Kosteva seeks state probe of sewer project

staff writer

The Western Township Utilities Authority, which runs the Plymouth, Canton and Northville sewer project. could be investigated by the state.

State Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, on Tuesday asked state House Speaker Lewis Dodak to approve a review of the multi-million dollar project. Approval could come this week

The probe would consist of state house staff members reviewing spending on the project, the procedures used to handle the contracts and a look to see if the state laws governing utility authorities should be changed.

This is a state level review at this time. We're not trying to cast aspersions on the project," said Kosteva.

Authority member Tom Yack, Canton Township supervisor, reacted to the proposed probe, saying: "We're an open book. We're willing to share with the world the inner working of the authority. We have nothing to

BUT WHILE THE proposed probe would be handled by state house staff members, the results could be turned over to the state Attorney General's office for further investigation.

All I'm trying to do is to have some folks take a good look at some of the serious questions raised in an article in the Free Press," said Kosteva.

A story in Saturday's Detroit Free Press contended that the area's 98,000 residents will pay $94.5 million for a sewer system, but could have joined the Wayne County Super Sewer Project for $25.5 million

The story also alleged that $30 million is being spent on non-construction costs and that $11.5 is going to contracts with people who have connections with local offistaff writer A possible blueprint for a healthy downtown business district was presented to city officials last week. Called a retail market assessment and economic enhancement strategy for downtown Plymouth, it is scheduled to be presented in a public meeting March 12 at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The assessment was performed by Hyett Palma, Inc., a firm that has done such studies nationwide.

ITS INTENT "was to gain a higher degree of understanding of the downtown's retail market potential in order to ucvelop strategies to further strengthen and enhance the retail offerings and economic base of the downtown," wrote Doyle Hyett and Delores Palma.

Nearly 200 pages long, the study includes results from a survey of residents and business owners, analvsis of who shops downtown, retail growth potential, and ways to promote downtown Plymouth more ef-

Teens nabbed in fraud

Two Plymouth Salem High students are suspected in computer fraud including the re-routing of phone bills and credit card fraud.

"Apparently they were directing the phone bills elsewhere," said Plymouth Township Sgt. Jim Jarvis.

The U.S. Secret Service and Michigan State Police are investigating the activities of the 16-yearold Canton youths, who were questioned Sunday by Plymouth Township police.

Police arrested one youth after investigating a report of someone throwing rocks at security lights at the AT&T tower at 5770 Napier

Officers found an unoccupied car parked east of the tower, entered the grounds and found one of the youths hiding behind some equipment. He tried to flee but was captured, according to Plymouth Township police.

In completing the search, officers found the building was broken into, apparently to get access to AT&T computer files.

The township police department seized technical manuals from the car allegedly used by the youths, and wire cutting and splicing tools and latex gloves. Both youths were released to their parents. The investigation is pacity for future growth and that's why the townships didn't go with the Wayne County project

Both Yack and Law said there's another factor involved, and that's clean water

Basically the way the Wayne County Detroit system works is that rain water becomes mixed with raw sewage during storms and because the sewage treatment plant doesn't have enough capacity, the sewage and rain water is dumped into either the Rouge or Detroit Rivers

When the Western Townships Utilities Authority project is done, all the water from Plymouth, Canton and Northville will be treated at a plant in Ypislanti, Yack said. None of the water will be dumped untreat-

BUT WHILE AUTHORITY members contend there are no problems with the project, Kosteva said, There are questions in the public's mind.

Some of those questions revolve around the involvement of one local election official and the relatives of two others.

They are Robert Law, the brother of Gerald Law; Abe Munfakh, Plymouth Township trustee; and John Breen, the brother of Maurice Breen, former Plymouth Township supervisor and now a Wayne County Comrepresents Canton, Plymouth and Northville townships and gives legal advice about the sewer project

John Breen, an attorney, was in volved in the sewer project as a land acquisition specialist. Breen defended his role in the project on Tuesday. saying he has the background to work on such a project

Abe Munfakh works for an engineering firm that received a contract to design the project. He voted to approve the project.

At the Tuesday meeting, Law and Yack defended the contracts with the three, even though they were not done on a bid basis. They said the authority isn't required to bid out for professional services.

Law and Yack also said that the authority was hampered in getting work done because they couldn't contract with any firms working on Wayne County's Super Sewer project, saying that such contracts would be a conflict of interest.

Kosteva, however, said that his requested probe will address the subject of the relationships of John Breen, Abe Munfakh and Robert

We have to make the authority accountable for making contracts with relatives," he said. "This has put a cloud over the project.

"I might add that's very cruel," he said, to alarm "older people on fixed incomes

Saying further public discussion could "create rumors," Law added,

"We will not discuss this topic and create a circus.

"We will get information to our citizens in the township on what the truth is," he said, in the monthly township newsletter and possibly in a public hearing on the matter.

Brought before the trustees to Tuesday was Ken Kunkel, of the Plante and Moran auditing firm which works for the township and several other Michigan communi

David Baumer fell short of the American Dream. And he's disillu-

The Westland man said he and his wife talked about the "devastating" news over lunch Monday. They're worried about the comfortable life they've built at their Herbert Street

AS MONDAY afternoon wore on, many workers left the Ypsilanti union hall for a rally at another hall in Canton Township. Placards were being waved: "No More American Jobs Lost" and "Willow Run. It Builds Quality.

It builds quality. Baumer, the Westland man who will be a father in 31/2 months, already knew that.

Workers: 'It's a damn shame'

By Darrell Clem staff writer

Several GM workers shook their heads and grumbled when a Toyota pulled into the parking lot of the UAW Local 1776 union hall Monday afternoon.

That's a damn shame," one worker muttered. Angered by the pending closing of the Ypsilanti Willow Run plant where they work, union members lashed out at President George Bush and hailed the "Buy American" campaign that came too late for them.

General Motors Corp. also came under fire from some workers for deciding to close Willow Run, instead of a plant that it had been pitted against in Arlington,

"Our parents built this country, and it's a damn shame that George Bush is running it into the ground,' said David Baumer, 33, a Westland resident and sevenyear Willow Run employee. (See related story.)

Baumer and other GM workers from Observer communities blamed Bush for American job losses, saying the president hasn't acted to stop Japan from "dumping" its cars on U.S. soil. They predicted a backlash as Bush seeks re-election.

"We're going to have to get these people out of office who are letting this unfair trade situation continue," said Leonard Fergueson, 56, of Wayne, a 31-year veteran of Willow Run. "George Bush is in trouble in Michi-Fergueson defended GM products and said he bought a 1991 Caprice. "If I hadn't had faith in our product, I wouldn't have bought it," he said.

THE WORKER'S sentiments were echoed by U.S. Rep. William D. Ford, whose district includes Ypsilanti as well as Westland, Garden City, Canton Township and part of Livonia, but Ford took aim at GM management. The men and women who work hard at Willow Run producing good quality cars deserve better treatment than to have their livelihood and their future pulled out from under them," he said in a statement. "It isn't their fault that General Motors is hurting. They and their families shouldn't be made scapegoats for misguided management decisions." Analysts rated Willow Run higher than Arlington for quality and production costs, Ford said. The decision to close the Ypsilanti plant "will produce one more reason for the Michigan workers who made GM into an industrial giant to break faith with the company," he said. Many GM workers accused Bush of intervening on behalf of the Texas plant, located in his home state. We've got a good workforce. The facts just don't add Ford questioned why GM, with 125 automotive plants in Michigan and one in Texas, would "add another 1,000

To me, the greatest thing that has come out of all of this is the reduction of the nuclear threat,' Lang said. "For me, a member of the baby boom generation, that's especially significant. I can remember the air raid drills we used to do in school."

As the threat of U.S.-Russian confrontation dims, Lang said both nations must reassess their place in the world.

500 Cantonites face loss of jobs

THE SCRIPT FOR this scenario was written 30 years ago, Hiller said. "It all goes back to when the automotive companies were trying to get their costs down, and were forced to go to automation and look for other means, such as out-jobbing. The Japanese and Germans showed up, and the next thing, we were involved in a world market."

Associate broker Lana Olson of Canton forsees a good outcome in the housing market.

"They're talking about the Flint

"It seems to be a popular area. I don't know if all 4,000 Willow Run empoloyees will be moving to Texas in the next couple of years, but there should be ample housing for people coming into the area: It might work out pretty well. Canton and Plymouth offer very easy expressway access to Romulus."

A number of Romulus residents are upgrading to the Canton area, enhancing the real estate picture, End of the Line: The closing of Willow

Run

The one thing we don't want to see is a real strong buyers' market again, because we don't have the appreciation.

Olson said 350 homes currently are for sale in Canton. "That number next year is likely to be 400. That doesn't really hurt the market gloom and doom impact in real estate, as long as interest rates stay relatively low.

Ruth Clevers, president of the Western Wayne Oakland County Association of Realtors, is hopeful adverse impact on real estate will be offset by a new use for the Willow Run plant

'I would hope that that location is looked at by other industries to keep people working there," said Clevers. Its proximity to highways and the airport should be a big plus, she said.

made," Baumer said Monday, standing inside the Local 1776 hall in Ypsilanti. "If it ain't American, I don't buy it. I've been trying to get my neighbors and friends to get in on it."

A Westland businessman, Bruce Lindstrom, also shared his feelings and memories about the planned Willow Run closing.

Lindstrom, a Livonia resident, used to manage a Taco Bell restaurant about a mile from the plant. Lindstrom, now manager of a Taco Bell on Wayne Road near Hunter, said he feels bad about the closing. 'Many (workers) were there a while. I had seen their faces daily While working in Ypsilanti Township for nearly three years, Lindstrom recalled that about 30 percent of his restaurant's customers were GM workers.

We used to deliver to the plant when workers couldn't get out," he Lindstrom believes that GM waited too long to make cutbacks. The company had to make a business decision, but it's the employees who suffer, he said.

AMID THE crushing disappointment of Monday's announcement many GM workers wondered aloud about their future.

'I don't know what to tell anybody to do. I don't know what to do myself," Baumer, the Westland resident, said.

"I can't believe what happened. But I was looking for a job when I got this one, and I'll be looking again. I'm a fighter."

Report calls for 'expanded job training'

By Tim Richard

The key words are "Business

Educators and business should provide vastly expanded job training to prepare high school students for the world of work — "a seamless transition from high school to further education or the world of work."

The proposal comes from state Rep. William Keith of Garden City and the top State Capitol Democrat, House Speaker Lewis Dodak of Birch Run. Keith led Dodak's Blue Ribbon Commission on Career-Technical Education, which submitted its recommendations last week.

They blister high schools' "general" track as useless, equating it with dropping out. They advocate preparing every student — girls, too — for the world of work, a change that will require "redefining the purpose of education."

Phil Power, chairman of Suburban Communications Corp. and a University of Michigan regent, put his stamp on the report: "The focus of education must be on the achievement of 'compentencies' and 'mastery of skills' that students will need in the 21st century. We can no longer afford to graduate students based on 'seat-time.'"

KEITH, A trade school graduate, is a former school board president and 19-year legislator.

Keith admires Germany's vocational-ed system, in which indus'As a major consumer of the educational product, business must invest in the educational system by helping to develop new models which expand the concept of apprentice/internship programs, assist in teacher training and furnishing ongoing information on the transformations in the workplace.'

Without such a system, Keith said, "our standard of living, individual earning power and economic stability may fall behind that of other countries."

The report mentions House Bill 4165, which calls for expanded vocational training. Co-sponsors are Keith and Rep. Glenn Oxender, R-Sturgis.

A LONGER school year — 200 days versus the current 180 — should be in store for Michigan students, the report says. It echoes the recommendation of Donald Bemis, former superintendent of public instruction, to add five days a year for four years.

The report notes:
"In the 1950s, the U.S. had the longest school year and the longest school day of all the countries. To-day, studies show we have the shortest school year and the shor-

NO COST figures were included deliberately.

Angela hospice wins grant

One month after ground breaking ceremonies for the new Angela Hospice Care Center, the hospice has been approved for a $350,000 challenge grant from the Kresge Foundation.

The grant will boost the building campaign goal of $3.1 million. The Kresge grant will be payable if the additional $1.05 million needed to complete the project is raised by February 1993.

The Kresge Foundation is an independent, private foundation, which makes grants to institutions operating in the areas of higher education, health and long-term care, arts and humanities, social service, science and the environment and public affairs.

In 1991, the foundation awarded 174 grants nationwide, totaling $62.9 millon. Grant recipients included 17 Michigan organizations which were awarded a $10.4 million.

The Angela Hospice Care Center, to be built on the Felician Sisters grounds in Livonia, will be a 24,000 square-foot facility designed to care for the terminally ill in southeastern Michigan.

Under the direction of Sister Mary Giovanni, the care center will provide a home-like setting, allowing patients to live their last days in comfort with dignity.

The facility will be completed in spring 1993.

Honigman may challenge Pursell

A battle could be brewing between state Sen. David Honigman and U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell for the Congressional seat held by Pursell since

"It's been a boyhood dream of mine to run for Congress," Honigman said, adding he was considering a run this year.

Honigman wasn't specific about which district he would choose — his West Bloomfield home would most likely be placed in a district featuring longtime Rep. William Broomfield, R-Birmingham, as its incum-

But GOP insiders say that if Honigman runs it would most likely be against Pursell.

Pursell-Honigman primary could be perhaps the most-watched state race. Redistricting could be the key to whether it happens.

The GOP's own redistricting plan shifts the balance of Pursell's 2nd District seat from the Ann Arbor/ Hillsdale area to western Oakland County. Farmington Hills and Novi, along with the Walled Lake/Milford area, would be added to the district under the GOP plan.

"IF YOU you look at it, it's a large portion of Honigman's state Senate district," Oakland GOP executive di-

Marlboro ad creator leaves 'em smokin'

By Kevin Brown

How best to shake the monkey of business failure from the back of downtown Plymouth business people?

Bring in a "guerrilla." Jay Levinson, creator of the "Marlboro Man" ad campaign and author of a successful series of books on "Guerrilla Marketing," brought his message before more than 100 business people Tuesday.

THEY GATHERED TO attend a seminar hosted by Levinson at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth. The seminar came at a time when some downtown business closings have some people worried about the future of downtown.

To emphasize the importance of marketing, Levinson recounted how Marlboro cigarettes had once been sold to women.

They wanted to change the perception it was more masculine," he said, recounting the beginnings of a successful ad campaign featuring photos of cowboys and "Marlboro country."

Compared to a big ad campaign, guerrilla marketing, Levinson said, requires "time, energy and imagination."

He featured 100 different "weapons" or approaches.

"And the more you use, the better," Levinson said.

Among 15 he said "are tied for first place" was pursuing a focused marketing

"It should last 10 to 20 years, something that guides all your efforts," he said. Owners and staffers of a business should know its niche or position. "When people hear about your store, what's the very first thing that enters their mind?" Levinson asked. A business should also develop a logo, to better remember the firm by.

Items with small impact add up, Levinson said, such as using a pleasing station-ery over one not as good. "When you multiply these things by 100, it has an impact on your business.

