Some postal services stay downtown

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Plymouth community residents may eat their cake and have it, too, as far as postal services are concerned.

"We have reached a general understanding that a window service center will be maintained in the downtown area, with an expanded facility to be built outside the downtown area," said U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth.

"The window service center would continue to provide retail and post office box service in downtown, while the new facility would be used for processing mail," he added.

Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen said he understands that the post office will sell its current facility on Penniman, then lease back about 3,000 square feet for a window service center.

The mail processing center would be located in an industrial area in the western part of the township west of Sheldon and north of M-14. "They (postal authorities) said it would take three years to do all this," Breen said.

REPRESENTATIVES of the postal service, Pursell, the city and the township huddled last week to try to reach consensus on a course of action.

Concerns arose last spring when postal authorities indicated a desire to build a new facility within the city limits, but land wasn't readily available.

There was some worry that the post office would move out of the city entirely.

City officials also were unhappy about the prospect of losing property tax revenue on the little undeveloped land remaining in the city even if a site were to be identified for a post office.

So Plan B — a window facility downtown with the processing center in an industrial park in the township — developed.

"People are used to coming downtown," said Henry Graper, city manager. "It's important to us because the town has always had a post office."

DISCUSSIONS about the inadequacy of the post office on Penniman have been going on since 1976, said John Mulligan, postmaster in Plymouth.

The 22,000-square-foot facility on Penniman, which has served the city and township since 1935, is overcrowded from a work-flow standpoint and isn't always easily accessible due to traffic congestion, Mulligan said.

"Continued growth in the township and surrounding areas have crowded up the office," he said. "We're really short of space."

About 100 employees process three million pieces of mail per month, Mulligan said.

Eighties Ladies

The annual meeting of the Plymouth Ex-newcomers will be held at Plymouth Township Hall, Monday, Jan. 16. Hospitality will be 7-7:30 p.m.

Tricha Kneiding, manager of Real Estate One's entire Ann Arbor operation, will speak about "Eighties Ladies." The presentation reveals the humorous recall of women from the early days up to the accomplishments of women in the '80s, and touches on the subject of the wife-mother-career-woman combination.

Following the talk, Kneiding will lead a business meeting.

POW/MIA concerns

Did you know that there are more than 20,000 people Missing in Action (MIAs) from World War II, 2,000 MIAs from Korea and 2,383 POW/MIAs from Vietnam? Did you wear a POW/MIA bracelet in the '70s and did you know that for 74 Michigan sons and their families the war continues because they are still listed POW/MIA?

The Plymouth Jaycees invites the public to learn about these issues during a presentation of the Downriver Vietnam Veterans of America Chapter 259, which recently received media attention for their public awareness. The program is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 19, in the City Commission chambers at Plymouth City Hall. Learn how you can help bring POW/MIAs home.

Scholarship fund

Community Federal Credit Union and the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club have announced that applications are being accepted for the Margaret Dunning Scholarship. The credit union established the scholarship to recognize Margaret Dunning's 23 years of volunteer service as a member of the Credit Union's Board of Directors.

Those applying for the scholarship must meet the following guidelines:

- Reside within the communities of the charter of the Community Federal Credit Union;
- Be (or become) a member of the credit union;
- Attend, or have graduated from, an accredited high school;
- Be between 17 and 20 years old; and
- Completion an application.

Applicants should send a self-addressed stamped envelope to the Plymouth BPW Scholarship Committee, P.O. Box 5338, Plymouth 48170 for an application. The deadline is March 1.

What, no flag?

That's right, folks. Plymouth Township has no official flag. What's more, township officials don't intend to get one any time soon, either.

What brought the matter up for recent discussion is a request from county commissioner Kay Beard for a township flag to display along with flags from other municipalities in the legislative chamber of the County Building.

Trustee Smith Horton last week effectively ended debate about a township flag with the simple inquiry, "Why?" The vote against was 4-3 with clerk Esther Hulsting, Abe Munkfakh and Horton voting with the majority.

Too bad. We wonder what the people will have to rally around if attacked by Livonia, Canton or the city of Plymouth.

Same attorney chosen for suit

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

The attorney who defended Christopher Machacek, the Ypsilanti Township teenager convicted of murdering a Canton Township girl, has agreed to represent Machacek and his relatives in a suit filed by the girl's mother.

Deborah Hulbert, whose daughter Mary Anne was shot to death in December 1986, is seeking $10 million from the assailants, their families and a friend of the victim. Steven Stamper of Ypsilanti Township also was convicted of killing Hulbert.

Hulbert is asking for $1 million in punitive damages from those involved in the murder, and an additional $1 million from Machacek and Stamper for statutory rape.

Attorney Richard Digon, whose client was found guilty of first degree murder and sentenced to life in prison, said he hasn't yet been

New forms may put brakes on tax abatements

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Property tax breaks for new construction and equipment or renovations to manufacturing facilities may become harder to come by in Plymouth Township.

Both the state and township have added more paperwork — economic impact statements — to the application process.

"Populist theory is it doesn't matter — tax abatement is of no consequence," said Supervisor Maurice Breen. "People are looking for applicants to justify why they need it."

A 1974 state law provided for tax breaks — 50 percent of taxes due for up to 12 years — to create a more favorable business climate.

Local municipalities were given the power to decide abatement requests after conducting public hearings.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP has never denied an applicant who met statutory requirements. Twenty-two abatements have been granted since 1982.

"This board will have the opportunity to review the entire issue of tax abatements," Breen said. "I would say a majority of the board wants to be reassured again that tax abatement is a good policy, a reasonable policy."

"We'd like to not have a debate every time on the concept of tax abatement," he said.

John Stewart, newly-elected to the board, said he intends to take a hard look at abatement requests.

"An automatic 12-year abatement without an economic impact statement is a thing of the past for me," he said.

er of major technology and industrial parks in the township, said he plans to prepare a report on the necessity of tax breaks.

He said he personally dislikes the concept, but believes that the township must stay in the game as long others are playing.

"Right now, Plymouth Township, believe it or not, competes with surrounding states, surrounding communities," DeMattia said. "We need tax abatement as long as it's legally offered."

"These people (applicants) have to be competitive in the marketplace. If you take a look at giveaway programs other states give . . . it's unbelievable," he said.

"I've seen firms not come into communities because tax abatement wasn't offered," DeMattia said.

Trustee Abe Munkfakh, a strong supporter of tax abatement, said he believes breaks and incentives are especially needed during economic downturns.

"I THINK people can forget when there was a 1981, '82 and '83 when times were hard and we were losing business," Munkfakh said.

Prospective applicants for abatement probably will have to do a better selling job in the future, Breen said.

City wants to hire up to 5 officers

By Doug Funke
staff writer

The city of Plymouth wants to hire up to five police officers. A discharge and a resignation have created two vacancies within the ranks.

Other officers will be hired in anticipation of another busy spring and summer "cruising season" and to comply with an arbitration decision on a grievance brought by the Plymouth Police Officers Association on staffing levels.

Applicants must be state certified. Applications are available at the information desk at the police department, 201 S. Main.

Commander Michael Gardner anticipates that the new hires will be on board within two months.

"WE'RE GOING to hire as soon as we go through the process," Gardner said. "It includes a written exam, oral exam, psychological evaluation."

Authorized strength of the city police department, excluding temporary, seasonal help, is 18. The current organizational structure indicates a chief, commander, lieutenant, three sergeants and 12 patrol officers.

The department will be down two patrol officers as of Thursday with the firing of Jerry Vorva for violating ing departmental policies and the resignation of Craig Schwartz to work for another department.

Chief Richard Myers is attending the FBI Academy near Washington, D.C. through mid March.

Gardner, acting chief in Myers' absence, said he doesn't believe services will be affected by a temporary short-staffing.

"There's times of year we have people on vacation, injured," Gardner said. "We deploy that many people (10) anyway. If we stay healthy, the reduction of those two won't be significant in terms of ability to deliver service."

"THERE'S ONLY going to be a real short time we'll be down two officers," he added.

An arbitrator ruled last month that the city must comply with provisions in its labor agreement limiting the ratio of supervisors to line officers at one to 2 1/2.

That would require 15 officers for six supervisors.

How long all five hires remain on the payroll has yet to be determined, said city manager Henry Graper.

The advertisement announcing the openings cites a need for at least one regular and up to four temporary officers, Gardner said.

The police contract expires in July and the staffing ratio definitely will be a bargaining issue, Gardner said.

Window service to remain downtown

"Crowded conditions always has an effect on operations," he said. "It increases work hours as employees try to work around overcrowded conditions."

"If we could expand... we probably could get mail out earlier."

er. But I can't promise that," Mulligan said.

Postal authorities are looking for 4 to 5 acres of vacant land on which to build a 26,000-square-foot processing center with expansion capabilities to 40,000 square feet, a spokesman said.

Estimated land acquisition and construction costs — $3.6 million.

Men, if you're about to turn 18, it's time to register with Selective Service at any U.S. Post Office.

It's quick. It's easy. And it's the law.

Tax breaks in township

"Convince us. Tell us why you need it. Convince the community," he said.

The single largest tax break ever granted in the township — to AWTEC, a transmission manufacturer — would amount to about $94,500 in savings the first year.

The two most recent applicants — Toolco Inc. and Power Process Piping Inc. — would save about $34,000 and $14,000, respectively, the first year if they were to receive abatement.

20,000 attend final-day ice competition

NEITHER WIND, nor sun — even a thunderstorm and an international auto show could keep the Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular from enjoying success in its seventh year.

An estimated 20,000 spectators descended on Plymouth Saturday, the last day of the ice fest, to watch professionals from Tennessee, South Carolina, Missouri, Florida, Ohio and Michigan compete.

Forty-seven professional ice carvers and countless student volunteers transformed downtown Plymouth into a crystal gallery of ships, eagles, dragons, cougars, peacocks, fish and flying geese. Plymouth Township dentists Tom Collins and his partner Mark Healy even contributed a giant molar, polished and smoothed with, of all things, a ruler.

Carvers won trips to Montreal, microwave ovens, VCRs, plaques and medals, which were awarded at a banquet Saturday afternoon at the Mayflower Hotel. Midwest Ice of Detroit was the event's major sponsor.

THE "COLD CUTS" of Chicago — Dave Allen, Maurie Pearson and Yasuo Mizuuchi — won the three-man professional competition.

Runners up were the Chicago Hunters — Ding Domineque, Tom Henrie and Jim Dravenack.

Honors were bestowed upon 11 individual carvers. Maurie Pearson of the Hyatt Regency-Chicago took first place for his "Yogi Bear on a Unicycle."

David Allen of Chicago captured second place with his mythological bird. He won a microwave — the same prize he won last year. (Festival co-chairman Scott Lorenz told Allen, "You'll make a great husband for someone. Put it in your hope chest.")

Third place went to Naomi Hamamura of St. Louis, Mo., who carved a phoenix. Mike Skalba from the Amway Grand Plaza in Grand Rapids won the fourth place prize for his swan flanked with crystals.

Jeffery Stahl from the University of Notre Dame's Morris Inn took fifth place. He carved a cowboy with his guns drawn.

Harry Lyons took sixth place for his eagle with a timber wolf.

Jim Bur Jr., an industrial designer from Livonia, took seventh place for his fisherman.

Placing eighth was the carver of a carousel, Armand Ramirez of Chicago Heights, Ill.

Ding Domineque, who carved a bird sitting on rocks, was ninth.

Tying for 10th place were Jose Luna and Bill Malls who carved a unicorn and an honor figure with a wreath.

Matching grant awarded to help Arts Council move

The new year has started with a bang for the Plymouth Community Arts Council.

First the group hosted Michigan Art '89, an exhibit in conjunction with the Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular.

Now comes word that the arts council has received a $75,000 state grant to help pay for a move into its own quarters.

"This is our 20th year. It's really a wonderful way to celebrate," said Susan Froelich, executive director. "This will help the arts council to be more visible and increase our membership."

The real work will soon begin. The arts council, a non-profit organization, must find a new home and match the $75,000 grant by the end of the year.

"We're looking in earnest," Froelich said. "It has to be in the city of Plymouth. A number of committee members and arts council members are putting on their thinking hats."

The arts council already has about $40,000 invested in a building fund, Froelich said.

"What we'd like to do is raise as much money as possible. I imagine no matter what space we do get there will be some renovations," she said.

"The first part of February, I imagine, we'll be kicking into gear getting our plans in detail."

The arts council currently rents space in an out-of-the-way place above Wilse's Pharmacy on Main Street. Offices are cramped. The council also has a rental gallery on the second floor of the Dunning-Hough Library.

