Plymouth City Commission candidate profiles

Ron Loiselle

By Kevin Brown staff writer

Ask mayor pro tem Hon Loiselle of his plans if re elected to the city commission and the Plymouth accountant reaches into his suit pock et for a list.

THE 10-YEAR incumbent he's likely to become the city's next mayor if re-elected—said the city did a poor public relations job—on the garbage bag tag program.

He said residents were not told plainly enough that even though they're now being charged $1 per bag or tag to dump garbage, "we reduced their millage by a mill and Loiselle said he also wants to make sure a postal counter is located downtown, and the new library. He said the commission could help the library board find a downtown site, possibly the Penniman post office.

The biggest reason I'm running is I can make a difference in the daily life of the taxpayer. he said, adding his work on the city commission and four years on the planning commission. Thave hopefully made a difference.

Back to his list "I want to continue to research consolidation of services with the township, "adding, It's got to save money and it has to be equal or greater service"

Loiselle said he also wants to see improved railroad crossings in the city and improved traffic signals at Main and Ann Arbor roads and Mill and Sheldon roads.

The commission should also direct the start of work on the downtown street scape improvement project. But first, "There are practical things that have to be worked on — There are a lot of flaws."

HE SAID THE commission should review plans for parking in the current architect's plan. "There aren't any spaces. he said But Loiselle said he favors the overall plan. You can see what's happening downtown, he said referring to a growing number of vacant storefronts.

Robert Jones says efficiency in government is among his biggest concerns

How do we best spend our dollar' asked Jones elected to a four year term in 1985 narrowly defeated for re-election in 89 and then appointed to fill a commission vacancy earlier this year.

Jones has a reputation as a budg et detail man asking questions about bills submitted for commission approval. People will get mad when I make them cross a Tordotan I he said.

But Jones who spent years over seeing budgets for ANR Pipeline Co said. I want to look at what's efficient and what's effective."

Jones favors keeping postal service and an expanded library downtown and encouraging businesses to return downtown to fillemoty storefronts.

On the downtown development authority's $5 million street scape improvement plan, Jones said, 'This $5 million thing bothers me,' adding he d like to review the plan further

More important is having the DDA seeing what it can do to revitalize downtown

Saying a variety of businesses is needed be added. We don't need any thore wooden ducks any more wooden ducks.

Also among his top concerns,
Jones stresses a desire "to build the credibility of city government."

Credibility can be changed if we figure out the citizen is a customer. How do you do that? One is you listen to them. Listen and hear and get back to them if something can be done

In the year and a half before he was returned to the commission.

Jones served as a planning commissioner and continued to pose questions on issues to commissioners at meetings

"As a citizen, I put together a three-page document with questions on Mettetal My main concern was I didn't want the city to subsi dize the airport "

There has to be less confrontation between the residents and the downtown advocates. The residents get accused of being anti-business, and the business community gets accused of being anti-residential.

"I think my experience and talents can help bring about a change," he said.

McAninch, who as a prominent member of the Plymouth Concerned Citizens strongly opposed the commission's effort to run Mettetal Airport, said some commissioners "might swear a couple of times" when his name comes up. But I think they'll tell you they re-

We need to take a closer look at the merchant mix. What do we have currently and what are the gaps."

HE SUGGESTS that the city administration, downtown development authority and chamber of commerce work together to fill those gaps

The DDA street scape plan is "a step in the right direction." Miller said. The planning commission has proposed broad changes in the zoning ordinance, including provisions to reduce on-site business parking requirements. "The (proposed) ordinances address problems of the commercial district redevelopment," he said, stressing the residential neighborhoods must also be protected.

Miller, who also serves as the chairman of the historic district commission, said Old Village "is a diamond in the rough."

"We virtually ignore it. Many areas would kill to have a (historic)

As for whether the city should join the Metettal Airport owner-ship effort. Miller said. "I think from the city's standpoint it's a dead issue." Plymouth Township and Canton have agreed to seek to

As a citizen, Rosita Smith brought the pollution of Tonquish Creek and questions about Mettetal Airport to the attention of the city commission

"You have to persevere," said Smith, now retired from Michigan Bell "You don't give up You check everything out and do your very best"

Of the current commission, she said, "People feel that they aren't listening to them".

Smith said she's running because

"I see a need for all of the citizens to be represented" She said commission members favoring the Mettetal Airport joint ownership effort—as a member of Plymouth Concerned Citizens she opposed it—packed the commission chambers with non-resident pilots favoring the move.

"That was a very bad experience," she said, adding that because many residents were in the hallways, they had a tougher time commenting during sessions devoted to the issue

Further, "I was disappointed the city was so involved with the airport and they let the post office get away from us," she said, adding more attention should have been paid to "things that really mattered"

ON THE downtown street scape plan likely to be submitted for commission approval in November, Way said, "I think we're going to have to do more than look at potted plants and new benches."

Doing more could include encouraging business owners to add more hours, he said. On keeping city services without

Detroit restaurant industry big shots say they approve of county Executive Edward McNamara's proposed one percent hotel restaurant tax to help finance a new Tiger Sta-

But owners of smaller suburban restaurants are firing back at the proposal

You can tell them to stick it, said Tony Rainko, manager of the Leather Bottle Inn of Livonia "Out here, we're not going to get anything from the Tigers. If there's a tax, it should stop at the city limits

McNamara announced new stadi um tax proposal earlier this week though there is no guarantee it new would ever be enacted

The new tax could first have to pass muster with county voters. While McNamara has pledged the tax for a downtown stadium site only, the Tigers have already said they were looking elsewhere.

Despite that, the newly proposed one percent tax received support from the Metropolitan Detroit Convention & Visitors Bureau and - in

THERE ARE four reasons we support it - it's better than the (originally proposed) 5 percent tax, it's better than a 4 percent tax, it's better than a 3 percent tax and it's better than a 2 percent tax," hotel association president David Held

The executive's office also listed restaurant owners Joe Muer, Ted Gatzaros of Greektown, Dick Kughn of the Whitney and chef Jimmy Schmidt of the Rattlesnake Club among proposal supporters. But Redford Inn owner John Mourselas said he told executive's staff members in no uncertain terms to leave his name off that list

"I told them my customers can't

> Local hotel and motel owners raised exactly the same issue several months ago, when McNamara proposed a 5 percent hotel/motel

While many are still upset, Held said the one percent tax was a "more liveable" proposal.

'Hotel revenue is like a pair of pants with a lot of pockets," Held said. "One of the problems with the five percent tax was that it would all come out of the room fee pocket. That pocket is already being tapped for Cobo Hall and other things.

Thomas Guastello, owner of the Livonia Comfort Inn and two adjacent restaurant properties, said he could understand why others were angry with the proposal.

But once you get past that feeling, you begin to see that this tax is not a meal-killer or a deal-killer," said Guastello, an outspoken critic of the 5 percent tax proposal.

The 5 percent hotel tax "would

The hotel association agreed to the lesser tax because of the Detroit Tigers' importance to the city and the region. Held said

We never said having the Tigers wasn't important," he said. "We didn't want to be the ones held accountable when our grandkids asked us why the Tigers left town

Held acknowledged the county could have raised the 5 percent tax on its own, without consulting voters, and praised McNamara's willingness to negotiate on the issue.

But Sharon Salenik, manager of Mr. Mike's Coney Island, Westland, said the tax would hurt business more than the Tigers would help.

"IT'S HORRIBLE," Salenik said of the tax. "People don't come in here for the Tigers, they come in for the entertainment we provide.

Though an adjacent restaurant managed by the same management group caters to sports fans by showing ballgames on a big screen television, Salenik said, the new stadium probably wouldn't benefit those customers, either. "If it was football, it might be different, but not that many people have been coming in to see the Tigers," she said. "They haven't been Plymouth went through to get the issue on the ballot, getting and presenting petition signatures to the city. "That's the way the system's supposed to work."

The issue, he said, "got blown out of proportion," adding that more important issues were ignored.

On talks to share services with Plymouth Township, Miller said, 'Common sense has to prevail. What things are we duplicating?'

He said shared services should save money "and still provide high quality service to the taxpayer. I don't see it as a real rapid thing, it could take several years.

In his position as historic district chairman, Miller wrote postal officials urging them to maintain the historic post office facade and mural. He supports the DDA buying the post office and getting postal counter service or a business that can maintain business traffic on Penni-

Dennis Shrewsbury

On the downtown development authority's plan to improve the downtown street scape, Shrewsbury said, 'I think it's fine to work on the downtown. I think we have to be careful about how far past downtown we should go."

He suggests the commission could do more to attract business downtown, to fill recent vacancies.

"MAURY BREEN (in Plymouth Township) sure did that." But here, "Everybody's sitting and scratching their heads wondering why this is happening," he said.

How do you compete with Kmart, that's real tough. There's got to be some kind of interaction," he said, between city government and

The city administration has suggested starting curb-side recycling ometime next year.

"We should do curb-side recycling and try to keep the cost down as much as possible.

"People will pay for things if they're not lied to and not sold a bill of goods," he said.

Shrewsbury is active in Democratic party politics, and noting that Plymouth voters are predominantly Republican joked, "If the people knew how many people they've elected are really Democrats, they'd have conniptions.

"I'd say this is a non-partisan election. I can do a good job working for the citizens rather than for some special interest group."

SHE SAID the airport issue should be decided by voters, in the related charter amendment vote in November. But she warns that while the airport was recently determined not to be contaminated, "You can clean it up one year, and they could make requirements more stringent, and you'd have to go back and clean it

On talks to merge city and township police and fire services, the commission "should investigate very carefully and very thoroughly and make sure it's in the best interest of the residents."

To maintain city services without raising taxes, she said, "I think we should be very careful where we spend our money "We shouldn't have a surplus of (city) personnel," she said, adding this could be looked into. "I think we do need to rejuvenate the downtown area, we've lost a lot of business," she said.

On the DDA downtown street scape improvement plan, she said determining what merchants think about the plan "would be a top prior-

ON THE trash bag-tag program, Smith said, "People are upset over the bag tag, they feel their taxes are higher than adjoining communities and they have to pay to have their trash picked up.

She suggested that residents could be allotted a quantity of free bags each year. "That could defuse a lot of the resentment while they're searching for alternatives."

One problem with the system, she said, is older residents find it difficult to go out and buy the needed bags or tags.

The business people and the residents can work together to make a better community," she said.

On whether he'd support renewed city participation in running Mette-tal Airport, Way said, "I would like to see the expression of the voters (on a related charter amendment vote in November)."

Before approving the earlier effort to run the airport, Way said the commission "might have given consideration to a (public) vote before they made a decision.

"On major programs like that, it's desirable to do that," he said.

Today's designer wears many hats; creator, overseer, coordinator, while also handling the business end of the project. The key to success is a commitment to the client based on a high level of professionalism, quality and service. Without service, the client is not getting the quality.

ON CLIENT INVOLVEMENT

I like to get to know the families I work with in order to develop a concept functional to their lifestyle. We develop friendships. I have worked with some of my clients for 17 years. We just keep going through new projects and new homes. To be genuinely effective, a designer has to care about the client.

When the client has a limited budget we establish a long range goal. During Phase I, we put the money where it will make the most impact, and add as the budget permits. Whether my client buys an antique piece or a reproduction. I want to make sure they get the best dollar value, and most importantly, a piece of furniture they will enjoy for years.

paintings, watercolors and handsigned limited edition graphic works by 40 artists, including some known internationally, will support family-oriented drug treatment programs. The Thursday, Oct. 17, event is sponsored by Straight, Inc. of Plymouth.

All works have been custom framed.

The evening begins with an hors d'oeuvres and non-alcoholic refreshment reception at 6:30 p.m. That will be followed by the auction at 8 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Ritz Carlton Hotel in Dearborn.

Admission is $50 per person for the preview and auction and $20 per person for the auction only.

The works in this auction include original etching, engravings, litho-graphs and woodcuts by some of the greatest European masters from the 17th through the 20th centuries.

The auction will include selections by Cezanne, Chagall, Dali, Erte, Frandisco Goya, Toulouse-Lautrec, Edouard Manet and Pablo Picasso.

In addition, there will be a selection of 19th-century Japanese wood-cuts by Hiroshige II, Kunichika and Toyokuni III.

Straight has received a substantial collection of original paintings, watercolors and hand-signed and umbered lithographs, serigraphs and etchings directly from the collections of the following living artists: Yaacov Agam, Harold Altman, Charles Cobelle, Laszlo Dus, Fanch Ledan, Urbain Huchet, Robert Kip-Lebadang, Andras Markos, Marcel Mouly, Jean Claude Picot, Calman Shemi, Yitzhak Tarkay, Fernando Torm and Victor Vasarely.

Park West Gallery of Southfield, a leading fine art auction company, has catalogued the collection; all works will be sold with a Certificate of Authenticity.

land: "With works of this fine quality being offered at auction and sold to the highest bidder, the Straight, Inc. benefit presents an extraordinary collecting opportunity. Most of the winning bids are expected to be between $100-$3,000, however, several of the works should fetch more."

Honorary chairmen for the auction are John Blackwell III and state Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville.

Tickets for the Straight, Inc. auction are available by calling

A Michigan workplace safety law is about to breathe again after recent Senate action.

The Senate approved SB 459 on a 30-5 vote and sent it to the House. All area senators voted yes.

GOV. JOHN Engler and a handful of outstate Republicans wanted to kill MIOSHA (Michigan Occupational Safety and Health Act), relying instead on federal standards and enforcement. The 1974 state law is due to sunset next year.

who chairs the Labor Committee, said the revised MIOSHA will allow higher state standards only in special circumstances.

"It creates a rebuttable presumption in favor of new federal occupational safety and health rules. The directors of Labor or Public Health will be required to promulgate rules which are 'substantially similar' to new federal rules," he said.

'What we intend is that Michigan have the freedom to establish standards different from those of federal OSHA, but only if there has been a showing of a compelling need to do

"Similarly, Michigan still has the freedom to set standards where (the federal) OSHA has not established any regulations at all, but only if it has been determined by one of the commissions that there is a clear and convincing need to do so."

Workplace rules are made by state commissions. Under the state constitution, rules are subject to approval by a joint House-Senate Com-mimttee on Administrative Rules.

THE BILL also increases "sevenfold" the fines and penalties for violating businesses. Honigman said.

"On this, we had no choice, as federal law demands tht states with their own plans conform to federal penalty guidelines."

Honigman had trouble getting the measure out of his own five-member committee earlier in the week. With Robert Geake, R-Northville, absent and Nick Smith voting no, Honigman needed help from Democrats George Z. Hart of Dearborn and John Cherry of Clio to get three votes.

"It was the result of lengthy and painstaking deliberations," Honigman said.

Women ARISE seeks money

ARISE is trying to stay afloat without financing through the end of this year, but staff members say they are afraid the program will sink in red

The problem stems from a shift in financing for the program, which instructs an estimated 100 female criminals each year in becoming better, more self-reliant citizens.

Women ARISE - the letters stand for "Accept Responsibility, Inititate Self-Enhancement" — has been financed since 1986 by a Michigan Department of Mental Health grant.

The grant ran out this month. Complicating the situation, Women ARISE is seeking financing as a corrections program, not a mental health program, at a time when responsibility for corrections programs is shifting from state to local control.

While Wayne County could eventually refinance the program, staff members are receiving no guarantēes.

"WE CAN'T promise Women ARISE we'll finance their program," assistant county executive Barbara Godre said. "But we will send out a -request for proposal and they will have an opportunity to bid for a county contract." Staff members said they believed they have a good chance of receiving county money - if their program Crime program strapped

"They're telling us not to expect anything until April," program director Kathleen Schultz said. "But the program won't be here in April. By then, we'll will lose staff and we'll lose our facilities."

Billed as a rehabilitation and support program, Women ARISE brings female offenders together to share their experiences and learn from

Two-thirds of program participants are sent directly from court, Schultz said, as an alternative to incarceration. The other third comes from state prisons.

Whatever their crimes, participants' backgrounds are strikingly

"We find that almost all of them lack what we call basic life skills," Schultz said.

As a result, few have ever held a job. Compounding the problem, she added, four in every five participants are mothers with children at

"The program is designed to keep families intact, while the mother receives life skills training," Schultz

Women return to school under the program. Instead of the three R's, classroom topics center on basic household skills, including setting budgets, balancing checkbooks and successfully making household and on-the-job decisions

Rosa Mallet, an adult and community education consultant for Wayne County Regional Educational Service Agency, witnesses the program while working with the Detroit Schools.

"IT'S EFFECTIVE," she said. Any time you bring together a group of women with similar backgrounds, there can be more attention to the task at hand.'

The state Legislature changed the financing procedure for community corrections programs nearly three

At that time, legislators created a community corrections office to distribute grants to regional advisory

Wayne County has such an advisory board, though Godre said the county won't be spending anything yet on the program. "There's no money for 1991, and the money for 1992 hasn't yet been awarded," she said. At the same time, Godre said the county is seeking alternative financing sources to keep the program

Crossroads Isolationism for Plymouth

HERE'S AN old political saying that goes: Politicians are like bananas. Once they get split from the bunch, they get peeled and eaten.

That saying could be applied to communities. And the city of Plymouth could be the banana that gets eaten.

Voters may not have an appetite for getting split, but that just could happen as a result of the November election in the city.

The election comes at a time when the city is at a crossroads. One road leads toward isolationism, the other toward cooperation with surrounding communities.

But there are other questions:

 Should Plymouth aim at becoming a theme town like Frankenmuth or Gaylord or should it just be a nice little home town?

 Should Plymouth remain a residential community with high taxes or look at attracting more commercial development? · Should Plymouth join with Plymouth and

Canton townships to buy Mettetal Airport? The overriding theme is: Should or can the city afford to go it alone? There are some candidates who would attempt to take the city back to 1960. It's an attempt at isolationism. That won't work in the 1990s. TO US, THE Mettetal Airport question of the ballot is a test of that isolationism. Approval of the question would change the city's charter to prevent it from joining an agreement to operate the airport.

A vote to change the charter is a vote for isolationism. It says: "Leave us out of any joint venture." A vote against the charter change says: "We're open to talk about it."

We're afraid that anti-airport people will see rejection of the charter change as ensuring that the city will be in any airport deal. It's not a done deal. Saying no to a charter change only means the city would be able to join with Canton and Plymouth townships.

