Groundhog cheers school

staff writer

Groundhog Day is traditionally Punxsutawney Phil's moment of glory, but he has to share the limelight with local teacher Ron Myers teaches fifth grade at Fiegel Elementary School in Plymouth Township. He's made it a tradition in recent years to dress up in a tuxedo and top hat in honor of Groundhog Day, Feb. 2, and the students think that's

"There's very little done on Groundhog Day." Myers decided to change that, and wouldn't mind seeing more widespread recognition of the day. Traditionally, on Feb. 2 the groundhog comes out of hibernation. If it sees its shadow, it supposedly returns to its hole for six more weeks of winter

On Friday, Myers told first graders at Fiegel the story of how a groundhog saved his life. Myers lived in Monroe, Mich., at that time and was in the fifth grade or

Not all the first grad lieved that Myers was saved from two vicious foxes by a compas-sionate groundhog on Feb. 2.

"To me, it's true," Myers told one such skeptic. "Some of the best stories are based on fact. Most of that is true."

HE DID in fact grow up in Monroe and often walked to the home of his friend, Bob. Myers saw groundhogs along the creek on the way to his friend's house.

County not interested in Mettetal

The feud between the supervisors in Canton and Plymouth townships over Mettetal Airport isn't worth putting future joint projects at risk, according to Mike Duggan, deputy. Wayne County executive. Wayne County executive.

The airport, at Lilley and Joy roads in Canton, is classified a reliever airport for Metropolitan Airport, but the county doesn't place a lot of emphasis on that roll.

"As far as we're concerned it doesn't make a difference," Duggan said. "As a matter of air traffic, it is not important to the county."

While the Mettetal Airport issue becomes increasingly explosive, Plymouth-Canton Community Schools is maintaining a non-commital stance — even though de-maintaining a non-committal stance — even though de-velopment of the site could mean nearly half a million dollars in tax revenue, estimates said.

Whether the Canton airport should be operated by a consortium of local governments has sparked heated controversy. A recall campaign has been launched against five Plymouth commissioners who voted to form an authority with Plymouth Township to operate

A group called Plymouth Concerned Citizens joined Canton in filing a lawsuit, charging that under state law, an authority would need the approval of the host com-

Canton officials contend it's unwise to use tax dollars to maintain a recreational airport.

Ray Buckman, the schools' legislative liaison, estimates that if 26 industrial sites were located at Mettetal, the total tax benefit to the district would be $465,910. Less abatement of 50 percent, revenue would

The revenue would allow the school district to hire nine teachers without adding one child, Buckman said.

PLYMOUTH-CANTON SCHOOL board members don't dispute that a privately owned airport is preferable to a government-owned on

"In my opinion, it would be like dropping a grain of sand on the Sahara Desert, or maybe the Persian Gulf desert. No one would ever find it. God could come down to speak to one side, and the other side would think it was Satan."

THE DISTRICT is primarily concerned with the state financing of education, said Ray Hoedel, associate superintendent for business.

"I don't know if I can speak for the district as a whole, but we've got many concerns ourselves regarding the uneasiness at the state level," Hoedel said. "We're looking at the lack of funding for schools and the potential problems that could affect our budget.

"The state is hurting financially. They're making big cutbacks right now. They need a larger revenue base.

"We never have gotten into issues on zoning of prop-

"WE HAVEN'T delved into it at all," said Diane Barnes, Plymouth-Canton director of finance.
"I wouldn't even hazard a guess (about potential tax revenue at the Mettetal site). There's just no way we could speculate on something like that. We're knee deep with what is happening with the state budget."

While the district is out-of-formula and ineligible for general state membership aid, it still receives categorical aid and close to $8 million in Social Security and retirement reimbursements.

"Both of those are matched by the employer," Barnes said. "The state has already started recapturing parts of FICA; something that's never been budgeted locally."

Metietal is "tearing" at the lead-ers in Canton and Plymouth town-ships "and we hope they will resolve it," Duggan said.

THE RIFT between the townships hasn't killed specific projects, Duggan said. But there's a concern about joint efforts on solid waste, sewers, Metropolitan Airport expansion and development along J-275.

Airport noise

Study group sorts through comments

Members of the Wayne County Commission's airport noise study group are sorting through the dozens of comments they received at this month's public hearings as well as the "hundreds" of letters received since with an eye on final recom-

Canton in way of JOA for Mettetal

To the editor:

In, joining the request for an injunction against the airport purchase, the board of trustees is displaying its complete disregard for both the economic and aesthetic well-being of Canton Township.

Mr. Yack was correct in stating that was "not an accident" that an emergency meeting was held on Jan. 25. He has made each move in his campaign to close Mettetal with an eye-to avoiding public discussion and explanation of his actions.

I was a member of the appointed i was a member of the appointed citizen committee that studied the proposed acquisition of Mettetal by the township. I am not a pilot, and am not connected with Mettetal.

Our committee put considerable time and affect into investigation of time and effort into investigation of ues involved in the acqu of Mettetal, and provided a thorough, reasoned scenario for our rec-

Yet the Canton board ignored that study, and now seems to be making false claims of proposed future ex-pansion, inflated estimates of possi-ble tax revenues, and unsubstantiat-ed claims of citizen displeasure.

There are no plans to expand Mettetal Airport. This can be easily confirmed with the Michigan Bureau of Aeronautics and the FAA. And if Mr. Bennett distrusts the validity of that pledge, would be be willing to give the township a pledge that after the closing of Mettetal all that tax revenue will actually be realized?

There are no guarantees in this is-nue, just judgments. And the best udgment of our board of trustees was to ignore the recommendation of the committee they appointed to study the issue. Now, because other municipalities have chosen to act upon that recommendation, the Can-ton Board of Trustees wants to be Continued fighting to stop Plymouth and Plymouth Township from purchasing Mettetal can have only ne result — more legal fees to be paid by Canton taxpayers.

Epough of our tax dollars have been, and are being, squandered on this issue. It's time for Canton to el-ther become a part of the authority, or stand back and let it proceed. El-ther way, the benefits to the town-ship will be realized without this use-less political infighting.

To the editor: I just finished reading an article in today's edition, written by Kevin Brown (reporter for the Plymouth/ Canton Observer). With the war in the Middle East, ension is high. We all have opinion and although some may differ from my own, I welcome the educated

Mr. Brown ends his article by writing . . . "And it's all for a damn cheap tank of gas." First of all, if he truly believes that the war is only to protect the "cheap oil" (gas), let him consider these options . . . No crude oil — which means no gasoline, no grease, lubricants, hy-draulic fluid, diesel fuel, fuel oil, jet fuel, kerosene, asphalt, road oil, in-sect sprays, weed killers, rust preventives, paint, detergents, synthetic rubber (tires), plastics, antiseptics, cosmetics, drugs, anesthetics, nylon and other synthetic fibers, and the list goes on . . .

Are "you" willing to sacrifice all

Now what could possibly be another reason for the war? Does it have anything to do with any type of future with world peace?

You referred to Jimmy Carter's effort to reduce our nation's depend-ency on foreign oil as a laughable, wimpy one. At least he made an at-

For those people who share your opinion — get off your high horse and do something! Instead of protest, use that energy to develop products that require no "cheap tank of gas" and "your" Americans can come home.

As for my Americans, the true Americans, the ones risking their own rear ends to protect our freedom: They are in the Middle East, their families are in their home countries praying for their safe return and for peace on earth.

At one point in your article you asked, "Would you send your son or daughter to the Middle East to die so that I can have cheap gas?" Well, Mr. Brown, you also live in, and benefit from what this country has to offer, so, would you?

Is this truly a needless war? If you are so opposed to the ways of the United States, there is a solution . . .

Support is needed for the arts

To the editor:

This newspaper has suggested that Lansing restore arts cuts made by Governor John Engler. I agree.

Governor John Engler. I agree.

I would like to suggest alternative methods of financing local projects that are being affected by the budget knife of John Engler. Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen has proposed he would be able to raise over $500,000 for partial payment on the purchase of Mettetal Airport. I believe that this would be for the local share.

I am suggesting to Breen that he

I am suggesting to Breen that he utilize his fund raising skills to fund a number of local projects that affect the entire Plymouth community (including both Plymouth City and Plymouth Township and Canton Township, as he defines community).

Here is my list:
• $25,000 for the Plymouth Historical Museum, used by people from throughout the community.

• $50,000 for the Plymouth Community Arts Council to purchase a permanent facility for the support of

• $25,000 as Plymouth Township's share of the Fall Festival, after all many people in his communi-ty benefit from this event.

• $50,000 to establish a scholarship endowment fund for Plymouth students similar to the one established by the Canton Foundation.

• $25,000 for the Close Up program to help send students to Washington to study government first Obviously the list goes on and on, However, the point is one that needs to be underscored. We have some wonderful local institutions that help to define our community, whether it is the Canton Community or the Plymouth Community. I would hope that Supervisor Breen would be able now to turn his attention and fund raising skills to help all of our local institutions that are being used daily by thousands of our residents and

Recycling editorial was off base

To the editor:

The recent Observer editorial dated Jan. 10 on the recycling pilot programs in Canton Township was quite a surprise. It is indeed unfor-tunate that the editorial staff at the paper has until now kept secret their expertise with regard to recycling programs.
The Canton Solid Waste Committee has obviously spent unnecessary time and effort attending seminars, conducting interviews, reading publications and collecting and analyzing data in its efforts to design an effective and comprehensive solid waste disposal program for the Clearly, the Observer editorialists already had all the answers. It can only be hoped that, now that this valuable source of information on recycling has been made public, other communities will be spared the need to plan, evaluate and make decisions based on fact. They need only consult the experts at The Ob-

The Canton Solid Waste Committee takes strong exception to the re-cent (Jan. 10) editorial about the pilot recycling programs beginning in the township. It may, in fact, prove correct that the "rotational recycling" approach may not, for any number of reasons, represent the best curbside recycling program for the township to implement at this particular time.

It is our position, however, that a conclusion such as that should be based on fact rather than unfounded and unsubstantiated opinion. That is the entire reason for instituting a pilot program in the first place.

The pilot will provide the opportu-nity to compare the effectiveness of the two different approaches and to base future decisions on an objective evaluation.

In any event, the committee is confident that, if the "rotational recycling" program is found to be a less desirable alternative, it will not be because Canton residents are able to succeed only at the simplest of

Attorney says new law leads to urban sprawl

aff writer

An attorney shocked an environmental conference by saying Michi-an's tough new "polluters pay" law an lead to urban sprawl.