The arts council was founded to promote art and to foster artistic excellence in the community.

Same attorney takes case for Machacek in Hulbert lawsuit served. But he said he's heard and read plenty about the lawsuit, filed in Washtenaw Circuit Court.

"This case is unique," said Digon, representing Machacek, his mother Mary Ann Scheim and Diane McKenzie, Machacek's guardian when the murder occurred.

"I THOUGHT I'd seen everything — that the amazement had finally ended on the uniqueness of this case. It seemed to affect and contaminate people in all different aspects of the case, especially with respect to the media."

At the time of Mary Anne Hulbert's death, the girl believed she was pregnant by Machacek. After their arrest, Machacek and Stamper said they wanted to scare the girl into having a miscarriage by firing rifles near her. The defendants, who were 16 at the time of the murder, blamed each other for firing the fatal shots.

Digon said Machacek has an excellent chance of winning on appeal. According to Digon, hearsay was admitted into evidence; sheriffs erred in their investigation; and pretrial publicity via the television show "A Current Affair" and "Young Miss Magazine" jeopardized the defendants' right to a fair trial.

There are two reasons Digon agreed to handle the case, he said. "I took this case as a matter of principle, because it's a frivolous lawsuit. I anticipate it will never make it to trial."

"I guess I wonder what their true motives are," added Digon. "I don't think their stated motives are the real ones."

Deborah Hulbert said she's suing because "a lot of criminals have made money off their stories. I don't want anybody to make any money off my daughter's death. People think there is so much money to be got (from the defendants). The facts are there's no money to be got."

Acknowledging "there's only a remote chance" Hulbert could recover any money, Hulbert's attorney said he wants to be sure that if anyone named in the suit comes into "some kind of windfall," such as an inheritance, lottery winnings or profits from selling a story about the crime, they will not profit.

"It's not money I'm after . . . you can call it publicity, but to help more of the public be aware of what does happen," said Hulbert. "The laws won't be changed if everyone ignores them and says it's not going to happen to me."

"Attorneys throw up the bit about Young Miss. I'd like to show them the letters I've received. Kids have been helped. I didn't receive anything for that. It was done to help other kids, and I'm glad I did it."

Said Digon: "I don't know which book or movie they (Hulbert and her attorney James Tanielian) are talking about, unless it's one they intend to create. They seem to be the ones preoccupied with books and movies. Perhaps they're seeking to create a few more chapters."

CANTON POLICE may also be sued by Hulbert, said John Donahue, Tanielian's associate. Hulbert and her mother contend police could have been more responsive after she reported her daughter missing. Whether the police are sued will depend on what information is revealed in the existing suit, Donahue said.

Canton Public Safety Director John Santomauro said "a very thorough investigation" was done concerning allegations Hulbert made in a citizen complaint.

"The conclusion of my office is that the department was thorough in the handling of the incident," said Santomauro.

"I find it surprising that they're considering suing the township," said Digon.

NAMED IN THE suit on a "conspiracy charge" is Marla Karch, who was a neighbor and close friend of Mary Anne Hulbert's.

Karch testified at the trials of Machacek and Stamper, held separately in Washtenaw Circuit Court in September, that on the day of the murder she drove Hulbert to the entrance of the mobile home park in which they lived. Machacek and Stamper were waiting to pick her up there, testimony indicated.

"Why was Marla transporting her to them when I specifically told her not to because I knew she was in danger? Obviously, something is being hid," said Hulbert.

Rural Lilley-Joy intersection fading quickly

By M.B. Dillon
Staff writer

If you'd like to someday show your children or grandchildren how rural the intersection of Lilley and Joy roads once was, you don't have long to snap a picture.

In a year you won't recognize it. At least three major developments are planned or proposed for the south side of Joy, west of Lilley and Mettetal Airport.

In addition, Lilley is being realigned at Joy. Right now, the intersection — one of the most dangerous in the township — is offset. Drivers heading north on Lilley have to stop at Joy, turn right, and then left onto Lilley to continue into Plymouth Township.

LILLEY SOUTH of Joy will be reconstructed to meet the northerly portion of the road.

Bulldozers on the east side of Lilley are laying the groundwork for the realignment, part of Wayne County's master plan since 1956. The county is constructing the new 900-foot stretch and footing the $400,000 bill.

"This will greatly reduce the congestion and problems we have in that area," said Kim Scherschligt, Canton deputy director of community and economic development.

"I know it is something that has been very frustrating for many residents in that area."

Canton clerk Loren Bennett agreed.

"This will dramatically improve that intersection, just as the realignment of Sheldon Road at Joy improved that dramatically, and just as it will down at Haggerty and Joy, which I am hoping will be done and realigned before 1989 is over with.

"Not having to make a lefthand turn to make a righthand turn will certainly expedite traffic," said Bennett.

It's estimated that the new roadway will be open to motorists by summer's end.

The 900 feet of Lilley immediately south of Joy will be vacated.

A SUNOCO GAS station and convenience store will be built on an acre and a half between the existing and relocated Lilley Road.

On what is now the southwest corner of Lilley and Joy, Canton Auto Service Center is being built on five acres.

It will feature in a mall setting "the same concept as one-stop shopping applied to cars," said Dave Nicholson, Canton director of community and economic development.

George Karos, vice president with K & S Development Inc. of Detroit, said tenants will include an auto wash, a Mr. Muffler shop, Valvoline Quick Oil Change, Sun County Car Detailing Center (supplying aftermarket items such as security alarms, remote starts, sun and moon roofs and phone services), a snack-bar, and an entertainment center for children.

"We have 10 bays that we're looking to lease. We'd like to have a tire store and a tuneup shop or related use," said Karos. "We're avoiding the use of collision, transmission or rustproofing operations — anything that tends to create a mess or an excess of parked vehicles."

There'll also be cable TV and video displays of products and services.

"We think this type of use is beneficial for the township, because it incorporates various uses into one parcel as opposed to having them scattered throughout the township on smaller parcels," said Scherschligt.

"It'll be set up with a waiting room so that there'll be a nice place to sit, relax and have coffee and doughnuts while you pass the time," she said.

The mall will encompass 17,000 square feet.

THE TOWNSHIP PLANNING commission has received a rezoning request for the property immediately west of the service center, Bennett said.

"The request is for multiple family residential, which would have a tremendous impact on that intersection. The request was tabled by the planning commissioners, who want more information," said Bennett.

Still another construction project is under way in the vicinity.

Golden Gate shopping center, south of Joy and fronting Lilley, is expanding.

"They have an additional area they're expanding to. The center is going to be enlarged in a northerly direction," said Bennett. "They've already cleared the area."

Szilagyi, former teacher, dies at 59

By Peggy Aulino
Staff writer

Though her friends knew she had terminal cancer, Elizabeth Szilagyi's death Thursday shocked some people.

"Even in her last week before she passed on people called her for advice and she would help them," said the Rev. Jay Samonie. "But she would never tell them she wasn't feeling well."

Szilagyi, 59, was a home economics teacher at West Middle School for more than 17 years before her retirement last January.

"She was kind of the unofficial hostess of the school," said principal Judith Stone. Szilagyi, whom her friends called Betty, was the person who always organized bridal showers and retirement parties at West, Stone said.

"As I told the staff this morning,

Elizabeth (Betty) Szilagyi was a home economics teacher at West Middle School for more than 17 years before her retirement last January. She died Thursday of cancer.

almost everyone cried," she said.

SAMONIE MET Szilagyi when she became certified to teach the Silva Method of Mind Development, which is used to reduce stress and enhance creativity. The two were co-teachers at Most Holy Trinity Church in Detroit, where Samonie was assigned at the time.

"She loved to teach," said Samonie. "She had this gift of simplifying things. Sometimes it would be something very profound."

Samonie said Szilagyi's husband, Robert, and their six children were with her when she died at Detroit's Harper Hospital.

"They did for her what she always did for them, which was to be at their bedside," Samonie said. "I was quite inspired."

Szilagyi's six children all attended

West Middle School. The family lived in Plymouth.

STONE SAID Szilagyi was "instrumental in getting a very good home economics program going here at West."

And she "was real big about displaying student work so they could get recognition for the things they had done," said Stone.

The principal said friends who had seen Szilagyi in December "said she looked really good." Even though they knew Szilagyi's condition had deteriorated in the last week, "she was always up" so it was "quite a shock," said Stone.

The family plans to establish a scholarship fund in honor of Szilagyi, through the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club, of which she was a member.

The funeral mass was scheduled for today at St. Kenneth Catholic Church, Plymouth.

'89-90 kindergarten sign up set

Kindergarten registration for the 1989-90 school year will be held the week of March 6-10 in the Plymouth-Canton School District.

Orientation and school visitations will be held during April and May for all registered students. Children are eligible to attend kindergarten if they will be 5 years old on or before the first day of December 1989.

To register, take the child's birth certificate and record of immunization to the school your child will be attending. If you are uncertain about your attendance area, call the school nearest you or contact pupil accountant Ginnie Murdoch at 451-3137.

Immunization includes four doses of diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus; three doses of polio vaccine; and one dose each of measles, rubella and mumps vaccine.

The measles, rubella and mumps vaccine must have been given on or after the child's first birthday. Immunizations are available from local physicians or can be obtained free from the Wayne County Health Department located on Merriman Road near Michigan Avenue in Wayne.

All parents are urged to register their children during this period.

Because kids aren't mini adults, there's Pediatric Urgent Care

Kids aren't grownups in small bodies. They need special care by pediatricians when they're sick or injured, not "one-size-fits-all" care. But what if it's late at night and your pediatrician's office is closed?

Relax. Pediatric Urgent Care is open when your pediatrician's office is normally closed—evenings, weekends and holidays, 365 days a year. We're located in Ann Arbor right next to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's Emergency Room, on the Catherine McAuley Health Center campus.

At Pediatric Urgent Care, we know as well as you that kids should be treated like children—not mini adults. We have pediatricians and pediatric nurses who take care of minor illnesses and injuries like ear infections, viruses, cuts, sprains and small fractures.

Remember that your child's doctor is always your best first resource. Please be sure to check with the doctor before contacting us.

Communities consider regional recycling

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

Area communities will soon be asked to consider regional recycling and composting programs.

The Conference of Western Wayne, a regional group representing 17 communities, announced Friday it was considering polling member communities to determine whether they were interested in multicommunity waste disposal programs.

Westland Mayor Charles Griffin, the CWW's chairman, said it would be difficult for every member community to start its own recycling and composting programs.

"RECYCLING WILL be so much easier if we do it as a group," Griffin said.

CWW member communities include Westland, Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, as well as Canton, Plymouth and Redford townships.

If enough communities approve, the conference would develop a regional recycling and composting plan and hire or contract for an outside expert to advise communities on waste disposal.

Communities are also being asked to approve a resolution supporting the "hierarchy of waste disposal options" outlined in Wayne County's new waste disposal master plan.

Those options include: reuse, recycling, composting and incineration. Landfills, currently the most heavily used disposal option, would be reserved as a last resort under the proposed county plan. Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara has said landfill restrictions will be ordered in two years because the county is running out of landfill space.

If enough communities approve, the conference would develop a regional recycling and composting plan and hire or contract for an outside expert to advise communities on waste disposal.

CWW members are also considering applying to the state for financial assistance under Proposal C. The newly approved ballot proposal makes state money available for environmentally oriented programs. Recycling isn't widespread in Wayne County, though Dearborn currently operates a program of its own.

The CWW is also considering a more far-reaching waste disposal plan.

"WE'RE THINKING about conducting a joint feasibility study with the DCC (Downriver Community Conference)," CWW executive director Ann Bollin said.

The proposed county master plan would require communities to draft plans to reduce their solid waste output by 75 percent. Communities failing to adopt a plan by Jan. 1, 1991, would be restricted from hauling waste to county landfills.

The county master plan requires approval from 29 of Wayne County's 43 communities. The CWW includes 17 communities and nearly one-third of all county residents.

CWW members haven't fully agreed with the county plan, or the makeup of the Wayne County Solid Waste Implementation Committee — the group that drafted the proposed waste disposal plan.

CWW members continue to call for the county to include more local governmental officials and fewer waste disposal professionals on the implementation committee. In addition, the CWW is also calling for a new committee, including itself and downriver communities, to oversee placement of new landfills.

CWW leaders also disagree with a provision of the county plan that would exempt communities with new landfills from the waste disposal restrictions, though some individual CWW communities may actually benefit from that proposal.

Their recommendations on those matters are also contained in the resolution to be sent to individual members.

CWW members, however, said they acknowledge the need for a county plan and their proposed changes would make the plan easier to adopt.

