City considers new ambulance carrie

By Doug Funke staff writer

Concerns about the response time of the ambulance company that provides advanced life support/transportation services in Plymouth has city officials looking at changing

Figures prepared by Fire Chief Alan Matthews for a 31/2-month period May through mid August indicate that CEMS of Novi averaged nine minutes to get to the site of an emer gency medical call

Studies show that the survival rate of heart attack victims increases dramatically if an advanced life support unit arrives and treamnt begins within eight minutes

"Basically, they're providing a very good service," Matthews said of CEMS. "Our concern is time in excess of eight minutes.'

City officials have monitored CEMS' performance since last Octo-

"THE GOAL is to provide quality service to residents," said Paul Sincock, assistant to the city manager. We feel that, perhaps, it's time for a change. We've got a service, it's working well, but we'd like to improve upon it.'

City officials are looking into switching to Huron Valley Ambulance of Ann Arbor for advanced life support services. The city commission is expected to consider the matter during its regular meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Now, city firefighters and CEMS are notified of all emergency calls for ambulance. Firefighters provide initial first aid. CEMS provides advanced life supports such as IVs, air passages and cardiac defibrillation. CEMS also transports to hospitals.

president, disputes the city's figures on response time.

There is a tremendous variance between Chief Matthews' records and what our records show," Beauchemin said. "The mere fact that every single response of the city shows two minutes raises concerns about the validity of the survey itself."

Beauchemin said his records show GREG BEAUCHEMIN, CEMS that arrival time took longer than 10 minutes on 15 runs June 1 through Aug. 23 compared to 24 such incidents indicated by city records.

The average CEMS response time for 1,439 calls from January 1986 through this June was just a hair

City officials say 3 buildings are eyesores

By Doug Funke staff writer

Thousands of people who pour into downtown Plymouth this week will be greeted by the sights, sounds and smells of Fall Festival - plus a couple of buildings some say have become eyesores.

The Farmer Jack store at 705 S. Main, closed last December, remains vacant. Large sheafs of paper placed over the windows have started to peel away. A window is broken and weeds are sprouting in the parking

The city has issued a citation to the owner of a building at 448-450 Forest for, among other things, inadequate roof covering, inadequate gutters and downspouts, inadequate siding and inadequate sidewalks and

That owner, Tom Corey, who lives in California, has 30 days to make repairs or face those charges in district court. He couldn't be reached for comment.

A city building official said last week that he was preparing a violation notice for the owner of an auto repair shop at 584 S. Main.

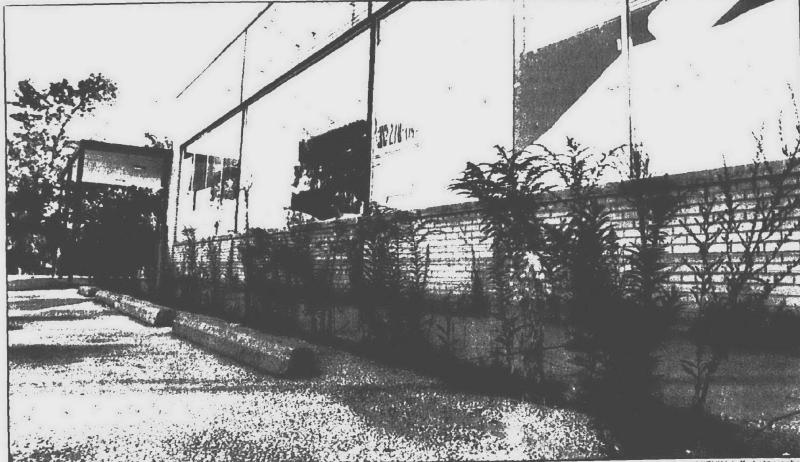

PROBLEMS THERE include peeling exterior paint, a crumbling parking lot and improperly stored cars outside, said Jim Penn, city engineering aide. The owner of that building is Don Hickman, according to tax records. Hickman couldn't be reached for comment.

Plymouth is so small and compact that deterioration quickly becomes apparent and reflects on the city as a whole, said Mary Childs, a city commissioner and chairwoman of the beautification commission.

"I think business owes it to residents just as residents owe it to business to keep their place up," she

An early-morning power failure Tuesday gave some students in the Plymouth Canton school district an extended Labor Day holiday.

Classes were called off at Canton and Salem high schools, Pioneer Middle School and Isbister and Gallimore elementaries, said Richard Egli, community relations director for the schools.

Students and teachers are expected to return Wednesday, he said.

At 94, the Plymouth Township resident still drives, and not just to the store and the doctor's office.

A typical week sees her at the Elks Club on Tuesdays - "I get a cup of soup;" at the Cultural Center on Wednesdays to play pinochle -"I've kept score ever since I quit work when I was 63;" - and at Tonquish Creek Manor for lunch on Thursday — "sometimes it's not so hot, but sometimes it's good."

Burley is moving to Gaylord this month to be nearer her son Harold, a 72-year-old retired state trooper, and daughter-in-law Dorothy. She's rented a "two-bedroom apartment near all the action downtown. I'll get my driver's license up there."

The folks at the VFW Mayflower Gable Post 8695 said goodbye to Burley with no shortage of flair or fanfare.

At a party and "coronation" last month, Burley was given a gold crown, gold cape and a special seat. "It was a beautiful party," said

Case paved way for group homes

Just as Judge Joiner's ruling threw open the doors of Plymouth Center, Livonia saw a short-lived and unsuccessful recall movement mounted against then-Mayor Edward McNamara and its seven city council members for supporting a group home in that neighboring city.

"IT WAS a frightening time, but very exciting too," Saules recalled. I think what got people's attention was that the parents of retarded people were finally coming out of the woodwork.'

Though passions have cooled. adult foster care still remains controversial.

In Oakland County, Troy Police recently arrested a group home resident who wandered, uninvited, into a neighboring home and helped himself to a pot of coffee.

While that incident rekindled old fears about the safety of adult foster care facilities, Saules said changes wrought by the 1979 ruling have been overwhelmingly positive.

What you have to remember was that was an isolated incident, what cases where there's been a positive relationship between the group home and neighbors," she said. "Our clients have shown they are much more responsible than anyone thought they could be.

Ten years later, the Plymouth resident is still involved in the fight for dignity for the mentally impaired.

Winning attitude: Athletic director sets track to boost EMU involvement

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

You might think an athletic director who parks his shiny Taurus on the cement five feet from his office door would be too busy to bother with day-to-day little things. Not so with Gene Smith.

The Eastern Michigan University athletic director is as likable a guy as you'd ever want to meet. The Canton resident greets people, be they friends or strangers, with a championship smile, his large brown eyes looking dead into theirs.

EMU's athletic offices, open, airy and alive with friendly people, reflect Smith's personality.

One of just two black athletic directors at Division 1 schools in the country, Smith injects Eastern with energy and enthusiasm he's harbored since his days as an all-state football and basketball player and track man at Shanel High School near Cleveland.

Given the obstacles he's had to hurdle, that's saying something.

Times were tough in 1984, shortly after Smith left a coaching job at his alma mater, the University of Notre Dame, to become EMU assistant athletic director.

'We were almost being dropped out of the conference," he recalls. "We (Eastern's football team) were 0 and 27, with the longest losing streak in the country.

'We were fortunate enough to be able to come back and create enough enthusiasm to bring our average attendance up from 5,000 to 17,000 with an extensive marketing and promotion plan," said Smith, who wields a $3.5 million budget and oversees 18 sports programs for men and women.

'We brought in the Dallas Cowboy cheerleaders at half time - that was exciting; a laser light show out of New York; we had fireworks after the game; and raffles at half time. We gave away a donated 1984 Cougar. We did a lot of things to create a family atmosphere.'

It worked.

The Hurons were conference champions in 1987 and went on to win the California Bowl. Last year. EMU finished second in the Mid-

Smith's convictions on family took root at Notre Dame, where, with the class of 1977, he was a linebacker under Ara Parseghian and Dan Devine. The Fighting Irish clinched a national championship Smith's fresh-time I met him," remembers Smith. "It wasn't the schools, it was the people I paid attention to. I ended up narrowing it down to Notre Dame because of Parseghian. He treated you like a man. You had responsibility, and he held you accountable."

'Notre Dame had a very small campus and just 8,000 students," he said. "I realized I could get individual attention in the classroom there."

Smith stayed on at Notre Dame, coaching kickers and defensive ends under Devine from 1977 (another national championship year) through 1981 when he went to work for IBM. Smith sold computers in the South Bend area for two long years. "I realized my heart wasn't in it," he said. "My heart was in athletics. I put my name out, and before long I got a call from Paul Shoults, athletic director at Eastern. Paul was my defensive coordinator at ND when I was playing."

Smith became assistant athletic director in 1983, and succeeded Shoults when he retired in 1985.

"I'm pretty fortunate. I never aspired to be here," said Smith, who with his wife Paula has three daughters, all of whom attend Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

"I love it here," said Smith. "Probably the biggest thrill is to see a fresh person develop over three or four years. They pretty much have it together, but I talk to them about what they're going to do. And it's gratifying to see them win."

See them, he does. It's no big deal for Smith and his family to catch a swim meet, a wrestling match, gymnastics meet and two basketball games on a given Saturday.

"It's time consuming, but it's fun. I think it's important for student ath- pared to prices at that other stadium letes to see administration involved in Washtenaw County, eh?).

daughters," he adds with a smile.

SMITH FINDS that because he's black and holds the position he does, he often is sought out by students, people affiliated U-M sports adminstration and others. "It just kind of happens. I make sure I'm as visible as possible among the minority population," he said.

While racism "is out there," few of the nation's athletic directors are members of minorities because of "a situation with the profession itself. Most administrators have been there 15-25 years, so the only way opportunities can occur is through attrition,' said Smith.

"Schools now are looking for athletic directors with marketing and promotion skills because athletics has become more of a business. Blacks who are interested have to have these skills. We realize we're pioneers, and we have to set an example," said Smith, the son of an electrical contractor and a retired

Winning at all costs isn't the object at Eastern, despite the trend at other schools, said Smith.

"At a national level, things have gotten out of proportion. We don't expect to be national champions. Our goal is to help students with their personal development. We work hard at making sure students have a valuable experience, win or lose. No. 1 is academics."

What's ahead?

'We have to improve our facilities. We have good coaches and programs. But a major goal of mine is to go to 30,000 (on football Saturdays), and improve our basketball facility and practice areas."

Beyond that, "I don't do any longterm planning. There are good people here, and we live in a good area. The kids love "If something comes along, I'll weigh it."

When founded in 1826, the mills were a focal point in the community, a place where farmers gathered following bountiful harvests to grind grain and "bull whack," catching up on local news.

Today, the site is again a community center. An old structure serves as administration offices for Wayne County parks where leisure activities for the entire family are planned and implemented.

The mill's role as a community center is a piece of Americana long overlooked except by such devoted history buffs as Palmer Werner of Redford Township who has toured and photographed some 600 mills throughout the country, including 200 in Michigan.

After you've seen a few, there's something about them. You can spot 'em a mile a way. When you run acress a mill in fair shape, that's what I'm looking for," said Werner, a retired professional photographer whose original love of covered bridges led to his present interest in mills. Nancy Watkins' interest in mills developed more recently when two years ago developers attempted to purchase the historic Plymouth Mills and tear them down.

"WE'RE JUST NOT cognizant of the historical significance in our own back yards," said Watkins, an amateur historian who spends her days amid the dated ambiance of the Nankin Mills as an employee of Wayne County parks.

When Watkins speaks of efforts to raze the Plymouth site, her eyes roll upward. It was appalling, she said, and it galvanized her into action. She has applied for historical designation for all area mills, protecting them from future development efforts.

