Sewer project called a success

Officials say they are seeing benefits from the $91 million sewer project serving Plymouth and other western Wayne County communities. The Plymouth Township board recently approved the project's budget.

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

Benefits to residents from the creation of the $91 million Western Townships Utilities Authority system are exceeding the expectations of member communities, Plymouth Township, Canton and Northville Township, officials said.

The WTUA system was conceived in the early 1980s as the townships had no control over rising costs charged through the Wayne County sewer system. It was completed last year.

And while costs to send sewage through the system, at 98 cents per 1,000 gallons, are higher than the 85 cents per 1,000 gallons charged by the county, officials say the time is approaching when the WTUA rate will be lower than that charged by the county.

Plymouth Township Supervisor Kathleen Keen McCarthy said officials had projected by this time to be paying 78 cents per 1,000 gallons to the county — which has raised rates 7 cents higher per 1,000 gallons than local officials had projected.

"We think the rates are going to cross in the next two or three years,"

McCarthy said.

To get the cost savings still offered by using the county system, Plymouth Township now sends about two thirds of its sewage to the county.

While Plymouth Township's contract with the county runs through 2011, McCarthy said that once rates become favorable for only using the WTUA system, the township could sell off its contracted sewage capacity with the county to another community seeking more capacity.

Winning gourd: Anne and Michael Clemente's "Hercules Club" gourd was found hiding under some corn in the family garden in Plymouth Township.

Gourd takes top honors at Fall Festival

Anne and Michael Clemente's 16-inch "Hercules Club" gourd won a first-place ribbon at the Fall Festival.

While the Clemente family has grown gourds and other vegetables for the last five years in their yard on Barrington, "This one kind of struck the jackpot," said mom Mary Jo Clemente. "We never dreamed it would be that big."

"One evening with my husband my little boy discovered this giant gourd and lifted it up," she said, adding the deep green gourd was hiding under some corn.

The family grows Indian corn, gourds, mini pumpkins, tomatoes, green and yellow beans, green peppers, strawberries, potatoes and flowers. Anne, 4, and Michael, 3, are avid gardeners, mom reports.

"They do everything right from the planting and weeding, harvesting is probably their favorite," she said.

The gourd was shown to Michael's preschool class Wednesday, and was at Anne's kindergarten class Friday.

Like the family's other gourds, the "Hercules Club" gourd will be saved at least until Thanksgiving, to be used as a decoration.

"I think we'll try to follow the directions for drying it," Clemente said. "Someone at the Fall Festival suggested even making a bird feeder out of it."

Honored: Darrell Perry, Jim Pyka and Steve Enders were honored by the Plymouth Rotary on Friday for acting Sept. 3 to pull four people from the burning wreckage of a small plane.

The Plymouth Rotary Club — which counts among its mottoes "Look Beyond Yourself" — on Friday honored the four men who acted quickly to pull four occupants from a small plane that crashed Sept. 3 near Mettetal Airport.

Rotary member and pilot Tom Kennedy said the four honorees — Darrell Perry, Steve Enders, Ron Steakley and Jim Pyka — "gave themselves in a matter we all hope we could do."

His remarks came before nearly 100 Rotarians at the Mayflower Meeting House for a weekly lunch meeting.

The four were honored for spraying water and dry chemical extinguishers to hold back the flames, then pulling the four occupants from the small aircraft, which crash-landed in an industrial park area at General Court and General Drive in Plymouth Township.

Banned Books

Little Professor Book Center downtown is joining librarians and book sellers across the country in their annual campaign against censorship by marking Banned Books Week from Sept. 24-Oct. 1.

"Many would-be book banners act with what they consider to be the highest motives," said Jackie Powers, owner of the Plymouth store.

"However, the results are the same — the denial of another person's right to read," she said.

Among books banned by authorities around the country was "Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee," by an official who said, "If there's a possibility that something might be controversial, then why not eliminate it?" The Alabama State Textbook Committee called in 1983 for rejection of "The Diary of Anne Frank" because they said it was "a real downer."

Powers recalled a quotation from President John F. Kennedy: "For a nation that is afraid to let its people judge the truth and falsehood in an open market is a nation that is afraid of its people."

Book signing

Bill Joyner of Plymouth Township, a former Wayne County commissioner, will sign copies of his two books of poetry 4-6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 25, at the Coffee Bean, 884 Penniman. A portion of sale proceeds will go toward a scholarship fund for music students through the Plymouth-Canton Marching Band Boosters.

Navy women

O pportunities for women in the U.S. Navy have never been better, said Cmdr. Susan Fichte, commanding officer of the Navy Recruiting District Michigan, with an office in Plymouth.

Female and male sailors sleep in separate quarters, but all training is done together. In the fleet, women and men routinely work together ashore and at sea.

Women make up 10.7 percent of Navy personnel and they serve in all enlisted pay grades and in officer ranks up to rear admiral. For more information, call 1-800-USA-NAVY or 425-3660.

Two men sought in bank robbery, car-jacking

BY M.B. DILLON

Canton police and the FBI are seeking tips from anyone with information on a bank robbery shortly after 2 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 14 at the Standard Federal Bank, 44101 Ford Road just east of Sheldon.

No one was hurt in the incident in which an undisclosed amount of cash was taken. Two suspects escaped in a beige Mercury Sable which was car-jacked the same day in Westland.

Police recovered the abandoned Sable Thursday night at the Bedford Villa Apartments. Westland police reported the car-jacking of a beige Mercury Sable from the area of Wayne Road and Cherry Hill.

"We believe the car was stolen out of Westland about 1:30 p.m. and brought into Canton where the robbery occurred just after 2 p.m.," said Officer Tammie Colling.

According to witnesses, the car pulled up in front of the bank and a man entered the building waving a handgun and announcing the hold up. He is described as a black male, between 6 feet and 6-feet-4, dressed in black, with a black baseball cap, a gas mask and surgical gloves.

A second suspect then walked in.

"He grabbed the bank manager while armed with a long-barrel gun," said Colling. "The first suspect approached two separate tellers demanding money, which was placed in a dark garbage bag. The subjects ran outside, jumped into the Mercury and fled the scene."

Witnesses were unable to give police estimated ages of the suspects.

Colling said police believe the vehicle left the bank, went south on Elmhurst to Salts, and eastbound on Salts to the Bedford Villa Apartments on Lilley south of Ford. The vehicle was found in the manager's parking spot.

"We are asking anyone in Bedford Villa or along that route that may have seen the vehicle to call us at 937-3000," Colling said.

Westland police said a 77-year-old woman was sitting in her Sable Wednesday afternoon in the Kmart parking lot at Wayne and Cherry Hill when a man entered the passenger side of her car, which was not locked." He produced a handgun and ordered the Westland resident out of her car.

The suspect is described as a clean-cut black male, 19 years old, with a small build and short black hair.

This was the first bank robbery at Standard Federal. The last Canton bank robbery was four years ago.

Grange pioneer Helen Eckles remembered fondly

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

Helen Melow Eckles - whose apple pies Plymouth Fall Festival goers enjoyed by the thousands for 33 years at the Plymouth Grange - died of cancer Sept. 14 in Plymouth, six weeks shy of her 89th birthday.

She was buried from Schrader-Howell Funeral Home Friday in Canton's historical Cherry Hill Cemetery.

Born Oct. 30, 1905, on her parents' orchard and farm in Plymouth Township, Eckles married the late Claude Eckles. The couple, who had no children, built a house on the Melow farm and never moved.

Plymouth builder Hoyt Mills met Eckles in 1975 when she was forced to build a new house after the state took over part of the family orchard to make way for the M-14 expressway.

After her hospitalization last year, Eckles was transferred to a nursing home. "She was a very determined lady," said Mills. "She checked herself out, and told people about it later," he said.

A lifelong member of the Plymouth Grange, Eckles graduated from Plymouth High School in 1922. She was a member of the Plymouth Historical Society and the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth.

Mills recalled that "after Claude died and Helen's help was petering out, she enlisted my wife Carol and I to give her a hand at the Grange." The Millses never joined the Grange, but "for four or five years, Carol rolled out the pie crust dough and I peeled apples," said Mills, who estimates he peeled eight to 10 bushels of apples.

Fellow Grangers Ruth Strebbing and Louise Tritton helped out with the baking operation, "but Helen was the boss," said Hoyt.

Strebbing honored Eckles at a Grange meeting in July, noting that her close friend baked 340 apple pies for the 1989 Fall Festival, the last year the Grangers occupied their building on Union.

Eckles quickly corrected her, saying, "it was 360. I enjoyed doing that," she added. "I wish I could continue doing that."

Despite her deteriorating health, Eckles continued to serve as treasurer of the farming fraternity, and to make lap quilts for the poor, another Grange activity. Eckles also donated her services, along with other Grangers, to the Michigan School for the Deaf in Flint.

"The Grange was important to her," said Strebbing, who called Eckles "her guiding star. Helen thought more of everyone else than she did of herself. Plymouth was number one to Helen, especially the Plymouth Grange."

Strebbing is establishing a Plymouth Grange educational fund in Eckles' name.

"She wanted contributions to the Grange to go toward furthering education for kids who can't afford it," she said. Donations may be sent in care of Strebbing, 14835 Eckles Road, Plymouth, 48170.

Strebbing admired Eckles for her spunk. "She cut out the material for five quilts not long before she died. She was worried about getting those five quilted. She drove her car up until she broke her hip two years ago."

"I'll remember her big, loving, giving heart and the joy of being with her all these years. She taught me a lot."

Carol Mills said that Eckles, even in her 80s, was game to do things on the spur of the moment. "We had her out for dinner a couple of months ago. We took her to our daughter's in Michigan hockey games and to the Bahamas," she said. "She was game for whatever."