He urged store owners to have hours of operation to please customers, rather than owners, and suggested opening on Sun-

Tips offered by Levinson included: Offering free brochures, keeping the business neat and organized, running contests and sweepstakes to gather names for mailing lists, practicing good telephone answering manners, giving free samples, seminars and clinics and working hard in community projects.

Among other suggestions, Levinson

 Good telephone answering manners encourage sales.

• Give free samples, seminars and clinics.

 Work hard in community projects, and people will say "You must work hard in your business," Levinson said. Send thank-you notes within 48 hours of a sale, and maintain contact with cus-

Kosteva bill seeks annual open enrollment for MET

staff writer

Parents - not Gov. Engler's adshould decide ministration whether the Michigan Education Trust is a good or bad deal for college-bound children, House Democrats say.

"My bill mandates an annual open enrollment period for MET," said Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, sponsor of the 1988 program signed by then-Gov. James Blanchard.

There are absolutely no sound reasons why the MET board has failed to open up enrollments," Kosteva added.

His bill also would allow the MET board to raise rates for pre-paid col-lege tuition contracts to be set no higher than the weighted average of tuition increases.

DEMOCRATS served notice they plan to make MET a political issue by announcing Kosteva's bill in ference room. Joining them was ma-jority floor leader Pat Gagliardi, D-Drummond Island.

There's little hope the Republicanled Senate will pass the measure and less that Gov. John Engler will sign it. If MET becomes a political issue, Kosteva said, "So be it." Under MET contracts, parents, other relatives or employers pre-pay a youngster's tuition for two or four years to a Michigan university. The Treasury invests the money. At age 18, the child is assured fully paid college tuition. Some 55,000 contracts have been sold, and 1,300 youngsters are actually attending college under MET guarantees.

THE TRICK to funding MET was the spread between tuition rate growth and interest earnings.

Under Blanchard's treasurer, Robert Bowman, earnings were projected to increase at nearly 8.8 percent a year compounded while tuitions were projected to increase at

But the MET board says long-term interest rates are the lowest they've been in decades while universities are threatening double-digit tuition hikes as state aid wanes.

"LET THE market decide," replied Kosteva. "The demand for higher education has not diminished. At least offer residents the opportunity to invest.

Gagliardi scoffed at the suggestion interest earnings were too low. "The state Treasury's own people are making double-digit returns (on pension fund investments). All the big houses - show me one that didn't make 18 percent over the last Democrats said MET is superior to Engler's suggestion of replacing MET with a savings bond program.

"What benefit is that to consumers?" Kosteva asked. "MET is a pooled resource.'

'MET is tax free," added Gagliardi. "With his (Engler's) bond issue, you'd pay each year on your income tax."

DODAK'S political strategy has been to use "middle-class families" at the top of every news release or announcement, and Tuesday's announcement was no exception.

"MET was designed to help ensure that middle-class families can afford higher education for their children, said Kosteva's prepared statement.

Dodak also is pushing a proposal to cap tuition increases at Michigan's 15 state universities and 29 community colleges at the rate of in-

But both Dodak and Kosteva say capping tuition would not be a litmus test for candidates for university boards at the Democratic State Convention. The parties nominate two candidates each electionfor the boards of the University of Michigan, Michigan State and Wayne

Fresh ideas Parking credits outmoded

T'S TIME FOR Plymouth to take a fresh look at its parking credit system.

Basically, the system forces new businesses to buy parking credits, if there aren't enough on the site. For many new businesses, especially those being started by younger folks trying their luck for the first time, the money just isn't there. Either they don't have it, or the business they're planning on starting just won't generate the revenue to pay the parking credit

The current system favors the established businesses in Plymouth and discourages younger people. It has to be acknowledged that older, established businesses have long paid the taxes that have helped make the city of Plymouth a desirable place to locate. However, new businesses and younger people with fresh ideas can provide the diversity so desperately needed downtown.

One recent example of how the parking credit 1990s.

system keeps new business out came near Kellogg Park. A restaurant backer wanted to locate in the space formerly occupied by Computer Time next to the Penn Theater. But the $80,000 in parking credits required by the city was just too much

THE IRONY here is that one of the constant complaints about Plymouth is the lack of restau-

Pat Pulkownik, a Realtor with the Patrician Group, said it best: "I hear over and over again that we need more restaurants," adding that Plymouth demands more money for parking credits from restaurants.

But there's more than a fairness factor involved. It's the new blood factor. And Plymouth needs a transfusion.

It's time for the city commission to take a tough look at the system and start living in the

Fresh ideas for downtown

And they revolve around fresh air.

Russ Webster is seeking city approval for a plan to create a street cafe at his restaurant on Penniman. The plan calls for a 10-by-26-foot deck to be constructed within the parking lane of Penniman.

The plan goes to the city planning commission on March 11 and, if approved, Webster plans to open in early May

But up Main Street and around the corner on Ann Arbor Trail, another outdoor cafe could be

Chip Falcusan wants to add a street cafe to the Box Bar

Falcusan refused to be specific about his plans, but said an architect is preparing drawings to present to city officials.

We hope the city sees fit to approve Webster's plan quickly so that all of us will be able to enjoy lunch in the sun.

As for the plans for the Box Bar, we'll eagerly be awaiting the architect's drawings. We're a bit mystified by where a street cafe could be locat-

Let's just hope both projects receive quick review from the city. Michigan's summers come and go quickly, and there isn't much time to enjoy lunch or dinner outside.

Ends soon Losing bus system isn't smart

HEN IT comes to SMART, our regional bus system, we feel as though we're ringing a firebell in the night. And, figuratively speaking, our firefighters seem to be ignoring the alarm, engrossed instead in a spirited game of fire hall

The fire metaphor, we think, is not misused when discussing the Detroit area's critically ill bus system.

A burning crisis looms: metropolitan Detroit would become the only major urban area in the nation without a regional transit system if the Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transit dies of acute "deficit-itist" as planned on March 27. The suburban transit systems suffers from a $7.7-million deficit.

Now, we've said it before, but it bears reiteration: It would be just plain dumb to allow SMART buses to disappear from our streets.

Although it makes the auto barons and used car salesmen snicker and smile, such a public transportation crisis would be a terrible blow to an area that doesn't really need that kind of kick in the groin right now.

SOME 35,000-40,000 people will be looking for other rides to work, or wherever, if SMART dies, and let's not forget the 500 or so SMART employees who would lose their jobs.

So, with a transportation disaster just a month away, the lack of concern you'd think would be shown by those public officials who have been elected and appointed to protect the public from just such disasters is ominous.

So is the lack of solutions you'd think would be offered from the finest political minds of Lansing and the city and township halls of southeastern Michigan. There's been no hell-raising at the county commission meetings. And blistering editorials in the big-town newspapers are non-exis-

No, if something isn't done soon, SMART will die a quiet death. With the exception of James Aho, SMART's acting general manager who resigned Monday, the truth is that very few of our movers and shakers care very much about SMART or its customers. Aho charged that the threatened shutdown was a political game in which the pawn was a regional bus system.

But there seems to be a general impression that bus riders are just a bunch of misguided fools who don't have the means or inclination to buy and drive automobiles to work, or wherever.

Imagine that! People who'd rather not drive to work! Such people are damn dangerous in this

SMART'S REAL problem is that it's just a little, underused bus system.

Now, if SMART were a man, a rich man, perhaps a junk food baron who just happened to own a professional sports franchise, officials at every level of government would absolutely be going through hoops to help him prosper. Depend on it. And the big-town editorial writers would gush their approval.

A burning crisis looms: Metropolitan Detroit would become the only major urban area in the nation without a regional transit system if the Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transit dies of acute 'deficit-itis'' as pianned on March

What little serious discussion there has been on saving SMART (the bus line) has been clouded by the foul feelings of distrust drifting up from this deep chasm that has divided city and suburb the past quarter century.

A merger of the Detroit and suburban bus systems is needed to save SMART, transit officials have told us. Such a merger seems like a good

Some Detroit officials have opposed the merger because they don't want their tax dollars ($40 million to support the city system) to support something that helps suburbanites.

And so many suburbanites, spouting the "Let's-buy-a-car" mentality that has been grafted onto their minds over the years, are always suspicious of anything linked to big, bad Detroit. The subbies also might point to low ridership as an excuse for letting the system die.

ACTUALLY, A merger of the two bus systems makes a lot of sense — and city and suburban residents should be taxed equally to support it. Overall, service certainly would be upgraded and in time more people would ride.

The taxes used to support the new mega-system could come from varied sources. It could be a property tax, a license plate tax, a sales tax. Sure, people are taxed to death these days (or at least they'll tell you they are), but the burden would be shared among all in the six-county

As we have pointed out before in this space, there is a price to be paid for having a good transit system. But our region is already paying the price for not having a good system. Notice, please, the decay in the central city and the gridlock in suburbia.

But most costly of all is the human price of being locked in place. It's time someone answers

'Averaging down' has little room for quality

WHAT I FEAR most in the recent flurry of proposals to equalize funding between rich and poor school districts is that it will hurt the good schools and gain little or nothing in

It's called "averaging down." Both Democrats (whose ideology of equality usually leaves little room for quality) and Republicans (who complain ceaselessly about taxes without wondering what they get us) are about to compound their past errors by setting in motion wholesale averaging down in our schools.

Of course, variations in per-pupil spending between rich and poor districts are both large and inequitable. Some districts in the Oakland County office belt spend more than $8,000 per child; some rural districts, well below $3,000.

Indeed, most school districts served by this newspaper have property values (and, therefore, per-pupil expenditures) well in excess of the Michigan average.

AND THAT'S WHY last year's socalled "Robin Hood" school finance law hurts local communities so badly. The tax-base sharing law takes half the growth from industrial and commercial property taxes in above-average districts and distributes it to poorer districts.

Farmington, straddling the I-696 and I-275 freeways, would have lost somewhere between $400,000 and $775,000 if tax-base sharing hadn't been stalled in court. It can pay sala-ries, and benefits for 10-19 low seniority teachers.

For the losing districts, class sizes have increased. Special programs like computer education, music, art and foreign languages have been slashed. Morale is poor and declin-Worst of all, there is no particular reason to believe that the poorer districts are necessarily going to show any improvement in their educational outcomes as a result of getting thinly spread additional money. This is so because Michigan's totally archaic way of looking at education - that dollars spent, by definition, determine educational achievement - provides us no way of setting outcome standards for

Indeed, to reduce educational quality in rich districts while showing no necessary increase in others is very close to a classic negative sum game: Everybody's worse off.

money moved by the Robin Hood

NOW GOV. John Engler wants to take yet another step.

Earlier this month, he startled most observers by proposing to shift $466 million the state now pays for teacher Social Security taxes into the school aid fund. Since this would rub salt into the wounds of rich districts (excluded from state aid), he offered as a sop to repeal the Robin Hood law.

Seeing an opening, Democrats in the Legislature are proposing to move $450 million in state-paid teacher pensions to the aid fund. And the new superintendent of public in-struction, Robert Schiller, has made it clear that further "reforms" are high on his agenda.

All this would be fine if a realistic, accurate and widely accepted way existed to measure just what children actually learn in schools and to make sure that level of learning overall does not fall when people tinker with funding,

Otherwise, all we will have is an amazing and improbable alliance between Engler and the Democratic liberals in a redistributionist theory of school finance that sacrifices real learning on the altar of statistical equality of funding.

Auto workers are lazy, and drunk

Sir, I read with some amusement your recent article on why we should buy American. You obviously have never worked for one of the domestic auto companies, Mr. Counts.

I do happen to work for one of the 'Big Three" and have for 29 years. I, sir, have bought my last Americanmade car for the simple reason being they are "junk." They are junk cause the American workers who build products are, as the Japanese claim, lazy, uneducated, drunks, dope-addicts, and just plain stupid. I witness it every day, Mr. Counts, on a personal level. Every day at lunch time everyone heads for the bar and on returning to work are "intoxicat-

Some have been terminated but most haven't. I've been informed by our security that more than half the work force in our plant carry guns to work on a daily basis. Of the four work on a daily basis. Of the four company products I've purchased over the years, "all" had major mechanical problems requiring great inconvenience and expense. My '86 was delivered with a "handprint" in the paint. My '90 was delivered with the front bumper bent.

The list is endless, and I won't bore you with it. The point is, the American auto worker has a long way to go to catch his Japanese and European competitors.

They can and should start with taking pride in what they manufacture. Buying American because it's patriotic, is simply paying hard-earned money for shoddy products.

I agree, Mr. Counts, with you when you say we have a choice every time we pull out our wallet. Where we differ is I prefer to purchase "quality."

No more American products for me until they improve, which will probably be many, many years from

After 29 years with an American auto company, I'm proud to say they have not nor will not "brainwash"

Thank you.

Provide care for disabled

Voice of the Retarded (VOR), a nationwide association of individuals and parent groups who advocate for developmentally disabled persons, has been advised by its members in Michigan that the state of Michigan plans to close the Caro, Coldwater and Newberry Regional Health Cen-ters and the Muskegon Regional Care Center.

It would appear that the State of Michigan is violating its covenant to establish and maintain "institutions, progams and services for the care, treatment, education or rehabilitation of those inhabitants who are physically, mentally or otherwise seriously handicapped."

VOR contends that the State of Michigan may be in violation of its constitutional and statutory obligation to assure that adequate and appropriate mental health services are provided to its citizens throughout the state. Unlike Michigan, many states do recognize that institutions are an integral part of the array of residential services. And these must be provided for severely and profoundly disabled persons.

Deinstitutionalization programs have been promoted and sold to the people on the pretext that there were opportunities for cost savings. Anyone familiar with the complex problems of supporting severe and profoundly disabled clients in com-munity homes, and the costs required, should recognize the fallacies in these predictions. Providing the same level of care in the community as exists in the larger facilities is more costly, as it is less efficient. The state will save money only by cutting services. The services and support systems will decline. The disabled populations will suffer for

VOR is a non-profit organization.

Any parents or friends of mentally handicapped individuals in opposi-tion to the closing of these Michigan facilities should contact Voice of the Retarded (VOR), 2800 West Central Road, Rolling Meadows, IL 60008. Phone (708) 253-6020.

GM loses sight of its roots

"up north" early Monday when we heard the news over the radio

Relaxed from a weekend of skiing and eating whitefish in a northland still blanketed by more than a foot of snow, it jolted us out of our vacation euphoria and back to reality.

General Motors, that blue-chip giant of American companies General Motors, tied to Detroit like the film industry is to California General Motors, once upon a time the staff of life for my grandfather's Cleveland, Ohio, die casting plant

General Motors did what we had hoped was unthinkable. It included the historic Willow Run Assembly Plant with its more than 4,000 employees in its previously announced commitment to close and scale back 18 production sites

It selected the Ypsilanti facility over a similar plant in Arlington,

Berne Texas, after first pitting one against the other. It also elected to close three more plants and scale down two others in southeast Michigan, affecting a total of 9,100 employees.

