Schools wrestle deficit TODAY Tonight the school board is expected to put a 1.5-mill board cuts. Tonight the school board is expected to put a 1.5-mill board cuts. School officials say the money is needed to overcome a projected $5.6 million budget deficit and the pink slipping of 156 teachers.

Plymouth-Canton school employees being asked to take pay cuts are wondering whether administrators will consider doing the same, given the financial woes the district faces.

The suggestion that administrators make concessions surfaced during budget review committee talks, held over the past few months to identify ways to avert lay-offs and cut costs. On the committee are representatives of all employee groups.

Teachers are being asked to accept a 2-percent pay cut and are negotiating with the district. In 1992-93, teachers will be in the last year of a three-year contract granting a 7-percent increase.

The district projects a deficit of up to $5.6 million next year, and a budget in the neighborhood of $75 million. The board of education pink-slipped 156 teachers and has proposed across-the-approval of a 1.5-mill tax increase.

Superintendent John Hoben, for one, says he'll take a pay freeze.

"The superintendent is suggesting he take a freeze relative to next pay increase next year. We need to start someplace," announced Hoben recently.

Hoben earns $109,128 and receives an annual car allotment of $7,200.

Contributing to the schools' budgeting nightmare are legislative actions including the property tax freeze, taxbased sharing and a cap on employee Social Security payments to the district by the state.

ness Ray Hoedel said, "We could have one year where we took a freeze. If that were to come about, it would happen universally from the top down."

As to whether pay increases would be given up or deferred, Hoedel said, "We haven't gotten into any discussion on that yet." Hoedel earns $88,041. Administrators are reimbursed for mileage, but Hoben is the only administrator who receives a car allotment.

Thomas Tattan, executive director of secondary education, said teachers wouldn't be asked to accept anything that central office administrators wouldn't accept in turn.

Race grows

Charles McIlhargey, Plymouth Township's building director and former Westland council president, entered the supervisor's race last week.

His entry followed decisions by supervisor Gerald Law and trustee Smith Horton last week not to run for supervisor, all on the eve of the Tuesday filing deadline for candidates petitions.

As of Friday, there were four candidates for supervisor, two for clerk, nine for trustee and one for treasurer.

And on top of that, Police Chief Carl Berry pulled petitions last week. Berry said he wasn't a candidate for anything, and wouldn't say whom he pulled nominating petitions for.

Cable turns some politicians into hams

By KEVIN BROWN STAFF WRITER

Putting government meetings on cable TV will make citizens more aware of what elected officials are up to.

But don't be surprised if officials show off a bit before the TV cameras when cable broadcasting begins

That's what officials say in neighboring cities where meetings are shown on

Their comments follow the first ever taping April 28 of a Plymouth Township trustees meeting. The tapings are expected to continue, as the board considers live broadcasts of meetings.

Livonia city councilman Gerald Taylor and others serving in cities where meetings are televised say they're surprised by how many watch. "A lot of people stop you and say, 'I saw you on TV," he said.

When the broadcasting of meetings on cable TV started, Taylor said council members tended to speak more on issues before them.

But while this happened when the televising of meetings began, "It settles back to a more normal procedure," he said.

Taylor, like government officials in other cities with meetings on cable, said the televising of meetings has made the citizens more aware of their local government. And now, "I would say most of the council people are comfortable with it," he said.

Dearborn city councilman Doug Thomas said he's also struck by people who stop him and say, "I saw you on

In Dearborn, meetings are broadcast live on Tuesdays and shown again on the following Friday. "No longer does a person have to come to a council meeting," he said.

Thomas said some members of the public and the council sometimes "use it as a forum. But when people have done it, it has a negative effect on them. - that tends to balance it.

Long haul: Brian and Sue Jearlds of East Detroit were in for the 15 mile ride, bringing with them children, Kirsten, 3, and Sarah, 10 months.

Riders make event magic for children

The weather cooperated on Saturday as more than 400 riders pedaled away in Canton Township, raising money to fight child abuse in the 3rd Annual Magic Ride.

The bicyclists were from Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe counties, each riding for pledges, with the money going to the Child Abuse and Neglect Council of Oakland County, Child Advocacy Network of Monroe County, Washtenaw Area Council for Children and the Out Wayne County Council on Child Abuse and Neglect.

"It was bigger than ever," said Sandra Murphy of the Out Wayne County Council. "We've raised more than $20,000."

Canton Township has hosted the event for three years and plans call for returning to the township next year, saidn Murphy, adding that

Canton has been a wonderful host for the event.

Riders had their choice of routes through the rural portions of the township. Cyclists could select routes up to 15 miles.

The ride is actually a warm up to the statewide Magic Ride to be held in Holt during June, said Murphy.

The Saturday event featured a celebrity ride that attracted politicians and judges from the Metro Detroit area. Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara was a no show, and Plymouth City Commissioner Dennis Shewsbury was a non-rider, there wasn't a bicycle for him.

"It's the third race I wasn't in this year," quipped Shewsbury, noting that he had pulled out of political races for two judgeships this Religious leaders unite: Rev. Keith Butler, right, a Detroit city councilman, is greeted by the Rev. Harvey Heneveld after Butler's remarks.

Keith Butler visits Plymouth

Keep to Christian values, and the country can overcome the Los Angeles riots and racial strife, Detroit city councilman Keith Butler said in Plymouth on

Rev. Butler told more than 100 gathered for the 2nd Annual Canton-Plymouth Prayer Breakfast, "I am not a black Leader.'

"If I am a leader, I am an American leader," said Butler, whom some Republican leaders say should run for mayor or other higher office.

The breakfast took place at the Mayflower Meeting House. Among those attending were community leaders and several local clergy people, on the day deemed a day of prayer nationally in the wake of the rioting in California and other disturbances around the country.

Of the Rodney King verdict, which sparked the violence, "I was shocked, I was surprised," Butler said. "There was some excessive force, sure."

Butler, and other prominent blacks with ties to the Republican party, were called to Washington to confer with President George Bush on what to do following the

"My suggestion to him was I think police brutality is a problem in the country - not just white on black but white on white," he said.

Butler said the city of Detroit paid out $20 million last year to settle lawsuits brought against the police department alleging excessive force.

I asked the president if he would push for an annual public hearing where the citizens could tell the (U.S.) justice department if there were problems with the police force.

Butler said some police "need to learn how to talk to people, they're public servants.

Ordained in 1979, Butler started an inner-city church which now counts 8,000 members, and a church school for grades K-8, with 250 students.

Thee have been no drug problems at the school, Butler said. "If you teach these values, they won't take drugs," he said. Butler recalled his own youth growing up in Detroit, where there was "a dope pad" two doors from his house. "Because of the values I was taught, I never fell into When he was elected to the city council, "I was'the

Folks forget the wildest things

Mayflower Hotel co-owner Creon Smith remembers a man who gave his right leg to stay at the Plymouth hotel.

Unfortunately, the leg was an artificial one and had to be returned. "He left in a wheel chair and had to come back and get the leg," Smith said. "I guess he had to stand and realized he was missing something."

While most of us have never lost anything as interesting as a leg (See Ronald Reagan in "King's Row"), everone has lost something, sometime, somewhere, and the somebody who finds it often works at a local business.

Marie Foote, Mayflower's front desk manager, reports finding airline tickets, dentures, money (once it was $275), clothes, shoes, etc. "You name it, they leave it behind," she said.

At Johnson's Restaurant on Ford Road in Canton, waitress Wilda Johnston found a woman's diary, but didn't read it. "It was locked," Johnston lamented. "I was tempted though."

Another Johnson's waitress, Kelly (who declined to give her surname), reported finding a diner's dental retainer. Waitress Mary Norris said she once discovered a partial plate someone had left behind.

The lost-and-found box at Johnson's currently contains a jacket, two hats and one glove. "It's usually full, overfilling," Kelly revealed.

And speaking of gloves, people seem always to lose them one at a time. Waitresses, barmaids and clerks all over town seldom find two gloves, or earrings. As yet, the federal government hasn't commissioned a blue-ribbon panel to study this mysterious phenomenon.

Helen Morley has been a bartender at Plymouth's Box Bar for eight years. "You name it, they lost it," she said. "Anything you can think of, they probably lose it."

In fact, Morley found a pair of designer blue jeans and a sweater Monday morning when she came to work. It's unknown what the owner was wearing when he or she left the bar.

People get kind of toasted and they forget stuff," Morley said. "I've had girls not even take their purses with them."

"A lot of it is property that citizens turn in," property officer Carol Luelleman said. "Sometimes the officers find it."

The police periodically auction off unclaimed items (except for the guns, marijuana and bikes). But a lot of times property is just junk too, Luelleman confessed. Tom Swim, who works at Feed Rite Pet Shop & Supply in Canton could remember nothing customers have lost, but said, "I lose my mind a lot. We're still looking for it.'

becoming a celebration.

Rouge Rescue '92, planned for Saturday, June 6, will mark the seventh consecutive year volunteers have cleared Rouge River log jams and hauled away debris.

Even though this year's cleanup boasts the largest-ever number of work sites, organizers say the event is changing.

"When we started out the Rouge was really a mess," said Carol Weihe, executive director of Freinds of the Rouge. "There's still a lot of work to be done, but we have made significant progress.

Rather than strictly emphasizing cleanup activities, this year's event is billed as a celebration of the Rouge and its potential for family recreation.

