Railroad crossings could close

A proposal has been made to close two railroad crossings in Plymouth's Old Village. The crossings at Holbrook and York streets would be affected.

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

The closing of railroad crossings at Holbrook and York streets in Old Village has been proposed by CSX Transportation to city officials, who are reviewing the potential benefits.

"The city is going to be looking at the feasibility of closing those crossings," said City Manager Steve Walters. "We'll obviously have some discussions with adjacent property owners, and try to determine how traffic would turn around at the end of the street."

The state has ordered that CSX improve signal crossings at each crossing, and Walters said CSX officials have told the city they'd prefer to spend the money on rubberized crossings at Starkweather and Mill Streets.

The CSX proposal to pick up the entire tab for rubberized crossings is attractive to city officials, because without the offer the city's contribution to two rubberized crossings would total about $40,000, Walters said.

Walters said the state has set an October deadline for an answer on what's planned for crossings at Holbrook and York. With nearby residents' input, city officials plan to determine whether or not to close the crossings by then.

Walters said the Starkweather and Mill crossings are scheduled for routine maintenance this summer.

"The city and the railroad are interested in rebuilding them with rubberized crossings like Main Street and Ann Arbor Trail have," Walters said. "We've tentatively discussed with the railroad getting into those crossings and the sharing of costs."

Fond memories of Plymouth will last minister a lifetime

BY JILL HALPIN

As most would agree, learning to say goodbye is never easy. For Lee Seese and his family, it will be particularly hard. Not only are they saying goodbye to friends and members of his church congregation, they are also saying goodbye to Plymouth. And that may prove to be the hardest thing of all for the family.

"Saying farewell is always a hard thing to do. The sounds of the train whistles in the middle of the day, the Fourth of July parade, the Penn Theatre, band concerts in the park — these are some of the things that mean Plymouth," said Seese, who has served as associate minister at the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth since 1990.

"But more than that, it is the graciousness that we have experienced in this city; the way we were welcomed by the church and the community," Seese said. "People always thought of us, whether it was Thanksgiving dinner, extra tickets to a Tiger game or a trip up north. People always went out of their way and this is the way that we will remember Plymouth. It is noticeable, and it is something that sets Plymouth apart from other parts of the country."

On July 19, Seese will leave his post at the church and move to Seattle where he has accepted a position as minister of the Mount Baker Park Presbyterian Church.

The move offers a mixed blessing. Although the family is leaving a town that they love, they are also headed for home. Both he and his wife, Lisa Konick, were born and raised in Seattle, and their families still live there. The couple is looking forward to introducing their sons, Jeremy, 8, and Devin, 4, to the place where they themselves grew up.

"The move offers a good opportunity for our boys to grow up near our family. Both Lisa and I are adventurers and there are parts of the world where we would like to do a mission. But for the next stretches of our sons' lives, we thought it would be nice for them to share in the benefit of living near their grandparents and cousins," Seese said.

He said the move also offers a unique professional opportunity. His new church in Seattle, while set in an affluent neighborhood, is surrounded by a lower income area populated by southeast Asian refugees from the post-Vietnam era. Seese said that he is eager to work with the church in creating a "oneness in Christ that transcends racial barriers. The congregation is working toward this."

Seese graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary in New Jersey in 1980 and temporarily returned to Seattle for six months, staying at home with his son, Jeremy, while Lisa worked as a reporter for the Seattle Times. He was notified of the position in Plymouth by friend and mentor Brewster "Bud" Gere, now minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Farmington.

Seese said that although the church leaders may have had doubts about his age and lack of experi-

Storm knocks out power

Thursday brought a triple whammy to Plymouth and Canton.

Mother Nature unleashed two of the miseries—a sultry heat wave with temperatures close to 100 and an early evening storm that blackened the sky and led to downed trees and power outages throughout the area. A funnel cloud even was reported by spotted near Livonia.

On Friday, Detroit Edison spokeswoman Mary Kay Bean said, "We had 4,800 customers affected by outages as a result of the storm."

As of 2 p.m. we still had 3,900 customers without service," she said. "We've been concentrating on wire down calls right now, because it's very important to protect the public safety."

She said Edison expected the majority of affected Plymouth customers to have power restored by Saturday. "We'll be working through the weekend," she said, adding 100 additional line workers were coming from Pennsylvania to work with the usual Edison crews and private contractors to restore power.

Outages were caused by storms Thursday with 50-60 mph winds and lightning strikes. "They have the ability to have a tremendous impact on trees, lines and equipment," Bean said.

In Canton, trees and branches were down, but there were no major problems reported, according to officials.

The third calamity struck at 6:30 a.m. and came not from Mother Nature but from our high-tech society. Thousands of local residents spent the day without telephone service when a switch failed at an Ameritech building at 11770 Merriman, Livonia. Some 65,000 telephone lines in Livonia, Westland and Garden City were out for most of the day, said Jonathan James, Ameritech spokesman.

The summer storm hit about 6 p.m., bringing a bit of relief from the steam of the day. The sky darkened, fingers of lightning spread across the sky, trees rocked and swayed and torrents of water fell.

With the storm came a loss of power, to homes, businesses and street lights.

Fresh produce sold at market

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce invites you and your family to enjoy summer delectables, at the chamber-sponsored Farmers Market from 7:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. every Saturday through October.

The farmers market is at The Gathering across from Kellogg Park. The market provides fresh produce, plants and baked goods.

Fan club

Several Plymouth and Canton Democrats were in attendance for the most recent meeting of the Ann Arbor Hillary Rodham Clinton Fan Club.

More than 50 area members attended an April potluck in Ann Arbor, where politicians lauded the first lady for her work on behalf of women and children and Hillary T-shirts were offered for sale.

"We sent one to Hillary who says she is delighted with it," said chapter coordinator Janine Easter.

There are 350 club members, ranging in age from 8 to 88. For Open mike sessions are also scheduled for the program, which runs to 10:30 p.m.

Civil War series

The Civil War Lecture Series at the Plymouth Historical Museum continues at 7:30 p.m. July 27 with lecturer Martin Broanan, speaking on Lincoln's early years.

There will also be a slide presentation. The series is in conjunction with the museum exhibit of Lincoln memorabilia collected by Weldon Pets.

Teen mission trip an eye-opener

By DIANE HANSON
Staff Writer

Are you crazy? asked four young bystanders in Jackson, Tenn. The boys were watching teen-agers about their own age build a house and grade a yard that didn't even belong to them. The bystanders were incredulous when they learned the workers had traveled more than 700 miles to work in the 100-degree temperatures and weren't even getting paid.

The workers, 15 area teens from the youth group at Geneva Presbyterian Church in Canton, had been involved in fund-raising the previous year about $4,000, to make the trip and work with Habitat for Humanity. Those nine boys and six girls ages 15-18 were under the guidance of youth director David Willerup.

The bystanders, with nothing to do except shout insults, were approached by James, a large man in charge of the Habitat project in Jackson.

James taught me a thing or two about charity," Willerup admitted. Instead of reprimanding them, James said, "Hey, you got nothing to do, why don't you work with us?"

That's just what they did and they did get paid, in chocolate chip cookies.

"That was fine for them," said Willerup. "They got their cookies, they pulled some weeds and they learned something about helping people in need."

Helping people in need is nothing new for the folks at Geneva. Involved in many community outreach projects, this was the fourth annual pilgrimage for the youth group to assist Habitat for Humanity in various locations throughout the country.

It was the first for Willerup who came to Geneva a year ago as an intern.

Volunteers help homeowner families building their own homes as well as those of neighbors.

Said Willerup, "Habitat is not just building homes but they're building communities because they are bringing people from the community in to work together. They're building everybody's sense of giving."

The homes are one-story dwellings built on slabs to keep the cost at about $15,000. The resident is expected to pay for the building materials but interest-free loans are available through Habitat.

Rosalind, who along with her daughter would be the new residents. Rosalind's mother worked as a volunteer.

Willerup said, "Her mother could outwork anybody. Her mother was working real hard because she wanted Rosalind out of her house."

Willerup was impressed with the efforts of his teen crew. The youth group members consisted of Don Miller, Jeff Koon, Ben Fedorko, Greg Baack, Chris Gray, Emily Gaubatz, Becca Goldsmith, Katie Foley, Ryan Sarach, Adam Wolski, Dave Colburn, Neil Fichtenberg, Nancy Kindraka, Amy Scharmen and Lindsay Miller. Chaperones were Dave and Carol Bunch, Mike Gaubatz and Jim Fedorko.

"It's a lot of hard work," said Adam Wolski, 16, a student at Plymouth Salem High School. "I like working as a group, working on houses. It just feels great, especially when you're doing it and you know you're actually doing something right and good."

This was Wolski's second Habitat sojourn. Last year, he traveled with the group to Apollo, Pa., and he has plans to go on next year's trip.

Nancy Kindraka, 16, a student at Plymouth Canton, has made plans to go on the next trip. This was her first time working for Habitat.

"I found it to be really exciting," she said. "It was exciting to be out helping the people. Building the house and working with the homeowners themselves was really fun. You didn't even mind the hard work so much because you knew this was good for these people."

"The whole church was behind us in this mission," said Willerup. "They were very supportive throughout the whole year in all of our fund-raising activities to help us out so that we would have the budget to do it."

Next year's trip to work on Habitat homes is already in the planning stages. The adults at Geneva have also committed to assisting the Habitat building blitz to be held in Detroit from Aug. 6-11, by packing 100 lunches for the volunteers working on site.

Those wishing to obtain more information or offer services to the Detroit Habitat project from Aug. 6-11 should call (313) 521-6691.

Bricks from streets selling like hotcakes

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

The sale of downtown street bricks to benefit the Plymouth Historical Society is a big success, said Jack Kenyon of the society.

The Main Street bricks excavated during street construction went on sale at the city Department of Public Works yard July 8 and have continued to sell on successive Saturdays. "We're well over 3,000 bricks sold," Kenyon said Thursday.

"What's left are mostly broken and chipped; people who want bricks have to dig around and can't really get into the bottom of the pile," he said, adding about 5,000 bricks remain.

The sale continues on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"A lot of people show up to buy less than five bricks, but some have bought from 100 to 350," Kenyon said.

