior. Susan is suffering through this consequence at present along with her family. The officer and the Observer were trying to have Susan's unfortunate accident keep someone else from doing the same inappropriate behavior and maybe being killed.

When tragedies like this happen to people they can choose to be bitter. or they can go on and sometimes they go on to much better things than they ever expected of them-

Against all odds

Words from a 'Comrade in Arms'

IN EFFECT, this is an open letter to a young man of 20 who has achieved an amazing plateau of success despite stupendous odds against it, odds which have existed since the day he was born without a right hand. I'm speaking, of course, of Jim Abbott, who signed a professional baseball contract six days ago to pitch in the farm system of the American League's California An-

IF YOUR memory needs refreshing, Abbott was a good pitcher and also football quarterback at Flint Central High School, went on to a brilliant Big Ten pitching record at the University of Michigan, won the recent Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athlete, and quite likely will be on the mound for the U.S. Olympic baseball team in September in Seoul.

But this is not about those successes, all matters of record. It's to peer into moments his cheering admirers know nothing of, things from his growing-up years he doesn't talk about, things even those who may have called him their "short-armed friend" didn't know he would remember. From the experiences of another man, 52 years Abbott's senior, I would like to ask Jim:

In retrospect:

McNamara a problem-solver

HAVE WAYNE County's problems been solved?

It would appear that way - at least on the surface.

County executive Edward McNamara and county commissioners can look back over the past nine months and point with pride to substantial legislation designed to rid the county of its massive debt and a successful millage campaign designed to make county streets safer

In December, it was a package of bills designed to remove county debt by raising Metro Airport parking fees and increasing the state ciga-campaign for a 1-mill tax increase to expand county jail space.

In July, it was a series of agreements on health care for needy county residents - arguably the largest source of county debt.

WHO COULD have predicted each of these three events would have taken place - and so quickly when the new executive and commission took their seats in January

In retrospect, it seems McNamara was particularly astute when it came to fund-raising. It seems he possessed a sixth sense, knowing just how much people would be willing to spend - and for what.

A tax increase for jail space would Just last week, it was a successful fly, it seemed - especially in crimeweary neighborhoods, not all of them in Detroit. Raising property taxes to bail out debt-ridden county government, with widespread suspicion about the way past county activities were managed, probably wouldn't. It's no wonder county officials are Wayne so optimistic these days.

> BUT BEHIND the optimism, behind the sunny skies, there are con-> safe skies and cut down on flying. The landmark health care agreement, in part, rests on the willingness of hospitals to absorb cost overruns, while still providing service to patients who cannot pay their own

> And county officials concede that even the hefty tax hike for jails won't put all of Wayne County's dangerous criminals behind bars.

But it's possible to retain some skepticism about end results, while still marveling at the efficiency with which these major county problems were addressed.

It seems something valuable has been forged here. A new spirit of cooperation between the executive and legislative branches seems to have been born. Maybe there's also the beginning of a new era of trust between county government and the citizens it supposedly represents.

THIS, IT seems, was the way county government was supposed to work back when county voters approved a new charter - with a strong executive providing guidance to commissioners, rather than bickering with them; with a county commission deciding on clear, obtainable goals, rather than overloading proposed solutions with a series of special interest projects.

This is the way county government now appears to be functioning. And who in January 1987 could have predicted that would come to

Teammates go for the gold

By Julie Brown staff writer

The state softball tournament for Michigan Special Olympics attracted teams from such outstate communities as Grayling, Roscommon, Muskegon, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Flint.

Not all of the athletes traveled a great distance to the tournament, however Wayne and Oakland counties were also well-represented at the tournament, hosted by the Canton Softball Center.

Summertime travels expand their horizons

By Julie Brown staff writer

When Wendy Severson, Judy Barnett and Allison Partain return to school this fall, they'll have plenty to talk about.

The girls won't tell tales of a routine summer vacation. Their summer has included a trip to England and France, representing the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council and Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

They were among 12 southeastern Michigan Girl Scouts who traveled to West Yorkshire, England, for an international encampment. Girls from the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council joined Canadian and English Girl Guides in the international event, known as the Hill 'N Dale

The trip included time in London and Paris. For 13-year-old Allison Partain, seeing "The Phantom of the Opera" in London was exciting.

That was just one of the big highlights for me," said Allison, an eighth grader at East Middle School. She is the daughter of John and Phyllis Partain of Plymouth and a member of Cadette Troop 367.

FELLOW TRAVELER Wendy Severson, the daughter of Harold and Darlene Severson of Plymouth Township, was also among those representing the U.S. She is a member of Senior Girl Scout Troop 501, as is Judy Barnett, a 17-year-old senior at Ladywood High School in Livonia. Barnett is the daughter of Daniel and Carol Barnett of Canton.

For Wendy Severson, seeing Westminster Abbey in London was a highlight of the trip; she also enjoyed the rest of her visit, including staying with an English family in the village of Delph.

'I had a good time," said Severson, a 17-year-old senior at Plymouth Canton High School. Judy Barnett enjoyed a trip she took to a photography/television museum not too far from Halifax.

ing the news. She got to watch that tape and also operated a television camera. She met her English pen pal; Barnett took the train and visited the girl in Burnley, about 15 miles from Halifax.

'And we went to different pubs," Judy Barnett said.

Bob Spanier, one of the Plymouth-Canton Thundercats, pitches for his team.

Many members of the Plymouth-Canton Thundercats are avid Detroit Tigers fans.

Over the weekend, those athletes weren't just following the progress of the Tigers. The Thundercats, a Special Olympics team, participated in the state softball tournament, held at the Canton Softball Center.

The Thundercats had reason to be proud Saturday; team members won first place in Division 10.

'Very happy for them" is how coach Michael Keith felt after his team won first place.

'I guess baseball's probably about as American as apple pie," said Keith, a Plymouth resident. The athletes enjoy playing softball and also enjoy following the Detroit Tigers.

The team trophy will most likely stay at the Plymouth Opportunity House and also at the Round Table House in Canton, Keith said. Many team members come from those two group homes; having the trophy at the homes will "let them all enjoy it, brag over it.'

MANY OF THE parents of athletes were able to come to the state tournament, Keith said.

"It's very convenient." Having the tournament close to home eliminates the travel time and logistical problems involved in moving players, coaches and chaperones.

"I think they enjoy it," Keith said. Athletes and the others enjoyed being close to home for the state

The Thundercats had both a team and a skills group at the state tournament, with a total of 25 athletes participating; Keith coaches both the skills group and the team athletes.

The Plymouth-Canton athletes have been training since Memorial Day, working on fielding, catching and hitting. They also went into scrimmage, playing each other or teams from nearby communities.

"I think they're ready," Keith said Saturday morning. "They're ready to play ball.

Keith has been coaching the Plymouth-Canton athletes for about three years; his 15-year-old son, Neil, is a team member who plays second

"It's a great activity for him." Other fathers coach Little League teams: Keith chooses to coach the Thundercats.

KEITH HAS the help of several assistant coaches. Those coaches are Chuck Thomas, Leigh Langkabel, Marsha Walzak and Bill Thomas.

Keith and the assistant coaches vere looking forward to the state tournament. They knew the Thundercats were ready to play ball.

During one scrimmage, it was about 93 degrees outside. The coaches didn't expect the Plymouth-Canton Thundercats would be able to play well that day.

"They started to click, they started to play ball out there," Keith said. "They didn't need a coach then. They just started playing."

Some of the athletes Keith has coached have improved significantly, they've been able to move on to play in more competitive leagues.

Plymouth-Canton Thundercats are: Sean Bowers, Mary Brennen, Gary Chmieweleski, Robert Early, James Denton, Willie Gilyard, Dorothy Grunst, Joanie Heaton, Terry Jergins, Brian Johnson, Terri Katlein, Neil Keith.

Others are: Ann Reid, John Robertson, Rita Rossow, Rodger Roller, Carl Sabuda, Christopher Sockow, Tommy Southard, Bob Spanier, Ron Walzak, David West, Michael Pilotto, Patti Stram and Gerald Batke.

Coaches, athletes and parents weren't the only participants in the weekend tournament; many other volunteers also gave of their time and talents.

Stan Socha of Canton was busy Saturday morning serving as the announcer for a game between a Washtenaw County team and an Arenac County team.

"It's going great so far," Arnold said Saturday of the tournament. Some rescheduling of games had to be done, due to Friday's weather, but things worked out just fine.

On Saturday, skills competition and team competition were held. Closing ceremonies were held that afternoon, with the winning teams

TEAM TROPHIES were given for first-, second- and third-place teams in each of the 10 divisions. Members of those winning teams received medals, with other team athletes receiving ribbons. Awards were also given for skills partici-

Having the state tournament in Canton was convenient for Pidsosny, the Wayne County area director for Special Olympics.

"Oh, I love it. It took me five minutes to get here. It's been real nice." Her husband, Rick, was also keeping busy at the tournament on Saturday, helping to keep score. Rick Pidsosny is assistant area director for Wayne County Special Olympics.

The Wayne County athletes held a Friday celebration for Susie Pidsosny, who was celebrating her birthday that day. Although the Wayne County delegation was close to home for the tournament, members stayed at the Holiday Inn at Metro Airport. Other Special Olympics athletes from throughout the state stayed either at that Holiday Inn or at the Airport Hilton

The Wayne County athletes enjoyed staying at the airport hotel, Pidsosny said. That also makes it easier to keep track of the athletes. "They have a good time." Wayne County athletes remembered their irlends from the Special Olympics state summer games.

WAYNE COUNTY had about 195 athletes competing; athletes ranged in age from 8 on up to 60 or so. Wayne County also had about 75 coaches and chaperones participating in the state tournament, Pidsosny said.

Oakland County had a delegation of 50, including coaches and athletes, at the state event, said Nancy Joseph, Oakland County's area di-

Having the tournament close to home was helpful, she said.

"It's nicer for our parents." Even so, the parents don't mind driving a distance to attend Special Olympics events.

'You've got to kind of rotate it to be fair," Joseph said.

Special Olympics athletes must be at least 8 years old; the oldest Oakland County athlete competing over the weekend was about 50, with the youngest from that county age 14 or 15.