That excluded gambling, however. "She'd stand alongside you at the slot machines," said Hoyt Mills, "but she wouldn't put a coin in, not even a nickel. She'd say, 'That's a waste of money. It wasn't a moral thing; she had to break her hip all her life."

Mills realized how astute Eckles was while building her new house.

"You didn't put anything over on her. No one would swindle that lady; no one," he said.

Eckles is survived by nephews Roger (Florence) and Duane Bordine of Canton.

Memorials also may be made to Arbor Hospice.

Water rates go up in township

Plymouth Township residents will notice an increase in their water and sewer rates on their bills to be mailed in December.

The township board of trustees voted at their regular meeting Tuesday to raise the sewer rate by 12 percent and the water rate by 7.6 percent.

The rate increases stem from a 7.3 percent water rate increase July 1 from the Detroit water department, and two sewer rate increases from the Wayne County system in 1993 - a 20 percent increase in January and a 12 percent increase in December.

Plymouth Township currently sends more than twice as much sewage to the county, at 85 cents per 1,000 gallons, as it does through the Western Townships Utilities Authority system, at 98 cents per 1,000 gallons.

The rate increases should average out to about 10 percent for water and sewer services assessed on water bills, said township Finance Director Rosemary Harvey. The rate increases won't affect other items making up the water bill - the trash pickup rate and the WTUA service charge.

Bracelet missing

An 81-year-old Plymouth woman told police that sometime in the last few weeks, someone stole a $500 bracelet from the jewelry box in her bedroom.

The Haggerty Road resident thought possibly she misplaced the bracelet and spent two weeks looking for it. She now suspects a former cleaning woman.

The handmade bracelet is rope mesh with curb links. It's 7 1/2 inches long and weighs 10 grams.

Dr. Charles Fisher seeking to clear his name in trial

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

Charles Fisher is seeking help from the public in preparing for his upcoming retrial in connection with the 1984 murder of his wife, Ella Maria Mercado.

In a letter from the Saginaw Regional Correctional Facility, Fisher, who lived on Thornwood in Canton, said he'd appreciate anyone with information surrounding the homicide to come forward.

"My wife and I were the victims of crime 10 years ago, in 1984," wrote Fisher. "Unfortunately, after a number of years, I was convicted on strictly circumstantial evidence and innuendo. After 10 years, trying to find evidence is almost impossible. I know some people were questioned, and I feel sure that someone has information critical to my case."

"The fact that they were questioned or read about it may have made them remember things they saw even to this day. I desperately want a fair hearing this time. That is all I have ever asked."

Fisher said he would provide both a toll-free number or something of that type and an assurance of confidentiality."

Fisher was convicted in early June on one of two charges in connection with claims he tried to pay a prison inmate to confess to the murder. A jury of five men and seven women found Fisher guilty on one count of inciting perjury, a five-year felony. The jury found Fisher not guilty on one count of attempted obstruction of justice, a two and a half year felony.

Ella Maria Mercado Fisher, a nurse, was asphyxiated with duct tape in the living room of the Fisher home. Charles Fisher claims an intruder killed his wife.

A microbiologist, Fisher is hopeful his request will reach individuals who may know something. "Many people have moved away, so this is an attempt to have people mention it to them also," he wrote.

Fisher is considering circulating a flier in an area from Ford Road to Ann Arbor Trail, and from Beck or Ridge Road to Napier or just beyond. That is the only area we are interested in, and it would be more likely to be seen and read.

"It is a fishing expedition that may yield nothing, but it could also clear me totally."

The Fishers' Thornwood residence was north of Warren and east of Napier.

Two juries found Fisher guilty of first-degree murder in his wife's death. The first trial was ruled in error based on a comment made by a prosecutor. In late 1991, the Michigan Supreme Court reversed a second conviction, ruling that a diary kept by Mercado should not have been admitted into evidence.

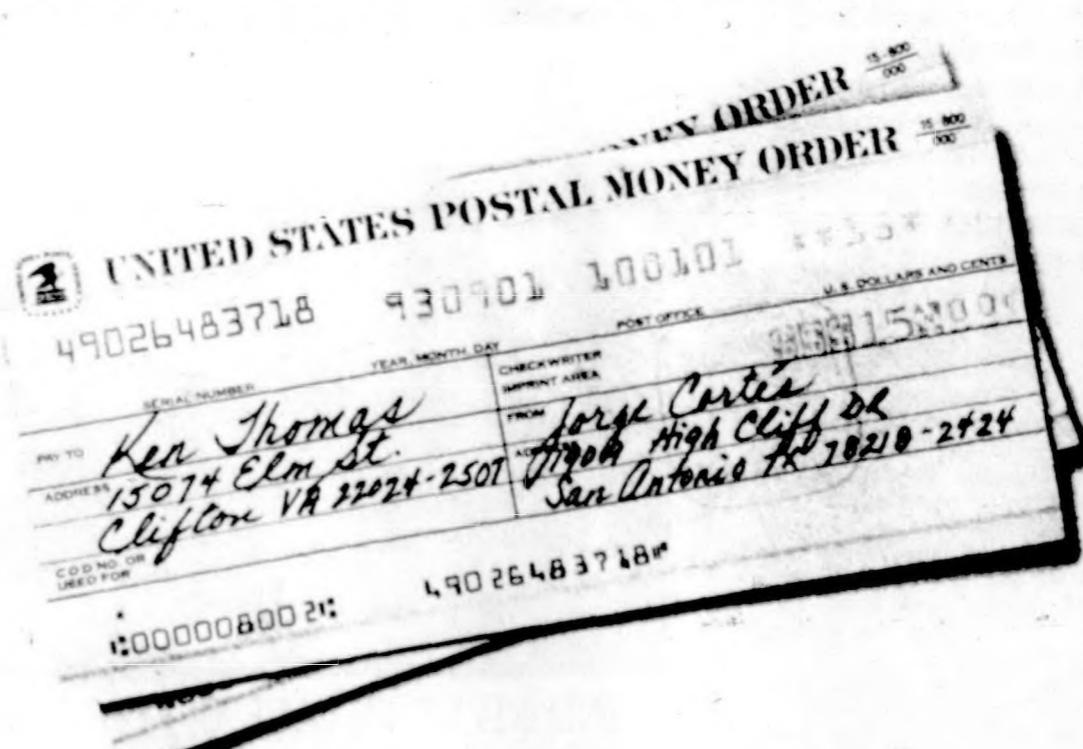

Fisher testified that his wife was ambushed by robbers, who wrapped her face with duct tape and left her for dead. Fisher said he was gagged and bound by the intruders. After he regained consciousness, he said he was able to free himself and attempted without success to revive his wife.

As the Navajo people have expanded their creative talents, the art of carving alabaster sculptures has given these artists a new way of expressing themselves.

Begay is one of these artists who is voicing his creativity in this new medium. He is from Shiprock, N.M.

Begay's sculptures are very detailed. Because of this, he primarily uses alabaster from Utah. This type of alabaster is a harder medium and allows him to work with such detail. Having the means of transporting such material is one of the reasons why this never became a traditional form of art.

Begay was influenced by his uncle, Alvin Marshall, who has won numerous awards for his sculpting.

POINTS OF VIEW

Here's a wish list for all involved with education

Q: What are some wishes you have for the 1994 school year?

A: Following are some of the 1994 school year wishes I have for those in education or those impacted by education.

■ As a Board of Education member, I will daily remind myself that I am to be an advocate for children not a representative of any single issue group.

■ As a budding principal, I will remind myself that I am to be a facilitator for learning, not just a building manager more concerned with the daily lunch money count, etc. than the education of children.

■ As a parent, I will attend all teacher-parent conferences even if it means missing a golf match or a night on the bowling lanes.

■ As a teacher, I will remind myself that the most difficult children in my class are still the parent's most precious possession. That I'll work to reach all children tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow.

■ As a central office curriculum leader, I will remind myself that every time a new program is added some other programs should be compacted, downsized or reduced so that teachers don't "freak out" under a "curriculum overload."

■ As a Superintendent of Schools, I promise to say, "I'm getting out of this job" only 30 times in 1994.

■ As an Assistant Superintendent for Instruction, I vow to not jump on the "band wagon" for every new program that makes the scene because of some supposedly new "theory" that probably been around for years but just given a new title.

■ As a parent of a high school student who is getting C's and D's, I promise I will check with his teachers when he/she says my teacher doesn't give homework.

■ As a teacher union leader, I promise to consider my professional obligation to children, parents and education as much as I recognize my responsibility to improving the working condition for my members.

■ In 1994 all educators agree to count the number of positive newspaper column inches given to their district's programs over a given school year. That they note those positive newspaper column inches for children's school plays, musicals, sports and honors programs far exceeds the number of column inches given to addressing some controversial issue of timely concern.

■ As a parent, I will recognize that board of education members invest an enormous amount of time, thought and energy for the welfare of children and education in the community . . . for literally no pay.

■ As an educational columnist, I, Doc Doyle, vow not to assume I have all the answers but hope to continue writing from a balanced view . . . And let all those in or impacted by our educational system vow that our decisions will always be made based on what is in the best interest of our children . . . our future and our most precious possession.

Adopt-a-Road effective

I was surprised to see your Aug. 18 editorial criticizing the Adopt-A-Road program, recently started in Wayne County. What surprised me about the criticism was the timing. Similar programs have been operating throughout the state of Michigan — in fact, the country — for years, to great reviews and with positive results. Not to mention the fact that in 1989 the Observer & Eccentric ran an editorial supporting the state's Adopt-A-Free-way concept.

Nonetheless, I will try to answer the questions you posed in your more recent editorial.