HISTORY

Some of the bricks offered for sale are sandblasted and etched with the words "Main Street Plymouth, Mich. 1908," the year the bricks were made and laid on Main Street for its first paving.

"The big users are for patios; the intermediate users get them for walkways and edging planters; small users buy them for souvenirs; some of them are even going to people out of state," Kenyon said.

The historical society so far has raised more than $2,000 from the brick sale, Kenyon said.

The bricks sell for 50 cents each for the first 100, 45 cents for the next hundred, and 40 cents each for even more bricks.

The money "will go either in the operating budget or into the capital funds, the interest of which supplements the operating budget," Kenyon said.

Theresa Gail of Plymouth said she bought a brick for her patio as a memento of Main Street. "I'm going to put it in a strategic spot," she said.

Former state representative Jerry Vorva of Plymouth said, "I picked up about 125 so far," adding he would have taken more on that trip but was afraid of breaking the axle on his van.

"I'm going back to reclaim some more. I'm going to replace the bricks on my porch; it's nice to have some Plymouth history on my porch. It makes a great value and it's a great thing to have."

"I'm also purchasing some sandblasted bricks, one to put in my porch and some extra ones for my real estate customers," Vorva said. "It's a nice conversation piece and it helps the historical society."

Precinct changes get school board's approval

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

School precincts in Plymouth-Canton are being realigned, but don't look for school and government precincts to have the same configurations now — or any time soon.

As convenient as it would be for voters to go to the same polling place for both school and government elections, it wouldn't be practical or cost-effective, say school officials.

The Board of Education changed the boundaries of school district Precincts 3 and 5 in Plymouth Township at its meeting Monday night. Trustees also eliminated from school district Precinct 8 the portion in Plymouth Township. Affected voters will be notified of the changes by mail.

"It's a convenient time for the township of Plymouth to give us the needed help in this project, since they are realigning many of their own precinct boundaries," said Ellen Schroeder, Plymouth-Canton elections clerk.

Changes in Canton precincts to accommodate the township's growth are expected next.

"Canton Township has indicated to us that some changes will be coming in the near future that will dictate our realigning school precinct boundaries in Canton. We will also be creating a new school precinct in Canton," said Schroeder. "At this point, all precincts that include the city of Plymouth, township of Plymouth, and township of Canton will not overlap one another."

Superintendent Charles Little

said, "Periodically, the townships and city realign their precincts in an effort to economize. When Plymouth realigned this winter, we joined them. This allows us to use the same notification postcard system. Canton will realign in the fall, and we can use the same mailing with them to inform voters so things are clear and economical."

Apparently, despite receiving cards in the mail, some voters were unsure where to vote in the school district's election last month.

Newly elected Trustee Michael Maloney said, "One of the things that really frustrates voters is when their voting place changes. We should be able to explain, because it's going to cause the same frustration."

Maloney said he came across a voter election day who was so exasperated that she said to him, "They are trying to discourage me from voting."

Speaking of election day, Plymouth City Commissioner Robert Jones told the board that he encountered a woman who'd come to the wrong precinct, and was unable to find out where she was supposed to vote. "This went on to the point where she didn't vote. She wasn't going to vote for the 2.3 mill anyway," he said. "I think we should be able to tell people where they vote. If this is a particular problem, I hope it's looked at before the next election."

Little said each polling place posts a map. In addition, said Schroeder, all election workers have to do is call her office, open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. every election day.

"Questions can be answered quickly and accurately that way," said Little.

"How difficult would it be to make the master list available at every precinct?" asked Trustee Jack Farrow. "That's possible, but not right now," said Dave Rodwell, research and technology director.

Schroeder said the last three elections have gone smoothly.

There's been talk of matching school and government precincts, she said. "There may be a push for it, but frankly, I don't see how it would happen. The cost would be tremendous, and practically, it's just not conceivable. Government has 43 precincts. We have 17. We'd be looking at almost 200 precinct workers. We have less than 100 now." Equipment would be a huge added expense, Schroeder said.

The district spent $18,000 on the June 12 election.

Realigning government precincts with school precincts wouldn't work either, "because they have more voters than we do, and a greater voter turnout," Schroeder said.

"Where people get confused is in some small school districts, they can do it real easily. We have six governmental units to serve."

The process will be further streamlined when the district switches to a computerized system, Schroeder said.

Hiring of 11 new teachers gets the nod from trustees

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

The hiring of 11 more teachers was approved by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education last week. Board members approved the hiring of 17 teachers and learning specialists at a previous meeting.

The new hires are replacing 64 teachers who accepted an early retirement package offered by the district.

Among the new teachers to start at Iabister in the fall is an Eastern Michigan University graduate who has two relatives in the district, one of whom teaches at Iabister. Laura Riegal's aunt, Linda Guenzel, teaches at Iabister. Her brother, James Riegal, teaches at Bentley Elementary.

According to board policy, relatives of district employees can be hired, as long as the board is informed of it and relatives don't supervise one another.

Errol Goldman, assistant superintendent for employee relations and personnel, notified the board of the situation last week.

A couple of trustees questioned whether relatives teaching in the same elementary school might present a problem.

"I spoke with (Iabister principal) Lee Harrison, and the individual (Laura Riegal) has been a long-term sub there. They were very impressed with her," said Goldman. "I don't have a problem with it."

Trustee Barbara Graham said, "I'm uncomfortable with them being in the same building. It will be very difficult if we continue the same trend."

An administrator evaluating an employee with a relative in the same building is presented with a difficulty, she said. "I'm not particularly fond of the idea if we go too far. I wonder if there is some way to remedy this in the future."

Goldman said, "The difficulty is you want a committee at each school doing its own hiring. They want the best available. I don't believe our administrators will have any difficulty with evaluation."

Parent Lucy French told the board her daughter was fortunate to have Laura Riegal as a teacher last year. "It worries me that nepotism might override competency," she said. "She really is an outstanding young lady."

Newly elected Trustee Mike Maloney said he was part of the committee that screened teaching applicants and made hiring recommendations at Allen Elementary School recently.

"The committee spent 50-60 hours on this. I'm absolutely convinced we got excellent teachers in the process," he said.

Superintendent Charles Little, who proposed the "stakeholder" hiring committees, said the system is "designed to identify the highest quality teachers available."

New hires include Field Elementary teachers Karen Brackett, a graduate of the University of Michigan, and Delene Franchi, an Eastern Michigan University graduate.

Headed to the Tanger Center are Olivet College and University of Michigan graduate Christie Czajkowski; Oakland University and University of Michigan graduate Walter Jurewicz; and Eastern Michigan University graduate Heather Ogden.

Reporting to Allen this August will be Elaina Plakas of Michigan State University, and Dayna Rugh, a Central Michigan University graduate who taught for a year in the Oak Park school district.

Beth Schimelman, a University of Rhode Island graduate, will teach at Fiegel Elementary. Lori Love of the University of Michigan and Nicol Shamey of Eastern Michigan University will teach art at schools to be determined.

Customer writes rubber check

A 36-year-old Belleville woman told Plymouth police that she's out $74.39, thanks to a customer who bounced a check.

The customer, a 30-year-old woman from Livonia, came to the victim's business at 385 N. Mill recently and had services performed. She paid with a check, which has been returned twice for insufficient funds.

The customer's account has been closed. The victim contacted the suspect, who promised to make the check good. She has yet to do so. Police gave the woman a victim's rights card, and advised her to contact the detective bureau.

Hit and run

A 73-year-old Plymouth man said he was driving near Main and Mill streets July 10 in Plymouth when his car was struck in the right-wheel area by a large tan vehicle that was leaving Beyer's drug store.

Both cars pulled into Hardee's parking lot. When the victim said the police should be called, the suspect left the scene.

The victim said he would know the suspect if he saw him again. He is described as in his late 30s, "dirty looking," with straight hair, and a medium build.

The victim was unable to provide details about the van.

Police recovered broken plastic at the scene.

Dogs pitch in during shootout

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI

Louie and Deli aren't golfers, but they sure know how to handle a golf club — especially if you are hoping they will hand it to you.

Louie and Deli are service dogs, trained by Paws with a Cause, and they were on hand for the Plymouth-Canton Civitan Club's Hole-in-One Shootout to raise money to help a community resident get such a dog.

"We had 66 people come out on the first Saturday," said Civitan member Gene Kafila of Uniglobe Travel in Plymouth. "The weather was windy and cool. But from noon on we got activity. And Sunday was better."

The Civitans sponsored the shootout for two weekends, July 8-9 and 15-16, at the new Pheasant Run Golf Club practice range in Canton. The money raised will help the Civitans buy a $8,500 service dog for a community resident who is handicapped and is in need of a dog to help.

In the first weekend of the shootout, the Civitans sold 850 balls at $1 a piece. Golfers who qualified will move on to a regional shootout and then to a final shootout where winners are eligible for a number of cash prizes, including a $1 million annuity. At the local level, golfers were driving the ball 105 yards with a goal of getting either a hole-in-one or shooting closest to the hole.

"There is a dog in training and designated for this person," said Kafila, who added that the person who needs the dog will not be identified until later. "They have to be compatible with each other."

The dogs are trained by Paws with a Cause to answer telephones, open doors, and do just about whatever is needed for the soon-to-be new master. "Those dogs brought tears to my eyes," Kafila said, referring to Louie and Deli, who picked up golf clubs, carried buckets of golf balls and generally encouraged participants in the shootout.

Helping out: Louie, a service dog trained by Paws with a Cause, helps golfers at the Plymouth-Canton Civitan Hole-in-One Shootout at the Pheasant Run Golf Course practice range. The shootout is a fund-raiser for the Civitans to raise money to get a service dog for a community resident.

once when they first received his resume, all doubts were erased during his first visit to Plymouth for an interview.

"We fell in love with one another instantly. In the beginning, they were concerned that I did not have enough experience. Most people come out of the seminary and work in other areas before becoming an associate minister. This position included overseeing pastoral care. It was a tall order. Just coming out of seminary, but Budge encouraged them to give me a chance and they did," he said.

Soon after Seese started, long-time minister the Rev. Phillip Magee retired, and Seese stayed on as the church began a two-year search for a minister that ended in August 1994, when the Rev. James Skimins was hired to head the church.

Church law prohibited him from applying for Magee's position and Seese stayed on until the church was stabilized. "I could have stayed on here as associate minister. Looking back, I realize that my real calling was to stick around and be the known quantity for the congregation while the church found a new minister," Seese said.

