Downtown crawl

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, in a joint effort with the Friends of the Penn, sponsors the sixth annual PENN-Taste-Tic Downtown Plymouth Restaurant Crawl 5:30-8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 28.

"Crawlers" can walk around downtown Plymouth enjoying delicious samples and treats from many of their favorite Plymouth restaurants and sweet shops. This year's participants include the Box Bar, Cellar 849, Compari's, Ironwood Grill, Jimmy John's, Nico & Vali Italian Eatery, Panera, Perfectly Sweet/Boule and Yogurt Palooza. Attendees will get a chance to vote for their favorite taste and restaurant.

Tickets must be purchased in advance and are available at the chamber (850 W. Ann Arbor Trail) and Sun & Snow (388 Main St.) in downtown Plymouth. Adult tickets are $20 each, and children 10 and younger are $15.

For more information on the Crawl, call (734) 453-1540.

Teachers endorse Jackson, three others

By Brad Kadrich Observer Staff Writer

Citing a desire to see a "new direction" for the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Board of Education, a 20-member panel representing the Plymouth-Canton Education Association has endorsed only one of three incumbents in the Nov. 8 school board election.

Board President John Jackson is the only current member of the board to get the nod from the union, which represents some 1,000 teachers in the district. Trustees Nancy Eggenberger and Steven Sneideman are also running, but did not earn an MEA endorsement. The panel, which officials said represented teachers, custodians, parapros, food service and retirees, also endorsed newcomers Sheila Paton, John Barrett and Abdul Muhiuddin, at 22 the youngest candidate in the field.

PCEA President Ken Fistler said Jackson earned the endorsement because of his "willingness to listen" to bargaining units.

"John comes across with his experience within the board and his willingness to listen to all of the units," Fistler said. "He's been open to all of our MEA units. That's our biggest reason."

Jackson, in his first term as board president, called the endorsement "huge."

"I think with all the concessions they gave the idea they would still honor me with their endorsement and understand we're working together to solve this problem is great," Jackson said. "I was particularly satisfied with the interview ... I told them the truth, where I stand on things. I didn't cater to what they would like to hear, I told them the things that had to be done. (The endorsement) shows me they understood and are willing to continue to work together."

Fistler said Sneideman and Eggenberger, along with the other eight candidates who didn't earn an endorsement, made the choice tough with the quality of their interviews.

"It was a tough choice," Fistler said. "All 10 came to our interview process and participated very well. We were looking overall at a new direction for the board. It was extremely tough to narrow it down."

Seminar an effort to combat 4 growing drug problem

By Brad Kadrich Observer Staff Writer

Five years ago, perhaps 20 percent of young people dealing with the folks at Growth Works who needed treatment had experimented with either overthe-counter or prescription drugs.

Now, that number has ballooned to nearly 50 percent, a huge leap officials attribute to doctors' quickness to medicate problems and the easy access youngsters have to their parents' medicine cabinets.

And, as with most things dealing with young people these days, technology is starting to play a role in the problem. Social media sites such as MySpace and Facebook are being used, officials contend, to arrange for the sale or transfer of illicit drugs.

Chiliheads, motorcycle fans and those with a passion for both should circle Sunday, Oct. 9, on their calendars.

That's the date of the 16th annual Great Lakes Regional Chili Cookoff in downtown Plymouth, which will offer live music and dance, a motorcycle show with hundreds of entries, an International Chili Society-sanctioned competition among some of the world's best chili cooks, and samples from ICS competitors as well as local restaurants and

Canton event celebrates Gandhi's life

A special Gandhi Jayanti Celebration takes place Sunday, Oct. 2, at The Village Theater at Cherry Hill in Canton.

Doors are set to open at 1:15 p.m. with the performance scheduled to start at 2 p.m. This popular annual event is presented by the Canton Cultural Commission Multicultural Committee in association with The Village Theater, located at 50400 Cherry Hill in Canton.

The presentation honors the life and legacy of Mahatma Gandhi by celebrating the values that he lived every day. "In a gentle way, you can shake the world," said Mahatma Gandhi.

Canton Township Trustee Dr. Syed Taj will provide the program's welcome and introduction to an afternoon of songs, dances, sitar, and a skit. The program will also feature members of Canton's Multicultural Committee speaking about Gandhi's life and legacy.

The Canton Cultural Commission Multicultural Committee's mission continues to focus on getting to know our neighbors and their culture through the arts.

In addition to Gandhi Jayanti, subcommittees continue to host many special events, including an International Festival annual event at The Village Theater (Jan. 21) and a celebration of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. (Jan. 16).

Admission to this Gandhi Jayanti Celebration is a $2 donation at the door and includes a punch and cookies pre-show reception starting at 1:15 p.m.

The union settled on three other candidates for endorsement:

• Sheila Paton of Plymouth — Founder of the district's Legislative Action Network and a frequent participant in legislative discussions, along with a variety of other work within the district. "Her Legislative Action Network and continual work within the schools over a long period of time has been absolutely impressive."

• John Barrett of Plymouth — A Plymouth city commissioner who opted not to seek re-election so he could run for the school board, Barrett spent 40-plus years in education, lastly as a principal in the Farmington district. "His experience (in Farmington) and with our community ... he's done some work in our schools," Fistler said. "He's worked to build relationships between the community and our students, including kids at Starkweather."

• Abdul Muhiuddin of Canton — He's a 2003 graduate of Salem High School. "He's the youngest one in the field, but we liked his young energy," Fistler said. "We liked his work with nonprofits and his interest in diversity. Our community is changing, we see that in our schools all the time."

Fistler said the union's participation in the campaigns of their endorsed candidates will be left up to the candidates themselves.

Ladies enjoy Plymouth's 'Night Out'

By Julie Brown Observer Staff Writer

Amanda Briones, 20, of Belleville and Stephanie Limberger, 20, of Ypsilanti were having a good time Thursday at Ladies Night Out in downtown Plymouth.

"I'm leaving for Virginia tomorrow," said Briones, planning to visit her ill grandfather. She and Limberger decided to visit Plymouth.

"We had no idea it was Ladies Night," said Limberger. "It's awesome. There's so much going on. I love it."

The young women were impressed with the Ironwood Grill restaurant on Ann Arbor Trail. "It's really nice out here tonight," added Briones, among many enjoying the evening's beautiful weather.

"We're going to get about 800 ladies at least," said Wes Graff, president of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, which coordinates the event with merchants.

There's also a Diva Day for women in the spring in Plymouth. New this holiday season will be "Dashing Through the Stores," a night in which women will create their wish lists.

"Two weeks later, the guys come back and buy what's on the wish lists, Graff said of "Men's Panic Party."

At the Ladies Night Out, Ribar Floral gave women shoppers roses. Graff agreed women customers are essential.

"The downtown stores do primarily cater to women," he said. "That's why these events are so perfect."

As the sun set in Plymouth, groups of women shoppers traveled from store to store, checking what's new. There were refreshments, drawings for prizes and small gifts. Some women met for dinner out with family and friends.

Pausing between stops, Linda Juenemann of Northville Township noted she hadn't shopped in Plymouth lately and wanted to visit.

By Darrell Clem Observer Staff Writer

It almost seemed like a small town tucked inside one large room.

Potential shoppers walked by makeshift storefronts where merchants hawked banking services, bicycles, jewelry, insurance policies. hockey games, senior housing, music lessons, health care, home decorations — even the kitchen sink wasn't exactly forgotten as personal chef Paula Woods marketed meals she delivers or cooks in customer homes.

It was time for Consumer Expo, a twice-a-year Canton Chamber of Commerce event that brought 35 businesses to Summit on the Park.

Canton resident Terea Neino strolled around the event Thursday evenum, just as she has for five years.

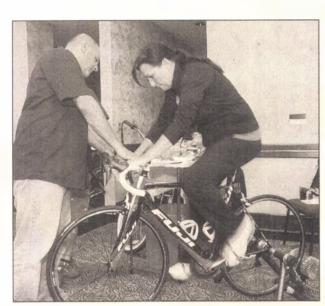

"I like to see what the community has to offer," she said. "They seem to have a lot of different, new things this time."

Woods, owner of Heaven Sent Chef, brought samples of cookies and muffins as she made a pitch for customers. She even does the shopping before she prepares meals for her customers. "I sit down with them and figure out their likes and dislikes," she said. "I cook healthy meals made from scratch." Denise Saylor, customer relations director of Livomia-based Molly Maid, said the home-cleaning business hasn't suffered despite a tough economy She said the compamy works with customers who are on a budget.

Festival offers (nearly) endless chili table

By Matt Jachman Observer Staff Writer

Visitors to the Great Lakes Regional Chili Cookoff in Plymouth on Sunday, Oct. 9, can begin sampling chilis at 11 a.m. at Kellogg Park.

That's when participating restaurants — 18 have signed on so far will begin serving their chilis as part of the restaurant chili challenge, one of several competitions held during the cookoff, which will attract more than 50 individual cooks in addition to the restaurants.

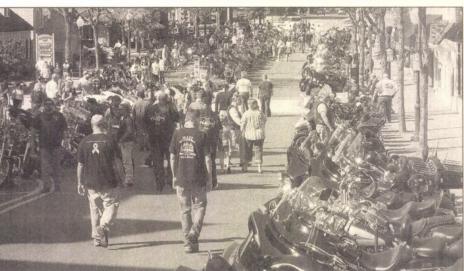

An noon, other competitors in the people's choice category (separate from the International Chili Society competition) will begin serving their chilis at The Gathering. ICS chili cooks are not allowed to use beans in their concoctions, while the restaurants and people's choice cooks can do so. (Restaurant chilis are made off-site and shipped to the park, while the nonrestaurant cooks, including ICS competitors, cook at The Gathering.)

