The Partnership Act provides $4 billion a year for the economically disdadvantaged. To save money, the Bush administration and lawmakers from the Sunbelt are suggesting cuts in the Energy Assistance Program. which helps poor families insulate their houses and pay heating bills.

Harsh weather translates to higher highway maintenance costs for Midwest states - a factor not addressed by the Surface Transportation Assistance Act.

"The Northeast-Midwest region was really a power broker in the United States Congress in earlier years because of the population explosion," said U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, who serves on the Republican coordinating committee on re-apportionment.

But the region lost a total of 17 Congressional seats in 1982, and is losing 17 again in 1992.

The longer it takes for the districts to be re-drawn, the more frustrated prospective candidates become. The delay works to incumbents' advantage by minimizing the time challengers have to raise money and campaign, say critics.

Both House and Senate and re-districting committee members say given their limitations.

Domestic violence: Yes, it happens here

Most battered women eventually leave their attacker but there hasn't always been a place for them to go

The shelter movement only began in Michigan in the mid 1970s. At first, shelters were primarily house-to-house operations. By decade's end shelter programs had sprung up throughout the state.

The problem, experts said, is that too few new shelters are being added

There area only three shelters in all of Wayne County Michigan's most populous county, and all are bustling with activity

First Step, with offices in Westland and downriver, is the only suburban Wayne County program

"WE TAKE people from all over—sometimes it's best that women seek shelter far from home. said First Step executive director Judy Ellis—But we primarily serve western Wayne and downriver—

Some 2,165 families participated in the First Step domestic violence program last year The agency's sexual assault program served another 219 people

The agency provides counseling, health care assistance, legal assistance and financial aid through its programs for adults and children.

Although it charges for services, fees are based on a sliding scale. No one is denied service due to inability to pay.

First Step received $50,000 in private contributions and $152,044 in in-kind services last year. While not a government agency, it did receive financial or in-kind support from Livonia, Westland, Canton and Plymouth Township, as well as other communities. It is also a United Way agency.

Sixty-five volunteers donated an average of three hours a week each to the First Step shelter and programs

Every battered woman, experts say, is testimony to a system that doesn't work

Police, prosecutors, judges and hospital workers could all do more to stop domestic violence, said speakers at a recent Wayne County sponsored seminar

County statistics are discouraging More than 4,700 Wayne County women were victims of domestic violence in 1990, according to the Michigan State Police Most were beaten by husbands or lovers, some by other family members. Nearly 300 were too terrified to even identify their attacker More than 150 women suffered permanent physical disability as a result of their wounds.

FORTY-EIGHT died

Statistics alone don't tell the story, former county resident Lucy Diebolt said

Now a successful businesswoman, and director of anti-abuse programs in Livingston County Diebolt was once a battered wife

For nearly a decade — beginning with marriage to "the boy next door" ending after being left, bloody and unconscious in her bedroom — Diebolt said she suffered victous and repeated beatings.

The beatings didn't stop when she ended her five-year marriage. Diebolt said They didn't stop when she was pregnant. They didn't stop when she went to police and prosecutors.

"One policeman told me. But honey, he's your husband," she said, the memory still fresh after nearly two decades.

"Finally, I just left," Diebolt said "I closed my house and walked away with my children."

The system failed Lucy Diebolt two decades ago and it has failed thousands of women each year since, county Prosecutor John O Hair said.

"Violence is a terrible disease, a sickness," O'Hair said

But Wayne County is trying to come up with a cure.

The county will soon appoint a domestic abuse task force whose chief goal will be to patch up the cracks in the system, said county executive's office spokesman David Katz.

The 24-member task force will begin work early next year, Katz said. Its members will be drawn from the county prosecutors office, area shelters. Detroit police, local clergy, county commissioners, 36th District Court staff, other county social service agencies and domestic abuse survivors.

The goal is to create a unified county approach to domestic violence

Experts generally agree there are five major problems, inadequate response from police, inadequate response from hospitals, inadequate response from courts, lack of adequate shelter space and an absence of programs aimed at those who abuse women.

Police response varies from officer to officer, experts said.

"SOME ARE quite good in dealing with these kinds of cases, others not so good," said Charlene Batchelor, a victims rights advocate with the prosecutor's Westland office.

Part of the problem is the lack of training police receive in handling domestic violence, said Port Huron Police Chief William Corbett, who is instituting a training program in his community, based on one he previously instituted in Ann Arbor.

What Michigan needs is a mandatory arrest statute, Macomb Prosecutor Carl Marlinga said, allowing officers to make on-the-spot arrests without the need for corroborating evidence

"We don't put victims of any other crimes through these kinds of hoops," Marlinga said "When someone robs a party store, we don't ask Emergency rooms have so far done a lousy job," Campbell said.

Change will come once the state adopts an emergency room protocol, said Denise Alexander of the state Domestic Violence and Treatment Board.

For the first time, she said, emergency room doctors and nurses will know exactly what to do in reporting domestic abuse incidents.

The best thing judges could do, Oakland County Circuit Judge Edward Sosnick said, is to treat victims

"WE SHOULDN'T prescribe change for the victim, it's not her said Sosnick, a member of the state Domestic Violence Prevention Treatment Board. "We shouldn't prescribe marital counseling, this is a crime, not a marital dispute.

"The problem is definitely in the suburbs, Ellis said. "The statistics are one in three (women) and that holds up whether city or suburb."

Counseling for batterers themselves is a new approach, without much information on whether it will be successful.

Right now, there are few facilities in metro Detroit.

"A lot of the people we see are sent to Washtenaw County, where they have a well-developed program," Ellis said. "There really isn't a concentrated effort here.'

Progress is slow at best said psychologist Lewis Okun, who has examined treatment programs for violent males.

County officials, however, believe the key to curbing violence at all levels is changing male behavior.

"I remember men who used to say, 'I had to take care of my woman," and we all knew what that meant," said Bernarnd Kilpatrick, county health director. "That kind of behavior has to change.

Shelter officials said county efforts were welcome.

'Really, we've been looking for something like this for 13 years," Ellis said.

"It looks like a good program, I wish we could get something like this going in Oakland County," added Success, however, won't be measured by shelter operators, police, doctors, judges or government officials. It will be measured by women

Tax info to come later because of state cuts

Michigan taxpayers will get their 1991 State Income Tax Booklets in the mail on Dec. 13 this year instead of early November.

"This is essentially a cost-cutting move designed to save the state the cost of duplicating mailings and early printing costs," said treasurer Douglas Roberts.

Those who file in late December or early January for their property tax and home heating credits can still expect about a three-week turnaround time on their refunds. But district offices will no longer prepare forms for citizens as they have in the past due to staff shortages, Robert said. Staff will be available to answer general questions and to refer citizens to volunteer groups providing preparation services. Staff will continue to provide training to volunteer groups so they can provide good service to citizens, he said.

Forms can be obtained by calling the FORMS-2-ME toll-free line at 800-367-6263, or at Secretary of State offices, libraries, post offices and banks throughout the state

Wayne-Westland school chief takes medical leave

Wayne-Westland school Superintendent Dennis O'Neill, blaming the school district's pheaval for "serious medical problems," inhounced Tuesday that he will take a three-month medical leave.

Though he didn't say when the leave this week with board President Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek and board secretary Leonard Posey "to discuss a transition plan."

After the meeting, O'Neill declined to cite specific health problems

In his speech to the board, O'Neill said that his retirement, amid pressure from a majerity of board members, has "triggered a reorganization of my priorities, and living has replaced the Wayne-Westland Community Schools on top of the list."

Under his doctor's orders, he said, "I have a medical report which will keep me off the job for at least three months."

Rapid-fire developments continued to unfold Tuesday night as O'Neill, in an impassioned and often-bitter speech, charged that the "irresponsible actions" of some board members threaten "to tear this district

Saying his forced retirement comes amid rumors that a half-dozen other cabinet members and principals are on a "hit list," O'Neill described morale in his administration as being at "an all time low."

O'Neill's comments came as he read delivered after officially announcing his plans to retire Aug. 31, amid pressure from board members Kozorosky-Wiacek, Vicki Welty, Laurel Raisanen and Fred Warm-

One of O'Neill's harshest critics, former board member David Moranty, confirmed that pressure may be put on other administrators to step down.

"Now that he's out, several other highranking school officials should take his lead and either retire or resign," said Moranty, chairman of the Wayne-Westland Citizens for Education Committee. "This is the start of a new beginning for a once-proud school system which has been humiliated by deception, dishonesty and incompetence. This is a new beginning for integrity, openness and credibility. This is a happy day for the citizens and students of the Wayne-Westland Community Schools."

O'Neill indicated that Thomas Svitkovich, deputy superintendent, and Bill Taylor, associate superintendent for employee services, are among those targeted by anti-administration forces.

O'Neill accused administration critics of trying to thwart Svitkovich's standing as one of two finalists for the position of Gibraltar school superintendent. O'Neill didn't name specific critics.

"When Tom Svitkovich is a finalist for a superintendency in another district and anonymous phone calls to the board members of that district are made to spread lies about his work record in Wayne-Westland in O'Neill charged that efforts to oust Svitkovich and Taylor "are just a few examples of the unprofessional and undermining be-havior which, if allowed to continue, is going to tear this district apart.

"You can put your head in the sand and deny these conditions exist, or as elected leaders of this school district you can begin to work together to address the critical issues honestly, not superficially," O'Neill told the board. "Getting rid of O'Neill may provide a quick fix and be politically pleasing to some of your supporters, but it is not going to treat the cancer which your behavior, attitude and actions continue to spread in the community.'

staff writer State officials would have an easier time weeding out teachers and administrators convicted of crimes under a bill before the House of Repre-

But Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, would like to broaden the bill to have the state Department of Education do criminal file checks on

"I think we should go with this bill, up or down," House Education chair William Keith, D-Garden City, replied to Kosteva. "At least this bill addresses a portion of the problem."

So Kosteva must either offer floor amendments or draft a separate bill.

THE FULL HOUSE could take up HB 4569 as early as today. It was reported unanimously out of committee Tuesday with support from Keith, Kosteva, Justine Barns, D-Westland, and Lyn Bankes, R-Livo-

'At least this bill addresses a portion of the problem.'

- State Rep. William Keith D-Garden City

Sponsor Terry London, R-Marysville, said he introduced the bill at the request of the Department of Education to assure it receives information about the conviction of teachers. HB 4569 would:

 Add two drug crimes — delivery to minors near school proprty and recruiting minors to deal in drugs - to the list of sex and child abuse crimes for which teachers could lose their certificates.

Bill would tell schools of criminal convictions

 Require county prosecutors to ask convicted persons if they are certified teachers and to report those convictions to the Department of Education.

• Require superintendents and school board presidents who are aware of such convictions to report them to Lansing

The bill would apply to non-public as well as public school employees. Their certificates could be suspended or revoked. They could request a state-level hearing.

KOSTEVA OFFERED a broader substitute version but then withdrew

"It requires that, prior to a new hire, a school district shall seek a criminal history check by the Michigan State Police using the LEIN (Law Enforcement Information Network) system," he said.

Even that has shortcomings, Kosteva said: "It only deals with in-state crimes.

Kosteva also wants school district checks to be run directly through the Department of Education and State Police, rather than local police, to reduce the number of people who handle the information.

Eleanor Dillon, speaking for the Michigan Federation of Teachers, preferred London's version. "We would support pre-employment checks if the mechanism were fair and accurate. But the LEIN system is flawed. At best it's 50 percent accurate," she said.

State probes voc-tech center

By Darrell Clem staff writer

State officials have launched a probe into allegations that some teachers at the Wayne-Westland school district's voc-tech center helped students pass their state automotive mechanics tests by giving them the answers beforehand

Although the investigation is continuing, it appears the claims are un-substantiated, said Fred Pirochta, a Michigan Bureau of Automotive Regulation representative.

Pirochta compared the disputed claims to the Senate Judiciary Committee hearings on whether Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas sexually harassed law professor Ani-

"Both sides are very believeable," he said Monday.

'We haven't completed our investigation, but it looks very doubtful that there were any improprieties," said Pirochta, director of the bureau's repair facility division. There does not appear to be any substance to the allegations."

Pirochta visited the voc-tech center last week and confronted school officials with the allegations, which were investigated earlier during an internal probe ordered by Superintendent Dennis O'Neill.

"We were convinced that there was no impropriety," O'Neill said Tuesday.

The state probe began after the automotive regulation bureau received a letter from leaders of the Wayne-Westland Citizens for Education Committee, which called for a 'full-scale investigation" into allegations that teachers helped students pass their state mechanics licensing tests by providing the answers.

THE SEPT. 20 letter came from the committee's chairman, David Moranty, and its vice chairman, Melvin Straight, a counselor at Wayne Memorial High School. They sought the investigation after a voctech teacher, who has not been identified, accused some teachers of improper conduct by giving out test an-

O'Neill charged that Moranty and Straight "in their usual fashion wouldn't trust us" to conduct a local investigation, and he called the state's probe "a waste of time."

If substantiated, the claims could threaten the center's standing among 63 centers in Michigan that are eligible for state certification in mechanics.

Moranty and Straight also sent letters to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the state Attorney General's Office and the U.S. Justice Department

Greg Baracy, the voc-tech center's principal, refused to comment Tuesday on the investigation.

"I have no comment until I hear from him (Pirochta)," Baracy said. Although Pirochta said the investigation isn't expected to be completed for one to two weeks, he added that there appears to be "no testing improprieties of any major extent."

PIROCHTA STRESSED that he came to the district "to look at this objectively" and said: "I'm not anxious to hide anything."

Unless someone comes forward with substantive information, he said, it appears the voc-tech center won't face any state action, and "we will continue to offer the state test at that site."

Pirochta indicated that both sides in the dispute appear to believe their versions. It's possible that some observers believed the teachers were giving out test answers when, in fact, they were using sample questions to help students prepare, he said.

Some sample questions and actual test questions are similar. Pirochta "I could see where (the accusers) thought maybe they (the questions) were from the state test,"

Bill lifts local liability for gun permits

Police in Garden City, Westland and several outstate municipalities would have no excuse to deny all pistol permits under a being prepared in the state Senate.

"SB 528 mandates issuing permits to qualified persons; it requires normal business hours (for gun permit offices); and it removes local liability," said an aide to the sponsor, Sen.

James Barcia, D-Bay City. The measure was pushed aggresively in the Senate Criminal Justice Committee Tuesday by Sen. Chris Dingell, D-Trenton, and the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC)

Lacking a quorum, the senators took no vote.

A rainy sunset Monday night was a backdrop for the Plymouth-Canton Vietnam Veterans of America Chapter 528 color guard practice.

Color guard stirs Vietnam memories

By Diane Gale staff writer

Bottled up feelings that Rich Whipple kept trapped for more than a decade started to come out when he saw the Plymouth-Canton Vietnam Veterans Chapter 528 color guard at a parade.

After serving in Vietnam, Whipple went to Michigan State University and found that although he had a hard time keeping quiet, it was better than trying to fight the

THE CANTON RESIDENT was at the Plymouth Fourth of July parade last year when he met up with the color guard.

"I was impressed that these guys had gone through the same stuff I did," Whip-

When he joined the group and became a part of the color guard himself he said it was his way of "coming out of the closet." At a recent parade to welcome home Desert Storm troops, he said the color guard received overwhelming applause. "I think people were thinking that we didn't get a welcome home," he said. "It sure felt good."

Monday night the color guard met at the Plymouth V.F.W. Hall before a chapter meeting. As they readied for their practice Hank Giles made an inspection.

A weak knee prevents him from marching, but it didn't keep the Canton resident from plucking and pruning at members uniforms and instructing them on how the flags should be held.

Known for its precision, the two-yearold color guard has been invited to events around the state.

And next month, the 15-member color guard will be at the Washtenaw County memorial dedication, a ceremony Gen. William Westmoreland has promised to attend.

"YOU CAN SEE how busy we've been," said color guard commander Tim La-Grow, holding out a list of parades and dedications the color guard has attended since 1990.

Some of the color guard members are working on a drive to raise money for the Canton veteran's memorial monument to be built on the south end of the administration building.

Five branches of the armed forces will be etched into dark rose granite with a star in the center and a metal eagle on top. It's dedicated to those who served in the armed forces during war and peace time. The cost is estimated at between $50,000 and $60,000.

Checks should be made out to the Canton Veteran's Memorial Association and sent to P.O. Box 871025, Canton, 48187.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON - A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Researchers in Europe found that an ingredient in the aptly named produce Food Source One actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutriion. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in intestinal absorption of calories.

While the development of Food

Source One, a project of National Dietary Research, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal. the discovery has been a windfall for overweight people. A Daytona Beach. Florida woman fighting a weight bat-tle for 12 years used the product on the recommendation of her physician

"The Skillman Foundation endeavors to support programs intended to improve the quality of life for all citizens of metropolitan Detroit, especially the area children and youth," said Smith.

'We chose to locate the Skillman Center at Wayne State University both because of the high quality of programs already in operation and the commitment it has demonstrated to improving services to chil-

The creation of this center will allow WSU to expand its efforts to serve the children of Detroit."

THE SKILLMAN Center for Children's primary objectives are

Provide a central resource for information related to the status of children in metropolitan Detroit;

Promote service delivery programs which are effective for children throughout southeast Michigan; and Present an annual appraisal of the status of children and effective service programs in the metropolitan Detroit area based on data collected from available resources.

Eli Saltz, MPI director, and Ann Sheldon, director of the family policy research unit within CULMA. will serve as the center's co-direc-

Sue Marx Smock, dean of CUL-MA, said the Skillman Center for Children will benefit from the expertise available in all 13 of WSU's schools and colleges. The center, she said, will bring to southeast Michigan the best models of service agencies from through-

The Skillman Foundation was founded in December 1960 by Rose P. Skillman, widow of Robert H. Skillman, vice president and director of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co.

The private foundation, which is active in southeastern Michigan and based in Detroit, controls $320 million in assets.

The foundation makes grants in support of children and young people, basic human needs, community-wide collaborative efforts, and culture and arts.

Pair plans demonstration of Old World craft at fair

strate the Swiss art of Kerbschnitzen, or wood chip carving, Sunday during the Old World Market at the Southfield Civic Center.

Presented by The International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit and the City of Southfield Community Relations Department, the 65th Annual Old World Market runs Friday-Sunday, Oct. 18-20.

Kerbschnitzen is only one of 14 old world crafts that will be demonstrated at the Market this year.

"Kerbschnitzen is a common art form in many parts of Europe," said Bill, a salesman at Woodcraft in Redford.