Why do we want volunteers to clean roadways? The more accurate question might be, why do they want us? The idea for Wayne County's Adopt-A-Road program came from residents who had approached our roads division, looking for opportunities to volunteer. The thousands of people around the state who have participated in these types of programs recognize that picking up litter is a community issue — not a government responsibility.

Your second question asked, "Isn't that what we pay taxes for?" Yes and no. You do pay taxes for government to fix roads and mow roadsides, and we should be expected to do so. But recent M-DOT numbers show the cost of litter pick up by the state alone to be about $5.5 million a year. It is our belief that the money saved by not picking up litter can be used as it is intended — to fix roads.

Lastly, you ask if your taxes will be reduced if there is enough participation in the program. Since Michigan already ranks last in the nation in the amount it invests in fixing its roads and bridges, we need every available resource. Road taxes will not be reduced as a result of litter pick-up programs. It is important to point out here that the money used for all road work is collected through gas taxes and motor vehicle registration. It is a user fee. The more you use the roads, the more you put back into them. No property taxes are used to fund county road work.

Finally, I hope the Observer will look again at the spirit of the Adopt-A-Road program. Ultimately, it is our hope that the Adopt-A-Road program will foster the same kind of public concern for roads as the Rouge Rescue has done for the Rouge River. We feel that government and taxpayers are at their best when they are working with, not against, each other.

Expecting government to do everything just encourages more government. And government thinking it must do everything causes it to lose site of why it exists: to provide services that can't be performed or funded within the community framework. Adopt-A-Road is a small, but effective, tool in forging a lasting government/citizen partnership that benefits the community and the environment.

If anyone, including the Observer newspaper, is interested in adopting one mile of Wayne County road, please call 942-9920.

Director of Public Services

Voters ignored

I saw a bumper sticker the other day. It said "I love my country but fear my government."

I didn't used to agree with that, but after I saw what happened to the proposed auto insurance reform, I may. I mean in 1992 we, the people of Michigan defeated the flimsy auto insurance reform ballot proposal.

It asked us to pay temporarily lower premiums for permanently fewer benefits. And after six short months, insurance companies could and would raise their rates back, ensuring that they maintained their status as the most profitable auto-insurance companies in the nation.

So we defeated it in 1992, right? Well, apparently, we have to talk to our government the way we talk to pets — repeating the simple command of "No!"

Soon after, the Legislature tried to pass an almost identical reform, further restricting the medical care of the 1.1 million uninsured in Michigan, not to mention the underinsured. But lawmakers were going to do what the insurance lobbyists asked, even though we clearly told them what we wanted (democracy is the will of the people?)

Fortunately, accident survivor organizations, consumer groups, and, yes, trial lawyers, banded together and gathered enough petition signatures to put this issue on the ballot — again.

But beware, insurance companies are going to spend millions of your premium dollars on advertisements trying to paint this as needless lawsuit issue, but that is a small part of the picture. Unfortunately, lawyers are the only ones with the financial means to tell the people the other side of the story (I can only afford to write letters to the editor).

And beware: They are going to try to paint this as a partisan issue. But if passed, this proposal will put into the state constitution mandated limits on medical care benefits for all. It would take a vote by  $\frac{2}{3}$  of Congress to change any mistake that we make, and how likely is that?

Jennifer Zaft, Detroit

"I LIVED IN FEAR"

"Most of the time I lived in fear. I was afraid to drive on freeways, ride in elevators and never went out at night. I tried all the regular methods to help me overcome this problem but nothing worked. My first visit with Leslie Miller was so productive.

The program was successful and now I can go everywhere and do everything. Thank you for saving my life."

At last! Couture for larger sizes

Ten years ago, women who sought plus-size fashions were offered little more than a tiny selection of matronly, budget-priced poly pull-ons hidden in obscure corners of a few department stores. The choices were nil and the styles dismal.

But in 1983, Llama was organized. The Large Ladies Apparel Merchandising Associates Group helped to revolutionize the industry and to communicate the needs of full-figured women to the country's top fashion designers.

Today, women who wear size 16-plus select trend-setting fashion forward clothing from the collections of Elisabeth (a Liz Claiborne company), Ellen Tracy, Dana Buchman, Andrea Jovine, Jones New York, Tomatsu and Carole Little. Department stores, like Hudson's and Saks Fifth Avenue, are making space for this previously overlooked market. Pictured is an emerald V-neck blazer, skirt and silk shell by Jones New York at Hudson's. "If we provide a good selection of sophisticated, comfortable fashion for this discriminating customer, she will come to us," says Doreen Carstens, manager of Elisabeth at Twelve Oaks Mall, Novi. "Our customers are competent, active women who want a professional look and expect the same quality, details and colors that are available in a size 4," she adds.

New proportions

Elisabeth was one of the first companies to offer "large-size petites." This growing segment of the market proportions its silhouettes for shorter women. "The clothing is scaled down," says Carstens. "The shoulders are narrower and the sleeves, shorter."

Carstens sees a trend toward more feminine, romantic dressing for fall and the holiday season. Soft tunics over fluid pants are great for entertaining, while silk and wool-knit dresses augment the more tailored suits for day.

Doeskin suede shirt-jackets in caramel, wine, rust and wheat ($98) coordinate with a rich leaf-patterned rayon challis shirt ($68) and corduroy pants ($58) for cool autumn days. A simple black knit-sheath with a jeweled V-neck and cuffs ($158) takes you out to dinner and the theatre, while soft washed silks combine paisleys and solid colors in skirts, pants and tunics for the office or the committee meeting ($108-$115). In addition, Elisabeth offers a complete line of accessories and shoes.

Perfect fit

At Valentines in Applegate Square, Southfield, the attentive customer service extends to custom-made clothing and custom fitting. Local designer Cynthia DeWolfe of Farmington Hills is nationally known for developing a highly specialized look for individual clients. Valentine presented her fall line at a recent fashion show and the room was abuzz with comments from her dedicated clientele.

"Cynthia's fit makes me feel good and confident," raved Maureen Carey, a global sales representative for AT&T. "Her clothes move with me." Maureen continued to praise DeWolfe's timeless designs and luxe fabrications.

Valentine's customers appreciate the opportunity to acquire a hand-made, hand-finished suit in wool gabardine or crepe, silk tweeds and silk linens. For fall, DeWolfe offers softer suit silhouettes with straight or flared jackets and raglan or dolman sleeves. Shawl collars, buttonless cardigans and swing jackets are part of the collection. She often dresses her suits and coats with antique buttons, jet beads and pearls. Pictured is a four-button notch-collar jacket with set-in sleeve, French cuffs and four gore skirt. Prices range from $460-$700.

Also at Valentines, elegant rayon crepe suits by Tomatsu, travel knits from Andrea Jovine, thermal activewear by Miyo, daytime and evening looks from Lansford and special occasion dresses by Judith Ann.

Creating a full-service furniture/design showroom within a store at the mall is a new idea for the country's oldest home furnishing manufacturer, Ethan Allen.

But the chance to reach a new generation of Ethan Allen customers, through their shopping trips to Twelve Oaks mall, was a chance too good to pass up, according to M. Farooq Kathwari, chairman and president of Ethan Allen. The population boom expected along the corridors from Novi to Ann Arbor and Lansing makes the regional mall location a very smart business decision.

The 4,500-square-foot mall store complements five other Ethan Allen showrooms in Michigan in Livonia, Utica, Ann Arbor, Grand Blanc and Lansing. It features lamps, pillows and other decorating accessories to buy and take with you, as well as the services of interior designers who can help customers place larger orders for home delivery.

The store has natural wood floors, lots of visibility through the glass walls that encompass the entrance, and coordinated room vignettes and accessory groupings that catch many a shopper's eye.

"I just had to stop in and see what they have to offer," said Jennie Lawrence of Farmington Hills. "I'm always looking for home accessories because a new toss pillow or a new candlestick is an inexpensive way to change a room, and it keeps life interesting."

The Ethan Allen store at Twelve Oaks mall features the company's new, contemporary Radius Collection, as well as pieces from the Concept 6 Home Theater, and Office@Home Collections. Each is merchandised in a distinctive area of the store.

Store manager Kevin Dowd said the store carries the company's four home style categories — Casual Contemporary, American Country, Classic Elegance and Formal. For a limited time, new customers who open a charge card through Ethan Allen's Easier Payment Plan, will receive a free gift. The mall store offers complimentary home delivery in the local area.

Neiman's Holiday Book is a story all by itselfBY SUSAN DEMAGGIO

When the Neiman Marcus Christmas Book comes out, can the holidays be far behind?

There are 95 shopping days until December 25 — 69 days until Hanukkah. And while many shoppers savor the excitement of shopping during the season, others plan early and start socking away gift purchases now.

Trendy, toney Neiman Marcus truly sets the standards with gifts like an electric gondola $7,400; a kilo of Beluga caviar $1,680; a New Year's Eve in Buenos Aires, $5,995; and a 300-gallon aquarium inside a 5-foot tall acrylic elephant sculpture with gold leaf tusks and toes $120,000. (The filter pump and electrical hookups are concealed in a gold-leafed house that sits atop the pachyderm's back adding another five-feet to the sculpture — and that's a lot of wrapping paper, baby.)

The most expensive item is a $200,000 18-karat gold teddy bear who sits perched on a turret 6½-inches high, studded with 200 diamonds, two sapphires, 36 rubies and 20 emeralds.

"And that's exactly the way we want it," insisted Bernie Moray, Gorman's president. "This is a store for the year 2000. Gorman's brings the cutting edge, the latest concepts in the furniture industry right here to metro Detroit. Come in and play. Imagine the possibilities in putting together your own home's spaces."

Gone are the back-of-the-shop cubicles where interior designers are usually found in furniture stores amid huge, clumsy fabric books and stale coffee. Gone are the showroom walls that separate furniture collections in rigid, period-piece vignettes. Gone are the dark colors and dim lighting that cast a somber tone on the serious act of shopping for home furniture.

