Landfill delays could affect trash removal

staff writer

Michigan's largest landfill operator has been unable to get permission from the state to open a new facility in Salem Township - a situation that has area trash haulers concerned.

Arbor Hills East Sanitary Landfill at Six Mile and Napier, which accepts refuse from 400 customers a day including Canton and Plymouth townships, is nearly out of space. The neighboring, new Arbor Hills West "has been ready to go since January," but differences of opinion between the landfill operator and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources have held up licensing, said Dan Nelson, Arbor Hills district manager.

Arbor Hills is on a DNR list of contaminated sites. Liquid containing low levels of benzene and vinylidene chloride has seeped into groundwater in a field east of Napier Road. Benzene is a known carcinogen. Vinylidene chloride has been found to cause cancer in some animals.

Cynthia Noble, senior environmental engineer with the DNR's waste management division, said Browning Ferris Industries, which operates the landfill, has taken steps to address the problem, but more must be done.

BFI built an underground wall that extends for nearly a mile around three sides of the landfill that is containing the source of contamination, "but contamination that currently exists in the field east of Arbor Hills East needs to be addressed," said Noble.

A myriad of different chemicals have been found in groundwater that flows into the Johnson Drain, said Noble. "Some are human carcinogens, and some are suspected carcinogens. It's 'not something you'd want to be drinking, that's for sure." No drinking wells draw water from the contaminated area, Noble said...

SAID NELSON: "We want to sign an agreement we can accomplish. We have had difficulty implementing an agreement because of what we feel was an inappropriate discharge standard that couldn't be technically supported.'

The wall, three feet wide and 89 feet deep in spots, was finished in early June, and BFI "is doing more tests right now in different locations, making sure we know the extent of the problem.

"We are trying to get the best information possible to make this assessment so that we can negotiate those things which need to be modified," said Nelson. "We're also trying to obtain data to design a solution. So obviously there is some frustration on this end."

DAVE DENSKI, OWNER OF Canton Recycling, Inc. said local communities "are looking at a severe potential problem. Everyone has said it's coming, but it could be right around the corner," said Denski, contracted by Plymouth and Canton townships to haul 12,000 cubic yards of compressed refuse per month.

Henry Graper, who resigned as Plymouth city manager last week, said he's most proud of contributions to the municipal budget process and serving as a catalyst to get things done during his 91/2 years on the job.

"I don't think you ever had a problem getting in touch with us. And the projects — parking, getting business to the community, keeping the hotel here.

A two-year-old toddler - who was left with two youngsters while his mother ran a quick errand - was rescued from a smoky mobile home after it was believed everyone was evacuated.

We got the call from the fire and the dispatcher said everyone was out of the mobile home," said Canton Fire Chief Mel Paulen. "When I got there someone said the baby was still there."

THE BOY was in the bedroom of the College Park home on Mott and Denton when it began to fill with smoke about 2 p.m. on Thursday,

"I heard a wimper and went in and found the baby on the floor," said Paulen.

He said he scooped the boy up, but when he turned around he lost sight of the door in the room filled with thick smoke. "I got to a door and it turned out it was a closet. I saw a light and went there and it was a window."

Paulen struggled to hold the boy and break through the window. Paulen, the boy and two baby-sitters — ages 12 and 13 — were treated for smoke inhalation and released, according to Canton fire reports.

The Observer was unable to contact the boy's mother.

GiGi Hill, park manager, said she wasn't sure the boys were actually baby-sitting or whether the mother just asked them to keep an eye on the toddler while she ran an errand.

"There was a lot a smoke," said Kay George, who lives next door al-

Parks can cure

By Doug Funke staff writer

Hey, mom, are the kids already whining that there's nothing to do this summer?

Send 'em over to one of four Plymouth city parks where they can get involved in structured play activities, board games and arts and crafts projects.

A free supervised parks program sponsored by the recreation department is now in effect 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

The sites are Kiwanis Park, Auburn and Junction; Firehouse Park, Spring and Holbrook: Jaycee Park, Hamilton and Joy, and Garden Club Park, Sutherland and Forest.

'We have active games, sports, table games, story hours and arts and crafts," said Bob Lawson, parks program supervisor. "This is a program where two leaders in parks are there with supplies and activities."

FUN.AND GAMES are geared for kids 6-12 years of age. "We had over 200 register each year we've had the program," Lawson said. "Because children keep coming back, I assume that's a vote of confidence. Field trips and special events also are on the docket. They include: • Kensington Park, Friday, July

Oakland County wave pool, Friday, Aug. 4. Detroit Tiger baseball game, Wednesday, Aug. 9.

• Crossroads Village near Flint, Friday, Aug. 11.

GRAPER SAID he has no animosity toward the commission and that his tenure in Plymouth was much longer than typical stays of city managers elsewhere.

When you're employed in the public sector, you have to accept that on any given Monday night, if there's four votes against me, I'm gone. It happens," he said.

Graper anticipates that his resignation will generate much interest from applicants.

"I think Plymouth is looked upon as a jewel in the state of Michigan," he said. "It's one of five or six cities anyone in the management field would want to manage. It's a community with a lot of stability and not many problems."

"I want somebody like Hank Graper. I think he's done a good job for the city," Bila added.

"Basically, I'm looking for somebody positive, upbeat, forwardmoving, progressive," said commissioner Ron Loiselle. "Someone who's good with human relations and public relations.

"I'VE SEEN the city make a lot of progress in the last 10 years," Loiselle said. "I'd like to see it continue. I think it's death for a community to remain stagnant."

"To be able to communicate with people - that's our biggest need," said commissioner Mary Childs.

"I just want somebody who will carry on, use vision for the future and keep the services we have in the community," she said. "You need people who have been around, who know what's available and, if you need help, who's available."

"The person has to be a good manager," Kenyon said. "He's got to be able to organize, direct, coordinate and analyze. He has to be pretty skillful-in financial planning and budget making.

"LAST TIME, we wanted someone who was innovative, someone who anticipated problems and came up with solutions.

"The manager will have to have good relationships with the public and other units of government . and good relationships with city council," Kenyon said.

"We're going to try to find somebody, in my opinion, who was as strong and innovative as Hank said commissioner James Jabara. "It's going to take someone strong to continue things Hank

Mayor Karl Gansler II, who expects to move out of Plymouth and resign his commission seat in August, won't have a direct voice in choosing Graper's successor.

However, he elaborated some qualities which he considers are important in a city manager.

'I'm looking for a communicator, an active city manager," Gansler said. "A finance background would be important."

Growing pains and tax benefits are pushing Livonia businesses to the limit - the Canton Township limits, that is. "There are lots of businesses that relocate here that got their start in Livonia," said Dave Nicholson, Canton community and economic development director.

"Of all the original home communities for business that have moved to Canton, Livonia is far and away the original incubator. I can't think of any other community that has so significantly affected our development than Livonia."

NICHOLSON ESTIMATED that between 15 and 20 companies moved from Livonia to Canton in the past

Two factors play a big role in drawing businesses: Available land in Canton for building expansions and 12-year tax abatements of up to 50 percent. State law allows communities to award abatements to industrial companies at the discretion of local officials. And Canton has had a reputation of easily approving full 50 percent abatements.

In tax dollars the transplanted companies bring in more than half a million dollars annually for Canton.

Livonia assistant planning director H.G. Shane said the Livonia businesses were unable to expand and the entrepreneurs decided against cases, Shane said, the companies didn't buy enough property from the start.

Many of Livonia companies set up their businesses with five or 10 employees, Nicholson said. Recently, some of those longtime businesses outgrew their surroundings.

And many of the companies, Shane said, didn't believe they could find land in Livonia, "because it's rather scarce." The Livonia industrial belt - bounded by Schoolcraft, Plymouth, Inkster and Eckles - is 90 percent filled, Shane added.

A STRICTER eye on tax abatements in Livonia is another deterrent for some businesses.

Previously, Livonia granted tax abatements on a regular basis. But recently companies requesting the break were given the thumbs down,

"The indication is . . . that it's highly unlikely" the Livonia City Council will approve an abatement request, Shane said. "It doesn't mean they won't, but it's highly unlikely."

In the past 25 years, Livonia planners have worked hard in developing industrial areas to attract businesses to the community and "they've done a darn good job," Nicholson said.

"Livonia is one of the best locations for industrial firms to be located." he said. "This is obviously a sign of Livonia's maturation."

American Yazaki has a 12-year 50 percent tax break that saves the company more than half a million dollars annually, Nicholson said.

Basically we were unable to find an appropriate site in Livonia," said Sue McCrary, American Yazaki manager of administration.

The company was expanding and it had no where to go, McCrary said. "There was no problem in Livonia, we were happy in Livonia. "We grew too fast and wecouldn't find a site." McCrary said she was unsure when the tax abatement became a consideration in Yazaki's decision to

Along with Yazaki, the district features about 700 acres including industrial parks, the most active of which are along Ronda Drive and Koppernick roads, according to Canton Currents, a publication prepared by the township.

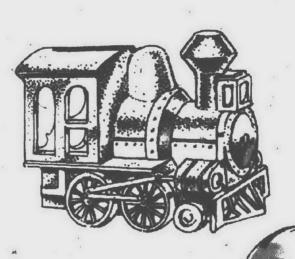

Presently the Japanese based car component manufacturer and research center, located on Haggerty Road south of Warren, is building a 100,000-square-foot expansion. The new two-story building, valued at $12 million, will house research and prototype development facilities.

Other home grown Livonia industries, Style Craft Printing and Galaxy Inc. are under construction in Canton.

MACINENY

Eleven million people in the U.S. have diabetes. But almost half of them don't know it.

Untreated, diabetes can lead to heart disease, kidney disease, blindness and gangrene.

And for 150,000 people each year, it leads to death.

That's why you should be aware of the symptoms of diabetes: blurred vision, excessive thirst and frequent urination are just some of the warning signs. Because the sooner you find out if you have diabetes, the more likely you are to get it under control, before complications set in.

Finding out you have diabetes can be scary. But not finding out can be fatal.

Faith in the wisdom and decisionmaking ability of the U.S. Supreme Court, in light of its recent decisions, is mixed among residents of and visitors to Oakland County.

In an unscientific poll, several people appeared unaware the high court had ruled that it is legal to burn the U.S. flag as a means of ex-pression. Others knew the court had ruled on abortion, but didn't seem to think the ramifications of that ruling affected them.

State Senate to take up abortion — but how? Hart is an accountant; the other

John Engler has the job of a circus master this week. The Michigan Sen-te majority leader must decide in which of three circus rings the aboruon bill will play.

When the Senate returns Wednesday, Engler, R-Mount Pleasant, will assign a committee to consider a bill to regulate abortion that will be introduced by Jack Welborn, R-Kala-1118200.

Top guess: the Judiciary Commit-e headed by Rudy Nichols, Rwaterford.

"My office," said Welborn, "already has a copy of the Missouri law that the (U.S.) Supreme Court based ductive Health Services).

"That legislation will require test-ing of the fetus by doctors to determine if the fetus could live outside the womb if a woman seeks an abor-

"It would also place tighter restrictions on abortion clinics, and we are researching the possibility of re-stricting or eliminating funding for abortion counseling."

