Church compromise on the Temple Baptist Church and the Plymouth Township administration have worked out a new compromise development to head off the church's federal lawsuit. Trustees will vote on the compromise Tuesday.

BY KEVIN BROWN STAFF WRITER

Temple Baptist Church and Plymouth Township officials have worked out a compromise plan to allow the church to build here.

The township board of trustees is scheduled to vote at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Tuesday at township hall on the proposed settlement of the church's suit against the township.

Trustees say they don't like having a mega-church here, but there's no way around it as courts say churches have a right to practice their religion.

"I think that it's in the best interests of the township because of the risks in this case," said township Supervisor Kathleen Keen McCarthy.

Several neighbors of the planned church have urged the township to fight the case in court: "There is still no question in my mind, and I have talked with several attorneys, that the church would not prevail," said attorney Gordon Didier. "Apparently for whatever reason they (trustees) are extremely reluctant to rely on the courts," he added.

Temple Baptist Church filed a $5 million suit against the township last year, claiming the planning commission denied the church's freedom of religion by rejecting its plans to build on the lawsuit.

McCarthy said this compromise with Temple Baptist sets a limit on how big the church can ultimately get — something not provided for in other proposals rejected by trustees.

The proposal, spelled out in an 18-page consent agreement would allow.

page consent agreement, would allow building in three phases. Construction on the first phase would begin next year, but work on the second and third phases can't begin for five years.

Saving greyhounds volunteers' goal

If you see a pack of greyhounds in back yard off of North Territorial oad, there's a good reason.

Road, there's a good reason.

The former racing dogs are being cared for by Leslie Forys of Plymouth and Amy Eversole of Belleville. In April, they started Michigan Retired Greyhounds as Pets (REGAP).

The women are seeking to place the dogs, usually 2-4 years old, with dog lovers in households suited to the breed.

Eversole became interested in the dogs after visiting a greyhound race track down south. Both she and Forys, who had experience volunteering for another dog rescue group, learned more of the mistreatment of racing greyhounds through the short racing greyhounds through the short money three times they're destroyed," Forys said. An estimated 50,000-80,000 racing dogs are killed

Yet, life's no breeze for the winners. When not racing, they wait standing side-by-side in cramped crates — and are let out only to re-

"The racing industry has been ex-tremely convincing in saying they're hyper-vicious dogs that can't be pets," Porys said.

Hut in truth, the dogs are not ag-gressive. "They love soft things, they're a real quiet breed," Eversole for celebration and they were the only dog permitted to share an Arab's tent or ride atop his camel.

The dog's sprinting ability enables it to reach speeds of 40 mph, yet it can stop on a dime, Eversole

To collect dogs intended for slaughter, the women have traveled to racing tracks as far away as Texas and Mexico.

People wanting to adopt a greyhound should know most aren't good with small animals in the house — yet some are. The animals are tested for their ability to get

Cost to adopt is $175. The dogs are clean, gentle with kids, very social and kennel broken -- meaning they usually housebreak easily, say REGAP volunteers. They can be-come watch dogs but not attack

While greyhounds don't need more exercise than other breeds — a daily walk or jog will do — they should never be let off of a leash outside a fenced-in area.

"They have tunnel vision — once they see something they're off. They can get hit by a car or get lost," Eversole said.

Leaf disposal method varies in city, township

BY KEVIN BROWN STAFF WRITER

Do you live in the city of Plymouth or Plymouth Township?

That's important to know when it comes to dealing with leaves on your lawn, as the city and township have different methods for collecting

In the city of Plymouth, residents are urged to rake leaves to the curb, where they'll be picked up by a leaf vacuum or with a claw-arm shovel.

"We're going to start collecting leaves on Monday (today)," said Paul Sincock, city Department of Public Works director.

While residents should rake leaves to the curb, Sincock said, "We strongly advise our residents not to block storm drains.'

"We anticipate making at least three complete passes through the city during the leaf pickup program," Sincock said, adding it should last about six weeks.

Leaves will be dumped at the county yard near Wilcox Mill, then hauled away for composting by the city's contractor, Mass Trucking. Sincock said 4,000 to 5,000 cubic yards of leaves were collected in the city last year.

"We always encourage residents to run their lawn mower over leaves a couple of times," he said, to cut down on the raking job. The ground-up leaves are also good for lawns.
Sincock said that while the claw device leaves a chalk mark on the street, it does not damage the pavement. In Plymouth Township, residents can bag leaves in special paper com-post bags, or place them in trash containers marked with a "C" or "X."

"Basically, the leaves can't be placed in plastic bags," said Chris Haas, township solid waste coordina-

The township's leaf pickup program is scheduled to run through Dec. 1.

Paper compost bags are available at Kroger, 44505 W. Ann Arbor Road, and at the township's Division of Public Services Solid Waste Department at 46555 Port St. Cost for 25 bags is $7.50.

Haas encourages residents not to rake leaves to the street, adding they can clog sewers and cause flooding problems.

The 5th Annual Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce Auction happens Friday, Nov. 3, at Laurel Manor

Last year's auction drew more than 700 business and community leaders, several of whom chose formal wear for the gala

"You cannot be too dressed up at the auction," said chamber Executive Director Fran Toney. "There are many men in tuxedos, it's black-tie optional."

Silent and live auction items include jewelry, trips, fishing excursions, suites at The Palace of Auburn Hills and weekend stays at luxury condos

Fred Hill will be master of ceremonies for the event, and Joe DuMouchelle will run the silent and live auctions

This year's auction theme is "This Magic Moment," to commemorate the near culmination of work on the downtown streetscape project and efforts to spruce up the Ann Arbor Road business corridor.

"It celebrates what the two communities (Plymouth city and township) as one can do," said event co-chairwoman K.C. Mueller.

Other auctioned items include an autographed jersey from the Detroit Red Wings' Steve Yzer. few items to be offered at man and a "Phantom of the the Nov. 3 event.

Tickets are going fast at $50 per person. They're available at the chamber office, 386 S. Main. This includes hors d'ouevres, dinner and an open bar and dancing.

Sponsorships, available for $225, include two admissions, an auction preview at 5:30 p.m. and a chance to win a trip for two-to Chicago.

The auction is a main fundraiser for the chamber, and helps fund chamber activities geared to boosting Plymouth businesse

Planning the gala event starts in the summer, as several committees begin work organizing the event. "The big thing is coordination of the prizes," Toney said. "Companies give us money and the committee goes out and buys gifts.

Local drivers whose licenses are suspended could lose autos

BY M.B. DILLON STAFF WRITER

If you're driving with a suspended license in Plymouth, Canton, or Northville, beware. You may end up losing your car for four months.

Judges in 35th District Court are beginning to enforce an infrequently-imposed provision of the law that enables courts to impound vehicles for up to 120 days.

censes so often ignore courts' revocation of their driving privileges.

"It's the only teeth the law has, other than sending people to jail," said 35th District Judge Ron Lowe. "I can take your license away, but I can't prevent you from driving.

"If there is going to be reinforcement of these traffic ordinances and ramifications, people need to realize that if they vio-They're giving the policy a try because drivers with suspended li-is suspended that there is some serious punishment."

Lowe said it's common to encounter defendants who've been caught more than once driving with a suspended license.

