School millage forms wrong

By Diane Gale
staff writer

A committee working to pass a millage increase for the Plymouth Canton school district has distributed thousands of incorrect worksheets that were designed to show property owners how much their taxes would increase.

The school district is seeking voter approval of an 8 mill renewal and 4 additional mills at the June 12 election.

THE WORKSHEET was distributed by I CARE, which printed a few hundred forms, said Jack Farrow, I CARE co-chairman.

"The best way to describe it is a comedy errors," said Farrow. Considering that others made copies, Farrow estimates that thousands of incorrect forms could be in circulation.

The worksheet was intended to eliminate confusion, but ended up causing people more headaches. Its purpose was to show residents how much more they would pay if the 4-mill question is approved.

There are three wrong figures on the worksheet — it asks residents to list the wrong assessment date using two incorrect tax rates.

Two errors are on the top of the worksheet where it asks residents to fill in their 1988 property assessment, divide by 1,000 and multiply by 34.17.

It should have asked residents to use their 1989 assessment using a $5.54 tax rate.

The bottom of the worksheet says to insert the 1989 assessment, divide by 1,000 and multiply by 36.25. That rate should have said 39.54, which would be the new tax rate if the millage increase is approved.

The net result of the increase, the worksheet said, is to subtract the top figure from the bottom to show what the tax increase would mean on the individual bills.

The Dow Chemical Co. train carrying potentially hazardous chemicals travels through Plymouth and Canton.

Plymouth, Canton on Dow train route

By Doug Funke
staff writer

A Dow Chemical Co. train that derailed last month near Milford passes through Plymouth, Canton and Westland twice weekly while transporting hazardous materials between Midland and Freeport, Tex.

On Tuesdays, the 70-car southbound train is nearly empty. On Wednesdays, the northbound train is nearly full.

Area fire officials said they're confident that they can effectively deal with any spill that may develop here.

And if the situation warrants, they said they can call upon a specially-trained Western Wayne County Hazardous Materials Response Team to assist.

"I feel that our personnel can respond and take the necessary precautions in order to alleviate a catastrophe of any kind," said Al Matthews, fire chief in the city of Plymouth.

All firefighters in the state must have first-response training, said Larry Groth, Plymouth Township fire chief.

CSX TRANSPORTATION, which owns the railroad tracks and supplies Dow with locomotives and crews for the Midland-Freeport run,

— Al Matthews

also has an emergency response expert in Livonia.

That expert, Gary Brannock, is highly regarded by local fire officials. He has orchestrated training exercises, including a derailment in Plymouth last summer.

"He's very knowledgeable," Groth said.

Brannock couldn't be reached for comment.

CSX also has several emergency response experts in Jacksonville, Fla., who can fly to potential problem sites at a moment's notice, said Lloyd Lewis, a railroad spokesman.

Dow has three emergency response leaders on calls 24 hours a day, seven days a week, said Matt Davis, a company spokesman.

"OUR PEOPLE will go down there change valves, assess damage," Davis said. "They also do quite a bit of training local fire departments. We also respond to non-Dow incidents if asked."

Brannock and a Dow team responded to the Milford incident. The cause of that derailment hasn't yet been determined. It occurred on a Tuesday on a nearly empty train.

"There were no injuries and very little product loss," Davis said.

The Dow train generally leaves Midland empty at about 2:30 p.m. Tuesdays for Freeport and goes through Plymouth between 6 and 7 p.m. Tuesdays, Davis said.

Another train, fully loaded, returns to Midland at about 6 a.m. Wednesdays, meaning that it would pass through Plymouth between 1:30 and 2 a.m. Wednesdays, Davis said.

THE TRAIN doesn't stop in western Wayne County, Lewis said. Maximum speed through Plymouth is 30 miles per hour.

Recycling choice: sign up or pay up

By Doug Funke
staff writer

If life is a series of choices, city of Plymouth residents have a big one to make in the months ahead.

Residents can soon get involved in a voluntary trash recycling program at little or no cost or face mandatory participation next year that could cost each household a couple hundred dollars annually in user fees.

In any event, homeowners at some point this summer will be required to start placing grass clippings in biodegradable bags or open garbage cans curbside.

Garden products will be picked up separately from other garbage and taken to a compost operation rather than buried in a landfill.

Recycling is necessary, city officials say, because the cost to pick up and dispose of trash in landfills is expected to exceed the tax levied for the service sometime this year.

Recycling programs probably will begin in two or three months.

"WE'RE NOT EXCITED about the concept of fees, but if people don't recycle on a voluntary basis, we might find ourselves in that mode," said William Graham, city finance director.

The voluntary plan calls for city residents to bring glass, newspapers and plastics to the DPW yard for recycling.

If at least 75 percent of the 3,300 households in the city comply, a user fee probably won't have to be implemented, Graham said.

"If we find it won't work because people are lazy or otherwise inconvenienced, we have to look at curbside (recycling) pickup and that's expensive," said City Manager Henry Graper.

Graper said he has estimates that it could cost as much as $5 per week per house for a contractor to pick up recycled material at individual houses.

THAT FEE most likely would be added to water bills starting next year.

Such a fee wouldn't circumvent the intent of the Headlee tax limitation amendment, Graham said.

"If you were collecting money in excess of the service, then you're circumventing Headlee," he said. "But if the fee represents the real cost of providing a service, then I think you have a legitimate situation."

Situations in which a user fee might be needed other than failing to comply with a voluntary recycling program, according to Graham and Graper, are:

- Landfill dumping fees soaring for nonrecyclable trash.
- The market for recycled materials drying.
- State or federal law requiring costly implementation procedures.

A city homeowner will pay $2.50 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation (half of market value) in property taxes for trash pick up starting July 1. That figure to $130 for a house with a market value of $100,000.

Book-lovers storm AAUW Westland sale

By Julie Brown
staff writer

There were quite a few book-lovers waiting in line when the doors opened at the used book sale. A steady stream of readers followed at the sale, sponsored by the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women.

Proceeds from the annual event are used for student fellowships and scholarships.

Some 50 to 100 people were in line at Westland Center when the doors opened for the sale at 10 a.m. Friday. Many were book dealers looking for unusual and valuable books.

"They're the ones who come immediately," said Carol Davis of Plymouth Township, an AAUW member who was in charge of rare and special books for the sale.

One dealer was interested just in mysteries; he raced to that table in search of what he wanted.

"We have people who race right to the cookbooks," Davis said. Some dealers came back later in the day, to take a more leisurely look and see if they'd missed anything.

THE SALE, held Friday and Saturday, also attracted its share of interested readers. Some romance novel readers arrived with lists of what books from a series they hadn't read. Children's books attracted many readers.

Friday after school, many children and their parents showed up. After dinner Friday is also a busy time each year.

"That's when families will come," Davis said. Saturday, books were sold at a discount, bringing in yet more book-lovers in search of bargains.

"They're hoping there are going to be certain books left," Davis said.

Davis was impressed with the patience of people who came to the sale. Shoppers were willing to look through all the selections in search of what they wanted. Books are sorted into general categories, such as children's titles, mysteries, biographies or sports, but book-lovers must still do their share of searching.

Nancy Truex of Canton came to the sale "to pick up the books at a reasonable rate, especially children's books. I thought it was a nice selection." She came with her daughter, Lori Calkin, who is planning a career in education.

"There was a lot of good books and a lot of good deals," said Calkin, a senior at Eastern Michigan University who will start her student teaching at North Hill Elementary School in Rochester this September.

tion of materials for her class, including much-needed science and math materials.

Betty O'Leary of Redford came to the sale to look for children's books. She was also interested in collector's items, such as copies of "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" and "The Birdman of Alcatraz."

Nancy Drew and Hardy Boys books are also of interest to O'Leary. She and her husband, both avid readers, have nine children and eight grandchildren — four boys and four girls.

"All of our children are great readers." When the children were growing up, they made regular trips to the library. The couple's grandchildren are also interested in reading.

"I've always read to them," she said. "I keep a supply on hand."

O'Leary was looking for books she'd enjoy as well.

"I also look for cookbooks. I have quite a collection of cookbooks."

Some 50 to 100 people were in line at Westland Center when the doors opened for the sale at 10 a.m. Friday. Many were book dealers looking for unusual and valuable books.

Historic one-room school is restored

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Once upon a time in 1876 there was a crossroads district where a small group of families lived.

As the families grew, they got together and chipped in for a one-room school house in the center of the hamlet that blossomed at Cherry Hill and Ridge roads.

DURING THE years some things changed, but a lot stayed the same, too. In 1989 it's still a place where you want to breathe the air and think of simple living. And more than anything it reminds us of days gone by.

The school house, which was in use until the late 1950s, is still standing. The doors of the white building opened for 4H groups and other groups until the late 1960s. For nearly 15 years the Plymouth-Canton school district used it for storage.

Today the walls are freshly painted, the hard wood floors are glossy looking and a new porch will greet visitors this summer thanks to grants and a community program sponsored by General Motors management and the UAW Local 483 offering employees for community work.

"They had to pay these guys, and they didn't have anything for them to do at the plant, so they sent them out to their communities," said Melissa McLaughlin, Canton historic commissioner.

"They've been like a gift from God. General Motors picks up the tab for all their health benefits, salaries and everything."

Roland Clendening, a General Motors employee, has been working on the building since December. And it just so happens he lives down the street from the old school house that has honorary historic status from the state.

The grand opening is slated for July 3. Afterwards it will be available for weddings, showers, meetings and other events.

"We could not have come this far had it not been for the job work program and we're extremely grateful to Rolfe, GM and the UAW," McLaughlin said. "I'm down here (by the school) almost every day, and the more I'm here and the longer I'm here the more enthusiastic I get."

THE SCHOOL house is one of many historic projects happening in Canton.

Across the street and down the road, crews are clearing brush to make room for the Bartlett-Travis house, believed to have been built in the 1850s at Holms and Canton Center. It was recently donated to the commission by Ken Dividock.

This summer the 140-year-old house will sit on 20 acres, a stone throw from the Cherry Hill School.

The township is looking at buying another building, the Sheldon School, at Michigan and Sheldon, which is also a historic area, McLaughlin said.

And sometime around June, Quinn/Evans Architects will have drawn a historical district plan with Cherry Hill as the hub and Saltz, Napier and Proctor as the spokes. They'll also look at plans for preservation, an architectural park and implementation.

THE TOWNSHIP has harvested a handful of grants in the past decade and the commission last week asked the board of trustees to start a historic district department to help coordinate the money. The board will vote on the designation Tuesday night at the township administration building.

Supervisor Tom Yack has said if the department is approved it will be under the jurisdiction of another department and would not be staffed. The commission runs with volunteer efforts.

"We have had two meetings with residents of Cherry Hill," McLaughlin said. "Basically we're trying to keep them in allegiance with us. We want their input."

printed I CARE didn't know what the 1988 inflation rate was in order to figure out what the actual tax rate would be for 1989.

The Headlee Amendment says tax rates generally can't increase more than the inflation rate. And if it does voters must approve.

"We didn't know what the tax rates would be when we put those numbers out... so, we guessed and guessed wrong," Farrow said.

The state Headlee factors were made public Friday, Farrow said. When the errors were caught by I CARE new worksheets went out.

"We had to destroy all the old forms," Farrow said. "Unfortunately a lot of them got out."

Correct worksheets are available by calling 454-4969 between 4-9 p.m., Monday through Thursday, or pick them up at I CARE headquarters at 44936 Ford Road in the Canton Landing shopping center.

Pizza delivery person robbed

A 17-year-old pizza delivery person last week was surprised by a man who jumped out of the bushes, forced him at gunpoint to drive to a subdivision a mile away, robbed him of $360 cash and then stole his car, said Carl Berry, Plymouth Township police chief.

He wasn't injured. His car was recovered about 40 minutes after the robbery at First United Methodist Church on N. Territorial.

The delivery person was accosted at about 10:10 p.m. Wednesday at a house on Ridgewood, Berry said.

The man showed a blue steel automatic revolver, grabbed the pizza out of the carrier's hands, threw it on the ground and ordered the youth back into his car, Berry said.

The youth was directed to drive west to Portsmouth Crossing, told to empty his pockets, then ordered out of the car. The gunman made his getaway east on N. Territorial, Berry said.

The youth immediately ran to a nearby house to report the robbery.

People were home at the house where the delivery person was approached by the gunman but weren't aware of the robbery in progress, Berry said.

The incident was the first armed robbery reported this year in the township.

State PTA lobbies for new image, more power

By James Radebaugh
staff writer

If one clear message came across at the state PTA convention in Troy last week it was that PTA members want to change their image.

No longer do they want to be seen as a benign group of mothers who bake cookies for after-school functions. The 800 delegates who converged on the Troy Hilton Hotel Thursday, Friday and Saturday talked about ways to increase their influence in their local communities, on school boards and in the state and federal governments.

Carl Cohen, a Birmingham resident and president of the Michigan Congress of Parents Teachers and Students — the formal name of the statewide umbrella organization of the various parent teacher associations — told delegates Friday that to become more effective, local PTA members need to stand up and make themselves heard.

LOCAL PTA GROUPS need to learn to promote themselves by forging stronger ties with their business communities and keeping closer tabs on their boards of education, Cohen said. And they need to broaden their membership.

To do that, Cohen said PTA members will have to update their terminology to reflect an age when men are expected to be more involved in the activities that affect their children.

If Cohen could have his way the term room mother, used to describe those volunteers who help out where school staffs fall short, would be banished.

"You cut out 50 percent of your population when you say room mother," Cohen said. "I've never met a man who wants to be called a room mother."

The PTAs are also encouraging greater involvement by the students themselves. In fact, many PTAs have become PTSAs — parent, teacher, student associations.

Of the 800 delegates at the convention, 20 of them were junior high and high school youth delegates who served in the same capacity as the adult delegates and with equal voting power.

Livonia resident Ken Kalousek, a 16-year-old Churchill High School student whom the delegates elected student representative to the state PTA board for the 1989-90 school year, said he wants to see more students get involved in the PTA.

"IT'S NOT JUST for parents and teachers, and it's not just something that's stupid," he said. "You have to tell (students) that they can get involved and that they can make a difference."

The delegates began flexing their political clout Thursday by adopting resolutions to urge legislation in Lansing to require merchants to keep all tobacco products in areas not accessible to minors and to require parental approval on moped registration applications.

With PTA membership in Michigan exceeding 80,000 this year, the highest it's been since 1975, the organization has more clout to flex than ever, according to publicity chairman Darcy Kovach.

"That's a pretty strong voice when you go to Lansing and want something pushed," she said.

Michigan PTA President Carl Cohen, a Birmingham resident, told delegates at the PTA convention in Troy last week that they need to "change their attitudes" and become more aggressive in promoting their concerns.

Racism conflicts targeted

By James Radebaugh
staff writer

What does a student feel when confronted with raw bigotry such as that scrawled on a locker or fliers recently posted at Groves High School in Birmingham?

Anger, hurt and shame are all likely responses, according to Dr. Norman McCrae, a Detroit Public School administrator who conducted a workshop on racism in public schools Saturday at the PTA convention in Troy.

"It depends on who you are and what you know," McCrae said in an interview last week. "Some kids might even laugh at it because they're so secure."

Like any black American, McCrae has had his share of brushes with hatred and ignorance. The 63-year-old educator said incidents that happened long ago left scars on his soul.

But the years since he graduated from Saginaw High School in the early 1940s have taught him a sense of security, an understanding that bigotry is a sign of ignorance.

"TODAY IF SOMEBODY called me a nigger, I'd probably just laugh because it shows what they don't know," he said.

McCrae, who holds a doctorate in history from the University of Michigan and has taught elementary school, high school and college during his 35-year career, said that while there are many ways to deal with the problem communication is his approach.

"I want to share some things with people, give them some options for looking at the issue and trying to improve themselves, their schools and their communities," he said.

McCrae said he thinks methods of conflict resolution currently used in law and business should be tried in education.

Township woman is director of museum

Beth Stewart has been named director of the Plymouth Historical Museum, effective May 1.

Stewart, a Plymouth Township resident, has served as programs and exhibits chairwoman for the Plymouth Historical Society, which operates the museum at 155 S. Main in Plymouth. She succeeds Barbara Saunders, who recently retired after serving for more than 12 years as museum director.

"She had the qualifications and we knew Beth, of course, because she's been with us for over two years now," said Bruce Richard of Plymouth Township, president of the Plymouth Historical Society.

Stewart, a member of the Plymouth Historical Society, was out of town last week and could not be reached for comment.

"She really seemed to qualify in all the areas we were seeking," Richard said. "We feel she scored highly in all of it."

There was one other applicant for the position. Both applicants were well-qualified, Richard said.

Beth Stewart previously worked as exhibits chairwoman at the Plymouth Historical Museum.

SAUNDERS' RETIREMENT was effective April 30. Historical society leaders didn't want a lapse in the directorship, he said.

"We were fortunate to have what we wanted right off the bat."

Being familiar with the community will help Stewart handle her responsibilities, Richard said. Saunders, a Plymouth Township resident, had that benefit as well.

"And she worked out very well." The museum director is a paid, full-time position.

Stewart received a bachelor's degree in history from Warren Wilson College in North Carolina, and went to work at Greenfield Village in Dearborn after graduation.

She was hired there to work for a curator on an exhibit covering the history of technology from 1630 to 1930. She later earned a master's degree in historic preservation from Eastern Michigan University.

While in graduate school, Stewart did her internship work at Greenfield Village. She worked either part time or full time in various areas at Greenfield Village from 1978 to 1984.

Her work as exhibits chairwoman at the Plymouth museum, a paid, part-time position, included planning, designing and setting up exhibits. She also assisted in planning Plymouth Historical Society programs.

Stewart and her husband, John, have two daughters. John Stewart is a local attorney and Plymouth Township trustee.

Classes are 9:30-11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday weekdays and 1-3 p.m. Monday and Thursday. Registration begins at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Canton Township Administration Building, First floor. For further information, call 397-5110.

USED BOOK SALE

The Friends of the Canton Public Library are hosting their first annual used book sale in June. They need used paperback and hard cover books. Books should be dropped off at the Canton Public Library, 1200 S. Canton Center, clearly marked "FRIENDS - BOOK SALE." If you have a large quantity and need to arrange a pick-up, please call Marcia, the Friends' Coordinator, at 397-0999.

SPREE

Spree (seniors with physical restrictions for enrichment and enjoyment), co-sponsored by the Plymouth-Canton Therapeutic Recreation Program and the Canton Seniors, has carefully planned activities such as crafts, movies and exercise. Plymouth-Canton community residents ages 55 or older with limited mobility due to arthritis, injury or illness are eligible to participate in Spree.

The group will meet 12:30-3:30 p.m. Wednesdays. There is no fee, but people should call for a reservation at 397-3434.

FOOD FOR SENIORS

The Canton Recreation Center at Michigan Avenue and Sheldon is an official food distribution site for Focus: Hope, a food for seniors program, which provides monthly food to Canton senior citizens. Eligible Canton residents may pick up quantities of juice, meat, dry beans, peanut butter, egg mix, cheese and other items. To determine if you are eligible, call 397-1000, Ext. 278.

ADULT STUTTERING THERAPY

Wednesday evenings — An Adult Stuttering Therapy Group is being formed by the Department of Speech Pathology at the Oakwood Canton Health Center in Canton. Participants will learn techniques to control dysfluency, as well as discuss social and emotional problems often related to stuttering. The group will meet on Wednesday 5:30-6:30 p.m. For more information, call Janice Pagano at 459-7030. The Oakwood Canton Health Center is at 7300 Canton Center Road in Canton.

PROJECT COLLEGE BOUND

Tuition assistance, personal development workshops, tutoring and job placement support are being offered to a limited number of 18- to 21-year-olds who are interested in enrolling at Schoolcraft College for spring semester. A high school diploma or GED is not necessary for enrollment at Schoolcraft College. For more information, call Growth Works Inc. at 455-4090 and ask for Jim Grimmer.

LITTLE TOTS

Little Tots of Plymouth Day Nursery has opened a new center in the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 12401 Ridge Road, one-half mile west of Beck and one block south of N. Territorial Road. The business is licensed by the state Department of Social Services for day care and nursery school programming. Little Tots is for ages 1 year to kindergarten. For information, call 459-9494.