MUCH CONFUSION surrounded the high court's 5-4 decision July 3, but all sides agree that the battleground shifts to state legislatures.

Engler was away from the State Capitol last week, but his press spokesman, Debra Townsend, said three possible committees could get the Welborn bill — Judiciary, Health Policy or Human Resources.

"It looks like Judiciary, but it's not really decided," said Townsend, revealing the staff recommendation. 'I can't say 100 percent until he (Engler) signs off on that."

The Judiciary Committee handles much court, constitutional legislation and children's rights legislation.

'I'M A LITTLE surprised it might come to Judiciary," said Nichols, contacted Friday at his home. "This is the first I've heard of it.

"In the past, they've gone to Health Policy.

inflammation occurs in rheumatoid arthritis, the scapula (wingbone) which anchors shoulder muscles, takes over the shoulder joint's work. A main scapular muscle is the trapezius, which connects the scapula to the neck. Because the trapezius is strained in such instances, you feel its stress as 'neck pain.'

Therapy consists of reducing inflammation in the shoulder. Heat, massage or injection in the region of the trapezius will not help. Until the shoulder is treated, the neck will ache.

The second source of neck pain is from the first two cervical vertebrae. Rheumatoid inflammation here leads to compression of the spinal cord. You will feel neck pain as the cervical muscles strain to position the vertebrae so; they will not press against the cord. Treatment to stabilize the cervical vertebrae is necessary and is done with a brace or operation.

The third source of neck pain is tension. Heat and a small, firm pillow are the therapies of choice.

Thus the cause of neck pain in rheumatoid arthritis requires a diligent search as each cause has a different treatment.

Well-guarded Dan Quayle misses out on all the fun

THANKFULLY, OUR travel plans did not coincide with Dan Quayle's.

We were in for some whitewater fun, while the vice president was merely along for the ride.

An entire passe of Secret Service personnel manned rafts, with Quayle presumably in the middle, as the group traveled down West Virginia's New River several weeks ago.

The New - just an hour into the mountains from Charleston - is normally awash with whitewater, waves, sinkholes and just a darn good time, as it was last Sunday.

But not when Quayle braved the icy spring waters a few weeks ago. Instead of simply helping the vice president into his raft, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers did one better they lowered the water level so the veep could have a nice, smooth ride.

"!#$#%$!" cried other rafters, upset with the change in plans. "We came for the whitewater!"

Their cries went unheeded. River guides told us water levels were cut

Thankfully, our day included lots of whitewater, 90-degree-plus weather, and plenty of good times. Most of the first-timers are ready to hit a more difficult river this fall.

There's "No such thing as a healthy tan," the headline said. The story concerned a report issued by the National Institutes of Health that included a "harsh warning" that Americans should stay OUT of the midday sun and that school children should stay in the shade during recess. All sun is bad for you, the report concluded.

The reason, of course, is that too much sun can cause the Big C -

There was one bright spot, so to speak. The report also recommended that if you must be exposed to the sun, you should wear plenty of sun screen lotion.

"ALL RIGHT," I told my wife. "If we're going to visit your parents, we're stocking up on plenty of Coppertone."

'Nope," she said. "Haven't you read the report?"
"I have," I told her. "Too much sun causes cancer. That's the reason for the lotion."

"Not that report, dummy," she said. "I mean the one that says some sun screen lotions can cause cancer. "Oh, that one," I said. "That was a private study commissioned by a newspaper. The FDA says there's nothing to it."

"I don't care," she said. "The study was conducted by an official Laboratory Cancer Research Center, and the researchers say it could be dangerous. No sun. No lotion.'

"OK," I said, "and no Florida How about if we go to visit your uncle up north. We could just lie under those big trees all day and relax

"So what?" I asked.

SHE LOOKED disgusted. "Haven't you read the reports?" she shrieked. "The EPA says that some well water may be contaminated by radon-bearing rocks. And it says trees emit hydrocarbons that produce ozone. That means pollution and cancer. We're staying away from them.

I sank back in my chair and sighed. "So let's just stay home . . . indoors . . . and be safe.

She glared at me. "Are you crazy? Haven't you read the reports about indoors? An EPA engineer says that air conditioning systems, humidi-fiers, some kinds of glue used in furniture and carpets — especially wet carpets — create indoor pollution that can be worse than outdoor pollution. And you know what that means?"

"The Big C?"
She nodded.

"Then why don't we just take a quiet drive in the country?"

"Near those power lines? You're

"Power lines?" I asked. "I suppose you haven't read about that, either. The Office of Technology Assessment says that electromagnetic fields generated by power lines may affect the nervous system and could ultimately cause cancer. It's dangerous out there."

"I give up," I said. "Let's just hide out in the basement until it's safe to come out."

"Right," she said, "and we'll all get radon poisoning."
"That's it," I said. "I'm going to have a drink and a cigarette and sit on the carpet in front of the air conditioner reading that new life insurance policy I took out. It looks like we may need it."

Her face twisted into a grim smile.

"That's a good idea, honey," she said. "Would you like an apple?"

Two area men, possibly residents of Farmington Hills and Westland, are entitled to $250 each but nobody knows how to contact either of them for payment.

Both men are anonymous tipsters, entitled to reward money paid by the Southfield-based Citizens Crime Watch for information leading to the arrest of criminals.

One has been due the money since mid-May, when information he supplied resulted in the arrest of a Farmington Hills drug trafficker. The other has been due the reward since last October, when a Westland drug trafficker was arrested.

We know nothing about callers who phone us with tips. We don't know names or addresses. We never see them. The only person who knows their identity, is the tipster," said Sandy Howard of Crime Watch. a private non-profit organization.

Howard knows tipsters only by an assigned number. Unless they call her, she has no way of contacting them or paying rewards to those who have earned them.

speculated each caller lives in the community where arrests occurred. Chances are, she said, they even live near suspects. One thing is certain, callers knew suspects well enough to supply police with detailed informa-tion about criminal activity.

THIS IS particularly true in the instance of the Farmington Hills tip. Once an arrest was made, the tipster called and informed Howard of the news. "He knew the person who was arrested, and he knew exactly when the arrest occurred," she said.

Anonymity is one reason Citizens Crime Watch was founded two years ago, according to Johannes Spreen, a former Oakland County sheriff and Detroit police commissioner who now directs the organization.

Spreen and others concerned with spiraling crime rates said the organization provides opportunity to re-port crime tips under the protective cloak of anonymity by those who are hesitant. Otherwise, such tips are likely not reported.

The organization maintains a 24hour hotline, 1-800-822-2911, manned by a revolving group of law students, police officers and others. Once information is received, it is immediately passed along to the appropriate police agency.

"We never ask for details. We don't ask their relationship to the In this instance, however, Howard suspect. We don't ask if they've called the police. We just take the information they offer and hope it's enough." Howard said.

In the instance of the Westland tip, information was detailed and complete enough to lead to an arrest within three weeks. The tip was received Oct. 3. The case closed Oct. 24 with a suspect's arrest.

Once an arrest is made, Crime Watch closes its file. "We don't require conviction (to pay a reward). Just an arrest," Howard said.

NORMALLY, HOWEVER, the process is much longer. The Farmington Hills tip, for example, was received nearly a year ago but the case was not closed until May 18 when an arrest was verified by police after the tipster called Howard.

Crime Watch currently has some eight cases pending, including an armed robbery in Auburn Hills and an incident in Livonia involving receipt and concealment of stolen property.

The armed robbery tip was received in February and the Livonia tip was received June 13. Other recent tips include reports of Social Security fraud and child abuse. Most unsolicited tips involve drug trafficking and the majority are received in the afternoon.

Not all tipsters are in search of rewards. "You can tell who is interested in money and who is more interested in getting criminals off our streets," Howard said.

Tipsters reporting child abuse are generally "sincerely concerned." Once information is received, "We Rewards are set once a case is closed. Amounts are based on the nature of the crime and the importance of the tip in leading to an arrest. Crime Watch also offers a flat reward of $1,000 for information in solving particularly beinous or unusual crimes culled from hundreds of news clippings received daily by the organization.

Currently, leads are sought in the rape of a Kalamazoo mother of four who was attacked while hiking on a nature trail and in the beating and $4,000 robbery of a Clay Towns woman who escaped intruders in her home by plunging through a plate glass window.

CRIME WATCH also offered a $1,000 reward, last February after the Southfield High School library was set afire by arachists. When the crime was solved without benefit of tips, Crime Watch donated the reward money to a citywide effort aimed at rebuilding the library.

More recently, the organization offered $1,000 for information leading to the arrest of whoever dumped hundreds of gallons of a tar-based emulsion into a sewer leading into Lake St. Clair, Crime Watch's "first environmental crime." Reward money is generated through advertisement in the organization's nafety manual, a booklet bound in black and containing safety hints for preventing crime and listings of area businesses who have bought ads in the book that sells for $29 each.

Crime Busters, those who have paid up to $1000, include Auto Hau-laway in Farmington hills, Carlos Murphy's Irish-Mexican Cafe and Northland Tire & Service in Southfield and Birmingham's Matal-Mates and Camera Ready.

Sponsor and patron advertisers, listed by county and paying up to $50 each, include Livonia Danish Bakery, the Garden City Fruit Market, Unique Mystique in Westland and Omnicom of Michigan in Canton.

"Let's face it," the booklet cautions, "Crime doesn't always happen to someone else, somewhere else."\

'We know nothing about callers who phone us with tips. The only person who knows their identity, is the tipster.'

Hot to try cooking with chilies

I could be sitting here telling you how great a big, cold dish of ice cream would taste. I could be envisioning cool salads, icy beverages and chilly desserts, but instead, I'm hot to trot, having been enjoying the taste of chilies in my air-conditioned kitchen.

My fingers are still tingling from splitting a few Serranos and the chili pepper plants are going wild in the garden after all the rain and sunshine. So now's about as good a time as any to fill you in on (excuse the pun) what's hot.

There are many forms of chilies from which to choose. From their origin in Mexico and Central America, chilies have encircled the globe, becoming a part of the culinary cultures of Spain, Italy, Hungary, Asia, Africa, India, China and Japan.

The few original chili varieties changed with each new soil and climate so that today there are between 1,000 and 1,500 individual types of chilies. Anything goes, from sweet to mild to bot to fiery. Chilies are abundant just about everywhere, either fresh, dried or ground. When shopping for fresh chilies, look for firm, brightly colored, shiny pods with no signs of bruising or rotting. Fresh pods can be wrapped in paper towels and stored in the crisper section of the fridge for up to five days. They also can be roasted and fro-

ROASTING IS done to remove the skin and heighten the flavor.

To roast, first rinse and dry the chiles. Spread in a single layer on a cookie sheet and with a small knife, pierce each chile near the stem. Place the chiles under a preheated broiler and cook on all sides until they blister. Don't let them char or you'll get a burnt

After blistering, place them immediately in a paper or plastic bag and allow them to steam for 15 minutes. Skin, seed and de-vein before using. As previously warned, use plastic gloves when working with hot chiles.

Chiles can be frozen whole after roasting. Do not skin. Simply let cool and pack in plastic bags. After defrosting, skin, seed and de-vein. Another trick I like to use is simply to pack them (after roasting) in jars and cover with Here's a beginners' list on what's available locally in most good groceries and produce shops. Prices will begin falling soon because of the summer glut, so freezing and or storing now will save dollars and time later.

