Unisys set to clean site of contamination

By Doug Funke staff writer

Unisys Corp. is preparing a plan to clean contaminated ground water on its Plymouth Township property by pumping it out then running it through an on-site treatment pro-

The company also plans to install an underground drain to keep the contamination from spreading.

Tom Severino, a Unisys spokesman, said the company intends to install the system and begin pumping and cleaning this summer.

"It's going to cost a considerable amount of money," he said, declining to be more specific. "That's not the primary concern. The primary concern is to get started cleaning up.'

Virginia Loselle, a geologist with the state Department of Natural Resources, anticipates that Unisys will present a final plan for DNR review in two or three months.

"We'll give it the fastest turnaround we can give them," she said. DNR approval could come 4-6 weeks following receipt of the filing,

A COMPANY that proceeds with a cleanup prior to final DNR plan approval does so at its own risk and could end up with additional responsibilities, said Dipo Oyinson, a DNR district supervisor

The Unisys plant is at Plymouth and Haggerty.

Contamination, toxic chemicals used in the manufacturing process, came to light in the summer of 1987 through soil borings taken by a would-be developer of apartments on property offered for sale by Un-

The chemicals - vinyl chloride, toluene and 1,2 dichloroethlene had been dumped into a landfill on the site, long since closed.

'The primary concern is to get started cleaning up.'

— Tom Severino

The dumping was discontinued in the 1960s, Unisys said. The company said it wasn't aware of the dumping and contamination when it offered the land for sale.

THE GROUND WATER has crept about 300 hundred feet but hasn't left the Unisys property, Loselle said. A level of clay has kept the contaminated water at about 20 feet below ground.

Concentrations of toluene and 1,2 dichloroethlene found on the site apparently would exceed proposed permissible levels for drinking water, according to information provided by Chris Flaga, a DNR toxicologist, and Loselle.

It's also possible that the concentration of vinyl chloride exceeds existing drinking standards.

Exposure to high concentrations of those chemicals have been shown to cause liver cancer as well as kidney damage, Flaga said. However, there should be little danger to area residents because city water rather than well water is used in the township and people don't come in contact with the contamination at the former Unisys

"There's no immediate threat to public health unless people are on the site," Flaga said.

That contamination should be cleaned because ground water is a natural resource of the state and could be used for other purposes like irrigation, she added.

Work continued at the Amoco station on Main in Plymouth last week, as workers drilled into the ground to measure how far contamination from oil leaks had spread.

Amoco oil contamination area widens

Underground contamination near Ann Arbor Trail and Main Street in downtown Plymouth extends further than previously thought.

A consultant for Amoco Oil Co., ordered by the state Department of Natural Resources to drill more observation wells, has discovered petroleum products east of the Box Bar and Grill and on the west side of Main Street, said David Rymph, DNR environmental quality mana-

"I'm sure they now know the problem is larger than they represented it," said Rymph of Amoco consultant Neyer, Tiseo & Hindo Ltd.

"As I suspected, contamination may have been moving east."

The area is on a DNR list of contaminated sites. Over a period of years, an unknown amount of fuel oil and gasoline has escaped from underground storage tanks.

Wells are being dug in Kellogg Park and borings are being drilled in the Mayflower Meeting House to find out how far north and south the fuel oil and/or gasoline have spread,

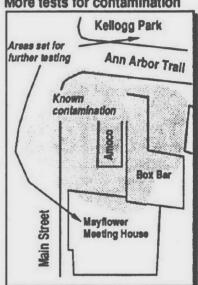

Rymph said. We're trying to determine the extent of the contamination so we can design a remediation plan to completely remove" petroleum products from groundwater and soil, Rymph

"We will have to move radially from the site until we find no contaminants." Tenants of the Meeting House, including the Observer newspapers and Meeting House owner Ralph Lorenz, have complained about fuel oil odors - another reason testing is

'We're going to try and find out how it (fuel oil) is getting from the ground up into the heating and cooling system in the Meeting House," said Dave LeClerc of Neyer, Tiseo.

More tests for contamination

A DEEP WELL on Amoco service station property at Ann Arbor Trail and Main is intended "to determine the vertical extent of contamination," Rymph said.

Neyer, Tiseo also is consulting with a mechanical engineering contractor to design a ventilation system that should prevent the accumulation of odors while the cleanup is under way, said Rymph.

How soon cleanup will begin won't be known until it's discovered how far the fuel oil has spread, Rymph

"It depends on what they find. It (drilling) will continue to drag out as long as we find contamination. We're using a phased approach," said

Exactly how water and soil will be purified or replaced has yet to be de-

Dearie Days changes to festival

staff writer

The Old Village Association of Plymouth is replacing its Dearie Days promotion this weekend with what it hopes will become an annual arts and crafts festival.

Antique buffs, painters, artisans and entertainers will showcase wares and talents from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

And, of course, merchants in Old Village will open their shops for business

The festival will take place on Farmer, Division, Mill and Liberty streets, said Richard Montgomery, president of the association.

"We wanted to do a major event rather than a garage sale event," he said of the promotional change.

We got a tremendous response from around the state. We'll probably have 100 to 150 crafters, antiquers and fine artists setting up this year," Montgomery said.

Goodbye!

Lowell Middle School students leave school, with visions of summer vacation already in their minds.

Students plan on fun as summer vacation starts in district

By Julie Brown staff writer

Thursday was a day for goodbyes at Lowell Middle School.

The final day of school was a halfday for the students. Along with their classmates throughout the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, Lowell students were looking forward to summer vacation.

dents headed for the doors and the be among the students' pursuits this school buses, eager to start their vacation. They'll have some free time between now and late August, when classes start again.

"I think that summer gives kids a chance to sort of recharge their batteries," said Patricia Patton, principal at Lowell Middle School, on Hix Road in Westland. "When they travel and do other activities, they're learning as well. They're learning and growing all summer long."

FAMILY VACATIONS, summer camp, school tutorial sessions and At 11 a.m. sharp, the Lowell stu- organized recreational activities will summer. Students will have time to

"I think they are anticipating summer," Patton said. "I think they anticipate being able to do those things and having some free time to do them."

The day was one of mixed feelings for the students and staff. People have worked hard throughout the school year, she said. There's a certain amount of relief, but also some sadness

"It's been a very positive year," Patton said.

Eric Lohrmann, 14, finished the eighth grade at Lowell Thursday. He'll start classes this fall at Plymouth Canton High School and isn't too worried about starting high

"It's the best," Lohrmann said in describing the last day of school. "It's going to be a lot of fun."

He's looking forward to doing some fishing in northern Michigan this summer. He'll miss seeing his school friends during the summer. "But I'll see them next year."

Theresa Polzin, 14, finished the eighth grade at Lowell last week. She'll start classes at Plymouth Salem High School this fall.

At Salem, there will be "a lot more freedom," Polzin said. "I'm not really nervous, though."

She's looking forward to swimming and just relaxing this summer.

DURING THE final half day, students at Lowell attended all their classes, meeting for a shorter time in each class. They took care of any unfinished business, such as turning in materials or getting tests and papers back.

On Wednesday, Lowell students got their yearbooks; Thursday, they had some time to get those yearbooks signed.

"It's really a day to complete things," Patton said. "This is a chance for them to finish up."

Having that sense of completion is important, particularly for the eighth graders who are heading for high school, she said.

The eighth graders have participated in orientation activities this year to help them adjust to high school life. The high school coun-selors from Centennial Educational Park have come to Lowell to visit with the eighth graders.

"I think they're feeling good about it," she said. "They're feeling pretty comfortable about it."

Board extends Hoben's contract

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education last week extended the contract of Superintendent John Hoben through the 1991-92 school

Hoben's performance was described as "very acceptable" and trustees said they were "more than satisfied" with the superintendent.

Vehicles bought

Two more vehicles have been added to Plymouth-Canton Community Schools' fleet.

Chevrolet donated to the district a 1989 Cavalier to be used in the high schools' automotive program.

The district purchased a Ford cargo van for its maintenance staff. A resolution to buy the van for $12,868 from Blackwell Ford was passed by the school board last week.

The van will be used by district technicians, enabling them to go from site to site with electrical, heating, cooling and carpentry equipment. Funds for the purchase will come from the 1986 bond project.

Spaniel's work is highlighted in a committee publication called "Creating a State of Literacy."

Bid awarded for roof replacement

Plymouth-Canton school trustees approved a $472,500 low bid to replace 13-year-old roofs at Eriksson, Field and Hulsing elementary schools last week. Fisher Roofing Co. is targeting

Aug. 15 as its completion date.
William Wright of Roofing Con-Theresa Vertar of Plymouth sultants Inc. recommended Fisher and its four-ply coal tar pitch roof

The school roofs are being replaced because the old ones are leaking and repairs are not cost effective, said Ray Hoedel, associate superintendent for business. "Reroofing is the only long-term solution," he said.

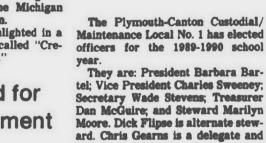

Four-ply coal tar pitch roofs have a life expectancy of approximately 20 years, making them "far and above the best buy," Wright said.

Voters' passage of a 4-mill tax increase in last week's election made the roof replacement possible, school officials said.

CANTON POLICE have responded to eight to 10 bogus 9-1-1 calls daily since Canton hooked up to the emergency system June 9, Canton police Lt. Larry Stewart said. The problem lies with cordless the township spent on responding to accidental 9-1-1 calls. When police receive a 9-1-1 call, the telephone number and address of the caller is printed out on a computer screen. If a voice isn't heard, a dispatcher calls the number back. Police cars are sent out if no one an-

"The potential danger is that the cars are tied up for other emergencies," said Stewart. "By virtue of the emergency, there is an increase potential for accidents. And it's unnecessary. Certainly it's a concern of the department to have this many (wrong calls)."

THE RANDOM dialing isn't "that big of a problem," said Joe Benyo, Enchanced 9-1-1 coordinator for the Conference of Western Wayne.

Once the cordless telephone owner is told about the problem, there shouldn't be a repeat accidental 9-1-1 call from the location, Benyo said.

To help curb the problem, police suggest that cordless telephones be kept on the hook at night or when residents are not at home.

The random 9-1-1 calls made by cordless telephones are a nationwide problem, Kopinski said.

Older and cheaper cordless telephones seem to be causing the biggest problem, experts say.

"As people get newer phones, the problem with cordless phones should go away," said Dean Hovey, Michigan Bell media relations manager. Hovey has another possible solution to the problem in Canton. Since the system is new in the township, Hovey said, some people may dial the number just to see if it works and then they say: "The phone made me do it," Hovey said. Stewart said he was amazed the problem hadn't been corrected earli-

Michigan Bell's parent company, Ameritech, has recommended that cordless telephone manufacturers improve their products to prevent the 9-1-1 random dial.

Exam set in fatality

A Canton Township man was arraigned Thursday on a charge of negligent homicide in connection with a June 10 car-truck collision that killed a 29-year-old

Robert Wayne Blanchard, 22, pleaded not guilty to the charge before 18th District Court Judge Gail McKnight. The charge is a high misdemeanor punishable by a maximum two-year prison sen-

Henry Meyers died from massive head injuries suffered in the collision, on Merriman at Steinhauer, police said.

