Recreation fee spat brewing

City and township officials are locked in a dispute over recreation fee increases. A city move to hike fees has met opposition from township officials. A meeting is scheduled.

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

The recreation fee increase approved by city commissioners for Plymouth Township residents has been put on hold, as township trustees want to talk about it.

But while city officials agreed to placing increases on hold, their comments suggest that the fee increases could ultimately stand.

City Manager Steve Walters said the new city fiscal year budget which took effect July 1 depended on increased fees to fund the recreation department.

"So when you talk about rescinding the non-resident fee increases at this stage you're talking about having to find a replacement for that amount of money," Walters said around $180,000.

He said another solution could involve eliminating some recreation programs.

In a letter to city Mayor Ron Loiselle, township Supervisor Kathleen Keen McCarthy said, "Plymouth Township has been instrumental in obtaining the use of the three soccer fields, along with the fact that we treat city residents as residents of the township in their use of our township park and golf course."

These factors should be considered, McCarthy said, in an ultimate decision on raising recreation fee rates for Plymouth Township residents.

"In addition, we do provide $6,000 annually to assist in the costs of the Council on Aging, which sponsors many of the senior citizen programs," McCarthy said. She's suggested that township and city representatives meet to find a creative alternative to raising township residents recreation fees.

A meeting is scheduled July 15 with city Mayor Ron Loiselle, Commissioner Doug Miller and City Manager Steve Walters, and repre-

More lines cut in cable television wars

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

Because Plymouth was getting two competing cable companies, they said customers would benefit from the competition.

But complaints are continuing about installers who mistakenly cut other lines buried in the ground.

Fred Swan of Beck Road in Plymouth Township said his phone service was down for nearly a week this month, after an Ameritech-New Media cable TV company crew mistakenly cut his Ameritech phone line.

"What gets me going is Ameritech put this new cable in for my TV, and cut my phone cable five times, then they had their installer repair it," Swan said.

"When they put it in the ground it shorted out. They don't call Miss Dig, then when you want them to repair it they wonder what's your hurry. What I don't like was their attitude," he said.

Swan said the attitude was especially galling because he worked for Michigan Bell, which became Ameritech.

Swan said the Ameritech representative he talked to in Southfield "wouldn't even give me their name. They put you on hold for 15 minutes and then tell you their supervisor is not in."

"I called their headquarters in Chicago and they were kind of upset," he said.

"What I don't like is what if I had a heart attack or a burglar, what would I have done?" Swan added.

He said he talked to one installer who said several other houses in the area also lost phone service due to cable crews cutting phone lines. At

New manager: Paula Winkler-Doman is one of the new generation of Ford plant managers. She is taking over that job at the Sheldon Road Plant.

New generation takes over at plant

BY JEFF COUNTS
STAFF WRITER

In the old days, chances were the manager of a Ford Motor Co. plant was a male engineer.

But all that is changing at Ford. And that became apparent last week when Paula Winkler-Doman was appointed manager of the auto maker's Sheldon Road Plant in Plymouth.

"I'm one of four women plant managers," said Winkler-Doman, 43, whose background is in law and psychology, not engineering.

"It used to be that people came up in the chimney system and stayed in their area," she said. "There's a big emphasis on diversity."

She said Ford wants to use people better to break down that old chimney system.

"They want the top leadership cross-trained," she said, adding that provides more opportunity for people.

Also, she said it's part of a new openness at Ford.

Since she didn't become the plant manager by taking a traditional path, she said she spends much of her 60 hours a week at work on the plant floor.

"That's where you really learn what's going on," she said. "Those people know the job better than anybody else."

The Sheldon Road Plant, which opened in 1967, employs more than 2,000 people, making it one of Plymouth's larger employers, with workers coming from much of western Wayne County, such as Canton Township.

The plant manufactures heater cores, radiators, injection-molded housings and assemblies, and air conditioning and heater units.

The products go into almost all Ford and Lincoln-Mercury vehicles.

Since the plant is a parts supplier, there is pressure on it to be competitive.

"Our entire system is under pressure because the market says they

Art in Park only one of week's events

The 16th Annual Art in the Park event tops a list of events in downtown Plymouth this week.

"The greatest thing about this year is our streetscape is done," said Dianne Quinn, organizer and founder of the art show.

But Art in the Park isn't the only thing happening downtown. A new poetry event will coincide with the art show, and music is also happening downtown.

Here's a quick look at the events:

• Art in the Park, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. The event features pottery, stained glass, paintings, photography, wearable art and jewelry, sculpture and woodwork. While the larger Ann Arbor Art Fair gets more notoriety, plenty of art fans will tell you Plymouth's, with nearly 400 artists, is more fun.

The Plymouth event benefits by its proximity in time and location to the Ann Arbor fair. Some top artists coming to Ann Arbor also choose Plymouth as it's on the way.

"In Ann Arbor they have more than four shows going on at one time," Quinn explained. "This is all controlled by one person who has an overview of all the artists and what's going on," she said. One of the featured artists this year is Hilda Rindom, known for her large oil paintings. She designed the official Art in the Park post card.

After 16 years, is Quinn getting tired of running this thing? "No, I love it, I'm more excited about this one than others, it's more organized than ever," she said. The art displays are placed through the entire downtown retail area, along Forest, Ann Arbor Trail, Main and Penniman.

There will be live entertainers performing throughout the event, a variety of food and refreshments, and a double-decker English bus will shuttle event-goers from their cars to downtown.

• Poetry Crawl, from 2-7 p.m. Saturday: This event will feature live performances of poetry around the downtown during Art in the Park.

The main stage in Kellogg Park tops the list of performance venues. Others are the Coffee Studio, Uncle Frank's Coney Island Restaurant, the Harvest Moon Cafe, Native West, The Serenity Shop and the Sweet Afton Tea Room.

Organizer Rod Reinhart, who founded the Plymouth Poets group two years ago, is among the poets scheduled to read at the Poetry Crawl. This summer the Plymouth Poets meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursdays at the Plymouth Coffee Bean Co. for open microphone sessions and to feature noted poets.

While invited poets are scheduled to perform at the Poetry Crawl, others can sign in from 1-4 p.m. Saturday at the Coffee Studio to participate.

• Kids concert: The City of Plymouth Parks & Recreation Department will present Marc Thomas & Max the Moose 1 p.m. Friday, July 12, at the Plymouth Cultural Center. The cost is $2 for adults, and $1 for children. Children participate through movement and musical activities bringing to life the magical world of Marc's music. Puppet friend Max the Moose offers his own kind of giddy moose fun. It is recommended that tickets be purchased in advance at the Recreation department as seating is limited. For information, 455-6620.

• Plymouth Community Band concert: The band will perform outdoors at 8 p.m. Thursday in Kellogg Park. A variety of music is performed in the ongoing Thursday concert series including marches, show tunes, easy listening, overtures, waltzes, and big band music. The concerts are free.

Parking changes: Easing of the parking credit system used in Plymouth is seen as a way to attract more restaurants.

Parking change to pave way for restaurants

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

To encourage restaurant development downtown, city commissioners on July 1 acted to extend a parking credit moratorium through Dec. 31.

The parking credit moratorium means restaurant developers who want to come to Plymouth won't have to pay thousands of dollars extra.

In past years, the city government required an extra payment if a prospective restaurant owner couldn't provide enough on-site parking.

The requirement was scaring some restaurants away. And downtown business leaders said that was bad for the business community and ultimately for taxpayers because attracting restaurants would spark business growth downtown.

City commissioners voted to extend the moratorium in hopes the city government can negotiate with downtown property owners to keep developers from building on existing downtown lots.

That way, if the business climate remains good downtown, businesses will be prevented from building on their parking lots and eliminating parking spaces.

"We're still negotiating," said Mayor Ron Loiselle. One major lot the city is seeking agreement on is behind businesses on the west side of Forest Avenue downtown.

Should talks to allow the city to control most downtown lots fail, "Ultimately we could go back to the old parking credit system, that's probably the least desirable of the alternatives," Loiselle said.

In 1992, the city commission set a parking credit policy by which $4,300 is to be paid for each parking space credit. The number of parking spaces per restaurant is determined by available seating, which suggests parking spaces required.

In theory, the money then goes into a fund to create parking spaces downtown.

To head off returning to this system, Loiselle said representatives from the city government and downtown landlords have talked six to eight times in the last four weeks.

Loiselle said the best option for the city government would be to buy the lots. Other acceptable alternatives would be deeding the lots to the city-as gifts — and the city would then be responsible for upkeep — or allowing the city to lease the lots, to keep them from being developed.

If the city government was able to control the Forest Avenue lot, it would also be able to build a deck there in the future, if needed, Loiselle said.

Another potential site for a parking deck is the lot adjacent to the Dunning-Hough Library, Loiselle said, adding the central parking deck is constructed to accommodate a third level, if deemed necessary.

Should city officials be able to control the Forest Avenue lot, plans call for extensive landscaping and redrawing of parking spaces, to create more spaces.

can't afford our product," she said, adding that one of the biggest challenges in her job is to convince workers to be more competitive.

"We have some workers here who have been here 25 to 30 years and don't want to change," she said.

"The best job insurance is to be competitive."

She said she is trying to get employees to work together.

"We don't want a near death experience to shake us up. We need to do something before that happens," she said.

Because of that competitiveness in the auto parts industry, she said there "is a lot of fear" that the plant is going to close.

"There's no truth to that. Because I'm a lawyer, there were rumors in the plant that I was here to close it down. It's not true," she said.

In fact, there is renovation work going on at the plant.

"We're painting and improving the lighting. People work better in a good environment," she said.

One of the biggest challenges this year will be contract negotiations. This is the year in which the UAW is negotiation with auto makers and local plant issues will need to be resolved.

"I want to improve relations with the union and find a way to work things out. We'll be opening local contract negotiations soon," she said.

