Questions flying on Mettetal plan

Editor's note: The questions were flying last week after Canton officials announced on Wednesday they will join the effort to save Mettetal Airport. We've provided a list of common questions and tried to answer them.

Q: What's the current status of Mettetal Airport?

A: The airport is owned privately by the Klochko family. A federal grant awarded to Plymouth Township — which was to be used to buy the airport — expired Sunday, as township trustees decided not to accept it. That's because Plymouth Township and Canton agreed last week to work together to seek a new grant to allow the townships to own and operate the airport jointly.

Q: Will the federal government award another grant so Plymouth Township and Canton can own the airport?

A: "We do not have sufficient information at this time as to whether funds will be available at a later date," said Dean Nitz, a Federal Aviation Administration official. Airport-watchers say it's likely the FAA will approve another grant.

Q: Will the FAA accept the joint Plymouth Township-Canton 10-point memorandum of understanding, which prohibits airport expansion and includes a clause allowing Canton the right to terminate the agreement in 10 years?

A: "We would expect to have discussions with the township regarding those 10 points," Nitz said, adding that it's unusual for the FAA to be presented with such a list. Plymouth Township officials say that while they expect the FAA will seek to negotiate some of the points, major changes won't be accepted by trustees in either township.

Q: Will the city of Plymouth stay involved in the save-the-airport effort?

A: City commissioner John Vos, a strong airport backer, said, "There's no reason why the three communities shouldn't be involved in maintaining a community airport. Because the previous joint operating agreement between Plymouth and Plymouth Township is being rescinded, the commission would have to vote again on whether to join a new joint agreement. Vos said the commission could opt to delay a vote on

New owners make sport of restaurant

Local heroes deck the walls of eatery

By Diane Gale

A Big Mac, fries and Coke isn't what it used to be in Canton. The McDonald's on Ford Road has become a sports mecca.

Football, basketball and baseball heroes are plastered all over the walls, along with Gordie Howe's hockey stick, autographed pictures, football helmets and baseball bats.

MORE ITEMS are always being added, according to Al and Rosie Fellhauer, who own and operate the franchise previously owned by the Card family. The restaurant was remodeled in June.

You don't have to be featured in "Sports Illustrated" to be recognized in this mini hall of fame. Players from Plymouth Canton High School and Plymouth Salem High School, as well as Michigan college teams are on display, too.

"It's amazing how many people walk in and say 'There's my picture,'" said Elise Miller, a McDonald's hostess who appropriately wears a referee shirt to work.

"It's interesting to come in and see the old players and photos," said Richard Chapman of Canton.

Gini Dansby of Westland, a 14-year Canton resident, said she liked coming to the Ford and Canton Center restaurant for the atmosphere.

"I like the surroundings," she said.

Seeing signs

Dog gone, but not forgotten: Pet walk to benefit hospital

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

The likeness of Brandy the poodle is probably becoming better known than that of some Plymouth politicians.

That's because the dog's visage can be spotted atop the Mayflower Hotel, at Ann Arbor Road at Main, and other spots around the city.

THOSE SIGNS ARE to publicize the Brandy Memorial Pet Walk, created by Brandy's owner Kathy Mount to raise money for Mott's Children's Hospital. Brandy performed there for several years to cheer kids. The dog's last performance was at Christmas. Brandy died in May at age 18.

With just four weeks until the Sept. 28-29 event, Mount said, "I think it's incredible the number of businesses and corporations and school children and business people calling wanting to help — I'm overwhelmed by the response."

On Thursday, she and her husband Bob were making the rounds of Plymouth and Canton schools, passing out fliers and signs about the pet walk.

To participate in the pet walk, a participant must do 10 good deeds — collect 10 donations — and list them on a special form.

Mount tells of people who stop her on the street to express support. Mount said she's heard of an elderly woman at Tonquish Manor "who's been going up and down Ann Arbor Trail wearing her little Brandy button, getting donations."

"It really has turned into something for children of all ages. I feel a real excitement around town."

"People are telling me it should be repeatable and it hasn't even happened," she said.

MAJOR FINANCIAL sponsors for the pet walk are Hill's Science Diet Pet Food and the Enesco Precious Moments Collectors. Among those donating significant financial support is Johnson Controls, Ford Motor Co. and the Ford Women's Club. Kroger, the Parkway Veterinary Clinic, First of America Bank, the Mayflower Hotel, commissioner Robert Jones, Hines Park Lincoln-Mercury, Dr. Lorimer and Dr. Benningfield.

The pet walk has also attracted a long list of individuals and business donating services. The range from the Brownies, who will be street sweepers on the day of the pet walk, to restaurants and supermarkets donating refreshments.

Mount has also lined up several entertainers for the weekend, including "Mr. Bones," Percy Danforth, who will perform with wooden bones.

There's another long list of businesses and individuals donating

Questions on Mettetal Airport abound

joining such an agreement until after the airport-related charter vote scheduled for November.

Q: Will there still be a vote in Plymouth in November related to the airport?

A: Specifically, the vote in November is over amending the city charter to require a vote of the people in order for the city to take part in operating an airport. The vote is still scheduled to take place.

Q: Do the Plymouth Township Concerned Citizens oppose this revised save-the-airport effort?

A: "We are still opposed to the public ownership of Mettetal Airport," according to a statement from the group last week. Still, the group said they can live with the new agreement "as a vast improvement" over the former Plymouth Township airport ownership plan. The group favors provisions of the agreement that prohibit expansion, no use of locally collected taxes to pay for the airport, and the clause giving Canton the right to close the airport in 10 years.

Q: Do the Canton Concerned Citizens oppose the revised save-the-airport effort?

A: "The question should be," said Martin Burnstein, an attorney representing the Klochko family "are Plymouth (Township) and Canton sure to buy it?"

A plane sits on the much-disputed runway at Mettetal Airport.

A: "The bottom line is what we feel is the best part of the revision is that it starts everything back at square one and it gives ample opportunity for both communities and both concerned citizen groups to study and be much more involved in the process," said Richard Murphy, Canton Concerned Citizen member.

Q: Are Mettetal owners sure to sell the airport to the two townships?

A: "The question should be," said Martin Burnstein, an attorney representing the Klochko family "are Plymouth (Township) and Canton sure to buy it?"

Burnstein said, the property would be sold. Whether it will be available next year is another question, he said.

"The world has changed in the matter of 24 hours. There's no definite answers right now."

Burnstein said the Klochkos were not privy to the new agreement and were surprised by it.

"We don't know where we're at right now," he said. "We're in the process of digesting where we're at."

Q: Why did Canton change its mind at the last minute?

A: Canton officials said pressure from the Wednesday-night deadline when Plymouth Township was expected to accept a FAA grant to buy Mettetal accelerated negotiations.

Q: Who will pay for legal expenses accumulated by Canton and Plymouth townships?

A: Plymouth and Canton townships will propose to the FAA that the costs will be covered by Mettetal Airport operating revenue after the public purchase.

Canton's most recent lawsuit to stop the proposed public purchase by Plymouth Township cost about $20,000. The lawsuit was filed last Tuesday and dropped later in the week after Canton entered the JOA with Plymouth Township.

prizes for pet walkers. That list of donors includes the Detroit Pistons, who are donating autographed photos of Isiah Thomas, Dennis Rodman and John Salley.

Mount has also written President George Bush, actor Burt Reynolds and the Queen of England for their support.

So far she's received one reply, dated July 24 from Buckingham Palace, from Lady-in-Waiting Susan Hussey.

"Her Majesty was interested to hear of the good work you and your dog Brandy have done for charities, but because of The Queen's rules in these matters, I regret it is not possible for her to help you in the way you ask."

"I am to wish you every success in your venture," the reply continued.

Grange dishes out favorite recipes

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

For 32 years, straight, Helen Eckles, now 85, baked hundreds of pies for the Plymouth Grange at the city's annual Fall Festival. That won't happen this year, but you won't catch Eckles in a weepy or wistful mood over the fact

"I DIDN'T LIKE to bake pies. I did it because Mary Fillmore didn't want to do it," said Eckles. We rented the hall to the Plymouth Symphony for their antique mart in '57. They wanted to serve meals and asked Mary if the Grange would be interested. We met with the gals from the symphony and guess who got the call?"

The Grange lost its quarters on Union Street to the Wilcox House restoration and expansion project that is under way next door. For the first time since 1957, festival-goers weren't welcomed last year at the Grange, famed for its doughnuts, split pea soup, ham sandwiches, sloppy joes, homemade pickles, cole slaw, apple and pumpkin pie and other goodies.

This year, Grange food was scheduled to return to the Fall Festival menu, but won't. The group was to sell doughnuts and pies, but Ruth Strebbing said festival officials won't give them a booth.

"We've got pies and doughnuts, but no space," she said.

But while festival officials have put the baked goods on the shelf, the Grange, a 72-year-old agrarian and fraternal organization, remains active.

UNTIL THE GRANGE can move into space at the proposed Wilcox apartments, Grangers meet every third Thursday at the VFW Hall on Mill Street.

And Grange comradeship continues to grow. Witness Eckles and Ruth Strebbing, whose friendship was born at the Grange and bonded over hot stoves for more years than either woman cares to count.

Visiting them in 1989 as they prepared for their last Fall Festival was a treat.

In the calm before the storm, the Grange kitchen was the epitome of peace. Helen, her head crowned with blonde curls, wore a flour-covered apron and a smile that lit up the room. Red-headed Strebbing took Eckles' razzing and dished it right back as she stirred gallons of split pea soup.

Pumpkin and apple pies cooled on a counter underneath a window. To look outside over the pies or through the wooden screen door was to feast your eyes on lush greenery. With the huge iron stoves and ovens working overtime, the warm summer day was made even warmer. But a rotating fan on the counter offered a little breeze.

How does it feel to know they won't be in the kitchen, preparing home-cooked delights at one of the oldest events of its kind around?

"Good," said Eckles. "You miss the people around, of course. But you have to realize at some point you can't do those things any more."

"I miss the work, because I love to cook," said Strebbing, 67. "But I can't do what I used to do, either."

To say thanks to the community for its support of the Grange and its charitable activities, Eckles and

Stebbing decided to divulge their Fall Festival secrets. (See accompanying recipes.)

While their dishes are simple, a little Eckles and Strebbing know-how can make all the difference.

HOW DID THEY make their pie crusts?

"We bought a mix," said Eckles. "When you're making 350 pies, you don't make up your own crust. We used a good brand, usually Pillsbury. Using a good brand is important."

When making pea soup, don't forget to add a meaty hambone. "I don't know what it is about it, but the bone will flavor soup better than pieces of ham," said Eckles.

Where did the Grange buy its ham? "At Kroger's or Danny's," Strebbing said. "We'd get them when they were on special. We'd get Hygrade's if it was on special."

Some more key advice from Eckles and Strebbing is: recruit good help.

For years, Eckles was assisted by her husband, Claude. After he died, Johnny Oldenburg pitched in. So did Hoyt and Carol Mills, Betty Marsh and Clara Zander. And Ida Oldenburg didn't let her blindness prevent her from peeling apples and washing dishes.

New Grangers are told that since 1919, the National Grange has presented Congress and the White House with sound, non-partisan viewpoints on legislative proposals. The organization continues to offer scholarships, and to work for adequate school lunch funding, vocational education in public schools, and sound tax and fiscal policies.

While that can't be denied, there's a warm feeling around the Grange which the best-written mission statements and by-laws will never capture.

PUMPKIN PIE

1 small can pumpkin
1 can sweetened condensed milk
1 egg
1 1/2 tsp. pumpkin pie spice
Mix all together. Pour into unbaked shell and bake at 375 degrees for 55 minutes or until knife inserted comes out clean. If filling seems too thick, add 1/4 cup of 2 percent milk.

FREEZER CUCUMBER PICKLES

4 cups thin-sliced cucumbers
2 cups thin-sliced onions
1 cup thin-sliced sweet green peppers

II
1 tbsp. p. spices
1 tsp. celery seeds
1 cup white vinegar
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup water

Combine first three ingredients in a large glass or stainless steel mixing bowl and mix slightly. Combine two heaped tablespoons salt (not pickling salt) with 1/4 cup of water. Mix well and add to first three ingredients. Toss together until mixed. Cover with damp cloth or saran wrap and refrigerate three to five hours.