Seese and his family made a strong impact on both the church and the community and will be greatly missed, members said.

"Lee has brought a certain grace and stability to the people. We are sorry to see him go, but we recognize his need to head a new church," Skimins said.

Seese said that while he and his family will miss Plymouth, they are already planning return trips.

"This is the place where I saw my first white Christmas and I'll never forget it. When we first moved here people said, 'You're moving to Detroit?' But what we found was a perfect middle-American town, the kind of place that most people wish they could live. It is a great place to have started a career," Seese said.

but the railroad has raised the question that the Holbrook and York crossings might be closed to vehicle traffic and potentially the railroad would be willing to be involved financially in other crossings to a greater extent."

For the York and Holbrook crossings to remain open, Walters said automated signaling would have to be installed, and the railroad and city would split equally a cost of $10,000 to $50,000, plus annual maintenance costs.

Walters said the state is encouraging the closing of railroad crossings, and offers money to communities to help pay costs to close them.

He said city engineers will try to determine how to create a turn-around where streets would be closed at the railroad tracks, "then go to property owners and show them where we were."

"If we get to the point of officially considering the closing, a public hearing would be held," Walters said, adding nearby property owners would be notified first.

Has your Mom had a mammogram?

The risk of breast cancer increases with age. It is one of the leading causes of death among women 20 and older. Early detection through regular mammograms could prevent many of these deaths. Yet so many get older, they are less likely to get mammograms. Has your Mom had a mammogram? If not, encourage her to get one. It might be your chance to give her good advice.

Death penalty amendment is 'narrowest' yet

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

One thing is different about the latest in a 27-year series of efforts to bring the death penalty to Michigan.

"Mine is the narrowest proposal yet," said Rep. Chuck Perricone, R-Kalamazoo, as the House Judiciary Committee opened hearings July 13 on his HJR N, a proposed constitutional amendment.

The freshman lawmaker's plan would allow prosecutors to seek the death penalty in first-degree murder cases under these circumstances: (1) two or more murders, (2) murder committed in a terrorist act "intended to intimidate or coerce a civilian population," or (3) an attempt to influence governmental policy "by assassination or kidnapping."

The panel's meeting was held up for 40 minutes for lack of a quorum. Absentees included Reps. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, and James Ryan, R-Redford.

Perricone has 13 Republican and one Democratic co-sponsors. Committee Democrats revealed their hostility to the proposal.

Perricone said he rejected efforts by many fellow Republicans to include killing of a police or corrections officer. Nor does he want to include "crimes of passion and gas station holdups where it (killing) wasn't intended."

He said arguments over whether execution deters crime and is racist aren't pertinent because "we have an unusually high murder rate" for which execution in some cases is appropriate.

Rep. Alan Cropsey, R-DeWitt, advised Democrats to work on Perricone's compromise because if lawmakers fail to put it on the 1996 ballot, "this could go to the petition process, and if it does, it's not going to be as narrow."

A two-thirds vote of each chamber is needed to put the constitutional amendment on the ballot for voters in 1996. Although Gov. John Engler opposes the death penalty, he has no power to veto the resolution.

Democrats such as Rep. Ted Wallace of Detroit denounced the plan as racist, with blacks being executed in greater proportions than whites.

"I find it revolting," said freshman Rep. Laura Baird, D-Okemos. "It's an immature social impulse to seek revenge."

Said Rep. Mary Schroer, D-Ann Arbor: "It's odd that you (Republicans) trust a jury (in death penalty cases), but for weeks I've heard you don't trust a jury in product liability and malpractice cases." She referred to GOP efforts to limit jury awards in civil suits for non-economic "pain and suffering" damages.

Michigan was the first jurisdiction in the English-speaking world to ban the death penalty after the wrong man was hanged in the 19th century. Voters rejected a death-penalty amendment in 1931. Talk and petition drives revived after the 1967 Detroit riot. Despite poll support of 75-80 percent, however, petition drives have always faltered.

House Judiciary Chair Michael Nye, R-Litchfield, used the hot week and the Appropriations Committee room to give conservatives in his caucus public hearings on controversial proposals. A day earlier the panel had an overflow crowd on proposals to end affirmative action programs in the state.

The plan would allow prosecutors to seek the death penalty in first-degree murder cases under these circumstances: (1) two or more murders, (2) murder committed in a terrorist act, or (3) an attempt to influence governmental policy "by assassination or kidnapping."

Governor's veto cuts court funding

Capitol capsules: Gov. John Engler heated up the debate over trial court reorganization by vetoing $25 million in aid to outstate courts, much to the disappointment of western Michigan politicians.

"The governor's veto is unfortunate . . . We want immediate action on restructuring," said Tim McGuire, executive director of the Michigan Association of Counties. MAC has a suit before the state Supreme Court that would force the state to pay core costs of trial courts in the 82 outstate counties.

In 1980 the Legislature took the first step by picking up the costs of Wayne County and Detroit courts but never took the second step until this year when lawmakers voted an extra $25 million for courts.

But Engler vetoed that line item, saying he wants "major near-term decisions" on trial court reorganization as well as on "the appropriate number, location and jurisdiction of trial judges. Until these decisions are made, I cannot support additional funds for local courts."

While Engler has yet to be specific on what kind of court reorganization he favors, leaders of the State Bar are proposing a single "trial court" to replace circuit, Detroit Recorder's, probate and district courts. A joint legislative committee is studying restructuring.

But Engler praised the Legislature for voting a separate lump-sum budget for the judiciary instead of a series of line items.

Indian aid saved

Engler didn't veto the Indian tuition waiver program, as he had threatened, but announced he doesn't want it in next year's budget.

"A veto would merely deprive public colleges and universities of reimbursements for waivers granted in prior years," he said. "I will not support further appropriations to reimburse (universities and colleges) for tuition waived for Native American students (in the future)."

A fee of special line items and complex budgets, the governor wants all aid programs lumped into a single account. For example, Engler vetoed a $250,000 line item for the Nursing Opportunity Program "because it is a new program that focuses financial aid on a subset of students and a single occupation rather than providing funds for all students that are in need."

Jeff Parker, head of the Bay Mills Indian Community and chair of the Michigan Inter-Tribal Council, asked Engler to reconsider because "we have a unique historical relationship with the state as a result of treaties. The tuition waiver is the result of a 1934 agreement giving Native American land to form the state of Michigan in exchange for certain rights . . . including tuition."

The higher education budget provides a 3 percent cost-of-living hike for all 15 universities and a handful of special adjustments.

Double-bunking

Prison double-bunking will continue at a state prison in Plymouth Township under the Corrections Department budget bill, which Engler signed.

It provides full-year funding for 471 new double-bunked beds, including 276 at the Western Wayne Correctional Facility.

The $1.3 billion corrections bill also provides $4 million for minimum security facilities and increases the county jail reimbursement program by $5.8 million to $14 million.

AN UNHEALTHY COMBINATION

Aside from all the other unhealthy effects caused by smoking and drinking excessively, each of these bad habits has been associated with a number of oral cancers, including those of the mouth, throat, esophagus, larynx, and tongue. To make matters worse, when smoking and drinking are combined, it leads to an effect whereby the alcohol seems to multiply smoking's risk of causing cancer. To begin with, smoking a pack of cigarettes each day increases the smoker's risk for developing oral cancer by 52 percent over the non-smoking test-taker's risk. When the smoker drinks one drink per day, the cancer risk rises 400 percent. Those who both smoke more than two packs a day and drink more than two drinks a day expose themselves to a risk for oral cancer that is 15 times greater.

These are more reasons to quit smoking if you have not done so already. At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we will assess your oral health needs, consider your preferences, and then discuss and help you select the options that will meet all the necessary goals. We're located at 19171 Merriman Road, where your optimum health is always our main concern. Smiles are our business. Please call 478-2110 to schedule a convenient appointment. Sea World visit

Wet ride: On a recent visit to Sea World of Ohio, Kelly Layton, a 5-year-old Plymouth resident, had a whale of a time and the best seat in the house at Shamu Stadium. Kelly was selected to meet Shamu the killer whale with the assistance of animal trainer Kelly Reed during Sea World's killer whale and dolphin presentation, "Shared World."

'Phantom Tollbooth' play designed with kids in mind

"The Phantom Tollbooth," a play by Susan Nanus based on the children's book with the same name by Norton Juster, will be presented Tuesday and Wednesday by Redford Youth Theatre.

The performances will be 7 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, July 18-19, in the auditorium of Thurston High. All tickets are $3 and seats are reserved. Tickets may be bought at the door or in advance at Thurston from 9 a.m. to noon in the auditorium. Parents are asked not to bring children younger than age 3.

The Redford Youth Theatre production is the result of a four-week (60-hour) workshop in which students from grades 3-11 have been working on scene study, improvisation, costume design, set design, painting, singing and dancing.

"We try to offer students the opportunity to do as much as possible in a production because that's where the learning begins," said director Nancy Florkowski. "Besides, kids want to feel like they have contributed something to a production rather than having everything done for them."

"Of course, this is not always possible. For example, when we did 'Oliver' in March this year, there were almost 60 students in the production so the kids did a great deal of rehearsing while we left the technical work up to the adults.

"Speaking of kids, some of our teachers have been high school students themselves. For example, our choreographer for 'Oliver' was Celia Keenan Bolger who will be starting her senior year at the Detroit High School for the Fine and Performing Arts this fall. Jody Florkowski, also a senior at DSA, has been teaching improvisation for two years now.

"Evette Griffore, a senior at Thurston High, helped her sister, Janette, a couple years ago and is now teaching scenery and prop painting for our production of 'The Phantom Tollbooth.' Steve Vedder, 1995 graduate of Thurston, also taught scene study in our spring workshop this year."

Redford Youth Theatre was started in February 1990 when Florkowski, drama teacher at Pierce Middle School in South Redford School District, decided to make it her master's project for her degree in drama/theater for the young at Eastern Michigan University.

The program started with about 20 students and grew continuously the past five years. The youth theater has more than 300 members on its mailing list today. In fact, at one time, students had to be turned away after a program filled up.

The classes are at various places, depending on where space can be found. "We usually need a few classrooms as well as a large room such as a gymnasium for dance classes. We like Thurston's auditorium for performance because it is just the right size for a small audience. Unfortunately, it isn't always available because of school activities, so we try to schedule around other people," said Florkowski.

