Plymouth T-shirts 'born in USA'

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

T-shirts made in Plymouth with a new twist on the "buy American" theme are hotter than firecrackers on the Fourth of July.

Ed Wertanen, owner of Plymouth Screen Printing on Amelia near the cultural center, said he's turning out 1,500 T-shirts and sweatshirts per week, with the message, "Buy American or Bye America."

"Dennis Green's group came up with the idea and he sought us out to print it," Wertanen explained, during a break in printing the shirts.

Green, of West Bloomfield, owns the Southfield advertising agency The Dennis Group Inc. He came up with the slogan while driving in his car.

"Basically I'd been thinking about a way to help graphically, to get the message out to 'my fellow Americans' — as former President Lyndon Johnson used to say — to take a hard look at our purchasing habits," Green said.

"We just started selling it a week ago last Sunday," said Wertanen, now retired from the General Motors Willow Run plant. "We have had no negative feedback — It's all positive," Green added.

GREEN SAID he was moved to come up with the slogan by Japan's reluctance to ease trade barriers with the U.S.

Several designs were finished at his ad agency, and shirts are offered in three styles. Plymouth-area outlets for the shirts so far are Dimitri's Party Pantry, McAlister's Grocery Store, and Greetings Plus in Canton.

On Tuesday at Wertanen's print shop, he and Green were shaking their heads over the most recent pronouncement of Japan's prime minister, that Americans did not want to work "by the sweat of their brows."

"There's been a series of slights they're taking at us that are uncalled for," Green said. They have so much to lose by infuriating Americans. They'd be better off saying nothing."

Green said the T-shirt message isn't meant to bash the Japanese.

"We only have ourselves to blame for much of the economic slump, with one of four cars being sold here Japanese. If we all bought American, our economy would be in much better shape."

"We are saying, take a good hard look at what you're buying. The issue goes into the unfair trade atmosphere," Green said.

He recounted stories of how various U.S. products aren't allowed into Japan. "There are just so many inequities and they don't allow us to compete fairly," Green said.

Green in the past two weeks has appeared on several metro Detroit morning radio programs, and he's hoping to get Willard Scott of TV's "Today" show to display one of the red, white and blue shirts.

City 'taking steps' to help businesses

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

The recent failure of several downtown stores sparked comment Monday from city commissioners, and one stressed that officials are trying to better the situation.

"I just don't want them thinking were fiddling while Rome burns," said commissioner Douglas Miller.

At the Monday commission meeting, Miller said, "I think everyone here has deep concern about events that have unfolded."

He was referring to the recent closing of the Cloverdale restaurant, the Mayflower Hotel seeking bankruptcy protection, and other business closures downtown.

'I just don't want them thinking were fiddling while Rome burns. I've had a number of phone calls from citizens. They're extremely anxious about an accelerating rate of decline of the commercial area.'

— Douglas Miller
city commissioner

"I'VE HAD A number of phone calls from citizens. They're extremely anxious about an accelerating rate of decline of the commercial area," he said.

"It's not just the business area," added commissioner Bill McAninch. "We have a number of industrial areas that are in serious trouble."

"We've taken some important steps to foster economic growth," Miller said, "but some business owners are not aware of the steps that have been taken."

Among those steps, he cited a new city zoning ordinance that eases some parking requirements that new businesses had to meet, an ongoing downtown Plymouth marketing study by consultant firm Hyett-Palma, and the upcoming appearance of a top consultant on small business success.

"The leadership is alive and working on some of these issues," Miller said.

But commissioners drew criticism from one new business owner over a perceived lack of support.

Since opening Brass and Iron Beds at Forest and Ann Arbor Trail three months ago, "Not one of you fine gentlemen have stopped by to say hello," said co-owner Cathie Sharon.

"You fellows simply are not working with it. Nobody bothered to knock on the door," she said, adding city officials should be working "20 times harder to make us happy and keep us here."

Downtown Development Authority member and former mayor David Pugh said that at his job in Dearborn, "People are asking what is happening in Plymouth."

The publicity sparked by the Mayflower bankruptcy and other closings "adds up to a perception problem," he said, stressing that some Plymouth businesses are thriving.

Still, Pugh urged the commission to act swiftly on items deemed to aid business — including the DDA-recommended change in direction for Penniman, which officials say will keep motorists from heading out of town too quickly.

McAninch said that while the commission is trying to help, "We're waiting to see some objective data on traffic flow so we don't make a serious mistake."

Schools of choice tough road for district

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

The two dozen volunteers drafting a state-mandated "schools of choice" plan for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools asked not what their district could do for them, but what they could do for their district. It's been such a frustrating, time-consuming experience that some are sorry they did.

The Michigan Legislature announced a month ago that all districts must draft a plan enabling students to attend the school of their choice, as long as it's within their local district.

Gov. John Engler proposed that all schools make available 1 percent of their space for transferring students. Varying plans were tossed into the legislative hopper, but none were recommended to the planning committees.

— Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton

So the committees — required by law to draft a plan by April — have few guidelines to work with. One thing they have been told is that they must figure out a way to provide bus transportation for students switching schools — a costly proposition.

IT'S A PROBLEM state Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, who sits on the state House Education Committee, said he mentioned recently to his colleagues on the committee.

"I think the concept of schools of choice warrants a look and has some potential to benefit certain students in certain situations," said Kosteva, whose wife Laura is serving on the Plymouth-Canton committee. "I felt the legislative approach to it last year was far too rushed. And it was not given the proper deliberative thought, nor the time for local planning committees to adequately plan. Only recently have some guidelines been issued by the Department of Education, and they still remain in draft form."

Boards of education will accept or turn down the recommended schools of choice plans. If rejected, voters will have a chance in June to adopt the plans.

Marketing whiz will talk on small business

Jay Levinson

If you own a Plymouth business that could use a boost, take note.

Jay Levinson, who created the "Marlboro Man," the lonely Maytag repairman and "Fly the Friendly Skies of United," is bringing his marketing approach for small business to Plymouth.

Levinson is scheduled to speak from 8:30-11:30 a.m. Tuesday, Feb. 25 at the Mayflower Meeting House on "guerrilla marketing."

The program is co-sponsored by the chamber of commerce and downtown development authority.

"Your DDA is offering this program as its first effort to establish an on-going business education program for downtown," wrote city manager and DDA director Steve Walters in a letter to Plymouth businesses.

Cost for the seminar is $60 for chamber members and $70 for non members.

Levinson has said he wrote the book "Guerrilla Marketing Attack" because he couldn't find a good marketing book for his smaller clients.

Levinson's marketing tips are designed to encourage

'Most small businesses start with a theme, a format, and select a medium, but if they don't get miracle results in two or three months they change everything.'

— Jay Levinson

customer loyalty and promote subsequent sales.

He told the Los Angeles Times, "The single most important thing is commitment to a marketing plan. Most small businesses start with a theme, a format, and select a medium, but if they don't get miracle results in two or three months they change everything."

Saying this leads to confusion, he urges small business owners to be patient, and points to the initial failure of his "Marlboro Man" campaign.

He also recommends sending thank-you notes to customers, sending newsletters, and lots more.

Carey Peters, co-chair of the Plymouth-Canton committee, said the committee checked with 150 communities in Michigan and across the country who've adopted schools of choice plans.

"We found out that in those 150 communities, there are 150 different ways schools of choice are defined," she said.

They've been formed to combat problems involving everything from drop-out rates to truancy, unwed teenage mothers, immigration and language barriers, Peters said. "We are trying to figure out what the educational needs are here, and the purpose of schools of choice in Plymouth-Canton."

Twenty-two members of our committee went out and talked to as many friends and neighbors as we could in a week. We talked to over 200 families, just saying, 'If it came to Plymouth and Canton, would you use schools of choice?'"

"WE FOUND OUT that most all of the answers were pretty much emotional needs," Peters said.

Many answered that they'd use schools of choice if it meant their child could attend an elementary school closer to where they worked, or the child's day care center.

Paying for transportation is a major headache in light of the gloomy financial picture the district faces, said Mitchell Howard, Plymouth-Canton committee co-chair.

Howard says committee members have spoken with people in Minnesota, which implemented schools of choice, "and they can't believe we have to deal with transportation. Can you imagine the geography and numbers of students we have to deal with?" asked Howard.

"We were given a great deal of latitude and we'll make the deadline. But it's going to come from a lot of hard work and lot of hard head knocking. We don't want to do anything that would contribute to the budget problem."

Laura Kosteva says that based on what she's learned, she's not certain schools of choice will bring about improvement in Plymouth-Canton.

"I'm not convinced of that at all," she said. "In fact, the legislation only offers a 20 percent increase over the categorical part of school funding for transportation. If we were to do this districtwide, the actual cost to this district would be exorbitant. I'm just wondering whether or not it would be worth it."

"Sincerely," she added, "from what we can gather, all the schools are very similar. We don't have any particular school that is in much worse shape than any other. So we are questioning whether we have the need here."

Musical equipment stolen

Amplifiers and other band equipment valued by its owner at more than $3,000 was stolen Saturday from two storage units.

The theft occurred at 3:54 a.m. when an alarm was set off at Stow and Go, 41999 Ann Arbor Road, according to the report filed with Plymouth Township police. Thieves cut a fence and broke a lock to get inside the two storage units, the report said. Police are investigating.

HUNTER HELD: A man charged by police Sunday with unlawful hunting was arrested and released on $100 bond after a background check showed he was wanted on a warrant issued in Genesee County.

According to the report filed by Plymouth Township police, the man, 30, was hunting rabbits, aided by his dog in a field at Commerce near Beck Road. The man had bagged two bunnies by the time police arrived at the scene.

IT'S ILLEGAL TO FIRE A GUN IN PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP. TOOLS GONE: Two tool boxes and tools valued by their owner at more than $3,000 were reported missing from a Plymouth Township garage Saturday.

According to the report filed with police, the tools turned up missing at 3 p.m. from an unlocked garage on Russet near Huntington Drive. The thief left tracks in the snow, said police, who are investigating.

Math 'school' for teachers

Third-, fourth- and fifth-grade mathematics teachers from the Plymouth Canton Community Schools will participate in "Math: A Way of Thinking," a mathematics in-service program, on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 7 and 8.

The program will be from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Canton High School Library Viewing and Listening Room.

The first half of this 30-hour program was on Jan. 24-25. Nearly 30 teachers from the district are volunteering to participate in these sessions, according to Barbara Church, curriculum coordinator for mathematics and science.

"The in-service will help teachers to better implement the district's newly revised math curriculum in their classrooms," Church said.

The program is presented by the Center for Innovation in Education, a non-profit educational consulting firm based in California.

A variety of activities will be presented to help students better understand and use mathematics. Topics covered include whole numbers, addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, geometry, measurement and algebraic ideas.

The "Math: A Way of Thinking" program is just one of more than 15 math in-services held this year for teachers in the district.

McDonald's gets no break, back in court

By Diane Gale
Staff writer

It's back to the courtrooms for Canton Township and McDonald's Corp.

That seems to be the likelihood of a five year battle, even though a couple of months back it appeared an out of court agreement was going to halt further litigation.

"We believed we had a deal. Both sides had their objectives met," Canton Supervisor Tom Yack said Monday.

YACK WAS scheduled for deposition Tuesday afternoon.

"Four weeks ago they said we're going to war," Yack said. "The only thing we can think of is that they're looking for money damages."

The initial lawsuit was filed after Canton officials decided McDonald's didn't deserve a break today and refused to grant special land and site plan approval.

Representatives from the fast food chain planned to build a store on 3.7 acres on the north side of Ford Road between I-275 and Lotz Road.

The proposal seems to have met more hurdles for McDonald's than building in locations around the world, including Russia.

When McDonald's applied to the township the first time the land was zoned to allow for fast food restaurants if special approval was granted.

However, after Canton's zoning ordinances were revamped the land was zoned such that it banned a fast food restaurant unless it was attached to a larger building.

— Tom Yack
Canton supervisor

A PAPER trail has accumulated since 1987 when the first McDonald lawsuit was filed. In 1990 the Canton Board of Trustees refused to give the company necessary land use approval so that it could begin building.

A second lawsuit was filed. And most recently settlement negotiations had resumed.

A McDonald's attorney implied that an out of court settlement is still a possibility.

"The two sides are still talking," Ann Hiemstra, a McDonald's attorney, said Tuesday.

She declined to talk about specifics in the case. McDonald's spokesmen were unavailable for comment earlier this week.

Kids tune up with Detroit Symphony quintet

Adam Harry plays a trombone during a clinic conducted by Randall Hawes of the Detroit Symphony.

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

Five guys wearing dark suits and carrying shiny horns showed up at Lowell Middle School's cafeteria Tuesday morning. They played moving music — tunes like George Gershwin's "Bess, You Is My Woman," Hoagy Carmichael's "Georgia," and the W.C. Handy's "St. Louis Blues." How good were they? So good that more than 100 adolescent band members sat transfixed. And so good that all five are employed by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The musicians belong to the Detroit Chamber Winds, a brass quintet consisting of tuba player Wesley Jacobs, trombone player Randy Jacobs, trumpet players Kevin Good and Bill Lucas, and French horn player Bryan Kennedy.

Lucas is a 1975 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School.

THE CONCERT AND clinic materialized thanks to Lowell band director Judy Meyer and the Plymouth Community Arts Council. Meyer, whose brother is Randy Hawes, applied to the arts council for a grant and received a generous $915. The funding enabled the brass quintet to entertain and instruct horn-playing students Tuesday morning. A second DSO group, the Woodwind Quintet, is scheduled to stage a similar program tomorrow for students who play wind instruments.

The quintet drew rave reviews. "They were awesome. They were cool," said Beth Prezioso, a sixth-grader who plans French horn.

"They're good, and they play some pretty nice music," agreed percussionist Derek Williams, a sixth-grader.

Good taught students about melody, harmony, dissonance, rhythm, jazz and the blues.

"Does anyone know what the blues are?" asked Good before the quintet launched into the "St. Louis Blues."

"A hockey team," piped up a student.

After performing, the group broke up into five clinics.

Kennedy said it was time well spent.

"It's great for us, and great for the kids," he said. "Hopefully, it keeps them interested in the arts, which is important right now, and it gives them some insight into what it takes to become a musician. Best of all, even if they don't end up in music, maybe they will be future ticket buyers at cultural events. Everything for the future," said the Dearborn High grad.

BAND DIRECTOR Meyer and Lowell Principal Pat Patton were more than pleased with Tuesday's outcome.

"This is very generous of the arts council, and we're very concerned that the community know their funds are being put to such good use," said Patton.

"This gives students a chance to work with people they would never otherwise have the chance to," said Meyer, who plays oboe. "They've broken up into small teaching groups and are receiving some really high quality, specialized training," she said.

That was evident in the classroom where an animated Lucas was teaching the fundamentals to young trumpeters.

"I'm tricking you into learning," said Lucas, who had the students laughing, playing, and obviously enjoying themselves.

Lucas, who plays his horn an average six hours a day, credits Plymouth-Canton schools' music program, and band teacher Jim Griffith in particular, for much of his success.

"I went here all 12 years, and the band program was fabulous," said Lucas. "One of the reasons I'm in the symphony is because of my experience in the band programs. Under Jim Griffith, I learned to be a musician at a young age. He really taught me how to play, and that's really important. I still have fond memories of the concerts we played."

"What I find rewarding is being able to affect audiences, showing them the genius of the great composers, and being able to play what I feel," he said.

Bryan Kennedy usually plays a French horn in the symphony, but he brought along his home made hose-a-phone, which is made from a garden hose and a funnel.

Property seized

Canton public safety director John Santomauro is flanked by Drug Enforcement Administration special agent William R. Coonce and U.S. Marshal James Stewart. They presented Santomauro with checks, valued at more than $17,000, from goods confiscated from a 31-year-old Canton man's home last week. The Canton man had more than $30,000 worth of jewelry and cash confiscated from his Saltz Road house. Canton police assisted federal marshals in arresting the man who reportedly violated his probation on a marijuana charge, Stewart said. A federal law allows enforcement agencies to seize assets in connection with drug arrests. The federal agencies may give 80 percent of the seized assets back to the local police departments to be used for law enforcement.

New plans save Ford, Pursell - Levin's not so lucky

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

Veteran congressmen William Ford and Carl Pursell probably won't face each other this fall.

A Ford-Pursell face-off, long predicted, would not result from either of the congressional redistricting plans filed last week by state Democrats and Republicans.

Instead, Rep. Sander Levin, D-Southfield, will face at least one fellow incumbent, as well as losing all or part of his western Wayne County constituents.

Democrats and Republicans each filed redistricting plans Friday. Almost immediately, each party challenged the other's plan in federal court.

Population losses dictate Michigan will lose two of its 18 Congressional seats. While final district boundaries await a judicial ruling, several matters already appear clear.

• Ford, D-Taylor, is likely to hang on to the bulk of his western Wayne constituents, while seeing his 15th District expand west to Ann Arbor — an area currently represented by Pursell.

• Pursell, R-Plymouth, is likely to keep his Plymouth/Livonia base, while adding communities in Oakland County, Farmington Hills, Novi and — possibly — Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills are among the communities he would gain, depending upon which plan is adopted. Pursell would lose the balance of his current district, in Washtenaw and Hillsdale counties, under both plans.

This week, Pursell was already meeting with potential Oakland constituents.

"I REPRESENTED many of these communities in the state Legislature," Pursell said. "Many of these people are already familiar with me."

Ford, too, said he was happy — but with conditions.

"As far as I'm concerned, I feel pretty safe," he said. "But the Republicans are trying to lump three incumbents together and that's just not right."

The three incumbents are Levin, Rep. Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, and Rep. David Bonior, D-Mount Clemens.

The balance of districts currently represented by Levin and Hertel would be joined even under the Democratic plan.

But Democrats say the GOP also targets Bonior by including a large portion of his Macomb County-based district as well.

Levin is "absolutely" running again.

"The Democratic plan was regrettable but responsible," he said. "We all knew going in that we'd have to give up a seat. But the Republican plan is just a blatantly political move."

Hertel, whose current district includes Sterling Heights and parts of Warren and Detroit, is also running again.

"He has a lot of respect for Sandy Levin, he's known him for a long time, but Dennis is running for reelection," Hertel press secretary Mary Conklin said.

The Democratic plan would place Hertel's Harper Woods hometown in the district of Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Detroit, though the balance of his

A VISA Or Mastercard With Your Interest In Mind

Credit Union ONE has reduced the interest charged on its VISA/Mastercard to 14.8% A.P.R.* That's 2% lower than our previous rate, and more than 4% lower than the national average of 18.9%.

Pay Off Your Current Balance At A Lower Rate

If you don't have a VISA/Mastercard account at Credit Union ONE, you still can benefit from the low rate. Merely apply for a VISA/Mastercard and upon approval, pay off your current credit card balance. For example, if you owe $1,000 on your current card, which charges 18.9% interest, you can pay off your balance immediately with your Credit Union ONE VISA/Mastercard. Subsequently, your balance would remain $1,000, but you'd be paying 14.8% in interest. That's nearly 22% less in interest payments!

And, at Credit Union ONE, VISA/Mastercard holders also receive:

- One of the lowest annual membership fees in the financial marketplace — $10.
- $300,000 Travel Insurance at NO EXTRA COST (when travel via common carrier is charged to your credit card).
- Credit Life Insurance up to an aggregate of $10,000 at NO EXTRA COST (for qualified members).
- An accommodating 25-day grace period with no interest on purchases if the balance is paid in full.
- Automatic Transfer Option — pay your monthly bill (minimum or balance in full) from your regular share or checking account.

3,000 compete in music fest

MORE THAN 3,000 high school musicians from throughout western Wayne County and southeast Michigan competed Saturday in the 1992 Solo and Ensemble Festival for District 12 of the Michigan Schools Band and Orchestra Association.

The turnout kept things hopping all day Saturday at Livonia Franklin High which again this year hosted the district solo and ensemble competition. The previous Saturday Franklin hosted the district event for middle school and junior high school musicians.

The number of high school instrumentalists entering the festival far exceed last year's turnout and so some 10 extra rooms had to be used in nearby McKinley Elementary so there would be sufficient warm-up areas so all students would get a chance to practice before performing before judges.

Next month students who earned high ratings Saturday will advance to state solo and ensemble competition.

Among the many high schools participating Saturday were Churchill, Stevenson and Franklin from Livonia, Westland John Glenn, Plymouth-Canton Centennial Educational Park, Livonia Ladywood, Southgate, Taylor, Romulus, Dexter and Temperance-Bedford.

The performances were scheduled between 8 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. Saturday. Students and band booster members from Franklin worked 12 hours both Saturdays to host the competition. Some 50 Franklin students competed.

Retired analyst defends U.S. autos

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

It's easy to picture Ray Windecker as an automotive Don Quixote, riding into battle with a hubcap for a shield and a briefcase full of statistics as his weapon.

Think American automobiles are vastly inferior to those made in Japan? Windecker will hit you with a Florida "lemon index" showing fewer claims against GM cars than any other models.

Then, he'll whip out another survey showing 1,640 complaints from every 100 Pontiac owners compared with a near-equal 1.6 from those who own a Nissan.

Then, he'll a quote from another survey.

Since retiring 2½ years ago as a Ford Motor Co. research analyst, Windecker has waged a one-man campaign in defense of U.S. automobiles from his Livonia home.

From a newly-made office, he runs American Autodatum — an information service billed among the world's most accurate when it comes to auto specifics.

"I had the extra room and I thought, why not," he said.

Since then, he's written columns for various newspapers and automotive publications — and woe be to any reporter whose research is less painstaking than Windecker's own.

"HE'S THE kind of guy you'll call up a newspaper reporter and call him an S.O.B. right over the phone," automotive columnist Dan McCosh said. "But as far as his own figures, I've never had any problem with them."

Windecker takes pride in and small pleasure in his reputation as a debunker.

"He's a real iconoclast," said McCosh, who has known Windecker for more than a decade. "His statistics always go against the grain of what is being accepted as common knowledge."

Once, that meant refuting claims of rival U.S. automakers. Today, that means attacking whole-hearted acceptance of Japanese automotive superiority.

Satisfied Honda, Toyota and Nissan drivers may scoff, but Windecker's basic premise is that U.S. automakers — while hardly perfect — can compete if only given the chance.

Nearly 15 years ago, Windecker compiled a detailed history of the Japanese market, showing, he said, how that nation's automakers built their markets at foreigners' expense.

The 1930s exclusion of GM and Ford from a once-viable Japanese market, he argued, cost U.S. automakers the chance to learn from Japanese breakthroughs even though pre- and post-war Japanese automakers toured U.S. plants freely.

"I sent it to dozens of newspapers and only one, the Toledo Blade, expressed any interest at all," he recalled.

Today, Windecker is getting more media attention — he recently wrote an editorial page opinion piece for the Detroit News — but he worries the battle may already be lost.

"ALL THIS Buy American stuff, it will fade," he said. "That's because most Americans are economically illiterate. This isn't just about the automotive business but about business, period."

ness, period."

Economic literacy — at least according to Windecker — stems from an understanding that foreign-made "bargains" actually rob the domestic economy.

"For every $10,000 you buy from a non-reciprocal country, it costs U.S. taxpayers $3,000," Windecker said, citing balance of trade figures, declining domestic operations and, ultimately higher property taxes to cover their loss.

The key is opening the Japanese market to U.S. goods, though Windecker said President Bush's recent trip did little to bring that about.