TINY TOTS

Tiny Tots Nursery School has a few openings for 3- or 4-year-olds. Two- or three-day-a-week classes are offered. Classes are held at the Plymouth Salvation Army. For information, call 453-5464.

SENIOR CHORE SERVICE

The Romulus Help Center of Western Wayne Chore Program has been funded for 1989.

The program is funded by Senior Alliance and provides assistance with household maintenance tasks that may include leaf raking, snow removal and grass cutting. Individuals must be age 60 or older and live in Canton, Plymouth or Plymouth Township. For more information, call the Romulus Help Center chore program at 942-7585.

Candidates seek 6-year terms on SC board

By Wayne Peel
staff writer

Two challengers seek to upset incumbent Schoolcraft College trustees in the race for three six-year seats on the college board.

Challengers David Tatman and Lawrence Whitmarsh seek board seats. To get one, however, they will have to unseat board chairwoman Mary Breen or incumbents Harry Greenleaf or Jack Kirksey. In a separate race, voters will also elect one of seven candidates to a four-year board seat. (See related story.)

Here are brief profiles of candidates running for the six-year seats.

• Mary Breen — Breen, 55, lives in Plymouth Township. A retiree, she taught in the Wayne-Westland and Dearborn schools and was assistant principal of Livonia Stevenson High School. She was first elected to the board in 1983 and was leading vote-getter in that year's race. Breen holds a bachelor's degree in business education from Wayne State University and a master's degree in administration from Eastern Michigan.

• Harry Greenleaf — Greenleaf, 52, is a Livonia resident. He was first elected to the board in 1977 and is currently board vice chairman. He is a management supervisor with Ford Motor Co., Dearborn. A member of Michigan Republican state committee, he is also active in local party activities. He is also active in Newburg United Methodist Church and has taught at Henry Ford Community College, Dearborn. Greenleaf holds a bachelor's degree in engineering and management from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y.

• Jack Kirksey — Kirksey, 60, lives in Livonia. He was appointed to the board in January 1988. He is director of community education for Livonia Public Schools. A state House member from 1977 to 1984, he was also a 1987 Livonia mayoral candidate. He serves on the board of directors of Livonia Chamber of Commerce, Livonia Family YMCA, Michigan Human Services and Schoolcraft College Foundation and is a lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Air Force reserves. Kirksey holds bachelor's, master's and education specialist degrees from Wayne State University.

• David Tatman — Tatman, 31, is a Plymouth resident. He is a superintendent with GM Hydra-Matic, Ypsilanti. He is active with Washenaw United Way, the Boy Scouts of America, Washenaw Council, and First United Methodist Church of Plymouth. Tatman holds a master's in business administration from the University of Michigan and a bachelor's degree in industrial and systems engineering from Ohio State University.

• Lawrence Whitmarsh — Whitmarsh, 42, is a Livonia resident. He is a product engineering manager with GM Hydra-Matic, Ypsilanti. He is a member of Schoolcraft's quality management advisory committee and is active with PTA, Boy Scout activities and is a past deacon at Ward Presbyterian Church, Livonia. Whitmarsh holds a bachelor's degree in business from Madonna College, Livonia and earned 62 credit hours at Schoolcraft. He is enrolled in the master's of business administration program at Central Michigan University.

carrier of the month Plymouth

Ted Barker, a seventh grade student at Central Middle School, has been named Carrier of the Month for May by the Plymouth Observer.

Ted is the son of Richard and Elizabeth Barker, of Plymouth.

His favorite school subjects are art and math. His hobbies are football, basketball and sailing.

His most outstanding achievement was his selection as the most valuable player for the Eastern Michigan University basketball camp.

In the future, he plans on playing professional football or basketball. However, he said he would also consider being an architect.

He said he likes his route because of the spending money. On his route, he said it teaches responsibility. He said others could benefit from a route because it gives them job experience.

Both Dow and CSX are jointly responsible for making sure the railroad cars are legally loaded and labeled. Manifests are carried on the train and are readily available by computer, said Lindsay Leckie, a CSX spokesman.

Styrene, vinylidene chloride and phenol are the three most common compounds transported by the Dow train, Davis said. Direct contact with skin or direct inhalation can be harmful to humans.

Canton Fire Capt. Art Winkel said he considers a hazardous waste spill to be more dangerous than a fire run.

"You have a lot more things to consider. You don't know initially what you have. You may have things on the train that will react with each other. They may react with water. You have to consider evacuation," Winkel said.

Canton currently has 36 full-time firefighters, Plymouth Township 16 full-timers and 17 volunteers and the city of Plymouth 8 full-timers and 21 part-timers on standby.

June date eyed for 9-1-1 system

By Diane Gale
staff writer

If you have an emergency this summer, just dial 9-1-1.

But for now, if you live in Canton or Plymouth townships, you had better keep two numbers on hand. In Canton the police emergency number is 397-3000 and the fire emergency number is 981-1111. In Plymouth Township the police emergency number is 453-2545 and the fire emergency number is 453-2544.

In Plymouth the emergency number has been 9-1-1 for 10 years.

All three communities are switching to a new emergency calling system, Enhanced 9-1-1.

The target date for hook-up is June 9; however, Plymouth Township Police Chief Carl Berry said the date is tentative.

A big attraction to the system, he said, is that when a caller dials 9-1-1

A big attraction to the new emergency calling system, Plymouth Township Police Chief Carl Berry said, is that when a caller dials 9-1-1 the call will go directly to the police department in that community.

the call will go directly to the police department in that community.

Presently if you live in Plymouth or Canton townships and dial 9-1-1 you could get another community police department, Berry said.

"And those officers have to relay that information to the correct department."

Another key feature is a computer screen that will immediately show the telephone number and address of the caller. This will cut down on false calls, said Plymouth Police Chief Richard Myers.

"We'll know who's calling now," Myers said. "And Enhanced 9-1-1 will directly cut down the number of calls we get that are not in our system."

The response time should improve, too, said John Santomauro, Canton public safety director.

CONSOLIDATION OF Canton's police and fire dispatch is another byproduct. When a 9-1-1 call comes in, an intercom will automatically and immediately signal the fire department.

"We'll be able to move the information before the call is terminated," Santomauro said. "The E-9-1-1 from a technological standpoint is one of the biggest improvements since police and fire had mobile and portable radios."

The Conference of Western Wayne has coordinated the new emergency calling system for its 17 member communities, including Plymouth and Canton and Plymouth townships.

Technology, equipment and policies had to be changed to adapt, Santomauro said. "This is really a major project for us."

The Plymouth Township Enhanced 9-1-1 equipment is in place, Berry said.

The switch to E-9-1-1 will be less noticeable in Plymouth, Myers said, "because they have been enjoying the benefits of 9-1-1 for more than 10 years."

An added feature may be provided for hearing impaired people.

Governor knocks panel for shelving school quality plan

By Tim Richard
staff writer

"Big mistake," said Gov. James J. Blanchard of a legislative committee's rejection of one of his major school quality measures.

"Ultimately they will pass it," Blanchard said in a Novi news conference last week.

Philosophy of the plan is to "reward success, not prop up failure," he said.

THE HOUSE Education Committee turned down the Governor's Achievement Incentive (GAIN), a plan to reward school buildings with grants averaging $15,000 for reaching planned goals.

Those goals could be improved standard test scores, reduced dropout rates, greater student participation in extracurricular activities, and improved post-graduation job placement.

"It's not for Bloomfield Hills," to get their average score from the 90th to the 92nd percentile," the governor told a news conference.

"It's for average schools in big cities."

As amended, House Bill 4444 would limit grants to 25 percent of the buildings in any K-12 school district.

Democrat Blanchard noted Republican President George Bush had proposed a similar national program of incentive grants. "Ours has more money and more teeth," Blanchard said.

THE 19-MEMBER House Education Committee voted eight yes and nine no on reporting the bill to the House floor. Two members didn't vote.

The panel was split across party lines and across city-suburban-out-state lines.

(In Thursday's edition, the vote of Rep. Justine Barnes, D-Westland, was not recorded. She voted no.)

In part, committee members resented Blanchard's political exploitation of the issue. Others feared the GAIN program, estimated at $15 million for fiscal 1990, would drain other meritorious programs, such as those for dropouts and pregnant teens.

BLANCHARD said a U.S. Department of Education report showing Michigan with a high dropout rate was evidence of need for "massive preschool education."

The federal report said Michigan plummeted to 48th in the nation with only 62 percent of students graduating from high school.

While state school officials criticized the way statistics were gathered, Blanchard said they showed that "we have to start in the early years" to prepare children for schooling.

He said 40,000 to 50,000 Michigan youngsters are in danger of ultimate failure even before they start kindergarten.

THE GOVERNOR predicted success for a proposal to ask voters to raise the state sales tax a half-cent to pump $400 million in new money into schools.

"No plan until now has had support beyond the education lobbies," Blanchard said. "We think it can win at the ballot."

He said the plan, drafted by a committee headed by former college president Edgar Harden, is supported by the two major teachers unions, manufacturers, retailers, PTAs, the United Auto Workers, the AFL-CIO, auto dealers and the League of Women Voters.

'Big mistake,' said Gov. James J. Blanchard of a legislative committee's rejection of one of his major school quality measures. He predicted that 'ultimately they will pass it.'

Blanchard: No increase in state fuel tax

By Tim Richard
staff writer

Gov. James Blanchard dashed cold water on suburban hopes of raising the state fuel tax for better roads in the near future.

Asked if he thought the Legislature would pass a proposed 2-cents-a-gallon tax increase, Blanchard said, "Probably not, and I'll tell you why."

"Gas prices have shot up, and there's concern the oil companies are taking advantage of the current situation, citing the Exxon Valdez incident (in which an Exxon tanker ran aground and spilled oil on the Alaskan coast)."

"Until those gas prices level off and the federal and state governments get a handle on why gas prices went up so quickly, I don't think anything will happen" in the Legislature.

THE OAKLAND County Road Commission is seeking an even big-

'Until gas prices level off and the federal and state governments get a handle on why gas prices went up so quickly, I don't think anything will happen' in the Legislature.

— Gov. James Blanchard

ger increase than the current legislative bill calling for a 2 cent hike on gasoline and another penny on other petroleum products.

The Oakland panel wants increases of 2 cents a year for three years, for a new total of 6 cents.

Current state gasoline tax is 15 cents a gallon.

The Oakland proposal calls for putting half the new money in the general road fund and half in an economie development fund, which would go back to counties experiencing great economic growth. Under that formula, Oakland has been the biggest winner, followed by Kent County.

Each penny of the gasoline tax produces about $45 million in revenue.

Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara has supported the current legislative bill in testimony before a House committee.

Blanchard predicted a "modest" increase "at some point."

THERE'S STRONG disagreement over how important a problem roads are. Oakland polls show roads are the No. 1 problem.

But Blanchard, in Novi last week to attend a small business conference, said his economic agenda was drawn from the shopping list of small entrepreneurs.

"Oakland voters themselves turned down a (road) proposal, so there's some controversy as to how important it is to everybody," Blanchard said. Oakland voters last Nov. 8 rejected, 3-1, a $25 per vehicle fee for local roads.

"The bad news is that we have far more demands for infrastructure than money. The good news is we're growing — faster than we expected," the governor said.

He recalled that a 2-cents-a-gallon increase took effect in 1983 and a fee package was passed in 1987, "and there's still enormous demands."

Millage supported

To the editor:
I am writing in support of the millage on June 12, and because I can no longer remain silent when I read letters from citizens who have quite clearly done no research at all on this millage, yet oppose it. They seem to prefer to use the same old rhetoric that those who have looked no further than the end of their noses use.

After poring over financial statements, district comparisons, revenue and expenditure data I received from the state, not the school district, there is no other conclusion to be drawn: Plymouth/Canton Schools are in desperate financial straits.

First of all, where people get the idea that the board is "threatening" them, I do not know. This school board is made up of citizens like you and I who were elected by the voters. They hold full-time jobs and give a sizeable amount of their personal time to the job of running the schools. Many of them have children in the schools. Would they really put the well-being of their own children in jeopardy because they want to "threaten" the community? That assumption is ludicrous! Threaten? Oh, no my friend, it is fact that the publicized cuts will occur. The board has no other choice. If you take the time to attend a millage information session between now and June 12, you will know the facts instead of uninformed rumor.

Secondly, it is the community and school system that will, as one uninformed citizen put it, "amount to little more than your bag of buffalo chips" if this millage does not pass. Why, maybe then you'll get your wish of lowered property values resulting in lower assessments and lower taxes. Great scenario, huh. And to think, all you had to fork over with the 4 mill increase (Headlee rolls back effective increase to only 2 mills) for a home assessed at $50,000 (resale value $100,000) was $104 a year or about $8.50 a month. I guess a loss of $1,000, $2,000, or $3,000 or more on the value of your home is worth it in your eyes? Well, not mine! The two biggest investments I will ever have are at stake here: my children and my home. For that, you bet I'm willing to pay!

Third, it is important, no, it is necessary to point out that this 4 mill increase is only for two years. Only two years! The board realizes our tax base, which has only begun to flourish in the past several years, will eventually make up for our complete loss of state aid. Just another example of sound fiscal policy. Just the kind of thing that ranks this 11th largest school district in the state of No. 286 for the amount of money spent on administrative expenses. The board would not be asking for the 4 mill increase if we only had to deal with Headlee. They would not be asking for the 4 mill increase if we were only dealing with our loss of state aid. It is the combination of the two that has put this district temporarily in this unique financial circumstance. Our state aid is gone and will never come back. But, our tax base is growing and will eventually give us what the state has taken away. The state doesn't wait until you can be well supported by your tax base. Based on a complicated formula at the state level, they take away state aid when you are teetering on the edge. Then, while we are teetering, Headlee puts on the boxing gloves and knocks us over on our heels. Considering all that is at stake here, you bet I'll extend my hand, pocket book, or whatever it takes to pull this school district back up on its feet where it can then begin to rebuild and eventually walk alone.

I urge everyone to get the facts and then support our schools and our community with a "yes-yes" vote on June 12.

Visit raises questions

To the editor:

The events surrounding Barbara Graham's visit to Barbara Master's classroom raise some serious questions to those of us who are concerned about maintaining the reputation for excellence of the Plymouth-Canton schools. The event also poses a dilemma. If a private citizen had walked into a classroom unannounced, we could freely direct our concerns to the administration and/or the board of education. It is awkward, in this case, because the behavior that concerns us involves a board member.

We would like to make clear, at the outset, that we support the right of all citizens, including (obviously) the members of the board, to find out first hand what is being taught in our schools. Such concern is essential to the development and maintenance of good school programs. But, and this is a very important "but," there are some accepted standards of professional respect that appear to have been violated.

Is it the board's policy to allow unannounced classroom visits by anyone other than appropriate supervisory individuals? If so, what are the conditions attending such visits?

Is it the board's policy to appropriate and criticize instructional materials without regard to context? It has been our understanding that the Board has a very thorough and fair review process for deciding the merits and complaints concerning programs and materials. Does Mrs. Graham's action mean that this process is no longer to be followed?

Does Mrs. Graham speak for the board when she is quoted as saying that the English Department is where "some of our controversy comes from"? We were not aware that the English Department is viewed as controversial by the administration or the teachers or the majority of the public.

We would like to remind the board, and Mrs. Graham in particular, that public office requires maintaining a delineation between the public and the private self. Only a board member could have behaved as Mrs. Graham apparently did without schools security being called. Therefore, we hope that all members of the board will refrain from taking advantage of their public position to pursue a private agenda.

We have sent a copy of this letter to the board and we hope they will respond to our questions with a public statement clarifying these issues. It is important for everyone in the community to know and understand the rules governing involvement in the educational process.

Community split

To the editor:

Last night I attended a very alarming school board meeting. As you well know, many citizens of our community were in attendance, and 21 of them spoke during the citizen comment portion of the meeting. I was not involved until later on the agenda, so I tried to listen to each and every one of the comments.

Because I am a teacher in the community, a mother of a high school student, and a resident of the community, I feel obligated to write this letter. I am very concerned about the plight of our community. There is a small group of narrow-minded people who feel that they should be making decisions for our entire school population, and all who live in the community. They feel that their ways are the best and the only way to look at things. Have they forgotten that this is America, and the only place in the world they could possibly enjoy all the freedoms they are trying to exercise?

I listened to them while they expressed their opinions because we all have the freedom of speech. However, they then utilized the break to discuss and make plans on how to make the millage in our community fail. The education of my students and my son is of primary importance to me, and I feel we should all be working together to help our community survive these unusual financial times. Our children and future leaders of our society deserve the best. Obviously, their property values (which of course will also suffer) have as little importance to them as a child's learned ability to be a critical thinker and a good decision maker.

I feel it is time for all of us to re-examine our thinking and actions. Our community is dividing and the education of our children is at stake. We all have equal rights in America, and need to start exercising them. I care so much and hope that others who care will think about what is important to them, to our future citizens, and to our community. We need to become active supporters of our freedoms, our rights, our schools, and our community.

Bias charged in story

To the editor:

In the page one story of April 24, of the conviction of Cecile T. Jean, the staff writer, Doug Funke, and his editor showed a bias. This surely is not a new indictment of the "fifth estate." What makes it unique is the writers slanting of the article in favor of an authoritarian church, police, prosecutor, judge and jury conspiracy opposing the "First Amendment issues — freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom to assemble" and therefore, freedom of the press.

The sin was not of omission, all the facts were there. Jean, "a parishioner for nearly 16 years, of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church," "was ticketed for trespassing last May 9 after she refused to leave parish meetings in the rectory."

"Judge James Garber in 35th District Court" "dismissed the trespassing charge... because she had no criminal intent." He could have hardly done likewise despite your "on very narrow factual grounds."

Let's examine these facts:
1. She is a parishioner, therefore, a communal owner of the parish.
2. The question of voice and vote were never raised, at least not in your article.
3. She did not threaten to permanently occupy the premises nor attempt to remove any communal property.

Garber did not use "very narrow factual grounds" to dismiss the trespassing charge. If he had done anything else, he would have been reversed on appeal.

Now we get into the real dangerous water. We now know she committed no civil infraction. Why did Garber not dismiss the ticket "for interfering with an officer when she fell to her knee forcing police to carry her out?"

If the church had not brought the unenforceable charge against her the police would not have been called. Is this not bearing false witness?

Why was the victim charged and not the perpetrator? This is the simplest question in this letter to answer. The church helps to control us for the state.

When she passively refused to cooperate with her removal, although, we have already established that this was not legal, she broke the law by not willingly submitting to unwarranted police State power.

She is no revolutionary, such as, Spartacus, Cromwell, Washington, Robespierre, Lenin or Mandela. She is a concerned pacifist, such as, Christ, Gandhi or Martin Luther King Jr.

The church, police, prosecutor, judge and to some extent the jurors' position in this gross injustice is somewhat explained by Henry David Thoreau, "That government is best which governs not at all; and when (people) are prepared for it, that will be the kind of government which they will have. Government is at best but an expedient; but most governments are usually, and all governments are sometimes, inept — inept."

The church, police, prosecutor, and judge were obviously inept given the exoneration in the incident charge. To understand the jury's decision, the article did not supply enough of the input of the church, police, prosecutor, judge and defending attorney.

If the jurors were influenced by a self serving need for law and order in a lawless society of billion dollar take overs and deaths from unemployed purse snatchers. They must be made to understand that when they expediently convict an innocent individual, they encourage the billion dollar thief and the unemployed change purse murder.

"Under a government which imprisons any unjustly, the true place for a just (person) is also a prison."

There is another question, does the article's writer, editor and publisher have an understanding that their First Amendment rights have been placed in jeopardy by this injustice?

Plymouth

Story lauded

To the editor:

I am writing regarding the April 13 article, "Chaplain Get Bit of Everything in Police Work." The dedication of Mr. Byrum and Mr. Keilman is truly remarkable and a welcome respite from the bad press the "men of the cloth" have recently received. Canton must be very proud to have such highly qualified, devoted people to serve their community and for only $1 a year. Now that's a miracle! (Or is it robbery?) Certainly their training and skills are worth much, much more!

Thanks for writing the article and highlighting the goodness of some of "Canton's Finest."

WELLSPRING OF OUR COMMUNITY ST. MARY HOSPITAL

Celebrating National Hospital Week, May 7-13, 1989

A wellspring is a source of continual supply for the community it serves.

