Schools to sell land to Canton

By Diane Gale
staff writer

A compromise between usually combative Canton Township and school officials is leaving residents smiling.

Carriage Hills and Willow Creek subdivision homeowners are the winners in a two-year campaign to save 9.5 acres of park land on the south side of Barchester between Paul Revere Lane and Burham.

About 30 residents left victorious from a township board meeting Tuesday after trustees unanimously voted to buy the parcel from the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. Canton officials plan to retain the land — located in both subdivisions — as a park. Supervisor James Poole was absent during the vote.

The compromise was hammered out between school and township sub-committees. The selling price will be based on three appraisals — one requested each by the schools and township and another agreed upon by both. The land will sell for the sum of the appraisals divided by three.

"THE PARCEL fits into the dramatic needs of the township for parks in that area," said Bob Padgett, township trustee and member of the sub-committee.

The land — often called Barchester Park — features woods with a soccer field and baseball diamond.

The school board is expected to approve the township's purchase offer, said Raymond E. Hoedel, associate superintendent for business.

"I think it's a very fair and equitable way to handle it," said Jeanette Wines, member of the school board and sub-committee.

Two years ago residents fought a proposal between the schools and a developer to build houses on the land contingent on residential rezoning. The change would override a Planned Unit Development — a contractual agreement stipulating how land may be used — designating it a future school site.

Richard Montgomery, new president of the Old Village Association, takes a break before this weekend's Apple Festival and an upcoming membership drive.

Ford plant granted new tax abatement

Ford Motor Co. Tuesday won a 12-year property tax break on additional equipment used to manufacture and assemble aluminum radiators and heater cores at its Sheldon Road Plant.

The abatement — 50 percent of the regular tax rate for 12 years on equipment valued at $6.6 million — complements an abatement on $4.7 million worth of similar machinery granted 2½ years ago.

The dollar amount of the tax break on the total package of $11.3 million projects to some $119,000 next year.

Several Ford executives and the head of the United Auto Workers bargaining committee at the plant spoke in favor of the abatement during Tuesday's public hearing.

"WE'RE IN A worldwide competition in the automotive business," said Jerry Brown, municipal affairs manager for Ford.

"This plant simply must be competitive. When we come before municipalities in Michigan we say, 'Put us on a level playing field with other communities,'" he said.

"It's boiled down to one simple word — competition," said Paul

Pietila, Sheldon plant manager. "We are always and continuously looking for ways to be more efficient and cut costs."

Bill Yankowski of the UAW said the economic fallout from adding several hundred employees to the plant since it first received tax abatement in 1982 has spilled over into the local business community.

"I GUESS we can't look at it just in view of taxes," he said.

Property tax revenue generated by the plant steadily decreased in the early 1980s until Ford starting getting abatement, Brown said.

That trend has reversed and tax revenue has increased to the point where the plant will generate nearly $1.5 million this year, Brown said.

Ford is the largest taxpayer in the township.

Russell Haeblerle, a LakePointe resident, questioned the wisdom of giving tax breaks in light of Ford's recent financial successes.

The automaker reported profits of $4.6 billion from worldwide operations and subsidiaries in 1987 and nearly $3.3 billion during the first half of this year.

'It's boiled down to one simple word — competition.'

Paul Pietila
Sheldon plant manager

"WE'RE DOING very well right now," Brown said. "It wasn't too long ago we lost $3 billion in a couple of years."

Trustee Smith Horton made the point that abatement doesn't mean no property tax revenue.

"There's still an increase, but not as big an increase if we didn't have abatement," he said.

Trustee Abe Munkfakh spoke in favor of tax abatement in general as well as specific terms.

"I find it hard to accept what has been done on Sheldon Road and M-14 is a detriment. If we don't assist them in being competitive with other suppliers, they will shut down. My tax bill will triple."

The state legislature established tax abatement in 1974 on new equipment and plant renovations to create a more favorable business climate.

School union probes classroom volunteers

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

Union officials representing educational aides in Plymouth-Canton schools are investigating to see whether volunteers are doing the work of laid off employees.

"If, as we suspect, volunteers are replacing the work done by employees whose hours have been cut or eliminated altogether, we will file an unfair labor practice," with the Michigan Employment Relations Commission, said Maryann Ligato, executive director of the Plymouth-Canton Paraprofessional Association.

Aides assist teachers with instruction and supervision in all district schools. Eleven aides were laid off in a money-saving measure after a millage proposal failed in June. Many of the remaining aides in buildings throughout the district had their hours trimmed.

"WE ARE concerned, and currently are investigating to see whether volunteers are being sought or being used to do work of aides who are laid off," said Ligato. "The number of aides was decreased significantly. And those who remain have had their hours significantly reduced. Many no longer qualify for benefits."

School board members were made aware of the issue in a Sept. 20 letter submitted by Joyce Harrington, president of the aides union.

"It has come to our attention that in many schools, especially elementary schools, volunteers are being used on a daily basis," wrote Harrington. "We are presently investigating the situation in each school, and if it is our judgment that volunteers or non-bargaining unit members are doing the work of laid-off employees or employees whose hours have been cut, we will be forced to file an unfair labor practice charge."

Police ready for neatness sweep

Are you storing a boat, motor home or trailer in your driveway? You better move it.

How about an unlicensed, inoperable car in the back yard? Think about putting it in the garage.

Is litter, old lumber or garbage starting to accumulate around your property?

Consider cleaning up. Are weeds or grass getting out of control?

A mowing may be in order. Have you thought about tacking signs on utility poles advertising a garage sale?

Reconsider.

ALL FIVE of the above situations address common ordinance violations in the city of Plymouth.

Now that cruising problems have dissipated considerably, police have more time to spend on things that may have been put on the back burner during summer.

Like ordinance violations. Besides, complaints have increased, said Officer Steven Hundersmarck.

"It's all over," he said. "There's really no specific area. You'll find it in New England Sub, Old Village and downtown by Union Street."

A word to the wise in the form of a 10-day notice usually resolves an unlawful situation, Hundersmarck said.

Drum beater

He's working to revitalize Old Village

Richard Montgomery, a go-getter for most of his 36 years, is now beating the drum on behalf of the Old Village Association as its new president.

Montgomery, owner of an auction/liquidation appraisal business, generally subscribes to the proverb that one reaps as he sows.

The association has no one to blame but itself for limited success if it plants few seeds initially, Montgomery said.

The association needs more involvement from both the business community and people who live in the area if it's to realize its full potential.

"We've got a good core, a lot of good ideas," he said enthusiastically. "We want to get residents in-involved. It's their area. They're property owners here. If this becomes a well-known historical area, it won't hurt their property values one bit."

Besides, "The more, the merrier," he added.

MONTGOMERY'S major concern now is that all goes well with the Apple Festival promotion Saturday along such streets as Farmer, Starkweather, Mill, Division and Liberty.

Scheduled are a farmers market, hayrides and pony rides, craft and antique displays, entertainment and an auction of goods and services. The auction begins at 11:30 a.m. at Mill and Division.

"We've got singers, comedians, jugglers and clowns," Montgomery said. Proceeds will be pumped into beautification projects in Old Village — the mission of the association.

It wasn't until he bought the building he was leasing about six months ago that Montgomery became active in the association. He became president a few weeks ago.

"It just so happens officers were resigning, leaving the area," he related. "They asked for volunteers. Me, being the gullible guy I am, I raised my hand."

MONTGOMERY laughs at the recollection but you quickly get the idea he may just be the energizing force the association needs.

At least that's what the executive director of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce believes.

"I think he'll provide them with a little more direction to really put Old Village on the map," said Mary O'Connell Roehr.

Montgomery didn't need to be sold on Plymouth.

Woman shuns publicity at 103rd birthday party

By Arlene Funke
staff writer

"I don't like publicity," protested the 103-year-old birthday girl as a photographer arrived to take her picture.

Ethel Parmalee, a longtime resident of Presbyterian Village senior citizen residence in Redford, spent her birthday last Thursday visiting with family members.

Her room was filled with cards from well-wishers and family photos. Neighbors from the complex stopped by to say hello.

THE ONE-TIME school teacher, a former Plymouth resident, appears far younger than 103 years.

She was dressed in a bright, blue-and-white print dress and wore a matching necklace and earrings. Her soft, white hair was curled and pretty.

"The Lord gave me this time," replied Parmalee to questions about her longevity.

She was a small-town girl, a product of a less hectic era who developed a lifelong love for music and needlework. Today, despite her advanced age, Parmalee retains that enjoyment in her hobbies.

Parmalee was born Sept. 22, 1885 in Walled Lake, daughter of Dr. E.A. Chapman and his wife Mary Jane. Parmalee was the oldest of five children.

"Walled Lake was a nice, little country town," she said.

After attending a local school, Parmalee entered Northville High, graduating in 1904. She attended Ypsilanti State Normal College, a teachers' school (now called Eastern Michigan University), and graduated in 1907.

"I taught for four years, music and drawing. I taught in Michigan for two years and then went to Oregon because I wanted to go West."

BUT PARMALEE returned to Walled Lake, where she met future husband Clarence George Parmalee.

"We had a general store and a post office in Walled Lake. We both worked in the store."

The couple had one son and four daughters. All but one are still living. Parmalee also has 14 grandchildren, 22 great grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren.

When Clarence Parmalee obtained a job with an electric company, the family moved to Detroit. In the 1930s, they moved to Plymouth, perhaps more cosmopolitan than Walled Lake but still with the rural flavor.

"It was a bigger town than Walled Lake. We liked it very much."

Parmalee's husband died in 1946. She moved to the Presbyterian Village 26 years ago. About 410 people live in the village. Parmalee currently is the oldest, according to program coordinator Jan Prentice.

"Mother has always been healthy," said Parmalee's daughter Mary Felton, visiting from Florida. "She walked a lot, and always kept busy sewing."

Parmalee's life is quiet. She used to play the piano for hymn sings but now plays occasionally for her own enjoyment on one of the Village's pianos. She naps and works word puzzles. She makes pillows and lap robes for family members and is almost finished with her latest afghan.

Family members threw a big party for Parmalee's 100th birthday three years ago. This year, she will mark the occasion with a special luncheon.

"Mother is a remarkable woman," Felton said.

STEVE JONES/staff photographer

"The Lord give me this time," said Ethel Parmalee who marked her 103rd Birthday last Thursday at Presbyterian Village.

Canton to buy land for park

More houses would cause a sewer capacity problem and traffic congestion, residents said.

"I FEEL there's a change in attitude in the township toward more quality development," said Bob Dettling, a Willow Creek homeowner involved in preserving the park for more than two years.

Brent Taylor, a Carriage Hills homeowner also originally active in the effort, said the compromise has three winners.

"The township won because the people are happy," Taylor said. "The school board wins because it sells the property. And the people win."

"One of the main things that helped us was the involvement of the people," Taylor said.

Residents approached the township planning commission and board of trustees armed with "a thorough, convincing, classy presentation," as described by Padgett in 1986 when the board unanimously defeated a school rezoning proposal.

"This is an example of government responding to the needs and conditions of people in a neighborhood," Padgett said at the time.

DAVID ARTLEY, school board president, said, "I do understand their concerns, but we've always used volunteers. As to the specific issue raised, I think what they're doing is the right thing — looking into and researching the issue."

"You might assume it's a negative letter, but there is concern about a point," said Artley. "Anytime you go through these kinds of cuts, there's going to be concern about a variety of points."

Ligato said the union "isn't taking issue with volunteers in the schools. Volunteers have always worked in the schools. Where we have a problem is where they are replacing aides who've had their hours cut or who have been laid off."

McAuley seeking volunteers

Area teachers go back to college contribute whatever is necessary."

Toland, who has taught for 25 years in Livonia, hopes to become an instructor on the college level when he retires from Churchill.

"By combining business courses with education courses I will be able to utilize my communication skills and business knowledge to offer training seminars to businesses," said Toland. "There isn't anything I'd rather do than teach."

Fitzsimmons took early retirement from Blue Cross/Blue Shield to re-enter the education field.

"Although I already have a master's degree in education, an educational leadership program will make me aware of the educational needs of a community like Livonia."

A former teacher and principal in the Detroit and Chicago Catholic school systems, Fitzsimmons would like to be involved in curriculum development in a leadership capacity.

"I think the focus is primarily to understand the network in the school system today," she said of the program. "I'd like to get into administration — maybe test some of my theories."

Fitzsimmons wants to complete the program in two years. She hopes the program will help open a few doors.

STEVE FECHT/staff photographer

Mercedes Fitzsimmons of Livonia is returning to teaching after a career with Blue Cross/Blue Shield.

A former elementary school teacher and principal for two years of St. Lawrence School in Detroit, Fitzsimmons spent 16 1/2 years at Blue Cross/Blue Shield, including the past four years as a field consultant based in East Lansing.

"The driving added three additional hours to my workday. I was happy to take the early retirement," she said.

Experience a plus for new teachers

"This summer I took a chef's job at a private club on Harsen's Island. Some of my students worked with me."

"I'll stay involved in the industry, but teaching will be my main field," Gabriel said.

After working in hospital administration for 16 1/2 years, Gary Fischer was happy to leave for new horizons, including pursuing a doctorate and working full time as an associate professor of management, marketing and economics at Madonna College.

"I'm earning at least two thirds less but I'm four times as happy," said Fischer, 41, of Plymouth Township.

"It's been a boon to my physical and mental health. I'd really like to continue teaching, writing and consulting. I don't see myself going back in an organization again. I'm the product of a small Jesuit school in Ohio. Madonna fills a real need."

Contractors lend a helping hand

By Mureen Flack
special writer

Jack Frost won't be nipping at the homes of 73 area senior citizens this winter, thanks to area contractors who volunteered their services Saturday during the Al Keats Project Heat-Senior Citizens Service Day.

Organized by the Northwest Heating and Cooling Dealers Association in Farmington, 15 contractors and their technicians donated time and service, parts and equipment to work on furnaces for senior citizens during the second annual event named after retired contractor Al Keats.

Keats is honored for his contribution to the growth of the Northwest Dealers Association.

Irene Smith, 84, of Plymouth, received more than service on her furnace. Technicians presented her with flowers because it was her birthday.

"I was flabbergasted," she said. "I told the girl, you mean I can get my furnace cleaned for nothing? I can't believe it."

The project, now an annual statewide event, was founded last year by Cliff McCourt of Day and Night Heating and Cooling in Farmington who read about a similar project in Colorado. Last year's effort was awarded the Presidential Citation for Private Sector Initiatives.

Area senior citizens get free furnace check-up

"THIS IS something that needs to be done," said Karl Kennedy of Moore Furnace in Redford Township. He is president of the northwest association.

"Too often people experience problems with contractors. It's the people that can least afford it that are preyed on by unscrupulous contractors who don't do a good job," he said.

Lisa Feeback, executive secretary for the association, agrees. "This is a way for the guys to show there are lots of us that are good. We want to combat bad feelings."

The project not only provides furnaces for senior citizens, it gives volunteers a warm feeling.

"If a guy doesn't walk out with a warm feeling, then he didn't do the job right," said Robert Murphy of Sun Tech Heating and Cooling in Redford.

Jay De Ordio of Colonial Heating and Cooling in Plymouth said, "It's a real good feeling for everybody." De Ordio worked from 8 a.m. to "when-ever."

Efforts were well-timed for Frances Overfield, a Livonia resident for 49 years.

"It has really saved me a great expense. It is hard to get things done without some kind of trouble," she said.

IN ALL, 73 homes were serviced. Most calls required only cleaning and minor adjustment on furnace systems. All work carries a 30-day warranty.

While contractors were prepared to install up to four new furnaces, there was need for only one, which was donated by the Behler-Young Company in Redford. Area supply firms also contributed to Saturday's project.

At the end of the day, volunteers and their families gathered for a pizza party hosted by the Knights of Columbus in Livonia. The food was courtesy of Domino's Pizza.

Kennedy summed up the feelings of most. "It feels good to do this for someone who needs help," he said, adding, "Someday I'll need help."

Area schools vary widely in spending

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

Area school districts may be close in proximity but a recently published survey indicates they are far apart in spending.

The report shows area school districts spent widely different amounts for basic classroom education in the 1986-87 school year, as well as for vocational, special and adult education.

School districts were ranked on the amount they spent per student. Area school officials, however, said some rankings were misleading.

South Redford, which ranked among the state's top 40, said its per student spending was slipping. So did Plymouth-Canton, which ranked 174th statewide.

Livonia, one of western Wayne County's wealthiest districts, was pleased with its per student spending figure. But so was Redford Union, one of the area's less wealthy districts.

Information on 1986-87 school district spending was recently released by the Michigan State Board of Education. Information from the 1987-88 school year is still being compiled.

Among Observer area districts:
• Livonia was tops in overall per pupil spending. Livonia Schools' overall $4,739 figure ranked 25th among Michigan's 525 public school districts. Livonia also ranked in the top 40 with regard to basic classroom programs and vocational/special education.

"We're very fortunate to be in a community that blends commercial, industrial and residential property," Livonia Superintendent James Carli said. "In this community, commercial and industrial pay about 50 cents of every dollar that goes for schools."

The district ranked 187th, however, for adult education and other supplemental programs — spending $37 per student. District officials said that ranking was due to an agreement allowing Livonia students to use some facilities within the Redford Union Schools. "That's what makes their ranking higher," finance director Michael Furlong said.

• South Redford spent $4,439 per student overall, ranking 37th in the state. Despite the ranking, South Redford Superintendent Jan Jacobs said the district's spending per student was "slipping."

"There was a time when we ranked in the top 10 statewide," Jacobs said. "Our SEV (home and business state equalized value) are not keeping up."

While South Redford ranked 26th in the state in spending for basic education, it ranked 200th in spending for vocational/special education and 299th for adult and other supplemental programs.

"BECAUSE WE'RE out of formula, we don't get the state aid other districts do for these programs," Jacobs said. "And we only get a frac-

Teacher pay exceeds average

Average teacher salaries exceeded the county average in all but one area district during 1986-87, a recent study indicated.

Percentage increases in local districts' teacher salaries, however, fell below or roughly equaled the county average.

Average salaries for Wayne County teachers rose to $34,090 between 1982-87, according to a recent Michigan Board of Education survey. Increases in all 34 county district averaged 14.27 percent.

Teacher salaries were highest in Livonia, the area's wealthiest district in terms of assessed property tax value.

Though Plymouth-Canton schools posted the largest percentage increase, it was the only local district where teacher salaries fell below the county average.

Average salaries in 1986-87 and five year percentage increases for area schools were:

- Garden City — $35,086, a 12.2-percent increase.
- Livonia — $38,042, an 11.7-percent increase.

- Plymouth-Canton — $33,103, a 16.3-percent increase.
- Redford Union — $36,726, a 14.5-percent increase.
- South Redford — $38,759, a 15.5-percent increase.
- Wayne-Westland — $35,924, a 7.9-percent increase.

Average teacher salaries include raises but can also be influenced by other factors including step increases for more experienced teachers and bonuses for teachers completing advanced collegiate degrees.

United Way

Donation stays in community

RESIDENTS OF THIS area may look around and say United Way services are not needed in the affluent Plymouth community.

They're wrong. And getting residents to donate money is exactly what the Plymouth Community United Way has in mind with its annual fundraiser that began last week and runs through Oct. 31.

Because the Plymouth organization donates money raised to 16 local social service agencies and an additional 25 groups that serve this area your contribution goes a long way.

The goal for this year's drive is $460,000, an 8 percent increase over last year's $425,000.

The unique aspect of the Plymouth campaign is the fact that it is separate from the fund raising going on in the metropolitan Detroit area.

THAT MEANS money raised remains in this area.

And the money goes a long way in brightening the lives of those receiving United Way assistance. Consider:

- Geraldine McColskey has multiple sclerosis and is unable to leave her bed without assistance. One of those offering help to the Plymouth resident is the Visiting Nurses Association, a group that receives money from the local United Way.

- "I plan my day around the Visiting Nursing Association service," she said. "I don't know what I would do without them."

The association receives $10,000 a year to provide services to patients in Plymouth.

- Jim and Eddie are good friends. The Plymouth residents spend a great deal of time together as part of the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program.

- "I thought of Big Brothers as a way to make a lifelong friendship," said Eddie's mom. "I think children need a special someone and the more special someones you have in your life, the luckier you are."

More than 800 "special someones" are matched with boys and girls in the metropolitan area through the organization. Part of their funding comes from your United Way contribution.

- Nearly 30 area residents serve as Red Cross blood team volunteers helping to assure a safe and adequate community blood supply.

These volunteers staffed more than 40 blood drives conducted by area businesses, churches and other organizations.

But even with those volunteer efforts, the Red Cross needs money to perform its life-saving duties. And that's where your contribution comes in.

- Sixteen Plymouth residents have found a home. They are residents of the Plymouth Opportunity House, a facility for developmentally disabled adults.

Through the United Way and other organizations, these residents are given a chance to learn and grow in a community setting far away from institutions.

We could go on and on about how your money is spent. Money raised goes to the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, Growth Works, the Plymouth Community Family YMCA, First Step, Salvation Army, Kidney Foundation, Heart Association and others.