"Such laws can and do promote prawl," said David Bruegel, a spe-alist in environmental law with the atroit-based firm of Dickinson, fright, Moon, VanDusen and Free-

The law's criminal sanctions, innding jail terms and fines, are "a tential disincentive to the business son to be creative and find a new use for land," he said. Thus, inves-tors will tend to opt for undeveloped land — urban sprawl — rather than communities where roads and utilicommunities where roads and utili-ties already are in place.

Bruegel, of Bloomfield Township, does work for Oakland County, busis and financial institutions. The colluters pay" bill, which takes effect July 1, amends the state's environmental response act with faster nforcement procedures to clean up hazardous wastes.

BESIDES GASPS from the audience attending a day-long workshop sponsored by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, Bruegel's remarks drew a retort from state Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton.

"I can't stand idly by and allow Bruegel to portray the act as a black plague on development," said Kosteva, who was vice chairman of the House Conservation Committee which last summer rescued and rewrote the bill after it died in the "Members of the Small Business Association, Michigan Bankers Asso-ciation and Michigan Manufacturers Association all were sitting at the exact same table as the 'environmentalists' in negotiating this act," Kosteva said. He said the new law will allow allocation of costs between parties rather than socking one with total liability. And it provides for a negotiating board outside the state Department of Natural Resources to review cleanup costs. "Never before has a state law allowed a process outside the department," he said.

SEMCOG's workshop at Mercy College of Detroit drew several hundred local officials, real estate people and academics. It is part of a year-long regional development ini-

SEMCOG's chief concern is that in the next 20 years, population in the seven-county region will grow by only 5 percent while developed land will increase by 40 percent at cur-rent rates. Such urban sprawl's twin evils are 1) enormous governmental costs for roads, water and sewers and 2) abandonment of already de-veloped land and communities.

BRUEGEL DIDN'T reply publicly to Kosteva but in an interview later indicated business people may have acquiesced to the negotiations process while still being unhappy with the "polluters pay" law.

He told the conference the law gives bankers a disincentive to lend money for redevelopment. A banker would know that a state-imposed lien for cleanup of hazardous wastes would take precedence over the lender's lien and be in effect a "super lien."

"These liens may have a major on impact development. . . The bank's own assets may be at risk," Bruegel said.

He said the law "reaches back" to judge deeds done innocently or even in conformance with earlier laws and imposes costs for their cleanu

In effect the law says, "We hold you responsible for rules adopted after the fact or which didn't exist when you acted," Bruegel said. "If you sell (property), you may become liable later, even if you handled ma-terials properly under the law."

While proponents portrayed big corporations as polluters who would pay, Bruegel said the law also ap-plies to small sole proprietorships, making them "all the more fearful."

DETROIT city officials admitted their extension of water and sewer

Although there will be almost "no

A LETTER TO THE DESERT STORM SOLDIERS

Dear soldier:

Greetings from suburban Detroit.

I've been meaning to write this letter for some time now. Granted there's no excuse for my tardiness, but believe me when I Lell you that you have been on my mind more than you will ever come to know.

I'm a suburban food writer and local chef, and the word filtering back here is that, with the exception of your MREs, those guys in KP are performing somewhat of a miracle putting out at least tolerable cuisine. Rest assured that through your efforts, you will come home safe and continue to enjoy good food

If you haven't already torn into the box I sent along with this letter, I thought you might enjoy knowing what is enclosed.

FIRST OFF, there's my own Swiss Army knife that I found encrusted in sand while on a fishing trip on the Big Manistee River. While down with a sore back, I took it all apart, got rid of the rust and the sand (god knows there's enough of that where you are) and oiled it down so that the little nail clippers, the can opene and the fingernail file open with minimal effort. This little knife opened up plenty of food and provided a lot of refreshment. I pray it does the same for you.

pressed into sheets, and dried tiger lily blossom complete King's culinary creation.

AN ARTISTIC FLAIR evolves with preparation of Four Seasons, a gathering of vegetables broccoli, cauliflower, carrots and brown mushrooms - each selected for color and taste to represent seasons of an entire year. The dish carries additional meaning: "blessings for the whole year, the whole family together. Completeness." according to King.

'Chinese like to use delicate terms in naming food," she said, in explanation of the term rots. Glass noodles, tofu, either canned or Mushrooms mean opportunity and happiness. Eggs symbolize life and the numerous seeds of the pomegranate, many children. Chicken is the symbol of rebirth, shrimp is joy and fish means abundance and plenty. Onions and heads of lettuce are produce bursting forth from the earth and portray new beginnings.

Tangerines wish good luck, their succulent juice symbolic of continued sweetness in life. Tangerines, complete with leaves intact, are hidden in the beds of children, wishing them, the sweetest issue of life, the sweetest of blessings and the best of good luck.

Food preparation also carries meaning: Meat, fish and poultry are crafted into balls to symbolize harmony, much like the meaning of the round wedding ring. King's feast includes shrimp and fish balls, as well balls fashioned from meat and fowl.

THE ORIGINS OF Chinese feasts stem from the 12th century B.C., with banquet guidelines evolving from feasts of the fourth century A.D.

A typical royal banquet menu during the 18th century Ming Dynasty commonly featured 26 courses, including rarified summer sparrow, braised silver scales and deer smothered in five spices. Dishes carried such tempting names as Floating Bud in the Lake, Petals on a Moonlit Pond and Heavenly Fair.

"Lavish hospitality and a decadent affair," the Kings wrote in "Eating the Chinese Way in Detroit," a book they published in 1980.

Today, Chinese banquets such as the one honoring the new year are much simpler. The 16 appetizers of ye dozen now, followed by even fewer entrees that are likely stir-fried. At least one will be vegetarian in traditional Buddhist atonement.

Entrees are followed by several heavy es, braised or red-cooked Peking duck steamed chicken, or suckling pig served in heavy sauce. An elaborate soup nearly always accompanies the meal, as does wine spirits. The meal concludes with teasert, once eschewed as inappropriate

The goat, pronounced Yang, is the imal of the Chinese zodiac. The Year of the Goat also occurred in 1907, 1919, 1943, 1955, 1967 and 1979.

Persons born under the goat sign are usuming in manner and speech. Determina gentleness and tolerance are their strong dom, passion and confidence.

That Charlie's Wayne Roadhouse is about to drop the Charlie's from its name should come as no surprise to restaurant observers. Once any affiliation with restaurant mogel Chuck Muer was an asset. Now that Muer has sold off many of his holdings, and now that a group of ex-Muer restaurants have gone into bankruptcy, owner Fred Ferguson has decided it's time to have the Roadhouse stand on its own. Mainly, the name change makes the statement that this restaurant's future isn't in doubt.

Neither is the future of Uptown Charlie's in Madison Heights, also owned by Ferguson but as yet not targeted for a name change. Although the menu bears similarity to the Muer selection of offerings, it has its differences too - differences that will be more pronounced when new dinner and lunch menus are introduced in the near future. The Roadhouse still stresses fresh fish and pastas and still serves as accompaniments the trademark redskin potatoes, corn on the cob and salty bread. At the same time, it is developing its own personality. A creamy cole slaw has replaced the former tart, vinegary slaw. And the restaurant has a new - and apparently quite successful emphasis on carryout, offering a variety of pizzas and sub sandwiches to go.

was satisfying. The seafood entree we tried baked whitefish - showed the restaurant still has a good feel for preparing seafood. The entree was one of about six fish offered that evening, ranging from the mild whitefish to a strongertasting make shark.

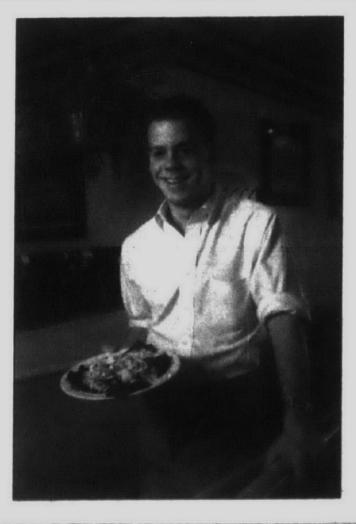

Pasta dishes can be ordered in large and small portions regardless of the time of day. We found the lunch portion of the prima fettuccine more than adequate, and a good deal at $5.95. This entree features fresh vegetables, including broccoli and mushrooms, with the fettuccine in a mild white sauce. The shrimp artichoke pasta is also a winner

In an effort to try a variety of barbecue entrees, we tried a combination plate ($11.95) that featured ribs, chicken and Cajun steak. The only really good portion of this entree was the ribs, which were very tender and meaty. The chicken was just a fillet coated with the barbecue sauce and the steak was overcooked

While taste in barbecue sauce is a highly personal thing, we found this sauce to be a little too sweet and tangy. Still, had the chicken and steak been basted with the sauce during grilling, rather than just coated with sauce afterward, they may have been more enjoyable.

With the barbecue entrees comes hearty helpings of french fries and onion rings, along with cole slaw, garlic toast and corn on the cob. It was somewhat overkill, though the corn tasted good and made an out-of-the-ordinary side dish.

FISH STEAMED IN MICROWAVE

This classic fish is traditionally served on special occasions. Cooking in a microwave resembles steaming, retaining the mois-

1 whole fresh pickerel, pike, or whitefish (about 1 ½ pounds), scaled and cleaned, but with head, eyes, tail and fins intact

¼ cup corn, vegetable or safflower

1/4 CUP SOY SAUCE

Wash scallions, discard root, fine sliver and set aside. Fine sliver ginger and set aside. Dry fish with paper towels. On cutting board, place fish on its side and, with a sharp knife, score skin by with diagonal cuts about 1 inch apart and 1/2 an inch deep, entire length of fish, from head to tail. This will ensure even cooking. Turn fish over and score other side in the same manner.

Place fish on its side on oval heatproof serving platter.

Cover with a large sheet of plastic wrap. Cook on high for 6 minutes. At the end of 6 minutes, check if done by inserting a toothpick or thin bamoo skewer into middle part of fish. If fish is done, the toothpick will come out clean and the flesh will feel tender to the touch. Discard cooking juice. Spread slivered scallions and gingerroot evenly over

In dry and clean saucepot, heat 44 cup of oil at 375 degrees until almost smoking. Pour hot oil over scallions and gingerroot in a thin stream. Add soy sauce.