I GUESS THE QUESTION to be asked in all of this is: Why did GM make southeast Michigan bear so large a burden?

Is there no special feeling for the people and area where General Motors grew up and became the No. 1

The hurt extends beyond whether you are "auto people," like our business reporter Doug Funke of Red-ford Township. He is the first gener-ation on his dad's side of the family which hasn't made a living in an auto plant.

His grandfather, his father, his uncles all were skilled workers - tool and die makers on the line.

You share the hurt simply because you grew up in Detroit - where even "girls" could sit cross-legged on the curb and call out the makes of the cars that went by.

You share the hurt because still look up at the Uniroyal billboard, remembering how as a youngster you were proud and fascinated as the numbers changed while you drove by, reflecting the cars coming off the production line. (They change too slowly these days to see

And you share the hurt because you, too, felt forced into buying a Japanese car after the last three GM

YOU THINK THIS WAY about Ypsilanti, a town you only know because it's adjacent to Ann Arbor.

It's a town which can't afford to lose a Chinese restaurant, much less its biggest taxpayer.

General Motors said it made the cuts needed to reorganize without regard to politics; that the decisions were based on internal plant and employee considerations and not government incentives. Speculation is that GM wanted to force a showdown with the UAW over work rules and productivity.

But it's also clear that GM made the decision despite its roots - ignoring the plight of the already reeling motor city and its people.

This mentality hurts democracy

editorial in an Eccentric newspaper analyzing Southfield's rich multicultural makeup and speculating on that city's chances for safeguarding its harmonious heterogenity. To run commentaries of this nature requires a certain courage, because I can cite personal evidence that portions of our mostly suburban readerships are less than receptive to this subject.

Yet it's a dilemma that every American must dutifully help to solve, and the solution depends on whether the powers that be will stop hoarding their power and instead democratically share leadership responsibilities and control.

Last year I was an applicant for the school superintendencies in Southfield and Oak Park - a community adjacent to Southfield which is at a similar cultural crossroad. I was granted interviews for neither post, which wasn't entirely surprising. There probably were hundreds of applicants for both jobs, and I never made contact with the Lansing perintendents

STILL, THE comment of a board member from one of those districts continues to trouble me. Responding to the query of a member of my former Rochester board as to why I hadn't been interviewed, that person said, "Oh, we wouldn't hire him he's uncontrollable."

This curious adjective pinned on me by someone I never met has also appeared in the media to describe me, and I suppose that whenever this happens I should take it as a compliment. If I was "uncontrollable" in the Rochester assistant superintendency, it was only because there were forces influenced by bigotry and fear that were trying to crush both my multicultural initiatives and me as we well.

I'm not really an unreasonable

We've got to get rid of this needto-control mentality that's pervasive among some people in positions of influence. I've encountered that kind of mentality too many times, and it's symptomatic of everything that's counterproductive to the democratic process.

Ironically I doubt that they would have needed to "control" me in Southfield or Oak Park, anyway. Given the diverse nature of their student clientele, their goals for multicultural understanding must surely be identical to my own lavishly publicized objectives. This was one reason I applied in the first place.

DEMOGRAPHIC projections beyond the year 2000 dictate that cities like Southfield and Oak Park are multicultural harbingers of Oakland County's future, Michigan's future and America's future. How well those two cities can maintain crosscultural cooperation will presage the

There will be no exceptions, no homogenous havens remaining for racists and other xenophobes to hide out in, nor will there be any rightful place for fearful and undemocratic 'controllers," either.

We have to teach our children and our adults - that there is no need to hide, hoard power or be afraid. As we Americans approach the 21st Century, we're on the glorious brink of fulfilling the harmonious hopes laid down for us by our founding fathers more than 200 years ago. E pluribus unum - out of many, one.

Going my way? Better signal!

Detroit drivers anyway? Why in the name of all that is rational do the majority of motorists refuse to use their turn signals?

The circumstances don't seem to matter. Lane changes, right turns, highway merges, U-turns, breakdowns or slowdowns. The people who drive this region's freeways at one of two speeds (rubberneck or breakneck) appear more willing to share a prize ring or hotel room with Mike Tyson than to lift their finger to push the turn indicator.

From what I can see age, sex, race or appearance don't seem to be factors. Sixteen to 86, boys to men, teenage lovers in each others' laps, fuzz buster phone jockeys and blue-haired, bridge-playing grandmas all share the same space aloof, in another world, determined never to signal their intentions as to where they plan to steer their 3,000 pounds of freedom.

IN THE COURSE of a week producing Transition, I average 90 miles a day on this area's highways. It's a rare day that doesn't have me driving the Lodge, I-696, 1-75 or the Jeffries Freeway, sometimes all in the same day. That amount of time in a car can cause your mind to wonder about a lot of things. Lately, I've been wondering after dodging yet another car whose driver didn't signal the car was coming my way - just what is behind this peculiar Detroit regional affliction of refusing to drive with common sense.

The other day the light bulb came on. Maybe I'd hit on the answer. Could it be that metro Detroit drivers don't want to give anything away? Play it close to the vest? Could it be just another Detroit survival tactic? If no one knows what you're liable to do next, won't they have to give you a wider berth? You know what I mean, like when you're walking down the street and see an obviously different-looking individual acting erratically, you give him space, right? You move over.

If my theory doesn't grab you, then think of the alternatives. Indifference, apathy, laziness, ignorance. Which would you prefer, perhaps apathetic indifference? Do you think the Detroit area driver cares so little for his own life, let alone that of his fellow driver, that it matters not one whit if they kill omeone by their negligence?

Laziness? Are the drivers in southeast Michigan so unmotivated and shiftless that they can't be bothered to lift that lever?

Ignorance? Is it possible that they don't know what the signal is

IT'S GETTING to the point that on the rare occasion a driver actually uses a turn signal, I don't trust it. I hang back like a scared rabbit or punch the accelerator and zoom past the point of uncertainty.

No, I think the theory holds mer-Maybe it is fear that drives them to drive in this way. Maybe it is a curious Detroit survival tactic. Perhaps it is this population's fear of crack, crime and carjackings and the growing legions of those who would "work for food" that forces these motorists to erect a wall of unpredictability. Keep it all

I'd like to get these thoughts out of my head. I have to know now! Tell me quick. What is it about metro Detroit drivers anyway?

Blame the "other guy for GM's move

By Tim Richard staff writer

No one in Lansing is sure why General Motors decided to move 4,000 jobs from Ypsilanti to Texas.

But if Michigan government is to blame, the other guy's political philosophy is at fault.

Gov. John Engler got no advance warning and was asked for no concessions by the No. 1 automaker, but the Republican leader warned "We've got to cut our taxwarned, "We've got to cut our taxes if we're going to cut our job losses. . . If our answer is tax shifts and tax hikes, it's a done deal: Our jobs will take a hike to Texas.

Big labor blamed the governor. "Texas Gov. Ann Richards and her Democratic administration worked with all parties to keep the Arlington plant open," said AFL-CIO president Frank Garrison.

"Gov. Engler chose not to get involved. I think Michigan would have fared better in this competition if we had an activist, pro-job creation state government such as we had under Jim Blanchard," Garrison said.

SEN. GEORGE Z. HART, D-Dearborn and a former Ford worker, said everybody was wrong. "We in America have been asleep at the wheel. That goes for the Big Three."

Hart, whose district includes Garden City, ridiculed the "buy American" notion because so many components - such as electrical parts, headlights, engine parts and tires - come from abroad.

"One reason Arlington (Texas) won out was its close proximity to Mexico," where components are made, Hart told the Senate.

GM will consolidate assembly operations now performed in the Willow Run plant in Ypsilanti Township at Arlington. The job loss will spill into western Wayne County.

"I don't have a residential breakdown," said Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, whose district lies immediately east of Willow Run,

"but we're in close proximity."
"It'll hurt a lot," said Rep. Justine Barns, D-Westland, "maybe more than Canton. We (Westland) are a little older and have more factory workers. A former officer at the (UAW) local at Willow Run lived in my district until he re-

SEN. LANA Pollack, D-Ann Arbor, said, "I'm not sure why GM left," but she was sure Ypsilanti Township wasn't to blame.

When other communities fought GM's property tax chal-lenges, Ypsi Township stepped aside, right or wrong, and let GM challenge. It (GM's departure) is not about property taxes or unemployment compensation," Pollack

"We hear the same old call from Republicans," said Sen. Virgil Smith, D-Detroit — "'Unshackle business and they'll lead us to prosperity.' Well, you see how prosperity have. ... Unfettered, unrestricted business is not very good."

Sen. John Cherry, D-Clio, whose district will feel the loss of 4,000 jobs with a Flint engine plant closing, blamed politics.

'Michigan had the cost advantage. Willow Run should never have been compared to Arlington, Cherry said. While calling on GM to explain its choice, Cherry was sure there was political fault in Michigan: "It's cooperation, not political warfare, that helps Tex-

TWO REPUBLICAN senators from border counties insisted Michigan's high costs were to blame

"The enemy is us," said Sen. Nick Smith, R-Hillsdale County. 'Abatements (to industry) didn't begin to offset the high property taxes in Michigan. Our unemployment tax is excessively high. With workers comp, we're overzealous in our effort to take care of work-

"The House Democratic property tax plan would take away the capital acquisition deduction. We have overzealous regulation,' Smith said

UAW will hold march for jobs on March 14

When unemployed Ford Motor Co. workers marched against hunger 60 years ago, the event ended in tragedy. Five men died as police used tear gas, water hoses and bullets to disperse the crowd.

In that aspect, the 60th anniversary march, Saturday, March 14, will be different. No incidents are expected as UAW workers hold their 1992 March for Jobs.

But UAW leaders say hunger and joblessness, the conditions that prompted the 1932 march, are once again a major problem.

"Our demonstration on March 14 isn't just a memorial march, it's also part of a struggle to restore the American dream, to renew our commitment to good jobs, social justice, health care for everyone and an end to hunger," UAW Local 600 President Jim McNeil said. "America's hard-won sense of middle-class security is rapidly disappearing as non-union, minimum wage jobs replace good-paying union jobs."

Dearborn-based Local 600 is sponsoring the march, though members of other area locals are also expected to participate

The event will include dedication of a historic marker at the starting point of the 1932 march. A grave marker will be placed in Woodmere Cemetery, Detroit, honoring Curtis Williams, a black man killed in the 1932 march but denied burial with the other fatalities.

Speakers are scheduled to include Bishop Thomas Gumbleton of the Archdiocese of Detroit, Detroit Councilwoman Maryann Mahaffey and UAW regional director Bob King, among others.

The event, however, is also expected to be a show of UAW solidarity and strength in this election year.

'In too many ways we have beenslipping backwards, and it's time to draw the line," McNeil said.

Find out what it's like to be part of a really exciting and enjoyable sport.

No surprises as Rocks end campaign 9-0

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

The final tabulation of scores Monday indicated Plymouth Salem was nearly five points better than rival Plymouth Canton in girls gymnastics.

The No. 1-ranked Rocks, who scored 143.45 and finished the dualmeet season undefeated at 9-0, have demonstrated numerous times they are the best team in Observerland and arguably the state.

Accepting that fact, perhaps the real bottom line is there were only winners in this meet, pitting two of the finest high school programs in Michigan against each other.

While Canton coach John Cunningham would be among the first to label Salem a great team, the Chiefs, who scored an otherwise impressive 138.60, have stood in Salem's shadow but been quite successful themselves, finishing with an 8-3 record.

"I THINK both of us did well," Salem coach Becky Martin said. "Both are good teams and I can't even imagine if both were together (as one combined team).

The top-ranked Rocks, who were 6-0 in Western Lakes Activities Association meets and Canton 4-2, have won every invitiational they've entered. But the No. 3 Chiefs have also won an invitational and been second twice and fourth once behind Salem.

"I tell the kids 'No other team in this school district is third in the state," Cunningham said. "We're happy that Salem is No. 1, and we're happy to be No. 3.

'I'm just pleased to be where we are. I'm pleased for the kids, I'm pleased for the team and I'm extremely happy with what they've done this year.

With the outcome virtually predetermined, given the ability in gymnastics to project based on the known capabilities of the athletes, both teams had as their objective to improve individual skills in preparation for the major competitions

"I think they're pulling together all of their tricks and maintaining where they're at," said Martin of the Salem gymnasts. "They're trying to get a few extra tenths by making their routines a little bit better."

THE FIRST of the big meets takes place tonight when the Rocks attempt to win their third consecutive WLAA championship at Westland John Glenn.

"From what I've heard, some schools are on vacation and some of their girls are out of town," Martin "Most teams are using this as a qualifying meet. My anticipation is we will (win).'

The regional meet will be Saturday, March 7, at Canton and the state final Friday, March 13, at Trenton. As those dates approach, the Rocks appear to have adapted

BILL BRESLER/staff photographe

Sarah Makins of Salem placed second on the balance beam Monday and compiled a 35.20 all-around score.

well to their top-ranked status, and beating defending state champ Muskegon Mona Shores twice has no doubt helped.

"Unless they put pressure on themselves, I think they're pretty confident in what they can do," Martin said. "Having won all our meets, I think takes some of the pressure

"I think right now we have to keep up at practice, work hard and do our best. I don't want to say we're a better team (than Mona Shores). We're doing really well for ourselves. All the girls are doing really well this year, and I'm happy to see them doing so well.'

Bonnett wins crown; Salem keeps 4 alive

By Bill Parker staff writer

Dan Bonnett likes the thought of wrestling at home Saturday in the Class A state regional tournament at Plymouth Salem

But the Salem senior admits he has enjoyed the success he's experienced this year at Walled Lake Western High School.

Two weeks ago Bonnett captured the Western Lakes Activities Association championship at Western, and he won a district championship in the same gymnasium Saturday. The top four finishers in each weight class at the Western district advance to the regional at Salem.

"Wrestling regionals at home will be great," said Bonnett, who owns a 37-1 record. "A lot more of your friends come out and cheer you on when it's close to home. It gives you a little extra pride to wrestle at home, a little more motivation."

BONNETT HAD all the motivation he needed Saturday as he stormed through the 125-pound bracket with four pins. Only one other wrestler in the tournament -Western's 103-pound Rob Fritz won all four matches by pin.

Bonnett opened the tournament with a pin over Brighton's Chris Robertson in 2:13, then followed with a pin over Western's Eric Bagalay in 47 seconds. In the semifinals, Bonnett pinned Farmington's Jon Duff

match that was a repeat of the WLAA championship. The result was the same this time around as Bonnett stuck Allison in 2:21 to win his second district championship in as many years. In the league final, Bonnett pinned Allison in 1:35.

"Today was basically like league," Bonnett said. "I beat the same guy by pin in the finals last week. But couldn't have done it without a good workout partner like Scott Martin (third at 119 pounds). He makes me

"Last year I won districts but missed out at state. Hopefully, it will be different this time.