"It's a compromise," Griffin said. "Hopefully, something that will make it more workable."

TREATMENT WHEN THE DIAGNOSIS ISN'T CLEAR

How can a doctor treat an arthritis if he doesn't know what it is?

The answer is: by knowing what the arthritis is not.

Suppose you have joint pains, they travel from joint-to-joint, come on at day's end, and mainly involve your knees and shoulders. Your doctor can be reasonably certain that you do not have rheumatoid or lupus arthritis, and that a joint infection is unlikely. Thus, therapies such as gold, steroids, or antibiotics would not be appropriate.

In contrast, aspirin would be a good choice of treatment. Inflammation is basic to all types of arthritis, and aspirin is the first drug to try to combat joint irritation. Your doctor would recommend liberal use of heat, rest, and regular activity, as these therapies have wide application to the treatment of joint disorders. Finally, your doctor would reassess your status frequently to catch clues that would clarify the diagnosis.

Treatment is indicated even if the diagnosis is unclear. Your doctor will move cautiously and likely see you frequently until the problem resolves, or its nature becomes evident.

A Difference In Coverage. My old plan used to only cover me when I was sick. But Care Choices HMO covers me when I'm well, as well as when I'm not. That means most of the costs of routine medical care are covered, like doctor's office visits, physicals, immunizations and lab tests. They also cover pre-natal and well-baby care. And of course, hospitalization is covered, even more completely than with my old plan.

A Difference In Paperwork. I used to have to fill out a lot of claim forms with my old health plan. But Care Choices even covers the paperwork!

A Difference In Cost.

Unexpected doctor bills used to sneak up on me. But with Care Choices, after a small co-pay, there are no doctor bills. Care Choices HMO even covers emergencies when I'm out of town. So, surprise out-of-pocket costs can't put the bite on me.

A Difference In The Way I Feel. It's no wonder I'm so confident. Some of the best doctors and hospitals in the area are part of Care Choices HMO, over 400 private practice physicians in all. And some of the most respected hospitals are included, like Catherine McAuley Health Center, Chelsea Community Hospital, Saline Community Hospital and McPherson Hospital. Routine collection of toxic household waste could help clean the Rouge River, cleanup boosters said this week.

Members of the Rouge River basin and executive steering committees met Thursday in Detroit to revise plans for cleaning the pollution-filled river. Both groups are helping draft a cleanup plan for the Rouge that calls for major action by 2005 and beyond.

Among the revisions was a call for periodic collection of toxic household wastes, including paint thinner, pesticides, used oil and other toxic household substances.

"There are items in people's cupboards that may be contributing to Rouge pollution," Wayne County Public Works director James Murray said.

IN OTHER revisions, cleanup boosters dropped a projection calling for 40 percent outside financing of multimillion-dollar cleanup projects.

Cleanup boosters, however, said the 40 percent figure might still be attainable.

"The object was not to have a hard and fast number," said James Rogers of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments. "The danger there is that, if you don't meet that figure, you could stay around trying to meet it and nothing would be accomplished. Now, projects will proceed." SEMCOG is supervising cleanup efforts.

SEMCOG AND member communities haven't given up on outside financing; however, they admit money available through the new state revolving fund is inadequate to meet their needs. Member communities were asked to help lobby to expand the revolving fund.

In other Rouge-related areas:

- The Michigan Department of Natural Resources released a report showing 87 percent of Rouge River samples taken exceed water quality standards for human and animal waste. The figure includes first-time samples taken from Oakland County.

- The high school water monitoring program, operated through the volunteer action group Friends of the Rouge will be expanded from 32 to 40 schools this spring.

- While a massive Rouge drainage district is being considered, the Oakland County Drain Commissioner's office suggested dividing the district into several smaller districts to create a more manageable system.

- Plans are being developed with Wayne County Parks to improve park land along the Rouge in western Wayne County.

- Overflow from the Western Townships Utility Association treatment plant in Ypsilanti will be placed into the Rouge during dry periods, boosting its flow and helping it clean itself. The association includes Canton and Plymouth townships.

- Sewer separation was declared an acceptable alternative for combined sewer overflow control. Overflow from outmoded combined sewers dumps toxic wastes into the river during heavy rains. The revision represented a compromise with communities that argued other, more elaborate plans were too expensive.

Despite major strides toward cleaning the river, boosters noted final cleanup could be decades away.

"We need to remind people that the problems are still there. It (the river) is an embarrassment," Murray said.

Q. What's so different about this game?

A. Six lucky lottery players will star on statewide TV each week and try for a top prize of $50,000. It will be one of the richest game shows on television! ("Fame & Fortune" replaces the instant games which changed every 8-10 weeks.) In addition to that weekly $50,000 top prize, players will also find other cash awards up for grabs, as well as exciting prizes such as new cars, dream vacations and big screen TVs.

Q. How do you get in on the action?

A. Any scratched-off ticket showing three "TV" symbols qualifies you for the next weekly drawing when signed with name, address and phone number and mailed to: "Fame & Fortune," P.O. Box 30077, Lansing, MI 48909.

Q. When will these drawings be held?

A. After the first six contestants are drawn for the initial TV show on January 28, all drawings will be held during the "Fame & Fortune" TV show and names of the next six contestants will be announced on the air.

Q. What happens if your name is drawn but you miss the show?

A. All contestants will be called by a Lottery representative and receive a letter by Express Mail giving full details. We're sure you will also hear from friends who were watching.

Q. When will "Fame & Fortune" be on TV?

A. Beginning Saturday, January 28, it will appear every Saturday between 7:30-8:00 p.m. The broadcast will also include live drawings of the Daily 3, Daily 4 and Super Lotto games.

Marie; and WGTU-TV, Channel 29 in Traverse City, as well as some local cable outlets.

Q. Will "Fame & Fortune" still have smaller prizes that can be won instantly?

A. Yes. Besides a chance to go on TV, millions of players can still win prizes of $2, $5, $25, $50 or $100. These are paid by any lottery ticket retailer.

For submitting a question leading to this column, Clara Rounds of Mt. Clemens, will receive 50 "Fame & Fortune" tickets.

If you have a lottery question not yet covered in these monthly columns, send it to: "Winner's Circle," Michigan Lottery, P.O. Box 30077, Lansing, MI 48909.

Family bakery on the cutting edge

Suzan Jaroch pulls a loaf of bread out of a slicer at the Breadwinner bakery in West Bloomfield. Other members of the Jaroch family, who also own another bakery in Rochester, work in the background.

Bread gains popularity

By Naomi Siegel
special writer

MARK JAROCH of Birmingham and his 10 brothers and sisters grew up in Romeo, (Mich.), eating their mother's wholesome, homemade breads.

No one dreamed then that most of the Jaroch family would be into tons of dough by 1989 — and meanwhile become an inspiration to other fledgling entrepreneurs far beyond their Breadwinner bakeries in Rochester and West Bloomfield.

With his diploma from Central Michigan University in 1982, Mark Jaroch got the traditional advice: "Think of graduation as a beginning." He did. Nonetheless, there were big surprises and dramatic career changes ahead for the new graduate, and for his family.

Starting out in a period of recession, Mark's search for a business and finance position stretched into a strenuous, yet fruitless year.

Luckily, all the Jarochs were "brought up to believe that a crisis really is an opportunity," says Mark. "From the beginning, Dad's mottoes were, 'Give an honest day's work for a day's pay,' and, 'If you can find a way, be your own boss.'"

So the Jarochs brainstormed. They listed the skills Mark had developed in responsible part-time jobs throughout his college years. From cook to kitchen manager, Mark had gained hands-on experience at the popular Embers restaurant in Mt. Pleasant, the Sixpence in Warren and the Kings Mill Inn, also in Warren.

IN ONE OF these busy kitchens, Mark recalls, "A wonderful old German pastry chef taught me some European techniques."

As the Jarochs reviewed Mark's skills and business education on that memorable evening in 1983, his father, Val, said, "Son, maybe it's time to start your own business."

The product? It didn't take long to settle on their mother Gerre's popular baked goods — already tested, different from mass production breads on competitors' shelves, and "good for you."

However, the Jarochs' image of a large student clientele in Mt. Pleasant, where they began with an investment under $15,000, "was one of many misconceptions we had to correct," brother Eric said. "We soon found most of our customers were university faculty and staff, or professionals from nearby gas and oil companies. Since students often budget by buying day-old goods, we just broke even on those sales."

Mark's new direction was only one change under way. Eric, then 19, opted to leave studies at Macomb Community College to become Mark's partner. Val, an industrial engineer from Wayne State University, now company president, became engineer-cum-leasing agent from day one, and fulltime Breadwinner in the company's fourth year.

GERRE AND VAL now live in Rochester. She is the mother of nine children, plus two adopted sons, Chinese-American Tom, now 42, and Dan (pronounced Yahn in Vietnamese), 23. Somehow she found time to teach kindergarten for 18 years. "But only half-days," she said.

Today, Gerre, a University of Detroit/Wayne State journalism/education graduate, is the company's advertising and personnel manager. She is also the friendly voice behind the informative "Breadwinner Beat" fliers found on the display counters.

As family historian, Gerre sometimes has trouble remembering the exact year when Nancy, Greg, Suzan, Mark, Tom, Matthew, Joel, Michael, Eric, Todd and Dan — and their several spouses — came into the family. But she never fails to appreciate each one's special talents.

Greg, for example, at 34, is the company's chief financial officer "with a real gift for planning." Bakers include Suzan, Mark, Joel and Eric. Larissa (Joel's wife) and Lynn (Greg's wife) handle bookkeeping and payroll.

Today, Eric, is owner-manager, with a staff of nine, at the Breadwinner, 818 Main, in Rochester. Store number two opened in mid-1985 with profits made during their first 18 months in Mt. Pleasant "because the boys only drew $100 a week for a long time," Val explains. "Now," she adds with a smile, "Eric's aim is to retire at 40."

LAST SEPTEMBER, Mark, Joel and Gerre opened the new West Bloomfield store at 4301 Orchard Lake Road near Lone Pine Road in the recently remodeled Crosswinds Mall.

Their baked goods help you eat right

By Naomi Siegel
special writer

Today, you joined the health club. Your doctor said you should "lower your cholesterol, eat fewer egg yolks, consume less sugar and saturated fats, eat oat bran and other natural foods, avoid this, avoid that."

Before you start feeling sorry for yourself, look around. Despite all the seasonal temptations that are off Doc's list, the time to eat right has never been better. In America's horn of plenty, a strong natural foodstuffs trend is evident. Many things great grandpa ate, later celebrated in '60s campus co-ops, are turning up in neighborhood stores. Many boast the best of the old and the new, thanks to innovative recipes. And they're affordable.

Does good-for-you food really taste good, too? In West Bloomfield and Rochester, it sure does, at Breadwinner bakeries.

"The wonderful aromas of yeast, apples and cinnamon drew me in," Debbie Holt of West Bloomfield, recalls. "I was in the mall one morning and just had to stop in. Everything here's so good, I have a hard time choosing."

A Farmington Hills career counselor, Barbara Ellman of West Bloomfield, looking for something special for her husband "who just loves good bread," finds what she wants, with caraway rye and dilly cheddar loaves.

IRIS GILBERT, buying "for my baby sitter's evening snack" on a Friday afternoon, chooses baked goods with an eye toward developing wise eating habits for her daughters, ages 5 and 9. "My doctor told me to avoid foods with coconut oil and other saturated fats. I have so many choices here, made with polyunsaturated oils."

Realtor Dolores Hekker of West Bloomfield, agrees. "Oat Bran bread

Mother Gerre shares recipe for nut loaf

GERRE'S APRICOT NUT LOAF

(Only available at Breadwinner at holiday time)

- 1 cup honey
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 1 whole egg
- ¾ cup milk (can use two percent or regular milk)
- ¾ cup reconstituted frozen orange juice
- 4 teaspoons grated orange rind
- 3 cups unbleached, unsifted, unbromated if available, flour
- ¾ cup chopped walnuts (optional)

By hand, mix honey, margarine and egg well. Stir in milk, orange juice and orange rind. Add blended dry ingredients, stir in apricots and nuts. Pour into a greased loaf pan. Let it stand for 20 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees 50-60 minutes. A Pyrex loaf pan works well.

The loaf is best when sliced thin. Can be served with soft cream cheese or jam.

Chin up, it's time to get body in shape

Once again, we are faced with a new year and, if you're anything like me, a face with an extra chin, not to mention a body with a few extra folds.

Now, before you quickly change pages with the attitude that you might not be interested in "another diet story," read on, because what I have to say is not necessarily related just to diets.

It's called "Total Body Awareness."