As you can see a wide variety of groups take advantage of the United Way campaign.

These are not faceless organizations. Your donation helps your neighbors, friends and community.

The easiest way to help is through payroll deduction. Or you can send your contributions to the Plymouth Community United Way, P.O. Box 356, Plymouth 48170.

Donating is simple, painless and the money goes a long way in providing basic services in our community.

Vigorous county and local enforcement targeted to certain locations and times where police know alcohol-related fatalities have occurred has proved successful — and without infringing on sober motorists' rights.

in 1987 were down because of a drop in manpower. We urge greater funding of such single-purpose programs in Oakland and Wayne counties.

Cracking down on drunk driving must remain a priority for law enforcement agencies. Alcoholism affects not just the individual, but the family, other motorists and society in general. Consider that approximately 9 million Americans are alcoholics who indirectly affect another 40 million family members, friends and co-workers.

We urge local police agencies to continue enforcing present statutes that present offenders with stiff penalties and a chance for rehabilitation.

Strict enforcement of current statutes has been successful. Drunk-driving arrests statewide have increased. In 1983, there were 65,000 arrests. In 1986, arrests stood at 71,500 and convictions at 25,000. Alcohol-related fatalities decreased to 49.6 percent in 1986 compared to 56.4 percent in 1982.

We look to the district and circuit courts to ensure that drunk-driving offenders are treated not just as criminals, but individuals with a severe illness in need of in-depth treatment.

Yes, stiff penalties legitimately take the drunk drivers off the road — for a time. But without judges ordering defendants into rehabilitation programs, the drunk driver will again be on the road.

WE URGE judges and attorneys to become educated about the disease of alcoholism. A simple crime it is not. Nor is it one that will go away with incarceration.

We urge judges and attorneys to follow the lead of 48th District Judge Edward Sosnick who advocates training for these professionals so they can recognize the disease and the need for rehabilitation, not just jail and a fine.

As Sosnick puts it: "Judges and lawyers have the unique opportunity to intervene. Once we can see what the problem is, we can suggest and order a person to the appropriate treatment. The more judges and lawyers can understand the addiction, the easier it is to help people."

Visionary

Musician achieved his dreams

THIS SATURDAY'S first Plymouth Symphony concert will be a little sad for some of us as we remember Wayne Dunlap.

Actually, I think of the longtime (1953-79) conductor almost daily as I exit the I-275 freeway at Seven Mile Road near the Schoolcraft College campus.

Not only was he a great musician, splendid teacher and a fun guy — he was a visionary. But I'm getting ahead of the story.

He was retired from Grand Valley State University and died July 23 after a heart attack. That was sad but not shocking. Everyone knew he had health problems.

DUNLAP WAS in his 30s when he came out of the University of Michigan to the Plymouth school district, took over the still-fledgling Plymouth Symphony and gave it both stability and quality. There were older orchestras in bigger towns that weren't as good, frankly.

When Schoolcraft College was formed out of five northwestern Wayne County districts, Dunlap signed on in 1964, even before classes started, as head of fine arts. Despite suburbia's reputation for cultural blandness, Dunlap knew a hotbed of musical talent was out here.

He hired and kept young faculty who not only could perform but could teach teenagers and relate music to (harrumph) older adults like me.

He started a summer music school with outdoor chamber concerts — a miniature Meadowbrook for those with wit enough to appreciate them. Next to familiar composers like Mozart and Schubert, he juxtaposed Stravinsky and Poulenc — and stretched our minds.

Dunlap sold the Ford Foundation on giving Schoolcraft a grant for a composer-in-residence, the witty and talented Bob Jones.

Dunlap's successors kept quality high. At the U-M school of music, Schoolcraft was known as the best producer of community college transfer students in the state. I checked.

MEANWHILE, when the Plymouth school district put up a new high school complex, it built the best auditorium anybody in these parts ever did see.

When conductor Ralph Reed and cellist Debra Fayrolan step on stage at 8 p.m. Saturday to launch into the Khachaturian cello concerto, part of our enjoyment will be due to the fact that this auditorium, with its splendid acoustics, is a tribute to Dunlap and the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

And if someone on the Plymouth-Canton school board suggests naming the auditorium for Wayne Dunlap — well, amen.

THE MAN, as I said, was a visionary, and he envisioned western Wayne County as a center of small orchestra and chamber music.

Dunlap's idea was a fine arts classroom building with an adjacent auditorium. Four times Schoolcraft College put one version or another of the plan on the ballot, and four times it went down.

Too bad. Today Orchestra Hall in downtown Detroit is the preferred house for recitals, chamber concerts and even larger orchestral concerts. And Macomb Community College is drawing a lot of audiences to its center for the performing arts.

Maybe Dunlap was a few years ahead of his time.

Anyway, he moved to Grand Valley in 1971, where they did have the kind of college hall he wanted.

Today, two office buildings are going up on land leased from the college district — roughly the site Dunlap envisioned for a Schoolcraft College Fine Arts Auditorium.

They're pretty buildings and will generate taxes. But for those of us who shared Wayne Dunlap's vision, let me put it this way:

Man does not live by high tech alone.

To the editor:

While the picture of two infants watching their mother use a rotary lawn mower may have been considered "cute" by many readers of your Sept. 8 edition, it was unthinking and a disservice.

The number of accidents caused by rotary mowers accidentally striking unseen objects is well documented and manufacturers warn against operating mowers near bystanders or wearing non-protective shoes. Many persons ignore these warnings since the chances of an accident are "one in a million." Odds don't mean much if you, your friend or child happens to be that one.

Home care not new

To the editor:

Your article on dental care for the homebound was very interesting and will give hope to many who can't get to the office.

The service is not a new one as we have been providing comprehensive, quality care for homebound individuals for over 20 years. Many other dentists do the same for their own patients.

Those seeking care should first talk with their family dentist, then contact the Detroit District Dental Society at 871-3500 or the Michigan Dental Association at (517) 372-9870 for referrals.

Barbecue was team effort

To the editor:

On behalf of the Plymouth Rotary Club we would like to extend our sincere appreciation and thanks to those who supported Plymouth Rotary by purchasing a chicken dinner during this year's Fall Festival.

In addition, we must also thank the citizens of Plymouth, the city of Plymouth and its administration and employees, the Fall Festival Board, and Michigan National Bank for their continuous help and cooperation in making our barbecue a success each year.

Finally, we would like to recognize all the people who volunteered their time and services on Sunday and throughout the year. These include, but are not limited to Plymouth Rotarians and their families, the Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton swim teams and their coaching staffs, and all the individuals, who show up each year to help.

Our committee starts planning each chicken barbecue in December and works hard to prepare the best dinner with the highest quality foods. However, without the help of everyone mentioned and all our vendors, this event could not take place. Again, thank you and see you at next year's Annual Plymouth Rotary Chicken Barbecue.

Survey participation will benefit cancer research

OFTEN, I have hung up on telephone callers who have claimed to be interviewers for some survey or another. I like to see it in writing. So recently I was surprised, pleased and cooperative when a letter arrived from a division of an organization close to my heart, the Michigan Cancer Foundation, asking if I would permit a representative to come to my home to ask questions.

It turned out to be a professionally trained interviewer named Olga Zavaleta of the Cancer Foundation's Detroit Health Survey, which is conducting a scientific study in cooperation with the U.S. Public Health Service. Similar research is taking place in other areas of the country.

If you're a student of this column, you know I have become extremely cancer-conscious in the last two years. Nonetheless, I was surprised to read in the preliminary letter: "We have selected a number of people in the metropolitan area who, like you, have recently received medical care. Your physician has been notified of our intention to contact you. We need to talk to everyone selected and ask some questions about their diet, jobs, medical history and general background. Your participation in this study is entirely voluntary."

I WONDERED how in the devil they knew I had become another human statistic who will start receiving his own radiation treatments next week. Then I learned that the Michigan Cancer Foundation has operated a population-based cancer reporting system for Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties since 1969, collaborating with 64 area hospitals, more than 5,000 physicians and numerous therapy facilities.

Because of MCF's experience in this field, the National Cancer Institute selected it as one of the founding participants in its national cancer reporting system initiated in 1973. The surveillance program identifies cases, collects data, controls quality and follows up all patients diagnosed with cancer. You couldn't hide if you wanted to.

Fred DeLano

As I understand it, Michigan law requires cancer reporting and also assures complete confidentiality of all data collected in all studies. The statutes ensure that all data are available for research uses only and cannot be obtained for any other purpose.

In other words, my answers to Madame Zavaleta's many pages of prepared questions will be combined with the answers of all other study participants for purposes of analyzing results on an area basis, and I suppose ultimately will be thrown into a computer processing cancer patient information nationally.

"YOUR NAME will not be used in any of the study reports," I was promised. Boy, was I glad to hear that.

When interviewed, it stands to reason that a person should be reasonably honest, for fictionalizing data would be pretty stupid if there is to be an iota of progress toward eventual cancer eradication. But some of the questions do become a mite personal, although refusal to answer is accepted. Also, in one's silver years, memory isn't all it used to be. How many cigarettes I've smoked and what my weekly alcohol intake has been for a half-century needed quick mental calculation, and at best it was a wild estimate. Not so, however, for how many times I've eaten turnips or macchini. I just said, "As rarely as possible."

Although participation may not directly benefit you, the questions don't hurt. Maybe someone far down the road will be helped.

That the questions would cover a wide range of subjects is understandable, for how else could a total picture be obtained? Food likes and dislikes, exercise habits, job environments and health history are merely samples.

Easiest answer for me was to the question of how many times I had worked up a sweat on the job. Colleagues will agree, "none." I didn't wince when asked to recall how many sexual partners there have been, nor did I brag, but memory was faulty in trying to pinpoint how many sexual experiences there had been weekly, decade by decade.

At any rate, in the belief that individual involvement is essential to the success of the study and to an understanding of the disease, I urge cooperation by any person who is asked. Although participation may not directly benefit you, the questions don't hurt. Maybe someone far down the road will be helped.

Kittens and puppies are destroyed daily. People believe that all their unwanted pet problems are solved by dropping cats and kittens off at an animal shelter.

Love of animals may mean killing some off

DEBORAH THURMAN loves animals. On some days she may kill scores of cats and dogs, kittens and puppies. If you find that hard to imagine, you may be part of the reason that she and others like her are doing the killing.

Thurman is the shelter manager for the Anti-Cruelty Association in Detroit. It's on Joseph Campau, not too far from Buddy's Pizza where Thurman and Aggie Monfette gave me a quick education in the world of cats and dogs while we munched on a vegetarian pizza.

Monfette is an investment counselor in Bloomfield Hills and is also secretary for the Birmingham Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce. She is also a sucker for animals, a volunteer at the shelter and persuasive enough to talk me into a sweltering summer ride into Detroit in a car without working air conditioning.

The lunch was fine and the shelter visit was informative, but that's not to say the day was totally enjoyable. Hard truths aren't as easy to digest as a cheese and mushroom pizza.

THE STORY of stray, unwanted, neglected or abused animals is not pleasant. Some of the stories are obviously despicable: It is not unheard of for people to buy puppies, chain them in the backyard and then forget them; as the scrawny dog grows, the collar chokes it.

Some of the nightmare is not so obvious: Pets are not spayed or neutered and people believe that all their unwanted pet problems are solved by dropping cats and kittens off at an animal shelter.

This last point is one of the most troubling, controversial and emotional. The Anti-Cruelty Association is not one of those shelters that vows never to destroy animals. Such a policy is misleading, harmful to animals and impossible, says Thurman.

Yes, she says, some shelters won't destroy. But, she says, they must then either seriously overcrowd their facilities, keep animals cruelly caged for long periods of time, or eventually refuse to take animals.

"And then they come to us," says Thurman.

Although there are some people who are plain and simple rotten to animals, the major problem, according to Thurman and Monfette, is that there are too many animals.

THE NUMBERS: Theoretically, a single female dog can be the start of 4,372 dogs over seven generations. That's nothing. Two uncontrolled breeding cats plus all their kittens' kittens could add up to 80 million cats in 10 years if none are ever neutered or spayed.

These are theoretical numbers, but they point to the explosive potential of the animal population. With those numbers in mind, you can see that the 40 or so animals at the Anti-Cruelty shelter must rotate quickly. That rotation can happen in two ways: a home is found, which happens rarely, or the animals can be killed, which happens a lot.

The room where they are killed is clean and bare. Those who do the killing do not turn cold, mechanical or unfeeling. They are gentle and caring and many have written touching and sad articles about the ordeal.

But their emotions are shelved when it's the animal's turn to die. The dog or cat is gently held and stroked. In many cases it is treated better than any other time in its life. And then it dies peacefully.

"The last thing the dog or cat knows is that it is loved," says Thurman.

Does this mass death bother you? Then get your dogs and cats spayed or neutered. And tell your neighbors to do the same thing. The problem isn't what the shelters do with animals; it's what people do, and don't do, with their pets.

A 10-mile walkathon Sunday starting at the Belle Isle Nature Center will raise money for the Anti-Cruelty Association. Call 891-7188 for more information.

Survey reveals school spending differences

tion of the state aid we're due."

Redford Union ranked 112th in the state in overall per student spending, with $3,689 per student, but ranked 11th statewide in vocational/special education, spending $606 per student.

The lower ranking on overall per student spending wasn't a particular concern, Redford Union Superintendent of Schools Kenneth Erickson said.

"We know we've traditionally spent $200-250 less per student than other districts in Wayne County. But we know we don't have the money other districts have," he said. "It concerns us when we have to buy furniture, materials and text books, but it would concern us more if our students weren't performing well on standardized tests. That's not the case."

The district's special education spending ranking might be artificially high, Erickson said, because Redford Union provides space for county programs for hearing and emotionally impaired children.

"I believe our basic programs rank us 484th," Erickson said.

Garden City spent $3,989 overall per student, ranking 67th. The district ranked within the state's top 30 in spending for vocational/special education and adult ed and other programs but ranked 406th in spending for basic classroom education.

'In this community (Livonia), commercial and industrial pay about 50 cents of every dollar that goes for schools.'

— James Carli,
superintendent

"that's not really a concern," Superintendent Michael Wilmet said. "There's things that aren't reflected in that figure such as support services and staff. We feel the overall figure for per pupil spending is much more reflective."

The high ranking for special education, Wilmet said, includes the center for autistic children Garden City operates on the county's behalf.

"That's about seven times as expensive as other classroom programs," he said.

Plymouth-Canton ranked lowest among area schools in overall spending per student. The district ranked 174th in the state, spending $3,363 per student.

"It's going even lower," Plymouth-Canton associate superintendent Raymond Hoedel said. "We have a problem in that we're going out of (state aid) formula, yet we're also required to make Headlee roll-backs."

The district lost $1 million in state aid this year, Hoedel said, with greater losses expected next year.

Wayne-Westland ranked either third or fourth among area districts in each category. Its $3,963 overall per student spending ranked 74th in the state.

"We know we're below the average for Wayne County (in per pupil spending) but we also know our residents have supported schools to the utmost," Wayne-Westland Superintendent Dennis O'Neill said.

Wayne-Westland's tax rate is the highest among local districts. "It only points out the inequities in funding if you look at what a Bloomfield Hills is spending," O'Neill said. "Yet, we're a heck of a lot better than some other districts."

The district's vocational education spending is well above average, O'Neill said, because the district operates the William D. Ford Vocational-Technical Center and actively pursues vocational education grants.

Contest seeks name for lion

An anti-drug abuse program is inviting elementary school children in Michigan to suggest names for its official mascot by offering chances at prizes.

The Courage Drug Prevention and Education Program's "Name the Lion" contest is open to all children in kindergarten through grade 6.

The contest's goal is to name the Courage mascot, which is a lion at the Detroit Zoo. The lion's cartoon image illustrates the program's guidebook for children and their families.

It also will generate participation in the Courage program itself.

Kids think of the best name for the mascot they can imagine, then write it on a postcard, along with their own name, age, address, telephone number and the name of the school they attend.

Entries are mailed to the Courage Lion Contest, 24359 Northwestern Highway, Southfield 48075.

Only one name for the lion may be entered per postcard, but kids can enter as many times as they wish.

PROGRAM DIRECTOR Yvonne Blackmond said entries must be received no later than March 31, 1989. The first 2,500 entrants will receive a one-day pass to the zoo. A first prize of $500 in cash and a $500 savings bond will be awarded in April 1989, along with 20 runnerup prizes of season zoo passes.

Courage is a nonprofit program for elementary school children. Its approach is designed to involve parents and children in developing strong self concepts and resistance to peer pressure, plus recognition of the ongoing rewards of positive behavior.

Courage has been implemented by the Michigan Education Association/National Education Association Great Cities Program servicing the Detroit area. Blackmond, who was appointed director last April, previously was a deputy in the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department.

Yard sale has historical touch

THE YARD SALE held Saturday at the Plymouth Historical Museum included a variety of knick-knacks.

China, silver and glass items were among those for sale at the fund-raiser. Jewelry was also sold.

"Some of it was silver, some nice pieces," said Bruce Richard, president of the Plymouth Historical Society, sponsor of the sale.

Furniture, tools, games and sporting goods were sold.

"We had a few one-of-a-kind type items," Richard said. A stereo console, a nine-drawer dresser and an antique 8mm movie projector were offered for sale.

A corn sheller — designed to remove kernels from corn cobs — was also sold.

"That was an antique," he said. An antique grinding wheel, used to sharpen axes, chisels and other tools, was offered for sale.

MEMBERS OF the Plymouth Historical Society have held an annual yard sale for the past several years, Richard said. Proceeds support historical society activities, and are used primarily for the operation of the museum at 155 S. Main St. in Plymouth.

"We came closer to a sellout than we ever have in the past," he said. Saturday's sale netted just over $1,700.

"Perfect weather" helped guarantee the event's success.

"Bright, sunny, warm but not hot," Richard said. "A perfect day."

Co-chairmen for this year's sale were Jacqueline and Jack Kenyon, active members of the Plymouth Historical Society.

"It was all volunteer help by our members," Richard said. "We call it a success."

Remainders from the Plymouth Historical Society sale won't just gather dust. They have been earmarked for the yard sale at Geer School.

That sale, sponsored by the Geer School Mothers' Club, will be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 8-9, at the school, on Plymouth Road at Gotfredson. Proceeds will be used for the restoration of Geer School, a one-room schoolhouse built in the late 19th century.

Members of the Plymouth Historical Society intend to continue holding yard sales, although not necessarily in September.

"This is an awful busy month," Richard said. "Spring is a good time for yard sales."

(The Plymouth Historical Museum is open 1-4 p.m. Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. For more information, call 455-8940.)

Election highlights child care issues

By Julie Brown
staff writer

Child care's an issue in this presidential election, and that suits some Plymouth-Canton people just fine.

Those involved in local day care and preschool programs are pleased that child care is in the spotlight. They don't necessarily agree on specifics of what's best for families, but they are glad to see attention paid to child care.

"I think it's a very positive step in the right direction," said Marjorie Palmer, director of the Gerber Children's Center in Canton. "It's a necessity that can no longer be ignored."

The Gerber Children's Center, a preschool and children's center, offers programs for children 12 months to 10 years old. The centers are a subsidiary of the Gerber Products Co.

"Being in this profession, I'm very happy to see" discussion of child care needs, said Palmer, an Ypsilanti resident. She won't, however, base her vote in November on child care issues alone.

GERBER HAS examined proposals put forth by this year's presidential candidates, she said. Employees have been free to make their own choices; the organization hasn't taken a stand in support of one candidate or the other.

"We feel we need to be child advocates," Gerber staffers have provided information to help parents make informed decisions.

Palmer, the mother of 4-year-old twin girls, prefers tax credits as a child-care measure. Such a move would give working-class and middle-class families a break, she said.

Palmer's pleased to see state and local officials paying attention to child care. Corporations are also paying attention. Some provide on-site day care while others offer child care assistance as a benefit.

"So there are a lot of different options available out there." Employers have found it's best to retain trained employees, rather than hiring replacements.

"I think they're realizing that it is important," said Palmer. Her children are at the Gerber Children's Center with her.

Gerber operates a day care center at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit. Officials there found such a center helped them recruit and retain a critical care staff, Palmer said.

"We will see tremendous changes in child care."

THOSE CHANGES will improve upon what's already available for parents, Palmer said.

Elaine Yagiela, director of New Morning School in Plymouth Township, is pleased to see attention paid to child care.

"I think there's a lot of parents out there needing quality child care," said Yagiela, a Northville Township resident.

Her school doesn't offer full-day child care for preschoolers, but does offer care before and after school for children in kindergarten and up. Such care has been offered for many years at New Morning, a parent cooperative school for preschoolers through eighth graders.

Yagiela supports such options as on-site day care at work sites and flexible work schedules. Such schedules are offered for teachers at New Morning School, many of whom come to school with their own children.

Yagiela's children, ages 5 and 11, were both "school babies" who came to school with her. At New Morning School, some parents have arranged their work schedules to allow them to share classroom time with their children.

"I think kids need to be with their parents," Yagiela most likely wouldn't have continued working outside the home if she couldn't have been with the children.

