Awesome auction

The WSDP auction was pronounced a hit by station manager David Snyder, who coordinated the fund-raiser May 19-20.

"Our goal was $5,000, and we beat it. We're really pleased," said Snyder.

Callers who viewed the auction on Omnicom cable TV bid on everything from oil changes to getaway weekends — all items donated by area merchants.

Snyder thanked the guest auctioneers who helped student broadcasters, including State Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton; state Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville; state Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth; Wayne County Commissioner Susan Heintz; Canton Supervisor Tom Yack; Plymouth Commissioner Jerry Vorva; Plymouth assistant city manager Paul Sincok; Plymouth Symphony Orchestra conductor Russell Reed; school board member David Artley; and representatives from the three local newspapers.

Hulce a hopeful

Tom Hulce fans are eagerly awaiting June 3 — the day Tony award winners will be announced. The actor from Plymouth who starred as Mozart in the film "Amadeus" was nominated for best actor for his performance in "A Few Good Men."

Other nominees for best actor include Dustin Hoffman, "The Merchant of Venice," Robert Morse, "Tru," and Charles Dutton, "The Piano Lesson." Winners will be named in a nationally televised broadcast Sunday.

Roadeo champ

What has 130 arms, 130 legs and six tires?

A fully loaded school bus, not unlike the bus Plymouth-Canton driver Kay Yager drove to victory recently at the Wayne County School Bus Roadeo.

The event, sponsored by the Wayne County Transportation Association and the Auto Club of Michigan, consists of a written test, bus inspection, and navigation of an obstacle course.

Memorial Day Parade

There were bands, veterans and above all kids out in force Monday for the annual Memorial Day Parade in Plymouth. The event on Main Street attracted hundreds of persons intent on watching the marchers and listening to the bands. Above, members of the Plymouth-Canton high school marching band show their stuff.

Couple wants factory to 'control that noise'

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

Noise from a nearby factory is keeping a Plymouth couple awake nights.

But a manager at American Tube and Wire, at Ann and Junction streets, said the firm is trying to do its best to reduce noise coming from the factory.

Bill and Linda Dolinski of 823 Ann said they've approached city officials several times to complain about noise. They maintain the city should be doing more to look out for their interests.

"If we're going to be bullied and knuckle under to these businesses, it (the city logo) should be changed to 'The City of Big Business,'" he said, instead of "The City of Homes."

"I'm being held captive by this factory," Dolinski continued.

The couple says traffic and honking car horns during shift changes keep them up at night, and so does banging sounds from inside the factory.

"We can't have our windows open," Dolinski said, because of the noise.

City Attorney Ron Lowe said the city must balance a homeowner's right not to be disturbed by noise with a company's right to do business.

"The house has been there a long time, the business has been there a long time," Lowe said. "We've asked them to try to control that noise," he said, adding police have recently talked to the company about closing a loading dock door when it's not in use.

Michael Vail, plant safety and security manager, said the firm has about 400 employees in three shifts. "I've worked with Chief (Richard) Myers and the new city manager Gordon Jaeger," he said, to deal with noise concerns.

"There are things that we can do and things that we cannot do to help remedy the problems," Vail continued. Each night at 9, he said, the firm has instituted the closing of outside doors facing the neighborhood to reduce noise.

Also, "We've posted to our employees our commitment to be good neighbors," he said, as employees are encouraged to leave the site quietly when shifts end.

"We've ordered speed bumps so employees must drive slowly," when leaving, Vail added. He said that while sound reduction panels placed inside the factory would be expensive, the company could consider adding them.

Linda Dolinski said they had no problems with living near the factory when they moved to Plymouth from Detroit five years ago.

"We didn't start having problems until about two years ago," Linda Dolinski said. "They were taken over by another company and they brought in a bunch of people, the factory was at maximum capacity," she said.

Officials say empty store is an eyesore

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

The now-vacant Farmer Jack supermarket on Main Street in Plymouth has become an eyesore, and city officials want something done about it.

City Manager Gordon Jaeger has tentatively set a meeting for today with a Farmer Jack official, to encourage the company to do something with the prominent downtown site.

The site is owned by Stanley Dickson of Grosse Pointe, and leased to Farmer Jack, which still has several years remaining on the lease, Jaeger said.

Last month, two area business partners who operate rock clubs in Westland and Green Oak Township said they were interested in turning the building into a teen club, and talked of the idea with city officials.

"They're (Borman Inc., owners of Farmer Jack supermarkets) definitely not considering leasing it as a teen center," Jaeger said.

Plymouth officials are concerned with the site because "it's standing vacant and deteriorating," Jaeger said.

"It's become an eye sore — there's grass growing in the cracks in the parking lot," Jaeger said.

"What I'd like to do is go in there and take a look at the building," he said.

Some city officials have lamented the lack of a grocery store downtown. As to what officials would like to see move into the vacant building, Jaeger said that would depend on what the lease specifies the site can be used for.

Dickson and Farmer Jack officials were unavailable for comment on the future of the site.

The former store, at 705 S. Main, was closed in December 1988 after nearly 30 years of operation.

The site has the largest concentration of free parking of any single store in the city. The building houses 16,855 square feet of floor space.

"It certainly is a unique building in that it's probably too small for most large grocery chains and too large for many small retail stores," said Dickson last year, adding, "it's a tremendous location."

"To divide that building into smaller segments would be very costly. It would probably be in a tenant's and landlord's best interest to find one tenant," he said.

Students pitch in to aid environment

By M.B. Dillon

Plymouth-Canton students are joining their counterparts in Massachusetts and New York in a pilot program to recycle polystyrene lunch trays and dishware.

With its supplier, the Dart Corp., the district is among the first school systems in Michigan to participate in the initiative.

The official go-ahead came from the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education last week.

"It's kind of exciting to think we will be the first district in Michigan doing this," said Trustee Dave Art-ley. "It's also the first time Dart has done this in the state."

Recycling centers will be set up in all school cafeterias. Foam trays, cups and bowls will be rinsed and stacked in boxes furnished by Dart.

"Dart will pick up our used styro products about twice a month and take them to their plant near Lansing where they will be processed into pellets," said Verna Lee Hill, food service director.

"These pellets will then be shipped to a plant in New Jersey where they will be made into video cassettes, coat hangers and various other household items."

School board candidates to debate

Voters in the Plymouth-Canton school district will have a chance to hear from the seven individuals vying for two school board seats at a candidates' night presented by the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi.

The session is set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 29, in the Canton Little Theater at Plymouth Canton High School on Joy Road at Canton Center.

Each candidate will give a two-minute statement to open the forum. Questions will then be accepted from the audience. Candidates will offer two-minute closing statements if time permits.

Running for school board are Robert Anderson of Canton; Carl Battishill of Plymouth; Toni Hartke of Plymouth; K.C. Mueller of Plymouth; Diane Stamp of Plymouth; and Richard Sumpter of Canton. John Engdahl's name will be on the ballot, however, the Plymouth resident doesn't plan to attend or campaign.

The League of Women Voters is a national, non-partisan organization. It neither supports nor opposes political candidates or parties. The group obtains and distributes information to the public on candidates and their views.

Moderating the forum will be Gretchen Pugsley, LWV member from Novi.

The Dolinskis of Plymouth say a nearby factory keeps them awake nights, but company officials say they're doing their best to reduce noise.

Dolinski estimated that in the last two years, she and her husband have contacted the city at least 50 times to complain about the noise, and see if something could be done.

This year, American Tube and Wire began renting the building from the former owner, who declared bankruptcy.

The Dolinskis say they're also concerned about dust "that's blowing all over the neighborhood," caused by a wire-stripping machine. "We've contacted the Environmental Protection Agency. They're sending out an investigator," Bill Dolinski said.

Vail said he wasn't aware that dust was a problem, and would look into it, adding that material stripped from wire is not a health hazard.

New device leads cops to stolen cars

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

If you've got nearly $600 for an auto-theft prevention device that emits a radio signal, Plymouth Township police are now equipped to receive that signal if your car is stolen.

Township Police Chief Carl Berry said that last month, a township patrol car was equipped with a LoJack receiver, paid for through a state grant.

Once the owner of a stolen car equipped with a LoJack transmitter reports the theft, police by radio activate the car's hidden transmitter, and are able to find the car with help from the LoJack receiver.

Plymouth Township — along with the state police and several Metro Detroit police departments — qualified to get the receiver, because of the rate of cars stolen each year in the township, about 60, Berry said. That's thanks in part to the major freeways that run through the township, which make for quick escape routes for thieves.

The LoJack system was demonstrated for Gov. James Blanchard and the press last year, and state police officers tracked and recovered a "stolen" car in seven minutes.

Once installed, LoJack has an operative radius of 20-25 miles, a LoJack spokesman said.

In Massachusetts where the device was introduced in 1985, insurance costs have dropped by as much as 35 percent for car owners who equip their cars with a LoJack unit, the company reports. Police are also equipped with the device in Los Angeles County, Calif.; southeast Florida, New Jersey, and Illinois.

The unit, which retails for $595, is hidden in one of 35 locations in the car, said Karen Tibus, general manager of Don Massey Cadillac. Massey is the only local dealer selling the LoJack unit.

"We got it three weeks ago," she said, adding, "We've sold a few and they're really starting to catch on now."

LoJack guarantees they'll reimburse the cost of the LoJack unit if the car isn't recovered in 24 hours.

"The company installs all of the necessary equipment in the state's computer, in the police cars, plus training of police personnel in the use of this equipment," Berry reported to the township board of trustees.

"None of this is to be of an expense to the local government," he added.

Berry also listed some concerns about police using the equipment.

"The police departments in effect become a partner in LoJack or a private company and this could be viewed a product endorsement," he said. "This police department is not involved in the sales or endorsement of this product."

"A professional auto thief will eventually think of a way to defeat the system," he said.

LoJack officials say the device is not tamper proof, because while it is well-hidden, it can be found.

And while the device has a built-in anti signal-jamming device, jamming of the radio signal is possible.

Because fewer cars are stolen yearly in Plymouth, city police did not qualify for a state grant to provide the equipment.

Students to start recycling at lunch

Terri Hannaford, assistant food service director, estimates the district "will fill two semis twice a month" with recyclables.

Trustee Barbara Graham questioned the program's viability, since its success "will depend on the cooperation of students. They barely do dishes at home," she said.

Artley and Hill allayed her concerns.

"Already there is tremendous awareness among the student population about how to recycle; probably more so than in other segments of the community," said Artley. "The student population takes time to get informed."

"The students in our district are ready for a polystyrene recycling program," agreed Hill. "Students at buildings such as Bird Elementary and Salem High School have specifically asked the question about what could be done to recycle polystyrene trays. This is the answer to that question. Food service employees are ready to do their part."

"We're making an effort throughout the district; everyone's working together," said Hannaford.

"We're hoping to kick it off during the remainder of this year, and go full force in the fall," she added. "We're in a trial period now."

Plastic silverware, also made from polystyrene, may be recycled by the district in the future.

THE AVERAGE AMERICAN generates 1,100 pounds of solid waste per year. The largest single portion of solid waste — 40 percent — consists of paper and paperboard products.

The Polystyrene Packaging Council is supporting three programs to test the viability of recycling polystyrene, including the schools.

The Plastics Recycling Foundation at Rutgers University is testing a curbside demonstration project to re-use plastic household waste.

In metropolitan New York, 20 McDonald's restaurants are sending all of their unseparated waste to a central recycling facility for processing. Polystyrene, which is not biodegradable, will be sent to a facility for re-manufacturing into materials such as building insulation.

Genpak Corp. developed the scholastic polystyrene recycling program.

LoJack helps police retrieve Plymouth firefighter's auto

A stolen 1989 Chrysler LeBaron, owned by a Plymouth firefighter, was the first car in the state recovered using a LoJack transmitter.

It's the first such recovery in southeast Michigan since LoJack became operational in late April.

The firefighter, who lives in Detroit, noticed the car missing at 10 a.m. Thursday, May 24, and reported it to Detroit police at 10:15 a.m.

The car, valued at $16,000, was recovered in Detroit at 11:15 a.m. by Detroit police and the Canton-based Western Wayne County Auto Theft Team.

"Damage to the car was limited to four missing wheels, a broken driver's window and a damaged column," according to Lt. Sandy Miller, who heads the auto theft team.

"If we had not found the car, it probably would have been disassembled and sold for parts," she said.

"Basically we're in support of any anti-theft device," she said. "This is another great tool for law enforcement."

No one was charged in the case and there are no suspects.

However, police found fingerprints and an investigation continues.

The Western Wayne Auto Theft Team is made up of 13 police agencies and is funded in part by the Auto Theft Prevention Authority, which began operating in 1986.

Man, 71, dies on the job

A 71-year-old Plymouth man died of a heart attack on Tuesday, May 22, while doing roof work at a South Lyon antique store.

South Lyon police said George Williams, 71, suffered a heart attack before falling 12 feet from the roof.

The South Lyon Fire Department, South Lyon Ambulance and a team from the University of Michigan Hospitals Survival Flight in Ann Arbor all responded.

nounced dead at the scene at 5:55 p.m.

The Oakland County Medical Examiner's Office was expected to perform an autopsy.

He was born March 25, 1919, in Brazil, Ind. His wife, Catherine M. Williams of Plymouth, survives.

Services were held Friday, May 25, at the Lambert-Vermeulen Trust 100 Funeral Home, Plymouth, with burial in Parkview Memorial Cemetery, Livonia.

Cruisin' in Plymouth

Vintage cars strut stuff on root beer run

By Michelle Johnson
staff writer

Cruising isn't just for kids anymore. More than 35 members of the Shelby American Automobile Club, Motor City Region, hit the streets in Plymouth on Thursday, revving their engines and showing off that chrome.

They gathered at the A&W Plymouth, 516 W. Ann Arbor Road, for the group's first Root Beer Run. From there, club members drove to another A&W restaurant in Garden City.

The cars ranged from a 1931 Chevy to newer, hotter cars like a 1972 Ford Pantera.

"It's a great excuse to get the cars out and exercise them," said Tom Greene, club president.

Greene said the club has about 150 members who come from areas as far away as Toledo although most of the Root Beer Run participants were local residents.

"It's a family oriented club," said Robert Yockey, Plymouth resident, whose wife and two sons joined him on the run.

He said the club sponsors several events like this, including cider runs in the fall.

THE CLUB holds its meetings at a local Pizza Hut on the first Thursday of each month.

"It's kind of a social event," Yockey said.

The club sponsors several major car events each year, said Greene.

They will hold Show & Go on June 3-4. The proceeds from these events will go to Mothers Against Drunk Driving. The first part of the event, a car show, will be held at Schoolcraft College on June 3. On June 4, an open track event will be held at Waterford Hills Race Course.

Greene said the club will sponsor another show and track event in the fall. The club also holds an annual swap event.

Many car club owners can't find parts for their cars outside of swap meets, said Greene.

"The high point of the event is usually when someone shows up with their garage-full that they've decided to clean out," he said.

Many car club members have multiple vehicles, Greene added.

Greene said more and more people have begun to buy collectible cars as investments. He added that he is bothered by people who purchase the cars with no intention of using and enjoying them.

"Some people are now buying them who have no more appreciation for them than they would a CD," Greene said.

Club member Rich Tweedle has been using and enjoying collectible cars for more than 20 years. His wife, Sandy, joined the Shelby club when they got married in 1975.

John Logan joined the Shelby club three years ago to meet other people with the same interest in cars. His wife, Gwen, said he has been a car enthusiast ever since she's known him. How does she feel his membership in the club?

"It's much better than hanging around a saloon," she said and then laughed.

Active newspaperwoman helped bring out the best

Marie McGee had a "deep abiding faith in everyone" and a "gentle sense of humor." And when new reporters came to work at the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, one of the first people they were sure to meet was McGee and that upbeat spirit for life that radiated everywhere she went.

"She was a one-woman Welcome Wagon to the new people who came to work here," said longtime friend and colleague Marilyn Fitchett.

"She was a genuine Pied Piper who gathered to her an assortment of eclectic people, a friend who practiced living a good life and who was an inspiration. She saw the best in everything and everyone."

MC GEE, 62, newspaper veteran and Livonia activist, died early Thursday morning of heart failure at St. Mary Hospital.

She was assistant managing editor for special projects at the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers where she had worked since 1968. Rising through the ranks of the Livonia-based newspaper, she held several positions throughout the years including reporter, copy editor and suburban life editor before assuming her present assignment in 1986.

The year before, McGee was honored by her colleagues and named O&E Journalist of the Year.

She received several awards for her work at the O&E from the Michigan Press Association, the Suburban Newspaper Association and Penney-Missouri.

AS ASSISTANT managing editor, she supervised all special sections, the Taste food section and the Creative Living arts section for the 13-edition chain.

"Marie was very simply an inspiration to everyone at the O&E. She knew everyone, and everyone knew her. And everyone that knew Marie admired and loved her. And that's saying a lot in the competitive environment of the news room," said Steve Barnaby, O&E managing editor.

"We all shared our special private moments with Marie, usually funny ones that relieved the pressure of the everyday deadlines. I will always smile and maybe laugh a little when I think of her in the future. She was such a special friend to so many that she has left a permanent impression on us all."

BESIDES HER involvement at the newspaper, McGee also was active in Livonia civic affairs. Calls from around the community poured into that newspaper's offices this week with condolences.

"Livonia and Wayne County have suffered the loss of one of our most active and inspirational citizens," said Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara, former Livonia mayor.

"She was a warm and generous person. We will miss her energy, her example, her contagious sense of fun and her community spirit."

McGee was a strong supporter of the arts. At the time of her death, she was a member of the Livonia Arts Commission. She served on the Livonia Historical Commission from January 1977 to December 1985. She left the historical commission to accept the appointment in 1985 to the arts commission.

"Marie was very proud of her children. She raised them all to be individuals and was always supportive of their varied activities," said Susan Rosiek, another O&E colleague.

Michael is an attorney with the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School. Son Kevin is a graduate of Wayne State University and recently received a master's of business administration degree from the University of California at Berkeley. Maureen is a graduate of Michigan State University. Tim is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

PATRICK WAS attending Schoolcraft College.

All the McGee children graduated from Bentley High School in Livonia. She was a member of the Advisory Committee of the Women's Resource Center at Schoolcraft College.

She also was a member of Zonta of Northwest Wayne County and was installed Monday, May 21, as one of four new directors of the board.

"She had a continued interest in helping women. She was sort of a Renaissance woman herself," said Sylvia Vukmirovich, a Schoolcraft College Counselor and governor-elect of Zonta International District 15.

"WE SHARED stories about our Serbian heritage, something a lot of people didn't know about her with the last name of McGee."

She lived in Grand Rapids before coming to Livonia 24 years ago. Born in Wyandotte, McGee worked as a reporter and editor at the Wyandotte News Herald from 1947 to 1957. She left that job when her late husband, Bill, accepted a promotion in Grand Rapids. In Grand Rapids she edited the company newsletter for Spartan Stores Inc.

A graduate of Roosevelt High School in Wyandotte, she studied journalism at the University of Toledo.

SERVICES FOR McGee were Monday from Neeley-Turowski Funeral Home and St. Genevieve Roman Catholic Church. Burial was in Michigan Memorial Gardens in Flat Rock.

The family requests memorials to the American Heart Association, Livonia Arts Commission, Schoolcraft College Women's Resource Center or Greenmead Historical Village.

Survivors include son Michael McGee and daughter-in-law Mary Fisher of Livonia; sons Patrick McGee of Livonia and Kevin McGee of Larkspur, Calif.; son Tim McGee and daughter-in-law Jackie McGee of Grand Rapids; daughter Maureen McGee of Ann Arbor; sisters Suzanne Okonski of Southgate, Anne Urbanek of Wyandotte, and brother Sam Ketchman of Sarasota, Fla.

Joe Bauman, Marie Chestney and Susan Rosiek contributed to this story. It was written by Steve Barnaby.