And joining with surrounding communities to discuss mutual issues is the only way to go these days. A lone banana gets skinned. That could

The cost of government isn't going to go down. And if the city cuts itself off from the Plymouth and Canton townships, the idea of sharing services becomes more of a dream.

We don't think isolationism is the way to go, especially with Plymouth being at a crossroads.

People in Plymouth and Canton townships use the city's downtown area for shopping, recreation and services. They have an effect upon what happens in the city. If they head to the Meijer store in Canton, it has an effect on Plymouth. Dinner in Ann Arbor has another effect.

We don't want to see Plymouth peeled and eaten. Most residents probably don't either. That's why this election is important.

The truth probably lies somewhere in the mid-

Portfolios will lead to jobs, education

'Trends in Academic Progress," a national report card tracking performance in America's schools, found that our children had struggled back to the achievement levels of students in the 1970s.

"Today's children seem to know about as much math and about as much science and read about as well as their parents did at that age 20 years ago," said Education Secretary Lamar Alexander. "That's not nearly good enough for the 1990s."

Another report reviewed the famous six education goals set at last year's summit conference between President Bush and all the governors. Some goals seemed so far from attainment as to invite laughter.

Fewer than one student in five met the new new national standards for math achievement.

He's right. There's no evidence that the political will exists to do anything either national or strategic.

Set a national curriculum with standardized examinations? No way. The White House is terrified of being accused of "eroding local control." And most folks figure that anything Congress messes with is badly thought through and self-serving. Make sure all preschool age kids

Pay teachers the professional salaries they deserve and demand professional accountability for results? Forget it. The conservatives won't pay the money and the liberals are scared of holding anybody individually accountable for anything.

I SUSPECT if there will be any real improvement in our kids education and, therefore, in our international competitiveness, it will have to come in dribs and drabs at the local level.

Fortunately, there's some good news on that front here in Michigan.

In addition to getting their regular report car marks, our kids soon will be receiving reports on their "employability skills profile.'

"It's a profile that you're supposed to use throughout high school and onto what you do next in life, whether that's further education or to go out and get a job," said Patrick Donahue, an assistant superintend-Huron Valley ent of Schools and a member of an advisory group to the State Board of Ed-

Good reasons for setting limits

A legacy of the Vietnam War

IMITING THE terms of our elected representatives isn't a new idea, but it is picking up steam, and for good reason.

Our representatives on both the state and national level have become career politicians who are too far removed from their constituents. And because of the advantages incumbents have in keeping their name in the public eye and building a campaign war chest that few challengers can match, they are almost assured

Despite a federal deficit, our elected representatives have continued to spend money we don't have in order to keep their popularity at home - and get re-elected.

RE-ELECTION OF incumbents has come to the point where, short of a scandal of some sort, they can't lose. In 1988, 92.4 percent of incumbents in Congress were returned to office. That compares with only 45.7 percent in the years 1872-80.

And if voter turnout is an indication, recent elections have not inspired participation in a democracy where the issue of who runs the government is truly at stake.

But four western states have taken steps to limit the terms of elected officials, and Michigan could join them as soon as next year.

California and Oklahoma have passed laws that limit terms of state office holders. Colorado has taken it a step further by adopting a law that will also limit the terms of the state's representatives to the U.S. House and Senate. And Washington state will decide a similar proposal in the

The Colorado model is the one Michigan voters will consider if that referendum is placed on the ballot in 1992.

THE PROPOSAL would limit U.S. senators to two terms in a 24-year period, U.S. representatives to three terms in a 12-year period, state reps to three terms, state senators to two terms and the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general to two terms.

There is precedent. After all, the 22nd Amendment, ratified in 1951, limits the president to two

New autumn rite gets workout

AH, OCTOBER. Falling leaves. Apple cider and doughnuts. Pumpkins carved into jack-o'-lanterns. Columbus-bashing.

Yep. Columbus-bashing is the latest rite of autumn, and this year it's getting a real workout. The old navigator is being turned into a whipping boy by the politically correct revisionists, who keep bashing old Chris for somehow being personally re-sponsible for what's being called the rape of a continent.

It all ties in with the upcoming 500th anniversary — the "quincentenary" — of Columbus's discovery of America.

The neo-revisionists, the Yuppies, the Politically Correct thinkers, all are reinterpreting history the way they think it should be interpreted by a "multi-cultural" society. The result is some of the loudest claptrap I've heard in a long time. And this is just the warmup act.

RUSSELL MEANS, the Indian oops, make that Native American activist has proclaimed that Columbus "makes Hitler look like a juvenile delinquent." Members of the National Council of Churches, proclaiming 1992 a year of "repentence and reflection." said the discovery of America brought "legalized occupation, genocide, economic exploitation and a deep level of institutional racism and moral decadence." So excuse us for existing.

All of these folks who are so ashamed of the history of this country have decided that we should "commemorate" the occasion but not "celebrate" it. A celebration, they feel, would be inappropriate.

Others have decided that Chris's exploit should be labeled an "encounter," not a "discovery," because, after all, the "Native Americans" were already here.

A HUNDRED years ago - the quadcentenary, I guess - Chicago pulled all the plugs with the 1893 Columbian Exposition, a blowout that featured, among other things, a dancer known as "Little Egypt" who introduced (or at least popularized) the "hootchie-kootchie," the forerunner of exotic dancing.

If Little Egypt's dance - and Chicago's celebration - was a bit bawdy, so were the 1890s and so was the country that Christopher Columbus had opened up to European settlement. Americans were basically a rough-hewn lot, and they didn't give a damn about what other people thought.

But this is the 1990s. As Time magazine pointed out in a look at the Columbus controversy this week, the present debate has little to do with 1492 and everything to do with 1991. "The peoples of the New World," Time remarks, "the land that Columbus made inevitable, are engaged in another convulsive attempt to reinvent themselves, to conceive a version of the past that will justify the present and, if possible, shape Behind all these arguments, the magazine points out, is the misguided 1990s notion that the world was once perfect and now it isn't, so somebody or something must have ruined it. This year Christopher Columbus provides a convenient scape-

BUT LET'S get real. From Attila the Hun to William the Conqueror to Adolf Hitler, the evolution of the world has not been shaped by encounter groups or consciousnessraising sessions. We can wish it had happened that way, but it didn't.

In the late 1400s the American continents were here, waiting to be discovered (or "encountered") by somebody. Old Chris just happened to be the first navigator of that period to (literally) stumble on to them. Whether what happened after that amounted to "genocide" and "ecocide" or was just another step in the evolution of the world is not the Columbus wasn't a conqueror or a conquistador or even a missionary. He just drove a boat.

His firm convictions led to our religious freedom

"A permission of the most Paganish, Jewish, Turkish or Anti-Christian consciences and worships be granted to all men in all nations and countries," said Williams in a pamphlet penned to support his ideas on how to create and organize a colonial government.

Williams arrived in the New World from England in 1631. A Puritan minister of firm convictions, he felt the Pilgrims of Massachusetts Bay had not distanced themselves sufficiently from the Church of England. In a 1634 sermon, Williams declared that "forced worship is false worship." Such statements did not set well with the Puritans of Salem.

In 1635, Williams was banished from the colony for life for his unorthodox beliefs. He fled to the south and built a wood cabin which he named Providence, in an area that later became the colony of Rhode Island.

Williams was given a Royal Charter in 1644 for the colony. Its provision included, at Williams' insistence, liberty of conscience for all citizens and a complete separation of church and state. As a result, Rhode Island became a haven for religious minorities - Roman Catholics, Jews and Quakers - who suffered persecution in the other colonies at the time.

Recent newspaper articles have implied the Plymouth Dunning-Hough public library will be expanded in some fashion in the future. The following ideas are offered for public consideration.

1. Why not expand the present site by using the second floor as a library rather than meeting room?

2. Why not consider moving the library to the former Farmer Jack location and add municipal office space?

A library is a place where some not all literary and artistic materials are kept for use. As a member of the Wayne-Oakland Library Federation, Dunning-Hough patrons can access the inventory of 65 other libraries by using a request card.

A library, much like a post office. is an integral part of a downtown area whose mere presence contributes to the city's economic wellbeing by guaranteeing public movement into and out of the area.

The bottom line should be "Specifically why does Plylmouth require a larger library?" Hopefully a part of the answer doesn't include competition with Canton's new facility. No matter - the library should remain in the downtown district not somewhere out in the township.

New age Dr. casts spell on editor

Jeff, we were so impressed with your compassion and wonderful insight presented in your editorial column Thursday, Sept. 26, unlike we Nimby's - you seem to be unbiased, and unmatched in your concern for this program and its participants and so it is with great joy that I inform you that I have given your name and address to several of the participants (one afternoon when I gathered my courage to venture past my miniblinds and curtains, right Mary Childs?) and they were thrilled to think you, who are so open minded, would surely want to open your home for maybe a couple of days or weeks to do your part in supporting this wonderful, successful program.

Oh, don't be afraid. Dr. Marcia "New Age" Andersen will assure you these people are harmless - embrace them - they're regular people like you and me. (But for the grace of God - go we - right Mary Childs?) And if even hypocritical right Mary Nimbys were willing to buy food for them, give them almost $100 for medicine, take them here and there for errands, take them to church and use our connections to get one participant a job, why, I can't wait to hear what great things, you, Jeff, will do for them

Now be advised that when you take these participants into your residential Plymouth Township neigh borhood, you might join Dr. "New Andersen's lawsuit; she is being prosecuted by the city. But take it from an experienced citizen you'll be safe for at least one to two years. It'll take the commission that long to get their act together and pay the $600 for the paperwork.

So let me just end by wishing you the very best in your new venture with Lighthouse - you seem to be already under Dr. "New Age" Andersen's spell, so I'm sure you'll fit

Paul and Sarah Bechler

Owner issue not program

Aspersions of bias and prejudice cast upon us somehow do not conjure up the feelings of guilt for which they were intended, Dr. Andersen. You apologized to the city of Plymouth for the way you introduced your program to us, but you went ahead and dictated to us (the city) how, when, and where you would conduct your business.

I am glad you were our neighbor for a year. If we had initially been listened to, I undoubtedly would have wondered with guilt whether we had acted inhumanely and with malice. I have had the opportunity to see your program and evaluate its worth. I got to know many of the recipients of your program. The recipients who dared and no longer needed you for shelter spoke of being disillusioned. Other than shelter, just what did you provide these people?

FOR AN intelligent and wealthy woman, your insensitivity to "your community" was intolerable. Of course, under the guise of your honorable business, it served you well not to understand why you were not welcomed. You see, Dr. Andersen, you too strongly represented your program. You became the antagonist, for it was you that stood to profit from infiltrating our block.

I am very sorry that the recipients of your program or "your bunnies" as you so endearingly refer to them, have to be uprooted. They, as we did, must feel victimized.

And to close, to my friends on Roe Street who have persevered through this past year without hate, prejudice, bigotry or bias and refused to succumb to a doctor and a city council which chose to turn a deaf ear until it coincidentally heard of Lighthouse's eviction when it decided to act, I am proud to be your neighbor.

Pet walk a success

To the editor:

Congratulations to the pet walkers and supporters of the Plymouth-Canton and surrounding areas for your selfless efforts in raising funds' for the previous ailing children at Mott Children's Hospital.

Mott tells us that you may have contributed to the largest one-day fund-raising event in the hospital's history. The amount is still rising as funds keep coming in. We have a good chance of reaching an incredible $20,000 for Mott. Your compassionate outpouring of love and generosity will help make the days brighter and the burdens lighter for hundreds of Mott children and their

Thank you to the businesses schools, service groups, churches and friends and neighbors who also exhibited a Good Samaritan spirit in recognizing the needs of these deserving children and, more importantly, responding with financial support, goods and services of all kinds, counsel, and plain hard work. Without your united effort, this dream could not have come true.

At many critical points toward the Pet Walk, a member of the community stepped forward to contribute his unique part. We plan to recognize your contributions specifically in the near future.

ON A PERSONAL level, your compassionate response to Brandy's life's story and the countless expressions of kindness, sensitivity, and sympathy in our loss has deeply touched one very hurting couple. We can't express our gratitude enough.

More specifically, thank you for embracing Brandy's legacy and allowing him in his passing and with your help to touch his little friends in need at Mott one more time. Brandy had a special joy in life that all he touched could feel. He loved his work as he loved everyone he ever met. He would have loved meeting each of you.

Although it is a bit early to be thinking about a repeat performance, many of you have encouraged us to consider another Brandy Memorial Pet Walk next year. We would be interested in your thoughts on this and any ideas for improvement. Also, if you have any pictures of the event you could share with us we would love to see them for we didn't have time to take any.

Our address is 12301 Duxbury

Court, Plymouth. Phone, 459-9780. Brandy Pet Walk T-shirts are available at a donation of $5 at the following Plymouth locations: Specialty Pet Supply, Engraving Connection, Roose Animal Hospital and Kroger. To order, call 459-9780. One hundred percent of your donation goes to Mott Children's Hospital.

Again thanks on behalf of the children at Mott and ourselves. You make us blessed, grateful, and privileged to be part of such a caring community.

School bill is socialism

As a taxpaying resident of an "out-of-formula" school district, I am outraged that there has not been public outcry at the passage of State House Bill 4267, the bill that pledges the future business and industrial growth's tax revenues of allegedly rich districts to poor dis-

It is incomprehensible that in this democratic state an issue with such socialist overtones could be passed by not one but two branches of a state legislature. Not only is the bill socialist but it is, simply stated, taxation without representation.

So where is the tea party? For 18 years I have paid taxes to this community, taxes that have paved roads, built good police and fire departments, even built sewage drains. Much of this was done in an effort to induce new business to locate in our community, so that the tax burden could be shared. Now we are to see the fruits of these efforts go to other communities? The other taxes I pay to my community are for schools. In exchange for these taxes (and they aren't cheap) my children get a good education and I have input into the curriculum adopted by the school board, which consists of people I

Detroit School Superintendent Deborah McGriff was adamant this summer about telling "suburbanites" to stay out of her school district's business. No problem - stay out of our tax revenues

Voters in Wayne-Westland are notorious for rejecting millages, even renewals of existing millages, while Plymouth-Canton voters usually approve school dollars. Now, they are to be rewarded with our growth? It is important to also remember that while our schools are good, they are not opulent. We do not have luxuries, but what we have we paid for. Tax dollars from all over the state support the public Universities and Colleges — that is why we vote for the people who run these institutions

Do either the state legislators or the governor think that we are attracting new businesses by chance? Where will they go next after they use up our tax revenues? Are we supposed to continue passing millages and bond issues to bankroll the computers and other technology needed for our children to learn what is necessary to compete in the future? Perhaps these "quick-fixers" should refresh their memories on the definition of socialism and how it contrasts with capitalism.

House Bill 4267 denies communities the motivation to rebuild their tax structure and denies other communities the right to vote on how their tax dollars are spent.

Cake eaten in Canton

To the editor:

In the Sept. 26 Canton Observer Opinion column "Autumn-Canton's the place to be," rural western Canton was recommended as a color tour. "Canton has plenty to celebrate in the fall. Often the township is seen as an endless sea of strip malls and subdivisions. They're there, we can't argue that. But there's much more.' The question is, for how long?

Whenever those of us who choose a rural living environment that does not include the conveniences of paved roads, sewers, city water and nearby malls protest unnecessary, subsidized suburban expansion, we are accused of being selfish, unwill-

Roe Street, Good Council another look

I would like to offer factual corrections to two articles and editorials which ran in last week's paper.

In regard to the Our Lady of Good Council litigation, it was OLGC's decision that the church no longer wished to meet with the homeowners, and its attorneys withdrew the scheduled meetings from the consent judgment.

Secondly, the homeowners did stop the implementation of the approval of site plan. That was the very essence of the homeowners' position in this case in which the Wm. A. Blunk Subdivision prevailed by voiding the city of Plymouth's Planning Commission January approval.

IN REGARD to the Roe Street homeowners' long and tenacious attempt to have uniform application of the city's zoning ordinances applied on their dead-end street, I am dismayed by the editorial which failed to address the reams of documents submitted to the city on behalf of the homeowners.

The bias and prejudice of the homeowners was a legitimate bias toward people who were taking advantage of the state's monies, the community's good will and the recipients need.

IF THE true success of the program were to be evaluated, I would suggest a review of the police records, the 35th District Court records and the city attorney's file be accomplished. The names of Dr. Andersen's "successful" program participants frequent these documents.

No one denies that substance abuse programs are needed in this community but few of the Lighthouse program participants were from Plymouth, and the program that was available was not as repre-

Ocelots volleyball runners-up

didn't win their own Schoolcraft Invitational volleyball tournament last weekend, but they did the next best thing - finish second.

Defending National Junior College Athletic Association champ Miami-Dade (Fla.) Wolfson lost only one game en route to an 8-0 record in the eight-team field.

Host SC, Kankakee (Ill.) and Flint Mott all finished with 5-2 records, but the Lady Ocelots took second based on head-to-head competition.

"This is one of the best tourneys we've ever played," said Teeters, whose team is 18-3 overall. "We felt going in that if we got third it would be a break-even point, and anything above that we'd be extremely happy.

'This is the toughest tourney we'll be in except for the Nationals itself." The Lady Ocelots defeated Elgin, Coach Tom Teeters' Lady Ocelots Ill. (15-3, 15-12), Lee, Tex. (15-5, 15- product Kari Van Deusen, who 13), Kankakee (15-10, 15-10), Lake recorded 60 kills. Renea Bonser Michigan Belleville, Ill. (15-8, 15-8).

Flint Mott, a team SC had beaten twice already this season, surprised the hosts, 15-9, 10-15, 15-13.

"They're faster and they can attack a little quicker in some spots," said Teeters of Mott. "We need consistency and smarts to beat them."

MIAMI-DADE, led by Columbian recruits Paula Bedoya and Monica Pinillos, lived up to its high ranking, losing only one of 15 total games. Wolfson's only loss was to eighth place Lee "They (Lee) had the best athletes, to go along with height, speed and strength," Teeters said.

Stevenson) added 40, while (Livonia) Stephanie Jandasek (Brighton) contributed 22 before missing the final two matches to attend a wedding.

Reserve Sue Berger of Marysville came on for Jandasek with some key serves and digs to lift SC to wins over Belleville and Lake Michigan.