"Don't listen to George Bush, listen to what the Japanese are saying," he said.

While some might doubt his figures, or call him a Japan-basher, there is little doubt Windecker practices what he preaches.

His home computer isn't Japanese-made, nor are the eyeglass frames he wears.

"There may be only two U.S. frames in the store, compared with 200 frames from Taiwan and every place else," he said. "But I'll buy the American pair."

Automobiles have been his life. Starting as a mechanic, Windecker has risen from auto salesman to marketing official to corporate spokesman, serving Hudson, Studebaker and Ford — and butting heads with countless other opinion makers — along the way.

Though a Ford Aerostar van is his current transportation, Windecker is also lovingly restoring a 1953 Studebaker, while his cherished 1968 Mustang is saved for good-weather-only driving.

Though an iconoclast, he isn't exactly an outsider.

"When he was at Ford, it was my impression he was very much an insider, very much in the loop," McCosh said.

But why keep fighting now? With a large portion of the domestic market share lost, seemingly forever, and Japanese markets difficult, if not impossible, to open, why not retire to a less stressful life of gardening or golfing? Married 42 years, and with two adult sons, maybe it's time to slow down.

Windecker considers the question.

"I know my doctor wants me to slow down. I've got ulcers and, sometimes, I can't sleep thinking about the auto industry," he said. "But if I've talked a thousand people out of buying an imported product, or saved 20 U.S. jobs, then I've done all right."

JIM JAGOFFELD/staff photographer

A self-described "debunker," Ray Windecker of Livonia has been studying the domestic and Japanese auto markets for years, issuing position papers often at odds with prevailing industry thought.

district would be included with Levin's home base in Southfield.

THE BATTLE centers on representation in Macomb County, including Warren, Sterling Heights and Shelby Township — but Redford residents would also see changes.

Under the Democratic plan, north Redford residents would be part of the Levin/Hertel battle. Those living south of I-96 would be placed in a district with Pursell.

Republicans, meanwhile, would put north Redford in the 1st District, currently represented by Conyers, and southern Redford in the 13th, home of Rep. John Dingell, D-Trenton.

Dingell blasted the GOP redistricting plan in a statement released Tuesday afternoon.

"You may pick the word to describe the Republican plan," Dingell said. "The word could be outrageous, egregious, ruthless, overreaching, self-serving or myopic."

The Democratic plan, however, would pit Pursell and longtime congressman William Broomfield, R-Birmingham, against each other — though Pursell said such a showdown wasn't likely.

"Anything could happen, but I know two of the three judges (reviewing the case) are Republicans," he said.

Levin said he expected the judges' decision to be based on fairness, not party politics.

"To expect anything else flies in the face of a long judicial tradition in Michigan," he said.

A ruling is expected by mid-March.

BROOMFIELD, who also seeks re-election, was also unconcerned about a potential showdown with Pursell.

"It's all up in the air at this point," Broomfield aide Jack Sinclair said. "Judges could adopt one plan, they could adopt the other or they could draw a plan of their own."

Ford's relative safety could be attributed to his new status as chair of the House Committee on Education and Labor. But he noted the GOP plan gives him a more Democratic district than the plan drafted by his own party.

"I do understand where they (Democratic district drafters) are coming from," Ford said. "We do want districts as fairly drawn as possible when we go before the judges."

Whatever happens, Michigan will lose two of its current congressmen. That choice is now in the hands of the courts — and voters.

Staff writer Tim Richard contributed to this story.

Ford is likely to hang on to the most of his western Wayne constituents, while seeing his district expand west to Ann Arbor — an area currently represented by Pursell.

Livonia, Garden City, Redford face change

Change is a subtle thing in western Wayne County when it comes to U.S. Congressional redistricting.

Redford could be divided among as many as four different districts. (See below for details.) But most local communities are likely to retain their current representatives, at least going into this year's elections.

The 15th District, currently represented by William Ford, D-Taylor, is likely to retain Canton and Westland.

The 2nd District, now represented by Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, is likely to retain Plymouth and Plymouth Township. In a change worth noting, the district is now likely to include all of Livonia, taking southern Livonia neighborhoods out of Ford's district and placing them in Pursell's.

Garden City resident may experience change, too — but only if the GOP redistricting plan is adopted. Democrats would leave Garden City in the 15th District, while Republicans would place it in the 14th, now represented by John Dingell, D-Trenton.

Here's a community-by-community list of the changes that would occur under each plan:

- Canton: Current district: 15th. New district: None, will remain in the 15th under both plans.
- Garden City: Current district: 15th. New district: None, will remain in the 15th under both plans.
- Livonia: Current district: Split between the 2nd and the 15th. New district: 2nd, under both Democratic and Republican plans.
- Plymouth: Current district: 2nd. New district: None, will remain in the 2nd District under both plans.
- Plymouth Township: Current district: 2nd. New district: None, will remain in the 2nd under both plans.

'Whole language' is topic of meeting

"The Whys and Wherefores of the Whole Language Approach" will be the focus of the Thursday, Feb. 13, of the Metro Area Gifted Information Consortium (MAGIC).

The meeting is set for 6:45-9 p.m. in Gaudior Academy which is housed in the educational wing of Village United Presbyterian Church, 25350 W. Six Mile Road, Redford.

The whole language method is a new and widely acclaimed means of teaching reading and language arts to children. It involves integrating all aspects of language skills from a very early age. The teaching team at Gaudior will discuss this method and how it is used in a classroom setting.

MAGIC is a non-profit support group for parents and educators of gifted children. The group offers monthly meetings and information exchanges on a variety of topics. Meetings are held at various locations throughout the metro area. Opportunities for sharing of ideas and concerns with other parents and guest speakers are provided.

A donation of $3 is requested at the door for nonmembers.

Plawecki will seek appeals court seat

District Court Judge Edward Plawecki is a candidate for the Michigan Court of Appeals.

Plawecki, 38, seeks the First District seat, including Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston, Monroe, Lenawee and Jackson counties. He will be a candidate in the Aug. 4 primary.

He lives in Dearborn Heights with his wife and daughter.

Plawecki is currently chief judge for the 20th District Court, Dearborn Heights. He served on the Wayne County Commission from 1983-89, including two terms as board vice chairman.

As a county commissioner, Plawecki helped create the county alternative work force. He also implemented the program in the 20th District Court. Alternative work force assigns offenders to community service projects instead of jail.

He is presently a member of the Wayne County Detention Committee which addresses the issues of jail overcrowding and early release of prisoners and was formerly a municipal prosecuting attorney.

Plawecki is a cum laude graduate of Central Michigan University with a bachelor's in teaching. He holds his law degree from Detroit College of Law. He has taught in the Wayne Westland school district and is currently an adjunct professor of public administration and municipal law at the University of Michigan.

Plawecki was formerly in private practice as a senior partner in the law firm of Plawecki & Ghanam from 1987 to 1989 and a partner and attorney with the firm of Berry, Hopson, Francis, Mack & Seifman from 1980 to 1987.

From 1982 to 1984, Plawecki served as a member of the board of directors of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMATA).

He is currently a member of the legislative committee for the Michigan District Judges Association, Wayne County District Judges Association and numerous bar associations.

County urges state to install computer

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners is urging the state not to "renege on its promise" to install a new computer system this year that would speed service to Friend of the Court clients.

The county board adopted the resolution, introduced by commissioner Maurice Breen, R-Plymouth, Jan. 30.

Breen introduced the resolution after hearing that the computer installation was to be delayed from 1992 until 1995, according to the chief administrator of the Wayne County Circuit Court. The Friend of the Court is a division of circuit court that is 90 percent funded by the state and supported by Wayne County through staff only.

Breen said that delaying installation of new computers would greatly add to problems expected from the scheduled closing on Feb. 20 of the Westland annex of the Friend of the Court.

"Closing the annex seems unavoidable because of state budget constraints, but it will only compound problems already existing in the Friend of the Court," said Breen, whose district includes Plymouth, Livonia and Northville.

"The further tragedy is that it will cause hardship for those of limited financial means, the lowest-income people who can least afford inconveniences in the system," added Breen.

Breen said he received many telephone calls with complaints of long delays and slow delivery of child support payments and that most complaints are directed against the county by people unaware that the Friend of the Court is under state, not county, jurisdiction.

"The 'Wayne County' in the Wayne County Friend of the Court is a geographical reference, not administrative," Breen explained.

Breen's resolution also requests that all state legislators, the state Department of Social Services and state Supreme Court administrator's office be contacted and asked to advance installation of the new computer system.

Try parking during certain times on some streets near the high schools and you're out of luck. Just ask Mary Christie.

Resident has 6 cars, no place to park

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Mary Christie's family has six cars and a pocketful of parking tickets. The reason, she says, is that the township prohibits parking on both sides of her street.

"There (are) six cars in our house and they don't all fit in the driveway," Christie said at a recent Canton Board of Trustees meeting.

In the Sunflower subdivision north of Warren Road, signs on one side of the street ban parking for fire lane zones. On the other side of the street, signs restrict parking during school hours. They were erected a few years ago to keep high school students from jamming the streets with their cars.

Christie wants a rep. i.e.v.

'There (are) six cars in our house and they don't all fit in the driveway.'

— Mary Christie

Among many inconveniences caused by the parking dilemma, Christie said, is that she can't hold meetings at her home for her volunteer work.

Canton Public Safety Director John Santomauro said he understands Christie's problem, but a solution will take time and investigation.

"The police department realizes that residents have a dilemma," he said, adding that there is a need for fire lanes allowing easy access to hydrants.

The other signs were requested by the Sunflower Subdivision homeowners association to weed out students from parking in the neighborhoods.

That points up an underlying issue, Christie said. The high schools don't provide enough parking at the Joy and Canton Center complex to accommodate all the students who drive to classes.

WHEN RESIDENTS complained about the swell of cars in the neighborhood they asked for signs. The police department agreed, but with hesitation.

"The police concern was we would be restricting parking for residents," Santomauro said.

He's contemplating two options: Take down the restricted parking signs. Or, issue parking permits for residents only.

Santomauro said he has people investigating whether parking permits are legal and whether it would be convenient for police to oversee and enforce the permit process.

"It puts us in a position to update permits and we're really not in that position," he said. "We have to work with the homeowners association and check with residents to resolve this."

Christie said earlier this week that she's planning a meeting with the homeowner's association.

Edison tops off trees, sets off Canton man

By Diane Gale
staff writer

A majestic line of 35 feet tall evergreens cuts more of a comical picture now that the tops are lopped-off.

But Canton resident Eugene Korte doesn't find anything funny about Detroit Edison disfiguring the trees he planted as seedlings almost 40 years ago. The electrical company claimed it has easement rights and descended on the property despite Korte's protests and calls to the police.

Korte has lived in the house on Michigan Avenue at Beck Road since 1947 and he's not sure whether Edison has rights.

EDISON'S explanation is clear. Fifteen years after the lines go up easement rights are automatic, said Scott Simons, an Edison spokesman.

"It's an easement that's provided for the company for maintaining those lines, even though easements are not platted along original property lines," he said.

If the customer accepts electricity after the line is constructed that essentially constitutes an agreement to the easement rights, Simons said.

Edison learned a lot during the major rain storm last July, he added. For instance, 65 percent of the outages were caused by downed trees.

"And after we do line clearance we have 42 percent fewer outages," he said explaining that Edison tries to get 10-feet clearance unless the cut on the tree would be unhealthy and a deeper cut is better for the tree.

'Once the trees are cut there's nothing you can do.'

— Eugene Korte
15 years lost

And there's safety concerns, too. Wires downed by tree branches are dangerous, Simons said adding that Edison subscribes to the National Arborists Association standards when trimming.

Korte argues that Edison shouldn't have put the wires over the trees when they were small.

"Once the trees are cut there's nothing you can do, Korte said estimating that Edison chopped off 15-20 years growth.

SITTING AT his small-kitchen table looking out a window, Korte has a clear view of the now ravaged looking landscape.

"They destroyed those trees and part of my life," he said. "I just want to make it so someone else doesn't have the same trouble. I think that it's a crime that they do that.

"All they're interested in doing is trimming the tree so that they don't have to come back in 8-10 years," Korte said as he walked by an evergreen seedling in his backyard. He started it from seed and plans to give it to his daughter for her house.

Korte shook his head and said that if he knew the fate of the established trees just a month earlier, he could have taken the tops of off himself and sold them as Christmas trees.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Eugene Korte shows off pictures of the evergreens in his backyard that he was once able to boast about.

TV coverage Cable should air all meetings

WE WERE ABLE to watch the William Kennedy Smith trial and Clarence Thomas hearings on television. It's just too bad we can't do the same when it comes to the city of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and the Plymouth Canton school board.

None of these governmental bodies televise meetings on cable television, and from all indications, commission members and trustees have little interest in doing so.

Neighboring communities such as Canton Township and Livonia air their meetings on cable.

It's time the city, township and schools realize it's the '90s and do the same. But government shouldn't take all the blame. To us Omnicom Cable bears part of it. The cable firm should be knocking on government's door to televise the meetings.

CABLE TELEVISION has helped put government on during prime time, with CNN and C-span poking the camera eye into doings that normally weren't seen. It's given us all the opportunity to be better informed.

That should happen in Plymouth. Let's face it, the world has changed. More people are working, and early evening hours are often taken up with the daily domestic tasks that were previously done during the day.

People just don't have the time or often the energy left to attend meetings that are often long and tedious. However, if they are offered on cable television, keeping track of local government is easier.

Here's what local officials had to say when asked about televising the meetings:

Gerald Law, Plymouth Township supervisor: "We've never discussed it. It's worth checking with residents to see if anybody's interested in watching the thing."

JAMES JABARA, longtime city commissioner: "I wouldn't have any objection to it — that would depend on whether there's a cost involved. I think it would be healthy. The more informed the citizens are, the better off we all are."

One criticism of televising the meetings was that trustees or commission members would ham it up for the camera, making the meetings drag on.

We suspect that could be true at first, but that would eventually subside. Members of the public are the best critics when it comes to hams and would quickly catch on to the theatrics of certain politicians.

The time has come for Omnicom, the city of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and the school board to join the '90s.

MEAP tests Another educational debacle

TAXPAYERS deserve a better explanation of the Michigan Educational Assessment test results from educators.

School officials recently released the test results, which were dismal when it came to math. Some say the test is too hard, while others say the kids aren't up to snuff.

Then there was the controversy over a reading question for fourth grade students on the Roman Empire. Some say the material was covered in the third grade, while others say it was an unfair question.

What's happening is that the state is trying to enforce a statewide curriculum called the Michigan Model. The model isn't mandated, but if test scores continue to drop and parents become more angry, they'll become the enforcers for the state.

The Plymouth Canton school district is caught in the middle of the battle. Either they go with the model and watch test scores rise or they don't, watch them drop and then listen to angry parents.

BUT PARENTS aren't only angry, they're confused. We don't blame them. We're awash in educational theories, and sometimes it makes us wonder if these theories are nothing more than career boosters for educators.

We should all be angry with an educational establishment that has been educating kids in public schools for more than 100 years but doesn't seem to know what it's doing. Just take a look at your tax bill. Chances are more of your money is going to school taxes than to the defense department.

It's tragic that we know better how to kill people in a war than educate our own kids.

Black eye Next primary needs revision

HERE'S FAIRLY good news: Both Republicans and Democrats will allow voters to declare party affiliation at the polls March 17 in Michigan's presidential preference primary. You won't have to declare 30 days in advance.

Democrats generated the fuss when their national party rules said national convention delegates had to come from a "closed" system, either primary or caucus, in which participants at least declared themselves Democrats. No more George Wallace crossovers for them.

In 1988 Michigan used a caucus system, but both parties had miseries. Democrats had an invasion of Jesse Jackson supporters, Republicans of Pat Robertson newcomers.

SO THEY CUT a deal in the Legislature: a primary where voters had to declare an affiliation. It backfired. A mob of people, both with Democratic and Republican preferences, were enraged at the thought of revealing their party preferences 30 days prior to the primary. It didn't matter that many other states require a party declaration. Michigan's tradition of "open" primaries is very strong.

Democrats responded by using party rules to allow same-day declaration.

Republicans in the Senate passed a bill for an "open" primary, but House Democrats sat on it. Gov. John Engler did the only thing he could, asking the Republican State Committee to pass a same-day rule like the Democrats'. The RSC will meet Feb. 11, and the odds are it will be adopted.

That's where it stands: To vote March 17, you have to declare a party preference. That's not all bad. It will help the parties identify their supporters. Stronger political parties will reduce the power of single-issue zealots, special interest groups and political action committees.

But once again Michigan has a political black eye because of a presidential primary mess. We hope Michigan politicians are embarrassed enough to come up with a more palatable system in 1996.

Plans give river hope, new life

THINGS ARE looking up for the Rouge River, that meandering, usually muddy, sometimes polluted set of streams that drain 42 communities in southeastern Michigan.

Johnson Creek, a western tributary, is about to become a trout stream. At the urging of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association, the state Department of Natural Resources intends to plant trout fingerlings in the creek, which runs through Salem Township in Washtenaw County, Northville and Plymouth townships.

Trout were planted in the Middle Rouge in the late 1960s to provide a temporary fishery after part of that branch was killed off. Perhaps Johnson Creek, running through hillier terrain, will flow swiftly enough to support this most desirable of gamefish. Thanks to WWCCA's Bob Laich and the DNR for giving it a try.

The deflectors — rows of broken concrete set at an angle to the banks — protect against erosion while scouring the bottom of the river and sending silt and sediment downstream. "Areas of the river that were six inches deep all the way across now hold three, four and five feet of water," said Bill Zikewich, of Southfield's parks and recreation department.

Southfield and the Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation have gone a step further than keeping the nine miles of the Rouge jam free in that town. The group installed "wing wall deflectors" along a portion of the River from Telegraph to Hooper Road.

Another world

Below the Civic Center Drive bridge east of heavily traveled Telegraph Road in Southfield lies the cleaner, more rapidly flowing Rouge River which has been stocked with small mouth bass. For an editorial on what's being done for the river in southeastern Michigan, see the lower left hand corner of this page.

Judges to rule in high stakes redistricting plan

THE BIGGEST, highest stakes game in Michigan politics takes place only once every 10 years. And 1992 is the year.

It's called redistricting, the process by which the political system (which in practice means the courts) redraws boundaries for various election districts in order to accommodate population changes as measured by the census.

This year in Michigan, an entirely new map will be drawn for all seats in the U.S. House of Representatives as well as the entire state Senate and House.

Drawing the districts cleverly (i.e., to your party's advantage) is complicated, mathematical and heavily influenced by the constitutional requirement of "one person, one vote" and by the Voting Rights Act, which requires maintaining minority districts.

The process also ends political careers and determines things like control over legislatures.

No wonder most political people are walking around these days looking more than slightly preoccupied.

FRIDAY was the deadline set by the U.S. District Court for both political parties to submit their competing plans for new congressional districts.

A three-judge panel — including James Ryan, a distinguished jurist and longtime Redford resident who is a former Michigan Supreme Court justice and now a U.S. Court of Appeals judge — has the job of picking a plan.

Practical deadline is May 12 — the last date to file petitions for the Aug. 4 primary — to pick one plan or impose their own. The judges have indicated they want to finish their work by the end of March.

This won't be easy. Michigan's congressional delegation will drop from 18 to 16 because the state gained only 33,000 residents in the census, far less than the population gain in other states. So the big question is not only who gets to run in what district but which incumbent congressman will be forced to run against another incumbent.

This is too bad, because Michigan's representatives in Congress from areas served by these newspapers have been a pretty able and responsible bunch.

IN ORDER of district, here's who's at risk:

If the Democratic proposal is adopted, 2nd District Republican Carl Pursell of Plymouth might have to run against 18th District Republican William Broomfield of Lake Orion. That's too bad because both have been effective, moderate Republicans. Although Broomfield is coming to the end of a career dating to the Eisenhower years, his Oakland constituents have received outstanding service.

In the 15th District, Democrat Bill

Philip Power

Ford of Taylor has represented western Wayne County since the '60s, and the odds are that he will keep his base while adding more of Washtenaw County. One of the most powerful members of the Michigan delegation, Ford is chair of the entire Education and Labor Committee, one of the most important in Washington.

Under both parties' plans, Democrat Sander Levin of Southfield will almost certainly have to run against Democrat Dennis Hertel of Harper Woods in a new 14th District. Levin has been very active in sponsoring legislation designed to bring down the Japanese trade surplus with the U.S. and in working to help Michigan's auto industry.

Whatever finally happens once the judges rule, some very able and good Michigan representatives in Congress will be out of a job come November.

Involvement by parents could help kids do better on MEAP

By Bobbie Cleary
special writer

guest column

What will become of the MEAP fiasco of the 4th graders in Plymouth/Canton? Will it cause people to question developmental education and whole language, which these students endured? Probably not.

I suspect the administration will be rewarded for their failure with one of the following: Reduced class size, longer school days, longer school years, more experimental education.

School administrators are right. Parents need to be learners — but not of state or local educational propaganda. Parents need to research what went on in the schools before progressive educators got control in the 1960s and destroyed public education nationwide. Historically our nation was well educated, spending much less time, money, and politics on each student (who was in a larger classroom than today).

But proposed solutions will not look at educational philosophy or teaching methods, which are the elements that have changed most dramatically in our schools. No, in fact, if anything, administrators will probably beg for more dramatic change — not in their accountability, though.

And what of the dreaded Roman Empire reading selection on the 4th grade MEAP which students couldn't decipher? It came from a third grade history textbook.

Will the state Department of Education help us? Don't count on it. Don't forget, they redefined reading in 1984. This is to fit the whole language agenda. Four areas are covered in redefined reading: Constructing meaning, knowledge about reading, attitudes and self-perceptions.

This explains the self-esteem push in Plymouth Canton. For the uneducated, if you increase self esteem (perception), you will automatically make a student a reader, or whatever you desire. So naturally the MEAP reading test has students answer attitude and self-perception questions. This constitutes a personality test.

In the mid-80s, the Hatch Amendment was passed on the federal level. According to the law of the USA, students do not have to volunteer answers to personality testing, which is an invasion of privacy. So how can passing the MEAP be made mandatory for graduation? I am all for having decent, reasonable standards in the schools. But that will not happen if it is left to educational elite.

The only way we will ever insure a good educational system is for parents to become actively involved in all aspects of the schools. People need to remove their blinders and start probing into some real questions of the teaching methods.

Bush proposes a national curriculum ultimately. This will further remove control from the community. He also proposes government-paid preschool, year round school, socialized medicine, etc. This fits the NEA and the MDOE plans quite nicely. Until each community actively involves themselves into researching the problems, we will not see better educated youth. And God forbid, should we do nothing, the federal government will take over and we'll have a tax burden few can survive.

Keep school letter issue simple

A COLLEAGUE of mine recently wrote that Birmingham business people, faced with competition in Troy and empty storefronts, are learning that doing business as usual threatens the future of that shopping district.

The same is true in education, where educators are making out lists and asking voters to fill their carts with the latest in modern technology, sometimes to be paid for with a new millage or bond issue.

Some aren't too lucky. Oakland Schools recently had to delay start up of a new high school for the sciences because the economy forced hoped-for corporate sponsors to delay support.

In Birmingham, a controversial operating millage was approved Monday, with money to be set aside for facilities, a depleted fund equity and a teachers' pay raise the district was tied into three years ago.