The Oakland County athletes went through an eight-week training program, preparing for the state tournament.

Joseph has been Oakland County area director for Special Olympics for 20 months. She started volunteering with Special Olympics about 10 years ago as a college stu-

"I think the biggest change is in the abilities of the athletes." When she started volunteering, the athletes' skills weren't as sharp as they are now. They didn't understand the concepts of the games to the extent they do today. When people see Special Olympics athletes compete, they're often impressed with just how well those athletes do, Joseph said. She's now accustomed to seeing the athletes play well. 'This is what should be going on." She'd like to see that become as natural for other people as it is Both summer programs are designed to help foster a love of reading. Preschool children and their parents enjoyed reading stories together in the "Read-To-Me" program; the older children read on their own. Each Dunning-Hough Library program lasted six weeks.

who played the keyboard and sang a variety of fun-filled songs. The Mask Puppet Theatre, also based in Ann Arbor, was featured during the afternoon session for school-age youngsters.

THIS SUMMER'S "Passport to Adventure" program has included a variety of activity sessions, held on Tuesday afternoons. Children participating in that program signed a contract at the beginning of the summer. Each child indicated how many books he or she would read, with three books as the minimum.

Children who fulfilled their contracts were invited to the awards celebration. They also received reading certificates.

Last week's session for preschoolers was "just a final celebra-tion for the kids," said Peggy Morgan, Dunning-Hough children's librarian.

We want the children to learn that books and reading are fun."

That day's afternoon session for school-age children had similar purposes, she said.

"It just helps to reinforce the love of reading for them.'

This summer, 194 youngsters signed up for "Read-To-Me" at the library. A total of 439 school-age children took part in the "Passport to Adventure.

Volunteers help families cope

By Sue Mason staff writer

Christine Millington believes that there's a lesson to be learned from the death of Cardinal John Cardinal Dearden died last week of pancreatic cancer. In failing health, he had hoped to leave the hospital and spend his last days at home. That hope never materialized, but had it, his home stay probably would have been facilitated by hospice volunteers. Millington said.

'His suffering has ended, but it draws attention to caring for the terminally ill in their own homes." said Millington, administrative assistant for Angela Hospice in Livonia. "Hospice workers support the primary care givers, attend to the patient's needs and give respite to those care givers.

Angela Hospice was founded four years ago and with a cadre of more than 100 volunteers, it is providing assistance to terminally ill patients in western Wayne and Oakland counties, including Redford, Westland, Livonia, Plymouth-Canton, Northville, Novi and Farmington.

The volunteers come from just as many communities and their reasons for doing the work are as

Joan McElmell of Livonia was among the first group of volunteers to take the 30 hours of hospice training. She was drawn to the program after helping care for a friend, who died of cancer five years ago.

Granted the work isn't easy. The family dynamics - problems the family members have dealing with the patient or his or her prognosis can make the job difficult. But that doesn't deter McElmell from

"I GET a lot from this," she said. In fact, I get more than I give. I've learned a lot from these people It's kind of an honor that they let you come into their homes, especially a complete stranger.

Cancer also touched the life of Nick Parrayano of Redford, another of the program's first graduates. His brother had cancer of the optic nerve. A school teacher by profession, Parravano has been so touched by his hospice experience that he is about to make a career change

At the age of 45, he is preparing to close the book on teaching and become a pastoral minister. He's into his second year of study for a master's degree in pastoral ministry and when he's done, he plans on devoting all of his time to caring

He is the instructor for the 30hour hospice training class, but has done in-home work. Fluent in Italian, one of his first assignments was an Italian family. His ability to communicate with them in their own language "helped break the ice" and make the work easier.

The reward I attained was the satisfaction in seeing the final days of this patient accentuated by the positive not the negative," he said. We knew his days were numbered. but we didn't dwell on that.

"The thing I remembered was the faith they had and the faith I had to have to do this work.

Social worker Teri McLaughlin of Detroit can understand the problems families face dealing with the pending death of a loved one. Her understanding comes from personal experience. Eight years ago she was diagnosed as having acute leukemia and given a prognosis of less than a year to live.

HER ONLY hope was a bone marrow transplant, but McLaughlin opted for extensive chemotherapy. Five years ago she was diagnosed as being in remission.

While at Providence Hospital for treatment, she spent much of her time talking to other cancer patients and serving as a "symbol of

"I was doing hospice work while I was dying," McLaughlin said. "Caring for the family is so important because they don't know what to do because of this tremendous loss they're going to experience.

"I'm in the right place because when I say to them I understand and I mean I understand.

Mary Kay LeFevre of Northville is one of several registered nurses involved with Angela Hospice. She has the job of initially meeting with families and explaining the hospice philosophy.

The question she has heard most is what hospice is going to do for the family member that hasn't been done to that point.

"It's hard for them because the hospital is geared for healing and they have to accept that we're going to lay back and just take care of the patient's pain.

"There's no IVs, no tube feedings; we only try to make the patient comfortable. They have control over their care and that's the part they have to accept.'

A psychiatric nurse, LeFevre had been looking for something to do in her spare time She prayed a lot and each time she did the idea of hospice "came into my mind." It wasn't until eight months ago when she saw an advertisement for Angela Hospice that she conceded this was the volunteer work she wanted to do.

"SOMETIMES people just want someone to talk to or to have a nurse come in and say they're doing it right," LeFevre said. "It's so rewarding.

Millington, like the volunteer workers, believes hospice may be coming into its own. It is for any terminally ill person diagnosed as having less than six months to live, anyone including persons who have AIDS (acquired immune deficiency syndrome), she said.

"Hospice is going to be used a lot because the illness is over such a long period of time," she added.

She also believes it takes a special kind of person to do hospice

"I find it hard to believe that people will go into a home filled with vile smells and do vile things and come back smiling," she said. We didn't know there were little angels like them around."

Angela Hospice is at 14501 Levan, Livonia. It is in need of volunteers to work one or two hours an afternoon each week. Volunteers don't need to have health care experience, and training is provided. An eightsession training program will be offered from noon to 3 p.m., beginning Sept. 19. For more information about Angela Hospice, call 591-5157

You Won't Notice Any Difference, But Your Country Will.

Some young men are confused about Selective Service registration. They sometimes confuse registration with the draft or with enlisting for military service. The fact is, registration is not the same as either of those.

Registration is simply a way of maintaining a list of names which could save our country six vital weeks in responding to a national emergency. And registration is a requirement for federal student loans, job training benefits and most federal employment.

The five minutes you spend filling out a simple form at the post office won't change you. In fact, registration won't make you any different. But it will make a difference to your country.

When you turn 18, register with Selective Service. It's quick. It's easy. And it's the law.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The Rev. Hazel Hinken is pastor of the 35-member congregation at Open Door Baptist Church

Westland Baptist church has an open door policy

On one side, VCRs can be repaired. On the other side, they make signs. In the storefront between them, people can get saved by the Lord.

Welcome to the Open Door Baptist Church in Westland. Driving by, it's easy to mistake the church for just another shop along Ford Road.

But small is obviously better in Open Door Baptist's Inside is a cozy chapel with folding chairs. The place easily accommodates the 35 members who belong to the

And Open Door Baptist is a full-service church. Along with services on Sunday mornings and evenings, there's an evening service on Wednesday, a mission outreach, a Sunday school and a single's meeting on Thursdays.

Open Door is independent Baptist. The church has its own charter, but there's no central office to report to. Atmosphere is what makes the Open Door Baptist Church special, according to the pastor.

"I think we have more unity," said the Rev. Hazel Hinken, who has been pastor for two years at the church. "I think we have more love. You're definitely closer to one another. I think in a big church you tend to

SOMETIMES it's the lost who end up at Open Door Baptist. Hinken said people have been known to come in from the street, or from the bar across Ford Road. They tend to have one thing in common, Hinken said. They Also, she added, people are fed up with the do's and don'ts preached to them at other churches.

"A lot of churches get them saved, then they tell them that they can't do this and they can't do that," Hinken said. "From that point, they don't teach them after that,

One thing taught at Open Door Baptist is that it's never too late to know the Lord. "I want them to feel good about themselves," she said Hinken feels good, mainly because the church is something of a lifelong dream. It's a family affair. Her son, Mike Hinken, is the assistant pastor. Recently, she was able to baptize her first grandchild at the church. But becoming a pastor is something she could only think about as a child. Women preachers were unheard

"When I was a kid I used to say, 'If I was a man, I'd be a preacher," said Hinken, who lives in Westland. "The Baptist church has a thing about women as pastors, ... I can't believe God has taken someone like me and used me in the capacity that he has.'

At first, Hinken said she shunned her calling. She believed the calling she heard was intended for her son. She was a homemaker at the time.

Finally, it proved overwhelming, and she was ordained by her congregation two years ago.

HINKEN AND her husband, Donald, were very familiar with the inner-workings of a church. He served on the board of directors of a previous church they both belonged to. Both are former Sunday school teachers.

Surprisingly, financial problems that usually beset smaller churches haven't affected Open Door Baptist. Members contribute 10 percent of their annual income and donate regularly to the mission fund. Hinken re-

The mission goal this year is $6,414. The congregation has raised $2,187.35 toward that goal. That's not bad when you consider only 35 people make up the congre-

When a Baptist church in Ecuador needed help after an earthquake, the Open Door Baptist Church was able to send $1,800. The church's mission activities also include regular visits to the Wayne Convalescent Center in Wayne. Hinken said five people there have been

Other items like Bibles and songbooks are things Hinken picks up while shopping. Two pianos in the storefront church were donated.

Hinken said she wants to move to a bigger church. But no matter the size, the message will remain the same: "People can be themselves and still have salvation with the Lord.'

moral perspectives

Rev. David Strong

Seeing the world gives us a better perspective

My son has just returned from a year of study in Germany. "But why did you send your son to Europe? our friends ask. "The best universities are in the United States. Why go to Germany?'

We can better understand why people go to Europe to see the sights. We suffer with a subtle attitude everything is measured by what is American.

