Film policy revisited

The showing of R-rated movies in the classroom - for years a bone of contention in Plymouth-Canton schools - will be addressed at tonight's board of education meeting.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Pioneer Middle School library, 46081 Ann Arbor

Teachers balked at a recent proposal that would have required teachers to complete forms and receive the principal's approval 72 hours before using audio-visual materials.

Union president Chuck Portelli told board members the change would violate the teachers' contract because it would affect working conditions, which must be negotiated.

Former union president Marguerite Vollrath charged that the board's proposal would have a chilling effect on education.

Trustees will consider a revised policy stating simply that it is the responsibility of teachers to preview all materials.

Approved for viewing in English and psychology classes this year are R-rated films including "Slaughterhouse Five," "Ordinary People," "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," "The Thing," "Shame," "Excalibur" and "The Breakfast Club."

Aerospace supplier eyes area, wants tax abatement

By Joe Bauman staff writer

An aerospace supplier could land in Plymouth Township with a tax break.

The firm, Ventura Industries, wants to relocate from Livonia a new plant near Five Mile and M-14. It has been in Livonia for 15 years and employs about 50 people.

Livonia city assessor Ron Mardiros said the company pays about $45,000 a year to the various taxing agencies, including the city and school district.

Ventura controller Steven Murray said he would likely seek a 12-year, 50 percent tax abatement from Plymouth Township trustees, if Livonia officials approve the trans-

Murray told Livonia officials on Oct. 1 that the move to Plymouth is necessary because the company has no room to expand at its current location, and a search found no suitable new site in Livonia

He said the company plans to build a 25,000-square-foot building on more than four acres of land, which includes about two acres of unusable wetlands. The new site also will allow for future expansion for the growing company, Murray said. "It is truly a unique piece of property, unlike anything we could find in Livonia," he said. Under state law, a company must get permission from the community it is leaving to seek an abatement from another in-state community. Without the approval, an abatement cannot be granted.

Maurice Breen, Plymouth Township supervisor, said tax breaks are offered by township officials, to better compete with other communities for industry.

Thanksgiving festival plan gaining steam

By Kevin Brown staff writer

Planners of the traditional Thanksgiving celebration scheduled for Kellogg Park Nov. 23 and 24 are trying to line up support.

"We are seeking financial support for this effort from the Downtown Development Authority," wrote DDA member and event organizer Fred Hill, in a flier distributed to downtown businesses

He's urging downtown business owners to attend the DDA meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, "To show that we care, and that we will in turn respond with an effort the likes of which downtown Plymouth has nev-

Emphasis on a Thanksgiving celebration in Plymouth would be a reaction to the modern over-commercialization of Christmas, he said.

"It's too early to celebrate Christmas (in October)," he said, as the malls which compete with downtown Plymouth for business put up Christmas decorations by mid-October.

The event would be a good way to promote downtown businesses, by contrasting Plymouth's style with

"We're also awarding a trip for two to Plymouth, Mass.," Hill said. The lucky folks will stay at the Gov. Bradford Inn, with a view of the Mayflower II in the harbor.'

Since announcing plans for the celebration, Hill said he's been getting a good response from folks coming into his Main Street haberdashery. "They say 'postponing' Christmas is the greatest idea they ever heard."

Hill is also asking downtown business owners to plan Thanksgiving window displays, coloring contests, serving food or refreshments with in Indian or pilgrim attire, printing Thanksgiving recipes, and more.

"Then, let us know your plans because all activities will be printed on a flier and handed out by pilgrims stationed throughout town - pilgrims welcoming 'thee' to Plymouth," Hill said.

Luck runs out for lotto winner

staff writer

He could have been a million dollar baby, but baby, look at him now. A Plymouth man who discovered too late that he held a lottery ticket worth $1.5 million held out hope for a while that he might receive his money, thanks to a special appropriations bill introduced last February by state Rep. Gerry Law, R-Plym-

The legislation would have granted a one-time waiver enabling the businessman to claim the winnings from the state's general fund.

But as the months wore on and the state's deficit ballooned, the likelihood of such a bill passing diminished to nil, Law said.

"THERE MIGHT have been a chance a few years ago, but with our budget problems, I don't think the legislators I talked to could justify paying a debt they don't owe when they're looking at potential deficits anywhere from $200 million to $600 million, depending on whose numbers you want to use," Law said.

Law, who had 18 co-sponsors, including the head of the House Appropriations Committee, needed support from two-thirds of the House and Senate - not just a simple majority - because the bill involves special appropriations.

The Lotto winner, or should we say loser, is a longtime Plymouth resident who requested anonymity. On Nov. 16, 1988, he bought a winning Super Lotto ticket at Schulz Cap-N-Cork party store on Five Mile in Northville Township and put it in

On Nov. 20 of the next year, after the Lottery published ticket numbers of unclaimed winners, the man tried to redeem his stub, but was three days late.

"I think he's the type of person who will buy some tickets every week, and just kind of throw them in

Art show draws criticism from couple who plan to picket

By Diane Gale staff writer

Elizabeth and Mark Baidel of Canton, along with a group they formed, "Art in Heaven," want to close an Ann Arbor art exhibit because "it perpetuates evil in the world" under the guise of art.

The couple said they haven't seen the "Fear No Art" exhibit, which opened last week at the Performance Network in Ann Arbor.

"I've just seen pictures on television and what's been described in the newspaper and I don't think I want to see any more," Elizabeth Baidel

'I'm not trying to say what people can look at and what they can't, but it's not art and they shouldn't call it art.'

- Elizabeth Baidel

said. "I don't know any Christian who would.

"There's got to be a limit. Being an artist myself, I'm of the opinion to use a God-given talent to glorify events in the world that are already satanic, like molestation, sodomy, homosexuality and violence and put it on canvas and call it art, I can't buy it as a Christian and a human being. They're perpetuating evil in the world by painting that."

ONE REASON for the exhibit, that runs through Dec. 2, was to test community standards of taste and decency, said Linda Kendall, managing director of the Performance Net-

All of the works have been banned, in one form or another, from public viewing.

Attention has been focused on a pen and ink exhibit of a sexually abused 2-year-old who dies from blows to the head.

"The assumption is that the artist is condoning this," Kendall said.

The drawing clearly shows the artist was appalled by the abuse, she

"Some (art work) are shocking, because you can't believe that they've been excluded from public viewing, because there's nothing offensive, Kendall said.

SEVENTY PERCENT of the Performance Network income is from the theater box office, Kendall said. And some money is from the Michigan Council for the Arts, designated for specific projects.

"This exhibit is not one of them," she said.

Couple critical of exhibit

The couple, members of the Fair-ane Assembly of God in Dearborn Heights, would be opposed to the exhibit regardless of how it is financed, Mark Baidel said.

They called at least 13 other churches and planned to picket in front of the exhibit Saturday, Oct. 6.

"ANY ARTIST with moral fiber won't condone it as art," Baidel said.
"We're standing up in the Lord's name and saying this is an abomination against God. We're taking a stance against that type of sexual aberration."

He said he believes the Performance Network staged the exhibit because the group had financial prob-lems and wanted to capitalize on the controversy surrounding the Cincin-nati obscenity trial based on photo-graphs by Robert Mapplethorpe.

There's nothing to be afraid of here (Performance Network)," Kendall said. "A small minority is trying to convince the powers that be that this work shouldn't be seen."

THE COUPLE received a call from an unidentified man who "basically said: 'Who the hell do we think we are to tell people what they can look at and what they can't?" Elizabeth Baidel said.

"I'm not trying to say what people can look at and what they can't, but it's not art and they shouldn't call it

"If we as human beings are going to change and grow into a peaceful society, we need to learn as much as we can about ourselves and each other," Kendall said.

Zoning board rejects church expansion plans

Members of Plymouth's largest church have been denied approval for a two-story building addition, which was opposed by some of the church's neighbors.

But Robert Sassak, the architect who designed the addition, told city planners he plans to go before the city planning commission in Novem-ber, possibly with a scaled-down version of the addition.

The proposed addition to Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, 1160 Penniman, which counts 2,400 families as members, would have provided "needed social space," for church members and students attending the ysocki. But some nearby residents said their streets are jammed on Sun-days, and maintain that if the addition is used for evening wedding re-ceptions the neighborhood would be disrupted.

Wysocki has said, "It isn't our intention to be renting it out as a hall."

On Thursday, nearly 100 church members and residents turned out for the city Zoning Board of Appeals meeting. The board turned down the parking variance sought by the church, which would have allowed the planned two-story addition. "There was a lot of concern from sion was going to create more fre-quent usage of the facility," said Bruce Gerish, zoning board chair-

By city zoning law, the two-story addition would require 700 additional parking spaces on the site. The church sought a variance on the premise that the addition would not be occupied at the same time the church is used for services, and that the additional parking spaces called for under the city zoning law weren't

While rejecting the proposed addi-tion, the zoning board did grant approval for the church to park cars imper-to-bumper with no isles.

At least three of the seven Livonia council members, Ron Ochala, Laura Toy and Gerald Taylor, have indicated they will not support Ventura's Livonia council president Joan McCotter said she is leaning toward a no vote, while councilman Fernon Feenstra said Friday he was studying the request.

The only supporter appears to be Livonia councilman Dale Jurcisin, who said he didn't think the city should have a say in the matter since Ventura does not have a current abatement with Livonia.

Ochala said he questioned whether the company really conducted an exhaustive search for a suitable Livonia site. He said at a study session that the real estate agent retained to conduct the search is the same person who has exclusive rights to market the technological park in Plymouth where Ventura plans to relo-

"I think the part that no Livonia site was available is a smokescreen," Ochala said. "My feeling is that the company has a personal reason for wanting to go to Plymouth, which is fine, but I can't support al-

Livonia Mayor Robert Bennett said he and Mardiros met with Ventura officials to discuss alternative Livonia sites, but he got the impression the company wasn't interested in remaining in the city.

"The message I got from the company was that Livonia doesn't have the high-tech look they are looking for. My impression was that they did little to find a new location in Livo-

Bennett said he was concerned about the loss of jobs and tax base caused by Ventura's relocation, but he did not believe it signaled a trend of companies beginning to abandon the city after several consecutive years of growth.

"I anticipate working with the university community to strengthen existing programs and to assist in the development of new interdisciplinary programs in response to socie-tal needs."

Recent studies indicate that American universities must increase the number of Ph.D.s awarded, particularly minority Ph.D.s, and at the same time improve the quality of graduate training to keep pace with a rapidly changing world, said Garrett Heberlein, dean of the WSU Graduate School.

FITZGERALD HAS been a member of the WSU psychology department since 1979. Prior to joining the developmental psychology program at Wayne State, he was on the faculty of Syracuse University.

He received his Ph.D. in lifespan developmental psychology from West Virginia University in 1974.

In addition to his new duties as associate dean, Fitzgerald will continue teaching courses on the psychology of aging and adult development and his research in the area of autobiographical memory.

Next July, Fitzgerald plans to travel to England to present a paper at a NATO conference on theoretical advances in the study of autobiographical memory.

Heather's host family does not share those worries. The mother is a teacher and the father works in construction, and both expect to keep their jobs.

The situation in East Germany caused Richard Kaye to worry about the quality of education and medicine in the country, but his fears have been calmed and his daughter also told them she has also been fully accepted into the family.

The only small problem is caused by the language. Although Heather knew German before she left, her mother said it is not the same as speaking it like the natives. "She's struggling through school right now. That's the hardest part of it."

and Brian Lyeaght

Last week was momentous for German nationals and German-Americans across suburban Detroit who celebrated the official elimina tion of the borders that divided East and West Germany for 45 years.

Parties were also held in celebra tion of German-American Day Oct. 6, which commemorates the 1683 arrival of the first Germans in Ameri-

"A damn fine thing. Long overdue," Westland policeman Adolph "Al" Lauth said of unification, noting it has joined families as well as countries. Distant relatives of Lauth's in West Germany can now freely communicate with relatives in the east, a freedom denied them for half a century.

Lauth, the grandson of Germans who immigrated to the U.S. at the turn of the century, celebrated unification and German-American Day at a party hosted Sunday by the Germania Club, a Wayne County cultural organization that promotes German heritage.

Earlier in the week, hundreds at-tended a party hosted by West Ger-many's Consul General, Klaus Schrameyer.