"There are people at the University of Michigan-Dearborn who are going to be working on restoring animal and bird habitats," Weihe said. "There are other people who are going to be doing work along park trails near the river."

Friends of the Rouge, a volunteer agency, planned the first cleanup in 1986 and has coordinated each successive event.

Between 2,500-3,000 people are expected to take part in this year's cleanup.

Friends of the Rouge planned a 20-year cleanup schedule and organizers say they see no reason to abandon that time frame.

"Even if work is substantially completed before then, we'd still like to see people come to the Rouge at least once a ear to celebrate what it has become," Weihe said.

OBITUARIES

DAVE L. BOOTH SR.

Services for Dave L. Booth Sr., 62, of Livonia were today, May 11, at 11 a.m. at Schrader Funeral Home. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery.

Mr. Booth was born November 10, 1929 in Northville. He died Thursday, May 7, in Wayne. He came to the Livonia community three years ago from Plymouth. He retired as a truck driver in 1991 after 40 years. He was a member of St. Michael Catholic Church of Livonia. He received an award for safe driving. He was a member of the Teamster Local 332.

Mr. Booth is survived by his wife, Gloria Booth of Livonia; two sons, Dave L. Booth Jr. of Westland and Dale M. Booth of Plymouth Township; four grandchildren; two uncles and one aunt.

The Rev. Leonard Partensky officiated the service. Memorial contributions may be given to a charity of choice.

LOLA M. MCCALLUM

Services for Lola M. McCallum, 80, of California, previously of Plymouth, were Wednesday, May 6. Services and burial were at Riverside Cemetery.

Mrs. McCallum was born August 9, 1910 in Rodney, Mich. She died Tuesday, April 21, in California. She lived in Plymouth many years before moving to California in 1957. She was a former member of the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth. She was a homemaker. Mrs. McCallum is survived by one brother, Robert McCallum of California, formerly of Plymouth; one step-brother and step-father, James J. Gotch of Royal Oak.

Dr. William Rumsey officiated the service. Arrangements were made by Schrader Funeral Home.

EARL C. MELTON

Services for Earl C. Melton, 74, of Ypsilanti, previously of Plymouth, were today, May 11, at 11 a.m. at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church. Burial was in Riverside

Mr. Melton was born Jan. 22, 1918 in Detroit. She died Friday, May 8, in Ann Arbor. He was a life long resident of the Plymouth area. He worked locally at Bathey and Burroughs for many years. He was a member of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Plymouth for 57 years. He was a member of the Ann Arbor Board of Realtors for 10 years. Funeral services for Kelly Ann Cummings, 18, of Detroit, whose family lives in Plymouth, were held Saturday at St. Kenneth Catholic Church, Plymouth.

Miss Cummings was found dead Monday in an alley off Midland at Woodward in Detroit. She had been strangled, police said. Police in Detroit and Highland Park suspect Miss Cummings was killed by a copycat who is killing young women in those two cities.

She is the daughter of Kevin and Karen Cummings. Also surviving are a brother, Kevin Cummings and a grandmother, Lillian Kolch.

Visitation was at the Harry J. Will Trust Funeral Home, 3700 Six Mile. Livonia.

Physician dies at 83

BY M.B. DILLON STAFF WRITER

In the not-so-long-ago past, someone who needed a doctor to make a house call in Plymouth could find one in Dr. William C. Herbold.

It didn't matter if it was the middle of the night, said Ralph Lorenz, who over the years as owner of the Mayflower Hotel had reason to call upon both his good friend at all hours.

Herbold, who suffered from Alzheimer's disease, died at age 83 Sunday, April 26 in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. He retired there with his wife, Maryjane Parr Herbold, after leaving Plymouth 17 years ago.

An osteopath on staff at Ridgewood, Garden City and Detroit osteopathic hospitals, the Chicagoborn Herbold was a family practitioner in Plymouth for more than 20 years.

A professional musician who appeared with dance bands on Mackinac Island and throughout the Midwest, Herbold played clarinet and saxophone with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

He also was an accomplished singer, and performed on early radio shows. He sang and played on big band recordings, recalled his daughter, Karla Moore, a board member at Interlochen.

Herbold was an inventor as well, building his own crystal sets and concocting a clock radio before you could buy them. "Dad was going to medical school and playing in bands at night, and his alarm didn't seem to wake him up. He figured out a way to make an early clock radio."

A Kiwanian, Herbold was among the first members of the May-flower's Round Table Club.

The retirement of "the last of the house-call noblemen" was duly noted by W.W. Edgar in the Plymouth Observer in 1975.

"Another era came to an end in Plymouth this week with the retirement of Dr. William (Bill) Herbold, the popular doctor of oseteopathy who has held forth on Harvey Street for a quarter of a century," wrote Edgar.

"He is the last of that band of physicians that never let wind or rain, snow or sleet stop them from calling on their patients."

A Chicago native, Herbold received his medical degree from the Chicago Osteopathic College. He interned in Bloomington, Ill. before setting up his first practice in New Buffalo, Mich. Herbold stayed there 10 years before moving to

Plymouth, where he and his wife raised two daughters, Karla and Jane.

He served on the staff at Humana Hospital of the Palm Beaches and was an active member of the American Osteopathic Association.

"Bill and Ace Williams had a great partnership; a practice that doesn't exist anymore," recalled Ralph Lorenz. "For many years they took care of me. Bill was sort of an old-time doctor type. He'd make a house call if he had to. No matter what the situation was, he'd come up and take care of it."

Maryjane Herbold, who would have celebrated her 55th wedding anniversary this year, recalled one of her husband's very first house calls. It was the night they met.

"I had just broken off an engagement, and a friend of my mother's set Bill and me up on a blind date. We went to the South Shore Country Club in Chicago.

Fair grounds?

Complex eyed as 8 Mile anchor

BY WAYNE PEAL STAFF WRITER

The State Fairgounds is seen as anchor of a redeveloped Eight Mile

But Eight Mile planners say that doesn't necessarily mean it's still in the running for a new Tiger'Stadi-

"That's not what we're talking about," said urban planner Albert Bogdan. "We're talking about it's potential as an entertainment cen-

Planners see the fairgrounds anchoring the Eight Mile corridor the way a new stadium would anchor downtown Detroit.

The fairgrounds race track, bandshell and location - at the heart of a metro area of 3.8 million people point to its potential, Bogdan said. 'It's potential is unlimited, but it's going to take private development to make it happen."

Development around the fairgrounds is only one part of a public/ private Eight Mile partnership that would bring changes from western Wayne County to the shores of Other proposed changes include:
• Turning the former state highway into a tree-lined boulevard.

· Adding new, deeper parking spaces to drive-up shops and turning industrial areas into industrial Eight Mile redevelopment depends upon an alliance of private developers, state officials, Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties and 13 communities, including Farmington, Farmignton Hills, Southfield, Livonia and Redford Town-

The Eight Mile redevelopment plan was shown last week to business and community leaders, as well as area residents. "We're here to see what the people think," said Deborah Kay Schutt of the Oakland County Planning Division.

Though turnout was small at Tuesday's session for business leaders, most of the dozen attendees were impressed.

Something really needs to be done," said Ken Navarre of Detroitbased Michigan Motor Exchange. Parts of Eight Mile are really get-Navarre said he was considering expanding his business to an Eight Mile site in Oakland County, but decided against because of the roadway's bad image.

The redevelopment plan's major goals include smooth flowing traffic and ample police protection three items currently absent along major stretches of the roadway.

"The problem is no one's ever re ally taken responsibility for Eight Mile," Bogdan said. "Police patrol their own communities very well but, often, when they get to Eight Mile they turn around and head back

Eight Mile jurisdiction could pass to a proposed multi-community agency. Structured as a non-profit organization, it would collect dues, lobby for state and federal money and coordinate planning, though each community could still veto projects within its limits.

Redevelopment would be paid for through a Tax Increment financing district, diverting Eight Mile tax dollars from local budgets for lighting, roadway and parking lot improvements throughout the corri-

TIFA financing created the Oakland Hills Tech Park in Auburn Hills but the controversial state legislation lapsed.

It would have to be revived for the Eight Mile project.

"There are 27 legislators whose districts tough Eight Mile," Bogdan said. "So, we're optimistic something can be passed.

Eight Mile redevelopment plans are a result of the extension of I-696. The highway's southeast Oakalnd extension, completed two years ago, has substantially reduced traffic on Eight Mile.

Representatives of all three counties, Detroit and the state departments of transportation and commerce called for a plan to keep the roadway a viable commercial zone.

At the same time, Southfield leaders called on surrounding communities to jointly plan Eight

The redevelopment plan, begun two years, ago, is already on its third revision. A final document is expected in June.

Local communities are backing redevelopment plans for Eight Mile Road. But the biggest project, financing an intergovernment agency to administer Eight Mile improvements, boils down to two questions: how much are we going to have to pay and where will the money come

Band connects musically

Being on the same wavelength can help when your business is making music. Maybe that explains Cylinderhead's music — a vibrant amalgamation of musical talents that can make you feel tingly all over.

By Larry O'Connor Staff Writer

Members of Cylinderhead are on the same wavelength, so we are told.

On the surface, the three members present do appear to connect spiritually and socially. When one lights a cigarette, the other follows suit.