Like a wellspring, St. Mary Hospital nourishes our community with constant healthcare, information, and services in a Christian atmosphere.

When there is sickness or injury, we have the expertise, equipment, and compassion it takes to promote healing.

We provide programming that educates and informs our neighbors—helping you to help yourselves to better health.

Behind every service we offer is the deep reserve of skill and enthusiasm our staff brings to their jobs.

Our administrators, physicians, nurses, staff and volunteers are the source of our constant renewal.

During National Hospital Week, we salute these dedicated caregivers for keeping the wellspring flowing.

Candidates vie for 4-year term on SC board

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

They include an attorney and an attorney-to-be, a veteran campaigner, a caterer, an education counselor and a former college trustee.

They even include a woman whose first name is someone else's name spelled backward.

Ronaele Bowman, Thomas Davis, Richard Hayward, Thaddeus McCotter, Patricia Sacha, M. Andrea Taylor and Jeffrey Theodore all seek a four-year seat on the Schoolcraft College board.

They are:

• Ronaele Bowman — Bowman, 47, is a Livonia resident. She trains youth assistance volunteers for the Michigan Training and Resource Center, Northville. Her community activities include Livonia Youth Assistance, Friends of the Homeless and Homes for Black Children, where she serves on the board of directors. She holds a bachelor's degree in liberal arts, with a major in sociology, from Marquette University, Milwaukee. Bowman's unusual first name is Eleanor, spelled backward.

• Thomas Davis — Davis, 50, lives in Northville Township. He is a Ford Motor Co. finance supervisor and was a member of the Livonia Board of Education from 1974-78. He holds a bachelor's degree in finance from the University of Detroit. Davis has coordinated several area campaigns, including Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara's last two Livonia mayoral campaigns.

• Richard Hayward — Hayward, 60, is a Livonia resident. A self-employed steel industry consultant, he served on the Schoolcraft board from 1978-81. He is a member of the Livonia Economic Development Corporation and Madonna College Business Advisory Council, and has served on the Livonia Chamber of Commerce and Livonia Hockey Association boards. He was also active in St. Aiden Parish, Livonia. Hayward holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from Madonna and has received the college's distinguished alumni award.

• Thaddeus McCotter — McCotter, 23, is a Livonia resident. He is a law student at the University of Detroit and recipient of the U-D law school's Jerome P. Cavanaugh Scholarship. McCotter is also a law clerk at the Livonia firm of Brashers, Tangora and Spence. The son of Livonia city councilwoman Joan McCotter, he was active in recent Livonia-area GOP campaigns. He is a member of the Schoolcraft College Foundation, Livonia Symphony League, Livonia Cultural League and Livonia Jaycees. Lead guitarist and singer for a rock band, McCotter has had six of his compositions copyrighted.

• Patricia Sacha — Sacha, 61, lives in Livonia. A retiree, she taught in the Detroit Public Schools and spent 20 years in supervisory positions with the Birmingham Public Schools, re-assessing the district curriculum and creating programs for learning disabled students. She also served as a district media specialist. Sacha holds bachelor's and master's degrees in education from Wayne State University.

• M. Andrea Taylor — Taylor, 43, is a Livonia resident. A food service manager for the Plymouth-Canton Schools, she also operates Andy's Cakes and Catering, a Livonia-based catering company. This month, she received an associate's degree in culinary management at Schoolcraft. Taylor plans to continue her education, working toward a degree in hotel and restaurant management.

• Jeffrey Theodore — Theodore, 30, is a Canton Township resident. He is an assistant prosecuting attorney with the Wayne County Prosecutor's office, Detroit. He received his law degree from Wayne State University and holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Eastern Michigan University, and an associate's degree in liberal arts from Schoolcraft. Theodore is a member of the federal bar for eastern Michigan.

In addition to electing a candidate to the four-year seat, voters will also choose between three incumbents and two challengers for a trio of six-year seats. (See related story.)

Voters in the Livonia, Plymouth-Canton, Garden City, Clarenceville and Northville public school districts are eligible to vote in the Schoolcraft races.

Older adults host senior power day

"Senior Power — Building a Community of Generations" is the theme of the 15th annual Senior Power day May 16, which is expected to draw 4,000 senior citizens from southeastern Michigan to Lansing.

Supreme Court Chief Justice Dorothy Crompton Riley is serving as honorary chairwoman.

"As a senior citizen, the chief justice is involved with a myriad of social issues that reflect the theme for this year's event," said Nel Thompson, executive director of the Senior Alliance, a nonprofit corporation serving the needs of the elderly in Wayne County.

The platform is set to make recommendations in the areas of housing, education, health, employment and transportation.

"The platform will be looking at issues such as AIDS and long-term care that affect so many more people than just the elderly," Thompson said. "It's reflective of a growing trend and understanding for the need to get organizations that serve various age groups to work together to resolve mutual problems."

"Having Ms. Riley as honorary chair sets an appropriate tone for this 15th year celebration, given her work with many different groups including the State Bar of Michigan's Family Law Section, the Women's Economic Club, and the Michigan Association of the Professions, just to name a few."

Tickets to Senior Power day are available to older adults living in southern and western Wayne County on a first-come, first-served basis at $2, which includes lunch and transportation to Lansing.

Out-Wayne County residents who make the approximately 172-mile round trip to Lansing will be among more than 6,000 attending the program who plan to support Michigan seniors and bring issues to the forefront in the form of a five-plank platform.

A summary of the proposed platform will be distributed through the Senior Alliance so that persons attending the event can become familiar with the issues at hand.

Participants will also attend a public hearing in the morning and a consumers fair, with nearly 100 exhibits.

ASPIRIN AND INFLAMMATION
Joint inflammation is a process in which noxious chemicals enter a joint and damage or destroy it. Stopping inflammation requires the presence of a substance that can halt the generation of these chemicals; aspirin is such an agent. Not only can aspirin inhibit inflammation, but the drug can prevent the fever and decrease the pain that accompanies inflammation. All other anti-inflammatory drugs, with the exception of steroids, work on the principle of aspirin, and are substitutes for it. To date, physicians have not found that any of these substitutes work better than aspirin. Thus, for fighting inflammation, aspirin remains the first drug of choice. If you are allergic to it, or it does not work for you, then the substitute anti-inflammatory drugs are worth a try. But remember, physicians experienced in treating joint conditions turn to aspirin first. In this period of great technological achievement, it is hard to believe that the "old ways are the best ways." But in the case of aspirin therapy for arthritis, this saying retains its wisdom.

'Front-runner' to gain county jail

It was long considered the front-runner and, on Friday, Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara made it official: the new Wayne County Jail will be located in Hamtramck.

The announcement came as final relief for Westland officials. Westland had been considered the jail site if negotiations with other cities fell through.

The site selected is north of I-94, between Joseph Campeau and Conant, two of the eastern suburb's main streets.

Hamtramck officials actively campaigned for the jail, making the city the front-runner. Sites in Highland Park and Romulus were also considered, though McNamara said all along the jail would go to a city that wanted it.

An $40-million jail is proposed.

County voters approved a 1-mill jail construction tax last August.

County commissioners still need to approve the site, though approval appears likely.

Still unresolved is the issue of payments to Highland Park, considered the runner-up in the jail selection process.

County commissioners approved a plan calling for $30,000-a-year payments over the next 10 years to the runner-up community. McNamara, however, has said he'd veto the proposal.

Be Kind to Animals events are set

The Michigan Humane Society has several special events planned in recognition of Be Kind to Animals Week, May 7-13.

"The Animals Film" a documentary about various animal protection issues will be shown on Friday, May 12, at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn. Narrated by Julie Christie, this film is graphic and not recommended for children under 13. It begins at 7 p.m.

On Saturday, May 13, the MHS will hold its annual meeting at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn. The featured speaker is Michael O'Sullivan, Canadian coordinator for the World Society for the Protection of Animals. O'Sullivan will talk about furs.

On Sunday, May 14, the MHS north shelter will host an open house from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Everyone is welcome to meet the animals, tour the facility, attend obedience and grooming demonstrations, and visit a craft and bake sale. There will be a free gift for all moms who attend this Mother's Day event. The shelter is at 3600 Auburn Road, just east of Adams, in Auburn Heights.

The humane society will have a display at Northland Mall in Southfield May 12-14. In conjunction, the mall is raffling off a $1,000 Northland shopping tour, with proceeds to benefit homeless animals.

The Michigan Humane Society is a private, non-profit organization. Call 872-3400 for more information.

Madonna gains Lions grant

The Lions/Lioness Clubs of southeastern Michigan have donated more than $10,000 to support deaf and hearing impaired students of Madonna College.

Funds will assist in scholarship aid and additional equipment. Madonna College initiated academic support services for deaf and hearing impaired students in 1975, and has received support from the Lions Clubs for the past decade.

To date, Madonna is the only college in Michigan and one of few in the United States providing in-class sign language interpreters, notetakers and counseling services to deaf and hearing impaired students with a comprehensive on-campus educational support system.

The Detroit Science Center has a variety of spring activities planned for visitors.

Some May and June events are highlighted here.

• Through May 14: The Jason Project. An attempt to broadcast live color images from the floor of the Mediterranean Sea via telepresence technology. Daily at 2 and 3 p.m. and weekends every hour between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

• May 18, 5-8 p.m.: Bus Fund Reception. Guests are asked to make a contribution of $80, enough to transport one school group to the Science Center for a class trip.

• May 20: The Great Sci-Fly. Activities start at 12:30, with a kite flying contest at 2 p.m. Awards will be given for the longest and highest flying kites. Registration by May 15.

• June: "Beavers" begins at Omnimax Theatre. The film is the saga of a beaver family that makes its way to the Canadian Rockies. Shows run every hour on the half hour during the science center's hours of operation.

• June 28: Children's Day. 200,000 children will visit Detroit's Cultural Center. All visitors to the Science Center are admitted at the group rate of $2.50 a person. Children will receive beaver masks and participate in a tree planting as a tribute to beavers.

In addition, several workshops are scheduled, including "You Be the Architect" in three-stages for kindergartners through adults. Students in grades 3 to 6 get to design a dream home, those in grades 7 to adult get a special historical district tour for Preservation Week, and younger children will have a session geared to their level.

High Flyers is a workshop for third through sixth graders who will discover why things fly and learn how to make flying machines. They will also get a free pass to see Flyers in the space theatre.

Participation in workshops is by prepaid registration at least a week prior to the scheduled workshop. To register call 577-8432.

The Detroit Science Center is at 5020 John R. Admission is $5 for adults, $4 for 6 to 12 year olds and senior citizens, $2 for 4 and 5 year olds. Kids under 4 are admitted free.

Science Center summer hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, Saturday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday noon to 6 p.m.

Bum rap given to anchovy

Anchovies are like ice cream or Stravinsky compositions. People either love them or hate them.

Shameless prejudice accounts for much of the anchovy's bum rap. Serve a well-seasoned Caesar salad without mentioning anchovies, and even the fish's detractors will pronounce the salad delicious. Mention anchovy beforehand, however, and the salad will languish on the table, barely unsampled. Steak tartar and Salad Nicoise, not to mention pizza, also would be sorry stuff without the anchovy.

The anchovy has a very distinguished culinary history. It was highly esteemed by the ancient Greeks and Romans, the latter of whom used it to make garum, a pungent sauce prepared by leaving whole anchovies and brine in the sun.

In Shakespeare's time the fish was consumed with a glass of sherry as a snack. Furthermore, the tiny fish has long been associated with drinking: a 17th century writer described it as, "The famous meat of the drunkards."

The saltiness of the fish does, indeed, prompt people to drink, which is why anchovy hors d'oeuvres are so popular at cocktail parties. Anchovies also make great appetizers, as the English writer Thomas Flatman aptly observed: "To quicken appetite it will behoove ye to feed, courageously on good Anchovie."

THE SALTWATER FISH, a diminutive four to five inches long and silver in color, is caught on dark spring nights. Bright lights are shone from the boat into the water, attracting the fish by the millions.

The bulk of the catch is destined to be cured. Mediterranean fishermen simply gut the fish, salt it and pack it in barrels. In this country, anchovies are most commonly consumed in canned form. The fillets are cured in salt for three to four months, which gives them a reddish hue, then packed in olive oil in flat cans. Fresh anchovies, which are scarce in this area, are absolutely delectable when fried or cooked on the grill. They taste and resemble our smelt.

The fish appears in dishes as diverse as Italian antipasto, Scandinavian smorgasbord and German Weiner Schnitzel. The combination of anchovy and meat is not as odd as it sounds, for the tangy fish is one of the main ingredients in Worcestershire and steak sauces.

Anchovies should be drained and blotted on paper towels before using. To diminish the fishy flavor, you can soak the fillets in milk for 20 minutes. Fish steaks and even beef can be larded with anchovies to impart a wonderful flavor. This is accomplished by inserting the fillets in a larding needle and pulling them through the thick parts of the fish or steaks.

The strangest recipe I have ever come across for anchovy comes from the French novel-

Mom, plan breakfast in bed

By Larry Janes
special writer

IF THE SOUND of kids in the kitchen send shivers down your spine, you're unlike many of the moms we interviewed. Seems that all the Kona coffee in Hawaii can't equal the pleasure derived from having breakfast prepared by the kids on Mother's Day.

The secret is expanding the basic job description. It's one thing being brought the morning paper, a fresh cup of coffee and a steaming slice of quiche, and quite another slipping on your robe and venturing into a kitchen with a sink full of dirty dishes and finding coffee grounds all over the floor. So if thoughts of a Mother's Day "breakfast in bed" sound appealing, you have to plan your strategy.

Whether the kids are 6 or 16, it probably wouldn't hurt leaving this article in a very conspicuous location. Not too conspicuous, mind you, but a place where you know it will be seen.

A good place for older kids would be stuffed into their sweats. Of course, you could always say the article "just happened to fall into their sneakers." If kids are temporarily not available and you're hoping to have your mate surprise you, a simple clipping strategically placed in the bathroom would give a subtle hint. Ditto for the place in the "bills to pay" file.

IF YOU ARE FACED with the task of getting the little ones to grab the hint, forget all the above and attack the situation bluntly with the statement "Mommy would love breakfast in bed," and then circle the date on a large May calendar.

Now that everyone in the family knows you would like a homemade Mother's Day breakfast, you can do one of two things: settle for burnt toast, a wilted flower and a crumpled paper by simply assuming they will shop and prepare, or you can propose a simple menu that would include everyone's help.

There's nothing like the taste of fresh-squeezed orange juice in the morning and, yes, it can be purchased from any good grocery store, but you can also pick up a very inexpensive plastic juicer and a bag of oranges. Anyone over the age of 4 can slice an orange in half and juice a few oranges.

Forget the ritualistic frying of a few pounds of bacon. Not only do you risk having to jump out of bed and nurse blisters, but the mess to be made on the stovetop totally wipes out all the joy of the taste.

Even a kid culinarian can crack a few eggs and make a simple strata or egg-based casserole. Quiche would be a nice touch, but then you have to deal with making the crust, baking the crust, filling, measuring, baking, slicing and probably oven clean-up.

ON MOTHER'S DAY eve, you could politely set out a casserole dish conveniently sprayed with Pam or lightly greased. Have the eggs, bread and veggies sitting in separate bowls, easily noticed upon opening the fridge. In order to avoid the possibility of having your sleep interrupted, set out the whisk, ladle, measuring cup, measuring spoons and at least a dozen kitchen towels the night before.

If you are dealing with true novices, having the coffee premeasured assures you of at least one good thing you won't have to lie about the next magical morning.

If the family members taking part in this exercise of futility have taken Home Ec. 101 and have some understanding of kitchen rituals, simply remind them that in order to avoid egg drop soup and create a perfect casserole, for every egg used, you can use equal amounts of milk or cream and still end up with an edible product.

Beginners can rely on good old Bob Evans for a tasty, seasoned breakfast sausage, while those having little problems tying apron strings behind their backs can rely on the addition of green onions, pepper and a little sage that was left over from last Thanksgiving.

A small side of fresh fruit would top off the entree and, God forbid, the opening of a can of fruit cocktail could suffice. Add to that a toasty bagel or whole-wheat English muffin plucked from the toaster and it would warm the heart of Mother Theresa, let alone you.

YOU COULD EVEN tolerate the slathering on of half a stick of butter or margarine knowing, of course, it can easily be scraped off.

The clincher here, of course, should be a needless reminder that should something like this incredible feast be attempted so should some attempt at clean-up. Make sure the kitchen is well stocked with liquid detergent and Soft-Scrub cleanser for the non-stick skillet, stove and countertop.

Better yet, have an additional six kitchen towels strategically placed throughout the kitchen at arm's reach. A hint to drop, while the food is being delivered to your bedside, is: "I'm sure the kitchen was left exactly the way you found it this morning."

Now let's play the devil's advocate. What if your spouse is a dolt who has no idea how to turn the oven on and the kids think that breakfast was contrived by a lady named Aunt Jemima? Simply stock the freezer with an assortment of Great Starts microwave-ready breakfasts. Of course, since it's Mother's Day, you get to choose.

You might even wish to barricade yourself in the bedroom, at least until the folks from Molly Maid have finished.

Most of today's Renaissance kids (and men) would probably welcome the opportunity to pull off something like this. Give them all the help and support they need. As a precautionary measure, you might want to make a reservation at the local breakfast joint. But if they're willing and able, the recipes submitted for your approval are easy, delicious and all can be prepared by anyone with a little love in their hearts. Bon appetit!

Box office hit Homemade meals are just the ticket

By Ethel Simmons
staff writer

Wednesdays are matinee days at the Birmingham Theatre, but that's also a day the box office crew takes turns preparing a special lunch.

The small office next to the box office is where the staff gathers to enjoy the meal that has only one requirement — everything must be homemade.

Chuck Schroder of Rochester Hills, the bar manager, loves to cook and frequently prepares some of the dishes. One recent afternoon he brought in Chicken Enchiladas.

Other times, he has created such things as beef stroganoff — "an old recipe from my mom" — and a nine-layer blueberry torte — "it has about 8,000 calories," he said.

"What did you make today?"

asked the theater's general manager, Charlotte Lally of Birmingham, who was passing through the lobby.

"The best Chicken Enchiladas you've ever had in your life," Schroder said with obvious pride.

Schroder said he learned to cook as a matter of self-survival.

"I picked up recipes from my mom and just over the years trained myself."

He cooks by smell instead of taste. "If the aroma is good, the favor's going to be good."

THAT AFTERNOON, the salad was made by Debbie Denson of Berkley, the box office manager, and Jo-Carroll Mullen of Birmingham, who does the box office and works as head usher for the Wednesday matinee and concession.

Joan Droelle of Redford Township, a part-time box office employee, did the dessert, oatmeal cake.

"It's real simple to make," she said. "I don't use a box cake mix. I can't take it anywhere without everyone wanting the recipe."

The crew from the front of the house invites everyone working on the production to share the food.

"There's more than enough," Denson said.

Wednesday is a long day, from matinee to evening performance.

"We can feed people through all the way to 8 o'clock tonight," Denson said.

SCHRODER MADE enough enchiladas to feed 25 people. Sometimes his dishes can carry over from Wednesday.

"His stroganoff lasted for three days," Denson said.

Chuck Schroder, who made the chicken enchiladas, tops one with sauce heating in a crockpot at the Birmingham Theatre box office lunch Wednesday.

Making enchiladas, Schroder gets help from his roommate.

"I cannot roll an enchilada to beat the band," he said.

The roommate usually alternates rolling a few with reserving one for himself throughout the process.

SCHRODER PAKES the tortillas and filling separately because the food is brought in the night before.

Homemade meals just the ticket at theater and the enchiladas would get soggy. At lunch, each person fills a tortilla. Heats it in the office's microwave oven and tops it with more sauce.

Mark Allen Berg, the lighting director, stopped by the office on his way into the theater. A meal platter was fixed up for him to take to the lighting booth.

Shirley Harris of Detroit, who handles public relations, and Cindy Zeitz of Canton, Harris' assistant, were among others who enjoyed the lunch that day.

EXPLAINING HOW the box office lunches began, Denson said, "Wednesday, with the matinee, we have the most staff around. Everyone is going every which way and, of course, it's very expensive to eat in Birmingham."

The crew has cooked up some easy but interesting meals in its small space.

"A girl brought an electric skillet and we made toasted cheese sandwiches with tomato soup," Denson said.