"I could have invited more people but I had no room," said Schrameyer, who is the Federal Republic's consul in Detroit until Oct. 15, when he leaves for a new post in Sofia, Bulgaria.

ROSEMARIE ANDERSON, a German language teacher at Stevenson High School in Livonia, said her students have been discussing the implications of a unified Germany 'We've been talking very intensively about it all semester." To assist students in understanding the issue, Anderson has obtained maps of a unified Germany and other materials from the German consulate.

In addition, her 80 students are participating in a quiz contest ab unification, sponsored by the Goethe Institute in New York City. Among possible prizes are five week-long trips to Germany.

The Nordamerikanische Wochen-Post, a German language newspaper based in Troy that has been published 135 years, observed the historic occasion by publishing a colorful 32-page edition last week. The paper is distributed by mail to subscribers across North America.

Both Schrameyer and Guy Stern, a professor of German and Slavic studies at Wayne State University, said social, political and economic problems are likely to result from the unification, but only in the short term. The problems include questions of higher taxes, unemployment, housing shortages, and even resentment from the more prosperous West Germans about supporting their less affluent cousins.

"It's my thought that with the potential on both sides, Germany will become the major economic force in Europe, and all those problems will be overcome in three to four years," said Stern, who lives in Southfield and is traveling to Hamburg this strong, unified German economy will eventually present.

EAST GERMANS "are well-acquainted with life in the west and are hungering for it," Stern said. He attributes increased popularity of a German culture class he teaches to the events in Germany.

Mary Ann Sudhoff, a member of the American German Club in Plymouth, is also thrilled with unification but hastens to add, not all of old Germany has been unified.

"East and West Prussia, Pomerania and Schesien are still not unified," she said. Sudhoff was born in the United States but reared in East Prussia, finally returning to the U.S. Hundreds attended a party hosted by West Germany's Consul General, Klaus Schrameyer, "I could have invited more people, but I had no room," he said.

Schrameyer said that Berlin, which will eventually again become the German capital, is currently a "city in turmoil," and that 500,000 East Germans have settled in West Germany since the Nov. 9 fall of the Berlin Wall.

He said that concerns by some Europeans about a unified Germany, despite the country's military ag-gression in the first half of the century are unfounded.

To the editor:

First, I would like to applaud Mr.

Michael Chiado's editorial in the Oct. 1 issue. I agree with his statements and am writing to add to them and to try to dispel some of the absolute myths Mr. Jeff Counts is publishing about animal activists.

One question I have for you Mr. Counts is: Do you realize how many readers of the Observer are animal activists and how many you offended with the offhand remarks in your Oct. 1 editorial?

Have you really done enough research on us "just plain nuts" folks to classify us as "naive do-gooders who couldn't think their way out of a paper bag?"

I would suggest you more carefully choose your adjectives to describe your readers who, by the way, help finance your salary. I would suggest also that you more fully research the lopics which you attempt to speak so expertly" about.

I consider myself to be an animal rights activist. I am very concerned with animal welfare on this earth because there are many people like you Mr. Counts, who seem to believe that animals are here for our use and abuse no matter how horrible or painful that may be. Animals need protection from people like you.

To address some issues you raised in your editorial, do you realize how much unnecessary and duplicated animal lab testing goes on in this country? Do you know that there are many viable alternatives to animal testing? We no longer have to test every eye shadow, toilet cleaner and medical technique on animals.

And, why shouldn't chickens have rights? Why shouldn't they have the right to be raised in a comfortable manner rather than in 12-inch by 12inch cages stacked from the floor to the ceiling, never receiving medical attention, simply discarded like dead plants if they die?

Why shouldn't a calf have the right to roam in a field rather than be confined to a crate that it can't move in so its muscles don't get tough, why shouldn't they have the right to see the light of day?

It is atrocious that humans accept higher profits and more tender meat as excuses for such cruel conditions. Speaking of factory farming, I would bet that if people knew how farm an-imals are raised, fed and drugged, there would be a lot more vegetarians in this country for both ethical and health reasons

We "animal nuts" do, Mr. Counts, acknowledge laws protecting ani-mals. Who do you think got those laws on the books in the first place? And, to state that adding animal rights to the legal system would 'clog the courts" and cost money is an easy cop out.

I really believe that if you had a true picture of the kind of animal abuse that takes place on a daily basis in this country, you wouldn't be so quick to criticize animal activists. It's disappointing that I have to point out to a journalist that he needs to do some minor research, but just pick up any animal welfare organization newsletter and familiarize yourself with the atrocities that take place in the fur industry, factory farming in-dustry, animal testing, zoological parks, general pet abuse, etc.

My one wish for this world is that eople would recognize animals as the thinking, feeling, breathing creatures that they are. They feel pain, anger, fear, happiness, loneliness, just as humans do; but, unfortunately, most no longer have the ability or resources to survive on their own. I, for one, have great respect for animals and appreciate their usefulness in my life and am thankful for the happiness they have brought me. I will stand up and fight for the humane treatment they so greatly deserve as long as I am on this earth. Erin R. Pagliaroni

Roe residents object to drug program

We would like to believe that we are as concerned and as humane in thought and action as are our fellow citizens of this city. We also find Dr. Marcia Andersen's program that attempts to rehabilitate substance abusers not to be without merit. Our tax dollars, as are yours, are being used plentifully to implement her by low and middle income families. There are also many older residents on fixed incomes. Roe Street was closely knit and prideful. City Beautification Awards adorn many of our

We are zoned RM2 which constitutes multi-family dwellings as well as single family homes. We have no problem with that and have welcomed the renters into the community. We also have grown not to expect the same civic pride from them as we would from the owners of their

Being the close knit neighborhood we could not help but notice that during the last week of September we had about two dozen new neighbors. After much hearsay and conjecture many facts began to surface. Dr. Marcia Andersen had already implemented her state and grant subsidized drug rehabilitation program by housing her clients on Roe Street. This was done unbeknownst to a single person in the area.

In lieu of panic we retained an attorney to explore the possibilities of recourse. All of the citizens in the immediate area were alerted, hence the overcrowded City Commission

Chambers on Monday, Oct. 1. The covert manner in which Andersen infiltrated our community with her newly formed business only afforded us with a predisposition towards prejudice. This served not only as a grave injustice to our community but to her clients as well.

Andersen seems to be echoing another township resident's exact sentiments. Don Bidwell is the owner of the building in which these ex-substance abusers are housed. He too made promises in 1987 that this building would be used by young professionals and/or senior citizens. He too had only the city's best interest in mind. He also heard our concerns and would never do anything to hurt Plymouth. Yet he has given Andersen preferential treatment in regard to leasing and rental fees since he could not fully occupy his building.

Due to the expedient method in housing, the residents on Roe were remiss in stereotyping every resident of that building to be someone in the program. They are not and they too feel victimized.

Here we feel it key to note that every six months Andersen's clients will be asked to vacate and will be replaced by an equal number of new rehab clients. This to us only increases the volatility of our plight.

The city of Plymouth has been very understanding and has gone to great lengths to police this area. We do wonder though that if our legal efforts fail, will we still be afforded these considerations when the pro-gram is fully implemented. And if so will we really want to live in a police

This is not a problem of a speeding car or a stray dog but one of genuine concern. Lock your doors Plymouth. We will be locking ours. Excuse us, ours are already locked, our kids must have locked them. They're a little nervous with all of the new neighbors and police.

Column was inflammatory

Although I am not an animal rights activist or a vegetarian, I felt compelled to write in defense of Michael Chiado whose letter to the editor you blasted in a column Oct. 1.

In my attempts to come to a con-clusion about this issue, I have read many thoughtful expositions both for and against many types of animal rights - but your column, Mr. Counts, was not one of them.

Your response to Mr. Chiado's letter was one of the worst examples of someone "attacking the arguer and not the argument" that I have ever encountered.

You branded Mr. Chiado's no fixed quantity of rights statement, for one example, as being poetic but naive and then proceeded to explain gleefully the reasons why expanded animal rights would indeed affect human beings. Mr. Chiado never claimed it wouldn't affect human beings. Mr. Chiado said that extending rights to other species does not automatically lessen the value of human

I must point out that it was your words, not his, that sounded inflammatory and hysterical, and that it was you who was unable to handle the issue without resorting to juvenile name-calling. In comparison, Mr. Chiado sounded eloquent and intelligent; hardly the attributes of someone with the "analytical skills of a chicken."

Canton church had previous incarnation

It's a shame The Rev. Richard Perfetto and parishioners at the 'new" Resurrection Church, which held their first mass Aug. 23 at Isbister Elementary School, didn't get a chance to meet parishioners from the "old" Resurrection Church in De-

They have a lot in common. Both are enthusiastically building new communities of faithful. One because of a growing number of residents in Canton, the other because of a declining number of residents in Detroit, namely Catholics.

Last year, when the Detroit Archdioecese closed Resurrection Church, on Dorothy and Dwyer in Detroit, the parishioners fought back. They didn't want to leave the church they started in 1921 and spent 68 years building. Fifteen members defied the archdiocese and continued celebrating mass on the old church school steps.

When the church, their church, built with donations by generations of families, was sold to an Islamic congregation, the faithful moved to a nearby Baptist Church. Recently, they entered into a purchase agreement to buy Klem's Confectionary on Mt. Elliot south of Lynch in Detroit. They don't care if they get desigination from Archbishop Adam Maida. All they want is a neighborhood church of their very own.

Their passion, took some of the sting away when I read about the "new" Resurrection Church in Canton Township. Members of the new church are expected to come from St. John Neumann in Canton and Our Lady of Good Counsel in Plymouth. At first, I was angry. How could a parish have the gall to take the name of an established parish that had recently died? Some people might call it an honor, I was upset.

As a third generation Polish American with roots to St. Stanislaus parish in Detroit, also closed by the Detroit Archdiocese, it was painful for me to accept the archdiocese giving suburban communities permission to start new parishes.

If you had attended some of the final masses at Resurrection and nearby St. Stanislaus on Dubois near Chene St., you would have under-Canton stood. I watched 80-year-old women

It's hard to believe Hamtramck and the surrounding neighborhoods were once able to support many churches within a small area. For example, St. Albertus, the first Polish parish in Detroit, also closed by the Detroit Archdiocese last year, is down the street from Sweetest Heart of Mary, on Russell, which fought and won a battle with the Detroit Archdiocese to remain open.

A few blocks away, is St. Josaphat Church on Canfield, visible from I-75, and St. Hyacinth on McDougall.

In Hamtramck, there are three Roman Catholic churches, still very vital, but working at it. As former farming communities draw people away from older suburbs, I can't help but wonder if history will repeat itself one day with archdiocesan mandates to close Catholic churches in older established cities like Dearborn, Garden City, Westland and Livonia.

I'm glad people take their faith with them into new communities, but sad they so easily give up ties to parishes their families helped build. These same people think nothing of a 20 minute commute to work, but refuse to drive 20 minutes to attend Sunday mass in the churches of their childhood.

Churches endure for centuries in Europe, but not in Detroit. They'll never build another church like St. Stanislaus, it would be too costly. I hope the new churches have a better

At least three years in the making, Wayne County's solid waste plan is now a reality.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources approved the plan last week, along with solid waste plans submitted by 49 other counties.

Wayne County's plan, which relies on recycling and new landfills, drew special praise, according to Milton Mack, chairman of the county's solid waste implementation committee.

"What they were telling us is it's almost too good a plan," said Mack. "So, naturally, we're quite pleased."
The county grappled with several approaches before ultimately requiring communities to maintain at least one recycling center for every 100,000 residents by Jan. 1.

"WE'D LIKE to see every commu-nity have one, but there's some flexibility for smaller communities," New landfills will be added in Van Buren and Sumpter townships. The Wayne Disposal landfill, in Canton, will be expanded, as will an existing landfill in Riverview.

"We're looking at Wayne Disposal operating for another 15-18 years," other Canton landfill, will also be expanded. "That will only be tempo-rary," Mack said, "adding another 2 years until the new landfills are

In addition to the DNR approval, the plan also met with approval from more than two-thirds of the county's municipalities. Communi-ties voted their approval earlier this

"We were much happier with the plan as it finally appeared," said Daniel Gilmartin, executive director of the conference of Westen Wayne. The multi-community group raised concerns abount an earlier draft that members feared — would promote incineration over recycling.

