Warehouse burns; residents evacuated

A fire possibly caused by workers engaging in horseplay gutted a warehouse Friday and forced nearby residents to flee from their homes in Plymouth's historic Old Village area, authorities said.

The blaze at the 4,000-square-foot pole barn-style building, owned by Air-Tite Insulation, was reported at 7:31 p.m. There was no damage estimate immediately available.

Although the initial blaze was brought under control in about an hour, firefighters and department of public works employees were on the scene mopping up until early Saturday morning.

No serious injuries were reported. A city firefighter overcome by heat exhaustion was treated at the scene.

"Preliminary investigation shows two employees may have - and stress the words may have - accidentally started the fire," said Paul Sincock, assistant to the city mana-

The warehouse, which contained insulation, appeared to be a total loss. A department of public works front loader was brought to the site at about 10 p.m. so paths could be cleared to hot spots still smoldering.

"There was intense smoke, heat and flames," Sincock said. "Smoke could be seen as soon as fire trucks hit the street (about a mile away)."

"The fire was extremely intense," Myers said. "There was some concern about adjacent structure dam-

Residents of eight to 10 houses and a small apartment building nearby were evacuated, but most of them were back in their homes by midnight Friday, Myers said.

THE FIRE was brought under control in about an hour, Sincock live next door to the gutted warehouse, said they arrived home from work moments before the blaze broke out.

"In a matter of 10 or 15 minutes, the whole structure was on fire," Randy Batterton said. "I looked for my wife and dog and they got out.

When we realized how dangerous it was getting, helpful people helped get our belongings out of the house,'

Many pieces of furniture were piled on the sidewalk and the lawn of a neighbor.

Batterton said he expected to put things in storage and probably spend a few days elsewhere before moving back into his house. It sustained smoke and heat damage.

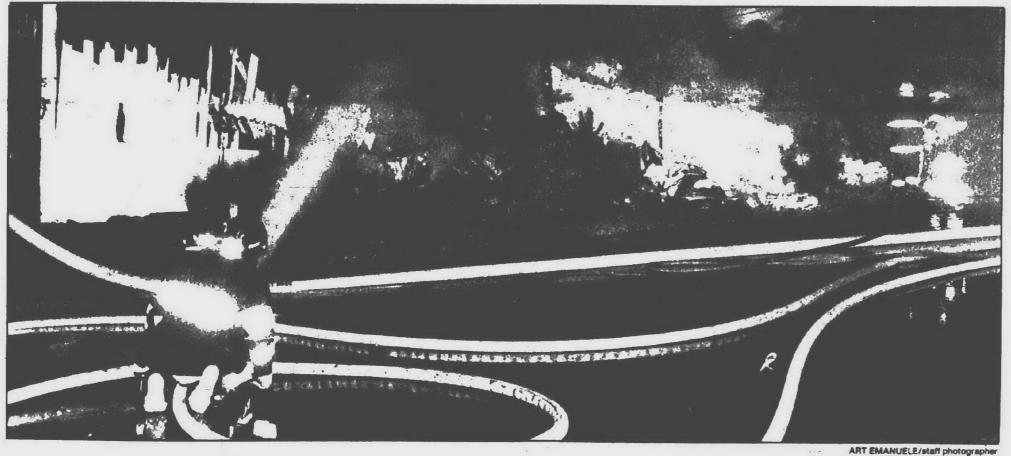

THRONGS OF people braved the acrid smell brought about by smoke to gather in the area and view firefighting efforts.

Schools crack down on student absences

staff writer

Last year's budget crunch did away with the high school attendance offices - and as absences at Plymouth Canton and Salem increased, grades went down. Average weekly absences climbed from 6 percent in September to 11 percent in June. The percentage of students receiving D's and E's climbed from 14 percent to 24 percent, according to Committee Researching Educational Workings, a citizen study group.

School officials are hopeful that reinstitution of an attendance policy, conditionally approved at a school board meeting last week, will improve the situation. Voter approval of two millage proposals in June provided funding to re-establish a policy.

Beginning this fall, the attendance offices will re-open. Some of the new rules:

· Parents have until 2 p.m. Friday, during the week of an absence. to call the attendance office.

• The office will inform teachers once a week as to the number of excused and unexcused absences from their classes.

• There will be a cap on a total of 10 absences, with no separate cap for unexcused absences. After 10 absences, students will lose

"Current research is saying that kids learn best when education is activity-based, rather than curriculumbased. Workbooks have made teachers lose confidence in what they know.

Board gets clout to revoke liquor licenses

The Plymouth Township board soon may have a more focused liquor license ordinance that would reduce the burden of proof needed to revoke or not renew local licenses.

The state Liquor Control Commission must go along with the desires of municipalities on license revocations and non-renewals if alleged violators receive due process at local

The LCC can also revoke or not renew licenses on its own, independent of municipal action.

Proposed amendments to an existing township ordinance were approved at first reading last week and will probably be adopted next

Changes were prompted by a judge's ruling last year in the highlypublicized Plymouthrock Saloon

A Lansing judge struck down the township's decision not to renew the Plymouthrock's license on grounds that criteria used by the township board to conclude that the bar was a nuisance weren't spelled out in local

• Allowing the premises to be used for gambling, prostitution or

Those elaborations of nuisance came from other existing laws. Nuisance wasn't specifically defined previously.

CRITERIA for supporting revocation or non-renewal was changed from a preponderance of the evidence to competent, material and substantial evidence — less of a legal burden.

That change came directly from the state constitution.

"I am confident that this proposed amendment corrects the defects in the ordinance," attorney Ron Karp reported to the township board.

Michael Bailey, engineering consultant for the township, said the goal is to get the sidewalk in before school begins next week.

What they're trying to do is forge a link between the general vicinity of lishister Elementary and Pio-neer," Balley said of the township beard's action.

Eventually, a sidewalk will be constructed along Canton Center Road to Ann Arbor Road by the developer of condominiums at the southeast corner of that intersection, Bailey said

The Church of the Nazarene also is expected to fill in a link of sidewalk along Ann Arbor Road as it completes renovations at its property, BIDS FOR the sidewalk came in substantially lower than the $35,000 projected by Bailey. He attributed that to competition among contractors for the work.

The township board started to fund sidewalks along major roads a couple of years ago at the prompting of Gail Wehby and Liz Clement, who expressed concerns about the safety of walkers.

The township board last week also authorized an expenditure of $14,300 to repair roads and parking areas at Township Park.

Seventeen potholes will be re-paired, then about a half mile of the roadway and the busiest parking areas will be sealed with liquid asphalt coating, said Paul Jones, public services director.

THAT WORK probably will be done over a couple of days next month and shouldn't interfere with scheduled shelter rentals in the park,

"The issue is to save that road before it all falls apart," he said. "It has been deteriorating."

The township board last week also hired the architectural firm of Coquillard, Dolgner, Dundon and Argenta of Southfield to design and supervise construction of a fire station at N. Territorial and Beck.

We're looking at about 90 days to complete plans and nine months after that to complete the building." said Fire Chief Larry Groth.

Groth said he'd like to have a station with three bays capable of being opened at either end, plus recreation, kitchen and sleeping facilities.

Trustee Roland Thomas fears developmental first grade may fall prey to the same traps "new math"

"We have to find a measurable way to determine the success of the program," said Thomas.

'I don't know how we do it, but if we don't, like new math, we won't cutriculum team, "Second grade know how we're doing. We have to build in some accountability. That's up to you - to find a mechanism."

"I want to assure you we're looking at that; we really are," said Spaniel. "We want children to be able to read. That's what we're all about in first grade.'

"We are working on an accountability system for teachers in that we are developing a literacy file," said Kulnis. "Teachers are going to be automatically more accountable making all these narrative statements about children. They truly will be more involved in childrens' development because they will be looking at that child holistically.

"In that assessment package, we will use real examples of children's writing. In that way, an educator and parent can sit down together and see the growth. I think parents will just be amazed at the growth that children make.

"We're changing report cards to reflect the curriculum," Kulnis said. We never use letter grades for first grade, anyway.

Students would benefit greatly if there were more parent-teacher contact in kindergarten and first grade, Kulnis added.

THE DEVELOPMENTAL approach emphasizes "looking at the doughnut instead of the hole," said Kulnis. "We're looking at what students can do, the positives, and building on them.

This is kind of like a come-asyou-are party with experiences from kindergarten; the teacher will match the curriculum to you and make con-for parents to phone in absences? We were getting daily calls," said Trustee Jeanette Wines. "I think this is lax. I can see someone forgetting to call. I'm not so sure I agree with the generous attitude you're taking."

With two clerical staff, we can't scan on a daily basis. My hope is that with two staff people, the magnitude of calls may be spaced out through the week to handle the volume of calls," said Rita Ringer, attendance supervisor.

To take a tougher approach would take more money," said Trustee David Artley.

"The message to the parents is, "Why the leeway of almost a week Please do call each day, or at least once each week to let us know what's going on," said Mike Homes, assistant superintendent for instruction.

"All factors were taken into consideration," said Ringer. "We felt the thrust of the efforts of people in our clerical office, in addition to contacting parents, should be to develop a data base and work with area coordinators. While I do feel prompt notification ought to be a goal, this might spread out resources in the best way." TRUSTEE ROLAND THOMAS said, "There's not an onus of responsibility on either party. I'm troubled by the lack of specificity in this policy. It's too general in nature. I think we need to go through this with a fine tooth comb. I realize time is running out on these folks. It's a dilemma.