ANAHEIM: Mild to hot, with mild flavors prevailing. Light-green color, subtle flavor.

CAYENNE CHILE: Hot to very hot. Green color, subtle flavor. JALAPENO: Hot, dark-green color, round, meaty flavor. POBLANO: Mild to hot, darkgreen color, with sweet over-

SANTE FE GRANDE: Medium hot to hot, yellow-green to yellow, with a lively, tingling flavor. SERRANO: Hot to very hot, green, with a bright flavor.

In addition, you can buy a fair amount of dried whole chiles in most good markets and ethnic food stores. Look for dried whole chiles with even color and no dark or yellow spots. Hang in open air or place in moisture-free

YOU CAN slightly temper the fiery flavor of dried chiles by deveining and removing the seeds.

For mild effects, add the whole dried pod to chiles and recipes, then remove the pod before serving. For the full impact, crush the entire pod and stir into the dish.

Varieties range in sweetness and fieriness, with most dried chiles being medium hot to hot. And if you are looking for something to blow off Uncle Mike's toupee, look for the fieriest chiles around, either Pequins or Tepins.

Curry a very special spice

By Katle McBride special writer

URRY MAY BE one of the most misunderstood and multifaceted - flavor agents around. The average American places curry in the same class as cinnamon, ginger and other fragrant spices conveniently offered in cans or jars. But curry is much more complex than your basic bay leaf or basil.

Examine the label on your curry container and you will see it's a blend of numerous herbs and spices. Curry dishes are part of the daily diet in India, where people shun commercial preparations and grind their own spices to Local Indian restaurants rely on experienced chefs from their native country to concoct the special blends.

"The chefs make up their own recipes for curries," said Mohammed Amin, co-owner of the Star of India restaurant in Troy. "They have to practice," he said, which makes the blends "more perfect."

CURRY HAS HELD an important place in Indian cooking for centuries. Research reveals more than one possible explanation for the origin of the word.

Some say it derives from "turcarri," a Hindustani term that was shortened to "turri." English-speaking people mispronounced it as curry, and the name stuck.

A more common explanation is that curry is the Western way of saying the Indian word "kari," which refers to the leaves of the kari plant used in regional Indian dishes or a cooking technique for preparing stir-fried vegeta-Indians call the spice blend for kari dishes "kari podi," or curry powder. The combination of herbs and spices in South Indian cooking varies by region, but Julie Sahni, author of "Classic Indian Cooking" (William Morrow and Company, Inc., 1980), says the typical mixture usually contains black pepper, coriander, cumin, fenugreek, kari leaves, mustard seeds, red pepper, turmeric and sometimes cinnamon and cloves. Indian cooks concoct their pecial blend, roasting and grinding it into a powder.

It's more than you imagined

Sahni suggests curry came to the West through British merchants and the East India Trading Co. The traders lived along the southeastern coast of India and quickly became fond of the fragrant, flavorful kari dishes. Unable to master the Indians' culinary creativity in combining spices, they added kari podi to stews and casseroles, creating dishes with the golden cast and spicy flavor they

NEW HERBS and spices were added to the curry blends when the British expanded to the north and east of India. For example, Chinese curry dishes have a flavor all their own. Unlike Indian chefs, who refuse to use commerical blends, the Chinese restaurants often use brand-name powders to prepare their curries. Additional spices and different cooking techniques make the dishes

Shen Yu, manager of New Peking Chinese Restaurant in Garden City, said they offer customers two kinds of curried chicken: shrimp or beef, stir-fried or with gravy. The stir-fried shrimp and chicken curry dishes are most

(本) 1845 (M) "We cook individually. Everything is fresh," Shen Yu said. "Our curries are very different. Indian dishes are orange-brown in color. Our curries are more yellow."

In addition to curry powder, New Peking chefs use garlic, ginger, green onions and rice wine to flavor their curries. While Indian restaurants often use red pepper or chile powder to make a dish more potent, Shen Yu said they use white pepper instead.

"It has a different taste - still hot, but special," he

CUSTOMERS CAN order hot, medium-hot and mild curries at the Passage to India restaurant in Berkley. "Karhai" chicken, lamb, shrimp or vegetables is their curried specialty, served tableside in an iron skillet.

"Few people know how spicy Indian food is," said Kazy Moin Uddin, manager of Passage to India. "It's our job to ask them how they like it. If you've never tried our curry, we suggest the mild."

Matching the heat of the spices to customers' tastes is a relatively easy task for Indian chefs, who grew up eating a wide variety of curries.

"In India, we eat curry every day, but in different ways," Amin said. Varying the spiciness and the ingredients means they "can eat it for lunch and dinner," and not grow bored with their diet.

If you haven't been to the Jolly Miller Restaurant in the Radisson Hotel Plymouth (formerly the Plymouth Hilton) lately, you're in for a shock. The comfy restaurant with large picture windows overlooking a lush park has been renamed (appropriately) the Park and has undergone a major change in menu.

We discovered this recently on a family outing. Though forewarned that the menu had been "upgraded," we were surprised to find that meant a leaner menu and heftier prices. The nice filet which once included a wonderful salad bar now costs more and comes with a skimpy dinner salad weighted down with bean

We could have taken the change with grace - after all progress is all around us - if it weren't for the apparent breakdown in coordination between the kitchen and service staff. Out main course arrived more than two hours after we did - and fully an hour and a half after we ordered. Even the soothing music provided by a harpist wasn't enough to allay our impatience as we waited long stretches between each course.

We started with soups ($1.95-$3.95) and/or shrimp cocktail. The French onion soup was delicious. The New England clam chowder in particular was nicely flavored. It was the first time, however, we've been served teaspoons with soup and we soon discovered why the soup spoon was created.

OUR DINNER SALADS were fresh and crispy, and the vinaigrette dressing was good. But those who chose the Caesar salad were disap-

The menu focuses on fresh fish, veal dishes and pasta. While the main menu ranges in price from $13.95 to $24.94, the daily specials were less pricey ($11.95-$16.95). Our group ordered a variety of entrees, from grilled tuna or salmon to filet mignon and veal francaise. While the entrees were nicely flavored and generally well-prepared, they were lukewarm upon arrival - which is why we think the service was the main problem, not the chef. The veal medallions were sauteed in a seasoned egg wash with mushrooms, lemon butter and a touch of sherry. Two of three medallions were delicious. But the third was tough and overcooked. The filet mignon was truly tender, and the bearnaise sauce served with it was light and creamy.

pecially well done, the grilled tuna was cooked to perfection, neither undercooked nor overdone, and was served with an interesting pepper sauce. Ditto for the salmon.

We finished up with an excellent cup of coffee, skipping the lineup of desserts because of the lateness of the hour. The restaurant features a dessert tray with flans, tortes, brownies and fruits. Selections range

IN ALL FAIRNESS to the restaurant, we visited shortly after the change in menu and the problems we encountered may have been part of the transition. But we wonder whether the challenge of feeding large parties in the ballroom next door (the fourth largest one in the state) detracts from the hotel's ef-

We found the grilled fish dishes es- from $2.95 for Haagen Dazs ice forts at developing a first-class restaurant. We had the distinct feeling our courses were interspersed between meals being served at the high school prom next door.

> The restaurant relies heavily upon hotel guests for its clientele. But it draws also from the western suburbs — those people who know how to find the hotel despite the fact that the M-14 freeway passed it by without an exit.

Those who do find it enjoy the comfort. The harp music (on Friday and Saturday nights only) provides a special ambience to an already pleasant atmosphere. The menu "upgrading" no doubt relates to the hotel's transition into a Radisson. With better coordination between the kitchen and service staff, The Park may yet become a memorable place to eat. We'll have to wait and see.

Curry a very special spice

At Star of India, the chef came to the United States from Bangladesh, where he was trained in specialized Indian cooking techniques. He oversees a kitchen in which everything the spice blends, breads, chutneys, condiments and ice cream - are healthy appeal of Indian food make it particularly popular with vegetarians and the diet-conscious. Curry dishes are typically served with rice or flaky bread to soak up the flavor-

"We don't use any fats except a little oil in our curries," Amin said. "It's very low-calorie food."

While this is a plus in today's business. Amin said it's the unique flavor combinations that make people crave classic curry dishes.

"You can buy curry powder from the store, but it is much more mild," he said. "We can make the dishes suit your taste. If you want it hotter, we'll add more chile. If you want more coriander flavor, we'll add more coriander."

Shen Yu shares the Indian belief in customizing curries. He frequently gives customers recipes for dishes they are rarely satisfied with "THE PEOPLE always come back after they've tried the recipe and say, 'How come it tastes different from yours?" he said.

While it may be difficult to duplicate a chef's trained techniques, curries are relatively easy to prepare at served at New Peking, but he said

4 green pepper (cut) % onion (cut) 2 pieces mushrooms (sliced)

1 tablespoon rice wine

a little bit of green peas

a little carrot, diced

1 tablespoon curry powder 1/2 tablespoon sugar

5 tablespoons water 4 tablespoon salt

1/2 tablespoon sesame oil 1 tablespoon cornstarch

First - Use chicken meat, mix with No. 1 and let sit 20 minutes.

Second — Heat pan and put 4 tablespoons vegetable oil and No. 2. Stir-fry 3 seconds, add chicken meat and stir-fry until chicken changes color. Add No. 3, stir-fry for 1 minute and add No. 4. Stir-fry until ingredients are mixed and sauce is thickened. Then remove to serving

SHRIMP CURRY

Star of India Restaurant

1 large Spanish onion, chopped 4 cloves gartie, chopped or minced 1 medium tomato cut into 8 pieces

's pound medium or large shrimp 1 tablespoon ground coriander 1 teaspoon turmeric powder l teaspoon cumin powder

45 teaspoon garam masala (a blend of cardamom, cinnamon, cloves and black pepper, available in ethnic and specialty food stores) 1 teaspoon hot chile powder

14 cup corn oil 3-4 bay leaves

1 tablespoon tomato paste 4 bunch fresh coriander leaves, chopped

1/2 green pepper, chopped salt to taste

Chop onion, set aside in a bowl. Serves approximately 4-5.

Peel and rinse the shrimp and set aside in colander to drain. Combine all the spices in a small bowl and set aside. Heat a fry pan or pot for 30 seconds. Pour in the corn oil and heat for another 30 seconds. Add chopped onion, salt to taste, garlic, pepper and tomato paste. Stir the mixture for 45 seconds.

Add the spices and stir for another minute. If necessary, add ¼ cup hot water to ensure the spices do not burn. Add the shrimp and boil for five minutes in the spices, stirring continuously. Add sliced tomato and boil for another 2 minutes. Then add enough hot water to make a sauce. Boil the mixture for another three minutes until the sauce thickens. Add freah coriander leaves, and the dish is ready to serve with hot rice.

Here's how to choose the right cooking oil

AP - "No cholesterol," the label proclaims, or "100 percent pure." Shopping for a cooking oil can be confusing. In our pursuit of a lowerfat diet we wonder which is better Here's some information to help you

TYPES OF OILS

• Oils are a mixture of three types of fatty acids: saturated. monounsaturated and polyunsaturated. The fatty acids may influence blood cholesterol.