The Plymouth Canton district voters approved a bond issue in the fall for high tech equipment, including computers and new buildings.

Sandra Armbruster

LIVONIA SCHOOLS face their own uncertain future. Voters Feb. 10 are being asked to approve a $62.1 million bond issue for computer hardware and software, renovating school buildings, renovating science labs, improving lighting and bringing buildings up to code.

But all the money and all the equipment in the world won't allow our students to compete on an equal footing with those in other countries until our attitudes toward what constitutes a good education change.

Nowhere was that more evident than at Monday's Livonia School Board of Education meeting, where parents and students lined the aisles, spilling out into the hallway.

The issue wasn't that huge bond issue; it was a matter of whether students other than athletes would be allowed to wear earned school letters on varsity jackets.

Students and parents alike talked about constitutional issues like freedom of expression. Amy Pachla, a member of the all city orchestra, said it "appears athletic directors in the high schools are controlling the varsity letter policy, not principals or students."

IF THERE were any athletic directors or athletes in the audience, they didn't speak on the issue. It makes one wonder if they really care, or if this nebulous "policy" is merely a throwback to an earlier generation when if you weren't a jock you were a nerd.

Superintendent Joseph Marinelli was polite, noting that "contributions and hard work that go into being a band member" were appreciated. He also conceded the need for "appropriate recognition."

But he pointed out that the high schools are allowed to set their own policies. He said he would ask the staff to study the issue, would seek a legal opinion and would talk with those who had expressed concerns. Finally Marinelli noted the issue could always be appealed to the board.

It all seems so complicated, now that the superintendent is involved.

The issue is simple: Our young people need a shopping cart full of positive experiences to carry through their lives. Telling them they are somehow less than adequate to wear a letter on a varsity jacket leaves something missing from that basket.

You really do only go through high school once, and whatever it takes — a favorite subject or participation in music or sports — will help keep those school storefronts filled until graduation.

Don't spend money for a legal opinion. Your students gave it to you straight Monday night.

IF YOU GET off watching Isiah Thomas play basketball, you should see Patty Robak, Eric Taylor, Jennifer Golen and Mario McIntosh.

As hoop heroes go, they're even less well known than the Democratic presidential candidates. They'll never...

• Appear on the cover of Sports Illustrated.

• Be on the Olympic hoop squad.

• Refuse to play until their contract is renegotiated.

• Spit on little girls in the stands like Charles Barkley.

• Overdose on cocaine like Len Bias (and die).

• Or peddle their services all over the league like so many prostitutes. (See Morris, Jack).

ROBAK, TAYLOR, Golen and McIntosh play Division II basketball for Oakland University, which is to say in abject obscurity. The cost of seeing their games is $4, usually a doubleheader. In comparison, the cost of attending a Pistons game is almost enough to buy a home in West Bloomfield. That's what it takes to pay a seven-foot-tall malcontent with a pot full of traffic violations like in excess of $1 million a year like William Bedford.

In ancient times, when pro athletes were paupers like us, they were easier to relate to. Nowadays, Joe Fan is to Joe Superstar what Spam is lamb. It ain't easy.

Although I entered puberty many super bowls ago as much a fan as anyone, my proclivity to admire pro athletes decreased proportionately with the rising bile of multi-million-dollar salaries, contract negotiations, mid-season strikes, felony convictions and the boorish behavior of hedonistic egomaniacs.

As parents, we talk about the importance of not spoiling our kids, but as fans we often fawn over these athletic mercenaries like hypnotized suppliants. Is it any wonder their hat sizes grow to John Merrick proportions?

YET THE FETID stench of Division I college athletics makes pro sports seem like a particularly fine perfume.

The NCAA disciplines the millions of big-buck college athletics about as well as our representatives in Washington control the federal disgrace, er, I mean deficit. We preach the value of education to our children, approve millage increases for our schools and call education the biggest problem facing the United States. Then we tune in the college basketball game on network TV and salivate over the feats of ambulatory eclat perpetrated by young men who would find this sentence incomprehensible.

But in Division II sports, you'll find the hustle on the basketball court, rather than in the treatment of the athletes or the assertion that they are real students.

AS A FORMER sports editor of the Oakland Post, I'm in a relatively good position to tell you that, at Oakland, the term "academic standards" isn't a perverse euphemism for tackles or assists. In fact, Oakland's academic standards are higher than most of its contemporaries. Ergo, the Pioneer hooperster can look at the scoreboard and actually tell if they're ahead or behind.

It's sort of a paradox, but Oakland inadvertently values athletics more than big schools because it can't afford to pour enough money into them to bring the corrupting influence of acclaim into play.

Hence the school's arena should more properly be called a gym. Spartan though it may be, you can easily sit close enough to clearly hear Jennifer Golen holler "ball, ball, ball," as she frantically waves her arms in the face of a harried guard. Then watch coach Bob Taylor yell like a drill sergeant with his stentorian baritone voice, "Patty! Patty! She's left handed!"

And after you see Eric Taylor, Mario McIntosh and their mates systematically disassemble a well-guarded opponent in the second game, you can be sure the hoopsters will have little time for celebration, because they've got a 10 o'clock Renaissance Literature class the next morning.

Handling of Haitians tarnishes image

THE STATUE OF Liberty is yesterday's paper. "Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free." These words, immortalized in the folklore of our country, tell of the Great Melting Pot, an amalgam of different peoples, different cultures melded together to form a cohesive whole. But... the Statue of Liberty appears a false prophet.

When persecution reared or the land failed, immigrants came from England, Poland, Germany, Ireland, Scotland across the water in droves. They became our craftsmen and builders and farmers. These immigrants became the backbone of the great land known as the United States of America.

Somewhere along the way, however, the image began to tarnish like nickel-plated silver. If you were right-looking, you could assimilate and achieve the heights; if not, don't bother knocking at the Door of Opportunity.

The Statue of Liberty is leaning from a heavy wind. Why can't the Haitians immigrate? Give me your tired, your poor... but we've grown tired, I think, and afraid, too tired to think of huddled masses, too afraid to consider what it must be like to risk pirates, sharks and dehydration in leaky, floating coffins in order to "breathe free."

WHY CAN'T the Haitians immigrate? As they try to answer the question, the Bush administration keeps 10,000 men, women and children in a squalid, festering concentration camp in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. Coast Guard crews patrol the waters off Miami in the Cuban Corridor, shouting through bull horns "Go home. We can't handle it."

Harried doctors rush hither and yon spouting one piece of contradictory explanation after another. "They're not political prisoners," says one; "It's humanitarian," says another. "We're sending them back to discourage new refugees."

Now the Supreme Court has rubber stamped the Bush decision, and the military will begin the torturous job of sending thousands back to the waiting hell of torture, persecution and possible execution.

Why can't the Haitians immi-

grate? The Statue of Liberty sinks deeper under the weight of the deafening silence this outrage against it's principles has provoked. Where is the media frenzy that would occur if 10,000 Poles or Russian Jews or Irish Freedom Fighters were denied entry to this country, detained on an off shore island, then turned around sent packing with a stiff kick in the rump and a "Tell your friends we don't want you here?"

Demands would come from every sector to delay, to rethink, to compromise. Yet in the case of Haitian immigrants, fleeing one of man's most vile oppressive regimes, silence is the sound most heard. Silence from the clergy, silence from the media, silence from the politicians.

WHY CAN'T the Haitians immigrate? Some said people believe they carry the AIDS virus. Another thought they would turn criminal, like the infamous Mariel Boat Exodus. One person guessed that it would set a precedent. Someone else whispered it's because they're black.

We're in trouble, folks. If in fact we've bought into all the media myths about blacks and people of color, then the Statue of Liberty is yesterday's paper. And if we discard the principles on which this still great country was founded, then we must also throw out our hopes for the future.

"A house divided cannot stand," said Abraham Lincoln. This nation must close the Great Divide growing ever wider which separates black and white or face chaos. If the real reason the Haitians can't immigrate is because they are black — then the Statue of Liberty is hurting indeed.

School punishment bill sparks debate

By Tim Richard
staff writer

A bill allowing teachers to use force to maintain order is headed for the state House of Representatives after a long committee battle.

"This issue is tearing this committee apart," said Rep. William Keith, D-Garden City, chair of the House Education Committee.

Keith's panel reported out its version of the Senate-passed bill on a 12-1 vote with five abstentions and a lot of legal questions.

"It's terrible," said Sen. Lana Pollack, D-Ann Arbor, author of the 1988 law prohibiting corporal punishment in schools.

SENATE BILL 338 amends Pollack's law by spelling out conditions under which school personnel can use physical force.

Pollack cast the only "no" vote when SB 338 sailed through the Senate last fall. She's putting up a stiffer battle in the House.

Area members supporting SB 338 were Keith; Justine Barnes, D-Westland; James Kosteva, D-Canton; Georgina Goss, R-Northville; and Tom Middleton, R-Ortonville.

"I wanted to pass it for the day (postpone)," said Rep. Lyn Bankes, R-Livonia, who abstained. "There have been all kinds of amendments, but there wasn't an attorney in the room to clarify them."

"The bill is better than when it came from the Senate," said Keith. The bill will go to the House floor next week. If passed, it will have to Keith said the issue is tearing his committee apart.

"It's terrible," said Sen. Lana Pollack, author of the 1988 law prohibiting corporal punishment in schools.

be returned to the Senate for concurrence in amendments.

Teachers in the Michigan Education Association prompted Sen. John Schwarz, R-Battle Creek, to introduce the bill in attempt to clarify their power to quell disturbances.

POLLACK SAID SB 338 "clearly invites" use of force in three ways.

First, current law prohibits corporal punishment by school personnel for punishment or penalty. It broadly defines corporal punishment as "physical pain by any means."

SB 338 would amend the definition to list "hitting, paddling, spanking, slapping or any other physical force."

Pollack said the bill's narrower definition would allow punishment by "uncomfortable body positions," such as standing on one leg.

Second, SB 338 tells authorities that "deference shall be given to reasonable, good-faith judgments" of teachers and school employees.

"That gives the teacher's word the benefit of a doubt," said Pollack, fearing the student's word would be disregarded.

Third, SB 338 allows reasonable force to "maintain order," which Pollack said is too close to using it for discipline.

"This was written for the MEA. They have clout," said Pollack.

THE HEART of the bill allows teachers, bus drivers, volunteers and contractors to use "reasonable physical force upon a pupil as necessary to maintain order and control" under these circumstances:

- To remove a misbehaving pupil who has been warned from class or a school-related activity.
- "For self-defense or the defense of another."
- "To prevent a pupil from inflicting harm on himself or herself."
- "To quell a disturbance that threatens physical injury to any person."
- To confiscate a weapon or dangerous object.
- "To protect property."

IT PROTECTS school personnel from civil liability when they have used force properly.

Some officials said the bill is premature because there are no court cases under the current law.

But educators said that without the bill they would be powerless to halt disruptive behavior or violence.

They cited widespread parental concern about school violence and the propensity of kids to tell teachers to "go to hell" and get away with it.

New Morning hosts parent discussion

New Morning School, the only pre-school through grade 8 parent cooperative in southeastern Michigan, will hold a parent discussion night Tuesday, Feb. 11, at the school, 14501 Haggerty, Plymouth.

Interested families are invited to tour the school, speak with teachers and students. The discussion night is planned for parents, however, middle school students (grades 6-8 in the fall), are encouraged to attend with their parents. All students are invited to visit during a school day at a later date.

The school has openings in the pre-school, early primary and middle school programs for the 1992-1993 school years.

To register for the meeting, call 420-3331.

As part of its commitment to fostering an interest in science at an early age, the school is presently offering the World In Motion program, created by the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE), to upper elementary and middle school students.

Anticipating a shortage of engineers by the year 2000 the World in Motion program was created by SAE to promote science literacy. Five engineers from Ford Moto Co. are volunteering their expertise and time at the school during the course of the program.

Students are busy working like engineers in The Skimmer Regatta unit. Each of six design teams are exploring physics concepts of forces and motion and are applying their knowledge to the development and design of their skimmers.

Rocks keep invite crown

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Besides having great gymnastics talent, the other reason Plymouth Salem is ranked No. 1 in the state and has won three invitationals is its team depth.

The Rocks proved the value of the latter again Saturday while winning the Plymouth Invitational for the second straight year.

Salem scored 142.10 to edge host Canton, which had a six-tenths-of-a-point lead over the Rocks with one event remaining and finished at 140.5. The top seven teams included Freeland, Rochester Adams, Troy Athens, Holt and North Farmington.

The Rocks accomplished the victory without two of their top all-arounders, freshmen Melissa Hopson and Stephanie Skeppstrom, both of whom had suffered knee injuries.

Hopson got hurt in practice Friday and Skeppstrom was injured Saturday after competing on vault and bars.

"I JUST hope our injuries aren't serious," Salem coach Becky Martin said. "It will make it harder to compete against (Muskegon) Mona Shores (later in the season)."

The Rocks got outstanding individual performances from junior Courtney Gonyea and sophomore Alysia Sofios and called on sophomore Sarah Makins, senior Autumn Bunch, junior Stefanie Angiulo and senior Aimee Wong for support.

"We do have a lot of depth," Martin said. "It makes it easier when you do have injuries. You have people to fall back on. Any of our top all-arounders can go in for one of the others. On any given day, any one can do what the others can."

Canton coach John Cunningham used a basketball analogy to describe Salem's depth advantage.

"She takes out Michael Jordan and brings in Dominique Wilkins. (Bunch) is an excellent all-arounder, so almost nothing was lost."

Salem overcame the Chiefs by winning the floor exercise competition with a 36.55 total in the final rotation. Canton finished on bars and scored 34.35.

"WE CAN score 34-something on bars and they can score 36-something on floor," Cunningham said. "That meant we were going to lose by about one and a half points, which is about what happened."

Gonyea finished first on floor with a season-high 9.50 and Sofios scored 9.45 to capture second place. Angiulo had 8.85 and Makins 8.75.

"We really picked up on floor and did well," Martin said. "The tumbling was excellent. They just pulled everything together. When we went to floor, they knew what they had to do."

Salem also had the top team scores on vault (35.95) and bars (35.30) but chased Canton most of the day after the Chiefs started the meet with a strong showing on beam. Canton's 35.40 held up as the daylong best.

"I was most impressed with our beam," Cunningham said, adding the top Canton scores were 8.8, 8.8, 8.85 and 8.95. "That's what you call a team performance. If you wanted a psychological advantage, that was it. You let other teams see that and try to match it."

"That's how we won the Rockford meet. We so disconcerted the other teams because we were so good on beam that by the time they got to beam they fell out of contention."

CANTON'S KIM Rennolds was the No. 2 all-arounder in Division I. Gonyea was third, Annie Jud of North Farmington fourth, Sofios fifth, Canton's Kim Lewke 11th and Makins 12th.

Gonyea was third on vault, Skeppstrom sixth, Sofios 11th and Bunch 13th. Sofios tied with Freeland's Sara Kelly for first place on bars while Makins (eighth), Gonyea (11th) and Skeppstrom (13th) also contributed to the scoring. Gonyea led the Rocks on beam with a third-place finish. Makins was 14th, Sofios 15th and Bunch 17th.

Salem had a rocky start with several miscues on vault "but did well on bars considering Stephanie got hurt," Martin said. "It was a just a tough start, because we usually do really well on vault."

"We had a few falls on beam and that concerned me. Courtney had fall on beam and still got 8.95, so obviously she had a good event."

While Canton finished behind Salem, the Chiefs did outdo the Nos. 4-6 teams in the state — Freeland, Adams and Athens — as well as No. 8 Holt and No. 9 North Farmington. "I was really proud of the kids,"

JOHN STORMZAND/staff photographer

Courtney Gonyea of two-time champion Salem makes her approach to the vault Saturday in the Canton Invitational.

Cunningham said. "Nine of the top 12 teams in the state were here if you count John Glenn and Northville. It was a meet where the (Canton) kids rose to the challenge."

RENNOLDS TIED with Jud for first on vault. Lewke, Clifford and Stillings also scored for Canton in that event. Rennolds, Jenny Tedesco, Laura Anderson and Clifford made the grade for the Chiefs on bars. Lewke was the top scorer on beam, with Rennolds, Clifford and Tedesco also contributing. Clifford was second in Division II but would have tied for third in Division I.

Rennolds scored 9.35 to lead the Canton effort on floor. Lewke, Tedesco and Clifford rounded out the scoring in that event.

"The key to our performance was four good scores in every event," Cunningham said. "Rennolds, Lewke and Clifford had excellent meets."

Chiefs boast right formula

By Brad Emons
staff writer

The Plymouth Canton boys basketball team continues to push all the right buttons.

On Tuesday, the Chiefs earned their sixth straight victory with an easier-than-expected 59-44 Western Lakes Activities Association win over visiting Livonia Stevenson.

"Our kids are really playing together as a team, we have great chemistry right now," said Dave Van Wagoner, whose team is 8-3 overall and 6-0 in the WLAA. "I don't have all the answers, but I know if you play good defense, rebound and play unselfishly, you're going to win basketball games."

Once again, 6-foot-5 senior forward Hal Heard paced the Canton offensive attack with a game-high 16 points, 14 coming in the opening half as Canton jumped out to a 28-22 advantage.

Tony Coshatt, a 6-8 senior, then picked up the slack in the second half, scoring 11 of his 13 points to go along with 12 rebounds.

But the team's unsung player on the night was 6-6 senior point-guard Mike Brennan, who triggered the Chiefs' defense, while setting up the offensive attack.

Brennan has emerged as the team's leader, to the delight of Van Wagoner.

"MIKE BRENNAN is the single-most reason we've turned the corner," Van Wagoner said. "He played good defense and took care of the basketball. He's doing a good job of breaking pressure. We're getting great leadership from all our seniors."

The Chiefs started slowly, turning the ball over on their first five possessions. They found themselves down 8-0 at the outset.

"Our guys didn't come fired up and ready to play," Van Wagoner said. "With two minutes to go (in the quarter), we decided we wanted to beat this team, and it's a good team. We had to start playing with intensity."

Stevenson led 14-11 after one period thanks to four 3-pointers, including a pair by 6-4 senior Tony Coshatt (13 points).

But it was all downhill for the Spartans from that point.

Canton's Mike Stafford made a 3-pointer to tie it at 14-all with 6:28 in the half and Coshatt's subsequent free throw put Canton ahead for good.

"We started to go about our plan, but then we did our best to go completely away from it," said Stevenson coach Jim McIntyre, whose team slipped to 6-5 overall and 2-4 in the WLAA. "We were very disappointed, yes, on Friday (a double-overtime loss to Farmington), but this one we didn't give ourselves a chance of winning."

THE SPARTANS simply couldn't shoot straight against Canton's combination of zone and man-to-man defenses.

Stevenson made only 27 percent of its shots from the floor (16-for-59). Canton recorded 13 blocks, including six by Coshatt. The Chiefs were also responsible to altering several other Stevenson attempts.

Stevenson's top scorer, 5-11 senior point-guard Matt Grodzicki (11 points), shot an uncharacteristic 4-of-17 and found himself mismatched against the long-armed Brennan.

"The kid we wanted to stop was Grodzicki because he's the glue to that team," Van Wagoner said, "and I thought Brennan did a heck of a job."

"Our game plan was good solid defense with a hand up on every shooter, and make sure you block out your man."

Those simple rules were followed to the letter as Stevenson's four other starters shot a combined 9-for-32.

"We felt we could pose some problems inside and get the big kid (Coshatt) in foul trouble," McIntyre said. "The first quarter we did what we planned, but the trouble with our three inside kids is that we didn't go at them. We folded at both ends when our outside game didn't get it done."

CANTON PUT the game away with a 16-7 run in the third quarter as Brian Paupore scored seven of his nine points.

The Chiefs opened up a 20-point cushion midway through the fourth before coasting home.

"The strength of this team is its post-up play, and that we're unselfish," added Van Wagoner, who hopes the current trend continues.

Plymouth Salem lost the volleyball match, but the Rocks believe they proved a point by taking Walled Lake Central to five games Monday night.

In a clash between unbeaten Western Lakes Activities Association teams, the Vikings stunned Salem 15-2 in the first game, but the Rocks regrouped to win the next two (15-12, 15-13). Central rallied with victories in the last two (15-12, 15-3).

"Nobody had included us to be there, but we think we're in a situation to compete for the league," Salem co-coach Allie Suffety said. "Hopefully, we built some confidence and answered some doubters."

"I'm not sure we didn't do that anyway. Here's a team that swept Stevenson, and Stevenson is one of the powers in our league year after year. I thought we played Central tough, even though we did lose. I think we did get something out of it."

The Vikings are 5-0 in the league and Salem 4-1. The Rocks are 22-6-7 overall, Central 17-5.

Salem was dazed in the first game and got a wake-up call when the Vikings fired some big hits at the Rocks, Suffety said. Salem rebounded in the second game and had a 12-4 lead before hanging on to win. The Rocks had 13 solo or assist blocks for points in that game.

"In the third game, we covered our tips and attacked very well, and we had good passes to the setters," Suffety said. "We played the way we're capable of playing. Then we got very lax again in the fourth and fifth games."

The Rocks rallied to within a point (12-13) in the fourth game and had momentum, but serve-receive errors took them out of it, according to Suffety.

volleyball

Salem's Julianna DeLaRocque returned to the lineup for the first time since being injured Jan. 22 and had 16 kills. Platter was next with nine, Martha Bol six, Shelby Carey and Julie Thomas five each. Caryn Tatterton had 34 assists out of 75 sets. Middle hitter Bridget Norris excelled for Central.

The Rocks had 40 kills out of 145 attacks, but they had 40 errors and 65 returned to them by the Vikings. Salem had only nine serving errors, "but a few just cut our momentum off right away," Suffety said.

PLYMOUTH CANTON had another slow start Monday in its volleyball match with host Walled Lake Western, but the Chiefs didn't let it affect their overall performance.

Canton rebounded from a 15-5, first-game defeat to win the next three and the match (15-9, 15-8, 15-13). The Chiefs are 2-3 in the WLAA and 19-13-4 overall.

"We were more aggressive in the second, third and fourth games," Canton coach Jacqueline Getz said. "We totally shut down their offensive game and were the aggressors."

"Our passes were a lot better, and our setters were not running around all over the floor."

Karrie Drinkhahn played an overall good match for the Chiefs, Jenny Davis and Laura Ciantar played well in the back row and Michelle Kim Rennolds of Canton placed second in the all-around competition among Division I gymnasts Saturday.

Chiefs outpoint N'ville

Plymouth Canton didn't expect to win as easily as it did Monday when it defeated visiting Northville by more than 11 points in a gymnastics dual meet.

The No. 3-ranked Chiefs scored 136.75 and the Mustangs 125.15. Canton improved its record to 2-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 4-1 overall.

"I had seen some scores they had in the low 130s when we also were in the low 130s, which was only a couple meets ago," Canton coach John Cunningham said, adding Northville had a sub-par meet.

The Chiefs have improved a lot in recent meets and two days earlier had finished second in the Plymouth Invitational behind only top-ranked Plymouth Salem.

"My kids were tired," Cunningham said. "It's very noticeable when you have a big meet that goes all day, then have one day (to rest) and another meet."

"THIS IS A satisfying meet, I guess. Nobody got injured, the kids feel pretty good about themselves and we won the meet without much problem. We'll just go on."

Canton's Kim Rennolds was first on the uneven bars (8.65) and floor exercise (9.25), and she had the best all-around score with a 35.45 total.