A motion to adopt the policy failed, 3-3, after the initial vote. Trustee E. J. McClendon was absent. Artley then moved that the board adopt the policy "and that we receive updates as appropriate throughout the school year. The resolution passed, 6-0.

JOAN CLAEYS chaired the committee that studied discipline in Plymouth-Canton schools, comparing policies to those in Novi, Northville Walled Lake Livonia Wayne-Westland and Farmington schools.

"The districts we looked at all had attendance officers and limits that were quite strict; something we found to be a major strength," said Claevs.

Claeys, who says Plymouth-Canton's proposal "looks good on paper," thinks one of its pluses is the redemption clause.

"A real advantage to the new procedure is the redemption clause in it. Before, a student was removed from the class at whatever our cap was. Now the student will remain in the class with failing grade, but if he participates and does the assignments - which is what is expected - the teacher may, by end of semester, give him a passing grade. In Livonia, that isn't an option.'

Parents' weekly, versus daily, phone call requirement doesn't bother Claevs.

Greg Goodman has some ideas for downtown.

"We can't have a blueprint that disregards the interests of business to the detriment of residents, or vice versa," he added.

As it stands, without a master plan, the residential and business communities are polarized, "and divided, you do indeed fall," said Goodman, who's lived in small towns including Waterford "when it was the outback," Milford, Clarkston, and Northville.

Locals absent from insurance bill debut

By Tim Richard staff writer

Two suburban members of the state House Insurance Committee weren't invited when state Rep. Nelson Saunders held a public hearing in Detroit to bash the auto insurance

"It's time to turn the tables and stop the compromises," said Saunders, D-Detroit, a member of the Ininrance Committee who held the hearing alone. "Michigan residents have been victimized too long by a system that allows them to be louged. Much more aggressive (regplatory) action is needed.

Saunders' bills call for controlling auto insurance rates by state government, rolling back rates 20 percent below May 1988 levels, and prohibiting the state insurance commissioner from joining an insurance company for 10 years after leaving office. The last bill is aimed at Herman Coleman, now a vice president

Said Bennett: "Rates are predicated on losses in an area." He sees the suburbs as subsidizing Detroit car owners under Michigan's system of tying rates in one territory to those in a neighboring town. Law said insurers aren't perfect but disagreed with Saunders' specific target. "AAA made a real effort to stay in Detroit when others bailed out. They took heavy losses in Detroit. To beat on them is probably unfair," Law said.

SPEAKERS AT Saunders' hearing saw the auto insurance industry as biased against Detroit, Flint and Saginaw — euphemisms for black-dominated urban areas.

"Outstate is an ugly scene as it relates to Detroit," said council president Henderson. "Detroiters were being told (by insurers), 'Move to the suburbs and call me back."

Attorney Tim Luxon - a member of the Michigan Trial Lawyers Association which is a foe of the insurance industry - said he saw a pattern of bias against blue-collar workers from cities and in favor of white-collar suburbanites.

"Accident victims are sent by the insurance companies to 'cut-off doctors.' They choose to ignore the plaintiff's (injured person's) doctor," he said. Persons who labor physically suffer more from invisible "soft tissue" injuries, but Luxon said their medical benefits are cut off as fast as possible by insurance company

"I tend to share the feeling, but I have not yet documented it," said Saunders, who asked Luxon for statistics. Carl Edwards, a Detroit attorney and past MTLA president, advocated allowing banks to sell auto insurance and compete and against the insurance companies

Parkway pedalers

Jim Oxford, 48, of Westland and Jim Duncan, 49, of Garden City ride their bikes along Edward Hines. Drive at least four times a week. The pair met while riding in the park in 1983 and their families became friends. The pair cover about 27 miles each ride, according to Duncan. On Saturday, the bikers log anywhere from 80 to 100 miles. Oxford, a program manager at Ingersoll Milling Machine Co. in Troy, and Duncan, who works at the GM Hydra-matic Plant in Warren, are usually joined by two other friends, Duncan's been riding since 1974 when his wife bought their son a new 10-speed. He liked it so much he asked for one too.

Mention summertime cooking and immediately, you conjure up thoughts about corn. Plump, juicy sweet corn, dripping with butter. Whether it be steamed, boiled or grilled, you just can't enjoy summer without corn.

Corn is indigenous to America. When it comes to culinary heritage, corn belongs right up there next to Old Glory. During the 13th century in the southwestern Unit-ed States and in Manico, corn or maine meant life theli; and the cultivation of corn was an act of worship. From birth through death, the economic, social and religious activities of the Hopi Indians of Arizona the growing could be born it if and survive the it days of life with reason, a special series corn in dedicated to each as its "corn motors."

The Janes Gang alone is a frequent user of corn and its products. A week doesn't slide by without utilizing cornmeal, canned or frozen corn, corn syrup, corn flakes, cornstarch or corn oil in our culinary regime.

In addition, corn is used as the major fermenting ingredient when processing whiskey.

With summer winding down and corn prices dwindling as local markets reap locally grown products, you will be seeing corn soon at the typical dollar-per-dozen price. It would behoove the price-watching cook to take advantage of this pricing boom and to put some up, whether it be canned or frozen, to enjoy throughout the coming winter months.

Don't forget to use the husks and cobs in the compost heaps.

LL TOGETHER now, "Summertime and the livin' is easy. Summertime, and the grillin' is fun!

If you can't remember that one, how about 'Roll out thing, lazy, lazy, crazy days of summer. Those days of soda and protects and beer."

Who in their right mind would enjoy spending a humid summer afternoon or evening slaving over a hot stove, cooking entrees and vegetables? Especially when the grill is hot and the coals are just beginning to turn from an amber-colored red to a molten white.

If the thought of cooking hot dogs, burgers, fish or whatever on the grill for dinner seem like a cooling alternative, why not toss on a few of summers great bounty of vegetables and really keep the kitchen cool. It's not as difficult as you might think, and the flavors imparted into grilled vegetables can turn a plain old zucchini into a gourmet vegetable delight. Or, for that matter, corn, onlons, peppers, eggplant or potatoes.

COOKING VEGETABLES on the grill requires the backyard barbecue enthusiast to have on hand an ample supply of cool water.

Period. The garden hose will do nicely, as would a sprinkler for those times when the beads of a good summer sweat roll down the back and begin saturating a T-shirt. A clean spray bottle filled with H20, or maybe a blend of your favorite vinegar and oil combination, will only increase the amount of raves received by those partaking of the meal.

In order to garner raves, simple kitchen log-ic toust prevail. when the vegetables are impaled, even the most slipping mushrooms will stay intact during the griffing process. You can try this with just about any cubed vegetable, but experience has shown that mushrooms, peapods, zucchini and eggplant slices works best.

For added-dimensional flavors, baste with a wide assortment of herb batters or margarines. If you're trying to keep the slim side, a generous splash of wine, lemon piles, broth or bouillon can suffice.

thy appetites at Italian Cucina

Tim Coyne loves healthy food and it shows in the entrees at the Italian Cucina (kitchen) restaurant. There's no microwave in the kitchen. No deep-fried foods. No heavy sauces. Only olive oil for sauteing and salad dressings.

"I'm concerned about good, clean eating," says the graduate of Schoolcraft College's culinary arts program who has worked in several area restaurants.

In December, he and his wife, Libby Eaton, opened their Italian kitchen in a modern, new building on Ann Arbor Trail, just east of I-275, in Plymouth Township. It has been serving healthy foods ever since.

Tim Coyne, executive chef and part owner of Italian Cuchina in Plymouth Township, shows salad with radiochio, calamari, artichokes and pasta (left) and chicken stir fry with pea pods and

LIKE THE chargrilled salmon ($13.50) covered with toasted almonds and raspberries, one of the special seafoods offered recently. The fruit was a refreshing alternative to sauces, and it added an interesting, sweet flavor to the salmon. It was served with delicious tortellini with a light coating of tomato sauce and a mixture of crisp, lightly cooked pea pods and zucchini.

Everything is prepared on site, from the pastas and breads, to the sauces, sausages and desserts. The breadsticks, which are more like rectangles of deliciously fresh bread, are reason enough to stop in. The pastas are reason to keep returning. We found the pasta fresh and cooked to perfection, the sauce delicate and light. The baked pasta shells ($9.25) stuffed with ricotta and moznarella cheese were delicious.

The veal scallopini, sauteed with wild forest mushrooms and artichoke hearts, sounded wonderful. We expected slivers of veal and a touch of the Marsala wine sauce. Instead, the veal was a thicker cut, a little tough and smothered in sauce. The heavy hand with the sauce left the veggles and redskins tasting like wine too. At $14.95, this was the most expensive item on the menu — and disappointing.

All the main entrees come with a great house salad, made of various greens, olives, peppers, onions, mushrooms and sprouts, lightly-coated with a good Italian dressing. You could easily make a meal of the award-winning minestrone soup, a house salad and the breadsticks.

The desserts are good, but not as special as the breadsticks and pasta. The carrot cake was tasty but lacking in texture. The chocolate flan was very good and topped with blue-berries and raspberries that almost

No, you don't have to drive to the Eastern Market at 6 a.m. to buy fresh produce. Try the other direction - west - and you will find corn, tomatoes and cantaloupes plucked right from the vine.

This time of year, more people are buying produce from the backs of trucks, roadside stands or from tables set up for the Michigan farm season.

The reason for the mass exodus from air-conditioned aisles of supermarkets to highway stands and openair markets? The summer bounty is in and local farm markets are touting the biggest and best of Michigan's produce at lesser cost and fresher quality.