Years ago people in Greece believed that Delphi was the center of the universe. In a way, we do the same thing. The United States, and everything American, is considered to be the criteria for measuring all

This attitude is slowly changing. We realize that our nation can no longer control the destiny of small countries in Central America. Europe is uniting into one economic force. We have heard that by the next century the center of the Christian world will be Africa.

A perfect stranger states his views about our navy shooting down an Iranian airliner. "We have no business sticking our nose into their war. Why don't we just get out of there." There is always a strong note of "let's stay home and take care of our

What is our proper perspective? Does it have anything to do with God's will? My son returns from a year of study with a belief that we have many illusions. A seminary professor taught me that God is the one who forces us to face our illusions. He believed that the Depression, which began in 1929, was a bubble that burst because God will not allow us to live as though money is the purpose of life. He said that if this is a current priority of Americans, God will puncture it again.

IF ANOTHER illusion of Americans is that all things are measured by American standards, then this iilusion will perish. We need to respect and honor the values and customs of people who are quite different from us. By doing this, we demonstrate that we believe in an ultimate being who has planted diversity in his creation.

What is needed more than anything else is for Americans to listen to others. A recent survey of how ignorant Americans are when it comes to identifying the countries of the world illustrates our problem.

God desires that each part of this planet will have its unique contribution. This is why our education must include world understanding.

Christians in particular should participate in significant world travel. Our belief that there is one God demands this. Our view that God seeks one world at peace requires I just spoke with a college senior who spent three weeks in Haiti. She was there during the military takeover of the government. Her work was in several hospitals and orphanages. She has experienced many adventures during her three weeks there. She has a story to tell. It is a story touched with humility, appreciation for the problems of others and a perspective of the world.

In a way, this young woman is a heroine of the new future. She hasendured hardship to give and, at the same time, to learn of the world be yond the United States.

I KNOW many people who have gone to Central America. Others go on mission trips. Everyone who has returned has been enriched.

This needs to be a central purpose of religion - to establish relations with people in the world who are, very different from us. We must not go as missionaries went in the 19th century to make others like ourselves. Evidence of this can still be. seen in the nation of Haiti where even the worship services copy American and British patterns.

People of faith and religious institutions should establish relations with sister groups in other cultures. Foreign visitors should be invited to attend religious functions and worship when they are here.

We have many opportunities to demonstrate the unity of God's purpose upon this planet. We need to pursue this opportunity.

Which first aid supplies to pack for hassle-free trip

on vacation next. What first aid supplies should we pack to insure a hassle-free trip?

A. Planning ahead for "emergencies" does help to reduce the hassle and frustration later on. No matter what type of vacation you've planned, it's smart to have at the top of your "take-with" list a first-aid kit or, better yet, a selection of medical supplies and medicines to meet your family's routine and emergency needs.

While this may seem like unnecessary baggage, even the most sophishappen? What you include in your family's medical kit will depend on who your travelers are, where you're going and length of stay. There are different needs for teenagers and senior citizens or visiting Washington, D.C., and camping in an isolated woods.

SOME BASIC items for all trav-

- Adhesive bandages, assorted sizes.
  - · Adhesive tape.
  - Scissors. Safety pins.
  - Tweezers Roll of 1-inch wide gauze
  - Elastic bandage.
  - · Alcohol wipes.
- Thermometer. Some over-the-counter medications to include are: · Pain reliever, aspirin or no-aspirin type · Antimicrobial skin ointment.

· Cough, cold medicine.

· Mild laxative. Antacid.

SUNSCREENS are a must for all outdoor vacation plans. A long line at an amusement park has produced as severe a sunburn as a day at the beach

Lip balm will help prevent wind or sun lip chapping and insect repellents are important because pesky bugs are not found just in the woods, but at roadside parks and picnic areas as well.

Your family's travel kit should also include a fresh supply of any prescription medicines taken routinely by family members. Pack some extra in case your return is delayed beyond the expected date.

An antihistamine should also be among the drugs in the medical kit. A suggested form is diphenhydramine because it can serve as an antiallergy medication as well as a motion-sickness remedy and sleeping aid.

Finally, an extra pair of eyeglasses or contact lenses should be packed, along with the eyeglasses prescription, in case the first pair should be lost or broken.

PACK SUPPLIES in two separate kits so first-aid supplies can be handy. An old lunch box or tackle box makes a convenient carrying case for these supplies.

Then all that's needed is to update medicines and replace any used supplies and it's ready to go the next

A final reminder: don't forget your health insurance cards and Medic Alert cards. It can save time and hassles in an emergency. A long planned vacation needn't be spoiled by minor medical problems if you take a few extra minutes to plan for them before you leave.

Professor visits 'real world' of advertising

3 weeks at Ross Roy

By Tom Henderson staff writer

Vince Blasko figures he just might have earned a little respect for the academics in the world of advertising during his recent three-week stint at Ross Roy Advertising in Bloomfield Hills.

Blasko, an associate professor of advertising at Arizona State, was here as part of the Advertising Educational Foundation's visiting-professor program, which is designed to close the gap between what is taught in advertising schools and what is actually needed on the job. Fourteen professors participated around the country this summer

"PEOPLE IN agencies think teachers are just academics. I hope I've opened up some eyes. We're not just book oriented," said Blasko on his last week on the job, much of which was spent assisting Ross Roy's biggest account, K mart. The agency has handled K mart for more than 20 years, and it contributes more than $100 million in revenues a

Blasko had his work cut out for him. The first paragraph of the press release about his arrival at Ross Roy began: "Some say comparing advertising theory to advertising practice is like comparing apples to oranges." Ouch. Blasko thinks it may be more like oranges and tangerines. And in his first week on the job, Adweek ran an editorial piece titled: "Colleges get 'F' in Advertising."

JANITA GAULZETTI, Ross Roy's director of management training, sees the gap between what is taught and what is needed on the job from the perspective of an on-campus recruiter looking for talent. The gap is very real, although not nearly as bad as portrayed in Adweek, she said. We know first-hand that most graduates of advertising schools in the United States can be better prepared before beginning their advertising careers," said Gaulzetti.

'That is why we participate in the visiting-professor progarm, and why we pioneered the development of a comprehensive training program of

She said that often those teaching in school are either doctorates with little practical knowledge of the business or retired advertising executives who teach what no longer is Gaulzetti said that Blasko's stint at the agency "has been very good for everyone, particularly some of Blasko, who has taught advertising the younger people in the agency who are just a few years out of school and have a clearer picture of 'Of course there is a gap between what they were taught and what the two. BLASKO SAID that the threeweek stay taught him lessons he will be able to pass on to students.

'One thing I'll bring back is it's important for students to realize that while advertising can be glamorous - working with ideas and fun and interesting - but it's also a tremendous amount of hard work.

"And you have to be able to deal with people. We need to cover more in class about office and corporate politics: How creative people view

Expo helps subcontractors get some more respect

staff writer

Pat Witherspoon of Troy runs the largest subcontractors' show in the United States, with 700 exhibitors who will fill 200,000 square feet at Cobo Hall this October.

Yet, he says the Contract Manufacturers Expo and Conference "is the Rodney Dangerfield of shows. No one knows who we are or what we do. Subcontracting don't get any respect out there, and yet it's the biggest industry there is.

What Witherspoon does is represent all the little job shops that fill the suburban industrial parks and line such streets as Eight Mile, Groesbeck and Schoenherr, the little shops that hang the signs out front listing jobs vacancies such as jig grinder, lathe operator and mill-

ONCE UPON a time in the Detroit area, it was a cut-and-dried business running a small job shop. There wasn't a wide range of materials.

there wasn't a lot of complexity, and 'just-in-time delivery" was something that applied to babies, not manufacturing. You got a contract to cut X amount of steel rods and that's what you did.

Now, though, the auto companies have turned over much of their engineering and design to what are called Tier I suppliers, who often build complete systems instead of individual parts. There is a greater emphasis placed on quality, with plastic or composition parts and computer design and manufacturing. And contract manufacturers have branched out into aerospace, electronics and medicine.

Tier I contractors demand more of their Tier II subcontractors, which is where Witherspoon and his Contract Manufacturers Expo come in. "It used to be a word-of-mouth business," said Witherspoon, a Troy resident whose Contract Manufacturers Association is also located in Troy near the K mart headquarters. "They never had to do trade-show selling before."

At the show, job shops can present there wasn't a lot of emphasis on their wares and meet purchasing in turn are looking for better prices or, increasingly, better quality than what they are currently getting.

So, why is it such a big deal to Lear Siegler Automotive Group that it got the contract to make the 100 seats used this spring and summer in the 1988 Corvette Challenge series, 10 sanctioned races that test drivers by matching them in identical Chevrolet Corvettes?

For one thing, engineers love a challenge; for another, the innovation of today becomes the common technology of the future.

"This allows us to push the technology and see what the spinoffs might be," said Eric Kozlowski, manager of product engineering for Lear Siegler at the Southfield offices of the Livonia-headquartered firm. "We got involved because we wanted to develop a seat better than any in the market.

CMA has grown to 25 full-time employees and includes an telephone year. hot line that matches manufacturers and suppliers by computer; CMA will also put on a show in Los Angeles in April and has held smaller shows in Houston and Orlando.

According to Witherspoon, there are 12,000 job shops in Michigan and 350,000 in the United States. "You see all these job shops along Nine Mile and Stephenson Highway and you wonder what the hell they do? It's the guys in Bloomfield Hills who own the job shops. They might only make hangers, but they make more money making hangers than the president of General Motors."

"Our biggest problem we're having is we're a German firm and we haven't found the quality we want without paying the high price," said Gesquire. Though Sachs has been in the area for 10 years, he said it is still in many respects the new kid on the block

"I haven't been able to find anyone to make parts for less than what our own companies can make it for in Germany, which is hard to believe because the Japanese have found them. But when you're new, you pay; it takes a lot of negotiating to bring costs down.

To do that, Leidel instituted what is known as Statistical Process Control, a way of measuring and improving quality control that is a must for smaller shops to woo major manufacturers or Tier I suppliers.