County communities that don't in-cinerate their waste must submit a waste reduction plan to the county by January 1992. Those that don't comply with the new county law will be prohibited from sending their waste to county landfills.

At one time, the county sought to mandate decreases in waste, but Mack said that approach was im-

To the disappointment of some environmentalists, the plan also allows incinerators to continue operating. Among local communities, Westland and Garden City use an incinerator. Livonia, Redford, Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton do not.

WHY PAY FOR THE WHOLE PIE WHEN YOU ONLY WANT A PORTION?

You want a new car every two years or so. Now you can have one. How? Only pay for what you use. Here's how it works. We take the total cost of the car, then deduct the guaranteed future value. Your payments are the difference, plus a lease charge based on the total cost of the vehicle. So your monthly cost is much less than with a conventional purchase financed over the same period of time. The benefits go on and on.

It's easy to cook wild game

With the fall hunting season right around the corner, many households will be the recipients of deer, elk, bear and a host of smaller game.

If you find yourself in possession of a piece of venison or perhaps a brace of quail, even a mallard duck, don't panic.

Cooking wild game is as simple as preparing beef, pork or poultry.

The problem facing most game cooks is that they must correct the mistakes made by the FAR MORE meat is ruined in the field than will ever be ruined in the kitchen. If hunters had to buy beef and pork in the same condition as the game they kill, we would be a nation of vegetarians.

while most hunters are men—with women entering the field this year in record numbers—a basic knowledge of cooking, even more in meat preparation, should be tantamount before entering the field.

Ask any hunter what makes a good steak and he or she usually answers, "aged beef."

Too often, venison is "aged" by improper care in the field. But it is also by far the most mistreated by hunters who fail to remove the hide in time or who do a poor job dressing the carcass.

The result is soured meat, a condition most hunters wrongfully explain by saying the meat has a "gamy taste." In truth, the meat is not gamy, it is spoiled.

IF A COOK comes upon meat that has been treated improperly to begin with, there are few things short of massive doses of spices, marinades and herbs that will disguise the flavor.

Let's take a closer look at venison. A venison steak or chop can be cooked like beefsteak. It can be broiled, barbecued or panfried. It is best medium rare.

Venison is not necessarily tough. It can be tough if cut against the grain. It also can be tough if all the moisture is cooked out.

VENISON IS by far the most healthful red meat you can eat. It is low in cholesterol, has mostly lean, fat-free tissue and, of course, has no chemical additives that ranchers usually administer to cattle, sheep and pigs.

The meat itself is not marbled the way beef is.

All visible fat should be trimmed from venison because it is generally tallowy and unpalatable. A venison roast or haunch can be roasted with strips of bacon laid over the top to compensate for lack of fat and marbling.

Game birds such as quail, dove or duck, like big game, are best when properly cared for in the field.

This means dressing and plucking as soon as possible. Improper drainage of blood and lack of plucking, coupled with a too-soon toss into a plastic unbreathable bag, can spell disaster in the kitchen.

BUT WHAT CAN a hunter do to prepare for the upcoming season?

If every hunter spent an equal amount of time cleaning his or her equipment, as well as visiting a friendly neighborhood butcher or poultry expert, there would be little cause for chalking up a dinner that tastes "gamy."

At the Eastern Market, Capitol
Poultry will allow you to choose a live hen, turkey or duck and then you can easily observe the preparation of the carcass.

IF BUTCHERS in your area are reluctant to have strangers in the cutting room, visit your local library and read up on field dressing.

A good primer is the "Wildlife Chef" published by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, P.O. Box 30235, Lansing 48909.

If your household will soon be gifted by wild game from the family hunters, now is a good time to begin learning what (and what not) to do.

Evelyn Dugal of Troy, who loves baking bread and cookies, earned honors for her onion bread, Jewish sour rye bread, whole wheat bread and molasses crinkles cookies at the Michigan State Fair.

Prizeworthy recipes to share

By Ariene Funke staff writer

Good cooks know that food tastes better when shared with friends and family

Evelyn Dugal, a clerk-typist with the city of Troy, bakes old-fashioned white bread and takes the loaves to eager co-workers.

GUY WARREN

Judy Bossio of Livonia shows the home-canned vegetables and fruits which brought her eight ribbons at the fair.

Judy Bossio of Livonia cans huge batches of tomatoes, cucumbers and beets. These veggies are the mainstay of hearty soups and side dishes enjoyed by her family.

"Even as a kid I was interested in food," said Bossio, a homemaker and mother of five.

Dugal, whose forte is breads and cookies, won several ribbons at this year's Michigan State Fair. Bossio also won a handful of State Fair ribbons for her home-canned vegetables, sauces and relishes.

"MY HUSBAND always liked homemade bread," said Dugal, who currently is assigned to the Troy Police Department.

"He hated the soft bread — the stuff you could make into a ball. When the kids were little they didn't like store-bought bread."

Dugal's onion bread placed second in the specialty bread category. Her Jewish sour rye bread placed second in the rye breads and her whole wheat bread captured an honorable mention.

She won a third place ribbon for her molasses crinkles, thick, chewy cookies with cracked, sugary tops.

DUGAL, A longtime Troy resident, has been baking breads for more than three decades. She and her husband, Chuck, a manager at Ameritech, have four grown children

"There are tons of other things I could do, but I find myself baking bread when I should be cleaning closets," she said with a laugh.

Dugal's favorite is a Jewish rye with caraway seeds, although she bakes mostly white varieties. She prefers using unbleached flour and dry yeast packets.

A Kitchen Aid mixer equipped with special hooks makes kneading the dough easier. Her double-oven stove can bake up to eight loaves at a time.

"I give away a lot," she said.
"There is something about making your own bread. I'm not artistic in other ways but I do enjoy making DUGAL HAS collected "zillions" of recipes for both breads and cookies. She doesn't bake too many rich desserts because her husband is on a low-cholesterol regimen.

Her prize-winning molasses cookie recipe came from an old Betty Crocker cookbook. Dugal's secret to a moist, chewy cookie is to avoid overbaking.

"Cookies continue to bake after they're removed from the oven," she said. "If you bake them until they look done, the cookie is probably overbaked."

BOSSIO ALSO ENJOYS baking, but she is earning kudos for her home-canned vegetables and fruits. This was her first set of entries in State Fair competition, and she captured eight ribbons.

She finds it especially satisfying to preserve the fresh harvest bounty for enjoyment throughout the

"As a homemaker there is so much you do that is temporary,"

she said.

Bossio won first place ribbons for her dill pickles and beet relish, second place for taco sauce, chili sauce and pineapple chunks in brown-sugar syrup.

She also won third or fourth place for pickle relish, bread and butter pickles and beets.

Chocolates star in coffee house setting

By Geri Rinschler special writer

What an unbeatable combination — elegant, handmade truffles and chocolates, freshly brewed exotic coffee and tea, frothy cappucino and full-bodied espresso, all in a romantic European setting. Fortunately, you no longer need to travel to Paris or Vienna to enjoy such luxury. It's here, now, in downtown Birmingham at Gayle's Chocolates.

When Gayle Harte first began making truffles and chocolates "for fun," as she says, in the early 1980s, she never dreamed she would someday own a chocolate candy factory and two retail shops. As a working mother, over the last 10 years or so, Harte has gained a prestigious standing as a high-quality "chocolatier" or chocolate confectioner. Her distinctive chocolate designs can be found beside the best in retail shops, such as all Silver's in the Detroit area and Nordstrom's in California, as well as for corporate use by the Ritz-Carlton, Dearborn.

Her retail line has grown from her signature chocolate, long-stem roses and truffles to include designer chocolate ties, molded marbelized chocolate serving bowls filled with chocolate-covered potato chips and round chocolate pinatas wrapped in ribbons accompanied by a small mallet.

'I feel the same way about coffee as I do about chocolate. It has to be fresh, clean taste, and be absolutely satisfying.'

— Gayle Harte Gayle's Chocolates

ALMOST ANY design can be custom made to suit your needs. One customer, not too long ago, asked Harte to duplicate Tiger Stadium, which she did in a variety of chocolates, including small truffles painted with faces sitting in the bleachers. The limits of her creativity are endless.

When Harte decided to open her first retail shop in Royal Oak in 1984, she said, "I wanted more of a European coffee house atmosphere than a typical chocolate shop." So, she decided to combine the two.

"I feel the same way about coffee as I do about chocolate. It has to be fresh, clean taste, and be absolutely satisfying." In searching for the perfect cup of coffee, she came upon Tom Isiah, a coffee roaster in Ann Arbor. "Tom treats his coffee beans with the same care I treat my chocolates," Harte said. To ensure that perfect cup, Isiah only roasts the beans for Harte's shop when she places her order.

At both the Royal Oak shop and the new Birmingham shop, the menu includes filter-brewed, cafe au lait, espresso, cappucino and Frenchpress coffee and tea. The hot chocolate is made with steamed milk and the same chocolate Harte uses for making her chocolates. A unique and luscious beverage on the menu is the hot raspberry truffle. To make one, hot chocolate is blended with a raspberry truffle, topped with freshly whipped vanilla whipped cream. It's then dusted with cocoa and cinnamon powder and topped with an Austrian wafer cookie

Austrian wafer cookie.

HARTE'S PHILOSOPHICAL approach to her retail shops is to provide a comfortable place to relax and enjoy an honest cup of coffee. When she opened Gayle's Chocolates, Birmingham, in April, the decor of the shop certainly met with her expectations. As a self-taught chocolate designer, she admits she knows nothing about interior design or decorating. "So, that's why I hired Peterhansrea, Inc., to design both my shops. Designer Ron Rea did a fabulous job. The tapestry fabrics and the whimsical cherubs were all his idea," she said. Since chocolate has long been associated with love, the cherubs are certainly appropriate.

To complement the beverage menu, Harte offers homemade mufiins, scones and cookies. Her favorite muffin is a recipe which blends Michigan dried cherries, chocolate pieces and nuts sweetened with a little bit of maple syrup.

BOSSIO'S HUSBAND, Bob, is a professional chef, employed by the Huron River Hunting and Fishing Club in Farmington Hills. Because he works very long hours, she does much of the food preparation for their family.

"He is a delight to cook for," she said. "He understands the time and labor that goes into it."

Bossio is kept busy with her chil-dren's activities, which include music, dance programs and Indian Maidens at the Livonia Family YMCA. She also collects antique canning jars and enjoys knitting.

"I think everybody is looking for uncomplicated meals," she said.

Her idea of a great meal is a savory soup, chock-full of vegetables and flavorful broth. She teams the soup with a fresh salad and a crunchy loaf of bread.

BOSSIO BLENDS family outings into her food plans. These include trips to U-pick strawberry and raspberry farms to gather fruit for jams and preserves. During the fall, she packs a picnic lunch and the family heads for U-pick apple orchards. She also likes to put up batches of grape-cranberry marmalade, using Concord grape juice, fresh cranber-

OVEN-CRISPED POTATO SKINS WITH SOUR CREAM, BACON AND CHIVES

Potato salad would be a good substitute here, especially if you're taking your team on the road. But at home, with major league appliances at hand, these crisp potato skins, topped with sour cream, bacon and chives, make great eating.

18 5- to 6-ounce russet potatoes 1 pound bacon slices 2 cups sour cream each potato several times with fork Place on rack and bake until tender. about 45 minutes. Let stand until cool enough to handle, about 20 min-

Cut potatoes lengthwise in half. Cool completely. Scoop out insides of potatoes, leaving %-inch-thick shell (reserve insides of potato for another use). (Can be prepared 1 day ahead. Cover with plastic wrap and chill.)

Cook bacon in heavy large skillet until crisp. Transfer to paper towels and drain. Finely chop bacon. Whisk sour cream in medium bowl to blend. Mix in bacon. Set aside.

Position rack in top third of oven and preheat to 425 degrees. Lightly brush potato skins inside and out with butter. Transfer to heavy large cookie sheet. Bake 12 minutes. Turn skins over and bake until edges are crisp and golden brown, about 12 minutes more. Season skins with salt and pepper. Spoon dollop of sour cream mixture into each. Sprinkle chives over and serve. Makes 12

Backyard vegetables go into favorite meal

Can you believe that we are already into the second week of October? With Halloween just around the corner and Thanksgiving not too far behind, you know what that means the holiday season will be upon us before we know it.