In the words of one farmer who has been in the business since 1977, produce sold in open-air markets throughout western Wayne and Washtenaw counties "is the best."

Up since 4:30 a.m. "pickin' all the stuff," John Goetz, 30, was busy arranging what little was left of his produce and flowers at Ypsilanti's Depot Town open-air market.

"This time of year," Goetz said, you've got to be here before 1 p.m. The early bird gets the worm."

Squash, cucumbers, melons and cauliflower adorn his tables.

ACROSS THE market, Goetz's brother-in-law, Jerry Marks of Brighton, pushes berries closer to Marks sells "unsprayed" fruits and vegetables at Depot Town on Wednesdays and Saturdays. Just in his first year selling in the Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor area, Marks is convinced produce - that sold in openair markets - is a priority for weekend shoppers.

"We sell a lot in this area here," he said. "Flowers sell better here, too." "Nothing," he said, "sells the best" at his stand. He carries a variety of melons and vegetables because "one person's gonna want this and another's gonna want that." August is the month for "maters and corn," Goetz of Riga (Mich.) said. Riga is a little town almost at the Michigan-Ohio border. "Maters," he said, is farmers' lingo for "toma-Hundreds of customers each Wednesday and Saturday crowd

So many people return to Depot Town's farm market that Goetz said he "probably knows more people here than in my own town."

GARY AND Martha Slauter of Ypsilanti said the prices are less expensive and the food is "better quality" than what is sold in supermarkets.

Having traveled Europe "in the tables' edge. It's nearing noon search of the best open-air marheta," Gary Slauter said jokingly, he agreed that Depot Town offered a good variety of summer produce.

Produce stands pop up like weeds during the summer, most farmers agree. How close they are to heavily populated areas depends upon local ordinances. Gary Coleman, owner of one of three Coleman's Farm Mar-square-foot market in Ann Arbor while his brother and mother operate two other in Ypsilanti, has a master's degree in urban forestry.

He ended up selling produce when he couldn't find a job in his field, he said. At 33, he has been peddling fruits and vegetables since he was a

His earlier surroundings weren't quite as impressive as his open-air market, which he operates from May to October. Coleman used to sell produce out of the back of his family's pickup truck.

"I do well here," he said. "July and August are good months. Sweet corn's out and tomatoes are coming in, and August is a big canning Coleman's produce is direct from Michigan growers, he said.

Despite the expense of running an open-air market (Coleman said local ordinances are so strict that in addition to having to be seasonal, state Department of Agriculture inspectors scrutinize health conditions), Coleman is preparing to expand.

THEY SEE a fly or bird buzzing around, they'll write you up, he said.

"If you're out in the boonies, they don't care," Coleman said. "But if you're near a population base or if the city enforces its zoning codes, they won't leave you alone."

Why should his customes shop at his market? For parking "right at the door" and higher quality, Coleman said. People who shop open-air markets are those who shop specialty stores, Coleman said.

"They are the kind who go to the meat market for fresh meat and to places like my store for fresh pro-

Vito Sambrone of Plymouth said he has been shopping or working at open-air markets for 50 years. He said he would stay at Sayre's Red Barn Market on Ecorse and Morton-Taylor roads in Van Buren Township until "I fill that bushel basket with string beans." He pointed to his left at a partially filled container of 29cents-a-pound beans.

"My wife does the canning," Sambrone said. "I pick the beans and help prepare them."

SAYRE'S RED Barn Market is red but it's not a traditional barn. It's a three-sided, wood-frame open-air market where Joan Sayres (her name differs slightly from the market's name) sells 100 bags of corn a day, beginning this week, from her 100-year-old farm in town.

picking beans for more than 50 years, and,

"You're going to see some cheap corn now," Sayres said. "But prices, like everything else, tend to go up. Corn is selling for $1.95 a dozen.

Regular customers shop at her place "year after year," she said. Others simply look for value.

Perhaps more popular because of its location within the heart of a more health-conscious university town is the Ann Arbor Farmers Mar-

Kerry Town, a Trappers-Alleystyle shopping mall, lies between Fourth and Fifth streets, three blocks north of Huron Street.

"Kerry Town would like to think it's because of them that we're so busy," manager Maxine Rososco said. "But we know we help (attract other days we're not open." Ann Ar-' bor's farmers market is unique. It is 3 open 7 a m. to 3 p.m., January-April. Apples, cider and baked goods are and

"It's profitable and popular," Rososco said. "People come down as a " routine thing on a Saturday."

Gary Coleman summed up the annual ritual of open-air markets: Summer is so short in Michigan. Some of the pleasure is in outside shopping."

Karl Wukie returns as the starting quarterback on Canton's varsity football team, which hopes to pick up where it jeft off last season, winning three of its last five games.

Wukie holds Canton key

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Plymouth Canton experienced a football revival the latter half of last on, and quarterback Karl Wukie was largely responsible for the tur-

For that reason, the Chiefs are counting heavily on the talented junior to keep the program headed in the right direction this fall.

Canton, which won three of its last five games a year ago, was 0-4 when Wukie took over and led the Chiefs to an upset victory over Northville. Good fortune shone unexpectedly on the team with Wukie's promotion to

"It was a freakish thing," coach Bob Khoenle said. "We never intended to move him up.

"But one of our quarterbacks was ineligible. We worked him in gradually, and he got some confidence. It was a trial and error thing that worked out right."

THE 5-FOOT-11, 165-pound Wukie entered preseason camp with veteran status and the job as No. 1 quarterback this year. Khoenle likes what he's seen and makes no bones about Wukie's importance to the

"The kid can do things so naturally and instinctively right," he said. 'He's a game player. He does OK in practice, but when the whistle blows and the game starts he does things much better."

Besides the optimism created by the return of an experienced quarterback, 1989 could be different for another reason.

For the first time in its history, Canton defeated rival Plymouth Salem in the '88 season finale and has the memory of that win with which to begin the new campaign.

The Salem win helped us in a lot of ways," Khoenle said. "We could see it in the attitude of the kids in the weight room during the winter and Jason Bielec (with back to camera) tackles teammate Trond Darby during practice drills last week. Blelec and Darby are slated to start at inside linebacker for the Chiefs.

'I think our offense will be more than adequate because of Wukie, but defense worries me. I don't know how tough we'll be . . . The defense has to grow up quick or we'll be in trouble.'

spring. If nothing else, that win a little more.

"We had a young team last year.
Young teams usually get better as the year goes on, and I think that showed in the last half of the sea-

Khoenle also is excited about Jason Rigg's potential at tailback. The 6-1 Riggs, a beefier 175 pounds; played varsity as a sophomore, too, and another year has made a difference, according to Khoenle.

"AS A COACHING staff, we think Jason Riggs has really come along inearly practices," he said. "I think we expected too much of him last year; and forgot he was a sophomore playing with juniors and seniors."

Senior Brian Riggs (5-5, 160) will be the fullback and lead blocker for his younger brother. He was injured much of last year but is a good runner, Khoenle said.

A flanker and replacement for graduated wide receiver Mark Barrette will likely come from a group that includes seniors - Jeremy Rheault (5-6, 160), Dave Makara (5-10, 155) and Chris Robinson (5-8, 140) and junior Del Williams (5-7, 145).

"They're fast and can catch the ball, but they're small," Khoenle said. "We don't have the imposing receiver like (6-foot-4) Barrette. We call our team the Smirfs."

The tight end and Wukie's backup will be the player Wukie replaced at midseason last year, senior Jason Dembny (6-1, 185). Khoenle had to find a place for someone with Dembny's size and athletic ability. Dembny also will do the punting.

But while I was gone, here's some things you may have missed in Johnstown during the past week at the AAABA:

• Walter's Home Appliance, which finished 3-2 overall, turned in one of the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League's most successful AAABA tournament stints. In 14 tournament appearances, the LCBL representative is 19-27 overall. Baltimore is No. 1 and Detroit is No. 2 on the all-time winning

If the manager is ejected, it's a $50 fine. If a player is caught chewing tobacco, it's an automatic ejection. If girls are caught in the dorm, the team is sent home. If players are caught drinking, as was the Washington, D.C., team this year, the franchise forfeits a

Three Buffalo players were involved in a downtown scuffle, reportedly making a racial slur to a "townie." One was taken to a hospital after he was thrown through a windshield. Buffalo will also be absent next

• The sons of major leaguers Mark Belanger, Terry Crowley and Ed Goodson competed in the tournament.

Robbie Belanger, who played for Maryland State, drew the most attention with some Brooks Robinson-type fielding plays at

But I'll take former Redford Catholic Central High product John Gotts, the third baseman/catcher from Walter's who seems to make all the right plays. He also hits in the clutch. I just hope Roger Coryell, the Eastern Michigan University coach, gives the underrated Gotts a good look this fall.

Emons

· And speaking of Mark Belanger, the former Oriole shortstop still looks like he could field his position. The slender built figure hasn't changed much. He now works for the Major League Players Association.

Dave Racer, the Hines Park Lincoln/Mercury coach who came down to see Walter's play, was a former teammate of Belanger in the minors. The two got reacquainted when Walter's eliminated Maryland State, 11-1.

"We played together in Bluefield, West Virginia and he (Belanger) was one of the best damn poker players around," Racer re-

· Also good to see John Moraitis, the Little Caesars coach, down for the tourney along with his friend Larry Kirchner, a faithful fan during the season at Ford Field.

 Johnstown has a Flood Museum, but one of the Walter's players couldn't understand. "All those people died, why should they remember that," said the player.