"It is not unusual to look at files where the person has had several tickets for driving while his or her license was suspended," said Lowe. "You ask if their car has ever been taken away, their license plate confiscated or if they've ever been sent to jail, and they say no. I tell them, 'You're about to realize there are ramifications. It's obvious that when we tell you not to drive, we can't trust you, so we'll prevent you from dri-ving.'"

Typically, defendants whose cars are being impounded have committed "what I feel are major infractions," said Lowe, adding that Judge John MacDonald is enforcing the same policy.

They are motorists with sus-for driving while under the influence of liquor, or drivers who've lost their licenses after accumulating 12 or more points because they're poor drivers, said Lowe.

Plymouth police Chief Robert Scoggins is all for the idea. "I think it is a positive action by Judge Lowe," said the chief. "It is something where people have the perception that they get a slap on the wrist from the court.

"Obviously this is a turn from pended licenses who are arrested that direction. This is an attempt to enforce a penalty that will get people's attention."

Lowe can't yet say how the policy is working. "It's too early to say whether the word is getting out and people are buckling Scoggins suspects the word will get around. "His action of trying to impose stricter sanctions hopefully will have an impact on deterring people from driving with suspended or re-

Fitzsimmons builds war chest to ready for race against Rivers

Fitzsimmons

Arbor business executive Joseph Fitzsimmons is preparing to challenge freshman Democrat U.S. Rep. Lynn Rivers in next year's election.

Fitzsimmons, 60, is the first to file for the 13th Congressional seat, and has already raised $100,000, he said, and hopes to raise $1 million.

The 13th District includes Canton and Plymouth townships, Plymouth, Westland, Garden City, the southwest quadrant of Livonia and 15 other communities in Wayne and Washtenaw counties.

Like many Republicans, Fitzsimmons stresses self-reliance: "You've got to stand up on your own two feet," he said in an Observer interview Oct. 24. "Go on. Get out of bed and go to work. No free lunches. No free lunches as far as I'm concerned. To me you've got to get up and hit singles over a long period of time. No home runs. To do that, get yourself a decent background, education, self-discipline and you'll be very successful in this wonderful country of ours. But the present situation breeds dependency and failure."

Unlike many Republicans, Pitzsimmons is pro-choice on abortion. "It's a tough decision (to have an abortion)," he said. "I think adoption is a better choice, but it's an individual decision as far as I'm concerned."

His background

Fitzsimmons, an Ann Arbor resident, recently stepped down as chairman of Ann Arbor-based University Microfilms International, where he worked almost 30 years. UMI has been a pioneer in applying technology to acquiring, preserving and dis-tributing a wide range of literature from the Gutenberg Bible to the Canton Observer.

But retirement isn't in the 6foot, 5-inch candidate's vocabulary. "I'll never retire," he said. "Once you retire, you die." Fitzsimmons' business back- ures)," he said. "I believe I'm an

Former Ann ground puts him in good stead independent thinker and will with many area Republicans, including Wayne County Commissioner Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township, 13th District Republican Party Chairman Sean Cox, state Sen. Loren Bennett, R-Canton Township, and Wayne County Commissioner Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, who have all endorsed him.

Early endorsements

Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack also likes Fitzsimmons. "He brings private sector experience and philosophy to government that many times is not there," Yack said.

Although Yack doesn't question Rivers' integrity or fault her performance in terms of constituent service - "Her staff does a good job with problem-solving" he opposes her nonetheless based on political differences. Fitzsimmons illustrates the difference between himself and Rivers by noting how she voted and how he would have voted on 40 "key votes" in the current Congress' first 100 days.

Rivers' votes differed from 'itzsimmons' positions 24 times.

"She is on the far left, as liberal as can be," he said. But that is not entirely clear, he added, because "she's voting on a Republican agenda."

Rivers' response

Rivers said Fitzsimmons' characterization is unfair because she supported several provisions of the Republicans' Contract with America. "If you look at the options available to me on any given vote, you'll see that I've tried to do the reasonable thing," she said. "I hope we're going to deal with reality in this campaign and not get into mudslinging."

Rivers, Fitzsimmons said, "is, in my view, tied to (U.S. Rep. David) Bonior and takes direction from him."

Rivers responds: "My husband would laugh (at that). I don't take direction from anybody." Fitzsimmons characterized himself as a free agent. "I have Overregulation: "Reduce the tremendous number of regulations we have, especially those that are focused on making it difficult for business, especially small business, to perform. I want (small businesses) springing up like flowers. That's where all the growth is coming from."

Fitzsimmons said he plans to serve no more than six years if elected. "I have no interest in staying any longer than that," he said. "I think I can make a major contribution in that period of

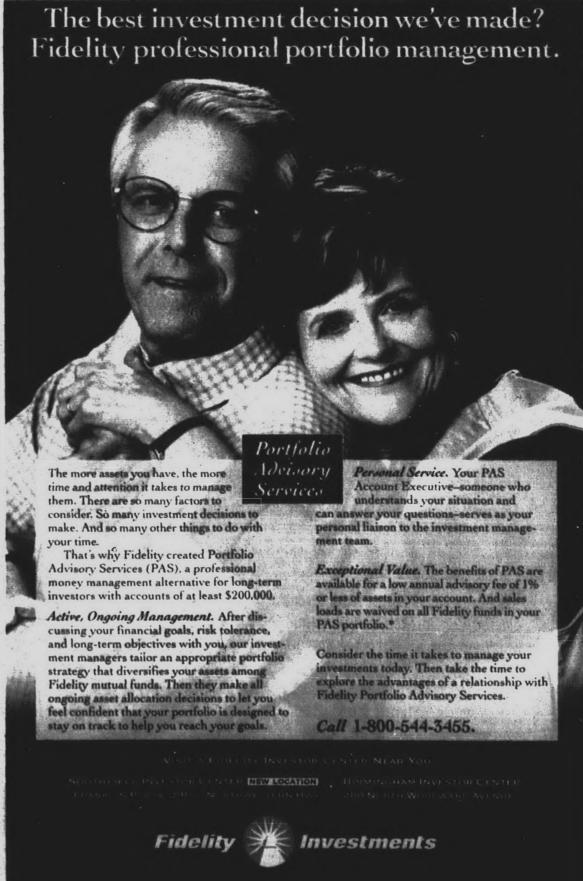

Then he added, "I suppose I could go over, but my point is that I think turnover is good. I'm really against long-term politicians."

If elected, Fitzsimmons said he will return to the district often. "I'm looking to be back here Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday," he said. "I will spend as much time here as I absolutely can.'

Fitzsimmons is the only child of Joseph and Frances Fitzsimmons and grew up in Newark, N.J. Joseph was a butcher, Frances a teacher. Fitzsimmons has an electrical engineering degree from Cornell University.

A Michigan resident since 1966, Fitzsimmons has five grown children, including a son, Joe Jr., living in Canton and a son, Mike, who is an orthopedic surgeon.

Plymouth-Canton Schools Superintendent Charles Little, a Marine Corps Vietnam veteran, was the most emotional speaker. Clearly choked up, Little said that if it weren't for men like Zalesny, men like himself would not have made it home alive.

"I wasn't anybody special," Little said. "I was just a guy who got drafted from New York. He was a hero, this guy. He really was.'

Margaret Zalesny said her son's death "is still a little bit hard to take," but Saturday's ceremony was beautiful.