Meanwhile, combine spices, vinegar, water and sugar in a pot. Bring to a boil. Simmer for five minutes. Let cool. When cucumber mix is ready, drain well, and add vinegar mix pack and refrigerate or freeze. Makes four pints. Keeps refrigerated six to eight weeks, and up to six months in the freezer.

SPLIT PEA SOUP

7-8 pounds split peas
Enough water to cover peas in a 6-gallon soup kettle

Hambone
Thick slices of ham to taste
2 lbs. carrots
4 medium-large onions
1 green pepper

Place hambone in with split peas and ham after ham is baked. (20 minutes per pound.) Don't scrape bone clean, leave a little meat on the bone. Let peas and meat simmer over medium heat about two hours. While peas are cooking, peel, cut and dice carrots, onions and pepper. Place in a separate 2-quart pot. Add water just enough to cover vegetables and simmer. Add salt and pepper to taste. Add vegetables to peas when peas are halfway done. Continue cooking until peas are tender and soup is slightly thick. If the soup isn't thick enough, add two cups of mashed potatoes.

APPLE PIE

2 crusts in 8-inch or 9-inch tins
Enough apples to fill tin, sliced thin
1/2 to 1 cup sugar, depending on kind of apples used

Flour - two dessert spoons heaped
Cinnamon to taste

Mix together sugar, flour and cinnamon. Layer apples in tin, starting and ending with the sugar mixture. Bake at 425 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Then reduce to 350 degrees and bake 30 to 35 minutes longer. For fall baking, I used either Paula Red or Mac Intosh apples.

Sporty: Local heroes deck walls at fast-food restaurant

THE FELLHAUERS recently bought three McDonald's restaurants from the Card family. Two are in Canton — one on Ford Road and one on Michigan Avenue. The other is in Rawsonville. They also own four other stores.

They decided one of the Canton stores would have a sports theme and the other would have a Canton historical motif with pictures borrowed from the Canton Historical Society.

They thought about a '50s theme. Al Fellhauer said, like the famous and elaborately decorated McDonald's in Chicago, as well as another McDonald's in Dearborn with the same motif. But the '50s is overdone," he added.

Canton is a tight knit community, said Rosie Fellhauer. They're very proud of their history and they're sports minded," she said.

Following that idea, a Canton Community Room in the Ford Road restaurant invites patrons to bring in videos of their sports teams and air them on a television screen.

In another corner athletes of all ages can try their hand at shooting basketballs. The money raised will go to the charity of the month.

And every Thursday night from 5-7 p.m. is a Pop-A-Shot contest and the people with the most ringers win prizes.

SC faculty to get 5.9 percent raise

By Wayne Poal
staff writer

Schoolcraft College faculty members will receive a 5.9 percent raise this school year and a combined 15.5 percent increase over the life of a new three-year contract approved Wednesday by college trustees.

Negotiations between college officials and the Schoolcraft College Faculty Forum were completed in July, though ratification waited until the start of the college year. Union members ratified the contract Tuesday, trustees unanimously approved it one evening later.

"THIS IS the fastest we've ever been able to complete negotiations," Schoolcraft spokeswoman Sandra Florek said.

In addition to this year's wage increase, faculty members will receive a 5 percent increase in the 1992-93 school year and 4.6 percent increase in 1993-4.

Raises are based upon the top of the union scale. Employees below the top of the scale are also eligible for step increases.

The contract covers 133 full-time and 280 part-time employees. The Faculty Forum represents college professors and instructors, as well as counselors and librarians.

Negotiations were conducted under a new format, target specific bargaining.

"What it is, is that both sides draft their proposals, then meet with a facilitator in the room to work out their differences," Florek said.

Don Power of Michigan State University, a creator of the targeted process, was appointed facilitator by both sides.

In addition to wage increases, trustees also approved a change in the faculty health insurance plan.

Trustees approved a health insurance contract with the Michigan Education Specialty Services Association.

The association is affiliated with the Michigan Education Association, the state's largest teachers union.

SC sets tax hearing

Schoolcraft College's tax rate could be going up, slightly, as college officials revise assessment figures.

The tax rate is expected to rise by 0.0054 mill, as a result of recalculated figures.

Schoolcraft trustees have scheduled a Sept. 18 public hearing on the change before taking final action. The hearing begins 8 p.m. in the college board room, in the college administration building, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

The change is expected to provide roughly $30,000 in additional college income.

The problem is believed to have been caused by a miscalculation in Canton assessment figures. Trustees initially set the tax rate in mid-July.

Schoolcraft officials said they doubled checked figures even more thoroughly this year, with assessment freezes expected next year.

"We wanted to make sure the figures were as accurate as possible this year, with a freeze coming next year," college business vice president Adelard Raby said.

Schoolcraft's new tax rate would be 1.9771 mill, including assessments for general operating expenses and debt payments.

The tax rate translates to just under $99 for persons living in homes assessed at $100,000.

Creek cleanup is set

Volunteers are sought for the first Ecrose Creek Cleanup Day, Saturday, Sept. 7, at four western Wayne County and downriver sites.

Building upon the successful Rouge Rescue events, the Ecrose Creek cleanup seeks people willing to cart debris from the Rouge tributary.

A Westland cleanup site has been established northwest of the Van Born/Inkster Road intersection.

Other sites are in Dearborn Heights, in Swapka Park, east of Telegraph, north of Van Born; Romulus, Smith Road and Middlebelt, across from Fire Station No. 2; and Allen Park, off M-39 near I-94.

Volunteers are asked to register at their work sites by 8:30 a.m. The cleanup will continue until 11 a.m.

Lunch will be served at noon in Swapka Park.

To register in advance, or for additional information, call Wayne County Commissioner Susan Hubbard's office at 224-0934.

Appraiser class available

A two-week review class for people considering taking the state residential appraiser certification test is being offered, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. beginning Sept. 14 at Schoolcraft College, Livonia and Nov. 9 at Schoolcraft College-Radcliff, Garden City.

The class covers procedures and methods used in appraising property. Fee is $195.

To register, or for additional information, call the college's continuing education services office, 462-4448. Schoolcraft is at 18600 Haggerty, between Six and Seven Mile roads, Livonia. Schoolcraft College-Radcliff is at 1751 Radcliff, south of

points of view

Ideology, not ancestry important when voting

IN 1990, I reported on the gulf on crime issues between state Supreme Court Justices Patricia Boyle and Michael Cavanagh, both seeking reelection.

Although both were Democratic nominees, Boyle usually voted for prosecutors, Cavanagh for defendants.

Republican nominee W. Clark Durant ripped into Cavanagh on issues — to no avail: Michigan voters stuck with the Irish incumbents, philosophy be damned.

Last week it happened again. Boyle sided with Justices Robert Griffin, Dorothy Comstock Riley and James Brickley (all Republicans) in favor of the prosecution. Cavanagh, now chief justice, dissented, joined by Justice Charles Levin.

IN A BERRIEN County case, a woman was charged with telling police, falsely, that someone had shot at her at a local school.

Her husband, W.C. Collins, allegedly offered an acquaintance, Earl Jordan, $500 to lie in court that he had seen a rifle-carrying man flee the school grounds.

Jordan told State Police, who, with his consent, monitored and recorded his telephone conversation with Collins. Police also equipped Jordan with a concealed radio transmitter.

State Police obtained a warrant which, for unexplained reasons, turned out to be legally defective.

So when Collins was charged with obstruction of justice, Circuit Judge Ronald Taylor threw out that evidence, citing a 1975 state Supreme Court decision: Electronic monitoring, without a warrant, violates the Michigan Constitution — "unreasonable searches and seizures." (That sentence is similar to the Fourth Amendment of the U.S. Bill of Rights.)

Our Supreme Court, with Boyle in the majority, reversed Taylor. The evidence can be used when Collins is re-tried.

JUSTICE GRIFFIN'S 34-page ma-

majority opinion with 57 footnotes is heavy reading.

It reversed the 1975 ruling, citing a 1979 U.S. Supreme Court ruling upholding conviction of one Caceres for bribing an IRS agent. Without a warrant, the agent wore a concealed radio which transmitted his chats with Caceres for recording by another agent.

In that case, Justice John Paul Stevens (a Gerald Ford appointee) said Caceres had no constitutional right to rely on flaws in the agent's memory, or to challenge the agent's credibility, without being beset by corroborating evidence — the recorded conversation.

In other words, if a witness can be asked to testify to what he remembers, he should be able to back up his memory with electronic surveillance — no search warrant needed.

Griffin noted a 1968 national commission, (established by Congress while Griffin was a U.S. senator) said such monitoring can be crucial in establishing the credibility of an informant, particularly since informants can be of dubious character. Monitoring also can protect the life of an agent or informant.

CAVANAGH'S dissent said the U.S. Supreme Court ruled only because of a change of justices, not for good reason.

YOU DON'T CARE about my view of the court decision because I'm neither a judge nor a candidate.

But I suggest Michigan voters habitually fail to do their homework and blindly vote for Irish names.

Voters should have picked Boyle or Cavanagh — not both.

Tim Richard reports regularly on the local implications of state and regional events.

Retrofit plan to reflect economy

To the editor:

This letter of objection regarding the proposed hotel occupancy tax increase to support a new Tiger Stadium (and enclosures) were forwarded to the Wayne County Commissioners.

As you can see, this is a subject that is near and dear to the hearts of our over 100 employees. Many of our staff members have long tenures here. They work, live and support the City of Detroit, and many of them are strong Tiger baseball fans. How ironic that these are the people who will be most adversely affected by a higher hotel tax, i.e. they are the people who will lose their jobs.

The Hotel St. Regis is literally fighting for survival, and we are not alone in the hotel community, especially in the City of Detroit. The glut of hotel supply and the poor image of Detroit are two major obstacles we have to overcome every day in order to attract business. The last thing we need is another obstacle like an addition 5 percent tax increase on our rooms — especially when the tax is imposed to pay for a new baseball stadium from which hotels derive no benefit.

THE LEGISLATION that authorizes Wayne County to raise the hotel/motel tax to finance a stadium was put in place in 1971. That decision was based on economic conditions in 1971 which bear no comparison to operating conditions in 1991. Review of the present economic situation would show this legislation, 20 years later, to be outdated.

I would ask that the city and county officials readdress this Tiger Stadium plan and retrofit it to reflect the current economic conditions. I would suggest that the stadium be financed by those who utilize and benefit from it, namely the fans and the Tiger Organization.

Lastly, I add that the Hotel St. Regis could attract more "fans" and customers if we could refurbish some of our older rooms, add a pool and health club facility, and create a larger enterprise zone around the hotel. However, as funds do not allow for this, we must go without until better times, or should we ask Mr. Monaghan to charge a 5 percent tax on his pizzas to pay for these necessities.

Column was right on!

To the editor:

Kudos to Steve Barnaby for his piece "Censorship Can't Mask Real Tragedies of War" in the Aug. 15 edition of the Observer & Eccentric. It released a huge block of feeling I've been harboring since Bush's push for yet another dirty war, complete with censorship.

There must be a very large number of us, standing silently and idly by while more and more of our rights are being smirched. Why is this happening and what will break the dam?

Abortions destroy lives

To the editor:

Abortion is the very total destruction of a live, human unborn, baby! How can anyone agree, that it can be a "personal choice" . . . though an erroneous law permits it.

The advocates of abortion are not fond of having the public educated about what happens in the abortion chambers, simply because they know deep in their hearts, that no one would agree to it, except to save the life of the mother . . . if they truly knew the facts here.

They find this most intimidating. Furthermore, those in the abortion business would be out of business.

No financial gain for group against airport

To the editor:

In response to Mr. William Kern's recent letter, I would like to point out that the "Plymouth Concerned Citizens" have nothing personal to gain by their position regarding Mettetal and their efforts to inform the city of the issue. Perhaps Mr. Kern considers circulating petitions during storms, distributing fliers on hot summer days and paying for all printed material as "Personal Gain."

One can make statements about "Aviation Vocational Schools" to try and lure any jobless in the area with false promises. However, it is harder to back up false claims like this with facts, showing a school is actually needed and going to be established immediately.

As for the "thundering behemoths" — It is my understanding that Mettetal has no effect on the altitude of the Detroit Metro jets.

The P.C.C. Group has gone out of its way to be factual in presenting information to the community, showing actual written documents obtained through the Freedom of Information Act and encouraging other communities to share their experiences with our civic leaders.

It often puzzled me why so many people from outside communities, such as Farmington Hills (which Mr. Kern has given as his address in past letters), are compelled to try to tell people in this community what they should do. It was pointed out to me, that if I lived in Farmington Hills, how nice it would be for someone else to purchase an airport; rather than have one located close to my home.