They were commemorating the 100th year of the famous flood (1889-1989).

• The Walter's and Detroit Adray Appliance players stayed at dormitories on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh-Johnstown.

The Pitt football team was holding training camp on the secluded mountain campus. All visitors were chased away from the practice site.

The big question about Pitt football is who is going to replace academically ineligible quarterback Darnell Dickerson? The ex-Detroit Martin Luther King High great who has since signed a minor league baseball con-

Dickerson, a raw talent, was signed after Detroit Adray Appliance coach Stu Rose threw him batting practice a couple of months ago before a slew of scouts at the University of Detroit.

"He'd whiff eight times in a row and then send a shot off the wall at Calihan Hall," Rose said of Dickerson. "He didn't have the right footwork down on throwing from the outfield, but he could throw it a mile "

An impressive list.

 Twenty-two teams started in the tour-nament with three of the final eight teams (Livonia, Detroit and Lansing) coming from

The King and His Court, as Feigner's world-famous four-man team is known, will play Pat Boyle Chevrolet, the Livonia modified fast-pitch champion, at 7:30 p.m.

It will be the second meeting in four years. Boyle Chevrolet, playing under the FGS Radiator name, was on the losing end of a 7-6 score in 1966.

"It's a tremendous opportunity to play against a guy who has struck out some of the greatest names in base-ball," Boyle Chevrolet's Dave Brubaker said.

Proceeds from the game will benefit Caring Athletes Team for Children's and Henry Ford Hospitals. Charity is always a key part of the Feigner program, and he estimates his team has helped raised $4-5 million over the years.

But that wouldn't be possible without the show, the love of which has sop the 85-year old Yelgner going for 44 years. His longerity is virtually inscended in special and his travel, have taken this locate continuents and meanly 100 countries.

"I'm interested in doing the show as long as the crowds continue to enjoy it," said Feigner via the tele-phone from Boston. "When you're a ham, you feed off the show and keep enjoying it."

Feigner and his crew began the current season in March with a stop in Hawaii. Along the way, they played 15 games in Korea against the U.S. Army and gave a demonstration on the flight deck of an aircraft carrier in the Pacific.

"You could play a game up there all right — as long right field is a ground-rule double," Feigner said.

Being a ham is part of the show, though Feigner calls it horse play. During a game, he'll pitch behind his back, through his legs and from second base. It's never to embarrass the opponent, Feigner adds, and it's an expected part of the act by now.

FERGNER WILL pitch to a couple of Boyle Chevrolet batters while blindfolded, too. He does that every game. It's something he started in the 1940s when he was look-

King and Court make appearance in Canton

- Continued from Page 1

While Feigner is the King, the court includes catcher Dave Booth, a former body builder and aspiring TV actor and stunt man, first baseman Gary West, the team comedian who lost his left eye to cancer three years ago, and shortstop/relief pitcher Craqg Van Prooyan.

The four-man concept stemmed from a dare in the mid-40s. In that initial, seven-inning game, Feigner struck out 19, and The Court won 7-0. One ball was hit to the shortstop, the

SINCE THEN, 30 players have come and gone as members of The Court, but success has been a constant for Feigner and his troupe.

Feigner, who was given the Victory Award for lifetime achievement by the Sporting News this year, has cut down on his plate appearances, Pitching, after all, is what made him famous, and one of his most talked about feats occurred in the mid-60s during an NBC Sports Special when he struck out six Major League players - Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Maury Wills, Harmon Killebrew, Roberto Clemente and Brooks Robinson — with the bases loaded in back-to-back innings.

loaded in back-to-back innings.

While the public best remembers that incident, Feigner plays down its significance.

'It's like ping pong and tennis," he said. 'It's two different games. If they played fast-pitch softball, they'd hit me just like they would a bapeball. It makes good copy, but it doesn't mean anything."

Feigner came of age at a time when softball was the popular sport, not baseball. The sport should have gone pro, he said, but the advent of television was a factor in it never doing so.

"I PLAYED baseball on Sunday like anybody else who grew up in the '40s and '50s," Feigner said, adding softball was the game of choice dur-

Baseball was not the desirable thing to do, because it didn't pay any money. (Softball) started to die out after the war. After dinner, people went out and played softball. When TV came along, they had something else to do."

Feigner enjoys his work but likes

"I enjoy striking out the last nitter and going golfing," he said. "I enjoy it like you enjoy your job."

But, like most working people, he thrives on the idea of working and staying active. Retirement and an end to his barnstorming missions is not in Feigner's plans.

"Why should I give it up?" he said.
"That's one of the dumbest things we do in America. People have the idea it's a panacea to work 40 or 50 years and retire.

"Fishing and golfing all day is not the way to do it. The important thing is to keep going when you're older."

THE BOYLE Chevrolet roster Feigner will face includes pitcher Curtis Richards, Rick and Don Dreher, Keith McManaway, Jeff Campbell, Dan Pierce, Scott Collins, Jim Stoitsiadis, Curt White, Kevin Dial, Mike Kessin and Tim Bowden.

Tickets for the game are $4 for adults, $2 for students and $12 for a family package (two adults, two children). At the gate, the cost will be $5, $3 and $12, respectively.

Complimentary tickets are available at Boyle Chevrolet, 9700 Belleville Road, Belleville. The phone number is 697-6700. Call 422-4391 for more ticket information.

"He said last year he wanted to play (any position), and I respect him for that. He could have gone off the other way, but he's accepted it and is working at it."

THE CHIEFS have an experienced line, with four players who started some or all of last season. Seniors Louis Poulos (5-10, 165) and Trond Darby (5-8, 195) are veteran guards, and seniors Brian Bartlett (6-1, 205) and Chris Lumsden (6-1, 218) have experience at tackles.

Junior Wayne Robinson (6-0, 220) lettered last year and will start at center. Senior Jeff Roach (6-3, 190) and will help at tackle.

"The key is how well our tackles progress," Khoenle said. "If they come along and progress to where we want, we'll do all right," he said. Whether it's running or throwing the ball, they have to improve on what they did last year."

Canton doesn't have a lot of size, and Khoenle is therefore concerned about his defense where the Chiefs will apparently rely on smaller, quicker players.

Ron Barlow (5-10, 175) at the tackles. Robinson and Tom Roberts (6-1, 205) are the backups.

"We have two styles, and we'll see which works out," Khoenle said. "Last year we put these guys on defense because we were playing quick teams. We had trouble blocking them, and we figured other teams would, too. Maybe that's the direction we're going to go." Bartlett has started at defensive end since he was a sophomore, and senior Jason Eby (6-0, 185) will be on the opposite side. Eby and junior Gordon Gibbings (6-2, 170), another defensive end, are behind Dembny on the tight end depth chart.

New Orleans needs new uniforms

Farmington High standout Rick Karcher, who went to Indiana and Henry Ford Community College, is being pursued by the pro scouts. The Atlanta Braves would like to get their hands on the 6-foot-5, 210-pound left-handed swinging power hitter.

Where are the Tigers?

• Little Caesars second baseman Art George was certainly a good pickup for Walter's coach George, who played high school ball at Thurston and is a two-year standout at the University of Evansville, clubbed three homers, scored 14 runs and batted .545 (12 for 22). The humble George was the LCBL's leading hitter during the • Another standout was Thurston product Chris Kloc, who in three appearances on the mound, allowed just one run in 11% innings. Kloc, who takes the mound with no fear, struck out eight and walked only two in a victory over a hard-hitting Maryland State club. · For a high school player, Joe Sturtz (North staff writer Jon Molesky would probably never be cast for the role of Captain

By Bill Parker

Aahab in "Moby Dick." Well, maybe, if he grew his whiskers (for a couple months) and started saying things like "Ahoy mates" and "Shiver me timbers. Yaaa miss anoth'r un an yaaaa'll wark the plank.'

Nah! He'd still resemble a college student . . . which he is.

But, Molesky is also the owner and captain of a 27-foot Sportcraft, the "Wa Hoo." He charters trout/salmon fishing trips on Lake Michigan with the boat (which is docked in Muskegon) each summer.

"This is my office. This is my summer job," said the 1986 Birmingham Groves graduate who now lives in Southfield. "It's a great way to help pay for my schooling and have a little fun over the summer. It's definitely more fun than work."

Molesky began running charters out of Muskegon four years ago, while a freshman at the University of Michigan. He has been doing it eyer since and could very well be the first political science major to fish himself through college.

Although Molesky doesn't fit the mold of a gruffy, old charter captain, after a few hours aboard the "Wa Hoo," it becomes obvious he's no rookie to the trade.

On a day when few boats were reporting any luck at all, Molesky, who is also a field tester for Speedtroll passengers each caught a dandy lake

HE CHANGED lures. He changed lure depth. He changed trolling speed. He changed fishing areas. He tried every combination until there were finally fish in the boat. The only thing that didn't change was his

"The key is to get people out here, get a fish and have fun," Molesky said. "I like to stress the whole package - get out on the lake, relax and catch some fish."

Molesky, and first mate Bud Wood, only run trout/salmon charters. They don't bother with perch or walleye, a couple of abundant game fish charter captains often pursue.

"If you want to be good at some-fish and have fun. I like to stress the whole package - get out on the lake, relax and catch some fish.'

- Jon Molesky

thing you have to stick with it," Molesky said. "Set your sights on one thing and become good at it. If you spread yourself too thin, you're mediocre at everything."

On those slow days, days when the fish just aren't biting, charter captains must become entertainers. According to Molesky, that's when the real work begins.