Local issues at the plant often revolve around who can do what on the job and overtime.

She succeeds Cliff Dawson, who becomes manager of Manufacturing Subsystems Integration and Manufacturing Process Support to the company's Automotive Components Division. He had been plant manager of the Sheldon Road Plant since 1994.

Winkler-Doman joined Ford in 1977 as a staff attorney in the Office of General Counsel. She held positions within several areas of the office, including litigation, regulatory and financing and securities before moving to the Business Planning Office for the Automotive Group in 1990.

In 1992, she became manager, Business and Strategic Planning Office for the then Electronics Division and was appointed manager, Marketing, Sales and Strategic Planning Office for the division in 1993.

She was born May 30, 1953, in St. Paul, Minn., and holds a bachelor's degree in psychology/sociology from Michigan State University Honors College in East Lansing. Also, she holds a law degree from the University of Minnesota Law School in Minneapolis and is a member of the Michigan Bar Association.

As plant manager, she said she wants to become involved in the Plymouth community. She has been active with the Plymouth Scholarship Ball, to which Ford donates a scholarship.

But when not running an auto plant, she spends time with her three children.

"I'm at their soccer games," she said.

sending the township McCarthy and trustees Ron Griffith and Charles Curmi.

When the subject of township opposition to increased recreation fees was raised before city commissioners July 1, some scoffed at McCarthy's argument.

"She's going to try to pick them apart," Loiselle said, referring to recreation budget numbers.

"I think she's grandstanding," said City Commissioner Joe Koch, adding the township makes significant profit on its golf course.

City commissioners approved raising recreation fees for non residents last month, as a way to help balance the city budget and pay for a needed street repair program. Their action, now on hold, would raise fees for non city residents registering for soccer by $20 per player.

The average price to take a class at the Plymouth Cultural Center - $30 for city residents - was slated to rise to $70 for non residents.

Softball fees for non residents were slated to rise from $15 to $45 per player. Hockey fees for non residents were not slated to rise.

Area lawmakers say yes to trial court reform

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

"Go slow," Democrats warned as legislative Republicans pushed for trial court reform. Republicans took the advice, taking two steps July 3 and paving the way for more massive steps in the fall.

The Legislature:

- Voted to abolish Detroit Recorder's Court effective Oct. 1, 1997, "grandfathering" its 29 judges as Wayne Circuit Court judges and requiring them to run countywide when seeking reelection.

For the first time in history, Michigan will have a uniform, statewide trial court system. Detroit no longer will be the only one of 271 Michigan cities with a separate criminal court. The law also blocks the Supreme Court from again shifting all suburban criminal cases to Detroit judges and juries.

- Established a uniform funding formula based on caseload. For a few outstate counties, it may be a windfall. Wayne County and Detroit are "held harmless," meaning they can't lose state aid through the end of fiscal 2001. Court employees' benefits also are protected.

Lawmakers must wait until a fall session beginning Sept. 10 to decide whether to:

- Establish a "family court" division of circuit court. It would involve transferring most of the powers of probate court and a few to district court.

- Place HJR S, a massive amendment to the judicial article of the Michigan Constitution, on the ballot. As drafted, it would establish a single "trial court," abolishing probate and district courts. Court borders would be county lines, but counties could have "election districts," meaning Detroit and the suburbs could be able to elect their "own" judges.

If adopted by voters, it will be the most massive change in state court history, surpassing the abolition of non-lawyer justices of the peace in the 1960s.

Engler prods

Gov. John Engler remained silent on the issue during the House-Senate conference committee's week of negotiations and the Legislature's two-day session.

Although legal reformers long sought the package of change, Engler precipitated it by (1) threatening to veto new judgeships in Oakland County, Farmington, the Northville-Plymouth-Canton area and Ypsilanti Township in 1994 and (2) actually vetoing more court funding this year until court reform took place.

"Reform," to supporters, means more ability to shift judges across jurisdictional and geographical boundaries. "A judge is a judge is a judge," in the words of House Judiciary Chair Michael Nye, R-Litchfield.

Key player: James Ryan, R-Redford, was a key member of the conference committee, guarding funding for the Wayne County courts and employees' status.

How they voted

Senate Republican stumbled when three of their 22 members missed the session - including Robert Geake of Northville. The bill failed on a 19-16 party-line vote with 20 needed for passage.

It was the second time Geake a 19-year senator with a nearly perfect attendance record, missed a court reform vote. An aide said Geake had a church camp commitment July 2 but changed it to July 3 when the one-day session was called. Majority leader Dick Posthumus, R-Alto, extended the session a day. Geake's aide said the senator couldn't break the July 3 commitment.

A month earlier, when the Senate Judiciary Committee took a key vote to report the reform bill out of committee, Geake attended a safety conference and had to be replaced on the committee so the GOP could have a majority to report out the bills.

On second try, the Senate passed the key bill with a 23-12 vote as four Democrats crossed over: Chris Dingell of Trenton, Art Miller of Warren, Ken DeBeaussart of Macomb County and Don Koivisto of Ironwood.

All other senators voted with their parties except the three absentees.

The House vote was 70 to 33 with six not voting. Voting yes were 51 Republicans and 19 Democrats. Voting no were 33 Democrats.

Observer Reps

Here is how local members voted:

OBSERVER:
Yes - Lyn Banks, R-Redford, Eileen DeHart, D-Westland, Tom Kelly, D-Wayne, Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, Jim Ryan, R-Redford, Deborah Whyman, R-

Cariton.

Ryan was a key member of the conference committee, guarding funding for the Wayne County courts and employees' status. Whyman was a lightning rod for black lawmakers' wrath for her championing of abolishing Recorder's Court.

Debate brief

Debate was relatively brief and was confined to party spokesmen because no amendments are allowed on a conference committee report.

Senate Judiciary Chair William VanRegenmorter, R-Hudsonville, said, "I fully expect the family court bills will be passed when we take them up in September."

"Recorder's Court is abolished. Its uniqueness isn't the issue. It's not as efficient as it could be. Wayne County (suburban) voters can't vote for Recorder's Court judges. The judges will hear cases countywide and run countywide."

"A constitutional amendment will be considered, but it's not part of any agreement."

VanRegenmorter credited Wayne County senators Chris Dingell, D-Trenton, Robert Geake, R-Northville, and Loren Bennett, R-Canton, with being "effective spokesmen for their constituents" on Wayne County court funding.

"There's not a lot of reform in this bill," said Dingell. "My role has been damage control... making it less odious."

Dingell said the bill sets up a 23-member commission to assess court cases on their difficulty with a goal of reallocating court resources.

In the House, Rep. Ted Wallace, D-Detroit, sounded like a suburbanite when he said twice the Supreme Court had been "wrong - no defense" in putting Detroit Recorder's Court in charge of all Wayne County criminal cases for nearly 19 years, adding, "But the Supreme Court has corrected that."

Rep. Michael Nye, R-Litchfield, House Judiciary chair who headed the conference committee, said, "Unification is a process that has been going on for a long time."

"When I started as a lawyer, we had justices of the peace. When they were abolished, some said, 'Migosh, we're losing control; this is a terrible thing'..."

"We've had battles in the counties about who's in control (of court budgets). The judges are going to fight this, no matter what. We say to the judges, 'You can hire and fire,' but the counties will handle the money."

The "family court" bills are Senate Bills 1052, 1054 and 1055. The constitutional amendment to establish a single "trial court" is House Joint Resolution S. Refer to bill numbers when writing to your legislators, State Capitol, Lansing 48909.

Job fair planned July 12 for military vets

Detroit area military veterans who are looking for jobs will have a chance to meet with area employers who have openings to fill at a job fair July 12.

The fair, which is open to military veterans only, will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the U.S. Army Reserve Center, 300th M.P. Command, 3200 Beech-Daly in Inkster.

"We expect about 40 area employers will be participating in the fair," F. Robert Edwards, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, said.

"And they'll be trying to find good applicants for a wide range of openings."

Edwards said he expects many private employers as well as several municipal and state agencies will be recruiting for workers at the fair.

Veterans who would like to attend the fair can register at their local MESC Job Service office or at the door. The fair is free.

"Any veteran coming to the fair should bring many copies of their resume, and they should be ready to interview with any of the employers," Maria Wood, manager of MESC's Dearborn office, said. Wood is coordinating MESC's involvement in the job fair.

MESC, the American Legion and the U.S. Army Reserve are co-sponsoring the job fair, which is being held in conjunction with the American Legion's state conference in Dearborn from July 12-14.

The conference keynote speaker Preston Taylor, assistant secretary of Veterans Employment and Training for the U.S. Department of Labor, will also participate in the job fair's opening ceremonies at 9 a.m.

Taylor oversees all Labor Department veterans' employment and training services, re-employment rights and employment and advancement opportunities with federal contractors.

Commission denies golf cart contract

A contract to buy 140 new golf carts for the county-owned Warren Valley Golf Course didn't get enough votes for approval by the Wayne County Commission last week.

The $382,175 contract with Club Car Inc. of Livonia would have bought 140 new golf carts and included a five-year maintenance agreement for the carts for the Warren Valley Golf Course in Dearborn Heights.

The plan would have replaced the 110 carts at the course, according to golf manager Ray Glenn. All of those carts are six years old and require spending $6,000 out of the golf course budget for maintenance, Glenn said.

"It's not cost efficient to continue using the carts we have," Glenn said.

Also, more carts are needed because the nights leagues play the carts run out by 5:30 or 6 p.m., he said.

Cart rentals are also a "major revenue producer" as each cart generates $2,300 a year, he said.

COUNTY NEWS

The contract needed eight votes for approval, but failed on a 7-4 vote, when two commissioners were out of the room and two were absent.

Local commissioners Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, and Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township, voted no, while Vice Chair Kay Beard, D-Westland, voted yes. Commissioner Michelle Plawewski, who represents Redford Township and part of Livonia, was absent.