Serve immediately. The fish can easily be flaked off with a fork and knife or with chopsticks. Serve with slivers of scallions and gingerroot with some gravy. This dish goes well with hot rice and stir-fried vegetables. Note: only the freshest fish can be prepared in this way. Yield: 4

SPICY CHICKEN WITH CASHEWS

This spicy hot dish will be welcomed by diners who like spicy food. The hot sauce with ginger-root, scallions and gartic is adpted from the traditional "Yu Hslang" method of cooking, famous in Sichuan. "Yu Hslang," transin Sichuan. Yu Hsiang, translated literally, means "fish fra-grant." This dish, however, is by no means fishy. On the contrary, it is fragrantly spicy and a good "rice-sender," that is, diners gob-ble down many bowls of rice.

With an ever-increasing emphasis on eating healthfully, seafood has left the deep forever and come swimming to the forefront of our national nutritional consciousness.

This week's Winner Dinner, submitted by Debbie Wallis Landau of West Bloomfield, offers a recipe for preparing fish that even her husband who is more of a meat-and-potatoes man - loves. It is an easy and quick meal to put together. Land au likes to serve the fish with a coloriul pasta salad, chock-full of fresh vegetables, followed by a spicy, heated melange of winter fruits for dessert.

Landau is a lifelong resident of the Detroit area. She and her husband are the parents of a young son. After earning a degree in journalism in 1974, she was hired by another Winner Dinner Winner, Peggy Brewer, and worked as her assistant editor for Kmart Corp. employee publications.

LANDAU LOST touch through the years, with her first boss, and was delighted to read about Brewer in this column. Landau credits that first job with providing invaluable writing experience.

Now home full-time raising her son, she volunteers at her son's school, is involved in a monthly book review group and enjoys taking care of their pets. She continues to keep her writing skills sharp by doing free-lance work for area publications, as well as for the small business she started more than 10 years ago, called Rhyme or Reason. For this, she writes poems or prose on request for all occasions, such as birthdays, anniversaries and special tributes.

Thank you, Debbie Landau, for sharing your recipes with us and congratulations on being this week's Winner Dinner Winner. I wish you and your family all the best and appreciate your support of this column.

FISH HATER'S SURPRISE

Quick and easy, this recipe provides a tasty and apealing way to get family members to eat fish. This recipe serves 4-6.

11/2 pounds orange roughy or other mild, white fish

1/2 cup low-fat milk 1/2 cup or more seasoned Italian

1/4 cup grated Parmesan chees Cayenne pepper, garlic powder and onlon powder to taste, or other preferred seasoning, to taste

Puritan or other canola oil

Beat the egg and mix in the milk and seasoning. Dip the fish fillets into the mixture, combine the bread crumbs and Parmesan cheese and completely coat the fish with this dry mixture. Place the fillets in a baking dish sprayed with a non-stick coating. Drizzle a little oil on the fillets before baking.

Bake the fish at 325 degrees for 20 minutes. Then, broil for 3-4 minutes until browned, under a 500-degree setting.

in 1965, and in 1978 founded Charles F. Shaw Vineyard and Winery in California's Napa Valley.

Shaw's interest in wine began during a two-year stint in France, where he worked as an investment banker. While in France, with his banker. While in France, with his wife Lucy, Shaw had the opportunity to visit the French wine regions and was enchanted by the wines of Burgundy, especially Beaujolais.

In Napa Valley, Shaw specializes in making wines styled after the French Beaujolais he came to love.

French Beaujolais he came to love.

Since the origins of the California grape varietals, Napa Gamay and Gamay Beaujolais, are in doubt, Shaw devised an elegantly simple solution to his problem of using the genuine varietal. In 1981, he sucgenuine varietal. In 1961, he suc-ceeded in procuring vine cuttings from Beaujolais and thus imported to California the first vines that are unquestionably the true grape of Beaujolais, namely gamay noir a jus

SHAW'S WINEMAKING technique duplicates the methode beau-jolaise to achieve the characteristic fresh-fruit quality of true Beaujolais wine. In this method, also called carbonic maceration, whole grape bunches are put into a deep, stainless steel fermentation tank and blanketed with carbon dioxide gas, the same gas produced during fermentation.

Crushed by the weight above, 20 percent of the grapes at the bottom of the tank release their juice, which begins to ferment. The remaining 80 percent of the grapes begin carbonic maceration, or fermentation within the whole, uncrushed berries.

The carbonic maceration technique preserves the full, fresh, fruitiness; spicy, peppery nuances; ripe berry aroma, and bright garnet color of the wine. Brief aging in large oak tanks imparts the structure and backbone necessary for increased longevity. "Don't believe the myths that nouveau wines won't age for more than six months," Shaw says. You can test this by trying the 1990 Harvest Wine Gamay Beaujolais Nouveau, one of this week's wine se-

Salem extends Lakes Division reig

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Plymouth Salem remains the king of dualmeet wrestling in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

The Rocks won their ninth consecutive division title Thursday with an easier-than-expected, 37-18 victory over visiting Westland John Glenn in the final dual for both teams. Salem finishes 5-0 in the Lakes, the Rock-

"We had a real young team to start the season," Salem coach Ron Krueger said, "and I thought there was no way we could possibly win this year. But the kids worked hard and came a long way.' The Rocks pinned four Glenn opponents and won four decisions, including one at a weight they weren't expected to win. The Rockets had only one pin and when they did decisions — their Salem opponents wrestled well and held them to three-point wins.

"THAT WAS the big thing for us," said Krueger of the pins. "I instructed the kids in very tough matches to give away as little as possible and not to give up the six points.

"A couple of kids I figured were going to get pinned by some of their real good kids didn't, and that made a big difference for

Glenn closed to within 25-18 after Tony Pietrzyk's 4-3 decision over Phil Haynes at

The Rockets still had a chance to win the meet, but Salem sophomore Wade Langdon shut the door on Glenn with a pin at 189. He pinned Ian Cowen at 1:08 in the first period, and senior Ken Coker followed with a pin in the heavyweight bout to double the score on

"I left Phil and Wade as question marks," said Krueger of the 171 and 189 bouts of his pre-meet estimate. "(Langdon and Cowen) are first-year kids. It was a tussle, then two giant trees fell. Wade came down on top and did a nice job keeping him on his back."

The Rockets started with a 3-0 lead as Tom Pace won a 5-2 decision over John Moran, but Salem rebounded with three straight wins to take a 13-3 lead.

SCOTT MARTIN blanked Jeremy Samples 6-0 at 112, Dan Bonnett pinned Brannen Udell in 57 seconds at 119 and Chad Wilson

"I figured we would have to win the first four matches to win the meet," Krueger said. "Losing the first one put us on the defensive right away.

"I was hoping to be up 21-zip. You work things out on paper a thousand times, and it never comes out the way you think.

"But that was a plus for them and how hard they wrestled. John Glenn-Salem matches are always good, hard matches."

Salem's Jeff Shumate pinned Chris Ponczek at 3:20 in the 135-pound contest, but the Rockets sandwiched a pair of 7-3 decisions around it to stay within 10 points, 19-9. sions around it to stay within 10 points, 19-9. Glenn's Rob Wilson defeated Dan Phillips at 130, and Keith Jackson defeated Jeff Coleman at 140, but it was still a plus for Salem to hold the Rockets to three points IN A PIVOTAL match at 145, Saless Josh Viau edged Shane Hall 4-3, scoring one-point escape with two seconds remaining in the match. Having already eliminate the possibility of a loss, Viau averted a draw the possibility of a loss the possibility of a lo and gave the Rocks a mini swing with a 22-9 advantage.

"Josh Viau did a real nice job," Kry said. "I'd say that turned the match r around. That was a key win; we needed one, because 40-45-52 is their real str

"Phillips did a good job again. He only gave up three, and that was probably the best match Shumate has wrestled."

Mike Reeves cut the margin to 22-15 with Glenn's only pin at 152, stopping Bob Han-sen at 4:15. Charlie Apigian countered with a 7-0 victory over Kevin McKenna at 160 and restored Salem's 10-point lead (25-15) with

Canton romps to swim victory

Plymouth Canton scored an impressive, dual-meet swimming victory Thursday over host Livonia Churchill, 120-68. The Chiefs are 2-2-1. Canton swept the relays and had a double winner in Doug Nevi, who won the 200-yard individual medley in 2:13.31 and the backstroke in 1:02.25.

The Chiefs started with a victory in the 200-yard medley relay in which Mike Orris, Shawn MacInnis, Mark Ealovega and Craig Steshetz combined for a 1:47.92 time.

Orris also anchored the 200 freestyle relay team and won the butterfly in 1:00.09. Ealovega, Dave Nevi, Jeff Clark and Orris had a 1:40.7 time in the Doug Nevi was the anchorman in the 400 freestyle relay, which included Pat Lancaster, Josh Blunt and Wes Shasko and posted a 3:48.84 time.

Lancaster was an individual winner, too, as was Canton diver Nick Atwell. Lancaster swam the 100 freestyle in 54.55, and Atwell compiled a total of 206.45 diving points

Zach Kasprzak won a pair of individual events for the Chargers, swimming 1:59.44 in the 200 freestyle and 5:26.94 in the 500 freestyle Churchill's Jeff Danner won the breaststroke in 1:06.52 and Doug Edwards the 50 freestyle in 23.84.

Spartans shock Rocks, 59-58

staff writer

On a night when Plymouth Salem star Jake Baker had to leave with an injury, Livonia Stevenson must've felt like it finally arrived as a baskethall team.

With Baker sidelined the entire second half by a dislocated finger on his right hand, Stevenson rallied for a thrilling, 59-58, upset win Friday over the visiting Rocks.

Matt Grodzicki's baseline threepoint jumper with 26 seconds left gave the Spartans the lead for good, 57-55, and the junior guard added two free throws with four seconds remaining to assure the win.

The victory was the sixth in the The victory was the sixth in the last seven games for the Spartans, who improved to 7-5 overall and moved into sole possession of first place in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association at 3-0. Salem fell to 11-2 overall and 2-1 in the Lakes Division with two division games remaining.

points, including three shots from three-point range. His last-minute triple try hit nothing but net.

"I DIDN'T KNOW how much time was left," Grodzicki said. "I just got the ball and Mac (coach Jim McIntyre) said 'shoot it.' We've looked at this game all year. We just want to make it to the upper bracket (of the WLAA post-season tournament).