Standards should rise in schools

To the editor:

Academic freedom is a phrase that is frequently brought up in discussions relating to Plymouth-Canton schools.

Until coming to Plymouth-Canton, I had only heard the phrase used at the college or university level where students pay out of their own pocket for the courses they choose. Many would conclude that in Plymouth-Canton there is considerable latitude given to teachers as to what and how students are taught.

Although this academic freedom is basically good, if mismanaged it can lead to strife, division and controversy. Unfortunately, this has been the case in our district, as is evident to even the casual observer.

If we grant teachers academic freedom in the classrooms (as we have done), then the decision to adopt a warranty diploma program is a step in the right direction.

This is an act of accountability to the business community. But teachers, administrators and board members should also do more to hold themselves accountable to parents, since it is parents that are ultimately responsible for the education their children obtain.

For the past several years in our district, academic freedom has flourished while accountability has declined. Increased emphasis has been placed on social and psychological themes while the rest of the world continues to pull further away from us in terms of what students actually learn. We seem to have fallen for the deception that learning is less important than teaching students to develop generic thinking skills. To aggravate the problem still further, a "closed door policy" hinders parents and others from participating in the education process.

Our students are capable of learning more effectively in solid academic courses. I don't think anyone will object to a curriculum including mathematics, natural science, applied science, U.S. history, world history, English, foreign languages, government and geography. Also, one would find it hard to make a controversy over practical courses such as economics, electronics, business, computers, physical fitness, etc.

Standards and expectations must be raised. Why can't Plymouth-Canton be a model for other districts instead of following blindly whatever Lansing is promoting?

It's time to stop moving kids around

To the editor:

I am writing you because as a mother of a child starting school in the fall I have become so aggravated by the Plymouth Canton school system I had to write to someone.

First, they have us visit the new Hoben Elementary School for two different visits both for 45 minutes, to show the children and the parents how wonderful their school is. Then less than a month later we get a letter telling us that our children will not be attending Hoben (which they knew all along) but they will be going to Field because there is not enough room for them at Hoben.

As a Canton homeowner for six years and paying my taxes which go up all the time, thinking my son will be going to the same school as all his friends who started this year. Now it is left to me to tell him he will not be going to Hoben which is really hard after the two visits and telling him and the parents how wonderful it is.

They say they will be brought back for first grade. But if they don't have room for them now, how will they have room for them in first grade? I have called the principal at Hoben, the school board and the director of elementary education.

All I get is a run-around. No one knows anything. Now they say they hope they will attend Hoben for first grade.

They want money for a new high school. What is going to happen to the rest of the kids?

As a Canton resident and taxpayer, I think we should all start asking the schools to start answering some questions, such as:

1. Where is all the money going? Higher property tax due to higher tax assessment.
2. What about all the new housing and all the new tax money coming from those new homes?
3. Why are we rezoning land behind the Fire Station on Cherry Hill for more housing when they are having trouble housing all the children in the school system already?

I know I speak for almost all the parents of 27 kindergartners being shipped over to Field that someone has to stop this constant increase in developing of new homes until they figure out what is going to be done about the children who already live here.

They keep moving the boundaries which also move the kids around and it just does not work. Wake up and smell the coffee, stop adding to the problem until you find an answer for the problem.

Earth Day a success

To the editor:

Kudos to the Plymouth Community for their rapid action in implementing a recycling program. By moving rapidly in this direction it is easy to see that "Earth Day," at least in this community, is a success.

For years the people of the U.S. have been accused by the people of other lands as being wasteful. However, the American people are rising to the challenge to make the world clean for future generation just as they mobilized before to defeat dictators that would deprive all people of their rights.

Perhaps now that we have taken this first step we will be able to convince business (including fast food chains) to use a common sense in packaging their products.

Our final achievement will be turning our garbage into fuel that will burn cleaner in our automobiles and help us to conserve of fossil fuels. If this can be done economically there is always the possibility that the price of fuel can be reduced. This alone should be a help in keeping the inflation rate under control.

Lions Club gives money to the blind

The Canton Lions Club donated $2,800 to the following organizations: Lions International, Leader Dog for the Blind, Michigan Eye Blind Bank, Penrickton Center for the Blind, Welcome Home for the Blind, All State Band, Beaumont Silent Children Fund, Blind Picnic, Diabetes Awareness, Drug awareness.

These donations were made possible by the sale of candy canes and public donations. We wish to thank each and every one of you for your help.

MSU column inflammatory

To the editor:

Having read and reread the May 7 column of Tim Richard, we are constrained to protest his insidious and inflammatory undertones. The column begins ostensibly with an endorsement of the formation of a "Green and White PAC" to "improve" the process by which MSU's Trustees are selected. But later in the column Mr. Richard's central (and negative) thesis surfaces as follows:

"The process by which political parties nominate candidates for the MSU board, the State Board of Education and the boards of the University and Wayne State is amazingly casual."

"Democrats pick four men and four women. Interest groups rather than abilities are emphasized — blacks, Hispanics, Jews, the Upper Peninsula, the Michigan Education Association and, of course, 'The Union' — the United Auto Workers."

"Republicans casually pick nice gentlemen and ladies but use no solid criteria."

The public acts and judgments of our elected officials are, of course, fair game for editorial comment.

News sounds like a comedy routine

THINGS ARE JUST getting too weird for me. I read the papers and I can't tell if I'm reading a news report, an Abbott and Costello routine or an excerpt from some bleak futuristic novel.

This week, for instance, I read a letter to the editor from an anti-smoking advocate. He was challenging a statement from a smoker that smoking was another matter of choice — and that people have a right to choose what they do with their own bodies.

The anti-smoker had no argument with that, but then he started talking about the effects of second-hand smoke on other people. The most-innocent victims of second-hand smoke, he said, were children.

Now I — a smoker — wouldn't argue that point, if the writer had stopped there. But he didn't. Subjecting children to second-hand smoke, he said, is nothing less than child abuse.

Child abuse? That's the first time I've heard that particular charge hurled at smokers, but I'll bet it won't be the last. It fits in with today's attitudes of twisting logic to the point that something once found as a crime against society. And if it's a "crime," then we have to find a law under which we can prosecute somebody.

TAKE THAT prosecutor out in Muskegon, for example. He's charged another woman with delivering cocaine to a minor. Her crime was that she apparently used cocaine while she was pregnant.

But the crime of using is far less serious than delivering, and under Michigan law women can't be charged with delivering drugs to a fetus.

So the prosecutor thinks he's figured a way around the law. He maintains that she delivered the cocaine in the seconds after the child was born but before the umbilical cord was cut.

If the woman is convicted on the charge, she could get up to 20 years in prison.

Now don't get me wrong. I'm not defending a woman for using drugs while she's pregnant. She shouldn't use drugs or smoke or booze it up during that period. It's unhealthy, for both her and the fetus.

But if the prosecutor's logic prevails, does that mean that a woman who drinks legal alcohol while she's pregnant could be charged with delivering alcohol to a minor? Could she be charged under a house party law?

All of this thinking is intertwined, I'm sure, with today's "war" on drugs, pornography, smoking, drinking, abortion and everything else certain segments of society find objectionable.

It's one thing for protesters to picket abortion clinics or places that sell so-called pornographic materials. Just last week, about 300 people rallied outside the state Capitol pushing for legislation that would make it easier for local communities to "define" obscenity.

One of the protesters was quoted as saying he was "sick of hearing about freedom of speech." And he's got the freedom to say that.

But at least these people are pushing for legislation. That's the way the process is supposed to work.

IT'S SOMETHING else when the state — in the form of a local prosecutor — steps in and tries to twist existing laws into something for which they were never intended.

The woman in Muskegon is the third woman in Michigan to be charged with "delivering" cocaine to a newborn under the state's controlled substance statute. All the cases are pending.

The attorney for a Jackson woman facing similar charges argues that the lawmakers never intended the statute to be used against pregnant women. He also says the charges violate his client's constitutional right to equal protection since the charges can only be brought against women.

I think he's right, but it scares me that these charges were ever made in the first place. I think there's a "hidden agenda" somewhere. I don't know exactly what it is. But I don't like it.

Trustees OK pay increase for SC chief

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

Citing student satisfaction with Livonia's Schoolcraft College experience as the strongest endorsement of the president's performance, college trustees voted 8-0 Wednesday to approve a 5 percent salary increase for president Richard McDowell.

He also received $8,500 in merit pay and his employment contract was extended through June 1993.

McDowell, who this school year received $82,000 in salary, will earn $86,100 in school year 1990-91. He was hired in 1981 at an annual salary of $56,000.

In an annual evaluation of McDowell, he was described as outstanding and professional.

"He is bright and personable and uses his attributes to promote the objectives of the college," the report said. He currently serves as president-elect to the Michigan Community College Presidents Association.

Sandra Florek, director of institutional advancement at Schoolcraft, said, "We look to him for leadership on many issues," citing the school's "major investment" in computers for student use as an example of McDowell's leadership.

Trustees also unanimously voted salary increases for executive administrators and classified employees.

individual evaluation. Next year, merit awards are to be increased $100 each.

Classified employees, with the exception of daycare workers, earn from $16,869 to $42,953 annually.

Members of the Schoolcraft Faculty Forum, 131 full-time and 300 part-time instructors, librarians and counselors, start the final year of a three-year contract in August. The contract calls for raises of 5.9 percent in two of the years and 5.5 percent one year.

In contrast, members of the Schoolcraft Office Personnel and Support Personnel associations have not received pay raises since July 1988. The 56 office workers and 38 plant employees have also worked without a contract since July 1989. (See related story).

BASED ON A PERFORMANCE survey by Wayne State University, transfer students from Schoolcraft to Wayne rank highest in academic achievement, maintaining a 2.9 grade point average, compared to 2.7 by students from other community colleges. Students transferring to Wayne from other four-year institutions maintained a 2.6 grade point average and those transferring from universities, a 2.8 average.

Last school year, 198 students transferred from Schoolcraft to Wayne, with 190 completing studies for the year.

During spring semester, 6,271 students attended Schoolcraft, including 3,536 regular students. The remainder attended continuing education. The program has increased in size nearly five times since 1986, from 636 registrants to 2,935 this past semester.

Trustees Michael Burley, Harry Greenleaf, Jack Kirksey, Thaddeus McCotter, Jeanne Stempien and chair Mary Breen were present at Wednesday's regular meeting of the board. Trustee Wendell Smith did not attend.

Employees at Livonia's Schoolcraft College who answer the phones, sweep the floors and otherwise assure that school operations flow smoothly from one day to the next, continue to work without a signed labor contract.

Come June 30, they will have done so for one full year.

In addition, it has been a full year since any of the 100 or so secretaries, custodians and others — employees traditionally on the low end of pay scales — have received a salary increase, a situation they say is deplorable.

Feelings are especially strong following action Wednesday by Schoolcraft trustees who voted annual pay raises of 5.5 percent or more for the college president, school administrators and other highly-trained staff members.

"If we had what is spent on the president's car and car phone, we could settle," said Bob Thomas of the Michigan Education Association (MEA) that represents 56 members of the Schoolcraft Office Personnel Association and 38 members of the Schoolcraft Support Personnel Association.

OFFICE PERSONNEL currently earn from $7.92 to $11.67 an hour, support personnel employees, from $7.46 to $14.32 hourly. In contrast, office personnel employed by the Livonia School District earn from $7 to $13.04 an hour. Support personnel salaries range from $10.50 to $15.76 hourly.

Both Schoolcraft groups are seeking annual salary increases of some 5.9 percent. Under dispute are such issues as part-time hiring, incremental pay and length of contracts.

On Wednesday, college trustees voted Schoolcraft president Richard McDowell a $4,100 raise, increasing his salary next school year to $88,100. He also received a merit award of $8,500 and use of a car at an estimated cost of $5,000.

"It's out of line, in view of what they're paying other people," said maintenance employee Ed Harrison, adding McDowell's total salary perks equate more than half of total annual salaries for many campus office and support employees.

College receptionist Belinda Eleson said, "It would be nice if a piece of the pie could be shared with us."

MEA negotiator Thomas said McDowell's annual perks amount to more than total contract figures now under dispute. "We are apart by about $8,000 a year, or a total of $24,000 for three years. It's nothing that will break the employer."

Schoolcraft spokeswoman Sandra Florek said original salary increase requests by the two groups were "not reasonable. When we first went to the table, they wanted 24 percent."

IN ADDITION, "We've had a very serious problem getting to the negotiating table with the negotiator. He's never available."

Bunk, said Thomas, "We make it most of the time. The real problem is Betty Gilbert (negotiator for Schoolcraft) walks out of negotiations."

Thomas and Gilbert faced one another again in talks on Friday, with little success.

Prior to the meeting, Florek said, "We're still quite far apart from a settlement."

Harrison, a spokesman for support personnel, said wage increases have yet to be considered because "we can't seem to get beyond the issue of part-time hiring."

Eleson, who represents office personnel, is more hopeful. "We're in the process of resolving the issue."

A fungus among us: It's morels

Morel mushrooms bring out the spring madness. Mycophiles mislead old friends to guard a secret woodland cache of the precious fungus, or pay exorbitant prices in the marketplace to take them home. Many guests will spend hours waiting in line at restaurants that will soon be offering this fleeting delight, if but for just a very short while.

If you haven't guessed it by now, morel mushrooms have defied all efforts at cultivation in captivity. The only known sources are obscure backyards, deep oak-laden woods where sunshine is filtered through pine needles and towering elms, or a lucky friend, relative or neighbor who "knows just the right spot."

Thank God for Aunt Phyllis. She is a former Glen Lake native, now with roots Downriver. We have, on numerous occasions, set off with five-pound onion-sack bags in hand, searching for what is known as "the lobster of the mushroom kingdom."

In all honesty, many times we have returned with little more than the empty sacks, but on more than one occasion, we have gathered more than our fill of the delectable beauty. By the way, if you're waiting for me to divulge Aunt Phyllis' secret morel hide-out, forget it.

NOT ONLY WOULD I be banned from any future family culinary outings but, in all honesty, all I remember is getting in the car and driving down these dusty roads, passing cherry orchards and a cemetery with 100-year-old gravemarkers. Only then did we exit our vehicles to begin what was billed as a "Don't worry, Larry Lee. I know where we're going" hike over ridges and hills. All this without the use of a compass or hardly being able to see the sun through the towering trees. All this for a mushroom?

A morel is not just "any" mushroom. The morel is thin-fleshed; spongy; and dark-brown, yellow or off-white, shaped like a hollowed-out Christmas tree with a pitted cap that can be as small as a wild strawberry or as large as a lamb chop. The flavor varies but, personally, I liken it to warm autumn leaves, hazelnuts and nutmeg. Richly flavored beyond compare, these mushrooms should fall into the category of truffles and caviar, leaving taste to the beholder.

Mother Nature is a sly old lass and, unfortunately, has planted false morels, or Gyromitras, to evade the uninformed mycophile. False morels, unlike regular morels, have caps that look like convoluted brains and are not cone shaped. In addition, the stems are thick and chambered while true morels have straight and hollow stems.

If this is your first time for mushroom hunting of any kind, it's best to have someone along like Aunt Phyllis who knows the area and has the experience to point out real morels. To an untrained eye, it's like picking out the cubic zirconia in a mound of real diamonds. Once you learn the focusing technique, spotting them gets easier. It's locating them first which is the most difficult.

Not that I've ever been in a position to pass up any morel sprouting from the earthen floor. The avid morellite should look for mushrooms that have a sweet, earthy and nutty smell. Discard sour smells and especially ones with a slight "animal aroma" (if you catch my drift).

Never drop them into a regular bag or, worse yet, plastic, as they will spoil easily. Seasoned pickers recycle, using the string-mesh sacks that potatoes and onions come in at the grocery store.

I hope that every prospective morel hunter has someone like Aunt Phyllis in his or her family. It sure makes the hunting more enjoyable.

Picnicking with the Pistons

By Larry Janes
special writer

SINCE TODAY is the official start of the picnic season here in metro Detroit, isn't it fitting that we do so with the help of the World Champion Detroit Pistons and their wives?

After all, now that the basketball season is drawing to a close and we've been watching Isiah Thomas, Bill Laimbeer and the rest of the Bad Boys bring home another championship, rest assured that these guys and their wives will be picnicking up a storm real soon.

At a recent interview with members of the Pistons Women's Association, headed up by Lynne Thomas, Chris Laimbeer and Debbie Dumars, I found that these wives can't wait for the season to draw to a winning close. Once again, they can return to a lengthy summer vacation, complete with picnics, barbecues and extended rest and relaxation.

What, you ask, do the World Champions of basketball and their families do for a great picnic?

WHEN QUERIED independently, all the Piston wives could have responded in unison because the first words to echo from their mouths were about getting away from all the press, photographers and the spotlight. Seems that the players as well as their families are frequently hounded by folks like me wanting to push open that sliding glass door of personal inquiries just a little farther.

With the 1990 basketball season drawing to a close, rest assured that the picnic baskets are revved up and raring to go.

For Chris and Bill Laimbeer, picnicking automatically means heading for the boat. With kids in tow, their picnic basket is stuffed with an assortment of cold salads and finger foods that can be plated easily and enjoyed with little fuss and bother.

During the off season, Bill likes to putter in the kitchen and whip up a favorite recipe for scallop and linguine pasta. Chris says that the pasta travels well and can be prepared "just by boiling water" which is a lifesaver on a boat. Saute up a few choice scallops and veggies, toss with the pasta and you have a great hot picnic entree that just can't be beat. "Leftover pasta is easily tossed with an Italian dressing for tomorrow's cold pasta salad," says Chris.

Debbie and Joe Dumars will be heading for their favorite picnic spot in Louisiana. The Sam Houston State Park comes complete with secluded campsites, and all this young couple has to do is pitch a tent, start a cozy fire, pull out a pot of their favorite shrimp stroganoff from the cooler, then sit back and watch the hot Louisiana sun melt like molasses into the horizon.

IN ORDER TO accomplish this, the Dumarses choose a well-insulated cooler and stock it full with their favorite drinks and vegetable accompaniments, which helps keep the stroganoff cool enough to travel.

Lynne and Isiah Thomas, along with son Joshua and a yet-to-be-named future Thomas, look forward to getting as far from the spotlight of Detroit as possible. "A deserted dessert island would be my first choice," says Lynne. When asked what she would pack in their picnic basket, she retorts, "Isiah's favorite cheesecake, of course."

C'mon girls, when Yours Truly heads for a mountain with picnic gear in tow, my biggest worry is how I'm going to keep the beer cold. So far, you tell me that you're all going on a picnic with stroganoff, scallop linguine and cheesecake? What about the classics like fried chicken, potato salad, bread, cheese, fruit and wine? Read on.

Leslie McCloskey, along with hubby Piston general manager Jack and kids, will be heading home to Oregon to stock a picnic basket with cold marinated flank steak and the usual assortment of traveling salads, wine and soda pop. Finally, we're getting closer to the norm. Echoing the need for peace, quiet and a place to unwind, the McCloskeys will find a quiet, out-of-the-way park somewhere in the mountains of Oregon and spend a relaxing afternoon "just enjoying the sun and the kids," says Leslie.

"When we picnic, we can fill one van just with the food," says Maureen Malone. She and husband Piston assistant coach Brendan Malone have six children, and they usually opt for the basics, just trying to make sure they have enough food and drink to go around. And where can you find the Malones' favorite

New image for old Italian restaurant

John Del Signore may have hoped the adage "like father like son" would apply when his son was ready to take over his Fonte D'Amore restaurant in Livonia. It didn't.

Age 25 and eager, Luciano Del Signore didn't take long to convert the sophisticated, neighborhood Italian restaurant to his own image of what it should be. Out went the mural of his father's hometown in Italy and in came the handpainted wallpaper and a brighter look. Out went the casual look of the atrium out front and in came a more cozy, formal glass-paned porch.

Out went the emphasis on traditional Italian sauces with sausages and meats and in came a health-conscious emphasis on chicken and fish.