"Many parents like the program because it keeps their children busy in a positive way. They meet new friends and gain self-confidence while having a lot of fun. Teamwork is also an important factor in Redford Youth Theatre productions. The show can't go on unless everyone cooperates."

Anyone interested in joining Redford Youth Theatre may call 535-8962.

Skill Center lauds graduates

Several residents of western Wayne County received their diplomas recently from the Northwest Wayne Skill Center.

Students from Livonia Public Schools, Wayne-Westland, Plymouth-Canton, Redford Union, South Redford, Garden City and nearby districts received high school diplomas from their respective districts and vocational training certificates from the skill center.

The Livonia Franklin High jazz band, directed by Kristi Jasin, performed the processional, recessional and national anthem. The welcome was given by center Principal Earl Dawson, a talk was presented by student Danielle Danbison, and awards were presented by Denise Johnson.

The graduation ceremony was combined with an honors convocation and the convocation address was given by Dennis Neubacher of WJR radio.

High school diplomas were presented to Jenny Adle, Allison Allen, Jennifer Brown, Steven Brown, David Carpenter, Christine Coloske, Leslie Dane, Lyle Daniels, Danielle Danielson, Kevin Demsky, Patricia DesJardin, Sara Foley, Daniel Grunas, Martha Heath, Cleveland Hooper, Roger Klein, Steven Kucharski, Denise Lyzack, Karen Mallie, Donald Moore, Todd Parks, Carl Pascarella, Amy Russell, Celene Schlicht, Tracy Shomo, Ginger Short, Larry Spencer, David Tackett Jr., Melissa Thornton, Sandra Weidemann, and Susan Zelinski.

Receiving vocational training certificates for completing job training at the center were Jenny Adle, Allison Allen, Jennifer Barnes, Patrick Brown, Steven Brown, David Carpenter, Christine Coloske, Leslie Dane, Lyle Daniels, Danielle Danielson, Kevin Demsky, Patricia DesJardin, Sara Foley, Daniel Grunas, James Hayes, Martha Heath, Cleveland Hooper, Roger Klein, Steven Kucharski, Robert Lubeck, Denise Lyzack, Larry McDonald, Karen Mallie, Donald Moore, Todd Parks, Carl Pascarella, Amy Russell, Celene Schlicht, Tracy Shomo, Ginger Short, Larry Spencer, David Tackett Jr., Melissa Thornton, Sandra Weidemann, and Susan Zelinski.

Presenting diplomas, certificates and awards were Ken Watson, superintendent of Livonia Public Schools, and Suzanne Clulow, member of the Livonia Board of Education.

A reception was held after the ceremony and an all-school dance followed.

Committee plans hospital gala

Fund-raiser: A committee comprised of local residents is spending the summer planning "Motown Magic," set for this fall at the Crowne Plaza Holiday Inn at Detroit Metropolitan Airport. The committee includes (from left) Joyce Pappas of Garden City, Debbie Ley of Plymouth Township, Bob Stevenson of Ann Arbor, Denise Esley of Livonia and Margaret Woodruff of Livonia. The Saturday, Oct. 14, event will feature the Contours, a Motown music group. Tickets for the fund-raiser are $100 per person which includes "cruising" the drive-in through five food stations and dancing to the music of Motown artists. Guests will top off the evening with a late-night coney. Funds raised will be used to renovate the Garden City Hospital emergency service facility. Hospital officials say the expansion is needed to meet an ever-increasing demand for emergency services. Corporations and businesses are asked to join the fund-raising effort and be recognized as a platinum ($750 and more), gold ($500) or silver ($250) record sponsors. Individuals will be recognized as musical note sponsors with donation of $100 (whole note), $50 (half note) or $25 (quarter note). For ticket or sponsor information, call the hospital's Development Department at 458-4331.

Service dogs bill signed

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Rep. Penny Crissman won Gov. John Engler's signature on a bill to allow guide and service dogs to enter both private and public buildings during their training.

"Introducing guide and service dogs to a variety of situations during their training is crucial to proper socialization," said Crissman, R-Rochester.

Her House Bill 4052 will take effect Jan. 1.

"Its passage gives us legitimate reason backed by lawful support to bring these animals into public facilities during their training," said Bill Hansen, president of Rochester Leader Dogs for the Blind. The bill was also supported by Paws with a Cause, the Michigan Humane Society and the Michigan Association of Doctors of Veterinary Medicine.

The new law will require that training dogs must be at least a year old and wear a harness with a blaze orange leash and collar, along with a hearing-ear cape or backpack. Instructors must carry picture identification.

Persons refusing to admit dogs and trainers may be charged with a misdemeanor that could cost them $100 and 90 days in jail.

Heir bill advances

An Oakland County missing heir problem will be taken up by the state House when it returns to Lansing in September.

The House Judiciary Committee on July 13 unanimously approved a bill by Sen. Mat Dunaskiss to shorten from 10 years to five the waiting time for distributing an estate when one heir is a "disappeared person."

Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion, won Senate passage on behalf of Laura Walker, an Independence Township homemaker and mother of four. Her father died in 1982, leaving an estate to her and two brothers, but one brother dropped out of sight in 1988.

"My parents gave up on him. We have not seen Clifford since 1981," Walker told the House panel. The family learned he had spent six months in jail for being AWOL from the military. The Social Security Administration has no record of him since 1988, the year he got a Texas driver's license.

Walker said the family suspects Clifford was involved in drugs or importing illegal aliens. Meanwhile, attorneys' fees have mounted, she said.

Subpoena bill OK'd

Gov. John Engler has signed Senate Bill 85, giving county prosecutors the power to issue investigative subpoenas.

The controversial bill had been opposed by both liberals and conservatives, who feared it granted grand jury powers too loosely.

Ed McNamara turns 'bulldog' loose on Rouge

BY RALPH R. ECHTNAW
STAFF WRITER

Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara likes to reminisce about how he and his childhood buddies swam in the Rouge River during the 1930s and kept an eye out for the cops whose job it was to keep small boys out of the river.

The Rouge wasn't entirely safe for swimming then, and it's less so now, but McNamara hopes to change that.

"Someday soon the Rouge will be ready for swimming again, and I plan on doing the first cannonball off the dock," he said two years ago in his State of the County speech.

The annual Friends of the Rouge volunteer cleanup, going on its 11th year, has raised awareness and pulled tons of debris from the river and its tributaries.

And the federal government's Rouge River National Wet Weather Demonstration Project, a $1 billion-plus, 20-year endeavor begun two years ago, could make the annual cleanup look small-time if Congress doesn't cut funding.

"Most people have never known the Rouge as a place for recreation," McNamara said in 1993. "They have only known it as a sewer. But with the help of the federal government the Rouge will once again be a place for boating, swimming and fishing."

Now McNamara has added his 16-inch gun to the campaign in the form of Deputy Executive Michael Duggan, who will take on the Rouge as his next big project. Duggan is chiefly responsible

"Most people have never known the Rouge as a place for recreation. They have only known it as a sewer. But with the help of the federal government the Rouge will once again be a place for boating, swimming and fishing."

Ed McNamara
County executive for getting voters in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties to approve a property tax for the SMART bus system earlier this year. He has a reputation for finishing what he starts, often against the odds.

"He's such a bulldog," said Jim Graham, director of Friends of the Rouge. "When he concentrates his efforts, things happen."

Duggan said the particulars of his Rouge project haven't been set yet, but he has gotten a feel for the river environment by canoeing the Rouge with deputy parks director Dan Navarre.

"You feel like you could be in the jungle somewhere," Duggan said of his trip. "It looked like a scene from 'The African Queen.' Our biggest problem was climbing over the poison ivy."

Said Graham: "It's really very pretty there, and I think most people don't think about that. It doesn't make sense that we have to go 100 miles north to put a canoe in the water."

Although Duggan and Navarre put their canoe in the Rouge, the practice is not recommended for the general public. With more than 100 sewage overflow pipes still dumping waste into the river with every hard rain, the Rouge is still plenty polluted. In 759 tests on the Rouge from April to October 1994, the water met state standards for full body contact just 20 times.

GUY WARREN/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

River man: Wayne County deputy executive Mike Duggan, shown with his children Carolyn and Eddie on Newburgh Lake, envisions a day when full body contact with the Rouge River won't be reason enough to visit the emergency room. "Within 10 years we can put a beach on Newburgh Lake and have swimming," he said. "It's possible that by 1998 we'll stock that lake with fish and you'll be able to eat the fish you catch."

Construction of 11 basins to catch the overflow from combined sewer systems is expected to be completed by the end of 1998, reducing sewage in the river by 33 percent. But that's the Wet Weather Demonstration Project.

Duggan's efforts are less ambitious. "I don't see taxes or new fees (to pay for it). We're going on the assumption that we're going to be creative within existing resources. We might take prisoners from the Hamtramck jail and have them clean the river."

Cleanup efforts will likely be restricted to portions of the river west of Merriman Road, Duggan said, adding that there are 50 logjams to be cleared.

Graham agreed. The Friends of the Rouge, he said, "can only get to a fraction of them. There are so many that are not easily accessible for volunteers."

Wayne County Public Works Director Vyto Kaunelis said that the separation of combined storm and sanitary sewers in Livonia, Westland and Plymouth Township makes a significant cleanup possible between Newburgh Lake and Merriman Road.

Duggan envisions a day when full body contact with the Rouge River won't be reason enough to visit the hospital emergency room.

"Within 10 years we can put a beach on Newburgh Lake and have swimming," he said. "It's possible that by 1998 we'll stock that lake with fish and you'll be able to eat the fish you catch."

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Try grilled vegetables; they're sweet as candy

Americans are beginning to discover that vegetables, like beef, chicken and fish, take on a completely different character when cooked over wood or coals. The natural sugars in some vegetables, such as onions, garlic and bell peppers, caramelize when grilled, imparting a depth and richness that no amount of sauteeing could ever achieve.

Other vegetables, such as eggplant, acquire the same woodsy smokiness as a great grilled steak. And Portobellos, those giant mushrooms, taste like the finest filet when grilled and doused with a little Italian vinaigrette.

Methods vary, but almost any vegetable can be cooked on the grill. There are a few guidelines.