Peggy Kalis, membership chairwoman for the Plymouth Children's Nursery in Canton, is pleased to see child care become an election issue.

THAT COOPERATIVE preschool offers programs for 3- and 4-year-olds.

Tots, moms meet

By Julie Brown
staff writer

CIDER AND companionship were the order of the day at a recent Canton Newcomers get-together.

Members of the Newcomers' Moms and Tots group traveled to Plymouth Orchards and Cider Mill the morning of Tuesday, Sept. 20.

"That's one of our things in the fall," said Kathe Hetter of Canton. The group included eight moms and about 14 children.

The Moms and Tots took a wagon ride, picked apples and enjoyed cider and doughnuts. They also visited with the farm animals, and learned how Plymouth Orchards and Cider Mill operates.

Hetter enjoyed spending the morning with her children, Allison, 14 months, and Christian, 3.

Christian was able to run around and play during the outing, although Allison spent most of her time traveling via backpack.

"They like all the Moms and Tots activities we do every month."

Christian Hetter, 3, enjoys a tasty apple. Christian went to Plymouth Orchards and Cider Mill with his mom, Kathe, and his 14-month-old sister, Allison.

THE MOMS AND TOTS group has different activities each month; parties are held at Halloween, Christmas and Easter.

"The kids get to meet other kids." The mothers also enjoy the meetings.

The skies were a bit cloudy during last week's get-together, but group members chose not to cancel their outing.

"It was just like this when we came out last year," Hetter said. The group included babies and tots.

"Sometimes, they get a little antsy," she said. The children are generally well-behaved during group outings.

Kathy Wanamaker of Canton, who's also involved with the Moms and Tots group, was among those enjoying last week's get-together. She was with her children, Kelly, 8 months, and Brian, 3 1/2.

"Oh, I think this is fun," Wanamaker said. "I like doing this kind of thing."

Kelly "just comes along for the ride," but her older brother was able to play with the other children.

"He loves being with the kids," she said.

Symphony set for fall concert

Debra Fayroian, a Detroit Symphony Orchestra cellist, will be the featured soloist at the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's opening concert of the 1988-89 season.

The concert, featuring Russian masterworks, will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1, in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High School, 46181 Joy Road, Canton.

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra is starting its 43rd season. Russell Reed is the PSO's music director and conductor.

Debra Fayroian, formerly principal cellist with the Toledo Symphony Orchestra, is well-known to music lovers in the Detroit area. She has appeared in recital in Detroit, Toronto, New York, Toledo, Ann Arbor and other cities. Her student years were spent at the University of Michigan, Interlochen, and the Aspen Music Festival.

DURING THAT time, Fayroian received many awards and scholarships. She was a soloist with the U-M orchestras and at Interlochen. Under the guidance of the Juilliard String Quartet, she began an intensive study program in chamber music.

Fayroian maintains an active performing schedule with the many concert series in the Detroit area.

Ticket prices are $8 for adults and $7 for seniors. Admission is free of charge for students in kindergarten through 12th grade. Tickets are available at: Beltner's Jewelry, 904 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth; at Arnoldt Williams Music, 5701 N. Canton Center Road, Canton; and at the Plymouth Symphony Society office, 451-2112. Tickets may also be bought at the box office the evening of the performance.

Following the opening concert, the Plymouth Symphony Society will host an afterglow reception for the audience. Donation is $8. The reception, to be held at the home of Wendell and Margaret Smith, will include wine and cheese, dessert and coffee. For reservations, call Sue Decker, 453-9223.

The "Overture to Colas Breugnot" will begin the all-Russian program at the Saturday, Oct. 1, performance. Composed by Dmitri Kavalevsky in 1937, it is regarded as his most significant work, and is based on stories by Rolland.

A PROLIFIC composer, he studied at the Moscow Conservatory and began his music career at age 21. By the time he was 35, Kavalevsky had written four symphonies, two piano concertos, a series of string quartets and many piano pieces and songs.

The concert will include Aram Khachaturian's "Cello Concerto," which was composed during the summer of 1946. This work echoes the painful experiences of wartime, especially in its first two movements.

The second theme most clearly bears the composer's personal signature. Its character echoes the folk songs and dances of Armenia and Azerbaijan, taught to him by his mother in Tiflis, the capital of Georgia, where he lived during his early years.

Nicholas Rimsky-Korsakov's colorful and brilliant symphonic suite, "Scheherazade," will close the evening of Russian masterpieces. That symphonic suite is based on the tales of the book "The Arabian Nights."

Candidates offer child care ideas

By Susan Buck
staff writer

Child care is an issue that has surged to the top of the nation's priorities during this year's presidential campaign.

Both Michael Dukakis and George Bush have latched onto the subject of child care in their quest for The White House.

Bush opposes mandated federal child care. Bush said his plan is designed to "help parents, not bureaucrats."

"Parents can best ensure quality when they have the broadest range of choices from which to choose," said Bush when he unveiled his plan in July at the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Organization convention in New Mexico.

Bush's four-point plan is based primarily on tax credits. It includes:

- The Children's Tax Credit — a new refundable tax credit of up to $1,000 per child under age 4, which will begin with very low-income families, then move on to families with annual household incomes of $16,000-$20,000 and eventually to higher-income families as the budget allows. Cost estimate: $1.5 billion.
- Refundable Dependent Care Tax Credit — a means to maintain the existing dependent care tax credit and make it refundable. Bush believes that many low-income families go without the assistance made available to upper-income families because they do not earn enough to pay taxes. A family could take the greater credit, either the Children's Tax Credit or the refundable dependent care credit. Cost $400 million.

- Child Care for Employees — Bush would initiate more employer-sponsored day care, starting with the federal government as a model. He proposes establishing a federal reinsurance revolving pool to reduce obstacles presented by lack of available liability insurance. He also encourages Employer-Supported Child Care, flex-work schedules and benefit plans which would allow employees to choose which benefits they desire. Estimated cost is $50 million.

Employer-Supported Child Care is a term used to group together various options available to employers. According to "Michigan Employers' Guide to Child Care" a report issued by The House Republican Task Force on Child Care, which was chaired by state Rep. Lyn R. Banks, R-Livonia, 37 companies in Michigan offer some type of ESOC.

A flexible benefits plan and pre-tax dollar spending accounts exist at Plante & Moran in Southfield. Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills, Birmingham Public Schools and the Troy School District (Adult Education Department) offer either on-site or near-site child care centers, according to the report.

- More choices, better information — Bush proposes incentives for school districts to create or expand before- or after-school care and public/private community partnerships. Employers would be encouraged to provide sponsored day care. Also stressed is phase-in funding to enable enrollment of all eligible four-year-olds in Head Start. In addition, consumer education, guidance, information and referral services through the Department of Labor is planned.

Bush opposes a federal day-care program as a "one-size-fits-all" solution, stressing that parents and their work schedules need the broadest range of choices to choose from.

Dukakis supports the Alliance for Better Child Care bill, currently in the U.S. Senate, which would set up a federal child care system with the providers to be licensed or certified. Dukakis' goal is to make quality, affordable day care available by the end of the century to every family that needs it.

Employers note that parents who come to work assured that their children are safe and well cared for, experience reduced absenteeism and tardiness along with enhanced morale.

Based on the fact that the United States has no comprehensive day-care policy, Dukakis proposes a "National Day Care Partnership" that would:

- Establish federal incentives in support of quality standards for all 50 states.
- Increase education and training for child-care workers and provide adequate compensation for child-care workers.

To ensure affordability, Dukakis would support the development of sliding fee services for child care and create public/private partnerships to help parents secure affordable child care. To ensure availability, Dukakis wants to find accessible child care for children of all age levels, from infants to school-age as well as provide resource and referral agencies that help parents find and evaluate child-care options.

Dukakis said this could also be accomplished by encouraging a wide variety of child-care models, including those based in churches, families, businesses, government offices, schools and work sites.

Spotlight's on kids

"I think it's time we did look at something like that," said Kallis, a Plymouth Township resident.

Kallis is the mother of two children, ages 4 and 7. She works out of her home and has a business making baskets.

"There are so many working mothers and there's not adequate child care."

Kallis supports measures to improve the quality of child care, but is concerned about the question of who pays for such measures. She'd like to see major corporations offer child care at work sites.

"It takes a big weight off of a parent who's working." Parents can see their children during work breaks and at lunchtime.

Mary Fritz of Plymouth also has an interest in this year's presidential election as it relates to child care. She's the director of Chapter I and Head Start programs for the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. Fritz oversees several compensatory education programs, including Head Start and PLUS (Pupils Learning Useful Skills).

She's pleased both presidential candidates are addressing child care issues.

"Research tells us these are formative years. It does bring results in the future."

FRITZ, WHO described herself as "an enlightened Republican," is a George Bush supporter. She's concerned about where the burden of financing child care falls.

At the same time, Fritz, who agrees with parts of the Democratic platform, has seen the benefits of quality child care programs. High-risk youngsters benefit particularly from such programs.

"I'm for private enterprise and all these kinds of things, too," Fritz supports candidates who advocate measures to help children "right along with some of the other things that are extolled."

This year, both presidential candidates want to be seen as supporters of early childhood education and child care, she said.

"It's really an idea whose time has come. We need to lay some good foundations."

Moms and Tots meet

WANAMAKER CHOSE to leave her job when Brian was born, and is grateful she was able to do so. She'd worked at a computer company in Ann Arbor.

"I could afford to do it. A lot of people can't afford to do it."

Wanamaker is glad she can spend time with her children while they're growing up. She and her husband were married nine years before their son was born.

"So I was ready to be a mommy."

Kathe Hetter, also a full-time mother, used to work in a research lab. She and her husband moved here from St. Louis, Mo. In addition to caring for her children, Hetter is a graduate student in education at Eastern Michigan University.

"It's a lot of fun," Hetter said of the time spent with her children. She enjoys being there "when you see the excitement in their faces or when they ask questions."

The Moms and Tots enjoy their wagon ride at Plymouth Orchards and Cider Mill.

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM WEEK

The United States House of Representatives recently passed a House Joint Resolution calling for the week of Sept. 25 to be designated as Religious Freedom Week.

The resolution, which is co-sponsored by 225 U.S. representatives and 70 U.S. senators, calls upon the nation to celebrate its heritage of religious liberty. The resolution specifically aims at religious liberty being endangered throughout history by "bigotry and intolerance" and individual rights to worship freely or not be religious by choice, "without interference from governmental or other agencies."

The resolution was introduced jointly by U.S. Reps. Helen Bentley, R-Md., and Mervyn Dymally, D-Calif., in the House of Representatives and Sens. Clairborne Pell, D-R.I., and John Chafee (R-R.I.) in the Senate.

Senators Donald Riegle Jr. and Carl Levin and Congressmen Bill Schuette, Frederick Upton, Paul Henry, William Broomfield, Carl Pursell, John Conyers Jr. and Robert Davis from Michigan co-sponsored the bill.

Previous CROP Walks, like this one in 1985, have raised more than $35,000 for hunger programs at home and abroad.

Livonia churches team up in an effort to fight hunger

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

The Livonia CROP Walk is designed to feed the hungry. But it also nourishes the starving ecumenical movement within the city's church community.

Some 20 Livonia churches, representing a wide variety of denominations, will participate in this year's Livonia CROP Walk for the Hungry. The 10-kilometer walk takes place from 1:30-5 p.m. Sunday. The route begins and ends at Grand River Baptist Church in Livonia.

In five years of CROP Walks, the number of local congregations participating has been anywhere from 15 to 20. Organizers would like to see more involved, especially since there are more than 60 churches in Livonia.

"I'm kind of surprised by the lack of an ecumenical movement here in Livonia," said the Rev. Ron Cary of Grand River Baptist Church in Livonia, who is coordinating this year's walk. "I'm kind of dismayed by it. But some of us are still trying."

Anywhere from 200 to 300 people are expected to walk this year, trying to raise money to fight hunger throughout the world and at home. Locally, the walk is sponsored by the Livonia Ministerial Association and the CROP Walk Committee.

CROP is part of the Church World Service, an international agency of more than 30 Protestant and Orthodox denominations.

THE GOAL of CROP is to provide assistance to economically strapped areas of the world, not only by supplying immediate help, but through assistance to make people more self-sufficient.

Event: Fifth Annual Livonia CROP Walk for the Hungry

Date: Sunday, Oct. 2

Time: 1:30-5 p.m.

Place: The 10-kilometer walk begins and ends at Grand River Baptist Church, 34500 Six Mile, Livonia.

Local sponsors: Livonia Ministerial Association and the Livonia CROP committee.

Participants: Grand River Baptist, St. Aidan Catholic, St. Edith Catholic, Livonia Church of Christ, Riverside Park Church of God, Ascension Lutheran, Christ Our Savior Lutheran, Timothy Lutheran, Schoolcraft College's Newman Center, St. Matthew United Methodist, Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian, St. Paul Presbyterian, St. Timothy Presbyterian, Holy Trinity Lutheran, Clareville United Methodist, Church of the Savior Reformed in America, St. Maurice Catholic and St. Priscilla Catholic.

The first four Livonia CROP Walks have raised more than $35,000. Yet the money has been raised with support from less than half the churches in Livonia.

At least 25 percent of the money goes to area food programs, such as Livonia FISH, the Community Depot of St. Vincent de Paul and Detroit Christian Communication Council's Weekend Meals Program for Senior Adults.

One reason is simply that many churches have their own hunger programs, which keep them busy. Another reason, Cary points out, might be because Church World Service is under the umbrella of the National Council of Churches in Christ.

Cary said all the money raised goes for CROP hunger projects, not for any administrative services of the NCCC.

This year, there's a considerable cross section of denominations participating in the walk, including Baptist, Catholic, Presbyterian, United Methodist, Lutheran, Church of God and Church of the Reformed Savior. Joyce Barton, publicity chairwoman for the CROP Walk, said they have added "four or five" new churches this year.

Though the event is designed to help a serious problem, there's usually a festive atmosphere at CROP walks. There are clowns and balloons. People eight weeks to 80 of age have walked in previous CROP events.

WHEN THE entourage strolls through a neighborhood, people usually pop out of their houses and asked about the walk. Money is raised by the participants, who receive pledges from sponsors. Their work includes collecting the money from sponsors after the walk.

Along with the exercise factor, people who walk also enjoy the social aspect of it.

"You meet with others from congregations who share the same concerns about world hunger," Cary said. "We tend to get isolated in our own congregations and we don't realize there are others who are concerned about feeding the hungry. CROP Walks help point that out."

moral perspectives
Rev. Robert Schaden

Our anthem can be a 'beautiful' number

What does Ray Charles have in common with Katherine Lee Bates?

Such a question may sound as if it were lifted from a game of trivia. The answer is that they both like the song "America the Beautiful." Bates wrote the song and Charles thinks that we should adopt it as our national anthem.

The idea is not a new one. Others agree with Charles and many before have made the same suggestion. There are, of course, many others who would fight to keep "The Star Spangled Banner" in its place of honor.

Change of any kind does not wear well on some. Others believe that tradition serves loyalty regardless of the cost.

Recently, I was informed that the "Star Spangled Banner" should be left in place because it has always been there. So I asked these proponents of "Oh, say can you see . . ." when this song became our national anthem.

I was given a variety of dates. Most put it somewhere in the mid-19th century while more than one guessed 1776. The actual date, of course, is 1931. Forever is apparently relative.

ONE DOES not need a master's degree in music to realize the difficulty in singing our present national anthem. A degree in having been to a ball game will be sufficient to point out the difficulty in hitting the range notes required. Musical difficulty is not, however, the only consideration. Anthems, like symbols and other rituals, send a message about the people who sing or perform them. They also serve to perpetuate the way a group thinks and believes.

What statement better characterizes our nation as we would like to see it? Might it be a statement which is enthrilled with war where death rains from the skies?

Or do we prefer to see ourselves as a people proud of the beauty around us and committed to brotherhood — or sisterhood — from sea to sea?

I would like to think that most of us would vote for the latter.

However, the words that Francis Scott Key gave to an English drinking song as he watched the shelling of a fort in the War of 1812 sing a different tune. They betray more enchantment with battle and the fiery death delivered by rockets than with brotherhood or beauty.

Perhaps we would become a people more representative of what we claim as our values if we adopted a different song for the official statement of who we are.

MUCH HAS been said lately concerning allegiance to the flag. Flags are symbols and allegiances belong more properly to the truth that the symbols attempt to express.

The Rev. Robert Schaden is with Newman House Campus Ministry at Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

News that's closer to home

What a difference my plan makes!

Care Choices HMO offers me more complete coverage.

They cover me when I'm well as well as when I'm sick. So, in addition to coverage for things like hospitalization, most routine medical care is covered, like doctor's office visits, physicals, immunizations and lab tests. They cover pre-natal and well-baby care, too. My old insurance plan wouldn't do that!

Without paperwork. I used to have to fill out a lot of claim forms with my old insurance plan. But Care Choices HMO even covers the paperwork!

Without unpleasant surprises.

Unexpected doctor bills used to sneak up on me. But with Care Choices, after a small co-pay, there are no doctor bills. Care Choices even covers emergency care when I'm out of town, so surprise out-of-pocket costs can't put the bite on me.

And without waiting for reimbursement.

With traditional coverage, I had to pay for every doctor service right away, and then I had to wait to get my money back from the insurance company. That's not a problem with Care Choices. So many services are completely covered, waiting for reimbursement checks is a thing of the past.

I joined at work, and now I feel better than I have in a long time.

Care Choices is backed by the experience and quality of hospitals across the state, like Catherine McAuley Health Center, Chelsea Community Hospital, Saline Community Hospital and McPherson Hospital. And it works in partnership with over 400 private practice physicians right in my community. Together, they help keep costs down and the quality of care up. With all that, it's no wonder I'm so confident about my health plan. Find out what a difference it can make for you! Ask your employer about it, or call Care Choices Health Plans at 800-852-9780 or 313-489-6200.

Participating Hospitals in Washtenaw, Western Wayne and Livingston Counties: Catherine McAuley Health Center, Chelsea Community Hospital, Saline Community Hospital and McPherson Hospital. Care Choices is sponsored by Mercy Health Services.

WHAT MAKES GREATER DETROIT?

Greater Detroit includes more than our great City of Detroit. It encompasses the great County of Wayne, Oakland County, Macomb County, and Livingston County. Like many other areas, we have our share of problems. But business and government are working to address key issues and build on our strengths. These strengths are more than our natural resources, our beautiful environment, our world renowned cultural, educational and research centers. Greater Detroit's greatest strength is people. Inventive and creative people who brought the world's first car, who brought the world's first music, and now the world is looking to us for technology.

WHAT MAKES GREATER DETROIT GREAT?

Throughout the U.S., certain cities have become synonymous with major industries. Pittsburgh is the city of steel. Dallas is the oil capital. And Detroit is the Motor City.

But since that day Henry Ford introduced the technology of the assembly line, the Motor City has seen tremendous diversification. The car industry's constant searching for improved products has led us into the world of technology. The auto industry developed advanced technologies, bought them, sold them and used them to build new manufacturing cities like Detroit's Ford Scientific Labs in Dearborn, and the General Motors Tech Center in Warren are designing automated manufacturing systems for the 21st century.

There's an exciting synergy in Greater Detroit as research, innovation and application create unprecedented technological achievements and attract the best and brightest talent in the manufacturing industry. Ten percent of this country's engineers work in Michigan. In fact, no other area has a higher concentration of qualified scientists and engineers.

THE TECHNOLOGY OF HEALTH

Although the automotive industry has been the impetus for Greater Detroit's high technology, it is not the sole consumer. The health care industry relies on technology in every phase of medicine from research through rehabilitation. This full spectrum is exemplified by The Detroit Medical Center.

Commitment to technology has helped three Greater Detroit hospitals earn the honor of being featured in the recently published book The Best Hospitals in America. They are Detroit's Henry Ford Hospital and Specialty Centers, Detroit's Harper-Grace Hospitals and the University of Michigan Medical Center.

MAKING TECHNOLOGY TALK

Our ad agencies use the same state-of-the-art electronics as Hollywood.

In publishing, Greater Detroit has replaced New York as the publishing center for automotive magazines and newspapers.

And in the area of telecommunications, we are a leader. Our area was chosen as the site for one of the most advanced supercomputer networks.

DEGREES OF TECHNOLOGY

The colleges and universities of Greater Detroit have won national and international acclaim for their innovative educational and research programs in various areas of technology:

- Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb community colleges, Lawrence Institute of Technology and the University of Detroit offer many advanced technology programs.
- Oakland University collaborated with local industry to create the Oakland Technology Park, a 1,100-acre research and industrial center that will create 52,000 jobs by 1992.

► Detroit's Wayne State University has attracted worldwide attention for research in superconductivity.

► And over $200 million in research grants is awarded annually to the University of Michigan. Their research has led to discoveries in robotics, machine vision, automated handling systems and much more.

A DIRECT LINK TO COMMERCE

Greater Detroit has it over other cities both coming and going. Our sophisticated network of highways, rail lines and facilities makes travel and trade easy by land. Our international airport gives us quick access to the whole world. And our strategic location on the Detroit River provides a direct link to the St. Lawrence Seaway and international shipping lanes, as well as a link to trade and commerce with Canada.