It's a new restaurant in many ways, but Fonte D'Amore still has the characteristics that have cultivated customer loyalty — an intimate setting, good food and solicitous service.

AN EMPHASIS on healthy food preparation is evident in the selection of pastas, many of which are prepared with vegetables and/or cheese, like the fettuccine al verdi prepared with broccoli, mushrooms, garlic and olive oil ($9.95). The linguini dishes feature clam sauces, and another fettuccini dish is prepared with smoked salmon.

Those who prefer the traditional sauces aren't forgotten, however. The elder Del Signore's red sauces are still available, and guests can customize their pasta entrees by ordering a tomato sauce with meat, meatballs or the delicious housemade Italian sausage.

Daily specials now include a heart-healthy entree, such as Italian-style scallops, marinated in herbs and red peppers and served with redskin potatoes, which was featured on our visit. While this entree sounded wonderful, it was not as flavorful as anticipated.

From among the house specialties, we tried the Pollo al Marsala Confuni, a very tasty chicken dish cooked in marsala wine with mushrooms and artichoke hearts — nicely flavored and tenderly prepared. The menu also includes a variation of this entree featuring veal instead of chicken.

Luciano Del Signore is trying to attract new customers with more contemporary entrees like wild game, appetizers of truffles and cream sauce, or sauces made with morels and other exotic mushrooms. One of the house specialties is rabbit braised in herbs and wild mushrooms and served with a red sauce, the highest-priced entree at $16.95.

APPETIZERS RANGE from sausage or shrimp to fruit and cheese ($4.75-$6.95). We found the wild mushrooms in sherry cream sauce ($6.95) very good, though the sherry made it quite sweet.

These days, the house salad comes with a choice of Italian, ranch, celery seed, raspberry vinaigrette or Weight Watchers dressing.

picnic spot? "Anywhere near the ocean," says Maureen.

WITH THE WHOLE family in tow, her favorite picnic fare is just "a peanut butter and jelly sandwich," but Maureen will pack Brendan's favorite Cajun cheese ball and a few boxes of crackers for a special treat.

Now if all the above-mentioned foodstuffs have your mouth watering, we have printed a few of the recipes for your files. But if you're looking to expand your cooking library with the favorite recipes of the Pistons and their wives, you can buy a copy of "Cooking with the Champs," a cookbook produced by the Pistons wives, with more than 200 favorite recipes from the Pistons and their friends.

This cookbook is a non-profit effort of the Pistons Women's Association, and it benefits seven local charitable organizations. Women's Association president Lynne Thomas says these charities were chosen because the wives all wanted something to help women and children in need. Proceeds from the sale of the book benefit:

Simon House, a shelter for women and children with AIDS; Pontiac Boys and Girls Club, a youth development agency; Haven, a program for victims of domestic violence; St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Center, a treatment facility for children and families in crisis; Judson Center, a center for emotionally impaired and developmentally disabled children, adults and families; the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, striving to find the cause, cure, treatment and prevention of diabetes; and the Variety Club, the Children's Charity helping handicapped and underprivileged children.

In addition to the favorite Pistons family recipes, the book is chockful of recipes from President and Mrs. Bush, Neil Diamond, Lee Iacocca, Chris Evert, Tommy Hearn, Paul McCartney, Hulk Hogan and many more. Trust me on this one. The recipes are great but the candid photographs that accompany every page are worth the price of the book itself.

"Cooking with the Champs" costs $20. To order by mail, send a check for $23 (includes $20 for the cookbook, $3 for shipping and handling fee). Check should be made payable to Pistons Women's Association. Send to Charity Cookbook, the Palace of Auburn Hills, One Championship Drive, Auburn Hills 48057. The cookbook also is available for purchase at all souvenir stands and at the cookbook table located between sections 117-118 on the concourse level at the Palace, and at all Great Stuff stores.

ISIAH'S FAVORITE CHEESECAKE

Isiah and Lynn Thomas

Crust:
1 1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs
1/2 cup ground walnuts
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup melted butter

Mix all ingredients in a spring-form pan and pat down on bottom and sides.

Filling:
3 beaten eggs
1 cup sugar
Two 8-ounce packages cream cheese, softened
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
3 cup sour cream

Blend all ingredients together in mixer. Pour in pan and bake at 300 degrees for 50-60 minutes. Turn oven off and open door slightly. Leave cake in oven an additional 40 minutes. Remove and refrigerate overnight.

SWEET AND SPICY CHICKEN DRUMETTES

Gerald and Marie Henderson

Chicken drumettes or chicken wings
1 stick of margarine
1/2 package brown sugar
1 bottle hot sauce
Cooking oil
Seasoned salt, seasoned pepper, garlic salt, paprika (to taste)

Wash and pat dry chicken, sprinkle with seasoned salt, seasoned pepper, garlic salt, paprika, dash of salt and pepper. Put into hot oil, cooking thoroughly until crisp and golden brown. In separate saucepan, pour in hot sauce, margarine, brown sugar and stir on low until heated.

When chicken is ready, drain excess oil from chicken by placing onto paper toweling. Immediately dip into sauce mixture, then onto serving dish. Serve immediately. Can be served with horseradish sauce as a side dip.

CAJUN CHEESE BALL

Brendan and Maureen Malone

One 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 package Italian salad dressing mix
Cayenne pepper to taste
1 tablespoon Romano or Parmesan cheese

Let cream cheese soften to room temperature and mix with Italian dressing mix. Roll into ball. In a small bowl mix the Romano or Parmesan cheese with the cayenne pepper (the redder the color, the hotter the taste). Roll the cheese ball in the pepper-cheese mix until completely coated. Refrigerate till chilled. Serve with crackers.

"SUPER" BAKED BEANS

Bill and Chris Laimbeer

1/2 pound sliced bacon
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 cup catsup

1 pound ground beef
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
One 15-ounce can pork and beans, drained well
One 15-ounce can kidney beans, drained well
One 15-ounce can lima beans, drained well

Cut bacon into 1-inch pieces and fry. Remove bacon and drain fat. Sauté onion and beef until onion is tender and beef browned.

Add bacon, catsup, brown sugar, mustard and vinegar. Stir until all are combined.

Fold in beans and put in deep baking dish.

Bake at 325 degrees for 1 1/2 hours or in crockpot for 3 hours on low.

JOE'S PISTOLETTE GOODIES

Joe and Debbie Dumars

1 package French Style Pistolette Rolls
1 pound ground chuck
One 10-ounce package broccoli

1/2 pound Velveeta cheese
1 stick butter
Garlic powder
Creole seasoning

Cut off one end of each pistolette roll and hollow out the middle, set aside. Brown ground chuck, add onion and creole seasoning to taste. Cook broccoli. Melt cheese. Mix ground chuck, broccoli and cheese together. Stuff rolls with mixture. Melt butter and season with garlic powder. Dip rolls in butter mixture, stand up in baking dish.

Bake at 350 for 15 minutes or until lightly brown. Mixture will fill at least 16 rolls.

FRAN'S GREEN SALAD WITH STRAWBERRIES

Jack and Leslie McCloskey

Seed Sweet and Sour Dressing:
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons onion juice or couple of dashes of onion powder

2 teaspoons dry mustard
1/2 cup vinegar
2 cup vegetable oil
3 tablespoons poppy seeds
Salad Ingredients:
Romaine lettuce
Strawberries
Pineapple chunks
Mushrooms
Almonds

Combine first 5 ingredients. Slowly add 2 cups oil while beating with a whisk, until thick. Stir in poppy seeds.

Toss over sliced (thin) strawberries, pineapple chunks, sliced mushrooms and torn-up romaine lettuce. Garnish with sugared sliced almonds.

To sugar almonds put about 1/2 cup almonds and 1/2 cup sugar in a frying pan. Stir over low to medium heat. When sugar begins to melt, stir until almonds are brown and coated with sugar. Watch carefully, they burn easily. Turn coated almonds onto foil or wax paper to cool.

Area man wins cook-off with recipe for Chili the Kid

Shawn Booth of Garden City placed first, with his recipe called Chili the Kid, in the recent Official North Central Chili Cook-Off in Saline.

He received $500, a trophy and a guaranteed cooking spot in the International Chili Society's World Championship Cook-Off in California this fall.

Other area residents among the finalists were Ken and Annette Horn of Plymouth, who placed third with Fireworks Chili; Charlie Robertson of Birmingham, who placed fifth, and Steve Dill of Union Lake, who placed seventh. All were guaranteed a spot in the 1991 Official North Central Chili Cook-Off.

In the competition's Renegade Chili Cook-Off, for "anything in the pot," William Thomas of Plymouth placed fourth and received a guaranteed cooking spot in the 1991 Renegade Chili Cook-Off. Ed Callback of Troy won $500, a trophy, a case of dishwashing detergent and a chance to win a $15,000 dream kitchen in the International Chili Scrub-Off this fall, for scrubbing six chili-covered plates in 15.44 seconds in the first Dawn Chili Scrub-Off.

The annual cook-off is the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan's most important fund-raiser. This year the event held at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds raised more than $30,000 for the kidney foundation's patient services, education programs and research.

CHILI THE KID

2 1/2 pounds round steak, cut in 1/4-inch cubes
2 pounds Italian sausage

1 1/2 large Spanish onions, cut small 1 green pepper, cut small
2 cloves fresh garlic, minced
4 fresh jalapeno peppers, cut small
Two 16-ounce cans stewed tomatoes, cut up
4 tablespoons chili powder
1 tablespoon (heaping) red cayenne pepper
2 tablespoons ground cumin
1 tablespoon Mexican oregano
3/4 teaspoon sugar

16-ounce can Budweiser beer
2 jars mild El Paso salsa

Brown meat in large pot; drain meat and add onion, green pepper, garlic, jalapeno peppers. Cook approximately 20 minutes, then add everything else except beer. Use the beer to thin chili to desired thickness. Simmer for 3 hours. Makes 1 gallon.

Blue cheese adds special touch to potato salad

BLUE CHEESE POTATO SALAD

The perfect accompaniment to the sandwiches - and it can be prepared ahead.

12 servings

5 pounds red new potatoes
1/2 cup dry white wine

Salt and freshly ground pepper
1 1/4 cups mayonnaise
1 1/4 cups sour cream
2 1/2 tablespoons Dijon mustard
2 1/2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1/2 pound blue cheese, crumbled
5 green onions, minced
1 1/2 cups chopped celery

Place potatoes in large pot. Cover with cold water. Boil until tender. Drain. Cool slightly. Peel potatoes. Cut into 1-inch pieces. Transfer to large bowl. Add wine, season with salt and pepper and toss to coat. Cool.

Combine all remaining ingredients. Mix with potatoes. Adjust seasoning. (Can be prepared 1 day ahead. Cover and refrigerate. Let stand 30 minutes at room temperature before serving.)

Joan Basar of Farmington Hills likes to serve Yogurt Chicken when she and her husband entertain. The entire meal can be prepared in less than an hour.

Light chicken dish is a reminder of summer

Although summer officially begins June 21, I have always thought it really starts on Memorial Day. As we make the transition from spring to summer, there are always certain jobs that need to be done around the house, to help bring order and definition to the change of seasons.

Having just finished that necessary (but odious) seasonal chore of cleaning out my closet, I'm happy to announce that my white shoes and skirts are lined up and ready to report for summer duty. It is interesting to note that just as clothing styles and colors change by the season, so do cooking and eating patterns. Summer cooking tends to be much lighter and cooler than the heartier dishes we associate with fall and winter.

This week's Winner Dinner, submitted by Joan Basar of Farmington Hills, is the kind of meal that will get your family thinking summer with each bite. Marinated in plain yogurt and lots of different herbs, this chicken dish has a refreshing and unique flavor. Served with parmesan tomatoes, fresh, steamed family-tested winner dinner

green beans; a shortcake-type hot roll, and an apple/walnut dessert, this dinner will satisfy without stuffing.

Basar enjoys her career with a company called Executive Adventure. She sells and markets the concept of helping employees at all levels of a company to become more productive at work through outdoor team-building activities, each of which is work-related and customized to each client's needs. The nationally based company has been in business since 1982, and its Michigan branch just opened in August 1989.

MARRIED FOR four years, Basar and her husband love to entertain. This is one dinner that is always a favorite, as the entire meal can be prepared and served within 50-60 minutes. Her time-efficient method of putting the dinner together is as follows: First, she prepares the chicken, and when it goes into the oven, she starts the buns. While the buns are baking, she prepares the tomatoes and the green beans and lets them cook while she finishes up with the dessert.

Thank you, Joan Basar, and congratulations on being this week's Winner Dinner Winner. I wish you continued success with your career and hope that you will enjoy your well-deserved apron as much as we will enjoy your terrific recipes.

In signing off for yet another week, I hope you and your family en-

YOGURT CHICKEN
PARMESAN TOMATOES
FRESH, STEAMED GREEN BEANS WITH SLIVERED ALMONDS
CRATER BUNS

YOGURT CHICKEN

This dish is fast, easy, different and great for dinner parties. This particular recipe serves 8 but can be modified to suit your needs by proportionately adjusting the amount of ingredients.

2 pounds boneless, skinless chicken breasts (serves eight 4-ounce portions)
1 container of plain yogurt, 16-ounce size; part of yogurt should be saved for Apple/Walnut Dessert
1/4 cup lemon or lime juice
1 tablespoon of each seasoning: basil, oregano, garlic, onion, dill; dash of salt and pepper
1 cup Parmesan cheese
1 cup bread crumbs
1/4 cup melted butter, optional

Cut the chicken into 4-ounce slices (8 total) and marinate in the yogurt, lemon and seasoning mixture. Marinating even a few minutes is fine. Place the chicken in a shallow 13-by-9-inch pan so that the chicken is touching but not overlapping. A cookie sheet with a 1/2-inch rim would also work. Sprinkle the chicken alternating with Parmesan cheese and bread crumbs. Finally drizzle with 1/2 cup of melted butter (optional). Bake at 400 degrees for 30-45 minutes. After about 20 minutes of baking, drain any excess drippings.

PARMESAN TOMATOES

4 tomatoes
Parmesan or any cheese
Cut tomatoes in half and sprinkle on cheese to taste. Bake in oven until cheese is bubbly or lightly browned. Serves 8.

STEAMED BEANS WITH SLIVERED ALMONDS

Wash and trim off the ends of fresh green beans. Steam in a covered pan until the beans are just done or al dente. Toss in a teaspoon of butter or margarine and add slivered almonds to taste.

CRATER BUNS

2 cups flour
4 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/4 cup shortening
1/2 to 3/4 cup milk

Mix the flour, sugar and baking powder together; cut in shortening with a pastry blender or fork. Add just enough milk to form a sticky dough. Spoon out onto an ungreased cookie sheet and bake at 450 degrees for about 10 minutes. This recipe makes about 20 crater buns. You can cook 2 cookie sheets at the same time in the same oven, but at 425 degrees. Serve with butter.

APPLE/WALNUT DESSERT IN YOGURT DRESSING

This simple dessert offers a light and refreshing end to a tasty dinner.

4 apples
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 container plain yogurt or portion saved from the chicken

Cut apples in 1/2-inch chunks; mix with walnuts, and spoon yogurt in to taste. Place in dessert cups and refrigerate during dinner.

Shopping List

2 pounds boneless, skinless chicken breast
1 container plain yogurt, 16-ounce size
2-3 fresh or bottled lemons or limes
4 tomatoes
4 apples
fresh green beans
basil
oregano
garlic powder
onion powder
dill
salt
pepper
flour
sugar
shortening
baking powder
milk
Parmesan cheese
butter or margarine
chopped walnuts
slivered almonds bread crumbs

Notes

Simple sauces are best to bring out taste of morels

See Larry Janes' column Taste Buds, Page 1B.

Because of their maze of honey-combed ridges, morel mushrooms are perfect partners for sauces, much of which they absorb.

The simpler the sauce the better. A simple warming of heavy cream with just a sprinkling of beef bouillon envelopes the sliced morels into ecstasy, especially when served over the thick, juicy steak.

If you are lucky enough to find some morels on a mushroom hunt, clean them just before cooking them, and never before. They can be stored in the refrigerator in a colander in the vegetable crisper for one or two days.

Remove the heavy tip of the base and slice in half from top to bottom. It's best not to soak them, but since they do grow from the ground, a good washing to remove sand and dirt is, unfortunately, a must. Immediately blot dry. Then cook immediately. Never eat raw morels as they can cause illness in many people.

ROAST CHICKEN WITH MOREL STUFFING
5 tablespoons butter

1 pound morels, cleaned, washed, trimmed and sliced
1 3/4 pound roasting chicken
Dash salt, cinnamon, pepper
1/2 cup bread cubes
1 cup chicken broth

Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a large skillet. Stir in morels and saute quickly over high heat until liquid evaporates, about 4 minutes. Chop chicken liver and heart, reserved from the roasting chicken and add to mushrooms. Cook, stirring for 1 minute. Add bread cubes, salt, cinnamon and pepper. Toss until well coated. Heat chicken broth and add 1 tablespoon butter. Pour over morel breadcrumbs and toss to coat. Stuff cavity with stuffing. Rub remaining butter over chicken. Place bird, breast side down, on a rack in an ovenproof pan. Roast for 45 minutes at 325 degrees. Turn breast side up, baste with pan drippings. Sprinkle lightly with salt and return to oven for 45 minutes at 325 degrees. Raise temperature to 400 degrees and roast chicken until golden brown for 10 minutes. Allow chicken to rest for 10 minutes before carving.

MOREL PIE

1 1/2 pounds morels, washed, trimmed and sliced
1/4 cup thin sliced sweet onion
4 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup flour
8 ounces cream-style cottage cheese
1/4 cup parsley
1/4 cup dry sherry
Salt and pepper to taste
1 pastry for a 2 crust pie
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons water

Saute morels and onions in butter for about 10 minutes over medium high heat. Stir in flour, add cottage cheese, parsley, sherry, salt and pepper and mix well. Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Place 1 pastry in bottom of a 9-inch pie plate. Pour mushroom mixture into pie. Arrange top pastry on pie or for better results, make top pastry into lattice design. Beat egg yolk with water and brush over top crust. Bake for 40-45 minutes, covering edges of pie with foil if overbrowning occurs. Cool 5 minutes before slicing. Makes 6 servings as a luncheon entree or 8 servings as an accompaniment with meat or fowl.

Know your onions to get the most from them

No kitchen should be without onions or their relatives. Leeks, shallots, green onions, garlic and chives are some of the members of the onion family. Carl Sandburg contended, "Life is like an onion, many layers that are peeled off one at a time and sometimes you cry." Onions, one of the oldest plants known to mankind, have a very long and colorful history.

Onions were fed to the Egyptians to give them strength while they were building the great pyramids. An old English superstition states that one must buy onions only in a shop with two doors. During the 16th century, onions were thought to ward off baldness and cure dog bites.

Folk medicine claims that eating onions will kill germs, cure circulatory and respiratory disturbances and prevent other ailments. Whether you believe these or not, onions are one of the most important and versatile ingredients in cooking.

ONIONS CAN be eaten raw or cooked; whole, chopped, sliced, diced or grated; stuffed, boiled, baked, sauteed or deep fried. No matter how they are fixed, they are a valued flavoring. A touch of fresh onion added to a canned vegetable or soup often disguises that "canned" taste.

When cooking onions, too high of heat and too long a cooking period bring out the worst in an onion. Scorching an onion will make it bitter. If you are serving onions in a salad, make them milder by soaking them in milk first, or pour boiling water over them and let stand. Drain and dip in cold ice water to crisp.

To rid your breath of onion traces, eat raw parsley. Onion odor on your hands can be rubbed off with salt, vinegar or lemon juice. Onions keep for months if stored properly. Keep them cool, outside the refrigerator, and they stay fresh for months. Recycle old panty hose to store onions. They provide perfect ventilation. Just pack the onions into the legs and hang in a cool, dark, airy place. Choose onions that still have their protective skin, are well shaped and heavy for their size and do not have sprouts.