Cooking guidelines

Vegetables have no natural fat. They must be either marinated in an oil based mixture or brushed with oil, not butter which has a tendency to burn, so they won't stick to the grill.

To ensure even, thorough cooking, the grill chef must frequently turn the vegetables and carefully regulate the heat of the coals.

Finally, vegetables have a tendency to absorb off flavors, so the grill rack should be as clean as possible, and the coals free of chemical starters before beginning.

Several basic grilling techniques are all that is needed to bring out the full flavor of vegetables. Larger vegetables can be sliced or cut into chunks. These chunks are easily handled when threaded onto a wooden skewer that has been soaked in water for at least one hour to prevent burning. Some vegetables, like broccoli, cauliflower, and potatoes require some form of pre-cooking or they will dry out and burn on the outside before softening within. Of course, anytime you cook any vegetable in foil, it will cook perfectly on the grill, barring of course, any over-cooking. Broccoli and cauliflower florets, will cook perfectly when brushed with herb infused oil if you blanch them first in boiling water for 2 minutes.

Vegetable wrappers

Natural vegetable wrappers such as corn husks help keep vegetables moist and tender. Purists might wish to remove as much of the silk from cobs as possible, but yours truly simply fills a bucket of water and soaks the corn for at least an hour. Onto a covered grill it goes, only to be turned about every 10-15 minutes until the kernels are tender.

Smaller loose vegetables such as green beans, pea pods and green onions can also be grilled. You can wrap them in foil, but personal experience suggests wrapping them in corn husks purchased from a Mexican grocery store, and then soaking for an hour before cooking. I'm not a big fan of wrapping my vegetables in foil because it has a tendency to steam the vegetables rather than grill them. A good grill rack with small holes allows me to "stir grill" smaller vegetables.

When it comes to grilling vegetables, I rely a lot on my handy dandy grill baking sheet. This large square of heavy metal has smaller holes drilled throughout the surface. It can be placed on any grill, and is especially helpful in keeping smaller vegetables from falling through the grates. They're available all over town wherever good cookware is sold. A word of advice: you get what you pay for. Cheaper grill racks will warp when heated and not lie flat on the racks. Expect to pay about $15 for a good grilling rack, but with minimal care and careful storage, it should last for years to come.

For dousing vegetables or brushing on great taste, you can't beat a basic Italian vinaigrette or salad dressing. Bottled is acceptable, but home-made is even better. Herbed infused oils offer a richness that can't be duplicated. Being on a healthy eating regimen, my grilled vegetables are basted with a good balsamic vinegar. Sometimes I'll add a few chopped fresh herbs from the garden, but for the most part, I rely on the flavor and taste of a great vinegar.

There are many vinegars out there, in addition to balsamic, that would be outstanding on grilled vegetables. Invest in a cheap spray bottle for uniform coverage; however, they have been known to plug when using vinaigrettes with herbs and spices. A natural hair small paint brush (not plastic) also works well as a baster.

HENRY FORD MUSEUM & GREENFIELD VILLAGE

Summertime sweet: Greenfield Village pastry chef Tom Preniczky and Nancy Brinkerhoff of Westland with "Poor Man's Lemon Pie" inside the George Matthew Adams House.

Pastry chef sweet on old-fashioned recipe

BY RENEE SKOGLUND
SPECIAL WRITER

Greenfield Village pastry chef Tom Preniczky of Westland, hopes to satisfy a lot of sweet tooth as well as a bit of curiosity at the Village's "A Taste of History" weekend July 22-23. He and his staff are preparing over 15,000 sample-size servings of sweets once baked in wood-fired stoves and hearth ovens a century or two ago.

All of the foods offered at the event were selected for their historical significance and practicality.

"We don't alter the recipes a whole lot. We want to give people the historical experience, but we must make sure we give them good quality."

Given Preniczky's credentials, quality is assured. He's a graduate of Schoolcraft College's culinary arts program, and has piled his sweet trade at such notable establishments as the former Chez Raphael in Novi, Les Anteurs in Royal Oak, and the Hyatt Regency in Chicago. At Greenfield Village in Dearborn, where he's worked for the last three years, he oversees both the Henry Ford Museum and Village kitchens.

"It's been a nice place to work. Never a dull day," he said adding that "A Taste of History" draws in quite a few visitors. "It's really getting to be a popular weekend, especially if we have nice days."

During "A Taste of History," culinary demonstrations representing America's cultural and ethnic heritage will take place throughout the Village.

"I guess the old saying, 'you are what you eat,' is appropriate," said Diane Thomas, Greenfield Village spokeswoman. "You can discover how people used the resources available to put food on the table. You can see how people brought their ethnic traditions to the table."

Preniczky will be making "Poor Man's Lemon Pie" in the George Matthew Adams House, once a Baptist parsonage in the mid-1800s. Back then, when lemons were in short supply, inventive cooks substituted vinegar. But Preniczky said there's no need to pucker your lips.

"We use apple cider vinegar, sugar, and a little lemon. You really can't taste a strong vinegar flavor," he said.

"It's mostly the cider and lemon. Just a small hint of vinegar."

Besides the pie, which is part of an old-fashioned church picnic menu at the Adams House, Preniczky and his sweet-loving crew will prepare huge amounts of Indian pudding, rice corn bread, Irish apple cake, and German pepper nuts.

When asked if he ever overdoses on sweets, Preniczky chuckled before answering.

"No," he finally said. "But that's a fun question. I just do a little taste test to test the quality of things. Really, my job involves checking the quality and overseeing the production."

Besides the fabulous sweets produced in Preniczky's kitchens, sample-size portions of soups, stews, meat pies and vegetable dishes will be served in a tasting tent on the Village Green. Food samples cost 25 to 75 cents. Tickets are sold at the tent.

In addition to food sampling, "A Taste of History" offers lots of family activities including potato sack races, pie eating contests and an edible auction.

Beaulieu Vineyard is back on the fast track

According to recent statistics reported by Gomberg, Fredrikson and Associates, wine industry analysts, table wine sales reached a record $2.6 billion last year. Fueled by strong consumer demand for premium varietal wines, California table wine sales grew five percent, turning in the strongest performance in more than a decade.

The growing popularity of red wines and robust chardonnays were the key trends contributing to strong growth and revitalization for some California producers. Napa Valley's Beaulieu Vineyard is one of them. New releases from this legendary winery are turning heads. They turned ours too.

In late winter, the 1990 Georges de Latour Private Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon was released. As a fabled 100 percent Cabernet Sauvignon wine, it has always carried a hefty price tag. This bottling was no exception at $40, however the wine underwent substantial refinements. The addition of merlot as a blending varietal and aging in 50 percent French oak made this a stunning wine.

Beaulieu winemaker Joel Aiken related some history about the Georges de Latour Private Reserve, a wine we had presumed was always 100 percent Cabernet and always aged in 100 percent American oak.

"When we did some research, we found out that

Toss some vegetables on the grill

See related Taste Buds column on Taste front

GRILLED VEGETABLES WITH OREGANO OIL

1/2 cup olive oil
1 medium clove garlic, minced fine
1 tablespoon minced oregano or 1 teaspoon dried and crushed
1 medium eggplant, sliced 1/2 inch thick
1 large zucchini, sliced diagonally 1/2 inch thick
1 large red or green pepper cut into strips 1/2 inch wide
1 large red onion, cut into 1/4 inch thick slices
2 teaspoons balsamic vinegar
Combine olive oil, garlic and oregano in a bowl and mix well

Preheat the grill. Brush the vegetables lightly with some of the oil mixture. Place on the grill and sprinkle with little salt and pepper. Cover grill and cook vegetables, turning frequently and brushing with the oil mixture until tender, about 10-12 minutes. Transfer vegetables to a platter and sprinkle with balsamic vinegar. Serves 4.

GRILLED LEMON BROCCOLI WITH GARLIC OIL

2 medium cloves garlic, minced fine
1/2 cup olive oil
1 bunch broccoli, cut into spears
1 large lemon, cut into 8 thin slices
1 teaspoon juice from the lemon
Salt and fresh ground pepper

to taste
Mix the garlic and the oil in a small bowl, set aside. Bring 4 quarts of water to a boil with 2 tea spoons salt. Add broccoli and blanch for about 2 minutes. Drain and refresh under cold water.

Heat grill. Brush broccoli with some of the garlic oil. Place broccoli on a grill rack and cook, turning occasionally while brushing with the oil for 10 minutes. Brush lemon slices with the oil and cook over the grill for about 1 minute on each side. Transfer broccoli and lemon slices to a serving platter. Drizzle with lemon juice and remaining garlic oil. Season with a pinch of salt and good crackling of fresh ground pepper. Serves 4.

VEGETABLES IN FOIL

8 ounces green beans,

trimmed (about 1 cup)
1 yellow pepper, sliced thin, lengthwise
1 small red pepper, sliced thin, lengthwise
1 large leek, rinsed and sliced crosswise (or 1 bunch green onions)
8 teaspoons olive oil
8 teaspoons red or white wine
2 teaspoons minced marjoram or 1/4 teaspoon dried
Salt and pepper to taste

Cut four 24 by 12-inch pieces of foil. Fold each piece in half to make four 12 by 12-inch sheets. Center a portion of each vegetable on each sheet. Drizzle each sheet with 2 teaspoons oil and 2 teaspoons wine. Season each sheet with a pinch of marjoram, salt and pepper. Bring the four corners of each piece of foil together and crimp to make a sealed packet. Preheat grill. Cook vegetables until tender, about 15-20 minutes. Serve immediately. Serves 4.

Target stores add Ashby's ice cream

Ashby's Sterling Ice Cream, produced by a premium national award-winning manufacturer of ice cream, is now available in select Target Stores.

the very first Private Reserves made by legendary Andre Tchelistcheff did have some merlot and were aged in French oak," he said.

"In 1938, when Tchelistcheff first came to Beaulieu, the 1936 vintage was still in barrel. Those 60 barrels were all French oak. Beaulieu didn't switch to American oak until 1939, when the onset of World War II made it impossible to obtain French oak.

"Back then, American oak was basically whiskey barrels, bent over steam and not charred. American oak became an established tradition over a period of years. Merlot has been added for a touch of softness, not to impose any of its own character on the wine."