"I think charter captains rate right up there with air traffic controllers and police officers as far as stress is concerned - especially if the fish aren't biting," Molesky said. "People come out here and want to have fun. You have to entertain them and keep them happy until the fish start biting."

Aboard the "Wa Hoo," that entertainment comes in the form of jokes, the "Blessing of the Rods" (a lighthearted ritual performed by Wood to entice fish into biting), and stories of past fishing adventures.

Molesky has plenty of stories.

HE WAS BORN in Maryland and spent much of his childhood fishing in Chesapeake Bay.

As a young teen, his father brought him to Lake Michigan where the youngster caught a 16-pound chi-

"I was hooked after that," admitted Molesky. "I spent all my money as a kid buying fishing equipment. I

Time to squeeze in one last trip

By Iris Sanderson Jones contributing travel editor

Labor Day weekend will be here in 10 days and everybody I know is panicking. How do we squeeze that last trip out of the summer? Labor Day changes a lot of things. Kids and teachers go back to school. College students take a last fling before the semester starts. Business travel and business conventions heat up. Organizations start a new season, keeping some people

Most of the people who ask me for last-minute advice don't take full advantage of the toll-free 800 numbers available. Cities, states, hotels etc. spend a lot of money on telephone lines that you can call without charge. You find them by calling the toll-free information operator: dial 1-800-555-1212 and ask for the area or the hotel chain

Q: I'm a divorcee with a 5-yearold and I want to take him to a theme park before school starts. I'm thinking about either King's Island, Cedar Point or Sea World, and we want to stay a couple of days. How do I find a reasonably priced hotel or motel with a pool? Farmington Hills.

Amusement parks such as Cedar Point are some of the places where travelers visit in that one last trip before the summer

A: You don't have much time so you need to make some telephone calls. Cedar Point doesn't list a toll-free number (east (419) 626-0380) but you can call the other two toll-free : King's Island is (800) 543-3290, Sea World is (800) 637-

Hotel Breakers, the on-property hotel at Codar Point costs $77 for an unremodeled room with one double bed, remodeled rooms are $92.50, including tax. You can call the Sandusky visitor's bureau at (419) $25-2004 and they'll give you names like the Meccis. Maples or Best Budget. But you give still going to pay about $90; rates drop Labor Day weekend.

Holiday Inn has been advertising low rates for the summer months so call them tell-free at (000) HOLIDAY, about their special $25-950 rates, price depending on location and subject to avail audiences soaked up early summer blockbuster releases, there's a new crop, a half-dozen films, some of which may be avoided without damaging your entertainment quotient.

"Eddie and The Cruisers II: Eddie

Lives" (PG-13) features John Cafferty and the Beaver Brown Band in what threatens to be another interminable string of sequels, this one justified by the fact that rock star Eddie Wilson's body was never found after he drove off New Jersey's Raritan Bridge in 1964.

Michael Pare appears as Eddie and Marina Orsini is his girlfriend, Diane Armani. Rock music fans may appreciate such unimaginative fiction while others pass on to more exciting fare. After all, there's the '60s resurrected, strange relatives, comedy at the race track, African amimals and still another rehashing of the Vietnam tragedy.

Despite a commendable premise - awareness of global ecological problems — "Rude Awakening" (C, R) reeks of sappy sentimentality and is an arduous and bumpy trip unworthy of the ride.

Two hippies from the '60s, Jesus (Cheech Martin) and Fred (Eric Roberts) have been hiding out in Central America. Draft evasion, inciting riots and drugs were their crimes in the '60s. After 20 idyllic years, a secret document is entrusted to them and they begin an idealistic mission that takes them back to New York and confrontation with FBI Agent Brubaker (Cliff DeYoung), their nemesis of the '60s. He's still after Jesus and Fred are shocked to learn that their hippy comrades of the '60s are the yuppies of the '80s, and generally blase about social problems. This clever premise is developed poorly as Cheech mugs his way through, seemingly unrelated to the rest of the action. The staging of a '60s-stlyle campus take-over is flat and unconvincing in these days of routine terrorism — "film at 11."

When questioned if Jesus and Fred are terrorists, FBI Agent Brubaker sums it up: "Worse. They're idealists." Unfortunately the sophisticated concept behind that statement is not supported by this weak produc-tion which falters in its exploitation of Cheech's status with audiences of another era.

"Uncle Buck" (B±, PG, 112 minutes), on the other hand, has a lot more going for it. Tia (Jean Kelly), Maizy (Gaby Hoffman) and Miles Russell (Macaulay Culkin) are forced to move to a Chicago suburb. Tia, deeply rebellious, had to be forced along at gun point. John Hughes' answer to adolescent angst is Uncle Buck (John Candy).

'Most of "Uncle Buck's" good things are delightful because, despite their improbability, a lot of us would like to think we could do them. An "Uncle" inexperienced with kids isn't likely to win a battle of wills with a teenage girl in a week nor is he likely to abduct her sleezy boyfriend with a power drill. But one

Turning from the comic to the grim, "Casualties of War" (A-, R, 105 minutes) graphically details the kidnap, rape and murder of a Vietnamese girl by a small American reconnaissance patrol. Based on an actual incident first reported by Daniel Lang, the David Rabe screenplay was based on Lang's book and directed by Brian DePalma.

The patrol is led by Sgt. Meserve (Sean Penn) and includes Crpl. Clark (Don Harvey) and three privates, Hatcher (John C. Reilly), Diaz (John Leguizamo) and Eriksson (Michael J. Fox). Eriksson alone refuses to rape the girl and thereafter must stand alone amidst the madness of that jungle war and the insanity of his comrades. The military system itself isn't helpful either.

In the best (or is it worst) Brian DePalma tradition, "Casualties of War" is particularly violent and the gore is graphic. Much of the violence, as is DePalma's style, is directed against women. Certainly this film is not for the faint of heart or

But this incident is a true one and there can never be enough reminders of the terrible, tragic consequences of war. In addition to that political worth, the film's production values are generally excellent, in particular the acting.

Sean Penn captures the essence of that brutishness war and violence engenders with his intense, maniacal behavior. Don Harvey's Crpl Clark is also appropriately psychotic and reminsicent of Lee Marvin in "The Wild One." Michael J. Fox, they say, is at risk, switching from light comedy to heavy drama but he is generally successful in the move.

His one impossible moment - and it's not really his fault - comes about two-thirds of the way through when DePalma gives him a set speech on values and ethics that sounds straight out of a Depression era political drama or a naive World War II propaganda film.

Not hardly something you'd hear even an educated grunt declaiming in the middle of the Vietnam jungle.

There are also problems understanding some of Penn's mumbled jargon, unnecessary and annoying facial close-ups and a framing opening and close which ends the film on a pretty dippy note.

Despite these difficulties, "Casual-ties of War" is a major addition to the body of Vietnam war films, movies that remind us of war's tragic impact. That is important.

"Cheetah" (D-, G, 75 minutes) is one of the lamest exuses for a movie in quite some time. Except for 3 to 5 year olds who enjoy footage of wild animals in Africa, it's hard to imagine anyone staying awake for this slow-paced, predictable story of Brother Ted and Sister Susan Johnson (Keith Coogan and Lucy Deakins) visiting their parents in the middle of Africa where Earl (Timothy Landfield), their dad, runs some kind of radar station.

As is to be expected, Ted and Lucy, typical LA kids, are amazed by the marvelous African veldt and immediately adopt a baby cheetah whose mother was killed by poachers. "Look what followed us home,

The kids also make friends with a local Masai boy, Morogo (Collin Mothupi). Coogan also matured too much to pull off kid brother roles and Ms. Deakins hardly fits the childish character given her. Morogo seems to be having fun with these crazy Americans but everybody else is distant and uninvolved, in particular Mr. and Mrs. Johnson (Breon Gorman) who must have studied at the Lethargic School of Acting. To be missed. It's strictly from dull city.

"Let It Ride" (B-, PG-13, 90 minutes) is Richard Dreyfuss at this gritty, grimy, manicky best in this story of a broken-down cabbie whose wife. Pam (Terri Garr), is leaving him, in part because of his compulsive gam-

But this is not the story of a loser, this is the story of that one day when fate shines on a poor schnook. It all starts when Trotter's buddy, Looney (David Johansen), overhears two guys in the back of his cab fixing a race. As it turns outs, Trotter believes that the fix is in - and it is.

One thing leads to another and it's quite a day at the track for Trotter. There's all sorts of Runyonesque characters around and they are, as Damon Runyon would say, considerably more than somewhat. But they - and the film - don't hand together too well.

This is director Joe Pytka's first narrative feature film, having made his mark in documentaries and commercials. That 60-second experience shows and "Let It Ride" is filled with nifty cameos. But they need some greater glue than Trotter having a dood day at the track. All-inall, though, it's still fun and five will get you 13 they line up at the box office for this one.

"The Abyss" (D-) (PG-13) 135 minutes Despite excellent underwater sequences, this muddled and murkey sicfi sea saga sinks.

Short films pack punch

"Egg," from the Netherlands, and the locally-produced "Forever My Dog" prove an old adage — it's not the length of the film but how you use it. Both short films screen this weekend at the Michigan Theatre in

"Egg," at 58 minutes, is a gentle film set in a quiet Dutch village. Life moves slowly. Here, big excitement means the arrival of the daily bus or the birth of a neighbor's pupples.

Johan, a child-like baker, still lives with his mother at 35. When he's not amusing himself by setting eggs on their ends or petting dogs, he ends hours skipping stones with his friends in the village square.