TO HELP ELIMINATE crying

Lols Thieleke

home economist, Cooperative Extension Service during onion slicing, cut off the top of the onion and peel down but do not trim off the bottom or root end until the last moment. The cells that expel the eye-tearing vapor are most prominent at the base of the onion.

Leeks are another onion family member. Emperor Nero is said to have eaten leek soup every day to improve his speaking voice. Leeks are probably best known for their use in vichyssoise. The taste is milder and more subtle than an onion, and leeks are said to be the king of the soup onions. Choose young, small leeks with crisp, dark, green tops. Store them in plastic in the refrigerator for about a week. When you are ready to use them, wash thoroughly to get rid of the grit that is trapped in the leaves.

If leeks are the king of the soup onions, shallots are the queen of the sauce onions. Shallot flavor is closer to garlic than onion but more delicate. Never let them brown or they become bitter, but saute finely minced shallots very gently in wine. Lots of herbs go very nicely with their flavor. Shallots have distinctive bulbs consisting of garlic-like cloves. Refrigerate and use within one or two days.

Immature green onions or scallions have no outer skin on their bulbs and are sold with edible green leaves. When purchasing green onions, the top should be crisp and green. Store in refrigerator and use within a few days.

Garlic is a compound bulb made up of several sections (cloves) enveloped in skin. Break off and peel cloves as needed. Leave whole, mince, chop or halve for recipes; crush in garlic press or with the back of a large heavy knife to obtain garlic juice. Store in refrigerator or at a cool room temperature that allows for good circulation of air. The old panty hose also works for garlic storage. They will keep for several months.

CHIVES ARE ALSO a distant relative of the onion. For chives, we use only the tops, not the bulbs. They are mainly used for an onion-like seasoning or a garnish. Chives are very easy to grow on the windowsill, thus available year round. They make a flavorful addition to cottage cheese or dips.

Whether you believe the legends about eating onions to make you brave and strong or just want a wonderful flavorful seasoning for everyday cooking, the onion family is the hands-down winner.

Napa Valley wineries rebound to total 193

What goes around, comes around. The wine business, as well as fashion, seems to be cyclic in nature. This has been demonstrated in California's Napa Valley.

In 1889, the number of working wineries in Napa Valley reached a high of 143. It took nearly 100 years to achieve a new high. In the interim, the wine industry suffered one catastrophe after another.

In the late 19th century, phylloxera, a vine root louse, destroyed many vineyards. In the early 20th century, Prohibition followed by the Great Depression reduced the number of producing wineries. By 1960, only 25 wineries had survived.

It's amazing, but the rebirth of the California wine industry, or at least Napa Valley, began only 30 years ago. When people say that the American wine industry is fledgling compared to Europe, this is what they mean. Today, Napa has rebounded to a total of 193 wineries.

In 1886, James and George Goodman built a Napa Valley winery with the intention of using the grapes from their 280-acre Eschcol Estate

Eleanor and Ray Heald

Vineyard. The Goodmans' Eschcol Cabernet Sauvignon gained fame after earning a gold medal at the 1888 San Francisco Viticultural Fair.

In 1968, when Napa Valley was still a sleepy community, Gene and Katie Trefethen purchased the old Eschcol estate plus 320 adjoining acres and turned their attention from growing walnuts to harvesting wine grapes. At that time, walnuts, peaches and prunes were the cash crops of choice in the Napa Valley.

The Trefethens' son John realized the potential of winemaking in the Napa Valley and undertook the task of renovating the winery, now a national historic landmark of early California winery architecture.

In 1973, John and his wife Janet produced their first 2,000 cases of wine. Trefethen Vineyards produces 75,000 cases of wine annually from grapes grown exclusively on their property between the towns of Napa and Yountville, along Highway 29. Trefethen wines are estate grown, produced and bottled. Emphasizing a style that is determined by their estate-grown fruit, Trefethen stresses important vineyard practices like planting, nurturing and harvesting the best grapes the land can give them.

TREFETHEN VINEYARDS, in the cool, southern end of Napa Valley, successfully grows chardonnay, white riesling, merlot, cabernet sauvignon, zinfandel and pinot noir. The vineyard property is so large that

WINE SELECTIONS OF THE WEEK

Trefethen Eschcol White ($7.50) shows apply chardonnay aromas with a flowery note of riesling. It's totally dry, in a crisp, refreshing style that invites another sip. We recommend grilled fish, shrimp, oysters or mussels. This wine will enhance food and leave your palate refreshed.

Trefethen Eschcol Red ($7.50) yields a good red wine aroma that features the blackberry character of cabernet and the brambly, raspberry fruit of zinfandel. A big, chewy mouthful for the money. You can serve this wine with hamburger or steak and be equally pleased.

Trefethen wines are available in major wine shops and restaurants in the Detroit area.

even today half the Trefethen harvest is sold to prestigious wineries such as Domaine Chandon and Domaine Mumm.

With more than 20 years' experience with its own vineyards, Trefethen has developed a wine style that repeats itself as a continuing thread throughout the wines. Made with a minimum of handling, the theme is clean, crisp, well-balanced wines that showcase fruit rather than oak. "We let the fruit speak through the wine," contends Janet Trefethen.

Trefethen 1989 White Riesling ($9.75) has aromas of apples, flowers and orange blossoms in a totally dry style that is rare among California white rieslings.

Trefethen 1987 Chardonnay ($19.50) has a straightforward grapefruit character to complement food. Fish, seafood or oysters are well paired with the clean, lean lines of this wine. Since the high acid balance of Trefethen chardonnays allows them to age, Trefethen has developed a rerelease program whereby consumers can purchase older vintages of chardonnay that have been bottle aged, in perfect conditions at the winery.

These mature wines are labeled "Library Selection" and are offered as limited editions. The 1983 Chardonnay ($22) leaves a clean palate impression consistent with the younger wine. The attraction of this wine is the rich, buttery nose and oak impression not immediately evident in the younger wine.

THE 1986 Trefethen Cabernet Sauvignon ($18), blended with 15 percent merlot, highlights blackberry and black currant fruit aromas and soft tannins, in a solid, well-structured package.

Named after the original estate, the Trefethen Eschcol Red and White wines represent value-priced quality for everyday enjoyment. The wines are non-vintaged so that deep, complex characteristics can be built into the wines by blending aged varietals from previous vintages.

Trefethen Eschcol White ($7.50) is 90 percent chardonnay, and could be labeled as such, with 10 percent riesling to add aromatic highlights. At the same price, the Eschcol Red is an attractive blend of cabernet, zinfandel, pinot noir and merlot, aged at the winery and ready to drink when purchased.

Remove skin on chicken to keep down the calories

AP — For a "skinny" chicken dish, remove the skin from the chicken pieces before cooking. Discarding the skin this way disposes of the fat that is located in the skin and just beneath, saving 25 calories per serving. Breasts and thighs are the easiest pieces to skin; it pulls away easily. To skin drumsticks, grasp the bony end firmly and pull the skin toward you. Pull until it turns wrongside out over the bony end. Then cut skin free from the bone.

CHICKEN PARMESAN

1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/4 teaspoon Italian seasoning, crushed
3 whole medium chicken breasts (about 2 1/4 pounds total), skinned, boned and halved lengthwise
1/4 cup sliced green onion
2 teaspoons margarine or butter
1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
1/2 cup skim milk
1/2 of a 10-ounce package frozen chopped spinach, thawed and drained
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento

In a small mixing bowl combine Parmesan cheese and Italian seasoning. Roll chicken pieces in cheese mixture to coat lightly; set remaining cheese mixture aside.

Arrange chicken pieces in an 8-by-8-by-2-inch baking dish. In a small saucepan cook onion in hot margarine until tender. Stir in flour; add milk all at once. Cook and stir until bubbly; stir in drained spinach and pimiento. Spoon spinach mixture over chicken; sprinkle with remaining cheese mixture. Bake, uncovered, in a 350-degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until tender. Makes 6 servings.

Rob Kowalski pitched a five-hitter Friday to lead Plymouth Salem to a 4-2 victory over John Glenn in pre-district baseball. The Rocks avenged two losses to the Rockets and will play Ypsilanti in the district Saturday.

Kowalski pitches Salem to predistrict win, 4-2

In two previous meetings this season, Westland John Glenn terrorized Plymouth Salem's pitching staff, scoring 33 runs. The Rockets beat Salem in those games, 18-12 and 15-3.

In Friday's Class A predistrict baseball game, Glenn managed a meager five hits off Salem hurler Rob Kowalski, who ended the Rockets' season and lengthened his team's with a 4-2 triumph at Glenn.

"We know we're a pretty good club," said Salem coach John Gravin. "And we're better with Robby on the mound. Then we can really play with some people."

Salem — 15-10 for the season — advanced to Saturday's district round at Glenn, where it will meet Ypsilanti.

Kowalski improved his record to 8-1 with Friday's win, allowing just one earned run on five hits and two walks, striking out three.

THE ROCKS supported his pitching efforts by striking for all four of their runs in the first three innings. Two of those came in the first. Brian Rudolph was safe on an error and Dave Makowiec got an infield single. Both stole a base, putting runners on second and third. Sacrifice flies by Scott Niemiec and Tom Noonan scored them.

Salem got another run in the second, and should have gotten more. Two walks and a Steve Mantay single loaded the bases, and Rudolph's sacrifice fly scored a run. Brian Stephenson relieved Glenn starting pitcher Mark Johnston with the bases loaded and two out, and struck out Scott Niemiec.

Johnston took the loss for Glenn, which finished its season at 17-4. He lasted just 1½ innings and was charged with three runs on three hits and three walks, with one strikeout. Stephenson went the rest of the way, allowing one run on five hits, fanning two.

Chiefs division champs

Division championships might be old hat for the Plymouth Canton girls track team, but it's something new for the Canton boys.

The Chiefs wrapped up their sixth consecutive Western Division girls title Wednesday when they routed visiting Livonia Franklin 103-25.

The Canton boys defeated the Patriots 80-57 at Franklin, finishing with the same 5-0 record in division duals as the girls.

Kristy Brugar won two individual events and was part of two winning relay teams for the Canton girls, 6-1 overall. She was first in the 400-meter run at 1:05.3 and the 200 dash with a time of 28.7.

Brugar, Karina Kilpelainen, Michelle Dean and Alicia King won the 800 relay in 1:55.3, and Brugar teamed with Jennifer Hartke, Christie Saffron and Christie Anderson for a 4:31 time in the 1600 relay.

JESSICA SOUTER and Ifoema Okwumabua were big contributors to the victory, also. Both had three firsts — two individual and one relay.

track

Souter set a school record of 16-11½ in the long jump, and she also was first in the 100 dash at 13.4. Okwumabua posted the best distances in the shot put (29-10½) and the discus (106-2).

Those two athletes, Kilpelainen and King combined for a 53.3 time to win the 400 relay.

Kilpelainen also won the 100 hurdles in 16.2, and teammate Angela Fountain took the 300 hurdles at 51.6. Stephanie Gray followed her regional victory in the high jump by winning that event in the dual meet (5-2).

The Chiefs had three winners in open running events: Amy Smith in ### baseball

Scott Rodgers had two hits for Salem and knocked in the Rocks' fourth run. Eric Stover led Glenn with three hits in four trips.

"He's really been a thorn in our side," said Gravin of Stover, a senior. "I'm glad to see him go."

And, no doubt, Gravin is glad to see his team keep going down the state tournament road.

PLYMOUTH CANTON'S season came to an end Friday when it lost at Ypsilanti 5-4 in eight innings in a Class A predistrict game.

The loss overshadowed a Canton comeback in the seventh inning that tied the score and sent the game into extra innings. The game was tied at 2-2 entering the seventh. Ypsi's David Webb broke that tie with a homer leading off the inning. The Braves added another run, chasing Canton starter Geoff Allen and taking a 4-2 lead.

But the Chiefs (batting last as the home team) rallied. They loaded the bases with one out, and Allen hit a grounder that could have ended the game. But an overthrow at first base scored two runs to knot the score again.

In Ypsi's eighth, Scott Kennedy — who relieved Allen — struck out the first two batters, then couldn't find the plate. Kennedy walked three straight before hitting a batter to force in the game-winning run.

Chris Desselier, a sophomore righthander, gave up just three hits in improving 10th-ranked Ypsi's record to 19-3-1.

the 1600 (5:30.4), Kim Gudeth in the 800 (2:31.7) and Missy Jasnowski in the 3200 (12:48.5).

CANTON SWEPT the 800, 1600 and 3200 runs in the boys meet to finish off a successful dual-meet campaign.

Jim Carnes led the sweeps in the 1600 and 3200 with times of 4:54.2 and 10:50.1, and Mike Ream did the same in the 800 at 2:05.1.

Jeff Pryslak won the high hurdles (15.7), and anchored the winning 800 relay team, which included Craig Piwko, Eric Miller and Paul Chudyk (1:35.8).

Miller also was an individual winner, taking first place in the long jump at 20-8¼. In other field events, Mike DeJarnett won the high jump (5-10) and Bill Jacobsen the shot put (40-7). DeJarnett was regional champion in his event.

Canton's remaining victory came in the 3200 relay in which Elke Fuhring, Matt Boland, Jason Napolitano and Ream recorded a 9:06.6 time.

Chiefs rule district

By C.J. Risk staff writer

Talk about frustration.

A coach often knows what's going to happen to his team in an important game well in advance. And it isn't always good. He can plan for it, approach the problem from different angles, figure all sorts of strategies well before game time — and it may not help.

What makes it more befuddling is the cause of the trouble. It might not be a lack of talent, or injuries to key players, or an overpowering opponent. The problem can lie within.

Emotional letdowns are part of sports. When Don Smith's Plymouth Canton soccer team took to the field in the Class A district final against an inferior Ann Arbor Huron team Friday at Concordia College, Smith knew his team should dominate the match. The Chiefs should be easy winners.

Smith also knew that wouldn't happen. Not less than two days after an emotional, physically exhausting overtime win over Plymouth Salem in the state district semifinals.

HE GOT about what he expected — a flat performance. Fortunately, he also got what he wanted — a 2-0 win, which put Canton into the state regionals against the East Lansing-Brighton winner Wednesday.

"Yes, it was (an emotional win over Salem)," Smith agreed Friday as he left the field, happy this game was behind him. "I knew they could have a letdown. Playing a team like that, they know they have the game under control."

"But those are the kind of games you worry about most."

Smith didn't berate his team (now 12-2-2) at the halftime break after a scoreless first half. He had tried that before, he explained, and the team didn't respond well. "You're dealing with a lot of emotions here," he said.

So, even though so much was at stake, Smith could do little more than encourage and instruct his players. Getting enraged wouldn't help.

It was a lethargically played first half. Huron opted to concentrate on its defense. The River Rats made few offensive thrusts, with all but one player staying well back.

DESPITE HURON'S bolstered defense, Canton controlled play and had scoring chances. But the Chiefs' lack of motivation was evident, particularly on free balls — which there were far too many of. Canton was faster and could have controlled the ball better on the ground — and follow-ups.

Canton earns softball berth

Errors and walks proved to be Plymouth Salem's undoing Friday in a Class A predistrict softball game with Plymouth Canton. The Rocks outhit Canton 16-8, but they also outhit (7-3) and outwalked (14-3) the Chiefs, who claimed a 16-12 win at Salem.

Canton advances to the Westland John Glenn district to play Belleville at noon Saturday.

Andrea Welling, in relief of Jenny Garvey, was the losing pitcher. Stacey Thompson was the winner.

Thompson had two hits and two runs batted in for Canton (now 23-2). April Galici also had two hits. For Salem (6-19), Caryn Tatterton had four hits and scored four runs; Emily Giuliani had two hits and four RBI; Stephanie Beech had two hits and four runs scored; Eileen Lyons had three hits; and Welling and Stefanie Turek had two hits each.

Several times, the Chiefs might have scored had the forwards kept pressing on shots at the net. Instead, they pulled up. Late in the opening half, a shot from in front of the net by Lynne Nichols was deflected by a diving Julie Johnson, Huron's keeper. It slowly rolled just outside the post.

Late in the first half, Canton started to increase the pace, which worked to its advantage. Johnson turned away several shots, but the freshman's punting was weak. That enabled the Chiefs to keep the play deep in Huron's end of the field.

In the second half, a more intense Canton effort paid dividends. Jenny Russell centered the ball to Nichols, who dribbled past a Huron defender and pushed a shot that rolled past Johnson into the corner of the net.

THE CHIEFS' pressure continued unabated. The River Rats, now forced to put more into their own attack to try for the equalizer, couldn't contain Canton. With 15 minutes remaining, Ayana Nash chipped a pass from the right midfield into Colleen Connell, positioned 15 yards in front of the Huron net.

Connell one-touched the ball, sending it past Johnson for the insurance marker the Chiefs needed.

After each Canton goal, there were no scenes of celebration, no exuberant high-fives, no crowds of teammates engulfing the scorer. Instead, their attitude seemed more like, "It's about time."

"If that had been against Salem," noted Smith, "the girls would have been doing flips."

Forget the flips. What the Chiefs need is concentration and effort — and a few goals. The opposition at the regional won't be as tough as it was in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Which means Smith will be searching for ways to overcome a lackluster attitude, before it does some real harm.

Rocks runners-up in division duals

Plymouth Salem earned second-place honors in Lakes Division boys and girls track Wednesday, defeating Farmington in a pair of dual-meet showdowns.

The Rocks won the boys meet 97-31 at Salem, and the girls defeated the Falcons 78-50 at Farmington.

Salem finished 4-1 in the division, Westland John Glenn winning the boys title and Livonia Stevenson the girls. The Falcons end up 3-2.

The Rocks swept the relays and had eight different individual winners in the boys contest.

Salem's Jim Ramsay won the 110-meter hurdles in 15.5 and helped the Rocks sweep the long jump and 300 hurdles with second places in both.

LEON HISTER won the long jump (20-2) and Jeff Miner the low hurdles (41.7).

A pair of Salem basketball players duelled for the high jump title with Cliff Lee edging K.C. Kirkpatrick, who was jumping for the first time since the end of the tennis season. Both reached 6-1 but Lee had fewer misses.

Salem's John Thomas won the 800 run (2:05.2) and participated in the 3200 relay victory. Steve Boudreau, Thomas, Todd Cimo and Brendon Masterson won the latter event in 8:23.5.

Mike Cygon won the 100 dash in 11.6 and anchored the first-place 400 relay team. Scott Robertson, Andy Rojeski, Scott Austin and Cygon meshed their abilities for a 1:35.7 time.

Austin also was the lead-off man in the 400 relay, teaming with Justin Fisher, Pat Bowie and Matt Perron for a 45.9 showing.

Other individual winners for the Rocks were Joe Pawluszka in the 400 dash (52.6)

track

and Sean Speakman in the 3200 run (10:26.7).

THE ALL-freshman foursome of Jamie Miller, Andre Luscka, Todd Forbes and Derek Cudini capped the meet with a first-place finish and freshman-record time of 3:50.6.

The Falcons had four winners, including Ben Goba in the 1600 run (4:35.1) and Dave Winey in the 200 dash (23.9). In the field events, Farmington's Derrick Mehraban won the discus with a toss of 134-7, and Jason Gutting put the shot 51-1 1/2.

In the girls meet, Salem's Jennifer Harris won three events and set a school record with her time of 47.5 in the 300 hurdles. She also was first in the high jump (5-4) and the 100 hurdles (15.3).

Tracey Livermore had four firsts for the Rocks, Yolanda Jackson, Andrea Kinnelly and Tonya Wheeler three each.

Livermore won the long jump (15-5 1/2) and was on three winning relay teams. Jackson had the best 100 dash time at 12.8 and Kinnelly was tops in the 200 dash at 27.7.

In the relays, Kinnelly, Wheeler, Livermore and Jackson won the 400 and 800 races in 52.9 and 1:49.2. Livermore and Wheeler also teamed with Martha Bol and Theresa Giacherio to win the 1600 relay in 4:33.8.