This 50,000-square-foot concept store is the first of its kind in the nation. It features gigantic windows for lots of natural light, moveable architectural elements that guide a shopper through a wide-open floor plan, columned pathways, floor-to-ceiling wood samples, information super graphics, inspiring wall texts, a Great Wall of Chairs, and a central Design Center that is backed by a wall of 1,300 fabric samples that can be perused in one sweeping glance.

And if that's not enough, a mini kitchen in the center of the store has an oven to bake fresh cookies for shoppers as they sit at custom-made work tables and counters to plan their home interiors with or without the help of a staff designer. Fresh coffee with real cream from the nearby refrigerator completes the cozy setting, reaffirming Gorman's belief that this store will serve the consumer of the '90s and beyond.

Gorman's new store is the creation of Drexel Heritage working with the international store image and design firm, Cato Gobe, to change the way consumers shop for home furnishings. Its features and design elements were based on a six-month study of furniture shoppers across the nation who discussed their needs and opinions about shopping for home furnishings in focus groups monitored by Drexel Heritage officials. Gorman's purchase of the former Dobbs Furniture building at the southeast corner of Twelve Mile and Novi Roads provided the company with the ideal spot and burgeoning population demographics to test their new prototype.

Will Sharp, marketing director for Drexel Heritage, which is now owned by Taylor-based Masco Corporation, said the store gives shoppers "the tools they need to make decisions for homes that suit their individual lifestyles and dreams."

"We hope the store inspires you to do something in your own home," he said. We hope shoppers get the message that Drexel Heritage has the tradition if you want it, but also the relaxed, less formal styles if that's your lifestyle. We have a whole, new twist to our furnishings and we're presenting them in this unique, surprising, and very comfortable store. Hopefully, one you'll stop into frequently, because it will always have something new to inspire you."

Sharp said customers can come, look around and say, "I like that style, but I want that finish and I need it this big," and have custom cabinets for electronics and home entertainment equipment. Customers can also grab fabrics samples from the design wall and carry them around the showroom to drape over different couches and chairs. If they select a chair frame, ceiling high wood panels show off the various finishes in samples large enough to truly reveal the finish's properties.

Designer Susan Nicolson of Cato Gobe, explained that the new Gorman's Drexel Heritage store offers a very sensory-oriented shopping experience. By combining the scent of fresh-baked cookies, the airiness of the store's sunlight windows, the rough and smooth feel of the furniture textures, the shopper experiences the merchandise for themselves and can consider it for their own needs.

"Consumers today decorate their homes very differently than in the past," she said. "There is greater individuality coming through as they mix and match their grandmother's couch with something they bought from Drexel Heritage with something they refinished from a garage sale."

It's as much about the cost of home furnishings as it is about lifestyle. So in this store, we've eliminated the walls, created a dynamic environment and broke up collections to inspire new ways to put a room together."

Maria Kush of West Bloomfield stopped into the store for the first time, seeing the sign from the road.

"The store is so light and airy," she said. "I've just started shopping for a bedroom dresser and it's obvious to me that this store has high quality furniture. It's very nice to shop here."

De-mystifying the home decorating process is what it's all about at the new Gorman's. And that goes for pricing, too, according to Moray. He said anyone shopping for a couch expects to pay at least $800. Gorman's has Drexel Heritage couches that start at $799 and run up to $2,500. Chairs range between $399 to $1,499. Dining tables $799 to $3,000. Entertainment centers $2,000-$6,000.

Gorman's was founded in 1940 and has six other locations: the Southfield Contemporary Gallery, Southfield Clearance Center, Troy, Dearborn and Grand Rapids. Earlier this year, Moray, was named 1994 Retailer of the Year by the National Home Furnishings Association. Through the years German's has raised more than $1 million dollars for local charities. Through his new-concept Novi store Moray remains an avid spokesman for the industry and a leader among his competition.

Gorman's Novi store is the only furniture store in the U.S. to carry Drexel Heritage's new Collector's Mahogany Line. Other styles include French, European and American Country, 18th Century Traditional; and Transitional which approaches Contemporary. Ninety-five percent of Drexel Heritage's products are made in North Carolina of solid wood construction for all structural parts. Five-ply veneers and finishes enhance natural wood grain and improve durability.

The store's grand opening will be Wednesday, Sept. 21, 7-10 p.m. a benefit to fund the continuation of HAVEN'S Novi office. Tickets are $50 and will include refreshments and food samples donated by area chefs, a piano serenade, a showing of the priceless Masco Art Collection (which includes paintings, western sculptures and Native American artifacts) fun-spirted consultations with psychics, palm and tarot card readers, and a drawing for a $10,000 dream room of furnishings. Tickets at the door, or in advance by calling (313) 832-2210.

Mall manager Philip Morosco said it's no surprise that Ethan Allen wanted to be part of Twelve Oaks mall since the shopping center serves as the heart of several surrounding communities and their fast-growing outskirts.

In the immediate area around Twelve Oaks mall, there are now nine home furnishings stores: Eddie Bauer for the Home, This End Up, The Bombay Company (all in the mall) Gorman's, Newton's, Lazy Boy, Scott Scuprime, Art Van furniture, and Baby N' Teens furniture.

The bear holds a quartz pocket watch that chimes every hour. "Westminster Bear" was created by British jeweler Jonathan Ralsen who spent 850 hours to make it.

Of course, you can leave it to the press to hype up the N.M.C.B. According to spokespeople at Neiman Marcus, in the 1960s, Edward R. Morrow and his assistant Walter Cronkite would call Stanley Marcus directly every September to get the scoop on what the His and Hers gifts in the catalog would be. The first His and Hers gift was the brainstorm of Marcus and his brother Stanley. In 1959, they came up with the idea of offering a Black Angus steer, delivered on the hoof or in steaks, complete with a silver-plated outdoor cooker. How very Dallas.

This year the N.M.C.B.'s His and Hers gift is a pair of Bellaqua Breathing Observation Bubbles, (aka BOB'S) which allows passengers to cruise through underwater depths up to 40-feet in an upright, seated position with an attached Plexiglass Bubble dome supplying a constant airflow around the rider's head and shoulders $7,500. BOB can be equipped with an optional built-in communication system for use between BOBs for $1,500. His comes in bright yellow, Hers in perky pink. How very Palm Beach.

The more conventional gifts include men's and women's apparel, jewelry, leather goods, children's wear and toys. The "$25 and Under Pages" feature faux fur cuffed slipper socks, snakeskin coin purses, silk-covered eyeglass cases, and a Neiman Marcus tote bag to take to the market.

But for some, the catalog itself is the treasure. Two office workers in Troy, who begged to remain anonymous, said they wait for the catalog to arrive in their boss's mailbox each September. They remove it for a day or two so they can enjoy the extravagance and whimsy of the big ticket items during coffee breaks.

"Of course, we put it back when we've had enough," one joked. "On our salaries it's just one big wish book. But it's fun."

CHEF LARRY JANES

Bid summer farewell with flavorful scallops

Scallops symbolize indulgence to anyone within reach of the North Atlantic. Creamy and almost translucent, scallops offer the most complex flavors and enjoyable textures of any mollusk. They have been praised since the Middle Ages, but at no time has the scallop been more in demand than it is today.

Nor has it ever been cooked with more care, knowledge, or ingenuity. Any restaurant with an educated kitchen staff knows that scallops should be simply pan seared or grilled for no more than a few minutes. They can hold their own in anything from a simple tomato sauce to a scathing curry.

I can remember days gone by when a scallop wasn't really a scallop, but instead possibly a chopped up version of manta ray. Fortunately, with truth in advertising, and a good relationship with my local fish monger, scallops are as easy to come by as any other fish or shellfish.

Bay scallops

Notice the generic term "scallops." There are big differences. But when you get to the fish market dreaming about that rich taste you enjoyed on a summer vacation in Nantucket last year, you inadvertently notice the signage declaring these scallops are sea worthy, and not the bays you had hoped for. Are bay scallops really better than sea scallops?

Bay scallops are in very limited supply and have a tendency to be somewhat expensive. Real bay scallops are cork shaped and average about 60-75 per pound and have a distinct nuttiness. They are generally considered the sweetest, richest and most flavorful scallops. The fishing boundary for this scallop is primarily the area around Nantucket. My sources in the fishing world inform me that if you're lucky enough to find real bay scallops under $12 per pound, they're not the real bays, but calicos, a second cousin twice removed, to the real bay scallop.

Sea scallops

What you see on a restaurant menu here in metro Detroit probably would be considered sea scallops that average about 10-30 per pound. The lesser quality (and price) scallops hail from the warmer waters off Labrador and all the way up to the mid-Atlantic. The better quality sea scallops come from colder waters off New England and southern Canada. Unlike their bay cousins, these scallops are more briny, tender, have a lighter, slightly sweeter taste, and are generally available year round.

My sources indicate that anything under $6 per pound is from warmer waters while you can still get a good quality cold water scallop in the $9 per pound range.

Then we have the calico scallop or what we are probably used to in our region. The scallops you see on special for $4.99 per pound are probably calico scallops. Unfortunately, because they are even smaller than bay scallops and average anywhere from 150-200 per pound, their diminutive size makes them an easy candidate to overcook, which in turn, makes them tough, chewy and even more unfortunately, tasteless. If you see or hear the term "southern bays" realize that these scallops hail from the warm waters off Florida and the Gulf of Mexico. Don't waste your time or your money on these creatures which in this writer's opinion, have never had their sea legs.