You might not be overweight but suffer from other food-related illnesses brought on by improper eating habits. To be totally effective in getting the body to react positively to a change in culinary lifestyles, one must begin with a simple regimen.

Drastic changes in daily habits have a tendency to bring on early burnout, so it is very important to effect changes slowly. A basic example of this would be for someone to increase his or her daily consumption of water. An increase of water consumption on a daily basis will not only help the overeater with a feeling of fullness but will also serve as a body purifier, flushing all those nasty wastes from our bodies.

In addition, for the person searching for a healthier lifestyle, an increased consumption of water will aid the complexion and serve as an "internal moisturizer" for the system.

taste buds

chef Larry Janes

ADD TO THAT, if you desire, an increase in activity and your so-called diet is already well in motion, with little change in dietary habits. That simple phrase of "an increase in activity" spells out the incorporation of 30 minutes of extra activity during the day. If you work, a simple jaunt up three flights of stairs or a brisk walk before eating lunch would do the trick.

Sounds too simple to be true, eh? Yes, but it works.

Now that we have the physical change in motion, it's time to begin doing something to increase our mental well-being. I'm a big fan of the benefit of massage and relaxation techniques. Unfortunately, many of us do not have the added income to allow weekly (or even bi-monthly) trips to a masseuse. I can say, however, that if you have yet to experience the effects of a professional massage, you don't know what you're missing. Many professional massage services charge between $35-$45 dollars for a massage but if you find that's a little beyond your budgetary constraints, how about investing in a relaxation tape that can be played in the car while driving to and from work, or that you can simply pop into an inexpensive headset during that brisk walk or stair climb? Check out tapes by Steven Halpern, at your local health food store or record outlet.

Now, with all the emphasis on me, how about incorporating the entire family into this easy change? Check out specialized relaxation tapes made just for kids or, better yet, incorporate your spouse or loved ones into a 15-minute-per-day "trip" into relaxation. This can even be accomplished while making dinner, reading, or simply finding the time to "put your feet up."

SO, AS YOU can see, you don't need to lose 40 pounds or more to begin a new, healthy lifestyle for 1989. Furthermore, it can be fun, enjoyable and turn into a welcome daily break from the routine that all of us could use.

Baked goods help you eat right

and muffins are favorites in our house."

Evie Levine of Room at the Bottom in the Crosswinds Mall, chooses "egg-white baked goods as part of my three-year health regimen — on my doctor's advice, to combat high triglycerides."

To bakers Mark and Joel Jaroch, who arise at 3 a.m. six days a week and begin baking at 4 a.m., customer comments count.

Finishing each day's baking by noon, they then "prep" for tomorrow's selections. Assistants measure dozens of ingredients for the popular Great Oats, 15-Grain breads, carrot cake muffins, and pumpkin and apple pies. Many of their special grains come from "Argentina — Michigan." The new crop of apples? From Romeo, where the Jaroch kids grew up.

Challahs for the Sabbath meal, dark pumpkin, braided wreaths of three types of bread and an unending variety of honeyed muffins and cookies are often prepared within sight of early morning customers, and youngsters on a school day tour.

GERRE JAROCH's lifelong interest in education and the Jarochs' commitment to public service combine in such tours. For career counselor Ellman, "That's another reason I like to patronize this shop."

No need to run out of ideas for dinner at home, or for a thoughtful gift. Something tasty on display or listed on the chalkboard in this sunny bakery will fill the bill. They will heap a basket with an assortment of mini-muffins. Or lend your home the I-baked-it-myself aroma with bread, rolls, or pizza you make from the Breadwinner's frozen dough.

Theirs is a clientele "increasingly concerned with good nutrition," says Mark Jaroch. Developing specialty baked goods that feature real egg whites and dozens of wholesome ingredients, sans preservatives, hasn't exhausted Mark and Joel's culinary interests. "We love to make dinner at home, too."

Breadwinner labels say, "Please refrigerate," because these baked goods are free of additives used by mass-production bakeries to extend shelf life. "We're labor intensive. Nearly everything's done by hand," Joel explains. "Aside from food processors and the divider-rounder that shapes our rolls, it's all hands-on."

Find your favorites among the oat cranberry, apple walnut, wild blueberry, Raisin Bran and carob-dotted muffins by sampling each day's specials. A world traveler can call up fond memories, savoring a crumbly Scottish currant scone. Add a spot of tea or one of the Breadwinner's natural fruit juices, cheese or preserves and you will put an end to menu boredom.

Chances are, you will hear Gerre Jaroch's cheery promise, "These breads won't melt in your mouth." Instead of marshmallow-soft, bland baked goods, full-bodied texture gives you something to chew on. Here, the staff of life is important again, essential round the clock, and for every social occasion.

Healthful bread in vogue

Depending largely on word-of-mouth referrals and walk-in trade, Mark said, "we're being discovered again by a new public. We're enjoying valuable repeat business. Customers tell us we're satisfying a real need, especially for the many people who have special dietary or nutritional needs."

Opening their third store last fall "was simple, compared to our first trial venture," Mark said. "And although closing our Mt. Pleasant store recently made logistical sense, we all felt a sentimental tug about that. Mt. Pleasant customers bought a month's supply for their freezers before we closed. Now they send their friends to buy for them here."

And we're working on ways to keep them supplied."

To launch that first bakery within just three months in 1983, Mark and Val scouted Potosky, Charlevoix and Traverse City.

"We checked demographics and potential competition from existing bakeries and finally settled on an 800-square-foot store in Mt. Pleasant."

A quorum of Jarochs spent each weekend scrubbing, painting and equipping their first uncommon bread and sweets shop. Sans introductory advertising ("Another mistake," says Mark), Mark and Eric opened Breadwinner store number one the Monday after Thanksgiving, 1983.

"WE'D CELEBRATED by having Thanksgiving dinner right in the store," Mark said. "Our first setback? We grossed only $37 in our first three days. The Indian reservation welcomed our oversupply of baked goods. But after the local paper wrote us up, we were really in business."

Suzan Jaroch gave the company its apt name. However, Joel foresees a new name when they expand outside Michigan, because "we found the name (Breadwinner) already registered to others in some states."

Hot sauces get hotter with public

For the some who like it hot, there are now more than 300 brands of Mexican hot sauce available in the United States.

If you're from Los Angeles, that sauce probably is salsa. For Texans, it's most likely picante sauce. Easterners often choose taco sauce.

These saucy tidbits come from Rod Sands, vice president of sales and marketing for Pace Foods, who says that sale of Mexican sauces has reached $271 million annually, more than double the figure of 1980.

About 30 percent of all Mexican food eaten in the United States is consumed in California, he says, followed by Texas, Arizona and

Washington state.

Most popular is picante sauce, which accounts for 40 percent of the market, according to Find-SVP, a New York market research firm. Picante is a thin sauce with pieces of jalapenos, tomatoes and onions.

Second is salsa, a thicker sauce often made with milder green or Anaheim chilis, followed by taco sauce, usually flavored with red or cayenne pepper, and the gravy-like enchilada sauce.

Podrasky, Pye vital to NMU success

has scored 25 points

By Steve Kowaleki
staff writer

Whenever the Podraskys visit their son, Pete Jr., a hockey player at Northern Michigan University, they usually drive to Marquette on a Friday and stay until Sunday.

In three years, none of those weekend trips have turned into an extended vacation for the Canton residents. But with all that snow falling in the Upper Peninsula, you never can tell.

It's probably snowing there right now. "It's gotten pretty close at times when we've thought of staying an extra day," Pete Podrasky Sr. said. "We've had some pretty harrowing accounts of snowstorms up there. Some of them are unreal."

"But Pete's been playing hockey for 15, 16 years now and knowing that he's playing hockey and getting an education, the drive doesn't become such a burden. Plus, we bring the groceries, and that's always a welcome sight."

A lot more welcome than two feet of snow.

PETE PODRASKY, a junior defenseman, and hockey

sophomore Bill Pye, the starting goalie, both hail from Canton and are important members of the Wildcats, 16-9-1 overall.

It's almost impossible to see the two play unless you're willing to drive 10 hours to watch them. The only other state schools NMU plays this winter are Michigan Tech and defending national champion Lake Superior State, both from the U.P.

Northern's campus is nearly 500 miles north of Detroit, but the distance between NMU and the University of Minnesota in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association standings is nothing by comparison.

Northern (15-9-1 in the WCHA) trailed the first-place Golden Gophers (18-4 and 20-6-1 overall) by only five points, 36-31, heading into their weekend series at Minnesota.

That kind of success must help Podrasky and Pye forget about being knee-deep in snow.

"I love it here," said Podrasky over the phone Wednesday. "It's a great atmosphere and an excellent hockey town."

"People just love Northern hockey up here. All winter and all summer long, all they do is talk about Northern hockey."

Pye has a decision in all but one of Northern's games, and he carries a 3.16 goals-against average and a .903 save percentage. He ranks third in the WCHA in saves per game and has one shutout. Podrasky has scored three goals and picked up 22 assists for 25 points.

Pye was Northern's No. 2 goalie last winter, playing behind Mike Jeffery, who is now in the Boston Bruins' system.

"THEY WEREN'T sure how well I'd do because I'm a sophomore," Pye said. "But right now we're in second place, and I've done what they asked. To just be playing is a privilege."

Hawks claim decisive win over Canton

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Marcus Mack usually plays a supporting role on the Farmington Harrison basketball team.

Friday night he deserved an Oscar for his performance as the leading man.

With teammates Chad Burgess and Bryan Wauldron in foul trouble, Mack was the man, scoring a game-high 21 points and leading the Hawks to an easy 66-49 victory over Plymouth Canton.

"I thought we could live with what we held their top three scorers to, but Mack hurt us," Canton coach Tom Niemi said.

"They got an outstanding performance out of Mack. I thought he played a tremendous ballgame for them."

THE GAME TO decide possession of first place in the Western Division leaves Harrison at 3-0 and 7-1 overall. The Chiefs are 2-1 and 6-3.

In addition to Mack, Burgess scored 19 points, Wauldron chipped in 14 and Jason Lichtman added seven, but it was Mack who produced the most at a crucial point in the game.

Burgess and Wauldron had picked up their fourth fouls midway in the third quarter and gone to the bench.

The 6-foot-2 Mack went to work, scoring nine of Harrison's 19 points in the period and helping the Hawks turn a close game into a one-sided affair.

"Right then, I knew I had to come through, or it was going to be a tough game," Mack said. "A tribute to Chad is that he got in foul trouble and still had 19 points."

Burgess was pleased to see Mack have such a good game, even if it was the first time this season someone other than himself was the team's leading scorer.

"I'M HAPPY TO see Marcus come off shooting like that when Bryan and me were in foul trouble," he said.

"I told him he had to take charge and lead our ballclub. Knowing we were in foul trouble, he got the job done with his hustle."

basketball

It was Mack's gritty play in the third quarter that enabled the Hawks to expand a 29-21 halftime lead. His second efforts on rebounds and darting moves to the basket fueled the big quarter.

Mack had 16 of his points in the second half and was 9-of-11 shooting free throws in the game. He also had six rebounds.

"Toward the middle of the game, (Canton) started getting tired," he said. "Their zone spread out more, and they were leaving openings inside."

Harrison coach Mike Teachman had a hunch Mack was ready to have a big game. Mack has scored nine, 15 and 21 points in three games since the holiday break.

"HE'S HAD TWO very strong games in a row," Teachman said. "I saw it over vacation. He started to get more comfortable."

"I often thought when Marcus arrived, that's when we'd become a team."

"It's really going to help Chad if he doesn't have to face two defensive players all the time," he added. "We like to have bookends with our big guards."

Burgess and Mack actually play forward positions, but the Hawks, with no starter taller than 6-2, put four guards and a forward (Wauldron) on the floor in terms of athletic ability.

Canton's Brian Paupore had a quiet 17 points, spreading them evenly over the four quarters, and Troy Waldron scored 12. Mike Sulak had nine rebounds.

"Obviously, we were looking at (Paupore)," Teachman said. "We played five different defenses, and two were specifically designed to pay attention to him."

"TWO OR THREE times we went after other people and they dumped it to him. He didn't miss a whole lot."

Chris VanderWeele, competing here in the 200-yard freestyle, helped the Rocks win the freestyle relay along with Fred Seidelman, Sean Fitzgerald and Chris Butzlaff. Salem trounced Walled Lake Central 130-41 for its fourth victory in five dual meets.

Salem tankers smear Vikings

Everybody got into the act Thursday night as Plymouth Salem made its Lakes Division swimming opener a team affair.

Coach Chuck Olson used all 43 members as the host Rocks dominated the Vikings by a 130-41 count.