FARMINGTON'S Jennifer Kiel had two victories and set a school record in the 3200 run. Her winning time of 11:22 broke Jenny Lindbert's mark of 11:36 set in the mid 1980s. Kiel won the 1600 with a 5:24.6 time.

"She went out and did it all by herself without anybody to push her," Farmington coach Bruce Brown said of Kiel's effort in the 3200.

Jenny Derwinski won the 800 run (2:34.3) and anchored the successful 1600 relay squad, which included Allison Davis, Jodi Van Ord and Carrie Walter. The Falcons had a 10:45.5 time.

Farmington's other winners were Becky Washnock in the shot put (30-7), Kerri Owczarzak in the discus (97-2) and Amy Trunk in the 400 dash (1:04).

The Western Lakes Activities Association girls meet will be Tuesday at Centennial Educational Park, the boys Wednesday at Livonia Churchill.

Grosso adapts to Arizona

By C.J. Riesk
staff writer

A cursory examination of what Brian Grosso accomplished this season as a distance runner for University of Arizona's track team could be termed good-but-nothing-sensational.

Grosso's coach, however, sees more. He sees potential. And promise.

"I look for him next year (to develop) like Marc Davis," said Wildcat coach Dave Murray. "Now, I don't know if Brian can match that. It would be great if he did. He has that kind of ability."

Murray's comparison is worth noting. Davis, who just finished his junior season at Arizona, was running 5,000 meters in 14:26 as a freshman. Grosso, the top distance runner among Michigan preps when at Walled Lake Western, had a season-best of 14:24.4 this season, his first at Arizona.

Davis learned a lot between his freshman and sophomore years. He was the Pac-10 and NCAA champion in the 5,000 last year, with a best time of 13:32.58.

Can Grosso learn that much?

LISTEN TO the diminutive runner discuss the problems he had as a freshman, and the belief is he just might.

"Academically and socially, college is so much different than high school," he said. "You're really independent. If things start going wrong, you don't have your parents to fall back on.

"The biggest adjustment was just coming in and disciplining yourself. You have to get your studying done. I was so worried about keeping my grades up, I could never really concentrate on my workouts."

Grosso was hardly questionable academically when he left Western. He had a 3.4 grade point. Still, his first semester at Arizona wasn't easy. He struggled to get a 2.0 ("I was just getting by"). His second semester was better, and truer-to-form — he had a 3.0.

It didn't help that Grosso was trying to juggle two sports in his first year of college (he ran cross country last fall). And, considering his own experiences, it should come as no surprise that he advocates freshmen ineligibility in sports.

"I WOULD agree with something like that, because coming in the first thing you have to worry about is your grades," said Grosso. "If you get bad grades, under a 2.0, in your first semester, you'll have to work for the next four years to get them up. If you sit out, you can concentrate on your grades."

What Grosso described was nothing more than any college freshman faces, except he also had to compete on two varsity teams. He had a lot to learn when he got to Arizona, both on and off the track.

In his sports, he had to adjust to longer distances; instead of 5,000-meters in cross country, he was running between 8,000 and 10,000. Instead of the 1,600 and 3,200 in track, he had to acclimate himself to 5,000.

He did it pretty well, although Saturday's race at the Pac-10 championships in Seattle were a disappointment. Grosso finished 11th in the 5,000 in 15:02.08.

"I GOT waxed," he admitted. "It was really windy, and the first two miles were slow. I felt good my first two miles. Then, with five laps to go, they started taking off and I just couldn't go with them. It just wasn't my day."

His coach thought the combination of the windy conditions and Grosso's lack of strength hurt him. "The conditions were not good for him," said Murray. "The weakest part of Brian's race is the last three laps. His pace would fall off. It's just a matter of strength."

Grosso plans on improving that this summer. He's only 5-foot-5, 118-pounds, so more strength will be necessary.

"I plan on being in the weight room and working on my body strength," Grosso said. "I'm fairly strong, but I have to be even stronger, in every sense."

NO DOUBT his mental approach will be vastly improved, too, which makes next year something to anticipate. "I'll be looking a lot toward next year. I'll know what to expect, how much time to spend on studying and how much to spend on training."

Which makes his coach equally optimistic. "I thought he had a solid freshman season," said Murray. "He adjusted very well to college life. Brian has a lot of talent, there's no question about it. He's right on line with what I expected."

Grosso had a higher expectations, at least at first. "I was hoping to run close to 14 minutes this year," he said. But midway through a year he described as "really hectic, everything was a new experience," he altered his hopes. "I was just happy to get through this year," he said.

And he joyfully looks forward to next year.

MAC'S BEST

It was a big week for Doug Martin, Eastern Michigan's junior pitcher from Redford Catholic Central. Martin finished the season in style, winning his last two starts, 3-2 over Mid-American Conference champion Central Michigan and 2-0 over Toledo. Those victories earned him MAC pitcher of the week honors.

They also assured him of a spot on the all-MAC first team. Martin, who stopped CMU on seven hits and hurled a five-hitter at Toledo, finished the season with an 8-5 record and a 3.00 earned run average; his ERA was fifth best in the MAC, and he was tied for fifth in wins.

Also named to the MAC's first team was Steve Waite, a junior third baseman from Plymouth Canton. That Waite was able to finish the year was remarkable. He broke his thumb early in the MAC season and missed 17 games, but came back for the last 15 and batted .333.

Also honored was Tim Dowd, a junior outfielder at CMU from Plymouth Salem, who was a second-team all-academic selection. Dowd has a 3.28 grade point average, with a major in psychology.

TOP PITCHER

Pat Miller, a senior righthanded pitcher for University of Detroit from Redford (Redford Union), was selected to the all-Midwestern Collegiate Conference's first team.

Miller was U-D's ace, going 6-4 with a 2.63 ERA. He surrendered 70 hits and 20 walks in 85 1/3 innings, striking out 57. He got the win in the Titans' only tournament victory, 8-4 over Dayton. U-D was 24-25 overall, 12-13 in the MCC.

Other U-D players with local backgrounds: Mike Stefanski, a junior catcher from Redford (RU), hit .325 with eight doubles, one home run and 22 RBI; Dennis Bushart, a senior second baseman from Redford (RU), hit .284 with five doubles, a triple, four homers and 17 RBI; Lance Sullivan, a junior first baseman from Livonia (Churchill), hit .261 with three doubles and 14 RBI.

and Rick Tavormina, a junior shortstop from Westland (John Glenn), hit .248 with eight doubles, two triples, a homer and 18 RBI.

NET FINAL

Mark Rakoczy, a senior on Northwood Institute's tennis team from Farmington Hills (Harrison HS), extended his season by qualifying for the NAIA National Men's Tennis Championship last weekend in Kansas City, Mo.

Although hurt much of the season — Rakoczy was 3-2 in doubles play — and his partner, sophomore Steve Smigielski, were one of three NI doubles team to qualify for the tournament. The Northmen were 7-4 in dual meets this year and won their ninth-straight NAIA District 23 title.

AWARD-WINNER

Todd Marion, the sophomore pitcher on University of Michigan's baseball team from Canton (Salem HS), was the Betty Simmons Award winner, presented to U-M's most improved player.

Marion was the stopper for the Wolverines, appearing in 24 games and going 5-3 with a 3.44 ERA and a school-record eight saves. In 34 innings, he allowed 28 hits and 10 walks, striking out 29.

Injuries kept Greg Haeger, a junior first baseman from Livonia (Catholic Central HS), sidelined half the season. He batted just 75 times, hitting .213 with seven RBI. Haeger was also 2-0 on the mound, pitching 8 1/3 innings and giving up no runs on three hits and four walks, striking out 11.

OFF THE TEE

Denny Sikkila, a sophomore at University of Michigan from Walled Lake (Western), finished tied for 36th at the Big Ten Golf Championships in Minneapolis with a four-round score of 305. U-M finished seventh.

Marlins capture league track title

By Bob Stebbins
staff writer

Farmington Hills Mercy's girls track team won the Catholic League A-B championship Tuesday in a meet Mercy coach Gary Servais said went according to plan.

"Looking at the meet on paper, I thought it would be close between us and (Detroit) DePores, with DePores being a real strong sprint team," Servais said. "I thought our balance in all events would offset their strength in sprints, and that's pretty much what happened."

Mercy won the meet with 128 1/2 points followed by DePores (84), Redford Bishop Borgess (59), Dearborn Divine Child (51) and Livonia Ladywood (40).

The Marlins scored in every event except the long jump.

Individual champions for Mercy were Laure DeMattia in the shot put (35-3 1/4), Lauren Hood in the 800 meters (2:23.7) and Heather Knoll in the 1600 (5:29.4) and 3200 (11:50).

DeMattia and Hood also placed fourth in the discus and 400 meters, respectively.

OTHER TOP performers for the Marlins included Heather Sullivan (second in the 800), Jeanette Turner (second in the shot put and discus), Carrie Walton (fifth in the 1600 and third in the 3200) and Kathleen Gerigk (fourth in the 800 and the 1600).

Mercy's relay teams also performed commendably.

Gerigk, Walton, Sullivan and Kathy Cook combined to place first in the 3200. Mercy also took second in the 1600 and placed third in the 400 and 800. Cook was a member of all four relay teams.

Servais pointed to hard work as the key to his team's triumph.

"I'm real proud of the kids," he said. "They worked real hard and it paid off."

The Marlins have climbed up the ladder in the Catholic League meet each of Servais' three years as coach. They finished third his first year, took second last year and were the champions this time around.

REDFORD BISHOP Borgess coach John McGreevy was pleased with the way his third-place Spartans ran.

"We ran excellent," he said. "The times are really coming down." Florence Pugh won the 300 high hurdles (47.9) to lead Borgess. Pugh's time set a school record.

Other top performers for the Spartans were Erica Shepard (second in the 400), Alena McBee (third in the discus and fifth in the shot put) and Angie Hollis (third in the high jump).

Shepard's time of 58.6 in the 400 also broke a school record.

The Spartans' real strength was in the relays. The team of Hollis, Chiquese Sears, Pugh and Shepard won the 1600 (4:06.8). Borgess also placed second in the 400 and 800 relays.

HAND EXERCISES IN ARTHRITIS

You might think it reasonable that one way to overcome the weakness and deformity of arthritis in the hand is to exercise the fingers.

Squeezing a rubber ball, stretching the finger repeatedly or putting small weights on the fingers are exercise said to help an ailing hand. Unfortunately, none of the above will improve arthritis. Exercise helps atrophied muscles, not swollen joints. At such a time, joints need rest: the body will counter greater exertion with an even greater increase in pain.

If your joints cannot work properly, no amount of exercising will strengthen the muscles. Trying to strengthen muscles when joint function is impaired is like attempting to an engine tune up when the car has four flat tires! However, if your joints can move with little pain or compromise, then the muscles of the hand will strengthen, a result ensuing from activity and use.

Exercises for hand muscles has a role after hand surgery. Then muscles that previously fell into disuse need to regenerate. Repair of the joint opens the opportunity for use.

This situation aside, undertaking muscle exercise for the arthritic hand only leads to further pain, fatigue, loss of use, and increased frustration.

Bowling awards dispensed

THE GREATER DETROIT Bowling Association held its annual meeting on Sunday, May 20 with the election of officers and directors as the first order of business, followed by some awards and a small tournament for the delegates.

Bob Chamberlain was elected the 1990 Bowlers Man of the Year. Vince Meli and myself were presented with meritorious service awards.

Meli started bowling before most of you readers were even born — 1929. He has long been a promoter of bowling and has performed as "Jimmy the Clown" at hospitals, nursing homes and benefits. At age 73, Meli is still an avid bowler.

The highlight of the day was when I gave my acceptance speech in appreciation for the award given to me. I did keep the speech under five minutes, usually letting the typewriter do all the talking.

The meeting took place at Thunderbowl Lanes in Allen Park. If you've never been to Thunderbowl, it is a worthwhile trip for any bowling enthusiast. The Detroit Bowling Hall of Fame is on display, along with plenty of bowling memorabilia.

Thunderbowl will also be the sight of the Y.A.B.A. National Tournament, which will take place later this summer.

SPEAKING OF Y.A.B.A. I will be in Traverse City this weekend to watch the state scholarship tournament. Hopefully I will have good news to report about local youth bowlers who will be participating in the event.

In the High School Tournament Sunday, May 19 at Pioneer Lanes, Utica Stevenson's boys prevailed for the second straight year.

Loaded with talent, Stevenson averaging 200 pins in the finals.

The girls division was won by Utica Ford.

Southfield High made it to the finals in the girls division, but the boys team fell 13 pins short of making it to the finals after being eliminated by the champions.

Dave Capaldi of Redford Catholic Central rolled games of 256, 230, 268, 210 and 204. Nyla Kluska of Westland John Glenn recorded a 224 game and 568 series.

Next year, the format will be expanded to statewide competition, an earlier starting date and major corporate sponsorship. If there's any corporations interested in this action, contact the men who started it all, Harry Burke and Mike Martus.

THE SEAGRAM COOLERS U.S. Ladies Open is underway at Satellite Bowl in Dearborn Heights. This is a great opportunity for bowlers and fans to see the top lady bowlers in the world compete for the largest prize offering on the Ladies Professional Tour.

Remaining on this week's schedule: Monday — final qualifying round (9 a.m. to 10 p.m.); Tuesday — semifinals (9 a.m. to 1 p.m.); Wednesday — second round (10 a.m.) and third round (6 p.m.); Thursday May 31 — nationally televised finals on ESPN starting at 7:30 p.m. (fans must be seated by 7 p.m.).

For further information call Satellite Bowl at 278-7400.

Any league secretary who has not yet sent in the final averages from your league are asked to do so at once by Tom McKay of the G.D.B.A. It is vital to the completion of the yearbook and any delays just cause more work for the association.

• A three man team from Avon Recreation in Rochester Hills went to the Bay Lanes three-man tournament in Bay City. They ran up a 2170 series, good for second place with only one week to go. The team consists of Bruce Randall, Jim Baiz and Jerry Fletcher.

• There is still time to enter and win money in the Hamtramck Singles Classic. This is one of the best payoffs in the country with $54,000 going to the winner. It is handicapped at 70 percent, so quite often it is the lower average bowler getting pins added to their score and taking the money. For reservations and information call 875-1546.

• Even though the regular season is over and the spring leagues are just under way, there is another venue for the bowlers who want to keep competitive in the off-season — the Moonlight Doubles competition at local bowling centers. Those offering this competition include: Bowl One Lanes in Troy, Country Lanes in Farmington Hills, Westland Bowl in Westland, Super Bowl in Canton, Drake Lanes in Farmington Hills and West Bloomfield Lanes in West Bloomfield. These events usually take place late in the evening. Times and rates will vary, so call ahead.

• A special mention for Howie Gerencia of Southfield who rolled an 846 series, including a perfect game at Cherry Hill Lanes last month.

• Merri-Bowl Lanes and the Livonia Police Department D.A.R.E. Kids (ages 10-15) will rock and roll against drugs from 7 to 1 on Friday June 1 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

A mere $4 admission fee includes unlimited bowling, rental shoes, a DJ spinning all the hits, dancing and door prizes provided by Sam Jams of Livonia.

For more information call Merri-Bowl at 427-2900.

VARDAR III THIRD

The Vardar III '74 soccer team placed third recently in the under-16 national indoor championships in Columbus, Ohio.

Vardar III outscored its opponents 43-7 in six matches.

Coached by Mark Christensen, formerly of the Memphis Rogues pro indoor squad, Vardar III scored wins over the North Carolina Sprints (8-0), Jet Ohio (8-0), Brighton, N.Y., (13-1) and the Georgia Panthers (8-1).

Vardar II was beaten in the semifinals by the Oakwood, Conn. Selects (4-3), before rebounding to beat the Wichita, Kan., Selects (3-2) in the consolation final.

Dominic Vella of Livonia, the tournament's leading scorer with eight goals, and Dario Rauker of Westland, who added seven, were named first-team all-tournament. Mike Gentile of Livonia (four goals) and Dale Garrish of Troy (three) were named to the second team.

ed four straight shutouts.

SOCCER MEETING

There will be a sign-up meeting for boys interested in playing varsity soccer for Plymouth Salem next fall at 6 p.m. Friday, June 1, in Room 2703 of the high school. Any male who will be in grades 9-12 is welcome. For information call coach Ken Johnson at 397-0668.

SOCCER TRYOUTS

The 1977 Plymouth Kicks Little Caesars Premier soccer team will have tryouts on Wednesday, May 30, and Thursday, May 31, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the Ford Sheldon Road Plant soccer field. All Premier skill level boys born in 1977 are invited. Call Tony Derhake at 459-7057 or Paul Kogut at 455-8175.

• Tryouts for the Canton Sidekicks under-14 girls premier team (born 1977) will be from 1-2:30 p.m. Sunday, June 3, and from 6-7:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday, June 5 and 7, at the fields in front of Canton and Salem high schools (Joy and Canton Center roads).

For more information, call Mike Burns (453-0025) or Marilyn Goff (459-1804).

• The 1976 Plymouth Lightning Premier under-16 girls soccer team will have tryouts June 4 and 5 from 6-8 p.m. at Sheldon Ford Plant field. Players must have been born in 1975 or 1976 and must attend both nights. Call Joe Barberio (455-7443) or Ron Predneski (425-9406).

• Tryouts for the Vardar Soccer Club of Livonia (boys born in 1980) will be at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday, June 1-2, at Whitman Field, located off W. Chicago between Farmington and Merriman roads. For information call 421-0187.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The Challenge Festival Singles Tennis Tournament, sponsored by Canton Parks and Recreation, will take place June 1-3 at Plymouth Canton High School.

The registration deadline is 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 30. The fee is $5 and each person must supply his/her own can of U.S.T.A. approved tennis balls.

The age divisions will be 14-under, 15-19, 20-29, 30-39, 40-49 and 50-over. For information, call 397-5110.

Pioneer league golf champ

Neither Plymouth Canton nor Plymouth Salem could challenge Ann Arbor Pioneer for the Central Eight Golf League tournament title Thursday at Fellows Creek Golf Course in Canton.

Three Pioneers finished among the top five, including medalist Susan Evashkevski, who shot 80, as they won the title with a 354. Saline took second with a 369, followed by Howell (405) and Brighton (410).

Canton was fifth at 422, with Salem sixth at 453. Pinckney took seventh (461) and Ann Arbor Huron was eighth (502).

Sarah Beckman led the Chiefs, shooting 94 — seventh-best overall. Kerri Kittleson was second among Canton scorers with a 103, with Ann Vernon next (114) and Melissa Vernon fourth (118).

FOR SALEM, top team honors went to Jamie Cloar and Elizabeth Koehl, each with a 110. Melissa Solberth was third among the Rocks at 115, with Natalie Joyce and Megan Andrews tying for fourth at 118.

Second-best individual score in the tournament was carded by Pioneer's Jodi Smith, who shot 85. Saline's Susan Aquino (86) and Nicole Chaconas (87) were next, with Pioneer's Kristi Maier fifth (91).

The top four teams are all state-tournament qualifiers. Pioneer is ranked fourth in Class A and Saline is first in Class B.

Canton finished 10-6 in dual meets, with all of its losses coming against Pioneer, Saline and Brighton.

LIVONIA LADYWOOD, bolstered by Michelle Gossett's third place finish, qualified for the state Class A girls golf meet.

The top three finishers at Friday's Oak Pointe Golf Club Regional — Ann Arbor Pioneer (378), Ladywood (402) and Brighton (411) — advance to the state finals, Saturday, June 2 at Forest Akers in East Lansing.

Sam Marshau and Jodi Smith, both of Pioneer, tied for individual honors, each shooting an 89.

Gossett took third with a 91 with Kristyn Schulkins of Farmington Hills Mercy and Tara Black of Howell tying for fourth at 96.

(The top five individual finishers automatically qualify for state.)