Gypsy moths

Commissioners last week approved a resolution in support of continued federal funding of the gypsy moth spraying program.

"The problem is creating a panic situation among some home and woodland owners in Wayne County," according to the resolution sponsored by Commissioner Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township. Many other commissioners added their names as sponsors during the meeting.

Gypsy moths infest wooded areas and strip trees of their foliage. Treatment includes spraying a pesticide during the spring. Michigan State University through the Cooperative Extension program conducts a spraying program.

Gypsy moth spraying was conducted in May in Livonia and several other areas of the county, but residents in other parts of the county, such as Van Buren and Sumpter townships, have also reported a problem.

New signals

A contract for the installation of side-of-street flashing light signals, half-roadway gates and constant warning time devices at the railroad tracks of CSX Transportation at Eckles Road in Livonia was approved last week.

Commissioners approved a

Michigan Department of Transportation contract between MDOT, the county, and the city of Livonia. The signals won't cost the county, according to the CEO's office.

Video arraignments

A program which is designed to speed up arraignments, allow for more officers on the streets and offer better services for victims of crime was approved last week by the Wayne County Commission.

A memorandum of understanding between Wayne County, the Detroit Police Department, and the 36th District Court will begin a program of video arraignments and conferencing.

A $175,000 grant will implement the program.

The plan went to the Detroit City Council for approval after it left the commission.

CAPITOL CAPSULES

You can't be sued if you provide true information during insurance fraud investigations under a new state law.

Public Act 229 of 1996 protects companies and employees who uncover insurance fraud from "the chilling effect lawsuits have had on anti-fraud efforts," said Dale Robertson, of Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Michigan. "Even when acting in good faith, we get sued," he said. Since 1980 the agency has recovered $44 million and prevented the loss of approximately $81 million.

The act was sponsored by Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, vice-chair of the House Insurance Committee.

Condo tax break

All condominium owners would pay property taxes at homeowner rates rather than commercial rates under a House-passed bill waiting action this fall in the Senate.

Rep. Dan Gustafson, R-

Williamston, is sponsor and Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, co-sponsor, of House Bill 5706, aimed at correcting what they call a glitch in the Proposal A reforms approved by voters in 1994. The package calls for taxing homes at 6 mills and business property at 24 mills.

Most condo owners pay the 6-mill rate, but tenants who did not own stock were denied the tax break, Law said. "One word seems to be causing all the problems. This legislation changes the wording from 'stockholder' to 'owner' and ensures that everyone gets the exemptions they're entitled to," said Law. HB 5706 is in the Senate Finance Committee.

Kudos to Doctoroff

Chief Judge Martin M. Doctoroff of the state Court of Appeals has been nominated for an award to the Foundation for Improvement of Justice in Carrollton, Ga.

Doctoroff, of Birmingham, and William B. Murphy, chief judge pro tem, were nominated by state attorney general Frank Kelley for reducing the appellate court's backlog from 5,000-plus cases and a three-year wait to less than 1,400 cases and a one-year wait.

Voters in 1994 approved a constitutional amendment eliminating an automatic right of appeal for convicts who plead guilty. The court was expanded from 18 to 24 judges. Circuit judges were assigned to sit on all three-member appellate panels, expanding the number of working appellate judges to 36.

Kelley said he nominated Doctoroff and Murphy in a category called "Speeding the Process." The Foundation for Improvement of Justice is a private, non-profit institution founded in 1985 to improve federal and state justice systems in the United States.

Traffic report

Michigan State Police report: Traffic fatalities were up 8 percent in 1995 - 1,537 deaths versus 1,419 in 1994. It was the second annual increase in a row.

Safety belt use is creeping up and is now at 69 percent. But 58 percent of fatalities involved people who failed to use seat belts. "Clearly, our most aggressive and at-risk drivers are not buckling up," said Betty Mercer, director of the Office of Highway Safety Planning.

Drunk driving arrests increased in 1995 to 59,484, up 7.8 percent over the previous year. An anti-drunk driving campaign and more troopers on the road were credited for helping the increase. Of those arrested, 83.4 percent were male. Nearly one in five arrests occurred as the result of a traffic crash.

SHOPPING CENTERED

Patricia Daunis

Designer's jewels are fancy and fun

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
SPECIAL WRITER

I've always wondered, "How much jewelry is too much?"

I got the chance to put it to an expert recently when internationally recognized jewelry designer Patricia Daunis met with shoppers at Orin Jewelers, Garden City and Northville.

Daunis said she studied people in order to create jewelry enhancing the wearer. She arrived wearing gold earrings, necklace, bracelet, lapel pin, a ring on each hand, and a 14K gold spider ($219) pinned on the cuff of one sleeve.

"If you're having fun, who cares how much jewelry you're wearing?" she laughed. "What drives me crazy is when women say, 'All my jewelry is locked up in a vault.'"

Daunis, 44, is a three-time winner of the World Gold Council Awards, DeBeer's Diamonds Today Design Award and the Jewelers of America Jewel Award. She's been designing jewelry for 15 years.

According to Daunis, a Rhode Island School of Design graduate, a woman should choose jewelry based on her face shape, body type, hair style and personality. When consulting with a customer, Daunis asks what type of image her customer is trying to convey. Is she tall or short? What types of earrings has she worn in the past? What style of clothing does she wear? What colors, fabrics, does she prefer?

Before sitting down to design jewelry in her Maine studio, Daunis "tears pages from fashion magazines such as W and Vogue because clothes and jewelry must work together." On this occasion, Daunis wore a shawl-collared brown suit with a plain cocoa blouse without detail to provide a clean, unconflicting canvas for her accessories.

"Jewelry should be part of your whole story. Good earrings call attention to your eyes and mouth.

A basic rule of thumb is a rounder face goes with a longer style earring, a longer face with a rounder earring. Short-haired women shouldn't wear drop style earrings while women with longer hair should," she advised.

"Concentrate on elements that make you special or beautiful and then accent them. Don't get sucked into trends," she continued. "Wear less jewelry if you dress in prints. Consider the weight of the jewelry. Avoid wearing large, bold jewelry unless you are tall or have strong features and utilize only one or two pieces at a time."

"The biggest mistake women make is not wearing jewelry. Most women have a sense of what looks good on them. I like jewelry I can just put on, dress it up or down, and it will carry me through the day."

Versatility is key to Daunis' designs. She strives to incorporate movement and light in each piece. She avoids producing hard edges believing curving shapes interplay with the human body fitting into its niches. Nature is a major inspiration. Daunis' sculptural 14K gold Bay of Fundy earrings ($570) were actually created to mirror the wave-action of water in the Norway bay.

"That's the magic making. My designs are soft because metal is hard," she pointed out. "Good jewelry is site specific sculpture. Your ear is very three dimensional. The earring should relate to that part of the body without overwhelming it."

Daunis' new collection, carried by independent retailers from New York to California and Japan, features a woven pattern that goes back to her roots. Originally, she planned to study architecture then switched to textile design. Rather than take a weaving class requiring tremendous amounts of patience, Daunis again changed directions this time to metalsmithing and sculpture. After receiving a bachelor of fine arts degree from one of the top art schools in the country, Daunis started her own wholesale/retail jewelry and holloware business in the basement of her home.

Fash Bash is the beacon of fall

Metro Detroit's first look at fall fashion is the annual benefit for the DIA, Hudson's Fash Bash at the Fox Theatre. Here's a preview of what's in store for the July 31 happening.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Coats made of rubber, girl's jumpers of vinyl printed with holo-grams, velvet dinner jackets for guys, and lycra body suits are a few of the fashion highlights from Hudson's 27th Fash Bash to benefit the Detroit Art Institute, Wednesday, July 31 at the Fox Theatre.

Samples of the season: Pleather coats, vinyl jumpers and boots made for walking debut at Fash Bash.

And if those descriptions don't have you scratching your head, throw in a guest appearance by RuPaul, described by M.A.C. cosmetics as "the First Face of M.A.C. - A beautiful person who happens to be 7 feet tall, a black man, a gorgeous woman, and certainly a goddess."

Also set to entertain are Francine Roche (performing emotional interpretations of French songs backed by violin, mandolin and accordion); Cynthia Johnson (performing her 1980 hit single "Funky Town"); Bob Scoggin (one-man band); and The Hornheads (a five-piece a cappella jazz/funk horn group).

The Minneapolis-based Ballet of the Dolls returns to present the fashions in seven scenes, complete with stage decoration, and this year, an interesting plot which could be titled "The Misadventures of Helen."

Fall fashion trends for the family are the focus of the production from black-tie apparel to sporting outdoor outfits. For the first time, items for the home will be incorporated into the show.

"The season's fashions get revved up by Simply Modern styles with an infusion of high-tech fabrics - both stretch and synthetics are important. These versatile fabrics are found in everything from tailored suits to body-conscious styles," said Mariana Keros, Hudson's director of trends.

"Modern translates into minimal-ist. Watch for leather pieces, zipper detailing, slim leg pants, boots, animal prints, peacoats, and for men, flat front narrow pants, and high V-neck knit vests."

Last year Fash Bash patrons produced $350,000 for the DIA. This year's goal is $400,000. The money is used for acquisitions and programs.

Fash Bash begins at 5 p.m. at the State Theatre with a private reception and live auction for Gold and Silver Patron ticket holders. At 5:30 p.m. the action moves down the street to the Fox Theatre where a cash bar opens. The hour-long fashion extravaganza takes the stage at 8 p.m.

RuPaul

The party continues at 9 p.m. with an Afterglow at both theatres, dancing and cash bar.

Ticket prices range from $150 (Gold Patron) to $25 for balcony seating. Tickets are available at the DIA ticket office (313) 833-2323; Ticketmaster and the Fox Theatre; The Fash Bash Hotline is (313) 833-0247.