When vocalist and guitarist Priscilla Ederle begins a story, lead guitarist Chris Henderson aptly finishes it with bassist Ken Seech readily filling in the details. All three at the moment are recalling in ping-pong style the painstaking year-long process of finding a drummer, which eventually turned up Dave Wallis.

"We had one guy who would not leave," said Seech, 26, of Farmington.

"He stayed at my house for six hours," added Ederle, 22, of West Bloomfield.

"And he ordered a pizza," said

"Yeh, he was going through my house looking for Little Caesar's coupons scaring my mother," said Ederle.

Henderson listens with bemusement at the tag-team, having become accustomed to such animated conversations. All three band members live in the same apartment building in Ypsilanti.

"One wavelength keeps it together," said Henderson, 25. "I'm not saying we're clones or anything.

Quite the contrary, musically. Cylinderhead represents a vibrant amalgamation of diverse musical talents, which even presented in its rawest form produces sensations of tingling pop and elicits dissection.

Ederle's breathy vocals are soothing, a blissful romp through pastures guitar-induced melancholy. Henderson's guitar lines are carefully crafted, creating textures and moods coinciding with introspective lyrics. Seech's bass is probing rather than plodding.

Wallis' drumming nails the song-sketches to the wall for public view. "He hits them harder," said Ederle. Shows are lined up from Ann Arbor to Hamtramck, mostly as an opening act. That apparently won't last for long, though.

Cylinderhead has created a buzz, including a reportedly successful gig at Lili's 21. A headline show at Cross Station takes place Friday, May 22, and there's talk of going into the studio later this summer.

Cylinderhead has carefully planned for this time, continually writing and working together during a two-year period until the chemistry was right.

The final element turned out to be Wallis, who is formerly of since-defunct Phineas Gage. He was No. 25 in long line of drummers who tried out for the band, joining Cylinderhead in October.

"They've got to inspire you in certain way," said Seech, where they bring something in and you want to build upon it. That's what we wanted from a drummer.'

Such insight has been gleaned by playing in other bands. Seech performed in a number of heavy metal outfits he'd rather not Ederle was lead vocalist in short-lived alternative pop outfit Alison's Ghost, which she said there was inner-band strife. Henderson performed for a brief spell in Common Chapter, which later became Phineas Gage.

In fact, Phineas Gage member and Southfield resident Alex Lumelsky introduced. Ederle to Henderson, which led to the formation of Cylinderhead.

"I blew him off a couple of times," said Ederle, recalling their initial meeting. "I thought I was going to meet this guitar god. I was afraid he was going to be one of those loud guitar players who don't give you any space.

They ended up forming the creative core of Cylinderhead with Seech joining shortly after. Reflective in their songs, members are quite enthusiastic about the process of evolving as a band and music in general.

The way I feel about it there's a lot of good music,' Henderson said. "When I grew up, there was Elton John and the Beatles and R.E.M. and XTC later on, music that you hear on the radio and puts you in a good Cylinderhead will open for the Hannibals Friday, May 15, at Rick's Cafe, 611 Church, Ann Arbor. For information, call 996-2747. Also, the band headlines Friday, May 22, at Cross Street Station, 511 W. Cross, Ypsilanti. For information, call 485-5050.

It is often true that when a child suffers the early death of a parent there is a complicated psychological response when that child becomes an adult. You are experiencing such a response.

Your situation requires an indepth approach that cannot be ac complished in a letter. As I usually do, I am enclosing the telephone numbers of agencies that could help you contact an experienced therapist. You may have a better source and if so, please use that one. I have tried, without success, to locate a support group for your specific situation. If a reader knows of one, 1 hope they will write with that information.

Barbara

Readers Note: The following letter refers to a previous one published in February. In that one, a woman (called C) with a drug-addicted husband asked for advice on whether or not to stay married to him. She questioned what she should look for as signs of recovery. She was especially concerned about whether a person can "recover," that is, stop using drugs and still not change his personality.

This letter is from a reader with a Dear Readers, similar situation who gives the following advice. My comments follow.

Dear Barbara,

There are similarities between my husband and the husband in your recent column. It was not drugs but alcohol that caused dissension and unhappiness in our home. He has never admitted being an alcoholic, so I will not put that label on him, but he definitely was a problem drinker. I had been told, "I might give up drinking for my Dad, but I won't for you." This hurt, but he felt justified because "I was trying to lord it over him" in wanting him to change.

It was not until his drinking got him into serious trouble that he was willing to quit. He went through the required alcohol education classes and AA meetings because they were mandatory.

Like C's husband, he never missed work and always provided for his family. Like C's husband, he is a loner and uncomfortable in social situations. He can speak to strangers but will not socialize outside his family unless it cannot be avoided, such as weddings or funer-

He had buddies before our marriage and as they wed, we socialized as couples. Circumstances change and friends move away, or divorce, or die, or you lose contact because interests don't remain the same. I found that these friends were not replaced by new ones,

My husband has been sober now for 12 years. He has a good relationship with our grown children and his grandchildren think he's wonderful. He will go places and do things (sometimes reluctantly) that do not involve people contact.

I have settled for this. I find activities outside the home that are not threatening to our marriage to keep me occupied. It means some times a meal or an outing with a friend, but often means going alone. But if we had divorced, it would have meant going alone anyhow.

If C's husband overcomes his addiction, I hope she will be willing to bend a little. Our husbands have a similar natures, which may have contributed to their problems. Problems can be overcome, but natures are just the way we are - extroverted or introverted to a great

Sometimes, it's hard not to envy couples who are doing what you would like to do, but raising children as a single parent has to be a very difficult task. Fantasizing about what could be in a second marriage can be enticing but there are no guarantees.

I know C is going through a trying time, but I hope she is able to consider the pros and cons and make a wise decision.

No Signature

Dear No Signature,

Thank you for writing. You are a person who knows herself well and so can make decisions and then make them successful.

You and C (the previous writer) are faced with a similar predicament. Although your husbands have overcome a substance abuse problem, they continue to exhibit personality attributes which often are difficult for you to live with. You would both prefer to be with men with whom you could be more intimate. The hope was that once they were no longer addicted that would occur and it has not.

C is indecisive because she has not found a way to cope with that reality. She continues to expect change in her husband's "nature," as you have so aptly put it. You, on the other hand, have faced the reality that there will be no change even though he has stopped drinking. You have found the maturity within yourself to live with it gracefully.

I respect your adequacy. Your letter will help C and the many like her who are not as sure of themselves as you are.

Two weeks ago we published a letter from a young man tortured by his sexual feelings toward men. He wanted to know if he could learn to be different. He is a virgin.

On Friday, April 20, ABC TV's "20/20" ran a story on this subject. As an addendum to my last column, I want to report its findings. It is valuable additional information: Dr. Joseph Nicolosi, in his book

"Reparative Therapy," says that he has worked with many gay men and has helped them to be attracted to women, not men. He believes that homosexuality is a learned behavior resulting from early alienation between father and son. There is a resulting need to repair the damage caused by the alienation and so these men continually seek closeness with other men. Men become intimate with other men in groups and through this connectedness they feel stronger about their Dr. Robert Isay, a psychiatrist, disagrees with Dr. Nicolosi and any other theories like his. He says that he sees men after they have received this kind of therapy and that they are anxious, depressed and sometimes suicidal. He believes that a person's core sexual orientation cannot be changed. As support for his viewpoint, he points out that even Dr. Nicolosi's "cured" patients continue to have homosexual fantasies a even occasional en-

I continue to believe that homosexuality need not have only one cause and that antecedents may be different in different men.

The Wilcox descendants, however, led by son Henry (Anthony Hopkins) decide to ignore these last wishes and toss the document in the fire. But the lives of the two families will cross again with romantic and sometimes tragic circumstances.

As in other Forster novels, "Howards End" is a cleverly crafted story of inequality between the classes. Howard Bast, a young clerk, is given some bad advice from Henry that loses him his job. As Henry, Hopkins proves himself one of the screen's most versatile actors. His portrayal of Henry is so complex and finely tuned that you'll almost do the impossible forget his menacing portrayal as Hannibal Lecter in the Oscar-winning "Silence of the Lambs."

Redgrave, meanwhile, makes the most of her relatively short time on screen. She embodies the 19th Century lady who wisely sees in Margaret all the freedom and compassion that women will enjoy in the years to come.

Some of the lesser known performers fare equally well. Instead of making Leonard Bast a romantic pretty boy, Sam West comes off slightly clumsy and gooney, driven half-mad by bitterness and circumstance. With the proper breaks, the Schlegels feel he could be a great Helena Bonham Carter, the star of "A Room with a View," has a feisty spirit that refuses to give into the hypocrisy of Henry Wilcox.

"Howards End" captures both London and the English countryside beautifully. There are sumptuous images of horse and buggies and automobiles sharing busy London streets, canoes on gentle lakes and the interiors of ivy-covered country homes and castles.

It takes until well into the second half to finally reach Howards End and again director Ivory makes a wise choices. Instead of having the music swell during a dramatic drive toward the home (a la Manderly in Rebecca"), he lets Margaret explore it more subtly - and to stronger effect.

Simply put, the filmmakers have learned plenty in the last 30 years and it all culminates in "Howards bluesman, how to chew off words deliberately and effectively from Warren. All of which he exercises as a frontman these days in hard charging rhythm and blues outfit Big Daddy Romance and the Hedgetrimmers.