OUR GREATER QUALITY OF LIFE

The quality of our technology is enhanced by our quality of life. Four fabulous seasons for skiing and sailing and dozens of other outdoor sports. Detroit's Institute of Arts, The Science Center, and Cranbrook, theaters and festivals. Some of the winningest professional sports teams... These are just a few highlights of the great life in Greater Detroit.

A WORLD TECHNOLOGY CENTER

What helps make Greater Detroit great is technology. We're creating new technologies for existing applications and creating new applications for existing technologies. From advanced manufacturing to advancing the state of health, Greater Detroit is not only on the leading edge, we're at the world center.

Fall fashions: Like reading a book

Fashion panel member Angela Denton models a richly matched back and tan fall shorts outfit from Marti Walker. Accessories are by Accents Jewelry.

IT WAS AS easy a reading a book at a recent Wonderland Mall fall fashion.

Chapter one introduced clothing pieces to fit into everyone's wardrobe of Little boy blues. Classic, trendy, baggy and fitted, dynamic denims are being spruced up in skirts, pants and jackets to fit a variety of tastes.

Chapter two surveyed on-the-go dressing for an action-packed fall. It was slacks, slacks and more slacks in subtle autumn shades to contrasting black and white checks. Comfortable casual wear was the theme, complimented with earthtone leather ankle boots and rustic accessories.

The plot thickened in chapter three with low-key, high-impact career dressing. Smart looking styles were introduced, including definitive dresses, suit alternatives and stand-out separates. They were for the career-minded person who's dressing for success.

Chapter four was a story in itself with an elegant variety of evening wear. Sensibly proportioned dressing accentuated sensuous shapes, cashmere classics with shimmer and shine, black velvet pantsuits plus many other tasteful evening clothes to create a double-take at the up-town bash.

The show stealers, however, were the youngsters who modeled children's wear at the beginning of each segment. They modeled denim blues like the older models as well as casual and back-to-school. Their final appearance was in party dresses.

Carrie Durante models back-to-school clothes from Mylo's Children's Wear at Wonderland Mall.

Heather McNeil and Cindy Boyce shimmer and shine in evening fashions from Gantoe, with accessories by Accents Jewelry.

"Hurry In While Our Selection Is Good!"

Psychic enjoys confounding the skeptics

By Nechama Beket
special writer

If Jupiter is in your solar ninth house and hits midheaven sometime next spring, on what day, month and year were you born?

Give up? Better cross the palm of Elizabeth of Westland. She knows. And this is not knowing like you and I know. This is the real thing, the sixth sense, the stuff that sends the heebie-jeebies crawling up and down your spine.

But go ahead, ask her. She'll tell you. She'll also tell you what your cycle looks like for a new business venture, career move or romance.

If you have your car keys, driver's license or favorite plaything on you, all the better. Then Elizabeth, using psychometry, can pick up vibrations from the object and tell you more. If you really want to know.

And if you don't believe her, that's great. Elizabeth loves skeptics.

"They're the ones I usually end up flooring," chortles the 32-year-old blonde who declines to give her last name.

Two years ago, Elizabeth, formerly known by the professional name Misty, started a business she calls "The Psychic Connection."

For the right price, she can connect you with palm readers, tarot card readers, regular card readers, crystal ball readers, numerologists and astrologers. Or if you're in the mood, you can order an ordinary psychic.

Elizabeth also provides readers for group parties, conventions, banquets, benefits, lectures and mall fairs.

She even did two bar mitzvahs within the last six months, she said.

ONE LECTURER Elizabeth sent to a party at the University of Michigan had attorneys reading each others' palms by the time they left the party.

The Psychic Connection sponsors psychic and holistic health fairs with up to 30 readers and 45 vendors at the Wayne Ford Civic League at 1661 N. Wayne Road. The fairs have drawn from 400 to 1,000 people. The next one is planned for November.

For an admission fee of $5, you get a crystal and a day's worth of psychic readings, crystal readings and holistic health readings.

Visitors are free to attend the day-long lectures by health practitioners such as aroma therapists, herbalists and chiropractors.

Elizabeth said she became interested in astrology after reading "Sun Signs" by Linda Goodman when she was 14.

At 19, she could read a plain deck of cards and pick up things "further than just looking at cards."

"When I hold onto an object and close my eyes, I see different words. I tell people what I'm seeing, even though I myself may not understand it."

But there is really nothing to be nervous or frightened about, Elizabeth insists. She says she is fortunate that she never sees anything negative like death or illness.

The key is to "think positive," she said. If you're thinking negative thoughts, "just tell yourself, cancel," and try to direct your thoughts to something positive.

"Helping people in a positive way is what her life is all about, Elizabeth said. "I'm so thankful to do what I'm doing. If I can help at least one person a day, then I'm happy."

ELIZABETH, who lives alone with three dogs and a cat, sees herself as "everybody's buddy," a warm person who cares about others and enjoys trying to help them.

She was born in February under the sign of the fish, she said, "I'm a Pisces, sensitive, compassionate, caring and mystical," certainly an apt description of this vibrant woman.

Elizabeth, a 1974 graduate of Livonia Churchill High School, doesn't have a college education, but she says she's got "formal common sense."

She has appeared on Channel 2 and on Dennis Fairchild's radio program "Thank Your Lucky Stars" on WXYT-AM. She has also been a frequent guest on her good friend Marcello's radio show "Psychically Speaking," on WKSG-FM, a show that recently left the air.

Last November, while a guest on Marcello's show, Elizabeth predicted that big business would "come out even more with the use of astrologers and psychics this year," a prediction Nancy Reagan has fulfilled.

Elizabeth likes to quote J.P. Morgan who said, "Millionaires don't use astrologers — billionaires do."

She's made other predictions that have already come true as well, she said.

She predicted there would be an earthquake in Kentucky, an event that occurred some weeks ago, and she "felt the Tigers would have a good year but not as good as last year."

ELIZABETH IS concerned about the stock market in October again this year; there won't be as big a crash as last year, but some people will be hurting from it, she said.

A reading is $30. To schedule one, call Elizabeth at 422-4224. And by the way, if Jupiter is in your solar ninth house and is hitting midheaven around April, you were born Sept. 2, 1954. Same as I was.

U.S. sets woodstove standards

THE U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has announced new regulations for woodburning stoves manufactured on or after July 1, 1988.

Stoves manufactured after July 1, 1990, will have more stringent standards.

They apply to new stoves and fireplace inserts and are performance-based standards. This means each model is tested in a laboratory to determine if, when operated according to manufacturer's directions, the amount of particulate matter emitted from the stove meets or exceeds the limits set by the EPA.

Stoves built after July 1, 1988, and equipped with catalytic converters must not give off more than 5.5 grams per hour of particulate matter.

Stoves without catalytic converters are required to emit not more than 8.5 grams per hour of particulate.

CURRENTLY uncontrolled stoves and fireplace inserts give off about 30 grams of particulate per hour.

These new 1988 particulate emission standards nearly match Oregon's standards, which are the strictest in the nation. The 1990 federal standards will supersede all state standards, and no state will be allowed to have less restrictive regulations than the federal standards.

In addition to improving air quality, the new woodstove regulations will benefit the owners of these stoves in these ways:

The new stoves, because they're built for greater efficiency, will give off more heat than the old models using the same amount of wood.

Creosote will take longer to build up in the chimney because the exhaust is cleaner. This means less frequent chimney cleaning and less chance of a chimney fire.

SEVERAL REASONS were cited for establishing these new standards:

• Manufacturers were concerned about meeting the many conflicting state and local standards for woodstoves and inserts.

• Many communities have been having trouble meeting the new ambient air quality standards for particulate matter during the winter months when his equipment is in operation. Communities have been experiencing deterioration in air quality and reduced visibility resulting from increased particulate matter in the air.

• EPA was recently sued over its decision not to regulate the family of compounds known as polycyclic organic matter (POM) caused primarily from woodstoves.

AN INTERESTING sidelight about these new regulations is the process through which they were developed. These regulations were the first to be fully developed using the process called "regulatory negotiations."

A negotiating committee was formed with representatives from state and local air pollution agencies, the Natural Resources Defense Fund, environmental groups, woodstove manufacturers and researchers to develop the new standards.

By using the regulatory negotiations process, it is estimated that two to three years were taken off the usual development time for new standards.

Handicapped join entrepreneur set

By Beth Sundris
staff writer

Having a handicap used to mean being unemployed, but today's handicapped people aren't willing to wait around for jobs to come to them. Many are beginning their own businesses.

To help them get started, the Handicapper Small Business Association has planned a conference for today through Saturday at the Holiday Inn-Livonia West at Six Mile and I-275.

"Handicappers can do many things and have learned to adapt to situations. If given a chance they will do extremely well. They are used to putting in the extra effort in order to succeed," said Joy Schmidt, president of Joy Schmidt and Associates of Southfield and secretary of the Handicapper Small Business Association.

Schmidt said the conference is a way to help people understand what it takes to get involved in business. The conference will kick off "Invest in Abilities" week, Oct. 1-8, which has been designated by Gov. James Blanchard to help handicapped individuals find employment.

Seminar topics will include choosing a business, getting started in business, franchising, marketing, financing and recordkeeping.

With an association membership of 250, conference organizers are hoping for a turnout of 200. All members have handicaps.

THE ASSOCIATION is a two-year-old statewide organization that has staged two previous conferences, but none as large as this one. To be a member, individuals must be handicapped and in business.

Schmidt, who has severe tunnel vision and is legally blind, has been running her own business for five years. Joy Schmidt and Associates is a financial consulting firm. Schmidt is also a professional speaker and will be speaking at the conference.

Other speakers include corporate executives, representatives from government agencies and business owners. Workers who provide services to the handicapped will also be attending.

Schmidt has suffered vision problems since birth. She earned a bachelor's degree in accounting from Walsh College, a master's degree in business administration from the University of Detroit and then entered the business world.

Schmidt said association members have a variety of handicaps and a variety of levels of education and training. Some members have been handicapped all their lives; others became handicapped through illness or accident.

Business owner Suzanne Michael suffered a stroke, which left her paralyzed on one side and unable to walk. With therapy, she learned to walk again and has re-entered the business world as owner of the Personnel Data Report Corp. of Troy.

HER COMPANY handles executive recruiting, but she said it has been difficult to help other handicappers through her firm.

Accident arbitration: alternative to lawsuits

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

Brian, an 18-year-old who is repeating for a second time his senior year of high school, had just turned 17 when he suffered closed-head injuries in an auto accident during the summer of 1987.

After four weeks of hospitalization and months of physical and speech therapy, Brian now seems physically fit and is pleasantly animated when he talks. His I.Q. measures in the same high range as before the accident.

But, his parents say, he is brain damaged and they fear for his future — whether he will be employable or able to maintain relationships.

Since the accident, his sense of judgment seems impaired. Once a quiet boy, he was suspended from school twice last school year and arrested by police three times. He is unable to remember simple things. Worse, say his parents, his self-esteem has plummeted.

"While Brian appears normal, he isn't. He knows he's different," his mother said.

When the accident occurred, Bryan was riding with his best friend who turned left on a red light. The car was hit broadside by a drunk driver.

Both drivers share legal responsibility for Brian's condition, but their insurance carriers are in dispute over the degree of responsibility.

The carriers maintain Bryan's problems were present before the accident, caused by occasional marijuana use and marital discord between his parents.

Bryan's parents say the accident caused permanent change for the worse.

A FINAL settlement is still pending. An alternative to court proceedings in cases like Brian's will soon be available to Michigan residents, according to JoAnn Esterreicher of Arbitration Forums in Troy.

Ann Arbor lures developers

By Beth Sundris
staff writer

With many areas of metropolitan Detroit saturated with development, area developers have set their sights on neighboring Ann Arbor.

"Ann Arbor is a very vibrant, interesting, exciting market," said Eric Yale Lutz, chief executive officer of Eric Yale Lutz and Associates, a Birmingham-based development firm.

Lutz's firm is one of many that have projects built or planned in Ann Arbor. It owns office buildings, an auto mall and a self-storage facility in Ann Arbor. The firm has an office building at 777 E. Eisenhower and plans for an apartment complex and conference center.

Others firms branching west include:

- Holtzman and Silverman, Farmington Hills, is developing a 520-unit apartment complex called Village Green and an 84-unit condominium project known as the Arbors in Ann Arbor Township.

- The Jeske Co., Birmingham, is renovating City Center at 220 E. Huron Boulevard, an 88,000-square-foot, seven-story building in downtown Ann Arbor. It is also building a fifth building at University Park and renovating the four existing buildings.

- Westin Development Corp., Royal Oak, is developing Woodland Plaza, a 95,000-square-foot retail center on Ann Arbor-Saline at South Main Street.

- Anthony S. Brown, Birmingham, has two projects planned for downtown Ann Arbor, but would not elaborate.

- Beachum and Roeser, Birmingham, is developing Williamsburg Square, an office complex, on Eisenhower west of State Street.

- Lautrec Limited, West Bloomfield, is developing Arbor Meadows, a mobile home village on Michigan Avenue near Ann Arbor.

- Kojalan Properties, Birmingham, owns 301 E. Liberty Street, an office building; One North Main, an office-condominium project; and Northeast Plaza, an office-research project at Green Road and Plymouth Road. A joint venture with Comerica Bank is also planned, according to Angela Kimble, director of corporate communications for Kojalan. The project will be called Comerica Plaza and is to be at 125 S. Fifth Street. Kojalan is also partners in two Ann Arbor Holiday Inns and two Hampton Inns.

- Selective Development Co., Farmington Hills, is developing the Boardwalk Office Centre, a 110,000-square-foot office complex at Boardwalk and Eisenhower Parkway in the Briarwood Mall area.

DEVELOPERS say Ann Arbor started gaining popularity as a development spot about four years ago. "We've made a large commitment to Ann Arbor," Lutz said. His firm's developments will continue into the 1990s, he said.

To be successful, a developer must understand what Ann Arbor is and what its people like and dislike, Lutz said. "It's not a Troy or a Southfield," he said.

Building in Ann Arbor involves using a smaller scale, a longer design period and taking a less urban approach. "It's a softer approach," he said.

Jury still out on aid to Chrysler

Having lived with the results of the failing domino theory of local government most of my life, I ought to be jaded about the kind of savage profiteering detailed in a recent series of articles in the Detroit News about the land acquisition undertaken by the city of Detroit for the benefit of Chrysler's Jefferson Avenue assembly plant.

A lot of people in high places seem to think "oops" is about all that can be said about the city paying a total of some $42 million to reacquire land sold by Chrysler a couple of years ago for $300,000, so that said parcel could be handed back to Chrysler.

Meanwhile, Chrysler is seeking grants, loans and tax subsidies of some $300 million — a figure equal to roughly half its own investment in retooling the aging plant.

Chrysler is quick to point out that the so-called federal bailout, consisting of loan guarantees that were quickly repaid never actually cost the nation's treasury a dime. Not so the money contributed by the old home town, which kicked in a whole series of multi-million property tax subsidies to "save" Chrysler and now caps it off with this debacle.

auto talk

The grand jury is out on the final outcome, but the sheer magnitude of the fiasco should finally shed a little light on the whole business of home-rule cities recruiting industry by using public condemnation authority to acquire land and then forfeiting local property taxes to sweeten the pot.

THE COLLECTIVE subsidies offered by destitute and desperate local units of government hopeful of luring jobs will never be offset by any reasonable collection of income taxes because the employees will likely live in a convenient suburb, while the utilities, roads, etc., will be a burden forever.

In fact, until I realized the huge profits to be made in land transactions on these industrial development deals, I could never figure out why any city went to the trouble. Now I know.

On the other hand, it's obvious that the existence of manufacturing and heavy industry is the root core of our economic well-being in modern America — particularly in urban areas like metropolitan Detroit, already overburdened with bond debt and related property taxes.

I'd like to think that while sifting through the shambles left by the land acquisition program for the Jefferson plant, somebody might start rethinking how to let big cities coexist with heavy industry.

I'd hope that all things would be considered. One wild idea that occurs to me is that Chrysler pay for its land on the river with stock — the same kind of deal they made with the banks. Forget taxes, pay dividends. As near as I can figure it out, $100 million worth of Chrysler stock would bring in roughly triple the revenue a city income tax could hope to collect, and the city might even be able to pay for a school or two.

Or how about tax-free islands leased to industry, with rents negotiated on the basis of community benefit? The city bought the land, why give it away?

Maybe these notions seem too far-fetched, but I'm starting to think the future of basic manufacturing may depend on some equally radical solution. Of course, the easy way out is to sit on the opposite side of the Detroit city limits, as I do, and wring your hands. Or maybe grin and think the city of Detroit is doing all the dirty work trying to recruit big-time manufacturing, while the suburbs are getting the real benefits.

That, of course, means that the likes of the genius of the Detroit city council is our main hope for a healthy future for the metropolitan area — against international competition schooled at Tokyo University.

A comforting thought.

Metro developers turn to Ann Arbor

To maintain contact with the community, Lutz's firm has 250 employees working in Ann Arbor. "We have a very intimate understanding of Ann Arbor," he said.

In developing 101 Research Park, his firm has hired campus environmentalists from the University of Michigan to help develop a land plan, lakes and pedestrian pathways.

At 777 Eisenhower Plaza, Lutz has included an art gallery to try to give his building the qualities Ann Arbor residents feel strongly about, he said.

John Swisher of Swisher Realty in Ann Arbor has been watching the influx of Oakland County developers. "There are a number of them here. It certainly has picked up in the past four or five years."

Swisher said Oakland County developers tend to be a "little more high pressure than local developers." Lutz came in with a large flurry and made his presence known, Swisher said.

David Kwan, vice president of consulting for Peter Allen Associates, a Realtor in Ann Arbor, said Oakland County developers have been welcome in most cases. "A lot of them have been in the community for a very long time," he said.

Apartment development has been very successful in Ann Arbor, Kwan said, but the office market has been soft. "It's been a little slower than many developers had expected," he said.

Opportunities are also limited in the downtown area because of a lack of land, Kwan said.

RICHARD ROESER, co-owner of Beachum and Roeser in Birmingham, said his firm was attracted to Ann Arbor because of the solid economic base. "Ann Arbor has a more level economic climate than what we experience in the metro Detroit area," Roeser said.

Jonathan Holtzman, co-chairman of Holtzman and Silverman in Farmington Hills, said the Ann Arbor market will continue to grow, but it is very different from the suburbs of Detroit.

In Ann Arbor, more respect is given to existing landmarks, Holtzman said. For example, at the Arbors development, his firm has integrated five oak trees into the development.

David Gans of Selective Development Corp. said care has to be taken when developing in Ann Arbor. He said his firm has spent a year and a half learning about Ann Arbor. In designing a project, his firm is trying to avoid being a "white elephant." The Boardwalk Office Centre will be of classical design. "We feel it will be well received in Ann Arbor," he said.

Swisher said he thinks Ann Arbor will continue to gain prominence but keep its own flavor.

Lutz agrees, saying he doesn't see Ann Arbor developing in the same way metro Detroit has. "I don't see it developing in similar patterns. Ann Arbor has to be dealt with in a delicate way," he said.

worthwhile for them to lose their benefits," Michael said. Once handicappers earn an income they lose government benefits, she said.

She names the vending machine field as a possible business for handicappers, but said the franchise fee is often prohibitive.

Michael said the conference can help handicappers to choose the right business opportunity.

Schmidt agrees. "Most handicappers look to help other handicappers," she said. The group is not designed to dwell on pity, Schmidt said.

"We're saying, 'What can we do to make things better?'" she said.

Handicappers often find employers won't hire them because of a disability.

"Part of the reason I stay in my own business rather than go back to the corporate world is that I may face discrimination," she said. Schmidt had previously worked for development firm Seligman and Associates and for General Motors before deciding to start a business.

Schmidt and Michael are enthusiastic about the passage of a new state act, Michigan Public Act 112, also called the Handicapper Business Opportunity Act, sets up a goal for all state agencies to purchase 2 percent of their goods from handicapper-owned businesses. At the conference attendees will learn how to sell to state agencies and how to be considered for federal projects.

Michael noted that the state is getting behind handicappers. "But from there on down it has to be people support," she said.

The fee to attend the conference is $45 for Thursday and $95 for Friday and Saturday. For information, call 557-4568.

'Elastic' demand is boon to businesses

One point that is often missed regarding customer demand is how revenues are affected as prices are raised. If a product or service has an "elastic" demand (product revenue increases as the price is lowered), revenue will typically drop when the price is raised. With "inelastic" demand (product revenue decreases as price is lowered), revenues increase with a price increase.

This situation is one that is of special interest to business owners because it represents an obviously attractive demand/price/revenue relationship. Product demand and revenue go up along with the price, but production costs would probably remain the same and might actually go down.