"We actually swam everybody for points," Olson said. "Some only got to swim once that are used to swimming three times, but it's important to give everyone a shot, too."

Salem received another record-setting performance from junior Ron Orris, this time in the breaststroke. He won the event in 1:00.1 to qualify for state and break the school mark of 1:01.7 set by Ashley Long in 1986.

Orris has qualified for the Class A meet in every individual event but the backstroke. That could be only a matter of time and opportunity, too.

He also was on the medley relay team along with Sean Fitzgerald, Mike Hill and Fred Seidelman that just missed qualifying with a 1:43.9 time. The state cutoff is 1:43.5.

Thursday was the first time the foursome was together in the medley, Fitzgerald being the only regular participant in that event.

Salem's Chris Butzlaff won the 50 freestyle in 24.79 and anchored the winning freestyle relay. Seidelman and Fitzgerald were on that relay, too, along with Chris VanderWeele, as the Rocks went 3:36.01.

Hill was the butterfly winner with a 57.87 time, and Eric Bunch's time of 1:04.14 in the backstroke netted him a first-place finish. Albert Smeath saw his 2:17.61 effort in the individual medley take top honors, too.

In the other freestyle races, Salem's Chris Caloia won the 100 with a 53.22 time and Mike Axford the 500 in 5:27.8. Derrick Glencer was the meet's best diver once again with 187.9 points.

Rick Steshetz cuts through the water during the individual medley Thursday night. The Rocks are 1-0 in the Lakes Division.

Estey on All-America team

For the second consecutive year, Plymouth Salem senior Jill Estey has been named an All-American in girls soccer.

Estey is one of 11 players nationwide to receive first-team recognition on the Met Life High School All-America Team. The honor is for her performance in the 1988 season.

She was a third-team All-American after her sophomore year in which she led Salem to the Class A championship and was named the No. 1 player in Michigan.

In addition, Margaret Kopmeyer of Bloomfield Hills Lahser was named to the All-America second team by the National Soccer Coaches Association. Estey, Kopmeyer and Farmington High School's Carrier Maier were three of the five state players on the all-Midwest team.

Estey, one of four forwards on the Met Life squad, had 22 goals and 14 assists last season. The Rocks were league and district runners-up, losing to eventual state champion Plymouth Canton in the district final.

Estey has scored 70 goals in her three-year varsity career and is a good bet to reach the century mark later this year in her final prep season.

She had career-high totals of 32 goals and 28 assists as a sophomore. She has tallied 58 assists in three years.

Rocks prevail over Rockets

Plymouth Salem didn't have a full complement of wrestlers Thursday against rival Westland John Glenn, but coach Ron Krueger was eager to compliment those who filled in.

The short-handed Rocks defeated the visitors from Glenn 33-29, improving to 6-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association, 14-1 overall. Glenn is the defending WLAA champion.

Dan Bonnett (103), Kevin Smith (125) and Todd Valentine (135) all moved up from the junior varsity because of varsity voids and performed well despite losing, Krueger said.

Julian Sell (125) and Ron Miller (135) missed the match because of illnesses, and Matt Konenski (103) quit the team, Krueger said.

Salem recorded four pins; Glenn scored only one fall, and that was the difference in the match, Krueger said.

wrestling

"Our kids who got pins went out and did what they had to do," Krueger said. "We teach pinning. We don't go out and just try to win. Like tonight, the team with the most pins won."

Recording pins for Salem were Craig Richardson (112), Mike Shumate (130), Ed Barlage (145) and Pete Israel (152). Barlage had the most impressive fall, dropping opponent Cory Buckalew in 35 seconds.

Richardson pinned DeJohn Connor in 2:47, Shumate needed only 1:41 to stop Ryan Wilson and Israel pinned Mike McKinney in 3:34.

Salem's other wins came from Steve Burlison (160), who defeated Craig Kuban 13-9, and from Brian Burlison (171), who bounced Garnett Woody, 12-1.

Registering wins for Glenn were Scott Lesler (103), Eric Ewing (125), Paul Gottlieb (135), Rob Matigian (140) and heavyweight Joe Williams. Matigian's win came on a void, and Williams pinned Scott Breithaupt in 3:05.

Salem won a trimeet Tuesday, defeating Ann Arbor Huron 61-9 and Ann Arbor Pioneer 58-12.

STEVENSON 46, NORTH FARMINGTON 21: The Spartans won seven of the 13 weight classes Wednesday at North Farmington, winning the Lakes Division title decisively.

Ryan Carriere (112), Tony Sietra (119), Tony Fasdal (135), Kurt Will (152), Mark Gibson (160) and heavyweight Brett Harvey recorded pins for the Spartans. Will is 14-1 this winter.

North's standout heavyweight Zaim Cumulaj, who has lost only once, did not compete.

Chiefs lose contest for first place

Harrison's defense always seemed to be a step quicker than the Chiefs, cutting off the lanes and not giving Canton too many good shots inside. The Chiefs had only seven shot attempts in the third quarter.

"That's why they're ranked fifth or sixth in the state (Class B)," Niemi said. "They're a very fine basketball team. They're a veteran team, and maybe our youth showed tonight."

To end the third quarter, Mack scored off the fast break and converted a three-point play, giving the Hawks a 48-32 lead. It was never a contest in the fourth quarter, though Canton got it down to 57-45 before Mack, Burgess and Lichtman led a late surge.

"Any time you get into a key ballgame and have young people the blowouts can occur," Niemi said. "When you're not hitting, blowouts happen real quick."

"A lot of times it doesn't mean destroying (the other team)," Teachman said. "They're out there taking chances. You have to decide whether you're going to lose pretty or try and win the game."

Harrison outrebounded the Chiefs 39-27 with Burgess pulling down eight caroms, Lichtman and Rob Karbowski seven apiece.

"Lichtman's were nice because we feel we have to have the big men blocking out to enable the guards to rebound at times," Teachman said.

Down 10 points, Salem comes back to win

The records might have indicated otherwise, but Plymouth Salem coach Bob Brodie knew his team was in for a battle Friday when it hosted Westland John Glenn.

"I know they have a great bunch of athletes," he said of the 4-5 Rockets (2-1 in the Lakes Division). Salem is 8-1 overall, 3-0 in the Lakes.

"They shot the ball real well, and they were getting some put backs off the offensive glass. They shot well until late in the game, and we shot poorly in the first quarter."

Fortunately for the Rocks, fortunes turned for both teams in the final quarter. Salem outscored the Rockets 21-13 in the final quarter to battle back from a 10-point deficit with seven minutes left and steal a 71-68 victory.

Which is exactly how the Rocks won — on a steal by Jeff Elliott with 30 seconds to play. Elliott passed to Craig Marshall, who was fouled while going in for a layup with two seconds left. Marshall hit both free throws for the final margin of victory.

Elliott finished with a game-high 24 points — eight of those coming in the third quarter and 11 in the pivotal fourth. Scott Hale came off the bench to add 12, and Marshall finished with nine.

Salem trailed throughout the game until the 4:14 mark of the fourth quarter. From that point on, the two teams traded baskets, neither leading by more than two until Marshall's clinching free throws.

Four Rockets reached double-figures in scoring: Greg Anderson (19 points), Eric Spencer (16), Bobby Lawrence (13) and Chris Poplin (11).

BELLEVILLE 71, WAYNE 68 (OT): All Wayne Memorial needed was a shot. That's it. One shot down the stretch of its boys basketball game at Belleville Friday and, certainly, a victory capping a most unbelievable comeback would result.

But that's the rub. Getting off a shot proved harder than Mike Ditka's skill, as the Zebras turned the ball over twice in the final 24 seconds.

The result was a 66-65 tie and overtime. And in the extra session, Belleville outscored Wayne 6-3 to escape with the win.

The loss overshadowed the Reggie Brandon-inspired fourth-quarter rally. Wayne trailed by 18 points with five minutes left before Brandon caught fire, sinking five three-pointers in the period to account for 15 of the Zebras' 22 points.

Tony Rumble, who led Wayne with 31 points (Brandon finished with 17), connected on a triple-try to give the Zebras the lead with a minute left in regulation. But Belleville's Maurice Brantley, who scored 33 points, answered with a three-point to keep the Tigers alive.

The late turnovers, combined with

basketball

Wayne's 6-for-5 free-throw shooting in the fourth quarter, doomed the Zebras (8-2 overall, 4-2 in the Wolverine A League), who also got 10 points from Kevin Hankerson. Belleville (7-1 overall, 4-1 in the Wolverine A) had two others in double-figures: Jeremy Isen (12) and Kevin Hunter (10).

STEVENSON 68, FARMINGTON 51: Four Spartans reached double-figures in scoring to trigger Livonia Stevenson's victory over visiting Farmington Thursday.

Glenn Seaman topped the Spartan effort with 17 points and 14 rebounds. Ron Baran added 16 points, Rick Laven had 11 and Chris Nazelli scored 10. Eric Schwed ended with nine.

Farmington's last lead in the game was 15-14 in the first quarter. P.J. Green's 13 points was best for the Falcons; Dave Raimi netted 12.

Stevenson is 5-3 overall, 1-2 in the Western Lakes' Lakes Division. Farmington is 1-7 overall, 1-2 in the Lakes.

BORGESS 70, DELASALLE 55:

Some halftime adjustments got Redford Bishop Borgess on track Friday at Warren DelaSalle.

The Spartans (5-4 overall, 3-1 in the Catholic League Central Division) trailed 29-23 at the half before burying DeLaSalle (7-3 overall, 2-3 in the Central) with an 18-9 third-quarter rally. Borgess never let up in the fourth quarter, outscoring the Pilots 20-17.

Randy White's 18 points was best for Borgess. Shawn Rensper contributed 16, and Kareem Carpenter scored 14. Chris May had 16, Jack Goodman 15 and Mark Frylow 12 for DeLaSalle.

CC 60, NOTRE DAME 48: After Redford Catholic Central scored the first six points of the second half, Harper Woods Notre Dame never got closer than five Friday at Notre Dame.

The Shamrocks (5-4 overall, 4-0 in the Central Division) led 26-22 at the half and 43-32 after three quarters. Terry Boykin, Scott Hauncher and Steve Whitlow each netted 13 points for CC. Jeff Shaner added 12. Hauncher also grabbed 10 rebounds.

Notre Dame (5-4 overall, 1-3 in the Central) was led by Bernard Richmond's 18 points and Clarence Hunter's 11.

RU 71, NOVI 58: A 39-31 rebounding edge enabled Redford Union to hold off Novi Friday at RU.

"It wasn't pretty, but we did get the lead in the first quarter and we kept it," said Panther coach Tip Smathers, whose team improved to 5-3 overall. Novi (2-7) pulled to within five with 45 seconds left but RU — which made 24-of-33 from the line — hit its free throws to ensure the win.

Joe Delgaw triggered the win with 24 points and eight rebounds. Lee Tappy had 17 points and seven boards, Steve Nowak got 12 points and eight rebounds, and Kevin Whitman and Chris Warazecha each nabbed seven boards.

Brett Cordas' 18 points topped Novi.

N. FARMINGTON 74, W.L. CENTRAL 58: Matt Hoffman still isn't 100 percent, according to coach Tom Negoshian. But he was good enough Friday against visiting Walled Lake Central. Hoffman, who has been bothered by a sprained ankle, was "about 90 percent," Negoshian said. He scored 23 points and passed out 10 assists and the Raiders — who led 17-10 after one quarter and 37-25 at the half — were never threatened.

Myrna Partrich

Hey, guys: Don't be afraid of aerobics

Dear Myrna: I am one of probably many men who walk by your studio and peek in the window. I see lots of men in there, but I still don't feel comfortable coming in. I don't have good rhythm and I am not a dancer. I realized you don't dance there, but I am not convinced I should be in there.

It's easy to convince you. Obviously, already you know the benefits of exercise so we won't go into too much of that. You must know you need to achieve cardiovascular fitness for your heart, total fitness and well being — both physical and mental. I can just imagine you standing in front of my studio saying, "Aerobic class. That's for women and men (with confidence). It's not for me."

When we first opened our studio seven years ago, I must admit we had mostly women participants. Now we have many men who are fitness-minded types who are interested in what aerobics does for the mind and body, and who like the challenge of learning a new sport. You do not have to be athletic at all to do aerobics or body conditioning.

Exercise should be more physical than mental. You shouldn't have to expel lots of mental energy figuring out aerobic moves. Aerobics are simple movements during which you can push yourself.

It is important to start at the beginning. Beginner aerobic class will give you lots of information about exercise in general while movements are kept simple and controlled. The class is a combination of warm-up, aerobics, stretching and body toning.