She hit .333. Defensively, Judi Scott (Clawson) ad 28 digs to lead SC. Keli Haeger (Livonia Ladywood) paced the Lady Ocelots' passing attack with 93 assists. Nancy Ehlert (Monroe St. Mary) added 49 before going down with a knee injury.

Ehlert is expected to miss this weekend's trip to Jefferson, Mo. where No. 4-ranked Barton (Kan.), No. 5 Miami-Dade and the No. 6

Churchill has edge on Salem

staff writer

The puzzle is being solved slowly, but surely, by the Livonia Churchill boys soccer team. The Chargers, last year's state Class A runners-up to Warren De-LaSalle, appear to be putting all the pieces together at just the right time following Monday's 3-1 victory at state-ranked Plymouth Salem.

"I'll tell you what, they're some kind of team," Salem coach Ken Johnson said. "They outgunned us in every phase of the game. It's the best passing team around and the best team we've seen this year.'

The loss dropped Salem to 10-3-2 overall, while Churchill is 13-1-2.

The Chargers, ranked second behind Livonia Stevenson (12-0-1) in the latest state Class A coaches poll, will take on their city rivals again at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 16, for the Western Lakes Activities Association title. (The two teams tied 1-1 on Sept. 23 at Stevenson, the same site of the rematch.)

During the first half of the season, coach Mark Mason tinkered with his personnel somewhat, but now has settled into a set lineup for the stretch run.

Canton golfers claim WLAA championship

Plymouth Canton continued its perfect season Tuesday by capturing its first Western Lakes Activities Association golf championship.

The Chiefs edged Livonia Stevenson 417-419 to take the title at Hudson Mills Golf Course near Dexter. Plymouth Salem was third with 426.

'It has been a glorious year for the Plymouth Canton golf team," Canton coach Fred Libbing said. "I couldn't be more proud than I am of the team."

Last season the Chiefs placed in the middle of the WLAA, finishing 3-2 in the conference and 5-3 overall. This season the Chiefs compiled a 5-0 record to win the Western Division and were 8-0 overall in dual meets.

"I would have been happy finishing in the top three today," Libbing said. "I knew Salem and Stevenson were both tough, and I didn't expect we'd finish No. 1."

BUT TO Libbing's surprise, the Chiefs took top honors and now look ahead to Friday's regional meet at Oak Pointe Golf Course in Brighton. The top three teams will go to the state finals.

Canton battled tough winds, but, led by senior Jon Paupore's 79 score, was able to beat the Spartans. Senior Jason Buha of Farmington edged Paupore and was the conference's top medalist with a 78

Each team competed six golfers, with the five lowest scores counting. All ties were decided in a sudden-death playoff. The top five golfers were named to the all-conference team.

Stevenson's Ryan Fawkes finished third with a 79, and Canton's Brad Paskievitch was fourth with an 80.

The next six golfers finished with 81 each, and places were determined through a sudden-death playoff. Stevenson's Mark Peterson was able to win his playoff and take the last medalist spot.

"The wind was blowing very hard, and I was surprised anybody was able to shoot in the 70s," Libbing CANTON'S MIKE Ross finished with an 81, good for eighth place. Brian Gabbeart (88) and Brian Uthoff (89) also scored valuable points for the Chiefs.

Libbing was also happy for Salem, which captured the WLAA Lakes Division crown with a 5-0 record.

"I believe it's the first time we've won our division and Salem has won theirs," Libbing said. "All and all, it was a good day for Canton and Salem golf."

Dave Weaver was the low scorer for the Rocks with an 81, good for seventh place overall.

Plymouth Canton won its sixth straight game in girls basketball Tuesday, defeating host Walled Lake Central 62-57.

The No. 8-ranked (Class A) Chiefs are 4-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 8-2 overall.

"I don't know if we're on a roll or not, but I'm happy that we're playing more consistently," Canton coach Bob Blohm said.

Somewhere during the course of a game, you're going to get a spurt, and I'd like to see us extend the length of those spurts to 7-8 minutes and be even more consistent."

Canton had to fight off the Vikings in the fourth quarter Tuesday to win. The Chiefs were down five points at halftime (31-26) but came back with a 22-point third quarter and led 48-42. Canton lost the lead and was behind midway in the fourth quarter, but it used one of its spurts to take a 58-53 advantage and maintained that margin.

"I think at times we were good offensively, but we played too fast at times," Blohm said. "But we were able to hold them and get a victory.'

Junior center Stephanie Gray scored 27 points to lead the Chiefs. Christie Saffron had 14 and Britta Anderson 13. Kelly Holmes helped the third-quarter charge with three baskets from the low post and finished with six points.

Genny Czach scored 24 points and Bridgette Norris 10 for the Vikings

Canton has won its last four games without senior forward Julie Nicastri, who remains sidelined with a broken ankle.

'But we're still struggling with our defense inside," Blohm said. "Fouls are going to happen inside, and when we start rotating people, Julie gives us that flexibility inside and outside."

SALEM 48, NORTHVILLE 41: The Rocks built a 10-point halftime lead and stayed there Saturday to defeat visiting Northville in a game between two of the WLAA's top

Salem held the Mustangs to singledigit scoring in the first two quarters and led 23-13 at the midway point. Northville had an 11-8 edge in the

Key games on schedule

At the midway point of the high school football season, several division races are beginning to come into focus, and some key games this weekend will all but decide the issues.

The Farmington Hills Harrison-Northville showdown Friday night and the annual Boys Bowl meeting on Sun-day between Redford Catholic Central and rival Birmingham Brother Rice are the most important games in that re-

Harrison and Northville are 3-0 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association, and the winner will be a game up with one to go.

In the WLAA Lakes Division, North Farmington has become the frontrun-ner after beating Plymouth Salem and Westland John Glenn, but the Raiders must beat upstart Farmington this week and then Livonia Stevenson to

CC will become the favorite in the Central Division of the Catholic League if the Shamrocks can achieve a repeat win over Rice. CC won 31-0 last year.

In the prediction contest between Ob-server sports editors, Dan O'Meara was 11-4 last week and is 57-18 for the season. Brad Emons was 10-5 and is 50-25

> FRIDAY'S GAMES (all 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

Liv. Churchill at Ply. Canton: It will be homecoming at Canton as both teams try to end losing streaks and avoid the Western Di-vision basement. The Chiefs (6-3 in the division and 1-4 overall) haven't won since the first week when they beat Monroe. Churchill is 0-5. Canton lost 6-3 in overtime to Franklin last week while the Chargers took a beating (49-0) from Harrison. PICKS: It will be close, out the Chiefs get the win.

the ground game in gear, the Rocks (2-1 in the Lakes, 3-2) could roll. Farmington kept the ball out of Leon Hister's hands in the first half last week, but Pete Zantop and Dan Burke countered effectively and Salem won 35-15. The Spartans (1-2, 3-2) are coming off a 35-21 win over Walled Lake Central after losing to Farmington in overtime 15-7 the previous week. PICES: Stevenson can't stop the Salem triple option.

Westland Glenn at W.L. Central: When was the last time Glenn (1-2, 3-2) lost two games in a row? A long time, to be sure. The Rock-ets are out of the Lakes Division race (though to are out of the Lakes Division race (though not the playoff picture) with losses to Salem and North Farmington, but they still have a fine team with an ability to diversify its of-fense. Central (0-3, 0-5) is winless and strug-gling, though quarterback Mike Gluski had a big game throwing the ball last week in de-feat. PICKS: Glenn rebounds in a big way.

Farm. Harrison at Northville: The Hawks (3-0, 5-0) were considered a lock to win their 10th straight division title, but they'll be challenged after all. Maybe. On paper it looks like a pretty good game. Both are unbeaten in the division, and the winner should take the title. Harrison has to play Franklin, and Northville (3-0, 4-1) must face Churchill. But can the Mustangs, who nearly upset Rice in the playoffs last year, hang will Harrison for four quarters? They did in 1987 when the unbeaten Hawks escaped with a 14-6 win at Northville. The Mustangs, who were 1-5 going into that game, have won four straight since louing the opener to unbeaten South Lyon. Harrison's pass defense will have to be sharp against Northville quarterback Ryan Huzjak. The Hawks will miss safety Dan Hight, who was injured (broken collarbone) two weeks ago in the Canton game. But coach John Herrington had already started working John Herrington had already started working other players into the lineup, including Matt Gordon in the secondary. PECKS: Top-ranked Harrison keeps chugging ale

Redford Union at Garden City: After a successful non-league encounter with Jackson Northwest (26-7), RU returns to Northwest Suburban play, hoping to spoil homecoming festivities at Garden City. The Panthers (1-1. 3-2) are having a good year, led by quarter-back Brian Theis, who ran for two touch-downs and passed for another last week. The Cougars (0-2, 1-4) have lost their last two games. PICKS: RU is the best NSL team in Drbn. Fordson at Wayne Memorial: The Zebras (2-2, 3-2) snapped a two-game losing streak by beating Belleville 21-6 but now they get unbeaten and state-ranked Fordsor they get unneares and state-ranked Fordson (4-0, 5-0). Wayne has struggled at times but is always capable of the upset, especially with the development of running back Bruce Calboun, who had 142 yards against Belleville. The Zebras will need a good defensive effort to keep Fordson's run-oriented, ball-control offense from dominating. PICKS: The Tractors plow the field for another win.

Hamtramck at Liv. Clarenceville: As if the Trojans weren't struggling enough as it was, Clarenceville (0-4 in the Metro Conference, 0-5) was dealt another setback two weeks ago when coach Mark Ladd left to take a job in Georgia. The Trojans suffered their worst loss (50-0) to Cranbrook last week as interim coach Russ McKenzie made his debut. Hamtramck (0-4, 1-4) isn't doing much better in terms of record, but the Cosmos only lost to Cranbrook by a 7-0 score. PICKS: Hamtramck keeps the Trojans winl

> SATURDAY'S GAMES (all 1 p.m. unless noted)

Taylor Truman at Red. Thurston, noon: Thurston (1-3 in the Tri-River, 1-4) got its first victory last week when the Eagles ral-lied from a 14-8 halftime deficit to win 21-14 over Annapolis. Paul Jaremski rushed for 175 yards and scored all three touchdowns to lead Thurston. This game is considered a toss-up, though Truman (2-2, 2-3) is a little better in the won-loss column. PICKS: In a switch from last week, Emons takes Thurston while O'Meara picks Truman.

W.L. Western at Liv. Franklin: The first half of the season has been bittersweet for the Patriots (2-1 in the Western Division, 3-2). Franklin is having a better-than-expected year, but the Patriots could be doing even better. Franklin should be 4-1 and possibly 5-0. The Patriots were beating Northville 16-0 but lost 23-16 in overtime. Trailing 14-12 against Stevenson, Franklin was moving the hall when an interception was returned for the winning TD. Coach Armand Vigna wasn't sure who would play quarterback — either Keith Roberts, who had a 68-yard punt in the fourth quarter of a 6-3 win over Canton, or Dennis Madden, who was brought up from the JV team. David Little, who began the sea-son at QB, is injured and won't play, though he might do some kicking. Western (1-2, 2-3) lost to Northville last week, 16-5. PICKS: O'Meara picks the Patriots; Emons says

N. Farmington at Farmington: The Raiders (3-0 in the Lakes, 4-1) must guard against the upset, because Farmington has its best team in several years. North needs wins over the Falcons (2-1, 3-2) and Stevenson to clinch the division outright and reach the WLAA championship game for the first time in five years. Farmington has a fine defense, led by senior linebacker Matt Siskosky, and will have to stop North tailback Todd Anderson. The Falcons played well against Salem despite the apparent one-sided score. "Twe seen Farmington play and they look tough," North quarterback Mark Temple said. "We're not going to look past them." PICES: The Raiders stay on track for an all-Farmington WLAA final on Saturday, Oct. 26.

Luth. Westland at Litchfield: The Warriors (4-1) rebounded from their only loss with a 20-13 win over Lutheran Northwest, but they face a formidable foe in Class D Litchfield which is 2-3 after beating Camden-Frontier 50-26. Lutheran Westland rallied from a 13-6 halftime deficit with two fourth-quarter TDs to beat Northwest. PICKS: The Terriers are no dogs. They win one for the home crowd.

St. Agatha at Waterford Our Lady: The unbeaten Aggies (2-0 in the C-Section, 5-0) have another key Catholic League divisional game with perennial power Our Lady of the Lakes. St. Agatha is No. 10 in Class C this week, the Lakers No. 9 in Class D. The Aggies broke a 27-27 tie to beat Shrine 41-27 Saturday night. and they have a fine back in Cardell Davis, who rushed for 141 yards and three TDs, including an 82-yard kickoff return. "St. Agatha is a legitimate team, a very good team, Shrine coach Jim MacDougall said. Lakes (1-1, 4-1) has lost only to unbeaten St. Clement and is coming off a 33-12 win over Ann Arbor Richard. PICKS: Emons likes the Lakers and their history of success, but O'Meara will side with the Aggies for another week.

Bishop Borgess vs. Benedictine at Garden City Jr. High: Borgess (1-1 in the Tri-Section-al, 2-3) broke a three-game losing streak with an 8-0 defeat of Riverview Richard and faces winless Benedictine. The Ravens (0-2, 0-5) have played division leaders Saginaw Nouvel and Allen Park Cabrini the last two weeks. PICKS: The Spartans move to .500 for the Catholic Central vs. Brother Rice, 2 p.m. at Pontiac Wisner Stadium: The Warriors could be CC's last big obstacle on the way to another division crown. The Shamrocks (1-0, 5-0) have already played DeLaSalle and will have a decent Detroit-Jesuit team and winless Notre Dame remaining. Rice (1-0, 3-2) has won three straight after losing to Harrison and Ypsilanti. The Warriors might not be as strong as in past years, but they're still Rice and they're still pretty good. CC has proved itself as one of the state's top teams, beating King, DLS and DePorres in consecutive games by an average of 21/2 touchdowns apiece. PICKS: The Shamrocks make Rice a victim, too.

SUNDAY'S GAME

Steelers sweep Garden City teams

The Plymouth-Canton Steelers registered three victories in youth football Sunday with a sweep of the host Garden City Chargers.

The Steelers JV team won its fifth straight without a loss, 24-The varsity and freshmen squads earned their second wins by defeating the Chargers 14-13 and 26-0, respectively.

The junior varsity (5-0) took an 18-0 lead in the first quarter on touchdown runs of 12 yards by Kevin Salla, 8 by Robert Johnson and 3 by James Chapman. Randy Mack blocked a punt and Mike Hirth recovered at the Garden City 3-yard line to set up the third TD

In the second quarter, Tim Kocolowski ran 40 yards for the last TD following a pass interception by Chris Movinski. Salla rushed for 52 yards, Kocolowski 46, Movinski 29 and Johnson 23. Brent Mellis and Aaron Pawlowski (five tackles) recovered fumbles, and Nathan Gray also had an interception.

THE VARSITY (2-3) took a 14-0 lead before the Chargers made a comeback. Jeremy Swanagan and Shaun Dyer scored on runs of 2 and 65 yards for the Steelers. Dan McKian kicked the extra point after the first TD.

After Garden City made it 14-13, Justin Hoff knocked down. the attempted conversion pass to preserve the lead. Corey Brake intercepted a pass with 30 seconds left to seal the out-

In the freshman game, Andy Kocolowski had TD runs of 45 and 65 yards, and Jason Carson scored a pair of rushing TDs from 65 and 70 yards. Kocolowski and Kyle Entsminger added one conversion run each. A fumble recovery by Brian Perkins set up Kocolowski's second TD.

Carson finished with 142 yards rushing, Kocolowski 110. Carson, Bobby Kushman, Paul Shawe and Russ Gardner played well defensively for the Steelers (2-3).

The Steelers have their homecoming games Saturday, beginning at 5:30 p.m. at Central Middle School. The Steelers will play the Ann Arbor West Wildcats.

Westland gridders overcome Lions

The Plymouth Canton Lions varsity football team lost to the Westland Meteors 12-0 Sunday in its homecoming at Central Middle School.

Jon Stopera and Ken Seadeek highlighted the defense, each posting 13 tackles and a sack.

They were supported by Scott Gocaj, William Brooks, Derek Ellison and Jason Mazur. Robert Ujkaj was the top rusher. The junior varsity Lions dropped a 13-8 game to the Meteors. The Lions lone touchdown came from Brett Burleson, and Kurt Larson added the two-point kick. The Lions netted 150 yards total offense thanks to the running of Burleson, Larson, Kevin Butler, Robert Malchow and Adam Dailide. Larson and Chris Sample led the defense.

THE FRESHMAN squad lost 12-0 to the Meteors despite the defensive efforts of Bradley Volas, who stopped a Westland touchdown, and William Wanniger, who had a sack. Mike Tremonti made 14 tackles, and Gordon Perrin, Grant Grayer and Eric Peterson also played well on defense.

The Lions played the Ypsilanti Braves for the first time in several years on Sept. 29.

The varsity lost 14-0. Seadeek made a touchdown-saving tackle for the Lions. Stopera, Ellison, Kevin Costantino and Ujkaj also had solid games defensively The JV dropped a 6-0 encounter. Larson blocked an extra point for the Lions. Dailides recovered a fumble in the firstparter and intercepted a pass in the second. Shaun Cavin had a fumble recovery in the final quarter.

Butler, Larson, Burleson, Cavin, Sample and Douglas Kinney all had solid games defensively.

The freshman squad suffered an 18-0 defeat. Archie Kinney broke up two extra-point attempts, and Wanniger had a fumble

More spares, fewer strikes for bowlers

lar season bowling, the new "System of Bowling" has been put to the test.

Although not officially in effect until

Jan. 1, most of the local houses have already converted to this new method. The houses feel it is better to convert to the method as early in the season as possible, stead of waiting until midseason to make a drastic change in lane condition

This system has, as expected, drawn mixed reactions. After discussing the topic with many bowlers, managers and proprietors, the responses are mostly fa-vorable. Many averages will drop because of the new conditions, but many will improve.

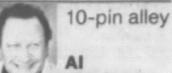

The good news is spare shooting has become easier. The bad news is it's harder to carry strikes. The reason for this is because there is more oil on the lanes. The three units of oil on the outside boards seem to cut down the big, wide hook shot, while the longer distance down the lane causes the ball to skid a bit

We are seeing more of the five pin left standing on a seemingly good pocket hit. The ball deflects more on the oil, thus harder to carry the five pin. If the seven or 10 pin remains standing, the result is a more difficult spare.