The ICS chilis, also served at The Gathering, will begin hitting the bowls with the red chili at 1:30 p.m., followed by the chili verde, or green chili, at 3 p.m.

Samples of chili are $1 each, while bowls are $4 each.

The winners in each competition will be announced at 5 p.m. The three first-place winners in the ICS competition - red chili, chili verde and salsa (for which samples are not sold) - will advance to the ICS world competition in October 2012.

madhouse in there," Ray

"It's a great event," said David Pawlowski, who racked up seven firstplace trophies in non ICScompetitions at past chili festivals. "It's a great marketing tool.'

Pawlowski was for years with Plymouth's Omelette and Waffle Cafe, and now cooks for, and is part-owner of, the Moonlight Diner in Plymouth Township, one of the 18 restaurants participating in this year's restaurant chili challenge.

Past cookoffs have netted more than $220,000 for Great Lakes Regional Chili Inc., the nonprofit that organizes the festivals, and the money has been donated to area service organizations. Habitat for Humanity is a longtime beneficiary, while Penrickton was added for this year. "What they do for these families and these children is unbelievable, and we were really touched by that," said Annette Horn, Great Lakes Regional Chili Inc. board president, who visited Penrickton with husband Ken. "We thought this was the year to step up to the plate and add them on.'

Habitat and Penrickton will provide volunteers for the festival; in all, the Horns are helped by more than 200 volunteers. Penrickton is a ngtime festival supporttannually raffles

Title defenders

In addition to the Rays and Pawlowski, other returning chili champions will include Pete Skwiers, the 2009 winner for red chili; Gail Kyle, last year's winner for red chili; and Richard Chauvin, the chili verde winner in both 2009 and 2010.

"The cooks love the event, especially when they can interact with people," said Annette Horn. "Chili cooks are very willing to share pointers."

The festival draws thousands of motorcycle enthusiasts, and a motorcycle show is scheduled for 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Ann Arbor Trail between Main and Union streets.

Motorcycles will be judged by popular vote in 17 different categories, in addition to an officially judged best-in-show prize. Motorcycle "chili rides" from two different dealerships will also be rumbling into town, and the proceeds from all motorcycle-related events will benefit the Penrickton Center.

As usual, two-ounce chili samples are $1 each, while bowls of chili are $4 each. Proceeds from chili sales will benefit Habitat for Humanity.

Music, dance, dogs The festival will also eature performances by seven local dance companies, live music by Steve King and the Dittilies beginning at noon, an activities area for children, and the Hottest Dog in the Coolest City competition, near the Kellogg Park fountain, with judging at 2 p.m. The contest is a benefit for the Humane Society of Huron Valley

Gary and Lauren Ray are going to be heading to the festival straight from the ICS world championship in Manchester, N.H., the weekend before. Both qualified at other chili competitions earlier this year; this year's winners at the Plymouth festival — one for red chili, one for chili verde and one for salsa — will be eligible for next year's world championship.

"It's going to be kind of hectic," Gary Ray said. "The pots'll barely be dry by the time we get to Plymouth."

District offers ACT practice test

By Brad Kadrich Observer Staff Writer

One of the big college-prep tests high school students worry about being ready for every year is the ACT.

On Tuesday, Plymouth-Canton students have a chance to find out how close they are.

The Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Community Education department offers a free practice ACT test from 3-7 p.m. in the Canton High School (students whose names start with A-L) and Salem High School (students M-Z) cafete-

For Betty Bloch, the district's community education supervisor, the free test is one thing the district can offer the students to help them get ready for the next step in their education.

"The test is a good opportunity to find out what their level of expertise is and the areas where they need improvement," Bloch said.

On an Oct. 4 parents' night at the high school park, parents and students will find out how they did, with analysts available to go over test results and point out areas of need.

Armed with that information, students then can take the department's comprehensive ACT course. That course, normally offered by the national firm Princeton Review, has been brought inhouse as a way for the district to drum up some revenue. The 25-day courses start Oct. 17, and are offered either right after school (2:30-4:30 p.m.) Mondays and Wednesdays, or there is a 7-9 p.m. course Tuesdays and Thursdays. Cost is $995, money that used to go to Princeton Review but now will help the cash-starved dis-

"It's an opportunity Princeton Review has been offering here for a number of years," Bloch said. "We think this is a great opportunity for our students, and we felt we should be offering it."

Bloch is excited about the Community Education lineup. Adult courses will include arts and cooking, dance, computer classes, finance, health and first aid, language, music, self-improvement, sewing and needlework, swim, and classes about using the web.

The youth classes will now include new language classes in Chinese and Spanish. Preschool/youth programs will include arts and crafts, dance, exercise and sports, music and parents knew about one big change: The paper flyers that used to be distributed announcing after-school class schedules, costs, etc., will not be sent this year, The district, she said, will go to an entirely on-line announcement system, posting class schedules, availability, cost, etc., on the district's website (www.pccs.k12.mi.us).

"Parents can go on-line to the district's website and find out everything they need to know," Bloch said. "It saves time, it saves money, it's faster and easier, and it takes advantage of technology."

SCHOOL BRIEFS

Teen Mr. Dance Reid Conlon, a junior at

Canton High School, was named Teen Mr. Dance of America 2012 at the 127th Dance Masters of America National Scholarship competition in Orlando,

The Dance Masters of America is a professional, certified membership organization of artists and educators committed to the elevation of the art of dance and has been certifying and setting the standards in dance education since 1884.

Conlon competed against 40 other soloists from around the United States and Canada in classes that covered ballet, jazz, tap and acrobatics. In addition, Conlon was interviewed by industry professionals and performed a contemporary solo for an audience of more than 1,000 people.

During his reign as

Teen Mr. Dance, Conlon will be invited to perform at various DMA chapters around the country as part of their regional scholarship competitions.

Army band

Plymouth-Canton Educational Park student Jason Jakary has been selected as a member of the U.S. Army All-American Marching Band. This honor celebrates the values and strengths these standouts share with Army Strong soldiers.

Jakary, a Salem High School senior who plays baritone, was selected to join a group of elite marching musicians who will perform in the U.S. Army All-American Bowl halftime show at the Alamodome in San Antonio, Texas, in January.

The U.S. Army All-American Marching Band recognizes the top 125 high school senior marching musicians from across the country and

Teacher awards

In honor of the opening of the new Walmart store on Michigan Avenue in Canton Township, the giant discount chain made 10 Field Elementary teachers very happy. The company gave each teacher a $100 gift card to the store to purchase school supplies. The donation is part of the Walmart Cares Teacher Award Program. Pictured are (from left) Field Elementary teachers Aimee Conn (first grade), Alison Collicott (fifth grade), Monica Singer (resource room teacher), Kim Tews (second grade), Dawn Cummings (fourth grade), Kelly Howell (kindergarten), Lee Anne Shaheen (interventionist) and Michelle Rushlow (third grade), showing off their Walmart gift cards with Field Principal Denise Lilly and Walmart Zone Manage Ryan Liedel. ebration of high school football in America, the U.S. Army All-American Bowl.

Teen workshop

The Michigan Department of Education will host the nationally recognized Talk Early & Talk Often parent workshop 6-8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 6, at Discovery Middle School. The two-hour workshop is free of charge and will help parents and caregivers of middle school youth recognize and use opportunities to open the door for conversation and to listen and respond with greater confidence and skill.

Parents are the prime educators of their children. Continued communication at home is vital in helping unprepared youth avoid serious consequences of pregnancy, HIV and sexually transmitted diseases. Talk Early & Talk Often has, since 2005, consistently received high praises from parents, educators and community leaders. The workshop is a state sponsored initiative, developed with support from several state agencies working in the area of teen pregnancy prevention.

Alumni event

If you attended Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, school officials want you to join them for the second annual alumni event.

"Gathering at the Gridiron" takes place Friday, Oct. 21, when the Canton Chiefs take on the Salem Rocks in football at 7 p.m. All alumni are invited to attend a tailgate party, which will feature food and entertainment before the game. The alumni festivities will begin at 5:30 p.m. just outside the Varsity Football Stadium at Plymouth-Canton Community Schools officials have teamed with Growth Works, the Plymouthbased youth assistance organization, will present the second in its series of social media seminars this week.

"Is it our biggest problem? No, it isn't," said Ruggirello. "But we'd be naive to think it's not a problem at all.'

To do that, the district has convened a panel of experts to talk to parents in a 7 p.m. seminar, "Prescription Drugs and Your Child," Wednesday at the Plymouth District Library. While Growth Works currently has people in the middle schools talking to every sixthgrader in the district about drugs, this seminar is designed to help parents primarily understand the issue of prescription and over-thecounter drug use and the impact of social media on drug use among students.

"Kids are selling drugs using social media," Ruggirello said. "It's very often a communications device for kids that isn't necessarily closely supervised by parents."

According to statistics provided by Growth Works, over-the-counter and prescription drugs have become the third most-common drug of choice for young people (behind marijuana and alcohol). For many kids, they're easily accessible. Parents have some surgery or other medical issue and doctors prescribe drugs for it.

Parents frequently don't take all of the doses, and the leftovers wind up first in the medicine cabinet, then in the hands of children. Those drugs are often peddled on social media and wind up in schools.