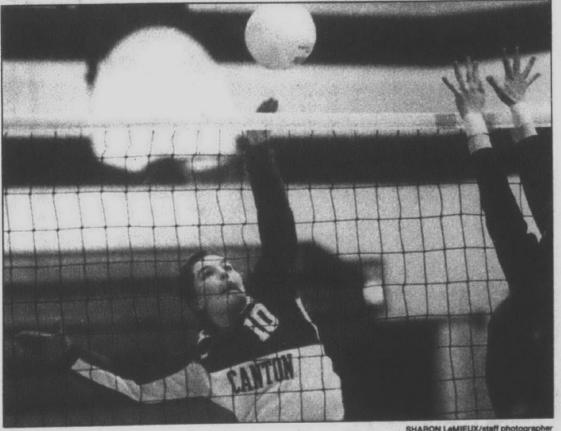

Bonnett was just one of five Observerland wrestlers to win a district championship and one of 24 who qualified for the regional tour-

JOINING BONNETT at the regional will be teammates Martin, a senior with a 37-6 record; junior Dan Phillips (14-13), who placed fourth at 130; and junior Phil Hayes (24-8-2), who placed fourth at 189.

WLAA champion Farmington and third-place league finisher Westland John Glenn will each send four wrestlers to the regional.

Canton gains momentum; Spartans dominate Rocks

Plymouth Canton picked up some momentum heading into the Western Lakes Activities Association volleyball playoffs by beating host Farmington Hills Harrison in five games

The Chiefs won the odd-number games 15-11, 15-12 and 15-13 while

Harrison won the evens 16-14, 15-13. Canton finished the regular season at 5-6 in the league, the Hawks 4-7. The league tournament will be played Saturday at Livonia Churchill with pool play beginning at 9 a.m.

"Our goal was to be playing our best volleyball at the end of the season, and I think that's what is happening for us," Canton coach Jacque line Getz said.

"IT WAS hard having the last league game when we're on winter break, but the girls played well. We

Harrison had some good hitters, especially junior Julie Heist, but the Chiefs got at least a partial block on numerous hits and played good defense in the back row

"Jenny Davis had some excellent digs, which gave us a spark early,"
Getz said. "(The Hawks) were not hitting as hard at the end of the match, and I give a lot of the credit to our blockers."

Michelle Metzger, Karrie Drin-khahn and Tina Schaefer also played well for Canton, Getz said.

Alpena rips Schoolcraft

Whatever propellant supplied by two regular season-ending wins proved woefully inadequate to Schoolcraft College's women's basketball team

The Lady Ocelots didn't know until late Saturday night if they would qualify for the state tournament. Their final regular-season game was last Wednesday (Feb. 19) — they de-feated Delta CC — so their fate was to be decided by others.

SC qualified, filling the sixth and final Eastern Conference berth with a 4-10 league record. That meant the Lady Ocelots would travel to Alpena CC Monday to play the Lady 'Jacks.'

One could argue they decided against making the trip. SC coach Jack Grenan probably wouldn't dis-pute it — not after witnessing Monday's humiliating 101-63 defeat.

"Everything that got us to the playoffs, they forgot," said Grenan of his team's play. "Mental toughness got us there, but they forgot it."

SC'S SHOOTING was horrendous: 26-of-75 from the floor (35 percent), 10-of-19 free throws (53 percent) and 1-of-10 three-pointers (10 percent). Alternately, Alpena converted 7-of-10 threes (70 percent) and had six players in double-figures, with two other's scoring eight.

Grenan was unable to provide a definite reason for his team's poor play. "They worked so hard getting into the playoffs, then they didn't find out they were in until late Saturday night . . . I just think they were emotionally spent by the time they got there.

Having only one day to prepare didn't help; neither did the six-hour drive to Alpena on game day.

Dana Hudson's 16 points was best for SC, now 14-15 overall. Sis Guth had 14 and Jen Audet 10. Donna Galli, the conference's leading scorer at 22 points a game, was held to nine.

Crusaders begin baseball season

staff writer

The snow hasn't stopped. The temperatures aren't yet halfway to ideal for baseball. But Madonna University is going to get started anyway, on its longest road trip of the season — to Cocoa Beach, Fla.

The Fighting Crusaders open their season Sun-day playing St. Michael's and Widener. They have 14 games in eight days scheduled on their trip south; when they return home March 10, they'll probably end up back indoors practicing for awhile before traveling to Ohio Northern for games March 21-22.

But it doesn't matter. The season is here, and Madonna coach Mike George couldn't be happier. He has good reason. All but two players from last season's 32-20 team are back, which means the Crusaders are in position to challenge for the NAIA District 23 championship

Considering this just their fourth year of existence, that's commendable.

GEORGE ISN'T ready to accept any backslaps for a job well done just yet, however. "We're much improved," he admitted, "but it won't be any cakewalk. There's five of us (in the district) who could win it. It's going to be a dogfight."

Last year, Madonna finished second with a 14-7 record, behind Spring Arbor (37-18 overall). Spring Arbor also won the four-team district tournament; Madonna finished third.

Catching the Cougars won't be easy; they've graduated just four seniors. Still, Madonna has some advantages.

As George remarked while examining his team's record from 1991: "Maybe we lost some of those games (in the district) because we didn't have the depth, the experience.'

The Crusaders have it now: seven seniors, including two returning all-district players and a pair of standout pitchers. "We expect a lot out of our seniors, we give them a lot of responsibility,"

THE TEAM'S strengths are on the mound and in the infield. Four infield starters return: seniors Sean Maloney at first base and Jeremy Krol (from Garden City) at shortstop, junior Joe Brusseau (Redford Bishop Borgess) at second base and sophomore Jeff Pendell (Livonia Churchill) at Brusseau is coming off an all-district season: He batted .363 with eight doubles, four triples, eight home runs and 33 runs batted in. Pendell had a strong season, too: .319, 11 doubles, two omers, 29 RBI

But Krol (.239, 19 RBI) and Maloney (.229, two homers, 23 RBI) are looking to rebound after lackluster years. George has delivered a message to the entire team: There's a lot of talent on the bench, and he won't hesitate to summon it.

Senior Kevin Learned (Plymouth Canton) filled in adequately for Krol at short when he was hurt last season, hitting .297. An excellent utility player, Learned and sophomore George Leung could both fill in at first base as well.

BEHIND THE plate, George will call upon junior Steve Coffell (Garden City/Borgess), who is returning from an injury after serving as a starter in '89 (.290, 11 RBI) and '90 (.250), and sophomore Chris Gajewski.

The big bat in the lineup belongs to 6-foot-3, 245-pound Ernie Bowling, the team's designated hitter. Bowling rolled over opponents, making the all-district team with a .370 average, 14 doubles, 16 homers and 54 RBI.

Six players are vying for spots in the outfield. Returning are sophomore Bill Terski in left field (.343, two homers, 22 RBI) and junior Rich Roy (Livonia Clarenceville) in right (.270, 18 RBI). Attempting to replace graduated all-district player Mike Wozniak in center are senior Kevin O'Conner (from Redford Thurston; .243, 23 RBI) and sophomore T.C. Raptis (.313).

Two others who are bound to get playing time are sophomore Rich Blomberg (.292, 18 RBI) and freshman Jeff Kugelman (Canton), a transfer from Ohio State who slugged five homers during

THE OFFENSE, George said, will be there. "I think this team is very confident in its offensive ability," he said. "If they're down three or four runs, they won't worry."

With the added power provided by Kugelman and more speed in freshmen back-up infielders Ryan Cull and Mike Murphy, the Crusaders could outscore last year's team - which averaged more than six runs a game.

But it's the pitching that will carry them to a district title. The 1991 staff compiled a 3.58 earned run average; returning senior righthanded starter Chris Kloc (Thurston; 6-5 won-loss record, 2.52 ERA, 64 strikeouts in 75 innings) was certain this season's would be better.

Kloc himself is one good reason to accept such a prediction. So is senior lefthander Mike Hocking (Borgess; 6-2, 2.84) and sophomore righthanders Louie McKaig (Southfield-Lathrup; 6-2, 3.37), Rob Kowalski (Plymouth Salem; 4-1, 6.52) and Mike Coleman (1-3, 4.00).

AND THERE'S more. "This is the area of the team we've improved the most," said George. His most promising additions are junior transfer Dennis Hamilton, a righthander who was on scholarship for football at Central Michigan before deciding to put his 88-mph fastball to work for Madonna. "He's probably going to pitch a lot of innings for us," said George.

The lefthanded Kugelman is also expected to contribute plenty on the mound. So is freshman righthander Chad Wrona

In the bullpen, Raptis (3-1, 2.91) and sophomore Sean Henkel (Livonia Stevenson; 1-1, 3.84), both righthanders, are the closers. George plans to use six starters; he has eight vying for those spots and 13 pitchers on his staff.

Which is good reason for optimism. "This is a good team," the Crusader coach said. "By far, it's the best team we've had at Madonna."

Now all the Crusaders need do is prove it on the

Blue Jays outshoot Rocks

By Dan O'Meara

Southfield foiled the Plymouth Salem game plan Wednesday, and the result was a 65-56 victory in a makeup basketball game for the host Blue Jays.

Southfield, exploiting its edge in quickness, did most of its scoring on layups and occasionally a transition basket to which its 53-percent shooting attests.

The Rocks wanted to force Southfield to take perimeter shots, but the Blue Jays were able to work the ball inside where the chances for success were much great-"That was just the opposite of what we worked on," Salem coach Bob Brodie said, adding Southfield had quick, penetration guards in Hasani Gardner and James Harris. "Therefore, they got a lot of easy layups.

"We worked on it and talked about it before the game and at halftime. It's one thing to talk about it and another to do it nd we just didn't execute."

Terry Lowe scored 15 points to lead Southfield, and Gardner and Harris had 14 apiece. Vince Ball added seven and

Brandon Slone came off the bench to core a game-high 22 points for Salem after Brodie began substituting in the first half to try to get his team going. James Head finished with 19 points and Mike

After scoring eight unanswered p midway in the first quarter to lead 10-3, the Blue Jays were ahead the rest of the game. Salem fell behind 16-8 at the end of one period and 33-25 at halftime

"We had to stop the penetration, and the guys on the floor flat-out were not getting it done," Brodie said. "The guys we rotated onto the floor actually did pretty well in the second quarter."

Brodie, also unhappy with the lack of movement on offense, went to his bench. Slone answered the call and single-handedly kept Salem in the game in the first half, scoring 15 of the team's 17 second-quarter points with four field goals and 7-of-7 free-throw shooting.

"He's a good, solid player to bring off the bench," Brodie said. "He's a smart player. He knew the type of defense they were playing and how to get the back-door cuts, not dribble and get the good

Salem got within six points late in the second quarter (29-23) and the third (42-36) as Head scored nine of his 13 secondhalf points in the latter period.

But Southfield shot 69 percent in the finale, hitting nine of 13 attempts, to maintain a safe lead. Harris had eight points in the fourth quarter. The Blue Jays made 28 of 53 shots overall, Salem 20 of 62 for 32 percent.

We felt we were much quicker and could get the foul or penetration to dish off for a basket," Southfield coach Harry andenBrink said. "When they ran that 3-2 trap, they played into our hands, because once we get the ball into the lane it's either a layup or 5-foot jumper."

Salem is 11-6 overall heading into the first round of the Western Lakes Activities Association playoffs Friday night at home against Westland John Gle Southfield, the Southeastern Michigan

'It was our West Side league against their league," Brodie said. "They're a good ballclub, but we didn't play to our tential. That's what bothers me. We didn't represent our league very well. We just have to put this one behind us."

Team depth again was a factor in helping Salem defeat Canton, according to Martin. The Rocks, who were 3.25 under their school-record team score, had the top four scores on vault, three of the top five on bars and floor exercise and the top two on balance beam.

Salem's Courtney Gonyea was first on vault (9.55) and beam (8.9), Alysia Sofios had the best score (9.3) on bars and Melissa Hopson tied with Canton's Kim Rennolds on floor, both with 9.25.

SOFIOS WAS the top-all-around competitor and compiled a 36.15 total, adding fourth on vault (9.4), sixth on beam (8.45) and tying with Gonyea for third on floor (9.2).

"They're capable of getting those scores, so I'm not really surprised," Martin said, adding Sarah Makins had her highest all-around total

"Gonyea (on vault) has been scoring that well. She has been pretty consistent. We tried a few new things on bars, and Alysia really had a nice routine. Autumn (Bunch) had a really nice floor.'

Canton had a number of personal bests, including a pair of nines by Jenny Tedesco on vault and floor. Dawn Clifford recorded her highest

"All in all, I was real pleased with the meet," Cunningham said. "Our floor is going to get stronger. We're practicing stuff that's going to show up when we get to state. We're improving, which is exactly what I hope to see, and have been through all the meets."

Cara Stillings of Canton achieved All-American status on beam, leading the Chiefs in that event with an 8.55 — the score she needed to reach the required average of 8.4 over five meets, including two invitationals.

CANTON HAS six All-Americans: Rennolds, Kim Lewke, Tedesco and Clifford as all-arounders, Laura Anderson on bars and Stillings on

"Kim Rennolds has been exceptional, and the other three all-arounders have been stepping up behind her," Cunningham said. "They really have been working as a team."

Canton's Julie Bak scored 7.85 on vault Monday and became the 10th Canton girl to qualify for the regional. The Chiefs now have 10 qualified on vault, nine on floor, six on bars

PLYMOUTH SALEM had hoped to end the regular season with a victory Monday over perennial power Livonia Stevenson, but the host Rocks were stunned by a decisive, three-game defeat instead.

In a match to determine the No. 3 in the WLAA tournament, the Spartans breezed to 15-3, 15-5, 15-7 victo-

"We played our absolute worst game," Salem co-coach Allie Suffety said. "Stevenson played very, very hard. (Coach) Lee Cagle had gotten them really fired up, but we didn't do anything to stop them.'

The Rocks finished 8-3 in league play and stand 29-9-7 overall. Stevenson ended at 9-2 in WLAA duals and is 31-13-6 overall.

WHEN THE match started we just took off," Cagle said. "We were really pumped up because we knew it was an important match. We know we may see them again (in the playoffs) so we wanted to make a statement. It was a tremendous team effort."

The top seed in the WLAA tournament is Walled Lake Central (11-0) followed by the host Chargers (10-1), Stevenson and Salem.

'We hope the other Plymouth Salem shows up," Suffety said. "This might have been a good game for Stevenson to start their fire. We hope we can rekindle ours.'

THE ROCKS played the second and third games Monday without setter Caryn Tatteron, who began the match but was too ill to continue. She had nine sets and one assist in the first game.

"That really hurt us, because she does so much for us," Suffety said. 'In turn, it jolted our team to where we were unorganized and looked confused on the floor."

Salem was forced to play Julianna DeLaRocque from a hitting position to setter, but the Rocks were never able to get in sync.

"That took away one of our better passers and hitters, and then our hitters were not really used to her setting," Suffety said. "That caused a timing problem.