Another day Mullen brought hot dogs with sauerkraut, chili and onions.

"I packed them in my own Tupperware," Mullen said. Denson added, "We boiled them in the crock-pot — it always stays there (on a low shelf in the office)."

Kathie Norrow, house manager, once brought in a breakfast quiche. Skip Nederlander of the Nederlander family, which operates the Birmingham among other theaters nationwide, also works the box office, and has made quiche as well as pea soup.

The Wednesday lunches started out just with box office people but grew to include everyone involved with the show — except the audience. One day, however, theatergoers who were arriving wanted to know where to buy chili — they could smell it.

CHICKEN ENCHILADAS

For 4 large chicken breasts
(Recipe from Chuck Schroder)

Sauce
2 cans cream of mushroom soup
1 cup milk 1/2 teaspoon dill
1/2 teaspoon tarragon
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1 teaspoon garlic
1 teaspoon lemon pepper
1/2 teaspoon sweet basil
1 teaspoon chili con carne
1/2 stick butter

Heat cream of mushroom soup and milk in saucepan. Bring almost to a boil. Add dill, tarragon, oregano, garlic, lemon pepper, sweet basil, chili con carne. Lower heat and allow to simmer. Add butter, and cover.

4 large sticks celery
1 large green pepper
1 large onion
1 quart fresh mushrooms grated parmesan cheese
4 large, boneless, skinless, chicken breasts 10 tortillas
shredded cheddar cheese

Slice up celery, pepper, onion and mushrooms. Mix the sliced vegetables up well in a large bowl. Place 1/2 of this mixture in a large dutch oven. Pour about 1/2 of the sauce over the vegetables in the dutch oven. Then spread a thin layer of grated parmesan cheese over the sauce and vegetable mixture.

Prepare and wash chicken breasts. Place in dutch oven and cover with another thin layer of cheese. Add the rest of the sliced vegetables, then pour the rest of the sauce over the top. Cover and cook at 350 degrees for 2 hours.

Remove chicken from pot and break it up into small pieces when it has cooled. Place sauce and vegetable mixture on low heat, and thicken with a roux to desired texture. Place chicken pieces on large tortillas, add shredded cheddar cheese, then spread about 2 tablespoons of sauce on top. Roll up in tortilla fashion and cover with sauce. Heat in microwave.

OATMEAL CAKE

(Recipe from Joan Droelle)

1 cup oatmeal
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 cup margarine
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

Soak oatmeal in boiling water and let stand 20 minutes. Cream together margarine, brown and white sugar. Add 2 eggs. Sift flour, cinnamon, soda and salt. Add oatmeal. Mix and bake in greased 9-by-13-inch pan at 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Frost.

Frost: g
1 stick margarine
1/4 cup evaporated milk
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup shredded coconut
1 cup broken nuts

Spread on cake just out of oven. Place under broiler until brown.

BEEF STROGANOFF

(Recipe from Chuck Schroder)

1 1/2 pounds beef tenderloin
1/4 cup butter (or substitute)
1 cup sliced mushrooms
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic minced (or equivalent in garlic powder)
1 can (1 1/2 cups) cream of mushroom soup
1 cup sour cream
1/2 teaspoon dill
1/2 teaspoon sage
1 teaspoon lemon pepper
1/2 teaspoon tarragon
1/2 teaspoon oregano

Cut beef tenderloin into thin strips. Brown well in butter in a heavy skillet. Add mushrooms, onion and garlic. Cook until lightly browned.

Blend in cream of mushroom soup and sour cream. Blend well. Add dill, sage, lemon pepper, tarragon and oregano. Cover and simmer about 1 1/2 hours, or until beef is tender. Serve over rice or egg noodles.

BLUEBERRY TORTE

(Recipe from Chuck Schroder)

4 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup water
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt (optional)
2 cups "fresh" blueberries

Beat eggs at medium speed for about 10 minutes or until they are lemon-colored. Gradually add sugar. Add vanilla and water (combine vanilla and water before adding). Sift in flour, baking powder and salt.

Line six 9-inch layer cake pans with wax paper (pre-cut paper sizes available in most grocery stores), then grease and flour. Divide batter into pans and sprinkle blueberries over the tops. Bake at 375 degrees for 12-15 minutes.

Filling

1 pint whipping cream
1/4 cup confectioner's sugar
1/4 cup Drambuie (or 1 teaspoon vanilla)

Whip cream until thick, adding confectioner's sugar. Add Drambuie. Spread cream between cooled layers, blueberry side up. Ice top layer or sprinkle with confectioner's sugar. Refrigerate before serving.

And be ready for about 9 "gazillion" calories per slice.

Anchovies — you either love or hate them

the Alexander Dumas. The preparation runs something like this:

"Take an olive whose pit you will replace with a slice of anchovy; next, place the olive inside a tart, the tart inside a quail, the quail inside a pheasant and the pheasant inside a turkey, and the turkey inside a suckling pig. Roast the latter for three hours over searing hot coals and throw everything out the window."

"Even the olive?"

"Glutton! Everything except the anchovy!"
Bon appetit!

ANCHOVY SUEDOISE (from Larousse Gastronomique)

1 ounce anchovy fillets
1 cup tart red apples, cubed
1 cup cooked beets, cubed oil vinegar
salt and pepper to taste

Arrange the anchovy fillets on a foundation of salad composed of apples and beets. Sprinkle with a vinaigrette comprised of the oil, vinegar, salt and pepper.

CAESAR SALAD DRESSING

3 anchovies
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tablespoon dijon-styled mustard the juice of 1/4 fresh lemon dash Worcestershire
1 coddled egg
1/4 cup olive oil
4 tablespoons wine-flavored vinegar

In a large wooden salad bowl, mash anchovy fillets with garlic. Stir in mustard, lemon juice, Worcestershire and mix well. Beat in coddled egg. Add vinegar and mix well. Slowly pour in olive oil, beating constantly. Store in a covered container until ready to use. Keep refrigerated.

Breakfast in bed makes day special

SIMPLE MIMOSAS

1 plastic juicer
2 soup bowls
6 oranges, halved
1 split (8-ounce) champagne

Place plastic juicer over the soup bowl. Grabbing half an orange, press firmly over juicer, turning hand left and right to squeeze out the juice. Pour juice halfway up a tall glass, top with champagne.

SAUSAGE STRATA CASSEROLE

1 oblong cake pan or casserole dish (approximately 8-by-11 inches)
Nonstick spray (Pam) or 2 tablespoons margarine
8 slices whole-grain bread or English muffins
8 eggs
1 cup milk or cream

1 pound precooked breakfast sausage, chopped
1 cup grated swiss or cheddar cheese
salt and pepper to taste

Spray or grease the casserole dish. Set aside. Tear bread or muffins into bite-sized pieces and place in the bottom of the casserole dish. Set aside. Combine eggs with milk or cream and mix well. Set aside. Crumble cooked breakfast sausage over bread in casserole. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Pour egg mixture over all in casserole slowly. Place in a 350-degree oven and bake, uncovered, for 30 minutes.

DAIRY DESSERT

Stroh's Light Frozen Dairy Dessert has been introduced in the Detroit area. It contains 100-130 calories per four-ounce serving and is 93 percent fat-free. The flavor is available at supermarkets and Stroh's Ice Cream parlors in half-gallon square packages in eight flavors — chocolate, vanilla, french vanilla, butter pecan, chocolate raspberry, heavenly hash, neapolitan, and peach almondine. Stroh's also plans to introduce a frozen yogurt line sometime this summer.

FRUIT MOOS

Dannon has a new product in the dairy case. It's Fruit Moos, an all-natural soft, fresh cheese blended with real fruit and eaten with a spoon. It is formulated especially for kids, in four flavors — strawberry, banana, raspberry and apricot — and comes in a 1.7-ounce cup. A four-pack of Fruit Moos has three times as much milk as regular yogurt and as much protein as a three-ounce steak.

- Sift 2 cups flour and 2 cups sugar together into large bowl. In a saucepan, put 1 stick margarine, 1/2 cup shortening (Wesson oil), 4 tablespoons cocoa and 1 cup water. Bring this mixture to a boil and pour over flour-sugar mixture. Stir well. Then add:
- 1/4 C. Buttermilk
- 2 Eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 Tsp. soda
- 1 Tsp. cinnamon
- 1 Tsp. vanilla

Mix well. Pour into a greased pan, either 18x11 inches or 16 1/2 x 10 1/2 inch cookie sheet. Bake 20 minutes in 400° oven.

Icing: Melt together and bring to a boil, 1 stick margarine, 4 tablespoons cocoa, 6 tablespoons milk. Remove from heat and add 1 box sifted confectioners sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 1 cup chopped nuts. Wesson oil makes a lighter cake. Start icing when cake is put into oven. Icing and cake both must be hot to spread.

- 3. Serve over rice. Makes 4 servings.

LUAU RIBS

The best and moistest ribs I've ever tasted! Serve six as a main course or 12 as an appetizer.

- 6 pounds spare ribs, baby back
- 1 cup soy sauce
- 1/4 cup water
- 1/4 cup sherry
- 1/4 cup pineapple juice
- 1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1/2 clove of garlic, minced
- 6 thin slices of gingerroot

If preparing as an appetizer, have the butcher saw the ribs in half and divide into 3- or 4-rib sections. If preparing as a main course, separate the whole ribs into serving size pieces.

Simmer 30 minutes in salted water to cover. Drain. Combine remaining ingredients for 2-3 hours. Remove ribs from marinade. Pour marinade into a small sauce pan and heat.

Gill ribs by indirect heat method for charcoal, by indirect heat method for gas (low heat) for about 45 minutes. Baste with marinade.

This recipe came from a beautiful grandmother on the island of Molokai. Hope you enjoy them as much as we do.

Chargers win sleet-shortened relays

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Livonia Churchill coach Fred Price instructed his track athletes to score early in the Observerland Relays and have the Chargers in contention at the end.

He just never expected the end to come as soon as it did.

When snow and sleet covered the Churchill track and infield halfway through the meet Saturday night, officials decided to cancel the remaining six events, and the Chargers were crowned champions for the eighth time in the 19-year history of the relays.

In winning its first Observerland title since 1985, Churchill scored 54 points in nine of the first 10 events and had an 11-point lead over Westland John Glenn when the meet was stopped. The top five included Redford Catholic Central, defending champion Wayne Memorial and 1987 winner Plymouth Salem.

"We'll gladly take the trophy," Price said, "but we would like to have it under the full terms so it wouldn't be tainted or have an asterisk next to it."

"IT'S A GOOD ending because you're ahead," he added, "but it's disappointing because there were a lot of exciting events still to come."

Despite the unusual turn of events — it was the first time the meet had been cut short by foul weather — the Chargers fully expected to be among the contenders for the duration.

Jason Belaire had Churchill's lone first place, winning the 110-meter high hurdles in 14.7 and tying the record held by Paul Bialowicz (Bishop Borgess) and Mike White (Salem).

But the Chargers scored in all of the field events and were runners-up in the discus, shot put and high jump relays, third in the pole vault and fifth in the long jump. Belaire also had the best individual high jump at 6-4.

The only event Churchill didn't score in was the distance medley. The Chargers were fourth in the last two events to be contested — the 800 relay and open 1,600 in which Scott Westover placed.

"It would have been exciting to see who could have gotten hold of us," Price said, adding he thought Churchill was capable of maintaining its lead in the remaining events.

"WE FELT WE would be able to score in all but the sprint medley. A

JIM JAGDFELD/staff photographer

Jason Belaire of Livonia Churchill (second from right) tied an Observerland Relays record in winning the 110-meter high hurdles in 14.7 seconds Saturday night. Salem's Roger Parry (far right) was third. The other hurdlers are Pierre Hixon of Wayne and Jeff Sebeck of Catholic Central. Churchill was declared the meet winner when the relays were halted after 10 of the scheduled 16 events. Snow and sleet covered the track at 8:25 p.m.

lot of those speed teams cut each other up.

"Once we got the start we did, scoring with only two pole vaulters, we said 'Hey, we're going to be in this thing,'" he added.

Churchill's points in the pole vault came from Brian Kert, who had the individual best at 11-6, and Troy Henderson. The high jump has always been a team strength, with Belaire, Mike Picha and Scott Malcomson doing it this year.

The results of the shot put (Scott Porter, Kurt Roth and Jeff Bristow) and long jump (Mark Venuto, Trent Naumcheff and Picha) provided unexpected bonuses for Churchill.

The team's fourth places in the early running events were the work of Naumcheff, Belaire, Venuto and Chris Muzo in the 800 and Westover, Don Kulka, Chris Sepanski and Steve Townsend in the 6,400.

"Those aren't blue-ribbon things, but those are the things that add up," Price said. "That's always been a Churchill trademark, not necessarily winning but getting points. That's why this team is built on depth."

GLENN COULD only wonder about what might have been. The Rockets also fared well early in the meet, scoring in six of 10 events and winning the high jump and distance medley.

As for Glenn coach Richard Gordon, the record book might indicate co-winners for the 1989 meet — and the other isn't the Rockets.

"Mother Nature wins this one," Gordon said. "It's too bad it can't be rescheduled, but getting the officials and timers back is a chore in itself. A meet isn't over until the mile relay. At least we didn't get clobbered."

Glenn runner Steve Wiseley wasn't as gracious in accepting the outcome and decision not to reschedule.

"Churchill wouldn't have had a chance," he said. "They were done (when the sleet started to fall). They

Officials decided not to continue Saturday night because of the risk it would pose for the athletes, and it was not rescheduled because of commitments by various team to other meets on upcoming weekends.

Wiseley combined with teammates David Ryan and Greg Anderson to win the high jump, edging Churchill and CC. Anderson led the Rockets with a leap of 6-2.

ANDERSON AND Ryan also were on the winning medley relay team, which included Carl Lowe and Jim Zurawski. The Rockets and Plymouth Canton were even with one lap to go, but Ryan showed an excellent kick over the last 100 meters and won going away.

Wayne was minus some of its athletes who went to Cedar Point on another school function, but the Zebras managed to win the long jump and 800 relay.

Dureyah Tatum had the best long jump at 21-¼ and teamed with Marlon Nelson and Allen Buford to beat out Glenn for first place. Buford, Demetrice Welch, Dave Rodriguez and Carlos Horne covered the 800 meters in 1:31.27.

Catholic Central's foursome of Dave Galvin, Chris Antczak, Jeff Fedewa and Mike Sheridan captured first place in the 6,400 relay, and North Farmington's Jason Kocembo won the open 1,600, which ended just as the sleet began to fall at 8:25 p.m.

Redford Union's Chris Woodbeck, Mike Bianchi and Eric Sheppard comprised the top pole vault team as each made 11 feet. Sheppard also had the best discus throw at 105-1, but Northville was the team winner in that event.

Farmington Hills Harrison was a medal winner in the shot put. Tony Shaleb led the Hawks with an individual best of 47-3¼ and was supported by teammates Cres Gove and Blazo Sarcevic.

Pitching, defense key Canton's 2-1 victory

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Stacey Thompson has been a long-time admirer of Amy Freimund's pitching.

As a pitcher herself, she can appreciate what the Northville ace does on the mound, but it was Thompson's turn to take a bow Friday after she outdueled her quasi-idol.

The Plymouth Canton junior tossed a four-hitter as the Chiefs achieved a much-needed victory against the Western Division-leading Mustangs at Centennial Educational Park, 2-1.

Thompson, who struck out four and walked three, held Northville hitless over the last three innings. Freimund allowed only two hits, but her defense was not as sharp and she made four errors. She had four strikeouts and also walked three.

"I've always watched the way Amy pitches," Thompson said. "I've tried to model myself after her. She's just incredible."

THOMPSON PROVED a formidable opponent herself. After she scored the winning run in the bottom of the sixth, Thompson shut the door on Northville in the seventh.

"The adrenaline was starting to flow," she said. "I just wanted to throw strikes and make them hit the ball. They have a great team when it comes to the last, tough innings."

The defensive support Thompson received was crucial. The Chiefs played the better overall team game, making only one error for which they quickly atoned, and produced big plays in the field when needed.

In this game, Thompson could appreciate the work of her teammates more so than the opposing pitcher.

softball

'The two errors our second baseman made hurt us, but I don't want to make excuses. If I don't have the team ready to play, that's my fault. We got beat by a better team.'

— Bob Gerlach
Northville softball coach

"That was the biggest factor," she said. "They were out there supporting me, getting in front of the ball and helping their team."

With the Chiefs holding a 2-1 lead heading into the Northville seventh, Canton right fielder Rhonda Kibliko made two catches on the run in short left-center that kept the Mustangs from mounting a rally.

"RHONDA IS doing her job out there," Thompson said. "She was moved from center to right, and I don't think she was too happy about it. But she's coming in and playing the game like it's supposed to be played."

Mary George had one of Canton's two hits, but hers was an important one as it scored Thompson from second base with the tie-breaking run in the bottom of the sixth. Thompson had reached base with two outs when the Northville second baseman, covering first on the bunt, failed to catch the ball.

The Mustangs were without their regular second baseman, Sue LaPrad, who was attending a wedding, but Northville coach Bob Gerlach chose to credit the Chiefs for winning the game.

"The two errors our second baseman made hurt us, but I don't want to make excuses," he said. "If I don't have the team ready to play, that's my fault. We got beat by a better team."

The victory was necessary for the Chiefs, who were upset 6-5 by Walled Lake Western in an 11-inning game Wednesday, to remain a contender in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Northville is 6-1 in the division, 8-2 in the league and 11-3 overall. The Chiefs, now 12-6 on the season, pulled within a game of the Mustangs at 5-2 in the division and 7-3 in the WLAA.

"WE HAD TO have it," Canton coach Dave Racer said. "We're out of the running if we don't have it."

With pitchers like Freimund and Thompson opposing each other, Gerlach and Racer anticipated a low-scoring, pitching-dominated contest.

Racer was most impressed by the few walks allowed by Thompson, who was giving up six or seven per game at the start of the season.

"She's really been coming down on those," Racer said. "I think it's more concentration in the game. That's definitely important when you get in the big games."

Thompson didn't try to do too much or outfinease the Mustangs, enabling the Canton defense to be a part of the game, also.

"I knew if I threw the strikes the defense could do their job," she said. "They're the ones who keep me in the game."

Blanchard baffles Raiders in 11-1 win

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Howie Blanchard's fastball might not do much damage to a pane of glass, so that's why he throws a variety of pitches.

The Plymouth Salem senior talked about his repertoire moments after his 11-1, complete-game victory Wednesday over visiting North Farmington.

Blanchard has become the ace of coach John Gravin's staff, tossing three complete games and recording a 4-1 record.

Salem is 7-4 overall and 6-1 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association after beating Walled Lake Central 12-3 Friday.

"I THROW A fastball, split finger, curve, slow curve and sidearm," Blanchard said. "I just throw a variety of pitches, because I can't blow it by anyone. I'm not the biggest heater in the world."

"I had a feeling I'd be the guy to throw the season opener, and my goal was to keep that status and not become the No. 3 man. I want to stay where I'm at."

North starter Tim McEvilly gave up four runs in the first four innings and was chased in the fifth inning when Salem scored eight more, sending 12 batters to the plate.

McEvilly surrendered eight hits and eight runs over 4 1/2 innings, and his replacement, Paul Anders, lasted only one third of an inning as three of the four batters he faced reached base.

Jeff Rejc got the final out of the inning and pitched the rest of the game for North, but by then the outcome had been decided.

J.P. LAROCHE, Dennis Hanson and Eric Sheehan scored two runs each for Salem. Sheehan had three hits, including a first-inning, two-run homer, but the real damage came in the fifth. Dave Makowiec, who had two hits, tripled to highlight the seven-run fifth. Sheehan, Tom Noonan and Scott Niemiec collected single RBI for Salem in the fifth.

"I've been extremely pleased with our defense and the way we've swung the bats," Gravin said. "In 10 games, I've had only one where our defense let me down and one where our offense fell asleep. Our biggest problem this year has been pitching, except when Howie has been on the mound."

"He always throws strikes. If you play defense behind a guy who throws strikes, you'll be successful. He has five different pitches and changes speeds on each of them."

Blanchard had North (5-10 overall) hitters baffled, though the Raiders managed seven hits and Jack Herberholz scored the game's first run on a first-inning RBI single from Jerry Hakala.