But panic not. It is still weeks away and, besides, we have a beautiful autumn to enjoy, as the trees once again give us their last hurrah with their dazzling display of color.

When I talked to this week's Winner Dinner Winner, I was reminded of the saying, "Home is where the heart is." Laura Freeman's life revolves around her husband, two young daughters and her

An avid gardener, Freeman has a good-sized garden, where she grows a multitude of fruits, vegetables and flowers. Her winning menu is a favorite with her husband and children and makes good use of the vegetables grown right in her own backyard. Featuring Fiesta Pasta and Chicken Salad, Herb Bread, Fresh Seasonal Fruit Salad and Ginger Crinkles, this is a delicious dinner that is best when made a day in ad-

THANKS TO her husband's excellent carpentry skills, Freeman enjoys cooking in the kitchen he remodeled by building all new cabinets, putting on new countertops and even making a new kitchen table. He is currently in the process of putting on an addition to their house and recently completed building a deck and a wooden jungle gym equipped with swings and a sandbox for the girls. What a handy husband to have

The Freeman family often packs up its pop-up trailer and take off on short camping trips. One of the family's favorite things to do is stop at antique shops along the road. Their home is furnished with the country antiques and old quilts they have collected during the four years the Freemans have been married.

Active in her church, Freeman teaches a Sunday school class and helps plan the activities for a Tiny Tots program in which she and her younger daughter participate. She also loves doing crafts and gets to-

Recipes

This is a quick and easy recipe that will help you make use of the abundant produce that is so available at this time of the year. The recipe feeds six and is best when made a day in advance of 1-pound box spaghetti 11/2-2 pounds chicken, cut into large red pepper, cut into bite-sized pieces

1 large unpeeled cucumber, cut into bite-sized pieces 1 onion, chopped

1/2 cup pinenuts 8-ounce bottle of Wishbone

Olive Oil Vinaigrette (add more or less, depending on

Cook the spaghetti, drain it, then rinse it in cool water and drain again. Cook the chicken strips until lightly browned and cooked through. Drain on a piece of paper towel. Cut up the cucumbers and pepper into bitesized pieces. Mix all the ingredients together in a large bowl and refrigerate several hours or overnight. Garnish with Parmesan cheese and salt and pep-

HERB BREAD 1 package (24 rolls) frozen, unbaked rolls, 30-ounce size

¼ cup melted butter

1/4 cup Parmesan cheese

1 teaspoon basil 3 tablespoons sesame seeds

2 tablespoons garlic powder, or less, according to taste

Thoroughly grease a 10-inch fluted tube pan, or a round cake pan if you don't have a tube pan. In a small bowl, combine the Parmesan cheese, the sesame seeds, the basil and the garlic powder. Put 1/3 of the mixture into the pan, turning it to coat the entire surface of the pan. Place 10 frozen rolls in the pan. Drizzle with half the melted butter and another % of the herb mixture. Add remaining rolls (place on top of other rolls), remaining butter and then the rest of the herb mixture. Cover, let rise and thaw overnight in the retrigerator (12-24 hours). The next day, let the bread stand for 30 minutes at room temperature. Bake uncovered at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. If the bread is getting too browned, cover with foil and continue baking 10-15 minutes more, or until golden brown. Remove from the pan, cool on a wire rack and serve warm. Simply pull it apart to eat.

FRESH SEASONAL FRUIT AND GINGER CRINKLES

This combination refreshingly complements the salad and bread. Mix equal amounts of sliced peaches, strawberries, blueberries, kiwi and raspberries, or whatever you like, in a large bowl. Serve with a plate of freshly baked Ginger Crinkles.

GINGER CRINKLES

These cookies can be made ahead and kept in an airtight container or even frozen. 21/4 cups flour

2 teaspoons baking soda 1 teaspoon ginger powder 1 teaspoon cinnamon

1/2 teaspoon ground cloves

Mix first 5 ingredients and then mix next 4 ingredients in a separate bowl.

1 cup packed brown sugar 3/4 cup margarine 1/4 cup molasses

Add the dry ingredients to the wet and mix well. Roll small amounts of the dough into balls and roll again in sugar. Place on a cookie sheet and flatten slightly with a glass. Bake at 375 degrees for about 10 minutes. This recipe makes 48 cookies.

clarification

The recipe for Oatmeal Brownies that ran with Betsy Brethen's Family-Tested Winner Dinner column Oct. 1 was incomplete. Following is the entire recipe.

OATMEAL BROWNIES

21/2 cup rolled oats

¾ cup packed light brown sugar 1/2 teaspoon baking soda ¼ teaspoon salt

% cup melted margarine

Mix oats, coconut, sugar, soda and salt in bowl; stir in butter. Reserve % cup of the mixture. Put oatmeal mixture in bottom of greased 13-by-9-by-2-inch baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes. Cool for five Brownies:

1/2 cup margarine 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, 1-ounce size cup granulated sugar

2 eggs 1 teaspoon vanilla 34 cup all-purpose flour

In saucepan, melt butter and chocolate over low heat. Remove from heat. Stir in sugar. Blend in eggs, one at a time. Add vanilla. Stir in flour and oatmeal; mix well.

Prepare 1 package brownie mix,

22-ounce size, according to package instructions for fudgey brownies.

Sprinkle with reserved oatmeal mixture. Bake according to browniemix package directions or at 350 degrees for 30 minutes (for brownies made from scratch). Cool and cut into squares.

Clos Pegase Winery's history is fascinating

The story of the Clos Pegase Win-ery is filled with irony, passion, serendipity and touches of magic.

It is, in part, the tale of the selfnade man Jan Shrem, founder of Clos Pegase, who put himself through college by selling encyclo-

By 1980, wine and art became Shrem's consuming interests. He sold his European publishing company and decided to make wine.

He enrolled in winemaking classes at the University of Bordeaux, where he learned about breakthrough wine technology coming from California.

IN 1983, Shrem's site search ende in the purchase of a volcanic knoll and a 50-acre vineyard in Calistoga, at the north end of the Napa Valley.

CLOS PEGASE opened in 1987. The winery name reflects Shrem's personal interest in Mycenaean Greek history and the mythological beginning of wine.

Pegasus, the winged horse of Greek mythology, was believed to have given birth to wine and to art when his hooves unleashed the sacred Spring of the Muses. The water irrigated the vines and inspired the poets who drank it.

Shrem's favorite painting in his extensive art collection is the famous, more than 100-year-old "Pe-gasus" by Odilon Redon. A reproduction of this painting enhances the winery's label.

"My philosophy is that winemak-ing should not be limited to modern techniques but should retain the proven virtues of the past," Shrem said. "The winery and art are all WINE SELECTION OF THE

WINE BULLETIN BOARD

Clos Pegase Winery owner Jan Shrem will present an intriguing slide lecture entitled "Wine in Art" on Wednesday, Oct. 24, at the Ann Arbor Art Association, 117 W. Lib-erty, Ann Arbor. Shrem will narrate fascinating historical and an-ecdotal episodes relating to the celebration of wine as art. A tasting of Clos Pegase wines will follow the presentation. Cost is $20 per peron. Reservations are required.

Meet Dr. Suhua Newton, owner of Newton Vineyards at a special dinner featuring four Newton wines at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 16, at the Rattlesnake Club in Detroit. Cost is $50 per person inclusive for a three-course meal including dessert. Reservations at 567-4843.

Does all of this sound too good to be true? Well, there is more homemade ice cream, frozen yogurt and a Flavor Maker.

The Flavor Maker is just that. It's a large, refrigerated appliance equipped with a mechanical screwshaped blade which will blend or puree any fruit or topping in the shop into ice cream or yogurt. The combinations are all a matter of your personal tastes and creativity. At Gayle's you can combine pieces of frozen chocolate peanut butter, chocolate chip truffles, chocolatecovered ginger peel, fresh raspberries, video mix (a blend of white milk, dark chocolates, toffee, caramel, toasted coconut, dried cherries and nuts) or whatever. If this all sounds irresistible, hurry on over, because Harte may have to move the ice cream during November and December to make room for the holiday edible gifts.

Well, if I seem impressed, you're right. Here's wishing Gayle Harte is creatively designing in the food business for many years to come. The shop is at 235 S. Woodward, Bir-12 alternatives to lashing out at your kid.

The next time everyday pressures build up to the point where you feel like lashing out—STOP! And try any of these simple alternatives.

You'll feel better . . . and so will your child.

- 1. Take a deep breath. And another. Then remember you are the adult . . .
- 2. Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child is about to hear.
- 3. Press your lips together and count to 10. Or better yet, to 20.
- 4. Put your child in a time-out chair. (Remember the rule: one time-out minute for each year of age.)
- 5. Put yourself in a time-out chair. Think about why you are angry: Is it your child, or is your child simply a convenient target for your anger?
- 6. Phone a friend.
- 7. If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a walk.
- 8. Take a hot bath or splash cold water on your face.
- 9. Hug a pillow.
- 10. Turn on some music. Maybe even sing along.
- 11. Pick up a pencil and write down as many helpful words as you can think of. Save the list.

Tie game a 'moral victory' for Rocks

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Plymouth Salem boys soccer coach Ken Johnson paid no attention to the scoreboard Friday after the Rocks played to a 1-1 tie against No. 1-ranked Livonia Churchill.

Johnson, whose team brought a No. 5 ranking into the game, was pleased with the results — even though the Rocks probably deserved

Churchill, 8-0-2 overall, might have suffered its first loss were it not for goalkeeper Jeff Cassar, who stopped 12 shots and got help another time from the goalpost.

The Western Lakes Activities Association crossover game left Salem at 12-1-1 overall.

"Anytime you tie the top team in the state, it's a moral victory, especially playing on their ground," Johnson said. "To lose would have been disheartening, but a tie is very

Their goalie played well, didn't he? He came out of the goal well. We had two or three chances, it was just a matter of the kids not connecting right — sweeping it over the top, instead of sweeping it in the net."

SENIOR DEFENDER Ryan Fitzpatrick gave Salem the game's first lead, kicking a rebound past Cassar with 3:14 left in the first half. The shot capped off a wild scramble in front of the Churchill net.

Less than a minute later, however, the Chargers' Dario Rauker scored his team-leading 14th goal of the year, blasting a shot from about 15 yards out past Salem keeper Derek Olson. Dominic Vella had the assist 'Anytime you tie the top team in the state, it's a moral victory, especially when it's on their ground.'

— Ken Johnson Plymouth Salem coach

Salem sweeper Jake Baker said it wasn't a case of the Rocks celebrating their own goal a little too long.

There was some confusion on our part and we left a man open in the middle of the field," Baker said. "We played well, probably the best we've played this season. They knew we had a good team. They had to play hard to beat us."

It was an entertaining game the rest of the way, with both teams having their share of chances. A goal by Churchill's Kal Kaliszewski with 18:29 left in the game was called off after the referee had blown the whistle for a Salem infraction.

Minutes earlier, Salem's Jim Ramsey hit the goalpost behind Cassar on a shot about 20 yards out on the right wing. Ramsey also hit the football crossbar in the first half on upset about the Chargers goal being nullified, but was relieved to leave the field in a tie. Churchill's midfield attack hasn't been the same since senior Aaron Sawicky left the team a week-and-a-half ago for undisclosed reasons, according to Mason.

The first-year coach doesn't anticipate Sawicky returning to the lineup anytime soon.