 Saturated fats raise blood cholesterol. Saturated fats are high in palm oil, coconut oil, shortening, lard and butter.

· Polyunsaturated fats appear to lower blood cholesterol.

· Monounsaturated fats also appear to lower blood cholesterol, especially LDL, the so-called "bad cholesterol" without lowering HDL, "good cholesterol."

WHAT TO LOOK FOR

• The most important health consideration when choosing a cooking oil is not whether it contains cholesterol, but rather the amount of saturated fat in the oil. Oils low in saturated fat are more healthful.

 Saturated fat levels vary from oil to oil; coconut and palm oil are most saturated. Other vegetable oils contain saturated fats in much lower levels. You can use any of these in

• ALL vegetable oils are cholesterol-free. Only animal fats contain Both corn (mostly polyunsaturated) and olive oil (mostly monounsaturated) can have a healthful place in your kitchen.

MORE HEALTH CONSIDERATIONS

• If an oil is low in saturated fat. it's not crucial whether most of the remaining fat is monounsaturated or polyunsaturated. Both corn (mostly polyunsaturated) and olive oil (mostly monounsaturated) can have a healthful place in your kitchen. As a matter of fact, most health professionals encourage a mix.

• Let flavor, cost and cooking performance influence buying decisions. Use olive oil, for instance, for robust flavor. Corn and other mildflavored oils are good in delicately flavored recipes. As long as the oil is low in saturated fat, it won't compromise health concerns.

• Check ingredient listings on products containing vegetable oils. A label may say "100 percent vegetable shortening," but the ingredient listing may show that the vegetable shortening contains highly saturated coconut or palm kernel oil.

• Remember that all liquid vegecontributes to heart disease and tends to add excess pounds. The best advice is not just to choose oils wisely, but to use them sparingly.

Tuna steaks are great prepared on the grill

AP - Because they have firm flesh, tuna steaks are perfect for grilling. If you can't find tuna, substitute swordfish or halibut steaks

GRILLED TUNA STEAKS 4 tuna, swordfish, or halibut steaks, cut 1/2 -inch thick (1 pound) 2 teaspoons olive oil

2 teaspoons margarine or butter,

2 teaspoons soy sauce lemon or lime wedges (optional)

Place fish steaks in a wellgreased, wire grill basket. Combine oil, margarine and soy sauce; brush some of mixture over fish. Grill fish steaks over medium-hot coals 4 minutes. Turn grill basket; baste fish again with remaining soy mixture. Grill 3-5 minutes more or until fish just flakes with a fork. Serve with lemon or lime wedges, if desired.

Berries, nerries abound Rimmin.
It's besvenly biting into freshly picked Michigan berries at this time of year.
I'm sure you've noticed the produce department at your local supermarket: Strawberries, raspherries, blueberries and cherries are displayed and kept in constant supply.

Berries are the best. They're healthy - rich in vitamin C, potassium and fiber. Summertime dieters will love the fact that berries' are · also low in calories - less than 100 calories per one-cup serving.

Yet, you don't have to rely on the supermarket to provide a variety of berries. You can grow your own, shop at a farmer's market or visit a pick-your-own farm. You'll know that you're getting fresh produce this way, plus saving yourself some money.

What's more, picking your own can be a lot of fun. Get your family up early this Saturday morning and grab some empty buckets. Head to one of the picking farms and have yourselves a ball. Remember the sunscreen and wear loose, comfortable clothing, preferably light colors. White is the least absorbent of the sun's ravs.

Once you've brought the berries home, refrigerate them in a covered container, rinsing gently just before

Besides the fun of just popping them into your mouth, there are many ways to include fresh berries into recipes. Take the opportunity now through the end of August while the Michigan berry season lasts.

Time's up — collegiate stars are out

Members of the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League all-star team (facing) exchange post-game congratulations with their opponents from the Detroit Adray League.

By Brad Emons staff writer

Maybe the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League All-Stars can petition for a two-hour time limit next

In the annual Adray Collegiate Baseball League All-Star Game, played Wednesday at Tiger Stadium, Detroit scored 11 runs in the bottom of the eighth inning to drub Livonia, 16-2, in an arduous affair which stretched beyond the 24-hour time limit.

The game, featuring the area's top collegians (ages 20 and under), began at 9:30 a.m. and ended at 12:08 p.m. when Detroit Adray Sound's Andy Fairman parked a Ron Makowski pitch over the right field screen, just inside the foul pole at the 325-foot mark, for a grand slam homer.

And with the Lansing-area All-Stars due to play Detroit at 12:30 p.m., the umpires had seen enough, calling for an adjournment.

The grand slam was made possible by the liberal All-Star substitution rules.

Fairman, a left-handed batter from the University of Michigan, batted twice in the eighth inning, when Detroit sent 13 batters to the

SC spikers are the best in the land

By C.J. Risak staff writer

It took just a few mid-tournament adjustments to take Schoolcraft College's AAU 19and-under team from comic relief to championship status at last weekend's AAU-USA National Junior Volleyball Tournment at Illinois Benedictine in Lisle III.

The comedy came early from SC. The team dropped its first four games before rallying to finish its Friday schedule with a 4-4 mark.

"In pool play, there were teams that were just laughing at us," said SC coach Tom Teeters. "When we came back through the tournament, they weren't laughing anymore." After splitting with Miami-Dade in Saturday's pool-play opener, SC started to put it all together. A sweep of University of Michigan-Dearborn followed to give SC a 7-5 pool record and the No. 3 seed.

Six lopsided games later, SC had three match wins and a national championship in just its second year of AAU competition.

TEETER'S ADJUSTMENTS helped turn the tide for SC. "We went from one setter to a The 0-4 slate got turned around with sweeps two-setter system," he explained. "And that let us go to a middle-man-up defense. It's a much simpler system that allowed us to be more consistent. It let us get Nikki (Stubbs) outside, where we could get more sets for Stubbs, who spurred SC's college team to the National Junior College Athletic Association title last November, was another major factor in capturing the AAU crown. After moving outside, the 5-foot-8 hitter could not be stopped.

JoAnn Kolnitys, a Wayne Memorial grad who will be a sophomore at SC this fall, moved into the middle and provided solid blocking, and Kari Domanski, who will be a senior at Livonia Ladywood in September, went from setter to outside hitter and did both Stubbs (headed for Eastern Michigan this fall on a volleyball scholarship) and Domanski were two of the four players selected to the all-tournament team.

SC's slow start began on Friday against teams from Hawaii and Southern Missouri.

against Peoria (III.) — thanks to 11 blocks by Sarah Adzima (from Ladywood, going to Western Michigan) — and Lansing.

After winning three-of-four pool games Saturday, SC went against sixth-seeded UM-D and won 15-1, 15-8, to advance to the semifinals on Sunday.

IN THE SEMIS, SC had a rematch with Southern Missouri, which had defeated SC 15-6, 15-4 in pool play and was the heavy favorite to win the title. Instead, SC clubbed Southern 15-4, 15-5.

That left a rematch with Miami-Dade for the championship. There was no splitting this time; SC won easily, 15-5, 15-7. The rest of the nine-person SC championship squad was setter-rightside hitter Jennifer Sproul, from Livonia Churchill (going to SC this fall); outside hitter Angellette Love, from Detroit Henry Ford (also going to SC); outside hitter Anjanette Lankford, from Garden City (a sophomore at SC); outside hitter Kirstin Stelzer, from Woodhaven (another SC soph); and serve-and-defense specialist Cathy Coak, from Wayne (an SC soph).

Teeters was assisted by Alisha Love and Pat Cyrus. A week earlier, SC entered teams in the 18and-under and 16-and-under AAU tournaments, also at Illinois Benedictine. The 16and-under team won seven of eight pool games, but was eliminated in the second round of tournament competition. It finished with an overall record of 9-3.

The 18-and-under SC squad was 5-3 in pool play, but also lost in the second round of tournament competition to finish 7-5. Both teams placed among the top 28 in their respective 60-team tourneys.

SC NOTES: Teeters announced the signing of another volleyball recruit: Tricia Lukas, a 6-0 middle blocker/outside hitter from Dearborn Heights Crestwood.

"She'll help us running our quick middle-set offensively," said Teeters.

Lukas was actually recruited by SC basketball coach Jack Grenan. She plans to play both sports at SC. Lukas was a two-year starter for Crestwood's volleyball team.

'In pool play, there were teams that were just laughing at us. When we came back through the tournament, they weren't laughing anymore.'

Orr pitched a four-hit shutout as Wyandotte blanked the Elks 5-0 Thursday in a Little Caesars Connie Mack game in which host Canton made four errors.

'We give up too many extra outs," Elks coach Mark LaPointe said. "We give (opponents) second chances.'

Krafchak named to coach Salem

By C.J. Rleak staff writer

It took about 15 years and a bit of soul-searching before Mike Krafchak was able to merge ambition with reality.

He finally combined the two when he was hired as Plymouth Salem's girls cross country coach.

When I was originally at Redford Union, something about the Salem program always interested me," he said. "I said if something ever happened and I had an opportunity to coach there, I would.'

The opportunity arrived when John Gravlin stepped aside as the Rocks' girls coach. Krafchak, who assisted in coaching Salem's girls track team last spring, was the logical choice as replacement

HIS EXPERIENCE is extensive. He started at RU in 1973-74 as boys cross country coach and establi the school's girls program. He stayed there for seven years before moving on to Garden City, then to Livonia Ladywood, staying at each place for a season.

Krafchak quit coaching for a couple of years to "reassess some things," then decided to take over Schoolcraft College's struggling program. But — after several years of trying — he grew disenchanted at

"You don't get a lot of time to coach in the college ranks," Krafchak said. "It's more administrative. Runners are more set in their ways and are less receptive to

Is this avid exerciser getting enough protein?

Dear Myrna: I am a thin man who loves to work out. I spend my lunch hour working out rather than eating lunch. I generally eat one piece of toast and juice for breakfast. I eat a light, well-balanced dinner. I'm concerned that I don't get enough protein in my diet. Am I eating enough by the two meals a day? P.S. My workout at lunch is important. I won't give it up!

I do understand your lunchtime workout being important. It's a great stress releaser during the day and also will help rejuvenate your brain for better productivity.

As far as your diet is concerned, if you eat a well-balanced dinner, I can assume there is some protein in your daily diet. Most Americans consume significantly more protein than their bodies require. You probably are getting enough protein.

But the real question is: Are you consuming enough calories all

If daily caloric needs are not met, your body will use dietary protein for your energy needs — your lunchtime workout. An adequate complex carbohydrate intake is necessary to maintain that glycogen storage you have.

The man most instrumental in turning things Detroit's way was right fielder Ryan Raymond of Adray Appliance, a University of De-troit junior who knocked in two runs with a single in the fifth and followed that by robbing Livonia's Tim Napier (Caesars) of an extra base hit with a diving catch in the sixth.

"RYAN RAYMOND did a nice job - he's a right fielder, third baseman and pitcher - 1 thought everybody did a nice job," said Atkins. "All the Livonia kids did a nice job."

Steve Malgay of Caesars got things rolling for Livonia when he led off the game with a double against Detroit Adray Appliance starter Pet Bojcun.