Another effect is that it's harder for some bowlers to find a line to the pocket. What has worked well in the past, isn't necessarily effective now. This means that we have to be able to try something different, probably a move more to the outside on the approach.

What works well one time may not eem to work the next time, so most bowlers will have to be more flexible in their game if they want to see strikes on their scoresheet.

Spare shooting is definitely easier be-cause there is less likely to be a dry area on the lanes which might cause the ball to take an unexpected curve. This is especially nice for throwing at the corner pins, as you can go more directly at the target and the ball will hold the line better if properly delivered. This is generally true for all spares.

Practically anyone can have a higher average if they can make most of their spares, so the trade-off appears to be less strikes and more spares. That doesn't mean you can't bowl some high games, because you can. It takes a little more accuracy to get to the pocket, a good roll ing ball, and as always, a little bit of luck

 Bowl One Lanes in Troy is offering a free "Ladies Learn to Bowl" clinic for three weeks beginning Oct. 28. Ladies can bring the kids and let them bumper bowl while they enjoy the classes. Also, beginning Oct. 12, Bowl One will stage a Moonlight Doubles each Saturday night with the winning couple receiving a 26-inch color television. For details, call Bill Strike at 588-4850.

 Contrary to the headline that was written last week in one of our major metropolitan dailies, bowling sanction fees are going up $3 per year, not $3 per week. I just wanted to set the record straight.

Redford Catholic Central tuned up for Friday's rematch with defend-ing state Class A boys soccer champion Warren DeLaSalle by pounding a Midfielder Kerry Zavagnin led the winners with three goals, raising his season total to 15. Scott Larner contributed two, while Mario Scicluna and Brendan Sullivan tallied one each Adam Borchert had two assists, while Rich Walos, Clayton Campbell, Larner and Sulliver added one apiece.

GOALIE TIM Bober recorded CC's eighth shutout of the year. On Saturday, the Shamrocks jumped out to a 3-1 halftime lead and never looked back in a 5-2 win at state-ranked Grosse Pointe South.

Zavagnin and Anthony Verino each scored twice for the winners. Steve Heitert had the other CC goal, while Sullivan and Walos each collected Goalie Jeff Sawicki made nine saves. CC will be out to avenge a 3-1 loss earlier this year to DeLaSalle.

Game time is 4 p.m. Friday at Bell Creek Park.

"It should be a very competitive game and we're looking forward to it," CC coach Phil LaJoy said. "If we play hard, hopefully good things

SC men win 2 games

The Schoolcraft College men's soccer team enjoyed a fruitful weekend, whipping visiting Delta on Saturday (7-0) before edging the Butler (Ind.) University JV squad Sunday at home (2-1).

Sophomores Chris Crawford (Walled Lake Western) and Bob Hayes (Livonia Franklin) each scored twice in the win over Delta. Dave Hebestreit (Livonia Churchill), Nate Stovall (Western) and Sean

Ryan also tallied goals. Jeff Van Demergel recorded two assists, while Shane Millner (Livonia Stevenson) and Hayes contributed one each. Goalie Scott Hauman posted the shutout.

Butler, meanwhile, led 1-0 at the half, but SC stormed back to tie it with 33 minutes left on freshman forward Brian Hauman's goal on an Crawford then tallied the game-winner with 20 minutes to play on an assist from Hauman. "Butler had beaten the University of Michigan club team 4-0 on Saturday and I was quite a bit worried when I heard it was 4-0," Schoolcraft coach Van Dimitriou said. "They (Butler) have a heck of a team. When they first started I was impressed. They're a big, quick and talented team. They weren't planning on losing either, I'll tell you that."

Ocelots gain vengeance

Another playoff looms after SC beats Macomb

staff writer

A dejected Mick Lakatos walked quickly across the Schoolcraft College soccer field, head down, making for the vans that would transport him and his Macomb Community College team home.

What the Monarchs were taking with them wasn't pleasant. Lakatos summed it up in one sentence: "Here we go again."

Quite correct. SC had just avenged a 3-0 loss suffered 11 days earlier at Macomb CC, knocking off the Monarchs 3-1 Wednesday. Which, in all likelihood, means the two teams will play one more time; the winner of that game will represent Region 12 at the NJCAA Inter-regional.

That is, if all goes according to plan. No one in Region 14 has been able to beat or tie either SC or Macomb in several seasons. The two teams tied for the region crown last season, too, and the Ocelots won the playoff.

The Ocelots had their backs to the wall in this game. A loss and they could kiss the post-season playoffs goodbye. soccer

BUT UNLIKE the game at Macomb, SC played with determination and confidence, generated by mores Jeff VanDemergel (two assists) and Chris Crawford (one goal, one assist).

They combined on the first goal of the match, scored with 16 minutes gone. VanDemergel looped a pass from the right side to Crawford on the left; Crawford took his time teeing it up before dribbling his shot into the net.

And yet, even though the Ocelots played with more confidence, they continued to make defensive blunders. Macomb took advantage of one seven minutes after Crawford's goal. When three SC defenders failed to clear the ball from in front of their net, the Monarcha' Charles Zapata pounced on it and tapped it past Ocelot keeper Scott Hau-

THAT MOTIVATED Macomb, and the rest of the half was played evenly. But SC regrouped at halftime and at the start of the second it was the Ocelots forcing the play. It paid off when Van-Demergel was tripped as he sped past Macomb defender John Drummy in pursuit of a pass. A penalty kick was called; Dave Hebestreit connected, giving SC a 2-1 lead.

The clincher came with 27 minutes left. Crawford took a restart 35 yards away from the Monarch net, sending the ball to VanDemergel on the right side. VanDemergel headed the ball to Hebestreit, and he pushed it past Macomb keeper Chris Weiskirch to make it 3-1.

A minute later, Macomb defender Rinaldo Lucchesi got his second yellow card, forcing the Monarchs to play the rest of the match short one man. Still, Zapata beat the SC defense twice in the final 25 minutes on breakaways, but couldn't con-

"Playing outside halfback gives Dominic more room to make a run," Mason said. "We ask our forwards to do a lot of running so it creates space, enabling our midfielders to make runs up the middle."

could not clear out a corner kick. (Vella drew the assist).

The Chargers then hit a brief lull defensively midway through the half as Salem's Tom Baker, on a sharp angle, beat Churchill goalie Jeff Cassar to make it 1-1. (Rich Andrusiak had the assist.)

Baker's shot, however, seemed to wake up the Chargers, who answered with a pair of goals in the final six minutes of the half.

Gentile scored the go-ahead goal from Chris Galea to make it 2-1.

With just under three minutes left in the half, Gentile made a short rush down the right side to set up Vella, who drilled a shot from pointblank range.

The two-goal cushion was more than enough for the Chargers.

IRONICALLY, BOTH teams went scoreless in the second half.

We hung around for about half and there's no shame in that," Johnson said. "We had one good opportunity in the second half, and our goalie Paul Dood did a pretty good job for the most part. He's only a fresh-more consistent effort. We worked harder and there weren't as many bad passes. We moved the ball better. We kept it on the ground and used the entire field.

Salem's wide, regulation-size field appeared to be tailor-made for the talented Chargers.

"In the first half we got into periods were we didn't work defensively. We kind of sat and watched."

The Chargers were a little sharper on Saturday, scoring a 2-0 victory at state-ranked Troy Athens.

Freshman Charlie Roberts, on an assist from Vince Troiani, scored to give Churchill a 1-0 halftime lead.

Galea then added an insurance goal from Jeremy Banks in the second half. "The wind affected the game quite a bit," Mason said. "We were going against a strong, gusting wind in the first half and didn't get many shots off. The game moved much more easily for us in the second half." Cassar earned the shutout, Churchill's 10th this season.

Courtroom drama provokes thought

Performances of the Meadow Brook Theatre production of "In-herit the Wind" continue through Oct. 27 on the Oakland University campus in Rochester. For ticket information call the box office at

The classic courtroom drama "Inherit the Wind" grapples with academic and intellectual freedom questions raised when a high school science teacher in Tennessee was tried for teaching evolution.

Did humans evolve from creatures that crawled out of the earth's primordial swamp? Does the Bible speak metaphoric or literal truth?

SUCH QUESTIONS polarized the nation in 1925 during the Scopes Monkey Trial. "'Inherit the Wind' is not history" insist co-authors Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee in the preface to the play, but they clearly based the drama on the infamous trial.

Meadow Brook Theatre's robust production of this genuine American masterpiece holds up a mirror to our cultural values - past and present. The fine cast of 37, and an imaginative, mobile set of the town/courtroom, recreate the era and offer dynamic, thought provoking theater.

Booth Coleman's brilliant portrayal of defense attorney Henry Drummond provides a stable nucleus of integrity in the hullabaloo of media hype that blew up around the trial.

DRUMMOND'S DEDICATION to freedom, his belief in "truth as a direction," and his faith in the miracle of the human mind make him the unquestioned champion of the play. His salty, non-elitsit language and willingness to stand alone against public opinion make him a quintessential American hero.

Cathie Breidenbach

Director Charles Nolte depicts the media circus surrounding the trial with burlesquelike humor.

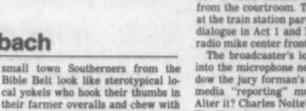

Coleman's boney physique and slightly arthritic gait show him as an ordinary, aging man pacing the courtroom in shirt sleeves and suspenders. Drummond's heroism comes from within, and Coleman projects a quiet charisma and bedrock strength that qualify him as a brilliant advocate for the right to think. He defends schoolteacher Bert Cates, played with convincing humility by John Seibert.

Arthur Beer portrays Matthew Harrison Brady, the populist preacher/politican and prosecuting attorney. After three runs for the presidency, Brady has sold out his former grass roots integrity to political ambition. He still draws crowds, but his charisma has begun to fade.

THE TRICK to playing Brady is to retain a core of the integrity which once made him great; to depict a man with enough residual heroism to be a match for Drummond Beer's Brady is all charming bluster and inflated rhetoric; he never really chal-

The broadcaster's loud comments into the microphone nearly overshadow the jury forman's verdict. Does media "reporting" muddy history? Alter it? Charles Nolte's "Inherit the Wind" revives a lively, funny, powerful event from our past, and raises probing questions for the present.

'Talley's Folly'

Actors glide smoothly in humorous lovers' waltz

Guild of Livonia-Redford production of "Talley's Folly" continue through Oct. 26 at the Theatre Guild playhouse, 15138 Beech Daly, Redford. For ticket information call the box office at 538-

The Theatre Guild opened their '91-92 season with a charming, and humorous, look at romance in an engaging production of "Talley's Fol-

It's about two not-so-young lovers who waltz around the task of overcoming fears and consummating their relationship. Director Debi Bayley does a fine job with Lanford Wilson's Pulitzer Prize-wining play.

ble

THE SETTING is a Victorian boathouse on the stately Tally Farm near Lebanon, Mo. It's a hot summer night in 1944. Crickets are chirping, frogs are croaking, a full moon casts soft shadows on the banks of the river. Perfect for a romantic interlude, right? Well, maybe not.

Leading the waltz is Matt Friedman, a 42-year-old Jewish accountant from St. Louis, by way of war-weary Europe, whose family has been tortured and killed. Following not too willingly is Sally Talley, a 31year-old nurse's aide who is fast approaching spinsterhood.

Bob Weibel

Fred Buchalter, as Matt, captures the very essence of a man whose outwardly teasing, playful humor masks a more serious and sensitive personality. Buchalter is especially adept at moving from witty moments to telling scenes without obvious dramatics. It is a very smooth performance from beginning

SUSAN RENO is very good as Sally Talley, an attractive woman from a prominent family who has not married. Matt, she fears, is not the answer. Her reactionary family would never accept him. They are from different worlds; marriage would never work.

This conflict between heart and mind isn't always all that it might be. Perhaps if Reno played Sally with more warmth, or in a little less strident fashion, we would feel more of the desire Sally really has for

A waltz of words and evasive actions continues between the two fragile lovers. They are like eggs, afraid to rub against each other lest they crack their shells. They must maintain their integrity, their priva-

EVEN EGGS, however hard it may be on them, must give way to something better; perhaps even an omelet. Finally, the waltz ends, as they overcome their Humpty Dumpty complex. Sally and Matt confess deep dark secrets, and lift the veil of mystery that seems to separate them. They are more alike than they imagined.

If you've ever been apprehensive about getting romantically involved with someone, you will find great affinity for "Talley's ."

Challenging Trinity production needs work

Performances of the Trinity House Theatre production of The Trip To Bountiful" continue through Nov. 2 at Trinity House, 38840 W. Six Mile Road in Livonia. For ticket information call

Though it has some things going for it, Trinity House Theatre's recent production of "The Trip To Bountiful," directed by Peter Senkbeil, ultimately misses the mark.

Horton Foote's play, though telling a simple story, is also a challenging piece of work. It focuses on Carrie Watts, a kindhearted/lonely/hymnsinging/nature-loving/elderly woman, (played by Angella Kobane) who, before she dies, yearns to escape the smothering urban environment in which she lives to her pastoral beginnings in East Texas.

HOW do you stage something like that without having it lapse into something all trite and overly sentimental?

Foote's story, though simple, is peopled with some highly complex, Victoria subtly wrought characters who, when convincingly portrayed, not only ensure against triteness, but make this play soar.

Diaz

In the main cast at Trinity House, Guy Snyder is Carrie's ineffectual son, Ludie. Sarah Hedeen plays selfcentered, thwarted daughter-in-law, Jessie Mae.

The trouble here is that these vital, three-dimensional characters are less than convincingly portrayed. Consequently, the play never quite leaves the ground. Sometimes it threatens to just sit there, still as a concrete fence post.

IN THIS case, though some performances are better than others, the cast, as a whole, seems to come up short. A certain self-consciousness not usually seen in the Trinity House players, a certain tendency toward over-acting keeps rearing its ugly head here.

appear to be straining at their roles. Now and then the exaggeration and overacting gives way to curious spells of flatness or woodenness on the part of some of the actors. None of this distracts or detracts quite so much as the fact that, very often, the performers don't seem to be listening or responding to each other at all, but simply anticipating their own upcoming lines. Perhaps rehearsal time was short?

SET, SOUND, and lighting are imaginative and carefully done. Makeup and costumes are first-rate too, although some costumes look a bit more 1961 vintage than 1951, the year in which the play is set.

Car makers take 'meaningless' sales figures seriously

is here again, what with the close of the 1991 model year at the end of September - the arbitrary date that generates a whole new set of numbers for analysts, prognosticators and soothsayers to massage, and keep their jobs.

The way in which the auto business keeps records of itself has always mystified me, despite having spent several years laboring over a calculator myself. Take the 'model year, for example. Please.

Once something heralded with searchlights, the traditional newmodel car launch today has been replaced with a steady dribbling of new cars that starts sometime in March, and continues through January. As a result 'model year sales' are, in fact a strictly arbitrary method of calculating sales from September through September, to no particular purpose.

That fact doesn't deter publications such as Automotive News from using the annual model year 'winners' as a reliable headline sto-

Lately, those headlines have become pretty predictable. Mainly, the numbers will be massaged until the Japanese look good, and the domestic industry looks bad. In fact, there were only three Japanese vehicles on the list of the top 10 best-selling nameplates this year (fully half the list is Ford products), but the Automotive News headline is 'Honda nabs third in car sales."

This makes the guys at Chrysler mad, since they sell more than enough minivans to keep them solidly in third place, save for the fact that minivans are loosely categorized as light trucks, not cars.

Still, it is mysterious that the Chrysler minivan, which in fact is the third best-selling vehicle in the U.S. (First and second are Ford and Chevy full-size pickup trucks) isn't even on the list of top 10 nameplates in the model-year sales list.

Wierd, tat I you look a little closer and realize that because Chrysler sells its minivans under three divisions, and with three nameplates, it has fractured its chances for bragging rights.

Take this a little further, and you realize that the Honda Accord only makes the grade as top selling coupe and the four-door sedan, which share a name but not much else. One could cry 'foul,' but Honda didn't invent this game - Olds used it for years to keep the Cutlass on top of nameplate sales. As far as I'm concerned, people drive cars, not nameplates, and the 'honor' of bestselling 'car' should go to the Chrysler

Laughable as the reporting methods are, marketing types take the numbers very seriously. Particularly the guys at Ford and Chevrolet, who go at each other annually, like one of those fights between two loggers on a single log - forgetting the water is full of Japanese sharks. This year, Ford beat out Chevy at the last minute for top truck sales by tossing in a $2000 incentive the last month of the

Chevy marketing types who cried 'foul' at this one apparently forgot how they eased by Ford a few years ago by carefully wiping off a fleet full of light trucks submerged in a flood and declaring them as 'sold', before scrapping them — which put them ahead of Ford in the numbers race that year.

Shinanigans aside, the model year sales numbers demonstrate what everybody already knows: sales are lousy, the Japanese are eating everybody's lunch, and the European makes are dying a quick death.

Like they say. It's a jungle out

William Widger is the largest Domino's franchisee in Europe. His Bloomfield Hills home bears testimony to his many travels.

Pizza franchisee ponders growth in foreign lands

By David Stein special writer

Smother my pizza with sweet corn, tiny shrimp and pineapple, say our British cousins.

These toppings are among the favorites in Great Britain, where William Widger of Bloomfield Hills has been selling pizza and the home-delivery concept with his America Pizza Co. for the past four

This spring, Widger, 54, joined the Domino's team. After turning 13 of his outlets into Domino's stores, Widger is now the largest Domino's franchisee in Europe.

Widger identified a time factor in making the switch with the coming of Europe's unified trade zone in 1992, opening the doors to 350 million customers.

'If we meet with success in England, I think it is a great jumping off point for (the rest of) Europe, Widger said.

He is neither a stranger to franchising nor good timing.

He founded Tuff-Kote Inc. in 1962 as an offshoot of W&M Products, an automotive supply company started by his father in 1940.

By 1981, Widger and his brother service into a worldwide giant with 4,700 franchises in 67 countries as a partner of Astra-Dinol AB of Sweden. The visa stamps in Widger's passport became an inky blur as he handled the international side of the business

AS AUTO COMPANIES took rustproofing in-house, Widger realized Tuff-Kote would have to explore new areas for sales. Astra-Dinol execs disagreed, so the Widgers sold out to them in 1981.