"I KNEW IT would be a physical game, but we got a little more tired than normal and that disrupted our game a little bit," Mason said. We've been sluggish the last six or seven games, and have had injuries and suspensions, which have kept us from having the kind of lineup we'd

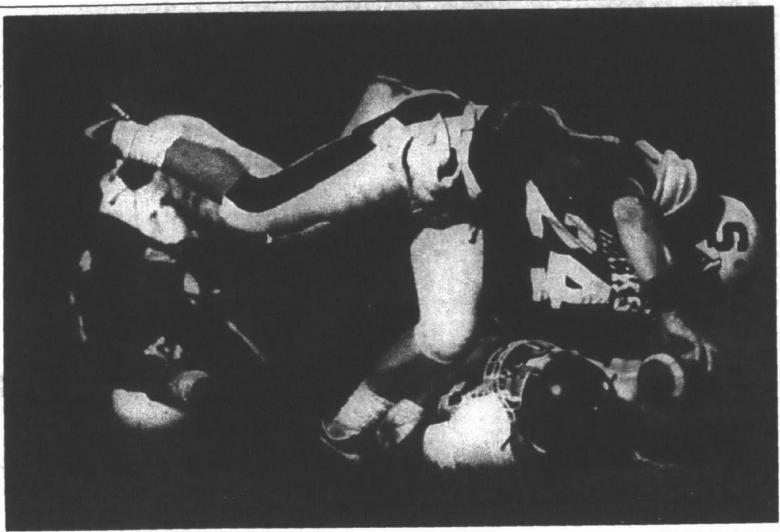

"Sawicky was our main defender at midfield and that allowed (Mike) Gentile and Rauker to move up field more. Now, those two have to help out on defense and we're a lot less

Salem has recorded nine shutouts this season and the backline of defense, led by sweeper Baker, and fullbacks Matt Lee, Chris Lajoy and Fitzpatrick has been part of the reason. Churchill managed only six shots on goal.

"They're very fit and play at a high level of soccer," Johnson said.
"They're all good ballplaying defenders and once you get rolling, they take pride in the shutouts."

If Salem beats Livonia Stevenson Wednesday on the road in the Lakes Division final, there's a chance the Rocks will play Churchill Oct. 17 for the WLAA crown.

You can bet Johnson will be more concerned about the scoreboard

Chris Tebben (No. 24) of Plymouth Salem keeps his balance enough to make the first down Friday against Walled Lake Central in a Lakes Division football game in the Western Lakes

BILL BRESLER/staff photographe Activities Association. Salem used a last-minute field goal to beat the Vikings, 3-0.

Chiefs roll, 49-13

Senior K.C. Kirkpatrick booted a 32-yard field goal with 26 seconds left in the game Friday to lift host Plymouth Salem to 3-0 football victory over upset-minded Walled Lake Central.

Kirkpatrick's heroics came one play after his 27-yard field goal was nullified by a five-yard penalty. Patrick's winning kick easily made it over the crossbar and helped the Rocks improve to 4-2 overall and 3-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Salem marched 79 yards in 15 plays to set up the winning score. Chris Tebban provided the key play on the drive, galloping 10 yards on a third-down and six play. Tebban, who was stopped initially in the backfield on the play, finished with 51 of Salem's 201 rushing yards.

"Walled Lake is a good young team who came out fired up," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer. "Our offensive line didn't get the job done in the first half, but we eventually wore them out. Juniors Jeff Thursby (three carries for 21 yards) and Dan Burke (9-46) did excellent jobs for us.'

The Vikings (1-5, 1-3) who were outgained 209-133 in total yards, only had one serious scoring threat in the first half.

CANTON 49, W.L. WEST-ERN 13: Jason Riggs had a night worth remembering Friday, scoring four touchdowns and intercepting one Walled Lake Western pass in Canton's rout of the host Warri-

The Chiefs improved their record to 5-1 overall and 3-1 in the Western. Wukie also threw a 36yard touchdown pass to Brett Howle and one from 25 yards out to Mark Meszaros.

Canton led 14-0 after one quarter and 29-0 at halftime. Dell Williams and Steve Hohl also intercepted passes for the Chiefs.

We got out of the block pretty good and things snowballed from there," Canton coach Bob Khoenle said. "We took advantage of what they gave us."

Western is 1-5, 1-3.

Catholic Central stuns Rice, 32-0,

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Since this might have been Birmingham Brother Rice's last Boys Bowl appearance, Redford Catholic Central fullback Jon Barbara wanted to leave a lasting impression on the Warriors.

Did he ever. Barbara scored three touchdowns and gained 67 yards on 15 carries as CC pounded Rice, 32-0 Sunday in the 46th annual Boys Bowl played at Pontiac's Wisner

Sources say this might be Rice's last Boys Bowl appearance against

CC, because of lack of financial support from Rice. If so, the two teams would still play each other every year but CC would have to find another opponent for the Boys

"This might be the last one, so we wanted to put them out on a good note," Barbara said. "The line just blew everyone out."

CC has played in every Boys Bowl since 1944 and the Shamrocks-Warriors series began in 1966. Rice athletic director Mike Popson would like the Boys Bowl series to continue, but there's a chance it won't. CC paid for all the advertising in the 108-page Boys Bowl program without help from

"We decided not to continue with ads because of financial reasons," Popson said. "To my knowledge this isn't our last Boys Bowl, but CC's in charge of the invitations. We've always been a pretty good gate (attendance). They don't get a from Arshon Stewart (18 carries, 72 yards) and Mike Thomas (14-66). The CC defense, led by defensive ends Dave Dominic and Brian Chaney, smothered Rice's offense and intercepted three of quarterback Steve Merchant's passes. Jen Burtraw had 60 yards on 13 carries for Rice, which played without Sean Johnson (knee).

"CC played hard and it's their victory," Rice coach Al Fracassa said. "It's always tough to lose, especially when there's a zero on the scoreboard." Barbara caught a screen pass from quarterback Jason Carr and rambled 11 yards for CC's first score with 4:29 left in the first quarter. The turning point came late in the first quarter when CC strong safety John Brand picked off a Rice pass and returned it 44 yards to give CC a 12-0 lead.

"I really didn't know I had it until I saw the ball in my hands," said Brand. "And then I ran for my life.

Rice fumbled away its next two possessions and both led to CC scores. Barbara gave CC an 18-0 lead with 9:07 left in the half, capping a six-play 31-yard drive with a 12-yard run. After Rice fumbled away the next kickoff at its own 28, Barbara scored on a 1-yard dive.

CC finished the scoring in the third quarter when Carr went over from the one.

Plymouth Salem's Jake Baker, an All-Observer first-team boys basketball selection last winter, is leaning toward attending Central Michigan University next year.

Baker, a 6-foot-5 swingman who averaged 18 points and 12 rebounds a game in 1989-90, paid an official visit to the CMU campus last month The Chippewas, who play in the Mid-American Conference, offered Baker a full-ride scholarship, he said.

"I'm not sure where I'm going yet, but CMU is probably on the top of the list right now," Baker said. "It's a nice school, and I like the coaches (head coach Charlie Coles and assistants Dave Ginsberg and Bob Sippell). I think it has what I want."

Baker said he may visit other Division I schools, including Western Michigan and Kent State University of the MAC, before making up his mind.

'My goal is to play Division I. I think I will sign early.'

Baker and other high school seniors are able to sign with the school of their choice during the early signing period next month. Several schools from the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference also have shown interest in Baker, but it might not be worthwhile.

The GLIAC, which includes schools like Wayne State and Ferris State, plays at the Division II level. Baker, who led Salem to the Class A quarterfinals a year ago and played

Ruete triggers Salem win

Plymouth Salem had no time to relax Thursday, during a 79-72 Western Lakes Activities Association girls basketball win over visiting Westland John Glenn.

Glenn, behind a flurry of threepointers in the fourth quarter, fought back from a 42-34 halftime deficit to tie the score at 72.

A three-pointer from senior guard Sarah Ruete and four free throws allowed the Rocks to pull ahead for good.

"We couldn't lay back at all," Salem coach Fred Thomann said. "We had a nice lead at halftime, but they came back by hitting those threepointers. It ended up being a close the WLAA, trailed 23-22, after three quarters but outscored the Mustangs 19-5 in the decisive fourth quarter. Barna triggered the rally, making 11-of-13 free throws for the game.

Clutch free throw shooting mattered down the stretch, according to Canton coach Bob Blohm.

We held the ball (with the lead in the fourth quarter) and they started hacking us and we knocked down our free throws," Canton coach Bob Blohm said. "We played well defensively, especially in the second half.

Trojans, North win big

Livonia Clarenceville had two players rush for more than 100 yards Friday in a 36-8 football victory over host Hamtramck in a Metro Conference game.

Quarterback Kendrick Harrington scored twice, passed for another and rushed for 174 yards in 11 carries to lead the way. Tailback Carl Holston also had a big day, adding 101 yards in 17 attempts and one TD.,

Clarenceville, which racked up 301 yards on the ground, is now 4-2 overall and 3-2 in the conference.

A 60-yard interception return by Harrington set up Clarenceville's first score, a 1-yard first-quarter run by Holston. (Brian Mahoney kicked the extra point to make it 7-0).

In the third quarter, Harrington broke loose on a 55-yard run and hit Andy Van Erp with the two-point conversion pass to make it 28-0.

Hamtramck (1-5, 1-4) got on the board late in the period on a 3-yard run by Santwan Thomas, who also ran for the two-pointer.

In the fourth quarter, junior quarterback Bob Sharp directed an eightminute scoring drive - bolstered by the blocking of offensive linemen David Ballenger, Jacques Sahakian and James Barnhard - capped by Jim Jerkowski's 6-yard TD run.

Defensively, Mahoney, a linebacker, helped keep the host Cosmos to 150-yards total offense. (Matt Wisdom added an interception).

their third straight loss.

After intercepting a Randy Micallef pass, the Raiders' Matt Mummert scored on a 2-yard run. Mike Ober's extra point made it 7-0. Ober added a 19-yard field goal with two seconds left in the first half to complete the scoring and disappoint the large crowd.

"We moved the ball well at times but didn't have the consistency," said head coach Jack Reardon, whose Spartans fell to 3-3 overall and 1-3 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association. "The team played its hearts out and you can't ask for anything else. Obvi-ously we would have liked to win the game, but the coaches are very proud of the team."

Mummert led the way for the Raiders (4-2 overall and 3-1 in the Lakes), rushing for 140 yards on 26 carries. Junior Mark Temple completed six-of-17 passes for 75 yards. Marco DeSanto led Stevenson's defensive charge with 11 tackles, including nine solo. Chris Lebti and Frank Eupizi had eight tackles each for the Spartans.

The Mustangs (5-1 overall and 3-1 WLAA-Western Division) recorded a passing touchdown in every quarter and totaled 230 yards in the air.

"Actually, I thought we had a good defensive scheme," said Chargers coach Herb Osterland. "We expected them to pass but Ryan did an excellent job reading the defenses and it's difficult to cover everything. We never quit and were moving the ball even when the game ended."

Michelle Minton (Plymouth Salem) scored her first collegiate hat trick in Michigan State's 10-0 trouncing of Alma College Sept. 29. The win evened MSU's record at 4-4

Kurt Will (Livonia Stevenson), a sophomore at Central Michigan, notched his second goal of the season in the Chippewas' 4-2 triumph over Eastern Michigan. The win raised CMU's record to 4-4-1.

Carrie Maier (Farmington), a freshman at Wisconsin, continues to excel. She is tied for third in scoring on the nationally ranked Badgers with eight points, coming on two goals and four assists.

Ranked among the Mid-American Conference leaders in tackles for losses are three players with local backgrounds - two playing for Central Michigan.

Both Kevin Rich (Redford St. Agatha), a junior outside linebacker, and Mike Nettie (Livonia Stevenson), a sophomore defensive lineman, had five tackles for losses through four games. Rich's netted 23 yards in osses; Nettie's accounted for 15.

Craig Petersmark (Farmington), a senior defensive end at Eastern Michigan, also had five tackles for 28 vards in losses.

Although Wayne State could not: keep pace with Ashland College Sept. 29, losing 27-8, Brian Piergentili (Livonia Stevenson) did his share. The Tartars' nominee for Midwest Intercollegiate Football Conference defensive player of the week honors intercepted one pass and knocked down three others, and made four

A freshman free safety, Piergentili is second on the team in tackles with 30. Freshman defensive lineman Eric Ruth (Livonia Stevenson) is tied for third with 29 tackles; he also has two quarterback sacks and two fumble recoveries.

The WSU men's cross country team competed at the Findlay Invitational Sept. 29, finishing second out of five teams. The Tartars' top placer was freshman Brian Beach (Plymouth Canton), who took fifth in the five-mile race in 26:33. Sophomore Al Byrnes (Plymouth Canton) was 20th for WSU (28:16) and sophomore Steve Caris was 26th (28:49).