Dave Crespi (Duffy's Plumbling) followed with a single and Art George (Caesars) knocked in the game's first run with another single. But Bojcun slammed the door, retiring the next three batters in order. Livonia mustered only three hits the rest of the way — one each by Joel Riggs (Hines Park), Eric Linck (Caesars) and Scott Wladischkin (Hines Park).

NFWB got all the runs it needed in the second inning after sand-

South Farmington, held to three hits by NFWB pitcher Tom Kutcher, scored both of its runs on a fourth-inning error. The second baseman bobbled Jeff Skinner's ground ball and threw late to first. allowing Mike Dorocak time to race home from second base with the second run.

NFWB escaped further damage with alert defensive play in the sixth and seventh innings, however.

In the last inning, South had a man on base when Rich Roy hit a line drive that center fielder Seth Petty snared with a game-ending diving catch. In the sixth, Adam Havey, representing the tying run, reached third on a single, an error and a wild pitch. Following a walk, Dorocak popped out to Kutcher, who doubled the runner off first. Skinner's flyout ended the inning.

Marauders stay unbeaten

staff writer

It was virtually a who's who among area players Priday as the Redford Marauders downed Livenia Paragon in a key Great Lakes Men's Soccer League encounter at Bicentennial Park, 3-0.

The makeup match pitted some familiar current and former collegiate players on both sides.

The win kept the Marauders all alone in first place with an 8-0 record, while third-place Paragon dropped to 4-2-2. Barring any upsets, the Marauders can clinch the regular season title with a win or a tie against second place Budlight of Flint (7-1) in a match set for 3 p.m. Sunday, July 16, at the Whitman

Center in Livonia. "We're in good, tactical position in our league," said Marauders coach John Petterson. "But we can't start slow against Budlight like we did here in the first half tonight or we'll be way behind."

With some tight marking, Paragon played the deep and talented Marauders evenly for almost 53 minutes before Rob Ludwig, an Eastern Michigan University player, blasted a shot from 20 yards out past a Marauders goalie Brian O'Shea, a former Schoolcraft College standout and Livonia native, then took charge, coming up big on successive stops,

Hawks fly high in Ohio

The state champion Michigan Hawks under-19 girls seccer team won the Northern Ohio Societ Cup on the Fourth of July weekend, and Hawks player Jackie Silagyi was named the most valuable player of the tourna-Silagyi, who played for Class A champion Troy Athens last spring. Carrie Maier (Farmington), Patty Boyle (Troy) and Carrie Thomas (East Lansing) scored goals in the final as the Hawks defeated the East-West Soccer Club, the northern Ohio champion, 4-0.

On the way to the championship, the Hawks outscored five opponents by a combined score of 20-1 as goalkeeper Brooke Gillespie (Troy)

Her job was made easier by the consistent defensive play of fullbacks Bonney Boyle, Troy, Susan Gibson, Farmington, Natalka Litkewycz, Brighton, Erin Morgan, Canton, Chris Lamb, Troy, and Lisa Yderstadt, first denying Anthony Kontos from point-blank range and then King on

Other members of the team are Shannon Meath, Canton; Jennifer Misaros, Farmington; Amy Trunk, Farmington; Rose Hally, Livonia; Margaret Kopmeyer, Bloomfield Hills; Julie Stabnick, Plymouth; and Liz Brooks, Troy.

Later in the match, O'Shea stopped a penalty kick by Russ Gans.

'He (O'Shea) was the No. 1 star for sure," said Petterson. "He also stopped Bobby Paul (of Paragon) on a couple of good plays. He's amazing. He saved three penalty kicks for us in a tournament in St. Louis. Not too many have been scored on him."

The Marauders broke Paragon's back with just under 12 minutes left in the match when Scottish transplant Gordon Wells scored on a nifty set-up from Lars Richters, the former Livonia Stevenson High All-Stater now playing at Yale.

Gary Mexicotte, another Stevenson All-Stater who went on to play at Bowling Green, tallied the third and final goal only a minute later on an assist from Jim Rhoads.

"I'D SAY the No. 2 star was our whole defense," Petterson said. "Our defense got a little tight when we got we got ahead 1-0, but Paragon started pushing and made some good counter attacks. We're a defensive oriented team. For us to score three or four goals is a gift."

But the telling story may have been the Marauders' superior depth.

"The first goal didn't faze us as much as the second goal did," said Paragon coach Dan Duggan. "They (the Marauders) are deeper everywhere and they have a lot of name brand players like Gary and Lars, who were all-staters in high school. We're a little older and we have a lot of club-type players, while they've been playing together for five years.

"We have some excellent athletes, but on paper they're better. But everybody knows sometimes you can win on emotion and that's what we were trying to do." Quickness may have been another telling factor, according to Duggan.

"We have some speed when we need it, but their speed is overwhelming," said the Paragon coach.
One of the most demonstrative players on the field was Wells, whom Petterson said came over to this country "looking for opportunities."

"Every team needs a sparkplug and he's a fiery character for sure," said the Marauders coach.

SOME OF THE familiar names in the match come from the area high school coaching ranks. The Marauders featured such players as former indoor professional player Nick O'Shea, now the girls soccer coach at Livonia Churchill: Matt Davis, the girls coach at North Farmington; Scott Steiner, the new boys coach at Garden City; and Barrett, who was the boys coach at

On the Paragon side, among the coaches in the high school ranks include Bobby Paul, who led Northville to a runner-up finish in the 1989 state Class A girls tournament; Jim Duggan, who coached the North Farmington boys; and Marty Caves, the former Livonia Bentley stand-were supportive. And the facilities are the best.'

WHILE KRAFCHAK may make the Salem program sound like Paradise found, the record implies something less. Last season the Rocks lost to Western Lakes Activities Association champion Farmington in their final dual meet of the season and missed a chance to tie for the regular-season Lakes Division title.

Farmington finished 5-0; Salem was 3-2 in the division, 4-3 overall. In the WLAA final, the Rocks placed fifth. However, comparisons with CEP rival Canton are always inevitable, and the Chiefs have won two consecutive WLAA girls championships and last November ended up ninth in the state.

Krafchak knows what he must do to take the Rocks to the next level of competition. "This is not the kind of distance-running program I've had in the past," was his evaluation of Salem's team. "They don't have the depth I've had.

When I first started coaching, a guy told me your team is only as good as its fifth runner. I never center my team around any one kid; it's all for one, one for all.'

WHICH MAKES Krafchak's aim for the upcoming season evident: developing depth. The turnout has been very encouraging: "Thirty-five kids have signed up for cross country. That's the first step."

But he has much more in mind. "This is a long-term program. First, you've got to get kids out for the 1 to start training." Krafchak plans on taking his team to a cross country camp in Lewiston for a week of intensive training to start the season in mid-August. "I know I've got some kids with athletic talent," he said, noting co-captains Jenny Harris and Kim Ploucha.

The new Salem coach makes no promises regarding record. "We've got some pretty high goals. We always do. But, quite frankly, I'm not team, but they can't wait until Sept. going to tell you what they are. We use those to motivate internally.

"I will tell you this: I believe we'll be competitive with almost any-That alone may prove difficult enough to realize, considering Canton's outstanding program (four of the Chiefs' top runners return) and the rest of the tough WLAA.

Rotisserie Leagues: Baseball by numbers

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Monday, July 10, 1989 O&E

The postman doesn't ring twice at the O'Connor household. He calls more than Los Angeles Dodger manager Tommy Lasorda phones for piz-

"It's Steve," says the wife, flinging the receiver at her couch bound husband.

"Steve" is Steve Smith of Wayne, a postal carrier by day, is the owner grant Rotisserie Baseball League..

He phones under the general pretense of friendly conversation. You know, like "how's the wife?"

massive object that sticks in your craw like a lump of coal. "How's your team?" he asks.

Understand, Steve Smith is no dummy. He knows full well how the beleagured Berville Batmen are doing. We're in the hurt bucket, the basement, last place, Rostisserie League hell.

You see, Steve Smith is concerned. He cares. He wants to help me. He wants Tony Gwynn.

Steve Smith uses the strategy of and general manager of the Wayne attrition. He figures he can wear me Newton's, a member of the Immi-down with numerous phone calls, perhaps catch me at vulnerable moment, like while I'm watching the "Gorgeous Ladies of Professional Wrestling," and I'll fork over the All-Then comes the needle that cuts Star San Diego Padre centerfielder like a sword, the ultimate dig, the for two bullpen catchers and a third base coach to be named later.

Such is the madness inspired by the latest craze, called Rotisserie League Baseball. What is Rotisserie Baseball you may ask?

Some 500,000 to 750,000 people are estimated to be participating in the game, which involves owning your own major league team. Some present Rotisserie League owners include New York governor Mario Cuomo, David Eisenhower and Bryant Gumbel.

The game is simple in theory. You construct a team of 23 actual players in the major leagues. Based on their performances, you are rated in categories, such as batting average, stolen bases, home runs, earned run average, runs batted in, pitcher's wins, hit/walk ratio and saves. You can make trades and you even have a farm system.

'It's a way to own your own major league team without paying $50 million," said Glen Waggoner, who coedited the book on the game "Rotisserie League Baseball" (Bantam). "It's for anyone who has sat in the bleachers and watched a million dollar slugger not run out a pop fly and said to themselves, 'If I ran this team I'd get that burn out of here.' If you own your own team, you can get that bum out of there."

Rotisserie League baseball gets you thinking like a general manager. You start to take a liking to fat Cuban cigars, plaid polyester pants and green golf shirts.

A Rotisserie League owner scours the daily box scores religiously; watches the Atlanta Braves and Chicago Cubs on cable TV (though scientific studies indicate enduring thou-sands of "Holy Cows!" from Harry Carey over a period of time causes shutout, I'm estatic." laboratory mice to eat their young) and develops a keen sense about the ability of phenoms named Juan out of countries with military-backed re-

THE ROTISSERIE owner laughs. He cries. He swears, especially when Jack Clark strikes out with the bases loaded. Wives and girlfriends become co-dependents, spending moonlit nights with their lovers on the front porch listening to the Cincinnati Reds game on the radio.

"When one of my pitchers gets bombed, I'm miserable for the whole day," said Keith Stone, 25, of Westland and owner of the Keystone Cops in the Lower Great Lakes Baseball Union. "Likewise when they pitch a Stone is commissioner of the Lower Great Lakes Baseball Union and a rabid baseball fan. The nine-team league is made up of college friends and serves as a social outlet.

There is a golf outing and a league party at the end of the season. Trophies are handed out, including the 'Donkey's Ass" to the last place finisher. The difficult part is trying to explain the game to people who are unfamiliar with it.

"It's getting better," Stone said. People are beginning to hear about it. Before when you told people you're in a Rotisserie league, they thought you were going out in the backyard and cooking some chick-

In Rotisserie League Baseball, you y chicken. It's caned trades, certainly one of the more attractive features of the game.

Every owner can tell you their best swap . . . and their worst.