Peter and Paul, only slightly more worldly than Johan, decide the it's time for him to meet a woman. They help him set up correspondence with Eva, a teacher from "foreign

When Eva arrives on the afteroon bus, Johan doesn't know what to do. He takes her home to his mother and drops her there. The road toward love and acceptance, with both Eva and Johan as nervous as children, promises some great comic moments.

Critics have compared "Egg" to the early works of Jacques Tati. The story is told mostly through the cam-era, with dialogue provided by eggshaped title cards.
"Egg" never treats its characters with condescension or plays cheap jokes off their "quaintness." Israelborn director Danniel Danniel obviously loves Johan and friends and creates a charming world for them to inhabit.

Ultimately, the film leaves you with the feeling that life - like an egg - doesn't necessarily have to break in order to change. Danniel has gone well beyond his original in-

THE SECOND film, the 29-minute Forever My Dog," evokes a different response. During recent screenings at the Maple Theatre in Birmingham, the story of pet loss has left audiences in tears.

Director Ron Senkowski - who lives in Ann Arbor - got the idea for the film after the death of his own family dog. His brother stars in the film as a 14-year-old facing the trauma of putting his dog to sleep.

He has nightmares about a sadistic veterinarian (played by the director) and even packs up the dog and runs away from home. He eventually realizes that his lost pet will be "forever my dog."

It's refreshing to see a pair of movies well into their messages in the time it takes most directors to set up an establishing shot.

Death, food and taxes - what else is there? Sex, of course, and Japanese filmmaker Juzo Itami mixes in a good deal of that action in his three humorous films, the second of which, "Tampopo" (1986, color, 114 minutes), was quite a hit here in town not too long ago. It's a comedy about a Japanese noodle shop. So much for food. Itami's first film, "The Funeral" (1984, color, 124 minutes), is a poignant but satiric look at the inescapable last rites and how society deals with death.

His third film, "A Taxing Woman" (1987, R, color, 127 minutes), now available in videocassette, is a wry, satiric look at the interaction of Japanese prosperity, human greed and the tax collection process. All three films are in Japanese with English sub-titles. As well, all three feature two comic talents, Tsutomu Yamazaki and Nobuko Miyamoto.

"A Taxing Woman" opens with a note that Japan's great prosperity stimulated government growth which, in turn, caused tax rates to soar as high as 80 percent. It follows, then, that it has become a national pastime to hide as much income as possible in order to save on taxes.

In the title role as "A Taxing Woman" - in several scenes - Ms. Miyamoto is a Japanese IRS investigator, Ryoko Itakura, whose tenacity, creativity, intelligence and selfeffacement win her promotion to the Tax Service's top investigative team. If you can hide it, she can find

MR. YAMAZAKI is her nemesis as Mr. Gondo, one of the finest, funniest lechers ever to appear on screen. He's a consummate artist when it comes to "minimizing his taxes." His attractive mistresses are linch-pins in his scam while the great success of his adult love hotels, classy oriental equivalents of X-rated motels, gives him plenty income to hide. All this adds up to some pretty clever commentary on businessmen and Gondo's success attracts Tax .: Agent Itakura and she doesn't let go. Eventually she busts him but with a good deal of oriental style. The film is lots of fun although there are several loose ends and unexplained twists with the film ending on the strangest of those plot flaws.

Nonetheless, "A Taxing Woman" is well worth your time.

On the other hand, pass right by the rack where "A Time of Destiny" is stored, unless you enjoy the perverse pleasure of watching major talents in minor, poorly structured movies. In this case it's William Hurt, Timothy Hutton and Stockard Channing plus a host of excellent European actors and actresses. But their talent doesn't save "A Time of Destiny" - whose time will never come - and for a while you'll have the same feeling about the ending.

Ronnie Earl comes clean to play passionate blues

Ronnie Earl's story has been one of late starts. Onstage, though, the blues notes that pour through his Fender Stratocaster are quick

"I got straight in your city," said Earl, who will perform his guitar-slinging style of blues Thursday at Sully's in Dearborn. Years of being on the road, I got to be an abuser of certain things. In Detroit, I woke up. Detroit is a special place for me."

Earl won't elaborate too much on the actual circumstances that led him to see the light in the Motor City. "It's personal, man," he

Those who've seen Earl perform usually have been treated to a personal show of passion and sincerity. Unquestionably, the New York City native loves the blues.

Earl speaks in the tone of awe when mentioning names like Muddy Waters, Earl King, Eddie "Cleanhead" Vinson and Walter Horton — all blues greats he's either recorded with or produced.

EARL GARNERED a reputation as blues guitarist in his own right. He performed for eight years with club favorites Roomful of Blues before venturing out on his own with Ronnie Earl & The

With three solo albums already, Earl recently released another installment on Black Top Records "Soul Searchin". " An apt title for a man who is still searching for some of the pieces of life's Onstage, though, the package is complete. Earl's style of guitar playing is straight-forward blues. He's backed by a tight outfit that includes harmonica player Johnny Sansone (formerly with Jumpin' Johnny & the Blues Party), bassist Steve Gomes (formerly with John Lee Hooker's band), keyboard player Dickie Reed (former Roomful of Blues members) and drummer Per Hanson.

On his latest LP, Earl also enlists the services of well-known guitarist Duke Robillard and harmonica player Jerry Portnoy.

One of the biggest names in blues, Muddy Waters, set Earl on his way. As Earl tells it, he was with a friend at a Waters show when he felt something of a spiritual awakening.

"I looked at my friend and said, 'We're missing something in our lives here," Earl said.

One of those things, in Earl's case, was a guitar. At 23, he picked up an acoustic guitar first time and started by playing Lightnin' Hopkins material.

EARL SOON soon gave up his career teaching mentally disabled children in Boston and began performing in clubs.

"The advantage when you start playing anything late in life is that you're more focused, you're more grown up" Earl said. "You know what you want. I said I want to play the blues . . . I don't play the blues because I'm limited but because I want to."

That commitment has inspired numerous raves, including those from many guitar greats such as Eric Clapton, Robert Cray and B.B. King. Earl said he's continually evolving as a guitarist.

Earl's biggest growth has perhaps come since he went solo in 1988. He said likes the control that comes with being on your own, such as turning down certain club dates.

More importantly, though, Earl enjoys being able to play his

"My philosophy about guitar playing is basically to play with soul and from the heart," he said. "I don't consider myself a great guitarist - other people do, bless their hearts - but I play with soul and sincerity."

REVIEWS

IT'S REAL - James Ingram

"It's Real," James Ingram's recent piece of work, is an excellent example of how an album should be put together. Side one of the release is dubbed "It's Real Hard," and side two is dubbed "It's Real Soft."

So this simply means one side is fast beat R&B dance music and side two is slow ballads. This well thought-out album lets the listener build up with the mood of the music by keeping the tempos in order.

Production on the album is superb.

Ingram's powerful voice is well heard through the loud drumming. upbeat songs. Dancing comes automatic when these tunes are heard. The title track "It's Real" has piszazz. It's one of those songs you can hear over and over again without getting tired of it right away. The softer tunes of side two again display silken ballad style Ingram is known for. Ingram's remake of the Goffin/Ring song, "(You Make Me Feel Like) A Natural Man," is sung with pure pride as his voice bellows

Working on the production of the album with Ingram are some of the well-known talents in the industry. On the list are Gene Griffin, Geria Levert, Marc Gordon (the Levert/ Gordon team), Michael J. Powell, Dennis Matkowsky, Thom Bell (known for his work with The Spinners), Benny Medina and Barry

The album is a good sounding iece of work because it contains a little bit of funk, a lot of hard drum dancing tunes and a entire side of soft ballads. The formula is there.

After three long years since his last release, this solo album shows that Ingram has worked hard in co-producing, co-writing and being involved in many aspects of making the album, which is a credit to In-

THE SWAMP BOOGIE QUEEN

Granted, swamp boogie is a musical strain not native to our high and dry suburbs. Katie Webster's brand of boogie comes from Louisiana, via Texas, having been well-seasoned through the years.

But even we highlanders can pick up on swamp boogle real quick. That's good because Webster's bluesy singing and plano styles, at times pounding, like some rollicking roadhouse, and at times sweet, like a sentimental mood, deserves some at-another song before launching into a melodic pitch for treating women right. It's a message she tells the ladies as well. She shows off her rich boogle wooogie style on a song she wrote called "Black Satin."

Ratie has a pretty good group of guests passing through. These include guitarists Robert Cray and Bonnie Raitt, and Fabulous Thunderbirds harpist Kim Wilson.

But Webster is the star, and on one number she sings "Lord I wonderhow much longer I'll have to sing the bluss."

started working as a first mate when I was 16, to get the feel of charter fishing. I took (and passed) the Coast Guard exam (to become a charter captain) on my 18th birthday.

Since then, Molesky has spent his summers surrounded by downriggers, outriggers, depth finders and other hi-tech fishing equipment. And his clients don't seem to notice his youthfulness.

"They don't have any problem with my age," Molesky said. "If I go out and work hard for people and get them a fish, they're happy.'

Molesky has seen many things during his years on the water, which he relates in many of his stories. But he's also seen a change in the fishing community.

"I see a lot more women coming out, probably 30-40 percent of all the people that come out here fishing are women. They really seem to en-

So how did an enterprising young college student come up with a name like "Wa Hoo?"