Joining Gossett in East Lansing will be teammates Lauren Zimmerman (102), Jane Bielenda (104) and Meghan Blake (105).

Rounding out the top eight in the team standings: Howell (428), Mercy and Plymouth Salem (449 each), Livonia Stevenson (450) and Plymouth Canton (453).

Elizabeth Koehl led Salem with a 105.

Meghan Johnson had a 103 for Stevenson, while Sarah Beckman paced Canton with a 102.

73.056. Transition Rules For Water and Sewer Benefit Charges Amendments.

Amended Water and Sewer Benefit Charges shall apply to all new construction for which Benefit Charges have not yet been paid. If Benefit Charges for a single family residence, subdivision or development have been paid in part and an installment balance remains, the fees for the installment balance shall be calculated in the same manner as the initial payment; provided, however, that modifications in a subdivision or development, and additions to a building or structure after the effective date of the amendatory ordinance shall be assessed Benefit Charges as provided for in the amendatory ordinance.

73.060. Industrial Waste Control (I.W.C.) Charge.

A monthly charge shall be applied to all non-residential customers for the purpose of the industrial waste control surveillance program charge. A residential unit shall be defined as any structure designed and used for year-round habitation where average occupancy by the same person or persons was longer than two consecutive months during the previous year. Non-residential units shall include any sewered premises which do not meet the above description. The monthly charge shall not be applied on the basis of any meter which services solely residential users or which is used for fire protection purposes only. The I.W.C. surcharge shall be applied as follows:

73.080. Industrial Waste Surcharge and Industrial Waste Pretreatment.

B. It is ordained that the Schedule of Industrial Waste Pollutant Strength surcharges is hereby adopted and made effective for users of the wastewater system of the Charter Township of Plymouth. Said surcharges are to be computed as follows:

COMPUTATION OF INDUSTRIAL WASTE POLLUTANT STRENGTH SURCHARGE.

The industrial waste pollutant strength surcharge shall be computed in accordance with the following formula:

SC = 0.0624 V [a (BOD-275) + b (TSS-350) + c (P-12) + d (FOG-100)]

WHERE:

- SC = Pollutant strength surcharge fee in dollars for the billing period
- V = Volume of waste discharged in the billing period in Mdf (1000 cubic feet)
- "BOD" = Five-day biochemical oxygen demand of the waste expressed in milligrams per liter (ppm).
- "TSS" = Total suspended solids in the waste expressed in milligrams per liter (ppm).
- "P" = Phosphorus in the waste expressed in milligrams per liter (ppm).
- a, b, c, d = Surcharge rates, $/pound for treating BOD, TSS, P and FOG respectively.
- 0.0624 = Factor which converts Mdf to MM lbs.
- a = $0.025/pound
- b = 0.113/pound
- c = 1.196/pound
- d = 0.020/pound

The total sewage charge for a particular industry would be the sum of the base flow charge and the surcharge would be calculated from the following formula:

UC = V(R) + SC

WHERE:

- UC = Total sewage charge for the billing period in dollars.
- V = Volume of waste discharged in billing period of Mdf.
- R = Basic flow sewage rate is $6.00/Mdf, effective January 1, 1980.
- SC = Surcharge in dollars as computed above.

Section 2. Severability. If any clause, section, paragraph, or part of this Ordinance, or the application thereof to any person, firm, corporation, legal entity or circumstances, shall be for any reason adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or invalid, said judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder of this Ordinance and the application of such provision to other persons, firms, corporations, legal entities or circumstances by said judgment shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, section, paragraph, or part of this Ordinance thereof directly involved in the case or controversy in which said judgment shall have been rendered and to the person, firm, corporation, legal entity or circumstance then and there involved. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent of the body that the Ordinance would have been adopted had such invalid or unconstitutional provision not been included in this Ordinance.

Section 3. Repeal. All other Ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance are, to the extent of such inconsistencies, hereby repealed.

Section 4. Savings Clause. The balance of Chapter 73, except as herein amended, shall remain in full force and effect. The repeal provided herein shall not abrogate or affect any offense or act committed or done, or any penalty or forfeiture incurred, or any pending fees, assessments, litigation or prosecution of any right established, occurring prior to the effective date hereof.

Section 5. Publication. The Township Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published in the manner required by law.

WRITE IT AND REAP!

1. Give the reader specific information. Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as color, size, condition, brand name, age, features and benefits. Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts and reap the rewards!

2. Include the price. Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.

3. Avoid abbreviations. Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in kitchen) or WSW (white side wall) tires and won't take the time to figure them out. A confused reader is a disinterested reader. Get the most for your money and use complete words.

4. Include phone number and specify hours. Be sure to let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!

5. Run on consecutive days. Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your telephone salesperson or outside sales representative.

It's a call that's synonymous with the game of golf. So are things like par, dog-leg and birdie. They're also synonymous with The Bear and The Legend, Michigan's premiere golf courses, designed by golfing greats Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus. # Skipper's discover interlake challenge

staff writer

Brisk breezes and lapping waves. Serene solitude. A test of raw skill.

These qualities and a plentiful supply of lakes comprise the basic elements in Michigan sailboat racing, a sport that lures aficionados who revel in adrenalin-rushing competition and success born of stark proficiency and a bit of luck.

But not just any sailboat. Small sailboats, 17-foot sloops. And not just any racing. Interlake racing, where expertise is the telling edge.

This, lovers and masters of the sport say, is the absolute best.

"Small boats, you really get the feel for sailing. You get a chance to do everything. You're the skipper," said Mike Golden, an Oakland County insurance agent who has been sailing 22 years.

Golden helps oversee a comprehensive sailing program offered by the Michigan Council of American Youth Hostels (AYH), likely the largest program of its kind in the country. AYH also hosts a summer schedule of interlake racing on Kent Lake in Kensington Metro Park.

"Interlake racing is a true test of skill between skippers. There are no advantages," Golden said, because each craft weighs the same and carries identical sails and equipment.

"UNTIL YOU'VE RACED a small boat, made it perform the best it can, you haven't really sailed," Carol Boyke, 27 of Rochester, said of inter-lake racing. Boyke, who learned to sail "from a book" as a youth, enrolled in the AYH basic sailing class because "I wanted to learn other than by the book."

Boyke got more than she bargained for. A year ago she married the sailing instructor, a 28-year-old seasoned sailor and automotive engineer named Bill Boyke.

"We'd have hot and heavy races and then go out to eat afterwards. One thing led to another," Carol Boyke said with a laugh. The couple's dream: "We hope our kids will be sailors and in 15 years we want to take the family and sail around the world."

Bob Clarke of Farmington Hills, a retired accountant, also learned to sail as a youth, during summer vacations at Clark Lake. After years of membership in the Pontiac Yacht Club where he raced larger boats, Clarke recently completed AYH instruction, enabling him to compete in interlake races.

"Racing is very exciting, very exhilarating and quite competitive. It adds a great deal of interest to sailing," said Clarke who, at 70 years of age, eagerly anticipates the new challenge of interlake racing. He enters his first race this summer.

An added bonus: Daughter Margaret Panzer, Clarke's former crewmate at the Pontiac Yacht Club, is now enrolled in AYH instruction. The mother of three, Panzer may again crew for her father or even race against him.

"THE SOLITUDE. The quiet. The wind blowing in your face. I always figured sailing would be perfect for me," said Jim Corcoran, a 39-year-old Southfield fireman from West Bloomfield who got "hooked" on sailing three years ago during a week of sailing on Lake Huron sponsored annually by AYH.

Corcoran has since completed the AYH basic and advanced sailing courses, earning his skipper rating during basic training and honing racing skills in the advanced course. He is now enrolled in the captain course, becoming qualified on a 28-foot keelboat. AYH also offers voyager training on a 30-foot S-2 keelboat.

Dave Pitts, a Southfield insurance manager from Livonia, helps coordinate the AYH sailing education program. A Californian who learned to sail during high school 30 years ago, Pitts revived his interest in sailing after moving to the Great Lakes state from Utah and Montana where sailing is virtually unknown.

Student Karen Oerkionimi of Farmington Hills leans to the side as instructor Mary Wagner of Northville brings the boat around.

Race Schedule

DON'T LOOK FOR THE familiar red, white and blue spinaker of Dennis Connor's Stars and Stripes. Kent Lake at Kensington Metropark isn't quite up to snuff for the popular America's Cup skipper.

But it is up to snuff for interlake racing. Racing skippers are converging on the lake throughout the summer in a true test of their sailing skills.

The skippers race 17-foot centerboard sloops. Each craft weighs the same and carries identical sails and equipment. The winning edge is with the skipper, and enthusiasts describe it as "purist racing."

The race normally includes a course run twice around three buoys. Each turn requires new strategy. Wind direction is essential in figuring the number of sails in order to maximize speed and when to tack.

A skipper rating is required to be a part of the interlake racing at Kent Lake, but you need only be a sailing enthusiast to watch the action from the shore.

The racing kicked off Memorial Day weekend and continues throughout the summer and into the fall.

The spring series includes races at 3 p.m. Sunday, June 10 and 24, and 9 a.m. Saturday, July 7, and Sunday, July 22. Race regattas will be 9 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 11, and Sunday, Aug. 13.

Closing out the season will be the fall racing series — 9 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 9 and 23, and Saturday, Oct. 6.

For more information about the program, call the Michigan Chapter of American Youth Hostels at 548-0811.

MOVING PICTURES

Sean Young and Nicolas Cage star as elite Army aviators in "Fire Birds."

Spielberg scores again with his 'Future Part III'

Chalk up another winner for Steven Spielberg's crowd and don't miss the fun in "Back to the Future Part III" (A, PG, 105 minutes). Marty McFly (Michael J. Fox) and Doc Brown (Christopher Lloyd) are back, this time to the past, to finish the trilogy in Hill Valley, 1885.

Through numerous complications of time travel, Doc winds up as a blacksmith stuck in 1885 with a damaged DeLorean time machine. He sends a letter through Wells Fargo for future (1955) delivery to Marty.

With the information in that letter, Marty discovers the cave where Doc hid the DeLorean. He also discovers a tombstone with Doc's name on it. Burial date was in 1885 just five days after the letter was sent.

While it may take a while to sort out the complications of time travel and who is doing what to whom and when, rest assured that the film is extremely well-structured with all the details worked out quite logically. In fact, one of the pleasures of "Back to the Future Part III" is recognizing the references to Parts I and II.

Even if you don't remember the first two parts, "Part III" is still a great deal of fun as a contemporary young man, Marty McFly, is forced to deal with the behavior and living standards of his great-grandfather's time. As a matter of fact, Seamus McFly, also played by Michael J. Fox in some very well done sequences.

IT'S THE same place but a different time and Marty must face up to the local bully, Buford "Mad Dog" Tannen (Thomas F. Wilson). Sound familiar? Well, it is with a new twist as Wilson does a marvelous satire of the stereotypical western outlaw.

The other complication is Doc, who falls in love with the new schoolmarm, Clara Clayton (Mary Steenburgen), and wants to stay in 1885.

That would mess up the space-time continuum so Marty has his hands full. But not to worry. In the best tradition of the romantic comedy, McFly wends his way through the old west, only occasionally stepping in horse droppings.

"Back to the Future Part III" is a fine comic film with a high entertainment quotient and an upbeat ending.

"Fire Birds" (C, PG-13, 81 minutes) was a fairly inspired marketing idea but it got produced as mediocre movie with obvious parallels to "Top Gun." This time out the arrogant, hotshot pilot, Jake Preston (Nicolas Cage), flies for the Navy. The bad guys are South American drug lords instead of communists and Billie Lee Guthrie (Sean Young) is a pilot instead of a consultant like Kelly McGillis was.

Oh, and Phil Collins sings "I Will Follow You" instead of Berlin's "Every Breath You Take."

CHIEF WARRANT Officer Brad Little (Tommy Lee Jones) is fun to watch as an unflappable instructor who sees shades of himself in Jake Preston. It doesn't get any better.

Cage — a fine actor with a quirky list of credits, "Valley Girl," "Moonstruck" and "Vampire's Kiss" among them — isn't quite convincing as the ultra-confident Preston. Cage's considerable talent is lost in what appears to be a severe case of miscasting.

It's hard to figure Sean Young. She does a credible job with a one-dimensional character obviously created to provide the obligatory love scene in this formula film. Young is believable but the relationship, history and chemistry between Guthrie and Preston is sloppy, haphazard and incredible.

In the long run, some exciting combat sequences designed by Richard T. Stevens save "Fire Birds" from the big crash and burn. Sadly, it's a little too little a little too late. (Reviewed by Susan Finchem.)

STILL PLAYING:

"Bird on a Wire" (A, PG-13, 105 minutes). Mel Gibson and Goldie Hawn on thrilling cross-country search for nasty character trying to murder Gibson.
"Cadillac Man" (B, R, 94 minutes). Slow start detracts from Robin Williams fine, comic performance as Cadillac salesman under pressure.
"Camille Claudel" (R). Oscar-nominated (best actress and foreign film) story of Auguste Rodin's mistress, a sculptress in her own right.
"Cinema Paradiso" (A, 120 minutes). Excellent story of Alfredo (Philippe Noiret), the projectionist in a small Sicilian town just after World War II.
"Crazy People" (C, R, 90 minutes). Ad exec (Dudley Moore) proves that mental patients are nicer than sane people but weak and underdeveloped structure undercuts that humorous.

Doc (Christopher Lloyd) and Marty McFly (Michael J. Fox) see the effects of their intervention in the year 1885 in "Back to the Future Part III."

ALTERNATIVE VIEWING

'Tie Me Up' renews dispute

By John Monaghan
special writer

Pedro Almodovar's "Tie Me Up, Tie Me Down" is a semi-successful twist on an oft-filmed story. A lonely and resourceful psychopath, Ricky, holds a beautiful young woman, Marina, captive until she falls in love with him. (Remember "The Collector" or even "Beauty and the Beast"?)

For the popular Spanish director of "Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown," Ricky's request is not unusual. Almodovar's characters — whether they're drug-crazed nuns or transsexuals — are always hungry for love. And usually they end up finding it.

What bothers viewers — especially feminists — in "Tie Me Up" is the possible perpetuation of the myth that women enjoy being tied up to a bed. The moral content, more than a single hot-and-heavy sex scene, has caused the MPAA to refuse the film a rating.

MARINA IS no virginal victim. She's an ex-porn star and a drug addict. Should this make her victimization less of a shock? The kidnapper has already had willing sex with Marina during a brief fling — that's hardly an issue here. He's simply fulfilling his promise to return someday and take care of her.

The main characters, played by Antonio Banderas and Victoria Abril, sustain the film. Marina joins the list of fascinating Almodovar women who can look both harsh and beautiful at the same time. Ricky, with his close-cropped haircut and whipped puppy face, is totally incapable of knowing how to begin a relationship.

Though "Tie Me Up" opens with a rather contrived effect where a painting fades to the opening shot, Almodovar does compose his scenes with a lively palette of colors. In one clever throwaway gag, Ricky and Marina watch a TV commercial for a retirement plan.

"The Germans know how to plan ahead," the commercial says, showing Nazi youths plotting a military offensive. Meanwhile, Spanish youths tango the night away, clenching flowers in their teeth. While the Germans now vacation in Spain, the ad contends, the native Spaniards are begging on the street corners.

THE MOVIE needs more inspired moments like this, along with some dynamic minor characters. The female drug seller who rides a motorbike and the wheelchair-bound movie director with a bullfighter's libido are too peripheral to the story.

The question remains: Does "Tie Me Up" satirize the messed-up macho male psyche, which can only obtain a woman through force and domination? Or is Ricky, caveman techniques aside, a sympathetic hero who breaks through the barriers of modern courtship?

With Almodovar, you're never quite sure. Moral ambiguity is one of the reasons why his films — even mediocre ones like this — are so fascinating.

VIDEO VIEWING

By Dan Greenberg
special writer

The MGM/UA vaults aren't empty yet. Witpress their May 23 release date for three musical titles never seen before on video cassette: "Born to Dance," "Small Town Girl" and "Two Girls and a Sailor."

The first stars Eleanor Powell, James Stewart and Buddy Ebsen and was nominated for two Oscars — best dance and best song.

Who says Fay Wray only appeared in "King Kong"? She's featured in "Small Town Girl," along with Billie Burke and Chill Wills. Jane Powell, Farley Granger and Ann Miller star in this story of a rich, big-city boy arrested for speeding in a small town where he falls for the judge's daughter.

"Two Girls and a Sailor" also features many well-known performers — Jose Iturbi, Jimmy Durante, Lena Horne and Gracie Allen. June Allyson and Gloria DeHaven star as Patsy and Jean Deyo, a song-and-dance sister act which entertains servicemen.

One of the advantages of video cassettes is the relative ease with which material may be added, changed or improved. On May 23 MGM/UA re-released "Meet Me in St. Louis." This print was produced from a newly restored technicolor master.

Billed as a "collector's edition" at $19.95, this Judy Garland classic includes a previously deleted musical number, "Boys and Girls Like You and Me," written by Rodgers and Hammerstein and sung by Garland.

Also included on this tape are rare publicity stills from the film and an adaptation of the original theatrical trailer.

MGM/UA IS also re-releasing a host of other musicals — "The Harvey Girls," "In the Good Ole Summertime," "Kismet," "Kiss Me Kate," "The Pirate," "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," "Till the Clouds Roll By" and "Ziegfeld Follies."

If you don't want to sing along, there's western action galore. MGM/UA also has a major John Wayne promotion, including four never-before released titles and another restoration, "Red River," at $19.95 in Howard Hawks original cut at 133 minutes.

John Wayne stars as Tom Dunson, a determined cattle king, determined to get his cattle up the trail. Walter Brennan, Joanne Dru, John Ireland, Noah Berry Jr. and Matthew Garth also are featured.

The four new titles are "Legend of the Lost" with John Wayne guiding Rossano Brazzi to find his father's grave and, you guessed it, long-lost treasure. Sophia Loren is a prostitute who has fun with both of them.

"The Wings of Eagles" gathers three gung-ho types together. John Ford directed this movie about Commander Frank Wead, daredevil Navy pilot, screenwriter and commander of a World War II aircraft carrier. Wead was Wayne's and Ford's friend.

ANOTHER JOHN Ford film, "Three Godfathers," and "Reunion in France" are the other two John Wayne films new to video. As well, this release includes "Brannigan," "The Horse Soldiers" and "They Were Expendable." That ought to keep John Wayne fans quiet for a week.

If old is old and new is better — and your tastes for video aren't too demanding — Academy Entertainment does it again with two productions due on the racks May 31.

In "Thieves of Fortune" (R, color, 100 minutes) former Miss Universe Shawn Weatherly bares part of her body to prove to fierce Argentinian natives that she could change from man to woman. As a matter of fact, her disguise as a man to win Don Sergi Christoforo's (Lee Van Cleef) $28 million fortune may have fooled the Indians but it shouldn't fool viewers with one eye open.

The best thing to be said for "Thieves of Fortune" is that Academy Entertainment is supporting the Rainforest Foundation with a percentage of sales from this title.

"Conspiracy" (R, color, 87 minutes) is a clone of "Scandal." It's advertised as based on a true story of a British minister and his sexual depravity which leads to difficulties just prior to a national election.

While there are overtones of the Profumo case and a fairly promising start, the whole project soon degenerates. Better writing and acting might have made this an effective commentary on power.

Both "Thieves of Fortune" and "Conspiracy" are like cheap candy. They're colorful enough at first and go down quite easily. But they leave a sickly sweet aftertaste and your teeth soon begin to ache.

STREET BEATS

Mol Triffid is interested in making loud music and writing dark commentaries on the human condition. Put those together and Mol Triffid is an interesting band.

Mol Triffid: Mystical and on the dark side

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Though he sits only a few feet across the table, one has to squint to see Kurt Serbus of Mol Triffid. Only part of that can be attributed to the lighting.

A mystical haze seems to surround the frontman of one of the bands in this area making the loudest noise.