"I poke my nose into a lot of places," Watkins said, "because my goal in life . . . is maintaining and promoting Wayne County's history, preserving it's heritage."

Donn Werling, director of the Henry Ford Estate and a connoisseur of historical detail, sympathized with Watkins effort and offered this idea.

Why not, he querried, develop the mill heritage into an additional tourist attraction in Michigan, educating the state's residents and resurrecting a nearly forgotten slice of the

The tour, one of three included in a trio of new Ford Heritage Trails, highlights such landmarks as the Phoenix Mill.

ONE MORNING in 1905, the citizens of Phoenix, a tiny community that is now part of Plymouth Township, awoke to a fiery disaster. Their mill, a huge wooden structure that for 65 years had dominated the center of town, was engulfed in flames.

The mill, originally a gristmill and later Matthews Distillery, was abandoned when it burned. The blackened remains sat unattended another 17 years, until Henry Ford purchased the site and coverted it into a factory, providing much needed jobs in Phoenix became part of a bold experiment by Ford, known as the village industry plan. During the 1920s and '30s, he purchased 18 former mill sites along the Rouge, Huron and Raisin rivers and converted them into industrial plants.

Phoenix was particularly unique because it employed women only, one of the nation's first factories to do so. A woman, called simply Mrs. Sullivan, managed the plant, permitting the women two daily rest periods (compared to one for men) and supervising maidens who produced electrical parts, voltage regulators

"Mr. Ford believed women had superior hand dexterity and were particularly suited to small, electrical assembly," said John Stewart, a Wayne County parks historian who has been ferreting out such nuggets of information for two years.

Ford also had other notions. Only unmarried females were hired because, he reportedly said, married women had more important duties

The tour begins at Fair Lane, the Henry Ford Estate in Dearborn where the family lived from 1915 to 1947. The home is powered by a hydroelectric plant that was a prototype for the village industry mills. The tour proceeds to the following mill sites.

• Nankin Mills - Built in 1863 in what was then Pike's Peak, the mill was purchased by Ford in 1918 and restored into a factory that produced fices of the Wayne County Park Sys- and taps. Donated to Wayne County tem. Located on Hines Drive west of Merriman in Westland.

· Newburgh Mill - Originally the site of a cider mill, the mill's damn was constructed in 1934 by Ford, the Wayne County Road Commission and a federal New Deal program. The following year, a factory began producing twist drills. Donated to Wayne County in 1948, it is at Hines Drive and Newburgh Road in Livo-

• Phoenix Mills - Erected as a gristmill in 1840 in the now extinct village of Phoenix, the old wooden structure burned to the ground in 1905. In 1922 Ford bought and rebuilt the dam. In 1922 he opened a factory that until 1948 produced electrical parts, voltage regulators and switches. Donated to Wayne County parks in 1948, it is on Northville Road, north of Five Mile Road, Plymouth Township.

· Waterford - The site of Michigan's largest gristmill, Mead Mill, the structure was destroyed in 1865 by fire. Purchased in 1920 by Ford. he opened a factory in 1925 that until 1955 manufactured high precision gauges. The building is now owned by Adistra Corp. and is used as a warehouse facility. Located on Mill Road in Northville Township.

• Northville Mill - Erected in 1827 as a mill employing crude grinding stones of split boulders, the facility later served as a saw mill, producing wood pulleys and church furniture. Ford purchased the picturesque site featuring a water wheel in 1920 and founded a factory that produced engine valves. Mill Race Village, located on the mill pond, is now an outdoor museum. The accompanying Northville Spring Park is also open to the public. Owned by Ford Motor Co., the facility is reportedly for sale. Located on Main Street in Northville.

• Cherry Hill - A small village that flouished between 1840 and 1920, Ford purchased the mill site in 1940 and opened a factory in 1944 that produced car locks and drain valves until 1950. Now owned by Rantom Corp., the facility remains a working plant producing engine cylinders. Located at Cherry Hill and Ridge roads in Canton.

Other Ford Heritage trails include the Huron-Raisin tour, featuring mill sites in 10 different locations, including the ghost town of Rawsonville and the communities of Saline, Manchester, Sharon Hollow and Dundee. The final Ford Heritage trail is a tour of the Boston-Edison Historic District. Friday's inaugural trek visits five sites, including the Nankin and Waterford mills, and a stop at the Plymouth Historical Museum. The Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) will unveil a new roadside sign highlighting the new tours that will be erected at 18 area visitor centers.

Only rarely is the discomfort caused by heel spurs. These spurs, which occur in many people who have no complaint of painful walking, represent calcification of the tendons that anchor into the bone of the heel.

In most cases, heel pain is the result of past injury to the sheet of tissue just under the thick skin of the sole. This injury often occurred in the forgotten past, and is activated by an otherwise trivial twist of the Treatment by injection into the heel requires finding the exact site of injury; such precision is difficult to achieve. No medication by mouth has proved consistently effective, nor is operation usually in order. The trauma it causes often is greater than the original insult that began the

Harvest Moon due Sept. 15

THE PULL MOON that occurs at 7:51 a.m. on Sept. 15 is a very special one. It's called the Harvest Moon. But since we have full moons every month throughout the year, what makes this one so special?

Because the moon is in orbit around the earth, it appears in different parts of the sky from night to night. Generally the moon will rise about one hour later each night. But in autumn the full moon is located at the part of the moon's orbit that has the least tilt with respect to Earth's horizon. The moon seems to skim along the horizon, rising at about the same time each evening, in about the same part of the sky. In fact, for the four evenings starting with the Sept. 13, each moon rise occurs within 25 minutes of the previous night's.

The light scattered by the full moon was a help to farmers, allowing them to continue their harvesting after sunset. Hence it was called the Harvest Moon. The full moon that follows the Harvest Moon was said to be a help to hunters. You can figure out what that full moon is called.

People occasionally wonder if the phase of the moon has any effect on humans. It really shouldn't be expected to have any effect at all. We see different phases of the moon depending on what part is being illuminated by the sun. The moon is always somewhere near the earth, so any effect it should have should be a constant one, not dependant on which half is being illuminated.

LOOK FOR THE moon in the east northeast, three and one-half hours after sunset, on the Sept. 19. It is located in the constellation of Taurus the bull. Above and to the right of the moon is the Pleiades (PLEE a dees) star cluster. Looking like a tiny dipper, this star cluster will be difficult to see in the light scattered by the moon. Binoculars will help in locating the Pleiades.

On Wednesday morning, the Pleiades, the moon and the star Alderbaran (al DEB a ran) form a large triangle high in the southwest.

Aldebaran represents the bull's eye. Last Quarter Moon is at 10:10 p.m. on Sept. 21. It is at the last quarter of its orbit around the earth. The moon will rise in the east northeast at about midnight.

Jupiter is four degrees south of (below) the moon on the morning of the 22nd. Look high in the southeast about 45 minutes before sunrise. The two "twin" stars to the east (left) of Jupiter are Castor and Pollux, each one representing a head of the Gemi-

Autumn officially begins at 9:20 p.m. on Sept. 22. But what is it that determines that precise moment? It's a combination of the earth's orbit and its tilt.

Earth is divided into a northern hemisphere and a southern hemisphere by an imaginary line called the equator. If this equator is extended out into space it cuts the sky into a northern and southern hemisphere, but now the imaginary line is called the celestial equator.

Our earth is tilted 231/2 degrees above the celestial equator or 231/2 degrees below it. When the sun is at its highest point in the sky north of the celestial equator, in June when the days are long and warm, we have summer. When the sun is at its lowest, in December when the days are short and cold, we have winter. Obviously there are two points where the sun must cross over the celestial equator. Once when going from above the equator to below, and another going from below to

with this

Farmington

477-0670

The precise moment of crossover, going from north to south, is when autumn officially begins for the northern hemisphere. A person standing on earth's equator at local noon would see the sun directly overhead on the celestial equator. The sun will rise due east and set due west. The length of the day and length of night are about equal, so this is called the equinox.

Although we may be facing the start of autumn, people below the equator face the start of spring.

THE MOON, Castor and Pollux form a triangle on the morning of the Sept. 23. Notice how far the moon has moved in just one day. The moons daily motion is very easy to notice when it passes bright stars

Mercury is officially at inferior conjunction on September 24. The planet is located between the earth and the sun and is not visible. (When Mercury is located beyond the sun, as seen from the earth, it is called superior conjunction.)

Regulus (REG u lus), the "heart" of Leo the lion, is the bright star five degrees below the waning crescent moon on the morning of the 26th.

Mars is in conjunction with the sun on the 29th. Mars is located behind the sun, as seen from the earth, and is not visible. New Moon is at 5:47 p.m. on Sept. 29.

Eleven million people in the U.S. have diabetes. But almost half of them don't know it.

Untreated, diabetes can lead to heart disease, kidney disease, blindness and gangrene.

And for 150,000 people each year, it leads to death.

That's why you should be aware of the symptoms of diabetes: blurred vision, excessive thirst and frequent urination are just some of the warning signs. Because the sooner you find out if you have diabetes, the more likely you are to get it under control, before complications set in.

Finding out you have diabetes can be scary. But not finding out can be fatal.

Harvest Moon due Sept. 15

THE FULL MOON that occurs at 7:51 a.m. on Sept. 15 is a very special one. It's called the Harvest Moon. But since we have full moons every month throughout the year, what makes this one so special?

Because the moon is in orbit around the earth, it appears in different parts of the sky from night to night. Generally the moon will rise about one hour later each night. But in autumn the full moon is located at the part of the moon's orbit that has the least tilt with respect to Earth's horizon. The moon seems to skim along the horizon, rising at about the same time each evening, in about the same part of the sky. In fact, for the four evenings starting with the Sept. 13, each moon rise occurs within 25 minutes of the previous night's.

The light scattered by the full moon was a help to farmers, allowing them to continue their harvesting after sunset. Hence it was called the Harvest Moon. The full moon that follows the Harvest Moon was said to be a help to hunters. You can figure out what that full moon is called.

People occasionally wonder if the phase of the moon has any effect on humans. It really shouldn't be expected to have any effect at all. We see different phases of the moon depending on what part is being illuminated by the sun. The moon is always somewhere near the earth, so any effect it should have should be a constant one, not dependant on which half is being illuminated.

LOOK FOR THE moon in the east northeast, three and one-half hours after sunset, on the Sept. 19. It is located in the constellation of Taurus the bull. Above and to the right of the moon is the Pleiades (PLEE a dees) star cluster. Looking like a tiny dipper, this star cluster will be difficult to see in the light scattered by the moon. Binoculars will help in locating the Pleiades.

derbaran (al DEB a ran) form a large triangle high in the southwest.

Aldebaran represents the bull's eye. Last Quarter Moon is at 10:10 p.m. on Sept. 21. It is at the last quarter of its orbit around the earth. The moon will rise in the east northeast at about midnight.

Jupiter is four degrees south of (below) the moon on the morning of the 22nd. Look high in the southeast about 45 minutes before sunrise. The two "twin" stars to the east (left) of Jupiter are Castor and Pollux, each one representing a head of the Gemini twins.

Autumn officially begins at 9:20 p.m. on Sept. 22. But what is it that determines that precise moment? It's a combination of the earth's orbit and its tilt.

Earth is divided into a northern hemisphere and a southern hemisphere by an imaginary line called the equator. If this equator is extended out into space it cuts the sky into a northern and southern hemisphere, but now the imaginary line is called the celestial equator.