The Hughes' designs most closely resemble traditional Swiss designs commonly used to decorate all types of household items made of wood, from furniture and clocks to kitchen utensils and tableware.

The craft has gained popularity in the United States, Hughes said, Barton, a Kerbschnitzen artist from Illinois who has taught and promo the craft actively throughout North America in the past decade.

Bill and Linda both learned about the craft from Barton while visiting a wood carving show in Canada.

"It is not a difficult craft to learn," Bill said. "By the end of the nine-hour class I teach, some students are almost expert at it. The basic technique with the cutting knife is easy to learn.

"When holding the tool correctly, the shape of the knife makes the cuts into the pattern always at the correct angle, which is 65 degrees. Of course, practice is necessary to master the technique."

Only two basic tools are necessary for all Kerbschnitzen. A complete kit by Barton, including the cutting knife, a stab knife, a ruler, compass and instructions, is available at Bill's Woodcraft store

Chinh Vu, a 27-year-old Vietnamese refugee now living in Oakland County, is philisophical about

"I think everyone has a fate," he quietly observes in a shy, studied Vu's fate has been unduly harsh, robbing him of childhood, family and homeland, making him a citizen of a new country in which, after nearly a decade of living here, "I feel like I am different.'

His fate has also imposed upon him a unique disability, an inability to master English well enough to get a better job.

"I get along (speaking English) in everyday living, but for professional use, it's too hard. I'm like handicapped, like a person born with a handicap," he said of his difficulty in perfecting spoken English.

Employed in an east Detroit factory, he earns little more than minimum wage in a job with scant hope of advancement even though he has nearly completed credits enough to earn an associate arts degree from Oakland Community College in Farmington Hills.

His dream: becoming an air traffic controller or a pilot. Vu is currently enrolled in a flight course offered by OCC at the Highland Lakes campus in West Bloomfield.

VU'S BELIEF IN FATE may well account for his unusual ability to survive seemingly in tact a tragic past that others his age can only im-

"It's been a terrible life. I've seen a lot of bad situations, but I don't think about it. When I got here I told myself I didn't want to think about it anymore."

In 1975, when Vu was 10 years old, U.S. troops withdrew from South Vietnam, leaving behind terror and death at the hands of North Vietnamese conquerers. Vu recalls being told by his mother to hide. Dead bodies littered the streets of the farming hamlet where the family lived and columns of victorious Communist troops kicked up dust as they marched into Saigon an hour away.

Vu's father, a South Vietnamese army officer facing certain death at the hands of the northern victors, was lucky enough to be airlifted from Saigon to safety in the United States. It would be four long years before Vu's family finally learned he was even alive.

With the withdrawal of U.S. troops, Vu's mother, who worked on a U.S. air base, found herself unemployed and the sole support of seven, young children. Vu is the eldest. To feed the family, she bought and sold military uniforms at a flea market. Her youngest child, Vu's baby brother, died of malnutrition.

In 1982, facing military conscription, Vu and three brothers bribed their way out of the country, becoming legendary "boat" refugees seek-

"I STARTED WITH nothing and no one helping me. Being on your own, with no language. It's pretty hard," he said softly. Resettlement services provided Vu a small monthly allowance for 18 months.

In spite of a small Vietnamese community of some 10,000 people scattered in Wayne and Oakland counties, Vu feels socially isolated. When I go out in the community, I feel different. It's kind of hard to get along when you're different. I thought I was the only one who felt this way, but most of my friends feel the same as me.

"I'm looking forward to a better job but the future is not too bright. The hardest thing is language. When you get an interview you don't get the job because your language is not good enough.

"But it's still better here than over there. If I was there, I'd probably be doing nothing and know nothing."

Vu bases this last observation on what his mother writes. She continues to live in the family hamlet with Vu's youngest living brother and only sister. The brother is unemployed. The sister earns starvation wages as a seamstress. The family depends upon relatives in the west who take turns sending money to

FOR THE FIRST time in years, there is now hope Vu's family may ultimately be reunited.

Earlier this summer, Northwest Airlines began charter flights from Saigon to the west, carrying people who for years have been trying to join family members here.

Under relaxed Vietnamese emi gration policies, thousands are finally able to leave. Vu's mother, sister and brother are not among those now scheduled to come, but their departure is perhaps possible at a later

Vu has mixed feelings about his mother leaving her homeland for

"I have faced so many (immigration) problems that my wish for her is she stay in Vietnam and I send her money. It is better for her to live there. A lot of old people come here and end up staying home alone all day long. They have no friends. They can't speak English.

"That is my wish. But I still want her to come.'

Vu does not speak of his father, except in the past tense. Although they live near one another, they see each other only occasionally. Their relationship is an unspoken casualty of the Vietnam Conflict.

Cruel winter ahead

Homeless could find no shelter

The COTS shelter in Detroit has already turned away 4,000 more people this year than the previous

"NEXT YEAR, it could double," said shelter director Olivia Wilcox, who estimated as many as 800 people a night seek shelter in Wayne County

The 140-bed COTS shelter "has been full since 1989," Wilcox said. While there are other shelters in Detroit, the Westland center is the only one in suburban Wayne Coun-

Unlike COTS, which determines a person's length of stay on a caseby-case basis, the county shelter limits occupancy to 30 days in a calendar year.

"Our primary goal is to get people into permanent housing," kowski said. "Our goal is to help people help themselves."

That approach is prompted, in part, by requirements of the $1 million federal grant that helped create the shelter. (The shelter also receives community development block grant money from Westland, Livonia, Canton, Redford, Garden City, Plymouth and Plymouth Township, among other communities.)

But the by-the-bootstraps approach also represents the direct, no-nonsense philosophy of Makowski, a former college basketball coach, and county Executive Edward McNamara, the driving force behind the center's creation.

Though not alone in doing so, the shelter offers literacy classes and job hunting seminars. Families are also assigned case workers Homeless shelters could be forced to turn people away this winter, said Wayne County Family Center director Linda Makowski.

United Way

Summit meeting is needed

T'S TIME FOR the agency people in the Plymouth and Canton communities to get their collective acts together.

This is especially important since Gov. John Engler cut welfare benefits to the poor. Non-profit agencies that have programs which benefit the poor and others who need help often seem to be at odds with each other over who gets the money to do the work. It's not a pretty sight to see these non-profit agencies at each others' throats for money. We hope that won't happen, but we suspect it will.

Here's the problem: Plymouth has it's own United Way. Money is raised, with the annual fall campaign under way, for agencies in Plymouth which also serve residents in Canton Canton doesn't have its own United Way. Money from the community goes to the Southeastern Michigan United Way.

Arguments can be made to either scrap the Plymouth United Way and put the money into the regional United Way or have Canton join with Plymouth. Resolving that issue should be a goal for agencies in the Canton and Plymouth communities.

BUT UNTIL THAT happens, we think its time that folks in both communities hold a summit meeting to iron things out. Somebody needs to get practical.

Tom Yack, Canton Township supervisor, has taken a step in that practical direction by talking to the Plymouth United Way about having a joint Plymouth-Canton drive. That's a good direction

To us, local is better. A Canton-Plymouth United Way would benefit both communities and it would give local agencies one place to go for

We suspect that some would argue that Canton

A Canton-Plymouth United Way would benefit both communities and it would give local agencies one place to go for money.

pulling out of the Southeastern Michigan United Way means less money for poorer communities. We're sympathetic to that argument. If every wealthy suburban community went it's own way, there would be little money for the poorer communities that really need the services.

We don't want to see a United Way system that is basically welfare for the middle class and rich. That's why we'd propose a Canton-Plymouth United Way that donates a portion of its take to the regional United Way.

But that's one of the topics that could be discussed at an agency summit meeting. Such a meeting could be proposed by Yack because he's already leaning in that direction. At such a meeting should be political leaders from the city of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township, along with Plymouth United Way folks and people from agencies.

Out of such a meeting, we would hope that some sort of coalition would be formed that could handle the inter-agency squabbles and funding of programs for the poor.

From what we're hearing about Engler's welfare cuts, they're here to stay. Instead of fighting them, we think it would be smart to figure out what community resources there are to deal with the problem.

It's time to move forward, instead of bickering. It's time for a United Way summit meeting in the Canton-Plymouth area.

Our arrogant leaders forget public's needs

WE ARE NOT governed by citizen-politicians who take time out of their careers and family responsibilities for a spell of public service.

We are governed by a separate political class, people whose life work is winning and holding elective off-

I have been making this point for years. And so the events of the past week failed to take me by surprise, other than to demonstrate just how crass and arrogant our leaders have

We learned that many members of Congress — including Michigan Democrats John Dingell and Dale Kildee and Republican David Camp - used the House of Representatives bank as a free check kiting

We learned that dozens of Washington lawmakers had stiffed the House dining room for more than $300,000. And we learned that a daily function of the House sergeant-atarms has been to fix local parking

When a separate political class governs other mere citizens, you can expect this kind of nonsense. A New York Times poll found that the American people regarded members of Congress as "corrupt, pampered by unnecessary perquisites and arrogant about their power.'

THE SAME can be said for our leaders closer to home in Lansing: the Michigan House, Senate and members of the office of Gov. John.

As they knocked 83,000 poor and jobless Michiganians off the welfare rolls and into a struggle with survival, our political masters were cooking up a quiet little deal to feather their own nests.

In the final conference committee meeting on the general fund budget (closed to ordinary folks, of course, because we wouldn't understand), the House conferees proposed increasing the budget for both chambers by $8.2 million. The Senate leadership gladly went along.

This increase comes to more than 10 percent, three times Michigan's inflation rate. It includes restoring a 9.2-percent cut, adds about $1 million for each chamber for moving costs, and increases printing (to send you and me those timely and interesting newsletters), Social Security and retirement benefits!

Engler's staff went along for an extra $325,000, plus $58,000 that appears to have come from a simple multiplication error.

When asked about trying to have it both ways, Engler's chief of staff, Dan Pero, replied that the governor's office was "badly overworked." I don't doubt it. I also imagine that most people cut off from General Assistance appreciate how overworked the governor's office is.

WHAT IS scandalous is that the decision to pour money into the already cushy jobs was taken in silent conspiracy. Both Republicans and Democrats went along. Class solidarity among our political masters Philip surpasses partisanship any day. The only person on the inside of these dealings who beefed was Dick Young, a sensible Democratic House member from Dearborn Heights. "I don't want to look like a flaming hero, but I warned them that increasing their budgets at this time: didn't make a heck of a lot of sense," Young said. "When the Wayne County morgue is filled up because of the way we're cutting the budget, we shouldn't try to go back to business

The deal gave the Department of Management and Budget, run by Engler's chief budget cutter, Patricia Woodworth, an extra $950,000.

I suspect Woodworth got the check just about the same time she signed the letter threatening the Detroit Institute of Arts with complete elimination of state support if they didn't quit beefing about their cuts.

Just like the man says, that has, gets.

Hands off!

Prosecutor wrong on obscenity

ET'S MAKE A deal: We won't play cops if the cops won't play with our right as mature adults to make judgments based on our own values.

One man - the Wayne County prosecutor has no right to rule on what is obscene for the general public.

An Oct. 2 raid on a video warehouse in Livonia is proof. At least four agencies were involved in the raid in which officers converged on General Video for 11/2 days.

What the officers found were thousands of adult magazines and videos. The material was initially ruled obscene and then impounded while awaiting destruction.

DESPITE THE huge amount of material involved and the large number of police officers who participated in the raid, the owners of General Video have been charged only with misdemeanors.

That's a good tip that the scales between what the prosecutor believes is his right to judge obscene and the number of officers involved just

If it's true that a few can tell the many what is good for them, the reverse also can be true. The public has a right to ask whether it was good for several community budgets to pay for an apparent excess of officers at the raid.

Don't mistake our criticism for support of pornography. Our residents have a right to be outraged by pornography, especially child pornography, for which there is no defense. But our residents are the ones to decide what is obscene, what they will watch and what they will

For now the Wayne County prosecutor seems to think the privilege lies with him. He's wrong.

So it really isn't "adult material" that we're discussing. We're discussing an ordinary citizen's right to make decisions without the unasked-for guidance. The Wayne County prosecutor needs to be told that we aren't too teeble-minded to make those decisions.

Defending it can be awkward, as the ACLU found when it recently supported the right of white supremacists to protest in downtown De-

The ACLU, however, was defending everyone's ship. The issue is the same when it comes to the right to publish without censorship, a right that is threatened by raids such as the recent one in

Charter vote not road to isolationism

To the editor:

Regarding your October 10, 1991 editorial "Crossroads — Isolation-ism for Plymouth," you do your readers a grave disservice in trying to mislead them by confusing the vote to amend the city charter with

A vote to change the charter has nothing to do with other city involvements and activities, and you know

You are simply trying to use such questions as themes, commercial development and inter-community cooperation to cloud the real issue: that of the people deciding whether or not they want to participate in the major decisions of our city. You underestimate the intelligence of our electorate.

Plymouth voters know that by voting "yes" to change the charter they are not voting against anything. By voting "yes," what they would be saying to city hall is that if the city wishes to buy an airport, the people of the city are open to talk about it and then let city hall know whether or not they want to.

Thank God the people of Plymouth are smarter than you think they are.

Middle class deductions are eroding

Congressman Carl Pursell, of Plymouth, Michigan, has sent out a Congressional alert about preventing any further reductions in the tax deduction for home mortgage interest.

Pursell also notes that "over the years, more and more taxpayers find their tax deductions being taken

I share Pursell's concern about the increasing tax burden the middle class and small business has been forced to bear, to finance what has become a welfare handout for the True tax fairness would suggest that many of the tax deductions eliminated in the past few years be restored.

Interest certainly — those with money pay cash for their cars. Ninety five percent not so well off have to buy on time and this covers furniture, appliances, clothing, etc.

In these days of recession, and even before the recessions, both husband and wife had to work to buy what one income brought before. The two wage earner tax deduction should be restored.

Teachers, mechanics, building trade workers, sales people, etc., are victims of a 2 percent of adjusted gross income deduction from the things they have to have for their jobs - tools, work clothes, work education, etc. The 2 percent should be

In eliminating the sales tax deduction, we are now paying income tax on the sales taxes. This is double taxation. There is no reason for this. Bring back the sales tax deduction.

If some one were to dig into what is behind the recession - the answers are simple - the great majority of people no longer have the money to buy what they used to buy.

They are paying the price of higher taxes and a service economy, an economy that weakens the basic buying power of the middle class taxpayer, the backbone of a strong and prosperous America.

He staunchly defended state rights and personal liberties

NE OF THE most outspoken critics of the original Constitution and an eloquent advocate of the Bill of Rights was Elbridge Gerry of Massachusetts. In debating the necessity of the Second Amendment giving militia the power to arm themselves, some delegates responded that militia were worthless as military forces. Gerry replied, What sir, is the use of a militia? It is to prevent the establishment of a standing army, the bane of

Gerry was very active in the 1787 Constitutional Convention, yet, when the time came for signing the Constitution, Gerry refused — one of only three delegates to do so. Gerry felt the Constitution had two serious deficiencies: It lacked a bill of rights to secure the liberties of the citizens, and the central government possessed too much military power.

Bill of Rights

Today, Gerry is remembered for backing a congressional redistricting technique to keep his party in power, the "gerrymander." Early Americans remember him, however, as a staunch defender of states' rights and personal liberties. John Adams once wrote of him: "If every man here was a Gerry, the liberties of America would be safe against the Gates of Earth and Hell."

Hill v. Thomas betters working

THE WORKPLACE MAY never

Following Hill v. Thomas, C.E.O's all over the country are reviewing their sexual harassment policies. A C.E.O. in my own house is doing the same.

And well they should.

Because, as you now know, nearly every working woman has a story. And most certainly every workwoman journalist. So if you're tired of that - stop reading NOW.

My first job fresh out of college in the '60s was as an assistant editor for the employee newsletter for a-New York City electronics company. One of my duties was to inerview four or five employees each week on an issue of the day, nuch like the Community Corner which appears in this newspaper. I also had to take their pictures.

Judith Doner Berne

Each Monday, the job required my going out into the factory where the rule of thumb was to whistle and make crude remarks upon the appearance of, I would assume, any female. Amidst that I had to wade into a group of these workers and do my job.

In Texas two lawsuits are in the works against companies, whose employees were involved in auto

IN THESE HARD economic times, businesses throughout the land are getting lean and mean, as they say. Many are laying off employees or have instituted hiring

But for those in personnel and yes, law, neither may apply.

Between reviewing and updating sexual harassment policies and tackling the area of business drinking, they'll be busy.

And the workplace should be better for it.

Bell makes more, is employing less

MONEY, MONEY, money. Michigan Bell, which used to be the telephone company, has money coming in from every direction these days. And it wants even more.

The state's population has been stagnant for a decade, but Bell hasn't heard the bad news. In four years, its number of customer lines has increased 2, 2.5, 2.6 and 2.2 percent. Has anyone else's customer base grown 9.7 percent in four

How? Spot the homes with teenagers and sell them a second phone line (so they can get ripped off by those 900 numbers). Sell more lines to businesses.

Our economic pie may not be growing, but Bell is widening its

IF YOU THINK Bell is a great place to look for a job, think again. In 1989 it cut 600 jobs, in 1990 it whacked 900 more and this year will slice 200 jobs - 1,700 lost jobs, or more than one-tenth of its current 16,000 work force.

How's that for a money-making machine in tough times?

Last week Bell began offering a credit card. The boldface print trumpets interest rates as low as 16.8 percent. The tiny print on the back, however, says the interest rate on the first $999 is 19.8 percent - plus a 50-cent "billing fee."

Already got a credit card? Shucks, says Bell, use our card "to pay off balances on more expensive cards." How's that for attacking the old American virtue of thrift?

NOWADAYS, only 90 percent of Bell's revenue comes from "communications services." The rest comes from "billing and collection services, rents and directory advertising."

Those yellow pages have so much advertising that they're unwieldy. The business is so huge that it's organized as a separate subsidiary, Ameritech Services Inc.

If you want to find the price of anything, however, tough luck, Mr. and Ms. Consumer. Bell's pal doesn't run price advertising.

Michigan Bell is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Ameritech, one of seven regional companies created after the 1984 breakup of the AT&T Goliath. But that's not stopping Ameritech, which last year joined Bell At-from the far corners of the globe. It's all in the Bell's IRS report, a difficult document to obtain if you look in the Ameritech directory.

WITH SO MUCH money coming in and so many workers going out during such bad times, you'd think Bell would lie low in fear of a backlash.

Bell is more aggressive than ever, launching a vehement attack on the state's "nearly 80 years old" telecommunications law. Bell wants to invade even more industries cable TV, fiber optics, two-way video, services for the hearing impaired, and so on.