Thank goodness the intelligent people of our community do not decide important issues by "doing nothing." We will have an opportunity to vote in November on whether to support private enterprise and local control or government funding of an airport which benefits a select few. It's up to us.

HOW TO PREVENT ARTHRITIS

If you want to prevent osteoarthritis you should (1) limit your free fall skydiving to a minimum, and (2) never become a victim in a bone breaking automobile accident.

The point of the above is to emphasize that the best you can do, and your control is limited, is to avoid trauma to your joints that would predispose you to osteoarthritis later in life.

The second most common arthritis is rheumatoid arthritis. The cause is a malfunction of the immune system. At present there is no exercise, diet or way of life known that can prevent the occurrence of rheumatoid arthritis. Anyone claiming to give such advice is either misinformed or lying.

Gouty arthritis can be caused by excess in the use of alcohol, but the vast majority of people with gout are not guilty of overindulgence. In most cases heredity determines how well your body will handle uric acid, the chemical which in high blood levels leads to gout.

Arthritis is the sum of what you are within, plus what your body meets from without; you have limited command over both areas. Blaming yourself for your joint problem is without medical justification.

PULL THE PLUG ON CABLE THEFT

Theft of cable TV services takes place in many ways, and you may not even be aware it's going on. But you pay the price.

Tampering with converters, tapping into the system or running cable to an extra outlet may sound like an easy way to get something for nothing. Using a friend's old box or one sold by a salesman promising a lifetime of cable for a one-time price could seem like a great bargain. Sometimes cable companies themselves fail to disconnect service after an account is closed, and why bother to tell them?

But whether it's deliberate or accidental, all cable theft has two things in common: it means people are receiving services they haven't paid for — and it's all paid for by honest subscribers.

You can be a solution to the problem of cable theft, though. And the solution begins with awareness.

Get involved, and help us pull the plug on cable theft. It's a bad connection for everyone.

Salem stops Trenton despite troubles

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

There was more good news than bad Friday night as Plymouth Salem began a new football season with a 14-0 victory over visiting Trenton.

The Rocks will have two weeks to prepare for their next game and can use the time to work on their offense and special teams after losing three fumbles and botching a punt.

"It certainly wasn't pretty," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. "The fumbles are a mental thing. It wasn't because of a solid hit or anything."

"Our option offense takes a while to get going. We never light it up in the first game."

Despite the turnovers, the game — delayed 1½ hours because of severe lightning — was never really in doubt after Salem drove 69 yards on its first possession to score its first touchdown.

TRENTON NEVER sustained an offensive drive, and the Rocks had their defense to thank for that.

Salem held the Trojans to 20 yards rushing and 51 in total offense. Trenton didn't get a first down — its only one — until 1½ minutes remained in the first half.

"I told you I had no problem with the defense," Moshimer said. "I knew they'd be ready to play and they were."

Though the Rocks had three possessions cut short by the fumbles and might have posted a bigger score, Salem still amassed a total of 300 yards.

Senior halfback Leon Hister kicked off the 1991 campaign by rushing for 109 yards and a touchdown on 14 carries. He had 88 yards at halftime and played little in the second half.

"If Leon goes down, I need a guy ready to play," Moshimer said. "We were up 14, the defense was playing great and there was no point in Leon staying in the game. He has a bruised hand and ankle, but he didn't show it running the ball."

FULLBACK DAN Burke got the ball a lot — 13 times for 70 yards — and Rob Shepley (29 yards) and Matt Kuzawinski were two of the eight backs who had their numbers called. Reserve fullback Heithem Shwehdi was impressive late in the game when he rushed for 24 yards.

Salem needed just six plays to score its first TD, with Hister dashing 32 yards around right side at 6:08 in the first quarter. Anuar Vargas added the first of two PATs.

But Salem's other possessions of the half ended in two fumbles and an incomplete fourth-down pass at the Trenton 30-yard line.

"We scored too easy the first time down the field," Moshimer said. "We have to develop a killer instinct. The best thing we could have done was come right back and punch another one in."

The Rocks went 66 yards with the second-half kickoff to make it 14-0. After softening up the Trenton secondary with six straight runs, Pete Zantop fired a 19-yard TD pass to Eric Wachlarz.

The fact Salem never punted was tainted by the fumbles, another stalled drive at the Trenton 32 in the second half and a bad snap the only time the Rocks did line up to punt.

THE LATTER gave the Trojans the ball deep in Salem territory, but the defense came through again. Trenton had third-and-1 at the 15, but two penalties and Chip Wadowski's interception stopped the threat.

In his first start at quarterback, Zantop was 3-of-6 passing for 56 yards and rushed for 18. Trenton's Jeff Mans completed five of 12 passes for 31 yards.

"Pete did a fine job," Moshimer said. "The triple option is a tough offense to run. You don't spend a year as a back-up, and run three weeks of practice and step in and run that offense flawlessly. He'll be fine."

Moshimer said he looked at the first game with mixed feelings. The Rocks won but have things they need to improve.

"It's a win and a positive way to start the season," he said. "You get the opportunity to see kids under game situations, and we have two weeks to correct whatever went wrong tonight."

The Rocks will play three-time defending Western Lakes Activities Association champion Farmington Harrison at 1 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 14. The Hawks open against Birmingham-Brother Rice in the Silverdome at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Quarterback position holds key for Canton

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Quarterback will be the position to watch as Plymouth Canton regroup following the most successful football season in school history.

The Chiefs were 9-2 and made the state playoffs for the first time, losing only to Western Lakes Activities Association champ Farmington Hills Harrison and Class A champ Redford Catholic Central.

Canton lost 19 seniors who were starters on that team, but the hardest one to replace will be quarterback Karl Wukie, who started for 2½ years and was the best in Observerland last year.

He was double trouble for opposing defenses, rushing for 1,150 yards and throwing for 1,450. He also scored 13 touchdowns and passed for another 14.

"Wukie, the last couple years, made us a very explosive team," Canton coach Bob Khoenle said. "That's what we're going to miss the most, someone who could go out there, improvise and make things happen."

"THE KEY is quarterback and how well we come along. Someone has to come to the forefront and do that."

That someone will be either sophomore Kevin Shankie (5-10, 150) or junior Mark Koziol (6-2, 170) who played on the freshman and JV teams last year, respectively.

"Hopefully, one is going to catch on and do something positive for us," Khoenle said. "Shankie, in a couple years, could be in the same boat if he plays and gets the confidence."

Despite the loss of players who complemented Wukie and the special gift he had, Khoenle is confident the Chiefs have enough quality replacements capable of keeping Canton among the WLAA's upper echelon of teams.

The Chiefs play their first game Friday at Monroe and return home to face North Farmington, expected to be a contender in the WLAA's Lakes Division. After that Canton has consecutive Western Division games against Class A runner-up Northville and three-time defending WLAA winner Harrison.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Steve Hohl will carry the ball a lot from his tailback position but is prepared to block, too.

"Overall, we're a very young team," Khoenle said. "We have a good senior nucleus but at the skill positions we are inexperienced."

"IF YOU'RE a young team, everybody will get better and better, so the defense has to keep us in there until the offense comes around. Last year our best defense was our offense, because we'd get the ball and score. This year our best defense has to be our defense."

Canton will be bigger on the line but will continue to employ a stunting, slanting form of defense.

Jim Hanna (5-11, 185), a tri-captain along with fellow seniors Ben Hendricks and Steve Hohl, started at tackle but moves to noseguard.

Seniors Dave Bec (6-1, 220) and Shane Beaty (6-3, 220), who started in place of the injured Dean Benedict in the playoffs, have gotten bigger and stronger since last season and will probably start at the tackles. Juniors Bill Talbot (5-9, 200) and Chris Hromek (5-11, 190) could help if Canton strives to be a two-platoon team.

Senior Mark Meszaros (6-1, 200) will start again at end and also play fullback on offense. The other end is

CEP teams succeed

The Centennial Educational Park boys soccer teams made their season debuts Thursday and liked the results.

Plymouth Canton avenged a loss to host Trenton a year ago with a 9-1 victory, and visiting Plymouth Salem rallied to defeat Brighton 5-3.

Seniors Chris Hayes and Jason Ripp scored three goals apiece to lead the Chiefs, who led 5-0 at halftime.

The other goals were scored by freshman Graham Wilk, junior Mike Hayes and senior Brett Kearney.

Mike Wdowiak assisted on two goals, and Chris and Mike Hayes had one assist apiece as did Jeff Fliss, Kirk Wahtera, Bill Power and Ray Rogissart.

"They beat us 3-0 last year, so we were ready this time," Canton coach Don Smith said. "It was a good team effort. We went to the ball real well."

SALEM TRAILED 2-0 at halftime but rallied to tie in the first five minutes of the second half.

"We had to dig down at halftime," Salem coach Ken Johnson said. "We've got a couple of good captains (Matt Lee and John Truskowski), and they gave the team a good pep talk at halftime."

Truskowski scored Salem's first goal a minute into the second half, and the first of two goals by Rich Andrusiak tied the score.

Truskowski assisted on the game-tying goal and also the next two by Eric Stemmer and Andrusiak again as the Rocks took a 4-2 lead.

Brighton's Brad Dennis cut the difference to one before Joe Perron scored the final goal on a breakaway. Brian Spuck and Lee received assists on the fifth tally.

The Rocks have a key Lakes Division game against Western Lakes Activities Association rival Livonia Stevenson at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Salem.

Eagles soar

Veteran cage trio raises PCA hopes

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

It could be Plymouth Christian Academy's first-year varsity girls basketball coach Dennis Horton came on board at the right time.

With three starters back from the runner-up team in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference, the Eagles are expecting to do as well if not better this year.

"They have a lot of desire and feel they can win it all, and I think that's realistic," said Horton, who coached the PCA junior varsity team to a 10-4 record last year. "A couple games decided the title and, with any luck, they could have won it all last year."

The Eagles, who were 15-6, have returning starters in seniors Jill Butler, Jennifer Moore and Christin Thomason.

Moore, a 5-foot-10 center, will be the focal point of Plymouth Christian's offense after averaging 14½ points and scoring a single-game high of 34.

girls basketball

"SHE WENT to the University of Detroit post-up camp and has shown a lot of improvement," Horton said, "so I think we're going to pound it inside to her."

"Christin Thomason posts up well and Jill does, too. We should be a good post-up team. Jennifer, if she's not up there in the hunt for most valuable in the league, I don't know who will be. We're definitely going to count on her."

Butler and Thomason are a pair of 5-7 forwards who averaged seven points apiece last season. Thomason also was the top rebounder.

The Eagles lost a pair of all-league guards (Tamara Tilly and Amy Windle) to graduation, but 5-1 senior Robin Schram played a lot and will move from off guard to point guard.

The shooting guard will be 5-4 junior Lyndsey Horton, the coach's daughter who scored eight points a game on the JV last year. Plymouth Christian's fifth varsity returnee is 5-6 senior Felicia Wroblewski, whom Horton expects will help the Eagles a great deal.

"SHE'S A dynamite athlete and gets better as the days go on," he said. "She's a terrific rebounder and will see a lot of playing time."

The Eagles will have a small roster with only eight players, including sophomore guards Nancy Kobernik and Kristina Tilly.

Plymouth Christian has made a smooth transition to a new coach and new system, Horton said.

"Team camp helped a lot and was well worth the effort," he said. "We took our jumps early at the U-M team camp, playing Class A, B and C teams."

"We've had some good conditioning this year, and they're chomping at the bit and ready to go." The Eagles begin the season Tuesday at Burton Valley Christian, but they have only 12 games on their schedule at the present time and will be idle until they visit Livonia Clarenceville on Tuesday, Sept. 17.

Shamrocks still top-notch team

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Whereas some coaches must walk the hallways of their high schools in desperate search of football talent, Redford Catholic Central coach Tom Mach almost had to do the unthinkable last month.

Cut some players.
"We were thinking of cutting some because we thought we didn't have enough uniforms, but we didn't have to," said Mach. "So we can still say we've never had to cut players."

Football always has been popular at CC, but perhaps never as much as this season, one year after the Shamrocks won the Class AA state championship. Mach said about 140-150 players usually come out for CC's freshmen, junior varsity and varsity teams, but the varsity roster is especially large this year with 56 players.

Twenty seniors who played on last year's state champion return, joined by 36 juniors.