Our earth is tilted 231/2 degrees above the celestial equator or 231/2 degrees below it. When the sun is at its highest point in the sky north of the celestial equator, in June when the days are long and warm, we have summer. When the sun is at its lowest, in December when the days are short and cold, we have winter. Obviously there are two points where the sun must cross over the celestial equator. Once when going from above the equator to below, and another going from below to

with this

Farmington

477-0670

The precise moment of crossover, going from north to south, is when autumn officially begins for the northern hemisphere. A person standing on earth's equator at local noon would see the sun directly overhead on the celestial equator. The sun will rise due east and set due west. The length of the day and length of night are about equal, so this is called the equinox.

Although we may be facing the start of autumn, people below the equator face the start of spring

THE MOON, Castor and Pollux form a triangle on the morning of the Sept. 23. Notice how far the moon has moved in just one day. The moons daily motion is very easy to notice when it passes bright stars and planets.

Mercury is officially at inferior conjunction on September 24. The planet is located between the earth and the sun and is not visible. (When Mercury is located beyond the sun, as seen from the earth, it is called superior conjunction.)

Regulus (REG u lus), the "heart" of Leo the lion, is the bright star five degrees below the waning crescent moon on the morning of the 26th.

Mars is in conjunction with the sun on the 29th. Mars is located behind the sun, as seen from the earth, and is not visible. New Moon is at 5:47 p.m. on Sept. 29.

Apples: the crop is healthy

With summer winding down and fall creeping in, many of the state's orchards will be gearing up for what will inevitably be one of the biggest apple harvests ever.

There are about 7,500 assorted apple varieties grown around the world, with more than 2,500 varieties alone in the United States. These vary with size, sweetness, aroma and crispness, not to mention color, which can range from a deep ruby red to a bright yellow

In Canada and the United States, 18 to 25 varieties comprise the majority of the commercial crop, though many other varieties are available, many in home gardens. Nearly all the varieties grown today originated as chance seedlings (mutations) before 1900. Apple trees grow just about everywhere except in the very coldest and very hottest climates of the world. They do not thrive in the tropics because apples need a period of cold and dormancy to grow properly

The commercial-type apple is native to Western Asia and Eastern Europe. Apples were grown by the Greeks as early as the fourth century B.C. Supposedly, the Romans took cultivated apples with them when they conquered England, and apple growing became common in England and other parts of Europe.

DURING THE 1620s, colonists introduced the apple to North America. Then, as the frontier moved westward, apple trees followed. Some followed with the help of a man named John Chapman (1774-1845), better known to most people as Johnny Appleseed. He carried apple seeds and sprouts with him wherever he traveled and planted them in newly settled areas of the coun-

Gradually, the apple was spread by explorers, Indians and pioneers. American growers developed new and improved varieties and soon apples became an important part of the economy.

Thirty-five states, along with parts of Canada and Mexico, produce the main assortment of apples for North America. In the United States, an average of more than 4.5 milion tons are produced each year, with Washington, New York State and Michigan leading in productivity.

Apples destined to the fresh market, or those that are not processed immediately are picked by hand. Apple pickers start on the lower branches and use very long, tall ladders to eventually reach the top.

Pickers must be very careful not to bruise apples when hand-picked of the fruit will spoil easi-ly. Ficking apples with their stems still intact is a good practice, mainly because of the higher grade and longer storage.

Unfortunately, the art of apple picking is falling by the proverbial roadside mainly due to the introduction of the mechanical shaker and catchers introduced in the early 1900s. Apples picked mechanically are destined for use in juice, sauce, cider or other products.

FOLLOWING PICKING, apples begin almost immediately to spoil. After picking and prior to storage, many apples are rapidly cooled to low temperatures to increase their shelf life. In addition, for longer periods of storage, apples can be subjected to storage with decreased oxygen in an airtight room that is usually refrigerated.

After apples are placed in the room, it is sealed and the oxygen content is slowly removed, with the percentage of carbon dioxide increased. This combination of controlled atmosphere and reduced temperatures can keep some apples in total perfor up to 12 months, which can maintain an apple supply in all more markets through the year.

In her kitchen, where she prepares family meals for her husband and three young sons, Birmingham resident Betsy Brethen has learned to make quick, yet tasty, dinners. She will share her ideas - and ask readers to share theirs-in a new column, "Family-Tested Winner Dinners."

Mom meets challenge

ETSY BRETHEN of Birmingham compares the challenge of preparing creative family meals to "fighting a battle, sometimes.'

Is there any cook who doesn't occasionally become firmly wedged into a mealtime rut? Quick - whip up a batch of spaghetti or grill a steak, and be done with it.

Brethen, full-time homemaker and mother of three sons, is brimming with fresh ideas for quick, easy menus. Her new column, "Family-Tested Winner Dinners," will debut Monday, Sept. 11, in the Taste section of all Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

What I'm attempting to do is make family cooking a little more interesting," said Brethen. "It's so easy to get locked into the same thing."

The column will, for several weeks, feature meals that draw raves in the Brethen household - such as sauteed chicken breast with rice or oriental pork stir-fry.

'Family-tested' While in Europe, Brethen traveled extensively and took cooking classes. "I fell in love with the culture and cutsine of France and Italy," she said. dinners wanted

She is calling on readers to submit and it's all planned," Brethen said. some of their own cherished "childrenlocal cook's special meal will be featured weekly in Taste. He or she will receive an apron with a "Winner Dinner Winner" logo.

"I'M NOT LOOKING for exotic menus," Brethen said. "I'm open to any family favorites. I want the complete meal - that's the crux of this."

Each menu submitted should include recipes, or instructions for preparing the entree, side dishes, salads or desserts. Brethen will prepare a shopping list for the meal.

Brethen's mission comes from her tested and family-tested" meals for sense of adventure about cooking and publication. Starting Monday, Oct. 16, a eating, her interest in people and her experiences while working, studying and traveling in Europe.

"I love to eat and I love to cook, but I don't cook fancy meals," Brethen said. "I love to know how people in other countries live and eat.'

Delights of Hunan-style, or Szechuan

The House of Hunan in Southfield is at the intersection of two major arteries, in the midst of a busy business community and within a stone's throw of several good - and often crowded - restaurants. But you could drive past it time and again without ever knowing it exists.

It is hidden in the Franklin Savings Centre office building on the northeast corner of Twelve Mile Road and Northwestern Highway. Despite its camouflage, it is a good restaurant, which loyal customers seem to have no trouble finding. Among loyal customers are many Orientals, attesting to the authenticity of the meals and quality of the preparation.

The atmosphere is comfortable, with a constant murmur from guests talking. A few years ago owner Joe Chue added the House of Hunan's most striking feature, a 1,000-gallon, oval, salt-water fish tank. The tropical fish swimming around now provide, a focal point for the dining room - and block the view customers used to have of the kitchen.

The fish tank provides color against a beige-and-burgundy backdrop, wood paneling, burgundy tablecloths, and beige vertical blinds letting light filter through the tinted

ON THE MENU are meals that represent cooking styles from the northern and western regions of China. Meals cooked Hunan-style hail from the northern area of China and are richly spiced and heavier on the garlic and ginger. The Szechuan entrees, from the western area of China, are medium-spicy by compari-

You can find a meal to suit any preference, on this menu. While the most popular item ordered by Chinese and American customers alike is a chicken dish prepared Hunanstyle, there are virtually spiceless entrees like a lemon chicken dish, which we found particularly good. In both cases, the chicken was moist and plentiful. The lemon sauce was light and gently flavored.

Another chicken dish, prepared with peanuts in a hot sauce, was somewhat disappointing. The chicken was dry and the hot sauce lacked zip. The scallops in hot garlic sauce, tasted on an earlier visit, was good, with the scallops tender and the sauce mildly flavored with garlic.

The soups are very good, especially the won ton and the hot and sour soups, which are preferred by American customers, according to Chue. Chinese and Japanese customers "know how to appreciate" the Szechuan pickle pork soup and a shark's fin soup with crabmeat added, he said. Not many Americans try these, he said.

IN ADDITION to egg foo young, fried rice and the usual variety of sweet and sour entrees, the House of Hunan offers an interesting variety of meals: Hunan smoked ham, red fish, an orange-flavored beef dish, frog legs, and bean curd with shrimp. Another popular selection, according to Chue, is one in which you can combine two items from either beef, shrimp or chicken and have each prepared differently.

There are many apple orchards in our area that offer everything from baskets of the delicious beauties to homemade cider, doughnuts and hayrides, and many include homemade provisions packed with love and care. A few of the Janes Gang favorite orchards stock ample supplies of apple jelly, apple butter, apple pies, apple strudel, candy apples and this writer's favorite, caramel apples.

"All three boys are on the swim team at Orchard Lake Country Club and they also play junior golf," Brethen added

Brethen plays tennis and is the vice-president/treasurer of the Mothers Council at Cranbrook Middle School

"Our lives are busy today," Brethen said. "I don't have time to cook fancy dinners that take an hour-and-a-half to prepare."

Brethen decided to launch her column after hearing a motivational speaker urge his listeners to fulfill their "natural aptitude." One of Brethen's talents, determined after an intensive series of tests, is "creative problem-solving." She decided to focus that problem-solving strength on meal-planning ideas.

"WE'RE ALL GROPING for new ideas," Brethen said. "When I do plan meals for a week I find I save so much time and money. I feel like I'm more in control of the kitchen. And I feel better about myself because I'm organized." Eventually she hopes to write a cookbook or two featuring easy, practical, family-tested menus Brethen said her sons enjoy simple dishes. They aren't particularly fond of casseroles

"One of my sons, especially, doesn't like his food mixed up,' Brethen said.

What the family does go for in a big way is boneless chicken breast. which has been sauteed with herbed rice, steamed broccoli and fruit

The chicken breast menu will be featured in an upcoming column. Brethen has a passion for pasta, and one of her easy, tasty favorites is a dish called spaghetti a la carbonara.

creamy sauce of cooked and diced bacon, paraley, eggs and parmesan

Chip Brethen has contributed a pizza variation, which uses pita bread, covered with tomato sauce and mozzarella cheese. Familymembers can select their own meat and vegetable toppings.

The pita pizza is placed under the broiler until the cheese melts.

"It is so simple and delicious," Betsy Brethen said. "When kids get involved with their toppings, they seem to eat better because they have a choice."

ADVANCE PLANNING allows for a calmer dinner hour and sidetracks costly trips to the deli or fast-food

"With the advent of fast food, people are eating things that are not good for them," Brethen said. ing the menus submitted and has re-cruited some friends to be tasters. In a playful spirit, each will be provided with a bell and a kazoo. Delicious, "winning" dishes will be saluted with a resounding ring of the bell, while not-so-great ones will get a blast from the kazoo.

Brethen's philosophy is summed up in a line she attributes to the famous Broadway play, "Auntie Mame": "Life is a banquet and we should enjoy every course. "It's something fun to try," Brethen said. "I have to cook anyway. If all else fails, I will have a good source of recipes. I feel, hopefully, this column will facilitate feeding families and children."

Readers should submit their recipes for meals to. Winner Dinners, Observer & Eccentric, P.O. Box 3503, Birmingham 48012

Dear Cycling and Fitness Enthusiast:

Every once in a while an employee works for many years for a well established firm, then is given the opportunity to strike out on his own. Well, I'm proud to say that this has happened to me. For most of 30 years, I have helped guide a local bike shop into a multi-store operation. Earlier this year, I purchased what was known as Jerry's Bicycles - Livonia North on 7 Mile - (1/4 mile East of Middlebelt). We are becoming

LIVONIA SCHWINN BICYCLE and FITNESS CENTER

As you can tell by the name change, we are putting more emphasis on fitness equipment. In fact, Schwinn's line of fitness equipment (one of the best already with its AIR-DYNE BOW-FLEX® leading the pack) is expanding to include treadmills and stair machines BUT this doesn't mean we are putting any less emphasis on the full-service, quality, family-oriented atmosphere we strive to create. We still offer a full line of children's bicycles, young adult 10-speeds, adult styled bikes and all-terrain bicycles. Our "PRO" line features SCHWINN aluminum models and the Kestrel carbon spectra models.