Teammate Dawn Clifford had the top performance on balance beam (8.5) and was second in the all-around at 33.9. Northville's Sara Kolb was first on the vault (9.35).

Canton's Kim Lewke and Northville's Mia Dehart tied for third in the all-around (33.85). Canton's Jenny Tedesco was fifth (32.3), Northville's Leslie Allen sixth (29.1) and Canton's Adrienne Brenner seventh (28.0).

Also contributing to Rennolds' all-around score were seconds on vault (9.15) and beam (8.4). Clifford was fourth on vault (8.85) and bars (8.35), sixth on floor (8.2).

Lewke placed third in the vault competition (9.1), fifth on bars (8.0), second on beam (8.4) and third on floor (8.35). Tedesco was sixth on vault (8.6), fourth on beam (8.1) and fourth on floor (8.25).

Canton's Laura Anderson captured second place on bars (8.55), and teammate Cara Stillings was fifth on vault (8.65) and tied with Dehart for fifth on beam (7.9).

Rocks post-up for WLAA win

Mike Abraham scored a career-high 24 points Tuesday night to lead visiting Plymouth Salem in its 62-56 basketball victory over stubborn Walled Lake Western.

Abraham, who also led the Rocks with eight rebounds, was the only Salem player to reach double figures, but 10 players scored. Bobby Schneider chipped in nine points, Eric Stemmer eight and James Head six.

"We got the ball inside like we wanted to," Salem coach Bob Brodie said. "We had a ton of inside shots. We gave up too many points on defense, but you have to give Western credit. They shot the ball well."

Brent Mackowiak scored 26 points, which included five three-point field goals, to lead the Warriors. Ryan Bolton added 10.

Salem's inside scoring is reflected in its 23-of-37 shooting from inside the three-point line. The Rocks made just one of their three-point attempts. Western was 9-of-24 from three-point range and 21-of-44 overall. Salem made 15 of 23 free throws, the Warriors five of 10.

The Rocks led 14-9 and 35-25 in the first half, but Western trimmed the lead to 48-41 after three quarters.

"They played hard," Brodie said of the Warriors. "They shot the ball well. (The three-point shooting) kept them in the ballgame all the way. We just couldn't knock them out. They kept hanging in there."

Salem is 4-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 7-4 overall. The Warriors are 1-5 and 3-8.

U-D 64, REDFORD CC 53: Score two upsets Tuesday night for the University of Detroit: One for the college and one for the high school.

At the college level, the University of Detroit-Mercy nipped Notre Dame, 72-70, while on the high school scene, the University of Detroit-Jesuit rallied to defeat visiting Redford Catholic Central, 64-53. The loss snapped an eight-game CC winning streak and was the first suffered by the Shamrocks in the Catholic League's Central Division.

CC is 10-2 overall and a game ahead of second place U-D at 6-1 in the Central Division. U-D, which lost the earlier meeting between the two teams, improved to 9-4 overall and 5-2 in the Central Division.

It really was a strange game as CC jumped out to a 19-9 after one quarter before being outscored, 26-10, in the second eight minutes to trail 35-29 at halftime. Seniors Bob Kummer (26 points) and Chad Varga (19 points) combined for 45 of the 53 Shamrock points.

Rashed Roland scored 23 points to lead three U-D players in double figures. Herman Jenkins had 15 points and Daryn Kaigler contributed 11 for the Cubs.

ROEPER 72, PCA 44: Jihad Hassan scored 32 points Tuesday to lead Bloomfield Hills Roeper to the victory over visiting Plymouth Christian Academy.

Richard Carpenter added 14 points for the Roughriders, who held quarter leads of 18-7, 38-19 and 57-30. Junior center Jason Neal scored 19 points for Plymouth Christian.

The Eagles are 1-12 overall, Roeper 6-6.

Turnovers cause S'craft downfall

Better shooting, more rebounds — and still, Schoolcraft College's men's basketball team couldn't win.

The reason for Saturday's 85-74 loss at Mott CC in Flint? Turnovers. SC committed a whopping 34 of them.

That's why, even though they converted 51 percent of their floor shots to Mott's 37 percent, they lost. SC only totaled 59 shots; Mott took 82. Both teams had 30 baskets, but the Bears had nine three-pointers to SC's three.

SC's problems at point guard have been disastrous — and frustrating, since the Ocelots' inside game is so formidable. Against Mott, Jarvis Murray and Scott Meredith combined for 45 points and 22 rebounds, making 18-of-25 of their shots. Unfortunately, no one else scored in double-figures.

SC TRAILED just 35-32 at the end of the first half, but fell victim to Mott's outside shooting at the start of the second. The Bears drilled five three-pointers — three by Mark Herron — in a 15-5 spurt that increased their lead to 13.

The Ocelots pulled to within six, but their 15 second-half turnovers kept them from getting closer.

Murray finished with 26 points and 10 boards, while Meredith had 19 points and 12 rebounds. Gamal Ahmed finished with six points and 10 rebounds.

Mott was led by Kenyatta Payne's 23 points. Herron scored 21 (including five threes) and Ledge Glover had 14.

The loss left SC at 3-8 in the Eastern Conference. Mott is 6-4 in the conference, 9-12 overall.

ON TUESDAY, SC traveled to Hillsdale College to play its junior varsity. Like the Charger varsity, the JV team did a lot of shooting from beyond the three-point arc in rolling past the Ocelots 97-83.

Hillsdale made 15-of-43 threes (34 percent) in burying SC.

Meredith and Murray again paced the Ocelots, scoring 26 and 24 points respectively. Murray had 11 rebounds, Meredith seven. However, neither was in at crunch time; Meredith fouled out with 5½ minutes left and Murray did the same with 1:30 to play.

Five Chargers reached double-figures in scoring: Bill Wypij (20), Leonard Addams (19), John Deal (16), Adam Gittersonke (14) and Gary Yarberry (13).

The loss left SC at 10-15 overall.

SC WOMEN: One can only hope the streak has bottomed out. Now comes the rebound.

It didn't happen Saturday at Mott CC. The Lady Ocelots suffered their sixth-consecutive loss, all in Eastern Conference play, 76-65.

A three-pointer in the final seconds gave Mott a 33-29 halftime lead. SC stayed close for a while in the second half, but tired at the end.

The problem, according to coach Jack Grenan, is a lack of personnel. Four of his 10 players are either out of action or nursing injuries.

Katie Balogh is gone for the season after having arthroscopic knee surgery and Vickie Adkins is sidelined with a severe foot sprain. Sis Guth (sprained ligament in her foot) and Stacie Smith (sprained thumb) are playing despite injuries.

"The kids have played very hard and played very well," said Grenan. "But at times, late in the game, they get mentally tired."

"We're not losing games from lack of effort. We're focusing on mental mistakes (at practice), the three or four plays a game that can make a difference."

Grenan pointed out that they have not been blown out of any of the games in their losing skid. Still, the Lady Ocelots are losing; finding a formula to help reverse that is the challenge.

"It's not an excuse," Grenan said of the injury problems. "People just have to step up. In a situation like this, mistakes are magnified."

Against Mott, Guth collected 19 points and 10 rebounds and Donna Galli totaled 16 points and 12 boards. Nicole Daprich finished with 10 points and eight rebounds.

Sabrina Thomas' 18 points was best for Mott. Britt Millard added 14.

The loss dropped SC to 12-11 overall, 2-7 in the conference.

Aquinas dumps Crusaders

Well, at least Madonna University's women's basketball team won the second half. Unfortunately, only the final score counts. The Lady Crusaders didn't come close to posting the best numbers there Saturday; they absorbed a 68-49 pounding at Aquinas College.

"We looked good in the second half," said Bill Potter, Madonna's coach. "We went to a half-court press and that seemed to bother them a little bit. And we just executed better and started making our shots."

The Crusaders outscored Aquinas 30-26 over the last 20 minutes, but it was too little and too late. The Saints — unbeaten in NAIA District 23 play — had romped in the first half and led 42-19 at the break.

"We just missed our shots," said Potter of his team's dismal first half. "We couldn't get into our rhythm. We tried to go inside and that didn't work. We tried to go outside and that didn't work."

Jill Burt's 14 points and five rebounds topped Madonna. Lori Cretan added 12 points and Kim Kibbey had nine. Aquinas got 19 points from Ann Hayward, 15 from Sue Butchett and 11 from Heather Woodcox.

The loss left Madonna at 3-6 in the district, 5-14 overall. Aquinas is 10-0 in the district, 13-10 overall.

CC swimmers win

Redford Catholic Central produced a pair of state qualifying times Tuesday while routing the University of Detroit-Jesuit, 63-22, in a Catholic League Central Division swimming meet.

The Shamrocks are 6-1 overall and 3-0 in the Central Division.

"U-D is going to compete and probably be third in the Catholic League meet," CC coach Pete Leonhardt said. "There's a lot of swimming to be done between now and the Catholic League meet. I'm not going to say we're going to win it, but we'll be the favorites."

Randy Teeters and James Leslie each had state cuts in the 200 freestyle. Teeters won the race in 1:48.47 and Leslie came in second place at 1:48.64.

Teeters also won the 100 butterfly (55.77) and swam the front leg of the winning 200 freestyle relay (1:32.53). Teeters had a 22.92 50-yard time and was followed on the relay by Devon Fekete, Paul Magoulik and John Brogan.

Other winners for CC included: Steve Reinke, 200 IM (2:04.65); Brogan, 50 freestyle (22.93); Fekete, 100 freestyle (51.34); Kevin Markell, 500 freestyle (5:15.52); and Leslie, 100 backstroke (54.84).

Reinke, Chris Teeters, Chris Meck and Magoulik won the 200 medley relay (1:49.02) and Markell, Brogan, Fekete and Randy Teeters won the 400 freestyle relay (3:42.79).

Spartans defeat Chiefs

Livonia Stevenson set four pool records while dominating host Plymouth Canton 121-65 in dual-meet swimming Tuesday.

The Spartans won nine events and set records in the 200-yard medley relay, individual medley, backstroke and 400 freestyle relay.

Aaron Rieder, Alex Goecke, Gordie Gatewood and Bryan Morrison won the medley relay in 1:41.43. The freestyle relay team consisted of Morrison, Gatewood, Rieder and Goecke and finished the race in 3:18.92.

Gatewood won the IM with a record swim of 2:01.72, and Rieder was first in the backstroke at 55.89.

"They're awesome," Canton coach Hooker Wellman said of the Spartans. "Stevenson coach Doug Buckler has great depth. He's going to run away with the conference meet. He's got the big guns — Morrison, Goecke, Gatewood, Rieder, (Ryan) Freeborn. He's just tougher than nails all over."

Morrison and Rieder were double individual winners. Morrison won the 200 freestyle (1:51.41) and butterfly (56.58), and Rieder's first victory occurred in the 100 freestyle (51.35).

Gatewood also won the 500 freestyle (4:58.14), and the team of Freeborn, Jeff Buckler, Greg Friede and Mike Gravina combined to win the 200 freestyle (1:36.45).

Canton won three events. Jeff Clark went 23.20 in the 50 freestyle, Nick Atwell scored 249.05 points in diving and Craig Steshetz swam the breaststroke in 1:07.18.

The Chiefs are 2-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 4-2 overall.

Shamrocks nip Pioneer

Five goals from five different sources — and Redford Catholic Central's hockey team needed them all Saturday to beat Ann Arbor Pioneer.

The final score was 5-4, in favor of the Shamrocks, in the Michigan Metro West Division game played at Redford Ice Arena.

"They were a much better team, much improved," said CC coach Jack Gumbleton of Pioneer. "The last time (we played them), we really outplayed them. This time it was pretty even."

Indeed, the shots on goal favored Pioneer — 23-16. But Shamrock goalie Mike Brusseau was able to turn most of them away.

CC led 2-1 after one period, getting goals from Mike Seiler and Mike Giordano. Joe Blaznek and Pat Casey each put the puck in the net in the second period, increasing the Shamrock lead to 4-2.

The Shamrocks scored first in the third period, trimming CC's lead to 4-3, but the Shamrocks' Jeff Wollschlager got the eventual game-winner with 8:56 left. Matt Gorski and Tom Denton assisted on Wollschlager's goal.

Mike Kasper added three assists for CC, which improved to 9-3-1 overall and 6-3 in the division. Pioneer fell to 2-9 in the division.

WRESTLING SCORE

Plymouth Canton had four individual winners Tuesday when the Chiefs lost a non-league dual meet to visiting South Lyon, 42-19.

A pair of decisions had Canton's Chris Christesen (171) edging Brandon Tews 7-6 and George Young (189) defeating Matt Nicholas 11-3.

The Chiefs are 6-8-2 overall.

If you win tourney, IRS wants to hear about it

THERE ARE BOWLING tournaments going on throughout the year.

These are for the amateur league bowlers and in many instances, there is a considerable amount of money to be won. It is quite possible that an amateur could win more money than many of the pro bowlers.

Tournament entry blanks usually can be found posted at bowling centers. There is a blank space on the form for the entrant's Social Security number, and that deals with our subject for today.

If you are fortunate enough to cash in a tournament, don't just rush out and buy that new car just yet. Remember that the Internal Revenue Service will issue a form 1099 to anyone who wins $600 or more in any organized tournament.

What can you do to ease the pain from your gain? Actually quite a lot, according to Daryl Rollins, an accountant and an excellent bowler. You may deduct tournament expenses, but be sure to document everything. Get a notebook and keep records of all expenses.

TAKE DOWN the mileage for travel to and from the event. You can deduct 7½ cents per mile. Record your entry fees and even the ABC/WIBC sanction fees. Your equipment and supplies are deductible (balls, bag, shoes, wrist devices, etc.) and keep receipts from the pro shop when you have work done.

If your tournament takes you out of town, work done such as re-drilling a ball. If your tournament takes you out of town, use your Hotel/motel receipts, airline tickets, car rentals parking fees and even your meals while away from home up to $25 a day. If you combine a bowling tournament with a vacation trip you can deduct only that portion the number of days actually involved in the event. If you travel with a companion, only the bowlers expenses can be deducted.

Other deductible items would include: phone calls, postage, subscription to a bowling magazine, coaching fees, bowling video tapes and even the fees paid to a tax adviser. Of course, before you can actually use any deductions you have to win the money.

LET'S EXAMINE a typical scenario: "Pinbuster Pete" earns $32,000 per year in his job. He gets lucky and wins $25,000 in a tournament. He now has an income for the year of $57,000, which puts him in a 28 percent bracket.

I would hope he is aware of the possible deductions from the tournament expenses so his tax burden would be lighter. And let's not forget Gov. Engler, who wants 4.6 percent of the winnings and he didn't even throw a ball!

What about those jackpots and mystery games in your league? Sometimes there is a nice lump of money involved. These are generally not reported, nor is a 1099 form issued.

In all situations, if you do receive a 1099, you are responsible for taxes. The IRS will eventually match up all 1099's and go after you if it has not been reported as income.

If "Pinbuster Pete" or anyone else has any questions about taxes from bowling prizes, feel free to call Daryl Rollins of Kelman, Rosenbaum, Rollins and Quayhacks of Farmington Hills, phone 855-6640.

Oak Lanes will have a Valentines Day No-Tap Singles Tournament at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Feb. 11.

Soccer crowd encourages U.S.

GEEZ, LET'S NOT get carried away. Okay, so everything was near-perfect Sunday. The crowd. The game. The media attention.

Still, it's no reason to go overboard. Or is it? Maybe I'm being unfair. After all, U.S. Soccer Federation president Alan Rothenberg said long ago, long before the U.S. national squad defeated the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS, formerly the Soviet Union) for the very first time, that every single World Cup game in 1994 would be a sellout.

Can you imagine?

That's like saying every single World Series game for the rest of this century would be sold out. Or that every University of Michigan football game would continue to draw over 100,000 fans for the next 20 years.

I mean, you know it's likely, but if you're the guy in charge you might not want to say it out loud when there are media types lurking about.

Rothenberg has. "He's been saying that all along," said Jim Duggan, the World Cup Michigan committee's executive director.

NOW, DUGGAN is the cautious type. He'd rather have had newspapers write prior to Sunday's game that the crowd was expected to be 25,000 instead of the 40,000 predicted by one paper. His reason: The potential for disappointment if the crowd is closer to the former than the latter.

But here was Duggan dumping his conservatism as he sized up Rothenberg's statement. "The more time goes by, the more I believe him," were his exact words.

What if it's a match between Gabon and Gambia? Or Bhutan and Botswana?

Even those, Duggan insists, will bring a crowd. "It doesn't matter," he said. "To draw 35,000 to a game like (Sunday's), an exhibition, that's amazing."

Also, the pre-sale of World Cup tickets doesn't guarantee certain matches. And thousands of ticket-buyers worldwide will gobble up all sorts of ticket packages, to whatever games.

Sure, the stadiums for the lesser matches may not be filled, but he believes the tickets will be sold. And considering the larger size of the American stadiums still in the running for games, the '94 Cup figures to draw more people than any in history.

WHICH BRINGS us to the Silverdome, one of those 19 finalists. With everything so perfect Sunday, how could it be left out of the World Cup?

The crowd was a state-record for a soccer match: 35,248. That had to impress Rothenberg and Hank Steinbrecher, the U.S. Soccer Federation's executive director, both of whom were present.

The game went off without a hitch, and the outcome — a 2-1 U.S. victory (even though the game-winning goal resulted from a penalty kick awarded after a dubious call), the first in seven matches with CIS and its predecessor, the Soviet Union.

Then there's the media: television coverage from England and nationally on cable, and color photos in both daily papers. Quite impressive.

Even the players liked it, although they voiced disapproval over the artificial turf. That's not a problem, since grass will be imported and replanted on a wooden platform over the field. The only other criticism came from U.S. team coach Bora Milutinovic; he said the temperature might have been a little high.

STILL, THERE is a possible problem regarding Michigan's bid. There's talk of using only eight venues, not 12. Does this concern Duggan?

Hardly. He figures, after last weekend, that the Silverdome now should be rated among the top-eight anyway.

That's a long way from where the committee was just a few months ago, praying to make the list of finalists.

But optimism is running rampant. "We had a plan we set out with last June, and we followed it," said Duggan. "I don't think we could have done any more."

"We worked really hard to make the game a success, and it was."

Such confidence. But there's no doubting the World Cup Michigan committee has labored to make the Silverdome as attractive a site as possible. Sunday's game was the icing on their bid. Even the weather cooperated; there were no snowstorms to foul moods and lessen the crowd.

I still have my doubts that the World Cup will fill every seat of the Silverdome for six (maybe more, maybe less) matches. They may sell every seat, though.

Anyway, what do I know? I thought it was highly improbable someone would actually consider tearing up the 'Dome, putting up a platform and transplanting some grass just for a few soccer matches.

But it seems they will — in just a couple of years.

Derby winner hits limit

SCOTT LAWLESS will probably fish Kent Lake for the next 50 years if he can duplicate Saturday's success each time ventures out. Joining the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority's 50th Anniversary Celebration by competing in a fishing derby Saturday at Kensington Metropark, Lawless walked away with the top prize for catching the most fish.

On a day when most anglers found the fish to be finicky at best, Lawless landed a limit of 25 bluegill which tipped the scale at just over seven pounds. Three other anglers returned to shore with limit catches, but Lawless' catch weighed the most. He received a hand auger, a trophy and a gift certificate for his efforts.

"I went out and drilled some holes where no one else was fishing and I found some fish," explained Lawless. "I read an article recently and it said to find the spot where the concentrations of people are and go wherever they aren't. That's what I did today."

LAWLESS WAS among some 150 anglers that participated in the event which began with a clinic at 8 a.m.

"This was the first event of the year to celebrate our 50th anniversary," explained tournament director Chris Williams. "We've got special events scheduled throughout the year to celebrate our anniversary. We were expecting between 100 and 200 people today and we got about 150 so we're right on target. The sunny weather helped us out a little, but the fish weren't cooperating. I had hoped to see a walleye or a pike come in. There is a cold front moving in, maybe that had something to do with it."

Mark Krench, of South Lyon, took Big Fish honors for an 8.1 ounce crappie. He also won an auger, a trophy and a gift certificate.

"I was using a minnow over on the river where there is a little current. It seems to produce more fish," Krench said.

FISHING IS JUST one of the many outdoor activities offered at the 13 Metroparks which serve the citizens of Wayne, Oakland, Washtenaw, Livingston and Macomb counties. Cross country skiing (some parks have rental facilities), ice skating, sledding, hay and sleigh rides, nature interpretive programs, winter photography and bird feeding are other popular activities at the Metroparks.

The HCMA began providing regional recreation in 1942. Today, the HCMA operates 13 Metroparks covering 23,346 acres in the valleys of the Huron and Clinton rivers. Stony Creek (near Rochester) and Kensington (near Millford) are the two largest Metroparks covering 4,461 and 4,337 acres, respectively. The anniversary celebration will continue throughout the year.

Spring festivals, car shows, golf tournaments, fireworks, a boat show, an outdoor recreation equipment show and another fishing derby are some of the upcoming events.

Most of the events are free, but a Metropark vehicle entry permit is required. For information on any upcoming events contact the Metroparks at 1-800-47-PARKS.

State fish and wildlife agencies across the nation will share $270 million in federal excise taxes paid by America's hunters and anglers.

The funds will be made available through the preliminary appropriations of two Federal aid programs administered by the Department of the Interior U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration Act (Pittman-Robertson Act) signed in 1937, and the Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration Act (Dingle-Johnson Act) signed in 1950, collectively have raised over $2 billion, all earmarked for state fish and wildlife programs and used to fund land acquisition, habitat improvement, research and education.

MICHIGAN WILL receive $5,284,738 for wildlife restoration and hunter education programs. The money is derived from an 11-percent excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition, a 10-percent tax on pistols and revolvers, and an 11-percent tax on certain archery equipment. One-half of the tax on handguns and archery equipment is available for state hunter education programs.

Michigan will receive $5,479,649 fish restoration programs. The money is derived from a 10-percent excise tax on fishing equipment and a three-percent tax on electric trolling motors and sonar fish finders. The Wallop-Breaux expansion legislation of 1984 increased the tax base for sport fish restoration to include a portion of Federal motorboat fuels tax and import duties on fishing tackle and pleasure boats.

(Anglers are urged to report their success. Questions and comments are also encouraged. Send information to: Outdoors, 805 E. Maple, Birmingham, MI, 48009, or call Bill Parker at 644-1101 ext. 241.)

Metzger had some nice hits, Getz said.

"Her hitting has been real good, but her intensity is what I like best," said Getz of Drinkhahn.

"Little by little, (the players) are picking up their game in different areas each time. What we're striving for is a little more consistency. If we keep improving, we'll be right on target by tournament time."

IMAGINE DYING FROM A DISEASE YOU NEVER KNEW YOU HAD.

Eleven million people in the U.S. have diabetes. But almost half of them don't know it.

Untreated, diabetes can lead to heart disease, kidney disease, blindness and gangrene.

And for 150,000 people each year, it leads to death.

That's why you should be aware of the symptoms of diabetes: blurred vision, excessive thirst and frequent urination are just some of the warning signs. Because the sooner you find out if you have diabetes, the more likely you are to get it under control, before complications set in.

Finding out you have diabetes can be scary. But not finding out can be fatal.