As a product may have a totally elastic or inelastic demand curve, it may change elasticities between any two price points on the curve. A microwave oven that goes on sale for $50 less than its original selling price may evidence an increase in total revenue during the initial sale period. Dropping the price by another $50 may cause that sales period's total revenue to drop. This is why it becomes important to analyze a firm's demand curve by the degree of elasticity within the price range of interest or the "relevant range."

focus: small business

It may sound confusing for a product to have either an elastic or inelastic demand curve or both. The factors that affect elasticity include the availability of substitute products, the importance of the item relative to the customer's budget, and the urgency of the customer's need for it.

The availability of substitutes most often affects the elasticity of demand for a given product or service. Hamburger is one example of a product that has many substitutes. As a result, it would have an elastic demand when prices are lowered as well as when prices are raised. If the price of hamburger is lowered and other prices remain the same, the quantity demanded will increase as will the total revenue.

The reason is that not only will regular hamburger users purchase more hamburger, but customers who formerly bought steak, hot dogs or bacon will probably buy hamburger too. If the price of hamburger were to go up, the quantity demanded would drop. Again this would be because hamburger is perceived by customers as having many substitutes. Of course, customers would still buy some hamburger depending on how much the price went up, their individual tastes, and what guests might expect.

Next week, we will look at the supply side of demand and how it affects product markets.

Mary DiPaolo is the owner of MarketTrends, a Farmington Hills-based business consulting firm. She is also producer and host of the cable television series, "Chamber Perspectives."

The alternative is accident arbitration, a method to resolve "disputes over dollars" between victims and insurance companies, according to Tim McKernan, who is setting up accident arbitration in Michigan for Forums.

Arbitration Forums, one of the nation's oldest arbitration services, was founded as a non-profit company in New York in 1944. The firm launched accident arbitration four years ago in response to increasing numbers of civil suits and crowded court dockets. Accident arbitration is now available in 27 states and soon will be available in Michigan.

Under accident arbitration, a judge hears testimony from both parties and fixes liability, based on the testimony of one party or the other, or a combination of the two.

The judge's decision is binding and final. Both parties have agreed by signed contract that "the matter is concluded. There is no right of rehearing or appeal to any other forum or court," according to McKernan.

"IN THE PAST, the only recourse for accident victims, if they felt they deserved more for pain and suffering, lost wages and real losses was to sue," McKernan said.

Since 1984, when Forums launched accident arbitration, the firm has settled 5,000 accident cases. The average case took 51 days to settle.

Of the total number, 75 percent have involved auto mishaps. Any insurance-related accident may be considered, including slip-and-fall claims in private homes or public buildings, medical malpractice suits, maritime losses involving ship cargo and property damage suits covered by homeowner's or renter's insurance.

Proceedings may be initiated in one of two ways, either by one party contacting the other or by a Forum officer acting on behalf of one party.

Cost is $100 to file arbitration proceedings and $150 per hour for the judge, who is retired from one of the nation's courts.

"Arbitration is an efficient way to cut across the heavy backlogs on court calendars," said former judge Thomas Rounell of Canton.

Rounell, an 18-year veteran of the Wayne County Circuit Court who has also served on the Michigan Court of Appeals, has been an arbitration judge since retiring from the circuit court in 1986.

He arbitrates 12 to 14 cases a year, referred by Forums, the American Arbitration Association and the Federal Conciliation and Mediation Service.

"THE OBJECT is to bring parties in dispute to a conclusion in an efficient and timely way. I think arbitration does this," Rounell said.

"The only thing I can speak about against it is that involved parties sometimes think it's a much more leisurely process than it is," he said. The average hearing is three to five days, followed by the judge's deliberation.

Former judge George Bowles, who now has a law office in Plymouth, also serves as an arbitrator for Forums.

Bowles worked as a labor arbitrator shortly after graduating from law school in 1945. While serving on the Wayne County Circuit Court from 1957 to 1976, Bowles was instrumental in initiating mediation within the state's court system.

While arbitration assists in reducing crowded court dockets, "it is not the saving system for court docket congestion," Bowles said.

In fact, he is not certain the system "will catch hold in Michigan" because arbitration "is final and binding," unlike mediation, which can be challenged.

"I have no predictions on how many people will use arbitration."

In 1987, Arbitration Forums processed 343 accident cases nationwide. So far this year, 198 cases have been resolved.

In case of emergency ... simply untie.

It's a worry every parent has: If your child is injured when you're not around, how would medical personnel get the critical information they need until you can be reached?

Well, now there's an easy solution. It's the CritiKid Tag Team, a laminated shoe tag and wallet card that contain microfilm with information on your child's health. It gives your child's name, address, a brief medical history—including allergies and current medications—physician's name and phone number, insurance information, and where his guardians can be reached in an emergency. The microfilm can be read in emergency rooms across the country with any microscope or microfiche reader.

The CritiKid tag can be attached to a shoe and the card can be carried in a wallet, so it can be with your child all the time.

Oakwood Hospital's pediatricians and family practitioners know how important your child's health and safety are to you. So call 1-800-543-WELL. Ask for a CritiKid Tag Team application.

Then, for only $9.95 plus postage, you can have your child's safety all tied up.

Salem tops North

Wendy Shiek of Plymouth Salem returns volley to Becky Gressler in the No. 2 singles match Monday. The Rocks and North Farmington squared off in a key Lakes Division contest, with Salem edging the Raiders 4-3. Shiek went three sets with Gressler before losing 7-6, 3-6, 6-0. See complete results on Page 2D.

Salem defense maintains streak in team's 2-0 win

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Plymouth Salem soccer coach Ken Johnson never worries his team's defense, and he shouldn't have to for a long time.

The majority of Rock defenders are sophomores, but they've already turned in plenty of impressive performances for Salem, 8-2.

Their latest effort resulted in Monday's 2-0 defeat of Farmington in which the Rocks posted their fourth consecutive shutout and seventh straight victory.

The Falcons, who have lost only to Livonia Stevenson, the No. 1-ranked team in Class A, and the Rocks, rated No. 8 in the state, slipped to 6-2 overall and 1-2 in the Lakes Division.

bined with senior Troy Glachier to whitewash the opposition in the last 344½ minutes of play. And, of course, first-year varsity goalie Matt Tudor — he's a junior — deserves a large share of the credit, too.

THE ROCKS haven't been scored on since Plymouth Canton's John Cortese did so in the second half of a game played Sept. 12. Salem scored the last three goals to win 5-2.

"They're like that all the time," said Johnson of his defenders. "Fitzpatrick has played six solid games — 80 minutes — which is unusual.

"We take one game at a time. We might get a game when we're unlucky, but I think we can play with anybody."

The Rocks got all the scoring they needed early in the game as senior Donovan Nichols continued to be Salem's offensive leader.

He scored the only goals five and 15 minutes into the contest on assists from Greg Christensen and Marc Lipke, and the Rocks let the defense do the rest.

Nichols, a converted defender, leads the team with eight goals and three assists, and Lipke, a midfielder, is next with five goals.

"WE WEREN'T on our game tonight," said Farmington coach Cathy Cole, adding the Falcons didn't get into the flow until the second half.

Area players charged in KSU hazing incident

The fate of three Kent State hockey players from the Observer & Ec-centric coverage area will be determined — in part — this morning when they make a court appearance in Kent, Ohio, to face charges on their roles in a hazing party that resulted in the hospitalization of a freshman player.

Kirk Aldridge, a 24-year-old senior from Bloomfield Hills, was charged with furnishing beer and intoxicating liquor to persons under 21 years old, a first-degree misdemeanor that carries a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Matt Wiljanen, 20, a sophomore from Livonia, and Brian Dawson, 19, sophomore from Plymouth, were both charged with hazing, a fourth-degree misdemeanor that carries maximum penalties of 30 days in jail and a $250 fine.

THE THREE were among 12 Kent

hockey

State players charged for a Sept. 18 party in which five freshmen players were allegedly taken to a house off campus and forced to drink a mixture of rum and beer. They were then given mohawk-style haircuts.

One of the freshmen, Tim Evans, apparently had a severe reaction to the alcohol. He was transported by ambulance from the party to the Kent State health center before being taken to the city hospital. His condition was reported to university officials, leading to the investigation that resulted in charges being filed Sept. 21.

The incident prompted Kent State president Michael Schwartz to cancel the hockey season and call for a student conduct court to investigate the incident. A group of faculty members will review campus police reports before deciding the fate of the players. Possible penalties include revoking their scholarships and ordering their expulsion from school.

IN A PREPARED statement regarding the future of Kent State hockey, Schwartz said: "Based on the information provided to me, I do not believe this program is an acceptable representative of our university or our athletic program in general. Consequently, I have suspended the program for a year and will review its future at a later date."

Aldridge, a center, was the Golden Flashes' leading scorer a year ago, setting school records for goals (41) and points (82). He added 41 assists. Wiljanen, a forward, had six goals and 11 assists for 17 points and Dawson, also a forward, collected nine goals and 10 assists for 19 points.

Lakes football crown on line next 3 weeks

THEY ARE KNOWN as the Three Rs — and they're not reading, writing and arithmetic.

No, they are the Rocks, Raiders and Rockets, and all three are participants in the final countdown to determining the Lakes Division football champion.

The preseason is officially over for these teams. The race begins in earnest Saturday.

The championship will decide over the course of the next three weekends when North Farmington (Raiders), Plymouth Salem (Rocks) and Westland John Glenn (Rockets) battle each other.

The curtain rises on Part One of this three-act play at 1 p.m. Saturday when North is host to Salem. In the following weeks, the schedule has Glenn at Salem on Friday, Oct. 7, and North at Glenn on Friday, Oct. 14.

MEANWHILE, ON the other side of the Western Lakes Activities Association, it's difficult for anyone to argue against Farmington Harrison being a lock to win its seventh straight Western Division crown, even though three games remain to be played. We'll have more on this later.

All three Lakes contenders are undefeated — 4-0 overall and 2-0 in the division. That will definitely change in the coming weeks, but how much remains to be seen.

As was the case last year, we might not have a clear winner after three head-to-head confrontations.

For the second year in a row, the division race could result in another three-way tie. That happened last season when North beat Livonia Stevenson, Stevenson beat Glenn and Glenn beat North.

The tiebreaker — which went to the Rockets, who went on to beat Harrison in the league final — is the highest playoff point average, which brings us to another key aspect of these showdown games.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association released its first tabulation of computer rankings this week, and the Raiders, Rocks and Rockets will be jockeying for a possible playoff berth, too.

BIG BONUS points will be on the line each week as the Lakes trio enters the sweepstakes portion of the '88 schedule. North and Glenn are in Region III of Class A, Salem Region II.

While all three are unbeaten, their four opponents to date are a combined 4-12. Glenn has won its last three games by shutout, but those vanquished foes represent an 0-12 record. Thus, winning the big games will be crucial.

The Salem-North contest should be a rock'em-sock'em, grind-it-out struggle. Both are running teams first and foremost.

The Raiders are capable of running over teams with Joe Sturtz at tailback, and the Rocks are once again a potent offensive machine with quarterback Ryan Johnson running the wishbone. If he doesn't keep it, he can give the ball to Pat Bowle, Steve Burlison or Mike Jarvey.

But the feeling here is the pass will play a big role, which heightens the anticipation of the unexpected. Johnson, as well as his North counterpart, Mike Filipovich, have thrown the ball for big gains when the situation demanded it.

DEFENSE SHOULD be the determining factor, however, and all three teams stack up pretty well in terms of point differential. North has outscored four opponents 117-33, Salem 108-33 and Glenn 111-14.

As for the Western Division race, it doesn't look like there is one.

Harrison is 2-0 while all others have at least one loss. Moreover, the Hawks have crushed the two teams that were supposed to offer the most opposition, Northville and Livonia Franklin, the last two weeks. The combined score was 73-14.

Harrison, 4-0 and rated No. 1 in Class B, has to play Walled Lake Western, Plymouth Canton and Livonia Churchill — teams with a 3-9 record altogether.

That's how it looks on paper, but coach John Herrington takes a more serious approach. The Hawks aren't assuming anything.

"You only play nine games, and we work the year round," Herrington said, "so we're not going to let up in any of those nine."

"WE'RE GOING to remind the kids about Northville and try to keep them up for each game."

Herrington was referring to last year's game with the Mustangs in which the Hawks narrowly avoided defeat, squeezing by as 7-0 winners.

And, there's always the 1984 game against Churchill in which the Chargers upset heavily favored Harrison. Churchill is 2-2 and probably has the best chance of the remaining three to topple the Hawks.

Franklin coach Armand Vigna, however, knows how difficult it will be for either Western, Canton or Churchill to do that. The Hawks turn quarterback Mill Coleman loose and savage opposing defenses with their awesome passing game.

"We started planning last February (for this game)," Vigna said. "If you want to be champs, you've got to beat this team. We're just not good enough."

"Anything can happen. But, just like for us, you've got to beat Harrison, and I just don't see anybody in our division. He (Herrington) is the favorite until someone figures out how to do it."

McSween must return to minor league for now

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Don McSween could read between the stitches. The Plymouth native knew he was destined to start this season in the minors.

That fact was real as the blood on his jersey, thanks to a cut lip he received courtesy of the Detroit Red Wings Tim Higgins in a recent exhibition hockey game at Joe Louis Arena.

The Buffalo Sabres defenseman winced a bit, but maybe blood spilled in the National Hockey League is a little bit easier to deal with.

The cuts issued by coaches in training camp are the ones that really hurt. But McSween, who was sent down to the minors this week, knew the inevitable.

"I kinda know my place in the Buffalo organization right now," said McSween, who starred at Michigan State University. "I'm a little bit away from contributing... I think I'm close."

The road between Buffalo and their minor league affiliate in Rochester, N.Y., is only 70 miles. The distance from the minors to the NHL, though, seems much farther for many players.

McSween certainly had his thumb out for the NHL at this training camp. But his ride was only going back to Rochester.

TRAINING CAMP was crowded this season. Buffalo is loaded with defensemen, especially young ones like McSween.

He tried to make an impression. Except, for a defenseman, it's a little more difficult. The only time most people seem to notice a defenseman is when they're twisted up like a pretzel after the other team has scored.

Those who play on the blue line are more difficult to gauge. They usually take longer to develop than forwards.

"It's tough to say," Buffalo coach

Don McSween

Ted Sator said. "I wish I had one answer and be able to say this defenseman needs to work on this and this defenseman needs to work on that."

"I think Donny's strong point is that he's so intelligent on the ice. He recognizes situations very well."

That usually doesn't show up in statistics. Still, McSween was a plus-23 last season with the Sabres' American Hockey League affiliate, the Rochester Americans, a remarkable feat for a defenseman. He also scored nine goals and had 29 assists for 38 points.

THAT'S NICE — for the minor leagues. But if he's to shuffle off to Buffalo, McSween knows it will take more than that. He'll have to stand out like a diamond in a pile of pebbles in the minors.

His plan is to start the season at Rochester and, hopefully, get called up during the season. He appeared in six games last season with the Sabres.

Rochester isn't going to be his permanent mailing address.

"I'm not a career minor league player," he said. "I'm 24. I went to hockey

Michigan State and I'm almost finished with my electrical engineering degree.

"You don't want to spend your whole life getting cut up. It's a tough way to make a living."

Which wasn't what McSween had in mind when he drafted in the eighth round in 1983. He was the anchor on the Spartans' blue line for four seasons, including MSU's NCAA championship year in 1985-86.

At Rochester last season, he found the going tough. He had 108 penalty minutes and was nicknamed "McBlood" because of his Chuck Wepner knock of getting cut.

McSween's ENCOUNTER with Higgins late in the third period against the Wings only enhanced his reputation. Higgins ran a Sabre into the boards. McSween took exception and went after the Wings' right winger.

"He got a solid shot in with his glove on," said McSween, who received six stitches on the outside and four on the inside to close his lip.

In the game against Detroit, McSween was also on the ice when the Sabres were nicked for two Red Wing goals (one was on a power play). He admitted to being a little nervous playing before the hometown crowd.

"Their guy moved in front of the net, and I didn't move him out," said McSween, describing the Wings' second goal by Murray Eaves. "The puck went off his skate and into the net."

"You know that little difference is really a big difference," he added. "That little difference is a guy scoring a goal and a guy not scoring a goal, stopping a guy or not stopping a guy. The guys who make it can handle the grind."

Shieka Kapila was defeated by North Farmington's Anne Heimbuch at No. 3 singles, but Salem, winning at Nos. 1 and 4 singles and in two doubles matches, claimed a 4-3 victory.

Modano's pro career put on hold

Westland's Mike Modano, the first pick in last summer's National Hockey League Draft, likely will not sign a contract this year with the Minnesota North Stars, the team that selected him.

Contract talks between Modano's agent Howard Gourwitz of Southfield and the North Stars have discontinued, Gourwitz said.

"As a result, it appears that Modano will be playing hockey this coming season for the Prince Albert Raiders of the Western Hockey League," Gourwitz said. "He went back to western Canada" (Saskatchewan) last Friday."

Modano, a center, played the last two winters for Prince Albert, a junior team. He scored 47 goals and had 80 assists in 65 games last year.

Gourwitz believes the breakdown in negotiations is due to the North Stars' failure to offer appropriate bonus clauses in a contract for a player taking No. 1 overall in the NHL draft.

Gourwitz claimed that recent No.

1 drafted players contracts have contained $100,000 bonuses for being named Rookie-of-the-Year. Gourwitz said the North Stars top bonus offer to Modano for being named Rookie-of-the-Year was $15,000.

Marlins begin league play with 1st win

Farmington Mercy picked the right time to get its first victory in girls basketball Tuesday.

After going winless in six non-league games, the visiting Marlins stood up and slapped a 53-52, overtime defeat on its first Catholic League opponent, Harper Woods Regina.

"I said to the kids after the game: 'Who now cares that we were 0-6 in the non-league season?'" said an elated Mercy coach Larry Baker. "We got ready for the league season, and we really needed the win."

"It was great tonic for us," he added. "There was tremendous drama, too. We faced hopeless situations in regulation and overtime."

But it seemed Mercy was destined to finally experience victory this night as it overcame the odds twice to pull out the exciting triumph.

The Marlins were down three points with 11 seconds left in regulation. Point guard Jenny Clinton passed to Amy Edward, the team's top 3-point shooter, but Edward was closely guarded. She passed back to Clinton, who sank the triple instead at the buzzer, knotting the score at 48.

Mercy was ahead by two in overtime when Clinton fouled out, sending Regina's Chris Francis, who was 6-for-6 at that point, to the free-throw line. But she missed the 1-and-1.

The Saddlelites, however, had back-to-back steals and converted each time to go up 52-50 with 22 seconds to play.

Mercy's Lee Albrecht was fouled on the inbounds play, and she made the front end of the 1-and-1 with 11 seconds left.

The Marlins got the rebound but were called for double dribble. However, on Regina's inbounds play, Carrie Walton tipped the ball to Albrecht, who sank the winning basket as the clock went down to :02.

"It was just a great, dramatic win for a group of kids who hung together for six non-league games," Baker said, "and took a win away from a pretty good league team."

Albrecht had five of Mercy's seven overtime points and finished with 14. Joann Stephens had nine of her 15 points in the first quarter. Clinton added 13 to go with six assists. Albrecht also had nine rebounds and Stephens eight.

Regina's 6-foot-1 center Polly Williams, who scored 47 in a district game last year, had 15 points, Chris Francis 13 and Mary Campana 10. Regina is 4-3.

"We faced an all-state caliber center tonight," Baker said, "but we've played against Annette Babers (of Saginaw) and Wendy Meriman (of Traverse City) in non-league games, too."

SALEM 72, HARRISON 28: Jill Estey led a balanced Plymouth Salem scoring attack with 15 points.

The home team shut out the Hawks 18-0 after one quarter en route to its seventh win against two losses. Harrison remains winless in seven games.

Wendy Bailey had 12 points for the Rocks and Teri King added nine. Erin Harvey and Lydia White contributed eight points each for Salem.

Only two players scored for Harrison, and they were Darcy Pinzi with 14 points and Karen Najarian, who had six.

CANTON 65, FARMINGTON 17: Farmington scored only four second-half points Tuesday, falling to 1-6 overall as it was overwhelmed by the Western Division-leading Chiefs.

Susan Ferko scored 20 points and Michelle Fortier 12 for Canton, 7-1. Melissa Tisdale led Farmington's cause with four points and eight rebounds.

Canton led 10-8 after one quarter, but an 18-5 second-quarter surge put the Chiefs ahead 28-13 at halftime.

"We had a sluggish start, but did a good job staying focused and continuing to play," Canton coach Rob Neu said.

N. FARMINGTON 52, FRANKLIN 29: Stop Dawn Warner, and you have a good chance of beating Livonia Franklin's girls basketball team.

Host North Farmington held Franklin's freshman star to nine points and routed the Patriots Tuesday, 52-29. The Raiders are 5-2 overall, Franklin 4-2.

Kim Gurecki led three North players in double figures, scoring 18 points. Donna O'Brien and Eve Claar added 10 points and 10 rebounds each.

But it was the defensive pressure applied by North that decided this game. Franklin shot 18 percent from the field against North's match-up zone defense.

"We played a matchup and concentrated on Warner," North coach Greg Capling said. "She's pretty quick but didn't get a lot of shots."