McKnight set a $5,000 personal recognizance bond for Blanchard.

A preliminary examination was scheduled for 9 a.m. Monday, July 3, in McKnight's courtroom.

POLICE SAID Meyers was driving northbound on Merriman at 10:12 a.m. when his 1981 Dodge Omni was struck head-on by an out-of-control flatbed truck. The truck had struck another northbound car and hit a second vehicle before hitting Meyers' car, police said.

Witnesses told police the driver of the truck crossed over the center line so that the truck was on the wrong side of the road.

By Janice Brunson

On Mother's Day, Buster, a 7year-old spaniel noted for his friendly nature, was brutally attacked by larger dogs and mortally injured. He died the following day.

Two Detroit youths, ages 11- and 13-years, are responsible for Bust-er's violent death. They stole the small dog, a family pet, from the neighbor's yard and placed him in a pen with German shepherds and Rottweilers located in another neighbor's yard.

The large dogs, trained for sale as guard dogs, immediately turned on Buster. Within minutes, "he was ripped apart," according to Tim Clements, one of five officers employed by the Michigan Humane tacts made a year ago.

The 13-year-old readily admitted his participation in the incident, telling Clements this is not the first time he and his younger companion had placed a small dog in the pen for "sport," the thrill of the kill.

When Clements confronted the 11-year-old, he defiantly denied participation. He also threatened the only witness to the incident with a gun. The youth's mother, a crack addict, expresses little inter-est in her son and is hostile toward Clements, who says the boy should be removed from the home.

"IF HE STAYS there, he doesn't have much of a shot at making it," said Clements, who is taking legal steps to place the boy in a foster home. A former police officer who has been an animal cruelty investigator for two years, Clements is hopeful of success because of con-

The situation was very different last July when Clements uncovered an unlicensed nursing home in Detroit where six elderly women and 58 dogs were living in substandard conditions. When he attempted to enlist assistance from health and other social service officials, he met with agency indifference.

What I had to do after I made the proper complaints and nobody did anything, was contact the media," Clements said. After the case received wide publicity, the home was closed. Clements maintains touch with contacts made then and continues to nurture them for fu-

Too often, humane society officers are not viewed seriously by social and health workers, police officers and others involved in protec-

"To them, we're dog police and animals are expendable," said Mark Kaltz, who, like Clements, investigates animal cruelty.

Part of the problem is that the mistreatment of animals, especially by the young, is dismissed as a prank or poor judgment.

Attitudes, however, are changing, according to David Wills, a Birmingham resident who since 1981 has directed the Michigan Humane Society.

"THERE IS DEFINITELY a heightened awareness, from the prosecutor to the judge. They are beginning to recognize animal abuse as signals of deviant human behavior." Wills said. Public pressure, he added, is also molding attitudes. "People are tired of crime."

Judge Daphne Means Curtis of 36th District Court considers animal cruelty a serious matter. "I take it pretty seriously, maybe less so than cruelty against humans, but not much. Whether against an animal or a human, cruelty shows a disregard for life and feeling."

Officer Mike Killian comes up empty as he Park for kittens. He was following up on a call searches an abandoned building in Highland to the humane society office.

Gary Vickers, a Wayne County assistant prosecutor who works the misdemeanor court in 36th District, sees many animal cruelty cases. Most are "pretty horrible," like the Detroit man who burned a Tabby kitten with cigarettes and an open stove flame, or the woman from Canton who killed her dog by taping a toy into its mouth. Unable to eat or drink, the dog died of heat

Because most are first-time offenders, "basically all we can do is place them on probation, ask they make restitution (for court costs) and deny future pet ownership,' Vickers said.

The man who burned the cat, for example, was sentenced to a 30-day work release program and de-nied pet ownership for life.

AFTER THE SECOND grisly killing of dogs in Livonia last month, Sgt. Donald Vandersloot of the Livonia police was assigned to investigate both incidents. A 24year veteran of the police force, this is his first case involving animals. He has conferred with the humane society's officer assigned to Livonia, after the officer contacted Vandersloot, but there has been little progress in the case.

"We don't have anything to work with. No leads. No suspects," Vandersloot said.

This is often the case in animal cruelty investigations. Proof of ownership and cause of death is frequently impossible to determine because of the length of time between the crime and discovery of the carcass. Last year, the society had to abort 80 investigations for lack of evidence or witnesses.

And in the instance of Buster, charges against the two youths responsible for his death have been dropped because the dog's owner, a neighbor to the two boys, refuses to file charges.

Officer Clements is crestfallen. "Maybe it's intimidation. Who knows for sure."

SIENNA LARENE, an attorney for the humane society who updates the organization's handbo on animal cruelty laws, writes, "Inroads towards ending abuse of animals will be seen only when these cases are handled as a serious part of the law enforcement framework of our society.

"Humane societies and animal control officers as well as police authorities will play a vital part in that effort."

Next, animal sacrifice, perhaps the most extreme form of animal cruelty: is it on the in-

Imagine the following: You are a homeowner; you have worked hard to pay your bills; you keep your home clean and well-maintained; you work with your neighbors to keep the community safe and viable, yet your house is being taken away — you must move and

That is what is happening to 30 Detroit churches. Many are self-supporting, have funds in the diocesan savings program, have well-maintained buildings, provide desperately needed services to the community, yet they are being closed and sold by the Archdiocese In the four and one-half years of the existence of the task force and committees which studied the church in the city and made recommendations to the Cardinal, not one parish slated to close was visited by any committee. Repeated requests for dialogue with the Ten churches have already been closed. Seventeen more face a June 30 deadline. Three others must close when their pastors retire. At a time when Detroit needs more churches rather than less, we are struggling to keep them open. The churches scheduled to close · Holy Ghost — built for and by black parishloners.

· St. Philip Nerl - building will be used for an outreach center, but by order of the Archdiocese, may not be used for prayer or worship.

· St. Theresa of Avila and Stanislaus - have met Archidiocesan criteria for viability and are still scheduled to close. · Resurrection, Mother of Consolation, St. Montage Strong, Viable self-supporting · St. Boniface/St. Vincent — Historie Church, self-supporting.

Patronage of St. Joseph and Mother of Qur. Savior — in excess of $50,000 in the

 Archdiocesan Savings Fund
 St. Casimir, St. Brigid — schools remain open but churches must close.
 St. Rose of Lima — has managed to stay alive and strong for two years with no pastor and little Archdiocesan support. Five years ago, the Archdiocese spent over $100,000 to renovate the school basement for worship.

St. Ignatius of Aptioch - involved in ecumenical outreach in the neighborhood.

Visitation - strong, viable community that has already downsized to accommodate financial needs.

Minister liked coverage of schools

As you are probably aware, we in the Plymouth-Canton community have just completed a highly emotional election which had as its focus an eight-mill renewal and a fourmill tax increase for our school district. I want you to know how very d I am with the leadership that the Observer newspapers in our community provided in recent

Jeff Counts came forward in an editorial and challenged the community clergy to respond to the allegations of a group of conservative Christians who call themselves Citizens for Better Education. The people of CBE claimed that witchcraft and Satanism were being taught in our school district and were, in their opinion, contributing to an anti-Christian environment. Following Jeff's lead and after reviewing the claims of CBE, a group of 14 of us responded through the "Letters to the Editor" column. We found their claims to be without basis or substance. Jeff printed our letter in its Next, correspondent Marybeth Dillon followed up by asking to meet with the clergy who had written the letter. Meeting with the clergy at a local church she pursued the different issues that were raised in the letter. She developed her story into a very interesting and thorough presentation of the issues. Her article was given front page coverage.

Then, while attending another community function, Julie Brown overheard a conversation between two individuals in which they were talking about the unannounced visit of a CBE-sponsored school board member at a local church. Julie followed up this information, substantiated the information and obtained further details which further helped our community see the sometimes outrageous impropriety of the CBE. Her story, too, was given front page

The Observer newspaper in Plymouth and Canton endorsed the millage renewal and the increase. Both passed. They also endorsed the incumbent for the sole position on the school board over the candidate put forth by the CBE, thus encouraging the community to use the ballot box to send a message to the religious right. In all matters the community emphatically followed the Observer's lead.

Our community and school district owe a deep and profound expression of gratitude to the entire staff of the Plymouth and Canton Observer newspapers. ## Family day outstanding

I'd like to express my appreciation to the Plymouth Canton Education Association, the teacher's association, for the excellent experience I had on Tuesday, May 9, at their fam-

As a member of the community, I was invited to participate in a daylong visit to our schools. My host school was East Middle School, where my son attends. The teacher volunteers with whom I visited were Barbara Church and Shiela Alles. Students, administrators and teachers were all warmly cordial.

From the rodent balls rolling around the floor while students gave presentations in Mrs. Church's fascinating science classes, to the lively discussions of beloved classics in Mrs. Alles' reading classes, to the rising decibels in the cafeteria, I learned far more than I ever expect-

I saw masterful techniques of classroom management, discipline and motivation dished out good naturedly with respect for the students.

I was disappointed to learn from Liz VanWestenberg, family day chair, that far more teachers volunteered to be hosts than citizens volunteered to visit.

Next year, I hope lots of people want to spend the day in the schools on family day.

Everyone should also remember that citizens are always welcome in the schools. Just observe the same courtesy you would in visiting anyone at their home. Call ahead and arrange a time when the teachers would be comfortable having you.

The most effective schools have lots of parent involvement. Thanks,

Volunteers thanked

To the editor:

The I CARE Committee would like to thank all the volunteers who worked so tirelessly on our recent Kick-Off Rally that brought over 1,300 residents to Centennial Education Park on May 25. Many, many staff, parents, and citizens worked together for months to organize our first districtwide event that brought all of our schools together for an evening of good food, camaraderie, displays of excellence and motivational speeches.

Parents and staff worked very hard to reflect their school's individual identity and excellence in the beautiful display tables and in the roll call of schools that entertained and informed the audience. We were all very moved by our keynote speakers, Don Canham and Dr. William Revelli. We will not forget Dr. Revelli's words, "A school is four walls filled with tomorrow" and that we should not forget that our children's future is in our hands.

Even the business community came forth to help the I CARE Committee. We were very appreciative of the contribution from John Williams, owner of Arnholdt Williams Music in Canton. He donated a professional sound system that enabled the audience to hear the drama, emotion, and humor from even our youngest participants with the smallest voices.

It is gratifying to know that so many citizens, parents and staff not only care deeply about the quality of our school but also are willing to work tirelessly to mark our events

Diverse leadership needed in Detroit

WHETHER OR NOT Tom Barrow is the best candidate for mayor of Detroit is up for grabs. But he is on target in his conviction that "the suburbs and Detroit are inexplicably intertwined."

But how to make the people of the suburbs realize that and care for and work for Detroit as they do for their own communities is the heart of the problem.

Barrow penetrated the suburbs last Monday to both physically and verbally make his point.

In an interview over lunch at Ginopolis Restaurant in Farmington Hills, he said that the caring is there. Much of suburbia came from Detroit. "They care about that old neighborhood," Barrow insists.