Aiken also pointed out that using tightly grained French oak mellows cabernet's natural tannin structure. A medium-heavy toast level specified for coopering helps reduce tannin levels and offers flavor subtleties.

Also sporting refinements in label design, this wine indeed honors an age-old tradition and brings the wine to fast-track competition in the ultra-premium cabernet sauvignon market segment.

Fast on the heels of the refined Private Reserve, came Beaulieu's introduction of a Signet Collection and its inaugural release, the 1990 Tapestry, a red Bordeaux varietal blend and a new competitor in the Meritage category.

Aiken said the Signet Collection wines give Beaulieu's winemaking team freedom to experiment with different varietals. In her song, Carole King defined the Tapestry of life as "...an ever-lasting vision of an everchanging view," Aiken said. "This describes our directional plan."

The 1990 Beaulieu Tapestry, $20, is 40 percent cabernet sauvignon, 32 percent merlot and 28 percent cabernet franc with blackberry, currant, black cherry, black raspberry and fine tobacco aromas. With 20 months, French oak aging, it's rich and finesseful, structured for cellaring.

Other wines, not yet released, but planned for the Signet Collection are Maestro Pinot Noir, a tribute to Andre Tchelistcheff; a Napa Valley Zinfandel; and Rhone varietal blends. Watch for them. Beaulieu is a winery back on the fast track of premium wine production in California's Napa Valley.

Poon Mays Lemon Pie

1 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups water
3 tablespoons cornstarch, dissolved in 1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons butter
3 eggs, separated, yolks slightly beaten
3 tablespoons cider vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt (less than 1/2 teaspoon)
1 teaspoon lemon juice
9 tablespoons sugar
Unbaked 8 or 9 inch pastry shell

Preheat oven to 325 degrees F. Mix one cup sugar and water and bring to a boil. Stir in dissolved cornstarch/water mixture. Boil until clear and thick. Remove from heat.

Add butter, beaten yolks, vinegar, lemon juice and salt. Stir well and pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake 1 1/2 hours.

The recipe for Smothered Pork Chops represents a recipe Grace Matton of Georgia may have prepared for her family during the Great Depression. Her home, the Mattox House, has been moved to Greenfield Village.

Beat egg whites until foamy, then slowly add 9 tablespoons of sugar, one tablespoon at a time. Beat until stiff. Spread meringue over pie. Bake an additional 15 minutes until top is golden brown. Cool. Store in refrigerator.

Recipe from Chef Tom Prenczky, Henry Ford Museum, Greenfield Village.

SMOTHERED PORK CHOPS

6 (1-inch thick) center-cut pork chops
2 tablespoons bacon drippings (or substitute your choice of oil)
1 lemon, thinly sliced
2 medium-sized onions, thinly sliced
1 small green and/or red bell pepper, cored and sliced into rings
4 large ripe tomatoes, peeled, seeded, and coarsely chopped
1 cup water
2 tablespoons distilled white vinegar
Pinch of ground cloves, allspice, cinnamon, celery seed, cayenne pepper
2 tablespoons sugar
Salt and freshly ground pepper, to taste

Brown the pork chops in bacon drippings in a heavy skillet. Add lemon and onion and bell pepper slices, and continue to saute. Mix tomatoes, water, vinegar, allspice, sugar, salt and pepper in a small bowl until they are a thick sauce. Pour over pork chops. Cover skillet and simmer the pork chops over medium heat for 45 minutes, or until they are tender and the tomato mixture has turned into a gravylike sauce.

Smothered pork chops are usually served with rice, so that the sauce from the chops can become the gravy for the rice.

Adapted from a Grace Matton recipe. The Mattox house from Georgia was lived in from the late 1870s to early 1940s by three generations of one African American family. Smothered Pork Chops represents a recipe Grace may have prepared for her family during the Great Depression. The Mattox House was moved to Greenfield Village.

BEATEN BISCUITS ON MARYLAND BISCUITS

1/4 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1/2 cup milk
Sift sugar and salt with flour, blend in shortening and just enough milk to make a very stiff dough. Knead on floured board until dough becomes soft and pliable.

Run dough through a meat grinder or a biscuit machine using a coarse knife or beat steadily with a wooden potato masher for 30 minutes, or until dough blisters, keeping edges turned in. Roll to 1/4-inch thickness, cut with a biscuit cutter (or round cookie cutter), prick with a fork and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. The biscuits should be a very delicate ivory color, make about 1 1/2 dozen biscuits.

Adapted from "Mrs. Owens' Cook Book," 1884 and "U.S. Regional Cookbook," 1947. This recipe is typical of foods prepared in the water Maryland in the 1800s.

SHOPPING CENTERED

LINDA BACHRACH

Now is best time to buy sun styles

How nice to receive an unexpected midsummer invitation for sunset cocktails, a luncheon in the garden, or even a backyard barbecue. But what to wear?

Had the event been long anticipated, you could have picked the perfect party dress back in April, when summer fashions were fresh and new. Don't despair. Your wardrobe is probably ready for a boost right now, and the sale racks are brimming with pretty, summer season sensations that will wow all the guests at that alfresco soiree.

So hit the mall on a hot Saturday afternoon and look for the big SALE signs. Sometimes it's fun to discover that designer-label bargain that just didn't look quite so smashing on anyone else last spring. It was right there waiting for you all along.

I perused the markdowns at Hudson's and Saks Fifth Avenue at Fairlane Town Center in Dearborn and Neiman Marcus in the Somerset Collection, Troy, looking for summer's most popular trends. My shopping list included a pastel linen suit, preferably with Chanel lines; a chiffon floral-print dress; flowing pants with a long sleeveless vest; a short satin and Lycra dress; a big straw hat and a billowy chiffon scarf.

Neiman's third-floor suit department yielded just the Chanel-inspired suit I was looking for — a Rickie Freeman powder blue linen blend with a double-breasted jacket and tiny gold knotted buttons ($269).

If you prefer the practicality of a dress and jacket, I found a very feminine pink linen chemise by Constance Saunders. The white-collared jacket featured pearl buttons and a silk flower ($306). Both ensembles take you beautifully to a garden wedding or afternoon reception.

Long, flowing and flowery dresses are summer staples and there are plenty of them left on the rack. Saks has a daisy-print skirt ($55.90) and tie-back peplum top ($35.90) that could be mistaken for a dress. It's a Private Label outfit in pale yellow and gold. Also, check out the flirty floral chiffons at Ann Taylor and Laura Ashley in the Somerset Collection. Most have fitted bodices and bell-shaped skirts.

If you're looking for a more sophisticated summer evening dress, Hudson's has a pale pink crepe chemise with flounced hem and sheer draped collar by DW3 ($156) and a Datland empire-waist crepe and georgette dress with a shirred bodice and deep slit in taupe, aqua or peach ($165).

Back to Saks for the palazzo pants and sleeveless vest. Kristian Steimur design this duo in black and white mini-dot for the pants and an ocre long vest with black satin buttons ($157.90). Looks a little like an updated tuxedo with pinna. Add Oscar de la Renta's black straw hat adorned with cotton pique bows ($39.90). Finally, the short satin and Lycra dress for dancing under the stars. Though it may look a little prom-like, the satin/Lycra combination is a hot new trend for summer. A halter neckline or spaghetti straps accent the form-fitting bodice, while the mini-skirt is full and swingy. Shown in electric blue, this easy special-occasion dress is available at Hudson's. Look for similar styles at Saks and Neiman's.

And to wrap up your summer party frock? Toss a large square silk chiffon scarf over your shoulders ($100 at Saks). You'll be the belle of the backyard ball.

Shop caters to folks fighting addictions

Ever need words of encouragement? The proprietors of a new shop insist that sooner or later everyone does for one reason or another. They hope to be able to help.

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
STAFF WRITER

Jon Lightfoot and Annette Lewis opened The One Stop Serenity Shop in Plymouth with two thoughts in mind.

First, they wanted to help customers celebrate their triumphs over addictive behaviors; and second, they hoped to renew the strength needed on a daily basis to maintain recovery.

Lightfoot, 22, knows that battling an addiction is never easy. The Plymouth native is a recovering alcoholic. He and Lewis started the shop to educate and service the local community.

The store is patterned after similar stores in California that cater to the needs of people in recovery. To launch the store, the pair invested half of the profits from their year-old Wellington Fragrance Company, marketing incense at the Countryside Craft Mall as well as the Gibraltar Trade Center.

Most of The One Stop Serenity Shop's merchandise is aimed at people taking part in the 12 Step Programs of groups that include Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous, and Al-Anon. The shop also carries items for those trying to quit smoking. Customers will find motivational materials like books, tapes, literature, t-shirts, posters, coffee mugs, and greeting cards lining the shelves.

And the store tries to help those affected by addictions. Family and friends of people in recovery, as well as those still drowning in their addiction, can find a friendly ear here.

"When my drinking was out of control, my mom and dad had nowhere to go when they needed help," Lightfoot said. "The One Stop Serenity Shop is not behind closed doors. We're here to help the community. If people have a family member or friend with a problem they can come in, talk, get literature. We'll steer them in the right direction."

Lightfoot said he began drinking at age 15. In the years that followed, he lost two close friends in drinking and driving accidents. While living in California, he faced the decision about the road his own life would take. He sought treatment. Afterward, Lightfoot decided to dedicate part of his life toward helping others recovering from addictions.

"If even one life is saved by the efforts of The One Stop Serenity Shop,

Fash Bash celebrates art and fashion

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

If fashion is indeed art, then it's fitting that Hudson's annual Fash Bash benefits the Detroit Institute of Arts each year.

Combining the latest looks for the fall/winter season with music, dance and theatrical sets, Hudson's elevates the fashion show itself to an artform — this year for the 26th time, at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 2, at the Fox Theater in Detroit.

"We'll present six segments of fashion, showing everything from ballroom to business casual," said M.J. Burns, of Hudson's Fashion Office. Burns and a team of staffers prepare for Fash Bash almost a year ahead of the production.

There are two new elements to the '95 production: a 5,000 balloon drop sponsored by Jules Schubert Jewellers (inside one balloon, a one carat diamond valued at $5,000) and a commemorative pin representing Rodin's Thinker by artist Bonnie Kondor. The pin will sell for $35 at Fash Bash and the DIA Museum Stores located in Twelve Oaks, the Somerset Collection and the museum gift shop.