Speakers included POW Committee of Michigan President Marty Eddy, Mettetal Airport Advisory Board member Thomas friendship." Yack said Zalesny can be an inspiration to kids today. "He not only had dreams, but he was goaldriven," Yack said. "Certainly we would ask that of our young peo-ple today. We would also ask commitment. Today stands as a symbol of what a young person's life can be like."

The color guard from Livonia American Legion Post 32, state champion in 1993 and 1995, handled the flags at the ceremony and delivered a rifle-shot salute for Zalesny.

National Guard warrant officers Dean Pode and Noah South (both Vietnam veterans), Capt. Steven Scoville and Warrant Officer Matt Douglas flew two AH-1 Cobras in from the 1-238th Aviation Regiment at Grand Ledge for the ceremony.

In a closing prayer, Canton Township Police Chaplain Wayne Byrum asked that God "help us to do everything in the best possible way; just like Harry did.

Commission plans town hall session

The Wayne County Commission has scheduled its first Town Hall meeting for 6-8 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 8, in Allen Park City Hall, 16850 Southfield Road.

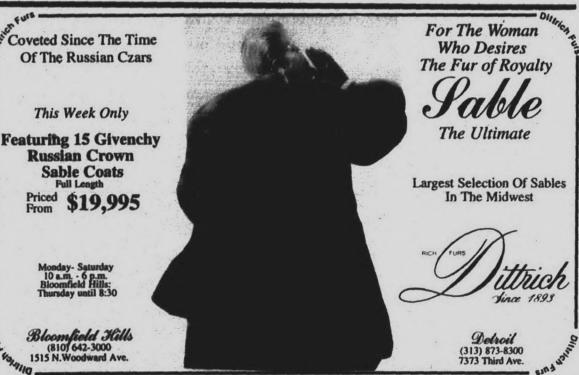

The meeting will be preceded by a welcoming reception from 5-6 p.m. The Town Hall meeting is open to the public.

The downriver meeting is the first of three Town Hall meetings the commission will hold throughout the county. The other Town Hall meetings will be scheduled in the western Wayne area and the city of Detroit.

The commission established these Town Hall meetings to give county residents a new avenue to discuss issues and voice their opinions directly to their commissioners. The Nov. 8 Town Hall meeting will give residents in the downriver communities an opportunity to hear updates from various county departments as well as discuss issues of particular interest to the area. The commission encourages all downriver residents and community organizations to attend.

On tour: Members of the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps toured forts in Canada and Vermont this past summer.

Drum Corps season wraps up

The Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps finished its 1995 season with an appearance at the Caro Pumpkin Festival Parade.

The corps appeared at more than 50 events in Michigan this year and also toured Vermont and Canada, appearing at various forts.

The group attended a muster in Waterbury, Vt., with 20 other fife and drum corps from the East Coast.

Jim Predhomme served as the group's director, while the drum major was Justin Smith and the color guard commander was Scott Berrey. The group won numerous awards and trophies this year.

Its annual banquet for members and their families is Sunday, Oct. 22. At that event, the corps will say goodbye to three members who graduated from high school in June. They are: Smith; Tom Wrobel, first fifer, who has been a member for seven years; and Jason Quay, drum captain, who has been a member for six years.

The corps is looking for new members for its 1996 season. Board members are visiting middle schools to talk to students about the corps and answer questions. The corps will have a parents' meeting 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 23, at Plymouth Salem High School.

Also, the corps is celebrating its 25th season and is planning a reunion for July 4. For more information, call 455-5298 or write to P.O. 70-1776 Plymouth, Mich 48170.

Students learning from pros

Students in Karen Willard's Interior Design class at the Plymouth Canton Educational Park are getting firsthand information about the world of design through a partnership with Walker/Buzenberg Furniture in downtown Plymouth

Interior designer Lisa Wolfe will be speaking to students about characteristics of design when she visits the class on Monday, Oct. 23. Following this initial presentation, the students will have an opportunity to visit the M All of these activities are made possible through participation in the Business-Education Partnership Pro-store on Main Street. Host Eric Buzenberg will work with Wolfe to demonstrate to students the application of their class work in a real business setting.

The students will also be help-

In August the index stood at 171, while in July it registered

"At a level of 163 in September, Detroit's economy was operating 2 percent above year-ago levels, and for the first three quarters of 1995, the index was up 2 percent over last year," said Comerica Bank economist David L. Littmann.

"In the third quarter alone, Detroit's economy was up a robust 5.5 percent from the third quarter

"August's surge represented an unusual burst of activity, stemming from the auto changeover in July," Littmann said, adding that September's decline showed:

Continuing deceleration in the automotive sector.

Slippage in electric power sales and aggregate financial activity.

Comerica Bank compiles the Detroit Area Business Activity Index monthly from eight measures of regional activity which are seasonally adjusted, corrected for inflation, and expressed as an index with 1982 as base year equal to 100.

CHEF LARRY JANES

Some foods are better without a grain of salt

e discarded the salt shaker long ago at our house and mainly keep a box of Morton's handy for when it comes time to clean a wooden salad bowl.

But I would be lying if I told you the Janes Gang cooks without a grain of salt.

You don't need a salt shaker to add salt to foods. I was shocked when I read the label on my favorite canned chicken broth and learned it is loaded with sodium. Then there's the fat-free salad dressing mix, the package of taco seasoning, the ketchup bottle, and of course, fast food burgers to which we do occasionally succumb.

But as Gomer Pyle would say, "Surprise, surprise, surprise'" There are some foods that actually taste better without the addition of salt. Take a garden fresh salad.

Dress it with good olive oil, a splash of lemon juice, and a hint of chopped garlic, toss it and you get the flavor Mother Nature intended it to have Freshness, and the lack of salt, make for greater tasting vegetables, especially when steamed, boiled or stir-fried and dressed only with a splash of fresh lemon

Contrary to popular belief, the pasta you usually add a handful of salt to while boiling will not taste insipid without the addition of salt. There are also a number of intriguing salt-free sauces that are available

Homemade salt-free mayonnaise is enlivened with a healthy tablespoon or two of plain yogurt. Meat, fish and poultry need not be ensconced in salt, and really will cook better and retain more of their juices without the shake of salt before roasting, baking or pan frying.

But what is today's health conscious cook supposed to replace salt with? Are there any magical jars of secret condiments that can actually do what salt does - make your food taste better?

Yours truly enjoys a prepackaged product called "Mrs. Dash Table Blend," which is a blend of herbs and spices that actually replaces flavor. But to be perfectly honest, it can't even come close to replacing the needed salt in a tabbouleh salad, homemade gravy or french fries

Flavor enhancers

Researchers say that the best substitute for salt is fresh lemon. Not the reconstituted bottled version but the real stuff freshly squeezed They say it tends to bring out natural flavors, especially in meat, fish and poultry. Lemon, of course, is paramount in the broiling of fish.

Vinegar and wine also have the ability to add flavor. Pork responds remarkably well to vinegar and does even better when brushed with a mustard-honey glaze to counteract the bitterness of the vinegar during the last 45 minutes of cook-

A sprig of rosemary tucked innocently inside a pork roast will offer a scent you will remember in the kitchen and not just a great new taste.

Many dishes are immediately associated with a specific herb. A lamb roast awakens at the touch of mint or rosemary. Saltimbocca, the specialty of Rome, is subtly scented with sage.