North led 33-10 at halftime, holding Franklin to five points in both the first and second quarters.

North made 14 of 15 free throws, whereas Franklin struggled, converting three of 12.

'I said to the kids after the game: "Who now cares that we were 0-6 in the non-league season?" We got ready for the league season, and we really needed the win.'

— Larry Baker, Mercy basketball coach

Rocks register another shutout

"They capitalized on our mistakes — unmarked players and not moving in transition."

"It's a matter of our team realizing we can play with good teams and starting out from the first whistle."

Johnson, however, definitely thought the Falcons came to play and were eager to show themselves capable of matching up with Salem.

For the most part, the Rocks controlled the action and stayed on the attack, keeping the ball in Farmington's end most of the night.

But Tudor had to stop a powerful shot by Mike Waker from 30 yards out on the sideline early in the second half, and the Falcons had several others tries. Those included a shot across the bow — the ball passed in front of the net almost parallel to the crossbar — by Gary Kurzer, as they managed to mount more attacks.

"I think teams get frustrated when they play us," Johnson said. "Like with Stevenson, it's hard to score, and other teams play harder. And I think Farmington was determined to play well against a top-10 team."

SOME OF THAT spirited play boiled over in the second half and resulted in Nichols and Farmington's Brian Purdom being disqualified.

Nichols was given an immediate red card for sliding into goalie Greg Bjedov as the latter came out to make a save. Purdom was ejected for retaliating against Nichols.

"They got more shots when we went 10-on-10, because that stretches the field and opens things up more," said Johnson, adding he thought his defense was consistently better at clearing the ball.

"I don't think we played physical enough," Cole said. "I think (the officials) were whistle happy. There should have been more fluidness to the game."

Salem's best opportunity of the second half occurred when Chris Olson intercepted a Falcon throw-in with a header and made a 1-on-1 break for the Farmington goal. Bjedov came out to stop the play, however.

Chiefs drop 1-0 decision to Mustangs

Northville converted a penalty kick with 10 seconds left in the first half Monday and made it stand up for a 1-0 victory over Plymouth Canton in Western Lakes Activities Association soccer.

Ironically, the Chiefs, who slipped to 4-5-2 overall and 1-2 in the Western Division, outshot the host Mustangs 26-3.

"I've never seen a team so completely dominate another and still lose the game," Canton coach Mike Morgan said.

"It was tough. Being a division, you like to win those. We just seem to have trouble getting on track."

SALEM 3, TROY 0: The Rocks got second-half goals from Marc Lipke, Andy Cosenza and Donovan Nichols to break a 0-0 half-time score and win going away Saturday.

It was the third shutout in a row for Salem, which posted a mild upset in beating the No. 5-ranked team in Class A.

The Rocks, 8-2 after beating Farmington 2-0 Monday night, moved up to No. 8 in the statewide poll this week. Troy's record dipped to 5-3-1.

Salem outshot the Colts 20-8. Matt Tudor was in goal for the shutout and the Rocks' sixth straight win.

"I wanted that third goal, so we'd be confident," Johnson said. "If they scored and it was 3-1, we'd still be alright. But, if it was 2-1, then they get fired up."

As it turned out, Johnson didn't have to worry about his defense.

Wolves come back to capture tourney

The 1977 Livonia Wolves rallied for three goals in the last 10 minutes of the Capitol Area Classic soccer final against the Toledo Pacesetters to win the tournament championship 4-2 Sunday in Okemos.

Anthony Vetrano of Livonia was the Wolves' leading scorer in the tourney, in which they outscored their five opponents 18-4. Wolves' victims were the Westland Cobras 3-0, the East Lansing Bulldogs 3-0 and the Kensington Stallions 6-0. They also tied the London (Ont.) Youths 2-2.

Other team members are Garrett Argue, Jeremy Stillings, David Stanovich and Michael McPherson of Canton; Sean Nobel of Farmington Hills; Jay Barnes, Dan Christenson, Chris Hulgrave, Michael Lanspary, Brandon Pinzuti, Charlie Roberts and Steve Williford of Livonia; Eric Hayes of Clawson; and Jeff St. Andre of Royal Oak.

Kevin Argue and Rory Scullion serve as team coaches. The Wolves have won two tournaments and finished second in two others this year.

Caerlillon Thomas (from East Lansing) and Susan Gibson (Farmington).

The Under-19 Hawks trailed both the '74 Michigan Hawks in the semi-final and the Livonia Crusaders in the final by a 1-0 margin before rallying to win each by 2-1 scores. In both matches, Thomas and Gibson scored the tying and go-ahead goals, respectively.

The Under-19 Hawks outscored their foes 21-4 en route to the title. Their other wins came against the SLSC Arsenal 6-0; the Warren Stingers 3-0; and the Genesee Star 6-2.

Brooke Gillespie (Troy) was named the outstanding goalkeeper of the tournament. Other team members are Carrie Malar, Jennifer Misaros and Amy Trunk of Farmington; Shannon Meath of Canton; Erin Morgan and Julie Stabnick of Plymouth; Patty Boyle, Bonnie Boyle, Liz Brooks and Jacki Silagyi of Troy; Margaret Kopyev of Bloomfield Hills; Natascha Lithewy of Brighton; and Lisa Yderstad of Detroit.

The team is coached by Paul Deegan and managed by Mike Yderstad.

Shamrocks roll to 20-0 victory over Spartans

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Redford Catholic Central had an arm and a leg up on rival Bishop Borgess, scoring a 20-0 football win Saturday night in a Central Division opener for both teams in a game played at Garden City Junior High.

The win increases Redford CC's overall mark to 4-0, while Borgess slipped to 0-3.

"I'm happy to be in this position," said coach Tom Mach of the defending Catholic League champions. "We've played some tough people over a four-week period."

Behind the passing of quarterback Scott Haucher and the kicking of Pete Elezovic, CC was able to dominate much of the first half.

Haucher connected on seven of his first eight passes in the opening quarter including a 15-yard touchdown pass to tight end Lou Yeager.

The seven-play, 67-yard drive was helped along by a 35-yard halfback option pass from Chris Johnston to Mike Mathis. It was the same play that sparked CC's comeback from behind 22-18 victory a week earlier over defending state Class A champion Ann Arbor Pioneer.

"He (Haucher) is a lot better than a year ago," said Borgess coach Dan Henry. "And because of that they are a contender for the division."

ELEZOVIC, meanwhile, added a 47-yard field, believed to be a school record, midway through the quarter.

Elezovic then added a 42-yard field goal in the second period to give CC a 13-0 advantage.

"When you have a kicker like that it gives you a chance to do more things offensively, maybe gamble a little more on third down plays," said Mach. "He's one of the best around. He has good range. Forty seven yards was not a lucky field goal. He has that capability."

CC increased its lead to 20-0 when Lou Yeager recovered a Borgess fumble at the Spartans' 16. And three plays later, senior fullback Lee Krueger bulled his way in from 7 yards out.

BORGESS'S ONLY real offensive threat came on the next series when Eddie Herbert hit Kareem Carpenter with a 67-yard pass, but the drive stalled when Herbert was stripped of the ball fighting for a first down at the CC 2 as Yeager fell on the loose ball.

"I thought in the first half it should have been 13-3 or 10-3," Henry said. "But instead we had a bad snap on a punt, jumped off-sides on fourth down (leading to Elezovic's 47-yard field goal and fumbled when it looked like we were going in. You can't afford anything like that against a team like CC."

CC ran 60 plays to Borgess's 36. The Shamrocks had 116 yards rushing to Borgess's 21. CC added 154 yards in the air (nine of 15 completions) to the Spartans' 93 (6 of 19).

"We were going to try and run them early, but they stopped us the first couple of plays so we thought the pass might be there," Mach said. "Traditionally we're a running team, but we're trying to open things up."

Five area grid teams in running for playoffs

Observerland has five teams in the running for the high school football playoffs. Two would qualify if the final pairings were decided this week.

Farmington Harrison is the top team in Class B Region IV with 92 playoff points. The others are Riverview, Madison Heights Lamphere and Mount Clemens.

North Farmington (88) is No. 4 in Class A Region III, with Redford Catholic Central (84) fifth and Westland John Glenn (82) sixth. Birmingham Brother Rice and Detroit Henry Ford are tied for first.

Plymouth Salem also has an 88-point average but is No. 7 in Class A Region II, which has East Lansing (94) as the leader.

The top four teams in each region qualify for the four-week tournament, which begins Friday, Nov. 4.

Salem, North in spotlight

By Brad Emons
and Dan O'Meara
staff writers

IF YOU'RE LOOKING for big football games, look no further than Saturday's Western Lakes Activities Association encounter, which finds Plymouth Salem at North Farmington.

Both teams are undefeated and vying for the top spot in the Lakes Division of the WLAA.

The key for Salem is the health of junior quarterback Ryan Johnson, who is nursing a sore ankle. He played sparingly in last week's 17-7 win over Walled Lake Central.

The Raiders beat Salem last year, 10-3.

Meanwhile, other key matchups feature defending Wolverine A League champ Dearborn Fordson (3-1) at Wayne Memorial (2-2) and Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher (2-2) vs. Redford Catholic Central (4-0).

As far as your expert prognosticators go, O'Meara picked 11 of 14 correctly last week to raise his season total to 44-13. Emons, meanwhile, slipped to 41-18 overall after going 9-5.

Here is a look at this weekend's encounters:

FRIDAY'S GAMES
(all 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

Liv. Franklin at Liv. Churchill: With Farmington Harrison all but a lock to win the WLAA's Western Division, second place could be at stake in this one. Both teams are 2-2 overall and 1-1 in the division. Churchill is hurting, losing tailback Jeff Zawislak and tackle Bob Pokorski to injury. Franklin, meanwhile, may still be reeling from last week's 38-point drubbing.

grid predictions

ing from Harrison. PICKS — Emons likes Churchill at home. O'Meara predicts a Franklin revival.

Liv. Stevenson at Westland Glenn: Last year Stevenson caught Glenn napping, pulling off the upset. Expect the host Rockets (4-0) to be wide awake and ready for war. The only problem is that Stevenson's troops are depleted, even if star tailback Rob Chanko returns. PICKS — Glenn makes its five straight.

Northville at Ply. Canton: The poor Chiefs (0-4) have no where to go but up, while the Mustangs (2-2) appear to be better than a 500 club after topping Churchill last week. PICKS — Canton can't corral the Mustangs.

Farmington at Walled Lake Central: Both teams are 0-4, but Farmington has yet to score a point. The Falcons' could salvage something by giving rookie coach Rick Milhizer his first victory. PICKS — Farmington may have to wait another week. Emons takes Central.

Redford Union at Jackson Northwest: Ever been to Parma? It's home of the Panthers, too. Under Duane Kaiser, who is returning for his second stint as coach, Jackson Northwest is 3-1 using a balanced offensive attack led by quarterback Chad Logan. The secondary is also tough, which should make things interesting for the RU Panthers' potent passing duo of John Burdick and Joe Dellgaw. RU's line, however, has been decimated by injuries. PICKS — RU goes to 3-2 because of the tougher schedule.

Dbn. Fordson at Wayne Memorial: When was the last time Wayne beat Fordson? The erratic Zebras (2-2) are certainly capable, but can they stop the Tractors' ground game? A Wolverine A League title is now remote for Wayne, but the role of spoiler is still available. PICKS — Emons says Wayne breaks the ice. O'Meara says Fordson is too formidable.

Lutheran West at Clarenceville: The Jakyl and Hyde-Trojans (2-2) will be matched against a team that is young and inexperienced. The game pits two outstanding running backs, Andy Weighill of Clarenceville and Troy Simon of West. Simon gained 163 yards in 19 carries in last week's trouncing of Hamtramck. PICKS — The coin please, it's Clarenceville, according to Emons. But it came up heads for Lutheran West when O'Meara tried it.

Edsel Ford at Garden City: Edsel Ford (2-2) is coming off a big win over Redford Union, and the Cougars are 1-3 after losing 8-7 to first-place Woodhaven. It will be Senior Night at Garden City. PICKS — Even if their engines don't roar, the Thunderbirds come out a winner in this North-west Suburban League game.

SATURDAY'S GAMES
(all 1 p.m. unless noted)

Ply. Salem at N. Farmington: It's gut-check time in the WLAA. Each team has played a relatively cupcake schedule. North must stop Salem's dangerous wishbone. Salem must be able to stop Raider running back Joe Sturtz. PICKS — North stays unbeaten.

Walled Lake Western at Farm. Harrison: Turn out the lights, the party is over for Western's one-game winning streak. Unbeaten Harrison must have patience because the WLAA championship game is still three weeks off. PICKS — Emons will never pick against Harrison again, even if it's against Cincinnati Moeller.

Vestaburg at Lutheran Westland: Vestaburg is only 1-3, but last week the Wolverines upset state-ranked Bay City All-Saints, 12-6, behind the passing of Chad Palmer, who threw for two TDs and 108 yards. Lutheran Westland (2-2) is coming off a 29-0 loss to previous winless Grosse Pointe University-Liggett. PICKS — The visitors from up north are a sure bet.

Allen Park at Redford Thurston: The Eagles nearly got their first victory last week, going to triple overtime before losing to Melvindale. Meanwhile, Allen Park (2-2) had to rally to beat league leader Taylor Truman last week, 21-14. PICKS — Thurston is still searching for some offense. Allen Park hangs on.

Bishop Borgess at Harper Woods Notre Dame: Both teams are 1-3 and appear to be evenly matched. For the winner, it provides hope for only the next week in the black-and-blue Catholic League Central Division. PICKS — Emons says the Irish find a little bit of luck. Don't tell Saint Patrick or Father Flanagan, but O'Meara isn't supporting the Fighting Irish in this one.

Redford CC vs. H.W. Bishop Gallagher: Gallagher pulled off a mid surprise last week, upsetting Warren DeLaSalle, 7-0. The Lancers (2-2) haven't done well against CC in the past, but this could be a tougher game than expected. PICKS — The Shamrocks run their record to 5-0.

SUNDAY'S GAME

St. Agatha vs. Redford St. Mary's (1 p.m. at Detroit Benedictine): The Aggies have won two straight after losing a pair of tough non-leaguers to Detroit Country Day and Traverse City St. Francis. Redford St. Mary's (1-2) got hammered last week by Oakland Catholic, 25-0. Clarenceville also routed the Rustics in the season opener. PICKS — The Aggies drive another nail into the Rustics.

The Plymouth-Canton Steelers were winners in freshman and varsity football Sunday, defeating the Union Lake Hawks.

Mike Brannan rushed for 174 yards and scored four touchdowns to pace the Steeler freshmen to a 32-24 victory.

Randy Mack added a 50-yard touchdown run, and Mike Turri and Mike Hirth ran for extra points.

Rob McKinnon, Jason Krueger and Justin Droz scored TDs for the varsity Steelers, who posted an 18-0 triumph.

The junior varsity suffered its first defeat, 14-0.

O&E Tournament winners declared

It took a week, but the results are in.

Jim Hedges' victory in the Observer & Eccentric/Whispering Willows mens golf tournament was confirmed Sunday, when none of the handful of golfers rained out Sept. 18 could match or beat his 148 total. The Birmingham resident's win earned him the first-prize $300 gift certificate.

John Smith of Plymouth and John Van Vleck of Farmington Hills, who lost to Hedges in a playoff, split the second- and third-place prizes, each getting $125 gift certificates. The low-net victor was Brian Gulick (76-73/149 with a five handicap for a 138 net).

Championships were decided in first and second flight on Sunday, however. Livonia's Jeff Trux claimed the first-flight title with a 75-80/155 total, edging Jim Matthews, also of Livonia, by a single stroke (77-79/156). Trux claimed the $175 top prize, with

THE LOW NET winner was Steve Parker of Rochester (79-80/159, 13 handicap, 133 net). His gift certificate was for $100.

Champion in the second flight was Dennis Drabicki of Livonia, who shot 77-79/156 to claim the $120 gift certificate. Tim Kennedy finished second (79-80/165). Low net champ was Westland's Donald Conrad (84-85/169, 18 handicap, 133 net); his winnings totaled $65.

Third-flight championships were decided before the rains came Sunday afternoon (Sept. 18), delaying the tournament's conclusion by a week.

Livonia's James Taylor won the low-net prize of $20 (88-96/194, 27 handicap, 141 net).

Myrna Partrich

Tennis: Fun game, but a weak activity

Dear Myrna: Tennis is my form of exercise. I like to play singles and doubles two to three times a week. I'm a man that needs this stress release. I haven't played tennis this summer but I am looking forward to returning this fall. What can I do to prepare myself for tennis so as not to injure myself in the game?

First, let me clarify my feelings about tennis as an exercise. Many people think they can become physically fit by playing this sport. Unless they play singles tennis at a very intense pace at least four times per week, they are wrong.

Remember, your activity must take you to your training heart rate and sustain this for at least 20 to 25 minutes at a time to be an aerobic activity. The only way to achieve a higher fitness level is by some form of aerobic exercise and tennis is not one of them.

In fact, studies show that the average tennis player spends 70 percent of the time on the court standing around waiting for the ball, which burns less than 200 calories per hour, while a single brisk walk will burn 300 calories per hour.

I am not downing tennis, it is a great sport. I love it myself. The infamous tennis elbow and tennis leg are muscle and tendon injuries that can be prevented by strengthening yourself before going out on the court.

To prevent tennis elbow, you should do special exercises to strengthen the muscles in your forearms, like clenching your fist around a ball or buying a strengthener specifically for forearms. For tennis leg, strengthen your calf muscles and shins (always balance the front muscles and back muscles together).

You can prepare your legs overall by jumping rope, running from side to side and stretching your calf muscles. Since tennis players do a lot of jumping on their toes, jumping rope is an excellent preparation for playing tennis and a good way to strengthen your leg muscles.

Spend at least five minutes a day shifting your weight from side to side in a little run, similar to what you would do on the court. Improving your flexibility is where it's at to help you prevent injuries.

The most important muscles to stretch are the calf muscles (back of your lower leg) and the hamstring muscles (back of your upper leg). To accomplish this, wall push-ups are best recommended.

Stand three feet away from a wall with your arms outstretched, your palms against the wall at shoulder height. Bend your elbows while leaning your body closer to the wall, while keeping your heels on the ground. Hold for 30 seconds and feel your leg muscles stretching.

Livonian gets taste of NHL action

DENNIS SMITH got his shot last week and he made the most of it, firing the puck past a stunned netminder Tim Bernhardt during the first period of an exhibition hockey game (Sept. 19) between the Detroit Red Wings and Toronto at Joe Louis Arena.

But unfortunately for Smith, the 24-year-old Livonia defenseman playing in his first NHL game, the goal was waived off because of a penalty.

The play seems to typify Smith's status in the Red Wing organization.

While players like Petr Klima and Bob Probert get second, third and even fourth chances, Smith had to make the most of his only opportunity to show Red Wing management that he could play against NHL-caliber competition.

And following the 4-3 overtime loss to the Maple Leafs, coach Jacques Demers was frank about Smith's place in the organization.

"He's a local guy from the area that we wanted to see," Demers said. "He's a determined guy, who, to be honest, will go back to the AHL (American Hockey League). He certainly didn't disappoint tonight. And who knows? Anybody who gives 100 percent like he's given us in camp, you've got to give a shot."

SMITH, ADMITTEDLY nervous during the opening stages of the game, settled down with his partner Doug Houda, teaming up to play a solid defensive game. Neither was on the ice for any Toronto goals.

Afterwards in the dressing room, several Red Wing veterans came over to Smith's lockerroom stall and paid compliments, including Jim Nill, who put the pass on Smith's stick for the disallowed goal.

"My chances are slim (at making the club), but you never can tell," said Smith, who attended Franklin High before playing junior hockey in Canada. "There are a few average defensemen around, but I found out tonight I can do the job. But what they (the veterans) have over me right now is that they've been in the league (the NHL) and I haven't."

SMITH ENTERED camp more determined than ever. He spent the summer lifting weights with another Franklin product, former Michigan State star Mike Donnelly, now a member of the Buffalo Sabres.

"I decided to give it my best shot," he said. "Mike and I threw the iron around a lot this summer trying to get in the best shape possible."

Smith was rewarded for his hard work and said he appreciated the opportunity to play before the hometown fans.

"My buddies were up there and they finally got to see me play at Joe Louis," said Smith. "They got a big kick out of it and so did I."

The Livonian didn't try to play any differently than what he was accustomed to during the past two seasons at Adirondack (N.Y.), the Wings top farm club. (He was signed by the Red Wings as a free agent.)

"I just tried to play position hockey," he said. "I just have to keep working hard and keep it up. I know now I can play in this league and be steady. They'll carry eight to nine defensemen and I think I can fit into that seventh, eighth or ninth spot. It's just a matter of getting my foot in the door."

WITH A BREAK or two, Smith could get the call, perhaps as a penalty killer.

"Nothing is cut and dry," Smith said. "You never can tell. Somebody might get picked up in the waiver draft. If it's not Detroit, maybe somewhere else. I'm willing to see what happens this year, but I know I can't play in Adirondack the rest of my life."