"We usually have 45 to 50 players on the varsity, but we had a big sophomore class last year and that's the element right there," Mach said. "I think the interest in the program has been pretty steady all these years, but the last four seasons we've been very productive and the interest is higher. Winning the state championship left us on a good note."

CC WAS CLASS A runnerup in 1987 and '88 before finally taking the Class AA crown a year ago with a 21-0 win over Detroit Martin Luther King at the Silverdome. The Shamrocks finished 11-2 overall, winning their last eight games, including four in the playoffs by a combined score of 94-28.

Several big-play skilled players graduated off a team that outscored its opponents, 256-77, last season, but defending the AA championship isn't out of the question. Replacing speed and finding a quarterback among three candidates are the biggest worries Mach has had in the preseason.

"We had probably the fastest team we've had in quite awhile last year — Brian Chaney, Arshon Stewart, Mike Thomas and Jack Davidson — all four were speedsters," Mach said. "You always miss certain aspects of every team, but this year's team has picked up on last year's temperament and the way we worked at the end of the season. These kids haven't lost a beat and haven't got big heads. They've been a pleasure to coach so far."

CC will employ a whole new offensive backfield, but much of the Shamrocks' optimism begins in the trenches, where the offensive line averages 233 pounds per player. Returning starters include senior guard Dan Cretu (6-foot-1, 240), senior tackle Brian Brewer (6-3, 245) and senior center Steve Leiger (6-0, 225). First-time starters are junior tackle Aaron Babicz (6-0, 240) and senior tight end David Bruhowzki (6-6, 220). Bruhowzki was a reserve tackle last year as a junior.

"There's overall size and strength there and they are all mobile," CC line coach Dan Fortune said. "We'll be able to do a lot of things this year that we couldn't do last year, like trapping. Plus we have Bruhowzki at tight end, which is like having a third tackle because of his blocking ability."

THE SHAMROCKS aren't so fortunate at quarterback with the graduation of Jason Carr, who completed 44.7 percent of his passes (59-132) for 704 yards and six touchdowns. As of Thursday Mach was undecided who might start, with juniors Chris Barbara and John Priestap and senior Matt Pinard still vying for the position.

Barbara (5-11, 215) quarterbacked

the JV last year and is a "good man in charge of the huddle," Mach said. Priestap, a transfer from Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard is a "good athlete, has good football sense but this is his first year in the program and is still picking up things we did," Mach said. "What he needs is more reps (repetitions)."

Pinard is the only one with varsity experience, having spent last year as Carr's backup. "Matt took a lot of snaps last year, has good knowledge of the game and has a good arm," Mach said. "He showed real good signs in the four-way scrimmage."

Stewart and Thomas combined for 1,140 yards rushing a year ago at the tailback position and this year the job belongs to senior Jeff Tibaldi (5-9, 180). Tibaldi, who gained most of his 90 yards a year ago in a win over Lansing Sexton, will be backed up by senior Brett Walter and junior John Raasch (5-8, 180).

Jon Barbara, who gained 732 yards and was the heart and soul of last year's team, will be missed at fullback. Senior Dan Gusoff (6-0, 230) gets the call this year and has been called a "Bronco Nagurski type" back by Mach.

"HE'S GOT good speed for a fullback, reads holes well and gets that extra yard," Mach said.

CC doesn't throw much but Mach believes the Shamrocks can't go wrong throwing in Frank Yoakam's direction. Last year, Yoakam caught six passes for 103 yards and Mach calls him one of the top high school threats in the area, as a receiver and kick returner.

Senior Mario Vassallo (5-9, 170) also returns for his senior year after catching 14 passes for 144 yards.

The Shamrocks appear strong on defense (what's new?), especially in the secondary where three of four starters return for defensive coordinator Rick Coratti. Back for their senior years in the secondary are corner backs Matt Roney (5-11, 180) and Walter (5-10, 180), and safety Yoakam (5-10, 175). Another senior, John Ivezick (6-0, 160), will play the monster back.

Roney bench presses 275 pounds and tied for the lead last year in interceptions with three.

"All our better defensive teams have had good secondaries," Coratti said. "If you don't have a good secondary, you're hurting."

The leader on defense will be senior nose guard Dan Kelly (6-0, 190), who is expected to improve on his 26 tackle total of a year ago. "He can be as good as any nose guard we've had," Coratti said.

The defensive tackle positions will be manned by junior Joe Suhajda (6-2, 215), Brewer and Gusoff, while the ends are juniors Joe Lopez (6-0, 190) and Jason Krueger (5-11, 180).

CC lost linebacker Karl Kowalyk, the team's leading tackler, to graduation, but starter Gary Stegall (6-1, 205) returns after recording 61 tackles at inside linebacker. The other inside linebacker is Joe Herman (5-11, 190), a junior.

Senior placekicker/punter Kerry Zavagnin is one of the best in the state. Zavagnin, who averaged 35.3 yards a punt, kicked four field goals and had 17 extra point conversions.

likely to be senior Jon Knowlson (6-1, 165).

The inside linebackers will be new, and the possible starters are senior Vince Turri (6-2, 230), junior Matt Horn (6-0, 180), senior George Young (6-1, 185), senior Chris Rose (6-0, 185) and sophomore Tim Moritz (6-1, 170).

Hohl (5-8, 160) returns to play the Chief or monsterback position in the secondary, but Canton is inexperienced elsewhere. Koziol is the safety, junior Eric Baden (5-10, 145) and senior Eric Cunningham (6-3, 170) the halfbacks.

"WE DON'T have the agility (as in past years) but not to the point we're concerned about it," Khoenle said. "I think our kids have a lot of confidence in the defense here and themselves."

"If your kids can't play defense, what are they going to be able to do? If they can't hit people and be aggressive, you might as well pack it up and go home."

Canton lost fullback Chris James and tailback Jason Riggs, but Canton is "more than adequate at running back," according to Khoenle.

Meszaros took the place of James when the latter was hurt and will be backed up by senior Jeff Nafe (5-8, 170), who also will do the kicking, and Horn. Hohl will double as the tailback with junior Neil Haremski (6-0, 160), the fastest player on the team, and sophomore Eric Arnold (5-11, 170) in reserve.

Wukie had excellent wide receivers last year in Brett Howell, an all-area player who caught 41 passes for 580 yards and 10 touchdowns, and Mike Wougamon and replacing them won't be easy, either.

Cunningham is similar to Howell in size and ability, Khoenle said. The other wideouts are Young and senior Frank Learned (5-10, 160). The tight ends are Knowlson and Moritz.

"I THINK we'll throw as much as we did," Khoenle said. "The biggest asset Shankie has is that he can throw pretty well. I don't know if he can improvise as much as Wukie, but he can throw very well."

Hendricks (6-1, 200) is the lone holdover on the offensive line at a guard position. Veteran center Wayne Robinson and all-state tackle Mike Teller, now playing at the University of Pennsylvania, are gone, but Khoenle thinks Canton has another sound line.

"It was the same way last year," he said. "We had only one starter back and that was Wayne Robinson. Other kids stepped in and did the job."

"It all depends on their attitude, how much they want to get it done, how aggressive and competitive they are going to be."

Junior Rich LaBret (5-6, 175) or senior Ken Chirpka (6-2, 230) will play center. The other guard will be Rose with Christensen and Turri in reserve. Bec and Beaty give the Chiefs a pair of bookend tackles, and senior Bob Bouchillon (6-1, 190) and junior Tim Raven (6-2, 190) can play those positions, too.

Lack of players problem for SC

By C.J. Riagh
staff writer

There's something all-too-painfully familiar about the Schoolcraft College women's soccer team.

Once again, a numbers game faces the Lady Ocelots.

A year ago, when they finished third in the National Junior College Athletic Association Tournament, they did it with the bare minimum. Cindy Bowman, who had been one of SC's top scorers, was in goal throughout the season-ending tourney simply because there was no one else.

Literally. There were just 11 team members at the end of the season.

While the talent in some aspects is improved — including goal, where Farmington grad Kim Owczarzak takes over — there are still holes to fill.

The bench is, once again, one of them.

When defender Jennifer Marshall opted against returning for her sophomore season, it left coach Nick O'Shea with a problem. All of the defense, save Livonia Franklin grad Jennifer Whitfield, has departed.

AND THERE is little to choose from. O'Shea opened practice last Monday with just 10 players. He has since increased his roster to 12, and had some other contacts.

But the latecomers may not be able to contribute too much, too soon.

Why the problems in recruiting?

"I really think it's the '73 birth year," answered O'Shea, who has guided SC to the NJCAA Tournament in three of his four seasons and coached the Ocelots to a national title in '87. "They had a hard time in age group soccer and a lot of them quit then."

"There just weren't many seniors last year in high school."

The hometowns of O'Shea's signees indicate he has had to go to greater lengths to find players. Among his recruits are Becky Dinverno from Milford-Lakeland, Carol Pietila from South Lyon and Stacey Hilgendorf from St. Clair Shores South Lake.

STILL, IF O'Shea can find enough bodies, his team should fare well again. The offense is impressive, with Nikki Johnson (from Livonia Churchill) returning from last season's squad and Shannon Meath (Plymouth Canton) back after taking a year off. Meath was an all-American in '89.

Joining them will be Lori Place (Churchill), a strong inside player who started for O'Shea's Churchill team for four years.

The midfield should be more than adequate, too. Sarah Hayes (Plymouth Salem), who played both midfield and forward last season, returns. Nancy Pulice (Churchill), Dinverno and Pietila will join her there.

Of Dinverno, O'Shea said: "She's a real hard shot and works hard. I've been impressed by her so far."

"It's the same thing (with Pietila). Neither one is from a traditionally strong program, but they have looked good."

ON DEFENSE, O'Shea has Colleen O'Connor (Farmington Hills Mercy) slated as stopper and Amy Krajewski (Salem) to fill in at sweeper. Whitfield will be at one outside defender and Hilgendorf is expected to be the other.

Such a thin — actually, almost non-existent — bench creates so many questions. "If these 12 stay healthy, if we have them going into nationals, we'll do well," O'Shea predicted, "because they can play."

And yet, he admitted, "the defense right now is the question mark. If I have to rob from my midfield or offense for my defense, it will hurt."

The Lady Ocelots will be tested during their regular season, facing many of the top teams in the NJCAA. Included on their schedule are two trips to New York, the first this weekend for the Monroe CC Invitational. SC plays two games at Farmingdale CC (N.Y.) Sept. 27-28, a week after a trip to St. Louis (Sept. 20-21) for games against Central College (Kan.) and Florissant Valley CC.

The Lady Ocelots and Florissant Valley square off again at the SC Invitational Oct. 19-20. On the second day, SC plays Meramec CC.

If O'Shea can keep a team on the field, it could be another banner season.

CC soccer team wins

Redford Catholic Central opened its 1991 soccer season Thursday with a 10-0 triumph over Toledo Central Catholic in a game played at Bell Creek Park.

The Shamrocks' Kerry Zavagnin, Scott Larner and Rich Walos each scored twice for the winners.

Zavagnin also collected four assists while Larner added three. Brendan Sullivan scored the game's opening goal and the Shamrocks added seven more before intermission to take a commanding 8-0 lead.

The game ended 30 minutes early because of the 10-goal mercy rule.

Rocks get CC transfer

By Steve Kowalski

Bobby Schneider, the top three-point shooting threat last season for Redford Catholic Central's basketball team, has transferred to Plymouth Salem. Schneider missed part of the 1990-91 season because of academic reasons but was not dismissed from CC for the present school year, according to Bill Hayes, CC's assistant principal for discipline.

Schneider, whose older sister Sandra graduated from Salem, began his junior year Tuesday at Salem.

"It was not a matter of CC telling him he can't come back," said Brenda Schneider, Bobby's mother. "He wasn't doing as well there as we wanted him to and we thought at this time it was best for him to go to Salem."

Because he's a transfer student, Schneider, a 6-foot-2 guard, won't be eligible to play at Salem until the second semester begins in January. His mother indicated he might sit out his entire junior year.

"He plans on playing basketball but we've already told him he has to have decent grades," she said.

Hayes said Schneider would not have been eligible for any fall sports at CC but could have regained eligibility for the basketball team by attaining at least a 1.75 grade point average in the fall semester, which ends Oct. 18.

Regardless of an athlete's overall GPA, he must have at least a 1.75 GPA during a quarter to be eligible to play the next marking period, Hayes said.