Blaznek's goal forces tie, 3-3

By Neal Zipse staff writer

When Joe Blaznek was playing Pee Wee hockey, his goal with 14 seconds left-broke a scoreless tie and gave his team the state Pee Wee championship

"That was the biggest goal I've ever scored," the junior forward

Blaznek's second-biggest goal of his life occurred with just :03 left on the game clock Tuesday, giving Redford Catholic Central a come from-behind 3-3 tie with host Trenton at J.F. Kennedy Ice Arena.

With Shamrocks goalie Mike Brusseau pulled for an extra attacker, Trenton failed to clear the puck out of its own zone. Blaznek stopped the puck at the blue line and let go of what looked like a seemingly harmless wristshot.

The puck bounced and fluttered past several players before banging off the goal post and in the net behind stunned Trojan goalie Jim Blackledge. Pat Casey and Bill Baaki recorded assists on the goal.

"I just wanted to get the puck on net and hoped for a tip in or a rebound," Blaznek said.

Trenton, ranked No. 2 in Class A, fell to 10-1-3 in the Michigan Metro circuit. CC, rated No. 5 in Class A, improved to 8-4-1 in the Metro and 14-4-2 overall. The Shamrocks also avenged a 3-0 defeat to Trenton suffered last month.

"IT'S A GOOD come-from-behind effort," CC coach Jack Gumbleton said. "We skated harder this Redford Catholic Central skated past visiting Grosse Pointe North in a Michigan Metro Hockey League encounter Saturday at the Redford Ice Arena, 5-0.

The game was scoreless until the Shamrocks reeled off three goals during a 53-second span late in the second period.

Mike Kasper broke the ice at 11:45 of the second from Mike Giordano and Pat Casey. Thirtyfive seconds later, Marc Lorelli connected from Scott Johnson and Bill Baaki. And only 18 seconds after that, Johnson scored from Matt Gorski and Lorell.

The Shamrocks added two more goals in the final period - Mike Seiler (from Vic Stesiak) and Lorelli's second of the night at 13:58 (from Tom Denton and Gorski).

time than we did in the first game We had a slow pace in the first

'There's some revenge, but it also picks us up some going into the playoffs," Blaznek said. "We know we can give a good effort against anybody

Blaznek's goal capped a CC rally that began with the Shamrocks trailing 3-0. Junior defenseman Brian Ronayne got the Shamrocks going with an unassisted power play goal at 9:26 of the second period. Ronayne stole the puck from Chris Toth and whistled a 15-foot slap shot past Blackledge.

CC capitalized on a two-man advantage 5:34 into the third period when Baaki backhanded a loose puck through Blackledge. After Blackledge made an initial save, the rebound lay in front of the net before Baaki's backhand. Blaznek and Casey drew assists. Casey's two assists give him a league-leading 30 points.

Gumbleton was pleased with his team's performance and hopes it carries into the post-season state playoffs.

"WE CAN'T get overconfident and look ahead though — we still have two games left," Gumbleton said. "I think it will give the team more confidence now that they know they can come from behind.

"If we want to hustle and do the things we're supposed to do well, like checking, we can be in a game with anybody.'

Trenton opened the scoring at 3:49 of the opening period. After CC failed to clear the puck, Brusseau made a save on a shot from the blue line and then another save on the rebound. But Trenton made good on its third chance as Joey Chappelle poked the puck into the net. Brian Gilpatrick and Matt Greene assisted

The Trojans made it 2-0 at 11:35 on an unassisted shorthanded goal by senior forward Sean Slater. Trenton outshot CC 15-5 in the first period and held a 31-24 advantage for the game.

Trenton scored its second shorthanded goal of the game 3:40 into the second period as Damian Frederick took a Chappelle pass and found the left lower corner of the net nast Brusseau.

"Usually giving up two short-handed goals would deplete a team," Gumbleton said.

THE TROJANS could have led by more if not for Brusseau's excellent goaltending.

"I have to give credit to Brusseau," Gumbleton said. "He's been steady all year. He gave up the first goal, which was lucky, and then the shorthanded goal. He didn't have a chance on either

After a scoreless first period in the final, Reeves picked up one point for an escape early in the second. He took a 3-0 lead with a takedown moments later, then held on for the

"I WORKED MY butt off last summer and had a lot of people helping me," Reeves said. "I didn't want to make the same mistake (a loss) I made last year. He (Scappaticci) was a tough opponent. I went out to wrestle and just tried to hit anything that was open."

Rocket wrestlers joining Reeves at Salem include senior Tom Pace (29-5), who placed second at 103; senior Mike Mancini (28-6), who placed second at 112; and senior Shane Hall (28-8), who placed third at 145.

Farmington will be represented at the regional tournament by senior Matt Siskosky (30-8), who placed fourth in the heavyweight division; senior Jon Duff (26-5), who placed third at 125; senior Mike Pallo (30-5-1), who placed second at 160; and senior Ryan Adams (28-4), who placed fourth at 171.

Jason Peterson won the heavyweight championship and will lead a trio of Garden City wrestlers to Saturday's regional tourney. Peterson (24-2), the Northwest Suburban League champ, lived up to his top seed by winning his first three matches by pin.

Tedesco was second on vault (8.9) and beam (7.75) and third on floor (8.75). Clifford was sixth on bars

CC fares well in district

Redford Catholic Central will be well represented in Saturday's individual regional wrestling tournament at Plymouth Salem.

CC had seven qualifiers for the upcoming after posting three first places, a pair of seconds, one third and a fourth last weekend at the Ferndale district.

The top four wrestlers in each weight class moved into the regional. Coming away with firsts for the Shamrocks were Phil Bache (130 pounds), Jason Krueger (160) and Dan Kelly (171).

Krueger, 39-2 overall, and Kelly, 39-2-1, weren't surprising winners but Bache was.

'He's a junior and has only won one tournament (the Catholic League) and has done a complete 180-degree turnaround from the beginning of the season," CC coach Mike Rodriguez said. "He's one that believes, and it shows in his performance. Some of our people are coming around, maturing a bit. Kelly and Krueger have been consistent all year, but to have some juniors and seniors come along is rewarding.

Bill Lamb (103) and Mario Scicluna (112) also reached the finals before

Dan Rieple (152) won his consolation match to finish third, while teammate Mike Madden (135) earned a fourth.

He stuck Livonia Stevenson's John Hull in 29 seconds, flattened Northville's John Gatti in 1:04 and pinned Farmington's Siskosky in 3:52. In the championship match, the Cougar junior edged Howell's Art Cunnings (24-5-1), 1-0. Peterson scored the decisive point with an escape in the second period.

"He was a pretty strong kid," admitted Peterson after winning his first district crown ever. "I was just trying to keep him down. Now I hope to place in the top four at the regional and go on to state, but I know it's going to take six hard minutes of restling in every match."
GARDEN CITY wrestlers joining

Peterson at the regional competition will be junior Mike Dzendzel (17-9), who placed fourth at 112; and senior Chris Gorak (23-4), who placed second at 130.

North Farmington finished the district tournament with a pair of champions in Marcus Brown and Jared Lawrence.

Brown (32-3) was pleased with the championship after placing third at last year's district meet.

was concentrating more this year. I was thinking a lot more on my feet," Brown said.

The Raider senior pinned Harrison's Tom James in 1:34 in his opening match and tied up Salem's Chris Rapson in 1:28 in the second round. He earned an 11-3 decision over Brighton's Tom Williams in the semis and beat Livonia Franklin's Fred Vargas (28-7) in the finals 9-2 in a rematch of the WLAA league championship match. Brown won the league title with a 5-1 decision.

Before I went out there I was a little concerned, because I just wrestled him last week in the league finals," Brown said. "I thought he'd probably do something different and he did. He's real good on defense and today he waited for me a little in the semifinals. The junior grappler found himself facing a familiar opponent in the finals — Farmington's Pallo (30-5-1). Entering the finals, Lawrence and Pallo had squared off four times this season, with Lawrence winning three of the matches. The other match ended in a draw.

He stuck Glenn's Andy Boguszewski in 4:19 in the second round and earned a 4-2 decision over Mike Shanlikian of Livonia Churchill

Saturday's result was all too familiar as Lawrence prevailed with a 5-2 decision. Lawrence won the WLAA championship a week earlier with a 7-2 victory over Pallo.

'Actually, we're fairly good friends," Lawrence said. "It's tough wrestling him so many times. I don't like to know anything about my guy when I go out on the mat, but we know each other pretty well."
Seven other Observerland wrestlers also qualified for the upcoming regional. Churchill, Franklin and Canton will send a pair of wrestlers and Harrison one.

Churchill junior Damian Taucher (24-10) placed fourth at 119 pounds, and junior teammate Mike Shanlikian (20-14) placed fourth at 160.

Franklin senior Fred Vargas (28-7) finished second in the 140-pound bracket, and Patriot senior Aaron Shakarian (30-5-1) placed third at Canton junior Dan Phillips (13-14-0) placed fourth at 130 pounds and will represent the Chiefs at the regional tournament as will 171-pound senior George Young (31-3), who finished second. Junior Dave Gloetzner (23-10) placed third at 171 pounds and will be the lone Harrison representative.

Big band star

Spend an evening with Glooney at Mercy High

Rosemary Clooney performs in a benefit concert at Mercy High School, 29300 11 Mile Road, Farmington Hills, 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 10. Dinner to follow concert. For ticket information, call 476-8922 or 476-3270.

By M.B. Dillon

F YOU'RE a Rosemary Clooney fan, you'll be interested to hear what's happening 7 p.m., Tuesday, March 10, at Mercy High School in Farmington Hills.

The big band star will appear in a benefit concert accompanied by the award-winning Wayne State University Jazz Band under the direction of Matt Michaels

Also on the marquis will be the high school's singing and dancing Mercyaires directed by Larry

"AN EVENING with Rosemary Clooney and Friends" will include a post-concert dinner at Mercy Center where patrons will have a chance to meet Clooney.

Serving as honorary chair of the event will be Ford Motor Co. chairman Harold Poling.

Teevens, who is directing the Mercyaires for the 31st year, said concert-goers are in for a treat.

"To have Rosemary get rave reviews in the New York Times for singing in the Rainbow Room, and to read that her next concert is at Mer-High School is very exciting,' said Teevens, who as a young artist sang with Clooney's sister Betty.

ROSEMARY CLOONEY began singing with big bands in the '40s, and quickly joined the ranks of Doris Day, Jo Stafford, Kay Starr and Peg-

House," a whimsical tune that catapulted her to stardom.

The program will kick off with "The Basin Street Blues," a "King and I" ballet entitled the "Small House of Uncle Tom," and "All that Jazz" from the musical "Chicago."

The performers will team up to present a Johnny Mercer medley including the tunes "G.I. Jive," "Something's Got to Give," and "P.S. I Love You.

A new addition to the show is "Let There Be Love," an Earl Brown arrangement Teevens received just last week by Federal Express from Clooney's pianist/arranger/conductor John Oddo.

"ROSEMARY JUST recorded it for a new album in Los Angeles,' said Teevens. Clooney also will sing a few of the newer tunes she's recorded on the Concord Records jazz label, he added.

Oddo, formerly with Woody Herman, has toured with Clooney for the last 10 years

Directing the jazz band will be pianist/composer/arranger/band director Matt Michaels, who's performed with artists including Vic Damone, Stan Kenton, Peggy Lee, Count Basie, Al Hirt, Doc Severnson, Barbra Streisand, Sophie Tucker and

The Mercyaires, Mercy High School's 21-member show choir, will perform in concert with Rosemary Clooney and the Wayne State University Jazz Band Tuesday, March 10, at Mercy.

Composer of numerous arrange-ments for "Tonight Show" guests, Michaels also has written scores for numerous industrial films and commercials. He received the International Film and TV Festival of New York's Silver Award for "The American Island" score.

Wayne State's jazz band has appeared at four Swiss Montreaux International Jazz Festivals and 11 Detroit Montreaux Jazz Festivals

The group was named outstanding jazz band at the last two Montreaux Detroit Jazz Festivals.

This will mark the ninth time Clooney - a graduate of Our Lady of Mercy in Cincinnati, Ohio - has performed with the Mercyaires.

Mercyaire Catherine Worth predicts the audience will be thoroughly entertained.

"PEOPLE BASICALLY should look for a lot of glitz and talent. We have a lot of good singers in the group this year, and we are really on the ball," said Worth.

"Rosemary can do anything - the way she phrases things; the way her tone comes out; everything about her is phenomenal," she said.

Tickets for the concert only are $25. Proceeds go to fund Mercy scholarships. Sponsored tickets for the concert and dinner also are available for $1,000, $500, $350 and

The "traveling" dinner will feature a mouth-watering menu served from "islands" patrons can visit at their leisure in Mercy Center's ban-

Reservations are requested by March 2. The school is at 29300 11 Mile Road at Middlebelt. For details, call 476-8922 or 476-3270.

Livonia Symphony Chamber Orchestra presents an evening of music and dance, 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 28, at the Livonia Civic Center Auditorium. Call 458-6575 for ticket information.

By Linda Ann Chomin

From the French piano classic "Claire de Lune" by Debussy to the haunting dark undertones of Stravin-sky's "Suite No. 2," the Livonia Symphony Chamber Orchestra presents an evening of chamber music and dance featuring the Farmington Hills based, Michigan Ballet Theatre 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 28 at the Livonia Civic Center Library Auditorium, Farmington Road at Five Mile.

Guest soloists are the Livonia Symphony Orchestra's principal flutist, Robynn Rhodes, and pianist, Francesco DiBlasi.

DANCE SELECTIONS programmed by DiBlasi and Michigan Ballet's artistic director, Michelle Wolfe include classical and avant garde. Costuming features traditional, and modern garb with black and white costumes, and makeup accenting Stravinsky's stirring dark carni-

Celebrating its 25th anniversary, the dance company consisting of 40 members, will incorporate 15 of its dancers into this performance of classical and contemporary works.

WOLFE, WHO joined the company as director last season, directed the Northern Ballet Theatre of Plymouth for 15 years.

'Frank and I have worked together many times," said Wolfe. "Frank is used to working with dancers hav-ing been with the Ballet Russe. What an opportunity to work with an or-

'Cruisin' Detroit . Way" through March 1 at the Attic Theatre, Third Avenue at West Grand Boulevard in the New Center Theatre District Detroit. For ticket information, call 875-8284.

By Keely Wygonik staff writer

While General Motors workers at Willow Run Assembly plant in Ypsilanti Township, Flint V8 engine plant, and two Detroit plants ponder their future, playwrights like Stephen Mack Jones of Southfield will be thinking about it too.

"ART IS a very necessary thing, especially in hard times," said Jones whose works are featured in "Cruisin' Detroit . . . the Hard Way" at the Attic Theatre in Detroit through mind as people try to gain understanding of why certain things are happening to gain their balance. Art is not always about pretty pictures or words. It's trying to gain understanding of your humanity. Artists tell the world 'look at what is happening."

Directed and co-produced by Annette Madias of Farmington Hills, 'Cruisin' Detroit' is a montage of the best skits, monologues and brief oneact plays from three recent shows by the Detroit Playwrights Initiative.

Among the cast of local talent is Donna Lewis of Farmington.