When you buy scallops and the purveyor scoops them into those sterile white cottage cheese container cups, ask for a sniff before the lid goes on. As with any fresh fish or shellfish, good scallops do not have a fishy, foul or strong odor. They should indeed smell fresh, watery with a hint of brininess. They should be used as soon as possible, and never stored in their airtight container but instead be allowed to breathe uncovered, lingering in their sweet juices in a crisper drawer in the refrigerator.

There's still plenty of time to grill a good batch of scallops but remember they cook fast and should be basted almost constantly with anything from butter to oil to white wine to a good fish stock. After piquing my interests with the seviche, I couldn't wait to rush out and purchase some good sea scallops, lightly dust them with flour, heat tablespoon of butter and oil in a good frypan with a hint of garlic and just sear them into oblivion in a matter of 2-3 minutes.

The season begins

Michigan Apple Committee

Fall favorite: Served warm or cold Old-fashioned Empire Apple Pie, made with Michigan apples, is a delectable dessert.

It's time for apples, cider
doughnuts

As the leaves change from green to shades of red, orange and yellow, families everywhere prepare to make their annual fall pilgrimage to apple orchards and cider mills. Michigan is one of the top apple producers in the country.

BY RENEE SKOGLUND
SPECIAL WRITER

The average apple has 80 calories. Tuck it into a nice bed of pastry, and you have a whopping 450! But harvest time isn't calorie-counting time, as local orchards and cider mills are dishing up a fall menu that features honey, cider, doughnuts and lots of juicy apples.

Franklin Cider Mill on the corner of Franklin and 14 Mile Road in Franklin carries almost 50 different varieties of apples during the season, including the less commercially known Red Free, Ginger Gold, Golden Spy and Graham Spy.

The Graham Spy left my lips a pleasant pucker, a sure sign it would make great pies. The Ginger Gold was exceptional - crisp, juicy, and sweet, with a slight spicy bite. But old standbys have their dedicated following.

"Everyone's favorite is the Mac-Intosh," said Susan Perry, the mill's manager. Perry beds down her Macs in a crust made with Franklin's own cider vinegar. "It's the best pie crust you'll ever have because of the vinegar. It makes it flakier."

Originally built as a grist mill in 1837, the Franklin Cider Mill has been producing great cider since the 1890s. "When we make cider here, it tastes different every day because of the blend of apples. The sweetest cider is at the end of the season. The cider is best in November, and we're very picky about the apples we use. All are hand-picked. Absolutely no drops," said Perry. (Drops are apples that have fallen to the ground.)

Early in the season, fresh cider can be stored in the refrigerator three to five days. Later, it will last seven to 10 days. It freezes indefinitely, and once thawed it will last two to three weeks.

Frank Rea, a Birmingham retiree, thought the doughnuts at the Franklin Cider Mill were perfect. "They're heavenly, just delightful," he said. "Also their cider and apples." At heart, Rea is an apple-loving man who uses Macs, Romes, and Ida Reds for his famous "spiral cut" apple pie. While he gestured with his hands and searched for words to describe how he makes his pie, his wife, Ida (yes, just like the apple), intervened. "They're really beautiful. All the apples are stacked. He makes seven or eight at a time," she said.

Apple trees cover 55 of the 100 acres that make up Plymouth Orchards and Cider Mill on Warren Road, just west of Napier Road in Plymouth Township. Owner Mary Emmett harvests nine varieties: Paula Red, McIntosh, Jonamac, Empire, Rome, Northern Spy, Jonathan, Red Delicious and Golden Delicious. "Once they come in, people just bee-line to the Jonathans," she said of her customers' apple preference.

Michigander prospering in Napa Valley

What do you discover when you drive into the mountains overlooking St. Helena in the center of the Napa Valley?

FOCUS ON WINE

ELEANOR & RAY HEALD

Can you believe it? - A Yooper and his family making wine!

Escanaba, Mich., native Gus Anderson, his wife Phyllis, their son Todd and his wife Dana founded Anderson's Conn Valley Vineyards in 1983. The multi-talented Gus, who serves as winemaker, vineyardist and jack-of-all-trades, was for 35 years a successful orthodontist.

"In Michigan, my family was always involved in some type of farming," he said. "I believe that's where I gained an appreciation and love for agriculture. Ninety percent of my efforts are in the vineyard."

It was more than appreciation because in 1981, Gus retired from orthodontic practice and enrolled in the University of California at Davis in the Viticulture and Enology master's program. He and Phyllis searched the California wine regions looking for suitable vineyard property. After extensive negotiations, they were able to purchase a 40-acre parcel in Conn Valley and give birth to their agricultural, vineyard and winery dreams.

Conn Valley is not exactly a household location even to the most savvy California wine drinker. It is situated where Conn Creek flows out of Howell Mountain on the east side of the Napa Valley. Conn Valley is separated from the Napa Valley floor by a ridge running north and south. The well-known Heitz Wine Cellars and Joseph Phelps Vineyards are on the west side of the ridge while the Andersons' property is on the east.

Unusual for a mountain site at about 400-feet elevation, the soils are deep gravelly clay loam, similar to the Rutherford area along the Napa Valley floor. Vines tend to be too vigorous in such soils and must be carefully trained in order to produce a balanced crop. The Andersons have done this for their cabernet sauvignon, the principal grape varietal planted. Not wishing to place all their grapes in one basket, they have planted multiple clonal selections of cabernet to maximize blending opportunities.

Once vines are mature, they go unirrigated, a common practice on mountain sites, that develops small berries with complex flavors. The first vintage for Conn Valley Vineyards was 1987 when 487 cases were produced. Current production is about 4,500 cases, but the potential exists for growth to 7,000-9,000 cases.

Apples from page 1B

Emmett processes about 12,000 bushels of apples a season, with much of the yield going into cider. "Your October cider is the best," she said. "Once you get your Macs in then you add the sweetness. Each variety adds flavor to the cider. The Macs give body and sweetness. The Jonathans give a tangy flavor. The Red and Gold Delicious are really sweet. It's a good blend, nice and robust."

"For early varieties (like Paula Reds), the only way to keep them crispy is to keep them refrigerated. Later varieties, the harder ones like Rome and Spy, can be stored in a really cool, fairly dry place. Not dessert dry. They need some humidity, but if you have too much, mold can develop." In cold weather (not freezing), she suggested storing apples in a plastic foam-lined bin in the garage.

A fall pilgrimage to the local cider mill or apple orchard is a must for most people. Just ask Louis Cartier, 76, of Redford Township. His annual treks to the Franklin Cider Mill began 60 years ago, when he was a member of the Detroit News Hikers. Kevin Roughley, 8, of Garden City managed to resist a caramel apple when he visited Plymouth Orchards with his parents, Gloria and Dennis. In fact, he even resisted gorging on doughnuts, an incredible feat at his age. When asked how many he had eaten, he Presently, the wine is 100 percent cabernet sauvignon, but small plantings of the other Bordeaux varietals, merlot, cabernet franc, malbec and petit verdot have also been made as possible blending opportunities for the future. Gus is carefully monitoring 250 vines of Sangiovese to determine their potential on the property. The winery's very limited quantity of pinot noir is unfortunately not available in Michigan, but if you visit (and you're a Yooper!), you might be able to buy one of Napa Valley's best.

The cabernet sauvignon is aged in 25 to 35-percent new French oak chateau barrels because the thinner staves of these barrels offer greater potential for interaction between wine and oak. Wines are bottled unfined and unfiltered, so expect a sediment in the wine as it ages.

Only one wine, a 100-case allocation, from this special, small production winery is available for the state. It is the 1991 Anderson's Conn Valley Vineyards Estate Cabernet Sauvignon ($30).

Todd's background as a geophysicist was utilized to some extent when he dug the winery's water reservoir and consulted with engineers who dug the winery's caves. Together, father and son built the small winery with offices and Gus' home on the property.

If your home doesn't measure up...

Sometimes when we take a hard look around we decide that some things have gotten a little... well, not exactly shabby, but they could use a little help.

Perhaps a coat of paint, maybe a new flower bed where those weeds love to grow. Or maybe a bit of new wallpaper here or a spot of carpet there. Little things that will spruce up the place and lift your spirits as well. Or maybe you have a full-scale renovation in mind.

Whatever you decide, we can help:

Turn to our Classified section's business directory and find dozens of people who will be glad to help you with whatever it is you want to do.

And remember to support your local merchants when you buy your home improvement supplies—there are a lot of specials in today's paper. Check them out!

Child abuse is not a pretty subject. But it happens. And right here in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Through your donation to the United Way, over 14,700 victims of domestic violence and abuse receive shelter and family counseling.

The United Way supports some 140 agencies that help the homeless, the illiterate, the elderly

PLYMOUTH SPORTS SCENE

Canton stopped

Farmington Harrison improved its dual-meet record to 4-1 — and to 2-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Western Division — by easily handling Plymouth Canton 209-226 in a boys golf match Wednesday at San Marino.

Medalist honors went to Harrison's Kevin Horton, who shot 39. Other Hawk scores: Sean Frith, 40; Kris Jovan, 42; Brian Atkinson, 43; and Jason Baldwin, 45.

Canton was led by Chris Wilson's 42. Albert Hamood shot 43, Kevin Carlson had a 44, Adam Allen finished with 47 and Miles Meibers carded a 50.

Lady Crusaders roll

Madonna University's volleyball team had no problem with Siena Heights Thursday, trouncing the visitors 15-4, 15-6, 15-1 at Madonna.

"The competition wasn't as good as what we've been facing, but we played well," said coach Jerry Abraham. "We hit the ball hard, we were well-synchronized."

Julie Martin (from Livonia Stevenson) led the Lady Crusaders with 11 kills. Mo Paulin (Livonia/Farmington Hills Mercy) had nine and 12 digs, Heather Steinhelper had eight kills and four digs, Kelly McCausland (Redford Union) had seven kills and eight digs, and Erin Gregory had four kills and 11 digs. Laura Fisher collected 27 assists-to-kills (9.0 per game).