"It forces a student to do well in each quarter," Hayes said. "Bobby was not asked to leave. It was strictly the family's decision. His parents made an agreement with him that he had to perform in summer school and since he did not, they decided he cannot attend CC anymore."

Schneider, a two-year letterwinner at CC, averaged 12.5 points per game last year and would have been a perfect complement to the Shamrocks' talented 6-foot-6 senior duo of Bob Kummer and Chad Varga. The Shamrocks made it to the Class A regional semifinal before losing to Detroit Cody and even more was expected this year.

"Bobby can play, there's no question about it," coach Bernie Holowicki said. "We expected a good year out of him and to take some pressure off Bobby (Kummer) and Chad. He's a good kid and great athlete. We call him 'bulldog,' because he can be electrifying sometimes. I wish him luck."

Smoking is good for meat

Country people have long known that meat hung in the smoke of hearths and chimneys lasts longer — and often tastes better — than fresh meat. Smoking, drying and salting were the main means of preserving meats in the days before refrigeration.

Of course, in contrast, we feel it good duty to mention that some studies have shown that smoking is regarded as hazardous to your health.

Today, with modern refrigeration, we are not so concerned with smoking as a means of preservation. We don't need to hang hams and sausages for days or weeks to keep them from spoiling over the long winter. Rather, we are looking for the fragrant smoky flavors of hickory, oak, apple wood and mesquite.

WITH VERY little equipment or effort, you can achieve the taste and aroma of traditionally smoked foods with just a covered grill or barbecue and a handful of wood chips.

Venture into any local gourmet shop and you will notice eye-catching grill displays featuring the latest in barbecue apparel, equipment and even wood chips.

I don't care what I wear as long as I'm comfortable. But "You name it and I have it" in the line of gadgets is the motto of some meat smokers, with most gadgets being overrated and under-used.

But when it comes to smoking with wood, the intrigue begins. Hardwoods are best for smoking. Softwoods such as pine, fir, cedar and spruce are not suitable because they are so full of pitch and resin that they impart a turpentine flavor in the food.

Never use backyard clippings that may contain insecticides or poisonous plants such as oleander or poison oak. The most popular woods are hickory, adler, mesquite, oak and fruit woods. Dried corn cobs can even be used.

MY PERSONAL favorite? I think mesquite is overrated. Anything I smoke on the grill is going to have enough flavor of its own. Maybe it's my taste buds, but short of a smoky flavor, I can't tell any difference.

When you price mesquite anywhere other than in Arizona and New Mexico, be prepared to pay the price.

Hickory is fine and most readily available, but everything at the supermarket is smoked in hickory, such as hams and sausages.

I want something different, something sweet. I love fruit woods. I think the best thing about fruit woods are their compatibility with either beef, chicken, pork or fish. Fruit woods make everything taste good.

Most backyard grillers who wish to smoke will most generally use what is called the hot smoke method.

If you've ever eaten Texas-style barbecue, then you've eaten hot-smoked meat. This type of smoking is done at high-enough temperatures to cook the food while imparting a mild and pleasantly smoked flavor.

FOR HOT smoking, good cooks first will buy chunks of wood instead of slivers or sawdust (both of which make for good cold smoking). The chunks of wood should be soaked in water for at least 30 minutes. (You can use the wood chips, but you will have to replace them more often).

Drain, and when the coals are red hot and covered with a little gray ash, drop a healthy handful, get ready to add the food and the top to keep those smoky flavors inside. Yours truly likes to keep the bottom vents open and the top vents closed for a more intense flavor.

Cook the foods as you normally would for their required amount of time — but watch out — the flavors of smoke might make you a regular smoker!

Sweetness ushers in the Jewish New Year

By Keely Wygonik staff writer

A NEW YEAR, a new start — "May you be inscribed for a good year" is a greeting frequently exchanged by Jews all around the world when guests arrive for the celebration of the days of Rosh Hashana.

"We bring in the new year on a sweet note," said Leslie Miller of West Bloomfield. "All of the dishes we serve are sweet, there's nothing bitter."

Rosh Hashana means "Head of the Year" in Hebrew, and coincides with the first day of Tishri on the Hebrew calendar, which is the lunar calendar. This year Rosh Hashana begins at sundown Sept. 8 and ends at sundown Sept. 10.

From Rosh Hashana to Yom Kippur, which is the day of atonement, are 10 days of penitence. One of the most important symbols of the Rosh Hashana observance is the blowing of the shofar, or ram's horn, which is sounded in synagogues as a call to worship.

For Jews, it is a time of reflection and thinking about the year past, making atonement for any mistakes, and promising to do better in the year ahead.

THE DISTINCTIVE theme of the Rosh Hashana dinner is joy in the year ahead, the dominant culinary symbol of which is sweetness.

Food frequently served includes honey, apples, dates, quinces, pomegranates, leeks, Swiss chard, green beans, carrots, turnips, zucchini, lamb and fish.

Common desserts are honey cakes, plum pie, baked apples and apple strudel.

Miller's Rosh Hashana menu consists of: fruit compote, gefilte fish, chicken soup with matzo balls, turkey with stuffing, roast beef brisket, noodle kugel, carrot tsimmes, green bean casserole, salad topped with homemade dressing, and cake for dessert.

and family we haven't seen in a while," Miller said.

"I start by de-cluttering the house. I keep almost nothing on the kitchen counters. It makes it a lot easier to work. We'll have a lot of company, so I de-clutter the living room too. I keep out toys that are easy to clean up."

SUNDAY, SHE'LL make chicken soup, a turkey, beef brisket and the dinner salad. She makes chicken salad with the chicken from the soup to serve for lunch the next day.

For the new year dinner, she'll serve the gefilte fish, soup and fruit compote. Guests will eat in the dining room, and help themselves to other foods at a buffet in the kitchen. The fruit compote will be served cold.

"It's refreshing, almost like a sorbet. I serve the fruit compote in wine glasses because it looks pretty, and I decorate the table with African violets so people can talk without having to look over flowers."

DINNER BEGINS with a prayer, and the breaking of bread — a sweet bread, crown challah, made with raisins. An extra cup of raisins is sometimes added to the dough to make it more festive for the new year celebration.

"A lot of people dip it in honey."

Some families also say a blessing over apples and honey and pass the dish around the dinner table. Each person dips his apple in honey before eating it. This symbolizes hopes for a sweet new year.

AT TEMPLE Kol Ami in West Bloomfield, everyone is handed a trash bag to take home with them. They bring it back 10 days later, on Yom Kippur, filled with food for the needy.

"While we're reflecting on our own deeds for the new year, we also think about making the rest of the world a better place," Hurwitz said.

Last year they collected 3,000 tons of food.

See recipes inside.

Traditionally, the new year dinner is served before sundown on the night the holiday starts.

"The holiday is for celebration of the new year, and reflection of the past year, and not for mundane tasks like work, so observant Jews will prepare all of their food before sundown on Sept. 8," said Lissa Hurwitz of the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Detroit in West Bloomfield.

ORTHODOX JEWS, Miller and her husband, Ron, a Realtor, belong to Bais Chabad of West Bloomfield.

For the past couple of weeks, she has been busy shopping, cooking and freezing desserts and side dishes to serve to friends and relatives who will celebrate the holiday with them.

"It's a really good time to get back in touch with friends

Jewish sweet treats

See related story on Taste front.

A busy mother of three, who operates a business out of her home, Leslie Miller's cooking philosophy is pour everything into a pot and let it cook.

She likes foods that are easy to make, but taste like you've been fussing over them for hours.

Following are fruit compote and noodle kugel, two of her family's favorite Rosh Hashana recipes. The honey cake recipe is from the Quaker Oats Kitchen, the carrot tzimmes is from the Culinary Institute of America.

Honey Cake is a traditional dessert served during Rosh Hashana.

- 1/2 cup sweet red wine

Combine fruit, including juice in a baking pan. Bake at 350 F. for 35 to 45 minutes. Chill. Serve cold.

NOODLE KUGEL

- 1 bag of flat egg noodles

Dry Creek Valley wines offer abundance of flavor

Separated by a range of hills, the American Viticultural Area known as Dry Creek Valley runs parallel to Alexander Valley in northern Sonoma County. The northern end is warm, and lacking a river influence, it is an ideal region for growing zinfandel and cabernet sauvignon with ripe berry flavors and melony sauvignon blanc.

The fertile, well-drained, valley-floor soils, influenced by morning fog in the south, are also well known for quality sauvignon blanc with a heightened grassy character.

The Dry Creek Valley benchlands, have red soils and less fog influence. This is an area that boasts 100-year-old zinfandel vines and distinguished cabernet sauvignon exhibiting attractive herbal, dill and olive components.

Doug Nalle, co-owner and winemaker at Nalle Winery who has experience working with Dry Creek fruit, believes that the region should be divided into north and south.

"It is impossible to say that Dry Creek is best for one varietal over another because the boundaries are too general," he said. "When identifying best locations, north versus south must be considered, based on temperature differences as well as soil and site."

John Pedroncelli owns the oldest producing winery (since 1927) in Dry Creek Valley. "Even in Bordeaux, there are good sites and poor ones," he explains. "They're not all first growths!"

In the warmer, upper end of Dry Creek Valley, Preston Vineyards is demonstrating that southern Rhone varietals, such as syrah and mourvedre, are successful.

"When planted on gravelly soil, syrah achieves good flavor development and smoky, earthy, ripe plum characters akin to the northern Rhone," said Lou Preston, owner of Preston Vineyards.

"Typical Dry Creek zinfandel develops ripe fruit, jammy, raspberry and blackberry flavors and spiciness (cinnamon, clove, allspice). It's not

WINE SELECTIONS OF THE WEEK

1990 Preston Vineyards Cuvee de Fume ($11) is 81 percent sauvignon blanc and 19 percent semillon. The aroma is alive with pear, apple, mineral and barrel fermentation elements. Fresh fig and pear flavors enhance a wine with a citrusy finish that's a perfect accompaniment for grilled fish. It's consistently one of the best sauvignon blancs from Dry Creek Valley.

1988 Dry Creek Vineyards Cabernet Sauvignon ($17) is a classic representation of a cabernet from a Dry Creek Valley winery. Blended with 10 percent cabernet franc and 4 percent merlot, it showcases blackberry fruit with gentle spiciness and well-married oak. This big, bold, rich, ripe rendition finishes streamlined and elegant.

heavy and tannic, but medium bodied with a claret-like quality.

"When grown on well-drained benchland, Dry Creek cabernet sauvignon exhibits soft tannins with a combination of cassis and black currant fruit accompanied by a delicate herbal, cedary-spice quality. The wines are typically round and soft with medium body. They are accessible when young and do not require lengthy bottle age to be attractive."

In 1971, David Stare founded Dry Creek Vineyards in the Dry Creek Valley. "The Dry Creek sauvignon blanc is a very flavorful grape and produces a grassy, herbaceous

WINE BULLETIN BOARD

Tasting Wines of the World is the theme of a five-week wine course 7:30-9:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 18 to Oct. 16, at OCC Orchard Ridge Campus, 1-696 at Orchard Lake Road. The class will focus on classic wines from France, Germany, Italy, the Iberian Peninsula and South America. Guest speakers will be present some evenings. Total cost is $90. Instructors: Eleanor & Ray Heald. For more information call, 471-7561.

style," said Stare. "The heavy, rich bottomland soil of the valley floor encourages vine vigor and a characteristic herbaceousness."

"When I started making sauvignon blanc from 100 percent Dry Creek fruit, it had a strong varietal character that I like in the wine. But this business is market driven, and the consumer doesn't appreciate that style as much as I do. Currently, I blend Dry Creek and Alexander Valley sauvignon blanc to produce a wine with highlighted melony fruit and just the right touch of varietal herbaceousness."

Successful Dry Creek chardonnay is site dependent. When grown on gravelly, well-drained benchland soils, chardonnay develops a distinct, sage, earthy-dusty character.

According to George Bursick, winemaker at Ferrari-Carano, "When grown on the deep, fertile, valley floor, Dry Creek chardonnay can develop the same varietal characteristics as sauvignon blanc."

Don't run to the store, substitute

The secret in being a good cook is not in following a recipe to the letter, one can do that. It lies, instead, in using your imagination and ingenuity, and learning to make substitutions when necessary.

If a recipe calls for one-half cup of wine in the sauce or marinade, and you don't have any wine in the house, mix together one-fourth cup of vinegar, one-fourth cup of water, and a tablespoon of sugar. Use this mixture in place of the wine.