"I write about what's at stake in a person's heart and mind," said

Although he doesn't start out with a political agenda, some of his skits are about local elected officials.

In "Ladies and Gentleman - The Mayor," Jones pokes fun at Detroit known to utter a few swear words now and then. An interpreter translates the mayor's colorful remarks for the audience so they know what 'he really meant when he said . . .

JONES SAID the skit was meant to be "fun" and adds "I don't know why it hasn't been done before." Another skit, "Uncle John Wants to the arts by doing impersonations. The skit is funny, but also serious.

"I don't think Gov. Engler understands the importance of the arts," said Jones. "John, has through budget cuts, threatened people's access to the arts. The arts are essential to the human spirit. They give people a sense of hope, history. Man does not live on bread alone. Arts are part of the human spirit."

STRENGTH AND the resilient human spirit are themes Jones explores in "Sometimes, To Forget," a monologue about a Jewish Holocaust

"I have a variety of interests and ideas. In trying to gather empathy for other people I try not to put a color bar on my imagination," said

"I'm African-American, but I'm not sure ethnocentrism has served anyone. I'm trying to gain an understanding of different cultures. Hope-

While others might not think of Detroit as a Mecca for the arts, Jones who works in corporate communications at Compuware Corp. in Farmington Hills, said there are a lot of talented people who want to work here.

"Artists who live in the metro Detroit area are blessed and cursed," he said. "Cursed, because there isn't a cohesive arts community. Every artists feels alone. But this is a blessing because since they are alone they're more focused at honing their Jones who won national attention with his "Back in the World," an Attic production that was selected by the American Theater Critics Association as one of the best four plays produced outside of New York during the 1986-87 season, said he is 'hawking a screen play" he just fin-

Cobb' fuses history, drama

Brook Theatre production of "Cobb" continue through March 8 on the Oakland University campus in Rochester Hills. For ticket information, call the box office at

Performances of the Meadow

Critics call Ty Cobb one of the alltime best players in the game and the most hated man in baseball. Despite his lifetime .367 batting average and his unquestioned talent, Cobb, the man, was mean-spirited, bigoted and egocentric.

He didn't much like people and they returned the favor. Cobb quips "Baseball's a team game. That's its only flaw," in Meadow Brook The-atre's fine production about Cobb's public triumphs and private failures.

Playwright Lee Blessing combines a history of Cobb's role in the game, a psychological study of his private life, and an expose of the fistfights, racist comments, and cleating incidents that plagued his years in the major leagues.

THE FUSION of history, psychology, and expose creates an intriguing and intelligent dramatic presentation, but not a play destined for the Dramatic Hall of Fame. Blessing's challenge in writing about the longtime Detroit Tiger was to create controversy and conflict when the sports world almost unanimously condemned Cobb long ago for serious character flaws. So Blessing ingeniously gives us three Cobbs who squabble among them-

SUNDAY

BRUNCH

11 a.m.-2:30 p.m.

20-year-old player, Ty at 40 and one of baseball's first millionaires, and Mr. Cobb dying of cancer in his 70s.

The three Tys shout at each other and argue about what facts to include in the myth about the first ballplayer ever elected to the Hall of Fame. They argue whether Ty's mother shot his much-older father accidentally or out of darker motives. They spar about the fights that speckled Cobb's career and about Cobb's jealousy of Babe Ruth, a man Ty calls "a stupid meatface".

ERIC HISSOM as The Peach, Michael James Laird as Ty, and Stephen Daley as Mr. Cobb ably depict a man who changed little through the years. People are supposed to grow wiser and kinder as they grow older, says Mr. Cobb. "I didn't," he comments with the succinct honesty characteristic of the man.

Director John Ulmer keeps the pacing lively on the set of a blue and white ball diamond stripped to its geometric bones by scene designer Peter Hicks.

The action revolves around recreations of game highlights, demonstrations of Cobb's famous sliding grip, and scenes when Cobb taunts pitchers and steals bases. Recreating makes for lively entertainment, but noise and action can't camouflage the lack of ideological conflict.

So Blessing beefs up the drama by adding Oscar Charleston, the player known as the black Cobb. Charleston claims he played better than Ty, but the two never played each other, and statistics on black players in the early days of baseball were sketchy, so there's no way to settle the question of which was the better ballplayer.

Daryl Edwards, wonderfully ironic as Charleston, goads Cobb and makes him doubt himself. Cobb excuses his own racial prejudice by saying he only voices what the nation believed back in 1912 when "You knew where people stood."

America's favorite game, serves as microcosm of the nation and a mirror of its values. Charleston not only goads Cobb, he also goads Americans to confront the values we held in the early years of the century when baseball grew from a children's game into a big business.

Fans granted Ty Cobb fame and fortune, but they withheld their love. Cobb may have been a star, but Meadow Brook Theatre's Cobb confirms that he was no hero.

A pointed finger won't rebuild American industry

a couple of auto writers the other evening (hey, nobody said I moved in high social circles), the conversation drifted inevitably to the subject of GM's plant closing - inevitable since one of the group owned a house down the road from the Willow Run plant that will be shuttered at the cost of some 4,000 jobs.

Anyway, this guy blurted out the shocking notion that he understood that a union steward makes $100,000 a year at GM for "doing nothing," which was something he had read in the Wall Street Journal.

THIS BEING about two-and-a-half times the average auto worker's pay, I questioned the figure, which, as it

The search for simplistic "reasons" that has been escalating implies that once a reason is found, the answer can be found as well and all will go on as before.

THE PROBLEM with this kind of inquiry is that pretty much all the 'reasons" for the contraction at GM are absolutely right on. Take your pick: Fortress Japan; the U.S. gov-ernment debt; an obstinate UAW; a weak UAW; bad management; bad cars; bad dealers; high costs of doing business; high taxes; poor social services; a bad recession; a bad trade policy; a shift away from heavy industry; etc.

One astute observation was that there were probably a hundred things that went into the decision to close Willow Run. Add to that maybe a hundred things hindering a manufacturing-based, value-added economy in the United States today.

THE MAJORITY of the handwringing going on today over the contractions at GM seems to aim squarely at the other guy - fix his

The closing of Willow

Workers face job retraining

By Doug Funke staff writer

When General Motors closes its Willow Run Assembly Plant sometime next year, many of its 4,000 workers - skilled tradespeople, managers and unskilled laborers will scramble for jobs.

Some will be more successful than "The hourly worker who is not able to retrain because of severe age discrimination, a society loaded up with credentialism and degrees, that hourly worker can expect to lose one-third of his annual income for the rest of his working life," said Michael Whitty, an associate professor of management at the University of Detroit-Mercy.

"Skilled tradespeople, if they're determined, can move into job shops. That has been tough. Suppliers have been hard hit.

"White-collar people are getting whacked hard. Downsizing is going to accelerate. They were caught in a substantial oversupply of college graduates and persons in middle age trying to hold on to income," said Whitty, a Birmingham resident.

Robert W. Ellis, provost at Law-rence Technological University in Southfield, has a less harsh analysis.

"I SUSPECT that skilled people and to some extent managers are going to find alternative employment," Ellis said. "It will take a while. They may have to settle for jobs less well paid, but still well paid. I don't think they have to settle for minimum wage jobs in any way, shape or form."

Ellis, formerly dean of engineering at LTU, is a past president of the Michigan Society of Professional En-

'There's no question the auto industry plays a central role in our economy, but much less than even 10 years ago," he said. "Michigan is still the manufacturing center of the country and probably will continue to be that. We're not seeing a destruction of the manufacturing base, but it's becoming more efficient.

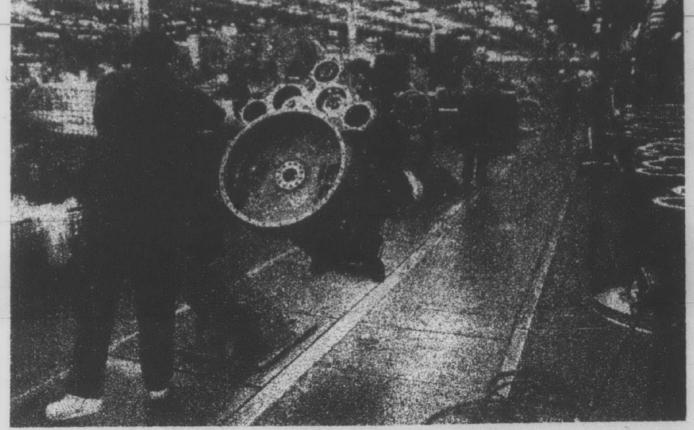

There's room for more diversification, Ellis said, especially where science, engineering and technology are

"If we don't retain technical capability in this area, it's for sure those products will be developed somewhere else, manufactured some-where else," he said.

The key is training and retraining, if necessary, Ellis said.

"THERE ARE lots of jobs out there people with some training can do in health care and other areas,' he said. "Health care isn't the answer. It's one area, but there are jobs and a little training will get you in the door.

"The ones all of us are concerned about are unskilled. Those folks need to evaluate what they like to do and see if they can get the training to do it. Community colleges are good sources," Ellis said.

And the chances of unskilled workers making anything near what they did in the auto industry even with retraining are remote, he added.

John Bourbeau, president of Right Associates, a career-planning firm in Southfield, said the employment trend is away from large corpora-

"A majority of people in this country work for smaller companies," he said. "A majority of those are in service industries, not manufacturing.

"When we place people, we're always asked, 'Where are they going?' To smaller companies. Those who have experience with major corporations, they use the assets they already have. They need some retraining, but not the core competences they already have.

"I THINK they (auto workers) will need retraining," Bourbeau said.
"There is a lot of help through several sources in the federal government and state government. There's a lot of funds available to help people get retrained if need be. Hourly workers have the GM compact.

"Many may not want to retrain, but it's the only choice I believe they have," he said. "I'll go back to the basic formula - education. We need to put out a higher caliber student.

"The expectation of people coming out of high school today, walk across the street and get a job in the auto plant and cradle-to-grave employment is no longer there," Bour-

Job opportunities are out there, said Gae Miller, executive director of the Michigan Technology Council headquartered in Ann Arbor.

"It's incredible to me our numbers in technology-based members for the most part are growing," she said. There are technical jobs in biomedical, factory automation, electronic components, robotics, telecommunications, medical.

As the factories empty, education is being touted as the key to employment. Gone are the days when workers could follow their parents and grandparents into the auto plants for lifetime employment.

A Long Walk

Directory's heavy weight spawns challengers

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

Need something? You know the "Let your fingers do the

Time was, if people needed something they would check out the phone book index and flip through in alphabetical order until they found it.

But have you seen the phone book lately? It's inches thick.

That's a darn long walk. Maybe the phone book just isn't good enough anymore - at least that's what some entrepreneurs are betting on.

Within recent years, referral services, comprehensive directories and resource guides targeted at specific audiences have cropped up. Their question — why go searching through books and phone directories when everything you need is in one?

ZINA KRAMER, president of Events Marketing in Birmingham, said the prime advantage to these services is organization.

"Everything you need is in one package," she said.

Events Marketing publishes the Events Resources Guide, now in its second edition. "It's basically a compilation of all the sites and all the resources one needs to put on an event," Kramer said.

The Event Resource Guide is available at bookstores in Oakland County and can be bought directly from Events Marketing.

In it, an event planner can find a directory of sites available for rent-al including sizes and services offered, a list of of suppliers and service providers arranged by category with information on the company, and even helpful planning tips.

Kramer said the Events Resource

Guide is more than a list of numbers. "It took me almost three years to put this together."

In the event management business, Kramer said she discovered the average phone directory — which is great as a general reference — isn't suitable for very specific needs.

"(With the Event Resource Guide), instead of going to 27 different sources, you go to one."

Since the directory is organized for specific purposes, it can help people with special needs by pointing out things the planner may not have considered. "If you open the yellow pages, you have too look through a lot of different areas to find what you need."

mingham-based Home Referral Source, said special directories and referral sources can save the harried consumer a lot of time.

Speed and better organization are the prime reasons people use these services, he said.

"If someone is looking for someone to do a job, it could take several phone calls to find even one person to interview for the job," he said. Re-ferral services and targeted directories make finding the right person for the job easier.

There is also - if not a guarantee - at least a promise of dependability and competence, he said.

The Home Referral Source is a specialized phone service that puts the homeowner with a need in touch with the appropriate tradesperson.

For example, a home owner seeking to add an addition to his home ould call the Home Referral Source number, explain what job needs to be done, and then would get several possible candidates.

All of the candidates, Scott said, have been checked out for service, timeliness and the ability to complete the job in an allotted time. If he receives valid complaints from customers, he drops that tradesperson from the referral list.

The referral company also checks up on the tradesperson and homeowner during the job.

Scott said connecting the service with the buyer of the service is the trickiest part facing the specialized directory or referral provider. He said he intends to launch a direct mail campaign in the near future to get the word out on The Home Re-

ANITA KREMER, publisher of Senior Living Alternatives, said specialized directories like hers can serve a valuable purpose.

They are not, as one might guess, a lazy man's alternative to doing a little research. Instead, specialized directories are part of a trend of consumers coming smarter. "It's not lazy, it's using time more efficiently "Years ago," she said, "there weren't as many choices as there are Specialized information sources like hers are a natural evolution in the consumer's search for information so they can make better, informed decisions. Senior Living alternatives is a guidebook for housing alternatives ranging from independent living through assisted living through nursing home care. The guidebook also offers information on other things critical to seniors in need of housing - Medicare and Medicaid. Kremer said she saw a need for a compilation of these things when she was doing some marketing for some individual nursing home facilities. 'My background is in marketing apartment communities and renovation work," Kremer said. While she was involved in marketing renovation work for a nursing home group, she became curious about how nursing homes market themselves.

"I wanted to find out how they market themselves - I found they don't (have a marketing plan).'

To her surprise, she said she found people were making a very important decision - what to do with a parent who could no longer live alone - under duress and without adequate information.

"I thought if people had this infor-mation, it might make their planning

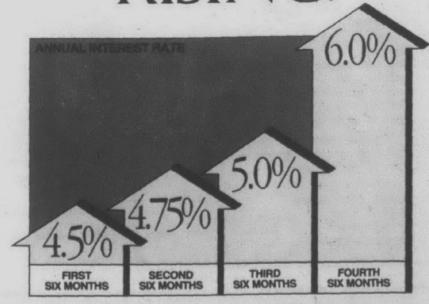

After more than nine months of gathering information, Kremer published the first edition of Senior Living Alternatives, which is now available at doctors' offices, hospitals, senior citizen organizations, and places frequented by senior citizens.

For people to obtain copies from hospitals, they must contact the social welfare offices of the hospitals.

Since the first publication in January, she said she has been inundated with calls from facilities that wish to be included in future publications.

Banker wins young career woman honor

BILL BRESLER/staff photographe

Christy Mayfield, assistant branch manager for the Old Kent Bank of Brighton's Plymouth branch, was named 1992 Young Career Woman by the Canton and Plymouth Business and Professional Women's organizations.