A good steak or roast, rubbed with a split clove of garlic, can do you no wrong. Basil loves noodles (i.e. pesto), and a good bay leaf can do wonders to a stew. Always right, parsley is a must have when making a fresh vinaigrette, even something made up in a Good Seasons cruet, while oregano works wonders when coupled with anything in a tomato base.

Spices

Ditto for spices. The classic French blend quatre spices (four spices) contains five tablespoons of ground cloves and three tablespoons each of ginger, nutmeg and pepper. This blend is used generously in the making of hearty soups, rich sauces, meats, and even fruits.

You say bechamel and I say the white sauce for macaroni and cheese would be absolutely nothing without a fresh grating of nutmeg.

Nutmeg also gives a touch of the unusual to the humble meatloaf or meatball or the classic cheese and spinach pie. The list is endless.

Many of you are like me and are looking to modify your daily intake of salt. That's what food police are warning us to do, but be advised cheese, prepared sauces such as soy, Worcestershire, mustard and pickles all contain excessive

Michigan's harvest, one of the best

BY JOAN BORKE . SPECIAL WRITER

ctober is National Apple Month, when we celebrate America's favorite fruit.

There are about 7,500 varieties of apples grown worldwide and 2,500 varieties grown in the United States. About 250 varieties are grown in Michigan, but only about 12 major types for retail.

"This has been the greatest year ever for Michigan apples," said Patrick O'Connor, spokesman for the Michigan Apple Commission. "We're looking at a record 28.8 million bushels, an increase over 1993, when we also had a record crop.

"The weather that was detrimental to so many other agricultural products was perfect for producing big, juicy apples. The recent weather - cool nights and warm days is just what we need to develop flavor and color."

Michigan ranks second nationally in apple production, exporting apples to South America, Europe, and even Saudi Arabia

Unlike so many other industries, most of our state's 1,400 apple growers are still "Mom and Pop" businesses, with orchards of 50 acres or less

One of these family-owned orchards is Davies Orchard and Cider Mill, in Salem Township. Co-owner (with husband and in-laws) Judy Davies has been growing Paula Red; McIntosh; Jonathan; Empire; Red and Yellow Delicious, Ida Red; Winesap, and Rome apples from 2,000 trees on a 20-acre farm for just over 20 years. They recent-barn where they also sell cider and honey, and doughnuts on weekends when business is brisk. They also have a thriving upick business. "We keep the trees sized down so people can pick their apples without ladders." said Davies. The Davies' customers receive a fact sheet that includes several methods for putting apples by.

"The important thing is that there's a steady temperature, between 32 and 40 degrees," said Davies. "A temperature fluctuation is bad for apples. One of the best ways to store them is to put them in a plastic bag and keep them in an extra fridge in the garage or the basement.

"Some people wrap apples individually in newspaper and store in the attic in a Styrofoam container. An attic is better than a garage because it gets a little heat leak from the rest of the house. A detached garage is a little too cold, depending on the severity of the winter, of course, but in an attached garage you can store them against the inside wall, as I do. I had an aunt who used to put them in plastic bags and store them in the attic under a pile of blankets.

Davies has been in the apple business for 23 years, and she still loves apples. "There are so many varieties, and each has a different flavor, how could I get tired of them?

"I have hundreds of apple recipes on file, but my favorite is still good old American apple pie.'

Apples are a good source of vitamins A and C, and minerals. A medium apple provides 4 grams of dietary fiber. The soluble fiber in apples, called pectin, is similar to that in oat bran and can be a factor in cholesterol reduction. An average apple has just 80 calories, contains 170 mg. of potassium, is high in complex carbohydrates, and has no sodium or cholesterol.

A recent Michigan State University study revealed that apple eaters had fewer respiratory infections and tensionrelated complaints. Additionally, a USDA study found that the mineral boron in apples makes bones stronger and may help prevent osteoporosis.

It's true what they say, an apple a day keeps the doctor away.

Indian dessert stars carrots

AP - "There is no other time of the year when carrots are bigger, oranger, sweeter or more plentiful," writes Sharon Parquette Nimtz in the September-October issue of her newsletter.

"CookSpeak."

Nimtz has adapted Madhur Jaffrey's recipe for carrot halva, which is flavored with shelled, unsalted pistachios and golden raisins. # Flash-in-the-pan skillet supper

AP - With the school and weeknight dinner routine back in full swing again, quick-to-fix dinners are necessary after the ca-sual summertime approach to eating.

The following recipe is an under-30 minutes meat and potatoes dish. It calls for just a handful of ingredients, is easy to assemble and is loaded with flavor. Cut the fat by using reduced-fat smoked sausage. Serve with a salad of mixed greens and some crusty French bread.

FLASH-IN-THE-PAN SKILLET SUPPER Preparation time: 10 minutes

Cooking time: 20 minutes 1 cup (about 11/2 ounces) dried tomato halves, snipped in

1 11/2 pounds (4 medium) potatoes, sliced 1 tablespoon vegetable oil

12 ounces reduced-fat smoked sausage, sliced ¼ -Inch thick

The survey, conducted on behalf of Quaker puffed wheat and rice cereals, targeted a group of adults 45 years and older. Their responses to the survey questions indicated an interest in healthy eating, so chances are this group already recognizes the benefits of sensible snacking. These benefits

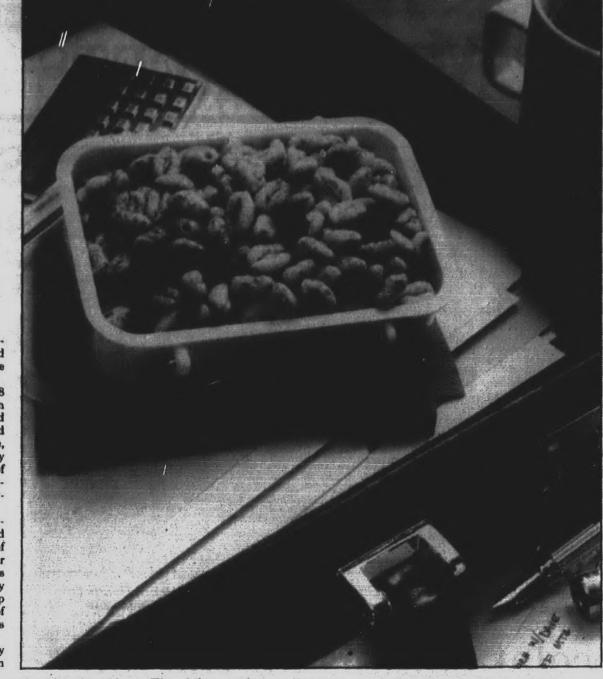

Appetite control - Healthy snacks can reduce the temptation to overeat at the next meal.

■ Flexibility — Smart snacks and mini meals can provide energy and essential nutrients when your body needs them. You can eat three meals a day, plus snacks or six mini meals - a sensible way to stay fueled on busy days.

■ Weight loss — Eating more often (but staying within total calorie needs) enables the body to burn calories more efficiently. At the same time, you'll learn to be satisfied with smaller portions.

Keeping convenient, great-tasting snacks on hand also can help control the urge to grab high-calorie goodies. Eighty percent of the respondents to the Quaker survey said they would be interested in healthful snack recipes.

In response, the Quaker Kitchens have created these two easy

There is chocolate and then there's Jerbeau Chocolate.

To understand the difference, carefully open the chic contemporary packaging. Next, note the unique pyramid-shape of each truffle.