As a result, Leidel says "business has doubled and it's doubling again. I tell you one thing. If you're going to a (trade) show, you better get ready. Your shop has got to be ready. We weren't, but today our shop's prepared for anything.

good choice. While Citicorp, as a number of money center banks, is in disfavor with some investors for its substantial exposure in loans to lesser-developed countries, its figures are excellent.

CITICORP HAS almost doubled net interest income in the last five years from $3.5 billion in 1982 to $6.5 billion in 1987. Earnings per share were $2.80 in 1984, and this year it looks like they could reach $3.70. In 1987 a substantial reserve was set aside for its lesser-developed-countries loans, and as a result the company reported a loss of $4.26

The price of the stock hit 341/4 before the October '87 market break and currently is about 24. If earnings come out at the estimated $3.70, the price-earnings ratio will be 61/2.

the stock because of Citicorp's lesser-developed-countries loans. Reserves for those loans now cover 24 percent of those loans.

The growth shown by Citicorp would make me willing to accept the lesser-developed-countries risk. The yield provided by the $1.48 dividend is an added attraction.

You don't pay a penny! Closing costs on other Home Equity Lines of Credit can add up to hundreds of dollars. But at the Big E, we pay your closing costs on lines up to $100,000, saving you as much as $600° or more! Plus, you pay no application fee.

Enjoy a guaranteed rate cap. The current Big E Home Equity Line of Credit rate is 11.5% † annual percentage rate. Plus, with the Big E's guaranteed rate cap, you'll never pay more than 5% over the rate in effect at the time you close.

And more... You can pay off your other higher cost loans and charges. Plus you may still be able to deduct 100% of your home equity interest. See your tax advisor for details. Besides that, you'll have a revolving line of credit, so as you pay off your loan, that money again becomes available to you.

Come to your local Empire of America office to receive a free estimate of how much you'll be able to borrow. And once you apply you'll have an answer on approving your credit within 24 hours. Start

Small businesses prospering along with community art fairs

Summer represents the time of year when cities and towns throughout the state celebrate festivals, art fairs and other community events. Of those, the Ann Arbor and Wyandotte art fairs are ranked first and second largest in the state.

Both serve as excellent examples of how the business, industrial and residential communities can be linked in setting and accomplishing specific goals for evervone's benefit.

The Ann Arbor fair now attracts nearly 1,000 artists and 500,000 potential buyers each July. Of the three separate fairs that comprise the event, the original fair in the South University section of town will be celebrating its 30th year in 1989 by displaying the work of some 200 artists from more than 30 states. According to Bill Hart, president of the Main Street Merchant's Association, art fair weekend also represents the biggest selling days of the year for focus: small business Mary DiPaolo

many local merchants

"People are ready to buy when they come to Ann Arbor, so we get ready for them.

The Wyandotte fair celebrated its 27th birthday this year as a single event that hosted more than 400 artists and attracted 250,000 people.

IT IS hard to believe that both art fairs started out as small events, involving only a handful of organizers and artists.

The Wyandotte fair officially opened on a cold, wet September day in 1962 when six artists "clustered under the dripping overhang of a vacant storefront on First Street." About a dozen visitors were the first to view the art on display

In 1963, the Acanthus Art Society Fair, originators of the fair, scoured the city for money while the fair co-chairmen sat at the drawing board designing the booths that have become a permanent feature of the event.

Twenty-four booths were erected in 1963, welcoming 69 artists with merchant-donated coffee and doughnuts. Entertainment was provided by Mae Syc School of Dance and the Royal Lancers. The Wyandotte Community Theater Players gave makeup demonstrations and performed bits from their plays. Bt the end of the 1963 art fair, some 4,000 had toured the show.

Roger Penske leading Detroit Diesel Allison

We've been getting a little mis trustful of entrepreneurs lately, between the Wall Street raiders and one-too-many late-night commercials with the company president dressed in a funny suit

This is probably with good reason. since lately most of the major shifts of wealth have been coming from somebody or other changing the rules - fiddling with currency. credit and unpaid loans, rather than building up productive businesses.

That's why I was more than a little startled last year to see that Roger Penske got rich enough to buy out a majority interest in GM's Detroit Diesel Allison.

PENSKE WAS already famous in racing circles when I was in college, was racing anybody's car who would pick up the check. Even then, he was a dogged, determined competitor who managed to win, even when he was racing something as unlikely as a hopped-up Rambler.

He was one of a group of hopefuls at the time that included Carroll Shelby and Bruce McLaren, who were mainly interested in piling up enough cash to burn it up at the

Ultimately, all these guys got rich at least rich enough to play with high-rollers, support their racing enterprises and expand into other busi-

But Penske got serious.

auto talk

Dan McCosh

STARTING WITH a Chevy dealership on Telegraph, then Hetrtz Penske Leasing, more dealerships. heavy-duty diesel distributorships And even more racing.

A private detective on a show I was watching once said about money "I won't kill for it, and I won't marry for it, but I'll do about anything else." A quick review of his business career makes it almost seem as if Penske has a similar philosophy when it came to building his personal fortune.

The common thread is simply buying into one piece of action after another, building each up and reinvesting the profits. It's textbook business management, without junk bonds; subsidies, cartels or fluctuating cur-

IT'S SOMETHING of a mom-andapple-pie approach to making money, but the unanswered question is whether it will work running Detroit Diesel, an enterprise more in scale with a small auto company than a dealership.

In some ways, the Penske takeover is the last chance for GM chair man Roger Smith to prove his strat? egy of putting GM assets in the hand of independent entrepreneurs. It was a strategy that led to the selling of the Terex division, then the contract ing of much of GM's computer ser vices through EDS Corp. The first ended with the collapse of the West German company that took over Terex, the latter ran afoul of the Ross Perot debacle

NOW COMES Penske - probably more the kind of businessman Smith had in mind when he launched his program of decentralization of GM management

Odds are that Penske will do just Ifine. On the other hand, the Detroit Diesel deal is more of a direct buyout, not an entangled stock deal as were the first two efforts

That means of course that Penske himself, who takes the risk by investing in Detroit Diesel, also gets to reap the profits

That's the old-fashioned way

Come to our Grand Opening and you can win this

When Manufacturers Bank opens its doors in Canton, we'll be giving away $1000 to one lucky person. Simply match the serial number on the mock $1000 bill you'll receive in the mail (or at the Canton branch) with the one on display in our lobby, and $1000 could be yours.*

Or celebrate by having a free family portrait taken. From August 8th to the 20th, you can make an appointment to sit for an 8" × 10" family portrait, or a 10" × 13" portrait if you open any account at our new Canton-branch.

And along with a variety of savings and checking accounts, Manufacturers' new Canton branch features full lobby service on Saturdays, 24-hour ATM banking, safe deposit boxes - everything for all your banking needs. And, best of all, if you come in to help us celebrate our mid-ice Monday in a Metro Summer Hockey Mike Jorgensen, rallied to beat the Spartans.

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Wolverines coach Dave Cyplik seized the opportunity to turn a negative into a positive Monday in the Metro Summer Hockey League semifinals.

Cyplik used his team's underdog status to gain a psychological edge, and his team responded with a 9-3 victory over the Broncos at the Plymouth Ice Arena. The Wolverines, who had the worst regular-season record in the eight-team loop at 1-9-1, attempted to complete their amazing turnaround Wednesday in the championship game against the Wildcats.

In the second half of Monday's doubleheader, Tim Olschanski accounted for six third-period points as the Wildcats rallied to beat the Spartans for the Eagle Conference crown, 13-10.

Cyplik's team, winless until its last regular-season game and riding a three-game winning streak going into the finale, was clinging to a 4-3 lead after two periods.

THE COACH made an emotional appeal between periods, taking the liberty of stretching the truth a little

"I told them the other coach said they were lucky to be here," said Cyplik, admitting that wasn't really the case.

"That was a little white lie on my part. A little extra always helps.

The Wolverines, pressing the attack and going on the offensive, responded with five unanswered goals to seal the outcome and keep the their Cinderella hopes alive.

Tim Pietila had two goals in the third period for the winners and finished with a hat trick.

Leif Gustafson, who also played for the Spartans in the late game, took Sean Skinner's centering pass and drilled a slap shot between the pads of goalie Andy Tormala, who fought off plenty of challenges earlier, to begin the last-period onslaught.

'I told them the other coach said they were lucky to be here. That was a little white lie on my part. A little extra always helps.'

— Dave Cyplik Wolverines hockey coach

"I FINALLY got them playing my way," said Cyplik, addressing the reasons for his team's surge at playoff time. "They're picking up my style of game.'

The addition of Gustafson, who plays for Michigan State, and Neil Carnes, who was recently drafted by the Montreal Canadiens, are other factors.

Carnes was originally supposed to play for the Wildcats, who are coached by his brother, Alan Carnes, but knee surgery caused him to sit out much of the season. However, he recuperated quickly and hooked up with the Wolverines since that team had need for replacement players.

"Penalty killing has been a big thing for our team," Cyplik said. We're nearly 100 percent on that.

"The rest is basic hockey, keeping the wingers on the boards and having the center come back all the time and back-check."

Cyplik, who is just 21 years old and coached the Michigan Mustangs to a 14-2 record at the Midget Major AAA level last winter, isn't surprised to see the Wolverines doing so well.

"NOT AT ALL. I'm pretty confident in my coaching ability, and the team had the talent to begin with," he said. "We needed to get rid of some players, some dead weight.

"In a short season with no practices, it's hard to take a group of players and have them skate well. It took until the end of the season to have our main line gel."

Michael Krygier broke a 1-1 tie and gave the Broncos a temporary lead early in the second period, but the Wolverines came back with consecutive goals by Pietila, Corey Al-mas and Chris Berger to build a 4-2 advantage. Jim Storm, Ed Shepler, Keith Pietila and Nick Mariani also scored goals for the Wolverines. Dennis Ryan, Mike Freeman and Krygier. had a goal and one assist apiece for the Broncos.

The Wildcats-Spartans shootout was a wild affair in which the teams surpassed, in the first period, the number of goals scored in the previous game.

With five minutes gone, the Wildcats had stunned the Spartans by grabbing a 5-1 lead. But the Spartans regrouped to score six of the next seven goals and lead 7-6 after the first 15 minutes.