Fun and new - that's Timbuktu

Safari looks: Exotic designs at Timbuktu are complimented by unique accessories for one-of-a-kind fashion presentation.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Timbuktu Station. The name conjures up thoughts of faraway places. Images of adventures. Women in exotic-looking clothing.

And that's exactly what's in store at the newest fashion boutique in downtown Birmingham.

"We have a lot of teachers and health professionals who like to shop at Timbuktu Station," said Mary Lynne Zagers, manager of both Michigan locations, 238 East Front Street in Traverse City and as of July, 235 Pierce in Birmingham. "Maybe it's because they appreciate our motto, 'Travel through life in comfortable clothes.'"

Zagers and company vice-president Sarah Seifert were in town recently to promote the Colorado-based retailer. Seifert's husband is CEO of the company which has two Colorado stores and two in Minnesota. The fashions are the exclusive creations of designer Cheryl Fleming whose collections according to Seifert, "dial into what matters."

"Cheryl doesn't watch high fashion, she watches what real people wear," Seifert explained. "And she's won a lot of converts to her clothing."

The collections are based on the travels of three fictitious characters: Tim, Buck and Tu, a dog who promotes earth-friendly, global issues through newsletters and store posters. When the trio travels to places like Belize,

New Zealand and the Greek Islands, the prints and colors of that collection reflect the spirit of those locales. (Ah, a built-in geography lesson, now we know why this store appeals to teachers!)

"We fill the casual business niche," said Zagers. "Our clothing is relaxed fit in three sizes - 1, 2 or 3 (small, medium and large.) We show lots of layering."

"Right now the fabrics are linen and linen/rayon blends. We also carry accessories like belts and hats, and gift items like journals, candles and books."

Seifert said the inspiration for the three-year-old company came from "the old Banana Republic mystique."

"We're located almost exclusively in downtowns," she said. "We believe in the small town feeling because what we merchandise besides great clothing, is a fun shopping experience. We had to be in downtown Birmingham, it's just so darn, cute! We've been waiting to open here for a long time."

Seifert said business has grown about 20 percent a month since the company was launched in 1993 with Buck's Big Shirt, a unisex item that "blew out of the stores."

If business continues to grow, watch for two or three more stores in Michigan and Colorado.

Geri Buckstrand of Birmingham said she couldn't wait for the store to open.

"We need more women's specialty stores in town," she said. "I'm anxious to see their styles and prices."

RAMCO/GERSHENSON ON STOCK EXCHANGE

In a series of unique transactions, share-holders of publicly-held mortgage Real Estate Investment Trust, (REIT) and RPS Realty Trust, approved the acquisition of Ramco-Gershenson, Inc. a privately-held shopping center development and management company, based in Southfield.

Ramco-Gershenson, with a portfolio of shopping center properties (including locally, Tel-Twelve Mall, Summit Place Mall, West Oaks I & II, Roseville Plaza, New Towne Plaza in Canton, Ferndale Plaza, Fraser Shopping Center, Clinton Valley Mall and Strip Center, and Lake Orion Plaza) transformed itself into an equity REIT with an established management team and combined assets valued at $280-million. The transaction enabled both companies to accomplish different but complementary strategies.

Dennis Gershenson, 52, is the newly-named president and CEO of Ramco-Gershenson Properties Trust. He said, "Twenty-two of the Ramco properties have become part of a public company with access to public capital markets. The REIT will now be able to improve its opportunity for growth by expanding its development and acquisition capability."

Of the five members of the Ramco-Gershenson Properties Trust management team, four are brothers who have worked together for the past 25 years. In addition to CEO Dennis, Joel Gershenson, 54, was named chairman, Richard Gershenson, 50, vice-president and secretary, Bruce Gershenson, 47, vice-president and treasurer.

Other team members include Michael Ward, 53, vice-president and chief operating officer, and Richard Smith, chief financial officer.

MALL DONATES TO CHARITIES

To commemorate its 20th Anniversary, the Lakeside Center in Sterling Heights has awarded a total of $100,000 to 20 Macomb County charitable, civic and social service organizations. Each awardee received $5,000 at a recent luncheon. Lakeside manager Michael Fenley said the grants were the mall's way of "giving back to the community that has supported the center for the last two decades."

New dean of centers likes the team spirit Schoolcraft offers

BY BETH SUNDRLA JACHMAN
STAFF WRITER

Scott Jenkins is a man with a plan.

During his 17 years working various jobs at General Motors, he went to school whenever he could fit it into his schedule to complete his degrees.

He knew he wanted to work in education, and it took years of work to reach his goals.

But as the newly appointed dean of College Centers at Schoolcraft College and with the expected completion of his doctorate in 1997, Jenkins is on his way to completing his plan.

He made the move into education when he went to work at Mott Community College where he most recently held the position of dean of continuing education.

As dean of college centers at Schoolcraft, he oversees Radcliff Center in Garden City and satellite centers in Plymouth and Canton Township.

Since starting his job in May, he has some ideas he'd like to explore. He sees a need to expand the daytime program at Radcliff, while the evening program is near capacity and expansion may be necessary at Garden City Junior High School, which is next to Radcliff Center. Radcliff already uses some space at the junior high.

He is also looking at expanding course offerings in Plymouth, where Schoolcraft offers classes at Plymouth Salem High School.

The college also offers classes at the Summit on the Park in Canton Township, and Jenkins is looking at expanding offerings there to include more general education classes.

Radcliff's weekend college is growing and an expansion of that program looms in the future.

Any additions, however, will be gradual as he thinks Schoolcraft has a good handle on the people it serves.

"I don't believe we would make any major changes for at least a year," Jenkins said.

At Mott, Jenkins held a job somewhat similar to his new position, but he estimates about 80 percent of it involved training programs and 20 percent degree programs.

His new job is approximately the opposite, with 80 percent degree students and 20 percent in training programs.

In addition to course offering, Jenkins is also seeing through a renovation program at Radcliff. Work is being done now to improve the overall appearance of Radcliff - repairs are being made on the roof, and other building renovations are being completed.

All the work is part of a renovation plan which began several years ago. Radcliff is a different place compared to what it was just two years ago, Jenkins said. It's all part of a major initiative to improve Radcliff's stature in the community, he said.

It's also part of a plan to get Radcliff up to higher education standards, he said. "We want to make sure the facility is as good as our instructors or better," he said.

Jenkins likes the residential setting at Radcliff, and he likes the metro Detroit area.

While he is still living in Flint, he and his wife are planning to make the move to the Detroit area soon.

Jenkins is a graduate student at Michigan State University,

New dean: Scott Jenkins, new dean of college centers at Schoolcraft College, started out as a hourly employee in security at GM. He worked his way through night school, earning bachelor's and master's degrees. He is currently working on his doctorate at Michigan State University.

where he is working on a doctorate in college and university administration.

He holds a master's degree from Central Michigan University in education administration and a bachelor's degree from University of Michigan-Flint in sociology and corrections.

At GM he started out as an hourly employee in security. He worked through five years of commuting to a GM plant in Lake Orion where he was a first line supervisor and general foreman.

His goal was to work for GM for 20 years while pursuing his education and then to change careers. "We always wanted to raise our kids in one area," he said. Once the kids were grown he was ready to make a move. He has three grown children, ages 22, 24 and 27.

His opportunity came three years early. "It was one of those things I'd always planned," he said.

Getting his education took persistence and time, he said. He took classes around his work schedule - at night when he worked days and during the day when he worked the third shift.

At one time he traveled from Flint to Mount Pleasant four nights a week to complete his degree.

He's busy now with a new job, school and moving, but he lists his hobbies as tennis, basketball, roller skating, pool, and family outings. He also plays a little golf, which he jokes he's heard he will be expected to play now that he works at Schoolcraft.

Team spirit is something he's noticed already, he said. "The support I've received since I came here has been outstanding," he said. Many people have offered their help, he said. "And it really hasn't been just talk - I've called and they've helped."

GIVE IT TWO MINUTES

It is estimated that three out of four adults have bacterial infection associated with gum disease due to a buildup of plaque. If the milky buildup of bacteria-laden plaque is not removed from the teeth each day with brushing, it produces toxins that cause bloody gums and bad breath. In time, the bacteria plaque will pull the gums away from the teeth to form pockets that will fill with more plaque to cause trouble nearer the bone. The good news is that it only takes a minimum of two minutes of brushing to clean teeth properly. Studies show, however, that the typical American brushes for 37 seconds. According to the American Dental Association's Council on Scientific Affairs, this inadequate brushing time results in teeth that still have some plaque left on them after cursory attempts at brushing. Because the bacteria need a full 24 hours to reorganize themselves, a minimum two-minute brush daily is all it takes to keep them at bay.

CHEF LARRY JANES

Stockpile staples for no sweat meals

With the volume of cookbooks, press releases, newsletters and other food news that continually crosses my desk, one can get pretty bogged down just trying to locate the ingredients for "Lobster Cakes with a Three Pepper Relish and Papaya Mayonnaise."

I don't cook like that, never have, and while there are times when I might have to prepare something fancy, I do it with reluctance. During the summer, the last thing I want to do is shop for exotic ingredients, pull out my good cookware, and slave over a hot stove, timing everything to the "nth" degree. I want something light, something fresh, something fast. When the temperature is hovering around 90 degrees F. I only want to break a sweat making lemonade or something that can be chilled and eaten two days later. The recipe should include ingredients that I already have on hand either in the refrigerator or pantry. If this sounds like I'm asking for too much, it should also be somewhat healthy. Sounds like top tall a request? Hardly.

When unexpected guests drop by, or I feel like dining on the patio with one bowl and a hunk of bread, I always think of how easy it is to make hummus, tapenade or a simple plate of tomatoes, mozzarella slices, chopped basil, and a drizzle of olive oil.