Pete Mazzoni (Livonia Stevenson) continues to be a major factor in Adrian College football team's attempt to defend its Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association title. The senior quarterback, twice all-MIAA, ranked fifth in the league in passing efficiency (119.12 points) with 56 completions in 105 attempts (53 percent) for 745 yards and five touchdowns, with five interceptions.

Scott Bissell (West Bloomfield/ Farmington Hills Harrison), a senior strong safety, is Albion College's second-leading tackler. He has 25, including three for losses.

The Spartans used a three-over 38 from Dan Lavoie to hand stateranked Farmington its first loss in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association, 210-213.

Lavoie shared medalist honors with Farmington's Adam Hibbs.

We wanted this one real one, said Theophelis, a senior captain. This was a big upset. We really looked forward to the match. We were real pumped up."

The Cougars also got a boost with 3:30 to play when center Krystal Matesic (14 points), slipping inside off RU's press, converted a three-point play (basket and free throw). Those proved to be the winning points for

The Cougars, although missing six of seven free throws down the stretch, never let RU get any closer than five points until the final 15 seconds when junior Shannon Morris and freshman Rachel Clor each scored baskets.

"I knew they (RU) would be inspired and ready to play," said Henry. "They're 200 percent better over last year and Gary (Fulks) has got them playing as a team. I expected a war coming in because it's tough to play here, just like it is at our place."

According to Henry, GC won it on the defensive end, not the offensive end where they missed layup-afterlayup, hitting just 16 of 68 shots from the field.

"I'M TICKLED PINK with the way we played defense," said the Garden City coach, whose team is 8-2 overall. "Except for a couple of screwups off their press-breaker, they did not get easy baskets.

'And Jennifer Horosko did a super job for us defensively, except for three of Shannon's running jump shots. But for the most part we kept her (Morris) out of the offense."

Morris, a junior guard, led all scorers with 20 points. Sophomore Wendy Malecki added six, but no other RU player tallied more than RU committed 24 turnovers, and got off only 35 shots, making 11 from the floor for 31 percent.

'We've been averaging 60 shots a game, but this is the best defensive team we've played," said Fulks. "They (Garden City) did a good job in their halfcourt defense. They were very aggressive with it."

Henry had nothing but praise for his senior floor leader Shanks, who leads the team in scoring, assists and

"CAROLYN HAD a great floor game and did her usual good job of pressuring the ball," said the GC coach. "If people had made their layups, she would have had eight or nine more assists.

"We've been on her to shoot the threes' more often, but she didn't look for much else because we concentrated on getting our post players the ball. That's because of the mismatch we had inside."

Despite falling to 6-4 overall and 2-1 in the league, Fulks could not fault his team's effort.

"The will to win is there, but sometimes we get too uptight," he said. "Sometimes I see that inexperienced look in their eyes in certain situations. They had a little more depth then we did and we lack some experience."

Stan Takarz donned his best cap, fanciest shoes and brightest nose before heading out for the Clown College auditions. At age 65, the West Bloomfield resident is ready for a new career.

By LeAnne Rogers staff writer

The circus evokes a lot a images, colorful, sparkling costumes, brassy music, popcorn, animals and especially those people in baggy clothes and big shoes.

Monday, October 8, 1990 O&E

People who dream of hitting the road as circus clowns had a chance to audition for the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Clown College Thursday at Joe Louis Arena.

"I want to run away with the circus," said Stan Takarz, a 65year-old West Bloomfield resident, who auditioned in full clown regalia. No prior experience in clowning is needed, although applicants are expected to demonstrate serious motivation about a career as a clown "We look for desire foremost in the audition," said Peggy Pozdol, a former Birmingham resident in her third year with the circus. "We look for physical comedy, people who can express themselves physically. We teach them the other skills." When asked about why they wish to become clowns, the auditioners almost uniformly responded that they wanted to make people laugh. "I want to entertain people and make them laugh," said Jason Scott, 17, of Southfield. "I want to be a clown.' Adam Leichtman, 18, of West Bloomfield, hopes to further his performing career through clowning.

"BASCALLY, I read in the paper about auditions. I had been doing theater in high school and I hope to eventually be on Broadway," said Leichtman, who will be attending Wayne State University. For Takarz, a retired carpenter and builder, clowning is not the means to an end.

"I've been clowning since 1952. I met Emmett Kelly when I got out of the Navy in 1952," he said. "I'm an Alhambra clown. I'm in all the parades in West Bloomfield."

After attending three clown camps, Takarz said he decided to audition for clown college, having retired a year ago.

"My wife and family love support me. They love it. My wife pushes me out the door to do it," he Boss clown Christopher Hudert, a native of Richmond, Va., put clown hopefuls through their paces in the third circus ring on the floor of Joe Louis Arena.

Jason Scott of Southfield showed his enthusiasm during the warm-up exercises at the audition.

After some warm-up exercises, the group of men and women pretended to be walking on a tight wire, moving to music only they could hear and getting caught imitating an animal during a visit to the zoo.

"Let me suggest that you aren't watching monkeys at the zoo; that is pretty common in the audition," Hudert said.

IN ANOTHER exercise, the auditioners were to react to standing on something extremely hot, deciding whether it was a quick realization or the classic slow burn.

If they had guessed before, Hudert makes it crystal clear, subtlety is not in a circus clown's vocabulary.

"You communicate with body movement that is large," he said. "People don't need to hear you, but they need to see you.'

Telling the group to run lightly in place, Hudert had them pick up the pace, eventually calling for an exaggerated head back, high stepping clown run. "It's like a bear is chasing you," he said, demonstrating the move.

Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey clowns assist with the audition, demonstrating a timehonored gag about a giant sandwich, excessive pepper and inevitable sneezes.

"This gag has been around forever and three years before that," said Hudert. "It's called the Dagwood Sandwich."

Clowns man a video camcorder to record the auditions, held in each city on the circus tour, for later review by the clown college staff. Applicants will be notified in June or July whether they have been accepted into the rigorous 10week program, held annually in

"IT'S LIKE 10 weeks of circus boot camp," said Kevin Carr, a former Farmington Hills resident and member of the Clown College class of 1989.

At 19, Carr is in his first year touring with the circus, having been accepted to clown college after high school.

"I had no immediate plans after graduation. I had been active in theater and on the stage in high school," he said. "In clown college, they taught me about physical comedy.

The final examination for clown college is a show, attended by clown college president and Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus head Kenneth Feld. And for a select group of graduating clowns, contracts are offered with the circus.

For Pozdol, a Marian High School graduate, working as a circus clown combines her favorite things in life. "I get to travel and perform and I get paid for it," said Pozdol, 28, in her third year with the circus. "I like working with people. I studied to be an expressive therapist." When she first joined the circus, Pozdol said she really didn't know what to expect.

"Anything I thought it would be, it has been and more," she said. "it's like a working vacation."

WHILE ON tour 11 months each year like other circus staff, the clowns take their homes along with

"We sleep on the circus train. Everything goes on the circus train, the equipment trailers, the animals, everyone who works with the show," said Carr. "I have my own room and I'm very comfortable. It is difficult not being in one place very long.

Contracts are offered annually, so Pozdol said she can't be sure how long she will be with the circus.

"You take it year-to-year under the contract," she said.

Miller's Crossing is a killing field, a quiet place in the country where gangsters take guys to rub them out. Tom Reagan has the task of escorting a kicking, pleading, screaming young bookie across the autumn-col-ored leaves.

The scene serves as the focal point of "Miller's Crossing," the latest film from Joel and Ethan Coen. It's also one of many suspenseful moments in a film that pays tribute to the gangster genre while going off in some unpredictable directions of Tired of excessive brutality in the current epidemic of gangster movies? For an exciting, edge-of-the-seat film experience try "Pacific Heights" (A-, R, 105 minutes). No hoodlums — just a modest amount of fighting proving that suggestion and imagination are more powerful than graphic gore.

ic Heights," directed by John Schlesinger.

A young couple (Matthew Modine and Melanie Griffith) buy and refurbish a beautiful old home in the San Francisco district after which the film is titled. Rental units, they be lieve, make this acquisition economi cally feasible.

Events proceed normally and suc cessfully when they rent one unit to a pleasant Oriental couple. All very matter-of-fact - and that's the ker to the impact of "Pacific Heights." It all geems so reasonable.

As in life, they're not so fortunate with their second tenant, a bizarre psychopath (Michael Keaton), whose destructive tendencies are not immediately apparent.

The calm exteriors of "Pacific Heights"- buildings and people are seething underneath and a combination of ominous music and swooping camerawork reinforce the tension. The unraveling of things at the end works a little too easily and California tenant laws that allow Keaton to do what he does need stronger substantiation.

On a lighter and brighter note, for its 50th anniversary, "Fantasia" (A+, G) has been restored to its original glory including the soundtrack, featuring Leopold Stokowski and the Philadelphia Orchestra. Music by Tchaikovsky, Dukas, Stravinsky, Beethoven, Ponchielli and Moussorgsky was integrated with Disney animation, the most famous of course being Mickey Mouse as "The Sorcerer's Apprentice." It's a fine experi-

BUT FOR the most part this fall, viewers must settle for gangster movies. "GoodFellas," "King of New York," and "I Come in Peace" are joined this week by more films about hoodlums.

"Marked for Death" (*, R) follows a retired DEA agent back to his old neighborhood for combat with Screwface, the local drug dealer.

"Desperate Hours" (*, R) stars Mickey Rourke in a remake of the 1955 William Wyler film starring Humphrey Bogart and Fredric March. That film is available on video. Bogart plays a hardened criminal who holds a nice suburban family hostage as part of his getaway

This "Desperate Hours" was directed and co-produced by Michael Cimino whose career has not flourshed since he won two Oscars for

"The Deer Hunter" in 1978. Glorifying hoodlums and eliciting sympathy for them seems to be a prominent feature these days and State of Grace" (B, R, 134 minutes)

Frankie Flannery (Ed Harris) is the Irish mob leader in Hell's Ritchen, a tough section of Manhattan where abandoned buildings are being refurbished for Yuppie condos.

IT'S TOUGH on the old gang to see the neighborhood change, particularly for Frankie's psychopathic hitman and brother, Jackie, played with ferocious and manic glee by Gary Oldham.

Their sister, Kathleen (Robin Wright), has no use for their violence and brutality which she has tried to escape by moving uptown and get-ting a legitimate job. Her new world is shaken, however, when her former lover, Terry Noonan (Sean Penn), returns to the old neighborhood.

Terry had disappeared unceremoniously some years earlier. While Kathleen is angry with him for leaving, she also is quite obviously pleased to see him again. Her brothers are unreserved in their job that Terry has returned.

To deal with the changes all around, particularly in the neighborhood. Frankie gets involved in business dealings with Italian mobsters and the seeds of destruction are inherent in their obvious ethnic rivalries. That Frankie and his gang are taking a backseat to Italians is a further, major irritant.

The performances of the principals are excellent, particularly Gary Oldham as the maniac hitman. This guy is truly nuts - and very danger-- while Ed Harris' thin-lipped, tensely reined-in gang leader has an underplayed viciousness that is unnerving. It's always clear he will do whatever is necessary for the business. That's scary.

Despite those fine performances, good photography, editing and other production values, the bottom line remains questionable. Why are hoodlums the heroes of so many films these days and why is violence always the answer? That's the lesson "State of Grace" teaches in its somewhat hokey conclusion.

For instance, a number by the Pixies could be followed by one from Connie Francis. "Night Lines" is definitely Wisdom's show.

Which is saying a lot in these sad days of computerized playlists compiled by men more concerned with market share and Arbitron ratings.

Perhaps, that is the reason Detroit area listeners cling to DJs like Wisdom and his CBE-FM weekday cohort Brent Bambury ("Brave New Waves") not to mention "The Cutting Edge's" Greg St. James as purveyors of the new music faith. Except Wisdom tends to be a bit acerbic about it all.

Yes, Wisdom gets a lot of response from this area. In fact, he receives more phone calls and letters from Detroit than any Canadian city.

Yet, Wisdom isn't all too sure why. One possible reason bothers him.

What people are telling me when I ask them why they listen to the show, they say Detroit radio is lousy," said Wisdom, who was visiting in Windsor recently. "I say, 'Is Detroit radio really lousy?' . . . I'm afraid of why some people like me.