Like the beat-beat of a tomtom, Bell's fleet of lobbyists chants 'competition, competition, competi-

Why? Don't we have several giant cable TV companies? Don't we have plenty of competition in all the

The real danger is that Bell, as a near monopoly, might misuse its current protected position. It could use phone workers to install other telecommunications equipment, then hide the latter costs in the telephone end of the business, undercutting the competition.

The bill's sponsor, state Sen. Mat Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion, assures us the bill would "strictly prohibit cross-subsidization."

And who's going to regulate Bell to make sure it doesn't cook its books to compete unfairly against the little guys? Michigan has record welfare and education spending, but is constricting its regulatory budget. We shouldn't trust Bell. And we can't trust the state to regulate Bell's cost accountants. Money, money, money - and more of it for Bell.

School systems harassed women

QUESTION: This past week has been filled with the Clarence Thomas and Anita Hill issue. Who is telling the truth or not, I don't know. How much does sexual discrimination, harassment or sexual misconduct exist in education? ANSWER: I vowed that I would leave sex, other than sex education, out of my columns. Yet, in this enlightened era, I guess the former shock value of sex is just common talk today. Sexual discrimination was so common place when I started in education, I didn't even know it existed. It was a way of life.

I personally (not bragging, but more ashamed) didn't recommend a woman for directorship of a federal grant in the mid-'60s because she would be working with dirty, tough kids. As a young, first-time administrator, I believed it was a position

The woman I turned down told the board of education president - a very bright and beautiful woman, a person I deeply respected - about my rationale for not recommending her for the job.

The board president, an honors graduate of a prestigious university, spent two hours with me. They were probably the best two hours of my life as to understanding sexist attitudees and stereotypes. I knew I was wrong and sex never rose its ugly head with me in appointments for administration during my next 22 years in education. But that hasn't always been the case!

I REMEMBER when women first broke into the central office, usually as reading consultants. That was because reading consultants in the '60s centered around the elementary schools, which was where women be longed, according to conventional

By the '80s, some women had made it to an assistant superintendent position - some, not many.

And these women who have made it to a superintendent position were as brave or crazy as the pioneers who traversed the country in covered wagons.

One woman superintendent friend of mine never carries a woman's purse to superintendent meetings. She tells me it immediately categorizes her as a female - not as a peer as soon as she enters the door where the 27 other superintendents are sitting - all males. Yes, it has been a tough struggle. But because of the Thomas/Hill fiasco - regardless of your position women will be even more commonplace in major leadership roles because of their own competencies

as opposed to tokenism or quotas. As discrimination of women in education is defusing, so will harassment. It is not a matter of good taste; it has become a matter of job protection for males so inclined.

YOU SAID you hoped that our teachers and administrators were above sexual discrimination, harassment and sexual misconduct. Probably no more than in any business where females and males work together, but I will give you an example of tabloid type sexual miscon-

An elementary administrator I knew, a great guy but a real ladies man, always recommended very attractive single women and would bypass female job candidates some believed had more talent. His philosophy was: There are plenty of candidates out there, hire the best looking, unmarried candidate.

Many other stories could be told. My purpose, however, is not to try to shock or entertain.

It simply is a fact that we, in education, discriminated against women for years. And, yes, we have the same sex issues found in any work

The majority of our teachers and administrators are beautiful, go-towork, go-home-to-family people. But sexual discrimination, sexual misconduct and some sexual harassment still does exist. If you don't buy this, your view of educators must be that they come from a different planet.

Center residents are expected to clean up after themselves and at the time of one afternoon tour - the place was much tidier than any college dorm.

At present, there are 104 people or 26 families in the shelter. Not all are happy to be there.

Jamie Carter, a western Wayne County resident who recently spent three weeks at the shelter before finding a job and permanent housing, was critical of her Makowski said center staff strives to keep all living areas as clean as possible. Still, she said she wasn't surprised a resident would have complaints.

"Often, we encounter hositility," Makowski said. "Homeless people don't want to be homeless.'

Most people have no idea of who the homeless are and how they get that way, she said.

"YOU HAVE to get over the perception that the homeless are the homeless people you see por-trayed on TV," Makowski said. "I wouldn't say homelessness is a result of education, from what I see it's more about the availability of jobs and housing."

Even in relatively good times, availability of shelter space is also

'We can handle referrals from First Step (a local shelter for victims of domestic violence)," Makowski. "We can promise these women confidentiality."

Though the shelter has eight fulltime staff members, its day care center and other programs are also staffed by volunteers.

Canton prevails in WLAA contest

staff writer

Plymouth Canton girls basketball coach Bob Blohm stood at the blackboard following Tuesday's game with Livonia Stevenson and diagrammed defensive strategies.

The focus of Blohm's explanation was the Canton defense.

"We made some stops when we needed to, but there were times when we got burned," he said. "I really thought we'd do better on the defensive side of the ball. But, hey, we won the game."

Canton nipped the visiting Spartans 70-67 in a showdown between unbeaten Western Lakes Activities Association teams.

The Chiefs trailed 67-66 with one minute remaining, but sophomore guard Britta Anderson hit a jumper with 43 seconds left to put Canton, 68-67.

Junior guard Amy Westerhold hit a pair of free throws with 22 seconds remaining to seal the win.

"Although we didn't execute well tonight, we made the plays when we had to," Blohm said. "You have to give our girls credit for that."

THE CHIEFS improve to 10-2 overall and 6-0 in the WLAA. The Spartans are 9-2 overall and 5-1 in the WLAA. Canton extended its win streak to eight games while snapping Stevenson's six-game victory

"One of the consolations for us is that we get to play Canton again lat-er in the season," Stevenson coach Chuck Hebestreit said. "Maybe that time the outcome will be different."

Stevenson had the Chiefs on their heels in the opening quarter, taking leads of 12-6 and 18-11. The Spartans led 22-16 after one quarter.

Canton rebounded in the second quarter, taking a 30-28 lead with 3:08 left on a short jumper by junior forward Kelly Holmes. The Chiefs led 36-32 at the intermission.

Canton continued its pace until late in the third quarter when Stevenson junior guard Lori Shin-gledecker made a layup and was fouled. Her free throw tied the score at 49.

Senior center Teresa Sarno then reeled off back-to-back jumpers, and the Spartans led 53-51 after three quarters.

In the final quarter, the lead changed six times, but Canton managed to come out on top.

JUNIOR CENTER Stephanie Gray, despite being double teamed, paced Canton's scoring attack with 28 points. She connected on six of 10 free throws and also pulled down 10 rebounds.

"Stephanie did a good job of dishing the ball off tonight when she didn't have a shot," Blohm said. "She didn't force anything. The way Stevenson had its defense set up, as soon as Stephanie got the ball, she was surrounded."

Holmes chipped in 13 points for the winners. Westerhold and sophomore guard Alyson Noune added 11 and 10, respectively.

Sarno tallied 28 points in a losing cause for the Spartans. Shingledecker contributed 14, while junior forward Karen Groulx added 13, including a pair of three-pointers. Sophomore guard Mo Drabicki had 12.

Plymouth Salem became the third Western Lakes Activities Association team to qualify for the Class A finals in girls tennis

The Rocks didn't know if their season would continue until early this week after the championship matches of the Dearborn regional tournament were postponed Saturday because of bad weather.

Dearborn was first with 18 points, Salem second with 17. Plymouth Canton (16) finished a strong third - three points ahead of Dearborn Fordson (13). The top two teams in each regional qualify for the state event, which takes place this weekend in Midland.

WLAA members Livonia Stevenson and North Farmington finished one-two in the Waterford Mott regional Saturday. WLAA champion Farmington Hills Harrison failed to qualify a third consecutive year for the Class B finals, finishing third in the Bloomfield Hills Kingswood tournament.

"The nice part about this tournament is that we were not going up against the Ann Arbor schools for a change," said Salem coach Judy Braun, who was named regional coach of the year.

WE KNEW it was wide open and we had a real good chance to win the tournament. Anyone could have won and we happened to be a little stronger at a few key spots.

The host Pioneers and Salem were tied for first place with 16 points apiece entering the finals Monday. Canton was third with 15.

Senior Kathy Marschak and junior Susie Bozell were not regional champs, but they played excellent matches, according to Braun, and finished second at Nos. 2 and 3 singles, respectively.

Salem's Jennifer Clack and Deepa Sreenivasan had first-round byes and won their first matches before losing in the semifinals at Nos. 1 and 4 singles. Anne Bartalucci and Adrienne Weckerle also reached the semis at No. 3 doubles. Kelly Kirkpatrick and Leah Szafran were unseeded at No. 1 doubles but won a match before bowing out.

Braun has taken a number of other Salem teams to the state tournament, finishing as high as fifth in 1981.

We're just hoping for the best," Braun said. "I know we certainly are not at the bottom of the spectrum. I think we're somewhere in the middle.

"How the draw goes is always a big factor. I don't think we have anybody who will be considered for a seed, but if we get a good draw we could do fairly decent."

Canton's Ellen Gaston was runner-up at No. 4 doubles, and Tanya Berner of Livonia Franklin won the first singles championship and became a state qualifier for the third straight year.

CC prepares for playoffs with 2-1 wins

Redford Catholic Central ended the regular season with a flurry. The Shamrocks raised their boys soccer record to 15-1 with a 2-1 triumph over Ann Arbor Huron in a non-league match at Bell Creek Park.

Clayton Campbell's unassisted goal in the second half proved to be the game-winner. Rich Walos staked CC to 1-0 lead at the 16-minute mark of the first half from Kerry Zavagnin. But the River Rats tied it 14 minutes later, setting the stage for Campbell. On Saturday, Zavagnin scored at the 18-minute mark of the second half, leading CC to a 1-0 triumph at Plymouth Canton. Walos assisted on the goal. Goalkeeper Jeff Sawicki made four saves to preserve the shutout, the 10th this season for the alone made it an important game. The outcome made it even more significant for the Chiefs, who defeated Salem for the first time in three years Wednesday night, 2-1.

After losing in the 1988 district tournament, the Rocks were unbeaten in eight consecutive games with Canton, including a 2-2 tie earlier this season.

"I was a freshman when we beat them, but I didn't play," said Canton senior Chris Hayes, who gave the Chiefs a 1-0 halftime. "Actually, this is the first time this team has beaten Salem. Any time you beat Salem it's a great feeling."

It was also the first time one of Canton coach Don Smith's teams have beaten the Rocks. He replaced Mike Morgan as head coach in 1989.

"IT MEANS a lot to us," he said. "The boys wanted this one. They were tired of losing. We've always played a good ball game against them but never picked them off."

Canton is 11-6-1 overall, the No. 7ranked Rocks 11-4-2. Both teams were runners-up in their respective WLAA divisions. Churchill and Stevenson tied 1-1 in the championship

The Chiefs seemed the more energized team Wednesday, especially after Hayes scored the first goal 10 minutes into the game.

"If you get that first goal, it's going to fire up the team," Hayes said. "They're probably the better team on paper, but momentum and intensity are what usually win this game

"IT WAS THE usual Canton rising," Salem coach Ken Johnson said, adding the Chiefs looked flat in losses to Ann Arbor Pioneer and Catholic Central but were inspired as always against Salem.

"They actually looked more fired up and more intense — and yet we were down in their end. How do you explain that? If we had put the shots in, would the best team have lost?"

Smith applauded the goalkeeping by Bradley, who plays full time since a knee injury ended the season for fellow keeper Ryan Henkel. "I told him to 'Make them shoot it

Schoolcraft streak ends in volleyball

After six-plus seasons and 58 consecutive victories, Schoolcraft College's volleyball team lost an Eastern Conference match - the first since Tom Teeters became coach in 1985.

"It was a valiant try," he said of his team's 15-5, 16-14, 5-15, 16-14 loss to Mott CC. "I feel we did the best we could, but we lacked consistency. There are things we have to work on. We've got to get our outside attack going a bit more.

SC was hampered by the loss of outside hitter-setter Nancy Ehlert, who injured a knee 10 days earlier and will be out another two weeks. Also, setter Keli Haeger severely sprained an ankle in SC's 15-5. 15-1, 15-0 win over Delta CC Oct. 9. Haeger played against Mott, but her performance was limited. Renea Bonser led SC with 24 kills. Kari dasek had 14. Haeger finished with 51 assists-to-kills. However, SC's outside hitters combined for just 15 kills.

The loss put the Ocelots in second place at 4-1; Mott is 5-1. SC is 22-8 overall.

LAST WEEKEND, with both setters ailing (Haeger played briefly in one match), SC finished fifth at the eightteam Jefferson College Tournament in Hillsboro, Mo., with a 3-4 record. The Ocelots did beat the top finishing team in the tournament — host Jefferson, 15-13, 15-11. Van Deusen had 19 kills with a .293 average and four solo blocks, and Bonser had 12 kills (.333) and three solos. Sue Berger filled in admirably at setter, collecting 36 assists-to-kills; Judi Scott had 15 digs and Jandasek got 13 digs and five kills.

Teeters admitted that throughout the tournament, the Ocelots attacked through middle-hitters Van Deusen and Bonser. 'If they could stop our two big hitters, they could beat us," he said.

On Friday, SC lost to Southwestern CC 6-15, 15-6, 15-12, and Barton County CC 13-15, 15-12, 15-7, before defeating Jefferson. On Saturday, the Ocelots beat Johnson County CC 15-9, 15-9; lost to Illi-nois Central CC; lost to Miami-Dade South 15-4, 15-11; and beat Lake Michigan CC 15-5, 15-4.

Eagles, Rocks post wins

Plymouth Christian Academy won 'ugly" in girls basketball Tuesday, according to coach Dennis Horton.

The Eagles, with a superior record, were only four points better than visiting Southfield Christian, 33-29.

Horton said he thought his team was "looking ahead" to a Friday game with Bloomfield Hills Roeper in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference.

We played hard but didn't execute the offense," Horton said, peferring to his team's 14-of-70 field goal shooting.

Senior center Jennifer Moore had 14 points and 11 rebounds to lead PCA, 10-1 overall. Jill Butler added 11 points and eight caroms. Melaynie Cote scored a game-high 15 for Southfield Christian (2-8).

The Eagles, who were 5-of-16 at the free throw line, led 21-13 at halftime and 24-19 after three periods.

SALEM 49, WESTERN 20: The Rocks dominated the boards and played sound defense Tuesday, and the result was an overwhelming victory at Walled Lake Western.

After a slow start in which Salem led 9-3 at the end of one quarter, the Rocks extended the margin to 22-6 at halftime and 38-6 after three periods. The Warriors never reached double digits in any quarter.

"We controlled the tempo of the game to a great degree, even though they were trying to hold the ball." Salem coach Fred Thomann said. When the Rocks took a 7-0 lead, it prevented Western from being able to follow its game plan.

Senior center Darcie Miller scored 15 points to lead Salem. Shelly Sockow added eight points for the Rocks, and Jennifer Gross was high scorer for the Warriors with seven.

Salem won its seventh consecutive ame and improved to 6-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association, 8-4 overall. Western is 4-7.

LADYWOOD 53, MERCY 51: The Blazers avenged an overtime loss to Catholic League Central Division girls basketball rival Farmington Hills Mercy Tuesday at Redford Catholic Central.

Ladywood, which trailed 34-32 after three quarters, outscored the Marlins 21-17 in the decisive fourth period. Junior forward Mary Jo Kelly paced the winners with 16 points, hitting four of five free throws in the final quarter. Junior guard Tracy Prybylski contributed 13, making three of four foul shots during crunch time.

Senior center Allison Brenny scored 10 points, including nine in the final eight minutes. Sophomore forward Tara Wasiak added nine, including six in the second quarter.

"We made the free throws to keep us up down the stretch," said Ladywood coach Ed Kavanaugh, whose team is 8-5 overall and 2-3 in the division. "It was a whole team effort."

Senior center Laure DeMattia scored 18 for Mercy, now 8-4 overall and 3-2 in the Central. Senior forward Mary Bieniewicz added 17 points.

· Point guard Kathleen Berrigan, who scored a game-high 19 in Mercy's 51-47 overtime win over the Blazers in the first meeting, was held to five points.

Steelers win grid series with 'Cats

The Plymouth-Canton Steelers marked homecoming Saturday night by defeating the Ann Arbor-West Wildcats in all three football games at Central Middle School.

The Steeler JVs remained unbeaten in the Western Suburban Football League, winning their sixth consecutive game, and the freshman and varsity teams evened their records at 3-3.

Andy Kocoloski rushed for 103 yards, including an 11-yard touchdown run, for the freshmen. Kyle Entsminger plunged 1 yard following a fumble recovery by Paul Shawe to give the Steelers a 12-0 halftime lead. After Ann Arbor got within 12-7 in the last quarter, Shawn Reynolds clinched the win with a 15-yard TD run. Entsminger added the conver-

Entsminger and Reynolds combined for another 48 yards rushing Shawe led the defense with five tackles, and Bobby Curtis, Brian Perkins, Russ Gardner and Joe Wachowski also were key players on defense. "COACH JIM Iwanike called an excellent game, and the kids have come together to play good, hard football," assistant coach Bill Applegate said. Eric Koburn scored a pair of TDs on 1-yard runs to lead the Steeler

JVs in their 24-0 rout of the Wildcats. Nick Kanaan and Chris Movinski accounted for the other TDs with short runs of 2 and 5 yards, respectively.

Kanaan gave the Steelers a 12-0 lead in the second quarter, and Movinski made it 24-0 in the fourth. The second Koburn and Movinski scores were set up by a pair of Chris Bonga fumble recoveries.

Randy Mack returned a pass interception 50 yards for the Steelers. Kanaan, Aaron Pawlowski and Bonga had three solo tackles apiece. Movinski rushed for 35 yards, Kanaan, 34 and Kevin Salla, 28.

The varsity won 26-24 but needed a big defensive play from Kevin Grim, who blocked the potential game-tying, extra-point kick after the Wildcats had recovered a fumble in the Steeler end zone with under a minute remaining to pull within two points. SHAUN DYER rushed for 111 yards and two touchdowns on runs of 27 and 40 yards, and Grim gained half of his 150 yards on a TD run. He also ran 67 yards to set up the first Dyer score that gave the Steelers a 6-0 lead in the second quarter.

The teams exchanged TDs and were tied 12-12 at halftime. Fumble recoveries by Tyler Pollack and Jeremy Swanagan led to second-half TDs for the Steelers. Dan McKian kicked the extra point after Dyer's second score (20-12), and Swanagan ran 3 yards to make it 26-12.