Sensational staples

A drained can of chick peas from the pantry, a dollop of tahini (sesame seed paste) from the refrigerator and a splash of lemon juice all thrown into the food processor makes a meal that can be dipped with vegetables, spread on flour tortillas, served with crackers or tortilla chips. If there are some roasted red peppers or the remnants of another bean dish in the refrigerator, I might become more creative and combine the flavors and textures. I've made hummus with navy beans, black beans, pinto beans and a combination of those beans, all with great tasting results. Everyone has a can of beans on their shelves, right?

Whenever I shop at those trendy markets like the Merchant of Vino, Vic's, Papa Joe's or the Long Lake Market, I always pick up a jar of pitted black Calamatta olives. Again, tossed into a food processor with a handful of capers (buy the bigger jars; it's cheaper and they last forever) and a healthy splash of olive oil and you can feel like a guest in your own kitchen. With the emergence of Italian delis flourishing on all sides of metro Detroit I can hardly wait for the tomatoes to ripen in my garden. Soothsayers say that although everything is three weeks behind, the warm, wet spring should bring forth a bumper crop for backyard gardeners. I've already picked fresh basil and ground it up with pine nuts, imported Parmesan cheese, garlic and olive oil for a pesto that gave a plain box of pasta new meaning.

I always keep a standing supply of burpable containers and tight fitting jars filled with bulgur wheat, couscous, barley and other grains. Cold salads are tossed together in the time it takes the grains to soak, about 15 minutes, they are not only nutritious, but taste good too.

Last week I soaked some bulgur wheat and stirred in a jar of salsa, a handful of parsley from my garden, and some leftover mushrooms. I splashed them with a low-fat bottled Italian salad dressing, and by the time it took to heat a frozen pita in the oven to hot tenderness, the chilled salad was ready.

Baked potatoes

Whenever I bake potatoes, I always bake an extra half dozen or so and they end up in the vegetable crisper just waiting to be used. On days when I decide to grill, I brush an old metal pie tin with oil and fill it with shredded potatoes and a bit of finely chopped onion. This melange sits on the grill surface, next to the steak, fish or poultry and turns into a crispy side dish. Looking for something a bit more exotic? I always keep a jar of dried mushrooms handy and after soaking them in some hot water for 15 minutes they usually end up chopped into a burger, steak, or tossed with potatoes.

What's that you say? How about something for kids? Who says frozen chicken tenders can't be grilled? Who says a raw potato can't be sliced with the skin on and grilled, all while being brushed with a low cal vinaigrette and then topped with a sprinkle of Parmesan or cheddar cheese? Ever roast broccoli, cauliflower or asparagus? Spray it with some broth or bouillon during cooking. Your kids will love it, and so will you!

THE QUAKER OATS COMPANY

Just for kids: These No-bake Oat Treats, made with your choice of raisins, mixed dried fruit, miniature marshmallows or candy pieces are fast to fix and positively delicious.

Be a cool cookie this summer

If the summer heat has wilted your interest in baking, think cool. Quick and easy recipes for hot weather treats will refresh summertime menus, and entertain your children.

Making cookies is fun, and a good solution to the "I don't have anything to do" of summer.

For nearly effortless desserts that are sure to refresh, don't overlook a favorite summertime duo, ice cream and cookies.

Peanut Butter Chipper Ice Cream Sandwiches pair an easy pat-in-the-pan peanut butter chocolate chip cookie with vanilla ice cream. Or bake your favorite cookie dough in a pizza pan, cut into wedges and top with scoops of ice cream and all the sundae shop fixings.

Here are some cool desserts to try:

NO-BAKE OAT TREATS

- 1 cup peanut butter
- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

- 2 cups oatmeal (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked)

- 2 cups (any combination of) raisins, mixed diced dried fruit, coconut, miniature marshmallows, chopped peanuts, semisweet chocolate or peanut butter pieces, or mini candy-coated chocolate pieces.

Mix together first four ingredients. Stir in oats and remaining ingredients. Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls onto waxed paper. Store covered at room temperature. Yield about 4 dozen.

Recipe from the Quaker Oats Company.

PEANUT BUTTER CHIPPER ICE CREAM SANDWICHES

- 3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup peanut butter
- 1/3 cup (5 tablespoons plus 1 teaspoon) margarine or butter, softened.
- 1 egg

- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup oatmeal (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked)
- 3/4 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 3/4 cup miniature semisweet chocolate pieces
- 1 pint vanilla ice cream or frozen yogurt

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Beat together sugar, peanut butter, margarine, egg and vanilla until creamy. Add combined oats, flour and baking soda; mix well. Stir in chocolate pieces. Spread evenly into ungreased 13 by 9-inch baking pan. Bake 14 to 16 minutes or until edges pull away from sides of pan. Cool completely. Cut into 24 bars.

Place 2 tablespoons ice cream on top of one bar. Top with second bar; gently press together. Repeat with remaining bars and ice cream. Wrap individual sandwiches in aluminum foil or plastic wrap; freeze. Remove from freezer a few minutes before serving. Yield 12 ice cream sandwiches.

Recipe from the Quaker Oats Company.

NO-BAKE GRANOLA BARS

- 1/2 cup semisweet chocolate chips
- 2/3 cup raspberry jam
- 2 cups granola
- 1/2 cup toasted slivered almonds
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract

Grease an 8-inch square pan. In a small saucepan, cook chocolate and raspberry jam over low heat, stirring constantly, until melted and smooth 2-3 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in granola, almonds, and almond extract.

Spread mixture evenly over bottom of prepared pan. Refrigerate until firm, about 1 hour, then cut into 9 bars.

Videos will get you hooked on fish

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

A lot of people, myself included, will order fish in a restaurant, but hesitate to prepare it at home. It's hard to tell if it's done. How many times have you poked and prodded fish cooking under the broiler or on the grill asking yourself — "is this opaque throughout?"

Who better to learn from than a certified master chef? "The popularity of fish has never been greater," said Certified Master Chef Milos Cihelka of Bloomfield Hills, who has produced a series of video tapes "From the Hook to the Cook," with Wild Harvest Video Co. of Orchard Lake. "Of course, preparing these foods in a healthier, tastier fashion will also make eating fish and seafood much more pleasant and beneficial."

Follow along step-by-step with Chef Milos, it's like having him alongside you in the kitchen. In his videos — "Cooking Freshwater Fish," "Cooking Saltwater Fish," and "Cooking Seafood," Chef Milos explains how to buy and prepare fish and seafood. Each video contains its own set of printed recipes. Individual tapes are $24.95 each, or $69.95 per set of three. Call 1-(800) 819-3799.

Besides the fishy stuff, Chef Milos explains basic things cooks need to know like how to make clarified butter. After watching his videos,

SCALLOPS SAUTEED WITH FRESH HERBS

1 1/2 pounds scallops
Salt and pepper to taste
Flour
4 tablespoons butter, clarified
1/2 cup chopped fresh herbs combined: chives, parsley, tarragon, chervil
Juice of 1/2 lemon

Prepare a large, stick-free skillet or two.

Dry the scallops, season them and roll in flour. Add butter to hot pans, then the scallops in a single layer and over high heat sear them quickly on all sides, just to heat through. Add the herbs and lemon juice, toss to coat.

Serve with mashed or boiled potatoes and a salad.

Healthier version: Replace clarified butter with 2 tablespoons canola oil. Omit flour. Serves 4.
From "Cooking Seafood" video.

SWORDFISH STEAK MARTINI

4 8-ounce swordfish steaks
1/2 cup dry vermouth
1/4 cup gin
Salt and fresh ground pepper to taste
3 tablespoons clear melted butter
1/4 cup chopped green olives

In a glass (or ceramic or plastic) dish marinate the swordfish in vermouth and gin, covered and refrigerated for two hours.

Remove, pat dry with a paper towel. Reserve juice. Preheat 2 non-stick skillets, add butter and place swordfish in. Over medium-high heat cook steaks until you see their juice rising on the surface. turn them over and finish on the other side. Do not overcook.

Place cooked swordfish on plates. Add marinating juice to the skillets and swirl around. Combine in one pan, add olives, reduce if necessary by boiling, then spoon over fish.

Serve with sauteed or boiled potatoes and a nice vegetable or salad. Serves 4.
From "Cooking Saltwater Fish" video.

WALLEYE SAUTEED IN HAZELNUT CRUST

6 walleye fillets, boned and skinned, 6-8 ounces each
Salt and pepper to taste
Flour
3/4 cup fresh bread crumbs
3/4 cup finely ground hazelnuts

1 egg, beaten with 2 tablespoons milk
1/2 cup clarified butter

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F.

Preheat 2 large skillets to medium hot.

Mix hazelnuts with bread-crumbs

Season fish and dust with flour. Dip it in the beaten egg, then coat with hazelnut and crumb mixture on both sides. Shake excess crumbs off. Heat the butter in pans, place fish in.

Brown nicely on one side, turn and brown the other side. Transfer fish to a cookie sheet, place in the oven for about 3 minutes.

You may serve it as is with lemon wedges. Serves 6.

Chef's Tip: To make fresh bread crumbs, trim crust off fresh white bread, place the white bread in a food processor or mixer and grind up.

To make clarified butter, place it in a tall pot over moderate heat and cook until it stops bubbling. then pour it into another container.

SUMMER FRUIT PIZZA

1 (20-ounce) package refrigerator sugar cookie dough
1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese, softened
1 cup powdered sugar
1 tablespoon milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 tablespoons Fruit-Fresh Fruit Protector
2 quarts water
1 peach
1 apple
1 pear
1 banana
2 kiwi, peeled and sliced
1/2 cup halved red grapes
1/2 cup sliced strawberries
1/4 cup raspberries
1/4 cup blueberries

Cut chilled cookie dough into eight 1-inch slices. Press each slice of dough with hands into a 4 1/2-inch circle. Place shaped dough on an ungreased cookie sheet 1 inch apart. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 10 to 15 minutes. Allow cookies to cool on cookie sheet 1 minute. Place cookies on a wire cooling rack; cool completely. Baked cookies will be about 5 inches in diameter. Mix cream cheese, powdered sugar, milk and vanilla in a blender or with an electric mixer until fluffy. Chill.