According to Burns, fashion followers will see "spring silhouettes refined for more comfort and wearability." Lower heels replace the stiletto, the fitted glamour suit is still strong, but in menswear fabrics like tweeds and grey flannel. Dresses are back bigtime in the form of sleeveless sheaths topped by jackets or coats. The winter coat comes in three styles — the bathrobe wrap, the chesterfield, the pea coat.

Burns said men will appreciate the classics this fall like pin-striped business suits as well as business casual separates including vests, polo shirts and shirts with banded collars. Look for "urban rustics" — colors that are rich and pulled from nature.

Also, the neon colors popular last year have been replaced with the "techno brights" — Taxi Yellow, Superman Blue and Lipstick Red.

then the store will be a success," he insisted. "We're a way for people to celebrate their recovery. We have all kinds of merchandise here. You can apply the 12 Step Program to anything — overeating, controlling emotions like grief, or anyone working on self-esteem. Everyone can benefit from a 12 Step Program."

Lightfoot attends AA meetings weekly despite the fact he's been in recovery nearly five years. He designed a line of inspirational T-shirts for the shop. Ten different images ranging from angels to a guy hanging from a rope above an alligator pit sport sayings like "Sometimes, all we can do is hang on!"

Lightfoot met customer and friend, Michael Miller, 21, while both were students at Plymouth Salem High School. Both took the road to alcoholism and drug addiction. A drinker from the age of 11, Miller said he "drank because of peer pressure and to get away from my problems." Today he's into the martial arts instead, having left behind the bottle 5 1/2 years ago. He recently visited the shop.

"This really is a specialty shop," Miller said. "It's a positive way to reinforce recovery," he said.

Co-owner Annette Lewis graduated from John Glenn High School in Westland. She talked about the need to send works of encouragement to loved ones fighting addictive behaviors.

"Our books, tapes, posters and T-shirts send a positive kind of note. A card or coin (marking the anniversary of time spent in recovery) is a perfect way to let someone know you're proud of them," she said.

Customer Michael Marsh, 20, of Canton Township especially liked the coins. A member of Al-Anon for the last 2 1/2 years, she deals daily with her father's and brother's alcoholism.

"It's taking it one day at a time," she said. "When it gets to where I can't take it anymore, I just get out and come some place like here. It's nice to be able to come to a store like this in the middle of the community. The coins are a nice way of seeing your growth."

The One Stop Serenity Shop is at 470 Forest Ave. Downtown Plymouth. It's open daily from 10 a.m. For more information call (313) 459-9030.

Fash Bash's entertainers will be Motown's Contours (remember "Do You Love Me? Can You Dig It? First I Look at the Purse"); The Ballet of the Dolls from Minneapolis; Pan Dimensions, a three-piece Afro-Caribbean band; and Soprano Maria Jette of the Es Machina Baroque Opera Company.

Before the show, a live auction pre-party benefit for the DIA is held at the State Theatre next door to the Fox, beginning at 5 p.m. After the Bash, the State Theater reopens for dancing with a cash bar from 9 p.m.

Tickets, (the event is always a sell-out) are priced the same as last year: $150 Gold Patron, preferred seating; $100 Silver Patron; and $35 Sponsor, premium main floor and mezzanine seating; and $25 Guest, balcony seats only. They are available at the Detroit Institute of Arts Ticket Office at (313) 833-2323; Ticketmaster; and the Fox Theater. Fash Bash hotline (313) 833-1148.

Has your Mom had a mammogram?

The risk of breast cancer increases with age. It is one of the leading causes of death among women 65 and older. Early detection through regular mammograms could prevent many of these deaths. Yet as women get older, they are less likely to get mammograms. Has your Mom had a mammogram? If not, encourage her to get one. It might be your chance to give her good advice.

Call us. We can tell you everything you need to know about mammograms. Free.

KSI Kitchen & Bath Showrooms Win Prestigious Merillat Award

KSI Kitchen & Bath Showrooms received the PRESIDENT'S AWARD from Merillat Industries Inc. at the 1995 National Kitchen and Bath Show in New Orleans.

This highest Merillat award recognizes all of the KSI people for their team spirit and sense of commitment to customer service. The accompanying proclamation from Merillat cited KSI's marketing program — excellent showroom displays — and the professionalism and knowledge of KSI's kitchen consultants.

At KSI, we are extremely proud of our long association with Merillat.

The highly advanced technology and production methods developed by Merillat produce unyielding quality — significant cost reductions — and an excellent value for your investment in cabinets.

Come in for a demonstration and experience KSI's Excellent SERVICE • VALUE AFFORDABILITY

Superior Outdoor Services

DECKS • PATIOS • CONCRETE POOL AREAS
Rain, snow, sun leaves and pollutants cause wood decks to crack and rot. Make your deck, patio, driveway, sidewalk or pool areas look like new again!

WHAT WE DO:

We power wash your deck with up to 3000 P.S.I. of pressure to remove dirt, mold, debris and restore natural color. Decks are sealed with a oil-based wood preservative and waterproofing formula for long lasting protection.

Too tired to tango?

When you need help call S.O.S. for all your outdoor maintenance needs. Why bother calling ten different companies to solve your problems when one call does it all? Relax and enjoy life - take the time to "tango."

Return of the King

Eddie Feigner, the still-reigning king of the softball world, makes a return trip to the area Saturday when he and his four-man team, known as the King and his Court, come to Westland John Glenn for a game to benefit the Rockets' softball team at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Eddie Feigner
softball king

The game will be played on the John Glenn football field. Cost is $5 for adults and $2.50 for children 14 and under.

This will be Feigner's first trip through this part of Oberverland in five years, and it marks the 50th year of Feigner's "road trip."

In that span, the 70-year-old master of trickery has pitched more than 11,000 games and shows, has recorded more than 138,000 strikeouts (10,000 while blindfolded) and has won more than 8,000 games.

He manages this with just three teammates, while competing against a nine-player team.

In the past, his pitches were reportedly clocked at 100 mph; he says he can still reach the 90s.

The game is co-sponsored by Remerica Pickering and Master Carpet Care.

Runner-up golfer

Madonna Nadeau of Canton finished second in her flight at the weekly Women's Metropolitan Golf Association tournament Wednesday.

Nadeau, playing in the third flight, shot a 53-52/105 at Bogie Lake Golf Course in White Lake. The winning score in third flight was carded by Pauline Cody of Detroit, who fired a 48-47/95. Livonia's Beverly Stoops posted the best low net score in third flight with a 71.

UM-Dearborn offerings

Those looking for sports excitement this summer may want to take a look at what the University of Michigan-Dearborn has to offer.

A sand volleyball tournament is slated for Saturday and Sunday at the school's sand volleyball courts, which are off Evergreen between Michigan and Ford. On Saturday, there will be two-person men's and two-person co-ed teams competing. On Sunday, the tournaments will be for four-person men's and four-person co-ed teams.

The format is round robin, followed by a single-elimination tournament. Each team is guaranteed a minimum of six games. Cost is $25 for two-person teams and $35 for four-person teams. Entry deadline is 5 p.m. Friday. For more information, call Ann-Marie Carravallah at (313) 593-5671.

A summer tennis tournament is set for Friday through Sunday, July 28-30, at both the UM-Dearborn and Henry Ford Community College campus tennis courts, off Evergreen between Michigan and Ford.

The tournament will have three divisions: men's A singles, men's B singles and women's A singles. Entry fee is $8 per player, which includes all matches, prizes, balls and refreshments, or $13 with the addition of a UM-Dearborn tournament T-shirt.

Entry deadline is 6 p.m. Wednesday, July 26. For more information, call Ann-Marie Carravallah at (313) 593-5671.

Connors, Borg lead field

Jimmy Connors and Bjorn Borg will be the top attractions at the Mentadent Champions tournament at The Fairlane Club in Dearborn July 27-31.

Connors will pair with Eddie Dibbs to take on Borg and Andres Gomez in a doubles match to open the tournament at 7 p.m. July 27. Both will also play in the singles tournament, with Connors meeting the winner of the Mel Purcell-Peter Fleming match and Borg taking on the John Lloyd-Mansour Bahrami winner on Saturday.

Others in the 12-man singles tournament are Roscoe Tanner, Guillermo Vilas, Johan Kriek and Jose-Luis Clerc, as well as Dibbs and Gomez.

The semifinals are scheduled for 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday, July 30; the championship will be 7 p.m. Monday, July 31.

For more information, call (313) 436-3007.

Hoop skills clinic

Tim Newman, basketball coach at Livonia Stevenson, will be running a basketball skills clinic at the high school for boys and girls in grades 2-9 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from July 24 through Aug. 6.

Players in grades 2-6 will meet from 8-10 a.m. Players in grades 7-9 will meet from 10 a.m. to noon. The cost is $25 for Livonia residents, $27 for non-residents. To register, call Livonia Community Ed at 523-9277 or sign-up at the door.

Anyone interested in submitting items to Sports Scene may send them to sports editor C.J. Rear, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, MI, 48150, or may FAX them to (313) 591-7279.

CC grad Brusseau signs with Spartans

Brusseau prepares to play in the championship game. Mike Brusseau sat in the Joe Louis Arena stands during last winter's 30th annual Great Lakes Invitational and paged through the program as Michigan and Michigan State University ship game.

Brusseau stared at the MSU roster and turned green — with envy.

"I remember looking at the roster and seeing four goalies," Brusseau said.

Brusseau, a 1994 Redford Catholic Central graduate who played for the Cleveland Barons of the North American Junior Hockey League during the 1994-95 season, didn't think MSU would be in the market for a goalie.

But before long, Brusseau received a call from MSU coach Ron Mason who was interested in offering a hockey scholarship. Turns out two of the four goalies on last year's roster were on the team for practice reasons, and another, Mike Buzak, graduated.

Brusseau accepted Mason's offer without hesitation.

"All of a sudden, I got a call

League's champ to confront north stars

Now there's something at stake, something to play for.

Keith Pietila, commissioner of the Metro Summer Hockey League, confirmed that a two-game, total-goals series will be played between the MSHL's champion and a group of all-stars from the Copper Country Summer Hockey League, which operates in and around Houghton.

The series will be Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 12-13, at Michigan Tech in Houghton. The MSHL will provide two nights of lodging and all ice time; players, according to Pietila, will be counted on for their own transportation "and enough goals to win this series."