"It's pretty much customary for some sort of prescription or over-the-counter drugs to be part of the menu of drugs kids will take ... the accessibility of it is unbelievable now," said Brian Spitsbergen, director of treatment services at Growth Works. "It's clean, it's hard to detect. It's tough for folks to understand the nature of the problem.'

Spitsbergen said he often sees kids in treatment talk about "the best high" they've had, and more and more those highs are including prescription and over-thecounter medications.

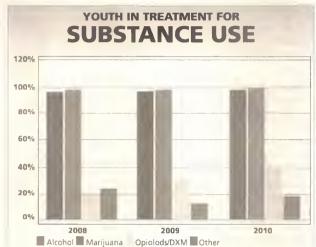

The problem, he said, is that, while "there's a predictability" to the effects and behavior of a drug user who has, say, smoked marijuana, the effects of prescription drugs is far less predictable.

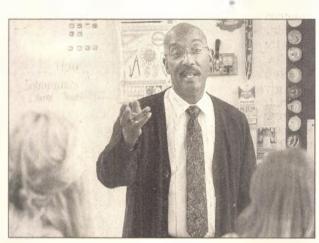

"It becomes an irritant to other social problems in kids who are already having a hard time making smart decisions," Spitsbergen said. "It irritates other problems that already exist. (Prescription drug use) lends itself to making a bad situation worse."

In addition to heightening awareness of the prescription drug problem and the part social media plays in it, Wednesday's seminar is designed to show parents what police see in their schools, ways kids can harm themselves, behaviors parents should look for and who to call.

"When we see something that could be a potential problem, we want to make sure our parents and our students are aware of it," Ruggirello said. "Sticking your head in the sand is never the solution."

With wave of support, director launches new youth theater

LOCAL NEWS

By Matt Jachman Observer Staff Writer

Theater studies benefit children whether they're acting on the stage or playing their roles in the drama of life.

That's the philosophy with which Sharon Belobraidich, a longtime drama instructor and retired elementary school teacher, is starting a children's theater company, Belo's Caught in the Act Youth Theater.

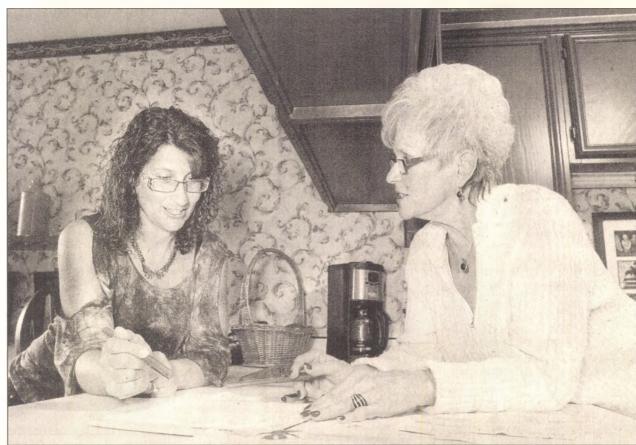

"This is an opportunity for children of any age to express themselves dramatically," said Belobraidich, who lives in Plymouth Township, during a recent interview. "It carries over into every aspect of their lives."

Drama can help build confidence and public speaking skills, teach children the use and meaning of big words, show them how to speak with feeling, help with memorization skills and even give them a place where they can find acceptance and a creative outlet, Belobraidich said.

Parents whose children Belobraidich has directed second her view - and say it's Belobraidich's skills with the children, as much as anything, that make the difference.

"She knows them very well," said Robin McHugh, who has two daughters, Elizabeth, 6, and Jessica, 11, in Belobraidich's new project. "She interacts with those little kids very well."

McHugh was among the parents who stood by Belobraidich this spring, when she was replaced as director of the youth theater program at the Plymouth Community Arts Council, where she had worked since 2002. Belobraidich, who taught first and second grade in the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools for about 40 years, has been involved in theater for years, an outgrowth, she said, of her teaching.

Parents of children in the PCAC program, McHugh said, began emailing each other in the spring about their support for Belobraidich. That snowballed into a August meeting of parents at McHugh's house. "The definite conclusion among the parents was, 'We want our kids to continue with her," said Andrea Hug, whose 11year-old daughter, Kara, studies with Belobraidich. (McHugh and Hug each have a daughter in high school who aged out of the program.)

Belobraidich, who said she was crushed when PCAC let her go, was swept up in the, well, drama.

"I'm just amazed at these parents," she said. "I never called anybody."

Thus was born Belo's Caught in the Act Youth Theater. About 50 children are now involved, and they began rehearsing for their December shows on Sept. 17.

The troupe is without a theater so far (the children rehearse at the Plymouth Historical Museum), but Belobraidich says she's close to landing one; she'd like to stay in the Plymouth area if possible.

Parents have stepped up to help out with planning, marketing, costumes, sets and the like; one actor's grandfather, for example, is building a bridge for the play in rehearsal by the 5-, 6- and 7-year-olds, a dad is building a company website, and a mom is sewing cos-

PCAC drama alums Cara Gross and Brandon Waldemeyer, who are both in high school, are assisting Belobraidich.

The three shows in rehearsal now are scheduled to take the stage the first weekend in December: The Three Bully Goats Griff (for 5-, 6- and 7-year-olds), King Midas and the Touch of Gold (for the 8-, 9- and 10-year-olds) and The Frog Prince of Spamalot (for the 11-, 12and 13-year-olds).

"We will perform if I have to build a building," said Belobraidich.

Belobraidich said she tends to pick children's plays that aren't widely known, and that have a lot of good speaking parts. The word "audition" is used loosely, she said, and no child who participates is turned away.

"She really matches the parts well to the kids," said Sandra Iannucci, who has a 9-year-old daughter, Abigail, in the program.

McCotter to run for Congress instead of president

By Ken Abramczyk Observer Staff Writer

Thaddeus McCotter withdrew his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination Thursday and announced that he is running for re-election in the 11th Congressional District.

McCotter also threw his support behind Mitt Romney in the GOP presidential race.

"It was becoming clear that the debate criteria made it difficult to get your message out there," McCotter said Friday. By not being on the air, McCotter could not discuss what he felt were the real issues, among them the restructuring of government and Social Security reform.

McCotter now supports Romney, just a few months after saying that Romney and President Barack Obama are "less rivals than running mates."

McCotter said Romney "has the business credentials to do the job." He also cited Romney's Michigan and Midwestern roots that will give him an understanding of the issues facing the region.

"He also won't be doing some of the things that he did as governor of Massachusetts,' McCotter said. Romney has been criticized by some conservatives, including McCotter, for his health care plan enacted while he was governor of Massachusetts.

pointment that the candidates did not discuss Social Security reform, only what it should be called. (Perry called it a Ponzi scheme.)

McCotter introduced a bill on reforming Social Security, which called for personal savings accounts and cuts in other programs to continue the program and keep it solvent. "Nobody seemed to notice," McCotter said of the other candidates.

McCotter announced Thursday that he will seek re-election, pushing his platform of "principled conservatism."

"I've got a job to do," McCotter said. "We need to restructure government, reform of Social Security. Communist China is a strategic threat, and we have housing issues.

"We're still a country at war. We have numerous issues, and we have a primary responsibility to the men and women who serve this country."

Scary things afoot at Plymouth museum

Halloween is just around the corner, and things at the Plymouth Historical Museum are starting to get spooky.

On Oct. 16, the museum will host "Mourning Matters Tea," full of chilling details of mourning rituals of the past. Guest speaker Kim Parr, director of the Crocker House Museum and Macomb County Historical Society in Mount Clemens, will discuss these morbid details dressed in full mourning attire, along with a display of various mourning and funeral artifacts.

Anyone looking for something a little creepier can spend some time in the graveyard on Oct.

29 during the Plymouth Characters Cemetery Walk at Riverside Cemetery. Participants will listen to tantalizing tales of Plymouth's ghosts from Civil War soldiers Calvin Crosby and Charles Westfall and others that haunt the city at night. Walks begin at 4 p.m. and last 60-90 minutes. The tour starts at the Don Massey Field Parking lot, east of the 35th District Court on Plymouth Road, with refreshments served afterward, provided by sponsor The Courtyard Grille of Plymouth. Guests are encouraged to wear sensible walking shoes, and to bring a flashlight for later tours.

Tickets for the Mourning Matters Tea are $20 for Friends of the Plymouth Historical Museum members and $25 for non-members if purchased by Sept. 30 (add $5 after that). Tickets for the Plymouth Characters Cemetery Walk are $10 in advance or $15 at the cemetery, or purchase or renew a membership and receive up to two free

Tickets for both events can be purchased at the Plymouth Historical Museum during open hours or on its website at www. plymouthhistory.org.

Miss Wayne County 2010 Sarah Suydam crowns Shelby Gardiner as Miss Wayne County 2011.

OU student named Miss Wayne County

A 19-year-old Oakland University student and DTE Energy Squad member from St. Clair Shores has been chosen as the new Miss Wayne County.

"I am already looking forward to my duties this year - traveling, meeting new people and getting the word out about my platform, which is Date Rape Education and Prevention," said Shelby Gardiner just moments after being crowned Miss Wayne County.

As Miss Wayne County, Gardiner receives a $1,100 scholarship and the opportunity to compete for the Miss Michigan title in Muskegon on June 16, 2012. Gardiner is majoring in elementary education and hopes to obtain a master's degree in elementary education, specializing in language arts.

During her year as Miss Wayne County, Gardiner will travel throughout the state advocating her platform issue. She will talk to various government representatives, business leaders, community groups and citizens-atlarge, urging them to get involved promoting date rape education and prevention.