Combine Fruit-Fresh and water in a large bowl. As peach, apple, and banana are prepared, place in Fruit-Fresh mixture to prevent browning. Dip peach in Foley Company processing plant, the nation's leading fish wholesaler market to see how the pros buy, store and ship fish and seafood. You'll learn how to get the best value when buying scallops and shrimp, and how to cook soft shell crab, boil and broil lobster.

This is Chef Milos second video series. The first, "The Reward of the Hunt," included "Big Game Field to Table," "Venison Healthy & Taste," and "Care and Coking of Gamebirds & Animals."

Wild Harvest Videos is working to develop a new series of half-hour TV programs with WTVS Channel 56 in Detroit for public television.

The new programs with a live audience will emphasize the cooking of fish and game with a strong slant on how to buy fresh ingredients plus tips on cooking in a healthy yet tasty fashion.

Chef Milos will film some segments on location in public markets to demonstrate what to look for when selecting the best cuts of meat, game, poultry and fresh fish, and how to select the best herbs, spices, fruits and vegetables.

Keep cool this summer with easy to make from your pantry to the table dishes

HUMMUS

2 cups canned chick peas, drained

2/3 cup tahini (sesame seed paste)
1/2 to 3/4 cup lemon juice

1 large clove garlic (optional)
Salt and pepper to taste
Combine all ingredients in a blender or food processor and process until smooth. Makes about 3 cups.

EASY PESTO

1 cup fresh basil leaves (flat leaf parsley can be substituted)
1/2 cup pine nuts

1 clove garlic
1/2 cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 cup olive oil

In a blender or food processor, combine basil leaves, pine nuts, garlic and Parmesan cheese and process until finely chopped and coarse. With the motor running, slowly drizzle in olive oil until a smooth pate forms. Makes about 1 1/4 cups.

Chef's tip: Try pesto over cooked pasta, or brushed on chicken.

MONDAY, JULY 8, 1996

OBSERVER SPORTS SCENE

Junior golfers

In a tightly-contested battle for first in the boys 16-and-over division, Aaron Vandenburg of Holland prevailed in a playoff at the Bel-Air Junior Championship Monday at the Pohl Cat.

The tournament was one of the stops on the Game Of your Life Foundation (GOLF) junior tour.

Eleven golfers finished within three shots of first in the boys 16-and-over division, including Dave Higham of Livonia, whose 75 was one stroke off Vandenburg's winning score. Higham tied for fourth.

Canton's Brad Volas and Livonia's Chris Kiehler each shot a 77 to end in a four-way tie for eighth.

In the boys 14-15 division, Livonia's Stephan Polanski pulled away to win with a 75, two shots better than runner-up Ed Hunerberg of Tecumseh. Adam Wilson of Plymouth finished tied for eighth with an 82.

Two perfect

The Canton All-Stars completed their second-straight perfect season, going 8-0-0 in the under-10 girls Superior Division of the Great Lakes Soccer League to finish first. The title was the All-Stars third in the four seasons they have played. They outscored opponents 31-5.

Hole-in-one

Ray Maloni, of Plymouth, got his first ace ever Friday at Hickory Creek Golf Course in Ypsilanti.

Maloni used a nine iron to nail his hole-in-one on the 128-yard sixth hole. He shot 47 for the round.

Madonna news

•Eric Butler, a junior pitcher on Madonna University's baseball team, finished 14th in the final NAIA standings in earned run average. Butler's ERA was 1.78.

As a team, the Fighting Crusaders ranked ninth in the NAIA with a 3.29 ERA.

•Madonna's women's basketball team has two remaining open tryout sessions scheduled for this month. Next Sunday, there will be a tryout from 8-10 p.m.; on the following Sunday (July 21), there will be a tryout from 7-9 p.m. Both will be in the Madonna Activities Center.

Golden Blades hockey

•An Over-50 Hockey League is now forming, with registration for full-time and part-time players for the winter season. Games will be Saturday mornings at Inkster Arena. Goalies are half fee. Call John Wilson at (810) 471-0658 for registration information.

•An Over-47 Hockey League will play Wednesday nights this winter at the new Compuware Arena in Plymouth. Goalies are half fee. For registration information, call John Wilson at (810) 471-0658.

•A Senior League and an Over-40 League will play Sunday nights this winter at the new Compuware Arena in Plymouth. Registration is open for entire teams, with room for just six teams in each league. Call John Wilson at (810) 471-0658 or Ed at (810) 380-8011 for registration information.

Titan golf

The Detroit Titans annual golf outing will be Monday, Aug. 26 at Fox Hills Golf Club in Plymouth. The event, which benefits the University of Detroit Mercy athletic department, starts with a continental breakfast at 7:30 a.m., followed by a shotgun start at 8:30 a.m. and a buffet lunch.

There will be prizes for first place, closest to the pin and longest drive, as well as door prizes and gifts for all participants.

Cost is $75 per person. For more information, call the UDM athletic department at (313) 993-1700.

Recreation news

It's annual run/walk day in Heritage Park, come Saturday. That's when the Canton Parks and Recreation Services will be sponsoring the third-annual Race Day in the Park: the 18th annual five-mile run; the third-annual half-mile fun run for Kids; and the third-annual five-kilometer walk.

Registration for the five-mile run and five-kilometer walk is $10 in advance (before Thursday) and $12 after. Registration for the fun run for kids (8 and under, 9-12) is $2.

Awards will be presented, and all five-mile runners and five-kilometer walkers will receive a special long-sleeved shirt. Also, a grand prize of a travel gift certificate will be given.

For more information, call 397-5110.

Trio carries Wolves past Huskies

Talk about being in zone - the Huskies had to tackle the Wolverines' Goleniak brothers, and the way they were shooting Wednesday, that proved to be an impossible undertaking.

Just three players scored goals for the Wolverines in their Metro Summer Hockey League match Wednesday. But that proved way too many for the Huskies to handle.

Paul Goleniak poured in seven goals - four of them in the first period alone - and Scott Lock netted four more to lift the Wolves to a 13-5 victory at Plymouth Ice Arena.

Paul's brother Scott also got into the scoring act with two goals. Scott added six assists, while Paul got two.

Lock, however, outpointed them both by collecting 10 in the game. He had six assists to go with his four goals.

The only others to get points for the Wolves were Jason Wesley, two assists, and Brian Mayville, one. The Wolves led 5-0 after one period and 6-0 early in the second.

The Huskies got two goals and one assist from Ben Blackwood; a goal and an assist from Dominic Catanzarite; two assists apiece from Brent Lafond and Brian Hannigan; and single goals from Dave West and Todd Kesler.

Spartans 5, Lakers 3: Third-period goals by Mike Schmidt and Jacob Heikkinen allowed the Spartans to subdue the determined Lakers Wednesday at Plymouth.

The Spartans never trailed, getting goals from Larry Leo, Dave Esterline and Josh Wiegand in the first period to take a 3-1 advantage. The Lakers narrowed the gap to 3-2 after two periods on the second of Phil Saunders' two goals, then tied it at 3-all on Jim Pietila's goal two minutes into the third period.

Schmidt and Esterline had two assists each and Wiegand one for the Spartans.

Sikora tosses no-hit gem

Jenny Sikora pitched a no-hitter as Motor City Mold improved its record to 5-0 in the Girls Incredible Fast-Pitch Softball League and 8-2 overall last week.

Sikora's performance in a 10-0 victory over the West Bloomfield Bombers on July 2 included five strikeouts and five walks.

Nikki Kovachevich had a double, a triple and two RBI to pace the Motor City hitting attack.

Tara Biro (double), Kristen Witt and Carrie Kovachevich also had two hits apiece. Kovachevich had one RBI.

The second game of a scheduled doubleheader was stopped after three innings because of lightning. The teams will try to complete the game later in the season.

Motor City finished second in the 18-and-under division of the Riverview Tournament June 29-30.

The Mold, with its roster comprised of Canton High School players, won three games before losing in the final 5-0 to the Grand Rapids Impact.

Motor City started with an 8-4 win over Southgate. Nikki Kovachevich hit a home run and had three RBI. Sikora, the winning pitcher, and Amy LaGrow were 2-for-3.

Sarah Carson pitched Motor City to victories over the Canton Cobras (9-3) and the Garden City Stingers (5-0) in the next two games.

Carrie Kovachevich went 3-for-3 with three RBI against the Cobras. Amber LaGrow had two hits and one RBI, Gretchen Hudson two RBI.

Carson, who struck out six Cobras, didn't walk anybody while scattering six hits versus the Stingers. Amy LaGrow's two-run double was the key hit.

The Mold swept a pair of Incredible doubleheaders the previous week to begin the league season 4-0.

The Mold whipped the Farmington Hills Diamonds 10-1 and 10-3 on June 27.

Sikora pitched a no-hitter in the first game, striking out six and walking four. She contributed a double, two RBI and two runs scored to the offense.

Amy LaGrow also had a double and two RBI. Biro, Amber LaGrow and Nikki Kovachevich scored two runs each. Biro and Amber LaGrow had three stolen bases apiece.

Carson was the winning pitcher in the nightcap, scattering five hits. She also helped the offense with a double and one RBI.

Melanie Mikosz went 3-for-3 with an RBI. Liz Elsner (triple) and Donna Logsdon had two hits and scored two runs each. Logsdon also had two RBI.

Tournament winners: Carah Best, from Plymouth Salem, has helped keep her Finesse softball team in the swing of things. Finesse collected the championship of the National Invitational Tournament hosted by the Canton Softball Center.

On June 25, the Mold defeated the Farmington Hills Majestics 14-2 and 29-0.