The win improved Madonna's record to 6-2. The Crusaders host Concordia College Thursday, then travel to the Saginaw Valley State tournament next weekend. They play Saginaw Valley Friday and Indiana University-Purdue University-Indianapolis Saturday. Madonna's match against Wayne State, scheduled for Tuesday, has been cancelled.

Low net

Madonna Nadeau, from Canton, posted the best low net score in second flight at the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association's weekly tournament at Bogie Lake in White Lake last Monday.

Nadeau's actual score was 92; her low net total was 67. Best low gross score was Phyllis Gromacki's 86.

In the Women's Suburban Golf Association tournament at Oak Lane Friday, a pair of Plymouth residents recorded best low net scores in their respective flights.

Sharon Laskowski had the best low net in first flight, with a 69. In second flight, that honor went to Dolly Vettese with a 68.

Big win

The University of Detroit-Mercy men's soccer team recorded its first victory of the season, and it couldn't have come against a better foe.

The Titans handed Michigan State its first loss of the season, 2-0 Wednesday at UDM. Goals were scored in each half, sophomore Vince Iacozza netting one before the match was two minutes old, assisted by sophomore Tim Blackwell.

The second was scored in the 58th minute by sophomore Dominic Vella (from Livonia Churchill), assisted by sophomore Mike Giese (Farmington).

Sophomore Kal Kaliszewski (Churchill) was in goal for the shutout, which raised UDM's record to 1-2-1. Others with local backgrounds that played a role in the victory are sophomore John Truskowski (Plymouth Salem), sophomore Jeff Thomas (Livonia Stevenson), junior Dario Rauker (Churchill) and sophomore Adam Pichler (Stevenson).

The loss left MSU at 4-1.

If a team is going to be a winner, it must take full advantage of any opportunity presented to it. Plymouth Salem slipped to 1-2 because it failed to do so Saturday at Farmington.

BY C.J. RISAK
STAFF WRITER

In the past, this was always a game for statistics. Which meant that Plymouth Salem's offensive stars would fatten up their numbers at Farmington's expense.

Saturday's game illustrated just how far that "tradition" has reversed itself. Oh, the Rocks had their chances — plenty of them, in fact. But Farmington's defense refused to buckle — the Falcons bent a bit, but when push came to shove, it was the Rocks who were rolled.

The final score — 13-6, favoring Farmington — was evidence that the guard in the Western Lakes Activities Association is changing. Salem slipped to 1-2; Farmington is off to its best start in memory at 3-0.

"We have nobody to blame but ourselves," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer. "We had our opportunities, we just didn't cash in on them."

"Last week, we could bounce the ball outside, but not on this team. They're physical — and physically, we didn't match up very well."

Field position belonged to Salem throughout the first half. And after forcing the Falcons to punt from their own 11-yard line, the Rocks quickly moved in for a score.

Taking possession at the Farmington 36, Salem needed just four plays to reach the end zone, with quarterback Brad Lear breaking free from a busted option play, spinning and racing up the middle 26 yards for a touchdown with eight minutes left in the first quarter.

The Rocks, however, were without placekicker Mike Kley (he was with the soccer team), and the extra point attempt by Jeff McClure was botched, leaving it at 6-0.

That only seemed to anger the Falcons. Again, they were pushed way back on their next possession, to their own 13. Didn't matter this time — they marched 87 yards in 12 plays for the TD. Keys to the drive: Two pass completions on short post patterns from quarterback Tim Streit to Tim Wheelis, for 19 and 22 yards.

Tailback Jake Siskosky did the rest, gaining 44 yards on eight carries — including the last 10 yards on a sweep to the right that ended with a dive into the end zone. Sean Noble kicked the extra point and with 1:16 left in the first quarter, Farmington led 7-6.

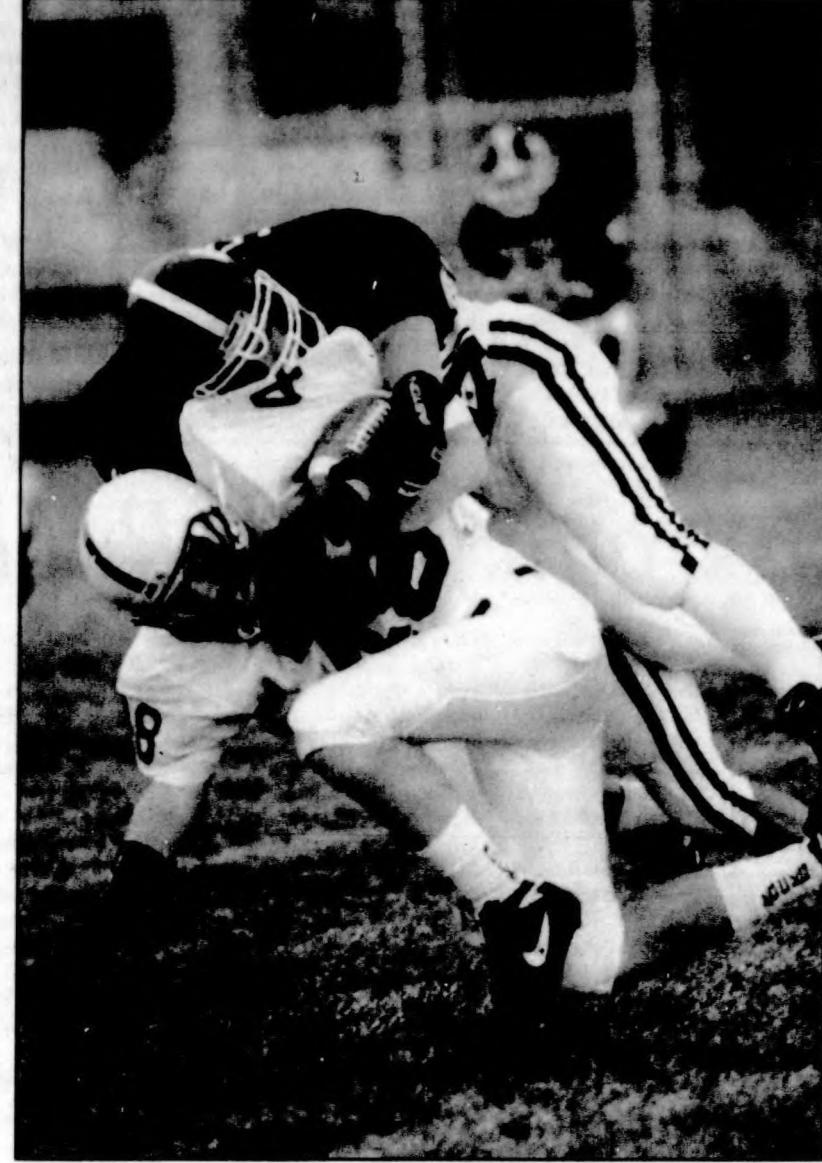

The Rocks drove to Farmington's 33 with its ensuing possession, but after tailback Mike Brannan was dumped for a 12-yard loss on first down, Lear's pass was picked off by Phil Carson at the Falcon nine.

It took just eight plays to go the distance for Farmington. Ryan Lewis did a lot of the damage, rambling 49 yards on a trap play to Salem's 40. Nick Latra then bounced through the Rocks' defense for gains of 17 and 13, moving it to the 10. On second down, Streit faded into the line and rolled to the left, taking it in for the touchdown and a 13-6 lead.

On all four of its possessions in the second half, Salem had the ball in Farmington territory — reaching the Falcon 25, 13, 20 and 45. But the Rocks couldn't put points on the board, three times losing the ball on downs and the fourth on Latra's interception in the game's closing seconds.

"I told our kids early in the week that I believe we're a better football team," Farmington coach Lauri Niskanen said. The Falcons showed it — and Siskosky led the way, gaining 96 yards on 24 attempts. Streit completed 2-of-4 passes for 41 yards, and Latra gained 74 yards on 11 tries.

"You've got a loaded gun, you've got to fire it," said Niskanen of Siskosky. "I'm not saying he's the best player in the league, but if there's one better, I'd like to see him."

BILL BRESLER/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Wrestled down: The Rocks had some success throwing the ball against Farmington, gaining 85 yards passing — Kirk Craggs catching one here before being dragged to the turf by a Falcon defender.

cons got their win.

"It's great," he said when asked how it felt to be 3-0. "I knew we had a great team, but . . . it just feels great."

Offense clicks; Canton gets 1st win

BY NEAL ZIPSER
STAFF WRITER

Talk about taking out your frustration.

After losing each of its first two games by three points, Plymouth Canton let off some steam Friday with a 44-13 victory over visiting Livonia Franklin.

"We could easily be 3-0," Canton coach Bob Koenlein said.

What kind of night was it for the Chiefs? Canton scored on a 75-yard run, a 60-yard punt return, a safety, and a flea-flicker.

"It's about time we won," said Canton quarterback Brett Ellidge. "We've been losing by three points, and I knew we'd win this one."

On the other side of the coin was the young Franklin team that fell to 0-3 while dropping its eighth straight game.

"The only thing I could tell the team was that we have to keep the faith," said Franklin coach Rick Lee. "We're doing some good things on the field. They are working hard, and if they keep doing that, we should be OK."

The Patriots took advantage of an early muffed punt. On the first play after taking the ball on the Canton 38, Mike Aubuchon connected with tight end David Erickson on a 35-yard bomb. Two plays later, the same two connected on a 6-yard touchdown play, and Aaron Smith's extra point gave the Patriots a 7-0 lead.

Aubuchon completed eight of 16 passes for 99 yards, but was sacked twice, threw two interceptions and was under constant pressure all night.