"Shelby Gardiner

embodies the qualities a role model for young women and girls should have," said Sheila Sigro, executive director of the Miss Wayne County Scholarship Program. "She's talented, ambitious and accomplished. We are excited about working with her this year."

The Miss Wayne County Competition was held at Churchill High School in Livonia on Sept. 17 and featured 12 contestants from around the Wayne County area.

Receiving awards were Sydney Learman of Linwood, first runner-up; Jasmine Jones of Detroit, second runner-up and swimsuit award; Paula Langley of Novi, third runner-up, talent award and community service award; Jenae George of Harper Woods, fourth runner-up and Miss Congeniality; Da'Stanza Mur-phy of Taylor, Non-Finalist Talent Award, and Sarah Bermudez-White of Dearborn Heights, People's Choice Winner. Rounding out the contestants were Olivia Trocchio of St. Clair Shores, Nicole Marie Johnson of Detroit, Erin Hall of Dearborn, Jessica Jackson of Detroit and Ashley Welch of Livonia.

FOOTBALL NIGHT IN CANTON

Red-hot Chiefs rout Rockets

The fans at PlymouthCanton Educational Park were barely in their seats when Canton 5-7 junior running back Kendall Scott blew through Westland John Glenn's defensive line, sprinting untouched for a 24-yard touchdown.

That was just the start of Canton's 66-13 onslaught in Friday's KLAA South Division contest. The Rockets saw plenty of red in the stands (on Canton's Homecoming Night) as well as on the field, thanks to the barrage of big-play TDs.

"Our offensive line executed, our backs ran hard, we threw the ball, caught the ball well," Canton head coach Tim Baechler said. "Offensively it was an awesome first half. And defensively we were much more physical."

Some might wonder why any tweaking was required. The Chiefs, already ranked No. 7 in

Whalers drop opener

The Owen Sound
Attack scored three quick goals in the second period Wednesday and went on to defeat the visiting Plymouth Whalers, 6-2, in the opening game of the 2011-12 season.

A thorn in the Whalers side was Brnedan Childerley, with two goals. Scoring for the Whalers were Mitchell Heard — just back from the Toronto Maple Leafs training camp — and Andy Bathgate.

After falling behind 1-0 in the first period, the Whalers turned up he heat trying for the equalizer. Plymouth outshot Owen Sound 7-0 during a stretch early in the second stanza, but could not score.

The Attack then took control of matters with their three-goal surge before the midway point of the frame.

Plymouth finally got on the board when Heard scored at 18:07 of the second period, from Stefan Noesen.

Owen Sound tacked on two more goals before Bathgate finished the scoring in the third. He scored his first-ever Plymouth goal on a partial breakaway.

Making 25 saves in the defeat was Whalers netminder Matt Mahalak.

Wildcats pounce on Franklin

By Brad Emons
Observer Staff Writer

Livonia Franklin tried to throw everything but the kitchen sink at state-ranked Plymouth Friday night — midfield fourth-down gambles, blitz packages and a no-huddle offense.

The host Wildcats, however, had an answer for everything the Patriots attempted and rolled to a 47-7 KLAA South Division football victory.

Senior quarterback Shaun Austin trumped the Patriots' defense hitting 14-of-23 passes on the night for 233 yards and four touchdowns.

He was particularly good in the second quarter going 9-for-11 for 122 yards and two TDs as Plymouth (5-0, 3-0) turned a 14-7 first-period advantage into a 34-7 halftime lead.

"Shaun (Austin) is a very intelligent, composed kid, and we're lucky to have him," Plymouth coach Mike Sawchuk said. "When they start bringing a bunch of people in the box and play us man-to-man, we think we have some weapons outside. Our offensive coordinator and our offensive staff do a great job of blitz protection and give Shaun a lot of time in there."

Senior running back Donte Fox was the Wildcats top rusher with 145 yards on 20 carries. He got Plymouth off on the right foot with a 54-yard TD run on his team's first posses-

Franklin came back and answered with Joe McRobb's 84-yard TD run with 3:32 left in the first period to knot the game at 7-all (following Ryan Tikey's extra point).

"When they (Franklin) scored, that was when we went for it on fourth down and didn't get it, and our tight end missed a block," Sawchuk said. "Our offensive coach was talking to him and they (Franklin) came back out, and we only had 10 people on the field when they

MU upsets Spring Arbor

Behind the strength of goals from freshmen Mo DeGrandis and Ashley Parent, the Madonna University women's soccer team pulled off its biggest upset in recent memory Wednesday with a come-from-habitual 2-1 win over No. 7-ranked Spring Arbor.

Spring Arbor (7-1-1) got on the board first in the fourth minute when Maegan Smith finished off a pass from Olivia Clark to put the Cougars on top 1-0.

The Crusaders (3-3) pulled even just over eight minutes later when senior Diana Brda (Livonia Franklin) controlled a pass from sophomore Amanda Jenaway off of a corner kick and found DeGrandis who fired in a header and beat Cougar goalkeeper Brooklyn
Morgan.

Brda had the assist on the game-winning goal as well, chipping her pass over the defense to Parent, who sent her shot past Morgan for what held up as the winner.

The Cougars peppered Crusader keeper
Chelsea Gregg (Livonia Clarenceville) with shots throughout the remainder of the match. but the senior keeper was up to the task, turning away all seven shots to earn her third win of the season.

MU returns the pitch at 4 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 28, against Rochester College at Canton's Independence Park.

Hang 10: Canton kickers keep winning streak alive

The hot streak continues for Canton's varsity boys soccer team.

Thursday's 3-1 win over Livonia Churchill marked Canton's 10th victory in a row. The Chiefs, ranked No. 4 in Class A, improved to 12-1-1 overall and 6-0-0 in the KLAA South Division.

Opening the scoring early in the contest was Canton senior Mitch Posuniak, converting a feed from sophomore Griffin Parks. Posuniak also assisted on a goal by senior Mitch Pepper, making it a 2-0 game.

Churchill carried play for most of the second half, but Canton senior goalkeeper Steven Murphy repeatedly came up big to keep the Chiefs on

He dove on a ball that was bouncing around in front of the net in the half's 12th minute to keep Churchill off the scoreboard.

But just past the half's midway point, Churchill junior Mike Murphy jumped on a loose ball in the Canton goal box and scored to bring the Chargers within a goal.

A few minutes later, Churchill was awarded a penalty shot, but Steven Murphy pushed the shot over his crossbar, and then punched out the resulting corner kick to swing momentum back Canton's way.

The Chiefs put the game away with two minutes to play, when senior Connor Furgason redirected Parks' corner kick with a header.

John D'Agostino picked up a goal and assist Thursday to power host Livonia Stevenson (8-2, 4-2) to a KLAA Central Division triumph over the Rocks (4-6-3, 3-3).

D'Agostino's first-half goal from Christian Gajor staked the Spartans to a 1-0 lead.

Zack Atwood's goal from D'Agostino with only two minutes left gave Stevenson a twogoal cushion before Salem's Chris Dierker answered in the final 30 seconds from Blake Townes.

Zach Verant went all the way in goal for the Spartans.

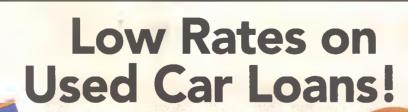

"In the end you can say it was a typical, hard-fought game with Salem," Stevenson coach Lars Richters said. "It was a gutsy performance and a big win for our program."

PLYMOUTH 3, FRANKLIN
1: On Wednesday, secondhalf goals by Chris Lebioda, Brian Eggenberger and Chandler Olah carried the host Wildcats (66-2, 4-2) to a KLAA South Division victory over Livonia Franklin (5-4-2, 3-3).

Jake Talerek's unassisted goal cut the deficit to 2-1 for Franklin, but Olah's goal with only eight seconds remaining sealed it for Plymouth.

"We were great through the middle of the field, but finishing was a problem," Franklin coach Vic Rodopoulos said. "We got our share of opportunities, but didn't capitalize."

Ryan Tikey made 11 saves in goal for the Patriots, while Mario Gruszczynski went all the way in goal for the Wildcats.

On the ball!

Players of the Plymouth Reign '98 Green girls soccer team enjoyed a rare treat on Aug. 26. They served as ball kids at the Michigan Invitational held at the University of Michigan Soccer Stadium. Team manager Amy McGrath said the U-M team selected several teams to help collect soccer balls during games. But the girls also were able to say the Pledge of Allegiance and get autographs. "It's a really fun thing for the girls," McGrath said. "It's great for the kids to see college soccer up close, right on the field. It was a great event for them to be part of. To watch them on the field was pretty cool." The girls, all from Canton and Plymouth, include (front row, from left) Camilla Brown, Ally Malee, Hailey Katulski, Pamela Beas, Sydney Sullivan, Kara Hutchison, Kelly Heitzman; (back row, from left) Jordan Anheuser, Isabella Sabellico, Kayla Ross, Abby Lindbloom, Emily Raymo, Erin Heitzman, Miranda VanDerRoest, Samantha McGrath, Anna DeBiasi and Murphy Wong.

Winning week for Salem netters

The Salem varsity boys tennis team swept Walled Lake Western 9-0 on Tuesday in a KLAA crossover matchup.

On Thursday, the Rocks followed up with a 6-3 triumph over Pinckney.

Salem's singles lineup is paced by junior co-captain Jacob Scott at No. 1, followed by senior Mike Keum, junior co-captain Alek Zultowski and sophomore Jake Sealy in the 24 slots.