Widger and his family went to live abroad. But restfuliness eventually gave way to restlessness, and Widger, through the suggestion of a Norwegian friend, began a chain of pizza stores along the highway corridor running from London to Birmingham, England.

Home delivery of food is still a novelty outside of London.

"Their eating habits are much like ours were in the '50s, where you came home, and every meal was eaten in the home. You just didn't go out," Widger said. "Sales go right up on payday or they order on kids' birthdays and things like that."

Creative avoidance hurts sales prospecting

By Doug Funke staff writer

• Did you hear about the salesman's philosophy regarding prospecting, or making cold calls, that was tied to the weather? His belief - If the weather is nice, no sense trying because no one will be in. If the weather is lousy, forget it because prospects will be in a bad mood How about the salesman who acquired a batch of business cards from receptionists while making cold calls? He went back to his office and flipped off all the prospects without following up by rationalizing reasons why they wouldn't be inter-

· And did you hear about the two sales colleagues who took half a day to do a 15-minute job on a computer, learned all about the computer in the process but didn't make a single sales call?

Denise Roberts, a Bloomfield Hills sales consultant who's writing a book called "The Weakest Link in Sales," has heard about these and other ploys sales professionals use to avoid prospecting for new clients.

"I keep seeing it in company after company after company," she said. "The market changed. Companies had been resting on their laurels. They lost momentum. With the economy being tight now, we can't let itgo on any more.

Roberts offered an explanation for the procrastination.

"MOST PEOPLE avoid prospecting for fear of looking foolish or of being perceived poorly by the person contacted. It's not fear of rejection." Her solution - a low-key, market-

Personal exercise trainers compete with health clubs

special writer

Tennis, squash and racquetball courts typical of health clubs are up against new competitors for fitness dollars in suburban Detroit: personal trainers who provide custom workouts either in homes or exercise stu-

Exercise studios are "the most efficient and safe way for people to get in shape, and stay that way," said Collin LaLonde, owner of Fitness By Design in Southfield. "We design a workout program to meet the individual fitness level and goals of a client," he said. "Clients are assigned a personal trainer to guide them through solid balance of muscular strength, endurance and flexi-

Fitness By Design opened two years ago, and includes all the exercise equipment typical of a major health club - stair climbers, treadmills, stationary bikes, free weights and a variety of arm and leg extention machines. Noticeably absent in 1,300-square-foot studio are health bars, whirlpools and saunas.

Harold Fried, a partner with the Southfield law firm Fried, Saperstein, DeVine and Kohn, said he attends three hourly sessions a week at Fitness By Design, even though he is a member at a nearby health club.

"I never had much luck working out in my basement or at the club. It seemed like the phone was always ringing or you'd wind up socializing with friends and colleagues," said Fried, who pays $25 for an hour ses-

"With the exercise studio, however, it's just me and the trainer. I know the program is being done right, and there's no waiting for a machine to be free. In six months, I've lost an inch and a half off my waist and I feel great."

ed to grow in numbers as more and more people become aware of the health benefits of regular exercise but find they have less time to work out or feel health spas are too crowded or too intimidating.

The pros of one-on-one training include personal attention, efficiency, motivation and commitment while the cons are the expense - prices range from $25 to $200 an hour and the loss of the social element of an exercise class.

Personal trainers will also visit the home. Jan Jacobs, a competitive triathlete who holds a master's degree in exercise physiology, said she opened Fit For Health two years ago to provide personalized exercise programs for people who prefer their own homes. "Mostly I work with business executives and women who want to get back in shape after pregnancy," said Jacobs, a Birmingham resident. "Following a fitness evaluation, I'll prescribe an exercise program for a client and be there every session to guide them through how often, how hard and how long."

Jacobs, who is also a dental hygienist, develops exerise programs for area athletes too. Fees are $40 an hour. Like most personal trainers, Jacobs asks that clients pay 10 sessions in advance, to help instill commitment. Both LaLonde and Jacobs say they, or a member of their staff, are certified to design exercise and fitness programs for people who have high blood pressure or heart

BEFORE EMBARKING on any physical training, both recommend people over 35 have a stress test done. The growing popularity of personal trainers has not been lost on area health clubs, though such trainers often oversee the progress of two or three people at a time, and in an informal setting.

Kitty Elenbaas, fitness director at the One On One Athletic Club in West Bloomfield, said the club has offered the use of personal trainers since it was redesigned from a tennis club six years ago.

"The use of personal trainers by our members has grown significantly in the last two years, but they still make up a small percentage of our total membership," she said. "People are aware that exercise is becoming more sophisticated, and they want to be sure they don't hurt themselves.

Currently, One On One has five trainers on staff. The fee is $30 an hour, and includes, like most other programs, nutrition counseling. Specific dietary needs are referred to a physician.

When selecting a personal trainer, it's considered essential to choose one who is a member of either the International Dance and Exercise Association (IDEA) or the American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM) is considered essential.

"After an initial interview where we go over past medical history and any past or present injuries, we start out with a light workout and then see how the client feels before starting the next session, said LaLonde, an IDEA member.

"It's important to retest or you might have someone getting hurt. We also set realistic goals for our clients and let them know it usually takes two to three months before changes are seen in the body. But people will automatically feel better right away."

Fall's glory shows in Miller Woods

HE GLORIES of a Michigan fall aren't limited to the state's northern re-

Those regions certainly show fall's splendor, but the beauty of nature is also easy to spot closer to home. The Miller Woods area in western Plymouth Township offers such a sampling.

The Friends of the Miller Woods are offering monthly "Explore the Woods" walks 1 p.m. the second Sunday of each month. The next walk will be 1 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 13, at the woods, on Powell west of

Beck in Plymouth Township. "There's always something different to learn about and people just enjoy being out there," said Emily Kemnitz, president of the Friends group. Many mushrooms were seen in the woods during the September nature walk, and participants talked about different varieties of mushrooms. "We talk about whatever we see or whatever people ask about," said Kemnitz, a Plymouth Township resident. She and Joyce Holmes, Friends vice president, are conducting the nature walks.

EACH MONTH features a different theme, and the focus this Sunday will be on "October's Party," the color change seen in the woods. The Sunday, Nov. 10, theme will be "Those Who Go and Those Who Stay," focusing on such topics as migration, hibernation and in-sect survival tactics. "Winter sect survival tactics.

Weeds" will be the Sunday, Dec. 8,

"A lot of the kids ask about bears, and we have to disappoint them," Kemnitz said. Bears don't live in the woods, but birds, raccoons and other small animals do make their home there.

"We haven't had deer the last couple years." As the surrounding area has become more built up, deer haven't been spotted. Even so, Friends members keep an eye out for signs of deer.

We always check out the footprints in times of snow, see what's there," Kemnitz said.

The Plymouth-Canton Community Schools district owns the Miller Woods land. Hard-working members of the Friends group help to maintain the site and to increase awareness of its impor-

"We want people to understand what a nature preserve is," she said. Learning about nature is rewarding for those of all ages, particularly as an area becomes more developed and fewer wooded sites remain.

"THEY'VE BECOME rather rare, so it's a valuable tool, an outdoor lab for all of us." The site's also a haven for birds and animals, although its primary benefit is as an educational tool, she said. Its relatively small size means some animals can't call it home.

The Friends of the Miller Woods also welcome new members of the organization. Membership information's available from Emily Kemnitz, 453-6912.

Salem grad takes gospel to Moscow

By Julie Brown staff writer

Handing out Bibles on the streets of Moscow was an eye-opener for Rich Miller.

"I had reactions of all different types," said Miller, who recently traveled to the Soviet Union with a musical group. Some Soviets thanked him, while others were more hesitant.

They'd check to make sure no one was watching and would then quickly hide the Bible in a coat or newspaper. "You could tell they wanted it, but they just didn't want to be seen by whoever.'

Many Soviets have lived their lives in fear of the KGB and they're not convinced things have changed all that much, he said.

Not too long ago, Miller's travels to foreign lands didn't extend beyond

The musicians thought the attempted coup in August might make their travels impossible.

"I think God's plan was that he wanted this to come off," said Miller, who worships at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Plymouth.

The musicians, some of whom live in the Detroit area, performed at the Palace of Congress in the Kremlin "which was very history-making in itself." They sang outdoors at a concert in Moscow's Gorky Park.

The group's guide, who was from Estonia, told them that the move toward independence in the republics had begun some time ago. Estonia had had its own currency printed up for some time, and Estonians were just waiting to put it to use.

All travel arrangements for the musicians were made through the Soviet state-owned tourist bureau -They kind of direct you where they want you to go. I guess we saw the better side of Russia, the better side of the Soviet Union."

Their contact with ordinary Soviet citizens was somewhat limited, but the singers did get to speak to people following concerts.

String, jazz, folk music on tap at Canton library

Music-lovers looking for something to do Friday evenings don't have to travel far. The Friends of the Canton Public Library have planned a musical series with the first concert set for Friday, Oct. 25.

"So often, people want a little something. They want to start off their weekend in a pleasant manner," said Marcia Barker, Friends volunteer coordinator at the library

Often, those who have been working all day are looking for something to do, but don't necessarily want to go out dancing until 2 a.m. The concerts will provide a relaxing, enjoyable option, said Barker, a Canton resident.

"The Friends thought it was another way to reach out to the community. It's just another way of reaching all the people in the community." Other area libraries have held concerts and those have been well-received, she said.

THE MUSICAL series in Canton will feature:

• 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 25, The Anderson Quartet, a string group;

• 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 14, 1992, The Dennis Tini Quartet, a jazz en-

• 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 1, 1992, Skylark, a folk/acoustic trio.

All performances will be in the meeting room of the Canton Public Library, 1200 S. Canton Center, south of Cherry Hill. Refreshments will be served.

Ticket price is $5 per concert or $12 for the series, and tickets are available at the library reception desk. A drawing will be noon Friday, Oct. 11, at the library. Two winners will be chosen to receive free series

Friends of the Canton Public Library members, who are already planning next year's concert series, tried to include a variety of musical styles, Barker said.

"We're real excited about being able to bring in different flavors of

The library's closed Friday evenings, meaning concert-goers and musicians won't have to worry about disturbing patrons who are trying to read or do research.

"So we'll have the building all to ourselves, and it'll be nice." The library's being closed Friday evenings also means there won't be any parking problems for concert-goers, Barker said.

For more information, call the Canton Public Library, 397-0999.

Artists capture beauty in glass

Fumio Sasa's "Aspiration," a twisted blown and cut crystal vase is among the Hoya Museum Crystal available at Jacobson's Laurel Park store.

staff writer

Milky white swirls resembling snow fade away to the crystal clear surface of the lake, broken only by the random shapes of ice-bergs. This is "Snow Lake."

Saburo Funakoshi's dramatic sculpture bowl - yes, a bowl in two sizes no less - has been exhibited at the Louvre in Paris and The Smithosnian Institution in Washington, D.C. Now, it's at Jacobson's Laurel Park store in Livonia. It's one of many pieces of Hoya Museum Crystal available at the store, the only Jacobson's in Michigan to carry the world renown glassware and only the second store - the other is Charles Warren in Troy - in the state to sell Hoya Crystal.

Hoya lead crystal is recognized for its purity, reflective brilliance and clarity. It combines ancient glassmaking methods of mouth blowing and hand forming with designed technical innovations to create highly reflective, contemporary pieces. "Japan has a tremendous tradition in the decorative arts," said Alice Chappell, president of Hoya Crystal, U.S.A., who was in town last week to introduce the crystal collection. "They've been making glass since the fourth century, but more people think of the Japanese

"In 1913, a number of artists went to the government about recognizing glass as an artistic form. That resulted in a number of juried shows and Japan became an international beacon for the glass community."

HOYA HAS a worldwide reputation for its optical glassmaking techniques. Well-known for its camera lenses and filters, it helped produce the lens for the Nova laser at Livermore National Laboratory in California.

It also is one of the world's largest producers of fine crystal and it was Chappell who got the Japanese manufacturer to return to the U.S. market in 1985.

A background in contemporary art and business, Chappell was working for Corning Glassworks when she became familiar with Hoya, specifically "Snow Lake" and Toshio Sugasawa's "Books," a collection of crystal books 3-5 inches high.

Chappell went to Japan in 1982 based on the belief that there was room in the crystal market for contemporary design. It took three years and patience to convince Hoya to return to the U.S., an experience Chappell enjoyed so much that when asked, decided to take a job with Hoya.

Hoya had been in the United States in the '50s and '60s, but left to protect its own market in Japan. It didn't export its crystal for 10 years to build its own domestic

There was a void in the top end of the crystal market for pieces with contemporary design, but no one had taken the time to explain that to the Hoya officials," Chappell said. "Americans have a tradition in contemporary design and Hoya realized they didn't have to change their standards, they would not have to abandon their traditions to enter the market."

THE HOYA collection is as varied as the 13 artists-in-residence who work exclusively for the firm. Fumio Sasa has directed the artistic growth of Hoya Crystal for more than 40 years, attracting artists for the Hoya Atelier from his alma mater, the Tokyo University of Arts.

Sasa regards crystal as a world where "time and light are given shape. Light is frozen, lines intersect, and illusions are created by light and shadows."

Such is the case with his "Duet." Light dances off the curved upward lines of the bowl, its style suggesting the joining of hands, a symbol of unity and strength. Designed in the late 1970s, Hoya manufactured only 100 "Duet" bowls, which now sell for $6,800

Hoya Crystal pieces reflect a variety of glassmaking techniques. The "Snow Lake" bowl, for example, is hand pressed, then sandblasted and polished to create the snowy effect. It comes in two sizes - 11% inches ($210) and 10% inches ($165). A collection of five three-dimen-

Suzuki, and priced at $355 each, were created by cutting the design with a diamond wheel on one edge of pyramidal piece of crystal.

AND UNLIKE other companies that chemically polish their pieces, Hoya physically polishes each individual piece to preserve the crisp lines and mirror finish of the surface, Chappell said.

pendent craftsmen and glass artists in starting its crystal manufacturing, and its has a strong commitment to its glass vision, she said. "Its philosophy is that crystal should be an integral part

And that philosophy is reflected in its collection of crystal bowls, drinkware and plates. While many people think in terms of matched sets, Hoya promotes variety.

Its collection of floral dinner plates feature the frosted blossoms of the narcissus, crocus, pansy, sweet pea, carnation, thistle, lily, poppy, African daisy, cattleya and cyclamen floating on polished crystal.

And Sachio Hamamatsu created 10 intricately cut two-ounce crystal glasses ($50 each) with names like Pinwheel, Thistle, Snowdrop, Prism, Primose and Crescendo.

AND IN SHARP contrast to Sasa's "Aspiration," a vase made from a twisted column of cut crystal priced at $1,025, Hoya also carries such novelty items as crystal golf balls and clubs. Golf is popular sport in Japan and the crystal pieces are designed to be used as awards and the like as well as unusual decorative pieces.

In fact, pieces like Sugasawa's "Books," "Aura," notched clear crystal discs, and "Intuition," polished hexagonal prisms, are among Hoya crystal pieces suitable for engraving.

Chappell admits she has favorite pieces by each of Hoya's artists. She points to Sasa's vases, such as his "Spring Pebbles" that resemble a rock garden, Funakoshi's "Snow Lake" bowl and Sugasawa's "Books."

"I always have admired his openess," she said.

Needlework stars at S'craft seminar

Sharpen your needles. For the second year, Schoolcraft College will offer its needlework seminar, a day of hands-on workshops with noted needle arts teachers.

The seminar will be 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 26, on the Schoolcraft campus , 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia. The cost is $50 per person with an optional lunch for $6.

This year, both half- and full-day sessions are on the creative agenda. Half-day sessions include workshops in crewel, smocking, Brazilian embroidery, needlepoint, duplicate stitch, pulled thread and shadow embroidery. There also will be opportunities to learn color and design and framing needlework.

All-day sessions feature hands-on workshops on pulled thread, silk and metal thread on canvas, hardanger, needle lace, beading, whole cloth quilting and embroidery on canvas.

The teaching staff includes prominent, skilled instructors known for their expertise and artistry like Shay Pendray who has studied extensively in the United States, England, Scotand metal thread skills.

Joining her is Carlene Harwick, who has master teacher credentials with the American Needlepoint Guild, and is certified through the prestigious Valentine Museum and National Academy of Needlework, and has been published in numerous national needlework publications.

Also participating are Leslie Masters, who has been a design and color theory instructor for more than 30 years; Dorothy Lesher, who holds a cation and has taught at guilds and seminars throughout the country; and Beverly Booker, a certified teacher who studied fiber arts while living in Mexico for six years and is president of the International Council of Needlework Associations.

You could say it was a case of one thing leading to another. Except for .two Livonia churches, it all happened in rapid fire succession.

On June 16, Ascension Lutheran Church and Sword of Spirit Lutheran Church literally closed their doors. A week later the doors reopened to a new church Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

"It still is scary," said Rev. Darwin Polesky, former pastor of Ascension Lutheran Church. "It was something no one expected and suddenly it's here.'

"The suddenness was overwhelming," added Rev. Walter Dickinson, former pastor of Sword of the Spirit. "It's a new identity for all of us and there's been a lot of give and take like in a marriage."

The emergence of Emmanuel Lutheran Church is akin to the mythological Egyptian bird, the phoenix, that consumed itself in flames only to rise, renewed, from the ashes.

In January, fire gutted a partially completed addition of Sword of the Spirit Lutheran Church on Seven Mile Road. In need of temporary housing, the congregation turned to Ascension Lutheran Church on Five Mile for help.

The two churches weren't strangers by any means. They were "already doing things together like joint worships and other activities" as the result of covenant drafted in the 1980s.

SWORD OF the Spirit moved in with Ascension and within two months the congregations voted to set up a committee to study "all of the possibilities" available to the two churches. By late April, they were seriously looking at a merger.

"When the fire hit we were in an expansion program," Dickinson said. "Afterwards, we had to decide what it would mean to us."

When we did the covenant plan conversation about a merger, but we never got to a serious talking," said Polesky. "No one took it seriously, even the pastors."

The churches' decision took into account that there are 11 Lutheran churches in Livonia, including three Faith, Holy Trinity and Emmanuel — belonging to the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America denomination on Five Mile Road.

It also took into account the size of the churches. Dickinson believes that the proliferation of ELCA churches may have contributed to a lack of growth. Sword of the Spirit has been in existence for 25 years and has about 200 confirmed members; Ascension, at age 30, has about 300.