Baker, a senior left-hander who has signed with Central Michigan, dislocated the pinky finger of his right hand going for the ball during the second quarter and did not re-

"The ball hit it and the finger just popped out," Baker said. "I think I'll be all right."

The extent of the injury was not known immediately after the game, but it was obvious what it meant to the Rocks' hopes down the stretch.

Salem built a 45-38 lead after three quarters, but the Rocks missell six of their last seven free throws, including three front ends of case-

Harrison stuns Chiefs with rally

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

In preparing his team for Friday's basketball game, Farmington Hills Harrison coach Mike Teachman noted in his scouting report Plymouth Canton had lost five games to 'very good" teams.

Teachman challenged his players by asking a rhetorical question: "Are we a very good basketball team? In other words, are we good enough to beat them?"

The Hawks answered in the affirmative when they scored the last 10 points of the game to overtake Canton on its own floor 66-63 and steal what seemed an almost certain victory from the Chiefs.

"Our theme all year is 'Can we improve and become an outstanding team?' " Teachman asked.

"I felt we had become a good team. To be an outstanding team, we had to take care of the average teams and win tough games on the road. We just won a tough game on the road!

Harrison improved to 5-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 10-2 overall. The victory also was significant in light of Plymouth Salem's loss to Livonia Stevenson, because it gives the Hawks a share of first place in the WLAA.

THE CHIEFS slipped to 6-2 and 8-

6. Harrison also gained control of first place in the Western Division at 3-0 while Canton is 2-1.

The Hawks were led by senior forward Andy Smith, who scored a game-high 31 points and virtually carried his team until others arrived carried his team until others arrived with help in the last quarter.

Junior center Paul Gilvydis, after being blocked off the boards by Cabton counterpart Tony Coshatt for most of the game, came up with 11 of his 17 points in the fourth quarter.

The only other Harrison player to score in the finale was guard Roy Granger, but his points were arguably the most important of the game. His three-point basket with 33 seconds to play gave the Hawks their seconds to play gave the Hawks their first lead (64-63) since the opening minute of the first quarter.

"Paul Gilvydis became a player in the second half," Teachman said. "He didn't care if his foot movem was just right or if the shot was just right. It had to go in.

"Roy was standing there with his hands out, begging - begging for the shot."

With under two minutes to play,"a Gilvydis free throw and Smith field goal cut the Canton lead to 63-59.

Bowling remains vibrant sport

The cost to bowl has risen somewhat, but remains a bargain when compared to the price to bowl in other parts of the Country.

Bowlers are generally getting better and more knowledgeable in how to play the game and make adjustments.

THE EQUIPMENT is improving with more sophisticated balls that can "hit" harder due to a combination of materials and high-tech design. We have seen five years of "short oil," as most bowlers have learned to handle it well.

The new buzz-word is the "system of bowling," which means new methods of dressing the lanes and new standards for balls and pins. This means we can expect to see changing conditions again next season and it will result in a banner year for the ball manufacturers.

Some houses are using next season's standards now. The "system" calls for a minimum of three units of oil from channel to channel. This will virtually eliminate the swing-shot, in which you could send the ball toward the channel where it would catch the dry boards and move hard to the pocket.

There are several new balls on the market with names such as "Nitro" and one-and-one free throws and lost the 6-8 Coshatt with his fifth foul.

Gilvydis sank two more free throws with 43 seconds left (61-61), grabbed the rebound after Canton's econd miss and fed Granger, who raced up court to pop the three.

"We gave Granger that shot all night," Canton coach Dave Van Wagoner said, noting it was his first trey. Granger finished with six points.

"He just made it when it was money time. But that's the mark of a clutch player. When the game is on the line, you have to hit your shots and tonight we didn't.

"Harrison made their breaks toward the end of the game," he added, "and everything they did seemed to turn out right in the last few min-

Gilvydis iced the win with another pair of free throws with 12 seconds

That culminated what was a remarkable turnaround in a game that was all but dominated by the Chiefs, who led by as many as 10 points in the first half and were in front virtually from the start, though Harrison stayed close in the second half.

"IT WAS JUST an infusion of Hawk pride," Teachman said. "We stepped it up; we had to have it. I don't know what would have happened if the game had been 30 or 31 minutes long.

The Chiefs didn't score a field goal in the last 31/2 minutes and didn't score another point after Karl Wukie made two free throws for a Canton lead of 63-56 with 2:16 to play.

"I hate to think you play defense giving up 63," Teachman said, "but there was some defense being played out there. It wasn't all O.

"I think our defense confused them in the second half, and we took turns coming up with great plays.

Andy Fitzpatrick played a tremendously intelligent floor game."

The Chiefs were led by senior forward Brett Howell and sophomore guard Mike Stafford with 13 points apiece. Senior forward Kevin Holmes chipped in 12 points, and Coshatt added 10 in addition to his strong rebounding.

which nearly pulled out a victory over Salem on Tuesday, was notice-ably absent in the second half. The Chiefs took a first-half lead on the three-point shooting of Stafford, who had four triples, and Jon Pau-pore. But they went scoreless in the second half, and another outside scoring threat, Derrick McDonald, had only two points.

"WE DIDN'T get the right people the ball in their scoring spots in the second half," Van Wagoner said. 'We weren't there mentally or physically on offense or defense.

"We had the wrong guy shooting the wrong shots, and we missed some free throws that would have iced the game." While the Chiefs took control with their outside shooting in the first half, Smith struggled to keep Harrison in the game with 13 points, which included a pair of treys.

"We have a saying about Andrew Smith," Teachman said. "Any time he takes a 15- to 20-footer, that's like someone else taking a layup. Andrew is an easy player to take for granted (because he is so consistent)." Gilvydis didn't become a factor until late in the game, largely because of Coshatt's presence in the middle. For that reason, the Hawks missed 5-3, 230-pound forward Blazo Sarcevich, who was in Hawaii for a football recruiting visit, Teachman

"There 3-2 zone really baffled us (in the first half), and Tony Coshatt played a heckuva game," Teachman said. "Brett Howell did everything he could to win the basketball game; and Paupore is one of the great role players in the league."

Plymouth Christian dominated the game from start to finish Friday, as the visitors doubled up Macomb Christian's offensive output in every quarter en route to a 79-28 boys bas-

The Eagles improve to 3-1 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference and 7-6 overall.

Junior forward Jeff Hess led balanced Plymouth attack with 15 points. Senior forwards Rob Askew and Keith McCants added 14 and 18 points, respectively, for the Eagles.

Jessica Handley is second in career assists for the Saginaw Valley women's basketball team.

Handley leads way for young team

staff writer

Of all the things Jessica Handley has accomplished in four years on the Saginaw Valley State University basketball team, her greatest feat may not have anything to do with

"I can't remember if she's ever had a sprained ankle," said Cardinals coach Claudette Charney, referring to Hadley not missing a game because of injury during her four-year career. "She always works extra hard to be in great shape. She's just a tough competitor." Handley, a 1987 Plymouth Salem graduate, has been a model of consistency for the Cardinals, who have won the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference two times in Charney's five years at the helm.

Unfortunately, the wins haven't come as easy this season for Saginaw Valley, a young team with only two other seniors on its roster beside

After Thursday's 83-58 loss to Oakland University, the Cardinals are 4-6 in the GLIAC and 11-10 over-

QUITE A CONTRAST from Hand-

ley's freshman year in 1987-88, when the Cards were 25-8 overall and earned a trip to the NAIA National

"I don't want to keep saying we're young, but sometimes it shows," said Handley, a 5-foot-7 guard who averaged 6.0 points per game in her pre-vious three years. "I've never been much of a scorer, per se, so I don't feel the pressure to score. I feel pressure to lead, though, and that's good pressure. I'm more of a yeller out there. Whatever the coach wants, that's what I try to do.

"It's a motivator (this being my last year). It's hard not to get frustrated, though, cause I want to do so much in so little time. That's a big dilemma, getting past the frustration. We've seen glimpses of what we can do this year. I know we can do better than tonight."

With only six games remaining in her collegiate career, Handley is already second on Saginaw Valley's all-time assist chart with 404, 65 shy of the all-time mark set by Gail Goestenkors. Handley has started all 21 games for the Cardinals this season, averaging 9.0 points and 3.5 as-

She holds the record for most three-point field goals made in a game (3) and this year has made 19-49 from that range.

Handley will graduate in May with a 3.71 grade point average and a double major in criminal justice and political science. Handley, who has applied for law school ("T'll probably end up at the University of Toledo with my sister, Stacy,") also plans on playing third base or out-field for the Cardinals softball team this spring for the second consecu-

IS THERE ANYTHING she can't

"Her biggest attribute is she's a true leader," Charney said. "She works at it, puts in her time and can play both (guard) positions. She's a great worker and comes from a good high school program. She's been in volved in a lot of wins, so it's a little ard to be involved in a total rebuilding year."

Handley was Salem's "Athlete of the Year" in '86-87 when she com-bined with fellow stars Dena Head and Jill Estey to lead the Rocks to the Class A semifinal before losing."

Handley said she still runs into Estey, a sophomore guard with the University of Illinois, at basketball camps during the summer. The two aren't similar in style, so when they play it makes for interesting one of play it makes for interesting one onone games, Handley said.

"I'm just a shooter, and she drives and is a lot more flashy with the ball," said Handley said. "I just try to shoot, she drives, and we try to outhustle each other for the ball."

Watching Thursday's game from the stands were Handley's parents, Joan and Harry, and her grandmother (Phyllis Oconnor). That's nothing knew since Handley can't remember a game when they weren't in atten-

"They're my best fans," said Handley. "I know it sounds corny,

With the national letter-of-intent signing date just two days away (Feb. 6), players around Observerland will have to make decisions soon.

The latest verbal commitment came last week from Anthony Hood, a 6-foot, 195-pound running back from Redford Bishop Borgess with 4.4 speed.

Hood will sign Wednesday with Northwestern University of the Big Ten, joining North Farmington tight end/linebacker Todd Pawlowski, who committed to the Wildcats earlier in the week.

"I knew the environment was right for me when I visited there (Jan. 15 in Evanston, Ill.)," said Hood, an honor roll student who plans to major in mechanical engineering. "The coaching staff was to my liking and it's a great academic school. The professors seem in tune with the athlete. They're interested in the students graduating in four years.

Other Observerland players expected to sign Wednesday (given verbal commitments) include: Redford Catholic Central defensive end Brian Chaney (Eastern Michigan), CC tight end Mike Grimes (Central Michigan) and Livonia Churchill running back/safety Mike Brooks (Ferris State).