FRANCIS WHITE, 36, of Southfield names his best trade without hesitation: Minnesota Twins third baseman Gary Gaetti for Seattle Mariners Ken Griffey Jr. and Erik Hanson along with Texas Rangers Bobby Whitt. White's philosophy is to trade experience for youth. "I'm willing to sacrifice a year to build for the following year," said White, who is an associate professor of psychiatry at Lafayette Clinic in Detroit. Other people's motives in trade situations can be less than pure.

Jeff Treadway, 2B: Pete Rose said you can bet this guy will be the Cincinnati Reds' second baseman of the future, which is why Treadway is playing in Atlanta. Shawon Dunston, SS: He has an Uzi for an arm, but a cap gun for a bat.

Matt Williams, 3B: The Giants told him he'd hit 20 home runs and knock in 60 RBIs . . . except he'd be doing it in Phoenix (the minors). Darrell Evans, 1B-3B: Sure, he's sentimental Dale Murphy, OF: He's such a clean, cut All-American guy, signing autographs for everyone and participating in numerous civic functions. Well, we don't care if he joins Hell's Angels and kicks sand in Girl Scouts' faces. We want home runs.

Tony Gwynn, OF: He does it all. He hits, runs and fields better than anyone. He even accomplishes something previously deemed impossible - he looks good in a Padres uniform.

'Lethal Weapon 2' is on target "Honey, I Shrunk the Kids" (B ± ) (PG)

About two-thirds of the way through "Lethal Weapon 2" (B +, R. 115 minutes) we find out more than we want to know about our charming but obsessed L.A. detectivesergeants Roger Murtaugh (Danny Glover) and Martin Riggs (Mel Gib-

I don want to give away the story so see for yourself how screenwriter Jeffrey Boam ("Inner Space," "The Lost Boys" and "Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade") goes sappy and simple-minded as the second installment of "Murtaugh and Riggs Go Berserk" lights up your local screen.

For the most part "Lethal Weapon 2" overcomes the faults of its storyline with fast action, good characterizations, witty dialogue and an effective sense of camaraderie between Gibson and Glover, even though some of the dialogue and foreign accents are hard to decipher.

Murtaugh and Riggs' friendship is counterpointed and heightened by Leo Getz (Joe Pesci), a funny little guy, whose protection is our guys' assignment. It seems that Getz has laundered a half-billion dollars of drug money and some of it didn't come clean. In fact, it was so dirty that much of it stuck to Getz's fingers. Now, the mobsters are after him and he's going into the Federal Witness Program and passing through L.A.P.D. in the process.

Pesci projects that certain wonderment of a kid playing cops and robbers with real guns while Glover and Gibson treat him like a bothersome child. It all works very well and some of the film's best moments are the by-play between these three. That, as well as other character development, primarily Murtaugh's family affairs, lifts this buddy film far above the usual and prevents the action from dominating.

THAT'S NOT to say that this is a calm, contemplative detective mystery. Far from it as "Lethal Weapon II" conquers new territory in actionfilm violence and deeds of daring. Helicopters and madman Riggs running down L.A. freeways add considerable panache to the car chases obligatory to such films.

The violence is excessive, although that seems acceptable these days, but after a while one's senses are deadened. That happens about the same time that the plot goes bad, but by then we're hooked and have to wait around to see the bad guys get 'The bad guys, by the way, are an interesting political statement in that their leader is a South African diplomat trading in drugs, gold and mayhem courtesy of his counselor employees, a bunch of ugly heavies. No match for Murtaugh and Riggs, of course. Murtaugh, in particular, plays the anti-apartheid theme quite well despite it's unexpected appearance in a buddy-cop film.

The filmmakers raised the beaver couple in captivity before setting them loose to live, love, work and dodge predators in the Canadian Rocky Mountains. It took 204 days of continuous film to collect footage for the 31-minute film.

They go to amazing lengths to accurately depict the beavers' life. A camera is actually built into the beaver lodge. An especially harrowing moment shows a bear nipping at a beaver's heels and chasing him into the lodge. "Luckily," says the narrator, "by the time the bear breaks through, the beavers will be long

"Bird" (B, R, 161 minutes) is a film you'll like more than you should. But despite its flaws - and there are plenty — it grabs firm hold of your emotions and nostalgia and it doesn't let go. It's not just the sweet sounds of Charlie Parker (Forest Whitaker) although the sound track is excellent, utilizing original recordings by the Bird and other jazz greats of his era. Not only is the music good, there's lots of it. Well, why not just buy the soundtrack? Because the film's peculiar, haunting quality evolves from the ways in which award-winning director Clint Eastwood blended those sounds with the images and, as well, from the performances he drew from his prin-

"Bird" is the Charlie Parker story, a sad one indeed, a tale reflecting the burdens of black America in this century - poverty and rejection escaping into drugs, alcohol and, on the bright side, music. That was Parker's story, but one of the film's major flaws is that the genesis of Parker's problems are largely ignored with only an occasional professional failure thrown in. seemingly for good measure.

But it's hard to accept that terrible pain which drove him so deeply into drugs and alcohol merely on the basis of a brief, impressionistic sequence of black poverty in rural America with which the film opens. Neither is there any real development of his personal, artistic tension.

ALSO MISSING is any realistic depiction of Parker's marriage to a white woman. While the tension of their personal relationship is welldeveloped, it's hard to believe that such a relationship occasioned no comment in those days - America in the '40s and '50s.

Despite these problems embedded reason "Bird" is so effective. It features Parker solos electronically extracted from original recordings and then combined with newly recorded performances by musicians who played with the Bird - planist Ray Brown, alto saxman Charles McPherson, bass players Ron Carter and Chuck Domanico, plus trumpeters Jon Faddis and Red Rodney.

Rodney (Michael Zelniker) is featured in some of the film's best sequences, moments characterized by excellent human interaction between men of different races, bonded together by their music and by their pain. To the film's discredit that bond is not sufficiently emphasized or explained as a function of racially divided America.

The film's Oscar last year was for best achievement in sound, clearly well-deserved. Whitaker - Robin William's sidekick in "Good Morning Vietnam" and featured in "Platoon' and "The Color of Money" - deserves much credit for a complex rendering of joy intermingled with Sellout?! You might as well be waving a red hankie in front of a rhino with indigestion.

"How dare they say something like that?!," said Dave Thomas, vocalist and creative guy behind Pere Ubu. "This is Pere Ubu they're talking about, not chopped liver."

Yeh, how dare they? A few unenlightened souls have mentioned that 'Cloudland," the latest album from the Cleveland avant-garage outfit, is something of a compromising dip in lake commercial. May they all be lashed 50 times with a broken guitar

Thomas, though, acts like he's never heard any whispers about "Cloudland" commerciality. His tone in a telephone conversation from Cardiff, Wales, turns to a mock rage. But, rest assured, he's quite aware of it.

Sure. Pere Ubu has created its most accessible album to date. Sure, the group enlisted the help of Stephen Hague (who produced Pet Shop Boys, New Order and Erasure).

"Tenement, Years" LP, labeling started to haggle and ideas were

"Cloudland" something of a sellout is starting to run short. Pere Ubu broke comparable to saying Salvador up. four songs. "Breath," "A Bus Called Happiness," "Race the Sun," and comparable to saying Salvador Dali's "Persistent Memory" was commercial art.

One can hang his hat on the hooks; rest his head comfortably on the melodies. Pere Ubu has made the definitive pop album of the year, but one that only they could make.

" 'TENEMENT YEARS' is a very complex record, very layered,' Thomas said. "We simply couldn't do that. Something that would be very disciplined, very emotional "'Tenement Years' was the storm in the night with trees crashing to the ground and etcetera. . . . This al-burn is the day after the storm." The cloud swell for the latest Pere Ubu rainfall started up again two years ago. The band came out of Cleveland in the late 1970s, releasing five albums. Their work was cherished by critics, especially in light of the corporate rock glut that gripped the music at the time.

But the creative forces that bound Pere Ubu became too big even for But in comparison to last year's them to control. Band members Thomas worked with an improv group and did solo projects during the non-Ubu years) The creative guy behind Pere Ubu originally had aspirations of becoming a journalist He worked at a Cleveland area entertainment magazine, The Scene, for awhile.

Since Thomas wrote about music, he figured it would be interesting to give it a try. Thus Pere Ubu was another album like that. We set out-formed as a studio group, featuring to do something totally opposite of Allen Ravenstine, Tom Herman, Peter Laughner, Tim Wright, Scot Krauss and Thomas.

> PERE UBU was part of a small underground music scene in Cleveland, which might seem to be the unlikely birthplace of one of the most innovative bands in this country. Perhaps some toxic debris from the Cuyahoga River has something to do

> The band has never been predictable. That makes the pop flavor 'Cloudland' even more unusual. Especially taking on producer Stephen Hague, known more for jingle singles than technical masterpieces.

Hague provided the final buffs on

'Waiting for Mary." "(Hague) is always been a big fan of ours," Thomas said. "He told the record people. 'Boy, I'd like to produce something by them. We said, "He was very nervous. He didn't want to mess up our sound too much. It worked out well. It was a pretty good relationship. We plan to use him on the next album as well."

Next album? Apparently, the band will do demos for album No. 3 in the second Pere Ubu series after their current tour. Thomas doesn't exactly draw a map where Pere Ubu is headed on the next disc.

"I think 'Cloudland' suggested that there might be some more done in that area," he said. "We found it exciting to work in a disciplined set-

REVIEWS

MUSEUM - Mary My Hope

Mary My Hope is from Atlanta. This is their first record on Silvertone/RCA records. The oldest member of the band is 23. Mary My Hope members claim they deal with primal, nihilistic extremism.

Mary My Hope members have no sense of humor.

They traveled to Wales to record this album with English producer Hugh Jones, who has previously worked with Echo and the Bunnymen, That Petrol Emotion and the Damned, apparently "to get the right atmosphere."

From listening to it, I would have imagined that hanging around morgues or funeral parlors might have worked just as well. Song titles like "I'm Not Singing," "Grind," "Suicide Kings," "Communion" and "Death of Me" means they're not going to do the sound track to the next Roger Rabbit movie:

Lyrics like "I have no faith that keeps me from tasting the joys of the world." Mellow out, Clinton!

Big sprawling guitar crunches,

1970s lead breaks and "serious" music fill this package. Oh, wait, they must be sensitive too . . . . they use a cello on one track

Remember that classification of music that was used to refer to bands like Free, Yes and Zeppelin. That classification that we had hoped punk would kill. That classification called . . . (cover the children's ears and brace yourself) . . . 'progressive rock." Well guess what? Just like Jason and Rambo movies, it still lives.

Who needs another third- or fourth-rate Zeppelin rip-off band? These guys even make Guns N' Roses sound tolerable.

Now for that, no band should be shown mercy

GREENPEACE — various artists

Do we have stars here or what? C'mon, you got yer U2, yer Belinda Carlisle, yer Sting, yer Lou Reed And it's all for a good cause (like there hasn't been a lack of those lately?): Greenpeace.

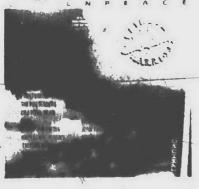

Greenpeace is an international environmental group actively fighting such things as whaling, the killing of baby seals and the dumping of toxic waste.

Anyhow, this double LP is designed to bring awareness to Greenpeace and the causes the group is involved in. Included is a card where people can send for information on the organization. Also, royalties and money raised from album sales will be donated to Greenpeace.