"I wanted a name nobody would use and I wanted something we could use as a fish alarm," said Molesky. "It's a rule of the boat that you have to yell, 'Waaaa Hooooo,' as loud as you can when you get a fish

VIDEO VIEWING

GREENBERG'S FIRST Law of Film Production holds that 3 to 5 percent of the films produced each year are worthwhile. The more films produced, the more good ones. Unfortunately increased production translates into proportionally more bad than good movies.

The tremendous market for films on home video is partially responsible for the recent production surge' with many movies released directly to home video without theatrical distribution. Heavy consumption of videocassettes may in part result because home video has evolved into the visual equivalent of background music. It seems that if you're not paying too much attention, it doesn't matter what you watch.

Certainly this soggy, sentimental, melodramatic World War II story pitting Martin (Hurt) against his brother-in-law, Jack (Hutton), won't win any awards. It's a Greek tragedy brought to you by Proctor and Gamble with as soapy an ending as any sob-sister could imagine.

Martin and Jack are at odds over Martin's sister, Josie (Melissa Leo) and the family fortune figures in as well. Poppa was a Basque immi-grant who amassed considerable wealth through hard work. Despite his new-world prosperity, he remains devoted to old world, peasant values, rigid traditions that lead to Daily Games have been a major factor in the success of the Michigan Lottery since 1977. As a result, many readers have expressed interest in learning more about them. Q. When Did These Games Start In Michigan?

A. The Daily 3 Game began on July 6, 1977, and the Daily 4 on October 4, 1981.

Q. Are There A Lot Of Winners?

A. Both games have thousands of winners on each of the six weekly drawing nights. There have been more than 15 million winners in the Daily 3, for example. Over one million of these occurred during the first nine months of the current fiscal year.

Q. How Much Can Be Won?

A. A single wager in the Daily 3 can win up to $500 depending on whether the wager is straight, based or a combination. The Daily 4 has a $5.000 top prize Of course, players holding a number of tickets with the winning number collect duplicate prizes.

Q. How Do I Collect If I Win?

A. Retailers selling these games can pay all prizes up to $600 immediately after the draw-ings are completed at 7:30 each night. Larger amounts can be collected Monday through Friday at any Lottery regional office.

Q. If Players Get Lucky, Couldn't The Prize Total Be More Than The Amount Played?

A. Yes. Between the two Daily Games, this has happened about 48 times in each of the last several years. The Lottery pays the full amount no matter how much is won.

Q. What's Been The Record Payout Sc A. On June 10, 1986, the Daily 3 paid out $4,965,980 on the number 123 This was equal to 489 percent of the amount played that day.

Q. What's The Daily 4 Record? A. On October 15, 1986, the Daily 4 number, 1028, awarded $2,757,908, or 668 percent of the amount played.

Q. What Numbers Can I Play? A. In the Daily 3, any number from 000 to 999, and in the Daily 4, 0000 through 9998. Your retailer can also give you an "Easy Pick" in which the Lottery computer makes a random number selection for you.

Q. Can I See The Drawings?

A. Live Daily 3 and 4 drawings are note telecast on a nin-station TV network on Monday. Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 7:39 p.m. and the results are announced on Wednesdays during the Super Latte drawings. On Saturday nights, the Daily 3 and 4 drawings are conducted live during the Panis & Portune show, between 7:30-400 p.m. The live drawings are also heard on 11 radio stations around the state.

Lee Trotter doesn't let a handicap slow her down.

Despite poor circulation, which keeps her from walking very far or driving an automobile, the Rochester resident gets out "three or four times each summer" to pursue one of her favorite outdoor activities: camping.

And this modern day pioneer doesn't camp in a big luxurious travel trailer either. No sir! It's strictly primitive, as in a tent and a sleeping bag.

"I love the outdoors, I love to get out and I love to go fishing," explained Trotter, who was on a solo camping trip recently at Addison Oaks County Park, north of Rochester in Oakland County.

"This is the first time I've been here, but I'll definitely be back. It's really great out here and it's only nine miles from Rochester. The OPC (Older Persons Center in Rochester) van will bring me out here. Then they'll come back in a few days and pick me up.

Other than the proximity and the availablity of transfortation, there were other things that lured Trotter to Addison Oaks.

"I really like it here," Trotter said. "Everything is pretty close. The showers are close, the fishing is close. the campsites are nice and clean and they're big. You have your privacy, but you're never too far away from others. They even have handicapped showers, which are nice. The only thing that blew my mind was that it costs $,25 to take a shower."

MARK AND BEV Pangrace drove all the way down from Algonac to spend the weekend at Addison Oaks with their three sons, 8-year-old Adam, 7-year-old Joey and 2-year-old Andrew.

"We used to live in Rochester, but we moved to Algonac three months ago," explained Mark. "We've been here before and we really liked it so here we are, back

Bev, a cautious mother, was happy with the facilities the park offers children

"The beach is really nice for the kids. It's well guarded and the tide can have a lot of fun," she said. "They also have a sot of other things for kids to do. They had a hay ride on Friday night and a movie on Saturday. They have a playground with swings and bars and slides.

Added Mark, "They even come around at night with firewood for anyone who needs it."

MARY MILMINE, of Mt. Clemens, arrived at the park with her three children — 18-year-old Anthony, 16-yearold Tracey, and 14-year-old Louann - on Friday afternoon under stressful conditions. Her car broke down at the park entrance and she was scheduled to set up camp, then pick her husband Richard up from work in "less than two hours.

But, since campers are usually always ready to lend a helping hand, it only took a couple minutes to find help. A few moments later, the Milmines were back on the road, heading for their primitive campsite.

"I've never met a camper that wasn't ready to help," observed Trotter, who admitted she usually needs a little help setting up her tent. "I've never had a hard time finding help. That's the nature of campers."

By Saturday afternoon, the Milmines were relaxing and enjoying the weekend. "This is a really nice park," said Richard. "It's one of the nicest I've ever seen. Everybody is not right on top of each other. You have your privacy. The beach is nice they have boat rental and fishing. For rustic camping, this is really a nice campsite. I certainly want to come back here again. It's the only park I know of that delivers wood (for fires) right to the campsite. I'd rather come here than go to a state park."

OAKLAND COUNTY PARKS accept no reservations. Camping is strictly on a first-come first-serve basis.

Still, the park fills up nearly every weekend. "We're usually a little slow early in the year, but by mid-season we're filling up pretty steady," explained Addison Oaks park supervisor Frank Ostrowski. "We get about a 50/50 mix of county resident and non-county residents. The thing that's nice is that you don't have to drive all the miles (to go up north) and you can still go camping in the woods."

And woods they are, with deer, rabbits, raccoons and even an occasional skunk roaming the park grounds.

"There are a lot of (wild) animals here," Ostrowski said. "We even have one little skunk that shows up every now and then looking for handouts (food). A lot of people have seen him, but he has never bothered or sprayed

Spots to pitch your tent

Driving hundreds of miles to a secluded campground somewhere in northern Michigan is a tempting thought to most avid campers.

But to make a trip like that you need time. Time to drive up and time to drive back. A weekend jaunt is almost out of the question. Even a three day weekend seems a little cramped when you have to spend hours on the road.

But there is a solution. There is a way to beat the clock and avoid a

Gentleman's game

Cricket game of choice for group on Belle Isle

By LeAnne Rogers staff writer

A game in which style is as important as scoring, a gentleman's game for which the players wear white.

That's the way cricket was described by the late Walter Heron, a leading cricket booster in the Detroit

One of the two cricket teams based in Detroit, formerly the Detroit Cricket Club, was renamed the Walter Heron Cricket Team of Detroit following Heron's death in later

"Walter lived and breathed cricket." said team manager Ken Mirjah. "It was a real shock to us when he fied. We had never known cricket in Detroit without Walter."

Often called the national sport of Britain, cricket has been played on Belle Isle for many years. No one is sure exactly when cricket arrived in Detroit, but teams have active in the area for those than 40 years, possibly as many as 60 years.

"Basically, as long as there have been West Indians in Detroit, there has been cricket," said Mirjah. Most of our players are from the West Indies, Pakistan and India. We get a few British guys.'

Team captain Nabeel Ahmed likened the popularity of cricket in Britain and its former colonies to the popularity of baseball in America.

Most of the players we have grew up with cricket. I've played cricket since I was three or four years old," he said. "I've always played cricket. Here, people grew up playing base-

MIRJAH ECHOES the comments of his teammate.

"The saying is that you get cricket in your blood," he added.

For a cricket match, each team fields 11 players along with one extra player, although substitutions

One team takes the field, including a bowler, who pitches to a batsman from the opposing team. Two batsmen are on the field at a time, one being pitched to while the other stands near the bowler. Three sticks, known as wickets, are placed 22 yards apart at the center of the cricket field, with the bowler and pitcher at opposite ends.

The bowler wants to pitch the red leather-covered ball into the wickets, which will retire the batsman, Ahmed said. The batsman wants to hit the ball but avoid a pop up, which can be caught to get him out.

One difference from baseball is that bowlers and fielders in cricket don't wear gloves. After being hit with the small hardball, Ahmed said he needed stitches in his chin. Miriah suffered a broken finger after being hit by a ball.

"The batsman hits as hard as you would a baseball," Mirjah said. "The swing of the batsman is more like a golf swing than a baseball swing."

There are several ways to score points in cricket. A ball hit into the air but not caught is worth six runs, while ground balls are worth four

Q: My daughter made mediorce grades in high school because she didn't try very hard. Now she's leaving for college and I'm worried she may flunk out. Could time management help her in school?

A: Absolutely. Good time management is a basic key to success in college: It simply means taking advantage of the time you have and using it to the best advantage, without prograstinating.