Ann Arbor rallied with a 9-yard scoring run and the late fumble recov-

Jason Stollsteimer also recovered a fumble for the Steelers. Grim and Matt Moran had eight tackles apiece, Dyer and Pollack four solos each.
"I think our first unit played great," said Doug Young, league president and Steelers assistant unit director. "Our backfield is probably the best we've seen this year in the WSFL, especially Kevin Grim. Tackling him is like bringing down a freight train."

The Steelers play host to the Westland Comets at 1 p.m. Sunday at

Eagles win 3 from Lions

The Ann Arbor Eagles took three victories Sunday in football games with the visiting Canton Lions.

Quarterback Kurt Larson passed 25 yards to Kevin Butler for the Canton JV team's only touchdown in a 13-8 loss. Larson also kicked the extra point.

Shaun Cavin caused a fumble while making a TD-saving tackle for the Lions. Eric Larson intercepted a pass, Brian Lehane recovered an onside kick and Nicholas Ruest stopped an Ann Arbor extra-point attempt.

In the varsity's 12-0 loss, Derek Ellison and Scott Gocaj intercepted passes, and Gocaj and Jon Stoperas blocked a pair of extra points. Archie Kenney caught a TD pass from Bradley Volas in the freshman team's 25-6 defeat. Volas also had an interception and William Wanniger stopped an Ann Arbor extra point.

Prep playoff race takes shape

TITH THE STATE football playoffs only four weeks away, who are Observerland's best bets to make it to the post-season dance?

You can put your money on at least two area teams, Farmington Harrison (Class BB-Region IV) and Redford Catholic Central (Class AA-Region II). Both teams are currently 6-0.

The area's only other unbeaten is Redford St. Agatha, which leads Class C Region IV. The Aggies could take a big step this week with a win over 5-1 Center Line St. Clement.

Of the once-beaten teams, it appears that 5-1 North Farmington (Class A-Region III) is in the driver's seat if it can finish the season at 7-2 or even 6-3. The Raiders, however, have Harrison and unbeaten South Lyon left on their schedule.

Of the twice-beaten teams, Plymouth Salem (Class AA-Region III) could find itself in position to make one of the four spots. The Rocks' schedule appears faworable for the remaining three games.

Meanwhile, twice-beaten Redford Union (Class A-Region II) has three formidable opponents the rest of the way in-cluding unbeaten Woodhaven, Waterford Mott (4-2) and Farmington (3-3).

A longshot could be twice-beaten West land John Glenn (Class AA-Region II), which has reached the playoffs five of the past six years. The Rockets' remaining schedule looks favorable, but bonus points (based on your opponents' victories) may be hard to come by.

THE PREDICTION RACE, meanwhile, appears to be all over with only three weeks left.

Co-hort Dan O'Meara, who went 11-2 last week, widened his lead over yours

O'Meara is now 68-20 for the season,

Here is a look at this week's action:

FRIDAY'S GAMES (all 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

Northville at Liv. Churchill: Word has it that Northville coach Darrel Schumacher thought Farmington Harrison laid it on a little thick last week (38-7 margin). The Mustangs (4-2) should be able to give all-state quarterback Ryan Huzjak more time to throw this week against a Churchill team trying to snap a 15game losing streak. The Chargers nearly got the monkey off their backs last week, losing 20-17 to Plymouth Canton in triple-overtime. PICKS: The Mustangs keep their feint playoff hopes

Farmington at Westland Glenn: The Falcons (3-3) started the season with promise and now face their third tough WLAA-Lakes opponent in a row in Westland John Glenn (4-2). This could be the battle of linebackers, as Matt Sisosky leads Farmington, while Jason Hagelthorne spearheads Glenn, PICKS: Glenn, despite a less-than-impressive 10-0 win last week over winless Walled Lake Central, does a number on

W.L. Western at Pty. Canton: Western (3-3) sneaked by Livonia Franklin last week. 13-12, while Canton (2-4) avoided a setback to winless Churchill. (Maybe the tomahawk chop is in order for the struggling Chiefs.) Both teams lack speed, so the battle in the trenches will be key. PICKS: Both like Western's chances.

Ply. Salem at W.L. Central: Hister for Heis-Well, Leon sure got Livonia Stevenson's vote last week after rushing for 196 yards in a 28-7 victory over the Spartans. The Rocks (4-2) are hot on a playoff trail, while Central (0-6), which played Glenn tough last week, is on a path to nowhere. PICKS: The Rocks remain solA lot is at stake in this game — playoff spots and the Northwest Suburban League title for starters. RU (4-2) can score points, but can they stop anybody defensively? Unbeater Woodhaven (6-0) has faced a cupcake sched ule — Southgate (2-4), Riverview Gabriel Richard (0-6); Dearborn Edsel Ford (2-4), Garden City (1-5). Dearborn (3-3) and Pinckney (1-5). Is an upset in the making? PICKS: RU believes. Emons says, but O'Meara takes riddled Zebras (3-3) have a lot of skill people, but are thin on the defensive and offensive froots. With quarterback Jason Wetmore banged up, the Titans (2-4) could be licking their chops. PICKS: O'Meara says Wayne shows true grit, but Emons goes with Avondale at Liv. Clarenceville: It's home coming for the Trojans, who broke a five-game losing streak last week, glving interim coach Russ McKenzie his first win, a 6-0 victory over Hamtramck, Clarenceville, however, will definitely feel the sting of Brady Vibert and the un-beaten Yellow Jackets PICKS: Avondale ruins everything but the homecoming dance.

Bishop Borgess at Saginaw Nouvel: The Spartans (3-3), have won two straight, but face an unbeaten Saginaw Nouvel (6-0) team that should win the Tri-Sectional Division of the Catholic League's A-B Division. Last year's meeting was a wild one, with Nouvel coming out on top 36-30. PICKS: Nouvel is headed for the

Blocked PAT costs Franklin, 13-12

Livonia Franklin's second-half rally fell short Saturday as visiting Walled Lake Western escaped with a 13-12 football victory.

Both teams are 3-3 overall and 2-2 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Western enjoyed a 13-0 halftime lead on a 3-yard first-quarter touchdown run by Tige Chambers, followed by a 25-yard second-quarter TD burst by Arnie Gil-

Both scores followed interceptions thrown by Franklin quarterback David Little, who was picked off a total of five times in the first half.

The Patriots got on the board with 2:28 left in the third quarter on Jason Facione's 1-yard run.

Franklin recovered the ensuing kickoff, driving down to the Western 4 before turning it over on downs.

The Patriots got the ball back inside the Western 50 and scored on Aaron Shakarian's 1-yard run with five minutes to go. The senior fullback set up the TD with a 25-yard gainer.

Trailing by one, Franklin faked the extra point. Little's intended receiver was interfered with, putting the ball on the Western 1 after the penalty.

Franklin then elected to try the extra

Bowlers can be patriotic

REA BOWLERS ARE asked to participate in the doubles tourment at Satellite Bowl to For a $35 entry fee, participants will get a new bowling bag courtesy of Brunswick Inc. and will bowl three games with three different partners from Team USA or the all-city teams.

Bowlers will compete for a $500 firstplace award and prizes. Participants have a one-in-10 chance of winning a prize. It will be a nine-pin, no-tap format, so all bowlers will get a strike if they get nine or 10 pins down on their first shot. Proceeds of the tournament will benefit Team USA, which represents the United States in International competition, the Pan American Games, Federation International des Quillers, the Olympic Festival and we hope, the Olympics beginning

The Detroit area's all-city teams are selected each year by the men's GDBA and women's DWBA and feature such local stars as Bob Chamberlain, Mitch Jabczenski, Jeanne Gebbia and Aleta Sill.

In the previous year, Team USA had a local flavor as Tony Stipcak of Redford made the team. Next year's Team USA will feature another local star as Larry Walker of Garden City has earned his way on the 1992 team.

Entries close at 1 p.m. on Oct. 26 or upon receipt of 189 entries. For more information, call 773-6350. All members of Team USA will appear at Country Lanes in Farmington Hills on Oct. 26 at 1 p.m. for a bowling demonstration and auto-

Team USA pins will also be available for $3.50 each. Proceeds will be used to help fund the team.

Donn Wolfe of Westland and his friend, Gary Krause, of Canton finished one-two in the September Open of the Mid-States Masters Bowling Association held at Satellite Bowl. Wolfe, who was sponsored in the event by Krause, won the title by defeating his friend, 186-181, in a game that was close all the way. Both men bowled five games of qualifying and four games of match play before meeting each other in the qualifying

Top teams vie for SC title

By C.J. Risak staff writer

This won't be the last time these four teams will line up opposing each other in a tournament this season. The next time - about a month from now - much more will be at stake.

Like a national championship. Which makes this weekend's Schoolcraft Invitational Tournament so intriguing. The four teams competing are all ranked in the top five in the NJCAA.

Chances are better than good that one of the four will reach the NJCAA final. And odds are even that two of the four will be battling in that NJCAA championship

On Saturday, Monroe Community College (of Rochester, N.Y.) faces Meramec CC (St. Louis) at 11 a.m.; SC takes on Florissant Valley CC (St. Louis) at 1 p.m. On Sunday, it's Flo Valley vs. Monroe at 11 a.m. and Meramec against SC at 1

MERAMEC IS ranked first in the NJCAA with a 10-2-1 record; Monroe is No. 2 with a 9-0-2 mark. SC (5-4-2) and Flo Valley (5-3-2) are tied for fifth.

Any team - or teams - that emerge from this weekend's tournament with two wins must be considered one of the favorites to capture the NJCAA title.

SC has a shot to do just that. The Lady Ocelots are in better physical condition than they've been all season - which previously hasn't been too good. Since there's only 11

Schoolcraft sports

players on the squad, a single injury leaves them short-hande

It also forces coach Nick O'Shea to tailor his strategy to conserve players. "We're definitely going to go in and try to win the first one,' O'Shea said, referring to his team's tourney opener against Flo Valley. 'I think we can win that one.

"If we get a lead, I may try to

WHY? BECAUSE after going against Flo Valley, SC must meet No. 1-ranked Meramec the next day. Not an easy task, even if he had a team with reserves to sum-Three Ocelots who have been ailing should be close to full strength: Shannon Meath, Sarah Hayes and Amy Krajewski. Meath and Hayes, together with Nikki Johnson, are the team's top offensive threats; Krajewski plays sweeper.

Still, all is not right with SC. Defender Jenny Whitfield strained her back last week and has been unable to practice. She remains questionable.

After this weekend, O'Shea will have accomplished just what he wanted for his SC team. The Ocelots will have played all the top-ranked teams in the NJCAA.

They lost to No. 2 Monroe 3-1 and No. 5 Flo Valley 3-2; thirdranked Farmingdale (N.Y.) CC beat fourth-ranked Champlain CC (Burlington, VT) 3-2.

I want to see where we stand, what we'll have for the nationals,' he explained. This weekend should provide all he needs to know

HERE'S A brief scouting report on the other three tournament

Monroe CC, unbeaten in 11 games this season, counts on Jonelle Corsey to put the ball in the net. A freshman, Corsey has 10 goals and three assists. Keeper Dawn MacDonald, a sophomore, has also been outstanding, surrendering just three goals.

Top-ranked Meramec is paced offensively by Jamie Casillas, who has eight goals and four assists in 13 games. Keeper Kelley Hearne is solid, having allowed eight goals.

One reason Flo Valley beat SC on Sept. 22 in St. Louis, O'Shea said, was because SC was playing its second game in two days while Flo Valley was resting. That won't be the case this time. Marla Boland is Flo Valley's leading scorer; keeper Julie Corrie has given up 17 goals in 10 games.

Indeed, the second game in a weekend has been SC's albatross all season. Three times the Ocelots have been in that situation; three times they've lost (to Monroe, Flo Valley and Farmingdale).

If they plan on being one of the finalists at the NJCAA Tournament which are Nov. 21-24 in Trenton, N.J. - they'll have to reverse that. At the NJCAAs, a team must play three games in four days.

S'craft team improved

In 1990, Schoolcraft College's men's soccer team enjoyed its finest season in a decade. The Ocelots won the Region 12 championship and — for the first time in 10 years — qualified for the NJCAA Tournament by capturing the Inter-regional Tournament.

Their season ended in disappointment when they were routed twice at the NJCAAs. That supplied them with a goal for this season: Let's go back.

While the talent level may be equal to last year's, through the first few weeks of the season it was apparent SC lacked the most important element needed to accomplish that goal — defense.

But that was before, according to coach Van Dimitriou. Recent performances tend to verify his belief that the Ocelot defense has jelled. Last Saturday, they traveled to Cleveland and blanked Cuyahoga CC 3-0. It was their second shutout in four games, a stretch in which they've surrendered

Considering the result the last time these two teams met - a 5-3 Ocelot win in overtime, Sept. 14 at SC- this performance was a marked improvement. True, Cuyahoga was without John Varro, who has left the team since scoring twice in the first meeting.

BUT DIMITRIOU insisted Cuyahoga was no patsy. "They had a very for-midable team," he said. So what was the difference? "Our defense played very well," he answered.

The game's first goal was credited to Dave Hebestreit after his long throw-in skipped off the wet turf, deflected off a Cuyahoga defender and went into the net at the 15-minute mark. Jeff Vandemergel made it 2-0 15 minutes into the second half, converting a pass from Hebestreit.

A sharp passing play resulted in the third goal, with Bobby Hayes sending a pass into Vandemergel, who passed to Sean Ryan for the goal.

There were mistakes by SC. Hebestreit missed a penalty kick in the first half when it was still 1-0. But the defense - which has changed some since that first meeting - made the difference.

Dimitriou has inserted Jack Abate at stopper, with Mike Presley at sweeper, Shane Millner at left defender and Wayne Worosz and Shawn Mac splitting time at right defender. With Scott Hauman, in his second year as a starter, in goal, Dimitriou figures he has the right formula.

His team's 8-2-1 overall record, 5-1 in the region, would indicate he's right.

SC CROSS COUNTRY: The Lady Ocelot cross country team ran in a different kind of race Saturday, and did pretty well, finishing second among four teams at the Lake Erie Invitational, hosted by Kent State.

The race was 3.25 miles and was filled with obstacles, including crossing a creek that was more than knee-deep in places. Lansing CC won with six points; SC had 25, Fingerlakes College scored 31 and Kent State had 53. The top three runners on each SC was led by Nicole Kenny, who finished seventh in 24:06. Leah Bennett was 13th in 26:19, and Cathy Lenaghan placed 14th in 27:05.

Legislation to force the Bush administration to provide financial assistance to low-income Medicare beneficiaries is being co-sponsored by U.S. Rep. Sander Levin, D-South-

The legislation would require the the Health Care Financing Administraiton to provide better information to Medicare beneficiaries about their rights under the existing Qualified Medicare Beneficiary program.

The QMB program pays the Medicare premiums and copayments for eligible beneficiaries, said Levin

A Families/USA study earlier this year found that half of the senior citizens eligible for the program are not receiving their benefits.

ACCORDING TO the study, 75 percent of Michigan's eligible seniors, or 83,000 people, are not receiving benefits to which they are entitled. Only five states rank worse than Michigan.

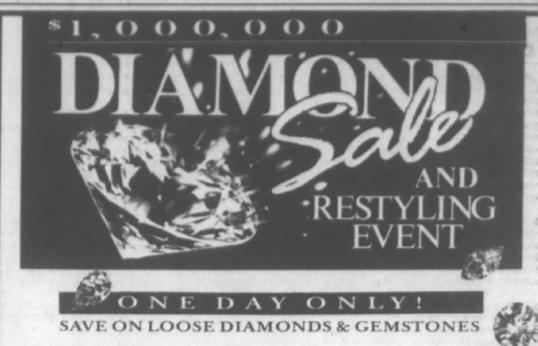

In July, Levin joined his colleagues on the Ways and Means health subcommittee in sending a letter to Dr. Louis Sulliva, secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services, urging him to rectify the situation.

Because the administration has taken no action, Levin joined more than 30 of his House colleagues in supporting this legislation.

This situation illustrates how the needs of low-income Americans, and the low-income elderly are repeatedly being neglected by the adminis-tration," said Levin. "This legislation will help resolve the problem."

Are Michigan credit unions safe?

Yes. Michigan credit unions are among the most secure financial institutions in the nation. Only one half of one percent of credit union loans are for commercial purposes. The other 99.5% are in home mortgages, car loans and small consumer loans.

Can anyone join a credit union?

No. One must be part of a "common bond" that makes up the field of membership served by a credit union. However, most people may qualify for credit union membership through their work, church, association or community. 3.6 million people in Michigan belong to credit unions, which means more than one out of every three citizens are members. The largest Michigan credit union has more than 100,000 members while the smallest has fewer

What are some of the advantages of using a credit union?

Credit unions exist to serve their members and surveys have repeatedly shown credit union members to be more satisfied with the service they receive than are bank and S&L customers. Members have the power to direct credit union policy and even replace the board of directors if they choose. As a result of seeking to serve their consumer members in stead of profiting from them, credit unions usually charge lower rates for loans, credit cards, checking (share draft) and other services and often offer higher interest on sav-

How is a credit union governed?

Members select a volunteer board of directors, which sets the policies of the credit union. In small credit unions, the elected treasurer often acts as manager while volunteers carry out the various functions of the organization. Larger credit unions hire professional staff to run day-today operations for the institution. # Michigan Credit Unions: Successful and strong

Despite turmoil in almost every aspect of the financial world, Michigan's credit unions have met the economic challenges of the last decade and continued their quiet success and stability. "It's the old tale of the tortoise and the hare," remarked Kenyan E. Bixby, President and CEO of the Michigan Credit Union League (MCUL), "while many people's attention was elsewhere, Michigan credit unions have been one of the success stories of our era."

Membership in Michigan credit unions reached an historic high of over 3.6 million people, indicating that more than one out of every three people in Michigan is a credit union member. Credit union assets continued their pattern of steady growth, passing the $11 billion mark last year compared with $4 billion at the end of 1990.

"The hallmark of this growth is that it is accompanied by security," said Bixby, "as credit unions grew, so did their capital." The capital-toasset ratio for Michigan credit unions at the end of 1990 was a solid 8.7%. "That is without risk-weighting the ratio," added Bixby. "If credit unions' loan and investment portfolios were risk-weighted, that ratio would be even higher." Credit unions have traditionally portfolios. Year end figures show that only one half of one percent of Michigan credit union loans were in the commercial category. Home mortgages accounted for 23.3%. auto loans 36.2%, and other consumer loans 40.1%. According to Bixby, "This sort of maintained very conservative loan lending is a direct result of the unique nature of credit unions as not-for-profit financial cooperatives that exist to serve their members instead of to make profits. Our members don't need their credit unions to invest in leveraged buy-outs, corporate takeovers, third world debts or junk bonds. They need homes, cars and personal loans so that's what credit unions do."