Valentine treat

Barbershop chorus sings old-fashioned love songs

The Detroit-Oakland Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America performs 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Feb. 14-15, at Schmidt Auditorium in Clarenceville High School, 20155 Middlebelt, south of 8 Mile in Livonia. Tickets $10, all seats reserved, call 562-1989.

If the song "Sweet Adelines" comes to mind when you're uttering sweet nothings in your sweetheart's ear, treat her to "A Musical Valentine," presented by the Birmingham-based Detroit-Oakland Chapter of the Barbershop Harmony Society.

Even if you've never heard of "Sweet Adelines" you're sure to enjoy the Gentlemen Songsters Chorus and the fun loving, energetic singing style of "Gas House Gang," one of three champion quartets that will be performing.

"All of the songs will be sweetheart songs," said Bob Rock, ticket chairman. "We've got songs for sweethearts of all ages."

"The Gas House Gang" ranked among the top three barbershop quartets in the world at the International Competition in Louisville, Ky. in 1981.

Other featured quartets include "Swing Street," and "Stay Tuned." The distinctive sound of "Swing Street" has captivated their audiences from the onset. This exciting quartet brings barbershop harmony to life in traditional favorites from the rich heritage of American popular song.

With a style reminiscent of the Andrews Sisters, and the Boswells, this outstanding foursome puts barbershop "in the swing" every time they take the stage.

In competition in San Antonio, Texas in October 1991, "Swing Street" captured the International Quartet Championship and are the reigning "Queens of Harmony" of Sweet Adelines International.

"Stay Tuned" four veteran quartet performers who got together in February 1991 to determine how well their individual voices might blend singing in the barbershop style, went on to win the District Championship in October 1991. They will represent the Pioneer District of Michigan at the International Competition in New Orleans in July 1992.

The Detroit-Oakland Chapter rehearses 7:30 p.m. Mondays, in Birmingham. For membership informashop show of the Gentlemen Songsters Chorus, 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Feb. 14-15 at Schmidt Auditorium, Middlebelt, south of 8 Mile in Livonia.

tion call, Robert Sillman, 569-7517.

The Wayne County Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America is practicing new music for their upcoming annual show "Tin Pan Alley Goes to War," Friday and Saturday, March 6-7, at Mercy High School Auditorium, 29300 11 Mile Road, Farmington Hills.

Matthew Coombs, director of the Cascades Chorus of Eugene, Ore., has been called by the Wayne County Chapter of the Barbershop Harmony Society to direct its award-winning Renaissance Chorus, said Ken Casey, president of the Livonia chapter.

Coombs, 35, directed the chorus several years ago, until he left to join Disney's MGM Studio complex in Orlando, Fla. He worked in special effects, and was assistant director of the Orlando barbershop chorus.

He left to take over directorship of the Eugene chorus for two years.

When Coombs previously directed the Renaissance Chorus, the group numbered up to 60 men and regularly ranked at or near the top of competition in the Pioneer District of Michigan and southwestern Ontario.

Casey and Coombs invite all men who like to sing "the old songs" to practice with the chorus 7:30 p.m.

Tuesdays, at Newburgh United Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, east of Newburgh Road in Livonia.

No previous 'barbershop' or chorus experience is needed. "Just be able to carry a tune," said Casey.

For more information, or tickets for the March 6-7 shows, call Ed Wojtan, 425-2727.

'Company' very entertaining

Performances of the St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook production of "Company" continue through Feb. 15 at the playhouse, 400 Lone Pine Road between Lahser and Cranbrook Roads in Bloomfield Hills. For ticket information, call 644-0527.

Who needs marriage, anyhow? Everybody does according to the Stephen Sondheim musical "Company," which takes a highly critical look at marriage, but concludes in favor of it. The current production by St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook features strong vocal talent in a lively, very entertaining show.

"Company" consists of a series of vignettes and musical numbers that view marriage through the eyes of Bobby (Gary Jones), a perennial bachelor in his mid-30s, and the five couples who adore his company, fuss over him endlessly, and try to get him married.

AS EXPRESSED by the chorus of husbands singing "Sorry-Grateful," Bobby's friends send him mixed signals about wedlock. Beneath their joyous poses each couple hides frustrations and disappointments. Yet the play makes it clear that even though marriage has plenty of shortcomings, it is still preferable to any alternative.

"We all need somebody, not some body," says Amy (Duffy Wineman), one of Bobby's friends who is herself reluctant to commit to marriage.

Bobby fears it might be too late for him; all the good women seem to be already taken. Of his current girlfriends, neither kinky Marta (Kimberly Brown), nor dizzy-blond April (Julie Miller) seems quite right.

Jones plays Bobby in an unusually laidback manner, but he has a winning smile and powerful voice that delivers fine renditions of the solos "Someone is Waiting" and "Being Alive" as well as contributing to many ensemble numbers.

Wineman is wonderful as Amy, the bride-to-be who gets cold feet at the last minute. She delivers the difficult patter song "Getting Married Today" at frantic speed and with good comedic flair.

New law has business wondering

By Doug Funke
staff writer

The Americans with Disabilities Act, signed into law more than a year and a half ago, may be one of the most far-reaching pieces of federal legislation no one has heard about.

Or understand when they do. The law requires that public places must be made accessible to people with physical impairments if modifications are readily achievable.

Employers must make reasonable changes in the workplace to allow an impaired person to do the job unless the changes result in significant expense or financial hardship.

The public accommodations section took effect last month, public employment provisions in July.

The law — considered civil rights legislation for some 43 million Americans with physical or mental disabilities — applies to restaurants, stores, offices, museums and libraries. It ultimately will apply to employers of at least 15 people.

The big rub for many people is they don't know what the law really requires. The requirements seem vague — just what is reasonable — and the measure depends on individual complaints for enforcement.

"WHAT WE'RE receiving at this point is mostly questions," said Rich Studley, vice president of governmental relations for the Michigan

Chamber of Commerce. "In some ways, one of the biggest challenges we face now is there is a lot of confusion."

"In many ways, it's too early to tell how costly this will be," Studley added. "The biggest concern for business is the potential for litigation that's costly and time consuming."

Richard Meier, a Troy attorney who specializes in employment law, advises business owners and employers not to worry about incurring crippling financial costs or complying immediately.

"The act is not designed to necessarily penalize business," Meier said. "What it's designed to do is sort of change the philosophy of individual businesses in the accommodations area."

"Essentially, the act is triggered not so much where someone has an affirmative duty. It's triggered when someone makes a complaint."

"(The) implementation date is not a deadline for retrofitting existing structures," Meier said. "However, if a facility is currently undergoing modifications . . . or if the owners or employers plan to make such changes, architectural barriers must be moved at the same time."

MARCY COLTON, director of Community Services for the Hearing Impaired, Oakland Family Services, maintains that it wouldn't take much money to comply in many cases.

"I don't expect if you pull in $30,000 a year in business to make $50,000 in improvements," she said.

But Colton wouldn't find it unreasonable to require hotels to install special TDD telephones for the hearing impaired in a couple of rooms at $350-$400 per phone.

She doesn't believe it would be unreasonable to require doctors, lawyers or accountants to bring sign interpreters into their offices for the rare occasions they're needed.

"We have a number of people who don't speak or write English well, whose native language is American sign language," Colton said.

Earl Benson, enforcement manager for the Detroit District of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, said simple things like changing a work station may serve to comply.

"For someone in a wheelchair, you may raise a desk up by putting it on a platform," Benson said.

"THERE WAS the situation where a company revamped a keyboard on a computer so someone with poor muscle control could operate it," he said. "It cost $150, and it (keyboard) comes off so any other employees can use the regular keyboard."

Some retail complaints may be resolved simply by changing aisle configurations, Meier advised.

"They (owners) have got to change their sensitivities," he said. When they think about putting a new door up, they should start thinking and ask an architect, 'Is this good for the handicapped?' You want to sit down and move — that's the key — move all barriers."

"If this (ADA) is typical of other acts, people who have taken a hard line will get bit hard," Meier said.

Others agreed.

"If I'm advocating on behalf of a deaf person and they (business owners/employers) say, 'Let's work on it,' to me that's a good start," Colton said.

"We want to focus on an educational, informational and cooperative effort to do what's right," Studley said. "I think there's a lot of confusion out there."

"WE'RE HOPING most of this will be voluntary to a large extent," Benson said.

People born with physical impairments aren't the most likely beneficiaries of the measure, Benson said.

"In presentations we've had out there, a lot of people have been focusing on the new hire. People in advocacy groups are saying that's not where we'll find it. The majority are already actively working, and they may become disabled as a result of an injury."

Other state and federal measures have addressed discrimination in employment and public access for people with physical and mental impairments.

However, none have addressed the problem to the degree of the Americans with Disabilities Act, those familiar with the measure said.

Eastern Michigan University, through its Labor Studies Program, offers workshops on the ADA ranging from half-day to 1½-day programs. They can be tailored to each organization and are offered on-site or at EMU. For more information call 487-0005.

Corporate's bankruptcy won't impact franchisees

By Doug Funke
staff writer

The financial future of American Speedy Printing franchisees will hinge on their own resources, not on the fortunes of the corporate parent that filed for bankruptcy protection earlier this week.

That's the word from several franchisees, individual store owners who pay a fee and percentage of sales to use the American Speedy name and receive support services like advertising, educational seminars and trouble-shooting.

And even in a worst-case scenario — the corporate parent eventually goes under — franchisees say they could spin off like grown children to make it on their own.

American Speedy Printing Centers, the corporate franchiser headquartered in Bloomfield Hills, filed a Chapter 11 bankruptcy petition that enables operations to continue while attempts are made to restructure debt.

Franchisees can be found in almost every Observer & Eccentric community from Rochester to Canton.

"Each Speedy (franchise) is a separate corporation from the (parent) corporation itself," said Don Girodat, president of a cooperative of 70 franchisees in metro Detroit.

"IT DOESN'T mean anything to us as far as operations go," Girodat said of the bankruptcy filing. "We'll continue on a day-to-day basis as usual."

Donna Spiteri has owned an American Speedy franchise in Livonia for three years. "We have built up our customer base. We offer a good enough service we could stay in business with no problem," she said.

Bill Greenman has owned a Livonia franchise since 1984. He described business as "great."

"If you can print anything distinguishing franchisees from the problems of corporate, it would be appreciated," Greenman said. "The public has difficulty distinguishing between the two."

Stuart Glasier, a Troy franchisee, was concerned that franchisees would be unfairly tarnished by happenings at corporate.

"We have nothing to do with what corporate does, and we're perfectly solvent," he said. "I'm so busy I don't want to talk to you. Last year was my best year in seven years in the business."

GIRODAT, WHO now has franchises in St. Clair Shores and East Detroit, said he's made a profit each of the seven years he's been in business. Sales were up 18 percent last year, he said.

Corporate officials acknowledged in a brief press release that their problems shouldn't be imputed to franchisees. Sales last year increased an average of 13 percent per franchise, corporate noted.

Specific financial data wasn't disclosed, and corporate officials weren't available for comment.

Barbara Rom, a bankruptcy lawyer not directly involved with developments at American Speedy, confirmed that franchisees couldn't be drawn into bankruptcy by the corporate franchiser's filing.

"Theoretically, franchisees may become creditors depending on what the franchiser should be doing for the money it's getting back," Rom said.

Franchisees said that they may buy equipment and supplies from whatever vendor they choose.

Franchise royalties, which include payments to the corporate franchiser for operations and national advertising, as well as a co-op fee for additional local advertising, range from 5-7 percent of paid sales, Girodat said.

Girodat said he paid a franchise fee of $42,500 for his second store two years ago.

All of the 650 American Speedy Printing stores in the United States are owned and operated by franchisees.

Shriveling interest rates have down side, too, investors find

By R.J. King
special writer

While the decline of interest rates over the last six months was designed to put more money in the hands of conservative consumers, the move has proven to be dire for many people who hold savings accounts.

Savings account holders are confronted with an unhappy choice: whether to accept skimpy interest of 4 percent or less on their principal, or, in the quest for a decent yield, put their money into investments that entail more risk.

Consider that a year ago the Commerce Department reported the average six-month bank certificate of deposit (CD) was paying 7.14 percent. Now it is 4.46 percent.

In interviews with area economists, bankers and brokers, many said to earn a positive return today, one that marches ahead of inflation, individuals must accept some risk — but not so much that they're up at all hours poring over daily stock returns.

"Individuals should start with themselves, and what they need and when. They need to develop a plan," said Gordon Follmer, president of Follmer, Rudzewicz & Co., one of the state's largest independent accounting firms, which has its headquarters in Southfield. "It's where we start with every single client."

"Which investment to choose all depends on your goals — what you want to accomplish — and the level of risk you want to take," he said. "If your needs are longer term, say a retirement 20 years from now, there will be other criteria to consider."

IF INDIVIDUAL investors are concerned by playing the stock market, for instance, mutual funds may be the way to go, as professional portfolio managers make the selections.

As a general rule, stocks, despite short-term volatility, provide a greater total return over longer periods, in price appreciation plus yield, than other investments.

"People have to do their investment homework, but you can see what's happening," said Jerry Jahn, branch manager of Paine Webber Inc. in Troy.

"Someone who retired 10 years ago with $100,000 invested in CDs, would have earned an annual return of $15,000. Today, the same principle would have an annual return of less than $5,000. That's why we're seeing a lot of our established clients come in to change their investments."

With the ability to invest funds anywhere in the world, Jahn said many clients were being advised to consider investing in money-market funds outside the United States.

The firm's June forecast projects three-month, money-market yields will be 5 percent in the United States, but 6.5 percent in Australia, 8.5 percent in Canada, and 15.2 percent in Mexico.

In contrast to past recessions, the interest paid on savings accounts has fallen much more rapidly than rates on auto loans, credit cards or home mortgages.

"There were a lot of real estate deals that went sour during the 1980s, and charging higher rates on credit cards and auto loans is one way the banks can get some of that money back," said Follmer. "Lower yields on savings accounts is another way."

Still most advisers are telling investors to act cautiously.

"What I'm telling my clients is to continue to invest in CDs, but on a short maturity basis, six months or less," said Louis Allen, a private banker with the Bank of Bloomfield Hills and former president of Manufacturers Bank in Detroit.

"I'm telling my clients to stay in a liquid position because we feel there will be an improvement in the economy later this year or early next, and we will see those interest rates come back up again."

Chefs season show with dash of humor

By Julie Brown
staff writer

Chili Joe and Chef Curtis certainly respect good food, but they don't fit into the mold of the snobby chef at an elite restaurant where entrees are priced at $100 — not including the tip.

The men are the hosts and stars of "Microwave Today: The Cooking Show of Tomorrow," which is taped at the Omnicom Cablevision studio in Canton.

"We really have a good time doing this," said Chef Curtis, also known as Curtis Rellinger, 34, of Westland. They first appeared on another Omnicom show a few years ago and things took off from there.

"We tried it on a pilot basis, and we've been at it for about three years now," he said.

They don't wear their chef hats and aprons all the time. Rellinger is a service engineer for Mitsubishi Electronics in Plymouth. He and his wife, Lynn, have two children ages 2 and 4 and another on the way.

CHILI JOE is Joe Wnuk, a 43-year-old Westland resident who works in the Automotive Products Division of United Technologies in Dearborn. He and his wife, Gail, have four children ranging in age from 6 to 17.

You might expect he and Rellinger would do all the cooking for their families, but in fact each one shares those duties with his wife.

Working in engineering and doing a TV cooking show might seem like an unusual combination, but Wnuk and Rellinger enjoy it. They got their start about 12 years ago when they entered a chili cookoff in Saline.

"We started going every year to Wnuk said. They their chili as they he United States y're the official LZ-FM radio, and chili for promocases while they're driving to the studio to do the taping. Some of "Microwave Today" is scripted, but it has its spontaneous moments.

"If something fits in, it stays in," Wnuk said.

If something's too disastrous, however, the tape can be edited. One time, they created a peanut butter dip. As each took a bite, they realized the recipe hadn't worked too well.

"It set up like mortar in our mouths," Rellinger said. "We couldn't talk."

Things quickly got worse. The chefs couldn't breathe, although they were able to cough their way out of the crisis, and Omnicom staffers didn't have to call 9-1-1.

The two are hard-pressed to name their all-time favorite recipes, although such favorites as Root Beer Pie, Mississippi Burning BBQ Sauce and Woodstock Apple Pie (made with Boone's Farm apple wine) come to mind. Some of the recipes wouldn't exactly be a dietitian's delight.

RELLINGER AND Wnuk try to provide a variety of recipes, but don't worry too much about nutritional fanatics. Those same people have been known to take their kids to fast-food restaurants when they're pressed for time, Wnuk said.

"People still have a choice." Neither has much formal training in culinary arts. As a teenager, Rellinger worked as a cook at a steakhouse in Livonia. He was the oldest of five children and started to cook when he was about 12 or so.

Rellinger's usually the straight man on the show who provides the technical information. Wnuk tends to be more outrageous.

During one show, Wnuk ate a heaping spoonful of horseradish right from the jar. Another time, he drank five quarts of prune juice.

Bright colors provide a wintertime mood boost

By Julie Brown
staff writer

ON THESE overcast winter days and throughout the year, Judy Lore likes to wear bright clothing.

"I like bright colors, and I'm willing to take a chance on something bright," said Lore, a Plymouth Township resident. When she's out and about, she gets comments from both men and women about her outfit being a great one for a gloomy winter day.

Lore's partial to classic styles, and looks for things that will travel well and go from day to evening with a minimum of fuss. She also looks for accessories that will give an outfit that polished look.

"Scarves do a lot to change the look of an outfit." The right scarf can pull together clothing of different colors.

She's always on the lookout for jewelry, and sometimes buys something that she will be able to use later even if she doesn't need it right now. She also wears a lot of black, and finds those outfits can be accented with jewelry or scarves.

LORE AND her husband, John, have two sons ages 20 and 24. She's a homemaker and community volunteer who works with such groups as the Plymouth Community Arts Council and the Plymouth Symphony League. She does some volunteer work with St. John Hospital in Detroit, where her husband is a senior vice president.

The biggest fashion problem Lore finds these days is the short skirts and dresses. She doesn't mind knee-length hemlines, but dislikes the shorter skirts and dresses that have appeared on the fashion scene in recent years.

"I did that the first time," she said with a smile. Lore was around during the earlier miniskirt era. In fact, she remembers wearing some maternity dresses back in the late 1960s that were short and not too flattering.

These days, Lore finds that coordinating the color of nylons is a problem that she doesn't see answered in fashion articles. Finding the right color for hosiery is both a problem and an expense.

She's not one who considers shopping for clothes a chore.

"I really enjoy shopping. If there's a store, I've probably been in it." She enjoys browsing through stores and did that during a recent trip to Washington, D.C.

"I THINK in the Detroit area we're really lucky." A number of good shopping areas exist within a 20-minute drive, she said, and she appreciates the selection and prices found nearby.

Lore, who was nominated for "Off the Cuff" by Rainy Kirchoff of Plymouth, also does some catalog shopping. Lore appreciates the convenience, although she's found variance in clothing sizes can be a problem when shopping by catalog. Return policies are generous, however,

One show featured an appearance by Mr. Potato Head who provided plenty of snide comments. Chili Joe and Chef Curtis eventually had to put the spunky spud in the microwave to silence him. They didn't get any complaints from the toy manufacturer or from irate potato rights activists.

"We had no protesters, nobody showing up with signs," Rellinger said.

They tape a new show every week or two. "We've got almost 100 shows now," Wnuk said. The chefs have tested more than 400 recipes on "Microwave Today."

The show is taped at Omnicom's

Canton studio and shown to Omnicom subscribers. It's also shown on local access cable channels in neighboring communities throughout western Wayne County and the surrounding area.

THEY'VE HAD a variety of guests on the show. One of the most well-known was Fred Willard, who was Jerry Hubbard, Martin Mull's TV sidekick on "Fernwood Tonight" and "America Tonight."

Willard came to the Detroit area to be on the show as part of his "Access America" program. A segment featuring Chili Joe and Chef Curtis was then shown on the national Ha/Comedy Central cable channel.

Women guests have also appeared on "Microwave Today," including a descendant of Jack Daniels who traveled north from Tennessee to demonstrate bourbon recipes.

Chili Joe and Chef Curtis are working on a cookbook, "Chili Today — Hot Tamale," which they plan to have available later this year. It will include a number of chili recipes along with recipes for side dishes such as cornbread.

"I always try to come up with these little marketing ideas," Wnuk said. They've created and distributed prototypes of a lunchbox featuring their picture. Chili Joe has bottled water straight from the garden hose at his Westland home. That water has just the right rubberized flavor, although it might not appeal to yuppies more partial to Perrier.

VIEWER RESPONSE to the show has been positive. Wnuk and Rellinger sometimes go to Eastern Market in Detroit to shop and are often recognized.

The chefs get their share of fan mail at Omnicom, including recipe requests. They're more than happy to provide those recipes. (For information, write to Chili Joe and Chef Curtis at Omnicom Cablevision, 8465 Ronda Drive, Canton, Mich. 48187.)

In 1991, "Microwave Today"

received the Philo T. Farnsworth Award from the National Federation of Local Cable Programmers, taking first place in the entertainment/comedy category for the Midwestern region. The two drove to Owensboro, Ky., last October to attend the awards ceremony.

Their ultimate goal is to appear on NBC's "The Tonight Show" and on a national cable channel. For now, they're having fun.

"We enjoy doing it. Hopefully, we'll be able to continue doing it for a few years," Rellinger said.

Omnicom staffers also like working on the show, said Lee Phillips, 27, local origination coordinator for Omnicom. Phillips, a Hamburg, Mich., resident, is trying to encourage the two to use more vegetarian recipes, in part because she's a vegetarian.

"They're great guys," said Phillips, who took over the directing duties for the show from predecessor John Martin. "I love working on it. I always look forward to Thursday nights."

"Microwave Today" is fun to produce, and those who do the work have an additional benefit. They can skip dinner those evenings and know they won't go hungry.

"The best part is after the show the crew gets to eat the food," Phillips said.

Girl Scouts get start on road to lifelong good health

By Julie Brown
staff writer

Heather Nolan knows a thing or two about staying healthy.

She and other students learned about good health habits during a health fair Tuesday, Jan. 28, at Miller Elementary School in Canton.

"It's kind of fun to learn about all this stuff," said Heather, 11, a Canton resident and sixth grader at Pioneer Middle School in Plymouth Township. She was among about 125 girls who participated in the event, which was sponsored by Girl Scout troops from the Miller Elementary School area.

Heather and her friends learned about good nutrition, the importance of exercise and other subjects. She occasionally chooses to munch on potato chips rather than carrots, but knows salty snacks shouldn't be the mainstay of her diet.

"I think so, so you can stay healthy for life," said Heather, a member of Junior Girl Scout Troop No. 726.

SCOUTS AND their friends got things started last week with an exercise session led by Plymouth Fitness Studio representatives. The girls, ages 5 to 12, then moved from station to station in the school gym, learning about different subjects.

The event took about two months to plan, said Connie Moore of Canton, leader of Troop No. 726 and troop services director for Miller Elementary School. It was planned as part of the 80th anniversary celebration for Girl Scouting in the United States.

Brownie and Junior Girl Scouts worked on the project as part of their badge requirements. The health fair included kindergartners through sixth graders from Miller and Pioneer Middle School. Each Daisy, Brownie or Junior Girl Scout was asked to bring a friend, so some non-Scouts also participated.