You're all out of allspice? Don't panic and rush out to the store. Instead, mix one-half teaspoon of cinnamon with one-eighth teaspoon of cloves. Use this in place of one teaspoon of allspice, and no one will be the wiser.

Cornstarch can be used as a substitute for arrowroot.

One slice of regular white bread is equal to one-half cup of soft bread crumbs, or one-fourth cup of dry crumbs, or three-fourths cup of cracker crumbs. Or, use rolled oats in place of any of them.

If the cookbook says you should use buttermilk, or sour milk, and you don't have any, you can turn fresh milk sour in a minute by adding a bit of vinegar or lemon juice.

Chopped dried pitted prunes or dates may be used instead of raisins, and vice versa.

The point is that you must not be afraid to experiment a little.

Tomato juice, tomato sauce, tomato paste, tomato puree, and catsup can all be made to take the place of each other by adding a little of this, or a bit of that.

For instance, if you are out of catsup, add two tablespoons of sugar, (brown or white); a tablespoon of vinegar; and a pinch of cloves to one-half cup of tomato puree, paste, or sauce. This will work out in any recipe that calls for one-half cup of catsup.

The main difference in canned tomato juice, paste, sauce, or puree is the amount of water each contains.

During the "great Depression" that people my age still like to talk about, and again during World War II, certain foods were not always available. Cooks were forced to make substitutions of all sorts.

This is when the Ritz Cracker Mock Apple Pie became popular. One time when we had no apples, and no Ritz crackers, either, my mother created an imitation of the imitation. We called it "Mama's Mock Mock Apple Pie."

I made it recently, and my son-in-law bragged about what a great apple pie I had made. I never told him any different.

Soda crackers were cheap and plentiful, even in difficult times, and were substituted for apples, flour, cereal, and all sorts of things in those days.

The mock raspberry jam recipe below was included in a column that I wrote two years ago about tomatoes. I received more comments, letters, and phone calls (all favorable), about that one recipe than all the others I have ever written about.

It tastes exactly like real raspberry preserves, and has the same texture and appearance. No one will ever guess that it is not the genuine jam.

I am, including that recipe again, for those of you who missed it the first time. Try it, along with some of the other recipes printed below, for foods that aren't what they seem to be. After tasting how good they are, I'll not be surprised but what you'll decide to make up a few recipes of your own.

Mock Raspberry Jam

3 pounds green tomatoes
2 cups sugar
1 3-ounce pack of raspberry jello
Wash the tomatoes, and cut them into chunks. Process them in the blender until you have two cups. Add two cups of sugar, and boil for 15 minutes. Remove from the heat, and add powdered jello. Mix well.
Pour into clean containers, and refrigerate or freeze.

Mama's Mock Mock Apple Pie

24 single soda crackers
1 1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons cream of tartar
3 teaspoons apple pie spice (or 1 teaspoon grated nutmeg, 1/2 tea-

kitchen witch

Gundella

spoons cinnamon and 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves, as a substitute)

1 1/2 cups cold water
2 tablespoons cold butter
pastry enough for a double crust pie

Place the whole crackers in a bowl. Don't deliberately break them; some will break up accidentally, and that's OK.

Mix together the sugar, cream of tartar, and apple spices. Stir in the water, a little at a time, and pour mixture over the top of crackers. Allow it to sit for 15 minutes. Then pour gently into a pastry-lined pie tin. Dot with butter.

Add top crust, and cut vent holes, or pierce with a fork. I also like to brush the top with milk or mayonnaise, and sprinkle lightly with sugar before baking.

Bake in a 400 degree fahrenheit oven for about 40-45 minutes.

Mock Chopped Liver

(People who hate green beans would never guess that they are the secret ingredient.) 1 pound fresh or frozen green beans (not canned), cooked, drained, and chopped
2 large onions, chopped
4 hard boiled eggs, shelled
1/2 cup walnut meats, finely ground
2 Knorr chicken bouillon cubes
2 tablespoons Kitchen Bouquet salt and pepper to taste
Place chopped green beans in blender or food processor. Saute chopped onions in oil until dark, but not burned. Add browned onions to beans and blend.

Next, add eggs, nuts, Kitchen Bouquet and bouillon cubes. Blend until smooth. If mixture is too dry, add a bit of oil.

Chill before serving with slices of sweet onion.

Mock Fried Oysters

2 cups whole uncooked kernel corn

(fresh or frozen, but not canned)

3 large eggs
3 tablespoons flour
salt and pepper to taste
oil for frying

Separate the eggs. Combine egg yolks with the corn, flour, salt and pepper. Stir until well mixed. Beat egg whites until stiff, and gently fold into corn mixture.

Heat oil until 375 degrees fahrenheit, and drop batter by spoonfuls (about the size of an oyster) into the hot oil. Cook until golden brown, turning once.

Serve hot, with cocktail or tartar sauce, or with lemon juice or sherry wine for sprinkling.

Mock Pecan Pie

The following two recipes are both so good, I couldn't decide which to offer you. So, try them both, and decide which is your favorite.

Mock Pecan Pie No. 1

1 cup Post Grapenuts
1 cup brown-sugar, firmly packed
1 stick (1/4 pound) melted butter or oleo
3 eggs
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1 cup dark Karo corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
a pinch of salt
1 unbaked pie shell

Soak Grapenuts in water until absorbed. Combine sugar, syrup, butter and salt in a sauce pan. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Beat eggs until foamy.

Add a small amount of the hot mixture to the eggs. Mix well, then add the rest. Blend in the soaked Grapenuts, then put the mixture in the pie shell, and bake at 375 degrees fahrenheit for 40-50 minutes.

Cool before serving.

Ham and Salami Bistro Baguettes dress up any picnic menu.

Bistro sandwiches are easy to make

America loves summer picnics. Whatever the setting, good food is essential. Rest on Labor Day, a meal doesn't have to require a great deal of effort on the part of the cook.

Ham and Salami Bistro Baguettes, according to the Meat Board Test Kitchens, can fit on the most sophisticated picnic menu, but are prepared in just minutes with ingredients found in most supermarkets. These French baguette sandwiches feature sliced Genoa salami, fully cooked ham and provolone cheese — all from the deli case.

The deli meats are seasoned in European fashion with a mixture of canned roasted red pepper, rip or Nicoise olives, green onion and pesto sauce, all equally available, ready-to-use. Choose the rest of the menu so it's just as simple — ready-made salads, bakery-fresh cookies or pastries and fresh fruit.

When packing food for picnics thoroughly chill everything before leaving for your outdoor destination. Pack cold food in an insulated cooler with plenty of ice, arranging items to be eaten first on top and leaving as little airspace as possible. Fresh ingredients, packed well and kept cold, get you off to a great start for easy summertime meals.

HAM AND SALAMI BISTRO BAGUETTES

Preparation time: 25 minutes
4 ounces each sliced Genoa salami and "fully cooked ham"
1/2 cup chopped jarred roasted red pepper
2 tablespoons each prepared pesto sauce and chopped ripe olives
1 tablespoon finely chopped green onion
Spinach leaves
4 ounces sliced provolone cheese
4 individual French baguettes (each 5 to 6 inches long), split

Combine red pepper, pesto sauce, olives and onion. Spread bottom half of each baguette piece with 1 1/2 tablespoons red pepper mixture. Layer with equal amounts of spinach leaves, cheese, Genoa salami and ham. Top with an equal amount of remaining red pepper mixture. Close sandwiches with baguette tops. Sandwiches can be served immediately or packed to go. (Wrap sandwiches individually in plastic wrap and refrigerate up to 4 hours; carry to site in an insulated cooler.) 4 sandwiches.
Pitted and chopped Nicoise olives may be substituted for ripe olives.

Smoking adds flavor to fish, meat

See Larry Janes' column, Taste Buds on Taste front.

GARLIC SMOKED SWORDFISH

2 swordfish steaks
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 large cloves garlic, finely minced
1 tablespoon chopped parsley or chives
1 pound soaked hardwood chunks
Prepare a covered grill as desired for cooking. Make sure coals are white hot and covered with just a little grey ash. Add about 2 cups of the drained hardwood to the hot coals, cover the grill and allow the wood to begin to burn and create a good smoke. Meanwhile, combine butter or margarine with finely minced garlic and parsley. Mix well. When grill is smoking, place fish on the rack about 4-6 inches from heat source. Brush lightly with garlic butter creation and cook, as desired. A basic 1/2-inch swordfish steak will cook in about 10-15 minutes in a covered smoker.

HICKORY SMOKED BURGERS

2 pounds hamburger, made into burgers

1 pound hickory chunks, soaked in water, drained

Prepare the grill with coals and allow the coals to become white hot and covered with just a little grey ash. Drain the hickory and add to coals to begin smoking. Place burgers on the grill about 4-6 inches from heat source. Cook as desired.

Schiff shows stuff on Showtime

'I had nothing easy. Everything was a pain in the neck. I knew I had it in me even though other people didn't.'

— Mark Schiff comedian

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Three minutes before the conclusion during the taping of Mark Schiff's first comedy special on Showtime, the lights went out.

The power-outage could've allowed the comedian to plug into the early days of his stand-up career some 14 years ago. Oh, what difficult times those were.

Like when Schiff would travel 100 miles to do five minutes of stand up for nothing, when people such as Richard Belzer used to call his act one of the worst he had seen and when detractors would line up to tell him to quit the business.

Yes, we know, Schiff's career has been comedy's perpetual bumper car among semis.

"That stuff didn't bother me," said Schiff in a telephone interview from his home in Los Angeles. "It just made the rise more interesting. I had nothing easy. Everything was a pain in the neck."

"I knew I had it in me even though other people didn't."

That's changing. Schiff is considered one of the hotter comedic commodities around, no doubt on the rise with his first half-hour television special on Showtime. "My Crummy Childhood" premieres 10:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 6, on the cable network.

THE BRONX, N.Y., native also appeared recently at the prestigious "Just for Laughs" festival in Montreal where a stage-wise Milton Berle gave Schiff a pep talk to quell some jitters.

"He just told me not to try to please anybody but the audience. Manager, agents... don't worry about them, just do your work. He told me, 'It's no mistake you're here.'"

With his oversized dress shirts and wild ties, Schiff begs for a lunch date with Oscar de la Renta. More than anything, though, he just wants to belong.

In his 30-minute special before a hometown crowd at New York University, Schiff delves into such universal themes as growing up, going to the grocery store and marriage.

"I stopped smoking, quit drinking and got married," he says during his on-stage routine. "I'm basically dead. I sit on the edge of my bed in boxer shorts, peeling fruit."

His style varies from stone-face deadpanned to outright maniac. His routine is squeaky clean with the "hells" and "damns" are judiciously interspersed.

Like the forefather of family comedy, Bill Cosby, Schiff makes his points oh so subtly. Even in the course of a telephone conversation, discussing his 12-week-old son Jacob.

"YOU GO into a restaurant with a baby and everyone stares at you and yet if you're single and sit down at a table people are afraid to look at you. Isn't that weird?"

The birth of his son and marriage has opened up a whole new vista of material. He met his wife, Nancy, a few years ago during a benefit for the Jewish Federation in San Antonio, Texas. She was on the federation board, which organized the benefit.

"She was the only single woman there," Schiff said. "Everyone else was in their 70s. Any 30-year-old woman looks good then."

Ta dum. But marriage and fatherhood has perhaps made him even more reflective when discussing his own childhood.

Like the title of his show, Schiff said he believed his wasn't the best childhood at the time. He said every other family seemed to have more money, more worldly possessions.

The lingering pain from those times seeps through on "My Crummy Childhood" as Schiff maniacally recounts a face-to-face encounter with his mother. His eyes widen, his face contorts into a spasmodic rage portraying a parent screaming at her child.

FUNNY, YES, but the bit betrays more hurt perhaps than Schiff intended.

Schiff said he does have fond memories of childhood, though, such as going to Yankee Stadium with his dad.

Schiff said he gets deadpanned style from his father, who was a taxi driver in the Bronx. His more frantic moments emanate from his mother.

"I think every kid thinks they had a crummy childhood, especially when they are a kid... That's what I'm talking about."

Trashy thriller has style

By John Monaghan staff writer

"Defenseless" is one of those films that could easily get overlooked among the end-of-the-summer leftovers. And it would be too bad, because this trashy little thriller moves an audience through its twists and turns with just enough style.