, FERRIS STATE has also made an offer to Westland John Glenn quarterback Lawrence Scheffer, who is expected to make a decision today. But the 6-2, 205pound passer may opt to wait for baseball offers in the

The picture is not so clear for CC defensive back/ tailback Mike Thomas, who is hoping to hear from Michigan or Michigan State, but may likely wind up at CMU or Western Michigan.

Meanwhile, Farmington Hills Harrison linebacker Blazo Sarcevich is expected to decide today between the University of Hawaii, Central Michigan or Western Sarcevich (6-3, 230) arrived home late Sunday from a weekend visit to Hawaii, which had already extended a full scholarship offer. UCLA had canceled a planned visit by Sarcevich, saying it had signed all the linebackers it needed. Arizona had received early commitments from two linebackers it was pursuing, but it still wanted Sarcevich to make a visit because it might want to sign anoth-Sarcevich canceled that visit because the Wildcats wanted him to come last weekend. He opted for the Hawaii visit, because the Rainbow Warriors were definite about wanting Sarcevich to play for them.

BORGESS RUNNING BACK David Dobbin is reportedly leaning toward Bowling Green, while teammate Al Fernandez, linebacker/offensive guard, could wind up at Hillsdale, which is courting CC fullback Jon Barbara.

Stevenson upsets Salem cagers

Salem coach Bob Brodie said. "I thought we controlled the boards pretty well, but we've got to put the ball in the orange hole. That's the name of the game. They did it and we didn't. You can't change the game plan (because of the injury). You've got to have people to fill in the positions.'

STEVENSON LOST much of its scoring punch to graduation, but the Spartans have rallied this year behind the senior leadership of Phil Woods, Paul Rockwood, Dan Gibbons and Dave Amey. Woods made three triples and finished with 12 points, while Amey had nine points on three shots from three-point

For these kids and the coaches, all wins are sweet when the kids play up and above the call of duty, McIntyre said. "They really believed they had a chance to play ball with one of the better teams in the area. We keep telling them they're capa-ble of doing it and it's a real credit to them. This is a ball club that walks on the bus and doesn't impress people, but they have giant hearts."

McIntyre knows it could have been a different story with Baker in the game, but he also knows Salem had the advantage of going to the line 12 more times than Stevenson. The Rocks made 17-of-29 free throws and the Spartans finished 11-

"The refs were driving me crazy - most do anyway - but we thought tonight there were some over the backs not called," McIntyre said. "They were so big inside and we just wanted the refs to be cognizant of the three-seconds because we didn't want them camping in the

"THAT BAKER KID'S a great player. He does a lot of things and sets the emotional status in the clutch. We'll definitely be seeing them again. It'll be just a matter of both teams progressing to the point where we can have another great ball game like this."

With Baker in the game, Salem

scored seven straight points midway through the first quarter and enjoyed a 17-9 lead on a layup off the fast break by Kirkpatrick. A three-point play and the first three-point shot of the night by Grodzicki put the Spartans down by only three, 17-14, after Brodie chose not to start both Kirkpatrick and Cliff Lee, but the two were pivotal in helping the Rocks leave the first half tied with the Spartans at 26.

"I've started a lot of lineups all year," Brodie said. "I play those who Usually, arthritis arrives slowly, persists and leaves only by degrees. Your body, mind and family adapt to it over time; hospitalization rarely hurries along this process of

However, there are times when going to the hospital is appropriate. One instance is if you have an infected joint. Then you need intravenous antibiotics and frequent removal of fluid from the afflicted joint. A hospital is the best place for these interventions.

Hospitalization is in order if your arthritis is part of a "multi-system" condition. Multi-system means the lungs, heart, or in the case of lupus arthritis, the kidneys are part of your overall illness. Hospital admission allows your doctor to study the extent other organs are involved. Often this effort is too complex to initiate in an office setting.

A third indication for hopspitalization is for rehabilitation. Arthritis may leave you limited in the ability to undertake self care or markedly impair walking. The effort possible in a hospital rehabilitation unit to reverse this change makes this setting preferable to daily cutostion with the complex content of the complex con

The above exceptions aside, physicians carling for your arthritis prefer to see you in the office and to keep you functioning at home.

Duns Scotus: architectural

By Joan Boram special writer

HINK "SOUTHFIELD."
Then think
"architecture."
Put the two words together and what images come to mind? Probably sleek, glass-andsteel, high-rise office buildings, their atria teeming with weeping fig and philadendron.

Or, possibly, trendy 10,000-square-foot homes cantilevered into the sides of ravines.

Would it surprise you to learn that Southfield is also home to a striking example of Northern Italian Romanesque.architecture, awarded the Architectural Medal for 1930 by the Detroit Chapter of the American Institute of Architects?

trip into past

Duns Scotus, a Franciscan Friary, occupies a 125-acre tract at the northwest corner of Nine Mile and Evergreen. It was recently sold to a Southfield development company for conversion into a business conference center and golf course.

Camouflaged by surrounding trees, the stately complex is invisible to those rushing by on the highways, although they may glimpse the modest signboard and wonder about it.

The first spadeful of earth for Duns Scotus College was turned on Thanksgiving Day, 1928. It's

A view of the Cloister Garth. An old stone well lends Old World charm to this quiet garden retreat. The octagonal tower is pierced on all sides by graceful arches and topped by a weathervane bearing the Franciscan insignia.

Shoo by GUI WARRAKAtali photographa

The cloister walk is notable for its unusual brickwork. Called "Mission Blend" by the architect, its irregular pattern and subtly varigated bricks avoid monotony and are pleasing to the eye.

The Duns
Scotus library was designed to promote quiet study.
The bright oak stacks accommodate 50,000 volumes. In the early '50s, the hanging lights were sold to "modernize the building."
All but two were repurchased later.

Camouflaged by surrounding trees, the stately complex is invisible to those rushing by on the highways, although they may glimpse the modest signboard and wonder about it.

• CIVIC CENTER GALLERY

Monday, Feb. 4 — Impressionist acrylics by Jose Romero of West Bloomfield, are on display through Feb. 15. Romero, a full-time anesthetist, was born and educated in the Philippines and immigrated to the United States in 1963. Since coming here, he pursued his interest in art, studied at the Art School of Minneapolis and the Paris American Academy of Art, and has shown his work widely here and in Europe. Hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, 26000 Evergreen, Southfield.

MEADOW BROOK VILLAGE MALL

Tuesday, Feb. 5 — Spring art show by members of the South Oakland Art Association will be on display through Feb. 11. Hours are 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. The mall is at the northeast corner of Walton and Adams, Rochester Hills.

SUMMIT PLACE

Saturday, Feb. 9 — 1,000 works of art by high school students in Wayne and Oakland counties are on display through Feb. 24. They were chosen from more than 4,600 entries from 130 schools in the annual Scholastic Art Awards competition. Five students chosen as 1991 Hallmark nominees: Vong Lee, Pontiac Northern; Karen Smathers, Livonia Churchill, Emily Voturba, Grosse Point South; Daniel Mather, West Bloomfield; and Julie Stockwell, Rochester High. They will be honored at the opening reception 9:15 p.m. Friday, Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads, Waterford.

DETROIT INSTITUTE OF ARTS

Saturday, Feb. 9 — "Richard Pousette-Dart: Inner Realms and Outer Space" continues through April 7. He is a founding member of the abstract expressionist movement and a contemporary of Pollock and Motherwell. Some paintings defy interpretation, all speak of mystery and the creative force of the unconscious mind. Other exhibits are: "Revelaciones: The Art of Manuel Alvarez Bravo" through March 3; "Gari Melchers: A Retrospective," through Feb. 17; and sculpture by Graham Marks and Tom Phardel, Feb. 10. Hours are 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Wednesday-Sunday, 5200 Woodward, Detroit.

CRANBROOK ACADEMY OF ART MUSEUM

"Toshiko Takaezu: Four Decades," a retrospective of her ceramics, sculpture and fiber work, continues through April 7. This internationally recognized artist was at Cranbrook Academy of Art 1951-54. In addition to the permanent collection, "Mexican Masks from the Collection of Rafael Coronel," is there through Feb. 24. Hours are 1-5 p.m. Tuesday-Sunday, 500 Lone Pine, Bloomield Hills.

MICHIGAN GALLERY

"Visual Aids," the only collection of AIDS posters, is on exhibit through Feb. 23. These 350 posters represent a diversity of responses to the AIDS crisis. Regular hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday-Saturday. Dr. James Miller, curator of the exhibit, will give a gallery talk at 7 p.m. Friday, Feb. 15, 2661 Michigan Ave., Detroit.

ARIANA GALLERY

Valentine jewelry and ceramics are on display during February. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday-Saturday, 386 E. Maple, Birmingham.

GALLERY BIRMINGHAM North Broken Mill

New works by Terry Millikan and Barb Grundeman are on display through February, 390 E. Maple, Birmingham.

ARTFUL DOMAIN

Raku sculpture by Robert Piepenburg amd Steve Olszewski and furniture by Judith Ann Corba and Nicolas Van Kridjdt are on display through February. Exploring architectural treats at Duns Scotus architect, Wilfrid B. Anthony, looked for inspiration to ancient Franciscan establishments in Europe, including St. Francis's own church at Assisi.

The college was named after John Duns Scotus, one of the most profound philosophers of the 13th entury. Duns is the surname, Scotus being added, as was custom-ary in the Middle Ages, to indicate his birthplace, Scotland.

THE FIRST clerics moved in July 1930. That October, the public was invited to visit the completed five-acre building. An estimated 30,000 people toured the building and grounds in a one-week period, before the buildings were put into cloister.

For many years, the community was almost entirely self-sufficient. There was a pharmacy, a dental room and an infirmary. The cobbler made their sandals, the tailor their garments. The working farm provided most of the food required by the friars, but as the surrounding area was transformed from farmland into suburbia, farming became impractical and gradually Approaching the college from the main drive, you pass into another world, another time. Capped by gently sloping roofs of red tile, the tan walls give the building's exterior a feeling of tranquility and simplicity.

The many wings of the complex, with their varying roof lines, suggest a gradual growth of centuries, much like Old World monasteries, which grew bit by bit. In fact, the general motif for Duns Scotus was La Verna, an ancient Franciscan monastery.