Following the exhibition game, Smith had to report at 7:30 the next morning for practice. Afterwards, Smith was told he was being sent back to Adirondack where he was to join Detroit's bad boy duo of Klima and Probert, who since have been suspended.

Probert initially suspended for missing a plane, while the other (Klima) was being banished for showing up late to practice.

As veteran Wing defenseman Lee Norwood was quoted saying in last week's Detroit News, "their punishment fits the crime."

North Farmington golfers won eight straight dual matches before suffering their first loss Monday to Northville, 192-202.

The setback came a day after the Raiders made an impressive showing in the Oakland County tournament, finishing in a tie for second place.

"We seemed to be ready, but we didn't play all that well," North coach Dick Wilson said.

Northville's consistency was tough to beat, however, as four golfers shot 39 at Glen Oaks Golf Course. Chris Lemmon, Mike Crichton, Kevin Telepo and Dave McKee were 3 over par. Jason Sherman's 40 completed the team score.

David Schlott shot a 4-over 39 to lead the Raiders. Larry LaPorte and Tom Seremet finished with 40 apiece. Steve Fitzpatrick followed with 41 and Rob Wendt and Scott Millman carded a pair of 42s.

North, 8-1 overall, remains the Lakes Division leader at 4-0.

Ocelots whip Delta

It was just what Schoolcraft College men's soccer coach Van Dimitriou ordered — a breeze of a match.

The Ocelots completely dominated Region 12 opponent Delta College Saturday at SC, rolling to a 5-0 halftime lead en route to a 7-1 rout.

Dimitriou couldn't have asked for anything more from his team. "The guys just stormed everything," he said after the win. It raised SC's record to 2-0-1 in the region. DC is 0-3.

"One thing we talked about (before the game) was pressuring the opponent in their defensive area and keeping them down there. That was one of the things we didn't do at Macomb (a 2-2 tie)."

Dimitriou had no such complaint Saturday. The game was 20 minutes old before DC could even manage to carry the ball into SC's end of the field. By that time, the outcome was decided. The Ocelots outshot their foes 20-2, and it showed on the scoreboard.

Teamwork was also prevalent for SC. Seven different players scored goals. Brian Thomas had a goal and two assists, while Andy Shiner, Pete Ritsma and Steve Eichbauer each tallied a goal and an assist. Jason Potvin, Bill Cashin and Paul Neumaier had the Ocelots' other goals.

The game was a pleasant departure from SC's previous schedule, which included tough overtime matches with region foes Macomb CC and Lakeland CC. But the cakewalk won't continue. The Ocelots host Cuyahoga Metro CC at 1 p.m. Saturday. CMCC played Macomb to a scoreless tie Saturday.

The Western Lakes crossover victory improved the Rocks' dual record to 5-3.

Dennis Alcock of Salem carded 39 to earn medalist honors. Gregg Speaks led the other four Salem linkers with a 41. Dan Alcock had 42, followed by Jeff Jagacki's score of 43 and Mark Bodley with 44.

Hunters learn deer only an earshot away

IT HAS probably happened to most serious archery hunters who put in their time in the woods. A nice buck wanders through your area, just far enough away from your stand to eliminate any possibility of a shot. You fret and fitter, hoping he'll come a little closer, only to watch him disappear into the bush.

If you've ever wished you could simply call that deer a little closer maybe now you can do just that.

Research over the past five years has uncovered a lot about the vocal communication of deer. A type of communication many hunters felt never existed.

Deer have a number of vocal sounds they make ranging from a distressful bleat, to an alarming whine, to a content or even aggravated grunt. And if you haven't noticed, there are dozens of different calls now available to hunters that imitate this grunting sound.

Probably the most popular of all the grunt calls is the E-Z Grunt-er, developed by Harold Knight of Knight & Hale Game Calls fame.

"THE GRUNT call has absolutely changed my style of hunting," admitted Knight. "It has made me want to sit longer and it has given me confidence. If I see a deer now, I know I can get him within bow range. They (deer) will respond. I have never had a negative reaction. Using (the grunt call) has also made me conceal myself better when I'm in my stand. When you call a buck in he'll know where that sound is coming from so he'll be looking."

outdoors Bill Parker

Last year alone, Knight bagged five bucks, four of which he called in with his E-Z Grunt-er. His longest shot was 27 yards. The rest were within 15 yards.

UNLIKE THE old bleat call, which imitates the sound of a fawn in distress and works primarily on does, the grunt call works best with bucks.

"Does will come in, too, but it works best with bucks, especially the 18-month old bucks," explained Knight. Bucks and does keep separate social circles, except during the mating season, known as the rut. They don't mingle with the opposite sex unless the rut is on. Just prior to the rut, the older, dominant bucks will run the younger bucks off as the older bucks begin their quest for a mate. Knight feels this activity among the bucks is what makes the grunt call work.

"When the bucks start to break up the 18-month-old ones are lonesome," Knight said. "They've been with other bucks all year and now, all of a sudden, they're alone. They get lonesome. They hear another deer grunt and they come to socialize. Later in the year, when the does are in estrus, another deer will come to a grunt to try to get in on the action. "I'd say the best time to use (a grunt call) is about two weeks before the rut," continued Knight. "I think the younger bucks are out looking for other bucks at that time."

UNLIKE SOME game calls, such as duck, goose or turkey calls which take hours and hours of practice to master, the deer grunt call is easy to master.

"Anyone that can blow their breath on a mirror can use the E-Z Grunt-er," Knight said. "It doesn't take any talent. They are very, very easy to master."

The best time to use the grunt call is when the deer are out of shooting range. Then the call can be used to lure the deer in.

Guitarist Mick Reid and tin whistler Justin Manning belong to the Detroit branch of Comhaltas Ceoltóirí Éireann — the Musicians Association of Ireland. The Detroit-area performers, hosting Irish entertainers Saturday at Orchestra Hall, stage concerts at 3 p.m. every second Sunday at the Gaelic League/Irish-American Club on Michigan Avenue.

Happy music Irish entertainers brighten scene

By M.B. Dillon

ANOTHER SATURDAY night and no place to go? Don't worry, be happy. At 7:30 p.m. Saturday, champions of traditional Irish music, dance and storytelling will entertain at Detroit's Orchestra Hall at 3711 Woodward.

Irish performers ranked among the best in Ireland are stopping in the Motor City on a tour of 17 U.S. cities, Europe, Great Britain, Ireland, Canada and Australia.

Concert-goers will hear the lively strains of fiddle, hornpipes and reels played by musicians on the fiddle, concertina, tin whistle, uilleann pipes, goatskin drums, bones and spoons.

Ballads by harpists and vocalists will whisk listeners across the sea to the Emerald Isle.

Titled "Echoes of Ireland," the concert is sponsored by the Musicians Association of Ireland, or Comhaltas Ceoltóirí Éireann.

Breege Regan-Kelly is secretary of the Detroit branch of the association. The County Leitrim native says those who go "will find it's fun, it's lively, it's relaxing, and it really helps people get away from the anxieties of their work and their life for a short time."

"They will see traditional dances being done by people from the country itself. I don't mean that in a negative way, because we have Americans who are champions."

"But these performers bring with them a flavor of Ireland that might not always be captured by a local demonstration," said Regan-Kelly.

"The musicians themselves have grown up with this tradition, and they have learned it from their fathers and their mothers," she added.

"It represents a continuation of that beautiful heritage that is passed on

— Dan O'Kennedy of Livonia

by word and example. It's not like something they've learned from books. They live this tradition."

The storytellers capture the wit of the Irish, said Regan-Kelly.

"What is so funny about the storytelling is the way they express it and the language they use. They use idioms that are only heard in Ireland. The storyteller (or seanachai) also give people a glimpse of Ireland and a way of getting in touch with their heritage."

"For people for whom it's not their heritage, this is an expression of another culture that is ancient and still vibrant today," she said.

Motown-bound performers include storyteller Daisy Kearney, singer John Furlong, fiddler Martin McGinley, accordionist Michael Sexton, concertina player Sonny Murray and several dance champions.

Dan O'Kennedy of Livonia chairs the Detroit branch of Comhaltas

Ceoltoiri Eireann.

"Irish music is fast and lively, in keeping with the temperament of the Irish people. That in itself provides for a lively setting," he said. "It's a wonderful experience."

FOLK MUSIC LOVERS especially will enjoy it, added O'Kennedy. "Many of the songs that Ceoltoiri Eireann has been performing over the years have been adopted by the folk musicians. They in turn have made Irish folk music and dance among the favorite elements of our times."

Regan-Kelly views attendance as "kind of a contribution to the Irish culture. In a sense, even if (the Irish) aren't going to go because they think they won't enjoy it, maybe they will go out of a sense of obligation," she said.

Imelda Foley of Rochester says, "If these concerts were held three or four times a year, I would go. We go because my husband and I are both from Ireland, and this is a bit of Ireland each year."

"Orchestra Hall down there is terrific. They couldn't have found a nicer place to hold it. Anybody who's musically inclined would like it."

Warm Oscar pairs with a funny Felix

Performances of "The Odd Couple" by Neil Simon continue through Saturday at the Birmingham Village Players. For ticket information call 644-2075.

Oscar and Felix, whose widely divergent personalities have made them legendary pop culture figures, continue to be absolutely hilarious in the Birmingham Village Players current production of Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple."

Oscar Madison (Tom D'Agostino) is the cigar-chomping, lovable slob who lets the ashes fall where they may and the debris pile up in his apartment. Divorced and lonely and in a moment of weakness, Oscar lets his poker pal Felix move in with him after Felix's wife has just thrown him out.

Felix Unger (Kim Fox) is Oscar's natural antithesis, a fuss-budget obsessed with tidiness and so uptight that "even his hair is clenched." Felix's incessant cleaning, nagging and hypochondria turn laid-back Oscar into a supreme grouch and drives him to open rebellion.

D'Agostino is an unusually personable Oscar, and the effect is to make the character even more credible and increase the empathy when he finally blows up at Felix. D'Agostino has a precise, well-defined delivery that never falters.

FOX IS AN EXCELLENT, exceptionally funny Felix. He starts out a bit understated, allowing Felix's compulsive behavior to build in intensity. His wonderfully expressive face speaks volumes, especially his deeply furrowed brow. The sight of

Barbara Michals

Fox in a kitchen apron, brandishing a soup ladle at D'Agostino while he belabors him for arriving home late, is as good a piece of classic comedy as it could possibly be.

No one has ever succeeded in making the cuckoo Pigeon sisters, Gwendolyn and Cecily, seem any more than a pair of dodos. Kari Sterns and Laurie Shea do their best in the thankless roles of Oscar's cooing, bubble-headed British neighbors.

Jerry Weiner, Paul Becker, John Miller, Jr., and Phil Whelan as the other longtime poker pals are all thoroughly satisfactory, with Weiner especially natural in his delivery.

Director Bernie Greenberg keeps the pacing smooth and the laughs in all the right places. "The Odd Couple" is perhaps Simon's most beloved and enduring comedy. Successful as a play, film, television series, and in an all-female version, "The Odd Couple" holds up extremely well to repeated viewings. People seem to see something of themselves or those they know in the richly comic creations of Oscar and Felix.

Barbara Michals teaches high school English in Southfield. A theater critic for the last 14 years, she is an inveterate playgoer who regularly catches up on all the New York productions.

Young cast good in 'Charlie Brown'

Luncheon theater performances of "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown" continue Saturdays-Sundays through Nov. 13, then Sundays only through Dec. 18 at the Karas House in Redford. Lunch is 12 noon, showtime 1 p.m. For ticket information call 559-6-PBP.

Bob Weibel

The Peanut Butter Players have created a niche for themselves in the Detroit area — the group presents professional children's luncheon theater. Performers range from grade schoolers to early teenagers. First, they serve as waiters and waitresses, then change into makeup and costume to present the show. And they're very good at both.

PBP's current production is the whimsical musical, "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown." It's based on cartoon characters from Charles Schulz's comic strip, "Peanuts." In a series of zippy sketches we meet Snoopy, Lucy, Linus and the gang. And, of course, the something less than perfect, but always lovable Charlie Brown.

Through the experiences of Charlie and friends, we learn that growing up may be hard to do, but it sure is interesting — and fun. Which the audience certainly agrees to, though a few of the jokes go over the head of the very young. No matter, parents and youngsters alike can readily identify with the true-to-life characters, which is one of the charming features of Charlie Brown.

The Saturday cast (a second cast performs Sundays) was, on the whole, an experienced, polished ensemble. After a slightly choppy opening, the cast settled into a harmonious groove. Especially well done were scenes about Valentines Day Cards, the Baseball Game, and a Peter Rabbit Book Report.

AMONG NOTEWORTHY performers is Danny Gurwin as Charlie Brown. His stage persona as an insecure, self-conscious Charlie belies his obvious talents as an accomplished young actor with an already mature singing voice.

Dina Baldwin (Lucy) delivers lines with the timing and emphasis of an experienced comedian. And Katie O'Shaughnessy (Snoopy) has one of those Ethel Merman voices that carries over the orchestra to the back row of the theater.

The orchestra in this case (and bizarre sound effects) consists of an electric piano, expertly handled by music director C.J. Nodus.

The setting features metal tubing fabricated into rectangular platforms. Artwork on window shades provides a backdrop for each scene. Very functional. Very effective.

Bob Weibel of Westland is a freelance writer, who has spent more than 25 years in community theater as a director, designer and performer.

Windsor.
The more you look, the more you like.

Windsor is the kind of place that improves with familiarity. For one thing, you'll never run out of great restaurants. A few? Elliott's on the Avenue. Wong's Eatery. Louie Linguini's. Traiteur's. Casa Bianca. La Notte. The Royal Bengal Indian Curry House. Stoney Point Tavern. Sunnyside Tavern. Duffy's Tavern. Dan Flannagan's. The list goes on.

And, no matter what you're shopping for, you can find it in Windsor. Hockey equipment? You've come to the right place: Johnson Sports, on Wyandotte east of Ouellette. With selection—and prices—you'll find hard to match anywhere.

Up for a little sightseeing? Take Route 18 to Colasanti's Tropical Gardens in Ruthven. You'll see quaint farmhouses, boats on the river and waves on the lake.

If you plan to stay the weekend, remember that Detroit's most affordable mini-vacation is in Windsor, at Relax Plaza Hotel. It's on the waterfront, right in the heart of Windsor's bustling downtown. It's so easy to get to, just say...

Embroiderer's art—songs in textiles

By Corinne Abett
staff writer

YERANOUIE H. Gotting-Haidostian came from Germany to Bloomfield Hills to visit her brother and sister-in-law, Dr. Berj and Alice Haidostian, with a mission in mind.

True, she was bringing special gifts for her nieces and nephew, but more than that she was bringing a rich, priceless heritage to share with the Armenian community.

Gotting-Haidostian (in German, the married and maiden names are reversed) has been collecting Armenian needlework for 50 years. She has studied, researched and traveled the world to find the finest examples possible of this art form, which dates back thousands of years.

She remembers the day it took root, her 13th birthday. Her family lived in Turkish Armenia. "I was expecting a pair of silk stockings — that was the fashion then. So you can imagine how I felt when I was given two exquisite, lace trimmed hankies. My mother noticed my disappointment and said, 'The eyes have to drink beauty to quench the thirst of the soul.'"

From then on the young woman became increasingly aware and appreciative of fine stitchery. She perfected her own skills. "Embroidery is a type of art which can be appreciated only if you understand it. For me, the top criterion is the quality of the stitch. Second is its execution. It must be perfect in detail, the finer, the better."

SHE LISTED HISTORICAL significance, historical association and folklore value as other important considerations. Since embroidery was such an integral part of the life of Armenian women at every level, from peasant to princess, it is intricately tied to the history of the people — how and where they lived, where they traveled, what they wore, how they furnished their homes, how they celebrated holidays, their history and folklore.

The embroidery enlightens on all these subjects, Gotting-Haidostian said. For instance, certain stitches are peculiar to isolated Armenian settlements in Turkey. Variations of these can be found in communities where there was more contact with the outside world.

"Irga is the purest Armenian stitch, and is a Marash stitch, but in India and Pakistan, the festive costumes are often decorated with Irga, inserting small round mirrors into the design. Marash Armenian immigrants to Madras, Calcutta and to Bombay have fecundated the country with their favorite stitch."

Another stitch she has traced in her writings is Aintab. The Crusaders brought it from the Armenians back to Europe where the missionaries then took it to China. "Otherwise, how could China, the grandmaster of embroidery, the artist of the most exquisite coloured-stitches, be the mother and producer of a mediocre drawn-thread stitch," she writes.

But for all the treasures of fine needlework she had displayed, none was more impressive than the embroidery on eucalyptus spread out on the dining room table.

The pieces were a curtain with matching sheers. Embroidered on the curtain are full-size intricately worked green chestnut tree leaves edged in gold thread and chestnuts in various stages of splitting open. On the sheers are dragon flies and stars in gold thread.

"If I had not heard of the Baghdadarian School in Turkey — my father (a teacher) sent a student there — I would never have known about this," she said.

THE SCHOOL, where silkworm culture is taught, is in Brussa and is famous for its silk, chestnut trees and for its embroidery, she said.

She knew about the piece before she found it, quite by accident, in Athens after making it known that she was interested in acquiring fine embroidery. Another customer had asked the dealer to split it because it was too big (which he did) before deciding not to buy it. Gotting-Haidostian took the money she had put aside for a fur coat to buy it, even though she was terribly distressed that the masterpiece had been cut.

She is certain it all was done by one artist. "These must have been made to sing the glories of Brussa," she said. The wings of the dragonflies (in various positions), made with gold and silver thread are not attached to the silk. The thread is 14 and 18 carat gold and silver with gold plate.

"To make lace (the wings) with metal thread is a torture. If you have never worked gold thread, you can't possibly know the difficulty. If it turns, it breaks."

She looked at the yards of embroi-

The design of this work in shades of orange, red and gold on dark brown velvet goes back to those done found on the khachkars (grave stones) of old Armenia. The circle is the symbol of eternity.

dered silk before her on the table, with its pencil thin embroidered gold lines and pin-size mounds of gold dots and said — "to do this with metal is something only angels can do — to do a line like this with gold thread is beyond comprehension and description."

PATIENCE DOES pay off. It took her 12 years to acquire a collection of needlework, flowers, actual size and botanically correct, made by a woman.

The work is so intricate that it is difficult to conceive of the time it must have taken to make each one. The colors of each honeysuckle were

Where to see the needlework

There will be two exhibits of the embroidery and needlework collected by Yeranouhie H. Gotting-Haidostian in the next few weeks — at Bellan Art Center of Troy and the Recreation Center of St. John Armenian Church of Southfield.

The works titled, "Singers with a Needle: Masterpieces of Armenian Needlework and Embroidery," will be at the Bellan Art Center, 5980 Rochester Road (at Square Lake), Troy, Oct. 1-6. Hours are 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Closed Sunday.

The exhibit at St. John Recreation Center, 2201 Northwestern, Southfield will be Thursday-Sunday, Oct. 13-16. Hours are 7-10 p.m. Thursday, 6-10 p.m. Friday, 2-10 p.m. Saturday and noon to 6 p.m. Sunday. No charge for either exhibition. Public welcome.

While visiting her brother, Dr. Berj Haidostian of Bloomfield Hills, Yeranouhie H. Gotting-Haidostian wanted to share again her enthusiasm for needlework. Here they admire a life-size flower made with needle and thread by an Armenian woman who lived in Bierut.

Japan loves these talented musicians

By Corinne Abett
staff writer

Harpist Kerstin Allvin of Bloomfield Hills wasn't sure what to expect when she went on a two-month performing tour of Japan and China with flutist Laura Larson late last summer.

Larson, 37, head of the flute at CCS-Institute of Music and Dance, performed and studied there for a year in 1986. Not so for Allvin, 27. This was her first trip to the orient and she was in for some surprises, both pleasant and humorous.

They will return later this month as guests for a special concert for the Toyota City International Association's promotion of international exchanges. They will perform the Mozart Concerto for Flute and Harp with the Toyota City Philharmonic as well as solos.

As Allvin spoke of the concerts they gave in Japan — in small communities and major cities, in grand concert halls and modest settings such as a candlemaker's home — she made an overall observation.

"They are so appreciative. They love Western classical music and they are familiar with Western repertoire — even the children. They love Bizet and famous opera arias."

SHE PAUSED and added something that had obviously surprised her. "Strangely enough they love Stephen Foster songs. They know all the words and could sing along in English. So for encores we would play songs such as 'My Old Kentucky Home,' 'Camptown Races' and 'Oh! Susanna.' And they liked Irish tunes, 'Annie Laurie,' 'Danny Boy' and 'Last Rose of Summer.'"

Then as if to summarize she said, "The Japanese soak up Western culture. They want to be like Americans. China is different. I got the impression they didn't like foreigners."

However, she said that when they performed in Beijing (for more than 700 people) she knew they loved the music and the concert.

"I was very impressed with the Beijing Conservatory of Music," she said as she described their tour of that as well as trips to the Great Wall, the Forbidden City and the Summer Palace.