And "It's not just white people, there are tremendous numbers of blacks who have left Detroit."

BARROW SAYS:

• "They may live in Birmingham, but they work at that law firm in Detroit - or they own property there."

• "Even though you live in Southfield, you've got a stake in what happens a half mile away."

• "Every single (suburban) mayor has a stake, whether it's the water or sewer systems. They can all think they're an island, but they're not." As a former northwest Detroiter and Mumford High School graduate, I agree that the caring is there. It is reassuring that my old Sherwood Forest neighborhood is in

But Livernois and Seven Mile Road, which used to be known as the Avenue of Fashion, could hardly be called that today. And people no longer move to Sherwood Forest so their children can attend Hampton and Durfee and Mumford. Those children, now parents themselves, want Lone Pine, West Hills and Andover. And those with school-age children in Sherwood Forest send them off to private and parochial schools.

All that's upsetting.

BARROW WOULD play on that nostalgia in reaching out to bridge the gulf between Detroit and its suburbs.

He says he wants to bring back Washington Boulevard which once was flanked by two grand hotels, with posh stores in between. He wants not just a riverfront or a Greektown or a Fox Theatre, but a viable shopping, entertainment, business district connecting them.

But nostalgia and caring from afar is not enough. Detroit no longer reflects what suburbanites want. To change that, whites must be brought back into Detroit's political system.

Barrow understands that, although he says blacks who subscribe to this are called Uncle Toms, while whites who say it are labeled racists.

But there is no doubt that suburban Detroiters, black and white, must buy into Detroit's plight and make it their own if the city is to come back.

DETROIT MUST be made crime-free, drug-free and its schools brought up to snuff, then businesses and people will move back and there will be the press from the suburbs - not just the city - for a safe, clean, efficient public transportation system to get to this dynamic city.

Cities which are viable have diverse populations, and leadership which reflects that. And that goes for suburbs too.

KIDNEY FAILURE AND ARTHRITIS Individuals with failing kidneys are subject to a number of muscle aches and bone pains characterized being recurrent, unexpected and prolonged. These pains arise because the kidneys are responsible for keeping the body's calcium, phosphorous, and hydroxy ion in a chemical balance; when the kidneys begin to fail, the balance is destroyed. The result is that combinations of these chemicals precipitate where tendons anchor into bone and where ligaments bind bone to bone, and cause an irritation like a sliver under the skin. These precipitations usually are not seen on x-rays. Thus, their presence is difficult to ascertain, and their extent cannot be established with certainty.

Treatment presents further problems as most of the medications used to counter inflammation are removed by the kidney. With the kidney impaired, these drugs remain in the circulation and can reach concentrations which are toxic to the stomach and liver.

Steroid injection is often used to stop the muscle and bone conditions brought on by kidney fallure. As the underlying failure is rarely reversed, and often progressive, this therapy may need to be repeated frequently.

Group spokeswoman Valerie Steer urged the commissioners to sign a resolution in support of KidSpace, Inc., an on-site day care center proposed by County Executive Edward McNamara to operate in the Wayne County building in downtown De-

The workers, including several pregnant women, accused the com-mission of stalling on the plan initiated last February.

"They've been sitting on this thing for three months. We're trying to get them to put it on the agenda and they won't," said one county worker.

Steer, an assistant prosecutor who expects her first child in August, said all 27 unions representing county workers support the proposed center. The Northville woman was there as a representative of the Wayne County Bar Association.

The commission took no immediate action, but scheduled a committee hearing Tuesday morning. During the commission's regular meeting which followed the budget session, Chairman Arthur Carter blasted the proposal as ill-timed and inappropriate.

While I support the expansion of child care options, I question the use of scarce county resources to provide a new benefit to only 100 employees out of 4,500 in our work force," he said.

"I simply do not believe that the county can afford this program. In the first quarterly report for this fiscal year, the county executive pro-

The plan calls for a center licensed for up to 90 children. The program would be operated by the Merrill Palmer Institute of Wayne State University. The program would cost the county $350,000 from funds reserved to repair the Murphy Hall of Justice. After the start up contribution, the center would become self-sufficient.

"The money was sitting there for KidSpace," she said. "Further, studies done show child care problems cost the county more than (the center) due to tardiness, absenteeism and lack of productivity.

Friday afternoon Carter said he would ask the commission to explore the possibility of entering a joint agreement with city of Detroit employees to create a child care program to benefit both employer

County to join 'Eyes and Ears' safety program

Wayne County will join the "Eyes and Ears" program initiated by the public utilities.

"Eyes and Ears" identification decals, supplied by Detroit Edison, have been affixed to more than 275 orange Wayne County Department of Public Service radio equipped vehicles. The purpose of the logo is to alert the public, especially young people, that the vehicle is an emergency reporting station and the county employee operating the vehicle is trained to request emergency assistance.

"We must take every precaution to protect the safety of our young children, especially during the sum-mer months," said Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara.

"Our drivers will provide a temporary refuge to a young person in trouble until the police arrive or alert authorities of any suspicious activities they may observe."

THE PRIMARY focus of the "Eyes and Ears" program will be reporting suspicious persons and situa-tions that appear to be related to sexual assaults, abductions, and rapes. In addition, they will be on the lookout for fires, burgularies and other types of crime related activities. Nearly 650 employees have been trained in crime reporting techniques by Detroit Police Department instructors.

"Drivers who observe problems will contact their local yard dispatcher, who in turn will contact the appropriate emergency agency," said Russell Gronevelt, public service director. "Our employees have been advised to observe and report, not attempt to apprehend offend-

"I am hopeful that many other agencies will participate in this worthy program," said McNamara.

Chicken cooks up any style

When it comes to cooking, I can think of only one food that lends itself to just about every style of cooking.

You can bake it, fry it, stew it, char it, microwave it, barbecue it and do just about anything to it except eat it raw. You can find it on the menu at the best restaurants in the country in addition to the nation's soup kitchens. It's more popular than hamburger and, in most instances, just as inexpensive to prepare. I'm talking about chicken

Prior to 1930, chicken meat was mainly the by-product of egg production. Birds who were no longer producing eggs at a satisfactory rate were sold for meat purposes. In 1934, almost four billion broilers were produced, 115 times as many as 45 years earli-

Today, broiler production is so concentrated and so highly commercialized that the industry can now be classed as a poultry factory rather than a farming operation. The United States alone produced more than seven billion tons of poultry in 1980. Today, processors sell about 54 percent of their broilers as whole birds with 38 percent as cut-up measly eight percent fur-processed into rauggets, and ! products or whatever. canz

LE GROWING UP in otte, Momma usually rechicken as a Sunday mainentree. It was served with the groverhial mashed potatoes and overcooked green beans that you simild eat-without teeth in your mouth.

Todayia yuppie kitchens serve chicken as a main entree on the average of two times per week. Morning aways reasted or baked the bird and usually served it whole, with Dad serving as the carver a la Thanksgiving dinner.

Today, chicken can be seen not simply as an entree by itself but also stir-fried in woks with assorted vegetables or baked in numerous casseroles with rice, vegetables and the ever-present Campbell's soups. Restaurants are serving the bird stuffed. grilled, smoked and garnished with sauces that range from sweet Vidalia onions in a light cream to a dried Michigan cherry sauce that sweetens up an otherwise too-bland-tasting product.

Prior to cooking, it's important to remember to store and handle chicken properly. You can store chicken in the refrigerator for a few days (no more than three) with temperatures between 35-40

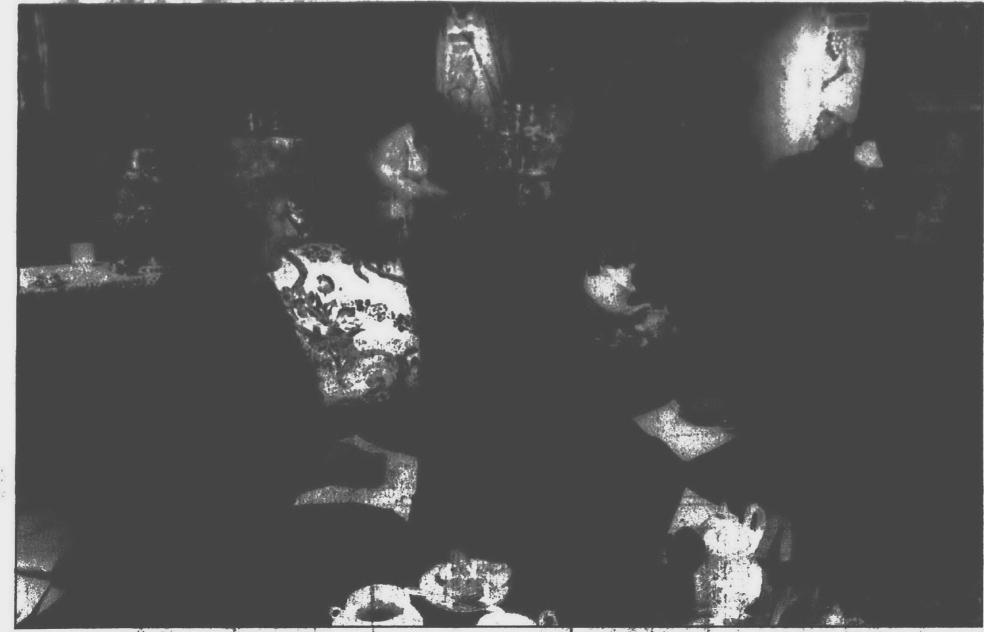

Keep the birds in the coldest part of the fridge, preferrably in the meat keeper. Wrap poultry properly for refrigeration. The plastic wrap that is on the chicken when purchased is designed to contact apply the law poultry wrapped in paper while the unwrapped, placed on a paper and then recovered with plastic wrap for refrigeration.

CARE AND CLEANLINESS should always be used in the preparation, cooking and serving of chicken. Momma always reminded us to wash the poultry thoroughly before cooking. It's best to cook the chicken completely at one time rather than cook, store, and finish cooking at a later date.

Restaurants and homemakers alike should be concerned about cross-contamination when cooking any type of poultry. Simply put, never prepare chicken on cutting boards and countertops without a complete clean-up before preparing other foods. Today's mass production of the birds can literally make them a haven for bacteria and food con-

Tea Hostess Pauline Palazzolo serves tea to Geraldine Granfield of Birmingham (left) and Elizabeth Hartjen of Royal Oak in the charming lobby of Birmingham's Townsend Hotel. The English ritual is presented in the authentic British manner — with the proper tea service and several delightful courses. Tuesdays-Saturdays 3-5;30 p.m. are the times reserved for tea.

Tea time: A civilized custon

By Cathie Breidenbach staff writer

ETAILS MAKE the difference. The Townsend Hotel in downtown Birmingham across from Shain Park, attends to the multiple details that go into serving an authentic tea in the English manner. "A lot of little things make it right," said tea hostess Pauline Palazzolo. Tea, of course, has come to mean more than the bracing brew favored by the English. It's a light meal served in the afternoon to stave off hunger until the late, English dinner hour.

Through generations, the tradition of afternoon tea has evolved into a ritual pleasure that not only satisfies the appetite but nourishes the civilized spirit as well.