The Canton defense stifled Franklin's offense after the initial score by blitzing on nearly every play.

"I thought we could blitz them because they have a one-back offense and I thought we could have success getting to the quarterback," Koenlein said.

"We knew they would blitz about every play," Lee said. "They just kept coming. We're a young team with two sophomores starting on the line, and it was good experience to block against the blitz."

Adams is Hoops champ

BY DAN O'MEARA
STAFF WRITER

In just 48 seconds of basketball Saturday, Rochester Adams went from being a likely runner-up to champion of the Mercy Hoops Classic.

The Highlanders rallied from a seven-point deficit in the last minute to overtake host Farmington Hills Mercy, 49-48.

Senior Courtney Ruffing's free throws with four seconds remaining clinched the victory and most valuable player honors.

"I got up there and knew it was for the game, and I really wanted to win it," said Ruffing, who finished with 21 points.

"All the way through, I thought we were going to win. It really came from our hearts."

Adams sophomore Mari McClure scored 13 points and also made the all-tournament team along with Mercy senior Holly Taylor, Plymouth Canton senior Amicie Crayton and Plymouth Salem junior Shelly Sills.

Taylor led the Marlins (4-2) with 13 points. Piper Metz added nine, Carrie Schwagle six, Felicia Brooks and Amanda Northcross five points.

Mercy scored six unanswered points, getting a three-point play from Taylor and taking a 47-40 lead with 56 seconds left after a Northcross free throw.

BASKETBALL

Ruffing started the rally with two free throws after a three-shot foul. Kelli Milliken sank a triple and Ruffing two free throws to tie with :29 on the clock.

Julie Angell gave Mercy a 48-47 lead, but a lane violation precluded her from shooting the second free throw. Ruffing was fouled in the back court and converted the one-and-one.

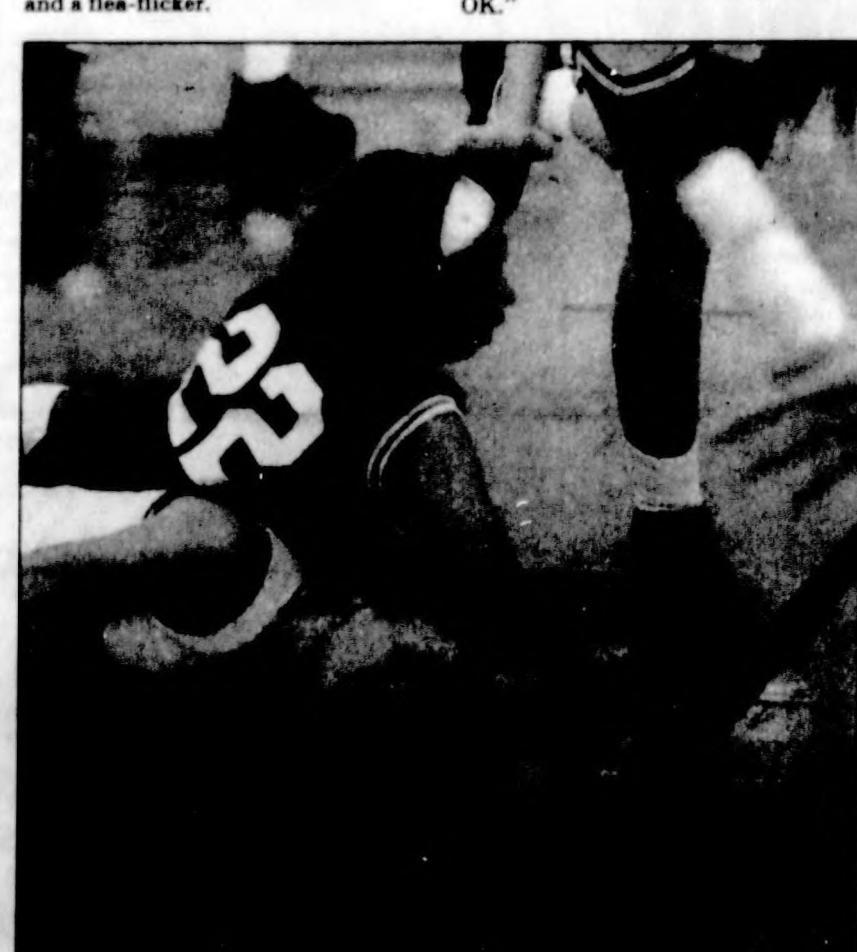

"I'll sleep well at night," Mercy coach Larry Baker said. "We were playing to win the game, and our mistakes came off aggressive play."

"We might give up some bragging rights, but this game is going to really help us through the season. I feel we've grown up a lot in two weeks."

■ CANTON 57, SALEM 48: The Chiefs sank 26 of 30 free throws Saturday to win the consolation game of the Mercy Hoops Classic.

Amicie Crayton scored 14 points to lead Canton (2-2). Kristi Florenzi and Sarah Warnke added 13 apiece, Melissa Marolf and Becky Vachow six each.

Cravon sank eight of 10 free throws, Warnke seven of eight, Marolf five of six and Florenzi all three chances. Salem's Shelly Sills scored a game-high 17 points. The Rocks (2-2) made 11 of 15 free throws, including five of nine by Sills. Lisa Erickson added nine points, Kelly Lukash and Amanda Abraham six apiece.

Hey there, baseball people!

Have you ever heard of bowlers going out on strike? Not very likely, except that all bowlers like throwing strikes of a different kind.

Now that the baseball season is called off, many ideas are being offered to take up the slack. It has even been suggested that the All-Star bowlers get up teams from the stars and classic leagues compete. It's well worth watching these highly talented men and women from our own hometowns as they show what real bowling skills are about.

Remember, admission is free, parking is free, the snack bar prices are always reasonable and every bowling center will make you feel welcome.

The Ansars's Big Boy Classic League at Drakeshire Lanes in Farmington Hills has some real top-notch talent on Monday nights. Clovers in Livonia hosts the All Star Bowlerettes, also on Mondays. Thunderbowl has the Lee Stanford All-Stars on Tuesdays and the Arens Pro Shop ladies on Wednesday nights. The Wonderland Classic at Wonderland Lanes in Livonia has lots of big scores on Wednesday nights.

Silver Lanes in Garden City is now worth a Monday night visit to see many of the area's top guns in action in a 12 man match play league which will finish the season by going to Pro Style finals.

There are many more excellent senior bowlers at almost every bowling center with something to offer for the spectator.

Whether you are a bowler or non-bowler, you can get your fill of great competition by going out to any of the local bowling centers where the All-major league cities and compete with each other under the regular or perhaps the Baker System.

Might seem like a good idea, but it has been tried back about the time the Thunderbowl Arena was first built. Maybe times were different, but the backers lost about $2,000,000 on the venture, the program died and nobody is about to resurrect it.

Whether you are a bowler or non-bowler, you can get your fill of great competition by going out to any of the local bowling centers where the All-

BASKETBALL

PCA opener
is a winner

A strong first half was all Plymouth Christian Academy needed to dispose of Southfield Franklin Road Friday, 47-28, in the first girls basketball game played at PCA's new gymnasium.

The Eagles, who improved to 4-1, outscored Franklin 13-3 in the first quarter and increased their lead to 22-7 by halftime. Although Franklin's offense was more productive in the second half, PCA still had a 25-21 advantage.

Karin Reed led the attack with 20 points and five assists. Lisa Erickson and Sarah Sumner contributed six apiece. Amy Jeffries topped the rebounders with nine.

Sarah Rattai scored 10 for Franklin. Nicole McIntosh had nine.

LADYWOOD 66, DEPORRES 38: Unbeaten Livonia Ladywood jumped out to a 36-12 halftime advantage en route to a convincing non-league triumph Thursday at Detroit DePorres.

Senior guard Becky Billick paced a balanced Ladywood attack with 14 points, five steals and three assists.

Erin LeSage and Stacey Judd added nine and eight points, respectively. Judd also grabbed eight rebounds.

Shari Hall of DePorres led all scorers with 18 points, but scored only two in the opening half.

"We got up early with the press and were able to play all our players early," said Ladywood first-year coach Lisa McPherson, whose team is 4-0 overall. "It was very hot in the gym."

It should get even warmer this Thursday as Ladywood opens Catholic League Central Division action at defending Class C state champion Redford Bishop Borgess.

AGAPE 46, LIVINGTON CHRIST. 10: Livingston Christian was no match for Plymouth Agape Christian, falling behind 13-2 after one quarter and 23-4 by halftime Friday at Agape Christian.

A pair of juniors paced the Agape attack. Guard Jaci Ther netted 21 points and center Gretchen Baisch had nine points and 10 rebounds.

Livington got seven of its points from Naima Nita.

The win boosted Agape to 2-1 overall, 2-0 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference.

HOROSCOPE

By C. C. Clark

Aries (March 21 - April 20)

It is time to come to grips with your life and stop letting things slide. If things seem at a standstill, you probably only have yourself to blame. Get moving!

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

Planning a party or special celebration will put you in a better mood. There is an indication that you will receive news about a birth or pregnancy.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

You are feeling confused and may wonder if things will ever be the same again. They won't, but life will take a turn for the better.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

A new idea could be the beginning of personal and financial freedom. An important message could bring some good news.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

You must think sensibly before taking on any new tasks. If you need help, ask for it. People will be drawn to you in an unexpected way.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

Don't let anyone try to pull the wool over your eyes. A disagreement could affect close relationships, and you will have to make amends.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

This is not a good time to begin new projects or plans. It is important that you wait a little longer for what you want. You will be a winner in the end.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

You may feel that you have been let down by someone you love. Do not participate in futile disagreements. Time is needed to repair relationships.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)

Many good things are happening to you. There is a possibility of a promotion, bonus or raise. Your interest in helping others will be rewarded.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

Someone has taken advantage of you, and there is not much you can do about it. Learn from the experience and do not repeat your mistakes.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

There is good news on the way for you, possibly by telephone or mail. A close friend or relative may need your help with an important matter.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

It is essential that you do your best to maintain harmony in your relationships. There is a good chance you will receive a small sum of money or a gift.