Our goal is to make you a satisfied customer. We plan to do this with fast, friendly and efficient service. Our pricing will be (as always) competitive and fair.

Thank you for taking a few moments to read this and I look forward to continuing to serve the cycling public for years to come. Please stop by soon!

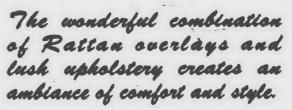

Sincerely,

Larry Loiselle, Owner 28860 W. 7 Mile Livonia, MI 48152 476-1818

Rocks open with win over Trenton

staff writer

Nearly everyone at Centennial Educational Park was surprised Friday when Plymouth Salem coach Tom Moshimer called for an option pass on the first play from scrimmage.

Everyone, that is, except Trenton coach Don Warner.

Quarterback Rob Kowalski pitched the ball to halfback Ryan Johnson, who threw a 44-yard touchdown pass to Chris Tebben. Mike Cygan's extra point gave Salem a 7-0 lead, and the Rocks went on to post a 21-12 win over Trenton, its former Suburban Eight League rival.

The 6-foot-2, 216-pound Johnson is lining up at halfback this fall after sharing time at quarterback last year with Kowalski. That's why Warner wasn't surprised.

"It's not a surprise when you take back," Warner said. "It's something we talked about in practice, but we didn't react to it.

JOHNSON SAID he has had to adjust to playing halfback in Salem's wishbone, but he is used to carrying the ball from any of the backfield positions. He's not so accustomed to throwing the ball from the halfback

"It was a special play for Trenton; we've been practicing it all week," said Johnson, who then borrowed a phrase from Michigan State coach George Perles. "It's a great way to start. We've got eight more to go. We've just got to hit hard, keep our noses clean, keep our heads up and good things will happen."

The pass was the beginning of a memorable night for Johnson. By the football second half, the Trojans were more in awe of his running ability.

Johnson scored on a 1-yard plunge with 3:46 left in the third quarter, and the next time the Rocks got the ball, he took a pitch and raced 75 yards down the sideline to finish Salem's scoring. The TD and Cygan's third extra point of the night gave Salem a commanding, 21-6 lead.

Johnson finished the night with 158 yards on 13 carries. Pat Bowie, who led Salem's stingy defense with two sacks, gained 58 yards on nine carries from the fullback position.

"He's a freight train," Warner said of Johnson. "He's a good football player and along with No. 30 (Bowie), that gives them a double

OTHER THAN the nifty option pass, the season-opener wasn't a thing of beauty, with the Rocks turning the ball over five times. Trenton gained 292 yards in total offense but capitalized on only one of the turn-

Tailback Joe Surowiec was Trenton's biggest threat, gaining 90 yards on 24 carries and scoring the Trojans' first TD in the first quarter on a 5-yard scamper.

Greg Indre, who replaced starting quarterback Chris Mace in the fourth quarter after Mace suffered an injury, provided excitement late in the game. Trailing 21-6, Indre found Todd Hageman streaking down the sideline for a TD with only

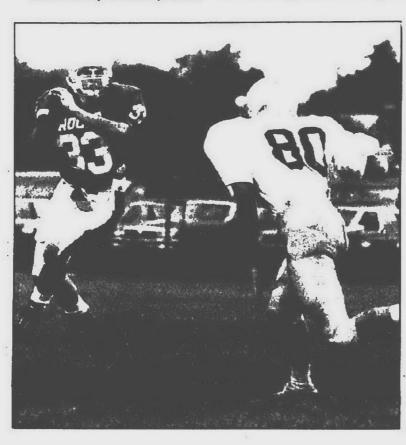

"We're lucky to have five turnovers and still have won the game against a team like Trenton," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. "That's quite an accomplishment. I've got the worst seat in the house, so I won't know who stood out until I look at the film. I know the defensive line did a nice job. We held them to six points until that desperation pass."

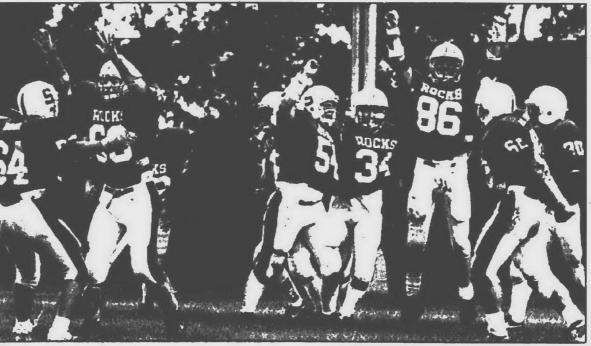

The Rocks held a 7-6 halftime lead, despite gaining only 55 yards and running only nine plays from scrimmage in the first half Moshimer said the Rocks needed strong play from their offensive line, which includes seniors Casev NF chols, Brian Connell and Don Parr-

"OUR GAME plan couldn't change; we only ran nine plays," Moshimer said. "I told our offensive line they had to do the job until the juniors are ready to play. We're basically an all-senior team, and it's à big step for a junior to play, especially on the line. That's the hardest job in the world."

The line opened holes all over the field for Johnson in the second half. Johnson gained only one yard in the first half but had carries of 33, 23 and, of course, 75 in the second half.

"I've got to give Chad (Johnson), (Brian) Burlison, Bowie and the of-fensive line credit," Johnson said. "On the 75-yard run, I just got out, saw Chad knock someone on his can, and so did Burlison."

Chiefs jolt favored Monroe

In what proved to be a convincing victory, Plymouth Canton made its 1989 debut by knocking off Monroe, a Class A playoff qualifier last year, 30-14 Friday night at Monroe.

With the score tied 14-14 at halftime, the second half told the story as the Chiefs outscored Monroe 16-0, thanks to Canton quarterback Carl Wukie's 2-yard touchdown run and 35-yard touchdown pass to Jason Riggs. Canton kicker Mike Krejcar added a field

Wukie completed eight of 16 passes for 104 yards.

The Chiefs (1-0) will play host to Farmington, a 40-3 loser to West Bloomfield in its first game.

Veterans counted on to keep Canton on top

Plymouth Canton has been the class of Observerland in girls cross country for the last two years, and 1989 might be no differ-

The Chiefs return four veteran runners, two of whom have been instrumental in Canton winning back-to-back championships in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Lori Penland and Missy Jasnowski, both seniors entering their fourth year of cross country, are two of the premier runners in the area. Farmington has Jennifer Kiel and North Farmington has Lisa Rives, but not many teams in the WLAA have as good a one-two combination.

Penland has been a member of the All-Observer team since she was a sophomore. She placed fifth in the league meet and 34th

AS A JUNIOR. Jasnowski also made the All-Observer honor roll and was 10th in the league. She subsequently placed 55th in Class A competition.

'Missy has been a consistent performer over the last three seasons," Przygodski said. "For us to continue to be successful, Missy will have to have a great season."

While the return of Penland and Jasnowski are reasons to believe the Chiefs will do well again, Canton's graduation losses were considerable.

The Chiefs lost a pair of first-team, allarea runners in Cindy Spessard, who won a good many races, and Kris Marquard. Canton also graduated second-team, All-Observer selection Lynda Schendel

But, in addition to Penland and Jasnowski, the Chiefs return senior Adrienne Garrow, who made much progress last season and earned a berth on the all-area second team, and sophomore Carolyn Way, who had an impressive first year of high school competition. Both will be expected to pick up some of the slack from the graduat-

the past two years," Przygodski said. "We will be depending heavily on her."

Przygodski also expects Way to have an even better second season and to help the team a great deal.

"Carolyn was an inexperienced runner last year who has worked extremely hard to improve," he said. "She has had an outstanding early fall so far, and she is going to surprise a lot of people in the area.'

In addition to Penland, Jasnowski, Garrow and Way, Canton's top seven will probably include senior Kim Rice and sophomores Alicia King and Amy Smith.

Rice begins her third year on the team, and the Chiefs also return senior Michelle Miller and juniors Nicole Kozma and Reena Shah. Smith and King are first-year runners with no cross country experience. Junior Marisa Dersey and freshman Lara Antczak are newcomers whom Przygodski expects to BESIDES WINNING those titles last year, the Chiefs were second in their regional and runners-up in the Ypsilanti and Redford Union invites. Canton moved up two places in the Class A meet from the previous year, finishing ninth.

"Our No. 1 goal will be to win our fourth consecutive division title," Przygodski said. With our solid nucleus of seniors and returning lettermen along with our newcomers, we feel we will again contend for the WLAA championship.

"If we can remain healthy and continue to improve, we hope to improve on last year's finish at the state meet.'

Skater's effort turns into gold

staff writer

It was no fun early last month when Tiffany Tyra was spending countless hours each week practicing on roller skates.

It was no fun being secluded in the Riverside Roller Arena instead of socializing with her friends. And it wasn't any fun spending her summer vacation sweating through workouts and doing repetitious routines when she could have been sun bathing or going to the mall. But when the 15-year-old Canton girl stood on the awards platform in the Will Rogers Coliseum in Fort Worth, Texas, to receive gold medals in two events at the national roller skating championships, it didn't seem so bad

That was fun

"WHEN YOU'RE up on the podium - and you have all the fame and glory

- it's worth it," she said.

Tyra, who won the junior world class dance title with partner Philip Beuck and soloed to capture first place in figures, got a little emotional, considering

"I started to cry, but I couldn't do that because we had to take pictures after," she said, "and that would have ruined all the makeup.

"It was real nerve-racking. When you're done, they show your score on a big, high board. It's just like the Olympics." Speaking of which, Tyra and Beuck, who will move up to world class next rear, have been invited to compete next summer in the Olympic Sports

Festival in Minneapolis. "We'll be skating against the best of the best," Tyra said, expressing skepticism about doing as well at that level right away.

"It takes time. They're not going to let a first-year team move up and place. Not that it's bad judging, but you kinda have to wait your turn."

Offensive stars are North's hope

Scoring points won't be a problem for the girls basketball team at North Parmington.

Coach Greg Capling knows exactly where the offense is going to come

North, 14-9 last season, brings back 30 points per game in three returning starters. Senior Kim Gurecki and junior Eve Claar were the leading scorers a year ago with 12-point averages, and senior Vikki Seamons represents an additional six.

All three will play pivotal roles for the Raiders, who start their season Tuesday when they entertain Novi in a non-league game. And they are cause for North to be a realistic contender for the Lakes Division Gurecki, a 5-foot-2 point guard and all-division player, begins her third year as a starter and, because she'll direct the floor show and provide scoring punch, could have the most important charge of all.

"I'M HOPING she has her best year ever," Capling said. "She definitely has to be one of the team leaders. If she has a good year, I think we'll have a good year.'

Claar, a 5-7 swing player, had an impressive sophomore season and made the all-star team at the Traverse City summer camp recently. Much of the offense will come from the one-two punch of Gurecki and Claar.

"If (Claar) continues to improve, she'll be a dominating force in the league for the next two years," Capl-

'She and Kim have to score for us. If they don't, we could be in a little bit of trouble because we're small again.'

Since the Raiders have no more height than they did last year -Seamons is the tallest player at 5-10 - they again will rely on scrappy defensive play and an up-tempo offensive style. Capling also hopes a little more experience will mean a more aggressive team.

"We'll have to force other teams out from the basket and do a lot of trapping," he said. "We'll try to speed the game up, because when Kim gets the ball in the open floor she can cause problems for other

THE FACT North will be a small team again makes Seamons a key figure for both rebounding and defense in the post. Besides her scoring, she was the No. 2 rebounder with nine a game.