But she and Larson obviously felt they had actually experienced more of Japan than China where they were carefully chaperoned. "In Japan, we traveled by train and in a van with the harp and our tons of luggage. We went by van when we crossed the Japanese Alps over little, tiny roads. Sometimes we stayed at hotels and sometimes with families. We spent several days at our manager's Swiss style chalet at the base of Mt. Fuji."

"I really enjoyed staying with the families. I ate their food and slept on a mat on the floor (in the Japanese tradition)."

And apparently Alps is Alps, no matter where they happen to be. The people of the Japanese Alps love Swiss music and yes, they did bring out a couple of their youngsters who were expert yodelers to perform for the American duo.

It is easy to believe that Allvin and Larson endeared themselves to the Japanese. Allvin, with her beautiful head of honey blond curly hair and large, shining blue eyes, has the look of an ingenue. Yet, she is poised, mature and gracious.

Her comments and observations about the six-week trip were, with few exceptions, upbeat. Both she and Larson made the most of every moment. They enjoyed the people, the sights, the many side trips. They asked questions and were eager to see and learn everything they could.

But, "When I got back to the U.S., I was very thankful for where I lived."

THE QUALITY of the music these two presented in Japan is substantial. They played works by Martin Scot Kosins (of Michigan) as well as Mozart, Dvorak, Debussy, Persichetti, Faure, Martin, Donizetti and Rossini. Allvin and Larson sold every copy of a tape highlighting their musical program.

The tape is only available here by ordering from Allvin at 642-5097. She has also recorded her own new wave compositions with electric harp and (non electric) harp and synthesizer. That recording is available through Harmony House.

She and her father, Ray Allvin, who works closely with her as advisor/representative, agree that classical music is her first love. Yet, she said she has found a niche in modern music. "I love to write and arrange."

The two tapes show her diverse talents, something else that probably made the Japanese want the Allvin/Larson Duo for another tour. They will return next summer for a three-week tour and will play with the Osaka Philharmonic in March of 1990. Next February they will be doing a small tour in Florida.

Their recent tour was sponsored by the Walbro Corporation of Cass City and Columbia Coffee. Allvin said she hoped to find a sponsor so they could perform the Toyota City concerts locally in a few weeks.

Laura Larson, left, flute, and Kerstin Allvin, harp, are already booked for several more concert trips to Japan. Larson studied and performed there two years ago and returned this summer for six weeks with Allvin who was seeing it for the first time.

I am devoting this column to inquiries from readers.

Q. We have moved into a rental apartment and we want to give a lift to the bathrooms and kitchen. We want to be as economical as possible because it is a rental. Any suggestions?

A. If you want a quick face lift to these areas, I suggest wallpaper and an addition of hardware or a change of same. Church's Lumber has a large selection of very attractive hardware at amazingly low prices. I like wallpaper in a kitchen — particularly wallpaper that is not only washable but scrubable.

In your bathrooms, if you want to cut a corner, use a deep border rather than covering all the walls. If you find the border too costly, look for a simple tone-on-tone paper or mini pattern and make your own border from one or two rolls of paper, depending on the size of the room.

Q. I have wood double-hung windows in my home. We are remodeling our kitchen and breakfast room. Please tell me what I can do in the way of window dressing. I want to do this as inexpensively as possible. We like our privacy.

A. You did not tell me if your look is a contemporary or traditional one, so I will answer what I believe will cover both. A miniblind for your kitchen window, particularly if it is

Madonnas enhance new St. Mary Hospital

Metropolitan Detroit and St. Mary Hospital, Livonia, have been artistically blessed with the genius of two masterful artists — Stefan Dousa and Wladyslaw Kozuch, both of Krakow, Poland.

Dousa and Kozuch collaborated on two life-size Madonna figures, one worked in wood for the lobby of the new St. Mary Hospital Pavilion and one of forged copper which stands outside the new Emergency Department.

The works were prepared at the Krakow Polytechnic Institute in Poland and brought to the U. S. by the artists themselves. The statues were commissioned by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bobowski in memory of Mrs. Bobowski's brother, Edmund Centrowski.

St. Mary Hospital officials contacted the artists through Jacob Sobieraj, a member of the hospital's board of trustees and the Polish Festival Committee.

THE NEW MADONNAS are a prized addition to the hospital, complementing the hospital's renderings of its patroness, Our Lady of Czesochowa.

The artists originally came to Detroit through the efforts of the Polish Festival of Detroit, which engaged them initially to prepare statues of Polish national heroes and later to create and execute a Polish Peace Room in the Ethnic Heritage Center of the Manooogian Building on Wayne State University's campus.

Both artists were schooled in Poland. Dousa served on the faculty of the University of Krakow for several years, leaving in order to concentrate on his own creative work. They both work in many media, including leaded glass, marble, water and oil paints, copper and bronze. They have won major prizes for their accomplishments in Europe.

The Polish Peace Room at Wayne State will be completed by October when Dousa and Kozuch will return to Poland.

Look again at your subjects

Do you know what the two most important things in photo are? Not film, light or composition as you might think. The first is YOU and the second is YOUR SUBJECT. A photograph is then a visual expression of the relationship between you and your subject.

How do you maximize this relationship and build a good partnership between the two of you? Begin by breaking down the barriers of seeing.

The biggest barrier is preoccupation with yourself. As long as you're concerned about your job, the kids, or other responsibilities, you're up against a barrier. Learning to let go and relax is essential.

As long as other things concern you, you're unlikely either to produce a good photograph or to enjoy the experience of photography to the fullest. When you let go, you'll be able to lose yourself in a world of glittering colors and exciting subjects.

A second barrier to overcome is learning to see past the familiar. The famous painter Monet once said that in order to truly "see," we must forget the name of the thing we are looking at.

For example, if you look at a leaf and say, "this is just a leaf," you'll never see past the familiar label of its name. But when you begin to see the leaf for what it truly is, new dimensions will open up for you.

A close inspection of that leaf will reveal shapes, textures, subtle color and tones — hidden beauty you may not have known was there.

Observing the magical transition of leaves from summer green to dramatic fall colors will open new worlds of seeing for you. You see, it's easy to learn the label on the bottle but how many people really taste the wine?

Learn, also to recognize the hidden values in familiar things. Look closely around your own home and I'll guarantee you'll see things you never knew were there

Debra Fayroian
PSO soloist

Plymouth symphony opens Saturday

Debra Fayroian, DSO cellist, will be the featured soloist in the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's opening concert for the '88-89 season to be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1 in the Plymouth-Salem High School auditorium, 46181 Joy, Canton.

Fayroian is well-known to area music lovers. She has appeared in recital in Toronto, Detroit, New York, Toledo, Ann Arbor and other major cities. Her student years were spent at the University of Michigan, Interlochen, and the Aspen Music Festival.

Conductor of the symphony is Russell Reed, who has chosen Russian masterworks to open the concert season.

The Overture to Colas Breugnon will begin the all-Russian program.

Aram Khachaturian's cello concerto will feature the soloist. Nicholas Rimsky-Korsakov's colorful symphonic suite, "Scheherazade," based on the tales of the book, "The Arabian Nights," will close the evening.

Following the concert the Plymouth Symphony Society will host an after-glow reception. Donations are $8 for the wine and cheese, dessert and coffee refreshments to be served at the Margaret and Wendel Smith home. Those wishing to make reservations for the after-glow should call Sue Decker, 453-9223.

Concert tickets are $8 for adults; $7 for seniors, and no charge for students, grade K-12. Tickets will be available at the door the night of the performance.

Trying to achieve the right look

EVERY YEAR at this time I have to fight my body's tendency to grow a "winter roll" by dieting. You know what I mean: apple cider, doughnuts rolled in sugar, caramel apples and etc. Then as winter approaches, I go heavily into holiday treats and heavily into my clothes. But then there are bulky knit sweaters. And, oh! What gluttony can be hidden under bulky knit sweaters.

But now I'm getting older. My birthday cake used to be on a slow-moving platter that seemed to take 400 days to come around. Now it seems like it is attached to an Amtrak train that, to my surprise, comes much too soon. I just can't lose weight like I did when I was younger. Of course, I do have the added blessing of having been overweight when I got married. So now after 25 years of marriage, I can honestly say "I am only five pounds heavier than the day I got married." How many people can say that?

I JUST ANNOUNCED to Gary, Norm and the other guys at the health spa (who harass me constantly), "If this diet doesn't work at my age, I am going to give up on my body and just start working on my personality." I do have a look or weight which I am trying to achieve and whichever comes first is fine with me.

Many times when I judge an art show or even view art work, I ask myself, "What is the look he/she is trying to achieve?" You see, any medium in the right hands can be pushed to realism. And I am totally in favor of that "push," at least until realism is achieved. Once an artist can achieve realism, then and only then does he/she have the credentials to abstract.

A realistic artist should never be satisfied with his or her realism. Photo realism can indeed become a hindrance toward the proper goal, which is expression.

Now I am, by any standards, a realistic artist and sculptor. But I try not to limit myself to faithful realism. In other words, if I want the legs of a coyote long, I make them long for the effect. If I want to drop his head low, perhaps lower than is physically possible, I do it for the expression.

Many of my students can be photographic and those who are not, we push towards that goal. But those who can be, must reach for a high goal and a more ventilating expression. After all, how many times can one be thrilled with the viewers' comments of "It looks just like a photograph."

BUT ON THE OTHER hand, I can't imagine anyone ever looking at one of my works of art and asking, "What is it?" To me, if a piece of art loses its viewers' cognition, then the artist's expression is lost and the art hovers between design and abstract.

I guess what I am trying to say is let the medium look like the medium. If it's a watercolor, let it look like a watercolor. Let there be some long washes, some tight areas and some loose. Why push a pastel drawing so much that it looks like a color photo? Let the tooth of the paper show, tighten up and render some areas and let other areas remain sketchy. I wish I had a dollar for every super-tight watercolor that won a first place.

I, as a judge, have even pinned the blue ribbon on super-tight watercolors. Perhaps as a reward for technical skills and done so in the absence of a more expressive piece. How beautiful to me is a risky splash of colors tempered with some tightness and good structure.

But that is just one opinion in a world of critics. I guess I will end this with the phrase I use most often which is "never be limited by the model." And, by the way, if you see me at the Whole Earth Vitamin Bar eating brown rice out of hand-thrown jar, stop and tell me I look thinner. Lie, if you need to. But I need to hear it.

Designing Ways

over the sink, would be a practical choice. I don't like to see curtains or drapes over a kitchen window.

A window shade laminated in fabric to match the wallpaper being used in the same room is another suggestion. In your breakfast area, a privacy curtain would give you just that. With wood windows, you can attach the rod to the window so that when the window goes up your curtain goes with it. Use 3-3 1/2 widths fullness on this curtain. A valance (lined, of course) in matching fabric to the paper is nice and a simple way to go, also. You can change the look of the valance by the size of the rod or pole you use. Shirring the fabric on the wood pole or PVC pole gives the valance a more important look.

Eve Garvin has been an interior designer in the area for over 10 years. She welcomes comments and questions from readers. Send those to her in care of this newspaper, 36251 Schoolcraft Road, Livonia 48154.

NOW YOU CAN SAVE $45,000 ON A $50,000 MORTGAGE.

It's as easy as coming to Comerica. Our low interest rate on our 20 year fixed rate mortgage makes it an affordable alternative to a 30 year mortgage. The result can be a savings of thousands of dollars. On a $50,000 mortgage alone, you could save $45,000* in interest. And even more on larger loans.

The interest saved reduces the total amount owed. So as you pay on your loan, the interest amount goes down and your equity goes up at a much faster rate.

Plus, when you have your payments automatically deducted, we'll give you a checking account free of monthly service charges for the life of your loan. That's an additional savings averaging $100 per year.

It's all part of our lending spirit at Comerica. Helping you to save wherever we can.

Find out how much you can save. Call 370-6072 for the name of the nearest Comerica mortgage representative. Or just stop in any Comerica branch office. And ask for the 20 year mortgage that'll save you thousands.

$50,000 MORTGAGE LOAN	COMERICA'S NEW AND IMPROVED 20 YEAR FIXED	COMERICA'S 30 YEAR FIXED
CURRENT RATE	10.500% (10.879% A.P.R.)	10.625% (10.940% A.P.R.)
TERM	20 Years	30 Years
MONTHLY PAYMENT AMOUNT	$499.19	$462.05
TOTAL INTEREST PAID OVER LOAN'S ENTIRE TERM	$69,805.59	$116,337.57
EQUITY AFTER YEAR 5	$4,840.74	$1,522.67
EQUITY AFTER YEAR 10	$13,005.15	$4,106.76

*Interest savings based on a $50,000, 20 year mortgage vs. a $50,000, 30 year mortgage. Interest rates and resulting savings may vary.
All A.P.R.s are calculated based on a 12% discount fee, a $250 processing fee and a minimum down payment of 5%. Interest rates subject to change without notice.

Sister's watercolors set the tempo

By Marie McGee
Staff writer

When your sister is a rising watercolorist, you make the most of it.

That was the assignment given ASH designer Barbara Kopitz from a client who wanted to change decor to focus on art work done by her sister, who happens to be Jackie Woolf, area watercolorist who is gaining recognition for her misty florals.

We started with the paintings and built around them," said Kopitz of the home on West Bloomfield Park. They are the focal point and the determining factor in the choice of colors used in that room and an adjacent one.

Because the client was "not afraid of color," her sister's influence, no doubt, — Kopitz was able to make strong use of it in her choice of raspberry and pink with black accents.

Carpeting is a deep raspberry, the walls are a complementary "hot pink" accented with black furniture with a multifloral print.

The room functions well for good conversation, Kopitz believes. The three matched chairs rock and work well with the curved sofa. The room also has a grand piano and a black glass bar.

The nearby dining room carries out the color scheme using a marble-based table and lacquer wall unit, deco chairs covered in black flannel.

But while the color dominates these rooms, Kopitz chose to keep the entry hall in a simple off-white to contrast with the high drama that was awaiting visitors in the living room and dining room. "So as not to overwhelm them."

CONSUMERS IN a medical clinic may know that the knee bone's connected to the thigh bone, or maybe not.

But for the new home purchaser who faces an unbelievable array of decisions as the home evolves from paper plans to brick and mortar and then home furnishings, more than a little bit of knowledge is required.

In the metropolitan area, the new-home boom has grown to epidemic proportions with subdivisions and custom homes springing up mile after square mile.

Barbi Krass, an interior designer whose studio, Colorworks, is on Northwestern Highway in Farmington Hills, where a lot of the building hubbub is taking place, has devised a practical

The Brillion Collection of antique wallpaper is a remarkable cache of over 4,500 rolls and 1,379 different patterns of antique wallpapers dating from the late 19th century to the early 20th century. The documents are now reproduced by Victorian Collectibles Ltd. For wall and ceiling coverings for restoration, residential and contract use. Shown at Gioia Showroom, Michigan Design Center. guide for prospective home buyers.

HER "GUIDE FOR Building a New Home" contains information that begins with the initial purchase agreement and walks the buyer through confrontations with architects, electricians and plumbers, as well as decisions on fixtures, tile, flooring, carpeting and more.

Krass, who started her business in the lower level of her Southfield home back in 1977, began to put her guide together about six months ago. She contends her challenge is to know the market, be aware of what's available, and know how to use all the resources.

"It's near to impossible for a client building one home to do all that research and not go bananas in the process," she said.

Born in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., Krass has lived in Germany, Scranton, Pa., and in Boston during college years, studying art and education.

With degrees in fine arts and English literature from Boston University, she went from school to teaching English literature to gifted students.

3 STEPS TO SMARTER CARPET BUYING

CHOOSE THE RIGHT COLOR
When deciding on colors, remember that the carpet will be the most important color in the room. Darker colors tend to dominate a room, whereas lighter colors tend to blend into a room.

CHOOSE THE RIGHT STYLE
When choosing the style, take into consideration how each room is used. A family room for example has far more traffic than a living room, and therefore a denser pile may be needed.

MAKE SURE IT'S A WEAR-DATED CARPET WITH STAINBLOCKER
Regardless of the color and style you choose, the most important thing to look for is the Wear-Dated label. And because Wear-Dated Carpet with StainBlocker has superior stain protection, even if you have kids and pets, you can consider a light colored carpet. Let us help you explore all the new decorating possibilities Wear-Dated Carpet with StainBlocker has to offer.

White boring? Not like this

By Joan Boram
special writer

AFTER SEEING this home, no one will ever think of white as cold again," says Diane Fishman of Walter Herz Interiors.

Indeed, the white walls and white carpeting used throughout serve as a blank canvas against which the owners' extensive art collection (mostly by Michigan artists) is displayed.

"I had worked for the couple in their former home, but this time the wife wanted to go completely contemporary." Working together, Fishman and her client worked out a scheme that is both glamorous and sleek. "The client is very glamorous, but also a very warm person with a great sense of fun, and I wanted to reflect these facets of her personality."

"She was willing to dare all the crazy ideas that I had, and it's not often that you get a client that will take a chance. I actually had to do very little talking to convince her."

THERE IS NOTHING in the outward appearance of the West Bloomfield condominium that would indicate the chic modernity inside. Situated adjacent to a wooded ravine, the requisite petunias fill pots on the front patio and goldenrod flourishes along the break between woods and manicured lawn. Swans float on a small lake.

Open the front door and the transition between semi-bucolic and the neon-bedecked foyer is astonishing.

The generously proportioned foyer is entirely mirrored, including the ceiling, and the floor is white marble. It sounds pristine, and it would be, but for the tiers of hot, pink neon racing around the top of the room. The effect, however, is not as Giza-esque as one might expect. Rather, you feel that you're a child again, entering the House of Mirrors at a carnival, and you are "set up" to enjoy the rest of the house. A whimsical, wooden hot-pink figure by Billy Mayer adds fun to the area.

Most of the floors throughout the house are covered with deep-piled, lush white carpeting, which both Fishman and the owner agree is difficult to keep clean, but "it's worth it for the richness of effect, and because it allows for continuity of the all-white motif."

The walls in the den are a rich raspberry, and therein lies a tale. Fishman selected the color, not realizing that it was no longer available. Then she had the couch covered to match the paint chip. When it proved impossible to find the wall color, the task was turned over to the husband. He wound up at an auto supply store on the far east side of Detroit, the only place around who could match the chip.

"THE MORAL OF the story," says Fishman, "is don't cover the furniture until the walls are painted."

A large multi-colored wall sculpture by Charles McGee fills one wall of the den. Commissioned by the owners, it was exhibited at the Detroit Institute of Arts before joining their collection. The house was designed for entertaining, and the owner boasts that at a recent cocktail party, "70 people were here, and you would never have known that there were more than a few." The dining room is an extension of the huge living room, making it possible to use the rooms both for small dinner parties and large cocktail parties.

Seating in the living room is all-white, so the artworks are allowed to bask in their own glory. Over the fireplace is a layered cream-colored wall-weaving, "Clouds," by Urban Jupena. The fireplace surround is itself a work of art, fashioned of chrome by

Before selecting your tableware, you should decide on the point of view you want to take and choose a pattern that reflects your individual style.

"Dinnerware will be the foundation of your well-dressed table," says Alice Kolator, director of public relations for Lenox China and Crystal. "Keep a close eye on pattern and color. When mixing and matching patterns, follow the basic rule that background colors should always match."

"Flatware," she says, "can repeat and enhance a motif established by a dinnerware pattern. Or it can make a statement all its own. It offers great flexibility when mixing and matching patterns."

AS FOR CRYSTAL, the "crowning jewel of your table," Kolator advises: "A more heavily cut crystal is best when joined with simple dinnerware. Delicately cut crystal is more versatile and can be used with a wide variety of dinnerware patterns."

"The younger generation is fascinated with food and it's spreading to their dinnerware," says Peter Jungkunst, executive vice president of Jungkunst China. "People are investigating the consumer benefits as well as the aesthetics of china."

BETH SINGER

A three-layer glass and brass table by the Design Institute of American enlivens an area in the lower level of the West Bloomfield condominium that also uses neon-light accents to reflect the owner's sense of fun.

Jay Lefkowitz Other artists represented in this area are Gleg Michaels, B.J. Bennett and Don Shields. The surface of the dining room table is glass, and the rooms glow with handmade decorative glass pieces and crystal.

"I like to work with a client before the home is completed," says Fishman. "That way I can look at the plans and we can make any structural changes that are necessary. In this case, the lower level was designed for storage, and the client wanted it for additional living space. We made some structural changes, and the size of the living area was almost doubled."

The stairway leading down to the lower level is enlivened by "Wallwalker," a wooden figure literally walking up the wall, by Israeli artist David Gerstein. "I love toys," says the owner. "A recent addition is a mobile table sculpture of cowboys and Indians chasing back and forth in front of a line of cactus."

The owners and their children have the luxury of a complete exercise room, with rowing machine, treadmill, bicycle, weights. There is even a small basketball hoop and very small trampoline, "beloved of the grandchildren," brags the proud grandmother. All in all, it is a beautiful house, a fun house, a family-oriented house. But Bauhaus it isn't.