The maze of buildings is dominated by the soaring mass of the chapel, inspired by the Basilica of San Francesco at Assisi (built 1228-1253). The cruciform Gothic structure is 204 feet in length: The sense of massiveness is emphasized by the sturdy buttresses projecting from the sides.

AT THE right of the chapel, the Lombard-Romanesque companile rises to a height of 150 feet above the grade line. In it are housed 20 chimes, which may be electrically operated from either the organ console or from the sacristy. They are automatically regulated to strike each quarter-hour.

Any important piece of architecture deserves careful scrutiny. But a building inspired by medieval examples holds special delights for the conscientious visitor.

Symbolism abounds at the Duns Scotus Chapel.

To mention a few, flanking the square that encloses the eastern wheel window are the traditional emblems of the four evangelists, carved in stone: the angel for Matthew, the lion for Mark, the ox for Luke, and the eagle for John. The window itself is divided into 16 radial sections symbolizing various invocations of Mary, the mother of

Over the window is an arcade of seven arches, symbolic of the seven Christian virtues. Below the arcade are four crouching animals - a dog, wolf, lamb and stag - representing the love of Saint Francis for animals.

IT ISN'T necessary to be steeped in Christian symbolism to enjoy this beautiful building, however. Intelligent curiosity and a willingness to take time to look is enough. The soaring, jewel-like windows alone will fascinate anyone with an appreciation for their intense blues, sparkling reds and deep

The chapel is open daily 6 a.m. to 5 p.m," the Rev. Daniel Havron said. "And there are three masses a day. The noon mass draws a number of people from office buildings in the area, people who want a quiet sanctuary for a small part of

The main entrance to the college building is of limestone. There is a figure of John Duns Scotus over the doorway: to his left are the heraldic arms of ancient Scotland, surmounted by the great hat worn by the doctors of medieval universi-

The heavy, iron-studded oak doors open into the entrance lobby. One almost expects to hear Orff's "Carmina Burana."

Given permission, a visitor proceeds into the ambulatory, warmed by sunlight streaming through Pal-

THE INTERIOR of the building is rich in its simplicity and use of traditional materials

Ornamentation is almost entirely lacking. The corridors are walled in brick: the floors are dark red tile. A stone lintel over every door bears the symbol of learning and hard work: a burning lamp resting on a bed of thorns.

The east wing houses the great vaulted refectory (dining room), paneled in light oak, with a large reproduction of Da Vinci's "Last Supper" painted in oils on the east wall. Long, heavy wooden tables line each wall. The two-story library is directly above the refecto-

Duns Scotus College ceased operations in the late 1970s. The complex is still used as a residence for members of the Franciscan order, however, and outreach programs are still in effect.

For many years, the order has maintained a poverty program, providing food, clothing and financial assistance to the needy." the Rev. Havron said. "And there are weekend retreats and adult education classes in spirituality and scripture. The Dominican Consultation Center has licensed psychologists on staff."

For some time, Duns Scotus has made its facilities available for conferences and meetings. Corporations are discovering that a non-traditional, serene environment can result in more productive meeting. Several Fortune 500 companies hold meetings and conferences there, turning the Old World ambiance of Duns Scotus to their

LONGTIME BOOSTERS of Duns Scotus plan to keep fighting so its friars can remain, despite the Jan. 21 announcement that the landmark was sold for about $10 million to developer LoPatin & Co.

The $50-million development plan calls for a business conference center and nine-hole golf course in 1992, pending rezoning. Southfield City Council president Suzanne Goldstein said the council would work diligently with developers to make sure the physical structure of Duns Scotus, "a real jewel," is maintained.

Development won't change the look of the Duns Scotus building and chapel, the developer said.

"It is our goal to maintain the architectural integrity of the existing structures, which will provide an environment where ideas can be exchanged with maximum ease and comfort," Norman LoPatin told the Observer & Eccentric.

Effective folks choose how they respond to life

Q: I often hear the term "proac tive," but I'm not sure of it's full meaning. Could you define the word and give me a better understanding

A: To understand proactive, you need to consider its antonym, reactive. Reactive people spend their time reacting to occurrences or situations around them. They act helpless to do anything about their environment, believing that life "does unto them" and that they have no

Reactive people wait until something happens and then react. Only after their children are using drugs do they react to repair the damage.

organizing

Dorothy Lehmkuhl

Only after their sales drop dramatically do they figure out what went wrong. Only after they're threatened with divorce do they try to improve their relationship. Only after they're too far behind on paperwork do they hire extra help.

Stephen Covey, author of "The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People," reports people who say, "That's the nothing I can do about it." "He makes me so mad" translates into 'My emotional life is out of my control." "I have to do it" infers "I'm not free to choose my own actions."

Proactive people, on the other hand, anticipate possible situations and take control over their response to them. "Reactive people are affected by the weather; proactive people carry their own weather with them," Covey said.

Covey asks readers to reconsider the word "responsibility" as "response-ability," the ability to choose your response. "The people who end up with the good jobs are those who seize the initiative to do whatever is way I am" really mean, "There's necessary, consistent with correct principles, to get the job done."

> "The proactive approach to a mistake is to acknowledge it instantly, correct it and learn from it," Covey said. "To delay, to deny the mistake, is to miss the lesson."

> Proactive people develop good communication with their children so problems can be intercepted. Proactivity includes tracking economic trends and competition to maintain sales volumes, nurturing relationships and anticipating paperwork jams. Reactive people spend their time responding to squeaky wheels. Proactive people keep their wheels humming effectively.

Once Around' is too much "Come See the Paradise" (B-, R, 130 minutes) which opened last Fri-day, was reviewed here Jan. 21. News of the delayed debut arrived after our deadline.

Briefly, it's the story of an American labor organizer, Jack McGurn (Dennis Quaid) in the mid-1930s. He marries a Japanese-American wom-an, Lily Takamura (Tamlyn Tomita). After Pearl Harbor, along with her family, she's interned with thousands of other native-born Japanese-Americans, the Nisei.

The untold suffering of the Nisei is depicted in excellent terms but Jack's problems as a labor organizer and a human being diminish the

"Once Around" (C+, R, 115 min-utes) is a well-intentioned comedy loaded with talent, not the least of whom is director Lasse Hallstrom ("My Life as a Dog"). He does his best to breathe life into Malia Scotch Marmo's scenario about a traditional Italian American family.

By and large, his CPR fails. Joe Belia (Danny Aiello) is the patriarch and Marilyn (Gena Rowlands) is the momma. They have three grown children — Tony (Danton Stone) who's married to Gail (Rozanne Hart) — and his sister, Jan (Laura San Giacomo). As the film opense she is making wording precess. opens, she is making wedding prepa-daughter, Renata (Holly Hunter), who is living with a fellow who isn't interested in marriage. With considerable trauma, she ends the relationship and heads south to sell condos. There she meets super salesman Sam Sharpe (Richard Dreyfus).

IF HIS NAME weren't enough one look at his white suit and a quick listen to his corny lines prove two things: This is Ms. Marmo's first feature-length film and she hasn't learned the difference between sophisticated satire and sophomoric

Sam Sharpe's initial appearance is characteristic of the entire film as he sweeps Renata off her feet. In addition to being a super salesman, he's also a nice person. The mesh here is not all that convincing. Why would such a superior businessman with a limo and big operations in New York appear as a hustler at a sales meeting?

Can we trust big tippers? Maybe, but perhaps the times have made us all too cynical. Sam Sharpe is less the bright moment in Renata's life and more a one-dimensional flash in the sales room. Despite expecta-tions, and it's obvious simplicity, their romance works much to the chagrin of her father who doesn't like being usurped in his daughter's affections by anyone, much less by a flashy hustler.

sides that conflict between traditional papa and hustler su-preme, there's abrasiveness between he sisters, some tensions with brother Tony and his wife, Papa Joe's maudlin affection for his longdead mother and everybody striving

A lover of cars and an avid gambler, Charlie Farrow's dream comes true when his boss asks him to drive a Porsche to a customer in Las Vegas. His dream turns into a twistdown. While it's being repaired, Charlie gambles at an illegal casino. A scuffle erupts with an obnoxious opponent aggravated by Charlie's poker skills.

The belligerent trips and cracks his head on a counter corner and dies. The dead man is the son of "Mr. Big" and no one will speak the truth. Charlie's only choice is flight. His desperate search for help gets him involved in other murders. All alone, Charlie is against two worlds, cops and robbers.

If this plot sounds familiar, that's because the storyline is overused these days. Innocent man in the wrong place at the wrong time chased by bad guys and good guys — he runs until he can clear his name. Add limited dialogue to that cliched plot peopled by stereotyped characters while throwing in car chases repeated from countless other films, and the result is "Run." (Reviewed by Brian Dunn)

CONTEMPORARY GORE fans will be disappointed in "Popeorn" (D+, R, 93 minutes) which leads viewers to the kill without any details. While lack of gore may not be tails. While lack of gore may not be all that bad, this film has little to Maggie the film student (Jill Schoelen) has nightmares whose images match those of the films she's showing at a horror film festival. The line between reality and illusion blurs as horror spreads

"Popcorn" throws all the imaginable (and expected) horror film punches without being effective. It's not really scary, just cliched and predictable. (Reviewed by Eric Phillips)

ALTERNATIVE VIEWING

Those drive-in gems return

By John Monaghan special writer

There's five minutes left until show time and dancing hot dogs, steaming pizza and fizzing soft drinks fill the screen. During the '50s and '60s, the heyday of the drive-in movie, these were familiar images

Frank Uhle, head projectionist at the Michigan Theatre in Ann Arbor, remembers those weekends well. He threaded his first sprockets at the University Drive-In near Ann Arbor.

Now, about twice a year, Uhle books a couple of campy exploitation films, dusts off old footage of dancing hot dogs and coming attractions, and simulates a night at the drive-in indoors at the Michigan Theatre.

The fifth edition of "Frank's Drive-in Movie Night" happens this Saturday night with two choice titles from the 1960s — "Ghidrah, the Three-Headed Monster" and "Hallucination Generation."

Made in 1965, "Ghidrah" comes from the Golden Age of Japanese monster movies, where unwieldly nuclear-born reptitles destroyed miniature Tokyos over and over again. This time around, Godzilla, Mothra and Rodan team up as good guys to battle the evil three-headed

"I REMEMBER it being one of the better ones," said Uhle who hasn't seen the film since he was a kid. He and other monster movie fans will be in heaven watching "Ghidrah" on a 35mm print and in wide screen.