It also provides Barbara Hershey with her most rewarding role in years as T.K. Andrews, an attorney who gets much too close to her latest case. The victim, it turns out, was not only her client and lover, but also coincidentally the husband of her college roommate.

Overly melodramatic and hokney? You bet. But this low-budget thriller (made by New Visions Pictures and distributed by New Line and Seven Arts) delivers on suspense while scriptwriter James Hicks serves up quirky characters you don't find in your typical Hollywood thriller.

T.K., as it turns out, leads a pretty cluttered life. Her office is piled high with lawbooks, case files, and the occasional half-eaten chicken sandwich. Instead of a Franklin Planner, she writes notes and phone numbers on little scraps of paper. She keeps meaning to repaint her old convertible, but never seems to find the time.

Her love life isn't much cleaner. She consistently falls for the wrong guys and this time picks a doozy when she both defends and sleeps with Stephen Seldes, a successful businessman who rented a warehouse building to a pornographic

John Monaghan

Overly melodramatic and hokney? You bet. But this ("Defenseless") low-budget thriller delivers on suspense

From here director Martin Campbell employs a pretty straightforward visual style that occasionally falls into the shadowy domain of film noir. When he does toss in a tricky shot, like mouse-eye-view closeups following high heels or characters silhouetted by strong backlighting, it works as a pleasant surprise.

Meanwhile, there's a great study by Mary Beth Hurt as Seldes' wife, a Southern belle who has kept her irritatingly sunny disposition ever since college. T.K. has always been a little suspicious. "If anyone was that happy, they'd die of hypoglycemia," she says.

Sam Shepard, the playwright and sometimes actor, doesn't have much to do as the investigating officer. He always looks cool smoking a cigarette, but his wooden disposition means he should never be cast outside of a role where he doesn't wear a cowboy hat.

"Defenseless" isn't a great film. It doesn't have the visual sense or emotional intensity of this summer's "Mortal Thoughts," but it is a solid night at the movies. And in this buffer zone between summer and fall, that's a welcome sight indeed.

movie studio which employed minors.

THE FATHER of a 14-year-old starlet flips out and starts stalking all the principals in the case. He bloodies sleazy director Jack Hammer and lops off the principal asset of porno actor Bull Dozer. He apparently got carried away by stabbing Seldes 18 times.

"Defenseless" begins with a clever twist. Instead of the usual opening credits, we watch the first shots of "Ball Busters," the Jack Hammer production about a cheerleader who will do anything to win the big game. For a moment you think you're in the wrong theater.

'Eleni' thrives on suspense

In her small rural Greek village, Eleni Gatzoyiannis had been raised according to tradition. She was to be obedient and to know her place. For probably the first time in her life, Eleni says a resounding no when Greek communists terrorize her village in 1948 and demand that the mothers give up their children for the party.

Before the Greek civil war ended in 1949, 28,000 Greek children had been taken from their families and shipped off for indoctrination in communist countries like Albania. One of the children who escaped the relocation was Eleni's son and New York Times reporter, Nick Gage, whose book is the basis for "Eleni," a 1985 Peter Yates film.

Raised in America since he was 9, the adult Gage has become increasingly obsessed with the torture and murder of his mother as the 30-year statute of limitations allowed under Greek law is about to run out.

Well played by John Malkovich, Gage keeps a handgun in his desk drawer and waits for a transfer to become bureau chief in Athens. He clearly has his own agenda for returning to Greece and wanting to locate surviving participants from the civil war.

ELENI'S STORY is told through flashbacks of Gage's memories of his mother and accounts he is able to piece together through his own investigations. Gage doesn't even respond to small talk from a boyhood friend he connects with in Athens.

LeAnne Rogers

He just keeps pushing for information about Eleni.

Played by Kate Nelligan, Eleni is a sturdy, unglamorous woman who has been keeping her family together without the help of her husband, who has been building the family fortune in America for nearly a decade.

Eleni's world is a place where firewood is gathered, goats are herded, and life is quiet. It will just a matter of time before her husband gets enough money and a home to bring his family to join him.

One of the ironies about Eleni's situation is that she was totally non-political. Early on she helps a local communist running from the monarchist soldiers. That same man later returns with the communist troops to force her family from their home, take all their food and put the local residents into forced labor details laying mines.

Eleni didn't know or care about politics. All she cared about was keeping her family together and from starving, at one point stealing the feedbag from a soldier's horse for the oats.

LINDA HUNT is very good as a local woman whose communist sympathies don't help her when her maternal instincts run contrary to the communist party goals. After failing to get the appropriate patriotic response to their call for volunteer children, the party man tries to bribe the starving children with fresh bread.

Malkovich's Gage is a man haunted by the last glimpse he had of his mother as she was marched away on a work detail. After they had said their good-byes, Eleni senses the boy is still watching and turns just before she is out of sight for a final wave. It's that small boy that Gage remembers and helps fuel his rage that by simply surviving long enough, his mother's killers become innocent men.

For a film in which a large part of the conclusion is known at the outset, "Eleni" still manages to provide a good deal of suspense. It's the tension of filling in the outline of what we know with what is revealed in layers.

Knight-time fun

Renaissance Festival offers joust about everything

By William Coutant
staff writer

A journey backward in time to a fun-loving age of discovery can be yours provided you "suspend your disbelief" and head for Holly, Mich.

If you can, you'll find knights jousting, jesters jesting and people speaking of dragons, damsels and magic.

You could consider the Michigan Renaissance Festival a sort of theme park in the raw. Situated on 200 acres in northwest Oakland County, the festival, in its 12th year, provides an impressive array of crafters, magic and stage acts, food and drink, and people just being a little silly. And being mirthful is the key to enjoying the outdoor event that runs for seven weekends from mid-August through the end of September.

"It's as much (fun) as you make it," said festival official Peggy Burkhard. "You have to live the dream."

Craft booths, featuring about 150 artists whose works have been juried for their authenticity, line the 16th Century streets under ample tree shade. Food booths feature modern favorites such as pizza and gyro sandwiches along with culinary delights of an earlier time: roasted turkey drumsticks, Scotch eggs and apple dumplings.

The 700-member staff, dressed in period costume, are bound to get you in a festive mood whether it be through a melodramatic farce on stage at the Swan Theatre, a knights joust in full armor on horseback, or just a little ribbing as you walk along. Characters like Ded Bob, Magical Mystical Michael and Sir Ryosus help keep the mood light. And there's always an event on the grounds.

THERE'S EVEN an open air pub with entertainment that serves imported English beer and includes part of a real pub brought over from the old country. Cyril Lilly, an Englishman celebrating his birthday at Watneys Pub said it's quite authentic.

And while most visitors to the festival don't come quite as far, they seem to have just as much fun.

"My son challenged me (to dueling buckets)," said a somewhat damp Kathy Poole of Livonia. "I won. You don't often win with a kid," she added with a laugh. "They set the tone so that it's really fun."

And rain or shine, the festival goes on.

The event runs every Saturday and Sunday and Labor Day through the last weekend in September. Crowds for the opening weekend, which included a rainy Saturday, exceeded 20,000, most from Oakland County, Burkhard said. Yet the wide "streets" of the festival and large parking area make it easy to get around.

And many visitors are happy just to walk through the myriad of craft shops, which include weaving to glass blowing to the making of knight's armor. Others find it easy enough to stop at one of several stages to see a play, a puppet show or a magic act. And games for kids of all ages abound. What festival celebrating the 16th century in Europe would be complete without archery? Kids can joust on Fight the Knight, use their balance on Hunker Hauser and get all wet with Dueling Buckets.

ONE OF THE most popular events of all is the Joust. Three times a day, knights take arms, first on horseback, and then on foot, to win honor and glory before the king and his court. The lances break for real, but the knights survive intact, except for the verbal barbs of the crowd.

All kidding aside, the event coincides with the Harvest celebrations of earlier times. And for many actors, magicians and singers, it's a chance to display their talents.

Festival staff can be amateur actors to professional minstrels who play at the pub. And there are enough of them to keep visitors continually entertained.

And that's the festival's goal, to make sure those who enter this "kingdom" of a bygone era let go of their daily cares for an afternoon.

That quality of make-believe is an essential ingredient of the festival's success, says M'Arch McCarty, who along with his wife Janet serve as King Edward and Queen Katheryne.

"When I welcome visitors I say 'I am King Edward here, today, and you are whoever you want to be,'" said McCarty, who works as an actor throughout the year. "And it's true — for awhile."

The Michigan Renaissance Festival runs consecutive weekends, through Sept. 28-29, on Dixie Highway, one mile north of Mt. Holly. Hours are 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Admission is $9.95 for adults at the gate ($8.75 in advance); $4.95 for children at the gate ($4 advance). For information, call 645-9640

Leave summer behind at state fall festivals

The leaves are coming. In two weeks they will begin their crisp colorful descent across the Upper Peninsula. By the end of the month they will cross the Mackinac Bridge and begin to stain the ground around Mackinaw City and Traverse City.

By mid-October they will wrap their gold and green glory around Bay City and central Michigan, moving on south like a freight train of autumn color until they reach us in mid-October.

You can't stop them. Nature is in charge. They will roll down I-75 past Dayton and Cincinnati, through the mountains of Kentucky and Tennessee, painting the world with their color and marking our calendars with the promise of winter to come.

For many of us, it is a favorite time of year, a time of autumn festivals and weekend getaways, with the kids in school and the heat of summer fading away.

You like festivals? Check out the action this weekend, Sept. 6-8, at either the Michigan Wine and Harvest Festival in Kalamazoo and Paw Paw or the Michigan Potato Festival in Posen and Edmore.

Or start at the western end of the UP with the Sept. 14-15 Octoberfest in Copper Harbor, hit the Ewen Log-Jam-Boree Sept. 27-28 and end up Oct. 11-12 at either the Pumpkinfest in Bessemer or the Octoberfest in Iron Mountain.

There's an Oct. 4-6 Red Flannel Festival in Cedar Springs and an Oct. 11-13 Oktoberfest in Frankenmuth. Call toll-free (800) 5432-YES for a booklet called Michigan Fall Secrets from the Michigan Travel Bureau.

It will tell you about the three Great Lakes circle tours posted around lakes Michigan, Huron or Superior.

Explore the Agawa Canyon color train out of Sault St. Marie, Ontario, which leaves daily at 8 a.m. for the 230-mile trek north into the autumn-leaf glory of Agawa Canyon.

Or the Southern Michigan Railroad trains that leave every weekend from Clinton and Tecumseh to Raisin Center, call (517) 423-7230.

Or the Bluewater Michigan Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society, which runs a pair of fall color tours by special excursion train that run from Birmingham to the Thumb, a 200-mile circle, Oct. 19 and 20.

Ride a canoe or take one of the fall color tours offered Sept. 29 through Oct. 21 on the Au Sable River Queen. Take a hot air balloon above the trees at sunrise or sunset from Capt. Phogg Balloon Rides in Fenton.

Did somebody say cider mills? We've got a million of them, starting with Adrien and Armada and ending with Ypsilanti. Check the state book for addresses.

And if you'd rather hang out a sign that reads "gone fishin'," we've got a million fishing tournaments for you.

We like to think that nobody else in the world has color like Michigan's color, but you can follow it down Interstate 75 to the mountains north of Atlanta before it begins to fade. Call Kentucky's ColorFall line toll-free at (800) 225-TRIP for color dates, late September to early November, when the color peaks in the southeast.

To the lighthouse at Big Bay Point

By John Monaghan
special writer

When the sun sets on Lake Superior, you'll know where to find the guests of the Big Bay Point Lighthouse. In the tower, high among the bluffs, I joined in the show as the glowing orange ball bid another good night to the Upper Peninsula shoreline.

I had arrived just an hour before to find a pink sheet of paper taped to my bedroom door. Innkeepers Buck and Marilyn Gotschall leave these for all overnight guests, a tongue-in-cheek description of duties while staying overnight. A button attached to the instructions distinguished me as a Keeper's Helper. I didn't have to monitor weather conditions or replace a lamp filament, but I did feel, for a night anyway, that I guided the mighty Great Lakes freighters as the Big Bay beam traveled out over the waves.

According to the innkeepers, Big Bay Lighthouse is the only privately owned and operated lighthouse on the Great Lakes and the only one in the country where guests sleep right on the premises. The Gotschalls bought the historic 1896 brick structure in 1986 and immediately opened it as an inn.

"Guests like the mile of shoreline," Buck said. "It's rocky and craggy and good for rock-hounding."