Now, sink your teeth into delicate dark chocolate blended with fragrant raspberries in bittersweet chocolate.

Finally, finish m-m-ming and pick up another piece.

The recipes and designs belong to Jerbeau Chocolates of Camarillo, Ca. whose president, chocolatier Katalin Coburn, 40, said she continually challenges the limits of presenting high quality chocolates to appreciative customers. She came to town recently as a guest of Hudson's 10-day festival, "For the Love of Chocolate," in the Marketplace departments.

'Chocolates are an affordable luxury." Coburn explained, after meeting with customers at the Oakland Mall in Troy. "That's why sales of gourmet chocolate skyrocket during recessionary times. People rationalize, 'I can't buy this $200 coat, but I can buy this $2 bar of chocolate.' It's instant grati-

Selling spooky is big business

The popularity of Halloween continues to grow, delighting specialty retailers selling animated grim reapers, screeching witches and flickering candelabra.

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN

Clap your hands and a huge black spider scurries up a rope. Welcome to Halloween USA where things really do go bump in the night!

Our beloved goblin-filled holiday has become big business. Halloween is not just costumes and carved pumpkins anymore, but motion ac-tivated screaming black cats and electronic witches stirring bubbling brews for people who want to create their own scary scenes.

In 1977 when Chris Bearss opened his first Gags & Gifts store (of which Halloween USA is an entity), sales of holiday-related merchandise consisted of a boxed costume with a plastic mask. Today, the Farmington Hills resident under his parent company Gags & Games, employs 80 to 100 people to sell everything you'll ever need to celebrate Halloween, from animated spiders to a nine foot dragon manufactured in Gag Studios in "Halloween's a fun holiday. It allows people to express themselves. Every person out there is a kid at heart," said Bearrs, co-owner with John McIntire of a dozen Gags & Gifts in Livonia, Westland, Rochester, West Bloomfield, and Canton Township.

"We aspire to be to Halloween what Bronner's is for Christinas.

According to assistant store manager Theresa Fischer, people can't seem to get enough of the electrified skull candleabra with flickering lights, animated spiders that crawl along the floor, and the squirming rat caught in a trap.

Store manager Kim Jones has seen the Halloween decorating phenomena explode over the last six years. "It's grown bigger every year as more and more adults are getting into it," said Jones.

Ghoulie Greetings

Would you buy an animated vampire holding a skull that says "I want to suck your blood," for your entryway? What about a goose dressed as a witch for the front porch? English Gardens in West Bloomfield sells these scary scoundrels and more. For safety's sake consider displaying a ceramic electric jack-o-lantern instead of a candle burning in a real pumpkin. It's a lot more fun when you clap your hands, it

"Every year Halloween appears to be growing in popularity. This is the first year English Gardens put in a big display," said Bob Walker, general manager.

To scare up a table set with coordinated paper plates and nap-kins bearing skeletons, search out the Sideways shop in Plymouth. Black and orange Steamereens plus a pumpkin pitcher, are sure to liven up the table. Add a ceramic centerpiece like the "8 Feet Under Funeral Parlour," a collec-tible from Midwest Importers. Before leaving Sideways, checkout the soft sculpture witch in a chair, and don't forget to pick up some of the black witch hand

Scary, Scary Night

More people are decorating their yards with ghosts and gob-lins for Halloween. Lit tombstones and big orange pumpkins can be found at Handy Andy in Livonia, Troy and Westland where a special sale sent them flying off the racks.

If one-of-a-kind items are more your style, surprise your trick-or-treaters with a ghost from Coun-tryside Craft Mall in Livonia which sells hundreds of Halloween items handmade by local crafters. Consider a ghost or witch peaking over a wooden picket fence for the front yard. Or pound in one of Barb and Bob Victory's stakes, which feature a ghost emerging from a pumpkin. This frightening item by the Redford crafters sells for $17.

Old Fashioned Fun

Let the kids make the decorations by competing in a pumpkin painting contest 2-3 p.m. Oct. 28 at Keller & Stein Florist and Greenhouse in Canton Township.

The best part is, it's free, said manager Jan Reese. "The greenhouse will provide the paint and pumpkins." Winning pumpkins will be judged on neatness and creativity. To reserve one for your child (ages 5-13), call (313) 397-0800.

If your Halloween decorating budget is tight this year, pick up a pair of pants and a shirt from the dollar rack at Nicole's Revival resale shop in Westland to stuff your own scarecrow. The price is right and the kids will have fun doing it. (You will, too.)

Retail Realities

Marshall Field's was founded in 1852 when merchant Potter Palmer opened a dry goods store in downtown Chicago. Marshall Field became a partner in the business in 1865, and 16 years alter, became chief proprietor, renaming the firm after himself.

At the turn of the century, Marshall Field's was the largest wholesale and retail dry-goods establishment in the world.

In June 1990, the Dayton Hudson Corporation purchased Marshall Field's and together the three store groups became the Department Store Division of Dayton Hudson Corporation with annual sales nearly $3 billion.

The department store division operates 64 stores in nine states. (DHC also owns Mervyn's and Target's.)

When you receive 25 awards, there are only two words you can sincerely say:

"Thank You."

Certainly the judges in the Michigan Press Association's 1995 Better Newspaper Contest deserve our gratitude for such abundant recognition, but without the dedication and effort put forth by our Editorial staff, the judges would have had significantly less excellent work to consider.

Week after week, our writers and photographers are out in their communities covering the news. Our editors spend long hours in front of flickering computer screens checking facts, getting the truth, and writing about the issues that are important to you, our readers. And while our writing staff is looking for the best approach to the news, our photographers match their efforts with creative pictures of civic functions, local athletic

'Mallrats' fails to capture rude edge

Four years ago Kevin Smith sold his comic book collection to help fund his $23,000 debut feature, "Clerks." Not only has he probably been able to buy it back; he's snagged Marvel Comics legend Stan Lee for a cameo in his sophomore effort, "Mallrats."

The new film should be a similar dream come true for fans of Smith's rude, raw brand of hu-mor. But while "Mallrats" tries hard to recapture that edge, the gags fall mostly flat.

Brodie and T.S. are a pair of twentysomething ladabouts who live at the local shopping mail, buying comic books, eating at the food court, and pondering the meaning of life. Coincidentally they've just been dumped by their girlfriends and spend the rest of the film trying to win them back.

Played by skateboard champ
Jason Lee and "Dazed and Confused" star Jeremy London, these are extensions of Dante and Randy, the convenience store employees from "Clerks." Brodie, whose latest invention is a "stink hand" handshake, walks a thin line between offensive sociopath and oddly endearing social critic.

They enlist the help of Jay and Silent Bob, a pair of obnoxious, slightly menacing drug dealers from the previous film. Wearing the same backwards baseball caps and rock T-shirts, they devise elaborate Wile E. Coyote-style plans to destroy a live television taping.

Their bungling leads to some of the film's funniest moments. Chased by security guards and trapped in a dead end corridor, the dynamic duo shoots a Bathook into the rafters and jetisons

You had the sense with director Smith that given a little more money and time, he could probably be-come a fine director. His work in "Mailrats" hints at little flair behind the camera, his static shots and lei-surely pacing even more laid back than the surveillance camera-style black-andwhite from "Clerks."