In doubles play, the No. 1 tandem is comprised of junior David Blox-sum and sophomore John Clark while senior Kyle Latak and junior Kartik Rajeev are the No. 2 doubles team.

Rounding out the lineup for Salem are senior Sam

Cloutier and freshman Rohan Thanedar at No. 3, junior Nick Ortiz and sophomore Amol Carvalho at No. 4 and junior Shaheer Rabbaig and sophomore Shivan Patel at No. 5.

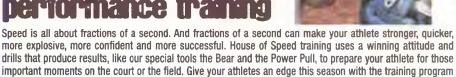

The Rocks will face Westland John Glenn on Tuesday and then host a conference match on Saturday, Oct. 1.

Eagles nearly hang on against top team

By Tim Smith
Observer Staff Writer

For 73 minutes Thursday, it looked as though Plymouth Christian Academy would get some payback against Allen Park Inter-City Baptist.

The host Eagles led 1-0 against the Chargers in a Michigan Independent Athletics Conference varsity boys soccer game. A penalty-kick goal in the first half by Danny Ross had some staying power.

But the deeper Chargers, who mercied PCA 8-0 earlier this season, finally broke through with 7:24 to go and finished off a come-from-behind 2-1 win with a tally in the final three minutes.

"They (Chargers) are the No. 1 team in the state (in Class D) as of the rankings from last week," said Eagles head coach Larry Machonga, following the contest. "Last time we played them we came in and played terribly on their home field. They demolished us, picked us apart and we lost 8-0.

"So to come back from a loss like that and play as well as we did for 75 minutes, ... but again it takes 80 minutes, and play two good halves to win a game."

On Ross' goal, with 9:57 left in the first half, he drilled a low shot inside the left post past Inter-City Baptist goalkeeper Nathanial Packwood.

The Eagles (5-3, 3-3 in the MIAC) had a couple subsequent rushes but could not pad their lead. Packwood dove to deny a bid from Chris Scagnelli (from Jacob Bailey) and Kurtis McKenzie sent a feed over to Bailey, whose header just missed the cage

And early in the second half, the Eagles had some pressure.

Ross rushed down the right wing and cut inside toward Packwood, but could not find the net with his shot.

With about 25 minutes left, off a corner kick, another point-blank header by Bailey just failed to click.

Losing steam

But the Chargers (11-1) started gaining an edge in territorial play, and won more 50/50 balls as the second half progressed.

Still the Eagles hung on to their precarious lead — thanks to some clutch saves by PCA goalie Jamie Putney (he dove to rob a scoring chance by Steven Fiema midway through the second half), along with a hustling defense (particularly Dan Mullett, Ryan Machonga and Matt Read) that helped cut off several potential rushes.

Then, the Chargers got on the board on a goal by Evan Kratz at 32:36. Kratz broke free inside the box and sent a low, sizzling shot inside the right post. Fiema followed up with the game-winning marker with 2:47 to go.

He broke in and beat Putney on another low shot to the right corner.

"It takes two 40-minute halves to finish a game," Machonga said. "When our guys our getting gassed and they're not on target, we just need a little bit more depth to push us over the edge.

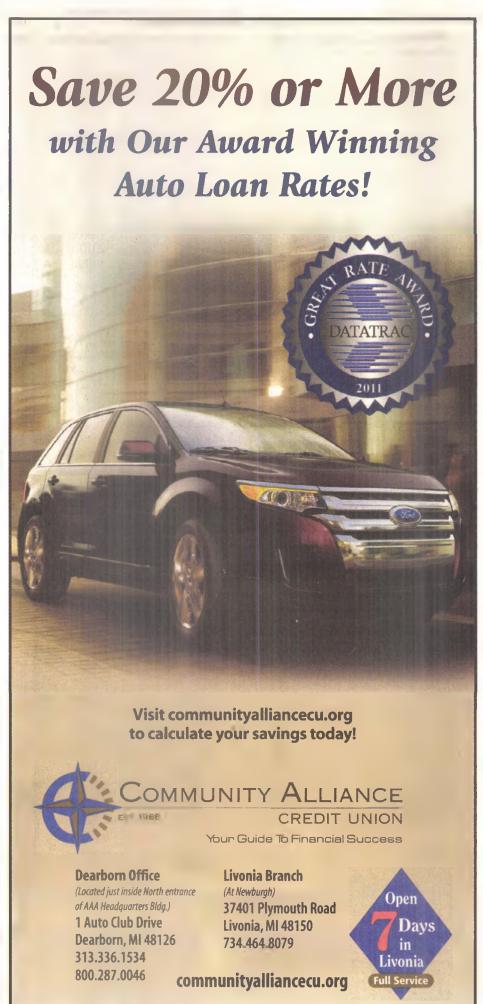

"It was a good, physical match. The thing I love about our guys is they'll never quit, ever."

Machonga, however, added that the team needs a few reserve players to step up and provide the kind of depth PCA needs to improve against top competition.

"We continue to want to develop our guys, especially our bench players, so we just don't have our starting 11 that can contribute to the attack," he said. "We need other players and we're getting there.

"... It'd be nice to get there sooner, because that way we win games like this and not lose."

Friendly rivalry on upswing for 'Cats, Chiefs

By Tim Smith
Observer Staff Writer

Before campus girls golf rivals Canton and Plymouth squared off for the second time in less than a week, there was time for players from both teams to mingle and catch up on life at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park.

Then the host Chiefs and Wildcats put the smiles away, put in some practice cuts and went to work Thursday at Hilltop Golf Course. That's where the young and improving Canton squad tried to even the score for a previous loss to state-ranked Plymouth

But Plymouth — led by medalist Kelsey Murphy, who registered 36 for nine holes — prevailed yet again, this time 166-198 to improve to 6-0 for the season.

Canton's only two losses have been to the Wild-

"We're glad that it's competitive now, so the girls know they have to come out ready to play and it's not an easy win," Plymouth head coach Chris Moore said. "It's great because they all know each other, but it's still competitive."

Concurring was Tom Alles, head coach for the Chiefs, who said his team is much-improved from 2010.

"I think the work they did over the winter and the play they did in tournaments over the summer, a lot of them took lessons and just improved," Alles said.

"Almost everyone's average has come down from last year."

On Thursday, Murphy and Sarah Thompson (39) led the way for the Wildcats. According to Moore, both have a shot at AllState honors this season.

Finishing with 45 was Kelsey Murphy's freshman sister, Sydney Murphy, while Lindsay Dean tallied 46.

The top golfers for Canton were senior captain Paige Osler (43) and Kelsey McDougall (49), followed by Chloe Luyet (51).

The Wildcats currently are in the top 10 among Class A teams and Moore would like that ranking to be elevated several notches — perhaps into the top five.

Golfers for Plymouth and Canton are friends as well as rivals, walking together down the fairway at Hilltop.

Friendly rivals

But there's something special going on when Canton and Plymouth get together for a match, whether at Hilltop (with the tricky, sloped greens). or Fox Hills.

"They've still got that competitive edge when they're putting and they want to win," Moore said. "But walking between shots, they're just talking

Players from both squads said the fact Canton has upped the ante and is a strong team in its own right is ramping up the friendly competition to a heightened level.

"That intensifies it a little bit more, but it's always a good thing," Plymouth's Thompson said. "We know almost everyone on the other team. We share the same schools."

Canton's Lobb said the Chiefs are "getting more evenly matched with Plymouth now, we're getting our scores down now. So it should be a good rivalry, a good couple matches with them in the future."

Agreeing that the rivalry is stronger now was the Chiefs' McDougall.

"But it's almost more fun and not as intense because we go to the same Park and we're kind of friends," she said. "It makes it fun."

According to Osler, the Chiefs "want to beat them, but it's all in fun."

Meanwhile, the rivalry takes a back seat when individuals are trying to figure out how to navigate the course itself.

"Many times we don't look at our competitors, we're looking at the course," Moore said. "Don't let the course beat you."

And the bottom line, as far as Kelsey Murphy is concerned, is doing well at driving, chipping and putting.

"We just got to play our game and we'll do good." she said. "Have our short game ready and go out and play some golf."

New MU soccer home in the works

By Brad EmonsObserver Staff Writer

Within a month, both the Madonna University men's and women's soccer teams will enjoy a place they can permanently call a real home.

Construction began Aug. 22 on a new soccer and lacrosse facility, which is located off Newburgh Road just south of Five Mile.

The target date to open the new facility is Saturday, Oct. 15 when the Crusaders host Cornerstone University in a scheduled men's and women's Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference double-header.

Since MU launched its men's and women's soccer programs, matches were played at Livonia's Greenmead Field and occasionally at area high schools.

But that will soon change as they lose their gypsy status.

"We've been discussing the idea of a soccer field for the better part of six years," Madonna athletic director Bryan Rizzo said. "The biggest obstacle we faced was land. We didn't have a place to put it. It wasn't until wasn't until a yearand-a-half ago that we got some land that we could finally put it on. Then, it took some time, and can we obviously afford this? How are we going to do this? And so on.

"We began planning at the beginning of last school year (2010-11) and then got serious about it in February and March."

Frank Rewold and Son, Inc., is the general construction contractor, while Grissim Metz Andriese Associates is the designated architectural design company.

The 115 x 75-yard field will feature a synthetic surface provided by AstroTurf GameDay Grass XPe of Rochester Hills.

"The (team) benches will be up against the creek, which is east side of the field," Rizzo said. "The bleachers will be at midfield – two sets, home and away – on the Newburgh side. It will seat about 200 (100 each). Soccer is a sport where people tend to bring their own chairs anyway, so we want to encourage a little bit of that.