Work, school, community keep her busy

staff writer

Christy Mayfield's calendar isn't exactly empty. Her position as assistant branch manager for the Old Kent Bank of Brighton's Plymouth branch, studies in marketing and management at Wayne State University, and extensive community involvement add up to a busy yet rewarding life.

"Sometimes, it gets to be a little overwhelming," Mayfield said of combining work, school and other re-sponsibilities. "I just try to concentrate on the positive aspects. I enjoy it because I love to learn."

Mayfield, a 26-year-old Detroit resident, was recently honored for her professional achievements and community involvement. She was named 1992's Young Careerist by the Canton and Plymouth Business and Professional Women's organizations, and will represent the Plymouth-Canton community at districtlevel competition April 10.

"I was very proud. I was honored, to be honest. It made me feel wonderful." Being recognized as the local Young Careerist gave her self-

She processes loan applications and closes on loans, although she doesn't make decisions on approval. Mayfield, who earned an associate's degree in marketing and management from Wayne County Community College, has found banking to be a rewarding career.

"It has been a good field because I've learned a lot."

SHE'S LEARNED a great deal about investments and lending, and finds that information helps her in serving customers. Mayfield herself benefits from that knowledge as

She hopes to complete work on her bachelor's degree in marketing and management at Wayne State by 1994. Mayfield plans to go on for her master's degree in business administration, and most likely will attend graduate school at Wayne State.

She has other business experience as well. Mayfield is co-founder and co-owner of Trammell & Co., a retail business specializing in women's ap-

'Working' nets top prize for CEP theater students

staff writer

"Prima donna" is hardly an apt description for theater students at Centennial Educational Park.

The students from Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem High certainly take justifiable pride in their achievements, but that doesn't mean they're insufferable. The ninth through 12th graders know just how important

CEP students recently took top honors at state competition of the Michigan Interscholastic Forensics Association. The competition took place Feb. 14-15 at Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant, and CEP students were named Class A winners and overall state champions. "We're just as pleased as can said Gloria Logan, theater arts director at Centennial Educational Park in Canton. "It's incredible. We were just delirious.'

STUDENTS PERFORMED "Working," a musical drama based on the Studs Terkel book of that name. They presented that play, which tells the stories of working people from various fields, in November for local theater-goers.

The group includes some 50 students, with 16 appearing on stage in various roles. The others handle such essential duties as lighting,

The Plymouth Park Players have also been chosen to represent high school theater at the Youth Arts Festival in May in Kalamazoo. They'd progressed through district and regional competition of the Michigan Interscholastic cs Association prior to taking top honors at state competition earlier this month.

"We were really excited. We have a trophy about as tall as I am," Logan said. That trophy travels to the winning school from year to year. The CEP students also have a trophy measuring about 30 inches that they'll be able to keep at the school.

Logan's students have competed five times and always made it to the state level. Each year, they were among the top three schools in state competition, although this is the first time they've taken first place overall. STUDENTS FROM CEP received several superior and excellent ratings for acting and technical areas from the judges in Mount Pleasant. The entire ensemble received a superior award.

Judges are educators and other sionals well-versed in theater. High school students compete in three class/divisions based on school population.

Logan was impressed with how well her students worked together. "I think the most important thing for them is the sense of enan ensemble group." That spirit of cooperation was reflected in their performance

"They all agreed to get the project done. They were willing to make sacrifices.

The first-place finish is particularly impressive given the considerable talents of the other student theater groups from throughout the state, she said. Logan doesn't know if any of her current students will go on to appear on Broadway or in Academy Award-winning

"They don't know what they're going to do. They shouldn't know right now. I'm still thinking about what I want to do," said Logan, 43, who has been on the school faculty for 22 years.

She told her students that although winning is nice, the point totals at the state competition weren't what mattered the most. Learning to work together to achieve a goal is what counts.

"Whether you go on in theater or not, that's always going to be an asset. These kids have gone a long way on that."

Logan worked with Don Daniels, vocal music teacher at CEP, and Cletus Karamon, auditorium manager at Salem, on the award-winning production. Daniels was the vocal director for "Working" and Karamon, a former CEP drama student, was the technical direcreceive, I do not remember your previous letter. My guess, however, that I did not analyze it because I felt strongly that you were taught penmanship in a country other than the United States. For the highest level of accuracy, it is important to have a knowledge of the copy book style from which the writer was taught. Since you seem to have a keen interest in graphology, I am going to analyze your handwriting, relying mostly on your use of space.

Today we are studying the handwriting of an intelligent, discriminating and creative woman Her thinking covers all the bases. Often, she comprehends very quickly, no need for detailed explanations. Other times, she likes to explore and analyze new information. Cultural interests are also evident.

Her approach to life and living is usually direct. Time is utilized in efficient ways and she is able to distinguish between the essential and the superfluous. She is action minded. I do not see her spending time or energy on people or activities which are not meaningful to her.

The strong persistence in this let-ter probably furnished the impetus for writing a second letter. When for writing a second letter. When tuated by her determination, I see a woman who goes after what she

There are visible signs of pride, high aspirations and ambition woven through her handwriting. All of them are positive traits which can contribute to success.

Although our writer is endowed with a high level of intelligence, she may experience difficulty in her people relationships. Seemingly, she has a need to dominate and be "boss" in her own bailiwick. This has her unreceptive to anyone telling her how to run her home or her workplace. And it can also lead to frustration.

When it serves her purpose, she may not communicate in a straightforward manner. She can remain uncommitted, taking refuge in ambigu-

Some irritation and hidden temper here probably surface when she is not allowed the opportunity to sail her ship in her own way. After an unpleasant encounter, she tends to become somewhat cautious and may brood about it when she is alone with her thoughts. Inner strength for coping with stress may be somewhat limited.

The different styles of handwriting she mentioned can have different meanings. Versatility and changeable moods are two of the most common meanings. Without seeing samples of her various styles, I cannot say more.

Please use a full sheet of white, unlined paper, writing in the first person singular. Age, handedness and full signature are helpful: And objective feedback is always welcome.

Church program aims to dispel fear of AIDS

AIDS isn't a reality that only homosexual men and drug abusers face. It's something all people must acknowledge.

"This is going to be an increas-ing problem in the future," said the Rev. James Wysocki, pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church in Plymouth. "Some day soon, this disease is going to touch just about every family. No one's isolated from it.

To help increase awareness of AIDS and dispel fears and prejudices, church leaders will offer a family night presentation on AIDS 7:30-9:30 p.m. Thursday, March 26, at Our Lady of Good Counsel, 1160 Penniman in Plymouth.

"We're really concerned about reaching out to people who have this disease," said Wysocki, who will introduce the other two speakers at the presentation.

MEDICAL INFORMATION on AIDS and HIV, the virus that causes the disease, will be presented by Dr. James Fordyce, M.D., a parishioner at Our Lady of Good Counsel. He will explain the ways

The Rev. Richard Bartoszek of St. Jude Parish in Detroit, who works with AIDS patients, will discuss attitudes toward victims and the tremendous need to minister to them. A friend of Bartoszek's had AIDS, Wysocki said, and through that experience he became more aware of just how widespread the problem is and how difficult dealing with AIDS is for patients, families and friends.

Many people remain ignorant of the realities of AIDS, Wysocki said. There can be fear of associating with an AIDS patient, moral blaming, "and basically just misinformation as to how this disease is contracted and how you should relate to those who've contracted it." AIDS patients need spiritual and pastoral care, as well as medical and social services. Wysocki doesn't agree with those who de-scribe AIDS as God's will or a punishment for inappropriate behav-

"I definitely think that that's an un-Christian attitude." Some AIDS cases aren't directly caused by behavior, Wysocki said, and all patients deserve compassion.

Prejudice directed at AIDS patients "is, I think, just as unjust as any other kind of prejudice we might have toward races, religions." There's a tendency to jump to conclusions and group all AIDS patients together, he said.

"WE DON'T reject people simply because we don't like their lifestyle." Christians may not approve of homosexuality, he said, but that doesn't mean they should reject homosexuals as human beings.

The reality of AIDS has been highlighted by prominent people who've tested positive for HIV or AIDS. Wysocki believes more needs to be done locally to increase awareness and understand-

Young people in particular need to realize that certain behavior exposes them to dangers, he said.

"Kids being kids, they feel they are young and strong and invincible" Often, students know how AIDS is contracted, but don't make the connection in terms of their own behavior, he said.

Basketball superstar Magic Johnson has modified his public statements somewhat, Wysocki said. Johnson, often considered a role model for young people, has begun to encourage abstinence rather than merely advocating condom use.

"We know that that's not 100 ercent safe sex." It's a difficult task for anyone to be a spokesman when it comes to AIDS, Wysocki

Media images tend to glorify sexual prowess, he said, and it's refreshing to see movies that reflect human love in other ways. Teaching proper mores remains important

'It's as true today as it always

PARENTS ARE being encouraged to bring older children to the Thursday, March 26, presentation. Our Lady of Good Counsel will also have a Lenten series of programs on peace and justice issues Wednesday evenings, other than Ash Wednesday (March 4), when there will be a Mass.

The 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 25, program will feature Bishop Thomas Gumbleton who will discuss "Ministry in an Age of AIDS." Other bishops from the Archdiocese of Detroit will speak on various peace and justice issues Wednesdays during Lent, begin-ning March 11. The series will conclude 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 8, with Archbishop Adam Maida speaking on "If You Want Peace, Work for Justice.

Wysocki knows it's still not all that common for churches to have programs on AIDS. "Certainly, a few years back it would have been unusual. Sometimes, the church is paired and often seen isolated from large groups as they look for poten-tial nesting sites. Lengthening peri-ods of sunlight stimulates the production of hormones which cause the birds to initiate courtship behavior.

As I watched two pine siskins the other day they displayed a common courtship activity of songbirds, mate-feeding. Males will take a food item and place it in the bill of the female. Females often quiver their wings and beg like young fledglings do to their parents. Those with bird feeders will be able to observe this behavior frequently.

There will be times when you may see a cardinal or other bird wiping its bill on a branch near your feeder. Just as humans use a napkin to wipe their face at a meal, birds may need to wipe something from their bill too. However, there may be bill wip-ing when there in no food on the bill, or there may be excessive bill wip-

The Crooked Tree Art Council will host the showing at the Virginia McCune Gallery.

The exhibition shows the work of Farmington Hills artist Edee Joppich's VAAL students.

"When I was teaching a watercolor workshop for the Crooked Tree Art Council last fall, I brought photographs of the amaryllis work to illustrate the possibilities for being creative with the same subject," Joppich said.

One of the workshop participants was Mary Fink, the gallery's exhibits director. "She expressed an interest in the exhibition as a potential show for her gallery," Joppich said.

"When the article about the exhibition appearing in Farmington came out in the Observer, I sent it to her. And she called and asked if they could host the show next February. She thought that would be a wonderful time for such a colorful exhibit. And I thought so too.'

Added Joppich: "It tickles me no end that these artists, many having their first professional showing in Farmington, now have the opportunity to show their work up north.'

Next June, Joppich, a 10-year VAAL faculty member, will teach a four-day collage workshop for the Crooked Tree Art Council. At the same time, Virginia McCune Gallery will host a 10-day retrospective of her collage work and sponsor a talk by her on

Poetry emerges

Acrylics challenge you to 'search for self'

By Linda Ann Chomin special writer

O OBTAIN meaning from the nonrepresentational acrylic paintings by Westland resident Dennis Jones, viewers need to stand before the artwork and see themselves.

The untitled series of 14 works by Jones is on exhibit through Saturday, March 14, at Swidler Gallery, 308 W. Fourth, Royal Oak.

"There's a poetry that emerges. The paintings are somewhat confrontational," Jones said. "As the person views the painting, the intent is to bring out what they may have in them. The poem is a search for self."

The five 4- by 4-foot paintings by Jones were layered with a combination of paint, shellac and materials on one-inch pressed fiber wood backed by plywood. Nine 18- by 18-inch works were painted on mylar and tacked to the gallery's

"Basically the material is acrylic and shellac. As I'm building up my color, I may add iron, steel, zinc, copper and earth," Jones said. "The larger ones are more aggressive. Yet they are related to the smaller ones."

ALTHOUGH HIGHLY textural, Jones' paintings lack almost entirely any traditional form, shapes or line. Colors are either subtle or

"The surface is quite rough but flat," Jones said. "Colors are very much earth tones, deep brown, rust, red, deep green and cream. There is an intensity of the color combined with a subtlety of color. I'm not so sure that they've come from earth in a way.'

Essential to viewing Jones' work is the knowledge of techniques used to manipulate the medium. To make the medium work for him and achieve effects unattainable by other means, action painters are continuing to discover possibilities unheard of 50 years ago. "The process of creation is very important to responding to the paintings. The paintings are process oriented," Jones said. "It's very intuitive. Sometimes I brush the paint on, sometimes it's applied with my hand. At one time or another. I've used a power sander, torch and wide spackler to work the medium. Sometimes the paint is poured on. The painting is on the ground sometimes.

FOR JONES, "the process is very intuitive.

They're not just rooms with a view, they're rooms that are the view.

A massive installation at the Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum, 500 Lone Pine in Bloomfield Hills, has turned three galleries into giant, colorful works of art that celebrate the institution in which they are housed. The installation by Winifred Lutz, "Floor to Ceiling/Surface to Edge/ Vista," will run through April 5.

The ambitious project involved academy volunteers, staffers and graduate students along with the artist. For three weeks, their work included such tasks as staining the walls by hand with sponges, and tying long strings of twine to black

Each part of the installation communicates with the room in a special way. Using sponges to stain the wall lets its natural color comes through in places, for example. You become more and more aware of the height and width of each gallery, as well as of its very placement in Cranbrook grounds, the more and more you walk around each installation.

edges of this floor, the viewer becomes acquainted with the size of the room. Gravel is arranged along the perimeter of the room.

TO THE right of the center gallery is the south gallery, which is stained green, alluding to vegetation (and southern or warmer climes). Like the north gallery, a narrow brown strip runs along the top and bottom of the room, as though the entire space were in a frame.

This gallery features straw instead of gravel, and dark Mexican beach pebbles, tied with twine, hanging from the ceiling almost to the floor. Looking through the twine reminds one of looking into a forest.

Handmade paper is spread on part of the floor under the stones, not covering it but rather shading it. Again, you appreciate the floor and ceiling the more you move to study the work.

THIS YEAR is the 50th anniversary of the museum. The galleries were designed by famed architect Eliel Saarinen.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

January sales give area agents reason to smile

By Doug Funke

Housing sales in metro Detroit showed dramatic gains last month compared to January of 1991, buoying real estate professionals as they gear up for the prime selling months of March, April and May.

The 26 Real Estate One offices

The 26 Real Estate One offices here set a dollar-volume record for January. A few more than 660 houses and condominiums sold last month for an aggregate $80.9 million, said Michael Bartlett, senior vice president of sales management for the firm headquartered in Farmington Hills.