One of the girlfriends is played by Shannen Doherty, enjoying her first big screen opportunity since leaving the cast of "Beverly Hills 90210." Though hardly a careersaving part, she's not bad, though Smith can't help but plant an inside joke when someone recognizes her as Brenda.

Mostly the movie suffers from overkill. Stan Lee almost embarrasses himself in a much-toolengthy cameo where he talks about his comic book heroes as reactions to a lost love. Character actor Michael Rooker has a thankless part as a shaved-head comic foil for our heroes.

Even the best running gag - a lumpy guy camps out in front of one of those irritating 3-D Magic Eye displays where everyone can see the sailboat but him doesn't know how to deliver a satisfying payoff. Like most of the movie, it just repeats itself and then trickles away.

bly become a fine director. His work in "Mallrats" hints at little flair behind the camera, his static shots and leisurely pacing even more laid back than the surveillance camera-style black-and-white from "Clerks."

What previously played as breezy and slice-of-life now comes off too self-consciously clever. Even Jay and Silent Bob have lost their edge, transformed, as the opening credits suggest, into comparatively cuddly comic book characters.

In his defense, Smith isn't the Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

Versatile rice will help stretch food dollars

AP - Rice's versatility and nutritional benefits can fit into anyone's diet, but it can also stretch the food budget.

Because of its mild flavor and ability to absorb other flavors, rice can be incorporated into almost any recipe for soups, salads, main dishes and desserts.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends the largest portion of a diet should come from the rice, bread, cereal and pasta group. Recommended daily intake is six to 11 servings; with a serving defined as half a cup of

The nutritional benefits of rice are many.

'Rice is high in complex carbohydrates, and when combined with beans or lentils, it is considered a complete protein," said Melissa Mixon, extension human nutrition specialist at Mississippi State University.

If nothing is added during preparation or serving, rice is low in fat, sodium and has no cholesterol. A single serving has only 103 calories for regular mill white rice and 106 calories for brown rice.

While brown rice provides slightly more fiber, vitamin E, phosphorus and calcium than white rice, most of the rice sold in the United States is enriched. Enriched rice is high in iron, thiamin and niacin.

ings in a meal.

Rice is an extender of the food dollar. It can be used in most dishes and adds to the number of portions," said Mixon. "It is low in cost and in the uncooked form can be stored in an airtight container on a shelf or in a pantry for long periods of time.'

Once rice has been cooked, Mixon said to treat it with the principles of food safety in mind.

"If cooked rice is left at room temperature for more than two hours then it should be thrown away, especially if the dish contains any kind of meat," said Mixon. "Remember to always refrigerate immediately after servthe state football playoffs. Entering Friday's game, Canton was fourth in Class AA Region II with 74.571 points while Central was in fifth place with 72.143. Both teams were in a must-win situation to keep their hopes of post-season play alive. Central not only helped itself, but got some help from Birmingham Seaholm as well. Senior tailback Matt Koschke, who finished with 135 yards on 22 carries, set up the winning TD with an exciting 71yard scamper which gave the Vikings a first down at the four. Koschke broke a couple tackles at the line-of-scrimmage and raced down the Viking sideline. He deeked a defender at the 15 to pick up an additional 11 yards on

Two plays later, senior fullback Greg Tobias put the Vikings ahead to stay with a 3-yard TD run. Junior kicker Bill Kandilian nailed the extra point kick for the final margin of victory.

"In the first half we had a touchdown called back, then their kid broke that long run late," said Canton coach Bill Khoenle, whose Chiefs slipped out of the playoff picture at 5-3. "I don't know what happened to us. But give them credit. They won and they deserved it. They fired their linebackers and took away our outside, and with the wind blowing like it was we couldn't pass like we wanted to."

Canton's senior kicker Rob Gumber opened the scoring with a 45-yard field goal with 11 seconds left in the first half.

Central tied the game at 3-3 on the opening drive of the second half on a 31-yard field goal by Kandilian.

The Chiefs were penalized five times for 55 yards and had a 56yard punt return for a touchdown by senior Ron Hunter called back because of a holding penalty.

Senior D.J. Gies had two interceptions for the Vikings while Chris Laming, Will Winnicki and Chris Muray each recovered a fumble.

Harrison captures 11th football title

The numbers will say it was Farmington Hills Harrison's 11th Western Lakes Activities Association football title, seventh in the last eight years and third in a row.

But the Hawks' 31-18 championship conquest Friday over host Livonia Stevenson was dialed up by No. 2 in the green and gold jersey - 5-foot-8, 155-pound senior speedster Jason Granger.

After squandering what appeared to be a commanding 17-0 halftime lead, the Hawks needed a pair of scores in the final 10 minutes to erase an 18-17 deficit to win the battle of divisional champs.

Granger, although gimpy and bloodied, broke the Spartans' back with an electrifying 87-yard kickoff return with only 9:44 remaining to put the Hawks back on top, 23-18. He then cut loose for 40 yards on the next series and brought home the WLAA trophy for Harrison with a 4-yard touchdown run and two-point conversion sweep with 6:17 to go.

Granger, who sat out a majority of a the second quarter with a perforated lip, finished with 128 yards on 18 carries.

"He looked like Mel Gray on that play," Stevenson coach Tim Gabel said of the pivotal kickoff return. "He wasn't juking around, he just took off.

"It really wasn't our kicker's mistake. We were trying to go away from him, but the ball took a bad hop. In fact, it almost went over his head.

"Great players step up when they have to, and when they needed it, he stepped up big-time. That was a big momentum shift."

Harrison coach John Herring ton, who has orchestrated all 11 Hawks' WIAA title quests along with asven state championship runs, calls Granger "an outstanding competitor."

"Great players make plays. It was the same when we had (Nick) Williams and (Kevin) Bryant last year," Herrington said. "Jason got beat twice (playing the secondary), but he came through when we needed him."

Stevenson put three TDs on the board in the second half.

The Spartans, behind the passing of senior quarterback Dean Bacheller (9-of-16 for 171 yards) began their comeback with a pair of third-period TDs.

Junior tailback Gade Clark (17 for 54 yards) capped an 11-play, 80-yard drive with 2-yard TD run with 6:59 left in the quarter. Tight end Rob Drolet's 35-yard catch from Bacheller set up the score. The Spartans missed the pointafter attempt.)

After a short Harrison punt, Stevenson took just six plays to score again, this time Bacheller hooking up with split end Jeff Backus on a 32-yard scoring play at the 2:55 mark

Backus, who led all receivers with 120 yards in receptions, couldn't hold on to the twopointer, but the senior caught a 53-yard bomb from Bacheller with 9:57 to go in the final quarter to give the Spartans a stunning 18-17 advantage.

"I asked the rhetorical question to our kids at halftime, 'Were we getting our butts kicked?' and nobody felt they were," Gabel said. There was no panic at halftime, but we were disappointed to be down 17-0.

"We talked about adjustments, the normal things. I thought our defense was very good the first half, and it was some of the best hitting I've seen from our team all Herrington could feel the mo-mentum shift to start the third.

"They moved the ball on the ground to set up their passing," he said. "They did a lot of playaction when we were in our 6-2 (alignment) coming up to jum.

Stevenson girls retain league title as expected

Livonia Stevenson captured the first jewel in the triple crown for girls cross country by repeating as Western Lakes Activities Association champions Friday at Cass Benton Park.

The Spartans, undefeated in dual meets, winners of all six invitational titles this year and now WLAA champs, move on to the Class A regional this Saturday at Ann Arbor's Buhr Park.