Uhle spends months tracking down obscure titles, renting from tiny film-releasing companies that somehow got ahold of 35mm prints.

"There are 16mm prints available

VIDEO VIEWING

By Dan Greenberg special writer

It never fails to amaze me how much violence and gross, unpleasant behavior is accepted in an off-hand and casual manner in our culture while sexuality is the object of so much concern and so many attempts at social control.

Initially, after last summer's furor which led the Motion Picture Association of America to replace their X rating with the NC-17, video distributors sat on the NC-17, video distrib-utors sat on the sidelines and contin-ued to release R-rated films and pumped-up copies with the come-on, "Unrated version, contains addi-tional footage not seen in the R-rated version."

By now most viewers and industry personnel have settled comfortably with the NC-17 rating and business proceeds as usual. But don't expect too much from the NC-17 or unrated versions on the video racks. For the most part, they are little more than what passes for R ratings everywhere - and most of the films fall far short in acting, script and production values. Nonetheless, some of them are garnering decent reviews in Variety and elsewhere. But for most of them even the left-handed compliment, "Well, not too bad for TV" doesn't

But when it comes to violence and digusting displays, there's no limit. What could have been a clever up-Please turn to Page 4

League of Nations learned one thing about being known as rockers with message - they don't want to

'This having a conscience thing is real great, if you really mean it said drummer Alan Canning. "Rock'n'roll is supposed to be fun."

Perhaps in their four-year histony, League of Nations may not have been sincere?

That's not to say the League of Nations is about to pass up a good cause when they see one. The band is one of several groups involved in a three-day benefit, Feb. 5-7, at ClubLand in Detroit in support of THOSE WHO haven't seen League of Nations in awhile are in for a surprise. Violin player Sarana Verlin left the band and one of its founders, Kushner, has returned.

And instead of performing a mind opening brand of "new wave," the band has opted for a harder edge while maintaining its pop sensibilities.

Lyrically, League of Nations doesn't sound like they're trying to solve the problems of the world. In-stead, they just want to explore the world, and more succinctly, the feelings that surround it all sung in Joe Schiros' powerful voice.

THE SC) UL CAGES — Sting

From the Rolli, 1g Stone cover story, to the special environmentallyconscious packagi ng, to Sting's immediate post-relea se appearance on Saturday Night Liv. 2, everything surrounding The Sou Cages (A&M), screams out that the is is a major re-

Yet this is an album that doesn't live up to the hype a s much as render it irrelevant.

In commercial te rms, none of these songs are likely to burn up the nation's airwaves. But they're all literate, well-crafted an d moodily appealing - traditional strength of Sting's music.

This is a much smal ler album in scope that Sting's previ ous two solo efforts. This time, he's n ot taking on the world but examining his own soul "All This Time," Sting sings on a tune bearing that title, "the river flows." And that - cont inuity and regeneration - the album i's centical theme. Re-examining his life aft er the recent deaths of his parer its, Sting challenges his beliefs. On one harad, he finds traditional religion a waste of time. "Throw down the angels" he sings on one track. Still, many songs reflect the search for what Sting calls a "deeper religion"; the universal truths that give life - and death - their meaning. That kind of lyrical searching, as well as the many, and specific, references to Sting's hardscrabble childhood means that this is music that simply could have come from anyone else

Sting may be his name and identity these days but one sense that, maybe for the first time, we're getting a more than a glimpse of Gordon Sumner, too.

WORD — The Connells

ONE SIMPLE

The Connells (or ConnELLS, as some hip MTV video-jocks refer to them) have become one of the fashionable underground/cult bands since their self-financed debut LP. 'Darker Days," and a 20-second slot on an MTV specials about bands from the Southern states. "One Simple Word" is their second release since their signing to TVT Records, home of the Tee-Vee Tunes albums The opening notes of "One Simple Word" will strike anyone familiar

While first impressions may be that this LP sounds just like all the other Connells albums, repeated lis-tenings reveal a subtle difference. There is a confidence in the band's playing, and in their handling of the material which only serves to forge their distinctive sound.

This is best exemplified by Doug MacMillan's strong vocal melody lines and the slight experimentation in using some instrumentation such as an oboe, a cello and a trumpet.

With only three exceptions in a 12song list, Mike Connell writes the music. Herein lies the secret to their consistency.

The exceptions are the singer, McMillan's "Another Souvenir," and guitarist, George Huntley's "What Do You Want?" and "The Joke," wherein his vocals are somewhat reminiscent of Al Stewart (remember "The Year of the Cat???"

Without a doubt, Mike Connell's songs are consistently better with "Get a Gun" being a particular highlight, featuring the curious chorus of "She never listens to me at night/Get a gun, get a gun, We're losing altitude."

Oblique lyrics aside, this album is great representation of The Connells. Strong songs, great melodies and no pretent

As evidence of the lack of substance, even the label recognizes that the style is at least as important as the recording. Amazingly, the me-dia packet with this release touts Kemp's "striking appearance" with further elaboration from Kemp. "My look and my music play off one an-

On the other side of the world, literally as well as in terms of produc-tion values, several foreign films debuted on the videoracks Jan. 31.

Although different, both are finely textured, very European and exnely political. "Love" is a 100-ste, 1978, black-and-white Hungarian film starring Lili Darvas, the noted Hungarian actress. "Roads South," also from 1978, is 92 minutes, color and in French with Eng-

"LOVE" ALSO has English subtitles. Both are well-done titles outlined in black for easy reading.

"Roads," directed by noted American director, Joseph Losey, stars Yves Montand as a screenwriter haunted by his Spanish background and involvement in the anti-Franco movement. If this film reminds viewers of Alain Resnais' 1966 film 'La Guerre Est Finie," also starring Yves Montand but in black and white, well, it should for it's essentially the same film but well enough done to deserve your attention.

It dissects the complex emotions of family love, political obligations and individual self-image with fine acting and good sensibility.

"Love" is much less conventional with a surrealistic, mental overtone as the question of personal impact of political imprisonment is investigated at length.

The film centers on Darvis as the mother of a political prisoner who is fooled by her housekeeper and daughter-in-law into believing that her son is making a film in America. They do this to soothe the aged, dy-

Both "Love" and "Roads to the South" are well-done, worthwhile and interesting. Certainly miles ahead of the trashy videopics that fill our cassette racks.

Fabulous styles! A fabulous feel! Ah, fabulous furs!

By Charlene Mitchell

Ah, the luxury of it all, fighting off a cold winter wind with a full-length mink coat.

But as glorious as such a coat can be, it also is the center of a brouhaha that, depending on who you listen to, has or hasn't affected the fur industry.

Animal rights groups say fewer people bought fur garments because of a new awareness that killing animals, such as minks, raccoons and beavers, is inhumane. Pro-choice groups, including manufacturers and fur retailers, say the anti-fur movement has had very little impact.

But as glorious as such a cost can be, it also is the center of a broubahs that, depending on who you lister to, has or hasn't affected the fur industry.

Animal rights groups say lever people bought trugarment because of a new anstreament that killing animals, such as minks, raccome and beavers, is inho mane. Pro-choice groups, including manulastistivers and fur retailers, say the antifur movement has had very little impact.

Local furriers admit that the preliminary anti-trugubilitity scared them somewhat, but when it come down to the wire, buyers and warrents of mr. garnets haven't really altered their taste for frashion and warnth.

"Our customers are tired of being told what to do," said John Tunis, owner of Bricker-Punis Furs in Wess Bloomfield. "Almost every customer of ours. I desist violates their rights."

Tunis isn't alone when it comes to the issue of whether to wear or not wear a fur. Furriers throughout the metropolitan area agree that fashion freedom should be left up to the individual.

BRICKER-TUNIS Furs has been in business since 1916, first in Detroit, and for the last 11 years in the Orchard Lake Mall.

"We do well here," said Arthur Bricker, "Our customers know what they want and our business steadily improves each year."

Build for today or for tomorrow?

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

Roman. Greek revival. Art deco. Renaissance. Gothic. Victorian. Georgian. Italianate. Glass box. Tract housing. Strip malls.

On first glance, seven of the above architectural styles have historical significance, and most people would argue they are worth preserving. The glass box, tract housing and strip malls are often objects of derision and ridicule.

But then there were probably some people who looked down on the first gothic cathedral too.

It is not far-fetched to suggest the glass boxes of today will some day be considered "a classic example of efficiency following form circa 1980" - or something like that.

Gordon Merritt, a partner with the architectural firm Merritt McCallum Cieslak in Farmington, said he believes that even though some look down on modern architecture, many of today's buildings will have histori-

Most people, when they look at today's residential, commercial and office buildings don't see the intrinsic value, Merritt said. "(But) all of them have significance in that they trace the philosophy of the time.

'Those things people say are historic today were being bulldozed 10 years ago," Merritt said.

PRESERVATIONISTS and historians will point to this or that style as superior examples of architecture, but most forget no one consciously creates a new style.

When the first gothic-style building was built, the architect didn't say, 'This is gothic,' " Merritt said. "It was the later historians who said what it was.

It is important to remember, he said, that architecture reflects the times. "It has to keep pace with what people want.

dog stands dogs, easily recognizable commercial structures that have become part of Americana - structures that depict a period of commercialism in our recent history may some day be considered indispensible parts of our heritage, he said.

These are obvious examples of historically significant structures, he said. "I'm sure there will be other things of a more substantial nature as well.

Since efficiency and adaptability are at a premium at this time - and fine details take a back seat to costs buildings are going to reflect that.

It may be these factors - efficiency and adaptability - will some day be considered historical values, Merritt said. "I think many of the buildings of today will be deemed worth saving.

IF ARCHITECTURE is form following function, it is no surprise buildings - especially office and commercial buildings - are being built to accommodate any type of

That means movable walls, flexible utilities, maximum space - values that tend to detract from the grand art of earlier buildings. "But who's to say (these aspects) won't be considered historically significant?'

SALES BY CENTURY 21, HARTFORD SOUTH, INC

said structures gain historical significance in a number of ways.

They may be singular examples representing a particular style of architecture, they may be the first to embody certain principles that became popular or have relevance today, they may have been built by a certain architect, or (and architects have little say in this) an important event may have occurred at the site. Hammond said he doubts any of the residential homes being built today will have historical significance.

They aren't building houses that will be around in 100 years."

Homes built today are meant to serve as shelter for a time and then be torn down and replaced with others. Hammond said

"It's shelter and not much more," he said. "They are not meant to be architectural statements.'