Low Impact I Class is another place to start if the times of beginner class will not fit your schedule. When you first start any class you might want to stand in the back of the room. It helps in case of intimidation. Once you start class, feel free to modify any moves that don't work for you — it is your workout.

If you are interested, one of the great benefits of aerobics is that it can improve your skill level in other sports. It improves your endurance, speed and reflexes. You will extend your range of motion, which will improve your swing in golf, tennis and baseball.

Easiest of all, dress any way you feel comfortable. Sweat pants and shirt, shorts and T-shirt, whatever. Aerobic sport shoes are preferred. If you already own a comfortable sport shoe, you can certainly start off with them.

Please don't feel intimidated. Aerobics are not dance. Remember you are exploring aerobics for your health, not auditioning for a Broadway musical.

Have I convinced you?

(Myrna Partrich, co-owner of The Workout Company of Bloomfield Township, is happy to answer any questions readers may have regarding exercise. Please send your letters to: Sports Department, Myrna Partrich, 1225 Bowers, Birmingham. 48021.)

Salem swimmers beat WLC

"We got to experiment a little bit, and some new guys got the opportunity to compete in a varsity meet," Olson said. "Some did pretty well; others know they have to do a little better if they're going to get another chance."

The defending WLAA champion Rocks, 4-1 overall, have an important division meet Thursday at North Farmington, an 87-85 winner over Livonia Stevenson last week.

OCC tips S'craft

The expected onslaught never materialized Wednesday when Schoolcraft College's mens basketball team — which lost four players to academic deficiencies last week — played at Oakland Community College Wednesday.

One reason could have been the Raiders were hurt by scholastic troubles, too. Starters Eric Hawkins and Flanders Morgan were both declared academically ineligible at the end of the first semester.

That, combined with the reinstatement of at least one Ocelot (one of center Mark Koronka's grades was reviewed and changed), evened the two teams up a bit. But it wasn't enough to change the outcome. OCC still won, 85-81.

The Raiders (9-7 overall, 3-3 in the Eastern Conference) led 43-36 at the half and SC was never able to catch them. Toine Murphy's 16 points, 12 from both Bobby Dinges and Ron Woods, Mike Bailey's 11 (and 11 rebounds) and Tim Forfinski's nine (and nine boards) paced OCC.

SC (5-13 overall, 1-6 in the conference) got strong offensive outings from Bernard McGee and Ken Fuster, who scored 20 points apiece. John Moran added 16 and Mike Mercer contributed 15.

OCC'S WOMENS team paused to enjoy a marvelous comeback against SC's unbeaten and seventh-ranked squad, and it proved costly Wednesday at SC. Bonnie Kittle banked in a short, off-balance jumper to tie the game at 46 and cap an 8-0, 90-second rally.

Problem was, there were still 11 seconds left in the game. SC disdained a timeout, instead inbounding the ball immediately to Darlene Bazner, who took off upcourt. Bazner drove through the lane and passed to Ocelot center Barb Krug, who banked in a layup for the game-winning points with one second left.

SC's 48-46 triumph gave it a two-game lead over OCC, the defending Eastern Conference co-champion. SC is 16-0 overall, 6-0 in the conference; OCC dipped to 4-2 in the conference.

It was hardly a classic contest. OCC started miserably, making just one of its first 20 shots and 10-of-41 in the opening half. Still, the Lady Raiders had 11 offensive boards in the half and led 23-17 because SC's shooting was no better (five-of-26).

The Ocelots caught OCC by the 15-minute mark of the second half and never trailed again. Colleen Jacobsen had 14 points, Regina Woodard scored 13 and Marla Long netted 10 for the Lady Raiders. Michelle Dyksinski's 20 points was best for SC.

Hockey team has area duo

"My goal was to get 20 wins and now that I've got 16 I have higher expectations, and that's to guide the team to the final four of the WCHA. If we win at least one game there, most likely we'll be invited to the national tournament."

This isn't the first time Podrasky and Pye have been teammates. Both were members of the Computware hockey team that won the 1984-85 Midget national title.

"That would be great to do that at the college level," Podrasky said. "Every now and then it comes up."

"It's still in the back of our minds and we talk about it, even though it happened so long ago."

Northern finished in seventh place in the WCHA last year, but Podrasky credits coach Rick Comley (259-202-4 in 13 years) for much of this year's success.

"He's great, an excellent teacher, motivator and disciplinarian," said Podrasky, a speech communication major.

Discovering the waistline goes healthy in the 1980s

By Mary Rodrique
staff writer

The last piece of chocolate mousse raspberry torte is a fading memory — packed away with the holiday decorations.

Unfortunately, its storage place is your waistline and its a stubborn tenant. As sure as winter sets in, the desire to get back into shape gnaws at a great many folks who know they've gone overboard during the holidays.

"January through June is always the busiest time of year for health clubs and diet programs," said Kim McDonough, nutritional counselor for Nutritek, a Livonia-based weight control program.

"The new years resolutions last from January through March, then the desire to look good for summer kicks in through the spring."

Aside from talk-show queen Oprah Winfrey's highly publicized meltdown of 67 pounds on a liquid protein diet, all is quiet on the diet fad front.

"There hasn't been a whole lot brewing," McDonough said, adding that she cringed at a recent supermarket tabloid headline proclaiming a new fast-food diet.

"What a contradiction in terms," she said.

Today's weight-conscious consumer is wary of fad diets, pills and quick schemes and is more apt to look for a healthier lifestyle. Things like health club memberships, aerobics classes, home exercise videos and equipment and a nutritionally balanced diet that includes foods from the basic four groups are gaining prominence.

McDonough's Nutritek, for instance, gives clients a computerized nutritional analysis based on urine and blood tests. The profile is placed in one of 28 categories, which helps the client learn about his metabolism.

"WE COUNSEL on how to eat, what to stay away from, things like high-sodium, high-fat foods and sugar," she said. "Sugar is the biggest problem today. The body craves it like a drug, but the longer you stay off it, the less you want it."

McDonough said cooking food yourself instead of relying on fast-food, canned goods (generally high in sodium) or frozen commercial products is a healthier choice.

"By making your own dinner you can control what's in it," she said. "A good meal like broiled chicken breast and steamed vegetables can take 20 minutes to make and it's so simple."

The key, she said, is organization.

Discipline, common sense are best weight reducers

Dr. Nathan Brooks has seen fads come and go for half a century.

The Southfield physician specializing in cardiology and internal medicine for 50 years preaches common sense when it comes to diet and exercise.

"I don't think any of the fad diets are effective unless under the supervision of a doctor," he said. "At worse, some may cause harm, causing serious disturbances of metabolism. Some may not be applicable for diabetics, those with hypertension, or even the general population."

Oprah Winfrey's Optifast liquid diet clearly isn't for everyone.

"ONE WOULDN'T ask a neighbor how to treat an illness," Brooks said.

Those victims of the holiday sweet tooth who are looking to shed just a few pounds probably don't need to see a doctor, Brooks added.

"Most times they can just use discipline and common sense."

Likewise, exercise should be adjusted to the individual's lifestyle.

"Some people may play tennis frequently and can stand more vigorous exercise," he said. "But those leading a sedentary lifestyle should start out with simple exercise, like walking."

HEALTH CLUBS are a good thing, Brooks said, because trained staff are on hand to oversee the workout program.

"Exercise should start early in life and continue all through life. Like diet, to begin an exercise program depends on a person's age, physical condition and previous level of activity."

Although people tend to think more of exercise in the winter months, Brooks cautions against being a periodic exerciser.

"Do it on a consistent basis," he said. "To go on one annual exercise binge makes as much sense as splurging on a shopping spree and spending more than you have."

Luxembourg: It's small, but it's full of surprises

By Iris Sanderson Jones
contributing travel editor

Q. My husband is going to Luxembourg on business in May. His air fare is paid and my Dad offered to pay mine because he fought in Luxembourg in 1944, and he wants me to see it. We've been saving for a two-week vacation in Europe this year or next, but this way my husband would be working the first week, and we'd only have one more week for the rest of Europe. Should I go or hang in there for my dream vacation?

A. Go. Tomorrow never comes, especially one that offers two free air fares. The weather is good and the tourist crowds less in May than in summer.

If I had to pick one country as a home base for a European trip, I'd pick Luxembourg. It isn't much bigger than the tri-county area around Detroit, but it is Europe in miniature — sidewalk cafes, mountain villages, vineyards, ancient castles, the works.

The Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, with 400,000 people, led by the Grand Duke Jean, is 50 by 35 miles and is bordered by Germany, France and Belgium in the heart of western Europe. Car rentals are less expensive than in other countries. Fast, inexpensive train service takes you to the rest of the continent.

If you are based in Luxembourg City, the capital, you will be 152 miles from Frankfurt; 202 miles from Paris; 235 miles from Amsterdam and 360 miles from London. That is like driving to Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Traverse City or Sault St. Marie respectively.

Most Luxembourgers speak English and they love Americans, because U.S. servicemen like your father rescued them from the Germans during World War II. They call it the Battle of the Ardennes; we call it the Battle of the Bulge. There are bronze and stone memorials all over the duchy.

You can take motor coach tours, or drive your own car. A typical one-week tour of Luxembourg would take you around to Luxembourg City, founded by the House of Luxembourg in the 10th century; the vineyards along the Moselle River, the mountain villages of the Ardennes in the north, especially the glorious medieval castle at Vianden, and many small villages with historic churches, town squares and sidewalk cafes.

Cascades of flowers greet visitors to the "Place Guillaume."

MOVING PICTURES

'Burning' paints a vivid picture of '60s tragedy

Our New Year's Resolution is to present more in-depth coverage of new releases and spend less time on what's "Still Playing." So, here it is with this week's average reaching for a 4.0.

RECENT RELEASES:

"Mississippi Burning" (A+) (R) 130 minutes.

This vivid, searing movie will reverberate in your mind long after the debate about its accuracy subsides. While history needs to be treated with care and precision, this is a political film whose statement about human greed, fear and cruelty is its most significant attribute.

Based on events in Mississippi in 1964 after the murder of three young civil rights workers — Schwerner, Goodman and Chaney — "Mississippi Burning" centers on the dynamic interrelationship of FBI Agents Ward (William Dafoe) and Anderson (Gene Hackman) with the inhabitants of the small Southern town where the three civil rights workers disappeared.

The locale is small, but photographed with great emotion by Peter Biziou as are the weathered faces of the little people who live there. But the issues shake the earth and force every viewer to come to grips with his or her own attitudes about people who are different.

Make no mistake about it, that's an unpleasant subject and the film never shies away from these graphic, violent and bitter truths that have cast a pall over so much of American history.

"Beaches" (A+) (PG-13) 120 minutes.

Bette Midler at her best, singing, clowning (even acting) and tearing at your heartstrings with the help of a superb supporting cast.

C.C. Bloom (Bette Midler) and Hillary Whitney Essex (Barbara Hershey) meet on the beach at Atlantic City at age 11. The Blooms are from the Bronx and the Essexes are San Francisco's finest. Despite the gap, the girls click and begin a friendship that endures for 30 years.

Separated by continent, class and occupation — C.C.'s a singer, Hillary first an attorney, later lady of the manse — their letters link them emotionally and serve as an effective narrative bridge for 30 years. Through love and success, marriage and failure, they remain faithful. Evocative photography by Dante

Grading the movies

A+	Top marks - sure to please
A	Close behind - excellent
A-	Still in running for top honors
B+	Pretty good stuff, not perfect
B	Good
B-	Good but notable deficiencies
C+	Just a cut above average
C	Mediocre
C-	Not so hot and slipping fast
D+	The very best of the poor stuff
D	Poor
D-	It doesn't get much worse
F	Truly awful
Z	Reserved for the colossally bad
*	No advanced screening

Spinotti with an excellent original score by Georges Delerue, "Beaches" is a visual and aural feast. But above all, the acting of Midler and Hershey, supported by John Heard, Spalding Gray and Lainie Kazan, among others, makes this film superior.

"The January Man" (B) (R) 95 minutes.

This trite detective story is so slick that no one will much mind the clichés and the bombastic acting, particularly by New York Mayor Flynn (Rod Steiger). It's fun to watch him shout at Police Captain Alcoa (Danny Aiello) and Police Commissioner Starkey (Harvey Keitel) whose wife, Christine (Susan Sarandon), has the hots for her brother-in-law, Nick (Kevin Kline), an ex-policeman now grandstanding with the fire department. Nick used to like Christine but now he's an item with the mayor's daughter, Bernadette (Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio).