Stevenson, expected to chal-lenge Troy Athens for the state title, took five of the first seven places to win the Western Lakes championship for the third time in the 1990s.

Stevenson scored 21 points with state-ranked Farmington second with 57 and Plymouth Salem third with 96. See statistical

The sophomore tandem of Kelly Travis and Kelly McNeilance took first and second, respectively, with times of 19:26 and 19:54 over the rain-soaked 5,000-meter

North Farmington's Becky Naglik (20:01) and Salem's Leah Retherford (20:02) were wedged in between Stevenson's Jeannette Stojcevski (20:04), who ran the all-time sixth best Spartan time; freshman Kim McNeilance (20:18) and Laura Pilon (20:19).

"This is the best group I've ever had, and I've had some awfully good kids and teams," Stevenson coach Paul Holmberg said. "But we still have to prove ourselves going into the regional.

'We don't have to change our routine a great deal. We'll still do our basic work, only shorter and faster reps.

Despite a cough, Travis repeated as individual champion as temperatures plummeted and the winds kicked up late Friday after-

"It was really slippery and you had to watch your step on the wide turns," Travis said. "All during warmups it was pretty rough, but we're pretty used to it. We ran a meet against Salem that was worse than this, but it got a little cold at the end."

Farmington, which also impressed by placing five girls in the top 15 and six in the top 20, tried to force the pace at the beginning. McNeilance, who ran her best time of the year on the Cass Benton course, hung behind eighthplace finisher Ann Grimaldi of Farmington (20:25) during the first mile before making her move.

"I was looking to pass their number one girl," McNeilance said. "After the first mile I was third. I knew they would try to go out fast. We could guess so."

Farmington, which lost its first dual meet of the year to Stevenson on Tuesday at Oakland Community College, 21-37, put forth a fine showing.

Behind Grimaldi for the Falcons was Kate Adams, ninth; Ellen Adams, 11th; Theresa Derwinski, 14th; Amie Cameron, 15th; and Natalie Dawson, 20th. (Stevenson's sixth runner, Jessica Cyburt, was 19th.)

"I'm pleased," Farmington coach Liz Zynda said. "We felt all six could medal. Ann (Grimaldi) has grown so much as a runner and the medals for the day go to Ellen Adams and Amie Cameron.

"Our goal was to get as close to Stevenson was we could. We scored 57 points and I'm proud of it. Stevenson is a good team. They wouldn't be tied for first (in the state rankings) if they weren't."

Farmington will also vie at the Buhr Park regional this Saturday.

"Farmington is a good cross country team and one of the bet-ter teams we've seen in the state," Holmberg said.

The Stevenson coach believes everything is in order for a run for the state crown

"Our long distance work is ba-sically done," he said. "We've established a fantastic base since June 19. I'm excited. We've had 10 good weeks of competition.

"Half of these girls are ninth and 10th-graders and I have to keep reminding them to stay se-

Bedford ran a strong race, finishing in the Nos. 3-5 range as Spitz expected, but overall Central and Salem simply have stronger teams this year.

"We don't go in saying 'We have to have all these things occur.' To beat teams, you have to outwork them.

Spitz sees a positive future for the Chiefs.

"For where our team is, I was very pleased with the way we ran today," he said. "We have a lot of guys coming back. This was a good learning experience. We'll put it to use over the next 12 months and see where we are next

Mid-Michigan winds blow Salem golfers off course

They didn't get blown out of the Michigan High School Athletic Association state golf championships, but under the weather conditions they might as well

Plymouth Salem's boys golf team carved a 334 out of a windy, rain-drenched Forest Akers course Friday at Michigan State University that was 12 shots shy of the score it took to advance to Saturday's final round.

"The guys did their best," coach Rick Wilson said of Salem's second straight trip to the state finals. "They were tough conditions.

'It was an honor to be there for the second year in a row. We expected to play a little better, but we didn't get it done. Still, the foundation is there for continued success at Salem.'

Livonia Churchill, Salem's

Western Lakes Activities Association rival, was in a 5-way tie for 12th at 327. Salem shared 18th with West Bloomfield.

Jeff Lear led the way for the Rocks with an 82, one stroke better than Ryan Deschaw, two shots up on Brian Fox and three better than the score posted by Mike Hjelmstad. Ryan Andrzejewski shot 97 but only the top four counted in the team total.

"On the brighter side," Wilson said, "Lear was my low scorer last year as a sophomore when he shot 80. Deschaw and Fox will be back also - and we've got some young kids that didn't make the finals trip who are coming back next

Despite the weather, it took a 76 or better for an individual to qualify for Saturday's round. Only the low 10 teams and the low 12 individuals (plus ties) adDUNT

"A lot of parents came up even though they knew the weather was bad," Wilson said. "Initially, it was raining quite hard. Then it got cold. Then it got windy.

"I'm not making excuses, but it was hard to maintain your focus. I was amazed at the way the kids handled themselves, their demeanor, the way the kept plugging along. It was amazing to see kids shoot those low scores in that weather.

"I thought we might have a shot at making the second round this year."

Junior guard Amanda Porter scored a game-high 17 points to lead the Falcons, who made seven of 13 free throws. Senior center Kim Washnock drew praise from Verdura after grabbing 15 rebounds and scoring nine points.

Shellye Sills had 14 points plus 10 rebounds while freshman Andrea Pruett scored 10 for Salem. The Rocks made three of four free

"Our kids hung in there, did a nice job defensively," Thomann said. "We made them play at a faster tempo than I think they wanted to play. Sills had a real big game for us.'

Salem improved to 10-4 overall and 6-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association. Farmington is 6-9 and 3-6.

"When you get in a game with Salem, Plymouth Canton or Walled Lake Central, the objective is just to play well," Verdura said. "We did and I was really pleased; we competed hard against them.

"We executed the offense better than we have in the other 14 games. We did things we haven't done, and we did it against a good team. That's the nice thing.

PLYMOUTH CHRISTIAN 46, FRANKLIN ROAD 35: An 18-point game by senior guard Lisa Erickson pushed Plymouth Christian Academy above .500 (8-7, 3-3 league).

A 14-8 first quarter got the ball rolling and the closest Southfield Franklin Road (5-8, 2-3) could come was four points in the second quarter. Plymouth Christian, which made 10-of-17 free throws, extended its lead to as much as 15 points in the second half.

Sarah Sumner contributed eight points and eight rebounds while Kristine Zedan chipped in nine points. Franklin Road got 14 points from Dana O'Dell.

The women's voileyball team at Madonna University hit one Thursday when Tri-State (Ind.) slowed the Lady Crusaders, defeating them 16-18, 15-10, 15-13. 4-15. 15-10.

Julie Martin (Livonia Stevenson) paced Madonna's attack with 23 kills, six more than Kelly McCausland (Redford Union). Karen Sisung had 11.

Martin, McCausland and Sisung combined for 15 blocks. Setter Meg Paris had 55 assists.

Overall, the Lady Crusaders converted just one-third of their kills, 69 of 207.

Ocelots trim Ford

Tracy Sledz (Livonia Clarencville) and Michelle MacRae recorded 20 kills apiece as the Ocelots improved to 19-15 overall and 7.2 in league play.