Featured are no less than 27 songs by the likes of Terence Trent D'Arby, World Party, Bryan Ferry, Eurythmics, The Pretenders, Grateful Dead, INXS, Thompson Twins, Huey Lewis and The News, Talking Heads, Simple Minds, Waterboys, R.E.M., John Farnham, Aswad, Bryan Adams, Basia, Peter Gabriel, Bruce Hornsby and the Range, Martin Stephenson and The Daintees, Sade, John Cougar Mellencamp and

Most of the numbers are previous - Cormac Wright hits. Some songs on the album have a recurring theme of the environment. Titles such "Heaven is a Place on Earth" by Belinda Carlisle, "Small World" by Huey Lewis and The News and "Love is the Seventh Wave" by Sting definitely fit the spirit of the project.

In the case of Peter Gabriel's "Red Rain" and Lou Reed's "Last Great American Whale," it also marks some of those artists' most riveting work. U2 ("Pride") and Simple Minds ("Waterfront") contribute live cuts on the project.

Yet among the all-stars of U2, Sting, Gabriel, etc. are some groups hard to find on Top-40 radio. The Waterboys' spirited "Whole of the Moon" is a fine introduction of a. group and definitely a highlight, as is Aswad's "Set Them Free.

Listen to the album and fill out the information card.

CLOUDLAND - Pere Ubu

Pere Ubu has always been one of the groups that if you listen to one of their cassettes in the car, you're want to pull over and check for weird noises that you think are coming from under the hood.

"Cloudland" (PolyGram), the latest from Cleveland's avant-garage outfit, is certainly no different in that regard. Yes, Pere Ubu has made a pop album. For once, though, pop is not a dirty word here.

With the stylings of Pere Ubu, there is hope for pop music. This is perhaps their most accessible album to date. But it still boxes you around the ears and challenges you.

The group's last album "Tenemen Years" (Engima) was a fine prelude for this LP because it is totally in the opposite direction. "Cloudland" is more focused, yet still providing the hallmarks that are Pere Ubu.

Dear Ms. Haynes,

Your letter is timely. I receive a lot of correspondence from men and women who are having difficult finding partners. Your observations give them and other readers an opportunity to learn things that I do not have background to impart.

The lack of opportunity for singles to meet is heightened as soon as they leave school. School is a natural are-

I would appreciate further comments from our readers on dating services and how well they do or do not fill this void. Any comments on how well other groups, like Parents Without Partners, or social gathering places, like bars, help fill this emptiness also would be helpful.

I anticipate moderating a show on Bloomfield-Birmingham cable in the near future which will deal with these topics, and I anticipate that the research and preparation for that show, as well as the show itself, will provide much additional informa-

The eatery is closed, but Rotisserie League Baseball is big business. One of the most humorous is "Rotisserie League Baseball, 1989 Edition." A complete history of the league is presented along with some tips on strategy and a scouting analysis on players. "We had not a clue," said Waggon er. "We thought we would play this game in suspended isolation because we didn't think anyone was as crazy as we were."

Kevin Allen, formerly of Westland, is the owner of three teams. His wife, Terri Sherman, is in one league with her husband. The Teriyakis are 8-1 in the Port Huron Fantasy Baseball League; the Ailen Wrenches are a woeful 3-6.

Comedy for Dave Edison ią something he can plug in and flip a

His style is definitely state-of-theart. The punchline is the transistor and laughter is measured in kilowatts.

Technology has gone too far, too fast," said Edison, who will perform at Thursday through Saturday at Joey's Comedy Club in Livonia. "I think we're having trouble keeping up. We're getting a lot of things that we didn't even ask for.

"There are milkshakes today that you can make in your microwave. Does it make any sense?'

Instead of "McDonald's jokes" or subject. lines about "my wife is so-and-so," Edison got a lightbulb of an idea to " try something different. One joke about a video game started him on the way down the circuit breaker path of comedy.

Today Edison culls science journals such as Popular Science and Omni, looking for gadgets or new technology they are ready to spring

His brand of humor has won them over in clubs and Radio Shacks nationwide. He's performed on televi-sion's "Late Night with Joan Rivers" hattan resident started in comedy after graduating from Lehman College. He is also working as director Edison's material, though, doesn't require an electronics diagram or a person with a slide rule and six sharpened pencils in his pocket to comprehend. He did work for three months at a Radio Shack. "I was the guy behind the counter who said, No sir, the batteries are in back-

BASICALLY, Edison's comedy simply pokes fun at the high-tech world we live in.

Like for instance, musical greeting cards. "Do we really need them?," asked Edison. "I mean a sympathy card shouldn't play "Another Bites the Dust."

Edison admits he's tackling an odd

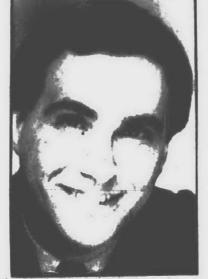

"I get an occasional stare like the proverbial RCA dog," he said, "but I dance around it. I can usually pull the rabbit out of the hat."

Wash your hands and face. Clean comedy is Mike Toomey's speciality. Stories about how his mother used to buy generic cereal instead of the real "Tony the Tiger" Frosted Plakes is about as risque as it gets when the Chicago native takes the stage. Swear words? Oh my. Tsk. Tsk. Tsk.

Actually Toomey, 26, doesn't take a pious attitude about comedy. Profanity spiked humor is simply not his

"That's what works for me," said Toomey, who will be performing at Miss Kitty's Comedy Club Friday and Saturday, July 14-15. "The less people you offend, the more people can enjoy you."

Simple enough. Anecdotes about growing up and living in the big city - in his case Chicago - are things many people can relate to.

His act also includes impressions of TV sit-com characters from "My Three Sons" and "Andy Griffith." Just nice stuff. Not the kind of thing Aunt Bea would slap your face for.

Today, when the vile humor of Sam Kinison appears to be in vogue, things would appear tough for an upstart comedian toting the pure

IN TOOMEY'S case, that means even performing in front of his family at 5 years old with impressions of Jack Webb and Alfred Hitchcock. He started out professionally seven years ago, performing at "open mike" nights at Chicago comedy

Since then, Toomey has appeared at clubs in the Midwest and South. He also won third place on WGN-TV's "Comedy Bowl," taking home $1,000 prize.

Those are the nice gigs. Toomey can also tell you about performing in front of uninterested students in college cafeterias during lunch and half-empty nightclubs.

Pardon me while I crow a bit. I've just returned from a weekend at the Stratford Festival in Ontario.

How were my seats? I don't want to sound boastful but the seats for "The Merchant of Venice" were so close you could almost smell Shylock's breath and whiff Portia's sweet perfume. That's fourth row center orchestra.

And for the double bill of "Titus Andronicus" and "Comedy of Errors" just a tad back, still orchestra seating of course. So close that the rape and mutilation scene forced the woman next to me to head for the

Would you believe this Stratford trip was made without any reservations? Not play tickets, not hotel, not dinner. Zip.

Granted the trip was made two days before the traditional May 29 festival opening, but Stratford Festival office personnel, inn operators and Stratford Information booth staffers all agree, a spur-of-themoment jaunt to Stratford is absolutely possible. Without reservations you can still get a room, play tickets and a meal

HERE'S HOW:

To get to Stratford, Ontario, from Oakland County will take about three hours. Cross into Canada at Sarnia and take 402 east. Wayne County residents will want to go via Detroit/Windsor on 401 and link up to the 402 at London. Exit at Highway 126 north also known as Highbury Avenue (exit 189B). Go north 20 miles to Highway 7 and east to Strat-

First stop should be the Tourist Information Booth along the Thames River, on the west end of York Street east of Huron Street. The booth is staffed from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday and 10 a.m to 5 p.m. Sunday. (The theaters are dark on Monday.)

Two full-time staffers paid by the city, a few students and other volunteers dispense information about accommodations availability for hotels, bed and breakfasts and campgrounds in the area.

On Sunday or Monday of each week area hotels call the booth to give an availability count. That checklist is posted on a bulletin board just above a scrapbook showing pictures of the establishments. While booth tenders will not make reservations for you, they'll allow you to use a telephone placed there for just that purpose. Local calls only, please.

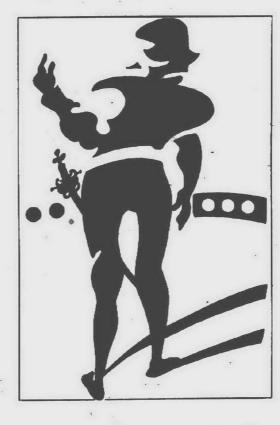

IF YOU strike out on hotels or if you'd just prefer a bed and breakfast arrangement, the booth has a list of 84 to choose from, all inspected and approved for listing.
"As long as they're not picky we'll get them a room," said staffer Laurie Parker.

STRATEORD)

How to visit without reservations

You can also get information about area recreation and outdoor activities including surrounding fairs, golf courses, attractions, festivals and arts and crafts shows. You'll also find out about area restaurants and their menus, churches, galleries and specialty stores.

Now about the tickets. That's one thing the information booth does not help with.

There are three theaters: the Festival, Avon and Third Stage in decreasing order of prestige and price. The main box office is located at the Festival Theatre on Queen's Park. Reserved tickets are held at the Stratford Festival Box Office until 14 hours before curtain. The Avon and Third open one hour before curtain and sell tickets for that day's performance only. You can call the main box office from the information booth to find current ticket availability.

IF YOU'RE given the "all sold out" spiel, pay attention here: unclaimed, unpaid for tickets are released for sale one hour prior to curtain. Chances are you'll be able to cash in on a "no show." If you don't score then, wait for the scalpers. Just before curtain they'll appear in front of the theater trying to resell unneeded ducats.

Then again if living on the edge, i.e. spontaneous traveling, makes you nervous, you can always follow the tourist industry's most quoted advice, "Call ahead for reservations.'

For ticket information and accommodations, call the Stratford Festival Box Office and Accommodations Bureau, Detroit information line, 964-4668.

Of course it won't be as exciting

A couple tips for the festival

Here's some miscellaneous tips on seeing Stratford:

• If you'd like a one-hour guided walking tour of early Stratford, stop by the Tourist Information Booth on York at 9:30 a.m. Monday through Saturday "on all nice days in July and August" or pick up the map guide for your own tour.

Another self-guide tour map is provided by the Local Architectural Conservation Advisory Committee, and naturally leads you to architecturally significant buildings.

• Be sure to ask at the booth about the parks surrounding Lake Victoria, "the largest park system per capita in Canada." Paddle boats and canoes can be rented by the hour at the information booth and Stratford Parks and Recreation maintains three tennis courts on a firstcome basis

• Take a quick walk through the Shakespearean Gardens (a brief stroll from the information booth) near the Perth County Courthouse along the Thames. It features flowers and herbs mentioned in Shakespeare, including rue, lavender, dropwort, roses and the like.

• Drive the 15 minutes to the town of Shakespeare and have a real afternoon tea, complete with scones, at Harry Ten Shilling. Within walking distance are several antique shops and a Christmas craft store.