"I think there is a certain sector that doesn't like black music. That Such candidness is not unusual for Wisdom, who speaks in careful, ana-

Wisdom is not bashful commenting on the current state of commercial radio, which he believes is only concerned with making a buck. He's also critical of the stagnant music

"I don't think we're in the golden age of music at the moment," he said. "I think music should be different and noticeable. There doesn't seem to be many bands doing anything different.

"I think the real smart guys who want something different are guys doing dance music."

It's hard to argue about music with a guy named Wisdom, who's record collection is so massive he can't even count it all. Estimates range in the low 10,000s to 90,000. His main hobby is collecting 45s.

Wisdom has also been involved in a number of projects and programs, including Variety Tonight, the Los Angeles Summer Olympics and Gabereau. He's also co-authored a chapter on the history of Canadian popular music in Canada for "From Sea Unto Sea.

CANADIAN MUSIC is something Wisdom also feels strong about. Content regulations - playing a certain percentage of Canadian artists during the hour - doesn't bother him. In fact, he feels its important.

Lee Micallef takes his music to the stage with his group Blue Nimbus, which includes Michelle Fields, Kevin Copeland and By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Nothing cloudy about Nimbus sound

Hey, it took Nixon time to go public with his tapes. Lee Micallef has just followed suit.

The versatile musician has been recording since he was 11, mostly in his Livonia home. Micallef estimates he has more than a dozen self-made tapes, trying to produce at least two a year.

"It can happen when you're riding a bike and a phrase just clicks," he said. "You write it down instantly. Then you go and elaborate on it."

If this story sounds a bit familiar,

Warren Defever of Livonia had been a basement recording artist until British independent label 4AD got hold of the tapes and turned them into an international release, "Livonia," by His Name is Alive - Defever's group.

WELL, MICALLEF has formed his own group - Blue Nimbus. The band includes bass player Michelle Fields of Farmington Hills, rhythm guitarist Kevin Copeland and drummer Shelly Lankford, both from Livonia.

To take his music to the stage just seemed natural.

"It's the freedom of movement," said Micallef, whose band has performed at area clubs such as Finney's, Majestic Theatre and Pay-

"What I love is the stage before you go on - it's magical. There are such great expectations Hopefully, we can deliver the show."

THE SOUND Blue Nimbus delivers definitely possesses a "new wave" flavor with a heavy lean on the keyboards. However, some stinging guitar riffs and some angst-ridden lyrics prevent it from being technological drivel.

Micallef describes it as sometimes aggressive, sometimes moody and sometimes funky. Overall, the music appears to be a form of rebellion to the three-chord heavy metal riffs Micallef constantly heard in high school:

BLUE NIMBUS is starting to make its move in other ways. The band is featured on "Industrial Chaos." a compilation CD on Nebula Records.

AND THE HORSE THEY RODE IN ON—Soul Asylum

Soul Asylum's "And the Horse They Rode in On" is one of those cooperative efforts between a small, independent label and a huge record conglomerate. In this case, it's between Minneapolis' Twin/Tone label and A&M Records.

What this situation usually means is that the small label finds the band, nurtures it, has faith in it. Then, just when the band seems to be getting popular, the larger label jumps into to "help" (read: Grab some of the profits for themselves). Nonetheless, it is still sort of heartening that Soul Asylum will get all the benefits and exposure that come with having a major label backing them. Maybe this will change Soul Asylum's outlook on its song, "Nice Guys (Don't Get Paid)." Major label backing also means a around since 1983, and presumably knows what sort of music it'd like to play, its lack of focus can be attributed to a desire not to be pigeonholed. Or perhaps, it still hasn't found its niche yet.

THERE ARE some high points on the album. "Easy Street" is a Replacements-style rave-up that could be a hit. And even though we said "Nice Guys" sounds like Steely Dan, it's still a pretty good song.

At best, "And the Horse . . ." is an eclectic release, chock-full of musical ideas. At worse, it's a confused mishmash of sound.

NATIVE PLACE — RAILWAY CHILDREN

For every worthy new band deserving of radio air play, there are those smarmy, synthesizer simps that always seem to get the nod instead

Railway Children may be in the latter category.

Railway Children are new music. all right, but in the radio programmer's sense of the term. They have so much commercial appeal written all over them they should sell ad space on their drum kit. They seek not to offend, relying heavily on the big synthesizer/guitar sound and lightweight lyrics to carry them through.

In their better moments, Railway Children sound like a poor man's Cure. Any semblance of a hook or catchy melody are overshadowed by some rather insipid lyrics - even by pop's forgiving standards. Guitarist and vocalist Gary New-

THEN AND NOW - ASIA

From the lack of musical growth department:

It's game time. Take a copy of Asia's new Album "Then and Now." play it through once or twice and tell me which are the new songs and which are the old songs.

And no peeking at your old record

Part greatest hits package, part comeback album, "Then and Now" features four new Asia songs and six tunes from its previous albums, but telling them apart would take a true Asia enthusiast.

Here's a hint. Songs one through four on side two - Asia didn't even have the courage to put its new material first. OK, maybe Asia had some great harmonies. And maybe it had some decent pop hits in the early 1980s.

And maybe it had some truly decent album covers. BUT THAT doesn't justify the members repackaging all their old hits under the guise of "reintroducing" themselves to their fans.

rehash the same basic Asia sounds lush harmonies, heavy production, echoed vocals.

Nice work, if you can get it, but why waste the bucks on a four-song album?

Bzzzzz. Game's over.

"Days Like These," "Praying 4 a Miracle," "Am I In Love?" and "Summer (Can't Last Too Long)" are the new songs. Kind of sound like B-sides to old Asia singles — albeit with a tad more guitar work.
For die-hard Asia maniacs only.

SIR JAMES Barrie's famous tale was filmed with voices for the first time in this 1953 animation. Bobby Driscoll is the voice of Peter Pan, Kathryn Beaumont is Wendy Darling while Hans Conreid is George Darling/Captain Hook and Margaret Kerry is Tinker Bell.

On Oct. 10 "Tom & Jerry" continue the animation celebration with "Tom & Jerry's 50th Birthday Classics, Volumes 2 & 3" while "Bugs Bunny's Greatest Hits," "Bugs Bunny Superstar" and "The Very Best of Bugs" also hit the racks.

Still on Oct. 10, a fairly decent, entertaining videopic, "In the Spirit" (1990, color, R, 94 minutes), has an all-star cast and some pretty funny lines although the plot line is not all that original. The story category is whacky ladies caught up in the difficulties of living in Manhattan.

THE CAST also features Melanie Griffith and Olympia Dukakis in clever cameo roles

"In the Spirit" is loaded with highly professional performances and, although it's fun, could have been a lot better.

Obscene is defined as offensive and that certainly fits "Meet the Hollowheads" on Oct. 17, and it is their taste that is hollow. This family, sort of a sci-fi Lubiner crowd, lives in another world where everything comes to their home through tubes. The sadistic, phallic sugges-tiveness is truly obscene. The film is filled with that kind of sadism and numerous childish jokes. On top of that, it's not funny. Satire, farce, comedy of all kinds needs punch lines, fast pace and lots of pizazz. The "Hollowheads" is about as slow and flat as it gets.

THE REAL problem, though, for Blue Nimbus and Micallef is getting people used to their music.

Micallef is trying to do something different that, it is hoped, will have appeal, he said. The great artistic debate ensues.

"I don't know if you can have both. You have to like it, first of all."

WHICH IS perhaps why Micallef was careful in choosing a band. He had known Copeland for several years. He met Lankford through his drum instructor at Hammel Music. Fields was a friend of Lankford's.

Things gelled from the start. All four share something in common they are in management in retail and fast food.

Dear Thank You,

My thanks to you for your excel-lent question. It gives me the opportunity not only to respond to you, but to elaborate for other readers.

On the positive side, if there is growth and development in his character, achieved through his treatment, he is no longer the same person who married you. If his motives are pure, he wants you to have the opportunity for growth and develop-ment so that the two of you could have a better marriage than you ever had. the marriage,
It is understandable that you would feel threatened by your hus-band's suggestion. You should take it as an opportunity even though you feel this way. It is a gift in disguise. It will allow you to open yourself to knowledge and insights that are thrilling and exciting.

Take this as an opportunity to grow yourself, and if your husband is taking his treatment as an opportunity to grow himself, the two of you will have a wonderful marriage.

On the negative side, some mates who enter treatment camouflage their own problems by blaming things on the mate who is not in treatment. The therapist of the mate in treatment does not know whether the horrible picture of the mate not in treatment is accurate or not.

One psychiatrist did a survey of patients referred to him for marital therapy. They had been referred by the therapist of the mate in treatment. This therapist said that his patient was unable to make progress in the individual therapy because the unseen mate was so terribly sick.

Thirty couples were in marital therapy with him under these circumstances. In 50 percent of the couples, the description of the mate not in treatment was accurate. In the other 50 percent, patients in treatment had described not their mate but themselves.

In technical terms, this is called projective identification." The patient projects onto some other person, in this case the spouse, the negative qualities that he cannot see in

One thing about stand up comics if you wait long enough they'll always turn up again.

Being in all those cities, all those comedy houses is what it's all about for Brad Garrett, who figures he does 30 weeks a year on the road.

In school Garrett liked the cutups, the guys with a good story, and would hang out with them, he said. Academically, he never set any worlds afire, but he was a serious, if not dedicated, student and was granted a degree upon graduation.

UNCTIONAL, sculptured art furniture, created by Larry

Fox of Northport, is the newest featured exhibition at the Linda Hayman Gallery in Farmington Hills.

The exhibition continues through Oct. 27.

"I'm always looking for something unusual, something appealing, interesting and new," said Linda Hayman, gallery owner.

"Larry Fox's work fits the bill: quality work and one-of-a-kind

IN THE gallery is a centerpiece coffee table that Fox created from ash with inlaid strips of walnut that continue in a lyrical line past the outer edge of the tabletop. As with all his functional pieces, Fox plays the dark wood, walnut, against a light ash.

Fox creates tables, plant stands, trays, candleholders and step shelves in an art deco, yet contemporary style. He has won many awards for his designs and considers himself an artist who works with wood, not a woodworker. ith wood, not a woodworker.

Fox's functional art allows for total freedom in self-expression, while accenting living space with pure, fluid design.

His step shelves give a new slant to traditional bookshelves. Utilitarian shelves created by Fox look like stairs, which climb straight up or diagonally across a wall. His art furniture is solidly built and destined to become family heirlooms eventually.

CLIENTS ARE "adding more wood, more traditional warmth to their homes," Hayman said.

Fox's artistically crafted furniture, created in natural woods, uses clean design lines - sometimes simple, sometimes lyrical. His pieces range in price from $80 to $600.

As a businesswoman, Hayman is dedicated to customer satisfaction. She prides herself on striving to have "something for

THE GALLERY has a selection of prints, original graphics and paintings, art posters, art books or tabletop art, photography and a complete framing center. Prices range from $25 for posters to $7,000 for an original Wessleman. Besides Fox's functional art furniture, Hayman carries Matisse-like prints by the Israeli artist Yitzchak Tarkay. His work focuses on the female figure painted in a vibrant palette not unlike Toulouse-Lautrec. Tarkay's pieces evoke undetailed beauty in his women and sensuousne

The Hayman Gallery also handles the work of New Yorker Malcolm T. Liepke. The characters portrayed in Leipke's lithograph, "Bar Scene," are reminiscent of Degas. His art has appeared on the covers of Time, Newsweek, Forbes and Fortune. Hayman entered the art scene 11 years ago. On Nov. 1, she'll open a second gallery, in Boca Raton, Fla. It will carry contemporary American photography, paintings, sculpture and prints.

The Linda Hayman Gallery is at 32500 Northwestern Highway, Farmington Hills.

This vibrant display of color by Johanon von Herson is a futuristic art form referred to as Soft Art. Acrylic/felt fabrics, in endless color combinations, are blended into a layered collage placed in a 14,000-needle press to create a flat and flexible surface.