HAKALA REACHED third base in the third inning when the Raiders bunched consecutive singles together, but no other Raider got as far as second the rest of the game. Blanchard struck out seven batters, walked only one and hit a batter.

Joe Sturtz, who came into the game with a .593 average and a .747 on-base percentage for North, was 0-for-3.

"He's not very fast, but he really changes his pitches up," North coach Irv Horwitz said. "Our guys were all over the place. Our good hitters, guys like Sturtz, those guys just didn't hit the ball."

Horwitz was discouraged by the loss and confused about the direction his team is heading. The Raiders knocked off Plymouth Canton last month and Westland John Glenn on Friday — two of Observerland's best teams — so he knows they have potential.

"We left eight players on base with less than two outs, and we had our chances but couldn't get the big hits," Horwitz said. "The one inning hurt us, but they (Salem) hit the ball well. It was all over but the shouting. I know we're a better team than an 11-1 loss."

Lake's timely hit opens floodgate

With two out and two runners aboard, and the game tied 2-2, Tim Lake slugged a double to put Plymouth Salem's baseball team ahead 4-2 and get the Rocks rolling toward a 12-3 rout of Walled Lake Central Friday at Central.

Lake collected three runs batted in on two hits in the game. Salem struck for seven runs in the final three innings and 11 in the last five, with Tom Noonan tripling in two in the three-run fifth (he had two hits in the game) and Eric Sheehan doubling in two more in the three-run sixth (he also had two hits).

Brian Rudolph contributed three hits to Salem's effort, and J.P. LaRoche added two hits and scored three runs. Scott Rodgers went the distance to collect the pitching win for the Rocks, giving up two earned runs on six hits and three walks, striking out seven.

Bob Trusty was the losing pitcher for the Vikings; he lasted five innings, surrendering eight runs.

Salem improved to 7-4 overall with the victory, 7-3 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Northville's Amy Freimund slides into second base before Canton's Beth Racer can get a handle on the throw and attempt a putout Friday. The Chiefs won the important WLAA contest 2-1 to stay in title contention.

"I tend to get my head mixed up, and they talk me back into the game. It's just like a big family out there. If somebody gets down, somebody gets you back up."

The Chiefs took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Northville made half of its errors. Kibliko reached base on a two-out error, stole second and third and scored when the shortstop bobbled a ground ball off Thompson's bat.

THOMPSON LEFT runners stranded at third in the first two innings, but the Mustangs tied the score on Jenny Juhasz's two-out double in the fourth.

Northville threatened in the sixth when Melanie Apligian walked and Lauren Cannistraro reached on an error, but the Chiefs got out of the wild inning without any damage.

Third baseman Karen Keenan gunned down Apligian at third after Thompson wisely covered the base on the Cannistraro play. Thompson threw out Cannistraro at third when Laura Apligian hit into a fielder's choice and catcher Jennifer Clark picked off the Apligian at first base.

"In my opinion, Canton is the best team we've played so far," Gerlach said. "and we've even played (Milford) Lakeland, the No. 3 team in the state. I've known Dave Racer a long time, and I knew he'd have his team ready."

N'wood ends Madonna streak

A season of struggle for Madonna College's baseball team turned the corner toward success when the Fighting Crusaders won eight consecutive games to improve to 12-11. However, their winning record was short-lived; Northwood Institute swept a double-header, 6-0 and 14-1, from them last Tuesday.

Freshman righthander Shaun Hayward was the losing pitcher in the opener, but only one of the six runs he allowed was earned. In the nightcap, Greg St. John didn't make it through the third inning. He left with the Crusaders trailing 6-0. Pitching woes were only part of the problem in the losses; Madonna managed just six hits in the two games, four by Ernie Bowling (in five at-bats).

"The eight-straight wins had helped our confidence quite a bit," said Madonna coach Mike George. "I expected our guys to come in pumped up (against Northwood), but nothing went right for us. We had been playing good defense, and we had been pitching well, until this."

On April 29, Madonna swept Grand Rapids Baptist 4-0 and 9-2 at Livonia's Ford Field. Freshman lefthander Mike Hocking hurled a one-hitter in the opening victory, allowing only a single on the first pitch of the game. The victory improved Hocking's record to 4-1.

In the second game, freshman righthander John Regan — who had been out a month with a sore shoulder — got the pitching win to even his record at 1-1.

The Crusaders finish their season with a double-header today at Alma and a 2 p.m. twinbill Tuesday against Kalamazoo College at Ford Field.

Marlins sweep Ladywood

Farmington Hills Mercy avenged a pair of softball defeats Friday by sweeping a double-header from host Livonia Ladywood, 2-1 and 3-1, as pitcher Amy Edward hurled a combined six-hitter.

The Marlins, who lost a double-header last month at home to Ladywood, improved to 9-7 in the Catholic League and 17-10 overall. Edward fanned 17 Ladywood batters, including 10 in the first game.

Ladywood's league mark dipped to 11-5, and the Blazers are 12-6 overall. Pitcher Shannon White suffered both losses.

Mercy took a 3-0 lead after two innings of Game 2, and Edward did her part, allowing only four hits and a single run in the bottom of the sixth.

Jenny Gondeck was 1-for-3 and scored one run in the nightcap, and Kerry Sayers had one RBI for the Marlins. Dana Domanski drove in the lone Ladywood run with a triple.

In the first game, Edward surrendered only two hits on the mound, collected two hits and two RBIs and scored a run. She had the game-winning hit — a two-run homer after Sayers had walked for a 2-0 lead in the fourth inning.

Julie Wilson scored Ladywood's only run in the first game, crossing the plate on a single by Krista Campeau in the fifth. White struck out nine Mercy hitters in the twinbill, walked five and gave up 11 hits, including eight in the second game.

W.L. CENTRAL 6, SALEM 2: The losses are beginning to wear on Plymouth Salem coach Rob Willette, who watched his team lose another game Friday at Lakes Division-leading Walled Lake Central.

The Rocks, contenders last year in the division, fell to 4-7 in the WLAA, 5-8 overall. Salem collected only four hits, and the last 12 batters were retired in order to end the game.

"We didn't even put up a battle after the third," Willette said. "We hit three or four balls hard all day. I can barely take it. There's no excuse to lose as many as we have."

The Rocks travelled to North Farmington Wednesday and came home losers by a 10-5 count.

Debbie Weintraub picked up the win for North. Chris August suffered the loss for Salem, and her stint lasted only 2 1/2 innings. North scored six of its runs off August, who walked six Raiders.

Kris Bradley and Missy Holmes had three hits apiece for Salem, but the rest of the team managed only a combined three hits. Holmes drove in three runs and Bradley scored twice.

JOHN GLENN 6, N. FARMINGTON 3: Westland John Glenn, a game behind Lakes Division leading Walled Lake Central, improved to 6-1 and 11-2 overall with its win Friday over North Farmington.

The Rockets and Vikings will decide the regular-season division title Wednesday at Walled Lake Central.

Jenny Massey scattered five hits and allowed only one earned run in posting the win. Debbie Weintraub suffered the loss as she went the distance without walking a batter.

Kristin Beeneey was 2-for-3, delivering a bases-loaded double with two outs in the fifth inning that cleared the bases. Tracy Martin contributed two hits for Glenn.

On Wednesday, Weintraub pitched the Raiders to a 10-5 win over visiting Plymouth Salem. It was North's fifth win in six games.

Amy Fletcher was 2-for-4 with a pair of RBIs, and Amy Post had an RBI single and collected another RBI on a groundout for the Raiders, who overcame five fielding errors.

"We've got to cut down on our throwing errors," North coach Dave Brubaker said. "We've got the arms; we're just a little wild at times."

Kris Bradley and Missy Holmes had three hits each for Salem.

Canton passes WLAA test

Plymouth Canton relied heavily on its Amy duo of Van Buhler and Smith to remain unbeaten in dual meets Thursday.

Each girl won two events and Smith anchored a winning relay team as the Chiefs, 2-0 in the Western Division and 3-0 overall, whipped visiting Livonia Churchill 87-41.

Canton is the defending Western Lakes Activities Association and division champion, and the Chargers, now 0-2 in the division, were runner-ups in the league last year.

"We were really pointing for this meet," Canton coach George Przygodski said. "We thought they would be one of the teams in the hunt for the Western Division title, and we knew we'd have to run well if we wanted to be one of the teams in that hunt."

Smith won the 800- and 1,600-meter runs and ran the final leg of the 3,200 relay, which included Lori Penland, Adrienne Garrow and Erica Carson. Van Buhler was a double winner in the hurdles.

"Amy Smith had an outstanding day," Przygodski said. "She's a ninth grader who ran her best time in the 800 with a 2:30.5 — and that after running a leg of the 3,200 relay and the open 1,600 before that. She also had an excellent time in the 1,600."

"Another person who had an outstanding day was Amy Van Buhler. She was third in the long jump, and both hurdle times were her best of the season."

girls track

"We build our program around our seniors, and she came through like a true senior leader today," he added.

Smith ran the 1,600 in 5:52, and the relay team was clocked at 10:40.1. Van Buhler's hurdle times were 17.2 for 100 meters and 49.3 for 300 meters. She was third behind in the long jump behind teammate Kristina Kozuch, a sophomore who won that event at 15 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

Canton's Ifoema Okwumabua won the shot put at 31-0 1/4, and Marnie Smith captured first place in the discus at 90- 1/4. In other running events, Sandy Sherwin broke the tape in the 100 dash with a 13.8 time, and Cindy Spessard won the 3,200 run in 12:52.6.

The Chiefs dominated the relays, also winning the 400 and 1,600 races. Kristy Brugar, Okwumabua, Charlene McPaul and Sherwin won the 400 in 54.8, and the foursome of Monica Pellow, Ellisa LaBelle, Jennifer Hartke and Michelle Gudeth combined to do the 1,600 in 4:31.9.

Churchill's Charlotte Garry won the high jump (5-0), Stacey Rokicsak the 200 dash (29.1) and Ayissa Belaire the 400 run (1:03.8). The Chargers won the 800 relay in 1:53.2.

PLYMOUTH SALEM suffered its first dual-meet defeat Thursday when Livonia Stevenson handed the Rocks a 74-55 setback. The teams split the individual first places, but the host Spartans won three of the relays.

Stevenson, 2-0 in the Lakes Division, won the recent Lady Chief Relays and is a strong contender for Canton's league title. Salem is 1-1 in the Lakes and 3-1 overall.

In the field events, Salem had the two best jumpers. Jennifer Harris won the high jump at 4-9 and Kim Ploucha the long jump at 15-1.

Salem sprinters Tracey Livermore and Nikki Wygonik won the 100 and 200 dashes in 13.9 and 28.5, respectively. The Rocks also excelled in the longer runs as Traci Thomas took first in the 1,600 at 5:50 and Tammy Hickey the 3,200 in 12:23.4. Salem's relay victory came in the 400 in which the Rocks had a 53.2 time.

Stevenson's Jessan Martin and Lisa Christensen were double winners. Martin won the shot put (33-5 1/4) and discus (115-8), Christensen the 100 hurdles in 17.1 and the 300 hurdles in 49.8. Spartan teammates Jeanne Magoulick and Tracy Clark won the 400 and 800 runs in 1:04.9 and 2:32.8, respectively.

Magoulick, Christensen, Tina Gelmsi and Jennifer Petree won the 800 relay in 1:52.6, Magoulick, Christensen, Clark and Nicole Todd captured the 1,600 relay in 4:19.3 and Jennifer Knapp, Suzanne Moore, Clark and Jennifer Pfander prevailed in the 3,200 relay at 10:42.9.

Parry paces Salem boys rout

Plymouth Salem, led by four-event winner Roger Parry, rebounded from its only dual-meet defeat to rout Livonia Stevenson 75-62 Thursday in the Lakes Division.

The Rocks, who were beaten by division-leading Westland John Glenn the previous week, are 1-1 in the Lakes and 3-1 overall.

Parry was the meet's standout, winning the high jump (5-10), the long jump (19-7 1/4) and both hurdles. He ran the high hurdles in 15.13 and the intermediate hurdles in 41.27.

"Roger just had another great day," Salem coach Gary Balconi said. "He won the long jump on his last jump and had personal bests in both hurdles."

"We were hoping to rest Roger a little bit today, but as you see by the score we couldn't. He'll get his day (to rest), but it won't be soon" since the Rocks are heading into the meet of the schedule.

Salem teammate Steve Burlison was a double winner in the sprints, taking the 100 dash (11.26) and the 200 dash (23.99). He also anchored the Rocks' only winning relay team. Matt Perron, Mike Albertson, Randy Fill and Burlison were clocked at 1:34.6 for 800 meters.

Salem's other first places went to Don Parrish in the shot put, 43-9 1/4; Joe Pawluka in the 400 run, 53.38; and Scott Stryker in the 800 run, 2:08.34.

Stevenson's individual wins came from Scott Freeborn, who finished the 1,600 run in 4:43.8 and the 3,200 in 10:28.27, and Joe Shymanski, who threw the discus 126-10.

The Rocks take on Plymouth Canton in the annual Mangan Meet at Centennial Educational Park Tuesday. The field events begin at 4:30 p.m. the running events at 6 p.m. Admission is $2 for adults, $1 for students.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL dealt Canton its first dual-meet loss Thursday, 93-44. The Chiefs are 1-1 in the Western Division and 2-1 overall, the host Chargers 2-0 and 4-2.

Churchill got a pair of wins from Jeff Bristow, Ryan Polny and Trent Naumcheff.

Bristow won the shot put (42-2 1/4) and the discus (145-10), Polny the 110 hurdles (16.0) and 300 hurdles (42.8) and Naumcheff the 100 dash (11.7) and 200 dash (23.6).

Jason Belaire, Brian Kert and Matt Sweeney had the other individual victories for Churchill, and three of the four relay races went to the Chargers.

Belaire cleared 6-2 to win the high jump, Kert had the meet's best pole vault, clearing 10-0, and Sweeney finished the 800 run in 2:08.6.

Chris Muza was an anchor member of two of the winning relay teams. He teamed with Andy Abela, Andy Spaccarotella and Jim Stryock to win the 400 relay in 46.1, while Naumcheff, Mark Venuto, Belaire and Muza won the 800 relay in 1:35.9. Churchill's other winning relay team — Don Kuika, Jeff Martus, Sweeney and Jeff Grossman — clocked 8:43.8 to win the 3,200 race.

Brian Beach had two of Canton's four individual wins, placing first in the 1,600 run (4:46.6) and the 3,200 run (10:20.9).

Eric Miller and Ron Staples were the Chiefs' other winners, earning first places in the long jump (18-11 1/4) and 400 dash (52.7), respectively.

SWIMMING AWARDS

The Plymouth-Canton Cruiser Swim Club concluded its season last month with an awards banquet. Individual honors were presented to swimmers in three categories.

The 4-D Award — given to those whose attitudes reflect desire, determination, dedication and dependability — was extended to the following: 8-under, Jim McLennaghan and Angela Frost; 9-10, Matthew Kowalski and Amy Sonnanstine; 11-12, Paul Magoulick and Kelley Larsen; 13-14, Mark Erickson and Kristin Stackpoole.

Earning the Achievement Award were: 8-under, Robert Frayer and Julie Knecht; 9-10, Russell LaForte and Melissa Goff; 11-12, David Bracht and Mandi Ras; 13-14, Albert Sneath and Carrie VanderWeele.

The Most Improved Award for each division went to: 8-under, Kevin Crabill and Megan McHenry; 9-10, Kyle Petroskey and Tina Compton; 11-12, Shimpei Yashizaki and Stacey Setter; 13-14, Brett Petroskey and Amy Homan.

The Plymouth-Canton Cruisers Swim Club began its spring session last week, and the summer session is scheduled to begin Monday, June 19. All interested swimmers should call 459-6074.

A couple of different theories on fat cells

Dear Myrna: Are there different kinds of fat? Do fat people have different fat cells than thin people?

First of all, let me clarify the fact I am not an expert as it relates to questions regarding "fat." When I receive questions regarding fat, quite often I research the answers.

You ask if fat people have a different fat than thin people. Not sure! Let's go back to the basics.

The only theory, until recently, was that a person acquired a set number of fat cells early in life, and that the number and types of cells helped determine whether that person would be fat or thin.

Now an added theory tells us that throughout life we may acquire an increased number of fat cells, especially during periods of weight gain. Yet, regardless of when fat cells appear, they are with us for life. Once they are filled with stored fat, they work to stay filled.

In other words, a fat cell may shrink when you diet, but when you assume eating normally, that cell will strive again to regain its former capacity. This may explain why you tend to regain lost weight after a reducing diet, even though you may eat fewer calories than before.

NOW ABOUT question about different types of fat cells.

Animal studies show there is such a thing. It is called the brown fat theory and relates to middle age weight gain.

It is based on the fact that we have two types of fatty tissue. One is white fat, which is effective in storing calories, and the other is brown fat, which tends to burn calories producing body heat. In animals, brown fat plays a significant role in heat production by converting calories into heat rather than storing them as fat.

Not much is known about the role of brown fat in humans, but some researchers believe that overweight adults may not have as much of it as thin people and that adults have less brown fat than babies and children.

Genetics is also believed to play a major role in determining whether a person is fat or thin. It is well known that obesity runs in families, although it is unclear whether this is due to genetics or to the fact that family members have similar eating habits. I think more studies show the strong genetic tie.

Perhaps with a few more years of study, scientists will understand brown and white fat cells more clearly — we hope to our benefit. Can you imagine adjusting your fat cells to just the body type you desire? You never know!

Injury-riddled Canton blanks N. Farmington

All schedules have hails, and the full in Plymouth Canton's soccer schedule could not have come at a more appropriate time.

The Chiefs blanked North Farmington Wednesday 5-0, thanks to three goals and an assist from Shannon Meath, and then had a week off before meeting a weak Farmington Harrison side Wednesday and non-league foe Trenton Thursday.

What made the break welcome was a rash of injuries to defenders. "We've got a couple of girls hurt," said Canton coach Don Smith, whose team improved to 7-1 with the win over North. "But good teams cover up for each other, and if we're going to be a good team, that's what we'll have to do."

Senior defender Lisa Dean tore knee ligaments against North and is lost for the season. Sophomore defender Erin Morgan was injured in the game against Livonia Stevenson, but is expected back this week.

In the win over North, Jenny Russell and Jenny Steinhebel added goals, with Russell getting an assist. Sonya Malichassian and Trish Greenhalge also collected assists for the Chiefs.

Michelle Fortier was in goal for the shutout. North slipped to 2-6-2 with the loss.

Anderson has Country buzzing

IT WAS A SHINY, green bowling ball marked "10," and Lorraine Anderson had just taken it out of the gutter.

She had it plugged and drilled to fit better, but little did she realize when she stepped on the lane to try the "10" in league play that she would finally realize her first perfect game. Not only did Anderson bowl the first 300 game by a woman at Country Lanes, she struck in each of her first 17 frames over two games. Her scoring block was an amazing 300, 217 and 180 to total out at 697 for her series.

All of her bowling friends call her "Lori" after accomplishing this feat in the Noon Classic League on April 27.

Lori has been one of the best women bowlers in this area as she keeps busy between being a homemaker in Plymouth to instructing kids and adult women bowlers at West Bloomfield Lanes. The Anderson family is a bowling family and Lori started at the age of seven in the Bantam Leagues at Farmington Lanes.

The seventh annual Michigan State YABA Tournament concluded recently in Grand Rapids. Many of the area's finest youth bowlers ventured there to compete in the singles, doubles and team events. The information is not complete, and winning players have yet to be announced, so the information will come out in the next couple weeks. Early reports indicate these kids bowled real well and there should be some nice scores to report to our readers.

In the Bel-Aire senior house league, Diggers Office Supply (3,143) won the final roll-off over the first-half winner, Right Approach Pro Shop (3,923). The champs had Bob Parker with a 250 and Larry Basham finished at 256 in a 1,191 series. Parker totaled 704 and Basham 609. The pair also won the doubles with their combined total of 1,403. Other scores included: Berry Van Dike, 703; Lynn Lewis, 676; Terry Chase, 658; Daryl Rollins, 671; Bill Diedrich, 656; and Jerry Lash, 674.