At 18 it's time to replace childish irresponsibility with more mature self-discipline. It would be wise for your daughter to establish a good routine right from the start. Since it's important to put To Do's in writing, she can begin by charting out each day of the week in time increments. Classes and "travel time," of course, would be blocked out first, along with regular study periods for each. Meals, laundry, getting dressed and other necessities should also be charted.

Daytime hours are often squandered in school. Many students have large blocks of time between classes but plan to do their studying at night. When everyone gathers back in dorm rooms in the evenings, however, there are so many distractions it doesn't get done. A goal of finding a quiet, non-distracting place to finish her studying before dinner each day could pave the way for success. (Research shows the sooner a student reviews material, the more information they will retain.) Nights and weekends can then serve as buffer periods to handle emer-

It's also important for your daughter to recognize her own delaying tactics. Many students actually retreat to soap operas just before semester exams. Others may just sit and worry about how much they have to do (often over-estimating actualities) instead of getting it done. If your daughter finds herself procrastinating, she should list everything she needs to do, estimate the time needed for each activity, and then schedule specific times to get it done.

Large tasks should be broken down into manageable units. If she has six hours of work to do on a class project due in two weeks, she could work on that project for one hour at 2 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday each week, for instance. She can finish it easily that way without wearing herself out.

Our young neighbor recently came home from summer school with straight A's. He was delighted to find that by employing good time management techniques he could make A's - for the first time in his life and still had plenty of time for fun. Your daughter can, too, if she will follow these simple guidelines.

condo queries Robert M.

Meisner Q: We have lived in our condominium since 1985 and in all that time it has been very difficult to find out any information about board meetings and decisions they make. Meetings are held in an individual Board member's unit which is a deterrent for others to attend and the place and time are not given. I have tried to have the board distribute minutes to the co-owners and have requested it by letter, but it has not been done. Do co-owners have a right to the minutes? Should meetings be held as described above? Thanks.

A: It has always been my position that minutes of the meetings of the board of directors are not necessarily a "record" which is open to review by all members of the association even though the condominium statute says that "books and records of the association may be inspected by members of the association at reasonable

Clearly, minutes of the association which deal with privileged communications between the board and counsel would not be obtainable under most instances by a coowner. On the other hand, a co-owner may have a right to attend certain portions of the board meeting, at the board's discretion, to discuss questions or concerns. However, the board may and should conduct its meetings in executive session, particularly when sensitive issues are being discussed which, if published to the rest of the members of the association or the world for that matter, would undermine the interests of the Asso-

In short, you may not have a right to a copy of the exact minutes, but a prudent condominium association should at least prepare a newsletter summarizing the salient events which have taken place at the board meeting. I would also direct a letter to the association requesting a copy of its financial statement and demand that it provide you with answers to certain questions you may have concerning the operation of

Rose fanciers take Pleasure in selection

AP - One rose - a vigorous, pink floribunda aptly named Pleasure - has been chosen for the prestigious All-American Rose Selections award for 1990.

In recent years, several new rose introductions have been designated annually for the honor by the AARS, a nonprofit organization of rose producers and introducers.

The selection of Pleasure, introduced by Jackson & Perkins Co., of Medford, Ore., and hybridized by William A. Warriner, was announced by AARS president Steven B. Hutton. Warriner, whose roses have won the award many times, retired in 1988 as J&P's vice president of research.

Pleasure, in widespread test gardens, was rated as very floriferous. It has coral pink buds that open to salmoncoral pink blooms of 30 to 35 large petals. The slightly fragrant blooms may reach four inches across. When fully open, the blooms, which begin as high-centered buds, are quite flat.

"Pleasure's upright bushes are ideal for landscaping," Hutton said. "The average or beginning gardener can easily grow Pleasure roses, as they are extremely fast-cycling and require little maintenance.

One prerequisite for being named an AARS rose is that it can be grown anywhere in the country. The two-year testing included conditions of heat, drought, cold wind, insects, diseases and "hard-to-please judges."

Pleasure will be available generally for planting next spring. The bushes grow three to four feet tall. Floribunda stems generally are short. Pleasure's foliage is medium weeder's quide green, and the plant is reported resistant to rust and powdery mildew

EVERGREENS IN autumn: Evergreens do respond to fall weather, but not with the spectacular colors produced by maples, oaks and other deciduous trees. The oldest needles turn yellow, then brown, and finally drop gradually if the evergreen is healthy, rapidly if it is not.

For example, take the white pine, which has long, soft, bluish-green needles. The needles hold on to the tree for a year and a half. They expand in spring, hold on through the next year, and drop in the fall. The only needles that remain on the tree after drop are those that were produced earlier that same year.

Not all pines or other evergreens are as regular as white pine. In some, needle drop is influenced by plant vigor, climate or other factors. For instance, the ponderosa pine responds to environmental conditions. At low altitudes, the um altitudes, about six years; and at high altitudes, eight or

On dense shrubs and trees, such as arborvitae and juniper, there is needle drop in the interior, but it is little noticed. Healthy spruce may hold needles three to 10 years. Drop also is internal, and browning only becomes obvious if growth is stunted for some reason.

WATCH FOR DISEASES, insect or other damage if there is any browning of needled evergreen on new growth. Austrian pines often drop four-year-old needles. Dropping of younger needles may indicate the presence of fungus diseases, such as needle blight or top blight. Scotch pines normally drop needles three to four years old.

Spider mites are a common pest cause of browning of needles in junipers and spruces. They do most damage during hot weather. Spraying with an insecticide is important to keep the pests from building up.

If diseases are indicated, it is important to use a fungicide spray next season as needles develop. Clean up dropped needles this fall to help reduce the spread of dis-

Helping hand ideas for do-it-yourselfers

THE PRODUCT - A floor leveler and repair

Manufacturer's claim - That this product trowels to level above-grade floors prior to the laying of tiles, linoleum and other floor coverings . . . that, in addition to leveling floors, it mixes easily with water to form a shrink-proof, quick-setting putty for the repair of wood, stone, concrete and plaster . . . that it is good for filling knot holes, nail and screw holes, wallboard joints and pattern castings . . . that it can be used for setting bathroom fixtures and repairing cracked or broken plaster around tubs and sinks that it is non-flammable and contains no asbestos . . . that it may be painted, sawed and sandpapered . . . and that it is excellent for repairing wooden furniture, picture frames, moldings and rotted wood.

THE PRODUCT - A scraping, sanding abrasive tool.

Manufacturer's claim - That it will repair chipped edges and surfaces on soft metals that it consists of a flexible steel blade with a silicone carbide abrasive surface . . . that it is designed primarily as a woodworking tool for use where sandpaper, sandblocks and power sanders might not be efficient in difficult-toreach areas . . . that it has a special handle for easy operation . . . and that it comes in two models with fine and coarse abrasive surfaces.

THE PRODUCT - An adhesive designed to bond both rigid and flexible plastic permanent-

Manufacturer's claim - That this catalyzed acrylic adhesive provides a high-impact, flexible, waterproof and virtually temperature-resistant bond . . . that the product utilizes both an adhesive and an activator . . . that both sub-stances are contained in a dispenser which releases equal amounts of the adhesive and activator, which then are mixed before application that it begins to set in two minutes and bonds most objects in 15 to 30 minutes . . . that it will bond damp or oily surfaces . . . that it will fill gaps on rough surfaces to create a strong, smooth bond . . . that it not only will bond plastic to plastic, but plastic to metal and metal to metal . . . that it is not recommended for polyethylene or polypropylene, but is effective on wood, masonry, glass, crystal, china and ceramic . . . and that it achieves surprising strength on small surface areas.

THE PRODUCT - A crosscut handsaw designed to fit easily inside a standard tool box.

Manufacturer's claim - That it cuts up to 10 percent faster than conventional handsaws that the 9-point, 15-inch saw has built-in 45 degree and 90 degree mitre and square angles for convenient marking . . . that each tooth on the saw is precision set and bevel sharpened with three distinct cutting angles to provide constant blade-to-material contact during forward and . . and that it has a specialreverse strokes . gripped hardwood handle for easy handling.

Great American Yard Sale to help homeless

As the new school year begins, area families have a special opportunity to tidy up at home and, at the same time, help homeless families across the country by contributing items to the Great American Yard

Sponsored by Schweitzer Real Estate Inc./Better Homes and Gardens, the sale will be held at several locations in the area from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 16. Donated items are being accepted at Schweitzer offices. Proceeds from the sale will go to the Better Homes Foundation, the nation's only organization specifically dedicated to helping homeless families.

The Great American Yard Sale will be taking place at the same time in over 135 cities and towns across the country, according to Paul Schweitzer, president of the real estate firm. "We're sponsoring the sale because we believe every American family should have a home. The homeless families have more than 500,000 children - more than half of them under age 5. It's a terrible situation and we know that people here would like to help these unfortunate kids. This is a great way to do it."

SCHWEITZER EXPLAINED that the Better Homes Foundation provides services to homeless families through local community organizations and service providers. Rather than simply providing emergency shelter or food, the foundation's mission is to address the long-term problems of homeless families to help get them back on their feet and on their own again.

The foundation is especially sensitive to the many needs of the childen of these families. In addition to helping find housing and jobs, the foundation supports such vital services as pre-school programs; medical, den-tal, vision and hearing services for children; recreational and tutoring services for children; and job training, counseling and parenting workshops for parents.

The foundation was founded in 1988 by Better Homes and Gardens magazine. The magazine's readers have contributed $1 million to the effort since last Christmas, according to editor-in-chief David Jordan.