Nice little family and I haven't

FBI agent Alan Ward (William Dafoe) makes a point to with fellow agent Rupert Anderson (Gene Hackman) in Orion Pictures' recent release, "Mississippi Burning," the story of the 1964 disappearance of three civil rights workers in a small Mississippi town.

even told you about corruption in high places and a serial killer. There's no point in explaining because it's the same old story — just told so well that it's fun except for an unfortunate and unnecessary racial comment at the end.

"Talk Radio" (B) (R) 110 minutes. Barry Champlain (Eric Bogosian), a talk-show host who keeps his listeners attention by offending and attacking their beliefs, is on the way up. Director Oliver Stone ("Platoon") successfully builds the same tensions in his audience that Barry does in his.

The setting — with two short exceptions — is the radio station and that tends to wear in a claustrophobic way. But nonetheless it has impact.

The script by Stone and Bogosian was based on the latter's play, staged by Joseph Papp for the New York Shakespeare Festival. As well, the scenario draws on a book based on the murder of Denver talk show host Alan Berg. If nothing else, and there's a lot more, "Talk Radio" demonstrates the talent of Bogosian — a name that soon will be a lot more familiar than it is now. Reviewed by Kim Brown.

If all those films don't keep you off the street, there's few more releases this week, albeit they don't help the class average.

"Cameron's Closet" was announced with nothing more than a title, while "Deepstar Six" is an R-rated epic about underwater aliens.

If that doesn't turn you on or off, there's "Gleaming the Cube," PG-13. It's all about skateboards. Whoopie!

STILL PLAYING:

"The Accused" (C+) (PG) 120 minutes. Long, slow but poignant drama about mishandled rape cases.

"Child's Play" (B-) (R). Horror story about possessed doll given as birthday present.

"Cocoon: The Return" (B-) PG 115 minutes. Sentimental rerun with the old gang back to save a cocoon-being.

"Crossing Delancy" (A) (PG) 95 minutes. A liberated young New York gal, but grandma's got old world ideas.

"A Cry in the Dark" (C+) (PG-13) 120 minutes. True, but uncredibly told story of mother falsely accused of murdering her own child.

"Dirty Rotten Scoundrels" (B+) (PG) 100 minutes. Super-slick con men on the Riviera are lots of fun.

"Ernest Saves Christmas" (C+) PG. Jim Varney is "Ernest." Knowwhatmean, Verne?

"Everybody's All American" (A-) (R) 127 minutes. A fine, sentimental look at people, places and football.

"Hellbound — Hellraiser" (R). A cast of unknowns in torment and terror.

"I'm Gonna Get You Sucka" (C+) (R) 85 minutes. Slow-paced satire of B-movies from the Black point of view.

"Lair of the White Worm" (R). Ken Russell's out there with the archeologists uncovering a strange skull with a bizarre past. "Land Before Time" (A) (G) 75 minutes. Touching story of a group of young dinosaurs. Excellent animation.

"My Stepmother Is an Alien" (B+) (PG-13) 108 minutes. When extra-terrestrial Kim Basinger touches down, this comedy takes off.

"Mystic Pizza" (A) (R) 102 minutes. Warm comedy about three young women working in a pizza restaurant.

"Naked Gun" (D) (PG-13) 90 minutes. Overly broad farce never gets off the ground floor of the police squad room.

"Oliver and Company" (A) (G) 70 minutes. Disney animation at its best.

"Rain Man" (A+) (R) 130 minutes. Tom Cruise and Dustin Hoffman star as brothers in every sense.

"Scrooged" (B+) (PG-13) 90 minutes. Updated romp through Dickens' "Christmas Carol."

"Tequila Sunrise" (B+) (PG-13) 115 minutes. Slick, glib production gets lost trying for high-concept, high-tech look in an old-fashioned, hard-boiled detective story.

ALTERNATIVE VIEWING

'Liaisons:' A powerful tale

By Anne Sharp special writer

"Dangerous Liaisons" is a tale two centuries old, but it's as timely as yesterday's surgeon general's report.

It's a powerful, perversely entertaining, cautionary tale about what happens to people who try to use love and sex as play toys. And what happens, needless to say, isn't pretty.

Stephen Frears' film is an adaptation of Christopher Hampton's recent stage hit, "Les Liaisons Dangereuses," which in turn is based on a notorious 18th century novel by Choderlos de Laclos.

Laclos' story concerns two jaded aristocrats, the Marquise de Merteuil and the Vicomte de Valmont. Like their contemporary, the Marquis de Sade, Merteuil and Valmont are sexual psychopaths who take pleasure in abusing and degrading others. The target of their violence, however, is not the bodies of their victims, but their emotions.

For a giggle, these monsters make a wager. Valmont will seduce the innocent 15-year-old fiancée of Merteuil's ex-lover and also lure the virtuous Madame de Tourvel into an adulterous liaison. As his reward, Merteuil will renew her affair with him.

WHILE ACTING out this crude, cruel series of sexual practical jokes, they not only wreak havoc on the physical and mortal well-being of others, but destroy whatever shreds of happiness that remain in their own love lives.

Several adaptations of "Liaisons" have been made before Hampton's, and it's no wonder. It's a great, twisted tale of epic villainy like "Sweeney Todd." Watching the unspeakable actions of Merteuil and Valmont, you get the urge to hiss and cheer at the same time.

Stephen Frears is a director who tends toward the lewd ("Sammy and Rosie" and "Prick Up Your Ears"). Interestingly, however, he plays up the psychological rather than biological aspects of the story (either the print I saw was censored, or the film is even less explicit than the stage version.)

Working with a largely American cast, the British Frears wisely made no attempt to get his actors to assume accents or put on 18th century manners. The result is a relaxed, natural bit of ensemble acting.

It seemed a little perverse of Frears to use John Malkovich as his Valmont. Malkovich has always seemed to me to possess the erotic appeal of a pierogi, and one would think he's too weird looking to convincingly play the charming seducer. But, by God, he pulls it off!

HIS VALMONT is a half-socialized misfit, presentable, yet out of place in his powdered wig and lace fichu, prowling the elegant drawing rooms and boudoirs like a starving cheetah.

Glenn Close also seemed oddly cast as Merteuil. She looks so much older than Malkovich, more like his mother than his lover. But this is a brilliant Freudian move on Frears' part; it explains her irresistible hold on him.

They say Michelle Pfeiffer had something going with John on the set of this one. Ick, Michelle! But she does turn in a radiant performance as Tourvel, the delicate personification of goodness in "Liaisons'" evil universe.

Glenn Close, John Malkovich and Michelle Pfeiffer star in "Dangerous Liaisons."

The latter is a Hollywoodization of Shakespeare's comedy, featuring a most remarkable cast, including James Cagney, Joe E. Brown and Mickey Rooney.

"Rope" (1948), Alternative Action, 7:30, 9:30 and 10:30 p.m. Jan. 20. Natural Science Building. Two cocky murderers try to pull off the perfect crime, but Jimmy Stewart finds them out. This is the Hitchcock film that was shot in continuous 10-minute takes. A bit tricky and official, but fascinating.

"Across the Pacific" (1942) and "Key Largo" (1948), Cinema Guild, 7 p.m. and 8:45 p.m. Jan. 21, Auditorium A, Angell Hall. The former pairs up "Maltese Falcon" stars Humphrey Bogart, Mary Astor and Sydney Greenstreet with director John Huston for a rousing bit of WWII propaganda about the war in the Pacific. The latter, also directed by John Huston, in which Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall and Edward G. Robinson stage a memorable battle of the tough guys, while holed up in a small Florida hotel.

C.J. Chenier carries on legacy of King of Zydeco

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Zydeco doesn't operate like British royalty. The crown isn't handed down — only the accordion.

The undisputed King of Zydeco music was Clifton Chenier. No one realizes that more than his son, C.J. Chenier, who nonetheless is trying to carry on the legacy his father left with The Red Hot Louisiana Band.

C.J. Chenier proudly plays the same accordion with the name "Clifton Chenier" inscribed on it. He has worked with Clifton Chenier, he's played Clifton Chenier. But C.J. Chenier knows he's no Clifton Chenier.

Yet the comparisons between father and son persist.

"It has its ups and downs," said Chenier, who will perform Wednesday at The Blind Pig in Ann Arbor, "but it's nothing I can't deal with."

Zydeco music, a merry brand of dance melodies originating from the underbelly of Louisiana, is dealing with a great deal of notoriety of late. The success Chenier and Buckwheat Zydeco has helped bring the music out of the bars of the Bayou and into the mainstream. Even a well-known brand of beer uses zydeco to sell its suds.

Clifton Chenier never lived to see it. He died in December 1987, performing until then in spite of a leg amputation and continual kidney dialysis.

C.J. CHENIER took over as leader of the Red Hot Louisiana Band. Chenier didn't really get to know his father too well until he later joined The Red Hot Louisiana Band. He did know of the passion his dad had for the music.

"I wish he would have lived to see what zydeco has become today," Chenier said. "He used to think people took the music for granted."

C.J. Chenier didn't fully appreciate zydeco until he started listening to his father when he was older. Childhood friends in his hometown of Port Arthur, Tex., used to make fun of zydeco. They would call it "chanky-chank" music.

He took up the saxophone and, at 16, was performing in a top-40 band. Then his father called out of the blue and asked him to join his band in Bridge City.

Green as an 18-hole golf course, C.J. Chenier slowly learned to play the music his father patented. Eventually, he learned how to play the accordion and began fronting the band as Clifton Chenier grew more ill.

"He gave me a lot of pointers — how to do this and how to do that," C.J. Chenier said. "It all helped. It made my transformation to the accordion much easier. I know a lot of what to do on stage from just watching him perform."

On stage, C.J. Chenier and The Red Hot Louisiana Band stay a steady course on the music his father played. The band has two guitarists, Selwyn Cooper and Harry Hypolite, along with bass player Wayne Burns and drummer Joseph Edwards. Arthritis and the grind of traveling led C.J. Chenier's uncle and longtime band member, Cleveland Chenier, to retire as the group's rubboard player.

REVIEWS OF recent performances have indicated the spirit of zydeco is still there. But, as one reviewer pointed out, C.J. Chenier strays away from the French-language songs his father made famous.

The reason for that is C.J. Chenier grew up in Texas and is not fluent in the Creole language spoken in Louisiana.

"That guy also wrote that I didn't play any blues," said Chenier, recalling the review that appeared in a San Diego newspaper. "Before the show, someone told me that they really wanted to hear zydeco tonight. So, the one night I don't play any blues, there's somebody who wants to hear the blues."

"I know I can play the blues. My dad could play the blues. It's in me, too."

C.J. Chenier and The Red Hot Louisiana Band will perform Wednesday at The Blind Pig, 208 S. First St., Ann Arbor. For more information, call 996-8555.

'Showcase' showcases best of Detroit sound

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

"Hello, Mr. Rock'n'roll, meet Mr. Blues. Mr. Blues, let me introduce you to Mr. Jazz. Where you from? Detroit, you don't say. So are we."

Of course, conversations like this don't exist. If they did, they'd all be raving about a new radio show which recently debuted Sunday nights on WDET-FM 102.

"Showcase Detroit," heard at 10 p.m. Sundays, offers an hour of the best in rock'n'roll, blues and jazz. And the best part about it is this is stuff stamped, "Made in Detroit."

Paul Claravino, 36, is the show's host. He said the program is designed to highlight the best of what Detroit has to offer, covering most of the musical spectrum.

Although the elements of his show are diverse, Claravino believes one common thread ties them together.

"A lot of rock people are into blues and jazz," said Claravino, who has worked at radio stations in Mount Clemens and Jackson. "Some of them get their inspirations from blues and jazz people. Rock'n'roll came from rhythm and blues."

SOMEHOW "Showcase Detroit" is able to take a variety of music styles and blend them together rather well.

At least that appeared to be the case on the premiere show.

A blues number, "Detroit Play-boy" by Harmonica Shah, fit right in with a song, "In a Lifetime" by the Stingrays. Also, the host provides background on most of the acts whose music is getting airplay.

That fits right in with the format of the show where the informational is combined with musical. Another feature of "Showcase Detroit" is a segment where Claravino interviews people prominent in the Detroit music scene.

Future guests include the Sun Messengers (Jan. 22) and Steve Sanchez of Detroit Blues Factory

Records (Jan. 29).

Claravino got the idea for a local music show a few months ago. He's quite familiar with the East Side Detroit rock scene. He thought a radio show can only expand local music.

Soon, he was in touch with Judy Adams, program director at WDET, and things quickly fell into place. He put ads in the Metro Times, soliciting material for the new show. As a result, he's been "bombed" with records, tapes and some CDs from local groups.