As Serbus sits in a dark corner of Club Heidelberg in Ann Arbor, he has the aura of a high plains drifter. Vultures should swirl overhead, tumbleweeds ought to be blowing through the club.

Perhaps Serbus knows something; he's just not letting on. Yes, that's it, he knows who killed Laura Palmer on TV's "Twin Peaks."

"We believe in taking peeks under rocks," said Serbus, who speaks in quiet, measured tones, a contrast to his apocalyptic yelps on stage. "Some bands would like to live under those rocks or pretend they do. We're not interested in that."

Mol Triffid is interested in making loud music. Mol Triffid is also interested in writing dark commentaries on the human condition. Put together, Mol Triffid is an interesting band.

With that, a person is handed a copy of the band's recently released 7-inch single. The song title says it all — "I Wanna See Pretty People Doin' Ugly Things."

ACCORDING TO Serbus, he envisioned a man in his living room with the lights out watching pornography when writing the number. He creates the character in the song, screaming out in glee what transpires on his TV. The scenario is rather pathetic, but it rhymes. Music is handled by drummer

John Westerman, Shahjidak and Ball. Lyrics are Serbus' territory. The aforementioned trio composes the hard driving, metallic sound, and hands a tape over to Serbus. Then, Serbus writes the lines.

Said Ball, "There's no way of knowing how it's going to be. He is responsive to the music."

Ball and Sahjidak sit at another table across from Serbus. When the subject of influences comes up, Sahjidak mentions Jimi Hendrix and then looks over for Serbus' approval.

Some have compared Mol Triffid to Metallica, which band members disdain. The band formed in February 1989. Westerman, Ball and Sahjidak jammed together and auditioned a lead singer. Things didn't work out with the first one, so they asked a friend to join. Serbus was the frontman of choice.

Serbus' talent to rhyme in time is traced back to his elementary school days in Brighton.

"WHEN I was in elementary school, I wrote a lot of poems," said Serbus, who has a bachelor's in film and video from the University of Michigan. "My proudest moment was in the fifth grade when they changed the name of the school from West Elementary to Lindbom Elementary after our principal and they asked me to write a poem about him. (Trying to recite a verse) 'He kisses the knees of those that were scraped,' or something like that. That's all I remember."

Serbus doesn't connect emotionally with those characters he creates. He prefers style disguised as substance.

On stage, Mol Triffid's style is a buzz saw of sight and sound. Opening recently for the San Francisco-based outfit, The Melvins, the band lit the wick for an explosive display with the burning guitar piece "Quack, Quack."

After Ball fires up his guitar Serbus lets loose with torrent of guttural screeches. He sounds as if his tortured vocal chords will need a vat of Listerine to soothe after the show.

The fact Serbus performed a 1½-hour show the night before at Club Soda in Kalamazoo make this night's performance even more remarkable.

SERBUS IS only part of Mol Triffid machine. Westerman on drums, Ball on guitar and Sahjidak on bass create a metal sound as loud as two garbage trucks scraping bumpers in a back alley.

The sound isn't accompanied by a look. Unlike many metal outfits, Mol Triffid is not a hair band and the only leather they have is probably their wallets.

Aesthetically, Mol Triffid has something to offer.

"We do have artistic intentions," Ball said. "We are out to make a well-crafted piece of music."

Mol Triffid will set out for an East Coast tour in June. The band's single is receiving considerable air play on Windsor's CJAM-FM and the University of Michigan's WCBN-FM.

Like all bands, the No. 1 priority is to get to the top of the heap. Unlike many bands, though, its vision is not always a pretty one.

"We're not a gloom band," Sahjidak said. "We make music that makes you think and makes you laugh."

Mol Triffid will perform on Tuesday, May 22, at the Blind Pig, 208 S. First, Ann Arbor. For information, call 996-8555.

BASEBALL'S GREATEST HITS II

— various artists

It's a new season... and a new baseball compilation album from the folks at Rhino Records.

"Baseball's Greatest Hits: Let's Play II" is a followup to last year's popular baseball and music compilation. But as the 1985 Tigers could tell you, sequels can be disappointing.

The highlight in No. 2 is Thelma Houston's sassy "Steal on Home," the theme from the vastly underrated baseball film "Bingo Long's Travelling All Stars and Motor Kings."

This time, however, poems, interviews and spoken word recitations (none, thankfully, by George Will) share equal space with the music.

Tiger fans will be gladdened to hear the voice of beloved broadcaster Ernie Harwell on "The Game for All America," an essay he wrote for The Sporting News some 35 years ago. The voice of former Yankees manager Casey Stengel, captured on tape during a Senate hearing, reminds us where a certain white-haired wordsmith called Sparky got most of his material.

But most of the rest of the material here is fairly thin, with the exception of "Heart" from the "Damn Yankees" soundtrack and Peter, Paul and Mary's "Right Field," written from a child's perspective, about the thrilling moment when the ball finally sticks in your glove.

Still, there's room for improvement. Where's the theme from "The Natural," where's John Fogerty's "Centerfield," where, for that matter, is Chuck Berry's "Brown Eyed Handsome Man" (... rounding third and headed for home...)?

Oh well, wait'll next year.

WAR STORIES — Apache Dancers

Tom Durbin and Bernadette Colomine are the most unlikely duo since Eddie Albert and Eva Gabor teamed up for "The Theme From Green Acres."

Actually, the Durbin-Colomine combo is like the Albert-Gabor combo in that it puts together a down home country boy with a glamorous woman from another land. Durbin sings with a heavy country and western drawl and Colomine sings mostly in a foreign language that seems to be French. "Il est souvent au lit" — that's French, right?

Remembering your high school French classes will come in handy interpreting many of the song lyrics and titles like "Je n'ai besoin de personne on Harley Davidson" (I kissed a person on a Harley Davidson? I love a person on a Harley Davidson? I am a Harley Davidson? ... Your translations are welcome).

Durbin sounds like his hero, Hank Williams. He has that same sort of shaky-twangy-young-man-reaching-

Durbin's wailing fits strangely well with Colomine's mysterious French murmuring. The end result sounds something like Timbuk 3 — upbeat, fresh and full of jangly guitars.

The title "War Stories" refers to the little battles of living that each person faces. As Durbin puts it in the title track, "One more day, one more war."

Odd as it may sound, the strange mixture of cultures, sounds and styles on "War Stories" ultimately works. The music is quirky, original and, at times, quite beautiful.

SONGS FOR DRELLA — Lou Reed and John Cale

Depending on the humor you are in, or the level to which your charity extends, this release contains the legendary Lou Reed and John Cale paying respects and tribute to the notorious, and late, Andy Warhol. Or alternatively it contains the legendary etc., etc. exorcising their guilt about losing contact with the aforementioned Mr. Warhol before he died.

This work was commissioned by The Brooklyn Academy of Music to pay tribute to Andy Warhol and being that he was instrumental in the rise to fame/infamy of the Velvet Underground, there seemed nobody more suited to the cause than that band's founder-members, Cale and Reed.

What they present is a mish-mash of both role-playing songs, where the singer plays Warhol and discusses his feelings, and observation songs where their comments about Warhol and his thoughts are revealed. Musically, it is somewhat akin to Reed's fine 1989 "New York" album with Cale's atmospheric piano and violin thrown in for good measure. In this context the music does take a back seat, although there are some fine melodies, given the nature of the project, the lyrics must command more attention.

Here we find the strengths and/or weakness.

We listen to Cale/Reed's interpretation of the what was going through Warhol's mind at certain points in time and it takes on the fascination of a People magazine type inside scoop from those "who know." Enquiring minds, after all...

Whatever the drawbacks of the sometimes pretentious and sometimes overly sentimental, "Songs for Drella" does hold a certain fascination for anybody with an interest in any of the involved.

Reed, Cale or Warhol.

FEAR & LOAFING

Water on the brain

Have you paved your lawn yet? Notice I didn't say "mow" your lawn or "fertilize" your lawn. That was what you used to do, back before the Great Drought of 1990.

What's that? You haven't heard of the drought yet?

Listen, it's been so dry in southern California that residents of Santa Barbara have been forbidden to water their lawns since February. Expensive sod is dying faster than Bob Hope's jokes.

So what's that got to do with us?

Plenty. In desperation, city officials are proposing to import water from Colorado in barges, or ship it in from Colorado by train. However, the most popular plan is to run a giant pipeline to Lake Michigan and siphon off the Great Lakes.

Now I know what you're thinking. You're thinking that selling our precious water supply to California would kill millions of fish and animals, destroy tourism, turn our farmlands into a giant dust bowl and make Michigan uninhabitable for humans.

But isn't that reaction a little selfish?

PLEASE, CONSIDER what's at stake: Those folks with the year-round tans are in a desperate situation — their azalias are wilting! No wonder they are resorting to drastic measures.

According to authorities, hundreds of upset residents are actually spraying their brown lawns with green paint (I'm not making this up). Others have replaced their dearly departed grass with slabs of green concrete. Obviously, this is not the mellow, laid-back lifestyle they risk earthquakes for. This is like wow, a major bummer for sure.

It's also our chance to stand up and say, "Hey, Golden State, we're not angry that you guys only buy Japanese cars. We're not ticked off that your movies portray Detroit as Hell on earth. We're not even jealous of your perpetual sunshine. We'll gladly sell you plenty of water because one, we're big-hearted Midwesterners, and, two, we're saving up to move there ourselves."

Now when the big spigot is finally turned on and Michigan becomes the new Sahara Desert, we're going to have to make some minor adjustments, like hibernating in caves during the summer.

IN CALIFORNIA, plumbers are already installing "gray water systems" that pump sewage from sinks, showers and washing machines onto the owner's parched grass. Unfortunately, this stinking, soapy sludge has made a decent game of croquet nearly impossible.

Another drought survival tactic is digging a private well. With the rise in water rustling, security guards in L.A. are leaving posh mansions unguarded to protect family reservoirs.

If the proposition passes, and Gov. James Blanchard agrees to trade our fresh water supply for something really valuable like, say, dinner with Linda Ronstadt, you can expect certain cultural changes.

Except for a small daily ration, water will be available only on the black market. Class warfare will break out between those who can afford it and those who can't.

"We're out of water, Bliff. Can you spare a canteen?"

"No way, Ted. You know my bougainvilleas are blooming."

"But we're sooo thirsty. Yesterday, the dog shriveled up and blew into the street. And the kids are tired of chewing dry Tang for breakfast."

"Sorry, Ted. My shrubs crave moisture, too. But I'm not heartless — here's an ice cube to split between you and Doris."

AS OUR WATER table is pumped dry to irrigate Disneyland, lawns will burn up under the hot sun. When the suburbs are nothing but strips of scorched earth, a green lawn will be the ultimate status symbol.

New pickup lines will be heard at the singles' bar: "Hey, good lookin', can I buy you a drink of water? How'd you like to run your fingers through my lush, thick lawn?"

Anyway, there is one bright side to the defoliation of the former Water Wonderland:

You won't have to drive all the way across the state to see the Sleeping Bear Dunes. They'll be right outside your door.

Don't let her 'sink or swim'

Dear Barbara, I never write these kind of letters, but my husband and I do disagree with each other on this issue. I need some objective input.

My daughter, who is a high school senior, has been dating the same boy exclusively for about a year. My husband and I both liked him. When he asked for a college recommendation to a school that my husband has some pull at, my husband wrote it.

The boy was quickly accepted. However, by the time he was accepted, he had broken up with my daughter. She is devastated. She was also accepted at the same school. However, she had not shown any eagerness for attending it until she knew he was going. Of the colleges my daughter was accepted to, this is the best one. It is a large school.

Now the difference of opinion: My husband says we should not allow our daughter to go to the college that her ex-boyfriend is at. He says this would make her first year away at school harder than it needs to be. She is immature and will need to concentrate to make grades.

But I still say that we must let her go to the school that can offer her the best education. Of course, I wish now that that strong recommendation for the boy had not been written. But it was, and we are stuck with the consequences.

Due to my daughter's own problems, any college setting will be a challenge. But I think that we should let her "sink or swim" on her own.

From Birmingham

Dear From Birmingham,

Your instincts are good. It is important for your daughter to attend the school where she has the possibility of getting the best education. It is also important that she not establish a pattern of running away from difficult situations. So, she will have to attend the school that her ex-boyfriend is attending.

However, I do not agree that you should let her "sink or swim" on her own. Because of her liabilities, on which you and your husband agree, she needs therapeutic support.

At the onset of this column, I stated a policy of not recommending psychological therapy. However, it was naive of me to think that I could keep that promise. I find that in some cases, it is the only responsible advice that can be given. That is true here. It is the suggestion that best maximizes your daughter's chances for success.

You and your husband can also try to help your daughter with her problems. Explain to her that this love affair is "puppy love." Adolescents need to go through many, from happy beginning to sad end, as a normal part of their growth experience. She may be helped to put the experience into a normal reference by knowing that it is another part of the maturational process.

Often school counselors have the names of referral sources that have experience with teenagers. Otherwise, call the Michigan Psychological Association at 645-2508 or the

Last year, some 100 novice sailors completed land and water AYH instruction offered in the spring and fall at Livonia's Schoolcraft College and three additional locations. The program also maintains 11 boats at Kent Lake and another two at Stony Creek Lake in Rochester.

"We pretty much have our hands full," Pitts said of the program, the largest offered nationally by AYH.

"IT'S PURIST RACING," said Keith Helfrich in describing a typical interlake race. Helfrich, of Birmingham, has been racing two years as a crew member, one of three required on each boat. He holds a skipper rating but is not yet certified as a racing skipper.

"Starting, it's critical, or you're out from the beginning," he said. "Strategy, if you don't have strategy down, you're just reacting and at a disadvantage. The finishing leg, very infrequently can you point to a spot and get directly there."

The race begins at an imaginary line, signaled by a referee in a motorboat 10 minutes before the start with a blast of a horn and a raised flag. Crews count down to the split second, hoping timing is accurate enough for a good start.

The race normally includes a course run twice around three buoys.

Each turn requires new strategy. Wind direction is essential in figuring the number of sails in order to maximize speed and when to tack.

"I'm always amazed how extremely sensitive (the sloop is) to minor wind changes," Helfrich said. "A drop in wind or a slight change in direction changes everything."

Each race, he added, is a singularly intense experience.

"You're very involved, from beginning to end," he said.

Golden, a veteran racer who won last year's seasonal competition, said it took nine years of racing "to fit everything" into a winning combination. "Winning is rewarding because a lot of sweat and work go into a race," he said. "It requires confidence."

His biggest reward, however, is teaching others and watching them derive pleasure from the experience.

Jim Wiggins: The '60s revisited

By Pat Schutte
staff writer

Remember the '60s? The sights of Woodstock, demonstrations and long hair? The sounds of Hendrix, Joplin and Morrison? The smells of pot, incense and tear gas?

If so — or if not — "experience" Jim Wiggins at the Mainstreet Comedy Showcase in Ann Arbor this weekend. Wiggins, 48, who bills himself as "The Last Hippie in America," is a walking, joking, reflecting billboard of the era that brought us the Beatles, banned the bra, told us to make love, not war, and to "tune in, turn on, and drop out."

Chicago born and raised, during the '60s Wiggins was running an air conditioning and heating business, "and having to deal with all of the Archie Bunkers of the world," when he decided to join the movement... the comedy movement, that is.

Wiggins hooked up with the Second City Comedy School in Chicago, and along with some school chums, formed an odd-sod troupe that represented the Chicago nightclub "Dirty Nellie's."

While touring the Midwest, Wiggins met his mentor, George Carlin. It was Carlin that convinced Wiggins to move to L.A.

"In 1976 we sold our company, moved to L.A., bought an old burned-out warehouse and converted it into a rooming house for comedians," said Wiggins, who is widowed with five children — four boys and one girl. "All of 'em spent time at Wigg's Place on Whiteley in downtown Hollywood. You always knew that you could stop and get a meal, a joint, and a room."

SOME OF the more notable characters that spent the night at Wigg's Place include Richard Pryor, Robin Williams, Jay Leno and David Letterman. And Wiggins' daughter, according to her dad, "was conceived there and was also delivered there in front of 25 comedians."

Once based in Hollywood, Wiggins began to write comedy material for the television medium, which included "The Gong Show," "Captain and Tennille Show" and for David Letterman.

Then, in 1982, Wiggins decided that he and his family would trek across the country, from L.A. to Washington, D.C., in a Ford van, and collect questions from everyday people to give to then-president Ronald Reagan.

"Mr. Wiggins goes to Washington," joked Wiggins of his journey. "We gathered 12,000 questions and messages from people and delivered them to the president. It was during this trip that I decided to become the 'Last Hippie In America.'"

At 48, comedian Jim Wiggins is a walking, talking, reflecting billboard of the 1960s, right down to his long hair, bell bottom jeans and granny glasses.

Today, Wiggins really plays the part.

"AN OLD GYPSY once told me 'Never own more than you can carry,'" said Wiggins. "I've got a suitcase and a shoulder bag... everything I need for the next 18 years."

Picture him. Long, gray, stringy hair pulled back by a colored handkerchief, a watch with a crystal and no hands on it, bell-bottom jeans, a long-john shirt, granny glasses, a rainbow-colored scarf that sits atop a leather vest, all standing atop a pair of cowboy boots.

Earth shoes yes, but cowboy boots? "I've been wearing these clothes since I was 13," said Wiggins. "I've got seven headbands that match seven shirts, seven pairs of socks and seven pairs of underwear... one for each day of the week. I am who I say I am and I'm damn funny."

Wiggins is actually like a comedy time capsule. He's seen Lenny Bruce in his heyday, written with Carlin, ran comedy clubs when they first opened up in the 1970s, worked stand-up through the '80s, and has his own ideas on what will show up in the '90s.

"Lenny Bruce said things in the '60s that people didn't agree with... and he was arrested," said Wiggins. "Andrew Dice Clay says things in the '90s that people don't agree with and he's a millionaire. The '70s paved the way for the '80s, and the '80s gave us a bunch of show-offs that would do anything for a laugh."

"I SEE THE '90s going back to '60s style comedy. Good comedians will investigate politics, ecological matters, and race relations to relate to all humans."

The way in which Wiggins gathers his material for his show is unique in comparing him to other comedians.

"After a show, I'll stand by the door and make friends with people from the audience," said Wiggins. "I'll come up with something new after every show."

Obviously, much of Wiggins' material is born from the '60s era.

"If you want to know what the '60s were like," he said, "put on Pink Floyd's 'Dark Side of the Moon,' light up a joint and kick back with the headphones on."

The key element of the show, though, is Wiggins' observations on man and woman, or to Wiggins, "man and WOAAH-MAN."

"The basis of my material is the absolute genius that's called woman," he said. "I think Bush listens to his wife and goes to work the next day and tells everybody how it will be. Women fascinate me... they're our greatest resource."

So what is a hippie these days? What does a hippie eat? What kind of car does a hippie drive? What does a hippie stand for?

"I eat yogurt, tuna and veggies and drink mineral water," said Wiggins. "And I drive a Ford Taurus."

A TAURUS? Aren't hippies supposed to drive Volkswagen micro-buses?

"No micro-bus... they don't pass worth a poop," he said.

As far as what a hippie stands for these days, Wiggins had this to say:

"A hippie is someone who can make a difference... we stopped a war, fired a president, and liberated women. You have to be brave enough and stupid enough to do it."

Golfers, if you're going to play, play . . .

The Bear

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

If you're going to play The Bear, designed by Jack Nicklaus at Grand Traverse Village in Acme, better spend some time at the driving range.

That's because tee shots that stray from the terraced fairways end up in rough below on either side. From there, you could be hitting the ball from a nasty side hill, thanks to mounds scattered throughout the course.

The layout — 7,065 yards from the championship tees, 6,176 from the men's tees and 5,281 from the ladies' tees — also demands high, well-placed iron shots.

That's because several greens are guarded by lipped sand traps or water.