GUSTAFSON HAD three of his game-high four goals and Ken Chaput two as the Spartans rallied in the second half of the period.

Chaput, a 5-foot-4, 150-pound forward who plays for the University of Michigan-Dearborn, figured in two textbook-perfect plays.

Tim Pilut, who chalked up an amazing seven assists and eight points in the game, drew the attention of Wildcats goalie Shawn Sarkisian, then passed across to Chaput, who dumped the puck in from the other side. That tied the score 6-6 with 47 seconds left in the period.

Chaput was on the other end just 30 seconds later when Gustafson put the Spartans in front. On the same kind of play, Chaput skated in with the puck and slid it across to a hardcharging Gustafson.

Pilut scored the only goal of the second period, and the Wildcats, having lost all of their momentum; appeared unable to get back on their feet in the face of the Spartans' comeback.

7-run rally puts Holzer in NABF World Series

It's not Johnstown, Pa., but Tom Holzer Ford of Farmington Hills will be close by, vying for a shot at another national championship.

After missing a spot in the All-American Amateur Baseball Asssociation Tournament by finishing second recently in the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League playoffs, Holzer Ford is on its way to the National Amateur Baseball Federation College-Division World Series, which begins Friday in Youngstown, Ohio. Holzer will play the Maryland State Regional winner at 10 a.m. in the double-elimination tournament, which also includes teams from Louisville (Ky.) and host Youngs-

Holzer, 27-11 this year, earned the trip by winning last weekend's NABF Regional at Livonia's Ford

In Sunday's championship, Holzer dumped Macomb, 11-3, as Dan Hilliard pitched a complete game, going seven innings. He faltered only in the third, allowing three runs. He scattered seven hits, struck out six and walked three.

Holzer trailed 3-2 through five innings before exploding for seven in the sixth and two more in the seventh. The game was halted in the seventh because of a mercy rule.

TRAILING 3-0 in the top of the fifth, Holzer narrowed the margin to one on RBI singles by Kevin Ritter and Andy Fairman.

Holzer then broke the game open in the sixth; scoring six times.

Bob Tatro singled and Rick Tavormina, the former Westland John Glenn High star now at the University of Detroit, followed with a gametying double.

Steve Rudelic then sent Tavormina to third with an infield single and scored on Chris Hansen's suicide squeeze bunt, which brought home the lead run.

Keith Dutkiewicz then doubled in another run. Ritter reached base on an infield error and Fairman followed with a walk. Tatro added a two-run double to open up the floodgates.

In the seventh, Scott Peterson and Dutkiewicz each walked to set the

Craiger wins another Ruth baseball title

Craiger, with a team batting average of .373, has won its fifth straight Canton Babe Ruth League championship.

The perennial powerhouse ended the season with a 15-1 record, bringing the team record over the past five years to an impressive

Craiger scored 179 runs on 182 hits while giving up only 36 earned runs. Its pitchers also recorded 133 strikeouts.

Every member of the team hit over .300 for the season. Scott Kapla was the leader with a .477 batting average, and he also had

Other team leaders were Jason Bregni, 447, 20 RBI, seven home runs; Frank Learned, .449, 18 RBI; Scott Kennedy, .393; Steve Aumann, 366; Jason Stoops, 360; Chris Moore, 333; Mitch Mac-Donald, .324; Jason Crain, .314; Kevin Goff and Josh Wiegand, .304; and Brian Marion, .667.

Craiger is coached by Bob Ruete, Chet Kapla and Dennis Kennedy.

stage for Ritter, who double both home to end the game.

Holzer's tournament quest began Friday against another Livonia Collegiate foe, Walter's Appliance, the league's third place finisher.

Walter's got the early jump in the opener, racing out to a 2-0 lead before rain suspended play until the

ON SATURDAY, Holzer trailed 4-3 through four innings before striking for five runs in the fifth and seven more in the seventh. (The game was halted in the seventh because of the mercy rule.)

baseball

Holzer unleashed a 15-hit attack led by Ritter, who was 3-for-5 with three RBI; Dutkiewicz, 2-for-4 with three RBI; Paul Newitt, 2-for-3 with three RBI; Peterson, 2-for-4; Tatro, 2-for-2; and Rudelic, two-run double. Rick Karcher, the former North Farmington standout, led Walter's with three hits. Teammate John Knittel, formerly of Livonia Churchill High now at Kalamazoo College, added two hits.

Chris Kloc, the former Redford Thurston High ace, was the winning pitcher in relief of starter Mike Salach. A pickup from LCBL champion Livonia Little Caesars squad, Kloc allowed no earned runs on seven hits during the final five innings.

Walter's, however, bounced back in a rematch on Saturday, downing Holzer Ford, 7-4, as Mike Rudin's solo homer won it in the eighth in-

RUDIN, WHO also played at North Farmington, went 2-for-2 for the winners.

Starter Steve Owens, who allowed four runs over the first five innings, was the winning pitcher. Joe Mackiewicz, a member of Redford Catholic Central High's 1987 state Class A champion squad, pitched four scoreless innings to earn the save.

Chris Willerer, the Holzer starter, suffered the loss. He was lifted in the third in favor of reliever Brett Loomis, who allowed just one run on two hits over the final 61/3 innings.

Offensively, Stu Hirschman, a pickup from Wendy's of Ann Arbor, went 3-for-4 in a losing cause. Dutkiewicz added two hits, while Hirschman, Rudelic and Tavormina each knocked in a run.

After a coin flip, which gave Holzer a bye into Sunday's final, Walter's was eliminated by Macomb, 13-11. The Livonians left a pair of runners stranded in the bottom of the ninth.

Walter's finished the season with an overall record of 17-18-1.

JERRY BITTNER was 3-for-4, and McCaig and Sacco had two hits apiece. Stover's fourth-inning RBI gave Westland a 6-0 lead. Hendrian was the winning pitcher, going six innings and scattering eight hits.

Johnston pitched four scoreless innings against Team Tire on Friday, but the fifth was his downfall as Scott Demetral's tworun single gave the Macomb outfit a 3-1 lead. Endicott had two of Westland's five McCaig and Hendrian fueled the team's comeback Saturday with a two-run homer and two-run double, respectively, against South Farmington. Raftis went the six-inning distance, scattered seven hits, struck out one and walked four.

McCaig was 3-for-3 with three RBI, Hendrian 3-for-4, Jim Rodman 2-for-4 with an RBI triple and Sacco 2-for-2.

Endicott was the star Sunday as he handcuffed a Homer ballclub that had pounded other teams. In the five-inning, mercy game, he faced just 16 batters, fanned four and walked one. He got plenty of hitting support from McCaig and Scott Janack, both of whom were 2-for-2 with a grand slam. Janack had WESTLAND WAS just one step from winning it all after avenging its loss to Team Tire later Sunday.

Hendrian hit a three-run homer in the first inning to get Westland started and had four RBI. Bittner was 3-for-4, and Sacco and Torok had two hits and two RBI apiece.

McCaig pitched the first 1% innings and left with the score tied 3-3. Torok worked the next 4% for the victory, giving up four runs and seven hits but giving way to Raftis in the seventh with a 9-7 lead.

In addition to McCaig, Sacco and Bittner also were named to the all-tournament team. Sacco finished with a .571 batting average and Endicott .545.

Plante is shooting for Olympic berth

By Bill Parker staff writer

As the opening day of the 1988 Summer Olympics in Seoul draws near, the yearning to be a member of the U.S. team grows increasingly stronger for contending athletes. Westland's Robert Plante knows what that feeling is like. He's shooting for a spot on the team.

Currently ranked among the top 20 pistol shooters in the nation, Plante is hoping to become the youngest current member of the U.S. Olympic pistol team.

"I'm the only 25-year-old in the nation that has a chance to make the team," Plante said. "There are only two people in the state trying out for the team, myself and Dot Martin (of Detroit), and she's already on the women's team.'

Although Plante is young for an Olympic-level shooter (most shooters are 30 or older), his credentials are as solid as a rock.

Plante, who began shooting competitively with his father 10 years ago at the Ford Gun Club, has been shooting in pistol competition since 1983. In 1984, he won the national sharpshooter title. In '86, he achieved top certification as a distinguished pistol shooter, "something only 800 people have earned since 1891," Plante said. Last year, having stepped up to the international free pistol level of competition, Plante was the outdoor Michigan champion and finished 14th in the nation

THERE ARE five events in international free pistol competition, including free pistol (.22 caliber at 50 meters), air pistol (lead pellets at 10 meters), standard pistol (.22 caliber at 25 meters), center fire (.32 or.38 caliber at 25 meters), and rapid fire (.22 caliber at 25 meters). Olympic competition is held in free pistol, air pistol and rapid fire events only.

Plante is attempting to qualify for the U.S. Olympic team in free pistol and air pistol.

"A lot of people don't accept shooting as a legitimate sport, but shooting was an event in the very first Olympic games," Plante explained. "The sport is very, very complicated and takes a lot of concentration. I'd say 85 percent of shooting is mental. But you have to be in shape, too. Some of the events are very long and tedious. You have to have stamina." Shooters are certified by their level of accuracy starting with marksman and progressing through sharpshooter, expert, master and distinguished. Plante's distinguished certification was in a .45 caliber service match last year at nationals.

TO QUALIFY for the Olympic team, shooters must compete in three weekend selection matches and a two-week long national cham-

In the first selection match, May 28-29 in West Virginia, Plante finished 20th in free pistol and 21st in air pistol. At the second selection match, June 24-26 in Dallas, Texas, he placed 13th in free and 14th in air, while at the third match, July 29-31 at Fort Benning, Ga., he finished sixth in free and seventh in air.

"August (nationals) is the ultimate match," Plante explained. "If you want to make the team you have to do well at nationals.

When all the selection matches and nationals are over, the (Olympic) coaches will sit down and select a team," continued Plante. "They'll consider your scores from two of the three selection matches, plus the na- of 25 (aerial targets) when I was 16. tionals. What they'll be looking for isn't so much who shot the highest score in each match, but who is the most consistent. Consistency is what they want."