Created from cherry wood, Larry Fox's step shelf is a versatile piece of art that can serve many functions. It provides storage space for books, videos, cassettes -- anything stackable. Fox has the design in a variety of woods: walnut, oak, ash. The piece retails for $225.

organizing Dorothy Lehmkuhl

Take control to speed meetings

Q: I've recently been elected president of an organization whose meetings are always long and chaotic. Despite my good intentions, the first one I ran didn't go much better. How can I "shape up" the group?

A: Many organizations perpetuate the "we've always done it this way" philosophy. Regardless that numbers grow and society changes, meetings are still bogged down, running the same way they did decades ago. It's not so much a matter of "shaping up" the group as it is for you to firmly, but good naturedly, take control.

First, take a look at what's going wrong. Do people arrive late? Can members hear the speaker? Do discussions drag on endlessly?

Good advance preparation is key. Provide a table at the entrance so that when people arrive, they can sign in, make name tags and obtain a written agenda, minutes, financial reports and other materials to be distributed. You may want to begin with a 15- or 30-minute social period to give people time to exchange greetings.

At the appointed time, bang a gavel or create some other loud noise to get attention and give them a couple of minutes to take their seats. Bring the meeting to order and make an announcement that, from now on, meetings will begin on time, then do it.

Give everyone a couple of minutes to look over the minutes silently, then quickly make corrections and approve them. Keep verbal announcements during the meeting to a minimum. Ask for committee reports only from those that require group discussion. If things are functioning smoothly, no report is needed. After committee work is completed, tribute should then be paid before the membership. Insist that only one person speaks at a time. If people tend to chat while others have the floor, don't be afraid to interrupt and request full attention be given to the speaker. If discussions get sidetracked, cut off the Chatty Cathies by cheerfully, but firmly, stating you must move on to other matters. Insist all topics for discussion be placed on the agenda in advance, then weigh these requests carefully. If a person tends to be talkative, perhaps you could propose an issue yourself to save time (watching your own wordiness, of course). Save the most verbal people until last. Some of their material may already have been covered by then, and a stated adjournment time on the agenda may encourage them to be brief. If you allow outsiders to make presentations, outline how long you expect them to speak. Then adjourn the meeting first, providing an opening to those who must leave.

You don't have to be a drill sergeant to get things in order. By incorporating good humor, everyone will appreciate your efforts to make things run more smoothly.

Keeping warm air in and cold air out has become a much more involved process than it used to be. Rolled insulation has been augmented by insulated sheathing (shown here), house wraps, blown-in insulation, exterior insulation wall systems and even sponsible for dangerous conditions being establishpre-tabricated insulated panels.

Insulation takes a new look in battle against cold, heat

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

When you say insulation, what comes to mind? A pink or yellow roll of fiberglass? Maybe some blow-in or loose-fill insulation? If you're really a student, maybe an expanded polystyrene board.

In the never-stagnant building environment, insulation has moved well beyond these basics. But few ever peel back the outer layers of a home or building and peer beneath.

Almost anything in a home today can be considered insulating, but the nuts and bolts insulation - the wraps, the blowins, the modular wall panels, the polystyrene panels - forms the first line of defense to both cold and heat loss.

INSULATIVE SHEATHING is a strengthened, expanded polystyrene foam applied to the outer frame of the building, said Simplex Products Division spokesman Gerald Gast Insulative sheathing serves as a base for an exterior covering, is a fairly common insulative material, but has been improved in recent years, he said.

Sheathing provides insulative value in three ways, Gassman said. One, it has an intrinsic insulative value; two, it seals seams and openings in walls; and three, when properly installed, it has a reflective value.

"The sheathing is actually set away from the wall - about three-quarters of an inch - and that reflects heat back into the house like a Thermos bottle reflects heat back into a bot-Insulative sheathing comes in rigid panels that also add strength to a wall to prevent bowing, cracking and warping, Gassman said. Finally, insulative sheathing adds to a house's fire wall rating, he said.

ANOTHER ALTERNATIVE offers not only insulation but a inished appearance as well, said Ward Pimley, spokesman for Dryvit Systems Inc., the leading manufacturer of "outsula-Dryvit is marketed locally by Jarecki Distribution Inc. in Dymouth.

Unlike other types of insulation, outsulation is a finished wall, Pimley said. Others require an exterior brick, stone, or ding finish, but outsulation requires no additional covering. With exterior wall and insulation systems, an acrylic top toat is applied over reinforced mesh layered with fine Portand cement, which is applied over an expanded polystyrene foam base, Pimley said.

Besides adding insulation value to a home, outsulation also comes in a virtually unlimited supply of colors and textures and can be carved to resemble columns, brick work and other atures, Pimley said

THERE ARE several advantages to outsulation, he said. "First, it places the insulation on the exterior where it does e most good." K'key advantage is that outsulation minimizes thermal mock. In the typical wall, cold air infiltrates the wall in the winter, and warm air builds up in the wall in the summer.

In a wall fitted with the exterior wall and insulation system. heat is stored in the wall in the winter and outside heat is deflected in the summer. The cost of heating and cooling is much lower, he said.

Outsulation, which is seamless, also seals thermal bridges and prevents air infiltration as well as sealing out the elements, Pimley said. Conventional walls absorb water and over a period of time, walls buckle or warp and insulation value is ANOTHER OPTION is the preassembled stress skin, structural panels. Although available for nearly 20 years, they are only beginning to catch on among the nation's builders, said Tom Savoy, technical director at AFM Corp. in Minnesota.

AFM, with plants throughout the country, including in Grand Rapids, builds the preassembled insulated panel, which is essentially a rigid expanded polystyrene board sandwiched between stranded lumber - particle or chip board - facings, Preassembled stress skin, structural panels — which come in anywhere from 4-by-8 to 8-by-20 foot panels - offer strength similar to a continuous column and do not require wood studs.

Instead, the panels are connected by studs in channels at the top and bottom and between panels by overlapping joints "like blocks sliding into place," Savoy said.

"Once a house is done and the sheathing is put up, you can't tell the difference."

THE SOLID construction prevents bending, twisting and warping, he said, which gives the wall greater strength and thermal stability because there is less settling and shifting.

Also, because the wall is preassembled - rather than building wall sections, standing them up, connecting them and adding insulation - homes are closed up within hours, he said. And because the stress skin structural panels are connected with overlapping "thermal splining," air infiltration is cut dramatically. The tighter home is far more energy efficient.

HOUSEWRAPS, AN air filtration barrier, serve a similar purpose to the moisture blocking paper of the past, but today's synthetic plastic wraps are far better, Gassman said.

Housewraps literally wrap around a home to keep air from seeping through cracks and seams. Although housewraps have no insulation value in themselves, they do help keep a home energy efficient.

"Even under 10 mph wind conditions, the average insulated wall will allow air seepage through small cracks and seams - and that reduces a home's energy efficiency," Gassman

Housewraps also block ultra-violet rays that degrade the older moisture barriers, he said.

WHILE NOT a problem if a house is closed up and the exterior walls are covered with brick or another type of siding, some projects - especially do-it-yourself cabins or second houses - may have to stand up to the elements for Moisture barriers will break down and allow water and condensation to damage the wood beneath; ultra-violet ray-resistant housewraps do not break down, Gassman said.

Finally, housewraps allow moisture to escape from within walls to the outside without allowing cold or hot air from outside to enter, he said.

Common problems plague exteriors

A successful house exterior starts with an honest assess-need of help suffer from one of these problems:

According to Remodeling Ideas magazine, most houses in

 Not enough detail: A house without interesting architectural details is rarely memorable. Details can be added with shutters, window boxes, trim, moldings or other new features. Use paint to accent present detailing.

e Too much detail: Some houses mix too many materials and styles. Take such houses back to basics. Strip away oddball elements. Paint mismatched material the same color, or invest in unified cladding.

Poor proportions: Use landscaping tricks or a new color scheme to shape up a house with awkward lines. Consider dormers, porches or a new entry to balance the exterior.

As architectural details are added and subtracted, go for a look that's consistent with the basic lines, age and setting of

To help visualize the changes, try this: Enlarge a photo of the house's exterior, then put tracing paper over the top. Trace the house, then sketch in features that are being considered.

CLADDING A house with new materials may be the best choice if the old exterior is unattractive, mismatched, or if an all-new look is wanted. Choices include:

 Wood siding: Beveled wood siding, especially narrow clapboard, is still the look of tradition. For a contemporary look, use a top grade of cedar or redwood and stain it.

· Synthetic sidings: Vinyl or aluminum sidings mimic the look of wood, sometimes very well. Consider leaving special window or door trims exposed so character isn't sacrificed. Or, have trim custom-clad with aluminum that's molded to fit on-site. To add detail, ask about special trims for windows, doors and eaves.

 Wood shakes and shingles: Shakes are rough-hewn for a more rustic look. Shingles are cut smoother; trim siding with fancy-cut shingles for a Victorian flavor.

e Brick and stone veneers: These are premium products, and they denote long-lasting quality. They can be applied only on the front, or around the entire house.

 Stucco: This mixture of cement, sand and water makes the look of many Southwestern, Tudor and contemporary houses. New stucco systems not only refinish a house but insu-

Security vs. liability key instead of a key lock box. What do you think? With the increase in the amount of liability the association is incurring with respect to security, it is my recommendation that the association not have a master key for all the units but have a visual key lock box whereby there are individual keys for individual units.

If the master key is lost, you have placed all the units in jeopardy, whereas an individual loss of a key results only in changing the locks on that particular unit. Of course, you will want to investigate the question of whether the association wants to retain access to any units under any circumstances, particularly if they have the right to gain access to the unit in case of an emergency in the condominium documents

I also recommend that the co-owners have deadbolts to enhance security.

I am planning to develop a condominium near a golf course. Are there any suggestions that you would have with respect to this undertaking, particular to this setting that I am describing?

The item that was recently discussed at the community associations institute seminar was a failure on the part of the developer to disclose the statement, which, in your case, would include the fact that there is a possibility of errant golf balls on the condominium premises.

Some courts have held that associations are reed because of the proximity of the condominium to the golf course.

I would also be concerned about the drainage of the condominium as a physical matter in connection with the golf course waters, although I presume that your site engineer has looked into this matter thoroughly.

Drainage is one of the largest causes of construction defect legislation in a condominium project both in Michigan and around the country.

Our condominium is large enough to consider hiring an in-house security guard. Do you have any

In comparing in-house security guards to the al-ternatives, including outside guard services, it is my recommendation that you hire outside security and that you pay a sufficient wage to get top quality personnel.

Believe it or not, some security guards are pail as little as $6 or $7 an hour. I am told by people in the industry this makes it extremely difficult for them to hire a trained person. The reason that you want to get an outside guard service is that it would be independently insured and have direct supervisory control over its person-

Therefore in the event of a lapse in security or an "inside" job, you will have recourse against the outside security company.

LEADING DESIGNER BRINGS HIS EXPERTISE TO OAKBROOKE

Craig Steinhaus of renowned interior design firm Perlmutter/Freiwald of Franklin, was overwhelmed when he saw the natural beauty of Oakbrooke. He worked losely with architects Alexander Bogart and Robert Summers to create homes that would complement the environment, yet still meet all

The results speak magnificently for themselves. The spectacular setting and the carefully detailed interiors make Oakbrooke a homeowner dream come true. Nothing has been overlooked. Lofty 8-foot doors, and ceilings soaring 11 to 20 feet, give the rooms open airy feelings. A skylight naturally illuminates the dressing area. Huge master bedrooms and gournet kitchens allow for easy movement. The level of luxury and spaciousness surrounding these homes is simply stunning.

Social acceptance allows 'mingles' to buy

AP - More unmarried couples are buying homes together than at any time in the past, according to a survey of major lenders conducted by the Mortgage Bankers Association of America.

"Eighty-nine percent of those surveyed reported more 'mingles' purchasing homes as compared to five years ago," said James W. Nelson, president-elect of the trade association and president of Eberhardt Co.

Nelson said growth in sales to unmarried couples also is recognition by lenders that many are qualified and capable of handling the financial aspects of buying a home.

NELSON ALSO said the Persian Gulf crisis has pushed mortgage in-terest rates up one-half of a percent-age point since the Aug. 2 Iraqi invasion of Kuwait.

"This translates into about $40 more per month on a mortgage of $100,000," he said, adding that the rate increase and tighter mortgage underwriting will exacerbate affordability problems for many first-