At Country Lanes, Jim Hamlin had his best outing of the season in the Monday night junior house league, firing a 702 series and 276 game. Jim really should bowl well here, after all, he owns the place. In the Greenfield Mixed League, last Friday Chuck O'Rourke led the way with a 266 game and 675 set. Mike Stefani shot a 626 series; Linda Axline, 540; Gayle Prieskorn, 558; and Caroline Schaefer, 549.

Marit-Bowl in Livonia had the Last Weekenders League come on big with Jim Dost posting a 738 series on games of 246, 256 and 234, while John Chudyk added a 713 series.

In the Golden Eagles, Dave Tome registered a 781 series with games of 277, 237 and 277. Mark Rosenthal scored a 688 series and Mike Swartz fired a 701 series including a 269 game.

In the L.E.A. League, Mike Surdyk produced a 738 series on a block of 268, 235 and 245. In the Wednesday Nite senior house league, Ted Kress combined his 655 set with doubles partner Angelo Camerelli at 645 for a 1300 block and second place in the winner's circle.

At Redford Lanes, the West Side Lutheran League fired a 682 series. Thursday Flyers featured Linda Simmons with a 244 game. In the senior house league, Mike Hitchcock hammered out a 702 series, Ken Bashars, 692; John Pango, 693; Art Kapetansky, 737; George Bird, 768; Dick Shoupe, 684; and Jeff Morris, 679.

In the Battle of the Sexes league at Westland Bowl, Tina Barber reigned supreme with a 665 series including a 286 game. In the Thursday 175 and Under League, Dale Trembley was 126 pins over his average with a 284 game.

The spring leagues are now forming with a 40-team men's trio starting Thursdays, beginning May 18. There are still some openings for the Tuesday 8 p.m. mixed summer league and the 8 p.m. Wednesday Ladies League.

At Super Bowl Lanes on Ford Road in Canton, the Wayne Assembly League featured Dennis Russell rolling games of 245, 175 and 211 for a 631 series. Doug Bandy also hit 631, with 194, 234 and 203. The ladies were just smashing in the Super Stars as Sue rolls perfect game

Lewke cranked out a 691 set with games of 176, 256 and 259. Kris Barbour scored 605; Eleanor Blazaitis, 643; and Diana Good pitched a 622 series.

Looking ahead to next fall, the Northwest Men's Classic League will be forming at Cloverlanes on Schoolcraft Road in Livonia. They will be shooting for a $20,000 first-place prize based on 24 teams, with another $5,000 added. The league engages in battle on Fridays beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Need a few extra dollars? Scorekeepers are needed at Woodland Lanes for the Champion of Champions tournament. The dates are: Tuesday, May 9; Wednesday, May 10; Thursday, May 11; Monday, May 15 and Sunday, June 4 with starting time at 7 p.m. If you can keep score accurately and are available, call Woodland Lanes at 522-4515.

college sports

Henry Miller has put together quite a streak for Wayne State's baseball team.

The sophomore righthanded pitcher from Westland (Livonia Franklin) won three-straight games entering last weekend's two double-headers with Oakland University. In that streak Miller had a span of 17 consecutive scoreless innings, including a 1-0 eight-inning shutout of Saginaw Valley State.

For the season, Miller had a 4-3 won-loss record with one save in 43 1/3 innings. He had allowed 38 hits, 31 walks and 11 earned runs, striking out 36, and had a 2.29 earned run average for the 17-21-3 Tartars.

John AbuNassar, a senior at Lake Forest College from Farmington Hills, set a single-game record for the Foresters' lacrosse team with nine goals in a 34-0 romp over Lawrence University's club team April 23. AbuNassar also scored twice in a 14-7 loss to Michigan State April 19.

Dan Michaels, a senior pitcher on Western Michigan's baseball team from Redford (Catholic Central), picked up a pair of victories in relief April 28-29 in the Broncos' 6-5 and 11-6 wins over Bowling Green in Kalamazoo. For the season, Michaels is 4-1 with a 3.00 earned run average.

Rick Tavormina, a sophomore shortstop from Westland (John Glenn), Mike Stefanski, a sophomore catcher from Redford (Union), and Pat Miller, a junior righthander from Redford (Union), are three major reasons for University of Detroit's baseball resurgence.

Tavormina has hit .475 since becoming the starting shortstop nearly three weeks ago. For the season, he's batting .385 with five doubles, a triple and 14 runs batted in. Stefanski is tied with Tavormina for the team-lead in hitting at .385; he has six doubles, a triple and 12 RBI. Miller is 4-1 with a 3.47 ERA.

Other local notables at U-D, which had won 10-of-11 going into last weekend's four-game series with Notre Dame and led the Midwestern Collegiate Conference's Eastern Division with a 12-4 mark: Dennis Bashart, a junior second baseman from Redford (Union), .301, six doubles, a triple, a homer and 24 RBI; Lance Sullivan, a sophomore first baseman from Livonia (Churchill), .299, four doubles, a triple, a homer, 20 RBI; Doug Fitzer, a sophomore lefthander from Farmington Hills, 2-4 with a 3.77 ERA and 36 strikeouts; and Mark Coburn, a senior lefthander from Canton, 3-1 with a 4.72 ERA.

Heidi Reyst, a sophomore pitcher on Kalamazoo College's softball team from Farmington Hills (Harrison), has a 3-4 record and a 1.59 ERA — sixth best in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association — for the Hornets. Reyst has allowed just eight walks in 36 innings and hurled a no-hitter in a 5-0 triumph over MIAA foe Adrian, the first in league play since 1987.

Steve Waite, a sophomore on Eastern Michigan's baseball team from Canton, is batting .270 with three doubles, a homer and 12 RBI. Waite is a perfect five-for-five in stealing bases, and has the dubious honor of leading the Hurons in being hit by the pitch, with six. EMU was 20-20 entering last week's action.

Jeremy Krol, a freshman pitcher on Albion College's baseball team from Garden City, is sixth in the MIAA in ERA at 2.06. Krol is 2-3 overall, 1-2 in the MIAA, for the league-champion Britons.

Mary Hebert, a junior outfielder on Western Michigan's softball team from Garden City, was hitting .227 with two doubles, a triple and the team's only home run (through April 24), and 15 RBI.

Susan Pachera, the No. 1 singles player for Albion College's women's tennis team from Livonia (Churchill), compiled a 9-5 overall match record and was 2-3 in MIAA play. Pachera combined with three partners to compile a 4-0 doubles mark. Albion finished third in the MIAA championships.

Greg Haeger, a sophomore first baseman on University of Michigan's baseball team from Livonia (Redford Catholic Central), was batting .302 with a team-best 11 doubles, two homers and 25 RBI. Haeger led the Wolverines with 27 walks and was tied for the team lead in game-winning RBI with five, and he was errorless in the field. U-M led the Big Ten with a 13-4 record, and was 34-10 overall.

Macker tourney to visit OU

By G.J. Rieck
staff writer

Backyard basketball has never been so popular.

The acorn planted 13 years ago at Scott McNeil's home in Lowell has sprouted into a full-grown oak of a tournament. It has grown from an initial field of 18 to attract as many as 125,000 people, and those driveway roots have blossomed to support at least three full-time jobs and a combination store-office.

The Gus Macker Basketball Tournament is truly an American success story, from the simplest of beginnings, it has reached incredible, nationwide proportions. And all indications are this oak-sized spectacle could reach redwood proportions.

Metro Detroit-area basketball fans will get a closer-to-home look at the Macker this summer when Oakland University hosts one of the 18 tournaments Aug. 26-27. Bob Taylor, who convinced McNeil (alias Gus Macker, McNeil's nickname during his playing days) to allow OU to host a tournament, thinks 10,000 people could attend.

"IT REALLY is a big event," said Taylor, OU's women's basketball coach. "We're talking about 10,000 people. Some think it might be the biggest single event (OU's) ever sponsored."

The Macker success story started on McNeil's driveway in 1976. The now-legendary tale began with McNeil steadfastly refusing to give up playing, so he and 17 friends got together for a tournament, throwing a dollar each into a winner-take-all jackpot.

basketball

The Gus Macker "C" name is simple, back yard-style basketball. Some of the rules are listed below.

- The game is three-on-three, but teams must have four players.

- Games are played on 35-foot-by-35-foot half-courts.

- Games are to 20 points, with baskets inside the 19-foot arc counting as single points and those outside the arc scoring two.

- The only free throws taken are technicals.

- Games must be won by two points, with overtime not extending past 25 points.

- The tournament is double-elimination, with teams computer-ranked and divided by size, age and skill level into separate mini-tournaments. Champions will be crowned in each; there is no overall champion at each site.

- Entry fee is $50 per team, with entries available by calling the Gus Macker headquarters in Belding at (616) 794-1500.

- Oakland University will host the Gus Macker Aug. 26-27, and entries will be available at Macker headquarters in approximately two weeks. Early entry is suggested because the tournament field will be limited to 800 teams (50 divisions of 16 teams).

The tournament grew wildly from there, and got a shot of publicity when a neighbor of McNeil's appealed to the city council to stop the Macker because of the swarms of people it attracted.

Taylor, who grew up in nearby

Sparta, played in one of the early tournaments and has known McNeil for years. Indeed, Taylor wanted McNeil to move the Macker to Sparta when it outgrew Lowell, but instead it settled in Belding. All three are located near Grand Rapids.

TODAY, BELDING still hosts the largest of the Macker tournaments. A horde of 3,500 teams descended upon the small town last year.

OU will become the fourth site in Michigan for the Macker. Saginaw is also hosting for the first time this year, and Port Huron will sponsor its second tournament. Last summer, Port Huron established a first-year Macker record by drawing 600 teams.

Taylor is confident that mark will be shattered at OU this summer.

"We set a limit at 800 teams because we want to make sure we do it well," said Taylor, whose major concern at present is parking. "We have to walk with it before we can run."

The Macker style is simple three-on-three, half-court basketball. The first team to reach 20 baskets wins, but a team must win by two, with a maximum of 25.

There are no overall champions at each site. Instead, there are court champions. For example, at OU Taylor plans to have 50 divisions, with 16 teams in each. Play is double-elimination; a division champion must win five games, and will play no more than six.

THAT'S AS FAR as the competition goes because of the wide range of talent among players. Another illustration of how the Macker has grown: Computers are used to rate teams. Players' size, age and playing experience will be factored to rank the 800 teams expected at OU. The total field will then be divided into the 50 separate court tournaments.

According to Taylor, McNeil wanted to put one of the largest Macker tournaments — the biggest are metro, the smaller are community — either in the Detroit area or in Flint. Taylor convinced him Rochester would be a perfect choice because of its location between the two. OU can attract from both places.

Other large metropolitan locations for Macker tournaments include Phoenix, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Atlanta. The Macker's growth has led to nationwide sponsorship from Reebok, Gatorade and Chevrolet.

Marlins beat Borgess

Farmington Hills Mercy's team depth and determination carried the Marlins to a rare but highly-prized victory over Redford Bishop Borgess in girls track Thursday, 68-60.

The victory enabled Mercy to stay unbeaten at 3-0 in the Central Division of the Catholic League. The Spartans are 2-2.

"We've got eight seniors on this team who had never beaten Bishop Borgess," Marlins coach Gary Servas said. "They were pumped for it."

"The depth thing had a lot to do with it, too. We had more fresh bodies to throw at them."

The outcome, however, was in doubt until Mercy won the final event, the 1,600-meter relay in which Heather Sullivan, Kathleen Gerick, Megan Lombardi and Lauren Hood had a 4:18.3 time on the Redford Thurston track.

One of the most exciting individual races occurred in the 1,600 as Gerick edged out Michelle Gayney for first place. Gerick ran 5:31.9 and the Borgess runner 5:32.1.

Mercy's Carrie Walton ran an impressive race in the open 3,200, finishing in 12:10 and beating Gayney by 31 seconds.

Hood had a personal best time of 1:03.3 to capture first place in the 400 run, and she turned around and ran her fastest split time in the 1,600 relay at 1:02.9. Hood also ran the open 800 in between those races.

The Marlins won three of the four field events, and Mary Beth Strand won the 100 hurdles in 18.6. Mercy's Charese Sanders won the shot put (33-3 1/2). Jeanette Turner the discus (97-11) and Gail Mune the high jump (4-8).

The Marlins added a victory in the 3,200 relay, sending Noelle Gates, Judi Rosowski, Susan Bartlett and Darlene Dimmer on to the track to post an 11:59 time.

HOLLYWOOD'S IN TROY

Movie magic comes to Michigan

By Lynn Waldemith
special writer

The opening of a motion picture at 20 Detroit area theaters Friday will mark one small step for the state of Michigan and one giant leap for its producer-director, Robert Dyke.

"Moontrap," a $3.5 million production, was filmed entirely in southeastern Michigan. Not only was the movie made in Michigan, but everyone involved with the production — more than 200 cast and crew members — with the exception of the three main characters and two crew members, is from the state.

"Moontrap" took three months to film and involved two large warehouses and a studio in Troy.

"This is probably the first movie shot here (in Michigan) that didn't have to be filmed here," said Dyke, founder of Magic Lantern Productions in Farmington Hills.

"In other words, a Michigan setting isn't used in the film itself. But I wanted to shoot it here because I wanted to use people who I've worked with for years and I wanted to be able to go home at night, too."

Dyke has 20 years' experience in filmmaking and video production. Magic Lantern Productions has produced more than 400 commercials, industrial shows and theatrical shorts.

The firm specializes in live action and animated commercials and is known for the high quality of its special effects work and the recreation of classic film moments in commercial spots.

IN ADDITION to extensive experience in commercials, Dyke did special effects work on the film, "Evil Dead II," and the Steven Spielberg production of "Harry and the Hendersons."

Dyke, 44, and his family live in West Bloomfield. Although he has created some educational and short films, he has always wanted to make feature films.

"As a kid, I always related to comic books," he said. "I was very attracted to science fiction."

DYKE, WHO grew up in Dearborn and graduated from Wayne State University, asked Tex Ragsdale to write the script for "Moontrap." Ragsdale works for an advertising agency in Southfield and lives with his family in Birmingham. He and Dyke have been friends since kindergarten.

"We both have always been interested in science fiction," Ragsdale said. "Some of our favorites are things from the '50s like 'Forbidden Planet.' So we began planning a story about a race of robots on the moon who would threaten humans on earth.

"Everyone's seen that footage of the astronauts walking on the moon."

"Moontrap" takes place approximately three years from now. It is about a crew of astronauts on a routine shuttle mission who, among other things, discover an ancient spaceship and the hostile robots. The science fiction thriller featured scenes of the moon, a spaceship, ruins of an ancient civilization and NASA's Mission Control.

It took Ragsdale 2½ years to finish the script for "Moontrap." After finishing his first screenplay, he took on an active role in the film's production.

HE WAS responsible for getting Walter Koenig to play the lead role of Jason Grant, the film's hero. Koenig is best known for his role as the Starship Enterprise's Pavel Chekov in the "Star Trek" series.

An emphasis on realism and credibility was important to their conception of the film, Dyke said.

"We thought, 'What if something was discovered up there tomorrow? How would we as contemporary people respond to it?'" he said. "We tried to keep it realistic. I've always had a problem with sci-fi films set in faraway lands with people named Zander."

DYKE HOPES "Moontrap" will bring Michigan more recognition as a central location for filmmaking. The state, he said, has achieved a reputation as a center for industrial and commercial production, but not feature film production.

If a film is shot in Michigan, typically, it is because a specific location, such as downtown Detroit, is needed for the film, he said.

"The biggest problem in Michigan isn't quality, it's quantity," Dyke said. "We have some very talented film people here, but not a lot of people to choose from. We also have excellent studios here, but not a lot of them."

"You hear about films that are supposed to be made in Michigan, but then it never happens. But we really did it. Real movies can be made here."

The Michigan Film Office helped locate talent and obtain distribution of "Moontrap." But currently no Hollywood films are in production in the state, although the Detroit area is being considered as the location site for a new major motion picture, said Deryl Beasley, film office manager.

THAT'S NOT to say that the state hasn't been used for films. The Detroit area and other Michigan locations can be seen in "Midnight Run," "Action Jackson," "Tanner '88" (a film for HBO), "Beverly Hills Cop" and its sequel, "Beverly Hills Cop II," "The Rosary Murders" and "Somewhere in Time."

Sue Marx and Pamela Conn of Michigan also drew attention to the state by winning an Academy Award last year for their documentary, "Young at Heart."

"A lot of people in Hollywood like Michigan," Beasley said, "but we've been a reactive film office. We need to become a pro-active film office. We need to become more aggressive in competing for major film productions."

The lead role of Jason Grant, the hero in "Moontrap," is played by Walter Koenig, best known for his role as the Starship Enterprise's Pavel Chekov in the "Star Trek" series.

Producer-director Robert Dyke was all smiles during the filming of "Moontrap."

Discover fishing — Lakes style

By Iris Sanderson Jones
contributing travel editor

Q: Four women want to go fishing together. I've been deep sea fishing but I've never taken a charter boat out on the Great Lakes. Can you tell me what it's like, what it costs and how to choose a boat? If I didn't get seasick on the ocean, I guess I won't get seasick on a lake, right?

B.H.,
Rochester

A: Great Lakes fishing is like deep sea fishing, except you don't need to travel as far to the fishing grounds and the fish fighting furiously on your line is a salmon or lake trout instead of a marlin.

What is it like? Your letter took me back to a warm summer day aboard the nine-meter charter boat Ginger Brandy Two as we motored out of the harbor and down the Manistee River, between the lighthouse and the Coast Guard station, to Lake Michigan last summer.

This great lake can be glass smooth, but it can also be rough enough to threaten deep sea freighters that come in through the St. Lawrence Seaway to the city of Chicago, out of sight across the lake.

Captain Joe Wolff won't go out if the waves are higher than four feet. Our ride was mildly rough, "just enough to make the fish active," as we entered the lake and Joe made the first call on his marine radio.

"Connie Gail, this is Ginger Brandy Two WRB9575."

"I'm into the third bank and into 105 feet of water," the radio voice replied. "We had a flurry but I've only seen one fish."

We saw a lot more fish before the morning was out, which is a miracle of sorts. Pollution from cities like Detroit and Chicago had ruined these waters for fishing when the great salmon experiment began, introducing coho and chinook salmon in 1966 and 1967 to clean up the alewives which had taken over the lake, and to introduce a new sports fishery into the area.

There weren't many charter boats then, but this year more than 300 members of the Michigan Charter Boat Association will fish for walleye and bass in Lake Erie, salmon and lake trout in lakes Huron, Superior and Michigan. You can get a list of those charter boats from the Michigan Travel Bureau.

Promises, promises... but no delivery. Once again, "Jackknife" (B+, R, 95 minutes), the Robert DeNiro Vietnam vet story, was rescheduled at the last minute. DeNiro's acting is so good that I hope they open it this week as promised (again).

"Field of Dreams" (B+, PG, 111 minutes) features an all-star cast in a baseball story. In an Iowa corn field, Ray Kinsella (Kevin Costner) hears a voice and sees a baseball field, which he takes as a sign that he should build a baseball diamond so that Shoeless Joe Jackson (Ray Liotta) can play again. Jackson was one of the eight Chicago White Sox who were banned from the game when they threw the 1919 World Series in the infamous Black Sox Scandal.

Kinsella and his wife Annie (Amy Madigan) follow his vision and encounter memorable characters along the way — Terence Mann (James Earl Jones) and "Doc" Graham (Burt Lancaster).

Writer-director Phil Alden Robinson spent seven years translating W.P. Kinsella's novel, "Shoeless Joe," to the screen and notes that "everything good about the film is from the book... it's an extraordinary vision about the power of love to make dreams come true."

Well, not quite. Excellent acting by the principals brightens this fanciful and nostalgic film. Reviewed by Verdel Waite.

Someone had the bizarre idea that peeking in on the most intimate and disturbed moments in the lives of adolescents from broken but well-to-do homes would make a great movie. Well, scenarist Michael Weller and director Hugh Hudson were wrong and "Lost Angels" (D, R, 105 minutes) is a very unpleasant, uncomfortable experience.

Not all movies have to be happy-go-lucky affairs, but this one went too far the other way — and for no purpose other than sensationalism.

True, the photography was acceptable, the music decent, the continuity clear and the acting quite good. There were times when the volume was too low to hear what was going on and a few spots in which the action was unexplained.

Even so, the film wasn't much fun. It has a lot of strange ideas and an unbelievable Pollyanna ending.