That unique nature is reflected in the fact that Michigan credit unions have more active volunteers (7.965) than either full time or part time employees (6,687 and 1,779 respectively). A hefty majority of Michigan credit unions (almost 58%) have membership based on occupation. Of the remainder, nearly 24% are based on associations such as churches or associations while the remaining 18% are based on communities or multiple groups.

The German crop failure of 1846 was followed by a hard winter. The widespread famine and suffering sparked revolutionary unrest, and it turned the thoughts of two men to social reform.

Birth of an idea-Herman Schulze-Delitzsch, a justice of the peace, was active in reform politics. Aware of the lack of low-cost credit workers and shopkeepers, he devoted much of his life to helping organize credit cooperatives. In a cooperative, people join together to purchase or market goods or provide themselves with some service.

Schulze-Delitzsch called his co-ops people's banks. Members placed their savings in the cooperative and borrowed from it.

Friedrich Raiffeisen, a village mayor, drew on Schulze-Delitzsch's ideas to organize similar cooperatives among farmers and villagers. Like the people's banks, these were forerunners of today's credit unions Although an eye disease gradually blinded Raiffeisen, with the help of his daughter, he spent the rest of his life in this work.

Members owned and controlled the people's banks and Raiffeisen cooperatives. They organized them not for profit, and not for charity, but for service. A farmer, for example, could get a loan to buy seed in the spring, repaying the loan in the fall when he sold his crops.

These cooperatives attracted worldwide attention. In those days, commercial banks weren't interest ed in providing financial services to ordinary working people. A working person needing a loan often turned to a loan shark who charged exorbitant rates of interest. Reformers sawthe people's bank, or credit union, as a way for working people and their families to take control of their financial destinies

Alphonse Desjardin, a French-Canadian parliamentary recorder and translator, planted the credit union seed in the New World. In his home city of Levis, Quebec. He devoted much of the rest of his working life to the credit union cause and was honored by the pope for his Desjardins helped a parish priest organize the first U.S. credit union among the French-speaking workers of Manchester, N.H. This credit union, today called St. Marys Bank, still serves residents of that commu-

Growth of the idea-The credit union movement spread to a few other states, spearheaded by publicspirited citizens like banker John prunt Hill of North Carolina, who encouraged credit unions among the rural poor. But the growth of the movement was slow. For one thing, most states did not have laws providing for this kind of financial cooperative. Although some bankers like Hill supported the movement, other vigorously opposed passage of laws permitting people to have their own financial institutions.

The two persons who did the most to create the nationwide credit union system you know today were an unlikely pair of reformers from the Boston area-Edward A. Filene, a wealthy merchant, and Roy Bergengren, a lawyer and failed candy manufacturer.

When his father bacame ill, young Filene abandoned plans to go to Harvard and assumed management of the family's five clothing and dry goods shops. He and his brother built one of the shops into a leading specialty store. Filene's, with its famous bargain basement, still serves Bos-

Filene was a shy man, a lifelong bachelor, whose abrupt manner concealed concern for the welfare of others. His employees became his family. In addition to providing benefits far ahead of the time, he gave his workers a voice in setting work hours, wages and working condi-

But his vision extended beyond the store. He spent much of his personal fortune promoting consumer education and world understanding.

Answer to loan sharks-Filene became interested in credit unions on a world tour in 1907. He saw them as an alternative to the loan sharks preying upon American workers and as a way to bolster the economy by providing consumer credit. As he put it in a speech in 1927: "The credit union, capable of the widest use by small farmers and wage workers, creates credit at bank rates for the sort of folks who need credit the most and who are the most ready victims of the usurer (loan shark)."

To spread the credit union movement nationwide, Filene hired Bergengren, a lawyer and civic reformer who recently had seen his fledgling candy manufacturing business fail due to rising sugar prices.

The credit union idea seized Bergengren's imagination. He turned it into a lifelong crusade. He crisscrossed the country by train, spreading the credit union idea and lobbying for state credit union laws. Thanks to the dynamic duo of Filene and Bergengren, and the work of countless other individuals, credit unions sprang up in dozens of states. In 1934, with the blessing of credit union supporter President Franklin permitting formation of credit ions in every state.

With Bergengren's assistance, credit unions strengthened their po sition by forming state association called leagues, and the Credit Union National Association (CUNA). Bergengren became the first managing director of CUNA in 1934. Filene died in 1937; Bergengren guided the national movement for another eight Pragmatic kinship-These and many other credit union pioneers people of deep moral convictions. "The real job of the credit union," Bergengren said, "is to prove, in modest measure, the practicality of the brotherhood of man.'

The two men admired the free enterprise system. Filene, after all, helped found the chamber of commerce. Filene and Bergngren had nothing against for-profit banks, but saw credit unions as an alternative, democratic way for people to provide themselves with financial services at reasonable cost. Filene called credit unions "a moral supplement to the banking system."

Today, more than 14,000 credit unions serve the financial needs of 62 million Americans in the United

Most credit unions serve employees and their families. But there are credit unions serving members of the armed forces, churches, associations, and farm groups. Some serve a community or neighborhood; Through elected boards of volunteers, members own and govern their credit unions. And they still are dedicated to services, not profit, and not charity. Credit unions exist to serve their members, not to make profits for stockholders.

And the credit union movement has not stopped growing. Your credit union and credit unions across the nation support the work of the World Council of Credit Unions, which encourages formation of credit unions in many countries, including developing nations like Bangladesh and newly free countries like Poland. As in the case of banks and thrifts, deposits are insured up to $100,000. But the credit union insurance fund, administered by the National Credit Union Administration, is better capitalized at $1.26 for every $100 insured as compared with $.20 for every $100 at the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation which insures banks and thrifts.

Credit unions have a "pay as you go" insurance fund. It expands proportionally to their rate of growth. Because credit unions deposit an amount equivalent to 1% of their insured deposits into their insurance fund, they have a vested interest in the health of the fund, and thus, the activities of other credit unions. Strong regulatory agencies require yearly examinations and credit unions are the only federal insured

S&P said in a report to business editors that "credit unions are unique providers of financial services, distinct from (banks and savings and loans)." S&P explained that credit unions are cooperative, member-owned, not-for-profit, tax exempt institutions, with "market niches" defined by common bonds.

S&P also said that "despite their growth and expansion, credit unions maintained, overall, a relatively low level of losses in the 1980s and are now in a good state of health."

An average captial to asset ratio of 7.6 percent, the highest ever recorded, was achieved by the nation's 14,544 credit unions in 1990. Some of that increase reflects the apprehension of depositors following thrift failures, but a good part of it also comes from awareness of the strength of the credit union federal insurance fund. The $2.1 billion National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund is backed by the full faith and credit of the federal government.

The credit union fund is sound, with reserves near the maximum required by law. In fact, the fund holds a higher level of reserves than the level proposed by President Bush in his S&L reform plan to congress.

Can I join a Credit Union?

After learning the benefits of being a member of a credit union, the first question most non-members ask is, "Can I join a credit union?" The answer is most likely "Yes."

One important aspect of credit unions is that they are not open to the general public. Membership is open to only those who fall into the credit union's field of membership. At one time most credit unions had a very narrowly defined field of membership. For example, if you were an employee of the XYZ Widgit Company you could join the XYZ Widgit Company Credit Union but no one else could. Credit unions were most often established around work but many were based on churches, professions, communities, trade unions and other clearly identified groups. Over the years, many smaller credit unions merged to offer their members more services and thereby broadened their field of membership. At the request of their members, credit unions also began opening to the families of members and allowing people who retired or left their jobs to keep their credit union membership. Other credit unions began to include a geographic area, such as a county or township, in their field of membership. Today, most credit unions are open to many people who may not realize they are eligible. Over 3.6 million people in Michigan are members of a credit union, more than one out of every three residents of the state. It is likely that a majority of Michigan's people are eligible for membership in one or more of the nearly 600 credit unions in our state.

If you are interested in joining a credit union, ask at work to see if your company has one. If not, go to your local Yellow Pages and look up Credit Unions. Find those most conveniently located to your work or home and give them a call. Ask them if you qualify. You might be surprised to find that you do. You may have to contact several credit unions to find the right one for you, but keep at it. It's worth the effort.

You'll find that it pays to be a member of a Michigan credit union.

Michigan Credit Union Assets Top $11 Billion

A review of final year-end statistics shows Michigan's credit unions have continued their success and stability despite the economic challenges of the last decade.

"It's the old tale of the tortoise and the hare, said Kenyan E. Bixby, President and CEO of the Michigan Credit Union League. While many people's attention was elsewhere, Michigan credit unions have been one of the success stories of our Membership in Michigan credit unions reached an historic high of more than 3.6 million people, meaning one out of every three people in Michigan is a member.

Credit unions assets continued their pattern of steady growth, passing the $11 billion mark last year compared with $4 billion at the end

The capital-to-asset ratio for Michigan credit unions at the end of 1990 was a solid 8.7 percent. Shares hit $9.9 billion, a dramatic climb from 1980's $3.6 billion.

Year-end figures show that only one half of 1 percent of Michigan credit union loans were in the commercial category. Home mortgages accounted for 23.3 percent, and other consumer loans, 40.1 percent.

Michigan credit unions have more active volunteers (7,965) than either full time or part time employees (6,687 and 1,779, respectively). Yearend figures indicate that Michigan credit unions' fields of membership are 18.5 percent residential or multiple group, 23.7 percent associational, and 57.8 percent occupational.

Credit unions hold 7.7 percent of the total assets in Michigan depository institutions. Commercial banks hold 65.8 percent and savings & loans, 26.5 percent.

The 25-year trend of credit union consolidation continued during 1990, with the number of separate institutions shrinking to 600, down from 630 in 1989. The decline was just slightly less among state-chartered than federally-chartered credit unions. In 1980, there were 571 statechartered CUs; today there are 385, a slip of 32.6 percent. Federallychartered CUs saw their numbers dip 35.0 percent, from 250 to 215.

Figures are drawn by the Michigan League from the 1990 Year End Call Reports gathered by the National Credit Union Administration.

Industry's need should make Luken's stock a steel

seems to have been very successful in the stock market. Recently he was telling me that one of his favorite stocks is Luken's Inc. I looked it up in the library, and I see that it is mostly a steel company. I guess I have been prejudiced, but I thought steel companies were generally very cyclical and not profitable except once every three or four years. What do you see for this company?

A. Luken's seems to be in a very favorable position. Several security analysts say that it is currently the lowest-cost producer of plate steel, and plate steel is in great demand. It

With our infrastructure in a sad state of repair, it is believed the de mand for plate steel will be substantial for many years. With Luken's being the low-cost producer and with demand being high, it seems likely the company will be more profitable than its competitors.

Luken's earnings turnaround started in 1986 and has been strongly upwards since then. In 1989, the company earned $3.91 per share. It is estimated by Standard and Poor's to earn $4.73 in 1990 and $4.90 in 1991. The company has lifted its profit margin in recent years, and this applied to the sales increase has produced the excellent increase in earnings per share.

today's investor

Luken's has four divisions to its business. The production of steel is the biggest one and accounts for 74 percent of sales and 90 percent of profits. That part of the business has eased but is expected to resume its expansion. Capital improvements should reduce costs, and this should result in a further increase in the profit margin.

Safety products used in highway construction and maintenance and industrial markets should enjoy growth as that part of our infrastructure is modernized. This division produces glass beads, tape and sheeting, traffic cones, barrels, flashing lights, safety vests and warning flags among other things, This division is expected to show improving profit margins.

The improvement in Luken's earnings and prospects has not yet been fully recognized in the stock market. There is a general reluctance in the market to appraise steel companies at a very high multiple. As its earnings have hit new peaks in the last couple of years, it has only sold at a high price-earnings ratio of 8. If its sales and earnings continue to improve, I would think it would begin to sell at 10 to 12 times earnings, which could move its price to between $50 to $60.

Trust: tie that binds clients, ad agencies

By David F. Stein special writer

The ad game has its own seven-year itch.

As a national average, companies tend to stay that long with an advertising agency. But many suburban Detroit agencies, with client lists that include national heavyweights, are trampling the industry norm.

Area winner is the Ross Roy Group of Bloomfield Hills, Chrysler's agency since 1926. It has also represented Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan for 33 years, Kmart for 23 years and Detroit Edison 21 years. The key to long-term success is trust combined with a sense of partnership, said Bruce Wagner, Ross Roy executive vice president.

"We go though various economic cycles. There will be difficult times — thus the importance of a strong bond and good, long-term relationships," Wagner said.

Another strong bond between client and advertiser was forged by Ernest Baker, chairman of DDB Needham Worldwide and Standard Federal Bank, both in Troy.

THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS ago, Standard Federal left

THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS ago, Standard Federal left an agency that was also representing another bank and went with Baker. It has been in the fold ever since, coming along with the merger of E.W. Baker with DDB Needham in 1990.

A longlasting marriage was begun in 1955 when Hiram Walker signed on with Simons Michelson Zieve in Troy.

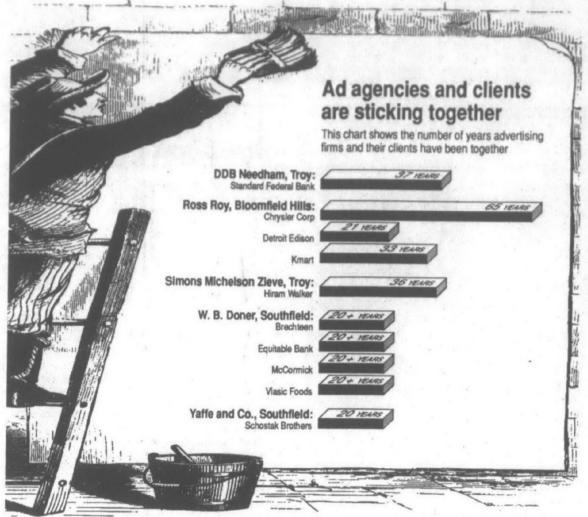

The key, chairman Morton Zieve said, is working with a client as a marketing partner, helping to make marketing decisions.

Other ad executives offered their formula for success.

"The key thing to be with a client is to be indispensable," said Fred Yaffe, chairman and CEO of Yaffe and Co., Southfield. Yaffe's oldest client, Schostak Brothers, has been with him for 20 years.

Southfield's W.B. Doner has been servicing several clients for more than 20 years. These include the spice giant McCormick, Equitable Bank, Vlasic Foods and the outstate food processing firm, Brechteen.

BUT TOUGH ECONOMIC times can test the best of agency-company partnerships.

Zieve said he has had more inquiries from companies looking to possibly switch agencies this past summer than he can remember for quite a while.

"When things get hard, companies look for a magic pill to help their companies," Zieve said.

Financial Strengths:

Other execs aren't so sure, saying that turnover kinetics haven't changed despite the continuing lean economy.

Ross Roy's Wagner said that ad agencies may actually be leading the search and rescue missions.

"I'm not sure they're switching more frequently, but there is increased ferment and competitiveness amongst the agencies," Wagner said. "It's a general recessionary effect; a lot of agencies are knocking on a lot more doors." WHEN COMPANIES do have switching on their minds, it may be the result of a sound business reason, such as falling sales, or simply caprice.

As a general rule, the less substance to a product, the more often companies switch agencies. So, companies whose business is products like toothpaste or soap tend to be friendly to ad agency switches.

Yaffe suggested that in this area ad agencies aren't always the blame. In fact, they may be doing too good a job.

job.
"There is nothing in the world that will kill a bad product faster than good advertising," Yaffee said.

Local execs agree that companies usually don't decide to switch based soley on cost of services, but as Yaffe explained, "Price is never important unless you don't have the lowest price."

The most frequently given reason for lost business—a change in management. New bosses like to wipe the slate clean and bring a new ad team on board.

Agencies may also lose an account when a company takes a new marketing or product direction — a kind of messenger complex on the part of business.

But changes bring risks as it takes time to bring a new group up to speed, contends Marilyn Barnett, president of Mars Advertising in Southfield.

Thus, ad execs believe that the best companies would rather fight, or fix, than switch agencies.

"If you want to really change agencies, what you are really changing is probably people. Smart companies don't drop agencies; they fix the people part." said John Kolon, president of Kolon Bittker and Desmond, Troy.

"The worse companies jump around a lot; the best companies get the best agencies and keep them for a long time," Kolon added.

But change seems to be a constant in the adertising wars, and agencies face increasingly competitive challenges as marketing communications becomes more complex.

"Twenty to 25 years ago, you could reach 90 percent of life in the United States through TV or advertising in Look, Life or Post (magazines)," DDB Needham's chairman Baker.

Now marketing experts search a maze of methods and media to reach consumers — from direct mail and telemarketing to cable television and special focus groups.

Whether large or small, ad agencies will have to be quicker in the future with clients gauging their mastery of these new marketing modes.

"The agencies that are not as well prepared for the changing marketing comunications are going to be more liable for clients changing," said Ross Roy's Wag-

College expenses nearly paid; Is there a better way?

By Dan Boyce and Alan Ferrara special writers

This is the third in a series of Financial Profile articles on financing a college education. The first column dealt with the Austin family's general finances. Last week we offered suggestions on how they could manage their assets to reduce their expected family contribution. This week, we concentrate on filing financial aid forms.

There is no question that financial aid will be a major part of the financing needed for the Austin children to attend the colleges of their choice.

Daughter Jill would like to attend a private college that will cost $20,000 per year by the time she graduates in two years. Mike Austin's income is $39,000 per year, so such a financial outlay for his daughter's education is clearly out of the question without depleting the family assets. Son Ted is planning to attend Michigan State University in three years, which will cost $8,500 per year.

IN JILL'S senior year, they will need to fill out financial aid forms that are used by college financial aid officers to determine eligibilty for assistance. The forms usually are available to students in November of their senior year.

The two most widely used forms are the Family Financial Statement and the Financial Aid Form. The Austins should find out which form is used by the colleges their children want to attend.

When filling out the forms, the information should be complete and as accurate as possible. The forms ask questions about income and assets. Estimates may be used, but they should be as precise as possible. When using estimates, use specific numbers such as $355, rather than a range such as $300-$500.

THE AMOUNT OF financial aid available is limited, so it is important to send in these forms as soon as possible. Financial aid officers are more likely to be generous when the financial aid coffers are full. But if the forms are returned after Jan. 1, they are usually returned.

Be sure the forms are complete — blanks may hold up the application for weeks. Be sure the application is signed and the Social Security numbers are filled in.