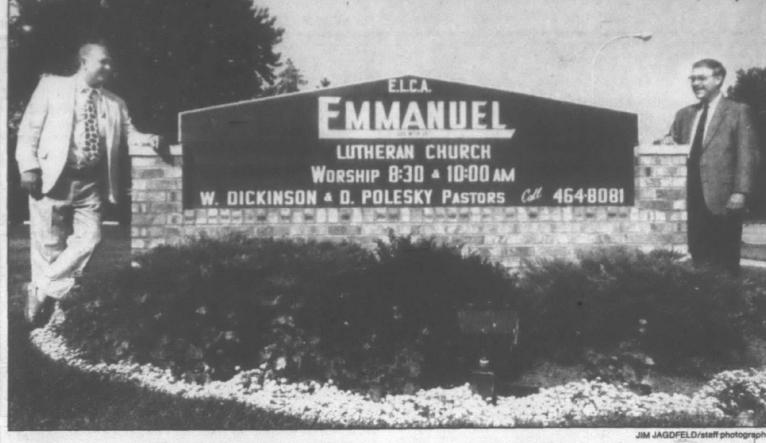

By May 5, the two congregations were voting on a merger. Six weeks later members were taking action on a constitution and name for the new church. Some 90 names were submitted and a committee narrowed the list down to 70 by removing names that were used by churches within a five-mile radius.

IN A SERIES of votes, the list was reduced to 12 and then three names. Emmanuel was eventually selected from the top three because in the scriptures it means "God is with us and we surely need Him with us," Dickinson said.

A week later, the two churches held closing services and on June 30, the first joint service was held. The two churches used the same hymnal and members were asked to bring them to the service.

"We mixed the hymnals up and the people just took one," Polesky explained. "It was sort of symbolic of the merger."

Dickinson and Polesky serve as co-pastors of the new church. The congregation has extended threeyear terms to them to give the former "time to evaluate the feasibility of two pastors.

Co-pastors Walter Dickinson (left) and Darwin Polesky are sharing the duties of directing the new Emmanuel Lutheran

While ministering to the needs of the larger congregation, they also are fine tuning things like the schedule of preaching. "We won't an-nounce it so it'll be kind of pot luck for the members," Dickinson said. They're also working out how the two congregations blend together. "Even though we're both Lutheran, every congregation does things differently," Polesky said. "We do some things the same and we do some dif-

BUT THE major undertaking is a new church building. A committee also has checked out sites for the new building and that's where the tale of phoenix comes in. Their recommendation is at the site of the former Sword of the Spirit Church on Seven Mile Road.

They are in the process of taking bids for the demolition of the old church and working on a design for the new church. The hope is construction will begin with the spring thaw, Dickinson said. "The design can be a really exciting time and how we incorporate our theology will be the fun part," Polesky added. "We'll be incorporating some of the old traditions into it."

Churches decided to merge in June.

If all goes according to plans, the new church will be dedicated in the fall of 1992. Until then, members are adjusting to cramp spaces for worship and Sunday School. "People are excited and new ideas are coming out of this," Polesky said. "Attendance has been great for time of the year and the newness. We had to add a service during the

NEW BISHOP

The Rev. J. Philip Wahl was installed as bishop of the Southeast Michigan Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of America on Sept. 22 at Zion Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor. Some 900 people attended the ceremony, which included representatives from Evangelical Lu theran Church of America (ELCA) synods in both the Michigan and Ohio area and other ecumenical bodies throughout Southeast Michigan. Wahl previously served as senior pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church in Grosse Pointe Farms. He becomes the second bishop to serve the Southeast Michigan Synod since its begining in 1988 after the merege of three church bodies, The American Luteran Church, The Lutheran Church in America and the Association of Evangelical Lutheran Churches, which led to the creation of the ELCA. The Southeast Michigan Synod serves an estimated 77,000 Lutherans in the area and is one of 65 geographical subdivisions of the ELCA, the fifth largest Protestant denomination in the United States.

MISSION HELP

Library should be first stop when building a birdhouse

One of the first things I remember making with my dad when I was a young man was a bird house. We drew some plans on paper, collected the wood, measured the pieces, he showed me how to saw a straight line, pound nails and mount it in the yard. I was very proud of that house, and even to this day, somewhere in our family album is a picture of that bird house.

It seems like it's almost second nature for a young person to build a shelter for an animal. Not only does it develop skills, but it instills an awareness of other animals and their needs.

The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers is already gearing up for next year's Bird House Building Contest. Teachers from schools in the O&E readership area came to a workshop the other day to learn more about the contest.

There were teachers talking to other teachers about the benefits of including this competition in their regular curriculum. They mentioned how it gave the students a purpose and goal. It gave students a sense of self-esteem to complete the bird house, have it entered in the competition, receive a certificate for entering the competition, and to see it on display at the Builders Home and Flower Show at Cobo Hall.

not start in the shop though, it starts in the library. In order to build a proper house, one should know the habits, habitats and requirements of the prospective tenant. There are certain size requirements that need to be addressed, such as hole size, floor size, height of the hole above the floor, and other specifications. If the house is to be customized, it should be done without detriment to the bird using it. Learning about the habits of the bird will allow the student to make suitable modifications.

Then once the research has been completed, sketches have to be made. Putting down ideas on paper and changing them as the design evolves is a learning experience in and of itself. Finally, getting into the shop to layout, cutout and construct the house allows a student to manipulate tools and material to make the final product. Realization of a concrete object from a mental conception is a very rewarding feeling.

No matter what the final outcome, experiencing the process and committing to construct a house makes Livonia Symphony Society and Laurel Park Place will present an evening to delight your senses, "Sunday, Symphony and Sports," on Oct. 27.

Bob Sklar editar/953-2113

Show time is 6-9 p.m. in the Grand Court at Laurel Park Place, Six Mile and Newburgh, Livonia.

The third annual fund-raiser promises an evening to savor. Proceeds will benefit the Livonia Symphony Orchestra, now in its 18th season.

Hear the moving music of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, taste gourmet foods and baked treats, bid on firstclass vacation packages worth $4,000-$5,000, see and meet sports celebrities Shawn Burr of the Detroit Red Wings and former Detroit Tigers pitcher Milt Wilcox. "This year, we have four major sponsors: Northwest Airlines, the Livonia Marriott, Laurel Park Place and the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers," said Livonia Marriott general manager Ron Shiflett, co-chair of the event with Betty Jean Awrey of Awrey Bakeries.

BESIDES MAJOR sponsors, the local business community is firmly behind the benefit, said Shiflett, a Livonia Symphony Society board member. Restaurants are supporting the event by providing an array of foods.

"I think it's going to be a lot of fun for everybody to get together and support the symphony," Shiflett said.

'I think this is a first in the area with businesses pulling together so that all of the money goes to the symphony.'

 conductor Francesco DiBlasi Livonia Symphony

Restaurants, bakeries and businesses contributing taste-bud teasers include Akasaka Japanese Restaurant; Ernesto's of Plymouth; Sabatini's Food & Spirits; Embassy Suites; Rock Montana's-Ramada; Laurel Manor; Heritage Bakery; Gordon Food Service; Frenchie's Catering, Cafe and Croissantery; Livonia Italian Bakery & Cafe; Elite Sweets; Sweet Dreams; Holiday Inn Livonia West; Roma's of Livonia; Ground Round Restaurant; D. Dennison's of Livonia; Leo's Coney Island; Little Caesar's; The Coffee Beanery; Y Not Yogurt; Marriott Courtyard; Marriott Hotel; and Olga's Kitchen.

A silent auction will offer resort vacations with a choice of destinations, courtesy of Northwest Airlines and Marriott Hotels.

FOR THE third year, Laurel Park Place will provide the setting for the fund-raiser.

"As a new member of the community, we feel we want to support the community and we feel the symphony is a big part of the community," said Michael Buescher, marketing director for Laurel Park Place, a Schostak Brothers venture.

"We're coordinating the restaurants, trying to ensure there's a variety of foods. Ann Taylor is going to do a holiday fashion show in the store. For the silent auction, the Detroit Pistons have donated 10 autographed basket balls," Buescher said. "But far above all that, the symphony performance is the highlight of the evening."

Light classical and popular music selections will include Camelot, Deep Purple, Finlandia and excerpts from the "King and I" and Tchaikovsky's "The Nut-

GUEST SOPRANO Nancy Delewsky Villeneuve will perform a medley of songs from Oklahoma and Twenti-

The Livonia resident's singing credits include Michigan Opera Theatre productions of "La Traviata," "I Pa-gliacci," "Madame Butterfly," "The Magic Flute" and "Carmen." She appeared in August with the Livonia Symphony at "Music Under the Stars."

Guest conductor Ernie Jones will lead the orchestra in performing selections of "Blue Danube" and Big 10 "A new arrangement hot off the presses features a medley of Duke Ellington's songs," conductor Francesco DiBlasi said. DiBlasi thanks businesses in the community for contributing all the elements necessary to make the fundraiser a success. "I think this is a first in the area, with businesses pulling together so that all of the money goes to the symphony.

IN VIEW of the current economic situation, many members on the board of the Livonia Symphony Society say the fate of the symphony rests on major fund-raisers like the annual benefit at Laurel Park Place.

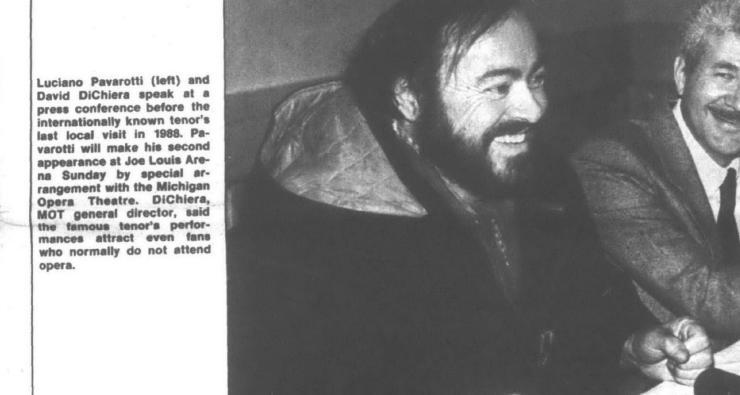

"It's important to support the symphony. With the loss of the grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts, it's going to be hard to raise funds for the operating budget," board member Lee Alanskas said.

Alanskas asks that all members of the community support the symphony by attending the fund-raiser.

"I think everybody can enjoy a relaxing, nice evening. It's going to be delightful and you'll be supporting the Livonia Symphony," Shiflett said.

"Sunday, Symphony and Sports" tickets bought by Oct. 14 are $20; afterward they are $25. Tickets are at the Livonia Marriott and the Laurel Park Place offices within the mall. Call 462-1100.

On stage Local opera booster hosting Pavarotti

By William Coutant staff writer

HEN SUPERSTAR Luciano Pavarotti performs at Joe Louis Arena Sunday, it will have a lot to do with the vision and determination of Michigan Opera Theatre founder David DiChiera.

And there are parallels between the famous tenor from Modena, Italy, and DiChiera, a longtime Birmingham resident. Both have excelled in their careers by using their talents and personal charisma. And like Pavarotti, DiChiera's success has not been overnight.

DiChiera, who came to teach music at Oakland University in Rochester Hills in 1962, can remember a time when staging a major production was only a dream. Although the Detroit area boasted a great symphony, the lack of an opera company was something of a shock.

"I was fairly surprised to find that Detroit had no opera company and no music hall," DiChiera said.

NOW IN its 21st year, the Michigan Opera Theatre is among the top companies in the country for its size, staging six productions a year, more than longer-established companies in Philadelphia, Seattle, Miami and Cincinnati

With plans to move into a permanent hall, the historic Grand Circus Theatre undergoing restoration in downtown Detroit, in fall 1994, MOT will be able to stage even larger productions.

After graduating from UCLA, DiChiera, a Los Angeles native, studied opera history in Italy before embarking on a varied music career that includes coaching, conducting, teaching and, for the past 21 years, directing venture. Starting with three productions in 1971-72, MOT prospered under DiChiera's direction. This year, Pavarotti will start the season Sunday, Oct. 13, at Joe Louis Arena, followed by the first MOT performance of "Candide" in November, in honor of its creator, the late Leonard Bernstein.

The company started as a "grass-roots"

ALTHOUGH PAVAROTTI had been to Detroit while touring with the Metropolitan Opera, he had not performed here solo.

Plymouth Symphony Orchestra opens its 46th season with "Piano Brilliante," a celebration of the magical music of Mozart Friday, Oct. 11:

Concert time is 8 p.m. in the Plymouth Salem High School Auditorium, 46181 Joy Road, Canton. Guest artists Ralph and Albertine

Votapek will perform Mozart's 10th concerto, "Concerto in E-flat, K. 365" for two pianos and orchestra.

The initial concert begins with Mozart's Overture to the opera, "The Impressario." It is followed by his four-handed concerto written for his sister, Maria Anna, whom he loving ly called Nannerl. The program closes with "Symphony No. 2" by Johannes Brahms

The Plymouth Symphony decided to open the 1991-92 season with a concert to celebrate Mozart's music because this year commemorates the 200th anniversary of Mozart's death in 1791 at age 35.

"It's wonderful music and a nice way to start the season. It's just an appropriate time to play Mozart. He

WHAT A joy it was to see the completed version of Canton sculptor Joe DeLauro's long-awaited "The Storyteller," unveiled Sept. 19.

The Canton Community Arts Council commissioned the 26-inchhigh bronze sculpture for the culturally diverse township 18 months ago. The work is dedicated to the American Indian - "people of the earth" who "had great imaginations," as DeLauro put it.

Despite a national reputation, fine arts degrees from Yale University and the University of Iowa, 50 years of sculpting experience and 100 commissions to his credit, DeLauro leaped at the chance to salute Canton - home to he and his wife, Dorothy, for 24 years.

"I hope I'm doing something lasting for the community," said DeLauro, Canton Community Arts Council founding president and a man who believes "art should bring people closer together.'

BEFORE MOVING to its permanent home in the Canton Public Library this fall, "The Storyteller" will tour Plymouth-Canton elementary schools with DeLauro in tow. "I'm really looking forward to that. Kids are enthusiastic about life and very honest in their questions."

At the library, "The Storyteller" will sit in the quiet reading lounge by the fireplace, an area that sports a Southwest feel.

"The sculpture is significant in that storytelling is what we're about here," said Jean Tabor, library director. "It should be a real inspiration for adults and children alike."

"He is an entity in and of himself," she said. "I was lucky enough to see him perform in '77 in Minnesota. He was great, but he hadn't become a superstar yet."

A distinct feature of Michigan Opera Theatre is its variety and flexibility. That ability to adapt in a business where most performances must be scheduled as far as two or three years ahead of time has allowed the company to present "Candide" in November.

was such a great composer. And it is such a great work.

FOR ROCHELLE Rosenthal, a Birmingham resident and a performer with MOT since 1978, playing in "Candide" will be a first.

"I'm playing the old woman," Rosenthal said. "I seem to always be playing roles with no name. That seems to be my job. But it's a big role."

And even though Rosenthal is a veteran of many productions, she confesses to some nervousness at playing in "Candide" for the first time.

"Oh yes, I'm absolutely nervous," she said. "That's part of performing.

But Rosenthal, like most performers, loves the challenge of a new role and is prepared. That reflects DiChiera's direction.

Jessie Schneidewind, a Dearborn resident and a MOT trustee for the past six years, has known DiChiera and his wife, Karen, for 20 years. She's not surprised at his success.

"He never sits at a dinner," she said. "He's always talking to everybody, but not superficially. He knows something about you and he remembers you.

DICHIERA WILL tell you being able to work with people of different backgrounds and talents among staff, performers, artists, community groups and business people is important and enjoyable.

Rosenthal said she's not surprised that DiChiera could bring off the production of "Candide" in such a short time or attract Pavarotti to Detroit for a second

"He (DiChiera) is one of the most diplomatic people I've ever seen,

And to Schneidewind, who has seen MOT grow in hard times and good, DiChiera has something important in common with the great tenor Pavarotti:

"He has great charisma."

By special arrangement with the Michigan Opera Theatre, Luciano Pavarotti will perform in concert at the Joe Louis Arena in Detroit at 4 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 13. A limited number of $30 tickets are available through TicketMaster: 645-6666. MOT benefit tickets, priced at $500 and $300, are available through MOT: 874-SING.

From Dixieland to Broadway, a new season lies ahead for Plymouth Symphony Orchestra ticket

Nights filled with the 19th and 20th century music of Mozart, Bernstein, Gershwin, Ravel, Rossini and Loewe will delight audiences. A special treat for the holidays are evening and matinee cos-tained productions of Tchaikovsky's "The Nutcracker" with the Plymouth Canton Ballet Com-

"It's going to be an exciting season. We have a variety of artists, rich and historical music, a commemorative of Mozart's music, a tribute to Bernstein, Copland and three performances of The Nutcracker' ballet," said Linda Alvarado, publicity chairwoman.

An All American salute features guest artists The New Reformation Dixieland Band on Friday, Nov. 8. Selections on the 20th century program include "New England Triptych" (1956) written hy William Schuman and "West Side Story Symhonic Dances" (1957) by Leonard Bernstein.

THE PLYMOUTH Symphony will give three erformances, Dec. 13-15, of Tchaikovsky's "The Nutcracker" with the Plymouth Canton Ballet Company and featured dancers Dawnell Dryja and Densil Adams.

Dryja of Canton won the title of Junior Miss Dance of America 1992 in final competition held Dance Masters of America in Las Vegas last ily. Dryja made her way to the finals after winning Junior Miss Dance of Michigan 1991 in November

On Jan. 24, a PSO recital takes the stage with solos, ensembles and student competition winner at Plymouth Canton Little Theatre.

The "Sweetheart Concert" on Feb. 21 will feature clarinet soloist John Mohler performing "Concerto for Clarinet" by Aaron Copland. The opening selection on this romantic evening is "Romeo and Juliet" by a composer from the modern Russian school, Serge Prokofiev. Tchaikovsky concludes the program with the overture-fantasy "Romeo and Juliet."

CLOSING THE 1991-92 concert season on March 20 is "All French" with guest soprano Kathleen Segar. Music on the program includes "Le Roi D'ys Overture" by Edouard Lalo, "Poeme De L'Amour Et De La Mer" by Chausson, "Bol-"Le Tombeau De Couperin" and "Alborada Del Gracioso" by Maurice Ravel.