Big Daddy Romance evolved four years ago, dressed in zoot suits and hats the size of an oil pan from a semi truck. He's been kicking up a duststorm of rhythm and blues, yearning at area venues ever since.

"There's always something in there about women and love," he said about his songs.

These days, he has a full band complimenting him with the Hedgetrimmers. The outfit features such notable performers as guitarist Bobby East, Second Self alum drummer Jeff Fowlks and bassist Nick Desmond.

The group performs regularly in the area, including this Friday before the judge(s). Big Daddy Romance headlines a benefit, "Judges Against Domestic Violence," 5-8 p.m. at St. Andrew's Hall, 431 E. Congress, Detroit.

Tickets are $25 with the proceeds going to First Step, a non-profit organization providing assistance to survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault. (People may send checks payable to: First Step, 8381 Farmington Road, Westland 48185 or call 525-2230 for information).

The band will also perform at 4 p.m. Sunday, May 24, as part of the annual mega Blues Festival that weekend at Hart Plaza.,

Benefits, such as the one for First Step, are not new to Big Daddy Romance. His outfit was part of a host of bands performing at the annual Blues Benefit for the Homeless in December at the Majestic Theatre.

Such events keep Big Daddy Romance in love with performing live in this area.

"What I enjoy about it is the blues community in this town," he said. "It's not quite as big as Chicago's, but they've been around for a lot longer. . . . I love the people. We've been involved since it (blues revival) started up 12 years ago."

Suburbs, city must share in cooperation

here's a cartoon in which a spoiled teen mooches money from his fa-

"Dad, I'd like you to cooperate with my learning venture - advance me $10 on my allowance

The gag, of course, is that to this kid "cooperation" is a one-way street. Dad pays, he spends.

Coleman Young was full of the cooperative spirit last month when he presented the Detroit City Council his budget, a message whose fine print I recently perused.

The communities of southeastern Michigan "will rise and fall together. We are interconnected," said the mayor.

Young pointed to the "jewels" - the Detroit Institute of Arts, Belle Isle and so on. "We welcome your concern," he told the suburbs. Then Young got to the point: "I want to tell you up front that this budget does not propose to dispose of any of the city's assets in a fire sale atmosphere. I was not elected mayor to dismantle Detroit one piece at a time, selling off our jewels to some sort of regional pawnbro-

Young welcomed "a joint effort to keep these institutions strong, not by trying to relieve us of them.

"I was not elected mayor to dismantle Detroit one piece at a time...

Coleman Young Detroit mayor's budget message formances by the Detroit Concert Band at both Belle Isle and the State Fairgrounds. Under Young, Detroit abandoned the band.

• Detroit used to underwrite the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Young failed to come through with its pledge about four years ago, precipitated to a fiscal crisis.

This city department gets a paltry $500,000 from the city. Private money brings in upwards of $9 million. The state kicked in as much as $16 million until the 1991 budget cuts.

Here's how Young's "cooperation" works: The city controls all jobs. Suburbanites may work as volunteers. The state provides the bulk of the public money.

The GRALS (Guilt-Ridden Affluent Liberal Suburbanites) eat it up. They have made Gov. John Engler their whipping boy. The truth is that Detroit, under the leadership of Mayor Young, has abandoned everything about the DIA except political control.

Ditto the zoo. The city contributes about one-third the budget, ticket and souvenir sales are one-third, and the state kicks in

Who controls all the jobs? Young, naturally

Whose name is emblazoned on the water tower? Young's, of course.

How's that for "cooperation," "joint effort" and "welcome your concern"

Folks outside Detroit use those jewels. We should help pay for them.

We should also have a proportionate share of control. We should have our share of the jobs. Our political chiefs should have their names on the signs.

That would be "cooperation."

Tim Richard reports on the local implications of state and regional news.

ubject: Comments on points of view entitled "Neither side guides meaning of life, death" from the Monday, April 27, issue

Your editorial started out great, but by the end, your "true" pro-choice "colors came shining through.

About the only thing we ended up agreeing with you on is that "the idea of having lawyers and judges deciding when life starts is scary." It sure is.

First of all, who do they think they are? Things must really be getting out of hand if we've got people running around playing God. And second, whatever decision they might make is totally irrelevant anyway. You are either pregnant, or you are not pregnant. And anything that is done to purposely end that pregnancy purposely ends the life of the baby that would have been born if the pregnancy had been allowed to take its natural course

There's a verse to a song we know that

Every child that is born today is a child who could be free But every child taken from this world - * is a child who will never be.

We also agree that some people on both sides are getting out of hand. And from that perspective we can understand where you're coming from when you say, "There is no compromise for either side. That means it's up to us, the sane folks in the middle, to do something about the abortion issue.'

My wife and I are pro-life (what a surprise right?), but we are not very active in the matter. Writing a letter like this is about as far as we've ever taken it. We've always felt that we can do our part by just not being involved in any abortions personally and by raising our children that way. No need to join any committees or do any protesting. And we think you'd agree that a lot of people out there deal with this issue the same way. We just live our own lives based on our own individual beliefs.

But unfortunately, this abortion issue is too big to just leave it up to the individual, his true col We need activists to take public stands and force this issue openly because otherwise nothing will ever be done. It's too bad that some of the activists go too far . . .

because in each case of abortion, there is a life involved that has no say whatsoever.

We need activists to take public stands and force this issue openly because otherwise nothing will ever be done. It's too bad that some of the activists go too far and do some of the crazy things you mentioned in your column, and we certainly do not condone that behavior. We think it's wrong, but we still believe that we need people who are willing to take this issue outside the living room because a vast majority of us don't.

Your point of view that the abortion issue be put "back in the living room, where it belongs" was followed by a list of people, "feminists, pro-life zealots and lawyers," who should stay out of it.

We want to point out that your list didn't include pro-choice zealots, unless that's what you meant by feminists.

But regardless of that, the fact that you think the decision should be made in individual living rooms suggests that you are pro-choice. And assuming that is the case, we'd like to ask you the age-old question in the abortion issue, and that is, what choice does the unborn child have in an abortion? What response does pro-choice have to that question? Isn't the response that "Well, it's not really a child yet," or "it's not life yet?" And isn't that the "angle" that got doctors and lawyers and judges involved in the issue as far as determining when life starts? Isn't it ironic that your point of view is responsible for something that, as you state in your article, is "scary?"

One final comment we'd like to make is that, in the end, what it all boils down to is taking a stand. You're either for abortions or you're against abortions. The issue here is not choice. That's some soap opera issue that people who are for abortions came up with to support their view and ease guilty consciences

This whole choice thing is nothing but a big smoke screen. Because, make no mistake, the issue here is abortion. The issue here is the killing of unborn, innocent children. And I think it even goes beyond that to a higher, yet simpler theological issue, the battle of good versus evil. And in that battle, evil would have us humans pursuing respect for innocent life.

We're not saying that pro-choicers are evil or that they're condemned to hell. We're not sitting in judgment on anyone because we're definitely not saints. And in the end we'll be judged by God just like everybody else. All we're saying is that maybe more people should look at the abortion issue through the eyes of good versus evil because we don't think they realize how much of a decoy this choice issue is

Louisville's derby season runs all month

Racing fans call the Kentucky Derby the greatest two minutes in sports, with considerable justification: The blend of heart-pounding excitement and nostalgia that imbues stately old Churchill Downs on the first Saturday in May is unforgettable

But for the residents of this city on the Ohio River, derby season lasts a month.

Louisvillians traditionally mark the end of winter by sprucing up their homes and lawns in anticipation of derby time, and the 117year-old horse race is such a central event that even folk wisdom -"plant tomatoes on Derby Day and start eating them on the Fourth of July" - is based on it.

The Kentucky Derby Museum, at Churchill Downs, at 704 Central Avenue, says "every day is Derby Day" within its steeple-topped, white-clapboard quarters. Its Multimedia show, large collection of educational exhibits and memorabilia and guided tours of Churchill Downs provide a postgraduate education in racing.

The museum is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. except on Oaks Day, Derby Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas. Admission is $3.50, $2.50 for those 55 and over and $1.50 for children 5 to 12. For more information call (502) 637-1111.

Salem girls rout Glenn

Plymouth Salem swept the relays and won every running event Thursday while disposing of host Westland John Glenn 91-37 in girls track.

Theresa Giacherio won both hurdle races, and Tonya Wheeler, Marcia Parker and Stacey Witthoff assisted in two relay victories in addition to winning one individual event each.

Giacherio ran the high hurdles in 16.2 and the intermediate hurdles in 48.0.

Wheeler won the 400-meter dash in 1:02.3, Witthoff the 800 run in 2:36.3 and Parker the 200 dash in 27.5. Vanessa Benning won the 100 with a 13.1 time and also anchored one relay team.

Sarah Hamilton, Parker and Dana Driscoll comprised three quarters of the 400 and 800 units. Benning anchored the former (52.9) and Wheeler the latter (1:50.3) Witthoff, Lynda Sebestven, Courtney Sheldon and Wheeler won the 1,600 relay in 4:27. Sebestyen, Nicole Zavisa, Kelly Stankov and Witthoff finished the 3,200 relay in 11:01.

The Rocks also got first places from Alysia Sofios in the long jump (15-3), Karen Boudreau in the 1,600 run (5:38.8) and Emily Farrell in the 3,200 run

Salem leads the Lakes Division with a 4-0 record

Chiefs win girls dual

Four girls had two first places apiece as Plymouth Canton trounced visiting Northville 102-26 in track and field Thursday Park

The Chiefs, who won every individual event and two relays, lead the Western Division with a 4-0 record and stand 4-1 overall.