Due South a witty gift from our neighbor to the north

By John Crook

America, you have been warned. Due South producer Paul Haggis has every intention of using his show as a vehicle for insidious Canadian dogma.

The comedy-drama about an idealistic Mountie (Paul Gross) and his partner, a streetwise Chicago cop (David Marciano), airs Thursdays on CBS.

"Oh, absolutely," says the producer. "That's what we do in every show. What I found in the pilot was that I loved making fun of Americans just a little bit more than I loved making fun of Canadians. The thing I find about Americans is, for the most part, they love to laugh at themselves - or, more precisely, at other Americans."

"For Americans, I tried to set up, 'Oh, look at this buffoon, look at this stupid Canadian. Aren't we superior?' And then, all at once, the 'stupid Canadian' starts to make sense and to solve crimes. And it's annoying that he's doing that."

The critically acclaimed series initially weathered some chilly response in Haggis' native country, especially among TV critics who apparently did not grasp the tongue-in-cheek humor. "Actually, I think most of the Canadians that I talked to just on the street loved it," he says. "It was the press that was rough on us. I think we were called 'an abomination' by the (Toronto) Globe and Mail. I think they believed, rather than that I was having fun with the image of the Canadian Mountie and all those stereotypes, that I was sort of presenting it seriously."

"The RCMP initially hated the show, to the extent that at first they said they wouldn't cooperate with the show unless we changed - oh, I think they had 22 pages of notes, single-spaced, and they hinted at legal action if we used the uniform. So we went and changed the uniform - not the script at all, actually - so it wouldn't infringe on their so-called copyright. And then, of course, they complained that we changed the uniform! 'Look, what they're doing! They didn't even get the uniform right!'

"What finally happened is that the pilot aired, and the (RCMP) higher-ups saw it and, I guess, liked it. And the new public relations guy supposedly now wants to help us any way he can. So now we've changed the uniform (back) to make it absolutely correct."

"I have a punishing schedule," says Gross, who appears in almost every scene. "The hours are just long. And we move fast. It's difficult. I'm adjusting to it. The pace of television is quite strange to me. You have to keep going. But I think we'll all get used to it."

The actor says he has been disconcerted and frustrated by reporters who try to read too much into his character of Mountie Benton Fraser.

"I've been asked these completely loony questions, mostly by Canadian press people," he says. "Do you think this is a fair representation of the Canadian character? How do you feel about this morally, playing this part?"

"This guy (Fraser) is not typical of the Canadian character. Furthermore, if he is representative of the Canadian character, what more could we ask for? He's moral, upstanding, capable, efficient, heroic and generous. Hey - not bad! On the other hand, the American character is presented as inefficient, bumbling, overworked, disoriented and gun-happy. It's not a sociological treatise. It's a light entertainment."

Both Haggis and Gross say they are trying to be realistic about the chances of Due South being successful in a dicey time slot (opposite NBC's Mad About You, among other shows).

"It's death," Haggis says. "We fully expect to be on for four, then off. But we're going to have fun with the four episodes that we're on with."

"I hope I don't give you the impression that we're slamming Canadians, because we're putting in a lot of jokes that only Canadians understand. We love the fact that Americans know nothing about Canada. Like the fact that the dog is named Diefenbaker, after one of our famous prime ministers. So we just keep doing things like this and just not making anything out of it at all, and never explaining it, so Canadians will be able to have a good laugh and Americans just won't care."

"I think it's our strength, that we can slip in and undermine your entire political and social situation," Gross laughs. "You don't even notice us. It's a great weapon."

Reeling in the years with ESPN's Berman

BY JEFF PLASS

This month marks the 15th anniversary of one of the nation's cornerstones of sports entertainment, ESPN.

A part of the ESPN machine since practically the beginning, the Fred Flintstone-faced, gravelly voiced Chris Berman reflects on the passage of time on the network.

"Old," Berman exclaims. "I feel old. I came here as a young man; I was 24 years old. I had long hair and a Luis Tiant moustache. I worked at 2:30 in the morning."

"Now I'm almost 40 - I'm 39. I'm viewed by some as the statesman of the place. I don't know if that's true, but it's kind of like, 'Where did all the time go?'"

Both Berman and the network have undergone radical changes over the years, both growing older, wiser and more successful.

"I came here a young man, single," Berman relates, "now I'm married with an 8- and a 7-year-old. I'm doing the job I've always dreamed about doing. The place has become a part of American culture. You know, 15 years is a lot of time, but in TV, it's not."

"It's hard to imagine. You know, there were 70 of us here in 1979, and there's over 1,000 now. We were happy to have running water in 1979, and in 1994, we have an ESPN office in Hong Kong. So if you think about it, it's amazing."

Craig T. Nelson stars as Hayden Fox in the seventh season of Coach, Mondays on ABC.

Steve Martin

Tom Cruise may be set to film Mission Impossible this fall, but he has nothing on Steve Martin, who will begin work next month on two movies: Sgt. Bilko and Father of the Bride 2. At least they are both being shot in Los Angeles.

After an exhaustive search, HBO has selected Michael Jai White to star in its upcoming drama Tyson, about the life of former heavyweight boxing champ Mike Tyson. Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., White is six feet tall and weighs 205 pounds. He holds black belts in five martial arts. Production on the film begins this month.

True Blue: Fox's Cops is nearing the end of a six week assignment with the New York Police Department. Crews from the Saturday night reality series have been riding with the NYPD since mid-August. "We are especially pleased to be the first show allowed to film the NYPD at work," says executive producer John Langley. The shows should air later this fall.

Led Zeppelin's Robert Plant and Jimmy Page are being reunited for an MTV special to air in October. Unleaded will feature new arrangements of Led Zeppelin songs, plus new material being performed for the first time. The performances will be both acoustic and electric. Taping is being done in a London studio and locations in Morocco and Wales.

In the premiere episode of Madman of the People, airing Thursday, Sept. 22, on NBC, son Dylan (MTV's John Ales) presents his father (Dabney Coleman) with a Best of Ren & Stimpy videotape on the occasion of the older man's 30th wedding anniversary. Though his dad seems less than thrilled by the gift, Daryl enthusiastically offers to "keep it in my room with the Super Nintendo I bought you for Christmas." Now, thanks to Sony Wonder home video, Dylan can begin shopping for Christmas 1994. The label has just released Ren & Stimpy: Classics II, Ren & Stimpy: Have Yourself a Stinky Little Christmas and Ren & Stimpy's Crock O' Christmas.

Happy happy, joy joy, eh, dad?

HOME BIJOU

New doesn't necessarily mean improved:
a night of great old movies for the Home Bijou

BY STEVEN ALAN MCGAW

turn in fine supporting performances
The Other (1972)

Columns such as this one tend to focus week after week on the newest releases on video vendor shelves. But viewers would often find a better evening's entertainment looking beyond the new release section.

Here, in no particular order, are tried-and true gems for a memorable evening at the Home Bijou:

The Bride Wore Black (1968)

François Truffaut meant this film as his heartfelt homage to Alfred Hitchcock, and it's one of the few such efforts to be worthy of such an audacious tribute.

Desk Set (1957)

Perhaps the lesser of all the Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn films, determined to find—and exact her revenge upon—the five men who killed her fiancé on their wedding day.

Based on a novel by Cornell Woolrich, the film echoes the Master of Suspense from the fast-paced storytelling to the evocative score by Bernard Herrmann. Claude Rich, Jean-Claude Brialy and Michel Bouquet She's the chatty, untiringly effective head of the research department at a major magazine; he's the efficiency expert who thinks the whole bunch can be replaced by a computer.

Guess what happens next? Gig Young and Joan Blondell also star.

SOAP WORLD
Taylor's return causing trouble on B&B

BY CANDACE HAVENS

Dear Candace: I am really disgusted with the fact that The Bold and the Beautiful has brought back Taylor (Hunter Tylo) from the dead. She is the one who wanted to leave the show in the first place. The writers and producers should have let Taylor rest in peace.

Now that she is back, it can only mean trouble for Brooke and Ridge, two people who really belong together.

I hope that Taylor finds out about Ridge and Brooke, and then Ridge and Taylor get a divorce. James will be there to pick up the pieces for Taylor. Hoping they divorce, New Market, Tenn.

Dear Reader: B&B is now saying that they left the door open for Tylo to return after she filmed a miniseries in India. There will be trouble for Brooke and Ridge, but since Taylor doesn't remember anything about her past, who knows what might happen? Omar, who has supposedly taken care of Taylor all these months, may also be a factor.

Dear Candace: I am absolutely in love with Tomas on Another World. He is so gorgeous. My only complaint is that he makes some really stupid mistakes. Anyone who can be duped by that little tramp Angela needs his or her head examined. Could you please tell me the name of the actor who plays Tomas and an address where I can write to him?

Also, I don't care what other people think about Carl, I have always lusted after this bad guy. I really think he is trying to turn his life around, but his past keeps catching up with him. Rachel is crazy if she doesn't hold on to this one. She hasn't always been an angel herself. Fan in Wisconsin.

Dear Reader: You may write to Diego Serrano (Tomas) in care of Another World, NBC-TV, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10112.

Dear Candace: Would you please tell me who portrays Pete on As the World Turns? I would also like his address. Amie Dolio in Minnesota.

Dear Reader: Jason Biggs plays Pete. You may write to him in care of As the World Turns, CBS-TV, 51 W. 52nd St., New York, N.Y. 10019.