Girls learned about the importance of staying healthy all life long. A Shaklee Products representative talked about the importance of good nutrition and vitamin use.

Canton Police Explorers participated, sponsoring a fingerprinting project during the health fair. Girls learned about burn prevention and care from representatives of the National Institute for Burn Medicine in Ann Arbor "in case anything should happen to one of them or their friends," Moore said.

THE STUDENTS learned about putting out fires safely. "All these girls are going to be baby sitting someday and you never know what can happen," she said.

A dentist discussed the importance of good dental hygiene and tooth care. The American Red Cross was also represented, with a staffer discussing the importance of donating blood and how such blood is used to help people.

The school will sponsor a blood drive, Moore said, and students are encouraging their parents to donate blood. The girls have also been collecting "friendship box" items such as toiletries and small games. The boxes are being donated to the Red Cross for use in disaster relief efforts.

Registered nurses were at Miller during the health fair to take blood pressure and discuss its significance with the students. No Girl Scout get-together would be complete without snacks, although the emphasis was on good nutrition.

"Nutritious snacks, that's right," Moore said. "They're all healthy and nutritious."

She and others who worked on the event know it's important for young people to stay healthy. "If they learn the habits now, they're not going to be inclined to overindulge or treat themselves badly later on," Moore said.

She found the girls were quite receptive to hearing about health and fitness. That doesn't necessarily mean that they never eat candy or cookies, however.

"I FIND THAT more of the girls choose healthier snacks than you would expect," Moore said. "Of course, they do like sugar. No kid is going to turn down a Twinkie."

Girls do benefit from learning about good health right from the start, said Jo Beurmann, Plymouth-Canton-Northville field director for the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

"If I could have learned when I was a Daisy at age 5, I'd be a lot better off." These are health-conscious times, she said, and it's helpful for Scouts to learn about such habits.

"I think it's great. It just really is a nice, nice deal for the girls and I think they're getting a lot out of it." The students were learning and having a good time at the same time, Beurmann said.

The event was well-organized, she said, and provided just enough information for participants. Beurmann knows that parents can also benefit when their children learn about health and fitness.

"I think parents learn an awful lot from their kids, and that's not all bad," said Beurmann, who has four children. Children and teens can put some pressure on parents to improve their own health habits.

"They have a way of working on Mom and Dad," she said.

Her fashion classics are the stuff of lore

so that's not too much of a problem.

"I love to look through the catalogs." She finds that helpful before she goes shopping.

She doesn't wear blue jeans too often. Lore's been known to wear them while gardening and might make an infrequent quick trip to the grocery store in jeans. She doesn't find jeans all that comfortable, and prefers to wear dressier slacks with a sweater or blazer.

Lore has had some things for years, and finds she can recirculate some clothing when it comes back into style. In some cases, however, the style has changed just enough so that the older item doesn't work.

Her short hairstyle is one she's had for 19 years, and Lore gets some comments on the contrast created by her bright-colored clothing and light hair.

"It works well for me. I can be ready in a minute to go anywhere," said Lore, who has her hair cut every two weeks.

Religious life means lifetime service

Retirement needs: concern for many

By Arlene Funke
special writer

Each school day, Sister Mary Dominic patrols the hallways of Ladywood High School in Livonia.

At age 92, Sister Mary Dominic may be the oldest — and most cherished — lunchtime monitor.

Few people know that her family name is Sieja. To students, she's simply Sister Mary Dominic — a soft-spoken Felician nun who has served her order for 75 years.

"I am very satisfied and happy," said Sister Dominic, a former history teacher. "I have my health. I'm thankful to God for so many years, and for helping me."

Monsignor William Sherzer, 71, retired in 1989 as pastor of St. Valentine Catholic Church in Redford. He now assists at St. Michael's parish in Livonia, serving at Mass, hearing confessions and handling other duties.

"YOU REALLY retire from administrative responsibility — but not from being a priest," said Sherzer. "I help out in any way I can. Most retired priests are available and do help out."

Sister Marguerite Niedzwiecki, 69, a Servants of Jesus nun, is a former teacher and registered pharmacist. Now she does clerical work in the parish office of Our Lady of Loretto Church in Redford Township.

"I'm very fulfilled," said Niedzwiecki. "The people are so kind. They give me a lot of respect."

When these three people entered religious life, there were many priests and nuns to staff churches, schools, hospitals and missions.

Times changed. Many religious gave up their vocations. Fewer men and women are entering religious life today.

Those who remain are increasingly older; their ministries have adapted to changes.

Some nuns have branched out to pastoral work in local parishes. Their duties include visiting the sick and homebound, developing religious education for both children and adults, and counseling engaged couples.

Other nuns work with the homeless or poor, organize retreats and teach workshops.

The Immaculate Heart of Mary order, a traditional teaching order based in Monroe, Mich., has 875 sisters in Michigan and Ohio. More than half are over age 70, said Sister Evelyn Booms, director of an IHM outreach project.

"MANY OF OUR sisters are still active," said Booms, 57, of Kaleidoscope: IHM Resources, which provides speakers and workshop leaders.

"We look at what needs aren't being addressed," Booms said. "Although the numbers are declining, women religious are a very hopeful group."

The Felician order has been a powerful local force since it moved to Livonia from Detroit in 1936. The Felicians specialize in health care and education.

In Livonia, the Felicians operate Madonna University, St. Mary Hospital, a hospice for terminally ill and the 500-student Ladywood High School.

The order is developing a 20-unit apartment complex for elderly priests of the Archdiocese of Detroit. It is scheduled for occupancy in August.

Each apartment has one bedroom, a kitchen and dining room. One full meal is provided daily in a communal dining room.

The $750 monthly rent includes weekly cleaning and use of a chapel and exercise room.

The Felician order, with 3,000 members worldwide, has approximately 320 professed sisters in the Livonia province. A birthday party was held recently for three 100-year-olds.

Around 85 Felicians live in the Livonia motherhouse, and 55 or so receive care in its infirmary.

THE ARCHDIOCESE of Detroit has 125 senior priests — those who no longer are in full-time pastoral work.

Figures provided by Monsignor John Gordon, director of the archdiocese's office of pastoral ministers, indicate that 84 senior priests are aged 70 to 79 years, and 33 are more than 80 years old.

Priests are urged to retire at age 70, and are required to do so by 75.

Sister Mary Dominic patrols the hallways of Ladywood High School in Livonia. The former history teacher, who is 92, continues to work at the school.

Sister Mary Dominic has never stopped serving. A history teacher at Ladywood, she retired and then spent 12 years working at the motherhouse.

She returned to Ladywood, spending several years managing the school's bookstore part time. She now serves as hall monitor at the all-girl school.

"She is a big help to us," said Sister Mary Alexander Mikolajczyk, Ladywood's principal. "She is always smiling. She is a wonderful example to the girls."

Niedzwiecki, a nun for more than 50 years, used to teach school. She then worked as a registered pharmacist at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia, and the old Wayne County General Hospital in Westland.

Seventeen years ago, Niedzwiecki was hired to work in the office at Our Lady of Loretto, a 950-family parish with a grade school.

"I chose to go into parish work because I missed contact with people," Niedzwiecki said.

FINANCES AND housing continue to be important issues for older religious.

Pensions, retirement funds and Social Security benefits are possible sources of income. An annual fund-raising drive in parishes is designed to help those elderly religious with meager incomes.

Niedzwiecki, who hopes to cut back to part time, lives in a convent at St. Sabina parish in Dearborn Heights. Each month, she meets with members of her order to discuss issues, including financial planning.

Sherzer lives in the rectory at St. Michael's.

The Rev. John Castlot, 75, is a retired instructor from the St. John Seminary in Plymouth Township.

Castlot, who gives talks on the Scriptures and works part time at St. Edith Church in Livonia, prefers to live in a condominium with his favorite companion, his Yorkie dog named Tiger.

What do younger religious face? Sister Carol Juhasz, an IHM nun who took her final vows two years ago, is upbeat.

"I feel God does provide," said Juhasz, 40, pastoral associate at Our Lady of Loretto. "The reality is that the numbers are dwindling. Religious life is in transition."

"I'm very grateful to God for my vocation," she added. "I don't think religious life is ever going to die out."

Kaleidoscope: IHM Resources is an outreach project which provides speakers on topics such as spirituality, stress reduction, time management and dream interpretation. For information, write to 22851 Lexington, East Detroit, Mich. 48021, or call (313) 777-5336.

We should be builders of bridges, and not of walls

I have always been fascinated by bridges and walls. They are among the most fruitful and inspiring symbols of human speech and thought.

Walls have a definite value and purpose in human life, providing us with shelter, security, privacy. They carve for us out of unlimited space a smaller area which we can subdue to our needs. They enclose us in a manageable world which we can master.

Walls and fences define for us beyond doubt and dispute what is ours and what is our neighbor's. The poet once said: "Good fences make good neighbors." In the building of such walls for protection and privacy, there can be no objection. They are part of the necessary elements of civilized life.

But there are other walls which we erect which serve no such good purpose, but, on the contrary, are harmful to the best interests of society.

PREJUDICE, INTOLERANCE, racial and group hatred are tragic walls which people build around themselves. Our age has unfortunately witnessed the erection of many such forbidding walls — walls that divide, separate, and alienate the peoples of this earth.

Sometimes even good and respectable citizens build walls around themselves, which are effective barriers to mutual understanding and good will. They build walls of social exclusiveness and snobbery. They segregate themselves in some illusory eminence and hug to their bosoms the delusion that they are somehow better than the common run of humanity.

In the sight of God, there are no first families, no aristocrats, no distinctions of rank — only children of the earth whose brief careers may be made brighter by the cultivation of the heart and mind, who may find a measure of happiness in life by helping one another in goodness and love.

There was a time when the invisible boundaries of religions were as great walls of partition between peoples, as rigid as the physical boundaries of states. People of different religions, living in the same cities, or even in the same communities, never came together for common counsel and action.

They viewed each other with suspicion and distrust. They regarded each other as alien and, therefore, as rejected. These walls are being overcome by the bridges of mutual tolerance and respect.

THE NOBLEST and the most enduring of all the bridges ever devised is the statement in the Book of Leviticus which has entered the religions of Judaism, Christianity and Islam as a central and supreme ideal: "Love thy neighbor as thyself." During this month, we remember the greatness of Abraham Lincoln and recall his words: "With malice toward none, with charity for all." He built a bridge across a river of blood and civil strife.

We must be builders of bridges. For there are walls that divide us today, especially the wall of callousness. Slums, poverty, unemployment and deprivation characterize the lives of millions who live in the blighted sections of America's urban centers.

In this time of recession, the privileged and advantaged dare not ignore the discontent and agony of the underprivileged and the dispossessed. Those who live with second-class housing and inadequate education, and lack of opportunity, become the breeding ground for bitterness, rebelliousness and resentment.

We need to build bridges of social justice and economic opportunity, working for a society that will provide employment and education and social services, bridges which will lead to a land of promise, at least of hope, for those who dwell on the rim of insecurity and want.

We have so much to do together for the common good. We have such great and sacred tasks to perform. We must stand together to become the human bridge that joins man and his brother.

Rabbi Irwin Groner is with Congregation Shaarey Zedek in Southfield.

Michigan's original soil is there, somewhere

Sometimes we take for granted the granite below our feet. In Michigan the granite gravel we see came from Canada originally. During the last glacier, which receded about 12,000 years ago, rock debris carried by the mile high wall of ice was deposited across Michigan.

Glacial deposits from four separate glaciers covered older bedrock deposits. Those bedrock deposits were laid down in the manner of stacked saucers. The oldest on the bottom is about 406 millions years olds. Toward the center of the state is the youngest of the pre-glacial foundation, it is from the upper Pennsylvanian about 280 millions year old.

Various rocks and minerals that make up both the old bedrock and the younger glacial till deposited on top serve as the foundation for soil. Soil is actually the combination of those rocks and minerals plus organic, or once living matter. In concert with minerals and moisture plants with different nutritional requirements grow where the conditions are suitable.

Plants in turn serve as the foundation for all living things in the area and are the basis of our various habitats. Beech-maple forests, tamarack swamps, or a fen are all unique habitats. Each habitat in turn has different animals which rely on the plants for food, either directly or indirectly.

AT THE Eddy Geology Center in the Waterloo Recreation area just west of Ann Arbor, Michigan's geologic past is outlined. Several stations trace the formation of the "saucer" foundation later covered by the glaciers. At each station are rock and mineral specimens to complement the discussion.

There are many hands-on displays which allow one to touch or examine with a magnifying lens. An extensive mineral collection is also on display inside, and outside are some large specimens of rocks often seen in Michigan.

In addition to the displays there is a gift shop area with reasonably priced specimens for a beginners rock and mineral collection. Throughout the year there are programs sponsored by the center on a variety of topics. In February and March programs on wildlife rehabilitation, flintknapping, and maple sugaring are planned.

Follow I-94 west from the Detroit area to Exit 157 and follow the signs to the center. Waterloo is a perfect setting for the center because the rolling terrain and various habitats reinforces the main theme of the center and the interconnectedness of the natural world.

Tim Nowicki is a naturalist at Independence Oaks County Park in Oakland County. He lives in Livonia.

Diamond, dog dinner date is set

The Detroit Chapter of Women in Communications Inc. (WICI) will name the winners — or losers — of its "Dogs and Diamonds" awards Feb. 10 at The Rattlesnake Club in Detroit.

The award highlights those who encourage or hinder the advancement of women in the workforce in a spirit of goodwill and fun. Michele Edwards, WICI national president, will help present the awards.

Nominees for "Diamonds" are: ABC TV's sports department, Affiliated Models, Crain Communications Inc., Donna Cox, University of Illinois National Center, Operation Able, 1940s Chop House, Stroh Brewery's Old Milwaukee Beer, Swedish Bikini Team, Twelve Oaks Mall and Vivarin.

Last year, General Motors Corp. received a "diamond" for its special-leave programs for dependent care for men or women. "Dog" recipient was Parker Bros. for "Careers for Girls," a game that WICI said encourages negative stereotyping.

WICI meetings are open to non-members. Cost is $30 for members; $25, students and retirees; $35, non-members. Reception at 6 p.m. is followed by dinner at 7 p.m., program at 8 p.m. To reserve, call (313) 791-1277.

WICI is a national, non-profit organization representing women and men in diverse communications fields, including journalism, broadcasting and public relations.

Art Beat

Artbeat spotlights vignettes from the suburban creative arts scene. Send Artbeat leads to: Artbeat, Creative Living, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Include a contact name and daytime phone number.

For details and reviews of musical performances, please turn to the Entertainment section.

There's a new art gallery in Observerland.

The Art Store, which opened Feb. 1, will give artists the chance to take their art from concept to reality. It provides art supplies, classes, framing and the walls on which to hang their work.

The concept is new. Until now, businesses aimed at artists tended to be highly specialized, offering one or two services like art instruction and supplies.

Art classes now run six nights a week, including an oil painting class Thursday nights with Canton wildlife artist Donna Enders.

Macek also carries drafting supplies.

Artists, novice or professional, interested in learning more about Macek's art concept can drop by the gallery at 42727 Ford Road or call 981-8600.

In the winner's circle... For the second year, a Creative and Performing Arts student of teacher Barb Demgen at Churchill High in Livonia has won a Scholastic Art Awards Hallmark Honor Prize in regional competition.

Nichole Herrick, a senior in the CAPA program, won the highly coveted Hallmark for "Alicia," a Prismacolor pencil portrait of a fellow student.

"It's incredible, two kids in two years," Demgen said.

The purpose of the competition, now in its 65th year, is to encourage creative arts students and to give them recognition they deserve.

Livonia Public Schools deserves recognition for encouraging students in the pursuit of the arts. CAPA, now in its sixth year, provides visual and performing arts students with a one-on-one classroom situation.

Five of Demgen's senior art students enrolled in CAPA submitted eight pieces of work each to the competition.

Herrick's portrait, along with the works of hundreds of Gold Key and certificate winners, will be exhibited Feb. 9-28 at Summit Place Mall, Waterford Township.

Old Abe will draw the spotlight at the Plymouth Historical Museum, 155 S. Main.

Farmington Hills resident Weldon Petz will discuss "Images of Lincoln" at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 13, in the Plymouth Historical Society-sponsored event.

The museum will feature an exhibit of Lincoln memorabilia called "1000 Images of Lincoln."

Gwen Dietrich of Canton displays "Magical Horses," one of more than 40 pieces of art in her exhibition at Livonia City Hall. The retrospective spans 15 years of pastel and colored pencil drawings.

Sensitive vignettes Artist creates 'world unto itself'

By Linda Ann Chomin
special writer

GWEN DIETRICH'S drawings dream of other worlds where inner smiles and peacefulness prevail, untouched by man.

The Livonia Arts Commission and the city of Livonia have teamed up to present an exhibition of Dietrich's world in "Animal Antics," a 40-piece retrospective spanning 15 years of pastel and colored pencil artwork.

The one-person show runs through Feb. 28 in the lobby of Livonia City Hall, Farmington Road at Five Mile.

A graduate of Parsons School of Design in New York, Dietrich studied with Paul Giovanopoulos, Lorraine Fox and Maurice Sendak.

Her proficient draughtsmanship and design skills, along with strength of statement and color sense, combine to create sensitive vignettes portraying situations from life, many of them tinged by whimsy.

Whether she renders magical blue horses, black and white spotted dalmations or little French girls, the end result is an intensely colored, far-away land overflowing with rich detail.

"Animal Antics," one of her most recent works colored with vibrant, pure pigment of pastel focuses on a dog, cat and mouse. The first two are separated from the last by a wood fence.

"It (the idea behind the picture) happened with a photograph I'd seen a long time ago that sparked my imagination of a dog peering over a fence," Dietrich said. "I wanted to create an interesting situation having interaction between three characters."

Photographer earns plaudits from his peers

Exhibitions, 5D

By Linda Ann Chomin
special writer

Owner of LaMoore Photography Studio since 1981, Morpew specializes in portrait and wedding photography. His winning prints were culled from actual customer assignments obtained through his Livonia studio.

"I love what I do. It's a love of photography, creating images," Morpew said. "We do a lot of people-oriented work. We get to deal with happy people all day long."

A five-member panel of master photographers judged prints submitted by professional photographers from the metro area and Windsor.

Competitors were allowed to enter a maximum of three prints taken within the last 24 months. Judging was divided into four categories: portrait, wedding, unclassified and commercial.

TWO OF Morpew's prints won blue ribbons in the wedding category. The third print won a blue ribbon for portraits.

"Innocence," a portrait of Royal Oak resident Leigh Richards, taken at Mill Race Historical Village in Northville, found favor with judges for its strength of statement.

"The photo of the little girl had impact," Morpew said. "It was done with all natural light. Mill Race is a nice spot because it has a gazebo."

Besides impact, judges awarded ribbons based on lighting, exposure, print quality and mounting.

"There has to be pre-visualization of concept," Morpew said. "The setting, the sunlight, posing — it all has to work together just right. And you have to print it deep and dark for print competition, darker than you normally would."

Morpew won Best of Wedding with the print of bridal couple Krys-tin and Patrick Manning, posed outside Academy of the Sacred Heart Church in Bloomfield Hills.

Douglas Semivan, assistant art professor at Madonna University in Livonia, will discuss prints from the exhibition, "An American Master: The Prints of Martin Lewis," Sunday, Feb. 9, in the Schwartz Graphic Arts Galleries at the Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward.

Semivan, an artist with work in the DIA collection, will lead a walking tour through the exhibition while speaking from his printmaking experience in a 2 p.m. talk entitled "A Printmaker's Perspective on the Work of Martin Lewis."

"I think it's important to have an artist's viewpoint. I'm going to discuss some of the techniques he used, his choice of ink, choice of paper, the tools he used, his notebooks, how it all contributed to the works," Semivan said.

"I discovered Martin Lewis in the

ON ROLLING land at the edge of a major highway, amid tall trees and weathered sandstone, lies a revealing sliver of history, Redford Cemetery.

It's fitting a state historical marker stands sentry at the 160-year-old burial grounds, now open only to descendants of Redford pioneers.

But that marker didn't just sprout one day in 1988. It resulted from a two-year push by the Redford Cemetery Association, a close-knit, private, nonprofit group governing the pioneer graveyard.

I became intrigued while driving by and spotting the gold-lettered, green-backed historical marker at Telegraph and Puritan, on the Redford-Detroit border.

As a misty rain fell, I opted to stop, read the marker, scan the epitaphs and listen to the quiet.

From the marker, I learned just how special this 2,000-plot cemetery is. Among those buried there are two veterans from the Revolutionary War, Ephraim Daines and Darius Smead, as well as veterans of the War of 1812, the Toledo War, the Mexican War, the Civil War, World Wars I and II and the Korean War.

THE MARKER relates that in 1831, Israel Bell, a commissioner in what then was called Pekin, gave one acre to the village for a cemetery.

The graveyard originally was called Bell Branch Cemetery — for the Rouge River branch named after the settlement Bell founded in 1818. It was renamed Redford Cemetery after Pekin became Redford Township in 1833. The township adopted its name in tribute to the mighty Rouge flowing through it.

Interestingly, some western Wayne County townships originally had Chinese names because of increased trade between the U.S. and China in the 1830s and because the U.S. government decreed all new townships avoid names of an existing post office.

By 1883, Redford Cemetery had grown to 10 acres. "A wrought iron fence was built for the cemetery in 1886 with money contributed by Redford Township citizens," the historical marker tells us.

"If you're interested in very early Redford history, walk through the cemetery, read the names — Bell, Blue, Green, Hendry, Lyon, Perrin, Pierce, Prindle, Smith, Wilmarth — and you've got the beginning," says Lois Carpenter, Redford Township Historical Commission secretary.

"My family has five generations buried there," says Helen Gallagher, a Redford Cemetery Association trustee.

GALLAGHER TEAMED with her mother, Olive Hopp Swanson, fellow trustee Lois Harrison and others to document to the Michigan Historical Commission why the cemetery should be designated a state historic site.

"My mother got the idea for the marker but she didn't live to see it," Gallagher said. "She died in 1986 and, of course, is buried in Redford Cemetery."

land in Europe and this was the land of opportunity. They had very little resources but they could buy land cheaply and expand as they earned money.

"Working the farm was their whole life," she added. "My other grandfather, Henry Hopp I, who was of German descent, farmed at Telegraph and Plymouth."

By day, the men worked the fields to scratch out a subsistence while the women made meals from scratch to feed their family.

At night, by lamplight, the men made household improvements or repairs while the women darned torn work clothing.

"It was a very hard life," Gallagher said.

It's amazing how a chance stop at an old graveyard can shed so much light on a community's past.

early '80s. I was astounded by his technical abilities. He was primarily self-taught and relatively unknown." The exhibition includes 95 impressions of Lewis' known prints along with working proofs, drawings, printing plates, artist's tools, letters, photographs and notebooks.

"THE COLLECTION is a master set of at least one of every impression he did," Semivan said. "Everything he did from 1915 to 1953. It shows the chronology."

Lewis, an Australian-born artist who sailed to America in 1900, is best known for his scenes of New York City. His work captures in black and white the transitory soul and energy of pre-Depression Manhattan complete with skyscrapers and flappers.

"In the 1990s, it would be difficult to do what he did," Semivan said. "The audience for black and white isn't there. It's an important lesson for the lack of confirmation for the use of color."