LENGTH OF TIME may not be a prerequisite for historical designation, but attention to detail - especially if a home is architecturally significant - is, he said. "It doesn't take a year to build a home like it

Francis Bartlett, a Rochester architect who specializes in historical renovations in addition to residential architecture, said there is attention to detail in many of today's works but attention to detail is often tempered by costs

Even so, much of today's architecture will have historical relevance someday

When you say historical value if you think about it - you have to say yes." All architecture impacts its environment in some way whether it's positive or negative.

A structure's historical value would then be determined by how it impacts its environment.

'First we shape a building, then it shapes us.

Many design elements being used today could someday have historical significance but are overlooked because people don't see their value, he Art deco designs of the late 1920s and 1930s that are gaining respect today were considered junk 30 years ago, he said.

It is difficult to project what may be considered a historical asset in the future, he said.

Which is not the same as saying architects are not designing things of merit, he said.

When the Southfield Civic Center was designed, for example, the architects' intent was to create a focal point for the city's downtown. The intent was to create a piazza, an open public square surrounded by buildings.

Today, much of the open space between the city hall, police station, library and recreational facilities has been covered over to create more usable space year around, so the architectural impact of the design has been lost.

If cost and practicality weren't the overriding concerns, the piazza could have still retained much of its architectural merit.

Sharp corners, glass windows, and simple geometric patterns suggest efficiency and a professional, business-like atmosphere with just enough architectural flourish can be found in

Suburban Cable Weekly

Monday - Sunday February 4 - February 10

February 3 through February 9 AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

there is a possibility your motives will be misinterpreted.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Loved ones may tease you about a certain dream you have, but don't let them get you down. They mean you no harm. Stick to your guns.
ARIES (March 21-April 19)

You may find yourself developing an Projects seem to be coming faster than interest in something you have never tried before. Ignore those who think you are being silly.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) least expect. Avoid people who try to get close to you. They may not have your best interest at heart.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Family members may not humor you as usual and may not appreciate your kidding around. A heart-to-heart talk with a friend reveals good qualities.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It seems you are always having to deal with other people's problems, but those who have relied on you will find individual strength.

By C.C. Clark

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't keep secrets from loved ones this Avoid arguments with family members week. Even if your intentions are good, at all costs. Loved ones will be closed-minded to the changes you want to institute. Wait until a later date.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Love relationships will take a new turn, and changes in you will surprise both you and your lover. Talk honestly about your feelings.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) you can handle them, but you will handle everything with finesse. Don't be defensive with co-workers. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

You are being judged by a person you Concentrate on your career goals. This may be the time to take classes that can help you achieve those goals and make the most of your life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) If you must argue with people, be sure to pick on people your own size or bigger. This way you garner support from colleagues.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be strong-willed when dealing with friends and relatives. They may ask you to buy something with the promise TV Listing Inc. to pay you later.

The process first begins when a resident graduates from the Cable TV Workshop:

Theron Walker, Ray Kaczor and Mark Wagner are perfect examples. Usually, the resident crews for someone show, in an attempt to gain more hands-on production experience. Theron and Ray have followed this path in Farmington Hills and Novi. while Mark, a Belleville resident, volunteers in the Plymouth area.

The learning includes finetuning technical skills as well as such qualities as being reliable. having good follow-through procedures, and practice at being a team player. At this point, many residents branch off on their own, as have Theron, Ray and Mark

Mark Wagner's first involvement with local programming was in September 1990 when he took the Omnicom Cable Super VHS Camcorder and Editing Workshops. He volunteered to work the camera for several basketball games. Election Coverage and a Soup Kitchen Telethon.

He has linked up with "longtime access user Dave Daniele on the music video show "Videotunes." Kevy Wingo, Omnicom's Public Access Coordinator reports that as an access user. Mark completed a seven minute filler entitled, "Traffic Signs and Meaning of Life." It is a creative and humorous analogy between life and every day road signs.

Mark's next project is 'a spoof on movie reviewers. Wild About Cinematography

Ray is the Director of the show. The communication between the executive producer and the director is so very important, especially when special effects are required and timing is crucial as with theatrical works. To have this closeness and accuracy in communicating does not mean that the personalities must be alike. Far from it. 'Guns of Paradise' returns to CBS

Western series enters third year

By Amy Schmidt

Lee Horsley, star of "Guns of Paradise" and the former "Matt Houston," says it's hard for him to go anywhere unrecognized. "But as a general rule, as long as you move fast, people don't react," he laughs.

Horsley had better move like the Flash, because with the return of "Paradise" (now "Guns of Paradise"), he's not likely to be recognized to any less extent.

Much to the delight of cast members and fans, the drama was brought back by CBS as a mid-season replacement on Fridays, preceding "Dallas." The Western series now enters its third year

To bring you up to date, here's what happened and what's to come on "Guns of Paradise."

Set in 1890s, the story centers around ex-gunslinger Ethan Allen Cord (Lee Horsley), who inherited the task of raising his sister's children after her death. The locale is the depressed gold-mining town of Paradise.

Cord with an unlikely man to be running a household. Volatile in nature, with a violent and mysterious past, he never wanted to be saddled with a family.

The abject Carroll children. Claire, 15 (Jenny Beck), Joseph, 13 (Matthew Newmark), Benjamin, 10 (Brian Lando), and George, 7 (Michael Patrick Carter), were thrust into the care of a seemingly cold and undependable man.

If it weren't for Amelia Lawson (Sigrid Thornton), the owner of the local bank, Ethan and the kids would have been out on the streets. Amelia kept the bank from foreclosing on their home and subsequently fell in love with Ethan.

As the new season begins, Paradise is booming once again following the discovery of a motherlode of copper. Ethan has reluctantly accepted the job of town marshal, and he and Amelia, newly engaged, are trying to make their way toward the

Dakota, played by John Terlesky Unlike his character Ethan Allen

Cord, in real life, Lee Horsley was and is very much a family man. "I was like a clubbed baby seal," says the father of two and the husband of 10 years about the first time he saw his wife-to-be.

However, the pair's path toward marital blues becomes een more convoluted after the arrival of a young gun-slinging gambler named

When Horsley's off the set, you won't find him hobnobbing with the rich and famous. Instead, you'll have to search very hard to find him hidden away in his Los Angeles hom. If you're lucky, you might spot him on the ski slopes of Colorado with his family.

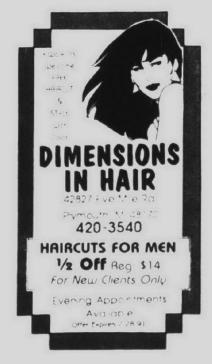

"We have a very private life, and that's the way we like it," says Hors-

"Guns of Paradise" is the latest venture of executive producer/writer/director David Jacobs. Jacobs is credited with the first nighttime drama of its kind, known as "Dallas," and its spinoff "Knots Landing." Should his newest series reach the proportions of his prior projects, actor Lee Horsley had better move very fast, indeed.

Actor Lee Horsley has resumed his role as Ethan Allen Cord on "Guns of Paradise," picked up by CBS as a mid-season replacement on Fridays. A former gunfighter, as town marshal. Cord has his work cut out for him in the boomtown of Paradise.

The incomparable Cher returns to CBS after 14 years, without Sonny. The singer and Oscar-winning actress stars in the music special Cher ... At the Mirage, Monday

Hal Holbrook's got an easy-going style

By Candace Havens

Hal Holbrook arguably is one of the finest actors on television today. The five-time Emmy Award-winner can now be seen weekly on the popular CBS comedy Evening Shade.

He portrays Evan Evans, fatherin-law to Wood Newton - and his contemporary, which just happens to be a sore point with Evans. The show centers around a family living in a small Southern town, a place where Holbrook's easy-going style fits in.

Holbrook was born in Cleveland. Ohio, and raised in South Waymouth, Mass., by his grandparents. At the age of 7, he was sent to a New England prep school until the start of his high school years, when he was sent to a military academy. He went on to do his

Only character. not actress, died

By Candace Havens

Dear Candace: Would you find out what happened to the girl who played Caroline on The Bold and the Beautiful? My mother thinks that she really died. I would also like to know what happened to Mamie on The Young and the Restless. Also, let us know, is Terry Lester coming back to Y&R? - Thank you, Linda Priveete, High Point, N.C.

Dear Linda: Joanna Johnson, who played Caroline on BB, definitely is not dead. She only left the show to pursue other interests. Marguerite Ray was replaced by Veronica Redd on Y&R when the writers decided they wanted to take the character in a different direction. They say, "never say never," but it is very doubtful Terry Lester will return to the show. He only recently left Santa Barbara, and when he left Y&R he didn't think there would ever be a reason for him to return.

Dear Candace: I am a Days of Our Lives fan. I have been watching it since 1975. My favorite storylines were those involving Bo and Hope. The show really changed with their storyline, so much so that I bought a VCR so I wouldn't miss it while I was at work or on vacation!

Unfortunately, Bo and Hope sailed away (although romantically) into the sunset. This was sad, but tolerable. But then they brought them back only to kill off Hope. It is unforgivable. As if this isn't bad enough, the writers have Bo interested in someone new only four months after Hope's death. Come fonso returned to the show this past year, she was only scheduled to be on for a few months due to her pregnancy. She left the show on good terms, so if she ever decided to return, there would be no problem. You also have to remember that you never actually saw her die, so the possibility is always

Linda Hamilton not giving up on acting profession

By Polly Vonetes

February 4-February 10

O: I miss seeing Linda Hamilton of the TV series Beauty and the Beast. Has she done any other films lately? Does she plan to do any in the future? I hope she didn't quit. She is one of my favorites. -M. Montgomery, Ft. Hood,

A: Linda, who quit the series to have her baby, is scheduled to reprise her role as a hunted beauty in Arnold Schwarzenegger's Terminator sequel, premiering this summer

O: I am interested in finding out how one could write to the stars of the television series The Young Riders. I think this show helps young people understand the 1800s as well as entertaining them. -Jill Whitehead, Natchitoches, La.

A: Write to the stars of The Young Riders. c/o MGM/UA Television. 10000 W. Washington Blvd. Culver City, CA 90232.

O: This is the first time I've written someone to acquire information on a celebrity. My question concerns Dean Cameron. He played Chainsaw in Summer School and the pizza man in Men at Work. Could you tell me if he has a girlfriend or a wife, his birthday. etc., and an address? - Rebecca Harroun, Montgomery, Texas