Of course, Claravino's isn't the only radio show playing local music. "Detroit Music Scene," hosted by Scott Campbell on WDTR-FM, and "Contamination and Corrosion," hosted by Rick Anderson on WORF-FM, also feature Detroit bands.

"THERE ARE some local rock shows, but this is a local variety show," Claravino said. "We cover the whole spectrum."

Like many, Claravino is one who believes Detroit music doesn't get the airplay it deserves on commercial radio. WDET-FM is a public radio station, but with a strong signal. Detroit music could be getting its best play to date.

"This isn't going to be a one- or two-month skit," Claravino said. "We want this to last. But it really depends on the listeners."

COUNTRY

Here are the top 10 songs receiving airplay on WWWW-FM.

1. "Deeper Than the Holler," Randy Travis.
2. "Change of Heart," The Judds.
3. "That Old Wheel," Johnny Cash/Hank Williams Jr.
4. "Mama Knows," Shenadoah.
5. "I've Been Lookin'," Nitty Gritty Dirt Band.
6. "A Tender Lie," Restless Heart.
7. "All the Reasons Why," Highway 101.
8. "Let's Get Started, If We're Going to Break My Heart," Statler Bros.
9. "Long Shot," Ballie and the Boys.
10. "Hold Me," Steve Wariner.

REVIEWS

LOCAL RIFFS DETROIT'S BEST OF 1988

— various artists

Once upon a time, there was a radio program. On it, musicians from Detroit would have their music played on the air at 11 p.m. every week night.

Then judging by listener response, winners were chosen on a nightly, weekly and monthly basis. The monthly winners would go on a compact disc in hopes of showcasing the finest in what Detroit has to offer musically.

Hard to believe, isn't it? But thanks to people like Greg St. James, Scott Brown and Pat Still, "Local Riffs" on WRIF-FM actually did happen. "Detroit's Best of 1988" is the final result of the competition that at least provided a drinking fountain in the vast desert that has become commercial radio.

WRIF-FM should be commended for taking on this project. This is a first-rate production. Best of all, proceeds from the sale of the CD/cassette goes to the Child Protection Team at Children's Hospital.

Variety is the essence here. All nine bands "Detroit's Best of 1988" run the spectrum in terms of musical styles. There is something for everyone.

cal styles. There is something for everyone.

Those who thrive on vivid, heart-felt lyrics, J.D. Lamb's "Suburbia Boy" is a choice cut. People of the melodic rock ilk will no doubt enjoy the offering of The Shake's "Still in My Heart." The hard rock crowd can easily warm to Roulette's "Lost Without Love" as the Euro-sound fiends will dig the massive beat of Tanjant Image on "Faith."

Cuts that stick out here include the guitar odyssey provided by the Orange Roughies' Dave Feeny on "Eyepatch." Also, Second Order Thinking's "Writers and Poets" has a rather endearing melody with Jim Flynn doing some fine vocal work. Same can be said for See Dick Run's "Good Thing."

Overall, this is a good piece of work by everyone involved.

GREATEST HITS — Fleetwood Mac

It's a look back and a look to the future from this ever-popular pop group with release of its first-ever greatest hits (Warner Bros.).

The hits are obvious — "Rhiannon," "Go Your Own Way," "Hold Me" and the rest. And more than a decade later, they're not exactly rare.

Without exception, all of the Big Mac's chart-toppers are still in heavy radio rotation, whether the format be pop, rock or that new hybrid, classic rock. (There's nothing, however, from the band's early blues days or from any of the non-hit LPs that preceded the 1975 arrival of Lindsey Buckingham and Stevie Nicks.)

More interesting, therefore, is the new material — the first issued by the band since last year's departure of lead guitarist/musical adventurer Buckingham.

"As Long as You Follow" and "No Questions Asked," however, were penned by Christine McVie and Stevie Nicks, respectively. So they sound, well . . . like Fleetwood Mac. That means we'll have to wait until next year, at the earliest, to determine the songwriting influence of Billy Burnette and Rick Vito, Buckingham's replacements.

Part of the fun with any Fleetwood Mac album is determining which band members are on the outs with the others at the time of release. Fleetwood Mac has always been a walking National Enquirer among rock bands, what with all its complex personal and personnel relationships. The latest — an on-camera spat between Nicks and drummer Mick Fleetwood during a recent MTV interview.

The gossip-conscious won't find any harsh words toward the departed Buckingham, though. The album sleeve wishes "Love and Happiness to Lindsey from all of us."

But can the band survive without its eccentric life force? Can Buckingham stay afloat without his steady, polished band mates. Stay tuned, pop music's longest running soap opera is about to continue.

LIVE IN DETROIT

— The Butler Twins

This is the first album from the brothers Butler, who once wrote a song warning Chicago, that blues mecca, that Detroit was gaining fast. "Live in Detroit" then, may be considered the follow-up volley from the Butlers, Clarence and Curtis, who really are twins. Clarence sings and plays harmonica, and Curtis plays guitar.

The Butlers hail from Muscle Shoals country, northwest Alabama, and migrated to Detroit in the early 1960s, seeking work in the auto factories.

This album is the second released on the Royal Oak-based Blues Factory Records label. Blues Factory's debut was a compilation album that featured the Butlers and other local artists.

The seven-song "Live in Detroit" was actually recorded in Dearborn, at Moby Dick's Lounge, last May, and features the Butlers' five-man band playing mostly original compositions.

The Butlers' style shows the influence of blues masters like Muddy Waters and John Lee Hooker — Delta blues electrified.

Two of the tunes on "Live" are credited to harmonica virtuoso Marion "Little Walter" Jacobs. On these, Clarence shows off his own gritty, hard-driving harp playing, which shines throughout the record.

Clarence also writes good, sometimes funny songs dealing with traditional blues themes — good love, bad love and no love at all.

"I'm in love with a married woman/I just can't help myself" goes a line from "Long Distance Love." And on the subject of neighborliness, Clarence declares: "I've got to move out of my neighborhood/Cause the men is all mad at me/the women think I'm a back door man."

The sound quality of "Live" is remarkably good, and the Butlers play tight.

The Butler boogie is worth catching live or on vinyl.

School's out for Dennis Wolfberg, but he goes back there every night through his comedy routines.

Head of the class

Wolfberg swaps school books for career as a standup comic

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

School's out for Dennis Wolfberg. But he goes back there every night.

After teaching for 12 years in New York — nine of those years in South Bronx — there's plenty of fodder for laughs.

Mr. Kotter doesn't have anything on Wolfberg, who took a leave of absence from his job of teaching sixth graders to venture into comedy full time.

Luminaries from the teacher-turned-comedian school include Robert Klein, Sam Levison and Gary Coleman. Except hecklers in Wolfberg's classroom didn't throw barbs, they threw knives.

"Somebody from India would say, 'The Bronx? What a hell hole,'" said Wolfberg, who will perform his anecdotal brand of humor Friday and Saturday at the MainStreet Comedy Showcase in Ann Arbor. "Any elementary school that has its own coroner is definitely different. You know things are bad when the school newspaper has an obituary column."

Wolfberg's comedic career is anything but dead. He's become one of the better-known upstart performers on the circuit.

Last year, he was voted "Best Stand Up Comedian in America" in an industry poll conducted by Rave Magazine.

Wolfberg, 42, has appeared on "The Tonight Show" with Johnny Carson, "Late Night" with David Letterman, and most recently on "The Pat Sajak Show" on CBS (seen on Channel 62 in Detroit).

There's talk of him becoming a regular guest on the Sajak show. Also, he's scheduled to appear on the "Aspen Comedy Festival," which will be broadcast on Feb. 25 on Showtime.

THE NEW YORK-raised comedian is on the front porch of national notoriety. So, perhaps Wolfberg is able to forgive those misguided souls who took two tires off his car on only his second day as a teacher in the South Bronx.

"That was their way of saying, 'Welcome to the community,'" he said.

The community of stand-up comedy was equally as warm. After leaving his position as a school teacher, Wolfberg honed his act on the tough New York nightclub circuit.

Most of the time he wouldn't get on stage until 2:30 a.m. His audience then was usually more inebriated than attentive.

"One night, I went on stage at 2:30 in the morning and there were only three people in the audience — three separate parties of three people," Wolfberg said. "As I went through the act, the waitress called out my name. 'Dennis,' she said. 'What are you doing?' I thought it was quite obvious, I was doing my act. She said, 'What for?'"

"Unbeknown to me because of the lighting, the three people had left."

Welcome to comedy. But things have definitely been on the upswing since. Wolfberg said he's able to make enough money that he's able to stay home with his wife, comedienne Jennie McBride, and infant more often.

Steady television exposure is the key. The talk show circuit can make the rigors of traveling the comedy club circuit a bit more bearable.

OF COURSE, the Yankee Stadium for comedians is Johnny Carson's show. A good night on the "Tonight Show" can go a long way.

"It's really overwhelming," Wolfberg said. "There's a sense your entire work . . . is going to live or die in that six minutes you're on the show. Imposed upon that are the millions and millions of people who are watching you."

"I remember Johnny meeting me backstage and telling me, 'Relax and just have fun tonight.' I told him, 'That's easy for you to say. You've been doing this for quite awhile.' It does get easier. The more you are on, the more you become acclimated with it."

Dennis Wolfberg will perform two shows at 8:30 p.m. and 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Jan. 20-21, at MainStreet Comedy Showcase in Ann Arbor. For more information, call 996-9080.

ABCs of setting priorities

Q: You keep writing about prioritizing goals but I'm not sure how to go about it. Can you explain a system?

A: There are several methods of prioritizing, but one approach I like is described by Alan Lakein in his classic goal-setting book, "How to Control Your Time and Your Life."

Lakein suggests making three columns labeled A, B and C. From a random list you have already made, each goal is placed into one of the columns, with A being most important and C the least.

Next he suggests going back to the second column and moving all the items listed under B either up to the A column or down to the C list, so that nothing remains under B. The C priorities can then be tucked back into the recesses of your life and you can concentrate on the goals in your A column.

If decision making is difficult for you, try the process of elimination. Decide what is least important to you. If you died without accomplishing a certain goal, would it matter? If you list 50 goals, then the least worthwhile would be number 50, the next least important number 49, etc.

Low-priority items sometimes hold you back from accomplishing greater things. You must decide either to ignore an unimportant idea and proceed without it's being done, or place it at a higher level and get it accomplished before tackling other vital items.

You must recognize that you can't do everything. Some people want to categorize almost all goals an A. If too many objectives appear on your A list, ask yourself what you want to be remembered for? It might be necessary to repeat the process for your A column and then concentrate on achieving your first three to five goals.

organizing

This process doesn't happen overnight. It will probably take a period of time to decide what is most significant to you, considering your talents, your environment and a time frame for your life's accomplishments.

Because of space limitations, I have only briefly outlined the prioritizing options. A more complete discussion of goals and procrastination will be covered in my Goal Power workshop, the first of my Organizing for Success series starting soon at Schoolcraft College CES, Troy (Schools) Adult Education and the Birmingham Community House. Contact the appropriate center for information.

condo queries

Robert M. Meisner

Q: I am a developer of a condominium project and have been asked by the advisory committee to provide it with funds in order to retain an attorney for the advisory committee prior to the turnover. Can I do so?

A: Presuming that the advisory committee was established in accordance with the condominium documents and wishes to engage counsel to represent it in behalf of the homeowners regarding issues which would be under the jurisdiction of a condominium association if it were controlled by the co-owners, I believe that you would have justification in funding the advisory committee from association funds.

Indeed, I think it would be a prudent and honorable thing to do on the part of the developer, which would send a message to the homeowners that the developer is reasonable and is legitimately concerned about the rights of the homeowners being protected. I would also encourage you to have your own attorney work with the advisory committee and/or its lawyer in an effort to prepare the homeowners for the taking over control of the association.

Q: My friends took your class on condominium operation at Wayne State and heard you mention the fact that a board of directors should have a series of resolutions in its records concerning its operation of the association. Can you give me some brief insight into what you mean?

A: Of course it's hard to summarize in a short answer my discussion with students in our class regarding resolutions necessary by a board except to suggest that in regard to enforcement of bylaws, collection of assessments and the conduct of board meetings and annual meetings, the board of directors should adopt formal resolutions regarding the procedure and technique for all these activities and put them in writing.

The board may wish to disseminate these resolutions to the members of the association so that they are on notice of these resolutions. Of course, successive boards can change the terms and conditions of these resolutions but, at least, they are in writing and serve as a basis by which future boards will have some inkling of what transpired prior to their involvement. Continuity, of course, is a key in successful operation of any condominium association.