IF DETERMINATION is a prerequisite for an Olympic athlete, Plante feels he has a definite advan-

"I have a very, very strong mind. If I set a goal for myself I will achieve it," Plante said. "When I was a kid I wanted to be first-chair trumpet player at Lochinvar (music camp) and I did it. Then I started shooting shotgun and was hitting 24

That's better than most people do all their life. My next goal was to become a good pistol shooter and I won the national title my first year. Then I wanted to become distinguished and I did in 1987.

"The one thing I want now is to wear that U.S. (Olympic) jacket, but then I want that gold medal." continued Plante. "The Russians are very strong in shooting events. But the day a Russian steps next to me at the (firing) line is the day Russia knows the U.S. is here. I'd cry to see that American flag go up on top (in the medal ceremony) and to know I put it there.'

Hawks win Bluewater

The Under-19 Michigan Hawks girls soccer team captured its second tournament of the summer, winning the Bluewater Invitational in Sarnia, Ont.

Also for the second time in a tournament final this summer, the Hawks' victim was the Livonia Crusaders. The final score in the championship was 3-1, with Shannon Meath scoring the game-winner at the 65-minute mark. Margaret Kopmeyer and Jenny Schuerman also scored for the Hawks.

In the semifinals, Meath again scored the game-winner, as the Hawks edged St. Catherines, Ont., 3-2. Carrie Maier and Schuerman recorded the other tallies.

The Hawks had to win three preliminary round games to reach the semifinal round. They defeated Bramton, Ont., 4-1; St. Charles, Ill., 3-1 and Sarnia, Paul Dugan is the Hawks coach and the team manager is Mike Yderstadt. Team members include Liz Brooks, Catherine Dudley, Susan Gibson, Natalka Litkewycz, Jennifer Misaros, Erin Morgan, Julie Stabnick, Ellen Schnackel, Caerllion Thomas, Amy Trunk, Sara Wasinger and Lisa Yderstadt.

Vardar victories mount

For the under-14 Vardar III boys soccer team, 1988 was a season to remember.

Vardar captured a league title, played well on both the state and national level and also had several members named to all-star teams during the unforgettable campaign. Vardar captured the first division title in the Michigan State Youth Soccer

Association on July 11, edging the TCSA Travelers of Troy/Sterling Heights Also, Vardar was runner-up in the Michigan State Cup Tournament played

July 16-17. Vardar finished second again later in the season at the Bluegrass Invitational in Lexington, Ky.

Eight Vardar players were named to the 1988 Michigan state select teams that competed in June against 11 other teams at the Midwest Regional Junior Olympic Development Camp at Grinnell College in Iowa.

Among the players selected were Tom Baker, Plymouth; Brad Dennis, Brighton; Mike Giese, Farmington Hills; Mike Wdowiak, Canton; Rich Andrusiak, Plymouth; Mike Gentile, Livonia; Eric Stemmer, Canton; and Dario

Rauker, Westland. At the conclusion of the Midwest Regional Camp, Gentile and Baker were named representatives on the midwest regional team. Coach Jordan Mitkov guided Vardar to the successful season. Other members of the team included Plymouth's Ryan Henkel; Jason Lipke, Canton; Jason Hohler, Farmington; David Matovski, Livonia; Mike Schroeder and Boban Jancevski, Dearborn Heights; and Shane Damarais and Steve Weiger, Dearborn.

Ron Orris of the Spartan Aquatic Club returned from the National Junior Olympics in Orlando, Fla. to win high-point honors for Boys 15-16, capturing the 50 and 100-meter freestyles. He also took second in the 200, 400 and 800 freestyles, along with the 200 individual medley. The Plymouth Salem High star added third in the 400 IM and fourth in the 1,500 freestyle.

Teammate Nicole Drake, who also competed at the Junior Nationals, was second overall for Girls 15-16. She captured firsts in the 400, 800 and 1,500 freestyles. Drake also took third in the 200 freestyle, fourth in the 200 backstroke and seventh in the 400 IM.

The Spartan Aquatic Club finished fifth overall in the team standings with 299 points.

THE CLARENCEVILLE Swim Club also made a strong showing.

Tina Caranicolas took high-point honors for Girls 10 and under with six firsts including the 50 and 100 backstroke, 50 and 100 butterfly, 100 freestyle and 200 IM. She was also third in the 50 freestyle.

Caranicolas will represent Clarenceville this weekend in an AAU zone meet in Janesville, Wis.

Teammate Jeff Sieving was third overall for Boys 10 and under, winning the 200 IM and 100 butterfly. He also finished second in the 50 butterfly, 50 and 100 breaststroke, to go along with a third in the 200 freestyle. Sieving, also headed for Janesville, added a sixth in the 100 freestyle and seventh in the 50 freestyle.

Clarenceville grabbed team-high point honors for Boys 10 and under.

King of the Hills

Elsey conquers 'toughest course'

By Bill Parker

Terry Elsey beat the heat and the hills.

Tisch Schmidt and Joe Thornburg beat the odds.

Elsey was the overall winner of Saturday's third annual Bloomfield Hills Heart of the Hills 10K run.

Schmidt was the women's division winner and Thornburg was the oldest participant in the race which took runners over a hilly course and across the winding streets surrounding Bloomfield Hills Andover High Elsey, a 35-year-old Farmington Hills resident, hadn't intended to try to win the race, but the victory was an added bonus.

"This has to be the toughest course in Michigan," said Elsey who completed the race in 31:45. "It was constant hills and some of them were pretty decent, too.'

Having finished seventh in an Allen Park 5K run the night before, his 32nd race of the summer, Elsey wasn't going all out to win the Heart of the Hills race. 'I went out real slow so I was able to hold out pretty well near the end," explained Elsey. "It was a fun race, but I think I'm getting too old to be doing this stuff."

THORNBURG, AT AGE 71, would probably argue that point with Elsey after stating how much he liked the

"That was probably my best time" of the year," said the Troy resident who completed the course in 47:24. "I loved the course and enjoyed the run, but I hated those hills. It was a little humid, too, but not real bad. I thought the race was well conducted and it should draw more participants in the future."

Schmidt broke the tape in the women's division in 38:59. The win was a personal triumph for the Brighton resident who sustained a broken back three years ago in an accident.

After a long, tedious recovery period, Schmidt began running competitively in May. Not only was this her first 10K victory, but she also achieved a personal goal of breaking the 40-minute barrier.

"It was so hilly. It was an awesome course," Schmidt said. "The 'I went out real slow, so I was able to out pretty well near the end. It was a fun race, but I think I'm getting too old to be doing this stuff.'

> - Terry Elsey Heart of the Hills winner

last three miles were all hills. I've been running almost every weekend since May. I was trying to break 40 (minutes) and I flooded it. I can't believe it. This is great."

OVERALL, NEARLY 400 runners took part in the race which featured a 10K run and a 2-mile fun run. Proceeds of $8,000 will be donated to the Special Olympics, the Baldwin Avenue Community Center and Safe

Special Olympics is an international program of sports training for mentally impaired individuals.

The Baldwin Avenue Community Center provides numerous services for disadvantaged individuals in Oakland County while Safe Rides is a student-run organization working to prevent accidents by providing alcohol/drug awareness education and safe rides home for teens in need In its third year, the race has grown dramatically from the 70 runners which participated in the inaugural event. Last year there were 235 registered participants.

"I'm very, very happy with the response and the overall success of the race," said race director Dr. Tony Sakorafis, who organized the event with the help of the Andover Soccer Boosters and the Bloomfield Hills Optimist Club. "We were expecting between 400 and 500 runners. We probably would have done a little better had the weather cooperated with us. It has been pretty hot."

SAKORAFIS ALSO apologized for any inconvenience during the twomile fun run. Evidently there was a mix-up on the course. Many of the leading runners missed the turnaround at the one-mile mark and ended up running better than three miles instead of two.

I want to apologize about the mishap on the two-mile run." Sakorafis said. We have all volunteers out there helping us and I guess we overplanned There was some confusion on the course and I'm sorry for any inconveniencies

In the under 19 division the top three female finishers were K Browne, 44-08, Jennifer Galland 45:31; and Susan Lee, 53:56. Top three male finishers were O. Meier. 32:20. Eric Blievernicht, 36:34; and

Jon Fry, 37:54. In the 20-29 division the top three female finishers were Trish Schmidt. 38:59. Linda Filar, 39:51; and Elizabeth Lang. 44:20. Top three male finishers were Eric Barron, 32 52; Carl Rundell, 34.45; and Mike Frampus,

In the 30-39 division the top three female finishers were Jan Jacobs. 39:19, Maggie Zidar, 41:19, and Maria Iwaniec, 42:28. Top three male finishers were Terry Elsey, 31:45; Stan Polkowski, 34:21, and Patrick Hoyle, 35:25.

But that changed quickly in the last period, beginning with Olschanski's first goal at 10:47. That opened the floodgates, and the Wildcats once again became the team that dominated in the opening minutes

"THAT'S WHAT happens," said Olschanski, an '87 graduate of Livonia Franklin who played last season for the Livonia Junior B team. "It's been that way all season. We take the lead and letdown, and then we get that urge."

Mike Jorgensen, who also had three goals and five points, scored the next one, and Charlie Olschanski, Tim's brother, scored the go-ahead goal. The Spartans' Wayne Macklin knotted the score at 9-all, but the Wildcats had another three-goal surge (Jorgensen, Tim Olschanski

It all depends on what the NBA's Houston Rockets offer him. If the Rockets contract offer is not guaranteed. Domako said he has an opportunity to play professionally over-

The 6-foot-10 Domako, who prepped at Livonia Stevenson before playing four years at Montana State, was the leading scorer at the Rockets rookie camp held last month. Domako was not selected in June's NBA draft, but Houston invited him to its camp as a free agent.

AFTER CAMP, Houston offered Domako a contract to return to the team's veteran camp in October but it was contingent on his making the club. Domako said his agent, Don DeJardin, expects to hear a final offer from Houston this week. Domako said a possible trade involving Rockets' small forward Rodney McCray could open things up for him.