A special event held annually in spring is the benefit pops concert to raise operating money for the orchestra. On April 10-11, "Music from the Movies" features the Measure for Measure Men's Chorus under the direction of Dr. Leonard Riccinto. Selections include excerpts from Rossini's 'William Tell Overture," "Porgy and Bess" and "An American in Paris" by Gershwin, "My Fair Lady" by Loewe, "On the Mall" by Goldman, "Fiddler on the Roof" by Bock and Sousa's "Stars and Stripes."

VACANT LAND ESTATES Pickney School Location

Pickney School Location

3 careful years in completion, Agent/owner displays 7 gorgeous estates (3-10-acres, 4-5 acres). Divinely sanctuarised over 53 acres of paradise. Total sectusion, isolation and privacy. Estates are indescribably beautiful. Colorado, California and upper peninsula landscapes. Mountainous bluff, lush valleys, ponds, huge hardwoods, towering natural panoramic views. Property is saturated with deer and all forms of winged or furry wildlife. Surrounded on all four sides by undevelopable property. Conveniently located one mile from time forgotten village of Pickney with state award winning, and private schools. Located in Putnam Township, with lowest taxes in Livingston county. 3 Miles from beautiful new public golf course with excellent restaurant. 5 miles from Beighton, state recreation center and snow skiing. Heavily and profoundly deed restricted. Located 24 minutes to Ann Arbor, 36 minutes to Livonia, 42 minutes to Farmington, 45 minutes to Southfield, 56 minutes to downtown. Asking $62,900 to $78,900 for a large piece of this private nature center. Nothing anywhere to compare to this development within 200 miles. Change yourself and your families life now and forever. Get away from the high cost cities and stress. Get a piece of heaven here on earth now. This is lift. Good deals on first few sales. Don't wait. Let's deal!

Agents, who can make contacts for future business at open houses, say they'll work them to please sellers but find that many more sales result from appointments and private showings.

Many prospective buyers use them to get a feel for a particular market. And, then, lookers sometimes become buyers.

"I find open houses to be very effective because they (lookers) get inside and then emotionally become buyers," said Mike Leighton, an agent for Real Estate One in Livo-

"I WILL DO it if a seller requests, but frankly I've never had a lot of success," said Mitzi M. Phillips, who recently was selected Realtor/Associate of the Year by the Birmingham-Bloomfield Board of Realtors.

"I don't know why," she said.
"Perhaps people are out looking, they're not committed, they're perusing the market.

"An open house gives a house a lot of exposure," added Phillips, who works for Max Broock in Bloomfield Hills. "People driving and looking

"Open houses are probably better in a really strong market rather than slack," she said. "In strong market times, people are really aggressively looking and ready to buy."

Why do people go to open houses? "You don't want a hard sell, do you?" said Susan Lozano, who also works at Max Broock. "You're able to come in, tour the house, get com-

"A LOT OF people who go through open houses have no idea what the price range is," she said. "They just think the outside looks pretty. Under $100,000, people in that range can definitely tell, 'This is Going to open houses is a good way for first-time buyers, people new to an area and people who haven't bought or sold for a while to get a handle on what's happening before they get serious about shopping.

"I think the most effective time for an open house is shortly after it's listed, then maybe two or three weeks later," Leighton said. "At the very beginning, this takes care of neighborhood traffic. It's a preview for friends, family and neighbors who may know of someone who wants to buy."

An agent hosting an open house has the opportunity to meet all kinds of potential customers.

"If they're not interested in or can't afford that particular house, you're in a position to advise them on something else," Leighton said.

Metro MLS, the state's largest multiple real estate listing service, puts the area's housing affordability index at 125 percent. This means that a household with a median annual income of $33,380 has 25 percent more income than needed to buy an existing house at the August median price of $84,500.

Half the homes on the market sell for more than the median price, half for less.

"Based on lending requirements of the First National Mortgage Assocation, a household with an annual income of $26,713 would have qualified for purchase of an August median priced home in the area we cover," said Allen C. King, Metro MLS president.

Following a formula developed by the National Associaiton of Realtors, the local housing affordability index is based on a 20 percent down payment with a 30-year mortgage based on todays's rates, even though many homes are bought with lesser down payments.

Metro MLS listings encompass a 1,600-square-mile area in northwest Detroit and major portions of Wayne, Oakland and Livingston

AUTO RECONDITIONING

Seek court solution to parking problem What is the best way to deal with wrong repossession or damages in-

illegally parked vehicles that are owned by residents of the condomini-

Normally condominium documents give the association a wide variety of remedies including the towing of vehicles as well as seeking legal redress in the courts. While towing away of vehicles may appear to be the most expedient and effective in certain situations, there is no guarantee that the person will not bring the car back again or that he may not sue the association for curred as a result of the improper towing.

The preferable remedy, although admittedly more expensive, is to seek court intervention, assuming that you have attempted to seek redress through various administrative remedies at the condominium: giving notice, posting a sticker on the vehicle regarding pending legal action, and giving adequate notice of the intent of the association to deal with the problem.

Assuming that these measures have been taken, it would appear

condo queries

that seeking an injunctive order requiring the owner to comply with the restrictions is the most effective remedy because the court retains the right to hold the defaulting co-owner in contempt of court for failure to honor his obligations under the condominium documents. Robert M. Meisner is a Birmingham attorney concentrating his practice in the areas of condominiums, real estate and corporate law. Are you "CAT PEOPLE" ...?

500 Help Wanted

There are two kinds of people in this world — cat people and... well... everybody else. We are definitely cat people. Our clientele are all cat people. And our patients...? They're all cats. Nothing but cats. Nary a canary, a canine or chameleon. Just cats. We're Birmingham's only cat's-only veterinary hospital and health care center located on Worth Street (right behind Bethy's Health Food Store)...and we're looking for a few highly qualified cat people to fill some open staff positions. What does "highly qualified" mean? First of all, it means that you love cats and would absolutely adore the idea of spending your entire working day surrounded by the little critters. Second, it means understanding that our petents' human companions sometimes need more TLC than the cats do; and thus it means being able to have patience, compassion and gratefulness all the time. And third, highly qualified means that you're fully prepared to work in, and contribute to, a clinical environment of uncompromising professional standards and unequalled service excellence Li, you're, a. Highly, Qualified. Cat. Person. (HQCP), and are also a Licensed. Vet-erinary Technician, then we hope you might be interested in one of our posi-tions; you might even qualify without a 'Vet Tech degree, if you've had some experience in a community veterinary setting and more or less know your way around an animal hospital.

If you're a HQCP with a great telephone style and the ability to keep your wits about you when the waiting room is full, the exam rooms are all occupied, how sick tabbles are waiting pitalishy from an animal care suite in the rear, three customers are perched at the counter waiting for their computer-printed invoices and all four phone lines are ringing off the hook....then you're just the person we need as our Clinic Reception(stit).

We offer competitive salary packages, based on your level of experience and accomplishment. We also offer flexible working hours, a continuing education plan, state-of-the-art clinic facilities, a warm and interesting professional staff, a wonderful location, and a terrifice clientele. If you're a Highly Qualified Cat Person, follow your bliss at:

Models in the Long Lake Meadows Subdivision in Troy feature the return of front porches.

Porches of old: a 2nd living room

(AP)After years of being cut off from the outside world in centrally air-conditioned ranch homes, Americans are unlatching the screen door and catching a summer breeze from a porch swing, rocker or glider.

The front porch is a selling point for many new houses and is being re-stored rather than closed in or lopped off of older house and inner city rehab projects, according to Renee Kahn, co-author of "Preserving (Henry' Holt and Co., Porches"

Kahn, a housing preservationist and director of the Historic Neighborhood Preservation Program in Stamford, Conn., says the porch, exposed to the elements, is often the first part of a house to deteriorate. But removing it is usually destructive to both the building's and the neighborhood's character. The condition of its porches telegraphs the state of a neighborhood better than anything I know," Kahn says. "Unattractive porches are a clue to a deteriorating neighborhood. 'If you paint and repair it regularly and keep water from accumulating, a porch will easily last 150 years or more.'

Victorian porches were often enclosed during the winter with temporary panels of glass between the columns and rails and likewise screened to minimize the insect problem in summer.

BEFORE THE ADVENT of large metal screens, wood blinds, shutters, lattice work and draped fabric panels were put up to shield the porch from too much sun and insects. The use of striped canvas awnings dates back to the late 19th century. Reproductions of these old fashioned items can be purchased today.

If you have a porch in need of repair, Kahn suggests:

 Start by doing research on your own house. There are sometimes marks on the facade where parts were once attached. Most old houses were built from standard plans. Look around the neighborhood for houses of similar style that still have their porches.

 Books on old building styles are invaluable. "Preserving Porches," for example, pictures and describes characteristic porches of each of the main architectural styles of the 19th century and early 20th centuries.

· Consult a historical society for help. Local preservation groups may have photographs of old neighborhoods and lists of craftsmen specializing in restoration.

· Look for a sympathetic contractor. "A good carpenter understands that getting the details right is essential," Kahn says.

Once the basic structure has been restored, it's time to furnish the "OLD PHOTOS show porches furniture, potted plants and even oriental rugs on the floor. Some porches had shutters or blinds to shelter you from the elements," Kahn says.

Reproductions of old wicker, rustic twig, cast iron and metal wire porch furniture and planters are being marketed widely, and grass or sisal rugs are readily available.

Porches didn't really get started until the 19th century. 'Occasionally," says Kahn, "they were added to houses built prior to 1830, but mostly in the South where the climate encouraged sitting out-

Though we associate the porch with small-town life, it wasn't until 19th century industrialization that it came within reach of the middle class. Hand-carved "gingerbread" trim could now be stamped out yards at a time, and cast or wrought iron, once custom-made by a blacksmith, was mass produced.

Central heating and electric lights, which were in use by the end of the 19th century, eliminated the need to keep the porch from blocking out the hecame even more like a second living room, often shaded by awnings, screens and a flower trellis or two.

"Until World War I, front porches were an architectural and social necessity," Kahn says. But they were gradually replaced by a side or back porch or dropped altogether.

In the building boom after World War II, suburban developers dispensed with exterior frills for the sake of economy.

Porches make mini comeback

By Doug Funke staff writer

Many architects, builders and home buyers haven't given much respect lately to front porches.

But at least one builder here has found that customers will respond to front porches if offered as options on

John Bollan Jr., vice president for the Troy-based family company, doesn't know exactly why there's an interest, and he doesn't expect that it will become a trend.

But buyers seem to like the option on his models in the Long Lake Meadows Subdivision, Troy.

"I suppose a porch is more traditional minded and I suppose our customers are more traditional than contemporary," Bollan said. "This particular ranch (Meadowlark) is long and wide. From that standpoint, a covered porch gives it a little more warmth."

Bollan conceded that his porch evolved more from a design perspective than to serve as functional

But many of the porches, up to 20 feet long, on houses built by Bollan in Troy are well decorated with chairs, benches, planters and wall hangings that seems to indicate people spend time there.

Robert Stensen has lived in a Bollan model for three years.

"I GREW UP in Detroit in an oldstyle bungalow with an old-style porch across the whole house," he said. "I don't know if the relationship is there that caused us to buy this house, but it (porch) caught our eye."

His wife Luanne's decorative touches include an Adirondack chair, a couple of planters and a wreath

Tom and Mary Tsacoumangos moved into a new house less than a month ago and already have some planters out.

"I like front porches," she said. 'Next year, we'll put maybe a park bench in and landscape.'

"We traditionally sell to the second- and third-time home buyers," Bollan said. "They've already been in homes. They know a great deal about homes, what they want. They're buying laterally. It may be similar to what they have, but it's newer, cleaner lines, different things added on."

Porches, once considered primary social settings, now are regarded as entry enhancers. A couple of reasons larger, fancier models and lifestyle changes - account for the PORCHES EXTENDING across the front of houses limit design possibilities, said Robert R. Jones, a West Bloomfield builder.

"In our communities, the front of every house is different," he said. "I think if you put a front porch in, you've dictated what the design is going to be. For us, it would be lethal. How many ways can you design a big front porch?

'And the demand isn't there,"

Jones added. "People don't use it. When people come home from busy days, they want privacy, serenity, time to unwind."

"It's a question of privacy," concurred Irv Tobocman, a Birmingham architect. "The front is the nonprivate part of the house. Given the two choices, would you rather sit at the front or rear? Most opt for the Large porches were scaled down when smaller new houses were built in cookie-cutter fashion on small lots after World War II. But the porches were still well used. Young families, plenty of children, sidewalks, living in close proximity fostered a sense of community.

NOW WE have subdivisions - not neighborhoods - with larger houses on larger lots, sometimes no sidewalks and certainly fewer kids.

"These days, quite frankly, in many communities people six doors away don't know each other," Jones Also, a sense of cocooning has developed. People seem to want to be left alone in their secluded yards or master suites after work. Television, especially with dozens of cable options, has replaced people watching as a pastime. And who needs to sit on a porch to cool off with air conditioning? "If we want to be outside, decks, patios and terraces have moved to the back yard," said Bob Bryce, a West Bloomfield architect. "I guess it's for privacy." 'We never asked what drives people to pick a house with a covered porch," Bollan said. "It (porch) gives us an avenue of changing the front a little bit and we find it caters to our customers so we stick with it."

RANCHES AND other architectural styles are best suited to longer porches. Styles with several peaks and roof lines aren't as amenable. "Tudors, the towering look you try to create, doesn't lend itself to a horizontal porch," Bollan said.

There are other except general rule that people don't seem to want porches. "We're doing a house on Maple

Road with a nice entry, a little front garden so you go from the sidewalk through the garden to the door," To-bocman said. "It's possible we'll develop a front area for people to sit on a porch so they can be part of the street scene.

Bryce has a front porch on his West Bloomfield home on a site opposite a lake.

"I have a beautiful natural front yard with a stream running through. I like the feeling I get on the front porch looking at the yard. It's not necessarily a socialization thing, but a nice environment. The dogs watch the kids. It gives them something to

But on balance, front yards are smaller than rear yards. You can do more exciting things, creativity, in the rear," Bryce said.

pent-up demand apparently have sparked an uptick dramatically. in the new housing market here, several builders "Low interest rates have dramatically helped the new housing market," said Bernard Glieberman, president of Crosswinds Communities in West Bloomfield. "We had a record quarter (55 sales), and this quarter will be another (70 sales).

good prices and low interest rates." Thirty and 15-year fixed mortgage rates now can be obtained at 8% and 8% percent, respectively. Rates were three quarters of a percentage point higher on both options as recently as July. A % percent swing on a 30-year $100,000 mortgage translates to $54 per month.

We've had two of our best months ever," said Michael Horowitz, president of The Selective Group in Farmington Hills. "Number one, it's very aggressive pricing. Number two, we're competitive. And number three, we have a good product.

"PEOPLE SEE this as a good time to buy for value, and interest rates are icing on the cake,' Horowitz said. Selective signed slightly more than 30 sales contracts during the past two months, said Ellen Whitefield, marketing director. "Every site sold a lot in both September and August," Whitefield said. "I think lowering of interest rates certainly had something to do with it." Selective, which has projects going in Plymouth, Farmington Hills, West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills, had been offering some extras earlier this summer to stimulate demand, but less so now, she Glieberman said he's sold about 150 condominiums in Westland, with a starting price at $76,000, in less than a year. Affordability plus the lowest mortgage rates in years make for a great combination, to buyers. "It would be a factor," he said.

"Tremendously more people are able to buy to-down, let's go build a few specs," Whitefield said.

Steadily declining interest rates plus some incenday," Glieberman said. "The biggest thing and the "We like to keep a very steady pace. We don't do tives offered by builders to break the logjam of whole thing is the (mortgage) payment has dropped spec building based on (construction loan) rates.

Crosswinds also is now building in Farmington

LOWER INTEREST rates have led to more activity at a couple of projects involving Burton/ Katzman Development of Birmingham.

We are beginning to see sustained interest in the "These interest rates are a real opportunity for lower end of the market — a condo project in the people to buy," Glieberman said. "You have two low $90s (Walled Lake) is getting a significant things working at the same time. You have very amount of traffic," said Lawrence Goss, executive vice president. "In Brighton, more on the upper end at Pine Creek Ridge, we're getting a lot of interest from builders who want to buy lots on a spec basis," he said. "I attribute that to more confidence in the economy and interest rate certainly is a factor."

But traffic hasn't transcended to a dramatic jump in sales, Goss added. A corresponding drop in rates for builder construction loans apparently doesn't have as great an impact on housing starts. Construction rates are tied to the prime interest rate financial institutions charge their most credit worthy customers or consumer mortgage rates.

"BUILDERS AREN"T in a speculative mood today," said Michael Lubig, manager of the mortgage department for Standard Federal Bank headquartered in Troy. "Everyone is taking a pretty conservative approach today."

Al Marshall, manager of business development for First Federal of Michigan, agreed.

"There's probably less speculative model loans today," he said. "Builders are still shy. They're not confident about the economy." "It (construction loan rate) doesn't affect whether I build or not," Glieberman said. "Demand affects it." But he conceded that lower carrying costs, worked into the price of a home, can be beneficial

General contractors reported the greatest decline, with business volume dropping more than 20 percent, according to John A. DeMattia, CAM chairman and president of Lerner-Linden Co. Novi. He contended that Michigan's construction industry is composed of small businesses struggling to stay affoat during harsh ecoomic conditions.

There is a great misconception that construction companies are big with big jobs and big revenues. It's simply not true. In fact, 64 percent of our members are making a living by doing jobs that are valued at less than $250,000." DeMattia said.

More than half (5! percent) are oing after jobs that are worth $50,000 or less. That's consistent with national statistics that show than 84 percent of all businesses within the construction industry report less than $1 million in annual revenues; 71 percent report less than $500,000 a year.

THE SURVEY was undertaken in cooperation with the Construction Services Group of Deloitte & Touche. More than 17 percent of the association's 3,000 member firms responded to the survey. Deloitte & Touche tabulated the responses to protect nember confidentiality and worked with CAM to analyze the results.