The former January record was $69.6 million on 612 sales in 1990. Sales activity last month substantially surpassed activity in January tially surpassed activity in January 1991 when the U.S. launched air attacks in the Persian Gulf. Real Estate One sold 473 units for $55.6 million then. Increases in sales activity last month were especially pronounced in Wayne County, Bartlett said. Some 271 units were sold for $21.2 million compared to 136 units for $9.3 million in January 1991.

"I think the most important thing is the public never gets hurt by buying and selling in the same market," Bartlett said "We're kind of at a window now where interest rates are down and demand is not so great that prices rise too quickly.

"WE'VE BEEN increasing our market share," he said. "Obviously, some of the increase is in sales prices. It appears that upper end property is moving better than last year."

Real Estate One also set a monthly record last October and is on pace to set a record for February with sales up 64 percent for the first three weeks, Bartlett said.

Century 21, the largest real estate network in metro Detroit with 102 offices, also reported double-digit percentage increases both in units sold and dollar volume.

Some 1,991 units were sold for $137.8 million last month compared to 1,770 units for $111.7 million in January 1991. Figures last month also showed a steady increase over December numbers of 1,816 sales at $125.9 million.

"There's still a lot of activity," said Bill McCullen, regional vice president for Century 21 Great Lakes, a franchising firm in Novi. "People are getting into the market.

"IT'S A GOOD time, because of interest rates, for buyers to be buying. Sellers are a little more reasonable in prices because of the uncertain economy. It's really a balanced market." he said.

Coldwell Banker Schweitzer Real Estate, with 19 offices in metro Detroit, confirmed the trend.

That network, headquartered in Sterling Heights, sold 309 houses for $36.7 million last month compared to 266 for $28.6 million during January 1991, said Diane McPharlin, marketing director.

"We feel there is a trend now of consumer confidence returning for whatever reason," she said. "Buyers can take advantage of low interest rates and get more home for the

Buyer brokering has advantages

I have been approached by a broker to help me find a condominium or single-family home for a fee. Is this a good idea?

Over the past few years, buyer brokering has become more accepted in residential transactions. There are several possible advantages that a buyer brokering agreement may have over an arrangement where the seller pays the commission.

First, the broker working with the buyer is paid regardless of which property you may purchase. Therefore, your broker need not worry about losing his or her commission as a result of wandering off to an open house or to another real estate agent. Second, your broker owes his or her loyalty to you as a buyer. Third, under the traditional brokerage arrangement, the seller and listing broker need not worry about being held vicariously liable for the acts of the agent who is working with the buyer, and with whom the seller has no contact. But be sure your listing agreement is reviewed by a knowledgeable real estate lawyer before you sign it.

I live in a condominium next to a co-owner who has two cats, who play 2-5 a.m. These cats scamper throughout the complex whining, scratching and otherwise causing a nuisance that keeps me up. There is no specific prohibition in the condominium documents on cats. The cat owner is a friend so I am somewhat embarrassed about bringing the issue to her attention. What can I

condo queries

ship, I would tell your neighbor that you have been experiencing some problems with her cats. There may not be a lot that the neighbor can do about the cats scampering about in the middle of the night.

On the other hand, if it is causing an unreasonable disturbance, you should bring it to your neighbor's attention, with the expectation that your neighbor will do something about it.

If your neighbor does not do so, then you must review your condominium documents and consult with the board in regard to what action it or you may take against your neighbor should that become necessary. To the extent you can resolve the matter amicably, you should attempt to do so and not be hesitant about it.

Realtors help homeless

It was a "homey" kind of Valentine's Day when $2,700 was raised for the homeless by the Western Wayne Oakland County Association of Realtors.

Wayne County Family Center director Linda Makowski accepted the money on behalf of her organization, which seeks help for security deposits and first month's rents for homeless persons. At capacity, Wayne County Family Center, Westland, temporarily houses 24 homeless families.

More than 150 WWOCAR members paid $12.50 to attend a buffet luncheon at Novi's Home Sweet Home restaurant, where owner

Steve Romanik donated his restaurant, food and staff for the event.

According to Chris Sheldon, WWOCAR director of membership services director, membership committee members, led by Patricia Stokes, sought out a charity event in place a of a quarterly meeting.

"Because we're in real estate, we can appreciate the value of having a place a to call yours," Sheldon said of the connection between her industry and the homeless.

The Salvation Army, which provided a four-piece brass band for the afternoon's entertainment, was also a recipient of WWOCAR generosity, which received a $300 donation and household items.

YOUR HOME IS YOUR BEST INVESTMENT

Purchasing a home is the best way to build a solid financial foundation. A home not only provides you with warmth and comfort, it also serves as a secure investment.

- Today, homes in the area continue to be a wise
- Equity in your home can be used as collateral, thus providing you with additional financial security.
- Home ownership provides you with a sizable tax advantage because interest paid on mortgages is fully deductible. Property taxes can also be deducted.

Solid wood fireplace mantels like this one are one of and carved friezes make each mantle unique and Bruno Trentacost's specialties. Delicate scroll work a showcase for the room.

Attention to detail inspires 'old-world' craftsmanship

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

Carved fireplace mantles, solid-wood chiseled doors, sculptured stair rails, molded architectural trim, handfashioned display pedestals, delicately cut cornices, shaped panels, built-in cabinets, intricate wall and ceiling castings, simple and elaborate reliefs - the list almost is as endless as the imagination.

Bruno Trentacost sweats the details.

Trentacost, owner, president, laborer, supervisor and designer of Custom Design Woodwork Inc. in Clarkston, is one of the best-known, most widely used interior trim designers and finish carpenters who has worked in some of the area's grandest homes

His may not be a household name, but when builders or corporate chiefs building their own homes want a special job, they call Bruno Trentacost.

Trentacost's resume of designs and projects include the homes of such luminaries as Alan Kiriluk of Kirco Realty and Development, George Millidrag, former president of Entech Service Ltd., Leo Volpe, owner of Four Bears Water Park, and Hoot McInnery, owner of eight metro-area

TALK TO HIS customers and you hear words like "old world craftsmanship" and "attention to detail." Talk to Trentacost and you hear things like "God, I love doing

To Trentacost, what he does is as much an avocation as it is a vocation. "Today, they sell homes by location, and furniture and exteriors, but I prefer the old-fashioned way we use the old trades."

A good house, he says, is not dependent on location, location to detail and infusing humanity into it.

"This is what we do," Trentacost says, almost bouncing up the front steps to a newly completed home in Bloomfield Township. "Everything from the front door in . . . ," he adds, gesturing towards the 10-foot, solid wood, handcarved entrance door.

Bruno Trentacost, president of Customer Design Woodwork, sweats the details

Another one of my customers saw this and wants one just like it," he said later. "But we don't do the same thing twice - everything we do is one of a kind."

Thomas Alberts, president of Executive Square Corp. in Birmingham and the builder of some of the most elegant homes in Oakland County, said he can't recall when he first heard of Trentacost's or his work, but he has used him for several homes.

Not many carpenters and interior trim designers are capable of doing the type of work Trentacost does, Alberts said. "With the right direction, yes, but Bruno is unique in that he is creative.

Alberts said that he knows of several instances where eople he has built homes for have called Trentacost back for other projects.

Trentacost doesn't just take someone else's designs and make them a reality, he develops designs of his own. "He researches things out, looks in books, knows the lines - a lot of guys just don't apply themselves like Bruno."

Turning the knob, the ex-Harper Woods kid, now 34-yearold entrepreneur and skilled tradesman, pushes the door with his fingertips and the door glides open into the vestibule. He half spins, taking in the results of more than a year of design, labor and sweat.

"This is what I'm getting paid for," he says, pointing out even the smallest details in each room he enters. "I show them what they're thinking," Trentacost explains

"He tells me what he's thinking — maybe Louis the 14th or whatever - and I go off that and make a style they want," he said. A homeowner may have a favorite piece of furniture or an antique, and Trentacost will borrow stylings from it and transfer it to the walls and ceilings.

Trentacost said that's one of the reasons he's been so successful, but it's not the only reason. "What you see here is also a little bit of myself.

"I love fine detailing and the way things come together,"

"What we did in this house should be here for hundreds of years," he said. "I still get a kick out that - someone hundred years from now could say something like, Wow, I didn't know they still did that type of work in the 1990s. "I don't think there's anything nicer than being responsible for a finished product.' . "There are a lot of carpenters out there, but not many who can do what we do," he says proudly. "I think it has a lot to do with the concern of the craft people who do the

GENERALLY TRENTACOST is hired by the builder, but works through with the homeowner because what he does depends a great deal on the homeowner's personal taste. A lot of the house's finished trim work depends on the type of furniture the homeowner prefers. "I give a complete concept on an entire room or an en-tire house," Trentacost said. After sitting down with the homeowner, Trentacost said he can spend of thinking and researching before ever setting pencil to paper.

"It's a lot of heartache and a lot of thinking," he said. "I can visualize a room finished before we ever start on it."

That doesn't mean a job doesn't evolve after it begins, but surprisingly, there are few changes. "I've been very fortunate, no one has ever asked me to change a design," he

Not every project he works on is a grand mansion. "People hire me for big jobs, little jobs — even pieces," he said. "I might do just a fireplace mantle."

He has worked in homes from 5,000 to 30,000 square feet, but admits he specializes in the grand mansions built in some of the area's more up-scale neighborhoods. "We specialize in that because we have the crew (13 men) and machinery to handle it."

Sometimes, jobs have taken as long as two years, but four or five months on a job are about the norm.

"The first job I ever did was a fireplace mantle for my mother," he said. "She still loves it."

TRENTACOST SAID he has always been interested in fine woodworking and as a young man suspected he would make his living at it. While in school he entered and placed highly in several furniture design and building competi-

'My father was a commercial artist, so I guess some of that (artistic sense) may have brushed off."

After school, he worked at a cabinet shop but hired on as a finish carpenter when he got the chance. After several years of apprenticing, Trentacost decided it was time to start on his own.

"I've been doing this for about 10 years now — the first three as a finish carpenter, but that grew into what I do now — interior trim design."

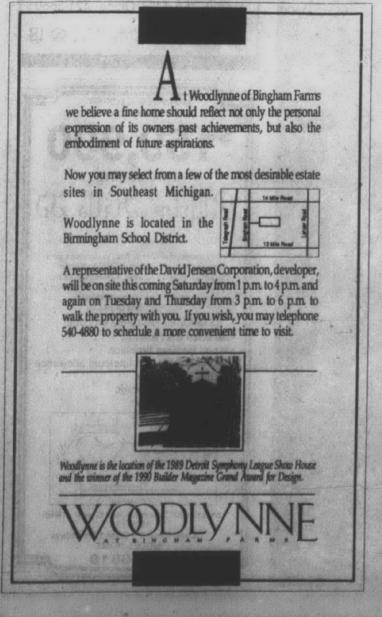

Trentacost does not limit his design work to wood. Some molding work around a door, for example, may not be appropriate for wood so he designs plaster castings, incorporating ideas from throughout the home to present a unified design.

He also makes designs for stone cuttings or material suggestions like marble floors. But you'll never see the same design in more than one house. Everything is one of a kind.

The January gain followed a 1.9percent increase in December, revised down from a previous estimate of 2.6 percent. Starts were flat in November and rose in October. The last decline was recorded in September.

Architecture students urged to add business classes

By R.J. King special write

How do today's architectural students feel about planning and designing the cities and neighborhoods of Three graduating seniors at Lawrence Technological University in Southfield welcome the opportunity to complement and embellish upon the work of their predecessors. At the same time, these students, and others like them, are responding to a dearth in construction and industry hiring by specializing in mass trans portation or graphic design while adding more business classes to their curriculum.

"Let's face it, more people today are realizing that architecture is a business, and students need to complement their creative talents with business management principles or face the consequences," said Allan Cohen, a Lawrence Tech student who plans to graduate in May.

To that end, the university is in the early stages of linking its bachelor of architecture program, a five-year program serving more than 900 students, with its master of business administration program, typically a two-year effort. The link between site design and statistics will offer future graduates greater opportunities to survive recessions, especially as the American Institute of Architeets reports annual industry revenues have declined between 30 and 50 percent since 1986. In some markets, close to 25 percent of architects are said to be out of work.

'IN MICHIGAN, the architectural industry has been somewhat insulated from the national slowdown, but we have seen the construction of large commercial office buildings fall off considerably," said Neville Clouten, dean of the College of Architecture and Design at Lawrence

"Part of the slowdown is due to the difficulty of securing financing, so we're strongly encouraging our students to add more business classes to their studies to help compen-sate for the problem and offer future clients viable alternatives. We want to shed the image that architecture just someone hovering over a drafting table. Apart from these trends, today's graduating seniors hope to offer more humane strokes to their art, in sense viewing themselves not as epic heroes, but as healers working to make communities more harmonious and friendly while avoiding cookie-cutter designs and uninspired solutions

"In the last several years, the industry has really learned to offer community-minded designs, especially with the addition of I-696," said Wayne Sieloff, a May graduate. "The planners were very careful about not creating a barrier which would divide entire communities in half.

"In some spots, parks were built over the freeway to encourage pedestrian traffic and shopping. In the past, freeways like the Chrysler and Lodge were built with only the car in mind, so that someone living on one side of the Lodge found a complete barrier in place if the grocery store was on the other side.'

IN TURN, while in the past 40 years, city planners have been successful in separating factories from neighborhoods, by zoning industrial plants in one area and residential structures in another, the Lawrence Tech students noted that the principles of zoning are too often incompatible with community.

For example, without the aid of quality mass transportation in metro Detroit, many of the poor became trapped in the city, surrounded by freeways so that the more affluent could ride in their automobiles without seeing anything that might disturb them

There is a great need for zoning, if only to keep things like smokestacks from neighborhoods, but since the Detroit community is so autofocused, as people moved out to the suburbs, they left behind a sense of what community is all about," said Betty Lee Seydler-Sweatt, assistant dean of the College of Architecture.

"Fifty years ago in Detroit, people mostly walked to do their errands and were often greeted by neighbors or nearby merchants with a hello But in the suburbs, everything is divided by zoning, and the automobile has kept people insulated until they arrive at their destination.

Older communities with solid downtown districts that mix storefronts with office buildings, apartments with theatres, have escaped the suburban schism of zoning to some degree, Sweatt-Seydler said.y Examples of such suburban downtowns include Birmingham, Farmington, Plymouth and Rochester.

Meanwhile, evaluating the most celebrated office tower in the metropolitan area in years, One Detroit Center in downtown Detroit, Dale Wolicki, who will graduate in May, said the structure was "leaps and bounds ahead of anything going up in the suburbs.

"I think architects are coming to understand that marketing plays a key part in whether an office building will be successful. With One Detroit Center, Houston developer Gerald Hines has paid a great deal of attention to design and quality, two features which can be marketed very successfully to upscale clients."

'Part of the (construction industry) slowdown is due to the difficulty of securing financing, so we're strongly encouraging our students to add more business classes to their studies to help compensate for the problem and offer future clients viable alternatives. We want to shed the image that architecture is just someone hovering over a drafting table.'