'If the trade works out, then a small forward position would open up," said Domako from his fiance's parents' residence in Billings, Mont. "Houston's going to have to give me a guaranteed offer to keep me in the

A team from Lyon, France, offered Domako an $80,000-a-year contract, tax free. The team also would pay for Domako's housing, furnish him with a car and pay for his final year of school.

No teaching job, no new coach

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

The task of rebuilding Livonia Churchill's fallen varsity girls basketball program no longer belongs to Todd Kleinow.

The 26-year-old Kleinow, who accepted the head coach's position in May, resigned to take a full-time teaching position in Durham, N.C.

A graduate of Michigan Tech University, Kleinow could not land a full-time teaching position in the Livonia Public School System this fall, and that is the primary reason he resigned, Churchill Principal Bill MacFarland said.

Kleinow was a part-time science teacher at Riley Junior High in Livonia last year, and last spring he guided the girls junior varsity softball team at Livonia Stevenson.

The first day of practice is Aug. 15, so MacFarland hopes to name a successor this week McFarland said he and athletic director Larry Joiner (who also wasn't available for comment) currently are interviewing one candidate who has considerable coaching experience and a good chance to land the job. The candidate does not work in the Livonia Public Schools.

'THERE'S NO reason for me to believe at this ees. And there's not enough younger folks to take stage of the interview process that he wouldn't be a serious candidate," MacFarland said "At this point, he looks to be very qualified. The problem is we are so close to the first day of practice and there will be a lot of scrambling. It's getting

'Travelers' aid': Beverly Garland wears many hats

By Ariene Funke special writer

Millions of Americans know Beverly Garland as the warm and lovely TV wife of Fred MacMurray on "My Three Sons."

But actress Garland also owns hotels — two, in fact — with her husband, real-estate developer Fillmore Crank.

She recently came to the Detroit area to promote a new consumer protection plan offered by the National Tour Association, a non-profit organization of tour operators.

"We call it the patron saint of travel," Garland said. "We're promoting good consumer (awareness)."

SEVENTEEN YEARS ago, Garland entered the hotel business. With land bought from retired cowboy star Gene Autry, the Beverly Garland Hotel made its debut.

"One of our hotels is a block west of Universal Studios, in North Hollywood," Garland said, in a morning interview over coffee at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth. "The other one is in Sacramento."

Many tour groups stay at Garland's Hollywood location and, if the guests are lucky, they'll be greeted by the actress herself.

"We aren't absentee owners," she said.
Several family members are involved in the hotel operations, she said.

GARLAND HAS done several TV series, "but the one most people seem to remember is 'My Three Sons.' It has been very good for me," she said.

The actress, who is in her 50s, has chin-length, ash-blonde hair and a friendly manner. She wore a black skirt topped by a white jacket, her favorite travel clothes.

Garland is a longtime member of the National Tour Association. With 3,000 members, the association represents hotels, restaurants, travel-related businesses.

While visiting locally, Garland stayed at the Mayflower. She toured Domino Farms, pizza magnate Tom Monaghan's headquarters in Ann Arbor, and squeezed in a visit to a few shops in downtown Plymouth. Most of her time was devoted to TV and radio interviews.

Actress Beverly Garland is also a spokeswoman for the travel industry.

"There is a tour for everyone," Garland said. "The best tour for me is a shopping trip."

Garland has managed to juggle successfully her roles as actress, businesswoman, wife and mother. She has four children and has been married for almost 30 years.

"I wear many hats" is how she describes her lifestyle.

Born in Santa Cruz, Calif., Garland made her movie debut in the 1950 feature film "D.O.A." She is a veteran of more than 200 television and movie roles.

IN ADDITION TO her three years as Barbara Douglas on "My Three Sons" in the late 1960s, she starred as a policewoman in the TV show "Decoy." She was Bing Crosby's wife on the "Bing Crosby Show" and, most recently, she appeared as Dottie West, Kate Jackson's mother in "Scarecrow and Mrs. King."

"You are always out there hoping you get something," Garland said of her acting career. "A lot of this had to do with luck, being in the right place at the right time."

Love blossomed in the family as a result of Garland's role in "My Three Sons." One son, Fillmore Crank Jr., is married to actressinger Tina Cole, who played a pretty, blonde daughter-in-law (and mother of triplets) on the show.

LaSalle Drinkery deejay keeps everybody happy

Start moving your feet and body to the music, and pretend you are a dancing shark. Now, don't forget to wiggle your dorsal fin.

If you're having trouble getting it right, watch Laura Kalapinski, the disc jockey at LaSalle Drinkery, which is the lounge within the Embassy Suites Hotel, Southfield. She'll show you how to do it, if that's what's going on when you're there.

"What we have, right now — I feel — is a 'Cheers,' "Kalapinski said during an afternoon interview several days ago. The 22-year-old, who also is entertainment and promotions director of the LaSalle, pointed out, "We have a really friendly staff. We're young. We're all energetic. We're all there having a good time while we're working. We make it a fun place for people."

"I work Monday through Saturday, from between noon and 3 till the bar closes. During the day, I do the managing for the bar, scheduling, ordering, making sure that the bar management part is running smoothly, and then at night I do all the entertaining," she said.

ALAPINSKI TALKED seriously about the work. "I do things as far as making sure people come to work. If a guest has a problem with the bar, usually I can help. If you want to have a party in the bar, you can call me." At La Salle, she oversees a staff of 10 persons.

"We do a lot of company parties with IBM, FTD, Michigan Bell," she added. "If they need extra food, I set that up for them. If they need a type of music, we get their music for them."

Mostly, LaSalle Drinkery is for hotel guests and anyone who wishes to stop by. Kalapinski did say, however, "We're not a big pickup joint — and we don't want to be known as a 'meat market.'"

The lounge usually opens around 11 a.m. and remains open throughout the day. From 5-7 p.m., there's the customary "happy hour," when a person is likely to hear jazz, Kalapinski's favorite type of music. She really gets the evening entertainment going around 7 p.m.

"Basically, we play the crowd. If we've got a crowd of 35 and older, we'll play some oldies. If we have a younger crowd, we'll play Top 40. We don't play any 'acid rock.'" EACH NIGHT HAS a different theme. For example, there could be a hula festival with tropical drink specials, a fashion show, or a contest to name the title of a song. With a very broad smile, she said, "We've run a dating game — we've run a dating game twice — with a singles group. That's worked out really well. We have the theme music. We have you are having a bad time, we make sure we rectify that situation. We go out and we talk to them and bring over some popcorn." She thought a moment and then said, "We have a lot of people that come in - lonely sometimes. Usually we get a smile, if nothing else, before they leave. That makes everything worthwhile."

Kalapinski has a bachelor's degree in radio-TV-film from Wayne State University, and she is a former member of the student radio station on campus, WAYN-AM.

She has been associated with La Salle Drinkery since May. During a media conference, she met Linda Wasche, vice-president/account supervisor of a Farmington Hills public relations firm, who gave her a lead on the job and even recommended her. Wasche's firm, Hermanoff and Associates, represents the Embassy Suites.

Kalapinski said about her job, "I love it. It's great. I meet so many people. I've met practically every person that's been on 'Kelly and Company,' because they were staying here. I meet a lot of celebrities."

SHE USED THESE words to describe herself: "Tenacious, energetic, hardworking, honest, sincere, and genuine.

"I'm a realist. I'm not thinking that someday I'm going to get married to some rich millionaire and be living in Camelot."

And she said, "I'm one of those people that's everyone's friend. It's not a fair-weather friend. I enjoy people. I have an ability, I have talent, to open myself up and let people feel comfortable around me, and that makes people feel good."

In the future, she'd like to be the corporate entertainment and promotional director and, maybe, move to

The younger Cranks, who have been married around seven years, have three children.

IN ADDITION to her busy acting career, Garland has become a spokeswoman for the travel industry. She recently accompanied Los Angeles Mayor Thomas Bradley to Australia to promote L.A. as a travel destination. She also visited the Polynesian island of Bora Bora. Upcoming is a trip to Thailand.

Potential tour travelers want value, education and security, Garland said

"When you take an escorted tour, you have tremendous value for your money," she said.

THE NATIONAL TOUR Association this year introduced a Consumer Protection Plan, which safeguards travelers' deposits of up to $100,000 per company in the event that a member tour operator declares bankruptcy.

"We want to instill confidence in tours," Garland said. "That's why we put it into effect."

The protection plan is designed to buffer travelers from problems stemming from deregulation of the airline industry and the growth of sophisticated telephone marketing

Garland cited a survey by Opinion Research Corp. The survey intypes, group tours aren't confined to senior citizens. Thirty-eight percent of the people surveyed in the 18-34 age bracket have taken escorted tours of all types.

Condo styled for comfortable living

By Corinne Abatt staff writer

DESIGNER, Margie Cockle-Cunningham, ASID, likes the relationship she developed with a client in Rochester. "There was a lot of trust . . . we communicated well." she said.

The other side is that Cockle-Cunningham had a great deal of respect for her client's wishes. In many instances she gave the client choices and used many favorite things from a former residence.

The couple, who love to travel, had things they had bought in many countries of the world, so one of the challenges was to use as many of these things as possible in the new, smaller residence by the golf course.

"She had lots of old, wonderful pieces that should not be hidden away," Cockle-Cunningham said.

Some of the client's expressed wishes were for low maintenance, bright and sunny atmosphere, straight lines, wicker and rattan furniture and a comfortable, livable environment.

Cockle-Cunningham saw the condominium soon after the former residents moved out and before her clients had filled it with furniture. She elected to keep the neutral gray/ beige carpeting, a smoked mirror wall in the foyer, the burgundy wall covering in the powder room and all of the venetian blinds except in the master bedroom. These she replaced with white shutters to enhance the garden room atmosphere. SHE RECYCLED THE client's Henredon dining room set and case pieces and was happy to have a favorite Baker easy chair reupholstered in the same neutral fabric as IRMINGHAM INTERIOR the new living room sofa. The dining room chairs were reupholstered in the same fine pastel striped cotton that is used for the wide valances in the living room and dining areas.