After living in San Francisco, where he worked on murals for the second McKinley presidential campaign, Lewis moved on to New York City. In 1910, he traveled to England. From 1920-22, he hiked his way across Japan. But in the end, it was New York that inspired him and eventually became home.

'In the 1990s, it would be difficult to do what he did. The audience for black and white isn't there. It's an important lesson for the lack of confirmation for the use of color.'

— Douglas Semivan

When he was in his thirties, Lewis worked in New York as a commercial artist. He achieved success as a printmaker in his late 40s. In his 50s, Lewis' work lost favor in contemporary art circles. In 1934, he established the short-lived School for Printmakers.

"MARTIN LEWIS was one of the first artists to deal with night as an effect," Semivan said. "He used dramatic lighting effects."

From 1944 to 1951, Lewis was an instructor for the Art Students League. In 1962, he died, relatively unknown.

The complete collection of Lewis' prints is a gift to the DIA from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Katzman in honor of Sidney and Betty Katzman and their children, Ellen and Laura.

"We're extremely grateful to the Katzmans," said Sarah Hufford, DIA assistant education curator. "It's a major acquisition. This makes us the major archive for the works of Martin Lewis, a master American printmaker."

When the exhibition was being planned over one year ago, Hufford began thinking about programs that the DIA Department of Education might host.

"We had very little budget. Knowing how Lewis is a marvelous technician, I thought it would be a good idea to have someone with Doug's credibility and printmaking knowledge to be able to give an artist's viewpoint," Hufford said.

SEMIIVAN GRADUATED from Cranbrook Academy of Art in Bloomfield Hills with a master of fine arts degree in 1973.

Since then, his work has been on exhibition in galleries and art museums across the country and England. Besides the DIA, Semivan's prints can be found in the collections of the Toledo Museum of Art, Brooklyn Museum and the Museum of Modern Art in New York.

Although Semivan's work is abstract in comparison to Lewis' New York architectural realism, he creates lithographs, intaglios and mezzotints as did Lewis.

Semivan's hands-on printmaking experience makes him a valuable lecturer on the master set of Lewis' prints.

"Our perspective as artists has nothing to do with admiration for what another artist does," Semivan said. "It's important because it records a particular time in history. It gives a historical perspective of the 1920s and '30s. It shows Martin Lewis' achievements as a print artist. Although he worked in watercolor, he will be most remembered for the prints."

Douglas Semivan's lecture is free with museum admission. The exhibition "An American Master: The Prints of Martin Lewis" runs through March 22. Museum hours are 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday-Sunday. Call 833-7900.

"Chance Meeting," a 1941 dry point, is one of Martin Lewis' first prints to deal with night. It showcases his dramatic lighting effects.

HER DESIGN experience, culled by day as a graphic designer/illustrator for A.R. Brasch Advertising in Southfield, shines in this whimsical scene dominated by strong horizontal and vertical lines that echo the triangular placement of the characters, emphasizing the tension between the three.

Dietrich's strength of design is evidenced again in "Magical Horses," where she uses line, space and color to communicate the need for far-away places to lurk in our minds.

"I wanted to create a world unto itself," Dietrich said. "A mystical place where they couldn't be touched by man. A place where I wanted to be, tranquil — alone."

"The horizontal bands came because I wanted sky, I wanted earth to close in on the subject matter to draw attention. By leaving white space, it enforced the shapes of the horses, by that use of negative white space, it becomes positive, a part of the picture itself. The dark colors aided in the mysticism."

Dietrich begins a work with a certain color in mind, laying it down lightly on 100-percent rag board.

"This shows me my basic color relationship and tells me if they're going to work or not. From that, I progress to building and layering color. Colors and color relationship come very naturally to me. I think it's very intuitive, my color selections. I never have to plot and plan. It's very spontaneous," Dietrich said.

SCRUTINY OF black spots on Dietrich's white dalmations provides the viewer with an illustration of her color philosophy in action.

"Although I start with a certain color in mind, it's made out of many, many colors. A brown would have blue, gold, yellow, red — a full palette."

Dietrich began working more than 15 years ago in colored pencil but switched to pastel because she values its versatility, spontaneity and the enjoyment of putting pure pigment, undiluted by oil or water, on paper.

"I switched to the pastels because I needed a more vibrant palette, a more spontaneous medium to work with. It's important to sit back and analyze your work," Dietrich said. "That's what I did when I chose pastel. I wasn't that happy with the (colored pencil) medium any more."

The creative idea for "La Petite Fille," a pastel in the collection of Dr. Richard and Janice Zimmer of Bloomfield Hills, came about when Dietrich exhibited work at the Scarab Club in Detroit.

It was at that time, Janice Zimmer saw the graphite drawing "Innocence," a sensitive portrayal of a wide-eyed little European girl. Inspired by that first image, she commissioned Dietrich to create one in full color.

"I first saw the drawing two years ago at a show Gwen did at the Scarab Club," Janice Zimmer said. "I'd been carrying that image in my head ever since then."

THE VIBRANT palette evidenced in "La Petite Fille" jointly works with lyrical line and well-designed composition to create a portrait following a tradition of photo-realism.

Although Dietrich's palette is different than Monet's, the techniques used in the background are similar to ones employed in landscapes by the French impressionist.

"I like the French countryside," Zimmer said. "I like the feeling I get when I look at the little girl. It's a peaceful feeling. It brings out the European influence in our home."

"I like the color. I also like how it looks so real to me, the eyes, the facial expression. It doesn't look like a picture of a picture. She did a wonderful job."

While she said the ability of art critiquing is not within her realm, Zimmer asks — "Is it pleasing for me to look at?"

A week ago, she commissioned Dietrich to create a second pastel, this one of a French countryside.

Compelled by an inner spirit, Dietrich's pastel paintings and colored pencil drawings communicate to the viewer another place lost in time, a world with blue skies, birds and animals untouched by man.

"The subject matter is what I identify with," Dietrich said, "subjects that are most familiar or have a great love for."

Gwen Dietrich will discuss her work 6-9 p.m. Friday, Feb. 14, in the lobby at Livonia City Hall.

couple is posed deep in reflective thought. The image's strong horizontal line is provided by the earth and the bride's wedding gown train, trailing upon it.

The photo plays off a row of overhead chandeliers receding into the background. "I like the excitement of getting on film the way I envisioned it in my mind," Morphew said.

Although the three winning prints will go on to compete on the state and national level, Morphew's rewards are reaped daily while at work in his local studio.

"I'm out to have fun and make a living while doing it," Morphew said.

The public may view the award-winning prints at LaMoore Photography Studio, 33680 Five Mile, Livonia, through February.

FEATURE WRITING

Cranbrook P.M. is sponsoring a six-week feature writing course with Corinne Abatt, well known for her work with the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers for 21 years.

The course will meet 7:30-9:30 p.m. Wednesdays, Feb. 12 to March 18, in Gordon Hall No. 47 at Cranbrook School, 550 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills. Fee is $85. For information or to register, call 645-3635.

The workshop is designed to help aspiring writers, as well as those more experienced, to develop skills in feature writing, the short non-fiction article suitable for newspapers and magazines.

Topics will be interviewing, writing, style and content. Each two-hour session will focus on a specific aspect of feature writing. A celebrity press conference will be scheduled as part of the seminar and book lists will be given in class.

Cranbrook P.M. is a program of continuing education and outreach. Proceeds benefit the Cranbrook Schools financial aid program.

Cranbrook Schools are a division of the Cranbrook Educational Community, which also includes the Cranbrook Academy of Art and Museum and Cranbrook Institute of Science.

BLACK HISTORY

During February, the Detroit Institute of Arts commemorates Black History Month with events designed to celebrate the achievements of black Americans.

One such event will be at 2 p.m.

Sunday, Feb. 16, in the museum's Prentis Court. Robert B. Jones will lead a discussion of "The Blues and the Spirit."

Jones, producer and host of WDET-FM's "Blues from the Lowlands" program, will focus on the blues as a secular form of spiritual release and will investigate a range of expression that falls outside the realm of the black church. The discussion is free with museum admission.

The DIA is open 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday-Sunday. Recommended admission is adults $4, children $1, members free. For more information on Black History Month activities, call 833-7900.

CULTURAL PORTRAITS

An exhibition of black and white photographs and accompanying documentation displays the significant loss to German culture with the forced emigration of many of Germany's leading Jewish intellectuals before and during World War II.

"Survival and Success: Jewish Cultural Portraits from Central Europe" continues in the Janice Charach Epstein Museum/Gallery, in the Jewish Community Center, Maple and Drake, West Bloomfield, through Feb. 27.

The artist, Herlinde Koelbl, whose home and studio are in Germany, traveled around the world to photograph and interview more than 80 Jewish people who are internationally prominent in the cultural arts.

Exhibition hours are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday-Wednesday, 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday and 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday.

The museum will sponsor "Grand Influence" noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 2. Children may bring a grandparent or special older person for a photograph and interview session.

Locally prominent photographer Monte Nagler and Marcia Boxman and Elaine Yaker of the Pierce Street Gallery in Birmingham will photograph the child's "grand influence," and the youngster will conduct an interview about his or her guest's Jewish heritage.

The photos and interviews will be made into an exhibition and displayed, with an opening reception, Feb. 9. Pre-registration is required. Cost is $18 per photograph session.

The museum and the Goethe Institut of Ann Arbor will conduct a symposium addressing the history of Jews in Germany before and after World War II Saturday-Sunday, Feb. 8-9.

The symposium will consist of several lectures, a viewing of "The Exiles" and a panel discussion about the status of Jews in Germany today.

For information about the events, call 661-1000, Ext. 470.

Romance novelist gets down to business

Shelly Thacker, 28, may be a romance novelist, but there's nothing romantic in her approach to the business of writing.

Maybe that's why her first novel, "Falcon on the Wind," published last year, sold to Avon in record time (less than a week), why it went on to exceed, by 100 percent, Avon's sales predictions, why they bought her second historical romance, the just-released "Midnight Raider," sight unseen, why she's just signed a new contract for three more books with what-most consider the creme de la creme of romance publishers.

"I really do think that romance writers are more businesswise than a lot of other writers," says the Redford-based author. "We're very organized and well-educated in terms of market needs and the fact that publishers are in this business to make money. If you can help them make money, you're going to have a successful career."

Before writing her first novel, the pragmatic aspiring writer studied writers' guidelines from many different romance publishers and read all of the most popular, bestselling romances of the day.

"If you're serious about selling, you really need to be aware of what different publishers want. Sometimes there are vast differences," she said.

AS TO the writing itself, Thacker, who has a degree in English and French from Albion College, says she has learned most of what she knows about putting together a romance novel from local published authors who critique her manuscripts at workshop meetings of the Romance Writers of America Detroit chapter.

"Romance writing is not something you can just dash off, send out and expect to be published," she said. "It's something that takes a great deal of work and time. And one of the most important steps you can take as a writer comes when you learn that every word you write is not golden."

Thacker completed the award-winning "Falcon on the Wind" in a little over two years and wrote "Midnight Raider" in about a year, all from the computer-equipped, at-home office where she still works. She gets up each morning in time to have breakfast and do a round of eye-opening aerobics before getting down to work at 9 a.m. sharp and then works straight through until 5 o'clock, taking an hour for lunch at noon.

IT'S A schedule she has forced herself to adhere to, she says, since she sees it as absolutely necessary to her success as a published writer. But for Thacker, who once worked full-time in a public relations office, it hasn't come easy.

"When I was working in public relations, I always thought I was so self-motivated and self-directed," she said. "Then I quit my job and started freelancing and found out how really undisciplined I was."

Though "Falcon on the Wind" was set in 13th-century France and Scotland, "Midnight Raider" in 18th-century England and her upcoming romance, "Silver and Sapphire," in 18th-century India, Thacker has done no on-the-spot research for any of her novels, except for a brief stay in France several years ago.

She has spent many hours pouring over historical collections at Wayne State and Oakland University and also at the main branch of the Detroit Public Library, though. She can also often be found studying travel videos from local libraries.

Even when the hard-working author isn't busy at her desk or out conducting research, she's still writing, in a sense, because she's always looking out for ideas she can use in her work.

She carries a notepad with her wherever she goes and jots down thoughts, snippets of scenes, bits of dialogue, information on characters. In her office, she keeps numerous files that contain the notes, referring to them often.

"I'VE KNOWN since I was a kid that I wanted to be a novelist," Thacker said. "But I've come to realize that there's no magic book fairy who's going to leave a completed manuscript under your pillow some night. A few years ago, I finally acknowledged that I was going to have to be the one to make it happen. I was going to have to apply seat of the pants to seat of the chair — and just do it."

"Even after your book is published, you still have to get out there and get noticed," she added. "There's something like 500 new paperbacks published every month. If you expect your one little book, no matter how great it is, to stand out in that competition, you've really got to put some of your own effort into it."

Thacker will be putting in some of that effort by autographing copies of "Midnight Raider" at the following locations in February:

• Saturday, Feb. 8 — B. Dalton, Wonderland Mall, Livonia, 1-3 p.m. B. Dalton, Oakland Mall, Troy, 6:30-8:30 p.m.

• Sunday, Feb. 9 — B. Dalton, Tel-Twelve Mall, Southfield, 2-4 p.m.

• Wednesday, Feb. 12 — B. Dalton, Livonia Mall, 6:30-8:30 p.m.

• Sunday, Feb. 16 — Sweet Afton Tea Room, Plymouth, 1-4 p.m. Along with Utica novelist, Luch Taylor, Thacker will discuss reading, romance, and writing at a luncheon and tea. The program will be repeated Sunday, Feb. 23, at the same time. Tickets are $15. For reservations, call 454-0777.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Know debt limits before applying for mortgage

With interest rates at their lowest level in more than a decade, and housing prices not appreciating as rapidly as in the past, housing is more affordable today than at any time in the past 12 years.

Finding the right house may seem like the easy part when compared to arranging the financing for it. Here's some tips from the Mortgage Bankers Association of America on shopping for a mortgage.

Talk with your real estate agent or broker. Real estate professionals are normally in the best position to learn about financing opportunities. Lenders regularly call agents to alert them to financing packages. Agents are motivated to help obtain financing for their buyers because without a suitable loan, a sale can't proceed.

Shop for mortgage quote rates by telephone. Call five to 10 lenders for rates and terms on fixed and adjustable rate mortgages.

One of the first questions asked is how large a mortgage a lending institution will offer. That depends on your income and the cost of your new house. Lenders use certain guidelines to determine the mortgage amount that they will lend. The two guidelines used are housing expenses and long-term debt.

LENDERS GENERALLY say that housing expenses (including mortgage payments, insurance, taxes, and special assessments) should not exceed 25-28 percent of the homeowners gross monthly income.

For Federal Housing Administration (FHA) loans, this figure is not to exceed 29 percent of the buyers' gross monthly income. With loans guaranteed by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), lenders measure homebuyers with "residential income" or the monthly income minus expenses. The remainder is then measured against geographical and family size data to qualify the borrower.

ages consist of more than interest rates. They consist of a quoted rate, plus points (pre-paid interest assessed by the lender at settlement, or the meeting when the property legally changes hands) and other fees, plus a full range of terms - including adjustability versus fixed rates, low down payment versus high down payment, the presence or absence of prepayment penalties.

Contract provision protects association

You recently suggested that the management agreement should designate the person at the management firm whom the association wishes to attend the meetings and to service the association so as to ensure that if that person does not do so that allows the association to terminate the management contract at its discretion. What if the managing agent designated to the association becomes ill or takes a leave of absence? Isn't that an undue burden on the management company under the circumstances?

It is clear that every contract must have some latitude with respect to performance by the respective parties. But the thrust of my answer in a previous column centered upon the fact that in some instances a management firm may be bought out by another management company with an entirely new staff of personnel but without changing the legal entity with whom the association has contracted. For example, we have had situations in Michigan where a management company was bought out by another management company without a change in the name of the company, and the association was saddled with the responsibility of dealing with an entirely new cast of individuals without the latitude to terminate the management agreements.

Also, there have been situations where one person representing a management firm makes a proposal and promises to attend the meetings and then delegates the responsibility to someone else when the contract begins. My intent in recommending that a contractual provision provide some protection to the association is to ensure that the person designated by the management company will make reasonable efforts to attend meetings on a regular basis absent legitimate excuses or unforeseen circumstances. It is for the protection of the association that the management person be designated to ensure that it gets the benefit of its bargain that was represented to it by the management company to induce the association to enter into a management agreement.

Our management company wants to include an indemnification clause in the management agreement. I have some vague notion of what it is but our attorney has also done work for the management company. Having represented it, he says he doesn't want to be involved in the management agreement unless the board says it is OK. What should we do? I am a new director.

An indemnification clause generally provides that if the management company is sued or is found liable as a result of its acts or omissions on behalf of the association that the association will have to pay the bill, so to speak, including perhaps, attorney fees and costs. This is basically a blank check given to the management company in terms of potential liability it may incur that will ultimately be the responsibility of the association. This is obviously a disfavored provision which should be the subject of intense negotiations between the management company and the association before the management contract is signed.

If the association is willing to run this risk, it should ensure that it has adequate insurance coverage to deal with the indemnification clause. If the association's attorney is also affiliated with the management company, obviously the association's attorney is not in a position to give advice on this issue without being involved in a conflict of interest. You should engage independent counsel to review the management agreement on behalf of the association as well as other matters.

One way to evaluate loans, is by examining the annual percentage rate. The APR can help you compare different types of mortgages. It indicates the "effective rate of interest" paid per year. The figure includes points and other charges and spreads them out over the life of the loan.

While the APR provides you with a common point for comparison, look at the whole product before deciding which mortgage to get. Pick the one with the rate, payment schedule and other terms that suit your particular situation.

Robert R. Jones, a custom builder, has been selected as one of the best in the industry nationally in terms of overall business excellence. He is pictured here in the Oak model of his Knorrwood Hills subdivision in Rochester Hills.

Robert Jones brings home the gold

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Robert R. Jones of West Bloomfield isn't like most residential builders.

He prefers to finance his work with profits from previous jobs rather than construction loans. He copyrights his designs. He doesn't negotiate prices. He keeps his demonstration models for several years even if he receives purchase offers specifically for them.

No one in Jones' family preceded him in the construction business. And if you phone the office with a problem or question after regular business hours, the call will transfer to his residence.

Jones, 55, recently was selected as a gold medal recipient in the Builder's Spotlight Business Excellence Awards. Only three gold medals were presented in the program sponsored by the National Association of Home Builders, Builder Magazine and Marvin Windows.

"The judges were impressed that he (Jones) was able to do so much on low volume — bring in consultants, have a customer service truck — and employ so many good, qualified people," said Gerry Donohue, an editor for Builder Magazine.

The awards were established to recognize overall excellence in design, marketing, customer service and financial success.

Thomas W. Richey, a national building consultant in Houston, nominated Jones for the award.

"Among the builders I work with, I think he has the best management system and quality control," Richey said. "He has designs in keeping with the times. I know that Bob shops all over the country to get the best possible products."

JONES WON in the small builder category. In business for himself since 1979, he has custom built as few as eight and as many as 17 houses in a year.

He is quick to credit his full-time staff of 13 for his company's success.

"I have my name on the door. Everyone else is responsible for the award," Jones said. "I don't think we could have a more dedicated staff. This is a very creative business. You're blessed when you can see the results of what you do."

Jones, a native New Yorker, was stationed here while in the Army in 1959. He decided when discharged two years later that he wanted to go into the building business even though he had no experience in the field.

"I was a liberal arts major and felt liberal arts majors could do anything," Jones recalled with a laugh.

"Being young and full of zest and not knowing the real world, I took a job with Herman Frankel as an executive trainee. I expected at that time to have a corner office. The tool I got, I think, was a shovel."

JONES WAS first assigned to customer service and warranty work; he has never forgotten the lessons he learned there. That's why he has a full-time customer service person and why he takes calls at home now.

Jones stayed with Frankel for 18 years, eventually rising to vice president of operations before striking out on his own. "I think it was a case of wanting to create on my own and create an organization," he said.

Frankel, a West Bloomfield builder, still has high regard for Jones.

"He was always a very committed, competent, honorable man," Frankel said. "He always worked hard and was ambitious. He was like a sponge — he learned. He was always a very directed person. I always knew he would do well and he has."

Jones has developed a couple of interesting business philosophies over the years. Like not borrowing to build. Instead, he banks money from previous sales to fund current and future projects.

"We don't like debt and that's putting it succinctly," he said. "In real estate, it's always popular to be leveraged, to use someone else's money. I've always believed you have to have things under control. Debt permeates a lot of things."

PRESSURES to lower prices or sell a model when you don't have another available can arise. Jones does neither.

"We don't negotiate our prices," he said. "We're saying we think we have a value and think you would make a good investment. We don't have the pressure of when a buyer comes in we say, 'Gosh, we've got to sell this.'"

But there is a consequence to avoiding construction loans.

"The other side of being cautious, prudent, conservative is that it does impede growth," Jones said. "You have to move more slowly, more carefully."

While conservative in financing matters, Jones has been a pioneer in design. He said he doesn't know of another builder in the area who owns a computer aided design system. Kevin Fox, his designer, has been with him almost from the start.

Jones takes a team approach to design. He talks with his own sales associates and consults with outside designers before finalizing plans. Then he copyrights his plans and legally challenges infringements.

"This protects our efforts," he said.

JONES CONCEDED that he can be tough when it comes to business.

"I'm considered in some areas to be very hard-nosed," he said. "We're very aggressive in terms of cost working with contractors and suppliers. But we do what we say we do. We pay our bills. Contractors can depend on us."

Pat Hansen has worked as a sales associate for Jones for six years.

"He's fair, very disciplined," Hansen said. "He works very hard and expects the same of everyone else. I'm the same personality. We get along."

Donald Pratt, a Troy builder and immediate past president of the Michigan Association of Home Builders, also had good things to say about Jones.

"Bob's a fantastic builder. He thinks things out thoroughly," Pratt said. "He knows the customers, knows the competition. To be a success today, and Bob is a success, you have to have an all-around knowledge and background of the business place."

"His designs capture what buyers want. Frankly, I'm sometimes envious of him," Pratt said.

Jones serves on the board of trustees for St. Bonaventure University, his alma mater, in Olean, N.Y., and on the quality assurance committee for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac. He's also active in local, state and national builder associations.

Carole Lynn, Jones' wife works in the financial end of the business on sales closings and accounts payable.

Son Bobby also is learning the business as an assistant superintendent. Other children are Michelle, a school counselor, and Julie Smith and Steven, both students.

Architecture struggles against economic realities

By R.J. King
special writer

Architects both here and across the nation are feeling the ripple effect of a sour economy, but the financial picture is just one of many culprits.

As far back as 1986, when Congress passed the Tax Reform Act, which greatly altered qualifications and tax breaks, specifically for individual retirement accounts, a key source of revenues for banks to finance developments, the architectural profession was bracing itself for red ink.

Combine this with the savings and loan crisis, which caused severe downturns in the development markets of the South and Southwest, leading to foreclosures, and now resales at half price, and it's not difficult to see why the architectural profession is suffering.

So argues Robert Ziegelman, chairman of Luckenbach/Ziegelman and Partners in downtown Birmingham, who was recently selected president of the Detroit Chapter of the American Institute of Architects (AIA), typically a one-year term.

"In 1986, 30 percent of our firm's revenues came from office buildings and shopping centers which were built without a specific buyer or primary tenant in mind," said Ziegelman. "But after passage of the Tax Reform Act, that end of our business was wiped out overnight."