Tim Doolan (Adam Horovitz) is from a broken home — several, in fact. His mother, Felicia Marks (Celia Weston) and his stepfather, Barton Marks (Ron Frazier), get him out of the juvenile prison, where he was placed on the recommendation of his father, Richard Doolan (Graham Beckel), and unceremoniously dump him in a juvenile psychiatric facility.

Adam has a thing for a gal from another broken home, Cheryl Anderson (Amy Locane), who is also in the psychiatric facility. Cheryl likes Adam and his half-brother Andy (Don Bloomfield), who is a real case.

It gets stranger for in the psychiatric facility, Adam finds understanding from an alcoholic psychiatrist, Dr. Charles Loftis (Donald Sutherland). Had enough? I did, but the film goes on and on. Miss it.

"Scandal" (B, R, 100 minutes) is based on the story that rocked the British government just over a quarter of a century ago, when the minister of war, John Profumo (Ian McKellen), was caught up in a scandal with several ladies of easy virtue, Christine Keeler (Joanne Whalley-Kilmer) and Mandy Rice-Davies (Bridget Fonda). The girls were proteges of Dr. Stephen Ward (John Hurt) and the scandal was intensi-

'Chocolat': Skillful film about sensitive subject

By Anne Sharp
special writer

"Chocolat," at the Detroit Film Theatre this weekend, is an impressive debut by first-time director-screenwriter Claire Denis. She's made a film that's autobiographical, without being the least bit self-conscious — quite an achievement for a newcomer.

She's also managed, with skill, sensitivity and good taste, to tackle a subject that many experienced directors have bungled badly in the past. One only has to have a look at Alan Parker's gaudy, embarrassing, "Mississippi Burning," to appreciate Denis' delicate, thoughtful approach to the topic of racism.

France is currently experiencing a violent upsurge of racial strife, a legacy of its former attempts to dominate Third World countries. As a white French woman raised in West Africa during the last days of French colonial occupation, Denis saw firsthand the roots of conflict between white Europeans and black Africans. "Chocolat" expresses, simply, a child's eye view of colonial misery.

We first see little France (Cecile Ducasse), the daughter of a French colonial governor in northern Cameroon, being tended by her family's African manservant Protee (Isaach Bankole).

AFFECTIONATELY, he tells her riddles and prepares for her a snack of bread and butter, garnished with ants, which she happily eats. He seems as contented with his lot as she is with this exotic meal. But this illusion won't last.

When we see how handsome Protee is and are introduced to France's equally fetching mother, played by Giulia Boschi, it looks as if the tired old topic of forbidden love is about to be hauled out of mothballs. It is, but in a totally unexpected way.

Denis uses the natural attraction between Protee and France's mother not for tacky romantic thrills, but to demonstrate how love, like friendship, is simply impossible when one partner is degraded and at the mercy of the other.

Although these are supposed to be France's memories, the child herself remains mostly in the background. By unobtrusively observing grownups at work and play, she comes to understand the complex and disturbing nature of the social situation surrounding her.

Bankole's performance makes this film. His Protee is an intelligent, likeable man who's clearly the equal of his employers, whether they realize it or not.

Bankole makes it clear that Protee is a good and faithful servant, not because he's a servile person, but because he's patient enough to put up with the humiliation and injustice of his situation.

BUT HIS patience is tested once too often and France watches him transformed from a cheerful father figure into an embittered stranger.

Although sympathetic to the Europeans' viewpoint, Denis is clearly on the side of the Africans. In the film's exuberant final shot, which deserves to become famous, she offers a celebratory vision of post-colonial Africans enjoying their freedom.

Wisely, however, she insists on making this France's story, not Protee's. It's up to the African writers and filmmakers, she implies, to give us his version of things.

Buck Pets shun metal label

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Needless to say, The Buck Pets' music wouldn't make it through any airport metal detectors.

There must be a lot of deaf cattle roaming around Texas. This Dallas foursome's music is loud.

Some would call it metal. Some could call it avant-garde. The Buck Pets don't care. Just call them when it's show time.

"Nothing really inspired us," said Andy Thompson, lead singer of the band that will perform tonight at The Blind Pig in Ann Arbor. "We started playing in a bedroom and it just developed from there."

"As far as the metal thing goes, we really hate being tagged with that. We don't even like any metal bands."

If anything, the Buck Pets are at the forefront of a growing trend. Metal, er, hard rock sounding bands are suddenly creeping up on college radio.

Thanks to the recent success of bands such as Jane's Addiction, and even, to an extent, Guns N' Roses, record labels are dressing up metal and marketing it as alternative music.

ANOTHER FEATURE that makes the Buck Pets a bit strange on the range is the record label they're on. Island Records, mostly known for U2 and Bob Marley, has the Dallas foursome on its roster.

The Buck Pets were on an Island compilation album of Texas bands. When other groups submitted sub-par demo tapes, the label's A&R person went with the noisier Buck Pets.

The group is one of the few from Dallas on the college circuit. The Buck Pets formed in 1985 when high school chums Tony Alba, Chris Savage and Thompson began rehearsing in a spare basement in Alba's house.

Aside from a few gigs in Dallas, the Buck Pets ventured out of the prairie and to the West Coast, Canada

The music of The Buck Pets started when they played in a bedroom and has developed into a growing trend — hard rock bands that are finding popularity on college radio.

and New York. "The Dallas scene never really helped us," Thompson said. "The press and the local magazines would never write anything about us. If they did, it was a little blurb. We said, (the heck with) this and took it on the road."

"We would drive all the way to New York and play one show for $100. We'd end up having to hit up our parents for money. We still owe them thousands of dollars from past tours."

After catching the band's act, Island Records was willing to foot the band's bills. Ian Beach joined as the bass player and the Buck Pets were unleashed.

Ron St. Germain (whose credits include Mick Jagger, Whitney Houston and Bad Brains) went into Compass Point Studios in the Bahamas to record. Their debut LP, "The Buck Pets," features the slash-and-gash guitar playing of Savage along with vocal utterings of Thompson. Some of the numbers actually have a rhythmic quality to them.

IN THE aftermath, the Buck Pets toured with Jane's Addiction and have garnered their share of airplay on college radio. Thompson hopes this latest tour will give the band a much-needed shot of notoriety.

"I'm getting tired of staying two to a room," he said.

So far, audiences have been quite taken aback by the massive sound the Buck Pets possess.

"I think a lot of people don't know what to expect," Thompson said. "People will come up to us after a show and say, 'Wow, I've never heard that before.' Or we get stupid comparisons to Black Sabbath or Metallica and we say, 'Huh?'"

"We never considered ourselves an underground, avant-garde metal band. It's just rock'n'roll."

The Buck Pets perform at 10 p.m. Monday, May 8, at the Blind Pig, 208 S. First St., Ann Arbor. Tickets are $7.50 in advance. For information, call 996-8555.

Detroit's rockers 'rock' for MD

By Debbie L. Sklar
special writer

Five individuals from some of Detroit's more well-known bands gathered at Ambience Recording Studio's recently to cut a 45, "Music for MD," to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

"The idea stemmed about three months ago," said Scott Forbes, a national accounts manager for Hubert Distributors in Pontiac. The company distributes Budweiser, which is the sponsor of the project.

Forbes along with Jim Caleca, a sales manager for Tom Ryan Distributors of Flint (another Budweiser distributor), decided to combine their interests and backgrounds in music in hopes of raising funds for MDA.

"We thought we could get some local talent together and really do this thing with perfection," Caleca said. "Kind of a 'We Are the World' type of thing."

"Obviously, this isn't on the Michael Jackson/Bruce Springsteen level, but we do feel there is an awful lot of talent in the Detroit metro area that we could solicit. We believe it is a rare opportunity to produce something really special."

BILL HANSEN

"Johnny Bee" Padanek signs a drum head, with help from Scott Forbes, a Budweiser distributor, for Muscular Dystrophy poster child Ryan Young at the Ambience Recording Studio in Orchard Lake.

The five musicians involved in the project are Johnny (Johnny "Bee") Padanek and Mark Gougeon, who are with Mitch Ryder's band; Jim McCarty, a guitarist; Tommy Cort, keyboard player with Mitch Ryder; and Ron Panghorn, a drummer and member of Was (Not Was).

McCarty played guitar on all of Ryder's hits and performed with the late Jimi Hendrix. Padanek is the spokesman for the project.

"I'm pretty excited about this," Padanek said. "The song I wrote for this is one that could be about a lot of things. It has a lot of meanings, and the listener can read into it in a lot of different ways."

At 16, Padanek was drummer for Mitch Ryder and The Detroit Wheels. With the Wheels, he hammered out one of the three greatest drum breaks in the history of rock (on "Devil With a Blue Dress"), according to Rolling Stone magazine.

After the group disbanded in 1967, he toured and recorded with Edgar Winter, Alice Cooper and Dr. John.

But Padanek's prominent position in hard rock circles was not won with sticks alone. In 1972, he co-founded The Rockets as a showcase for his songwriting skills.

He served in a dual role as a drummer/lead vocalist until 1976 when they opted for a bluesier voice. His songs launched the group into national prominence, most notably with "Can't Sleep," "Turn Up the Radio," and "Takin' It Back."

Today, Padanek's compositions are considered cool, contemporary and street-wise.

REVIEWS

DOOLITTLE — The Pixies

So here are The Pixies, the Boston-based best new thing in music. At least that's what everyone has been saying of late.

From the basis of "Doolittle" (Elektra), we can't understand what all the fuss is about.

Sure, this group has the modern post-punk sound of scraping guitars, creeping bass lines and near-comatose vocals. But when is new music no longer new?

The Pixies don't seem to be breaking ground that hasn't already been covered by The Fall or Sonic Youth for that matter.

Perhaps the whole post-modernistic distortion has become a cliché. Nonetheless, The Pixies carry on with the music press fawning all over them.

Simplicity is the essence here. Black Francis works his guitar like a snake charmer, trying to lure the listener out gradually and then going into a frenzy. Sometimes it flows, as in the number, "Fame."

Otherwise the album moves along in somewhat disjointed fashion. The songwriting here is less than stunning. Sample this line from "Mr. Grieves": "You can cry, you can mope, but you can swing from a good rope/Oh I believe in Mr. Grieves."

Or offered for your disapproval is this line from "Monkey Gone to Heaven," a sort of environmental rap: "The creature in the sky got sucked in a hole/nor there's a hole in the sky and the ground's not cold/and if the ground's not cold everything is going to burn."

While a group like The Fall can capture the imagination, The Pixies are a fuzzy picture. This album certainly does enhance that with a rather unfocused album.

— Larry O'Connor

THE MOTOWN SONGBOOK — Ruby Turner

Old show business adage: If you need a hit record, dip into the Motown catalog.

Turner, an R&B singer from Birmingham — the one in England, that is — does just that on her second RCA/Jive release.

Her choices are solid, if not surprising, as she gives a neo-disco treatment to such chestnuts as "Nowhere to Run," "Just My Imagination" and "Ooo Baby, Baby," among seven others.

Turner's an adequate singer, if not quite a match for Diana Ross, Martha Reeves or even such minor Motown princesses as Kim Weston and Brenda Holloway.

The songs are catchy and danceable, but then so were the originals.

What saves this album from immediate dismissal is the presence of many original Motown stars in supporting roles. The Four Tops, Temptations, Jimmy ("What Becomes of the Broken Hearted") Ruffin and saxman Junior Walker help out here and there.

The overall effect is mixed. It's good to hear classic Motown stars update their hits for today's audiences. But it's like watching Chuck Long quarterback the Lions with Bobby Layne on the sidelines. You wish the old champ would step in and take over from the young upstart.

This isn't the last we'll hear of the Motown/UK connection. A team of Brits was recently in Detroit recording some of the label's former artists for an upcoming release.

In any event, it's an interesting cultural note. While America was digging the Beatles and other 1960s mop tops who washed up on these shores, Berry Gordy and his troops staged a counter-invasion of their own. The results, on either side, are lasting.

— Wayne Peal

THE EIGHT LEGGED GROOVE MACHINE

— The Wonder Stuff

This group was touted as the one of the "new big things" by the British music press last year and now they have a release in the United States with this album on Polydor Records.

With this evidence, their reputation is well-deserved.

If you were looking for frames of reference, I would point you in the direction of the guitar power and pop sensibilities of That Petrol Emotion and the Humcocks.

As would only be expected after quoting those bands, musically, they are loud and trash. Their twin, aggressive guitars are able to accompany the scratchy, frantic vocals of Miles Hunt and Mark Trocena. The main vocal is nasal enough to have you believing that the singer is laughing these lyrics at you, which may not be far from the truth as most of the songs display the band's subtle sense of humor.

Witness these song titles: "No, for the 13th Time," "It's Yer Money I'm After, Baby" and "Give, Give, Give Me More, More, More."

All of which possess some lyrical gems, such as "I'd like my friends to be rich and I'll never do a stitch." Or, this one, "Forget your heart, it's your bank I want to break/I'm in love with myself and nobody else."

Sensitive stuff, eh? This album also contains 14 songs, which these days is decent as things go. Apparently, the compact disc and cassette contain extra tracks in the ongoing attempt by record companies to kill releases on wax.

The Wonder Stuff may not have rock'n'roll, but at least they'll dirty the streets with a laugh for awhile.

STREET SENSE

Men respond to woman's 'need'

Dear Readers,

In today's column, I am printing correspondence from three readers that I received in response to a letter printed in the March 27 issue of Street Scene. The original letter and my answer were:

Dear Barbara,

I am a 30-year-old woman. I've always been considered beautiful and sometimes unapproachable. I am a talented musician. My work, not in the music field, provides a living, but it is not in an area that is creative or fulfilling.

I really want success in my career, but presently, I am more concerned about getting married and starting a family. I'm having less success with men than I am in my career. I don't want to waste time just dating around. I want to find a man who is ready to make a commitment to marriage and family. I think I would feel better about putting my career on hold if I could find happiness in a relationship.

My past relationships seem to burn hot and intense, only to fizzle out in a few months or a year. My last serious boyfriend moved in with another woman shortly after we broke up. I wanted to marry him; he didn't want to marry me. He said he wasn't ready for a commitment. I guess he was letting me down easy because he soon found another woman and he's going to marry her.

When I enter a relationship that I think could be permanent, I get wrapped up in it heart and soul. I want to be with him all the time. I want to be an integral part of his life. Men don't seem to feel the same way I do about the relationship and I get hurt.

What can I do about finding a man who wants the same kind of relationship I want?

Needing a Man

Dear Needing a Man,

Often it is a woman most in need of a man who is least successful in finding one. Your pride in your beauty and your talent leads me to assume that not just any man would do. I respect that you would be discriminating in choosing a partner. However, if strength and independence are important in the man you are seeking, you are in trouble. Strong, independent men admire women who are like them, not women who are needy and clinging. Men feel smothered if they feel they are responsible for a woman's happiness. They will run from such a situation — not to it.

Barbara

Although this letter was from one woman, lots of women have the problem she has. I am printing today's responses from readers to give these women a perspective on men that they might not have had otherwise.

I thank all three men for sending their ideas and feelings and thereby helping women understand men better.

Dear Barbara,

I'm writing to you in response to the letter written to you from "Needing a Man," printed in Monday 3/27/89 Westland Observer, and would like to ask you if you could forward my address along with this letter to this lady, if at all possible, as I would like somehow to meet her, if she would be at all interested.

It sounds to me like this lady has a lot to offer and is full of love and is well deserving of the same love and happiness. One can never give enough love; it's just that some people sometimes just don't realize how good they've had it when they're with someone who offers so much of themselves and don't know how to give it back in return.

In reading her letter, I see that we might already have some things in common, as being able to relate where she is coming from. I myself am also a 29-year-old talented musician (drummer of 18 years) who also works days and am planning on possibly starting own business and/or schooling.

I myself, like her, really don't want to date around, wasting time with all the wrong type of women, as I am looking for a serious lady who has a lot to offer and who would like the same in return, as I have. I feel a lot to offer to the right person as I'm considered attractive, a warm, down-to-earth, caring, loving and understanding, patient person.

I am looking to begin a good friendship and to have a one-on-one relationship leading to eventual marriage and starting a family.

I just thought by the sound of her letter, if the chance would be there for us to have an opportunity to meet, we might both find a real, true happiness.

I just thought I'd give this a try, or if nothing else, thanks for your time reading this letter.

I, too, was involved in a relationship of four years I thought was going to end up in marriage, but in my case, she really enjoys smoking weed and living that type of lifestyle and had moved in with a guy she had been dating the last four months of our relationship. I am one who really enjoys life, but am not interested in drugs of any kind, so our break-up was, in fact, for the best — at least for me.

Sincerely,
Jim

Dear Barbara,

I wrote a letter to you, it was printed in the paper, and I found your advice helpful.

Now, I would like to return the favor. I read your column last week and was very touched by the lady who wrote the letter ending in "Needing a Man." I have some thoughts that I feel might be beneficial to her. Would you forward the letter I've enclosed to her?

I really would appreciate it. I think you are doing a good job with this column.

Thanks,
Tom

Dear Barbara,

While reading the Observer one Tuesday evening I came across your column and this particular letter signed "Needing a Man."

I couldn't help but identify with what this 30-year-old woman was saying — but from the male perspective. I felt that since I too would like to settle down and start a family, perhaps there may be a way for "Needing a Man" and myself, "NEED A WOMAN," could get together. Therefore, I'm writing to you.

If possible, I would greatly appreciate it if you could forward the enclosed profile along with my name and address to her. I understand that you're probably not in the dating service business, but I don't know how else to meet a woman.

Last year I bought a real nice ranch house. I have a wonderful job in the computer industry and I make close to $50,000 a year, and please believe me, I'm not afraid of a commitment and I do want to settle down and start a family.

Unfortunately — like her — most women I meet are afraid of getting married because of whatever reason.

Could you please help bring us together?

Thank you kindly for your assistance and may the good Lord bless you always and everywhere.

Michael

I am not a dating service and I don't forward letters. But there are professional dating services that have you write statements about yourself and then match you up with someone compatible.

Recently, a woman in therapy for depression made progress in her growth and development. This led her to pay $1,500 to a dating service to help her meet a man.

While such establishments can be found in the Yellow Pages, it is usually better to get referrals from satisfied customers. In any case, the credentials and resources should be carefully checked. Perhaps even the Better Business Bureau should be contacted for references.

If dating services work or don't is something I would enjoy hearing comments on from readers.

WITH THAT bit of business out of the way, I have many questions about the difficulties other men and women are having pairing up.

All three of these men show themselves so well in their letters that I cannot understand why they need help finding women. Is it that they can't do face-to-face what they can do in a letter? It would seem they would not have trouble meeting women like the one in "Needing a Man" through their social and work experiences or through dating services.

Further, the letters I have received indicate a pattern in the reading public of this column — that is of men and women who would fit hand-in-glove in their willingness to have giving and getting love as the most desired force in their marriage.

However, as I have already said, the people who believe this appear not to have been able to find each other. It causes one to wonder why they go after members of the opposite sex who don't want such intense intimacy and love. If they know what they want, why not find someone with whom there can be mutual gratification instead of choosing someone who will reject them? After all, we know their counterparts are out there.

"Gentle Reader," can you help me better understand this?

Barbara

mistress, she loved Dr. Ward and ultimately caused his downfall and suicide.

"Scandal" is a surprising look inside a government and a country most people think of as solid and very proper. It's well-written script and strong performances are entertaining and demonstrate that today's scandals are neither new nor unusual. They're just faults and weaknesses of people with power in a different time and place. Reviewed by Kathy Guyor.

What happens when you take three young students from very different backgrounds and have them meet in a West Coast college where debate is the major occupation? The beautiful photographed movie, "Listen to Me" (PG-13, B-, 107 minutes), reverberating with bright and vivid colors, is the result.

Garson McKellar (Tim Quill) is a talented debater who would rather be writing poems and plays. His father (Anthony Zerbe), a senator, has plans for his son to follow in the family's tradition of politics.

Garson's roommate Tucker Muldowney (Kirk Cameron) is an ambitious Oklahoma chicken farmer's son who got to Kenmont College on a scholarship. With aspirations of becoming president some day, he strives to succeed at debate and earn recognition.

But that's not all he's looking for. The object of Tucker's affection is Monica Tomansaki (Jamie Gertz) who, like Tucker, is red hot to debate, but not eager for a romantic interlude due to a dark secret from her past.