Always check the box requesting review for a Pell Grant. Although these are typically only given to very poor people, frequently this grant must be applied for to be eligible for additional financial aid.

FAMILY FINANCES

The Bottom Line

$76,000

$140,700

When son Ted applies, he will need to be registered for selective service after age 18. He will not be eligible for financial aid without proof of registration.

IT IS important that all information be true and accurate. Falsifications can result in rejection for current or future financial aid.

Check with the specific institutions to see if they require additional forms. Additional information may be requested, especially for private colleges. The purpose is to find out if the student has additional resources that may not show up on standard forms and to determine if the student may qualify for specific financial aid programs at that institution.

Using the information on the two major forms mentioned, an "expected family contribution" will be determined. This factor is important, because regardless of the cost of attending a university, the expected family contribution will not change.

IN THE EXAMPLE we used previously, if the expected family contribution was $4,000 and the yearly cost was $3,500, no financial aid would be forthcoming. But if the annual cost was $12,000, an $8,000 package could be requested. In other words, any gap between the expected family contribution and the cost of the institution may be covered through a financial aid package. This package may be a combination of grants, loans, and possibly a work-study program.

Grants are outright gifts of dollars to be used for educational costs. Student loans must be repaid. But these payments can be spread over a long period of time and are at reduced interest rates when compared to personal loans. Work-study programs require a commitment of time from the student, and this may curtail other extra-curricular activities.

Assets and — to some extent — income, should be structured so as to provide the lowest possible expected family contribution and therefore qualify for the greatest amount of financial aid.

Ruth Henkel, a patient advocate with Caremark Home Care of Plymouth, attended last week's "Organized Woman" seminar looking for tips on how to better handle the high volume of items that cross her desk

Caremark, which offers continuous education for its employees, assists patients with home intravenous feeding

'We deal with a lot of different items, plus we deal with customers directly. It gets very hectic and very diverse," said Henkel. "I hoped to learn how to work in a more effective manner and deal with difficult situations.'

Marilyn Woods, an accounting clerk for Imperial Midwest, a Farmington Hills auto insurance company, also attended the Business Women's Training Institute seminar. "I went there to kind of get an idea of how you would go about your daily work, organize things at work, and get more accomplished," she said.

Judi Marshall, administrative secretary to the vice president of Amicare Hospice Services in Farmington Hills, went to get tips on "how you organize your desk, your work day, this sort of thing." Marshall also is pondering starting her own business, and wanted advice in that area.

A Livonia police officer, homemakers, workers from Ford Motor Credit in Southfield, and employees from a Livonia skill center for developmentally disabled adults also attended the six-hour seminar, held at the Royce Hotel in Romulus.

All agreed presenter Suzanne Frisse helped them with everything from goal setting to beating the paper blizzard and breaking out of the 'superwoman" syndrome.

FRISSE, A NOTED public speaker who's owned her own small business, worked in the Illinois governor's office and in radio, shared information on organizational skills that have helped her become a success.

Affiliated with the American Management Association, the Kansas City-based Business Women's Training Institute offers seminars in 400 cities in the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and the United Kingdom. BWTI also offers in-house time

Frisse says the key to realizing your dreams is writing down your goals, and referring to them often.

"How often have we said, 'Someday I'll lose 20 pounds,' or 'Someday, I'll get out of this lousy relationship?' asked Frisse.

"People who achieve write down their goals. Writing them forms a commitment. You should get specific," listing the steps necessary to reach your goal. "Otherwise, your mind won't be able to visualize exactly what you want," she said. "Ask yourself whether the goal is attainable, and whether you have the passion necessary to obtain it."

It's important to write your goals in the present tense: "I earn $60,000. I weigh 110," says Frisse. "Why?

"Your brain will accept whatever message it gets with enough repetition. Ideas and thoughts create belief, which in turn creates attitude and prompts our actions. The brain is the dumbest organ we have. It believes whatever it hears and it says, 'If this is what you want, this is what we have to do.' It starts clicking you into what you need to do.

ing from life," said Frisse. Frisse told a story about her twin sister, who despite caring for her infant and running a household was determined to become a published author before she turned 40.

"Live your personal and business life that way, and you will get what you want out of life, instead of want-

"Every morning at 5 a.m., she got up and wrote at her computer for half an hour. She figured that for 30 minutes every day, her husband could take care of the baby. Well, she did it. She's flying out to L.A. this week to appear on a talk show and promote her popcorn cookbook,". said Frisse.

"At one point, I asked her how she kept herself going, and she told me, 'I visualized myself as a successful author. I pictured myself on every talk show on TV, and even pictured what I'd wear.

"Maybe you're having trouble getting yourself out to the garden to plant those 4,000 bulbs," Frisse said. Picture spring, and how beautiful it will be. And try to do your tough tasks when your energy level is tween being interested in accomplishing something, and being committed to accomplishing something, added Frisse.

"Interest equals convenience. Commitment equals no excuses, only results. When you become committed, you will go only for results."

If a task seems so difficult or longterm that it's overwhelming, break it up into several small jobs, she said. "Ask yourself, 'What could I do today that will bring me closer to my goal?' And visualize the end re-

Frisse listed four steps to effectiveness:

 Stretch time and resources. "Time is our most valuable resource," she says.

• Blast away barriers "and say to yourself, 'I certainly am not

• Get the help you need. "Share your goals with positive people, and emulate them. And delegate.

• Implement organizational strategies. One of the dilemmas women face is that their list of things to do has 80 or 90 things on it, some more important than others.

Many of us tend to run late because we over-commit ourselves, Frisse said. "Learn to say no. Make yourself a priority every day. If you don't respect and value your own time, no one else will. And make the time to plan. It's an investment that will pay off."

Disorganized people also tend to procrastinators. what Nike says - 'Just do it.' Do the most important things first every day, and you'll accomplish 80 percent of your desired results. Set mini or phony deadlines for yourself."

Frisse has incorporated into her life a tip she learned eight years ago at a seminar. "Read or listen to something positive, motivational or inspirational every morning and at night. The brain is wide open before you go to sleep at night, and in the morning.'

How to deal with the paperwork explosion? Frisse says the "handle only once" rule works. "Toss it; refer it to someone else; place it in your reading or action file; or file it. But handle it only once."

To reduce clutter, "Ask yourself, Why do I need this, and where will it go?' If you get it out, put it away."

Unlike reality as it's sometimes portrayed, "you can never quite have it all at the same time. Life is a balancing act," Frisse said.

She closed with a story about a woman who was riding horseback at a terrific speed. "All of a sudden, a loud voice said, 'Dismount. I want you to fill your pockets with sand and gravel, and ride slower.' The woman did, and continued riding until dawn, when the voice again said, Dismount. Take the sand and gravel out of your pockets.'

"In the woman's pockets were diamonds, rubies and emeralds. She kicked herself for not taking more when she had the opportunity.

The answer is quick and simple: "It's a Christian ministry."

Wensley, an evangelical Christian, shares his faith with visitors during tours of the tabernacle and other religious features of the cem-

"With over a million and a half dollars invested, we thought United Memorial Gardens could serve as more than a place to bury the dead," he said.

It was Wensley's Christian faith that got him into the cemetery business in the first place, he add-

"Before 1955, it was almost impossible for racially mixed couples or families to buy burial property together." As a young man working for another Detroit-area cemetery, he heard stories that angered and challenged him, he recalled.

One of the stories involved the first Korean War casualty - a black soldier from Detroit. Because of his race, his remains were moved from the veterans' cemetery where he was first buried. Another story involved a Native American man who could not be buried with his white wife - even though the couple had owned their plot for more than 25 years.

These stories and others led Wensley, a Free Methodist, to act on his conviction that a cemetery should be for all people, without regard to racial, ethnic and religious differences. In 1953, he started Michigan's first interracial and interreligious memorial garden cemetery. The controversial move cost Wensley his membership in several cemetery associations during the dens includes graves of people from a multitude of faiths, races and cultures, some of which have unique burial customs that Wensley and his sons do their best to accommodate.

One special garden has been set aside for the remains of those who have donated their bodies for scientific research at the University of Michigan.

Another garden includes a memorial to the victims of Northwest Flight 255, which claimed 156 lives when it crashed near Detroit in 1987. Several of the victims who could not be identified are buried there.

Now "retired," Wensley, 69, is free to lead tours around the 126acre cemetery while his son Delbert takes care of the day-to-day management. But the older Wensley has no plans to go into full retirement, and in fact, is in the office by 10 a.m. most mornings.

"He loves it," said son Delbert. "He has the flair for leading the tours because he created this he's the kind of guy who will probably just keep working and working until he passes away.

The cemetery operators consider their work to be a Christian ministry.

Show caters to needs of brides-to-be

staff writer

Too often, says Krista Morton of Plymouth's Wedding Chapel, brides-to-be planning weddings operate in the dark, even after attending a bridal show. They leave with lists of unanswered questions, while vendors - despite giving away lots of prizes - leave disappointed they didn't attract more customers.

'It's been my experience and my partners' experience listening to brides and wedding vendors that bridal shows, as they exist, do not always offer the needed help," said Morton.

'Our attitude is brides should be able to get help, and there is nowhere to turn.

With her sisters Lisa Briones and Stephanie Kopinski, Morton recently formed a company called KLaS Productions, Ltd., and opened the Wedding Chapel. The chapel is in the Plymouth Manor catering and banquet facility at 345 N. Main in downtown Plymouth.

"A lot of brides are left wanting for more information, and more hands-on help," said Morton.

TO ADDRESS that need, KLaS Productions has teamed up with Kristy Truax of K.J.'s Master Marketing of Mt. Clemens. Together they've planned "A Live Wedding Guide," a bridal show set for 6 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 22 at the Plymouth Manor.

There'll be exhibits, guest speakers, hors d'oeuvres, a sweets table and prizes, but no fashion show.

"Our attitude is we want to do the most we can to assist the bride," she said. "We feel this show will cover all the things a traditional bridal show would. We'll have all the booths where the gals can collect information and ask questions. We will do that, and in addition, offer for the evening selected professional guest speakers who will talk about wedding-related topics.

"Everyone is being asked to speak about their area of expertise, as opposed to just pumping their business,' said Morton.

Speakers will include: Nick Ristich of the Plymouth Manor speaking on reception planning, Morton on wedding ceremonies; and speaking on apparel, a representa-tive of Creations by Pollak's Bridal Salon of Rochester and Farmington Hills. Prospective brides also will hear from a deejay from Canton's Silver Sound, Hudson's Travel Service, and Videogenics of Westland. The speakers will start 6:30 p.m.

MORE THAN 20 vendors will set up booths, offering information in areas ranging from real estate to insurance, wedding cakes, jewelry, hotels, vacation-wear and tuxedos. A harpist will entertain. Prizes including roundtrip airfare for two and a "free wedding" will be raffled.

When the time comes for brides to decide, they'll know what to ask, how much to pay, and how to handle it all a little more efficiently," said Morton.

"A lot of the pitfalls can be avoided."

Future shows - planned for winter and again for spring - will feature other guest speakers who are experts in areas such as gift registry, photography and flo-

"We'll include vendors from all over the metro Detroit area so that we can help more than just Plymouth and Livonia brides," said Morton. "We're covering the east and west side

"You don't have to be a bride to attend. Grooms, moms, maids of honor, everyone is welcome. We'll have complimentary hors d'oeuvres and a sweets table so people can come from work and they won't starve.

"All of the people who've chosen to participate in this are very committed to making this a successful evening for the bride," she added. "Everyone involved is working very hard."

Ticket prices for the Live Wedding Guide are $3 in advance, $4 at the door. For more information, call 455-4800 or 455-3501.

The Protestant work ethic has always been applied with a fair amount of elbow grease to the fabric of Hard work, self-discipline and pleasing God are admirable qualities that seem to transcend all religious boundaries. They are considered catalysts spurring a capitalist society to success.

"I grew up in a strict Catholic family and work was extremely important," said the Rev. Robert Schaden, a Catholic priest and pastor at Schoolcraft College's Newman House. "Just because I'm Catholic and I grew up in a strict Catholic family doesn't necessarily mean it wasn't.

But what about, say, a Catholic ethic?

As unusual as the concept sounds, a researcher at the University of Michigan believes there is one. In this ethos, an emphasis tends to be placed on "good works rather than work," according to an ongoing study by U-M social work professor John Tropman.

'We all have a little bit of the Protestant ethic and a little bit of the Catholic ethic," Tropman said. "It's all a question of balance."

Tropman points out several differences between the Protestant and Catholic outlooks on life, work, wealth and family. Some of the findings could be described as

DISTINCT FEATURES separate the Catholic ethic from its Protestant variety, according to Tropman's

· Wealth is not considered an indicator of charac-

· Although work is necessary, it's not a sacred obli-

· An emphasis is placed on family ties, perhaps due to the importance of the historical holy family. · A stronger tradition of institutionalized charity and relief programs. · Historically more accustomed to hierarchical organizations dispensing important goods or services.

• More accepting of a cycle of sin and redemption than is true with the Protestant ethic.

Rather than doing a sectarian depth-chart between Protestant and Catholic traditions, Tropman - who is Catholic - is interested in seeing how both have had an impact on public policy regarding social welfare programs in this country.

He has written several articles on the religious-based ethics affecting social welfare policies. He is also writ-

Max Weber's 1904 book "The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism" examines that tradition's influence on a vigorous free-market society.

In the process, Tropman believes the Protestant eth-ic might have helped stifle the development of social welfare programs in this country.

NOT UNTIL the Social Security Act of 1935 did the United States implement some type of public assistance program. By then, the composition of the country's population had changed - mainly due to immigration of people who were Irish, Italian and Jewish.

He cites two examples where the U.S. government vetoed legislation for social programs in the 1800s.

One was for a bill requesting land from the federal government for mental health facilities for the indigent. President Franklin Pierce overturned the request n 1854. Also, Tropman notes legislation for pensions for Civil War veterans were also canceled as well as plans to provide help for the migration of slaves to the

He believes his findings indicate elements of the Catholic tradition have stimulated the welfare state. Scholarly intentions aside, though, Tropman's study also stimulates debate.

By saying the Catholic tradition is more understanding of people in poverty and has a strong tradition might imply Protestant tradition does not. Not so, says Tropman.

He cites the Quakers, the Social Gospel Movement of the 19th and 20th centuries and the Bull Moose Party

CONVERSELY, CATHOLIC tradition may be strong in helping people who are disadvantaged. But history is not necessarily repeating itself, says Carol Savage, director of Christian Service at St. Edith Catholic

"You won't find that (a strong outreach) in every parish," Savage said. "We're all called to do that but we're not all doing it.

"I think we have a lot to learn from all our Christian brothers and sisters . . . If you look back, it was the Methodists who were more apt to have social programs and addressed the needs of the disadvantaged in the Attitudes toward wealth would seem to be consistent in a capitalist country. However, those exposed to Catholic traditions tend to have a different view, according to Tropman.

"The Protestant ethic places an emphasis on advancement," Tropman said. "Within the tradition, money is a sign of good character. Within the Catholic tradition, money has instrumental not transcendental value. It has a secular not spiritual meaning.

"In the Catholic tradition, money is viewed as something like a bowling score. Some of us have a high bowling score, some of us don't have a high score.'

Invasion of our privacy: It has ominous overtones

called me to the telephone to ask what make of refrigerator I have in the kitchen. I told him it was none of his business. Such queries are usually from people planning a sales pitch, but more impudent questions are those propounded by sociologists, pollsters and opinion-gather-

I refer to those who call us to find out what TV programs we are watching, what our views are on matters of topical interest, or what our feelings are about some controversial subject. The motto of all of the above could be characterized as the business card of the Private Detective which reads: "Other people's business promptly attended to."

There isn't much we can do about all of this except to throw questionnaires into the wastebasket. We can also reply to strangers who call us on the telephone "none of your concern" or, in the case of sales pitches, "I never respond to any solicitations made over the telephone."

I DON'T suppose enough of us will do any of these things sufficiently often to have any effect, just as too few of us will write "Refused" on junk mail.

Although these invasions of privacy are annoying, they do represent a serious trend. In society, neither freedom nor privacy can be absolute or all-inclusive. There are only "freedoms" and "privacies."

But the quality of civilization depends, to a considerable degree, upon which freedoms and which privacies its members enjoy, and in a democracy, these are likely to depend, in part at least, upon which people value most.

Free speech, including the free use of obscene language, is obviously much valued in our society. But freedom from annoyances - and worse in the name of progress and the common good is not similarly val-

The situation is similar with respect to privacy. If I am called to the telephone seven times in a day only to be told that I have just won free lessons at Arthur Murray's, and that six different solicitors want to sell me everything from health insurance to long-lasting electric light bulbs. I have no recourse.

WHEN A PUBLIC complaint was made, the telephone company replied not only that it did not want to put any restriction upon such use of its facilities, but also that it endeavored to discourage private listings telephone was to put people into communication with one another. It did not seem to recognize the fact that the desire to communicate should not be unilateral and that a considerable part of its business consists in putting people into communication with others who do not want to communicate with them. For those of us not engaged in any criminal activity, this is a more serious invasion of privacy than a micro-phone behind a mirror.

Please understand that I am not in favor of "bugging." It is just that I wish equal attention would be paid to those other invasions of privacy of which you and I happen to be vic-

Concert celebrates ethnic, racial diversity

THE PERFORMANCE will honor and extend this Detroit Musical legacy while simultaneously benefiting the Oakland County Center for Open Housing's Community Outreach program. The lineup is extraordinary: the Ursula Walker/Buddy Budson Trio, George Benson and Friends, Norma Jean Bell, and Alexander

These selected performers repre-sent a wonderful cross section of R&B and jazz performers from the greater Detroit Area.

"We think United Nations Day is the perfect opportunity to recognize the unique cultural similarities and differences among us through the international language of music," said OCCOH Co-Director Barbara Talley.

'It's an overflow from all of the other activities we do in terms of race relations. They are also well known performers; they represent a common goal."

The concert is a celebration of Oakland County's ethnic and racial diversity," added co-director Ann Wettlaufer.

The concert is viewed by its organizers as a means of gaining commu-nity support and educating Oakland County of the OCCOH's purpose.

"Our purpose," Talley adds, "is to promote integration through housing in Oakland County. We want people to be aware of all of their options regarding housing while at the same time work toward achieving a stable and integrated situation."

The peerless performers include Zonjic, an internationally renowned flutist. He has recently signed a recording contract with Warner

Zonjic has previously released five records under various labels. Although Zonjic has performed at Carnegie Hall, the Apollo Theater and the Hollywood Bowl, he still plays extensively in the area. Zonjic first emerged as a major national talent

In the 1860's English schoolteacher Anna Leonowens (Jeanne Kolinski DeLong) comes to the court of Siam to teach the royal children, and consequently influences the King (Jerry Sima) as well. It is a time when Siam is trying to find its place as a modern nation, and the monarchy is torn between hanging on to traditional ways and understanding new ones.