Olive Ikeh won the 100-meter dash (13.6), Kim Gudeth the 800 run (1:02.7) and Becky Bockstanz the 200 dash (28.2). Each one also contributed to a relay Bockstanz, Ikeh, Alicia King and Ndu Okwuma bua posted a 54.7 time in the 400 relay. Christie Saffron, Karina Kilpelainen, Michelle Dean and Gudeth combined to win the 1,600 relay in 4:19.9.

Selena Bastine was a double winner in the field events, winning the shot put (32-4) and discus (97-5). Stephanie Gray won the high jump (5-2) and Heather Pastor the long jump (15-3).

Other Canton winners were Erin Shriber in the 100 hurdles (17.9), Angela Fountain, 300 hurdles (51.2); Lana Boroditsch, 800 run (2:25.6); Laura McWilliams, 1,600 run (5:54.9); and Kathleen Landelius, 3 200 run (12:44.3).

Rockets topple Salem

Plymouth Salem suffered its first division loss in boys track Thursday when visiting Westland John Glenn claimed a 93-44 victory.

Derek Cudini led the Rocks with two wins in the distance races, posting times of 4:42 in the 1,600meter run and 10:16.9 in the 3,200.

He also was the leadoff runner on the 3,200 relay team. Cudini, Mike Wouters, Steve Boudreau and Jayson McDonald won the race with an 8:31.3 time.

Salem's only other first places came from Jeff Schumacher in the shot put (43-41/2) and Josh Stickney in the 800 run (2:08).

The Rocks are 3-1 in the Lakes Division and tied with Farmington for second place. Salem is 3-2 overall. The Rockets are 4-0 and 6-2.

Plymouth Canton has a competitive boys team, also, but the same is true of several others in the Western Division. That has made the dual-meet season frustrating for the Chiefs, who dropped to 1-3 after losing 77-60 to host Northville on Thursday.

Brett Kearney won the 800 run in 2:03.8 and helped Canton win the 3,200 relay. Kearney, Justin McClain, Matt Demey and Dave Washenko put together an 8:40.7 time in the relay.

The Chiefs, 3-3 overall, won all the individual middle distance events and one hurdles contest. Craig Miller ran the 400 dash in 52.4, Jeff Keith the 1,600 run in 4:50.2, Dave Yack the 3,200 run in 10:31.8 and John Martin the intermediate hurdles in

Mercy golfers unbeaten

Farmington Hills Mercy won its 10th consecutive dual meet without a loss Thursday, defeating Livonia Franklin 204-216 at Idylwylde Golf Course in Senior Kristyn Schulkins fired a 44 to lead the Marlins. Sommer Woods shot 51, Dana Deshaw 54, Amy Schulkins and Lindsey Baiers 55 each.

CC takes lacrosse win

Redford Catholic Central led throughout and defeated the University of Detroit-Jesuit High 6-5 Thursday in a lacrosse game hosted by the Cubs.

CC, No. 3 ranked in the state, improved to 10-3 overall and 6-2 in Division I. U-D-Jesuit is 4-3. Brian Rice scored two goals for the winners while Brian Ronayne, Tim Williams, Matt Holtz and Justin Ronayne added one each.

Chiefs pursue softball title

The Western Lakes softball champion will be determined today, and state-ranked Plymouth Canton hopes to be the team on the winning end. The Chiefs face Walled Lake Central in the title game.

Plymouth Canton won the Western Division softball title and the right to play for the league championship despite losing its last divisional game Thursday to Northville.

Canton lost 4-3 to the Mustangs the only team to beat Canton - but still finished a game ahead of Livonia Churchill and Northville.

The Chiefs, who play host to Walled Lake Central in the Western Lakes Activities Association final today, ended 8-2 in the division, the Chargers and Mustangs 7-3.

Canton would have won a tie breaker with Churchill if the Chargers hadn't lost their last game to Livonia Franklin and the teams had tied. The Chiefs were 13-2 overall prior to tournament play Saturday.

Four errors cost the Chiefs in the game at Northville. Kelly Holmes (8-1) suffered her first loss despite pitching a two-hitter, striking out 10 and walking Stacey Nyland was the winning pitcher, giving up seven hits, walking four and hitting two batters.

She helped her cause with two hits, driving in one run and scoring twice. Nyland scored the winning run in the bottom of the sixth inning. She raced home from second when a fly ball dropped in the infield.

Dani Mortiere and Nicole Sequin had two hits each for Canton and, along with Karrie Drinkhahn, knocked in one run apiece.

Accomplishing an incredible feat Wednesday, Holmes struck out 24 batters and pitched a no-hitter in a seven-inning, 7-2 victory over visiting Walled Lake Western.

The only opposing baserunners were the result three strikeouts followed by passed balls. Holmes has 166 strikeouts

Becky Harvey (three RBI) and Lacascio had three hits apiece for Central, which finished 8-2 in the division. The Vikings are 12-7 overall.

Jenny Garvey was the losing pitcher, giving up 11 hits and four walks. Salem finished third in the division at 7-3 and plays host to Northville today. Westland John Glenn tied Central for first Carrie Cassinski (9-1), who pitched Central to the WLAA title against Canton two years ago, tossed a three-hit complete game.

'We can be down 20-0, but we don't give up," Central coach Gordon Glennie said. "The kids know if we play our game we can beat anybody.

On Wednesday, Dawn Marrocco went 3-for-3, drove in two runs and scored two runs as the Rocks defeated visiting North Farmington 8-2. Garvey went the distance, scattering five hits. She struck out six and walked two.

Rocks top Vikes 5-4 in Lakes

After being eliminated from title contention earlier in the week, Plymouth Salem spoiled Walled Lake Central's championship hopes Friday with a 5-4 win at home.

North Farmington and Central shared the Lakes Division title with 8-2 records while the Rocks, who dropped a doubleheader to North on Wednesday, finished third at 7-3.

The Raiders won a tiebreaker with Central and will play host to Walled Lake Western in the Western Lakes Activities Association final today. The Rocks and Plymouth Canton will play

"By the same token, we played well and hit the ball hard, and good things happen to teams that play hard.

"I'm happy to be 10-4. I'm not sure many people expected that of us. We've got the state tournament ahead of us and, if we play well, we can make a run at the district title."

Chris Tomas (5-0) pitched a complete game against the Vikings, scattering eight hits and walking two. Steve Rabaut worked two innings and gave up three runs, developing a sore arm and taking the loss.

Salem's Jeff Hopson had a two-run single during a three-run first inning and doubled in the sixth to put runners at second and third. Brandon Los hit a pinch-hit, two-run single to score Hopson and Curt Singleton for a 5-2 lead.

Madonna eliminated from tourney

It was not the finish Mike George had hoped for. Then again, noting the performance of the Madonna University baseball team he has coached over the last three weeks, he wasn't too surprised, either.

gratifying baseball win over Walled Lake Central.

Madonna's stay in the double-elimination NAIA District 23 Tournament was the shortest of the four qualifying teams. The Fighting Crusaders lost their first two games, surrendering a total of 26 runs in falling 13-8 to Siena Heights and 13-1 to Spring Arbor Thursday in Adrian.

The two losses left Madonna with a final record of 29-22. That may not seem too bad for a program in its third year of existence, but consider that the Crusaders were 21-6 at one point in the season, and the school records they set for district wins (14, against eight losses) and consecutive wins (14) lose some of their luster.

We didn't play very well at all," admitted George. "We scored a lot of runs, but (Siena Heigts) really hit the ball."

Not playing well was a common description of the Crusaders in the season's latter stages. "We struggled in all facets of the game the last three weeks," said George. "After we went on that (14game, nine-day) road trip, we never got it back."

Reversal of fortunes

Pitching power: Chris Tomas won his fifth game without a loss Friday while guiding Salem to a Madonna's problems started to grow after backto-back doubleheader losses to Spring Arbor and Aquinas April 14-15 turned a 6-2 district ledger to 6-6. Starting with the Spring Arbor losses, Madonna went 8-16 the rest of the season.

On their road trip to Chicago, Midland and Grand Rapids, more problems cropped up. George was forced to discipline six players, sending them home before the trip-ending doubleheader at Grand Rapids Baptist.

George won't discuss the problems any further, calling it a closed matter. But he acknowledges there were some problems that will be addressed during the off-season.

We need to change some things and (team) attitude is on the list," he said. "I'm not pointing the finger at anybody but myself. But we just didn't have a good chemistry on this team.

The Crusaders certainly didn't have what it takes against Siena Heights in Thursday's first game. Against Madonna, the Saints had lost threeof-four during the regular season and were 2-6 on their home field over the last three years.

But they didn't waste any time Thursday, scoring 10 runs in four innings off Crusader ace Chris Kloc. An all-district selection, Kloc came into the game with a 5-1 record and a 0.91 earned run average, but the senior right-hander was hammered this time, surrendering 10 runs (seven earned) on eight hits and two walks in 31/3 innings.

Hit hard in opener

"That's the hardest I've seen Kloc hit - ever." said George. "He has to rely on placing the ball, and he got some pitches up. They just had his number.