Division 1, improved to 5-0 overall and 3-0 in the KLAA South with the win.

Right from the start it was a night to forget for the Rockets, who dropped to 2-3 overall and 1-2 in the division.

"They're a good football team and right now we're not," John Glenn head coach Tim Hardin said. "That's it. I think our guys played hard, they have hearts. But we executed horribly and they executed perfectly."

Canton outgained John Glenn 446-211 and only the play of senior running back Terrance James -12 carries for 106 yards. including a 49-yard TD run - provided any kind of highlight for the Rockets. "He's a tough kid, he plays hard," Hardin said.

Strong from the start

The outcome of the game was pretty much known by the end of the first quarter, when Canton busted out to a 28-0 lead.

An early spark was lit by Canton's revamped defense. Baechler said he thought his defense was "getting pushed around too much, so we switched some things up this week."

Changes included moving 6-4, 285-pound junior Cameron Dillard from offensive tackle to the defensive line.

Senior Zac Merillat moved from outside linebacker to inside linebacker and 6-4 senior defensive end John Chadwick took over at outside linebacker "and those changes made a huge difference."

That defense forced a John Glenn fumble right out of the gate, with the pigskin scooped up by Chadwick at the Rockets' 24-yard line.

On the first Canton snap of the night, Scott (206 all-purpose yards) zipped through the defense for his first of four TDs.

The coach emphasized defense today," Scott said. "He said if you get the stops, offense will take care of it. O-line did a great job blocking, (it) couldn't have been any

"The backs hit the holes and we just took care of business today."

Then following another John Glenn three-andout, the Chiefs made it 13-0 when Merillat sliced through the defense for a 55-yard touchdown run.

Merillat rushed five times for 85 yards and added two other TDs in the half (on runs of 8 and 15 yards).

The beat went on as Canton's hard-hitting senior defensive back Demetre Lopez intercepted a Jeff Kuhary pass.

Scott scored on the next play, this time scooting around right end for a 25-yard touchdown.

In the final minute of the quarter, Merillat capped off an 80-yards drive with his 8-yard TD run off right tackle. Following Scott's two-point conversion run it was a 28-0 game.

On target

Setting up the score was a 38-yard pass from quarterback Kyle Adams (5-for-5, 168 yards, three TDs) to senior tight end Evan Rinke.

In the second quarter, the Adams-to-Scott connection worked to the tune of TD passes of 62 and 42 yards.

On the latter, with 2:11 to go in the half, southpaw Adams faked a handoff into the line, dropped back and fired a pass over the middle to the wide-open Scott.

There were no defenders anywhere near the speedster, who easily scored to give the Chiefs a 49-6 lead (James had scored on a 49-yard run the previous series for John Glenn).

"The pass up the middle," Scott said. "That was a nice pass by Kyle, he threw it nice all game."

Before the intermission, it was 56-6 after Adams threw a 19-vard touchdown pass to senior Kevin Buford.

During halftime, the Rockets listened to their coach try to put things in perspective.

"What I told them was this is a great game," Hardin said. "All we can do is keep on playing football and enjoy playing it. Just try to enjoy it.

Over in the Canton locker room, meanwhile, Baechler was getting his backups geared up to play the second half.

"It's just excitement for the kids who haven't been playing much to play a lot," Baechler said. "Get your first-stringers out so they don't get hurt. ... They get their shot, it's nice for them."

Canton scored a ninth time with junior quarterback Ryan Darish at the controls. Darish scored on a 25-yard keeper, which followed an 8yard run. (Following the TD with his seventh extra-point of the night was junior kicker Scott Piwowar.)

Baechler noted he had to convince Darish that he could run the play.

"I said, 'You can run this play' and so I walked him through it," Baechler said. "And so he ran it twice in a row, he executed, the line blocked great on it and it worked out for him. I asked if he liked that play now and he said, 'Oh yeah."

Rocks fall to 1-4

Visiting Salem took a 42-14 drubbing Friday at the hands of Northville in a matchup of KLAA Central Division football teams.

But Rocks head coach Kurt Britnell praised the performances of Nick Troher (77 yards rushing, two TDs) and Tyler Schultz (seven tackles, one interception, one forced fumble, four tackles for losses).

Salem's record dipped to 1-4 and 0-3 in the Central with the defeat, while the Mustangs improved to 5-0, 3-0.

Canton girls outpace Pats

The young Canton girls cross country team scored a significant win Tuesday over Livonia Franklin at Cass Benton

Canton earned a 22-33 victory, with individual winner Emily Southern (20-minutes, 50-seconds) sparking the Chiefs to their second straight dual meet win.

"The girls ran well despite being pretty tired from a tough week prior to the meet," Chiefs head coach Eric Pahl said. "Franklin is a good young team and to beat them is something to be proud of."

Canton also took the 2-3 spots, with Jessica Siegler (21:12) and Anna Gorzalski (21:36). Finishing sixth was Paige Calvert (22:20), followed by Katie Grimes (10th, 23:02), Ellen Grimes (11th, 23:13) and Laura Murphy (12th, 23:16).

Rocks fall short

Salem's varsity girls cross country team lost 16-46 to Northville on Tuesday, also at Cass Benton, to drop to 1-1 in the KLAA Central Division.

Finishing fifth with a time of 20:56 was Autumn Burin, while Emily Bizon took eighth with a mark of 21:02.

Other Rocks to finish the meet were Alejandra Beltran (12th, 21:09), Amanda Beyer (14th, 21:30), Natasha Stevenson (15th, 21:31), Shannon Flynn (16th, 21:31) and Adrianna Beltran (17th, 21:32).

Wildcats victorious

Sparked by individual winner marina DeBiasi, the Plymouth varsity girls cross country team defeated Westland John Glenn 22-35 Tuesday at Cass Benton.

DeBiasi paced the Wildcats with a mark of 21:34.9.

Other Plymouth finishers were Nicole Traitses (2nd, 21:34.95), Elyse Gryniewicz (4th, 23:11.1), Morgan Henson (6th, 23:15), Alexa Cichon (9th, 23:44.6), Jordyn Strahm (10th, 23:45.9) and Renae DeBrito (11th, 23:47.5).

Plymouth improved to 2-0 with the win.

PCA solid at Invite

Plymouth Christian Academy's coed cross country team finished fourth at Tuesday's Oakland Christian Small School Invitational.

The Eagles tallied 71 points, trailing Royal Oak Shrine (19), Auburn Hills Oakland Christian (51) and Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes (64).

Placing 13th for PCA was Jimmy Parks, who earned a medal with his time of 19:52.09

Right behind him were PCA's Ian Rose (18th, 20:44.3) Jacob Nichols (19th, 20:47.22) and Trevor Baloga (21st, 20:49.78).

Terra Crown of the Eagles was first in the girls division, with a time of 21:05.8 while teammate Megan McHugh finished 26th (25:57.3).

PCA spikers come up big

By Tim Smith Observer Staff Writer

For the first time, Plymouth Christian Academy's volleyball team can boast of winning a game at the home of conference rival Oakland Christian.

That happened Thursday, but it wasn't easy. The Eagles needed five sets to notch the Michigan Independent Athletics Conference triumph (25-17, 17-25, 25-21, 24-26, 15-10).

"We can attribute our win to the team effort we put forth on the court," PCA head coach Kelly Blackney said. "A lot of girls stepped up and did great things.

"We didn't have to rely on one or two girls to do the job for us.'

She cited players such as outside hitter Amy Zinn (10 kills, 7 digs, 5 aces), libero Jessica Rich (14 digs) and Rachael Fuller (3 aces, 3 digs).

Zinn "really shined and led our team in kills in the first set. Jessica Rich refused to let balls hit the floor. She was all over the court, often sacrificing her body to keep the ball in play," Blackney noted.

As for Fuller, the coach said the player "served fearlessly in tight situations and made it difficult for Oakland to set up their offense."

Of course, senior middle hitter Kristin Malcolm played her usual strong match, leading PCA in kills (29) and blocks (4).

"This is the kind of team we are and need to be," said Blackney, already looking forward to the Oct. 11 rematch against Oakland.

Other solid contributors included Jenny Malcolm (33 assists) and Sarah Howard (9 kills).

Next up for the Eagles is a home game Tuesday night against Lutheran Westland.

Shut-down defense

The Wildcats, however, played flawless during the second quarter after stopping Franklin on a fourthand-4 on the Plymouth 47 leading to a 27-point run.

Franklin quarterback Justin Forrestall, who was 10-of-15 for 175 yards on the night, threw an incomplete pass on the pivotal fourth-down play. "We told the kids today that we were going to go for it every chance we got," Franklin coach Chris Kelbert said. "If we got past the 50 (vard-line) we were going for it. That was kind of a way to challenge them and it didn't work out. "They (Plymouth) have a really good defense. They play us tough every single year. They took away the whole running game. The only running play we had was a counter play. That was the only thing we could score on. We only hit that once."

Plymouth lineman Sean Preston (No. 79) protects quarterback Shaun Austin as Austin eyes a receiver down the field on Friday against Livonia

Austin hit Jamarl Eiland on a 70vard first-quarter TD pass to put the Wildcats on top for good, 14-7 (following Bobby Deeg's PAT).

The Wildcats then scored three times without a Franklin answer in the second quarter - Austin on a 40yard screen pass to Fox; Fox again off tackle for 10 yards; and Austin to Eiland again on a 15-yard TD pass with only 46.9 seconds remaining in

In the second half, Franklin had the ball inside the Wildcats' 10 three difty. One drive was halted by a Tyler Goble interception. "I got all the respect for Franklin and (coach) Kelbert does a good job," Sawchuk said. "They're very, very scrappy, tough team. We preached all week you've got to be tough and you've got to play fast."