PALAZZOLO SAYS before the hotel began serving tea in the lobby three months ago, the staff spent several months perfecting the details - combing English cookbooks for traditional recipes, taking tea at restaurants and hotels in Canada and Chicago, and shopping for the china, silver and linens they would need to order to serve an authentic English

With abundant polished brass, rich wood-paneled walls and gracious service, the 87-room Townsend recreates the style of European hotels. The lobby captures the ambiance of an English drawing room, with plush rose-colored sofas, a large flowered rug and a scattering of English floral-print pillows.

STEPPING INTO the dark-paneled room with its elegant, but comfortable furniture clustered near the fireplace is like stepping out of the harried present into an older, more refined era. The decor sets the tone

Brewing a proper pot of tea is an art which the Townsend staff takes pride in liaving mastered. The pot must first be thoroughtly heated with hot water. The water must be nton rolling bell because combois-seurs insist that only bolling water brings out flavor properly.

THE TOWNSEND uses large silver samovars that not only look. splendid as they heat the water but eliminate the problem of water losing its heat in transit from the kitchen. Tea leaves must be loose, and the pot should be china because those who know tea say metal teapots and teabags taint the tea's pure flavor. At the Townsend, guests choose from imported loose teas such as Earl-Grey, Darjeeling, English Breakfast, Jasmine, Cinnamon, Chamomile and Ceylon.

Embroidered linen napkins come from Ireland, and the utensils used" are all silver - down to the strainer to catch loose leaves when tea is poured. As a concession to diet-conscious guests, the Townsend provides artifical sweeteners as well as sug-ar. Sweetener is served in old-fashioned silver salt cellars with tiny silver spoons.

You can be picky about strawberries

By Anne Lehmann special writer

Whether you're a gourmand always searching for the freshest ingredients for the finest fare, a doit-yourselfer who enjoys home canning, or a family on the lookout for a fun outing, rejoice. It's the height of Michigan's strawberry picking sea-

According to John Sherman, owner and operator of the Strawber-ry Patch, a U-pick farm in Milford, the crop of these fragrant and robust morsels is bountiful, and the picking is great, thanks to a relatively frostfree season. Happily, the opportunity to pick your own abounds in Wayne and Oakland counties.

Besides providing a morning of outdoor fun, picking your own strawberries has definite advantag-

THE FLAVOR of this fresh-picked fruit is unquestionably superior to that of the store-hought variety. Those who have eaten berries fresh from the garden will attest to their ambrosial qualities. Sherman attributes this to the fact that the shipping berries one often finds on store shelves are usually picked 40 percent green.

If you are one to use large quantities of the fruit, it makes economic sense to pick your own. You get quality goods at reasonable prices.

Sherman said it is not uncommon for pickers to take away a hundred pounds of the fruit, many of them people with big freezers or restaurant owners hand picking for their discerning clientele

Finally, picking your own strawberries is the ultimate in quality control, assuring that there will be no surprises at the bottom of the quart. You know what you are get-ting down to the very last berry.

If the taste and visual appeal of this versatile fruit haun't yet sold you on an excursion to one of the lostrawberries are low in calories and rich in vitamins. Ten large fresh strawberries contain 37 culories and a whole day's quota of vitamin C. How much better can a food get? SOME TIPS for strawberry pick• Call ahead before going to a U-

· Plan to pick in the cooler hours of the morning. Berries that are picked after it gets hot remain hot in the container and spoil quickly.

• Bear in mind that strawberry picking can be a messy affair, so stick with old, sensible clothes that will also protect you from the sun and insects.

 Select firm, dry, shapely, glossy, dark red berries that have green caps. Avoid berries that are pale in color or that have white shoulders. Immature berries such as these won't ripen after they have been · Don't wash or hull berries until you are ready to use them. Berries will stay fresh and delicious up to one week in the refrigurator.

ADVERTISEMENT WINNERS CHROPA

BY LAURIE KIPP

Michigan has had a Lotto game for nearly five years now. Nevertheless, read-ers still have a lot of questions about the game and especially its winners.

Q. How many winners have there been? A. Through the end of May, more than 3,500,000 players have won Lotto prizes. That's the equivalent of about one prize for every two adults in this state.

A. Since the original Lotto game's start in August of 1984, players have won over $1.975,000,000. At this rate, prizes may reach $2 billion in July.

Q. How many jackpots have been won? A. As of this writing, 359 players won or shared jackpots worth more than $960,000,000. This includes 36 lottery

Q. What was the largest jackpot?
A. Michiganh record of $33.5 million was set September 17, 1968. Two lucky winners

Q. What was the biggest individual prize?

A. A $17 million jackpot was won by a two-member lottery club on February 13, 1988.

Q. How have players matching five or four of the winning numbers fared?

A. They have done pretty well for themselves, too, collecting a total of more than $400,000,000. The largest prize for matching five numbers was $4,502 on January 25, 1989. The top prize for matching four numbers, $144, came on June 21, 1986.

Q. How long has Michigan's Lotto game gone without a jackpot winner?

A. Seven consecutive rollovers led up to the record jackpot last September.

Q. Why are jackpots in some other states larger than Michigan's?

A. The odds of winning are much longer in some other letteries, so more rollovers occur, boosting the size of the jackpot. Per example, Illinois game requires players to match six of 54 numbers. The odds of doing this are about one in 13 million, compared with Michigan's odds of about one in 7 million.

Q. Why are jackpota paid over 20 years?

A. This is done to other bigger prices to winners. Funds set askis for jackpots are lavested, with winners getting all the principal and interest earned. Without the 20-year plan, jackpots would only be about fall the dist they now are.

The Twomsend continues to perfect its ten by reso-vating the Gallery to increase seat-ing and by importing Irish lines cioths for the tables, as well as spe-cially ordering English teaspoons, which are smaller than what Americans call teaspoons and larger than demitasse spoons.

The surroundings and the tea service may be elegant, but the Townshend clearly sees itself as a neighborbood hotel, "so our lifestyle is more casual" Palazzolo says. "We're a luxury bolel, but we're not enobly or pretentious," and drop-in tea or pretentious," and drop-in tea guests in casual clothes are wel-come.

Kathleen Perry, hostess of the syndicated TV show "The Everyday Gourmet," has traveled the country talking about chicken safety, for the National Broiler Council.

Perry said bacteria is present on the skin of any meat, fish or poultry. It's easy to elimate bacteria from chicken by cooking it to 165 degrees (for boneless chicken) and 185 degrees (for whole chicken or cut-up parts with bone), she explained.

So you don't have a meat thermometer? "If the juices run clear instead of pink, everything's all clear," Perry said.

Thawing chicken requires care. When you thaw, thaw it in the refrigerator the night before, or in the microwave, or under cold, running water. Bacteria loves to grow at room temperature," she said.

When you buy a whole chicken, it should be removed from the bag, rinsed and repackaged in a plastic bag. If you buy it in the supermaket package, that's fine. "It's already antiseptically done at the processor."

WASHING YOUR hands, cutting board and knives in hot soapy water is important. Also, "Keep cold foods cold and hot foods hot until serving," she said. Maximum time at room temperature should be two hours.

"The Everyday Gourmet" offered some suggestions for quick, easy meals using chicken. "When you buy chicken breasts with the tenderloin (the long, skinny strips) still attached, save the tenderloin for a separate meal," she said.

Freeze them. When you get enough, you can do a quick stir-fry, and serve it over pasta or rice. You can also bread the tenderloins with parmesan dressing and have your own Chicken Tenders."

When cooking chicken breasts, "Tarragon is especially lovely," Per-ry said. She gave a recipe for "just a quick saute, with equal parts (one tablespoon each) of butter and oil peanut butter is nice - it has a high smoking temperature."

Don't season the chicken until after it is cooked. Otherwise, the seasoning will draw out the juices. Remove the chicken from the heat, pour off the fat and deglaze the pan on high heat, with ½ cup wine or chicken broth. "Let it boil down, or cook down to ¼ cup. Add spices (tar-ragon, pepper and salt) and a couple tablespoons of cream.'

ANOTHER RECIPE, from her cookbook "The Everyday Gourmet," is for Medallions of Turkey (or chicken) with Mushroom Tarragon Sauce. "It can be served over pasta or rice," Perry said.

Other spices good with chicken include rosemary, or garlic. Her favorite recipe for chicken breasts is Chicken Rollups. "You can vary the fillings. It looks like you really fussed. Ham and cheese is chicken cordon bleu. Call it rollups, the kids will eat it. It makes its own sauce in the microwave." Try chicken breasts with herb butter (dill, tarragon or basil). "You can put a pat over the chicken, and just saute it," Perry said. Her cookbook, published in 1986, is available in paperback in the Warner Books Edition for $8.95. "I used to be a real gourmet," Perry said. "It took a great deal of time and effort." She found she was doing fewer things her family enjoyed, so she "simplified the classic recipes. Everything (the ingredients) is available from the supermarket."

WITH BARBECUE season coming up, she stressed, "Don't put cooked meat on the platter that carries meat to the grill. Use a separate

Wood cutting boards need to be scoured well. "Use acrylic because it goes in the dishwater. Save the wood board for vegetables."

Like father, like son

Being Little Al just fine with Unser

staff writer

That the first Valvoline Detroit Grand Prix took place on Father's Day was most fitting.

It brought to Motown - and Farmington, too - one of the greatest and most recognizable father-son names in Indy-car racing - that of the Unsers.

Al Unser Jr., who signed autographs during Grand Opening ceremonies Thursday at the new Valvoline Instant Oil Change shop on Grand River, admits he rarely does an interview when he's not asked about his famous father.

"I've never worried about it," Al Jr. said, "because I'm very proud of my dad. If I'm to remain the son of four-time Indy winner Al Unser that's cool. It doesn't bother me."

After seven years of professional racing, however, Al Jr. has become famous, also. He no longer stands in his father's shadow as he did at the start of his career.

Little Al has developed a fan following of his own and a successful career for himself. And, oh, has Al Jr. become a success.

THE 27-YEAR-OLD Unser, who won his first Indy-car race on Father's Day in 1984, was No. 5 in alltime earnings with $4,495,553 entering the Detroit race, putting him ahead of former Indy winners Danny Sullivan and Johnny Rutherford.

The most-repeated quote from Al Jr. concerns his father's role in helping him to learn the trade. "Dad taught me everything I know," he said, "but he hasn't taught me everything he knows.'

It was suggested to the younger

'The reason I love Indy cars is because it is a very precise form of racing. And a street course, where you have walls on both sides of you, is the ultimate test of precision.'

> Al Unser Jr. Indy-car driver

Unser, who is now recognized for his own accomplishments more than he is for having a famous father, could probably teach his dad a few tricks.

"I doubt it," Al Jr. said. As a testimony to his rise in the sport, Al Jr. came to Detroit as the current point leader in the 1989 Indy Car World Series, having a small lead over Rick Mears, 59-55.

It is a title Unser has never won. He was the International Race of Champions winner twice and has been second in the CART-PPG season series twice. In 1985, in the closest Indy-car finish in history, Al Sr. and Al Jr. finished 1-2 with one point separating them.

"THIS IS the best start I've had," Al Jr. said. "It's hard to stay up there all year long. The points are close and will remain close.