Trailing 10-2, Madonna started to climb back into it with a five-run fifth, a rally that started with two out. The Crusaders put together six-consecutive hits, with Joe Brusseau opening it with a single. Ernie Bowling doubled him home, and Bowling scored on a Jeff Kugelman double.

Bill Terski singled Kugelman in with the third run of the inning, and T.C. Raptis doubled in Terski with the fourth. Kevin O'Connor's single scored Raptis, making it 10-7.

But Madonna would get no closer, despite its 13-hit attack. Lou McKaig relieved Kloc, but wasn't any more effective, allowing two runs on four hits in 11/2 innings. Raptis went to the mound next and he was sharp, giving up just one run on two hits in 31/2 innings.

"He pitched an excellent game," North coach Irv Horwitz said. "We just took advantage of some fantastic breaks.

Salem took a 3-2 lead in the fourth with a bases-loaded error after base hits by Ed Gundry, Chip Wadowski and Singleton and Danek's two-run single.

Senior left-hander Josh Tobias went the distance to get the win in the first game. He allowed only five hits and one walk.

"He doesn't overpower anybody," Horwitz said, adding Tobias is returning to form after being hit in the knee with a line drive before Easter vacation. "He just puts the ball over the plate. He was never really in trouble and did a fantastic Jehle had two hits and scored two runs, Temple had two hits and three RBI and Wilks scored three runs. Jehle, Horwitz and Sturtz batted in one run each.

Dan Hutchinson worked 41/3 innings and was tagged with the loss. Singleton had two hits and Gundry one RBI for the Rocks.

NORTHVILLE 7, CANTON 1: The Chiefs lost an unprecedented fifth straight game Thursday, falling to 5-5 in the Western Division and third place in the final stand-

"In 18 years, I've never had any thing like it," Canton coach Fred Crissey said. "There's not much I can say other than we played a whole slate of games (seven in six days) in a short amount of time.'

The Chiefs (9-8) trailed 2-1 until Northville scored five times in the seventh inning. Dean Rovenelli took the loss. Mike Stafford drove in Canton's run with a double, and Jon Stimac had two hits.

On Wednesday, Canton lost a double-header to Western, 7-6 and 3-0. Winning pitcher Eric Christensen held the Chiefs off long enough in the first game to allow his teammates to rally for the nine-inning victory. He yielded four hits and one walk while striking out seven.

Christensen was backed by a 4for-5 batting performance by Mike Zielinski. Andy Nicholas, Zack Budden and Christensen cracked three hits apiece in the 17-hit Western attack.

In the nightcap, Zielinski evened his record at 2-2 by holding the Chiefs to two hits and striking out 10. He also had three hits, including a bases-loaded triple, and

Farmington trackmen record easy victories

Farmington and North Farmington were lopsided winners in boys track Thursday.

The Falcons are tied with Plym outh Salem for second place in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association after crushing host Walled Lake Central 99-39. Farmington is 3-1 and 3-2 overall.

The Raiders earned their first Lakes victory by trouncing Livonia Stevenson 96-41 at North. The Raiders are 1-4 overall.

Harrison stayed unbeaten in the Western Division at 4-0 by defeating Livonia Churchill 78-59 at home. The host Hawks got thumped in the field events but rebounded on the track.

Jason Tucker had four firsts to lead Farmington, winning two field events and assisting in a pair of relay victories. His individual wins came in the high jump (5-8) and the long jump (20-2).

Ryan Lewis, Tucker and Chris Marting were on the winning 400 and 800 relay teams, which had respective times of 46.3 and 1:40.8.

Nigel Whitt, who rounded out the 400 unit, and Kevin Koshowsky, who helped in the 800, also had individual wins. Whitt won the 100 dash (11.7) and Koshowsky the 800 run (56.6).

The Falcons also had firsts in the field events from John Bouchard, discus (118-6); and B.J. Richardson, pole vault (11-0). Dan Martinovsky won the high hurdles in Farmington dominated in the distance runs, with Dave Clinard winning the 800 (2:03.1), Tom May the 1,600 (4:54) and Kevin Afflerbaugh the 3,200 (10:33.4).

The Falcons also won the 3,200

runs in which Afflerbaugh, Pat O'Dell, Tripp Adams and Mike

Robles finished with a 9:08.5 time. North's Damon Hall, Bill Folger, Tony Catchings and Ryan Deuel had three firsts each, including two as members of relays teams.

The Raiders won the 100, 200, 400 and 800 races with Hall (11.6), Folger (24.1), Catchings (51.0) and Deuel (2:1-1.8), respectively.

Folger, Colby Sanders, Hall and Chris Rainoldi won the 400 and 800 relays with 47.0 and 1:36.7 times.

Catchings and Deuel were on the winning 1,600 and 3,200 relays teams, combining with Swapneel Desai and Matt Link in the former (3:43.7) and D.J. Otani and Yasu Kunieda in the latter (8:46.1).

In the field events, Desai won the long jump (18-91/2) and teammates Vern Ratliff the shot put (43-214), Mike Poissant the discus (124-6) and Keith Yanachik (9-6).

Harrison didn't win a field or hurdle event but captured first place in every other open running event and three relays. The Hawks are 5-0 overall.

Duante Anderson won the 100 and 200 dashes in 10.9 and 22.1 and was on two relays.

Jason Zdyrski was a double winner in the 1,600 and 3,200 runs with times of 4:52.4 and 10:01.7 and was on a relay team, too.

Jason Dreyer, Anderson and Roy Granger ran in the 400 and 800 relays. Scott Gurke anchored the 400 team (45.3) and Gil Chavez was part of the 800 unit (1:33.9).

The Hawks also won the 3,200 relay with Dreyer, Zdryski, Matt Zimmerer and Mike Deans running 8 23.9. Other Harrison winners were Todd Wood in the 400 dash (53.5) and Justin Dreyer in the 800 run

Teams win close duals

Farmington and Harrison, despite losing the last event, had built strong enough leads to withstand dual-meet challenges in girls track Thursday.

The Falcons topped visiting Walled Lake Central 67-61, and the Hawks edged host Livonia Churchill 66-62.

Team depth was crucial for Farmington, which won only six individual events and one relay.

Becky Washnock, Sheri Ylitalo and Kay Rodgers had two firsts each. Washnock won the shot put (33-6) and discus (101-2), Ylitalo both hurdle races with 18.0 and 51.9

Rodgers won the 200-meter dash in 28.5 and anchored the 400 relay team, which included Colleen Wellsing, Amber Reierson and Candice Enerio and had a 55.2 time. Farmington's only other first came from Andrea Salyer in the high jump (4-8). The Falcons are 2-2 in the Lakes Division and 3-2 overall.

Harrison is 3-1 in the Western Division and 3-2 overall:

Harrison also relied on its depth to defeat the Chargers, winning the same number of individual events and relays as Farmington.

Precious morels not just 'any' mushroom orel mushrooms bring out the spring madness: Mycophiles mislead old friends to guard a secret woodland cache of the precious fungus, or pay exorbitant prices in the marketplace to take them home. Many guests will spend hours waiting in line at restaurants that will soon be offering this fleeting delight, if but just for a very

If you haven't guessed it by now, morel mushrooms have just about defied all efforts of cultivation in captivity. I say "just about" because a small company in Mason, Michigan has devised a growing medium that produces a morel similar to the wild variety and presently, they are available solely for commercial use. Lacking the "wild" taste, the morels look similar but that's about where the similarity ends. The only known sources are obscure backyards where sunshine is filtered through pine needles and towering elms or a lucky friend, relative or neighbor who 'knows just the right spot.'

Morel hunters secretive

Thank God for Aunt Phyllis. A former Glen Lake native now with roots Downriver, we have, on numerous occasions, set off with five pound onion-sack bags in hand, searching for what is known as "the lobster of the mushroom kingdom." In all honesty, many times we have returned with little more than the empty sacks, but on more than one occasion, have gathered more than our fill of the delectable

By the way, if you're waiting for me to divulge Aunt Phyllis' secret morel hideout, forget it. Not only would I be banned from any future family culinary outings, but in all honesty, all I remember is getting in the car and driving down these dusty roads passing cherry orchards and a cemetery with 100-year-old gravemarkers. Only then did we exit our vehicles to begin what was billed as a "don't worry Larry Lee, I know where we're going" hike over ridges and hills. All this without the use of a compass or hardly being able to see the sun through the towering trees. All this for a mushroom? Definitely, especially when we're talking about the elusive morel

Beware of false morels

A morel is not just "any" mushroom. This thinfleshed, spongy, dark-brown, yellow or off-white mushroom is shaped like a hollowed-out Christmas tree with a pitted cap and can be as small as a wild strawberry or as large as a lamb chop. The flavor varies, but personally I liken it to warm autumn leaves, hazelnuts and nutmeg. Richly flavored bevond compare, they should fall into the category of truffles and caviar leaving taste to the beholder.

Ah, but Mother Nature is a sly old lass and unfortunately, has planted false morels or Gyromitras to evade the uninformed mycophile. False morels, unlike regular morels, have caps that look like convoluted brains and are not cone shaped. In addition, the stems are thick and chambered while true morels have straight and hollow stems.

If this is your first time for mushroom hunting of any kind, it's best to have someone along like Aunt Phyllis who knows the area and has the experience to point out real morels. To an untrained eye, it's like picking out the cubic zirconia in a mound of real diamonds. Once you learn the focusing technique, spotting them gets easier, it's locating them first which is the most difficult.