Buck is a great kisser who picked up tennis at age 50 and has since whipped players half his age in statewide tournaments. He's also an avid sailor and pilot with his own airstrip and plane 100 feet from the front door. Marilyn, meanwhile, is a world traveler.

The breakfast conversation, as a result, is especially fascinating. Stories about Italian vacations. About the bear who ran into the woods with a trash can. About Buck's growing-up years in the same Indiana town where James Dean lived.

Big Bay Lighthouse has all the warmth and friendliness you expect from a great bed and breakfast, but it's not a luxury stay. Like the craggy rocks on which it sits, the lighthouse is more than a little rough around the edges.

During my visit, tools and books were piled high on a stair landing. The homey, cluttered common rooms displayed postcards and T-shirts for sale. Some corners needed redecorating, others a simple straightening and dusting.

Six upstairs guest rooms, which command $65 to $165 per night, are sparsely decorated and comfortable. Some share bathrooms down the hall. The Tower Room, with its dramatic view of the lake, remains the most requested.

The guests gather after dark in the first-floor living room, where the great stone fireplace takes a bite out of the cold lake wind; the wind can beat fiercely during a fall gale. Our conversation turned to William Pryor, the original Big Bay Point lighthouse keeper, who died under mysterious circumstances in 1901 and whose ghost reportedly roams the bluffs.

"He whispers to me in the spring to go fishing," Buck said. "I go, because I don't want a mad ghost around, but Marilyn doesn't hear him and she is getting suspicious!"

The second-floor library leads to a circular staircase and up to the tower, 120 feet above the water, where the light casts its beam. The current lighting apparatus is considerably smaller than the original Fresnel lens, which is on display in the foghouse.

Buck notes that it came from Paris with a list of 52 lighting instructions.

Breakfast is in two shifts, six guests each, during busy summer mornings, and it emphasizes the healthy and homegrown. We started with a whipped fruit drink of peaches, pears, apples, red raspberries and a touch of yogurt. Homebaked muffins came next, followed by delicious yogurt/buttermilk waffles. They serve whitefish or brook trout in season.

The innkeepers suggest (and so do I) the 4 1/2 hour $25 tour of Big Bay with friend and neighbor Jeff Ten Eyck. He guides the adventurous to favorite spots, hopping stone-to-stone over rushing water or scaling medium-sized cliffs. Jeff caters to any guest, including the elderly or disabled, who wants to journey by van to hiking sites and enjoy a trail lunch of U.P. pasties.

The innkeepers have blazed a pleasant trail that begins as a tree-lined path, then ends in meadows along the Lake Superior bluffs, so you can hike around the property. Explore the town restaurants and the spots made familiar by "Anatomy of a Murderer," the 1959 movie which was filmed here and in nearby Marquette.

For more information, contact Big Bay Point Lighthouse, No. 3 Lighthouse Road, Big Bay, Mich., 49808; (906) 345-9957. There's a two-day minimum on the weekend. During your second breakfast, you'll be upgraded to Senior Helper, but your only real responsibilities will be to relax and enjoy one of the country's most unusual bed-and-breakfast experiences.

DESTINATION USA

Washington, D.C.'s 200th birthday will be celebrated in grand style on Pennsylvania Avenue from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday and Monday Oct. 13-14, Columbus Day Weekend, when the city's first Taste DC festival is held. A quarter million people are expected to attend, with foods available from 30 of D.C.'s top restaurants.

The Chattanooga Choo-choo's Golden Anniversary Special tour leaves New York's Pennsylvania Station and whistle-stops through eight states before arriving in Chattanooga, Tenn. on Sept. 10.

The Choo-choo celebrates the 50th anniversary of the well-known Glen Miller recording and follows its route. The number of seats has been doubled from 200 to 400, so rates have been reduced to $2,225 single or $3,850 a couple.

That's a great deal more than anybody paid 50 years ago, but it includes air fare on Delta to New York City and back from Chattanooga plus hotels at either end. If you think that nothing could be finer than to be in Carolina in the morning, call the Chattanooga Convention and Visitors Bureau at (615) 756-8687.

The National Civil Rights Museum opens Labor Day weekend in Memphis, Tenn., making it the first civil rights museum in the country. There are mixed reviews on this 10,000-square-foot museum built on the site of the Lorraine Motel, where Martin Luther King Jr. was killed on April 4, 1968.

The museum will have 15 interactive exhibits highlighting significant events and places in the movement. A laser beam traces the path of the bullet shot from across Mulberry Street.

The Michiana Mennonite Relief Sale may not sound like a world-shaking event but quilt-lovers wait for it all year. It takes place 6 a.m. to mid-afternoon Sept. 28 at the 4H Fairgrounds in Goshen, Ind.

The quilt auction is at 8 a.m., antique auction at 8:30 a.m. and the new and used auction and 9 a.m. There's an open house 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sept. 27 if you want to look at what's coming up. Free admission and parking.

The sale is a means of raising funds for the Worldwide Relief Program of the Mennonite Central Committee, now in its 72nd year. This is the highlight event of the year in Indiana Amish country.

Ed Asner hopes to color ratings 'Rosie' on CBS

Young Lisa Rieffel sees expanded role

By Dan Rice

The appeal for higher ratings may be the most trying aspect of "The Trials of Rosie O'Neill," but the defense has not rested. Thursday, Sept. 12, is the appointed date for the fall premiere of the CBS drama, and the cast and crew have been hard at work all summer to ensure their second season summons enough viewers to deliver a positive verdict.

Sharon Gless, a two-time Emmy winner for "Cagney & Lacey," returns as Rosie O'Neill, a corporate lawyer who becomes a public defender after a difficult divorce from her husband and his law firm. Her series, which is produced by her real-life husband, Barney Rosenzweig, has won critical acclaim for the reality of its situations and portrayals, but its Thursday night time-slot puts it up against NBC's Cheers, the leader of the pack.

When Rosie went into summer repeats, the show dropped even further behind in the ratings, prompting talk of cancellation.

The call went out for a hired gun, an actor with more Emmys than anyone and a glare that could reduce Mary Tyler Moore to tears. Yes, none other than dramatic heavyweight Ed Asner, two-term president of the Screen Actors Guild and outspoken stalwart of liberal political causes.

Asner comes on board to play Walter Kovatch, a bigoted ex-cop who ended his 35-year police career after arresting his son for selling drugs. Hard-nosed Kovatch had always believed the public defender's office to be his nemesis, but is persuaded to join Rosie's team as an investigator. Asner reports "the chemistry is working well" on the set, but character-wise, we viewers know we're in for an explosive personality conflict. He is proud his new series "isn't sugarcoated" and presents life as it really is; this is from a man who tells it like it is.

After having successfully transferred his popular Lou Grant character from a comedy to a dramatic series, CBS canceled Lou Grant amid controversy that Asner was perhaps using his fictional-newsman credibility to further his own political causes. Rather than let his spirit be broken, Asner continued his campaigns, even joining a boycott against Maxwell House (which buys El Salvadoran coffee), bringing threats from their parent corporation, the ultrapowerful TV sponsor Proctor & Gamble. CBS has forgiven him, proving that when the chips are down, a man's worth is undeniable.

Another change in the series involves an expanded role for Rosie's former stepdaughter Kim Ginty (Lisa Rieffel). In a forthcoming episode, Kim moves in with Rosie, thereby further exploring their relationship and giving Rosie more stress to talk over with her shrink. At age 16, Rieffel is already a veteran of Broadway and films, as well as other TV series, and says she loves the work.

"I wake up at five, work a 10 1/2 hour day, and come home and just sleep and get ready for tomorrow. It's so cool!"

In the fall, Rosie O'Neill will still face off against Cheers, but it will also serve as the lead-in to Nielsen-favorite "Knots Landing." With a one-two punch like that, CBS may well win Thursday night after all.

SOAP TALK

Viewer wonders who's who

By Candace Havens

Dear Candace: I just started watching the soaps again and I'm really confused. The guy who used to play Cliff on All My Children is now on The Young and the Restless. These soaps also come on at the same time. They didn't used to.

Also, on Santa Barbara, the guy who plays Warren looks just like the guy who played Frisco on General Hospital. I just had a baby and am home from work now. They say you can miss a year on a soap opera and still keep up, but it's not true. It is easy, though, to get hooked again. — Thanks, G.L. in Wisconsin.

Dear G.L.: You are correct. Peter Bergman does play the manipulating Jack Abbot on The Young and the Restless. The role is certainly more challenging for him than wimpy Cliff Warner on All My Children. In fact, Bergman recently won an Emmy for his role as Jack Abbot.

Your eyes are not deceiving you, as far as Jack Wagner (ex-Frisco) is concerned. Wagner recently made the big switch from General Hospital to Santa Barbara.

A few years ago some of the stations changed the time they showed All My Children so that it could directly compete with The Young and the Restless for viewers' attention.

Dear Candace: I'm really upset about Kathleen coming back on Another World. I can't believe she broke up Cass and Frankie. They had worked so hard to build a good relationship, and they are fun to watch together. Kathleen isn't really bad, but I wish they would put her with another man. Thanks for listening. Another World really is my favorite soap. —Cathy J. in Conroe, Texas.

Dear Cathy: Michael Laibson, the executive producer of Another World, worked really hard to bring Julie Osburn (Kathleen) back to the show. He felt Kathleen and Cass (Stephen Schnetzer) made a dynamic couple. As for Frankie (Alice Barnett), who knows what might happen in her life over the next few weeks?

I want to hear from you! If you have a favorite soap scenario you would like to sound off about, or a question about the soaps, write to Candace Havens, Soap Talk, P.O. Box 961009, Fort Worth, Texas, 76161-1009.

You can take the Hammer out of the kid, but ...

Rap-sensation M.C. Hammer is readying his own Saturday morning series, Hammerman, for debut Sept. 7 on ABC. When asked what cartoons he watched as a kid, the Hammer said he spent his time with The Flintstones, The Jetsons, Spider-Man and Superman.

M.C. Hammer

Singer Fontella Bass will record a new version of her 1965 chart-topper "Rescue Me" for the upcoming film of the same name. The movie stars Stephen Dorff as a bookish teenager who witnesses the kidnapping of a beautiful girl (Ami Dolenz). Dorff enlists the aid of a biker (Michael Dudikoff) to rescue the girl from her abductors, played by Peter Dinklage and William Licking.

Emmy-nominee Veronica Hamel (Hill Street Blues) and Susan Ruttan (L.A. Law) recently completed filming of Deadly Medicine, a dramatic thriller based on a true story. Hamel plays a successful, happily married pediatrician whose life begins to crumble when an infant in her care mysteriously dies. Her worst fears are realized when she begins to suspect her faithful nurse (Ruttan) of being the killer. No airdate has been set for the NBC made telefilm.

Viewers for Quality Television (VQT) has given CBS another boost. The organization recently voted the network six awards for the 1990-1991 season. Murphy Brown received three: best quality comedy, best actress (Candice Bergen) and the best comedy writing award. Burt Reynolds and Michael Jeter of Evening Shade were named best actor and supporting actor, respectively. Alice Ghostley of Designing Women was named best specialty player. In the past, VQT has helped save shows such as Designing Women from imminent cancellation.

Meg Tilly and Rob Lowe play ill-fated lovers in the thriller Masquerade. Friday on HBO.

Rapper M.C. Hammer is now an exciting animated star in Hammerman, Saturday mornings on ABC.

Time for more MTV Video Music Awards

By Dan Rice

It's been ten years since MTV first aired the Buggles' "Video Killed the Radio Star," thus launching their 24-hour music video channel, which has grown from a fresh and innovative medium to a monopolistic dictator of "popular" music. On Thursday Sept. 5, MTV will broadcast live to the entire world the 1991 MTV Video Music Awards, with finalists for honors in rap, dance, metal and alternative videos, determined by an elite group within the industry. R.E.M. leads the nominees with eight nods for "Losing My Religion," plus a ninth for the new category of Best Long-Form Video. Arsenio Hall will play host once again, and slated performers include Prince, Paula Abdul, Van Halen, Poison, Mariah Carey, LL Cool J and C+C Music Factory.

Some people will tell you television isn't nearly as entertaining as looking out your window in an urban neighborhood. If emergency sirens sound like a fanfare to you, be thrilled to know that yet another reality-based program is set on a collision course with The Family Channel on Sunday, Sept. 1. Witness to Survival combines actual footage, interviews and those dreaded reenactments recounting the tales of those who have walked out, tracked away from tragedies.