Jamie Clark (Livonia Churchill) had 43 digs and Sarah Fabirbiewicz (Livonia Churchill) had six as Schoolcraft rallied from a 9-1 deficit in the second set to win. The Ocelots squandered a 13-6 lead in the third set.

Andrea Greer (Livonia Franklin) did a great job of setting," coach Tom Teeters said. "She got the ball to all the spots.

The victory guaranteed Schoolcraft second place in the league. Macomb CC was also 7-2 while Mott CC was 6-3 and Henry Ford 5-4. The Ocelots hosted five other teams in their own invitational Saturday - Windsor, Delta, Oakland CC, Lansing and Kalamazoo Valley.

If you are an Engineer/Software Designer, trained and experienced in Embedded Systems Software Design, Ford has opportunities for you to become a member of our Powertrain Controls Community in Dearborn, Michigan. We are involved in all aspects of engine and transmission control systems, including software, control strategy, systems, controllers, modeling, CAE, etc.

This position is for a Software Designer with the following qualifications:

Bachelor's in CS, EE or ME required. Master's preferred. (Experience and other relevant training may be substituted for advanced degree). Experience in real time assembly code required. Prefer experience working with Intel 8061, 8065, or 80196 family — other micro-processors can be substituted. Knowledge of C preferred. Experience with a higher level of language desirable.

Knowledge of I May 244

language desirable.
Knowledge of UNIX, VMS and PCs is an asset.
Training and/or experience with structured methods or CASE desirable.
Experience working in a team environment on large software projects desirable.
Automotive experience is desirable as is knowledge of sensors, actuators, control theory, microprocessor architecture, engines, transmissions, etc.

We offer opportunities for personal and professional growth, excellent salary and benefits packages, and the opportunity to become a member of the Ford Powertrain Electronics team.

Ford Motor Company employees on layoff who meet these qualifications should contact their local Personnel Activity for information on how to apply for this position. Let your experience take you into the future with Ford Motor Company. For immediate consideration, please fax your typed resume (including home, telephone, number), to: Attn: DVB, Dept. 0E1023, at (313) 594-9988. WANTS YOU' CNAs, LPNs

At Henry Ford Health System, we were working toward a new image of health care before health care reform was even an issue. Since 1915, we have grown into a network of owned/affiliated hospitals, ambulatory care centers, and 24-hour emergency facilities. As a result, we have become known as The System to watch. But don't just watch us. Join us. Because we have the prestige and the resources to advance your career as:

VICE PRESIDENT, PUBLIC AFFAIRS

Reporting to the Senior VP of Planning and Strategic Development, you'll be responsible for the development and implementation of all com-munications and marketing programs. We'll rely munications and marketing programs. We'll rely on you to monitor perceptions of various audiences, devise strategies to achieve recommended goals, supervise the public affairs department, and serve as consultant to the business unit of Public Relations offices. You'll also manage media relations, including acting as spokesperson when necessary. Candidates must be guided by a compelling "client/customer" orientation, as well as possess strong management skills, a Bachelor's degree in Public Relations, Communications or a related field, and 10-15 years' experience in public affairs (including at least 3 years as a senior public affairs executive); a Master's degree is preferred.

For prompt consideration, please forward your resume to: Henry Ford Health System, Dept. DE-PA, One Ford Place, Suite 4E, Detroit, MI 48202. AA/EOE.

Suzuki Samurai:

Fun on the cheap

By Anne Fracassa Avanti NewsFeatures

Unique, bare bones, fourwheel-drive and fun to drive

And it has an option someone like me would be stupid not to have A rugged, powerful. 1.500-pound capacity. front-bumper-mounted winch with a 25-foot cable

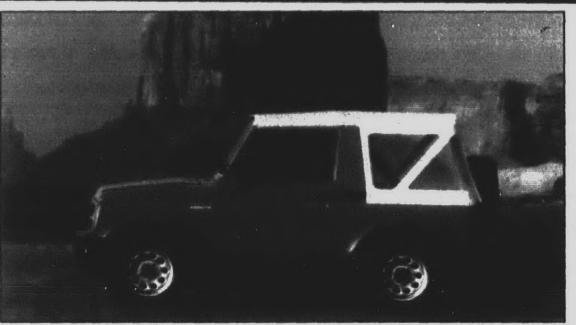

Surely the winch could get me out of any stuck in themud off-roading adventure while I'm dressed in my Sunday best, right?

The new Suzuki Samurai never provides a dull moment in everyday driving experiences. Nearing a decade on US soil, the Samurai isn't cheap on performance, yet is cheap with its $10,000 range sticker price Find a better price for a sport utility 4X4 and you should buy it

The Samurai has a 13 liter, electronically fuel-injected, four-cylinder inline, four-stroke cycle, water-cooled, overhead cam engine that promises a top-66 horsepower at 6000 rpm.

A bit of a problem with acceleration in rush-hour highway situations, but tooling around the city, the Samurai takes care of itself

It isn't usually the first vehicle away from the light, but keep in mind that it gets 28 mpg in the city, 29 mpg on the highway That means for a little over $30, you're getting 300 or so miles on a tank of gas.

Quite a value and a terrific bargain for any four-wheeldrive enthusiast.

Coupled with a five-speed manual transmission, the Samurai behaves nicely when shifting. The long-throw is not that easy to get used to, but by the second or third day, shifting will become second nature. Long-throw shifts can sometimes be a pain, this one isn't. Suzuki says in its press material that its new leafspring suspension on the Samurai provides "a comfortable, yet sturdy ride." Comfortable? No. Sturdy? Well, if you enjoy feeling every pebble in the roadway, this baby's

But isn't that what a sport utility is all about? The ride's rough. But rough is what you expect from an SUV, right?

Instrumentation is easy to read and simple to understand. All controls, from heating/cooling to stereo radio, are easy to reach and within grasp of the steering wheel.

Standard equipment includes the deluxe canvas top, Halogen headlamps, dual sport mirrors, tripmeter, two-speed intermittent windshield wipers and four-wheel-drive indicator

The Samurai tested had a removable canvas top. I tried to remove it. It proved to be worth. On the freeway, the top of Avanti NewsFeatures flapped wildly in the wind even all sealed up - and I could barely hear the stereo even at full zip.

The best part of the Samurai is outfitting it for your personal needs. Here are a few of the accessories available: Chrome wheels, front bra/mask, chrome front guards, automatic free wheel hubs, off road lamps, lamps, surf/sailboard carrier, ski carrier, luggage rack, hatchback removable hardtop, bikini top and boot, tenneau cover, altimeter/inclinometer, a host of stereo systems and plush mats

All in all, if you're looking for a great value in a small sport utility vehicle, the Samurai is the one for you.

But if you can afford a higher-priced 4X4, you'd be disappointed if you opted for this more trouble than it was Anne Fracassa is senior editor

Heed Hot Tips For Cold-Weather Driving

(NAPS) Is your vehicle ready for winter? Take it to a professional tailgate security box, fog mechanic or take a few minutes to look it over to make sure, suggests Shell Motorist Club (SMC). Here's what SMC recommends.

Check the battery for loose cables and light-colored terminal corrosion.

Replenish oil, antifreeze, windshield wiper solvent, power steering and brake fluids as necessary

Replace windshield wiper blades if they don't clean properly.

· Check tires for proper inflation and tread.

· Inspect lights and turn signals

· Join an automobile club. Members have peace of mind knowing that the cost of tows or road service calls is covered in their membership dues.