Abha Mangrulkar is an engaging Tuptim, the unhappy slave who has been sent to the King as a gift, but pines for the man she really loves. She offers lovely renditions of "My Lord and Master," "We Kiss in a Shadow," and "I Have Dreamed," and captures all of Tuptim's supsed rage when reciting

Samuel Perry is competent as Lun Tha, Tuptim's frustrated true love, and Pascal McGaffey is appropriately sinister as the King's disapproving rime Minister. Director/choreographer Kathi Judie Rosati's direction leads the cast of actors to work against one another. Although the cast is well prepared, acting styles range from quite broad to sedate.

SET IN a trendy apartment on the East Side of Manhattan, Barbara and David Kahn are art dealers whose mother is "dropped off like a package from Spiegle's" by Barbara's sister and brother-in-law. Barbara Kahn, played by Maggie Savage, faces caring for her sometimes eccentric mother. Savage creates a witty and believable character, but sometimes exhausts rubber facial expressions, a comic style that is too broad in contrast to the others on the stage.

Joel Grossman portrays well the outspoken and successful David Kahn who is caught in the middle. Grossman's style is more accomplished. For the most part, Grossman offers a more relaxed manner as his character confronts relatives, creating a more believable and less caustic personality while remaining very DOLAN AND Nancy Sievert portray less sophisticated relatives Martin and Trudy Heyman. The Heymans deliver their mother to David and Barbara Kahn, but not without the certain comedy that comes with relatives who clash on every issue. Dolan Sievert's portrayal of Martin is an adorable mix of naivete and prudishness.

Nancy Sievert delivers Trudy's lines with a wonderful sense of serious comedic timing. The Heymans' 18-year-old daughter (an off-stage character) is experiencing new-found freedom at college with relish, and Trudy blames it on her sister, Barbara, saying, "You took her to see that

Sophie finds her own death notices, in the recipe box. . under 'Casseroles,'

THE SHOW is fun and fast paced, with each character adding sparkle. Dick Cole renders a performance of note with his portrayal of Maurice Koenig, the 98year-old painter visiting the Kahns. Cole, however, does not look (nor act) 98, and this lessens the comedy value of this charac-

Recalling what is considered an innocent, uncomplicated time, the songs of Cole Porter provide a lively cynosure for a current production called "Cole 2 - the words and music of Cole Porter: The 1940's and 1950's." The cabaret-style presentation is running Friday and Saturday evenings at Punchinello's Restaurant 184 Pierce, Birmingham, through October 26.

CONCEIVED AND directed by Pierre Lamarre, "Cole 2" features 45 Porter compositions from a variety of Broadway shows ("Kiss Me Kate," Can Can") and films ("High Society," "You'll Never Get Rich") that the legendary composer scored. Porter wrote nearly 800 songs in his lifetime; roughly half have been published, and many have been diluted, condensed or even censored. Yet he leaves a body of work that is amusing, exhilarating, poignant and romantic. "I think that it's the kind of music that has lasting quality," said Lamarre. "The composers of that

On Dec. 12, 13, and 14, the music and culinary arts departments will recreate a 16th century English feast for the 15th annual Christmas Madrigal Dinners.

"NIGHT WATCH" is a suspense thriller about Elaine Wheeler, a woman troubled by unsettling memories and vague fears. Upon seeing (or believing she sees) the dead body of a man in the window of an abandoned tenement across from her townhouse, she calls the police, but they find nothing but an empty chair.

Another incident occurs involving another dead body; this time a woman's; the police turn skeptical. After pleas to her husband and the police that her visions are real, they claim she's suffering a nervous breakdown.

A woman psychiatrist is called and suggests that Elaine be committee to a Swiss sanitarium for treatment. But the plot moves quickly, and other people become involved. The climax is chilling, and unexpect-

Livonia Mayor Robert Bennett, himself a history buff, gave welcoming remarks to a regional meeting of historical groups in Newburg Church at Greenmead Historical Village Oct. 9.

Noting the farmstead at Greenmead dates back to the 1820s, he said: "The city of Livonia is only 41 years of age. But there's much more to its history."

"With time," he said, "we hope to make Greenmead a rather significant benchmark for the history of the state of Michigan."

The result of hard work by a variety of local civic groups, he added, Greenmead strives "to make history come alive."

The city bought the 95-acre Greenmead spread, containing the Simmons/Hill farmstead, in 1976. Fourteen historic buildings have since been moved there from other parts of the city.

Stabilization of nine remaining farm buildings continues. The farm's centerpeice is the main farmhouse, built in 1841. It's now a museum.

It's hot off the presses. Canton Historical Society has just published "Canton Area: The Sweet Corn Capital of Michigan, An Era in Canton's History."

This booklet, by society member Roy Schultz, documents the time during which Canton has been known as the Sweet Corn Capital of Michigan, 1920-1991. It lists 60 growers with a Canton connection.

Copies are available from the society for a donation of $2.50 per copy. Write: Canton Historical Society, P.O. Box 87362, Canton, MI 48187.

Organ music will fill the pews at First United Methodist Church in Plymouth Saturday night.

Church organist Mark Brampton Smith will play the dedicatory recital on the Zimmer pipe organ at 7:30 p.m. The church is at 45201 N. Territorial.

The three-manual, 35-rank organ was installed in May. For recital tickets, call the church, 453-5280. A free-will offering will be taken during the concert.

Three works by Bach, selections from Jean Langlais' Suite Breve, a 1990 composition by William Mathias and an extended virtuoso piece, Fantasy and Fugue on the Chorale by Liszt, will be presented.

Photographer documents irony, struggle

By Linda Ann Chomin special writer

N HIS work, Livonia photographer Carlos Diaz documents the life and everyday struggles of the common man, unemployed autoworker, laborer, "the low man on the totem pole."

His sharply focused images speak of irony, inner-city decay and the resultant leveling of Detroit's residences as well as businesses.

Diaz, assistant professor of photography at Center For Creative Studies in Detroit, was honored with the Wayne County Artistic Excellence and Community Commitment Award by the Wayne County Council For The Arts at a reception Oct. 9 in the historic Wayne County building in Detroit.

"These are the first time the awards were given. For them to single me out is a tremendous honor. I was proud and humbled by the award," Diaz said.

Diaz believes it was because of his art installation, "The Unemployed Autoworker," that he won the award.

Diaz began to asssemble the installation two years ago upon hearing his brother, Ralph, had been laid off after working 20 years for the automobile industry. The installation has since been exhibited in galleries from Pontiac to Flint.

THE POIGNANT installation does not lean in favor of the worker or against him. It simply states the facts. As in all his work, Diaz's intention was to let viewers draw their own conclusions after seeing a variety of ideas illustrated.

"I do it because I got to do it, but I let the viewer come to their own conclusions." Diaz said their own conclusions," Diaz said.

Diaz uses an 8-by-10-inch view camera built by Kodak during World War II for military photographers. Its large negative size gives Diaz finely detailed images and a crisp, clean focus, heightening the sharp sense of realism.

Maestro aims to involve audience

By Janice Tigar-Kramer special writer

Karen Nixon of Farmington Hills has come a long way from her years at Livonia Franklin High where she played French horn in the school's marching band, symphonic band and orchestra.

Today, the 40-year-old musicianturned-conductor, who heads her own 60-piece orchestra called Group du jour, is on a mission to "involve" the audience in her concerts. She'd like to bring audiences as close as possible to the musicians, stopping just short of having the audience play the instruments themselves.

"I'd like to get people away from the idea that classical music and musicians are inaccessible. I want to eliminate that feeling of separation that concert-goers experience," said Nixon, this year's recipient of the Distinguished Service to the Arts Award from the Farmington Arts Commission.

HOW DOES the conductor plan to present classical music in layman's terms? For an hour before show time, Group du jour musicians demonstrate their instruments and answer questions from the audience.

Besides informal demonstrations, the orchestra is seated on stage at the audience's level for better viewing. And in place of a program that concert-goers generally flip back and forth when the music begins, an orchestra member describes the music and its composer between each piece.

There's even a video camera focused on the orchestra so the audience can view the conductor and orchestra and examine instruments close-up on an overhead screen.

TO EXPERIENCE Group du jour firsthand, attend "Elan!" a concert of classical music by Tchaikovsky, Mozart and Stravinsky Friday, Oct. 25, at Mercy Concert Center, Gate 4, on 11 Mile east of Middlebelt, Farmington Hills.

Coffee hour and chamber music begins at 7 p.m., followed by the symphony performance at 8 p.m. Admission is $10, or $8 for students and senior citizens. Tickets are available at Beitner's Jewelry, 904 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, and Fox Formal Wear, 33326 W. 12 Mile, Farmington Hills.

To reserve tickets, call 478-2075.

NIXON CALLS her upcoming concert elan (French for enthusiasm) because it best describes her desire to give audiences a lesson in classical music with each concert. By educating audiences and letting them see the musicians and conductor at work, Nixon hopes that first-time concert-goers will return.

The conductor, like others in her field, feels the result of cuts in state spending for the arts. But by recruiting a new audience for classical music and renewing the interest of former concert-goers, Nixon hopes orchestras like hers one day will become self-supporting.

"I want to bring back the classical music audience. I want families to enjoy the concert experience together. And I hope that other orchestras will pick up on what we're doing and do the same."

Blue House, youth ensemble, Nankin Mills earn notice

NOTABLE NOTES:

• Livonia Historical Society's sixth annual progressive dinner, coupled with related fund-raisers, netted $3,000 for the Alexander Blue House restoration project at Greenmead Historical Village.

"We're up from last year's $2,000," said Sue Daniel, who chairs the restoration committee for Livonia's largest preservation effort.

This year's progressive dinner earnings include profits from a floral auction, an advertising book and contributions.

Local history buffs envision the white clapboard house becoming a self-supporting setting for conferences, meetings and parties.

The first five progressive dinners served up $15,000 toward the $250,000 needed to restore the Blue

House. Overall fund-raising has raised $59,000.

Livonia architect David Koskela has done both paid and volunteer work on behalf of the Blue House, Greenmead's only example of Italianate design. He's now preparing plans for phased interior restoration of the 141-year-old house, once home to a Livonia Township civic leader.

The Livonia Historical Society hopes to see the two-story, 11-room house used not only as a conference and meeting center but also a reception hall for Newburg Church at Greenmead. Period furnishings will reflect 1880s Livonia Township.

If you like orchestral music, set aside 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 26, at Laurel Park Place, Newburgh and Six Mile, Livonia.

That's when the Livonia Youth

Philharmonic of Michigan, under vibrant new music director Andrew Sewell of Ann Arbor, kicks off its four-concert season for 1991-92.

Nearly 100 violin, viola, cello, bass, string, brass, woodwinds and percussion musicians at three orchestra levels range in age from 8 to

The musical quality may not match that of the Livonia or Plymouth symphonies. But make no mistake: a commitment to hard work has translated into upbeat quality.

Sewell, a New Zealand native, is building a name as a spirited young conductor. He also conducts the Lake St. Clair Symphony in St. Clair Shores and directs the Scandinavian Symphony in Southfield.

He previously conducted the LYPM's string orchestra for 2½ years. This summer, he led a string workshop at Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

"I think he relates very well to young people," said Plymouth resident Lois Gilmore, LYPM president. "He's not as interested in splashy performances as he is in educating and training orchestra members as musicians."

 About $800 was raised at the Friends of Nankin Mills' third annual wine and cheese reception Oct. 10 at the Westland historic site.

Restoration of the 1863 grist mill, once part of Henry Ford I's village industries along the Rouge and other small rivers, is a cooperative effort of the Friends of Nankin Mills and the Wayne County Parks Division. The mill now houses parks offices.

"County plans call for expanding the annex to create office space and a gathering area there to free up the mill for a nature center again, hopefully by early 1993," said Joe Benyo, Westland legislative aide.

Nankin Mills lest was used to in Nankin Mills last was used to interpret nature from 1956 to 1979.

Architects peg costs of the restoration and expansion at nearly $1 million. A $750,000 state grant has been sought. The wine and cheese fund-raisers have raised about $2,800.

"Externally, the integrity of the mill has been preserved," Benyo said. "With the restoration work that's been done, it's how it was when Mr. Ford owned it."

Regrets to Westland City Council president Thomas Brown and Mayor Robert Thomas. I inadvertently referred to Brown as mayor in an Oct. 3 column about Nankin Mills.

Photographer lauded for artistic excellence

The cumbersome camera and Diaz's methods for choosing images are laborious and time-consuming. "Composing the picture is a slow, methodical process taking anywhere from a half hour up to an hour. I think about what I have. I like living with shots for awhile. I wait till I am able to feel the environment for awhile,

An ongoing project of Diaz's, "Unknown Landmarks," was begun in 1984 to illustrate "what this world was, how environment affects us.'

"IT'S A parody on what we have come to call land-marks," Diaz said. "It wasn't until 1984 I realized the importance of these places to find something telling about the city. I thought these landmarks were somewhere. They have a lot more to do with who we are than the Renaissance Center."

Diaz seeks out unknown landmarks for his photo essays early Sunday mornings when the streets of Detroit are deserted.

"At first, I found it was a lot of decay and negative aspects I was focusing on, but in the end, I found that I had shown a lot of positive aspects," Diaz said.

In certain instances, Diaz's images create controver-"Residential Back yard View With Rubbish Recepta-

"I try to present the facts then leave it up to them to derive a meaning," Diaz said.

FROM THE Unknown Landmarks Series, the photograph, "At The Extreme Southeast Corner Of The Old Uniroyal Plant Property," features sharp, jagged lines that heavily contrast the curves and flowing lines of the Belle Isle Bridge.

"I try to make a picture that's attractive. I try to attract attention first," Diaz said. "It's a well-designed picture. There's formality, design inherent in the picture, but it's more than shape and form. The important part of the picture, first and foremost, is content.

Diaz, with artist Charles McGee, is currently involved with seeking money from the National Endowment For The Arts to install billboards against drugs. Created by various artists, the messages would be placed throughout the community.

The Wayne County Council For The Arts was formed in 1989. Six awards were given to artists in a variety of fields this year.

Including Diaz, honored artists were painter, Nora Mendoza of West Bloomfield; pianist, Luis Resto; performing artist-ballet, Guillermo A. Resto; composerguitarist, Mario Enrique Resto; and educator writer, Dr.

Artist Kirk McLendon uses oil pastel to capture people traveling through life's everyday experiences.

Whether subjects are viewed in a state of comtemplation, enjoying the pleasures of family life or simply resting, McLendon's drawings show insight, warmth and outstanding draftsmanship.

The Dearborn artist's work is on display through Oct. 28 in the Exhibit Gallery at Madonna University, Levan and Schoolcraft, Livonia.

"They are fingertip drawings of family and friends, some with backgrounds that give a three-dimensional effect," said Ralph Glenn, chairman of the university's art depart-

Glenn decided to showcase the 12piece exhibition because of the way McLendon portrays the family.

"I think that his treatment of the family subject matter in heightened realism is wonderful, the technique, composition, to see the different levels as he follows the development of his children," Glenn said.

McLENDON'S DRAWINGS show children sullen and uncomfortable dressed in their Easter best. A wading pool, its interior decorated with blue dolphins, cools a little boy who sits contently. An autumn scene features a tousled hair boy, deep in thought, surrounded by a mound of golden-orange pumpkins.

"The effects of light are very important. It's natural light. Most of them are sunlight," McLendon said.

Although he has used several different media to create his works of art, drawing has always been at the heart

'It's always been drawing but I've used a variety of media, pencil, colored pencil and oil crayon," McLendon said. "I've been working with oil crayon for five years."

McLENDON GRADUATED from the Univesity of Georgia with a Master of Fine Arts. He has worked professionally as an artist for 20 years.

McLendon chairs the art department at Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn where he directs the graphic design program. Before moving to his present place of employment, McLendon taught at Madonna University for six years. He has taught design and drawing since

"Even in computer design, drawing is important," McLendon said.

One of his colored pencil works is three-dimensional. Bathed in sunlight, "Russell's Dance" features a toddler in front of a brick bungalow throwing his hands above his head in a dance of delight.

Reaching for the sky, the boy's arms lead the viewer's eye up two sets of stairs to the family home behind him and eventually to the top of a hip roof.

Pictured to the right of the composition is McLendon's hand, presumably beginning a pencil rendering of the joyful scene.

"Andrew's Portrait, executed in oil crayon, illustrates a typical scene of a family dining in a restaurant. A young boy seated on the knee of an older relative poses for a caricaturist rendering his portrait in marker. The artist's back is to the viewer.

"I like it because it was a double portrait," McLendon said.

"Andrew's Portrait," at 34 by 44 inches, is priced at $1,500.

"Leann," a pencil drawing in the show, graphically illustrates the head of a woman. A graph is superimposed over the portrait. The 25by 33-inch drawing is $800.

McLendon's work range in price from $800 to $1,500.

The progression of McLendon's art, because of his sensitivity for the subject and his draftsmanship, is always changing. "One of my goals is to keep working and see how it evolves, to see what develops," McLendon's said.

The Exhibit Gallery is on the second floor of the Library Building at Madonna University. Hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, 1-4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Soapy plot trips up nostalgic novel

Feel Too?" by June Akers Seese (151 pp., Dalkey Archive Press,

"Is This What Other Women Feel Too?" is a short, second novel by former Detroiter June Akers Seese. It's one obviously not directed at male readers. (The first, "What Waiting Really Means," was published last

In a way, this is a "fun read," I suppose, especially if you're feeling nostalgic for Detroit in the '50s and 60s. Seese has a brisk, lean style and a fine ability for recreating a time and place.

As you read, you'll feel you can almost taste that long-ago Soupy Sales-Jerry Cavanagh-early Motown era, when we all ate at S&C Diners and flocked to hear June Christie sing at Baker's Keyboard Lounge.
Clearly, though, Seese intends her story to be something more than just light reading. But this book would be much easier to take seriously if its plot were less soapy and contrived, and its heroine less tiresome. She's forever seeking affirmation of her worth through her relationships with men, men, men. After awhile, this little propensity gets to be boring,

In journal-like entries, interspersed with personal letters, "Is This What Other Women Feel Too?" tells the story of Detroiter Katie McGhee who, after an unhappy childhood, is starting her college career at Wayne University, while working part-time as a clerk at the boring, boring.