"It would be one of my lifelong goals to win the championship. And, of course, the other is to win Indy.'

Al Jr. was four laps from realizing that goal, too, in the latest Indy 500. He had overtaken race-long leader Emerson Fittipaldi, but a collision with the eventual winner sent him spinning into the wall and out of the

"We went into Turn 3 - and he came out and I didn't," said Unser. who received $390,000 for finishing second. He added he has no animosity toward Fittipaldi. "He's a compeititor and he'll remain the same."

Since then, people who have seen the tape of the crash are amazed that Al Jr., while his car was demolished, came away uninjured despite traveling 230 miles per hour upon impact.

Unser explained that survivability is the result of Indy cars being made to absorb such shocks. They are designed to break apart, according to Unser, with the exception of the well-constructed cockpit that so miraculously protects drivers time

"I FELT pretty good about the way I went into the wall," he said. "That has a lot to do with the way you come out of an accident.

"I knew I was going to hit it backwards, and I was pretty confident I was not going to be hurt. At that kind of speed, if you hit the front end, you're going to hurt your legs."

Al Jr. and the other Indy-car competitors raced on the Detroit course for the first time, but that was still reason to expect Unser to do well driving his Team Valvoline Lola-Chevrolet in Sunday's race.

He had won five consecutive CART races on street-circuit events. In fact, all nine of his Indy-car career victories have been on road courses, and he is the all-time money leader in those races with $1,789,134.

"The reason I love Indy cars is because it is a very precise form of racing," Al Jr. said. "And a street course, where you have walls on both sides of you, is the ultimate test of precision.

'It's the inside walls that cause a problem, because you aim for an exact spot on the inside of the track

Sid Moorin took second (1,913) and Tony Stipcak was third (1,883). Tommy Edwards finished fourth.

Although he did not make the cut, Eddie Gazdag of Canton rolled the highest game with a 280. Paul Hutchinson of Garden City was second highest with a 287.

The women bowlers were led by Lisa Bishop of Belleville with a 1,796 total for the nine games. Lisa is a YABA bowler, one of the top youth league howlers in this area. Second was Deborah Blakely of Detroit. Linda Painter was third and Jeanna Gebbia fourth. The high game among the ladies was by Paula Young of Bay City with a 250. We congratulate the winners and wish them the best of luck at the next stop in Dayton.

· For those bowlers who take their game seriously and would like to improve, the summer time is ideal for getting the extra practice time. There are open lanes available most of the time and rates are usually lower. Warning! If you do get a chance to practice, you should be sure that you are not just practicing mistakes. This is the time to consider professional instruction. Generally, an instructor will charge somewhere between $15 and $30 for a lesson. This is well worth it if they will correct whatever faults you have and get you in the "groove" so that your practice time will be of more value to you. Some of the local bowling instructors work for a pro shop, some are connected with a particular bowling center, and others are able to operate from their phone at home and meet you by appointment. I have compiled a list for this area, and if you want to be a better bowler, give it a try.

Tragedy points up need for group homes

By Janice Brunson staff writer

Three weeks ago, Brad Garvelink, 24, the son of Birmingham school Superintendent Roger Garvelink, sustained permanent brain damage after being hit by a truck in front of the group home for the mentally ill in Grand Rapids, where he was liv-

The accident was the latest tragedy in the life of the young Garvelink, the middle of three sons, a Groves High School graduate whom his father said was "Mr. Personality, very bright, quite athletic and a real leader" until struck with mental illness at the age of 17 in 1982.

In the agonizing years since, nearly half a million dollars has been spent on Brad's medical care and living accomodations, including nearly three years in a private psychiatric hospital for adolescents in Minnesota called the Wilson Center.

Last August, he transferred to the group home in Grand Rapids, a private facility called Hope Rehabilitation Network that cost the Garvelinks anywhere from $1,100 to $2,500 monthly, depending upon Brad's condition and the services he requires each month.

Located 150 miles from the family home in Birmingham, the facility was selected because similar housing was not available in Oakland

"TT'S HARD TO BELIEVE. One of the weathlest counties in the country and unable to help its mentally ill. We're much more generous to our troubled-well (patients suffering from temporary conditions who are expected to regain mental health) than to our chronically ill. It's really a crime," Roger Garvelink said in frustration.

The only local alternative for Brad was hospitalization at Clinton Valley Center, a public psychiatric hospital in Pontiac, at a cost of $300 daily

"It's a ridiculous expenditure, especially since what he needed cost much less. Michigan is centuries behind in caring for its mentally ill," Garvelink added.

In fact, for every Oakland County resident suffering from mental illness who is adequately housed, it is estimated another two are not.

Last June, for example, there were 2,105 beds in foster and group homes, offering varying levels of supervision, rehabilitation and support services. Another 75 or so beds provide independent living arrangements for those requiring minimal supervision. Of the total number of beds, three-fourths were allocated to the mentally retarded and the elder-

Three weeks ago, Brad Garvelink, 24, the son of Birmingham school Superintendent Roger Garvelink, sustained permanent brain damage after being hit by a truck in front of the group home for the mentally ill in Grand Rapids, where he was living.

Based "on the number of phone calls we receive for help, that we can't help, that eventually stop calling for help," Glen Jackson of Oakland County Community Mental Health Services estimates there are 2,000 or more mentally ill persons "out there who are not getting (housing) services."

Most live alone in unsupervised settings or with family members who are poorly equipped to deal with the demands of chronic illness. SOUTHFIELD ATTORNEY Phil Tomlinson, president of the Oakland chapter of the Alliance for the Mentally Ill of Michigan, claims a shortage of adequate housing is the fault of the county's Mental Health Services board, which he said refuses to assume full-management status that would permit housing development.

"There are no innovative, state-ofthe-art residential possibilities here because the county refuses to assume its responsibility. It's a great hame, resulting in a chaotic housing

He blames the situation as the primary reason his 38-year-old sister, diagnosed a achisophrenic 15 years ago, has been hospitalized the past nine years. Had there been adequate housing, "she definitly would have been released earlier."

In an effort to spur county action, the alliance has filed a class action suit calling for "adequate and appropriate" mental health care in Oakland County. "We hope to improve the situation by compelling the (mental health) board to spend money on adequate housing and staffing," Tomlinson said.

Presently, the number of patients seeking release from Oakland County's only psychiatric hospital, Clinton Valley, numbers 65 to 70 at any given time, according to Michele Utterson of the center.

"If a person is fairly high functioning and is reasonably cooperative, placement is not much of a problem. But those with specialized needs could remain here indefinitly," Utterson said.

"A LIFETIME OF GRIEF" is how Dorothy McQueen of Southfield describes watching a loved one slip from family embrace into the horror of mental illness. In 1975 her son. then 25, was diagnosed a paranoid schizophrenic. In 1979 she helped found the alliance

Two years ago, members of the alliance purchased Grayling House in Fermington, a six-bed living facility licensed and operated by the state. The group's efforts to purchase a second house were rebuiled by state officials, who said there was no funding to coursing a second house.

ing to operate a second home.

In addition to licensing such facilities, the state is also responsible for all but a very few placements, based on exacting formulas. Two bods at Grayling House, for example, are reserved for patients discharged from psychiatric hospitals in the "catchment" area, which includes the Clinton Valley Center, Lafayette Clinic in Detroit and the Ypsilanti Regional Psychiatric Hospital.

Psychiatric Hospital.

Brad Garvelink was not eligible for such a placement because he was discharged from a hospital in Minne-

"They couldn't help us in any way, except to say put him in Clinton Valley, even though we were told his condition would probably regress there," Roger Garvelink said.

"It's ironic. When Brad needed help for his mental problems, we couldn't find it. But when he was struck by a truck and lay dying, he received the finest medical care money could buy. But it's too late."

County board will get 2, maybe 4 new members

By Mary Rodrique

The makeup of the 15 member Wayne County Board of Commissioners is changing rapidly.

Definitely two and possibly four commissioners will be leaving for new appointments.

Commissioner Edward J. Plawecki, Jr., a Democrat who represents Dearborn and Dearborn Heights, resigned June 15 to become a district court judge in Dearborn.

The commission's administration and rules committee meets today to begin the process of naming an interim replacement. At least three candidates are lobbying for considera-

That appointment is valid for 60 days, after which time a special election will be called to elect a candidate to finish the unexpired term, which ends in December 1990.

Also leaving to become a district court judge is veteran commissioner Richard E. Manning, a Democrat who represents Redford Township and a portion of northwest Detroit. Manning was not at last Thursday's commission meeting and has not yet officially resigned. He will be leaving the commission post and closing a law practice to assume judicial duties for retiring Redford Township district court Judge Robert Brang.

Deputy Commission Chairwoman Susan Heintz, a Republican whose district includes Livonia, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Northville and Northville Township, has received a letter from Kevin Kelley expressing interest in Manning's seat. Kelley is an aid to Redford Superintendent James Kelly, who is no relation.

Commissioner Milton Mack, a Democrat representing Canton Township and several southern Wayne communities, is rumored to be in consideration for a circuit court judgeship. He was unavailable for comment Friday.

Commission Chairman Arthur M. Carter, a Democrat representing northwest Detroit, is being considered to fill the position of deputy superintendent of Detroit Public Schools.

Carter said Friday that talks with Detroit Schools personnel are still under way.

"Nothing has transpired yet," he said Friday from his commission office. "I'm still going along here without looking for an immediate change."

Batter up!

The assignment sounded easy. Answer the question, "Is it hard to hit a ball traveling at 70 miles per hour?" Jim Radebaugh was game. After all, he had had some baseball "experience" as a child. He took on the ment and lived to tell about it, but not without a few minor injuries. Find out about his brush with fame, so to speak, on Page 6D.

Floating: De-stress your life in a tube

Monday, June 19, 1989 O&E

Floating, an emerging idea aimed at stress reduction, relaxation and entertainment, is alive and well in metropolitan Detroit.

In a small salon located above an optometrist's shop off Woodward Avenue, a dozen or so enthusiasts float daily in water heavily laced with Epsom salts that has been heated to precisely 93.5 degrees, the body's exterior skin temperature.

Encased in an enclosed tube simulating mother's womb, the worry, anxiety and concern of daily life virtually floats away as one bobs about in the privacy of their own miniature sea.

"It's the total mini-vacation, a complete get-away. It isolates you from the outside world," said Peter Panelli of Birmingham who owns and manages the floatation center, named FlotationEntertainment.

Floating on a sea of salt water is the ultimate in stress reduction, according to Panelli, who first became interested in the concept during the 1980s while recovering from a painful football injury suffered while attending Central Michigan University.

"It's the art of doing nothing," said Panelli's assistant, Ed Vetort who is in the process of opening a second center in Ann Arbor. Vetort has been "floating" for a year, originally drawn to the "art" out of curiosity and now a genuine devotee. Vetort's experience is

"I THOUGHT it was wonderful," said attorney Andrew Broder of Birmingham of his first floatation experience. Broder, who legally represents FlotationEntertainment, wanted to satisfy a natural curiosity and end skepticism about floating.

"I was suspect going into this; I thought of it as bizarre, a fad," he said. "I wasn't certain it was something people would or ought to take seriously."