Charlie Nichols (Roy Schieder) is a professor and coach of the debate team. After witnessing a tragedy befall the school, he encourages Tucker and Muldowney to compete against Harvard in Washington before the Supreme Court for the national debate title.

Lines are predictable in several instances, there is some dippy sentimentality, and Tim Quill often appears to auditioning for a toothpaste commercial.

However, after the rash of teenage and young adult movies dealing with drugs, sex and violence, it's encouraging to see one about kids choosing college and carving out careers for themselves. This is not to say students don't have problems, but at least in this movie they're concerned with becoming productive members of society.

In others words, "Listen to Me" is a cut above the usual youth film.

"Edge of Sanity" (*, R) is an Anthony Perkins vehicle about a man caught between nightmare and sanity. He's probably running on three cylinders in this one.

VIDEO VIEWING

Warning! Now hear this video alert!

Since this column began in January, lots of video cassette movies have been analyzed, discussed and praised.

It's time now for a video alert: Warning, many tapes awaiting purchase or rental are hazardous to your sensibilities, your viewing pleasure, even your sanity. Often alluring tape boxes and attractive advertising for old films with now well-known stars make it hard to tell the good from the bad.

Beware as well of prestige. Don't believe quality and viewing pleasure are automatic because a tape has an incredible roster of internationally renowned musicians. Be wary also of the tons of marginal stuff produced for cable or VCR only.

Top those off with the insatiable market for revulsion — the horror genre is dead and well — and, voila, tons of unpleasant tape awaits your viewing displeasure. And we haven't even gotten into the "adults only" section.

Further compounding the problem, there are so many tapes to sort through — 54,000 listed in the 1989 "Video Source Book" — and hundreds of new ones appearing each week.

The ease of use, our extensive leisure time and great capacity for consumption, and the fact that about two-thirds of U.S. households now have one or more VCRs adds up to a huge market. Product consumption (and profits) are so great that the search for new programs is intense.

IT'S NOT without good reason that Ted Turner mortgaged his future, spending $1.5 billion to get his hands on MGM's 3,300 plus film library. Pre-sale of ancillary rights — overseas distribution, television and in particular, cassette rights — often is the avenue producers take to fund motion picture production costs.

With such big dollars at stake, merchandising is the name of the game. But betwixt the PR raves and the actual program, there's often a slip or two. Not every star-studded vehicle is Oscar bound. Not by a longshot is "Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here" (very C-, 1969, 98 minutes, PG) with Katharine Ross, Robert Blake and Robert Redford.

Sounds good, but actually it's a pretty weak western. No amount of make-up — particularly poorly applied — will convince viewers that Katharine Ross (or the actor who plays her father) is an Indian.

"Willie Boy" is supposed to be an adult western (what a stupid phrase) sensitively discussing prejudice against native Americans. With Ross looking like a black-faced preppy who lost her minstrel show on the Vassar lawn and Redford so leonine it's a wonder he didn't fall asleep in the saddle instead of the Indian agent's bed.

Well, under such circumstances it's hard to care — or believe — what happens to Robert Blake as the heroic, but doomed Indian.

"Point Blank" (1967, D, 90 minutes, PG-13 by today's standards) is another, even worse example. Lee Marvin is double-crossed by his partner in crime who makes off with the loot — and with Lee's wife.

FOR A while this one seemed like an interesting, star-studded, surrealistic gangster film, what with Keenan Wynn, Carroll O'Connor and Angie Dickinson all figuring heavily in the action. It turns out it wasn't surrealism, it was bad filmmaking.

In both cases, reading the tape cases sure was exciting. After all, what could be better entertainment than a good gangster movie followed by a rollicking western? Nothing! But not with these two.

Then there are prestigious stars of the musical world. At the risk of offending Pavarotti fans — myself included — his "Distant Harmony: Pavarotti in China" was an 85-minute disappointment, (B, G rated). Unlike the sparkling Isaac Stern documentary, "From Mao to Mozart," this one concentrates too much on the great man himself to the detriment of the music and its human dimension. There's too much preparation and not enough performance.

Still and all, it's a marvel to hear him sing.

The same goes for the highly touted, but bizarre and disappointing "Aria" (C-, R, 90 minutes, 1988) which received great press last year in its theatrical distribution. With music by Eric Korngold, Verdi, Puccini and Wagner, major orchestras from around the world, soloists such as Leontyne Price and Enrico Caruso, to say nothing of filmmaking by Nicholas Roeg, Jean-Luc Godard, Ken Russell and Robert Altman, well, it has to be good. One would think so, but not the case here.

All that talent — and there is a lot more — ought to have produced a better film. Some of the short sequences are properly evocative with sound and picture integrated into vibrant, emotional images.

ROEG's sequence with Theresa Russell as King Zog of Albania was one, but for the most part I think opera fans will be annoyed at the images fitted to their favorite selections and film buffs — other than the ardent devotees of avant-garde — will wonder what's going on.

The list of unreleased films now appearing in cassette, because the market's there, and horror films are major collections deserving of a separate discussion. Watch for the next video alert.

A case could be made that "Downtown" Tony Brown is the hardest working comic in Detroit today. There's no doubt that he's logged a lot of miles since 1983 to get where he is today.

That's how he got his nickname. "When I started at Bea's Comedy Kitchen (where he is the house emcee and opening act), there was a lot of bad talk about the place among comedians," Brown said. "The place was pretty empty, so I welcomed the challenge of making it a viable comedy club."

"I did a lot of leg work. I used to walk the streets with flyers."

Brown would walk all over downtown Detroit, starting at 4 p.m. His route would start at Bea's and take in Hart Plaza, Woodward Avenue all the way to the Fox Theater and Greektown.

"On the days we had shows, I'd beg people to come and see the show literally," Brown said. "I would do this until quarter to nine, then take off running to Bea's to start the show at nine."

Detroit comic luminary Mike Binder, now living in Los Angeles, noticed how much "leg work" Brown was doing and dubbed him "Downtown" Tony Brown.

Now, all the work has paid off for Brown — and for Bea's Comedy Kitchen. Bea Evans and her nephew Steve own and run the place. But Brown's combination of salesmanship, comedic talent and outright stamina has helped put the downtown club on the map.

"When I first started there, we only seated 125 at the most, and it was only $3 to get in," Brown said. "I used to guarantee Steve that some day the show would be so good they could charge $10. Now, it costs $10." Brown also prophetic about seating. He told Steve they would probably have to knock a wall down to accommodate the crowd.

"Steve thought I was hilarious," Brown said. "We seat 300 and we knocked the wall down."

Brown doesn't pull punches. He's proud of what he's accomplished and wants Detroit to know it.

"I think I've done more work than Steve and Bea put together," he said. "They know it's true. To tell you the truth, I should own the club. I've paid my dues." (Brown doesn't own the club but does have a small share of it.)

Brown, a native of Highland Park, still makes his home there. He raises his two sons, ages 14 and 12, and says he's able to feed them everyday and clothe them properly with the money he makes from comedy.

A 1973 Highland Park High School graduate, Brown went on to get a degree in accounting at Oakland University — but didn't use it.

"I never had an accounting job," he said. "Comedy is my calling."

Brown turned to comedy in 1983 and credits Mark Ridley with giving him his first opportunity to get up on stage. It wasn't long after that he began his long relationship with Bea's. He also was a frequent opening

Paul Winter, the soprano saxophonist, is a dedicated environmentalist, who performs benefits for groups such as Greenpeace.

Wildlife provides him with meaning for his own music

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

In one beat, Paul Winter became one with nature.

When he was 13, the diverse and talented musician took a drum into the hills of Pennsylvania. The sound Winter heard echoing through the trees was something he couldn't forget.

Winter's music has since included the voices of a whale, a fox and an eagle. Today, he's involved in trying to preserve those sounds. The soprano saxophonist is a dedicated environmentalist, who also performs benefits for groups such as Greenpeace, Sierra Club and numerous ecological causes.

His music speaks the loudest.

"Music is the common denominator," said Phil Moore of the Upland Hills Ecological Awareness Center in Oxford. "It's a language that we all see."

The Paul Winter Consort will perform on Friday, May 12, at Orchestra Hall in Detroit in a benefit for the Upland Hills Ecological Awareness Center, East Michigan Environmental Action Council and the Sierra Club of Southeast Michigan. Organizers hope to raise between $8,000 to $10,000.

But more than money, though, Winter's music raises people's awareness of the environment.

"I THINK it has done that for some people," Winter said. "What it does, hopefully, is let people appreciate the beauty of the earth more than being a statement of protest."

"(The issue of the environment) makes you realize how endangered some life forms are. It wakes you up and shakes you out of your ivory tower."

As a musician, Winter is in a tower of his own. He has recorded 25 albums and has worked with the likes of Beatles' producer George Martin.

Astronauts on Apollo 15 took his music aboard with them to the moon and even named two craters after compositions from one of his albums.

One of Winter's most well-known albums, "Canyon," was recorded over a period of years in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and on rafting trips down the Grand Canyon.

"We had one raft flip with our cellist on it," Winter said. "Fortunately, he was all right."

"Canyon" did better than all right, reaching No. 4 on Billboard's jazz charts and receiving a Grammy nomination in 1987. A film documentary, "Canyon Consort," was released following the album.

For the album "Whales Alive," 10 of the 11 pieces on the album were compiled from recordings of whales by Dr. Roger Payne of the Long Term Research Institute. Royalties from album sales were donated to the World Wildlife Fund.

WINTER'S LATEST project has involved several trips to the Soviet Union where he's working on a series of albums, "A Song of Russia." Of particular interest to Winter is Lake Baikal, the deepest lake in the USSR.

"It's very, very beautiful," he said. "It's very much like our Grand Canyon in many ways."

"Friends of the Environment" present the Paul Winter Consort at 8 p.m. Friday, May 12, at Orchestra Hall in Detroit. Tickets are $18 and $15. Proceeds will benefit Upland Hills Ecological Awareness Center, Sierra Club of Southeast Michigan and East Michigan Environmental Action Council. For ticket information, call 833-3700 or 645-6666.

Lakes fishing has thrills of deep sea

IT TOOK the Ginger Brandy Two half an hour to get beyond the first, second and third banks to The Shelf, where we joined the rest of the "fleet" near the Three Bears.

Joe's wife Ann, a school teacher and "first mate by land and sea," took the wheel while Joe organized and hooked up seven fishing poles in shiny chrome holders at the back of the boat.

Ann can hook, haul, swab and do everything Joe can do, but for the moment her job is to keep the boat on course.

"I like fisherwomen even better than fishermen because they pay attention, they aren't macho and they don't pretend to know everything," Joe said.

The first fish struck while Joe was still putting the lines out.

"Who's going to take it," he yelled, and there I was with a huge rod jammed into my stomach and a fish fighting furiously to go in the opposite direction. It turned out to be an 18-pound coho salmon, the biggest of the six salmon we caught that morning.

It took me 20 minutes to haul him in, although the struggle got more desperate as I replayed it that evening around the Fish Boil. Most of the charter boats had come in by then and were knocking gently against the dock of the nearby Solberg Marina in the small Michigan city of Manistee.

The charter boat captains and their wives were gathered around picnic tables, near their summer caravans, to savor the dinner — salmon, carrots, onions and potatoes layered and steamed in a huge pot over an open fire. It was served with corn-on-the-cob, salad and cold beer.

WE WERE lucky to be there, because a fish boil is usually a private affair, an evening meal that boat crews and their wives sometimes cook for themselves after the fish have been cleaned and the work is done for the day.

Most of the charter captains had down jobs, and fished for fun, before they decided to make fishing their business; many still hold down other jobs and charter only on weekends and holidays.

When do you go and how do you choose a charter? The season runs from April through November.

Michigan City, Ind., at the south end of Lake Michigan an hour's drive from Chicago, has one of the largest charter fishing fleets on the lake. You can fish from there for coho salmon March through May, for chinook May through July. By mid-June, a hybrid steelhead trout, called Skamania, starts running.

The coho and chinook go north as the water warms with summer. August and September is high season, when you catch the largest salmon and lake trout around Grand Traverse Bay. Things get active again all along the lake in late October and November when the salmon move towards their spawning grounds.

A charter boat costs about $60 per person for half a day, with a four-person minimum. Pick the morning and go early.

Charters are available all up and down the Lake Michigan shoreline. If you are based in Traverse City, you are less likely to be held back by bad weather; Grand Traverse Bay is like a big 200-square-mile lake.

CONTACT THE Fisheries Division of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, P.O. Box 30028, Lansing, Mich. 48909, for detailed information, including fishing tips and license fees. A daily fishing license costs less than $6.

The Michigan Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, Lansing, Michigan 48909, will send you state tourism booklets listing fishing and specialty charters, which includes boat size, passenger levels etc. Don't be afraid to ask how long they've been licensed and how much experience they've had.

And if you can find one, join a Fish Boil. They are sometimes organized as local charity events or during town festivals. There's nothing quite like telling fish stories while the butter runs down your chin into your shoes.

If you have a travel question for Iris Sanderson Jones, send it to 36231 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

Fighting junk mail

An Illinois man recently began fighting back on intrusive telephone advertising into homes. Bob Bulmash started a business called Private Citizen Inc., (PO Box 233, Naperville, Ill. 60566) to help people stop being hounded by telemarketers. Bravo!

Reading about Bulmash inspired me to follow through on a threat I've been making for a long time: To fight back on junk mail with a "Less is Better" campaign. I'm tired of being inundated with coupons I don't want, cards that fall out of magazines (onto the floor 100 percent of the time), fliers from stores I never shop and advertising inserts that accompany almost every bill — especially with those noxious perfumes.

I'm weary of advertisers "crying wolf" — going to any length to get my attention. I recently received an expensive envelope (closely resembling a major carrier's) saying, "Express Overnight — Extremely Urgent," etc. Inside — sure enough — a Buick dealer would give me the car of my choice, if . . . I was not impressed.

Throwing out junk mail without opening it is risky. Many checks have been lost that way. Once I almost pitched an unopened Mailgram, which experience had taught me to consider junk. In fact, it was an urgent message from my niece, a linguist on the Island of New Guinea.

Not only does junk mail infringe upon our time and energy, it also increases environmental waste disposal problems. (Besides that, I'm tired of taking out so much trash!). Although a few people seem to enjoy receiving unsolicited coupons and catalogs, most don't. I'm wondering about you?

Are you irked by an overwhelming influx of unwanted paper? If so, 1) which particular items bother you most, 2) which items do you enjoy receiving, and 3) what constructive ideas do you have for solving the problem?

There is an address in New York to reportedly get names removed from some mailing lists, but I've been told it helped only for awhile. Is there more than one place to write? Have you tried doing this? Has it worked? If so, for how long? How can junk mail be fought at the local level? Do any particular advertisers bother you most?

If you are tired of advertising overkill, join the "Less is Better" campaign. Send your replies to: Less is Better, in care of Organizing Techniques, 6165 Worlington, Birmingham 48010. If the response is great enough, I will send your message to the advertising industry. The results will be published in a future column.

Robert M. Melsner

Q. When my wife and I were divorced, my name was on the mortgage of the marital home which has now been quit claimed to her. Unfortunately, I continue to get credit statements showing that I am also a mortgagor on the house that is undermining my ability to borrow since it is reflected in part by the balance owing on the mortgage which my ex-wife is now obligated to pay in accordance with the divorce decree. What can I do with respect to this matter?

A. Write the mortgage company and tell them that you wish to be removed as a co-signer, so to speak, from the mortgage. Depending upon the amount of equity in the property, as well as your ex-wife's ability to pay the mortgage company, the mortgage company should be in a position to let you off the hook. If they refuse to do so, see a lawyer who may be able to assist you in obtaining some additional relief.

Also, make sure, if it is not already done, that your ex-wife will give you an indemnification and hold you harmless from any liability in connection with her failure to pay the mortgage payments. That should have been done, presumably, before the divorce judgement was entered.

Q: I am thinking about buying a "site" condominium, but I am concerned about the architectural controls that may not be enforced against the units by the developer. Do you have any comments?

A. Site condos are becoming more popular because it gives a developer an opportunity to circumvent the Subdivision Control Act, as well as to provide greater flexibility in terms of the types of units that may be constructed. Unfortunately, concomitant with that flexibility is the possibility that the developer will not enforce architectural uniformity in regard to the construction of units on the condominium site. Moreover, the construction of units may be staggered over many years and the quality of construction may not be uniform. Site condos are too early to pass judgment on, but additional caution is a good idea because of the unique nature of the concept.

Inside/out

A Japanese garden helps create a serene feeling on the once too-hot patio.

Brother-sister design team stress importance of tying 2 areas together

By Becky Eminger
special writer

Once the basic plan is in place, the accessorizing begins. The duo's close working relationship helps the client to put a lot of themselves into the design. They take "ownership" of it, so to speak.

OUT IN Bloomfield Hills is a graceful condominium tucked in a park-like setting. As you approach and explore it, it strikes a chord of serenity as beautiful as a simply melody.

Wouldn't it be nice to have an environment that blends so naturally with its surroundings, the interior and exterior seem to be one? Have you ever wished to create a place that reflects you as closely as notes in a symphony?

For most of us, it would be an unfinished symphony.

ENTER THE team of Karen Gagne and Patrick Sellenraad. This talented sister-brother duo specializes in helping create an environment that flows between the interior and the exterior.

Gagne is president of the design firm of Gagne and Gagne Interiors of Troy. Her brother is president of award-winning Klein Bloemendaal Nursery of Birch Run.

She does the inside; he designs the outside. Together they help the client create an environment to fit his/her specific needs. The exterior design repeats and emphasizes the themes and lines of the interior, extending the tone of the home.

Gagne and Sellenraad are members of an artistic family from Frankenmuth.

Gagne pursued her design degree at Michigan State and Delta College. Sellenraad finished his degree in horticulture at Michigan State University and his master's degree at Ohio State.

Because an interior may be spoiled by a poor view of the exterior, Gagne suggests her brother's services to clients who could benefit from landscaping design. Sellenraad, in turn, does the same.

SUCH WAS the case at a Cranbrook Manor condominium.

Gagne began the project after water damage from the loft necessitated renovating the main part of the first floor.

The enclosed atrium, a major design feature of the home, was so hot that the window treatments had to be drawn to keep out the heat. Another patio also reflected heat. Sellenraad picked up on the design elements of the interior to create outdoor rooms.

THE COURTYARD entry sets the mood. A brick path leads through a carpet of groundcover dotted with specimen plants.

Both designers believe the entry provides a transition, setting up anticipation and intrigue. Sellenraad's subtle use of art deco lines and a Japanese maple sets the tone for the eclectic design waiting within.

The atrium, the showplace of the home, is an extension of the parquet-floored entry. Accessible from the entry, living room and master bedroom, it echoes the peaceful, luxurious home surrounding it.

IT WASN'T always this way. Sellenraad created a serene mood by building a Japanese garden in the 12-foot-square area. He placed a waterfall and reflecting pool among varieties of azaleas, low juniper and miniature roses.

These, along with flowering perennials, provide season-long color. A tanyoshio pine and laceleaf Japanese maple echo the peaceful, Oriental mood. The running water from the waterfall camouflages road noise and cools the area.

The atrium now provides a changing concert of color in which to relax and soak up the sun. The finishing touch? A washing basin, a Japanese tradition provided to visitors for hand-washing.

GAGNE MADE the walls of the open living-dining room glow in shell pink. They furnish the perfect backdrop for the collections of art deco and Oriental pieces the owner has collected in her travels.

SELLENRAAD VISUALLY extended the floor space by installing a raised deck over a nearby cement patio. Because the patio radiated so much heat, it was unusable.

The deck created an outdoor eating area that remains cool and private, but catches breezes.

The brother-sister team agrees their goal is to " . . . approach each (situation) as an individual design problem to be solved." They start each project by learning all they can about the people who will live in the area.

Although their questions may sound nosy, they really want to find out how that particular client uses the space, Gagne said. By defining what needs the space must satisfy, the designers can draw up several options for the client to "try on."

They do not skip this first step. "Foresight is more important than money," Sellenraad said.

"Decorating isn't superficial," Gagne said. And finding the right background for indoor and outdoor activities takes patience and guidance. The result is symphony of beautiful design, not a cacophony of ideas and elements.