Seamons also had arthroscopic knee surgery, and staying healthy will be just as important, Capling said, since the Raiders will have difficulty enough guarding big people.

North also returns 5-9 senior Amy Post, who will play forward. She had limited playing time last year but has improved quite a bit, Capling

Rounding out the varsity roster are four players off the JV team that won its last seven games and finished 13-7. The quartet consists of seniors Ginger Donoghue (5-9) and Carla Chelland (5-6), junior Dana Botwick (5-4) and sophomore Karen Seremet (5-6). All are guards except for Donoghue, who plays forward.

"We have only eight people on the team, so everybody will have to contribute," Capling said.

The Raiders lost guard Debbie Weintraub and forward Donna O'Brien, the leading rebounder on the previous team, to graduation, and Capling plans to rotate Post and the four varsity newcomers at those NORTH CAME within seconds and a few points of twice upsetting Western Lakes Activities Association power and Lakes Division champ Plymouth Salem last year. The Raiders, who finished 6-4 in the division, knocked off Walled Lake Central and West Bloomfield to get to the district final in November.

With three starters back, the coming season looks promising for the Raiders, Capling believes.

"I think we've got as good a chance as anyone else in the league,' he said. "Salem should be favored to win (the division), but we should be right up there.

'We had a good team last year, but the competition was a little stronger. I think the league is a little more balanced this year. I don't see anyone running away and hiding."

Brian Beach is one of the top returning runners on a veteran Canton boys cross country team. The Chiefs, 5-1 in duals last season, anticipate another good year.

Rocks are ready for racing

By Dan O'Medra staff writer

Mike Krafchak has brought his Plymouth Salem girls cross country team as far he possibly can in preseason workouts.

Now the Rocks need to compete. Krafchak, in his first year coaching the Rocks, has been working with an inexperienced team, and the next step in finding out where Salem stands is to face some opposition.

"They can handle the workouts now, and the key is to race," said Krafchak, who comes to Salem after coaching at Schoolcraft College and Redford Union, Garden City and Livonia Ladywood before that.

The Rocks, who were 4-3 in dual meets and third behind Farmington and Livonia Stevenson in the Lakes Division, have seven returning runners, but only three are among the top 10 at this point.

Krafchak, who did some recruiting within the school, has seven firstyear runners with no cross country experience who have earned their places in the preseason pecking or-

"WE ASKED A bunch of kids to come out, and one reason we did was because of athletic ability." Krafchak said. "So it doesn't surprise me those kids are doing so Junior Parekh Payal is one of those and ranks as the team's No. 1 runner. Seniors Jenny Harris, a cocaptain along with senior Alison Rybski, is right up there, too. 'It's clear (Payal) worked hard in the summer," Krafchak said. Harris, an outstanding high jumper in track. has been coming on like gangbusters and learning how to make her body adjust to this, because she's basically a sprinter."

Rybski, while her progress in terms of time has come slowly, has been instrumental in building team morale, according to Krafchak. "Her attitude and leadership have been exemplary," he said.

Senior returnee Cathy Boyd has been impressive, and newcomers Corey Gulkewicz (freshman), Jenny Marshke (senior), Theresa Giacherio (sophomore), Jill Czaplicki (sophomore), Sharon Bansel (freshman) and Carla Kehrier (sophomore) appear to be other top performers.

The Rocks also return seniors Erin Ryan and Kerri Slider and juniors Tammy Carlson and Holly Fody Salem has 20 girls on the team presently, but Krafchak expects to add a few more once the school year gets under way

'WE'RE YOUNG; we have only four seniors in the top 10," Krafchak said. "I think we'll do OK; it's just going to be late.

'Our big weakness is inexperience. In cross country, you have to be a natural talent or have experience doing it to know what you can take half a season to get to the point

Krafchak also puts a lot of emphasis on the team concept, and the Rocks tried to develop that by spending time earlier this month at team camp in Lewiston.

The girls are adjusting to his coaching style and workout routines, and they have made progress in what Krafchak refers to as the educational aspect of cross country. But, ultimately, the real test will come in competition

If this team is willing to race and by that I mean compete - we'll be in the hunt," Krafchak said. "If we don't have the kids who can handle the pain of a 5,000-meter race, we won't be.

"As far as conditioning, we've accomplished a great deal, and we're where we need to be."

Salem begins the season Thursday when it competes in the Ypsilanti In-

Chiefs aim for another big

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

The Plymouth Canton boys cross country team lost only one of its top five runners to graduation, so the Chiefs are looking forward to another successful campaign under veteran coach Jim Hayes.

Last year, Canton was 5-1 in dual meets, placed second at the Schoolcraft College Invitational and first at the Redford Union meet.

The Chiefs' season ended when they finished fifth at the Class A regional, but several returning lettermen lasted beyond that, competing in the state

Among the state qualifiers were seniors Brian Beach and Matt Hall and junior Mike Ream. The other four returning runners figuring to be among Canton's top seven performers are Matt Boland; Jason Napolitano, Jim Carnes and Jason Crain.

JIM GALLAGHER, who ran No. 5 a year ago, is the lone casualty due to graduation.

Beach brings an impressive record into his senior season, having made the all-invitational teams at Schoolcraft and RU and finishing eighth at the Western Lakes Activities Association meet. He was an All-Western Division selection, too

"He had a real good year," Hayes said. "He's put in a lot of miles over the summer - a lot of kids ran all summer.

'He's at least at where he was, and I hope he makes improvement throughout the season. He works awfully hard, I can see that.'

Hayes said he won't know where to rate his team until "he puts the clock on them," and that was to be Friday in the rain at Cass Benton Park.

We want to be one of the top three teams in a WLAA and contend for the division championship,' .layes said.

HE PREDICTED defending champ on Farmington, Plymouth Salem and Walled Lake Western would be the teams to beat in the WLAA.

Depth is important in being a contender, and Hayes hopes to get it from junior newcomers Chris Ne on and Ryan McClain. Hayes expected to have Nick Atwell in camp, but an injury prevented him from coming out for the

THE TIME HAD come, however, for Tyra to be recognized among her peers. A sophomore at Mercy High School in Farmington Hills, she became a celebrity last week when her achievements were announced on the P.A. system the first day of school.

Tyra, who has labored in relative obscurity since she doesn't compete in an interscholastic sport, was standing in the lunch line at the time and admitted to being a little red-faced.

"People in other sports who know what it is to win nationals said, 'Wow, we didn't know you skated competitively,' "she said.

Tyra expressed shock at winning in both events, because the competitors never know what's on the minds of the judges. That uncertainty can give anybody a case of the jitters, but staying cool is WINNING IN figures came as more of a surprise than dance since Tyra and Beuck had been hearing how good they were all along.

"I was probably harder on myself for figures, because I thought I had to be much better than what I was," she said. "Obviously, I was good enough. I think I skated to my ability in both

Matt Gold's two goals helped boost the Plymouth Salem boys soccer team to a convincing 4-0 victory over Brighton last Wednesday.
Midfielder Jeff Gold added a goal and an assist, and Billy Joker scored the other goal for the Rocks. Senior co-captain Matt Tudor stopped the Brighton attack in goal as he recorded the shutout.

"Matt played real well for us," Salem coach Ken Johnson said. "But you have to give our defense a lot of a physical Brighton team.' The physical play of Brighton caused two of its players to be ejected from the game, leaving the Bulldogs with just nine players to finish the contest.

"I am sure the shortage of players hurt them down the stretch," Johnson said.

FARMINGTON 1, W. BLOOM-FIELD 0: Scott Dolesh scored the game's only goal to lift Farmington to the victory. Mike Sheehy recorded the shutout in goal for the Falcons,

Oil slicks

Lane application sends scores soaring

local bowling leagues are back in action.
The lane conditions for this season are reportedly about the same as last year. The first surface is oil-covered, with channel-to-channel application. This is the short oil rule which first came into

Because of rising scores and averages, there have been critics of the short-oil condition claiming it is too easy for a fairly good bowler to attain 800 series and hear-perfect games. The proponents of the "short-oil system" laud the uniformity of lane conditions and the near certainty that award scores will be approved by ABC when the lanes are inspected. They claim that bowlers are getting higher scores and averages because of better equipment and more sophisticated methods of fitting and balancing the ball. Also, they point to the fact that many of the good bowlers today have had better instruction in recent years with the inclusion of instant replay video-aided lessons. If any has a comment on today's lane conditions, please write me would like to include your comments in this column

 Dan Ottman of the Bowling Centers Association is offering a $500 reward to anyone who can come up with an old video-tape of a show he appeared on at age seven. In April, 1964, Oltman appeared on "Poopdeck Paul and Friends" show on what was then CKL W-TV. Channel 9 in Windsor

This was a three-week segment of a bowling tournament in which Dan won and took home the first prize - a bowling ball In those days, it was common practice to recycle tapes, so the station did not have a copy of it. If you have a copy of either or both of these shows in which Dan Ottman appeared, call him all tric cities to call me with scores of any kind of newsworthy item. This column is all about people who bowl, and one need not bowl a 299 or 300 game to get in the paper. There are a bery of tournaments held in the area practically all through the year and I will try to keep you informed on most of these events. There will be many charity events and tournaments taking-place, such as the Cystic Fibrosis Bowl for Breath coming up at 25 bowling centers on Oct. 22. The CF event offers a grand prize of a seven night Grand Bahamas winter vacation for two, along with many main prizes, such as Toronto weekends. Casio Key-

Bowling tip of the week. Some wise advice for anyone who put away their ball for the whole summer. Be careful not to overdo if the first few times out.

Those little callouses on your fingers might have softened and you could have a painful experience if you bowl too much too soon. It's nice to get in a lot of practice frames, but'if you feel any pain, better to stop and try again in a few days. Sometimes the fit of the ball may seem different if you haven t used it in a while. This is a good reason to keep some bowlers, tape handy so you can make a quick adjustment on the tinger and thumb

If you have any problem with the fit, take your ball to the pro shop and they will be able to advise and help. This is especi important for youth bowlers who are still growing and may need

1. Give the reader specific information. Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as color, size, condition, brand name, age, features and benefits. Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts and reap the rewards!

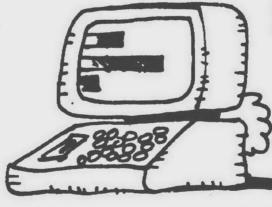

!. Include the price. Don't vaste your time or a potential puyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond o your ad will be those who are penuinely interested. Surveys how that readers are more interested in those items and ervices they know are within heir price range.

3. Avoid abbreviations. Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in kitchen) or WSW (white side wall) tires and won't take the time to figure them out. A confused reader is a disinterested reader. Get the most for your money and use complete words.

4. Include phone number and specify hours. Be sure to let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!

Avant-garde dress is a somewhat common sight along the streets of downtown Royal Oak.

The real Royal Oak

photos by STEVE CANTRELL/staff photographe

Jim Moore, 28, an artist from Ferndale, turns heads in Royal Oak with his be-yourself statement of leather, air-conditioned blue jeans and earrings, trinket-laden jacket and whisps of chartreuse hair.

By Sharon Dargay

I admit it. I'm biased about Royal Oak. I've lived there for 35 years, and I like it.

But I'm a tad rattled by the increasing number of people who paint my hometown as a haven for the hip, trendy, avant-garde — a sort of Mayfield-cum-Birmingham — and nothing more.

"Royal Oak is a lot more than upscale restaurants, art galleries and kids with magenta-colored crew cuts," I inwardly hear the June Cleaver side of me fuming.

"It's families strolling the streets on summer nights

Dondero's homecoming parade decked out in blue and white, and sinking your teeth into a jelly-filled doughnut from Hermann's Bakery," I reason, shaking my hip violet tresses until my avant-garde earrings from Patti Smith's jangle like cymbals.