In fact, the average person knows little about floata-tion therapy. Many of those who are familiar have seen the cult film, "Altered States," in which a scien-tist who floats and takes psychedelic drugs is transformed into an ape.

The movie is based on a book that loosely portrays studies conducted by Dr. John Lilly on sensory deprivation in the 1940s and '50s. Using a tank constructed by the U.S. Navy during World War II. Lilly discovered floating in warm salt water with few distractions was relaxing and conducive to learning.

"It's diving deep into one's own mind," Lilly said of floating.

In the years since, floating has gained a certain measure of popularity. Such celebrities as Kris Kristofferson and Robin Williams own float tanks and tanks have been installed in training rooms for the Philadelphia Eagles and Philadelphia Phillies.

"WE WANT TO mainstream floating into corporate America," said Joe Dandy, who, as vice president for FlotationEntertainment, has assisted in designing and manufacturing a state-of-the-art floating tank.

The new tank, constructed entirely in Michigan, debuted at the Home and Builders Show at Cobo Hall in March where Dandy sold four models at $7,000 each. It is a streamlined version of yesteryear's tank, visually much more attractive and featuring quadra-sound stereo and hi-fidelity video. It also doubles as a Jacuzzi/with room enough for four.

This is Street Scene, right?

Well, one of the better street scenes you'll see in Observer and Eccentric land is the finish line of the Redford Roadrunner Classic in Livonia Saturday, July 29. But we don't just want you to see it, we want you to be it.

First, more than 1,000 participants run five miles through the streets, then they dance for hours in the parking lot at Veteran's Park, adjacent to the Livonia YMCA on Stark Road, just north of I-96 and west of Farmir

We can't work miracles with this six-week program. If you live an absolutely sedentary life — if your idea of fitness is twisting off your beer tops instead of using the opener - then six weeks probably isn't long enough to get you halfway in

But if you own a pair of running shoes and once in a while you go out for a mile or so - even if it's a jog that turtles laugh at - then this is for you.

Why race? Believe it or not, it's

Last month, they threatened to re-lease "Signs of Life" (D-, PG-13, 85 minutes), a choppy, episodic soap opera which jumps from subplot to subplot abruptly — and with maddening regularity. But they caught me writing stuff like that and kept it in the can.

Too bad that they're not doing for June what they did for May, so you may want to avoid the Maple until this sad little story about Owen Coughlin (Arthur Kennedy) goes

Coughlin is in the process of closing down his New England boatbuilding company and his workers have obvious problems with that move. The screenwriters had some upon us. "Indiana Jones III," "Star Trek V," and now "Ghostbusters II" (C-, PG, 102 minutes). And frankly, Scarlet, I didn't care for "GBI" and "II" doesn't do it for me either.

With a a basic premise, a bunch of odd characters - Dr. Peter Venk-. man (Bill Murray), Dr. Raymond Stantz (Dan Aykroyd), Dr. Egon Spengler (Harold Ramis) and Winston Zeddemore (Ernie Hudson) along with their attorney/accountant (Rick Moranis) - dress up in combat fatigues and zap ghosts with their electronic backpacks.

So what? It's all rather simpleminded fun with very little character development or clever repartee except for Bill Murray. Every time he begins to energize the proceedings, scenarists Ramis and Aykroyd lay down a truly deadly and dumb joke: A dock worker observes a ghost disembarking from the Titanic and notes, "Better late than never."

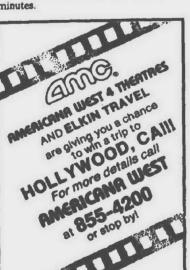

The real problem is there's no point to be sustained for 11/2 hours, so they mixed in a moral about modern urban living, a positive aura of the Statue of Liberty, a ghost story, two romances and some rock music sequences. Quite naturally, all that stuff is jumbled together and surprisingly slow-paced, as if the scriptwriters had trouble shifting from one element to another.

But "Ghostbusters" has mythical popularity and the film will be successful. Many people will giggle uncontrollably at the mention of slime despite the fact that the slime sequence under Manhattan looks suspiciously like an "Indiana Jones"

No more "Ghostbusters," please. How about some sequel busters instead?

ALTERNATIVE VIEWING

Edward Wood: Confessions of a cross-dressing director

special writer

At home or on the set, his favorite outfit consisted of a brightly colored pantsuit, nylon stockings and raised heels. A decorated war veteran, he wore a bra and panties underneath his uniform during the Allied landing on Iwo Jima.

No one really knows how he got to Hollywood, but Edward D. Wood Jr. somehow scraped together enough money to write, direct and star in "Glen or Glenda?" in 1953. Wood's fascinating plea for transvestite tol-erance screens with "The Amazing Colossal Man" (1958) this week at the Detroit Institute of Arts' Afternoon Film Theatre.

"Glen or Glenda?" (also known as "I Led Two Lives") presents two stories narrated by a psychologist. The first involves Alan/Ann, a mama's boy who faces new life after a sex change operation. Walking down a city street in a tight skirt and blouse, checked out by men, Alan/Ann couldn't be happier if he/she was Mary Tyler Moore.

The director himself (under the name of Daniel Davis) plays transvestite Glen/Glenda, a man feel comfortable after a hard day at work." His main problem revolves around whether or not to tell his fiance, Barbara, that he longs to wear her angora sweater.

WE EXPERIENCE Glen's tormented dreams. Women scorn him at a surrealistic beauty pageant, but accept him when the devil presents the prize. A disapproving society, made up of pointing fingers and bodiless heads, close in to smother him. As Glenda, he can't budge a huge tree limb that traps Barbara; as Glen, he lifts it with ease. Woods pads the 61-minute film with a staggering amount of stock footage - battle scenes, cargo planes dropping their load and endless shots of cars on the highway. "All those cars. All going someplace," says the narrator, desperately trying to tie it all together. "All carrying human beings which are carrying out their lives . . . But life - even though its changes are slow - moves on.'

Bela Lugosi (billed as "The Spirit") spouts more garbled nonsense, his face superimposed over shots of a buffalo stampede. "Bevare! Bevare!" he warns. "Bevare the green dragon that sits on your doorstep. He eats little boys, puppy dog tails and big fat snails."

According to Hollywood legend, Lugosi was so addicted to booze and drugs near the end of his life that only the alcoholic content of formaldehyde gave him a substantial buzz He died shortly after filming began on Wood's "Plan Nine from Outer Space," generally considered the worst film ever made.

"GLEN OR Glenda?" meanwhile, despite its cheesy symbolism and ludicrous dialogue, is delivered with such straight-faced sincerity and strong personal conviction that it sometimes works. At the very least, you feel embarrassed for Wood, who so openly wears his heart on his poo-

The underground popularity of the film and its director (who died in 1978) continues to flourish. Paramount actually tried re-releasing 'Glen or Glenda?" during the popularity of "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" in 1981, but it hasn't enjoyed a Detroit screening in well over a

Well, anyone who might have caught Static Alphabet's act in the early days — two years ago — wouldn't have deemed the group for the cover of Rolling Stone. Instead, they were more likely to be victims

"We did get complacent for awhile," said Paul Einhaus of Farmington, guitarist and vocalist with the band. "It was the summer of doom in '87. I remember sitting on the curb thinking, 'We'll never get to Things didn't look good for the group, especially after one nightclub owner told them flat out they stunk. He relegated Static Alphabet to jam nights, when any Joe Shmoe can try his craft.

But, ah, what a difference a few nights of jamming can make. Static Alphabet has rebounded, all culmi-nated with a rather endearing fivesong cassette demo tape.

The band is no longer a four-man. Original member Ken Faulkner left the group due to creative differenc-

AS A RESULT, Static Alphabet has a stripped-down sound. There is no clutter, just some guitar-flavored songs in a bare-bones form. Their biography likens the sound to a cross between The Buzzcocks and The Beatles. Einhaus said not to put much stock in such descriptions.

If anything, Static Alphabet has tried to avoid of being caught in a toehold of a particular style of mu-sic. They opt for the freestyle ap-

"If banjo reggae becomes a popular, marketable thing, we'll try that," Einhaus added.

"Banjo reggae?! I never even heard of it," Long said.

The band's quest for originality is not fully understood until bass player Mike Fraser's face turns as serious as a heart surgeon discussing a

"I had a really bad experience," said Fraser, in a voice of horror. "I went to the Holiday Inn to meet some friends at the bar. There was this cover band. They looked like mannequins. They did everything so perfect. I saw my future in music disappearing."

WITH THAT as the alternative, Static Alphabet has gladly taken its lumps on the original circuit. The band formed out of a little-known group called the Acid Pupples. The Puppies decided to call it quits when they went to perform at a birthday party, and everyone went to Burger King instead.

Static Alphabet is one of many westside bands to seek notoriety on the east side. Others include the Orange Roughies, Hippodrome, Sensitive Big Guys and Jugglers and Thieves.

Surprisingly, they are able to thrive despite there being no clubs in the area to play. Most earn their reputations in Hamtramek at clubs such as Lili's, Paycheck's and the

"I don' think west side/east side has anything to do with it," Einhaus said. "It's just that all the clubs are on the east side."

'(Hamtramck) is Detroit's Greenwich Village," Long added. "It's a place where everyone paints their rooms black, smokes clove cigarettes and hangs out together.'

But in Hamtramck is where Static Alphabet has had one of several majoy turning points. It was Rod Cole of the Hamtramck Pub who bluntly assessed the group's talent. They didn't take it too hard.

We figured there had to be one redeeming quality about us," Long said, "Otherwise, he wouldn't have

November 1986 Static Alphabet forms from the remains of Acid Puppies. 'Are you sure it was in November?. asks Bill Long to Paul Einhaus. "I thought it was later than that."

February 1987 - Static Alphabet performs its first gig at Michigan State University. "It was awful," Einhaus said. "He thought we would be an old-time, acoustic band. These people were expecting Simon and Garfunkel and by the end of the night they were screaming for us March 1987 - Static Alphabet per forms the first of several shows at the Hamtramck Pub. "At the time, I thought we were the greatest band ever." Einhaus said. "I was surprised when no-

"It was a major turning point for the band," Long added.

'It was a major turning point in the band," Long added.

June 1987 through April 1988 - Static Alphabet beeds Cole's advice and performs with regularity on the circuit at Rerun's in Dearborn, Paycheck's in Hamtramck and at a Tremor Revue. "We started to have some good shows,"

"It was a major turning point for the band," Long added.

The album's strongest similarity with the Wilburys project is not a musical one. It is the simple fact that all involved in "Full Moon Fever" appeared to have a great deal of fun putting it together. This is particularly evidenced dur-

- John Cougar Mellencamp

From the time he added his real last name to the rock'n'roll persona he was, John Cougar Mellencamp has been trying to go back to his roots. And, to overuse another cliche, Mellencamp has also sought to do it "his way."
With his 1985 tour de force

"Scarecrow" (the first LP where the Mellencamp name was displayed), the winds of change began to blow. The arrangements were stark, almost course, and the lyrics had a new bite to them (particularly in ref-erence to the plight of the American farmer). It was by far Mellencamp's best work.