The neutral background in the living room is brightened by a refreshand colorful print used for the throw pillows on the sofa and cushions of the dark rattan chair.

But, the color story really began with that burgundy wall covering in the powder room. There are subtle touches of it throughout the house, but never to the exclusion of other accent colors.

The floor of the entry hall, kitchen and breakfast room are done in light beige square tile. Cockle-Cunningham said they tried a lot of rugs before they settled on a lovely Oriental throw rug with a burgundy background in the entry way.

There's a custom woven burgundy and cream rug in the breakfast room. Cockle-Cunningham said she knew the minute she looked at the back wall of the 8-by-10-foot breakfast room that it needed a large baker's rack. The brass one she put there, more than 41/2 feet long, has plenty of room for the client's collection of cookbooks as well as some collectibles. THE SWIVAL CHAIRS of the rattan breakfast set are covered in camel wool with a fine burgundy line. The round table top is glass.

The recycled oriental style living room coffee table suggested the use of other oriental pieces, at least a few, and they, as Cockle-Cunning-

Recording industry facts to make your head spin

By Corinne Abatt staff writer

You say you want to cut a record. You have the music, the musicians and the studio rented for two hours. Soon as you get it out to the deejays and the record stores, you're on your way to fame and fortune.

Wait a minute. Back up for a second. There are a few things you ought to know.

You can find the answers - how to avoid the frustrating, costly trialand-error method - in a new class by Martin Scot Kosins through Wayne State University's LifelongLearning Center at Birmingham Groves High School. The class will be offered from 7-10 p.m. Mondays in the fall term.

THE CREDIT class is about how to make and market a record, Kosins said. He will cover all the technical aspects — mastering, plating, how the kind of vinyl used and the kind of press used can change the sound, studio time, studio costs and what to do when things go wrong in the studio.

"The average guy doesn't have a lot of money for overdubbing and a lot of people think that with all the modern technology available, the record will sound better than their tape," he said.

Even with the modern technology, it is important to know what questions to ask, Kosins said.

"We'll talk about how to deal with record stores, how to deal with distributors - how to get it heard and get it sold," he said.

"And we'll go one step further, when you get an offer from a major company, how to deal with attorneys and agents. For instance, if somebody from a record company says they're gonna call you back, they usually don't. How to avoid the flim

In essence, he said, the class will cover the technical, creative and business aspects of recording.

It's for musicians and actors. We'll be talking about career opportunities - music, overdubs, sound dubs and how to break in. There will be one session at Sound Pattern Studios of Detroit with Danny Dallas, one of the most respected sound engineers in the business. I've taken him all over. I've never worked with anyone but Danny Dallas."

KOSINS, WHO has a master's in composition from Wayne State, is a composer, pianist and founder/ owner of Open Sky Records. # Here are some harvesting tips

Harvest time has arrived or is nearing for most gardeners who will derive more pleasure by picking vegetables at the best stage of matu-

Here are some harvesting tips: Sweet corn: Corn on the cob should be delicious when harvested at the peak of kernel milk stage development, that is, when the milk is watery and will squirt freely when pressed with your thumbnail. When harvesting later, these test ears will be lower in quality. Sweet corn, as with some other crops, passes the prime eating stage quickly, especially in hot weather.

Tomato: Tomatoes should be harvested at least twice a week during warm weather. Pick firm, red fruit. Mature tomatoes are apt to split on the vine, especially after a rain.

Pepper: Harvest green peppers when they reach full size, but fruit may be permitted to turn red before being picked.

Muskmelon: Daily harvest is advised in hot weather since melons ripen rapidly. The color of ripening melons turns from light green to tan or yellow. A mature melon easily "slips" off the vine. Chill melons a little before serving. If you must harvest slightly immature melons, you can ripen them by storing them at room tempera-

Watermelon: It isn't easy to determine when watermelon is ready. Check the seed packet or catalog for the maturity (days of growth) date of the variety. A ripe melon should have a cream or yellow color where the rind touches the ground. Thump the melon with your knuckles. A metallic ring indicates immaturity; a dull sound, experts say, indicates ripeness. Good luck.

Onion: The tops will fall over when onions are ready. After digging up onions, leave them in the sun to dry for a week, then remove tops and Winter Squash and Pumpkins: Harvest after they have turned the appropriate color for variety and the rind hardens. The fruit is ready if you can't pierce the shell with your thumbnail. Pick fruit before heavy frost, which will injure them. Leave a few inches of stem on the fruit so it will store better.

Eggplant: Harvest when the fruit attains a uniformly purple color and size for the variety. Fruit in which the seeds have turned brown is of

Q. My girlfriend and I own our home jointly, and I want to

A. You may wish to own the property as joint tenants with rights of survivorship that gives you a present interest in the property which passes by operation of the law to the other joint tenant upon the death of one joint tenant. Of course, this is not justification for not having a will because of the possibility of a common disaster in which event both joint tenants may die

If you transfer the property to your "friend" outright, you will have, of course, relinquished all interest in the property, leave her everything when I die. I would like to avoid probate so I am thinking about transferring the property to her

Broccoli: Blanching (blocking out sunlight) is not necessary. Harvest before the flower buds yellow. After the central large heads are cut off, small heads will develop on lateral branches. The lateral heads are good for freezing.

Illustrated children's books spell excitement

HEN JACKIE Gordon, publicity director at Jacobson's, (yes, that Jackie Gordon) called recently, all excited about a series of books she had discovered in the children's department, she brought me back into a world about which I had almost forgotten - the world of illustrated children's books.

After some 10 minutes of trying to describe the books in question - the "Ophelia" series produced by Seattle shopkeeper Michele Durkson Clise - Jackie said, "Well, you just have to see them." And so I did. The books, published by Clarkson N. Potter and distributed by Crown, are hardbound collector's editions and range in price from $12.95 to $17.95.

Ophelia B. Clise is a bear who runs a shop filled with silver flutes, paper fans, fine fabrics and laces, sachets, chocolates and teas. Her shop, Bazaar des Bears, is on the Rue de Bac in Paris. Coincidentally or not, Ophelia's creator shares her last name and also has a Bazaar des Bears only hers is in Seattle.

THE BOOKS are lavishly illustrated with exquisite photographs by Marsha Burns - and the photographs are what make the books. Using fine antiques - laces, jewelry, toys, costumes and dozens of wellworn bears - Burns creates Ophelia's World (also the title of the first book of the series).

Steiff, incidentally, is coming out with toy Ophélia and Schnuffy bears and Hallmark is creating greeting

Ophelia and her deliciously eccentric entourage - including Zenobia Onassis, Jean de Noel, Schnuffy the sugar-loving concierge, Conrad the reformed Kleptomaniac, Mona Lisa the former rig picker, and Zenobia's "dear, good friend" Clarence - are caught up in a mystery in each book. The books are gorgeous, and funfor an adult to read - though I doubt that the text would appeal much to young children. There's far more musing than mystery: "Yesterday Zenobia began to take an accounting of the contents of the entire shop - placing ribbons here, shawls and linens there, boxes with buttons and boxes with coins, Limoges cups, and tottering piles of annotated manuscripts on the tables and floor."

There are also hints of some pretty scandalous behavior, even for bears: they adore champagne and the high life; Zenobia falls in love with Conrad the Kleptomaniac and elopes; and Ophelia (not Ophelia!) cuddles up in bed with Clarence without benefit of clergy. Oh, it's all very tastefully presented, but I have to wonder for what age group it is really meant.

WELL, WHAT I'm learning is that there is an increasingly active adult market for illustrated gift books especially those found in the children's book departments. Collectors snap them up as quickly as they appear on the shelves.

Michigan's own Chris Van Allsburg is a good example of a collectable writer/illustrator. His Christmas book, "The Polar Express," stayed for months on the New York Times Bestseller list — in the adult column. "The Wreck of the in fact, all of Van Allsburg's books - are published in hardcover by Houghton Mifflin at $15.95 each. You have to experience Van Allsburg's books to appreciate them. They are to get lost in.

Beatrix Potter's books are still collectable - even by the children. The tales of Peter Rabbit, Squirrel Nutkin, Flopsy Bunnies and Jemima Puddle-Duck happily never go out of style. At Jacobson's we found all of the above, plus the beautiful "Beatrix Potter — Artist, Storytell-er and Country Woman," by Judy Taylor (Frederick Warne, hardbound, $24.95)

AND I found (and bought) "A Treasury of the Great Children's Book Illustrators," a real treasure by Susan E. Meyer from Abradale Press-Harry N. Abrams Inc. (hardbound, $19.95).

Here's Potter, Arthur Rackham, N.C. Wyeth, Kate Greenaway, Randolph Caldecott, Edward Lear and Walter Crane. And here's Kay Nielsen's glorious illustrations from "East of the Sun, West of the Moon" and "Powder and Crinoline." And don't I feel silly now that I know Kay is a man's name, too. All of this time

I'm also just discovering Joan W. Blos, who lives right in Ann Arbor, for Pete's sake, and is the winner of both a Newbery and an American Book Award for "A Gathering of Jackie and I found Blos' "Old Henry," illustrated by Caldecott Honor Book winner Stephen Gammell (William Morrow, hardbound, $11.75), and flipped. It's a simple story, told in rhyme, but, let me tell you, Old Henry lives!

Later I wandered over to the Birmingham Book Store and owner Bonnie Weinstein told me she can't read that book without tearing up at the end. So disregard what you've ever heard about children's book authors not being real writers - or that illustrators are not artists.

Bonnie introduced me to the award-winning Woods - author Audrey Wood and her illustrator husband, Don. In their latest, "Heckedy Peg" (hardbound, $14.95), a mother saves her seven children from a wicked witch. It is hard to keep their books in stock, Bonnie said, and it is mainly collectors who buy them. The stories are wonderful and Don

"During my first week at Franklin Park Towers, I found my apartment spacious, the service excellent and ... my neighbor, Dave."

"It didn't take long to feel at home at Franklin Park. My apartment is bigger than most I had looked at, and the Southfield location is close to shopping, entertainment and major highways. After the boxes were unpacked and most everything put away, it was off to the fitness center ... that's where I met Dave!"