For a native Royal Oaker like me, the town is both as mundane as a trip to Ace Hardware store for garden hose and as offbeat as a shopping spree for leather whips and lace stockings at Noir Leather.

IT'S A little schizophrenic.

But that's part of the city's charm.

The search for downtown Royal Oak starts with the people who work, live and shop the city.

I've always wanted to talk to a punk rocker, so one Saturday, I headed for the corner of Washington and Beth Miller, a member of Royal Oak's first family of publishing, mixed easily with others who sported leather jackets and neon-colored hair. Her uncle ran the town newspaper before the family sold out to a corporation several years ago.

BUT SELLING out definitely wasn't Beth's problem.
The 16-year-old Birmingham Seaholm High School junior held a red carnation in her hand and talked about her plans to ("Thank you, Lord") move back to her native Royal Oak.

Dressed in white stretch pants and a black Betty Boop

T-shirt, Miller is a bookend to her best friend, Holly Drozin, who's 16 and a Dondero student, outfitted in black stretch pants and a white sweater.

Jeers and stares from passing motorists don't faze the pair, who prefer sedate picnics in Oakview Cemetery with their spikey-haired friends to shopping sprees at Benneton.

"I'm happy the way I am," she said. "I've tried many different ways to belong. I don't believe in preppy things. I don't like going out and drinking. I don't feel like I belong when I go out with people like that."

"THE BIGGEST thing is to be yourself. You don't have to be like the other girls," Drozin chimed in.

Their 28-year-old friend, Jim Moore, an artist from Ferndale, turned heads in passing cars with his be-your-self statement of leather, air-conditioned blue jeans and earrings. His painted, trinket-laden jacket jangled like wind chimes when he moved. Wisps of chartreuse hair, colored with ink and acrylic paint and baked by a crimping iron, were secured with feather and bone.

Like Moore, many of the punks are "artistic or musi-

"People are just fed up with 9-to-5 jobs and tired of being clones," he said. "Most of us are really harmless."

Even so, Monica Breen, another Birmingham resident, cautioned against comparing her four-member band, "Dog Horn Cross," with punk musicians.

"I'D RATHER NOT be lumped in with that because we're a different kind of thing," she said, lingering near Cinderella's Attic, a vintage clothing shop.

"Can we say it's punk rock in so far as punk rock means fight bull shit?" added another band member, trying to be helpful. "Our music is not purely entertainment."

Corner Coney — that's entertainment. Nick Kahaian, its resident Johnny Carson, provides hot dogs, coffee and other lunch counter fare in the seven-seat diner he bought from "a nice Albanian guy" four years ago.

His continuous banter is an added bonus.

"Hey, I won the Oak-Apple run," he boasted, claiming victory in a recent town foot race.

"Yeah, he took a cab," quipped his eldest son, Jack.

DISHES CLATTERED like applause as Kahaian and his two sons filled plates and mugs.

"You know, we have an employee lounge in the back with tennis courts, a swimming pool, sauna and billiard hall."

Customers gulped down coffee and chuckles.

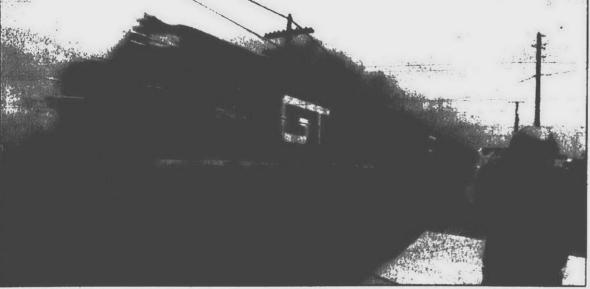

"I never look at another woman. I have a very jealous wife. I met her on parole."

Across the street, Mark Parton took a quick break in the kitchen of his 1950s-style diner, R and J Coffee Shop. "It's like being at 'Cheers' here," he said. "You know

"It's like being at 'Cheers' here," he said. "You know how they say at the beginning of the song, 'Where everyone knows your name?' "

Doodlers delight in Crayola Club

By Joan Boran special writer

The Detroit metropolitan area, like that of most large cities, can boast of several clubs whose select membership is based on social connection, family connections, school affiliations and/or net worth.

One of the most exclusive clubs is, fittingly, one of the most non-ostentatious. No charity balls, no regattas, here! Membership is strictly limited to 140 born-again children and is, for now, irrevocably closed.

We're referring to the Crayola Club at Les Auteurs, the popular 150-seat bistro in Royal Oak, one of Esquire magazine's best new restaurants in 1988.

In keeping with the bistro image, chef/proprietor Kieth Famie used shiny white paper to cover the tables. Providing architects, cartoonists, doodlers and graffiti artists with an assortment of crayons just naturally evolved.

LES AUTEURS attracts an arty group of gourmets, who raved about the mozzarella pizza and basil inguine, but complained when their periwinkle crayon was dull or burnt sienna missing.

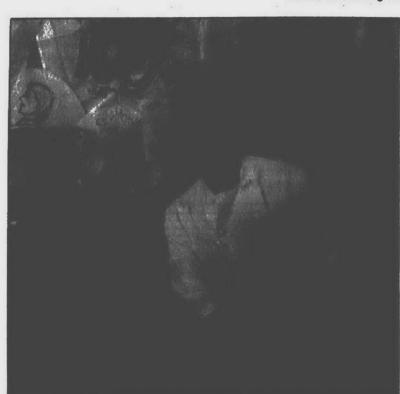

Finally, a patron brought in her own box of crayons and requested that it be put aside for her.

Voila! The idea of the Crayola Club was born.

"It just took off," Famie said.
For an annual fee of $5.50, members get their very own box of 64 crayons. Each box is numbered and placed in the Crayola Vault. Each member's name and membership number is engraved on a brass plate that marks his or her crayons' location in the vault.

"Soon, a "crayolier," bearing a sharpener on a silver chain, will go from table to table. "Would you like your magenta sharpened tonight, sir?" For now, staff members take

The walls of chef/proprietor Kelth Famile's kitchen are covered with artwork provided by members of his exclusive Crayola Club.

Holloywood cashes in on box office bonanza

Audiences are still lining up for summer blockbuster films, so September promises a slow distribution

But business is so good that Hollywood pundits now cautiously predict a $5 billion box office this year as the record-setting summer stats roll in. Practically every week this year has exceeded '88 performance.

By the end of July, last year's record domestic box office of $4.46 billion was well in sight as the number of tickets sold began to rise along with admission prices.

No new films are opening over this long Labor Day weekend, but several releases later this month appear promising.

Raul Julia ("Tequilla Sunrise," "Moon Over Parador," "Kiss of the Spider Woman") in the title role of "Romero" focuses attention on the continuing socio-economic and political problems in Central and South America. Oscar Romero, Archbishop of El Salvador, was a man of conscience who could not stand by and watch his country suffer. He was assassinated in 1980.

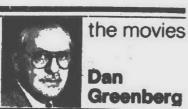

"Romero" is scheduled for Sept. 8. The subject of politically active priests will be treated again later this fall with Ed Harris ("Abyss") in "To Kill a Priest," the story of Father Jerzy Popieluszko, the Solildarity priest murdered in 1984.

Peter Falk fans can look for to "Cookie" on Sept. 15. Falk stars as ex-con Dino Capisco in a comic but tumultuous relationship with his daughter, "Cookie" (Emily Lloyd). Together they outwit both the mob and the law. Jerry Lewis, Brenda Vaccaro and Dianne Wiest also star in this film directed by Susan Seidelman ("Desperately Seeking Susan").

Where most film societies venerate the works of foreign directors, the Detroit Film Society prefers to screen American. For the past two decades, close to 400 dues-paying members have attended monthly screenings at the Detroit Public Li-

The new season, simply called "Tributes," begins this weekend with films about Hollywood. "A Star Is Born" and "Sunset Boulevard" share a double bill this Friday and Saturday nights, starting at 7 p.m.

The 1937 version of "A Star Is Born" stars Janet Gaynor as the small-town girl whose rise to stardom is almost as quick as her matinee idol husband's (Frederic March) drunken decline. It's still an insightful look at the movie world, with bits by some of the '30s best character

"Sunset Boulevard" (1950), meanwhile, is Billy Wilder's cynical look at the dark side of Tinsel Town. Gloria Swanson stars as Norma Desmond, a grotesque former silent movie star desperately trying to make a comeback. William Holden is the liandsome young script writer who fuels her fantasies.

The film especially fascinating for silent movie buffs. For Gloria Swanson, this was an uncompromising role, especially considering her sparse work in the sound era.

"I'M STILL big," Norma says dramatically. "It's the pictures that got smaller.

Buster Keaton and H.B. Warner appear as Swanson's card-playing cronies, "The Waxworks," while director Eric Von Stroheim adds a bizarre twist as Max, the butler. At one point, Norma screens a bit from 'Queen Kelly' (directed by von Stroheim) and imitates Charlie Chaplin in one of the movie's few light moments.

The season continues with other worthwhile films.

Bily Wilder's "Witness for the Prosecution" (1957) is a tense Agatha Christie mystery starring Marlene Dietrich and Charles Laughton. It screens Feb. 9-10.

Eash season the group welcomes ruest speakers. On Oct. 18, DFS hoard member Rick De Croix discusses his recent book on silent film star Mary Pickford. Several rare clips will be screened along with a surprise Pickford feature.

JIM LIMBACHER, DFS president and author of "Sexuality in World Cinema," will lead a discussion on pre-Code films on Jan. 12. The night's feature, "Call Her Savage" (1932), sees a braless Clara Bow wrestling with a Great Dane and visiting what may be the screen's first Spanking Bozo is so urban, HUD director Jack Kemp could be the band's manager.

The four-member group, led by bass player and singer John Collins, mixes an unusual combination of rap, psychedelic, world beat and funk to make a sound that will put your woofers and tweeters into electronic convulsions.

When you say city, you say Spanking Bozo. So who better to play the 1989 "Dally in the Alley," which takes place Saturday, Sept. 9, in Detroit? The Dally features music, poetry, art and crafts demonstrations.

The event takes place three blocks west of Woodward Avenue, between Forest and Hancock. The Detroit Council of Arts, United Community Housing Coalition and WDET-FM are sponsoring the event. Proceeds from the sale of T-shirts, posters and beverages will help the homeless.

Another purpose of the event is to bring together those who make up the arts community in De-

LIVING ON THE EDGE

- Civilians

Yes, there's homelessness in this country, and the situation in South Africa does stink. Tell us something we don't know.

On that front, the Detroit group Civilians hardly breaks any ground. Here, it's not so much what's being said, but rather the way they say it.

The Civilians on "Living on the Edge" display remarkable musical depth on this seven-song cassette. There are some diverse elements here - mainly funk, rock 'n' roll and a little blues - that are strewn together to make for some rather enjoyable cuts.

Each of the seven songs is different. From the funk-tempoed "Amerika" to the jug-band-flavored "The Whole World's Going to Hell," the Civilians show a willingness to stretch the boundaries.

One common theme brings these songs together - politics and its effects. Whether it's campaigning on the dance floor ("Politics of Motion") or for racial unity ("Brother to Brother"), the Civilians makes its platform known.

Sometimes the lyrics can be optmistic as in "Brother to Brother": Here we stand together holding different colored hands/Wondering if we can really understand because it's brother to brother, sister to sister, too/If we have a chance to really love one another, maybe the world could dance." Other times they can be bleak. After all, this tape does ends with the number "The Whole World's Going On a more upbeat note, the guitar work by Joe Mitchell on this tape is excellent. The soaring guitar work carries "Living on the Edge" into an-other dimension, and the bluesy lines on "Crossroads of Love" provides just the right touch.