Then "Lonecome Jubilee" followed in 1967 with a lot of the same provocative lyrics, but the muste had taken a distinct turn from the rock'n'roll of Mellencamp's younger, rebellious days. The "back to the roots" hit had surfaced in a his "I'm at home in rural Indiana" way. Accordion, violina and steel sature were treet to bring it all home. The LP has it instructs, but was need with the roots firmly attreased in the John Cougas we know and loved withering away. For confirmation of this statement, just listen for the single "Pop Singer." Seemingly oblivious to the days when he used to write songs like "Play Guitar," now we have a series of down home yarns about life with folks like "Theo and Weird Henry" and "Jackie Brown." And all the accordions, violins and steel guitars just start to wear thin after awhile. The only real song with a socially conscious bent to it is "J.M.'s Question." For confirmation of this state-

I was in hopes you could expound on the topic of children of alcoholics and give me some advice on how to break the pattern of becoming in-volved in unhealthy relationships.

Although I am an adult and live independently of my family, the pat-tern repeats itself, making it hard for me to recognize that healthy re-lationship, even if it was staring me in the face!

Love your column and you, too. Sincerely yours, Needing Advice

Dear Needing Advice,

Thanks for your letter. The topic, adult children of alcoholics, is very current right now, and a lot of information has been written about it. However, I am not comfortable expounding on generalizations and pre-fer to concentrate on individuals.

Within dysfunctional families, some children are not permanently damaged. Those who have some faculty (such as high IQ, physical at-tractiveness or art ability) have a much higher chance of breaking free than those who are, unfortunately, not as gifted.

Even within one family, not all the children react the same. Suzanne Sommers is just one excellent example of those who have overcome their upbringing.

Your letter indicates that you have some of the qualities and tal-ents that would allow you to rise above your background. You say in your letter, "I attract those who need me." It is probably more corer person, even if it is false? Is that because you feel that only users could be attracted to you?

Make up your mind that it is more important to be truly independent, even if alone, than it is to be allowing a user to take advantage of you so you won't be alone.

> Giving advice to Needing Advice

Thank you for sending your letter. It was too lengthy for me to publish and had I extracted a small part, it would have been out of context with your presentation.

The only thing that I can comment on is that I, too, wish that more men would write in with their feelings and where they like to meet women.

A COUPLE of Walkoe's bandmates stayed in the music busine one playing lead guitar with Jimmy Buffet and another writing songs for artists like Linda Roustadt and the Pointer Sisters.

So in 1978, Walkoe decided to look into comedy - back when it was starting to come to the forefront

"THERE REALLY was no humor in the late '60s when I grew up," Walkoe said. "Except for maybe (George) Carlin. Everyone was more serious, and they wanted to rock out. Rock'n'roll was just the thing to do back then. Now, it's comedy."

AT GRAND Slam, the machines are adjusted to pitch an underhanded softball toss, a slow-pitch lob they call the candyman, and a fast-pitch hardball from 30 to 70 miles an hour. A warning sign tells you the pitches will come in both balls and strikes "to reflect actual game conditions."

No beanballs, at least. True to the assignment, I headed straight for the 70-miles-an-hour

I wanted to scream - not in joy, in pain. A shock wave that would ball traveling 70 miles an hour hurts. The truth is, I've never been much of an athlete and I haven't played any hardball since junior high, when in the entire eighth-grade season I

But standing in the batter's box at Grand Slam reminded me of how much fun getting to bat is. As a kid I spent my time frustrated, waiting for my chance at the plate. So what could be better than ups that last for as long as you have cash in your pocket?

Tired of whiffing, I moved down to the 55-miles-an-hour cage. The pitches came slowly enough to focus on and I was able to hit at least as many as I missed. I sent a few into the net at far end of the enclosure.

I'm not sure I honed my technique any, and I'm pretty sure I don't care. Just standing there smacking baseballs was a great time. (The balls, by the way, aren't real baseballs. They're shaped like oversized golf balls and they're green. I bought some tokens and stayed a while long-

Hitch a ride on a wagon train to see the Wild West

contributing travel editor

Q: Our son is really into buffaloes, Indians, wagon trains and the whole wild west thing. What can we do in a two week driving trip. We don't have time to drive all over the west.

Westland

A: You'll find it all in and around the Black Hills and the Badlands of South Dakota, 1,200 miles due west of Detroit. Spend two or three days exploring the landscape in either direction and you will still have plenty of time to see the wild west.

South Dakota is celebrating its centennial this year, so there are many special events. You can ride a wagon train, ride a Jeep right into a buffalo herd, explore Indian lore and have fun in old west towns like Deadwood.

Rapid City, at the foot of the Black Hills, is the logical home base.

The Centennial Wagon Train retraces pioneer trails. There is an Eastern and a Western division, each with at least 100 wagons. They are already on the trail and you can climb aboard anywhere along the route until Aug. 29, when they reach the state fair in Huron.

You can join a train before it starts for the day, during breaks (mid-morning, noon and mid-afternoon) or when they set up camp for the evening, but not while the train is actually moving. Stay for part of a day or camp overnight with your own provisions. Many communities will hold barbecues and potlucks when the train arrives in town. Sleep in your own wagon, tent, RV, sleeping bag, or in

That should get you into the mood of the old wild west! Now you must plan the rest of your trip. The Badlands are an hour's drive east of Rapid City. Take the 38-mile Badlands Loop off I-90. Enjoy the red saw-toothed skyline of this lunar landscape and introduce your son to the Oglala Indians who operate the Cedar Pass Lodge. Order the "Indian tacos" for lunch. Continue west to the town of Wall. Wall Drug Store, with all its me-chanical bands and other fun things, is one of the biggest tourist attractions in the state. It was just a drug store in a small town until its owner put signs out on the highway — "Free ice water in Wall, South Dakota." Now it has tourist attractions

It's a straight run from Wall into Rapid City. Don't miss mammoths, dinosaurs, Tyrannosaurus Rex and other giant mammals in the Museum of Geology at the South Dakota School of Mines and Technology. Both you and the kids will love it.

OF COURSE, you must stop at Mount Rushmore (average stop 80 minutes), where sculptor Gutson Borglum carved presidents Washing-ton, Jefferson, Lincoln, and Theodore Roosevelt into the mountain

Ask at the entrance or at the visitor center for the present location of the herd. You might have to drive to a specific location to see the great herds grazing, but you are likely to Buffaloes weigh about 2,500 pounds and are not afraid of anything, including wild tourists, so heed park signs. Buffaloes are dangerous. Q: My wife spends so much time doing everything perfectly that she's exhausted all the time. How can I convince her to slow down a little?

A: Perfectionism covers a broad spectrum of habits. At one extreme are perfectionists who are flawlessly neat and well organized. Every hair is in place, their children are immaculate, desits are clear, cars impeccable — as are their garages, filing folders and fingernails. Even their pets always smell nice.

At the opposite end of this spectrum are the perfectionists who live amid chaos. Their work is piled high — in their offices, laundry and basements. Their personal appearance may be disheveld and their tax papers are still laying out. It's almost incomprehensible how people so different have perfectionist in common, but they do.

What polarizes these groups is their fear of failure. The Perfect Perfectonists are confident about how to approach their work. They are unafraid of hard work and have learned to do things well. They may be exhausted half the time, but all their work is always caught up. (They cannot rest until it is.) One woman proudly proclaimed that she had all the suggested tools to set up a reminder system and that she was prepared to get started — just as soon as she bought a calligraphy pen to write notes to herself.

The procrastinators believe "if you can't do it well, then don't do it at all" — so they don't. Believeing they are incapable of doing things well enough — or overestimating the time or effort to do it — they procrastinate, telling themselves they will do it "later." Their tax papers aren't put away yet because they are waiting until they have time to do it "right." During class discussion I have seen many people almost in tears as they deal with these mental blocks that immobilize them.

The saddest part of perfectionism is that some Perfect Perfectionists still carry a burden of guilt and failure — believing they are not doing things well enough and that they "should" do better. In other words, they live with unrealistic ideals for themselves and consequently never realize an inner sense of peace.

Like all perfectionists, your wife needs to lower her standards a bit, to forgive herself for doing some things half well, and to learn to relax in the process.

condo queries Robert M. Meisner

Q. We are a family looking for an apartment. A landlord has told us that a particular section of the complex in which we are interested is located near a playground where children play and the landlord or manager has informed us that this section close to the playground, may be more comfortable for us. Is this legal?

A. The Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1988 provides that is is unlawful to discriminate in the rental of any dwelling by exaggerating drawbacks or failing to inform any person of desirable features of a dwelling or of a community, neighborhood or development because of a person's familial status.

It is also unlawful to communicate to any prospective resident that he or she would not be comfortable or compatible with the existing residents community, neighborhood or development because of the person's familial status. The conduct of steering a prospective resident with children away from a particular section of a complex and toward another section because of a person's familial status would be a violation of the act.

Although it may seem innocent on the surface, the regulations indicate that this practice is discriminatory, although it has been commonly followed by many landlords in the state and has, in effect, been encouraged by a Michigan Supreme Court ruling several years ago, which may now be deemed and superseded by the new act.

Q. Our landlord has a "no pets" policy, but can a landlord restrict a blind resident from keeping a seeing eye dog in his unit? A. Under the Fair Housing Amendments

A. Under the Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1988, the act provides that it is unlawful to refuse to make reasonable accommodations, rules, policies, practices or services when such accommodations may be necessary to afford a handicapped person equal opportunity to use and enjoy a unit, including the public and common use areas.

It is expressly stated in the regulations that it is a violation of the act for the owner or manager of an apartment complex to refuse to permit a blind applicant to live in the apartment with a seeing eye dog. The rationale used in the regulations is that a blind person will not have an equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling if a seeing eye dog is not allowed in the unit. Presumably, this would also apply to condominium and cooperatives.

Mow 'em down

Rain is prompting new rules for lawn cutting

AP — The drought of recent years appears to be abating in some parts of the country. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, parts of the Southeast, Northeast, West and North have experienced above-average spring soil moisture, and rainfall has been average in other areas.

This means that lawns will be green and lush this summer, so here are some mowing tips from Dr. James Watson, chief agronomist for Toro, maker of outdoor power and irrigation equipment.

1. Set the mower a notch lower than normal cutting height for the early cutting. This removes winterscorched grass foliage and excess dormant vegetation, and permits light and heat to speed grass growth. (Probably, most of you have already made the first lawn passes of the season.)

2. After the first mowings, raise the mower to the preferred cutting height for your region. Kentucky bluegrass, fine-leaved feacues and perennial ryegrasses should not be lower than 1 to 1 1¼ inches. During hot weather or reduced precipitation, raise mowing heights to 2-3 inches.

3. Remove no more thap one-third of the leaf surface at any ene cutting. Cutting more reduces the lawn's ability to photosynthesize, that is, manufacture food for growth. Grass grows from its base, not from its tip. Mowing does not harm the plant, as long as no more than one-third is removed.

4. Maintain a consistent mowing schedule. Allowing grass to grow too high can cause clipping accumulation. A layer of clippings can smother the grass and create an environment favorable to distance organisms and insects. If the grass gets too long, you may want to mow twice.