Carson pitched a three-hitter in the first game. Amy LaGrow drove in four runs, Sikora and Carson three apiece. Angela Litwin had two of Canton's seven hits.

Elsner hit a grand slam and had five RBI in the second game, which lasted only three innings. Biro, Sikora and Amber LaGrow scored four runs each.

Ocelots build strength in backcourt

BY C.J. RISAK
SPORTS EDITOR

Slowly, surely, Glen Donahue is taking Schoolcraft College's men's basketball team toward his goal - a deeper, more talented group of Ocelots and, ultimately, a better record.

At present, size could be a problem, but the backcourt shouldn't be if the newcomers Donahue has coming in are as good as hoped.

"At guard, we have five solid players," Donahue said. "We've improved at depth and at quality of players."

Helping attain that goal are guards Pete Males, a 1995 Garden City graduate, and Tykie Reeves, from Willow Run. They join forward Kevin Melson, from Detroit Communication and Media Arts HS, and guard Justin Hoener, from Redford-

SCHOOLCRAFT SPORTS

Detroit Catholic Central, as SC recruits.

"He's an awfully good player," said Donahue of the 5-foot-9 Males. His work as a senior at Garden City would bear that out: Males averaged 16 points, eight assists, four steals and four rebounds a game, converting 50.2 percent of his floor shots, 46 percent of his three-pointers and 78.1 percent of his free throws.

The Cougars lost to eventual state semifinalist Wayne Memorial in the district final that season, but not before beating highly-touted Westland John Glenn, the Western Lakes Activities Association champion, in the opening round of the districts.

Reeves is a 6-1 off-guard whom Donahue hopes can supplement the offense. With Hoener and returnee Dwaun Warmack, both at point guard, and Stan Cavin, another returnee, at off-guard, SC should be set in the backcourt.

The frontcourt is another question, however. Rudy Hatfield, a 6-3 forward from Livonia Churchill; Bruce Goode, a 6-1 forward from Detroit Henry Ford; and Naron Burks, a 6-6 center/forward from River Rouge, return.

They'll be joined by the 6-6 Melson, a player Donahue is extremely high on. "I hate to compare him to someone like Vernon Carr," the SC coach said, recalling his former NJCAA All-American

DCI closes in on 1st-place Hines Park

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Travel agents will have to wait awhile before booking the right Livonia Collegiate Baseball League party to Johnstown, Pa. for the All-American Amateur Baseball Association tournament.

Decision Consultants, Inc., facing a must-win situation, kept their hopes alive by downing first-place Hines Park Lincoln/Mercury, 4-2, in a LCBL showdown Wednesday at Ford

BASEBALL

Field.

Hines Park remains in first place with a 17-2-1 record, while DCI crept closer to the league lead and a possible berth in next month's 20-and-under national tourney at 15-4-1.

The two teams meet four more times, including a double-header beginning at noon Sunday at Ford Field followed by another twinbill beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Sunday, July 21, also at Ford.

"We have four more games with them (Hines Park) and if we win the rest we can control our own destiny," DCI manager Mike George said. "This was really do-or-die for us and it was a great win because we had three starters (Greg Ryan, Ryan Kelley and Darrell Rocho) all out of the lineup."

Hines Park coach Gary Pierce, meanwhile, is trying to avoid a repeat of 1996 when Hines Park went on an early-season tear, only to hold off DCI by one game in the final regular season standings.

DCI then carried its late-season momentum into the playoffs, winning the trip to Johnstown.

"It was a big game for both of us, but the good thing is we're still two (games) up," Pierce said. "All we have to do is split with them (DCI), and of course worry about Caesars (the LCBL's third team)."

After two scoreless innings, Hines Park put two runs on the scoreboard in the top of the third inning.

Brothers Joe and Brian Kalczyński each walked and scored on Scott Barrett's two-run double.

Poised to put another run on the board, Hines Park's Steve Hornsberger was called out by the home plate umpire for tagging up too early from third.

The call incensed Pierce, who was eventually ejected for arguing the call.

"There's not really anything I can say about that," the Hines Park manager said. "We just didn't get the timely hit when we needed it."

DCI evened the count at 3-3 in the bottom of the inning when Joel Fabris and Eric Marcotte three batters, retiring two before giving way in the seventh to Mitch Jabczynski and Fabris, the latter gaining the save by getting the final out.

"That was a big out when Luke got Kalczyński," George said. "He (Kalczyński) is a great player and anytime you get him out it's a big bonus."

George wasn't hesitant about using his bullpen.

Bonner, who has been playing for Class A Birmingham Lynch and is now headed for the Ontario League, can now make the potential trip to Johnstown with DCI because he made his minimum required LCBL appearance.

"The nice thing now about having only three teams in the league is that you have more pitchers available," George said. "This worked out well for us."

O'Shea resigns as Churchill soccer coach

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Citing increased responsibilities as women's soccer coach at Oakland University, Nick O'Shea submitted a letter of resignation as Livonia Churchill girls varsity coach Wednesday to new athletic director Marc Hage.

O'Shea, 36, leaves Churchill with an impressive 106-41-17 record in 10 seasons. He led the Chargers to a pair of runner-up finishes in the state Class A finals, 1987 and '88, his first two seasons. He won a total of two regionals, six districts and one Western Lakes Activities Association crown.

"It's really too difficult to both jobs in the spring," said O'Shea, who launched the OU's women's varsity program last fall. "It was cutting my spring season short. I was starting the day at Oakland, coming back over to Churchill in the afternoon, and then going back for evening practices at Oakland."

"I was in the car almost two hours and 20 minutes each day during the week and that wasn't at all productive."

O'Shea also oversees the Michigan State Youth Soccer Association's Girls Olympic Development selection process and is an ODP regional coach (ages 15-16), which encompasses 13 states. He also is heavily involved in running summer camps.

"My only regret about leaving Churchill is that I would have liked to have won a title," O'Shea said. "We were in the finals twice and I thought this year we had a chance. Two of our three losses this year were to the teams in the state finals."

Churchill finished 12-3 this season, winning both the Western Division and the WLAA's first-place crossover game against Lakes Division champion Plymouth Salem, but the season ended on a sour note in the Plymouth Canton district semifinals when the Lady Chargers were eliminated by the host Chiefs, 3-2, in a double-overtime game that was played under the wrong OT format. Instead of going to a sudden-death format (which Churchill scored first), the two teams played it out under a pair of 10-minute periods.

Ironically, Canton went on to win the state title.

"We could have gotten it done had it not been for the fiasco we had in the tourney," O'Shea said. "But overall my experience at Churchill was rewarding, enjoyable and beneficial to my personal development and enhancement of my profession."

"What I'll miss most is dealing with the younger players, but I'll still be active with the ODP. I'm not leaving coaching."

Hage, who replaced the retired Don Albertson as Churchill's A.D. in June, said he will post the girls varsity soccer position sometime this week. (He also said he will begin interviews for the boys varsity basketball job in the middle of the month).

"With Nick's increased commitment to the A.D. (and the athletic department at Oakland), he felt it was time to step down at Churchill even though it was something he enjoyed and did a very good job at," Hage said. "I'm going to miss him and he's done

Crusaders 11th

The Crusader Junior Volleyball Club's 18-and-under squad took 11th out of 53 teams in the National AAU Tournament, June 21-25, in Des Moines, Iowa.

Crusader AAU, coached by Tim Beardon (Wayne State) and Jerry Abraham (Madonna University), reached the quarterfinal elimination round before losing to No. 1 seed and eventual champion Spiketettes (from Chicago, Ill.), 16-14, in third game rally scoring.

Members of the Crusader AAU team include Shellye Sills, Plymouth Salem (headed for University of Toledo); Jennifer Storm, Salem; Amy Davis, Woodhaven; Jenny Keeler, Walled Lake Central; Brandy Malewski, Redford Thurston; Angela Szymanski, Center Line St. Clement (headed to WSU); Christy Stevens, Burton-Atherton (WSU); Laura Juras, Fraser (just completed freshman year at Saginaw Valley State); and Jodi Kowalski, Dearborn High (headed to Brown University).

Rockers camp

The Detroit Rockers Soccer Camps return to the area 1-30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 5 through Friday, Aug. 9 at Livonia's Bicentennial Park, located off Wayne and Seven Mile roads.

For more information, call (313) 396-7070.

Recreation news

A singles tennis tournament, sponsored by the Canton Parks and Recreation Services, is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, July 20-21, at the Plymouth Canton HS courts.

Entry fee is $6 for residents of Canton and the city of Plymouth, $8 for all others. Each player must also provide their own can of USTA-approved tennis balls.

Play will be divided into seven divisions: 18 and under, 14 and under, 10 and under, men's open, women's open, men's 50 and over, women's 50 and over.

Entry deadline is 4 p.m. July 14. Call 397-5110 for further details.

Free cage camp

The second annual Jeff Suspek Memorial Basketball Camp for youths ages 9-14 will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, July 27 at Schoolcraft College.

The camp is free. Each participant will receive a T-shirt and lunch will be served courtesy of White Castle Hamburger Systems.

The Jeff Suspek Foundation, formed by family and friends to provide opportunities for underprivileged youth, was founded in memory of the former Orchard Lake St. Mary's and Dearborn Divine Child basketball standout who died in November of 1994 at the age of 24.

'Kingpin' will feature bowling as main theme

TEN PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

From the people that brought you "Dumb and Dumber," now comes another sure-fire smash hit from MGM/United Artists entitled "Kingpin."

You may have already heard or seen some of the early previews.

If you were in downtown Birmingham last week, you would have seen the promotion group touring 18 cities coast to coast.

The objective is to promote the movie, but they are also using the visit as a means of gaining support for putting the sport of bowling into the Olympic Games.

There have been many efforts in the past to get full recognition by the Olympics and all have been shunted aside until now.

With the clout of MGM/UA, who knows?