"Banks no longer had access to some of the traditional financing used for those developments, and the savings and loan crisis dumped billions worth of real estate on the market at half price. Given that scenario, why would anyone build when they can buy at half price?"

AND SO THE THEORY follows, if there is little need for new buildings, there is little need for architects. By AIA estimates, the architectural industry has seen its annual revenues decline between 30 and 50 percent from the years following 1986, and in some markets, close to 25 percent of architects are said to be out of work.

So how have architectural firms survived? Many smaller firms haven't, and the trauma of pink slips and red ink has forced firms remaining to rethink the way they do business. One noticeable result is that small jobs architects may have politely declined in the past are no longer passed by.

"The architectural firms that are holding their own today are here due to diversification, or are deep into educational and health-care facilities, which are doing well," Ziegelman said, noting the firm recently completed design work on a 200,000-square-foot expansion of the Graduate School of Business Administration at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

"For our own firm, we've been able to increase our design work on very expensive homes in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills. We've also stepped up work on light-industrial projects such as tech centers, and on the corporate end as well. But because of the economy, many projects are stretched out due to one reason or another."

WITH BANKS SHARPLY curtailing their real-estate lending, Ziegelman said many developers likewise have begun to eschew daring leaps of faith in favor of build-to-suit projects for a specific buyer or primary tenant. The result is something of a hybrid — the custom-designed office building, which, unlike similar projects of the past, often boasts separate entrances, lobbies and elevator banks by the lead tenant, or for clients who find the financing, buildings of their own.

Recent examples of this trend within Luckenbach/Ziegelman's portfolio includes the Michigan National Corp. headquarters in Farmington Hills, Westview Park in Southfield; part of the American Center master plan, and the corporate headquarters for the Handelman Co. in Troy, a large distributor of software, records, and audio and video tapes.

But while the industry is suffering from a host of outward pressures, many of which it did little to contribute to, Ziegelman said the profession is beginning to recognize the benefits of first-rate architecture, not only in the human factor but as a strong marketing tool as well.

Etkin paired with minority firm in mentorship role

A.J. Etkin Construction, Farmington Hills, has agreed to participate in a mentoring program sponsored by New Detroit's Partnership Plan.

Etkin will be paired with the minority-owned A-Mac Sales & Builders, a general contractor. The partnership formalizes a relationship between the two companies, whose principals know each other.

Tom Landry, Etkin president, said he sees the mentoring program as "a means of insuring that the competition can compete successfully and fairly. It makes for a healthier industry."

A-Mac is headed by Andrew McLemore who said he hopes the partnership will help his company develop more private sector business.

Steve Englehart has established Englehart Realty and Investment at 30100 Telegraph, Suite 366, Bingham Farms. Englehart is president of the company that will specialize in commercial land. His father Bud is director of land acquisition. Steve is a former broker for Prime Properties, a subsidiary of Ramco Gershenson.

Camille Cleveland

Terice Tosto has appointed Camille Cleveland of Bloomfield Township associate broker in its commercial office division. She will be responsible for tenant representation and lease negotiations for the firm's commercial office clients. She is the former managing attorney/assistant general counsel for Elias Brothers Restaurants and prior to that was in private practice.

Matt Schwanitz

Matt Schwanitz of Bloomfield Township has been named a principal in the Rochester Hills firm of Giffels-Webster Engineers. His responsibilities include marketing, management of land planning and private developments, and wetlands and landscape architecture projects. He has been with the firm since 1989. Prior to that, he was managing partner of a Texas development company.

Brent Furniture, 1914 Telegraph, Bloomfield Hills, will host a seminar on leather 6-9 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 19, at the store. A factory representative will discuss how to buy leather furniture, determining quality in leather, what different grades mean, and care of leather furniture. Reservations must be made by Feb. 17 by calling 338-7716.

The Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan will conduct several seminars in February.

Representative from Catherine McAuley Health Systems and the law firm of Miller Canfield will discuss substance abuse in the workplace 8-10 a.m. Tuesday, Feb. 11, at the Radisson Plaza.

Plywood applications graded

Since 1905 when plywood was developed in St. John, Ore., it has changed little — but its use in house building has changed the design and structure of houses radically.

Here's a review to help you understand the types and applications of plywoods that are available:

Softwood-veneer plywood is most widely used in construction and industrial applications. It's made by cross-laminating an odd number of wood veneers such as pine, spruce, fir, and hemlock. Running the wood grains at right angles to each other gives plywood its strength. It comes in 4x8-foot panels with 1/2-inch, 3/4-inch, and 1-inch common thicknesses.

During manufacture, wood veneers are bonded together with an adhesive under a hot press. Depending on the adhesive used, the plywood is graded for interior or exterior use. Interior-grade plywood is made with moisture-resistant glue. Exterior-grade uses 100 percent waterproof glue.

Plywood is graded by the quality of the veneer used on the face and back surfaces, as well as by the type of adhesive.

The highest quality veneer grades are N and A. These have smooth, defect-free surfaces. Grades C and D are the lowest.

N-grade natural finish is all sapwood or heartwood free of open defects and with no more than six well-matched wood repairs per panel. A-grade is similar with no more than 18 neatly made repairs parallel to the grain.

B-grade has a solid surface with circular repair plugs and tight knots permitted to 1-inch diameter and minor splits allowed. C-grade (plugged) permits synthetic repairs, splits up to 1/4-inch wide and knots up to 1/2-inch diameter. C-grade (regular) allows tight knots and knots up to 1/2-inch diameter plus synthetic repairs and defects that do not impair strength. D-grade permits knots and knots up to 1/2-inch diameter, synthetic repairs and stitching repairs.

Some plywood and reconstituted panels are performance rated by the American Plywood Association. These are stamped with a number such as 24-16, which means they can be used in walls over studs on 24-inch centers and floors over 16-inch centers.

Hardwood-veneer plywood is a quality interior panel for furniture and cabinet construction. The face and back plies are hardwood such as birch, oak, lauan mahogany, walnut and ash with softwood interior plies.

Lumbercore plywood is the highest quality, with hardwood face and back laminated to a center core of hardwood strips. It's used for desk and table tops and comes in 4x10-foot panels 1/2-inch, 3/4-inch and 1-inch thick.

Medium-density overlay (MDO) is exterior plywood veneered with an opaque resin-treated fiber overlay suitable for painting. It's used for exterior signs and soffits as well as kitchen and bathroom cabinets. MDO exterior plywood siding is also available.

High-density overlay (HDO) is similar to MDO but tougher and more abrasion-resistant. It's used to build concrete forms and for counter tops and work benches. Both MDO and HDO come in 1/2-inch, 3/4-inch, 1-inch and 1 1/4-inch thickness.

Construction expo at Silverdome

Buyers of equipment, materials and supplies have the opportunity to keep current on changing technology in the building industry during an exposition Feb 12-13 sponsored by the Construction Association of Michigan.

Expo '92, CAM's eighth annual show, will take place 1-9 p.m. Wednesday and 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday at the Pontiac Silverdome.

"It's attended by anyone who will buy equipment or products that are necessary for construction — owners, developers, architects, engineers, contractors, suppliers and individuals looking for specific types of tools and equipment," said Brenda Zimmerman, spokeswoman for the association.

Tickets for the exposition can be obtained free in advance through CAM (567-5500). Tickets at the door will cost $10.

Upwards of 12,000 are expected to attend.

Several seminars also will be available at an additional charge of $35 for CAM members, $45 for non-members. Topics include tax strategies, contracts, quality control, surviving current economic times and lien laws. Again, specific details are available through CAM.

"With the economy so uncertain, people are looking for discounts and bargains on equipment and materials that are essential to their business," said Jim McLaughlin, director of expositions for CAM.

"Generally speaking, exhibitors offer reduced pricing during trade shows in order to close more deals in less time. For attendees, that translates into dollar savings," he added.

Ten projects voted by CAM members as outstanding examples of quality design and construction craftsmanship also will be displayed during Expo '92.

A.J. Etkin Construction of Farmington Hills, R.E. Dailey & Co. of Southfield, Payne-Hickey of Livonia, TMP Associates of Bloomfield Hills, Coquillard/Dundon/Peterson & Argenta of Southfield, and Hubbell, Roth & Clark of Bloomfield Hills were involved in some of those projects.

New products, ideas gleaned at show

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Serious convention-goers do more than socialize and party.

Just ask area builders and developers who recently attended the annual gathering of the National Association of Home Builders in Las Vegas.

Seminars on issues affecting the industry and exhibits of product lines were the big attractions.

"A big part of my time is land development," said Gary Shapiro, president of Ivanhoe Building Co. in West Bloomfield. "I met with national planners to talk about environmental issues — wetlands, woodlands."

"It was interesting looking at case studies on a national basis. It's very important for me now and in the future," Shapiro said. "The key to more affordable housing is higher density. To do that with environmental constraints is more difficult."

Paul Levine, president of The Irvine Group of Farmington Hills, said he was especially struck by a new soft bathtub on the market.

"Most tubs today are cast iron or steel," he said. "The new product isn't rubber, but if you push on it, it compresses and comes back again."

"It keeps water hot a lot longer and it's safer if a child were to fall in," Levine said. "It installs the same as a regular tub and it's the same price as a fiberglass whirlpool."

SEVERAL THINGS caught the attention of John Bollen Jr., vice president of a Troy building company.

"A lot of home automation was very strong this year — sound systems, intercom systems, heating and cooling systems," he said. "Some companies were even showing systems to control draperies."

"Another thing becoming important is closet systems. Some systems didn't even allow you to slide your clothes all the way across a hanger bar. Now there are some neat systems with hanger bars back. You can pretty well design a closet any way you want now."

Arthur Gerish, president of a Plymouth building company, said he was more interested in product, figuring that he could get tapes of the seminars.

"It seems like I always find new products out there that certainly will be serving the industry if not today, (then) tomorrow or the near future," he said.

tectural features of some Pella windows and the attractiveness of Kohler plumbing fixtures.

Two seminars he did attend — designing houses at the more affordable end and builders saving for their own retirement — proved instructive, Gerish added.

Carol Lee, president of Five Star Construction of Livonia, said conventioners seemed to mix more this year in Vegas, probably do to the gambling element, than at last year's show in Atlanta.

"I talked to people from all over the country," she said. "People talked about things being down, but nobody made it seem as bad as everyone is saying," she said.

"The products, even though nothing sticks in my mind, it's good to see new things," Lee said. "Just so you know what's in the market."

Shapiro summarized, "It (convention) makes you focus on things you're doing. You pick up an idea here, an idea there."

"I see two forces pulling on the industry today — one being the financial drain and the savings and loan crisis, and the other the undying cry for quality."

"Design is becoming much more important now that there's less work, and architects have time to really apply their craft."

AS A WAY OF a personal challenge during his term in office, Ziegelman said he would encourage colleagues to view the profession from the eyes of Europeans, who see architecture as one of art and event.

"So many people who travel to Europe are drawn not only by the designs of the past, but the present as well. The expansion of the Louvre (in Paris) is a classic example of that."

Still, Ziegelman, who has spent more than two decades within the profession, and at one time apprenticed under Minoru Yamasaki and Eero Saarinen, said in the last few years, American architecture has started to draw from European strengths, where office concrete and glass are being replaced with marble, bronze-fixture lobbies and carefully thought-out connections.

And he ruled against architects, as much as possible, basing designs on compromise and barter.

"Architecture in America today is a struggle that mirrors a client's double-edged role as a supporter of the arts and the financier of a cost-effective setting for their endeavors. My only wish is that we would embrace more of the former."

As for when the buildings might again rise with profitable regularity, and in turn renew growth within the architectural industry, Ziegelman projected a conservative estimate of between three and five years.

"It's really tough to say because you don't when the buildings left from the savings and loan crisis will be absorbed."

FASHIONABLE WEDDINGS

Although couples have a 1-in-12 chance of tying the knot in any given month, June is the most popular month for nuptials, followed by August, May and July. The fewest weddings take place in January, February and March, a national survey found.

So with the time at hand to round out plans for the height of the 1992 wedding season, the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers today presents this special bridal section.

We've taken a lively look at fashion trends that promise to help make the big day memorable.

— Bob Sklar
assistant managing editor

ON THE COVER: The vision of traditional bridal elegance by Jon Bradley. A delicate Alencon sheer lace fitted bodice, with an alluring scalloped neckline, expresses an unspoken romance. A full peau de soie skirt is gracefully touched with lace trim and carried through the majestic cathedral train. $1,650. At Pollak's Bridal, West Bloomfield and Rochester.

Bob Sklar directed this special section while fashion writer Denise Lucas coordinated it. Tammie Graves, of the O & E graphics staff, designed the cover. O & E representatives Jeannie Bentley and Joan Hines coordinated advertising. Direct queries to Bob Sklar, 953-2113.

Stylish Fashions help make fantasies come true

By Denise Lucas
special writer

In 1965, it was Julie Andrews who inspired brides-to-be with her regal bridal splendor in the Academy Award-winning film, "The Sound of Music."

Captivating Bo Derek became the silver screen "Bride of the Year" in the 1979 romantic comedy, "10."

This year's Hollywood bridal sweetheart is Kimberly Williams, co-starring with Steve Martin in the remake of the 1950s "Father of the Bride."

Every bride is the star and director of her own wedding dreams come true. Every fantasy the enamored bride has imagined from early childhood to shared secrets with her best friends in college will soon become a treasured reality.

According to Kris Bach, owner of The Bridal Basket in Livonia, carrying bridal apparel for the complete bridal party. "We're back to more traditional formal looks . . . black tuxs and tails, more attention to detail, cathedral trains, a very formal, classic look. This is because brides are older, better educated and have more spending dollars."

REFLECTIONS OF individual style are distinctively expressed as the betrothed maiden selects her wedding dress. Choices of traditional Renaissance gowns, romantic Victorian looks, understated sophisticated styles and dramatic contemporary gowns give the '90s bride a variety of choices to express her timeless beauty and magical dreams.

Selecting your gown style is a matter of personal preference. It should also reflect the location and mood of your wedding (formal, informal, cathedral, garden, chapel, historical site, lake side or gazebo), with a strong emphasis on a gown that will complement your figure and body proportions.

You may also want to consider this year's bridal trends. Bridal fashion for '92 is significantly influenced by current couture designs. Many of the haute couture designers are now crossing over the bridal threshold . . . Bob Mackie, Carolina Herrera, Scassi and Victor Costa, to name a few.

Laura Rubin, director of Alvin's Brides in Birmingham, reports, "Our store is experiencing this year a much more elegant, less fussy bride . . . with less beading on the gown. We're seeing simple, elegant, yet romantic gowns.

"Also, a lot of tulle (that fairy tale, Tinkerbell, Good Witch of the North look). Lace, beading and pearls are detailed more on the veil, while headpieces are moving from the forehead to the crown or back of the head."

BRIDESMAIDS ALSO are making new strides down the aisle.

"The bridesmaids' choice for '92 is the sophisticated, formal two-piece suit . . . a look that can be worn again," said Debbie Pollak-Zimberg, co-owner of Pollak's Bridal in West Bloomfield and Rochester.

Chris Morrisroe of Hudson's sees trends going from tea length to floor length. Softer pastels, peaches, mints, brighter pinks and floral and tapestry prints. Shorter looks are more sophisticated and cocktail-like.

Right: Reflections of spring are captured in the Victoria royal bridal gown. Open portrait neckline and long-fitted sleeves crown a faille basque bodice adorned with silk thread embroidery and beaded, three-dimensional flowers in pale pastels. A full tulle skirt completes the soft romantic look. $1,598. At Sue Gordon Bridal Salon, Birmingham.

And what should 1992's fashion conscience wedding co-star be donning?

"New for '92, black satin, shawl collar, double breasted, black tuxedo with a basic wing tip tuxedo shirt and tie and cummerbund of choice . . . perhaps royal blue, fuchsia or purple solids, paisley or color-splashed black," said Deanna Pascaretti, manager at Russell's Tuxedos in Southfield.

"Color me important" is the fashion statement the mothers of the bridal couple will be making this year.

"Butterscotch yellow, peach, crystal aqua, open blue, light sashet, ming green, violet, coral, French rose, mauve and buttercup are on the color palette, as tea-length chiffon dresses (three inches below the knee) will be worn by the mother of the bride (and groom)," suggests Lena Suggs, of Lena of Troy. "Also, georgette, brocade, chiffon skirts with brocade jackets, and mushroom pleating accented with pearl or rhinestone buttons."

LIKE SELECTING a lifetime mate, choosing a reputable bridal salon is consequential. Know your stores. Ask for recommendations from friends and research the store's reputation. Bridal gowns must be selected, ordered, fitted and altered. You must feel confident you will receive the friendly, competent service you need while planning your unforgettable day.

"What's most important is not what you buy, but where you buy," says Kris Bach of The Bridal Basket. "You're not buying a blouse off the rack, you're entering a six-month to one-year relationship when you order your bridal gown."

"Soothing frayed nerves, determining priorities and assisting with important details are just a small part of wedding preparations," added Kitt Spoelstra of Jacobson's.

Remember, a marriage made in heaven also can be the wedding from hell if proper planning and details are not attended to.

Whether your celebration of love will be an intimate occasion or a grand affair, you and your fiancé are not only the billboard stars of this spectacular production, but you also write the script.

Timeless beauty for the mother of the bride or groom. The two-piece chiffon dress, in dramatic tones of royal, emerald or fuchsia, will flow during the celebration of love. Richly pleated fitted bodice and elbow-length sleeve is accented with jewel buttons. Chiffon skirt is a full-circle intermission length. $370. At Lena of Troy.

Imagine the fantasy walking down the aisle in Victorian tradition. House of Bianchi presents an ivory Alençon lace sheath, high crown collar, illusion neckline and detachable chapel-length train. $1,700. At Hudson's Northland Bridal Salon.

The traditions of royalty radiate in Ilissa's taffeta full skirt, cathedral train bridal splendor. The opulent beaded lace bodice and sleeves accent a contessa neckline and basque waist. What bridal dreams are made of! $830. At Jacobson's.

Wedding Insights

● GOLDEN ADVICE

Bride's & Your New Home magazine interviewed six couples who have been married longer than 50 years for their tips for a long, happy marriage.

Sincerity, kindness, trust and honesty were mentioned most often, although two husbands said it helps to let wives have their way.

● TIMELY TRENDS

Weddings are keeping up with the times in a lot of ways. More women are popping the questions. Invitations are embellished with computerized calligraphy, and co-ed shower parties are the rage. Regional food is being served up at receptions, from New England clambakes to Cajun feast.

● POP THE QUESTION

The tradition of a suitor on bended knee — with ring in hand — asking for his beloved's hand in marriage is fading fast, according to a Korbelt Champagne survey. Only 10 percent of men drop to their knees these days; 36 percent have the ring in hand.

Elegant echoes of Renaissance grandeur in European traditions. Romantic full Juliet sleeves taper to the wrist in sheer beaded lace. $1,000. At Alvin's Bridal, Birmingham.

Custom gowns increase choices

By Debbie Wallis Landau

CUSTOM BRIDAL salons as well as quality fabric stores can assist a bride-to-be with designing and creating the dress of her dreams.

Debbie Pollak-Zimberg of Pollak's Bridal in West Bloomfield and Rochester, believes "there's the right dress out there for everyone. Some women are more articulate about describing what they want. Often we can suggest something, a particular design or perhaps just one change in a design they have seen to better flatter their figure and their skin tones."

Her salon, which offers both retail and custom dresses, doesn't charge for consultations. "We urge brides to allow us four to six months for custom orders. If an engagement is shorter, we can alter or change a dress that is on one of our racks."

POLLAK'S DEALS with fabric houses out of New York and Paris as well as Michigan. Custom dresses start in the $800-$1,000 range. The retail line ranges from as low as $300 on up to about $3,000.

Pollak-Zimberg and her mother, Madge Pollak, who is co-owner, specialize in the couture look. The salon's own line of bridal gowns is called "Creations by Pollak's."

"What we strive for are designs that are lovely and chic with beautiful detail. That doesn't necessarily mean heavily beaded," said Pollak-Zimberg. "It can be a very understated, sophisticated look."

Stewart Fabrics in Birmingham has many pleased customers not only in Michigan, but Ohio, Indiana and Ontario.

"They know we will send fabric swatches and large orders," said Rod Grifford, proprietor. "We do a lot of special orders, so future brides can rest assured that if a desired lace or satin or silk is not in the store in the right quantity, we will get it for her."

Stewart has been assisting bridal parties for decades, not only with quality fabrics in every price range but with a referral list of local dressmakers who can do the actual custom work. It also has a sewing room on the premises for brides who want to sew their own dresses or make parts of their own dresses or headpieces.

"WE CAN assist brides with widely varying price ranges," Grifford said. "If a young lady loves lace but is on a tight budget, we can steer her to a lovely domestic lace. Or, contrarily, we can offer French Alencon, too."

"What I would like to stress to brides," Grifford said, "is to be openminded. If you love the look of silk, know that you can also obtain it with, for example, a good tissue taffeta. If you're looking for satin for bridesmaids' dresses, you can purchase fabric for $5.98 or jump to peau de soie for $36."

Stewart regularly conducts seminars on creating headpieces and bridal gowns. Sewing classes to make them are offered, too.

TOBY HABERMAN, of Haberman Fabrics in Royal Oak, urges brides considering a custom dress "to try on different styles at the very best bridal salons and come in with pictures. Everyone working in our store is a seamstress, and we can offer woman creative perspectives on designs they like but might need to modify."

Changing a neckline, a color or a waistline can make a big difference in suiting a dress to an individual, she said.

"What's wonderful is you don't have to be an heiress to have a custom bridal gown. There is such an infinite variety of fabrics to choose from that no woman has to feel she has compromised her 'dream dress.'"

It's possible, for example, to recreate a gorgeous $2,500 or $3,000 designer gown for about $1,000.

"Don't get misled by fabric names," Haberman said. "Whether you want a romantic Southern Belle look or a sleek contemporary design, there are fabrics in your range to accomplish your goal."

LIKE STEWART Fabrics, Haberman Fabrics offers various programs to educate brides about the wide choices and styles available to them.

For example, Haberman Fabrics offers bridal headpiece classes. "In the first week, different techniques are demonstrated. In the second session, students bring in materials and work on them," Haberman said.

Dominant right now is the tiara look. The contemporary look of a headband with floral sprays sporting beads and/or lace is also popular.

"We sell parts to make flowers for a spray," Haberman said. "We can show you to gather up veiling to get the look you want."

IN THE five years since Kathleen Kolacz and Michele Merrifield, both dressmakers, opened Specialite de Bridal in Plymouth, Kolacz has observed, "You can't talk a bride out of what she wants. But if you don't drastically change her vision, she will be receptive to slight modifications."

"We can do an informal dress for several hundred dollars," Kolacz said, "or an elaborate design for thousands. The main thing is the bride should allow us a good four months — from creation stage, through beginning and final fittings."

"Most brides come to us because they can't find what they want in ready made bridal gowns," Kolacz said. "We also make dresses for attendants and mothers of the bride and groom. The latter emphatically do not want an 'old lady's dress' made of chiffon. Bridesmaids want a dress they can wear again. One way we accomplish this is creating a more tailored, two-piece look that will carry them through future special occasions."

In addition to being able to modify designs brides have seen elsewhere, a good custom salon will be able to advise on appropriate colors and styles, Kolacz added.