First mow at a higher cut, let the clippings dry for a few hours, then mow at the normal height for your region. This will disperse the clippings, and on thin turf they will serve as a mulch, which conserves moisture.

5. How do you deal with lawn clippings? You can use a bagging mower, with either a rear bagger or side-discharge attachment. Rear baggers allow close, easy trimming with either side of the mower, and they bag more efficiently than do side-discharge mowers.

weeder's guide

Earl Aronson

Consider mulching as an alternative to bagging. Mulching mowers cut grass clippings to a fine mulch and disperse them into the lawn, providing it with additional nutrients.

The drawback of mulching is that you will have to mow more often. Expect to mow more than once a week in late spring. Also, using a mulching mower to cut tall, lush grass tends to leave unsightly clippings in your lawn. One way around the mulching problem is to use a rear-bagging mower that easily converts from bagging to mulching.

6. Choose a good time of day to mow. Avoid mowing during early morning, when heavy dew is on the grass. Dry grass is easier to cut, appears better groomed and requires less mowing time. If you must mow when the dew remains, you can partially dissipate it by dragging a garden hose or rope over the turf surface.

7. For the best cut, make sure the mower blades are sharp. Dull blades or improperly adjusted cutting heights can damage turf.

8. For aesthetic purposes, alter cutting patterns with each mowing.
9. Wear proper clothing while mowing. For safety, wear long pants that will protect your skin; avoid loose clothing or dangling jewelry that can snag on mower controls. Wear sturdy, non-slip shoes that provide good traction and protection.

10. Properly maintain your mower. To save yourself from the headache of a mower that won't run when you want it to, use fresh gasoline and thoroughly clean the underside of the deck and external engine components after each mowing. Periodically, clean the air filter, service the spark plug, change the oil and lubricate all mower parts.

"It is amazing how much appeal it has," says Frank Zaitschik, owner of W.G. Wade Shows, sponsors of the event. "It's just little piggies running

"It's the craziest thing I have ever seen," said Phil Fried, treasurer of the Spree Anniversary Committee.

Show times are 5:30 p.m., 7:30 p.m., 8 p.m., 9 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Tuesday through Priday. Saturday there is an extra performance at 3:30 p.m. and Sunday performances are at 1 p.m.

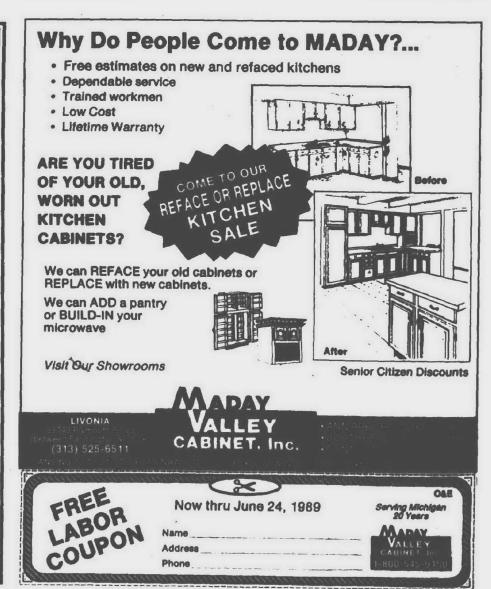

"I bet there were a couple of hundred people at each performance last year, some with standing room only, " said Dale Juricisin, a board member.

He added that after the first performance word spread and people came back to the Spree especially for the pig races.

THE PIGS, bedecked in racing silks, run twice around the track like greased lightning.

The second time is to accommodate the audience, who isn't expecting a seven-second race and is laughing so hard it misses the race's end, Juricisin

Pig racing big draw

Robinson's Racing Pigs, based in Tampa, Fla., is one of the most successful pig-breeding racing businesses in the country.

A dozen units of travelling pigs perform at county and state fairs around the nation and Canada.

Paul and Carlota Robinson made their debut at the Florida State Fair on Feb. 6, 1985.

"After that first day, we knew we had a winner," said Carlota Robinson. "People were interviewing us from sunup to sundown."

When the show season ended, the Robinsons and John Capobianco, manager for Creative Outlet of Florida, Inc. decided to turn the race into a travelling attraction.

THE ROBINSONS have appeared on The Tonight Show, ABC Wide World of Sports, and Good Morning,

They believe pigs have gotten a bum rap as to their intelligence and living

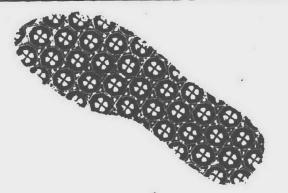

"People say they are stupid, but they are not," said Carlota Robinson. "People say they are dirty but they

"Pigs are actually far superior to dogs and cats and rank only behind people, chimpanzees and dolphins in terms of intelligence."

HELIUM BALLOOMS . TWO SIZES . MANY DESIGNS

Three scholarships will be awarded to Livonia youth with money generated by Spree.

That's just one use of the money generated by the community's annual birthday party.

This year's Spree celebration will be funded in part with $20.558 in profit from last year's event.

Sponsors for this year's event include Central Distributors of Beer (Budweiser), Awrey Bakery, Midwest Ice Co., Pepsi, Stroh's Ice Cream and Papa Romano's.

Income generated from Spree 1989 was $141,236; expenses totaled $113,000.

Profits were down from the previous year, organizers said, because of increased costs in staging the carnival, fireworks display and equipment rental and maintenance.

In keeping with its tradition, the Livonia Anniversary Co. Inc. — the non-profit corporation that runs the Spree — gave $32.533 to local groups, bringing the total donated since 1979 to $213,790.

The biggest chunk of Spree donations from 1988, $16,123, went to the city to buy portable sprinklers and grass seed at Ford Field (the site of Spree) and electrical work at Eddie Edgar Arena.

Another $4,500 went to the Livonia Family YMCA, which along with the Livonia Chamber of Commerce coordinates the corporate cup.

The three Spree scholarships received $4,500. Angela Hospice got $3,500 while Livonia senior high schools received $1,200 for their allnight graduation parties.

Others groups receiving $500 or more included the Miss Livonia Scholarship Pageant, Livonia Public Library. Livonia Historial Commission, and Livonia figure skaters.

Also receiving donations were Livonia Police Explorers, Silver Village (a senior citizens residential complex), American Cancer Society, Livonia Police Reserve, Franklin Marching Band, Livonia Boys Hockey, Association for Retarded Citizens, and the Rosalyn Bryant Foundation.

Money also went to Four Seasons Fishing Club, Beta Omnicron, St. Aidan Catholic Church, the Lord's House, Senior Citizens Baseball Team, and Schoolcraft College.

League senior teams show softball savvy

A new feature to Livonia Spree '39 is the Senior Invitational Softball Tournament Tuesday through Saturday, June 20-24.

The preliminaries will be played Tuesday through Friday with the finals Saturday at Ford Field, Lyndon at Farmington Road.

Trophies, one team and individual awards, will be presented to champions and runners-up.

There will be 16 teams of 18 players each. All rules are American Softball Association except that all players must be age 55 by June 1, 1989, and the mercy rule will be in effect — 15 runs after five innings and the game ends

Most members of the teams will be age 60-67, with the youngest 55 and the oldest 83.

The tourney is being sponsored by the Suburban Senior Softball League that was formed in 1982. Teams in the league represent Livonia, Canton, Dearborn, Northville, Allen Park and Taylor among other communities.

Many of the teams in the senior league will be participating in the Spree Invitational.

The only team of deaf seniors in the U.S. also is entered in the Suburban Senior Softball League. The oldest player in the league is 83 and about 25 percent of each team is comprised of 70-year-olds.

Under the modified rules, designated runners may be used for batters and runners. Players who are unable to play in the field may be used as batters only.

Safety and fun are the number one and two goals of the league.

Last year players from the Suburban Senior Softball League won four state and national championships in tournament competition. More than 200 men compete in the league.

Circus offering repeat fun for young and old

By Nechama Bakst staff writer

If your idea of the first day of summer is bored kids looking for action, you and yours are in for a treat.

There'll be action and excitement to satisfy the most world-weary of kids on Thursday, June 22, when the Livonia Spree circus makes its third appearance of the year, kicked off by the third annual Spree on Parade.

For those who can make it, the circus and all its trappings will be in town Tuesday through Sunday, June 20-25. Admission is free.

"These are the same professional acts that would appear in the Barnum & Bailey or Ringling Bros. circuses," promises Dale Juricisin, Spree Anniversary committee member.

IN FACT, Juricisin said, the Spree circus is even more exciting than the larger circuses because "you get to sit right up close and be part of it."

A Bengal-tiger tamer will be back this year, as well as Delilah, a member of the famous flying Wallenda family, whose trapeze acts delight circus fans around the world.

"It's a really well-rounded circus," said Frank Zaitschik, owner of Wade Shows, co-sponsor of the circus.

Zaitschik reminded the public that the acts vary from year to year.

Bed Race, a 'Windsor import,' returning

By Nechama Bakst staff writer

Early to bed will take on new meaning when the racing beds take off at Ford Field 7:30 p.m. Saturday, June

Members of the Spree Anniversary Committee are predicting that the fourth Great Spree Bed Race will wake up the most excitement-loving audience.

According to board members, the committee is reaching out to businesses, chambers of commerce and civic groups in and around the community to join in the fun.

"What we're looking for is various companies to dress up in outfits representing their companies," said Gary Garrison, a Spree board member.

Company members will then be able to challenge co-workers or other businesses, Garrison said.

BECAUSE OF the scorching temperatures, which rose to 104-degrees at last year's Bed Race, most racers wore T-shirts and shorts instead of costumes, Garrison said.

But beds were decorated with signs depicting each respective business.

The Century 21 "Blazer" sported an outhouse fashioned from a cardboard refrigerator box, symbolizing the company's home sales.

Participants are invited to measure the beds during the week prior to the race, so they can prepare designs to be attached right before the race.

Karen Burskey, entertainment chairman, said letters were sent to the Observer and Eccentric Newspapers, Livonia City Hall, the Livonia Mall and Awrey's Bakeries among other businesses and organizations urged to

At 7:30 p.m. Saturday, teams consisting of four runners and one rider will compete against each other from the starting line on the north side of Eddie Edgar Arena to Stark Road and back - a distance of about one-quarhave to race the Spree Speedster, a mystery vehicle built and designed by Garrison and manned by five Spree board members.

"Nobody can beat us but we can't win," Garrison said.

Two years ago the Spree Speedster won by default, when no other competitors showed up.

Last year the Spree Speedster, decorated to look like a dragon, won but was "disqualified due to technical difficulties," he said.

Three beds used in last year's race were built by Iron Works Apprentice School Local 26.

Participants in last year's race included Looney Baker, whose team members wore baker's caps, Sneaky Petes, Tradin' Times and the winning Century 21 Blazer. Tradin' Times edged out Sneaky Petes in the finals last year.

MORE THAN 100 people participate in the bed races which draw large crowds at the annual International Freedom Festival in Windsor.

"I've been over there quite a few years and decided that would be a fun activity for us," Burskey said.

Teams will vie for awards in male division and female divisions, at a cost of $5 per team. Proceeds will go to a local charity.

All teams must register one hour before the event on the north side of the arena.