Plymouth, meanwhile, got a pair of fourth-quarter TDs including an Austin-to-Jared Davis 40-vard pass followed by a 4-yard run by Michael Kennedy.

"There's still some things to clean up, but overall I loved the effort of our kids," Sawchuk said. "I like the way our kids are flying around and holding each other accountable and playing for each other.

"But it's one game at a time – have a short memory. Like I said, you can't look ahead. You just got to get better every week."

Meanwhile, the loss drops to the Patriots to 2-3 overall and 1-2 in the KLAA South.

"It's not very good right now," said Kelbert, whose team was outgained 395-360 in total yards. "We just got to get better. That's all there is to it."

Home opener's a winner for 'Cats

Plymouth's spikers finally played their home opener Thursday and it was worth the wait.

The Wildcats knocked off another KLAA South Division opponent with their 3-0 win over Wayne Memorial (25-14, 25-12, 25-14). That victory came just two nights after a four-set triumph over Westland John Glenn. "The girls played a solid game overall," Plymouth head girls volleyball coach Sarah Marody said. "We stuck to our game plan and pushed every point. "We were able to try out a couple different lineups and combinations of people playing together in preparation for our up-coming rematch against (Livonia) Churchill." The Wildcats (20-4-0, 3-2 in the KLAA South) and Chargers will play 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in Plymouth's "Dig Pink" game. The teams are participating as part of the Side-Out Foundation's Dig Pink National Breast Cancer Awareness Rally.

Against the Zebras, Madelyn Betts and Emilee Beyer each tallied nine kills with Olivia Beyer chiming in with eight. Jessica Scott and Shayla Smalls chipped in with 16 and 13 assists, respectively. On defense, top contributors included libero Lindsey Stem-berger (19 digs), Scott (16 digs) and Smalls (12 digs). Olivia Beyer helped the cause with five blocks while Rachael

Hille served up three aces. On Tuesday, Plymouth won 3-1 over John Glenn, by scores of 25-16, 25-17, 20-25 and 25-23

Marody said sophomore Haylee Weber was a key factor to the victory, coming up big after replacing Emilee Beyer late in the fourth game after Beyer sustained a minor leg injury. "She dug balls that could easily have been points for Glenn to help preserve the win for us, arody added. "She showed great maturity and focus when the game was on the line."

Livonia Catholics join nationwide rosary campaign

By Sharon Dargay O&E staff writer

Ron Danowski and Paul Daniel are praying for a big turnout at their "rosary rally" next month at Madonna University in Livonia.

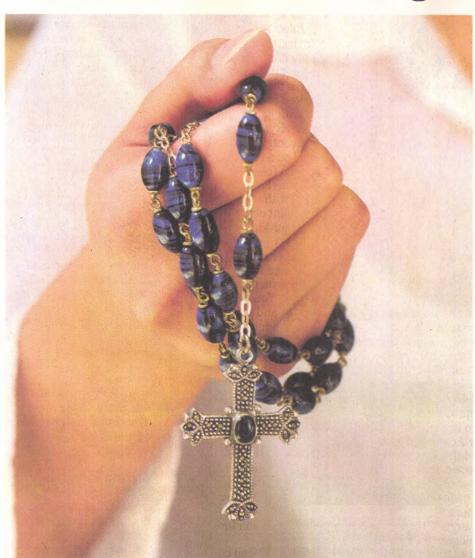

"My vision is to look down the road and say, could we fill Comerica Park," said Daniel, who is helping Danowski with publicity for the outdoor rosary recitation on Saturday, Oct. 15. "This year our goal is to fill this parking lot at Madonna."

"Or maybe have the largest rosary rally in Michigan," Danowski added.

The Livonia residents, both members of the Thomas Dooley Council of the Knights of Columbus at St. Colette Parish, have enlisted the help of the organization and Madonna University to present one hour of outdoor, public prayer, using the rosary, a Catholic devotion.

Their rally, from noon to 1 p.m., will be among more than 7,000 nationwide scheduled at the same time and on the same day through a nonprofit campaign called America Needs Fatima. Rally captains, like Danowski, can register their rallies through the organization's Web site, which promotes public prayer through the rosa-

Participants may bring chairs. The Rev. Alex Kratz, a Franciscan priest, will lead the session, although other members of the Catholic clergy will take turns reciting portions of the rosary, with the crowd following along. It is open to the public.

"I think nowadays our country certainly needs prayer. Pray for peace. I think everyone will agree with that," Danowski said.

"Hopefully people will see all of us praying - you don't have to be Catholic to pray - and they will come and join

Starting small

Danowski said he'd be pleased to draw at least 300 worshippers to the event, but won't be disappointed if attendance is smaller. He's used to it.

"I started it four years ago with just four people," Danowski explained. He, his wife, Bernadine, daughter, Janet, and a friend from church, held their first rally in 2008 at Rotary Park in Livonia. He felt compelled to join the America Needs Fatima Public Square Rosary Crusade after learning that his sister-in-law's

"I promised the blessed Virgin I would do this as long as I could," Danowski recalled.

But after her son died and Danowski considered the low turnout at his rally, he didn't plan to organize a second rosary session.

"I changed my mind. I figured I shouldn't give up. It was meant to be a challenge to me. Nothing comes easy," he recalled.

"I said to Father Alex (Kratz) that I had been praying but my prayers weren't answered. He said, 'think of it this way, he probably went to heaven sooner because of you.""

Vying for the crown

Jaclyn Graham, 23, of Livonia will compete for the title of Miss Michigan USA 2012 during a pageant, Sept. 30-Oct. 1 at the McMorran Entertainment Center in Port Huron. Graham holds the current title of Miss Livonia USA. She graduated in 2006 from Livonia Franklin High School and studies adolescent psychology at Eastern Michigan University. She'll be among more than 100 women from throughout Michigan competing for the title and prizes that include travel, wardrobe and college scholarships. Contestants are judged in evening gown, fitness/swimsuit and question categories. The winner will represent Michigan at the Miss USA competition. Tickets for the show in Port Huron are available by calling (810) 985-6166.

Get pets blessed, vaccinated, walked

Many churches including Good Hope Lutheran Church in Garden City and St. Aidan in Livonia - hold pet blessings in early October to coincide with the feast of St. Frances of Assisi.

Congregation members acknowledge the presence of animals in their lives and offer blessings for a long life, good health and happy home.

Good Hope's "Blessing of Animals" starts at 10 a.m. Oct. 8, at the church, 28680 Cherry Hill Road. The church welcomes all animals including dogs, cats, turtles, goldfish, lizards, and hamsters. Prizes will be awarded in several categories and treats will be served to animals and their human friends. The church asks all owners to be responsible for "little accidents" that might occur while their furry or feathered friends are on hand. For more information call (734) 427-

St. Aidan's starts at 1 p.m. Oct. 8, at the Marian Shrine at the church, located at 17500 Farmington Road. (734) 425-5950.

Vaccinations, bowling

Tail Wagger's 1990 of Livonia will wrap up its monthly low cost clinic from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.; Sunday, Sept. 25 at Premier Pet Supplies, 31215 Southfield Road, in Beverly Hills. Rabies, distemper and bordetella for dogs will cost $30 for all three vaccines or $12 individually. Rabies and distemper vaccines for cats will be $12 each.

The nonprofit organization, dedicated to helping animals by offering low-cost vaccination clinics, spay/neuter services, a food pantry and emergency medical assistance, is gearing up for its annual bowling event on Nov. 5 at Woodland Lanes in Livonia. It's accepting registration now online at www. tailwaggers1990.org. Tickets are $25 for adults and $10 for youth and includes three games of bowling, shoe rental, lunch or dinner and a commemorative gift for $25. Adults bowl at 9:30 a.m., 1 p.m., 4:30 p.m. or 8 p.m. Youth bowlers are scheduled at 9:30 a.m. Grand prizes will be awarded to the highest donations collected per bowling squad. ## Appliance industry news is useful any of the rebates given homeowners last year have expired, but it looks like New York is reinstating theirs when it comes to the purchase of a refrigerator or washing machine. Beginning Sept. 2, New York consumers began receiving a rebate of $350 when buying a refrigerator and $250 for a clothes washer. Naturally they have to purchase the high efficiency models in order to qualify.

In Michigan it would be nice to see us follow suit. I think we are more in need of a kick in the pants than the state of New York. As it stands now, our utilities are giving us money for our old refrigerators and they will even pick them up. Doctor

Speaking of labels on appliances stating the Joe Gagnon product is rated energy efficient (Energy Star), things are about to change. Under an agreement between the E.P.A. and the Department of Energy you will soon see a label that says, "most efficient". The Consumer Reports magazine has commented and is playing a role in this change. It stated that "When more than 35 percent of all products sold in any category qualify for Energy Star, that should signal that the technology and economies of scale have reached a point where achieving an Energy Star is too easy and that the bar needs to be raised."

Now I'm no different than the next guy who wants to save energy, but if you ask a service technician who services these products you may get a very negative response. The advancement of technology leads us into more sensitive components and electronics which take the savings right out of your pocket due to the cost of increased service calls to repair them. The foreign brands are leaders in energy savings and will this new policy allow more sales of products not manufactured in this country. I wish that government had the ability to look past its nose and picture the after affect of its thinking.