Come to think of it, The Bear also demands well-planned approach putts, as some of the large, slick greens are two-tiered.

The Bear can rear up and bite. But while Nicklaus's course design will challenge anybody, it's not so tough that an average golfer can't make a few pars.

Take the case of a humble writer, whose chip-in birdie attempt died on the lip of the cup on the 352-yard No. 1 hole, leaving a tap-in for a par 4.

Never mind what he shot the rest of the way.

It's one tough, varied golf course, and you better bring a lot of golf balls. But while your score will likely take a beating, the hazards and other design features are a treat to experience, not a chamber of horrors to endure.

The Bear will test your ability to judge the limits of your own game. And you'll be more entertained than beaten down.

LIKE THE Legend at nearby Shanty Creek, The Bear was opened for play in 1985. The Nicklaus course has attracted more tournament play to date, including the annual AAA Michigan Open and the Ameritech Senior Open, scheduled for July 16-22.

While The Legend — carved out of dense woods near Lake Bellaire — may edge out the The Bear for natural beauty, the Nicklaus course has a more varied topography. There are wooded holes, water holes and wide-open holes where the wind whips in off of Grand Traverse Bay.

"One of Nicklaus' ideas or trademarks are the mounds on the course," notes Roger Putman, one of the golf coordinators for the resort. While some in golf course design favor a traditional approach that says don't mess with the natural lay of the land, Nicklaus is known for not being shy about using bulldozers to augment an interesting layout.

Some of the most striking holes on The Bear combine natural beauty with a little bulldozer action. Among the best examples of this approach is the par-3 No. 4, 143 yards from the men's tees.

The wetland gives way to water just in front of the green, which suggests using one more club than normal.

"THIS IS the one the Michigan pros probably complain about the most, because of the narrowness of the green," Putman said.

And just behind that narrow, oblong green are bulldozer-created mounds. That means if the tee shot is strong, a tricky pitch or chip will be needed to save par.

Hit that shot too softly and you're still mired in mounds. Hit it too hard and you're in the water just off the front edge of the green.

A flat ball drop area sits just left of the putting surface. From there, the golfer who leaves a tee shot in the water or wetlands has a simple chip or pitch, and a good chance to make bogey.

This is a recent addition.

"The course has been set up to be a little easier these days from the men's tees to accommodate the higher handicappers," Putman said.

No. 5, a 376-yard par-4 from the men's tees, is also bordered by wetlands to the right, and a stream on the left. That stream empties into a large pond which guards the front of the green. It's a medium-length par 4, but an accurate tee and fairway shot are required to avoid a splash.

To two-putt this green is also a challenge, because it's two-tiered.

BECAUSE THERE are 63 sand traps on The Bear, one tends not to think as much of the water — but there are 10 holes with water hazards.

Adding to the beauty of the course are several cherry trees and a shadowing effect caused by the mounds, terraced fairways and grass-sided bunkers.

Other standout holes include the par-3 No. 9, 142 yards from the men's tees and surrounded by water on three sides. Water also comes into play on 10 and 11, and on No. 12. Here, a pond sits 270 yards from the men's tee, then continues along the right side of the green on this 361-yard par four.

Water and sand guard the front of the 141-yard par-3 13th. It's an especially pretty hole, as the player hits to the T-shaped green from a tee area bordered by maple trees.

The 472-yard par-5 third hole of The Bear challenges golfers with a dogleg to the right.

The Legend

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

Whoa!

That's a normal reaction to one's first look at The Legend golf course, nestled among the poplars, pines and evergreens at the Shanty Creek-Schuss Mountain resort just northwest of Traverse City in Bellaire, Mich.

You'll likely have the same reaction upon spotting the tree-lined fairways that follow. Many are viewed from some of the highest elevated tee areas in the state.

When Arnold Palmer was the toast of the PGA tour in the late '50s and early '60s, they called the legions of fans that followed him from hole to hole "Arnie's Army."

In contrast to the more solemn, business-like Jack Nicklaus, Palmer was known for his charging style — hitting a driver off the fairway to reach a par-five green in two, or boldly aiming for the flagstick with a long iron, ignoring disaster posed by a gaping bunker or water hazard.

For sheer natural beauty, this 18-hole layout is hard to beat. From those elevated tees, golfers are treated to sweeping vistas of woodlands and the rich blue of Lake Bellaire.

And this is just in spring. This course must be a real knockout in autumn.

The second hole, a 303-yard par-4 from the blue tees, reverses the trend toward elevated tees. That's because a player must hit 200 yards over a scrubby, rocky chasm, to reach an elevated fairway.

THAT IS possibly the most demanding shot on the course. But occasional golfers should know that The Legend is well-suited to their games.

Compared to The Bear, there are fewer sand traps surrounding greens. And few of Palmer's traps are lipped, like those designed by Nicklaus at The Bear. This means that on several holes one can roll a ball onto the green from the fairway, whereas The Bear often demands that the player drop fairway or pitch shots directly on the green.

To get to the Legend from the pro shop, players must take carts down a winding path and through a tunnel under Shanty Creek road. Upon re-entering daylight, one spots a sloping hill to the left where "The Legend" logo is spelled out on a hillside.

Corny? Nah. It just heightens the

The first hole is representative of the entire course. It has an elevated tee area — actually, four separate tee areas, black, blue, white and red. From the black tees, the course is 6,764 yards and rated at 73.5 (par is 72).

The blue and white tees are for golfers of more average ability. The course plays at 6,269 from the tougher blues, and 5,801 from the whites. The Legend is 4,953 from the red, or ladies' tees.

WHILE THE notion of plenty of trees may scare occasional golfers — 70s shooters too — know that fairways are generally wide, and flanked by several yards of not-too-deep rough, making The Legend playable for all.

Water doesn't come into play until the sixth hole, where a small pond sits in the right rough more than 200 yards from the blue tees on this 370-yard par-4.

Ah, but water comes more into play on No. 7. It's a par-5 dog-leg left, 474 yards from the blue tees. It's the No. 1 handicap hole, the toughest on the course.

A lake on the right encourages slicers to keep left on their tee shots. And the boulder-lined, swift running Shanty Creek gurgles about 20 yards from the seventh green. If your approach clears the creek, it can still end up in a sand trap that guards the front edge of the green.

The front nine is the most beautiful of The Legend's two nines. The earlier mentioned vista of woods and water come into play on the third tee and green, and the No. 4 green.

As a writer and photographer recently rhapsodized on the beauty of the course while leaving that green, they swung their cart through a wooded area to behold the most beautiful hole of all — No. 5, a 380-yard par-4, dog-leg left.

HERE, THE tee areas are carved into the upper reaches of a tall hill. It's possibly the highest elevated tee in Michigan.

They were moved to tee it up from the highest tee, the blacks, and both knocked drives about 230 yards out into the fairway below.

Never mind how they did the rest of the way.

The back nine opens in grand fashion with the 370-yard (blues) par-4 No. 10. Here, the player hits from another high, elevated tee. The fairway is cut into a hill sloping down to the left — a little scary for those who hook the ball.

Boulders outline the terraced, elevated tee areas on No. 12, a 156-yard (blues) par-3, with a trap on the right, water and woods on the left, and the largest green on The Legend.

Number 13, a 528-yard par-5 (blues), takes three long shots to reach the green. And that third shot is uphill. The course closes with No. 18, a 461-yard (blues) par-5. It's a dog-leg left with more trees and some fairway traps.

Respect nets good animal shots

By Jill Hamilton
special writer

Photographers don't get intimate pictures of animals like the ones shown here by standing close to the animal.

Most professionals take wildlife photos from their cars or from a great distance away, said professional wildlife photographer Chuck Bartlebaugh of Bloomfield Hills.

To emphasize his point, he held up the lens he normally uses. It is a 400mm lens that weighs 18 pounds.

"This can get pretty heavy when you're climbing up in the mountains."

"PEOPLE SEE these pictures and think they can get close."

Not so. Often an amateur photographer getting too close is what causes an animal, such as a bear, to attack.

Attacks are not caused by vicious bears, but by humans who don't know the rules of the forest.

"Bears basically leave people alone. I know of no unprovoked attacks. Most are caused by animals defending their young or food source. People have got to remember that they are intruding in a bear's 'house.'"

BARTLEBAUGH FEELS so strongly about teaching would-be wildlife photographers that he formed the Center for Wildlife Information, a group dedicated to teaching photo ethics.

"We're not here to tell people what not to do, we tell them what to do. We want to teach people how to teach others."

The group formed officially in 1988 when a group of animal photographers met in a rustic bar in Montana. They decided to research how people made mistakes when dealing with animals.

FOR THIS, they developed an "unorthodox, unapproved and unofficial" research team in which members went out to national parks and observed how humans interacted with animals.

Their fears were confirmed — they found the humans to be full of misconceptions about how to interact with animals.

"Some of the guys tried to be macho and get as close as possible to the animals. We saw people trying to put their kids on a buffalo."

Not smart. Contrary to popular belief, the most dangerous animal isn't the bear, it's the buffalo.

TO CLEAR up this sort of misconception, Bartlebaugh is trying several tactics to educate the public. He recently spoke at the University of Montana's International Wildlife Film Festival.

The center has developed all types of promotional material — everything from slide shows and bumper stickers to placemats designed to teach others how to photograph animals.

But, perhaps his most effective teaching method is the sticker about photo ethics that he attaches to the back of each of his pictures.

It says, in part, "All of us share the responsibility for our own safety and for that of the animals when we observe them."

In a time when photographers proportionally outnumber their animal subjects, this is sage advice indeed.

For more information, write to the Center for Wildlife Information, P.O. Box 885, Bloomfield Hills 48303, or call 338-2924.

Unsightly stacks can be organized

Q: Two weeks ago you wrote about putting papers in binders, but that's too complicated. I still don't like filing papers, though. Isn't there a way to organize my stacks?

A: While I don't recommend them, there are several ways to organize piles effectively. If you have large flat areas you can designate spots for specific types of papers. Action items might be piled on the corner of a desk, pending items in a stack next to those, etc. You will find this gobbles up lots of space and collects dust in a hurry, however, and unless you're careful, it looks messy.

For piles of single papers, introduce file folders gradually into the piles. If you have several similar papers — say article clippings — label a folder "Articles" (with a category such as Health or Organizing, if possible) and slip those into the folder as you look for other things. Most of your stack will at least become grouped into topics.

Horizontal slots might help you. You can buy expensive desktop organizers with horizontal spaces that will provide four to 24 blocks to hold different sizes of papers. An inexpensive version of the same idea would be nine-compartment cardboard shoe organizers, which hold letter size papers nicely and can be stacked.

Each slot can be labeled for categories of papers. These would be the same subjects as would use for vertical files such as bills to pay, current events, decisions to be made, copies to make, seminars to attend, etc. One or more slots could be designated for stationery or other supplies.

Frequently used papers can be kept in slots at your work station, with less frequently used items in a more remote location. Tax returns from years past should not be retained in the same place as current financial papers, for instance. Dividers may also be placed in different locations according to where work is done. One set might be kept near a computer and others in an adjoining office, while work done regularly at home could be kept there. Remember to purge outdated papers regularly.

While certainly not ideal, the advantages of this system will appeal to certain people. It is informal, unpretentious, visible and unobtrusive. Storage is instant with no "laborious" steps to follow such as opening file drawers, finding appropriate files, etc. Most importantly, it allows horizontal piling — in an organized manner.

You can order Dorothy Lehmkuhl's "Organizing — Volume No. 1" booklet of her first 52 columns by sending a long self-addressed envelope with 65 cents postage and a $5 check to Organizing Techniques, 6165 Worthington, Birmingham 48010.

Safety rules for animal photography

The Center for Wildlife Information says the following bears are the most dangerous: Cute, friendly bears that appear to be completely disinterested in you; a sow with cubs; a bear with fresh kill; and a bear habituated to human food and no longer able to feed itself naturally.

How do professional photographers get such great photos? The Center for Wildlife Information says: By using captive and conditioned animals; photographing in specially controlled areas; traveling into the back country; and using a very strong telephoto lens and patience.

The Center for Wildlife Information offers the following tips for photographing animals:

- Remain alert to potential danger in spite of your attempt for the perfect photo;
- Maintain a distance of no less than 500 to 1,000 feet to avoid provocation;
- Never surprise a bear or other animal, retreat at any sign of stress or danger;
- Use a 400 mm or longer lens. Avoid direct contact with animals, even through the lens;
- Don't crouch or take a stance that may resemble an aggressive stand;
- Don't follow or chase an animal;
- Don't make animal sounds or walls to attract an animal's attention;
- Don't crowd or surround an animal;

- Stay out of dense brush;
- Don't approach or walk in the direction of an animal, this may be interpreted as aggressive behavior and the animal may respond by charging.

Where would Her Majesty live in Buckingham, naturally.
She'd love the royal park across the street. She'd love the spacious two-bedroom apartment with fresh new interiors from the most modern appliances to the best lighting fixtures to designer carpeting to contemporary verticals.
She'd like the uncommon amount of room and royal way the service staff treats her. After all, a person's home ought to be their palace.

Benefit staged for homeless at Villa Fantasia

There are luxury houses, then there are luxury houses.

James D. Compo, a Farmington Hills builder, has constructed a house in the Pheasant Hills Subdivision of Northville with features most of us wouldn't dream of.

For starters, there's 6,350 square feet of living space. And a fully insulated 4 1/2-car garage.

But that's just the basics. Other elements include:

- A swimming pool and spa in an indoor garden room.
- A lower-level media room with stereo surround sound, a separate recreation room and an additional workout room/sauna with ballet bar.
- A kitchen with an octagonal cathedral nook and three ovens including a micro-convection unit.
- An oak paneled library.
- Four bedrooms including a master suite of nearly 700 square feet.
- Five full bathrooms.
- Five fireplaces.

DREAM about such luxury? You can see it Tuesday through Thursday in a benefit Compo is sponsoring to aid the homeless in metro Detroit.

Tickets for the semi-formal parties, 7-10 p.m. each evening, are $30 per person and include a tour, hors d'oeuvres, non-alcoholic punch and musical entertainment.

Proceeds will be distributed to the Pontiac Area Transitional Housing program.

Janet Compo, chief executive officer of the family building company, planned on the benefit long before the Villa Fantasia model was finished.

"I've been concerned about the homelessness issue all along," she said. "We wanted to get involved through the builder's association, but on a personal basis as well."

PATH is renovating an apartment building to provide temporary housing for single mothers with children, Compo said. Child care will be available so the adults can learn job skills and, after a couple of years, move to more permanent housing.

Rent will be charged, but subsidies might be available, Compo said. The opening is targeted for fall.

There's another educational purpose to the PATH program more directly related to housing.

"So much of public housing has deteriorated because people are moving in without any idea how to care for it," Compo said.

Compo's benefit will supplement other efforts to assist the homeless.

"They got a tremendous amount of volunteer labor and material, to help keep the program going, but they need more (money) for job training and administration," she said.

THE VILLA FANTASIA model probably will sell in the range of $850,000 to $900,000, Compo said. A couple of potential purchasers already have expressed interest.

Who would buy such a large, expensive house?

"A top-line executive in a company," Compo said. "In Pheasant Hills, we have a lot of people who own their own business. It's surprising what some people can afford. I'm always amazed."

Compo said she's especially proud of the energy features of the model including a 97-percent efficient furnace, R-27 insulation in walls on the main floor, R-35 on lower level walls, R-30 in cathedral ceilings and R-44 everywhere else.

The higher the R factor, the more energy efficient the house.

Compo cited other extras in the house she finds especially attractive, including an oak paneled telephone booth with a leaded glass door, window and separate stereo system.

"My son, Chris, had a lot to do with it," she said. "When you have teenagers in the home, they can tuck themselves in — so can mom and dad — and use the phone without interruption."

"We have an aquarium built into the wall in the lower level. That was an interest expressed by customers."

"You just have to see them," Compo said of other extras. "That's why it's called Villa Fantasia."

Tickets for the semi-formal parties are available at the model in the Pheasant Hills Subdivision nights of the event. The house is on Andover north of Eight Mile just west of Taft.

Tours of the model also will be offered 1-5 p.m. weekdays and 1-7 p.m. weekends through the month of June. The $5 per person admission fee also will be directed to PATH.

Villa Fantasia, a 6,350-square-foot house with an indoor pool, sauna, library, recreation room, four bedrooms, five baths and five fireplaces, will be open for semi-formal parties and public tours to raise funds for a homeless housing program.

Revise documents now or pay later

We are interviewing a prospective management company who promises that the principal of the management firm will be at the site to attend all of our meetings of the board. Is there anyway that I can guarantee that promise since I have had experiences in the past where that has not worked.

Simply put, merely provide a provision in the management agreement between the association and the agent to the effect that the principal of the management company must appear at the meetings of the board of directors as a condition precedent to the continuation of the management agreement, except in the case of emergencies and/or excusable circumstances. That will insure that the management company will have a legal incentive to comply with its obligations as promised to you. In fact, any extraordinary promises exacted from the management company should be confirmed in writing in the management agreement.

We are a small condominium project that does not have a current set of condominium documents and has not really had any problems. One of the board members, however, thinks that we should get a new set of condominium documents because we always seem to have one malcontent who doesn't pay their assessments timely. How can I convince the rest of the board to get the documents amended?

Tell the board that their failure to amend the condominium documents may result in them spending literally thousands of dollars in legal fees trying to establish their right to collect assessments, attorney fees and costs under the condominium documents which were inartfully drafted 20 years ago. This may help to convince them that it is necessary to amend their documents, to bring them up to 1990 standards including giving them the rights to collect assessments by various remedies including foreclosure by advertisement as well as the right to collect rents from tenants who may be renting the unit from delinquent co-owners. Obviously, a myriad of provisions which can be inserted into the condominium documents which have been established by a statute or good practice over the years which would enhance the operation of your association. Send them a copy of this article and good luck.

Prospective buyers state preferences

Professional Builder magazine polled 814 people nationwide who plan to buy new houses in the next six months and asked what they require in their next dwelling. Here's what they said:

- Increase the size of the family areas, like the kitchen and family room, and add closet space.
- Of those polled, 42.8 percent favor single-level homes; 29.7 percent give the nod to two-story houses.
- Detached houses are favored by 85 percent. Those favoring attached housing favor townhouses.
- Energy-saving features and quality of construction ranks tops in concern, and buyers want formal guarantees.

- Houses with three or more bedrooms are preferred.
- Two-car garages are preferred by 61.1 percent.
- Buyers want at least two bathrooms, regardless of the house's price range.
- Traditional architectural style is the top selection. Regionally, West Coast and New England house buyers lean toward contemporary style.
- Most buyers want to eat in a separate dining room, but they also want eating space in the kitchen.
- Brick is the overall favorite exterior finish. Regionally, New Englanders like wood shakes; the West Coast likes stucco.

- Most buyers would trade lot size for upgraded amenities.
- When the choice is size or amenities, buyers of detached houses want more size. Condo buyers want amenities.

After 39 years of building homes, I've learned that it is impossible to forecast when any particular home will sell, but I've seen many disappointed people who missed the home that they thought would be there when they were ready.

Simsbury's first phase is now almost complete. This is the last time we will be able to offer all of our most popular models because we are down to 1 availability on several of them. # GARAGE GARAGE GARAGE GARAGE

Now is the time to clear out those closets, attics, basements and garages and make some quick cash in the process.

How do you plan a garage sale?

It's easy!

Just follow these simple guidelines:

1. Gather together the items you have for sale. Sort them into appropriate categories and price them fairly.
2. Place a classified advertisement in The Observer & Eccentric by calling one of the numbers below.
3. Hang signs throughout your neighborhood alerting residents to the upcoming sale.
4. Decide what to do with all the money you'll have after your sale!

Or, if you love to bargain-hunt and would rather shop than sell, be sure to look for our special garage sale listings every Monday and Thursday in your hometown newspaper. Observer & Eccentric classifieds make it easy to earn money and save money. Discover for yourself, today!