Handle morels with care

Not that I've ever been in a position to pass up any morel sprouting from the earthen floor, the avid morelite should look for mushrooms that have a sweet, earthy and nutty smell. Discard sour smells and especially ones with a slight "animal aroma" (if you catch my drift).

Never drop them into a regular bag or worse yet, plastic as they will spoil easily. Seasoned pickers recycle using string-mesh sacks that potatoes and onions come in at the grocery store.

Because of their maze of honeycombed ridges, morels are perfect partners for sauces, much of which they absorb. The simpler the sauce, the better. A simple warming of heavy cream with just a sprinkling of beef bouillon envelopes the sliced morels into ecstasy, especially when served over a thick, juicy

If you are lucky enough to find some, clean morels just before you cook them and never before. They can be stored in the fridge in a colander in the vegetable crisper for one or two days. Remove the heavy tip of the base and slice in half from top to bottom. It's best not to soak them, but since they do grow from the ground, a good washing to remove sand and dirt is unfortunately, a must. Immediately blot dry, then cook. Never eat raw morels as they can make many Dried morels are available at many gourmet shops.

Sugar sweetens old-time spring favorite

Sometimes called pieplant, rhubarb is one of the few perennial vegetables. Cooks treat it like a fruit, and add sugar to sweet the tart red stalks. First cultivated in China for its medicinal qualities, rhubarb is a springtime treat here and in Europe.

BY KEELY WYGONIK STAFF WRITER

The red fleshy stalks that look a little. like celery are just starting to spring from the ground, heralding another growing season.

Rita Mason of Bloomfield Township, past president of the Cranbrook House and Garden Auxiliary, gets a kick out it. "My mother-in-law had it in her yard in Detroit 30 years ago," said Mason. "She gave us part of one of her plants when we moved to our first house in Al-

When Mason and her family moved to Bloomfield Township, the rhubarb moved, too

"My mother always cooked it when spring came. It was supposed to be good for you.

Chinese physicians prescribed rhubarb externally as a treatment for cuts and burns, and internally in small amounts for dissentery. Rhubarb contains some Vitamin C and has laxative

Gail Felker of Farmington Hills is also a rhubarb fan.

"We used to have it for breakfast as a side dish," she said. "I cook it in a pan with a little water, on low heat, and add sugar. Eventually the rhubarb will come apart and becomes mushy like applesauce. It's pink."

Add 1/2 to 3/4 cups of sugar per pound of rhubarb. For extra flavor, dot with butter and sprinkle a little cinnamon or ground ginger on top.

If you don't like your rhubarb mushy, cut it into one-inch pieces, add sugar, and bake at 350 for about 1/2 hour.

Mason peels rhubarb before she uses it, "otherwise it gets stringy." Rhubarb can be frozen. Add a little sugar to the water and blanch it for a minute or two. Remove and put in freezer bags or containers to enjoy later: Bob and Peg Christina of Rochester grow rhubarb in their garden.

"I remember having stewed rhurbarb as a child," said Peg. "I've since discovered some other recipes for rhubarb like rhubarb bread.

They used to have four plants, now they have two. "It's a very hardy plant and grows profusely," said Peg. "It likes the sun and isn't fussy about soil.

Rhubarb is the slang word for heated argument, and it's probably caused ~ plenty in households where the person doing the gardening doesn't like the fined place, otherwise it will take over the yard," said Mason winner of the 1990 President's Award for Excellence awarded by the Cranbrook Educational Community.

"As far as growing, put it in a con-

Rhubarb leaves are rather large, up to 2 feet, and tend to spread. One plant will produce enough rhubarb to make a dozen pies with some left over to freeze.

Pick rhubarb for pies and desserts early. As the plant matures, the stalks get woodier. Use this rhubarb for sauces

If you're thinking of growing rhubarb, you'll have to wait two years to harvest the fruits of your labor, that's how long it takes for the plant to mature.

Stalks should be pulled out of the ground, not cut. Don't eat freshly picked rhubarb, it's very sour. Don't eat the leaves, you could become ill. They contain poisonous oxalic acid salts.

The Cranbrook House and Garden Auxiliary is having their popular plant sale 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 13, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Thursday, May 14, at Cranbrook House on Cranbrook at Lone Pine Road.

Make ahead meal perfect for merry month of May

Perhaps it is no coincidence that the aptly-named "May Day" distress signal is heard coming out of so many kitchens in this merry month of May. For next to December, this month seems to be for many people one of the busiest months of the year, as well as being the gateway to sum-

A transitional month, May brings graduations, weddings, end-of-theschool year activities, spring cleaning and gardening. Who has time to cook when there are so many things pulling in other directions? And yet, with a little bit of planning and advance preparation, delicious meals, like this week's Winner Dinner, can be put together, providing a solution to nightly mealtime maneuvers.

Submitted by Cindy Carney of Bloomfield Village, this week's winning menu includes recipes for barbecued beef brisket, cheesy potato casserole, a crunchy salad tossed with Burt Reynold's salad dressing and bagel crisps.

This is a terrific menu for those on the go as it can be made in advance and heated just prior to serving. It is ideally suited for casual entertaining. Tasty and full of flavor, this dinner will be as welcome at your table as the flowers in

RHUBARB CRUMBLE

- 4 cups (about 114 pounds diced rhubarb) 3 Granny Smith apples, peeled, cored and thinly
- sliced
- 3/4 cup honey 11/2 tablespoons cornstarch
- teaspoon ground cardamom Topping
- cup unbleached flour
- oup firmly packed light brown sugar
- teaspoon cinnamon
- 4 teaspoon salt 5 tablespoons cold unsalted
- butter, cut into bits
- 2 tablespoons slivered almonds

Preheat the oven to 350 F. In a large bowl, combine the rhubarb, apples, honey, cornstarch, and cardamom. Pour the fruit into an 8x8x2-inch baking pan and smooth the top.

To make the topping: Combine the flour, brown sugar, cinnamon, and salt in a medium A. Add the butter bits and ir to coat. With your fingertips, rub the butter into the mixture until coarse crumbs form. Stir in the almonds. Sprinkle the crumbs over the top of the rhufresh nut butters You'll go nuts over for fresh flavor by making your own nut butters. Just give them a whirl in your food processor or blender.

There's no rule that says you have to use peanuts. Almonds, pecans, walnuts and cashews can turn that ho hum sandwich into a lunchtime splurge. Follow the easy directions below for each kind of nut. Then spread your choice on toast or bread and see if it passes the ultimate test - sticking to the roompf of your moumpth! Nuts to Use

Almond: Use two cups of Peanut butter lovers! Go blanched whole almonds. If only unblanched almonds are available at your store, blanch them this way: Place the almonds in a saucepan and cover with water. Bring to boiling, then drain. The skins should slip off easily when you press each almond between your thumb and forefinger. Dry on paper towels. Spread the dry almonds in a shall low baking pan and toast in a 300degree F oven about 20 minutes or until golden. Cool for 5 minutes before processing or blending.

Cashew: Process or blend two cups of roasted cashews.

Peanut: Use two cups of cocktail peanuts. (Dry roasted peanuts usually give a grainier texture.)

Pecan: Use two cups of pecans. You can toast the pecans if you like. Spread the nuts in a shallow baking pan and toast in a 300-degree F oven for 20 minutes. Cool for 5 minutes before processing or blending.

Walnut: Process or blend two cups of walnuts. (This butter has the darkest color and strongest flavor.) How to Make It

To make the nut butter, place the steel blade in your food processor work bowl or use your blender. Add the plain or toasted nuts. Cover and process or blend until a butter forms, stopping occasionally to scrape the sides of the bowl or blender a few times.

Keep processing for three to five minutes or until all of the mixture is evenly blended. Process about two minutes more or until the butter is the desired smoothness. Store in a covered container in your refrigerator for up to two weeks. Bring to room temperature for easier spreading. Makes about 11/4 cups.

sert if you're trying to eat more healthfully. Smart substitutions and reasonable portions can keep calories and fat in check while sat? isfying the sweetest of sweet tooths. 7 you get started updating favorite dessert recipes. It's best to make just one substitution at a time." That way if the results aren't ideal, you'll know why.

Sugar. In most recipes, you can cut up to 25 percent of the sugar -1/4 cup in a recipe calling for 1 cup sugar - with no loss in quality. (Meringues are an exception.) Trim 200 calories with every quarter cup of sugar you omit. When making pies, cobblers, shortcakes and other fruit desserts, be sure to use the ripest fruit you can find - it will be the sweetest.

Cholesterol. Eggs are one of the biggest contributors of cholesterol in desserts. Every yolk you eliminate saves 250 milligrams of cholesterol. Switch to egg whites (2 whites equal one whole egg), use a combination of whole eggs and egg whites, or try one of the egg substitutes. Using margarine instead of butter also will reduce cholesterol - but not calories.

Fat. Try cutting back on the amount of fat in baked products by one or two tablespoons. Substitute low-fat or nonfat dairy products for the whole milk varieties. Bake a two-crust pie. Replace a flour and shortening crust with a crumb crust made with whole grain oats, flour and just enough melted margarine to hold the ingredients together. A few basic guidelines will help," Skip the frosting and accompany slices of cake with a fruit puree, a scoop of frozen yogurt or a non-fat chocolate sauce made with cocoa. Fill and top fruit shortcakes with low-fat vanilla yogurt instead of whipped cream.

