

Chiefs picking up speed

Plymouth Canton took its lumps early in the girls golf season, but the Chiefs are beginning to come around in the late going.

Canton, which came under fire against some tough opponents at the start, is nearing the 500 mark after beating Plymouth Salem 254-280 Monday at Fellows Creek Golf Course.

The Chiefs, 6-7 overall, were led by Kerry Kittleson's round of 62, but medalist honors went to Kim Mickel of Salem, who shot a 61.

Canton got support from Meagan Olesky and Stacey Broschay, both with 63s, and Sarah Beckman, who had 66. Sara Broschay (68) and Kelly Theisen (69) completed the team's six-person contingent.

FOR THE ROCKS, Sara Andrews shot 73, Mikki Mills 70 and Jennifer Burka 76. Elizabeth Koehl and Jennifer Ott rounded out the competitors. Seeing his team improve late in the season has given Canton coach Dan Riggs added cause for optimism. The Chiefs will lose only one senior, Stacey Broschay, to graduation. Most are freshmen and sophomores.

golf

Canton won a pair of matches the latter part of last week, beating Salem 262-303 on Wednesday and Howell 244-277 on Thursday.

On the Falkwood Shores course Thursday, Olesky paced the Chiefs with a 58, and she was followed by Kittleson (60), Stacey Broschay (62) and Sara Broschay (64). Beckman (65) and Theisen (67) were not far off the pace. Tara Black shot 61 to lead Howell.

SARA BROSCHAY took her turn at leading the pack in the first Canton Salem match firing a 62 at Braeburn Olesky followed with 66, and Stacey Broschay and Theisen carded 67s. Kittleson (68) and Jeanette Measel (76) had non-scoring roles.

For the Rocks, it was Mickel on top again with a 62. Andrews (72), Burka (74) and Erika Suomela (85) rounded out the scoring. Tara Shamesy and Koehl were the other competitors.

The Chiefs have as their low score of the season the 229 they shot against Ann Arbor Huron. As for individual totals, Stacey Broschay's 50 is the best to date. Beckman, a freshman who had a hole-in-one at Fellows Creek, posted a 51 and sophomore Sara Broschay 55.

Salem and Canton will be co-host for a 22-team regional Monday at Fellows Creek, their home course for practice and matches. The competition begins at 9 a.m. with a shotgun start.

Meagan Olesky and Canton teammate Kerry Kittleson watch the putting action on the No. 4 green at Fellows Creek. Olesky and Kittleson had two of their team's low scores.

DNR offers outdoorsmen fishing freebie

RIG UP a couple extra fishing poles, dig up a dozen crawlers, round up the entire family and get ready for a weekend of FREE FISHING.

For the third year in a row, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources is offering Michigan residents and non-residents an opportunity to fish on Michigan waters free of charge. Fishing licenses and trout/salmon stamps will not be needed on Michigan waters during Free Fishing Days, June 11-12. User fees will also be waived at all public access boat launching sites.

This is a great opportunity. If you have young children, you don't have to buy them each a $9.85 license to take them away for one weekend of fishing. And if your spouse doesn't understand why you jump at the chance to get up at 4:30 a.m. — on your only day off — throw your equipment in the car and race off to your favorite fishing hole, here's your chance to explain, without wasting a license on someone who may only accompany you once a year. And what about those out-of-state relatives who doubt your stories about the Great Lakes fishery? Now you can show them firsthand, without having to suffer the cost of an expensive non-resident license.

IF YOU'VE been itching to drop a line in the water but haven't been quite sure where or when to go there are a bundle of fishing events scheduled throughout the summer, several of which coincide with Free Fishing Days.

If you care to travel a bit, several other events will be taking place over Free Fishing Days including:

Lake Charlevoix Trout Tournament, Charlevoix, (516) 547-2101; Carp Carnival, Michigan Center, (517) 764-4694; Great Saginaw River Fishing Contest for Kids, Saginaw, (517) 776-1669; Fishing Derby for Children, Gladwin, (517) 435-9441; Children's Fishing Contest, White Lake, (616) 894-6054; Walleye Challenge, Hubbard Lake, (517) 736-6418; Steelheaders Tournament, Port Austin, 985-6266. The Northeast Great Lakes Bow Fishing Contest, Ossineke, (517) 895-8823 and the Lake Linden-Hubbell Fishing Derby, Lake Linden, (906) 482-5240.

AAA OF MICHIGAN has published a list of 74 fishing events scheduled for this summer ranging from a Carp Rodeo (June 17-19 in Union City (517) 741-3859) and a Handicapped Tournament (August 19 in Oscoda (517) 739-7884) to a Brown Trout Festival (July 15-24 in Alpena (517) 354-4181). For a copy of the AAA of Michigan Fishing Events Guide contact AAA at 17000 Executive Plaza Drive, Dearborn, 48126. The DNR will also be issuing a complete list of Free Fishing Weekend events later this month. Copies will be available at license dealers.

The DNR and the Department of Transportation will be setting up Fishing Information Centers, June 10-11 at the New Buffalo and Clare welcome centers. These centers will provide anglers with information on fishing and Free Fishing Weekend events.

ACCORDING TO the National Freshwater Fishing Hall of Fame, many anglers consume trophy fish each week without realizing the dinner they just ate may have been a line class or even all-tackle record fish.

The hall receives calls each week from frantic anglers with questions about the size of record fish, many times after the fish in question has been eaten.

Now is the time to call or write to the Fishing Hall of Fame for the free rules, guidelines and application forms to establish a world record. The process is a free public service.

Records are kept in all-tackle (heaviest) and all-line classes (strength of the line used) for more than 100 species of fish.