The spokesman for the group was Calvert DeForest (aka Larry "Bud" Melman), who was out there autographing some posters and other mementos.

Maureen Schmidt and Herbie Gelman were in charge of the local scene. They are with the Bloomfield Hills advertising agency, Solomon Friedman Advertising, the local agency for the ad placement and promotion of MGM/United Artists.

Dyan Sarnecky of Keego Harbor is a member of the crew that is touring the country. The tour makes stops at all the major bowling markets with the final destination being Atlanta, where according to Dyan The Olympic Committee will get our thousands of signed petitions to include bowling as an Olympic sport.

"Kingpin" will be released on July 26. Bowlers and non-bowlers alike will find this a most entertaining film, very funny, and a good Hollywood exposure for the sport.

The precision Bowling Bags Drill Team from Thunderbird Lanes in Troy were one of the highlights of the Fourth of July Parade in downtown Clawson last Thursday.

Back by popular demand, they went through a routine of marching drill team maneuvers complete with their specially made bowling shirts.

The team is comprised of Jeani Castile, Elva Adkins, Susan Valentine, Janet Spears, Dee Dee Kibler and Lory Van Troostenbergh.

They were marching to the recorded music of Another One Bites the Dust and Bowling USA which is a takeoff on surfing USA, recorded by local band The Polish Muslims.

The team members are all on the staff at Thunderbird Lanes, but have done this on a voluntary basis.

I owe a correction to the Western Wayne Youth Travel League.

In a recent column about the three local youth traveling leagues and their first ever combined competition which took place last month at Cloverlanes, I inadvertently referred to them as the Wayne Westland Youth Travel League.

That was an error on my part, for they are in the same area as the Wayne Westland Men's Association.

The Western Wayne Youth Travel League will be holding its annual bowling clinic on Saturday, Aug. 10 and Sunday, Aug. 11 at Wayne Bowl on Michigan Ave.

The clinic, is free to youths and adults and runs from 9 a.m. to noon each day. They will have an organizational meeting on Sunday following the clinic, so anyone interested in this league may attend.

One of their members, 10-year-old Tony Vitale from Canton bowled with the pros at Taylor during the Greater Detroit Open. The proud parents, Cheryl and Nick Vitale, watched as Tony rolled games of 222-194 and 201. Combined with 135 pins in handicap, he took first place in his junior pro-am squad.

Spring soccer champs

when he coached at Highland Park CC. "But he can do everything. He's really a good passer, he can run and he can jump."

Still, something is missing from the Ocelot mix. "Our offense is geared to a guy who can score inside," said Donahue. At present, that list is limited to Burks.

"I'd like to sign a good-scoring post player," the SC coach said. "It's just a matter of finding him."

Donahue would also "like to play 10, 12 players every half. And we're almost at that point."

Not quite there yet, but then again, Donahue's not done recruiting yet, either.

and Sunday, June 22 and 23 at the Canton Softball Center.

Finesse, comprised of players mostly from Observerland, finished their 6-1 record with a 13-2 victory over the Daredevils from Brookeville, Ohio, in the championship game. Ironically, Finesse started the tournament with a 13-2 win over the Daredevils.

Finesse has now won three tournaments and has a 13-3 record. The championship gave Finesse 150 points toward the national rankings, which will ultimately decide whether they make the national tournament.

Stefanie Volpe (Plymouth Salem) led Finesse with a .636 average, six home runs and 24 RBI. Kristen Zabalavicius (East Detroit) hit .542 with a homer, nine RBI and two doubles. Jennifer Trott (Salem) went 4-for-4, including two triples, with three RBI in the championship game. Zabalavicius was 2-4 with three RBI and also the winning pitcher in the championship game.

A recent addition to the team, Christie Koester (Redford Thurston), hit .500 and was second with 18 RBI. She clubbed four homers with two triples and two doubles.

Jillian Gross (Canton High School) batted .471, while Sarah Talbot (Garden City) and Katie Foran (Westland/John Glenn) contributed 13 and 12 RBI, respectively.

Filling out the Finesse roster are Melissa Bako and Tiffany Bako (Garden City), Megan Brady (Westland John Glenn), Billie Jo Cavallaro (Walled Lake Western), Elizabeth Elsner (Canton), Wendy Hankinson (Garden City), Angela Haas (Westland John Glenn), Kristie Pawlowski (Walled Lake Central), Karen Prosyk (Salem), Raegan Tisher (Livonia Churchill), and Kristen Zabalavicius (East Detroit).

Broncos 8, Bulldogs 7: A furious third-period rally by the Bulldogs fell short when Bill Trainor scored for the Broncos with 6:53 left to provide what proved to be the winning margin Wednesday at Plymouth.

Five second-period goals had enabled the Broncos to go up 6-2 entering the third. Brent Bessey, who had three goals and an assist in the game, scored twice in the second. Dan contributed two goals and an assist, with Kevin Bernard and Brian Consolino getting one goal apiece. Bill Trainor also had two assists for the winners.

Brian Tarsin ignited the 'Dogs rally with two goals and an assist in the third period. He finished with three goals in the game. Goals by Dave Baval and Dave Elenich in a span of 3:09 allowed the 'Dogs to narrow the deficit to 7-6 with 7:31 still left.

Brent Thomas had two goals and two assists. Baval had an assist to go with his goal, and both John Brodhun and Dustin Sventy got two assists for the 'Dogs.

Wildcats 6, Lakers 6: Bob Nagy scored twice in the last 1:20 to highlight a spectacular four-goal, game-tying rally in the final 1:57 for the Wildcats Tuesday at Plymouth.

Until then, the Lakers were seemingly cruising along to a victory. The second of Paola Decina's two goals had staked them to a 6-2 lead with 12:22 to go.

Grant Judd made it 6-3 with a goal for the 'Cats with 1:57 remaining. Nagy scored 37 seconds later to make it 6-4, and Anatoli Buliga tightened it to 6-5 with 20 seconds to play. Nagy got the tying goal with nine seconds left; he also had an assist in the game.

Other Wildcat goals came from Oleg Panasenko and Brian Alent. Judd also had one assist, and Victor Federov collected two.

Dave Daavetilla netted two goals and two assists to pace the Lakers. Ron Pietila added a goal and two assists, Decina had an assist to go with his two goals, and Jim Pietila also scored a goal.

Comfort, convenience are hallmarks of Achieva

By Anne Fracassa
Avanti NewsFeatures

There were only two things I don't like about the 1996 Oldsmobile Achieva: Its lack of power and the price — around $18,000, if nicely equipped.

So let's get that over with and get on with the nice parts of the car, because there are a lot of good things to say about the Achieva.

The standard 2.4-liter twin cam 4-cylinder engine just doesn't provide enough power for a car of this size. It's classified as a compact, but I would call this car a large compact. I was really surprised, as well, that the horsepower on this engine is 150. It just doesn't seem like there's that much horsepower to tool this thing around town. The Achieva's a bit noisy, too.

And the price: Base is $16,495. There's a fair list of standard equipment, but it's a bit steep for a small car with a 4-cylinder engine.

Maybe if I had driven the standard engine mated to the 5-speed manual instead of the

ROAD TEST
By

automatic transmission or even the optional V6 engine with automatic 4-speed transmission, I would've felt differently. Only next year's drive will tell.

Achieva does have some stiff competition, however. It includes the Honda Accord, Mazda 626, Toyota Camry and Mitsubishi Galant. Some of those are priced higher and some lower.

But this is a really well-equipped car that's big on comfort and room and very fuel efficient — 22 in the city and 32 on the highway.

It really surprised me that the amount of headroom, legroom and hiproom was impressive. I'm tall person, so comfort is important to me. Driven was the SL sedan. The rear seats were really easy to get in and out of. And the rear doors swing out wide to provide access.

First introduced in 1992, the Achieva is available in three trim levels and can be ordered in a 2-door coupe or 4-door sedan. This year, the Achieva has been given a fresh look on the inside with dual air bags, an improved V6 and an enhanced traction system. Added to the standard equipment list are air conditioning and a PASSlock theft deterrent system.

The 155-horsepower V6 powertrain has been upgraded this year with a stiffer cylinder block and intake manifold design to cut down on the noise. As with many General Motors vehicles, the Achieva's engine is outfitted with platinum-tipped spark plugs that avoid misfire and don't have to be changed until they reach the 100,000-mile mark.

Also adding to the low maintenance list is filled-for-life transmission fluid, long-life coolant and distributorless ignition.

The interior has been changed from top to bottom — "floor mats to headliner," Oldsmobile officials say.

I love the new three-point, pillar-mounted safety belts. They're so comfortable to wear. No cutting on the neck, not hard to engage in the clip and just plain easy to get in and out of. I wish everyone would have three-point belts.

The center console has two cupholders and an auxiliary power outlet — a lifesaver for anyone who has a cellular flip phone and uses the power cord on lengthy trips. The cupholders are even deep enough to hold the phone safely.

The power mirror and window switches are now located on the driver's door, making it a lot more convenient. Also added this year were adjustable lumbar support for the driver's seat and a leather-wrapped steering wheel and shifter.

Standard is an AM/FM stereo, but you can upgrade to a cassette, compact disc or cassette and CD.

Other improvements on the Achieva this year include a one-key system for the doors, ignition, deck lid and glove box.

The standard equipment list on the SL sedan isn't short: Anti-lock brakes, a security system, intermittent wipers, 4-speed automatic transmission, 15-inch steel belted radial blackwall tires, reclining front buckets with driver's 4-way adjustable and passenger's 2 way adjustable seats, rear cupholders, air conditioning, AM/FM cassette stereo with clock and rear window grid antenna, rear window defogger, courtesy lamps, illuminated entry and exit, power mirrors, remote fuel door and trunk release, tinted windows and tilt steering wheel.

The bottom line: The Achieva measures up when it comes to comfort and convenience. Just wish it cost less.