> The Quaker Kitchens put these basic guidelines to the test by creating a frozen pie and fresh fruit tart.

Cool and creamy Not-So-Sinful Sundae Pie is a great make-ahead treat and easy to do. The crunchy oat crust goes together in minutes. Cool and fill with softened vanilla yogurt, then wrap tightly and freeze until ready to serve.

You won't need a rolling pin or pastry making skills to bake Peach Melba Cookie Tarts. These individual tarts use a quick oat shortbread crust that is shaped by hand directly on the cookie sheet. Just before serving, arrange the sliced peaches on top, brush with warmed fruit preserves and garnish with fresh raspberries for a professional finish.

Fresh Approach Market caters to busy customers

Since they put up the awning, more people are noticing Fresh Approach Meats, Produce and Deli at 35243 Grand River in Farming-

Fresh Approach has been open a little over a year, and business is picking up. "We're working hard to let people know what we're doing," said Jim Welch.

"Service is the key. We have happy, pleasant people working here who haven't forgotten how to say 'thank you.' If the cashier gets two people in line, someone else opens."

The store is clean and spacious. There's a variety of in-season fresh fruits and vegetables, and some hard to find items like fresh herbs

If you're looking for something different and colorful for your salad, try the edible flowers. "When you put them on your salad plate, it explodes with color," said Welch, a journeyman meat cutter.

He's no stranger to the business, his family owns the Hollywood Supermarkets. "I've been working in markets since I was eight, when my dad hired me to put bottles away," said Welch.

Fresh Approach offers some items in bulk like whole boneless New York strip steaks, whole boneless beef briskets, and ground chuck. The chicken breasts sold in five pound bags are a popular item.

They also sell a variety of fresh fish from Foley's Fishery in Boston.

"We have been coming here off and on for the last year," said Cheryl Tunick of Southfield, "They have a nice selection of fruit, and some delicious steak."

Fresh Approach offers vegetable lasanga, chicken stuffed with spinach, Mozarella cheese, and other homemade fillings that can be heated in the oven while you unwind for a quick, fuss-free dinner.

Bakery items from Baker's Loaf and Burghardt's are also available. Store hours are 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. For information, call 442-2160.

Here's one of Jim Welch's favor-

Black Forest-style cake bakes in your microwave

AP - Word of mouth says your microwave oven is no place to bake a cake. But, the truth be known, with the right recipe, you can produce delicious results - and save significant time in the process. This Black Forest-style cake, for instance, cooks in one-third the time of a typical pound cake ring.

The secret to this cake's success is the ordinary ring-shaped baking dish you can buy at any cookware store. Because there isn't a center, you don't have to worry about it not cooking, a common microwave problem.

And, if you're looking for the brownness and crustiness that you expect from conventionally baked cakes, no problem. You simply coat the pan with a little wheat germ.

Our test kitchen has found that microwave-cooked cakes tend to dry out faster than conventionally baked ones. So, should your cake not disappear on the spot, cover it

BLACK FOREST CAKE RING 1/4 cup toasted wheat germ

2 cups all-purpose flour 3/4 cup sugar 1 teaspoon baking soda 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon 1/8 teaspoon salt

2 eggs 1/2 cup cooking oil 2 teaspoons vanilla One 21-ounce can cherry pie filling

One 6-ounce package (1 cup) semisweet chocolate pieces 1 cup chopped walnuts

Generously grease a 10-inch microwave-safe fluted tube pan Coat with wheat germ; set aside In a large mixing bowl stir together flour, sugar, baking soda, cinnamon and salt; set aside.

In a small mixing bowl beat eggs; stir in cooking oil and va-filling to flour mixture; mix well. Stir in chocolate pieces and walnuts. Spread batter evenly in the prepared dish.

Cook, uncovered, on 50 percent power (medium) for 18 minutes, giving the dish a quarterturn every 5 minutes. If not done, cook on 100 percent power (high) for 30 seconds to 3 minutes or until surface is nearly dry. (For low-wattage ovens, cook on high power for 17 to 20 minutes.) To check doneness, scratch a slightly wet spot on the surface with a wooden toothpick. The cake should be cooked underneath.

Cool the cake in the dish on a wire rack for 15 minutes. Invert the cake onto the wire rack and remove the dish. Cool thoroughly. Cover tightly after cooling. Makes 12 to 14 servings.

It's Prom Time

Veet John. He will graduate this June. He's on his way to pick up his tux for his senior party. John's an average student and will graduate somewhere in the middle of his class. He's the kind of young man that, if anything happened to him, people would say, "he was such a nice boy, loved sports and was always so willing to help you—not like some of these kids today." However, nothing is going to happen to John on prom night because he doesn't drink or use drugs. It's not that he's what the kids call a "dork," it's just that he thinks substance abuse is stupid. And, in this, he's smart. Very smart. He knows that the number one cause of death in teens is drinking or drug related automobile crashes and that drinking and driving claims the lives of thousands of teens and adults each year.* All right! John!

Observer & Eccentric

Looking for someone special?

A bowling partner, a travel companion or someone to share your life?

On Monday, May 4, 1992, your Observer & Eccentric Newspapers will begin publishing a PERSONAL SCENE directory listings of people who are looking for people.

There will be five classifications—men seeking women, women seeking men, people who want to share sports interests, seniors who need companionship and people who need someone with whom to travel.

PERSONAL SCENE also takes advantage of our electronic age. When you've composed your five-line listing. which will run free for eight issues, call 591-0900 and our ad takers will be happy to help you record your message so that it can be heard by people who are interested in what you've said in your ad.

You will never receive unwanted calls at your home; all responses will be recorded and left in your electronic PERSONAL SCENE message center.

Note: It will cost $1.49 per minute to check the responses to your listing.

Readers who wish to respond to a listing in our PERSONAL SCENE directory, may use a touch-tone telephone to call 591-0900 and the special number which will appear in each ad. The cost to do this is also $1.49 per minute.

YOUR PERSONAL PEOPLE CONNECTION 591-0900

Win a dinner for two!

When you place your PERSONAL SCENE ad today -or anytime before May 15, 1992, and you will be eligible to win our special drawing for a $30 gift certificate that entitles you to dinner for two at Mountain Jack's. This special drawing will be held Monday, May 18, 1992. What an ideal way to get acquainted!

Print your ad here. The first five lines are FREE. (Space provided equals one five line ad). There is a one-time $10.00 charge for each additional line. Use additional sheet of paper if necessary. Please include payment for any additional lines

All ads must be paid in advance.

Be creative, honest, include age range, lifestyle, self description, interests and the type of person you are looking for:

An era ends for NBC's 'Tonight Show'

Carson casts long shadow

By Suzanne Gill

It was inevitable and we knew it. Someday Johnny Carson, like Jack Parr. Steve Allen and others less memorable before him, would retire as host of "The Tonight Show." In May 1991, Carson caught the network by surprise when he announced that he considered this his final season On Friday, May 22, he will sit behind the desk as host for the last time.

Carson's retirement isn't as serious an event as many he has helped us mark, the first moon landing, the painful late '60s, the fall of communism and seven-and-a-half presidential campaign seasons. It's a milestone nonetheless, and his three decades' tenure is an achievement not likely to be matched in television. The jester who first sat on the throne on Oct. 2. 1962 (he was introduced by Groucho Marx), can rightfully claim the

For years, this retirement business seemed like a game. Each autumn, there has been an anniversary show: 23 years, 27 years; who could take it seriously? There were guest hosts, then permanent guest hosts, then expermanent guest hosts. Johnny was off on Mondays, he was off on Tuesdays, and about half the time he was off on vacation. Then there were his wives, who were known to divorce him. Surely he would have to keep working just to meet his alimony payments

The show business equivalent of panic set in shortly after the beginning of the new year. That's when the phone started ringing with requests from the famous and the wannabes to make a date to visit Johnny, whether for the first time or the last. Carson added four Tuesday appearances to his schedule, but seating on the Carson couch is limited; bookings were full more than a month ago.

It isn't just Johnny Carson who leaves "The Tonight Show" on Friday Sidekick Ed McMahon, who has been laughing at Johnny's jokes since the beginning, and bandleader and sartorial scapegoat Doc Severinsen (along with the band) will disappear as well. Behind the scenes, a score of Carson staffers, who have produced the show for over a decade, also find themselves at a turning point.

Among them is co-producer Jim McCawley, who has booked comedians and others on the show for 15 years. For a comedian, a sixminute shot on "The Tonight Show" is both a rite of passage and a launching pad to fame. McCawley has arranged first "Tonight Show bookings for Eddie Murphy

Gallagher, Garry Shandling, Roseanne Bar, Sam Kinison, Paul Reiser and Keenen Ivory Wayans.

"The very first call I made was to David Letterman." McCawley remembers. Letterman, who had his pride even then, had already auditioned six times and wouldn't submit again McCawley wisely said McCawley does much of his work away from the office. He is a regular at comedy clubs, where he offers pointers even when he isn't ready to extend the coveted booking He's watched some comics work 10 years to get ready for latenight. Others have never worked out, and McCawley cites the comedy franchises of "certain cable channels" for spoiling many a young comedian for "Tonight.

We are the last bastion of standards of good taste and decency in broadcasting in the comedy world. And Jay (Leno) will continue that tradition because he shares those values

Even when Aunt Blabby, Carnac and the Mighty Carson Art Players have left the stage.