PRETTY SOON, we learn that she's involved in a hot affair with a book break Victoria Diaz married bookseller who looks a lot like Saul Bellow. And no, she didn't know he was married until several months into the relationship (she "never thought to ask").

His name is Francis and it isn't long before Francis dies, leaving his bookstore to Katie. Somewhere in all this, she manages to get her degree in Library Science/moves to Lapeer/gets to know a transvestite/returns to Detroit/begins to see a psy-

Things begin to look up when Ka-tie meets David, a labor lawyer. This lover resembles Sydney Greenstreet and, after a brief affair, the two decide to get married. But things are not always what they seem, of course, and on the eve of her wedding, David's friend, Harvey, reveals to Katie that David is actually a homosexual (No, she hadn't picked up on this earlier.)

Shortly after the revelation, Harvey and Katie go to bed together and then, shortly after this, David moves away to San Francisco, but not before selling his house on Grand Blvd. to the newly enlightened Katie.

THEN, IT'S 1967, the year of the Detroit riots. Katie begins to work with a group of black, high school dropouts. They read things like "The Fire Next Time" together, go to see "A Raisin in the Sun" at the Studio

She starts writing her memoirs and eventually takes up "in earnest" with an Irishman from Hamtramck (a real "meat and potatoes man"). At last, she's sleeping at night. Harvey (remember Harvey?) gets a divorce and wastes no time writing to say hello from Savannah, Ga., where he's been living for years. ". . . you'll never be happy being Mrs. Sally Smith!" The wise psychiatrist (male, of course) reveals to Katie, and, in the final scene, she runs out into the rain, dancing with joy. But wait! Sad to say, the entire story, we must remember, has been told in the form of flashbacks. Which means, of course, that the end of the story is really at the beginning.

It goes something like this: It's 1975 or thereabouts and Katie is still living with that meat-and-potatoes lover from Hamtramck. She's lonely and, after they've made love, he heads for the kitchen, "slamming cupboard doors and throwing leftovers from the refrigerator," and calling her "a hopeless woman." She languishes in bed, "drained from the sex," generally feeling woeful, thinking "I'll never understand men."

Somehow, you'd like to kick her out of that bed and shake this little ninny until her teeth rattle. Get a life, Katie.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Few dark clouds settle on real estate horizon

Favorable mortgage rates have failed to drain the supply of existing housing available to buyers.

Fixed rates of 81/2 for 15 years and 8% for 30 years can work for buyers only if there's a good selection of houses for sale in the marketplace.

And that's exactly what area realty boards report. The Western Wayne Oakland Association of Realtors had 10,176 active listings of houses and condominiums on its multi-list as of the end of September. That compares with 9,089 at the end of September, 1990, and 9,914 three months ago. The South Oakland Board of Realtors reported 1,613 houses and condos on its multi-list as September ended, a hair more than the 1,608 available at the same time in 1990.

Board of Realtors had 1,374 active listings of houses and condos as Sept. 30 compared to 1,472 at the end of September, 1990.

JUST AS important, the prices of houses apparently haven't soared out of sight as mortgage rates have tumbled significantly and the supply has remained plentiful.

The median (half below, half above) price of houses and condos that sold through the first nine months of this year in the South Oakland area was $78,000 compared to $75,000 last year.

The median sales price for units sold in Western Wayne Oakland during September was $85,000, compared with $80,000 during Septemnine months of this year was $162,000 compared with $166,500 for the similar period last year.

"It's our observation that the listings available currently are significantly greater than was available three to four years ago," said Warren Gould, executive director of the Birmingham-Bloomfield board. "The size of our (multi-listing) book is much larger.

The areas with the most listings so far this year are Bloomfield Township, West Bloomfield and Birmingham, Gould said.

LISTINGS WERE up in Septem-in every Observer community served by the Western Wayne Oakland board.

Specific numbers, including houses and condos, with 1990 figures listed in parenthesis, follows:

- Canton 309 (257).
- · Farmington/Farmington Hills -739(704)
- Garden City 154 (133). Livonia — 481 (429).
- Plymouth, city and township —
- 305 (270). Redford — 299 (164).
  - Westland 429 (381).

Listings are down this year compared to last in Southfield, Troy, Beverly Hills and Lathrup Village, the South Oakland board reported. "For a prospective buyer, today's price and terms show an excellent ecutive vice president of the South Oakland board. "Supply is good. Choice is good. I would say all prices are available which is unusual.

"I think you have a very stabilized marketplace," said Allen C. King, president of the Western Wayne Oakland board and an agent with Prudential Great Lakes Realty in Farmington Hills.

'There's a good balance between supply and demand. You're still getting an inflationary increase (in value), still building equity. Again, the supply of money is keeping interest rates low.

etermine useful life of common ements to set reserve

I am a board member and want to establish some sort of reserve so that we don't need to levy additional assessments as has been the case in the past. How do I go about doing

It is important for every well run association to establish an adequate replacement reserve for repairs to the common elements so that it will not be necessary to levy additional assessments in the future to meet pressing needs. To do this, a study should be undertaken by the association to ascertain the scope and magnitude of the problems that are likely to occur at the condominium. To do that, you must determine what the useful life of the common elements is going to be and amortize sufficient funds on a yearly basis to meet those needs, considering interest and a certain percentage for depletion of the reserves. That study should be undertaken with the assistance of an architect or engineering firm and the association's accountant. The condominium act requires that each association have a reserve for major repair or replacement of at least 10 percent of the budget, non-cumulative, but that is generally inadequate to meet the realistic needs of the association.

There is a condominium adjacent to a resort area. I am concerned about the leasing agent who is also tied in with the developer. How do I know that I am going to get a fair shake. Apparently there is no competition from this leasing agent.

As with many resort condominiums in areas where there are not a number of real estate entities that are on a competitive bases, you are are at the mercy of the developer. The developer is attempting to sell or lease his units. If his leasing agent is involved in leasing your unit, you may be second fiddle, so to speak. I would talk to other members of the association who have purchased units or are leasing them to deter-mine whether this leasing agent is charging a fair price and is willing to do a reasonable job. Obvioulsy, to the extent that his compensation is have an incentive to help. But the fact that the developer is selling or leasing his own units may be a factor. Make sure that there are no other leasing agents in the area who do not have a vested interest and might be available to assist you.

THERE'S NO BETTER TIME TO BUY

If you've been thinking about moving from your current residence to the house of your dreams or from an apartment to a starter home, this is the time to do it.

- The selection is excellent.
- · Low interest rates are available.
- · There are many financing options available.

Go ahead, make the move. Now is the right time to buy a home.

NOW is the right time

Purchasing a home has always been a wise decision, but current market conditions are making it even more attractive to buy now.

EXCELLENT FINANCING IS AVAILABLE NOW

Interest rates are lower, and mortgage lenders are offering a wide variety of financing options. Low interest rates mean you can get more for your money.

- · 30-year fixed mortgages are still available as well as many other financing alternatives.
- First time buyers are encouraged to purchase now through financing packages offering small down payments.

YOUR HOME IS YOUR BEST INVESTMENT

Purchasing a home is the best way to build a solid financial foundation. A home not only provides you with warmth and comfort, it also serves as a secure investment.

- · Today, homes in the area continue to be a wise investment.
- Equity in your home can be used as collateral, thus providing you with additional financial security.
- Home ownership provides you with a sizable tax advantage because interest paid on mortgages is fully deductible. Property taxes can also be deducted.

This landscape plan for the Country Club Village Community House in Northville Township, designed by Gibbs Planning Group in Bloomfield Hills and developed by Haggerty Hills Limited Partnership, includes several formal landscaping elements. Large trees, benches and ornamental lighting surround and capture the space in the courtyard. Shrubbery, fencing, lighting and flowers surround the pool deck, separating it from the courtyard lawn area. Flower beds mark paths to the tennis courts and a formal garden to the side of the clubhouse. Trees line the parking areas, and elaborate flower beds (not depicted) frame the front entrance.

Formal gardens and landscaping, once the pride of kings and queens, have fallen by the wayside in recent

For the last decade, natural and informal landscaping have been the norm. The goal of the landscape architect was to make the trees, shrubs, flowers and lawns look so natural that people would believe a building sprang up in a clearing overnight, and there was no need to eone to keen it that way

But formal landscaping could be on the verge of making a comeback.

Bob Gibbs, president of Gibbs Planning Associates in Bloomfield Hills, said although he hasn't seen a rush toward formal landscaping requests, when he presents ideas to his clients there has been a keen interest in the concept.

"The new formal landscaping is really a hybrid of the natural landscape and formal gardens," Gibbs explained. From the natural landscapes, site plans borrow the use of indigenous materials; from the formal gardens, site plans borrow design styles.

In formal landscaping, plant materials are not positioned to simulate random growths; they are designed to achieve a variety of effects, he said. In addition to being pleasing to look at, a well-designed formal landscape can direct the vision, capture space and create the illusion of NATURAL LANDSCAPING, Gibbs said, was being driven by several factors, primarily the ease of maintenance and the belief that naturalism is better.

In the past, maintenance of formal landscaping required a great deal of time and labor, Gibbs said. Old formal landscaping sometimes meant weekly lawn mowing, flower cultivating, shrub trimming and leaf raking.

Much formal landscaping also included exotic plantings that required special treatment to survive in the Michigan climate, he said.

Today, botanists have developed slow-growing, hardy varieties of trees, shrubs, turf and other plant materials, Gibbs said. These, he said, need little maintenance - at most one or two trimmings a year.

"A lot of shrubs are being bred as dwarves . . . new techniques of planting . . . new varieties of plants and choosing the right kinds of maples, evergreens and shrubs have made a big difference."

As for the other driving force be-hind the growth in natural landscaping - natural is better than manmade - Gibbs said people have become bored with it and are looking for something different.

Gibbs said he doesn't know exactly what the appeal is in formal gardens, but people recognize and appreciate organization.

The drive to formal landscape is also partially driven by architecture, Gibbs continued. "Architecture is getting much more interesting nowadays people are buying homes with far more detail." Since the house's architecture is so well designed — and looks it — it is only natural that the landscape should be as equally well-designed. Architects and landscape architects are frequently working together in designing homes and surrounding sites, Gibbs said.

MIKE LEHMANN, president of the Lehmann Design Group Inc. in Huntington Woods, said he's doing more formal landscaping than he once did. "I'm seeing more people looking for more variety in work."

People in southeastern Michigan, he explained, seem to be fairly conservative and traditional so formal landscaping appeals to them.
"They tell me they don't want to That's where the landscape architect comes in, he said. "Part of my

Residential construction spending spurs growth

AP - Construction spending rose 0.3 percent in August, the second straight advance, government said today. But only residential spending increased as non-residential and government outlays fell.

The overall construction sector is far from ready to rebound with continued signs of an overbuilt commercial real estate market and tight credit constraints by banks," said economist Michael P. Niemira of the Mitsubishi Bank in New York.

The Commerce Department said residential, non-residential and government spending totaled a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $406.2 billion, up from $404.9 billion in

The revised July figure showed that spending was a bit stronger than first estimated, rising 1.7 percent rather than the 1.6 percent reported earlier. Outlays had dipped 0.2 per-

Still, the value of construction put into place was 9.7 percent below that of August 1990.

Residential spending rose 3.5 percent, to $167.3 billion, after gaining 2.1 percent the previous month.

SPENDING ON single-family units jumped 5.9 percent, to $102.2 billion, on top of a 5.0 percent advance a month earlier. But spending on multi-family units continued to slide, down 0.7 percent to $13.6 billion after falling 7.4 percent in July. The value of non-residential construction also declined, down 3.9 percent to $90.0 billion following a 0.5 percent drop the previous month.

Government spending, reflecting tight budgets, fell 1.2 percent, to $110.3 billion, after rising 4.0 percent a month earlier

New plant varieties ease garden upkeep job (as a landscape architect) is education - ] have to let them know what the options are.

Function is also a driving force in formal landscaping. "How we use a yard or setting dictates (the need for) a manageable setting

"People have practical needs - that might mean screening neighbors, giving privacy, providing open spaces, giving vistas, making open areas for children or animals, showing color or adding

Informal or natural landscaping can't do that, he said. "People can spend thousands and thousands of dollars and get nothing for it."

PEOPLE ARE more knowledgeable about what they want and what they can get. Lehmann said the misconception about high maintenance formal landscaping is no longer accepted without

"If it's planned well, designed well and sited well, there are aspects of low maintenance in formal gardens," he said. Planned well means choosing the right materials, designed well means assembling them correctly and sited well - which is perhaps the least understood - means looking at the site as a micro-environment.

"It means taking a very good look at exposure, how much light and wind will it get, on-site water, potential water sources off-site - that all relates directly to what I can do."

Planning what materials should be used in formal landscaping is also critical - not only from the plants' chances for survival, but because of the ar sarance. "There are a couple of dozen plants that have been heavily used - ashes, junipers, red maples - these are very over-used. "Landscaping in this area is not anywhere as professional as it should be - I see it slowly turning around, but it is very slowly," he said.

There are hundreds of thousands of plants available and (a good landscape architect has to) take advantage of that," Lehmann said.

JAMES SCOTT, president of James C. Scott &

Associates in Bloomfield Hills, said a requests for formal gardens are directly related to how much noney a client has to spend.

There's nothing more expensive than a formal English garden," he said. Whether a client wants formal landscaping depends on individual tastes. Much of what we do in the Grosse Pointes is more formal than what we do in Bloomfield

Residential landscaping - at least on an individual home scale — is more likely to be formal than informal. Offices, light industrial parks, and commercial projects are more likely to opt for natural, informal landscaping.

Formal landscaping may be on the rise, but Scott said it's doubtful it will become as popular as informal landscaping if for no other reason than maintenance.

"It (formal landscaping) looks nice if a tree doesn't die or something, but if something happens, it could ruin the whole effect," Scott said.

Scott said it's the duty of the landscape architect to point out the potential pitfalls and pluses of either style. Maintenance is no longer the problem it once was, but formal landscape still requires more maintenance than informal land-

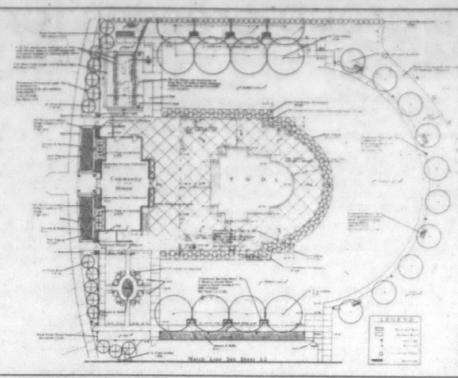

The more maintenance that is done, the better the formal landscape is going to look," he said. "It's almost like a finely manicured putting Random, free form, loosey goosey landscape architecture," he said, "can (aesthetically) survive with less work."

Scott said landscaping and styles are always evolving and speculated that many projects will probably be a combination of formal and informal elements - neither will be exclusively used.

"Something like a formal hedge running through an informal, rolling landscape," he said. 'The berms and boulders - they're getting a little overdone.

People will be saying to themselves, 'Why not get into a more orderly landscape plan?'

This planting plan shows the details of the Country Club Village Community House grounds.

The report contrasted with a National Association of Realtors' survey last week that found sales of existing homes had fallen 2.1 percent in August, the second straight decline.

The Realtors had attributed the decline to "uncertainty over if and when the economic recovery is coming," despite mortgage rates that have declined nearly one percentage point in the last year.

The Departments of Commerce and of Housing and Urban Development said sales of single-family homes nationally totaled a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 540,000, up from a revised 506,000 in

The departments first had estimated July's decline at 8.5 percent rather than the 2.7 percent drop in today's report. But June's initial 4.0 percent advance was revised down to a 2.6 percent gain.

Builders group presses for incentives

The National Association of Home Builders has a sim-ple solution for a stalled economy: Ease credit for builders and increase incentives for buyers.

The national organization and its local affiliate, the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan, believe a revitalized building industry would pump new life into a lethargic economy that has prospective home buyers

"I think there is nothing like construction to spark plug the economy," said James Bonadeo, a Plymouth-based builder and BASM president.

The national organization's 1,800-member board supports a series of banking, legislative and regulatory ac-tions. These range from additional tax credits for home owners to revisions of banking laws.

Another BASM official believes that allowing developers access to money is among the most important.

"I think easing credit is vital to the economic recovery," said Irvin H. Yackness, BASM vice president and general counsel. He said he was encouraged by recent statements on the subject by President George Bush.

Bonadeo noted that many developers with long-standing credit ratings are being denied access to cash they need to fund projects. Strict federal relations are part of the problem, Bona-deo said. "They've got these bankers so scared that developers can't get money.

NATIONALLY, the NAHB is projecting about one million housing starts for 1991, the lowest level since 1945.

The National Association of Home Builders supports a series of banking, legislative and regulatory actions that range from additional tax credits for home owners to revision of banking laws.

Locally, through August, the number of new residential units is down 36 percent from the previous year in Oakland County, and 33 percent in Wayne County.

Bonadeo says that the flat market doesn't mean buyers aren't interested. They are. They're hesitating, despite favorable mortgage rates, fearing a downturn in the econo-

"They're scared to sign. They just don't know what's going to happen."

The NAHB is calling on the Bush Administration and · Establish a tax credit for moderate-income, first-

· Allow tax- and penalty-free withdrawals from IRAs and other retirement plans for downpayments on homes. · Extend the low-income housing tax credit and mortgage revenue bond programs. · Repeal passive loss restrictions for real estate · Reinstate a capital gains rate differential for real estate and other assets.

The NAHB wants Congress to revise the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act, and to pass legislation to grant a phase-in of capital requirements for banks and savings and loans. The organization is also seeking a strengthening the Federal Home Loan Bank System.

Yackness and Bonadeo said easing credit would allow builders the loans they need to begin new projects. This has a trickle down effect, Bonadeo said, providing jobs and providing home shoppers with a wider selection of "The economy needs a new infusion of capital," Yackness said.

REDUCE YOUR

Obesity can start a chain reaction to poor health that can be devastating.

To begin with, most physicians and researchers consider obesity to be the major cause of diabetes in adults. Up to 90% of adults diagnosed as having diabetes, in fact, are overweight.

Of course, once you have diabetes your chances of developing heart disease, kidney disease, or going blind increase dramatically.

As a person with diabetes you'll be twice as prone to heart disease. 17 times as prone to kidney disease. And 25 times as prone to blindness, if you are insulin-dependent.

Diabetes, in fact, can shorten your life expectancy by one-third.

Fortunately, diabetes in adults, in most cases, can be prevented with careful weight control, healthy eating habits, and regular exercise.

So if you're overweight, doesn't it make sense to take off the extra weight? Instead of years off your life?

Support the American Diabetes Association.