DeMattia said the survey re-sponses reflect an industry that is clearly worried about increased competition, strangled cash flow and more trouble getting paid for work performed

CAM members reported an increase in ther competition for fewer available jobs. More than 43 percent of the members reported that they must compete with at least five other companies each time they bid a project, 12 percent reported competing with more than 10 other companies each time they bid a project; 12 percent reported competing with more than 10 other companies for more competition, contractors gamble more on each bid."

Nearly half (46 percent) of all business are in a worse cash flow position than they were a year ago, and 30 percent experienced their great-est financial losses during the second quarter of '91. Manufacturers were hardest hit with 37 percent reporting that they were in worse shape than three months previous to the survey. Sub-contractors ranked second with 32 percent listing their cash flow was worse than three months earli-

MORE THAN A quarter of the respondents reported that they expect it will take more than a year to collect as much as 10 percent of their total revenue. Twelve percent said that it could take longer than a year to collect up to 20 percent of their revenue. Subcontrators appear to be the hardest pressed with nearly half expecting to take more than 12 months to collect between 5 and 20 percent of their annual revenue. About 10 percent of the respondents believe they will be forced to write off between 5 and 10 percent of their outstanding revenue as uncollectible. John Fovensi emphasized the significance of the figures in comparison to profit margins in recent years. He is a partner and director of the construction services group of Deloitte & Touche.

"Considering that industry profit margins continue to shrink, a year delay in getting 10 percent of 20 percent of a company's earnings can mean serious financial trouble for many businesses," Fovenesi said. "A total loss of 5 or 10 percent can spell

"It's no secret that bankruptcy is a common part of working in such a high-risk industry, but the last few years have definitely seen an increase in business failures. Much of that can be attributed to lower profit margins, increased competition and a growing problem in collecting money once the job is done."

RESPONDENTS WERE asked to estimate the number of their competitors that would be forced out of business within the next year. Sixtyseven percent anticipate at lease one of their competitors will close over the next year. Twelve percent expect at least three to five competiors to lock the doors for good.

But DeMattia cautions against asming that all of these figures reflect the recession.

"Construciton is a risky business even in a good economic climate. There is probably a higher risk now because of the economy, but one of the advantages that smaller companies have is their ability to react to a downturn by cutting overhead and picking up their tools personally."

But 59 percent indicated that they have no plans to lay off employees. DeMattia suggest this may reflect that most companies have already made cuts to weather the economic storm, and they do not plan to cut further, although 16 percent reported that they do plan additional layoffs in the coming months.

While construction businesses con tend with cash flow and collection problems, material prices continue to rise. Nearly 70 percent reported an increase in material costs during the first part of 1991. The largest number (34 percent) reported price increases of between 5 and 10 per-

Survey respondents indicate that three types of projects currently account for most of the work: industrial and transportation jobs (26 percent), office buildings (19 percent) and educational facilities (11 percent). New construction is still providing the most work (57 percent), but renovation and maintenance acunted for more than a quarter of all projects.

About 15 percent of the respondents are considering expanding their business scope outside of the United States, the largest number coming from suppliers (29 percent) and manufacturers.

Thirty percent of respondents said they would not choose to make their living in the construction industry if they had to start a career today. Many charge that it is too easy for inexperienced people to enter the The respondents expressed worry that competitors who lack EMEMBER ALL the press and celebrations focusing on Earth Day last April 22? We heard and read how and why we should do all we can to help preserve Mother Earth.

Mother Nature is getting ready to put us to the ultimate test to see if we paid any attention on Earth Day. What's the test, you ask? Another Michigan winter.

Passing the test means making your residence as energy efficient as possible for the upcoming winter. Regardless of what type of house, condominium or apartment you live in, you want your place to use as little energy as possible so you can be kind to both our planet and to your budget.

There are several things to do to prepare your home for the cold Michigan months. Some of the things are simple and only take a few minutes of your time. Some require complex procedures. Some are inexpensive; others are costly.

It's up to you to decide how energy efficient you want your home to be. Just keep in mind that the more energy conservation practices you follow, the more comfortable your home will be this

OFFICIALS FROM both Consumers Power and Detroit Edison have general

hints for surviving the winter without costing you and their energy reserves a fortune

"Let the sun shine in when it's cold outdoors," said Kenneth Aho, Edison energy conservation specialist. "That way, you are using solar energy to help heat your house to a habitable temperature."

Aho had other general tips, such as dialing down your thermostat when no one is home for several hours, changing furnace filters at least once a month and making sure there's enough insulation where it should be.

He recommended not using an openhearth fireplace to heat your home. If you have an unused room, close the door and block its heat register

Both Detroit Edison and Consumers Power are concerned with insulation, ventilation and caulking. Edison has a home insulation program with low financing available. Call 1-800-482-2983.

If you want to check your house's energy efficiency yourself, call Edison at 482-2983 and request fact sheet copies.

"People who use energy from Consumers Power can call the Consumer Affairs Department at 433-5890 to request more information on home energy," said Dick Kravick, residential marketing services superintendent for metro Detroit. "They also can call 1-800-842-6971 for an energy audit.

Light bulb cost savings There's more to consider when selecting a bulb than just its cost. Certain types of bulbs have a longer life than others. "There are many ways to save watts of electricity and money at the same time," said Gene Beres of Detroit-based Splane Electric Supply, which has stores in Livonia, Madison Heights and Van Buren Township.

"You have to remember that every time you save a watt of electricity, you save money. You may have to spend $50 on light bulbs in order to save money in the long run, but the expenditure will reduce your electric bill every month and increase the life of your light bulbs."

Beres, in charge of lighting outside sales, says consumers can use a formula for computing savings on various light

He says to multiply the hours a bulb burns per day times 365 days times the watts saved by going to a lower wattage bulb times the kilowatt amount that Detroit Edison charges per hour, about 10-cents per hour (use .0001 in the formula). Then by comparing what each bulb costs and its life expectancy, you'll discover how much you are saving with the different bulbs.

"There are different kinds of light bulbs, called lamps, available on today's market." Beres said. "An incandescent light bulb is the regular bulb. There are different kinds of watt-saving bulbs that use a lower wattage to produce the same amount of light.

"Examples are General Electric's LECKIE ADDED that you can put a Watt-Miser and Sylvania's Super Saver. flow restricter on an old shower head but Then there's the halogen bulb results may be an unsatisfactory shower. (Sylvania's Capsylite) and the

Heating

Fred Angell, service manager for S&M Heating and Sales in Southfield, largest energy users in a house, said Tom suggested four things people can do to Plumbing in Livonia. He's talking about save energy: • Use a programmable thermostat.

 Install a humidifier. • Have the furnaces cleaned every winter and the air conditioner cleaned every spring. • Change their furnace filters once a month without fail.

"Programmable thermostats are necessary, particularly when people are out of the house for long periods of time." he said.

The best ones, he said, are made by White Rodgers and by Honeywell.

"Some of them are really incredible They come with a brain. After they've been on a wall for 24 hours, they know how long it takes to bring the temperature up or down to a certain level, so they will preempt the program and tell the furnace when to turn on. "This way, the furnace won't kick on at the time programmed; it will already have the house at the temperature you want it to be at that certain time."

Angell calls a humidifier "totally necessary. You want the moisture in the air during the cold months.

"Just think about what it's like in the summer when it's hot out with low humidity compared with what it's like at the same temperature but with a higher humidity. You feel the heat more with the increased humidity. That's what you want in your home in the cold months.

Windows

Windows can be either a friend or a foe during the winter, depending on what kind you have. If they are wood or vinyl windows, they are your friend.

Aluminum windows? Foe, said Gary Weston, president of Weston Window Replacement in Plymouth, Hartland and "Energy costs were inexpensive when num windows came out so they were widely used," Weston said. 'However, the aluminum frame actually conducts heat and cold air. It doesn't help keep it inside your home."

What can one do to help the situation? Replace the windows with either wood or vinyl frame windows, which would cost about $5,600 to $8,700 for an averagesize colonial house. Or, if that is too costly, use plastic window coverings over the entire window and frame to keep the heat in, Weston said.

"It's really best to replace with good windows if you can. They help increase the value of your house while you save on energy costs and have the use of the windows while you live there. You can save 20-30 percent of your energy costs if you replace aluminum windows with vinyl or wood.

"Storm windows don't help solve problem with aluminum frames, either All storm windows do is help decrease the ice buildup on your windows." If you do replace your windows, he recommends buying Type E glass. "This type of glass blocks out the sun's ultraviolet rays so it keeps houses cooler in the summer and reflects the heat back into houses in the winter," Weston said.

"Shower heads are designed to work on so many gallons of water per minute. If you reduce this number with a flow restricter, your shower head may not be worth using."

Leckie does recommend flow restricters on sinks throughout the house. He said they help reduce water usage from faucets. New faucets already have flow restricters.

New water heaters also are more energy efficient. They use less gas to heat the same amount of water in an hour than older ones and are better insulated.

"Most families don't realize that their hot water heater costs them between $220 to $250 per year to use," Leckie said. "Any reduction they make increases gas use efficiency.

"They can space their showers so not everyone showers in the morning, for instance. They can lower the temperature of their hot water heater to 120 degrees Fahrenheit or to warm. They can put a hot-water blanket on their heater.

"They also can wrap their water pipes particularly if they have a crawl space or live in a ranch-style house in which water travels from one end of the ranch to the other.

fluorescent unit that are even more energy efficient."

BERES COMPARED the bulbs this way: a regular 60-watt light bulb costs 55 cents and burns for about 1,000 hours. The 54-watt energy saver costs about 70 cents and burns for 1,000 hours. A 42-watt Capsylite bulb costs about $3.50 and burns for 3,500 hours. A 13-watt fluorescent bulb (suitable for covered light fixtures) costs about $7 but burns for 10,000 hours.

"If you use the formula to figure out how much money you'll save, you'll see you are way ahead by using the fluorescent bulb. If you burn a 60-watt bulb 10 hours a day, you're spending $21.90 for that lamp in a year. If you replace that bulb with a fluorescent, you're only spending $4.75 a year." Beres said.

For about $6 one can buy an adapter that changes a regular lamp to one that uses a fluorescent bulb.

Beres had these other tips:

• Ceiling Fan - Useful in both summer and winter for reducing energy costs. In summer, you want it blowing up to bring the cool air up towards the ceiling. In winter, have the fan blow the warm air off the ceiling. Keep the fan turning slowly so it doesn't cool the air Ceiling fans keep the thermostat from kicking on the furnace. They help maintain a uniform level of heat.

 Dimmer Switch — An excellent way to save energy because every time you save watts, you save energy and money. Good to use with ceiling fans to control their speed.

Motion Sensor Light Switch -Takes the place of an existing switch in a wall box. Turns light on when someone walks into a room and turns the light off when it detects no more movement in the room after a certain amount of time

"Also, the humidifier helps swell wood around windows to act as better insulators. It eliminates nasal congestion and electric shocks and make a home comfortable to live in."

PEOPLE NEED to be sure they are buying the right humidifier for their home. It needs to be designed for the home's square footage, Angell said.

Preventive maintenance on your furnace and air conditioner also is an energy saver, he said.

"You wouldn't expect your car to run smoothly without maintenance checks. The same is true for your furnace. It should be cleaned and checked every fall, the air conditioner checked every spring. This adds about seven years to your equipment's life expectancy."

Angell warns people to beware of telemarketers who call during the winter offering very low prices to clean your

"A good company can't do it for $29.95. Expect to pay about $50 for furnace cleaning. If a company condemns it, be sure to get a second that need nothing more than a relighted pilot light, McQueen said.

That done, the homeowner should change the furnace filters and oil the blower unit. Locate the access panel to the blower unit and remove it to reveal the blower fan and above air filters.

Instructions for oiling the blower unit and changing the filters often are found on the inside of the access panel, but the homeowner may have to go hunting for the owner's manual, McQueen said.

A rule of thumb is to change the air filters every two months during furnace use, McQueen said, adding it may even be wise to change the filters every month during heaviest usage.

Oiling the moving parts on the blower unit should be done annually in the fall. Experts also suggest cleaning the inside of the blower unit chamber as much as

For those furnaces equipped with a humidifier, McQueen said the homeowner can clean or replace the filter in that as well.

• BE FILTER WISE

Don Green, owner of D&G Heating and Cooling in Livonia, said most people think furnace filters are designed to filter dust and dirt particles from the air we breathe, which they do, but the real. reason for the filter is to protect the furnace blowers and burners.

First, a dirty filter impedes air flow and makes the furnace work harder, he

"I had a customer once who had a foot and a half of dirt in the bottom of the blower chamber," Green said. The customer was amazed when the furnace came on after being serviced and heated rooms previously left cold.

But filters also serve another valuable purpose: they keep the burners and heat exchanger clean, he said. Plugged or partially plugged burners prevent the furnace from getting a complete burn, which means less heat, but it also means incomplete combustion.

When burners or a heat exchanger aren't working properly, combustion creates an excess of carbon monoxide, which is harmful and can even be deadly, Green said.

The better the filter, the better off the homeowner is, he continued. "Ninety percent of the time, when we have to replace the blower unit, it's because people didn't change there filters."

The typical fiberglass filters with a light coating of oil found at some hardware stores are really only good for

New rage: direct-vent gas fireplaces

By Joan Boram special writer

Sound familiar? It should: it's a Michigan winter

Not to worry. Here's what to do: Get a stack of the latest magazines, a cup of hot cocoa, crawl into bed and reach for your ever-ready remote control. ZAP! You've got your direct vent gas fireplace to keep you warm.

Modern technology has come to the rescue of the frostbitten.

"Direct-vent gas fireplaces are a brand new product," says Dean Berry, owner of Fireplace and Spa, Southfield. "And we expect them to become a really hot

"You can put a direct-vent fireplace anyplace you can put a clothes drier; you just run the vent through a wall. They're really amazing. They offer the coziness of a fireplace with the heating abilities of a furnace. They're made to order for condos, townhouses or finished basements.

"On earlier units, the flame looked like a gas lamp. The newer models have an incredible flame for an unvented unit."

AT ATLAS Veneers and Fireplaces Troy, the staff sees a lot of people who are remodeling or adding additions or for a direct-vent gas fireplace," said Rob Matujow, manager. "The existing furnace may not provide enough heat for the new addition or the venting from furnace to addition may be so intricate that the air cools off before it reaches the

"With a direct-vent gas fireplace, they kill two birds with one stone: they get a cozy look and they can heat the new area very efficiently. You get heat, beauty and efficiency at a reasonable cost. The average operating cost is 10-15 cents per hour, including the blower."

"The direct-vent gas fireplaces are in the 99-percent efficiency range," Berry said. "And they produce 25,000 BTUs, maximum. 25,000 BTUs will heat 800 to 1,000 square feet."

Most unvented gas fireplaces come with a wood surround, available in different styles - English, French, modern, for example. Base price for a direct-vent gas fireplace is about $1,000 plus the cost of installation.

BOTH BERRY and Matujow agree that sales of wood-burning stoves are

"We couldn't get enough woodburning stoves during the Arab oil embargo," Berry said. "But people got used to paying high energy costs. And when wood-burning stoves were at the peak of popularity, the EPA got involved. Smoke emissions now have to meet environmental standards.

"Fireboxes are smaller. And burn tubes re-burn smoke to get rid of minerals and gases before it exhausts up the chimney, so you get a second burn from fuel. Other stoves have catalytic converters. The stoves are a lot more efficient now, but prices have almost tripled over the last 10 years.

"They're also much more decorative than they were. Earlier stoves were just a black box and functioned only as a heat source. Today, they're available in brass, glass, enamel and porcelain finishes. People use them like wall hangings; their primary function is

"Gas logs have become very popular, also," Berry added. "Three years ago, we sold practically no gas logs at all. So far this year, we've sold almost 7,000."

Prices for gas logs run from $99-$400.

AT ATLAS, many customers are enthusiastic about zero-clearance fireplaces, which offer the option (upon installation) of burning either wood or gas. Wood-burning units require a chimney vented through the roof. Gasburning units are vented like a drier.

"Our customers buy three selfcontained vented units to one woodburning unit. A lot of people make their decision on potential re-sale value. A fireplace will get a return of up to 25 percent when you sell your house. A wood-burning stove will get very little, if

"If you have green plants and the leaves are falling off, that's a sign of excessive carbon dioxide," McQeen said. Excessive carbon dioxide could mean a bad or dirty heat exchanger that needs repair or replacement.

Unusual noises like squeaks or even vibrations generally indicate bad bearings or a bad drive belt in a blower unit. McOueen said.

A furnace that kicks on and off during usage could mean a bad or dirty thermostat or it could be indicative of a more serious problem, McQueen said.

• SCAMS AND CHARLATANS

Fred Angell of S&M Heating Sales Co. in Southfield said one of the greatest problems facing the industry is the telemarketing scam.

Generally, the scam works like this: A phone call asking whether you want your furnace cleaned results in a visit. During the cleaning, the serviceman finds a problem such as a faulty heat exchanger.
Implying the existing furnactions dangerous, the serviceman offers to sell a new furnace at a good price. "He tells the homeowner they should put in a new $1,600 furnace or they may die the next day," Angell said.

Angell said the best way to protect yourself is to always get a second opinion if someone condemns a piece of equipment. He suggested homeowners are safer when they initiate the service call, rather than the company calling the homeowner.

"Another popular scam is called the mortuary scam. Disreputable companies keep a list of obituaries and then call several weeks later saying so-and-so wanted us to come out and do a service call this week.'

A dead give-a-way is the price these companies charge. "You can't clean a furnace for $29.95," he said.

Common sense dictates that a serviceman with $30,000 in parts, a $12,000 truck and being paid $10 an hour can't make a service call that inexpensively

When possible, Angell suggested homeowners should find out how long a company's been in business, should get a list of referrals and make sure the company is licensed.

If suspicious, Angell suggested calling the local building department for complaints and checking with the better business bureau.

• WHAT EXPERTS DO

Besides changing air filters and lubricating the blower unit, there's little a homeowner can do for today's furnaces, which is why most suggest having furnaces checked at least every

Time to buy a new door? Make sure it's a solid insulated core door. If the doors have glass panels, make sure they're insulated glass panels. Many exterior doors have magnetic seal weatherstripping, which helps prevents heat loss.

- Although water heater tanks are already insulated, some people prefer to add a water heater blanket. especially in homes where the water heater is in an unheated basement garage or cellar
- Water in exposed pipes or pipes in crawl spaces can freeze quickly in bitter cold, causing them to burst. Foam pipe forms and fiberglass wraps eliminate this problem.