Instead of living on the edge, the Civilians have an edge with this

SWING THE HEARTACHE (THE BBC SESSIONS)

- Bauhaus

This double album retrospective has been released probably in the hopes of riding on the coat tails of the success of Love and Rockets. Love and Rockets are Bauhaus without the dramatic vocals of super-ego singer Peter Murphy.

Bauhaus was a band that was the forerunner of that curious brand of music, Goth, that blends a heavymetalish guitar sound with a peculiar mode of dress that has many young people, a majority of whom are girls, in England dressed in black Victorian garb.

The official reason for the release is the band's 10th anniversary. These recordings are from the British ra-dio sessions for the noted DJs John Peel and David "Kid" Jensen shows, and so are a little rawer than studio versions of the songs.

They also include numerous cover versions of songs Bauhaus used while sound checking - songs such as Marc Bolan's "Telegraph Sam," Brian Eno's "Third Uncle" and David Bowie's "Ziggy Stardust." Bauhaus is an acquired taste, which a lot of people have obviously acquired, judging by the Bauhaus T-shirts that are prominent at most gigs and by the fact that six years after they broke up, their back cata-This release does not include their

STEROIDS!

- No Right No Wrong

Novi is hardly the music capital of the world. But No Right No Wrong could very well make it into the cen-

This talented threesome leans a little heavy on the synthesizer, but more than makes up for it with an abundance of energy and humorous

The band has apparently been around for awhile, making this its fourth release. No Right No Wrong deems their music as the "next wave," combining rock'n'roll, punk and new wave. And, yes, all those elements are here. This group's dance sound is somewhat reminiscent of the B-52s, but can veer off into different directions as this recently released ninesong cassette reveals.

The song subjects appear to be those that would most likely affect a suburban male on the cusp of adulthood. You know, jilted by a girlfriend ("Out the Door"), uncertainty.

VIDEO VIEWING

By Dan Greenberg special writer

Older movies on video cassettes are one of the most dramatic ways to discover how much the world has changed in the last 30 years. Screening "And God Created Woman" (B, PG, 1956, color, 90 minutes) is one such opportunity.

It's hard to believe the sexual excitement Brigitte Bardot created 33 years ago in her first starring role, a pretty tame affair by today's stand-

With the miracle of modern dubbing, viewers don't even have to struggle with subtitles although the widely-available English version sounds tinny, a sound track in considerable contrast to the rich southern France settings (the movie was filmed in Nice). The track also fails to match the actions of Kurt Jurgens, Jean-Louis Trintignant and Bardot as well as the accomplished supporting cast. The story is quite conventional, the sort of hokum associated with the '50s - and earlier eras as well. Juliette (Bardot) is an orphan living with a crotchety old woman and her crippled, but lecherous husband. The old woman resents Juliette's indolence and raw sexual power.

Down the road a piece is the deceased Emile Tardieu's dockyard run by his wife and three sons. Mother Tardieu is a pretty tough lady who is distressed that her eldest son, Antoine (Trintignant), who lives and works in town and when he's home weekends, is attracted to Juliette, the reputed town tramp.

Regularly sailing into port is wealthy, cosmopolitan Eric Caradine (Jurgens) who lusts after Juliette and the Tardieu property which he needs in order to build a hotel-casino resort.

WHEN THE conservative fown threatens to have Juliette returned to the orphanage until she is 21, Michael, the second Tardieu son - who has long been enamored of her marries her.

Juliette tries to be a good wife despite the town's attitude and her mother-in-law's animosity. But it is difficult, given her central position as the focal point of three men's love and lust. The first third or so of the film is a bit slow and stodgy setting the situation but after Juliette and Michael marry, the action intensifies. The earlier part probably would work better, if the sound track were more professionally done. Nonetheless, it's still worth watching to see how things turn out.

Of course, the real reason to watch "And God Created Woman' is to enjoy the enduring seductiveness and considerable beauty Bardot projects. Her erotic and sensual appearance - long blonde hair, fine figure and good looks - particularly the pouting wide mouth - are still attractive. Unlike contemporary explicitness, "And God Created Woman" is now justifiably rated PG. There is no nudity or any explicit sexual encounters.

But the suggestiveness is masterful. Bardot covered projects more sensuousness than a year's subscription to "Playboy." Unless you realize how much the world has changed in the last three decades, it's hard to imagine the furor the film created in 1956 when it reportedly grossed more in the United States than the

this is an era when the X-rated values of the '60s - frontal nudity, graphic sexual encounters, detailed discussions of unusual sexual practices and explicit, excessive violence - have become accepted as routine R and PG-13 practices.

VIDEO CASSETTES have accelerated this process, given that materials for home consumption are even less regulated than the movies. It's ironic that films that used to be recut to "clean them up" for broadcast television are now re-cut the other way, to make them more explicit and presumably more attractive for the home market, competing with the porno trade while maintaining enough respectability for mainstream commercial distribution.

If there's any doubt, take a look at what's on the stands and pick up something like "Posed for Murder." the story of a centerfold model stalked by a psychotic. All the explicit violence and graphic sexuality imaginable within the R-rating range are there. That's but one of many examples where outrageous displays are included for commercial purposes.

A place for reviving (or arousing) romance

Serenity prevails at other Niagara

By Carolyn DeMarco staff writer

Niagara-on-the-Lake is not a destination to waste on children. Leave them home for a few days with the sitter, Popsicles and money for greasy fast food.

This clean and serene Ontario town is for hand-holding couples — a perfect spot for R & R, reviving (or 'rousing) the romance.

Niagara-on-the-Lake is on the shore of Lake Ontario where the Niagara River ends — a five-hour drive from Detroit and just up the river 20 miles from wonderfully tacky Niagara Falls (the Canadian side).

Niagara-on-the-Lake town fathers call it the loveliest town in Ontario and it's hard to argue the point. The small, historic town has faithfully preserved the 18th century architecture and much of the leisurely ambiance that goes with it.

Most visitors come for the Shaw Festival, a showcase for the plays of George Bernard Shaw and his contemporaries. Professional theater is offered Tuesdays through Sundays from late April until Oct. 15 on three small stages—the Festival, Court House, and Royal George theaters. For ticket information call (416) 468-2172.

Staying overnight in town can be both frustrating and rewarding since there are no Holiday Inns or other hotel chains.

There are several small and often historic inns, including the Pillar and Post, Prince of Wales Hotel, Moffatt Inn, Oban Inn and Harbour Inn. Presently, the smallest has nine rooms, and the largest has just over 100 rooms, but a new hotel, Queen's Landing, is in the construction stage.

SUMMER weekends are often booked, warn Chamber of Commerce representatives, but they'll be happy to check out availability and make reservations for the dozen inns or the more than 55 licensed bed and breakfast guest homes for a $4 fee. The chamber of commerce can be reached by telephone at (416) 468-4263 or in person at 153 King Street 9 a.m.-7 p.m. weekdays, 1 a.m.-7 p.m. Saturdays or 11 a.m.-6 p.m. Sundays.

Pack your walking shoes. Once you find a parking spot, you'll want to keep it. Anyway, a stroll down Queen Street is a must. Queen Street shops offer, for instance, books, art, Christmas handicrafts, 'Scottish clothing, china, collectibles and antiques.

If you prefer to avoid the commercial areas, you can walk through the downtown area neighborhoods just to view the old-fashioned flower gardens.

On a recent walk, we found the Niagara Lawn Bowling Club's Saturday morning competition, a backyard gallery of sculpture created by Karoly Veress, a used book sale at the public library, the Apothecary Museum (erected in 1866) and the Fire Museum.

Other Niagara-on-the-Lake attractions are within walking distance of the town's center clock tower. For a walking guide stop by the chamber of commerce office. A few suggestions:

 A Niagara River cruise aboard The Senator. Sightseeing, pre-theater dinner and champagne brunch cruises are available.

• Fort George, built by the British in 1797. Officers quarters, barracks and other areas are open for touring from May to October.

 Simcoe Park, with its formal gardens, wading pool, bandshell and park benches for people-watching.

FOR A SMALL town, dining is varied, but as is the case in Canada since exchange rates have become less favorable to Yanks, expensive for the value received. The Buttery on Queen Street offers a Henry VIII Feast, a medieval feast served by costumed "merrymakers."

Pillar and Post Inn and Prince of Wales Hotel both serve brunches, lunches, afternoon teas and pre-performance dinners. After-the-theater dining, however, is almost non-existent.

The chamber of commerce offers no recommendations, but does list all restaurants and displays most of their menus.

Outside the small town of Niagara-on-the-Lake itself are a number of other attractions, still in keeping with the romantic mood. Many are on Niagara Parkway along the Niagara River; Ontario's beautiful and unusual park and highway combined. Try these spots:

 Queenston Heights Park and Brock's Monument, an expansive, treed park with tennis courts, walking tours and a wonderful restaurant overlooking a gorge.

 Winery tours and tastings at one of the dozen or more wineries in the grapevine and orchard region. Again the chamber of commerce can supply the map.

If you enjoy stories, visit national fest

By By Iris Sanderson Jones contributing travel editor

Q: I've been to several storytelling events in the Midwest and now I want to go to the national festival in Tennessee. Can you tell me when and where it is and whether its worth the trip?

A: There's a lot of tall tales down there.

Ray Hicks, a Tennessee mountain man who has been there since the first festival 17 years ago, will tell you about the day, as a child, when he stuffed his britches in the crack of a log cabin and the cow ate them.

Ephat Mujuru of Zimbabwe will tell you the traditional stories of Africa in both English and his native Shona.

Kathryn Wyndam of Alabama will scare the wits out of you with her crazy ghost stories, told around a bonfire on a dark and windy night.

They are just three of the many storytellers who will delight you at the 17th annual National Storytelling Festival Oct. 6-8 in Jonesborough, which is in the Smoky Mountains on the eastern edge of Tennessee.

It is definitely worth the trip for anybody who has fallen in love with the storytelling movement in America.

People all over the world have told stories to one another for thousands of years, to pass on family history and to entertain one another. It was a regular nightly pastime in the mountains of Kentucky and Tennesseee, where there was nothing much else to do and it was too far from what we laughingly call "civilization" for other distractions.

All this storytelling might have disappeared, if a teacher, called Jimmy Neal Smith, and his students had not listened to a tall tale on the radio one day in 1970. They decided to preserve the tradition.

Their first festival consisted of 65 folding chairs set up on the street of Jonesborough next to the Mail Pouch sign, with a hay wagon for a stage. Now it is a national event with storytellers from around the world telling tales in large tents erected at several site in the small mountain town.

RAY HICKS AND Doc McConnell were lured out of the hills for that first festival.

"I told stories all my life, before electricity and radios came into the mountain villages just 60 miles from Jonesborough," Doc McConnell told me when I first met him there in 1984. "We would be sitting on the porch and one of us would say 'Grandma, tell us about when you first came to the creek'

"'I was just a little old girl when I got there," Grandma would say and there she'd go, telling a story. Uncle Jeff would tell a tale about the Army. Daddy would spin that old yarn about the blind horse. Grandpa would tell about Wicked John and the Devil.

"There were haunt stories, we call them 'haint stories' and booger stories, how you spelled it depended on which holler you were out of. 'Jack and the Beanstalk' is a typical Jack tale, a dimwitted Jack who-trades a cow for three beans and ends up with a pot of gold."

You will find more than a dozen featured storytellers at this year's festival. You can meet them at a pre-festival event 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 5, at the Visitors Center. Register ahead for that event, which costs $70 and is limited to 250 people.

Well-known storyteller Ray Hicks entertains visitors at the National Storytelling Festival in Jonesborough, Tenn.