A Saturday morning golf outing, featuring four-man scrambles teams, is optional for interested players and parents. Cost is $20.

■ Wildcats 7, Wolverines: In a battle featuring the MSHL's two once-beaten teams Thursday at Plymouth Ice Arena, the Wildcats broke on top with three first-period goals and hung on to defeat the Wolverines.

The win pushed the Cats' record to 6-1; the Wolves slipped to 4-2.

Two goals by Jeremy Klosowski and one by Mark Pietila staked the Cats to a 3-0 lead. They maintained a three-goal lead until the Wolves got a goal from Bob Nagy to close the second period and two others from Eric Norman and Rob Fleury to open the third, tying it at 5-5.

But Jim Pietila scored with 6:04 left to put the Cats ahead, 6-5, and Mark Pietila scored again — his third of the game, to go with one assist — with 1:52 to play to ice it. Nagy scored his third goal of the game for the Wolves with 18.8 seconds remaining to trim the final margin.

Dave Elenich (from Livonia) added a goal and an assist for the Cats. Ron Pietila, Keith Pietila, Josh Wiegand (Plymouth), Jake Wiegand (Plymouth) and Eric Laho each contributed two assists. For the Wolves, Norman had a goal and two assists, and both Fleury and Kevin Mankowski had a goal and an assist.

■ Falcons 5, Bulldogs 4: It's not getting any easier, that's for sure.

The MSHL's only remaining unbeaten team, the Falcons, were taken to the limit Wednesday by the Bulldogs, but they escaped with their unblemished record intact thanks to Dan Brady's game-winning goal with 48 seconds remaining.

Brady's goal, his second of the game, pushed the Falcons' record to 6-0. The Bulldogs slipped to 1-4-1.

The game started out easily enough for the Falcons. Two goals by Mike Kneiding (Livonia) sandwiched around Brady's first goal gave them a 3-0 lead heading into the third period.

But it didn't last. The Bulldogs quickly tied it, getting scores from Edward Kruschka (Livonia), Krikor Arman and Todd Kesler (Livonia) in a 5½-minute span. Jesse Hubenschmidt (Redford) recaptured the lead for the Falcons with 7:37 left, but the Bulldogs retied it on a goal by Kris Cantu just 45 seconds later.

Jesse Hubenschmidt had two assists to go with his goal. Jim Hubenschmidt (Redford), Paul Schloss (Livonia) and Scott Hands also had two assists apiece for the Falcons. Ryan Skaleski had two assists for the Bulldogs; Kesler had one to go with his goal.

Brian Guillery (Farmington Hills) was in goal for the Falcons.

■ Spartans 10, Huskies 5: Vic DeCina (Canton) was a one-man wrecking crew for the Spartans Wednesday at Plymouth, scoring four goals and assisting on three others in helping his team improve to 2-3.

Steve Jones contributed a goal and four assists for the Spartans, with Jeff Lupu, Kevin Kerch and Brady Priest (Livonia) each collecting a goal and two assists. Matt Capaldi (Canton) had a goal and an assist, and Kevin Haggarty scored a goal. Ted Patterson (Canton) totaled three assists and Wes Blevins (Westland) added two.

The Huskies (2-4) got a goal and an assist from both Jason Weber (Livonia) and Tony McGee. Their other goal-scorers were Andrew Perry (Livonia), Mike Forbes and Kevin Beaudoin; Dustin Sventy had two assists.

■ Wildcats 6, Huskies 3: The Wildcats broke open a close game with four third-period goals, two by Mark Pietila, Tuesday at Plymouth.

Jake Wiegand (Plymouth) chipped in with a goal and an assist, and Dave Elenich (Livonia), Jim Pietila and Josh Wiegand (Plymouth) got a goal each. Eric Laho and Ron Pietila had two assists apiece for the Wildcats (5-1).

Andrew Perry (Livonia), Tony McGee and Brian Hales (Canton) scored goals for the Huskies.

The game was tied at 2-2 after two periods, but Mark Pietila put the Wildcats ahead for good with two goals in a 2:35 span of the third. Hales' goal narrowed the gap to 4-3 with 2:00 remaining, but the Wildcats scored twice in the final 1:14.

from Ron Mason and he says he's interested. Brusseau said. All you hear around here is Michigan but I've always disliked Michigan and liked State. I will love it (wearing MSU green). It's the best feeling in the whole world.

Brusseau led CU to the 1994 Class A state championship, the school's first ever hockey state title. He was first team all state and an All-Observer goalie as a senior, recording a 1.35 goals against average with five shut outs.

But it's hard for high school players to get college hockey scholarships. Just ask current Dallas Stars forward Mike Donnelly, who was not offered a scholarship after scoring more than 50 goals in his senior year at Livonia Franklin during the 1990-91 season.

Donnelly ended up playing a year of junior hockey after high school, then went on to star at MSU.

It sounds like a script Brusseau could like.

My first goal is to just play the second is to play well, said Brusseau. He's 6'7, 175 pounds.

Neither Mason or Barons coach Tim Alexander were available for comments.

Brusseau is expected to battle sophomore to be Chad Alban for the starting job. Alban, who played for the Kalamazoo Jr. Wings in high school, played 13 games last year.

MSU finished 25-12-3 overall and lost to the University of Wisconsin in the first round of the NCAA tournament last year. The Spartans were third in the Central Collegiate Hockey Association with a 17-7-3 record.

MSU last won a national championship in 1986 and was runner up in '87. The Spartans were third in both '89 and '92.

The Spartans lost seven players to graduation, including three on the power play. Their top player, All-American Anson Carter, is expected back for his senior year.

Brusseau had a 3.5 goals against average and 91.1 save percentage for the Barons, who finished fourth in the regular season but lost in the final round of the NAJHL playoffs.

Brusseau said the area he improved in mostly was protecting and deflecting rebounds.

"I got better either trying to absorb them or deflect them where I wanted them to go," Brusseau said. "It is a step up from high school, I definitely improved a little on everything."

The Barons played about 60 games, compared to a high school schedule of about 25. Another thing junior hockey taught Brusseau was how to endure long road trips.

"I got pretty good at card games (on the bus)," said Brusseau, who also had a job on an assembly line that paid $5.35 an hour.

Brusseau said his style is a lot like that of Chicago Blackhawks' star Ed Belfour, who likes to use his stick along the ice. It's not the preferred style in the Brusseau home.

"My dad (Norm) and I sit and watch hockey on TV, and he always says me and Belfour are identical, putting the paddle of the stick on the ice opens up too many other areas," Mike said. "But hey, it's working for him."

Goalie school from page 1C

Heights feel guilty about attending last week's Rich Heins Goalie School at Redford Ice Arena?

Because at age 28, Klemann is only a kid at heart.

"My wife (Kim) and all my friends think I'm crazy, they're all concerned whether I can stay alive, and me, too," Klemann said, sitting in a dressing room following a Monday workout with about 20 kids half his age. "But I want to learn more skills. I have a 1 1/2 year old son who someday I'd like to pass along knowledge to."

The camp came at a good time for Klemann, who was off from his job at Ford Motor Co. due to a two-week shut-down at the Michigan Truck Plant in Wayne. The first week off, he and his wife vacationed in Petoskey.

"She'd rather have me at home, but fair is fair — one week for her, one for me," said Klemann, who plays Senior Tier A hockey.

Heins, who played five years in the National Hockey League, mostly as a backup goaltender with the St. Louis Blues and Vancouver Canucks, welcomes anyone over the age of 7.

It's still growing

Heins started his goalie schools seven years ago with two camps in his home town of Toronto, Ont. The number grew to 30 last year and this summer his camps are at 84 sites, five in Michigan.

Heins has schools in Los Angeles, Las Vegas and as far south as Dallas. He will be back in the Detroit area Aug. 21-28, when his school will be held at the City Sports Center in downtown Detroit.

Heins said when he was learning to play as a kid, there were no camps specifically for goalies.

Heins sets up several different stations, including one that specializes in stick-handling, a skill which has become increasingly important over the years to goaltenders.

"Camps were dedicated to shooters; all the goalies were targets," Heins said. "They'd put the goalies in the net, bring in shooters and say, 'Stand there and take a blast.' The parents got ripped off."

"Goalie play has improved overall. Look at the NHL, you see guys with 2-point-something goals-against averages."

This is the fifth year Heins has been in Redford. The regional coordinator is Cheryl Rivard, whose son John is a veteran camper.

Heins' camp is held 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily. He brings a full-time staff to all the sites and also gets help from local high school standouts. At last week's camp, Redford Catholic Central players former and present Neil Bratches, Matt Giordano, Nick Kalanicki, Dan Hunt, Tony Spasia, Jeff Helmer, Bob Beckman and Brad Przybycki were shooters.

"For the little kids, I try to shoot at their pads to give them more confidence," said Przybycki, of Livonia. "Against the big kids, I'm going all out to score."

One of the goalie instructors was Canton resident Steacy Chuhman, 18, one of the top-flight female goalies in the state.

"I know she's good because she uses to play for the team my brother Aaron played on," said Ryan Zielinski, 18, a camper from Canton.

Good company

Heins said three former campers and instructors, Mike Torchia, Rob Dapson and Derek Wilkinson, are now playing in the NHL. Torchia is with the Dallas Stars, Dapson with the Pittsburgh Penguins and Wilkinson with the Tampa Bay Lightning.

Heins might not ever see or hear again from Klemann, but the two share a special bond that Heins doesn't have with most campers.

"Like me, he's bald," said Heins, lifting his baseball hat above his head.

For information on the next Detroit visit, contact Joe Zielinski at (313) 981-4476. Cost is $325.

WRITE IT AND REAP!

Writing a classified ad that gets results—whether it be for real estate, employment, the personals, transportation, or merchandise—is easy if you follow the guidelines below.

1. Give the reader specific information. Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as color, size, condition, brand name, age, features and benefits. Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts and reap the rewards!

2. Include the price. Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.

3. Avoid abbreviations. Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in kitchen) or WSW (white side wall tires) and won't take the time to figure them out. A confused reader is a disinterested reader. Get the most for your money and use complete words.

4. Include phone number and specify hours. Be sure to let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!

5. Run on consecutive days. Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your telephone salesperson or outside sales representative.