I recently read an article that pointed out a Federal law that has been in the books since the year 1956. It's called the Refrigerator Safety Act which prohibits leaving old refrigerator and freezers laying about where they can be dangerous to the safety of children. It reminds me of the two little kids in Ann Arbor a few years back who climbed into a chest freezer and perished so needlessly. The federal law can fine a person $200,000 if a death occurs and the homeowner is held responsible. I would ask everyone who observes a refrigerator or freezer without the doors removed to contact the local police department and report this accident waiting to happen.

There is a big appliance out there called a self-start generator which is being sold in increasing numbers. I had an expert in this field tell me that in vears it will be compared to the advent of color television. Think of how many power outages that occur all across this country and how important electricity has become for so many homeowners and I agree with my expert's viewpoint. This is an up and coming business venture which means that you as a consumer should check out a generator business to the best of your ability. Know who you're dealing with, especially in this business. Stay tuned.

Joe Gagnon can be heard at 8 a.m., Saturdays on WAAM 1600. You can e-mail your problems and questions on appliances to appldr@twmi.rr.com.

SOCIAL SECURIT

Many people are wrongly rejected when they apply for Social Security Disability benefits. Money was taken out of their paychecks for Social Security taxes to ensure that they would receive disability benefits if they could no longer work full-time. Sadly, the government denies approximately 60% of those who apply for disability benefits.

Attorneys J.B. Bieske and Jennifer Alfonsi have 42 years combined experience representing only Social Security disability clients. And they personally meet with all clients and appear themself at all court hearings. Many large firms assign inexperienced attorneys to your case. And some of these firms are located thousands of miles away and only fly the attorney in the day of the court hearing. Attorneys Bieske and Alfonsi have vast experience before local Michigan judges.

Attorneys Bieske and Alfonsi can often make a winning difference at the application stage. And, if an appeal is necessary they have won several hundred cases before a court date is even set. Those denied can appeal on their own but statistics for many years reveal that those represented by attorneys win a much higher percentage of appeals. And attorneys who

HRIGORA (KOSS), EVELYN M.

Passed away peacefully on September 17th, 2011 at the age of 90. Born in Detroit, MI Evelyn graduated from Denby High School, married the former Carl Hrigora and worked at Par-Screw Products as an officer and accountant while residing in Detroit. Active in VFW, Detroit. Active in VFW, Cootiettes and volunteering at VA hospitals, Evelyn traveled the state doing charity and volunteer work. She held several high positions within these organizations through the many years she was involved. Upon retiring in 1983 they moved to Brighton and Evelyn quickly became active in the community. She joined several of the local Senior Centers and was a daily face and voice at the Brighton Senior Center for decades. Their home on Woodland Lake was thoroughly enjoyed through the years. A smiling and out-going person Evelyn enjoyed a good laugh and was great company, creating many warm friendships. Many miles were traveled within the state and outside while she was on senior or family trips. Evelyn visited AZ for many winters visiting with her daughter's family. Volunteer work for the Senior Center, St Patrick church, and local community was still dear to her heart. For several years Evelyn worked part time for the UAW at their local office and then 'retired' for good. Evelyn is survived by her children Mike (Nancy) of Howell and Mary Lynn (Rob) of Valley Village, CA along with five grandchildren Jason (Chrissy), Jarret (Carrie), Derek, Jessica (Mike) and Aaron. Evelyn also boasted of 3 greatgrand children Maegan, Joseph and Kyley. A Memorial Mass, in Evelyn's honor will occur on Thursday, Sept. 22 at 10:30 AM at St Patrick's Catholic Church, 711 Rickett Rd in Brighton. A greeting and celebration of life will be held prior to the mass at 10 AM, followed by a friends and family reception after the service.

10 tips to consider in cancer care

Talking with doctors about cancer and cancer treatments can feel like learning a new language. Angela Fagerlin, associate professor of internal medicine at the University of Michigan Medical School and her colleagues hope to improve the way health care professionals communicate information to patients.

"People are making life and death decisions that may affect their survival and they need to know what they're getting themselves into. Cancer treatments and tests can be serious. Patients need to know what kind of side effects they might experience as a result of the treatment they undergo," said Fagerlin, a U-M Comprehensive Cancer Center researcher.

Fagerlin and her colleagues have published a commentary in the Journal of the National Cancer Institute that outlines 10 things health care professionals can do to improve the way they explain treatment risks to patients. Patients can tap into these same best practices to become fluent in the language of cancer care and better understand their options. Here are their tips:

1. Insist on plain language. If you don't understand something your doctor says, ask him or her to explain it better. "Doctors don't know when patients don't understand them. They want patients to stop them and ask questions," Fagerlin said.

2. Focus on the absolute risk. The most important statistic to consider is the chance that something will happen to you. "It's important that patients and doctors know how to communicate these numbers, and patients need to have the courage to ask their doctor to present it so they can understand,"

Fagerlin said.

Sometimes, the effect of cancer treatments is described using language like "this drug will cut your risk in half." But, such risk statements don't tell you anything about how likely this is. Research has shown that using relative risk makes both patients and doctors more likely to favor a treatment, because they believe it to be more beneficial than it actually may be.

If, instead, your doctor told you that "the drug will lower your risk of cancer from 4 percent to 2 percent," you'll know the exact benefit you'd get from taking the drug. Fagerlin suggests asking doctors for this absolute risk information for a truer picture.

3. Visualize your risk.
Instead of just thinking about risk numbers, try drawing out 100 boxes and coloring in one box for each percentage point of risk. So, if your risk of a side effect is 10 percent, you'd color in 10 boxes. This kind of visual representation, called a pictograph, can help people understand the meaning behind the numbers. Ask your doctor to draw it out for you, or do it yourself.

4. Thinking of risk in terms of groups of people can make statistics easier to understand. What does it mean to say 60 percent of men who have a radical prostatectomy will experience impotence? Imagine a roomful of 100 people: 60 of them will have this side effect and 40 will not.

5. Focus on the additional risk. You may be told the risk of a certain side effect occurring is 7 percent. But if you didn't take the drug, is there a chance you'd still experience it? Ask what the additional or incremental risk of a treatment is. "You want to make sure the risk number you're being presented is the risk due to the treatment and not a risk you would face no matter what," Fagerlin said.

6. The order of information matters. Studies have shown that the last thing you hear is most likely to stick. When making a treatment decision, don't forget to consider all of the information and statistics you've learned.

7. Write it down. You may be presented with a lot of information. At the end of the discussion, ask your doctor if a written summary of the risks and benefits is available. Or ask your doctor to help you summarize all the information in writing.

8. Don't get hung up on averages. Some studies have found that learning the average risk of a disease does not help patients make good decisions about what's best for them. Your risk is what matters — not anyone else's. Focus on the information that applies specifically to you.

9. Less may be more. Don't get overwhelmed by too much information. In some cases, there may be many different treatment options but only a few may be relevant to you. Ask your doctor to narrow it down and only discuss with you the options and facts most relevant for you.

10. Consider your risk over time. Your risk may change over time. "What seems like a small risk over the next year or two may look a lot larger when considered over your lifetime," said study author Brian Zikmund-Fisher, assistant professor of health behavior and health education at the U-M School of Public Health.

If you're told the five-year risk of your cancer returning after a certain treatment, ask what the 10-year or 20-year risk is. In some cases, this data might not be available, but always be aware of the timeframe involved.

Top 10 Health Care Careers In Demand Now And In The Future

There are many different careers in health care, but these top 10 health care careers are the best choices of the moment. Considering factors such as job outlook, requirements for entry level positions, salary and benefits, this list includes the top 10 health care careers that are in demand.

There are many different careers in health care, but these top 10 health care careers are the best choices of the moment. Considering factors such as job outlook, requirements for entry level positions, salary and benefits, this list includes the top 10 health care careers that are in demand today and will be around in the future:

- 1. Physician assistants
- 2. Medical records technicians
- 3. Social workers

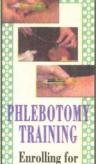

- 4. Clinical laboratory technicians
- 5. Mental health counselor
- 6. Medical scientists
- 7. Pharmacists
- 8. Physical therapists 9. Medical transcriptionists
- 10. Medical and health service managers.

Physician assistants are high on the list of the top 10 healthcare jobs because they provide very important services such as diagnostic, therapeutic and preventive healthcare services as delegated by a physician. The requirements include two-year accredited education programs and the passage of a national exam, and the pay is typically around $63,000/year. Medical records technicians also have very important jobs, as they are in charge of maintaining and evaluating the accuracy of patient medical records. This job requires an associate's degree, and the average annual salary is roughly $32,000/ year before benefits and bonuses. The medical transcription job is another position that requires an associate's degree and pays an annual salary in the $30,000s. Social workers and mental health counselors deal more with the mental health and well-being of patients. These jobs require fouryear degrees or master's degrees and pay $40,000-$58,000/year, Clinical laboratory technicians and medical scientists are involved in tests that result in the detection, diagnosis and treatment of disease, and research to provide information to develop solutions to human health problems. Lab techs need bachelor's degrees and earn $27,000-$32,000/ year, while scientists need at least a doctorate in a biological science and can earn $88,000-$103,000/year. Physical therapists help restore function, improve mobility and relieve pain for patients suffering from injuries and ailments. It requires at least a master's degree and state licensing. They earn $53,000-$67,000 a year, while pharmacists can earn $100,000 annual salaries with bachelor's degrees. The last job on the list, medical and health service manager, often requires a master's degree in health sciences or administration, and pays $55,000-$68,000/year.

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