A ghost story concert will include chilling tales of the supernatural around a campfire Oct. 7 in Mill Spring Park. They used to hold that event in the old town cemetery, but I guess it got too big for the site. Fee is $4.

A potpourri of storytellers, representing 10 major regions of the U.S., will perform in the Exchange Place, where amateurs have traditionally been encouraged to sign up and do a little storytelling themselves.

THE FESTIVAL itself opens at 1 p.m. Friday, Oct. 6, and closes at 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 8. Fees are $30 for Friday, $40 for Saturday and Sunday, $35 for Saturday only, $15 for Sunday only, or $50 for the whole weekend.

You can just show up, but there ahead; for example, $42 instead of $50 for the weekend. Children's rates (7 to 12 years) are roughly half. You should consider spending is a small discount for registering

$25 to join the National Association for the Preservation and Perpetuation of Storytelling (NAPPS), which sponsors the event and has local chapters. Write to them at P.O. Box 309, Joneborough, Tenn. 37659 for a brochure or call (615) 753-2171.

NAPPPS lists Piedmont Airlines, now USAir, as the official carrier. I called them toll free at (800) 334-8644 and asked for rates leaving Oct. 4 and returning Oct. 8 — $135.85 round trip, non-refundable, to the Tri-city Airport near Johnson City. Refer to Gold File Number 236C15.

Club keeps chef stocked with 'art'

care of keeping the crayons razor

Patrons clamored for membership. In less than three weeks, the 170 slots in the vault were filled, and membership was closed.

Number one, fittingly, went to the patron whose crayons started it all

Peggy Daitch, Vogue's Detroit business manager. Number 170 was claimed by Ford Motor Co.'s CEO Harold Poling, who had his secretary call and reserve his spot in the vault.

Anyone wanting to join now has to wait for a member to die or get transferred.

AS FOR THE art . . . we're not talking stick figures here. Oh, sure, there's the odd game of tic-tac-toe. But talented members include nationally recognized artist Richard Kozlow and some remarkable artwork have been produced and left behind.

Chef Famie has used some to decorate his home and those that pay tribute to the waiters and waitresses are first displayed then given to the person honored.

A tongue-in-cheek list of complaints, labeled "Why We Don't Like Les Auteurs," includes "night manger Steve has garlic breath;" "Chef Famie should wear tighter pants," and "not open for breakfast."

Many of the objects d'art, providing they are not gravy- or winestained, are being rolled us and put aside. When a sufficient number of masterpieces has been collected, a members-only art show is planned. Champagne and hors d'oeuvres will be served and a good time will be had by all.

Can a friend use the crayons?
"Only if the member calls up and approves," Famie said.

"What happens in the case of a divorce?

"Don't mention it. The last thing I need is to get involved in a custody suit over a box of crayons."

And in a tribute to liberte, egalite and fraternite, Famile inaugurated the French Chapter of the Crayola Club July 8, when he and members of his staff presented a Michigan luncheon 40 200 guests at the U.S.

And, you may wonder, who was minding the store. Les Auteurs was closed during the 11-day trip.

organizing Dorothy Lehmkuhl

Q: We moved recently and I had such high hopes of getting our new home organized quickly and going back to work, but it hasn't worked that way. Our children have been sick constantly and I just can't seem to "get it all together." Do you have tips on how I can get organized soon?

A: Yes I do, but they won't be the ones you are expecting. A long-distance move can cause a great deal of family stress.

In 1967, Drs. T.H. Holmes and R.H. Rahe devised the Social Readjustment Rating Scale. They assigned value units to major life event changes. Death of a spouse rated 100; major business readjustment 39; taking out a mortgage 31; wife beginning or ceasing work 26; moving 25, etc. (The complete study can be found at the library.)

Almost 80 percent of those people who accumulate 300 or more life change units within a past year get sick in the near future. With 150-299 units, approximately 50 percent get sick and less than 150 units produced sickness in approximately 30 percent.

I REALIZE it is tough to live amid chaos and that you are anxious to re-establish your own career, but those things may have to be put on the back burner temporarily. Right now it is more important to get your family settled into your new community.

You see, physical organization is only a result of mental order. Depression can be a natural by-product of moving stress, and it's difficult to remain organized when you are depressed. It is incumbent upon you, therefore, to create a relaxed atmosphere where you are patiently able to laugh at unpacked boxes in the garage, pictures yet to be hung and walls you are dying to paint. Instead, take time to invite your children's new friends to play at your house (they don't care what your house looks like trust me), attend Welcome Wagon or Newcomers groups, go to church - do some social things that will help you and your family adapt.

When your own mental attitude becomes less stressful, it will automatically reflect to your family and they will rebound quickly. Once your family has adjusted, your own thinking will clear and you really will be able to "get it all together." There will be plenty of time then to get your house in order and go back to work. Good luck.

A. The fact that you were injured on a private drive of a condominium development does not preclude you from pursuing your legal rights for damages sustained in the auto accident against those people responsible for your injuries.

Normally, in an automobile accident you would have a claim against the driver of the vehicle who was negligent in hitting you, presumably, as well as the owner of the ve-

You may also have a claim depending on the facts and circumstances against the person who designed the road and/or maintained it, if that had anything to do with the cause of the accident.

Based on your question, it appears that the driver of the maintenance vehicle was responsible for the accident.

It also appears that you have sustained 'serious injuries" that might take you beyond the threshold necessary to establish your rights to "pain and suffering" and other damages beyond the no-fault remed-

You are best advised to seek legal counsel to explain all of your rights to you, to investigate the case and, if necessary, to prosecute the claim against all entities and/ or people responsible.

WeedBlock

Company helps keep gardening easy

AP - The back yard is becoming an outdoor family room. And families, especially those in which husband and wife both hold jobs, are looking for help in the garden ways to save work and water, and reduce the use of chemicals.

This trend has influenced Dick Grandy and Joe Owens in the development of products for Easy Gardener, their aptly named company.

"Homeowners want attractive gardens and landscapes, but have far less spare time to devote to their maintenance," the affable Grandy said. "Similarly, professional landscapers, pressured by the rising cost of labor, need to cut maintenance time wherever they can."

Another reason, he said, is "the need to use less water - dramatically illustrated by several years of drought around the country - while maintaining plant health.

"MOUNTING PUBLIC resistance to use of toxic chemicals, especially pesticides and herbicides, has caused a few farsighted manufacturers to develop alternative products," he weeder's guide

Aronson

Easy Gardener produces Weedfabric designed for homeowner and professional weed control.

According to Grandy, the nonwoven, polyethylene geotextile ("vispore") is easy to cut, will not unravel, and controls 95 percent of normal weed growth, including nearly all broadleaf weeds and most

"It lets 95 percent of the water through," he said, "conserving soil moisture, dramatically reducing the need for supplementary watering."

WeedBlock reduces day-night temperature fluctuations and maintains lower daytime soil temperatures even in extreme summer heat. Grandy said, resulting in healthier, break or tear and will tolerate 590percent elongation or stretch," he

Its strength and give make it especially useful under heavy mulches, such as stone or gravel, and in areas that get heavy traffic, he said.

ANOTHER WATER-SAVER is Block, a durable plastic landscape Easy Gardener's Cloud Cover, an anti-desiccant (anti-transpirant) that, when applied to plant leaves and stems, reduces water loss by up to 80 percent, depending on temperature, humidity and wind, Grandy said.

'Their primary purpose," Grandy said, "is to prevent damage and stress from water loss and associated problems due to heat, sun, wind, frost and severe cold.

"They are used to protect nursery transplants from shock for fast recovery, to reduce water loss in landscape plants, especially evergreens in winter and summer, and all garden and container-grown plants in hanging baskets and potted plants, which tend to dry out fast, and for carrying plants better through your vacation absences."

Cloud Cover, a clear, non-sticky film, extends the indoor life of Christmas trees and wreaths. Organic, non-toxic and biodegradable, it prolongs the effectiveness of insecticides, fungicides and animal repellents; protects plants from salt spray, de-icing chemicals and air pollution; and helps protect certain plants from insect-borne fungal dis-

Easy Gardener also produces Floating GroCover, a clear fabric so light it can be put on top of growing plants; Tomato Gro-Bags, pale-green plastic covers that fit over tomato cages, protecting plants from cold and insects; and SuperMulch, with thousands of tiny perforations that allow water to penetrate to roots in vegetable and flower gardens.

Old West Side is house tour focus

A historical potpourri of architectural variances will make for an interesting old house tour sponsored by the Ann Arbor Old West Side Association.

Placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1972, the Old West Side Neighborhood provides tour goers with a pleasant Sunday afternoon in a setting once typical of the turn of the century Midwest.

This year's tour, noon to 6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 17, will include six houses and one commercial property

Tickets are $3 for seniors; $4 in advance and $5 on the day of the tour. Advance tickets are available at a number of Ann Arbor businesses. Names are available by calling 665-4087 or 662-2187.

Oldest house on this year's tour is the classic Old West Side home of Dave and Denise Gilbertson, 537 Second, featuring a wraparound porch complete with swing and flowering geraniums. It was built in 1893 by Frederick D. Radtke Jr., a carpenter who outlived three wives and stayed in the house until just a few years before his own death in 1968 at age 98.

NEWEST HOUSE ON THE tour is a 1931 Tudor with double-peaked roofs, first lived in by German immigrants John and Bertha Buehler, and now owned by Dave Seaman and Helen Zylman, at 615 S. Seventh.

Built during the Depression, when those who could afford to build at all could get quality work and materials, the house includes many features that were state of the art for the time, including coved ceilings, stuccoed interior walls, laundry chutes (Zylman's favorite), and an ironing closet

A 1918 bungalow, now owned by Marilyn Williams and Janice Ware at 111 W. Washington, began as family headquarters for the Preketes family, proprietors of the wellremembered Sugar Bowl restaurant.

Three brothers from Greece opened the restaurant in 1913. Originally, all three lived in the house, but it eventually it became the home of Charley Preketes and his bride. The new owners have decorated the house with pieces of art acquired over the years, most demonstrating their Southern origins, such as baskets of cotton, or their interests, expecially relating to the women's movement in which they are active.

Tour headquarters are the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, at the corner of W. Jefferson and Fourth streets. Free shuttle bus service will be provided. Buses will make a continuous loop and will stop at each house to pick up passengers approximately every 15 min-

Homearama is under way

Homearama, the annual public showing of new idea houses built especially for public display by members of the non-profit Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan, is currently under way with expanded viewing hours.

In the Hills of Oakland subdivision, on Adams Road just north of Dutton, north of Rochester, Homearama will be open 3-11 p.m.

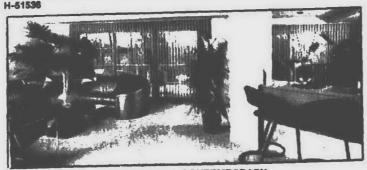

Monday through Friday, and noon to 11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Admission is $5 per person. Discount coupons, good for Monday through Friday only, are available at Detroit Edison and First Federal of Michigan. They are also available at AAA metro Detroit offices.

The event runs through Sunday, Sept. 24. Ample free parking is

Your First Year In Real Estate

Coldwell Banker backs our sales associates with the most extensive training program around. Our five-part training series turns ordinary sales associates into sales professionals. We train our people in every phase of the real estate business. Experienced and inexperienced sales associates alike learn proven methods of listing, selling and financing property. Our effective marketing, edvertising, management support and continuing education programs also help each and every one of our sales professionals to grow.

And the best part is, you can begin training for your career in real estate today - even if you don't have a licensel.

To find out how you, too, can earn $35,000 or more in the next 12 months attend a Coldwell Panker Career Night. Banker Career Night.