North by Northeast: The coast is still clear

By Doris Scharfenberg special writer

Q: Last year, you did a story that followed Highway 22 around the Leelanau Peninsula in west Michigan. Can you do the same thing with the coast of Lake Huron in East Michigan?

M.S. Livonia

When I think of east Michigan, I picture daybreak over Lake Huron. The rising sun transforms the Tawas lighthouse into a gleaming silo and filters through curtains of marsh grass to reveal the nests of geese. Tawas Point State Park is one of a thousand places along Lake Huron's upper coast where morning can be seen and felt in all its glory.

The "quiet" corner of the state is not all nature walks, beaches and boats, however. As you drive north from Standish to Mackinaw City, you'll find shopping centers, new motels, and every fast food chain known to traveling appetites. You can find golf before breakkfast and hot tubs after canoeing if you want them.

Turn off I-75 north of Bay City to slightly pokey US 13. Stop at Deer Park near Pinconning to let Junior feed Bambi or ride the safari express. Buy Pinconning cheese. Follow US-23 to Omer, Michigan's smallest city. Rent canoes or tubes to enjoy the forest-lined Rifle River, shallow enough for kids if a canoe duman but size line are stated to the state of the st dumps, but rippling enough to be fun. In Au Gres, check out an amusement park with roller coaster, miniature golf and kiddle rides.

As US-23 edges closer to the big lake, swatches of blue horizon begin to flash between clumps of trees. West of the highway lies the Huron National Forest and miles of county roads leading to pine-scented campgrounds, a world of small lakes, trails and tiny hamlets (44 lakes, 36 streams in Iosco County alone.)

Tawas City/East Tawas (no one but a native could guess where the border is) curl along a bay formed by the small peninsula of Tawas Point. The warm water fishery of Saginaw Bay makes Perch and Walleye a steady catch and the protection of the Point gives small sailboats a great place to race.

THE NORTHBOUND road rises along a gentle bluff toward Oscoda-AuSable, another set of civic twins astride the legendary AuSable River as it meets Lake Huron. If you have an itch to fish, Capt. Steve Paslaski, one of many charter-boat veterans, guarantees catches from his 37-foot rig. He's talking coho, trout, steelhead, etc. (For information, call 517-739-2301.).

Antiquing is the next biggest sport. Or relaxing (sometimes with a cocktail) on the decks of the AuSable River Queen for a two-hour paddlewheel boat ride, almost too popular for drop-ins.

Reserve ahead for river visits to Lumberman's Monument and a lot of green serene river (For informaeach year, fills a calendar with fishing derbies, and its bed-and-breakfast biz has enlarged to three houses. Meanwhile, the third generation of Yokoms operates the Big Paw Resort, a AAA-four diamond classic.

Slightly north and invisible 'til you're there, the coad into Big Paw twists toward neat cottages, each with a fireplace, along Lake Huron. Everyone eats together in a dining room mellow with rustic hominess. One price, family style, for resort guests or those who reserve far in advance (Information: 517-24-6326).

In old lumbering camp days, they used tall tales to fill the entertainment gap. Pop hero Paul Bunyan, a 15 foot-tall lumberjack who could fell trees with one chop, stands with his blue ox, Babe, next to the road near Ossineke.

IN A FOREST just beyond, creatures that would shrink anyone are life-size and authentic. Dinosaur Gardens has a brontosaurus to greet visitors, and more massive beasts down the path. Even if dinos don't grab you, enjoy the magnificent trees.

K mart, Pizza Hut, quaint shops, department stores; the time warp fades as we enter Alpena, a "Warm and Friendly Port . . ." unless your ship sank. The 50 or more sunken ships in nearby waters give Alpena special rank as an underwater preserve. Equipment is available to qualified divers, and the Alpena Hospital is equipped with a decompression chamber in case of accident.

For non-divers (most of us), the Thunder Bay Theater is the only year-round live professional theater in Northern Michigan. Modern or, traditional productions are well done. Another north country treat is the Jesse Besser Museum, modern, fully accredited museum of art, history and science. Planetarium, fossils and noted artists. On Johnson Street, only 300 yards from US-23.

Golf, tennis, festivals. Then drop into Club 32 for a late snack and live band (Wednesday through Sunday), or Red's Saloon and Eatery for some

Monday, July 10, 1989 O&E

Q. I love fishing but it seems whenever I want something it's either nowhere to be found in the boat or it's the one item I never bought./How can I prevent play from being as complicated as work?

A. Fishing is meant to be fun, but it can be an exercise in futility if you aren't outfitted properly - not only with the right equipment but also by organizing it for easy (and non-frustrating) use.

Grabbing your fishing net to land that lunker can be an upsetting experience if it's tangled amid stray coils of monfilament with triple hooks. Having to reach out to the end of a downrigger could cause a chilling plunge without swivel mounts and cannonball retrievers

Advance planning is the key to your success. A permanent set of basic tools (screwdrivers, etc.) is invaluable. Secure your downrigger balls in holders made to cradle them properly so they don't roll relentlessly with each dip of the boat. Make sure your mooring cover/canvas is in good shape so a missing snap or small rip doesn't leave your boat filled with water.

Keep a pad and pen on your boat and write down missing items as you need them. Then buy only what you need - not 20' of the same lures while forgetting the insect repellent and suntan lotion. Create a checklist of everything you need each time, laminate it and keep it in with your equipment.

Three time-saving strategies include: creating a specific place for each item and returning it there after each use; leaving as much equipment on your boat as possible, either in lockable storage or by mounting it; and using an accessible well organized dock box or cart for the rest.

If you need more boat storage space, look around for seemingly unusable space. For extra lures, try cutting slots in dense foam and attaching it into a recessed spot. For easy access, slide a small set of utility drawers into a side pocket to hold paraphernalia like hooks, sinkers, rubber bands, etc.

When installing new electronic equipment, leave room for that Loran C you'll eventually want and put your LCD graph on a swivel mount to move away from the direct sun. You're probably heard these ideas before but the acid test is whether you have followed through. If you haven't mailed in your campaign letter to decrease bulk mail, send it today to: Less Is Better, PO Box 330, Franklin 48025.

condo queries Robert M.

Q. In our condominium, we are having a number of water leaks in the roofs and there is a debate on the board as to what we should do. Some wish to go to the township building inspector for help. What has been your experience in that regard?

Meisner

A. Unfortunately, building inspectors and/or township officials are not generally in a position to force the developer to make repairs to correct defects and deficiencies in condominiums and other multi-family residences, particularly if the condominium developer has completed the project and is no longer seeking certificates of occupancy from the municipality.

Moreover, building inspectors rely on the minimum code of requirements of the municipality to determine the adequacy of the construction by the developer and in some instances, there are no code requirements with respect to various problems at the con-

Finally, assuming that the building inspector is willing to do something and the developer fails to do anything in response to the building inspector's request, the only real recourse that the complainant has is to file a complaint with licensing and regulation in Lansing against the builder's license. It is a time consuming, frustrating and arduous task that rarely results in a builder losing its license and, then, only after administrative hearings which are generally more lengthy than actual litigation. Don't hold your breath for a prompt resolution.

Q. Does an apartment owner have to provide special parking spaces for handicapped persons?

A. The regulations of the Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1988 clarifies that it is part of the landlord's obligation to make reasonable accommodations for handicapped persons. A landlord may be required to provide special parking spaces to individuals when the accommodations are necessary to afford the person an equal opportunity to the use and enjoyment of his or her dwelling. Keep in close touch with your counsel on the new regulations being promulgated in this burgeoning area of the law.

Flexibility is key in Oakland Farms homes

An overview of the living room in an Oakland Farms subdivision model.

By Becky Eminger special writer

HINK OF options, package deals, exciting trim packing amid luxurious surroundings. Do images of Detroit's finest automobiles come to mind? Think again. We're talking about new homes that incorporate the latest trends but offer flexibility to the buyer to make it his dream castle.

On Rochester Road, two miles past downtown Rochester, Harbor Oaks Development Corp. offers onehalf to three-quarters acre lots upon which to build your own home design or one of the four basic models they offer in a subdivision called Oakland Farms. Some of the lots border protected wetlands. A total of 96 lots will be available in phases.

Two types of colonial homes are offered, each with four bedrooms and library. The ranch home has three bedrooms and a gathering room. The newest style is the threebedroom raised ranch.

ACCORDING TO PAUL Sanderson, sales manager, the models incorporate some of the latest trends. The raised ranch, a story-and-a-half home, revamps the old Cape Cod style. The master suite is on the main floor and two bedrooms and a bath make up the upper level. Threebedroom homes are gaining popularity due to smaller families. Threecar garages are also a popular choice, affording storage for boats or extra vehicles.

But don't think that fewer bedrooms means smaller living space. The 2,500- to 3,000-square foot homes allow ample room to entertain. The space is further enhanced by decorator accents the builder offers. Rounded corners installed with the drywall give a soft curvilinear line to the interior walls. Because the most popular choices in this community are traditional exteriors and contemporary interiors, such touches make a difference.

Sanderson believes they are one of the few builders offering panelized drywall, another stylish option for interesting walls. The drywall features inset panels molded into the wainscot areas of the wall, allowing for easy decorating and color accents. This is especially popular in dining rooms. Both drywall options are included for a short time at no additional cost.

NEW SPACES ARE a surprise in the raised ranch. A butler's pantry adjoins both the kitchen and dining room. While the concept comes from past lifestyles, this adaptation works well for '90s style entertaining. Leaded glass doors hide anything from barware to linens. Additionally, a walk-in pantry provides everyday storage.

The upper level begins with a bridge gallery, an over-sized landing at the top of the stairs that lends itself to office space, a playroom or a study. A windowless "whatsis" room, also on the upper level, could serve as a cedar closet or a storage room.

The builders put a lot of thought into the package of options offered. Sanderson says, "They walk through the houses and think how people will live in them.'

The current package includes the following items at no additional cost to enhance the home: hardwood floors in the front entry, kitchen and breakfast nook; a marble floor in the first floor powder room; Brass faucets in the vanity.

Two skylights and a ceiling fan add light and air to the main living space. The library has french doors inside and stone facing outside.

A jacuzzi is situated in the master bath, which is separated from the bedroom by a dressing room area. The bedroom also has a private entrance to the deck.

The focal point of the great room is the marble fireplace. However, any style fireplace can be built to suit the owner.

All the lighting fixtures in the model are included. The first floor laundry room has premium flooring and built-in cabinets.

The package is offered, just as with cars, to give the homeowner special upgraded details that make the difference between a bread-andbutter home and a luxury showplace. The models are open Monday through Sunday, 1-7 p.m. and are closed Fridays.

"I finally found a townhome as large as a home."

"I looked long and hard to find a 2000 sq. ft., cathedral ceiling elegant threebedroom townhome. (Of course, I could have chosen a two or three-bedroom ranch.) With my own two-car attached garage, my own private basement and patio. And-luxury touches like deluxe kitchens and whirlpool tubs plus landscaping that I love. Nothing could get me to move from Covington. Nothing.

Huge New Townhomes with Old English Charm.

Foxpointe's 2 and 3-bedroom townhomes are huge. 1400 sq. ft. huge. And private. Private entrances. Private covered parking. Your own washer and dryer in your townhome. And it's all new. Brand new. But with Old English character. Now that's worth looking into.
